Les Rumball Installed President Rotary Club

Les Rumball was installed president of the Summerland Rotary Club at ceremonies held in the IOOF Hall last Friday. Mr. Rumball was installed along with other officers by Past District Governor John Coe of Penticton.

Installed were Mr. Rumball, president; Gerry Laidlaw, vice-president; S. A. MacDonald, secretary; Ryan Lawley, treasurer, and directors Glen Fell, Ted Atkinson, Gordon Beggs. A hearty vote of thanks and a big hand was given to Roy Angus, who after 12 years as secretary of the club, relinquished his duties to Mr. MacDonald.

Attending the event were the Summerland Rotary Anns and Rotarian visitors from Kelowna, Penticton and Oliver clubs, accompanied by their ladies. Presentation of a past president's pin was made by Mel Ducommun to retiring president Ross McLachlan. Toast to the Rotary was given by Gerry Laidlaw.

Highlight of the evening was the presentation of that masterful production, "mellerdrama" at its best, or maybe worst, "The Drunkard". This show by the "Pioneer Players" will be showing nightly on the SS Sicomous through July and August and judging by uproarious reception it received at the hands of the Summerland Rotarians, it should prove a highly popular event.

Director and also the villain of the piece is Rotarian Jim Onley.

Swim Classes To Start On Monday

The Rotary Red Cross Swim Classes will commence Monday, July 7, it was announced by Mrs. M. D. Hyde, instructor.

More than 300 children are already enrolled and entries continue to come in.

The children will be in competent hands, Mrs. Hyde, Amy Berry and Eleanor Baynes received their instructor's certificates at the Red Cross Instructors' School held at Kelowna last week and Miss Berry and Mrs. Hyde received bars to their Royal Life Saving Society bronze medallion and Miss Baynes received her bronze medallion.

Mrs. Hyde says that every effort is being made to arrange lessons at convenient times and parents who find it impossible to bring their children at the specified time are asked to let Mrs. Hyde know.

Beginners classes have been arranged.

New Member Urges Aid For Growers In Maiden Speech

Grower representatives were meeting with government officials in Penticton today. Thursday, The Review learned at press time, as the government men gather data which will be later assayed in regard to the application of the BCFGA for deficiency payments under the Agricultural Prices Stabilization Act.

Indications are that the Government will grant some form of support, the question being, how much, how soon?

Position of the grower was reviewed from A to Z by David Pugh, Member of Parliament for Okanagan Boundary, in his maiden speech delivered in the House last week.

Mr. Pugh's remarks as they applied to the fruit industry follow:

Sums Up Industry's Major Problems

Now Mr. Speaker, may I summarize the major problems facing our fruit industry. Through its chief spokesman, the industry has stated that it requires consideration on four major points and indeed, more than consideration if it is to survive. These four major points are: First stability of returns from year to year; second, protection specifically aimed at distress selling; third, relief in freight rates; and, fourth, farm financing and farm credit.

To enlarge on these four points and deal with them in a slightly different order, I would point out that I have already made mention of freight rates and stated the necessity of an overhaul. With regard to farm financing and farm credit, to understand this need it is necessary to understand the problem of weather in relation to orcharding. The orchardist accepts normal hazards of weather. But troubles arise through early frost, poor weather when the crop is setting, improper humidity at thinning time, rains as the cherries are being harvested. All these and many more take a tremendous toll. But this is an annual problem and in all forms of farming an accepted hazard. We have to accept it. There is, however, a weather condition which has in many cases caused widespread disaster. I refer to the three killing winters commencing in 1950. This has meant a heavy drain on our resource. It has meant replanting and in many cases newly planted trees have been severely damaged in the years following 1950.

Long Term Rehabilitation Financing

The situation requires long term rehabilitation financing. This is not available through the banks. Only other source the Canadian farm loan board, is not available either as this type of rehabilitation loan does not meet its requirements. It is a straight question of rehabilitation and I would ask the government to give immediate consideration to this very urgent problem.

On the short term basis credit has been cut as a result of the poor returns during the last five years. But the combination of winter kill and poor returns has been more than the average orchardist can stand. The position has deteriorated until now many are in serious difficulty. Financing through the banks has in many cases been curtailed. Poor annual returns are the sort of thing that makes any banker think twice even if he is friendly. The result has been that a large percentage of growers are now working out part or full time. This, of course, makes it impossible to maintain the orchards properly. From the foregoing you will see that our credit position needs overhauling on both a long and short term basis.

Let me deal now Mr. Speaker with the remaining two major points brought up by the industry, namely stabilization and protection against distress selling. We welcome the stabilization act and we look for some measure of relief under this legislation. We appreciate its intention and feel that an honest effort based on the intention will aid in partially providing the answer to stability. But this act alone will not provide the stability that the industry needs. We require the benefits of the stabilization act certainly, but we also require an effective stoppage of United States distress selling.

Let me digress for a moment. Our fruit industry is twofold, first apples and then soft fruits. There is basic difference. Our apples are an export product and sell well in the United (continued on page three)

Recognition by the Paris Salon is regarded as one of the highest attainments an artist can achieve. Mr. Irvine Adams of Summerland submitted two of his pictures for exhibition there and has been notified by James Bourlet and Sons, Ltd., of London, Eng., that both have been hung in the Paris Salon. They will later be submitted to the summer salon to be held in the Royal Institute Galleries, London.

"Noonday Glow" is an Autumn scene of the poplars at the Farm Beach, Summerland, the other, "Black Birches by the Pool" was painted in Mr. Adam's own garden in Peach Orchard. Both are pastels, the medium in which he prefers to work, giving as they do the ultimate in softness and rich depth of color and are more easily manipulated than either water color or oils, although he has also used both the latter expressions of his art.

Mr. Adams attended the H. Faulkner Smith Academy of Art in the Marine Building, Vancouver, during the years 1933 and 1934 and it is interesting to note that some of his classmates have achieved success in various lines of art. Stuart McKay is a designer for T.U.T.S. Vancouver, and has designed clothes for such artists as Lena Horne. Marjorie Murray is a teacher in the New York Central School of Art. Charles Logan is head of an Advertising Agency in Vancouver. Denver Gillen, whose works appear in such publications as Reader's Digest and cover magazines, is in Chicago. Alan Wooten is a freelance artist as is Claude Smith, both having their studios in Vancouver.

A Summerland student, Vickie McKee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. McKee, Parkdale, was winner of the Okanagan competition in which students from Summerland, Penticton and Oliver competed.

There were more than ten competitors from Summerland in this event. Subject of the essay was "100 years of Okanagan history."

The winner is in grade eight.

Half Year Permits Valued at $255,080

Permits for nine new dwellings to the value of $46,380 and six permits for additions and alterations valued at $1,450 were issued in June according to the monthly report issued by building inspector Roy Angus.

June 1957 was a heavier month with 17 permits valued at $76,325 but this figure included $35,600 for the United Church addition.

Total permits for the first six months of 1958 were still ahead of the first six months of last year, with 77 permits to the amount of $225,080 issued this year as against 75 permits to the value of $210,000 issued in the corresponding six months in 1957.

$545 Raised Here For Guide Camp

Members of the local Girl Guide Association raised $545 towards the Girl Guide Camp project at Wilson's Landing it was reported at the final meeting before the summer recess, held at the home of Mrs. R. McLachlan.

Where and how the money has been spent can be seen by parents and others interested at the Camp "Open House" to be held on Sunday, July 6.

Editorial

School is out — and small fry are, it seems, everywhere. They're chasing balls out of gardens, they're poking their inquisitive noses into all kinds of nooks and crannies.

Motorists can no longer breeze along reasonably secure in the knowledge that the kids are in school. Holiday time is the time for motorists to be even more alert and it is the time for parents to take heed of what their children are doing.

This particularly applies to warning small fry of the dangers inherent in open flumes. Flumes are a sore temptation these hot days with their rushing, cool water, but they're dangerous — parents sternly warn their children not to get out beyond their depth in the lake, they should warn them even more sternly about playing around open irrigation flumes.

School is out, — and kids at play are without care and without thought. It is up to all adults to exercise more vigilance in trying to safeguard our children at play.

Varied Program For Annual Orchard Tour

Plans for the orchard tour to be held in the Summerland area July 8 are now finalized. The Tour will assemble on the Jack Towgood orchard at 9:30 am. At 10:45 a.m. the Tour will move to the W. F. Ward orchard, West Summerland and will stay there until after lunch. Growers are advised to bring their own lunch and beverage. After lunch a panel discussion on the rodent problem will take place. Mr. G. A. West, Supervisor of Predator Control in the B.C. Fish and Game Branch will be present to discuss the rodent question.

At 1:45 p.m. the Jim Mayne orchard will be visited and at 3:00 p.m. the tour will make its last stop of the day at the Walter Powell orchard.

Topics of interest which will be dealt with during the tour are:

Soil and water management.
Pear Decline.
Grass Control around fruit trees.

Dwarf and Semi-dwarf apple trees.

Insect and Disease control.
Mineral Deficiencies.
Budding Demonstration.

Those taking part in the program, besides Mr. West, will be: W. R. Foster, Provincial Plant Pathologist, Victoria; J. A. Smith, Supervising Horticulturist, Kelowna; Craig Brownlee, Soils Specialist, B.C. Department of Agriculture, Kelowna; Jack Stewart, Chemist, Summerland Research Centre; Maurice Trumppour, District Horticulturist, Penticton; Frank Morton, District Horticulturist, Kelowna; A. W. Watt, District Horticulturist, Summerland.

It is hoped that besides the local growers a number of orchardists from Washington State will be in attendance.

Programs for the tour and information are available at the Horticulturist offices in Penticton and Summerland.

Macs Take Second Money In Holiday Tournament

Summerland Macs, with no ringers, won second money, $500, in the Kelowna Dominion Day Baseball tournament.

Oliver OBCs picked up the top prize money of $1,000 but the Oliver OBCs were loaded with hand picked talent from the Penticton Red Sox and with players from the coast.

The Summerland Macs played it straight to eliminate Kelowna 6-4 on Monday and got by Vernon with a score of 4-3, to enter the finals.

Oliver 10 — Summerland 4. The weather was perfect for the tournament final, played before a jammed house, with Oliver taking Summerland 10-4, to take the Bennett Trophy and a fat, $1,000 cheque back home, their second consecutive victory in the Orchard City tournament.

Oliver got away to an early start with a single and two homers on five pitched balls off Macs' starter, Al Hooker, and Don Cristante relieved. Drossos and Ledlin nailed his offerings for singles, to make it a five-hit, three-run start.

OBC's Glen Ball lasted only a part of an inning as well as he loaded the bases on two hits and an error, then hit Egely to let in one run the easy way. Richie Snyder, in spite of a game log, came in to finish the game.

A hit and two errors gave OBCs one in the second, and three hits and a boner accounted for two more in the third, giving the OBCs a 6-1 lead.

The Macs started an uprising in the fifth, when Biollo walked, and Hooker, Taylor and Egely all singled, driving one run in and loading up the bases again, but Cristante grounded to Snyder, for a force at home and the out at first to retire the side.

Pitcher Howard Esche, big left-hander from Kamloops, now working in Summerland, relieved Cristante in the seventh, and Elroy tagged him for a singleton homer over left field fence, but Hooker replied in the Mac's half of the frame with one right over the centre wall. The OBCs fattened their lead some more in the eighth with a walk, one hit-by-pitcher and an error loading up the bases, and three runs coming in on a tag-up, a steal and a single.

ORCHARD RUN

A DAY'S WORK

Officials of the fruit and vegetable workers union expressed deep concern over the refusal of authorities to reduce the packinghouse work day from its present nine hours to an eight-hour day.

The board's action was based on the precarious economic position of the fruit growing industry which has been suffering these last few years from heavy losses due to severe weather, and from difficult marketing condition. It is most significant that these conditions are not confined to the Okanagan Valley of British Columbia.

It is true the nine-hour day is a long one, but it is also true that the nine-hour day is worked only for a short period during the fruit packing season. There are many days when the packing and sorting staff work less than eight hours.

The half dozen or dozen men who stay on the job the year round have long months between packing seasons when they work no longer than eight hours and there is no hurry and hustle about it, as there is during the packing season.

5-HOUR DAY

In their plea for a shorter work day the union officials argued it would help the present unemployment situation. Why not reduce the work-day to five hours. That would be just lovely. It would double the number of employees and the union would double its income by collecting monthly dues from twice as many workers.

SKUNKS AGAIN

Somebody has challenged my remarks about skunks not harming chickens. He claims to have found a skunk in his chicken pen, with a dozen or more little dead chicks nearby — proof positive that the skunk is a chicken slayer.

Looks more like the dirty work of a weasel, and when the skunk came along he got blamed for the crime. A dog could be the killer.

PROSPERITY

These housewives can't be blamed for wanting to work in the packinghouse. Who would want to slave in a hot kitchen when she can get a job in a nice cool packinghouse and earn 88c an hour? And draw unemployment insurance after the packing season is over.

This system, coupled with polygamy, would give the fruit grower economic security and maintain production at a high level.

Editorials

WEDNESDAY, JULY 2, 1958 NINETEEN FIFTY-EIGHT

A Shot In The Arm - Now

The evidence is in — and the growers of the Okanagan await the verdict. The evidence — the closing pool prices and facts of the costs of production — is clear, conclusive and convincing enough, surely, to cause government to move swiftly to shore up the sagging fruit industry.

Only last week parliament heard the member for Okanagan Boundary, David Pugh, review the parlous plight of the growers in his maiden speech.

Mr. Pugh didn't miss much, if anything, in his review of a very grim situation indeed.

Maiden speeches in this new top heavy Conservative government are a dime a dozen, and do not necessarily galvanize government into activity, but Mr. Pugh's maiden speech is in the records and it gives solid support to the inessential representations being made to the government by grower organizations.

In the face of all the evidence we can hardly envision the authorities refusing to extend the benefits of the Agricultural Prices Stabilization Act to the fruit industry.

Our concern is the yardstick they, the authorities, will use in deciding the extent of the support to be given.

Selling prices are only 15 cents below the ten year average, a fact which we think speaks very well indeed for the selling agency. That B.C. Tree Fruits has been able to move a huge crop in the face of currency difficulties increasing competition from other European nations, and bumper crops almost everywhere is, in itself, worthy of congratulation; that B.C. Tree Fruits has done this and maintained a reasonably good price level is, we believe, conclusive proof of the value of central selling and of the efficiency of the organization set up by the growers.

But the selling price is not the yardstick — the true yardstick is the cost of production.

We firmly believe that B.C. Tree Fruits extracted every possible last cent out of the market, but that does not alter the fact that most growers received less for their fruit than it cost them to produce.

That is the yardstick which the authorities should consider, not what the fruit sold for, but what the producer received for it.

As Mr. Pugh pointed out in his maiden speech there are four major factors to be considered in reviving the fruit industry — they are: Stability of returns from year to year; protection against distress selling; relief in freight rates; and farm financing and farm credit.

But, if those four points are going to be given consideration and action taken thereon, we suggest that the government should move with speed and give the patient a shot in the arm in the form of a solid deficiency payment, based not on the selling price but on the price received by the producer.

Unless this is done and unless the payment is substantial we are afraid that a lot of growers will not be around to receive the benefits which could accrue from action on the four major points spoken of by the member for Okanagan Boundary.

At this time we would like to congratulate Mr. Pugh on his very able speech which covered every facet of his far flung riding, and also for what we hear of his behind the scenes activity on behalf of the fruit growers.

Anticipate 40,000 At Bridge Opening

KELOWNA - Upwards of 40,000 are expected to congregate in the Kelowna area July 19 to witness H.R.H. Princess Margaret officially open the longest anchored floating bridge in the British Commonwealth.

The reinforced concrete span-length of floating section alone is 2100 feet—crosses Okanagan Lake at Kelowna and replaces the ferry now used as a connecting link on Highway 97.

Time for the official opening ceremonies will be 12 noon.

The 7,311,000 structure, which was built for the B. C. Toll Highways and Bridges Authority, will be open for public use immediately following official ceremonies.

At the peak of the work on the bridge's construction more than 300 men were employed.

Maiden Speech

States market. In fact, we have a premium product and we consistently get a better price than the same type of United States fruit does in its own market. That goes for both quality and grade. There is no question of our ever having tried to undersell the American producer in his own market. We do not now ask for fair value for duty in this instance. It is sufficient to state that we suffer tariff-wise. But here we can rely wholly upon the stabilization act to balance costs of production in order to provide a fair return.

With regard to soft fruits, that is, peaches, pears, apricots, cherries and prunes a different situation exists. In Canada we do not produce sufficient for our own needs and that is an important point. We do not export and we annually fill our extra requirements from the United States. Problem is one of the price at which U. S. fruit enters our market and also the timing. United States soft fruits reach maturity well ahead of ours. Their market is saturated before we commence to pick. When the United States market is saturated their prices begin to drop in their own country and they are faced with a disposal problem. Highly perishable fruit still in great quantities must be sold. This fruit is dumped in the U. S. market. I would ask hon. members to note that they dump their own fruit in their own market and they do so at distress prices, at prices designed to clean up the crop at salvage prices or, if you will, fire sale prices and, of the utmost importance to us, at prices that bear no relation to the United States cost of production.

The importance of these prices is seen because it is at this stage that our own production comes on the market. Here you see the chronic liability under which we suffer. The United States fire sale price is the price at which we must begin to sell, a price at which no self-respecting United States producer would produce, let alone sell. Much more important, this distress selling becomes the controlling factor in our price structure. These imports do occur, but believe me, fruit does not have to come across our border to dominate our price structure. The threat of import is sufficient. A quotation f.o.b. any point in the United States will do the trick.

Mr. Pugh then went on to discuss the act and remarks of the Minister of Agriculture pertaining to the industry and then concluded his speech as follows:

Once again, I agree with the forthright statement of the hon. member for Carleton. May I state without reservation that the fruit industry of British Columbia is an industry of long-standing growth and is properly situated. We can face reasonable and proper competition from imported goods; we are not asking to be pampered and petted by excessively protective measures. What we want is the benefit of the amendment to the Customs Act so that foreign dumping is eliminated. And I reiterate and expand the sentiments of the hon. member for Carleton—surely there is no member of this house who wants Canadian agriculture to be compelled to compete with foreign agricultural goods sold at less than their cost of production and normal profit.

I further concur with him—I too, as long as I have a vote in this house, will not vote to compel Canadian growers and agricultural workers to compete with dumped foreign fruits and vegetables.

Beverly Ruth Dowds Takes Marriage Vows

At the Summerland Catholic Church at 4 p.m., June 14, 1958, with Father Meullenberg officiating Beverly Ruth Dowds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. K. Dowds became the bride of Andrew Leon Uytterhagen, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Uytterhagen. Her dress was traditional white net satin with a bouffant skirt. Her lace bolero had seed pearl trim on its Peter Pan collar. The three-quarter length veil was held in place by a seed pearl trim on its crown. The bride carried pink and white roses in a heart-shaped bouquet. The Matron of Honor was Mrs. Loretta Martin, sister of the groom, who wore a pink net dress with lace bolero and net crown head-dress.

The attendants carried identical bouquets of pink roses and white carnations. The best men were Mr. Terry Coggan and Mr. Ed Martin Jr. Ushers were Mr. Lloyd Graham and Mr. Earle Bryden. The reception was held at the JOOF-Hall which was decorated for the occasion with pink and white streamers and white wedding bells. Bride's table was decorated with pink and white roses and the wedding cake stood on a smaller table on a white lace cloth with pink and white roses and lighted candles on either side of it. The wedding party and couple's parents received 124 guests. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Ernie Harrison, with the groom responding. Toast to the bridesmaids was given by Mr. Terry Coggan. Mr. Masao Aoki was the M.C. Dancing followed with music supplied by Mrs. Hazel Carrier and Mr. Freeman Reid. A wire of congratulations was read from Miss Yolanda Pelleteir of Dutch Lake, Sask.

For their motor trip to United States, the bride wore a blue wool suit with white accessories, and a pink rose corsage. The young couple will make their home in West Summerland.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Green, Victoria, grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Linstrom. Mr. Bert Lindstrom, Mr. and Mrs. Verne Smith, Mr. Terry Coggan, Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Phillips of Penticton, Mrs. J. R. Davidson of Williams Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Graham, Mr. and Mrs. W. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Chernenkoff

Summerland Girl Weds

GALE—CHERNENKOFF

Summerland United Church was the setting of a lovely afternoon ceremony on June 21, 1958 at 4:30 p.m. when Louise Catherine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frederick Gale became the bride of William Alexander Chernenkoff of Ashcroft, B.C. Rev. Richmond officiated at the ceremony as the lovely bride was given in marriage by her father. The bride's dress had a bouffant net skirt and molded lace bodice. Her bolero had lily pointed sleeves. Her chapel length veil edged nylon net was held in place by a seed pearl tiara. She wore pearl necklace and earrings, a gift of the groom and carried red roses. The matron of honour, the bride's cousin Mrs. Joyce Gould wore a pink cocktail length dress of appliqued organdy with scalloped bodice and shirred sleeves. The bride's matron Mrs. Anne Peel was attired in a matching costume of pale green. The flower-girl was Miss Kathleen Gould who wore a short pale blue nylon dress with puffed sleeves and appliqued yolk. The attendants carried colonial bouquets of snapdragons, sweet-peas, sweet williams and rose buds, and wore bandeaus of matching flowers. As the groom's best man was Constable Al Hansen RCMP of Armstrong. Ushers were the groom's brother Kenneth Chernenkoff of Ashcroft, and Duncan Hamilton of Clinton. Mrs. D. Dunham played the organ and while the couple signed the register, Shirley Green sang "I'll walk beside you". The IOOF hall beautifully decorated with white and pink streamers and bells was the place of reception. The bride's, the groom's parents and grandparents with Grandma Zowty received the 150 guests. The three tiered cake was centered on a white crocheted tablecloth. Mr. E. E. Bates was the master of ceremonies and Mr. E. R. Butler proposed the toast to the bride.

The young bride and groom knelt before the Chernenkoff grandparents to receive their blessings. Mr. B. Leong of Ashcroft sang "Because" and their was dancing with music supplied by The Mountain Rascals.

The bride's cake knife was a wedding present from Mrs. Anne Keyes of Seattle (nee Semac) and had engraved on it, the wedding date and the initials of the young couple. For their wedding trip to Victoria via Seattle the bride donned a pert white flecked green suit with pink hat gloves and blouse, white purse and shoes and a corsage of white rosebuds. The couple plan to make their home in Cache Creek, B.C.

Out of own guests included friends from Ashcroft, Clinton, Nelson, White Rock, Penticton and Armstrong. The mayor of Ashcroft and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. North were among those present.

The bride's bouquet was caught by Janice Carefoot of Greenwood, and the bridal garter was caught by Constable Al Hansen. Many thanks go to Mr. James Peel jr. for decorating the bridal car.

Shower Honors Mrs. Allan Hooker

Mrs. Allan Hooker was honored at a shower given to her on June 28 at the home of Mrs. Thomas Hooker.

The hostess was Mrs. George Pohlman and co-hostess Mrs. John Stillick.

The bride's chair was daintily decorated with pale pink, blue and white streamers and placed under a decorated archway of streamers and balloons.

The bride's presents were wheeled to her in a decorated wheel barrow which proved an appropriate setting with the afternoon shower.

There were twenty-five ladies present, which included out of town guest Mrs. John Stillick (the sister of the groom) of Vancouver.

A daintily arranged afternoon lunch and tea was served. A very nice afternoon was enjoyed by all.

Comings & Goings

The monthly meeting of the Kiwassa Club was held last week at the Trout Creek home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Alstead, eighteen members being present. Mrs. Gerald Anderton, treasurer of the club, who is leaving to reside in Kelowna, was presented with a Centennial cup and saucer. Slides of part of her trip to Europe, pictures of Nice, were shown by Mrs. McLarty and a brief talk on writing short stories was given by Mrs. Alstead.

Mrs. Jean Johnson of Vancouver is visiting at the home of Mrs. Sarah Peter.

Mr. and Mrs. George Harper spent the holiday weekend at Trail, visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. O. I. Johnson. They were accompanied by Mrs. Harper's sister-in-law, Mrs. A. May.

Mrs. Harry Freeman and her two children, Barbara and Eric, are spending a few days at their home on the beach at Trout Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Dent had as guests over the July 1 weekend their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dent from the coast and also their son, Mr. Alan Dent.

Jerry Hunt has returned from Qualicum College on Vancouver Island to spend the summer with his mother, Mrs. L. A. Hunt. At the annual school sports and prize giving ceremony, Jerry received the Grade 12 prize for scholarship.

Promenade

Summer may be on us but square dancers never seem to mind the heat. At least that is the way it looks from the full schedule of summer dancing planned by the various clubs.

This Saturday, July 5th, the Kelowna Wagon Wheelers are holding a jamboree with Ches Larson as emcee. All dancers are welcome and a special invitation is extended to callers.

If you have lots of time and energy and want to drive to Kamloops, they are holding a big jamboree there on July 4th and 5th, with Al Berry emcee.

Anyone wanting to dance during the week, towards the end that is, can do so at the new Centennial Pavilion at Penticton, where I understand there is open air dancing every Friday night until the Peach Festival. Incidentally, its all free.

Member Reports

FOR WEEK ENDING JUNE 20 The first Conservative budget in twenty-three years was the major item of parliamentary interest during this past week. In the main it was a hard fact budget, revealing the present state of the country's economy and the tremendous financial demands which have been made on the federal government by every segment of the Canadian economy. It also included government spending to cover increased works. Finally the budget disclosed that we are in for deficit spending to the extent of $50,000,000.

Full implication of all the provisions of the budget will require very close study and only the course of events in the next few months will reveal how effectively it can cope with the demands of this particular period in Canadian history. To my mind this budget holds out high hopes for fruit growers and vegetable growers. It is the expressed intention to amend Canadian law so that dumping can be dealt with effectively. I would like to quote the Minister of Finance as follows:

"During the past year many representatives of Canadian industry, large and small, and agriculture, have discussed their problems with members of the government. We have been impressed by the serious difficulties that have been created for many of them by the dumping of foreign goods in the Canadian market. Such dumping may arise from a variety of causes and may take many forms. The present dumping duties section of the Customs Act are adequate to deal with some forms of dumping. However, they do not deal with cases where goods are being imported into Canada at less than their cost of production and are also sold in the country of export below cost."

Here we see a plain statement of a new approach to dumping. How well we know this applies to fruit and vegetables. The Government intends new legislation which will overcome this and allow a greater latitude in fixing a fair value for duty. My chief concern at the present moment and one which I have been working on is that the Act as amended might be extremely difficult to apply to fruit because cost of production of fruit in the United States would be extremely difficult to establish and in fact might never be determined. I have been working closely with Mr. Les Burrows of the Canadian Horticultural Council, to further the suggested amendment which the CHC wishes. Briefly the Council is asking that fair value for duty will be passed on the actual price of imports into Canada over a ten year period. This figure is easily ascertained and may be found in the records of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

Critics of the government are quick to claim that new measures against distress selling by the imposition of fair value for duty means that this government is going all out to be protectionist. Such is not the case nor in the expressed intention of the Minister of Finance can any justification for this be found. Any government action taken will be taken not to stop the importation of goods into Canada but to see that they do not come in at such price that will kill our market. There will be no stopping of imports into this country. The net result will be to give our producers better returns.

Another point which was cleared up in the budget was one of great concern to all lumber producers in Okanagan Boundary. Apart from the budget I have had a personal reply from the Minister of Finance which I quote in part:

"You will be pleased to know, I am sure, that in the budget speech on June 17, I proposed a resolution which will have the effect of providing the same rates of duty on all lumber produced on a planing machine except certain forms specifically named in the tariff.

PNE Relief Map

How would you like to fly high overhead and have an unobstructed view of the whole Province of British Columbia, and all in the space of a few minutes?

You can have a reasonable facsimile of this experience any time you are in the vicinity of the B.C. Building on the PNE Grounds at Hastings Park, Vancouver, by viewing the huge relief map, 80 ft. by 76 ft., depicting 576,000 square miles of British Columbia and bordering territory.

Mr. George P. Challenger, with much previous experience in this work, spent seven years in the making of this map. He was assisted by members of his family, one of them being his daughter, Ruth. Mrs. David Munn of Summerland.

Built to scale, only the height of the mountains has been exaggerated to make them stand out. Layer on layer of plywood, many thousands of pieces, were used to build this perfect replica of the Province showing planis, valleys, mountains, rivers and lakes, the coloring used bringing out every detail. Railways, boundaries and roads are also marked. Here is a sliding platform which enables the viewer to look directly down on any part of the Province, thus seeing it in perfect perspective. An attendant is on hand to give any information desired.

In the several years it has been on exhibition this map has been of great help to industrialists, professors and students, power commissions, those interested in transportation and forestry and many others.

If you have not yet seen Mr. Challenger's birdseye view of British Columbia drop in the next time you are in the vicinity of the B.C. Building, which is open every day, except Christmas Day, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., including Sundays.

TREE FLOWERS

Many people do not realize that all of our common trees have flowers. Otherwise they could not produce seed. We are apt to think of flowering trees as being those with showy blossoms — most of them beautiful and some very fragrant — such as the redbud, dogwood, buckeye, hore chestnut, black locust, tulip tree or yellow poplar, magnolia, and the fruit trees.

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. C-309

DESIGN C-309. For a limited budget and a narrow lot, this plan has much to offer. There are three bedrooms, bath, living room and a kitchen-dinette, which can be opened into the living room by means of a folding partition. There is a full basement down from the grade entry.

The central hall assures privacy for all rooms and excellent circulation through the house. Cabinets occupy opposite walls of the kitchen with refrigerator and stove in the cabinets on the inside wall.

Exterior finish consists of shingle and vertical siding, planting area, and pitch and gravel roofing on a flat roof constructed to carry necessary snow loads. Floor area is 936 sq. ft. and cubage is 15,912 cu. ft.

For further information about DESIGN C-309, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn. In Canada, the Small House Planning Bureau of Canada, St. John, New Brunswick.

SINGING WEED KILLER

The Song Sparrow, which is the most widely distributed sparrow in B.C., is primarily a weed-seed eater. During the nesting season insects are fed to the young and a certain amount of animal matter is consumed by adults at all times, but the main item in the diet throughout the year is weed-seeds.

Today In Your Garden

With summer well on the way, it's time to make the most of early fruits. Strawberries, raspberries and cherries all make delicious desserts and can easily be frozen to provide summer fare during the winter months.

One of the obstacles to preparing appetizing fruit cocktails and desserts from fresh fruits is the tendency for fruits to discolor and lose their flavour. An excellent way to overcome this difficulty is to sprinkle the fruit with an ascorbic acid — sucrose mixture. Ascorbic acid stops the oxygen in the air from discolouring fruit and keeps it tasting fresh. Sucrose is a form of sugar often found naturally in fruit.

The same mixture is also a great help to those who freeze fruit. It prevents flavour loss during preparation and maintains the flavour and colour of fruits when they are in the freezer.

Here is a receipt to use the mixture effectively during packaging of frozen fruit.

Prepare syrup by dissolving sugar in water before cutting up the fruit. Use hot water for clearer solutions. For most fruits a medium syrup will be preferred which is made by adding 3 1/2 cups of sugar to one quart of water.

Cool syrup completely; then add 1 teaspoonful of the ascorbic acid-sucrose mixture per cup of cold syrup. Fill freezing container one-quarter full with syrup and slice fruit directly into it. Press fruit down in container and add enough syrup to cover. Syrup should always cover fruit. Leave 1/2" to 1" head space, seal and freeze.

FIRE!

Here are four points that every camper, hiker or traveller in our woods should bear in mind at all times:

1. Break that match!
2. Drown that campfire!
3. Crush that cigarette!
4. Use that ashtray!

Junior Red Sox Hang On To Second Place

Summerland Junior Red Sox came up with two more wins during the past week to keep a firm hold on second place in the league, one game behind Vernon.

On Wednesday evening the Sox took Oliver the easy way when they won a protest against the use by Oliver of two senior players. They were awarded the game 9-0.

On Sunday, before the largest crowd so far this season, the Summerland club took a thriller from Naramata by a score of 2-1.

The Red Sox scored first in the sixth when McNabb singled to drive in Parker who had singled to start the inning.

Naramata came back in the seventh with the equalizer when Thompson drew a base on balls went to second on the pickoff play and scored on Carrie's long double to right centre field.

Going into the last of the ninth with the score tied, DeWitt walked McNabb forced him to second then, with one out Larry Lemke won glory with a screaming line drive to centre field fence to score McNabb and break up the ball game.

Sheeley pitched a two hitter for the winners while Kozak yielded four hits to the Red Sox. Both teams were charged with one error.

Council Concerned Over Risk Of Contamination Of Water

With lakes, beaches and camp sites abounding Works Superintendent Ken Blagborne is wondering why people persist in cavorting in and around Trout Creek, down which for a few miles before it enters the flumes, travels the municipal irrigating etc.

Superintendent Blagborne aired his complaint before council on Tuesday.

Water sheds should be respected, council agreed, and unless campers and others discipline themselves it is likely that Council will take stern measures to protect the water supply from risk of contamination.

According To The Mood

By Sid Godber

The ways of government are weird and wonderful — word from Victoria is that no legislative authority to hold another liquor plebiscite exists. I think even the most out and out dry will gag on that one. It is not a matter of the right and wrong of liquor — it's a matter of a democratic people's right. It works both ways — imagine how a community in which the majority wanted to get rid of liquor outlets would feel if told — no can do — no legislative authority exists to hold another plebiscite — wet you voted and wet you'll stay.

Where is something like that going to end. Next thing we'll be hearing that the elections act has been amended, as evidently was the Liquor Act of 1948 which provided that the Lieutenant-Governor could from time to time authorize a plebiscite, and we will have Premier Bennett saucily telling the opposition that no legislative authority exists for the holding of an election:

And how the government can wield the big stick, nothing so crude as telling the school board do as we say or else. No, having reversed its policy on centralization of school plants, the Education Department tells our school trustees sure, go ahead build your school where you want it — but don't expect us to foot any part of the students' transportation bill — zowie.

It won't be long now before Princess Margaret has been and gone and the haggle over how many minutes she will be on display in various communities will be ended. I've never quite been able to digest the attitude of a lot of Canadians and more particularly Americans towards Limeys who are supposedly so subservient to the nobility and what have you, but who grovel when blue blood comes over to this side. I'm proud of the Royal Family and I'm willing to don kähki again to fight for what they represent, but having seen innumerable pictures, having heard them on radio I don't see any need to travel miles and wait hours just to see a slip of a girl.

Week late in observing the anniversary of taking over the Summerland Review — two years, anyway, starting this month — time marches on.

Promenade

All square dancers will be heading toward the Youth Centre Hall, West Summerland for the benefit dance in aid of the Girl Guide Camp Project. This affair is jointly sponsored by Pentiction, Summerland and Peachland. Les Boyer, will emcee and it is anticipated that a large crowd will be in attendance. In view of the numerous girl guides who will ultimately benefit from this camp, it is a very worthwhile project and should receive your utmost support. So, please plan to attend won't you!

Regulations Are Being Observed

Summerland residents were complimented by Municipal Council on their response to the sprinkling regulations introduced last month which provides for alternate sprinkling days, the division on an alphabetical basis.

Since the sprinkling regulations went into effect there has been ample pressure and no complaints, Superintendent Ken Blagborne informed council.

The regulations only apply to those on the domestic water system.

"The people have certainly been very co-operative," said Reeve Atkinson, "they are to be complimented."

AOTS Hear Of Life Behind Bars

Summerland A.O.T.S. Club held their last meeting of the season on June 28. Guest speaker for the evening was Mr. Albert Wiggins who spoke on his 30 years experience as a guard in the penitentiary at Prince Albert.

Mr. Wiggins gave a very clear and graphic description of the trials and problems confronting wardens, guards and other penitentiary administrators and a vivid picture of various types of prisoners, how they are handled and how they react to prison life. He also spoke of the changes that have been brought about by "Prison Reform" and how some of these reforms have added to the problems of administration.

The subject of "Prison Reform" is a very timely and interesting one as was shown by the number of questions asked by the audience. It was the hope of those present that Mr. Wiggins might speak to the club again at some future date and have further discussion on the subject.

Meetings will resume again in the Autumn.

No Legislative Authority For Liquor Plebiscite

John Wooliams recently elected president of the Summerland Key Club, a Kiwanis sponsored club within the High School. Established last year the club's first president was this year's honors graduate Eddie Matsu. One of the surprise undertakings of the club members last year was to clean up after the annual Hallowe'en hi-jinks.

Department Of Education's Mailed Fist Showing

Autonomy of School Boards and Municipal Councils in matters where the Provincial Government controls, the purse strings was disclosed to be a polite fiction at Tuesday night's Municipal Council meeting.

Only last April the Summerland School Board of District 17, in a submission to the municipal council, expressed strong opposition to the Department of Education's policy of decentralization which would have involved the building of small schools in lower Town and Garnett and Prairie Valleys. Municipal Council expressed complete agreement with the School Board and gave tentative approval to the Board's plans for the building of a three-classroom unit, designed to be extended, on the Macdonald Elementary School grounds.

The Department of Education did not say flatly — you must decentralize whether you like it or not — in fact it gave the nod of approval to School Board's plans for the Macdonald Elementary School addition, then it showed the iron hand within the velvet glove.

The department, the school board was silkily informed, will not, of course, share costs of transporting students to this school.

That ruling has the school board and the municipal council stymied. Neither group cares to commit the taxpayers to paying the full and ever increasing costs of transportation indefinitely. So the Summerland School Board, which was one of the first to pioneer centralization of school plants, is preparing to accept loaded suggestions from the powers that be, regarding location of a school in Summerland in the probable vicinity of Peach Orchard Park.

Council was far from pleased with the turn of events, but like the school trustees, recognized that the Department of Education with the money bags in its hand, had very much the upper hand.

"To secure a liquor plebiscite will require the determined effort of those who want it — and the way is hedged with difficulties."

Reeve F. E. Atkinson made the foregoing comment as Municipal Council tossed the contentious liquor plebiscite question back in the lap of the Summerland Board of Trade, following receipt of a letter from the Attorney-General's Department which informed council that no legislative authority exists for this purpose.

Municipal Council at the request of the Board of Trade, had asked the government to hold a liquor plebiscite.

Action of the Board of Trade stems from the belief among many members that Summerland requires a first class hotel and that the likelihood of getting such a hotel without an accompanying liquor license is very slim indeed.

Council's request for a plebiscite was opposed by five Summerland churches and Summerland branch of the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

Municipal Council, however, felt that residents had a right to an expression of opinion one way or another, but now, having complied with the Board of Trade's request, Council, in the face of the letter from A-G's department, feels that it is not within its province to go any further into the matter and the Board of Trade will be so informed.

Peachland's Jubilee July 17-20

Peachland will celebrate its Golden Jubilee and also British Columbia's Centennial at a four day fun packed jamboree on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, July 17, 18, 19, 20.

The big Peachland weekend coincides with the visit of Princess Margaret to the Okanagan and with the opening of the Okanagan Lake Bridge.

Because of this and the expected crowding of the Highway through Peachland the parade planned for Friday has been cancelled, but other than that the celebration goes on as scheduled.

There's an old timers banquet and reunion; square dancing, costume ball, beard judging contest, surprise fashion show, in fact fun and frolic awaits young and old. On Sunday there will be a non-denominational church service at which the Summerland Town Band will play and the day also includes yacht races and a community basket picnic.

Liquor Issue Under Scrutiny

The Editor, The Summerland Review, West Summerland, B. C.

Recent reports in your valued paper indicate that steps are being taken to have another plebiscite on the question of another liquor outlet for Summerland. Letters to this column have already appeared indicating that the result of such a plebiscite, if held, are for the present unpredictable. Much will be said, and written, to stir the voters to action. Judging from past performances it may well be the issues could be decided one way or another by voters who will not bother to exercise their franchise.

But a plebiscite does not solve our liquor problems. Certainly if it is the right by law for a community to have its liquor, we as dries are not solving the problem by forbidding it, except as it is our right as citizens to do so at the polls. Much more than voting against liquor it behooves us to redouble our effort to prove by precept and example, plus action that there are more and better things to live for, and that liquor in any of its forms is not one of those better things. Drinking though an evil in itself as it is so flagrantly practised today, is only one of many evils that confronts the Christian Church. To take away a man's liquor does NOT solve the spiritual and moral problems that are inherently a part of man himself. He needs an experience of regeneration, a renewal of mind and heart, which will give him a new outlook on life and its meaning. And that whereas at one time liquor was an obsession with him, even in moderation, he will now find a deeper and more lasting satisfaction in Christ. It will give some a feeling of satisfaction to have spoken, or written, or voted against liquor for our fair community, but such actions do not stir me greatly. As dries we need something more positive and assuring. The aim ought not to be to see from how many people who like their liquor can it be taken, rather what we can offer them that is superior. I can think of nothing worthwhile that a drinking man could possibly consider as being better than to be Christlike. Drinking to my mind, is only an expression of a man's inner void, a longing for something to satisfy whether the need be moral or spiritual.

I can think of a goodly number of Christian friends in and about Summerland who share with me the view that we need more positive Christian action, becoming more Christlike in our minds and attitudes, rather than the negative aspect which seeks to take away any pleasure from a man who sees no wrong in what he is doing. Christ Himself taught that the change to righteousness must come from within the man, not foisted upon him from without.

Yes, Mr. Editor, I expect to exercise my privilege as a citizen and vote. I have five boys and three girls — eight reasons why I expect to vote against more liquor for Summerland. But in all honesty I confess that I expect to see no radical changes no matter how the voting goes. I do not believe that we will have solved any major problem whether Summerland has a beer parlor or not. But I do know that I will continue to hold a positive attitude and seek to point drinkers and non-drinkers alike to Him who said, "Ho, everyone that thirsteth, come ye to the waters . . . yea, come, buy wine and milk, without money and without price." Isaiah 55:1.

Sincerely yours,
Wm. P. C. Rabel,

TCA ANNOUNCES SEATING PLAN ON DC-8 JETLINER

When Trans-Canada Air Lines puts its six DC-8 Jetliners in service in 1960, each aircraft will accommodate 127 passengers—28 First Class and 99 Economy. Each cabin will have its own double galley, washrooms (with flushing toilets for the first time in any TCA airplane), cloakrooms, intercommunications, and public address systems and music in flight. The forward part of the aircraft will contain a lounge accommodating eight passengers. There will be four doors, two for passenger loading and two for aircraft servicing. The cargo compartment will hold five tons. The huge Jetliners will go into service on TCA's transcontinental and trans-Atlantic routes, cutting flying time almost in half.

CODLING MOTH —

Third Generation Possible This Year
In Summerland the first catches of Codling Moth in 1958 were made on May 9. Since that time extremely hot weather has provided excellent breeding conditions and the season has kept up the very early trend established in May.

Taking May 9th as the starting point and allowing approximately eight weeks for completing the Codling Moth cycle, Entomologists predicted a very early second brood flight — "sometime around the first week in July". Surprising as this estimate may seem it is about right as adult moths of the second generation are now being trapped.

This brings up the very definite possibility of a third generation of worms hitting apples around September 15th if the fall weather remains warm. The above possibility is not lessened by the fact that all areas reported stepped-up Codling Moth activity this year.

In many past seasons the use of second brood sprays for Codling Moth control has been a matter of individual judgement on the part of the grower. This 1958 season is not typical of the past 10 years. This is a year when second brood sprays may become vital factors in protecting the apple crop.

The earlier locations in Summerland such as Trout Creek and Front Bench should be sprayed for second brood as soon as possible. Even in later areas in the Summerland district this spray should be on by July 15 to 17.

In orchards where Codling Moth have been difficult to control it is quite likely that another DDT spray some time in the last week of July will be necessary.

RECREATION FACILITIES at the Queen Alexander Solarium in Victoria and the Vancouver Preventorium will be increased because of the Centennial Project of school students throughout the Province. More than $16,000 has been collected by school students in British Columbia and will be devoted to helping these two institutions. Trustees for the fund are Grant Clark of West Vancouver High School and Donna Ferguson of Magee High School, Vancouver, seen here with one of the youngsters at the Vancouver Preventorium who will benefit from their efforts.

Significant Contribution

In view of the Board of Trade asking the Municipal Council to request the government to hold a liquor plebiscite and, in view of council's decision to request such a plebiscite despite strong protest voiced by the churches and temperance movements we consider the letter received from a self-named "dry" as a very significant contribution to the question of liquor as it applies to Summerland. The letter which appears on page one puts the problem in its proper perspective.

One paragraph, in particular is, we think worthy of serious consideration by all who are concerned with the question of liquor, whether in Summerland or elsewhere.

Writes our correspondent: "I can think of a goodly number of Christian friends in and about Summerland who share with me the view that we need more positive Christian action, becoming more Christlike in our minds and attitudes, rather than the negative aspect which seeks to take away any pleasure from a man who sees no wrong in what he is doing. Christ himself taught that the change to righteous must come from within the man, not foisted upon him from without."

Lower Freight Rates Would Help

Summerland is mainly a tree fruit growing area — and that fact constitutes, perhaps, Summerland's greatest weakness — even so it is only natural that with the majority of the population depending directly or indirectly on the tree fruit industry for subsistence that we should place emphasis on news pertaining to tree fruits.

Such was the case in our report of David Pugh's maiden speech in the House of Commons, on June 26, we couldn't report it all so we gave preference to his remarks of concern to the fruit growers. But Mr. Pugh touched upon another matter of concern to us in Summerland and that was in the matter of freight rates adversely affecting the poultry and cattle industries.

Here in Summerland a sizeable poultry industry is being built up and there is no doubt that there is room and a future for a much larger poultry operation.

But one repressive factor is the high cost of grain feed laid down in the valley. $60 a ton as against $20 a ton for competitors elsewhere.

Summerland needs some diversification of industry — the expansion of the poultry industry in particular and perhaps establishment of the cattle feeder industry could inject new life into the community's economy, but it is equally certain that there can be no big forward movement while we here in the valley are victimized by freight differentials.

We heartily endorse our new member's stand on the matter in the House when he said, according to Hansard:

And now a word about cattlemen and poultrymen. Our cattlemen and poultrymen are producing under considerable hardship. We have plenty of room for furthering both these industries in the Okanagan Boundary area. However, our main trouble is the laid-down cost of feed grain. It is more than a little hard to know that our competitors can obtain feed grains for one-half the cost that it is available to us. For instance, we pay approximately $60 a ton; our competitors elsewhere in Canada obtain the same feed grains for $20 a ton. I would recommend that where grain is required by cattlemen and poultrymen for feeding purposes it be obtained through the wheat board at the prevailing door-to-door price in the wheat board area. It does seem to me ridiculous that our great overload of feed grain cannot find its way to a legitimate market such as this. May I here commend the prompt action the government took earlier this year to protect our poultrymen against the United States invasion of turkeys at distress prices.

I have mentioned mining, lumbering, cattlemen and poultrymen, Mr. Speaker. These industries, along with fruit and vegetables, suffer from our position in the mountains. The common problem to all our industries, and indeed to the future location of any industry, is one of freight rates. Not only must we ship to distant markets but the necessities coming to our area suffer from a heavy rail bill, a heavy additional toll. This adds to our cost. We are in somewhat different position from that of eastern Canada because we are a long way from a large population centre. For instance, Vancouver is 300 miles away from the Okanagan valley. We have to ship a long way. We have no market close at hand and it means the rail bill is a heavy one. The resulting costs of transportation are nothing less than a slow process of strangulation.

FACTS AND FIGURES

A credit union is a group of people who pool their savings and lend to each other at low interest.

Every credit union is chartered and supervised under state, provincial, or federal law.

Any group with a common bond in work, neighborhood, church or club, can form a credit union. There should be 50 or more in the group.

Credit union savings are shares in the business. Only members can be shareholders.

Credit unions are run by volunteers, and with the possible exception of the treasurer, officers and committeemen serve without pay. As a rule, the treasurer is the manager, and in smaller credit unions he does the detail work.

Awards Day Program At Elementary Schools

Pupils of MacDonald and Trout Creek brought their year's work to a close last week in June with an Awards Day Programme in the High School Auditorium.

Mr. Cooke welcomed the many parents who were present. Mr. W. Laidlaw, chairman of the School Board congratulated the pupils and teachers on another successful year and wished them a happy holiday.

In the Sports awards Mr. Weeks presented the Shield to Darlene Miller, Penny Piers, Ernest Puhkarenko and Fred Gartrell, captains of the Blue House for winning the Field Day competition.

For Trout Creek, Mrs. W. R.

Powell presented a new trophy in memory of her husband who made numerous valuable contributions to the community of Summerland during his lifetime. This trophy was presented to Gordon Greber and Gordon Lackey, captains of the White House, by Mrs. Powell.

The Legion Ladies' Auxiliary Cup for softball competition was presented to Wendy Inaba, Linla Eden, Donny Karlstrom and Edgar Mosley, captains of the Red House, by Mr. Stent who wore a red tie and a red flower in his buttonhole for the occasion.

Monitor crests were given by Mr. Brandon to the following grade six students for their year's work: Vonda Wale, Sunny Boyd, Linda Bell, Penny Piers, Darlene Miller, Mary Cuthbert, Kenny Ezeard, Ivan Sayers, Archie Machie McGillivray, David McInnes, Bruce Hallquist, Ray Mitchell, Roger Blagborne, Richard Ganzeveld, Scott Bergstrom, Charlie James, and Donnie Karlstrom.

The lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Ewart Williams Lake Shore Home at Trout Creek was the lovely setting for a supper party honoring Dr. and Mrs. Marshall on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary. The table was centered with a beautifully decorated wedding cake, white candies and roses. The toast to the bride and groom was proposed by Dr. W. H. B. Munn. Mr. Woolliams presented them with a silver rose bowl from those gathered to celebrate the happy occasion. During the evening games, and a bonfire were enjoyed.

Guests were Dr. and Mrs. J. Wilcox, Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Lott, Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Dunham, Mr. and Mrs. E. Bates, Mr. and Mrs. George Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Brinton, Mr. and Mrs. David Munn, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. B. Munn, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Cannings, Mr. L. Wright.

United Church Women's Federation In Recess

A large number of visitors as well as members turned out for the final meeting before the summer recess of the Summerland United Church Women's Federation, in June.

Following the regular custom the meeting was opened with the singing of a favorite hymn of a shut-in member, "The Sands of Time", a favorite of Mrs. J. T. Washington Sr.

Mrs. R. Chapman, Mrs. H. Milley and Mrs. J. Clarke led the devotion service.

The slide pictures of the 23rd Psalm, given by the federation to the junior Sunday school, in memory of the late Mrs. A. Wright was used at this service. These slides had recently been dedicated at a combined session of the Lakeside and West Summerland junior Sunday schools.

A letter from a mission hospital worker in Korea thanking the federation for parcels sent to the hospital was read.

Miss Cockran reported on a visit to Mountain View Home by the Junior Choir, telling of the pleasure of the children in singing to an audience so appreciative of their efforts.

The Community Friendship Secretary, Mrs. A. McLaughlin reporting on visits to the sick and shut-ins, urged all members to visit newcomers to the community.

The concluding chapters of the year's study book, "Missions in Japan" were summarized by Mrs. George Harper and Mrs. R. W. Powell.

Mrs. R. Chapman reporting on the Mission Band, told of the interest and generosity of this group of children, and displayed some of their hand work.

The highlight of the meeting was the celebration of the Federation's 15th birthday. Mrs. W. Boothe traced the history of the organization from the beginning and Mrs. J. Dunston lit the birthday cake candles, one for each member. A new candle was lit by Mrs. A. C. Fleming presented a life membership and pin to Miss Ada Cockran, who, for the past six years has been recording secretary. Mrs. W. Boothe expressed to Miss Cockran the appreciations of all the members for her faithful services and their regrets that she is leaving West Summerland to make her home in Kelowna. Miss Cockran's departure leaves a blank in the organization's executive that will be hard to fill.

A fitting and enjoyable conclusion to the year's study of Japan was the closing item on the day's program. Japanese dancing by five little Japanese girls in lovely native costumes was a delight to watch. Joyce and Margaret Arase, Darlene and Connie Kuroda and Beverly Matsui made up the dance group under the training of Mrs. Roy Kuroda. Mrs. J. Dunton reading the explanations of the interpretive dances.

After the adjournment, the members and visitors were entertained by a dainty lunch provided and served by Mrs. H. Dracas, Mrs. W. R. Powell, Mrs. M. Pollock and Mrs. W. Boothe.

THE SUMMERLAND REVIEW goes all over the world every week as well as to many parts of Canada or the British Empire for $2.50 per year; other countries $3.00.

Haney Wedding - Of Interest Here

A wedding of considerable interest in the Okanagan Valley took place recently in the United Church in Haney at 8:30 p.m., June 14, when Wallace Arthur (Wally) Day, son of Dr. and Mrs. L. A. Day, of Kelowna, formerly of West Summerland, took as his bride, Mary Anne Kane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William John Kane of Victoria. The wedding was a double one. The other bride was June Gwen Sexsmith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malter Sexsmith of Kelowna. Her groom is Marvin Meier, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Meier of Hammond.

Both brides were brought up in Kelowna and are graduates of the Royal Columbian Hospital, New Westminster where they took their training together.

Mary Anne Kane was gowned in waltz length lace over accordion pleated net. A tiara held her veil of French illusion and her bouquet was of orchids and Talisman rosebuds.

Her maid of honor, Miss Marion Hodge, wore a sheath dress of blue lace with large matching picture hat. The bridesmaid, Miss Norma McKenzie was similarly gowned and wore a blue tiara. Susie Hamilton, the groom's niece was the little flower girl.

Kenneth Ozanne was best man and Gerard Bernhart, the usher.

Marvin Meier's bride was gowned in waltz-length lace with three-quarter sleeves and bateau neckline. A coronet held her veil of sheer illusion and she carried a bouquet of baby orchids and roses.

All attendants in the double wedding party wore similarly styled costumes but Miss Joan Burges, maid of honor, and Miss Lynn Sexsmith were in pink lace with pink picture hats.

Byron Misdalé was Mr. Meier's best man and Fred Legath, usher.

A reception was held in Hammond Hall where Kenneth Cowper of Vancouver proposed the bridal toast.

After their honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Day will live in North Vancouver and Mr. and Mrs. Meier in Hammond.

Comings and Goings

Enjoying both swimming and refreshments as only small boys can, friends of Alan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barkwill, helped him to celebrate his seventh birthday at Crescent Beach on Monday afternoon, July 7th.

Those invited to Alan's party were Stevie Mallett, Jackie Barkwill, Robert Perry, Bruce Milne, Terry Ducommun and Georgie Barkwill.

Dr. and Mrs. Cliff Stark and family of Vancouver are visiting at the home of Mrs. Davis' sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wes. Davis, Trout Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brad-dick and Ginny are spending a holiday in Summerland staying at Crescent Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Collard were visitors this weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sheeley.

No Fairy Godmothers Need Apply For Job

Everyone has his own special dream — a place in the country, a trip back home, college for the boy. But, for many people it's just plain hopeless.

But there's no magic involved to make your particular dream come true. You don't need a fairy godmother to do it — just a little determination.

Simply plan to set aside part of your income in a Bank of Montreal savings account. Do it regularly, and watch the balance grow. Watch the B of M's two and three-quarters per cent interest help swell the amount too.

Regularity is the secret, as hundreds of thousands of the B. of M.'s more than two million customers know. They save as much as they can spare each pay-day, and their dreams are turning into reality.

Ask Doug Galloway, accountant at the Summerland branch of the Bank of Montreal about it. He'll show you how easy it is — and how profitable — to open a savings account. See him soon!

This hitchhiker has the last laugh

Whenever you leave home to drive those long miles to a BIG CITY on a shopping trip, that burly individual with the big appetite goes along . . . and at your expense.

He represents the constant drain on your shopping dollars in the cost of gasoline and oil, tire and car depreciation, parking fees, dented fenders and other hazards of big-town traffic. When you add up all he consumes, your shopping expedition will be more costly than buying the identical items from your local merchants. And think of the physical beating you avoid and the time you save by buying here at home.

Always try your local sources of supply first . . . for all-around satisfaction that will last.

BUTTERFLY BUSHES

Practically everyone knows the butterfly bush with its long spikes of lavender flowers so attractive to butterflies in July and August.

Recently several new varieties with pink, purple or white flowers have been introduced. See them in flower at local nurseries.

Buddleia Globosa, which has golden scented flowers in clusters, round like a golf ball, is one variety that should be more popular here. It regularly flowers in July.

All buddleias should be pruned back hard each winter.

Today In Your Garden

Many herbaceous perennials live from year to year with little need of attention.

DELPHINIUM spikes should be cut down as soon as they go to seed and become unsightly. If a few feet or more of stump and a few lower leaves are allowed to remain, laterals will grow from the stem joints to provide a second flower display in September.

ORIENTAL POPPY — As soon as seed pods form, pull the stems with attached leaves until there is nothing showing above ground. New, clean leaves will appear in autumn.

LUPINS — Flower stems may be cut down to a foot from the ground as soon as seed pods form. New growth which will flower again, like delphiniums do, will soon grow out from the stump.

PEONIES — The flower stems should be cut right down to soil level as soon as flowers are over. Do not remove leaf stems which are needed to aid the natural annual ripening of the root parts after a semi-rest period in August.

IRIS — Rhizome Group — Cut down flower stems as soon as flowers are over. Do not pull or tear stems from root part. Be sure that rhizomes are not covered with soil. Cut back leaves to three-inch fans as soon as tips brown.

IRIS — Japanese — Cut down flower stems as soon as flowers are over. Do not remove any leaves until autumn.

DAY LILIES — Remove the flower stems when last flower fades. Leaves should not be cut until they are mostly brown.

COLUMBINES — Cut flower stems down to ground as soon as petals fall. Do not remove any leaves until autumn.

HOLLYHOCK — This plant invariably suffers from leaf rust. Best way to control is to pull up all plants after flowering period is over. New plants for next year's display may be started from seed right now.

If any of these plants need to be replaced or divided, wait until early October to do the work.

SHRUB BUDS

Almost all evergreen and deciduous shrubs form their buds for next season's flowers at this time. Give them every aid and providing enough water. A peat moss mulch blanket is a great help.

Should they need it, pruning to shape the shrubs should be done at this time.

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. B-260.

DESIGN B-260

Plywood Finishing Suggestions

When it comes to finishing fir plywood built-ins, give your own taste full sway. Plywood can be painted in bright, gay accent colors, painted to harmonize with your decorative theme, or stained to bring out the full beauty of the wood grain.

For best results, use only top-quality materials. Follow manufacturers directions closely. Extra care in surface preparation and application will give you a more attractive and durable finish. Clean all surfaces perfectly and fill nail holes and blemishes with wood paste. Sand lightly between coats.

PAINT OR ENAMEL
Conventional wall and wood-work paints and enamels may be used. (For surfaces which will be cleaned frequently, use washable paints or enamels.) First, brush on flat paint or enamel undercoat. Thin if desired. Second, apply second coat of undercoat, tinted to shade of finish coat. Note: For gloss finish mix equal parts flat undercoat and gloss enamel for second coat. Third, apply final coat as it comes from can. (A two-step finish without second undercoat may also be used.)

Interesting textured surfaces may be obtained by priming as above, followed by heavy coat of stippling paint. Use brush, roller or sponge to texture. When using water - thinned paint, first seal plywood with clear resin sealer, shellac or flat white oil paint. Then paint according to direction on can for a sealed finish.

NATURAL FINISHES

For an easy, inexpensive "blond" finish, first apply coat of interior white undercoat thinned so grain pattern shows through. (Tint if you desire color.) Second, apply clear shellac, flat varnish or lacquer. Attractive and economical one-coat stain-waxes are also available in various colors. If you prefer a dark stain, first apply coat of clear resin sealer to subdue grain contrast.

Here's a four step system you can use to get a luxurious light stain glaze: First apply white undercoat thinned with equal parts of turpentine or painter's thinner. Wipe or dry-brush for more grain show through. Second, apply one coat thinned white shellac or clear resin sealer. Third, to provide color, apply interior undercoat or enamel thinned as in step one. Choose an ycolor you want for this coat. Wipe or dry-brush to proper color tone. Fourth, one coat flat varnish. Steel wool for added lustre.

Macs Split Doubleheader With Kamloops Jay Rays

Summerland Macs split a double-header with the Kamloops Jay Rays at Kamloops on Sunday losing the first game

5-1 and the turning around to win in the second half 6-4.

On Sunday the Macs host the Oliver OBCs in an OMBL tilt at the Athletic Park. Game time 2:30.

In the opening at Kamloops the Jay Rays took a two nothing lead in the first game stretching one hit and a sacrifice aided by three free passes to first into two runs.

Macs couldn't get going, what looked like the start off when Burton poled out a two base hit in the opening frame was hipped off in the field despite some wild pitching.

Jay Rays got to Cristante for eight hits while Macs poled six off Schollen.

Newlywed Al Hooker kept his mind on the ball game in the second half of the double bill and held the Jay Rays to four hits and four runs while the Macs hammered out eight hits for six runs off Dawson. Hooker, Egely and Esche came through with two base hits and Seigrist and Chapman clouted out homers.

The teams battled through three scoreless innings then with two away Taylor was walked to first and Chapman chased him across home plate with his circuit clout.

Jay Rays replied with one on a single and three free passes to first, and they followed up in the second half of the fifth to score three more for their game total of four. Macs garnered two and again it was Chapman who came through with a timely two bagger, scoring Taylor and Egely singled to score Chapman.

In the top of the ninth, with two away, Egely singled and Seigrist connected for the second home run of the game.

Red Sox Again Take Naramata

The Junior Red Sox defeated Naramata 4-3 on Sunday to stay in second place, one game behind Vernon, who defeated Penticton 6-4 in 10 innings.

The Naramata game was another thriller, and much the same game as the previous Sunday. This time it was McNabb who was the hero, driving in two runs in the fifth to win the game.

Summerland scored first in the 4th inning. Skinner walked stole second and scored on DeWitt's single. Naramata tied it up in their half of the fourth on a single out and double.

The Red Sox scored three times in the fifth on two walks, a hit batter and two singles to make the score 4-1. Naramata scored twice in the sixth to end the scoring for the day.

Sheeley and Kozak made it another pitchers' battle. Sheeley gave up 5 hits truck out 14 and walked 1. Kozak struck out 13 gave up 4 hits and walked 8.

Next Sunday the Red Sox travel to Keremeos.

Jubilee and Centennial Review

Dedicated to the Pioneers who came from many lands to settle in this part of Canada, a Tribute to their vision, toil and courage, which gave so much to British Columbia and this Nation.

Municipality of Peachland

To all residents of Peachland and to all our visiting old-timers, GREETINGS on this, the occasion of our Jubilee Year.

On December 31st, fifty years ago, old-timers brought about the incorporation of our Municipality and on February 1st, 1909, old-timers Reeve W. A. Lang, M. N. Morrison, L. D. McCall and C. G. Elliott gathered for our first Council meeting. Of these, the last named is still with us.

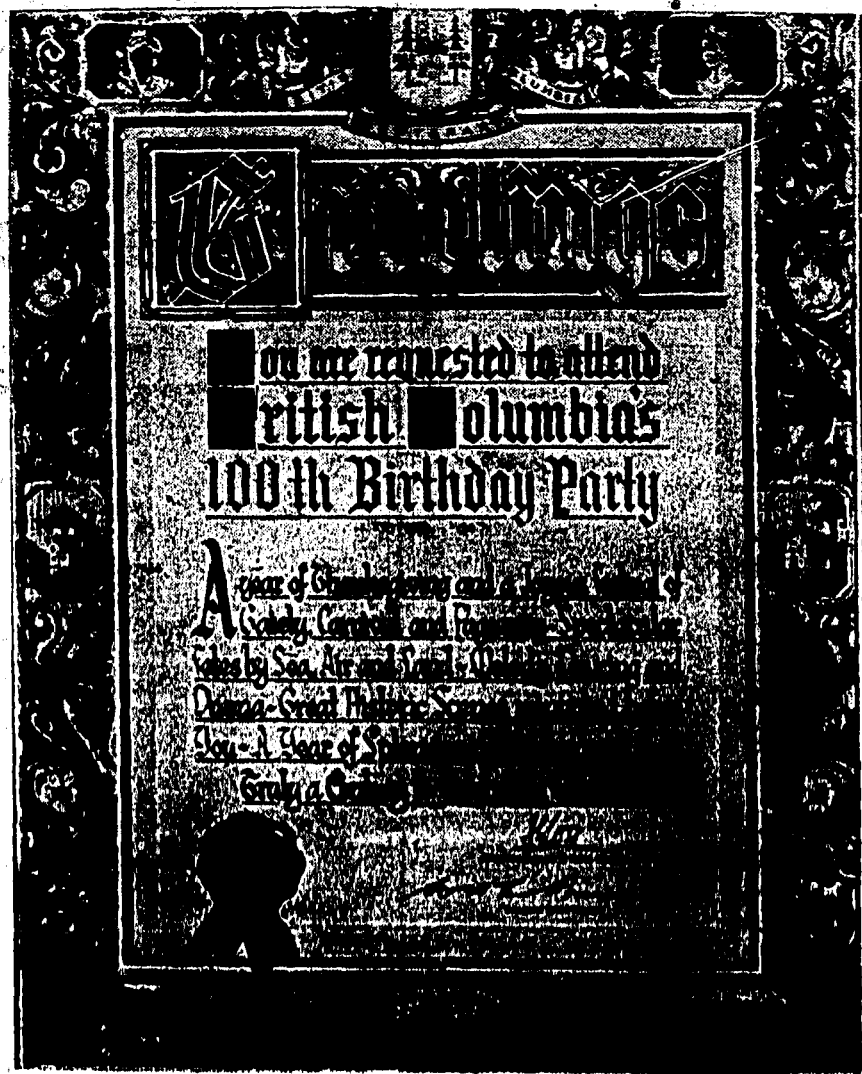

To our visitors I extend a hearty welcome and trust that they will find that we are not doing badly with their old home and that they enjoy themselves most thoroughly.

We are proud of this town of ours and it is a goodly heritage, unmatched for the beauty of its setting and full of friendly people.

I hope that this special supplement of the Summrland Review will serve as a permanent record of a very happy time experienced by the residents and old-timers alike.

F. IVOR JACKSON, Reeve.

1888 Mining Promotion Brings In First Families

In 1888 John Moore Robinson arrived in the Okanagan from Brandon, Man., to form a mining company for the purpose of finding gold in the selected region which extended from north east of Princeton to Camp Hewitt (later called the Gladstone mine), near the present site of Peachland. Mr. Robinson, (J. M. as he was usually called) was president of the company and soon went to the prairies to sell stock in the new company, as a result several families moved to what is now known as Peachland.

On Trepanier Creek, adjacent to the site of the prospecting, was a ranch of the Lambly brothers. This was primarily given to the raising of cattle and horses but it had a few acres planted in peaches, the first orchard of peaches in the Okanagan. One day Mr. Robinson had a meal at this ranch and ate some of the peaches then at the peak of their maturity.

He then had an inspiration that changed the lives of some thousands of people. The Niagara Peninsula was the only district in Canada where peaches had been grown successfully on a commercial scale. And if the peaches could grow in this latitude he reasoned, other fruits such as apples, pears, cherries, etc., could also be grown profitably. The prospect of establishing an extensive fruit business was attractive and compelling.

His trip to prairies prompted many inquiries about peaches. On March 4, 1898, Donald Seaton (usually known as Dan) and Thompson Elliott came to look the district over and build homes for their families, and those who were to follow shortly, and on May 6, 1898, the first carload of settlers and their effects arrived. Mr. Seaton and Mr. Elliott were joined by Alex Miller, Leon McCall and others. On that first carload brought by the S. S. Aberdeen were J. M. Robinson and his wife and children, Mrs. M. McDougald, J. M.'s sister and five children, Mr. and Mrs. Huston and two children, followed by R. C. Lipsett and his wife, Mr. Seaton's eldest daughter, Annie, Mrs. W. D. Miller, still lives in Peachland, very active in community affairs, and has been a great source of information regarding oldtimers for our Jubilee.

A post office, named "Peachland" at the request of Mr. Robinson, was opened in December, 1898, with D. H. Watson in charge. This first post office was located in the store owned by Mr. Watson. Mrs. McDougald clerked in the store for a time and eventually moved into what is now called "the old post office", and succeeded Mr. Watson as post mistress. The old post office was in use from 1901 until 1950, when the present building was erected. Mrs. McDougald was succeeded by her son, Archie, then by her daughter, Candace, who retired in 1953. For a number of years this office handled the business of the government telegraph and long distance line serving the valley, as well as the local calls. A sidelight shows how the value of the dollar has changed. A contract, dated March 1, 1901, provided for the conveyance of the mail, six days a week from the C.P.R. wharf to Peachland office, 200 yards, at $50 per annum. H. Birkelund has been post master since 1953.

After seeing and eating the peaches that grew on the Lambly ranch and realizing the wealth to be gathered from the other fruits grown under similar conditions, Mr. Robinson bought the Hewitt pre-emption and that of Harry Hardy. These were subdivided into fruit lots of 10 acres in size and offered for sale at $100.00 per acre through the Peachland Townsite Co. Ltd. In the name of this company he obtained water for the land from Deep Creek, using ditches at first to distribute the water. Later, when a dam was constructed, Peachland Townsite Co. agreed to supply irrigation water at yearly rate of $10 to $25 for a 10-acre orchard.

In 1899 John Gummow, (the father of the late Ben Gummow, Reeve of Peachland for some time) came to the young settlement and planted the first orchard in Peachland with the exception of the fruit trees on the Lambly ranch. "Dan" Seaton and Thompson Elliott also bought fruit lots and soon Peachland was off to a good start. The original Gummow property now belongs to Charlie Topham; the Seaton property, to Gordon Sanderson, whose wife is granddaughter of "Dan" Seaton; the Thompson Elliott property now belongs to Verne Oakes.

Hugh McDougald, father of "Bob" McDougald, for many years publisher of the Penticton Herald, came from Moose Jaw, Sask., in 1902 and established a sawmill and store on the lakeshore between the village and Deep Creek. W. A. Lang operated a store in the village and later, with associates, established a mill up Trepanier Creek. Later these enterprises were amalgamated under the name of the Peachland Trading Company, stock in which was held by Messrs. McDougald, Lang, Robinson and others.

These mills have long since passed into history. Today there is an up-to-date, modern plant, operated by Trautman-Garraway Ltd. located about five miles up Princeton Ave. employing approximately 35 men in the manufacturing plant and up to 25 or 30 in the woods, besides the office staff. All produce is dry kilned and shipped to Eastern American markets. This mill produces its own power by utilizing all waste products for steam driven turbines. Jack Garraway, manager of the plant, is a grandson of W. A. Garraway, an oldtime resident of Peachland.

In 1898, a one-room school was built with C. G. Elliott the first teacher, who continued to teach until 1907, when Paul Murray arrived. By 1908 this school was unable to accommodate the pupils, so a four-room building was erected, adjacent to the highway. One room in this new school served the high school students and was taught by a Mr. Richardson, followed by John Barker, and many others through the years, until 1948, when the junior and senior high students were accommodated at the new George Pringle High at Westbank. Other teachers in the four-room school in 1908 were Paul Murray, principal, and Mr. Hicks, primary school. This school building, renovated and modernized, is still being used as an elementary school.

Some of the other early settlers who made substantial contributions to the progress of the little community fifty or more years ago were: The Rev. C. W. Whyte, R. J. Hogg, the Pope brothers, Arthur and Octavius, the three Miller brothers, Alex, Ollie and Jim, another Alex Miller (no relation), the Aitkens brothers, Ferd and Clem, Leon McCall, A. D. Ferguson, M. N. Morrison, P. N. Dorland, J. L. Silyer, Hugh Williams, W. Coldham, Hamilton Lang, Grant Lang, J. L. Vicary, the Elliott brothers, Jim and Charlie, Geo. Keyes, J. Michaels, Messrs. Clarence and Hardy. The last named was one of the real oldtimers of B.C. who lived at Peachland to a ripe old age. At one time Mr. Hardy, in his long and interesting career, used to pack goods from Vernon to Yale, the trail he used can still be recognized in spots, behind Peachland, but most of the trail has been obliterated with time. Mr. Hardy's career was exciting and varied, in the old days, his tales entertained many a gathering.

Eight-sided Church Built by Volunteer Labour

First Church Erected At Turn Of Century

Soon after the turn of the century, the first church was erected in the community, being the Presbyterian Church. The project was spearheaded by Bert McKenzie, who had come from Winnipeg and was a carpenter. About two-thirds of the work was done by volunteer labour. The Rev. C. W. Whyte, who came from Winnipeg with his wife and three sons, Bryson, Bordon and Farrell, was the first resident minister in Peachland. All denominations used this church, until they built or acquired other buildings. The first wedding recorded in the community was that of Lillian Pope and R. H. Helmer, who was Superintendent of the Summerland Experimental Farm. In December of 1907, the Rev. H. A. Solly of Summerland, who was in charge of the Anglican Church, came up to Peachland and held a service in the Presbyterian church, and thereafter, on two Sundays a month. Previous to this services were taken by Archdeacon Greene of Kelowna and the Rev. S. Mildmay. In 1908 a bank loan of $500 was negotiated for the purchase of the one-room school house, and five lots, after the building had been re-decorated and furnished the first service was held on December 27, St. Margaret's, as it is called, is also having a Jubilee this year. Special services have been held a project completed in commemoration.

The Orange Hall, which was built about 1904, was used by the Baptist churchmen until their own church was built in 1910.

More re the first church — The original wood heater is still in use, although it looks a bit worse for wear and tear. There was a gallery built, which most of the young men used when they attended church, away from eagle eye of Mr. Whyte. The two newel posts of stairway leading to the gallery have a cross carve on them, which is a reminder that the building was once a church.

Women's Institute, Trade Board Have Done Much For Peachland

Two civic organizations have played an important part in the development of Peachland, the Board of Trade and Women's Institute. There have been other groups which have done many things in the development of the community, too, over the years, but these two are most frequently remembered. In the earliest days the Board of Trade provided the initiative in widening the interests of Council beyond the boundaries of the municipality. In later years the Women's Institute did much to promote the development of local amenities.

For some years past, there has been no Board of Trade in Peachland, the Women's Institute, however, is still very much in action, and celebrated its forty-third anniversary in April of this year. The Women's Institute was organized by Mrs. Lipsett in 1913, and Mrs. J. M. Robinson was first secretary. There were 93 members at that time, the largest membership in the district. First president was Mrs. George Mitchell (later Mrs. George Jones), the first vice-president was Mrs. Arthur Clarence. The Women's Institute co-operated with the Farmers' Institute in arranging a Fall Fair and Flower Show held on October 9. These two events were sponsored entirely by W. I. and shown separately, the Flower show in early summer and the Fall Fair in the fall. The Fall Fair has grown proportionately with time and progress and is one of the biggest "little" shows in the district. During the war years the Fair was discontinued.

Other projects in the early days of the Institute included, putting up swings at the school grounds and cementing part of the grounds for basketball, and many other improvements to the school. Through the years, outstanding projects of the Institute were: the annual clean-up day at the cemetery and the up-keep of the cenotaph. They backed the building of the Athletic Hall, which filled a great need at that time, with volunteer labour doing all the work. They made the first move to obtain a Public Health Nurse for the Peachland, Westbank and Glen Rosa districts. Funds were raised for these projects by selling ice-cream on the C.P.R. wharf on Saturday evenings during the summer when everyone came to town, concerts, Irish suppers. At the meetings, many interesting topics were discussed and demonstrated, such as spinning, and making paper flowers, to name a few. There was always a musical entertainment at every meeting — there was no lack of talent in those days.

An interesting note from the records at this time is a resolution sent to the Institute Rally in 1950 — "We petition the government to build a bridge across Okanagan Lake to Kelowna, to avoid bottle-necks in the future such as occurred over the Easter weekend."

The work of the Institute still goes on, for the betterment of the community and willing support given to all worthy causes.

Peachland has been ably served by its Municipal Clerks. From its incorporation in 1908 until 1952, the community has been served by only three men, the first, H. M. McDougall, February, 1909 until March of 1911, then W. M. Dryden until August 1926, to be followed by C. C. Inglis who remained in office until December 1952. In every small municipality the clerk is the office, and a great deal more, he is the expert advisor to succeeding councils, he provides continuity as the personnel of the council changes and he is the "workhorse" of the administration. In a rural community, where experience in business methods, finance and legal procedure is not common, these responsibilities are so much the greater.

At the beginning of 1910 it was decided to find a permanent office, a building was found, with a monthly rate of $10 for rent. These rooms were called the Council Chambers, and are now the home of C. H. Leduke. On June 9, 1920, it was decided to purchase the Presbyterian Church to be used as a Municipal Hall, and a Hall Committee was set up in November of that year to recommend rentals to the Council. Subsequently, the Hall was rented by the Orange Order, the Girls' Club, and the W. A. to the Anglican Church. The hall was made available to the Board of Trade, free of rent. In the early days there had been a Reading Room at the front of this building. When it was bought by the Municipality the Reading Room was turned into the municipal office and the books were relegated to the kitchen of the building. It was, and still is, used as the Library. In March of 1917 Dr. A. C. Nash was appointed the Medical Health Officer at a salary of $50.00 per annum. He resigned in 1922 and Dr. Buchanan was appointed in his place.

The post war flu epidemic was cause for great concern and it was decided to prohibit all public meetings, for a period, and to ask Mr. McDougall to keep the Post Office locked up until the mail was sorted, in order to prevent the congregating of a number of people in a small place. Two weeks later the restrictions were removed, subject to the approval of the M.H.O. Ten families with measles in November of 1923 caused a bit of fuss. The schools were closed, library books fumigated and the post master again was asked to close the Post Office until the mail was sorted.

The Municipality had its own power plant installed in 1910. The scale of rates was set in May of 1910: first two lights 30 cents a month; additional lights 20 cents a month each.

In November of 1911 the scale was revised: for first two lights, $1.00; next 10 lights, 20 cents each; additional lights, 10 cents each.

It was a great day for residents when the power was installed, the power came on just before dark and was turned off at 1:00 a.m. Later, when electric irons and washing machines began to appear, power was on for two and a half hours on Monday mornings for washing, and on Wednesdays for the same length of time for ironing. The advent of the B. C. Power Commission soon after the second war saw an end to this power plant.

Peachland's Regatta is mentioned for the first time in the Council minutes on July 12, 1910, when it was decided that the Reeve should declare a public holiday for the Regatta on July 21, and the road foreman was placed at the disposal of the Regatta Committee for that day. Regatta day was always a gala day in Peachland, everyone did his bit to make the day a great success, which it always was. Old and young alike came out to see the Regatta. Peachland boasted excellent war canoe crews, in senior, junior and mixed classes. Many a trophy and prize were won at home

The day ended, as a rule, with a dance in the Orange Hall. The S. S. Aberdeen or the S. S. Okanagan ran excursion trips on Regatta days, on the return trip at night, dancing was the order in the dining salon of the ship. (I am feeling quite nostalgic, thinking of the old-time regattas). After the first great war, when so many of the young men paid the supreme sacrifice, there were no more Regattas in Peachland. The beautiful war canoe, owned by the Canoe Club, was sold to the Kelowna Aquatic Club.

Many Sports Enjoyed By All

Sports enjoyed in the old days were swimming, canoeing, sailing and all types of boating. A soccer team that was second to none, such names as Tom Buchanan, Reeve, Smith, Lionel and Will Aitkens, are associated with that team which won many a match in the valley.

In the winter skating, tobogganing, sleighing parties and dancing were enjoyed. Parties of young people would board the boat early in the morning for skating at "Gellatly's" until the boat returned in the afternoon. At times the skating would be good at the mouth of Trepanier Creek. Sleighing parties were usually arranged on the spur of the moment. Hay was placed on the bottom of a wagon box and seats along the sides, lap robes were taken to further insure warmth, a four-horse team would draw the bobsleigh up the hills and through the woods, with the crowd singing. The party ended up at one of the homes for refreshment at the end of the evening. Tobogganing was always looked forward to each winter by the young people and adults alike. Toboggans were made to hold six, and some held eight persons; the run usually started at the top of the hill adjacent to Mr. Clarence's home (now owned by Frank Gillam) about two miles to the bottom of the hill. It took, possibly, five minutes to whizz down and half to three-quarters of an hour to walk back dragging the toboggan. It was considered great fun.

Dances were often improvised but usually planned. The one looked forward to most was the Bachelor's Ball. It was considered "the" dance of the season. On days the old Orange Hall would hum with the activity of the great clean-up, and waxing the floor for this event. Special music was often brought in from a neighboring town. The men who owned "fres" suits got them out of the moth balls, some were very ancient, it did not matter — the ladies, with evening dresses, were considered very lucky, regardless of the mode. Fun was the order of the evening. Dances started early and kept up till the wee small hours. Drinking at dances was frowned upon. Square dancing was as popular as it is now, and no dance was considered a success without at least two "Lancers" during the evening. Sir Roger de Coverley was popular, also the three-step and French Minuet.

Long Campaign For Car Slip

The long campaign to get a car slip built at one of the wharves began in December of 1921. A Government engineer had visited Peachland and studied the situation in response to a request by the Fruit Union, and at his suggestion a petition was prepared for signature of citizens for submission to the Federal Government.

In March of 1924 a grant of $25.00 was made to the Board of Trade towards the cost of their efforts to secure a car slip for the community. Again in 1925 a suggestion was made to approach the C.N.R. to have a slip installed. It was not until 1937 that Peachland finally got a car slip installed at the C.N.R. wharf.

Village Incorporated December 31, 1908

Letters of Incorporation of the District Municipality of Peachland were issued under date of December 31, 1908, and first meeting of the Council was held on February 1, 1909. This the Chair as Reeve, with Councilors Callender, Morrison, McCall and Elliott. The last mentioned acted as Clerk until the appointment of H. M. McDougall, which was done at that meeting.

In March of that year a delegation from the Local Option League appeared before Council to complain that liquor was being sold in the S. S. Okanagan wharf. It was in port "to other than bona fide passengers" and it was decided to advise Captain Estabrook, of that ship's acquaintance.

The first money bylaws were voted on by the ratepayers were placed before them on July 26, 1909, and the voting was as follows:

No. 12 — Electric Light.
For: 66; Against: 17.
No. 13 — Roads.
For: 89; Against: 0.
No. 14 — Fire Protection.
For: 37; Against: 1.

These were reconsidered and finally passed on the same evening by the Council. On February 11, 1909, Reeve reported on discussions he had had in Vancouver, with parties interested in locating a cement pipe plant and had offered them exemption from taxation and a free water supply. This plant started operation about a year later, with A. McKay as manager, and Jack McGregor as engineer, and approximately eight employees. A large warehouse was built and a drying place outside. Bunk houses and a cook house were also erected. They made cement pipes from 4 inches to 24 inches in diameter, which were distributed throughout the valley. The plant operated in the summer, only, as the warehouse was not frost proof. The demand for cement pipe was depleted after about three years of operation. After the first world war the plant never operated. Tropanier Bay Cottages are now on the site of the old cement works.

Storage Dam On Brenda Lake Built By Greta

The Greta Ranch storage dam on Brenda Lake was built in 1296, and the Dan McLaughlin property, forming the northern boundary, was purchased in 1939. The modern packing and cold storage plant was built in 1946, and property in the village purchased in 1945, for the erection of houses for their workers. Mr. Greta's planting extended to about 50 acres, the present orchard has 135 acres in trees.

Another piece of property south of the Greta Ranch was pre-empted by James Cossar in the early days and sold to W. D. Miller in 1919, where they lived for 10 years. It has been known for years as "Miller Ranch". In 1955 it was sold to Forestry Department and is now the Okanagan Park, and boasts a beautiful picnic grounds on the lakeshore, space for trailers, and camping grounds.

Another building that has played quite an outstanding part in the history of the village is the "Orange Hall," which was built about 1904 and used for many other purposes than for lodge meetings, such as concerts, entertainments, fairs, dances, flower shows, etc., and for a time the Baptist congregation used it for their services. It has now moved from its original site, higher and closer to the hill than it is now, many years ago. Soon after the close of the first world war, it was purchased by the G.W.V.A., where meetings of that organization and its auxiliary have been held for years. On August 16, 1923, it was officially opened as the G.W.V.A. hall, by Colonel Edgett of Vernon. After the opening, concert and dance were enjoyed by the large crowd. The building, at present, is being renovated. Until the Athletic Hall was built, all the dances were held in the Legion Hall. The first president of the G.W.V.A. (Canadian Legion) was J. L. Vicary, with the first meeting being held on June 7, 1919, in the Masonic Lodge rooms. This was an organizational meeting and the first secretary was C. G. McDougald.

Tommy McLaughlin came to Peachland with his family in 1905 and started a plumbing business the following year. His original shop was back of the "big" store, across the lane from the old post office. His first two big jobs were the installation of the plumbing in the new home of M. N. Morrison, where Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Sims now reside, and Mr. A. Town's home, now the home of A. H. Pierce. These jobs were done in 1907 and 1908, respectively.

Mr. McLaughlin continued in business until the first world war, in which he served for four years and four months with a pioneer regiment, on his return he resumed his business and is still on the job with his son, Tommy, as partner. They moved into their present shop in 1926.

Fulks General Store goes back in history to 1906, when the south half of the building was erected, with the north half being built a few years later. Bert McKenzie was the carpenter on both of these jobs. Through the years it has changed hands a number of times, amongst the owners were: Morrin and Thompson, Alfred Town, H. H. Thompson, and Harold McCall; Drake and Cadmore; Charles Vincent. During the second world war, chased the building and store, Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Fulks purchased it. When their son Ken returned from overseas, he became a partner and is now operating the business himself.

J. C. Clements and family came to Peachland from Ontario in 1908 and built a general store, with living quarters, the following year. The business remained in the Clements family until the last war, when it changed hands and is now owned by Mr. and Mrs. A. Ruffle. The first garage was owned by A. Baptist, who came from Oids, Alta., in 1921.

Water By-law Passed In '09

At the time of incorporation, the irrigation system was the property of the Peachland Townsite Co., and one of the major actions of the new council was to install a domestic water supply. It is assumed that at the time the irrigation system was the only source of supply. To provide funds for installing a domestic water system a bylaw was voted on and passed on July 26, 1909.

Water was obtained from a dam constructed on Trepanier Creek, which also provided water to operate the power plant. The domestic water system was a frequent source of trouble, with "freeze-ups" rationing and unauthorized sprinkling. Irrigation water was quite a source of trouble to the council and the irrigation committee set up in 1916 consisted of Councilors Powell, Douglas and Mr. McLaughlin. The committee explored the water resources of the Deep Creek watershed, Miller Lake and Brenda Lake were visited, and reports submitted to the council. The committee appeared to be interested in the Trepanier watershed. Work soon got underway on the North Fork dam, Mr. Cuthill was given the contract to deliver all material at the dam at the rate of two cents a pound, following receipt of grant from the government. Although this grant had been made the irrigation system had not as yet been taken over by the government, an interview was arranged between the Premier, Mr. Patulla and the Municipal Clerk, regarding his promise to have the irrigation system declared appurtenant to the lands, etc. In April of the following year the government appointed the Municipal Council to undertake repairs to the Peachland Townsite Co. irrigation system and operate it under the Order in Council passed in April: John E. Seaton was engaged as foreman for ditch work, while Albert Spalls was water bailiff, and continued on that job for many years. After the dry years of 1927, 1928 and 1929, more work has been done on the Peachland water sheds, and today there is an ample supply of irrigation water.

The largest fruit ranch in the district is the Greta Ranch, situated about six miles south of Peachland. G. H. Greta came from Souris, Man., about 1880 and pre-empted this property shortly after. He built a small cabin on the lakeshore, and a stone wharf, the ruins of both are to be seen today. In 1888 Mr. Greta took out the first water record (domestic) and in 1900 built a long pipe line, which was quite an undertaking in those days. The first orchard was planted in 1901. W. M. Dwyden was associated with Mr. Greta at this time and assisted in planting the orchard.

In 1910, or thereabouts, Mr. Greta sold his property to a syndicate of the Directors of the Westminster Trust Co., J. T. Long was appointed manager in 1911, and moved from Kelowna with his wife and family, John George and Doris (Mrs. A. Ruffle). Mrs. Long had been manager of the Pridham orchard in Kelowna for some time previous to this move.

Mr. Long bought the property from the Westminster Trust Co. in 1923, a family company was formed comprised of Mr. Long as president, and Doris (Mrs. Ruffle) as secretary, until 1944. Upon the death of Mr. Long in 1944, his wife succeeded him as president until her death in 1953. The present owners are the two brothers.

Peachland Fulfills
J. M. Robinson's Dream

The early settlers were optimistic and would be proud of this wide-awake municipality with its many attractions today, and the 600-odd acres under irrigation, and not so long ago it shipped a half million boxes of fruit of which 52,000 were apples and 201,000 were peaches. It looks as though Mr. J. M. Robinson chose the right name for the community.

Now we are on the threshold of our Jubilee celebrations.

Little did we know, a year ago, when the dates were chosen for the festivities, that on our celebration days would be the one on which Her Royal Highness, the Princess Margaret, would be welcomed to our Valley, and that the official opening of Okanagan Lake bridge would be on another of our festive days. When Peachland marks her Centenary, perhaps some other great event will take place on the day of celebration.

Mrs. Robert Huston
Forms Sunday School

The earliest form of religious activity in Peachland was Sunday School opened by Mrs. Robert Huston, in her own dwelling in May, 1898. In June of that same year Mr. A. T. Robinson, M.A. (Baptist student) came from the University of Chicago and remained for over two years and three months preaching the gospel for the first time in the home of Mrs. L. D. McCall, but subsequently in a parlor or on the verandah of the home of his brother, Mr. J. M. Robinson. In September of that year the congregation met in the new schoolhouse and there continued without organization. In 1900 a Sunday school was organized with C. G. Elliott as superintendent.

In 1901 the Rev. C. W. Whyte organized a society called the "Peachland Christian Union" composed of all the different denominations in settlement.

The Rev. T. N. Ritchie, Baptist minister from Gladstone, Man., settled here in March of 1902. Soon after his arrival it was arranged that the services of the Union be held on alternate Sundays by Messrs. Whyte and Ritchie. This lasted for one year, until the Baptist church was formed.

In 1910 an eight-sided church was desired by Mr. D. McDonald, who came to Peachland from Nova Scotia, and who had greatly admired a similar style of architecture in his home province. Built by volunteer labour of its church members.

A Methodist church was built in 1911, with the greater amount of the work done by volunteer labour, as was the trend in the old days. It was found that the congregations were not large enough for both a Presbyterian and Methodist church, so it was arranged to have ministers of both denominations take the charge alternately, three years at a time. In 1925 the two churches united, as they did all over the country.

In the early days it seemed that everyone should have a pre-emption. One in particular that stands out in the minds of old timers is that one on the south side of Deep Creek, several miles from the village, taken by three men, Ham Lang, R. J. Hogg and a man called Bacon. It was called the "Pig-garies", and is still known as that, though it is probable that many newcomers wonder at the name. Among other early settlers who took out pre-emptions were: Harry Hardy, George Keyes, Sam Mordin, Clem and Ferd Aitkens, Sandy McKay, and Dan White. These were all up the "Glen". Up Trepanier Creek some of the others were: Billy Coldham, Jim Miller, Greenslades and Hansen.

a mighty important year
... FOR PEACHLAND

- 1958 is an important year for the whole of British Columbia — but it is a particularly important milestone in the life of the Peachland community — for this year is also Peachland's 50th Anniversary — it's Jubilee Year!
- Having just completed our own half century of service (in 1957) we, of the Okanagan Telephone Company, realize how important an event a 50th Anniversary can be and in looking back to the year 1912 when we first acquired the then Lakeshore Telephone Company we have enjoyed a long and progressive association with Peachland community.
- One of the first communities to receive dial telephone service (in July, 1949) ... Peachland's growth has been reflected in telephone progress ... and the residents of this area can rightfully claim that they enjoy the most modern of automatic telephone service — a service we of the Okanagan Telephone Company are proud to render.

Many Events In Valley; Monday Big Day Here

For the Okanagan in general, and for several Okanagan communities in particular, including Summerland, this is a notable period.

Here in Summerland, on Monday, July 21 at 2:00 p.m., the Health Centre and Library building, the latter Summerland's centennial project, will be officially opened.

And this weekend Peachland celebrates its Golden Jubilee and the B.C. Centennial. At Oliver, Apricot Fundae and Centennial celebrations are also billed.

The big event of far-flung significance is the opening of the Okanagan Lake Bridge at Kelowna by Her Royal Highness Princess Margaret, which takes place on Saturday, July 19, sharp at 12:00 noon.

Interest locally, of course, centres upon the gleaming new Health Centre and Library.

Built through the co-operation of the Dominion Government, the Government of B. C., the Municipal Government and the B. C. Tuberculosis, Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society, the Canadian Red Cross, the Summerland Kinsmen Club, all of whom contributed substantially to the cost, the new health centre, which fronts on lovely Memorial Park, is a notable addition to the municipality.

The opening ceremony, timed for 2 p.m. will be commenced with the singing of the National Anthem. Greetings to the assembly will be extended by Reeve F. E. Atkinson.

Mrs. S. W. J. Feltham, P.H.N., the first public health nurse to serve Summerland, will officially open the Health Centre, and Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh, vice-president of the Okanagan Regional Library Board, and also the Summerland Council's representative will cut the ribbon to officially open the new library.

S. A. MacDonald, chairman of Committee, will speak briefly on Summerland's Centennial Project.

Representatives from the following governments and organizations who will be presented are: David Pugh, M.P., Okanagan Boundary, Dominion Government; Dr. G. R. F. Elliott, Assistant Provincial Health Officer, Government of B. C.; Mr. Fred T. Arnett, Executive Secretary, B. C. Tuberculosis Society; Mr. Fred Pye, President, Pentiction Branch Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society; Major H. R. King, Executive Secretary for B.C., Canadian Cancer Society; Mr. C. A. Scott, Commissioner, Canadian Red Cross Society; Mr. Murray Paynter, President of Summerland Kinsmen Club; Dr. D. A. Clarke, Director South Okanagan Health Unit and Reeve I. Jackson, Chairman of Union Board of Health.

A Bargain

There was considerable debate and wide difference of opinion over the choice of a library room as Summerland's Centennial Project.

Some wanted a swimming pool, many favored a wading pool, others thought a beach project should be adopted, but the library unit won the day, mainly because it could be started and finished within the funds available.

Now, the Centennial Project is complete and it will be officially opened on Monday along with the new Health Centre.

The Review is of the opinion that even those most strongly opposed to the library as a Centennial Project will agree that the money was not wasted and that Summerland has a Centennial Project of which it can be justly proud.

The library is undoubtedly a handsome addition to the Health Centre building and the whole represents a tremendous bargain for the people of Summerland. It is doubtful, if ever again, the taxpayers will get so much dollar value for so few dollars of expenditure.

But the gain goes beyond dollar value. The health centre will, undoubtedly, facilitate to great extent the work of safeguarding the health of the community — the library will do much to encourage reading and from reading comes knowledge.

Health and culture wrapped up in one parcel, at literally less than half the cost, that is what we have got here in Summerland in our new health unit and library.

The Municipal Council is to be congratulated on a fine job done without paring but in the most economical manner.

The Centennial Committee is to be congratulated on the completion of its Centennial Project and we think a special vote of thanks is owing to Superintendent Ken Blagborne and his crew for an excellent job of building.

Arts and Crafts Caravan July 21

The Summerland Centennial Committee's next attraction is the visit of the Arts and Crafts Caravan on Monday, July 21.

The attractive display will include work made by British Columbia craftsmen, including jewellery, mosaics, woodwork, etc.

Presented by the B. C. Centennial Committee in cooperation with the University of B. C., the exhibit is housed in a giant caravan, eight feet wide 49 feet long and 12 feet high.

The visit of the caravan coincides with the date of the official opening of Summerland's Health Centre and the Centennial Library.

Exhibit will be situated on the Memorial Park, adjacent to the band shell. The caravan will be open between the hours of 2 p.m. and 5 p.m., and 7 p.m. and 10 p.m. There is no charge for admission.

Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh is the representative of the Summerland Centennial Committee acting as liaison officer with the caravan.

Princess' Itinerary While In The Valley

Itinerary of Princess Margaret while in the Okanagan is given below:

Her Royal Highness is scheduled to arrive at the Pentiction airport on Friday, June 18, at 3:30 p.m., leaving 20 minutes later for Vernon aboard a Mallard amphibian aircraft.

The Princess will be presented to the Mayor of Pentiction and the Reeves and chairmen of surrounding municipalities and villages. Reeve F. E. Atkinson and Mrs. Atkinson will be among those to be presented.

The Princess arrives at Vernon at 4:30 leaving 15 minutes later for Kelowna. Arriving at Kelowna at 5:05 p.m. the Princess will be driven slowly to Government House at Okanagan Mission where at 5:25 she will be free until noon on Saturday, July 19, when at 12:00 noon she will open the new Okanagan Lake bridge.

On Sunday the Princess will attend divine service at St. Michael and All Angels' Church, but it is not said whether this will be a morning or evening service.

Monday the Princess will have a free day.

On Tuesday, July 22, the Princess will leave Kelowna at a 11:30 a.m. water takeoff, arriving at Pentiction 11:50 a.m.

She will leave the Okanagan aboard RCAF aircraft at noon, for Abbotsford.

Packinghouse Closed Down At Peachland

Walters Packinghouse, at Peachland, has closed down.

Hopes of Peachland growers that it could be kept operating went by the board this week when the official notice of closure was received.

Peachland growers must now find another outlet for their fruit. Here in Summerland local packinghouses, which found room for growers left without packinghouse affiliation because of the closure of the Walters packinghouse here, are reported to be loaded.

It is thought that Peachland growers will go to Westbank.

Dream Of Years Comes True

Blaring bands, hundreds of dignitaries and thousands of spectators plus the presence of Her Royal Highness Princess Margaret will combine to make the official opening of Okanagan Lake Bridge at Kelowna on Saturday, July 19, one of the most spectacular ceremonies ever.

The bridge, only floating span in Canada, will be officially opened by Her Royal Highness at approximately 12:00 noon.

A Chevrolet station wagon, owned by Dr. H. B. Munn, was stolen from his home in the early hours of Saturday morning, but was later found abandoned behind the Summerland High School.

Whoever took the car did not know how to handle it, for the gears were found to be damaged.

New Dentist Assumes Practice

Dr. and Mrs. J. Ratzlaff with their son have taken up residence in the former home of Dr. L.L. Day. Dr. Ratzlaff has taken over Dr. Day's dentistry practice. A graduate of the University of Saskatchewan, Dr. Ratzlaff taught as high school teacher in many B. C. schools, the last being at Fort St. John, before becoming interested in dentistry. Graduating from college in Edmonton with his D.D. S. last spring, Dr. Ratzlaff worked in Edmonton until coming to Summerland.

Summerland's new dentist is particularly concerned with the children, for he feels there has been an alarming increase in tooth deterioration during the past few years among children and that there is a real need for dental care if children's teeth are to be kept in condition to serve them through the added life expectancy of their generation.

This Picture Tells The Story

ORCHARD RUN

by Wally Smith

Governments, Organizations and individuals are becoming more conscious of the wild life of the nation and the need to protect and preserve it for the pleasure and enjoyment of this and future generations.

Man, ever since the dawn of civilization, has set about the task of building homes, ships, highways and machines, and industrial empires. But man the builder is also man the destroyer, and its to his everlasting shame that he has set upon and wantonly destroyed some of the species of life that nature has evolved on this planet.

Greed, ignorance, or callous indifference by man has caused the extermination of some 12 species of the animal kingdom, all within the last one hundred years. Eighteen others are in jeopardy.

The bison was saved from extinction by a man who had the foresight to provide a sanctuary for the few survivors of the once great prairie herds.

At last efforts are being made to save the whooping crane of which only 26 are left in the whole world. Several other species of wild life are being carefully guarded to prevent them from going the way of the passenger pigeon, the last of which died in 1914.

At long last man has become conscious of the need to protect and preserve many species of wild life that inhabit the earth. But it takes more than mere recognition by a few and the passage of prohibitory laws. It also requires the education and the co-operation of the public so that they will understand and lend their aid in the preserving of wild life.

In this connection the new Gray Sage Museum near Okanagan Falls, can play an important part. Here Carleton McNaughton has brought together in natural surroundings a very interesting collection of Okanagan bird, animal and reptilian wild life.

Eight acres of rocky, forbidding hillside, has, by hard work, imagination and the expenditure of considerable cash, have been transformed into a live animal museum. It is a very fine effort, and no doubt but the beginning of larger collection.

It is not in my nature to enjoy the sight of caged birds and animals whose natural habitat is the wide open spaces of mountain and valley. However, I am prepared to admit that museums such as the Gray Sage have an educational value, especially if coupled with information and instruction.

Such museums should stimulate interest in our wild life and help teach people to understand and appreciate the birds and animals that inhabit this wonderful country of ours.

NINETEEN FIFTY-EIGHT

The Valley And The Princess

We can think of no better decoration of the valley, in honor of Princess Margaret, than the ripening fruits in lush green orchards, the blue sky, and blue lake. We only hope the weatherman will co-operate.

Apart from that, the best we can wish for our Royal visitor is that during her stay in the Okanagan she will enjoy complete relaxation under the Okanagan sun.

We hope that authorities have indeed so arranged matters that the Princess will not be plagued by too much stuffy ceremony, nor yet by the overly curious.

We would like to think that Princess Margaret will remember the Okanagan Valley as that beautiful valley where she enjoyed so much rest.

As loyal subjects the people of Summerland join with the rest of the valley in welcoming the Princess — and we are fortunate that, in welcoming a Princess, we are also welcoming a very charming and loveable person in her own right.

Congratulations Peachland

This issue of the Review is dedicated to our northern neighbor, Peachland, which this weekend, starting Thursday evening and continuing on through Friday, Saturday and Sunday, will celebrate its Golden Jubilee, fifty years since incorporation.

The Municipality of Peachland embraces rich fruit land, timbered hinterland and a miles long stretch of beautiful Okanagan Lake shore.

Like Summerland, Peachland depends in large measure upon the fruit industry for its livelihood, producing around half a million boxes a year, half of which is made up of the luscious peaches from which it is so fittingly named.

Peachland will always be a fruit producing area but we think also that in this Jubilee year our neighbor up the road stands on the threshold of big developments.

It is only co-incidence, but it is a significant co-incidence that while Peachland celebrates its Golden Jubilee, Kelowna and the entire Okanagan Valley, for that matter, will be celebrating the opening of the Okanagan Lake bridge, by Her Royal Highness Princess Margaret.

That bridge opening will, we believe, be a milestone in onward march of Peachland. Peachland, with its long frontage on Okanagan Lake, is almost bound to attract many Kelowna business people, looking for a quiet retreat from the ever-increasing tempo of life in the Orchard City.

And now, with the bottleneck of the ferries eliminated by the bridge, commuting becomes a quite reasonable proposition.

Then it seems certain that some time in the not too distant future a first-class road will be pushed through from Princeton to join Highway 97 somewhere around Peachland. This holds promise of a big increase in tourist business for our neighboring community.

All in all, on this, Peachland's Golden Jubilee year, the people of that community can look forward to the future with confidence — truly there seems to be no other way for Peachland to go than forward.

And so the Summerland Review takes upon itself the pleasant task of conveying to the people of Peachland the congratulations of the people of Summerland and wishing them, on their behalf — smooth sailing in the next half century.

Valley Trail Riders Ride This Weekend

The Valley Trail Riders will be having an overnight trail ride on July 19 and 20. They are planning to leave C. W. Reinertson's at 1 p.m. Saturday returning Sunday evening.

Destination of the Riders is the Rowley Meadows, part of the old Chapman Ranch near Mazama, which is about a 20 mile ride.

Don Hermiston and Edna Hugo are in charge of the ride, food and entertainment. An excellent chuck has been arranged and interesting entertainment is planned.

Bedrolls and chuck will be taken up in two jeeps, driven by C. W. Reinertson and Carl Jeffery. There will be around 20 riders, divided between adults and youngsters.

New riders are welcome, but since arrangements had to be completed before July 15, no riders will be able to join the party who have not submitted their names in time.

The Valley Trail Riders, however, plan on many more trail rides, and all riders are welcome.

This riding group is a new club; started only this year. It was formed around the old Narāmata Trail Riders, which club disbanded. There are members in the new club from Peachland, Summerland, Penticton and Narāmata Riders. As the main purr-amata, thus the name, "Valley pose of the club is to ride and enjoy the western type saddle horse, rather than concentration on competition, the Trail Riders are a main part of the club's program. The club has done very well this year with a membership of 30, mostly active.

Children are especially encouraged and there are several adult members prepared to give time to instructing them.

Dare Devils Here July 29

Thrill show fans of West Summerland are to be given the opportunity of seeing Canada's most honored travelling show on wheels, on Tuesday, July 29. The famed Auto Dare Devils Thrill Show have been signed by the Board of Park Commissioners to present its thrill-packed spectacle at Memorial Athletic Field on that date. The show, the original first of its kind to tour Canada 12 years ago, carry its own generating system for track lighting. May we point out that they are now on their twelve years annual tour across Canada, and the '58 edition promises to be the biggest and best yet.

The huge generating system is carried as part of the show equipment and any field track may be lighted as brilliantly as a stage, so that night performances present no problems.

Such famous names in thrill show world as BoBo Canup, Buddy Young, Tex Saxon and many other star drivers will be seen in death-defying feats of skill and courage ranging from "Hell Driving" to motorcycle leapfrog, and nerve-racking Ramp-to-Ramp thrilling leaps through fire.

This weekend square dancers can go North, East, South or West and find dancing.

Staring in the South the big square dance jamboree in connection with Apricot Fundae at Oliver, with Bill French as emcee. This should be lots of fun and I hear there is an interesting program planned. Dancing starts at 9 p.m. D.S.T., so local dancers can have a full evening. "Going east this weekend? Well if you are, you can dance to Les Boyer at Nakusp. Les tells me this is their big summer jamboree and dancers from the interior and from across the border are expected.

Getting back home again, at Peachland the Totem Twirlers are holding a jamboree in connection with the Golden Jubilee celebrations at Peahland. Ray Fredrickson is the emcee. Callers are invited to bring their own records.

Don't forget Friday night at the Pavilion at Penticton, with the Peach City Promenaders as hosts.

Shower Honours Mrs. H. Carrier

Prior to her forthcoming marriage to Mr. Freeman Reid of West Summerland, Mrs. Hazel Carrier was honored at a shower at the beach home of Mrs. Kay Norstrom on Friday evening, July 11, with Mrs. Jean Eddie and Mrs. Hazel Doherty co-hostesses, and several other ladies kindly assisting.

The bride's cake was centered on a tea table covered with a lace cloth and flanked by tall pink and white tapers decorated with white carnations and silver ribbon. Gifts were presented in a miniature piano.

A musical contest was enjoyed and refreshments were served on the open patio.

Guests included: Mrs. Hazel Carrier, Mrs. Florence Young, Mrs. Virginia Black, Mrs. Florence Stark, Miss Mary Wolfert, Mrs. Mary Orr, Miss Jean Ritchie, Miss Joanne Ritchie, Miss Louise Atkinson, Mrs. Eleanor Dowds, Mrs. Audrey Taylor, Mrs. Bertha White, Mrs. Nettie Shannon, Mrs. Minnie Butler, Mrs. Lottie Pohlman, Mrs. Adie Penketh, Mrs. Rita Thornthwaite, Mrs. Jute McPhail, Mrs. Zena Dempster, Mrs. Lee Moncrief, Mrs. Jean Eddie, Mrs. Hazel Doherty, Mrs. Kay Norstrom. Unable to be present but sending gifts were: Mrs. Jean Harrison, Mrs. Kay Bissett, Miss Nan Thornthwaite, Mrs. Mary Charles, Mrs. Louise Lemke, Mrs. Mary Van Gæmeren, Mrs. Mabel Brown, Mrs. Dorothy Robertson, Mrs. Lillian McKecknie, Mrs. Reid Sr.

Mrs. Carol Howell and infant son are spending part of the summer with Mrs. Howell's mother, Mrs. R. Cornish.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bates of Prince George spent the weekend at the home of Mrs. Bate's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Marshall.

Miss Anne Beggs has left for Vancouver where she will be attending summer school. She will be teaching in North Vancouver this fall.

Start Guide's Camp On New Site July 2

Summer camping for Guides of the South Okanagan Division started on July 2, when two camps opened simultaneously on different parts of the site. A Peachland - Summerland Company Camp, was held for 24 Guides who were under canvas on the pretty point of the site. The girls were mainly eleven, twelve and thirteen year olds, just commencing their camping life.

A full program of swimming, with opportunity given the girls to work on their Guide tests, consisting of firefighting, stalking and tracking as well as practical usage of second class knots. This camp was staffed by Miss Enid Maynard, Mrs. Gordon Whittaker and Miss Irene Pennington, with Miss Lella Weis as "cookie".

The second camp, located on the hillside, overlooking the lake housed 18 advanced Guide campers from the South Okanagan Division and took the form of a pioneer camp with a century flavor. All supplies and equipment were transported to site by boat. Cooking was done over an altar type fire built of rock.

Erection of a flag pole was undertaken by the senior boys from Camp Owaissi, under the supervision of Rev. D. Salter, Chase, and Padre Peter O'Flynn.

Toronto. Dedication of the flag pole took place at sundown near the close of the camp.

The Peachland Patrol leaders felled a straight pine and it was peeled and transported to the main site by the girls, who also assembled the hoist and toggle.

Among other activities was an eight mile hike to a nearby mountain, where the girls had opportunity to earn their Pioneer, Camper and rescue badges.

Mrs. E. Blagborne and Mrs. A. Fenwick worked with the girls at the pioneer camp.

Sunday in camp was celebrated with a lakeside service in the morning and visits to both camps in the afternoon by friends and relatives interested in the campsite project. On Sunday evening a number girls from both camps were transported in a chain of boats behind the motor boat of Mr. Kirks of Owaissi Camp to chapel for an inter-denominational service conducted by Rev. D. Salter. A swim, softball game and campfire closed the day and home again on the calm moonlit lake for those girls who travelled to the camp by car. Life preservers were worn by all girls and supervision of transportation by boat was under Miss Carolyn Reid, Lifesaver, and Miss Irene Pennington, Assistant Lifesaver, both from Summerland.

A masquerade on the last evening of camp showed the girls to be quite ingenious over their costumes since they only had equipment peculiar to camp for their use. Judging proved to be quite difficult but was well handled by camp "grandmother", Mrs. E. Gardner, assisted by Mrs. G. Ryman, the Camp Nurse, and Mrs. G. Whittaker.

Of special interest at the last Campfire was the talk by two visitors from USA Campfire Girls, Miss Neatha Gaspers and East Wenatchee, who were Miss Sandra Sparkes, both of dressed in full ceremonial costume of the Campfire Girls.

Commandant of both camps was Mrs. B. Blagborne of West Summerland, with Mrs. George Ryman, Registered Nurse, and Caroline Reid as Lifesaver.

Health Centre, Library Opens July 21st

One of major surprises awaiting those entering Summerland's Health Centre and Library Building for the first time is the spaciousness of the smart, stream-lined building which fronts upon beautiful Memorial Park.

Designed to harmonize with the architecture of the Municipal Hall, just across the way, the Health Centre and Library fits perfectly into the scheme of things.

The approach from the road is paved concrete and a planting box provides the walk between the Health Centre entrance and the Library. The library, Summerland's centennial project, is fronted with ornamental brick, providing a pleasant contrast to the gleaming white of Health Centre. Big pane windows on both sides of the long room add to its appearance and permit adequate light to enter. Inside, the library room is of simple design, exposed laminated beams support the roof and add decorative effect. Clean-cut shelves line the walls, awaiting their consignment of books.

The Health Centre, built to split level design, has a wide flight of stairs leading up to the main floor and down to the lower level.

The entrance hall is done in dark mahogany.

Three consulting rooms each with sink and hot and cold water, occupy the north side of the building.

There is a dark room and a large conference room, a strategically located office and the usual rest rooms.

A large basement room runs the entire width of the building below stairs, All in all, Summerland's new Health Centre Building, built for specialties such as plumbing, wiring, etc. is one in which mostly by municipal labor and with mostly local contractors all Summerland can take pride.

The Satin Moth

The Satin Moth Damaging Poplar and Willow Shade Trees Throughout the Okanagan Valley

The caterpillars of this moth may seriously damage poplar and willow shade trees by eating the leaves. Although the caterpillars do the damage, an infestation is often first detected by the presence of the moths, which may be seen anytime from mid-June until August. During this period they may be noted flying in large numbers around the trees or they may be seen on warm evenings around nearby street lights. The satin moth has a wing spread of approximately 1 1/2 inches and is all white except for black eyes and legs.

This pest has been known in the Fraser Valley since 1920 but it has moved into and spread throughout the Okanagan Valley in the last three years.

Moths lay eggs, beginning in mid-June, in masses on the trunks, branches and leaves of poplar or willow trees. In about two weeks tiny caterpillars hatch and begin to skeletonize the leaves. This year in the Okanagan hatching should begin by the first of July. When about partially grown these caterpillars spin cocoons in crevices in the bark where they spend the winter. The following spring they emerge and begin feeding heavily, sometimes stripping the trees of their foliage. The caterpillars are brownish-black sparsely clothed with long hairs and have large yellowish or white marks along their backs which makes them conspicuous on the trees. When mature they form cocoons on leaves, branches or the trunks of trees and about 10 days later the moths emerge from these cocoons and the life-cycle is repeated.

Anyone who has poplar or willow shade trees that they wish to protect should watch for the presence of this pest and be prepared to spray. Infested trees should be sprayed when the caterpillars are present in May or June or in the summer as soon as hatching begins (by the first of July this year). Trees must be thoroughly covered with a DDT spray (approx. 3 lbs. of 50% wettable in 100 gallons of water). It is usually necessary to use high pressure sprayers to reach the tops of the trees.

mended amounts of poison as increasing the dose does not increase the effectiveness but DOES increase the danger to other animals and humans.

4. The Coyote was never an effective predator of mice and gophers.

5. Hawks, owls and weasels are good predators of mice and gophers.

During his talk Mr. West demonstrated a probe device invented by John Embree of Trout Creek. The probe makes it possible to locate the runway with out digging and enables the placing of the poison bait through a brass tube directly to the burrow. The device greatly reduces the danger of spilling the poison bait above ground and makes possible the placing of baits with little disturbance to the gopher runs.

An account of other points covered in the Orchard Tour will be given next week.

BUDDING SCHOOLS

The latter part of July and the first half of August in the Okanagan is the period best suited to tree fruit budding. During the past two years interest in this operation has increased. The use of hardy framework stocks which must be budded to the right variety in the second year and the advent of double red and spur type strains of Red Delicious have increased the demand for budding information.

The technique of budding is not a difficult one but it does require practice to become proficient and to develop speed.

Last year the Horticultural Branch held a number of schools for orchardists who wished to learn budding. These schools will be continued again this year will be continued again this year. Anyone wishing to take part in the schools should leave his name at the Horticultural office. When sufficient names have been received a school will be held.

ORCHARD TOUR

Between 50 and 60 attended the Orchard Tour held in the Summerland area last week. Although the tour was primarily intended for growers in the Kaleden to Peachland area there were growers from as far south in the program.

One of the high points of the as Oroville, Washington, taking day was the talk on rodents by Al. West of the B. C. Game Commission's Predator Control Branch. Some salient points mentioned by Mr. West were as follows:

1. The animal which pushes up earth mounds and eats the roots off fruit trees in this area is the Pocket Gopher and NOT the Mole.
2. The best time for poisoning Pocket Gophers is in the fall because the animals take bait more readily then.
3. When using the poison bait formulas, use only the recom-

Mac's Climbing Again

Summerland Macs clawed back into a third place tie with the Oliver OBCs when they chalked up a decisive 10 to 4 victory here last Sunday over the Oliver club.

Veteran Ollie Egely honed the Macs to razor blade sharpness with a home run clout in the first inning to drive two men across the plate ahead of him to pave the way for the win.

Come Sunday, the Macs face trial by ordeal when they meet the league-leading Kelowna Orioles at the Athletic Park here. With the Macs keyed to go places, this should be one of the games of the season.

Against Oliver the Macs scored three runs in the first, three runs in the fourth, one in each of the sixth and seventh innings and then wrapped it up with two more in the ninth. Macs got to losing pitcher Snyder for 15 hits while Howard Esche, the big lad from up Kamloops way, had the OBCs eating, out of his hand, yielding only five scattered hits and retiring nine by the strikeout route.

The Summerland Junior Red Sox lost a heart-breaker in Keremeos on Sunday by a 6 to 4 score. The local boys, although outitting Keremeos 8 to 2, couldn't bunch their hits to produce runs.

Keremeos scored a run in the first and the Red Sox tied it up in the fourth, only to have Keremeos score in their half of the fourth. The Red Sox got three big runs in the fifth to lead 4 to 2. In the seventh inning Keremeos went ahead on four runs, three of them on a home run, win the game 6 to 4.

In other league action Vernon took Naramata 6 to 1 in 13 innings.

This puts Vernon two games ahead of Summerland with Penticton, Naramata and Keremeos following in that order.

$40,000 Money Bylaw For Power Change-Over

Municipal Council on Tuesday instructed Municipal Clerk G. D. Smith to prepare a money bylaw to the amount of $40,000 for the earliest presentation to the ratepayers, which will be about the end of August.

The $40,000 borrowing is to meet the cost of the electric light and power system change-over, which, although costly, is an imperative need and further has the saving grace that it will eventually pay for itself by substantially reducing line loss and also by eliminating the need for a new system within the municipality. The change-over will provide for an 8,000 voltage which is standard, as against the 4,600 volt system which Summerland now has.

Electrical consulting engineer M. A. Thomas, surveyed the system and has blue printed plans for the change-over.

Council is hopeful that ratepayers will approve the bylaw so that work can be started and the system readied for the increased voltage by the end of the year.

In addition to voting on the foregoing bylaw, voters will be asked to give approval to the use of unexpended funds, left over from the Crescent Beach domestic water bylaw, about $8,000, for the purpose of reconstructing the winter pipeline on Trout Creek, which enables the domestic water supply to be diverted during the winter from the open flume.

Summerland's Health Centre One Of Finest

"I have in the course of my work been associated with many health centres - and here I will dig a pit for myself - I will say that this centre is one of, if not the finest in British Columbia." The foregoing high compliment was paid the Summerland health centre by M. R. King, executive director of the B. C.

Cancer Society, speaking at the official opening of Summerland's Health Centre unit and Library building, the latter is Summerland's Centennial project.

Mrs. S. W. J. Feltham, first public health nurse in Summerland cut the ribbon to officially open the Health Centre Monday afternoon and Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh, vice-president of the Okanagan Regional Library Board, and Summerland representative on the board, cut the ribbon to open the library.

Tribute to Councillor Norman Holmes, chairman of the building committee, and to Ken Blagborne, works superintendent and his crews, and to C. J. Bleasdale and R. S. McLachlan, who worked with Councillor Holmes, and to head carpenter H. Lemke and architects Meiklejohn and Lamont of Penticton was paid by Reeve F. E. Atkinson, who welcomed the large crowd of several hundred that witnessed the opening.

W. J. Andrew of West Vancouver presented an oak library table and six matching chairs to the library, a memorial to his parents, Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Andrew. It was Dr. Andrew who established the first public health service in the schools here, and Mrs. Andrew was a devoted community worker.

David Pugh, MP for Okanagan Boundary, brought best wishes from the federal government and minister of health while Dr. D. A. Clarke, director of the South Okanagan Health Unit, represented the B.C. minister of health and department officials.

Other speakers were Mrs. W. Chalmers of Penticton, a director of the B.C. Tuberculosis Society, who introduced Fred T. Arnott, executive secretary, and Mr. Gheike of the provincial staff; Fred Pye, president of the Penticton branch, Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society; Mrs. J. E. O'Mahony, director of the B.C. Cancer Society; Major M. R. King, executive secretary of the Cancer Society for B.C.; Col. C. A. Scott, provincial Red Cross commissioner; W. Pollock of the Summerland Kinsmen Club; Mrs. Muriel Ffoulkes, regional librarian and John Fowler of Armstrong, the chairman of the Okanagan Regional Library Board; and S. A. MacDonald, chairman of the Summerland Centennial Committee.

Rev. A. A. T. Northrup offered a dedicatory prayer.

Ald. Elsie MacCleave represented Penticton city council at the ceremonies. Other guests were Miss H. Whittington, director or nurse for the South Okanagan Health Unit; Mrs. M. West, PHN of Kelowna; Mrs. Anne Mason, PHN of Penticton; Miss Joan Appleton, PHN of Chilliwack; and Mrs. Jessie Van Der Burgh, Penticton librarian.

The building was inspected following the ceremonies.

Yacht Club Plans Sport Day Aug. 3

Summerland Yacht Club was well represented at the Peachland regatta held in conjunction with the Peachland Jubilee and B.C. Centennial celebration held last weekend.

John Kitson was the winner of the sailing boat race and carried off a handsome trophy.

George Smith of Summerland placed second in the family boat race.

The Summerland Yacht Club is planning a small regatta for Sunday, August 3, Commodore L. A. Smith reports.

The club is hopeful that government action on a breakwater will shortly be taken.

Peachland Jubilee Celebrations Attracted Many Old Timers

Thursday afternoon, July 17, many old time residents converged upon this community in a festive mood in anticipation of the celebrations of the Centennial and Peachland Golden Jubilee Jubilee, which commenced that evening and continued through three days of fun and frolic.

Former residents came from such distant points as Lancaster, New Hampshire, Montreal, Seattle, Calgary, Vancouver, Victoria, Prince George, Dawson Creek, and from points nearer home representing communities from Kamloops to Keremeos.

Long before the appointed hour, groups of people gathered outside the Athletic Hall, the theme of the conversation was "I haven't seen you for 40 years," "I shouldn't have known you" and many times during the evening "Remember when..." It was a happy crowd, pleased to be re-united.

Two hundred and fifty persons sat down to the banquet, beautifully prepared by ladies of the United Church, in the hall which had been tastefully decorated for the occasion by Mrs. George Smith and her committee. Quantities of bright hued gladioli banked the platform behind the head table.

Specially invited guests included: Dr. W. J. Knox, Kelowna; Miss M. A. Twiddy, Pen-ticton; L. A. Hayman, Vancouver; Mrs. Ben Gummow, Victoria; Mr. and Mrs. H. C. MacNeill; Reeve and Mrs. Ivor Jackson, Councillors A. R. Miller, H. Birkelund and their wives; Councillors A. E. Miller and G. W. Hawksley; Mr. and Mrs. C. Haker; the Jubilee committee and their wives or husbands.

After singing "O Canada," Mr. A. J. McKenzie said Grace and the toast to Her Majesty the Queen was drunk. Following the dinner, Chairman Fred Topham Jr. welcomed all the Pioneers and Old-timers and read greetings sent by wire from several who were unable to attend the festivities, and excerpts from letters received from others, regretting they could not be with the gathering.

Reeve Jackson, resident for less than six years but having been in the province for 60 years, extended greetings from the Corporation and the present residents of Peachland, to the visitors.

Mrs. Ben Gummow, former Reeve and wife of the late Reeve Gummow, whose father, planted the first orchard in Peachland, presented scrolls to a number of residents. Two "B" scrolls to those who were living in the province in 1886, the year the CPR arrived in Vancouver, were presented to Mr. Ferdie Brent and Mr. R. A. Tilton. "C" scrolls, honoring those who had contributed greatly to the development of the community over the years, were presented to: Miss Candace McDougald, Miss A. E. Elliott, Mrs. W. D. Miller, Mrs. A. Smalls, Mrs. Fred Topham Sr., W. B. Sanderson, H. C. MacNeill, V. Milner-Jones and Fred Topham Jr.

In introducing first speaker, Dr. W. J. Knox, Chairman Topham pointed out that the doctor was well known through B.C. and the Okanagan Valley, having been here since the turn of the century. He also paid tribute by saying that to know Dr. Knox makes one feel better.

Council Establishes Midnight Curfew at Powell, Rotary Beach

Council discussions often shoot off at tangents and wind up with the original topic overshadowed by the offshoot. Such was the case on Tuesday when Council was advised by Dr. Clarke, director of the Okanagan Health Unit, that the privies at Powell Beach were hardly up to snuff.

The upshot of this letter from the Health Unit was the order by council that Powell Beach and Rotary Beach would be closed at midnight and right at the end of the discussion a resolution that the matter of supplying acceptable toilet facilities at Powell Beach be considered in next year's budget.

Parks Commissioner Ernie Bennett had replied to the letter from Dr. Clarke, in which the health director had praised the facilities at Peach Orchard Park and condemned those at Powell Beach, by pointing out that the parks department had only a limited amount of money to work with, furthermore, that there was no supervision at Powell Beach and to put in water works and power could be costly in view of possible vandalism.

Councillor Powell was in full agreement with the health director that the toilet facilities were, in Councillor Powell's words, "awful" and "sickening."

The discussion turned to matter of control of the beaches and midnight closure was suggested. Most of the damage appears to be done in the night, was the comment of Reeve Atkinson.

Councillor Holmes agreed with the midnight closure but suggested that permits should be available at the municipal hall for groups and those wishing to hold beach parties extending past the curfew hour.

So Powell Beach and Rotary Beach will be closed from midnight to 6:00 a.m., and council hopes to be able to do something about the Powell Beach privies next year.

S'land Band Has Busy Time

Summerland's Town Band was very much in evidence at the opening of the Okanagan Lake bridge and for their efforts were rewarded with a good location for viewing the opening of the $7,500,000 structure by HRH Princess Margaret.

The Summerland band was also present at the Peachland Jubilee celebrations and supplied the music for the religious service on the Sunday.

According To The Mood . . .

By Sid Godber

I stood on the ferry at midnight — reads better that way although it was more two o'clockish — and I thought many thoughts.

It was, for me, the last ride on the Okanagan Lake ferry. The crew was morose, lackadaisical, and who could censor them.

The bridge and causeway, all illuminated, looked impressive, but it seemed unreal — the reality was in the sturdy ships which were in a few hours to be put in mothballs.

I thought of the Princess in strange beds a few miles down the lake, and I wondered if she had trouble sleeping in a strange bed and then pondered on the number of strange beds the Princess would sleep in on this trip to Canada and how many sleepless nights she would have.

I thought too, of the eager and smiling Girl Guides and Brownies and other small fry, as huffs ahead of time they took their places to see the Princess and I thought also of their stony faces as they dispersed to their homes.

Officialdom surely slipped up — to the kids a Princess is right out of a fairy tale — surely where the kids were congregated, the Royal car could have slowed to a crawl.

For that matter I never understood why they didn't drive the Princess from Penticton to Vernon and then let the plane pick her up for the return to Kelowna.

It was the kids who should have been given the chance to really see the Princess, but the kids were passed by. I saw one woe lad being dragged along by his mother — rubbing tear-filled eyes, sobbing, "I didn't see her, I didn't see her, she went too fast."

Could be that the security bug was the cause of the speed up.

And I thought of the Mounties and I thought that people with bombs could set them off with impunity anywhere else in B.C. but around Kelowna for surely all the Mounties in British Columbia were congregated in Kelowna.

I felt sorry for the Mounties — red-coated and buttoned up to the neck in that heat.

My thoughts went back to the press reception I had just attended, the cause of my riding the ferry in the wee small hours.

More than a hundred griping newspapermen, with a sprinkling of gushing newshens, from points north, south, east, west, from London, England and New York, USA. From Montreal, Toronto, and way point in between and yours truly from Summerland.

It was old home week, at one time or another I had worked with half of them and I knew most of them.

And thinking of the reception I thought of the absurdity of this army of newspapermen chasing one petite little lady across a continent and back again.

And every one, males anyway, I don't know about the females, fed up to the teeth, but for a lot of them there is still a long trail ahead — no wonder it is that if the Princess snoozes it gets into print — the business is so barren of real story material that they have to grasp at anything.

Which doesn't excuse that too, too enterprising reporter who invaded the Princess' privacy while she was in retirement at Victoria and wrote a nauseating little piece "I saw the Princess France." I'm betting that there have been repercussions at high level on that piece of yellow journalism which appeared on the front page of the Vancouver Sun.

And I thought about all these goings on, while the world teeters on the brink of war. Another one of Mr. Dulles' exhibitions of brinkmanship.

I watched another ferry passing: "Green to green and red to red perfect safety — go ahead."

The skipper gave a little sad toot, which was answered by another little sad toot.

I looked again at the bridge and causeway and thought they should surely call it the "Bennet" bridge for it was Mr. Bennett, Premier Bennett, who built it, ten years ahead of its time — but Kelowna will be ever grateful and I suppose, so will I and all else who are in a hurry to get across the lake.

'Twas thus I thought as I leaned on the taffrail and watched as the ferry made its crossing.

I stood on the ferry at midnight, or later, and I thought many thoughts and perhaps that is why I felt sad at the ferries' passing, because on the ferry one has time to think and in this hurly burly of living, it is something to have time to think.

IN YOUR ORCHARD

By Alec Watt

INSECTS IN LIMELIGHT

Looking back in the years to come 1958 will probably be remembered as the year of the bugs. High temperatures have prevailed almost steadily since early May and have provided excellent growing conditions for insects as well as the plants they live on. Here is round-up of the bugs as they appear from this angle.

BUD MOTHS

Judging by the take of moths in the traps, bud moths are really flying right now. Anyone troubled with bud moth would be well advised to consider an application of Malathion in the next two weeks if no pink spray was applied earlier.

PEAR PSYLLA

Psylla has been active all year. Diazinon is somewhat better than Malathion for its control.

MITES

Look out for mites on pears this year. Already several Anjou blocks have been damaged by mites. Severe mite injury coupled with heat produces a blackening of the foliage somewhat like fire blight. However, mites can do a lot of damage before blackening shows.

APHIDS

Green Apple Aphids have held the stage. Most aphicides provide control for a period of a few days up to two weeks. Unfortunately the propensity of the adult (winged) forms to lay eggs without a delay for mating means an almost immediate re-infestation. Some hope is seen in the late summer when growth starts to harden up and tissues become more woody. Then the aphids have more difficulty in feeding and sometimes die off rather suddenly. Close attention should be paid to keeping young trees free of aphids. It is doubtful whether it is economically sound to attempt to keep bearing apple trees clean of aphids. If these trees are heavily infested a clean-up spray should be applied two to three weeks before picking, to ensure clean fruit at harvest time.

Last week we told you something of the recent orchard tour. Another interesting facet of this 1958 tour was the emphasis placed on mineral sprays by all the orchardists visited. Without a doubt good, green, healthy foliage was seen in all the orchards visited.

That a deficiency of zinc and iron exists in many of our orchards has long been known. Lack of boron and magnesium has also been a problem too as well as the lack of magnesium. Quite often this great need for mineral supplements has not been realized, perhaps because symptoms have been borderline or indefinite. An orchard which appeared sickly, but could not be pinned down, suddenly responded to iron chelate or zinc dormant sprays.

Talking to growers in this tour one realizes how much emphasis they place on the right mineral program. Although they are using more iron and zinc than most orchardists, they are still not satisfied that it is enough.

Problem seems to be one of standards. How good is enough? The present picture is that we tend to use too little of the iron, zinc and magnesium rather than too much.

What The Bond Conversion Means

During the war, many people bought Victory Bonds. They did so partly to help the war effort and partly, too, because it seemed a sound way of investing savings at a reasonable rate of interest.

Down through the years, millions of Canadians have kept their Victory Bonds, clipping the coupons every so often and feeling secure in the knowledge that a modest nest-egg lay in reserve, to be used in case of emergency, to help pay for the children's education, or to help them enjoy their own retirement.

Last week, the government issued an invitation to exchange old bonds for new ones of the Canada Conversion Loan. The reason it did so was that five of the old Victory Loans will mature over the next few years. Rather than wait for each, in its turn, to fall due, it seemed more sensible to refund all five at the same time, by means of a single new issue.

No one, of course, is compelled to accept the government's offer. It is a matter for each person owning a bond to decide for himself. But because a rate of interest higher than on the old Victory's is offered, and because the other basic attractions of government bonds remain unchanged, it seems likely that most people will accept. Within three days of the announcement over $1 billion of bonds had been converted.

Experts in money matters say that besides refunding the old debt, the new Canada Conversion Loan will also stabilize many factors affecting the borrowing of funds and clear up many uncertainties which now add to the difficulties of bond financing. This should make it easier for municipalities and other borrowers to obtain the new money they must have in order to pay for the growth of essential services.

This will come as welcome news to cities, towns and villages, many of whom have found it difficult in recent months to sell their own bonds.

The Reason For Editorial We

According to "usually reliable sources" the editorial WE originated over 100 years ago. Here is the accepted reason, handed down through the years:

"An editor is one who reads newspapers, and selects miscellany, writes articles on all subjects, sets up type, reads proof, folds papers, and sometimes carries them, prints job work, runs on errands, cuts wood, works in the garden, talks to all his patrons who call, patiently receives blame for a thousand things that never were and never can be done, gets little money, has scarce time and materials to satisfy his hunger, or to enjoy the quiet of nature's sweet restorer, sleep, and esteems himself peculiarly happy if he is not assaulted and battered by some unprincipled demagogue who loves puppet shows and hires the rabble with a treat of cider brandy to vote him into some petty office. A man who does all this and more, not here recorded, you will know must be a rather busy animal; and as he performs the work of so many different persons he may justly be supposed their representative, and to have the indisputable right, when speaking of himself, to use the plural number, and to say 'we' on all occasions and in all places."

Comings & Goings

An international border picnic was held at Oroville, Wash., on Tuesday, July 25, by the Women's Institute of Canada and the Homemaker's Club of Washington. Attending from the Summerland branch of the W. I. were Mrs. Gordon Ritchie, Mrs. M. E. Collas, Mrs. A. Fenwick, Mrs. Walter Wright, Mrs. Bancroft, Mrs. W. Boothe, Mrs. W. Rothwell, Mrs. George Inglis, Mrs. Myrtle Scott, Mrs. George Sheldrake, Mrs. D. Gilman and Mrs. W.L. Rumball.

After spending several weeks at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Bryan Williams of Trout Creek, Miss Mary Phillips left Thursday to return to her home in England.

Mrs. Nels Charlton, of Trout Creek, and her daughter, Jean, left last week for Regina to visit for a month and attend the Golden Wedding Anniversary of Mrs. Charlton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Reid. Mr. Reid started homesteading in Indianhead, Sask., in 1903, and was married there 50 years ago.

Dr. and Mrs. Bryan Williams, Trout Creek, spent the weekend on a trip by horseback to Cathedral Mountains. Guides from Keremeos took them to the 8000 foot level, visiting four lakes there, Quinesca Lake, Lady Slipper Lake, Pyramid Lake and Glacier Lake. They enjoyed a most beautiful ride and reported seeing acres of wild flowers in bloom.

Dr. and Mrs. J. M. McArthur and family, Donny, Murray and Heather, have returned home from a very enjoyable camping trip, going as far south as Crescent City, California, and returning via the Oregon Coast.

Barbara Beaven and Wendy Wright are attending the Anglican Camp on Lake Okanagan and are acting as leaders to the juniors there.

Miss Jean Angus has left to continue studies at Columbia University, New York, after which she will go to Montreal where she will be engaged in church work.

Mr. A. Crawford motored to the coast on Saturday, returning Sunday with Mrs. Crawford who had spent several days visiting at the coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Campbell and Laverne have returned from a holiday in Alberta.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Bonner, of Nelson, are spending two weeks at the beach house of F. E. Atkinson.

Holidaying at their home in New Port Beach, California, are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Milne and daughters, Marilyn and Lois, Mr. and Mrs. Blake Milne and family, Lorraine, June and Bruce. Mrs. D. L. Milne had preceded them down there. The Milne children will be attending school there this fall. Prior to their leave, at the evening service in the Baptist Church, Mrs. E. D. Durnin and D. M. Wright expressed thanks from the congregation to the Milne family for the work they have done in the church and the interest they have given in all its phases. The Milne Cannery will begin operation on Monday, canning apricots, and in the absence of the Milne brothers, Lorne Bloomfield will be in charge. It is reported that the Milnes intend taking up residence in California, coming back only for canning season.

was present to say a few words. Friday, July 18, a two-hour picture show was enjoyed by a large number of children in the morning while the museum, arts and crafts display, open from 2:00 to 5:00 p.m., proved to be a very popular spot, with tea being served.

The Jubilee costume ball attracted a large crowd on Friday evening, with "Saxie's" orchestra from Penticton supplying the music. The Bavarian Dancers, of the Osoyoos Harmony Club, displayed their very fine art and the intermission was enjoyed by the crowd.

Another intermission which provided entertainment was the "Surprise Fashion Parade" directed by Earl Sutherland.

Prizes were awarded to Mrs. J. H. Wilson, for the "Best-dressed" lady, and to Mrs. A.

Coldham, for the best "Old Fashioned" lady. Best dressed men's prize went to Kurt Dorn and comic prize to Harry de-Corsy deLautour, a pioneer of the district who is now living in the Seattle district and is returning with happy recollections of four days of renewed friendships.

Jo Davies was awarded the prize for the best beard at the dance, and Earl Sutherland, for the most hopeless beard. Mrs. F. E. Witt judged the beards, while Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hallstone and Mrs. Ivor Jackson were costume judges.

Saturday, July 19, the Totem Twirlers Square Dance Club staged a Jamboree, with dancing at the Totem Inn parking lot during the afternoon and in the Athletic Hall in the evening.

The Antlers picnic grounds at Deep Creek was the stage for the non-denominational church service held at four o'clock on Sunday afternoon. Between 150 and 175 persons attended with clergy representing the Anglican church, the Rev. A. A. T. Northrup and his assistant, Peter O'Flynn; the Rev. C. A. Warren, of the United church and the Rev. Lyle Kennedy, Baptist church. Mr. Warren preached the sermon, taking as his subject "Trail of the Pioneers." Chairman Topham thanked all concerned with the celebration for their hard work.

Promenade

The executive of the Summerland Pairs and Squares met on Sunday evening to decide on plans for the forthcoming pre-Peach Festival dance.

At this meeting it was decided to cancel the dance planned for Saturday, July 26, in view of the fact we will be having our pre-festival dance in less than two weeks.

Remember no dance on Saturday at Summerland.

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. B-265

DESIGN B-265. This plan has a central hall connecting all rooms. For economical construction and simple framing, all wall projections and roof dormers have been omitted. The laundry is located under the bathroom so that all plumbing pipes are concentrated in one wall. The chimney is centrally located. Other features include coat closets at both entrances, wardrobe closets and linen cabinet. Dining space is provided in the kitchen. There are book shelves over the stairs. The attached garage can be omitted if desired. Exterior finish consists of wide siding, asphalt shingles, 2'-6" overhang above picture window and a screened breezeway. Floor area is 768 sq. ft. with cubage of 14,592 cu. ft., not including garage.

Rose Bushes Must Be Guarded Against Black Spot Disease

Only the Golden Rose of China (Rosa Wichuriana) is never affected by the dread black spot disease.

There are few areas in the world where roses will do as magnificently as in B. C. They are western Washington, western Oregon, Northern Ireland, England, Belgium, France and the Spanish Peninsula. This black spot disease is first evidenced by the circular spots on the leaves. The disease also attacks the new stems but is not so easily noticed there.

It is made more apparent on the leaves because each black spot is shown up by the surrounding leaf tissue turning a bright yellow.

When this occurs the leaves or leaflets soon drop. A bad infestation will almost defoliate a rose bush.

The spores of the fungus live over the winter on the leaves. They are equally as prevalent on fall leaves as those still on the plant. In mild winters, when leaves remain on the bush all winter, nature provides this extra carry-over area.

The least noticed spots of the disease, on the new wood stems which carry most of it, are a great danger to its spread.

Many good rose growers correctly resort to pruning in the fall of much soft wood in November to remove much of this danger.

Heavy pruning in February or March removes much of the affected areas.

Spread of the disease in summer is greatly facilitated when you sprinkle or water plants. The new growth and leaves that new growth and leaves, when it is in the migratory condition in June and July.

If the rose foliage stays wet for five or six hours, the spores are greatly assisted to germinate and penetrate the adjacent leaf pores.

In about a week of fungus growth a new black spot appears around the pore through which entrance was made. In about a week, the new black spot bears more than 20,000 new spores.

One way to avoid helping the disease to spread is to irrigate the plants frequently and keep the wetting of leaves by rain or sprinkling to a minimum.

A mulch of peat moss on the soil around rose bushes will retain soil moisture to a maximum and greatly assist in preventing disease spread.

Control
Cleanliness is the first garden "must." Rake up and burn all rose leaves in fall. Carefully pick up all disease leaves that drop in summer. Better still, pick off all diseased leaves as soon as the trouble is noticed.

About December 1, many gardeners pick or cut off all suspected leaves that are still on the bushes.

Prevention is better than cure and an early spraying of all rose bushes, leaves and new stems is advised. The best control of black spot is the new fungicide captan. It is a compatible and effective agent, already included in many all-purpose rose sprays now on the market and available at all good garden supply stores and nurseries.

When spraying, be sure to do a thorough job. Get a complete coverage of all new growth, especially on both front and back of all leaves, buds and new stems.

The best time to use this spray is in the early morning. A small quantity of liquid fish fertilizer may be added to the spray for essential leaf feeding purposes.

When any sign of black spot appearance is noticed, pick off the leaf and destroy it. Accidentally dropping the diseased leaves on the soil nearby is an invitation to further infestation.

Rain or unnecessary sprinkling not only spreads the disease but also provides the wet, cold conditions necessary for the disease re-establishment. Since hose water is much colder than rain water in summer, the hose sprinkling is decidedly dangerous.

This spray program will also control the powdery mildew and all insect pests if used at regular intervals.

Today In Your Garden

CARE OF BEGONIAS

Begonia stem rot occurred in many gardens in June this season, a month early. Generally, during the first few days of July every year, brown spots appear on the stems of tuberous begonias. These disease infestations, unless they are stopped immediately, are liable to spread.

If the rotted areas become enlarged and spread around any stem, the plant will die. Begonias which are grown out in the open seldom get this trouble. Also, plants which have been fed small quantities of sulphate of magnesium (Epsom salts) seldom are affected.

Plants that are sprinkled overhead by the hose are most liable to infestation. Cold water and a misty spray both are contributing factors.

To eliminate this disease and prevent its spread, the plants should be sprayed in the early morning with captan fungicide. This spraying will also control the white mildew that has made an appearance again this year in many gardens.

To provide enough moisture for the plants, soak the soil by irrigating as often as necessary. Avoid wetting the plants by overhead sprinkling.

Diseased Flowers
Should the petals become attacked by a brown rot mold, pick them off before the disease spreads. The first sign is when the petals turn brown at the edges. The discoloration spreads quickly until all the flower is brown and falls off.

The same captan spray that is being used now for stem rot of begonias and mildew and black spot on roses is an excellent control. Be sure to saturate the soil around the plants also when application is made.

Face Front
When plants are set outdoors, most gardeners take care to have the points of the leaves facing toward the house windows or to a spot from which they will be seen most. Flowers generally face the way leaves point.

Single Flowers
Tuberous begonias are monoecious (bearing separate male and female flowers on the same plant). Only the male flower is double. Blooms usually come in threes, the male being in the centre and supported on either side by two single ones. Do not expect all double flowers on your double-flowering variety, as the female flowers are always single but nevertheless beautiful.

The female flowers should be removed as soon as they open, or even before, to allow all the plant's energy to go into the production of beautiful double male flowers.

Local Member Making Mark

The member for Okanagan Boundary appears to be making his mark in Ottawa, judging by the comments of Patrick Nicholson in his Ottawa column, which is published below:

OTTAWA — David Vaughan Pugh, 50-year-old ex-lawyer insurance man from Oliver, B.C., is representative of the average of the 1958 crop of 105 new Members of Parliament here. He is a newcomer to politics, since, a hard-working, middle-aged, making a financial sacrifice to attend Parliament, and smart enough to know what it is all about in Ottawa and across Canada as well as his home riding.

That all adds up to make him typical of the cross section of the ninety-seven new Conservative MPs who have flocked into Ottawa on the rising Diefenbaker tide.

These include men who have already reached the heights in their life career, such as Noel Dorion, the famous Quebec advocate; and youngsters with their life ahead of them like Howard Graffey from Brome-Missisquoi. They also include storied men of rich color like W. C. Henderson who rates the nickname "Mister Cariboo".

But it is the David Pughs who, by their industry in studying legislation, their attendance at committees, and their attention to the needs of their constituencies, could make our 24th Parliament truly memorable. Tells of His Home Town

Okanagan — Boundary's new member made his maiden speech during the budget debate. On such occasions, the speaker traditionally enjoys the indulgence of the House to describe his constituency. Of course it is difficult to find superlatives to describe the Okanagan Valley, that mecca to which so many people from less favored parts of Canada hope one day to retire. Mr. Pugh missed nothing of the benefits bestowed by nature and bettered by man.

Yet not being a native Columbian, he does not take the Okanagan for granted. He was born in Okotoks, Alberta. And he does not lack intimate acquaintance with even more distant places with which to compare his home, for he studied law at Osgoode Hall in Toronto, and he served with the Seaforth Highlanders and the Canadian Scottish in England, France and Germany before being wounded out of active service.

The Okanagan Valley, he told us, enjoys a variety of industries. There is fruit-farming and ranching, a little lumbering and a little mining; and of course quite a lot of tourism.

The heart of his laboriously researched and carefully reasoned speech dealt with fruit and vegetable harvest in the Okanagan, which he described simply as "second to none". Apples, for example, are a premium product, and fetch higher prices in the States than the comparable domestic product. I know that Kelowna's "Delicious" apples are the peaches of the year's apple crop, highly sought after in Ottawa stores; and I recall seeing cases from B. C. Tree Fruits Ltd. of Kelowna being delivered in Edinburgh, Scotland, only a few months ago.

But that paradise in B.C. is not without its worries, Mr. Pugh told Parliament.

The orchardists desperately need credit for long-term rehabilitation following three killing winters; credit such as is not available through the banks. Even more, orchardists need protection against dumping and the threat of dumping in Canada of the excess production of the earlier-maturing American crops. This is unfair and inconsiderate competition, which can ruin Canadian fruit growers even without the importation of a single cherry. For by quoting fire-sale prices for their end crop, American growers in effect force Canadian growers to meet that potential competition with the prices for the cream of their later-ripening crop. As Mr. Pugh expressed the case, there seems to be an obvious call for what would be an anti-dumping duty.

Okanagan's representatives have always made themselves noticed here. In the last parliament, the Social Credit MP, Frank Christian, was exceedingly active here. Before him, the CCF member Owen Jones was widely liked and respected. Before him, Conservative Hon. Grote Stirling was a very prominent "quarter century man" on Parliament Hill. David Pugh may prove himself a worthy successor in that tradition.

Home Run Costly to Macs

Now's the Time to Plan For Your Child's College Career

Like everything else these days, the cost of getting a college education keeps going up. If you wait until your son or daughter is ready to start college, the money required might well be beyond your means.

That's why the practical plan is to start saving systematically while your youngster is still very young. Many parents who can afford it begin by earmarking their family allowance cheques for a special educational fund at the Bank of Montreal. They find it adds up tremendously over the years. Cheques for one child, saved in a B of M account until the age of 16, total more than $1,600, including the interest, the bank says. And, of course, the money is always available in case it's needed for some unexpected emergency.

Jock Johnston, manager of the Summerland Branch of the Bank of Montreal, will be glad to give you a copy of the B of M's folder designed to help you calculate the cost of your youngster's higher-education program. What you save today can do a good deal towards improving your youngster's chances to get the best possible start in life when high-school days are over.

Bill Martino's two circuit clouts pushed his league-leading home run standing to nine, and aided the Kelowna Orioles in edging Summerland Macs, 9-8, in Summerland Sunday.

Martino's clouts, including his fifth-inning grand slammer, gave him six RBI's, and infielder Frank Fritz continued his streak of 16-game power batting by clouting out a singleton homer to break the 8-8 tie in the top of the ninth and win the ball game.

The Macs picked up seven hits off starting pitcher Jack Denbow, and three from reliever Ray Scott, but their ten hits and six Kelowna errors were still only good for eight runs.

Four double plays added to the game's thrills, three of them going to Summerland and one to Kelowna.

Big hitters for the Macs were Al Hooker, Jack Burton and George Taylor, with Hooker collecting two for four and three RBI's. Burton slugged a triple and Taylor got two for three, both of them doubles, one of them bringing in a run.

An impressive total of 13 earned runs in the game, seven for Kelowna and six for Macs were mute testimony to the brilliance of the play.

The win, coupled with Kamloops Okonot's edging of Vernon Clippers 5-4, left the Orioles still in second spot, 15-6 for .714, compared with Okies' 17-6 for .739. Orioles took two games in hand include the one with Summerland Macs which was called in the sixth and 5-5, and must be finished before it enters the record books.

Down in Penticton, the Red Sox, paced by pitcher Jack Durston's two-run homer, walloped the Princeton Royals 9-1 and stretched their winning streak to five. The Royals, following a surge of mound-induced power in the past few games, used up four pitchers in the rout.

W. Milne GRANVILLE STREET

Summerland today, at a conservative estimate, is some $2,000 poorer—and many hundreds of residents, young and old alike, are feeling angry and humiliated at being taken to the cleaners to the extent of $1.25 for adults, 75 cents for youngsters.

Many a family paid out as much as five dollars in the belief that they were going to get five dollars worth of thrilling worthwhile entertainment, as advertised by the self-styled "Canadian Auto Dare Devils," and here and now The Review wishes to apologize for the part it played in inducing them to part with their money by carrying the Dare Devil's advertising and readers.

"The best show on wheels—two hours of automotive fury—28 hair-raising, death-defying stunts"—shouts the advertisements carried in The Review.

By actual clocking in that last hour there was less than 10 minutes of car action—most of the hour being taken up by corny exchanges between clowns and the emcee, and some of the crude humor was on the borderline.

The big death-defying leap, supposedly the highlight of the 28 death-defying, hair-raising events, was cut out altogether.

The promoters will likely lean heavily on the fact that the printed programs contain a clause to the effect that the program of events is subject to change according to track conditions.

We don't feel it is necessary to argue about track conditions although the afternoon rains appeared to improve the track.

As for the physical features of the track and general layout of the park, the advance men of the show were in Summerland more than two weeks ago and should have known if it was necessary to limit the dare devils' dare devilling and, if so, then they should have advertised accordingly.

The Review contends that the public was misled—people in these times don't readily part with a $1.25 for entertainment unless they believe they are going to get something better than the average run of the mill entertainment—last night they did not get it.

There was one dare devil act—the biggest of the show, performed by the promoter himself—who was dare devil enough to stand at the park entrance and gouge the public.

Summerland and also a lot of Penticton folk think they have been had—there is nothing can be done about it—but the point of this editorial is to pass on a warning. The Summerland Review goes to most weekly papers in B.C. and many outside the province, we hope that the publishers of those weeklies will pay attention to the dare devils, if and when they hit their communities.

At least they should secure some form of guarantee to protect the paying public.

We think it is high time that government took cognizance of many of these travelling shows—they should be made to operate under permit—a permit which could be instantly revoked on a solid complaint such as would be forthcoming from Summerland if the machinery existed to deal with these people who, apparently, operate in the belief of Mr. Barnum "that there's a sucker born every minute."

Canadian Growers Protection Bid Attacked In U.S. Magazine

The problems facing authorities seeking to devise an equitable formula, reasonably satisfactory to the fruit growers on both sides of the border, is appallingly spotlighted in the article which appeared in the July issue of the "Better Fruits" magazine, an American publication, devoted largely to tree fruits industry in the United States. The article which follows, in full, is published by The Review in the belief that the thinking on all aspects of the tariff problems should be studied by all concerned.

CANADIANS WANT CAKE AND EAT IT

If Canadian orchardists wish to block off Canadian markets

—keeping those markets exclusively for themselves—then American fruit producers are entirely justified in demanding that American markets be closed to Canadian fruit. This is pointed out by Ernest Falk, Yakima, Wash., Northwest Horticultural Council manager, in a statement to the committee for reciprocity information on renegotiation of certain fruit and vegetable concessions by Canada.

Loss of Orchards Forecast

Orchardists in Washington and Oregon planted considerable acreage to soft fruits particularly to supply the Canadian prairie provinces, Falk declares in the statement. Much of this fruit has been used for home canning there, the same has been historically true in the western portion of the United States, he continues.

Severe financial loss will result from any closure of the Canadian market and "our Canadian customers will be deprived of products to which they have become accustomed," he points out. "This loss situation will continue until enough U. S. growers have been forced to abandon their orchards to bring production into line to supply the demand in United States. Want Cake and Eat It Too

"Loss of this capital investment, as well as the annual loss during the interim, is almost certain if we are kept out of this traditional market as proposed." Movement of American fruit into Canada has not been a one-way affair, the statement shows. Canadian apples since World War II have been exported to the United States in large volume.

"Most of these come from British Columbia. We understand that the B. C. fruit growers have actively supported the proposal to modify the current fruit tariffs, which were established through negotiations between the U. S. and Canada.

"These Canadian growers seek to deprive the U. S. growers of the considerations mutually negotiated while at the same time they want to maintain the negotiated access of their fruit to the United States market. In other words, they want to eat their cake and have it too.

"If the Canadians insist on the proposed increases in deciduous fruit duties, the United States should in turn insist on a comparable restriction of Canadian deciduous fruits into the United States. Our growers who would be injured by a modification of the Canadian tariff should receive the benefit of the compensation agreement; such compensation justly belongs to them, not to other segments of U. S. agriculture or industry.

"These growers have been materially affected since the end of World War II by the increasing volume of Canadian apples exported to the United States. In a normal crop year, from 1½ to 2 million bushels of Canadian apples have usually been exported to the United States. The effect of these apples on the U. S. apple market has been much greater than the percentage relationship to total U. S. production would indicate.

"This is true because most of the apples shipped are from British Columbia. This fruit is sold through one selling organization which is in a position to quote prices and to adopt whatever trade measures may be necessary to take over any market they see fit to acquire. Skim Cream From Market

"The Canadians ship their very best quality and choicest sizes and skim off much of the cream of the United States market. At the same time U.S. apples have been exported to Canada. Most of these exports to Canada from the Northwest are lower grades and less desirable sizes. A large volume of these apples move into Prairie and Eastern provinces only after Canadian-produced fruit is not readily available."

Falk outlines some of the background to the present controversy. Prior to 1936 U. S. duty on Canadian apples was 25 cents a bushel or ½ cent a pound. It eventually was reduced to 12½ cents a bushel, or ¼ cent a pound. The Canadian import duty on apples from August 1 to May 19 (when most of the apples are shipped) is ½ cent a pound. (The Canadians charge on a gross weight basis, while our duty is levied on the net weight.) So the Canadians collect 18½ cents for every box of American apples that moves into Canada, while an identical box coming from Canada into the United States gets in for only 10½ or 11 cents. Best Interests No Change

Falk urges that every effort be made to persuade Canadian officials to leave the tariffs unchanged. However, if the Canadians see fit to revise their tariff structure upward, and to withdraw concessions previously granted, he urges that the U.S. duty on Canadian fruits be restored to the pre-1936 level, and additional restrictions on imports from Canada be imposed to give full compensation to American growers who would be injured by the Canadian action.

"We believe the best interests of both Canadian and U.S. deciduous fruit growers will be served through retention of existing duties, but if the Canadian growers insist on excluding us from Canada, to make that market their exclusive property, we should have the U.S. market for our growers," he says in conclusion.

Cooling Rain Assist to Peach Crop

Drought-breaking rain does not ordinarily mean much in the valley, where irrigation is the rule and not the exception, but Tuesday's violent rain storms were timely and could mean more dollars in the pockets of peach growers.

According to District Horticulturist Alex Watt, the rain served to cool off the atmosphere at a time when peaches were maturing too rapidly.

"The rain should help us to achieve good sizes," Mr. Watt said.

No reports of damage from the heavy downpours, which were accompanied by high winds, have been received.

Hailstones described by one witness as bigger than cherries fell on the fringes of the district, but no hail damage is reported in the fruit belt.

Summerland Yacht Club Holds First Regatta Here Sunday

Summerland Yacht Club will hold its first regatta on Sunday at Powell Beach.

The affair is timed to kick off at 12:00 noon with the sailboat races.

Main events start at 2:00 p.m. with boat racing for all classes of boats.

Apart from boat racing there will be other aquatic events, children's swimming races, with prize cups donated for these events by Commodore L. A. Smith. There'll be water skiing and other attractions.

And the refreshment booth will have the necessities such as soft drinks, ice cream, candy, coffee, and of course hot dogs.

This is the newly formed Yacht Club's first regatta but it is expected that it will be far from the last.

The new club has moved with vigor into breakwater negotiations with the federal government and it is hoped that in the very near future Summerland will have a breakwater and a safe anchorage for its large fleet of small boats.

Tennis Club to Hold Reorganizational Meeting Thursday

The Summerland Tennis Club will hold a reorganizational meeting tomorrow night at the new tennis courts, located on the old Allison Hall site. The time, 7:30 p.m. Thursday, July 31. All interested are cordially invited.

John Huva, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Huva, is visiting with his parents while on vacation. Mr. Huva is engaged in rocket research with the Canadian Armament Research Development Establishment, Que., on loan from the Bristol Aircraft Corporation, Mr. Huva is working on rockets in connection with Canada's contribution to the International GeoPhysical year. Mr. Huva graduated from UBC in 1956.

Summerland Players to Hear Reading

Summerland Singers and Players are making plans to attend another production on Thursday, July 31—but this time it will be as part of the audience.

One of their members, Mrs. Vera McKenzie of Naramata, has won a writing scholarship to the Instituto Allende at San Miguel, Mexico, one of only four scholarships awarded for the whole of North America.

Mrs. MacKenzie has been with the Summerland group for two seasons, in the chorus of "Pirates of Penzance" and "Pinafore" and singing the role of the Leader in "Down in the Valley."

The partially completed novel which won her the scholarship was written in part at regular rehearsals of "Pirates," while the male chorus was belting out, "With oat-like tread . . ."

In order to finance the trip to Mexico, Mrs. MacKenzie (who writes under her maiden name of Vera Johnson) has rented the Penticton High School auditorium and plans to give a reading from the novel which won her the scholarship. Tickets are available from Boothe's Grocery in West Summerland.

Summerland's Young Musicians Please Examiner

Summerland students were highly successful in the Royal Conservatory of Music of Toronto examinations held in Penticton under Gerald Bates, well-known organist and examiner for the RCM.

Mr. Bates commented very favorably on the high standard of musicianship in this centre which, he said, compared very favorably with standards found in much larger centres.

Results were announced as follows:

Grade IX, Honors: Lynn Boothe; Carol James.
Grade VIII, First Class Honors: John Bergstrom.
Grade VII, First Class Honors: Ruth Lapin.
Grade VI, Pass: Marilyn Milne.
Grade V, First Class Honors: Arthur Morgan.
Grade III, Honors: Douglas Lynn; Carol Lloyd.
Pass: Betty Brown; Penny Piers.
Grade I, First Class Honors: Kevin Anstey.

Macs Play OBCs At Penticton On Friday Night

There will be no action at Athletic Park on Sunday with the Summerland Macs away at Vernon playing a doubleheader.

Mac fans, however, can see the club in action Friday night at Penticton under the lights when the Macs meet the Oliver OBCs.

In the league statistics Macs are in third spot but they'll need a win over Oliver on Friday to stay there.

Leading batsman in the OMBL is Summerland's Al Hooker who in 68 times at bat up to July 20 is hitting a nifty .392.

Al also places second to Lun Gatin of the Okanogan in the pitching statistics, with Vernon's Staff third. Gatin has won 12 and lost two. Hooker won eight and lost four.

According To The Mood

By Sid Godber

The womenfolk are away—wife and wee daughter in Vancouver. Going home is a lonesome kind of business—but at least I'm king in the kitchen.

Arriving home, I plug in the kettle, turn on the stove—unwrap juicy steak—hack off fat and suet and let same render in pan.

Sprinkle steak with salt and pepper, both sides. Then with the fat beginning to smoke—the frying pan (cast iron) just about glowing red—in with steak—five seconds and then flip, over goes the steak. It's a deep dark brown. Five seconds for the other side. Done to perfection, almost black on the outside, red and juicy inside.

Fork steak onto plate, turn off stove—still plenty of heat, break in two eggs, cook until the white begins to curl, then slap on top of steak. Make tea—real Sergeant Major's Tea, Imperial Army style. Wrong tea, lashed with scads of milk, canned preferred, and candy sweet.

Bread, dry, and there you have it, a feast fit for a king. For a variation pork chops, pork sausage and back bacon, maybe an egg, dry bread and Sergeant Major's tea.

Cheese sandwiches in between times and with a menu like that I'm not going hungry while the women folk are away—but gee it's lonesome.

Was upbraided for not reporting on or commenting about the lake swimmers last week.

So, congratulations to Pat Wicks and to Mrs. Ann Meraw as an example of human endurance, of the will to win, of tenacity of purpose, I'd say the performance of the two mermaids ranks high—even so, I can't help but ask, so what?

These feats of human endurance, endured mostly in the interests of money making, leave me cold—sitting on fling poles, marathon dancing, marathon swims, and down in the States they have a women's talking contest, some woman won it by talking 36 hours on end or something like that.

Anyway, Okanagan Lake is conquered and like everybody else I got a kick out of a young miss just slipping into the water without any big build up and accomplishing what such highly touted personages as Bert Thomas failed to do.

Actually, without having much choice in the matter, most of us are in a gruelling endurance contest—a contest that for most people doesn't end until they're six feet under—the endurance contest . . . just keeping alive.

I'm in agreement with the Indian who said, "white man crazy. Cut down trees, make big topee. Plow hill. Water wash. Wind blow soil. Grass gone, door gone, windows gone. Whole place gone. Papoose gone. Squaw too. No pigs. No corn. No plow. No pony.

Indian no plow corn. Keep grass. Buffalo eat grass. Indian eat buffalo. Hide make topee. Make mocassins. Indian no make terrace. No build dam. All time eat. No hunt job. No hitch hike. No ask relief. No shoot pig. Great Spirit make grass. Indian no waste anything. Indian no work. White man loco."

Canadian newspaperdom hasn't covered itself with glory in its handling of the visit of Princess Margaret—but I blame top management rather than the individual newspaperman. When one paper puts more than 40 staffers on one assignment and that assignment one little woman, and when, as in Vancouver, there were more than a thousand newsmen and women and photographers each trying to get something different out of the doings of one person—and when a man is measured by what he gets across the desk, then the fur is bound to fly. And when an eastern paper offers a bonus of $500 for a shot of the Princess in a bathing suit, more if it was a Bikini—and when a photog drops to ground level to get a cheese-cake shot of the Princess as wind swirled her dress—and another newspaper makes a story out of the fact that he swam down the lake to try and get a peek at the Princess in a bathing suit, but got turned back by the Mounties—jeepers creepers, we in the business should blush for our profession.

And while on the subject of newspapers, I'd like to crown the newspaper type who coined the abbreviation "Dief" for Diefenbaker. "Dief Meets Ike" read one headline.

IN YOUR ORCHARD

Proper Maturity Important In Harvesting Pears

The production of pears, particularly Bartlett's, is one of the most valuable phases of fruit growing in this area. Annually, well over 100,000 packages of pears are grown in this district. The majority of these pears are Bartlett's.

To satisfy the consumer and maintain repeat sales, pears of superior eating quality must be delivered. One of the most important requirements in maintaining quality is to have the pears harvested at the proper maturity. Pears that are harvested too early often shrivel before reaching the market, and often fail to develop full flavour. On the other hand pears that are picked too late have shortened storage life and very frequently develop breakdown in the core area.

Years ago, pears used to be harvested when the skin had developed a yellowish green tinge and a certain amount of waxiness. However, since then a more definite method of detecting maturity has been developed. This is the pressure tester.

The pressure tester has been in use for many years throughout the pear growing areas of America. It depends on the degree of flesh softening to give a maturity test. The tester consists of a spring scale device which indicates pounds pressure required to force a blunt rounded plunger five sixteenths inch diameter to a depth of five tenths into the peeled flesh of the fruit.

When nearing maturity, Bartlett pears soften at the rate of one quarter pound per day. It is recommended that for the best results they should be picked when the pressure reads 20 lbs to 18 lbs. Thus a maximum interval of seven days should be allowed from the start to completion of picking in any one lot.

The method of sampling orchards is rather important. At least ten pears should be tested from several trees scattered through the block. The trees sampled should be carrying an average crop and should be in good average vigor. In selecting specimens, sun-scalded or otherwise abnormal fruits should be avoided. The bluish side of the pear usually gives a high reading so it should also be avoided.

Each year members of the Pear Committee of the Tree Fruit Industry visit each district and test a number of orchards. Their findings this year indicate that picking of Bartlett's should be general in the Summerland area by August 5.

There are always early and late orchards. For this reason each lot should be individually pressure tested to determine the optimum picking date.

BY REV. HAROLD H. HARPER

TO MAKE DAVID KING

IN THE book of Second Samuel there is a long list of ancient Hebrew names that are hard to pronounce and that sound strange to our modern ears. They were all dear to David, son of Jesse, because they were all distinguished by one thing in common -- they were out to make David king.

They came from different places and there were some foreigners among them, such as Zolok the Ammonite and Uriah the Hittite. And it is to be imagined that some were poor in this world's goods and that some were wealthy, that some were this and some were that, but they had one great purpose -- they were out to make David king. Is it any wonder that David loved them and that their names were written in the records of Israel?

As these lines were written, De Gaulle was coming to power in France and it was hoped that all parties would unite under him to save France from civil war. And may we hope and work for a unity of purpose and will among our hundred and sixty or more millions of people that will insure the integrity and wellbeing of the Country. And this will certainly be if the majority are out to make Jesus King.

Government Must Make Up It's Mind

According to a small Canadian Press news item published last week the dominion and provincial prairie governments are already moving to the aid of drought-stricken prairie farmers.

The aid is not extensive, apparently being to assure that fodder will be available for livestock, nevertheless it is assistance and prompt assistance at that.

We here in the fruit belt do not for one moment begrudge that assistance to the prairie farmer -- but we do have cause and the right to wonder why governments will rush with all possible speed to aid one section of Canada's agricultural whole, while stalling over aid to another section.

It is true that fruit production is not as important to the economy of the country as is beef and wheat production, but fruit growing is one segment of the whole, pursued by human beings and, as such, is deserving of assistance when the need arises.

Here in the Okanagan we are waiting with ever-growing impatience for the government to implement its promises made on the hustings by the Minister of Agriculture.

The Right Hon. Mr. Harkness told election audiences in the valley that he did not see any reason why the Agricultural Prices Stabilization Act could not apply to the 1957 apple crop.

Mr. Harkness, as one of the architects of the Agricultural Prices Stabilization Act, so dearly beloved and so hotly defended by Conservatives electioneering in the Okanagan during the last election, must have known then of what he spoke. So, we feel justified in asking why the delay in announcing that a deficiency payment will be forthcoming.

Immediate financial assistance, and substantial assistance, is required to put the valley back on its financial underpinnings from which it has been thrown by the hammering impact of natural catastrophe, the frosts of 1955 and 56, and the increased cost of production without compensating increase in price.

But even financial assistance, substantial though it may be, and we hope will be, is not the full answer.

Protection at the border is one of, and possibly the most important, requirement if the fruit industry, at least within the British Columbia fruit belt, is to be able to stand on its own feet.

That this protection is going to hard to secure can be judged from the article taken from the July issue of the American "Better Fruits" magazine, entitled "Canadians Want Cake and Eat It."

The article, published on page one of this issue, is very disturbing, insofar as the viewpoint is exceedingly narrow and no attempt has been made to examine the picture of exports and imports of fresh fruits and vegetables as a whole. But there it is -- and we are afraid it represents the thinking of a lot of growers below the border.

One fact alone cuts the ground from under American arguments and that fact is that Canadians purchase American fruits and vegetables every year to the amount of $20 per capita, whereas Americans buy Canadian fruits and vegetables only to the extent of five cents per capita. Hence, we are not a factor in the American domestic market to the extent of being a threat to any American producer.

The article in Better Fruits also fails to recognize that, in the main, Canadian growers are not asking for higher tariff so much as they are asking for protection against what amounts to dumping, although price manipulation after the American grower has glutted his home markets, enables him to evade our anti-dumping regulations.

The problems of production are complex -- but they are problems the government at Ottawa must face.

It is conceivable that in the process of give and take in the delicate game of tariff negotiations that the comparatively minor Canadian fruit industry will become but a pawn in the game -- and, as everyone knows -- a pawn is designed for sacrifice.

We presume that the government will be guided by what is in the best interests of the Canadian economy -- we also presume that the government, if it sees fit to sacrifice any one segment of that economy in the good of the whole, will also see fit to put a solid financial prop under that segment.

The fruit growers of the Okanagan will be happy to stand on their own feet given reasonable protection and the same assistance given other groups in time of natural disaster and protection against unfair competition.

But the fruit grower cannot continue indefinitely to struggle back unaided from the effects of what the insurance people call "Acts of God" nor yet remain solvent in the face of unfair competition.

The time is long overdue for some move towards the stabilization of the fruit industry. The first and obvious step is for the Minister of Agriculture to see to it that election promises of financial aid are fulfilled and quickly.

The next step is to arrive at a formula which will enable the industry to maintain a reasonable level of prosperity -- which formula, we think, rests between two courses. Either the fruit industry must be given protection or a permanent subsidy.

ABOUT YOUR CREDIT UNION --

By conservative estimate, credit union members saved over $100,000,000 in interest last year alone.

Majority of credit unions are organized among industrial workers; next, among government employees, and third, in small communities. (Canada leads in number of community credit unions.) Other leading categories are credit unions organized in parishes and churches, labor unions, farmers organizations, fraternal associations, and co-ops.

World-wide interest in credit unions is growing rapidly; inquiries about credit unions have been received at CUNA from 82 countries. During 1958, there were 1,636 new credit unions organized.

Promenade

With the Peach Festival Jamboree right at our front door, dancers will be getting in the swing on Saturday night, August 2, with the first trail dance to be held at the K. P. Hall, Penticton, with the Wheel-N-Stars as hosts.

On Monday night the crowd will move on to Peachland. On Tuesday August 5, our own Summerland Pairs and Squares will hold their annual pre-festival dance in the West Summerland Memorial Park. Tell your friends about this and let us have a great party. Les Boyer will be the emcee. The executive members are planning to entertain out of town guests at their homes after the dance, and it would be very nice if other members of the club would do the same. There will be no refreshments other than pop. On Wednesday night the Peach City Promenaders

All Star Games

First annual all star game of the Okanagan Mainline Baseball League will be staged at the Elk's Stadium at Kelowna, on Wednesday, August 13, at 6:30 p.m.

The game is being held in conjunction with the famed Kelowna Regatta.

Choice of the All Stars is to be made by the respective coaches of each team in the league. The Okanagan is being split into two divisions for the game. The North Division All Stars will be from players of Kelowna, Vernon, Kamloops Okonots and Jay Rays.

Southern Division All Stars will be made up of players from Penticton Summerland, Oliver and Princeton.

Each coach will choose an entire all star team of his own choice plus a second all star team. No coach may pick players from his own team. Each coach is limited in his choice to his respective division. A placing on the first all star team rates two points for a player, and second all star rates one point. Final decision on the all star team make-up will be decided by compilation of votes for each player, by the league secretary.

Players named to the first All Star teams must play at least the first three innings of the game. Not less than two players from each club in each division shall be represented on the teams, and although the All Star coaches have the right to name their own pitchers for the classic they must be drawn from that coach's respective division.

Coach of the Northern All Stars will be Henry Tostenson of Kelowna Orioles last year's pennant winners. Coach of the Southern All Stars will be L. Burgart of Penticton, also a finalist last year.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Axworthy

Evelyn Bessie Washington Given In Marriage Saturday

Stately gladioli and tall white candles decorated the St. Stephen's Anglican Church here on Saturday, July 26, when Evelyn Bessie Washington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Washington, was united in marriage with Ross William George Axworthy, son of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Axworthy, of West Bench, Penticton. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. A. T. Northrup.

The bride wore a full skirted gown of imported lace over lustrous satin, which she designed and created for her wedding day. The scalloped edges of the lace exposed the molded satin bodice at centre front.

The front of the bodice and the lacy outline of the Sabrina neckline were studded with seed pearls. Long lily-point sleeves were held at the wrists with tiny buttons.

The lace of the skirt was draped from the centre back point of the bodice to the hemline to show the shine of the satin underskirt.

The only jewellery worn by the bride was pearl earrings, a gift of the groom.

Her veil was held in place by a cap of matching fabric accented with pearls and outlined with flowers of lace.

The bride's bouquet was of white flowers with a trace of pink at the centre.

The bridal attendants wore ballerina-length dresses, identically styled in frothy sheer over taffeta. The sleeveless bodice of each was gently gathered into a bateau collar which dipped to a deep V at the back. The full skirts were accented by shirred bumbands which were tied in large bows with long floating ties.

Picture hats of matching material, delicately shirred and finished with a bow at the back, were worn by each attendant. Miss Linda Scott, as junior bridesmaid, wore a delicate powder blue and carried a bouquet of pale pink gladioli.

Miss Marilyn Washington of West Summerland, and Mrs. Gerald Washington of West Vancouver, wore gowns of sky blue and carried bouquets of medium pink gladioli.

Mrs. J. G. McMynn of Midway, as her sister's matron of honor, wore a soft shade of electric blue and carried a bouquet of deep pink.

For going away the bride chose a sheath dress of pink linen featuring Empire waistline finished with a small bow at center front. The linen of the skirt was alternated with narrow rows of pink satin.

Over the sheath the bride wore a light coat of matching pink linen. The large shawl collar formed the background for her contrasting blue corsage.

She completed her costume with a tiny hat of pink flowers and pink gloves. She wore white shoes and carried a white purse.

Out of town guests attending the ceremony were: Mr. and Mrs. G. Axworthy, Penticton; Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Gould, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. J. G. McMynn and Mr. and Mrs. C. G. McMynn, Midway; Mrs. J. H. Riba, Vallejo, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Washington, West Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Axworthy, South Slokan; Mr. and Mrs. C. Gould, Chilliwack; Mr. and Mrs. H. Gould, Sandra and Ted, Smithers; Mrs. O. Mawhinney, North Surrey; Mr. and Mrs. A. Kent, Penticton; Miss Carol Raincock, Trail; Mr. and Mrs. A. Smith and Eleanor, and Mr. and Mrs. P. Meronek, Osoyoos; Mr. and Mrs. D. Spiers, Kamloops; Mr. D. H. Geuld, and Mr. Husband, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. D. Gaby, Princeton; Mr. and Mrs. C. Snowden, Lloydminster, Sask.

TO THOSE WHO NEED MONEY
...for a useful purpose

There is a time to BORROW and a time to SAVE

And for many a B of M depositor they are one and the same.

If you need cash for some useful purpose, it may be good business for you to borrow rather than draw out your savings.

By borrowing for some useful purpose, and by making regular repayments on your loan, you are in reality — saving for a useful purpose. Meanwhile, you are keeping your savings programme intact.

This is wise spending, wise borrowing and wise saving.

DO YOU NEED MONEY? If you are in a position to repay without hardship, we are in a position to lend...for the payment of insurance premiums, educational fees, medical, dental and funeral or legal expenses, taxes, etc. You repay by monthly instalments.

WALL PLANTS

Warmth and color can be added to bare walls and fences by selecting perennial climbing plants which are capable of supporting themselves as they develop.

One of the loveliest for this purpose is cotoneaster horizontalis, with its compact neat foliage, coloring vividly in autumn and its abundance of red berries. Even when the branches are bare in winter, the plant retains a distinctive charm with its herring-bone formation of branches. It will grow well in ordinary garden soil but responds vigorously to generous treatment.

An unusually effective plant is magnolia soulangeana. It is deciduous, but has rare beauty when flowers appear in April and May. They are white stained with purple and shaped like a tulip. The foliage is excellent during summer.

Magnolia grandiflora is a very handsome evergreen and bears large, creamy fragrant flowers in late summer. Magnolias prefer a south-west wall and should be pruned right after flowering. A deep, well-drained loamy soil is ideal, although fine specimens can be grown in ordinary garden soil if an annual mulch is given, plus an occasional soaking during dry spells.

For a south or west wall escallonias are most pleasing with their slightly pendulous growth and abundance of flowers during summer. They grow quickly in ordinary garden soil, but pruning will keep the plant shapely.

MORE FAVORITES

Cydonia japonica or Japanese quince is spectacular in the spring with its masses of bright red flowers which are long lasting. They bring glowing color to the spiky branches and attract considerable attention. The flowers are followed by numerous quince fruits like a small apple, which have a delightful aroma and are sometimes made into jelly. The cydonias make good growth in general garden soil.

Pyracantha lalandii is too well known to require much description; as a wall plant it has few equals for bright, bold beauty. When grown on a wall it requires its frontal branches shortening to make the plant compact. If trimmed back to about 18 inches from the wall, it gives a display of berries that is extraordinary. When planting it is advisable to incorporate some old animal manure, peat or garden compost in the soil. This firethorn or pyracantha will thrive on a sunless wall.

The ceanothus family is large and its flowering season ranges from April to October. They all need plenty of sun, being natives of California.

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. D-251

DESIGN D-251. This plan provides for two bedrooms on the first floor rear, with unfinished space in the attic for a future bedroom. The living room and kitchen are in front, and entrance to the living room is through a vestibule with coat closet. Other closets include wardrobes in bedrooms, coat and house-keeping closets in the side entry, linen cabinet, and closet in the bedroom hall. Dining space is provided in the kitchen. There is a full basement.

Exterior finish includes picture window, flower box, shutters, wrought iron railings, wide siding and asphalt shingles. Area on the ground is 881 sq. ft. and cubage is 18,259 cu. ft.

CABOT'S STAIN WAX AND INTERIOR STAINS

Penetrating Stain Finishes for all types of wood, which will bring out the full beauty of color, grain and texture.

CABOT'S STAIN WAX

Cabot's Stain Wax will stain, wax and seal all interior wood panelling, woodwork, furniture, cabinets and floors -- in one operation.

This unique combination of a stain, a wax and a sealer penetrates deeply into the pores of the wood and produces a rich, satin-like finish beneath which glow the delicate shadings of the wood grain. Thus, the wood is beautifully finished with only one application instead of the customary three.

Newspapermen Are Entertained

Royal tour newspapermen from all parts of the world enjoyed a generous sample of the Okanagan's finest food and drink at a press luncheon hosted by B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., and previewed a new documentary film on apples.

The goodwill gesture offered "everything except the salt and pepper" as Okanagan produce. Menu included speckled trout, salad and cold turkey, and fresh fruit. Cold bottled cider was served to cap the meal, then the color film "Temptation," produced by B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., was introduced by R. P. Walrod, general manager of the growers' selling agency. Mr. Walrod explained to the newsmen that his association, representing 3,600 growers, was trying to put a substantial basis under the industry by converting into items like cider.

B.C. sparkling apple cider is a product of three years research, Mr. Walrod said, and its success has an important effect on the future of the B. C. fruit industry. He said that 50,000 cases of cider were sold in three months recently.

One of the first orchards planted on the west side of Okanagan Lake at Peachland was the orchard pictured above, which was planted at the turn of the century. This was one of the many pictures brought to light as long-time residents searched their albums and records, reviving history during Peachland's Golden Jubilee Year.

New Program For Sale of Christmas Gift Apples

The B.C. fruit industry is embarking on a new program for the sale of Christmas gift apples. This extension to its merchandising operation was announced by R. P. Walrod, general manager of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd.

Starting next month a variety of special gift packages will be introduced for Christmas delivery throughout Canada and, perhaps, for export shipping if demand warrants.

Indications point to an attractive potential volume if Canadian buying habits parallel those of the United States where gift packaged fruit is becoming increasingly popular.

EXPAND OPERATIONS
B.C. growers have been in the gift business in a limited way for some years and the decision to expand this phase of the selling operation is the result of several months investigation and study of today's trends in the gift packaging field.

Actual marketing will begin almost immediately on a test basis and results carefully measured for the purpose of laying a solid foundation for future developments as the demand appears. The importance of package design has been recognized, and present plans call for the introduction of at least three in order to offer a well-rounded selection in various price groups.

Previously, chief interest in this type of merchandise has been in the business field and the current expansion program will seek substantial increase in volume in this trade through the medium of direct mail and limited business publication advertising.

GIFT PACKAGES

Plans also call for probing personal gift market through the use of advertising in class magazines on a limited scale, as fruit officials feel that caution is a wise policy in an endeavor that is relatively new in Canada.

There is also a possibility that a special package of the type previously used will be tested through commercial outlets.

Full scale operation in gift fruits has many problems. The industry is now geared for mass sales, usually in carload volume. If the new development prospers it will be similar to any mail-order business but with exceptions, for the problems of shipping large numbers of perishable individual packages all over the country express are countless. However, officials intend to meet the challenge of these demands.

Chief among the advantages is an attractive added potential outlet for quality fruit if the market develops in volume. And, in the ordinary way, it does not interfere with across-the-counter sales of regular commercial fruit. There is also the prospect of premium returns for shippers and growers in producing fruit to the exacting requirements that must be met.

Macs Drop Double-header To Rampaging Orioles

Kelowna's rampaging Orioles climbed to the top of the league ladder over the weekend when they took the Summerland Macs 9-8 and 5-1 in a fan pleasing double-header played in the Orchard City, Sunday.

Summerland's Al Hooker kept on top of the batting statistics by smashing out a four bagger with two men on in the top of the eighth and in the first game to tie the score and give home town fans something to worry about. But the Orioles had some big hitters too. Bill Martino, the Orioles' centre fielder, was the big man with the wood, with a single that scored the winning run in the first game and following through with a home run in the second to drive in two useful runs.

Another big man at bat for the Orioles was Joe Kaiser, with two doubles.

On the mound the Macs used Esche, Burton and Hooker in the first game with Burton credited with the loss.

The Macs had a big sixth inning, racking up six runs on five hits and three errors.

The Macs' barrage knocked Schaeffer out of the box, but Denbow came in to stop the rally and get credit for the win, and get credit for the win.

Macs' hopes went soaring in the top of the ninth when Al Hooker clouted out his homer to tie up the game, but Martino's single crushed their hopes of at least splitting honors with the powerhouse Kelowna club.

In the second game both clubs were scoreless until the fourth, when Martino again bedevilled the Macs by romping across the plate on Jablonski's single.

The Macs lone run came in the seventh, but the Orioles replied with four in the bottom of the eighth to put the game and double-header in the bag.

Junior Red Sox Lose to Vernon

On Sunday the Vernon Juniors defeated the Red Sox 8-3, and thereby eliminated the Red Sox from any chance at first place in the junior league. It is now evident that Vernon will finish first and Summerland second, the battle now is for third and fourth place, between Pentiction and Naramata. The playoffs will start on August 17 with Vernon meeting the third place team and Summerland the fourth place team, in a best of three semi-final series.

In the Sunday game the Vernon team outclassed and out-hustled the Red Sox. They picked up 14 hits and only made one error. The Red Sox could only get six hits and they made three errors. Highlight of the game was Huva scoring all the way from first on McNabb's sacrifice and there was no error on the play.

In other league action Kere-moos picked up their third win of the season with a 6-5 decisive over Pentiction.
