

According To The Mood

By Sid Godber

This makes the umpteenth time I've made a start on this column.

Sort of in a depressed mood — all the town seems depressed.

Little if anything stirring — about the only people who seem to be half alive these days are the curlers and they're half dead through keeping ungodly hours.

Summerland folk can, of course, still come alive on occasion witness last week's Order of the Eastern Star Dance — that was a nice dance — nice decoration, excellent music — everybody had fun — and it was nice of the Penticton RCMP officer to watch over us all so solicitously.

Way back last summer I was inspired to write a column as the result of doing a peeping Tom act into a women's magazine "Charm."

That peeping Tom act moved me to write loftily: "I must admit to a feeling of nauseated awe for the copy writers — what language, what utter, utter drivel."

As one example of "drivel" I quoted from an advertisement

"I DREAMED I RACED WITH THE WIND IN MY MAIDENFORM BRA."

But I was wrong in calling it drivel — according to writer Jon Kieran in this month's Liberty magazine the boyos who write that kind of junk have explored secret sex desires.

That line, "I dreamed I raced with the wind in my maidenform bra," appeals to women because, "the wish to appear naked in a crowd is present in most of us." Suffering mavericks — read it and weep — says the article in part:

"Some advertising agency research specialist probably knows more than you do about your real sexual impulses. This type of motivation harnessing still is too risqué for TV. But, open most women's magazines, and there it'll be.

One successful foundation-garment ad shows a refined young lady, gazing lovingly at herself, trim and exotic in her Flexees corselette. The ad instructions read: "See yourself . . . altogether beautiful." That ad series struck such a responsive chord it made the brand a hot seller.

Ever come to breakfast one morning and say: "I had the funniest dream last night . . ." and then break off in embarrassment, when you remember that part of your dream involved walking naked in a crowd? It's one of our most common dreams.

A bra-maker thought of using the dream as a pivot for a series of ads. Motivation experts were called to check on the idea. One group said: "It would appeal to women, because the wish to appear naked, or scantily clad in a crowd, is present in most of us. The ads would fulfill an unconscious wish." The other group countered: "Absolutely no good. The dream represents a neurotic anxiety that many women have. The ad would unconsciously remind them of it. It would make them hostile to the product."

The first group won out. No doubt you've seen the "I dreamed I went (somewhere) in my Maidenform Bra" ads. It's the company's most effective ad campaign.

After reading that article I'm glad that in newspaper advertising I'm in the wholesome end of the business.

A newspaper ad is designed to catch the eye and to tell what the product is, what it will cost and that is about all — some adjectives are used somewhat copiously, but by and large — at least insofar as the newspaper advertising man at the local level is concerned — he doesn't go studying Kinsey reports. Havelock Ellis, Freud nor yet Phillip Wyllie to learn of secret sex desires for utilization in selling.

"This commercial probing of the secret depths of our minds," and I quote from the article, "is called motivation research. This mass psych-analysis, conducted by Canada's 31 major research companies, is designed to find out why we buy things — and how we can be induced to buy still more."

"Queer" business isn't it? This motivation research finds that women buy things to cover things, because they want to uncover things — suffering mavericks.

A lot of debate these days, about education — but I do maintain that it is easier learning if a person is interested — and emotionally involved. Take Jimmy Heavysides, as an example. He's emotionally involved with the Penticton Vees — in anguish he listened to the Vees' game with Kamloops, at Kamloops last Saturday — in anguish he counted, one, two three, four — and on up to ten — the point is that Jimmy did learn how to count up to ten.

Four-way Contest Looms Here Only One Candidate Yet Named

Summerland's new police Magistrate, Reid Johnson, who took over his duties at beginning of the month, succeeding Robert Alstead, is shown on the right, as he was sworn in by Reeve F. E. Atkinson.

Progressive Conservatives are the first to move in the forthcoming Okanagan-Boundary federal election fight.

And while there still is some uncertainty in certain quarters the battle appears to be shaping towards a four-way contest, as it was in 1957.

Frank Christian, MP, of Penticton, edged incumbent CCFer Owen L. Jones, Kelowna, last June 10 to win the seat for the Social Credit group, but Ottawa rumors claim Mr. Christian won't run in this campaign due to pressure of business.

The Penticton lawyer's close friends in the Peach City, however, said he would be in the campaign.

Meanwhile, Conservative standard-bearer businessman David Pugh, of Oliver, father of seven children and one of Prime Minister Diefenbaker's favored "bright young men" already has covered hundreds of miles in personal campaigning.

Mr. Pugh is the only candidate named thus far in this riding. He won the polls at Kaleden, Naramata, Okanagan Mission, Oliver, Peachland and Penticton in the last election. He was the only candidate to win a majority in his own home town.

Pugh was renamed Conservative candidate immediately following the election last June at

Stan Gladwell Named 1957 Good Citizen

Stan Gladwell, Trout Creek, was named Summerland's Good Citizen of 1957, an honor won by virtue of untiring and unselfish efforts on behalf of his neighbors in the Trout Creek Section and on behalf of the community as a whole in assisting with many cultural projects and in particular for his efforts on behalf of the Summerland Singers' and Players' Club of which he is a past president and is currently the club's stage manager and producer.

Presentation of the Good Citizen Award and the Reid Johnson trophy was made by the donor, Mr. Reid Johnson, at the annual banquet of the Summerland Board of Trade, an event which also incorporated observance of the 50th anniversary of the Trade Board.

Marking the occasion, candles on the 50th-anniversary cake were lit by D. E. Agur, grandson of the board's first president, and these were blown out by the Board's newest member, photographer Harry Killick.

Roy Wellwood, president of the Board of Trade, kept the affair rolling smoothly despite the fact that Willard E. Ireland, provincial archivist, and billed as guest speaker was unable to fulfil his engagement. Mr. Ireland spent the day airborne.

Rotarians Invite You To Band And Song Fest

Everybody loves a band — and everybody loves a male voice choir — that is, if they're good.

On Wednesday night next week, February 12 a very good band and very good male voice choir will give forth in the Summerland Rotary Club's band concert — an event aimed at raising funds to help with the carrying on of the many worthwhile projects sponsored by the Rotary club, Rotary Beach development and Rotary Red Cross swim classes are two examples among the many.

The band insofar as Summerland is concerned and for that matter many other points north, south, east and west, is a proven article being none other than the Summerland Band and the male voice choir, is the Penticton Male Voice Choir.

A good program, a worthy cause all for the price of adults, 50 cents, school children 25 cents. It's next Wednesday, February 12, High School Auditorium, 8 p.m.

Planning For Education Week

Local planning for this year's observance of Education Week, March 2 - 8, got well underway at a meeting held in the high school library on the afternoon of Thursday, January 30.

Chaired by Mr. D. C. Loan, who heads the special Education Week Committee of the Summerland Teachers' Association, the meeting was attended by representative of other interested groups. Mrs. Parker, president, and Mr. W. J. Schwab, chairman of the committee on Education, were present on behalf of the Summerland Parent-Teacher Association. Mr. Wm. Laidlaw represented the School Board, Mr. J. Cooke, principal, and Mr. E. F. Weeks spoke for the elementary schools, as did the principal, Mr. A. K. Macleod, and Mr. A. D. Gately for the high school, while Mrs. C. W. Reinertson, public relations officer of the teachers' association, acted as recorder.

Plans now going forward include several major events which, it is hoped, will make and keep Summerland residents thoroughly aware of educational activities for the whole week. Among these are "Open House" sessions during school hours at both elementary schools on different days and an evening "Open House" at the high school, while the P-TA has arranged to have an outstanding lecturer at a public meeting on Friday, March 7.

Croft Rink Still In There

At press time today the Summerland Croft rink skipped by Bill Topping, with Bill Croft, third, Bill Baker, second and Chuck Bleasdale, lead, was one of four rinks undefeated in the W. R. Cranina event of the 63rd annual B.C. Bonspiel at Penticton in which 90 rinks were entered.

Kiwans to Again Sponsor Festival

Summerland's talented youngsters are warned to tune up violins, practice those arias, strum those guitars and to blow those trumpets in preparation for the annual Kiwanis Music Festival.

The festival will be held as usual and the dates will be announced shortly a Kiwanis spokesman informed the Review.

—Stanley Wallace Porritt of Summerland is listed on the fall term scholastic honor roll released by Oregon State college, Corvallis. Porritt is a graduate student majoring in horticulture. He is the son of Mrs. Bertha Porritt of Summerland.

Appreciation

The Editor
The Summerland Review
West Summerland, B.C.
Dear Sir,

I deeply regret that, under the overwhelming emotion of the moment, I could not express the sincere gratification I felt at being presented last Wednesday evening with the Reid Johnston Good Citizen Cup at the Board of Trade banquet in Summerland.

Perhaps you would be good enough to spare me a line or so in which to attempt to do so.

There is no lack of evidence of course that the arts are appreciated in Canada. The annual presentation of innumerable awards such as Oscars, Drama Festival Cups, scholarships, and so forth attests to this. But these are invariably awarded for a proficiency in some specific art.

The unique significance of this presentation to me is that the citizens of Summerland, through their representative body the Board of Trade, have thus expressed publicly their conviction that appreciation and encouragement of and interest and participation in such organizations as drama, music, art, band, dance and choir groups are all commendable good citizenship.

Therefore to share this honour with me are all pioneers of such groups in Summerland (and is it not a noteworthy fact that Summerland Singers and Players, though I believe not by that name, are almost as old as Summerland Board of Trade itself?) all teachers who are carrying on the tradition, all parents who encourage their children to participate and all those who support these activities by attending their various performances.

All this is "Good Citizenship" in Summerland. The Okanagan Valley knows this. I should like all British Columbia to know it. In fact, it would do all Canada no harm to know it too.
Yours truly,
Stan Gladwell

NINETEEN FIFTY-EIGHT

An Untimely Election

Decision of Prime Minister Diefenbaker to call an election at a time when Canada faces a critical unemployment situation is one that is bound to be criticised.

The hundreds of thousands of Canadians now unemployed, are not going to appreciate their situation being made a political football.

We by no means go along with the Liberals in their wild accusations that the unemployment situation and general economic decline is the result of a minority Conservative Government having been in power for a matter of seven months.

We doubt if it is the power of any party to loose up conditions in such a short space of time, if those conditions were healthy at the beginning.

Furthermore, the Conservatives have every right to point the finger at the Liberals, who for some years previous to their Waterloo last June, proclaimed that they were preparing a program of massive nature to deal with recession, yes even depression. This preparing for a rainy day was one of the reasons advanced for the staggering budget surpluses which the Liberals seemed to build up every year.

Now, charges Mr. Diefenbaker, the cupboard, insofar as any planned public works depression program is concerned, is completely bare.

Even so, we are somewhat surprised that Mr. Diefenbaker should go to the country without having first moved to plug the hole in the dyke which holds the waters of our economic prosperity at a comfortable level.

The Conservatives cannot plead that as a minority government they could not introduce measures against unemployment into the house, for no opposition group would dare to oppose them if the measures were reasonably sound and of brave enough proportions.

Obviously then, the election is the result of power politics. The Liberals were playing politics when their new leader Mr. Pearson moved a vote of no confidence, phrased to assure its defeat.

The fact that the Liberals demonstrated that they didn't want an election — were not ready for an election, undoubtedly spurred the Conservatives to action.

And now we're going to hear a lot from both the Liberals and Conservatives on what can be done and what the respective parties will do, if given the mandate by the people.

It seems to us that it would have sounded much better to the voters, particularly the unemployed voters and others who are tightening their belts to meet the economic decline, if these arguments and promises had been made on the floor of the house and solidified into concrete action, with all parties working shoulder to shoulder to meet the crisis. Political differences can be and are forgotten in time of war — there seems to be no reason why in facing an internal threat to the well-being of the Canadian people that political differences could not have been temporarily buried.

However, that kind of Utopian thinking hasn't got much chance of consideration when power politics are involved and so Canadians will go to the polls for the second time within a year to elect a new national government.

On the one issue of the election at this time we think that much of the sound and fury from the hustings will be of the nature of the pot calling the kettle black, and at the moment we can only hope that when the people of Canada go to the polls on March 31 that they will give one party a clear working majority and so preserve us from the possibility of another such spectacle of two great political parties playing power politics at a time when the lines, reminiscent of the dirty thirties, are forming up outside unemployment insurance offices across the land.

The Crisis In Canadian Universities

The fact that Canadian industry is dependent on Canada's universities to supply trained scientific manpower was emphasized recently in a bulletin issued by the University's personnel department. The bulletin names 69 companies which will send representatives to the campus during January and February to interview 1958 graduates.

The 69 companies have specified 307 categories of training. There are 78 requests for graduates in pure science and 175 requests for graduates in applied science. These two categories, taken together, amount to more than 85 per cent of the total number of requests.

The very fact that industry sends representatives to the campus for the purpose of interviewing graduates is indicative of the shortage of scientific manpower in our society. And if we are to keep abreast of scientific discovery it is essential that we have an ever-increasing pool of scientific manpower to draw on.

Taken to its logical conclusion there is only one way in which this pool of manpower can be assured. Canadian universities must be provided with adequate funds to expand facilities and provide the equipment necessary to train the right people.

It was pointed out recently during the panel discussion at Georgia Auditorium on "Science and Higher Education" that enrolment at Canadian universities is expected to jump from 65,000 students to 124,000 students by 1966 and this development would require an increase of from 6,000 to 10,000 in staff and an outlay of $285,000,000.

And as the speaker also pointed out, this is a personal problem on which everyone—industry, government and individuals—must act. If we remain apathetic there can be only one result—the impoverishment of our economy in general and of individuals in particular.

Orchard Run

by Wally Smith
Many fruit growers were indeed surprised to hear from the lip of R. P. Murray, provincial horticulturist, the words: "... bugs don't jump from one orchard to another."

It was at the annual BCFGA convention in Kelowna that "Bob," as he is known to hundreds of growers in the South Okanagan, made the statement in connection with a discussion on compulsory spraying of orchards.

He didn't get away unscathed for several delegates took issue with him and testified that insect damage and population in a well sprayed orchard was always worse along the border adjacent to a neglected orchard.

This seems so natural and obvious that we wonder how the provincial horticulturist allowed words to the contrary to slip out unless Bob was momentarily overcome by the excitement and hospitality of the convention and said something he didn't really mean.

When the writer of this column came to Oliver in the fall of 1934 Bob Murray was district horticulturist in Penticton, and his territory extended from the U.S. border north to Peachland. Bob was always helpful to newcomers in the industry, and he gave this writer some valuable advice on starting an orchard. Further information and advice was forthcoming in later years as the orchard grew and developed.

This friendly service which our district horticulturist supply is of great benefit to the grower and very much appreciated by this column, as I know it is by the great body of growers who bring their problems to the local "hort man."

Back from the convention Oliver delegates report a successful session though lacking any great issue being tackled.

The resolution suggesting that we change the name "cee" grade to something that looks what it isn't passed with a small majority. Maybe it ought to be called "down" grade for it has certainly gone down in public acceptance these last few years.

Poorly colored fruit just isn't good enough to sell at a profit in these days of three-tone technicolor, panoramic merchandising.

Maybe if it is just left alone for a few more years cee grade will gradually find its way to the cull box and we will then have nothing but fancy and extra fancy.

Summerland's First Minor Hockey Jamboree Success

Last week was "Minor Hockey Week" across Canada. Summerland's first Jamboree which was held in the Summerland Arena on Saturday night was a success, and it is hoped that the Jamborees to come will be even bigger and better!

Reeve Atkinson opened the Jamboree. In his address, he said the children were not only learning to skate and play good hockey, but were also learning team work which is so necessary in life, to be really successful.

Mr. Alphonse Menu announced the events. The program started with a parade of all the hockey players. Each group raced next. The prize for each race was a hockey stick. The winner of the Pee-wees were: Larry Young, Barry Pollock, Ernie Pushkarenko, and Warren Smith. Midgets, Miles Gillard, and Juveniles, Warren Parker.

The first game was played by the Pee-wee-beginners, the second by the Pee-wee-allstars. During the intermission that followed, about 35 lucky tickets were drawn for the prizes which were donated by the following stores and businesses —

Milne's Cannery, Laidlaw and Co., Family Shoe Store, K.B. Food Centre, Green's Drug Store, Roy's Men's Wear, Fishers Shoe Store, L. Smith Ltd., Groceries, Barkwill's Cannery, Sport's Centre, 5c-$1.00 Store, Boothe's Grocery, Varty & Lussen, Daniel's Grocery, Mel Cousins, Cranna's Jewellery, Super-Valu, Holmes & Wade, Young's Electric, Milne's Jewellery, Overwaita Store, Cake Box, and Deluxe Electric.

The Summerland Figure Skating Club gave a very pleasing half-hour performance, followed by two periods of hockey between mixed Midgets and Juveniles. The Town Band rendered some good peppy numbers during the intermission between periods.

1957-58 Summerland Minor Hockey officials are: president, R. N. Laidlaw; secretary, W. Gillard; treasurer, J. Sellinger. Executive: George Stoll, Claude Haddrell, Don Wertz, and Gordon Mundle. Coaches: Tiny Rankins, Claude Haddrell, D. Wertz. Referees: David Kampe, George Taylor. Linesmen: Robert Graham, and Paul Roberge.

Leading off bowling news this week is the formation of the Ladies League. There are four teams in the league as follows: Totem Outers (Peachland) Evelyn Spillsburg, Lorraine Byhre, Bonnie Cousins, Gwen Bawden and Ruth Bullock; Dudniks (Peachland) Lorraine Bradley, Eva May Loury, Dot Downie, Jessie Swartz and Hilda Miller; Spudniks (Summerland) Loraine Irvine, Emma Betuzzi, Gladys Dronsfeld, Doreen Tait, Eva May Meadows; Hi-Lo's (Summerland) Helen Young, Beryl Flebe, Janice Randle, Eileen Fell and Connie Bryden. After the first week of play Ruth Bullock bowled a 600 for the high three. The Dudniks are the high team with 2351 pins. League standings will start off as follows:

In the mixed league the standings are as follows:

Helen Young bowled a 272 to win the ladies' high single and Daryl Weitzel bowled a 295 to win the men's high single. Bernice MacDonald bowled a 660 for the ladies' high three and Daryl Weitzel won double honors by bowling a 703 for the men's high three! The Diehards are the high team this week with 2873 pins.

Bernice MacDonald bowled a 148 to win the Hidden Score prize this week.

Of interest to Summerland bowlers is the news that Foster Cunningham, Ashley Austin and Don Clark are 11th, 12th and in 15th place in the 5 pin play off in Penticton. With one more week to go I'd predict there is a good chance to have Summerland represented at Kamloops. Good bowling and good luck boys! More news, views and comments next week!

Curling

The Summerland Curling Ice has been taken over by the Penticton club for this week, so all local games have been cancelled. Anyone wishing to watch some good curling is welcome to go to the curling rink at any time.

All the eight zone winners are in the bonspiel as well as a lot of curlers who lost out on the zone level and are now in it to get a second chance. The finalists in the two primary events at the Bonspiel will be allowed to take part in the Provincial playdowns.

There are eight local rinks taking part in the 'Spiel.

LOCAL FIGURE SKATERS PLACE SECOND

Leona and Teresa Keys of the local figure skating club placed second in the novice ladies pairs class at the Mainline Figure skating competition held recently in Vernon.

The Summerland Club is busy rehearsing for its figure skating carnival planned for March.

Hockey

by Bob Graham

The Summerland midgets took an 11-8 beating at the hands of the Kelowna Juveniles in an exhibition game here last Wednesday. In Kelowna on Thursday, the same club was outclassed 8-2.

On Saturday evening Minor Hockey Week was celebrated in Summerland when a Minor Hockey Jamboree was held at the arena. There were two Pee-wee games, figure skating demonstrations and an inter-squad game for midget and juvenile payers. The secretary of the Minor Hockey Association, Mr. Gillard should be given full credit for the success of the evening, along with Mr. R. N. Laidlaw, the president of the SMHA.

There are only a few games left in the season for the Summerland midgets before the playoffs get under way.

Summerland will not have a Coy Cup contender this year.

George Stoll informed the Review just before press time today that owing to lack of fan support and the difficulty of keeping player interest it has been decided to disband the Summerland Intermediate hockey club, which it had been hoped would provide local playoff interest in the Coy Cup competition.

The Hi-Life

By Marg Campbell

The Summerland Basketball teams have had a busy but quite successful weekend. On Friday night the teams travelled to Kelowna where the Senior Girls won by a score of 17-9 and the Senior Boys lost by a score of 58-41. Saturday afternoon the Senior Boys played against the Kamloops Senior Boys winning 48-41. On Saturday night the Senior Boys played the Summerland Old Timers winning by an identical score, 48-41. The Senior Boys were coached by Carlton Sheeley at the Saturday night game with Mr. Mundle, their usual coach, playing in Carlton's place. The game proved to be very interesting and we're hoping for another one soon. Better luck next time "Old Timers."

The Key Club Skating Party was held last Friday night. The free pop was given to Grade 7 for the highest attendance.

Would anyone wishing to buy a School sweater please bring their money as soon as possible to their class representative so the sweaters can be ordered.

Friday showed Centennial Celebrations among the Grade twelve students when they had their Grad pictures for the Annual taken, in "Centennial Garb," a huge black feathered hat and high necked blouse for the girls and a black derby hat and black vest for the boys (along with a huge cigar donated by the Brown brothers). It proved quite interesting and I think this is one time that the Grads enjoyed getting their pictures taken. What the results are like, no one knows — yet!

Most of the "Appendix Victims" are back to school now and I hope those that aren't are on their way to a quick recovery.

The senior boys basketball team will be travelling to Kamloops this weekend to play a return game. Best of luck from SHS boys!

That's about it for this week. You'll be hearing from me again next week, for sure.

Work hard at school. Remember, reports will soon be out.

Summerland teachers are asking to receive salaries similar to those of Vernon, Armstrong, Enderby, Keremeos and Oliver according to a pattern set throughout the Okanagan.

The salary scale fixed gives a varying increase of $25 a year to $420, or an average increase of $240 per teacher, per year.

Summerland teachers' association is asking that teachers in the EB classification, that is fully qualified elementary teachers, be paid a minimum salary of $2,900 going to a maximum of $4,800 in 11 years and that SB teachers, fully qualified high school teachers, be given a minimum of $4,200 with a maximum of $6,800 in 11 years.

Secretary Lorne Perry came in for considerable praise from the president who referred to him as Mr. Board of Trade.

Doing an able job of pinch hitting as speaker was A. W. Gray of Rutland, president of the Associated Bards of Trade, who gave some interesting historical sidelights of early B.C.

Reeve F. E. Atkinson brought greetings from the municipality describing a board of trade as a "listening post" and a "sounding board" for a community. He commended publicizing done by the local board and other services.

Guests were Alac Walton, president of Penticton Board of Trade; Les Wilson from Kelowna Board and his wife; Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Gray, Rutland; Gerry Hallquist, president Retail Merchants' Association; R. S. McLachlan, president of the Rotary Club; J. E. O'Mahony, president of local Kiwanians; W. C. McCutcheon, president Branch 22, Canadian Legion; R. A. Johnston donor of the Good Citizen Cup; D. E. Agur, grandson of the first president; Lloyd Miller, vice-president; Lorne Perry secretary; and their wives; the board of trade Queen, Miss Marjorie Campbell and her escort, Ken Bissett.

Mr. Perry presented flowers to Mrs. Wellwood. A trio comprised of Mrs. Flora Bergstrom, Mrs. K. L. Boothe and Mrs. L. L. Fudge, presented selections and there were also solos by Miss Marjorie Campbell. Miss Ruth Dale was accompanist.

St. John's Ambulance Society Elect Officers

The St. John's Ambulance Society held its annual meeting in the library room of the High School on Tuesday, January 28.

Chairman Charles Denike reported on the year's activities. One class of girls completed their junior first aid in the High School, while another class did not get as far as taking their exams. Mrs. N. Laidlaw is instructing a group of Girl Guides in Junior First Aid.

St. John was asked to provide first aiders at the Fall Fair. Mr. Denike, George Lewis and John Graham acted in this capacity. The Society has a First Aid Post at the home of John Graham. A first aid kit and a stretcher are available there.

Senior First Aid classes will be held if enough people are interested. Anyone wishing to take the course should leave their name with either C. Denike or Doreen Tait.

Executive elected for the coming year are: Hon. Chairman, Mrs. J. E. O'Mahoney; Chairman, C. Denike; Vice-chairman, John Graham; Secretary, Doreen Tait; Auditor, Mr. J. E. O'Mahoney; Executive, Mr. and Mrs. George Lewis, Miss Louisa Atkinson, Mrs. H. Charlton and Mrs. C. Meadows.

Election

(continued from page 1) a nomination meeting in Penticton. It was his first election campaign and he polled 6,357 votes to run third in the four-way fight.

Social Credit activity has been suspended until the return from Ottawa Thursday of MP Frank Christian.

Planning will get underway then for the Okanagan-Boundary Sacred convention at Okanagan Falls, February 19, when an anticipated 150 delegates will name both a candidate and a campaign manager.

While rumors from Ottawa indicated Christian wouldn't contest the seat, Lance Landie, president of the Kelowna Social Credit group says the Christian household in Penticton hasn't been informed one way or the other.

In the last election, Christian won the seat by a margin of 125 votes over CCF candidate O. L. Jones.

Meanwhile, among the CCF boosters, the pace is quickening towards what is hoped will be a return of a CCF candidate to Ottawa.

Whether O. L. Jones, Kelowna businessman and former member of parliament will be the CCF standard-bearer won't be known until the forthcoming nomination convention is held.

Date of the nomination convention will be decided later this week.

Local Liberals also were caught by surprise. Arthur Dawe, Kelowna, vice-president of the Okanagan-Boundary Liberal association, said that while an election was looked for this spring, or early summer, the March 31 announcement was much earlier than expected.

Consequently, an Okanagan-Boundary Liberal nomination convention earlier set for Feb. 28 will have to be moved forward, said Mr. Dawe.

Dr. Mel Butler, Kelowna dentist, who was the unsuccessful Liberal candidate in the 1957 federal election when asked if he would seek the nomination again, said, "I haven't decided yet."

Snow Queen

Snow fit for a Snow Queen fell in Summerland last Friday.

Over two hundred junior students attended the Annual Snow Frolic last Friday evening to honour their Snow Queen, Florence Johnson who was elected by the junior students the preceding Thursday afternoon.

The Auditorium was decorated with pretty blue, pink and white streamers while the throne on the stage was offset with colorful streamers and evergreens which led to the stairway leading to the dance floor.

Retiring Queen Ruth Lapins crowned the pretty dark-haired Queen and junior president, Barry Piers presented her with a gift from the students and also gave the four princesses their pictures.

Queen Florence led in the Royal Waltz with her escort, Robert Hannah followed by retiring queen Ruth Lapins and Barry Piers. The four princesses and their escorts followed: Linda Munro and Ken Heales; Linda Rumball and Ingle Meirhofer; Anne McLachlan and Dick Butler; Noreen Bleasdale and Lori Reinertson.

Parents of the royal party were honoured at the dance. In charge of decorations and refreshments was Leona Keyes and her social committee. Bill Ross looked after recordings.

Let's Have a Chat...

by Dot Carston

What next. While thumbing through a magazine prepared for radio and television commentators by Du Pont of Canada, I found a very interesting topic headed "Foods in Boilable Packaging: A New Canadian Development."

Apparently, thirty years ago the average woman of the house spent between five and six hours a day preparing meals compared with three or four hours today. A new Canadian development has cut the time of preparing a dinner from "scratch" from five hours to one and one-half hours. It is a boilable package in which the contents may be cooked without removal before serving. There's a catch though — these new packages are for distribution to institutions and restaurants only.

I admit that this method eliminates the preparation by the homemaker of foods for cooking and, because foods cooked in the boilable package do not come in contact with either air or water, loss of flavor, color, weight and nutritive components is reduced to a minimum. All the busy homemaker has to do is place the package in boiling water, wait for the required time for the contents to unfreeze or cook, and then serve them to her family or guests. No more greasy or sticky pots and pans after dinner either — but I still think half of the fun of a meal is in the preparing of it.

This boilable package was developed after extensive research on the production of a clear laminate of polyethylene and "Mylar", as well as a special thermo-setting adhesive necessary to its manufacture. The adhesive, which is also clear, is capable of undergoing temperatures ranging from 90 degrees below zero Fahrenheit, to well above the boiling point of water. Capable of holding a vacuum for indefinite periods, the package may also be designed with a device for quick and easy opening.

Sounds pretty good and whatever the method, it requires little imagination to visualize in the near future sliced roast beef in its own rich gravy served effortlessly from boilable packages at home.

Promenade

The big news of this area this week is the party night in the Youth Centre Hall West Summerland, sponsored by the Pairs and Squares. Bill French of Oroville, Washington, will be the emcee. A full program is anticipated with Bill and Leona making the arrangements. Callers are asked to bring their records. Also, bring a sack lunch.

On Thursday, February 13 there is a round dance class with Les Boyer in charge, at the Youth Centre Hall. Popular round dances of the past season are being reviewed and the new dances of the month taught. This class is proving very successful with approximately 50 dancers attending each class.

As there is no dancing on Thursday, February 20 dancers are invited to attend our Caller's practice. You may contact the writer regarding the place.

Extra Curricular Activities Under Discussion At P-TA

A large group gathered at the high school library last week to hear a panel speak on extra curricular activities of the school. H. Parker introduced the three panel members, Mrs. N. Solly, Mr. G. Mundle and Mr. R. S. Oxley. The speakers held the interest of all and many questions were asked for discussion.

Education week is coming up from March 2 to 8 with the theme "Education is Everybody's Business." Mr. D. Loan outlined the activities to be held in the Summerland school. MacDonald and Trout Creek elementary schools will hold open house on March 3 and 6 and the high school will hold open house on March 7. Some classrooms will be open for a short time Friday evening and displays will be shown in the Auditorium. Professor W. Auld of the faculty of education, UBC will speak in the Auditorium at 8 p.m. after which the P-TA will serve coffee. There will be no meeting of the P-TA which would ordinarily be held the previous night.

A letter was read from the B.C. Parent-Teacher Federation warning teachers and parents of the danger of poisons that are easily obtained by students and asking them to stress the danger to the young people.

Mr. McLeod spoke on the extra curricular activities which are available at the school. Mr. Tamblin touched briefly on visual education as applied to the school showing the use of film strips.

The members retired to the home economics for coffee.

The Crisis In Education

By J. Bascom St. John

Compared with some other countries, the Canadian secondary school population is not large. Of the more than 3,190,000 children now in Canadian schools, 2,700,000 are in elementary schools. Roughly twice as many children are in the first grade as are in Grades 7 and 8, in most urban systems.

The flood will hit the secondary schools hard, but not as hard in terms of cold figures as the elementary enrollment suggests. About 65 per cent of the pupils drop out between Grades 7 and 11. There is a heavy exodus after Grade 10, in which most pupils become sixteen years of age, and emerge from the period of compulsory school attendance. In some provinces compulsion ends at fourteen.

Enrollment statistics issued in 1957 by the Canadian Education Association give a vivid illustration of the sag in Canada's secondary school population as shown in the following table for 1955-56:

Grade 8	213,836
Grade 9	182,337
Grade 10	131,275
Grade 11	87,465
Grade 12	57,306
Grade 13	13,217

So long as this condition continues, the investment in secondary schools of all sorts will not have to be on the same scale as on the elementary level. But even on the proportionate basis, the impact of the rising child population on the secondary schools will be very heavy. If, as many hope, a larger number of people may be induced by financial assistance or better motivation to go further with their education, the problem would, of course, be that much greater.

It is such questions as these, and many others, with which the some 700 delegates to the Canadian Conference on Education will be engaged in early February at Ottawa. The largest of its kind ever held in this country, the conference has been called in answer to the urgent problem of Canada's current educational crisis.

While the proportion of the total school population attending the secondary schools has been rising in Canada during the last thirty years, an average of only 40 per cent can be said to receive a secondary education, and a far smaller proportion continue to the end of the course.

We Could Take Warning

Progress often leaves destruction and chaos in its wake. A case in point is the closing down of Fernie's major industry with the result that Fernie, hitherto one of British Columbia's thriving interior communities, is on its way to becoming a ghost town.

Temporary employment is in prospect for the now unemployed coal miners of Fernie, but it is clear that unless some industry which can operate as a commercial success can be induced to locate in Fernie that community will die, or at the very best will only continue to exist as a shadow of its former self.

This is a ghastly situation but one which could be forested with the ousting of the old steamer by the railroads in favor of the diesel-electric locomotive and the piping down of natural gas from the vast oil and gas fields of Northern Alberta and British Columbia.

It appears to us that responsible organizations in Fernie and the provincial and the federal governments should have been giving consideration to Fernie's future soon after the writing on the wall became visible, but, insofar as we can see, nothing was done no alarm sounded, until Fernie's coal miners were actually unemployed.

While there is no clear cut parallel between the situation existing in Fernie today and the conditions here in Summerland, there is sufficient basis for comparison for Summerland to draw a warning from the happenings in Fernie.

We can see no danger whatsoever of the fruit industry ceasing to be an economic factor and a major one at that in the life of Summerland, but it is becoming increasingly apparent that the fruit industry cannot support this community's economy to the extent that it did in earlier years.

What Summerland needs, and what Summerland must have, is some diversification of effort and some stabilizing industry that will ensure a year-round payroll.

Study should be given to expanding the already well established poultry industry here. There are many fields of endeavor related to agriculture which could be developed here to strengthen our economy. Only last week information came to hand that the United Distillers are surveying the Okanagan valley with a view to establishing a brewery, one which would utilize to a large extent fruit juices. Summerland would make an ideal location for such an industry.

The point of this, is that Summerland should not wait until through gradual shrinkage in orchard returns, and through gradual shrinkage in orchard lands as a result of subdividing, the economic atmosphere becomes so thin that we have difficulty in breathing.

What happened to Fernie in a comparatively short period of time could over a longer period and to, a lesser degree, happen to Summerland — but why wait until the inevitable has caught up with us? Summerland should act now to build its dykes against the forces which are slowly sapping at the foundations of its economy.

Impaired

There are many forms of impairment and not all of them are the result of a few drinks of alcohol. Of course, there is always the chap who has had one or two too many. He is an established menace. If the police catch him they can deal with him but this, unfortunately, usually happens after the accident.

A man's best friend is the pal who sees that after a few drinks, his driver friend has something to eat and a cup of strong hot coffee or tea, before he starts his car. An extra good pal will stow a thermos of the same hot liquid into the car with the driver, because many people do not realize that sober as they may seem in the warm house, the sharp cold out of doors in winter may hit them suddenly and the alcohol takes effect. At this time, that hot drink would help matters.

But there are other "impaired," and no policeman is equipped to deal with these. There is, for instance, the overtired driver who has a long drive ahead of him. He's so tired that he just has to step on the gas to get home and into bed. Trouble is, it may be a hospital bed that he gets into, if he should happen to doze for a few seconds at the wheel. If he would stop his car off the road, lock his doors and windows after stopping the engine, and just take a few minutes nap, he'd feel fine. Especially if he could have a drink of hot coffee. A few minutes outside the car to stretch his muscles would make the trip less fatiguing . . . and safer.

Take the man who has had one of those maddening days when everything goes wrong, full of arguments and frustrations. On the road, he is re-living every single annoyance, and he's ready to bite someone. Traffic lights may be too slow for him. The man who passes him on the road is a showoff — "Well, I'll show him, even if it is on a hill! I'll give him my dust!"

That's another sure way of making the hospital — or worse.

Another cause of accidents is a more innocent type — who should know better. This time, it may be a near-perfect driver, so long as he is well and conscious. But there are people who suffer from diabetes, heart trouble, epilepsy and other ailments that may cause lapses from consciousness. Everything may be going well on the road when a blackout occurs and the car is out of control. The driver may be killed by collision with a tree. Or, worse, he may crash into another car and the casualty list will be higher.

It's no one's fault. Or is it? Anyone who is aware of some health condition that entails periods of unconsciousness, should never drive alone for long distances. Anyone who drives without necessary eyeglasses is another menace on the road.

"Prize Your Eyes"

"Prize your Eyes. They are your greatest treasure," declared Mrs. W. C. Bending, President, The Canadian Council of the Blind in a special White Cane Week interview.

Co-sponsored from coast to coast by The Canadian Council of the Blind and The Canadian National Institute for the Blind, White Cane Week has played a major role in the interpretation of the handicap of blindness to the Canadian public.

"The nation's 22,000 blind citizens are aware of a growing responsibility Mrs. Bending explained. "You, the sighted, have supported the rehabilitation program for the blind so that every year more and more of us are able to take our place beside you as independent self respecting persons. Therefore, we are intensifying the sight conservation program begun last White Cane Week, to urge you to take care of your eyes."

Technical experts claim that most Canadian homes are poorly lighted. Eye physicians, and lighting engineers agree that sharp contrasts of strong light and deep shadows in the home cause eye strain. Reading and sewing under a strong lamp with poor background lighting makes sensitive muscles inside the eye work overtime adjusting alternately to light and dark. This is also true with prolonged TV viewing in a darkened room. It is not the TV that is harmful, but the sharp contrast between the bright screen and the dark room. Light the area around your set and let your eyes feel the difference.

Mrs. Bending exhorted everyone to give thought to good vision, to use care with sharp instruments, and to develop good lighting arrangements.

"These principles are particularly important in our homes where children are learning to see, to read and to study," she said. So take our White Cane Week tip and "Prize Your Eyes." They're priceless.

The nurse is saving regularly for a vacation trip

The father is saving for the things a growing child will need

Both have a bank account — and a purpose for saving

Nurse and father both agree that some things are too important to leave to chance. So, like most Canadians, each uses a chartered bank for planned saving, making regular deposits to accomplish a definite purpose.

Your own savings plan may be a short-term, modest one — maybe a vacation trip, or new drapes for the living room. Or your goal may be long-range, like providing more security, greater comfort and independence for you and your family.

But whatever use you find for the money you save, you'll always be glad you saved it!

Save at a bank — millions do!

Ground Observer Corps Will Be Maintained

The Ground Observers Corps, sky watchers who watch with their ears, don't get much publicity or praise but they do a very helpful and necessary job, as indicated by the following despatch from Ottawa.

OTTAWA — Canada will continue to maintain its ground observer corps in the age of missiles, Defence Minister Pearkes' office said.

A defence spokesman, commenting on the American decision to put the civilian observers on a reserve basis, said that conditions are different in Canada.

"We have observers scattered over thousands of miles of wilderness who have performed magnificent service," the spokesman said.

"Not only are they valuable from a military point of view but they have done great work on such things as rescuing downed pilots."

He pointed out that American ground observers are located in the North American target area, whereas many Canadian observers are beyond the Pine Tree radar line. Some are beyond the mid-Canada line and a few beyond the Arctic DEW line.

"They have an amazing esprit-de-corps and they are amazingly efficient," he said.

Tests have shown that in some cases ground observers report mock raiders well before they are picked up by radar.

Locally Chief Observer is Mr. John McDougald and he is assisted by his son, Jack, Mr. and Mrs. R. Cuthbert and family, Mrs. L. Fudge and Barbara, Mrs. J. Sheeley and Mrs. Geo. Smith who each take on day a week to listen for planes and phone in their flashes. Each has acquired from 2500 to 4500 hours observing in 3 1/2 years. Summerland and Naramata consistently rank among the top three for Okanagan and the Kootenays.

Mr. McDougald is at present on duty 3 days a week as well as substituting for his helpers on occasion. The work is interesting, not at all arduous and Mr. McDougald would appreciate hearing from anyone who might be willing to help out in this work.

Kamloops-Okanagan Presbytery Meets At United Church Here

The Kamloops-Okanagan Presbytery met at St. Andrew's United Church, Summerland, Feb. 4th and 5th. R. S. Leitch of Kelowna presiding. Fifty-five delegates were present from Rev. Stokke and Kamloops on the north to Osoyoos on the south.

Lunch and dinner Tuesday were served by the Women's Association of St. Andrew's church. At the evening meal 35 of the Naramata students were present and enjoyed a period of social fellowship brightened by the playing of the bagpipes by one of the students Walter Muir.

Reports on education and stewardship were presented by Fred Cox of Kamloops and on property by Rev. D. M. Perley of Kelowna. An addition is being put on the church at Lil- loet and a new church is being built at Mission Road, Kelowna. A delegation consisting of Don White, Col. George Johnson and Harry Mitchell of Kelowna asked for a congregational status to be granted by the presbytery to this new group in Kelowna and this was enthusiastically carried.

Rev. C. O. Richmond reported for Home Missions and spoke of increased needs for work in Lumby, Chase, and the North Thompson Area. Dr. W. P. Bunt superintendent of Home Missions for British Columbia, spoke of various phases of work in this large Presbytery.

The Naramata Christian Leadership training school was presented by the Rev. R. A. McLaren, and Clyde Woolard. This school is for the training of lay leaders, and is doing a fine work.

Fire Can Destroy Important Papers In Minute or Two

Safety-Deposit-Box Protection Costs Less than Dime a Week

Each year in this country thousands of valuable documents go up in smoke. Some of these cannot be replaced at any cost, while it is troublesome and expensive to replace others. It is only sound sense that such papers as securities, policies, property deeds and birth certificates, be stored in a safe place.

A Bank of Montreal safety deposit box offers a first-rate way to guard yourself against the loss of valuable possessions. You get round-the-clock protection from the twin dangers of fire and burglary, for less than ten cents a week. And documents in a B of M safety deposit box are not likely to be mislaid, either.

Drop into the West Summerland branch of the Bank of Montreal today. Mr. Galloway, the Accountant, will gladly show you his safety deposit boxes and vault. You'll feel pleasantly relieved once your valuables are in the care of Canada's first bank!

Curling

Our curlers are going back to curling, most of them feeling very much like amateurs after watching the professional style of curling in Penticton last week.

Tony Gutoski of Victoria won the British Consuls competition by defeating the Glen Harper rink from Duncan. It will create a great deal of interest as the Dominion playdowns will be held in Victoria in March. Tony's rink curling on their own ice may bring the coveted McDonald Brier tankard to British Columbia in this Centennial year.

The Bill Croft rink won second in the Lakeshore Motel event which was a primary open. They won four Marconi clock radios donated by CKOK. They won third in the Cranna event, also four portable radios in leather carrying cases donated by Incola Hotel.

In the Three Gables event G. Hallquist's rink won third prize which was four pairs Binoculars with carrying cases donated by Penticton Granite club. The fourth prize was won by Jack McNeil's rink. They are four sports shirts donated by Hudson's Bay Co. Ltd.

The Summerland Men's Open Spiel starts this hursday. They are hoping to get forty rinks by closing date, so the executive is busy preparing for the big event.

On Friday three ladies rinks are going to take part in the Peachland Ladies Spiel. They will be skipped by Mrs. Greenlee, Louise Kennedy and Hazel Ganzveld.

Local Marksmen At BCIRA Meet

Members of rifle clubs from Kamloops, Vernon, Kelowna, Summerland and Penticton attended the annual meeting of the B.C. Inland Rifle Association in Kelowna on Sunday afternoon. Those representing the Summerland Rifle Club were: George Dunsdon, Art Dunsdon, Ted Piers, Harold Richardson and Bert Simpson.

Officers elected for the coming season were: President, J. Vecquary, Vernon; 1st Vice-president, E. Work, Kamloops; 2nd Vice-president, Walt Cousins, Penticton; Secretary-treasurer, H. Palmer, Vernon. Two members from each club were appointed to the Council. Local members are Ted Piers and George Dunsdon.

It was decided to hold the annual BCIRA shoot at Vernon on May 18 and 19, with Penticton being named as the alternate range. The following dates were set for the annual invitation shoots of the interior clubs: Penticton, June 15; Kelowna June 29; Kamloops July 13; Summerland, July 27; Penticton, August 31.

Before the meeting concluded, Walt Cousins of the Penticton Rifle Association was presented with a life membership in the BCIRA for his untiring efforts in the promotion of rifle shooting in the Okanagan.

Bowling News

by Glenn Fell

One of the most important items of news I have occurred on Feb. 2 at the Penticton Alleys. Foster Cunningham outbowed a field of thirty bowlers to end up in the winners circle, in the number seven position. Foster travels on to Kamloops on Feb. 8 and 9 to participate in the B.C. Regional playoffs which in turn will decide what teams will represent B.C. in the Western playoffs at Regina next Easter. Congratulations, Foster, we all wish you the best of luck at Kamloops! Summerland was also represented in person by Don Clark and Ashley Austin at Penticton and Don and Ashley won honors that reflect sportsmanship and skill! Don bowled a 369 which turned out to be the highest game rolled in the 28 game playoffs and Ashley ended up in number nine position.

Turning to league play this week, the standings to date in the mixed league are as follows:

JUVENILE HOCKEY
Kelowna 9 - Summerland 4
The S'land Juveniles seem to be crying the old second period blues. Last Wednesday it was the same old story, they lost their game in the second period. However, the score was certainly an improvement over the last time they played this same club in another exhibition game three weeks ago when it was 9-0 for Kelowna.

Gillard was the high scorer for Summerland with 1 goal and 2 assists. Bruce Rennie got 1 goal and 1 assist and Norman Smith's goal was assisted by Robert Irving. The final score was 9-4 for the Kelowna Juveniles.

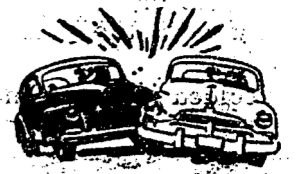

Penticton 19 - Summerland 3

On Monday night, Feb. 11 in the first game of the semifinals, the S'land Juveniles were completely out-skated, out-hustled, outclassed and white-washed 19 to 3 by the Penticton Juveniles. What happened to the home club? Nobody seems to know. The only way to describe it was that they just fell apart. Although Penticton had nine penalties to our three, Summerland just could not seem to capitalize on the man advantage or anything else!

Warren Parker, Myles Gillard and Bruce Rennie scored for Summerland. The final score Penticton 19, Summerland 3.

Tonight there will be a Pee-wee game in the Arena; Summerland versus Penticton.

Thursday night the Midgets travel to Penticton to finish off league play in the northern city.

The Credit Union Movement is a "Do it yourself" Bank on a world-wide scale — in which each local organization is responsible for the operation of its own affairs — it is composed of people with a desire to gain a higher type of economic freedom and a higher standard of living conditions by saving regularly and borrowing when necessary at low interest rates. It encourages the growth of local industries and fosters the spirit of co-operation in a group of responsible people interested in the betterment of the district and our country as a whole.

Mr. Blogg spoke on the operation of the School Savings Club, showing how very valuable it could be in encouraging the habit of thrift in a child — and what great assistance could be gained by attaining the co-operation of the teaching staff and the school board.

Mrs. Ruth Caldwell and Mrs. May Mitchell were presented with traveller's clocks by Dr. J. M. McArthur as a token of appreciation for the work they had given as secretaries to the board.

Mr. Bleasdale's speech on the History and Operation of the Credit Union movement showed it to be a "Do it yourself" Bank on a world-wide scale — in which each local organization is responsible for the operation of its own affairs — it is composed of people with a desire to gain a higher type of economic freedom and a higher standard of living conditions by saving regularly and borrowing when necessary at low interest rates. It encourages the growth of local industries and fosters the spirit of co-operation in a group of responsible people interested in the betterment of the district and our country as a whole.

At a meeting of the board of directors held after the close of the annual meeting, F. R. Ganzeveld was returned as president for 1958 and Dr. J. M. McArthur was elected vice-president. Mrs. Jean Eddie was appointed secretary to the board.

TEEN TOWN

A short Teen Town meeting was held at Jim McNabb's home on February 9.

As a new slate of councillors will be coming into office on March 1, all dances are being held off until after that time.

Big news this week of course is the Election Dance to be held on Saturday, March 1 in the IOOF Hall at 9 p.m. For the start of the year we will be having a big name (Mr. Tamblin) band in town for the evening just for this event. The dance should be a lot of fun so be sure to be there. Parents — you're invited too!

That was short and sweet wasn't it?

Hi-Life

The Saturday night basketball game in Summerland was won by the Kelowna Teddies by a score of 40 against Summerland's score of 25.

The Senior boys won both their games at Kamloops on Saturday and the Intermediate boys lost one and won one.

The playoffs against Rutland for the Central Zone Championship will be held here this coming Saturday starting at 6:30 p.m.

Edith Morgan, a student from Pentiction, gave an interesting talk on Tuesday night of her United Nations Tour this past summer.

A worthwhile demonstration on "The Use of Cosmetics" was given to the senior girls on Tuesday by one of the saleswomen for Beauty Counsellor products.

The Badminton Tournament held in Oliver last weekend proved to be a success and was thoroughly enjoyed by those attending from Summerland.

The Senior girls basketball team is a happy group now. Their basketball jackets have finally arrived. They really look sharp!

This seems to be it for another week — So-long.

First Eye Bank Now Established In B.C.

"The first Eye Bank in Western Canada has been established in British Columbia at the request of B.C. Ophthalmologists," Capt. M. C. Robinson, CNIB's National Director for Western Canada, and Dr. John A. McLean, Chief of Ophthalmology at the Vancouver General Hospital and Professor of Ophthalmology, UBC, announced in Vancouver Monday, February 10. Known as "The Eye Bank of Canada, B.C. Branch," it is being established by the Canadian National Institute for the Blind in cooperation with the Vancouver General Hospital. WHAT AN EYE BANK IS. The new Eye Bank of Canada, B.C. Branch will provide a central storehouse and system for procuring the necessary supply of corneas to enable corneal transplant operations. The cornea is the transparent tissue at the front of the eye. If his corneal-window becomes damaged, clouded or mishapen, severe visual problem can occur—often blindness. However, medical science has found that many persons either blind, or visually handicapped from defective corneas, can be helped to "See Again" by replacing their defective cornea with a clear, healthy one from a donated eye. It is hoped that healthy corneal tissue from donor eyes, gathered and stored in the new B.C. Eye Bank, will assist B.C. eye surgeons to perform many more successful corneal transplant operations, restoring sight to a number of British Columbia's blind, and preventing blindness for many more.

BACKGROUND
The first Eye Bank was established in New York in 1945, and American statistics published at that time, indicated that some ten thousand blind Americans might be helped to see again through corneal transplant operations. The first Canadian Eye Bank was set up in Toronto by CNIB in 1956 in cooperation with Ontario hospitals and eye doctors. Over a hundred blind Canadians have been helped to a new and brighter life through corneal transplants with corneas obtained through the Eye Bank Montreal saw the Quebec Branch of the Eye Bank of Canada opened last year. Now the CNIB is announcing the first Branch in Western Canada.

HOW TO DONATE YOUR EYES TO HELP SOMEONE SEE AGAIN.

All those wishing to donate their eyes to the B.C. Eye Bank after death, can obtain donor cards from the CNIB offices, 1101 West Broadway, Vancouver, B.C. Next of kin must be informed of the donor's wish to make his eyes available, and their consent obtained, so that someone now blind or threatened with blindness through corneal defects, can find new hope for a brighter tomorrow. No healthy eye, however, can be accepted while the donor is living. No charge is made to the person receiving the cornea and no payments are ever made for a donor eye. Eye Banks are to prevent blindness, and restore sight for those who can benefit from corneal transplant operations.

Captain M. C. Robinson, CNIB's National Director for Western Canada, stated today: "I have been advised by the B.C. Provincial Command of the Canadian Legion that the Legion is officially sponsoring an eye donor campaign among its members. Other organizations are considering similar sponsorship and it is expected that many individuals will express their intention to donate their eye after death to the New Eye Bank of Canada, B.C. Branch."

W.I. Celebrates Valentine

Following the annual custom the directors of the Summerland Women's Institute entertained the members and guests with a Valentine party on Friday afternoon at the Anglican parish hall.

Two members, Mrs. A. C. Fleming and Mrs. Gordon Ritchie sang a lovely old English lullaby, "Golden Slumber" and responded with an encore. Mrs. Robert Karan accompanied them on the piano. Two games were played and prize winners were Mrs. A. Turner, Mrs. Lazenby and Mrs. J. E. Sheldrake. A delicious tea was served by Mrs. E. M. Tait and members of the executive. Valentine decorations were the work of Mrs. Myrtle Scott and the cakes were also decorated.

During the business meeting the vice-president, Mrs. A. A. Fenwick was in the chair in the absence of the president, Mrs. L. W. Rumball. A letter from the Pemberton Institute was received congratulating the local group on winning in the Tweedsmuir competitions and a letter from the Mental Health Association reported on the success of the Christmas gift program. A card of thanks was received from the Unitarian Service committee for layettes for Arab refugees. Five complete layettes were sent and a box of assorted baby clothing. Another shipment will be made before March 1.

Roll call was answered by 30 members and there were 18 guests present.

Nominations for the Provincial Board were discussed and the meeting decided to name Mrs. J. O. Decker as presidential candidate and Mrs. Gordon Ritchie as a director. Mrs. Decker of Pemberton is the vice-president at present.

Mrs. E. M. Hookham, convenor of health and welfare reported attending the annual meeting of the Cancer Society and told of the work being done. Mrs. D. I. Gilman will represent the Institute at a meeting of the local CNIB throughout the year.

Mrs. Fenwick gave a brief talk on the founding of Women's Institutes and explained that we were celebrating the 61st anniversary as well as Valentine's Day.

The next meeting on March 14 will feature books. Mrs. Jack Dunsdon will speak on the local library and Mrs. J. Y. Towgood will give a book review.

Promenade

A very successful dance with a vaentime theme was held at the Youth Centre on Saturday night with Bill French as emcee. An interesting program was arranged the highlight of which was a unique contest. Nine squares of dancers were lined up with a caller for each square. The object was for the caller to have his call heard and get his dancers through the square. The caller keeping his dancers moving steadily being the winner. Lloyd Fairweather of Oliver being the winner of the contest. A lot of fun was had by all the participants, even if it was a bit hard on the caller who was competing with eight others as well as the noise of the dancers.

Two dances this week: One at Peachland with Ray Fredrickson as emcee. Bring a sack lunch. The other at Oliver in aid of the Boy Scouts Association with Bill French as emcee.

Les Boyer will conduct a round dance class for beginners at Peachland on Thursday at the Athletic Hall, also, Les is starting a round dance class at Vernon on Wednesday night, beginners level.

Junior Jottings

Well here goes for another week — late at that! I think everyone at the Junior Prom had a lot of fun last Friday when Snow Queen Florence Johnson was crowned. Congratulations Florence and your five Princess. I really enjoyed the refreshments, music and dances. How about you? Summerland played Kelowna on Saturday. The junior girls lost but we can use illness as an alibi as three or four of our valuable players were missing. The junior boys won their game. The girls will be playing in a tournament at the end of the month. Where, I don't know. Well it sure doesn't look like it will snow anymore this winter. Wish it would — I'd like to do some skiing. You'll hear more from me next week. I hope!

Dancing this week for Summerland and vicinity starts on Thursday night with Les Boyer's Round Dance Class in the Youth Centre Hall. One or two new dances will be taught this week.

The Crisis In Education

By J. Bascom St. John

Never before has the race between education and catastrophe in Canada been so clear-cut in its implications. In Russia, university students are not merely given free tuition, but they are paid a salary during their enrollment. The first year it is $57.50 per month and in the succeeding years it is $125.00 per month, plus a bonus for good marks.

It is unlikely this policy will be adopted in Canada in the near future. Nevertheless, a profound change of view is being noted in this country. The national loss that is being incurred through the failure of young people with talent to go to university is becoming very clear.

The need for many more secondary teachers is part and parcel of the forthcoming university crisis which is expected to follow the rising tide of secondary enrollment. It is also one of the many facets of the current crisis that is to be explored and studied at the forthcoming Canadian Conference on Education in Ottawa, February 17-20. Some 700 delegates from a wide cross-section of Canadians interested in education will be present at this largest gathering ever held in Canada in peace time.

In Canada, only about 7.2 per cent of the young people in the 18-21 group enter university. It is expected this ratio will go up, as it has been rising for a number of years. Assuming that it will probably rise to 10 per cent within the next five or six years, it is anticipated that university enrollments will increase from about 78,100 (last year) to between 110,600 and 135,000 by the fall of 1960. And that is only the beginning.

If there should be any movement in Canada to reach the 30 per cent ratio of enrollment common to the United States, or even the approximately 15 per cent in Russia, the problem would be sufficiently serious.

A number of moves have been made, by both private and public agencies, to provide more money for scholarships and bursaries. In Britain, about 30 per cent of the students are thus assisted.

If there are to be more teachers, more research scientists, more professors and more engineers, and more educated people in society, there will have to be a greater measure of financial assistance at the university level. At least $400 million will have to be spent on new university buildings and equipment within the next ten years.

The Gordon Commission on Canada's Economic Prospects estimated that about one billion dollars would have to be spent on capital investment in new university facilities in the next twenty-five years, and from $25 million to $35 million annually on university salaries. At least 700 new university staff members in the humanities alone will have to be found in the next ten years for Canadian universities.

We are now spending about $750 million a year on education, out of a total national product of $31 billions — or 75 cents out of every $31 dollars. It is not too much.

Large Attendance At World Day Of Prayer Service on Friday

More than a hundred women attended the World Day of Prayer service held in the United Church on February 21, the first Friday in Lent.

The service this year was arranged by the Australian women with the theme being "The Bread of Life."

Representatives from six churches took part with Mrs. Rex Chapman the leader. The others were Mrs. David Munn, Mrs. J. Burg, Mrs. J. Y. Towgood, Mrs. James, Mrs. Rathjen, Mrs. W. Milne and Mrs. R. C. Stevenson.

Mrs. J. Shepley and Mrs. W. Ward were the ushers and welcomed everyone on arrival.

The address was given by Mrs. S. A. MacDonald with recent news of the Zangna Bible and Medical Mission work in India.

Mrs. A. C. Fleming and Mrs. Bert Stent sang a duet which was greatly enjoyed by everyone. They were accompanied by Mrs. Delmar Dunham who also acted as chaplain for the service.

NINETEEN FIFTY-EIGHT

We Squashed It

On one of those unseasonably warm days of last month we observed a fly, a big loathsome bluebottle, ooze out of the woodwork of our storage shed at the back of the Review. We were reminded of that fly oozing out of the woodwork when we read of the group which, it trumpets, has been organized "to oppose and compete with the B.C. Tree Fruits Association for control of the B.C. tree fruit industry."

The Review does not question the right of growers to organize as they will — but it most certainly does question the motives of the organizers who, unable to make a dent in the organization through the democratic channels provided in what is, perhaps, the most democratic industrial organization anywhere in the land, waits in ambush until such times as the industry wallows in troubles and then oozes out into the open in the apparent hope that hard hit growers will be stampeded into joining its ranks.

One cannot help but wonder at the conceit of these insurrectionists, insofar as they must believe they are the growers' 'Moses', the chosen ones to lead their benighted brethren out of the wilderness. They apparently will not only emulate Moses, but they will be Joshuas and at the blast of their trumpets tariff walls — according to the needs and in favor of the B.C. fruit grower — will either arise or fall. Surpluses will be swallowed up by voracious demand created overnight, prices will skyrocket and we presume that "C" grade will vanish.

All that is implied in the announcement of the new organization and again we say, what conceit — what utter conceit. Here the growers of the Okanagan have spent many weary years building up their own organization the parent BCFGA and subsidiary groups — all of which are completely grower controlled.

The organization so painfully built up is the envy of and the model for comparative industries, not only in Canada, but throughout the world.

Above all it is democratic — and it is that one fact alone which constitutes the rock which will shatter this new name, but old faces, rebel group. Most growers are grumbling these days, but despite their grumbling they firmly believe in their organization. They know that at their hands is the machinery with which they can control it. They know that what has been built up painstakingly over the years is sound and they also know that they have the power, easily wielded, to change leadership if they deem it necessary to do so.

The men who talk of a new organization, who bring it into the open at a time when the industry is deep in trouble, are, we think, blinded by their own discontent and also are sadly underrating the intelligence of the very people they seek to woo.

It may be asked why a newspaper should get so hot under the editorial collar over the announcement of a new growers' organization. Insofar as this newspaper is concerned we have given the answer before but we readily give it again.

The orchard industry is the economic backbone of Summerland. As the fruit industry goes, so goes Summerland and, as Summerland goes, so goes the Review. In other words we too have a financial stake in the industry.

It is our firm belief that the BCFGA is strong enough, through intelligent grower support to weather almost any storm, but it also behooves each and every grower to stand guard over that which he has so well built.

To go back to that loathsome bluebottle we saw oozing out of the woodwork — we squashed it.

Some improvement has been made in the sharp turn in the road at Gartrell's orchard and which has been termed "dead man's corner."

The 1918 irrigation rate has been fixed at $3 per acre for all lots over seven acres. This means a general increase of fifty cents per acre.

BOWLING NEWS

Headlining bowling news this week is a first hand report on Kay Smith's 378 game during league play. Kay started off with two spares, chalked up seven straight strikes and finished off with a spare and a strike for a grand total of 378. Congratulations on your game which incidentally happens to be the ladies high single (so far) this year. Kay's three game total was 767 which also happens not only to be the high three for the week but the ladies high three (so far) this year.

There is good news this week for the ladies in the mixed league. Bill Hepperle is donating each week a package of Purity Cake Mix for the ladies high single and a package of Purity Cake Mix for the ladies high three which will alternate each week between "A" League and "B" League. To start the list of prize winners, Kay Smith will receive two packages of Purity Cake Mix.

A and B league start again at zero for the second half which commenced this week. In A league the new standings are as follows:

Legionnaires	4
Tooters	4
Cackleberrys	4
Baby Austins	4
Whizbangs	4
Misfits	3
Occidentals	1
Slo-Mos	0
Pioneer Feeds	0
Diehards	0

In B league the new standings are as follows:

The S. Dunn rink of Penticton won the A Event in the Peachland Ninth Open Bonspiel. Bill Croft's rink of Summerland got second which was four gladstone one-suiter bags. L. McKilligan's rink came fourth getting Estlund blankets.

Hockey

by Bob Graham

Mac's Cate 9 - Princeton 2
Last Sunday the Princeton Hockey club was trounced 9-2 by the Summerland Mac's Cate Aces.

Although poor refereeing spoiled the game for a few fans, it was in my estimation, a good game, the Princeton team came to town thinking that they would have an easy victory over the home club which was composed entirely of local players. The game was Summerland's all the way and was fun to watch.

MIDGET HOCKEY

Kelowna 10 - S'land 2
Monday night the local midgets were outscored 10-2 by the Kelowna team. Both of Summerland's goals were scored in the second frame; one by Myles Gillard and the other by David "Chick" Davis assisted by Gillard. Kelowna played a dirty game from my view point and deserved every penalty that they got.

On Thursday night the Midget squad will probably travel to Kelowna to finish off their two game total point series in the "Orchard City."

Orchard Notes

by Alec Watt,

District Horticulturist

It is well known that late dormant spraying can be the cause of poor results in controlling Blister Mite and Peach Leaf Curl, both of which require strictly dormant sprays for their control. Furthermore late dormant sprays can lead to tree injury where application of oil or other phyto-toxic substances are double-sprayed or applied after foliage has appeared.

In most years dormant spraying is a rushed business sandwiched in between the disappearance of snow and the onset of windy weather in late March or April. So far 1958 is a year with no snow and no frost in the ground. Once the weather turns warm, the ground should dry up rapidly producing ideal dormant spray conditions. This could happen very quickly!

By now spray materials should have been ordered and the sprayer placed in readiness to take advantage of calm days when spraying conditions are best. Wettable powders are now readily available which take care of the pests and disease normally controlled at the dormant stage in this area. It is therefore no longer necessary to wait for frost free weather for liquids to be delivered and stacked outside.

In short, there are very few, if any, drawbacks to applying dormant sprays now or in the next few weeks. Certainly, being prepared now to take advantage of calm weather will pay off in less confusion later on when so many tasks are pressing. It should give better "bug" control too!

Junior Hi Jottings

By Karen Johanson

The basketball games on the weekend turned out quite well. On Friday night the junior girls lost to the grade eight boys by a close score. Who the winners of the rest of the games that night were, I haven't the faintest idea. (As usual).

On Saturday, the junior girls beat Rutland for the first time. Hip hip hooray! We have played Rutland once before and lost. The junior boys lost by one point after two minutes extra playing time. Junior girls defeated Penticton Saturday morning by a score of 26-11.

By the sounds of things, the girls may be playing in a tournament in Kelowna this weekend.

Enough chatter about nothing.
