

All Municipal Offices Filled By Acclamation

Deadline for civic nominations passed at noon today with just enough candidates to fill the positions open.

Elected by acclamation were:
 F. E. Atkinson, reeve
 Francis Stewart, councillor
 Don M. Wright, councillor
 Ross McLachlan, school trustee
 T. S. Manning, school trustee
 Harry W. Brown, parks board member

REEVE F. E. ATKINSON

COUN. FRANCIS STEUART

T. S. MANNING

ROSS McLACHLAN

HARRY BROWN

Only newcomer to civic affairs is Don Wright who will take the place of H. R. J. Richards on the council. He is, however, no stranger to municipal works. In 1949 he held the job of roads engineer and plotted the program of roads improvements which has served as a guide for this development in the municipality. He is a fruit grower and has been active in BCFGA circles.

Ross McLachlan returns to the school board after a year's absence. He previously has served two terms but declined to stand for re-election last year because of the pressure of other duties. He takes the place of Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh who for the past year has been chairman of the school board.

For Reeve Atkinson, this will be his second term as chief magistrate and prior to his election to this office two years ago, he served as councillor.

Francis Stewart has been on the municipal council since 1949 and return of Harry Brown to parks board marks his third term.

Ratepayers, however, are not going to be done out of the opportunity of marking ballots on election day. There will still be the two by-laws to be voted on — one on the arena and the other on the Natural Gas franchise.

GOOD HUNTING

Back this week from a hunting trip in the Cranbrook district were Eric Tait, Bob Alstead and Bill McCutcheon. Their bag included three elk and two deer.

Action of U.S. Power Commission Guarantees Gas if Vote Favorable

Announcement by the U.S. Federal Power Commission last week that it will permit Pacific Northwest Pipeline Corporation (a U.S. firm) to import 300,000,000 cubic feet of Peace River gas, leaves only approval of the gas franchise by ratepayers next Saturday to guarantee Summerland natural gas in 1957.

Approval of the gas franchise in Summerland next week has been accepted pretty much as a foregone conclusion with a strong likelihood the favorable vote will be very close to unanimous. So far, no person has advanced any reason for opposing the deal for Inland Natural Gas Co. to bring gas to Summerland.

It has been an accepted fact that no pipeline would serve this sparsely settled area unless it could be extended into the U.S. to major markets, so the decision of the FPC to permit the importation of gas into the U.S. paves the way for construction of the pipeline.

The availability of natural gas in B.C. is termed by Premier Bennett as "a new golden era for this province", and he termed the FPC decision as "a real good Christmas present."

Total expenditure on the pipeline through B.C. is expected to reach $277,000,000. Inland Natural Gas Co., the subsidiary which will serve Summerland along with other Okanagan points expects to spend about $40,000,000.

Mental Health Topic For Panel

Because of the interest that has been shown locally in the important subject of mental health, AOTS has arranged for a panel of experts on this subject to visit Summerland on Tuesday, Dec. 6. Heading the panel will be James Ward, executive secretary of the Canadian Mental Health Association for British Columbia.

A public meeting will be held at 8 o'clock that evening in the United Church. It is planned to start off with a short presentation of the topic of the panel, then turn the meeting into sections for group discussion. This will be followed by reports back to the meeting and a question period.

A very successful meeting similar to this was recently held in Kelowna.

At Least We Spelled The Name Correctly

It's a lucky thing for former Summerlander Les Smith* that he's able to look out for himself because he'd be in a bad way if his fates were left in the hands of this newspaper.

When he received a promotion to Medicine Hat last year, the CPR provided us with the wrong picture which we ran in all innocence with his name under it.

Last week we were not so innocent when we set out to report his promotion to divisional superintendent at Moose Jaw but only succeeded in transferring him to the CNR and leaving him at Medicine Hat.

For the sake of the record, we just want to say Leslie R. Smith is still with the CPR and is now divisional superintendent at Moose Jaw.

Bridge Tourney Now in Finals

Summerland Athletic Club Bridge Tournament went into the finals this week with Mrs. John Dunn and Corky Haddrell meeting George Fudge and Mrs. Ina Atkinson for top honors.

In the consolation event, Miss Margaret Hall and Norman Anderson will play off against Mr. and Mrs. Al McIntosh.

Eliminated in the semi-final round in the main event were Mrs. N. O. Solly and Jean Bennett and Ben Trafford and Bill Snow. Consolation semi-finalists who were eliminated last week were Mrs. C. Haddrell and John Dunn and Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Weeks.

Indications Good For Apple Sales

Apple demand on the western markets has stood up reasonably well during the recent cold spell B.C. Tree Fruits reports today, and adds that with normal weather, sales for the next three weeks could exceed the same period of last year since the wholesale and retail stocks are comparatively light.

The pre-Christmas competitor, Jap oranges, are now on all western markets and reports indicate the fruit is of good quality.

There is very little change in the situation in Eastern Canada with the markets there still plentifully supplied with local McIntosh. However, a few cars of Delicious are being shipped to Toronto, Northern Ontario and New Brunswick, and there is a good steady movement of Delicious to Newfoundland.

Pricewise the U.S. market has shown little fluctuation throughout the week, but judging by the trade's interest in the later varieties there are some indications that a strong undertone is developing.

McIntosh sales to the United States continue at a steady rate with California taking the larger proportion of the movement. There are still plentiful supplies of locals in the Eastern and Mid-west sections of the U.S.

Sales to Great Britain have reached a figure above 800,000 boxes. A general stock-taking is being made and the sales program will be regulated in conformity with the apparent supply position.

Shipments have been arriving via the overland route quite regularly. The earliest loadings via Vancouver and New Westminster are just beginning to arrive, and good quantities will have been landed within the next few days.

Rink Association Lease Protects Municipality in Arena Operation

If the Arena by-law receives approval of ratepayers on Dec. 10, they can rest assured the interests of the community will be served in the operation of the Arena by the Summerland Rink Association.

A 12-page lease agreement between the municipality and the rink association has already been prepared and is ready to be signed just as soon as the by-law is approved.

Under the terms of the agreement, the rink association is required to manage the rink "so as to render the facilities of the arena available to the people of Summerland and so as to encourage the use thereof for sports, recreation, amusement, public gatherings, and similar purposes, and to assist in the promotion of such events in the arena as tend to produce benefit to the people of Summerland as a whole, and so that the benefits derived therefrom shall be enjoyed to the fullest extent by the people of the municipality."

Term of the lease to the rink association will be 15 years and rental to be paid the municipality will be 25 per cent of the net operating profit.

Terms of the lease put an end to any speculation about a professional (or paid amateur) hockey team being developed in Summerland. The agreement prohibits the rink association from spending any funds whatsoever either directly or indirectly, for the payment of a salary, wage, bonus or any form of remuneration whatsoever to any ice hockey player.

So that the council may keep informed of all plans of the rink association, right is reserved in the contract for a representative of the council to attend all meetings of the association and of the board of directors.

The association will undertake to carry out necessary repairs to the building and equipment and to carry an adequate amount of insurance against fire and tempest. To ensure the municipality will not be in danger of becoming involved in a lawsuit as a result of an injury sustained at the rink, the association will carry liability insurance of not less than $50,000 for injury to one person and $100,000 for injury to more than one.

To make sure money is available for any major repair job to equipment, the association will pay to the municipality each year $100 until a fund of $500 is built up and this will be held in trust until required. As money is spent from this fund, it will be restored to the $500 level by annual payments of $100.

Municipal council will at all times maintain control of apportionment of times for various purposes. The association at the beginning of each season will submit to the council a schedule setting out the times allotted for public skating, school children's skating and ice hockey and will be bound by any changes directed by the council and may alter it during the season only with the council approval.

And there will be no danger of a huge deficit being built up and left for the municipality to meet. The lease provides that should the association accumulate an operating deficit, either in one year or in a number of years, in excess of $2,000 the agreement subject to cancellation by the council.

School Band Will Present Third Annual Christmas Concert Next Week

Summerland High School Band has scheduled its third annual Christmas concert for Friday and Saturday evenings, Dec. 9 and 10. The program will be staged in the High School auditorium and will commence each night at 8 o'clock.

The program this year will follow the pattern set in previous concerts and the music will be divided into two groups — the second group being made up entirely of Christmas music.

Band director John Tamblin says the numbers chosen this year are very light and in a holiday mood with marches, novelty numbers and South American rhythms being featured in the first half of the program.

This year, the band will be aided by the newly-formed High School choir which is under the direction of Mrs. Ethel McNeill.

The choir music will also be divided into general and Christmas groups. The choral group has been practicing hard for this concert and patrons are assured of excellent entertainment from this newest group to be added to the community music circle.

Supporting the band and choir will be the junior band which will present several numbers, one of which will be a collection of carols entitled "A Christmas March."

In past years there has been difficulty accommodating the crowd on the second night of the concert and this year tickets will all be one price with all seats reserved tickets are at present being sold by high school pupils and these tickets must be exchanged at Green's Drug Store for seat tickets.

The school band has now increased to 90 members and the amount of money needed for music alone places a heavy drain on band funds. Proceeds from the concert will be to meet band expenses for music, instruments and maintenance of present instruments.

Kiwanis Will Offer Scholarships For Advancement of Music Careers

Four talented Summerland youngsters next year will be given the opportunity of attending the best summer music camps offered in Canada or the United States, or, as an alternative, receive a $50 scholarship to be used in furthering musical training.

The musical scholarships are being presented by Summerland Kiwanis Club and selection of those who are to receive the awards will be made on Feb. 4 at the Kiwanis Scholarship Festival.

Committee which has planned the event is made up of Robert Alstead, Doug Campbell, Percy Wilson, Jack Dunston and John Tamblin.

The competition will be divided into four classes — vocal dancing, piano and instrumental. Contestants will all perform solo numbers and entrance application must be filed with the committee by Jan. 15.

Competitions will then be held

Hunter Returns As Search Starts

A New Westminster hunter came walking out of the woods in Garnet Valley last evening just as police and companions were about to organize a search party.

The hunter had become separated from his companions and they became alarmed when darkness fell and he was nearly two hours late in rejoining his group. They kept signalling with rifle fire and guided him out of the woods in this way.

Tour Described At AOTS Meeting

Members of AOTS following their supper meeting last Thursday were taken on a colorful and interesting tour of most of the countries of Western Europe, by Dr. D. V. Fisher who with colored slides gave a graphic description of his recent European trip when he attended the international refrigeration conference in Paris.

Dr. Fisher showed pictures of various fruit growing areas along with typical scenes showing the various places he visited.

A planned musical interlude by Mr. and Mrs. George Ryman was cancelled because of illness of Mr. Ryman.

Business of the meeting was mostly routine. Jack Wilson reported for the Scout committee and advise memos there is still room for more Scouts and Cubs and urged that all who had boys of the required age encourage them to join the movement.

Plans were made to launch the March of Dimes campaign this week with tagging on the streets to be carried out on Dec. 3.

Plans were also discussed for the meeting of the Canadian Mental Health Association to be held in St. Andrew's church on Dec. 6 when a panel discussion will be headed by James Ward of the Mental Health Association. This meeting will be open to the public and a question period will follow.

Other Opinions

WESTSIDE FERRY HILL

Two years ago the department of highways cut back the bank on the north side of the hill which forms the approach to the west road shoulder by several feet. At that time it was reported that the change was being made in order that the highway could be widened to provide two upgrade lanes and one down. The job was never finished and today, the hill remains in the same unsatisfactory and dangerous condition.

The hill is unsatisfactory because it is frustrating to most drivers coming off the ferry. Almost invariably a heavy truck or an ancient vehicle will be one of the first off the ferry and once started up the hill forces the remainder of the traffic to jam up behind it. The hill is dangerous for this very reason. No one but a fool would pull out over the solid white line on that hill. Yet many drivers become so frustrated at the slow progress up the hill that they do just that; they pull over the solid white line and take a chance on meeting a car rushing to catch the ferry — and there is always one of these.

The department, in the opinion of this newspaper, made a serious mistake this year when it paved the large ferry parking area. More important than this and a vastly more important safety factor would have been the completion of the widening of the hill. It is very nice indeed to have the parking area nicely paved but it would be much, much better to have two upgraded traffic lanes from the ferry to the top of the hill. In our opinion, if cost was the deciding factor, it would have been much better to have completed the hill than to have paved the parking area. The paving of the parking area did nothing to remove the bottle neck which faces the southbound traffic as it leaves the ferry.

Now that the bank has been cut back the widening of this hill comes to a three lane highway with me. (Revelation 3:20.) Read Revelation 3:20-22.

Extra Dividends . . . support your local merchants

DURING THE FOUR weeks ahead, retail buying will reach the highest peak of the whole year and we hope the bulk of money spent by Summerland Christmas shoppers will be spent right here in Summerland where the purchaser will receive extra dividends for his money.

Yes, we say extra dividends because even though you don't see them, as such, they are just as real as a discount in purchase price or a gimmick thrown in free.

The more money that circulates in a community, the more prosperous that community is — and community prosperity is something that is felt by every member.

THE MEMBERS OF the Junior and Senior High School Band will be approaching residents this week and next for support of the Third Annual High School Band Christmas concert.

The way in which most money for band needs is raised is from the concerts given by the band during the year. Some numbers which the school senior band buys run as high as $25 for the 85 members as the usual band number is printed for a group of about 28 players. All this has not allowed for purchase of new instruments and a sinking fund for the instruments already owned by the school board.

The instrumental program at the school has

Summerland merchants are in a rather vulnerable position with this community located in reasonably close proximity to larger shopping centres but it is clearly evident that they are doing their utmost to meet outside competitive prices.

Summerland residents can congratulate themselves on the extensive shopping facilities available in this community. They have developed only because local merchants have had the patronage of the majority of local residents. When still more decide to shop in Summerland, the local facilities grow accordingly and another dividend may be added to the list.

grown beyond expectations and the instruments first purchased were based on an anticipated band of about 45 members. The senior and junior school bands now number around 135 members or three times the planned number.

The band already has proven itself as a top-notch group of ambassadors from Summerland on several occasions and it can be expected to progress in exactly the same ratio as it receives support from the community.

Let's make it a real top-notch school band.

CANADA'S WHEAT BOARD

Canada has millions of bushels of wheat in storage. All the elevators are choked full and great quantities are packed in barns or piled in pyramids in open fields. At first sight the average Canadian might regard such bounty as a great credit to the farmer who produced it, and commend the government for its providence in garnering so essential a food-stuff for future use. Joseph did that in ancient Egypt to provide for a seven-year famine which he foresaw was coming. But there is nothing prophetic or provident in the Canadian government's gigantic accumulation of wheat. The farmers certainly had no such ideas in producing it; their sole idea was to sell the product of their labor as soon as possible at a profit. Why then is it not sold, but allowed to pile up in useless storage?

In the first place, the farmers are not permitted to sell their wheat on the open market; they must sell and have already sold it to the National Wheat Board, which pays them a cash deposit on delivery. The wheat board is the sole marketing agency; and it has in recent years been doing more storing than selling. Why? Because the wheat importing countries will not or cannot pay the price at which the Board is willing to sell. Hence the surplus, amounting to a carryover for this year of over a billion bushels.

The purpose of the Wheat Board, to which the farmers agreed, was to control and stabilize the price by withholding the grain from the market until it could obtain a "proper" price. Previously when the wheat was sold on the free market through the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, the price of wheat differed from day to day, but it was usually sold and there was little or no surplus. A surplus of any commodity always means a reduction in price, while a scarcity is bound to result in higher prices. That is the natural effect of the law of supply and demand, and it is an attempt to control and evade that law that the Wheat Board has stored and priced itself out of the market.

Personally I know nothing about the growing or the marketing of wheat, but one need not be a farmer or a grain salesman to know that the secret of success in any business is in the old motto "small profits and quick returns." If after the last war the government had continued to control other industries, fix prices, buy up and store away all surplus manufactured goods, what a mess this country would have been in by now! But the manufacturers were permitted to return to free enterprise and the free market.

The contrast between the economic condition of the Prairie farmers and that of other industries today is a striking example of the differences between socialism and free enterprise. The virtual socialization of Western agriculture has led that industry into a dead end, while the freedom of other industries has resulted in progress and prosperity.

There are contrary views as to what the government should do to dispose of its vast hoard of wheat. It certainly cannot be sold at a profit on the open market, and to hold it for another year would leave no storage space for next year's crop, which would further depress the market. The best statement I have read on the situation was made by Stanley N. Jones, president of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange in which he proposed that a conference be held of "representative specialists in agricultural theory, practice and marketing, practicing farmers, representatives of departments of government, officials of the wheat board and members of the grain trade." He said: "The problem of surplus and its disposal is one which affects not only agriculture, but involves the welfare of every citizen of Canada, and the solution can only be found as a result of the combined thinking of all directly and indirectly concerned." He believed that such a meeting could devise a practical and workable means of moving Canada's wheat into the markets of the world.

New Apple Pack For Yule Demand

In a move to compete with sale of Japanese oranges during the Christmas season, B.C. Tree Fruits has arranged for packing of apples in a specially-designed cardboard basket.

According to tree fruits general manager R. P. Walrod, the easy-to-carry container will hold approximately nine pounds of wrapped apples.

Extra fancy Delicious and extra fancy McIntosh are presently being set aside for this package, which will be packed and handled at the industry's bagging plant in Kelowna. Attractively finished in white fibreboard with suitable color design Mr. Walrod feels this package will have required eye appeal demanded in days of modern merchandising trends.

Referring to markets, Mr. Walrod said sales to western Canada continue steady. Quebec apples are bringing a preference over Ontario Macs, due to the fact the Quebec crate holds approximately one-fifth of a bushel more than the hampers used in Ontario.

Sales of B.C. apples to Eastern Canada continue spotty, and there seems little likelihood of any improvement in the immediate future, due to heavy eastern supply.

We hope all boys working for First Star will be ready for Flag test next week. That extra bit of work at home really showed good results.

We wish to thank Scouts Ted Hanna and Harold Oxley for their interesting talks on their recent Jamboree experiences, they showed the Cubs souvenirs and pictures which added much interest. Green Six won the monthly competition.

NATURAL GAS

... and Summerland

On Saturday, December 10th, the people of Summerland will be asked to vote on a by-law that will allow the Inland Natural Gas Co. Ltd. to distribute gas in Summerland.

The presentation of this by-law is the result of many months of work and negotiation with the Municipal Council, and a proposed contract has been drawn up by the council which is acceptable to Inland Natural Gas.

During the course of the next few weeks before the date of the by-law, we will endeavor to make available to everyone in the district information about Natural Gas... its characteristics, its commercial, domestic and industrial uses; heating advantages, etc., as well as facts about the Inland Natural Gas Company itself.

This is the second of a small series of questions and answers that will appear in the Summerland Review... following articles will deal with other aspects of the Gas question... we ask you to acquaint yourself with these facts, to consider the many advantages Natural Gas offers the community as a whole and YOU as an individual, and we firmly believe that after consideration you will certainly Vote YES on By-law No. 814.

Characteristics of Natural Gas

1. How will Natural Gas appliances mak my life easier?

Generally speaking, today's natural gas appliances are completely automatic, requiring little if any attention. Ranges, for instance, are clock-controlled to turn on at a given time, allow your meal to cook for a pre-determined period, and then shut off. Another innovation, the centre simmer burner, keeps food at a constant 212 degrees. The range oven is controlled automatically to give even heat throughout at whatever temperature you desire. Automatic gas water heaters provide an adequate and rapid supply of hot water for any temperature setting. In house heating, the natural gas furnace is so completely automatic that the temperature set by the home owner is maintained regardless of the weather. The natural gas refrigerator works silently and offers automatic defrosting, ice maker and frozen food storage, among other features. The gas incinerator rids the modern home of messy, unsanitary garbage pails and gas makes clothes drying simple and easy no matter what the weather.

2. How safe is Natural Gas for house-heating?

Natural gas is completely safe if the heating unit is properly installed with safety controls. All gas furnaces installed today under gas company regulations are equipped with devices which automatically shut off gas supply to the furnace in the event of pilot failure or overheating. All natural gas appliance installations in British Columbia are subject to the requirements of the B.C. "Gas Inspection Act." The installations are inspected by a municipal inspector and all natural gas appliances must be approved by the B.C. Research Council.

3. Are Natural Gas appliances and their installation expensive?

Natural gas appliances cost less than those of comparable size that use oil, coal, wood, sawdust or electricity. No other automatic appliance has the same degree of long life and low maintenance cost. Inland Natural Gas Company Ltd. plans to install service lines and metering equipment free of charge and the consumer will be required to pay for only the small amount of piping that is required inside the customers building.

4. Where may Natural Gas appliances be secured?

Summerland appliance dealers will stock gas appliances. Inland Natural Gas Company Ltd. plans to assist them in selection of appliances and instruction of their installation crews in order to develop the maximum in safety and economy in the use of gas.

Inland Natural Gas Company Ltd. has agreed with the Municipal Council of Summerland to spend at least $25,000 in Summerland and to extend mains to all customers that may be economically served.

5. Why is Natural Gas best for cooking?

Natural gas is best for cooking because it is fast, controllable, clean, dependable and relatively inexpensive. Turn on the natural gas burner and you have instant heat; turn a dial and a thousand and one different heats are yours for the choosing; turn off the burner and the heat is gone. In baking, natural gas provides even distribution of heat throughout the oven. In broiling, the blue flame consumes all the messy smoke. From an economic point of view, the natural gas range is durable, not normally subject to costly repairs and relatively low in price.

6. Why does Natural Gas heat water so quickly?

The speed with which water can be heated is primarily dependent on the rate at which heat can be supplied to the water. Natural gas heats water quickly because it is able to transfer a relatively large amount of heat to water in a short space of time. Even a small natural gas water heater can produce 20 to 25 gallons of hot water an hour.

7. How is Natural Gas used in refrigeration?

In a natural gas refrigerator the freezing system is both continuous and automatic. A tiny natural gas flame heats the refrigerating liquid until it becomes a vapour and rises. At the top of the cycle the vapour condenses, causing quick bold. The thus-formed liquid flows down again to the flame and the procedure starts over. There are no moving parts in a natural gas refrigerator, consequently there is nothing to wear out, no risk of breakdown and no noise. The ten-year warranty on a gas refrigerator is twice as long as that on most refrigerators of other types.

8. How many different Natural Gas appliances are there?

Residential gas appliances are the range, water heater, refrigerator, air conditioner, room heater and conversion burner. It would be impractical to list all of the many specialised applications of natural gas in business and industry.

The Hi Life

Carole Allison
The Grad concert is over, and we had a full house! We sure hope you enjoyed it.

There were basketball games in Oliver Saturday night, with the senior boys and girls and grade 8 girls and boys. The grade 9 girls lost with a score of 3-16, and the boys lost 5-9. The senior girls won over Oliver 36-25; and boys lost 77-54 while a second team made up of grade 9 boys won 46-41. I hear they were good games and everyone enjoyed himself (especially walking to Pentiction when the bus broke down at Skaha).

The next attraction is the Band Concert on December 9-10.

The high school has been invited to Vernon for a skating party and sock dance with Vernon high school on Tuesday, December 27. There won't be any buses going out any individuals who would like to go may get further particulars from Anne Solly. Please don't hesitate to ask.

Monday after school the senior boys and girls Volleyball teams came to defeat against Pentiction. The girls played close games and carried it out to three games. There will be a volleyball tournament here Saturday.

The band will be having a hot-dog sale sometime before Christmas but as yet no date has been decided on. Start working up an appetite kids!

Well, that about winds it up for this week. Don't forget to sell lots of tickets for that Band Concert, because we've sure got lots to sell. Prizes will be offered again this year.

It is expected that quite a few of these junior members will be drawn for permanent rinks for participating in the family bonspiel at Christmas time.

Scout Activities

We want to see every scout out next week wearing full uniform including short pants, shorts and change at the hall if the weather is cold. Any Scout not wearing short pants next meeting will be asked by your Scout Master to go home and get them.

Gardiner Warns High Tariff Demands Can Result in Retaliatory Measures

A Summerland man, L. L. Tripp, accompanied Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Canada's minister of agriculture on his tour of the Okanagan last week. Mr. Tripp was asked to give the vote of thanks to the visiting cabinet member at the conclusion of the evening address in Penticton.

Mr. Gardiner came into the Okanagan at the invitation of the B.C. Federation of Agriculture, which held sessions at Vernon last week. After speaking at Vernon on Wednesday, he journeyed to Kelowna, being guest speaker at a luncheon there, and then to Penticton.

In Penticton he was guest speaker at a special dinner for regional agricultural leaders and also heads of the Liberal movement, conveying some interesting and encouraging news to both groups.

He adopted a more cautious attitude in addressing the public gathering that followed in Penticton, declining to be drawn into contentious fields, or to deal with purely local problems.

Instead, he confined the major portion of his address to a broad outline of the way in which the Liberal government has, both during the last two years of the late war, and subsequently, dealt with the problem of inflation.

Said Mr. Gardiner, "Inflation seems to inevitably follow a war, and the suggestion was that the only way to beat it was to deflate farm prices, on the theory that if you keep the price of farm produce down sufficiently, the cost of living will be lower, and neither the farmer, nor many of those dependent upon him, will be able to buy a great deal. Hence, the theory has had it, since there would be a lower demand for goods, prices would not rise but might be lowered."

He told the Penticton gathering that instead of adopting this approach, the Liberal government had established legislation, the Agricultural Prices Support Act, which would give the farmer a guaranteed "wage", preventing the untoward forcing down of farm prices.

This measure, which was passed in 1954 avoided the "surplus purchasing" that the U.S. has become involved in, and, instead, sets a price level for certain commodities, at which figure, if no one else will buy that commodity — such as butter, eggs, cheese, pork — the government agrees that it will do so. In action, the plan keeps the fund revolving, for, as fast as a product is withdrawn from the market, and starts to rise again, the item is re-sold. All such goods are kept on normal commercial storage shelves, rather than being "buried" as some are in the U.S. Several instances of how this operates were quoted by the minister.

While he confined the bulk of his remarks to butter and eggs, he used these as typical examples of the way in which the price support works, also showing how on a price-supported commodity the government is quick to step in when it appears that wholesalers, after buying up stocks of butter and eggs, have jumped prices upward, only to find that the government would then liberate some of these items that had been previously bought with taxpayers' money, the government item being sold at a normal price level that soon brings the inflated price downward.

Later, dealing more specifically with Okanagan problems, Mr. Gardiner warned of the danger of even suggesting a too-high tariff on apricot imports, lest a retaliatory duty be placed on Canada's exports of apples, to mention one item, to the U.S. He said that this country, with its 15,000,000 people less than a tenth that of the U.S. must endeavor to get along with the larger country southward, for the U.S. is our best customer, and the wise merchant does not go around offending best customers.

Extension of the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation plan to the Okanagan would not be possible as in the inception of the PFRA it was definitely limited, by law, to the Palliser triangle on the prairies, an area where the federal government had taken control of the natural resources, and in which much of the dust-bowl drought conditions had occurred in the "thirties." Also, the problem of disposal of the produce of any extra acreage brought under cultivation through this plan would have to be solved, preferably prior to such acreage coming into production.

No mention was made during the address of possibility of the resumption of the low-cost (two per cent) loans to municipalities and districts, covering self-liquidation projects. Summerland benefited materially from the original two-per-cent loan plan, and there had been reports that this scheme would be reinstated by the federal government.

Mr. Gardiner went into some detail concerning the Crown's

Pass freight rates, refreshing the memories of his hearers by stating that these rates had been instituted by mutual agreement between the railways and the government, through which the former was deeded land and other items, in consideration for agreement to keep the low rates on in perpetuity. With the changing of conditions across Canada, some adjustment had to be made, so the government had arranged a subsidy, rather than have the low rate wiped out altogether.

At Penticton Mr. Gardiner was introduced by M. P. Finney, formerly Liberal MLA for Similkameen. The meeting was closed off sharply to permit Mr. Gardiner to make the Vancouver-bound train. Then it was found that the train was somewhat late, so the interval was taken up with an informal gathering of friends and adherents.

Postmen Object To Tiny envelopes

People with a penchant for tiny Christmas cards and women who affect small sheets and envelopes in their personal correspondence will have to revise their habits.

The post office now will no longer handle any envelope which is smaller than four inches by two and three-quarter inches.

This matter has been the subject of discussion by postal authorities on the international level and the decision to refuse to carry envelopes smaller than those outlined above has been taken by several countries. Canadian envelope manufacturers have been so advised.

If you mail an envelope smaller than the new regulations allow, the envelope and its contents will be treated as undeliverable and disposed of in accordance with the regulations governing undeliverable mail.

Canada, Third Largest Contributor In Aid to Under-Developed Countries

Canada is the third largest contributor to the Colombo Plan, with $128 million appropriated over the past five years for assistance to under-developed countries, according to the Bank of Montreal's Business Review for November, issued recently.

Under the title of "Self-help with a Helping Hand", the B of M publication reviews the operation of the Colombo Plan which successful programs of international aid. While originally designed as a scheme for Commonwealth countries, the plan has become international in its scope, with the United States playing a leading role in the development.

Outlining the uses to which Canada's five-year appropriation of $128 million had been put, the review notes that $21 million was utilized for the purchase of 120 steam locomotives for India to help re-equip that country's transportation system.

The counterpart funds derived by the Indian government from the sale within India of $15 million of wheat given by Canada were used to finance the construction of a project at Mayurakshi, in West Bengal, to provide control on the Mayurakshi River, generate a nominal amount of hydro-electric power and irrigate some 600,000 acres of land. It is this development that was officially opened recently by Canada's Minister of External Affairs and includes the Canada Dam, so called because of this country's contribution.

Outstanding Projects

Other outstanding projects facilitated by Canada include the modernization of the Bombay Transport System; the erection of a cement plant, the irrigation of 195,000 acres and the development of 150,000 kw. of installed electric power capacity in Pakistan, as well as a $3 million aerial survey of the country's resources; a fisheries research and development scheme in Ceylon calculated to assist the fishing industry there and provide a more balanced diet for the population.

Touching on the achievements of the Colombo Plan as a whole, the Bank points out that more than two million acres of land previously desert have been brought under cultivation and a further million acres have been reclaimed. Improved methods of cultivation have been introduced over a considerable area.

In India, for example, these influences, assisted by favorable weather, brought about a 22 per cent increase in the production of food grains between 1949-50 and 1953-54, and dependence on food imports has been materially reduced.

Railways have been rehabilitated in India, Pakistan, Burma, Indonesia and Ceylon, while Pakistan has embarked on a program of road construction.

Expenditures Rise 117%

While no over-all estimate of the volume of capital investment undertaken annually in this area is available, some impression of its size is provided by the fact that development expenditures in Burma, Ceylon, Indonesia, Malaya, British Borneo and Pakistan increased from $910 million in 1951-52 to nearly $2 billion in 1954-55 — a rise of 117% in just three years.

"But," says the B of M, "even making allowances for private investment and for the value of external assistance not included in these figures, the indicated volume of capital expenditure is still lamentably low in comparison with that undertaken in more developed countries."

While acknowledging that there is no easy road to prosperity for a densely populated and under-developed country, the B of M believes that in the Colombo Plan a good start has been made "with a sober appraisal of basic requirements and an emphasis on making fundamental improvements that may, if reinforced with continued assistance gradually initiate a movement of growth that will go forward of its own momentum."

The Pronghorn or Rocky Mountain antelope, Canada's fastest wild animals, once outnumbered even the buffalo on the western prairies.

Eastern Canada appears to be favored by the weather man for the next four weeks. From Winnipeg westward, the forecast is below normal or much below, while above normal temperatures will prevail in the Maritimes, Quebec and most of Ontario. Precipitation, probably of snow, will be heavy in the warmer areas.

at the Facts behind the Figures

No doubt about it, we Canadians have, on the whole, had a good year in 1955. And, although you may not think of it, the facts show that you personally played a useful role in helping Canada reach its great height of prosperity during the past year.

For it is your money, together with the savings of millions of other Canadians across the country, that helps turn the wheels of our industries and our commerce. The B of M puts your savings to work, in the form of loans and investments, so that Canadian enterprise can have the day-to-day financing it needs to build, to employ, and to produce. Only with such financial assistance are Canadians able to enjoy the benefits of a high standard of living.

Clearly, the facts behind the figures in the B of M's 1955 annual report show that the dollars you save work hard and long to secure not only your own future, but also the future of our nation...

THE MONEY YOU DEPOSIT: At the end of the Bank's year, October 31, 1955, over two million Canadians had on deposit at the B of M the sum of $2,591,326,311—the highest year-end total on record. Although much of this money belongs to institutions and business firms, more than half of these deposits represent the personal savings of Canadians in every walk of life... savings that are bringing benefits to you and to Canada.

in all walks of life. As of October 31, B of M loans totalled $1,057,444,001—the highest in the Bank's history. In untold ways, these dollars are contributing dynamically to the maintenance and improvement of our standard of living.

THE MONEY WE LEND: The money you save at the B of M is helping to ensure our country's expansion and progress—in the form of loans to Canadian farmers, miners, fishermen, oil men, lumbermen and ranchers; to industrial and business enterprises; to Provincial and Municipal Governments; and to salaried people

THE MONEY WE INVEST: At the close of the year, the B of M had $975,361,319 invested in high-grade government bonds and other public securities which have a ready market. This money is helping to finance government projects for the betterment of the country and the welfare of Canadians at large. Other securities held by the Bank—which include a diversified list of high-quality short-term industrial issues—bring total investments to $1,214,559,875.

My bank has just completed its 138th year with resources amounting to $2,796,174,064—the highest figure in its history. The B of M's growth is part of the growth of this community and of all Canada, and I am proud of the part my customers have in this story of progress.

B of M Annual Report Discloses Highest Loan Figures in History

Providing strong evidence of the widespread participation of its branches in development of Canadian business from coast to coast, the Bank of Montreal reports the highest figures in its history for loans, deposits and investments for the 12 months ended October 31 last. Resources have increased by a quarter-of-billion dollars to the unprecedented figure of $2,796,000,000, according to the 138th annual statement issued this week by the B of M manager Ivor Solly.

Maintaining its traditionally strong liquid position, the B of M reported quick assets of $1,730 million, which is equal to 65 per cent of all its public liabilities. Contributing heavily to this position is the large investment portfolio, valued at $1,214 million which — notwithstanding the enlarged demand for credit — shows an increase of $44 million over the total for investments a year ago.

One Billion In Loans
The very substantial increase in loans is noteworthy, inasmuch as total advances have now passed the billion-dollar mark. Commercial and other loans rose $134 million and mortgage loans under the N.H.A. were up from 10 to 51 million dollars, while call loans, reflecting lessened activity in the securities market, showed a decline of $21 million. As a whole, loans rose $154 million to a total of $1,057,444,000. Most notable of the increases in the items making up the balance-sheet is the rise in deposits to $2,591 million, up from $2,365 million a year ago.

With the completion during the year of subscriptions to the new issue of the bank's capital to a paid-up total of $45 million, the amount of the shareholders' equity has again shown substantial enlargement, running now to $139,134,215. This is made up of the rest fund of $92 million and undivided profits of $2,134,215, in addition to the paid-up capital of $45 million.

Increase in Earnings
After providing for taxes of $7,043,000, the B of M reports earnings of $8,042,146 for 1955, compared with $7,344,274 a year ago.

For this shareholders received $6,521,346 — half-a-million dollars

Arena Agreement Aired At Ratepayers' Meeting

Prospects for the operation of the Summerland Arena with an artificial ice making plant received a thorough airing Tuesday night at a ratepayers' meeting which considered the two by-laws to be voted on Saturday.

In sharp contrast to the lack of questions which followed reading of the gas by-law by Reeve Atkinson was the spirited hour-long discussion which followed the outline of the rink agreement.

Large majority of those in attendance at the meeting appeared to be in favor of the municipality taking over the arena and installing the ice making machinery. Most vocal in expressing opposition to the proposal was H. J. Wells who kept up a running fire of questions designed to discredit the feasibility of the plan. In nearly every instance, Reeve Atkinson, members of the Rink Association or individual ratepayers who are in favor of the by-law had answers to Mr. Wells' questions.

Reeve Atkinson led off the discussion with some background of the planning for this by-law, explaining that referendum, which passed with a 64 per cent majority a year ago, called for an expenditure of $62,000. Included in this amount, he said, was $24,000 to cover outstanding bonds against the Rink Association, and this sum has now been taken out of the deal with the association selling the rink for one dollar. This, he pointed out, brought the price down to $38,000, but on examining tenders on the cost of installing the ice-making equipment and other necessary work, it was decided to set the amount of the by-law at $40,000.

Interest on the bond issue to raise this amount will be roughly four per cent, he said, and to retire the principle in equal installments over a period of 20 years will require a payment of $3,600 — including principle and interest — the first year and reducing yearly to $2,080 the final year.

He then explained the main features of the proposed 15-year lease of the arena to the rink association if the by-law is approved.

First question came from Mr. Wells who referred to the clause that the municipality had the right to cancel the agreement should the rink association accumulate an operating loss of $2,000 and asked if the rink association had the same right to void the agreement should they reach that financial position.

Harvey Wilson interjected "The Rink Association has been in the hole for more than that more than once and several members have put their name to a note to raise enough money to get out of the hole and it's always been paid off".

Asked Mr. Wells, "Will the Rink Association be able to do that now?" It was pointed out to him that the wording of the agreement stated that the municipality "may" cancel the agreement under these circumstances and decision on whether it was done or not would be up to the council of the time but there was no provision for the association to cancel under this clause.

E. H. Bennett asked for clarification on why the $800 rent paid annually by the curling club should be paid to the municipality and it was explained that under the proposed new set-up, the curling club lease would have to be with the municipality as owners but the money received would be placed to the credit of the rink association and paid against power and water rates.

Referring to the clause which provides the rink association will pay 25 per cent of profit to the municipality, Jack Morrow asked if there was any minimum rent to be charged in the event the rink failed to show a profit. "You can't get blood out of a stone," answered Reeve Atkinson "If there's any profit the corporation will share in it but if the rink isn't making any money, then there just isn't any".

Commented Wm. Stein, "It's just like the government taking over the ONR. Now they've got great big railroad but we don't ride any cheaper."

Mrs. H. J. Wells asked, "Will we lose the taxes from the arena now?"

"The council has the power to forgo taxes on property owned by athletic associations," Reeve Atkinson answered, "and there's very little taxes from the arena now."

Said Mr. Wells, "Is it not true that you are establishing a precedent? Couldn't the badminton club come to you and ask you to take over their club on the same arrangement?" Answered the reeve: "Could be but you'd have to have 60 per cent vote of the ratepayers."

The reeve went on to say that other towns have gone into the operation of arenas and it seems to be the only feasible way of operating them. He said the department of municipal affairs have in the past opposed municipalities entering this field but recently has shown a change of heart.

Reeve Atkinson said the council had considered the possibility of a deficit but felt there should be some provision of winter sport for children. He pointed out that the municipality provides a park for ball players and there has been no objection to that and also that beaches are maintained at Powell Beach and Peach Orchard for swimmers. The parks program costs only about $4,000 a year, he said, but expressed the opinion that the principle was the same.

Asked Mr. Wells, "Did the municipality approve of the association spending $8,000 on the arena this fall while you were considering taking it over?" The reeve answered that the association had approached the council and asked for approval for doing this work but they were told the building belonged to the association and they were perfectly within their rights to go ahead with this work if they wished.

Referring to the cost of the arena, Reeve Atkinson said an architect had been engaged to appraise the building and his estimate was $57,000. "Actually," he said, "there isn't a district in B. C. that is getting an arena with only $40,000 and we can get a ice as cheaply as we can if we want it. The money by-law is for money. The only way to look at very high priced arena for that it is that the by-law will cost $3,600 the first year, decreasing to $2,080 in the 20th year and then it's paid for."

Eric Tait joined the discussion by expressing himself in favor of the agreement. At a time, when he was serving on the municipal council, he said, one point of opposition to the municipality taking over the arena was there was no guarantee that enthusiasm shown at that time would continue and the corporation would be left with a partially-built building on its hands. "The very fact that members of the Rink Association have a very substantial personal investment in the arena and are willing to turn it over to the municipality for one dollar is a guarantee that interest in the arena will continue. I think the association members have gone into it so wholeheartedly to try and get artificial ice for the municipality that they are deserving of the support of the community."

"I don't feel the municipality can afford this arena," countered Mr. Wells "Most municipalities are operating arenas at a loss and I'm afraid this arena is going to lose money and come back to the municipality to be subsidized. It's going to cost one mill on the car."

No Trace Reported On Car Stolen Here

Police have not yet had any report of the car owned by Gus Turigan which was stolen Friday night from where it had been left parked off Giant's Head Road.

The car is a 1953 light green Plymouth, B.C. license No. 246837. Start of a search for the car was delayed because the owner could not remember the license number and it was not possible to obtain the information from Victoria until Monday morning.

Two Dog Licenses Cost Owner $30.50, Plus Hungry Week-End in Lock-Up

After serving two days of a 10 day jail term, Carl Otto Monday night paid dog tax for his two dogs, plus fines and costs which brought the total up to $30.50, and ended for 26 days, at least, his long standing argument with the municipality over whether he had to pay the two dollar fee for his two dogs.

The licences he paid for this week will, however, cover his dogs only until December 31 and he will then have to decide whether he is going to give in or keep up his battle over a principle.

Otto has refused to purchase a license for his two dogs on the grounds that he has to keep them in order to protect his property and if the municipality or police can guarantee him 24 hour protection, then he will get rid of the dogs.

Last year he was taken to court for failure to license the dogs and was given a fine with option of a jail term. However, the fine was not collected and he was not committed for the sentence.

This year the same routine followed except that when he failed to pay the fine, police last Saturday night took him in custody to serve the term.

Police said that Otto went on a hunger strike as soon as he was taken into custody and did not eat during the two days he was held in the Penticton lock-up. Arrangements were being made to have him removed to Okalla to serve the remainder of his time there when his wife turned up on Monday night and paid the fine.

Haddrell-Dunn Team Wins Bridge Tourney

Summerland's newest bridge champions are Corky Haddrell and Mrs. John Dunn. The pair earned the title last week when they defeated George Fudge and Mrs. E. E. Atkinson in the finals of the Summerland Athletic Club bridge tourney.

Consolation event was won by Norman Anderson and Miss Margaret Hall who defeated Mr. and Mrs. Al McIntosh in the finals of that event.

Tournament chairman Mrs. C. E. Piers reported a very successful tournament this year and although it was intended there should be only one tourney this season, in response to a large number of requests for further play, another may be staged after the first of the year.

Icy Road Conditions Cause of Accidents

Slippery road conditions last week were the cause of two car crashes in the district. Car driven by Tom Parks crashed into a truck operated by William Broderick near Pauldar and caused considerable damage to both vehicles.

Second crash was on the Penticton road when cars operated by George Wade and Mrs. Collin McKenzie were in collision. There was considerable damage to both cars.

No Spouse Vote In By-Law Ballot

Polls will be open in Summerland from Saturday until 8 p.m. for voters to express opinions on by-laws — the $40,000 arena by-law and the Natural Gas Franchise By-law. With all elective offices filled by acclamation on nomination day, there will be no voting for individuals. Polls will be located at the municipal office and at Lakeside United Church hall.

On the list of ratepayers entitled to cast ballots on the two questions are 1,353. Entitled to vote are registered property owners only. In this voting, spouse and business license holders have no vote. Where property is jointly registered, both registered owners are entitled to vote.

Transportation to the polls is being provided by the Summerland Board of Trade, phone 3061, and by the Summerland Rink Association, phone 2661.

Building Figures Behind Last Year

Building permits totalling $14,410 issued during the month of November leaves the total for this year about $30,000 behind last year's construction at the same date. The year's total is now $225,273 compared to $256,000 for the first 11 months of 1954.

During the past month, two dwelling permits were issued to a total of $9,000 while one commercial permit was for $3,585. Six more permits for alterations added up to $2,323.

November building was only about half that of last year when $28,325 in permits was issued.

The month's building figures along with comparisons with last year were contained in the report presented to the municipal council by Building Inspector Roy F. Angus.

Rotary Turkey Shoot Saturday

Summerland marksmen Saturday will have an opportunity to emulate the early pilgrims who as Christmas neared took down their fowling pieces and went out and bagged their holiday turkey.

The local shooters, however, will be pulling off a much neater trick. They will shoot down pigeons and bring home turkeys.

But the pigeons will be of the clay variety and the test of marksmanship will be at the Rotary annual turkey shoot which is being held at the Summerland Trap Club. Both trap and small bore shooting will be staged at the event and the committee states that the day off and more can be obtained if needed. There will also be a supply of hams and chickens.

The shoot will start at 10:30 a.m. and continue on until dark. In charge of the event is J. W. Mitchell assisted by Ken Blagborne and Joe McLachlan.

Pays Minimum Fine For Lying About Age

A Summerland youth last week counted himself lucky because Magistrate Bob Alstead happens to be an ardent hunter. He was before the magistrate on a charge of having falsified his age in order to get a hunting license.

Magistrate Alstead told the youth he could appreciate his enthusiasm for hunting because he felt the same way about it himself but in assessing the minimum fine of five dollars, warned him that lying to get what he wanted was a poor way to start out in life.

Natural Gas Proposal Meets Ready Acceptance

Indications this week are that the natural gas by-law will be approved by a thumping majority on Saturday. The proposal of Inland Natural Gas to bring the pipeline fuel to Summerland has been welcomed in all quarters and no opposition to the plan has been heard.

Last week, a Review reporter-photographer called on some of the business people of Summerland to hear an expression of opinion. All expressed themselves as solidly in favor of the proposed new service and foresaw in it possibilities for expansion of the Summerland economy.

Said Les Rumball, at Super-Valu, "I think it is a fine thing. I know that for one thing, it will save money for us here in the store, not only from fuel bills, but in cleaning." Mr. Rumball said he had a personal interest in the coming of the new fuel. "At home I'm using sawdust, and while I know that will still be somewhat cheaper than gas, it is dirty, difficult to handle, and requires a lot of storage space I can use for other things."

Norm Holmes at Holmes & Wade gave a practical aspect. "We are selling gas ranges and heaters now," he said. "And this makes it quite apparent that people are already looking to this new fuel, when buying new appliances. They are looking ahead realizing that a gas stove bought now can be quickly converted from propane to the new pipeline fuel. We look for a considerable increase of this business, even before the gas becomes available."

At Young's Electric, Gordon Young, was asked whether he considered gas would be a detriment to his electric business. He expressed the opinion that it would not only not have a detrimental effect, but might prove beneficial. He too is already selling gas ranges.

However, he brought forward a much more significant point "Summerland is definitely in need of light industries, and if gas can bring these in — and a lot of us think it not only can, but will do so — then we are all for it." To cap this point, Inland Gas Co. has stated that not only will gas help induce industry to settle in the interior, but that the gas company will put on an active campaign to promote it, and will enter into any community drive that has this as its objective.

Having obtained a male point of view, next interviewed was Mrs. White at Macil's. Mrs. White, in addition to thoroughly endorsing the idea of the general betterment of the community by way of industry, and a saving to shopkeepers, brought out the woman's point of view, stressing not only the lot of the full-time housewife but the working wife. She said that both would be happy with gas cooking, and that the latter group would find it a time-saver, and a boon when quick meals must be prepared.

Gerry Hallquist at 5c to $1 store, and Bill Laidlaw, at Laidlaw's, the last two contacted, selected similar themes. Both said that Summerland, as a community would benefit, and that despite this communities low power rates, which are among the best in B.C., that gas will find, and fill a place in the development and progress of the town. It was particularly pointed out that electrical space-heating is not a particularly economic item, and that in this field particularly, gas will come into its own.

WHY BOTHER TO WORK

The news that the carpenters are asking for a 30 hour work week; planning a campaign for increased wages and are interested in a health and welfare scheme under which employees and employers would pay equal shares is so fantastic that we were tempted to think that our eyesight is deteriorating and that we just dreamed up this news story.

But it wasn't a dream. The stature of that newspaper is such that we do not believe that story in the Victoria Colonist and the publishers are the victims of a gigantic hoax or that they permit typographical errors of such magnitude.

It is hard to conceive that the carpenters, in return for the 30 hour work week will take lower wages. And if their wages are not increased immediately it needs only simple arithmetic to show that if carpenters working 40 hours were paid $1,200 to do a job, the rate for those men would be $30 an hour. If a 30 hour work week came in then the rate would be $40 an hour and the cost of that particular job has increased by one third. Imagine you are building a modern three bedroom home and see what that means.

The trend today is to more money, less work, better working conditions and more benefits and the trend is so strong that it is pretty hard to fight. Indeed we're not sure that it should be fought providing the concessions sought are reasonable and men are willing to give more in return for the greater benefits.

But before we go along with the 30 hour work week with higher wages and greater benefits we would like to know how many carpenters are fully qualified to bear the name and carry the union card by virtue of their skill and how many of them call themselves carpenters on the strength of purchasing a hammer and saw and joining the union at that organization's request in order to build up its strength. — Comox District Free Press.

A WICKED AND DISGUSTING THING

In these days of high pressure salesmanship we have come to expect almost any kind of promises in the keen desire to make sales.

But when we see an offer of health on a money back guarantee basis then this is something we cannot philosophically shrug off as an inevitable trend of the times.

Last week there appeared in a Vancouver newspaper a full page advertisement which included a guarantee which read "if given time for maximum results Spears Hospital guarantees a refund of treatment costs to all cancer patients accepted under this plan who do not receive a cure, arrestment, relief, prolongation of life or other satisfactory results.

On the subject of polio it says "your money's worth or your treatment money back." Elsewhere it adds that this does not apply to meals and rooms.

It is disgusting to offer health on a bargain basement sale basis and it is wicked to raise the hopes of sufferers.

As laymen we are in no position to say whether this American chiropractic group can effect cures or not but we can and do say that they have no right to advertise in this manner and we have lost a little respect for the newspaper that accepted it.

Did the man who dreamed up this advertising stop to consider the sufferers from these illnesses? The money back guarantee may be an attraction to the shopping housewives but we think that the words which will stand out most prominently to cancer sufferers are "cure" and "guarantee."

Would a refund of the treatment money or even a refund of a thousand times the treatment money compensate for the disappointment born of an unfilled promise of relief?

It was a precept of Hippocrates that no doctor should offer too much hope for a patient. If no cure was effected, the patient's family and friends were forewarned. If the treatment was successful then there was more cause for joy.

That was good psychology thousands of years ago and it is still good psychology today. What sort of psychology is a money back guarantee?

We think it's disgusting that any hospital should behave like a business firm trying to squeeze an extra dollar out of thrifty housewives.

A Responsibility... and also common courtesy

IN THE PAST, when balloting on a by-law is held at a time when there are no elective offices to be filled, turnout of voters at the polls has been relatively small. Maybe, the fact that there are two by-laws to be voted on here Saturday will help swell the ranks of those who help decide the issues by expressing an opinion through the ballot box.

There is probably as little contention over the natural gas by-law as there will ever be over any question put to the voters. We have questioned as many people as possible on this subject and find anyone who is opposed to the idea of having during the past few weeks have been unable to the district served with natural gas. A few have had some questions regarding minor features in the agreement but none have even doubted that it would be beneficial to the district.

Natural gas can do a lot for Summerland. As a clean, fast, low-cost fuel for cooking and heating, it will be welcomed by housewives and will get an equally warm welcome from the man of the house who will escape a lot of jobs he will never be sorry to retire from.

But beyond the household uses, there is a much more important job it can do. The need for a better balance to the economy of this district has long been recognized and the availability of a low-cost fuel, along with many other advantages, can serve as a lure to attract light industries to the community and give it the sorely-needed year-round payrolls.

And the company supplying the gas will be the first to bring a new payroll to the district which is of particular interest since they have pledged in the proposed agreement to use local labor insofar as is practical.

Three Questions... and there's only one answer

AN ISSUE WHICH HAS been a lively topic in Summerland for the past three years is to be finally decided on Saturday. Are municipal funds to be used for the installation of artificial ice at the Summerland Arena to give the youngsters of this district a full winter season of skating?

The cost to the ratepayers for this will be $40,000 to be paid off in 20 years.

In order to arrive at a decision on this issue, voters should ask themselves three questions:

- Do we need it?
- Are we getting value for our money?
- Can we afford it?

To answer the first question, it is only necessary to look back to periods when skating was possible in the district in former years to gauge enthusiasm of Summerland youngsters for what is practically Canada's national sport. The old outdoor rink was always crowded when skating was available and the same has been true of the Arena since it was built; fringe of Lake Okanagan, James Lake, Sanborn Lake and various ponds in the district are meccas for young skaters whenever they are iced over; at every opportunity, Summerland kids are hitch-hiking into Penticton to skate at the Arena there.

There is no doubt but that the enthusiasm for skating exists and certainly there is no more healthy or wholesome activity we can provide for our youth. A report from Kelowna states a sharp

Mid-Week Message

Of all that thou shalt give me I will surely give the tenth unto thee. (Genesis 28:22.) Read Mark 12: 41-44.

During these times when experts are trying to find out where the citizen's dollar goes, we may get the idea that trying to decide what part of our income shall go where is a new thing. But if we turn to the book of Leviticus we find there God's direction to His people on the subject of the tithe: "All the tithe of the land, whether of the seed of the land or of the fruit of the tree, is the Lord's: it is holy unto the Lord." It is well to look upon "the tenth" or "tithe" as a Christian's privilege to give rather than as a duty demand, for "God loveth a cheerful giver."

One business man who began tithing because he thought it his duty was amazed to find that he could still meet his obligations just the same and give to his church many times as much as before. This is only one example of the many who have tried tithing and found in the practice self-satisfaction and joy in giving.

PRAYER

Our Father, give us the will to return to Thee a portion of that which Thou hast given us. May we not become so wrapped up in the things of this world that we forget to support the "body of Christ" — His Church. Help us to pattern our lives in keeping with the spirit of Thy Son. In His name. Amen.

bor insofar as is practical.

These are only a few of the advantages obvious to all, and because the agreement seems to be so unanimously acceptable to all, there is a strong element of gaffer that too many will have the feeling that their vote will not be necessary in order to have a decisive vote.

The rink by-law is a much broader subject so that is being dealt with in a separate editorial.

Every voter should realize that the right to cast a ballot is not a privilege. It is a responsibility. We live in a country where a man can express his opinion privately without fear of reprisal. It is not a right which came to us by accident; many in years past have paid dearly so that the right to cast a secret ballot should become part of our birthright. There are countries today where men are still waging the battle for that right and we in free countries are regarded with envy that this democratic procedure should be here accepted so matter-of-factly. The only way in which we can keep our voting procedure operating in a healthy manner is by exercising our right at every opportunity.

There is still another reason why responsibility rests with the voters to cast ballots Saturday. Year around members of the municipal council work a staggering number of hours on behalf of the ratepayers of the municipality. The council has now approved this agreement with the gas company and is asking the ratepayers for an opinion before the agreement is signed. After the effort the council members put in on behalf of the ratepayers, it is only common courtesy that they should be given an answer.

So take a few minutes Saturday and cast your ballots.

from the time the Arena was opened.

In making a decision on whether we need it, we should take a second look at the facilities now available — fringe of Lake Okanagan, frozen over ponds, Penticton. Ice on open water around here never freezes thick enough that it is entirely free of hazard to skaters. Never a season goes by but what a few skaters get an icy dunking and it's only a matter of time before there will be tragedy instead of just some discomfort and sniffle, when some youngster goes through the ice.

Most youngsters travelling to Penticton for skating use the hitch-hiking routine. It is not necessary to point-out the hazards involved in this method of travel.

Many parents are willing to gamble on these hazards rather than deprive their children of a sport from which they derive so much enjoyment — and perhaps they're right but if they reject a chance to eliminate these hazards, they are gambling against reckless odds.

On the question of whether we are getting value for our money, we need only compare the proposed cost with the cost of rinks elsewhere. In the larger neighboring communities, arenas have cost upwards of $275,000 and provide few if any more facilities than the one proposed for Summerland. Rinks built elsewhere on the same plan as this one have cost well in excess of $100,000. At $40,000, there is no doubt but that Summerland ratepayers are being offered a bargain rate.

The final question, "Can we afford it?" is one that is of paramount interest to many. After an exhaustive study of rink financing in other communities, The Review conscientiously believes that with artificial ice, the Summerland arena can be self-supporting.

There are those who argue that other community owned rinks are showing a deficit. That may be right in some cases but not all. Cranbrook is a community of approximately the same size as Summerland and has a rink built from the same plans and it is operating at a profit. Kelowna has been running each year at around the break-even mark and over the past five years reports a profit.

But let's look behind the balance sheet of rinks reporting a deficit. One of the big items in each case is a debt service charge. Penticton, for example, started out with a debt of $275,000. Compare the charges on this with the charges of the proposed $40,000 expenditure in Summerland. It represents a difference of about $10,000 in the first year's operating expenses.

Then, too, the method of operating a community-owned rink is also worthy of study. It is obvious in practically every case that the board is not budgeting for a fat profit but instead any likely profit is dissipated through capital expenditures on additional facilities or through reduced admission or free skating for the youngsters.

Summerland residents have always been proud of their community and of the facilities available here — and justifiably so. Here is an opportunity to still further extend the facilities of the community and we sincerely believe if this proposition is given approval, the decision will never be regretted.

"I hope you're not afraid of microbes," apologized the bank teller as he cashed the school teacher's cheque with soiled currency.

"Don't worry," said the young lady grimly, "a microbe couldn't live on my salary."

NATURAL GAS

... and Summerland

On Saturday, December 10th, the people of Summerland will be asked to vote on a by-law that will allow the Inland Natural Gas Co. Ltd. to distribute gas in Summerland.

The presentation of this by-law is the result of many months of work and negotiation with the Municipal Council, and a proposed contract has been drawn up by the council which is acceptable to Inland Natural Gas.

During the course of the next few weeks before the date of the by-law, we will endeavor to make available to everyone in the district information about Natural Gas . . . its characteristics, its commercial, domestic and industrial uses; heating advantages, etc., as well as facts about the Inland Natural Gas Company itself.

This is the second of a small series of questions and answers that will appear in the Summerland Review . . . following articles will deal with other aspects of the Gas question . . . we ask you to acquaint yourself with these facts, to consider the many advantages Natural Gas offers the community as a whole and YOU as an individual, and we firmly believe that after consideration you will certainly Vote YES on By-law No. 814.

Characteristics of Natural Gas

1. What are the advantages of Natural Gas for house-heating?

A natural gas furnace is a compact, noiseless, clean, efficient unit offering no fuel storage problem. The initial cost of purchasing and installing a gas furnace is relatively low, as is the cost of the fuel itself. Maintenance costs are low. From an operational point of view, a natural gas burner need not be affected by power failures, since it can be operated either manually or by self-regulating controls. All modern gas furnaces are completely automatic, requiring no attention whatever from the householder. The unit costs of practically all other fuels remains constant with increased usage whereas the unit cost of natural gas decreases with increased consumption.

2. How do commercial establishments use gas?

Natural gas is used for cooking, water heating, space heating, refrigeration, incineration, air conditioning and clothes drying in a great number of commercial establishments such as hotels, motels, restaurants, apartment buildings, wholesale and retail outlets, bakeries and institutions. Some firms even have their premises piped for natural gas lighting as an emergency precaution in event of power failure.

3. What qualities of Natural Gas appeal most to industry?

Natural gas is used extensively by industry because it offers instant heat with no warm-up period, precise temperature control and a high degree of efficiency and dependability. Also it is clean and requires no storage space thus making it ideally suited to the requirements of production in hundreds of different ways, ranging from direct flame applications to mammoth furnaces.

4. What Industries are the largest consumers of Natural Gas?

In this area the largest gas consuming industry will be the food processors. Gradually other industries will develop to support the food industry and probably others of no direct relation will come to the Summerland district as the trend toward decentralization of major national industry continues. Inland Natural Gas Company Ltd. plans to assist development in the Summerland area with every means at its disposal.

5. What has been Inland's contribution toward bringing Natural Gas to Interior British Columbia?

Inland has been identified with and has given substantial support to the proposal to bring natural gas to interior and southern British Columbia since its inception. The company has taken part in the drilling of gas wells in the Peace River area and these wells have been material in establishing the existence of the reserves necessary to support Westcoast's proposed transmission line. Inland also made market surveys and prepared engineering reports on the feasibility of installing distribution systems in interior communities. All of this data was placed in evidence before the Board of Transport Commissioners for Canada and the United States Federal Power Commission in support of Westcoast's pipeline applications.

Inland has contracted with Westcoast Transmission Company Limited to purchase substantial amounts of gas for the British Columbia Interior. Pacific Northwest Pipeline Corporation and B. C. Electric Company Limited have also contracted to purchase natural gas from Westcoast. These three contracts give Westcoast sufficient volume of sales to enable financing of a 30 inch pipeline from the Peace River district to the international border.

In beginning operations in Summerland, Inland Natural Gas officials would like to feel they have the full unqualified support of ALL the Ratepayers in the Municipality . . . It is sincerely hoped that Saturday, December 10, will see a record turnout of voters.

WI to Sponsor Variety Concert

On Wednesday, December 14th, at 8.00 p.m. in the High School Auditorium the Women's Institute will sponsor a concert which will help the work of Kelowna and district Society for Retarded Children. The school is operated by donations from the Kelowna Community Chest and contributions of money, labor, materials and time of many organizations and individuals in the valley. The organization and maintenance of the school is a very big project and all the help the society can get is most gratefully appreciated. Last year in Summerland various organizations made donations to the school. This year the W.I. is undertaking to raise funds by sponsoring a concert. All proceeds will go to the "Sunnyvale School".

The program to be presented will be entertaining and varied and should appeal to everyone. The Pentiction Male Choir, with Mrs. Mary Hendry as conductor, will present excerpts from their recent concert in Pentiction. A part of their singing will be Christmas music with Fred Schofield as soloist. This is their first appearance in Summerland.

An interesting item on the program will be Japanese dances by Dorothy and Sylvia Arase, done in national costume to Japanese music.

A group who recently made a great hit at the Family Night at the Youth Centre will present country music, singing and playing, hillbilly, western and folk music. This group consists of Jimmy Peter, Waldy Littau and Keith Sayer.

Also on the program will be Cuba Dunham School of Dancing. Mrs. Dunham, a fairly recent resident of Summerland taught dancing in Reno, Nevada for 14 years. The boys and girls in the local group will present colorful tap and novelty dance numbers. The 4-year old Tiny Tot Tappers will be a great attraction.

It is hoped that a good crowd will turn out to support this very worthy and important project and a good program is guaranteed to everyone.

School Hoopsters Win First Matches

First league basketball games were played last Friday night in Summerland. Kelowna Owls and Ouellettes being the visitors. Both games were well played and the spectators were kept on edge all the time.

In the first game the Summerland Rockettes came out on top of a 22-16 score. Ruby Gronlund being high scorer with 13 points. The Rockettes also were victorious, with a 69-31 score. Allan Birtles was high scorer with 25 points followed by Robert Parker with 12.

The two local teams will travel to Rutland for the second league game this Saturday.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 8, 1955

MORE ABOUT Arena

taxes and could cost more." It was pointed out to the speaker that there is no basis for comparing the operation of arenas since there are factors which influence the financial position of other arenas which do not exist in the operation of the one here. Reeve Atkinson also corrected his estimate of one mill on the tax rate, stating that it was estimated at three-quarters of a mill.

A further answer to Mr. Wells' statement was given by Mr. Wilson who pointed out that this is the only arena in British Columbia which has an assured annual income of $800 from a curling rink housed under the same roof.

Mr. Wells then asked if the municipality has any estimate on what is made off skating at the Pentiction arena and Mr. Wilson answered that the rink association does not expect to make money off admissions for skating. The main source of income, he said, will be from admissions to the amateur hockey games.

Mr. Wells questioned the ability of hockey game admissions to pay the way, estimating an income of $60 a game, five games a month which he said would bring in only $1,500 in a season and he estimated cost of power alone would be between $2,000 and $3,000. "Your estimate is way too high," said Reeve Atkinson, referring to the suggested power cost.

George Stoll punctured the estimate on income from hockey games when he said as much as $250 had been taken in at one game at the arena and many times the gate had netted over $200. Present standing and seating capacity, he said is 600. Skating during three weeks last year, he added brought in $700.

Mr. Wells then came up with a new estimate of $1,500 to $1,600 for power and explained he had arrived at this amount by working out the per square foot of ice cost to the curling club at 18 cents per square foot and applying this cost to the arena ice surface. Again he was high in his estimate. Mr. Stoll explained because it costs less to maintain skating ice than it does curling ice. He said that during cold periods that ice can be maintained without using the equipment and pointed out that this year the ice would have held almost since Nov. 1 without using the equipment at all.

Mrs. J. B. Liebert asked if the municipality has had any estimates from the rink association on what they expect it will cost to operate the arena. The reeve answered there have been estimates "... but that is the rink association's problem." Mr. Wilson added to this that it is the intention of the association to operate the rink with the employment of only one man, an engineer. The expenses will be very low, he said, and referring to Mr. Wells' estimates of power costs, pointed out that power bills at Kelowna and Pentiction are well below $2,000. George Stoll explained that cost of power to operate ice equipment in Summerland would be well below that of these other places because the rink here is at a higher altitude which, he said, makes freezing quicker and also because the aluminum roof reflects heat off the building.

Referring to suggestions that the association might try to finance a professional hockey team Mr. Stoll ridiculed the reports and referred to the clause in the agreement which prohibits the association from paying any hockey players.

Jack Morrow then asked about plans of the council for presenting a by-law this coming year to raise money for a school expansion program and Reeve Atkinson said that under consideration is a $78,000 program for a school at Trout Creek and additions at the high school to provide additional home economics room, music room, band storage room and four extra classrooms. Provincial government will pay 75 per cent of this amount, he said, with the municipal share being $21,750 plus the cost of the land at Trout Creek which will bring it to about $25,000. Said Mr. Morrow, "I think if we're spending $100,000 on the children that should be enough for one year."

Said Mr. Tait, "Working it out on a personal basis, the amount that is going to be paid out for the arena isn't going to make very much difference."

Pointing to another facet of community benefit from the arena, Reeve Atkinson said, "People take the kids to Pentiction arena and our own merchants lose out. The parents don't just sit outside the arena to wait for the kids to come out."

The reeve said the cost will work out to an average of $4.50 a year per ratepayer.

"How much is it on the mill rate?" asked Mr. Wells.

"Three-quarters of a mill," the reeve answered.

How much does that work out to on a 10-acre orchard?" Mr. Wells asked.

"Five dollars," replied the reeve.

"Just the price of taking your wife to Pentiction to a hockey game," Clare Elsey interjected.

In answer to a question about summer operation of the arena, T. W. Boothe was told the rink association would be free to rent it out for such purposes as horticultural displays, small circuses, fairs or other forms of entertainment or displays.

Mr. Wilson drew attention to another use to which the arena has been put during the past summer. At the entomological lab, he said, they have been unable to obtain certain information in testing sprayers because they could never be entirely free of air currents. This summer, he said, they have been using the arena for this purpose and have been very happy about having this building where they can make tests. In facilitating this testing alone, Mr. Wilson suggested, the arena could very well be instrumental in returning to growers more than it could ever cost them.

When Harvey Mitchell questioned there could be any value to growers from this source, entomological chief Dr. James Marshall, who was present at the meeting was asked for his comment. "We're satisfied," he said. Mr. Wells asked if the municipality had any figures on operation of rinks elsewhere by which comparisons could be made. Reeve Atkinson said these figures were available "... but they're very hard to compare."

"Can't you give them to this meeting?" Mr. Wells asked. The reeve explained and gave illustrations how different factors involved at other rinks did not present a picture which could fairly be compared with this rink. This, he said, works both ways that when comparison is made to the enthusiasm for skating that has been shown during the brief skating periods, there can be no guarantee that this enthusiasm would last over a five-month period. George Stoll said the rink association answer to this will be season tickets which will keep the enthusiasm alive since the holders will be wanting to get their full money's worth. In this group made up largely of people optimistic toward the future possibilities of the arena, George Stoll managed to sound the most optimistic note. Ken Blagborne questioned about the length of time necessary to make ice and then suggested the machinery could be shut down if business got poor. "Business over there is never going to get poor," stated George emphatically.

E. G. Gillespie pointed out there had been quite a bit of discussion about hockey, "I hope there will be time for the kids to skate top."

Reeve Atkinson pointed out the clause in the agreement which required the schedule be approved by the council to ensure a proper distribution of ice time, and Joe Sheeley asked, "If you look over the schedule of the last few seasons you will see there is no reason to fear that kids won't get a fair amount of skating time. They've been pretty well looked after."

Mr. Bennett asked about the possibility of the assessment for the rink being charged only against improvements to make what he believed would be a fairer distribution of the cost. The reeve answered that he would not favor such a plan because it could develop into a different method of financing for every by-law.

Just before the meeting closed, George Stoll said that the suggestion has already been received by the association that if the arena is taken over by the municipality that it should be named the Summerland Jubilee Arena to honor Summerland's 1956 jubilee year.

Clever Cooking . . .

Make the most of the fine assortment of fall vegetables now available. Good buys are abundant and they are a modern miracle. No other food offers such a selection of colors, shapes, textures, flavors, minerals and vitamins. To really make the most of these vegetables they should be eaten both raw and cooked. Cooked by themselves and cooked with other foods.

The crisp texture of vegetables, their bright colors and flavors both tangy and mild are at their best when eaten raw. For an attractive appetizer what could equal a colorful plate of little white clusters of cauliflower, strips of orange carrots, thin nippy cream colored turnip slices, tiny wedges of green cabbage and freshly curled celery or individual servings of pickled crimson beet slices and crisp white onion rings.

These freshly prepared vegetables can also be included in the school lunch box either as they are or added to the sandwich spreads. Shredded carrots, cabbage, turnip, celery and green pepper will give a crisp crunchiness and a new flavor to the sandwiches. The children are sure to like any of these vegetables in their cheese, peanut butter, egg and ground meat fillings.

On nippy autumn days freshly cooked piping hot vegetables should have a conspicuous spot beside the family's favorite meat. Here are a few suggestions for dressing up fall vegetables in simple family style.

Rutabaga, Canada's table turnip, may be mashed and sprinkled with grated cheese or sliced and baked with a sprinkling of brown sugar and dotted with butter. For a particularly attractive way to serve two vegetables in one scoop out the centre from cooked thick slices of turnip and fill with a vegetable of contrasting color.

To bring out their delightful nutty flavor, roll cooked cubes of parsnips in finely grated cheese and bake them in moderately hot oven until golden brown. For something different to serve with baked ham try glazing cooked parsnip sticks with a mixture of butter, brown sugar and dry mustard. They are delectable.

From the kitchens of the Consumer Section come also these ideas for serving several other fall vegetables. Cook shredded cabbage in a small amount of boiling tomato juice seasoned with sugar, salt and paprika. The chewy quality of cabbage is a welcome antidote for soft rich foods. Garnish a dish of steaming buttered beets with spoonfuls of fluffy, creamy white mayonnaise to give them extra flavor appeal. Chop freshly cooked carrots and beets and enhance this combination with a little butter and a few drops of vinegar or lemon juice. Panfry shredded carrots and onions together spicing them with curry powder. Its wonderful aroma will be sure to tease sharp fall appetites. If a sweet touch is desired glaze a panful of carrots in a mixture of honey and ginger.

Vegetables lend themselves especially well to oven cooking for they may be glazed, baked whole or stuffed, scalloped or combined with meat, eggs and other, such foods in tempting casseroles. For a special treat the Consumer Section recommends a scalloped dish of cauliflowerets smothered with a thick velvety cheese sauce and topped with green pepper or buttered bread crumbs.

A quick but hearty squash casserole is made from layers of squash, creamed chicken, chopped celery and green peppers, finished off with buttered crumbs. Vegetable marrow with a highly seasoned stuffing of bread crumbs, onion, parsley and chopped cooked meat is another luncheon or supper dish complete in itself. Any non-lovers of this vegetable is sure to be converted when the stuffed marrow is brought from the oven and served hot with red ripe tomato slices.

If cars are getting flashier, kitchens are keeping pace, as shown by the General Motors travelling exhibit. In the G.M. kitchen, the housewife presides over a multitude of buttons which cause shelves to slide out, makes ice cubes, flicks on the television set, turns on the telephone loudspeaker so that it is not necessary to hold a receiver and generally put her in the class of a captain navigating a ship.

'TIS TWO WEEKS 'TIL CHRISTMAS

(A Famous Poem by the Eminent Mr. I. Shop Early)

'Tis Two Weeks 'til Christmas
And all thru our store,
There are oodles of bargains
And gift buys galore!

The wise early shoppers
Are laughing out loud,
As they make their selections
Ahead of the crowd.

In no time at all
They finish their chore,
And spirits still high,
They sweep out the door!

'Twill be the week before Christmas
And oh what a din . . .
Every aisle filled with shoppers
And tempers worn thin.

Local Pucksters Capture Opener

Summerland's Okanagan intermediate hockey entry bolstered by several Penticton players, made its first appearance Sunday afternoon against Kamloops Millionaires and copped a 6-5 victory in the league opener.

Although the boys were suffering from some early-season jitters, the indications are for some high-class intermediate hockey at Summerland arena this winter if the arena by-law receives approval of ratepayers on Saturday.

Four members of the Vees helped fill the ranks of the locals on Sunday but the Summerland product of Billy Eyre and Alan Hooker managed to outshine them in the attacking department, although it was Bathgata who turned a hat trick for the scoring honors. Remaining scores were by Joe Mato, Hooker and Ed John. Kamloops tallies were by Jack Berry, Stuart, Dunphy and two for Jackson.

Scout Activities

There was a turnout of 30 boys at Tuesday's meeting. Almost 100 per cent in full uniform. The special this week was points for having rubber or composition soled shoes. Leather soled shoes, especially with nails in them, must not be worn on the Youth Centre floor. The special next week is garter tabs. These come with garters and may be purchased in the Scout catalogue for 35 cents.

The point score is very close with Beavers 365, Hawks 361, and Buffaloes 360. In two weeks time the winning patrol will receive a prize of an outdoor cooking rack.

At the meeting our District Scoutmaster Mr. G. W. Blewett assisted with the investiture of Bob Read and pointed out he was wearing the hat of the first Scoutmaster of 1st Summerland Troop. Good luck. Bob. Stan

Pair Ignore Warning; Receive $10 Fines

A pair of Summerland youths under the age of 18 received fines of $10 each in police court last Friday on charges of being in a pool room. Both had previously been warned.

Krause received his Carpenter's badge.

The feature of the meeting was colored slides shown by Mr. Blewett and Mr. Fisher of recent Scout camps. These included shots taken at Headwaters and Osprey Lake and at the Camporee at Sweef Creek, Washington. Mr. Blewett also showed pictures taken at the Gilwell Leaders Training course.

POOR ADVERTISING FOR B.C. APPLES

Some of the apples now being sold in Prince George food stores are not a credit to B.C.'s Okanagan Valley and can be expected to detract from the big advertising campaign now in progress to dispose of this year's crop.

We are not familiar with grading standards but have always been under the impression that small malformed and bruised apples were used for canned apple sauce and apple juice. Judging by the specimens on display here, that is not the case in British Columbia, although in eastern Canada years ago such culls and windfalls, if harvested at all were fed to the hogs or wound up in the cider press.

We can understand why the majority of the "extra fancy" grades of Okanagan apples should be reserved for the competitive overseas market. With the limited reopening of the United Kingdom market for Canadian apples in the past year and the development of strong international competition for a share of that market it has become necessary to ship only the better grades.

But Prince George apple buyers have good reason to suspect that Okanagan fruit packers and distributors have either established a standard below the minimum "C" grade or lowered the standards for that grade. Certainly the apples appearing on the market here as "C" grade cannot begin to measure up to the quality obtainable in former years.

B.C. tree fruit growers, confronted by a weak overseas market, are trying desperately to expand domestic sales. But it is evident this cannot be accomplished by flooding retail outlets with sub-standard apples.

Canadian consumers appreciate quality fruit just as much as their United Kingdom counterparts. — Prince George Citizen.

POWER POLICY

In recent days the newspapers of British Columbia have been loaded with proposals, objections, and counter-suggestions, relating to power policy for this province.

Since much of this contains the seeds of controversy, and evidence of political cross-purpose, the time seems opportune to restate the position of this newspaper on power policy.

The stand we have taken in recent years is based on three main principles:

1. Power potential has become British Columbia's greatest asset. It must be utilized as fully as possible for British Columbia development.
2. Many interests, private and public, will be directly affected by power development. There will be interests with no direct stake in primary power, and many more with a stake in secondary power uses.

Others may be adversely affected by too hasty development of power sites.

Policies adopted should recognize all interests involved, and work out fair and equitable means of serving all without favor.

3. Where single and multi-river developments are in the picture, the planning and administration should be turned over to a non-political board, with a mandate and the necessary powers to carry out a comprehensive development. Two large projects are to the fore at present — the Columbia-Fraser development scheme, and the Yukon Taku Naas development in northern British Columbia.

The possibilities of the Columbia-Fraser scheme have not yet been fully established. General A. G. L. McNaughton, Canadian chairman of the International Joint Commission, has claimed use of surplus water in this watershed for Canadian development could yield something on the order of 37 billion kilowatt-hours of electrical energy per annum.

This represents such a huge capital asset in British Columbia that any precipitate action taken to dispose of affected water rights before the main facts are known would be pure folly.

The Province, therefore, contends that no water rights either on the Columbia or Fraser should be alienated until the facts are properly established.

This is a principal reason why the new Moran dam proposal would seem to be temporarily out of court. Another reason, just as important, is that a single gigantic dam on the Fraser would spell the doom of fish interests dependent on that river system.

Nothing could be gained, and much lost by hasty action here. If a single large power development was the sole consideration, Mica Creek would be the logical place. It would provide equivalent power, without killing a large fishing industry.

The Santa Myth... time for a true evaluation

The following editorial appeared in The Review a year ago. It is reprinted at the request of a number of people who like the ideas expressed in it.

NEXT week we will celebrate the most important festival of the Christian year and we believe the time has come when we should reassess our values and bring back into proper perspective the festival which commemorates the birth of Our Saviour.

We have watched in recent years an acceleration of the deterioration of Christmas celebrations until now it has become only a day when children rush from the beds to see what was left them by a mythical white-whiskered man in a red suit and for adults a season of roistering and gluttony.

And in this way we commemorate the birth of Jesus Christ.

We believe that much of the fault lies in early training and in bringing children up in the belief that Santa Claus is the central figure in the Christmas story. This is a myth condemned by psychiatrists on psychiatric grounds; we condemn it on moral grounds. To a child, the spirit of Christmas is "Please, Santa, give me a train, give me skates, give me a bicycle, give me, give me, give me!" That there is a religious connotation to the day is a mere unimportant side issue to the main "give me" feature.

The true spirit of Christmas is giving — and in giving we honor Christ by emulating the virtue of unselfishness which he characterized through

Reason For Pride... augurs well for civic future

YOU KNOW, we are pretty proud of the fact that we are a part of the community of Summerland. Not that we haven't always been but the voting here on Saturday gives us occasion to again express our feelings.

The Saturday voting gives every resident of Summerland several reasons for pride. First because the number who exercised their right to cast a ballot. By-laws and plebiscites are noted for drawing a ridiculously small vote but with 59 per cent out on Saturday, the voting percentage here was much higher than in many communities where elections were being held.

Next we can be proud of the fact that there were 41 people in the community who supported their convictions against the natural gas by-law by voting "No", despite the fact that a vote overwhelmingly in favor was just about as sure as anything could be. We are glad to know that there are people in the community who will express an opinion against such odds instead of just not bothering to vote.

We are happy about the outcome of the arena by-law because we have favored the proposal from the beginning and we are proud to live in a community of people who recognize that adequate recreational facilities are an integral part of living. We believe that the rink with artificial ice will be a great asset to the community and with it, coupled with what we already have here, we can boast that there are a few communities of twice the size as well equipped as Summerland.

Mid-Week Message

Give, and it shall be given unto you. (Luke 6:38.) Read Luke 6:35-38.

Elijah found the widow of Zarephath preparing to cook the last food she had in the house. Starvation then would be a matter of time. But at Elijah's request the widow emptied the meal barrel and made him a cake. As she took from the barrel, God put back in. "And the barrel of meal wasted not."

The widow gave to others, and God gave back to her. This one gift, her best and last, meant the difference between life and death. The Kingdom of God was served; a hungry prophet was fed; and her household was assured food for the duration of the drought. This was giving until it helped.

Many of us have empty barrels today, and spiritual starvation is a matter of time because we stop giving when it begins to hurt. The less we give, the more it hurts. We keep the best and the last for ourselves.

"Give and it shall be given unto you; good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over."

PRAYER

Our Father, forgive us for practicing selfishness. Enlarge our hearts to love Thee more. Teach us that as we spend our lives and substance in Thy service, Thou wilt supply our every need, in the name of Christ, Amen.

out his life. How can children ever learn the spirit of giving in a "Santa-Claus" Christmas?

The true story of Christmas — of a babe, born in the stable of a crowded inn, who rose to be King of Men — is the tenderest, most compelling and most thought-provoking conceivable yet we have traded it for a shoddy fantasy of a fat little man from the North Pole who climbs down chimneys to distribute largesse to children. And we go on telling children this story knowing full well that they will one day discover they have been led up the garden path — and discovery will come at an age when it is most important that they have implicit faith in what they are told by their parents. It's no wonder psychiatrists condemn it.

If the children are taught that at Christmas they give presents to those whom they love to commemorate the acts of the Three Wise Men who brought to a manger in Bethlehem gifts for One whom they loved then they are learning a true evaluation of Christmas and at the same time a lesson in citizenship.

We find nothing wrong with the exchange of gifts at Christmas because it commemorates a part of the story of The Birth nor do we advocate outlawing the Santa myth — but let us keep it as a myth. Kids get just as big a kick out of pretense even when they know that is all it is and Christmas will cease to be a big build-up for a colossal disillusionment.

Let us make the celebration of Christmas the kind of festival He would want it to be.

In This Corner

By Lewis Milligan.

Curiosity is a powerful incentive in attractivity that attracted me to attend one of Billy Graham's mass meetings in Toronto. A crowd always attracts a crowd, but it was not the crowd that I went to see, for I dislike crowds and would go armed in a mass of people I seem to lose my personal identity and am seized with a feeling of panic to escape and recover my individuality. That may be a form of egotism, but I can't help it.

Billy Graham is a modern John the Baptist and he has all the earmarks of that first evangelist, except that he is "clothed in soft raiment," and not in goat-skins, and does not make his abode in the desert. His habitat is great cities and he courts and delights in big crowds; but he is not of the crowd. He stands apart and sways the multitude with the old message of John the Baptist. "Repent ye, for the Kingdom of Heaven is at hand." To him, great modern cities are moral and spiritual wildernesses and his is a voice crying, "Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight."

Referring to John the Baptist, Jesus said to the crowd, "What went ye out for to see, a reed shaken by the wind? Graham is as straight as a reed, but he stands unshaken by any blast of criticism or cyclone of popularity. As I listened in his power over that vast audience lay. The more to him, perhaps too critically, I wondered wherefore of those people were regular church-goers who were familiar with the old gospel that was being preached. But familiarity had bred indifference, and the fiery earnestness and urgency of this young and typical American shook them out of their spiritual lethargy and the old message became so startlingly new to many that they hit the trail to repentance and surrender.

It is easy to dismiss these mass evangelical revivals as "old stuff." They began with the Day of the Pentecost when it was said the early Christians were all with one accord in one place and a mighty rushing wind filled the house where they were sitting, and that tongues like fire sat on each of them. They began to speak with other tongues." Whether that should be taken literally or not, it was symbolically true. A mighty wind swept away all the doubts and fears of those first Christians and they went through the Roman Empire with tongues of fire and spoke in a language the people could understand.

Periodic revivals have occurred down through the years, and each of them originated with one man who was suddenly stricken, like Saul of Tarsus, and illuminated with a heavenly vision. John Wesley, an Anglican parish priest, suddenly felt his heart "strangely warmed" at a Moravian meeting in Holland, and the warmth burst into a flame which spread through the hearts of the common people of Britain. He forsook the parish and preached to the miners at pitheads, to the factory workers, to the stoves at the dock gates, to the farmers in their fields, and rode on horse-back through the British Isles preaching and organizing his converts into a band of lay evangelists. Many of them were rough characters and village sinners by reputation; they spoke in the crude dialects of their fellow workers. Wesley told them they were not underdogs but immortal souls that needed to be saved.

The world today is vastly different from that of Wesley's or even of Moody's, but humanity is fundamentally the same, and there is no other gospel whereby man can be saved spiritually and socially than that of Jesus the Christ. Billy Graham is a typical man of today. Unlike Wesley, he does not have to go on horse-back, but flies by plane and applies modern methods of publicity and organization to the promotion of religion. He is thus a modern Methodist, and if he can by modern methods stir up and awaken the souls of men today as his great predecessor did in his day, we should be thankful.

Dr. T. H. Anstey Describes Work

The recent developments at the farm outlined by Dr. T. H. Anstey, Summerland Experimental Farm superintendent, to members of Penticton Rotary Club this week and he told among other things that the atomic age has now come to the Summerland station and neutron radiation is now being used in an attempt to break up the chromosome linkage and speed up the permutation rate.

This farm, he said, is the only one in Canada breeding apricots and one of only three on the continent engaged in this effort. The program here, said Dr. Anstey is the largest and the most important work is to develop a strain which combines hardness with canning qualities.

In research on cherry breeding, he said, the goal is to find a cherry of good quality that will resist cracking. Last year, he went on, a white cherry was released which is immune to cracking but their is unfortunately no commercial value here in a white cherry. This particular strain, he said, can be immersed in water 24 hours without cracking.

In apple breeding, the features sought are lateness and hardness. One of the most important efforts at the Summerland farm, said Dr. Anstey, is the attempt to establish virus free nursery stock and when this is accomplished, nurseries will be supplied with budwood free or at a very low cost.

Since the trip to Europe by Dr. D. V. Fisher, the superintendent, said, the development of dwarf and semi dwarf stocks has received new impetus and a lot of new knowledge he obtained on that tour will greatly assist the program here.

There have been, he said, two important developments in fruit processing this summer. One, he said, is a machine which will extract apple juice from the fruit by suction rather than by the old press method and this will be a great boon to the processing industry. The other, he said, was the discovery of a method of lye peeling of freestone peaches. In the past, he said, this method has worked on clingstones only but now it has been developed for use with freestones. This will greatly speed up work at canneries.

The Bare Facts

Santa Claus is my name, ma'am. I just want to ask you a few questions, just to get the facts ma'am.

What have I done?

Nothing, ma'am. Just answer a few questions for us ma'am.

But I am in a hurry. What are you up to?

Just give us the facts, ma'am. Where were you the afternoon of December 12, 1955?

I was at Roy's Men's Wear looking over the many wonderful Christmas items on display there.

You were last seen leaving that store at 4:07 that afternoon carrying a number of packages. Is that right, ma'am? All I want are the facts.

Of course I was. I did just what I do every Christmas season — I bought all the gifts for the men and boys in our family.

Just why do you insist on Roy's for your Christmas buying, ma'am? Remember just the facts, ma'am.

I like the wide selection of clothing and accessories for men and boys made by nationally-known manufacturers. And the prices there just fit my gift budget.

Would you put this confession in writing, ma'am?

I certainly would. I've bought all the clothes for my men folks and boys at Roy's and have advised my daughters and daughters-in-law to do the same. And the family have always been more than pleased.

Do you have anything to add to this, ma'am.

Nothing except that I especially like Roy's because of all the brand name products and in addition because Roy's always stand behind the merchandise they sell.

Mental Health

 on mental illness, but much of it is misleading. The proper place to find out whether or not the information is correct is from a mentally ill. Mr. Ward pointed out that at least 70 per cent of those entering mental hospitals, doctor, health nurse, or social service worker. One common misconception is that once a person is mentally ill, he will always be are cured and return to normal life again.

The Canadian Mental Health Association, Mr. Ward explained, was formed in 1918 in Toronto. The B.C. branch was formed in 1953. It is not sponsored by the B.C. College of Physicians and Surgeons but many doctors assist in the work and act as officers or council members. Its purpose is partly educational, partly to provide help in various ways. At Cresta Clinic there are 100 volunteers assisting in visiting, giving occupational courses, and in various other ways. A full-time service is given in marriage counselling.

Mr. Patterson dealt with home problems and how they can lead to mental illness. Like Mr. Ward, he stressed that parents should get their information from proper sources. Families are not self-contained units as much as they used to be, and stresses and strains readily develop under the pace of today's living. He stressed the importance of affection, understanding, recognition of talents, self-expression and encouragement in handling children in the home, and warned against the use of fear, ridicule or sarcasm in handling them. The home is the core of our existence, and sets the stage for the future lives of our children.

Mr. Billyhead dealt with the school environment. Competitive and other influences at school make it very hard for some children, especially those who are more sensitive. Teachers face many difficulties and are doing a fine job of handling them. He felt, however, that there should be a specially trained man in each area to assist teachers with mental health problems of pupils. He also felt that parents and teachers should get together frequently to discuss such problems. It was pointed out that a child-guidance clinic comes to the Okanagan about twice a year. worker or public health nurse.

The speakers were thanked on behalf of the AOTS and on behalf of those present by Dr. J. C. Wilcox, chairman of the meeting.

Clever Cooking . . .

For top favorites on cold fall days look to the family's favorite pork cuts. Pork is full flavored and tender but like other fresh foods it is wise to check pork for quality when buying it. It is sensible, too, to know the pork cuts by name and how to cook them to obtain the maximum number of servings.

The home economists of the consumer section, Canada Department of Agriculture advise the shopper to look for pork that is firm, fine-grained lean that is greyish pink in color. High quality pork has a uniform covering of firm, snowy white fat with tiny flecks of fat well distributed throughout the lean. The bones which are porous should be pinkish red in color.

Pork, like other fresh meat should be stored with care. A roast brought in a cellophane wrapper should have the wrapper home. The roast should be wiped removed as soon as it is brought well with a damp cloth, rewrap again loosely in waxed paper and refrigerator. It is not wise to stored in the coldest part of the keep a roast of fresh pork for more than two or three days after cooking it. If it is to be kept for a longer time, it is best to freeze it.

The secret of cooking pork well, regardless of the cut, lies in cooking it slowly for a long enough time so that the meat will be well done right to the centre. During this long, slow cooking the rich pork flavor and juiciness is fully developed with a minimum of shrinkage and the outside becomes an attractive golden brown color.

cooked to the well-done stage. Fresh pork should always be with no tinge of pink remaining even in the centre. There is no question of rare, medium and well done meat when it comes to pork. Since it must be thoroughly thermometer and roast the pork cooked, it is well to use a meat in a moderately slow 325 oven to an internal temperature of 185. It will take at least 40 to 45 minutes a pound for a pork roast to reach this temperature.

Like fruits and vegetables different kinds of meat are better buys at certain times of the year than they are at others. Right now pork is one of our best buys. It can be bought fresh or cured that it is an easy matter for the and there is such a choice of cuts shopper to find just one she wants.

For family meals a popular buy is a cut from the pork shoulder, either a "fresh picnic" or a fresh "Boston Butt". These shoulder roasts have a fair amount of make the carving easier and to make a pocket for stuffing.

Other very good roasts are those from the leg or the fresh ham as it is sometimes called. This large cut is divided into two parts, the shank and the butt. One or two slices are sometimes cut off the shank end and cooked as fresh ham steaks.

The loin may be divided into three sections: the ham end, the centre and the rib end, and sold as roasts. However, they are more often cut into rib and loin chops, with the many cuts of pork. the

For those who are not familiar Consumer Section of the Canada Department of Agriculture has an excellent pork chart which shows to the Information Service, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Because pork is such a rich meat, many people enjoy something tart with it. Apples seem to team naturally with pork. Applesauce or spiced pickled crabapples goes well with roast pork complement pork chops perfectly in pork tenderloin. Apple rings and apple stuffing is delicious and are extremely good with broiled sausage.

A sweet flavor is often associated with pork — particularly with either brown sugar, applesauce or spiced pickled crabapples. For this added sweet jelly, honey or maple syrup may be used. A baked ham slice glazed with apple jelly or maple syrup is a taste-tempting treat. Sometimes the tart and the sweet are combined as in the sweet and sour sauce in which spareribs are cooked.

The rich flavor of pork blends, chops for example, are very good well with many other foods. Pork baked and served with hot sauerkraut or basted several times while cooking with a tangy barbecue sauce. Baked beans and pork chops make another good combination.

Calgary Rites For Local Man

Wedding vows and rings were exchanged at the Prophetic Bible Institute in Calgary, Alta., when Miss Jean Lillian Mill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Mill became the bride of Mr. Morris Henry Bolton, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bolton of Summerland. Rev. Thomas Jones performed the evening ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She chose a floor length white lace gown. Her floor length veil misted from a jewelled coronet, and she carried a cascading bouquet of pink roses and white mums. She wore a single strand of pearls.

Mrs. Elsie McTavish was the bride’s attendant. She was attired in a floor length gown of royal blue net and matching headdress. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Mr. William Mill was best man. The guests were ushered by Mr. Gerald Armstrong and Mr. Fred McColl.

The soloist, Mr. Victor Harbridge, sang “O Perfect Love”, and during the signing of the register, sang “Because.”

The organist was Mrs. Thoma Jones.

A reception was held at the York Hotel where the bride’s toast was proposed by Mr. Lewis Johnson.

The couple left on a honeymoon trip to the Lake Okanagan resort. Mr. and Mrs. Bolton will reside at Summerland.

Damaged Trees

Live cambium to enable flower buds to develop normally. There does not seem to be much damage to trunks of pear trees.
Early apples up to and including Wealthy are reported to be in good condition with prospects of a normal crop. McIntosh shows some injury to fruit spurs which in colder areas might reduce next year's crop. On the other hand, later varieties of apples do not present as favorable a picture. Frost damage to trunks is not common, but damage to new shoot growth, fruit spurs and spur bases is extensive, although varying considerably between orchards. The recovery of injured fruit spurs will depend upon further winter temperatures and a gradual spring warm-up.

Small Fruits
Very severe injury to strawberries has resulted from the freeze. Damage to raspberries has not been fully determined. Little injury to currants or gooseberries is evident. The canes and trunks of grape vines appear to be unharmed. However, most of the buds are discolored which might indicate a reduction in crop.

To summarize, a normal or near-normal crop of apricots, peaches and pears is in sight, but the industry must expect that at least some orchards will yield a reduced tonnage of sweet cherries, prunes and late apples. It is impossible at the present time to estimate the extent of this reduction.

Handling Injured Trees
This brings the discussion to the point of how injured trees should be handled this winter and in the coming season. Pruning

Excellent Response Reported for M of D

The recent Tag Day for the March of Dimes netted $94.56 for the Crippled Children's Hospital. The High C group of young people from the United Church did the tagging which came to about $10.00 more than any previous tag day.
The pupils of Macdonald School made a fine contribution of $53.05 to the March of Dimes fund recently by taking their donations to school. This amount is also collections at the school.
The AOTS Club is sponsoring the March of Dimes campaign in Summerland.

Entertains Friends On Seventh Birthday

On Monday, December 12, Mrs. A. McIntosh had a birthday party for her daughter Sharron on her seventh birthday. To help celebrate the occasion a group of friends were present. Games were played and delicious refreshments were served. Those present included Marcia Wilkin, Diewie Wouters, Janice Beggs, Betty McGinnes, Wendy Kaatz and Susan Wilson.

CUB CALLS

The leaders wish to thank the fathers who came to the meeting and helped pass tests. We were all pleased with the results. Also thanks to Mr. Gordon Blewett who showed us colored slides of Scout activities.

Our annual Family Christmas Party will be held in the Youth Centre, Sunday at 2 p.m. All Cubs to be in full uniform — short pants included. Cubs please bring 12 cookies and your parcel.

methods for frost injured trees are a matter of controversy but the opinion of the committee is that damaged trees should be pruned as little as possible. With such trees, pruning should be limited to removal of suckers and definitely unwanted branches.

Dehorning of cherry trees might be considered in exceptional cases, and after consultation with the District Horticulturist. With trees showing little or no damage, such as apricots and peaches, pruning should be carried on the same as usual, but delaying it as late as possible to allow reappraisal of injury. Root injury to fruit trees particularly in light or dry soils, may have occurred but cannot yet be determined.

In order to assist in tree recovery it is considered that normal fertilizer applications should be carried out. Growers are also cautioned to select carefully scion wood for grafting purposes since wood which shows damage is not likely to give satisfactory take. It may be necessary in some cases for a grower to go beyond his own orchard or even district to obtain satisfactory grafting wood.

This represents only a preliminary report on the extent of frost damage, and experimental work now in progress and results of further field surveys may make it necessary to revise recommendations to growers.

The Hi Life

Hi Folks. How did you like the band concert? The band hasn't stepped down from the limelight yet though. On Wednesday of this week all 91 members went to Westbank to play some of the numbers you heard last Friday and Saturday. There will be a hot-dog sale sponsored by the band on Thursday. Prices — 2 for 25c or 15c each.

Sportswise, Summerland went to Rutland on Saturday afternoon. The senior girls were defeated 14-16, the junior girls lost 15-27, and the boys won 65-36.

The Senior High School Dance will be held this Friday night so all that can be heard in the female section of the school is, "Are you going?" Who with? "What are you gonna wear?" It sounds as if it is going to be a lot of fun so let's see everyone there.

The school is quickly taking on a red and white and green maze as different classes prepare for their own private celebrations on the last day of school.

An event in the school this week that thrilled the seniors and the juniors was the appearance of a sparkling diamond, third finger, left hand, on one of the teachers. I'm sure the whole school joins me in wishing them the best of joy for the future.

Well, that's all for now. See you in 1956. Happy Christmas to everybody!

Whatever the reason, a Bank of Montreal Money Order is the safe sure way to get your money to its destination without delay and without cost to the recipient.

B of M Money Orders can be purchased for sums up to one hundred dollars. For larger sums, a B of M draft is the best answer. And, if you are in a real hurry to get your funds despatched, the B of M's special telegraphic and cable transfer system can be used.

So next time you want to forward money — anywhere in the world — see the West Summerland branch of the Bank of Montreal. Have a word with Charles Guernsey, the accountant. He will be pleased to show you how money can be transferred this easy, low-cost way. And ask to see the Bank's special gift cards. Christmas envelopes and Christmas cheques. They are free!

Community in Gay Holiday Spirit To Greet Great Festive Occasion

Sands of Christmas shopping time are rapidly running out but with four big days still ahead, indications are that Summerland Christmas stockings will bulge as they never have before.

Christmas parties by churches and various organizations in the district have helped generate the Christmas spirit and the weatherman has given an almost unquestionable guarantee that the present snow clad landscape will remain that way to fulfill dreams of a white Christmas.

To aid shoppers, usual Wednesday closing will not apply this week and stores will remain open until 8 o'clock. Friday night, the stores will remain open until 9 o'clock but clerks will get some time for last minute preparations on Saturday with stores closing at 8 p.m.

Saturday afternoon has been set aside for the entertainment of small fry. Two free shows have been arranged by Retail Merchants Association - the first at 1 and the second at 3. Film being shown is "You're Never Too Young", featuring the comedy team of Martin and Lewis.

Timed to fit in with show times Santa Claus will swoop down from his North Pole retreat and arrive downtown opposite Hill & Co. garage at 2 o'clock. After greeting youngsters in that district and distributing bags of candy, he will head for West Summerland and a repeat performance opposite the post office at 2:30.

Seven-year-old David Andley flashes a sample of the grin that will be seen on the faces of all boys and girls Sunday morning as they gaze on the Christmas bounty of toys which will grace this year's Christmas trees. Merchants say interest is toward realism in toy cars, trucks, tractors and the like and manufacturers are answering the demand with models that practically duplicate in miniature the original.

Court Reserves Decision On Orchard Work Claim

Judgement in this court action brought by James Graves of Summerland against the Cordy-Ouddleston estate for $7,650 was reserved Friday by Chief Justice Sherwood Lett after a two-day hearing.

The plaintiff claimed in his action that the amount is due him because he was promised by Mr. Huddleston a share in certain full wages during the nine years he worked on the orchard. The plaintiff offered no documentary proof to substantiate this claim but former Summerland resident F. B. Bedford came here from California to testify on his behalf. The action is contested by Okanagan Trust, administrators of the estate and representing the defence is John S. Aikins. Gordon Hancock is acting for the plaintiff.

The defence has attempted to establish the wages paid Graves during the nine years he worked there represented a fair wage for his work and has produced witnesses to establish the wage level and also to give evidence as to orchard returns during that period.

On leaving, each guest was presented with a basket of Christmas candy.

Rebekahs Entertain Pensioners at Banquet

About 70 members of Summerland Old Age Pensioners Association were present for a banquet last Thursday evening at the IOOF Hall when they were guests of members of Faith Rebekah Lodge.

Guest speaker was Reeve F. E. Atkinson and following the dinner a film was presented showing the coronation and a sing-song of Christmas carols was enjoyed.

The visit of Santa is being sponsored by the Board of Trade and treat tickets have already been distributed to the youngsters at MacDonald School. Tickets for pre-schoolers may be obtained at Hill & Co. or Road & Pruden.

Merchants throughout the district report higher Christmas sales and indications are that much of the increase comes from the fact that residents are becoming increasingly aware that values and selections are as good and better in Summerland than in the nearby larger centers and more and more are doing their shopping in their home community.

Christmas parties and concerts have been held throughout last week by churches and various organizations of the district. Most of the women's organizations have held their final meetings of the year with them taking the form of Christmas parties.

Mrs. Ellen Welsh Passes Suddenly

Victim of a fatal seizure shortly after she returned home from prayer meeting Thursday night was Mrs. Ellen P. Welsh who has been an active member of the community for the past 35 years. Mrs. Welsh was 70 years of age and her sudden passing came as a distinct shock to the wide circle of friends in which her influence was felt.

She was born at Faversham, in Kent County, England, and lived with her husband in Scotland before moving to Summerland in the spring of 1920. Her husband, W. H. F. Welsh, predeceased her in 1951.

After coming to Summerland, they lived on the front bench and Mrs. Welsh moved to her home in Trout Creek, where she died, only this summer.

The principle interest in Mrs. Welsh's life was her church and she was an indefatigable worker in the interest of St. Andrew's church and its organizations. She taught a Sunday School class and was a long time member of the Women's Missionary Society of that church and for many years a member of the executive. During the war she served as an elder of St. Andrew's church. She was also an active wartime Red Cross worker.

Surviving her are one son, Maurice of the Experimental Farm staff, two grandchildren, and a sister, Mrs. E. Fairless of Pentiction.

Funeral service will be held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon from St. Andrew's United Church with Rev. C. O. Richmond officiating. Interment is to be held in the Anglican cemetery.

Roselawn Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Legion Funeral For T. Hermon

After a lingering illness which has kept him a hospital patient for the past two years, Theophilus Hermon passed away on Friday Dec. 16 at Shaughnessy Hospital in Vancouver.

Members of Summerland Branch of Canadian Legion will parade for the funeral tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at St. Stephen's Anglican Church at which Rev. A. A. T. Northrup will officiate.

Mr. Hermon came to Summerland in 1919 after his discharge from the army following the first world war and established a tailoring business here. He continued to be active in the business right up to the time he entered hospital two years ago. He was in his 88th year at the time of his death.

He was born at Bridlington, Yorkshire and served his apprenticeship at tailoring before coming to this country. He worked as a tailor in Vancouver before his enlistment.

During the first war he spent a year and nine months as a prisoner of war.

He was an active member of the Legion for more than a quarter century and received the 25-year membership pin just shortly before he left here to enter Shaughnessy hospital. He was a member of the choir of St. Stephen's Anglican church.

Mr. Hermon lived alone and was keenly interested in gardening and took particular interest in his roses.

Only known relative is a sister living in England.

Burial is to be in the Anglican cemetery in West Summerland.

Final arrangements under the direction of Roselawn Funeral Home.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM
A program "Joseph and The Nativity" will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Christmas Day in the Trout Creek Community Church of God. The program will be under direction of the choir and will consist of narrative, songs and film strip.

Merchants Voice Protest Over Jubilee Spending

Following appearance of Summerland's Jubilee souvenir spoon on sale last week, sharp criticism has been levelled at the committee by local merchants and other groups because all money spent on the production of the souvenir went out of town.

Order for 1,000 Jubilee spoons was placed with a Pentiction jeweler and Summerland jeweler W. Milne was not asked for a quotation on the order. The brochure about Summerland included with the spoon and the Summerland Jubilee sticker on the outside of the box were not printed in Summerland nor was a local quotation on the job obtained.

Frank McDonald, president of Summerland Retail Merchants Association termed the jubilee committee action "incredible". Said Mr. McDonald, "One of the main points we want to emphasize in this jubilee celebration is the progress which has been made in the community in the past 50 years. It doesn't look as though we have progressed very far when we spend our money in Pentiction to get a souvenir designed to represent Summerland."

"Summerland merchants are paying taxes for the privilege of doing business in Summerland and there will be municipal funds used to help finance the jubilee celebration and any money spent should be kept right here in Summerland."

Mr. McDonald added, "The local merchants have done everything possible to try and encourage local residents to shop in their own community and offer a good selection of merchandise at comparable prices but it certainly defeats our efforts when public money is spent out of the community for something that can be supplied just as well right here."

Chairman of the jubilee committee, H. E. J. Richards, when questioned stated each sub-committee has a job to do and it is not the intention of the main committee to interfere with the way in which it is done nor to lay down a set of rules for them to follow.

Chairman of the committee which obtained the souvenir spoon is Mrs. Gordon Ritchie and members are Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh and Mrs. H. Whitaker. Mrs. Ritchie said she does not wish to make any statement on the criticism without first meeting with her committee and said a statement would be forthcoming as soon as the committee can get together.

IN HOSPITAL

Friends will regret to learn that Al Robertson is a patient in the Summerland General Hospital.

Last Rites Today For Oliver Smith

A resident of this district for nearly 50 years, Oliver Smith of Trout Creek passed away Friday December 16 in the Pentiction General Hospital. He was 77 years of age.

Mr. Smith was born in the Shetland Islands and came to this district shortly after he moved to Canada. He was a carpenter in his active years.

He is survived by his wife, Jeanie, one nephew and several nieces living in the Shetland Islands.

Funeral service was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Trout Creek Church of God with Rev. A. F. Irving officiating.

Pentiction Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

SEASONAL NOTE

March comes in, according to legend, with some regard for consistency even if it does not maintain this to the going out. But December — who knows how it will come in?

To most of us December sooner or later is synonymous with snow, whiteness, sloshing about, putting chains on the car tires, and — before it's all over — too many miles of department store aisles.

Yet we have seen lawn furniture still looking inviting on a Christmas morning. And now a letter from England reminds us that December brings fog as surely as snow over dubious London town, and sometimes far out into the thus-enchanted countryside.

"The last few days here in the country have been something out of this world. The fog which has been black and depressing in London has been fresh, cozy, private, and thoroughly "escapist." One evening the fog had closed in about the cottage. The street lamp a tiny blur no more. The cottages over the fence an indistinguishable mass. But above, high in the sky, the moon shone palely on the garden. It was a tiny island created for me alone."

We do not often hear praise for English fog, because most of the comment comes from city folk who find themselves marooned at who were in Chelsea, or groping Hyde Park Corner when they wish their way at Marble Arch for the bus stop for "Elephant and Castle."

But as December snow seems less of a threat to the American city dweller than to the suburbanite or country commuter, so December fog in England comes at times like a beneficence on suburb and countryside. It's nice to be reminded that December has its good sides — even some unexpected ones. — Christian Science Monitor.

MORE INSURANCE

Canadians bought $298.5 millions in new life insurance during July, an increase of 18.7% over comparable 1954 total of $251.5 millions, reports The Financial Post. All provinces except Alberta and British Columbia shared in the increase.

Sales of ordinary life insurance totalled $205.3 millions ($194.1 millions in July, 1954), industrial policies $12.1 ($11.1) millions, and group contracts $81.1 ($37.4) millions. — Merritt Herald.

IF STUDENTS CAN DRIVE

From time to time some outraged citizen becomes incensed at the bad behavior of school children on the roads. They are apt, then, to blame the schools but it is not the function of the schools to see that lessons given in the schools are put into practice on the roads.

Every effort is made to teach safety to the children and to safeguard them on the streets. There are recognized school crossings, and school patrols are on duty to ensure safety, but far too frequently six-year-old children and others once out of sight of school walk and play on the streets. Many teachers report that they believe that over-supervision is robbing children of their sense of responsibility and fostering the belief among children that it is the motorist's duty alone to be responsible for their safety. Even among small children there is something like a belief that cars must await their pleasure. One six-year-old stood defiantly in the middle of the road until a car was nearly on top of her, and many motorists complain that pupils of high school age walk three or four abreast and refuse to yield right of way to cars.

We are all too apt to excuse such conduct, on the grounds that children will be children. By this attitude we encourage them to remain children. It is time we took a realistic attitude. These children are imposing on us. They have much more sense than their behavior would suggest. The youngster of sixteen thinks that he is quite capable of driving a car, and if this is so, long before that age he should have learnt that it is not right to walk three or four abreast on the road.

Police action should not be necessary to enforce something which can best be taught in the home. What we need is not more action by the police or schools, who have more important things to do, but more action by the parents. It takes very little time to insist that your child keep off the road and walk on the sidewalk, and bad manners on the part of the child should not be tolerated by any parent. — Nelson Daily News.

Christmas Story . . . in a manger, our king of kings

LUKE 2: 1-14 — And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed. (And this taxing was first made when Cyrenus was Governor of Syria.)

And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city.

And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem (because he was of the house and lineage of David).

To be taxed with Mary, his espoused wife, being great with child.

And so it was that, while they were there the days were accomplished that she should be delivered.

And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

And there was in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

And lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were sore afraid.

And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

And this shall be the sign unto you: Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host, praising God, and saying, Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said to one another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord has made known unto us.

And they came with haste, and found Mary and Joseph and the babe, lying in a manger.

MATTHEW 2, 1:14 — Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of Herod the King behold, there came wise men from the east to Jerusalem.

Saying, Where is he that is born King of the Jews? For we have seen his star in the east, and are come to worship him.

When Herod the King had heard these things, he was troubled and all Jerusalem with him.

And when he had gathered all the chief priests and scribes of the people together, he demanded of them where Christ should be born.

And they said unto him, In Bethlehem of Judea: for thus it is written by the prophet.

And thou Bethlehem, in the land of Judea, art not the least among the princes of Judea; for out of thee shall come a Governor that shall rule my people Israel.

Then Herod, when he had privily called the wise men, inquired of them diligently what time the star appeared.

And he sent them to Bethlehem and said, Go and search diligently for the young child; and when ye have found him bring me word again that I may go and worship him also.

When they heard the king, they departed: and lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was.

When they saw the star they rejoiced with exceeding great joy.

And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary his mother, and fell down and worshipped him; and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto him gifts; gold, frankincense and myrrh.

And being warned of God in a dream that they should not return to Herod, they departed into their own country another way.

And when they departed, behold the angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph in a dream, saying, Arise and take the young child and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be thou there until I bring thee word: for Herod will seek the young child to destroy him.

When he arose he took the young child and his mother by night and departed into Egypt.

Mid-Week Message

Then Peter said, Silver and gold have I none; but such as I have give thee: In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth rise up and walk. (Acts 3:6.) Read Acts 3:18.

India's poet Tagore tells of a beggar who one day saw his king's chariot approaching. He stood with hand outstretched to ask alms. The chariot stopped. The king stepped down and walked toward the beggar; the king's hand was outstretched, not to give but to receive! The beggar, amazed, let the grain in his pouch pass through his fingers until a single grain remained. This he gave to his king.

At eventide, before the fire, the beggar emptied the graffs to make his evening meal. The last grain from his pouch was heavy — it was a single grain of gold! "Would that I had given the king all my grain," bemoaned the beggar, "for then all my grain would have become grains of gold."

We need not be beggars asking alms of God. Better it is for us to be more concerned to ask what God wills than to beg Him for what we want. We become enriched by what we give to God; for that becomes the gold of helpfulness for others, enduring wealth for ourselves.

PRAYER

Teach us, O Lord, that we but lose that which we selfishly spend on ourselves. Help us to gather the eternal riches by surrendering ourselves and our possessions to Thee. Use us and them for our Master's sake. Amen.

The Lighter Side

They had just re-elected the stout man president of the Club for the fifth time, and a fellow member was announcing the results.

"There is a charming fairy tale that when a baby is born its guardian angel bestows a kiss. If the kiss is on the brow, the child will be very brainy, if on the eyes, very beautiful, if on the hands, very artistic — and so on."

"Now I cannot say where the angel kissed our president, but I do know that he makes a wonderful chairman."

It is said that some women preserve their complexions by covering their faces with wax on retiring. Oily to bed and oily to rise.

Women are wiser than men because they know less and understand more.

Two ministers of different faiths were the best of friends although they often disagreed on religious questions. One day they had been arguing, a little more heatedly than usual, on some theological point, when one of them said, "That's all right, we'll just agree to disagree. The thing that counts is that we're both doing the Lord's work, you in your way and I in His."

Bill: "Did you get my check?"
Bob: "Twice."
Bill: "How come?"
Bob: "Once from you, and once from the bank!"

COLORFUL CHRISTMAS

Christmas is a colorful season; it comes at a time when the world, or our part of it, has lost all its natural colors and is blanketed with a pall of snow. The variety of colored lights with which the main streets are festooned and the shop windows are decorated transform the hard and drab realities of the city into a fairytale. The sight of an illuminated Christmas Tree laden with colorful gifts, transported Charles Dickens into the bright Arabian Nights, and he exclaimed: "Oh, now all common things become uncommon. All lamps are wonderful; all rings are talismans. Common flower-pots are full of treasure. Trees are for All Baba to hide in." The star at the top of the tree reminds him of the Star of Bethlehem, he is with shepherds listening to the angels' song and following the star-led Wise Men to the lowly manger where they offer rich gifts to the new-born Savior of the World.

Yes, it is all make-believe, but we need more than ever something to make us believe, to be reminded that there is a spiritual and eternal world in and beyond this brief mundane life of ours. There is an enchantment about Christmas which has the power to vividly recall the past, peer into the future and bring eternity into the present. The flaming amber signal light on the platform of the Toronto Subway always fascinates me. In a rapid transition I am back over the years to the home of my boyhood gazing into the fire on Christmas Eve. I was a fire-worshipper in those days, and gazing into the glowing coal I saw pictures of strange countries, of vast tropical forests, caves and canyons and high mountains, which would suddenly disappear as the burning coal collapsed in the grate.

Christmas with its bright colors makes poets of us all. It was the colors of the rainbow that made a poet of Wordsworth when he sang:

"My heart leaps up when I behold
A rainbow in the sky:
So was it when my life began;
So is it now I am a man;
So be it when I shall grow old,
Or let me die!
The child is father of the man;
And I could wish my days to be Bound to each by natural piety.

That could be said or sung about the colorful season of Christmas, which takes us back to the simple faith and wonder of childhood — a faith and a wonder that we're born into our world with the Christ Child.

Clever Cooking . . .

If you have been wanting to have company for Christmas dinner but lack space to seat everyone around the table, why not have a buffet dinner? The home economist of the consumer section Canada Department of Agriculture are suggesting this because they know that everyone looks forward to entertaining their friends during this season of hospitality and buffet service is just about the most convenient and informal way of doing it. Guests are fond of a buffet dinner for they love to help themselves to their most favorite foods and to go back again and again for more. There is a happy air of informality when everyone is eating to their heart's content and conversing with some of their very good friends.

There are no set rules for the food to be served when entertaining at a buffet dinner but generally it consists of a main course and dessert along with a beverage. Sometimes the whole meal is placed on the buffet table or if the dessert is to be served hot or chilled it may be brought in later. When the main course is finished, each one can take his own plate to a designated table and pick up his dessert and coffee. The reputation of the hostess is assured if she serves less expensive foods, expertly prepared and good tasting, rather than rare delicacies and so-called "special party-foods". The menu, of course should be planned for besides being well budgeted and well timed it needs to be well balanced, appealing to the appetite and eye and both filling and festive.

There are several points that should be kept in mind when planning a buffet meal. First of all, the schedule should be arranged so that last minute preparation will be cut to a minimum. It is important, also, to choose foods that will be easy to serve and easy to eat with simply forks or spoons required for eating each course.

The various dishes should be placed on the buffet table in such a way that reaching for one food over another is avoided and that cold and jellied dishes will not be warmed by hot ones. Sometimes guests, dishes of the main course when there is a large number of are duplicated at either end of the table.

The buffet table may be placed in the centre of the room, or if the space is limited, it is better to set it back against one wall. In either case it should be located so that it is easily accessible both to the guests and to the hostess when she is going back and forth to the kitchen. In order that the guests will have a place to discard one plate before acquiring the next, a clear surface such as a card table or tea wagon should be available near the door leading to the kitchen. Men are always much happier if they do not have to hold their plates while they are eating so it is a good idea to have small tables available for those who want to use them.

For a Christmas buffet dinner the menu will be very much the same as if the meal were served at the table. First — vegetable or fruit juice cocktails can be passed and sipped while the hostess is making her final inspection of the table. Then of course there would be the well-stuffed turkey and perhaps a baked ham along with it. If the meat is to be served cold it is often sliced beforehand but when it is not a special friend who is adept at carving can be invited to carve and serve it to the guests as they pass by. There should be room for the carver to stand behind the table, out of the way of the guests.

Now, for vegetables on the Christmas buffet, fluffy mashed potatoes will be really good with plenty of rich, golden-brown gravy a casserole of buttered frozen vegetables and finally candied squash fingers. These are easily made by cutting steamed Hubbard squash into narrow strips and candying them in the oven with butter and brown sugar.

A tossed Waldorf salad with the red skin of the apple and green of the celery would be attractive and easy to serve with this meal and a colorful assortment of cranberry and other relishes should be set out for thoughtful selection. For dessert ice cream along with plenty of coffee and milk for the Christmas cake, shortbread and young fry will complete the feast.

You will likely pay more for your Christmas tree this year. Demand for Canadian trees in the U.S. is greater than ever before and that is sending the price of trees here up by 25 cents or more. But if two or three dollars seems a high tag for a tree, look at what is happening in Venezuela. North American and European families there have already paid $35 each.

A light oakgrain hardboard in panels four feet wide and from four to sixteen feet in length is now being offered to householders for interior panelling. You can buy it from lumber dealers — and it is very low in price.

Local Gideons Attend Presentation Service

Gideons Tom Manning, Harold Colwell and Al Cashman joined with the Penticton Gideon Camp in a service dedicating 65 copies of the well known Gideon hotel bibles in the Valley View Lodge in the lodge at Penticton with over 100 n attendance.

The service started with congregational singing, special numbers in song, and prayer, followed by a resume of the program carried on by the Gideon association then the dedication message, the theme being "The infallibility of the Bible" in which the speaker, by several supporting passages of scripture, showed the bible to be the "verbally inspired and divinely preserved Word of God."

Mr. Elliott, a veteran Christian worker throughout the Okanagan valley offered the dedicatory prayer.

A new school financed by the school children of British Columbia was recently opened at Incheon, Korea, making a fine Christmas present for that war-torn city. These two soldiers of the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps are mobbed by happy Korean children, as they hand out candy at the official opening. They are Pte. J. B. Story of Bethlehem Birth Related At Federation Christmas Meeting

The story of the Nativity, read to the Christmas meeting of St. Andrew's Women's Federation by Mrs. V. Charles, reminded members anew of the dramatic story of the birth of the Babe at Bethlehem, the adoration of the shepherds and wise men offering gifts, the lyric song of the angels proclaiming "Glory to God in the Highest."

In a spiritual message to the meeting, Mrs. T. W. Boothe cautioned, "Let us not in our preparation for Christmas forget the central figure of the festivities," bringing home the necessity of turning thoughts to Christ during the celebration of His birth.

Prayer of thanksgiving was offered by Mrs. S. A. MacDonald and the members sang "While Shepherds Watched their flocks by Night."

The junior choir was present at the meeting and sang "Go Down Moses" as well as several Christmas carols. They were directed by Mrs. Lionel Fudge.

During the business session, members were told the parcel of toys, blankets and scarves has been sent to the Burns Lake Hospital as well as two parcels to Korea.

A sum of money will be donated to supply sheets for the Nanaimo that the W.A. has contributed general Training School. It was noted erously to the federation funds. A meeting of the old and new states of officers will be held Jan 4 at 2:30 in the church hall. Refreshments will be given.

Following the Mizpah benediction, refreshments were served by Mrs. A. Smith, Mrs. C. E. McCutcheon, Mrs. A. Rutherford and Mrs. B. Steuart.

High School Band On Featured Program

Word has been received that the Summerland High School Band and the Junior Choir will be heard over station CKOK, Penticton at 9:00 Christmas Eve.

It is a distinct honor that the half-hour program, which was taped prior to the recent Christmas band concert, has been chosen to be placed in one of the favored radio spots Christmas Eve.

The half-hour entertainment will feature highlights from the Christmas Band Concert and will be entirely Christmas music. The Junior Choir under the direction of Mrs. Ethel McNeil will sing two of the carols they presented at the concert.

The program is announced by Bjorn Bjornson and George Cameron is technical engineer.

Kelowna's Sunnyvale School for handicapped will receive more than $100 as a result of the concert last Wednesday night under sponsorship of the Summerland Women's Institute.

The concert was presented in the High School Auditorium and featured a variety of musical and dancing numbers. The concert was organized by Mrs. Flora Bergstrom who has been a member of the committee for the school since its formation.

On the program were the Penticton Men's Choir under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Hendry, the instrumental trio of Keith Sayers, Wally Littau and Jim Peter, and members of Cuba Dunham's dancing class.

If his Dad took him up on that offer, Ted would soon find himself floundering in a sea of facts about family income management, succession duties, taxes, wills, trusts, business insurance and other related subjects!

You see, Ted's father is a typical life underwriter — a man who has not only been trained for his job, but keeps up-to-date by constant study. For the uses of life insurance are more extensive today than they used to be. And the men who represent companies in this business now advise you with increased skill.

Doing this calls for more than study. It takes real understanding of people's needs. And since each family's needs are different, the company representative offers valuable guidance in making plans to fit these needs — individually.

All in all, the life insurance man you deal with today is a very good man to know. And his progress is another reflection of the many ways in which the life insurance business has developed with the times to meet your changing needs!

First Used as Agent for Death Mistletoe Now Symbol of Peace

The mistletoe, once a weapon of death, later became to be considered as a magical medicine, is now a universal symbol of love and peace.

It was with a mistletoe arrow (according to Norse mythology) that Loki killed Balder, the sun god after Balder's mother had obtained a promise from all living things, other than the mistletoe that they would not harm him. Balder was restored to life and it was ruled by the Gods that the mistletoe would never again be used to do harm.

Ancient Europeans considered the mistletoe a magical medicine. They carried it about with them for health and luck and believed it a cure for ulcers and epilepsy as well as a charm promoting fertility.

The present day custom of giving a kiss of love or peace beneath the mistletoe, although a relatively modern one, is derived from the fact that down through the centuries the mistletoe has been recognized throughout the whole world as a symbol of lasting peace.

Original St. Nick Early Turkish Bishop

Saint Nicholas lived some 1600 years ago in Turkey where he was for 17 years Bishop of Myra. Today the place is known as Demre, Province of Antalya — where his church may still be found and one may yet hear of the generous acts which made his life a great legend and gave him the "Santa Claus" character we all know today.

It is said that Saint Nicholas, a man of great virtue and piety, became the patron saint of boys when he restored to life the sons of a rich Asiatic, who had been murdered by a robber-innkeeper while they were enroute to school at Athens. It is said that he was warned of the crime in a dream, but was unable to reach the inn in time to prevent the murders. He restored the boys to life through prayer and the murderer confessed his crime.

CHRISTMAS TREES

Legend has it that the Christmas tree originated in Egypt, where the first trees used were palm trees.

The Germans brought the tree to America, however, as they also introduced it to England. The German Prince Albert, consort of Queen Victoria, introduced the first tree into England when he had a tree for his young daughter.

Martin Luther is said to have brought the first Christmas tree indoors for decoration, early in the 16th century.

When you fasten ornaments to your tree this year you will be commemorating a centuries-old Arabian legend that relates how plants blossomed and flowered and trees miraculously bore ripened fruit on the eve of the first Christmas.

May this Holiday season be well remembered for the joy and happiness it brings to you, your family and friends.

Use lots of Greenery in Decorating For Simple but Attractive Effect

Did you ever notice that the prettiest homes around the community at Christmas are the ones decorated liberally with the green things of the season? Their festive appearance is obtained easily with proper display of such things as evergreens, berries, seed pods and pine cones.

These simple decorations are readily available to most everyone at no cost and to use an old expression: "The woods are full of them."

A trip into the country to gather them can also be turned into a pleasant excursion for the whole family and a brief rest period from the "getting ready" for Christmas company parties, and holiday affairs.

One word of caution, however: Don't kill the trees or bushes. Prune carefully when selecting your evergreens.

The Christmas tree — whether large or small — should be the center of the decorations. Place your tree in front of a window so that its bright, cheerful glow can be seen from within and without. Decorate the tree with strands of popcorn and various balls of red, silver, blue and green decorations that are saved from year to year.

Evergreens, a spray or wreath on your front door — these signify to many who pass your home that you are celebrating a joyous season.

A rope of evergreens requires approximately four or five yards of rope. The place you plan to use it will determine the exact length. Next, you'll need several short lengths of wire, short sprays of evergreen balls, bows, red berries or bells. Place a bunch of evergreen against the rope and fasten in place with the wire. Repeat until the rope has been completely covered. The rope may be draped over the door frame, mantel, or along the stair rail. Pick out other spots where additional decorations like berries, balls or bells will add to the effectiveness of over-all appearance.

YOUR CHRISTMAS CAN BE BRIGHT WITH COLOR

If you wish to get as much color as possible in your Christmas observance here's a novel idea.

Pine cones, small kindling or chips can be so treated as to give off colored flames when burned in the fireplace. Dipped or soaked in a solution of various salts of certain metals cones or chips will burn with a distinctive color. Cones will not readily absorb water, so salts must be suspended in a solution of turpentine.

Compounds which produce specific colors when burned are: Red — strontium chloride; green — barium chloride; lavender — potassium chloride; and yellow — sodium chloride.

A second method — if only cones are to be used — is to dip the cones in paraffin and before the paraffin hardens sprinkle with the following chemicals for desired effect: Green — copper sulfate; red — strontium nitrate; orange — sodium chloride.

The Puritan government of England outlawed Christmas in 1643. With the restoration of the Stuarts, Christmas customs and traditions were revived.

Use of Lights Deeply Symbolic In Modern Christmas Celebration

Of all the symbols that we use at Christmas time, perhaps the one that speaks most deeply to us is the symbol of light. From the earliest of times men have had a place in their worship and the candles glowed in the windows in their legend and in their stories for light. We remember how of homes in the years past, and we follow that same impulse when we decorate our trees and illuminate our homes with electric lights today. Lights speaks to us of hope, of greater knowledge, of warmth and affection, of peace and of love.

It is not strange then that Jesus spoke of himself as the "light of the world", and sent out his followers of all generations to spread the light still further till today it encircles the globe. Nor is it strange that St. John, writing in retrospect of the coming of the Prince of Peace and the Messiah of God, spoke of Him as that light "That enlightened every man". Perhaps it seems strange to us that St. John should say "The light shines in the darkness, and the darkness has not overcome it."

This is the message that I would think needs to be impressed upon us all again this Christmas time. "The light still shines." Our world is dark enough, with wars hot and cold and in between. Paganism and materialism are still strong. Men will not live as brothers. Hate and greed, envy and lust, oppression and exploitation . . . they are still among us. But if we are not as good as we would like to be, neither are we as bad as we might be. Mankind needs a vast amount of saving still, but the light is still alive, and with it the hope and the possibility.

Surely this is part of the Christmas message. And it is not just whistling in the dark to make this claim. There is a vast amount of good will in the world today. There is more sense of responsibility for those in need, more readiness to share with less favored nations. There is something at least, of a return to religion. There is a growing sense of the World Church. Even in Russia, which we look upon as an utterly Godless land, there is a living and vital fellowship of Christians. Arnold Toynbee, perhaps the outstanding historian of our day, was asked, what he felt would be the thing that our century would be remembered by. The gist of his reply was to this effect. The twentieth century may well be remembered as that time when first in the history of mankind both the means and the will to establish a good life for all men, were discovered.

Our days are not easy days in which to live. We hope for peace, but we shall likely have to learn to live with tension for many years. Yet goodness still glows and charity is still practiced, and sharing is becoming more common, and nations are beginning to reach out hands of help and healing to less privileged nations. There is a force that makes for fellowship alive in the world, and a message of peace and of healing is preached. "The light still shines, and the darkness has not overcome it."

GREETINGS

V. M. Lockwood

Real Estate

At a time when men lay aside the burden of every day to rejoice with simple faith in the season's festivities, it is a source of great personal satisfaction to convey to you my warmest Christmas greetings.

No other season is like Christmas and certainly none more significant. Christmas accents the spiritual values that endured for almost two thousand years by which all men are joined in a common family. This, assuredly, is a great inheritance.

The star that guided the Three Wise Men is still the guiding light of goodwill which promises to illuminate the world. With these thoughts, then, let us not be unmindful of the great gifts with which we, as British Columbians, have been endowed.

May peace, happiness attend us during this Yuletide and prosperity continue through the years ahead.

Most of Mankind's Virtues Traceable To Christ and His Message to Man

R. W. Hardy once wrote: A news item described the sailing of one of the great Empress liners plying between the Orient and Vancouver, British Columbia. If there was no delay; she would arrive at the international date line on the night of December 24. Next morning the passengers would awaken to find that it was the morning of December 26. For them there would be no Christmas day that year. What if that misfortune were to happen to the whole world? That by some misadventure, not only the day, but all associated with the incarnation, were by some means to be annihilated? That all the light of healing; all the enlightenment and culture; all the moral uplift and reform; all the spiritual strength; all the faith, hope, and love that are directly traceable to Christ and his message and redeeming power were to be lost? The Greeks said it: "Not to be born were better."

Santa Prospers In America

Just like most everyone else Saint Nick prospered after he came to America.

In Europe, before he reached these shores Saint Nick was a tall angular man who rode a bony gray mare. He hadn't been in America long, however, before he had a new name, a new face, figure and a new and better mode of transportation.

The early English settlers in this country started Santa's "new look" process. They adopted the legendary figure from the Dutch but couldn't pronounce Saint Nicholas. The best they could do was "Santa Kalout" which was corrupted to Santa Claus.

In 1809, Washington Irving in his "Knickerbocker's History of New York" changed Santa's physical appearance by describing him as a jolly fellow with a broad brimmed hat and huge britches. He also taught St. Nick to smoke a pipe and traded his hay burner for a wagon.

Clement Moore in his famous poem, "The Visit From Saint Nicholas", went even further. He gave Saint Nick a sleigh, twinkling eyes, cheeks like roses, nose like a cherry and a round little belly.

Future writers may try to trade France and Dancer off for a jolly ship and trim down Santa's waist line. It will be a tough job, for though he isn't steamlined, Santa pleases the young folks and that's mighty important.

Babe in Manger at Bethlehem Still Fulfillment of Man's Hopes

In the story of the birth of Christ, the first Christmas, we have the record of a great quest and its fulfillment.

After the first announcement to the shepherds, the angel said: "This shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes lying in a manger." Eagerly they hastened to Bethlehem where they sought and found Him. They told abroad the message of the angels, that this babe was the promised Savior, and they returned, glorifying and praising God for the wonderful news.

We read that those who hear the story the shepherds told "wondered", and that even Mary the mother of Jesus "kept all these things and pondered them in her heart." They had a desire to know more about the full significance of this great event.

A few days later, when Jesus was brought to the temple, the aged Simeon saw in Him the fulfillment of his great desire, as he said, "Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, for mine eyes have seen Thy salvation."

Far away to the east three wise men saw an unusual sight—a new star in the heavens. It spoke to them of a great event—the birth of a king. Perhaps they had read Balaam's prophecy given some fifteen hundred years before "A Star shall rise out of Jacob." They followed the star and it led them at last to Bethlehem. When they found Him they presented their gifts, and fell down and worshipped Him.

King Herod also desired to find Him, but for his own personal gain, and to protect his position.

His search, and also his attempt to destroy the Christ-child ended in failure.

The fulfillment of all man's hopes is still the Babe of Bethlehem, the Son of God. He is the "Desire of nations", the "Fairest of ten thousand," and "The Bright and Morning Star." He is able to more than satisfy our deepest longings.

If we seek elsewhere for satisfaction, we will be disappointed. If we seek Him, as "Herod," only for personal gain or position, our quest is doomed to failure. But if we come in penitence and faith, placing our all at His feet, we too will rejoice with "exceeding great joy."

There is another wonderful truth revealed to us in the word of God. He who sought is also seeking. Christ came to this world to bring us back to God. Those who desire Him are tenderly lead on their way until the "Day Star" arises in their hearts and the true blessing of Christ's presence and real Christmas joy is at last their own.

GIFT GIVING CUSTOM

One of the most plausible versions of the origin of the custom of giving gifts at Christmas time is the one saying it began in England.

In the days of the knights, it was the custom to hang kissing rings were decorated with mistletoe and beneath them would meet in the great halls. These the young knights and ladies each bringing Christmas roses to their secret love.

As times changed, so did customs, and roses gave way for other personal gifts at Christmas time.

Celebration of Christmas in India Places Emphasis on Spirit of Giving

Mrs. G. P. Tasker for 32 years was a missionary at Cuttack, India, and was superintendent of the shelter orphanage and high school there. She is now retired and living in Penitcton and writes of the way in which her former charges celebrate Christmas. The Sunday School of the Trout Creek Church of God is this year providing a Christmas dinner for the school pupils at Cuttack.

Following is Mrs. Tasker's account of Christmas in Cuttack:

by MONA MOARS TASKER
I am often asked, "How do you observe Christmas in your orphanage and School in India?" I reply, "Certainly not quite as you do here in the West."

In the first place, we give more emphasis to spiritual meaning of Christmas, which is primarily a Christian festival. In other words, we endeavor to keep Christ in our Christmas observance. Opportunity is given for a sacrificial offering to be made on Christmas Sunday, and in our Orphanage we begin to prepare for that offering from New Year's Day. In order for the children to be able to share, the suggestion came from some of them that a portion of rice and dhal (lentils) be taken from their daily supply, and left to accumulate throughout the year. Token portions are given to each child, for all like to participate in the march on Christmas Sunday, when the gifts are presented to the Christ who came to this world as God's Supreme Gift to mankind. The rest of the rice and dhal is sold, and the cash given as a gift from the children for the spread of the Good News. Many times too, the girls fear their offering will not be enough, so they volunteer to go without items of food, and ask that the price be given as part of the sacrificial offering.

Secondly, many of us have been considering the pressure which always built up as the dead line of Christmas Day approached, with all of the multitudinous details to be pushed through to prepare gifts for our large family of 150 children and workers in the orphanage, arrange for programs in Schools and Sunday Schools, take part in the public functions always held at the Christmas season, and also to prepare for the usual special Christmas dinner for the family. We finally decided to divide our activities into pre-Christmas and post-Christmas events, and just extend our family celebrations until after the 25th. We therefore had all the Christmas programs, special services, and public functions in which we and the children had a part, during the pre-Christmas time, reserving all preparations and plans for gift-giving until after December 25th.

Early Christmas morning the girls begin singing upstair in their dormitory, then the crowd would move downstairs to visit "Mama, Aunty and Big Sisters," and to leave their hand-made Christmas cards. This procession of singing girls, bearing decorated banners of Christmas greetings has become a custom in our orphanage. Christmas day is always full of special events and activities for the children, as well as for the workers. The regular worship service, the special Christmas food brought in by friends and relatives, who come to visit, provide excitement enough. And we could enjoy the pre-Christmas events knowing that the big job of preparing gifts, labeling them, assembling them, all could wait until post-Christmas time. The girls too, had the joy of expectancy prolonged, for they too had been kept busy in programs and other events pertaining to Christmas celebrations.

Gift day, as we call it, finally assembled around the Christmas arrives. The little new dresses and toys for the younger children, bobby pins, needles, thread, blouses for the older girls, soap for all and various other things are finally free. The big gong is rung and the children come tramping in just as happy and excited over their gifts received after the 25th as they would have been under the old plan of giving them on Christmas Day.

The next big event for post-Christmas week is the annual fellowship dinner, which formerly also had been crowded into the Christmas Day events. With all the other activities past, we could not give our attention to this function with a happy spirit. Thus we found, that by extending our Christmas season we could all enter more fully into the joys of each event, and more fully keep the true spirit of Christmas because we had eliminated the dead line of Christmas Day.

IS CHRISTMAS BECOMING TOO COMMERCIALIZED

Every year about this time we hear the same story: Christmas is getting too commercial.

Last year, in fact, some grown ups rebelled and said because Christmas was getting "so commercial" they intended to tell their children that there was no Santa Claus.

Like little Virginia O'Hanlon who wrote the famous "Is there a Santa" letter to the editor of the New York sun, children are very easily disillusioned. But, like Virginia, they need only reassurance from someone they believe in to sustain their wonderful belief. It is entirely wrong for us, to shatter their dreams.

Christmas is commercial in some aspects. Thousands of people earn a livelihood working the year around in toy shops or factories which produce Christmas specialties. This, in itself, does not make Christmas too commercial for toymakers have produced Christmas novelties for hundreds and hundreds of years. In the same vein, we can not say Christmas is too commercial merely because newspapers, magazines and catalogs are filled with gift advertising as the holiday season approaches. They advertise Spring merchandise. Fall merchandise etc., so why not Christmas merchandise, when the dominant theme is one of giving?

Truth of Redemption Has Foundation In Story of Jesus' Miraculous Birth

I wish to take this opportunity to thank the editor of this paper for asking me to write a Christmas message. Not long ago I preached from the text: "Whom will ye that I release unto you? Barabbas, or Jesus which called the Christ?" At that time I said that the editor of a newspaper was somewhat in the position of Pilate who asked this question. To maintain his position, to be a financial success, he must give the people what they want, be it Jesus or Barabbas. It is a satisfaction to me that our editor is thus releasing the Christ. I trust that you—the people—will support him by demanding that the "Prince of Peace" be given His rightful place.

The word "Christmas" is a shortened form of "The Mass of Christ." It reminds us that from earliest Christian days it has been the time when the Church required all the faithful to make their Communion. Together with Easter it is the most important Christian festival: "If Christ be not risen then is our preaching vain, and your faith is also vain."

But the glorious truth of redemption through Christ — His upon the "firm foundation" of the death and resurrection — is built truth of His glorious and miraculous birth. Thus we might say: "If Jesus was not the Christ — the Son of God, conceived by the Holy Spirit; and the Son of Man; born of the Virgin Mary — then His death and resurrection could not have saved us."

Jesus means Saviour. "Thou shalt call his name JESUS; for he shall save his people from their sins", was the message of the angel. Thus it is right and proper that the Christmas story be so well known among us; be given such a prominent place in our religion; be the beginning of our Christian teaching; for it is the foundation upon which all else depends.

Perhaps it is this realization that causes many, who are negligent at other times, and of other Christian teachings, to celebrate Christmas and to flock to church at this season. May this Christmas, with its age old message, be used of God to speak to us all. May it be but the beginning of a new and deeper understanding of the great love of God, and the redemption which he hath wrought us.

I do not need to here retell the Christmas story — so old, yet ever new. It is being told and retold. It should be known by you all. You may hear it again most beautifully in Scripture and carol at the services of the church. But might I just say that it was the

No Room at the Inn So Manger Became Throne for Christ Child

"I am sorry, Mary. They tell me they have no room." And so it was that Joseph, the humble Galilean carpenter, and his queenly young wife Mary, took refuge in a stable near the edge of town. For them, there had been no room.

The population of Bethlehem was more than double, the descendants of David, having come to register as ordered by Herod. The journey had been a particularly tiresome one for Mary. The quietness of the stable and the small amount of warmth it provided indeed was welcomed by both She and Joseph.

Near the hour of midnight, the darkened sky came to life with a light of ethereal beauty, above the stable, a bright new star with the brilliance of a million candles.

In the distance angels were heard in a great psalm: "Glory in the highest, And on earth, peace to men of good will."

The quietness of the stable gave way to the sounds of camels and voices of men, and there appears a group of Magi, wise men of Persia. They have followed the brightness of the star in search of a new-born king. They bring gifts of precious gold.

There in the stable wrapped in swaddling clothes, a manger for his throne, they find the Christ Child.

CHRISTMAS ROSE

The delicate beauty of the Christmas-rose (helleborus niger) is hallowed by legend. A poor shepherd girl, the story goes, wept bitterly as she watched the Wise Men on their way to the Christ Child bearing rich gifts when she had nothing. An angel appeared and upon learning the reason for the girl's distress, the angel caused the ground to be carpeted with shining white flowers. The young shepherdess gathered some blossoms. When she presented her gift, the Infant smiled and as His fingers touched the white flowers, the petals became tinged with pink.

Christmas Story Brings Home Truth Of Christ's Being as Son of God

Christmas is one of the most wonderful seasons of the year, when we celebrate again the birth of Christ. The account of His wondrous birth and all the supernatural things that took place with it, bring home to us the great and fundamental truth, that Jesus is the Son of God. Without this truth, that Christ is divine, religion becomes a mere form, rather a living reality. Let us note again of these supernatural things.

The Virgin birth: Matt. 1:18 — "Now the birth of Jesus was on this wise; When as His mother Mary was espoused to Joseph, before they came together, she was found to be with child of the Holy Ghost." Verse 21 of the same chapter we have the Angels message to Joseph, "And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name JESUS, for he shall save his people from their sins." The great truth of the Virgin birth, which is essential to the divinity of Christ, is clearly shown here.

The birth in Bethlehem: Mary and Joseph lived in Nazareth, but Christ was born in Bethlehem, in fulfillment of prophecy. The trip to Bethlehem at this particular time was prompted by the decree of the Roman Emperor, Caesar Augustus. We see God using a heathen Emperor to accomplish His purpose. Daniel, in speaking to Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, years before this time, interpreted a dream which pronounced judgment on the king and said it was "thou should know that the Most High rules in the Kingdom of men." God uses many men and women in this world to accomplish his purpose, and here He uses a heathen king Caesar Augustus.

Going on we have the Announcement of His birth by the angels to the shepherds on the Bethlehem hills, and their visit to the manger. Then there was the coming of the wise men guided for many miles by the star; their gifts and their worship. The angel then came with the message to Joseph to flee to Egypt from the wrath of Herod. All these incidents and others, bring to us afresh the truth that Christ is the divine Son of God.

At this Christmas season may we realize in a greater way than ever before, that Christ is the divine Son of God, and celebrate His birth in keeping with His person.

Mexican Custom Will Brighten Party

If you're planning a Christmas party for the kiddies why not brighten up the affair the Mexican way? Make plans for a "pinata" and we promise it will be the high spot of the gathering. Widely used in Mexico throughout the year, the pinata is busiest at Christmas time, during the Mexican Christmas Festival which lasts 21 days. It is constructed of thin fragile clay, filled with sweet meats and trinkets, then suspended from the ceiling as a form of decoration.

Sometime during the gathering each of the guests is blindfolded and given a stick which is brandished and the delicious content pour forth.

Health Centre Possible Under System of Grants

An attractive new service centre housing health centre, library and fire hall may be in the cards for Summerland for the near future. Construction of this type of centre on the property where the old municipal hall and fire hall now stand has been given tentative consideration by the municipal council on several occasions, but the idea received a shot in the arm this week when the council was advised the health centre might be constructed with an outlay of only about $1,000 of municipal funds.

Advices Council Of Work Needed On Water System

Unable to be present at the last council meeting before he retires from the council, Councillor H. R. J. Richards on Tuesday submitted a written report on the conditions of domestic water and irrigation system along with recommendations for the guidance of the new chairman of that committee.

Work needed on the system, he suggested, included reconstruction of the diversion flume and ditch from Crescent Creek to No. 4 dam which, he said, is no longer usable and also it might be required in a dry year, a new spillway and control gate at Deer Lake; work on tunnel and control gate at Canyon dam and rebuilding the spillway and work on the spillway at Whitehead dam.

He recommended also an increase in the salary of the water department foreman.

On the domestic water system, he suggested the chlorinating plant be moved closer to the reservoir and that a start be made soon in renewing the winter pipeline and also that an effort be made to supply Trout Creek with domestic water.

Assessment Notices In Mail This Week

Assessment notices for 1956 taxes will be in the mail today and contain a re-assessment of land, using the land residue (the portion free from buildings) and the historic sales prices for which the land has been sold method.

The years 1950 to '55 were used in the analysis and the result was factored to bring the assessment to 60 per cent of the 1953 actual value.

Any area of land five acres or more is considered as farm land and is valued as such.

Assessor J. P. Sheeley will be at the municipal office during office hours every day during the next week to explain the assessment to any ratepayer who has questions to ask.

Floral Decorations Judged at Meeting

The Summerland Horticultural Society held a colorful Christmas meeting Friday, Dec. 16, in the IOOF Hall. Contest for the best Christmas decorations was a feature of the meeting and many beautiful decorations were on display.

During the evening E. J. Kirk took the members on a trip to Mexico and Hawaii via the medium of colored slides. His excellent pictures of sunny tropical climes were much appreciated.

A sale of Christmas decorations and novelties was held at the end of the evening. Excellent refreshments were served by the ladies under the chairmanship of Mrs. A. J. McKensie.

The society is planning to put on a program for the Senior Citizens Club in January.

The next meeting of the society will be the annual meeting but it will be the responsibility of the executive to decide whether to hold this in January or to delay for better weather in February.

Winners of the Christmas decoration contest were: Table centre — Mrs. A. Inch, Mrs. E. Bingham; Mantle decoration: Mrs. Doney Wilson, Mrs. E. Bingham; Door decoration: Mrs. G. Ritchie, Mrs. W. R. Powell; Teen-Agers decoration: Miss Bonny Wilson.

First Aid Course Leads to Awards

Twenty-two awards to candidates were made by St. John Ambulance following first aid examinations held December 14 and 15 which ended the fall course.

Those receiving certificates were V. Barnes, C. Carlie, M. Mowchenko, A. Harris, E. Walton, N. Liehtenwald, P. Gibbard, E. Meadows, M. Wood, A. Wardle, E. Lloyd J. Keyes, C. Haddroll, W. Clark, R. Henker, H. Wiens, F. Pills, R. Derosier, F. Daniels and W. Tilbe.

Voucher was awarded to G. Lalaw and a label to V. Darke.

Clerk Gordon Smith reported to the council this week on discussions he has had with Dr. D. A. Clark, medical health officer for the South Okanagan Health Unit and related the method of financing Dr. Clark had suggested.

Dr. Clark, the clerk stated, had informed him there are provincial and federal grants each of $1,000 for every 300 square feet of floor space in building a new health centre, provided tax-free land is provided by the municipality.

In addition to these grants, Dr. Clark advised, voluntary organizations such as Red Cross, Cancer Society and T.B. Society have funds available to assist in building such centres.

He suggested a building with about 1,000 square feet of floor space would be ample to serve this community and expressed the belief that a $10,000 health centre could be constructed here with the municipality contributing only about $1,000, the balance coming from government grants and donations from private organizations.

He said there would be no objection to the health centre being coupled to a library building. Cost of the library and fire hall portions of the building would have to be borne in full by the municipality.

At the present time, the health nurse occupies quarters in the high school and this arrangement is found to be unsatisfactory both from the health unit and the school points of view.

Dr. Clark will be in Summerland on January 10 and will meet with the council to further discuss the proposal at that time.

Mrs. F. Sharman Passes at Coast

A long-time resident of Summerland, Mrs. Florence Sharman passed away Christmas Day in Vancouver. She was the widow of former Summerland magistrate Hugh Sharman.

For the past several years, Mrs. Sharman has been making her winter home in Vancouver, returning here for the summer months.

Surviving her are a daughter, Mrs. H. Freeman of Vancouver and three grandchildren.

Funeral services were held this afternoon from St. Stephen's Anglican church with Rev. A. A. T. Northrup officiating. Committal was in the Anglican cemetery.

Summerland Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

APPROVE REZONING

Council Tuesday approved reclassification of zoning restrictions at the site of the Occidental Fruit Co. Packinghouse to permit rebuilding of the plant destroyed by fire two months ago. The area had previously been zoned as residential.

First Contract for Construction Of Okanagan Lake Bridge Awarded

First contract on the construction of the Okanagan Lake bridge was awarded last Tuesday with the acceptance of the bid by General Construction Co. of Vancouver for the construction of approaches to the bridge.

Contract awarded General Construction is for $360,178, the lowest of four bids received on the job.

Premier W. A. C. Bennett stated he was "extremely pleased" with the tenders submitted. He declined to disclose the government's estimate of the approaches and causeway.

"They are well within the estimates, and the engineers are now checking the four bids, which we always do before letting a contract," he remarked.

"Weather permitting, work will start in January and we will hope to complete the structure by the fall of 1957."

Mr. Bennett explained that this is the first tender for the initial stage of the bridge.

"Tenders for the pontoons and the superstructure will be called within the next two or three months," he stated. "Plans and specifications are now being worked out for the next phase of the contract and we are not losing any time. The idea is to get the bridge under construction as soon as possible."

Fruit Payments Total $9 Million

Payments made to date by B.C. Tree Fruits on 1955 crop are just about one million dollars short of the amount paid-out by the same date a year ago. This year's total is $9,204,315 while a year ago just over $10 million had been paid out. This is the amount paid to the packinghouses and charges by the packinghouses are deducted before payments are made to growers.

On the pools already closed, payments have been: cherries, $865,200; apricots, $496,811; cooking apples (Wealthy and earlier) $332,174; grapes, $72,345; plums $29,875; prunes, $345,601; crabapples, $155,755.

Pools on peaches and pears have not yet closed but advances already made amount to $326,564 on peaches and $1,148,212 on pears.

Seven advances have been made so far against the apple crop and these now total $4,924,744 and represent a payment of 85 cents a box. A further advance is planned before the end of the year.

Richards Resigns Over Criticism

Criticism of the Summerland Jubilee Committee for making purchases in Penticton this week resulted in Councillor H. R. J. Richards tendering to the municipal council his resignation as chairman of the Jubilee Committee.

In his resignation, Councillor Richards stated that he was assuming full responsibility for the action of the committee and requested his resignation take effect immediately.

First reaction of the council was to table the resignation and ask Councillor Richards to reconsider but after a brief discussion, it was pointed out by Councillor Steuart that the appointment as chairman of the committee had not been made by the council but rather he had been elected by the Jubilee Committee and the letter of resignation should have been directed to that committee rather than to the council.

Criticism of the committee was voiced last week over the fact that silver spoons to commemorate Summerland's 50th anniversary were purchased through a Penticton jeweler and a brochure about Summerland included in the box with the spoon was printed in Penticton and in neither instances had Summerland suppliers even been asked for prices on the work.

Chairman of the souvenir committee, Mrs. Gordon Ritchie, last week stated a statement on the committee action would be made as soon as a meeting could be held but this statement has not yet been received.

William Hack Passes Suddenly

Death struck suddenly on Boxing Day and claimed 52-year-old popular member of the community William Hack.

Mr. Hack had seemed to be on the road to recovery from a heart attack which had kept him hospitalized for some time and only the week previously had returned home to convalesce.

Surviving are his wife, one daughter, Mrs. Norma Henry of Methle River; a brother Aston of Victoria; two sisters, Mrs. Basil Stewart of Kimberley and Mrs. Mary Myers of West Summerland; and one granddaughter.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon from St. Stephen's Anglican church with Rev. A. A. T. Northrup officiating. Burial was in the family plot at Peach Orchard cemetery.

Summerland Funeral Home in charge of final arrangements.

"What a beautiful Christmas present," said Mr. and Mrs. Gerardus Haster when they heard that the federal cabinet is likely in the near future to pass an order in council to permit their second oldest son, daughter-in-law, and year old granddaughter to enter Canada. Johan Haster, 25, Amsterdam bricklayer, and his family have been barred from Canada because his wife, Mary, 24, is a girl of mixed blood from the Dutch East Indies. Their case, brought out in public by Johan's parents, caused a furor both in Canada and in Holland. Having come to Toronto only five months ago from Holland with their youngest son, Jan, seen here with them, Mr. and Mrs. Haster felt they should return to their native country if Johan and his family could not come to Canada.

Teen Town

Ruby Gronlund

Our first Teen Town dance since we folded up in March went over big. We would like to thank our chaperones, Mrs. S. Fabbi, Mr. and Mrs. J. Betuzzi, Mr. and Mrs. H. Eden, Mr. and Mrs. D. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Marcel Bonthoux for helping make our dance a success and we all hope you had fun and will come again.

Our dance on December 22 was called the "Holiday Hop". Decorations consisted of streamers and other Christmas trimmings to add to the holiday mood.

One of the big features of the evening was Herb James and his orchestra from Penticton.

This dance was a big success and we hope all those who supported us and came out had a good time. We also hope in 1956 we can have a successful year in "Our Teen Town."

Two ways to check your buying skill

1 When you buy a house

Would you buy a house without looking it over thoroughly first? Or would you examine plumbing, heating, storage facilities, the neighbourhood and the reputation of the builder? The more thorough you are, the higher you rate in buying skill . . . and you'll be hundreds of dollars ahead of the careless buyer in the long run.

2 When you buy life insurance

Would you buy a life insurance policy on the strength of the premium alone; or would you look carefully at equally important features — dividends, cash value, and the reputation of the company? If you consider these things you'll save yourself time and trouble — and hundreds of dollars in cash!

Oliver Choral Club Stages Fine Program

A small, but very appreciative audience last week heard the combined concert of the Summerland Town Band and the Oliver Choral Society.

The band played the first section of the program which included marches, overtures and novelty numbers. Particularly well received were the Ode to Music by Chopin, a slow-moving, melodious composition and March Fantastique, a novelty number in the modern style featuring some rather startling dissonances, and a sousaphone finale played in fine style by Jack Brown.

The Oliver Choral Society presented the other two sections of the program composed entirely of Christmas choral compositions for mixed voice choir. The concert included many old favorite carols, as well as other compositions not so well known. The choral society was very well received and there were numerous favorable comments heard from the audience after the show. The choir had spontaneous enthusiasm for their music which was directly reflected in their sparkling performance.

It is hoped to bring this choir back to Summerland next Christmas for another joint concert.

Not content with the claim of a U.S. professor that the site of the "birthplace of the oil industry" is at Titusville, Penn., two Canadian researchers have produced more historic evidence that Oil Springs Ontario deserves the title. J. J. Tallman, left, historian of the University of Western Ontario, and Col. E. B. Harkness, former natural gas commissioner of Ontario, have delved into old records which, they believe, prove that the Oil Springs wells, operated by James Miller Williams in 1857, were the first commercially successful venture in history. In 1857, they say, Canada was supplying the U.S. with 15 per cent of its petroleum.

Bowladrome Tops Five-Pin League After First Half of Season Play

The Kingpin Bowling League completed the first eight weeks of play on December 22, with the Bowladrome team in top position with 23 points, followed by the Red Sox with 22 points. So far, all members have been very keen, especially the young players on the High School teams. It is gratifying and on several occasions during league play they have rolled better scores than the more experienced senior players.

Following is the schedule of play from January 11 to April 12. All players are requested to keep this schedule for reference.
