

According To The Mood

By Sid Godber

Coincidence department — was asked twice within two weeks to repeat a column I ran in the Penticton Herald last year. To be asked once is usually enough to make any columnist reach feverishly for his file, but to be asked twice for the same column — well — that's tantamount to a royal command, so here it is.

Cleaning out a coat preparatory to sending it to the cleaners and came across a sheet of crumpled paper with the word "magenta" scrawled across it. At first I was baffled as to the why of it, then suddenly remembered that way back last winter I had been reading a book and had my blood pressure raised by the author's use of the word "magenta" on no less than four occasions: "Her cheeks mantled magenta" . . . "Her magenta lips quivered."

The author must have been trying to impress, or to make people reach for their dictionaries and was using "magenta," not a lovely word by any means, in place of "red." And he was using the word incorrectly at that, for magenta is the purplish red color of a dye and, whoever heard of a blushing damsel, blushing purple red?

Reminds me of cub days. Once wrote up a fire and used the word "conflagration" about six times in one story: "The conflagration started at . . ."

A sub-editor called me over and showed me my heavily pencilled copy. "Never use big words where small ones will do sonny," he said. "There's more power in a little word than there is in a big one and above all, little words are honest tools but it takes writer to use them properly." The sub editor looked at my copy. "Conflagration," he jibed, "What's wrong with fire."

I withdrew abashed and with something to think about.

It is amazing what has been done with small words. The poets, of course, are the ones who can take everyday words and string them together to make word music.

A line that has stuck in my mind for years illustrates what I mean. How would you describe peace or tranquility, a profound peace?

This is how a poet, unknown to me, painted his word picture of ineffable peace:

"Quiet as a nun, silent in holy adoration."

That is what I call word magic.

And the small words can be made to express all the emotions of the human race. Consider the following for an example of sheer joy of living — of pride in mankind:

"Joy upon joy and gain upon gain,
Are the destined rights of my birth;
And I shout the praise of my endless days
To the echoing edge of the earth;
Though I suffer all deaths that a man can die,
To the uttermost end of time;
I have deep drained this my cup of bliss
In every age and clime;
The froth of pride, the tang of power,
The sweet of womanhood;
I drain the lees upon my knees —
For oh the draught is good;
I drink to life, I drink to death,
I smack my lips with song,
For when I die, another I will pass the cup along."

There isn't a word in the foregoing that isn't of everyday usage.

And the poets can say in a few lines what lesser mortals take a 40,000 word novel to say:

"What Sire — do you smell a fault?
Why she had a baby for her cradle,
're she had a husband for her bed."

That isn't given as an example of one of Shakespeare's juicy bits, but as an example of small words used in such a manner as to have the battering impact on the mind as that of a charging whale smashing into a small boat.

I could go on and on. Description, for example. In "Arrowsmith," author Sinclair Lewis uses this gem of description to describe a specialist who breezes into and out of the story in the space of one paragraph. Writes Lewis in describing this doctor specialist: "He was lipless, lapless and eyeglassed."

But why go on, although, if you're looking for an illustration of word magic, consider this extract, known so well to us all:

"For Thine is the Kingdom;
The power and the glory:
For ever and ever. — Amen."

Limitless in scope, awe inspiring in meaning — and please note — they're all little words.

WEST SUMMERLAND, B.C.

Membership Gives Green Light For New Co-op Packing House

NATURAL GAS isn't here yet, but concrete evidence of its coming is on view in Summerland where this week contractors Dutton-Williams started work on laying the pipe line into Summerland for the Inland Natural Gas Co. Ltd. The above picture shows pipelayers at work along the KVR road, under the shadow of Giant's Head.

All members in attendance at the 34th annual meeting — the largest meeting held in several years — of the shareholders of the Summerland Co-operative Growers' Association, on Monday night, April 29, were unanimous in giving the go ahead signal for the rebuilding of a modern packing house and cold storage plant. Further they were decidedly in favor of erecting the plant on property nearer to West Summerland which would be more central to all member growers.

Plans are now being formulated to have the packing house and cold storage in operation for the 1958 season.

Chairman of the meeting, J. Y. Towgood, stated that after considerable investigation of costs of construction of this nature, it was the firm conviction of the directors that the building program could be completed with the proceeds of insurance settlement and be occupied debt free by the members.

Directors nominated for a two-year term were John M. Betuzzi and John H. Holman, re-elected Walter B. Powell. Directors with one year remaining are John Y. Towgood and Eric M. Tait.

B.C. Shippers Cold Storage Increased

The B.C. Fruit Shippers, Ltd., have started a program to enlarge their cold storage and refrigeration by some 30,000 boxes. Work has started on the engine room, C. J. Bleasdale, manager, reports, and it is expected the refrigeration equipment will be installed in May. The construction is being done primarily to handle soft fruit.

The new cold storage is in the aluminum building on the present site.

The usual eight inches of rock wool will be used for insulating the walls, but in the ceiling a type of insulation new here is being used. This is multiple aluminum. It is put on in six layers of aluminum foil which creates seven air spaces and allows no heat penetration from the sun's rays.

This sort of insulating material has been used for the purpose in the States, but is just coming into use in Canada for this type of application.

Provision is being made for bulk handling so that the Shippers' plant will be ready for it, if and when it comes into practice in the Okanagan Valley.

The B.C. Fruit Shippers handle fruit from local growers and the fruit from Greata Ranch on Highway 97 a few miles north of Summerland.

At Tuesday's council meeting last week application for cold storage power was granted, as well as a water application.

W. C. Wilkin's Resignation

The resignation of C. W. Wilkin from the teaching staff of Summerland High School has been accepted with regret by the board of school trustees. Mr. Wilkin has taught in Summerland for 17 years. He has accepted a position on the staff of the North Vancouver High School.

Mrs. Fern Barnard's resignation has been accepted by the board, also.

Calling All Men

There need be no bachelors in Summerland. Official census figures issued from Ottawa show that there are 45 more women than men here.

Total population in Summerland is listed as 3,803 of which 1,969 are female and 1,824 are male, which should alert the minority group one way or another.

There are 600 pre-school children in Summerland and Peachland eligible for Salk vaccine. Parents are requested to make special note of clinic times, in order that this program may be carried out efficiently.

Per Capita Grant Benefits Municipality By $2,000

Here's An Easy Way Out Let the Kids Wash Your Car

Members of the High School band will be out in force this Saturday to bolster their fund for the band.

Last year this was very successful and over one hundred cars were washed and cleaned out inside, by band members.

Now that the good weather is with us, it is time for everyone to spruce up for spring and there is no better place to start than on the family car. The youthful musicians promise a good job and you will be giving them an opportunity to help themselves if you bring your car to the high school on Saturday.

The car wash will start at 9:00 a.m. at the high school and will go till 12:00. Starting at 1:00 in the afternoon two spots will be open. One at the high school as in the morning and the other in Smith and Henry's yard. These spots will be in business until every car in the municipality is clean and shiny if necessary.

Charge will be $1.00 per vehicle with all proceeds going to help the High School band.

Word has been received at the municipal office that under the new per capita provincial grant Summerland will get $60,718.00 this year. This was formerly known as the SS and MA grant.

It is figured on the census population. On the first 3,500 the grant is $16 per person. Over that it is $12 per person up to a population of 8,000. Over 8,000 it changes again. Summerland's official census population is 3,893 so falls between the two groupings mentioned.

The amount to be received is up roughly $2,000 over last year's grant.

J. P. Sheeley at Assessors' School

J. P. Sheeley, Municipal assessor, has returned from Victoria, where he attended the school for municipal and provincial assessors. It was organized by the assessment commissioner, K. E. B. Wildman, under the Assessment Equalization Act. Over 150 assessors were present.

Board Of Trade To Hear Federal Candidates

FRANK C. CHRISTIAN

DAVID PUGH

DR. MEL BUTLER

OWEN L. JONES

Maytime this year is also politician-time and for the next few weeks, right up to June 10, there will be much talk across the land.

Summerland is to get its share of the talk. Here in the Okanagan-Boundary riding it is a four way battle, with O. L.

Jones (CCF) who has represented the riding for nine years, battling to retain his seat against Kelowna Donist Mel Butler (Lib.), Penticton lawyer Frank C. Christian (Social Credit) and Oliver businessman David Pugh (Prog.-Cons.).

Summerland's Board of Trade, wide-awake to the desirability of an informed vote, is taking no chances that its membership will not be fully informed on the issues and has invited the four candidates to be guest speakers at the regular monthly dinner meeting of the Board of Trade to be held in the IOOF Hall here on Thursday, May 9.

All candidates have accepted and each will be given ten minutes speaking time, there will also be a question period.

A limited number of tickets are available for members and guests. These can be obtained at Laidlaw and Co. store, Boothe's Grocery, Roy's Men's Wear or from secretary Lorne Perry.

There was a lengthy discussion on the production of cider in the Okanagan with correspondence read from the government, and B.C. Processors and information given from the Summerland Experimental Station.

On April 10 they observed their 44th wedding anniversary and Saturday was the 20th anniversary of the marriage of their daughter, Barbara to Leonard Mountford. The dinner marked the dual anniversaries.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Haddrell were married in St. Andrew's Anglican Church in Chaddleworth, Berkshire, England, leaving for Canada the next day, where Mr. Haddrell had already located in West Summerland. They travelled on the Virginian, and have lived in Summerland since that time with the exception of the years during World War I when Mr. Haddrell served overseas in the Canadian forces and Mrs. Haddrell and the children went to England for three years.

Mr. Haddrell was a millwright until an accident stopped that sort of work for him. After that he farmed until his retirement three years ago when they moved from the Front Bench to Prairie Valley.

There are three children, Barbara, Mrs. Leonard Mountford, Charlie in Prairie Valley and Allan who lives in New Westminster. Frank Haddrell, a brother of Mr. Haddrell, lives in Summerland. He has a sister in Kenya and one in Australia.

The Leonard Mountfords were married in St. Stephen's Anglican Church by the late Rev. Mr. Pearson. They were the first couple to be married in the Anglican Church after Mr. Pearson assumed the duties of rector in Summerland.

Mr. Mountford was a paratrooper during World War II. He was in the Aleutian Islands for a time, was wounded in Italy then back in England, and discharged.

The immediate family were present — Mr. and Mrs. Mountford and their two sons, Robert and Ken and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Haddrell and their son, Brian.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. G. Allen

A. W. G. Allens Sixty Years Married, And Thirty Years in Summerland

Sixty years of married life and the observance of their diamond wedding anniversary have been enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. A. W. G. Allen who on Sunday, April 28, had a dinner at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Famchon with members of their immediate family present.

Messages of congratulations were received from Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth II; from Prime Minister, Right Hon. Louis St. Laurent; Lt. Governor Frank Ross and Premier W. A. C. Bennett.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Allen were born in Portsmouth, England, and have relatives in widely scattered parts of the world which keeps their interests up-to-date and diversified.

Mr. Allen spent eight years of his childhood at Malta where his father was a fleet engineer. Mrs. Allen's father was a fleet engineer, also.

Their marriage took place at St. Mark's Church, North End, Portsmouth, on April 28, 1897. Mrs. Allen was the former Miss Kate Menhenneck. Mr. Allen was a bank teller in Portsmouth and in 1903 they came to Canada.

They took a look at Calgary but settled at Red Deer because they liked to have trees around them. In Red Deer, Mr. Allen was an accountant.

Later he took up farming at Pine Lake, Alberta, near Red Deer. He joined the Canadian forces during World War I and served overseas.

On his return the family moved to Calgary where he was a bookkeeper with Macleod Bros. until they moved to Summerland in 1927, thirty years ago, and was more or less retired on an eight acre orchard on the Front Bench.

There are two sons, George of Summerland, and Blake of Pine Lake, Alberta, and two daughters, Mrs. E. L. Famchon of Summerland and Mrs. Valencourt of Valley View, Alberta. There are 10 grandchildren and 12 great grandchildren.

Mr. Allen has a brother in Penaflo, Chili; a nephew who is a cartoonist in Auckland; Mrs. Allen's brother is in New Zealand, and her sister is married to a man who was superintendent of the British Railway in Argentina before it was taken over by the national government.

Present at the dinner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Allen were Mr.

and Mrs. E. L. Famchon and their daughter, Mrs. Stanley Hunt of Victoria, Mr. and Mrs. George Allen and their daughter, Sheila and Miss Mary Wolf-fer.

Wm. Ritchie's 92nd Birthday

One of Summerland's oldest citizens celebrated his 92nd birthday on Friday, April 26. Wm. Ritchie who has lived here for many years, a pioneer orchardist and business man, enjoyed a birthday party and a birthday cake with relatives Friday afternoon.

Mr. Ritchie has served on the Summerland council, has been chairman of the school board and is an honorary deacon of Summerland Baptist Church.

Among those present were his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Ritchie of Summerland, the latter arranging the party, his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Arley Gayton of Oliver; a niece, Mrs. J. H. Dunsdon, another niece and her husband, Mrs. H. W. Brown and Mr. Brown, all of Summerland; A. S. Hatfield and Rev. Stewart Lidell of First Baptist Church, Penticton, called at the room in Penticton General Hospital where Mr. Ritchie is a patient. Another son, Jim Ritchie of Quesnel and Mrs. Ritchie were in to see Mr. Ritchie the previous day.

A number of other Summerland friends dropped in on Saturday and Sunday to offer their congratulations.

CGIT Affiliated at Federation Meeting

Mrs. T. W. Boothe greeted the large number of ladies attending the Easter thank-offering meeting of the United Church WA on Thursday afternoon. The president, Mrs. A. C. Fleming was in the chair.

With Mrs. Bancroft at the piano, the meeting opened with Easter music.

The Christian citizenship secretary, Mrs. S. A. MacDonald gave a report of the graduation ceremonies held at LTL, Naramata, last week, when 49 students were graduated.

Mrs. Jack Dunsdon gave an inspiring Easter meditation illustrated by flannelgraph.

During the afternoon articles on the donation table were admired. These included a lovely quilt made by Mrs. Harry Dracus; a pretty crib blanket, the work of Mrs. J. Heichert; and several pairs of hand-knitted socks and mitts made by Mrs. Evéline Gould.

Highlight of the meeting was the CGIT affiliation service. Eleven girls with their leader, Mrs. Alex Kean and with Mrs. Rex Chapman participating, were affiliated with the Federation. Mrs. Fleming presented the badges.

Following this ceremony, the girls contributed to the program. They had just completed study of the book, "East From Burma" and told stories of mission work in Hong-Kong, Formosa, Malaya the Philippines and Korea, as if it were a radio station broadcast from HLKY in Seoul, Korea. Recorded music opened and closed the program. Lorna Charles was the broadcaster, Barbara Fudge was in charge of music and behind the scenes were the other girls as narrators.

Towards Bulk Handling . . .

A TRIBUTE to the valley growers' determination to better the industry are the plans now being formulated to introduce the bulk fruit harvesting system to Okanagan orchards.

There seems little doubt that the method can be successfully adopted here and that its widespread adoption will help reduce costs of production.

One of the bigger advantages of the system is that the orchardist will require less orchard labor as indicated by the report of Mr. Don Sutherland, one of the BCFGA's investigating team sent to study the bulk method as practiced in New Zealand and Australia.

The advantages and drawbacks to the system as set out in Mr. Sutherland's report, are well worth study, and are reprinted here.

BENEFITS APPARENT AND CLAIMED FOR BULK HANDLING:

(a) The following labor is eliminated — Yarding out picking boxes; re-allocating boxes to trees; stacking boxes as they are filled in the orchard; putting the full boxes onto the trailer; stacking the full boxes off the trailer; trucking the full boxes to the dumper; dumping the full boxes; collecting the empty boxes left in the orchard; repairing picking boxes:

In its place is substituted—a tractor and trailer hauling out empty bins; hauling in full bins; elevating one end of the bin:

The tractor man with occasional help from someone in the shed can do all this. The work is not hard, and since the tractor man is usually the grower, he appreciates his new easy way of life, which gives him a chance to supervise all that is going on.

(b) The pickers in the orchard can pick more fruit per day, for they are not delayed by leveling off boxes and stacking picking boxes.

(c) Fruit bruising—bruising and cutting because of careless levelling before the boxes are stacked is eliminated; bruising when the picker empties his bag is minimized because the bottom of the bin is above ground level. The one care that must be taken is to be sure the picker lifts his full bag over the bin side, and lowers it to the bottom. All the pickers questioned like bin harvesting; bruising from the jar of setting a box down is eliminated when the full box is put on a trailer and when it is stacked off; bruising from the flow from a bin is apparently much less likely to occur than when a box is dumped; stem puncturing is minimized because the apples moving out of a bin move in a mass and do not roll to any extent.

Department of Agriculture men told us that one large grower had changed from putting up the worst packs in his district to having some of the best, all because of the lack of bruising since he began bulk harvesting.

(d) By handling, say, 40 bu. at one time, bulk harvesting has done for the orchard what pallets have done for the packing house.

(e) The method of harvesting and handling lends itself admirably to adaption to local conditions such as the lie of the land, and to the ingenuity and inventiveness of the operator.

DRAWBACKS TO BULK HARVESTING:

(a) The changeover from picking boxes to the large bin is expensive. The Bluff's Co-operative at Mapua estimated a capital outlay of $4,355 N.Z., or about $11,760.00 to convert, plus the scrapping of old equipment and their picking boxes. They handle about 65,000 bushels, so their capital outlay was about 18c per bushel. Most individual growers did it for about $1,100 to handle crops varying from 15,000 to 30,000 bushels or a capital outlay of 4c-7c per bushel. But much of their equipment was makeshift, though ingenious, and most of them made do with much of their old equipment.

A 4'x8' bin cost about $40-$50. The trailers cost, in New Zealand, about $210. I think that in the Okanagan, with mass production, we could do better than that.

(b) There are many places in the orchard and in the packing house, and in the design of the bin, where difficult problems arise. This will be far more apparent in the Okanagan than in either New Zealand or Australia. Some of these are: the problem in a hillside orchard; spotting the bins for the greatest convenience of the pickers; organizing the tractor operation of putting empty bins out and hauling full bins in; handling the full bin when loading a truck (in the Okanagan); handling the full bin on arrival at the packing house; getting the full bin to the dumper; adjusting the right tilt to the bin; organizing the succession of full bins in and empties out, at the packing house: How many bins are necessary? How many trailers are necessary? What kind of opening is best, What size of bin is best? What construction is best for both bin and trailer? What ventilation is necessary? What problems arise in storage?

It can readily be seen, even from this brief comparison that the advantages of bulk handling appear to outweigh the disadvantages, consequently it is gratifying to see the industry moving rapidly towards its introduction here.

Mid-Week Message

GET THE DIRECTIONS

Thought for Today: The Lord direct your hearts into the love of God, and into the patient waiting for Christ. 2 Thess. 3:5.

In London I was at Royal Albert Hall and wanted to register for the Alliance. I found that the place of registration was some distance away. The word Westminster was familiar and I felt that was all I needed. I called a cab and was on my way. The cabbie asked where I wanted to go and I told him "Westminster—something." He supplied the word "Hall" and I agreed.

When we arrived I found that Westminster Hall was a government building. The cabbie said in disgust, "You Americans never get the directions straight." Thereafter, I got someone to write down the directions.

In London there is Westminster Hall, Westminster Abbey and Westminster Central Hall. The last was the one I wanted. I finally arrived there, but only after I had been to the government building and had gone through Westminster Abbey. I enjoyed myself, but I was on a detour.

Our heavenly Father has given instructions in the Christian way of life. If we do not get the instructions straight we are likely to arrive where we do not want to go. In the work of the Kingdom of God, we spend too much time on the wrong road because we have failed to read with understanding the Bible, our book of directions.

BUY WISELY ON CREDIT PAY PROMPTLY

ADVANTAGES OF CREDIT BUYING!

Think what life would be like if we had to pay cash for everything. It would take months — maybe years — for many of us to save enough for a refrigerator, a car, or our furniture. Even the dress or suit we want today might have to wait. Possibly we might have to postpone a visit to the doctor or dentist. Credit is the magic force that puts the Good Things of Life within the immediate reach of RESPONSIBLE people.

HOW TO ESTABLISH A GOOD CREDIT RECORD

You will find the credit manager of your favorite store, garage, or other business house, most willing to discuss your credit needs. He is concerned, not merely with protecting his firm against loss, but is interested in helping you to use your credit soundly, thus increasing your purchasing power.

HOW TO MAINTAIN A GOOD CREDIT RECORD

The essential element of a good credit record is the prompt payment of all obligations, whether Monthly Charge Accounts, Installment Accounts, Medical bills, or accounts for public services such as telephone, and others. Never go into debt beyond your ability to pay. Meet all accounts PROMPTLY when Due — and retain that most valuable asset — GOOD CREDIT.

WHAT TO DO IN AN EMERGENCY

Even the best of budgets are sometimes upset by unforeseen happenings. In such a case, see your creditor at once and tell him straightforwardly all your problems. He will be pleased to co-operate in planning a workable solution, if you are sincere in your efforts to rehabilitate yourself.

YOUR CREDIT IS AN OPEN BOOK

The record of how you pay your credit accounts is kept by the district Credit Bureau. This information is available to all members of the Bureau, and to members of over 2000 other Credit Bureaus from coast to coast in Canada and the U.S.A. You make your own credit record. The Credit Bureau Records it.

South Okanagan Junior Baseball Schedule to Start This Weekend

The South Okanagan Junior baseball league will swing into action this Sunday afternoon with games at Oliver, Naramata and Armstrong. Six teams make up the league this year, Summerland, Penticton, Naramata and Oliver in the Southern Division; Vernon and Armstrong in the north.

A double home and home schedule will be in force with Summerland also playing inter-division games with the north. The full schedule will be run in next week's paper.

First game of the season to be played here in Okanagan Mainline baseball schedule will be on Sunday at 2.30 p.m. in the Athletic Park when the Macs tussle with Vernon.

The Macs drew a bye last week. At Penticton the Red Sox took the Kelowna Orioles in an 8-0 count.

Kamloops Okonots won the opening game of their home-park twin-bill against Oliver OBC's Sunday, 4-1 as third baseman Al Collier drove in two runs in the first and one in the third.

Len Gatin, Kamloops right-hander, lost his shutout in the seventh inning when OBC's catcher Gilchrist singled in Elroy Jacobs, who had doubled. OLIVER 5, KAMLOOPS 4

OBC's won the second game of an Okanagan-Mainline Baseball League twin bill Sunday, 5-4, when manager-coach Don Coy hit a pinch hit single to score Bert Lightbody in the fifth inning.

Hal Cousins, who pitched a seven-inning opener, was relieved in the first by Ritchie Snyder, after he had given up three hits and two runs had scored.

Vernon and Princeton met a similar fate, as the newly-reorganized Vernon team downed the Royals 5.0 in the first game, and absorbed a 10-6 loss in the second game.

The weekend play sees the Kelowna Orioles hugging a slim lead over the Penticton Sox, but the southern club have played two less games. Orioles have won 3, lost 1, the Red Sox have won two straight.

Golf Tournament Vernon, May 18-20

The Commercial Men of B.C. are holding their 28th annual Golf Tournament at Vernon, May 18-19-20.

This tournament is held for charity and each year the town, in which the tournament is held receives a sizeable check for its charities.

Last year about 100 golfers and their wives were present, and Kamloops Gyro received a cheque for $200, and the Crippled Children's Society of Vancouver was given a similar check.

Over 100 are expected in Vernon where Don Metzler will be handling the tournament.

The Hi Life

By DOT CARSTON
Hello, all you good people! If the holidays you had were as good as the holidays I had then you had good holidays. Boy, what a mouthful that was!

Yes, after having a week of fairly free time, we'll all feel much more like getting into the school routine and really buckling down until June. I sort of wish that our exam results could have been posted during the holidays though; I sat on pins and needles all during the short week.

Most of the Ogo-pogoan has been handed over to the printer and by the looks of things it should be pretty good. A few extra copies have been ordered so if you want one you had better reserve one right away quick. Okay?

The Band Conference is coming up next weekend so if you're asked to help in any way I'm sure that Mr. Tamblin and all the band members will appreciate it. Let's help them make it a success.

Did you enjoy the Bunny Hop Saturday night? I sure hope so. And remember this Friday night the seniors are having their Sadie Hawkins Hard Time Dance. Get your guy, gals, and come and have some fun.

Over the holidays I seemed to meet up with a lot of people from Vancouver and various other places. But then, quite a few Summerland people "evacuated" to Vancouver and the likes didn't they?

This could go on forever and ever so I better cut it short and sweet. See you all at school. So-long!

End Kindergarten Trout Creek Area

The Peter Pan Kindergarten Association in Trout Creek has terminated because there are not enough children of the right age to justify a kindergarten in Trout Creek. A load of boys and girls attend the Jack and Jill kindergarten at West Summerland. The school was held in the basement of the Church of God.

The financial balance was voted to go for the purchase of one piece of equipment for the Trout Creek school.

At the recent meeting with the president, Mrs. George Ryman in the chair, a meeting was called for Thursday evening, May 2, to discuss the aims and objects of P-TA and the possibility of forming one in the Trout Creek area. John Cooke, principal of the MacDonald School has been asked to speak at the meeting to explain the work of a P-TA. It is hoped that everyone in Trout Creek who is interested will attend.

Past president of the kindergarten organization is Mrs. J. Miltimore; secretary-treasurer Mrs. Eric Tait; and executive members, Mrs. Ralph Smith, Mrs. A. F. Irving and Mrs. Stan Porritt.

Mrs. J. Y. Towgood and Mrs. Nels Charlton were the teachers. It was formed in 1952 and continued for two years. There has been no Trout Creek kindergarten for the past three years, although the second year it was functioning 19 children were in attendance.

Summerland council last week accepted applications for electricity of E. F. Smith and the B.C. Fruit Shippers' Ltd., and domestic water applications of E. F. Smith, the B.C. Fruit Shippers' Ltd., and R. C. Moore.

BOWLING NEWS

By GLENN FELL

Bill Hepperle's name has appeared many times in this column. This time Bill didn't do a thing but get beaten with his standing high game of 365! A friend of bowling president Foster Cunningham, Jim Monkman of Trail, bowled a 367 just the other night. I think this should be incentive enough to encourage our own local bowlers to beat this new record. Anyway, I want to congratulate Jim for a nice game and assure him that Foster will forward this edition of the Summerland Review to Trail for all to see!

George Williams bowled his seventeenth three hundred game this week. He rolled a 318 and says he has his eyes on that 367 of Jim Monkman's. I would like to correct an error I made in my last column regarding the team representing Summerland at Armstrong. Summerland was represented by Don Clark, Bill Austin, Ivan Austin, Ashley Austin and George Williams (not George Smith).

That's about all the bowling news for this week. Next week I'll report the results of the new 10-Pin League and the formation of the Spring 5 Pin League. More news, views and comment next week!

... in fifty years a lot of growing

- In the 50 years since its incorporation on April 25th, 1907, the Okanagan Telephone Company and the communities it serves have come a very long way and done a lot of growing — together ...
- Looking back to those early years we see the days of the horse and buggy and the cracker-barrel grocery when the telephone was regarded as a curiosity and something of a rarity ... the few we had in service were the crank-type wall phones served from a small switchboard operated by a "Central" who served as the news centre of the community ...
- Down through those years our aim has always been to grow and to provide the best telephone service possible ... and in keeping abreast of the many technical developments and improvements in this field, we have planned and are implementing a progressive modernisation program, with the result that your Okanagan Telephone Company can rightfully claim to be one of the most modern communication utilities in operation today.

More Protection An Immediate Prospect For Valley Soft Fruits

Stiffer anti-dumping regulations, designed particularly to give better protection to soft fruit growers in the Okanagan may be in force before this year's anticipated heavy crop goes on the market.

This was disclosed by the Hon. James Sinclair, Minister of Fisheries in the federal government, speaking at an informal luncheon held in the Legion Hall here Tuesday.

He said that negotiations were now going on between the United States and Canada in accordance with request made by Okanagan growers through the Canada Horticultural Council.

"It's a matter of horse-trading," Mr. Sinclair said. "We must give something comparable in return for U.S. concessions in regard to fruit."

Questioned regarding the possibility of bringing industry to Summerland, Mr. Sinclair reminded his listeners that Canada was still a free country and that industry couldn't just be told where to locate. He pointed out, however, that planners were becoming increasingly concerned with the concentration of more than one half the population of B.C. in the lower mainland area, with all its attendant problems.

"If the Columbia River power is developed and a power grid similar to what they have in Ontario blankets the interior there is no reason why with cheap power, natural gas and pleasant climate and availability of labor that industry should not be induced to locate in Summerland," Mr. Sinclair said.

L. B. PEARSON

Hon. Lester Pearson, Canada's Minister of National Affairs, is expected to visit Summerland in the course of his across-Canada election swing. The distinguished visitor is tentatively scheduled to be in Summerland next Thursday, May 16. Plans have not yet been finalized but there is talk of a United Nations rally to be held in the Memorial Park, so that regardless of political affiliation, all can hear the man who is considered one of the architects in building up the United Nations upon which the world bases its hopes for peace.

Band Billet Information

Boys and girls from Victoria and Nelson, 165 strong are arriving between 5.30 and 6.30 p.m. tomorrow, the largest musical aggregation ever to have visited Summerland.

They will be sent to their billets from the high school. They are to have supper and stay overnight at their billets leaving the school at 8.30 for Kelowna to attend the provincial band conference. Twelve hundred students from 30 centres are expected at the conference.

The billets return to Summerland Friday for a supper in the high school being provided by the Band Parents' Association.

After supper the three visiting bands, two from Victoria and one from Nelson, assisted by Summerland High School Band will give a concert at 8 p.m. Admission 50 cents at the door.

Families expecting billets, please listen to CKOK from 5 p.m. tomorrow for time of arrival. No need to go to the school until they are due.

Saturday the groups travel to Kelowna once more where they will stay for supper and present a massed band concert in the Kelowna Arena. Tickets for this are available at the high school at $1.00 for adults and 50c for children. This concert will be well worth attending as it will be many years before such an opportunity will be available to the valley.

Summerland Host To High School Bands

Activity is everywhere these days in the Summerland High School Band department as plans are being finalized for the biggest event in the history of school bands in the valley. The Okanagan Valley High School Bands are playing host to the fourth annual High School Band and Orchestra Conference on May 10 and 11.

Dr. Leonard T. Edwards of Lowell, Oregon, an outstanding evangelist, who will speak in the Free Methodist Church, May 14-19, each evening at 7.30 p.m. Dr. Edwards will show colored slides and films.

LOCAL RESIDENTS AT THEOSOPIIC CONVENTION

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Plunkett and Mrs. S. Peter motored to Vancouver during Easter week. The Plunketts visited Vancouver Island and Mrs. Peter is staying with her niece at the coast.

While there they attended a conference of the Canadian Federated Theosophical Societies. Mr. Plunkett took part in a panel discussion on, "What is our duty as Theosophists to society," Mrs. Plunkett's son, Fred Morgan of Calgary, participated also.

Mr. and Mrs. Plunkett have returned, while Mrs. Peter is still in Vancouver.

Most of the Conference sessions will be held in Kelowna but as over 1200 young music students will register it is necessary to billet some of the visiting groups in Vernon, Penticton and Summerland. Students are quite fortunate in being able to play host to the Nelson High School Band under the direction of E. Baravalle and two bands from Victoria, the Victoria High School Band and the Central Junior High School Band, both under the direction of R. E. Grant. Mr. Grant is a graduate of Kneller Hall, the English training school for bandsmen and was a British Army bandsman. These two groups were joint hosts with other Victoria bands to the third band conference which the Summerland Band attended last year in Victoria.

There will be about 160 visiting boys and girls in these organizations and it is expected that Summerland will give them the same wholehearted welcome that our students received when they attended the other conferences at the coast. Billet sheets have now been distributed to high school students and are to be returned as soon as possible.

Visitors will arrive in town Thursday afternoon, May 9. They will stay overnight and then proceed to Kelowna for the first day's session of the conference. They will return that evening and present a combined concert in the high school for Summerland residents. This is an opportunity for residents of the district to hear some of the bands from other parts of the province and a very enjoyable and varied evening's entertainment is assured. It is hoped that everyone will save Friday May 10 for this program.

On Saturday the visiting bands along with the local High School group will travel to Kelowna Arena with all bands taken continued on page 8

Irvine Adam's Pastel Hung In Paris Salon

Further honors have come to Irvine Adams, Summerland artist, who has just received word that one of his pastel paintings has been accepted and is now hung in Paris in the Annual Exposition of the Society of Artists of France. This is being held from April 27-May 15 in the Grand Palais Des Champs Elysees.

Mr. Adams' agents, James Boulet and Sons, Ltd., of London, asked permission to submit the picture to the Paris Salon in France, and sent word of the acceptance.

The painting was recently exhibited in the annual show of the English Pastel Society in London. It is a snow scene and was sketched at Revelstoke.

BUILDING INSPECTOR MADE ASSOC'N. DIRECTOR

R. F. Angus, Summerland's building inspector, was appointed as a director of the B.C. Building Inspector's Association, at the convention held at Vancouver last week, which he attended.

More Hungarians Will Arrive Here Thursday

A new influx of Hungarian refugees will be reaching the Okanagan Valley this week and next. It is anticipated that Summerland will be receiving a share of these.

The immigration department hopes to place many of the new arrivals in jobs immediately. For the remainder it is again requesting the local committee to find homes in which they can be placed until work materializes. Under a new scheme the government offers to pay $3.00 per day per adult and $1.50 per day per child toward board and room.

It is suggested that anyone who will require orchard or other types of labor this summer, especially if satisfactory living accommodation can be provided, should contact Mrs. R. Russel of the local committee or V. Charles.

If work is not ready immediately, but the accommodation is, the $3.00 per day allowance will be granted in the meantime. Single men, single women and families are likely to be among the arrivals.

At the PNE this year a new contest will be a "Nail Driving" event for the ladies. Dates for the various contests are: "Sock Darning" Aug. 22; "Flower Arrangement" Aug. 23; "Nail Driving" Aug. 24; "Make and Model a Garment" Aug. 26, 27 and 28; "Spelling Bee" Aug. 29; "Iron a Shirt" Aug. 30 and "Trim a Hat" Aug. 31.

There is also a doll dressing competition for individuals and organizations. The dolls become the property of the P.N.E. and are given to ill and needy children at Christmas time. Copies of the prize list may be obtained by writing to the P.N.E., Exhibition Park, Vancouver 6, B.C.

Building Activity Slower This Year Than in 1956

Twelve building permits were issued last month, five for new dwellings, five for alterations and additions to houses, and two for alterations and additions in the commercial and institutional class. R. F. Angus, building inspector, reports that the estimated cost of the 12 is $38,025.00. Average cost of the five new dwellings is $6,100.

In April of last year, 19 permits were issued for the amount of $57,675 so the number of permits is down by seven and the estimated building expenditure lower by $10,680.

Total permits for the first four months of 1957 were 45 amounting to $93,525 as compared for the same period in 1956 when there were 84 for $120,710, which seems to indicate that there is more individual building but some $27,000 less money is being spent for the purpose.

Summerland Pupils Do Well At Music Festival

The Summerland musicians brought back many honors from the Music Festival held in Kelowna last week, including eight firsts, and all with the commendation of the adjudicator for the high musicianship shown. Regret was that there were not more entries in each class.

Fines Imposed on Traffic Violators

Two local men and one out of town were fined for traffic violations recently by Magistrate Robert Alstead.

One man was on the road with 1956 license plates; the other was charged with careless driving.

The visitor was going between 75 and 80 miles an hour, and with the fines imposed, it was figured his driving was costing him $1.00 per mile.

Rotary's Little Giant Bingo Saturday

"Your money's worth and worthwhile cash prizes," says Rotary President Tommy Young. "And a cash draw too," he says.

That is what's in store for Summerlanders this Saturday night, May 11, when the Summerland Rotary Club holds its Little Giant Bingo.

They are giving most of the money away that night to the lucky winners... but whatever is left over will be used for the Swim Beach.

At present the Summerland Rotary Club is engaged in preparation for the swimming classes at the Rotary Beach as well as raising money for the High School Piano Fund, along with their usual community endeavours where there is need of assistance.

The Rotarians expect to see a large turnout this Saturday night at the IOOF Hall to participate in the increasingly popular Bingo.

City Band Wins New Honor . . .

SUMMERLAND artists have again won acclaim and awards at the annual Okanagan Musical Festival and congratulations are owing to all the Summerland contestants who have again demonstrated that this community is rich in talent and that here in Summerland we have a deep appreciation of music and the related arts.

And this year Summerland can rejoice at possessing a winner in a new classification at the festival — this the band competition.

Summerland's City Band accumulated an impressive total of 85 points, along with warm praise from the adjudicator who was particularly impressed with the work of the band conductor, W. A. "Bud" Steuart, under whose direction the band reached its present state of perfection.

Summerland's City Band has long been a source of pride and it is a cause for congratulation, at a time when bands in many larger centres are, so it seems, disintegrating, that the Summerland band is carrying on, and it is equally cause for congratulation that with the splendid work being done with the development of musicians in the High School Band that Summerland's City Band will continue to bring honors to this community.

To Band Conductor Bud Steuart and to the members of the Summerland band, the Review says — well done.

Weighed And Not Found Wanting . . .

IT SEEMS that with some people you just can't win. We are now informed that some disgruntled ones within the fruit industry are now describing the Royal Commission into the industry as nothing but "whitewash."

We gather that Commissioner McPhee's recent and very wholehearted commendation of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., has particularly irked some of those gentlemen who, not so long ago, were claiming credit for securing the appointment of the Royal Commission.

This fringe element however, in the face of the evidence placed before the commission can now be largely ignored. What Commissioner McPhee has to say in his report, and what recommendations he will make are, of course, still known only to Mr. McPhee and we have not the knowledge, nor the desire, to attempt to anticipate his findings.

However, it can be said that even if the Commissioner did not file a report, that the Royal Commission has served a worthwhile purpose, insofar as it has demonstrated beyond doubt that the grower organization stands upon a solid foundation and that it will take more than the huffings and the puffings of a discontented few to destroy it.

We are particularly pleased that Mr. McPhee saw fit to publicly commend B.C. Tree Fruits and its personnel.

The well being of the grower depends in very large measure upon the efforts of the sales agency and it must be gratifying to the personnel of Tree Fruits and to all responsible growers, that the selling agency has been weighed in a critical balance and not found wanting.

The Hi Life

By DOT CARSTON

Hi! Well, we've all experienced our first week back to the old grind — again! What with exam results and report cards, I think we were all ready for the week-end. I know I was!

Softball in House play is under way, so be sure to support your house. Also — all softball practices for seniors and juniors have had good turnouts.

Our senior Sadie Hawkins' Hard Times Dance on Friday night was a lot of fun. At least I had fun lassoing my "male critter" and learning how to jive. How many of you gals are broke now?

Didn't the band do a good job on the "Car Wash" on Saturday. The cars really sparkled.

Congratulations to all the musicians who took part in the Festival and best wishes for a successful band conference this weekend at Kelowna.

That's my word for this week . . . So long!

Experimental Farm UBC Credit Course

The federal government is co-operating with UBC in providing credit courses at different Experimental Farms during the summer.

A course in pomology is to be given at the Summerland Farm and six students are here now to participate. Similar courses designed around their own specialties are being undertaken at the Farms at Saanichton, Agassiz, Kamloops and Prince George.

Formal lectures will be for two hours a week, with a two-hour lab every two weeks. Both of these may extend to a longer time. The rest of the time the students will work with the research group as skilled labor and technicians.

Students here from UBC are Miss Joanne Farmer, Hans Butkus, G. Geen, John Gold and R. A. Frederick.

FACE THE BIG ISSUES

VOTE FOR CANADA

Hold on to what we have and cherish!

We live today in a world of explosive contradictions. While Canadians enjoy soaring prosperity, millions elsewhere are hungry. While we strive for peace, the threat of war is ever present. The age of abundance for all mankind now is possible; so is world-wide atomic destruction.

These are the big issues. Today, as never before, Canada's freedom and prosperity and the future of our children—all the things we love and want most—depend on events in the world around us.

It's essential to elect a government which promotes prosperity at home and peace abroad. History shows we can't have one without the other.

Only the Liberal Party can do this. It's the only party with statesmen experienced and respected in world affairs. The Liberal record proves it can promote prosperity at home and peace abroad. It's Canada's only truly national party, seeking constantly to re-affirm national unity, the 90 year old goal of Confederation.

Gerald Washington, Yvonne Polesello Married in Vancouver Ceremony

Summerland and the coast shared interest in the wedding solemnized in Vancouver on April 22 of Yvonne Lillian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. Polesello of Summerland, and Gerald George, only son of Mr. and Mrs. George Washington of Summerland. The ceremony took place in St. Patrick's Church, 116 East 12th Street, at 10 a.m.

The bride was given in marriage by her father in a lovely setting of Easter lilies, roses and daffodils, with tall lighted tapers.

The beautiful floor-length hooped wedding gown had a fitted bodice, with a long-sleeved lace jacket embroidered with pearls, and tiny nylon ruffles in rows and rows encircled the full skirt. A fingertip veil with a coronet of pearls was worn by the bride. She carried a bouquet of Easter lilies with stephanotis and wore white satin shoes.

There were four attendants. Mrs. Dale Munro was her sister's matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Louise Barrie of Vancouver; Miss Marilyn Washington, sister of the groom, of Summerland; and Miss Aloma Polesello, younger sister of the bride, as junior bridesmaid.

Mrs. Munro, Miss Barrie and Miss Washington wore gowns of iridescent pale blue taffeta with matching hats, and carried white daisies, yellow rosebuds and fern. Miss Aloma Polesello was in a yellow frock similarly styled with two shades of yellow rosebuds in her hair, and her flowers were blue with yellow rosebuds.

George Usawa of Summerland was the best man and Gerry Polesello of Summerland and Walter Bendickson of Vancouver were the ushers.

Dwayne Greer, of Vancouver, formerly of Summerland, was the organist.

At the reception held in the evening at The Manhattan, 1727 West Broadway, Mr. and Mrs. Polesello were assisted in receiving by the groom's parents and the bridal party. Daffodils and spring flowers reflected the spring season and daffodils and white daisies with tapers were on either side of the four-tiered wedding cake, made by the bride's mother. The cake was surrounded by white tulle and rosebuds.

Dr. Edward Kita of Vancouver proposed a toast to the bride with response by the groom. Dale Munro gave the toast to the matron of honor; and George Usawa to the bridesmaids.

An orchestra provided music for dancing.

For a trip to Seattle and Tacoma the pretty bride wore a lovely white suit and white topcoat with pink rosebud corsage, a small pink ostrich feather hat and pink plastic shoes.

On their return the couple will make their home in Vancouver where both are employed by the B.C. Telephone Company.

Out-of-town guests were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. P. Lazorenko of Penticton, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Trombley, also of Penticton; Mr. and Mrs. George Washington, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Steuart, Mr. George Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Schwab, Mr. and Mrs. J. Cristante, Donald Cristante, and Miss Marilyn Wade, all of Summerland.

Candlelight flickered on bouquets of daffodils, forsythia and chrysanthemum on Saturday afternoon, April 27, at 4:30 in the afternoon when Myrtle Imogene, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Harbicht was united in marriage with Gordon W. H. Pohlmann, son of Mrs. O. M. Lane and Mr. Carl Pohlmann of Kelowna.

The dark-haired bride was given in marriage by her father in the presence of about 120 guests with Rev. C. A. Richmond the officiating clergyman.

A beautiful tulle and lace wedding gown over taffeta was worn by the bride with a lace jacket having lily point sleeves and Queen Anne collar. Her fingertip veil was caught to her head with a beaded tiara styled headdress, and she carried roses on a Bible having a pearl studded cover.

As attendants the bride's three sisters, Miss Lois Harbicht, as maid of honor and Miss Joyce and Miss Sharon Harbicht as bridesmaids, were in identical gowns of shrimp crystal charm in waltz length. The frocks had scooped necklines and matching boleros were worn. The pretty trio wore headdresses of shrimp colored net with white flowers and carried bouquets of white gladioli.

The groom's brother-in-law, Ron Keeley of Penticton was the best man. Ushers were the bride's brother, Darvin Harbicht, and the groom's brother, George Pohlmann of Nanaimo.

Mrs. Glen Morley presided at the organ and Mrs. Alfred Letts sang "The Lord's Prayer," and "Because."

At the reception in the IOOF Hall Mr. and Mrs. Harbicht were assisted by Mrs. Lane and Mr. Pohlmann and the bride's party in receiving.

Pastel green and white streamers decorated the hall for the occasion, interspersed with white bells. Bouquets of daffodils gave a spring charm to the room. A three-tiered wedding cake on the bride's table was embedded in tulle caught with red rosebuds and flanked by tall tapers.

Cpl. C. E. Piers proposed a toast to the bride with the groom responding. The best man gave the toast to the bridesmaids.

Darvin Harbicht, Karl Schramm and George Pohlmann provided instrumental music and sang to entertain guests between supper and the time when dancing started.

Juniors Match Seniors and Win at Naramata in Summer Baseball Series

The Summerland Junior Red Sox came up against a surprisingly strong Naramata team on Sunday and had to go 12 innings before taking the game 7-5.

The Red Sox started Bruce Lemke on the mound, but the left hander was nervous, pitching his first junior game and gave up five runs on five hits and five walks. He also struck out six. Carlton Sheeley went in with two out in the fourth and from then until the last of the 12th allowed two hits, walked one, and struck out 12. The Naramata pitcher, Kozak, pitched a good game, striking out 15 and never issuing a walk.

Naramata got two runs in the 1st, one in the 3rd and two more in the fourth to lead 5-0 before the Red Sox came to life to get one in the 4th, two in the 5th and two in the seventh to tie up the game at 5-5.

Bowling News

By GLENN FELL

This week a 10-pin Bowling League was set in motion. According to the bowling experts around town this is the first time 10-pins has been organized into regular league play since 1952 or 1953! Bob Bonthoux was elected president; Lloyd Uzick was elected vice-president and Joan Zimmerman was elected secretary-treasurer. The first evening was devoted to obtaining averages and Lloyd Uzick won the high single with a 191 and Ashley Austin won the high two with a 342! Teams will be organized for the actual beginning of league play next week. The new executive wish to announce that those who could not be present this week may obtain their averages before the commencement of league play next week and also arrange for a spot in the league.

The ladies league ended their season with a social evening at Ann Geres'. Kay Smith was awarded three trophies (which is an unusual feat in any sport!) for the high three, high average and high game. I might mention that up to the playoffs Kay had only won the high average and then came through with her high scores to sweep the field! The Hangovers were the winning team and were presented with individual trophies. Bernice MacDonald and Eileen Fell were presented with figurines for their help in springing on the Hangovers during the season. Novelty awards were presented to Donna Charlton for low average; Vi Carty for low game and Martha Challifoux for the low three. A new executive was elected for next year with Nellie Newton as president; Lorraine Irving as secretary, and Berle Flebbe as treasurer. Helen Young and Vi Carty were elected as executives. I understand the Hangovers provided the entertainment for the party. Does that explain how they came by their name?

Clobbered is the word — the only word to describe what the Summerland Macs did to Vernon's 1957 hopes in the Okanagan-Mainline Baseball League here Sunday.

The Macs took the first game of the doubleheader 6-5 and then went on to slaughter Vernon's entire pitching staff to take the second game 19-6.

A fairish crowd was on hand for what was the official home opening of the season for the Macs and the fans were treated to a little bit of everything, including the odd rhubarb which, in one instance, led to umpire MacDonald getting clobbered during an altercation over how many bases can a man take on a passed ball or an overthrow.

Al Hooker pitched the Macs to victory in the first game yielding only six scattered hits. Bill Eyre and Bob Bonthoux shared the pitching chores in the second game, Vernon getting to Eyre for seven hits in seven innings and to Bonthoux for two in two innings.

Vernon ran through six pitchers in the two games.

First Game

Vernon	100	031	— 5	6	3
Macs	100	032	— 6	9	5

Second Game

Vernon	301	002	— 6	6	2
Macs	237	034	— 19	16	3

In other games in the Okanagan-Mainline league Penticton Red Sox split a double-header with Kamloops Okonots. Penticton dropped the opener 9-8 and copped the nightcap 6-2.

Meanwhile Kelowna Orioles were clobbering Princeton Royals, sweeping both ends of a doubleheader by scores of 4-2 and 11-0.

Fishing Notes

By BERT BERRY

Okanagan Lake has just started to come on the last few days. No large fish or great numbers being caught but should be improving from now on.

Fish Lake. All upper lakes are still frozen but some nice catches made at Fish Lake. Best results have been made with flies.

Agur Lake has been good up to the last week end but now are harder to catch. Fish reported up to two pounds have been caught here.

Garnet Valley Dam not too much activity here, mostly small unless you know the good spots to fish.

Shannon Lake, some nice bass have been taken here lately and for anyone who likes bass fishing, is a good bet.

Silver Lake, a couple of nice reports from here; not big, but well worth the time to go in.

Spin fishing off the rocks on the east side of Okanagan and at Wilson's Landing will be coming on very shortly and will be worth a try. The higher mountain lakes around the 5,000 ft. level are still frozen solid but with hot weather and some rain they should be open soon.

UBC Players Here Wednesday, May 15

The Senior High School Students' Council is sponsoring the appearance of UBC Players' Club in Summerland on Wednesday evening, May 15.

The play is Will Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night," and promises good entertainment for everyone.

On the Spring Tour this year UBC players will present their production at Lytton, Bralorne, Lillooet, Salmon Arm, Revelstoke, Vernon, Kelowna, Summerland, Trail, Grand Forks, Nelson, Parksville and Courtenay, thus encompassing places that were not even a dot on the map when the Bard of Avon wrote his incomparable plays.

Baptist Association Meeting Here

The Okanagan Baptist Association met in Summerland Baptist Church May 1. Representatives were present from Vernon, Peachland, Penticton, Kaleden, Cawston and Summerland.

Rev. Lyle Kennedy of the Summerland church gave the address of welcome and the moderator, Rev. B. Wingblade of Kelowna presided. Vice-moderator, who participated during the day is W. C. Wilkin of Summerland. The secretary-treasurer is Wm. Greenwood of Kelowna.

Mrs. W. C. Wilkin sang at the afternoon session which began with a devotional service followed by the annual business meeting. Later in the afternoon Camp business was discussed under T. S. Manning's leadership. This comprises organized camps for boys and girls and adults. It was felt that camp is for all and the responsibility rests upon everyone in the Association.

At night a song service was directed by Mr. Wilkin. Mr. Kennedy spoke, and Rev. H. Branton of Vernon, Rev. Stewart Diddell of Penticton also took part in the service when the new executive was installed. A special feature of this service was singing by a massed choir from all the component churches.

A daintily decorated box topped with a pretty umbrella was arranged to hold all the useful gifts for the miscellaneous shower for the bride-elect.

The hostesses served delicious refreshments as the happy evening concluded.

Guests were Mrs. E. Harbicht, Mrs. Wendt, Mrs. A. J. Campbell, Mrs. H. A. McCargar, Mrs. E. C. Bingham, Mrs. Alex Inch, Mrs. A. Kohlhauser, Mrs. Charlie Wendell, Mrs. Ernie Mayert, Mrs. John Smith, Mrs. Frank Dickenson, Miss Lois and Miss Joyce Harbicht, Miss Margaret and Miss Susie Lauer, and Miss Shirley Wendell.

Miss Uytterhagen Gets a Surprise

Mrs. Jack Wilson was a shower hostess on Thursday evening at her home in Peach Orchard to honor Miss Loretta Uytterhagen prior to her marriage to Ed Martin, an event of early May.

Guests were friends of the parents of Mr. Martin who live in the Peach Orchard area.

The party was a great surprise to the bride-elect, and the lovely gifts were hidden inside a model of the Overwaitea store where she is employed. It was pulled in on a wagon by Heather and Billy Wilson, and many amusing specials were advertised.

After all the parcels were opened, games were played with a team comprised of Mrs. V. Charles, Mrs. Ted Miles and Mrs. Horvak winning one, and Mrs. H. Pohlmann, another.

At the conclusion of the happy occasion delicious refreshments were served.

Invited were Mrs. E. Martin, Mrs. Langbell, Mrs. Leo McCrea, Mrs. Ray Wilburn, Mrs. Vera Charles, Mrs. Horvak, Mrs. R. M. White, Mrs. Andy Brown, Mrs. Advocaat, Mrs. Ted Miles, Mrs. H. Pohlmann, Mrs. Ivar Nilson, Mrs. C. B. Snow, Mrs. J. Van Gameron, Mrs. E. Harrison, Mrs. L. Charles, Miss Mary Wolffer and Miss Mary Scott.

Tenders were opened at Tuesday's council meeting last week for the sale of the lot on the east side of the Morroy property in Prairie Valley, and the offer of Kenneth M. Marshall in the amount of $600.00 was accepted.

Pass Summerland Resolution at Library Meeting

A Summerland resolution presented at the special meeting of the Okanagan Regional Library Board meeting on Thursday, April 25 in Kelowna was passed unanimously as presented by Harvey Wright, representative of the school board, district 77.

This resolution asked that an executive secretary with accounting experience be hired, either part or full-time, according to the decision of the executive of the library board.

Summerland council and representation feel that with the growth of the library, which now encompasses 55 branches, the work of Mrs. M. Ffoulkes, the regional librarian, has increased greatly, and that Mrs. Ffoulkes should not be expected to attend to the financial duties as well as the position of librarian. With an accountant Mrs. Ffoulkes can devote full time to the work for which she is trained and which she carries on with enthusiasm and competence.

Mrs. Ffoulkes tendered her resignation to the meeting, but it was not accepted.

PADDLES TO BE STILLED—The last of a proud breed of British Columbia sternwheelers, the Canadian Pacific's "S.S. Moyalie," churned Kootenay Lake waters for the last time Saturday, April 27, after 59 years of service. The Moyalie was originally constructed at Toronto for gold rush service on the Stikine River, between Wrangell, Alaska and Telegraph Creek, B.C. The gold fever in those parts cooled before the Moyalie reached its destination, and its 1,000 dismantled parts were diverted to Nelson, B.C., where the ship was reassembled in 1898, for service on Kootenay Lake. The Moyalie is 161 feet long; has a 30-foot beam and weighs 830 tons. Drawing a mere four to five feet of water, it was a frequent boast that the Moyalie could float with ease on a heavy dew.

Odds And Ends

By M. VANDERBURGH
There are many difficulties in coming to a new country where the language barrier presents one of the first. A story about one of the Hungarians here who was being taught to plant pear trees seems worth repeating. The holes had been dug ready for quite a number of trees. The employer, picking up a sturdy pruning nearby, said, "Now, this is the way you plant the young trees," and went on to put the pruning in the ground, tamp it in, and the usual process of filling in, that is ABC to school children in a fruit growing district. The Hungarian was told he would start the next morning as taught. So he did, bright and early, and planted prunings all over the place as well as he could.

This is the gardening season. May is planting time, and things grow inches almost overnight. The ground has to be prepared. Here and everywhere women do a large share of it, both with vegetables and flowers. Why are all the gardening tools designed for men? The handles of most garden gadgets are too big for women to hold comfortably, and they are too heavy, resulting in aching fingers and wrists. It seems to me there would be a whole new field opened up for some smart manufacturer to make garden tools just for women. With the new strong lightweight materials that can take strain and stress surely things could be made that are easier to carry around and use. Now that we're so color conscious the handles could match or complement the garden furniture. No end to the market potentialities.

Racial tolerance is something to be cultivated. It's sometimes surprising the little things that one hears which indicate that

Miss M. Harbicht Receives Gifts

A number of Summerland organizations honored Miss Myrtle Harbicht in appreciation of her work as a member, prior to her marriage to L/Cpl. Gordon Pohlmann, an event of April 27. Members of the LOBA Lodge gave her a lovely yellow spun rayon and nylon blanket with Mrs. George Kennedy making the presentation for the ladies. Sunday school teachers of Summerland United Church remembered her with pretty copper candlesticks. Mrs. Ray Leinor in giving them to Miss Harbicht expressed the best wishes of the group. Lew Wright spoke for the United Church choir when the gift of a cut glass marmalade jar was given to her.

School Grounds Being Improved

Summerland school board is landscaping the Trout Creek school grounds and swings have been erected. A tractor has been at work and some grass is to be put down. At the same time grass is being laid in the south-east corner of the High School grounds, which should improve not only the appearance of the school but the Granville St. approach to West Summerland. It requires delicate, and careful tillage. In fact the dictionary gives "to civilise or refine" as one of the meanings of cultivation. A little girl we know, aged four, plays with an older girl of ten. They have lots of spats and call one another names, of course. The other day the older child said, "Anyway, I'm English, and you're German." The smaller one struck out the best way she knew, and retorted, "I'm not. I'm Canada."

Okanagan Telephone Company Completes Fifty Years of Service

Half a century ago, in April 1907, two important communication events marked another forward stride in the long history of the development of the Okanagan Valley, for that month, fifty years ago, saw the launching of the then-largest and finest lake steamer "Okanagan" and the incorporation of the Okanagan Telephone Company.

The steamer "Okanagan" has now passed from the scene, while the Okanagan Telephone Company, now one of the oldest in British Columbia, marks the completion of half a century of service on April 25th, and at the same time can rightfully claim to be one of the most modern communication utilities in operation today. Modernization and expansion has marked the fifty-year progress of this Telephone Company now serving over 21,000 telephones in its 15-exchange system.

In the decade since 1947 when a leading telephone engineer surveyed the Company's seven exchange manual system and recommended the conversion to automatic service throughout, the Okanagan Telephone Company has carried out a progressive modernization program converting nearly all exchanges to dial operation and by the end of this year will have all but 50 of 21,000 telephones in 15 exchanges on fully automatic service.

The switch to modern equipment is typical of a company which has grown with the Valley it serves, and like other business enterprises in its territory, has seen its investment, staff, and payroll grow with the times. Today the Okanagan Telephone Company has a staff of nearly 200, an investment exceeding 5 million dollars, and a yearly payroll of over half a million dollars.

The Company's present-day operations are a far cry from the days of 1907 when the Okanagan Telephone Company first came into being with its one exchange at Vernon; the first card directory printed that year listed merely 200 subscribers in the Vernon area.

At first confined to Vernon and district service the company started to expand and extend its service in the years immediately following 1910. In January 1911, the Company purchased the Armstrong exchange and later in the same year Enderby was added. Early in 1912 the Company bought the Lakeshore Telephone Company Limited which operated exchanges at Peachland, Summerland, Naramata and Penticton and later in the same year the company also acquired the Kelowna telephone system and extended its service into the Shuswap District with the addition of the Salmon Arm exchange.

In 1929 the company purchased the Summerland Telephone Company Limited from the municipality and that same year the company also bought out the Solar Telephone Limited of Revelstoke. In July, 1950 these Companies were incorporated with the parent Company.

A big jump in the Company's services came in 1934 when the British Columbia Telephone Company connected its lines with those of the Okanagan Telephone Company, thus providing service to all Canadian points and to foreign exchanges served by the Bell system.

The business of the Company, with the exception of the depression years, 1932 to 1934, has grown steadily over the years and in September 1945 — at the end of World War II — there were 7,572 telephones in service. Like all telephone utilities this service in the Okanagan system has shown a phenomenal post-war growth and in August 1956 the Company installed its 20,000th telephone — an increase of 12,248 or over 160%. Today, on its 50th birthday, the Company has 21,200 telephones in service — 19,100 of these are on fully automatic local service.

The expansion of the Okanagan Telephone Company has paralleled the Valley's population growth and coupled with the increase in the number of telephones in service has been an increase in Long Distance calling, brought about largely by the modernization and addition of new equipment to toll line facilities. The first telephone company in B.C. to institute 2

VF Operator Toll Dialling throughout its system, the Okanagan Company is now proceeding with its plans for Subscriber Toll Dialling which will permit its subscribers to dial directly to any telephone in its system and to many telephones in the province. Ultimately this plan will expand to calling on a nationwide basis.

During 1956 the Company's operators completed 940,343 Long Distance calls — an increase of 131,658 calls over the previous year and

ing part. This will be a truly fine show with every band attending the conference seated in the floor of the arena and playing in turn. There will be a few numbers played by the entire group under the baton of a visiting band personality. This is a most moving experience and one which has been remembered by all those attending previous conferences. Anyone wanting tickets for this final conference program is asked to phone the high school and reserve their places as only so many tickets are allotted to each municipality. Tickets for this final concert in Kelowna are $1.00 and admission for the Friday night concert in Summerland is 50 cents (at the door).

Sunday the visiting bands will leave for home with a much broader picture of the music picture in B.C. and much inspiration for their future band work.

This is an opportunity that will come to the Valley only once in a very long time and it is hoped that as many as possible will attend all the sessions and see the work that is being done in Instrumental Music in British Columbia.

More Protection An Immediate Prospect For Valley Soft Fruits

Stiffer anti-dumping regulations, designed particularly to give better protection to soft fruit growers in the Okanagan may be in force before this year's anticipated heavy crop goes on the market.

This was disclosed by the Hon. James Sinclair, Minister of Fisheries in the federal government, speaking at an informal luncheon held in the Legion Hall here Tuesday.

He said that negotiations were now going on between the United States and Canada in accordance with request made by Okanagan growers through the Canada Horticultural Council.

"It's a matter of horse-trading," Mr. Sinclair said. "We must give something comparable in return for U.S. concessions in regard to fruit."

Questioned regarding the possibility of bringing industry to Summerland, Mr. Sinclair reminded his listeners that Canada was still a free country and that industry couldn't just be told where to locate. He pointed out, however, that planners were becoming increasingly concerned with the concentration of more than one half the population of B.C. in the lower mainland area, with all its attendant problems.

"If the Columbia River power is developed and a power grid similar to what they have in Ontario blankets the interior there is no reason why with cheap power, natural gas and pleasant climate and availability of labor, that industry should not be induced to locate in Summerland," Mr. Sinclair said.

L. B. PEARSON

Hon. Lester Pearson, Canada's Minister of National Affairs, is expected to visit Summerland in the course of his across-Canada election swing. The distinguished visitor is tentatively scheduled to be in Summerland next Thursday, May 16. Plans have not yet been finalized but there is talk of a United Nations rally to be held in the Memorial Park, so that regardless of political affiliation, all can hear the man who is considered one of the architects in building up the United Nations upon which the world bases its hopes for peace.

More Hungarians Will Arrive Here Thursday

A new influx of Hungarian refugees will be reaching the Okanagan Valley this week and next. It is anticipated that Summerland will be receiving a share of these.

The immigration department hopes to place many of the new arrivals in jobs immediately. For the remainder it is again requesting the local committee to find homes in which they can be placed until work materializes. Under a new scheme the government offers to pay $3.00 per day per adult and $1.50 per day per child toward board and room.

It is suggested that anyone who will require orchard or other types of labor this summer, especially if satisfactory living accommodation can be provided, should contact Mrs. R. Russel of the local committee or V. Charles.

If work is not ready immediately, but the accommodation is, the $3.00 per day allowance will be granted in the meantime. Single men, single women and families are likely to be among the arrivals.

At the PNE this year a new contest will be a "Nail Driving" event for the ladies. Dates for the various contests are: "Sock Darning" Aug. 22; "Flower Arrangement" Aug. 23; "Nail Driving" Aug. 24; "Make and Model a Garment" Aug. 26, 27 and 28; "Spelling Bee" Aug. 29; "Iron a Shirt" Aug. 30 and "Trim a Hat" Aug. 31.

There is also a doll dressing competition for individuals and organizations. The dolls become the property of the P.N.E. and are given to ill and needy children at Christmas time. Copies of the prize list may be obtained by writing to the P.N.E., Exhibition Park, Vancouver 6, B.C.

Dr. Anne Dawe Speaks at P-TA

The regular meeting of the P-TA was held Thursday, May 2, in the high school library. It was decided to give a book award for proficiency in Grade 10 as well as prizes to Industrial Art students in grades 11 and 12.

The secretary was asked to write a letter to the school board about rerouting school buses in outlying districts where small children now have to walk as far as two miles. A delegation was appointed to see the school board on this matter.

Mrs. E. E. Bates introduced Dr. Anne Dawe of Kelowna, who spoke on mentally handicapped children. Dr. Dawe is well qualified having taken graduate work at the University of Nebraska, obtaining the degree of Doctor of Education in School administration there. She specialized in training teachers for the mentally handicapped children and working out programs for the special class curriculum.

Dr. Dawe stated the several types of mentally handicapped children and pointed out that each type should have its own program. Special classes of not more than twenty and depending on the handicap, were the only groups who could adequately teach these children. Constant research in medical science was working on the relief and cure of mentally handicapped children, she said.

Building Activity Slower This Year Than in 1956

Twelve building permits were issued last month, five for new dwellings, five for alterations and additions to houses, and two for alterations and additions in the commercial and institutional class. R. F. Angus, building inspector, reports that the estimated cost of the 12 is $38,025.00. Average cost of the five new dwellings is $6,100.

In April of last year, 19 permits were issued for the amount of $37,675 so the number of permits is down by seven and the estimated building expenditure lower by $19,850.

Total permits for the first four months of 1957 were 43 amounting to $63,525 as compared for the same period in 1956 when there were 34 for $120,710, which seems to indicate that there is more individual building but some $27,000 less money is being spent for the purpose.

Summerland Pupils Do Well At Music Festival

The Summerland musicians brought back many honors from the Music Festival held in Kelowna last week, including eight firsts, and all with the commendation of the adjudicator for the high musicianship shown. Regret was that there were not more entries in each class.

Saturday, May 11 Hospital Tag Day

Next Saturday, May 11, is Hospital Tag Day. Members of the Summerland Hospital Auxiliary will be tagging at West Summerland all day on the streets, and from door to door in Trout Creek and the Lower Town. The day precedes National Hospital Day, May 12, which is the birthday of Florence Nightingale.

Proceeds are to go to help pay for the new X-ray table. Mrs. Earle Wilson, Auxiliary president is convener of the occasion.

Fines Imposed on Traffic Violators

Two local men and one out of town were fined for traffic violations recently by Magistrate Robert Alstead.

One man was on the road with 1956 license plates; the other was charged with careless driving.

The visitor was going between 75 and 80 miles an hour, and with the fines imposed, it was figured his driving was costing him $1.00 per mile.

Scout Reunion Tuesday, May 14

An interesting evening is being planned for Scouts in Summerland. On Tuesday, May 14, a reunion is to be held in the Youth Centre at 7 p.m. when all Scouts, former Scouts and Scout leaders in the area, as well as parents of Scouts are invited to be present to meet John Tait of Vancouver, a former Scoutmaster.

Anyone who has old pictures to display that evening or other things that would be of interest is asked to bring them along, or to get in touch with Dr. D. V. Fisher ahead of time.

Those who have been Scout leaders in Summerland are listed as follows: Cliff Bolton, 1909; John Tait, 1910; Otto Zimmerman, 1918; Capt. Creese, 1923; Jim Strothers, 1925; Earle Wilson, 1926; Cecil Cope, 1928. From 1929-1938 there was a gap. Jim Clarke, 1938; G. C. G. Flammank, 1939; W. R. Boyd, 1940.

Rotary's Little Giant Bingo Saturday

"Your money's worth and worthwhile cash prizes," says Rotary President Tommy Young. "And a cash draw too," he says.

That is what's in store for Summerlanders this Saturday, night, May 11, when the Summerland Rotary Club holds its Little Giant Bingo.

They are giving most of the money away that night to the lucky winners... but whatever is left over will be used for the Swim Beach.

At present the Summerland Rotary Club is engaged in preparation for the swimming classes at the Rotary Beach as well as raising money for the High School Piano Fund, along with their usual community endeavours where there is need of assistance.

The Rotarians expect to see a large turnout this Saturday night at the IOOF Hall to participate in the increasingly popular Bingo.

The Town Band came home with the Kelowna Rotary Shield, with high praise for both the band and the conductor, W. A. Stewart. The mark given was 85. The shield is on display in the window of the Summerland Box Co.

In the Quick study class, Carol James was top with 85 and in the piano sight reading, under 16 years, first with 84. Other firsts were won by Ruth Lapins, piano sight reading, 85; Carol James, pianoforte solo, under 17, 82, and commended for her interpretation; Lynn Boothe, first in the modern music class, said to have set a good crisp style and pace, 84, piano duet under 16, Carol and Marjorie James tied for first place; and in the brass solo, under 18, Eddie Matsu won the Fumerton trophy coming first with 83 marks.

Anthea Morgan and Donna Powell tied for second spot with 83 marks in the piano sight reading class. Other seconds were won by Lynn Boothe, pianoforte solo, Beethoven, under 15, 79; piano duet under 10, La Verne Lynn and Doug Lynn 2nd; 79 marks; vocal solo under eight, Sharon James tied for second spot, with 81.

Lynn Boothe was third in the Bach piano solo, under 15, 77; piano solo under 12, Canadian composer, Darlene Miller, third, 79; Anne Emery was tied for third in the piano solo class, under 16; Carol James, tied for third, in piano solo, under 18, Canadian composer.

Lynn Boothe studies with Miss Juanita Biagoni, Penticton; Anne Emery studies with Mrs. Dohler of Kelowna; the rest of the piano students are pupils of Miss Kay Hamilton, Summerland.

Summerland students were told that their work in quick study and sight reading were important, and were especially complimented for the band instrumental classes and the modern composers' class.

A number of others from Summerland were entered in the Festival and performed creditably.

Eddie Matsu, Carol and Marjorie James were invited to take part in the Festival Highlights concert presented in the United Church, Penticton.

G. W. Blewett, 1945; D. V. Fisher, 1948; David Munn, 1952; D. V. Fisher, 1954 to the present time.

While there they attended a conference of the Canadian Federated Theosophical Societies. Mr. Plunkett took part in a panel discussion on "What is our duty as Theosophists to society." Mrs. Plunkett's son, Fred Morgan of Calgary, participated also.

Mr. and Mrs. Plunkett have returned, while Mrs. Peter is still in Vancouver.

Irvine Adam's Pastel Hung In Paris Salon

Further honors have come to Irvine Adams, Summerland artist, who has just received word that one of his pastel paintings has been accepted and is now hung in Paris in the Annual Exposition of the Society of Artists of France. This is being held from April 27-May 15 in the Grand Palais Des Champs Elysees.

Mr. Adams' agents, James Boulet and Sons, Ltd., of London, asked permission to submit the picture to the Paris Salon in France, and sent word of the acceptance.

The painting was recently exhibited in the annual show of the English Pastel Society in London. It is a snow scene and was sketched at Revelstoke.

BUILDING INSPECTOR MADE ASSOC'N. DIRECTOR

By DOT CARSTON

Hi! Well, we've all experienced our first week back to the old grind — again! What with exam results and report cards, I think we were all ready for the week-end. I know I was!

Softball in House play is under way, so be sure to support your house. Also — all softball practices for seniors and juniors have had good turnouts.

Our senior Sadie Hawkins' Hard Times Dance on Friday night was a lot of fun. At least I had fun lassoing my "male critter" and learning how to jive. How many of you gals are broke now?

Didn't the band do a good job on the "Car Wash" on Saturday. The cars really sparkled.

Congratulations to all the musicians who took part in the Festival and best wishes for a successful band conference this weekend at Kelowna.

That's my word for this week . . . So long!

Experimental Farm UBC Credit Course

The federal government is co-operating with UBC in providing credit courses at different Experimental Farms during the summer.

A course in pomology is to be given at the Summerland Farm, and six students are here now to participate. Similar courses designed around their own specialties are being undertaken at the Farms at Saanichton, Agassiz, Kamloops and Prince George.

Formal lectures will be for two hours a week, with a two-hour lab every two weeks. Both of these may extend to a longer time. The rest of the time the students will work with the research group as skilled labor and technicians.

Students here from UBC are Miss Joanne Farmer, Hans Butkus, G. Geen, John Gold and R. A. Frederick.

City Band Wins New Honor . . .

SUMMERLAND artists have again won acclaim and awards at the annual Okanagan Musical Festival and congratulations are owing to all the Summerland contestants who have again demonstrated that this community is rich in talent and that here in Summerland we have a deep appreciation of music and the related arts.

And this year Summerland can rejoice at possessing a winner in a new classification at the festival — this the band competition.

Summerland's City Band accumulated an impressive total of 85 points, along with warm praise from the adjudicator who was particularly impressed with the work of the band conductor, W. A. "Bud" Stuart, under whose direction the band reached its present state of perfection.

Summerland's City Band has long been a source of pride and it is a cause for congratulation, at a time when bands in many larger centres are, so it seems, disintegrating, that the Summerland band is carrying on, and it is equally cause for congratulation that with the splendid work being done with the development of musicians in the High School Band that Summerland's City Band will continue to bring honors to this community.

To Band Conductor Bud Stuart and to the members of the Summerland band, the Review says — well done.

Weighed And Not Found Wanting . . .

IT SEEMS that with some people you just can't win. We are now informed that some disgruntled ones within the fruit industry are now describing the Royal Commission into the industry as nothing but "whitewash."

We gather that Commissioner McPhee's recent and very wholehearted commendation of B.C. Tree Fruits, Ltd., has particularly irked some of those gentlemen who, not so long ago, were claiming credit for securing the appointment of the Royal Commission.

This fringe element however, in the face of the evidence placed before the commission can now be largely ignored. What Commissioner McPhee has to say in his report, and what recommendations he will make are, of course, still known only to Mr. McPhee and we have not the knowledge, nor the desire, to attempt to anticipate his findings.

However, it can be said that even if the Commissioner did not file a report, that the Royal Commission has served a worthwhile purpose, insofar as it has demonstrated beyond doubt that the grower organization stands upon a solid foundation and that it will take more than the huffings and the puffings of a discontented few to destroy it.

We are particularly pleased that Mr. McPhee saw fit to publicly commend B.C. Tree Fruits and its personnel.

The well being of the grower depends in very large measure upon the efforts of the sales agency and it must be gratifying to the personnel of Tree Fruits and to all responsible growers, that the selling agency has been weighed in a critical balance and not found wanting.

FACE THE BIG ISSUES

VOTE FOR CANADA

Hold on to what we have and cherish!

We live today in a world of explosive contradictions. While Canadians enjoy soaring prosperity, millions elsewhere are hungry. While we strive for peace, the threat of war is ever present. The age of abundance for all mankind now is possible; so is world-wide atomic destruction.

These are the big issues. Today, as never before, Canada's freedom and prosperity and the future of our children—all the things we love and want most—depend on events in the world around us.

It's essential to elect a government which promotes prosperity at home and peace abroad. History shows we can't have one without the other.

Only the Liberal Party can do this. It's the only party with statesmen experienced and respected in world affairs. The Liberal record proves it can promote prosperity at home and peace abroad. It's Canada's only truly national party, seeking constantly to re-affirm national unity, the 90 year old goal of Confederation.

Gerald Washington, Yvonne Polesello Married in Vancouver Ceremony

Summerland and the coast shared interest in the wedding solemnized in Vancouver on April 22 of Yvonne Lillian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. Polesello of Summerland, and Gerald George, only son of Mr. and Mrs. George Washington of Summerland. The ceremony took place in St. Patrick's Church, 116 East 12th Street, at 10 a.m.

The bride was given in marriage by her father in a lovely setting of Easter lilies, roses and daffodils, with tall lighted tapers.

The beautiful floor-length hooped wedding gown had a fitted bodice, with a long-sleeved lace jacket embroidered with pearls, and tiny nylon ruffles in rows and rows encircled the full skirt. A fingertip veil with a coronet of pearls was worn by the bride. She carried a bouquet of Easter lilies with stephanotis and wore white satin shoes.

There were four attendants. Mrs. Dale Munro was her sister's matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Louise Barrie of Vancouver; Miss Marilyn Washington, sister of the groom, of Summerland; and Miss Aloma Polesello, younger sister of the bride, as junior bridesmaid.

Mrs. Munro, Miss Barrie and Miss Washington wore gowns of iridescent pale blue taffeta with matching hats, and carried white daisies, yellow rosebuds and fern. Miss Aloma Polesello was in a yellow frock similarly styled with two shades of yellow rosebuds in her hair, and her flowers were blue with yellow rosebuds.

George Usawa of Summerland was the best man and Gerry Polesello of Summerland and Walter Bendickson of Vancouver were the ushers.

Dwayne Greer, of Vancouver, formerly of Summerland, was the organist.

At the reception held in the evening at The Manhattan, 1727 West Broadway, Mr. and Mrs. Polesello were assisted in receiving by the groom's parents and the bridal party. Daffodils and spring flowers reflected the spring season and daffodils and white daisies with tapers were on either side of the four-tiered wedding cake, made by the bride's mother. The cake was surrounded by white tulle and rosebuds.

Dr. Edward Kita of Vancouver proposed a toast to the bride with response by the groom. Dale Munro gave the toast to the matron of honor; and George Usawa to the bridesmaids.

An orchestra provided music for dancing.

For a trip to Seattle and Tacoma the pretty bride wore a lovely white suit and white topcoat with pink rosebud corsage, a small pink ostrich feather hat and pink plastic shoes.

On their return the couple will make their home in Vancouver where both are employed by the B.C. Telephone Company.

Out-of-town guests were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. P. Lazorenko of Penticton, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Trombley, also of Penticton; Mr. and Mrs. George Washington, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Stewart, Mr. George Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Schwab, Mr. and Mrs. J. Cristante, Donald Cristante, and Miss Marilyn Wade, all of Summerland.

Miss Myrtle Harbicht Is Married To L/Cpl. Gordon W. H. Pohlmann

Candlelight flickered on bouquets of daffodils, forsythia and chrysanthemum on Saturday afternoon, April 27, at 4:30 in the afternoon when Myrtle Imogene, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Harbicht was united in marriage with Gordon W. H. Pohlmann, son of Mrs. O. M. Lane and Mr. Carl Pohlmann of Kelowna.

The dark-haired bride was given in marriage by her father in the presence of about 120 guests with Rev. C. A. Richmond the officiating clergyman.

A beautiful tulle and lace wedding gown over taffeta was worn by the bride with a lace jacket having lily point sleeves and Queen Anne collar. Her fingertip veil was caught to her head with a beaded tiara styled headdress, and she carried roses on a Bible having a pearl studded cover.

As attendants the bride's three sisters, Miss Lois Harbicht, as maid of honor and Miss Joyce and Miss Sharon Harbicht as bridesmaids, were in identical gowns of shrimp crystal charm in waltz length. The frocks had scooped necklines and matching boleros were worn. The pretty trio wore headdresses of shrimp colored net with white flowers and carried bouquets of white gladioli.

The groom's brother-in-law, Ron Keeley of Penticton was the best man. Ushers were the bride's brother, Darwin Harbicht, and the groom's brother, George Pohlmann of Nanaimo.

Mrs. Glen Morley presided at the organ and Mrs. Alfred Letts sang "The Lord's Prayer," and "Because."

At the reception in the IOOF Hall Mr. and Mrs. Harbicht were assisted by Mrs. Lane and Mr. Pohlmann and the bridal party in receiving.

Pastel green and white streamers decorated the hall for the occasion, interspersed with white bells. Bouquets of daffodils gave a spring charm to the room. A three-tiered wedding cake on the bride's table was embedded in tulle caught with red rosebuds and flanked by tall tapers.

Cpl. C. E. Piers proposed a toast to the bride with the groom responding. The best man gave the toast to the bridesmaids.

Darwin Harbicht, Karl Schramm and George Pohlmann provided instrumental music and sang to entertain guests between supper and the time when dancing started.

FIRST BALL

Juniors Match Seniors and Win at Naramata in Summer Baseball Series

The Summerland Junior Red Sox came up against a surprisingly strong Naramata team on Sunday and had to go 12 innings before taking the game 7-5.

The Red Sox started Bruce Lemke on the mound, but the left hander was nervous, pitching his first junior game and gave up five runs on five hits and five walks. He also struck out six. Carlton Sheeley went in with two out in the fourth and from then until the last of the 12th allowed two hits, walked one, and struck out 12. The Naramata pitcher, Kozak, pitched a good game, striking out 15 and never issuing a walk.

Naramata got two runs in the 1st, one in the 3rd and two more in the fourth to lead 5-0 before the Red Sox came to life to get one in the 4th, two in the 5th and two in the seventh to tie up the game at 5-5.

In the 12th inning McNabb started off with a single scoring on Shannon's double, then Biolla singled to drive in Shannon with the second run of the inning. That was the ball game as Naramata could do nothing in their half of the 12th.

In the game at Oliver, the Oliver Juniors defeated the Penticton Juniors by a 5-4 score in the 13th inning. Next Sunday Summerland goes to Penticton with Oliver at Naramata.

Clobbered is the word — the only word to describe what the Summerland Macs did to Vernon's 1957 hopes in the Okanagan-Mainline Baseball League here Sunday.

The Macs took the first game of the doubleheader 6-5 and then went on to slaughter Vernon's entire pitching staff to take the second game 19-6.

A fairish crowd was on hand for what was the official home opening of the season for the Macs and the fans were treated to a little bit of everything, including the odd rhubarb which, in one instance, led to umpire MacDonald getting clobbered during an altercation over how many bases can a man take on a passed ball or an overthrow.

Al Hooker pitched the Macs to victory in the first game yielding only six scattered hits. Bill Eyre and Bob Bonthoux shared the pitching chores in the second game, Vernon getting to Eyre for seven hits in seven innings and to Bonthoux for two in two innings.

Vernon ran through six pitchers in the two games.

First Game
Vernon	100 031—5 6 3
Macs	100 032—6 9 5
Second Game
Vernon	301 002—6 6 2
Macs	237 034—19 16 3

In other games in the Okanagan-Mainline league Penticton Red Sox split a double-header with Kamloops Okonots. Penticton dropped the opener 9-8 and copped the nightcap 6-2.

Meanwhile Kelowna Orioles were clobbering Princeton Royals, sweeping both ends of a doubleheader by scores of 4-2 and 11-0.

Fishing Notes

By BERT BERRY

Okanagan Lake has just started to come on the last few days. No large fish or great numbers being caught but should be improving from now on.

Fish Lake. All upper lakes are still frozen but some nice catches made at Fish Lake. Best results have been made with flies.

Agur Lake has been good up to the last week end but now are harder to catch. Fish reported up to two pounds have been caught here.

Garnet Valley Dam not too much activity here, mostly small unless you know the good spots to fish.

Shannon Lake, some nice bass have been taken here lately and for anyone who likes bass fishing, is a good bet.

Silver Lake, a couple of nice reports from here; not big, but well worth the time to go in.

Spin fishing off the rocks on the east side of Okanagan and at Wilson's Landing will be coming on very shortly and will be worth a try. The higher mountain lakes around the 5,000 ft. level are still frozen solid but with hot weather and some rain they should be open soon.

Bowling News

By GLENN FELL

This week a 10-pin Bowling League was set in motion. According to the bowling experts around town this is the first time 10-pins has been organized into regular league play since 1952 or 1953! Bob Bonthoux was elected president; Lloyd Uzick was elected vice-president and Joan Zimmerman was elected secretary-treasurer. The first evening was devoted to obtaining averages and Lloyd Uzick won the high single with a 191 and Ashley Austin won the high two with a 342! Teams will be organized for the actual beginning of league play next week. The new executive wish to announce that those who could not be present this week may obtain their averages before the commencement of league play next week and also arrange for a spot in the league.

The ladies league ended their season with a social evening at Ann Geres'. Kay Smith was awarded three trophies (which is an unusual feat in any sport!) for the high three, high average and high game. I might mention that up to the playoffs Kay had only won the high average and then came through with her high scores to sweep the field! The Hangovers were the winning team and were presented with individual trophies. Bernice MacDonald and Eileen Fell were presented with figurines for their help in sparing on the Hangovers during the season. Novelty awards were presented to Donna Charlton for low average; Vi Carty for low game and Martha Chalfoux for the low three. A new executive was elected for next year with Nellie Newton as president; Lorraine Irving as secretary, and Berle Floebe as treasurer. Helen Young and Vi Carty were elected as executives. I understand the Hangovers provided the entertainment for the party. Does that explain how they came by their name?

Pass Summerland Resolution at Library Meeting

A Summerland resolution presented at the special meeting of the Okanagan Regional Library Board meeting on Thursday, April 25 in Kelowna was passed unanimously as presented by Harvey Wright, representative of the school board, district 77.

This resolution asked that an executive secretary with accounting experience be hired, either part or full-time, according to the decision of the executive of the library board.

Summerland council and representation feel that with the growth of the library, which now encompasses 55 branches, the work of Mrs. M. Ffoulkes, the regional librarian, has increased greatly, and that Mrs. Ffoulkes should not be expected to attend to the financial duties as well as the position of librarian. With an accountant Mrs. Ffoulkes can devote full time to the work for which she is trained and which she carries on with enthusiasm and competence.

Mrs. Ffoulkes tendered her resignation to the meeting, but it was not accepted.

On the Spring Tour this year UBC players will present their production at Lytton, Bralorne, Lillooet, Salmon Arm, Revelstoke, Vernon, Kelowna, Summerland, Trail, Grand Forks, Nelson, Parksville and Courtenay, thus encompassing places that were not even a dot on the map when the Bard of Avon wrote his incomparable plays.

Baptist Association Meeting Here

The Okanagan Baptist Association met in Summerland Baptist Church May 1. Representatives were present from Vernon, Peachland, Penticton, Kaleden, Cawston and Summerland.

Rev. Lyle Kennedy of the Summerland church gave the address of welcome and the moderator, Rev. B. Wingblade of Kelowna presided. Vice-moderator, who participated during the day is W. C. Wilkin of Summerland. The secretary-treasurer is Wm. Greenwood of Kelowna.

Mrs. W. C. Wilkin sang at the afternoon session which began with a devotional service followed by the annual business meeting. Later in the afternoon Camp business was discussed under T. S. Manning's leadership. This comprises organized camps for boys and girls and adults. It was felt that camp is for all and the responsibility rests upon everyone in the Association.

At night a song service was directed by Mr. Wilkin, Mr. Kennedy spoke, and Rev. H. Branton of Vernon, Rev. Stewart Diddell of Penticton also took part in the service when the new executive was installed. A special feature of this service was singing by a massed choir from all the component churches.

Another Party for Miss M. Harbicht

Mrs. C. J. Krause and Mrs. Frank Lauer entertained at the home of the former in Prairie Valley on Wednesday evening, April 14, for Miss Myrtle Harbicht, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Harbicht, whose marriage to L/Cpl. Gordon Pohlmann of Calgary, took place on Saturday, April 27.

A daintily decorated box topped with a pretty umbrella was arranged to hold all the useful gifts for the miscellaneous shower for the bride-elect.

The hostesses served delicious refreshments as the happy evening concluded.

Guests were Mrs. E. Harbicht, Mrs. Wendt, Mrs. A. J. Campbell, Mrs. H. A. McCargar, Mrs. E. C. Bingham, Mrs. Alex Inch, Mrs. A. Kohlhauser, Mrs. Charlie Wendell, Mrs. Ernie Mayert, Mrs. John Smith, Mrs. Frank Dickenson, Miss Lois and Miss Joyce Harbicht, Miss Margaret and Miss Susie Lauer, and Miss Shirley Wendell.

Miss Uytterhagen Gets a Surprise

Mrs. Jack Wilson was a shower hostess on Thursday evening at her home in Peach Orchard to honor Miss Loretta Uytterhagen prior to her marriage to Ed Martin, an event of early May.

Guests were friends of the parents of Mr. Martin who live in the Peach Orchard area.

The party was a great surprise to the bride-elect, and the lovely gifts were hidden inside a model of the Overwaita store where she is employed. It was pulled in on a wagon by Heather and Billy Wilson, and many amusing specials were advertised.

After all the parcels were opened, games were played with a team comprised of Mrs. V. Charles, Mrs. Ted Miles and Mrs. Horvak winning one, and Mrs. H. Pohlmann, another.

At the conclusion of the happy occasion delicious refreshments were served.

Invited were Mrs. E. Martin, Mrs. Langbell, Mrs. Leo McCrea, Mrs. Ray Wilburn, Mrs. Vera Charles, Mrs. Horvak, Mrs. R. M. White, Mrs. Andy Brown, Mrs. Advocate, Mrs. Ted Miles, Mrs. H. Pohlmann, Mrs. Ivar Nilson, Mrs. C. B. Snow, Mrs. J. Van Gameron, Mrs. E. Harrison, Mrs. L. Charles, Miss Mary Wolffer and Miss Mary Scott.

Tenders were opened at Tuesday's council meeting last week for the sale of the lot on the east side of the Morrow property in Prairie Valley, and the offer of Kenneth M. Marshall in the amount of $600.00 was accepted.

Miss Shirley McAdam To Municipal Office

Miss Shirley McAdam has been appointed to the position of clerk-typist in the municipal office. The vacancy occurred when Miss Myrtle Harbicht resigned.

Miss McAdam has been employed in a bank at the coast and was formerly in the Bank of Montreal at West Summerland. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. McAdam, Prairie Valley Road.

PADDLES TO BE STILLED—The last of a proud breed of British Columbia sternwheelers, the Canadian Pacific's S.S. Moyie, churned Kootenay Lake waters for the last time Saturday, April 27, after 59 years of service. The Moyie was originally constructed at Toronto for gold rush service on the Stikine River, between Wrangell, Alaska and Telegraph Creek, B.C. The gold fever in those parts cooled before the Moyie reached its destination, and its 1,000 dismantled parts were diverted to Nelson, B.C., where the ship was reassembled in 1898, for service on Kootenay Lake. The Moyie is 161 feet long; has a 30-foot beam and weighs 830 tons. Drawing a mere four to five feet of water, it was a frequent boast that the Moyie could float with ease on a heavy dew.

Odds And Ends

By M. VANDERBURGH

There are many difficulties in coming to a new country where the language barrier presents one of the first. A story about one of the Hungarians here who was being taught to plant pear trees seems worth repeating. The holes had been dug ready for quite a number of trees. The employer, picking up a sturdy pruning nearby, said, "Now, this is the way you plant the young trees," and went on to put the pruning in the ground, tamp it in, and the usual process of filling in, that is ABC to school children in a fruit growing district. The Hungarian was told he would start the next morning as taught. So he did, bright and early, and planted prunings all over the place as well as he could.

This is the gardening season. May is planting time, and things grow inches almost overnight. The ground has to be prepared. Here and everywhere women do a large share of it, both with vegetables and flowers. Why are all the gardening tools designed for men? The handles of most garden gadgets are too big for women to hold comfortably, and they are too heavy, resulting in aching fingers and wrists. It seems to me there would be a whole new field opened up for some smart manufacturer to make garden tools just for women. With the new strong lightweight materials that can take strain and stress surely things could be made that are easier to carry around and use. Now that we're so color conscious the handles could match or complement the garden furniture. No end to the market potentialities.

Racial tolerance is something to be cultivated. It's sometimes surprising the little things that one hears which indicate that

Miss M. Harbicht Receives Gifts

A number of Summerland organizations honored Miss Myrtle Harbicht in appreciation of her work as a member, prior to her marriage to L/Cpl. Gordon Pohlmann, an event of April 27.

Members of the LOBA Lodge gave her a lovely yellow spun rayon and nylon blanket with Mrs. George Kennedy making the presentation for the ladies.

Sunday school teachers of Summerland United Church remembered her with pretty copper candlesticks. Mrs. Ray Leinor in giving them to Miss Harbicht expressed the best wishes of the group.

Lew Wright spoke for the United Church choir when the gift of a cut glass marmalade jar was given to her.

School Grounds Being Improved

Summerland school board is landscaping the Trout Creek school grounds and swings have been erected. A tractor has been at work and some grass is to be put down.

At the same time grass is being laid in the south-east corner of the High School grounds, which should improve not only the appearance of the school but the Granville St. approach to West Summerland.

It requires delicate and careful tillage. In fact the dictionary gives "to civilise or refine" as one of the meanings of cultivation. A little girl we know, aged four, plays with an older girl of ten. They have lots of spats and call one another names, of course. The other day the older child said, "Anyway, I'm English, and you're German." The smaller one struck out the best way she knew, and retorted, "I'm not. I'm Canada."

Okanagan Telephone Company Completes Fifty Years of Service

Half a century ago, in April, 1907, two important communication events marked another forward stride in the long history of the development of the Okanagan Valley, for that month, fifty years ago, saw the launching of the then-largest and finest lake steamer "Okanagan" and the incorporation of the Okanagan Telephone Company.

The steamer "Okanagan" has now passed from the scene, while the Okanagan Telephone Company, now one of the oldest in British Columbia, marks the completion of half a century of service on April 25th, and at the same time can rightfully claim to be one of the most modern communication utilities in operation today. Modernization and expansion has marked the fifty-year progress of this Telephone Company now serving over 21,000 telephones in its 15-exchange system.

In the decade since 1947 when a leading telephone engineer surveyed the Company's seven exchange manual system and recommended the conversion to automatic service throughout, the Okanagan Telephone Company has carried out a progressive modernization program converting nearly all exchanges to dial operation and by the end of this year will have all but 50 of 21,000 telephones in 15 exchanges on fully automatic service.

The switch to modern equipment is typical of a company which has grown with the Valley it serves, and like other business enterprises in its territory, has seen its investment, staff, and payroll grow with the times. Today the Okanagan Telephone Company has a staff of nearly 200, an investment exceeding 5 million dollars, and a yearly payroll of over half a million dollars.

The Company's present-day operations are a far cry from the days of 1907 when the Okanagan Telephone Company first came into being with its one exchange at Vernon; the first card directory printed that year listed merely 200 subscribers in the Vernon area.

At first confined to Vernon and district service the company started to expand and extend its service in the years immediately following 1910. In January 1911, the Company purchased the Armstrong exchange and later in the same year Enderby was added. Early in 1912 the Company bought the Lakeshore Telephone Company Limited which operated exchanges at Peachland, Summerland, Naramata and Penticton and later in the same year the company also acquired the Kelowna telephone system and extended its service into the Shuswap District with the addition of the Salmon Arm exchange.

In 1929 the company purchased the Summerland Telephone Company Limited from the municipality and that same year the company also bought out the Solar Telephone Limited of Revelstoke. In July, 1950 these Companies were incorporated with the parent Company.

A big jump in the Company's services came in 1934 when the British Columbia Telephone Company connected its lines with those of the Okanagan Telephone Company, thus providing service to all Canadian points and to foreign exchanges served by the Bell system.

The business of the Company, with the exception of the depression years, 1932 to 1934, has grown steadily over the years and in September 1945 — at the end of World War II — there were 7,572 telephones in service. Like all telephone utilities this service in the Okanagan system has shown a phenomenal post-war growth and in August 1956 the Company installed its 20,000th telephone — an increase of 12,248 or over 160%. Today, on its 50th birthday, the Company has 21,200 telephones in service — 19,100 of these are on fully automatic local service.

The expansion of the Okanagan Telephone Company has paralleled the Valley's population growth and coupled with the increase in the number of telephones in service has been an increase in Long Distance calling, brought about largely by the modernization and addition of new equipment to toll line facilities. The first telephone company in B.C. to institute 2

VF Operator Toll Dialling throughout its system, the Okanagan Company is now proceeding with its plans for Subscriber Toll Dialling which will permit its subscribers to dial directly to any telephone in its system and to many telephones in the province. Ultimately this plan will expand to calling on a nationwide basis.

During 1956 the Company's operators completed 940,343 Long Distance calls — an increase of 131,658 calls over the previous year and

ing part. This will be a truly fine show with every band attending the conference seated in the floor of the arena and playing in turn. There will be a few numbers played by the entire group under the baton of a visiting band personality. This is a most moving experience and one which has been remembered by all those attending previous conferences. Anyone wanting tickets for this final conference program is asked to phone the high school and reserve their places as only so many tickets are allotted to each municipality. Tickets for this final concert in Kelowna are $1.00 and admission for the Friday night concert in Summerland is 50 cents (at the door).

Sunday the visiting bands will leave for home with a much broader picture of the music picture in B.C. and much inspiration for their future band work.

This is an opportunity that will come to the Valley only once in a very long time and it is hoped that as many as possible will attend all the sessions and see the work that is being done in Instrumental Music in British Columbia.

Where Your Dollars Make More Cents

According To The Mood

By Sid Godber

Well, the four federal candidates came and a goodly cross section of the community saw and heard at last week's meeting of the Summerland Board of Trade. Only complaint from the audience that I've heard is that Ivor Solly, chairman, maintained a mite too much control. Ivor had all four candidates champing at the bit, but he didn't loosen the reins, if he had, —brother!

It is now generally recognized that opportunity should have been given for rebuttal. Liberal candidate Dr. Mel Butler was the unluckiest one of the foursome. He lost the draw, spoke first and, of course, from then on was a sitting duck for the others.

Still it was a bright and breezy session and a credit to the Board of Trade.

My conclusion is that we could send anyone of the four candidates to Ottawa without feeling any shame and so it seems there's only one thing to do and that is vote for the party and the party platform which appeals to us, rather than to confuse issues by voting for the man.

For example, I couldn't quite follow O. L. Jones in his commentary. Mr. Jones, in effect, argued that it was better to have a member in opposition than on the government side of the house — that an opposition member could get more for his constituency, as a government member could be told to shut up. But, if that is the case, what on earth is Mr. Jones going to tell us if the pendulum swings and his party gets into power?

Oh well, that's the way it will go from now until June 10, charge upon counter charge — claim and counter claim — promise and counter promise — and then come June 10 the people somewhat deafened, but with their minds made up will troop to the polls and declare themselves.

At election times I always think of my old dad. A staunch labor man to his dying day, who back before the British Labor party ever looked like going any place would come home time after time after hearing the election results and growl — "if those bloody fools can stand it for another five years I can."

A lot of articles lately about toupees and some of the distinguished heads who wear them. The age of reticence is sure passing. At one time a man who wore a toupee tried to keep it a deep, dark secret — now even movie stars admit to them without blush.

Read an article about Jack Benny, Fred Astaire — that French bloke, you know who I mean, all of whom wear toupees — "rugs" they call 'em at about $250 bucks a rug. They certainly look better for them. I got studying the pictures and began to wonder if maybe a toupee would help me regain my long lost youth — tried draping the kitten on my head to see what the effect of a toupee would be, but kitten must have got the idea I was thinking of making her into a "rug" and wouldn't cooperate.

According to my reading a "rug" helps keep a man from being a wall flower, but heck — with my ancient joints I'm happier as a wall flower.

What decided me utterly and finally against spending the grocery money on a $250 rug, I mean "rug," was recently watching Fred Astaire cavorting in a movie with the young Hepburn — nimble as he still is on his feet, Fred Astaire is no chicken and here he was, toupee and all, trying to put over love in bloom in Paris, in spring. Honest it was almost repulsive. I like Astaire, but not when he's trying to play footsie with an actress years younger. They should have paired him with the old Hepburn. It is just as nauseating, perhaps more so, to see the old Hepburn simulating young love with a much younger man, even a not-so young Bob Hope, as it is to see Astaire or ancient Benny, or any of the old crop, toupees included slobbering over some young thing.

As for me the die is cast I'll flaunt my bald spot to the world and make like Yule Brynner.

Well — mother's day is come and gone. Our Mrs. Vanderburgh heped me out of that one without knowing it.

Mrs. Vanderburgh complained that there aren't any garden tools designed for women. Day after the paper came out I was buttonholed by the grocer's L. W. Rumball and led by the nose to where, hanging on the wall, was a stock of garden tools, specially designed for women — so, as mother's day was coming up — I just bought a streamlined spade and fork for presentation on the day. Now I don't have to worry about the wife working too hard in the garden.

Actually, though, I don't see why I should worry about mother's day — after all, my wife isn't my mother.

Mill Rate Up 4.67 Mills "Growing Pains" - Reeve

L. B. PEARSON

JOHN DIEFENBAKER

Two Political Giants To Speak In Penticton

Culprit Must Have Thought He'd Got Away With This One

It may take time, but in the end, the Mounties always get their man.

That must have been the thinking of Leonard Toran, who was sentenced by Police Magistrate Robert Alstead to six months in jail for uttering a worthless cheque.

Toran was sentenced only yesterday, he passed the worthless cheque at the L. A. Smith store in Summerland in the year 1944.

Toran was arrested at Kamloops and brought here to face the first of many similar charges against him. He was removed to Vancouver yesterday for further trial.

Colin McKenzie President Singers' And Players' Club for Another Term

Colin McKenzie was re-elected president of the Singers' and Players' Club at the annual meeting held on Tuesday evening in the Parish Hall.

The new vice-president is K. L. Boothe. Mrs. Flora Bergstrom was re-elected as secretary-treasurer and A. K. Macleod as treasurer.

Mrs. J. L. Mason is the Players' representative on the executive and Mrs. John Kitson is Singers' representative.

Miss Peggy Johnston will represent the Penticton members of the Club.

In his president's report, Mr. McKenzie said that he thought two operas were rather too much for the club to undertake for one evening's entertainment.

Mr. McKenzie thanked everyone, including the orchestra, for the splendid support given.

Mr. McLeod's treasurer's report showed a successful year.

Mrs. Lorne Perry gave a good resume of the work done by the Players this past season.

Glen Morley, musical director said that he had enjoyed the year's projects and regretted that he may not be here next year. Mr. Morley advised the group to get another musical leader if possible.

Next year's productions are to be discussed at a meeting next week. They will depend upon the director, how much chorus work will be needed, and other things.

Two political giants, the Hon. Lester B. Pearson, Canada's Minister of External Affairs, and John Diefenbaker, leader of the National Progressive-Conservative party, will speak in Penticton within a few days of each other.

The Hon. Mr. Pearson, statesman and diplomat, and Canada's voice at the United Nations, will speak in the High School Auditorium in Penticton tomorrow night, Thursday, at 8 p.m.

Mr. Pearson was to have stopped off in Summerland, but pressure of his schedule is too great to permit it.

Mr. Diefenbaker will speak in Penticton, and in the same place, the high school auditorium, on Monday night.

Opportunity to hear such men comes seldom in the valley. Either one of them could become the prime minister of Canada, Mr. Diefenbaker by victory of his party at the polls, while Mr. Pearson is freely referred to as the most likely successor to The Hon. Louis St. Laurent.

Rotary Bingo Held On Saturday Night

There was a rather disappointing turn-out at the Rotary Club's Bingo held on Saturday night in the IOOF Hall.

The Bingo was in aid of the Swim Classes and other Rotary projects.

Although the crowd was small president T. B. Young reports there were about seven winners of cash prizes every hour.

Ouch. Taxes are going up, and it seems as if it may be painful at the present time. Much of the increase is due to growth in population with the resultant need of extra services in all municipal departments including increased wages, Reeve F. E. Atkinson says that the rise in local levies should be considered as a treatment for growing pains, and as everyone knows some treatments are costly.

After two years without any change Summerland taxes are going up 4.67 mills this year, from 21.70 to 26.37 mills. This means $4.67 on every $1,000.00 taxable assessment, or about 20 percent. This will be offset to some extent by the $28.00 being refunded by the government to every taxpayer this year.

The major portion of the increase is for school purposes.

Due to frost damage in the past two years, the council has "held the line" and kept taxes at a standstill. This year, because of increased costs in many municipal departments, the local governing body felt that a rise was necessary.

One mill raises $5,586.00 for school purposes, or $5,196.00 for general purposes.

Taxation is broken down as follows: municipal: utility tax, one per cent; debenture, 1.17 mills; general 8.20 mills; schools 17 mills.

The schools require $94,952.00 of the 1957 budget. This is about $12,000.00 more than last year.

Some of the major expenses which are bringing the tax rate up this year are increased council remuneration, the first one since 1949. It was felt that council members should be paid enough to encourage people to go into municipal work; not enough to compensate, but enough that not too much money is lost by those who give their time to public service. Stipend of the reeve will go up $300 a year and that of each councillor $150.

The B.C. Centennial produces an extraordinary expense this year. It may be spent in 1957 or 1958. The amount is $2,400,000, which is to match the donation of the government, dollar for dollar.

Fire protection figures are higher because of necessary purchases of additional hose, a smoke eradicator and other equipment.

Under the new RCMP contract, this service is costing $650.00 more this year.

Revenue from dog tax licenses has been put into general revenue usually amounting to $800.00. This year the Walker turkey episode cost the municipality $680.00.

There is an extra levy for library purposes which adds to expenditures.

Extra population means there are more ratepayers, making extra accounts in the municipal office and more work for the staff. New office equipment is needed and a new calculator was brought and the addressograph replaced.

Health service will cost $3,400.00 and the Trout Creek drainage improvement $500.00.

Now municipal sheds are being constructed from material salvaged from Ellison Hall. Construction cost of these from general revenue is estimated at $3,300.00. Full cost is being distributed among the various departments, roads, domestic water and irrigation.

J. S. Kirk has been appointed Farm Labour Placement Officer, as of Monday, May 13. Mr. Kirk has established an office in the premises next to Lockwood Real Estate. He succeeds W. J. Beattie, who resigned the position last fall.

STORES CLOSED MONDAY
All stores and business premises in Summerland will be closed Monday, marking the Victoria Day holiday.

Father Vincent J. Sampietro, who is coming from Nelson to be in The Church of The Holy Child May 19-24, Father Sampietro is on a Mission Tour.

Cancer Drive Nears The $1,200 Objective

Cancer Campaign for funds reported this morning that $1,000 has been collected already by members of the Kiwanis Club who are handling the drive.

The objective is $1,200 and Mr. Alstead says that several canvassers have not brought in their returns yet, so it is fully expected that the objective will be reached.

A Quartette, But No Harmony

Black was argued to be white — white was argued to be black — the pot called the kettle black — and vice versa —

In other words the politicians were on the loose in Summerland last Thursday with all four candidates in the forthcoming federal election wooing the vote of the members of the Summerland Board of Trade.

Candidates were allowed ten minutes speaking time and then the meeting was open to questions.

MEL BUTLER

Dr. Mel Butler, Kelowna dentist and long active in hockey and other sports told the meeting he had accepted the nomination because the Liberals in 22 years of government had a good record. Since the war they had maintained prosperity and stimulated progress. Canada under a Liberal government had won and maintained confidence at home and abroad, he said.

The Liberal government contended Dr. Butler had pioneered all social security measures and by vigorous leadership had helped to make Canada the fourth trading nation in the world.

"Opposition parties are making weird and wonderful promises. But it is easy to promise if you know you're not going to go in office."

"Canada as a whole is prosperous, but there are local problems. Here in the valley fruit

A veteran of nine years in parliament and many more years in the civic arena, O. L. Jones (CCF) moved in on his Liberal opponent with fists flailing. Referring to Dr. Butler's statement that he would resign if he didn't get a PFRA project for B.C. within a year of being elected, Mr. Jones said, "Mr. Butler is not going to get PFRA for British Columbia."

The veteran member went on to relate how he had tried for several years to get PFRA into B.C. other than for such federal projects as Veterans Land Act development.

But he pointed out, agriculture is a provincial responsibility and the provinces are jealous of their rights. Agriculture is definitely a provincial field. The federal government cannot enter the provinces without invitation.

FRANK CHRISTIAN

Penticton lawyer Frank Christian, directed his big guns at the Liberals. He maintained that they had a poor record of performance and he particularly attacked the Liberals' old age pension policy.

The government's $100,000,000 grant for culture came under fire from Mr. Christian as he contended that care of the aged should be given first consideration.

The speaker questioned the laxity and insincerity of the Liberal administration in failing to revise the tariff legislation, which the Hon. James Sinclair had recently said was practically useless. Why haven't they done something about this during the past 20 years, Mr. Christian asked.

Mr. Christian pointed out that the B.C. Social Credit government continues to press the gov-

DAVID PUGH

David Pugh, Oliver businessman introduced amid applause, as being the father of seven children refrained from attack and contented himself with outlining his party's platform.

The Progressive Conservative candidate summarized his platform in relation to the riding by stating "The problems are many but believe me a little sensible government can cure the whole lot. Take fruit and vegetable troubles. No matter how hard the grower tries, he's hamstringed from the start by American dumping. Lack of protection is pure government folly and hypocrisy. Each successive year sees the grower in a worsened financial position. Now he has no fat to go on."

Mr. Pugh went on to say the farmer is the backbone of our nation and that he was fed up seeing them treated as the dead

TEEN TOWN

by Dot Carston

This week's council meeting was held at the home of Marj Campbell.

We have, at several past meetings, talked about starting square dancing but because of lack of interest and due to exams and holidays, we decided to postpone it until fall when we had more time. We would however, like to thank all those who offered to instruct us and hope we can have you with us in the fall!

Our next dance will be on the 18th of May in the Youth Centre and the following week, on May 25th, we will hold the Queen's Ball where Miss Teen Town will be chosen.

It was also decided that our Cemetery Clean-up will be the afternoon and evening of June 1st with a weiner roast at Powell Beach to follow. Oh! by the way, everyone has to supply their own weiners and buns.

The treasurer's report revealed a bank balance of $26.29.

The next meeting will be held May 26th and you are invited to come.

ANIMALS ON HOLIDAY VACCINATION FOR

Travellers who tour with dogs or cats are again warned they must have an anti-rabies vaccination certificate for each of their pets before bringing them into any of Canada's Western National Parks.

This is a continuation of the rabies control measure instituted in 1953 following a serious outbreak of rabies in Western Canada. The measure is provided for in the National Park Game Regulations, and applies to the following National Parks: Mount Revelstoke, Glacier, Kootenay and Yoho in British Columbia; Banff, Jasper, Waterton Lakes and Elk Island in Alberta; Prince Albert in Saskatchewan and Riding Mountain in Manitoba.

National Parks officials explained the continued control measure is considered necessary to protect the wildlife in these federal game sanctuaries. The certificate accompanying each pet must show that the cat or dog has been vaccinated against rabies within the 12 months immediately preceding the date of entering the Park.

Old Age Pensions National Scheme

AN ADEQUATE old age pensions scheme is something to be desired, but this question of old age pensions appears to be being used as something of a red herring in the current election campaign.

It is for one thing, hardly a fair issue. It is easy for politicians who know deep down in their hearts that they haven't the proverbial "cat in hell's" chance of taking office, to promise handsome old age pensions while those who see a likelihood of being returned, must promise cautiously, if at all.

But surely all parties must recognize that providing adequate old age pensions from tax revenue will in a comparatively short period of time become an intolerable, if not an impossible burden.

Thanks to medical science the life span is being extended. Owing to large scale immigration introducing adult population the percentage of older folk is going to be increased and the burden of old age pensions will, of necessity, fall heavier upon the younger generations.

Politicians then, instead of making "pie-in-the-sky" promises, would be better employed planning and advocating a nation-wide contributory pension scheme, say on the basis of one third contribution from employer, one third from the employee and one third from the government.

From this fund the government would have to work out an equitable scale to cover not only those who have contributed directly, but those, such as the housewife and others, who could not be fitted into the contributory scheme.

Such a plan would eliminate the need for private industry pension schemes which, admirable as they are, serve only small sections of the population and which in effect, are discriminatory.

A nation-wide contributory pension scheme would take time to put into force. Such a scheme should provide for building up a war chest over a period of years before it is drawn upon.

But, if such a scheme was to become fact, then, in the limited period before it went into action, the government of the day might well find it within its financial powers to increase the current old age pensions to an amount more in keeping with Canada's status as a civilized and a rich nation.

In the meantime voters should, in all this sound and fury over old age pensions, remember that this is a federal election and that the federal government is not wholly responsible for old age pensions. It is only fair to look at the promises of the federal candidates in relation to what the provinces, under their respective party governments, are doing.

It Is Our Hospital Let's Use It

SOME considerable portion of this issue of The Review is given over to our hospital, the occasion being hospital week.

Summerland has every reason to be proud of its hospital and Summerland has also every reason to support it.

Human nature being what it is, hospitals are something people don't think about until they need them. Hospitals are taken for granted, like a lot of other community services and the extent of their contribution to the community is not fully realized, nor appreciated.

Summerland's hospital is a case in point. The pleasant building high on the hill overlooking the lake, is staffed and equipped to serve this community, but not enough people are making use of the excellent services it has to offer. The magnet drawing them away is the larger hospital in Penticton, but already that institution is being taxed to capacity and the day may come when Penticton may have to draw a line and what then? What if in the interim the Summerland hospital had gone out of business? Even if such a situation never does arise, the fact remains that to keep a hospital staffed and equipped to meet any one of the many types of emergency which could occur any time, day or night, any day of the week, requires that the community hospital be used to at least 75 per cent of its capacity.

Summerland's hospital capacity is nowhere near used to the required percentage and, in consequence, the Hospital Board and the devoted Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary are hard put to keep the hospital a going concern, fully ready to meet any emergency.

That they have done so up to now is greatly to their credit. But their task could be made considerably easier by an upswing in patient days.

Summerland folk, we know, value and appreciate their hospital, they would not want to lose it — but, as we said earlier, hospitals are taken for granted and so it could be that too many people in Summerland are taking our own hospital too much for granted, overlooking the fact that a hospital cannot be maintained at the required community service level unless it secures a comparable amount of community business.

Mid-Week Message

THOUGHT FOR TODAY. My help cometh from the Lord, who made heaven and earth. Ps. 121:2

Having driven to the summit of Cadillac Mountain on Mount Desert Island in Maine, we unpacked our lunch and settled on a rocky pinnacle to marvel at the panorama of nature unrolling about us. Bar Harbor was behind and below us in the distance. The deep-blue sapphire waters of Frenchman's Bay swept left, far off and beyond, past the farther hills. Wisps of white clouds in the pale-blue sky floated over wooded islands. Directly forward from our mountain height we faced a rugged lesser slope rising across a precipitous ravine.

Into our picture strolled a little girl with her mother. Following a path along the edge of that ravine, they stopped to look into it. "It's a long way down," we heard the mother say in a voice of fearful awe. "Yes," said the child with cheerful carelessness, "but that's not where we're going, is it?"

Do you ever stand frightened, trembling, looking down into which you will never be going? Lift up your eyes across to the hills and above to the Lord who made the heavens and the earth, whence cometh your help.

In his hand are the deep places of the earth; The strength of the hills is his also. Ps. 95:4

PRAYER:
"Our God, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Be Thou our guide while life shall last,
And our eternal home. Amen."—Isaac Watts

40 YEARS AGO — MAY 11, 1917

Dr. E. W. Sawyer has tendered his resignation to the School Board, urging that it be accepted as it is his intention to go to Woodstock, Ontario, where he has been given an appointment to the teaching staff of the Baptist College.

The appointment of secretary and accountant to the Fruit Union has been given to T. G. Beavis, now with the Summerland Supply Co.

The "old church" as the little building in the Church of England cemetery was known, is no more. During the process of burning the weeds about the building a strong wind suddenly sprang up from the south and the fire was quickly beyond control. It was but a matter of minutes when the old church building was in ashes. Everything was very dry, and if it had not been for the efforts of neighbors, the home of Mrs. Tullett could not have been saved. The church was built about 1899 when there were only a few settlers scattered around. Some of these were the Gartrells at Trout Creek, the Barclays on the Flat, the Dunsdons in Garnett Valley, E. R. Faulder, the two Fosberybrothers, and R. M. Turner at Upper Trout Creek. Some English money helped to erect the structure. Rev. Thomas Greene who still resides in Kelowna, came every fifth Sunday to hold a service.

10 YEARS AGO — MAY 8, 1947

At a special meeting of the municipal council on Monday night, a tax rate of 30 mills was set. This is not as high as had been anticipated earlier in the year. Two councillors were absent, F. E. Atkinson, who is in Ottawa, and H. Wilson who is at the coast.

Mrs. B. Criddle of Regina visited for a few days with her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Bissett.

Mrs. Swanson of Naicam, Sask., left last week after visiting here with Mr. and Mrs. F. Page.

HOW DID THE GAME OF LACROSSE GET ITS NAME?

The game was so-named by early French settlers because of a similarity between the curved, webbed sticks used by the players and a bishop's crozier, or "in crozzo." Said to be the oldest organized sport in America, lacrosse is Canadian in origin. A form of lacrosse, called baggataway, was played by Indians long before Europeans arrived. Although it has lost to hockey and football its former place as the most popular Canadian sport — it was referred to as Canada's National Game — lacrosse still is very popular in some parts of the country and in other lands. Practically all of the lacrosse sticks in use are made at the St. Regis Indian Reserve near Cornwall, Ontario.

WHAT IS THE ALLAN CUP? Since 1910, the Allan Cup has been emblematic of supremacy among Canadian amateur hockey teams. It was presented by Sir Hugh Montagu Allan, a Montreal ship owner and financier. Originally named Hugh Andrew, he assumed the name Montagu in place of Andrew to prevent confusion with his cousin. Also a noted sportsman, he was president of the Montreal Jockey Club and his horses won the Queen's Plate, the Montreal Hunt Club and many other trophies. He was Honorary Colonel of the Black Watch in Canada, and was knighted in 1904. He died in 1951.

CPR'S ELECTRIC GENIE
A giant, new 'electronic brain' with nerve endings in scores of cities, towns and hamlets across Canada has gone to work for the Canadian Pacific Railway. Key figures in the operation of the IBM 705 electronic 'genie', capable of producing answers to the most complicated problems in railway paper work, will be local agents who will feed information over the company's communications network from stations and yard offices across the CPR system. Upper left, Miss Dona Hunter operates a 'flexowriter' in the Toronto freight office which simultaneously reproduces a punched 'tape' carrying information which is transmitted to the Toronto 'data centre' along with data supplied by scores of similar operations. The 'data centre', similar in its function to the Winnipeg 'data centre' shown in the upper right, evaluates and processes this information and, if required, transmits it to the '705' installation in Montreal. Lower inset, M. T. Devlen, general supervisor of the CPR's integrated data procedure research, sits in at the operator's console of the '705'. Thus, the giant electronic brain is fed information from widely scattered points on the vast CPR system and results of the processing can be returned to the source by the same procedure.

Forty-one sat down to the anniversary meal where the tables were prettily arranged with spring flowers for the occasion. Mrs. W. C. McCutcheon and Mrs. Frank Young acted as convenors. They were assisted by Mrs. T. Fisher, Mrs. H. A. McCargar, Mrs. James Mitchell and Mrs. Eddie Lloyd.

Following dinner reminiscences of World War 1 and World War II were exchanged as the veterans thought of this and that historic event.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Francis Martin

Martin - Uytterhagen Rite A Pretty Spring Ceremony

The altar was decorated with spring flowers, and the same flowers marked the pews in which relatives were seated for the wedding of Loretta Catherine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Uytterhagen to Edward Francis Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Martin, all of Summerland.

The ceremony was performed in the The Church of The Holy Child on Saturday, May 4, at 4 p.m., Father A. M. Meulenbergh, officiating.

Mr. Uytterhagen gave his daughter in marriage.

The lovely white wedding gown chosen by the bride was made of layers of net over satin in a strapless style. Over this a bolero with long lily pointed sleeves was posed with the litte collar embroidered with pearls. The chapel length net veil was embroidered and arranged in a pretty cap effect. The bride carried red roses and white carnations.

Miss Juanita Ketter was the bridesmaid and wore a charming semi-formal frock of blue net over satin, in strapless fashion with a bolero. Her flowers were red and white carnations.

Miss Beverley Dowds, as the maid of honor, was similarly gowned but in pink and carried red and white carnations. Both wore crown styled matching headdresses.

Miss Linda Ketter was the flower girl in a pretty yellow nylon dress with flowers the same as the other attendants.

Arthur Cyra was the best man and the ushers were Herb Blumhagen and Andrew Uytterhagen.

A reception was held in the IOOF Hall when 81 guests were present.

Streamers and white wedding bells suspended from the centre of the hall made dainty decorations and a three-tiered wedding cake centred the bride's table.

K. Heales proposed a toast to the bride with the groom replying. The best man gave a toast to the attendants.

Music was supplied by Marcel Bonthoux, W. Reid and Fred Gale.

For travelling by car to Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, the bride wore a beige duster over a smart pink dress and wore pink accessories.

The couple will make their home in West Summerland on their return.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. Blumhagen and Mr. and Mrs. Adam Frank of Oliver; Mr. and Mrs. Percy Thompson of Vancouver; Mrs. J. Suchon of Tacoma; and Mr. and Mrs. B. Suchon from Twisp, Washington.

BIRTHS

To Mr. and Mrs. H. Kuining on May 9, a daughter.

Hospital Tag Day Raises $247.20

Tag Day for the Summerland General Hospital on Saturday May 11, was well patronized.

Mrs. Earle Wilson, president of the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary, convened the day, and the sum of $247.20 was realized.

Tagging took place at West Summerland with door to door tagging in the Lower Town and in Trout Creek.

Helen Biernes Modelling School

Interesting news is that Miss Helen Biernes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Biernes, Trout Creek, is to be in the Okanagan taking registrations and telling about a modelling course and Charm School at Victoria. It is a registered trade school.

If enough girls are interested a course will be given in this Valley, another at Trill, and one at Nelson during the summer.

Mrs. F. E. Atkinson has returned from the coast where she attended an executive meeting of the auxiliaries' division of the BCHS, and plans were made for the October convention.

National Charm AND Modelling School

A representative will be interviewing and enrolling applicants for a course to be held in Penticton shortly.

Garden Tools for the Ladies

WHY? Because—

... we would like to sell enough of them to buy our Good Citizen of 1956 a pair of glasses. You see Mrs. Marjorie Vanderburgh, who writes a column in this paper last week did what the politicians are doing these days... she went out on a limb. Asked Mrs. Vanderburgh in her column: "why are all gardening tools designed for men?" She complained that they were too cumbersome for women to handle and suggested that designers should get busy and design garden tools for women.

Well, that surprised us, because Mrs. Vanderburgh is in our store almost every day of the week and there prominently displayed are just what Mrs. Vanderburgh was asking for. GARDEN TOOLS FOR WOMEN!

First Inning Jitters Costly

It only took the Summerland Macs one inning to get settled down, but that one inning, the first, proved fatal. Kelowna Orioles winning Sunday's ball game at the Athletic Park by a score of 4-1. The three-run edge was secured in a daffy first inning of passed balls and errors which Kelowna converted into three runs with two timely hits.

Otherwise it was a pitchers' duel all the way, with Les Schaeffer going the distance for Kelowna while young Don Cristante for the Macs pitched an outstanding game.

As it was, Summerland had too many men die on bases.

There was some spectacular fielding on either side and Kelowna's Bill Martino is still talking to himself over the sure-fire home run he clouted, except for the fact that Bob Parker did a back flip over the left field fence and snaffled the ball.

Doug Weeks scored Summerland's only run in the eighth. He got on with a neat double and then crossed home plate on George Taylor's single.

Summerland's Junior Red Sox Lead League

The Summerland Junior Red Sox picked up their second win in as many starts on Sunday at Penticton to take over the top spot in the South Okanagan Junior baseball league.

The Red Sox started the game with a bang, scoring a run in the 1st inning. McNabb doubled and scored on Biollo's single. They got two more in the third, Fisher got on with a walk, Matson singled and McNabb drove them both on with his second double of the game to make the score 3-0. In the bottom of the 3rd, Summerland's starting pitcher, Ron Fisher weakened, allowing three hits, one walk to score one run. He was relieved by Carlton Sheeley who walked the first man to face him, forcing in the second Penticton run. They could not score again for the rest of the game.

Summerland added to their lead with a couple of runs in the 7th. Lemke singled, Bob Sheeley, pinch hitting for Parker, hit the fence in left field, followed by a single by Carlton Sheeley to drive in the two runs. Tom Campbell stole home in the 8th to end the scoring with the Red Sox on top by a 6-2 score.

Learned His Ball In Summerland

A pitching arm developed on Summerland's sand lots is paving the way to a baseball career for Raymond Scott, who learned his baseball in this community.

Ray Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Scott, Summerland, is now facing a 130 league game schedule on the pitching staff of the Stockton, California, baseball team.

Ray played in pee wee and junior ball in Summerland says Joe Sheeley, although he showed better than as a short stop than as a pitcher. Some seasons back Ray moved to Terrace and blossomed out as pitcher, good enough to get his try out with Stockton this season and the last word, he's made it, into class "C" company.

Bowling News

By GLENN FELL

"Never underestimate the power of a woman." This famous quotation serves very nicely as an introduction to this column. Joan Zimmerman and Eileen Fell took the honors at this week's session of the new 10-pin league. Joan bowled a 187 for the high single and Eileen bowled a 482 for the high three. Congratulations ladies, I'll bet the men will be out to redeem themselves next week.

Although this next item involves myself I must mention that I added another "300" to my credit this week. More news, views and comments next week!

Junior Baseballers Make Home Debut Here on Sunday

Summerland Red Sox, hope to continue their winning ways in the South Okanagan junior baseball league here next Sunday when they tangle with the Penticton Juniors.

This is the first home game for the Summerland Juniors. They are playing heads up ball as testified to by their two convincing wins, which gives them the league leadership.

Game time is 2:30 p.m.

Fishing Notes

Okanagan Lake-fair, a few nice ones up to two pounds have been caught. Should be getting better from now on.

Agur Lake has been very good and at times very bad but that is characteristic of the lake. Road fair.

Fish Lake Camp, some fair fishing at Fish Lake and all upper lakes of this camp open for business.

Silven Lake, some good catches here last week.

Peachland Dam, open but no reports.

Headwaters Camp, only one report this week but should come on O.K.

Shannon Lake, nice bass lake and some good catches.

Reports show most lakes around Vernon, Kelowna and Kamloops open and fish being caught. Most camps booked up for the May 24th week end so I suggest checking before taking off to any established camp; there might not be boats nor accommodations left.

The Farm Labour Office is now open in premises next to Lockwood Real Estate. Kindly co-operate by estimating your needs for orchard help and advising as to accommodation available as early as possible.

Peachland Notes

Mrs. S. E. Gummow, Superintendent of British Columbia Women's Institutes, formerly a resident of Peachland, now residing in Victoria, was visiting here this week.

The W.I. held a tea at the home of Mrs. W. Miller in honor of Mrs. Gummow, who spoke briefly of her trip to Ceylon, which will take her around the world.

A very delightful tea was served.

On Thursday eight women from Peachland motored to Oyma to attend the South Okanagan and Similkameen District Women's Institute Rally, which was held in the community hall.

It was voted to be one of the best rallies held in the district.

Tom Redstone and Les Fulks had a very successful fishing trip at Silver Lake on Saturday.

The Girl Guides and Brownies held a sale of home cooking and tea, in the Church basement on Friday, May 5, which was very successful.

The ladies of the Anglican Church held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Ivor Jackson. There were 13 ladies present, with the president, Mrs. Mary Smith, in the chair. The principal business was discussion on carpeting the altar, and making the necessary arrangements. The special collection taken at this meeting was given the Girl Guides. Tea was served by the hostess.

EMPERESS OF ENGLAND: The Canadian Pacific's new 25,500-ton "Empress of England" sails past Quebec City with one of the ancient capital's most famous landmarks, the Chateau Frontenac Hotel, in the background. The white-hulled liner completed her maiden voyage from Liverpool to Montreal recently. Constructed with its sister ship, the "Empress of Britain," at a combined cost of $35,000,000, the "Empress of England" is one of the most modern ships afloat and is completely air-conditioned. The Empress of Britain, England, Scotland and France will make a total of 44 calls at Montreal during the season and provide accommodation for more than 75,000 travellers. The "Empress of England," with a service speed of 21 knots, has space for 150 first class passengers and 900 tourists.

SUMMERLAND'S HOSPITAL

This is Hospital Week and this page is a reminder of the excellent hospital we have in Summerland.

The first Summerland Hospital was built at the bottom of Gulch Road. This soon proved to be too small and a larger hospital was built in 1914. This was destroyed by fire in 1919. The new hospital was finished in 1921. In the meantime a temporary hospital was set up in the Felix Hotel on Shaughnessy Ave. The new wing and nurses' residence was built in 1947.

Total capacity of the hospital is now 30 beds and four bassinets with an operating room and case room. There is a well equipped X-ray department with a radiologist visiting one day each week.

The nursery has an Armstrong baby incubator fitted with oxygen-limiting valve.

Other special services available at the Summerland Hospital include anaesthesia, basal metabolism tests, electrocardiography, laboratory, therapy, inducto-thermo-therapy, infra-red therapy.

Blood service is given through the Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service for which no charge is made to the patients.

There were 2173 tests made in the hospital laboratory during 1956, and 1180 films were read in the X-ray Department.

The hospital is owned by the Summerland Hospital Society and operated as a public hospital in accordance with the Hospital Act of British Columbia. Membership in the Society is open to any citizen of the district paying an annual membership of one dollar. The annual meeting of the society is held during the month of February when a board of directors or trustees is elected consisting of nine members. A representative is also appointed by the provincial government, municipal council and the ladies' hospital auxiliary, which works very hard raising money to purchase equipment, etc., as and when required.

growers are not enjoying this prosperity, but," said the speaker, "I hope that before the apricot crop is ready for market that increased protection will be given against unloading of American cots at the end of the U.S. season."

Dr. Butler cited the building of a $200,000 soils laboratory at the Summerland Experimental Farm as indicative of the federal government's interest in bettering the fruit industry and he also remarked that Kenyon and Co. had won the contract, although the head of the firm was the CCF candidates campaign manager. "Just an instance of the fairness of the Liberals," Mr. Butler said.

The young candidate then went on to say that if he was elected he would attempt to bring a PFRA project to the province and he stated flatly that unless such a project was underway within a year, he would resign his seat.

In summing up, Dr. Butler said there seems to be no doubt that the Liberals are going to go back, even our opponents concede it, and so, we who speak for the liberal party must speak with the responsibility of office.

He urged his listeners to divorce provincial politics from the national election. Let us keep this national unity party in office and not get into splintering splinter groups," he concluded.

JONES (Continued)
"I'm sorry," said Mr. Jones drily, "to see Mr. Butler stick his neck out."

The same applies to some statements by Mr. Christian, continued the speaker. The federal government cannot step into agriculture any more than the provinces can go to Ottawa and interfere with the Army or Navy. Mr. Jones reviewed the many things he had secured for his riding.

"I have been a member for nine years and it seems I seldom get credit.

I was only recently amazed to hear the liberals claim credit for the post office changes which I secured for Summerland.

"I challenge the statement of the Liberals that if we get a Liberal member we'll get more for this riding. A rubber stamp back benchers is told to shut up out they have to listen to the opposition."

Mr. Jones went on to list some of the things he had secured for this province including, over the past few years, $5,000,000 in aid to growers. Millions spent on flood control. New custom house at Osoyoos, opening of customs at Nighthawk. Federal grants for health centres, hospital grants.

He had brought to the attention of government the need for expanded facilities at the experimental farm. Single handedly fought for and secured five CBC booster stations and had been promised another for Summerland, which was on the priority list.

More than a quarter of a million spent on postal buildings in this riding and assistance for airports.

Mr. Jones didn't round out his address, as he was overtime.

ernment of Canada to exercise three statutes of Federal responsibility, long term loans at reasonable interest rates, revision of the anti-dumping regulations in the matter of fruit and vegetables and retention of freight assistance of feed grains for livestock and poultry.

If I was running an orchard I would sell my fruit on the roadside rather than take the returns growers are getting, Mr. Christian declared.

The speaker stated that public men are required to fight for Canadian fruit and vegetable producers. He charged the Liberal Government for allowing about $90,000,000 in fresh fruits and vegetables coming into Canada in a nine month period ending September, 1956, while only about $14,000,000 of these products went out of the country for the same period.

Mrs. Christian said freight rates on stone fruits in the United States are only about one-half of what they are in Canada. There is something radically wrong the speaker said and the Liberals have broken faith, particularly with the farmers in the Okanagan Boundary area.

Pointing to Social Credit in Alberta and B.C., Mr. Christian said, "such a record deserves an honorable place in the government of this great country."

"No business stands still it must either go forward or backward. But the Liberals are not concerned. Particularly they are not concerned with the west; for them B.C. does not exist. The Liberal party is drunk with power and is run by a handful of men such as C. D. Howe," end kids of the Canadian economy. He added, "It isn't only the grower — every member of our community has his interests bound up with the grower and we're all feeling the pinch because of his poor position."

PUGH (Continued)
Mr. Pugh praised the brief for the industry presented to the Liberal government by The Canadian Horticultural Council. Mr. Pugh said, "The Conservative Party stands on all fours with this brief and will see that legislation is passed giving protection, and stopping dumping of American fruits and vegetables. The greatest measure of protection it ever had when the late Mr. Grote Stirling was your Conservative member for this riding and the government of the day was Conservative. We'll do it again under Diefenbaker. We will fight for stability in farming and a fair return to the farmer, a fair deal in line with the rest of Canada's booming economy."

Returning to his platform Mr. Pugh stated "That the Conservative party are pledged to further aid agriculture by way of long term low interest loans to growers who have suffered disaster through tree killing frosts and those needing rehabilitation.

Further, we will see the cattlemen and poultrymen will be able to purchase feed grains at competitive prices. We are now paying well over twice as much as in Alberta to the detriment of our cattle ranchers and poultrymen. And further, we will extend the provisions of the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act to B.C. so that Federal assistance will be available for irrigation, flood control and reclamation projects to guard against the hazards of drought and flood, and make more land productive for agricultural purposes.

Lumbering in the riding was explained. As our main market is American, we suffer in competition with our American counterpart to the immediate south through exchange and freight rates. Our American competition has a benefit running sometimes as high as 15 per cent.

New Ventilation In the Auditorium

The five stacks on the roof of the high school auditorium are part of the ventilating system being installed under Campbell Bros. contract for the addition to the school. Pacific Pipe and Flume Co., Penticton, who have a sub-contract, are doing the ventilating work.

Grills are being put in the ceiling of the auditorium with electrically operated fans to carry the air off to the outlets in the roof.

Monday All Day Closing Favored By Retailers Here

Municipal Council will be requested to pass a bylaw authorizing all day Monday closing of retail stores in Summerland, to take effect on July 1. Present closing day is Wednesday.

Monday closing found favor with the retail Merchants Association at a breakfast meeting held last Friday in the Nu-Way Cafe. The retail merchants also went on record as favoring Saturday night opening until 9 p.m. and store hours, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Some opposition to the all day closing was expressed on the grounds that the public needed to be served and the same stores needed extra hours to make a go of it.

The meeting and change in Summerland store hours was occasioned by the new provincial Municipal Act which provides for a maximum of a five-and-a-half day week, except during the months of July and August when, presumably to accommodate the tourist trade, stores may remain open until 6 p.m. The act also provides for a local bylaw permitting opening until 9 p.m. Friday night or on any other alternative day specified by the local bylaw.

Exemptions under a bylaw can be made in the case of garages, service stations, and stores selling confectionery products, drugs, fresh fruits, fresh vegetables, soft drinks, dairy produce, bakery produce, and florists.

Enthusiasm for Enderby Pool

G. Hallquist spoke at last week's council meeting about a trip he and Cecil Wade took to Enderby to see the wading and swimming pools constructed there by the Lions' Club of that city.

Mr. Hallquist was enthusiastic about the work done and suggested that members of the council and of the Centennial committee go to see the projects.

It was arranged that Councilor W. B. Powell, representative to the Recreation Commission, and others make a trip to Enderby for the purpose.

Mr. Hallquist thought that a wading pool along similar lines might be built here as the Centennial project.

O.L. Jones, Erhart Regier Not Enamoured Of Liberals

(The CCF party is the only party owned by the people. Imperial Oil and other big business concerns own the other three, and they don't care which is in.") It was thus that Erhart Regier, former CCF federal member for Burnaby-Coquit-lam concluded an hour long address last night at the IOOF hall, speaking in support of Owen L. Jones, who is seeking re-election for a third term as the CCF member for Okanagan Boundary.

Mr. Regier delivered a fighting speech that held the undivided attention of the 40 listeners from first to last.

The speaker told his audience it was good business to elect an opposition member. "Opposition members are the finest type of member to have if you want something for your riding."

Mr. Regier contended that the government's own supporters have to keep their mouths shut and sometimes when necessary must say nice words about the ministers who refuse their requests, whereas the government is afraid of arousing opposition members and will grant them any reasonable request.

The speaker paid tribute to Mr. Jones as a conscientious and forceful member. "No cabinet minister will leave the house when Mr. Jones is speaking," Mr. Regier declared.

Plunging into his attack on the government the speaker said the Liberals claimed credit for good times and progress in Canada.

"But they don't tell you that in almost every country in the free world the standard of living has been improved."

"They don't tell you that while here in Canada we are going to give our old age pensions $48 that in West Germany they are giving their aged citizens what in comparison to the cost of living is $200 a month."

"They don't tell you that in rocky, stony Norway any lad can attend university at no cost and continue as long as he is getting benefit from it."

"They don't tell you that in West Germany last year they built more houses in that one year than Canada built in five years."

"There is less unity in Canada today than there has been since 1867," Mr. Regier asserted. "We couldn't get a BNA Act passed today. There is more ill-feeling than at anytime since 1867 and this can be laid at the door of the Liberals. Mackenzie King started it with his divide and rule policy and that policy has been continued."

But thinks Mr. Regier, the policy could boomerang and the Liberals could find themselves isolated in Quebec.

Tiring to the promises of other parties, Mr. Regier said they may rant about paying $100 a month pensions but they don't tell you how it can be accomplished, but he claimed the CCF does and went on to argue (Continued on Page 8)

According To The Mood

By Sid Godber

Dunno how true it is, but I'm told that a couple of former Conservatives wooed away by Social Credit returned to the Conservative fold after listening to John Diefenbaker speak his piece in Penticton the other night. I don't doubt it, not one little bit. The Progressive Conservative party leader was in high gear — t-t-t-errific. Newsmen who have crossed Canada with him and heard him deliver 57 speeches say his Penticton effort was the best yet.

Diefenbaker outdrew the Hon. Lester B. Pearson by better than 200 — but both men should have commanded more attention, they should have had tremendous overflow crowds.

Diefenbaker was by far the more colorful, but he, of course, was making an all out fighting election speech and the other seemed to keep as far away from the election as he could. But there was plenty of good solid sustenance to be derived from both meetings.

I still don't go along with this crucifying of the Liberals' big majority. Big it is, or rather was, but who made it that way — why the people — the people, who, the politicians of all parties tell us, are supreme — we the people, they say, are the bosses — so we the people gave the Liberals a big majority — here in B.C. provincially we gave the Social Crediters a big majority — so what, — That is the way the majority of people wanted it, if they didn't they wouldn't have voted that way.

So, why attack the back benchers, or the cabinet for accepting and using the steamroller placed at their disposal by the people?

I'm sure that John Diefenbaker (witness B.C. Premier W. A. C. Bennett), wouldn't do any moaning about an outside majority if the people inclined to give it to him. And John Diefenbaker would expect the same loyalty from his back benchers as the Liberal leadership and our provincial Social Credit leadership expects from theirs.

But, anyway, the CCF says there's nothing to choose between the three parties, Progressive Conservative, Social Credit and Liberal. Erhart Regier, CCFer and former member for Burnaby-Coquitlam, says they belong to the big corporations and that the big corporations don't care which is in power.

Incidentally, that same Mr. Regier is quite a man. He is undoubtedly sincere, he certainly knows his subject and no one listening to him would question his I.Q. In fact Mr. Regier, a comparative young man, would not have suffered by comparison if he had been speaking from the same platform with Mr. Pearson and Mr. Diefenbaker.

It's a good election, some good issues and some good men to expound them. I think the Liberals were lucky the Conservatives didn't plump for John Diefenbaker a few years back when he made his first bid for leadership. I've a hunch that John Diefenbaker will eventually lead the Conservatives out of the wilderness — for, sooner or later, but not this June 10, the people are going to say to the Liberals what Cromwell, I think it was said to the Rump Parliament. "You have sat here too long — in God's name go."

And there's the printer telling me I'm writing too long — so — jeppers more political meetings this week — Social Credit's Frank Christian at the IOOF Hall Thursday. The silence is going to be painful after June 10.

DR. A. W. VANDERBURGH

Last Respects Paid To A Good Citizen

Residents of Summerland paid impressive tribute to the memory of the late Dr. Alfred W. Vanderburgh, Tuesday afternoon at one of the largest funerals ever held here.

Dr. Vanderburgh died in Summerland hospital Saturday afternoon at the age of 64, following a long illness.

The doctor is survived by his wife; one daughter, Mrs. D. R. Walker of North Vancouver; a son, John O. Oliver; a brother, H. R. Vanderburgh of Summerland, and a sister, Mrs. E. M. Nesbitt, Vancouver.

Funeral services were held in the Summerland Baptist Church, the Rev. Lyle Kennedy officiating. Interment was made in the family plot at the Peach Orchard Cemetery, with the Rose-lawn Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

White uniformed nurses led by the Matron of the Summerland Hospital, Mrs. J. R. Butler, carried the floral tributes from the church.

Pallbearers were R. C. Fredrickson, J. W. Miller and George Forster, all of Summerland; D. R. Walker, North Vancouver, G. J. Yong, Vancouver, and Dr. J. R. Graham of Salmon Arm.

A pioneer resident of Summerland, Dr. Vanderburgh gave much to this community during his 43 years of residence here, a contribution which was officially recognized when he was honored with the title of Summerland's Good Citizen of 1951.

Dr. Vanderburgh gave much for the children of this community, but although he specialized to some extent in children's work he remained in every sense of the word a family doctor, a familiar figure carrying the traditional black bag, abroad at all hours and in all weather, giving, in fact, beyond his strength, to the task to which he was dedicated.

Born in Ontario, Dr. Vanderburgh came west with his parents to Summerland in 1913. At the outbreak of war in 1914 he joined the RCAMC and went overseas before transferring to the Royal Air Force.

Always a sportsman and a keen baseball player and in later years an enthusiastic baseball fan, Dr. Vanderburgh ranked high in the sport and while overseas pitched for an all Canadian team against the Americans in a game played at the MCC cricket grounds before the King and Queen.

Baseball was one of the doctor's abiding interests. He was an outstanding pitcher and old-timers remember the games he pitched on the "campus" at Crescent Beach. His interest in ball never faded and even this season he was on hand to see the Maas play.

Dr. Vanderburgh graduated as a bachelor of medicine at the Toronto University after returning from World War One and then returned to Summerland to relieve Dr. F. W. Andrew in the year 1925. And then except for the war years, up to his retirement he served this community as a doctor and a good citizen.

During the Second World War Dr. Vanderburgh joined the services, this time as a medical officer in the RCAF and there are many pilots of the RCAF who have cause to remember his name, pilots and other air crew who would have "washed out" but for their Medical Officer's keen insight and sympathetic understanding of their problems.

New Appointment By School Board

Miss Jean Parmley of Penticton, who is graduating this spring from UBC with the degree of Bachelor of Home Economics has been appointed by Summerland School Board to the new home economics position. With the addition to the high school two home economics teachers will be employed and the school will be able to give a full course in home economics.

Gorden E. Mundle, a 1957 graduate of UBC in physical education has been appointed to teach physical education and other subjects. Mr. Mundle is a baseball and hockey player. A third appointment is that of P. W. Minchin for boys' counselling and other subjects. Mr. Minchin has been vice-principal of the Similkameen junior-senior high school at Keremeos for the past four years.

Accounts in the amount of $38,195.43 were passed at last week's council meeting.

ST. STEPHEN'S PARTY MOVES TO MEMORIAL PARK

At last week's council meeting, St. Stephen's Evening Branch WA requested the use of the Memorial Park at West Summerland for their annual Garden Party in July. This was referred to the Parks' Board with the council's approval.

The grounds around the Anglican Parish Hall have been planted recently and would not be ready for garden party use in July.

Editorials

WEDNESDAY, MAY TWENTY SECOND, NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY SEVEN

A Truly Christian Gentleman

This community bowed its head in deep sorrow yesterday, sorrow at the passing of one who, for more than 40 years, except during the times when called to the larger service of his country, gave unstintingly of his time, and his talents to the betterment of the community and in alleviating, as a physician, the sufferings to which humanity is prone.

But, although we mourn the passing of Dr. A. W. Vanderburgh, and extend our deepest sympathy to those near and dear to him, who have suffered an irreparable loss, it is not for us to begrudge the Doctor his release from a bed of pain.

A truly Christian gentleman, Dr. Vanderburgh did not amass, nor did he aspire to amass worldly goods.

He was content in his profession, content in his role as family physician and his skilled services were available at all times to all who needed them and oftentimes without question of fee.

In 1951 his worth was officially recognized by the community when he was named Summerland's Good Citizen for that year. But high though the honor, he built his own true monument in the minds and hearts of the men and women and the children whom he served.

Dr. A. W. Vanderburgh will not soon be forgotten. He has left his mark in Summerland the mark of a Christian gentleman and we of Summerland are infinitely richer because of the more than forty years Dr. Vanderburgh spent in this community.

We know, beyond doubt, that he rests in peace.

SUMMERLAND REVIEW - West Summerland, B.C.

Clarifying An Issue

We Hope

In view of confusing claim and counter claim being made by Okanagan-Boundary riding candidates in relation to PFRA, the following editorial taken from the Kelowna Courier should be of considerable interest to the bemused voter.

The Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act and its possible application in British Columbia has become one of the most controversial points of the federal election campaign in this constituency in particular. Liberal Candidate Butler has publicly stated that if he is elected and the PFRA is not made applicable to B.C. within the year, he will resign his seat. The former member, CCF Candidate O. L. Jones, says Dr. Butler knows not whereof he talks because the matter of agriculture is a provincial matter and the federal government will not come into this province until it is invited to do so by the provincial government and to get this, Dr. Butler would have to become a Social Creditor.

In our opinion both candidates were a bit "off the beam" or, at best, were talking loosely. Dr. Butler, we think erred in two small points. He should not have talked about "PFA" and he should have set a little longer time limit. Both these mistakes probably came from inexperience.

The position of Mr. Jones is somewhat more difficult to understand. He sat in the House of Commons and presumably is aware of what goes on and yet, in attacking Dr. Butler, he failed to tell the whole story.

The Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act was passed in 1935 to enable the federal government to assist the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan in soil conservation, drainage, irrigation and other similar problems in a large triangle were taken into the scheme.

But the PFRA has never been operative in B.C. or, we believe, in any other than the two prairie provinces. Following the war, Parliament passed legislation providing for federal assistance to B.C. in co-operation with the provincial government in the development of certain projects such as irrigation, flood control, drainage, dyking, etc. The VLA development, Lakeview Heights, just across the lake is one such. There were others at Penticton, Pemberton and Cawston. These were carried out not by the PFRA but by PFRA personnel loaned to other departments for this work.

The crux of the whole matter is that the PFRA was not involved. The financial assistance came from a special piece of legislation and, while it is true PFRA engineers carried the bulk of the work, the PFRA department had no responsibility whatsoever. This condition existed in provinces other than Alberta and Saskatchewan; PFRA department loaned personnel to work on projects being developed through special legislation.

In recent years there has been considerable extension of the benefits of PFRA to other provinces. This led the government about a year ago to ask the Senate to appoint a committee to investigate the desirability of establishing and suggesting a general form of a national soil usage policy. This Senate committee made an interim report during the recent session and was instructed to carry on its work with all possible speed. This committee, or sub-committees, will visit every province in order that any specific problem concerning soil usage in any province will be given consideration. It is now generally taken for granted that the present government's policy is to develop a national soil usage plan and make it applicable to every province.

Such application however, will not be under the limited PFRA department but under a department with much broader scope.

It is to this, we assume, that Dr. Butler was referring when he expressed himself so confidently on the subject of PFRA. If our information is correct, there is little chance indeed for the PFRA to become applicable to B.C. However there is a very, very strong probability that some other agency, functioning on a broader base than does the PFRA, will meet the needs of this province in such matters as the PFRA now covers in the Alberta-Saskatchewan triangle. These things are not secret; they were discussed in Parliament and reported in Hansard. Mr. Jones would have been on more solid political ground had he stated frankly that it is more than probable that a national soil usage policy, embracing such things as irrigation, flood control, drainage and other such matters, will be adopted very shortly and become effective in this province, as in others.

Pioneer Days

40 YEARS AGO — May 25, 1917

The turning down of the Board of Trade's petition for the adoption of daylight saving and the reasons for so doing, as given by the Municipal Council provoked much criticism at the Board of Trade meeting. Dr. Andrew said this is an agricultural district, and if daylight saving is of benefit to the fruit growers, he would like to see it again considered. John Tait stated that there were between 70 and 80 express shippers in the district that would be greatly benefitted by the plan.

Accommodation for the gathering of letters in the early morning so that they may be mailed on the boat, and a better weekend mail service from the Upper Town postoffice were two of the subjects dealt with at the Board of Trade meeting Tuesday evening in the board rooms.

Householders will be much disappointed in learning that the Wednesday morning electric current is to be discontinued. There are a good many who have put in electric irons, some of whom have using them all through the winter, and all have been hoping to be able to have the current when it is most needed, during the hot summer months.

10 YEARS AGO — May 22, 1947

Seasonal floral decorations provided a lovely setting for the ceremony held in St. Andrew's United Church, West Summerland, on the evening of May 19, which united in marriage Isobel Patricia Atkinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Atkinson, and Allan Walter Jensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Jensen, Vancouver.

Ralph Downing whose home is in Vernon, and who has been a student at UBC, has joined Dr. Marshall's staff at the Entomology Laboratory, while David McIntosh and John Wilkes, also UBC students, have joined the staff of the Plant Pathology Laboratory.

President A. Calvert, Lorne Perry and A. Watt were delegates to the Canadian Legion convention held in Vernon last week.

Among those present at Marilyn Embree's sixth birthday party at her home in Trout Creek on May 15 were Linda and Dennis Beeman, Arlene Embree, Lowell Laidlaw, Mayne McCutcheon, Donnie Tait, Dennis Bonthoux, Richard and Tommy Milne, Warren Parker and Ronald Embree.

Mid-Week Message

SHOWING UP THE OLD

THOUGHT FOR TODAY: Draw nigh to God and he will draw nigh to you. Cleanse your hands, ye sinners; and purify your hearts, ye double minded. James 4:8.

Have you ever noticed how one new article of furniture in a room makes everything else seem shabby by contrast? The old chair may still be comfortable, but it looks dingy now.

Springtime is a time of new things—new outlook, new purposes, new opportunities. As we get these new things they should make us dissatisfied with some of the old things—with threadbare thinking, with shoddy ideals, with outgrown expectations of ourselves, with old jealousies and fears. In your "design for living" in the springtime be sure to renew as many things inside your mind and spirit as possible.

Perhaps you should take an inventory. Remember to consult the record frequently during the year, to see whether you are becoming richer or poorer. Some persons call this a "personality program" or a "character progress chart" They list positive qualities on one side—interests, ability to deal with others, tested habits. The other side should be made up just as honestly, showing those things which are known to make one poorer—envious thoughts, sarcastic speech, unreasonable temper.

This year with its new opportunity might be a time to make yourself over under Christ's guidance and by the inspiration of his example.

PRAYER: Our Father, whose mercies are new every morning, remind us by thy providence that our spirits must grow continuously if we are to be thy children. May we use this day, this year, as a part of thy eternity. Amen.

Socred Candidate Stresses Farm Problems

Frank C. Christian, Social Credit Candidate, speaking in Rutland, Tuesday evening before a large audience dealt at great length with the problems of the farmers. He placed stress on Canada's unfavorable balance of trade of one billion two hundred million and cited statistics showing the gradual reduction by the Liberal administration of tariffs since 1935 with particular reference to fruits and vegetables. The speaker pointed out that improvement and upgrading of tariff legislation, while not the complete answer would be helpful to the farmer. He deplored any suggestions that B.C. should be a dumping ground for fruit and vegetables from the United States and said that the farmers in the area should not be the victims with respect to the severity of competition from imports as they are at present. The speaker pointed out that the Canadian farmer must receive a fair share of the national income if this country is to prosper and that he deserves fair prices for his products. Social Credit will provide parity prices and at the same time it will see to it that surplus farm commodities are sold to countries requiring them. He charged the Liberals had broken faith with the farmer and stated during the 20 years of their regime they let the farmer down badly. The liberals sat idly by and did nothing to help the farmer. Social Credit has provided good government and has and is getting the people results in the management of their affairs. Mr. Christian thought it wise to wait the outcome of the McPhee Commission and the anticipated action of the Social Credit Government as to his recommendations rather than to form any conclusions at this time. Mr. Christian charged that the Liberals will lose many thousands of votes because of their disgraceful attitude on old age pensions. He stated that a basic Federal Pension of $60.00 a month would cost the country $140 million dollars, while on the other hand the government voted $100 million for culture and of the two matters, he thought old age pensions the more important.

In regard to Income Tax laws, the speaker stated the statutory or basic exemptions were obsolete and should be enlarged. Social Credit he said advocates immediate reductions in income tax, and as a first step, the basic exemptions should be increased by fifty per cent to give single persons a $1500 exemption and married couples $3,000, and the allowances in respect to children should be revised upwards as well. Mr. Christian dealt with the matter of housing. The Social Credit movement he stated, advocates the immediate removal of pressures that are stifling home construction, the introduction of measures that will make adequate homes readily available to all income groups, low interest mortgage loans with the granting of income tax exemption on interest paid on basic mortgages, on owner occupied homes. Mr. Christian dealt with tight money and said it was a threat to our economy and a dangerous precedent. Those who suffer he said are the farmer, the manufacturer, the exporter, municipalities, home construction and tourist industries and men and women generally. As regards the grain farmer, he said, his grain crop is sold largely on foreign markets and he is now receiving nine cents a bushel less for his wheat because of the Canadian dollar premium. Lastly the speaker spoke on the matter of Senate reform. In 1956 he said it consisted of 83 members, 47 per cent of whom were over 70 years of age. Also he mentioned in British Columbia and Alberta, both with Social Credit governments and representing 16 per cent of the total Canadian population, they do not have a single Social Credit party member appointed to the Senate. In the opinion of Mr. Christian Senate seats should be re-allocated on the basis of population and political representation in the Lower House, there should be a limited tenure of office for all persons appointed to the Senate and appointments should be made of younger men and women who can act and think clearly in terms of modern Canadian life.

Hardy Framework for Apple Trees In British Columbia Recommended

Fruit growing in British Columbia is confronted by many hazards, probably the most important of which is low winter temperature. During the history of fruit growing in B.C. severe winters have occurred approximately every seven years. However serious injury has not always occurred in these winters because of good maturity of trees in the fall, time of the freeze and extent of snow coverage.

The killing of hundreds of thousands of young trees in B.C. mostly apples and cherries, during the November 11 to 18, 1955 freeze has convinced growers that they must protect future plantings of tender varieties of apples such as Winesap, Rome and Spartan by the use of hardy framework stocks.

Present hardy framework recommendations of the Fruit Varieties Committee of the Okanagan Agricultural Club are as follows, reports G. M. Weiss, from Summerland Experimental Farm: "In view of the serious trunk and framework injury in tender apple varieties as a result of recurrent winter freezes TENDER VARIETIES of apples i.e. Winesap, Delicious, Newton, Stayman, Rome and Spartan, in all areas be grown on a hardy intermediate stock, and that McIntosh in particular is recommended for this purpose owing to its availability, compatibility, strong framework and proven performance. In colder areas, frameworks such as Canada Baldwin, Antonovka and Haralson are preferred. Canada Baldwin, however, is very susceptible to collar rot and should only be used if other hardy frameworks are not available. If it is used it should be budded high on a hardy rootstock of known parentage."

Canada Baldwin has for many years been the recommended framework stock for cold areas but has the drawback of being susceptible to crown rot and must be budded high to a hardy rootstock. On the other hand, limited inoculation tests have shown Haralson resistant to crown rot. The plantings of Haralson at the Coldstream Ranch are the only extensive tests of that variety in the Okanagan, but Dr. A. N. Wilcox, of the Minnesota Agricultural Experimental Station states that the variety has been used successfully as a framework stock in his area but may make a somewhat smaller tree than the average.

Antonovka is widely used in colder parts of Europe, has proven hardy in limited local trials and is resistant to crown rot. The crotches tend to be rather narrow but are very strong. This variety is considered to be worthy of extensive trial as a hardy framework stock for apples in B.C.

McIntosh gave satisfactory trunk and crown protection except in the extremely cold areas of the Valley. Since propagating wood is readily available this variety will probably be the most popular hardy framework stock for all areas south of Vernon.

Mrs. Gardner was born at Cowes and Mr. Gardner at Ryde. After they were married, they came to Canada and resided in Winnipeg where Mr. Gardner worked for the Iron Works. He worked there up until 10 years ago when he retired after 40 years of service, which is in itself something to hold an anniversary about.

The Gardners have owned the place where they now live for 11 years but only came to reside here five years ago. Their son, Lieutenant-Colonel A. E. Gardner and family lived on the residence before moving east several years ago. They have two daughters, Mrs. Gordon Wittaker who lives here in Summerland and Mrs. Norman Wait who lives in London, England.

Mr. Gardner has one brother and four sisters, all living in England and Mrs. Gardner has a brother living in Montreal and a sister in Brockton, Ontario.

Macs Tie Kelowna 9-9 in Thriller

KELOWNA — Last Wednesday night the Elks Stadium saw the first twilight ball game this season, and it was a thriller from the word "o", with the Summerland Macs tying the league-leading Kelowna Orioles after nine thrilling innings of ball.

Umpire for the match was crotchety Gus MacDonald, and it was his close call on a play at home plate when Orioles' field general Johnny Culos slid under the cupped hands of Ollie Egely that made the difference between the tie and a win for the league leaders.

Five home runs were blasted out in the thriller, with Orioles' Red Graf earning two of them, and big Greg Jablonski one.

Spine-chilling circuit clout was the effort by George Parker, the startling young left fielder who robbed Kelowna's Bill Martino of two in their Sunday game when he knocked out a grand slam homer in the seventh, and sparked a Macs come-back.

SIX FRAMES
Bob Radies started for the Orioles and went six full innings before he got into trouble. Bill Martino took over from him, but had to relinquish the chores to Les Schaefer, who pitched the last 1½ frames.

The Macs started off with one run, and the Orioles came right back to tie it up and push the lead up to 6-1 by the seventh, sparked by two homers from the bat of Red Graf, and one from Jablonski.

In the seventh, Bud Inglesby bobbed Fred Kato's grounder to let Don Cristante come in, and the route was on. Radies walked the bases full, and Parker slammed out his circuit clout.

Weeks added another homer, and Bill Martino came in to replace Radies, retiring the side without further damage.

In the eighth, Martino walked Weitzel and Parker on, and Culos tried to nail Parker at first with one of his lightning pegs but Graf bobbed the ball, and the move started. Cec Favell recovered the ball and hurled it to Bud Inglesby at third, who had trouble handling it, and two runs came in, to make the score 9-6.

In the bottom of the eighth Graf singled on, and two went out swinging. Macs hurler, Al Hooker, passed Martino and walked Hromi Ito to fill the bases.

Culos poked out a beautiful hit to bring Graf and Ingelsby in, and Joe Kaiser banged it in with the tying run.

Less Schaefer could have won his own ball game when he singled, umpire MacDonald called Culos out at home, although some claim that Egely never came within a foot of tagging him.

Both pitchers held the opposing ball clubs down in the ninth in spite of the fact that the pill was becoming very elusive in the deep dusk, and the umpire called the game on account of darkness at 9-9.

The Summerland Junior Red Sox will make their long delayed home opening against the Naramata Juniors on Sunday afternoon at 2:30, in a regularly scheduled game.

Naramata has a team made up from last year's championship Babe Ruth team. They have good fielding and a very good pitcher in Kozak. At the present they are in second place in league standings.

Summerland is holding first place and will be out to increase their lead. They have a well balanced team and for the first time in Red Sox history have a hard hitting team.

Bruce Lemke and Carlton Sheeley are doing a very nice job in the pitching department.

Sheeley will be starter on Sunday. He has a record of two wins and no losses, with 15 innings of scoreless ball to his credit.

Tom Campbell will do the catching, Larry Lemke is on 1st, Eddie Matson on 2nd, Martin Shannon on 3rd, Harold Biollo ss, with Hackman, McNabb, Bob Sheeley, DeWitt, Birtles and Parker in the outfield.

These boys will all be playing senior ball in a very few years. Come out and support them.

Scout Masters Reunion

Tuesday, May 14, was a historic date for scouting in Summerland when Mr. John Tait, who with the late Mr. Cliff Borton founded the troop in 1909, paid the troop a visit. In his remarks Mr. Tait observed that 1st Summerland was the third troop to be founded in British Columbia, just a year after scouting got organized in England. He recalled that the first scout group committee consisted of Dr. F. W. Andrew and the late Rev. A. H. Solly, Adam Stark, Rev. J. Hood and others.

The first meeting place was in the Empire Hall in lower town and there were 30 boys in the original troop. Shortly after meetings were held in the Ellison Hall, and later in the Okanagan College gym, now the Youth Centre.

Mr. Tait spoke of different camps held when he was Scoutmaster at Trout Creek Point, Crescent Beach, Miller's Point, etc. In looking over the troop he remarked that scouts looked just the same today as they did in 1909 except for some changes in uniform.

As many former Scoutmasters as could come were also present at this meeting. These consisted of Mr. Earl Wilson of Summerland, 19:6; Mr. Cecil Cope of Osoyoos, 1928; Mr. G. B. Blewett, 1945, and Mr. D. M. Munn, 1952. Congratulations were sent by wire by Mr. G. C. G. Flamank who was Scoutmaster in 1939.

Each of these leaders recalled some interesting experiences. It seems that some year ago the main activity at scout camps was killing rattle snakes which, apparently, were much more plentiful then than now.

Also present at the meeting there were a number of former scouts; Dr. W. H. B. Munn, Mr. Dennis Nield, Mr. Clarence Adams, Dr. J. Marshall, M. M. Munro, Mr. Al Lewes who recalled experiences when they were scouts. Some boys also brought their parents to the gathering. At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served by the Group Committee.

A Message to the Fruit and Vegetable Growers of Okanagan Boundary Riding

1957 is going to be a bumper crop, probably one of the largest this Valley has experienced. In past years, under a Liberal Government and similar conditions, the Fruit and Vegetable Growers have experienced an extreme hardship in collecting operating costs from the sale of their crops — and why — because this Valley needs realistic anti-dumping laws, to which the Liberals have continuously shut their eyes — Anti-dumping legislation which will prevent the indiscriminate dumping of fruits and vegetables on our markets.

The Conservatives do not advocate a High Tariff Wall, as is suggested by some parties, but an anti-dumping duty which will prevent the influx of fruits and vegetables into Canada, which will, if allowed to continue, wipe the Okanagan grower out of existence. The Conservatives have and will provide the protection that this Valley needs.

Fruit and Vegetable Growers, protect yourselves and your crops.

Good day! and as the rain patters down around us we wonder if it will be a good day. The past week has been a fairly busy one at school for all of us. The Band Conference was a big success and I think you'll agree, our massed concert here on Friday was very good. Just about 24 days left, until that fateful day when we write final exams. Don't be like yours truly and leave studying until the last minute! The Teen Town Dance really got rolling about 10 o'clock on Saturday and there were more visitors than hometown kids. The evening went fast with Bingo, dances and the Summerland Hostesses helped get everyone up to dance. Make sure you come this Saturday because then is the night we choose Miss Teen Town. That's all for this week — don't study too hard — so-long!

Pottery at WI By Mrs. A. D. Wilson, Mrs. Gordon Ritchie To Go to Ottawa

A demonstration of pottery making was the highlight of the afternoon meeting of the Summerland Women's Institute which was held Friday at the Anglican parish hall. Mrs. A. D. Wilson displayed many attractive articles she has made and explained the process of pottery making from the clay to the finished product. Many questions of the interested audience were answered by Mrs. Wilson. Mrs. L. W. Rumball, the president, expressed the appreciation and thanks of all for such a splendid demonstration of this absorbing hobby.

During the business meeting Mrs. Rumball was in the chair. Mrs. Rumball and Mrs. E.-M. Tait, represented the Institute at the annual meeting of the CNIB and it was suggested that a booth of work made by the blind be included in the Variety Sale. The tentative date for the sale was set for Saturday, October 19.

A request from the Kiwassa Club was read asking that representatives attend a meeting to form an executive for the promotion of the class for retarded children. Mrs. Anton Holler and Mrs. Rumball volunteered to go.

A donation was voted for the Youth Centre campaign.

The report of the annual District Rally which was held at Oyama, May 2, was read by the delegate, Mrs. Rumball. A concise and comprehensive resume of the day was heard and gave indication of a busy year for all Institutes. Mrs. Gordon Ritchie was re-elected district president for another year and was also named as delegate to the National Convention which will be held in Ottawa in October. An invitation to hold the Rally in Summerland in 1959 was accepted. The Summerland Institute was organized in 1909 and will be celebrating its 50th anniversary at that time. Of the 20 Institutes in the district 19 were represented. Nine members from Summerland attended. They were Mrs. Ritchie, Mrs. Rumball, Mrs. H. C. Whitaker, Mrs. M. E. Collas, Mrs. E. H. Bennett, Mrs. Geo. Inglis, Mrs. Myrtle Scott, Mrs. E. Hookham and

Parallel Parking Given a Reprieve

Parallel parking will not be enforced at West Summerland, at least for the present, but double white lines will be put down the centre of Granville St. to control traffic.

This decision was reached at yesterday afternoon's council meeting and followed a recommendation brought in by board of trade members, Roy Wellwood, president, and Lorne Perry, secretary.

The recommendation was made following a meeting with the council's committee, the Retail Merchants' Association, and the board of trade traffic and safety committee.

Councillor W. B. Powell reported that the meeting felt that parallel parking in the area from the Bank of Montreal to Laidlaw's corner would be discriminatory since there is more parking space at the east end of town.

Councillor F. M. Stuart thought that if there were equal parking area at the other end of the street, then parallel parking would be the answer to many traffic problems.

Angle parking space will be widened at the suggestion of Councillor E. M. Tait, the double lines painted, and this scheme tried out for a few months to see how it works.

Committee will be in charge and an interesting program is being planned. An exchange of plans will be a feature. The Pentecost Institute has been invited to attend this meeting.

A delicious tea was served by the convener, Mrs. Tait and a committee.

FACE THE BIG ISSUES

Hold on to what we have and cherish!

We live today in a world of explosive contradictions. While Canadians enjoy soaring prosperity, millions elsewhere are hungry. While we strive for peace, the threat of war is ever present. The age of abundance for all mankind now is possible; so is world-wide atomic destruction.

These are the big issues. Today, as never before, Canada's freedom and prosperity and the future of our children—all the things we love and want most—depend on events in the world around us.

It's essential to elect a government which promotes prosperity at home and peace abroad. History shows we can't have one without the other.

Only the Liberal Party can do this. It's the only party with statesmen experienced and respected in world affairs. The Liberal record proves it can promote prosperity at home and peace abroad. It's Canada's only truly national party, seeking constantly to re-affirm national unity, the 90 year old goal of Confederation.

Supper Preceded Friday Concert
Summerland High School Band acquitted itself well in comparison with the visiting school bands at the concert given in the high school gym on Friday night and attended by some 300 people. Proceeds from the evening go towards the annual provincial band conference.
The bands played on the floor of the gym, and the local group showed fine discipline.
Preceding the concert a supper was arranged by the Band Parents' Association, with 260 instrumentalists seated at tables. Parents supplied most of the food. Arrangements for the big supper and serving of it was by a committee from the Association comprised of Mrs. C. Mrs. Earle Wilson, Mrs. W. C. McCutcheon, Mrs. Ewart Wool-C. J. Bleasdale, Mrs. J. P. Sheeley and Mrs. T. B. Lott. Harry Hackman was an indispensable handy man and helped in all sorts of ways. Some others came in and gave a hand following supper.
After the concert there was a short party in the high school.
It is estimated that 4,500 people attended the final massed band concert at the end of the conference in the arena in Kelowna Saturday night.

Jones and Regier Not Enamoured that Canada which last year produced thirty-three billion dollars in goods and services, twice the amount produced eight years ago has the wealth but that it is not being shared by the people of Canada as a whole.

The farmers' gross income has only gone up 28 percent and not at all in relation to purchasing power.

Old age pensions when they get the extra six dollars will have gone up 15 per cent and labor up only 50 per cent, but Canadian Corporation earnings, after taxation were up 70 per cent.

The speaker went on to say that the CCF believes in taxation according to ability to pay, the Liberals only pay lip service to that principle.

Canada is the only western nation without a capital gains tax. And in Canada the bulk of the income tax is paid by people with below average incomes.

It is high time the exemptions were raised, Mr. Regier said, the CCF advocating $1,500 exemption for a single man, $3,000 for a married man and $500 for every child.

The Liberals are selling Canada down the river in their give-away of natural resources, the speaker indicated, their policy appears to be to get rid of these resources as fast as possible.

The government for years couldn't find the money for the St. Lawrence Seaway, but when iron ore began to be in short supply in the United States the Canadian taxpayer is asked to find the money for the Seaway to provide a cheap means of getting Canadian iron ore into the U.S. And likewise the government obligates the taxpayers to build a pipeline at a cost of $200,000,000 to convey gas into the states for the purpose of smelting our Canadian ore in the U.S. where it is further processed and then it is trucked back in the form of refrigerators and stoves and such like for Canadians to buy.

The government's foreign policy insofar as recognition of Red China is concerned came under fire. "We can now sell Sabre Jets to Czechoslovakia but we are not allowed to sell our wheat and other products to Red China — why, because John Foster Dulles doesn't like China" External Affairs Minister Lester B. Pearson could, if he was sincere in what he is saying about trading with China, have an order-in-council passed recognizing Red China immediately, he doesn't have to wait for parliament — but he doesn't do it, so I can only assume that his talk of trade with Red China is so much political propaganda."

Speaking at the IOOF Hall here last night, O. L. Jones (CCF) who has represented this riding for nine years and seeking another term flatly declared that "This riding (Okanagan-Boundary) had been as well treated as any riding in Canada."

The speaker then went on to expound CCF policy, reviewed the plight of the farmer and the need for better protection against unfair competition from out-price fruit and vegetables entering Canada from the U.S.

The government's old age pension policy came under attack as did its health plan.

"The three capitalistic parties stand for much the same thing, whereas the CCF is different, it is a new movement based upon human beings, humanity before capital."

Mr. Jones said he was surprised that people could not see what the CCF has to offer, "but they must see, before long, otherwise there is chaos ahead."

In regard to old age pensions the CCF would give $75 a month this amount arrived at on the basis of the yardstick by the Liberals to reach the amount of $40 in 1949. This was based on the national production, which has since doubled so, if $40 was reasonable back in 1949, then $75 as advocated by the CCF is reasonable now, Mr Jones contended.

The speaker expressed surprise at the government's six dollar old age pension increase and wondered how it had been arrived at. They decided that a Hungarian refugee couldn't exist less than a minimum of three dollars a day.

But, a war widow's pension is only $60 a month, just two dollars a day, and an old age pensioner when he gets the extra six dollars is expected to live on $1.53 a day. "It just doesn't make sense."

The CCF will continue its fight for a decent old age pension, Mr. Jones pledged.

In agriculture dumping is a sore point, Mr. Jones said. Some people say that if this riding had gone Liberal the farmers would have been given protection, but that isn't so, the situation extends across Canada.

It is true that the government has at last done something about protecting potatoes but why it has not aided soft fruits and other vegetables I don't know.

I have suggested in the house that we should set our own yardstick and that any fruit and vegetables arriving in Canada should at least be at a price equal to our cost of production.

"We are in the driver's seat. We buy ten times the amount of U.S. fruits and vegetables than the U.S. buys from us."

A sympathetic government could overcome this situation and protect the grower. After the move to protect potatoes Mr. Dave Fulton and I went to see if anything was being done about soft fruits and we were informed that the matter is under discussion. "I hope that next year, perhaps this year, something will be done."

"There is no reason why something couldn't be done, the Liberals, if they are sincere in their professed desire to help the farmer have only to pass an order-in-council."

On the health plan Mr. Jones said that now, after 38 long years, the government is bringing in a sadly watered down plan, which applies only to hospital care and does not even include all hospitals, mental institutions and T.B. hospitals being excluded. Those two hospital categories should top the list, asserted Mr. Jones.

The CCF is after complete health coverage. It can be paid for. People are already paying more for hospital and medical treatment than the scheme would cost and worse still the burden is not being evenly borne.

Alarm at the increasing influx of American capital to control Canadian development was expressed by Mr. Jones. To stop this the CCF would set up a Canada Investment bank, Canadian capital for Canadian investments and the bank loans would be backed by Canadian natural resources.

Men will hate me — women will adore me for this column — maybe!

May 27 — just another date — but to me, one of, if not the biggest date of my life.

Yup! May 27, 1937 — the day I was spliced — twenty years have gone by since that day in the middle of a world-wide depression when I said, "I do."

Depression, hot war, cold war, assignment to Mexico — the Pentiction Vees — acquiring my own newspaper — 20 eventful years — but hear ye! hear ye! in all those 20 years I have never forgotten, never overlooked the wedding anniversary.

What a record — what a man!

I hate to think of the womenfolk reading this and then looking accusingly at their husbands — I just hate to think of what those husbands are going to think about me — but one thing I can boast about, and one thing I'm going to boast about, I have never forgotten my wedding anniversary in 20 long, long years.

I can imagine, come the day when I take the road which we must all eventually take, when I'll be carried on a cloud to the pearly gates, and there'll be Saint Peter himself, reading out the record. I can imagine Saint Peter saying, "Yon is a verra sin-fu' mon." (I don't know why I imagine Saint Peter speaking with a Scot accent, but I do.)

"But," will say Saint Peter, "He is a verra canny mon indeed, a mon who dinna forgie the day he took a bonnie lassie in lawful wedlock. Open the gates — an' let the pore misguided Sassenach in."

Yes, May 27, 1937 was quite a day in the life of yours truly.

I was living the life of Riley — the life of a carefree bachelor — my place of residence on a pimple of rock jutting out in the Gulf of Georgia. Swimming, fishing, writing, lots of reading — the life of Riley — then Eve came into the garden all the way from the flat, barren, frozen plains of Saskatchewan — and so it came to pass that we took a 35 mile trip in an open boat to Powell River for a license to wed.

A married couple and their wee son went with us and the wee lad tagged along when we went for the license. The parents didn't. "Oh!" gasped the bride to be when she suddenly connected the look the marriage clerk gave the toddler hanging on to us and his raised eyebrows, as much as saying, "a trifle belated — what!"

Came the day we put out in our small craft and rendezvoused with the Columbia Coast Mission Ship, the "John Antle".

It was a beautiful day, blue sky, with some wisps of horses' tails telling of wind to come. The seagulls screaming and wheepling, masthead high. The altar set up in the main cabin. The skipper, a medical missionary with a seadog beard and a bowie knife in his dungarees under his cassock, the throb of the powerful diesel and enough of a ground swell to make you brace your legs wide apart.

And so there I was, to borrow a descriptive line from Kipling: "With the throb of the screw beneath me and the wide blue sea outside . . ."

Kipling wrote that line in relation to a burial at sea — but it seems to fit — after all what matters it to man if having lived the life of the free, he is submerged in the salt sea or drowned in the sea of matrimony.

Married at sea, but sometimes I wonder if in all these years we've not been living in sin — for we married aboard ship in the Gulf of Georgia which is miles within the three-mile limit which doesn't apply until off the west coast of Vancouver Island.

Be that as it may, we accepted the whole business as legal. Came the reception, then the sailing in the small hours under a full moon back to our island.

Dawn and the screeching of a ship's whistle practically under our window, for our cabin was built on rocks only two handsprings from the sea.

It was the Mission boat John Antle — in filling out the necessary forms the day before the bride had disclosed that she was a Registered Nurse. Emergency at the Harbor hospital — there's a nurse on that island we just married her today — and so, hardly were we married than we were separated. I had loaned my boat to a pal for blueback fishing. So I was left marooned. For two whole weeks I paced the beach looking in vain for the ship and the bride, who, it seemed, would never come home.

Yes, a lot of tides have ebbed and flooded in the Gulf of Georgia since the day I said "I do," but I never regretted saying those words — and I never will.

Luck, in the sense of accumulating wordly goods has passed me by. Always so it seems, I take the wrong road when it comes to treasure hunting — but a man can't have it both ways and I figure that I got all the luck I deserve and, perhaps, a whole lot more, in the girl I married on the Mission Ship John Antle, 20 years back as of last Monday, May 27.

Big Question Of The Day; Will Cots Be Protected?

A burning question of the day in soft fruit circles is, will the government act to protect the valley apricot producer against low-priced imported apricots? The second related question if the first is answered in the affirmative is, will the government act in time to protect this year's crop?

Dr. Mel Butler, Liberal candidate, is confident that some action will shortly be taken. He informed The Review this morning that the matter was under urgent discussion in Ottawa this week and that L. R. Stephens is standing by ready to proceed to Ottawa on the matter.

Last week Eric Tait, chairman of the BCFGA tariff committee and L. I. Stevens, met with Finance Minister W. E. Harris.

The press release issued by the tariff committee on the meeting, follows:

"While giving no assurance that official action had yet been taken, Mr. Harris promised the delegation that instructions would be given to his department officials to co-operate with industry representatives in working out a formula that might be implemented."

"L. R. Stephens will leave for Ottawa shortly to work with officials of the Department of Finance in the development of the necessary formula in line with the request made by the Canadian Horticultural Council in its submission to the Cabinet on February 4th last."

Plan $50,000 Debentures For Senior Citizen Home

Enderby Pools Suggested as Pattern For Summerland's Centennial Project

About 20 interested people drove to Enderby last Wednesday to see the swimming and wading pool which has been built in that city by the Lions Club.

Objects to Likely Packerhouse Site

A letter was received by the municipal council yesterday from J. S. Burton of Vancouver protesting the possible erection of the new Co-operative Growers' Packing house on the Nurnberg property on Jubilee Road between L. Burnell's and H. R. J. Richards'.

Mr. Burton has land adjoining this site and asked that the area be zoned as residential.

This land is zoned as rural now and packing houses or other processing plants for fruit are permitted in rural areas under the zoning bylaw.

This information is being sent to Mr. Burton.

The Senior Citizens' Home may be started this fall, and local labor may be used for a large portion of the work with specialty jobs such as heating, plastering, plumbing and wiring sublet.

Summerland council and the Senior Citizens' Home Committee have worked together to form a scheme whereby a detailed plan, specifications and supervision would be obtained from the architect, Roy W. Meiklejohn, and then the project would be put under the superintendent of works, K. M. Blagborne, and built locally as far as possible.

Last year when the Senior Citizens' Committee was formed information was obtained to find preferences for a boarding home or a home with self-contained units. The majority wanted a boarding home type of establishment.

A preliminary plan of a boarding home was obtained from the architect containing eight double and eight single units or accommodation for 22 tenants.

Financing was investigated. It was found that the provincial government would pay one-third of the cost provided land was found locally and ten per cent of the cost. When the NHA was approached for the balance, it was learned that NHA would not put money into a boarding house type of home, and requires at least 50 per cent of the accommodation to be self-contained units.

The Senior Citizens' Committee reviewed the plan to see if half of the rooms could be self-contained units. It was found that overhead costs would still be the same, and the scheme was not an economical one. As well as this, most people still want a boarding home.

The preliminary plan estimates the cost at between $85,000 and $100,000. The proposal is to finance it through a municipal 20-year bylaw for $50,000 using serial debentures. The council has figured on taking $4,000 as the annual charge for the first five years.

Hospital Parking Lot Is Enlarged

The Hospital parking lot is being enlarged to almost double its size. Municipal crews are bulldozing the area between the present parking space and the hill. The large amount of soil being removed is being used as a fill along the street in front of Dr. W. H. B. Munn's residence and on down the hill from the former Bank House to the highway.

The stone wall on the turn in to the hospital will be left for the present, and the work will not be all completed until after the irrigation season as the irrigation system will have to be changed.

The enlarged lot should provide adequate room for all parking requirements.

Councillor F. M. Stewart gave this report at Tuesday afternoon's council meeting.

G. D. Smith Takes Final Year at UBC

G. D. Smith, municipal clerk, will attend the Municipal Administration Institute being held from May 28-June 1 at UBC.

The special training program, designed for municipal controllers, treasurers, collectors and clerks, covers four years of work in municipal accounting, economics, administration, finance and law.

The course is conducted by correspondence with annual institutes held at the University during which examinations are written.

This is Mr. Smith's final year. This week he is attending the Municipal Officers' Convention at Victoria.

Social Credit Candidate Here Attacks Government's Neglect of Agriculture

Agriculture in Canada has been neglected by the Liberal Government as never before, Frank C. Christian, Social Credit candidate, charged when speaking at an election rally held in the IOOF Hall last week.

Miss Kay Graham Dies in Car Crash

The sad news has reached Summerland of the death of Miss Kay Graham. She was the 19 year old daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Graham, former owner of the Linnea Style Shop, who left Summerland early this spring to return to Red Deer.

Miss Graham was killed in a motor accident two miles north of Red Deer on May 21.

She was taking an aide's course at the Provincial Training School at Red Deer.

Mr. Christian, Social Credit candidate for Okanagan Boundary in the Federal election, was supported by Frank Richter, Social Credit MLA for the Similkameen.

Mr. Richter flayed the Liberal government for its PFRA policy which had prevented the British Columbia government from taking advantage of the plan.

Mr. Richter also attacked the high freight rates on feed grain and pointed out that a secondary industry of cattle feeding could be started in the Okanagan if freight rates on feed grain were reduced to reasonable levels.

Size Thinning of Vee Peaches

By DR. D. V. FISHER
Many growers have already completed their peach thinning at the blossom stage, and other growers are about to commence thinning their peaches by the hand method. Adequate peach thinning will be very important this year with a large-sized crop in prospect. Profitable return from this crop could well depend upon the production of good-sized peaches.

In the last four years the Pomology Section of the Summerland Experimental Farm has conducted numerous tests on rate of sizing of peach fruits in grower orchards in different areas in the South Okanagan. These studies have not been concluded but certain data appear to be of sufficient importance for release to peach growers.

The following recommendations are made as a guide in thinning. They are based upon findings with mature trees in average to good vigor. They do not apply to weak or sick trees, or to trees four years of age and under. It has been found that fruits, small in size early in the season, retain their individuality

Candlelight and Flowers for Wedding Of Miss B. Fleming and Douglas Saby

Candlelight flickered on baskets of spirea, red carnations, and red peonies arranged with ferns, in Summerland United Church on Saturday evening, May 25, at seven o'clock, when Marguerite Beverley, daughter of Mrs. W. M. Fleming of Summerland, and the late W. M. Fleming, was united in marriage with Douglas Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Saby of Armstrong.

Rev. C. O. Richmond officiated at the ceremony in the presence of about a hundred guests.

The tall, lovely bride was given in marriage by her brother, Edwin Fleming of Deroche. Her beautiful floor length wedding gown was of white embroidered nylon posed over taffeta, the bodice having a net yoke and long lily-point sleeves. A rhinestone and pearl studded clip cap completed the ensemble and held the finger tip veil in place. The bride carried a delicate white lace fan arranged with red carnations and white baby iris.

Miss Ruth and Miss Doreen Fleming, the bride's sisters, were the attendants. Identical ballerina length dresses of soft yellow dotted nylon with matching picture hats and mitts accented the early summer season and their Colonial bouquets were of yellow rosebuds and red carnations.

The groom's brother, Lyle Saby of Victoria was best man. Ushers were Kenneth Nistor of West Summerland and S. K. Bennewith of Kamloops.

The organist of the church, Mrs. Glen Morley of Penticton, played for the ceremony, and Miss Marjorie Campbell sang, "The Lord's Prayer", and "Because".

Red carnations, spirea and peonies in baskets were arranged in the United Church Hall for the reception where Mrs. Fleming, Mr. and Mrs. Saby and the bridal party received.

The three-tiered wedding cake had a central place on the bride's lace covered table, and was decorated with pink rosebuds and wedding bells and surrounded with pink tulle. Pink tapers in silver holders, and silver bowls with white baby iris and yellow rosebuds graced the dainty table setting.

Gerry Hallquist proposed a toast to the bride with the groom responding. B. T. Washington gave a toast to the bridesmaids, to which the best man replied.

Messages of congratulations were received from Miss Millie Clark, Couer d'Alene; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Saby, Victoria, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Cavazzi, Kamloops; Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Wells, Prince Rupert; Dr. and Mrs. Gerry Coursey, Minneapolis.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Coley, Vernon; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Saby, Armstrong; Lyle Saby, Victoria; David Frid, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Bennewith, Kamloops; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Fleming, Michael and Susan, Deroche; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Pollock, Mr. and Mrs. George Axworthy, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Chatfield; Mrs. Norma Krochenski, and Bobbie, Armstrong.

For going away on a motor trip to California, Vancouver and Victoria, the bride wore a navy bengaline duster over a pink linen sheath dress with navy and white straw hat, white accessories and a pink corsage.

On their return the couple will make their home at West Summerland.

Miss Yvonne Brind Marries George Pohlman in Early Summer Ceremony

Blossoming graceful white spirea branches were accented with lovely red carnations and peonies at the early summer wedding of Emily Yvonne, youngest daughter of Mrs. F. C. Brind and the late F. C. Brind, who was united in marriage with Alfred George Pohlman, son of Mrs. O. L. Lane of Armstrong, and Carl Pohlman of Kelowna, on Saturday afternoon, May 25, at 4.30 p.m. in Summerland United Church. Rev. C. O. Richmond was the officiating clergyman.

The bride was given in marriage by her eldest brother, H. C. Brind, and wore a beautiful floor length wedding gown of traditional white satin. The net yoke of the bodice was outlined with satin petals, and the long sleeves had lily points. Tiny satin covered buttons fastened down the back to a butterfly shaped bustle, which fell in pretty folds into the skirt, and was caught at one side with an heirloom brooch which had belonged to the groom's great-grandmother. A full length white veil of embroidered net was held in place by a coronet of white sequined hearts, and the bride wore the groom's gift of a strand of pearls and matching earrings. In her wedding bouquet were red roses and lily of the valley.

The three attendants were Miss Lillian McKenzie of Chilliwack; Miss Diane Hoflin of Westbank; and Miss Sharon Abbott of Penticton, wearing respectively, gowns of Nile green, petal pink and pastel yellow, with matching headdresses. They carried bouquets of white baby glads and iris tied with ribbon matching their frocks.

Darvin Harbicht was the best man and Vernon Campbell ushered.

Mrs. Glen Morley of Penticton was the organist for the ceremony and Miss Marjorie Campbell, the soloist, who sang, "The Lord's Prayer", and while the register was signed, sang "Because".

At the reception for the 115 guests in the Oddfellows' Hall, Mrs. Brind was assisted in receiving by her son, H. C. Brind, and by the groom's parents and the bridal party. Mrs. Brind was charming in a Queen's blue net over taffeta gown with pink accessories echoed in her pink corsage. Mrs. Lane wore a becoming grey suit.

Pink and white streamers and wedding bells, peonies, spirea, hawthorn and iris reflected the summer season in the decorations in the hall.

The bride made her wedding cake which was beautifully decorated by Mrs. Ralph Gibbard, and arranged on the table with crystal candlesticks which were used at the wedding of the bride's mother in England. Tulle with rosebuds and pansies surrounded the cake.

A supper was served by the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion with Miss Beverly Dowds and Miss Marilyn Wade, friends of the bride, assisting.

Dave Thompson proposed a toast to the bride with response by the groom.

Congratulatory telegrams were read from Cpl. and Mrs. G. Harbicht, Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Brind, Alberta; and Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Brind of Chilliwack.

For going away the bride wore a beige figured silk dress with a brown duster and matching accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations. Before leaving the bride put her flowers on her father's grave.

The couple will make their home at Nanaimo.

In Making an Attractive Community Flowering Shrubs Have Great Value

By NAT MAY

The love and enjoyment of the beautiful is an inherent characteristic of every individual although some may develop this appreciation to a higher degree than others. Of all sources of beauty none are comparable to the landscape and none appeal more powerfully to practically all people. The love of country, love of community and the love of home are all very closely associated with the love of landscape. The development of pleasing rural landscapes and well-planted highways and homes is not simply a matter of our own taste and pride of ownership. It is the external sign by which we would have the country's health and beauty known. Citizens working as private individuals cannot generally accomplish the ideals of community improvement. It is only through co-operative and organized efforts of a community's many citizens. Therefore it offers a worthy and a desirable field of service for organizations such as the city parks board, horticultural society, board of trade, junior chamber of commerce, or any other service club interested in improving the landscape of their community.

The work of such boards or organizations is to initiate and promote projects as well as direct the appreciation and interest of the citizens to the desirability and need of such improvements. Public desire and will of attainment rather than financial resources are the principal requisites of accomplishment in this work. It is never too late or too early to project improvements. Emerson says:

"There's never an end in nature, but every end is a beginning."

Every spring and every Fall should witness a revival of associated efforts on the part of civic authorities of community associations and of able citizens to improve and embellish the external condition of their home grounds and localities. Those leads appreciative of results in regard to beauty, may be aroused to the effects of increased value to property thus improved.

In the planting of city and suburban residence grounds there seems to be a large field for improvement. Those people who own their own homes in the city and suburban districts are the truest home lovers in the nation and as a class they have the means, the desire and the taste, but unfortunately often lack knowledge in this line of home improvement.

While a householder gladly puts $5,000 or $15,000 into his new house, he regards $50 or $100 as ample outlay for ornamentation of the surrounding grounds, and while he employs an architect or some experienced contractor and pays up to $200 for planning the house, he does not think of consulting a landscape gardener to design the surfacing and plantings, but leaves such things to the casual day laborer, or does it himself with the help of some cheap but misguided advice of his neighbors.

Some architects stipulate before taking a contract that at least one tenth of the cost of a suburban house shall be expended on its proper setting.

For filling in the angles around a house and the corners between its steps and side walls; for extending architectural lines that end too abruptly; for helping to conceal faulty design; for softening hard uncompromising masonry, such as basement and foundation walls and buttresses; for making entrances inviting and for hiding the broken fence or relieving the stiffness of woven wire fence, what should we do without shrubs?

Flowering shrubs as a class have been greatly neglected in this country. In the larger private grounds and in public parks where gardening is carried on as a fine art by professional gardeners, they have received a certain, although limited measure of attention, but in the smaller gardens cultivated more or less by their owners, their charms are now only beginning to be dimly appreciated. Of course there are those half-dozen kinds which meet one's eye everywhere, bridal wreath, lilacs, privet, barberry, caragana and mock orange, but the vast majority so far as the ordinary garden is concerned, are more often conspicuous by their absence. Yet if garden owners would but realize it, they have in the most valuable asset possible in beautifying and diversifying the garden. They give just sufficient variation of level to the general color lines. They break up the flat monotony that too often spoils a small patch of ground. They have none of the overshadowing effects and the abruptness of trees and the range of choice provides a great enchantment of interest.

For filling in the angles around a house and the corners between its steps and side walls; for extending architectural lines that end too abruptly; for helping to conceal faulty design; for softening hard uncompromising masonry, such as basement and foundation walls and buttresses; for making entrances inviting and for hiding the broken fence or relieving the stiffness of woven wire fence, what should we do without shrubs?

Trees cannot be planted next to a house without robbing light and air, but tall shrubs as a background for lower ones take off the sharpness of corners and let sunshine stream in at the windows. The home seems to be set in a nest of green instead of springing suddenly from the lawn like a Jack-in-the-box. Whoever has walked through the grounds from which all the natural undergrowth has been cleared away by an overtidy owner realizes that they have lost half their charm.

Shrubs are the natural complement of trees, filling in the gap between the branches and the ground. Intermediate shrubbery with a low growing flowering foreground makes a softly flowing line of descent from a boundary belt of trees.

Trees grow above the height of ones eyes, flowering plants below it, but shrubs that are on a level with the eye, like a well hung picture occupy the most important space in the garden gallery.

People who live on small suburban places where there is room for only a few trees find that tall shrubs planted as a boundary belt make an effective screen from the eyes of passers-by. Purple, golden or variegated leaved shrubs when isolate on a green lawn detached from all connections with the composition lines of planting are far from pleasing and are all the more distracting because this practice is commonly used. Shrubs however, fill a distant destiny in enlivening masses of shrubbery which without them might be monotonous. They add emphasis, richness and variety of colour and form. Colour can be the chief charm or the greatest offence to the eye. So whenever applied it should be used sparingly and artistically.

Shrubs may perform other important functions under special conditions. Along abrupt slopes, or upon steep banks plantings are important in prevention of severe erosion of the soil and covering the bare and displeasing surfaces that otherwise mar the landscape. Much may be accomplished by planting hardy vines, shrubs and trees adapted to the particular soils and exposures. It is often cheaper to plant a bank with shrubbery than to grade it and seed it to lawn grass. The concavity of a steep hillside may be filled in with shrubbery that will prevent it from slipping or washing.

Many a house set on a narrow ridge would appear to be in less danger of slipping off the edge if the slopes around it were planted with shrubs. How narrow and sharp would the cones of many mountains appear were it not for the trees that pad their sides.

Macs At Home To Princeton Sunday

Fishing Notes

By BERT BERRY
Fishing news is better this last week. This is the usual trend of the season and should improve for at least two or three weeks.

Fish Lake Camp — open and some nice catches on the fly on Fish Lake. Upper lakes doing better now on fly and troll.

Garnett Valley Dam — some nice catches made here. Up to two pound fish have been landed.

Okanagan Lake — some good luck on the troll. Mr. Rothwell landed a 25 incher last week. Wilson's Landing reports good for spinning and trolling. Should be coming on from now on.

Silver Lake — fish up to 13 inches being caught here.

Headwaters' Fishing Camp — Lots of fish coming out of here.

Brenda and McDonald Lakes — no reports but should be OK now.

Glenn Lake — one report

SPORT

League Softball Here Thursday: Macs' Aces Out for R-r-revenge

shows fish are back here though not too big.

Shannon Lake — good bass fishing here.

Bear Lake — some nice catches made here.

Espron Lake — first bridge out but cars going over planks. Should be better fishing from here from now on.

Agur Lake — some good, some bad reports from here. This is one lake that is either real good or terrible.

Reports from the Shuswap Lake and Kamloops and Vernon areas, as well as Merritt district are all good with promise of good fishing coming on.

Summerland Mac's Aces are batting .500 having won one and lost one in the week-old Industrial Softball League.

The Aces will play their third game tomorrow night (Thursday) at the Memorial park here.

The Aces are pitted against Valley Motors, the team which clobbered them 13-3 on Monday night in Pentiction.

The Aces had the game well in hand up to the fourth inning having run in three runs in the second, then the balloon went up and in an error cluttered fourth inning the Pentiction team ran in eight runs.

Last week the Aces opened the league before a good crowd here by defeating the Greyhounds 12-4.

Senior League ball will come back to Summerland next Sunday when the Summerland Macs will take on Princeton.

At the time of going to press it was not known if the teams would play a double-header, to catch up on a rained out game earlier in the season.

Last Sunday at the Athletic Park the Macs polished a few of their rough spots off against Trail, winning the exhibition game 9-4.

Don Cristante pitched the Macs to victory. Trail got to him for 10 hits, one homer by Jones while the Macs pounded losing pitcher Seaman for 13 hits including a circuit clout by the Macs' Georgie Taylor.

Pentiction Sweeps Double-Header Against Kamloops

Pentiction Red Sox took both ends of an Okanagan-Mainline Baseball League double-header off Kamloops Okonots, Sunday, winning the seven-inning opener 7-5 and taking the regulation nine-inning tilt 8-2.

The twin-win kept the Sox a game behind league-leading Kelowna Orioles who swept their double-bill with Princeton Royals 7-2 and 11-6.

Junior Red Sox Keep on Going

The Summerland Junior Red Sox continued their winning ways in the South Okanagan Junior League when they knocked over the Naramata Marauders by a lop-sided 14-1 score, in the game played in Summerland on Sunday afternoon.

Carlton Sheeley picked up his third win against no losses and limited Naramata to five hits. He has now pitched 21 innings without allowing an earned run.

The Summerland boys were hitting the ball well. Garry Hackman picked up a triple and a single. Martin Shannon had two doubles, Bob Sheeley and Tom Campbell each had two hits.

Next Sunday the boys travel north for a double header, playing Vernon in the afternoon and Armstrong in the evening.

In other league action Pentiction defeated Oliver 11-10 and Vernon knocked over Armstrong 12-8.

Engagements

BOW — Dr. and Mrs. Malcolm R. Bow of Edmonton, wish to announce the engagement of their daughter, Maxine Wallace, to Mr. Talmage Brewer MacDonald of West Summerland, B.C. The wedding to take place on June 15, in Robertson United Church Chapel.

Three Hostesses for Miss Marilyn Wade

Three hostesses, Mrs. Norman Holmes, Mrs. E. F. Smith and Mrs. Dave McInnis, entertained at Mrs. Holmes' home in Garnett Valley on Monday evening for Miss Marilyn Wade, popular bride-elect.

The surprised guest of honor was seated in an alcove in a chair decorated with pink and white streamers centred from a miniature bride doll on the ceiling. Vases of spring flowers and gay balloons brightened the rooms for the happy occasion.

A yellow clothes' basket, a gift in itself, and decorated with a pretty pink and white umbrella, was used to present all the pretty parcels, which the bride opened for everyone to admire.

Mrs. F. M. Stuart took pictures of the bride-to-be in the pretty setting, surrounded by her friends and their gifts.

Delicious refreshments were served by the trio of hostesses.

Invited were Mrs. C. Wade, Mrs. J. Cristante, Mrs. G. Wade, Mrs. W. Croft, Mrs. J. Croft, Mrs. G. Clark, Mrs. J. Ganzeveld, Mrs. H. Hackman, Mrs. G. A. Laidlaw, Mrs. W. A. Laidlaw, Mrs. A. Menu, Mrs. A. R. Munn, Mrs. L. McKilligan, Mrs. H. Shannon, Mrs. F. M. Stuart, Mrs. Walter Toews and Mrs. L. A. Day

Size Thinning

(Continued from Page 1) and at harvest remain small fruits, while large fruits early in the season mature as large fruits. Most growers recognize this, and in thinning, remove the small fruits and leave only medium or large fruits. In order to eliminate potentially small No. 2 size peaches, fruit of the following sizes should be removed in thinning Vee peaches.

At 40 days from full bloom remove fruit $\frac{1}{4}$ inch and smaller.

At 50 days from full bloom remove fruit $\frac{1}{2}$ inch and smaller.

At 55 days from full bloom remove fruit $1\frac{1}{16}$ inch and smaller.

The reason these data do not apply to weak trees is that at a given number of days from full bloom all the fruits on these trees may be under the minimum specified size and according to the table should all be removed. Accordingly this approach would be incorrect for week trees since these trees can yield a reduced crop of good size peaches if given a heavy general thinning. Fruit on young trees often behave abnormally and hence the data given in the table may not apply.

Senior Citizens

Monthly boarding cost to tenants would be $65.00, which would leave a deficit of $1,500 per year. If pensions are increased there would be no deficit.

It is said the plan for Summerland's Senior Citizens Home is unique in that a lounge and recreation room is provided which could be used as a meeting place for all the older people in the district.

If the Home is built locally, money would be saved. Furniture will be needed and it is hoped that various service clubs and other organizations as well as individuals will help with the furnishings. It is understood some tenants may prefer to furnish their own rooms.

Enderby Pool

(Continued from Page 1) he said, and took a period of years for completion. He thought that several thousand dollars could be raised locally by contributions aside from the Centennial grants which are approximately $4,800.

K. M. Blagborne, who has studied the Enderby plans and made a rough estimate of the cost of the wading pool, swimming pool, bathhouse, complete setup, said that the cost according to his figures would be at least between $12,000 and $15,000 plus volunteer labour.

Further investigations are to be made as to the extent of local interest in the proposal.

Social Credit

"Farmers constitute 16 per cent of the population but receive only seven per cent of the national income," he declared.

The Social Credit candidate declared his party would provide parity prices for the farmer. He was of the opinion that the whole tariff structure on fruit and vegetables should be revised to give adequate protection to growers.

Gifts Presented in Replica of a Boat

Mrs. James Heavysides and Mrs. Darryl Weitzel were co-hostesses at the home of the former on Wednesday evening, May 22, when they entertained for Miss Marilyn Wade at a party and miscellaneous shower prior to her marriage to Donald Cristante, an event of Saturday, June 1.

A replica of Miss Wade's fiance's boat, had been made to hold the lovely gifts. Her younger sister, Vonda, and little Lesley Heavysides pushed the boat into the living room where Marilyn unloaded the cargo of pretty parcels.

Games were enjoyed in the rooms tastefully decorated with yellow iris, and the tea table was centred with yellow candles. The shower cake was iced in yellow with lilies of the valley striking a bridal note.

Guests were Mrs. C. Wade, Mrs. George Wade, Mrs. J. Cristante, Mrs. N. Holmes, Mrs. W. Croft, Mrs. George Washington, Mrs. F. M. Stuart, Mrs. M. Robinson, Mrs. Douglas Weeks, Mrs. E. Edge, Mrs. J. P. Sheeley, Mrs.

T. Hooker, Mrs. G. McAdam, Miss Janie Smith, Miss Pauline Hoffman, Miss Meiko Kawasaki, Vonda Wade and Lesley Heavysides.

Mrs. John Croft, Mrs. W. Vanderburgh of Brookmere, Mrs. Gordon Beggs, and Miss Nellie Huva sent gifts but were unable to attend.
