

According To The Mood

By Sid Godber

Thought the other day that I had mislaid my driver's license — after searching every pocket, every drawer, looking in places likely and unlikely I had to accept the fact that it was not mislaid but lost. Duly reported same to the police and filled application for another license. Funny part about the incident was that in searching for the current license, only renewed a few months ago, I came across an English license issued to me in 1923.

Couldn't help but wonder how such a small chunk of paper about three inches by two inches has survived but there it was tucked away in that Pandora's chest of a wallet of mine.

Nineteen twenty-three — that was the year of the big general strike — nine days! I think it lasted and if those nine days didn't shake the world, they certainly shook England.

There were some ugly incidents but the inherent stability of the English kept the nation from anarchy. Remember seeing a convoy of food coming from the London docks under escort of the military, including a Guards battalion. Strikers lined the route and cheered the soldiers. In most other countries under similar circumstances they would have been throwing rocks.

That 1923 license — that was the year I started off with my sidekick on a hiking tour, planned for southern France. Instead we landed up in Paris and stayed there through the two weeks holiday. First and last time I ever lived like a millionaire. Rate of exchange was fantastically in favor of the pound sterling and so on reporter's pay we lived high on the hog.

Henry hadn't made a lady out of lizzie in those days. Even at that I wasn't in the car class — a motor cycle was my limit. Didn't get to own a car until I came to Canada. First one I ever had was an ancient Star. A good car except that the front axles had the habit of breaking. Happened to me twice. First time I was rolling along on a gravel road in Saskatchewan when suddenly I saw an unattached wheel racing ahead of the car. It all happened in a flash, the next thing I was ploughing in a wheat field.

Second time it happened I finished up in a slough.

Oldest internal combustion powered contraption I ever had anything to do with was a 1907 White truck. A gyppo logging outfit up the coast was held up for a driver. I volunteered. It was three miles from the salt chuck to the spar tree and that three miles was mostly straight up, but the road itself was all corkscrew.

I don't think I was ever in more danger — war and peace — than on that old White truck. It was a man killer.

I stuck it for two weeks then, when the load slipped and a log poked through the cab, I called it a day.

About two months later I was at the wharf when I saw the boss logger bringing his boat in. I caught his line and said "Hi Ollie — how's that man killer truck of yours?"

Ollie just looked at me, then as I took the stern line I saw a pair of logger's boots sticking out from under a blanket. Yes, the truck, or perhaps that incredible apology for a logging road had claimed a victim — the boss' son, who had taken over driving the truck when I quit.

Thinking back, those model "T" days were good days — they were the days when a man could do his own repairs. Could run into trouble, too. I undertook to reline a Ford transmission one time, but, being something of a butterfingers, I dropped a nut into the casing. I thought maybe it would lie harmlessly in the bottom of the pan and finished putting lizzie together again. She ran fine until we hit a bump and then a teeth edging crunch, 'clatter-bang.'

And, if nothing else, this column goes to prove that nothing is completely lost. For example I lost a driver's license and gained, for better or worse, a column.

Twenty-Third Year Of Farm Pumping Service

W. R. POWELL

June 21 was the 23rd anniversary of the official opening of the pumping plant for the Experimental Station. At that time presentations were made to Reeve and Mrs. W. R. Powell and Mrs. Powell officially turned on the pump.

Summerland today enjoys an excellent water supply and no storage dams have been opened to date this year.

To go back into the interesting history the following story was taken from the files of The Review, June 28, 1934.

There was a long wearisome struggle between the time that the idea of getting the Experimental Station onto a water supply of its own was seized and the day the plan went into effect.

W. R. Powell was, at the or-

Building Figures for First Six Months Up Substantially Over '56

Last year was a big building year for Summerland but if the pace in the first six months of this year continues unabated 1957 will far exceed the year 1956 in business activity.

Cold Night For Annual Band Concert

The 5th annual High School Band Concert on Saturday night was excellent though the evening was so cold that the players were shivering and spectators listened from cars.

This took the place of the annual concert which has been held formerly in the auditorium.

A large crowd gathered but gradually dispersed as the cold and wind increased.

The regular monthly building report submitted by Building Inspector Roy Angus, disclosed that at the half year mark 75 permits have been issued to the amount of $210,000, as against 56 permits to the amount of $183,120, issued in the first six months of 1956.

In June 17 permits were issued for a value of $70,325 as compared with 14 permits for $47,510, issued in June 1956. Major item in the 1957 June totals is the United Church additions valued at $35,600.

The old cannery stove was heated for capacity work and smoke belched from its pipe as it co-operated to make the evening a great success.

Kiwanians and Kiwassas, too, worked as fast as they could to serve twice as many as expected at the Pancake Supper on Saturday night. In the picture may be seen, left to right, Mrs. John Dunn, J. E. In front Mrs. Lloyd Shannon pauses a second from her dishwashing operations.

Boys Roll Big Rock Down Bank, Smash North Main

New Store Block Handsome Addition to Main Street

Summerland's Granville St., has been improved tremendously by the new building erected by Gordon Ritchie which is to house Read and Pruden's, Green's Drug Store and a jewellery store to be opened shortly by Crannas of Pen-ticton.

Verrier's Meat Market will re-open in the former Drug Store, it is said.

The new building is one-storey cement block structure. Each of the business places have fine big windows and the front is faced with cut granite in soft colors of grey, pink and green. Colored slates are built into each sidewalk entrance.

Sun protection is given by pale green corrugated glass which forms a modern type awning.

Last word in lighting is used throughout the three sections, and attractive decor is to be put into each interior.

Half of the district was without irrigation water for part of Monday and yesterday as the result of $1,000 damage caused when a rock or rocks were rolled down the hill just above the north main, breaking the flume. It is alleged that the damage was deliberate and caused by two boys between the ages of 13 and 15.

Prairie Valley residents in the Grant subdivision heard the crash as the huge rock broke through and water started pouring down the hill on the property of J. I. Nelson in a rushing stream to the road below.

K. M. Blagborne, who was phoned at the time of the crash, lost no time in getting to the scene, arriving from his home at the entrance to Garnett Valley as the water started to run on the road.

J. Helchert, the ditchman for the area had patrolled the spot four times that day before the flume was broken at 2.15 p.m.

The story is that two boys were rolling rocks into the flume in the morning as well as having sent eight or ten planks down it. G. D. Smith, municipal clerk, heard the noise in the flume at his home in Parkdale in the morning and he and K. M. Blagborne went to the siphon box in Jones Flat which was topped, also.

Strange manifestations on Giant's Head, the huge rock which towers protectively above West Summerland, the sunniest spot in the sunny Okanagan, have been interpreted by students of Giant's lore here to mean the Giant of Giant's Head is stirring from his centuries-long sleep and that the reappearance, foretold in song and legend, will take place this year.

The wise men of Summerland have declared that the Giant will make his appearance on August 31, the Saturday before the Labor Day holiday.

Such is the belief here in the prophecies of the wise men that the Summerland Board of Trade has changed the date of its annual Summerland Day celebration to co-incide with the scheduled date of the Giant's reappearance. A monster celebration is in the planning, for the Giant is believed to be a benign Giant, and a protector of Summerland.

The strong acquiline features of the Giant are carved into the massive rock known far and wide as Giant's Head. Legend has it that the Giant himself chiselled his own likeness in the rock, but no matter how it got there, there it is, a giant profile which has stood guard over the area now known as Summerland from the time when the earth was very young.

Exulting over the anticipated return of the Giant the Summerland Board of Trade is out to make the accompanying celebration worthy of the occasion. Plans are now being made for a fruit fair, an open air fruit market at which the products of this famous Okanagan fruit growing district will be on display and for sale.

It is anticipated that tourists enjoying the last outing of the summer will welcome the opportunity to load up with quality fruits at this grower's market. There will be displays of canned fruits, fruits graded and packed from the packinghouses; colored films of the fruit industry—tours of packing houses and canneries — and revolving around the fruit market will be a variety of entertainment including band concerts, folk dancing, square dancing, hobby shows, a giant barbecue and a championship horseshoe tournament.

The fruit fair is expected to be opened on the Saturday morning and will be continued through Monday.

Although roadside fruit stands are plentiful in the Okanagan this will be the first fruit fair and market ever staged.

Cooperation of grower organizations at all levels has been assured and all signs point to the Summerland Fruit Fair becoming one of the major events of the Okanagan Valley year.

It is also understood that the Summerland Centennial Celebration Committee will take the opportunity on August 31st to invite the Giant back for the Centennial celebrations in 1958.

Desecration of Local Cemetery

A report has been received at The Review that children are desecrating the municipal cemetery in Peach Orchard by running over the graves, breaking flower containers, and creating disorder. The suggestion was made that perhaps parents are not aware of what their children are doing, and should take more care to find out, as it is not thought that anyone in Summerland would want to have the cemetery desecrated.

Every year the Parks' Board spend part of their appropriation in trying to improve the cemetery site, which is a dry and difficult spot, and it is hoped to gradually make it on a par with cemeteries in other places.

Acts of violation do nothing to encourage those in charge. RCMP say that willful damage to property is a punishable offence, and on summary conviction a fine up to $500 may be imposed.

Britain Is Very Much Alive

(Reprinted from the Christian Science Monitor)

British Ambassador Sir Harold Caccia went out to Chicago the other day to talk about Great Britain. He used a note of humor in his presentation but there was an undercurrent of deep seriousness. There is a kind of feeling in the United States today that Britain is "finished." (Actually there is less of this talk than many self-conscious Britons think there is, but in any case it is wise to face the matter frankly among friends, and have it out.)

Alittle wryly the ambassador observed that about once in every generation somebody predicts the downfall of Britain. He remembered a number of people preaching that doctrine in the dark days of 1940. To be sure Britain and the members of the Commonwealth stood alone — all alone — against Hitler. The men of Vichy, Sir Harold recalled, said that England would soon "have her neck wrung like a chicken." Heigho! There was a man named Winston Churchill then, too, remember? He had some observations to make about Britain at the time.

It was good, he said, to hear every now and then of a friend's accomplishments. The British ambassador did this in Chicago gently but impressively. Americans who have come almost subconsciously to assume that they are the leaders in most fields of technical progress might note his comments.

Consider some of the leading discoveries of the mid-twentieth century.

Who discovered the atomic nucleus? Why, it was British natural scientists.

How about vitamins? and silicones?—the British too.

It was the British who pioneered the invention of the radio tube ("valve" to Sir Harold) and radar, yes, and the jet engine.

The British ambassador was too diplomatic to mention it but he might have pointed out that Britain may have a secret or two to share with the United States about atomic power. Britain is the third nation that has the H-bomb, and while that is a dreadful symbol, it does illustrate that the technical progress in the United Kingdom is not exactly elementary. The attitude of some of the Atomic Energy Commissioners and congressmen here in Washington is that the United States must hug the "monopoly" of its technical secrets to its breast, that no other nation could possibly have any inventions of its own to swap. Well, time passes quickly in technology.

Britain has instituted the first atomic power reactor in commercial use, somewhat ahead of the United States.

The jet engine—? One British firm alone now holds over half the free world's orders for civil turbo-jet and turbo-propeller air engines. Another British engine maker has developed the most powerful jet engine in the world — the gyron.

"Many of the planes in your air force," Sir Harold pointed out, politely, "are flying with engines that are British-designed or adapted from British designs. Your Navy uses the angled deck, mirror landing devices, and steam catapults on aircraft carriers, all developed from British inventions."

This is no ignoble boasting by a visitor, nor is it an example of "one-upmanship" to pander to national pride. It is a quiet reminder that Britain is very much alive and that anybody who underestimates her (whether friend or foe, does so at his own risk.

Sir Harold Caccia did permit himself one smiling comment at the end of this list of accomplishments. "Let me throw in for good measure," he observed, "that we hold the official world's air, land, and water speed records."

Trade Board Asks Growers' Co-operation

Summerland is seeking its place in the sun of publicity. As announced on page one of this issue, plans are being completed for the holding of a Summerland Fruit Fair on August 31, September 1 and 2.

The venture is being undertaken by the Summerland Board of Trade, but to ensure success the co-operation of the growers is required.

In effect, what the Board of Trade is offering is an opportunity for Summerland growers to cash in on the tourist business during the Labor Day weekend.

But the motive for the event goes deeper, insofar as the Summerland Board of Trade is hopeful that the fruit fair will become famous and that it will be an annual event publicising Summerland, publicising the tree fruit industry and in some measure educating the buying public.

Response to the idea of a Summerland Fruit Fair, which incidentally sprang from the fertile brain of hardware merchant Ceece Wade, has so far been gratifying.

B.C. Tree Fruits, BCFGA, Board of Governors, and local packinghouse officials have all given the event their blessing and promised varying degrees of co-operation and participation.

This response from grower organizations is deeply appreciated, but likewise it imposes a stern duty upon the Board of Trade and that is to see to it that everything about the Summerland Fruit fair, is absolutely tops.

Nothing must be shoddy — fruit must be of high quality and attractively displayed and the consumer's satisfied.

To ensure a sustained influx of potential customers the Board of Trade is planning a whirlwind program of entertainment which will revolve around the fruit market.

At the present time it appears that only two things are now required to ensure of Summerland's Labor Day weekend Fruit Fair taking its place as one of the outstanding events of the valley tourist season and that is co-operation of the growers in taking over market stalls and the good offices of the weatherman on the big weekend.

Growers who are interested are invited to talk with stall committee chairman Ceece Wade at the earliest opportunity.

Here is one of those rare opportunities for a grower to help his community, help the industry generally and also to directly help himself.

Not To Be Considered

Damage to property is often written off and forgiven with a wry smile and the comment "thoughtlessness of youth," but the phrase "thoughtlessness of youth" cannot be invoked to excuse or condone the Monday episode which saw a large section of flume damaged, a large area of orchard land inundated and eroded, as the direct result of juveniles prying a huge rock loose and sending it hurtling down a steep bank.

The episode smacks more of malicious forethought and deliberate planning as, apparently, it required considerable digging to loosen the huge rock which crashed through the flume.

Apart from the spot damage a large area of Summerland was without water for more than 36 hours. Fortunately, thanks to the weather, trees and gardens did not suffer by this cutting off of irrigation, but even so the inconvenience to households was extreme and aggravating.

Any group of youngsters old enough and big enough to pry loose the big rock must have appreciated to the full what was likely to happen.

No, the act cannot be written off as one of thoughtlessness and at the very best can only be described as irresponsible.

Municipal officers take a very serious view of the happening and have warned that they will prosecute to the full extent of the law anyone proven to have tampered with or damaged the irrigation mains.

This warning should be heeded by the parents who, in the last analysis, are responsible for the actions of their offspring.

Parents cannot escape their responsibility, it is up to them to impress youthful minds with respect for property, public or private — it is up to them to see that the children they make behave at home — behave as well when abroad.

Slow Down And Live And Watch For Children

High speed and tired drivers are blamed for most summer highway accidents by the Canadian Highway Safety Conference in a reminder to Canadian motorists.

Learning to slow down and take it easy is the beginning of wisdom at the wheel, says the Conference which suggests the following code for safe driving:

- 1—Slow down at the first glimpse of children playing in the street.
- 2—Slow down at intersections, traffic circles, and railway and cattle crossings.
- 3—Slow down before entering city and town limits and any other crowded area.
- 4—Slow down for coffee breaks every 100 miles.
- 5—Slow down after dark and under bad weather or road conditions.
- 6—Slow down to give the other fellow a chance, even if he is only a pedestrian.
- 7—Slow down for greater comfort and less strain. You'll enjoy your trip more, and will survive it.

And remember this is school holiday time. Last week thousands of children left their classrooms full of happiness at the thought of two months away from studies. They will display the spirit of being carefree as only children can.

They will go to the playgrounds and parks, or play ball and other games on the streets; they will go to the beaches and spend a lot of time dashing in and out of the water, alternately basking in the hot summer sun and cooling off in the water.

How we all remember the happy days of childhood.

This season of the year offers a special

Mid-Week Message

NOT FOR HIS SIN BUT FOR OURS
Thought for Today: When Israel was a child, I loved him. Hos. 11:1.

Our second son was all boy, and usually three yards wide — ours and the neighbor's on either side. He was never a bad boy, but was thoughtlessly provoking. Sundays were always trying to him and to his parents. His boundless energy could not appreciate the laws of the Sabbath, and he was always getting into difficulty. We tried talking and reasoning with him. We tried various types of punishment. But what little success we had lasted but an hour or a day.

When he was about eleven, on the spur of the moment one particularly trying Sunday, I decided to try something radically different. I decided to make him give me a thorough whipping with an old belt. He started his new assignment in a halfhearted way. I knew that he must hurt me if the experiment was to be effective, so I told him if he did not do his best I would reverse the procedure. Reluctantly, he applied the leather with all his might, leaving some angry red welts. I firmly believe that experiment challenge to motorists to keep an extra lookout for the children, especially in the vicinities of play areas and resorts. Additional playground speed zones and other warnings will be erected to assist. But all of the warning signs are valueless unless the motorist is thoughtful enough to obey them, and to exercise extreme care when passing through the slow zones.

Lets all work extra hard this summer to keep our children alive and free from all sorts of traffic mishaps. They will all be just as happy to return to school in September. They will need to be alive and physically fit to do so. WATCH OUT FOR THE CHILDREN.

marked the turning point in our disciplinary problems with Ed. He did not become an angel overnight, but I detected from that day a greater reluctance to cause us trouble.

God showed us how terribly we have hurt him by sending His Son to die not for his sin but for ours.

PRAYER: Our loving heavenly Father, forgive us for the time our thoughtlessness has grieved thee. We thank thee for the love which sent thy Son to suffer, not for his sin but for ours. Accept our love and gratitude. Amen.

Over 200 Miles of Main Line Natural Gas Pipeline Now Laid

More than 200 miles of the Inland Natural Gas Co. Ltd. main transmission line through Interior B.C. has now been strung, the company announced today.

The 12-inch pipeline from Savona to Kelowna has been strung, and progress on the balance of the main line is keeping up to the schedules set by Ford Bacon & Davis Canada Ltd., Inland's engineer.

A total of 208 miles of main line was complete at June 15th and of this more than half had been completely cleaned up in keeping with local agreements to leave property in the condition it was in before pipe laying.

More than 152,000 feet of mains have been laid in Penticton and more than 400 individual services connected. Summerland has had 27,500 feet of mains laid. Kelowna, with the largest distribution footage, has more than 80 percent of its 185,000 feet complete with service connections going ahead full scale.

Kamloops has more than 107,000 feet of mains completed and Nelson 75,000 feet.

Before the distribution systems are completed, engineers and contractors will have used more than 1,300,000 feet of pipe to complete mains. Almost half of this footage has been installed.

Inland will complete its whole system this fall. In a short time new crews will speed construction of the main line between Nelson and Grand Forks. A present the Grand Forks area is the centre of major activity on the main line and the Kettle River will be crossed a total of eight times before the main line reaches Nelson.

Target date for the completion of the whole Inland system has been set to coincide with the turn-on of natural gas through the Westcoast Transmission Company Limited's "big inch" from the Peace River gas fields to lower British Columbia.

When it is completed the Inland system will represent a $30 million investment in British Columbia and will make natural gas service available to more than 200,000 British Columbians.

Seating in Arena To Be Installed

With J. P. Sheeley as spokesman, members of the Rink Association, George Stoll and C. H. Elsey attended the council meeting on June 25 to report that the Association was ready to install seats in the Arena.

Architects' plans were on display and it was announced that services of Ralph Blewett had been obtained to do the work.

The council appointed H. J. Wells as inspector for the installation and Mr. Wells asked to look over the plans, which was agreed. Mr. Wells was the municipality's inspector during installation of ice equipment.

The seating is to be built over the curling ice and specifications are such that no dust will fall through on the ice, it was stated.

Flowering Shrubs Have Great Value In Making an Attractive Community

(Concluded from previous issue)

Every city or town in British Columbia has usually one or more parks where the citizens can enjoy their leisure hours. value in that they can serve as. The parks have still another an object lesson in beautifying the home grounds of the citizens.

Cities in this valley have been advertised far and wide for their tourist attractions. No doubt many improvements have been made during the last decade. The attractiveness could still be greatly improved upon especially on the main approaches leading in and out of these cities. Judging from the developments that have taken place throughout the province, it would seem that the main requisite is a well developed highway. The main pleasure we have to offer traffic by these newly constructed highways is that derived from the sense of travelling over them at high speed.

A highway approaching city limits should offer more satisfaction and pleasure than most people derive from a sense of speeding. A well developed tourist camp is a good means if expressing community welcome and hospitality to visitors. Every transient stopping in our midst who is made to feel this comfort and welcome and consideration for his welfare proceeds on his way with a feeling of pleasure and satisfaction thus unconsciously becoming a perpetual booster for the community.

Besides the advertising value of tourist camps and the general satisfaction of the community in offering service to visitors, there is considerable economic value to be gained from tourists.

The tendency of tourists as time goes on will undoubtedly be to travel in a more leisurely manner. Frequently they will extend their visits several days where good service and real hospitality prevails and where scenic features are most enjoyable. No matter how well a tourist camp may provide for the prac-

At the request of weekly newspaper publishers, Ryerson has agreed to enrich this management course with such journalism subjects as reporting and feature writing, copy editing and page layouts, editorial page work, press photography and newspaper law. tical or utilitarian necessities of a camp if the combined effect of all these things with the landscape is not harmonious and pleasing to the eye, the grounds as a whole will never prove satisfactory.

Travelling through our valley the tourist negotiates curve after curve with steep cliffs blasted out during the recent road construction program, or dusty hillsides at every turn, till he grows weary of the monotony of it all and longs for more or less open wooded spaces.

Our provincial government has had the foresight to create many camp sites through the province and in a few years when the new plantings get properly developed they will provide natural beauty to the landscape as well as providing added facilities for the tourist.

The problem of developing a campsite is entirely different from that of a park. A domestic cultivated effect is wholly out of place in a campsite. Bridal wreath, lilacs and other exotic shrubs common about our homes are inappropriate for camp sites.

There the native shrubs as suggested by the plant growth already upon the property or environment should be used in wayward groups and masses rather than single specimens or lines that might suggest man's dominance and control of nature.

what will be the tourists' impressions be of the northern approach to our city? Yet this will probably be landscaped in the near future. The approach to the new bridge across the lake will lend itself to development and the harsh lines of graded roads may be softened by groups of shrubbery.

HAVE YOU PLANNED FOR THE DAY

YOU HAVE TO STOP WORKING?

Here's how you can look forward to it!

Enjoying your retirement depends on maintaining the standard of living you have established over the years. The Mutual Life of Canada's SECURITY PLAN will assure you an adequate income when your working days are over. Meanwhile, it protects your family should you die before reaching retirement age.

Even if the day you plan to retire still seems a long way off, it will pay you to make provision for it now. The younger you are when you take out the policy, the lower the premiums will be and the higher the dividends that will accumulate for you.

The Mutual Life of Canada representative in your community is a man whose advice in protecting your future is as valuable as your doctor's in protecting your health. Don't delay—ask him for further details on the Security Plan.

Elimination of Highway Danger Spot Is Urged

Okanagan Valley businessmen last week moved to needle the government into taking action to wipe out a perilous section of the Hope-Princeton highway

Okanagan and Boundary Association Boards of Trade executive meeting in Penticton, unanimously endorsed a Summerland resolution requesting Highways Minister Gagliardi to change the route of the road on Whipsaw Creek.

Lloyd Miller, presenting Summerland's complaint, said many serious accidents had occurred at that point on the highway. He urged the meeting to pass his board's resolution asking the highways department to put in a big fill, or reroute the road to avoid the present dangerous grade.

The entire executive agreed the department should do something about it quickly.

The meeting also discussed a landing field at the border. Osyoos and Cawston expressed interest in promoting the Canadian side, with Cawston favoring a site near Chopaka.

Growers Warned Not To Plant Moorpark 'Cots

B.C. Fruit Growers Association board of governors have expressed concern over a preponderance of Moorpark species of apricot trees planted by growers.

This is because this variety is not acceptable to commercial canners and also because there has been a gradual decline in home canning.

These facts have been stressed in a circular letter to growers from R. P. Walrod, general manager of B.C. Tree Fruits, Ltd. Mr. Walrod said the board recommends, for the time being at least, growers refrain from further Moorpark plantings, and that they concentrate on canner varieties, preferably Tiltons.

The BCTF manager said the 1955 tree census indicated a total of more than 201,000 apricot trees, with more than half in the one to five year group.

He said some losses had occurred as a result of the fall freeze in 1955, but many had been replaced in 1956 and 1957.

Further analysis showed the great majority of young plantings are comprised of fresh fruit varieties mainly Moorparks.

Mr. Walrod said there appeared to be sufficient potential demand for canner varieties to warrant planting of additional trees.

Urge HS Grads Hurry In $5000 Conference

Less than a month remains for high school graduates to enter the $5,000 weekly newspaper contest to prepare at Ryerson Institute of Technology, in Toronto, for a publishing career.

Ten bursaries of $500 each are being offered graduates to start them on a training program to prepare for a role in the weekly press. Contestants will write a 1,500-word essay on The Weekly Newspaper. Applications for the contest have been received from British Columbia to Newfoundland.

Students will register in Printing Management, a course designed to teach students the management of the printing industry. Former graduates have become estimators, equipment salesmen, ink, paper and supply salesmen, assistants to superintendents, production controllers, at starting salaries ranging from

United Church Plans Social, July

The Summerland United Church W.A. will hold an Ice Cream Social and Bake Sale at the home of Mrs. W. H. Durrick on July 26th, Mrs. J. C. Wilcox convening the social, and Mrs. E. E. Bates and Mrs. H. Allison in charge of the bake table. It is hoped the weather will cooperate in making this a duplication of last year's enjoyable evening for the residents of Summerland.

"Integrity" based on the life of Job, was the theme of the devotional led by Miss C. Mair at the June 17th meeting of the W.A.

Several volunteers offered their assistance both for the annual cleanup at Camp Sorec, and for the packing of dishes, etc., in preparation for the building programme now taking place.

A reminder was given by acting president, Mrs. W. H. Durrick, to set aside some home canning for delivery to the Burnaby Girls' Home later in the season. Donations may be left at the Family Shoe Store.

Following a very lively discussion with regard to forming circles in the group, it was decided to continue in the present manner until the end of the year.

Tea and refreshments were served at the conclusion of the business period and an enjoyable social period followed.

Scandinavian Society Picnic

A beautiful day and a crowd of 120 made the Summerland Scandinavian Society's picnic a great success at Powell Beach on Sunday, June 30.

Races including relays, for all types and ages, kept everyone busy. Prizes and ice cream were distributed to the children. In fact, it is stated that Lloyd Shannon participating in a sack race found he was younger than he had thought he was. A smorgasbord supper was colorful and enjoyed by all.

At a recent meeting of the Society Oscar Nilson was made the president; Mrs. Terry Ingles, vice-president; and Mrs. Lorraine Irvine, secretary-treasurer.

Shower and Party for Mrs. T. McDonald

Thirty-five friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom McDonald, Prairie Valley, Thursday afternoon, June 20, for a miscellaneous shower, the guest of honor being Mrs. Tamadge McDonald who with her husband, was visiting here from Edmonton.

The gifts were presented to the bride in a large cup and saucer, carried in by Pat and Randy Brown.

The centre of the tea table held a bride's cake in the shape of two hearts.

New Parking Site, Arena Drainage

For drainage purposes and for parking space for the arena, the municipal council meeting on Tuesday afternoon, June 25, was willing to pay $600 towards the purchase of the tennis courts on the south east corner of the property of the Athletic Association if the Curling Club would do the same. It is understood the Curling Club is prepared to co-operate in the matter.

George Fudge, representing the Tennis Club section of the Athletic Association was present at the meeting and said the Tennis Club would be willing to pay the $1,200 towards new courts.

In consideration of this arrangement a 20-year lease would be made with the Tennis Club subject to the provincial municipal act, the balance of the cost of new tennis courts to be paid by the municipality, and the lumber from the old tennis courts to be used by the municipality.

Proposal is to construct two tennis courts in Peach Orchard park on the site of the former Ellison Hall which has been taken down. A percentage of the time the courts would be for the use of the public and are considered a tourist attraction.

The Summerland Junior Red Sox split an exhibition double header on Sunday winning the first game 10-9 against Armstrong, and dropping the night cap to the Vernon Hydros by the lopsided score of 17-4.

The first game was a pitcher's nightmare with the Summerland boys making 10 errors. They out hit the Armstrong boys 8-6 and scored the winning run in the last of the 9th. Carlton Sheeley went the distance and picked up his sixth win against one loss.

In the second game the Summerland pitchers couldn't find the plate and walked 17 batters. Shannon started the game and was relieved by Hackman who in turn was relieved by Huva. Shannon was the losing pitcher. Vernon picked up 9 hits and Summerland 6.

The Red Sox play a league game at Naramata on Sunday.

Penticton Club Lambastes Macs

Summerland Macs were way off the beam at Penticton last Wednesday. Held to one run by Penticton Red Sox hurler Jim Staff the Macs contributed with errors to the Red Sox 11 runs. This was the Penticton club's seventh straight win league play.

Jim Staff was the hero for the Penticton club, besides holding the Macs to a single run by scattering the nine hits he surrendered. Staff went three for three at the plate to pace the 12-hit Red Sox attack.

Catcher Sam Drossos and first baseman Doug Moore each blasted a home run and a single in five official trips to back up Staff's fine performance.

Outfielder Doug Weeks rapped out three hits to lead the Macs' offense in a losing cause. Cristante, who started and pitched until the eighth, gave up all 12 hits and was tagged with the loss. He was relieved in the eighth by Weitzel, who finished up.

Red Sox jumped an early lead in the second when Summerland committed a pair of errors following a single by Sam Drossos. That loaded the bases. Staff then chopped a ground ball to the first baseman and all hands were safe with a run scoring when he couldn't make a play anywhere.

Another run came in on second baseman Charlie Richards' fly ball to left field and centre fielder Chuck Preen lashed a single to centre to plate the third Red Sox run.

Macs picked up a run in the third on an error, a stolen base and a line single to centre field.

The Red Sox added four more runs in the fifth, one in the sixth three in the eighth to win going away.

Summerland Macs made some hay at the big Kelowna Baseball tournament finishing up in third place while Al Hooker won acclaim and an award as the most valuable player in the tournament.

Macs opened against the Almira club from Washington State, winning 3-2. Don Cristante pitched through eight innings holding the American team scoreless but he retired in the ninth in favor of Jim Staff when the Almira's began to put the wood to his offerings.

Al Hooker started on his way to the most valuable player of the tournament award with a timely home run which opened the scoring for the Macs in the sixth inning.

LOSE TO OLIVER

Macs fought it out in a nip and tuck battle with Oliver losing 6-4. The Macs made a bid in the fifth when Kilburn clouted a homer with two men on, but the rally was too little and too late against six runs garnered by Oliver. Cousins was the winning pitcher with Eyres, starting pitcher, credited with the loss.

TWELVE INNING GAME

The final game for the Macs against Trail was a dilly, going to 12 innings with iron man Al Hooker pitching the full distance and yielding only four hits.

Summerland caught up with Trail in the eighth when Egely's two bagger, with two men on, put the Macs back in the game with the score deadlocked at 3-3.

With two away at the bottom of the twelfth Parker pounded out a single, advanced to second on Taylor's base on balls and then hit third on a wild pitch. Al Hooker's single drove him across home base for the winning run.

Local Softball Nine Continues Winning Ways

Macs Cafe Aces continue their winning ways in the industrial softball league defeating the Penticton Chevrons 11-9 at the Memorial Park here last Thursday.

The Macs were idle Monday but will swing into action again Thursday night with the Chevrons again providing the opposition. Game time is 7 p.m.

Macs Host OBC's Here Sunday

Summerland Macs who haven't been doing too well in league play this last while will have the opportunity to pull up their socks here Sunday when they meet up with the Oliver OBC's at the Athletic Park, game time is 2:30 p.m.

Macs dropped their last two starts against Oliver, losing 8-6 at Oliver in league play on June 23 and again in the Kelowna Dominion Day Baseball tournament last weekend.

But it is usually good ball and no runaway for either club when Summerland and Oliver meet and come Sunday the Macs are due, in fact they are overdue, for a win.

BOYS ROLL

overflowing as a result. Mr. Chadburn who lives near the spot reported the trouble, also. They were able to prevent damage to the siphon box. During the morning E. E. Campbell, although not close enough to identify them, had seen the boys and warned them against damaging the flume.

Water was diverted to the gravel pit in Prairie Valley and shut off at the reservoir. As it takes about an hour for the water to stop running after a shut-off, a considerable volume washed down the hillside.

It was noted that a rock estimated at 300 pounds had been dug out above the water main, and it is supposed that this was the one that did the damage.

As well as the cost of replacing the flume, it took five men two days to do the work. They commenced the repair job on the holiday soon after the water stopped running.

The area served is from Happy Valley north on the lake-front benches, Jones Flat district, and half of Prairie Valley. Some residents were getting a bit of water from Prairie Creek and Garnett Valley Creek and had it been a hot dry spell the situation would have been even more serious.

Thumbs Down on On Kootenays

Spokane's wooing of the Okanagan Senior Hockey League, proposing a renewal of the old Kootenay swing, proved to be in vain on Sunday, when delegates to the second league meeting this year turned down the idea by a 3-1 vote.

Roy McBride, manager coach of the Spokane Flyers, and Butch Marchand, president of the WIHL, accompanied by Spokane executive member Len Smith, had attended the first meeting of the league and offered to pay $1,000 in the OSA-HL coffers should the swing be accepted.

Penticton's representatives said their club was against the swing, unless a more attractive offer were forthcoming from the U.S. club. League president Bill Nicholson had conveyed this impression to Mr. McBride, he said.

Ken McKenzie, owner of the Kamloops club, also spoke against the swing, unless more subsidy was forthcoming, and Kelowna's Bob McKinstry voted flat against it on the authority of his executive.

Vernon's George Agar was the only one in favor of the swing, which could have been carried by a majority vote.

The league officials decided to

Fruit Wholesaler Declares B.C. Tree Fruits Doing Good Job in Selling Valley Crop

B.C. Tree Fruits is doing an excellent job in selling the Okanagan fruit crop.

This was the opinion expressed by Wilf Cumming, general manager of Consolidated Fruit Co., when he addressed a gathering of press and radio men in Kelowna recently. The head of the Calgary wholesale fruit company declared there is "nothing wrong" with the marketing deal.

In so far as the Okanagan Valley is concerned, there is no other better method of distribution.

"You have no Niagara Peninsula where there is an estimated two million population in the immediate distributing area, or one and a half million around Montreal. Central selling is the salvation in your area," he declared.

Mr. Cumming referred to the trend in merchandising. The day of the corner grocery store is rapidly disappearing with the advent of huge chain stores, he said.

Wholesalers realize their responsibility to the industry, and they are endeavoring to market produce at the best returns the speaker said.

Mr. Cumming, who has been in the service wholesaling business for over 30 years, declared there is no need to restrict production. "What we need is a better understanding of one another's problems," he continued.

Referring to the trends in marketing, the visitor said very few purchases of the ultimate consumer is planned ahead. Most of the buying, particularly in chain stores, is done on impulse.

"Chain stores have made the retailer conscious of competition, and taught the housewife to buy discriminately. However we still have the independent retailer, and he has made a major contribution to our economy."

Mr. Cumming thought most of the criticism against the marketing policies of B.C. Tree Fruits is unjustified. "There is nothing wrong with your marketing deal. Possibly the policies could be revised somewhat, and I think you may have to consider costs a little more."

Speaking on costs, the speaker said unions have taken hold, with the result everytime human hands touch a product, it enhances the value. "No business today can be run without personnel, but no business can be run without 'know how'," he continued.

Due to the perishable nature of the crop, it is necessary to get the best distribution in the quickest manner possible, and it is of utmost importance that growers produce quality fruit, Mr. Cumming said.

ELEVEN ELECTRICAL APPLICANTS ACCEPTED

Electrical applications of the following have been accepted by the municipal council: L. L. Fudge, J. Stengle, A. R. Mitchell, J. Cristante, George Pennington, I. H. Solly, H. Steininger, H. J. Wiens, P. E. Bonthoux, E. Martin and C. Sproul.

NO WATER STORAGE HAS BEEN DRAWN

At Tuesday's council meeting, June 25, Councillor F. M. Stewart reported that no storage water had been drawn yet. Mr. Stewart said that it would be well into July before storage water would be drawn.

According To The Mood

By Sid Godber

This is the time of year I yearn for those dear old golden school days — what I couldn't do with a two month holiday.

There's so many places I haven't been and it is beginning to look as though I never will. Always had a yen to go to China. Funny thing, although as a boy I wallowed in G. A. Henty's "With Clive in India", I never have felt the urge to follow Clive, whereas I've always wanted to follow the path laid down in another of Henty's books and go "With The Allies to Peking".

Another land which hasn't any appeal for me is Africa. Don't know why, for Africa seems to have everything.

Not that it matters, it seems that I'm not going any place, least of all China.

I have always thought it a sorry thing that, with so much to see in this world of ours, most of us see very little of it.

My old folks lived within 240 miles of London but they never did get to see the changing of the guard at Buckingham Palace.

Millions of English people living within five hundred miles of one of the world's most storied and fabulous cities, Paris, never see Paris, never see France, the lowlands, Germany, Switzerland — and yet — even by train and boat they are less than a day's journey away.

Canadians likewise, sit in their own backyard. Many have never visited the United States except maybe for border penetrations, let alone colorful Mexico.

It's a good thing, of course, that everyone hasn't the yen to travel, someone has to stay home and keep things moving and of course we can always go to the movies and see a travelogue.

Saw one on Portugal the other week. Some splendid shots of a bullfight — but for all that it wasn't a bull fight.

The heat, the smells, the surging of the crowd can't be captured on film, not even color film.

A bull fight is a fascinating, but barbaric spectacle which turns the stomachs of most nordic people but one can watch a bullfight on the screen without emotion, which, perhaps, goes to prove that there's no substitute for the real thing.

The movies are certainly bringing the world to our doorsteps but no matter how familiar a place becomes through this seeing it on film there is always an entirely different feeling when one sees it first hand.

I suppose that's why television can't keep a fan away from a baseball game, even though television will give the fan a better view of the game than he gets from his seat in the bleachers.

Even so, it seems that television and movies will have to satisfy my travel lust for a long time to come, but it would sure be nice to be packing up to catch a slow boat — any kind of boat — to China.

Ross McLachlan New Rotary Club President

Ross McLachlan was installed as president of the Summerland Rotary Club at installation ceremonies held in the IOOF Hall here Friday.

John Coe, of Penticton, district governor, was the installing officer.

Following his installation the new president introduced his directors, Les Rumball, Harvey Wilson, Charlie Denike, Verne Charles and secretary and treasurer, respectively, Roy Angus and Harold Smith.

Thus Summerland Rotary Club lost its first champion harmonica playing president in the person of T. B. "Tommy" Young.

More than 100 attended the event including Rotary contingents from Kelowna and Oliver.

In his annual report retiring president Young outlined the activities of the club during the past year with particular emphasis on the creation of Rotary Beach and the Rotary sponsored swimming classes.

These undertakings had resulted in a serious drain on the club's finances, but these had been recuperated to some extent by the generous response of the public to an appeal for funds, Mr. Young disclosed.

A cup, of egg cup proportions, was won by Oliver Rotary Club in a fiercely conducted, no holds barred, harmonica playing contest. B. A. Tingley judged the event and Mr. Young, who led the Summerland harmonica team, retired from office calling "foul".

The evening concluded with a showing of colored films by Ray Corner of Kelowna, films taken during Mr. and Mrs. Corner's visit to Australia for the International Rotary conference.

Leslie Bingham Dies Suddenly At Terrace

Word was received here on Monday night of the death of Stewart Leslie Claud Bingham, aged 24, who died in Terrace Hospital of a gunshot wound believed to have been accidentally discharged.

Mr. Bingham, the older son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Bingham, Prairie Valley, served in the RCAF for three years.

Funeral services are to be held in St. Stephen's Anglican Church on Monday, July 15, at 2:30 p.m., Rev. A. A. T. Northrup officiating.

Interment will be in the Anglican cemetery.

Council To Use Thornber House

Authority for use of the Thornber house has been received by the Summerland municipal council from the provincial department of highways. This is the house opposite Evans' Point near the foot of the Highway Hill which has been a residence for those who were working on construction of the highway.

Transfer of the title may be obtained at a later date, the letter stated.

Some time ago council took steps to obtain the property and authority has just been given.

At Tuesday afternoon's council meeting, it was stated that the Rotary Club might be interested in the use of the basement as an adjunct to Rotary Park, possibly for toilets and for storage purposes. There was some mention that a park's board employee might live in the house.

Reeve F. E. Atkinson was asked to discuss the matter with the Rotary Club, and the municipal clerk, G. D. Smith, instructed to write giving the club permission to use the basement for storage.

The letter from the highways' department stated that the site of the house was considered a definitely dangerous one as it is at the toe of a large fill.

Fear Shortage Of Pickers To Handle Huge 'Cot Crop

PROUD AS WE ARE of British Columbia, it is just as well to remember that Canada from coast to coast is a scenic vacation land as pictured above in the aerial view of the Thousand Islands International Bridge spanning the St. Lawrence River. The bridge cuts through part of picturesque St. Lawrence Islands National Park, and is one of the principal border crossing routes between Ontario and New York State.

Fears of a serious shortage of pickers to harvest one of the largest tonnages of apricots ever grown in the Summerland area, were expressed today by J. S. Kirk, farm labor placement officer here.

Mr. Kirk says that cherry picking is well under way with the labor supply adequate, but that it appears there will be a definite shortage of apricot pickers.

Apricot picking will commence around on July 28 (with the estimate for Summerland being 200,000 crates).

Mr. Kirk says that about 70 percent of help is local and the other 30 percent comes from the coast, the prairies and from Ontario. Some of the latter are summer tourists who are working for part of their holiday.

Since May 25 until last Saturday, July 5, Mr. Kirk placed 124 workers in local orchards. There are 425 names on his growers' list, who have holdings from one up to 44 acres. These are individual growers.

Meetings of labour placement officers throughout the valley have been held and earlier in the season it was reported that little satisfactory type labour was being registered, with Mr. Kirk stating that accommodation was a limiting factor in Summerland.

School inspectors C. E. Clay and E. E. Hyndman attended the meetings and it was agreed that students should be used only in stated emergency periods.

The federal-provincial farm labour service has obtained reduced rates from Alberta and Saskatchewan to the Okanagan Valley for harvesting the tree fruit crop hoping to attract labour in this way.

Date set for commencing harvest of peaches and of Bartlett pears is August 20.

Hails Coming of Giant

Summerland's authority on the Giant of Giant's Head, B. A. Tingley, school board secretary, tells of the coming of the Giant, scheduled for August 31, in the following verse:

THE GIANT OF GIANT'S HEAD
THE NEW ERA APPROACHES
By B. A. T.

Right soon the Giant will return
(For history repeats)
To rule this land with kindly sway,
Perform astounding feats;
No more will taxes mount and mount
No finance fee harass;
The whiskey will be stronger then
And greener, far, the grass.

The crops will be abundant,
The markets high and strong;
The sun will shine on cloudy days
And life will be a song.
All work will be abundant
For those who like it so,
For those who like a life of ease
There'll be no row to hoe.

We'll need no reeve and council
And cops will be "de trop",
We'll follow as our giant leads Without coercion, so
No more investigation,
McPhoe can go to Nome,
There'll be no grower discontent
When the giant king comes home.

You hear the rumblings neath the Head?
He'll come forth from the rocks'
And, giving welcome, in the park
We'll barbecue an ox.
The tourists will arrive in hordes
So now, strike up the band—
The day foretold in ancient lore
Is very close at hand.

Wm. Snow, K. McKay Tie For Honors At Annual Rose Show On Saturday

This has been an unusually good season for roses and the Horticultural Society's annual Rose Show provided some beautiful blooms for display. Entries were not quite so many as last year but attendance was larger.

Wm. Snow and K. McKay, Naramata, tied for the grand aggregate, both winning the same number of points. Mrs. E. C. Bingham was second.

Mr. Snow won the Summerland Rose Cup with Mr. McKay second. This was awarded for four named varieties, one bloom each in separate containers. Mr. Snow won also for the best individual rose, with Dr. D. C. Boyd of Penticton, second. Mrs. Bingham won first in the novice class with three blooms, three varieties in one container.

Judges were Maurice Trumppour, district horticulturist, Penticton, and George Robinson, Penticton.

Delightful refreshments were served and the friendly atmosphere enjoyed with Mrs. H. C. Whitaker convener, assisted by (Continued on Page 5)

Fines Imposed In Police Court

On Friday morning in Summerland police court Steve Benzec of Summerland was fined $20 and costs for theft. George Coppel and Josef Koenig were each fined $25 and costs for driving without a license. On Saturday morning Magistrate R. Alstead imposed a fine of $30 and costs on Paul Matkovich for speeding.

Power Will Be Off July 17.

On Wednesday, July 17, electrical power will be off affecting the whole district of Summerland. There's not too much cause for alarm as it will be only from 4:30 a.m. until 7:00 a.m. so most people will be able to have coffee as usual for breakfast. The West Kootenay Power Co. is making some necessary repairs during the outage and the local municipal crew is taking advantage of the period to do some work.

"Queen's Ball," Summer Dance Event On July 26

Summerland Board of Trade is starting several new things this year with the plan for a Queen's Ball on Friday evening, July 26, with K. L. Boothe chairman of the event.

The big summer dance is to be in the Youth Centre, where at 10 p.m. selection of the board of trade Queen and her attendant princesses will take place. At midnight the Queen Crowning ceremony will be a feature of the dance.

The board of trade plans are also for a big Fruit Fair, something unique in the Okanagan Valley, which it is hoped to establish as a yearly event when the Giant of Giant's Head comes back for an annual appearance.

First thought was to combine the two occasions, but Summerland representation is needed at the Peach Festival in Penticton, at Kelowna Regatta and other special events, so selection of a local "Royal Party" was wanted earlier than the Labour Day weekend, date of the Fruit Fair. Further plans for the Queen's Ball will be announced in next week's Review.

Norman Anderson's Success Is Announced

Norman H. Anderson of Summerland is listed on the spring term scholastic honor roll released by Oregon State college, Corvallis. Mr. Anderson is at the Entomology Laboratory in Trout Creek.

To be eligible for honor roll listing, students must make at least a B plus average for the term. Anderson was singled out for special mention as one of only 64 students making straight A grades.

Anderson is a graduate student in entomology. A 1050 graduate of Langley high school, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Anderson of R.R. 6, Langley.

Reasonable Government At Municipal Levels

Believing that municipal government could be more expensive for smaller places if the numbers serving on councils were increased, Summerland representatives are presenting a pertinent resolution to the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association meeting at Revelstoke this week. Not only is the resolution thought to be in the interests of economy, but forestalls over-government, and the fact that suitable people for municipal office are hard to obtain. The resolution to be presented is as follows:

Whereas the New Municipal Act under Section 148 (2) defines that a District Municipality with a population of 50,000 or less shall have a Council consisting of a Reeve and six councillors; and whereas under Section 149 (1) permission is given to increase this number by two, and whereas for small District Municipalities four is a sufficient number of Councillors; Therefore be it resolved that in a District Municipality with a population not exceeding six thousand, that a Council of four (Continued on Page 5)

MR. AND MRS. EMMERICK TRACKL

St. John's Lutheran Church Setting For Trackl-Glaser Wedding Service

Silver fan shaped bows with red roses marked the pews in St. John's Lutheran Church on Saturday afternoon, June 29, when at half-past four the ceremony took place uniting in marriage Elsie Marie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Glaser, West Summerland, and Emmerich Trackl, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Trackl of Vienna, Austria.

One hundred and sixty guests were present as the lovely bride was given in marriage by her father at the service conducted by Rev. L. A. Gabert.

A lace and net wedding gown in strapless bouffant style was chosen by the bride with a matching jacket having long lily point sleeves. Her chapel veil of silk illusion tulle flowed softly from a wedding crown of pearls, and she carried a June bouquet of red and white roses.

Mrs. Rudy Vogel as matron of honor was in spring green lace enhanced with net frills posed over taffeta with matching bolero and headdress. Her flowers were pink carnations arranged in a horseshoe shape.

Miss Edna Glaser, the bridesmaid, wore a charming gown of misty pink net frills over taffeta, with matching bolero and headdress, and carried yellow carnations, also in horseshoe shape.

The groomsmen were Rudolph Vogel of Penticton and Kurt Strobl of Osoyoos. Leonard Hintz of Oliver and Dick Lekei of West Summerland were the ushers.

Miss Barbara Baker was the organist and prior to the ceremony Miss Marjorie Campbell sang, "The Wedding Prayer". While the register was signed she sang, "Because".

At the reception in the IOOF Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Glaser received assisted by the bridal party. Mrs. Glaser wore a lovely pink brocaded satin gown trimmed with sheer nylon, with matching accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations.

Pink and white and pale blue streamers with white wedding bells decorated the room. On a white damask cloth the three-tiered wedding cake on the bride's table was arranged with tapers in golden-hued candelabra.

J. H. Wells was master of ceremonies and proposed a toast to the bride to which the groom responded. Frank Rithaler of New Westminster gave the toast to the attendants and Rudy Vogel responded.

Miss Marjorie Campbell sang "O, Promise Me" at the reception.

During the evening dancing was enjoyed with music supplied by Knoblauch's orchestra from Peachland.

On going away to motor to points in northern B.C. the bride wore a light-wildwood blue suit with a pink hat, corsage of pink roses, and navy shoes and carried a navy purse.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Trackl will make their home at West Summerland.

Out of town guests at the wedding were Mrs. K. Rithaler, grandmother of the bride, Oakshela, Sask.; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rithaler and Pam, Eures, Sask.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rithaler and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Hong, Miss June and Miss Joan Hong, all of New Westminster; Mr. and Mrs. John Glaser, Miss Doreen Loney, Miss Marilyn Cooper, Miss Bev Lloyd and Miss Heidi Wakabayashi and Jake Rithaler of Vancouver; Mrs. Carl Schaefer and Dennis, Chilliwack; Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Hintz, Gloria and Len, Mr. and Mrs. John Rotheisler, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Seidler, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Glaser and Helmut, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kilback, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Goltz, all of Oliver; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Glaser, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Enne and family, John Sunderwood of Osoyoos; Mr. and Mrs. Al Bunes, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cormier, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Stack and family all of Penticton; Joe Brett, Kitimat.

Hospital Auxil'ry Holds Supper

Following a delightful annual custom the Summerland Hospital Auxiliary held a supper at the Experimental Farm on Thursday evening for members. It was a lovely evening and the meal was served on tables on the lawn under the trees near the Log Cabin with 24 present.

Mrs. Eric Smith and Mrs. C. E. Emery were conveners and Mrs. Norris Laidlaw planned the entertainment which followed supper. Two groups were formed called "Brains" and "Brawn", and in the contests and games "Brains" won out.

At an informal business meeting later, Mrs. A. K. Macleod, vice-president, presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. Earle Wilson.

It was reported that the new drapes are up in the men's ward and plans were made to supply the rest of the semi-private and private wards with new drapes.

A recess has been called until September when regular sessions will resume.

Mrs. George King Passes Away

Summerland friends will regret to hear that Mrs. George King of Vancouver, a former resident of Summerland, passed away suddenly on July 1 in Vancouver General Hospital following a stroke.

Mr. and Mrs. King resided with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Boothroyd.

Mrs. Tom Whitfield of West Summerland, a sister of Mrs. King, and Mr. Whitfield attended the funeral.

BIRTHS

To Mr. and Mrs. Jim Mayne on July 9, a daughter, Elizabeth Ann.

Comings & Goings

Mrs. George Marshall of North Hampton, England, is in Summerland on an extended visit to her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Morrow of Prairie Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hack and their family are at Trepanier Auto Camp on a vacation and visiting the former's mother, Mrs. E. Hack, and the latter's mother, Mrs. W. L. McPherson.

Mrs. F. P. Patterson of Vancouver returned to her home at the coast after visiting for about a month with Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Mair.

Lynne Boothe, a pupil of Miss J. Elagoni, Penticton, has passed the Royal Conservatory, Toronto, Grade 8 examinations with honors.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Park and their three children of Calgary are leaving on Saturday following a three weeks' vacation at the home of Mrs. Park's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Fleming.

Miss Chris Mair and her sister, Mrs. David Millward of Penticton, are on a motor trip to Yellowstone National Park.

Mr. and Mrs. W. LaPlante and their three daughters have returned to their home at Grey Creek in the Kootenays after visiting at the home of Mrs. LaPlante's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Gould.

Vinco Duggan of CRUT, Vancouver, visited The Review last week. Mr. and Mrs. Duggan were in Penticton following a trip to California.

Chilly Weather At Annual Fete

In spite of the cold evening on Saturday, the Garden Party of the Evening Branch WA of St. Stephen's Church was a success. No-one lingered, but all of the serving tables were emptied of the wares offered for sale, and refreshments were served to a great many.

The affair was held in the Memorial Park Playground, because of the recent seeding of grass around the rebuilt parish hall, where the event is held as a rule.

Mrs. J. Heavysides and Mrs. Frank Beaven were co-conveners, and sectional conveners were as follows: home cooking, Mrs. J. Y. Towgood; hot dogs, Mrs. Bob Barkwill; serving tables, Mrs. W. C. Baker; tea tables, Mrs. Eric Smith; kitchen, Mrs. C. R. Adams; ice cream, Mrs. R. A. Fredrickson; lemonade, Mrs. Lorne Perry.

Miss Gweneth Atkinson and Mrs. Charlie Minter were in charge of the fish pond; Mrs. E. C. Bingham of corsages; Mrs. Alec Watt, candy; and Miss Carol Reinertson was kept busy giving children pony rides.

BUDDING

The season for budding fruit trees is fast approaching. Mid-July is a good time to start budding apples or pears. Stone fruits particularly sweet cherries should be started before this as these sorts tend to ripen their wood somewhat earlier than pears or apples.

Budding is essentially a means of grafting or uniting the tissue of one tree with that of another. Mature buds are slipped from a strong growing shoot of the desired variety and are inserted in a slit under the bark of the tree to be budded. The wound is wrapped tightly with a rubber band which perishes later. The bud thus inserted usually remains dormant for the rest of the fall but commences to grow the following spring.

A great deal of tree propagation is done by budding. It is fast. A good operator can slip in 100 buds an hour, quite easily. Little material is needed except a supply of bud sticks, some rubber bands and a good sharp knife.

In order to facilitate the top working of many of the hardy stocks which are now being planted in our orchards the B.C. Department of Agriculture is sponsoring Budding Schools. Each school will be limited to 8 or 10 persons. The technique of budding will be taught by demonstration and each individual will be given an opportunity to practise budding under supervision. The top-working of hardy framework stocks such as McIntosh will be stressed.

Growers interested in attending one of these schools should leave their names with the local BCFGA Secretary or at the office of the District Horticulturist as soon as possible. The only material they will be required to bring is a good sharp knife. The aim is to get these schools under way by mid-July.

Orchard Field Tours Planned

A series of orchard field tours is now being organized by the District Horticulturist of the B.C. Department of Agriculture in cooperation with representatives of the BCFGA locals.

The tours will be held during late July and early August. Calls will be made to orchards to observe the latest cultural methods. Specialists in the fields of insect and mite control, plant diseases, drainage and irrigation will be in attendance to answer questions and to explain points that are brought up. Grass control in orchards will be featured on most field days.

The dates and districts for the field tours are as follows: Oliver and Osoyoos, July 29; Keremeos and Cawston, July 30; Pentiction District, July 31; Kelowna District, August 1; Vernon District, August 2; Salmon Arm District, August 5.

Details as to local plans will be announced later. All fruit growers and others interested are welcome.

Instruction In Budding Offered

Budding schools will be conducted throughout the Okanagan Valley by the District Horticulturist of the B.C. Department of Agriculture in the near future. It is planned that they will get under way mid-July.

Individual instruction is being offered to fruit growers and others who wish to learn budding. Each group will be limited to eight or ten individuals and as many groups as called for will be held in each area.

Anyone wishing to take instruction in one of these groups is asked to leave his name with his District Horticulturist or BCFGA local secretary. Instruction is free, materials and supplies for carrying out the budding operation will be provided, but all are asked to bring a sharp knife suitable for budding.

There are now a large number of hardy framework apple stocks planted in orchards. In order to top work these to desired varieties a great deal of budding will have to be done. There is at present a shortage of those able to perform this operation and these instruction groups will help overcome this shortage.

WEDNESDAY, JULY TENTH NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY SEVEN

We Could Spruce Up

Summerland's main street has been considerably improved by the new Ritchie building and Mr. Gordon Ritchie is to be commended, not only for replacing a dilapidated structure, but in allowing the architect sufficient scope, both financially and imaginatively, to design a building of pleasing design.

Rundown communities lose out. Only recently we heard of a U.S. town which lost its chance of thriving prosperity because of its shabby, unpainted appearance and apparent lack of progress. The town council had interested an automobile manufacturing firm in a town site for a multi-million dollar assembly plant which would have employed 3,500 people. The real estate scout for the automotive firm admitted later that one of his company's reasons for rejecting the site was that many of the town's properties had not been painted for 25 years!

It would be interesting to know how many Canadian communities are guilty of having lost badly-needed industries because of such a needless reason. There is no doubt that most Canadian centres are anxious to attract industry. The more industries, the more employment opportunities there are for its citizens. The local per capita tax load is usually reduced. More money pours into the coffers of local businesses which in turn may expand their premises and staffs.

Industry of course takes several factors into consideration before finally resolving where to locate. Is there a good water and power supply? Is the labor adequate? Are there suitable schools and churches? Several other factors are studied.

Suppose several communities possess equally suitable facilities, which one will be chosen as an industrial site?

As a veteran real estate scout from one large Canadian firm put it: "Considering all other things equal, we would undoubtedly give the nod to the tidy, well painted and landscaped location. We believe the citizens of such a place are industrious, conscientious, and possess pride in their community. We feel they would make good employees and fine neighbors."

The Review is not suggesting that Summerland is so run down as to frighten away industrial site seekers, but we do suggest that there is considerable room for improvement—some of these improvements are up to the property owners, others, such as planting trees, trees which would cover a multitude of eyesores, are up to the municipal council.

We cannot imagine anyone, even the most parsimonious of taxpayers, objecting to some expenditure of public funds on community beautification.

And, although the results of such expenditure may not prompt a multi-million dollar industry to locate here we are quite confident that more visitors would be attracted and more people would be persuaded to make their homes here.

Should Cut Both Ways

It is not at all unreasonable that civil servants and others whose uninterrupted employment is necessary to the maintenance of law and order and of essential services should be forbidden the use of the strike weapon, but it is certainly not reasonable and not common justice to deprive certain sections of labor of the right to strike unless and until machinery is set up to deal with their grievances whether they be concerned with wages, hours, conditions of employment, or of fringe benefits.

The Provincial government's brutal ultimatum to the B.C. civil servants, "strike and you're fired", is, in our opinion, a shuddering reminder of the day when labor was regarded more as cattle than as human.

It is not at all surprising that the civil servants of B.C. have at last reached the point of desperation where nothing is left for them but to threaten use of labor's ultimate weapon—the walk out.

The province's civil servants have been treated in a very cavalier fashion by the present provincial government which has, apparently taken advantage of the fact that traditionally, civil servants don't strike.

The government's attitude is all the more surprising when only last week Premier W. A. C. Bennett, fully recognizing labor's right to withhold its labor, sat down and mediated a settlement of the dispute between management and labor in the lumber industry, but that mediation was carried out under, and because, labor threatened to strike.

It seems to us only common justice therefore that if the civil servant or any other group of workers is denied, either by legislation or tradition, the right to strike that provision must also be provided for compulsory arbitration with the decision of the arbitrator final and binding upon both parties in the dispute.

The same argument applies in the case of nurses. In Pentiction the nursing staff of the Pentiction General hospital is poised for a strike. Here the situation is ironic indeed, the nurses have followed procedure, they laid their case before a conciliation board, a government sponsored conciliation board at that and accepted the board's findings. The Hospital board, while openly agreeing that the nurses were entitled to the increase, rejected the conciliation board's findings on the grounds that the BCHIS would not approve a budget covering the increase in nurses' salaries.

What then are the nurses supposed to do? Some people throw up their hands in shocked surprise that the nurses should even think of striking, but what other course is left to them?

Responsibility rests squarely on the shoulders of the government.

Fair play demands that if the right to strike is not recognized then arbitration, compulsory arbitration, applicable to both sides, must be provided for.

Pioneer Days

40 YEARS AGO — JULY 13, 1917

Cherries are now moving out freely. We are informed that the quality is excellent and the fruit of good size.

For several days a bad brush fire has been burning on the mountain side near the KVR station in Peach Valley.

Mrs. Dennis Campbell with her daughter, Shirley, came in this morning to visit Mrs. Basil Stuart.

After spending more than a year in the Peace River district, Harry Cascadden has returned to Summerland.

The ferry will resume its Thursday afternoon trips to Pentiction on and after next Thursday.

Relatives here have been told by letter that both C. Noel Higgin and H. A. Walton have surrendered their stripes and transferred as privates to the 72nd Seaforth Highlanders so that they might be able to get into the fighting line on the British front in France.

10 YEARS AGO — JULY 10, 1947

Word has been received that Bruce Fisher, former Summerland resident, has received his B.A. at King's College, Cambridge.

Miss Mildred Clark left on Wednesday to attend the Calgary Stampede.

Mrs. L. A. Schwalm and daughter, Eloene of North Battleford, Sask., arrived last week to spend the summer with Mr. and Mrs. Dawes, Prairie Valley.

The Board of Trade's annual swim classes are in full swing with 218 enrolled. They are given free tuition by ten competent instructors every Wednesday under chief instructor, C. Wade.

Councillor Eric Tait reported to the municipal council Monday that work has been progressing favorably in Peach Orchard Park.

Fifteen hundred and forty-one persons attended the mobile X-ray clinic at West Summerland for detection of TB.

Farm Labor Report

The Federal-Provincial Farm Labour Service for British Columbia is in full operation for 1957 under the supervision of G. L. Landon, Director, Agricultural Development and Extension, British Columbia Department of Agriculture and B. G. White, Employment Officer, National Employment Service, Canada Department of Labour.

The following report sums up the labor situation today.

Several meetings have been held on Vancouver Island, the Fraser Valley and in the Okanagan with representatives of the small fruit growers' organizations, the B.C. Fruit Growers' Association, B.C. Cannery Association and other groups interested in farm labour.

Mexican Labour — Representations were made by some groups requesting the importation of Mexican labour to British Columbia as is done in the United States. This was investigated fully and a report issued on the matter by the British Columbia Department of Agriculture. Copies of the report are available to anyone interested.

Indian Labour — Meetings have been held with the Department of Indian Affairs, Indian Agents and with representatives of local reservations in an attempt to persuade as many Indians as possible to stay in British Columbia for harvesting of crops, particularly the tree-fruit crop.

British Columbia Indians have been going to Washington State for many years for seasonal work and growers' organizations there offer a number of inducements.

Hungarian and Immigrant Labour — A considerable number of Hungarians and other immigrants from European Countries have been employed in harvesting small fruit crops. Efforts are being made to locate as many as possible in the Okanagan Valley for harvesting of the tree-fruit crops commencing with cherries and apricots.

Employment of High School Students — This year representatives of the Department of Education and local school boards have attended the farm labour meetings. Every effort is being made to organize an effective farm labour force which will handle the situation in each district without keeping too many pupils away from school during September and October.

School students are used mainly in harvesting the McIntosh apple crop.

Reduced Railway Transportation — The Federal-Provincial Farm Labour Service have succeeded in getting the railway companies to grant reduced fares from Alberta and Saskatchewan to Vancouver, New Westminster, Mission, Abbotsford, Chilliwack, Kamloops, Vernon, Kelowna, Penticton and other points.

It is possible a considerable number of women and girls will take advantage of these low fares to come to British Columbia

Coordinated Effort — The Federal-Provincial Farm Labour Service is very pleased with the cooperation received from the various agricultural organizations in the Province such as the B.C. Federation of Agriculture, B.C. Fruit Growers' Association, small fruit growers' associations, school board, etc. in handling the difficult problem of farm labour. The fullest cooperation will be required this year with a heavy tree-fruit crop in prospect.

Ontario Farmers On Valley Tour

Some 125 people from Ontario, most of them farmers, and all members of the Ontario Crop Improvement Association are to be touring the Okanagan on Wednesday and Thursday.

The trip is sponsored jointly by the Association and the CNR. The party arrives at Kelowna on Wednesday evening and in this valley are being directed by G. Luyat, supervising agriculturists of Kamloops, John Smith, and Dr. T. H. Anstey of Summerland.

They will make an inspection of the Experimental Farm here on Thursday after a luncheon in Penticton and visit other south Okanagan points of interest.

They are making the train cars at Kelowna their headquarters and will motor up and down the Okanagan in Greyhound buses.

Summerland's Junior Red Sox Continue To Dominate League

Macs Aces Win One, Lose One

Macs Cafe Aces more accustomed to trotting off the softball diamond as victors suffered a rude surprise last week at the hands of the lowly Greyhounds.

Playing here last Thursday the Greyhounds parlayed hits and errors into a 12-2 victory over the Summerland squad.

The Aces redeemed themselves on Monday when in further Pentiction Industrial Softball League play they defeated Valley Motors 5-2.

Macs Aces play Valley Motors again tomorrow night (Thursday) game time 7 p.m.

The Summerland Junior Red Sox continued to dominate the Junior loop with a lop-sided 11-5 win over Naramata on Sunday.

The Summerland boys scored ten runs in the first three innings and never looked back. They picked up one more in the sixth for insurance. Biollo with a triple and a single and Birtles with a double were the power for the Red Sox. Shannon in left field came up with two sensational catches for the fielding honors of the day.

Carlton Sheeley started on the mound for the Red Sox and gave up one hit and one walk in the five innings he worked. He was relieved by Huva who only gave up 3 hits for the rest of the game.

Summerland's Macs held to six scattered hits by Oliver OBC hurler Gary Driessen were humbled on their own stamping ground 6-3 Sunday.

The Macs just couldn't hit while Oliver got to Al Hooker for 13 hits, including a three bagger and a two base hit by George Mundle.

Only other extra base hits of the game were two baggers by the Macs' Jomori and Oliver's Gilchrist.

Oliver opened up with Mundle leadoff man, clouting out a two bagger. A walk and three singles were added, but Hooker bore down to hold the Oliver crew to only two runs.

Jomori heartened Mac supporters when he too lead off with a double and when the smoke cleared the count at the end of the first was knotted at 2-2.

Oliver broke the deadlock in the second with one run and from then on the Macs trailed.

The visitors put the game on ice in the sixth, when Vanderburgh's single, Gilchrist's double and Mundle's third hit out of a total of five trips to the plate accounted for two runs. Both teams scored one run in the 9th.

In the meantime Kelowna Orioles held on to top place when they knocked off the challenging Pentiction Red Sox in a grimly fought 2-1 duel Friday. The Red Sox took another beating on Sunday when they lost to the lowly Princeton Royals 6-5 in an eleven inning game. At Kamloops the Okonots parlayed 15 hits and 12 Vernon errors into a 16-3 victory over the Clippers.

Report From Rifle Range

Twelve marksmen attended practice at the Garnett Valley rifle range on Sunday morning. Ten-shot matches were fired at the 500 and 600 yard ranges. High score of 90 out of a possible 100 was made by George Dunsdon with Ted Piers in second place with 91 points. Other scores were Art Dunsdon, 90; Bert Simpson, 89; Phil Richardson, 88; Steve Dunsdon, 87; Phil Dunsdon, 86; Ron Dunsdon, 79; Dick Dunsdon, 76; Barry Piers, 76; Cliff Shannon, 70; Cliff Dunsdon, 55.

The only possible 50 points was shot by Bert Simpson at the 500 yard range.

Fishing Notes

By BERT BERRY
 Okanagan Lake — Trolling has been fair this last week with some good days and also bad. Biggest fish landed was four pounds, trolling. Off the rocks and drop-offs especially up Wilson's Landing way good.

Fish Lake Camp — Not much fishing on Fish Lake but trolling best in evenings and morning. Upper Lakes have come on good and some nice catches have been made.

Silver Lake — no reports but should be O.K.

Headwaters Camp — lots of fish but no big ones reported.

Brenda and McDonald — no reports but should be good now.

No reports from the northern resorts but they should be O.K.

The Retail Merchants' Association has had a sign erected in Peach Orchard Park welcoming tourists and directing them to the business section of the town. Another sign at the top of Peach Orchard Hill gives further direction.

This Okanagan

The Okanagan district is a broad, irregular depression near the East side of the region of the Interior Plateau.

In a northerly direction it extends from the 49 degree parallel to north 50 degrees and 45' with a total length of about 120 miles. The southern half of the Okanagan valley is only three to six miles wide, but spreads out in the northern part, the width at Armstrong being about 12 miles.

The Southern Okanagan drainage system is famous for the size and beauty of its lakes, which occupy about 157 square miles in the valley depression. Otter Lake (0.34 sq. miles) is a small body of water in Spallumcheen valley and Swan Lake (1.72 sq. miles) is in Pleasant Valley.

Mrs. Jessie Monro has returned to her home in Peach valley.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Andrew are Mr. and Mrs. A. Andrew, Miss Ann Andrew and Miss Sandra Drysdale all of Vancouver. Mr. and Mrs. J. Andrew with Grace and Edwin have been visitors also at the Andrews.

News has been received by friends and relatives in Summerland of the safe arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Morgan in Athens, Greece, where Mr. Morgan has an appointment at the Canadian Embassy. Aiden and Suzy accompanied their parents and are also enjoying the experience of life in a foreign and very beautiful country.

Apple Production Up By 32 Per Cent Over 1956

Fine weather will hike 1957 Okanagan Valley apple production some three per cent over last year's crops, the provincial agricultural department reports.

The department estimates valley growers will produce 5,032,80 cases this year.

The Victoria report says growers here should show a 239 per cent jump over 1956 apricot production by the end of the present season.

Government estimates indicate growers of crabapples will have an 21 per cent increase over 1956; pears 16 per cent; cherries 71 per cent; peaches doubled at 97 per cent more than last year and strawberry production will be 187 per cent more than in 1956.

Fraser Valley producers are expected to beat their 1956 apple crop by 37 per cent, or a total of 70,000 boxes.

Meanwhile, the U.S. National Apple Institute, meeting in Michigan, estimated 1957 U.S. apple production will be "about average" at 109,500,000 bushels. The estimate is above the short 1956 crop by some 14 million bushels.

Americans estimate too this year's dessert varieties of apples will be increased above that of 1956.

Conditions in the U.S. are generally good.

Americans expect to export an additional million bushels this year. Last year's American apple exports totalled 1,500,000 bushels.

Estimates of apple production for the state of Washington total 26,707,000 bushels.

British Columbia's production of other fruits includes a Victoria estimate that raspberries are up in 1957 by 74 per cent. Grape production, experts say, will exceed 1956 crops by 101 per cent, or a total of 872,000 pounds.

According To The Mood

By Sid Godber

He who lives in a glass house should not throw stones and he who has not heard himself speak over the radio should not criticise radio announcers.

Yup, heard myself, er, er, ering over the air waves on Monday a.m. and the accent, you could cut it with a knife, not to mention the lisp and whistle.

Come to think of it Bjorn Bjornsen of CKOK has quite a racket in his roving reporter program. Other people fill up his tape for him — maybe I should try something of the same thing in this column.

Strange though how radio brings out accent. I try to kid myself I haven't got an accent and then out it comes on the radio. As a young thing said to me after hearing my first ever broadcast, (I did a hockey game out of Humboldt, Saskatchewan.)

"You did a good broadcast — considering," simpered the sweet young thing.

"Considering what?" I asked.

"Considering you must have been struggling knee deep in aitches," came the crushing reply.

That broadcast was one of those I'll never forget affairs. Radio was still very young, and this was the first time a telephone line had been leased by the local station to bring a hockey broadcast to Prince Albert. No one bothered to brief me and so came the end of the period, the teams left the ice, I summarized the game — rambled on.

I didn't know that the Prince Albert station expected me to turn the program back to the studio for recorded music after summarizing the game.

So, there I was trying to do a hot stove league on my lonesome and keep the mike alive through nearly 15 minutes. It was agony and finally I got the score mixed up and the people back in the home town, Prince Albert, were jubilant until the end of the game when I finally got it straightened out and suddenly switched the score from 2-1 for the Prince Albert Mintos to 2-1 in favor of the Humboldt Indians, which was a horse of a very different color.

Another radio faux pas I made was also on a hockey broadcast. The score was tied 1-1, 30 seconds to go. The Prince Albert Mintos put on their famous power play. Down they came. One, Don Deacon, a burly lad picked up a pass, raced in on goal. The second hand of the clock was galloping, Deacon dippy-doodled the puck — he faked — he faked again — the second hand was almost upright. I'm talking nineteen to the dozen.

The second hand was almost upright, "SHOOT DAMMIT! SHOOT," I screamed at Don Deacon and, of course, into the microphone.

And Deacon shot, but too late.

In a democracy people are supposed to get the government they deserve. If that is the case, the question arises after listening to last night's broadcast of Penticton's City Council meeting: What have the people of Penticton done to deserve the leadership they've got?

It might be said with some truth that Penticton's civic government is Penticton's own business, but if Penticton's civic government chooses to wash its dirty linen in our ears, so to speak, then we're entitled to comment.

Could be, of course, that Mayor Charles Oliver is following the pattern of rugged rulers down through history, who believed in giving the mobs circuses instead of bread. Mayor Oliver appears to think that a good circus is better than good administration.

If ever a public official displayed his incompetence, his utter unsuitability for the office he holds, Mayor Oliver did at the Monday council meeting — but the people put him there — it could be; the people of Penticton want circuses.

United Church $35,000 Addition Is Progressing

A new $35,000 Christian Education Unit is being added to the Summerland United Church. Work is already progressing to add a 50x70 foot main hall containing 12 individual classrooms, an assembly hall and stage.

Final result will be an U-shaped unit with the church on one side, the addition on the other, part of the space joining the two being an entrance way, office, study and storage room.

Each classroom is equipped with blackboard and tackboard. The walls are arranged to fold back to give space for Sunday school or other assemblies.

The new part is of re-inforced concrete throughout with a flat roof, providing for an additional unit on top for Christian Education purposes as the need arises.

The stage in the present hall will be removed and a kitchen 16x24 feet installed at the north end of the present hall.

Schools Staffed Completely Now

Staff of the junior-senior high school and of the MacDonald School is completed now, school board secretary-treasurer, B. A. Tingley reports.

Mrs. Alex Kean has resigned and Mrs. Mary Perrault, a former member of the staff will fill the vacancy.

Mrs. Alice Boulton of Penticton has been appointed to the staff of the high school completing the teachers required.

Roy W. Meiklejohn, Penticton, is the architect and the contractor, Campbell and Son, Summerland.

A good deal of the interior finishing, partitioning, cupboards, etc. will be done by the A.O.T.S.

Plans call for refinishing the exterior of the church building.

Weather Against Band Concerts

Summerland Band has been practising since the the Music Festival in the spring preparing weather has to date "dampened" all plans.

Band members enjoyed a trip to Merritt on July 1, playing for a Sunday evening program and for the parade on Monday morning. They played in the Merritt Memorial Park, also, as part of the day's entertainment.

Their music enlivened the annual garden party arranged by Evening Branch WA of St. Stephen's church in the Memorial Park Playground, and the Legion Street Carnival on Saturday night.

Next big event at which the Summerland Band will appear is the Peach Festival in Penticton.

The Band is eagerly anticipating playing at the Summerland Fruit Fair Saturday evening and Sunday during the Labour Day weekend, but has no engagement booked for Labour Day.

It is hoped that there will be a suitable evening soon when the results of the hours of practice may be heard to advantage.

WEST SUMMERLAND, B.C.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 17, 1957

Summerland's 1956 "Queen" photographed with the seven charming candidates for the 1957 title on the lawn of the home of K. L. Boothe, convener of the Queen's Ball to take place on Friday evening, July 26, when at 10 p.m. selection will be made with the crowning ceremony at midnight. Standing is Queen Darlene Bonthoux, and seated, left to right, Marjorie Campbell, Joan Kilbach, Edna Glaser, Diane Rumball, Marny Bleasdale, Dot Carston and Ruby Gronlund. Candidates will be heard over CKOK at 11 a.m. Thursday, July 25.

Summerland Queen Selection And Crowning, At Ball July 26

Selection of Summerland's "Queen and her Princesses and the crowning ceremony will feature the Queen's Ball to be held in the Youth Centre, on Friday, July 26. The ball, sponsored by the Summerland Board of Trade is the initial step towards the Board of Trade's big Summerland Day program over the Labor Day weekend.

The Queen and her princesses who will represent Summerland at the Kelowna Regatta and Penticton Peach Festival, will, it is hoped, be presented to the Giant of Giant's Head, if he makes his widely publicized appearance during the three day event scheduled for August 31, September 1 and 2.

A feature of the Summerland Fruit Fair will be an interior championship horseshoe tournament. This was definitely approved by the celebration committee at a meeting last Friday. Chairman of the horseshoe tournament is Gerry Laidlaw.

Arrangements are also being made to have a ferris wheel and kiddies rides in operation on the big day, which is Saturday, August 31.

Summerland's Band and the High School band will play at intervals and efforts are being made to arrange folk dancing. Square dancers will also be in action.

A barbecue will also be staged on Saturday.

The heralded appearance of the Giant of Giant's Head is not expected until after nightfall on the Saturday night, but no one but the Giant knows what time he will arrive and the Giant is not talking.

All these goings on, are, however, only the trimmings to the main event which is the Summerland Fruit Fair, planned to publicize Summerland, the fruit industry and to benefit exhibiting growers financially.

Growers wishing to participate are requested to get in touch with Fruit fair committee chairman Cece Wade as soon as possible.

ACCOUNTS ARE HIGH
June accounts passed by the Summerland municipal council amounted to $53,999.68 of which $20,000 was for the schools.

Legion Carnival Attracts A Crowd

General conveners for the big Canadian Legion Street Carnival held on Saturday night at West Summerland were Sandy Caldwell, Ross McLachlan and George Clark.

All the Legion members assisted in one way or another to make the annual event a success.

Dave Thompson won the radio and the TV chair was won by Joe Stevenson.

What must be almost a record in close guessing was the number 1,802 given by Bill Milne when the bean jar contained 1,811.

The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Legion served hot dogs, pie and coffee and arranged the bean contest.

Music by the Summerland Band added to the Carnival spirit, and bingo was enjoyed by everyone with good prizes given.

Board Considers Buying Bus

At the School Board meeting on Tuesday evening, 17 applications were received for the vacant janitor position at the MacDonald School. No decision was made as the Board is considering the purchase of a small school bus and a man who could drive a bus would be preferable.

Only one tender was received for the operation of the Faulder-Meadow Valley bus route — 25 cents per mile from Jacob Knipfelberg. As this was considered excessive, the Board is obtaining prices on new and used is Board opinion that cheaper buses of 25 pupil capacity. It operation (i.e. less cost to the District) might be obtained by use of a District-owned bus.

Be Polite To "Furriners"

When is a person a tourist? Ask D. L. Cruickshank of the West Summerland postoffice staff. The other day, eager to obey the board of trade's policy of taking care of tourists, he hurried to get a glass of water for a lady asking for it.

He assured her it was the best Okanagan spring water, wrapped the glass with a napkin for better service keeping up good relations for everyone.

She sipped and chatted saying, "Garages don't cater much to tourists here, do they?" He replying, with the usual "Oh, don't you think so, etc.," and finally asking, "Where do you come from?" The answer, "PEACHLAND".

Cherry Crop Harvested 25-60 Percent Splitting

Packing houses report this morning 25 to 60 percent splitting in cherries due to the recent rains. While this is poor, it could have been worse had a bright sun shone following the downpours.

Cherry crop is practically under cover with only a few Lamberts being cleaned up now.

Three weeks ago everyone was saying that the fruit season was a week earlier than usual, but the cool weather has slowed things down and now it practically parallels last year.

Though the starting date to pick apricots was set for tomorrow, July 18, a few pickers commenced on Tuesday. It is reported that in 1956 the first cots went into packing houses on the 16th of July.

J. S. Kirk, labour placement officer, stated this morning that last week he turned many transients down as there was little cherry picking for them. They may have gone south. Mr. Kirk hopes that with Oliver district finished with cots early next week some of the help may come this way again, as the apricot crop presents a big harvesting problem, and a few hot days would bring it on quickly.

There is no large apple picking project until the first week in September when the Macs start to roll.

Apple Crop Up Fifty Percent

Estimated tonnage of apples for Summerland this year is 391,000 boxes as compared with 254,255 in 1956, or an increase of over 50 percent.

The 1956 figure includes shipments, bulk and manufactured by-products.

Pear estimate is up also, from 108,462 boxes to 120,000 or an increase of 16,538.

Fruit Probe Moves Sittings To Coast

The Royal Commission, investigating the Okanagan fruit industry, will resume sittings in Vancouver July 22.

Dates tentatively set are July 22, 24, 25, 26 in the court house. The commission, under Dean E. D. MacPhee, concluded sittings in the Okanagan Valley several weeks ago.

ODDS and ENDS

BY M. VANDERBURGH

"Whom not don't blow own horn, don't hear same", was reported the other day as a slogan for advertising given by an old Indian. It seems that we're in for considerable 'blowin' and tootin' this summer with the board of trade's Fruit Fair. The Fair should be a remarkable event, and let's hope that those tourists who are taking a round of the Okanagan Valley before school starts will see something of our fruit—really ripe and in all its colorful goodness—fresh from the tree, and not those green offerings that the big chain stores in Vancouver have for sale. Every time I've been at the coast lately, in the fall, I've been so disappointed in the apples, because they are not a fair sample—they've been green and small, and flavorless. If something is established here that will correct that impression of Okanagan fruit, and people will say, "You should go out there around Labour Day, and just see what gorgeous apples, and peaches, and so on, they really have, then perhaps more and more customers will ask for Okanagan fruit 'like it is in the Okanagan,' and our natural market at the coast will expand to its full extent.

There's always someone around with a sense of humor and I'm afraid it wasn't I, a while back, I parked in the parking lot (which really is one only through the courtesy of Laidlaw and Co.) It grows nails and various things as they are gradually brought to the surface after being hidden following demolition of a former building. Tin cans are in the place, too, and wire, and other undesirable things. I got out of the car, kicked a tin can off to the side as far as possible, not knowing anyone was observing. Mr. Jack Kirk, the Farm Labour Placement Officer watching from across the street nonchalantly said, "Oh, working for the city, now eh?"

Since we were mentioning advertising, Mr. Bennison has made a good advertisement for his type of work in a big long cement wall the length of his driveway and even around the corner. It looks lovely and flowers are growing in the top of it.

Mrs. Gwen Penney has 19 boys and girls in her Art Class Saturday mornings, and don't think she doesn't have to keep an eye on them as their productivity. She says, strays to making themselves look like Indians by painting their faces, or the faces of their friends Mrs. Penney thinks the beach is the place to hold the classes where plenty of water is handy. Still by the time the fall is nearly here, it will be surprising how they have translated their ideas to form and color on paper and produced spontaneous delightful results.

The Monday all-day closing makes for a bit of confusion, and some of the girls who work in the stores and offices aren't too happy about it. A break in the middle of the week gave them a chance to catch up with their housekeeping, and, or, to have a rest in the Wednesday off. From Tuesday until Saturday night at

Allison-Steele Wedding Takes Place In Dunbar United Church, Vancouver

A wedding of interest in the Okanagan Valley and at the coast took place in Dunbar Heights United Church on Friday evening, July 5, at eight o'clock, when Patricia Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Edward Steele of Vancouver became the bride of Donald Edward Allison, son of Mrs. Edward Freeman Allison of West Summerland and the late Mr. Allison. Rev. J. H. Matthews performed the ceremony.

The bride's gown was a waltz-length model of white lace over satin, the bodice styled with stand-up collar and lily point sleeves. A coronet of pearls and sequins held her chapel veil and she carried a cascading bouquet of gardenias and pink roses.

Maid of honor, Miss Eileen Steele, and bridesmaid, Miss Carole Allison, were gowned alike in bouffant princess dresses of ice-blue crystalette over taffeta. Their headdresses were a deeper shade of blue and they carried cascades of pink and white carnations.

Robert Galloway was best man and Roger Smith ushered the guests.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of Mrs. Louise Jones, where the bridal toast was proposed by Henry Jolly.

For her going away ensemble, the bride chose a soft blue sheath with matching duster and white accessories.

The couple motored to California on their honeymoon and are spending a few days this week in Summerland.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Allison, his grandmother, Mrs. Bancroft, and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wilkin of Summerland were in Vancouver to attend the wedding.

Eric Ek and Miss Anita Fenton Are Married At Bride's Westbank Home

The home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Norman Fenton, was the setting for a pretty wedding on July 12 at 3:30 p.m. when their daughter, Anita Louise, became the bride of Eric Ek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Ek, Giant's Head Road.

Rev. Mr. Law of the Pentecostal Church, Vernon, was the officiating minister.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, had chosen a lovely, full skirted white gown in afternoon length, which she wore with a shoulder length veil. She carried a summer wedding bouquet of carnations in pastel shades.

Miss Elaine Johnston of Westbank in a dainty blue ensemble was the bridesmaid.

Walter Ramsay of Kelowna attended the groom.

Following a short honeymoon

the couple are making their home at West Summerland.

The Dunsdon Clan Picnic In Ashnola

A six car picnic to the Ashnola Valley was enjoyed on Sunday by members of the Dunsdon family, the H. T. Richardsons and visitors from Vancouver. Mr. and Mrs. B. Ridington and their daughter, Joan.

Thirty-four motored over to the lovely area. The rain stopped and with the aid of a big tarpaulin as a cover tied to the trees well up over the tables, supper was served.

In the meantime the children went blueberrying with good results and Mrs. Ridington, a member of the Vancouver Lapidary Club explored the rocks thereabout looking for precious or semi-precious stones.

WEDNESDAY, JULY SEVENTEENTH NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY SEVEN

Suspend Regulations . . .

Throughout the province communities are plagued by the contentious question of shopping hours.

Summerland is no exception and although the Retail Merchants' Association has settled upon all-day Monday closing and Saturday night extension of shopping hours until 9 p.m. there is still uncertainty and, indeed, dissatisfaction with the all day Monday closing.

We cannot agree with some who claim that all day Monday closing is altogether undesirable. We do agree that a lot of business is being lost to Summerland, particularly from tourist campers who, by the nature of their nomadic life, cannot purchase any great amount of supplies at one time.

But it is equally true that the same type of business is lost to the community as a result of all day Wednesday closing. And we do know that adjacent communities are reaping the harvest, resulting from all day closure here during the holiday season.

Seeing Is Believing . . .

Some legends cannot survive the fierce glare of publicity particularly the probing eye of the television camera. This fact is bemoaned editorially by the Christian Science Monitor. We too, bemoan the apparently insatiable urge on the part of mankind to classify and tag everything to the extent that even the Loch Ness Monster is going to be tracked to his lair by some British TV company.

We shudder to think what would happen to Kelowna and its tourist industry if some movie or TV outfit decided to move in on Ogoogo.

Here in Summerland we have, of course, our own legend — the Legend of the Giant of Giant's Head — but our legend rests on a solid foundation, inasmuch as there for the world to see is the sculptured likeness of our Giant, a giant's head indeed, carved into the face of the huge rock which stands guardian over Summerland.

Consequently, we of Summerland and particularly the Summerland Board of Trade are not afraid of movie and television cameras and of enquiring reporters, as a matter of fact and to the contrary, we extend a hearty invitation to the cameras and the reporters to witness on August 31 the reappearance of the Giant of Giant's Head.

The editorial writer of the Christian Science Monitor when he wrote the following editorial did not mention the legend of the Giant of Giant's Head as the exception to the rule, but perhaps he does not know the legend or, perhaps, he is, despite himself, just another sceptic in a sceptic age.

Pioneer Days

40 YEARS AGO — JULY 13, 1917

Salmon sausage will be a new form of food to be shortly placed upon the market by the Fraser Salmon Sausage Co., Ltd., head office of which will be at Vancouver. A concern notice of the incorporation was given in last week's Gazette.

Mr. O. H. Broder, a cannery man of Nanaimo, connected with the Broder Canning Co., New Westminster, arriving here by motor Monday, told The Review that he considered Summerland an excellent field for a canning and jamming plant. He entered into negotiations with the assignee of the Okanagan Jam Company with the view of leasing the plant for this year. Though final arrangements have not been made, it seems to mean that the local cannery and also the jam factory will be put into operation this year.

Archdeacon and Mrs. Greene were honored guests at a garden party at Kelowna under the auspices of the senior and junior branches of the Women's Auxiliary of St. Michael's and All Angels' Church last week with a presentation made to commemorate their silver wedding anniversary.

It appears then that the only way to resolve this contentious issue is to permit, as does Penticton, the stores to stay open six days a week if they so desire.

We think in the interests of Summerland as a whole that the Retail Merchants would be well advised to suspend closing regulations during the two holiday months of July and August allowing merchants to remain open or to close their places of business as they see fit.

Those who wish to close down need not feel obligated to stay open, nor should they feel envious of the merchants who stay open, for surely it is better for tourist dollars to be left in Summerland than to be spent elsewhere.

We are fully aware that this is a vexed question — but The Reveiw takes the position that what is good for Summerland as a whole should be the deciding factor and to drive business elsewhere is certainly not good for Summerland.

It used to be that legends were like the weather. Everybody talked about them but nobody did anything about them.

Alas, those days are gone. Nowadays you mention a good legend and within a few days someone has got up a 30-man expedition to verify it or debunk it. No one seems to care that verification can kill a legend even faster than debunking. The thing just has to remain hazy if it's going to be any good.

We've been all through this business about hunting Abominable Snowmen and trying to capture Venusian spacemen, and are not too worried. The snowmen and Venusians have plenty of room to play hide and seek. They can evade verification all over the place.

But the poor Loch Ness monster is a sea-horse of another color. The plan of a British television manufacturer to probe the depths of Loch Ness from end to end in search of the monster is a distinct menace to legend fanciers. It's the biggest affront to British water monsters since Beowulf went snooping around Grendel's mother's lair. And Beowulf, at least was doing his under water theatrics for the sake of a legend that someone was writing at the time.

It looks as if the LN monster is on the spot. He could, of course, flee to some nearby lake. But who ever heard of a Loch Lochy monster or a Loch Oich monster? The idea is monstrous.

We're afraid the jig is up, and LN will have to stay and face the TV lights — without makeup or teleprompter — or be declared imaginary. If we hear any new legends we're going to keep them to ourselves from now on." —Christian Science Monitor.

to commemorate their silver wedding anniversary.

10 YEARS AGO — JULY 17, 1947

Mrs. H. K. Lott arrived last Saturday from Vancouver and will make her future home in Summerland.

Miss Nan Thorthwaite has joined the office staff of the B.C. Shippers.

Mr. and Mrs. Blair Underwood and family have moved into their new home in the Solly subdivision.

Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Caldwell have returned from their honeymoon.

Calvin Hornby of Vancouver is spending a holiday with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. May, Trout Creek.

Mrs. Beatrice Williams left recently by plane for an extended visit to England.

Misses Jean and Minnie Ritchie are spending a vacation in Seattle and Vancouver.

There is plenty of help available for farm labor, W. Beattie, placement officer, stated this week. Help offered is 100 per cent better than formerly available, he added. The big trouble is that many of the growers have not proper housing accommodation. Those who have, get good employees and are satisfied, Mr. Beattie said.

FOURTEEN POWER APPLICATIONS PASS

Electrical power applications have been approved by the municipal council as follows: Victor Hart, C. Wendell, T. F. Reid, Mrs. S. Shaw, Mrs. M. Polesello, Chas. Letts, Fred A. Smith, Mary H. Darke, J. Capustinsky, N. F. S. Schwass, W. P. C. Rabel, J. L. Gould, John Cooke and Peter Andrew.

The domestic water application of W. H. Bolton was accepted.

NATIONAL FRUIT VIRUS COMMITTEE MEETS HERE

Held at the Summerland Plant Pathology Laboratory recently were meetings of the National Fruit Virus Committee of which T. B. Lott is chairman. Attending were Dr. G. H. Berkeley, Dr. R. S. Willison and J. A. George of the Plant Pathology Laboratory, St. Catharines, Ontario; Dr. D. S. MacLachlan of the Ottawa Laboratory; Dr. R. D. Stace-Smit of the Vancouver Laboratory; Dr. J. M. Wilks and W. H. A. Wilde of the Creston Sub-Laboratory; and members of the

McIntosh Apples And Bulk Picking

Okanagan fruit industry is taking a "second look" at the practice of picking apples into bulk bins.

This was reported at the annual meeting of the Okanagan Federated Shippers' Association held here this week. Earlier in the year a delegation from the Okanagan visited New Zealand and Australia where bulk handling of apples has been in practice for many years.

It was reported that in some areas in the U.S. bulk handling of McIntosh apples has not been found satisfactory. Too much bruising was given as the reason. It was stated this system is ideal for apples ear-marked for the processors or for more hardier varieties.

Directors were re-elected for another year. They are K. W. Kinnard, Vernon, president; George Clarke, Kelowna, vice-president; P. S. Sterling, Vernon; M. J. dePuyffer, Kelowna; Don Sutherland, Kaleden; Andrew Bennie, Penticton; and A. E. Hill, Oliver. L. R. Stephens was re-appointed secretary-treasurer.

Catholic Summer School Concludes

Seventy-five children attended the summer school held at the Roman Catholic Church of The Holy Child from July 2-14. Cars brought many of the students to the school taught by two Sisters of Charity of Halifax, Sister Assumpta of Lady-smith and Sister Berenice of Vancouver.

Linda Betuzzi and Joanne Ongaro taught the pre-school children in prayer class. Concluding on Sunday six children took their first communion when a children's choir, directed by Sister Assumpta with Linda Betuzzi, organist, sang at the 8:30 a.m. mass.

The communicants were Ronnie Arnusch, Vaughan Echino, Phyllis McMechan, David McDaniel, Ronnie Tycholaz and oan Holler.

A breakfast was served by the Catholic Women's League following the service for all the children attending the school.

The picnic to have been held at the Betuzzi cottage at Crescent Beach was held in the church hall because of the wet weather.

Chevrolet's just one good thing after another!

Here on this page are seven of those good things — just to start with. You can actually find them by the score — all the big features of the best-selling '57 Chevrolet! And every one of them is another clear, convincing reason why Chevrolet is so far ahead of all other cars in value, popularity, sales!

TURBOGLIDE—You've never felt anything like Turbo-Glide — ABSOLUTELY NO SENSATION OF SHIFT! Five positions, including "Park" . . . and new "Hill Retarder" for safer no-braking downhill driving!

FASHION-CRAFTED INTERIORS — Rich, lustrous fabrics, beautiful modern color combinations. Chevrolet's spacious, flawlessly appointed interiors would do a much higher-priced car proud!

Illustrated — Bel Air 3-Door Sedan

FLIGHT PANEL — A split-second glance at Chevrolet's deep-hooded Command Post panel, and you know instruments have never been so elegantly easy to read!

BALL RACE STEERING — Mirror-smooth ball bearings do you a good turn . . . ease away friction, effort. Feels almost like power steering!

GLIDE-RIDE FRONT SUSPENSION — Highly perfected knee action lets each wheel "step" over the rough spots. Take any road — all YOU feel is the superbly smooth, Chevy ride!

SUPER TURBO-FIRE V8 — The most high-spirited of Chevrolet's velvety high-compression Turbo-Fire V8's, in any of Chevrolet's 19 models. Take your choice in any of Chevrolet's 19 models. Take your choice of four brilliant V8's or Chevrolet's famous or-economy Six.

AIR-INTAKE HEADLIGHT HOODS — Up to 22% more fresh, filtered air with Chevrolet's new ventilated air intakes, set high above road fumes! You feel more alert, more comfortable!

V8 OR 6
THE MOST MODERN EFFICIENT ENGINE IN THE WORLD

Month after month since the '57 Chevrolet was introduced, Canadians have bought more Chevrolets than any other car . . . positive proof of public preference. C-34572

Big Natural Gas Appliance Display To Be Held At IOOF Hall Here Friday, Saturday

Natural gas will flow into Summerland this fall. For those who are already signed up and for those who are interested in the possibilities of this fuel, Summerland gas appliance dealers in co-operation with the Inland Natural Gas Co. Ltd., are staging a two-day display and demonstration of appliances.

Householders with many questions about natural gas can get answers by attending the gas show to be held at the IOOF Hall on Friday and Saturday, July 19 and 20.

Demonstrations of the various appliances, gas ranges, furnaces, hot water heaters, etc., will be given and Inland Natural Gas Company officials will be on hand to answer questions regarding gas rates and to give other pertinent data on the new fuel.

The various firms represented will provide free coffee and doughnuts to those attending the two day display which starts Friday between the hours of 2 and 5 p.m. continuing on Saturday from 2 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Latest word from Inland Natural Gas Company Ltd. is that the work of laying the pipe-line is well ahead of schedule and it is expected that the natural gas main line will be ready for service well in advance of the original estimated completion date of November 1, this year.

Taking part in the gas show are Varty and Lussin, Young's Plumbing and Heating, Young's Electric, Holmes and Wade, Selinger's Plumbing and Heating and the Inland Gas company.

The show is as timely one, as construction crews are already at work in Summerland hooking up homes and businesses with the gas mains.

READY CASH ADVANCED BY BANK OF MONTREAL FOR HOME IMPROVEMENT

A low cost Bank of Montreal loan, made now, can ensure that you will be ready for the change over to natural gas this fall.

Already there is a shortage of gas appliances and this shortage is expected to increase as more and more communities across Canada are served by natural gas, so act now.

Whether you need money to change over to natural gas, or to paint your home, or to plaster the ceiling it will pay you to have a chat with Ivor Solly manager of the Summerland Bank of Montreal.

Personal Loans at the B of M cost only six per cent a year and are repayable in easy instalments. And you pay interest only on the amount still owing. Thus, if you borrow $100 and repay monthly over a year, the cost is only 27 cents a month. You can borrow more or less, for shorter or longer periods, at proportionately the same cost.

If you need money for home improvements, don't hesitate to call on Mr. Solly. "Lending money is my business," he says. "When you ask for a B of M loan, you do not ask a favor." —Adv

"Fun and Games" and Duties Well Done At Guide Camp at KAT Ranch

The annual Summerland-Peachland Girl Guide Camp was held recently for a week at the K.A.P. Ranch on the property of L. J. Kelly of Kelowna, and Reeve F. E. Atkinson of West Summerland. Twenty-seven girls attended and were in the care of Mrs. B. T. Blagborne as Commandant, Miss Enid Maynard as Assistant Quartermaster, Mrs. Art Köpp, Peachland, Camp Mother and Mrs. G. Ryman as Camp Nurse. Dianne Rumball filled the diversified roles of Lifesaver and Canteen Manager.

Fishing Notes

By BERT BERRY

Okanagan Lake — some good reports and a few poor ones this last week. Best time for fishing as a rule is in the mornings and the evenings. Most poor reports from afternoon fishing. Nice fishing off the rocks for fly and spinning.

Fish Lake Camp — good reports from the upper lakes for fly and troll. Fish lake only good in the evening. Best on troll.

Bear Lake — has come back and is good.

Sliver Lake — O.K.

Headwaters, Camp — good catches, no reports of large fish.

Agur Lake — no reports but the fish will be getting muddy until September.

Lakes in Princeton and Merrit areas have been very good from all reports and well worth a trip.

Mosquitoes are getting thick in the upper lakes so it would be well advised to take some mosquito dope with you.

The girls were housed in tents each containing five Guides and at the close of Camp, Tent "Philippines" led by Maureen Keys as Patrol Leader, with Marva Champion, Mona Inaba, Anthea Morgan and Ursula Nurnberg making up the Patrol, won the prize for the largest number of points.

The Camp was run with an International theme, each tent being named after a country where Guiding flourishes. Flags were presented each evening at Campfire for the largest number of points in Personal Inspection, and Duties well done.

Guests at dinner on the final evening of Camp included Reeve and Mrs. F. E. Atkinson, L. J. Kelly, Kelowna, Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh, Miss Dorothy Britton and Miss Frances Atkinson. The guests took part in the final evening's entertainment by judging the masquerade costumes, all of which were made of equipment and belongings in camp, prizes going to a party of four who made up an elephant, rider and leader with realistic sound effects. Linda Rumball was found to be the front portion where the noise issued from a metal trunk, Ursula Nurnberg was the overworked "rear end" carrying rider Donna Laidlaw, and Agnes Bangma led the animal.

Awards also went to Ann Powell and Teresa Keys for their portrayal of two trees carrying a clothes line and to Dianne Haggman and Jane Solly for their costumes comprised of leaves.

At the close of the camp a 12 foot Totem Pole painted by the Guides during handwork sessions was given to Mr Kelly as a small "thank you"

Funeral Services Of Leslie Bingham

Funeral services for Leslie Bingham, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Bingham, who died following a shooting accident at Terrace, were largely attended in St. Stephen's Anglican Church on Monday afternoon.

pallbearers were J. Y. Towgood, Alex. Inch, V. Campbell, D. Estabrook, R. C. Cuthbert and H. Dickson.

The Canadian Legion Honor Guard was comprised of H. Howis, A. D. Glen, W. C. McCutcheon and T. Fisher.

Rev. A. A. T. Northrup officiated at interment was in the Anglican cemetery, Giant's Head Road. C. W. Clarke was the organist.

Present were Mrs. J. Boulton, C. Sew, and Miss Sew of Penticton; Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Boulton of Keremeos; and Mr. and Mrs. H. Boulton of Oliver.

Promenade

The annual open air square dance planned by the Summerland Pairs and Squares for July 6 had to be held in the Youth Centre Hall due to the cool temperature of the evening. However, a few demonstration squares and a round dance were held in the Park in conjunction with the St. Stephens' Garden party. A lively crowd of about 10 squares kept moving along at a good pace with J. W. "Mitch" Mitchell as emcee. Local and out-of-town callers were featured on the program.

The Penticton Monday night class held its regular party night on July 8 with Les Boyer as emcee. Local dancers were in attendance and a very enjoyable evening of dancing was brought to a close with the serving of refreshments.

Several Summerland dancers travelled to Oliver on July 13 to attend the big square dance jamboree held in connection with the Apricot Fundae. Local callers on the program were Lester Arkell, Ray Fredrickson and Rita Horniston. Bill French of Oroville was the tomcoo and 14 squares were on the floor.

Clobbered by the Penticton Red Sox 7-0 last Friday at Penticton and clobbered again last Sunday, this time by the lowly two one — final score 10-5.

Princeton Royals at Princeton, the Summerland Macs hollered for help and they've got it, for next Sunday's game here against their arch rivals the Penticton Red Sox. There is also talk of a big shakeup, and reorganization. Likely starter on the mound will be Morley Flichel, back from a stint with a prairie club, Lloydminster.

Flichel didn't come back alone, tagging along was Ed Stefureak, who plays right field and is reported to be a good hitter.

The Macs are sorely in need of a shot in the arm, but whether the Flichel and Stefureak are what the doctor ordered remains to be seen.

Against Penticton Friday, the Macs were held to four scattered hits committed three miscues while the Red Sox drummed out nine hits including one four bagger and a two base clout. Jack Durston pitched a cosy game for the winners supported by errorless ball in the field.

Al Hooker started for the Macs but went to the showers in the second inning after the Sox had pounded him for five

RIFLE CLUB

By H.M. Simpson

Haven't much activity to report this week as rain put an end to the practice on Sunday morning. However, a ten-shot match was completed at the 200 yard range, and very good scores were recorded. Out of a possible 50 points the results were as follows: Phil Dunsdon, 48; Bert Simpson, 48; Harold Richardson, 47; George Dunsdon, 44; Art Dunsdon, 43; Ron Dunsdon, 41; Dick Dunsdon, 34.

No shooting next Sunday as a work party will be busy getting the range and targets ready for the annual Invitation Shoot to be held on July 28. Let's have as many members as possible out to the work party and have everything in tip-top condition for the big event.

hits, yielding four runs. Cristante held the Sox to four scattered hits but inability of the Macs to put the wood to Durston's offering made his efforts vain.

Flichel had his baptism of fire at Princeton Sunday, but Flichel who opened for the Macs was pounded out of the box by the Royals yielding seven hits, and when the smoke cleared at the end of the fourth the Royals leading 8-1.

Al Hooker took over the pitching chore and held the Royals to three hits and two runs and also contributed to the Macs cause with two circuit clouts.

Macs poled out eight hits but still the Royals outscored them two to one — final score 10-5.

According To The Mood

By Sid Godber

Picked up a copy of "Charm" magazine the other day. Having nothing better to do at the moment I flipped through the pages and finally put the magazine down, feeling like a peeping Tom. The inside of that magazine is certainly a woman's world.

I must admit to a feeling of nauseated awe for the copy writers — what language, what utter, utter drivel. Any man who browses through Charm magazine will also learn that this is the day and age of the cult of the bosom. Ruminating on the mystery of the woman's world, I later surreptitiously corralled the magazine and copied a few stirring examples of the copy writer's art.

Screams one line across a double page: "I dreamed I raced with the wind in my maidenform bra."

Continues the rave: "... there's an added excitement about your figure — it moulds and holds you in an OUTRAGEOUSLY beautiful new line!

Another ad informs the ladies: "Now you may enhance your bustline with "Zoom"; and another one:

Figure Flattery
La PARISIENNE
Does It For You.

And brother — until you've read Charm you don't know anything from nothing about what can be done with foam rubber. Ah well — the fairer sex have been known down through the ages as the gay deceivers.

And get a load of this copy writing:

"... because you are the very air he breathes." (that's only the headline). "He's yours and you know it. It's love and you show it. What fabulous fun, being a female, at a time like this. Don't let anything mar this moment. Double check your charm every day with ... the deoderant that etc., etc., etc." And the copy writer goes into a grand finale — "Remember, if you're nice-to-be-next-to ... next to nothing is impossible."

And girls, another ad exhorts — bring sorcery to your eyes — dramatize your eyes — instantly, easily make lashes look longer, lovelier. Get Rollash eyelash curlers."

And, of course, before going to the Queen's Ball on Friday night, be sure to bathe in the enchantment of a moon struck garden ... delicious concoctions for the most luxurious bath on earth.

I could fill this page with similar samples taken from the pages of this woman's magazine. Depressing, isn't it?

The people who pay for those advertisements are not philanthropists — they're businessmen — bent on making a fast buck.

The depressing thought is that such drivel, as quoted above, must sell the product — our womenfolk must go for the good.

Reads the ad:

"Rich in the perfume itself ... rich in emotional fireworks! 7 fragrances, including new voodoo and lavender!

And the girls just rush to buy a bottle of spray cologne.

Maybe that's the kind of stuff we need in our newspaper ads:

Is your complexion muddy?
Does your hair lack lustre?
Is your nose too large?
Are your feet too big?

Even though the answer is yes to those questions — Sleep peacefully sweet one, for on Friday night you'll be the belle of the Queen's Ball — in a dress FROM MACILS.

I doubt if I could persuade Macils to go for an ad like that — but honest, it's no worse, no more ludicrous than some of the copy writing in the woman's magazine. But as I said earlier the depressing thing is that women evidently go for the guff if it's wrapped up in a slick woman's magazine.

Jeep Ride Service Inaugurated Makes Tour of Giant's Head

Ever been to the top of Giant's Head?

Too much of a climb and too far to walk, you say — well maybe — it isn't that, but now there's no reason for anyone missing the magnificent panoramic view from the top of Giant's Head.

Bud's Garage, opposite the post office in West Summerland, has inaugurated a jeep service to the top of Giant's Head.

On the hour, every hour, minimum load four people, and you're away on a trip which will leave a lasting impression.

NEW CPR TRAINS COMING — The Budd Company's famed rail diesel cars, as pictured here will go into service on the Canadian Pacific Railway Kettle Valley line between Vancouver and Medicine Hat, Alta., cutting the present running time by six hours; by approximately 2 1/2 hours between Vancouver and Nelson. The "Dayliner" type trains, will seat 71 passengers, have a 14 foot baggage compartment, and separate toilet facilities. Air-conditioned, with reclining swivel seats, the rapid deceleration and acceleration has made the new CPR trains popular in other parts of Canada and will provide better all-round service for this area.

A Place For Everything And Everything In Its Place

Municipal authorities are objecting to junk scattering which has been going on for some time.

K. M. Blagborne reported to Tuesday's council meeting that the nuisance grounds are open 24 hours a day, so there is no reason for dumping in unauthorized areas. RCMP have been working with Mr. Blagborne in checking and controlling this violation.

Refuse has been emptied in the old shale pit, on the Giant's Head near the Setters, the back Crescent Beach road, and other places.

It is hoped that violators will co-operate in putting junk in the place provided so that further action will be unnecessary.

Ticket Sales Indicate Queen's Ball Popular

If ticket sales are an indication then the Queen's Ball on Friday night is to be a great success. Enthusiasm seems to be high for this big summer event in the Youth Centre starting at 9:30 with Saxies' Orchestra supplying the music.

At ten o'clock Candidates for the 1957 honor of representing Summerland as "Queen" for the ensuing year, will make their appearance, each one speaking and being interviewed.

Selection of the Queen and her princesses will take place following and at midnight the pretty crowning ceremony is to take place. This is the focal point of the evening and reason for the dance.

The seven charming candidates are Miss Diane Rumball, Miss Ruby Gronlund, Miss Dot Carston, Miss Marny Bleasdale, Miss Marjorie Campbell, Miss Edna Glaser, and Miss Joan Kilbach. Reigning Queen is Miss Darlene Bonthoux.

K. L. Boothe is convener for the event which leads up to School Organized For Handicapped

Mrs. J. B. Liebert has been engaged as the teacher for the school for Handicapped Children to open this fall in Summerland in the Baptist Church Hall.

Mrs. Flora Bergstrom has been appointed assistant teacher.

The school will be open five mornings a week for two hours. At present four children are expected to attend and there may be five or six.

Mrs. Liebert and Mrs. Bergstrom may go to UBC to take a course from August 4-10 which is being held to help teachers of such schools. They will stay at Acadia Camp Both have been active in the Kiwanis Club's social afternoons, which were held for the Summerland handicapped children in the United Church Hall during the spring and were considered most successful.

Mrs. G. Hallquist and Mrs. A. T. Northrup have said that they are ready to be substitute teachers to act in emergencies or whenever needed.

On Tuesday, July 23, an exciting tour commenced for John Woolliams, David Woolliams and Don McArthur. On that day they go to Vancouver to join the rest of the B.C. Scouts who are going by the Polar Route to the World Jubilee Jamboree to be held at Sutton Park in the County of Warwickshire in the very heart of England.

The Summerland boys, members of 1st Summerland Troop will travel in Troop 24 under Scoutmaster Williams of Prince George.

The planes are DC 6B's, and it is expected a stop will be made at Edmonton and in Greenland.

Summerland is sending the largest Okanagan contingent, with one each from Kelowna, Penticton, Oliver and Naramata. Jack Scrivener of Penticton is going as a Scoutmaster.

The Jubilee Jamboree will be the ninth World Scout Jamboree and the third to have been held in Great Britain. The first one was held at Olympia in London, originally intended as the Movement's tenth anniversary celebrations, and was to have been in 1917 but international events did not allow it.

Dynamite Blast On KVR Tracks

A big bang on Wednesday afternoon about 4:45 p.m. startled the residents of the back Prairie Valley and KVR Road.

It was discovered that a group of juveniles had put a case of dynamite on the railroad tracks about a quarter of a mile from the West Summerland station and touched it off.

RCMP found that CPR explosives had been used, taken by some youngsters up to public mischief.

No damage was done and none was injured.

Trout Creek Foreshore Trespassed By Channel

Water channels on lake frontage are considered a trespass on crown property according to a copy of a letter received by the municipal council from C. W. Hyslop, superintendent of lands.

The land between high water and low water mark is crown property, cutting channels into it is considered an act of trespass, the letter stated.

The matter arose out of a boat channel made by R. Pretty and G. Parker on the north side of the Pretty property in Trout Creek, and complaints received by the department of lands regarding it.

The canal cuts off traffic completely along the foreshore.

Hospitality Repaid But Not in Kind

Five juveniles were tried in Summerland Police Court on Thursday morning and placed on suspended sentence after being assessed court costs. They were taken into custody on Monday evening, July 15, on the east side of the lake at Osoyoos at 8:30 p.m., by Osoyoos detachment RCMP. Four of them were aged 16 and one 15, and gave their home addresses as Vancouver and Princeton.

The boys were brought back to Summerland to answer a charge of having stolen cigarettes and a hunting knife.

The story behind that news item is the story of an act of kindness ill-repaid for Mr. and Mrs. V. Charles who on a recent rainy day invited five drenched and footsore juveniles into their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles first saw the youngsters trudging down Peach Orchard Hill, huddled under a blanket against the driving rain and, as they appeared to be strangers, Mr. and Mrs. Charles invited them in, gave them opportunity to change their clothes in the basement and then gave them a meal.

After the meal nothing would do but they must wash the dishes and so, while three of them stayed upstairs washing dishes the others went into the basement to pack their duffel bags.

The boys left and it was not until some hours later that it was found that a carton of cigarettes was found to be missing along with a hunting knife.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles were upset over the incident, as Mr. Charles commented, "it makes one wonder," but it was a much happier Mr. Charles who phoned The Review with the news that following their appearance in court the boys had on their own volition requested to be taken down to the Charles home and there with every evidence of deep sincerity and deep regret they apologized for their betrayal of hospitality.

First In Canada

J. P. Sheeley has a new Vauxhall station wagon. Mr. Sheeley has the distinction of being the first person in Canada to have this Vauxhall model.

He and Mrs. Sheeley were in Vancouver last weekend where they took delivery of the car and drove it home.

Homes and Parks Full of Visitors

The number of tourists in Summerland this year is a subject of remark by merchants and residents alike. At Tuesday's council meeting Councillor N. Holmes said that such numbers as have come this summer were not anticipated.

This was further indicated when it was learned that one night recently 130 people were camped in Peach Orchard Park which overtaxed the facilities put in last year by the Park's Board.

A telephone pay booth was recommended and a light over the sign so that tourists can find the park entrances at night.

The Kiwanis Club has been given permission by the municipal council to hold a Street Carnival on Saturday evening, Aug.

APPLICATIONS FOR ELECTRICITY

The municipal council has passed applications for electricity received from C. Halvorsen, W. J. Schwab, E. A. Hanson, Wm. Rabel and A. W. Baker.

Mr. Hanson's application for domestic water was accepted, also at Tuesday afternoon's council meeting.

TEEN TOWN

By DOT CARSTON

Seems to me that I was supposed to report this last week but something happened! Our last council meeting was held at the Carston residence on July 7. It was decided to cancel Friday night dances because of the poor turnout. Instead we are going to hold one big dance on August 2 in the IOOF Hall. The name for this bang-up dance is the "Twelve O'Clock Jump". The dance starts at 9 p.m. and continues until twelve. Admission is as usual — 25 cents with cards, 35 cents without. Refreshments will be sold and music will be by the top recorders of the season.

A poster party was held at Marj Campbell's on July 15 to arrange good advertising for the all-important dance. Prizes for the most original posters were won by Laurane Bonhoux and Dot Carston. Somebody goofed.

Guess that's all but remember to come to the big dance August 2 at 9 p.m.

Smith.

The party was held at Mrs. Gilbert's home on Monday evening, July 15.

A bright, gayly decorated box overflowing with lovely gifts was presented to the bride-to-be Miss Shirley Clarke assisted in opening the parcels.

After all the presents had been opened and admired by everyone, delicious refreshments were served.

Others present included the bride's mother, Mrs. A. Brlekovich, Mrs. Herb Pohlmann, Mrs. John Menu, Mrs. Frank Jacobs, Mrs. Peter Unrau, Mrs. Walter Damosky, Mrs. Norman Dickinson, Mrs. Leonard Mountford, Mrs. Joe Biollo, Mrs. Fred Clarke, Mrs. J. E. Sheldrake, Mrs. Rus Gilbert, Mrs. John Drolet, Mrs. Ron Lawley, Mrs. Don Cristante, Miss Joan Dickson, and Miss Muriel Weitzel. Mrs. S. W. Taylor was unable to attend but sent a gift.

MRS. MARTHA WILSON'S DEATH AT CALGARY

Friends of Mrs. Martha Wilson will regret to hear of her death at Calgary at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Allan Jones, on Thursday, July 18.

Her son, Percy Wilson, at whose home she visited every fall, was called to Calgary last week. Mrs. Wilson had been ill about a month.

She is survived by ten children.

Funeral services and interment were in Calgary on Monday, July 22.

Stan Gladwell returned this week from Montreal.

Mrs. J. H. James of Vancouver, a former resident, has been visiting for three weeks in Kelowna and Vernon.

Mrs. T. A. Walden has returned from a trip to Yorkton, Sask., Edmonton and Winnipeg. Her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Walden, drove her home from Edmonton and their daughter, Mona, and son, Chester, are visiting Mrs. Walden.

Drena Strachan of Grand Forks is visiting at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Strachan.

Ice Cream Social Change Of Date

Date of the Ice Cream Social and Bake Sale, advertised last week by the members of St. Andrew's W.A. for Friday evening has been changed to Saturday night, July 27.

This summer event is to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Durick. Last year a large number attended and enjoyed the pleasant social evening on the lawn and in the garden. A similar occasion is anticipated this year.

Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Elliott have returned from a trip to Winnipeg during which they motored over 4,000 miles.

Corporal A. R. Bates and Mrs. Bates and their two young children were weekend visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bates. Corporal Bates has been transferred from Ottawa to the Vancouver detachment of the RCMP.

Dr. Williams, who went east to meet his family, who have come from Wales, arrived back with Mrs. Williams and the children, on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Weeks of Vancouver have returned after a week's vacation at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Weeks. Michael Weeks accompanied his grandparents to the coast for a holiday there.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Gow of West Vancouver spent the weekend at the home of Mrs. Gow's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Johnston going on to Nelson. They are expected to return to Summerland this weekend.

Mrs. Christine Agur and Kathy Inman-Kane of Pacific Palisades, California, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Agur, Crescent Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Sheeley enjoyed last weekend at the coast where they did some fishing and sailing.

R. F. Angus will attend a building inspectors' conference at Hope on July 27.

Mrs. E. F. Weeks was in New Westminster recently for a nurses' reunion of the class of '47, Royal Columbian Hospital.

WEDNESDAY, JULY TWENTY-FOURTH NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY SEVEN

Compulsory Arbitration The Answer

It is business as usual at the Penticton General Hospital today, with the threatened strike by the nursing staff averted.

The settlement, however, leaves much to be desired, although action of the BCHS in increasing the grant to the hospital enabled the board to meet the conciliation board award.

But the public is still left as the whipping boy and there is no assurance that when the contract expires next year that a similar situation will not arise of a hospital board financially unable to meet the salary increases, even though those increases are recommended by a conciliation board.

The nurses of the Penticton hospital and the nurses of other institutions throughout the province are, we believe, not only within their legal rights but also within their moral rights in threatening and, if need be, carrying out strike action, under the circumstances which existed at Penticton.

There was nothing left for the nurses to do, faced as they were with the flat refusal of the hospital board to abide by the conciliation board recommendations.

Some editorial writers have moaned and groaned in anguish and invoked the shade of Florence Nightingale in protest against the nurses' threat to strike. We cannot help but wonder how those same editorial writers would relish having to go into a fight with both arms tied behind their backs and with legs hobbled. And yet, in suggesting that the nurses' have no moral right to strike they were asking the nurses to surrender meekly to what in effect is tyranny.

For it is tyranny when authority can ignore its own machinery and deny just demands and, at the same time, deny either on moral or legal grounds the use of the strike weapon.

It was undoubtedly a disgraceful thing that the Penticton hospital should be threatened with closure as result of a wage dispute. It is undoubtedly, a disgraceful thing that now the threat of closure hangs over other hospitals in the province. But let us put the blame where it belongs — that is upon the government, and not necessarily upon the present government alone, but on past governments, for legislation providing for compulsory and binding arbitration in disputes affecting essential services, is long overdue.

The public has the right to expect protection where essential services are concerned, but we do not believe the public wants protection achieved through injustice.

There can be no other answer, if the strike weapon is to be denied to any group, then compulsory arbitration must be substituted.

The P.M. And Foreign Trade

Prime Minister Diefenbaker is to be commended for zeal with which he pressed upon Commonwealth Prime Ministers' Conference in London importance of undertaking full re-assessment of trade relations among Commonwealth countries, and between Commonwealth countries and rest of world. Proposed meeting of Commonwealth Finance Ministers in Ottawa in autumn will provide opportunity for doing so, and for bringing into focus problems that are of utmost importance to Canada's economic wellbeing.

It would, however, be unwise to expect too much by way of positive results from Ottawa conference. So long as UK Government remains interested in European Common Market and Free Trade Area Plan, it would seem improbable that the old pattern of Commonwealth preferences can be revived. Experiences of Australia and New Zealand in trade discussions with UK Government afford disquieting evidence that this is so. Both have tried, unsuccessfully, to persuade UK to expand British market for their primary products. Both have given a firm but polite refusal. And both have reacted by seeking to develop new markets elsewhere by exploring possibility of trade agreements with Japan. Price which Japan will exact for increased trade with Australia and New Zealand will be reduced tariffs on imports into those countries of Japanese manufactured goods.

Most welcome aspect of Diefenbaker Government's concern about trade is the fact that it serves to focus public attention on what promises to be Canada's most serious economic problem. Prime Minister's stern reference to the manner in which U.S. government has violated General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade by surplus "giveaways" of agricultural products, with price tied in many cases to commitments on the part of the purchasing countries to satisfy their future food requirements from US sources, at expense of Canadian farmers, has already evoked response south of the border. Much to the point is comment of the NY Herald Tribune, which observes that Mr. Diefenbaker's desire to see about 15 per cent of Canada's imports from U.S. switched to the U.K. "might not stop at 15 per cent."

"It should be realized in the U.S.," says the NY Herald Tribune, "that Canada's foreign trade is vital to that country's booming economy. . . . Moreover, while the United States and Canada are each other's best customers, the balance is in favor of the United States. . . . In the interests of harmony between neighbor states it is essential that the United States take another look at its trade with Canada, determine whether tariffs and quotas are causing unnecessary harm and whether surplus disposal policies cannot be adjusted more closely to Canada's needs."

Fact that Canadian purchases from U.S. account for about 25 per cent of that country's exports is compelling evidence of importance of trade with Canada to U.S. prosperity. Far more important than economic considerations, however, is importance to Washington to demonstrate that she can get on well with Canada — a consideration that is called into question by Mr. Diefenbaker's charge that the U.S. Government has violated GATT in its farm "giveaway" program, and the subsequent acknowledgment of officials in Washington that the U.S. "may have violated the spirit of the general agreement but not the letter."

Ability of the U.S. to get on well with Canada, as editor Tom Kent of Winnipeg Free Press points out in July issue of Foreign Affairs, "is the first and most direct test of her ability to get on with every other smaller power. . . . Canada is the world's hostage of American good intentions. If Canadian said that they were being brow-beaten by the Americans, if they said that their interests were being seriously prejudiced by the United States, the world's sympathy would be overwhelmingly with Canada. The world sees Canada as a country very like the United States as any free nation. If the Americans could not get on well with Canada, with whom could they get on well?"

Good relations with Canada, in trade and economic affairs as well as in the realm of international politics, are of paramount importance to the U.S. If Mr. Diefenbaker's views on trade serve no other purpose than to remind Americans that this is so, and to evoke from the Eisenhower Administration the same friendly and sympathetic response that has been accorded his remarks by the U.S. press, they will have served a useful purpose. —Letter Review.

Orchard Notes

By ALEC WATT
FIELD DAYS

Orchardists in the Penticton-Summerland area will have an opportunity to compare notes when the Field Day takes place on Wednesday, July 31.

The Field Day will be centred in the Penticton area commencing at 9:30 a.m. in the George Howard orchard Penticton upper bench. The Howard orchard is south of the Johnson Road. Program will cover orchard pests and diseases, particularly Apple Scab Signs will be posted to direct those who may be unfamiliar with the area.

During the noon hour a question and answer period will be held. W. R. Foster, Provincial Plant Pathologist, C. L. Neilson, Provincial Entomologist and Craig Brownlee, soil and drainage specialist will be on hand to answer questions.

The afternoon session will be in the W. H. Morris orchard, Penticton, at 2:15. Mineral deficiencies, orchard renewal problems and Dalapon results will be featured at this stop.

In addition, checks of the soil moisture level and irrigation schedules will be made at each orchard.

The following day, August 1, is the date for the Kelowna-Westbank Field Day. This tour starts at 9:00 a.m. with the cars assembling at the Mission Creek School on the KLO road. For those growers who are interested in hardy intermediate stocks and East Malling rootstocks, the Kelowna Field Day will be well worth taking in. A large block of 10 year old Red Delicious on hardy stock will be viewed as well as a bearing orchard of Spartan on E.M. II and E.M. VII roots. Nineteen different hardy intermediate stocks will be evaluated at the Kelowna orchards as well.

Those attending either of these field days are asked to bring their own picnic lunches. Coffee will be provided.

REMEMBER — PEACH ROOT BORER

Now is the time to control Peach Root Borer. Control measures for this pest should be taken during the last week of July and repeated the last week of August. Spraying the trunk and crown of the trees with a spray containing 5 lbs of 50 per cent DDT in 100 gallons of water is recommended. Further details may be found on the spray calendar.

CATTLE FORAGE

On Wednesday, July 17, a Field Day in Animal and Field Husbandry was held at the Experimental Farm and despite the rain, attended by over 200 interested farmers.

District agriculturists J. C. Ryder of Salmon Arm; R. C. Bailey of Vernon; and J. F. Carmichael of Grand Forks were present and dairy cattle and forage work were reviewed.

Pottery-decoration at Puebla by native artists and the ruins at Tula are extra attractions for the visitor.

Pensioners

By LYDIA JOHNSTON
The Old Age Pensioners' Club heard a report of the recent provincial convention at Pt. Alberni at their last meeting on Tuesday evening, July 16, as given by the local president and delegate, C. W. Haddrell. Mr. Haddrell said that clubs are still being organized on Vancouver Island and a new one was just formed at Courtenay. It was stated that B.C. is the only province having so many, since it is about 75 per cent organized, with Alberta, 20 per cent; Saskatchewan, five, and Manitoba one per cent. He said there were none east of Manitoba. An interesting address by Hon. Eric Martin was heard at the convention. Following the business, members of the Horticultural Society were hosts for the evening. They were waiting with cars to take us to the provincial park on Highway 97 between Summerland and Peachland. The ladies were presented with corsages of carnations donated by J. McLachlan Greenhouses, and the men with boutonnières before leaving for the drive, which was a pleasant and thorough tour of the park and picnic site. Returning to the IOOF Hall hearty and delicious refreshments were on the tables which were decorated with more lovely carnations. One table was especially prepared for the members having birthdays in July. This table was centred with a larger bouquet of pink carnations and presented later to the only lady with the lucky birthday, Mrs. J. McDougald. Counting the members of the OAPO, drivers and Horticultural members there were 40 present. Those from the host society present were Mrs. H. C. Whitaker, Mrs. Alex Inch, Mrs. Gordon Ritchie, Mrs. W. F. Ward, Mrs. E. H. Bennett, Mrs. M. E. Collas, Miss Doreen Taft, H. W. Brown, Alec Watt, D. L. McIntosh, K. B. Thomson. Miss Taft showed lovely pictures of flowers, which she had taken in different parts of B.C. including Vancouver and the Island. All Pensioners not having their own cars were taken home by members of the Horticultural Society and the evening was a great success and not at all spoiled by the rain.

Mac's will play the Oliver OBC's here Sunday in what should be a heads up ball game. The Macs, as they showed last week against the Pentiction Red Sox, have shucked off a lot of that tired feeling. The OBC's are ginger hot — it should be a good game, game time 2:30 p.m., place, Memorial Park, West Summerland.

Summerland's Macs lost a ball game, Sunday, there's no dispute about that, but there is some dispute as whether they lost to the Pentiction Red Sox or to Umpire Bill Raptis.

The Macs certainly played heads up ball, better than they have been doing of late. They committed only one miscue and outhit the Red Sox 14-10 — but for all that the final score read, Pentiction 10, Summerland, 7.

Macs were going great guns. They hit Durston and Staff freely, with two two baggers by Egely and a three base hit by Taylor included in their total of 14 hits.

Macs were leading 3-0 going into the fourth — and then the balloon went up. Red Sox aided by three singles, four walks and an umpire's hotly disputed decision ran in seven runs — the questions — did it fall in the batter's box or did it fall in fair territory? Was Catcher Egely right and umpire Raptis wrong?

Would a decision in favor of the el? — remain subject for argument — what can't be argued is that at the end of the inning the Red Sox had tallied seven runs — and the Macs never did catch up. Macs have cut off the Red Sox rally and steadied pitcher Flichel.

Summerland Juniors Play To 7-7 Tie With Vernon

Playing in the first game of a double header on Sunday the Junior Red Sox and the Vernon Hydros went seven innings and ended in a 7-7 deadlock.

It was a good fast game with only three errors, all of which were made by the Vernon team.

Summerland picked up nine base hits including a long triple by Henry Huva. Vernon got eight hits, including a home run by Munk.

Huva started on the mound for the Red Sox, giving up five hits and four runs. He was relieved by Sheeley, who was tagged for three hits and three runs.

The Red Sox picked up their sixth double play of the season in the fifth inning to wipe out a Vernon threat.

H. M. SIMPSON

Well, everything is in order for the big invitation shoot next Sunday. A work party put the firing points, targets, etc., in good condition, and at a meeting held at the home of the president, George Dunsdon, on Monday evening, a prize list was made out and other necessary details of the shoot were arranged.

There will be three classes: Senior, Tyro and Cadet, the latter being open to boys and girls under 19 years of age. Seven-shot matches will be fired at 200, 500 and 600 yard ranges, with trophies and cash prizes to be awarded. Major award of the shoot is the Dunsdon shield for the high aggregate score.

Spectators are very welcome to attend and see some of Canada's finest shots in action. The shoot will last all day, so how about it, give the local club your support, it won't cost you anything.

Congratulations are extended to Ron Taylor, a member of the Pentiction and Summerland clubs for his excellent shooting at the B.C. Rifle Association shoot on Blair Range, Vancouver last week.

Mac's Aces Play Greyhounds Here Thursday Night

"But we're still on top of the league," says Joe Bullock, playing manager of the Summerland Macs Cafe Aces.

Joe was referring to the sad fact that the league leading Aces had taken a 5-1 trimming at the hands of the up and coming Greyhounds in Pentiction Monday night.

Greyhounds have won nine in a row — but says Joe, that winning streak is due to come to a sudden stop. We play 'em here tomorrow night, Thursday.

So that's the way it's sitting in the Industrial Softball league. Summerland Macs Aces vs. those pesky Greyhounds at the Summerland, Memorial park, Thursday night, game time, 7 p.m.

Promenade

The only dance north of the border on Saturday night was one held in the Safeway Parking lot, Penticton. This dance was later moved over to the Gyro Park where it was much enjoyed by the dancers and spectators. Local callers were in charge of the emceeing.

Travelling to Omak over the week end for the birthday dance of the Omak Polkateers were: Lester and Alice Arkell and Ray and Doreen Fredrickson. Several other local dancers from this area also attended and became eligible for their Knot Head badges.

Registration forms for the Peach Festival Square Dance Jamboree are now available for all dancers wishing to take part in the Jamboree and can be obtained from Enid Maynard or Rita Hermiston. Closing date for pre-registration is August 1. —E.R.H.

Over 400 Attend Gas Demonstration

Over 400 people attended the demonstrations arranged by Inland Gas Co., Ltd., and their appliance distributors in the IOOF Hall Friday evening, and Saturday afternoon and evening, July 19-20.

During both afternoons wives of the demonstrators served doughnuts and coffee and everyone was able to take a look at the various types of stoves, furnaces, and latest gadgets used wherever gas is distributed.

the title "Jamboree", a word which he had learnt in South Africa, but which few people in England knew. Following the 1920 Jamboree the word appeared in dictionaries, and today it is known and understood by practically everybody, no matter what language they may speak. When B.P. was asked, "Why, Jamboree?" he could only answer, "What else could you call it?"

In 1951 another Summerland boy, Richard Lewis, attended the World Jamboree held that year in Austria, the only Scout in the district to attend. In 1955 Harold Oxley and Ted Hannah represented Summerland Scouts at the World Jamboree at Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ontario.

Historic Sutton Park comprises some 2,400 acres of woods and moorland in undulating country with heather, gorse, running streams and attractive lakes combining to make it a place of beauty. It was once a Royal Hunting forest and was given to the people of Sutton Coldfield, to whom it still belongs, by Henry VIIIth of England in 1528. The Park has been preserved in its natural state and is a sanctuary for wild life.

Within the Park boundaries is ancient highway built by the Roman occupants of the British Isles more than 2,000 years ago. The Park is only eight miles from Birmingham, the second largest city in England. The World Rover Moot and the World Scouts' Indaba take place at the same time as the Jamboree with independent programs.

The jubilee commemorates the Centenary of the birth of the Founder, Robert Baden-Powell of Gilwell, and the Golden Jubilee of the first experimental Scout Camp held by B.P. on Brownsea, England, in 1907.

At the last Jamboree that Baden-Powell, Chief Scout of the World, attended before he died, he said: "This great Jamboree will have a vital and very far-reaching effect throughout the world in the cause of peace, and so pledge all of you here in this assembly of youth to do your utmost to establish friendship among Scouts of all nations."

Miss S. Imayoshi Wedding At Coast

Summerland friends will be interested to hear of the wedding which took place in Trinity Baptist Church, Vancouver, of Sumiko, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Imayoshi, Summerland, and Yoshio Arai, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. Arai of Vancouver. The ceremony was at four o'clock in the afternoon with the brother of the bride, Rev. Kutch Imashi of First Baptist Church, Nelson, officiating.

The petite bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a charming white taffeta wedding gown, with Empire waistline, and princess lines, the full skirt lined, and the bodice having long lily point sleeves. Her chapel length veil of silk illusion was held in place with a cap of seed pearls and mother of pearl sequins. Red roses and white stephanotis made the beautiful bridal bouquet.

The bridesmaids were Miss Jean Imayoshi, sister of the bride and Miss Yuki Sarai, sister of the groom, in identical frocks of flocked blue nylon in ballerina length with large blue butterfly bows at the back. Both wore matching headdresses and carried Colonial bouquets of pink and white roses. Little Barbara Mann, the flower girl wore white nylon with a large blue bow similar to the bridesmaids at the back, with a blue floral headpiece, and a Colonial nose-gay.

The groom's brother, Kazuo Sarai was best man and the ushers were Paul Boyko and Jack Cook, brother-in-law of the bride.

Mrs. Gatz presided at the organ and the soloist was Stewart Mills.

At the reception following at Fraser View Clubhouse, Rev. Mr. McWilliams proposed a toast to the bride with the groom responding. Several congratulatory telegrams from Japan and California were read.

WILL YOUR FAMILY BE ABLE TO CARRY ON WITHOUT YOU?

Here's how to protect them now... and in the future!

Worrying about it won't keep your family's future secure. You have to plan for their protection against the possible loss of their breadwinner.

The Mutual Life of Canada FAMILY INCOME POLICY TO AGE 65 will give your family the security they need. If you die before you reach age 65, it will provide your wife with a substantial income from the time of your death until the day you would have been 65. THEN, IN ADDITION, The Mutual Life of Canada will pay her the full face value of the policy to help take care of her in old age.

If you live to age 65, you can choose to receive either a substantial lump sum or a regular monthly income or continue the policy at a greatly reduced premium.

Attention
Business Telephone Subscribers

The sale or purchase of binder covers for use with Okanagan Telephone Company's directories is in direct contravention to Item 30 of our Tariff, which states, in part:

30. Telephone Directories

A. Ownership and Use

"... directories shall remain the property of the Company. "No binder, holder, or auxiliary cover except as may be supplied by the Company, is to be used in connection with any directory furnished by the Company.

"In the case of any breach of these conditions conditions the Company may resume possession of the directory."

The Okanagan Telephone Company respectfully urges the operation of all subscribers in observing this Tariff regulation — as failure to comply leaves us no alternative but to remove the unauthorized binder or to resume possession of our directory.

According To The Mood

By Sid Godber

Took what is loosely termed a flying trip to the coast — actually I didn't fly, I went by train.

It rained, it rained, it rained, it rained. Woke up Monday a.m. peeked out, glory be, blue sky — train stopped. I looked at massive chunk of mountain — didn't recognize it until the train moved on, then I saw the profile of Giant's Head — too late, of course, had to go on to Pentiction, and the bright idea I had of getting to the office early Monday a.m. went the way of a lot of my bright ideas — just as well though that I didn't get off — found out later that I didn't have the keys so, had I got off, I'd have been sat on the office doorstep chewing my finger nails.

Dunno that I'm altogether happy about the change coming up on the CPR. Those rail diesel cars may be the answer to a lot of things, but one thing I'm going to miss between here and Vancouver is the dining car.

Once in a while I like to wallow in luxury and, somehow or other, I get more of a feeling of living it up in a railway dining car than I do when dining with all the trimmings in the Hotel Vancouver.

Seems these Budd Diesel railway cars don't run to diners so I won't be able to enjoy that "I'm a millionaire for an hour" feeling which I can get by splurging on breakfast, on the overnight to Vancouver.

On the train as we rocked and rolled through the Fraser Valley I listened to two chaps talking about their children. One was still in a tizzy over his daughter's failure to pass her first year University exams. "It's not so much that she didn't pass — it's her attitude — oh well I wasn't the only one, there were plenty of others who failed." And it wouldn't be so unforgivable if she were a moron — but she isn't, she's a bright girl — an honor student at high school, and then, just because she gets in with a gang who think more of having a good time — blooey."

The other chap listened with rather a smug expression. Seems he took his girl out of high school — "nothing but frills, frills, frills," he snapped, "and precious little school work — now the girl is attending a Catholic School. And it's school work on the hour every hour." Gloated this parent, "my girl is learning the most valuable lesson of all from those Sisters — she's learning how to study."

Writing of this column considerably delayed by young Ken McKenzie, who dropped in to show us a copy of the London Daily Telegraph which he had found in the bottom of a trunk. The paper is dated Friday, February 16, 1894.

Talk about living in another world. Want a night out? Well, there's the "Empire — Living pictures — pictures of well-known masters realized tonight. The warm colors are never crude, the posing is always natural and the figures are always represented by lovely women —"

That's what the ad says and incidentally there are about six pages of classified ads in this one eight page paper.

Appropos of the current controversy over nurses' wages, is an ad for a night nurse carried in the London Telegraph of 1894 "Night Nurse wanted, wages commence at twenty pounds 16 shillings, rising to twenty eight pounds 16 shillings, and that is not per month, but per annum.

And on that day in the House of Commons Sir D. MacFarlane asked whether the attention of the Home Secretary had been called to an entertainment at the Aquarium, in which a woman dances in the presence of a lion and other beasts, and where the only attraction was the danger to human life.

And Mr. Asquith replies "I have not seen the entertainment," — laughter — "but I will make inquiries in reference to it." Renewed laughter.

It seems that on that day in House there was, judging by the reporting in the London Telegraph, much laughter and renewed laughter.

Yes Friday, February 16, 1894 was quite a day in the history of the British Empire. Anarchists abounded in Greenwich. A story with a full one column headline screams subdudly: "Mysteriously occurrence in Greenwich Park Explosion of a Bomb. Frightful death of the man who carried it. Anarchists in London."

And a bloke named Harry Wyndham, appeared before Sir John Bridge at Bow street police court and was charged with sending a letter threatening to kill the Queen.

But through all this the jolly members of parliament laughed and laughed and laughed — even though, as the Telegraph reports, "according to a telegram from Cape Town, the Cape Mounted Police are concentrating on the borders of Pondoland."

And incidentally we learn from the London Telegraph, February 16, 1894 was a lucky day for German Soldiers for on that day Kaiser Wilhelm decreed that the weight to be carried by the German infantry was to be reduced by 14 pounds.

They certainly knew how to pack the news into papers in those days.

Present Orchard Labor Needs Have Been Met

Labour has caught up with the crop needs, J. S. Kirk, placement officer, reported today.

R. F. Angus At Hope Meeting

Roy F. Angus, Summerland building inspector, and director of the Okanagan Zone of the B.C. Building Inspectors' Association attended a meeting of the executive at Hope on July 27.

Mr. Angus reports that five of the six zones were present including the director from Prince George in the northern zone.

The executive is busy planning a meeting of all the associates to hear an address by R. S. Fergusson of Ottawa, secretary of the associate committee on the national building code. This is scheduled for the third week of September. Plans are being made for the annual meeting to be in Vernon during the 24th of May weekend holiday in 1958 when all members and associate members are being invited to visit the Okanagan for the weekend.

Mr. Kirk said that requests for help have practically come to a standstill for the present, due to the fact that picking is late here because of rain and the cool season. Oliver and Osyoos finished earlier than in Summerland and most of the transient help came from those places.

It is anticipated that cots will be finished in a week, although a few people are cleaning them up every day now.

More help will be needed again in two weeks when the "V" peaches are expected to start between the 15th and 20th of August and will probably run concurrently with the Bartlett pears as has happened for several years now, it was reported.

McIntosh apples may be anticipated to roll anytime between September 5 and 10.

There is still some apple thinning and some farmers will go on with this in the lull between cots and peaches.

Echo of Dynamite Explosion Heard In Police Court Here

Two boys appeared in police court on Monday in connection with taking 30 sticks of dynamite from CPR property and exploding them on the hill above the KVR station on July 17.

Case of one boy was adjourned and the other was judged a delinquent and fined.

CPR investigators James Mickle of Vancouver and Cecil Coe of Pentiction were present at the trial heard by Magistrate Robert Alstead.

Coast juveniles appeared in police court on Tuesday morning on a charge of public mischief under the juvenile delinquent act following breaking of the big flume in Prairie Valley due to a rock being rolled down the hill and striking it.

One case was adjourned. The other boy was judged a delinquent and a fine imposed. The case was heard by Magistrate Robert Alstead.

Rev. G. Carder In The Okanagan

Rev. Gordon Carder, a young missionary, home from his first furlough, spoke in Summerland Baptist Church on Sunday morning and in the evening showed color slides of mission work.

Mr. Carder, a fluent speaker, told of India's continual enslavement due to poverty, superstition, fear, degrading gods, and the struggle before these are overcome and Christian teachings may be accepted.

He told something of the economy of the country, grants-in-aid and help being received from other countries.

In the afternoon Mr. Carder addressed the Baptist congregation at Peachland.

Pioneer Resident Mrs. Garnett Dies

The death of Mrs. T. J. Garnett at her residence in the Solly subdivision on Monday, July 29 has taken a highly respected resident who lived in Summerland 52 years and took a great interest in the life of the community. Mrs. Garnett was 78 years old.

Her maiden name was Bertha Louise McRitchie and she was born at Sarnia, Ontario on December 22, 1879. She moved to Virden, Manitoba, with her parents in 1886.

Mr. and Mrs. Garnett were married at Virden in 1901 and came to Summerland in 1905. For a number of years they had a fruit shipping business.

Mrs. Garnett was active in United Church organizations during her life; in the Women's Institute; the Red Cross Society; and the Horticultural Society. He has been interested in the work of the CCF and her home was often a centre for meetings of this political party as well as offering hospitality through the years to many.

Surviving are her husband, Mrs. Stuart Burton, Alva, of Burnaby.

Mrs. Floyd Simpson, Grace, Vancouver; Mrs. Robert Cuthbert, Zanda, of Summerland; Mrs. Ed. Riley, Dorothy, of Celista.

Two brothers survive, Wylie McRitchie of Saskatoon, Sask.; and Arthur McRitchie, Kemano; a sister, Mrs. Jean Ledyard, lives at Hobart, Indiana.

There are 12 grandchildren. Funeral services were held this afternoon at 2:30 p.m. in Summerland United Church, Rev. C. O. Richmond officiating. Interment was in Peach Orchard cemetery.

Californiaoling peach processors are destroying about 37,800 tons of fruit this year instead of canning it and depressing the market, says the State Agriculture Department.

Summerland Royalty — Princess Ruby Gronlund, Queen Marjorie Campbell, Princess Dot Carston

Miss Marjorie Campbell Chosen For 1957 Queen

Miss Marjorie Campbell was crowned as Summerland's Board of Trade Queen for 1957 at the first Queen's Ball held on Friday evening in the Youth Centre.

Judges found it difficult to choose from among the charming candidates.

Princesses selected are Miss Ruby Gronlund and Miss Dot Carston.

Murals surrounded the room with "royal" insignia in red, white and gold, and a scroll on which the names of the candidates were inscribed. Red-carpeted stairs led to the stage where a throne was arranged in patriotic colours with beautiful baskets of summer flowers and draperies of red, white and blue, which made a striking background for the girls' pastel frocks during the selection period and their bouffant fluffy formal gowns and dainty nosegays gracing the Crowning Ceremony.

I. H. Solly was master of ceremonies interviewing the candidates, who spoke on different subjects, and making them feel at ease.

Judges were Mrs. Harold McAfee, of Vancouver, Mel Sager, local manager of the Inland Natural Gas Co., and Syd Hodge of Trout Creek and Pentiction. The occasion was well organized and carried out with precision.

The actual crowning took place at midnight when retiring Queen, Miss Darlene Bonthoux gave over the symbols of office to this year's Board of Trade representative for Summerland, and placed the crown on Miss Campbell's head. Roy Wellwood, president of the trade board, congratulated those who were chosen and offered best wishes.

Following the crowning all of the candidates went down the stairs to the dance floor to be met by their escorts and dancing continued until 2 p.m.

Mrs. F. E. Atkinson was chairman of the committee in charge of decorating. Mrs. A. K. MacLeod is official chaperone for the girls. Others who assisted in various ways with making decorations continued on page 6

Rotary Club Receives $50 Towards Cost of Slide

Summerland Rotarians were pleasantly surprised at their regular meeting last Friday when Pentiction Rotarian George Carter, acting on behalf of the Pentiction Branch 40 of the Canadian Legion, presented the Summerland Club with a cheque for $50. The money, gift from a Legionnaire who wishes to remain anonymous, is to go towards the cost of a slide at Rotary Beach.

Plans for The Summerland Day celebrations to be held August 31, September 1 and 2 were reviewed and it is possible that the Rotarians will take over the Bingo games scheduled for Friday and Saturday night.

Giant Of Giant's Head Sure To Be Here Aug. 31

Brief communication was established at midnight last night with the Giant of Giant's Head and he confirmed reports which have been circulating for some time that he will appear in Summerland on the night of August 31.

This news has greatly heartened the Board of Trade executive which is planning a monster celebration on the Labor Day weekend.

It now appears that the fruit fair and market around which the celebration revolves is going growers are required to take over the top but more fruit stalls.

Arrangements have also been completed for a first class mid-way.

The Leader Shows of Pentiction will provide thrilling rides, including a big ferris wheel.

There will be a regular mid-way with the Rotary Club expected to sponsor the big bingo game.

Extent of the interest in the Horseshoe Tournament is surprising officials and it is understood that crack players from points as far distant as Seattle will enter the Interior Horseshoe Tournament.

A giant barbecue, western style, is also being arranged along with the band concert.

Lorne Perry reports progress in arranging for the arena show and it is likely that the Summerland Horticultural Society will hold its fall show in conjunction with the big three-day celebration.

The Board of Trade promises there will be something of interest for all and fun for old and young.

Climaxing the big day, Saturday, will be the appearance of the Giant of Giant's Head.

"C" Squadron, B.C. Dragoons, under command of Major Vir Wilson, M.C., will be in attendance and play a big part, and it is also hoped that the Canadian Legion Pipe Band will also participate in the celebration.

Presentation To The W.C. Wilkins

A presentation was made to Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wilkin and their daughters, Linda and Marcia, on Sunday evening following the service in the Baptist Church. Mr. and Mrs. Wilkin are moving to North Vancouver where Mr. Wilkin is to be on the staff of the high school.

In making the presentation Roy Wellwood spoke in appreciation of the work for the church done by the Wilkins and the regret of the congregation at their departure. The couple were given a chair.

Mrs. Wilkin received a corsage presented by Mrs. Howard Milne.

Other gifts of three matching lamps were brought in by Magda and Deewee Wouters for Linda and Marcia with Miss Ruth Dale giving the largest lamp to Mrs. Wilkin.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Wilkin expressed their gratitude, speaking warmly of their friendships in Summerland.

Friends Honor Miss P. Hoffman

On Saturday evening, July 27, a large party and shower was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Coffey, Prairie Valley, for Miss Pauline Hoffman, whose marriage to Ken Marshall takes place in the United Church on August 24.

The bride-to-be received many lovely gifts which were arranged on a coffee table for her to open. After the parcels had been unwrapped refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hoffman, Mrs. Murray Jackett, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Jackett, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Abernathy, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Mayert, Mr. and Mrs. Les Squire, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dickinson, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Mayert, Mr. and Mrs. Don Fountain, Mr. and Mrs. Sid King and Miss Darlene King, of Kamloops, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Trach, Oliver, Miss Patsy Jackett, Miss Mickey Kawasaki, Miss Sylvia Arase, Miss Rosalie and Miss Evelyn Hoffman and Miss Marilyn Dickson. Miss Janie Smith and Miss Pat Morrow who were unable to attend sent gifts.

DARYL ROD CARTER CHRISTENED, JULY 28

The baby son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Carter was christened during the morning service in Summerland United Church on Sunday, July 28, by Rev. C. O. Richmond. The boy was given the names, Daryl Rod.

Promenade

A very pleasant feature of the evening was the baskets of apricots and peaches placed around the hall for everyone to enjoy. During the intermission a novelty dance "School Days" was enacted in full costume by five couples of French's Twirlers and Ed and Eve Stebor of Seattle. This item was much enjoyed by the large crowd. Also, a Mexican dance by the Omak Polkateers, with the ladies in full swing skirts beautifully embroidered in Mexican motif with colored sequins and Mexican style blouses, and the gents in full costume, complete with sombreros, lent a lively touch to the fun packed evening. To wind up the evening the ladies of French's Twirlers really excelled themselves in providing a most delicious supper.

That's all for this week folks! As a reminder if you want to square dance on a Saturday night keep tuned to your radio as there is always a dance somewhere. —E.R.H.

RECIPE

Into each of 6 custard cups, put 2 tbs. applesauce. Carefully pour in a lemon-flavored custard mixture, made by beating 2 eggs with 3 tbs. sugar, a few grains salt, 1 tsp. crushed fine-grated lemon rind and adding 2 c. milk.

Stand the custards in a pan. Surround with hot water. Bake 35 min. in a moderate oven, 375 deg. F. or until a knife, inserted in the centre, comes out clean. Chill before serving.

Miss Marjorie Campbell was crowned as Summerland Board of Trade Queen for 1957 at the first Queen's Ball held on Friday evening in the youth centre. Judges found it difficult to choose from among the charming candidates.

Miss Hoath Trail Bride

Miss Phyllis Hoath, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hoath of Winnipeg, a former home economics teacher in Summerland junior-senior high school was married in Trail United Church on Wednesday, July 3, to Donald Roberts, vice-principal of the elementary-junior high school at Trail.

The couple left for a honeymoon with the reception to be held at the home of the bride's parents in Winnipeg in August.

Rev. "Kutch" Imayoshi of Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Imayoshi, Peach Valley, is in charge of the Baptist Family Camp now in session at Sorec.

Rev. Gordon Carder on furlough from India is the missionary speaker at the camp.

United Church Social Is Popular In IOOF Hall

The United Church Ice Cream Social was well-attended although the date was changed and the locale.

Advertised to be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Durick, the event was in the IOOF Hall since the evening was cool.

The hall was given a pretty garden atmosphere with colored lights, Japanese lanterns and lovely summer flowers.

Mrs. J. C. Wilcox, Mrs. W. H. Durick and Mrs. Colin Campbell were general conveners and Mrs. W. F. Ward supplied delightful low tables centres each made with a single beautiful begonia, the color complemented with smaller blue flowers.

As an added attraction Mrs. Durick made an old-fashioned well from which Mrs. George Washington served lemonade.

Assisting in serving were Mrs. Steve Blaseiko, Mrs. K. L. Boothe, Mrs. J. Broderick, Mrs. Hazel Cole, Mrs. W. R. Chalmers, Mrs. L. L. Fudge, Mrs. Jack Stewart, Mrs. F. M. Stewart, Mrs. J. P. Sheeley and Miss Bertha Bristow.

Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Dunham, their son, Robbie, and Mr. Dunham's sister, Miss Myrtle Dunham of Salmon Arm enjoyed a trip to Revelstoke recently.

W. W. Borton is in Vancouver on a business trip.

August Treat

At a recent taste panel Brown Sugar Crunch was elected as the dessert of the month. It is truly a summer dessert, with delicate flavors that combine pleasantly with fresh fruits and berries. Try it as a topping on apricots, peaches, melons, blueberries and other August fruits. It is also delicious when served by itself in sherbet glasses.

Brown Sugar Crunch
2 teaspoons butter
1-2 tablespoons brown sugar
2 tablespoons chopped nuts
1-2 cup any ready-to-eat cereal
1-2 cup whipping cream
2 tablespoons brown sugar
Few drops vanilla.

Melt butter in saucepan. Add sugar and nuts and heat over low heat for 2 minutes. Add cereal, coarsely crushed. Cool thoroughly (this is important). Combine the whipping cream with the 2 tablespoons brown sugar and vanilla and whip until thick. Fold in half of nut mixture. Pour into a freezer tray. Top with remaining nut mixture. Chill in freezing compartment 1 hour. 4 to 6 servings.

Although apricots are often thought to be a fairly new fruit in the plum family, it is believed that they were grown in China as early as 2000 B.C. and reached Italy about 100 B.C. From there during the 16th century, they were taken to England. The Spaniards brought apricots with them when they first came to settle on the American continent and at Spanish missions in California in the 18th Century, the explorer, Vancouver, found apricots growing in a fine orchard. Perhaps it was he who introduced them to British Columbia, where today practically all of Canada's apricots

Local Women Attend W.I. Picnic

Summerland women played an important part in the 3rd annual International Picnic held by the Women's Institutes of South Okanagan and Similkameen districts of B.C. and the Homemakers' Club of Washington State on Friday, July 19 at Osoyoos. Over 175 attended.

Mrs. Gordon Ritchie was general convener for the event and Mrs. H. C. Whitaker and Mrs. M. E. Collas arranged the display of fine china, old and new, heirloom and modern, a feature of the day.

Others present from Summerland were the local W.I. president, Mrs. L. W. Rumball, Mrs. Rothwell, Mrs. W. R. Powell, Mrs. E. M. Hookham, Mrs. E. H. Bennett and Mrs. Myrtle Scott. A welcome was given by Mrs. Ritchie at the beginning of the day; Mrs. Roylance, of Greenwood, the provincial president spoke briefly and brought a message from Mrs. S. Gummow, provincial superintendent, who has been at the Ceylon meeting of the Associated Country Women of the World.

Mrs. R. B. White of Penticton told of the early days in Osoyoos where she was born and kept the audience entertained with her stories of life in the Okanagan many years ago.

Testalinda ladies decorated the tables for the potluck luncheon, using long blue and white streamers unrolled down the centres of the tables, with Canadian and American silk flags clustered in a large bowl, and a patriotic flower accent in the bouquets of red dahlias, white daisies and blue delphiniums.

A delicious potluck luncheon was enjoyed in the hall by the lake.

Mrs. Zahn, wife of Senator Zahn, president of the Okanagan County Homemakers' Council addressed the meeting, and Mrs. R. C. Palmer, of Okanagan Mission, formerly of Summerland, a provincial director told of W.I. work in this province.

Mrs. C. G. Bennett of Penticton read Louise Gabriel's paper on "Indian Herbal Remedies" since Mrs. Gabriel could not attend.

There was an exchange of international ideas given by representatives from each individual club which was amusing and interesting showing the varied activities in the area and the part women are taking in all of them.

Pointing up the display of china, brochures were given out on the history of Wedgewood, Crown Derby and Royal Doulton, and how to care for fine china.

Adjournment took place about half past four in the afternoon.

United Church Beach Service

Summerland United Church annual Beach Service was held on Sunday evening, July 28, at the C. E. McCutcheons' and the Laidlows' at Crescent Beach.

Rev. A. R. Whitmore of Nelson, a former minister conducted the service.

Among those present were Rev. R. Griffin, minister of Cedar Cottage United Church, Vancouver, and his family, who are in a cottage this side of the Antlers at Peachland.

A picnic supper on the beach preceded the service.

CCF Picnic Sunday At Crescent Beach

The annual meeting and election of officers of the CCF South Okanagan Constituency Association was held at Summerland on July 10. Elected to the 1957-58 executive were: chairman, Walter Ratliff; vice-chairman, A. S. Hughes-Games; secretary, Mrs. B. S. Edzell; treasurer, Miss Pamela Dyson.

Delegate to provincial council, Walter Ratliff, alternate Jack Snowsall, Plans were made to hold the annual basket picnic at the home of Mrs. Marian Collas, Crescent Beach, Summerland, on Sunday, August 4, starting at 2 p.m.

Orderly Marketing

A buyer who can buy for less is, of course, dearly beloved by management and shareholders for he increases the margin of profit.

Consequently it is not surprising that a buyer for a large chain department store should say, according to a recent headline in a coast paper:

"LET US BUY FROM THE GROWERS".

The very fact that direct buying is advocated by a buyer is, in our opinion, a strong argument in favor of continuation of central selling and orderly marketing.

It is hard to imagine what would have happened had this year's cots been sold by individual growers. Undoubtedly some would have panicked and started to unload at distress prices and then, of course, the deluge. But, despite the bumper crop, there was no chaos, thanks in large measure to controlled marketing, coupled with an imaginative and well thought out advertising campaign.

Movement of this year's apricot crop is tangible evidence of the value of orderly marketing and with such evidence it is hard to realize that there are some growers who crave

It is logical and natural for buyers to seek free rein. It is their job to buy at the lowest prices obtainable and if they could deal with individual growers or separate group of growers there is no doubt that prices would be low indeed, depressed far beyond the level of those obtained through orderly marketing.

Even so there is nothing monopolistic about central selling. Fruits sold through B.C. Fruits must compete in world markets and must compete in Canada with tree fruits grown in other provinces and in the United States.

And yet the industry not only has to man the ramparts from without, but it has also to battle a fifth column within.

It maybe that there is room for improvement, it may be that there is a need for some changes but even if price support is extended to tree fruits if cannot, for the grower, replace central selling and it behooves the grower to stand fast against any effort from without and within to destroy that which they have so painstakingly built up over the years.

Dentistry Urgent Need

Now, as never before, there is a rising public demand that the need for B.C.'s own College of Dentistry should be satisfied. Typical is a recent editorial comment in the Vancouver Daily Province.

The present shortage of dentists in this province, and the big lag in keeping up with population growth, are familiar stories. In view of this, the fact that 50 educated young people who are ready and willing to become dentists are stymied for lack of training facilities is shocking. Next faculty to be established in our expanding university should be a College of Dentistry.

On every side, the demand grows greater and more urgent. . . not only from those whose children are denied the opportunity to study for dentistry . . . not simply from the objective appraisal of editorial opinion . . . but from leaders in every community, and the victims of inadequate dental services, who see the lack of the greatest social service deficiencies that it is within the power of our government to remedy.

Much of the necessary ground work has been done. Dr. John B. MacDonald, formerly Chairman of the Division of Dental Research at the University of Toronto (now of Harvard University), conducted a detailed survey on dental education which was published last year in 105 printed pages by the University of B.C. Excerpts of his findings regarding the establishment of a School of Dentistry at U.B.C. are attached as an appendix to this brief.

The University has appointed a faculty adviser to the group of "Pre-Dental Students" who petitioned the Premier.

The College of Dental Surgeons of B.C. has formed a special committee to assist in all measures leading to the establishment of a College of Dentistry.

Even such details as the curriculum and administrative procedure have been worked out, so that this is no longer a future dream, but a really practical immediate project.

Color For Safety?

Fantastic and amusing as some of the color schemes seem as seen in the cars from near and far on the busy highways just now, there is a definite eye-compelling quality to them which is a big safety element apparently.

The American Post Office department has found according to a news service, that painting its mail trucks red, white and blue seems to make for safety. A recent tally shows that during the transition period 849 of the old olive drab trucks were involved in accidents, while this happened to only 622 trucks in the brighter new colors.

For valid comparison, of course, one would need to assume approximately equal numbers of trucks over an approximate equal period

The result has been an immediate measure of public support and official attention which indicates that British Columbians can at last have their College of Dentistry in actual fact just so long as the desire is sufficiently strongly and intelligently expressed to those in authority.

WHAT YOU CAN DO ABOUT IT

In the last analysis, under our system of government, it depends upon you and your neighbors — as citizens and trustees of the future — whether or not our province may have these educational advantages. You can definitely help to bring it about by extending the information through your own contacts, and helping to generate specific action.

The following ideas will suggest practical steps that can be taken in our own community.

1. ROUTINE MEETINGS OF COMMUNITY GROUPS AND SERVICE CLUBS

The "College of Dentistry at our University" should be placed on the agenda — for only 5 minutes — at the earliest possible meeting of all public spirited organizations in this community. A working committee should be organized to spread the word through the whole community . . . and as many organizations as possible should endorse the Greater Vancouver Health League resolution, as follows:

"RESOLVED: That in order to provide adequately for the higher education of the young people of this province, and remedy the lack of essential dental services for all its people, a College of Dentistry should be established immediately at the University of British Columbia."

Remember, the MORE the better — and don't forget that the resolutions should be forwarded to the Premier, and a copy sent for the record to the Dental Division of the Vancouver Health League of time and under roughly equivalent traffic conditions. But the thesis is at least plausible that an increase in visibility is a factor for safety. This may even be a talking point for the salesman trying to lead a customer motorist into one of the splashy two-tone, or even three-tone, 1957 jobs.

Whereas the olive drab shade was chosen originally by the military for maximum concealment in the field, it seems obvious that a motorist's eye will not readily miss a red-white and-blue truck bearing down on the same intersection for which he is heading. Anyway, and without any irreverence, the results seem for "three cheers for the red, white and blue" American or Canadian.

Okanagan Apples Travel

Nine out of every ten apples grown in British Columbia's famous Okanagan Valley are consumed elsewhere than in the province. No other British Columbia farm product is so widely enjoyed over so wide an area, and no other product does a better job of publicizing British Columbia in world markets.

Most years about one-half the Okanagan apple sales are made in the other nine provinces of Canada. These constitute the major market outlet but they are by no means the only market. These tasty "ambassadors" find their way each year to such far-away places as British Malaya and Sweden.

Among the foreign markets, the United States leads by a wide margin. Our neighbors in thirty-six of the forty-eight states annually take about one-third of all our export apples. Next in importance is the United Kingdom, which has taken a 15 percent "bite" of the B.C. apple export trade in recent years.

In season, however, B.C. apples are found in Hong Kong and West Germany, Peru and Venezuela markets. Apples carrying the "B.C." label are sold around the world in all continents except Africa and Australia. In a province that is deficient in most farm products, apples enjoy a rather unique position as dollar earners for British Columbia.

Change of Owners Land of Pioneers,

Pioneer days are recalled with the news that Mrs. J. Dunsdon, widow of the late Jim Dunsdon has sold her ranch in Garnett Valley to Mr. and Mrs. K. Hickson of Trout Creek.

Harry Dunsdon, who lives on his original property in Garnett Valley came to Summerland in the early days of the district from Harrow, England. His brother, Jim came too. They preempted the land in Garnett Valley, and pioneered here to establish their ranches.

It was in 1890, nearly 70 years ago, that trees were felled and clearing started. Their families comprise one of the larger, if not the largest group in Summerland.

Mrs. Dunsdon's plans for residence are not definite yet. She married Jim Dunsdon on December 5, 1906 and has lived 51 years on the place. Mr. and Mrs. Hickson do not intend to live at the ranch at the present time.

TUNA FISH LOAF

2 cans (approx. 6 ounces each) flaked tuna fish
2-1/2 cups coarse soft bread crumbs
2/3 cup diced celery
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
Few grains grated nutmeg
2 slightly-beaten eggs
1/4 cup finely-chopped onion
6 tablespoons mayonnaise
2 tablespoons milk
Grease a loaf pan (8-1/2 x 4-1/2 inches, top inside measure). pre-heat oven to 350F (moderate). Turn tuna fish into a bowl; add bread crumbs, celery salt, pepper, nutmeg and onion. Add slightly-beaten eggs and mix lightly but thoroughly. Combine mayonnaise and milk; add to tuna fish mixture and combine well. Turn into prepared loaf pan. Bake, uncovered, in preheated oven about 45 minutes. Let stand in its pan in a warm place 10 minutes, then turn out and serve with parsley or hard-cooked-egg cream sauce.

found poetic artistry. Through all this country and abroad he has triumphed as recital and orchestral soloist including 30 appearances with the Los Angeles Philharmonic.

The Rudie Sinfonietta is a group of 12 instrumentalists, 2 vocal soloists and a harpist, conducted by Robert Rudie, brilliant violin soloist, conductor and narrator. A versatile artist, Mr. Rudie brings to his recitals a charming personality and wit which unfailingly delights and captivates his audiences.

Jon Crain, tenor, is an artist who can claim the rare distinction of appearing at both New York's major opera companies in one season. Very much in demand as a key soloist with major orchestras, Crain's brilliant voice is heard in recitals across the country.

NEW SHAPE on the skyline of British Columbia's vast Peace River district is this $30,000,000 natural gas scrubbing plant and refinery now under construction by Westcoast Transmission Company Limited and Pacific Petroleum Ltd. at Taylor, near Fort St. John. The plant will process by-products from natural gas supplied to the 650-mile Westcoast natural gas pipeline linking the Peace River reserves to markets in southern B.C. and the Pacific Coast states.

Program For 1957-58 Community Concert Season Now Confirmed

South Okanagan Community Concert Association has received confirmation from New York on the booking of artists for the 1957-58 season. Summerland members will be interested in the names announced as follows: though not in order of appearance.

Lois Marshall, soprano, is a well known Canadian artist who has risen rapidly to an enviable position in the world of music. Critics greeted her European debut last spring with such praise as "an ovation reserved for the few." Of her recitals it is said "she evokes the enthusiasm that one seldom hears — seldom does one hear a singer who combines such intensity of outpouring with such musicianship."

Leonard Pennario, pianist, is and top recording star who possesses a rare combination of a brilliant American virtuoso stunning technique and pro-

Marksman Make Good Scores Sunday

At Annual Invitation Shoot Held Here

Competition was keen at the annual invitation shoot held at the Garnett Valley Rifle Range on Sunday. Forty-three marksmen attended from Kamloops, Vernon, Penticton, Kelowna and coast cities.

The high aggregate score was shot by R. S. Weeks of Kelowna, 100 points out of a possible 105, giving him the Dundon Shield for the second successive year. The Tyro Aggregate was won by Al McCargar with a score of 99 points, and the Cadet Aggregate was taken by Harry Johnston of Kelowna who scored 97 points Barry Piers and Ron Dundon placed second and third in that class.

The Summerland Cup for high score at 200 yards was won by J. Vecquary of Vernon with a possible score of 35 points. Captain E. Work of Kamloops won the Sports Centre Cup at 500 yards after a shoot-off with Ted Piers of Summerland, both men having scores of 35 points in the competition. This is Captain Work's second year as holder of the cup. At 600 yards a shoot-off was necessary to decide the winner of the Rose Cup as G. Cross of Vernon, G. Farquharson, Kamloops and Al McCargar, Summerland all scored 34 out of a possible 35. Cross eliminated his two opponents in the shoot-off.

In Tyro competition, W. A. Porter of Vernon took top honors at 200 and 500 yards with scores of 34 points at each range, and high prize at 600 yards went to Al McCargar who also had 34 points.

In the Cadet class, Harry Johnston had a field day taking top money at all ranges with scores of 33, 34 and 30. The four Summerland boys, W. McCargar, B. Piers, C. Shannon and R. Dundon competing in the Cadet class, made a very good showing against the young sharp-shooter from Kelowna.

The shield for the five-man team shoot was won by Kelowna Rifle Club with a score of 483. Other teams competing were Mission, 475; Summerland, 467; Penticton, 463 and Vernon, 469. At the conclusion of the shoot, members of the visiting clubs expressed their thanks to the ladies for the excellent refreshments, and also to the target markers for the fast and efficient work they had done during the competition.

Macs Find Oliver's Driessen Too Hot

Gary Driessen is keeping the Summerland Macs awake nights — if they don't stay awake they have nightmares concerning Mr. Gary Driessen, who is currently pitching the Oliver OBC's to victory after victory.

On Sunday at Summerland Athletic Park, Mr. Driessen again strugled his stuff and followed up a Friday night 4-3 win over the Penticton Red Sox by defeating the Summerland Macs 3-0.

Driessen held the Macs to five scattered hits while the OBC's collected a total of 10, five off Flichel in four innings and another five off Hooker in five innings.

Out of the debacle the Macs Geordie Taylor had a good day batting 2,000 with three hits out of three trips to the plate, one a double.

Watch Those Red Sox Going Places Double Header Win Last Week-end

A shorthanded Junior Baseball team went to Armstrong on Sunday to lay a double header. When the dust had died down the Red Sox came up with a winner in both games.

In the first game against Armstrong, the Red Sox found themselves in a hard hitting free swinging tussle and they 17:9 and in runs 15:10. Big Al single, a double and two over-Huva picked up the win, pitching steady ball all the way. He allowed nine hits but struck out six.

The second game against Vernon was just the opposite from the first. It was a pitchers' battle all the way. Sheeley on the mound for the Red Sox gave up four hits and walked three which added up to three runs. The Vernon pitcher gave up four hits and didn't walk a man. Vernon scored all of their runs in the third inning on a base on balls, two singles and a double. The Red Sox picked up one in the 4th and one in the 6th to make the score 3:2 going into the last half of the last inning, with two men out and Britles on first with a single George Wynn hit one over centre field fence to score two runs and win the game 4:3.

The Red Sox play Oliver at 2:30 on Sunday, August 4 in Memorial Athletic Park in Summerland.

Fishing Notes

By BERT BERRY

Okanagan Lake

Fair in the morning and evening, slow in mid day. Best reports from Wilson's landing but fair fishing in this area.

Fish Lake Camp

Best fishing on upper lake, both fly and troll catching.

Hearwaters' Camp

Lots of fish and no trouble catching them. Nice place to take the family

Brenda and McDonald Lakes

McDonald good fishing, fish up to 1-2 lbs. Some larger fish up to 3 lbs. have been landed at Brenda.

Silver Lake

Has had some good days and poor, best in the evenings. Bear Lake good reports.

Oyana Lake

Some good reports up to 55 lbs.

Thelleya Lake

Good, as most of the Princeton good catches.

Jewel Lake

And lakes around Kamloops good fishing especially in the evenings.

Tea-Pee Lake Camp

Nice ones up to 18" caught here

Most high mountain lakes are good now as a general rule. The lower lakes are tapering off and will until fall nights cool the

Gunfight at th O.K. Corral

Rotary Clubs in 102 countries throughout the free world are united in an endeavor to promote international understanding, good will and peace. That was the message of Jack Larson of Yakima, Governor of District 506 of Rotary International, in addressing the Rotary Club of Summerland on July 19, following a conference with local Rotary officers and committee chairmen.

In addition to the activities of Rotary's 9,500 clubs within their own communities to promote this objective, Mr. Larson explained, Rotary International has spent more than $2,250,000 in recent years through its program of student fellowships, which enables outstanding college graduates to study for one year in countries other than their own, as Rotary ambassadors of good will. Since 1947, when this program was established, 957 Rotary fellowships have been awarded to students in 61 countries for study in 42 countries, with grants averaging $2,500.

THE PAUSE THAT REFRESHES

Apples are sizing better than for years. Some McIntosh are almost big enough to pick right now. However, some doubt has been expressed as to whether Bartlett pears will make satisfactory size by harvest. Further thinning is necessary in many blocks.

Green apple aphids continues to be the most serious pest we have to contend with. Mites have remained inactive except where pink sprays were not applied this spring. Fire Blight is troublesome in odd trees but no general outbreak has occurred yet. Apple Scab continues to show up on the occasional leaf and apple. The heavy rains of last week are expected to cause increased spread of this disease.

Corations, arranging flowers, and putting up the decorations were Mrs. Jack Dunsdon, Mrs. K. L. Boothe, Mrs. K. M. Blagborne, Mrs. George Washington, Mrs. F. M. Steuart, Mrs. I. H. Solly, Mrs. C. J. Bleasdale, Miss Elaine Dunsdon, Lorne Perry, K. L. Boothe, F. M. Steuart and F. E. Atkinson.

Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion catered for the refreshment hour

NOTICE TO GENERAL PUBLIC

Effective Thursday, August 1st, 1957
 Provincial Government Offices will be Closed from 12:00 Noon to 1:10 p.m. Daily

A study of existing methods of staggering staff to meet public requirements has indicated that confusion and public inconvenience has resulted. The establishment of a uniform lunch period throughout the Provincial Government Service will promote greater efficiency and ensure a higher standard of service to the public.

The foregoing will not apply to offices governed by specific statutory provisions.
