

According To The Mood

By Sid Godber

Sunrise service on Giant's Head at 7:30 Easter Sunday morning — this is a combined service of the Summerland churches — it would be something to see the 1,979 Summerland folk who voted in Monday's election, including the 10 who spoiled their ballots, attend the service to ask Divine guidance for the government which, by virtue of the tremendous vote of confidence, we have saddled with a grave responsibility in parlous times.

Folk certainly read advertisements in The Review — but after the ad we ran last week inserted by Alex Beasley of Winfield, urging people to protest by spoiling their ballots I find that ads are read more than I imagined.

From young and old, from male and female, from all manner of political stripes came the thunderous enquiries, I spent hours on the phone — some wanted to know what the advertisement meant — others thought the author should be shot at dawn — others were prepared to let the author live, but contended that the publisher should be shot for carrying the advertisement.

No one agreed with Mr. Beasley.

I certainly don't agree with his viewpoint, but the argument that newspapers should refuse such advertisements leaves me cold. For one thing Mr. Beasley is entitled to his opinion — and we ask, in this regard, how many of us, regardless of how strong our political opinion, would be prepared to spend around $1,000 to get our opinion over?

It must have cost Mr. Beasley all of a thousand smackers — and a thousand dollars does not grow on trees, especially in the Okanagan.

So, let's chalk up a credit for Mr. Beasley — he had a point of view he wanted to get across, and was willing to pay the bill.

Then again, Mr. Beasley has a point in his attack on the United States. The U.S. certainly acts as if it doesn't want to come to any kind of terms with the Russians — there is a war party in the United States and I can agree with Mr. Beasley that Canada shouldn't get too closely tied in with that war party.

As for spoiling the ballot — Mr. Beasley at least respects the franchise. He didn't say stay away from the polls.

Incidentally that would be a good way for the Russian people or the people of any of the dictatorship countries to protest when they must go to the polls with only one choice offered them. Spoiling ballots in such cases would make sense.

Our government by ballot box is a good one, but it is horribly wasteful. Canada has lost some good men — men who should be in parliament — men whose knowledge even in opposition would be a boon to the government — but that's democracy.

Now it is up to John Diefenbaker — and the following timely comment was dropped on my desk this a.m.

Lines from the "Merchant of Venice"

"They are as sick that suffer with too much as those that starve with nothing."

Take heed, Tories.

Horticultural Society News

The meeting of the Summerland Horticultural Society held on Friday evening, March 21, was well attended with President Mrs. Bingham presiding. T. Ritchie of Peace River showed colored moving pictures of that country also scenes of Florida.

N. May answered many questions on gardening which were taken from the question box.

Dr. James Marshall who is in charge of programs, will have Geo. Robinson of Penticton, an authority on landscaping, address the April meeting on ornamental shrubs.

These programs are planned to help new home owners improve their grounds.

Robin Caldwell Discovers Grave

Fifteen year old Robin Caldwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Caldwell discovered what appears to be an Indian's grave on the property of his parents' orchard.

While digging top soil on a cliffside above the J. H. Landry place in Trout Creek, Robin discovered a skull and several bones along with teeth, a pouch, stone hammer, and eagle quills that may have been part of a necklace.

B'dminton Enthusiasts Hold 1st Tournament

Sixty-five enthusiastic members of the Elementary School Badminton Club played in a tournament in Summerland on Saturday.

The quarter final saw Sunny Boyd defeat Linda Eden in the girls' division and Ganzeveld defeat Beggs.

The tournament was the outcome of the Summerland Badminton Club and the Pro-Rec together with high school and elementary students starting the club.

Many promising young players have attended practices at which three coaches have been necessary to accommodate the numbers.

Many parents of the members, along with the junior club members of the high school have been assisting in the coaching department.

Trout Creek P-TA Hold Discussion

The monthly meeting of the Trout Creek P-TA held last Thursday evening in the school library was attended by sixteen members.

Mr. Cooke reported that only one Recreational Organization can be formed in a municipality and as there is one in Summerland, another cannot be formed in Trout Creek.

The Provincial Convention is being held in Victoria during the Easter vacation and Sid Hode, president, emphasized the benefit a delegate may receive at this convention and hoped the same member would be attending.

The class-room clocks purchased by the former Peter Pan Kindergarten have been installed and are an asset to the classrooms.

Lunch was served by Mrs. May and her committee.

Funeral Rites Friday For H. W. Lougheed

Funeral services will be held here from the Summerland United Church on Friday, April 4, at 2 p.m. for the late Henry Wellington Lougheed, of Peach-land. Mr. Lougheed, well known in Summerland, was chief engineer of the Summerland saw-mill, 35 years ago. He is survived by his wife at Peachland, three sons, Hugh and Robert at Rock Creek and Lorne at New Westminster and one daughter, Mary at home.

Summerland hopped onto the Progressive Conservative bandwagon with a happy abandon on Monday.

The Conservative cross-country landslide was weighted with a minor landslide here in Summerland, when Progressive Conservative candidate Day Pugh, Oliver insurance man, garnered 1,076 votes as against a combined total of only 893 for the three other candidates.

Summerland boy W. A. Bill Gilmour, Liberal hope, was low man on the totem poll, with only 210 votes; Henry Carson, Social Credit, polled 276 and veteran parliamentarian O. L. Jones, CCF, came second locally with 407 votes.

The pattern was generally repeated throughout the Okanagan Boundary Riding.

Pugh clobbered the opposition with 12,934 votes; Jones, CCF, came second with 7,737; Carson, Social Credit, third, with 3,479, and Gilmour, Liberal, 2,501.

Both the Social Credit and Liberal candidates lost their deposits having failed to poll more than half of the winner's total.

The story told in the foregoing figures is the story of the election across Canada except in a few isolated ridings.

Local Teachers Take Course

For seven Summerland teachers last Saturday climaxed a particularly strenuous winter session, when they wrote the final examination in the university course which they have been taking.

The course, "An Introduction to Guidance and Counselling," has been presented by Professor W. F. Auld of the U.B.C. faculty of education. For many weeks, Professor Auld has held a Saturday rendezvous at Penticton, with a group of teachers from all parts of the valley between Vernon and Osoyoos. This arrangement is part of the university's new policy of making available to teachers in several interior centres, courses in education which previously were offered only in Vancouver and Victoria. That this policy is being enthusiastically received by the teachers is evidenced by the fact that the Penticton class has had an attendance of forty — many coming from a considerable distance.

Those attending from Summerland were Mr. and Mrs. E. Bates, and Messrs. W. R. Chalmers, D. Loan, P. Minchin, W. Schwab, and K. Storey.

Town Band Practising For Music Festival

Members of the Summerland Town Band are busy practising at every opportunity these days in preparation for the Okanagan Valley Musical Festival in Penticton from April 14 to 19.

Bud Stewart who has resumed leadership of the band after several weeks' absence, has selected "Gnome of the Grotto" by Hildreth as the band's festival number.

The executive considered summer activities and Centennial celebrations. The first event will be at the first local ball game in the Memorial Park on April 13.

Blue blazers are needed for bandmen, and anyone having one that is no longer in use and could lend or donate it, please notify any band member.

Any men interested in joining the band are asked to contact Bud Stewart.

Mr. Leroy Jengeon, of the U. B.C. Extension Dept., who recently conducted a series of lectures in Art in the school here, on his return to Vancouver complied with a request, sending some of his own work to be exhibited here.

They were very large and interesting abstracts and were displayed to the local Art Group in Mrs. Penny's Trout Creek studio.

Kinsmen Club Organized Here

This week Canada acquired a new government and Summerland acquired, along with a new member of parliament, a new service club.

Last night saw the culmination of weeks of ground work with the inaugural meeting of the Summerland Kinsmen Club, held in the Nu-Way annex.

This club is to provide an outlet for the activities of this community's young men, Murray Paynter, the newly elected president told The Review this morning.

Enthusiasm is high, more than 22 members were in attendance and signed up.

The first installation banquet of the Summerland Kinsmen club will be held before the end of March, probably March 28.

Assistance in the preliminary organizing was received from Kelowna and Penticton Kinsmen.

Elected along with Murray Paynter as president were: Jim Newton, vice-president; Bill Pollock, secretary; Hank Wilmfem, treasurer; Jim May, registrar; Don Estabrooke and Gordon Stein, directors, and Bill Likei, bulletin editor.

New Bursary Offered By Credit Union

A meeting of the Educational Committee of the Summerland and District Credit Union, held March 28, voted to make a bursary of $50.00 available to a student attending the Summerland High School. To be eligible, the student must be a Credit Union member in Grade 10, 11 or 12, who is leaving the Summerland school to further his or her education.

The winner may be going to university, normal, nursing, business school or technical school. The first bursary is to be awarded this term and applications must be made in writing to the office of the Summerland Credit Union.

Oldtime Resident Passes Away After Lengthy Illness

Mrs. Fred A. (Mabel Lee) Miller, 90, passed away in the Summerland General Hospital on Thursday, March 27 after a lengthy illness.

The Miller family came from England to settle at Faulder in the early days of the district. They moved to Crescent Beach a few years ago.

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Miller were conducted from the St. Stephens Anglican Church on Saturday, March 29 at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Miller is survived by her husband and two sons, Jack of Summerland and Dick of Vernon.

A CANNER TALKS
A few days ago I listened while a cannery man discussed the peach canning business and some of the problems encountered by the cannery operator.

It was an interesting and enlightening discussion, and I will pass on to the readers of this column some of the information and opinions expressed by a fruit processor.

SMALL CANS

The cannery, it seems, is using an ever-increasing share of the peach crop. A few years ago it was 33 percent; today it is 47 percent. Tomorrow? At the rate the housewife is drifting away from home canning it may not be long before 7 per cent of the Okanagan peach crop will be processed at the cannery.

The canners, however, are not too happy with the trend towards the smaller size cans. For years the 20 oz. can was standard. Recently the chain stores introduced the 15 oz. can. These big food markets pack as many different items on their shelves as space will allow. The 15oz. can, being a little smaller than the 20oz., occupies less space on the shelf and thus leaves room for another item.

TWO FOR

Another thing about the 15 oz. can — it lends itself more readily to the system of pricing 2 cans for so much. An item in 15oz. cans that sells at 2 for 37c looks like a better buy than the same product in 20oz. cans at 2 for 47c. The customer thinks at 2 for 37c she gets more for her money. Actually she gets less.

The thing the canners dislike about the small can is that it costs $15 more to can a ton of peaches put up in the 15 oz. size can as compared with the 20oz. can. The smaller size requires more cans, more labels, more handling, and slows down the whole operation.

SMALLER PEACHES

To fill the 15oz. can smaller peaches must be used or else the larger peaches have to be sliced. Slicing slows down production and increases costs.

If most of the cannery output is to be put up in 15oz. cans we are going to hear the cannery demanding mostly small peaches from the same growers who have been told year after year to "grow larger peaches; there's no place for small fruit".

The canners say there is more waste to small size peaches and the quality is usually lower.

Canners paid $102.50 a ton for commercial grade peaches last year. There was a rebate of $3.00 a ton allowed the canner for advertising that should not have been charged against cannery fruit. Smalls and culls within the tolerance cost the canner $82.00 a ton.

CULLS UNWANTED

Some persons believe the canners like a lot of culls because they do not pay for them. Canners say the fewer the culls the better for them. Culls, they maintain, are a bill of expense to the canner.

When culls are within the tolerance (5 percent) the cannery can work to capacity. At more than 5 percent culls efficiency decreases and with 20 percent culls production slows down to 50 percent capacity of the plant. Culls have to be sorted, and in the sorting the good peaches sometimes get banged around and bruised. If the fruit is a shade on the unripe side there may be trouble in removing the stone, and if the unripe fruit has to be picked out of each box and set aside that accounts for more lost time.

When the processor gets the peaches canned, labelled, put up in cartons and stacked in the warehouse, the cost of the fruit is only a small item in the whole operation. Cans, sugar, labels, cartons, labor, and general overhead constitute most of the expense.

Next week this column will pursue the subject a little further — unless we get sidetracked onto repercussions of the federal election.

Morning After Thoughts

Last year in the Penticton High School auditorium, the then plain John Diefenbaker, wound up a stirring election campaign address with a quotation which, if we recall the quotation aright, was "POWER CORRUPTS; ABSOLUTE POWER CORRUPTS ABSOLUTELY."

When Prime Minister Diefenbaker stated that "power corrupts and absolute power corrupts absolutely," he was, of course, attacking the huge majority the Liberals held at the dissolution of parliament in the spring of 1957, but today John Diefenbaker is the Prime Minister of Canada and head of a government commanding the largest majority ever held by a party in the Canadian House of Commons.

In Penticton last year, "Honest John" made no exceptions so we must assume that our Prime Minister believes that "absolute power, corrupts absolutely."

An interesting situation indeed for never, except in the case of dictatorships, has one man wielded such absolute power as John Diefenbaker does in Canada today.

Make no mistake about it, John Diefenbaker is King. To his dynamic personality, rather than to any Liberal shortcomings can be credited the Progressive Conservative landslide victory.

The Canadian people indulged, for once, in that hysteria which more often than not elects United States presidents.

The "give us a chance" appeal had, of course, much to do with the Conservative victory, but it was the leader, who created the landslide. And today it is John Diefenbaker who stands on a very lonely pinnacle — a man — who by his own definition as applied to the Liberals last year is with power absolute.

The Review never has agreed with critics of lop-sided majorities. We believe in democracy and we are prepared to abide by the will of the people.

The Conservatives can now implement their policies without let or hindrance — they have the mandate of the people so to do, although we are a little nervous of a mandate given as a result of hero worship. But the proof of the pudding will be in the eating.

The Liberals, not for the first time in this century have through defeat at the polls escaped responsibility during a period of world depression and so, once again, the Conservatives are left holding the bag.

We do not believe that political parties manufacture depressions, but we do believe that wise government can do much to alleviate distress and can by applying wisdom, vision and courageous decisions to the economic problems of the day, do much to restore the economy.

No one, regardless of how the ballot was cast can do other than wish the Conservatives well as they assume the very grave responsibilities of office in this day of economic decline.

Here in the Okanagan the Review congratulates Dave Pugh on a good fight, and a convincing victory.

Rejoicing, that here in the Okanagan Boundary we now have a candidate on the government side of the house is, of course, somewhat tempered by the knowledge that two hundred and nine, possibly two hundred and ten other ridings also have candidates on the government side of the house.

One thing certain, if kissing goes by favor, then the Conservatives by following political tradition of looking after their own can uplift the country from coast to coast.

Here in the Okanagan promises have been made regarding help to the fruit industry — we want those promises kept — we want assistance now — not next crop year — it will be interesting to see what the Government supreme will do about it.

We take particular note of the statement attributed to Minister of Agriculture Harkness speaking in Penticton to the effect that it will be possible under the Conservative Agricultural Stabilization Act for Okanagan fruit growers to obtain deficiency payments on the 1957 crop if, when all returns are in, the prices are below average.

Conquer Cancer

Now is our chance to do something about it.

This month we are asked to fight cancer with a check-up and a cheque and that makes good sense to us.

The cheque will enable the Canadian Cancer Society and its B.C. Division to continue supporting vital research work which is the only hope for a solution to the disease which annually kills more than 20,000 Canadians.

The check-up could very possibly save a life — your life — by uncovering cancer in the early stage when chances of successful treatment are greatest.

The war against cancer is a vast project and every Canadian should be vitally interested in the control and ultimate defeat of this disease.

Cancer plays no favorites. It strikes the young and the old, the rich and the poor, the weak and the strong.

It kills more children between the ages of five and 14 and more women between the ages of 25 and 54 than any other disease.

The cancer Society, which conducts the annual Conquer Cancer campaign in April, is made up of thousands of lay volunteers working in over 16,000 communities in all of Canada's ten provinces.

The national objective this year is $2,484,000. The Summerland unit seeks to raise $1,200 as its part of the B.C. Division objective of $250,000.

The biggest share of the money will go to research.

The B.C. Division has budgeted $105,726 for direct help to researchers in B.C. and for its share of the National Cancer Institute research budget of more than $833,000.

The National Cancer Institute this year is supporting 82 research projects across Canada, including 11 in B.C. requiring grants of nearly $53,000.

The B.C. grant has been increased $19,216 over last year and to us that indicates a tremendous vote of confidence in the work being done by our own researchers to solve the mysteries of cancer.

In the past few years, even small successes in research have saved thousands of lives through improved diagnosis and treatment of the disease.

The Cancer Society also needs funds for another vital phase of its program — education.

Many lives can be saved if every member of our community is aware of the Seven Danger Signals of cancer and is persuaded to seek early diagnosis and proper treatment.

There is hardly a person in this community who does not know first hand the tragedies of cancer.

In Appreciation

Contributed by Ivan E. Phillips for No. 22 Branch, Summerland Canadian Legion.

"One morn I missed him on the 'customed hill,

Along the heath, and near his favourite tree. Another came, nor yet beside the rill, Nor up the lawn, nor at the wood was he."

What makes a Country or its peoples one large happy family. Can't it be wealth, power the not so happy possession of the material things of life that the stature and the greatness of a nation's people is judged?

Harry Clement Howis during his long life acquired but few material possessions, yet he was endowed with traits of character which are beyond the power of purchase, those that can only be fostered by continuous and diligent training from early childhood to maturity. His record of service to his Country and to his own community here in Summerland, reflected his courage and his resolution, both of physical and of a moral nature, which won him a host of friends. That familiar phrase of his: "Think nothing of it", epitomised his approach to life.

Nevertheless, I feel that Harry would have liked that last wholehearted tribute that was paid him at his well loved church, not only from those who claimed kinship with him, but, also from the many who appreciated to the full his friendship and service.

To the many like Harry Clement Howis, performing the daily tasks of life in the widely scattered communities of this great Country, lies the real strength of Canada.

Mid-Week Message

Among the various tools in my box there is a magic tack hammer. Who I bought it was a piece of soft iron called a "keeper" which was supposed to be kept across the end of the hammer when not in use. The purpose of the "keeper" was to complete the circuit and prevent the flow of magnetism being lost or dissipated on nearby objects. The hammer was able to do its work because the magnetic power was preserved and used as intended.

For some reason the "keeper" of my hammer was not replaced after use. Today the magnetism is so weak it will barely hold a tack in place.

We are our brother's keeper. We have been assigned responsibilities. We are commanded to love our neighbors as ourselves. Social conditions are our concern. But we get busy about our own affairs and power is dissipated in a dozen directions. Our lives are not used as they were intended.

Civil Defence Planning A Matter Of Urgent Necessity

Canada needs Civil Defence. It is an urgent need because: Man still has not learned how to live with man.

A permanent secure world peace has not been achieved.

We are not sure that no enemy can make a successful attack on this country.

These are the views of all government, military, scientific and lay experts. It has been the view of successive cabinets. And all known facts prove it.

HOME FRONT

Civil defence also is important when:

Floods drown a valley.

Hurricanes tear homes to shreds. Fires raze a whole community.

Creston, North Vancouver, Etobicoke and two Quebec towns remember such natural disasters.

The terrible Springhill Nova Scotia mine disaster — hundreds killed, injured; tens of thousands of dollars damage — caught the area unprepared. There was no Civil Defence. Order finally was restored amid confusion.

Witnesses declare proper CD organization could have mitigated the Springhill holocaust; maintained order; saved lives; reduced effects of injury; lessened damage added to damage.

Disaster and suffering taught Springhill the value of CD.

There today, they say "You can't be certain — you can be ready."

SUNDAY PUNCH

If atomic attack on Canada is fully possible now, it will be fatal.

If Vancouver is bombed will areas like the Okanagan Valley be ready to receive fleeing thousands?

If terrible floods pour through the Creston Valley again, can we offer assistance to the waters, evacuate the children, feed the hungry, clothe the naked, care for the sick?

These are questions every Canadian must face seriously. CD organizers state:

They say to live on as a nation we must be able to take an enemy's thermonuclear "Sunday punch" and fire our own.

Victoria declares the Okanagan is best reception area for refugees if the coast is H-bombed.

Interior observers maintain a Civil Defence organization, well trained, well-manned, properly supervised, with public co-operation, established in any good reception area can handle any natural disaster easily and efficiently.

DOUBLE-END

Two things are necessary for this:

We must have weapons for retaliation and the means to deliver them.

We must have a solid home front.

The first belongs to the military. The second is Civil Defence.

Should an atomic attack develop — a Third World War — everybody will be in the front line. There won't be, can't be, any "conchie's." H-Bombs are no respecters of persons or "creeds."

Therefore, CD is everybody's business, vital business and more intimate and personal to each of us than the privacy of a boudoir is to a woman. CD wrongly is described as "the government's job" and the responsibility of "authorities" and "officials."

Indeed, CD is a job for federal co-ordination at national level; it is a job for provincial governments in area planning and training; and it is a job for municipal administration in evacuation, reception and rehabilitation techniques.

Primarily, however, CD is the pigeon of each and every citizen.

PLAN IS USELESS

H-Bomb warfare cannot be dismissed or treated lightly or called off by "Ban the H-Bomb" crusades — not if an enemy decides he wants to indulge in H-Bomb warfare.

Ottawa says we can hope to avert atomic attack only through unremitting efforts towards world peace.

The power to retaliate.

Preparedness to survive attack.

Survival here, is most important; when there isn't anybody left to retaliate or negotiate, there won't be much use in saying "ban the bomb" and "it's the government's job."

Hear this: Canada's department of national health and welfare quotes a few months ago the United Kingdom civil defence organization published a report which said, in effect, that half-a-dozen H-Bombs, accurately planted on Great Britain, would destroy the major part of her population and would render her crushed and helpless.

BETTER HERE

But in Canada, the picture is more encouraging. Cities are scattered and we have lots of space. More of our people are rural and we can expect a great deal more than 30 minutes of warning, which is the best Britain can hope for.

On the other hand, 4,500,000 Canadians — one-quarter of the population — live and work in eight major cities across the nation. Only three of these have strong CD organizations.

A single H-Bomb dropped without warning on any one of these cities would wipe out a large slice of population and cripple the country.

This is the outlook if nothing is done about it. But Civil Defence planning is going ahead with the large aid of the USA, Great Britain and the Canadian Defence Research Board.

And all planning begins with the tough, inescapable fact of the H-Age; the only way to survive is not to be there when it happens. If attack should come a city has only two alternatives — evacuate or die!

STEPS TO SAFETY

First, if CD plans are followed, women, children, aged, sick, hospital staffs, teachers and other priority groups will be removed from target areas. In the case of Vancouver, they will be channelled to the Okanagan Valley. Briefly, one-third of the metropolis will be thinned out to speed up step two.

When attack is certain, the remaining population will be removed. Incidentally, evacuation begins if an attack is launched ANYWHERE on the North American continent.

Evacuation complete, the second problem arises and it is four-pronged.

The problem of shelter has four divisions: livable housing; adequate feeding; family reunion; suitable relocation. This job is no picnic and it can't be handled by the police departments, the community social worker and the mayor.

Only answer is solidly organized Civil Defence.

ARMCHAIR EXPERTS

CD officers do not suggest solving of mammoth evacuation problems is a holiday affair.

They do suggest armchair strategists who decide evacuation is not a practicable possibility, can be numbered among the crowd who say "it can't happen here." They are, just as bad, if not worse, because they speak as authorities while in ignorance of the facts.

Traffic experts calculate planned evacuation can pass 1,000 vehicles per hour by any given point. The Canadian welfare department says one in 10 would be a bus or truck.

CD plans call for every vehicle to be full, with average capacity of each car estimated at five. Trucks and buses would carry approximately 30.

Federal CD authorities maintain Montreal could evacuate 450,000 persons from its downtown area in two hours, using 30,000 vehicles. This would be accomplished in 30 traffic lanes on 11 exit routes and with traffic moving at 25 miles per hour. American tests indicate Montreal's estimates are conservative.

National Health and Welfare says intensive studies show "that communities surrounding a target city can house a number of evacuees as great as the original population of the town. A town of 5,000 can receive and shelter 5,000 evacuees indefinitely for shorter periods considerably larger numbers could be looked after.

Actual CD tests reveal one trained organizer, with two skilled cooks, can feed 1,000 people two meals a day, with emergency equipment.

Meanwhile CD isn't asleep day and night the planning goes on. Great stockpiles of medical and first aid equipment are being accumulated. The materials are being located in strategic areas unlikely to be attacked or damaged by attack. However, it is spotted at points most likely to call for such materials in time of war or natural danger.

Federal authorities say where CD is organized from the top that organization is weak. Where it has strong public support, CD is both strong and conclusive.

National leaders aware of the needs of the day, insist every citizen must do two things to guarantee adequate protection, when disaster in any form strikes:

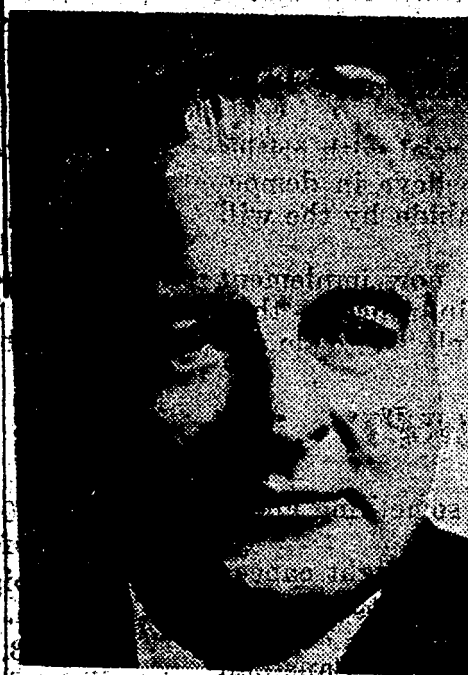

1. He should learn all he can to protect himself and others.

2. He must do all he can to insure his community Civil defence is strong and active.

Civil Defence, says a government bulletin, "offers each man a chance to save a life if disaster occurs — his own!"

Mrs. L.L. Fudge, out in Summerland's banana belt, doesn't know whether to claim she has the earliest cauliflower, of the season or the latest, but they've been coming right along all through the winter and one in particular is making great headway. Not many winters in these parts can boast of producing garden fresh vegetables throughout, as can this one.

CYRUS H. McLEAN

Cyrus H. McLean, former B.C. Telephone Co. official and currently a director of the company, has been named president, succeeding Gordon Farrell, who is now chairman of the board after 30 years as president. The change in the presidency took place at the directors' meeting following the annual meeting on March 13. Born in Prince Edward Island, Mr. McLean came to Vancouver at an early age, joining the B.C. Telephone Co. in 1916. After holding various posts in the B.C. company, he served in an executive capacity in the international telephone field. Lately he has been stationed in New York as director of foreign operations for the General Telephone Corporation.

Baby Shower Greets Newcomer

Mrs. Walter Greber and daughter, Rita, were hostesses for a lovely baby shower for a newcomer to the Trout Creek district, Mrs. Ken Vicars, who recently arrived from Winnipeg, Manitoba.

The living room was decorated with brightly coloured spring flowers on Saturday, March 29. The many baby gifts were presented in a large baby basket complete with decorations.

Games were played and refreshments were served by the following guests: Mrs. R. Smith, Mrs. A. Swanson, Mrs. J. Embree, Mrs. G. Wardle, Mrs. C. Halverson, Mrs. A. Johnston, Mrs. W. Johnston, Mrs. W. Rab-el and Marjorie, Mrs. A. Irving, Mrs. W. Davis and Mrs. B. Far-row, Mrs. N. Reed and Mrs. Stoney and Miss Arlene Embre sent gifts but were unable to attend.

Women's Institute Make Library Centennial Project

The Women's Institute met for their March meeting with the President, Mrs. L. Rumball in the chair. During the business session Mrs. W. R. Powell was elected to be delegate to the Provincial convention to be held in Vancouver May 26 to 29.

The B.C. W.I.s have been recommended to promote libraries as their Centennial project. This seemed to be a most appropriate theme for Summerland in view of our Centennial Library and Health Centre. Two speakers were invited for the meeting: Mrs. J. Dunsdon, as Librarian of the West Summerland branch of the Library; and Mrs. Towgood, to give a book review.

It was as early as 1890 that two small libraries were started in the Okanagan Valley, and some 20 years later that two W.I.s in the northern part of the valley organized others. The books inevitably became dried and worn before Dr. H. Stewart, recognizing the need for some organization and with courage was instrumental in creating the Union Library which now has 57 branches in the valley.

In 1936 the first library in Summerland was opened by Mr. W. R. Powell who was Reeve at that time. It was situated on the school grounds in a small building now demolished. When the new municipal office was built, the library moved into the old building where it now is. In a short time Summerland residents will be able to enjoy the newest and one of the largest libraries in the valley. Here you may choose from a large selection of reference books, fiction, non-fiction or children's books. It is hoped to have a film library and facilities for exhibiting pictures.

Mrs. Towgood gave an interesting book review of Bruce Hutchison's "The Fraser," choosing this as being appropriate to Centennial year as this era played such a prominent part in opening up B.C., thereby creating history of exploration, engineering peak and gold rush days.

This community is served by three libraries. Besides the one in West Summerland there is a branch in Lower Town, operated by Mr. and Mrs. F. Plunkett and the other in Trout Creek operated a present by Mrs. R. Alstead.

Lovely Shower For Margaret Marshall

Mrs. J. Wilcox and Mrs. T. Lott entertained at a Bridal shower and tea at the home of the latter on Monday afternoon, March 24 in honor of Miss Margaret Marshall.

The rooms were decorated with flowering Almond blossoms and gifts were presented in a daintily decorated umbrella. Tea was poured by Mrs. G.

Harper and those attending were Mrs. J. Marshall, Mrs. A. Per-rault and Heather, Mrs. E. Bates, Mrs. Asay, Mrs. G. E. Woolliams, Mrs. S. Feltham, Mrs. D. Mum, Mrs. C. Morgan, Mrs. F. Brinton, Mrs. K. Williams, Mrs. E. Tait, Miss Doreen Tait, Mrs. E. Wilson, Mrs. Art Dunsdon, Mrs. G. Beggs, Mrs. G. Harper, Mrs. F. E. Atkinson, Mrs. Geo. Washington, Mrs. Colin McKenzie, Mrs. D. Dunham, Mrs. Geo. Let's Have a Chat...

by Dot Carston

"Aye lass, but that's correct." Yes, did you know that you curling widows can blame the game on the Scotch? You probably did. But did you know that golfing widows are a result of the same nationality? Yes indeed.

With a swagger of his kilt and a twinkle as only a Scotsman can conjure, he accepts the credit for perfecting two of Canada's national sports.

These Scotian imports are really two variations on the same theme when you think of it; one is played with a ball and club; the other, with a rock, rock and broom. One takes place on the grass; the other on the ice. One aims for the flag on the green; the other, for a broom in the rings. Both concentrate on the stance, the grip, the backswing the forward swing and the follow-through. He begins in May and goes on until November; the other begins in November and carries on until May. Between them, they have contrived to separate husbands from wives and youth from sweethearts for 12 months of the Canadian calendar years! Agree?

Some 75,000 of the "widows" have taken up the throwing of granite and the whisking with brooms. This still leaves however about 175,000 adult females without a weapon to wield during the curling season.

I guess we females are left to learn to look pleased or pained, as the occasion warrants, when curlers or golfers recount their victories or defeats. We should brush up on the game and if handy with knitting needles, design gay little pom-poms or maybe suggest sewing last year's championship crest on the curling sweater. We should prepare dinner early so that the sporting member can get to the club on time and keep a sweet disposition no matter what hour he chooses to return! We should never complain if the curler refuses to change his socks or long underwear as long as his team is winning in bonspiel play. And never, never, relegate his shirts, gloves, ties, hats, or even handkerchiefs, to the laundry or the cleaners until their magic spell has worn off. On birthdays and special holidays, remember the athlete with a gift appropriate to his favorite sport.

If one of these suggestions help seeing your husband or sweetheart at least one night a week — why not take up the "grand old games" in self-defence!

No, she didn't have to sell the car

When a man dies, his widow is confronted with the responsibility of looking after the family. There are so many necessary expenses... so many good things she's used to, like the family car.

This widow didn't have to sell the car. Her husband took a realistic approach to life insurance protection. He carried enough to cover any eventuality.

Carrying such protection is not a burden when you select the company that offers family protection at low net cost. That's The Mutual Life of Canada—the MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA ESTABLISHED 1864, HEAD OFFICE, WATERLOO, ONT.

George Dunsdon Again Heads Rifle Club

At the annual meeting of the Summerland Rifle Club, held at the home of Art Dunsdon last week, George Dunsdon was returned as president for the coming season and Harold Richardson was chosen as Vice-president. Art Dunsdon will carry on as secretary-treasurer and the executive members are B. Simpson, S. Dunsdon, L. Shannon and P. Dunsdon. Harold Richardson will act as range captain, replacing Ted Piers. "Pop" Dunsdon and Ed. Gould were named honorary presidents.

There has been a marked drop in attendance during the past two years, but it is hoped that with the keen interest shown in the Small-bore Club, some members of that organization will want to try their skill with the heavy rifles. Information can be obtained from any member of the club.

The Invitational shoot will be held on June 27, with marksmen from Interior and Coast Clubs competing.

Only three "possible" scores, 100x100, were shot last season, engraved silver spoons being given to Ted Piers, Ray Blag-

WEST SUMMERLAND, B.C.

According To The Mood

By Sid Godber

What say we go back to sea this week? — This blowing of Ripple Rock has whisked me back to salt water. Anyway, it's quite a while since I went fishing in this column.

So Ripple Rock is gone — now a boat will be able to shoot down through Johnstone Straits and on down through the Seymour Narrows on a flood tide without worry about that nasty corner at Maud Island. But though Ripple Rock is gone the Yuclataw Rapids remain and it is up and down through the Yuclataw that the big percentage of the mosquito fleet, the fishing fleet travels.

Shooting the Yuclataws at slack water, especially at high tide, is as calm and peaceful as a trip across Okanagan Lake when there isn't a breath of wind. It's like a river, a very placid river, but try it when the tide is running and on a big run out and then brother — look out!

I have a lot of respect for those Yuclataws — never did believe in monkeying around with them and so, one fall, coming down from the northern fishing grounds I carefully planned my run through the Yuclataws.

I came through Green Point rapids and anchored overnight in a little bay — carefully set the alarm, after studying the tide book allowing myself a half hour's running to get into the bad stretch just on slack water.

Up betimes, a savory grilse caught the night before for breakfast up anchor and away right on schedule.

I thought the tide seemed to be running fast for just before slack, but checked the tide book, and the clock with the radio, and found I was right on the button.

Out in the channel and my seven knot ship, "FOUR FREEDOMS" was going like a greyhound, altogether too much like a greyhound. I checked the tide book and the clock again — I was right on the button — but the Four Freedoms was now just surging along. Suddenly she heeled over a big whirl opened up. This was not slack water. Suddenly, and with a knotting in my stomach, I realized my fool error. A city newspaperman who liked to follow the news, I kept my clock on radio time — on Daylight Saving Time, but the tide book tables don't take any account of man's fooling around with the clock. I was heading into the Yuclataw an hour after slack water on a flood tide, with the whole thing made worse by the steady piling up of the seas through a stiff 24 hour westerly blow.

Actually the Yuclataws are like the neck of the bottle. The big Pacific tides sweep around both ends of Vancouver Island and meet mid that tangled mass of islands and tortuous waterways. It creates a turmoil beyond belief and I was into it.

There was no going back, my boat just couldn't buck that tide sweep. It was a case of go through. What seemed like a big hand grabbed my keel — the boat spun I fought the wheel like a maniac and the boat heeled and heeled — the gunwale was under water — she was going to turn turtle — then with a tremendous effort I made myself kick out the clutch and let go the wheel — the boat spun, slowly righted and swung in ever widening circles carried out from the centre of the whirl — almost clear I jammed in the clutch and gave her the throttle and the Four Freedoms shot clear of the monster.

On our merry way we went the Four Freedoms thrown hither and yon, spun like a top.

I looked down as we skinned by one whirlpool, its whirling sides were smooth as glass and spinning on end dead centre like a top, was a big log. Suddenly that log just popped straight up and had the boat been over it, would have stove her in.

It's about a two mile course down through the worst of the Yuclataws, and at the speed I was going it didn't take very long — but I lived two lifetimes in that short space of time.

Better men than I, better seamen and in much bigger and more seaworthy boats have had the daylight's scared out of them in the Yuclataws.

I mind the time I was heading up Burrard Inlet into Vancouver and my engine conked — I dropped a trolling pole as a signal of distress, a big packer, an 80 footer, drew alongside and my boat was lashed to her side. The crew worked silently and I was puzzled at the lack of the usual banter. I went up the wheelhouse and chatted with the skipper.

I asked him when he sailed out again.

He smiled rather grimly. "I dunno, I don't think the boys will want to sail for a few days and neither do I," he said.

Seems that the crew anxious to get back for Saturday night in Vancouver had voted to run the Yuclataws. Seems that they hit it at its very worst — seems they had such a ride that they'll never forget.

And I won't forget my ride.

If you sail a 150 or so miles nor, norwest out of the Lions Gate you'll come to Stuart Island and the foot of the Yuclataws, if you're smart, you'll keep a weather eye on the fishing boats and when you see them start to go in a herd, then join 'em, they'll have timed it to hit the rapids on the slack tide and they won't be reading the tide tables on Daylight Saving Time.

Ripple Rock is blown — but the Yuclataws will go on acting up forever.

Mushrooming Subdivisions Create Problem For Council

Summerland Macs Open Season Here Sunday

If you're not sure about spring being here you can become convinced by going to Athletic Park, on Sunday afternoon.

Yes, it's ball time again and on Sunday the Summerland Macs will trot out against the Princeton nine in the season opener.

Game time is 2:30.

At the recent annual meeting, Tommy Hooker was re-elected president of the club, Frak Kuroda is vice-president; Nan Thornwaite, secretary-treasurer. Directors are Terry Farrow, Bill Eyre and Jim Newton.

Coach is Gordie Taylor and Tiny Hankins is coach of the juniors, the Summerland Red Sox.

So, it's ball time again — first game Sunday at the Athletic Park, 2:30 p.m., Summerland vs. Princeton.

Summerland has growing pains and the number of new subdivisions being created, or in prospect, are causing Municipal Council to ponder deeply upon the water situation.

Council is faced with taking temporary measures to meet the need of the mushrooming subdivisions for pressure water supply or planning for and going ahead in the immediate future with a comprehensive plan for domestic water starting right at the reservoir with a new main.

Council was notified Tuesday of a new subdivision in the Sandhill area, The McAndless-Dunn subdivision, in which it is proposed to build at the rate of three to four first class residences a year up to a 20-home development.

Promoters of the subdivision, however want assurance that domestic water will be available.

"We have the water, but it is a matter of getting it where we want it and how much we can afford," commented Councillor F. E. Stewart.

Councillor Eric Tait suggested that sooner or later the council would have to do something about providing for domestic water to keep pace with the changing face of Summerland.

The situation exists, not only on the Sandhills, but up here too, commented Councillor Norman Holmes. New houses are going up right and left.

Council was generally agreed that some action had to be taken: Councillor Walter B. Powell pointed out that expenditure now, meant revenue later.

Reeve F. E. Atkinson reminded council that under the provincial government's policy, the municipality could borrow for water improvements without reducing its credit in the event there was need of further borrowing for other development.

As the situation stands now, it is possible that a survey of the water situation, will be made, but council appeared to fully recognize that early action is called for.

Building Permits Down In March

Building permits for the first three months of 1958 total $140,575.00 as against only $55,500 for the first three months of March building permits were, however, down from last year, with 16 permits for $37,125 issued last month as against $43,250 in March of last year.

Of the 16 permits issued in March, five were for new dwellings, and 11 for alterations, including $13,225 for the Trout Creek School addition.

Municipal Council Wants A Cleaner, Tidier Summerland

Municipal Council will stand wholeheartedly behind the Board of Trade's paint up and clean up campaign which is to be given added emphasis this spring in an effort to have Summerland spruced up for Centennial Year.

Council expressed annoyance at its Tuesday meeting over the indiscriminate dumping of cans and cartons and the Reeve is appealing to the people of Summerland to take greater care in disposing of rubbish.

"We can expect a heavy influx of tourists owing to the provincial Centennial celebrations and we want Summerland to show to the best advantage," commented Reeve Atkinson.

Cancer Society Gives Health Centre $2,000

A grant of $2,000 was received by the municipality from the B.C. Cancer Society towards erecting the new Health Centre building which is rapidly going up here. Work is being done by the municipal works' crew under K. M. Blogmore, superintendent.

At an executive meeting of the local branch of the Cancer Society the campaign measures for this year were discussed. The Kiwanis Club has undertaken the canvass.

Others present were local president of the Cancer Society, Dr. J. C. Wilcox, George Lewis, vice-president.

Mrs. Eric Smith, head of the welfare committee for the organization, Mrs. George Lewis, Mrs. E. R. Butler and J. E. O'Mahony, representative of Summerland Hospital Society.

Horticultural Society Spring Show, April 16

The Summerland Horticultural Society program for this month promises to be very interesting. There will be a parlour show consisting of seven classes for spring flowers. The speaker and his subject will tie in with a series of lectures by UBC professors. At the meeting on Wednesday, April 16, Mr. George Robinson, of Penticton, will give a talk on shrubs.

The series of lectures will be given at various B.C. centres during April and May and will deal with "Horticultural Landscaping." More information about them can be obtained by attending the Wednesday meeting or from Alec Watt.

Poultry Trade Growth Warrants West Office

The Poultry Products Institute of Canada has opened a western office in Vancouver. This is the outcome of a decision made at this year's annual meeting held in Winnipeg.

According to S.L. Rodway, general manager of the P.P.I., of Toronto, the institute deemed a western office desirable in view of the size of the poultry business in British Columbia.

Effort of the institute is directed primarily toward increased use of eggs, poultry and turkey meat in Canada. Despite a limited budget for advertising it has helped to increase consumption as the sale of poultry meat in Canada has doubled in the past twenty years.

Poultry production from the farms of British Columbia accounts for one quarter of the province's agricultural revenue and is second only to dairy farming in gross value.

Dairy farmers have for a number of years undertaken an annual program of contributions from producers and all segments of the industry to finance a broad advertising campaign to acquaint the housewife with the value of dairy foods in the A similar plan has been under discussion by the B. C. section of the Poultry Products Institute in order to raise sufficient revenue to sell the increasing volume of eggs, poultry and turkey meat off B. C. farms.

Out of 24,000 farm families in B. C. it has been estimated that the poultry provides the major portion of income for 4,000 of those families.

With the establishment of an office in Vancouver under the management of J. C. Hackney, of B. C. Agricultural Consultants Ltd., it is hoped that program can be undertaken which will assist the B. C. poultry farmers to follow a more progressive job of merchandising their products.

Trade Board Meeting Here On Thursday

Summerland Board of Trade will hold its regular monthly dinner meeting in the IOOF Hall on Thursday night, starting at 6:45 p.m.

There are many important topics to be discussed, one being "Summerland's Tourist Potential."

Dr. William Rose Addresses Members of the AOTS

Members and visitors had the opportunity here recently of hearing a speaker of outstanding quality.

Dr. W. Rose, who is an international authority on Slavic problems, has spent a number of years in Europe and holds a degree from a Polish university as well as honorary degrees from several other universities. During World War II he was teaching at a university in London, England. Later he returned to Canada and taught at UBC. Since his retirement he has been teaching and lecturing at Narmanata Training School where he is affectionately known as "Uncle Bill."

Dr. Rose gave his audience a clear and concise resume of what has happened in Russia since the revolution of 1917 and a brief outline of some of the causes and events leading up to it. What started as a Communism in Russia is now Monopoly State Capitalism. Most countries under Russian domination are only about one per cent true

Reds. How long Russia can keep these countries subservient with pro Russian puppet governments is a vital question. Poland has already won a measure of freedom by electing her own government and a return to a free press. The hope of all Russian satellite countries is that they will not be forgotten by the western countries.

A few pertinent questions were asked which Dr. Rose answered very fully. Many more questions would have been asked had time permitted.

It is a privilege for any audience to listen to a man who has such a comprehensive knowledge of world affairs and the ability to pass it on to his listeners in such an interesting manner. It was the sincere hope of all present that they might hear Dr. Rose speak again at some future date.

A short business meeting followed. T. B. Young will be guest speaker at the April Meeting and will speak on his recent trip to Hawaii.

B OF M PERSONAL CHEQUING ACCOUNT SIMPLIFIES PAYING MONTHLY BILLS

Almost everyone agrees the quickest and safest way of paying bills is by cheque. Until recently, there have been only two types of accounts on which to draw cheques — current accounts and savings accounts.

Now there's a new type of account specially designed by the Bank of Montreal to meet the needs of husband and wife who pay by cheque. It's the B. of M Personal Chequing Account, available at the Summerland branch.

Personal chequing accounts are economical to operate. You pay nothing in advance for your cheque-book, the service charge is only ten cents a cheque. And there's no charge for deposits to your account as there is with a current account in which there's a charge of ten cents for each entry.

With a B of M personal chequing account, you receive a quarterly statement, instead of a passbook. And your cancelled cheques, which are held by the bank for 20 years, are readily available to provide the best possible receipt for the bills you've paid.

If you'd like to hear more about this convenient new B of M service, Doug Galloway, accountant at the Summerland branch of the B of M will be happy to give you the details. See him soon!

Early Treatment Can Save Cancer Victims

More than 2,600 new cases of cancer will be found in B.C. this year and 1,560 of the patients may be cured if treated early enough, the president of the Canadian Cancer Society said today.

Carl B. French of Toronto cited the statistics to show the importance of the Society's education and research campaigns in the fight against cancer. He spoke to the annual meeting of the B.C. Division of the Society in Hotel Vancouver Monday attended by delegates from throughout the province.

Picking up after the pruner.

THE FATE OF ELVIS A certain young singer named Elvis, Sang as he wiggled his pelvis. His belt came undone, And my did he run! Thus was the fate of poor Elvis!

GOLF The golf course lies so near the mill That almost every day, The labouring children can look out And see the men at play.

"I cannot say too many times or too emphatically," he said, "that the future of our fight to control cancer lies in the success in first finding the cure through research and secondly to save lives through early diagnosis and treatment."

Mr. French outlined the growth of cancer research in Canada in the past 11 years and praised volunteers of the Society for the job they have done in raising funds to support this scientific work.

He said the research program which started in a small way has progressed to the stage where special cancer research centres at universities may be set up across Canada.

One was established at the University of Saskatchewan last year and a Toronto university group has been combined in one centre.

"This trend toward research units or their equivalent is a national development which we had long hoped to see," Mr. French said.

He also said the establishment of such centres will cost more — "but the results, we are confident, will be much greater" — and this will mean the Society will have to raise more money in its annual Conquer Cancer campaign.

B.C.'s campaign starts April 1 with units throughout the province asking for $250,000 to carry on research, education and patient welfare programs.

"The success of our annual campaign is more vital each year," Mr. French said.

"The Society, because of its rapid advances has not been able to accumulate reserves of funds and our bank accounts throughout Canada are at a low point.

"If it were not for our campaign next month we would find it necessary to consider reduction is some of our most essential services."

Mr. French said the Society's education program is important because many forms of cancer can be successfully treated if found in the early stages.

The education program is designed to keep the public informed of progress against the disease and its seven danger signals.

"Let's start with the proposition that approximately three out of every five persons who get cancer will respond to early treatment," Mr. French said.

"It is to this group that we must direct our efforts and bring them to treatment before it is too late."

He said that "it can be estimated that 2,600 new cases of cancer will develop in B.C. this year. Of these, nearly 1,560 on an average will get cancer in an accessible site which may be cured if treated early enough."

"If we knew who these 1,560 people would be our education program would be simple. But we do not know. All that we know is that it can be anyone in any part of the province."

"Consequently, we must organize our program with an ultimate objective of reaching everyone in the province."

When The Canvassers Call - Be Generous

They Liked Our Singers and Players

Ed. Note — Machine limitations, plus election time, prevented us from giving a complete review of this year's presentation of the Summerland Singers and Players Club — "The Pirates of Penzance." What we did say was that it was a distinctly professional performance.

Our high opinion of the performance is upheld by the opinion of reviewers in Peniticon and Kelowna and we take great pleasure in reproducing here the review of the Summerland club's presentation, as it appeared in the Kelowna Courier.

From the Courier

Tuesday night's performance of "The Pirates of Penzance", one of Gilbert and Sullivan's best known and ever popular burlesque operettas proved to be outstanding. The Summerland Singers' and Players' Club put forth their customary miraculous presentation which fascinated the capacity audience no end. Individual performances — vocal, solos and duets were a great deal of praise. Corsetry extremely well done and desecutive wit combined with engaging airs made this thread of nonsense a delightful entertainment.

Kelvin Macleod was the perfect choice for the part he so exquisitely portrayed, that of Major-General Stanley. In an amazing patter song he described the accomplishment that made him the "very model of a modern Major - General". This certainly brought the house down. The Major-General had the ingenious power of combining ideas with ludicrous effect — particularly when finding himself in a very serious predicament, the deprivation of himself and the giving up of his bevy of beautiful daughters to the convivial band of pirates.

Joe Morrison's interpretation of the Pirate King was very satisfying and his vivid personality added keen enjoyment. Distancing of his part was Ken Bothe as Samuel, the King's lieutenant, Ken with a becoming personality was truly suited playing a magnificent underdog for the part.

The intriguing tenor voice of David Jensen as Frederick (the Pirate Apprentice) was most appealing to the audience. Frederic's life was made miserable being apprenticed by mistake to a jovial band of pirates. He carried the romantic part with Mabel, which includes some lovely, memorable musical numbers, in spite of heavy cold.

Delmer Dunham as the Sergeant of Police overwhelmed the audience with his penetrating, full sounding bass voice and extremely valuable acting ability.

A very attractive, lady with a beautiful coloratura voice who captivated the audience, was Fran Johnson who played the part of Mabel, the lead opposite Frederic. Mabel, a beautiful maiden, one of the daughters of Major-General Stanley falls in love with Frederic, and the two of them together formed a delightful duet.

Flora Bergstrom in the portrayal of one of Major-General Stanley's daughters with a lovely rich soprano voice also showed splendid acting skill. Laura Boothe and Peggy Johnston, also daughters of the Major-General gave convincing portrayals in their sweet and shy manners.

Certainly no newcomer to the club, Alma Fudge, the Pirate Maid of all work will be well-remembered for her colorful contralto voice and excellent acting ability. Acting as Ruth, the nurse to Frederic, she made a mistake of apprenticing him to a "pirate" instead of a "pilot."

The uniformly wonderful performances by the chorus, the gay, elaborate costumes (which were excellent), the very impressive scenery and the superb make-up pictures were great contributors in creating this eminent achievement.

A tip of the lid goes to Rod Butler for directing his orchestra with great skill which was proven by the wonderful results. Illustrious praise must be credited to Stan Gladwell, producer and director of this fabulous performance, responded, so well by the audience. A terrific amount of time and labor went into this production and Stan Gladwell can be assured of a job well done.

NINETEEN FIFTY-EIGHT

It Is A Duty

Most of us have difficulty in accepting the possibility of nuclear warfare. The mind balks at the prospect and so, ostrich-like, we incline to bury our heads in the sand.

It is this refusal of the mind to accept the possibility of nuclear war that makes it so difficult to organize for civil defence. It is natural that if we refuse to accept the reality of the thing we should also refuse to stir ourselves to do something about it.

Consequently we think the Summerland Municipal Council is to be commended for its excellent plan, whereby key municipal employees and others in strategic positions have been drafted to form the nucleus of the civil defence corp for this area.

It is generally conceded that in the event of nuclear war that the Okanagan would be a reception area for refugees from the crowded lower mainland.

Here, in Summerland, we must prepare to absorb almost overnight, some 4,000 people. That is our job — if war has to come — we can do no less. We owe it to those people working and living in the target areas to be prepared to offer them succor if the need should arise.

Municipal Council has, we believe, made a good start in naming key personnel to the business of preparedness.

Every sane-minded person hopes and prays that nuclear war will not be unleashed. It is almost unthinkable and, we like to think, very unlikely — but we insure against accident, fire, theft — we hope such things aren't going to happen to us — but we do take precautions.

Civil defence is in the category of insurance — it makes sense in this day and age, when two mighty nations stand glowering at the other — each with hydrogen bombs and what not, poised for delivery.

And, even if the need through war does not arise for our civil defence preparations — remember that mother nature can be more terrible even than a hydrogen bomb armed enemy, and that an efficient civil defence organization can be of equal value in dealing with a catastrophe of nature as with a catastrophe of war.

Chamber Of Commerce Week

The economic system which has brought to Canadians one of the highest standards of living in the world walks hand in hand with the political system of democracy. Both of these systems draw their strength — and indeed owe their very existence — to individual freedom.

Most Canadians accept this as a fact. Freedom of enterprise, freedom of speech, freedom of association, freedom to act within the limits of the public welfare are all qualities and attributes which must be preserved. One of the great dangers of our day is that these all-important freedoms will be lost by default.

The apathy and indifference of the citizens of the free world provide one of the great challenges to our way of life. The fact that so many people neglect to exercise their franchise at the time of a federal, provincial or municipal election is only one evidence of this neglect and indifference.

On all sides there is evidence of culpable ignorance with respect to the simplest economic facts, with respect to legislation affecting the lives of each and every individual, with respect to candidates for public office. How long can democracy survive this apathetic callousness?

During the week of April 13, "Chamber of Commerce Week," the eyes of all Canadians will be focused on the Chamber of Commerce movement in Canada. This week has been set aside to bring about a greater understanding and appreciation at the local level of the role of the Chamber of Commerce movement in developing a sense of citizenship responsibility and in building Canadian communities for the national good.

A Board of Trade or a Chamber of Commerce — in Canada these terms mean the same — is an organization of the forward-looking citizens of the community banded together to promote the civic, commercial, industrial and agricultural progress of the community and district which it serves.

This is a textbook definition — and a good one — but a vigorous and effective Board of Trade or Chamber of Commerce is a good deal more than that. It can be called the conscience and the will of the community — the conscience to see and to recognize the needs and the wants of that community and the will to take effective action.

At this time Canada can look back upon a period of great progress and prosperity. When she is now gathering her resources for another assault upon the future it is imperative that in every community there be established a strong group of community leaders. Leaders with vision to see — and willingness to do — the things which will make that community a living part of the development which still lies ahead.

Through the provincial organization of Boards and Chambers, the unified views of community and business leaders can be brought to bear on provincial problems. The combined thinking of many hundreds of men and women interested in and concerned with problems affecting provincial legislation are brought to the attention of government in the interests of all those within the province.

Through the national federation of more than 750 Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce from Vancouver Island to Newfoundland — The Canadian Chamber of Commerce — the federal government is made aware of the thinking of Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce from one end of Canada to the other.

The federal government recognizes that the recommendations of The Canadian Chamber of Commerce have always been characterized by a full and considered attention to the problems of Canada and have reflected a high sense of national responsibility. The cellular structure of the Chamber of Commerce movement in Canada far exceeds in number, in strength and in purpose the so-called cells of Communism.

Through the Chamber of Commerce movement, members become aware of problems at the grass roots level, at the regional level, at the provincial and at the national level. Through their Chamber organizations, careful study is given to these problems, legislation is scrutinized and the vitality of democracy is demonstrated day by day.

It is not too much to say that as the Chamber of Commerce movement grows democracy becomes a revitalized and growing force in this country of ours. You can play a part by supporting your own Board of Trade or Chamber of Commerce. The Chamber of Commerce movement in Canada stands for good citizenship, good government and good business.

SAVINGS WITH A PURPOSE

Yes, indeed, some children are saving to buy something special — a bicycle, a typewriter, books, etc. Others are saving for further education or training. One family is depositing the monthly family allowance cheque as saving for University training. There are youngsters putting earnings aside for use when they leave school and need tools or equipment or capital for job or business.

According To The Mood

By Sid Godber

This week, this column is going to be profound and not only profound, but as full of conceit as an egg is of meat. I'm going to do nothing less than tell Prime Minister Diefenbaker not only how to run the country — but how to solve the issue of war or peace.

I was more or less challenged to this column by a caustic remark during an argument in which I was severely critical of the Conservatives proposed public works program as a panacea for depression.

"Maybe you think you could do better," snarled my Conservative, at the moment not so friendly friend.

"Most certainly," I answered with cool aplomb.

So, here is what I would do if I was as supreme in the land as is John G. Diefenbaker today.

First things first — the home front. This columnist does not believe that any government, regardless of political stripe can buy its way out of depression — but government has a responsibility to the unemployed, as well as contributing to maintaining our standard of living.

Federal public works have their values, but the program is spotty and the effects concentrated in small areas.

Now, if I was Prime Minister I would make available at only nominal interest, sufficient to cover cost of handling, almost unlimited money to each and every municipality, village, town, and city in Canada. This money would be loaned for municipal development, with only one stipulation, that it be spent on maximum labor employment projects.

Only last week our Municipal Council was considering the problem of supplying water to newly created subdivisions. If Summerland could get the necessary cash on a long term repayment at practically no interest, I'm sure Summerland council would jump at the chance of renewing and replanning its entire water system — same goes for the very real necessity of a beach in lower town which Summerland needs if it is to capture its share of the tourist dollars. Summerland could certainly use money on say a 40, yes, even a 60 year, repayment plan — very very low interest — multiply Summerland by every other municipality, large and small in Canada, and there would instantly be created from coast to coast in Canada a surge of work that would shore up our sagging economy until the derailed old chugger of supply and demand had been set back on the tracks.

But where is the money coming from for such wide-spread municipal works program, you might ask.

The answer to that one — in 1939 Canada was still in the throes of depression — came the fatal September 10, when Canada followed the Mother Country into World War II. Overnight the jobless became heroes. They were given good uniforms — good food — good pay and fantastically costly equipment — built for no other purpose than to destroy. Where did the money come from for that?

Well, we're paying for it today and generations of Canadians, still unborn, will continue to pay for it.

If money can be poured into the drain of war without heed, then, why cannot money, derived from the same source, a pledge on the people and natural resources of Canada unto the third fourth and fifth generations, be poured into war against depression. And, except, of course, for that basic issue of freedom — admittedly beyond price — future generations have nothing to show for the war they're paying for. But money poured into constructive work in Canada would be of physical benefit to future generations.

So, I don't see any problem, about money — but if Prime Minister Diefenbaker doesn't want to pledge future generations altogether to fight the battle of depression in Canada today, then he can get a sizable chunk of money from another source — cut defence spending to the bone.

Canada a nation of 16,000,000, is trying to make noises like a nation of 100,000,000. Last week we put an aircraft into the air for preliminary testing that has already cost the taxpayers of Canada $200,000,000. Two hundred million and it will cost many, many times that amount and about three years to make the aircraft operational. And by that time the thing is almost sure to be obsolete.

It doesn't make sense. Then to make sure that the Reds and the Yanks don't start playing pitch and catch with nuclear weapons, if I were John Diefenbaker, I'd hie me to the United Nations. I'd tell them down there that Canada would contribute to maintaining an international police force — just to put out bush fires such as the ones that flare sporadically on the Israeli, Arab borders. Then I would suggest that instead of NATO and SETO and all the other alphabetical symbols standing for armed alliances I'd say, if I were John Diefenbaker, let's create one world-wide organization called FABW — meaning For A Better World. Member nations instead of draining away their financial innards on defense would contribute to building a huge fleet of merchant ships. This huge fleet of freighters would be under command of FABW's top brass and it would be used to ship at no cost either to shipper or buyer the world's surpluses to the have not nations.

The government of the nation with the surplus would be responsible for seeing that the surplus got to shipside.

In this way surpluses such as Canadian wheat, Canadian apples would be brought within price range of the people who need them and need them badly.

The primary producer only gets 13 per cent of the retail price of his product thanks to handling and freighting charges. With the big cost of freighting eliminated — poorer countries could buy our Canadian products and primary producers would receive basically fair prices — and no one would be any worse off — because I'm sure that Mr. Diefenbaker could have statisticians work out that the cost of maintaining a merchant fleet — the cost to individual countries of absorbing freight charges on surpluses to shipside would be cheaper than pouring billions into a nonsensical arms race, which sooner or later is going to end in an explosion.

So there you have it — almost unlimited funds for municipal works as the major prop under the sagging economy. Defence spending except for say a division and an air squadron for the international police force, cut right out. Canadian participation in a world shipping fleet and Canadian government responsibility to seeing to it that Canadian surpluses reach shipside for shipment to the havenot nations. That in my opinion adds up to, PEACE, PROSPERITY and PLENTY.

What do you think Am I having pipe dreams?

This Ladies Bridge Four Just Couldn't Believe Their Eyes

Four Summerland ladies, bridge players all, Mrs. Bob Alstead, Mrs. George Harper, Mrs. Gordon McArthur, and Mrs. Eric Brinton, were enjoying a brisk game yesterday with nothing more exciting than the odd double — then one of the four laid down her hand with a triumphant laugh — no point playing this hand — she had thirteen of a kind, from King to Ace. You and me both, said a second player laying down — thirteen of a kind; count me in, said player number three and she too laid down — thirteen of a kind — obviously, I'm right along with you, said player number four, laying down thirteen of a kind. Definitely one for Ripley, don't you think.

An example of where money contributed to the cancer fund goes is illustrated in the above picture where Reeve F. E. Atkinson is shown receiving a $2,000 cheque from Dr. J. C. Kiwanis Cancer Fund Blitz Set For Monday

Summerland Kiwanians will hit hard and fast on Monday night in a blitz campaign, designed to raise in one night of canvassing the sum of $1,200, as Summerland's quota of the province-wide cancer fund campaign.

Chairman of the drive is "Hilly" Smith, and he is confident that Summerland will open its purse strings wide, as it always does for good cause.

Cancer clinics have over the years saved thousands of Canadians from untimely death by early diagnosis and early treatment.

Cancer research today stands on the threshold of major discoveries which may mean that cancer, one of the greatest of today's scourges will soon be defeated. But the fight is not yet won and to win that fight to keep cancer research and cancer clinics operating, money is required.

Says "Hilly" Smith, "when the Kiwanians knock on your door on Monday night April 21, give and give generously.

Your money will never be spent in a wretched or more humanitarian cause."

S'land Town Band Plays In Festival Thurs.

The Summerland Town Band, comprised of 28 members, will be playing their Festival number in the Okanagan Valley Music Festival at 7:30 on Thursday evening in the Penticton High School Auditorium.

The band's selection is the overture, "Gnome of the Grotto" by R. E. Hildreth. It is an interesting number that should be enjoyed by everyone. Last year the Summerland band won high praise from the adjudicator.

Warren Herman of M. W. Graves and Co., Ltd., Berwick, Nova Scotia, is spending some weeks here while studying at the Experimental Station's fruit Processing Laboratory. He is especially interested in vacuum processing of apples, using equipment designed by the laboratory and installed by B.C. Fruit Processors. Mr. Herman's company is purchasing similar equipment, manufactured by Elliot Brass and Copper Company, in Vancouver.

Students Compete Here Saturday For U.N. Trip

South Okanagan students with their eyes set on far away New York will compete at the High School Auditorium on Friday night, April 18, for the coveted reward of an all expense paid trip across Canada and the United States, with one full week in New York.

It's all part of the Rebekah and Oddfellow's sponsored continent-wide endeavor to promote, in the words of article one of the United Nations charter, "To promote and encourage respect for fundamental freedoms for all without distinction as to race, sex, language or religion."

Delay in building the Penticton bypass was criticized by the Summerland Board of Trade at its regular monthly meeting held in the IOOF Hall last Thursday.

Reeve F. E. Atkinson said he could understand Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi delaying work on the Kruger's Hill project during Centennial year, but he couldn't see why work could not be proceeded with immediately on the bypass which would not affect tourist or other travel.

Delegates to the quarterly meeting of the South Okanagan Board of Trade will seek support of that organization to a Summerland request for an early start on the bypass.

Blinker lights are much more effective in slowing down traffic than just the line painted crosswalks, in the opinion of the Board and Joe Biello, chairman of the traffic committee was instructed to request provincial authorities to have blinker lights installed at what the board members consider two dangerous locations, at the top of Peach Orchard Hill and Highway 97 known as the five corners, and another the Trout Creek crossing.

Official celebration of the British Columbia Centennial will start in this community with a Day of Prayer on April 27, 1958. This day will be observed all over B.C. in the same manner. The local service is being arranged by Alex Watt, a member of the Summerland Centennial Committee in co-operation with members of the local Ministerial Association.

The service will be at 2:30 at the Band Shell in the Memorial Park, West Summerland. Several members of the local clergy will take part in the service and the address will be given by Rev. Joseph James, a native son of Summerland. The massed choir will be under the leadership of K. Storey, choir-master of the St. Andrew's United Church.

Part of the service will be the dedication and raising of the official Centennial Flag.

The Centennial committee will arrange limited seating at the Park but it is suggested that citizens bring blankets or deck chairs.

Mr. Doug Campbell, chairman of the June 4th Centennial Celebration "Entertainment Through the Years" is now holding weekly committee meetings on Wednesday evening at the Municipal office. Mr. Campbell reports the enthusiastic co-operation of many individuals and clubs and requests that others willing to help contact him with their ideas or attend the Wednesday meetings. A full day's program of interest to all ages is taking shape.

Chairman of the entertainment committee for Summerland's June 4th Centennial Celebrations has announced some plans for the big event. A pet parade at 10 a.m.; a picnic luncheon with tea and coffee. (continued on back page)

Gideon Speaker Here Saturday

Dr. D. J. Kirkbride of Nanaimo will be here Saturday, April 19, to address a fellowship banquet sponsored by the local Gideon Camp, to be held in the Parish Hall at 6:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Dr. Kirkbride practices in Nanaimo, and is a prominent layworker in the United Church there. He is Gideon Zone leader for Vancouver Island, and on the Board of Trustees of the Dominion Cabinet. Dr. Kirkbride has just recently returned from a conference of the Canadian and U.S.A. Cabinets in Mobile, Alabama.

Gideons make available each year a New Testament, with Psalms and Proverbs for every Grade 5 student in Canada, and endeavor to present every serviceman and nurse with one. Gideons place Bibles in many places and in many lands, so that the travellers, or those in public institutions, can read God's word. The work and the results are both challenging and exciting. The Gideons therefore invite peoples of all faiths to fellowship together and thrill to the account of their stewardship, locally, nationally and world-wide.

Dr. Kirkbride will also speak at the Sunday morning service at the Summerland Baptist Church.

Lynne Boothe Winner At Music Festival

A talented Summerland youngster, Lynne Boothe, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Boothe, is the first Summerland contestant to make her mark at the Okanagan Valley Music Festival, which opened in Penticton, Monday.

Miss Boothe was the outstanding contestant in the junior advanced pianoforte class, winning the Vernon United Church Cup. Of her performance Adjudicator Dr. Leon Forrester said: "A lovely subtle variation is used in the treatment of the melody."

Not only did the young Summerland artist win high praise for her rendition of Chopin's "Valse" Op. 69, No. 1 which won her the under 16 pianoforte solo class but she also took the honors in the under 16 pianoforte solo, modern music class. Adjudicator Forrester said that in her rendition of a Bela Bartok rondo, she was "accurate and realized much of the variable Hungarian style all the way through."

Only two points behind the winner and one point behind the second placer was Trudy Gartrell of Summerland, who scored 84 points in the under 10 year pianoforte class.

So many entries are in this year that the 32nd annual Okanagan Valley Music Festival will run through six full days. It is being held at the Penticton High School Auditorium.

Top Canadian School Band To Play Here

The S. J. Willis Junior High School Band directed by Mr. C. Howard Denike, past president of the British Columbia School Instrumental Teachers' Association and vice-president of the Canadian Bandmasters' Association will give a concert in the High School Auditorium Saturday, April 26 at 8 p.m. This group won top honours at the Canadian band competitions in Waterloo, Ontario, and is considered one of the best school bands in Canada.

They are on tour through the interior and on their last day are stopping in Summerland before returning to Victoria Sunday morning. Proceeds will go towards the proposed Summerland High School Band trip to the states in May.

Midwest Shows Here Next Week Mon., Tues., Wed.

There are, undoubtedly, a lot more important dates in the Summerland calendar than April 21, 22 and 23 — but for the young people, from the very small fry, to the spry oldsters, next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday will be red letter days.

For it's carnival time — Midwest Shows with thrilling rides geared to, age, nerves and stomach condition, will whirl and burll its way through three days of fun and frolic on the grounds adjacent to the new Health Centre east of Memorial Park.

For The Record, Final And Official Ballot Figures

Official balloting figures for Okanagan-Boundary riding during the March 31 federal election as released by returning officer Donald H. McLeod.

These figures vary somewhat from the first list, as they now include the armed services vote. The armed services vote in this riding totalled 338, according to Mr. McLeod. Final figures were: Henry Carson (SC) 3,470; W. A. Gilmour (L) 2,655; O. L. Jones (CCF) 7,821; D. V. Pugh (PC) 13,005. Rejected ballots: 114. Total vote cast: 27,125.

There were 33,281 eligible voters on the list for this riding, but it is not known here how many members of the armed forces, and currently serving outside the riding, who were eligible.

In the June 10, 1957, election, there were 113 rejects, with 24,023 total votes cast out of a riding list of 32,004.

White Elephant, or asset? Much argument pro and con has been generated by the foregoing question, when applied to ice arenas and opinion is still divided.

Our opinion is that any arena which provides healthy recreation, particularly for the young of the community from the very small fry to the teen agers, is a distinct asset, regardless of the balance sheet.

Here in Summerland we have an arena which is a proud monument to community endeavor, but unfortunately, having built it, most people want to forget it.

A Matter of Policy

During election time there was something of a spat between former Social Credit M.P. Frank C. Christian and the Kelowna Courier.

Mr. Christian charged that the Kelowna Courier had not printed his news releases from Ottawa which he maintained was a right. The Courier came right back to say that it wasn't obligated to print Mr. Christian's news releases.

A storm in a tea cup — but one related to this newspaper's policy. The Review believes that the member for Okanagan Boundary, regardless of his political persuasion is entitled not by right, but by courtesy, to a reasonable amount of newspaper space in which to report to his constituents.

The Review always gave column space to O. L. Jones, it did so for Mr. Christian and more often than not has printed extracts from Community ice arenas benefit the community in the exact ratio to which they are utilized and supported by the community.

On Monday, April 21, the Summerland Rink Association will be holding its annual meeting — it is your business that will be transacted — business which, in essence, is business concerned with the health and welfare and pleasures of the young people of Summerland — every parent should be at the meeting on Monday night in the IOOF Hall at 8 p.m.

Hansard in which the local members were reported.

We fully agree with the Courier that no one has the right to demand space in a newspaper, but we do think, in relation to a newspaper's duty to keep its readers informed, that it could find space for a member's report from Ottawa. The Courier claims that it gives coverage through its Ottawa correspondent — But an Ottawa correspondent, trying to give coverage on the national scale, is hardly likely to give more than a passing glance to any one member.

A newspaper's policy is, of course, its own, we are certainly not trying to tell any other newspaper what it should do, but the Review will continue its policy of giving space to the local member, now Mr. David Pugh, if he wishes to send us regular reports of parliament hill.

Trees Enhance Main Thoroughfares

The Summerland Review, has, on and off, campaigned for the replacement of trees on Summerland's main streets. Here in the sunny Okanagan, trees are useful for shade as well as for ornamental purposes.

The Review is not alone in contending that trees have a place even on busy streets. Anyone who has been in Vancouver may have noticed the efforts being made to place shade trees on Georgia Street.

Here is a large city, striving in great detail, to grow trees on one of its most important thoroughfares. This is in sharp contrast to the opinions of some people in Summerland who can see no place for shade trees on the principal streets.

The Vancouver Sun, commenting on the new order in Vancouver speaks for many people, not only in Vancouver, when it says editorially:

"Don't look now but — there are trees along Georgia Street.

"True, they're feeble little things that won't be particularly useful for beauty or shade for many a year, but they're there, poking up through little holes in the concrete to shrill their puny defiance of the macadam and concrete blister that is downtown Vancouver.

Look at downtown Vancouver. Bleak and hideous and heat ridden. A thousand acres of trees in Stanley Park and thousands of square miles of trees beyond. But in the city where they count they've tangled with power lines and lost.

But as Georgia Street burgeons into warmth and beauty let us hope that public demand will drown out the feeble protests of the engineers and that human longing will demand more, many many more.

Elsewhere they bend sidewalks and whole streets around their precious trees, to conserve them. It's incredible that we who have so many should have been so wanton."

ANOTHER HEAVY APRICOT BLOOM

Full bloom of apricots at Summerland was reached about April 13. This is about a week ahead of average and approximately two weeks ahead of 1957. This bloom is surprisingly heavy considering the heavy overload the trees carried last year. Peaches and pears are at the pink bud stage with apples at the cluster bud stage. If the season continues at the rate we have seen in the past several days we could have apples blossoming before the end of April.

The pink bud stage is one of the most important times when you can control pests and diseases on fruit trees. Pears and apples will both be at the pink bud stage in the next few days. Here are a few of the pests which can be laid low by spraying at this stage of growth.

Cherries—BlackCherry Aphid; Bud Moth.
Pears—Mildew; Leafroller; Red Mite.
Apples—Mildew; Scab; Leafroller; Red Mite; Bud Moth.

One of the reasons why the pink bud stage is a critical time to strike at the pests is because most of them have just come from winter dormancy and are at a low ebb. Consequently a thorough spraying at this stage wipes out future generations before they get started.

EYE-SPOTTED BUD MOTH

Much publicity has been given to the Bud Moth this year by the press, radio and Chautauqua meetings. However, it will not hurt once more to stress that now is the time to spray for this pest.

The larvae of the Bud Moth is a dark brown caterpillar with a black head. It may be found between leaves and buds of apple trees about this time or a little later. A second generation develops in August. The young larvae feeds on maturing apples and causes injury similar to the codling moth but more superficial in nature. Often a series of small punctures is found on the side of the apple within an area the size of a dime. Quite frequently the pest sticks a leaf down over the affected area and the picker may notice apples which have adhering leaves. The control is with Malathion or Diazinon applied at the pink bud stage. In severe cases a second application will be necessary early in August.

Promenade

By E.R.H.

On Saturday night a good crowd of square dancers gathered at the Kaledon Hall to dance to the calling of John and Ann Winton of Vancouver.

This weekend all dancers in the area are welcomed to the Summerland Youth Centre Hall for the party night sponsored by the Summerland Pairs and Squares. There will be a local and callers are invited to bring their own records. Please bring a sack lunch.

There will be caller's practice on Thursday, April 24. Les is planning a round dance session in May to review all the new rounds being taught this season.

Opportunity For First Aid Men

Three hundred and fifty first aid attendants in the Okanagan area will be given the opportunity to make application for enrollment in a course in first aid instruction which is under the joint sponsorship of the St. John Ambulance Association and the Workman's Compensation Board. This school for industrial first aid instructors is to be held in Vancouver, beginning April 28.

The sponsoring group will choose 100 candidates from the applications received from the 1,250 industrial first aid attendants in the province. Each applicant will be carefully screened by the joint committee. Only those of outstanding ability will be selected. The first one-week course will have an enrollment of 24 instructor candidates from the lower mainland, Vancouver Island and coastal areas. Succeeding courses will be held in Vancouver, May 26, for Southern Interior candidates and June 2 for northern area candidates.

ORCHARD RUN

by Wally Smith
The big question in the minds of Okanagan fruit growers is "What will the new federal government do for our industry?"

There seems little doubt that help for the fruit growing industry will be forthcoming when the Diefenbaker government reassembles in Ottawa with the largest majority any government has ever held in Canada.

Just what form the assistance will take remains to be seen. It may be a deficiency payment, parity prices, tariff adjustment, or some other means of aiding the presently low income of the fruit grower.

Whatever the assistance coming from the government, the growers will find it no substitute for efficient, up-to-date orchard practice and the production of the type of product the public is prepared to buy.

One thing for which Okanagan orchardists can be thankful, is that they are now represented by a member who will be sitting on the government side of the House of Commons.

O. L. Jones, the CCF, representative in Ottawa for many years, was conscientious, hard-working member of parliament but he was sitting on the opposition side, we have a much it is difficult to get the ear of the government.

Ours is an industry that requires some special attention, and now that we have in Dave Pugh, a member on the government side, we have a much better chance of getting that attention.

It was a surprising election not in the fact that the Conservatives were returned to power with a working majority or that David Pugh was elected in Okanagan-Boundary, but surprising in the magnitude of the terrific Conservative landslide which completely wiped out the Social Credit party shattered the C.C.F. and decimated the ranks of the Liberals.

The majority of people will probably agree that such a lopsided government is not the best thing for the country.

Here, in the Okanagan, we are wondering if in view of the fact we are, after many years, on the government side of the House, if the government will be good for the fruit grower.

Hens Need Their Vitamins Also

Vitamin D is intimately associated with the assimilation and utilization of calcium, although the manner of this association is not completely understood especially with respect to shell formations. Experiments have shown, however, that vitamin D is required for good shell formation. Normally a good quality commercial ration should contain sufficient vitamin D.

Manganese has also been shown to influence shell quality. A good commercial ration should contain a sufficient amount of manganese sulfate to insure good shell quality.

Studies have shown that shell quality, as measured by shell thickness, declines from a maximum level during the winter months to a relatively low level during the summer months. This decline in the amount of calcium laid down on the shell may be the result of an increase in the environmental temperature, a reduction in feed consumption or changes in the physiology of the bird for causes yet unknown.

In spite of good breeding and good nutrition many birds continue to lay eggs with thin shells, poor texture and abnormal shapes. This has sometimes been termed the "physiological shell quality". The many physiological and biochemical functions involved in forming the egg shell are poorly understood. Much of the data available are fragmentary and inconclusive. It is through research in this field that the greatest improvements in shell quality may be achieved in the future.

In summary, poultrymen should observe the following points in order to achieve and maintain good egg shell quality.

1. Choose a strain of birds that has the inherited ability to produce good quality egg shells.
2. Feed a good commercial ration or, if using a home mixed ration, be sure that sufficient amounts of calcium, manganese and vitamin D are provided.
3. Insure an adequate supply calcium by allowing free access to good quality oyster shell at all times.
4. Follow sound management practices with regard to feeding water, housing and disease control.

THE DIESEL FIREMAN DISPUTE ON CANADIAN PACIFIC

TWO YEARS AGO, in April 1956 the Firemen's Union demanded wage increases and other benefits involving substantial increased costs.

AT THE SAME TIME Canadian Pacific proposed that, as firemen were not necessary, they should no longer be carried on diesel locomotives in freight and yard service.

CANADIAN PACIFIC also proposed dropping both arbitrary wage payments for which no service was rendered and differential wage rates in mountain territory.

IN DECEMBER 1956 a Federal Board of Conciliation recommended substantial wage increases and other benefits. At the same time, it found that firemen were not required on diesel locomotives in freight and yard service and made provision for protection of their employment. It also found that payment of arbitraries and mountain differential should be modified.

CANADIAN PACIFIC accepted the Conciliation Board's report.

THE FIREMEN'S UNION rejected the report and called a strike on January 2, 1957.

THE STRIKE WAS ENDED on January 11, 1957 on the following basis:—

1. Canadian Pacific agreed to pay the substantial wage increases retroactive to April 1 of the previous year and other benefits recommended by the Conciliation Board.
2. The Union and Canadian Pacific agreed to refer the DIESEL ISSUE as well as payment of arbitraries and mountain differential to a ROYAL COMMISSION.
3. The Union and Canadian Pacific agreed to negotiate these issues in the light of and immediately following the publication of the ROYAL COMMISSION'S Report.

THE KELLOCK ROYAL COMMISSION of three senior judges devoted ten months to hearing 119 witnesses and, at the request of the Firemen's Union, made on-the-ground investigations across Canada and also made observations on four major European railway systems. It was the most extensive and thorough investigation in the history of labour relations in Canada.

IN ITS UNANIMOUS REPORT published February 4, 1958 the ROYAL COMMISSION found that:—

1. Firemen are not required on diesel locomotives in freight and yard service on Canadian Pacific either for safety or any other reason.
2. The proposal of Canadian Pacific for protecting firemen from loss of employment and seniority is fair and generous.
3. Arbitrarities have become unrealistic and should be dropped and payment made on the basis of service rendered.
4. Mountain differential payments should be dropped and replaced by valley differential.

CANADIAN PACIFIC accepted the report of the KELLOCK ROYAL COMMISSION as it had undertaken to do when the Commission was appointed.

THE UNION rejected the report, stating that nothing in it was acceptable to them. They did so knowing that not one fireman would suffer loss of railway employment who was hired before the proposal to discontinue firemen on freight and yard diesels was made in April, 1956. All across Canada there are less than 100 firemen hired after that date and now working who face possible lay-off.

ALL EFFORTS of Canadian Pacific to settle the dispute through negotiations with the Firemen's Union have failed.

FOR TWO YEARS firemen have enjoyed substantial wage increases. During these two years action on the diesel issue has been postponed while the Union had every contention it could advance investigated by two enquiries.

CANADIAN PACIFIC has a duty to the public to operate the railway efficiently and economically.

CANADIAN PACIFIC, to fulfill this duty, has given notice to the Firemen's Union that the findings of the KELLOCK

ROYAL COMMISSION will take effect on May 11, 1958.

THIS ACTION is in accordance with Federal labour law.

Chamber of Commerce Week April 13-19

Know and Support
Your Board of Trade

It is surprising that so few people know the true role of the Board of Trade or the Chamber of Commerce. It has been described as a booster organization. It has been called a tourist attracting body. It is sometimes known as a businessmen's association. Well, it is, of course, all of these things but it is a good deal more.

A Board of Trade or a Chamber of Commerce—in Canada the term means the same—it is a voluntary organization of forward-looking citizens of a community banded together to promote the civic, commercial, industrial and agricultural progress of the community and the district in which it operates. But a real, live, vital Board of Trade or Chamber of Commerce is also the conscience and will of the community: The conscience to see and recognize the needs of the community and the will to do something about it.

The strength of the Chamber movement lies in the fact that it is politically non-partisan, non-sectarian and without any special vested interest. Its operation on behalf of good citizenship, good government and good business is performed in the interests of all Canadians.

The Summerland Board of Trade has been active for over 50 years in building the Community of Summerland. Your Board is aware of improvements that should be made in this and future years, but our progress will only be possible by the continued time and effort of many citizens.

Delegate Reports On Red Cross

Mrs. J. Y. Towgood, delegate to the Red Cross provincial council meeting in Vancouver, this spring gave a report to the regular workroom meeting of the Summerland branch in the Anglican parish hall.

Thirty-five were present and a new member of the executive, Gordon Dinning of Trout Creek, and Mrs. Dinning were introduced. Mr. Dinning has been active in Red Cross work at the coast and was treasurer of the annual campaign in Vancouver for three years.

Mrs. Towgood spoke interestingly of the tremendous scope of Red Cross in its international network; the coordination of national policies so that aims are similar wherever Red Cross functions. She mentioned re-union of refugees in Europe facilitated by the society, children whose families were found, and the great work of mercy continually in action.

In Canada, the speaker told of disaster relief work and said that 95 per cent of workers are volunteers and only five per cent salaried.

There are 98 branches in B.C., Mrs. Towgood continued.

At the conference it was suggested that the time has come for the government to take over the blood donor clinics although there is a question as to whether as many donors would come out as under the Red Cross. When the service was started in February, 1947, thirty thousand pints were donated. In 1957 there were 380,000 pints given and this year it is hoped to obtain 400,000. The potential need of 800,000 pints was foreseen.

One of the reports showed that the Junior Red Cross in Canada had given close to $600,000 for international relief.

W. H. Raikes of Okanagan Mission was appointed provincial representative for this area at the conference, the delegate noted.

Mrs. L. de Sotge is available to speak on home nursing classes wherever needed, the meeting was told, and dentists were being sent to outpost hospitals for the first time this year. So far this year the B.C. division has met 300 calls for disaster relief for burned out families, etc.

Trout Creek Drainage By-Law 1958

THE CORPORATION OF THE DISTRICT OF SUMMERLAND

By-Law No. 859

A By-law of The Corporation of the District of Summerland to authorize the undertaking of certain drainage works for the special benefit of a specified area of the said Municipality on Trout Creek Point.

WHEREAS it is deemed advisable and expedient to authorize the undertaking of certain drainage works and the maintenance thereof for the special benefit of a portion of the Municipality hereinafter in this By-law defined and lying in Trout Creek Point, and to authorize the annual maintenance of such works:

AND WHEREAS it is estimated that the cost of the drainage works hereinafter authorized will be the sum of Two Thousand, Four Hundred and Sixty-three Dollars ($2,463.00):

NOW THEREFORE THE MUNICIPAL COUNCIL OF THE CORPORATION OF THE DISTRICT OF SUMMERLAND, in open meeting assembled, ENACTS AS FOLLOWS:

1. In this By-law the words "Municipality" or "Corporation" shall mean The Corporation of the District of Summerland, or all of the lands lying within the boundaries of the Corporation of the District of Summerland, as the context may require.

2. It shall be lawful for the Corporation to undertake the drainage works hereinafter in this By-law defined in the following-described area of land lying within the Municipality, namely: commencing at the intersection of the southerly boundary of the Municipality and the easterly boundary of Highway 97 (hereinafter called "the point of commencement"); thence in a generally northerly direction and along the easterly boundary of the said Highway 97, (and the continuity of the said Highway 97, shall not, for the purposes of this By-law be deemed to be broken by any intersecting streets, roads, highways or lanes) to the intersection of said easterly boundary of the said Highway 97 and the westerly boundary of Lot Nineteen (19), Plan Three Hundred and seventy-five (375), in the Municipality; and thence in a northerly direction along the westerly boundary of the said Lot 19 to the north-west corner of the said Lot 19; and then in an easterly direction along the southerly boundary of the road or highway which constitutes, inter alia, the northerly boundary of the said Lot 19 to the end of such highway or road (and the continuity of the southerly boundary of the said road or highway shall not, for the purposes of this By-law, be deemed to be broken by any intersecting streets, roads, highways or lanes); thence in an easterly direction and along a line which is a projection of the said southerly boundary of the said highway or road which, inter alia, constitutes the northerly boundary of the said Lot 19, to the point of intersection of such projection of the said southerly boundary of the said highway or road with the easterly boundary of the Municipality; and thence in a generally southerly direction along the easterly boundary of the Municipality to a point more or less opposite and east of the mouth of Trout Creek where the easterly boundary of the Municipality turns towards the west and towards the said mouth of Trout Creek; and thence along the southerly boundary of the Municipality to the point of commencement.

3. The area of land lying within the Municipality described in the next preceding paragraph hereof is hereinafter referred to as "the Trout Creek Point drainage area", and the Trout Creek Point drainage area as hereinafter defined is hereby declared to be the specified area of the Municipality for the special benefit of which the drainage works hereinafter set out are authorized.

4. The drainage works which are by this By-law authorized to be undertaken by the Corporation for the special benefit of the Trout Creek Point drainage area are as follows:

(a) The cleaning out, repair and, where necessary, replacement, of 500 feet more or less of drainage pipe on Wharf Street between Eighth Street and the westerly shore of Okanagan Lake.

(b) The installation of 500 feet more or less of concrete drainage flume on Sixth Street between Ninth Street and the lakeshore, that is to say, on the street lying north of Powell Beach.

(c) The cleaning out, repair and, where necessary, replacement of drainage pipe, and installation of new drainage pipe, on Ninth Street between the point of commencement of the existing drain to the south of the intersection of Fourth Street and Ninth Street on the south, to the point to the north where the drain running through Lot Nine (9), Plan Four Thousand, Three Hundred and Thirty-nine (4339) comes onto Ninth Street.

(d) The cleaning out, repair and, where necessary, replacement of the existing drain across part of Lot 9, Plan 4339.

5. The cost of the works by this By-law hereinafter authorized shall be borne as follows:

(a) One-third (1/3) of such cost shall be borne and paid by the Municipality from general revenue, provided however, that such one-third of the cost does not exceed the sum of Eight Hundred Dollars ($800.00), and the part of the cost to be borne by the Municipality is hereby limited to one-third of the cost or the sum of $800.00, whichever is the lesser:

(b) The remaining part of the cost of the works by this By-law authorized, that is to say, either two-thirds (2/3) of the said cost or the difference between the whole cost of the said works and $800.00, depending on which is the lesser of one-third of the cost and the sum of $800.00, shall be borne by the lands lying within the Trout Creek Point drainage area and shall be levied and raised by a rating sufficient therefor upon the lands only lying within the Trout Creek Point drainage area.

6. The share of the cost of the said works to be levied and raised upon the lands only lying within the Trout Creek Point drainage area shall be raised and levied in the year 1958 by a rate sufficient therefor on the assessed values of the lands lying within the said Trout Creek Point drainage area, and for the purposes of the said rate to be levied and raised, the cost shall be deemed to be the estimated cost of the said works, namely, the sum of $2,463.00, less the share thereof to be paid by the Corporation as aforesaid, or the actual cost of such works less the Corporation's share thereof, if the actual cost be known at the time it is necessary to levy and raise the rate by this By-law authorized.

7. In the event of the rate levied in the year 1958 for the share of the cost of the works hereby authorized to be paid by a rate levied and raised on the lands within the Trout Creek Point drainage area being insufficient to meet the actual cost of the said works, it shall be lawful for the Corporation to raise and levy by a further rate in the year 1959 the share of the actual cost of such works to be borne by the lands within the Trout Creek Point drainage area, and in the event of such moneys so raised in the year 1959 being more than is required to meet the actual cost of the drainage works hereby authorized, such excess shall be applied towards the annual maintenance of the said drainage works as hereinafter authorized, and to reduce the amount to be levied and raised after the year 1958.

8. The Council of the Corporation is hereby authorized to advance any sums that may be required to be paid for the construction of the said works hereinafter authorized pending collection of the rate hereby authorized to be levied and raised on the lands only within the Trout Creek Point drainage area, and to recoup the general funds of the Municipality when such rates are collected.

9. It shall be lawful for the Corporation in each and every year following the year 1958 to maintain and keep in good working condition the drainage works hereby authorized, and the cost of such annual maintenance and repair shall be borne as follows: the sum of Fifty Dollars ($50.00) shall be paid from the general funds of the Municipality, and the balance thereof shall be raised in each year by a rate to be levied and raised upon the assessed value of the lands only situate within the Trout Creek Point drainage area, and it shall be lawful for the Council to advance any sums required for annual maintenance and repair from the general funds of the Municipality pending collection of the annual rate to be levied and raised on the lands only situate within the Trout Creek Point drainage area, and to recoup the general funds of the Municipality following collection of such rate.

10. Any person owning land in the Trout Creek Point drainage area may make application to the Council for permission to connect a private drain, draining the land owned by such applicant to one of the drains constituting the works by this By-law authorized, and on such applicant depositing with the Clerk of the Corporation, in cash, the estimated cost of connecting such applicant's private drain to the public drain of the Corporation and undertaking in writing to pay the whole cost of such connection, the Council of the Corporation may authorize such connection, and the work and material for the making of such connection shall be done and provided by the Corporation, and the whole of the cost thereof shall be paid by the applicant.

11. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to discharge or permit or allow to be discharged any sewage or water that has been used for washing or any domestic purposes into any Municipal drain in the Trout Creek Point drainage area, and for each offence under this section of this By-law, the person committing such offence shall be liable on summary conviction to pay a fine of not less than $100.00 and not more than $300.00, with costs, and in default such person may be committed to imprisonment for any term in the discretion of the convicting Magistrate, but not exceeding thirty (30) days.

Summerland Macs Open With Win; Junior Red Sox Plunge On Sunday

The South Okanagan Junior Baseball League will kick off the season on Sunday with all six teams in action. The league this year is made up of teams from Vernon, Summerland, Penticton, Naramata, Oliver and Keremeos.

In the opener, Summerland will be at home to Oliver. Naramata will play Penticton and Keremeos will go to Vernon for a double-header.

The schedule is made up so that each team will visit each other twice. The four top place teams will go into the playoffs at the end of the regular season.

The Red Sox will start with a few new faces, having sent Biolio up to the seniors and with Campbell and Eyre being out of town. Skinner is back to help the mound staff, but most of the newcomers are of unknown quality. All positions on the team are wide open and if any young fellows wish to try out they should contact Tiny Hankins or turnout for practice on any Tuesday or Thursday evening.

MACS SLAM ROYALS
Summerland Macs slammed the Princeton Royals in a fast, thrilling season opening game here Sunday.

Al Hooker pitched a five hitter and completely overwhelmed the Royals with eleven strikeouts.

Bob Parker started off the season in his usual bang-up fashion by stealing three bases and scoring twice.

There were three, two base hits in the game; all going to Summerland. Roberts and Crisante in the first and Al Hooker in the fourth.

Biolio and McNab, up from the juniors, played very steady ball and should help the Macs considerably in future games.

The only sorrow in the club now is the mourning over the news that third baseman Bernie Roberts is leaving the club and moving to Edmonton.

Next home game is scheduled for Sunday, April 27, at 2:30, when the Macs meet the Kamloops J. Rays. This promises to be a good game. The Macs are hoping for a good turnout.

EIGHT TEAMS IN ACTION
Eight teams moved into action last Sunday as the 1958 Okanagan Mainline Baseball League started another season.

Summerland, Penticton, Oliver and Kamloops Okonots were at home, while Princeton, Vernon, Kelowna and Kamloops Jay Rays took to the road in league openers.

It appears the calibre of baseball will be much improved over last year with nearly all clubs strengthening for the coming campaign. Defending champions are the Kelowna Orioles who will fly the league pennant from Elks Stadium throughout the season. Newcomer to the league this year, and as yet an unknown quantity is the Kamloops Jay Rays, last year champions of the Interior Senior League.

With the additional team in the league this year it means more double-headers — 24 in all — and more mid-week games.

As was the case last year travelling teams will carry an umpire with them, that official being the umpire-in-chief at the visiting ball park.

Drainage By-Law

A master drainage plan benefiting the majority of Trout Creek residents living on the east side of Highway 97, will be implemented this year, if the Trout Creek ratepayers living in the designated area approve a bylaw which will be submitted on, or shortly after, May 1. Trout Creek residents, at a well attended meeting last Wednesday, approved the submitting of the Trout Creek Drainage Area Bylaw after considerable discussion, which hinged upon what was the most equitable way of sharing the estimated cost of $2,463.

It was pointed out that drains now operating in the area, drain low lying areas far beyond the property lines of those who installed them, had been built at private expense.

Impossibility, however, of adding and subtracting assessments on the basis of work done in the past was fully recognized by the meeting.

It was also pointed out that, as a small number of people had maintained the drains in the area for many years, it was now time for the burden to be more equitably borne.

Plans for a paint-up, clean-up campaign are being laid by the Board of Trade's civic affairs committee under the chairmanship of Earle White.

School Board, Council Opposed To School Decentralization Here

Although Municipal Council has accepted the School Board budget for this year, it is prepared to stand with other school boards and other municipalities in protesting the increase in school costs under the provincial governments' new formula.

Increased education, costs said to be largely attributable to teachers' salary increases, will cost Summerland another two mills.

At Tuesday's council meeting Reeve F. E. Atkinson requested that the school board chairman, W. A. Laidlaw prepare a statistical argument against the increased cost of education being foisted upon the municipalities, for presentation to the UBCM, which is the sounding board for all protesting municipalities.

A school budget, increased by eight per cent over last year, was accepted by municipal council at a special meeting last week.

The budget, totalling $281,878, represents an additional two mills on the school rate of the municipality. The increase in actual cost to the municipality, is $12,000. The municipality pays 94.43 per cent of the school assessment with the rural share being 5.57 per cent.

Items contributing to the budget boost are approximately $21,000 more for teachers' salaries and a hike of some $5,600 for debt charges due to construction of the $110,000 addition to the high school and the $11,500 addition to the Trout Creek Elementary School.

Budget allocation for teachers' salaries (39 teachers) is $182,265.

All other allocations are about the same as last year including $14,970 for janitors' salaries; $1,850 for janitors' supplies; $1,390 for light and power; $274 for water; $4,625 for fuel; $7,560 for general administration; $6,965 for repairs and maintenance of grounds, buildings and equipment; and $14,390 for conveyance of pupils.

Government grants will cover $162,919 of the budget of which $154,246 is for basic operation and $8,673 for debt service.

The Summerland School District has three schools — the junior-senior high school at West Summerland, the MacDonald Elementary School and the Trout Creek Elementary School.

Miss Barbara Fudge, who last week won the South Okanagan zone contest sponsored by the IOOF and Rebekahs, with her address "A Century of Progress in B.C." Miss Fudge won out in competition with students from Oliver and Penticton. Her winning address is reported, in full, on page seven.

Two cardinal principles relating to education and educational financing were encompassed in a submission from the School Board of District 17, to the Municipal Council, asking Council's approval of a proposed addition to MacDonald school of a three classroom unit and covered play area, this to be financed under section 217 of the School Act.

In its submission the board expressed strong opposition to an alternative suggestion from the Department of Education, that, small one room schools be built in Garnett Valley, Prairie Valley and Summerland lower town, the Municipal Council stated it was in complete accord with the board and went on record as being opposed, very strongly opposed to decentralization of the school plant here.

On the matter of financing under the new section of the Act, which would allow the board to finance without submitting a bylaw for approval of the ratepayers, subject only to municipal council and the department, the Summerland Council refused to commit itself at this time.

School Board chairman W. A. Laidlaw, told council that the board's only reason for proposing to finance without recourse to bylaw, was to speed things up in the hope that the proposed new addition could be ready for school opening in the fall.

Council agreed there is need of more classrooms, but Reeve F. E. Atkinson isn't at all sure that Summerland ratepayers would approve of their money being spent without first having given their consent.

Council then deferred decision pending the stand of the Department, both in regard to financing and in the matter of continued centralization, or decentralization of the school plant.

Concern that the School Board's plan for the addition of what only appeared to be a four-room unit was allayed by School Board chairman Laidlaw who said that the board intended to follow the pattern of the Trout Creek school, which was designed for additions and could be extended to an eight or ten room unit.

Overture Concert Group Membership Drive On

A campaign to sign up at least 300 members for the newly formed Summerland Overture Concert Association was launched yesterday at a public meeting in the West Summerland High School.

More than 40 workers attended a briefing session which was addressed by Overture Concerts Executive director, George Zukerman, from Vancouver.

Membership in the new Association will be available during the campaign week only, which will last from April 21 until April 26. After the campaign closes, there will be no tickets available for the concerts and admission will be by membership card only.

Campaign chairman Mrs. G. E. Woolliams expressed considerable optimism for the drive.

"We are quite confident that there are more than enough interested people in the Summerland, Peachland, Prairie Valley and Peach Valley and Garnett Valley areas who would welcome the opportunity to enjoy a series of outstanding Canadian and American concert artists in our own community."

Membership in the Summerland organization will be $5.50 for a minimum of three concerts during the year. Student memberships will be half price.

Summerland joins the ranks of numerous Canadian communities which have launched Overture Concert Associations during the past three years. Okanagan towns operating Overture Concert Associations are:

An outstanding contestant in the Okanagan Valley Music Festival held in Penticton last week was Lynne Boothe, pictured above. The talented Summerland teen-ager won three firsts and a third with her brilliant work at the piano.

New Kinsmen Club Gets Charter Here Saturday

The official installation ceremonies and Charter Night of the Summerland Kinsmen Club is to be held in the IOOF Hall on Saturday, April 26 at 7:15 p.m.

Attending the inaugural banquet will be the National President of Kinsmen, Ken McConnell of Ladner, along with other national and district officers of the organization. There will also be members from other clubs in the Okanagan Mainline Zone.

The Association of Kinsmen Clubs is a service organization of young business and professional men within the Dominion of Canada with high ideals, worthy aims and challenging objectives which are realized through the activities of the member clubs in their communities.

The first Kinsmen Club was formed in the city of Hamilton, Ont., on February 20, 1920, with Harold A. Rogers as founder. Today there are over 300 clubs in the association, with approximately 10,000 members. The idealistic growth of the association has more than kept pace with the numerical growth. The achievements of the clubs in all forms of service and activities both on a local and national scale have been most significant.

A Kinsmen Club is a local group of representative young business and professional men, whose active members are between the ages of 21 and 40, selected in accordance with the membership standards of the association.

Through meetings every two weeks they enjoy intimate fellowship and give leadership for the betterment of their communities and many forms of worthwhile service.

Open Air Service Here On Sunday

Wednesday, June 4, will be declared a civic holiday, Municipal Council decreed this week, following request of the local Centennial Observance Committee.

Centennial celebrations will be officially opened here, and elsewhere in B. C. on Sunday, April 27, with a day of prayer, and, in Summerland an open air mass service will be held in the Memorial Park, at 2:30 p.m.

Plans for the June 4 celebration are fast going ahead under the chairmanship of Doug Campbell. The committee is representative of all organizations, and is meeting weekly to plan what is expected to be a bang-up celebration.

Cancer Fund Blitz Continues

Kiwanis Club Commandos stormed through Summerland on Monday night in a blitz campaign which the officer commanding, Kiwanis Cancer Fund drive chairman "Hilly" Smith described as highly successful.

Time ran out on the troops before they could reach their objective of $1200.

Generalissimo Smith is now planning to renew the blitz on Tuesday night, when his forces will be gathered for the regular Kiwanis Weekly meeting.

"We are deeply appreciative of the response so far, which has put us in reach of our objective. We are confident that with a third of the town yet to be canvassed that next Tuesday night will see Summerland over the top in the Cancer Fund Drive," Mr. Smith said.

Live Radio Show To Originate Here

In conjunction with Radio Week in Canada, the Summerland Kiwanis Club will sponsor a Radio Night on May 8 to be held in the High School Auditorium beginning at 8 p.m.

The live broadcast, to be heard on Radio Station CKOK, will start with a fifteen minute news cast with Dave Roegle and Bjorn Bjornson as Masters of Ceremonies.

After the news, the Kiwanis have rounded out the program with a musical show featuring local talent.

What Type Of Senior Citizens Home Here?

The Senior Citizens Home Committee and the Municipal Council are concerned that all senior citizens have received letters containing a questionnaire to be filled in and returned to the Committee.

The letter is sent as part of a survey to determine the need for a Senior Citizens Home and also as to which type of home would be favoured by those who will be using it.

The advantages and disadvantages of the self-contained unit are outlined in the circular letter. The first survey showed that by far the greater majority favored a Boarding Home. Now there appears to be interest in small self-contained units.

Please assist the Home Committee by answering and returning the questionnaire.

School Band Drive Starts

Summerland High School Band Students will be out in force this weekend to start their drive for much needed funds to support their projects for the next two months. The band has always tried to give value for their money raising ventures, but this year the biggest value of all is offered.

Two fine visiting bands are coming to the community. The much travelled S. J. Willis Junior High School Band from Victoria will present a concert this Saturday, April 26, in the High School Auditorium, at 7:30 p.m. And on Wednesday, May 14 the High School Band from Grand Coulee, Washington, will present a concert at the High School here.

This is one of the bands that will play host to the Summerland School Band, which will be leaving the next day on a trip through Washington State.

The popular spring concert of the Summerland High School Band will again be presented later in May, on their return from the tour.

The usual price of these three concerts adds up to $1.75, but by buying a BAND BOOSTER ticket this weekend, for only a dollar, a big saving is made, at the same time booster ticket buyers will be assisting the young musicians to pay for music, instruments and also for their trip through the States.

Local Hospital Geared For C.D.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Summerland Hospital Board held last week, a letter was read from the Federal Civil Defence Headquarters advising that they were going to stockpile emergency supplies at the Summerland Hospital. This emergency equipment will be furnished free of charge and will be replenished if and when necessary.

Summerland Hospital qualifies for this service because of the first class rating it holds in having an outstanding Disaster Plan ready for any emergency. This plan is designed to cope with an isolated disaster occurring within the district served by the Summerland Hospital.

The most probable causes of such a disaster are considered to be accidents involving bus, train or plane, but it might include such effects of fire, storm or flood. The plan is designed to meet with emergency requirements of fifteen to twenty persons.

The board was pleased to report that additional service has been added to the Hospital in the purchase of an airplane splint and an additional carbon dioxide fire extinguisher.

The board was informed by the Hospital Auxiliary that the Hospital Tag Day will be held on Saturday, May 10, and that the proceeds will go towards the purchase of an anaesthetic machine.

Summerland Contestants Shone In Music Festival

The Summerland Town Band, Summerland Elementary School choir and a bevy of Summerland's young talent, made their marks in the thirty second annual Okanagan Valley Music Festival, held in Penticton last week.

The band which won the Rotary Shield for the second year running, earned 86 points.

Standard scale of marks adopted by the Festival Association is, 75 for an average performance; 80, is a good performance; 85 for a very good show and 90 is rated, distinction.

The Summerland Town Band won high praise from the adjudicator for their rendition of the "Gnome of the Grotto".

The entries from the MacDonald School made a very creditable showing. Three choirs under the direction of Mrs. E.E. Bates, were entered with Miss Ruth Dale as accompanist. Mrs. Tingley's grade five group were commended for their good phrasing, and with a score of 165, only two marks separated their total from the winner in this class.

The grade three choir from Miss Dale's room had no competition, but were given a total of 197 with the adjudicator's comment that it would have taken a very fine choir to have beaten them, and were winners of the Pettigrew Shield. The grade class two, under Mrs. Douse, competing against five other choirs, won first place and the J. W. Jones Cup, earning 164 marks. All the choirs were commended for their diction, interpretation and good tone.

Mrs. Douse also entered her class in the choral speaking competition, with two selections for total of 161 points. Individual Summerland contestants with 80 and over are listed below:

Piano Solo under 8: Marilyn Parker 84, 2nd; Sharon James 82, 3rd.

Heavy rains on Saturday, besides being of benefit to gardens should have helped to build up water supplies. However, too to problems.

much rain at this time can lead

APPLE SCAB

Apple Scab is a fungus disease which develops during the rainy weather. Two factors influence the development of Apple Scab. They are the duration of foliage wetting and the temperature at the time of wetting. For example, at 45 degrees to 50 degrees F., 14 hours continuous wetting is required to start infection, whereas at 55 degrees to 70 degrees only nine hours is required.

Up to the Calyx stage it is possible to accept two alternative programs for Apple Scab. (1) Preventative and (2) Eradicative. Under the preventative program a fungicide such as lime sulphur or wettable sulphur plus ferbam is applied at regular intervals during the growing season. Because of the mild winter this year the Scab spores have developed early so that the pre-pink stage of apples would be the time to start this year. Because of rapid growth in May and June the effectiveness of the spray diminishes very quickly so that it would need to be applied every 10 days or two weeks for complete prevention.

The alternative to the prevention program is eradication. This involves the use of a fungicide which will burn out the infection after it has started. The material Dichlone is recommended for this purpose and instructions are given on the spray chart. With this eradication procedure the grower waits until the infection period takes place. If no such period occurs he does not need to spray but if it does occur he must put the spray on within 50 hours after the start of the infection period.

Although no area is immune to Apple Scab the Summerland district with its low annual rainfall has been extremely fortunate in escaping Scab losses even in wet summers when serious trouble has occurred in nearby Kelowna and Oliver. The problem that faces growers in this district is just how far to go with the Scab control program. Obviously a complete preventative program involving 7 or 8 sprays each season would be costly and unnecessary. The most practical approach to a preventative program would be to apply lime sulphur at the pre-pink stage and to follow this up with a spray of wettable sulphur and ferbam or ziram about the middle of June to give protection during the rainy period which nearly always occurs at that time. Both of these sprays can be combined with other materials which normally go on at these stages.

The above tactic is commonly used in this area. It is a minimum schedule which can be added to by including a suitable fungicide with the coding moth sprays at say, the 1st and 2nd cover, should the situation appear to warrant it. The second alternative, eradication, is of course open to all who are able to put on a dichlone spray within 50 hours of the start of the infection period. Unfortunately, the possibility of injury to the trees after the calyx stage limits the use of this alternative to the period up to calyx stage.

G. Robinson Addresses Horticultural Society On Flowering Shrubs

George Robinson of Penticton was guest speaker at the Horticultural Society's meeting, and spoke on Flowering Shrubs in Landscaping. Mr. Robinson gave a long list of shrubs that thrive well in the Okanagan Valley and called on his many years of experience in growing them.

Some of the shrubs recommended were berberis, buddleia, cotoneasters, daphnes, deutzia, exacordia (pearl bush), forsythia, hydrangea, honeysuckles, the japonica kerria, kolkwitzia (beauty bush), lilacs, magnolia, philadelphus, prunus, pyracanthus, spireas, tamarisk, vibernum and weigalias.

Speaking of lilacs Mr. Robinson said there were many new varieties and colors, even a primrose-tinted one. He said many of them were grafted onto English privet and threw up no suckers. Etna, a claret colored lilac, was mentioned as a beautiful specimen. There are some fine French lilacs, he said.

Hibiscus are semi-hardy here, the speaker said, and in some cases do well for a number of years.

He cautioned against planting too closely together so that the bush cannot spread out properly and develop in all its beauty.

Mr. May asked about the excellent philadelphus which the speaker had developed himself. Mr. Robinson said he named it Pentagan, the first half taken from Penticton and the second from Okanagan. It is now growing at the Experimental Farm and may be seen there.

Nat May's Timely Topics were about growing chrysanthemums. He had potted specimens to illustrate his talk and had brought half-dozen bundles of "Northern Lights" a new Burgundy 'mum from his garden. This requires no staking or disbudding and will stand sub-zero weather. These were sold for the benefit of the society.

A. W. Watt offered for sale a lawn mower donated to the Boy Scouts.

Dr. D. L. McIntosh and Nat May were judges for the spring parlor show held in conjunction with the meeting. Tulips were not far enough advanced for showing so there was no entry in Class 1 or in Class 3.

Winners in the other classes were as follows:

Class 2 — Any other bulbs than tulips, six blooms, one container, Mrs. E. C. Bingham, Miss Nellie Holder, Mrs. W. F. Ward, Miss Doreen Tait.

LEGION AUXILIARY FASHION SHOW

Mrs. J. Richards and Mrs. P. Clements were initiated at the April meeting of the Ladies Legion Auxiliary which had a good attendance.

Reports stated that a Vimy Supper was served to the Boer War and First World War Veterans.

The Father and Son Scout and Cub Banquet which was convened by Mrs. L. Brind and Mrs. C. Adolph was reported to be a big success.

After a member kindly donated curtains for the meeting room, it was decided to finish decorating the room.

Pot holders made by the members were judged by Mrs. Bouey, School Home Economist. These will be turned into the fancy work table at the May sale.

Mrs. C. Adolph won first for crochet work and Mrs. A. McCargar won first for needlework.

At the conclusion of the meeting, the 1957 slate of officers held a fashion show, and served lunch. The fashion show will be taken to the OAP meeting to which the Auxiliary serves lunch this month.

Girl Guides

The monthly meeting of the Girl Guide Association held on April 16 saw 21 members out with president Mrs. Ross McLachlan in the chair.

The mothers of the Brownies and Guides, who are directly responsible for Brownie-Guide activities are having a busy year raising funds towards the Girl Guide Campsite. Two hundred dollars have already been donated. Funds from the tag day, cake boxes and cookie day are yet to be counted. Every effort is being put forth at this time, towards this worthy and lasting project.

Mrs. Caroline Durick was the Local Association representative to attend the two day Guides Conference in Vancouver. Her impression was that the Summerland Branch is well organized and compares favorably with other L. A. groups. A panel discussion entitled "Has Guiding Lost Its Challenge?" was presented. It was felt that the challenge is still there but that the advertising and easy access to other activities has left Guiding in the background. With Public Relations a mode of modern living it was thought necessary to publicize and advertise Guiding more effectively.

ORCHARD RUN

by Wally Smith

With some 47 percent of the Okanagan peach crop going to the canning factory it is, perhaps, time for a fresh look at the peach deal and maybe a re-assessment of values.

Under the present arrangement canning peaches are charged approximately $17 a ton for their share of the packinghouse overhead. Canning peaches actually do not incur this much expense, but under the price equity plan now in effect they carry almost as much overhead cost as the fresh fruit crop.

It has been the claim of the packinghouses that their facilities are built to take care of the whole crop, therefore the whole crop must share equally in the packinghouse costs.

Facilities at the packing house have, in some years, been taxed to the limit in handling the share of the crop that goes to the fresh fruit market. How they could possibly handle the whole peach crop, if the canneries were not taking any of the peaches, it is extremely difficult to imagine.

Cannery men feel that when the grower received only a little more than $80 a ton for canneries peaches the canner should not have to pay $9.50 for the same fruit. Of course the canner operator wants to buy his peaches at the lowest possible figure, but there is room for argument on the point he raises.

The Canadian cannery operator is faced with stiff competition from American canned fruit imports. Not only are there heavy imports of such items as canned pineapple, but also large quantities of American canned peaches.

Canadian canners find it increasingly difficult to meet this competition. With the Canadian cannery being such a vital factor in the Okanagan fruit industry, it is imperative that we keep the Canadian canning factory busy. Every effort should be made to give the canner a high quality product at the right price.

Perhaps the whole business of producing and canning peaches will have to undergo revision.

With the handling charges kept down to actual cost, the canner would be able to buy for less money, and at the same time, and the grower would get more than he is getting now.

It would help the whole deal if the grower picked, to a fairly uniform cannery maturity and kept his culls within five percent tolerance.

By observing these two things the canner would be a lot happier, and the grower would get larger returns.

One thing that causes the canner a lot of annoyance and waste of time is to receive from the packinghouse a truck load of peaches of mixed maturity, made up of fruit from six different orchards.

Every stack of boxes has to be broken down and the boxes sorted out for maturity -- a time consuming operation, and if there is mixed maturity in the boxes there is more loss of time.

What the canner would like and what the grower may have to supply to keep the industry going -- is a good quality peach, picked at uniform maturity and with very few culls. Such a balanced operation could be profitable for all parties concerned.

Growers will be interested to know that out of a 15 ounce can of peaches that sells for about 25 cents the grower gets only three and one-half cents. The other 21 1-2 cents goes for sugar, can, label, cartons, labor, transportation, wholesale markup and retail markup.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 23,

NINETEEN FIFTY-EIGHT

A Depreciated Grant

They did it again — Summerland's Town Band under the baton of Conductor "Bud" Steuart, for the second year running, captured the Rotary shield along with some highly complimentary remarks from the adjudicator, at last week's thirty-second annual Okanagan Music Festival held in Penticton.

Band leader Steuart and his able musicians are to be congratulated upon their victory and Summerland is certainly to be congratulated on having such a crack band.

But the question arises, does that go far enough? The band gets a civic grant of $150 a year and, in return responds to every reasonable call for its services at community affairs.

That grant could be almost doubled by allowing the band free use of the High School Auditorium for band practice which now takes around $120 of the $150 civic grant.

Obviously that is hardly a fair deal for the band.

In effect, when council hands over $150 to the band it is handing over $120 to the school board and the band actually benefits from the grant only to the tune of $30.

It seems somewhat unreal to us that a town band, a community asset of great worth, should have to pay rent for the purpose of practicing its music, to delight the ears of the community.

The band, as we understand it, is a non-profit organization. It requires almost without cease, uniform and instrument replacements—both somewhat costly items.

The civic grant of $150 could be almost doubled by simply providing use of the High School auditorium rent free, for practice.

True, that extra would come out of the ratepayers' dollar — but why not? And, if not, let the community be honest about it and let's have the grant listed as $30 to the town band, a miserable allocation indeed, and another $120 to the school board for permitting the town band, Summerland's band, to practice.

Here in Summerland we have a band of which many a community many, many times the size of this one, would be proud to have.

Our neighbor Penticton is a case in point — Penticton certainly does not charge its city band for the privilege of having a place to practice — in fact, apart from its sizable annual grant, the City of Penticton built a band room for its band at the rear of the bandshell at Gyro Park.

Our municipal council and the school board have a duty to the taxpayers to safeguard their tax dollars — but we think the majority of taxpayers will readily agree with our contention that a $30 a year grant, and that is what the grant really boils down to, is hardly in keeping with the value of the band to the community.

Sensible Talk

Because a grower is outspoken in criticism and because he does not believe that the BCFGA and B.C. Tree Fruits and other grower owned organizations are beyond reproach, does not necessarily mean that the outspoken one is ripe for plucking by the group which seeks, regardless of protestations to the contrary, to destroy the organizations built up so painstakingly over the years by the growers.

A Summerland grower approached by a leader of the dissident group, to join up, summed up our opinion of the business when he asked the dissident — "just what is it that you fellows are trying to do — upset the apple cart? Here we are waiting for the McPhee report — waiting to see what comes of this new government — the industry is in a bad way, admittedly, but I'll tell you what you're trying to do, you're trying to add turmoil to an already bad situation — seeking to take advantage of bad times to start a revolution — the old Commie technique.

"Democracy — don't talk to me about democracy — the organization we have gives every opportunity to every registered grower to express his views — you're peddling old stuff under a new name, stuff that never has got any place in our organization.

"If your ideas were sound the growers would have adopted them long ago — the machinery exists to make the changes the grower wants made in his organizations and the fact that you can't get any place within the regular democratic channels provided, is the best answer to you and your organization."

That was a Summerland grower talking — and, we think, mighty sensible talk.

Welcome Kinsmen

It has been said of Summerland, and not without some truth, that it is overorganized in the matter of service clubs and fraternal organizations, be that as it may, we cannot but hail with satisfaction the organization of a Summerland Kinsmen Club which will be granted its charter on Saturday, at a banquet at which the National President of the Kinsmen Association will be the guest of honor.

There is room in Summerland for a Kinsmen Club because it is an organization created specifically for young men.

The membership response, 22 enrolled at this early date, is a clear indication that there was a need for such a club.

We believe that the new Kinsmen will gain considerably from their association and Summerland also stands to gain with this addition of a new and young blooded organization to its list of service clubs, which, year in and year out, do so much towards making Summerland a better and happier place in which to live.

Welcome Kinsmen.

We Can Have Our Own

The extent of Summerland's participation in the Okanagan Valley Music Festival is truly amazing and the quality of that participation is certified by the number of Summerland artists' winning honors.

We doubt, without wishing to boast unduly, if any community of comparable size can show such wealth of artistic talent.

And not only do we have the artists, but Summerland also had a deep appreciation of their talents and a deep appreciation of the arts, that is why we feel confident that the current efforts to organize an Overture Concert Association here will meet with success.

There is, of course, the South Okanagan Community Concert Association which provides a winter series of concerts in Penticton, and happy the person who can afford the time and the money to take in both series of concerts, but after all, there is nothing like having one's own and we feel that the efforts to organize a concert series for Summerland will win ample support, without too serious inroads into Summerland membership in the Penticton group.

Mid-Week Message

Thought For Today: The wicked are not so, but are like chaff which the wind drives away. Ps. 1:4

The idea that the wicked are "like chaff" is one of the most surprising similes in the Bible. How could the psalmist dismiss those who are guilty of robbery, idol worship, adultery, and murder with such a phrase?

Chaff is light. It covers and preserves the more enduring grain beneath. A gust of wind blows it away when it has served its purpose.

Are evil and evil men like that? The answer is startling. Hitler, Napoleon, and Nero blow away, leaving vindicated the good men they persecuted. Their effect on history has been surprisingly small except as they disclosed in due time the enduring good that is of God and that through his creative agency exists in men also.

Chaff is temporary and transient as well as light. Similarly evil does not last and its ungodly authors are not long remembered in most cases.

The process is illustrated in everyday affairs. We tend to forget ugly and unpleasant experiences. We see our shortcomings and misdeeds overruled for good if we trust God and accept his grace. Those who will not let God forgive and overrule must suffer and perish. Their names are not written in the Lamb's Book of Life. Like chaff indeed.

PRAYER: Eternal and Almighty God, we are deeply grateful for the assurance of ultimate good. Teach us something of the patience of Christ. Fit us to share in thy eternal dwelling place, through Christ. Amen.

Auditor's Report

March 31st, 1958

To the Reeve and Members of the Council,
The Corporation of the District of Summerland,
West Summerland, B.C.

We have examined the attached Balance Sheets of the Corporation of the District of Summerland as at December 31st, 1957 and statements of Revenue and Expenditure and of Receipts and Disbursements for the year ended on that date and have obtained all the information and explanations we have required. Our examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of accounting records and other supporting evidence as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion the attached Balance Sheets and other statements of Revenue and Expenditure and of Receipts and Disbursements are properly drawn up so as to exhibit a true and correct view of the affairs of the Corporation as at December 31st, 1957 and the results of its operations for the year ended on that date, according to the best of our information, the explanations given to us and as shown by the books of the Corporation.

We found all books, documents and accounts examined by us to be in order and, in our opinion, the several forms of account used by the officials of the Corporation are appropriate.

Okanagan students was declared winner of the IOOF and Rebekah contest, the award a month-long trip across the continent, a week in New York and a visit to the United Nations.

Miss Fudge's address, a timely one relating to B.C.'s Centennial, follows in full:

This is a tribute to brave and adventurous men; a tribute to wise and farseeing men; a tribute to humdrum hardworking men; and to the women who helped them all. This is a tribute to British Columbia.

This year, 1958, we, the people of British Columbia, are celebrating our centennial — 100 years of rapid progress.

To a teenager, 100 years seems an eternity, but in point of fact in history it is a mere flick of an eyelash.

This 100 years was ushered in by discovery of gold on the Fraser by a man named James Huxton in 1858. The sudden rush of miners alarmed the British government for several reasons — they were afraid of the Indians and the miners fighting, of the destroying of the fur trade, and that the Americans would move our border further north.

Although James Douglas was only appointed governor of the island, he took the authority to levy licences and fees to the miners on the mainland. Because of this, it began to look like the most peaceable gold rush in history. Most miners were averaging from $8-$13 a day. They followed the Fraser into the hills, and the Indians began to get hostile. They were afraid of losing their land. The first ambush occurred here in the Okanagan Valley, on a caravan travelling through to Kamloops. Three men were killed and all their horses were stolen. When the Fraser tribes heard of this, they got much bolder, but soon waved a flag of truce at the sight of organized riflemen.

This sudden increase in population was cause for more law and order. Finally the British government appointed James Douglas governor of all mainland, as well as sending out a contingent of 156 Royal Engineers and Judge Mathew Bailey Begbie, known to us now as the hanging judge. In order to show this strength to the mining camps, Douglas loaded a canon on a sternwheeler, and he and his Engineers made a trip up the Fraser. Now it so happened that on Christmas Day, that same time, a Yale miner had assaulted a Negro. The Yale magistrate accused the miner to be guilty, and the miner fled to Hill's Bar, a nearby camp. Here the Hill's Bar magistrate accused the Negro, and the law was paralyzed by two magistrates. Then an American, named McGowan stepped in, and boasted that he would establish the Yankee miners' law. He took the authority and organized a posse of 20 men, took the Yale agent down river in a canoe, and fined him $50. As he was celebrating his moral victory, the sternwheeler with the canon at her bow, came around the bend of the river. McGowan at first showed fight, but soon settled down when he saw the troops disembark. He then made an apology to the miners, paid a fine, and to top it all, served a champagne dinner to the officers at Hill's Bar. Such comic incidents occurred often in history — particularly where few men could decide great issues of power without knowing it.

The miners couldn't be confined to the regions of the Fraser, and began to spread out in all directions. They branched out to Similkameen, here in the Okanagan Valley, Kootenays, and up the Columbia River to the Big Bend. In the 1860's major discoveries of gold were made in the Caribou and Barkerville was made the big centre. The miners moved further north to the Noss, Stikine and Peace Rivers.

Some found gold, the precious metal, and others found gold of a different kind. Here, in the Okanagan this gold was at first cattle, and now is the fruit industry — famous the world over. Today in the new Westbank subdivision, there stands a log cabin that Thomas Allison, for whom Allison Pass was named after, used as a rest spot while bringing his herds of cattle and sheep to their summer pastures. In the Caribou a known family, the Wrights, while passing through as gold-seekers, recognized the fields as perfect for farming. They stopped and organized a small farm, and began selling milk, butter and eggs to passing gold seekers. Today, their home still stands, while the younger generation are running the farm.

In 1886, the Canadian Pacific Railway was completed, and it provided a physical link between Eastern and Western Canada. It was built on condition that B.C. unite with the east and this became a reality, when on July 20, 1871, British Columbia became the fifth province of the Dominion of Canada, with Victoria as its capital.

Since the completion of the railway, development has been steady rather than eventful. It ushered in an era of construction. The province expanded and industry emerged. Great confidence was spread abroad, and the hustle of enormous enterprise could be seen everywhere.

We have developed many major industries in B.C. Climatic and soil conditions have made it perfect for the growing of softwood forests. Logging began very crude and simply with spans of oxen, and in the early 1890's the donkey engine was introduced. Today, trucks, machinery and men are working together to conserve our productive forest lands, which is half of the total area of our province.

The first farmer in B.C. was Daniel Harmon, who, in 1811, grew successfully crops of barley, potatoes, and vegetables in the Fraser Lake district. When the Hudson Bay Co. heard of this, they immediately began to establish farms in conjunction with their trading posts throughout the territory. After the gold rush, men began paying serious attention to the land. The first commercial apple orchard was planted in Earlescourt, near Lytton, in 1867. Thirty one years later the first carload of apples left our Okanagan Valley, heralding an industry that now produces approximately 6,000,000 boxes annually.

In 1870, salmon canning on the Fraser River began, and soon a market for halibut was established. Thirty years later, after completion of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, Prince Rupert became the great halibut centre, as it is today. The salmon fishing is concentrated on the Fraser, Nass and Skeena Rivers, Queen Charlotte Islands, and Vancouver Island.

Mining was introduced with the coalfields at Squash and Nanaimo on Vancouver Island. The Fraser gold served as a further stimulus and improved transportation, changing prices and economic conditions, combined with the rate of discovery, have greatly affected the mining development pattern. One of our Kootenay cities, Trail is the largest zinc and lead smelter in the world.

Perhaps our three leading industries are logging, pulp and paper and petroleum products. Our great pulp and paper centre is Powell River.

We have firm reasons for the addition of many new manufacturing enterprises in B.C. — the secondary mineral production is continually expanding, and our renewable resources, such as the fishing and logging industries.

Last year, in 1957, the West Coast Transmission was completed to the lower mainland. This had made available to us the immense natural gas reserves from Fort St. John and northeastern B.C.

The development of the Dominion Experimental Station across Canada by the Federal Government has been of great value in all phases of agriculture. We have to be very proud here in Summerland of Canada's second largest Dominion Experimental Station. This is of great assistance to our orchardists in the treatment of soil and trees with the scientific methods of today.

And so we have come to 1958 — the glorious Centennial. It seems incredible that so much progress has been made by our pioneers in so short a time, allowing for the transition from wilderness to wonderland. As a teenager I take personal pride in our Centennial — and I feel very proud to know that I will be a future citizen of this province. Who wouldn't be proud of such a heritage, such a future, and the privilege of being part of British Columbia?

Paint-up, Clean-up!

There is more than the usual urgency behind the appeal this year to paint-up and clean-up, in Summerland.

This is British Columbia's Centennial Year and that fact, along with a varied and colorful program of events is expected to bring a record number of tourists into the Province.

Most of those tourists will come from east and south and a big percentage will, undoubtedly travel to the Pacific coast through the Okanagan Valley—few of the hundreds of thousands of visitors who come to B.C. for the Centennial celebrations are likely to bypass the Sunny Okanagan which is widely known as the place where top quality fruit and top quality hockey is produced.

Summerland will naturally attract its share of the tourist influx and naturally Summerland wants to look its best.

That is why this special appeal to paint-up and clean-up, contributed by the merchants who can supply you with everything required in the way of painting, cleaning repairing and renovating.

Overture

Overture groups include Salmon Arm and Oliver-Osoyoos, and Summerland members will be able to attend concerts in these centres for the same membership. Other Overture Associations are located in the Western Canadian Provinces from Fort William, Ontario, to New Westminster, B.C.

The Overture organization, which is the first Canadian "organized audience scheme" offers each community a wide choice of top ranking concert artists from all managements. There is no possible financial risk facing the new association since Artists to be heard on the series are selected only after the results of the membership drive are known, and the budget has been established.

Membership drive headquarters will be established at Fashionwise in West Summerland and volunteer workers will be at headquarters each morning and afternoon during the week and on Friday and Saturday evening, to receive returns from canvassers. Mrs. Muriel Foulkes, Overture representative, will be in Summerland for the duration of the campaign.

Hooker Pitches Shutout; Macs Down Oliver 1-0

Al Hooker pitched a shutout ball game with eight strikeouts, most of these at crucial moments of the game.

Some of the highlights of the game came in the 3rd inning when Bob Parker threw a perfect strike across the plate from left field to beat Cleveland sliding in home. Then in the 5th inning Oliver's rally was stopped by a very nice throw to 2nd base by right fielder Jack Burton, a newcomer to the Macs from Terrace. Then, along in the 8th inning, Bob Bonthoux stopped Driessens hard hit grounder and fired it to first for the third out, with the tying run going in over the plate.

Top hitting honors went to Biollo and Siegrist who collected two hits each. Singles went to Taylor and Hooker.

The new team spirit in this Macs ball club is already showing that they will be right up in the running throughout the season.

Don't forget the next home game - next Sunday, April 27, at 2:30 when the Summerland Macs meet the Kamloops Jays.

Junior Red Sox Open Season With Victory

The Summerland Junior Red Sox opened the season in Summerland on Sunday with a bang when they climbed all over the Oliver Juniors and came up with a 17-6 decision.

Next Sunday the Red Sox travel to Oliver.

League scores: Summerland 17 - Oliver 6. Naramata 9 - Pentiction 8. Vernon 11 - Keremeos 0.

DeWitt led the attack with a long double and a single. All of the regulars were hitting the ball well but the subs need a lot of practice before they will be much of a threat. Coach Hankins gave all the players in uniform a chance to get in the game. Often it became evident that Oliver had little chance against the strong Red Sox.

The feature of the game was a triple play pulled off by the Red Sox on a caught fly to left field with two on base. The ball came into the plate to catch the runner from third. The relay back to third caught the runner from second base. Sheeley started on the mound and was credited with the win before being relieved by Skinner in the sixth. Huva pitched the 8th and 9th.

Trout Creek Drainage By-Law 1958

THE CORPORATION OF THE DISTRICT OF SUMMERLAND

By-Law No. 859

A By-law of The Corporation of the District of Summerland to authorize the undertaking of certain drainage works for the special benefit of a specified area of the said Municipality on Trout Creek Point.

WHEREAS it is deemed advisable and expedient to authorize the undertaking of certain drainage works and the maintenance thereof for the special benefit of a portion of the Municipality hereinafter in this By-law defined and lying in Trout Creek Point, and to authorize the annual maintenance of such works:

AND WHEREAS it is estimated that the cost of the drainage works hereinafter authorized will be the sum of Two Thousand, Four Hundred and Sixty-three Dollars ($2,463.00):

NOW THEREFORE THE MUNICIPAL COUNCIL OF THE CORPORATION OF THE DISTRICT OF SUMMERLAND, in open meeting assembled, ENACTS AS FOLLOWS:

1. In this By-law the words "Municipality" or "Corporation" shall mean The Corporation of the District of Summerland, or all of the lands lying within the boundaries of the Corporation of the District of Summerland, as the context may require.

2. It shall be lawful for the Corporation to undertake the drainage works hereinafter in this By-law defined in the following-described area of land lying within the Municipality, namely: commencing at the intersection of the southerly boundary of the Municipality and the easterly boundary of Highway 97 (hereinafter called "the point of commencement"); thence in a generally northerly direction and along the easterly boundary of the said Highway 97; (and the continuity of the easterly boundary of the said Highway 97, shall not, for the purposes of this By-law be deemed to be broken by any intersecting streets, roads, highways or lanes); to the intersection of said easterly boundary of the said Highway 97 and the westerly boundary of Lot Nineteen (19), Plan Three Hundred and seventy-five (375), in the Municipality; and thence in a northerly direction along the westerly boundary of the said Lot 19 to the north-west corner of the said Lot 19; and then in an easterly direction along the southerly boundary of the road or highway which constitutes, inter alia, the northerly boundary of the said Lot 19 to the end of such highway or road (and the continuity of the southerly boundary of the said road or highway shall not, for the purposes of this By-law, be deemed to be broken by any intersecting streets, roads, highways or lanes); thence in an easterly direction and along a line which is a projection of the said southerly boundary of the said highway or road which, inter alia, constitutes the northerly boundary of the said Lot 19, to the point of intersection of such projection of the said southerly boundary of the said highway or road with the easterly boundary of the Municipality; and thence in a generally southerly direction along the easterly boundary of the Municipality to a point more or less opposite and east of the mouth of Trout Creek where the easterly boundary of the Municipality turns towards the west and towards the said mouth of Trout Creek; and thence along the southerly boundary of the Municipality to the point of commencement.

3. The area of land lying within the Municipality described in the next preceding paragraph hereof is hereinafter referred to as "the Trout Creek Point drainage area", and the Trout Creek Point drainage area as hereinafter defined is hereby declared to be the specified area of the Municipality for the special benefit of which the drainage works hereinafter set out are authorized.

4. The drainage works which are by this By-law authorized to be undertaken by the Corporation for the special benefit of the Trout Creek Point drainage area are as follows:

(a) The cleaning out, repair and, where necessary, replacement, of 500 feet more or less of drainage pipe on Wharf Street between Eighth Street and the westerly shore of Okanagan Lake.

(b) The installation of 500

feet more or less of concrete drainage flume on Sixth Street between Ninth Street and the lakeshore, that is to say, on the street lying north of Powell Beach.

(c) The cleaning out, repair and, where necessary, replacement of drainage pipe, and installation of new drainage pipe, on Ninth Street between the point of commencement of the existing drain to the south of the intersection of Fourth Street and Ninth Street on the south, to the point to the north where the drain running through Lot Nine (9), Plan Four Thousand, Three Hundred and Thirty-nine (4339) comes onto Ninth Street.

(d) The cleaning out, repair and, where necessary, replacement of the existing drain across part of Lot 9, Plan 4339.

5. The cost of the works by this By-law hereinbefore authorized shall be borne as follows:

(a) One-third (1/3) of such cost shall be borne and paid by the Municipality from general revenue, provided however, that such one-third of the cost does not exceed the sum of Eight Hundred Dollars ($800.00), and the part of the cost to be borne by the Municipality is hereby limited to one-third of the cost or the sum of $800.00, whichever is the lesser:

(b) The remaining part of the cost of the works by this By-law authorized, that is to say, either two-thirds (2/3) of the said cost or the difference between the whole cost of the said works and $800.00, depending on which is the lesser, of one-third of the cost and the sum of $800.00, shall be borne by the lands lying within the Trout Creek Point drainage area and shall be levied and raised by a rating sufficient therefor upon the lands only lying within the Trout Creek Point drainage area.

6. The share of the cost of the said works to be levied and raised upon the lands only lying within the Trout Creek Point drainage area shall be raised and levied in the year 1958 by a rate sufficient therefor on the assessed values of the lands lying within the said Trout Creek Point drainage area, and for the purposes of the said rate to be levied and raised, the cost shall be deemed to be the estimated cost of the said works; namely, the sum of $2,463.00, less the share thereof to be paid by the Corporation as aforesaid, or the actual cost of such works less the Corporation's share thereof, if the actual cost be known at the time it is necessary to levy and raise the rate by this By-law authorized.

7. In the event of the rate levied in the year 1958 for the share of the cost of the works hereby authorized to be paid by a rate levied and raised on the lands within the Trout Creek Point drainage area being insufficient to meet the actual cost of the said works, it shall be lawful for the Corporation to raise and levy by a further rate in the year 1959 the share of the actual cost of such works to be borne by the lands within the Trout Creek Point drainage area, and in the event of such moneys so raised in the year 1959 being more than is required to meet the actual cost of the drainage works hereby authorized, such excess shall be applied towards the annual maintenance of the said drainage works as hereinafter authorized, and to reduce the amount to be levied and raised after the year 1958.

8. The Council of the Corporation is hereby authorized to advance any sums that may be required to be paid for the construction of the said works hereinafter authorized pending collection of the rate hereby authorized to be levied and raised on the lands only within the Trout Creek Point drainage area, and to recoup the general funds of the Municipality when such rates are collected.

9. It shall be lawful for the Corporation in each and every year following the year 1958 to maintain and keep in good working condition the drainage works hereby authorized, and the cost of such annual maintenance and repair shall be borne as follows: the sum of Fifty Dollars ($50.00) shall be paid from the general funds of the Municipality, and the balance thereof shall be raised in each year by a rate to be levied and raised upon the assessed value of the lands only situate within the Trout Creek Point drainage area, and it shall be lawful for the Council to advance any sums required for annual maintenance and repair from the general funds of the Municipality pending collection of the annual rate to be levied and raised on the lands only situate within the Trout Creek Point drainage area, and to recoup the general funds of the Municipality following collection of such rate.

10. Any person owning land in the Trout Creek Point drainage area may make application to the Council for permission to connect a private drain, draining the land owned by such applicant to one of the drains constituting the works by this By-law authorized, and on such applicant depositing with the Clerk of the Corporation, in cash, the estimated cost of connecting such applicant's private drain to the public drain of the Corporation and undertaking in writing to pay the whole cost of such connection, the Council of the Corporation may authorize such connection, and the work and material for the making of such connection shall be done and provided by the Corporation, and the whole of the cost thereof shall be paid by the applicant.

11. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to discharge or permit or allow to be discharged any sewage or water that has been used for washing or any domestic purposes into any Municipal drain in the Trout Creek Point drainage area; and for each offence under this section of this By-law, the person committing such offence shall be liable on summary conviction to pay a fine of not less than $100.00 and not more than $300.00, with costs, and in default such person may be committed to imprisonment for any term in the discretion of the convicting Magistrate, but not exceeding thirty (30) days.

12. This By-law may be cited for all purposes as "The Trout Creek Point Drainage By-law, 1958."

Fire Destroys Farm Home; Nine Homeless

Fire, Tuesday afternoon completely razed the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Muir, located six miles west of Summerland near Falder.

Rendered homeless was a family of nine, Mr. and Mrs. Muir, six children, the oldest fourteen, and aged Mrs. Ada Muir, a talented old lady, who confined to a wheel chair was fortunate to escape the blaze which, within fifteen minutes, turned the Muir home into a raging furnace.

When news of the disaster spread in Summerland the Review was the recipient of numerous calls asking that an appeal be made to help the Muirs in their trouble.

One resident started the fund off with a $5 donation. The Red Cross was, of course, quickly on the job, as were members of the Muir's church. Blankets and food were rushed to the stricken family and church folk made temporary arrangements to sleep the children until accommodation can be found at the farm.

Furniture, cooking utensils and money are the immediate needs.

With a large family to care for and with an addition expected, a grievous loss to Mrs. Muir was the washing machine.

Such things, however, can be replaced, but lost in the blaze were hundreds of books, many of them very old, including some first editions of Mrs. Ada Muir's own works, along with highly prized photograph and film records of a long career as writer, poet, and horticulturist who for many years specialized in the growing of prize winning cacti.

The terrific heat generated by the burning home and which started a bush fire racing up the hillside, burnt the garden tractor and another lighter machine in the basement, along with a table saw were also destroyed. The fire is believed to have started from a spark which ignited the roof.

By the time it was noticed it was too late to take effective measures.

Mrs. Ada Muir, "Grandma" sat in her wheel chair this morning with only a half a dozen colored photographs of some prize cacti left of what had been a large and interesting collection of photographs and films and other records of a busy and useful life.

Much of what was lost cannot be replaced but Summerland can help the Muirs to a fresh start.

Winter Concert Program Here Now Assured

A very gratifying display of interest in a concert series for Summerland was shown in last week's campaign for subscription membership. Because it was so encouraging, inquiries for membership are now being made by some citizens and students who were unfortunately missed by the canvassers. Although the campaign is officially over, members of the executive can still accept subscriptions for a short time. In the belief that our young people should have the opportunity to enjoy the finest in musical experience, the executive would especially welcome the applications for student memberships.

Negotiations are under way now to establish what kind of a programme can be arranged for the 1958-1959 season. The programme for Summerland will not necessarily include the same artists as those in such places as Oliver, Salmon Arm or Kamloops. Members, therefore, will be able to hear a possible additional five or six different concerts at no extra charge if they are prepared to travel to other towns.

Anyone wishing further information may obtain it from Mrs. G. E. Woodliss, campaign chairman, or Mrs. C. E. Emery, secretary. The executive committee is meeting later this week to make decisions regarding next year's series based on the preferences indicated by the subscribers.

CANCER DRIVE

Kivans club's Cancer Fund drive is going over the top, drive Chairman "Hilly" Smith reported today.

MUIR RELIEF FUND

A depot to receive donations of furniture, dishes and other household utensils to aid in rehabilitating the Muir family, has been established at the old Municipal Hall and will be open from one o'clock to four o'clock on Thursday and Friday afternoon.

Money donations can be made to Gordon Smith, City Clerk, or left at the Review Office if more convenient.

Anyone with articles too large for easy handling which they wish to donate, can phone Mrs. A. G. Bisset at 4051 or A. F. Calder at 2182 and arrangements will be made to collect the articles.

The appeal is sponsored by the Summerland Red Cross branch and the Welfare Association.

School Band Cookie Sale Bottle Pickup

The members of the Summerland High School Band will be covering the municipality this Saturday to help raise funds for their trip to Washington May 16-18th.

The girls will be holding a home cooking sale and the boys will be out collecting bottles. The municipality has requested all householders to clean up their premises and the bottle drive can be a great help in this way. Now is the time to get your basements and garages cleaned up by getting rid of all the bottles that may have collected. At the same time you can be helping the High School Band take part in the Lillac Festival events in Spokane and hence publicize the Okanagan in general and Summerland in particular.

New Merchant Confident In Summerland

Verrier's Meat Market is gone with Mr. Verrier, a merchant of Summerland for 19 years, hanging up his apron for good. But Mr. Verrier has a successor in Al. Johnson. Mr. Johnson hails from the bald-headed prairies, Saskatchewan. He's been in business on his own for years.

Summerland's newest businessman thinks Summerland has a future, he thinks Summerland is going to grow and grow, and he has backed his judgment by selling out, lock stock and barrel, his Penticton property to invest in this community.

The old Verrier store has been completely renovated. The big opening is Friday and Saturday, with door prizes and bargain specials to mark the occasion.

Career Day To Be Inaugurated At High School

Students of Summerland High School have the opportunity on Friday to hear speakers in the various vocational fields in what is known as "Career Day."

Outstanding persons in professions and trades have consented to speak on 19 vocations. About half the speakers are scheduled to be in various classrooms at one o'clock and at two o'clock the remainder of the speakers take over.

Career Day has been observed for several years in schools at the coast and has proved of considerable value to the students. This is an experiment in the Summerland High School, and if sufficient interest is shown it is planned to hold Career Day in subsequent years.

Vocations in which students have shown interest are: airline stewardess, auto-mechanics, architecture, civil service, dieticians, machinist, nursing, radio and TV, RCMP, social work and teaching.

Government Action Now Awaits Closing Of Pools

Kinsmen dignitaries from north, south, east and west attended the charter night and first annual officers installation, held last Saturday. Shown above from left - right are: Ken Lambert, club organizer, Penticton; National President, Ken McConnell; District Governor, Ken Harding; Summerland's first Kinsmen president, Murray Paynter; Harley McCord, President of Penticton club, chairman; Earl Quesnel, District Governor and Louie Wolf, club organizer, Kelowna.

Kinsmen Ass'n Donates $1000 To Health Centre

Summerland Kinsmen Club received its charter on Saturday night at the hands of National President Ken McDonnell and to make the occasion more memorable Acting Reeve (right) Norman Holmes received a cheque for $1,000 as a donation towards the community centre. The cheque was presented by Don Ross, Kinsmen liaison officer for Kin children's welfare and polo (left). There is the cheque behind them a big cheque, in more ways than one.

Stores To Remain Open Here During July, Aug.

Summerland stores will stay open six days a week during the month of July and August, this was decided at the annual meeting of the Retail Merchant's Association held Monday. Saturday night opening until nine o'clock retained favor with the merchants and the extended shopping hours on Saturdays will go into effect on June 1. The merchants also voted to continue Monday all-day closing and a year-round closing time of 5:30 p.m. except on the Saturday nights.

Jerry Halquist was elected president, Les Rumball, vice-president, Howard Pruden, continues as secretary, and treasurer is Mel Ducommun. Executive members are, W. A. Laidlaw, Charlie Minter, Howard Shannon, Tom Fisher and Cecil Wade. Secretary Howard Pruden reported on the work of the sign committee. Elected to this committee to carry on the considerable work already done in placing signs to direct travellers to the business section of Summerland are Frank MacDonald, chairman, Vic Smith and Russ Varty.

Guest speaker Postmaster Ross McLachlan, gave an interesting talk on the mailing system in operation in Summerland. "All I ask is that you meet us halfway in our efforts to give you the service you expect," he told the merchants in conclusion.

Mrs. Mary Heales and Russ Varty were winners in the surprise packet draw and Mrs. Les Rumball and newcomer Al Johnson won aluminum lawn chairs at bingo.

Summerland did not wait long to benefit from the organization of a Kinsmen Club here. Within minutes of official presentation of the Charter by National President Ken McConnell, Don Ross, Kinsmen liaison officer presented to Deputy Reeve Norman Holmes, a cheque for one thousand dollars, a gift to the Summerland Health Unit now in the building.

Councillor Holmes was stunned, flabbergasted, astonished, amazed and completely unprepared for such a handsome gesture and he was wearing his heart on his sleeve when he expressed the community's thanks. Presentation of the cheque by the parent body as a token of goodwill towards the newly organized Kinsmen Club and to the community at large was, without doubt the highlight of the evening.

The infant Kin Club, was also the recipient of many gifts from other Kin Clubs in the district. Armstrong, Salmon Arm, Penticton, Kelowna, far away Golden and Oliver.

A delightful lunch was served by the Canadian Legion ladies auxiliary launched a successful and enjoyable evening with Kinsmen Club from all interior points represented.

Aims and objects of the organization were outlined by both Al Kenyon, Penticton, who moved the toast to the association and by District Governor Ken Harding who laid great stress on the Kinsmen's purpose, to be of service to the nation, to give leadership and to create and cement fellowship. As an example of Kin service, District Governor Harding cited the Kinsmen's Milk for Britain campaign as one of the association's outstanding service ventures.

Kinsmen who are famed for doing their work amid a jovial atmosphere were nevertheless in very serious mood when officers were solemnly installed by Deputy District Governor Earl Quesnel.

Installed were President Murray Paynter; vice-president, Jim Newton; secretary Bill Follock; treasurer, Hank Willemson; registrar, Jim May; directors, Don Estabrooks and Gordon Stein and bulletin editor, Bill Likel.

Prior to the installation acting Reeve Holmes extended a stye welcome to the new service club and he prophesied that it would prove of great value to Summerland.

A big moment was the pre-

A fruit industry delegation to Ottawa last week came away hopeful that action to support the sagging economy of the industry will be forthcoming.

The government intimated that first consideration would be given to the 1957 apple crop.

As pools are not yet closed it was felt useless to continue discussions at this point but, according to an authoritative source, the government is prepared to assess the situation immediately the pools are closed and this is interpreted to mean deficiency payments will be granted if the 1957 apple crop prices are found to be below the ten year average.

When decision has been reached on the 1957 apple crop, it is understood that the government is prepared to listen to submissions from the industry for the placing of tree fruits under the "Agricultural Price Stabilization Act rather than to consider, for the time being at least, the principle of the minimum of Fair Market Value.

A strong rumor circulating in Summerland, to the effect that the federal government refused point-blank to consider assistance to the fruit industry, appears, in view of the foregoing to be unfounded. It is thought, perhaps, that the rumor developed from the fact that the government short-circuited discussions until the apple pools are closed.

Open Air Service Marks Centennial Observance Here

Summerland joined on Sunday with the rest of B.C. in officially opening British Columbia's Centennial year with a day of prayer.

The occasion was marked by a well attended open air service at the Memorial Park.

The official proclamation was given by Acting Reeve Norman Holmes. Rev. A. F. Irving uttered the invocation, Rev. Rathgen read the scripture lesson, the responsive psalm was by the Rev. L. Kennedy and the address was given by the Rev. J. James.

The anthem was sung by the massed choirs under the direction of Ken Storey.

An impressive flag raising ceremony and dedication by the Rev. C. O. Richmond concluded the service.

Closing date for applicants for the Inland Natural Gas Co. Ltd. scholarship in Home Economics is May 31. This scholarship, valued at $250, has been offered by Inland to students in the Cariboo, Okanagan, and Kootenay districts of B. C. who plan to enter the University of British Columbia for the first time and who are proceeding in the course leading to a degree of Bachelor of Home Economics.

Students should make application, through their High School principal to Dean Walter H. Gage, University of British Columbia, Vancouver, B.C. presentation of the Charter by National President Ken McConnell, making the new organization official.

Business concluded with a cheque for one thousand dollars safely tucked away in the pocket of a beaming acting Reeve, the Kinsmen wound up their Charter night with a dance at which to be true, but truthful, a good time was had by all.

Women's Institute Wars On Unsightly Billboards

A resolution urging abolition of unsightly bill boards, to be presented at the district rally, will be wholeheartedly supported by the delegates from the Summerland Women's Institute. At the regular meeting of the local Women's Institute, which convened under the chairmanship of president Mrs. L.W. Rumball, all members were requested, if at all possible to attend the district rally, to be held May 6, in Oliver.

Discussing resolutions for this rally, the Summerland group strongly supported the one objecting to unsightly billboards, marring the scenery along the highways, and, in particular, spoiling the visitors' first sight of the Okanagan from the south and on highway No.3. It is felt that with boards of trade and other groups urging others to clean up for Centennial year, something should be done to remove these eyesores.

At the conclusion of business,

Miss Diane Durick gave a delightful talk on her experiences at the Girl Guide World Camp at Doe Lake, Ontario, in 1957. Miss Durick showed many snapshots to supplement her interesting address.

Mrs. Fenwick then showed pictures of the Southern Okanagan Girl Guide Camps of the past two years and other pictures of the proposed new camp-site on Okanagan Lake.

Nutrition Big Factor In Egg Shell Quality

Breeding and nutrition are possibly the most important factors affecting egg shell quality but according to W.G. Hunsaker of the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, disease and other factors associated with the physiology of the bird also have a bearing on shell quality.

The ability to produce eggs with shells of good quality is an inherited characteristic of the individual hen. Different breeds and, more important perhaps, strains within breeds, differ in their ability to produce strong, well formed shells. Commercial egg producers should insure that the chicks they buy are from a strain with proved ability to produce good shells. This also is an important point for the breeder. Not only does he want to produce a good selection of chicks but he wants to obtain the highest hatchability as well. Good hatchability is due in part to good shell quality. Poor shell quality can be improved by breeding.

Regardless of the inherited capacity of a bird to lay eggs with good strong shells, she must receive an adequate amount of the nutrients necessary for shell formation. The most important of these, calcium, vitamin D and manganese.

About 98 percent of the egg shell is composed of calcium in the form of calcium carbonate. It is very important therefore that a supply of calcium be available to the birds. This can best be achieved by keeping clean oyster shell before the birds at all times. In this way the hen will regulate her own calcium intake in accordance with her rate of production.

Grads Fashion Show Upcoming

All the ladies are invited to bring along their husbands to a big "first" fashion show on May 9 in the High School Auditorium at 8:15 p.m.

This year the Grad Class along with Mrs. Marion Bouey, Home Economist, are sponsoring and presenting a fashion show featuring all seasons of the year.

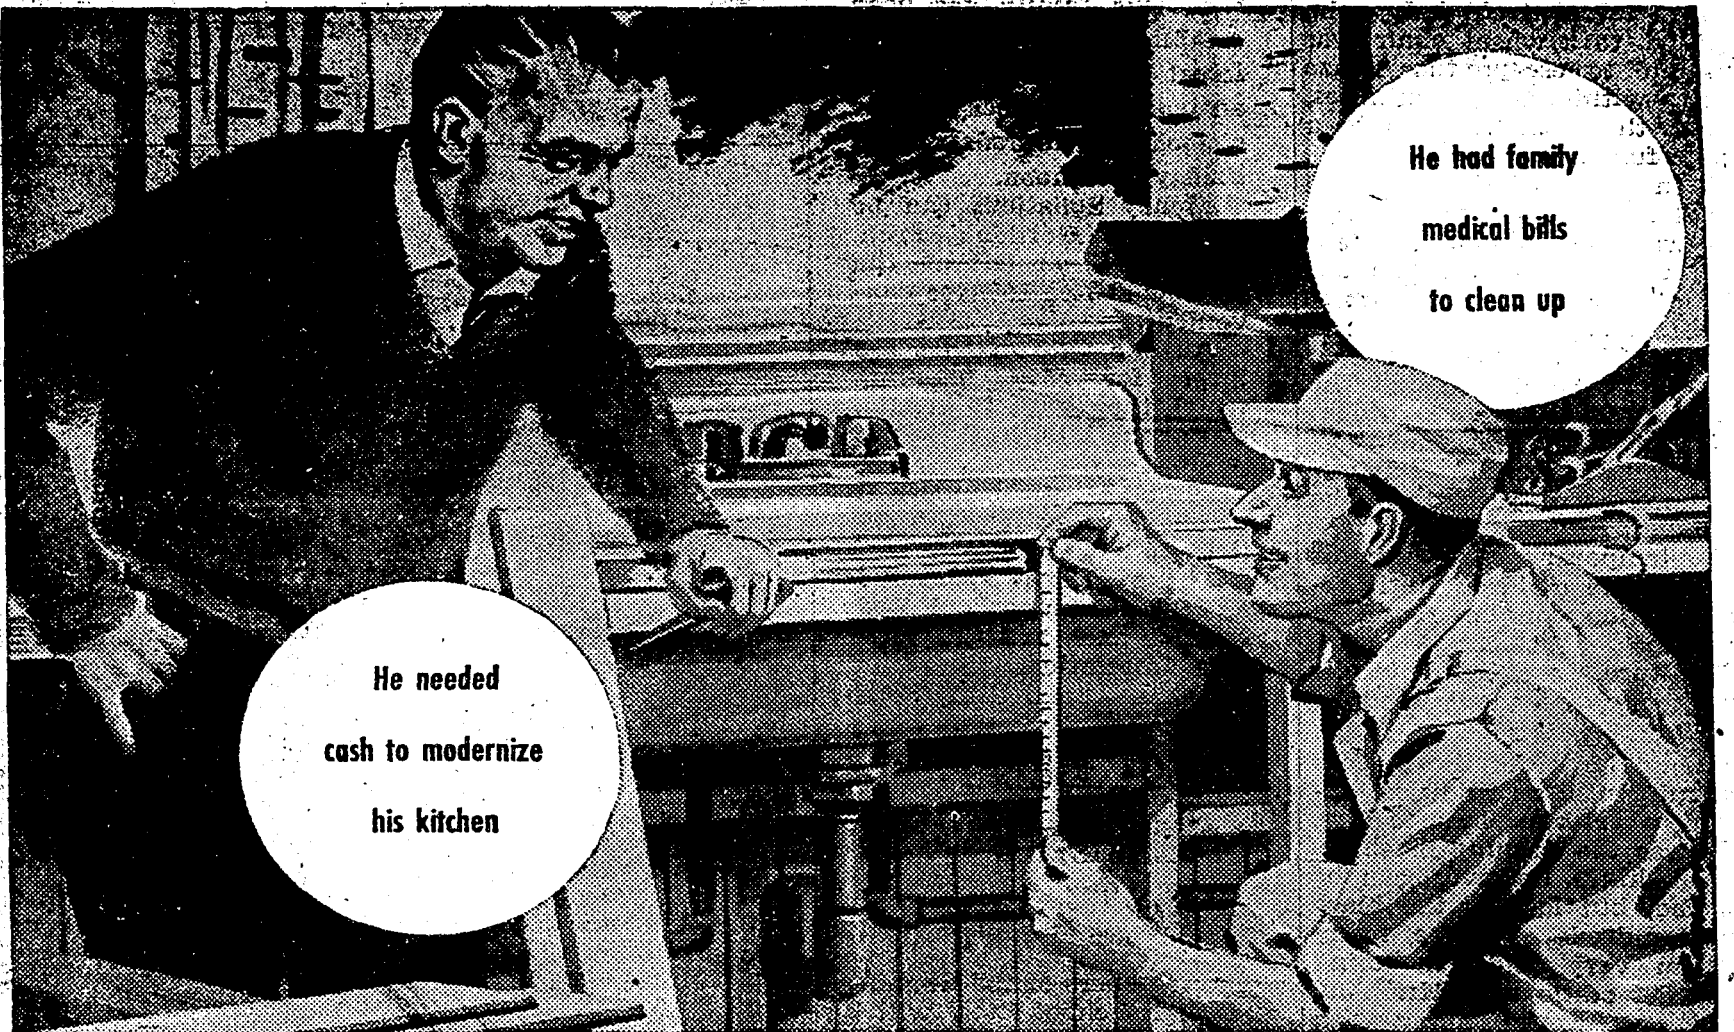

All the clothing will be modelled by students in Grades 10, 11, and 12. All of the outfits to be modelled have been made by the girls either in class or during their spare time.

Invitations have gone out but if your name has been missed on the list, this is your personal invitation to come along to the First Spring Fashion Show. All proceeds will go to the 1958 Graduation Class.

Summerland Senior Citizens Housing Committee has sent out a large number of letters with questionnaire attached regarding Senior Citizen Housing for Summerland.

Any Senior Citizen who has not received a copy may do so by calling at the Municipal Office or by phoning E. H. Bennett at 2936.

SEASON NOW CLOSE TO AVERAGE DATE

Two weeks ago when apricots were in full bloom we were about one week ahead of average. However, as often happens, cold winds and rains have slowed the tempo and the season is now very close to average date. Cherries and peaches usually reach full bloom about the same time and at this date, April 25, they appear to be about one day from full bloom.

SPRAY THINNING

As the time of apple blossom gets nearer spray thinning and its many problems begin to occupy our thoughts. The spray thinning section of the 1958 spray chart begins with the warning that spray thinning involves a calculated risk. Let us look back over the past 10 years since chemical thinning started. What are the risks involved and to what extent do they occur?

Risk No. 1. The possibility of losing part or all of the crop. Occasionally loss of crop has occurred but in any one orchard it has been confined to part of one variety. Most common causes:

1. Prolonged rain or wet weather following application.
2. Inadequate pollination.
3. Excessive concentration of spray material, either from too much material in the tank or excessive spray drift building up on trees already sprayed.

Varieties most likely to be over-thinned are Delicious and Rome.

Risk No. 2. Excessively large fruit. Can be caused by the same conditions as above, or occasionally brought about by too much hand thinning following the spray thinning job. The McIntosh variety sometimes suffers from this. It is well to remember that in some years overly large McIntosh, being mostly Cee grade, fail to realize the cost of production.

Risk No. 3. No effect from the spray. This sometimes occurs if the weather remains warm and dry during application and for several days after. There is the possibility that the grower, having applied the spray, may believe that it has done the job when actually it has not. Thus lulled into a sense of security he may not realize the need for hand thinning until it is too late. Varieties that are hard to spray thin are Yellow Transparent, Wealthy, Duchess and Golden Delicious. Two sprays, set 24 hours apart, are often required for these sorts.

This year the concentration recommended on the spray chart is reduced 20%. This reflects the tendency to over-thin in past seasons.

Probably the best approach to the spray thinning task is to aim at a little less than a perfect job of thinning. A few extra apples on the tree can always be thinned off by hand in June.

Summing up the situation, it seems that although there are some risks involved in spray thinning they cannot be compared with the risk involved if no spray thinning is done. Without spray thinning the grower would undoubtedly be faced with a staggering bill for hand thinning to say nothing of the probability that enough help could not be found and the job would not be done.

Ron Manning, Chair'n Of ISC Conferece

Ron Manning, a grade twelve student, was chairman of the Conference which Marilyn Milne and Marjorie James attended as delegates to the Inter-School Christian Conference held at Naramata Training School from Friday to Sunday of last week. Fifteen other Summerland students attended the various sessions and there were seventy students from Kamloops to Penticton points.

The speaker was Kathy Nichol of Vancouver with Owen White being the special guest from the University of Melbourne, Australia.

Help Youngsters Help Themselves

Now that Summerland's Centennial Celebrations have been officially launched we hope that every car owner will display one of the attractive Centennial license plate tabs that the 1st Summerland Scout and Cub Group Committee and the AOTS Club are selling to help defray the expenses of Cub and Scout summer camps. These tabs are green and gold and look very attractive either clipped to your license plate or to your car aerial. They will make a nice souvenir of the Centennial year and cost only one dollar. After you've read this editorial how about phoning either Dave McIntosh 3632, Max McGibbon 3034 or Don Fisher 3233 and you will promptly receive one.

Open Town In Key Months

Summerland's retail merchants have given more serious consideration to the possibility of tourist trade here this year than in other years. At the Retail Merchant's Association annual meeting held Tuesday, the merchants voted to remain open six days a week for the key months of July and August along with Saturday night opening starting June 1.

We think the merchants are to be commended on taking this action.

Stop Those Rollers

Lack of adequate protection at the border has forced closure of an Osoyoos cannery — more are expected to follow.

Here is something that only the Government, the federal government, can handle.

High tariffs are not wanted by the grower — but he does want a tariff wall high enough to keep out what is, in effect, dumped products.

The orchardist whose fruit competes on the fresh fruit market is in a like position.

Only a week or so ago a valley grower was visiting at a large Washington State orchard.

It so happened that at this time the Washington grower received his lading bills and what not, for a carload of fruit which he had shipped on speculation. That carload of fruit, apples, went to Spokane, to Tacoma, to Seattle and several other points — no one wanted it — then it rolled into Vancouver, no — not Vancouver, Washington — but Vancouver BRITISH COLUMBIA. It sold for 50 cents a box. About this time a valley grower returned from the coast with the report that the stores were full of low cost American apples.

No industry, regardless of its nature can survive under such a destructive competition.

The Americans have a vast home market they feed, that market commands reasonable prices and then if they're glutted they just ship carload after carload on speculation, apparently in the sensible, for them belief, that it is better to pick up 50 cents a box than nothing at all.

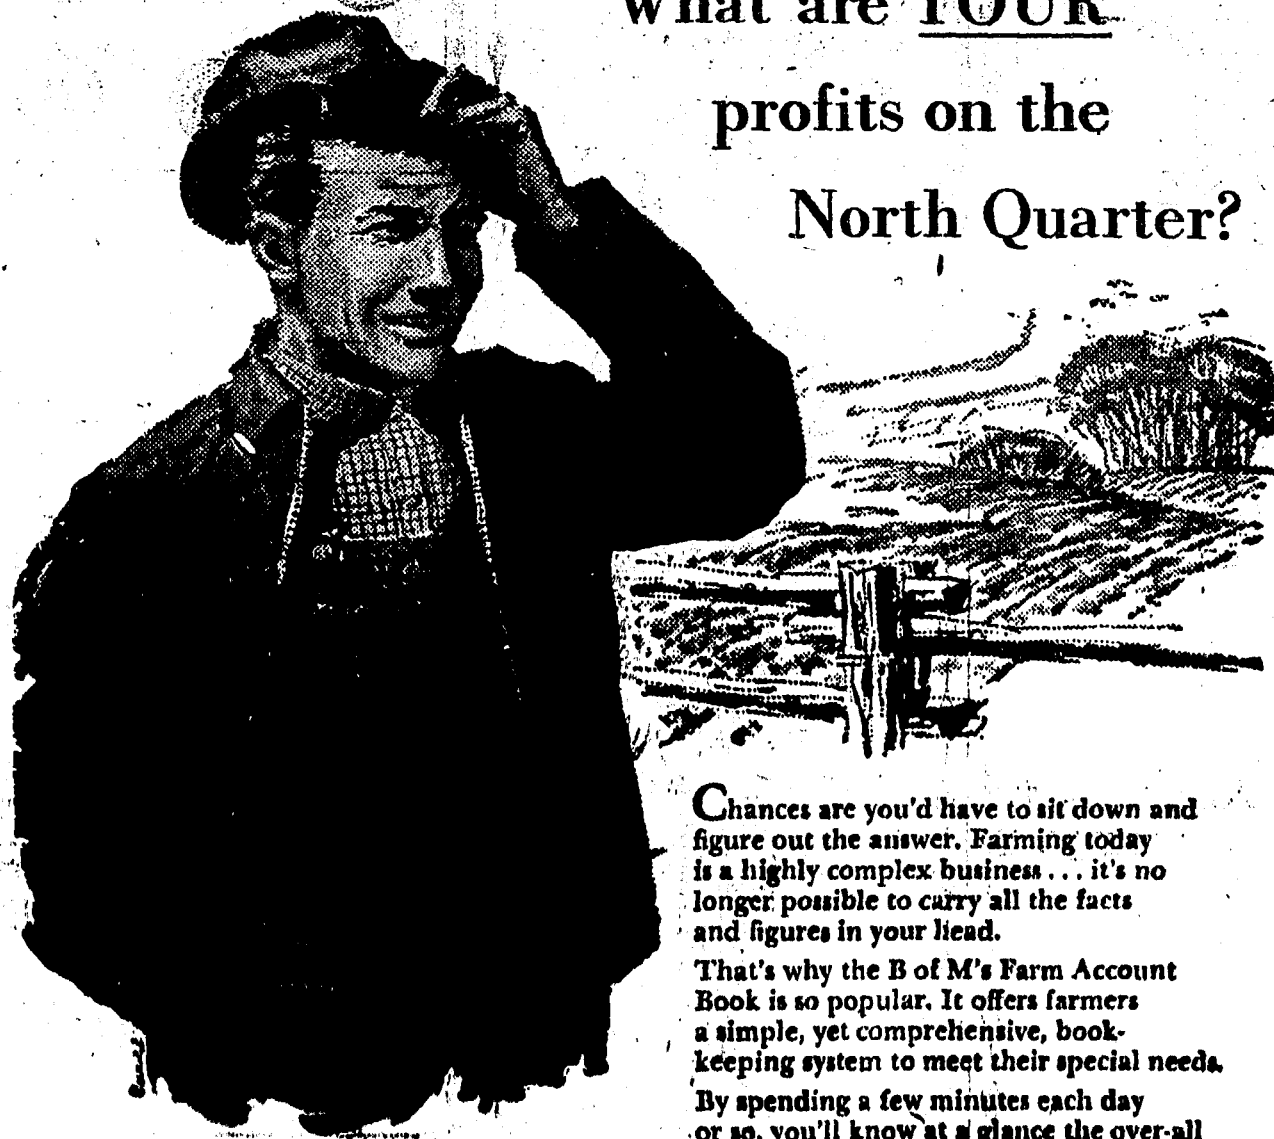

Some Canadian wholesalers and retailers keep a weather eye open for these rollers from across the border, and the Canadian fruit grower is the man who suffers.

Whatever else the government intends to do about helping the fruit industry to get back on its feet it should act immediately to stop this influx of below production cost fruit, canned or fresh, from coming into the country.

Growers once had a slogan "a cent a pound or on the ground."

Now they need another of three words, pregnant with meaning for all those who are dependent upon the fruit industry for their livelihood — that slogan, "STOP THOSE ROLLERS."

What are YOUR profits on the North Quarter?

Chances are you'd have to sit down and figure out the answer. Farming today is a highly complex business... it's no longer possible to carry all the facts and figures in your head.

That's why the B of M's Farm Account Book is so popular. It offers farmers a simple, yet comprehensive, book-keeping system to meet their special needs.

By spending a few minutes each day or so, you'll know at a glance the over-all financial position of your farm... which operations are paying off — which are only breaking even — and which are even losing money.

Why not put the B of M's Farm Account Book to work for you? You'll wonder how you ever got along without it — especially when income-tax time rolls 'round next year.

Simply ask at your nearest B of M Branch for your complimentary copy.

Paint Up - Clean Up

With the proclaiming of the "Paint-Up, Clean-Up" weeks in Summerland, local owners are busy planning their paint-up job. Amateur home painters, embarking on jobs of interior painting, may be wondering if a change in the color scheme would add beauty to the home, or be detrimental to the lighting effects.

Although seldom realized, the color of the ceiling has a direct bearing on the brightness of the room. According to the interior decorators, the light reflected from the ceiling can give your room either bright look or a subdued appearance, depending upon the reflective quality of the color desired.

If your re-decoration scheme calls for a sparkling look, you should paint the ceiling either white, which reflects around 80 percent of the light that falls upon it, or light ivory which has a 70 percent rating.

For more subdued appearance your ceiling should be colored a light buff which reflects around 55 percent of the light pale apple green at around 50 percent, or medium gray in the neighborhood of 45 percent.

Still further down the light reflection ladder comes pale blue and light green at 40 percent. If for some particular reason you prefer a really subdued ceiling tone, then you could try a deep rose which reflects only 15 percent of the light, or a dark green at less than 10 percent.

Experience has also shown that mineral wool insulation in your ceilings will cut down your redecorating bills. In an uninsulated house, shadow lines will often form on the ceiling within a year or two after painting. This is caused by the condensation of moisture on the ceiling as the heat flows through the plaster.

By insulating with mineral wool, this greatly reduces the heat flow thereby eliminating condensation by dirt-laden moisture. While it is impossible to eliminate the shadow lines from forming on the ceiling, tests have shown that mineral wool insulation will retard this action for as long as three to five years. The same is true of the walls in a house.

Today In Your Garden

Since we still have several weeks before it is time to set out annual bedding plants, let's take a look at the hillside or rock garden. These are now in full bloom, with masses of golden Alyssum; mauve Aubrietia, white Arabis and pink Phlox, etc. There is still time to plant all of these and to add also a touch of the more unusual rocky plants, such as Yellow Onosma and Golden Hypericum; Pink Dianthus and Saxifraga, and Pink Silene which is a moss with tiny star-like flowers. It is ideal as filler for the crevices and for shadier spots, don't forget the large flowered types of Polyanthus and Viola.

Perennial borders produce a brilliant display of color during May and June with some blooming continuously throughout the summer.

When starting a perennial garden be very sure to keep the tallest plants in the background. Giant Delphinium, Foxglove, Lupine, etc., grow over three feet in height. While in the 20 inch to 30 inch range there are the sturdy upright Whirl Supreme Daisy, Pyrethrum, Geum, Scarlet Lobelia and Lychnis, Caruations and many, many more. If you are in a hurry it may be possible to purchase small plants of the above named varieties which will in some cases bloom this Spring or in the Fall.

Now a word about the vegetable garden. If you have planted all the seeds, why not set out some early cabbage, lettuce, and cauliflower. These will grow much better while the weather is still cool. The Riverside sweet Spanish onion can be obtained from seedlings and will provide enough onions to last all winter at a very small cost.

Whatever you try to grow keep a constant lookout for the root maggot and cutworm.

Don't hesitate to use the numerous chemicals available for the control of these pests.

Talk On Landscaping

An extremely interesting and informative lecture, entitled, "Design for Living," has been arranged by the UBC Department of University Extension to be held in the Penticton High School Cafeteria on Thursday, May 1, at 8-p.m.

The lecture will be given by Dr. H. W. Neill and will be devoted to landscaping.

Interested gardeners should not miss this opportunity to hear one of U. B. C.'s foremost authorities on landscaping. There is no charge for admission.

AMERICAN GUIDER VISITS SUMMERLAND

Twenty Guiders were entertained at a buffet dinner on Monday, April 28 at the home of Mrs. Lopatecki.

A discussion was led by Miss Nora Lynch, who is an international Guider and Girl Scout of

The evening guests were later entertained by a skit and campfire.

by E.R.H.

A very pleasant evening was enjoyed by the many square dance friends of Dr. Bob and Eddie Parmley, when they gathered at the Masonic Hall in Penticton on Saturday night to hold a farewell party. After a full evening of dancing to a variety of good callers and calls a lovely buffet supper was enjoyed. We will all miss the Parmleys and their enthusiastic interest and contribution to square dancing in this area.

Sorry don't know of any dancing in the area for this weekend.

Last reminder to attend the annual General Meeting on Thursday night.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 30, 1958

Baseball News

Summerland Macs made it three in a row here Sunday by defeating the Kamloops Jay Rays 7-4. Macs took Princeton in the season opener and then went on to take Oliver 1-0. But, there is a long grind ahead and it is still too early to try and assess the relative strength of the respective clubs in the Okanagan Mainline Baseball League.

Macs still have to meet the Penticton powerhouse Red Sox, and also the Kamloops Okonots and the Vernon Clippers.

What Vernon has to offer this year will be on show this Sunday here, when the Clippers will be here for a doubleheader, game time, 1:30 p.m.

Macs are still riding high on the iron man pitching of Al Hooker, but Al can't carry the load all season, some research into the mound staff situation appears to be indicated. Last Sunday the Macs, after spotting the Kamloops Jay Rays two runs in the first inning, roared back with a three-run rally in the second inning, only to have the Jay Rays make it a new ball game in the third.

The clubs traded runs in the seventh and then, in the eighth with the score at 4-4, the Macs came to life, pounded two of the Jay Rays hurling staff out of the box and shoved in three runs to coast into the winning column.

Al Hooker pitching his third straight win, gave up nine hits. Al received solid support in the field and three double plays helped the cause along with some spectacular fielding in the outfield.

Ollie Egeley led in the hitting department with three straight hits, Taylor garnered two hits and Burton, Hooker and Biollo scored singletons. header on Sunday. Vernon vs. pick up box score

The Red Sox Junior baseball team kept pace with the older brothers, the Macs when they travelled to Oliver on Sunday and came away with a convincing 14-7 victory.

For the second Sunday in a row the Red Sox outclassed the Oliver Juniors and now share the league lead with Vernon, who have yet to be defeated.

Sunday's game saw Don Skinner start a game for the first time in two years. He was wild at the start but settled down and pitched good ball to pick up the victory.

Henry Huva has left town and his place at the hot corner has been filled by De Witt who is getting his first try at the infield.

Every boy on the club got in the game again and they all looked sharp.

Next Sunday the Red Sox go to Vernon where they will have to be more than sharp to beat the Vernon Club and take the league leadership.

Other league scores were: Vernon 8, Keremeos 4; Penticton 2, Naramata 1.

How much Life Insurance should you own?

Most of us have asked this question only to discover there is no ready-made answer because needs and circumstances vary from family to family. The father of three children has greater needs and responsibilities than the young man who has just recently married. Some people have more substantial financial reserves than others. How much Life Insurance should you own to meet your needs? Would it be $15,000? — $25,000? — $50,000 or more?

The Man from Manufacturers is in business to help you arrive at the right answer. Through his Security Graph Service you yourself can determine if you have enough life insurance to do the job you want done. Ask him about this special service today.

The Mixed League finished off their season in grand style with a Banquet and a Dance on Friday, April 19th. There was well over 100 in attendance at the banquet and dance. Steak knives, tumbler sets and clocks were donated by R. (Dick) Parmley and Don Lange Jewellers. Table lamps and T-V lamps were obtained through the courtesy of Woolworths and Bill Hepperle. SCHOOL DISTRICT No. 77 (Summerland)

Auditor's Report

To the Chairman and Members,
Board of School Trustees,
School District No. 77 (Summerland),
Summerland, B.C.

We have examined the Balance Sheet of School District No. 77 (Summerland) as at December 31, 1957, and the Statements of Surplus, Revenue and Expenditure and Receipts and Disbursements for the year ended on that date and have obtained all the information and explanations we have required. Our examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of accounting records and other supporting evidence as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion the accompanying Balance Sheet and Statements of Surplus, Revenue and Expenditure and Receipts and Disbursements are properly drawn up so as to exhibit a true and correct view of the state of the School District's affairs as at December 31, 1957, and the results of its operations for the year ended on that date, according to the best of our information, the explanations given to us and as shown by the books of the School District.

Large Attendance At Women's Church Federation Meeting

Mrs. R. Chapman welcomed over 50 members and visitors to the Thank Offering meeting of the United Church Women's Federation, in the church hall, April 17th.

Mrs. J. Dunston, the president in the chair, opened the programme by the singing of a favorite hymn of Miss E. Campbell, a former member now residing in Mountain View home. Mrs. Edgar Gould, Mrs. W. Powell and Mrs. R. Chapman led the worship service.

The business of the meeting followed the usual routine. Miss A. Cockran read the financial report in the absence of the secretary, Mrs. M. Laidlaw. Mrs. A. McLaughlin reported on the material on hand for the next parcel for Korea, also on cards to the sick and shut-ins. Mrs. M. Scott reviewed new books for the federation's library. Miss Cockran read a note of thanks from Miss Elsie Bunner, our special missionary to Rhodesia, South Africa, for a Christmas gift sent to her.

A request from the manse committee was brought before the members and a sum of money was granted for their use.

Mrs. Dunston introduced the guest speakers, Miss Hurd and Miss Hamilton of Naramata. Both ladies have spent many years in mission work in Japan. Their colored slide pictures of schools, scholars and beauty spots, with their informative comments, were entertaining and instructive, and very much enjoyed by everyone, particularly by the Japanese ladies in attendance.

Miss Hurd's display of unusual and artistic articles gathered in her travels in Japan, was an added feature to an interesting and educational afternoon. Among the visitors were the C.G.I.T. girls and their leader, Mrs. A. Keen.

Mrs. S. A. McDonald, in a few words, expressed to Miss Hurd and Hamilton the appreciative thanks of the members and visitors.

After adjournment a social half hour was spent over a dainty lunch served by Mrs. W. Ward, Mrs. A. McLaughlin, Mrs. G. Harper and Mrs. W. McCutcheon.

South Okanagan Community Concert Association Drive On

The Community Concert Association, organized for the purpose of bringing the finest in musical attractions to our city is ready to accept renewal of memberships for next season.

The drive officially begins on Monday, April 21st. The enthusiastic response of last year will, we are quite sure, be repeated now. It therefore behooves all who have enjoyed the delightful attractions in the field of fine music, to waste little time in renewing their memberships. There is little doubt the record of last year will be surpassed and certain it is the attractions for next year will be outstanding. Already the famous Lola Montes and her Spanish Dancers have been scheduled. The remaining attractions will be just as outstanding.

The answer is, of course, to insure your own opportunity to enjoy these wonderful concerts through a membership in the Community Concert Association. You will be contacted by one of the large group of enthusiastic workers who voluntarily give their time to this worthy community endeavor. Join now! Your local representative is Mrs. G. E. Williams, who convenes a group of eight volunteer canvassers.

Campsite Tag Day

The Local Association to the Guides report a collection of over $120 on Saturday, April 19 to aid the campsite fund.

Despite a downpour of rain at intervals throughout the day, the taggers wearing a tag-tray which held a money-box resembling a tent with miniature trees and bonfire.

Mrs. Ross McLachlan, president was in charge with many of the members assisting her.

Terry Ducummon celebrated his eighth birthday with a party at his home following a hike up Giant's Head. The cowboy theme was carried out with a cake to match.

Those attending were: Billy McCuaig, Michael Weeks, Sandy Berry, Doug McIntosh, Alan Barkwill, Roddy Hallquist, George McCrea, Dick Baker and Jackie Barkwill.

Girl Guide Camp Fund Over $2,000

An Okanagan Guide Campsite Society is being formed to administer the affairs of the new permanent campsite.

Final papers for purchase are being drawn up now. An option until May 1 was taken on the site which is seven miles north of the ferry on the west side of the lake.

Response to the appeal for funds has reached over $2,000. A boat and cabin have also been donated and the Kiwanis Club of Summerland has undertaken a $400 kitchen project for the camp with a long range aim of doing work on the beach to improve it for Guide purposes.

Balance of the $6,000 purchase price is to be raised over a period of time which may take a year or two.

Premier W. A. C. Bennett has given $50 worth of merchandise and this is to be applied towards buying a refrigerator.

Mrs. F. E. Atkinson, Bruce Blagborne and W. A. Gilmour comprise the by-law committee. As soon as the by-laws have been agreed upon the new society will be formed. This is expected to be soon.

Semantic Study Shows Salary Salty Subject

Some of our words in everyday use originated so long ago that their original meanings have long since gone into the limbo of forgotten things. For instance, "salary", a pretty important subject to most of us, originated in the days of ancient Rome.

Soldiers and civil servants were given regular rations of salt and other necessities, lumped together under the general name of "salt rations."

Although money came to replace the rations, the name remained, and hence the expression "worth his salt". (Latin: salarium, sal, salt).

Nowadays, when they get their pay cheque, hundreds of thousands of Canadians, worth their salt, make it a rule to save part of their salary at the Bank of Montreal. They know thrift is the fastest and surest way of building a firm foundation for future success.

Doug Galloway, accountant at the West Summerland branch of the Bank of Montreal, will be glad to help. It's worth the time it takes to find out how easy it is to open a savings account at the B of M. It will earn two and three-quarters per cent interest. But, most of all, regular saving soon becomes a habit that's very much "worth its salt" to you.
