Trip to Victoria Was 'Time of Our Lives' Junior Bandsmen Report

BY BARBARA BAKER

After trying so hard to keep secret that the Summerland High School Band journeyed to Victoria last week for the Third High School Band and Orchestra Conference, we find that the news is out, so we have decided to tell all.

Hold your hat, everyone! (Oh those crazy hats!) and let's go west!

Leaving early Wednesday morning, we enjoyed good weather and a pleasant trip, arriving in New Westminster at 3:30 p.m. We were met at the Lester Pearson High School by our billets. That evening we played a concert in this school, assisted by the Lester Pearson mixed chorus. For the last few numbers on the program we enjoyed the experience of playing as a massed band with the members of the Lester Pearson band. These pieces were conducted by Fred Turner, conductor of the Lester Pearson band. During the intermission of this concert Reeve Atkinson distributed small tins of apple juice among the audience.

We again boarded our buses at the school Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. On entering Vancouver the three buses were met by two policemen on motorcycles who conducted us to the City Hall. Our official escort stopped all cars at every intersection, giving us the right-of-way. After going through numerous red lights we overheard one bus driver say that he had finally reached the abolition of his life — to take his bus through a red light. (We went through 16 in all!) At the Vancouver City Hall we met Mayor Hume and two aldermen, and played a few numbers. At this point we would like to thank the "Smith Brothers" and The Board of Trade for arranging this special part of our trip. And now that we are in the mood for thanking people, we would like to mention Mr. Tamblin, Mr. Chalmers, Mrs. Piers, Mrs. Sheeley, Miss Carille, and Mrs. Wilson, without whom we couldn't have made the trip.

From the City Hall we were escorted to Stanley Park, where we were served a delicious luncheon and taken on a short tour. Our buses then proceeded to Sea Island where a North Star aircraft made two trips to take us all to Vancouver Island. While the second group was waiting they toured some of the hangars and were shown the new Viscount aircraft. This flight was, for most of us, a new and wonderful experience.

In Victoria we were met by our billets at S. J. Willis school. The main part of the conference began Friday morning at 8 o'clock when Summerland opened the adjudication of bands in the arena. On Friday afternoon we were taken by bus to HMCS Naden, where we toured the School of Music. We were shown numerous instruments, including a plastic saxophone, given a demonstration on a delicate tuner which is able to detect errors in pitch up to one-one hundredth of a semi-tone, and attended part of a rehearsal of some of the band apprentices. Friday evening at the school films were shown and a dance held.

On Saturday we attended the clinics. In the morning there were clinics for all wind, string, and percussion instruments, while Saturday afternoon offered in-

Ratepayers Vote Saturday On School Construction

Ratepayers of School District No. 77 will go to the polls Saturday to decide whether the school board is to go ahead with projects in this district totalling $110,000.

Main items in the proposed school expansion program are the high school at a cost of $61,500 and the Trout Creek school at a cost of $30,000.

Voting will be at the municipal office and at the Lakeside United Church building. Polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

A ratepayers' meeting to hear an outline of the proposed program Tuesday night drew only about 30 people - including school board members, teachers, reeve and municipal clerk.

A very tight vote is anticipated. Summerland Board of Trade to help in getting voters to the polls has offered to provide free transportation and this may be obtained by phoning 3421.

The proposed expenditure also includes $6,000 for furnishing the new wing at the high school and $2,500 for furnishings at the Trout Creek school and $10,000 for preparing plans and raising the money through a bond issue.

Fellowship Dinner Attended by 170

Summerland Gideon Camp Friday evening was sponsor of a fellowship dinner at which close to 170 sat down in the IOOF Hall. Success of the venture has prompted hope with the local Gideons that this may become an annual event.

Guest speaker for the evening was John Wilson of Vancouver, a lay preacher and a representative of the Gideon Society.

Attending the dinner were representatives of Gideon Camps at Vernon, Kelowna and Penticton. Chairman of the gathering was T. S. Manning, president of the Summerland camp and others taking part in the program were V. B. Durnin, leader of the Gideon interior zone and A. A. Cashman. Members of the Rebekah Lodge catered to the dinner.

Rotary Club To Sponsor Choir From University of Alberta Tuesday

Performing here Tuesday night under sponsorship of Summerland Rotary Club will be the 90 voice mixed choir of the University of Alberta. The chorus will be on the stage of the high school auditorium and the program is scheduled to get underway at 8:15 o'clock.

The choir at full strength numbers 150 voices and the spring tour is its biggest event of the season. This year the Okanagan has been included in the tour.

The university chorus, which is directed by R. S. Eaton, has gained considerable national prominence through its OBC concerts. Money raised by the Rotarians in this concert will be used for the share of the piano fund underwritten by the club.

Special features of this year's program will include a Bach Cantata "God's Time is Best", accompanied by a small chamber orchestra; recognition of Alberta's cosmopolitan population in the "Cossack's March", a Ukrainian historical folk song, arranged by Alexander Koshetz and three Canadian folk songs, the popular "En Passant par la Loire", "A la Claire Fontaine", and "Vive la Canadienne", all three arranged by Professor R. S. Eaton. Several rousing choruses from Gilbert and Sullivan's "Yeomen of the Guard," and a secular cantata by the English composer Walford Davies, concerning the delightful excursion of "Three Joyful Huntsmen" about the English countryside, will be offered.

Scouts Plant Trees On Giant's Head

This year, theme in scouting throughout Canada is conservation and as part of the 1st Summerland troop's program in conservation, 500 seedling Douglas Fir trees were nursed from the B.C. forest nursery at Cranbrook and have been planted on the north slope of the Giants Head back of the Youth Centre.

The regular meeting of the troop on Tuesday was devoted to planting these trees. Each of the 30 boys came with a shovel, and under the supervision of the leaders and the group committee planted the trees in less than one hour. The soil was moist and the cool wet weather provided excellent plant conditions. This is the fourth season the troop has planted fir trees and many of the trees previously planted were found to be growing well.

Mrs. F. E. Atkinson Again Heads CNIB

Mrs. F. E. Atkinson was re-elected president of Summerland Branch of CNIB at the annual meeting held Monday evening in the High School library.

Others elected were Mrs. Marie Robinson as treasurer and Mrs. A. K. Macleod as secretary. R. Alstead and Mrs. Eric Taft are vice-presidents.

Speaker at the meeting was J. C. Hembling of Penticton, field secretary for the CNIB who told of a recent problem with unauthorized collectors soliciting on behalf of the blind. He reminded the meeting that only local members of the community participate in campaigns on behalf of the CNIB and the collection is carried out only once during the year.

The meeting also heard a tape recorded talk by Capt. J. M. Robinson, western director of the CNIB, who told of achievements of the institute and also of activities of the White Cane Club.

A film "Man in the House" describing rehabilitation of a blinded person was shown.

Re-Elect Directors At Co-Op Meeting

At the 33rd annual meeting of the Summerland Co-Op Growers held on Monday night in the IOOF Hall, directors E. M. Taft and J. Y. Towgood, whose terms were completed were re-elected by ballot.

A meeting of the directors has been called for Friday, and Eric Taft announced that it is his intention to step down as president. A new president will be named from members of the board of directors, comprised of E. M. Taft, J. Y. Towgood, Dr. D. V. Fisher, M. W. Toews and D. M. Wright.

The directors report showed a satisfactory operation in spite of a 20 per cent drop in crop due to poor growing conditions.

New sorting equipment installed during the year has proved its worth, and has reflected a saving in labor costs in its first year of operation regardless of the fact that the fruit handled was far below normal quality and size.

Inquest Postponed In Highway Death

Inquest into the death of Archie Rutherford which was set for last night was postponed one week because driver of the car which struck Mr. Rutherford, D. L. Cruickshank, has not recovered sufficiently to testify at the hearing.

Mr. Cruickshank is now at his home but is still suffering from shock.

St. Andrew's church was filled Monday afternoon for the funeral for Mr. Rutherford who has been a resident of the district for the past 45 years.

He is survived by his wife and two daughters, Mrs. A. McLean of Fort St. John, and Mrs. Luther Burnell of Summerland. Also two brothers and two grandchildren.

Rev. C. O. Richmond officiated at the last rites and interment was in Peach Orchard cemetery.

Summerland Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Nine More Home Permits in April Send Construction Figures Away Up

Building figures in Summerland for the first four months of the year were up 40 per cent over the same period a year ago with permits for nine new homes issued during the month of April.

Altogether, 19 permits were issued during the month, nine of them being for alterations to homes and the remaining one for new commercial premises.

Total value of April permits was $57,675. A year ago, 18 permits were issued in the same month for construction to the value of $47,650.

Since the first of this year, 24 building permits have been issued for construction totalling $122,710. During the same period in 1955, 32 permits were issued to the value of $89,950.

The construction figures were contained in the monthly report of Building Inspector Roy F. Angus.

Hospital Tagging Here Saturday

May 5 is the date set for the annual hospital tag day and in Summerland chairman of the tagging committee is Mrs. Marie Robinson, assisted by Mrs. A. K. Macleod.

Proceeds from the tagging in Summerland will go toward refreshing linen supplies at the hospital and other essentials.

Members of the Summerland Hospital Auxiliary will provide taggers to man collection points in the business district during the day.

Guides' Cookie Sale Set for Saturday

Summerland Guides on Saturday will be conducting their annual sale of cookies with a house to house canvass to vend their goodies.

In the past years the Guides have always obtained permission for sale of their goodies on the street but popularity of the sale has always left them with none for the street sale so this year they are planning on disposing of their entire supply in house sales.

The sale of cookies by Guides on Saturday is part of a national effort which is conducted everywhere in Canada on that day.

Fatally Stricken At Friend's Funeral

While attending the funeral of a former neighbor Tuesday afternoon, John E. Secret of Penticton suffered a fatal seizure in St. Andrew's Church.

Mr. Secret was 70 years of age and has suffered from a heart condition. He formerly operated an orchard in Prairie Valley and was a neighbor to Archie Rutherford, whose funeral he was attending when he was stricken.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon in Penticton.

Dr. J. D. Gregson Speaker at Meeting

A record attendance of about 70 members and friends of the Summerland Horticultural Society heard Dr. J. D. Gregson of Kamloops tell of some of his hikes into the mountain areas of the Monashee Range and Pemberton Valley. The talk was illustrated by colored slides taken by the speaker. The pictures included mountain scenery and wild flowers and scenes in Dr. Gregson's own lovely garden. The first picture was a close-up of the inside of a petal of a salpiglossis flower.

Another picture showed a forestry look-out house perched on the very top of a steep mountain. This place is not used as it is too attractive to lightning storms.

In the parlor show the awards in class one Theme Arrangement, went to: First, Mrs. W. May for a "Woodland" theme and second to Mrs. K. McKay for an "April" theme. In class 2, arrangement of catkins only: First went to Mrs. A. Inch and second to Miss D. Taft.

Mr. W. May showed how to make a sand box garden of individual flowers arranged in a box of damp sand. Many different designs can be made in this way. This is to be one of the classes at the May parlour show.

C. Snell showed how to make arrangements using greenery and ribbons. This is an idea for when there are no flowers available.

H. J. Barkwill asked the society if they would help with some of the street decorations for the jubilee celebrations. The president arranged for a committee of A. Watt, N. May and K. B. Thompson to look after this.

E. Bennett gave a report of the annual meeting of the Valley Horticultural Society held in Kelowna April 12. At this meeting it was decided not to hold a Valley Flower Show for this year. The new executive of the Valley Society is F. V. Fulton, Kelowna, president and Ben Hoy, Kelowna, vice-president. These two men will find a secretary-treasurer from the Kelowna area.

Mrs. Gardner won the prize of a Cape Primrose donated by L. Wright.

Mrs. Leibert and Mrs. Hookham served tea at the end of an enjoyable evening.

Whiskered Delegation to Vancouver Arouses Interest in Celebration

A group of bow-tiskered, derby-hatted Summerland Board of Trade members had Vancouverites puzzling over their appearance in the coast city last week and when they returned home a lot more people were aware of Summerland's impending jubilee celebration.

The group travelled to New Westminster last Wednesday and was present at the concert by the Summerland school band and on behalf of the Summerland Board of Trade distributed cans of apple juice to those attending the concert.

Next morning the delegation was with the band to meet Mayor F. J. Hume at the city hall reception and Reeve Atkinson presented Mayor Hume with an honorary membership in the SPTQWTCAPSGJ and also a moustache cup suitably inscribed. The moustache cup was made out of Summerland clay by Mrs. Doney Wilson.

Later they saw the band off to Victoria at the airport before returning to Summerland.

Need Volunteers To Finish Arena

Work at the Summerland Arena has been speeded up as the cement floor over the freezing pipes will be poured in time to use the arena in conjunction with jubilee celebration activities and rink association has sent out a call for more volunteers to help with the job.

Pouring of cement will be started about the middle of next week and in the meantime the surface of the present floor has to be levelled to make sure the pipe is not popping in any bumps when the cement is poured.

Work is going on every evening except Saturday and anybody who volunteers will be sure of a cordial welcome to the job.

The period stipulated for the completion of the trans-Canada highway has been extended and the federal government has undertaken to give further assistance to those provinces who have to construct expensive lengths of highway such as the Fraser Canyon and around the Great Lakes. Even with pressures that have been brought to bear for the completion of this highway, only a third of the distance to date has been completed.

The uncompleted portion includes the part that should traverse the province of Quebec as unfortunately this province is one that did not undertake to co-operate with the other nine to provide an all-Canadian route from coast to coast.

Many suggestions were made to hasten the completion of the Trans-Canada road. It was also suggested that the government follow the policy established in the US of becoming partly responsible for feeder roads running North and South. However, this is beyond the scope of the act at the present time.

The completion of the Trans-Canada highway should be forced through at the earliest possible date in order to capture and retain the potential tourist traffic as well as the growing use of highways for goods transportation. Some criticized the road already built as too narrow and too lightly built to withstand the heavy trucks that now operate.

The specifications called for a two-lane highway which of course is an improvement over no highway at all, but several members felt that it should be a four-lane highway. Failing that, it should be a four-lane highway for 20 miles when approaching or leaving the main cities along the route.

The farm improvement loan act has again been approved and the amount to be borrowed under it has been increased to $5,000.

Good use has been made of this act and under it, at the present time, there is roughly $135 million in current loans granted to farmers.

This loan is made through a local bank at the rate of five per cent with the government guaranteeing the banks against any loss.

So far, after 11 years of operation the government guarantee has only cost a fraction of one per cent. Although at the present time it happens to be a much higher rate of doubtful collections than in previous years.

The committee recommended that credit union be allowed to participate in the loaning facilities under this act. The representative of the credit unions appeared before the committee and explained that in their case they could only issue loans if they were allowed to add another one per cent per annum for insurance to cover the amount of the loan on the life of the farmer concerned. Another suggestion was that the interest rate be dropped to four and a half per cent. In this case credit unions intimated that they could not function as their minimum requirement was five per cent.

However the committee had no power to deal with the interest rate and it was indeed doubtful if the banks would be interested in the lower rate unless the government subsidized the interest or possibly increased its guarantee.

T. Austin Walden . . . record of ungrudging service

(Contributed by Alex Steven)

AS WE gathered the other afternoon within the walls of St. Andrew's United Church to pay our last respects to this useful and popular citizen, we instinctively felt that the unusual large congregation and floral offering presented in themselves a sufficient and tangible evidence of the measure of esteem in which he had been held throughout the years.

It has been stated on many occasions that each individual life constitutes a sermon. If such a verity is to be accepted, then it requires no keen discernment or sweep of imagination to arrive at a symbol of his worth. This can be briefly summed up in the one word — Loyalty. Austin Walden was loyal to his family, to his community, to his church, to his lodge and in whatever direction he could make a useful contribution. His, of a surety, was a record of ungrudging service to the public weal.

His physical impairment, from which he suffered during the later years of his life failed to "freeze the genial current of the soul" and his cheerful greeting and ready smile remained constant and spontaneous — a quality indeed to become both a memory and an example.

As the sad cortege moved slowly away beyond the scope of our vision, we felt in that moment the significance of the lines of Longfellow—

And when a good man dies;
For years beyond our ken;
The light he leaves behind him lies —
Upon the paths of men.

Archie Rutherford . . . then darkness and a silence

(Contributed by Alex Steven)

"Only a look, and a voice, then darkness again and a silence."

The grave has claimed yet another victim, and we mourn the passing of a popular citizen and Old Timer in the person of Archie Rutherford. His end came swiftly, and, perhaps, by it's very suddenness he might have wished it that way to close out so active a life as he had led amongst us.

In this Jubilee Year, had he lived to see it's consummation, he might well have claimed the distinction of having had the longest service of any employee in the annals of the corporation. His was a familiar figure up to recent years along the water mains and arteries of the Irrigation system; and while on his "beat" his natural boast was that he had already brushed off the dews of dawn ere others had bestirred themselves. Archie was a good citizen, a good Scot and a good Canadian.

He was inordinately proud of his native land, more especially his native place — Selkirk, that little town in Scotland's pleasant and storied borderland, which after six centuries appears to brood over the disaster overwhelming it on a long past yesterday, when during the period succeeding Flodden every home within it's boundary mourned the loss of a father, a brother, a husband or a son. Such a melancholy event inspired the composition of the Scottish National Requiem — The Flowers of the Forest — a lament which throughout the years continues to strangely stir the human heart.

And so with such an effect upon our minds, we salute the memory of our passing countryman with the recurring belief that —

"The Flowers of the Forest are a' wede awa' "

Mid-Week Message

We know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. (II Corinthians 5:1) Read Romans 6: 16-23.

Susannah Wesley, mother of John Wesley, lay on her deathbed. With most of her many children gathered around her, she said, "Children, as soon as I am released, sing a psalm of praise." These were her last words. Her words expressed what each Christian should be able to say in his last hour. Death alone makes possible our hope of a free life in the eternal presence of God.

Only a Christian can welcome death with such words. Those who know the beauty and the power of communion with the Divine in this life can eagerly embrace the prospect of a perfect communion with the Divine in Eternity.

Though a mystery, death is not evil. Though puzzling, it is not to be feared. It is the means for the home-going of the soul.

The grave can never swallow the soul. It can win no victory over him who sees this present life in the light of eternity and therefore lives it with a passion for God and His Kingdom.

God, our Father, help us to live today to Thee alone. Help us to feel the eternity in us. We submit our lives to the guidance of the Holy Spirit to lead us through this life into life eternal. In the name of our Lord, Amen.

Pioneer Days

From Early Files of The Review

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
May 6, 1921

His shares in Mercantile Company have been sold by J. J. Wilson to George Stuart, a business man of Vancouver. Mr. Stuart is expected to arrive here in a few days when Mr. Wilson will withdraw from his business and apply himself to his orchard.

G. Y. L. Crossley has withdrawn from the local firm of real estate agents, C. H. Inglis & Co., and informs The Review that he intends to start in business for himself.

Directors of Summerland Agricultural Association are meeting with great success according to John Tait, secretary. Membership promises to be larger than in any year since its existence, and renewed and keen interest is being shown in the apple show.

Progress is being made at the site of the new storage building. A concrete mixer is being installed and gravel drawn for the concrete. Piles for extension of CPR trackage on the lakeside of the building are being brought in.

THIRTY YEARS AGO
May 7, 1926

Summerland boys and girls made a fine showing at the first Kelowna musical festival, a red letter day in musical history in the valley, held in the Scout Hall under the auspices of the P-TA of that city. Miss Marjorie King won first solo class and two Summerland boys won first and third prizes in the elementary pianoforte solo class, George Mossop and Cameron McGowan, respectively. Miss Dorothy Nield, senior girls' elocution, Cyril Mossop and Alistair McGowan, junior pianoforte, all secured high marks, and commendation for sincere artistic productions.

June 3, the King's birthday, is to be Summerland's Day. Efforts will be made to make the event more successful than upon any other occasion in the past. Summerland should be the mecca of the entire South Okanagan on this one big holiday of the year.

The first carload of ore ever to have been shipped from Summerland was despatched on its way to the Trail smelter this week from the Kelley Mine at Trout Creek. It is believed to be good galena ore, containing silver and lead.

Mr. Charles Stuart was suddenly taken ill this week, with the result a rather difficult operation was performed at the Summerland hospital. The operation was entirely successful and Mr. Stuart is progressing favorably.

Annual meeting of the Summerland Community Band resulted in Jack Logie being elected manager. Other officers are: Reeve Robert Johnston, honorary president.

civil defence notebook

By I. E. PHILLIPS
Civil Defence Officer

The Time of Test

In last week's notebook the early steps and growth of civil defence in the United Kingdom were reviewed. The point was then made, that due to various factors, a valuable respite was granted to the government and the people to build up its defences in the face of the gathering storm.

It is of interest to note, that although Civil Defence existed prior to 1939, it was only when war was actually imminent that the easy going British public awoke to the peril.

It is strange, or is it, that many of these world shaking events during the years 1937, 1938 and 1939 took place at week-ends and at holiday times.

It will be recalled, that in these early days chemical warfare was considered to be almost a certainty. With the issue of masks, the public became very gas conscious and the warden service was at that time fully extended. Fortunately, this threat never materialized and it could have been that the precaution taken may in fact have acted as a deterrent. There is no reason to doubt, that if gas had so been employed, there would have been retaliation.

After the evacuation of Dunkirk and under the shadow of invasion, came the Battle of Britain, when the few hurried from the skies the many, and the scores at the end of each day read much, like the close of play in an all important test match.

At this time, civil defence really came into its own. The training of teams of firefighters went on all the day and far into the night.

Few indeed, were the men and women who had failed to take this important part of training. Events proved how wise was this anticipation, when the baskets of incendiaries descended from the skies. As they fell they were dealt with by the fire watchers, many being quickly cleared from the roofs of buildings and houses. In this connection, women played a prominent part in the controlling of fires, kindled by the incendiary bomb.

The writer has sad cause to remember this type, his sister and nephew being last seen extinguishing such bombs in their garden, and afterwards retreating to the house when high explosive bombs began to fall. A direct hit and a bald announcement in the press the following day — on June . . . Very suddenly . . .

If one may digress at this time the lesson and moral here could be "How big a part and in what measure did the training of the civilian in fire fighting contribute to the defeat of the plan envisaged in the breaking down of morale by fire?"

As a point of interest, the warning signals used in the United Kingdom at that time were much the same as those approved and adopted here in Canada. In addition, there was the Cuckoo signal which was often used denoting enemy aircraft directly overhead. Many times, this signal would be given without any previous alert and more often than not it proved that muddy or dusty clothing was the lesser of two evils.

It would be idle to deny that as the time passed, the shortage of a varied diet, the stress and the strain and the lack of rest began to tell. However, the will to win through remained as steadfast as ever. It was plain that at this stage of the war, the enemy was going all out to break the morale of the civilian population, in addition to his main effort to disorganize industry.

With direct aid from civil defence personnel, almost every street was organized on a good neighbor basis. First aid treatment, the provision of clothing, shelter for the bombed out victims, rest and food, all these were freely pledged and freely given.

Here was a demonstration that civil defence was no closed shop, the concern of a few, but the business of every member of the community who hoped to survive.

Lastly the Buzz bomb or the Doodle Bug as it came to be known, and the Rocket, both of these being used in a final effort to destroy the morale, always recognized as one of the most important factors in any emergency.

CHILDREN'S EDUCATION GUARANTEED BY SAVING GOVERNMENT ALLOWANCES

Family Allowance Cheques Can "Roost" For Future Use at the Bank of Montreal

While your Family Allowance Cheques are intended, first and foremost, to help pay for your youngsters' day-to-day expenses, they can also be used to give them a good start in agriculture or other college courses, later in life.

If you deposit every Family Allowance cheque for one child in a B of M savings account, there will be over $1,300, including interest, in it by the time the age of 16 is reached, points out Ivor Solly, West Summerland's Bank of Montreal manager. And, through the years, this nest-egg will always be immediately available, should emergency or opportunity arise.

By this means you can do much to make sure that your youngsters will have every chance to earn a good living when they start their own career or when your farm is passed on to them. If you can't manage to set aside the whole cheque, try to bank at least a part of it regularly. You'll find the practice will pay off in the future. So, next time you receive your Family Allowance cheque, why not drop into the B of M and open a savings account in your youngster's name. When you do that, you'll be building security and opportunity into his or her future . . . and that gives any parent a wonderful feeling!

Scout Activities

During the past week seven Scouts made pack boards under the direction of C. L. Lackey. Next week these pack boards should be brought to the scout meeting so Mr. Fisher can make arrangements to have the buckles sewn on to the straps. Every boy in the troop now has a pack board ready for week end camps and summer camp.

At next week's meeting those boys who owe dues are asked to bring them in so our accounts can be brought up to date. Let's have another full turn-out at next week's meeting.

Report Successful Short Sewing Course

The art needlework included smocking, hemstitching, cutwork, French embroidery, cross stitch,

Mrs. Rees would be pleased to teach some of these courses again next year but she stressed the necessity of having a very well lighted room with a large blackboard for these classes.

It is hoped if the new school is built at Trout Creek Point, one of the school rooms will be suitable to use for this type of adult education.

Al Hooker Belts Three-Run Homer Gives Locals Winning Margin Sunday

In a fair ball game played at Kelowna on Sunday before a good opening day crowd, Don Cristante hurled steady ball and came up with a 7-4 win — his first of the season.

A double by Lloyd Hayes scoring two runs and Al Hooker's three run homer, over the left field wall provided the winning margin for the locals.

Kelowna opened the scoring in the first inning when Keilbiski singled, went to second when Lingor walked and then scored on Favell's double. In the top of the fourth the Mac's got into the ball game. Hooker singled, Taylor walked and G. Parker singled to load the bases. Hayes hit a double to deep centre to score two runs. Kelowna tied it up in their half of the fourth when Favell got his second hit to drive in Kaiser who had walked and went to second on a fielders choice.

In the top of the seventh Summerland took the lead never to be headed. Jomori singled, B. Parker was safe on an error and Hooker unloaded his big hit, a line drive over the left field fence. Joe Kaiser got one of these runs back when he hit a home run with no one on to make the score 5-3.

In the eighth the Mac's were handed a free run. Egely walked, went to second on a pass ball, took third on a wild pitch and scored on a balk by relief pitcher Dick Getz who was playing his first game for Kelowna. He will be remembered for the good ball he played for Penticton, both as a Junior and Senior Red Sox.

The Mac's last run came in the ninth. Two bases on balls and Hayes second hit drove in Egely. Kelowna threatened to make a battle of it in the last half of the ninth when Favell got his third hit of the game, went to second on a pass ball and scored on Tostenson's pinch hit single. Jablonski got hold of one and drove it to deep centre where Taylor made it look easy and ended the game.

MORE ABOUT BAND TRIP

strument repair, conducting, rudiments, music teaching as a profession, and other similar courses. Of course I can speak for myself only but I found the three clinics which I attended were both informative and interesting. We gained knowledge on such things as special fingering, types of tonguing, and instrument maintenance. The instructors were chosen from the best musicians in B.C. and Washington, including some from HMCS-Naden.

Then came the crowning event of the whole conference — the Saturday night concert in the arena. Try to imagine 1,500 boys and girls from 32 bands and orchestras, seated in their colorful uniforms on the floor of the arena. Guests were the HMCS Naden Band and the Victoria Symphony Orchestra. The concert was opened by the massed bands and orchestras playing O Canada, under Lieut.-Commander Cuthbert, conductor of the Navy Band. This band then played two numbers, Each band and orchestra played one number, with massed bands playing the "Maple Leaf Forever", under Mr. W. Welke from the University of Washington. Trophies were presented to each band. The Victoria Symphony performed under Mr. Hans Gruber, and for the final number on the program the massed bands and orchestras, with the Victoria Symphony played the beloved "Abide With Me", conducted by C. Evens, concert-master of the Victoria Symphony Orchestra. The Victoria Symphony then closed the concert with "God Save The Queen."

Sunday morning at 7:00 o'clock Daylight Saving Time the first buses left Victoria for Pat Bay, where we boarded the plane for Vancouver. Arriving at Sea Island in Vancouver we boarded our buses and proceeded home. At Trout Creek Bridge we were met by our own police escort, and taken to the school. (Too bad Summerland isn't equipped with traffic lights!)

The Hi Life

By Carol Allison
Hi! We just got back from Victoria and a wonderful time was had by all! One of the big highlights of the trip was roaring from Stanley Park, where we were served a delicious luncheon, to the airport, with our two motorcycle escorts stopping traffic for us.
The senior softball teams have been out practicing. Their first league game of the season will be held May 9.
Because of the limited space, the grads this year will be allowed only 12 people each to the graduation ceremonies. The date for graduation has been set at June 8.
Class valedictorian this year is Neil Woolliams. Class poet is Carol Allison.
The annual grad tea will be held in the auditorium on May 18, from 2:00 to 5:00 p.m. A fashion show is planned, and the graduation class will be in charge. Proceeds from this tea and sale will go to help defer expenses of graduation.
Just a reminder to the grad class. Payments are due for caps and gowns. Prices are $2.00 for the boys and $3.50 for the girls. Also, those with points for athletic and non-athletic awards should have them listed, signed by the sponsors and handed in this week.
The band will probably not be going to Vernon on Saturday for the annual musical festival.
That's all for this week!

Mill Rate Left Unchanged But Revenue Up $13,000

Mill rate for 1956 taxes will remain unchanged at 21.7 mills but higher assessment on some properties, coupled with a larger provincial grant, will put an extra $13,000 in municipal coffers for financing this year.

The mill rate is made up of 5.365 for municipal financing, 1.225 for debenture purposes and 15.11 for school purposes.

One mill for general purposes is worth $5,044 — 600 more than a year ago — while for school purposes a mill is worth $5,300.

School costs to the municipality this year amount to $80,077 — up about $16,000 over last year.

A new item appearing in the budget under debenture costs is $3,600 for arena financing.

From taxation for municipal purposes, amount to be raised is $27,000. Per capita grant from the provincial government this year is $56,804, which is up $7,000 over last year.

Not included in the budget is the grant to the jubilee committee which will be $1500. It was decided that this would be paid out of electric light surplus and the jubilee costs in this way would be spread more fairly over the community and everyone would be participating in the cost, rather than just the property owners.

Road maintenance this year will cost $38,000 — an increase of $10,000 over last year. Explaining the reason for continuing a substantial road program, Reeve Atkinson pointed out that there are certain fixed charges in the roads department in salaries and equipment maintenance so that a meager road building program means that a lot of the mixed charges are being wasted.

Library tax has been set this year at $3 and an estimated $3,200 will be raised from this tax.

Trade licenses are expected to bring in $4,300.

Major items of expense this year will be $11,000 for social assistance, $8,275 for municipal administration, $4,500 for parks, $3,000 for assessment, $3,700 for fire protection, $6,200 for police protection and $1,100 for law enforcement.

Bowlers End Season With Trophy Banquet

Over 50 members and guests of the Kingpin Bowling League attended a banquet and dance in the Oddfellow's Hall on Friday evening, May 4, the banquet being under the supervision of the ladies of the Rebecca Lodge.

Following the dinner, election of officers was called for the 1956-57 season in order that the league will be able to commence play early in the fall. Don Clark, elected by acclamation, replaces Jim McNab as president, and Miss Leona McNab was named vice-president. Miss Nan Thornthwaite also elected by acclamation, will take over the duties of secretary from Fumi Inaba, and Miss Carol Christmas was chosen as treasurer as Don Mitchell declined nomination for a further term. Members of the executive are Sheila Behnison, Mrs. Kay Smith, Bill Austin and Chew Tada.

When the elections were completed, President Jim McNab, assisted by Russ Varty, presented the trophies and individual awards. The Merchant's trophy for the winning team was taken by the Occidental and the Bryden cup was presented to the second place Red Sox team. In the teenage division the "Pickup" took possession of the "Solly" cup. All members of the winning teams were presented with miniature cups. In the individual awards Don Clark won the men's high average trophy and men's high three games trophy. Bill Austin received the men's high single trophy, also a special prize of a travelling clock donated by Reg Van Ladies high average and high single were won by Nan Thornthwaite and ladies high three games trophy was presented to Mrs. Kay Smith. With the high single trophy, Nan also received an overnight case donated by Varty & Lussin Hardware.

Five bowlers who had the misfortune to roll a low score game were given consolation awards. They were Leona McNab, Marg Butler, Noella Gibbard, May Rogers and Harry McPhee.

The evening was concluded by dancing to recorded music.

Crop Prospects Looking Better

BY ALEC WATT
District Horticulturist

A warm spell in April and another just now have helped to bring the 1956 season along a bit and prevent it from lagging behind as in 1955. At present the season is an average one as far as advancement is concerned.

Apricots have now finished blossoming and cherries are just dropping their petals. Both these varieties showed considerably more bloom than had been anticipated. However, Moorpark apricots and Bing cherries had a sparse blossom. Many cherry pollinizers such as Deacons were also light on blossom.

Pears are now at the point of full bloom and a heavy bloom is showing up especially on Anjous. In some spots Bartlett's are looking patchy, but most orchards have enough bloom for a crop provided they set well.

McIntosh apples are just now opening from the pink to the full bloom stage. A heavy blossom is coming up on this variety. More bloom is being found on later apples as time goes on. In Delicious and Winesap some orchards have a good blossom where as others have only a few blossoms. Newtons are definitely poor everywhere you go. However, the old Newton trees do not appear to be badly injured in the trunks.

At present they appear very lacking foliage because practically all the spurs have been killed. Closer observation of the trees reveals that small shoots are developing from latent buds. It will take several weeks before these small shoots and leaves grow sufficiently to give the trees a normal appearance.

A great deal of trunk and crotch injury may be found in younger trees. Cherries and Delicious and Newton apples from five to fifteen years old are most severely damaged in the trunks. Peaches, apricots and plums up to six years of age also show considerable trunk injury. Then there is a group of very old trees which just managed to struggle through the 1949-50 winter. Many of these old relics look as if they are going out this year.

Trees which have been heavily injured should have received an application of a nitrogen fertilizer by now and should be properly irrigated throughout the season. With many trees, particularly the stone fruits, this is about all that can be done to aid them in their struggle to repair damaged tissues. Bridge grafting can help on apples and pears if the damage is confined to a relatively small area of the trunk. But on stone fruits the chances of success with bridge grafting are rather small.

Visiting University Singers Popular With Capacity High School Audience

One of the most popular concert groups ever to perform before a Summerland audience which appeared Tuesday night in the High School auditorium under sponsorship of Summerland Rotary Club.

In the performance of this group is a clear indication that the members thoroughly enjoy singing and listeners felt themselves more a part of the chorus rather than as members of an audience.

The program contained four groups of varied selection which gave the chorus ample opportunity to display the versatility of which they are capable. Opening group was a Bach cantata "God's Time is Best" and in another group was included folk songs of Scotland, England, Canada and America.

Familiar to many in the audience were rousing choruses from "Yeomen of the Guard" and final selection was a comic number "Three Jovial Huntsmen."

The variety extended to the several encore numbers which concluded with a Negro spiritual.

Conductor of the chorus is R. S. Eaton.

Members of the choir were billeted with members of Summerland Rotary Club on Tuesday night and left early Wednesday morning for Nelson where they were to perform that night. This is the first time the well-known chorus has performed in the Okanagan Valley.

As the choir rose for an encore number, all the men turned their backs to the audience and a few seconds later when they turned back they presented an awesome spectacle with all adorned with jet black beards.

By O. L. JONES

The Minister of Veterans Affairs announced that the government had finally decided to erect a cenotaph which is to be located in a small park quite close to the parliament buildings.

The memorial will take the form of a structure appropriate for the inclusion of an altar of Remembrance. On the altar will be a book of Remembrance containing all the men and women that were killed during the Second World War. A copy of the original book commemorating the dead of the First World War will also be housed in the same room. This cenotaph will commemorate the fallen of all conflicts that Canada has been engaged in.

Mr. Drew, when the house moved to go into the committee on supply, moved that municipalities should be given tax relief by the federal government. He went on to explain the difficulties that overwhelm our municipalities at the present time.

He first dealt with education and the rising costs surrounding same and then health costs, highway traffic, as well as tax on municipal purchases. He advocated the reopening of a municipal assistance act whereby two per cent money was made available to municipalities for self liquidating projects. He also demanded that the federal government pay taxes on federally owned properties within municipal limits.

His speech followed closely the arguments that I had advanced on the same subject three weeks ago. So when the opportunity came I was very pleased to express my full support to the amendment.

Speakers from the Social Credit party and the CCF joined with the Conservatives in support of the resolution. Many of the speakers outlining the difficulties being faced by municipalities through increased costs and the limited field of taxation now at their disposal. There was a general agreement among the speakers that the cost of education was probably the biggest problem municipalities have to cope with.

Mr. Harris speaking later, said that a discussion is to take place later on in the banking and commerce committee on such questions as the municipal improvement assistance act.

He pointed out that this came into being in 1938 as a bonus to municipalities in order that they might undertake self liquidating projects. At that time the government having in mind the relief of unemployment. He claimed that there was no such need today.

Mr. Harris claimed that he does not know of a single municipality in this country that is unable to borrow money for its municipal purposes. He ended up by saying that unless municipal corporations find it impossible to borrow money there is no point in reviving the municipal improvement act, at least not until another occasion when the government may desire to stimulate employment.

Unfortunately, this does not complete the picture. Mr. Harris did not mention the various municipalities that are delaying extension work because of already too high debt commitments at a much higher rate of interest. Several municipalities have written to me outlining proposed work they would embark upon if two per cent money were available.

Regarding the request of the municipalities for removal of sales tax on their purchase, Mr. Harris indicated that complete exemptions would be undesirable and he mentioned that road machinery or anything purchased, of a thousand dollars in value or more, is now exempt as such items can be clearly defined. Presumably he meant that abuse would creep in if all municipal purchases were granted sales tax exemption.

Mr. Harris's final word was that there will be no amendments to the municipal grants act in this session. Eleven per cent of Canada's municipalities receive taxes for federal buildings situated within their limits. Most members expressed the desire to have the other 89 per cent of the municipalities brought into the same category.

More than one and one-quarter million square miles of Canada's forests are under organized protection against destruction by fire.

Prudent Provision . . . and who gets the benefit?

DOMINION Bureau of Statistics reports butter stocks on hand in nine Canadian cities on April 1 as 22 per cent higher than on the same date last year. On January 1, butter on hand in Canadian warehouses was only 15 per cent more than on corresponding date of preceding year.

Agricultural Minister Gardiner says soaring stocks of butter don't really constitute surplus, but rather are merely a prudent provision against a shortage. In the business community, accumulating inventories are regarded as a warning sign of overproduction. Liquidation of inventories is accomplished by price reductions from which the consumer benefits.

Price-supported commodities like butter, for some strange reason, are regarded differently, at least by Ottawa politicians. Significant, however, is the fact that Agriculture Minister Gardiner, when he seeks to keep his "prudent provision against a shortage" of butter within limits of available warehousing space, does so by reducing the price not for Canadian housewives, but for butter-short communist governments behind the Iron Curtain.

No More Meddling? . . . the change is dangerous

KREMLIN carpet-baggers Bulganin and Khrushchev, busy soft-soaping British Government and public, have been at pains to create the impression that in the future the Kremlin clique will behave like gentlemen and that meddling in the affairs of other countries by the Soviet Union is a thing of the past.

Tragedy is that gullible folk on both sides of the Atlantic may be taken in by the persuasive reasonableness of the Soviet Union's latest sales pitch.

Best antidote to poisonous Soviet soft soap is the warning voiced recently by External Affairs Minister Pearson. Says Mr. Pearson:

Mid-Week Message

O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory (I Corinthians 15:55.) Read I Corinthians 15:51-58.

When I was a lad of 12 years, my mother died. She did not really die. It was not a total extinction when she died a physical death. I heard her say, "I have always prayed God to let me live to see my five boys grown up, but it is His will to take me now, I am ready to go." She seemed to go down to the water's edge and await her release. She asked, "Why is not the silver cord loosed, or the wheel broken at the cistern?"

When one sees a loved one face death in that spirit, the words of our text take on new meaning. They come alive. "O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory?"

For one who lives in accord with God's will, death has no sting; and in his death the grave has no victory. Rather, death provides the only open door that leads into those mansions Jesus has gone to prepare for those who believe in Him as "Saviour and Master."

PRAYER

O Lord, our Father, grant us the desire to help Thee make the world a better place in which to live. Help us to be "steadfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord." Bring us at last to dwell with Thee eternally. For our Redeemer's sake. Amen.

Pioneer Days

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO MAY 13, 1921

With the arrival of the Sicamous on Tuesday evening began the 13th Annual Convention of the WCTU when a large number of delegates disembarked and were received by local officers of the union and introduced to various citizens who had undertaken to look after their material welfare during their two day stay here. Addresses were given by Mrs. R. Annett, district president and Mrs. Lillian Wright provincial president.

The Evans and adjacent properties at Trout Creek Point, heretofore irrigated by the municipal water will be taken over by the Trout Creek Water Community, and all Trout Creek Point will be henceforth under the one local system, according to arrangements concluded at the regular meeting of the Municipal council on Tuesday.

Hon. J. D. McLean has been invited to formally open the new hospital on May 26. Mr. J. W. Jones, MLA, will also be asked to take part in the ceremonies. The Citizen's Band will be in attendance and ladies of the Hospital Auxiliary will receive and serve tea.

The 40 Summerland Boy Scouts have been working hard for two months to put on a good concert in the gym next Thursday evening.

THIRTY YEAR AGO MAY 14, 1926

Final pools of Newtons, Winesaps and Ben Davis have been closed, it is announced by Summerland Co-Operative and cheques to amount of approximately $12,000 are being mailed to local growers.

Summerland district mourns the passing of much beloved pioneer, Jeremiah H. Brown who succumbed to internal injuries sustained in an accident when he was struck in the abdomen by the handle of an axe. He came to Summerland in 1903. Citizens attended his funeral en masse to pay last tribute to his memory.

G. Marshall and G. S. Drewett returned home on Saturday from Wenatchee. They made the return trip in a mere 10 hours.

HOW HAVE THE MIGHTY FALLEN

When I read the reports of Nikita Khrushchev's debunking of his former hero and master, Stalin, the address of Mark Anthony over the body of Caesar came to mind, and it might be transposed thus: "But yesterday the word of Stalin might have stood against the world; now he lies here and none so poor, to do him reverence." If Stalin could have spoken, he might have exclaimed, "Et tu, Khrushchev!"

Of all the derogatory things we have said or thought about the late Soviet dictator while he was alive, none was so sweepingly defamatory as those uttered by his former friend and accomplice over the dead body. It took some courage for Brutus to stab the living Caesar in a public place, but it was easy for Khrushchev to stab and re-stab the dead body of Stalin—to whom he was afraid to say "Boo!" when he was alive.

Nothing in Greek tragedies, or in history, can match that which has befallen the mighty potentates who have strutted their little hour on the world's stage in recent times. The historical facts of the last seventeen years are stranger, more exaggerated than any fiction. And his latest gymnastic performance by the new Communist Party boss was so strange and unexpected as to be incredible at first. Khrushchev performed so many somersaults at so marvelous a speed that he became unrecognizable in the process. We could hardly believe it was the same man. Compared with his feats, the transformation of Dr. Jekyll into Mr. Hyde was child's play.

Could this really be the same brutal Khrushchev who ruled the Ukraine with an iron hand, who aided and abetted Stalin in murders and banishments to Siberian labor camps? Yes, he was the same man, but he was now reformed and transformed like Stalin into an angel of light. No, he was not humble and repentant, nor did he confess himself a sinner. He was the innocent victim of a bloodthirsty tyrant and if he had taken a leading part in the murders and banishments of his own friends he had done so merely to save his own skin.

In the midst of his vilification of Stalin, someone in the audience shouted, "Why didn't you shoot him?" Khrushchev evaded that question.

It has been suggested that perhaps he did shoot him eventually, but I doubt it, for he would have eliminated him from the race to succeed Stalin. He and the other big bosses already knew that Malenkov had been chosen by the chief for that position, and they ganged-up to divide the spoils of office. Beria was next in line of power and they disposed of him at once.

Then came the scramble for the dictatorship, as was predicted by Winston Churchill seven years ago. The aspirants could not agree on priority. One pointed out that they could not all be dictators, whereat Nikita Khrushchev exclaimed; "Why not? Let's all be dictators, collectively, and I'll be the interlocutor." — And it was so. Like the little cook-sparrow that sat on a tree in the nursery rhyme, Malenkov said to himself: "I'll be shot if I stay, so he flapped his wings and he flew away."

That is the inside story as received from a reliable source, and if you should insist upon my revealing the source, I would refer you to the scripture: "Curse not the king, no, not in thy bed-chamber; for a bird of the air shall carry the voice, and that which hath wings shall toll the matter."

The Lighter Side

Policeman: "How did the accident happen?"
Motorist: "My wife fell asleep in the back seat."
Customer: "Could I try on that suit in the window?"
Salesman: "We'd rather you'd use the dressing room."

Credit Union Philosophy

"MAN IS HIS BROTHER'S KEEPER"
— We believe that. We don't talk about it, we do it.

We believe in democracy. We don't talk about institutions of, for and by the people. We MAKE institutions that are literally, of, for and by the people.

We believe in the integrity of the human race. We know that if the average man wasn't honest, there could be no credit unions. And therefore, it seems to us that we are enlisted in a cause that is very great, that has the possibility of international spread which will some day engulf the whole world and which will carry forward, consistent with the purpose of God, the great ideal of human progress.

Of Course, You
Can't Do For Your Mother As Much As You Like,
But . . .

WHAT A GRAND OPPORTUNITY,

Mother's Day is to do something BIG for that grandest of persons, And what better way is there to show mother how much you appreciate all that she has done for you, than by giving her a gift of lasting service and pleasure.

Coast Towns in the Front Lines

It is of interest that many of the coast towns of the United Kingdom had (almost continuously) been in the front line from the commencement of hostilities.

In many towns the business of the community was still carried on, this, in spite of the handicaps, the difficulties and it may be added the dangers, that had as it were, become almost a daily part of the life of the population.

In all the large offices and the big industrial plants there now existed teams of roof spotters. These men trained in the art of aircraft recognition were drawn from the staff and from the works and equipped with binoculars.

Relieving each other at regular periods of two hours each on the roofs of the buildings they would again resume their normal work after their spell of duty was completed. Their main purpose was to constantly scan the skies for the approach of hostile aircraft and to give warning to those working below.

With air raid shelters in or adjacent to most buildings personnel were thus able to take to the shelters until the danger had passed. Many many valuable lives were saved by this precaution and the enemies chief objective of hampering the war effort was in the main defeated.

Sneak raiders and sometimes larger formations of aircraft would often fly in over the coast line and frequently before the alarm by cuckoo signal had sounded. Residential property also, was safeguarded by the regular patrol of fire watches and wardens on the roads and in the streets.

However, there were towns where the main industry, if it can be so termed, was almost entirely devoted to the catering and the entertainment of the holiday crowds that thronged the pavements and the promenades during the summer months.

Great Yarmouth was such a town. With a peacetime population of around 41,000 and situated on the East coast, it had almost completely been evacuated during 1941 and 1942.

The writer has many memories of happy holidays spent there with the children, who delighted to bathe and romp on its golden sands. What a contrast in the first two years of war.

It was, it is true, an important training centre for the Royal Air Force, but, apart from that, one could almost describe it as a city of the dead. Walking down the main street, one could hear the echo of ones own footsteps.

With all the shops boarded up, hotels used as sleeping quarters and for messing, it was indeed, a most dismal and depressing place. The front and the promenade were completely covered with barbed wire entanglements, with grass growing thickly on the mined beaches. In the sea walls were set floodlights ready for instant action.

Hardly a house was standing in the harbor area, but, strangely enough, there was little damage to property along the front itself.

It may be added, that this was a protected area and to gain entry into it, one had to carry a permit.

Thus does a town, village, or community lose its identity and character.

Yet, in spite of the death and destruction, people had not forgotten the tonic of laughter. Good natured laughter, against themselves and their neighbors.

For example, the warden, who at three o'clock in the morning awoke and thought he had heard the Cuckoo signal. Rushing to one house in his sector, where a mother and seven children were liv-

Scout Activities

Tuesday's Scout meeting showed 30 boys present with patrol scores to date of 215 for Beavers, 188 for Hawks, 182 Buffaloes and 154 for Eagles. Next week special points will be awarded for pay-off dues.

For the first half of the meeting the troop played "Capture the Flag" on the slope of Giant's Head and the second half of the program was devoted to a brush-up of second class lashings. Recruits Lackey and Leinor passed part of their Tenderfoot.

A full turn out for next meeting will be necessary to prepare for the camporette and International Camporee. A demonstration will be given on lashing packs on pack-boards.

ing alone, he helped her to half dress the children and got them safely to the garden shelter. Judge of his dismay, when he found that no signal had been given and had to go back and advise the mother, who promptly put the children back to bed. No sooner were they fast asleep, when the danger signal really went and the same performance repeated, accompanied by the acid comments of the mother. Naturally, this amusing adventure aroused much laughter and leg-pulling at the post and a wag remarked, "George will get a medal awarded for this, it is certain." "Yes," replied George, "and I know the kind of ribbon it will be. A piece of red tape with browned edges!"

Sparrows Causing Orchard Damage

White Crowned Sparrows have again returned in flocks to the Summerland area. They have been reported nibbling from apricot and peach trees. At least one vegetable garden has been raided by these birds.

Last year the same species descended on peach and prune orchards causing considerable drop loss in some areas.

Trees For Robin Hood

Large tracts of land in Sherwood Forest, the legendary home of Robin Hood and his men, are to be reforested with trees from Canada.

The decision to use North American trees stemmed from the fact that the atmosphere in the heavy industrial area surrounding the forest has proved too foul for the native oaks.

The first trees from North America to be transplanted in Britain were hedges from the Eastern States, and were taken to their new home in 1595.

FOREST UTILIZATION

As a result of increased improvements in forest utilization, especially development of new products, such as hardboard and bark products and wood chemistry, the forest industry is now getting roughly 25 per cent more useful products per acre of forest land than it was ten year ago.

Teen Town News

BY RUBY GRONLUND
The big news around Teen Town this week is the "Track Hop" in the IOOF Hall Saturday night after the AOTS track meet. Let's make this a success by everyone coming out. Let's see some younger teenagers out too. The dance is from 8:00 to 12:00 midnight.
The new council had their first meeting Monday night to elect new officers. Under the direction of our new mayor, Harold Biollo. The officers are: Ruby Gronlund, deputy mayor; Donna Eden, secretary; Tom Jomori, treasurer; The head of committees are: Darlene Bonthoux, publicity chairman; Marny Bleasdale, decorating; Bruce and Larry Lemke, refreshments; Carton Sheeley, musical chairman; Don Campbell, master of ceremonies. Our chief of police are Larry Lemke and Ken Bissett. Ruby Gronlund was chosen to write for the paper every week. If anyone would like to help on one of these committees please contact the head of the committee and I'm sure their services would be appreciated.

Tom Jomori reported on the Teen Town provincial conference in Port Alberni. We got some new ideas for dances and hope to try some of them in the near future. We were also informed Summerland Teen Town came third in the bowling tournament and Ruby Gronlund bowled high three all over the province.

If any member of Teen Town would like to come to council you are welcome. We would like you to come and give us your ideas so we could have better dances.

WORKING WITH CANADIANS IN EVERY WALK OF LIFE SINCE 1817

Summerland's Slow Start Sunday Gives Oliver Edge for 7-3 Win

In a regular OMBL league game played in Oliver on Sunday the roof fell in on the Mac's in the first four innings. They never did get back in the ball game. Lefty Gould started on the mound for the Macs but before he was relieved by Cristante at the start of the fifth, he had allowed 10 hits and was charged with all of Oliver's seven runs. Cristante held the hard hitting OBC's to two hits for the remaining five innings. Final score was 7-3.

Radies pitched steady ball for the winners and although the Macs collected 10 hits they were well scattered. There were two fielding high lights; one for each team.

In the third Eisenhut ran a mile in deep centre field and made a jumping back handed catch of Bob Weitzel's smash that would have gone for at least three bases. Weitzel made a sensational catch of a foul ball to end the fifth inning.

Oliver scored three runs in the first inning on four base hits and some sloppy fielding. They got two more in the third on four more hits and ended their scoring in the fourth when Weeks hit a two run homer over the right field fence.

Summerland got one run in the third on a hit, an error and a couple of fly balls. They couldn't do a thing from then until the ninth when Bob Weitzel was safe on an error scored on Geordie Taylor's double and then Hayes hit a long triple to score Taylor. That was the ball game as Anderson grounded out.

Jomori and Hayes were the big guns for the Mac's, each getting three for five.

Doug Weeks who played for the Mac's two years ago and hit less than .100 for the season got three for four including his big home run.

Preparing Gala Floats For Big Jubilee Parade

A monster float parade which will overshadow any ever staged previously in this district will touch off the big celebration on Jubilee Day June 6 and the jubilee committee is now finalizing plans for the various events which will contribute to making the four-day celebration a memorable one.

The jubilee committee this week had a new chairman with H. J. Barkwill taking over the job of heading up the big celebration. Former chairman H. R. J. Richards left last week-end on an extended vacation trip.

Arrangements for the float parade are under direction of Summerland Kiwanis Club and committee is headed by J. Y. Towgood. Reporting yesterday to the steering committee, Mr. Towgood said 18 floats have already been entered for the parade and additional entries are expected.

The Duke of Connaught band from New Westminster will be here to take part in the parade along with the Summerland band and the High School Band. The Royal City band will be heard in several performances during their stay here.

Comic relief will be added to the float parade by several floats in a humorous theme and among outside entries will be ones representing Penticton and Kelowna. Street decorating committee under Bob Barkwill has been busy preparing decorative material to give the business section a gala appearance and work of erecting the decorations will start very soon.

Theme of the pageant set for Jubilee Day afternoon is the history of Summerland leading up to the incorporation of the district in 1906.

Speaker to Tell of UN Relief Work

AOTS has as guest speaker for its May meeting, N. Kerr of Kelowna. Mr. Kerr, who is teaching at Rutland, has had considerable experience with the United Nations. His topic is one of great interest at the present time, "The Relief Work of the United Nations".

Mr. Kerr has been in great demand as a guest speaker in the Okanagan, on this and other topics.

Since the topic is of such widespread interest, the meeting of May 24 will be opened to the public to hear Mr. Kerr's address. The regular dinner meeting for AOTS members will start at 6:30 p.m., and any time after 7:30 the public will be welcomed to hear Mr. Kerr at 8 o'clock.

School Band Concert Planned for May 31

Last minute arrangements are being made for the 4th annual spring band concert of the High School Band. This is the wind up of a very busy and successful year for the local group and an interesting evening is anticipated. The concert this year will be held in the High School Auditorium on Thursday, May 31 and Friday, June 1. Tickets will go on sale soon and will be sold as in former years by the high school students.

The evening will consist of many of the numbers which the group played at New Westminster and the Provincial Band Concert in Victoria. As usual a varied and entertaining selection of music has been planned and a special surprise is being worked out that should prove most entertaining.

SON BORN

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth MacDonald are the parents of a son born in the Summerland General Hospital, May 15.

Reject Breakwater On Policy Grounds

A letter from O. L. Jones, MP, reporting on a meeting with the ministry of transport advised members of Summerland Board of Trade last Thursday night there is no possibility of breakwater construction by the federal government.

The Board of Trade has requested construction of a breakwater for the protection of the many small boats in the district but the proposal has been rejected on the grounds that it is contrary to government policy to construct breakwaters where the use will be solely for pleasure craft. In other areas where there are breakwaters for pleasure boats, these were built before the present policy was set out.

The board members were also informed that the problem of incoming mail to the district being delayed has been studied by district post authorities who are now investigating to see if space is available on Greyhound buses to transport it from Penticton to Summerland and a full report on the condition will be made in Ottawa.

Seven Local Students Among UBC Grads

Seven students were among those who received degrees and diplomas in the annual congregational ceremonies at UBC on Monday and Tuesday. Summerland members of the graduation class were Donald John Blacklock, Chiyeko Jean Iwayoshi and Robert Roger Smith who received bachelor of arts degrees; John Huva who received degree of bachelor of applied science in mechanical engineering; Jane MacCarron Woolliams who received the degree of bachelor of home economics and Donald Edward Allison and Ian B. McCuaig were awarded teacher training diplomas.

A former resident, John Palmer, son of the late Dr. R. C. Palmer and Mrs. Palmer, was the only graduate in agricultural engineering.

Among those from Summerland attending the exercises were Mrs. Nora Blacklock, Mr. and Mrs. J. Imayoshi, Mr. and Mrs. W. Huva, Mr. and Mrs. J. Smith and Jane and Allan, Mr and Mrs. G. Ewart Woolliams with Neil, David and John, and Mrs. T. J. Garnett.

Summerland Entries Take 3 Cups In 30th Okanagan Music Festival

At the recent 30th Okanagan Musical Festival, which took place in Vernon this year, Summerland entrants made a very good showing, winning high praise from the three adjudicators and bringing home three cups and another first, as well as several seconds and thirds. Practically all entrants were well above average in their final marks.

First trophy of the festival was won by Victor Uogama for his brass instrument solo under 15. The second cup to come home to Summerland was won by Ronald Downs in the violin class under 15, while the third cup was captured by Sharon Hansen for her woodwind solo under 15. In her class Barbara Baker placed third.

In the piano classes, Carol James was the first place winner in the difficult class of sight reading, while Lynne Boothe tied for second in the piano solo group under 14. Barbara Baker and Johann Bergstrom won a third place in the advanced piano duet group under 18.

Cheryl Ann McCargar captured the highest award for Summerland in the dancing classes when she was a finalist in the Scottish dancing under 10, coming second in the repeat evening performance. Three second places were also won by Lynne Boothe in classical dancing under 15; Court Dancing, by Elaine Dundon and Dianne Haggman, and by the Mary Pratten School of Dancing Rhythm Group consisting of Carol Hackmann, Louise Shannon, Judy Mitchell, Anne Macleod, Barbara Fudge and Lynne Boothe. Third place in the dancing duet class under 15 was taken by Barbara Fudge and Carol Hackmann. There was only one entrant from Summerland in the vocalist classes, Lynne Boothe, who received a certificate for her good work. Other certificates were granted to: Piano, Johan Bergstrom, Carol and Marjorie James and Lynne Boothe.

Dancing - Penny Flora, Cheryl Ann McCargar, Audrey Boggs, Dianne Haggman, Darlene Shannon, Elaine Dundon, Anne Macleod, Carol Hackmann, Hallie Smith, Barbara Fudge and Lynne Boothe. Lynne also won a certificate for her choreography.

Of interest to Summerland was the high praise given to a mixed quartet, consisting of Flora Bergstrom, Summerland and Pat McNulty, David and Jack Stocks of Penticton. They won first place in their group and were commended for their extremely good ensemble singing. These four people are well known members of the Summerland Singers and Players' Club.

And on Top of That The Weather's Better!

Comparison of mill rates in this end of the valley scores a very definite point in favor of living in Summerland.

Summerland ..... 21.7 mills
Penticton ..... 49 mills

Inland Riflemen Here for Shoot

For the second successive year the Summerland Rifle Club is sponsoring the annual shoot of the B.C. Inland Rifle Association at the Garnett Valley Range on May 20 and 21. It is the 10th annual shoot held by the association and shooters from interior and coast clubs will be matching their skill for the many trophies and cash prizes.

Competitions are divided into senior, tyro and junior classes, so the less experienced shooters will not have to compete against veteran marksmen.

Opening at 9 o'clock on both days, matches are shot at 200, 500 and 600 yards for individual awards, with team competitions running concurrently with these matches. Special prizes are given for competitors of 60 years and over, and there are trophies for the combined scores of a junior and senior shooter, and for a parent and offspring with the highest combined score.

There was no practice at the range on Sunday, as work parties were busy repairing targets, and making sure that everything will be in order to get the big event away to a good start. A concession stand will be in operation at the range, and the local club members want spectators to feel welcome to attend the competitions at any time.

Receives Commission For Second Time

W. B. (Bill) Borton, of West Summerland, B.C., has the distinction of being not only a commissioned officer, but a re-commissioned officer in the RCAF. A ground controlled approach operator at the RCAF's No. 4 Fighter Wing Baden-Soellingen, Germany, the former Warrant Officer was one of the several air men serving within Canada's NATO Air Division in Europe to be promoted to the rank of Flying Officer in the Flying Control branch.

After enlisting in the RCAF in 1939 as a metal worker, Bill later remustered to aircrew, gaining his pilot's wings, and his first commission - in 1943. Later he flew with No. 215 RAF Squadron in Burma, Siam and Indo-China for two years. Then he returned to England and served with 435 Squadron until repatriation to Canada at war's end.

On the mass Reversion Day in 1946 which whittled the RCAF down to peace time establishment, FO Borton resigned his commission and was given the rank of flight sergeant.

Until his arrival overseas he was warrant officer in charge of repair and workshops at RCAF Station Gimli, Man.

With FO Borton in Germany are his wife, Edith, of Kelowna, B.C., and their children. He will return to Canada early next month for a "refresher" officers' training course.

His bible-teaching ministry is greatly enriched by his extensive travel in Africa, the West Indies, Canada and the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Bickie of Ontario are 1955 graduates of the institute and are now on the music staff. Mr. Bickie is baritone soloist and Mrs. Bickie is the able accompanist of the group.

The public is cordially invited to attend this challenging program, for which there is no charge.

Board Considers Tourist Feature

Possibility of exploiting Giant's Head as a tourist attraction was discussed at Board of Trade meeting last Thursday night and a committee will explore various suggestions made to the meeting and present a proposal for developing interest in the feature.

Last week's meeting was "suggestion night" and many of the proposals for developing the community centered around Giant's Head.

Development of a road to the top of Giant's Head to make available to tourist the incomparable view from that point was one proposal discussed and the possibility of provincial assistance from the department of highways and the tourist department will be explored. Another suggestion was for the placement of signs to indicate the point from which the best view of the natural giant's profile can be viewed.

Another suggestion which a board committee will study was the idea of having the Log Cabin moved to an accessible point and restored for use as a tourist information centre or some similar purpose.

Summerland to Host Witnesses Convention

Summerland will be the host of 600 delegates to the circuit assembly of Jehovah's witnesses on June 22, 23 and 24. Delegates will come from Kelowna to Osoyoos and Similkameen valley.

J. R. Prior, presiding minister here, said that the High School auditorium will be the scene of all the sessions. Interested persons are welcome; there will be no collection.

Mr. Prior said accommodations will be obtained by a special committee at hotels, auto courts and by personal visits to the homes of Summerland residents, arranging for moderately priced sleeping facilities.

A. F. Danlev from Toronto will be the principal speaker on all three days of the assembly. C. H. Warden, Toronto, a recent visitor to Summerland, will also appear on the program.

As beard growing enters the final three weeks of the mad race, a pair of high school band members are prepared to cast a vote for their bandmaster, John Tamblin, as leading entry. Checking the downy texture of their musical director's whiskers are Grace Johnson and Emilie Bonthoux.

Lewiston High School Band Popular In Concert Staged Here Last Night

A capacity crowd heartily applauded the High School Band from Lewiston, Idaho under the direction of J. Ross Woods in the High School Auditorium Wednesday evening.

The 73 member group presented a varied and entertaining program which included all types of music from Suppe's "Poet and Peasant" Overture to "The Rock and Roll Waltz." The evening's entertainment was varied by a number of selections by various ensembles including even an act from two band members who presented a fast moving magician's act. Included in these groups were a trombone quartet, a saxophone quartet and a demonstration on drum rudiments and street beats by the very fine percussion section. Also well received was a trumpet solo with band accompaniment by John Alley who played Leroy Anderson's Trumpeter's Lullaby.

The group showed very fine discipline and musicianship throughout and served as an inspiration to the band members of the local high school as well as giving a fine evening of entertainment.

The group was met at Trout Creek around 5:30 p.m. and was quickly dispersed to billets for supper and a change to their colorful mauve and grey uniforms which they wore in the evening concert. Following the evening entertainment at the school the visitors and their billets were entertained at the Trout Creek home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Marshall.

At 9 o'clock Thursday morning the band gathered at the high

By O. L. JONES

The pipeline controversy developed into an angry debate this week with the opposition charging the government with hiding from the public proposals made by Mr. McMahon for the building of the Trans Canada pipeline.

Mr. Howe defended his position on the grounds that all communication between Mr. McMahon and himself were private and confidential.

The opposition claim that communications regarding the control of our natural resources should not be confidential but should be discussed in the house. After a lengthy exchange of bitter questions and answers, Mr. Howe finally decided to table the documents under discussion.

We do not seem to be any nearer to the building of the pipeline at the present time than we were five years ago, when Trans-Canada Pipe Line Company appearing before a special committee of the house, declared that they were in a position to start building right away.

The evidence given to the committee five years ago indicated that the company intended to build an all Canadian pipeline and that they had a market for the product that was economically feasible. We were then told that a New York banking firm were waiting anxiously for the company to get the franchise in order to raise $250 million for the project.

There was no question of any federal assistance or any delay. But today, there is a serious doubt if this company can carry on the proposal.

Rumors have it that they are still negotiating with the government for substantial financial assistance to enable them to carry out their original project. Apparently the cabinet is split on this. Again this only conjectures that government policy is to keep members of parliament entirely in the dark which to my mind is not a healthy situation.

Canada had a large trading deficit during the first months of this year. Not only had our sales abroad been reduced but our purchases had increased tremendously. The government claims that there is something wrong with the figures but apparently that is the situation as outlined by the dominion bureau of statistics.

The question of increasing our trade with the United Kingdom has received a great deal of publicity and there is a feeling that we should buy more from Britain and reduce our purchases from the United States.

The construction of the radar (DEW) line has resulted in a number of planes being completely wrecked and a report has been issued by the Canadian Association of Pilots commenting on the loss of life incurred by airplanes that were not worthy.

The members from time to time had also criticized the obsolete plans that have been used on this very hazardous project. Flying heavy loads over pretty rough terrain.

Mr. Coldwell asked the minister of transport if he was investigating the serious charges contained in that report. The minister of transport replied he was investigating the charges made as to their accuracy and would report to the house at a later date.

Another question remaining unanswered sought to find out if the government intended to raise its grant to universities, which have been forced to raise their fees in some cases as high as 11 per cent. Only five universities so far have been forced to raise the fees but it is expected that all others would have to follow suit owing to lack of funds.

The minister of finance did not disclose the intentions of the government. This increase will work a severe handicap on many students who will have to find employment to help carry the economic burden of attending the university.

Last year, the federal government paid an amount of $1,857,320.76 as freight assistance on western feed grain shipped to British Columbia.

Mr. Drew on one occasion took strong exception to the house conducting its affairs without a single cabinet minister being present particularly the minister of agriculture whose department was being under discussion.

Public Ownership . . . it sounds just like socialism

ONE definition of socialism would be the "operation of commercial enterprises by governments." This definition makes it evident that Canada is to a considerable extent a socialist country. The federal government and all of the provinces are operating businesses. Some of these businesses are fairly efficient, but nevertheless they are socialistic enterprises.

In Colonel Drew's vehement condemnation of Mr. Howe's pipeline plans, he devoted a number of paragraphs to an attempt to demonstrate that there is a difference between "public ownership" and socialism. What he had in mind was the Ontario Hydro, a creature of Conservatives of 50 years ago. The distinction between public ownership and socialism is about as striking as the difference between an Anglican Church and a Church of England.

Public Ownership, or socialism, probably never need be embarked on by any government for purely economic reasons. Any of the commercial enterprises operated by governments probably could be operated more efficiently by competitive private enterprise.

It is not known whether the Ontario Hydro-Electric system is a sound business enterprise or not. This is because the hydro has arrogated unto itself many privileges that would never be allowed to a private company. Not many people know, for instance, that in Ontario a householder's electric bill is a charge on the property ranking ahead of a first mortgage or even municipal taxes. The Ontario Hydro, one of the largest institutions of its kind in the world, pays no federal or provincial taxes and mighty little to municipalities. It is known that one of the impelling reasons for the expropriation of the Montreal electric system ten years ago was the fact that the private company was paying nine or ten million dollars a year in federal corporation tax, a penalty in marked contrast to the situation in Ontario.

Mr. Drew's speech, good as it was in relation to the condemnation of the socialistic aspects of Mr. Howe's pipeline policy, would have been improved by the omission of defence of Sir Adam Beck's ancient policy.

The official opposition in the past, under Mr. Drew, has had a tendency to ride too many horses in too many directions. This suggests that someone has not been doing sufficient homework and that Mr. Drew's own opinions have not been held strongly enough to determine the course his party

Mid-Week Message

The works that I do in my Father's name, they bear witness of me. (John 10:25) Read John 10: 22-25.

One day I asked an educated, non-Christian gentleman, "Why do you want to become a Christian?" He replied: "Because of what Jesus Christ and His disciples are doing in my country." This young man had not been a student in a mission school, or a patient in a mission hospital, or one who had received any sort of relief from a Christian agency. He had never been inside a church.

This young man had seen Christian schools, hospitals, and relief agencies at work. To his heart and mind they bore convincing witness to Christ. The young man concluded: "I will follow Him who serves my country's need for I can trust Him to serve my spiritual need."

A few days later another young man, a college graduate, stood before a small congregation to be baptized. "Have you accepted Christ?" I asked. "It's better than that," he replied. "Christ has accepted me. He has come into my heart and changed me completely. I know Him as my Lord."

PRAYER

O Lord, we thank Thee for Thy works that bear witness of Thee — the works recorded in the New Testament and the works being done in our day in all parts of the world. Let Thy works done in us today bear witness for the glory of Thy name and the good of Thy people. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

Letters to the Editor

Giant's Head Road
Summerland, B.C.

Dear Mr. Editor:

Upon returning to Summerland, after six months absence, I find myself surrounded by boards, as well as fruit trees.

Everything from "Wild Man of the Woods", to "Goatees", even a few "Dot and carry one". I offer my congratulations. I know, of course that Summerland produced magnificent grunes, but never had I realized so much latent manhood existed here!

To the bare chins, my sympathy, I guess it's a full time job "growing it on top".

One thing for sure — the "gals" can't beat you at this game!

Admittingly yours

should take.

Some members of the official opposition have been all-too-perfect gentlemen. Mr. J. M. Macdonnell, in his official capacity as financial critic, probably is the worst offender in this regard and his criticism of Mr. Harris's latest budget was less virile and certainly could have caused Mr. Harris no pain. Sir Winston Churchill, if he could have been persuaded to read the speech, might have commented that it was a collection of cliches in sheep's clothing. Mr. Macdonnell would be a better parliamentarian if, in his younger years, he had had some acquaintance with barroom brawls. The function of the opposition is to oppose. Mr. Macdonnell's criticisms of the government's financial policies have been largely essays in politeness and the latest speech was not even a good essay. Or, as he would say himself, this is perhaps too unkind to say. Maybe.

BUY CANADIAN

When I wrote a column some while ago saying that from now on I intended to buy everything in my own town, of Canadian manufacture, I did not expect much reaction. So many have paid lip service to that same idea—but weakened the minute a bargain was offered. Now, however, I am convinced that most Canadians are dead serious about it, because I got six times as much reaction from that column as I expected.

One reader, to prove that it is not just a bunch of manufacturers who are back of this drive to buy at home sent me a copy of the Canadian Labor Press. It said in part, "From the time of our first publication in 1918 the Canadian Labor Press has consistently advocated the purchase of Canadian made goods, are being in the best interests of our working force. Time and the current plight of many of our industries have not changed this policy. As never before many of our industries are faced with the kind of competition that is virtually impossible to combat."

It was pleasing to know that workers were concerned about this problem. Sometimes, of late, unions have seemed to be stubbornly against anything that the boss favored.

It would be even more pleasing if labor would go all out to work hard, produce more units per hour, and thus cut costs. In some industries they are doing that. True, they still can't match the cheap labor of some countries, but they do diminish the spread in price to some degree. Those of us determined to buy Canadian appreciate it.

The Canadian Labor Press urges that same principle. Every Canadian worker can do his part to ensure that his company's products are placed on the most competitive footing possible. This involves a sincere effort to keep productivity and quality high and a reasonable attitude in wage demands.

That sort of attitude deserves three cheers. If union leaders will follow through on it, labor may win back some of the friends it lost through pushing its power too far!

The Doodle-Bug

The British Public had for some little while been aware that plans or yet other means of attack were being prepared by the enemy.

The traitor, Joyce, or "Lord Haw Haw" as he was more widely known by reason of his accent, and, in his frequent broadcasts spoken of still more secret weapons to be used. Incidentally and as a matter of interest, it may be mentioned that Lord Haw Haw had by now, become quite a humorous turn on the radio, building fair to rival Thomas Handley of ITMA fame.

With the Royal Air Force by night and the United States Airforce by day, carrying the war far into the enemies territory, there was every indication that the balloon was well and truly up.

It was a heart lifting sight to watch as the hundreds of American aircraft converged, wheeled and banked high in the sky above. Much like a shepherd dog guarding and guiding a flock, the master bomber painted a vivid yellow led the new arrivals of squadrons and wings from the various bases into their positions and battle formations. Then, perhaps after an hour with the sunlight glinting on their wings, they were off, heading for the coast ahead.

Many of these aircraft did wonderful work in destroying the ramps from which the flying bombs were launched. In addition fighter airplanes and anti-aircraft batteries took heavy toll from the Doodle-Bugs also. Yet it was inevitable that many of them got through, wreaking death and destruction over a wide area.

Unlike the raiders by night, who dropped their flares and incendiaries ringing their targets, the Doodle Bug gave no such warning. A terrific noise in the sky, and with flames bulching out from the rear, the flying bombs certainly were far from being a thing of beauty.

One could not even guess, where and when they would descend, the only notice and very short notice at that, was when the motor cut out. At that time it was a case of discretion being the better part of valour. Many of the bombs dropped in fields and meadows, others on buildings and even on school premises.

It was later made known, that during the first three weeks of this new form of attack, 2,754 bombs had been launched, resulting in the death of 2,752 persons and 8,000 detained in hospitals.

All during this period, civil defence continued to render yeoman service to the people in the areas thus attacked. Every avenue was explored to still further the efficiency of what had now become the fourth arm of the services.

Civil defence personnel employed in the big industrial works and offices were invited and encouraged by the managements to instruct and lecture their fellow workers. Classes were organized and rosters set up. All this and many other schemes, to help the people to help themselves.

Yes, the civil defence had certainly justified itself over the course of the years. There were errors made of course, but then the organization, like the individual, that never makes a mistake never makes anything. Something had been built during the years of trial the right word could most probably be — tradition.

Institute Hears Informative Talk On System of Handling New Citizens

An informative address on "Immigration and Citizenship" by E. W. Facey, immigration officer from Peniticon, proved highly interesting to the members of the Summerland Women's Institute at their regular meeting Friday afternoon. Mr. Facey explained the procedure of bringing over relatives and those without relatives who are in the "Open Placement" category and how the officers help all to find homes, jobs, and businesses. The speaker urged all institute members to welcome and take an interest in these new Canadians, especially the women who remain in the home and do not have the same opportunity of getting acquainted with our ways and customs as the men who go to work and the children who attend school. Under "Citizenship" Mr. Facey reminded members of the many rights and privileges that we as Canadians enjoy in contrast to many other countries. Many questions were answered by Mr. Facey following his talk.

The business meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. E. M. Tait and discussion and voting on resolutions followed. These will come up at the provincial convention in Vancouver on May 29-30-31.

The report of the district rally held at Okanagan Falls May 8 was read by Mrs. Alex Inch in the absence of Mrs. L. W. Rumball, delegate. Sixteen members from Summerland attended and an interesting day was reported. Mrs. Gordon Ritchie was elected president of the board. Next year the rally will be held in Oyama.

Health and welfare convener,

Mrs. E. Hookham reported attending the annual meeting of the N.E.B. Mrs. Tait was elected second vice-president of the local board.

It was decided to postpone the June meeting one week to June 15 because of the jubilee celebration and graduation. Meeting adjourned and tea hour followed.

Mrs. Tait then introduced Miss Dorothy Britton who presented a "measure display" from the CAC in Ottawa. Many types of measuring cups, spoons and scoops were shown and forms were filled out giving information and preference of types and sizes. All appreciated Miss Britton's efforts and interest in obtaining the display.

TEEN TOWN NOTES

The "Track Hop" turned out to be a "swell dance". Teenagers from all over the valley attended the dance after the track meet. The main attraction of the night was the council members wearing "host" and "hostess" ribbons. This idea turned out fine as it got everyone dancing. The music was recorded and refreshments were sold. We would like to thank Mr. and Mrs. H. Lemke and Mr. and Mrs. W. Bleasdale for chaperoning the dance.

Council was held at Darlene's Monday night and the "Teen Queen Swing" is being planned for May 26 in the IOOF Hall. Miss Teen Town, 1956-57 will be chosen by secret ballot for the Teen Town entry in the jubilee. Let's see everyone out and vote for your choice. I'll let you know next week who the candidates are. We'll see you all next week!

The regular monthly meeting of the St. Stephen's WA evening branch was held in the Parish hall Monday evening. Mrs. W. C. Baker, president, was in the chair. Report on a successful rummage sale and tea was given by Mrs. Reg. Kersey, convener.

Among activities for the coming month will be serving tea at the "Friendly Centre" during jubilee on Tuesday, June 5. Mrs. Birtles and Mrs. Beaven are co-conveners. Mrs. Baker will be the delegate to the diocesan annual meeting to be held in Kelowna May 30-31. Members of the evening branch will assist the afternoon branch of the WA with the Tea and Fashion show on May 19.

A sum of money was voted for the Anglican Theology College at UBC.

BROWNIE CHATTER

Calling Brownies of the 1st and 2nd Summerland Brownie Packs. 'Tis time once again for Brownie chatter about our Packs, their activities past and forthcoming. Topmost of the thoughts of Brownie things in our mind at present is the forthcoming Flying Up ceremony which takes place at the Youth Centre on Wednesday, May 23 at 7 p.m. We shall be losing Anthea Morgan, Sharon Geres, Darlene Campbell, Darlene Shannon, Carole Williams, Norma Hankins and Gracie Shigeyoshi from our Packs but we know the Guide Company will be gaining seven good recruits, and we wish you well girls. You were a pleasure to have in our Packs.

Tweenies who will be joining our midst in the autumn will also take part in the ceremony and we are looking forward to meeting them at our next meeting on the 22nd so they can rehearse their parts in the Flying Up of our Brownies.

Brownies of both Packs have been most fortunate in being instructed in the rules of road safety, care of bicycles and general road safety from Constable Proke who spoke to us on these things in preparation for the Cyclist Badge. It was fun having Corporal Piers as our tester too and we feel we have 14 good little careful cyclists on Summerland's roads as result of the combined efforts of these two RCMP officers. We do appreciate their interest and patience with the small folk of Summerland's Brownies.

Do not forget Brownies that both packs will meet together next Tuesday after school so until 3:30 on that day Brownies, lend a hand, especially to mother.

—Your Brown Owls

Kamloops Wedding Of Local Interest

A wedding of interest to many Summerland friends of the groom was solemnized in Kamloops United Church on Saturday, May 12, when Rosemarie Whatley of Kamloops became the bride of Andrew William Johanson. Bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Whatley of Kamloops and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Johanson of Summerland. Rev. Anderson officiated.

The bride wore a beige suit with white accessories and carried a bouquet of roses.

Following a wedding reception, the couple left for Summerland where they visited for a few days with the groom's parents before travelling on to Hope where they will make their home.

The groom is on the staff of the department of highways.

Difference Between A Shrew and a Mouse

Shrews can be readily distinguished from mice by their small size, elongated snouts, small ears and eyes more or less covered by fur, and a pelage that is softer and more closely knit. Their dental characteristics, too, are different. Most shrews are endowed with 32 highly specialized teeth designed for crushing. Mice on the other hand, have 16 teeth with characters typical of all rodents. Shrews are insectivorous in their food habits, although the larger kinds will, on occasion, kill and devour mice. Mice subsist entirely upon vegetation.

Bolstered Pitching Staff Aids Macs Take 8-4 Win Over Kelowna Sunday

The Summerland Macs came from behind a two run first inning deficit to beat the Kelowna Orioles in a good game before a fair crowd Sunday afternoon at Living Memorial Park in Summerland. Don Cristante pitched steady ball until relieved by Morley Flichel in the eighth. Flichel is up from Vancouver Junior Murphy's, who have played the local Juniors the last couple of year. He is small but has a nice curve and plenty of speed. Morley is just back from Florida where he had a try at organized ball.

Kelowna opened the game with a bang, getting two runs in their half of the first. The Macs came back in the last of the first with two runs of their own. Jomori and Weitzel singled and came home on a couple of errors and a sacrifice fly by Hooker. The Macs went ahead in the second. Egely got a long triple and scored on an infield out. They got two more in the sixth on Egely's single, Cristante's triple and a single to Jomori. Kelowna got their last two runs in the seventh with a hit and a couple of errors. Summerland ended the scoring in the seventh with three large runs. A single to Taylor and a double by Parker, a single by D. Weitzel and a double by Egely — his third hit of the day. Making the final score 8-4.

D. Weitzel had a bad day on third being charged with four errors. He redeemed himself somewhat by making the catch of the day on a foul ball to end the game.

The Macs have the most promising pitching staff that they have had for years and now that the boys have started to hit top spot in the league is not too far away.

MORE ABOUT JONES

Continued from Page 2 immediately took issue with Mr. Drew claiming that his parliamentary assistant was capable of conducting his affairs during his absence on other business. He also had private members within his party who could act on his behalf quite effectively also that there were many members of the Conservative groups that could fill the position of the leader of the opposition much better than Mr. Drew.

Mr. Drew retaliated: "It is the type of cheap tawdry remark we might expect from you."

Mr. Gardiner replied: "Just as cheap as yours."

The liberals further charged that the leader of the opposition had been absent during several important debates.

After the speaker finally regained order in the chamber discussion on Mr. Gardiner's estimates proceeded with a sharp division of opinion.

The Liberal speakers praising Mr. Gardiner as an outstanding minister of agriculture and the opposition generally blaming the low economic status of the farmer today as a result of government policy, charging them with a failure to find markets for our wheat and other farm products.

An independent member from Quebec proposed a bill to amend the civil service act.

He endeavoured to have the act changed in order to give preference to bilingual applicants in all civil service examinations. He claimed that it would not interfere with the veteran's preference now granted.

This bill would give the correct status to the civil service of a bilingual nation, and would encourage English speaking Canadians to learn French and French speaking Canadians to learn English.

The secretary of state replied to the proposal claiming that the principle of bilingualism is already recognized by custom and practice and he did not feel that at this time there should be any change in the relations of the two basic nations composing Canada.

Town Dons Jubilee Dress As Big Days Approach

Summerland donned the first of its jubilee fancy dress yesterday when attractive shields and bunting went up on light standards and members of the steering committee yesterday put finishing touch to the four-day program of celebration events which will include parade, pageant, dancing, carnival, sports, old-timers' dinner and a variety of other functions.

The shields erected on light standards are part of the unofficial coat of arms designed by H. Wouters for Summerland. Background is yellow with a wide blue bar bisecting the shield diagonally. On the bar are three red apples, in the upper corner a fruit tree and in the lower are blue wavy lines and a jumping fish.

Parade committee chairman J. Y. Towgood reported to the committee that plans for the monster float parade are now about completed for the biggest affair of its kind in Summerland.

"Friendly Centre" at the IOOF Hall will be transformed into a monster family album of pictures of Summerland people and events dating back to the earliest days of the district. This will be open during the jubilee days as a gathering place for visitors and old timers and the exterior is being decorated in a rustic effect in keeping with its role. Summerland Horticultural Society is looking after interior decorations.

Catering committee under Mrs. F. E. Atkinson reported details in hand for old-timers' banquet which is being held in Summerland United Church hall on Tuesday, June 2. Invitations are going out to all who resided here prior to 1906 to attend this function. This banquet is open only to those receiving invitations.

Prize for winners in the school poster and essay contests are to be awarded during the massed band concert at the Memorial Park on Wednesday afternoon, June 3. As soon as poster judging has been completed, the entries will be exhibited in store windows throughout the business section.

Board of Trade vigilantes will be out in force Saturday afternoon and ready to mete out justice to any unbarred members of the community misguided enough to venture abroad at that time.

Head hair grower Ken Boothe has assured snivelling unbarred wretches of a fair hearing before being dealt with but at the same time to satisfy restless beard-wearers, he has given assurance the beardless outcasts will definitely be dealt with.

Jubilee Court and instruments of punishment will be set up on the Smith & Henry lot on Granville Street.

Summerland was well represented Monday at the Peachland-Westbank holiday celebration at Peachland and invitation was extended to the gathering there to tend to the gathering there to jubilee celebration in Summerland.

Present at Peachland were Summerland Queen Frances Atkinson, Reeve Atkinson, Summerland Band and a group of Summerland square dancers who staged an exhibition and a collection of Summerland beads.

Strong Winds Help Keep Scores Down At B.C. Inland Shoot Here Sunday

Although warm, sunny weather prevailed throughout the two days of the B.C. Inland Rifle Association annual shoot, held at the Garnet Valley Range on May 20 and 21, strong winds and mirage tested the skill of the 50 shooters attending the meet. Only one possible score of 50 was recorded, this being made by H. Chandler on the second day.

Marksmen from Vancouver, Mission, New Westminster and other coast points competed with shooters from Kamloops - Vernon Kelowna, Penticton and Summerland for the many trophies and cash prizes.

The Ex-Lt. Governor C. A. Banks trophy for the grand aggregate score was won by G. Westling, Vancouver, with 277 points out of a possible 300. In the tyro grand aggregate, B. Palmer, Enderby, took first place to win the E. W. Work trophy with a score of 272 points. Palmer also took the cadet high aggregate award.

The senior allcomers' aggregate, total score of matches shot on the final day was won by R. S. Weeks of Kelowna with 144 points out of a possible 150. The high tyro and cadet aggregate winger was again B. Palmer.

For the second successive year the shoot was sponsored by the Summerland Rifle Club, The Vernon club was first named as hosts but because of unfortunate circumstances, were unable to carry on, so the local club offered to take over all arrangements to hold it on the Summerland range.

All visiting members expressed satisfaction for the efficient manner in which the shoot had been conducted and had special words of praise for the catering and excellent target marking.

Detailed results of all matches are as follows:

Qualified for Summerland citizenship is Donald Campbell who grew what is termed in Ontario as an "impressive red beard" for the role of Falstaff in Stratford Shakespearean Festival. The writer who described it as "impressive" has obviously never met Fred Mallett. And he probably wouldn't have called it "red" either if he'd first seen Dennis Martin.

School Band Annual Spring Concert To Feature Musical World Tour

The Summerland High School Band wants to invite everyone on a musical excursion next Thursday, May 31 and Friday, June 1.

This year's concert will follow the plan of other years which has proved most popular. Assisting the senior band will be a group of beginning students as well as the Junior High School Choir under the capable direction of Mrs. Ethel McNeil of the school teaching staff. Also to add variety to the program several solos will be presented by some of the band students who have participated in the musical festival and the Penitention Stairway to the Stars series.

As in the past students' performance will be held for two noon hours prior to the evening presentations. This year the students' performances will be in the high school auditorium on Tuesday and Wednesday noon hours. All seats for the evening performances will be rush. The students of the high school will be out this week end selling tickets and all members of the community are urged to support the local student musicians even if they are unable to attend.

The band members will take the form of a musical trip around the world with music from the various parts of the world being presented. A special treat is in store for those attending but it is a very closely guarded secret as to its nature. All we have been able to find out is that it is the first time to our knowledge that such a type of entertainment has been attempted on so large a scale.

John Tamblin, the band director, promises a fast moving interesting and entertaining evening for all those attending.

Need More Volunteers For Arena Project

Volunteer crews of workmen Tuesday night passed the halfway mark in laying the cement floor at the Arena and five more nights work will be needed to finish the job and the rink will then have a permanent floor over the artificial ice pipes.

The job of laying the floor has stretched out twice as long as originally estimated. It is being laid in six sections and it was anticipated that one section could be completed each night. However, when the job was started, it was found that pipes were lifting when the cement was poured to the full depth of the top coating so it is necessary to spread a base coat and then give it a day to set and hold the pipes before the top finish coat can be laid. This has meant two nights for each section.

Many of the same faces are to be seen working on the job each night and there is a great need for more volunteers on the job. About 15 are required each night and last night with only eight on hand, doubled effort was needed to keep to schedule.

Completion of the arena is being rushed so it will be available for use during the jubilee celebrations.

Hopes to See Again With New Corneas

A man well-known in Summerland will see again thanks to Robert Graham who died on Vancouver galleys this week. He is Art Weeds of Vancouver whose wife is a sister of Mrs. E. H. Hannah and Mrs. C. B. Hankins.

Before going to the galleys, Graham requested that the corneas of his eyes be transplanted to restore sight to a blind person. Arthur Weeds was operated on this week and received transplanted corneas which it is hoped, will restore his sight which has been steadily failing. He is now totally blind in one eye and has very little sight in the other. It will be several weeks before it is known if the operation is successful.

Mr. and Mrs. Weeds have been frequent visitors to Summerland to visit the members of her family here.

Lance is Hot Stuff In Hawaiian Skirt

Summerland Jubilee celebration came in for some unexpected publicity at Pinewoods Lodge on the Hope-Princeton Highway last week-end.

Lance Mann enroute to Vancouver stopped there for something to eat and ran into some Hawaiian entertainment being staged for the convention of Business and Professional Women's Club.

Lance and his beard were signed for the cast right away and reports flowing in state he presented a somewhat unusual sight in grass skirt and Hawaiian accessories as he danced his way across the stage.

By the time he was on his way again, the gathering knew all about the impending Summerland Jubilee.

If it's Old Style It'll be In Style When the Jubilee Janes Step Out

Summerland women starting next Friday will turn back the style calendar to the turn of the century on June 1 and from then through the Jubilee Days old fashions will be the vogue for style-conscious members of the community.

Determined that men with beards would not be the only ones to set the pace for the jubilee celebration, the Jubilee Janes got their heads together to figure how equally minded women could get in the act. In so doing, they touched off the biggest bustle seen since the turn of the century as the distaff members went rummaging through attics and storerooms to bring out the models that kept designers jangling in the lap of luxury a half-century ago. Others without such storerooms to turn to have been busy at sewing machines turning out their own impressions of the "nineteen-nothing" styles.

Promoters of the project are urging all female members of the community to pack away all current styles from the reversal of June 1 and wear only 1900 styles until after Jubilee Day on June 6.

Also they have emphasized the point that this is an activity which is not limited to any one group or organization and it is hoped all female members of the community will join in the spirit. Nor will it be only the seniors who are dressing for the occasion. School kids will be joining in the act too. Asked for official reaction to school pupils and teachers in old-time costume, Junior-Senior High Principal A. K. Macleod set out a policy: "During Jubilee Week, anything goes!"

So it's bustles and bows for the jubilee celebration!

Orchard Notes

BY ALEC WATT

District Horticulturist

Petal fall stage on apricots was reached around May 18 in most Summerland orchards. Of course, there was some variation between early and late spots but this would be an average date. Allowing one week's delay after petal fall means that the first codling moth spray should start going on around May 25 or this week-end.

Quite a number of peach apricot orchards are infested with Lecanium Scale and Cottony Maple Scale this year. These insects can be found attached to the bark on the smaller peach and apricot wood. They are round, shield like objects from one eighth of an inch to half inch in diameter. Some are brown in color while others are soft and grey. They remain clamped to the branches and produce a sticky honey-dew similar to that produced by a bad infestation of aphids.

Malathion spray is recommended for the control of these Scales and should be applied now where infestation is severe. Where both Lecanium and Cottony Maple Scale occur together a second malathion spray may be necessary in July or in the case of apricots, after harvest.

Although very little Fire Blight is showing up as yet, conditions for its spread at blossom time were ideal. There was a heavy bloom with high temperatures and plenty of insect activity. If showery weather sets in during June an outbreak may easily occur. A sharp watch should be kept in the pear block during this month for signs of withering blossom or blackening of young shoots.

There'll Be Acres of Fuzz on Display At 'Beards on Parade' Jubilee Week

One of the most awe-inspiring sights ever witnessed in Summerland will be seen on Monday night, June 4 when there will be acres of hair on display at the "Beards on Parade" performance at the high school auditorium.

"Beards on Parade" comes as a spectacular climax to the six weeks of hair growing which has clearly established Summerland men as the hairiest group of citizens in modern times. An anti-climax will come two nights later when the winners chosen at Beards on Parade will be announced and awards made at the Jubilee Carnival.

The program will get underway at 8:30 p.m. with a sumptuous banquet which is to be free to everybody attending. However, as no one is prepared to pick up the tab for feeding a high school auditorium full of people, everybody will bring their own box supper so it can be just as sumptuous and just as many courses as each individual wants to make it.

Then will come a display of every type of beard known to mankind - black beards, red beards, sorawny ones, bushy ones, stylish models and every other classification known to tri-ologists (A four-syllable name for a guy who knows everything there is to know about hair). Several feature performances by bearded gentry will be included on the program.

In a completely unselfish gesture the Board of Trade committee has decreed that non-bearded wretches of the community will be permitted to attend the Beards on Parade performance. However, while their bearded brethren will be admitted without charge, clean faces will have to cough up four bits in order to witness the hair spectacle. Ladies proudly accompanying bearded attendants will not, of course, be expected to produce either beards or four bits to gain admission. Normal three-day orchard beards will not absolve the wearer from paying admission.

Money collected at the performance will be used toward the purchase of prizes for beard growers.

All growers must be present for the judging on this occasion and some prizes will be awarded that night but main prizes will not be awarded until Wednesday night at the carnival.

By O. L. JONES

Bitter accusations were hurled at the government for invoking closure which has the effect of stifling the debate on the pipeline bill. This method of curtailing a debate has been used on very rare occasions.

One can readily understand the attitude of the government whose action in advancing 90 per cent of the cost of constructing the pipeline being subject to severe criticism and naturally wish to curtail the period of discussion.

The opposition on the other hand, feel that the taxpayer of Canada deserves to have a full dressed debate on a project that is going to cost him such a vast amount of money when, at the same time, not partaking of the profits which will eventually accrue the company.

Little is known of other negotiations that have taken place to construct this line and as one member pointed out there are many Canadian groups clarified and willing to undertake the construction of this line if the government had made it known that they are willing to advance up to 90 per cent of the total cost.

The opposition further claimed that it is wrong to take the Canadian taxpayer's money for the building of an American controlled pipeline.

On Tuesday night last week, the closure went into effect not without a bitter fight put up by the opposition particularly the two experts on procedure, Stanley Knowles of the CCF and David Fulton of the Conservatives. Between them they argued points of procedure that forced nine votes altogether, some recorded and some by sanding vote in committee. The net result was that the government with the Social Credit support won each vote.

It is rather unfortunate that all the votes were on a party basis with all members supporting their party with the exception of one member of the Conservative party Mr. Carl Nickle, who joined the government in support of their bill. He explained his reasons for breaking away from the conservative policy on the pipeline issue as he felt that the only way it could be built was with government assistance. He did not believe it should be completely owned and controlled by the government. Incidentally, Mr. Nickle is one of Canada's leading oil men. He has been prominent for years in the Alberta oil centres.

Proceedings on Tuesday night were supposed to end at 1 o'clock a.m. Wednesday, but when that hour arrived these procedure debates and votes kept the members in the house until after 5 a.m.

The galleries were packed for the debate showing a great deal of public interest in the matter.

Actually, here were more in the galleries Tuesday night than during the throne speech or the budget speech and they were entertained by speakers such as Earle Rowe who kept chiding the P.M. for his silence during the last year and especially on the pipeline issue.

The rumored split in the cabinet over this pipeline bill may be an actual reality, if so, it could well be that the Prime Minister does not wholly support the proposals of his Minister of Trade and Commerce.

M. J. Caldwell charged the government with tactics wholly undemocratic and they stifled debate on a matter that affects the Canadian people to the tune of eventually of nearly $200,000,000.

He pointed out that this would be advanced to support and finance an American controlled company while the government could use this sum to complete the South Saskatchewan Dam which would benefit Canadian people as a whole or the money could well have been used to increase old age pensions or establish the National Health Insurance Plan, both of which are being delayed as the government claims it does not have the money to do it with.

The threatened nationwide railway strike has been averted. This was announced by Labour Minister Gregg, who offered his congratulations and appreciation for the patience, perseverance and patriotism shown by the two sides throughout the negotiations. Only Jags had broken off without any a few days previously the meeting being reached; therefore, Mr. Gregg's announcement came as a pleasant surprise to us.

THURSDAY, MAY TWENTY-FOURTH, NINETEEN HUNDRED FIFTY SIX

Pipeline Frenzy . . . the old master wouldn't approve

THOSE who remember the late Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King will recall his penchant for postponing decisions on highly controversial public issues. Many Canadians found Mr. King's penchant for studied silence frustrating in the extreme. Nevertheless, on more than one occasion, such a policy proved sound politics.

Strange that few in the present Federal cabinet appear to recall the stratagems which gained for Mr. King the reputation of being the most astute political figure of his time.

It would be difficult, for example, to imagine the late Prime Minister manifesting the almost indecent haste evident in official circles today in the matter of natural gas pipelines. Mr. King would have known, to be sure, that more votes could be lost, and none won, by plunging the Government willy-nilly into a multimillion dollar outlay to assist a Texas-promoted pipeline company to get started on a transcontinental natural gas pipeline project which seems doomed to be a financial flop from the start.

Getting Alberta natural gas into the kitchens of housewives in Montreal and Toronto, hasn't got the pulling power when it comes to election time, of that once enjoyed by the baby bonus. Particularly is this so when it is clear that Alberta gas is likely to cost just as much as present fuels, and won't be available to most residents of Quebec who live outside the Montreal area.

Hewers of Wood . . . our future may lay elsewhere

CANADA'S Lumber industry is going to be hurt by the decision of the United Kingdom to cut lumber imports, as revealed in the Budget Speech of the Chancellor of the Exchequer.

This blow to Canada's lumber industry, the seriousness of which is likely to become apparent later in the year, raises once again the whole conflicting issue of Anglo-Canadian trade.

The British Government has made it clear that increased sales of manufactured goods in the dollar market, and in particular in Canada, will be sought with the utmost vigor. Yet imports of Canadian lumber, together with other primary and resource industry products, it seems, are to suffer further cutbacks. Even the prospects for wheat sales to Britain, in the light of the British Government's increased subsidies to agriculture, aimed at "food independence," are far less rosy than official circles in Ottawa seek to lead people to believe.

Those who hold to the notion that this country's prosperity lies in Canadians remaining "new-ers of wood and drawers of water" will have difficulty in making their arguments stick when countries are highly industrialized as Britain takes the stand that they don't want Canadian lumber.

Mid-Week Message

O wretched man that I am! who shall deliver me from the body of this death? (Romans 7:24.) Read Romans 8:1-5.

Expecting to enjoy some food, a fly lights on a sheet of fly paper. What seems to be food proves to be a snare. The more the fly tries to free itself, the more entangled it becomes. It dies in its struggle to free itself.

This is also true about a sinful man. He is deceived by his sins, bound by the chains of evil habits. If left to himself, he dies in sins.

Paul had such an experience. He describes the struggle he had to free himself from sin but found himself helpless and in despair. He likened himself to the condition of the Roman prisoner to whom the body of a dead man was chained. He exclaimed: "O wretched man that I am who shall deliver me from the body of this death? I thank God through Jesus Christ our Lord."

Jesus came to break the bonds of sin and to proclaim liberty to the captive, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound. Daily we have cause to thank God for Christ, our Liberator who frees us from sin.

PRAYER

Our dear heavenly Father, we thank Thee for Jesus Christ our Lord. He breaks our chains of sin and evil habits and sets us free. In Him we become free indeed. We praise Thy holy name. In Thy Son's name we pray. Amen.

In This Corner

By Lewis Milligan

"The first world War was followed by a long period of industrial depression, the second was not: on the contrary, output in many industries has attained greater heights than ever before." So says Sir E. John Russell in his recent book on "Science and Modern Life." Much of this good result, he says, has been due to a better recognition by all groups of the need for the fullest utilization of science in industry, and of their "joint responsibility to the community at large."

The peaceful conditions, however, are not inherent in the democratic system of Britain, and Sir John adds: "In industries with large numbers of unskilled and semi-skilled workers where the general level of intelligence is not so high, it appears to be relatively easy for a small group of determined obstructors to prevent the smooth working of the machine and make a considerable amount of trouble." Thus, says Sir John, "this nicely balanced organization for large scale production has led to the foundation of a new profession, the scope of which is to make trouble wherever practicable without much risk," that is, to themselves.

The growth of science and technology has also created economic problems by lengthening the average life of the population. Old age pensions for industrial workers in Britain are payable at 65 for men and 60 for women, but retirement at those ages are not compulsory though some chances may be made in the nature of the work. An enquiry by the Ministry of National Insurance showed that 84 per cent of the men elected to stay on at work, and of the remainder more than half were giving up because of ill health. The number of old age pensioners is steadily increasing; a Royal Commission forecast a total of over six million and probably more, especially among women.

Sir John points out that pensions were originally intended as social insurance, but that "they have long since lost this character and the cost is now mainly borne by the taxpayer." The additional liability is estimated as equivalent to an addition of £15,500 million to the national debt. "How is the cost to be borne," asks Sir John. "Most people agree that someone else must pay. Unfortunately the pensions problem seems likely to become a question of party politics and already the pensioners are a powerful pressure group which few politicians could risk offending."

The expectation of longer life as a result of the advancement of medical science is raising serious problems. Sir John says that methods may yet be discovered whereby life may be continued in the body beyond the present natural term. "It may well happen in another 50 years that centenarians, instead of being new items will simply be becoming commonplace." This raises the ethical question as to how far interference with natural processes is justifiable, especially if prolongation extends only to the physical and not the mental life. Hopeless cases in mental institutions are liable to diseases which used to be fatal, but now are curable by costly drugs, and they are being cured. "It is only a cure of the body," says Sir John. "The mind has long since gone beyond recall, and one cannot help wondering whether it is ethically right to deflect limited resources to maintaining the physical functions of a body from which the mind has departed."

Activities at Experimental Farm Outlined in Bi-Monthly Report

General. The weather during the past two months has been seasonable with apricots in bloom on day later than the long term average. Damage to young trees from the November freeze has proven to be more extensive than was originally estimated, since killing of trunks and roots has occurred that could not be assessed when the ground was frozen.

J. L. Mason has completed all requirements for his Ph.D. at Oregon State College. He will receive his degree early in June. His thesis consisted of a study of iron uptake in plants under basic conditions.

New Bulletin Released. A list of all available bulletins from the experiment farm and plant pathology and entomology laboratories has just been released. All titles have been selected as suitable for grower reading; highly technical items have been omitted. This list, for any grower who did not receive a copy, is available from the experimental farm or district horticulturists.

Tomato Varieties—L. G. Denby. In 1955 replicated yield trials were conducted on 20 varieties of tomatoes which had appeared promising in previous adaptation trials. Of the 20, six proved to be acceptable for both total marketable yield and canning qualities; these were Summerland Gem (top for marketable yield with 21.41 tons per acre), Early Giant, Longred (Summerland), James' Winesap, Summerland Stokedale no. 4 and Fordhook Hybrid. It is particularly interesting to note that Gem, Longred, James' Winesap and Summerland Gem, i.e. four out of the six have been developed from selections made in the Okanagan Valley, and that all have been processed on the Summerland farm for a number of years. The other two varieties, namely, Early Giant and Fordhook Hybrid, are F1 hybrids, which can be regarded as further evidence to support the contention that the Okanagan tomato variety problem is most likely to be solved by a breeding program designed with reference to specific aspects of this problem and conducted under local conditions.

Phosphorus and Tomato Canning Quality—M. McGibbon. One of the major complaints of tomato processors in the B.C. interior has been that local field grown tomatoes lack firmness after they are canned, resulting in lowered grades for the processed product.

Tests have been made over the past two years on effects of fertilizers on the firmness quality of tomatoes and it now appears that treatments containing phosphorus as supplied by commercial superphosphates, have a beneficial effect on canned tomato firmness.

Samples of fruit from a phosphorus fertilizer experiment at Vernon in 1955 were canned and later judged for firmness. It was found that tomatoes from plots receiving 100 pounds or more of P<sub>2</sub>O<sub>5</sub> per acre were significantly firmer after canning than fruit from plots that did not receive phosphorus.

Further experiments are planned for 1956 in which various phosphorus containing fertilizers will be used to see whether the same firming effect can be obtained from them as was obtained from superphosphate.

Controlled Atmosphere Storage of Apples—S. W. Porritt. The number of controlled atmosphere storages in United States and Eastern Canada is steadily increasing. Controlled atmosphere storage extends the marketing period of certain varieties of apples and makes it possible to control some of the low temperature disorders. For example, controlled atmosphere storage of McIntosh may add a month or two to the acceptable storage life of this variety and provide excellent control of core flush. However, it is questionable if the storage life of McIntosh should be extended into the normal marketing season of later varieties such as delicious Newton and Winesaps.

Small scale controlled storage tests were carried out on McIntosh at Summerland experimental farm last year. Oxygen and carbon dioxide content of the atmosphere averaged 3.6 and 5.4 per cent respectively. Oxygen was regulated by controlled ventilation and excess carbon dioxide was removed by pumping air from the storage chamber through a sodium hydroxide solution and back to the chamber in a closed system.

The apples were removed on March 19 for examination along with similar fruit stored in air at 32 degrees F. Upon removal from storage the air-stored fruit was preferable to the controlled-atmosphere fruit which was considered acid and lacking in characteristic McIntosh flavor.

After a week, however, controlled atmosphere fruit had improved considerably, and in flavor rated as good or better than air-stored fruit. It was of attractive appearance and completely free of core flush. Air-stored fruit on the other hand showed considerable core flush.

No differences in firmness of fruit between storage treatments were detectable at the time the fruit was removed from storage or after 10 days at 70 degrees F. Judging by freedom from core flush, satisfactory appearance and flavor, the shelf life of controlled atmosphere McIntosh in this test was extended a week or 10 days.

2, 4, 5-T Amine Treatments for Accelerating Maturity and Increasing Size of Apricots—D. V. Fisher. There has been considerable interest in recent years in the use of 2, 4, 5-T Amine for stimulating setting of frost damaged apricot blooms and as an agent for accelerating maturity and increasing fruit size of apricots. An attempt was made this year to assess the usefulness of this material for increasing size of fruit and earliness of harvest of Wenatchee apricots.

The material was applied as a dilute spray at 25 and 50 ppm. and as a concentrate spray at 250 and 500 ppm. However, while 1.0 gal. per tree was applied with each of the concentrate strengths, only 7.5 gals. and 5.5 gals. per tree were applied with the 50 ppm. and 25 ppm. strengths respectively. The amounts of actual 2, 4, 5-T applied per tree were therefore not strictly comparable with 25 ppm. and 250 ppm. and 500 ppm. concentrations respectively. The experiment for the first year was a cautious one on an exploratory scale and only involved four trees per treatment.

The most striking result of this experiment is the acceleration of date of harvest resulting from the sprays, especially with 500 ppm. The 500 ppm. trees were half picked before any of the other trees had any fruit at the mature stage and at a time when check fruit was hard and green. Compared with check trees, 500 ppm. trees matured eight days earlier and smaller advances in date of maturity were recorded with lower concentration sprays of 2, 4, 5-T Amine.

Fire Hazard High Forecasts Say

Long range weather forecasts indicate a season of high fire hazard in British Columbia this summer.

Launching its annual drive against forest fires with the celebration of Forest Conservation Week, May 19-26, the Canadian Forestry Association announces the most intensive fire prevention campaign in its 31 year history.

A nation-wide event, "Forest Conservation Week" is designed to focus the attention of all Canadians on the dominion's most important natural resources—the forests and all that they stand for in economic security, recreational advantages and wildlife habitat. Each is an essential element in our way of life and each contributes its share to the national well being. In the final analysis, however, all these benefits are contingent upon the survival of the forest itself and in forest protection the most vital concern at this season is fire prevention.

No matter how highly we may be geared to combat fire in the forest, our efforts will be wasted without the fullest co-operation of the general public, and particularly the travelling public. Though conditions have improved over the years, statistics for the last fire season of record show that careless campers and smokers are still responsible for approximately two out of every five forest fires in British Columbia. While the public is unquestionably more fire conscious today, the fact remains that hazardous conditions are becoming increasingly severe with the rapid growth of tourist traffic and the opening of many new forest areas to the public.

Another important hazard factor is the steadily increasing acreage of second growth timber, which is much more susceptible to fire than our old growth stands.

Fortunately recent experiments have shown that it is suitable for use in a fermented cider. This cider would have about the same alcoholic content as beer. It would be sweetened with apple juice concentrate to between seven and nine per cent total soluble solids. The product would be clarified, carbonated, canned and pasteurized in the can.

A sample case of cider submitted to a taste panel showed that 50 per cent of the men liked the product, while all the women liked it.

Federation Member Tells of Work As Home Teacher to Sightless

United Church Women's Federation had as a speaker at the regular meeting this week one of its own members, Miss Margaret Liggett, a former home teacher for the blind.

Her subject dealt with "The Church and the Blind" and she warned members "Thou shalt not put a stumbling block in the way of the blind." She told how blind persons are now being taught many useful handicrafts and older persons given pensions but the church can be of service in many ways, even if just a friendly visit to bring cheer.

It is possible to sing in a choir, become an interesting conversationalist by just listening to the radio, or even learn to thread a needle, but, unfortunately not all can adjust themselves to lead a normal life.

Mrs. F. E. Shepherd showed members the medal which was presented in 1955 by the Canadian Council of the Blind to Miss Liggett for her faithful and devoted service to the blind.

A very appropriate and touching solo was sung by Mrs. L. Fudge "The Blind Plowman" accompanied by Mrs. D. Dunham at the piano.

During the business session, Mrs. T. W. Boothe presided in the absence of Mrs. A. C. Fleming.

More articles are needed for the Korea parcel, also two cotton blankets and bath towels for

Burns Lake layette.

Two blankets were taken to Mountain View Home by Mrs. Fleming and Mrs. Boothe. Sheets, towels, pillowslips are articles that are always welcome. Miss Campbell was also visited.

W.A. president Mrs. C. Campbell stated that articles of clothing, costume jewelry, scarfs, etc. are being sent to Provincial Mental Hospital for the inmates.

It was with regret that members learned Mrs. J. Duguid is leaving Summerland and will be remembered by many of her friends.

Miss A. Cochran and Mrs. M. T. Laidlaw read the devotional with Mrs. Shephard offering the prayer, after which was sung the favorite hymn of Mrs. Washington, Sr.

Members born in B.C. will take part in the June meeting which will be at the home of Mrs. O. J. Lazenby, weather permitting. Mrs. J. Dunsdon in charge of transportation.

A pleasant social hour with Mrs. S. A. McDonald, Mrs. Janet McNah, Mrs. McArthur and Mrs. Mowatt serving refreshments followed.

Hear of Early Years in District

Alex Steven describing the years immediately preceding incorporation of Summerland was speaker Monday at the regular meeting of the United Church W.A. The "Roving Scot" who had "come to dream dreams and see visions," portrayed most vividly with humor and pathos the struggles and progress of many pioneers in the "sceme of things" and concluded with the thought: "... the castle of enchantment is not past but before me yet; many things in life are good, but friends are best of all".

In the chair for the meeting was Mrs. Colin Campbell and the devotional period was opened with the singing of hymns "O Lord of Heaven, Earth and Sea" and "Before Jehovah's Awful Throne", accompaniment being provided by Mrs. Lionel Fudge.

The devotional was led by Mrs. Alex Klasoff, the May theme being "Wonder, Reverence and Adoration", taken from Psalm 8. Thought expressed was contained in the words of Principal W. R. Taylor: "In our time we have even greater reason to stand in awe than the psalmist had; the wonders of creation and the laws that govern them are mankind's to discover, subdue and use to work out His design. Thus God wants us to enter into fellowship with man, saying to each person 'I have loved thee with an loving kindness have I drawn thee.'"

Members and visitors were greeted by Mrs. J. M. Marshall.

A check for $10 from the Scouts fund was acknowledged.

Mrs. W. R. Chandler was appointed press reporter to replace Mrs. Alex Klasoff.

The Mizpah benediction was pronounced at the close of the business session.

Mrs. F. E. Brinton convened the serving of refreshments to bring to a close a pleasant evening.

By I. E. PHILLIPS
Civil Defence Officer

How much did Britain's survival during the war years owe to the foresight, planning and ingenuity of those men of vision who had the intuition of that which might, and did in very fact, come to pass. Mitchell and others associated with him, who clearly saw the pressing need and urgency of a fast night fighter airplane to combat the growing strength and threat from the deadly bomber.

The men, also, who had a prevision of what the civilian might expect should an enemy air attack ever be launched against the cities and towns of the United Kingdom.

What steps could be taken to prevent the loss of valuable lives should such an eventuality arise? Thus it was, that almost at the outset of the war, there came into production the shelter, or rather shelters, that during the course of the years were to become so familiar to everyone. There were, of course, many types, the Anderson, the Morrison, the street and last of all the deep shelter.

These havens of protection were to prove their worth in many an intensive raid and to repay their cost, over and over again. In those early days it was feared that as many as 3,000 persons would be killed with perhaps a further 12,000 wounded during each day of heavy bombing.

Actually during the whole of the war 60,000 civilians were killed and a further 86,000 seriously injured. The foregoing figures fail to prove that the experts slipped up in the calculations of the probable casualties.

It was only by emphasizing the probable danger that existed, that the civilian, the local authorities and the government itself, were stimulated and urged to prepare and man schemes of defence and protection, which ultimately, resulted in a system of civil defence which when organized proved to be the most effective and efficient operating in any of the countries engaged in the war.

The experts had for long years fought as it seemed then, a losing battle against the indifference and unbelief that existed. However, the final result proved how right they might have been if things had been allowed to drift, with no system of defence set up and planned. In a very short while (and taking London as an example), there was provided shelter accommodation for six or seven millions of Londoners. Many many thousands of lives were saved as a direct result.

As to the construction of the London deep shelters, this was really a wonderful feat. The space, the layout, the lighting, the accommodation and all modern amenities, are a source of wonder and admiration to countless people who have seen and used them. Eight of these in all were built, four to the north of the river and four to the south.

They were all sited below suitable tube stations and to a depth of several hundred feet, being connected with the tube stations above.

The construction of these shelters was not just a job of converting the existing space into a safe refuge from the bombs. Much thought was given to the design and it is true to say, that not one detail had been overlooked.

For the accommodation of 8,000 people to each shelter, there is ample floor space for each one. Three tier beds with mattresses, blankets and pillows, all of these being changed frequently and the blankets after being used three times being passed through a fumigating plant and thoroughly cleaned before re-issue.

Ventilation was well taken care of with great volumes of purified air being constantly pumped into every corner of the shelter.

The willing service of the voluntary women's organizations, who ran the eight canteens in each shelter, insured that refreshments were always available to those who were hungry and thirsty.

HOW TO SHIFT INTO HIGH IN SAVING FOR THAT CAR

Dreaming of a new car or an "old favorite" at the used-car lot? It will cost you at least one-third down and the rest over 18 months. But it's for that cash on the line that a bank-roll really comes in handy!

And that's why tens of thousands of Canadians, in every province, add regularly to their Bank of Montreal savings account. They find it just as hard to save as the rest of us. But they'd rather plan for worthwhile things than spend their money on non-essential items.

The best way of saving regularly nowadays is through Personal Planning, the Bank of Montreal's money-management plan. With Personal Planning you can save, despite today's high cost of living. That's because Personal Planning helps you to save in your own way, you do a better job than if you're trying to force yourself into somebody else's ideas.

Why not take the bull by the horns today? Open a B of M savings account and use Personal Planning to help you really save. Any member of the staff at the West Summerland Branch of the B of M will gladly give you literature on Personal Planning and help you to open an account.

Young Man with a Plan

One of these days, Fred's going to take over the farm. Meanwhile, he's planning, studying and working hard . . . learning right on the job.

Already he's learned a lot about modern farm management, and how a chartered bank can play its part in making farm living more comfortable, more profitable. He has found, for example, how useful the bank can be as a place to build up savings; to obtain credit, to seek financial advice and market information. He knows that the bank manager's door is open to everyone.

When you see a good-looking, well-run farm, chances are the farmer uses the services the chartered banks have built up for all Canadians.

Early Growing Conditions Good If Frost-Damaged Trees Survive

Westbank, Peachland Summerland As reported May 15: The 1955-56 winter was comparable to that of 1935-36 although generally conceded to be more severe. Several days of sub zero temperatures commencing November 11 caught the fruit trees in an immature condition and caused extensive damage to the trunks and crochets of many stone fruit and apple trees. A second zero snap in mid-February damaged the bloom on stone fruit trees. Just in the last week, many apricot, cherry and peach trees have wilted and died. This process is going on more rapidly now that hot weather has returned. Final assessment of the damage to the trees is not yet possible since many trees are not expected to show the full effects until mid-summer at the earliest.

Since mid-March the weather has been dry and several very warm spells have occurred. The season is an average one as far as blossoming dates are concerned. In the Summerland area apricots had a sparse blossom; peaches and cherries, a moderate to good blossom; pears, a heavy blossom with the exception of those in upper valleys; McIntosh a heavy blossom and later apple varieties, a spotty to light blossom. At Peachland and Westbank there was practically no normal bloom on apricots, peaches or cherries except in the odd favored spot. Pears had a moderate bloom, McIntosh a normal bloom and later apples developed a patchy to light bloom. Unfortunately, bloom indications mean very little this year since final outcome of the crop depends greatly on tree mortality between now and the end of September.

Considerable irrigating has already been done, particularly on light soils. Some growers are applying fertilizer to their trees now, having been prevented from fall fertilizing by the early freeze up. Very few growers are applying chemical thinning sprays this year.

Blister mites are quite prevalent in most pear blocks. The dry spring weather has held most fungus diseases to a minimum so far.

Penticton - Naramata
Kaleden - Okanagan Falls
Keremeos - Cawston

As reported May 15: Untimely zero temperatures in mid-November and sub-zero temperatures in February caused severe tree damage and crop loss in some parts of the district. The damage varies considerably from orchard to orchard and more damage, especially to trees in the one to ten year old group, is showing up daily. Because of these factors it is still too early to evaluate the damage fully. Briefly, present indications are that pears, prunes, McIntosh and Winesap apples in most orchards may produce full to nearly full crops. Delicious may be substantially reduced in most orchards, while Rome Beauty and Jonathan may be heavy in some locations and negligible in others. Newtons and Van cherries are expected to give satisfactory crops but Bings and Royal Annes will be seriously reduced. V peaches and apricots, other than Wenatchee, Moorpark and Perfections, are showing good promise at this time.

The season is running close to the average following dry warm weather in April and somewhat cooler weather in May. Apples were in full bloom on May 11 in Penticton, whereas they were in full bloom on May 24 last year. No significant rain has fallen for several weeks nor has any damaging spring frost occurred. Weather for pollination, while variable, was considered good for pollination of all tree fruits.

Growers are currently applying twig border and tarnished plant bug sprays on peaches and are getting ready to apply calyx sprays to apples. Some growers in preferred locations have spray-thinned McIntosh apples but have left other varieties alone due to the winter injury factor.

Tomatoes are being set out in Cawston and Penticton areas. This year some 70 acres in the Penticton area is being planted to tomatoes.

Kelowna

As reported May 16: By far the most important factor affecting horticultural crops this season will be the results of the five days of below zero weather last November 12 and 16. During mid-February the temperature dropped to 17 below zero. April was a fine warm month and advanced the season so that apple blossom was a full two weeks earlier than last year.

Frost damage has been severe to all fruit crops excepting pears and McIntosh and earlier apples. A number of growers applied blossom thinning sprays to McIntosh. The size of the Delicious apple crop is much in doubt at present. Sufficient blossom has appeared for a good crop but there is much conjecture as to whether it will set and stay on. Newton, Rome and Jonathan apples will be light. Winesaps are in the same category as Delicious. Mortality of apple trees in the age group one to 10 years has been heavy excepting McIntosh and earlier varieties. Cherries made a fairly good showing of blossom but many pollinizers were barren. Cherry trees are badly damaged. The crop will be small, mostly Lamberts. Young prune trees of the early strains were badly damaged. The older trees showed a fair blossom but their foliage is poor at present. The crop will be down. The apricot and peach crop will be small. Tree mortality has been heavy.

The Summerland Review

THURSDAY, MAY 24, 1956

Vineyards have been badly hurt and a sharp reduction in crop is expected.

Pests and diseases are at a low ebb.

Vegetable growers have made good progress in planting crops and most crops are already planted. Soil moisture has been low and germination of some seeded crops has been slow and spotty. Most onion fields have shown good growth, especially where an irrigation has been applied. Carrots, beets, corn and potatoes are up and making satisfactory growth.

Cucumbers are out under hot-caps and tomato planting is in full swing. Cabbage and cauliflower plants were set out in late April and are making satisfactory growth. Most pole and bush beans are emerging at this time. Peppers have not yet been set out.

Harvest of Asparagus commenced in early May and shipments have been fairly steady ever since. Cutworms have been active on asparagus fields and growers have had to apply soil insecticides.

Greenhouse tomatoes now show their third truss of fruit and greenhouse cucumbers are being marketed. Bedding plants are enjoying a brisk demand.

Clever Cooking...

Veal - Plain or Fancy

Whether it is to be served plain or dressed up with a special sauce or seasoning, fresh veal is a treat we can all enjoy. It is a mild flavored meat but if combined with just the right seasonings, it perks up and becomes one of the tastiest of meat dishes.

Some of the herbs and spices good with veal are savoury, thyme, garlic, marjoram, oregano, curry, paprika, parsley and mustard. These may be used alone or in combinations such as garlic and ginger, mustard and grated cheese, or savoury and chopped onion. The seasonings can be sprinkled on a roast or added to the crumb mixture to be used in breading veal chops or cutlets.

While basting is not necessary for a plain roast, if some special seasoning is desired it can be added to a little broth and poured over the roast several times during the cooking. For example, a little minced garlic or onion along with rosemary and a dash of nutmeg might be used in the basting liquid.

Sour cream is another food used often in veal cooking for it gives the meat a delightful flavor and seems to make it more tender, too.

It is generally used with smaller cuts of veal but it can be used in the gravy to serve with a roast or in a sauce to dress up slices of leftover roast veal. It is also used with stewing veal in this recipe for delicious Hungarian Goulash.

Hungarian Goulash

1 pound stewing veal
1 pound stewing beef
6 tablespoons flour
2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon caraway seeds
1 tbs. Worcestershire sauce
1 med. sized onion, sliced,
3/4 cups water or vegetable liquid,
1/2 cup sour cream

Cut meat into one inch cubes and brown on all sides in hot fat. Sprinkle flour over meat and brown again slightly. Add seasonings, onion and water or vegetable liquid. Cover and simmer two hours. Just before serving add the sour cream.

Experiments in which supersound will be used to determine the properties of wood are being planned by the forest products laboratories of Canaco.

4-H Members Attend Armstrong Field Day

A group of Summerland members attended the 4-H Club field day held at Armstrong. Those taking part were Ron Manning, Gary Bennison, Ron Bangma, Franklin Stent and Gordon Smith. Local members were transported by W. S. Ritchie.

The Summerland members took part in the judging of livestock. At the last meeting of the local club, Franklin Stent was elected new president, taking over from Bob Metters who is moving to Victoria.

Plans were discussed for an entry in the jubilee parade.

Summerland Tied for Second Place After 10-2 Victory Over Princeton

Don Cristante turned in another steady game for the Mac's on Sunday against the strong Princeton Royals, and came up with a 10-2 victory, his third against no losses. Except for that run the Royal scored in the fourth off him they didn't get another runner past second. Fichel relieved Cristante in the eighth and gave up another run which was unearned. The Mac's and Royals both played a fast clean game with the Mac's getting the hits when they counted.

Billy Eyre, on the mound for Princeton, went the distance, he was wild at times and besides giving up six walks, hit three batters. Eyre is Princeton's only pitcher right now as Wendall Clifton is reported playing in Powell River. The Mac's lost one of their original players when Lefty Gould left for Salmo.

Summerland opened the scoring with a pair of runs in the second without a hit, Princeton got one in the fourth on two singles and a fielders choice. The Mac's came again in the last of the fourth with five more runs. The Princeton team fell apart, making a couple of costly errors: two base on balls and a hit batter. They scored three more in the seventh on four base hits and a walk to make the score 10-1.

Princeton came back for one run in the eighth and ended the scoring with the final result 10-2.

On defence, Hooker at short for the Mac's and Sidoni at second for the Royals were standouts and on offence Taylor with two for three and Eyre for the Royals with two for four were the big guns.

This win coupled with Kelowna's surprising 12-9 win over Oliver puts Summerland in a second place tie with the Oliver team, each having a 3-2 win loss record. Pentiction and Kamloops had a day off.

The Mac's played across the line in Tonasket Wednesday night under the lights and dropped a close 2-1 decision to the American team. Cristante was charged with the defeat.

The details of the settlement have not yet been worked out but some weeks ago the union had accepted the recommendation of the board of conciliation while the railway companies rejected the findings on the ground that they could not raise the necessary funds which the railways claimed would extend to about $60,000,000 a year.

Another strike has taken place with the workers of another transport system. This time sailors on the Great Lakes. A mediator has been appointed to try and negotiate an agreement between the ship owners and the employees. According to reports both parties appear to be anxious to affect a settlement. Again it is a question of wages plus a company paid health plan.

At the present the strike only involves 12 vessels but it could spread to another approximately 50 ships. It is even suggested that other Great Lake ships may also strike in sympathy. In this case it will be roughly 280 ships involved.

Labor conditions in other industries seem satisfactory at the present time according to the department of labor.

During the discussion on the estimates of the department of agriculture some of us from British Columbia took the opportunity to discuss matters of purely local interest. Mr. Harridge, for instance, advocated that co-operative and other farmers' organizations should be allowed to buy their grain direct from the prairie farmer. He claimed that it was too costly at the present time and unnecessary to have wheat shipped to the elevators and then through the milling companies and then eventually to the consumer.

This has been a sore point for some time with B.C. farmers, particularly poultry producers, stock producers and others who purchase grain for feed purposes. In some cases these farmers who are now settled in B.C. have personal or financial interests in prairie farms where the grain comes from but they are not allowed to ship their own grain from the prairie point to their home in B.C.

I took occasion to deal briefly with the cramped quarters occupied by the staff at the Summerland experimental farm. Others dealt with farm problems effecting the Fraser Valley such as potato marketing.

Peter Andrew of Vancouver has been appointed commercial teacher at the High School, replacing Miss P. V. Sherwood who has resigned.

Resignations have been received from three other members of the High School staff: Miss M. L. Mowchenko, home economics, Mrs. E. M. McNeill, music and other subjects, and Mrs. K. F. Farrow, general subjects.

Miss Joan Kirby, teaching a combination grade IV-V class at the MacDonald School has also resigned.

AOTS Hears Speaker On UN Activities

At the regular May meeting of AOTS Mr. N. Kerr of Rutland, who has done considerable work on various committees of U.N., gave the members and other interested listeners an intimate and detailed story of the beginnings and life in the concentration camps of Europe following the 1914-18 war and onwards — of the beginning and difficulties experienced when refugee camps were set up during the Second World War beginning first of all in Italy — and of the strength and objects behind the present Zionist movement in Palestine. How the present Zionist army actually had its foundation in the European refugee camps. The whole story was presented in his usual pleasing manner and proved interesting and informative.

Supper was served by the Women's Federation and the meeting followed by the usual business session.

Speaking for the Scouts, Jack Wilson reported matters moving along well and as next meeting was election of officers, the present Scout Committee felt they had served for some years now and in infusion of new blood would be a good idea.

A vote was taken on having AOTS more closely integrated with the church and its work. The vote passed with a good majority.

Two 'Perfects' Scored At Sunday's Shoot

Two perfect scores of 35 points were recorded at the practice shoot on Garnett Valley rifle range on Sunday morning. At the 200 yard range Walt Cousins put all of his shots in the bulls-eye, and at 500 yards, George Dunsdon placed them all well inside of the centre circle. George was top scorer for the day with 100 points out of a possible 105 for the three ranges. Other scores were: Keith Simpson 94, Art Dunsdon 91, Ray Blagburn 91, Ted Flors 90, Phil Dunsdon 84, Ron Dunsdon 71, Phil Richardson 63, Walt Cousins 66, shot at two ranges only.

At the annual meeting of the club a motion was passed stating members must attend a minimum of four shoots during the season if they wish to compete for trophies at the final shoot in September. So all members, and prospective members with interests that prevent regular attendance are advised to commence practice as soon as possible.

As jubilee celebrations commence next Sunday, June 3, there will be no shooting on the range that day.

Weather No Barrier To Posse This Week

Summerland Board of Traders have a heart after all.

President "Soft-hearted Ken" last Saturday called off his posse searching out non-bearded men because the weather wasn't too good.

"You can't string a man up in the rain" observed the tender-hearted jubilee sheriff, "but one chance is all they get. This Saturday, come rain or snow, the vigilantes will be on the march and the barefaced will get what's coming to them."

Sound like he meant it, too.

Trip to Trinidad Related at Meeting

At the May meeting of the Summerland horticultural society, Mr. K. B. Thompson gave an account of the trip he and Mrs. Thompson made to Trinidad and Barbados last winter. The talk was illustrated with beautiful colored slides.

During the evening Miss Doreen Tait gave a demonstration of miniature arrangements. A plant sale was held. John Tait, former district horticulturist here and one of the founders of the horticultural society, spoke briefly to the meeting.

Winners in the parlour show were: Best box garden: Mrs. K. McKay, Miss Doreen Tait; spring flower arrangement: Mrs. K. McKay and Mrs. Alex Inch.

During the business part of the meeting it was decided that the ladies of the society would take on the work of decorating the Jubilee Memorial Hall with flowers during jubilee week.

Program for next month was discussed and it was decided that a talk on noxious weeds would be given. A class for miniature arrangements will be included in the parlour show.

All the ladies of the community are being urged to join in the spirit of the occasion and many have been busy during the past weeks studying old pictures for style ideas and stitching their own versions of 50-year-old fashions.

A large number have indicated they will be taking part in the fun and the appearance of old styles of the streets along with the substantial whisker crops in evidence will lend an authentic air to the jubilee celebrations.

The women are being asked to eschew modern styles from tomorrow until after the jubilee days.

Special Laminated Trusses Used In Framework of Occidental Plant

Several glued laminated timbers arrived here last week for use in the Occidental's new packing and processing plant here.

Fabricated by the New Westminster firm of American Fabricators Ltd. to the exact specification laid down by the architect, Roy W. Melkejohn of Penticton, the timbers include three unusually large clear span Glulam beams (9" by 35" by 60") and 12 continuous span Glulam beams (9" by 21 1/8 by 60"); the latter will go over 40' and 20' spans in the plant. Three smaller beams of 40, 45 and 46 feet length will be used in the canopy over the truck entrance.

Amfab is also producing to order 13 100' bow string roof trusses for the cold storage room. These exceptionally strong trusses have been designed to carry 5,000 lbs of refrigeration equipment suspended from their top chords, in addition to 40 lbs. per square foot snow load and the roof dead load.

Information given the census taker is kept in strict confidence as each has taken an oath of secrecy and personal information can be used only for compiling statistics and cannot be disclosed to any government agency or private organization or individual.

The decision recognized the importance of the role played by

Parliament Hill

By O. L. JONES

Parliament has just completed its second closure day. The normal day of a member of Parliament starts between 8:30 and 9:00 in the morning until 10 at night, with a break for lunch and dinner which makes a very long day but on Tuesday last, we remained on duty until 3:20 a.m. and very few members were able to reach their bedsides before 4:30 a.m.

I sometimes wonder if any good purpose is served by these lengthy hours as the speeches tend to become monotonous and mostly repetitious. However, the government has decided to force this bill through as quickly as possible in spite of the opposition to the curtailment of dignified discussion.

The pipeline bill has dominated parliament for the past week and will possibly continue for another week before it is finally disposed of.

The original intention of the government to advance 90 per cent of the cost of the project to an American controlled company has not been changed. Apparently for some reasons unknown this company is the only one being given any consideration although others have approached the government.

The strongest argument as yet is, according to the minister of trade and commerce, that this is the only company that has an option on a sufficient supply of 34 inch pipe to carry out the project. This statement was challenged by Stanley Knowles who claimed that the documents tabled in connection with this matter do not contain a firm contract for the supply of pipe.

Personally I do not think any firm holding and storing nearly two thousand miles of 34 inch pipe would hesitate to sell if approached by any other group whether it be the federal government or another pipeline company.

A short time ago, I brought up the question of cider manufacturing in the Okanagan Valley suggesting that the department of agriculture through its experimental stations and the co-operation of the department, of revenue could encourage the marketing of a carbonated cider with a low alcohol content similar to the type sold in the old country.

The report of my speech in various newspapers has brought a variety of letters from London, Ontario, Calgary, Burnaby, Okanagan Valley and other points all interested in being able to purchase a good clear cider in preference to beer and soft drinks. These letters have convinced me if we have a suitable product made from our cull apples the market is already waiting to absorb a large amount of good cider.

Last week, groups of high school young men and women from across Canada were visiting in Ottawa on an educational tour. The gathering was sponsored by various Rotary Clubs across the dominion who paid their way.

Once in Ottawa, the local club took charge of billets and entertainment of these students.

Dr. Black's son from Kamloops was sponsored by the Kamloops club had a very enjoyable and profitable visit. These tours take place each year and I hope that other Rotary Clubs in the interior will follow the lead of Kamloops, Creston, Vancouver and other clubs who this year sponsored several students. The students in turn are able to discuss and describe their experience in the parliament buildings, the mint and other departments of government on their return.

Mr. Stanley Knowles introduced a private bill seeking to change the election act. To extend the hour of polling. At present there is a great deal of confusion right across Canada at election time, chiefly caused by different polling hours set by the provinces and the federal government.

If a general election is held during daylight saving time, the voters do get the extra hour. But during other times and possibly this applies mainly to by-elections the polls close too early to allow a large percentage of workers to participate. The bill was opposed by the secretary of state, who pointed out that it is the duty of an employee who wants to vote to see that he is given the necessary time in which to exercise his right to vote.

Mr. Finlay pointed out that every employee is entitled to

The Real Reason . . . problem too often is internal STRIKES are never popular with the public. Few people probably realize that they aren't popular with most workers either.

Evidence that this is so comes from Magog, Quebec, where union leaders bent on strike action in a local industry, took three months to inveigle workers into supporting their wishes. Three full-scale meetings were required, together with a vigorous campaign of propaganda, before union members voted in favor of their leaders' demands for a strike vote.

Fear of losing their union cards, and being deprived by their labor bosses of their jobs, rather than any sense of injustice at the hands of management, is the main factor which causes strikes in most industrial disputes. A strike vote, or an actual strike, gives union bosses a chance to "strut their stuff" before the rank and file of union membership, most of whom are heartily opposed to strikes.

The Wrong Tree . . . danger lies in trade policies

MOST people are familiar with the silly spectacle of a dog on a squirrel chase, barking furiously up the tree where he imagines his impudent quarry to be concealed, when in fact the agile squirrel is perched cockily in another tree maybe half a mile away from his pursuer.

Right now a lot of Canadians are barking furiously about the danger of American investment in this country's resource industries. They fear that Canada is becoming far too dependent economically upon the United States.

The extent of Canada's economic dependence upon the United States is undoubtedly growing at an alarming rate. But the real danger lies not in US capital imports, which actually contribute to the country's economic growth, but rather in imports of US manufactured goods, which threaten the survival of Canada's important manufacturing industry.

Instead of worrying too much about US capital import, Canadians should be voicing with vigor their concern about Ottawa's outdated trade policies, which are not only increasing Canada's dependence on the United States at an alarming rate, but which make for imbalance and lack of stability in the national economy.

Mid-Week Message

I can do all things in him that strengthen me. (Philippians 4:13, A.S.V.) Read Revelation 3:20-22.

Some while ago I knew a man who was outstanding in business. He told me that on one occasion he had secured an order for one million dollars' worth of merchandise.

When I visited him in his last illness, he calmly stated to me, "I have accomplished nothing." Knowing what I did of him, I could not refute his confession. He had poured time, talent, and energy into effort to achieve success as a salesman. During all the years he pursued it, Christ was left standing on the outside of his life. Now the man was passing out of this world a successful businessman — but nothing more than that.

One day each of us will be faced by death. We shall die as we have lived. Are we living now in the Christian way? Is our work undertaken in the spirit of dependence upon God? Is our work such that we accomplish it with the added blessing of Christ's approval and strength? If our lives are hid in Christ, we can do all things in Him who strengthens us.

PRAYER

O Father, in ourselves we cannot live victoriously, as Thou wouldst have us live. Teach us to put our faith in Thee and so go forth in life under the guidance of Thy will and blessed by Thy strength. In our Saviour's name, Amen.

EXILED TO ELYSIUM

When Archbishop Mackarios was exiled from the Island of Cyprus to the Seychelles Islands, that action by the British government was severely criticized by many people and likened to the Soviet practice of liquidating political deviates. The comparison is away off the mark. If Cyprus had been occupied by Soviet Russia the Archbishop would never have been allowed to start any trouble in the first place. If he had been lucky enough to evade the firing squad, he would probably have been mercifully shipped off to Siberia. He is very fortunate in his present exile, for he has been transported to an earthly paradise.

The Seychelles are a group of islands forming a British crown colony in the Indian Ocean, 800 miles east of Zanzibar, Africa. The islands are out of the cyclone belt and are free from malaria, and their climate is salubrious. Sir Walter Besant, the novelist, in his autobiography, gave a charming description of those islands as he viewed them from the ship while cruising in that part of the world. His description so impressed me when I read it many years ago that I condensed and transposed it with little alteration into the following prose poem:

The Languorous Isles

"Leaving behind the Scotia's rock-bound coast, we steered south and, in the following dawn, hailed on the far horizon the Seychelles! There may be other islands in the world more beautiful than those, but I have seen nought to compare with them for loveliness, for the wonder and the magic of the hills that slope down to the sea, thick clad with trees and gorgeous color.

"In those tropic isles the sun knows but one season, and the year is one long summer. The encircling sea, having the feet of those Elysian hills, glows with an inner light, so crystal clear that we could see, far down beneath the ship, a tangled forest lying motionless, while lazily above the weeds there rolled the sable form of an enormous shark.

"The Islanders they say, are languorous; and those who go there in pursuit of trade lose all ambition and desire for wealth; they care for nothing in the outer world. Warmed through and through, they lie there in the shade, breathing the cool, sweet breezes from the sea. Life comes unsought, it lasts a little while, then goes away—where? No one knows and no one cares. Life is, that is all. What more can one desire? The whence or whither, why should one enquire?"

Personally, I can't feel a bit sorry for the Archbishop in his exile from that distracted island in the Mediterranean. His people should be grateful that they are under British rule and protection. They have more freedom and security as a British colony than they ever had before in their long and chequered history. The withdrawal of Britain from Cyprus might bring the Archbishop back from the Seychelles, but it might well result eventually in Soviet occupation and forced emigration of the rebellious Cypriots to the unsalubrious plains of Siberia.

The Lighter Side

The human body is remarkably sensitive. Pat a man on the back, and his head swells.

To admit ignorance is to display wisdom.

No two people are alike, and both of them are glad of it.

THE HORSES END

Oh, horse, you are a wondrous thing.
No horns to honk, no bells to ring;
No licence buying every year, with
Plates to screw on front and rear.

No spark to miss, no gears to strip,
No gas bills mounting every day
To steal the joy of life away.
Your spark plugs never miss nor fume;

Your motor never makes us cuss,
Your frame is good for many a mile,
Your body never changes style.

Your wants are few and easily met,
You've something on the old truck yet.
Your just as tough in every feat,
We hate the thought that you we'll eat!

Financial Problems?

Credit Unions are designed to solve the financial problems of people, and members find that financial worry is removed by managing their own thrift and lending services. This results in higher standards of work, peace of mind and a general improvement in the standard of living.

Credit Unions serve the people in the best Canadian tradition. Membership-owned-controlled and operated, they help their members solve their own financial problems, by encouraging thrift and the wise use of credit, they contribute to the welfare not only of their own group, but also of the whole nation.

Miscellaneous Memories

Looking back over the years and conjuring up memories, one so often finds that it is the small things that are usually indelibly imprinted on the mind.

In wartime Britain, there were so many things that had become so woven into the pattern of daily round, that they were accepted as part of most people's lives. The blackout, rationing, waiting Minnie, Lord Haw Haw, the pub and the American soldier and airmen who thronged the villages, cities and towns, all these mirrored the country at war. The blackout was indeed a necessity, nevertheless, this had a most depressing influence on the moral of the individual. The windows of private houses were draped with heavy curtains, with not a chink of light to be seen. All window lights in shops were switched off before sunset and in the winter the lack of light made a journey, from point to point, a very precarious business.

As to Wailing Minnie, few people would deny that she indeed holds a lasting place in the memory of those whose lot it was to hear her so frequently, at all hours of the day and night.

The writer confesses, that even here in Summerland, the wail of the fire siren never fails to strike a chill to the heart. Maybe it will pass.

In the early days the American contingents were but a very small trickle which soon swelled the towns and villages of the countryside.

Bicycles were in the main their means of transportation and indeed, they took to these like a duck to water, it could have been that in their own land the automobile was far too common, or perhaps the novelty of this propelling themselves under their own steam as it were, proved too ir-repressible. Soon khaki clad figures were to be seen in every village and hamlet, in the country lanes, in the pub and arm in arm with the village belle.

No effort was spared to make the GI feel that he was an honored and welcome guest, as indeed he was. It is good to know that friendly relations thus engendered continue to be a major aim of Commonwealth policy.

Tommy Handley of the Itma radio program, will never be forgotten at least by this generation. No matter what the next few hours might bring, millions tuned in and listened to his topical and clean humor over the air.

In the street, the shelter, the shops, offices, works and services, was constantly heard his skits and funny remarks. Tommy and his famous characters such as Colonel Chinstrap, Fump and the rest, knew, understood and interpreted the yearnings and feelings of almost every individual. People wanted to forget, if only for a brief hour or so, the destruction, the horror and anxieties of war. His sudden passing came as a tremendous shock to the people of the United Kingdom and almost everyone felt the personal loss of a well loved friend.

Much could be written of rationing. It was fair in that the food available went, if only in small portions and quantities, to everyone. Fortunate indeed were the people who received food parcels from overseas. However, it was hard indeed on the housewife, who invariably went without the essential foods such as eggs, meat and the like, so that the children should have them.

The women of Britain did a grand job of work in scheming, skimping, make do and mend, and providing appetizing and sustaining meals for their families.

This was far from being the only part they played. In the civil defence central centres, in the plotting rooms of the services, on the anti-aircraft sites and in almost every walk of life they were all out, making a valuable contribution to victory.

In next week's notes, the last of this series, the writer will outline other matters of general interest that come to mind, such as the queue and the effect and strain that it imposed on the individual, and especially the housewife, in her everlasting search to break the monotony of the daily diet, in an age of austerity now happily buried in oblivion.

Sea Rangers

If anyone were to look in at our group gathered about the conference table each week at the Youth Centre, he or she would wonder if we were really Sea Rangers! However, on closer observation one would find each girl working industriously on either her lanyard or jubilee decorations. These have been the main projects for May along with the following activities: A visit to the Mountain View Home, selling cookies during the Girl Guide cookie week, and serving tea at the Brownie Fly-Up ceremony.

We have welcomed three new members to our group, making a total number of 13. Won't someone please change this number?

Two Rangers are looking forward to the exchange visit with the Campfire girls in Wenatchee, June 8-10. This is an excellent opportunity for these girls to visit our neighboring "sisters" and from all reports Wenatchee hospitality is of the very best.

An opportunity to learn more is given by an invitation to the Ranger Training week-end to be held in Vancouver June 2 and 3. This is extended to all Ranger groups and it is hoped that Summerland will have at least one representative.

Good Rangering, everyone.
—Skipper

Central Committee To Set Labor Rates

At the British Columbia's Fruit Growers' Association's annual convention last January a resolution was passed recommending the appointment of a central labor committee.

This committee would deal with the problems of orchard labor on an industry wide basis. In past years there have been orchard labor committees in the three separate areas covered by the northern, central and southern district councils, BCFGA. The the national employment offices, had to work in their respective areas without knowledge of what was going on in other districts.

The new central labor committee includes in its membership representatives of three district councils. It will work closely with the national employment service and the federal-provincial farm labor service.

The committee will canvass the labor requirements of the entire tree fruit area, and find who help is available and where.

A meeting of the committee was held in Kelowna this week when a decision was reached regarding minimum wage rates. These have been submitted to the district councils for their consideration.

Urge Care In Woods To Prevent Fires

We must be careful with fire. Forest fires can change green hills into black wastelands by destroying in a few hours trees that may have taken centuries to grow.

Forest fires do considerable damage every year in British Columbia in spite of the efforts of the British Columbia forest service and the forest industry. In the decade 1944-1953, on the average 330,000 acres were burned over annually. In 1953, a relatively favorable year, approximately $3,600,000 was spent by government and industry protecting British Columbia's forests from fire. Without this expenditure, damage could have been incalculably greater than it was in 1953.

It is recognized by foresters that controlled fire can be a faithful servant and that uncontrolled fire can be a terrible enemy. The people of British Columbia should learn something about how and why forest fires start, and what can be done to control them because British Columbia forests provide many benefits as well as a major portion of the provincial income. The people of this province should do everything possible to protect their forests by reducing the damage from man-caused fires.

with the HOME TEAM

Less than two months after she was rushed to the controversial Hoxsey clinic in a last hope attempt to check cancer, 13-year old Elizabeth Graham passed away last night at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Graham.

The family took the little girl to the clinic in Dallas, Texas, early in April after Vancouver doctors had abandoned hope for her recovery. After a week at the Hoxsey Clinic she was returned home with a supply of herbal medicine with instructions to return in six months. The family held out dim hope that the treatment might effect a recovery but her condition has steadily worsened since she returned home.

She was a pupil in grade 6 of MacDonald school and a member of Free Methodist Sunday School.

Besides her mother and father she leaves a twin sister, Margaret, and a brother, Donald.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Free Methodist Church with Rev. J. H. James and Rev. Angel of Kelowna officiating.

MORE ABOUT

Inland in bringing natural gas to British Columbia.

In detail the decision authorized Inland to build the lateral transmission lines from the west coast transmission line to serve Prince George, Quesnel, Williams Lake and Merritt, and to build a major transmission line from the west coast transmission line at Savona to Kamloops and thence through the Okanagan Valley to Osoyoos, Grand Forks and the Rossland, Trail, Nelson area, with branch line to serve Armstrong, Enderby and Salmon Arm.

The company has also been authorized to distribute gas in 25 communities in the Cariboo, Okanagan Valley and West Kootenay areas and to sell gas to the Prince George Gas Co. Ltd., under the terms of a contract to be agreed upon by the two companies. Failure of the contract will be in Peach Orchard cemetery.

Roselawn Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

ing agreement the public utilities commission will settle the terms of the contract. The authorization proves that the Prince George Gas Co. will pay for its gas at a rate which will provide part of the cost of Inland's entire transmission system.

The Prince George Gas Co. has been authorized to distribute gas in Prince George provided it can prove financial feasibility and can secure the consent of the city of Prince George in the altered circumstances whereby it must purchase its gas from Inland.

Mr. McMahon said he was very pleased with the decision and indicated that between now and the fall of 1957 Inland will spend about $22 million in the construction of its transmission and distribution facilities. By 1960 the total expenditure will be about $28 million.

Mr. McMahon said that aerial surveys have almost been completed to locate the pipeline facilities. The company has been assured of financing and the public offering of the securities will be made on or about September 1. Ford, Bacon and Davis Canada

Know Fire Laws Before Woods Trip

Everyone whose work or recreation take him into our forests should be familiar with the forest fire law, not merely because it is the law but because it is so obviously the right thing to do.

Briefly summarized, the forest fire law sets from the first of this month to October 31 as the closed season, during which permits must be obtained from the local forest ranger or officer before starting any campfire or clearing or industrial fire within a half mile of any forest or woodland. Under the law it is illegal to build a campfire within 10 feet of a log, stump, snag or standing tree. All inflammable material must be cleared away for a distance of three feet in every direction from the edge of every campfire and every campfire must be totally extinguished before leaving.

Lighted matches must also be totally extinguished before being thrown away.

Able-bodied citizens must help in fighting forest fires when called upon by a duly authorized officer.

It is the duty of every adult resident of B.C. discovering a fire to do his utmost to prevent it from spreading and report it as quickly as possible.

Violations of the provincial fire law may bring fines of from $25 to $300 or imprisonment for up to two years.

Teen Town Topics
RUTH GRONLUND

The "Teen Queen Swing" went over big last Saturday night although it started out slowly. The voting table seemed to be occupied all the time by voters and "who should I vote for?" At 10 the polls closed and votes were counted. The Queen and her two princes then left to change into beautiful formal, which they wore for the crowning. They were each given a corsage and the Queen was given a bouquet of flowers. It was a tense moment for all teentowners when our beautiful Queen Darlene Bonthoux and her two princesses Nellie Huva and Pat Boyd were escorted to the platform where our mayor Harold Biollo crowned Miss Teentown of 1956. The crowning ceremony ended with the dancing of the Queen's waltz.

The music for the evening was recorded and refreshments were sold during the evening.

The hall was decorated with streamers on the ceiling and the stage had crepe paper fanned out from the centre to the sides. An enjoyable time was had by all.

We wish to express sincere appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. D. Wilson, Mrs. Bonthoux and Mrs. Biollo for sponsoring the dance.

Joanne Vaughan, Garnet Grimaldi Repeat Vows in Naramata Wedding

A popular member of the community was principal in a pretty Naramata wedding on May 19 when Joanne Helen Vaughan, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Allan Vaughan of Naramata, became the bride of Charles Garnet Grimaldi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grimaldi of Naramata.

The ceremony took place at the home of the groom's parents and Rev. G. G. Harris officiated.

The bride was wearing a white box-style suit with tiny black fleck and a white pill box hat and white accessories. Her jewelry consisted of matching rhinestone necklace and earrings and she carried a bouquet of red roses with lily of the valley.

Her bridesmaid, Miss Shirley Wilson of Naramata was wearing a black box-style suit with white fleck in identical style to that of the bride and pink accessories. She was wearing a pink carnation corsage.

Groomsman was Earl W. Gokey of Victoria.

The table before which the ceremony was performed was decorated with white wedding bells and pink and white streamers extending to the ceiling.

A reception followed the nuptial rites and the toast to the bride was proposed by Emery L. Scott. Assisting in serving were Misses, Norma Arndt, Esther Huva, Sandy Gokey and Joy Heather Vaughan.

Following the reception the justweds left for a motor trip to the U.S. They will make their future home in Summerland. The groom is with the provincial forestry department while the bride is on the staff of the Bank of Montreal.

Fear Canada's Expansion Programs May Be Curtailed by Higher Prices

There is an inflationary potential in Canada's seven and a half billion dollar capital investment program for 1956 that warrants careful study of monetary authorities, says the Bank of Montreal. With a number of materials necessary for the fulfillment of the program already in short supply, there is a danger, states the review, that an attempt to carry out these investment plans will result in a competitive bidding up of prices.

The B of M review also raises the question of whether the contemplated capital investment can be fully realized, coming as it does when business is already operating at or near capacity. The seven and a half billion program forecast by the government shows "a remarkable increase of nearly 21 per cent over the amount actually spent on capital investment in 1955, which was itself a record year with a total some 11 per cent higher than in 1954."

A table accompanying the review shows that the rise in outlays slated for 1956 is spread over almost every sector of the economy in contrast to last year, when more than half of the increase over 1954 was attributable to residential construction. Utilities and manufacturing are expected to show the greatest increases in outlays with housing experiencing only a small rise.

Plans in the pulp and paper industry call for expenditures nearly double those of 1955, the review notes, while in chemicals an almost threefold increase is contemplated. "Other important increases are scheduled in nonmetallic minerals, iron and steel and non ferrous metal products." In mining and petroleum a rise of more than a third is in prospect.

It would be optimistic, the B of M says, to expect an expansion in domestic supplies large enough to fill the demand for the wide variety of materials necessary to meet Canada's investment program, since industries producing machinery and construction materials are already operating at a very high level. The realization of current plans will, therefore, depend to a significant extent on supplies from other countries. "There has in fact," the review observes, "been a sharp rise in imports during recent months, the total in the seven months from July to January being 24 per cent higher than a year earlier."

The B of M describes the Bank of Canada's policy of restraining credit during the past nine months as "a 'classical' response to a situation in which demand for capital resources tends to outstrip the supply," and adds, "The traditional role of tighter money under such conditions is twofold.

"Dearer money presumably acts in some measure as a deterrent to capital expenditure and thus reduces the pressure of domestic demand for goods and services." Secondly, the rise in interest rates in Canada to a higher level than that in the U.S., may encourage Canadians to turn to the New York market for long term funds and make investment in Canada more remunerative to outside investors. The resulting inward movement of capital should therefore, increase the supply of foreign exchange to pay for higher merchandise imports.

"There seems little doubt," the B of M concludes, "that the program of capital investment outlined in the government's forecast is more than sufficient to keep the economy operating at full capacity. And if through monetary and fiscal measures, part of the proposed capital expenditure could be postponed until the supply of necessary materials and equipment becomes more plentiful, it may be possible to objective of prolonging prosperity while avoiding the strain of inflation."

Clever Cooking

Braised Veal Chops Steaks and Cutlets

These smaller cuts of veal—chops, steaks and cutlets—may be cooked by dry heat in the oven, or panfried on top of the stove but for real perfection the suggestion is braising. This means browning the meat in a small amount of fat, then cooking it slowly either in juices from the meat or in added liquid, in a covered utensil. Braising is one of the cooking methods recommended for tenderizing meat. It is also used when special seasonings are to be cooked with the meat for it allows flavor to penetrate more thoroughly.

To braise veal chops, steaks or cutlets, brown the meat in two to four tablespoons fat over moderate heat, allowing four to five minutes each side. Season with salt and pepper. Sprinkle both sides with flour and brown again slightly. Add liquid (water, tomato juice or vegetable liquid) to a depth of one quarter inch. Stir well and turn meat. Cover and simmer on top of stove or cook in moderately slow, 325, oven.

Loine and rib chops—half inch—10 to 12 minutes each side. 1-inch—20 to 22 minutes each side.

Shoulder chops and steaks—half inch—18 to 20 minutes each side. 1-inch—28 to 30 minutes each side.

Cutlets—18 to 20 minutes each side.

three hours time and the employer must make those hours available to him. He felt that under the circumstances the voter may not exercise his right to vote simply because the act is amended to give him an additional hour on polling day.

After a short debate this matter was dropped and the secretary of state said that he had no particular objection to the change and that the subject matter would be reviewed.

Several questions have been asked recently regarding shipments of Canadian planes to different parts of the world, particularly in view of the trouble in the middle east not long ago when Harvard Trainers were shipped to Egypt. Since then, Israel has applied for a permit to purchase planes from Canada but the permit has been delayed pending discussion by the cabinet. Such was the announcement made by Mr. Pearson, minister of external affairs.

Mr. Pearson further announced that a permit has been issued approving the sale of six super jet aircraft by the Canadair Company and will be shipped to Columbia with the necessary spares and maintenance parts. The question of shipping planes has been under strong criticism resulting in the government entering more carefully into requests made by these nations, than was the custom only three or four years ago.
