WEST SUMMERLAND, B.C.

Centennial Celebration Here Another Community Triumph

There may be bigger B.C. Centennial celebrations, but for a community-wide endeavor they'll never come any better than did Summerland's Centennial Day observed yesterday, June 4.

It was a fast moving program that started off with a large and varied pet and decorated bicycle parade at 10 a.m. and things hummed on through the afternoon and on through the evening to end eventually with the strains of the Home Sweet Home waltz in the early hours of Thursday, to mark conclusion of the Queen's Ball.

Throughout, the entertaining and fast moving program was sustained by the enthusiasm of the huge crowd of spectators.

Elsie Karlstrom was crowned Summerland's 1958-59 queen at a delightful ceremony highlighting the Summerland Centennial Celebrations.

Queen Elsie won the proud title in a close competition with six other representatives of Summerland's teen-agers.

Princesses are Gail Fenney and Susan Lauer.

Retiring Queen Marjorie Campbell crowned the new Queen.

Judges were Dr. Sarah Williams, Ben Trafford and James Onley.

which massed at the Athletic Park around 500 strong in the morning and steadily increased until at its peak for the Queen crowning, many more than 1,000 were estimated to be in attendance.

A surprise packet was the overflow crowd which jammed the High School Auditorium in the evening to see Summerland's Singers and Players give a repeat performance of the "Pirates of Penzance." A performance which won even more acclaim than did the earlier presentation, here.

The Centennial celebrations served again to spotlight Summerland's wealth of talent.

The variety show in the afternoon, highlighted by the Japanese organization's colorful national costumes and dances and concluded by the rib tickling performance of the Legion Ladies in costumes running the range for 100 years and with a peek into the future, with antenna headress, kept the crowded grandstand happy. Enlivening the whole day was the playing of Summerland's bands, the High School bands and the Town Band.

Girl Guides, Brownies, Cubs and Scouts, Baton Twirlers, Maypole dancers, School choir, all added variety and zest to the well-planned program.

Macs Clash With Okonots Here Sunday

Summerland Macs will have the advantage of the home ground and the home crowd on Sunday when they seek to decide the issue of second place in the Okanagan-Mainline Baseball League against the Kamloops Okonots. The two clubs have been see-sawing back and forth from the start of the season. Macs are going great guns this season having played to far 10 and only lost 3.

Game time is 2:30 p.m. at the Athletic Park, Sunday, June 8.

Pioneer Fred Gartrell Honored At Centennial Celebration Here

Honored at Summerland's Centennial Celebration was Frank Gartrell, the only pioneer in the district to qualify for the Centennial pioneer scroll given in tribute to the work of pioneer residents of British Columbia. Mr. Gartrell who came to British Columbia and to the Okanagan Valley in 1884 received the scroll, signed by Lt. Governor Ross and Premier W. A. C. Bennett at the hands of S. A. MacDonald, chairman of the Summerland Centennial Committee.

In all his long life, Mr. Gartrell told the applauding crowd I have never seen any place to beat the Okanagan and Summerland.

BEST ALL ROUND STUDENT and winner of the Verrier trophy was Eddie Matsui, noted among many other things for his fine trumpet playing. Eddie is shown receiving the top award from School Principal A. K. Macleod.

"B.C. Sparkling Cider" Lauded At Introduction

KELOWNA—The quality of British Columbia sparkling cider compares most favorably with that of the finest Hereford cider in England, indicating a promising future for the new B.C. fruit product.

So declared J. B. Cross, president of Calgary Brewing & Malting Co., recent purchaser of the Princeton Breweries, at a luncheon held here to officially introduced the new B.C. beverage.

The luncheon, arranged by B.C. Fruit Processors Ltd., was attended by 75 representatives of the fruit industry, Summerland Research Centre, Princeton Breweries, Valley hotelmen, and press and radio representatives.

A. G. DoaBrisay of Penticton, B.C. Fruit Processors president, was chairman for the gathering. R. F. Walrod, manager, and Ian Greenwood, cting manager, of Processors, also spoke briefly.

Mr. Cross, in his remarks, offered full use of his company's laboratory facilities at Calgary for further research and improvement of the cider, implying that although the beverage was excellent in a cool condition, its flavor at room temperature might be improved.

He added that more apples would be needed if the cider's present success continues. Plans for this year are to make four more runs of 16,000 half-cases

Further proof of the cider's acceptance, was a request this week for an agency for the whole of the State of Washington which had to be rejected for lack of supply.

Mr. Greenwood said no apples have been wasted in the Okanagan but the cider will mean a better price for lower-grade apples than some other

Postpone Service Station Opening

Owing to unforeseen delay in arrival of vital equipment, including the gas pumps, the opening of Clark and Evans new service station at the foot of Granville Street, advertised last week for June 6 had to be postponed. Work on completing the service station is being rushed and opening planned for this month.

According To The Mood

By Sid Godber

And so Godber went hungry again. Invited to a luncheon Tuesday at which to be introduced to B.C. Sparkling Cider.

Luncheon at the Kelowna Aquatic Lounge — nice surroundings, nice people — cider to be on tap and I anticipated a steak, rare. Instead I got that horrible combination of cold meats, lettuce smothered with gooey dressing, the poor old radish mutilated to look like a tulip, eggs cold and hard and peppered olives, spring onions and those all permeating pickles and, of course, cold, clammy potato salad.

While Russ Richardson, formerly of CKOK now of CHBC-TV consumed his meal and most of mine with relish and gusto, this columnist chewed on a bun.

So I hungered, but did not thirst. Found myself, sipping cider, rolling it around my tongue savoring the tart, but very pleasant drink and at the same time viscus temperance with Summerland's Board of Trade president Lloyd Miller, Mr. Miller doing his official duty, representing the board on this occasion enjoyed his cold plate, drank his own and my tomato juice but eschewed cider.

Could be that cider is going to have a marked effect on the economy of the valley.

Main thing about the cider deal is that it is not a distress product — apple juices and what not, do not put much back in the growers' pockets, but his cider has been priced to give the grower a decent return for his apples.

Argument that cider should be as cheap if not cheaper than beer falls by the way side when one stops to consider that a barrel of beer is made up of a little barley, a little hops and a little yeast and umpteen gallons of water — and water is very, very cheap — whereas to make a barrel of cider requires exactly a barrel of apple juice.

About the most that can be expected is about a dollar off the starting price of $4.20 a dozen.

Even at that it should find a ready market — it is a light drink, very refreshing and altogether a product of which the men who created it after 15 years of experimentation can be rightfully proud.

Yes, I think B.C. Sparkling Cider is here to stay and also, I'm afraid, is cold, clammy potato salad.

They Fed The Multitude - Well

"We can feed a thousand," said Kiwanis pancake committee chairman Gerry Hallquist and by golly they nearly did. More than 700 men, women and children, the pre-school children in for free, sat down to the pancake supper put on by the Kiwanis club and praise for the pancakes, resounded throughout the Athletic Park. Other busy as bee workers through the long hot day were members of the Kinsmen Club who served for eight solid hours almost without intermission, served pop, ice-cream, revels, and all the rest of it that goes to make up a amply stocked food concession.

Then at 7 p.m. the Rotary Club took over with Bingo, with intervals between games given over to selections by the Town Band.

CODLING MOTH BULLETIN

The numbers of adult Codling Moths caught in this area is greater to this date than last year. Numbers and earliness of first brood larvae entering fruit in the Southern part of the Valley suggest that great care should be taken to ensure thorough coverage and spraying on time this year. The second Codling Moth spray should now have been applied in this district.

GRASSHOPPERS

Grasshoppers are now being noticed on roadsides, range lands and in some home gardens. The warm dry fall of 1957 together with a very mild winter could mean a bumper crop of these annoying pests this year. At the present time the grasshoppers are very small and are not causing much damage. However, as the season progresses they will grow in size and probably increase in numbers. The early damage is usually to home gardens. Raspberries often take a severe beating. Later on the grasshoppers frequently attack ripening stone fruits such as apricots and peaches.

To control grasshoppers and prevent damage to fruit and garden products the orchardist should spray when the 'hoppers are small. Action now will be far more effective than later on when the insects have grown to adult size.

Control is achieved by spraying the cover crop, weeds and vegetation surrounding the plants to be protected. Either Aldrin at 3 ounces of actual material per acre or Chlordane at the rate of 12 ounces actual material per acre are recommended. The insecticide is applied in as little water as possible (10 gals per acre preferred), so that there will be little or no "run off" from the leaves of the cover crop. The aim is to "stick" the insecticide to the leaves so that the grasshoppers will have maximum opportunity to contact it when moving in the cover crop.

For orchard use a concentrate sprayer is easily adapted to control the 'hoppers. Where the orchard is surrounded by range land or wild land a border strip should be sprayed right around the orchard to form a barrier through which new infestations must pass. It is usually not necessary to spray the entire orchard area and good results can be achieved by covering alternate panels in the orchard. Only the cover crop is sprayed. It is not necessary or desirable to spray the fruit trees.

As Aldrin and Chlordane are toxic to humans they should not be applied to the edible portions of fruits and vegetables within three weeks of harvest.

- Summarizing:
1. Grasshopper control should be started now while 'hoppers are small.
  2. Aldrin or Chlordane are recommended for control.
  3. Use as little water with spray as possible.
  4. Spray cover crop, range land or wild land surrounding plants to be protected.

Blanket Hail Insurance . . .

Officials of the growers' hail insurance company were very happy last week to be able to announce that the damage from the hail storm of May 28 was not as bad as at first feared. After investigation the financial loss was estimated as in the neighborhood of 40 per cent.

This, of course, is something for the hail insurance company to be happy about, but what about the grower and there were several who suffered hail damage and who did not carry hail insurance.

Forty percent loss is, for such uninsured growers, a grim one indeed. To realize the full value of what remains the grower must work his orchard as if he was working towards a 100 per cent financial return. His operating costs, will be little, if at all reduced.

It is easy to say that it's a grower's own funeral for not taking out hail insurance, but some growers were caught simply because the hail came much earlier than it has in other hail years. Fifty percent of the growers, as a matter of record, do not take out insurance until the middle of June.

It appears that in such an organization as the BCFGA there is room for a blanket hail insurance scheme. It is, of course, not easy for a grower whose orchard lies outside the hail belts, to accept another levy against every box of fruit, but such a scheme would greatly reduce the cost of hail insurance and give every one automatic and complete protection.

We think growers could well give serious consideration to establishing such a scheme — and those living outside the more or less established hail belts should give consideration to the possibility that nothing is so unreliable as the weather, and their happy situation today could be reversed tomorrow.

DISCOVER BEAUTIFUL B.C. THIS CENTENNIAL YEAR

Vacation in Vancouver and tour the Fraser Valley, too!

Isn't it strange — people travel the world over, often overlooking the beauty that lies outside their doors. How fortunate for us in B.C. that so much of nature's wonderland is so close to us. Take Vancouver, for instance. Here is one of the world's most beautiful harbours. Visitors call it North America's Rio de Janeiro and no nicer compliment can be paid. How recently have you visited your province's Gateway to the Orient, Canada's third largest city?

There's no other city like it in all Canada — with beautiful beaches, parks and playgrounds, with fishing and sailing just off-shore, its "Theatre Under the Stars", its colorful Chinatown, intriguing shops, chair lifts to mountain tops and a thousand other attractions. Golf, tennis, riding, hiking, bowling, sailing — all sports are here for you and your family, and every type of accommodation too, from deluxe hotels to modest motels.

Yes, vacation in Vancouver this Centennial year — and for added fun, see the shows and plays and movies, see the special Centennial events and attractions that are making Vancouver the mecca for tourists from thousands of miles away.

You'll want to tour the Fraser Valley, too. Enjoy the hot springs in Harrison, the Fair at Chilliwack, see the Dominion Day Festival at Mission, see Fort Langley rebuilt as it was in the pioneer days. Plan now — go soon. Contact this newspaper for the newest programme of Centennial events scheduled for the Lower Mainland. Here is your opportunity for your best holiday ever — don't let it pass you by!

Member Reports

The second week of Parliament has been devoted entirely to a continuation of the debate on the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne.

It is during this debate that the new members receive their best opportunity to make their maiden speech. There is a very good reason that they should make their speeches at this time and that is because of the latitude allowed the members. Actually they may talk about practically anything that comes to mind and of course with all new members, the constituency seems the basis of the talk.

The speeches seem to follow a pattern. First of all the member congratulates the Speaker on his appointment and then a short word of congratulation to the mover and seconder of the address.

The next point covered is the geographical features of the member's constituency and then the problems relating to it. By doing this the member puts on record all the varied problems which face him from home. A solution to these problems is finally offered.

To other members these speeches may become a little trying but I may assure you they are of the utmost importance, and particularly so to the member making the speech. It is interesting to see the approach each one has. It is also interesting because, for the first time many members are given a broad picture of the country and of its various problems and needs.

Of particular interest to the Okanagan was the speech made by Mr. Stuart Fleming, the member for Okanagan-Revelstoke, in which he summed up the fruit and vegetable problem and made reference to the gradual deterioration of the growers' position. He also covered United States competition and, distress selling pointing out that importations have been entering our Canadian markets at prices which make it impossible for our fruit and vegetable industry to compete. Mr. Fleming stressed the importance of the Act and the fact that to be useful, our commodities should have first access to Canadian markets at prices which are related to our cost of production. He covered the efforts of the Canadian Horticultural Council in obtaining a minimum fair value for duty.

Friday marked the calling of the first division, or vote, on the CCF, sub-amendment to the Throne Speech. This was defeated 194 to 8. To a new member the method of tallying the vote was intensely interesting. As each member stood in turn to record his vote, Mr. Dubroy, the assistant clerk of the House, called each member by name, without reference to notes and without error. This is quite a feat and drew tremendous applause as he finished. To a new member each day brings forth some new aspect of the wonderful traditions which make for the smooth running of our Parliament.

Cub & Scout News

Two new chums, Raymond Betuzzi and Robert Munro, have joined the 1st Summerland Cub Pack. We extend to them a hearty welcome to cubbing and hope they enjoy all the activities of the Pack.

The Pack went on a ramble on May 10 to Little Pine Mountain. The boys worked on observation tests, took instruction on building fires, outdoors and passed fire lighting tests.

Jimmy Arbush has received his first Star. Congratulations Jimmy; we hope you will soon win your second Star.

The Cubs have been working hard on a short play for the Centennial Celebrations, and we hope it is enjoyed on June 4. Several of the boys have collected storage batteries and if any of our readers have one to dispose of, they can do so by getting in touch with a Cub or Cubmaster J. M. MacArthur.

Our appeal for items of Cub uniforms, to be donated to the new Pack being formed on the Penticton Reserve, has produced so far three pairs of shorts and two pairs of socks. Some small Indian boy will be very proud and happy when we have items enough for a full uniform.

The 1st Summerland Scout Troop with Scout Masters Milton Weiss and Rob Towgood in charge spent the weekend at Faulder camping out and working on the cabin that is under construction for winter Scout activities.

The boys hiked to Agar Lake and back and all had a most enjoyable time.

We had another work party at the winter cabin on Wednesday night. Don Fisher, Bill Ross, Stan and Mr. Krause, Harvey Wilson, Dwayne Dickinson and Dave McIntosh all worked hard and finished the sheathing. Frank Bennisson came along to put up the chimney. It should not be long now before we are ready for the official opening.

Don't forget to get your Centennial license plate tags from either a Scout, Don Fisher, Dave McIntosh or Alec Watt.

Kiwassa Club Hears Results Of An Idea

The idea of a school for handicapped children in this district having first been suggested at a meeting of the Kiwassa Club, ladies of this club attending the regular monthly meeting last week at the home of Mrs. J. A. Stewart, were interested in hearing an informative talk by Mrs. B. Leibert and Mrs. Farrow, teachers in the Apple Blossom School, on the progress made during the first year of operation.

The teachers feel that much has been accomplished this year and that great deal of help has been given these children. Beautifully handworked pictures and games made for the children by Mrs. Leibert were displayed. Music plays a large part in their training as music reaches them in a way that nothing else does. For instance, where it is hard for them to learn the alphabet in the ordinary way they are able to memorize their ABCs and such things to the rhythm of music.

During this year there have been five pupils attending and classes have been held in the Summerland Baptist Church, but it is hoped that eventually they will be able to integrate with the public schools, as has already happened in some centers, pupils attending special classes but mixing wherever possible, thus giving the handicapped children a feeling of belonging and being allowed to participate in much of what the other youngsters are doing.

Proud winner of the Verrier Trophy, awarded annually to the best all-round student of the graduation class, was Eddie Matsu, who received the coveted award at the hands of Summerland High School Principal A. K. Macleod.

Thirty-nine Students received their diplomas at the 13th annual graduation exercises held last Friday.

Diane Durick, the graduation class poet, was the winner of the $250 Summerland Scholarship, which demands high academic rating, qualities of leadership and intent to continue study at University. Summerland's Reeve F. E. Atkinson made the presentation.

Reeve Atkinson, told the students, that "in education lies the strength of the Country," and the student is missing out who does not take full advantage of the educational facilities available, facilities which take two out of every three taxpayers' dollars to provide.

Class Valedictorian was Phyllis Fabbi.

Dr. Maxwell L. Howell, of the University of British Columbia, guest speaker, told the students that one of the most important factors in achieving success and happiness in life is the ability to get along with others.

The High School has cause for pride in the fact that the graduating class represented 50 percent of those who started out in grade three, according to E. E. Hyndman, inspector of schools. Surveys show 19 percent continue on to higher education and 12 percent will attend the universities. This, Mr. Hyndman pointed out, is better than the average for Canada, which is seven percent.

Warmly praised for their efforts by Mr. Macleod were the members of the Grad Committee, grade XI's John Woolliams, Ed. Hannah, Anita Watson and Arlene Ambree. Teacher D.M. Loan supervised this committee, which arranged the program. A banquet at which more than 200 sat down and the graduation dance concluded the big day in the lives of the Graduation Class of 1958.

Scholarships and bursaries other than those previously mentioned were presented to the winners as follows:

Student Bursary, $100, to Len Burden, presented by Kiwanis Club President, J. E. O'Mahony. Summerland Teachers' Association Bursary, $200 was won by Ruby Gronlund and presented by H. V. Stent.

Ruby Gronlund also won the North American Mathematics Society prize, which was presented by School Vice-Principal J. P. Tamblyn.

Jean Northrop and Amy Berry were joint winners of the $250 Canadian Legion Bursary given by Branch 22 and presented by President W. C. McCutcheon.

The new Cranna awards went to Diane Durick and to Phyllis Fabbi, as the top academic students in the graduation class. Presentation was made by the guest speaker, Dr. Maxwell L. Howell of UBC.

P-TA Industrial Arts prizes to Ron Manning of the graduating class and to David Petrinchuk, of grade XI, presentation by Mrs. Victor Parker.

Mrs. L. W. Rumball, president of the Women's Institute made the presentation of W. I. silver rose bowl and an engraved replica, to Valedictorian Phyllis Fabbi for top standing in home economics.

John Woolliams grade XI and Ebba Richmond, grade X, won book prizes for general proficiency, presented by H. M. Parker and D. M. Loan.

Winners of Athletic awards were, big block, Carol Reinertson, Carlton Sheeley, Len Burdon and John Menu. Honorable mention, Edna Glaser and Ruby WINNER OF THE KIWANIS BURSARY — O'Mahony. Len was also winner of the most popular player award as voted by his colleagues on the senior basketball team.

Gronlund, who already won the big block letters. Small blocks were won by Grace Johnson Eleanor, Raincock, Emille Bonthoux, Satoshi Uchida and Ed. Menu. G. E. Mundle, made the presentations.

Chosen by the players of the senior boys' basketball team to receive the new trophies for the most popular player and most valuable player awards were Len Burden and Vern DeWitt. Len Burden and Ruby Gronlund were also recipients of top athletic awards. P. W. Minchin, the school's athletic instructor made the presentations.

Activity pins were awarded by K. D. McInnes to Pat Boyd, Len Burden, Dot Carston, Diane Durick, Phyllis Fabbi, Bonnie Wilson, Roy Wilson and Wendy Wright.

Summerland Macs Defeat K'loops Jay-Rays

The Summerland Macs played errorless ball Sunday to defeat the Kamloops Jay Rays 9-3. The Macs started right out in the first inning by scoring 2 runs and from then on just kept adding up more runs with 3 in the second 1 in the fourth, 2 in the fifth and 1 in the sixth, while holding the Jay Rays down to 1 run in the third and 2 in the seventh.

Top batter for the day was Merv Lerquist who collected two hits for 3 times at bat and scored twice.

Others in top batting form were Taylor, Biollo and Hooker who had 2 hits each and Ollie Egely hit once.

This next Sunday Summerland plays host to the Kamloops Okanots. It should be a very good game as these teams are fighting for second pot in the league standings.

See you at the game Sunday, game time 2:30 p.m.

Red Sox Gain Second Place Beat Pentiction 7-5

The Summerland Red Sox took over second place in the Junior league on Sunday, when they defeated the Pentiction Juniors in a hard fought ball game in Pentiction. The local boys led all the way but had to score two runs in the top of the ninth to come away with a 7-5 victory.

Sheeley went all the way limiting Pentiction to six hits although he was wild and gave up six base on balls. Skinner with a triple, DeWitt and Lemke with doubles and Shannon and Sheeley with two singles each were the big guns for the Red Sox.

The Red Sox win coupled with the 4-2 upset handed Vernon by Oliver gives Summerland a chance to tie for first place next Sunday in Vernon. In the other game in the league Naramata pushed Keremeos further into the cellar with a 3-0 victory.

Today In Your Garden

Typical of the odd kinds of plant disorders that may arise from obscure, poorly-defined causes is the experience of the home gardener who, having too liberally applied chicken fertilizer to his raspberry planting, found that the leaves and stalks grew magnificently but that there far too few fruits.

This was a case of too much nitrogen, the counter being simply to balance out the feeding program by using high phosphate, high-potash materials in addition to the chicken.

If lawn grasses begin to weaken, turn yellow or even brown, now, chances are good that lack of nitrogen is the principle cause. But, as you apply a nitrogen fertilizer to correct, it would also be wise to use a fungicide like captan, too.

YELLOWING LEAVES

Where leaves of any kinds of garden plants begin turning yellow-green, then a more pronounced yellow, the discoloration starting with the lower older leaves and progressing upward, the probable cause is lack of nitrogen again. The antidote is to apply a good nitrogen carrying material. We regard the several kinds of synthetic ureas as being the most effective and most economical of the nitrogen-carrying products. Put them on mildly, not heavily, 2 to 3 pounds per 1,000 sq. ft.

If leaves show yellowing between the vines, as with the raspberry that is illustrated, suspect at once that a lack of one or another of the secondary or trace minerals is the culprit. From the practical standpoint of the home gardener, it is recommended that you become familiar with the really complete fertilizer mixtures that are on the market, and apply them. Remember too, that this kind of yellowing will occur on the youngest leaves at the tips of the plants' branches, or in the middle of the shrub or flower, as well as on the old, lowest foliage.

WATER LOSS

Browning of leaf edges such as accompanies the between-the-veins yellowing in the rhododendron leaf sketched may be still another complication. We would always suspect, immediately, that something was going wrong down in the root zone, something that was preventing normal upward movement of water and the necessary food chemicals. Root weevils, working on the tender underground parts, may be responsible. So treat with a liquid insecticide that contains lindane, chlordane, aldrin or dieldrin. At the same time, put on the complete fertilizer mixture, with trace and secondary minerals in it, just in case the lack of some of them may also be responsible.

In alkaline-soil sections where iron chlorosis, lime-induced chlorosis or something similar may be at the bottom of mysterious leaf yellowing, the first thing to do is to apply soil sulphur (30 pounds per 1,000 sq. ft.), then use a faster-reacting mixture (like those containing the fritted trace elements) to stem the condition immediately.

B.C. Sparkling

uses such as dehydrated apples. To a question whether part of a bottle of the new product could be kept in the refrigerator overnight, the reply was that it could if capped properly. The British Columbia fruit industry has passed another milestone in its effort to extend the use of B.C. apples.

In Liquor stores throughout the province, B.C. Sparkling Apple Cider is now available after three years of unceasing experiment and laboratory research by both the Fruit and Vegetable Processing Laboratory of the Dominion Experimental Station at Summerland and B.C. Fruit Processors in Kelowna. Princeton Brewing Co. has more recently entered the project by processing and bottling the product.

Sparkling Cider as a commercial product is not a new dream for Okanagan growers. Back as far as 1929 the BCFGA recommended Cider manufacture. But results of early experiments left much to be desired. Instead commercial apple juice made its appearance and proved so popular it was thought no need existed for an additional outlet.

Meanwhile there has been a revolution of consumer buying habits in the fresh fruit field to a point where it became necessary to find an outlet for substantial quantities of Cee Grade Delicious apples, once popular but now salable in only limited volumes. So the unending search for by-products goes on.

Agreement Now Signed On Teacher's Salaries

A salary agreement for 1958 has now been signed by the Board of School Trustees and the Summerland Teachers' Association.

By the terms of the agreement, the teachers were given an increase over 1957 which amounts to 15.13 per cent on the payroll. The increase varied greatly per individual teacher, being as low as $50 and as high as $1,000 per year. The average increase per teacher was $623 and the average salary over the staff of 39 is now $4,739.

The estimated cost for teachers' salaries for 1958 is now $189,230 including present staff, provision for an extra teacher in September, payment of substitutes and September increments. This represents an increase of nearly $8,000 over the amount budgeted in February and the Board expects to go into deficit by that amount.

Early in the year the board thought the salary matter had been settled but teachers in 25 districts were dissatisfied with the salaries set and caused these districts to be "blacklisted" which meant it would be impossible for certain boards to engage teachers. The matter was so serious that a joint meeting of the executives of the B.C. School Trustees' Ass'n. and the B.C. Teachers' Federation was held at Victoria under the chairmanship of the Minister of Education to find a solution. There, it was finally agreed, following the suggestion of the Minister, that conciliation teams, consisting of one appointee by each of the Trustees' Ass'n. and the Teachers' Federation, would go into districts in salary dispute and aid in reaching agreement. The salary agreement now concluded is the result of such a conciliation meeting.

The Summerland salary scale is the same as that in effect in Penticton, Kelowna, Vernon, Enderby, Armstrong and, with a $25 variation, Keremeos.

While the board and teacher points of view were often strongly opposed during negotiations, no bitterness has been engendered and final settlement was reached on an amicable basis.

Ball Fans Forget One-way Road Rule

Summerland baseball fans are requested to observe the one-way rule in leaving the ball park.

Many cars left by the main entrance gate on Sunday, Municipal Council was informed.

Council instructed that a letter be sent to the baseball club drawing their attention to this infraction which creates a traffic hazard.

Close One Lake Access To Provide A Better One

Closing of road allowances giving access to the lakefront is being contemplated by the Municipal Council, but this seeming invasion of public right will actually redound to the public good.

The road allowance between the Bennest and Stark property which council agreed two weeks ago should be opened to provide access to the lake will be closed and in all likelihood the property sold.

The money would be used to further develop the lakefront playground already being created by the municipality between the Plunkett and Evans' property.

Access to the lakeshore, as requested by petitioners will be provided by implementation of plans which were submitted to Council by the newly organized Summerland Yacht Club, which proposes construction of a breakwater out into the lake between the Felix Hotel and Esso service station in lower town.

Council agreed to spend $350 on the start of this project, but the delegation, Yacht Club Commodore L. A. Smith and Vice-Commodore Clarence Lackey, were warned by superintendent of works that he would not be able to start work on the project until fall.

"We've got three miles of asphalt to lay and only two trucks and a loader to work with," Mr. Blagborne pointed out.

The Yacht Club proposal, however did permit council to re-examine its stand in relation to the road allowance between the Bennest and Stark properties, which both Mrs. Florence Stark and Miss Jean Bennest, have requested permission to purchase, the road allowance is in lawn, maintained jointly by the two property owners.

The lake shore at the point in question is not very desirable for public access or for a boat launching ramp and council agreed that it would be in the best interests of all concerned to close the road allowance, sell the land and devote the money to bigger and better lake access projects.

Chickens Should Stay Home To Root

Council will explore the feasibility of passing a by-law that would compel people to keep their chickens at home. Tuesday council heard a complaint of chickens on the loose and playing havoc with lawn and garden.

Asked by one Councillor, if he was a good marksman, the law-abiding complainant protested that he couldn't take the law into his own hands, and in any case he did not wish to cause bitterness.

Council will duly study the problem of keeping chickens home not only to roost but to root.

Band Praised For Fine Behaviour

Summerland's High School Band members were good ambassadors of the recent junket to Washington.

The School Board was recipient of a letter from the Omak district School Inspector in which he warmly praised the Summerland musicians not only for their artistry, but for their high standard of behavior.

The letter was forwarded to council to demonstrate that the municipal contribution to the trip was not a wasted one.

LONG LIVE THE QUEEN—Summerland's Queen Elsie Karstrom being crowned from the dais by Board of Trade president Lloyd Miller, shortly after her crowning at Summerland's Centennial Celebrations, July 4.

Engineering Survey For Water System

Municipal Council voted on Tuesday to retain a firm of civil engineers to conduct a survey to determine the best method of overcoming Summerland's problem of getting its ample water supply to the consumer.

Summerland's steady growth and the increasing number of subdivisions has created a problem of distribution that is a major concern of the municipal council.

Reeve F. E. Atkinson outlined suggestions that had been considered but he expressed the opinion and council concurred that there is no point in spending money on hodge podge systems and that it would pay off in the long run to get a qualified engineer to prepare plans for a permanent system.

Council Rejects Plea For Lower Town Walk

Plea for a sidewalk to be constructed from Thirteenth Street to the Rotary beach in Summerland, voiced by Frank M. Daniels, was flatly rejected by Municipal Council which also rather hotly denied Mr. Daniels' assertion to the effect that Summerland was not getting its fair share of sidewalk and maintenance money.

"Fifty per cent up to last year, declared Works Superintendent Ken Blagborne. Greatest need in this municipality for a sidewalk is from the Youth Centre to the High school, Mr. Blagborne said.

Reeve Atkinson asked Mr. Daniels if he realized just what the cost of such a length of sidewalk would be, and he pointed out that this is a low tax district and he doubted if taxpayers would approve taxes being upped for such an expenditure.

Councillor Walter Powell pointed out in regard to Mr. Daniels' contention that the sidewalk was a safety measure for children, that it was in a speed restricted zone.

The Reeve declared that he could not see the municipality building that sidewalk for years to come, but he agreed that where possible the existing sidewalk should be rehabilitated.

Trade Two-Way Street - Not For B.C. Growers

Whatever the government prescribes to alleviate some of the current financial pains being suffered by the fruit grower, will only provide a temporary relief unless the government sets create something of a just balance between Canadian and American fruit exports and imports. Just how much of a one-way street, this trade is, in favor of the Americans, is told in the following article:

The following excerpt is from "The American Trade Publication, 'The Packer', dated Saturday, May 10, 1958. It is entitled: "CANADIAN'S VIEWS ON EXPORT - IMPORT" LOS ANGELES, May 9 - Trade is a two-way street, meaning an exchange of one dollar's worth of goods for one dollar's worth of goods, whether between persons or countries. Any imbalance of trade between two countries might be allowed to carry on for a short time, but eventually must be balanced by the exchange of goods, or otherwise the country with excessive imports has simply depleted its resources to the extent that its exports exceed its imports.

This somewhat basic re-statement of economic fact was rendered the Packer recently by L. R. Stephens of the Okanagan Federated Shippers at Kelowna, B. C., Canada, a port-ocidic visitor to California and whose group is affiliated with B. C. Tree Fruits Ltd.

Mr. Stephens points out that naturally every industry likes to expand its markets, and particularly its foreign markets, and by the same token, does not like to see imports of goods of the same or similar kind being imported to compete with its own production. Thus, each country exports goods which it has in surplus over its own needs, and must accept in payment therefore the goods which the purchasing country has in surplus or can produce in surplus.

CANADIAN VIEW

This recitation of the fundamental facts regarding Canadian-American trade, as seen by a Canadian, would seem to be particularly appropos since the committee for reciprocity information on trade agreement matters is requesting modification on tariff concessions which Canada proposes to negotiate under the GATT and has asked for views to be submitted not later than June 16.

This week Mr. Stephens recounted a presentation of what might be considered the basic facts in the case, quiet aside from any political considerations which perhaps these situations sometimes get.

Following World War II, after the formation of GATT, tariff concessions were negotiated between about 34 nations representing some 80 percent of the world's trade, Mr. Stephens recalls. The relative value of the tariff concessions given and received by the participating countries can be judged to some extent by the increase or decrease of trade enjoyed by each country.

United States exports to other countries has maintained her position as the greatest exporting nation in the world. In the ten years since GATT became operative, U.S. exports of fresh fruits and vegetables to Canada have more than doubled. Canada's export of horticultural products to United States has remained virtually unchanged.

Due to her geographical and climatic conditions, Canada is extremely vulnerable to imports of U.S. fresh fruits and vegetables. U.S. harvesting on most commodities is well under way or finished before Canadian harvests commence. Hence the cream of the market has been well skimmed off and the appetites satisfied when Canadian goods reach the market. In spite of this exposed condition, Canada made concessions at GATT which, on horticultural products, equalled 50 per cent to 75 per cent of its tariff structure.

Today approximately 60 per cent of all Canada's imports of fresh fruits and vegetables are admitted duty free. The balance carry rates which on the whole are as low or lower than the corresponding rate coming into U.S.A.

Let us compare the tariff rates on those commodities which could under favorable trade climate be exchanged, or shall we say which might compete with the production of the other country. Canada's exports of horticultural products to U.S.A. are confined to four items:

Potatoes: Mostly seed and foundation stock, on which the American tariff rate normally is 75c per cwt., but of which Canada can export two and one-half million bushels at a special rate of 37½c per cwt. This special quota is equal to less than 1 per cent of the American market requirements.

Canada, on the other hand allows unrestricted import of mature potatoes at 37½c per cwt. and allows free entry of new potatoes from January to June 14 each year. No concessions were given by U.S.A. to Canada on potatoes.

Blueberries: No concession has been made by U.S. to Canada on this item in the fresh state but they did reduce the tariff on the frozen from 17½ per cent to 10 per cent effective January 1, 1948. U.S. imports from Canada represent about 50 per cent of American consumption, but there has been (continued on page 6)

Building Permits For May Decline

Summerland building permits issued in May showed a decline over the value of permits issued in May of 1957, but the 1958 total to the end of May is still substantially above the total for the first five months of last year.

In May six permits to the value of $37,000 for new dwellings and seven permits for alterations and additions to dwellings, to the value of $1,625 and one permit for alterations to a commercial establishment were issued. The total, 14 permits to the amount of $39,755.

In May last year, permits to the value of $41,050 were issued. Total permits for the first five months of 1958, 62 for a total of $207,250.

There were 57 permits issued in the corresponding period of last year to the amount of $134,575, an increase, so far this year, of $72,685.

Auxiliary Tag Day Successful Effort

Mrs. A. K. Macleod, Tag Day convener, reported on the June meeting of the Summerland Ladies Auxilliary, held last week that the annual tag day had realized the sum of $199. Nineteen members were present at the meeting.

Linens and dishes required for the hospital are to be ordered. A cauterizer has been purchased for the hospital operating room, it was reported.

Members of the auxilliary have decided to wind up the season's activities with a dinner party aboard the "Sicamous" on June 23.

Government Action Called For

Stuart Fleming, M.P. for Okanagan-Revelstoke, in his maiden speech in the House, called for protection for the fruit industry at the undefended border to the south.

We can expect that our own representative, Dave Pugh, member for Okanagan-Boundary, will also use his maiden speech as a medium for carrying the plight of the growers in the Okanagan Valley to the attention of parliament.

The question is, will the government heed the plea of two of its own lowly backbenchers, or will it continue, as have previous governments, to give only lip service to the fruit growers, not only in British Columbia, but elsewhere in Canada?

We are still hopeful that the government will act to give some relief to hard-pressed growers by bringing fresh fruits under the Agricultural Stabilization Act.

Agriculture Minister Harkness said in Penticton that there was no reason why the 1957 apple crop could not come under the act. But two delegations from the fruit industry have journeyed to Ottawa in the past few weeks and have returned without anything specific in the way of commitments.

We feel that the grower has every right to expect assistance under the Agricultural Prices Stabilization Act, and more so as long as the government remains supine while Canadian growers fight a losing battle against United States imports.

Price stabilization, however, might well only be a temporary expedient if the government acted to protect the grower from the influx of fruits from across the border.

There is no need for the government to do any amount of soul searching on this question of protection, nor is it necessary for them to postpone action by setting up fact finding expeditions. The facts are there for the asking, in fact for the taking, all they have to do is buy the May issue of the American trade magazine, the "PACKER." There, given prominent display, is an article by L. R. Stevens, of the Okanagan Federated Shippers. Mr. Stevens starts off his article with a plain and unanswerable statement of fact, that "trade is a two-way street," then he goes on to show that insofar as the fruit industry goes, trade is very much of a one-way street in favor of the Americans.

We think the article, as it stands, is all the argument the government requires to sit down with responsible opposites across the line and negotiate a new deal.

To those who perhaps think that the grower is making too much of a song and dance about this need for protection we here-with publish the article in question—we think that even growers will be surprised at the way the situation today is stacked against them.

The article which appears on page one is worthy of careful reading and then clipping for future reference. In our opinion it is an assemblage of facts and statistics which contains all the ammunition the government needs to justify getting down to cases on the issue of protection for the fruit industry.

REV. A. A. T. NORTHROP

REV. ROBERT H. HARPER
SHIBBOLETH

THERE is an interesting account of the rout in battle and the doom that came upon the fleeing Ephraimites because they could not say correctly the word Shibboleth. Every fugitive who said Shibboleth was slain. His inability to speak the word with a sh sound betrayed him as one of the enemy.

The incident might be cited by the makers and sellers of dictionaries, to stress the importance of correct speech and rightly-spoken words. But in the case of the doomed tribesmen, the trouble ran deeper than slovenly habit and deficiency of speech due to unfamiliarity with the language. They had come to their doomed condition by their enmity and treachery. Their failure to say Shibboleth correctly confirmed their guilt and gave them over to the sword.

May we be careful of the language we learn and the thoughts that sway us day after day. For the evil day may come when we shall not be able to say the word that would save us from eternal death. The apostle writes that the word is nigh us, even in our hearts. And, like Christian, in the foul and gloomy dungeon of Giant Despair, we can bring out the key that will unlock all the dungeon doors in the world.

NEW WIDE-SIDE PICKUP..

SPACIOUS STURDY AND STYLISH

GMC presents the all new WIDE-SIDE pickup

...with beauty to match its brawn!

FEATURES THAT MAKE THE WIDE-SIDE THE MOST PRACTICAL OF ALL GLAMOUR PICKUPS!

Big new choice of power. Standard in all Wide-Side pickups is GMC's famous, use-proven 145 h.p. Thriftmaster 6, or you may choose, as an extra-cost option, the all-new 160 h.p. Trademaster V8.

New Wide-Side pickups are a full six feet wide and give you 50% more cargo area than conventional bodies of similar length—more load space than any other comparable low-priced pickup!

Best of all, you have a choice of two body sizes. Wide-Side pickups come in either 6½ or 8 feet lengths. Loading heights of both sizes are really low, and tailgates are solidly constructed to support extra-long cargo.

Wide-Side bodies can be fitted with special stake racks for extra-high loads. Stake pockets are sturdily constructed and not only hold stakes securely, but also reinforce the pickup body itself. See them at your GMC dealer's today.

Growers Are Urged To Order Budwood Now

Growers are urged by G.M. Weiss, of the Pomologist-Propagation department of the Summerland Experimental Farm, to get their budwood early.

Each year the Summerland Experimental Farm supplies large quantities of budwood to growers and nurserymen. Not all varieties are available and not always enough of a variety to fill all demands, but the Experimental Farm is valued as a source of true-to-name propagating material.

No recently patented or copyrighted varieties are included.
APRICOT—limited quantities of main varieties.
APPLE—Mosebar Winesap in good supply.
Cowan Red Rome in good supply.
APPLE For Hardy Frameworks McIntosh (Summerland Red) in limited supply.
Haralson in good supply.
Antonovka in good supply.
Canada Baldwin, in limited supply.
CHERRY—Limited supply of all varieties, including Lambert, Van, Sam, Sue, Montmorency.

PEACH—Full supply of all recommended varieties.

PEAR—No wood available.
PRUNE-PLUM—No wood available.

The cutting, preparation and distribution of budwood has represented an increasing drain on available manpower at the Experimental Farm. Accordingly, at a recent meeting of leading fruit nurserymen it was decided that the fruit nurserymen would employ a man to be stationed at the Experimental Farm to look after budwood orders, and to make a small charge (approximately one-quarter cent a bud) to pay his wages.

As in 1957, deadline of June 30 has been set for acceptance of budwood orders.

When all orders are tabulated confirmations will be sent and an exact charge per bud established. Growers and nurserymen are reminded once again that budwood orders must be received at the Experimental Farm, Summerland, addressed to G. M. Weiss, not later than June 30.

Member Reports

This report covers events in parliament up to Friday, May 30.

This week showed the finish of the ten day debate on the Speech from the Throne. A last minute amendment was raised by Mr. Herridge, C.C.F. member for Kootenay West, to the effect that the house should present legislation immediately to relieve the very heavy financial burden on the municipalities. In defeating the amendment 167 to 37, the government side stated that it was government policy to call such a conference and that steps had already been taken. It is hoped to have it this year but not sooner than the end of September. The government's position is that there should be a better distribution to the municipalities. The Speech from the Throne had a final vote of 199 to 0 in its favor.

It was interesting to note how the government and the opposition closed off the debate with strength and I only wish that the reader could be here to see the terrific by-play that goes on. Hansard gives the words but the true measure of the debate is the temper of the House at the time.

On Friday, in a remarkable show of unanimity, the House approved the establishment of a standing committee on Veterans Affairs. The standing committee allows close inspection of the many billions of dollars which come before the committee of supply. Of great importance is the inclusion in the powers of the committee to call for examination of the persons and documents and also to state which department of government shall have its estimates examined. This is a complete reversal of the former government's policy which did not allow complete examination and which stated the department to be examined.

In addition it has been suggested by the government that the chairman of the committee should be a prominent member of the opposition.

With regard to the standing committee on Veterans Affairs representatives of the veterans or Canada will be enabled to place before the members of parliament, each year their views and recommendations and their suggestions for the betterment of the conditions with respect to those who served and their dependents.

An amendment to the Criminal Code was proposed by Mr. Harold E. Winch, member for Vancouver East, under a private members bill. This bill would restrict capital punishment to certain offences. The matter was debated but not concluded in the allotted time. From the weather point of view, Ottawa has been clear and warm during the day and with cool nights. Rain has marred the weekends so that your member has spent considerable time in the library and reading room of the House.

Council Honors Former Fire Chief

Municipal Council on Tuesday paid tribute to Fire Chief Ed Gould who has resigned his post because of ill health. Mr. Gould continues at least for the balance of the year as fire marshal.

Mr. Gould was the recipient of a smoking stand and a letter expressing the deep appreciation of council, on behalf of the community, for his long years of service as fire chief.

The present high standard of the Summerland Volunteer Fire Brigade is largely owing to the work of Mr. Gould, Reeve Atkinson said.

Promenade News

By E.R.H.

On Monday night about 12 squares crowded into the Kaleden Hall to dance to the calling of Cal Golden of Riverside, California, sponsored by the Wheel-N-Stars Club of Penticton. Mr. Golden, with his many colorful costumes and lively accelerated way of calling, kept the dancers animated all through the evening. At the close of three hours of brisk dancing a delightful supper was served. Cakes decorated to resemble the Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes with a centre cake in the shape of a wheel topped with a silver star made a decorative and delicious centre piece for the buffet table. Credit for the fine work of art is due Mrs. Gokey.

This Saturday, square dancers will be headed for the big Washington State Festival at Spokane on June 13, 14 and winding up on Sunday, June 15. Just to keep square dancing going locally, anyone interested can dance at the Community Hall at Oliver.

Next week the Summerland invited to bring along their regular party night in the Youth Centre Hall. A local caller will be in attendance. Callers are invited to bring along their records. Bring something to eat and coffee will be provided.

Why Give The Burglar An Engraved Invitation!

"You might as well give a burglar an engraved invitation to help himself at your house, if you leave valuables lying about," says Jock Johnston, manager of the Bank of Montreal's Summerland branch.

Mr. Johnston adds that behind the steel door of a B of M vault is the safest place for valuables such as bonds, leases, stock certificates, insurance policies, deeds, birth certificates, passports and other important family documents.

"It costs less than two cents a day to rent a B of M safety deposit box," he says, and explains that hundreds of thousands of Canadians use B of M safety deposit facilities, an indication of the popularity of this service. "It pays for itself again and again in peace of mind alone," he says.

"Give the burglar a brush-off at your house," Mr. Johnston advises. "Keep your valuables in your personal strong box — it's exclusively yours — in the Summerland B of M vault."

Drop in soon and see Mr. Johnston about renting a safety deposit box — it will set your mind at rest.

usually been a falling off in the sales of blueberries to United States.

Rutabagas: A slight concession was made by United States to Canada on this item in 1947 but trade has not increased to any extent. There are few if any imports to Canada:

APPLES

Apples: Canadian exports of apples to United States have never exceeded 2,000,000 bushels per year and more frequently run around the 1,000,000 bushels. This represents about 1 per cent to 2 per cent of the U.S. market potential. Exports are carefully regulated and at no time are the Canadian apples sold at less than the same grade and size of the same variety of American apples.

Canadian apples of the 1957 crop sold to U.S. markets averaged about 50c per box above the price of the same grade and variety of American apples. This was due to condition and size, but it does indicate that they constitute no threat to American apples. The U.S. Tariff Commission has stated that Canadian apple imports are so small as to have little or no effect on prices in American markets. The U.S. Tariff on Canadian apples is 12 1/2c a bushel all year. The Canadian tariff on American apples is 3/8c per pound August 1 to May 19 each year, and free for the other 10 weeks.

Since the imports in the free period are about 50 per cent of the total imports, it means that the Canadian tariff is equal to about 1 1/2 to 12c per bushel on the total annual imports. Canadian imports of American apples average around 1,000,000 bushels per year. In 1947, the U.S. tariff was reduced from 15c per bushel to 12 1/2c, whereas the Canadian tariff has been reduced from 1c to 3/4c and then to 3/8c.

Dealing with the more generous aspects, Mr. Stephens points out that Canadian exports of fresh fruits and vegetables to U.S. have run around $8,000,000 to $10,000,000 per year. About 60 per cent of the total U.S. exports to Canada are duty free whereas nothing in the fresh fruit and vegetable category enters United States free.

Thus, in perspective, the Canadian asserts, Canadian people are purchasing each year about $6 per capita or $20 per family of American fresh fruits and vegetables, whereas Americans purchase about 5c worth per capita of Canadian fresh fruits and vegetables. While Canada does not grow citrus fruits, vinifera type grapes or bananas, in purchasing these commodities at the rate of about $50,000,000 worth per year from United States it does provide the income to the people of California, Texas, Arizona and Florida, with which they buy apples from the U.S. apple states as well as from Canada.

"We feel that Canada's purchase of fresh fruits and vegetables from the United States at the rate of about $100,000,000 per year is a net gain of purchasing power to American producers of fresh fruits and vegetables. There can be no doubt that any restriction of imports of Canadian products to United States must mean a corresponding cut in Canadian imports of American products. There is no other way of balancing our trade.

"American producers, with all their advantages in geographic position and climatic conditions, have nothing to fear from Canadian imports of fruits and vegetables but on the other hand, a small portion of the American production pushed on to the Canadian market can completely disrupt our price structure. A healthy respect for the other fellow's market, and encouragement of trade on a mutual beneficial basis, can go far to prevent disasters to our primary producers."

In recent years the reduction in tariff by Canada ranging from about 10 per cent to 75 per cent on canned and processed fruits and vegetables has resulted in substantial increases in exports to Canada, and Canadian primary producers as well as processors are feeling the pinch, Mr. Stephens said.

What has time done to your life insurance?

Everyone knows what can happen to the performance of a car that isn't serviced regularly. The same risk of "poor performance" holds true for your life insurance if you neglect to keep it up to date. Time brings changes in your life that in turn create the need for a review of your policies. Perhaps new beneficiaries should be appointed. Perhaps the method by which benefits are to be paid, either by income or by single amount, is no longer in your family's best interest. What would a careful review of your policies reveal? That you have more than enough life insurance — or that time has brought new needs for protection and saving?

By keeping in touch with the Man from Manufacturers you can be sure your life insurance is arranged to do the job you want it to do. Why not call him for a policy "check-up" today?

Today In Your Garden

It is small wonder that the gladiolus has become a tremendously popular flower. Even though the home gardener may not be ready to give the planting and care more than modest attention, you can usually rely on gladiolus corms to produce beautiful blooms on tall, strong spikes that are delightful either in the garden or for cut flowers.

Gladiolus are comparatively hardy, too.

You can begin planting as soon as the earth becomes workable in late winter or the early spring. Then by putting in a new lot of the bulbs every third or fourth week on into June you can produce long continuing masses of color almost to frost.

Although the gladiolus specialist will usually be planting in rows in a separate part of the garden, most of us are forced to use them as part of the landscaped zone around our homes. That means a group here and another over there and so on.

And that word "group" indicates what we think to be the most desirable method of layout a gladiolus planting around the average home.

Although there is usually a strong inclination to string the bulbs out in long lines around the house or following the edge of beds bordering the lawn, there is little doubt but that you can get more beautiful effects by placing the bulbs in oval or rounded groupings.

Vacant spots in the flower border, or among shrub plantings, or even out in the wind protected locations on the rocky can often be filled with such groups to create a far nicer appearance than where the long lines are used.

Gladiolus plants like many others, enjoy decent fertility and watering. It is always wise to work complete fertilizer into the soil where they are to stand. If you do not have the time to incorporate the fertilizer before going out to plant, the next best thing is to use some bone meal worked into the ground (with the trowel for example) as you plant.

Depth of planting makes little difference, except on the ability of the gladiolus corms to withstand the wind and to produce bulblets.

Since the former is ordinarily more important to most of us, it is recommended the bulbs be set four to six inches down but if one wishes to encourage the production of bulblets so you can get many more plants of a variety that pleases, put the corms not more than three inches deep.

Planted thus, shallowly, gladiolus are inclined to yield scores or even hundreds of tiny bulbs so you will have more propagating stock for the years to come.

Plant the bulblets, in spring, in rows much as you would bulbs.

Two precautions with gladiolus. . . It is sound to dust the corms before planting with an all-purpose dust and, to have a malathion-containing spray or dust on hand for regular use in the summer (mites and thrips).

Panelling Over Old Plaster

Any home mechanic who has tried his hand at plastering even the small hole the door knob leaves on the living room wall will put up with broken cracked and bulging plaster rather than attempt to repair it. But he will approach the job in seven league boots when he covers these unsightly walls with plywood panels, transforming the wall into beautiful, real wood panels 32 square feet at a time.

Simplest method is to nail on the panels right through the old plaster into the studs with the bottom of the panels resting on the baseboard. However, it is usually more satisfactory to strap the wall with 2" or wider common lumber strips to make a backing for the panels.

If in bad condition, level the wall first by removing any offending bulges and bumps, bashing them out with a hammer. Starting at the top, nail battens lengthwise right across the wall, then another row four feet down and another row for the bottom of the panels if you are removing the baseboard. Fill in up and down every four feet to provide nailing for the long edges of each panel.

If you are removing the old baseboard and quarter round with a view to replacing them after you have installed the plywood, handle with care. Don't attempt to drive nails back out of the old baseboard because the putted nail head leaves an unsightly splinter patch when it breaks through. So pull the nails out from the back and drive new finishing nails in from the front when you replace the baseboard.

Start panelling in one corner. Take special care to fix the first panel so the outside edge is plumb then all subsequent panels will be plumb too. Use 1 1/2" casing or finishing nails every 6" on panel edges and every 12" on the cross strapping.

B.C. Sparkling Cider

Commercial trials of B.C. cider were made in 1956 in co-operation with the Liquor Control Board, but at that time two of the problems encountered were maintaining uniformity of flavour from batch to batch and preserving a desirable light colour. While the pack was generally well received there was some thought that the quality could be improved. In all, some 1,500 cases were sold using a beverage as a container.

Consumer reports also left the continuation of tin container use in question. Eventually it was decided that the aesthetic appeal of a glass bottle outweighed the practical aspects of cans.

And this opened new vistas in the investigational work as it made possible the use of an antioxidant of the type used in wine-making. As a result fermentation is now easier to control and uniformity of flavour becomes a routine matter.

It is at this point that Princeton Brewing Co. entered the picture. As they had the facilities and technical background for controlled fermentation along with a modern high speed bottling line, it seemed an excellent opportunity to pool the resources of both firms. In order to avoid any danger whatsoever of contaminating their main brewing operation, Princeton Brewing Co. have built and equipped a modern fermentation building for cider entirely separate from the plant proper.

The apple juice is extracted clarified and treated at the B.C. Fruit Processors plant in Oliver. It is then hauled to Princeton in a stainless steel tank truck where the juice is fermented, polished, carbonated and bottled. The high speed packaging line washes the bottles, fills, pasteurizes, labels and packages the bottles of B.C. Sparkling Cider into attractive half dozen cartons at the rate of 140 bottles per minute.

Summerland Yacht Club Organized

More than 30 boating enthusiasts organized the Summerland Yacht Club at a meeting held in the Badminton Hall last Friday. The meeting called by Clarence Lackey and John Kitson demonstrated beyond doubt the need for such an organization and also the need for a breakwater. Reeve F. E. Atkinson represented the municipality and gave an interesting talk in which he outlined plans for the development of the lakeshore. Lorne Perry, secretary of the Board of Trade, reviewed the trade board's efforts to secure a breakwater for Summerland. L. A. Smith was named Commodore of the new club, vice-commodore is Clarence Lackey, treasurer Robert Oxley and the secretary, Mrs. N. Reid. John Kitson, Don Turner and Bob Barkwill were named as directors.

A further meeting is to be held this Friday June 13 in the badminton hall, starting at 7:30. Membership tickets are now being sold and it is expected that by Friday a hundred memberships will have been taken out.

Okonots Have A Field Day

The Summerland Macs ran through four pitchers in a futile effort to smother the big bats of the visiting Kamloops Okonots at the Athletic Park, Sunday but the score book told the sad story at the conclusion of what could be termed a field day for the Kamloops Club.

For the Okonots, 13 runs, 16 hits and one error.

For the Macs, three runs and seven hits and one error.

The indestructible Len Gaten pitched the Okonots to victory backed up by an on the toes club in the field.

Even so, the Okonots didn't get out of hand until a wild seventh inning, in which they bunched four hits and thanks to loaded bases and wild pitching began a walk-a-thon that brought in nine runs.

Up to the fatal seventh the Macs, playing tight ball, but unable to get to Gaten, were trailing 3 - 1, and still very much in the game.

Jr. Red Sox Lose Heartbreaker

The Summerland Red Sox, playing their best game of the season, went down to defeat on Sunday at the hands of the Vernon Hydros. It was a hard fought game, going to 10 innings before the Summerland lads bowed out defeated 8-7.

Statistics show the teams as evenly matched. Each got 15 hits and left 14 men on base and each team got four walks and each made four errors.

Sheeley went all the way for the Red Sox and took the loss. Vernon used two men on the mound, alternating them in the last innings.

The big break for Vernon came in the sixth inning, when with bases loaded and two away two easy flys to the outfield were lost in the sun, allowing four runs to score.

The big guns for the Red Sox were Skinner and Euchida, with three hits each.

Co-op Packinghouse Ready To Go

Official Opening
2:30 p.m. Monday

Fifteen months and more than half a million dollars later the world's most modern fruit packing house stands ready to open its door to the 1958 fruit crop.

It is the new Summerland Cooperative Growers' Association packinghouse located just below the south of the modern Occidental Fruit Company Ltd. packinghouse which opened here two years ago and rated as the most modern but which must now surrender the title to the big new plant down the road.

Born of adversity — the new plant replaces the one which was destroyed by fire in the spring of 1957 — the Summerland Co-op packinghouse is a creation of functional beauty.

Nestling amid orchards it is designed to serve, with Giant's Head forming an imposing backdrop the packinghouse fits into its surroundings almost as if part of natural design.

Functional it is, with layout and placing of equipment planned for maximum production.

Trucks will roll in with their bins and boxes, loaders will convey them to bulk bin handling machine or the box stacker and destacker. On through the washer, this is new to the valley, with the exception of one at Kelowna. Here the fruit is washed, rinsed and dried before going onto the sorting table.

It is all standard procedure, but with the very latest in packinghouse equipment considerably improved on older types. There are the three sizers, serving the two packing lines and the setup is such that automatic packing can be introduced any time it is considered advisable to do so.

An interesting device is the box sorter which automatically sorts out standards, junior and cardboard boxes and shunts them on different tracks.

At the rear of the plant is the concrete brick building housing the compressors, which serve the cooling system for the huge 160,000 box cold storage accommodation.

The cold storage insulated in the roof with Palco wool and in the walls with rock wool and divided into three sections occupies an area 231 feet in length and 100 feet wide. Boxes can be stacked 21 feet high.

High on the supporting roof beams stand the blowers for the cooling system. This is a new system which it is believed will give excellent results.

Offices of the new plant are in keeping with the rest of the design. First comes the dispatcher's office and alongside this is the Fruit Inspectors Office. Doors lead on to the shipping office, then comes the general office a corridor divides the managerial office and the vault. A functional first aid room is also incorporated into the office space section. To the rear on the south side is the cafeteria room and behind that again the spray storage room.

The packingroom and offices are heated by natural gas.

A special feature of the new packinghouse is the large covered receiving area which will provide storage space for boxes and also for cannery-bound fruit.

Standing well back from the road the approaches are tarmac until they reach the concrete apron.

All refrigeration, building and packing line equipment engineered and designed by Fruit Industries Research who specialize in this work.

Associate on the building was John Woodworth, Architect of Kelowna, B.C.

Packing equipment comprises two packing lines — one for apple and pears, one for soft fruits.

The general contractor is Bush Construction Company. Refrigeration equipment was supplied by John Inglis Company. Packing room equipment was built by Rose Manufacturing Co. of Yakima, Washington.

The apple packing line will handle either pallet boxes or single boxes. It has a maximum capacity of 800 boxes dumped per hour, depending upon quality.

Main feature of the packing line is versatility to permit efficient packing of different types of packages. Provision has been made for possible future mechanical packing.

Summerland's latest pride is the new Co-op packinghouse, pictured above which will be officially opened by A. R. Garrish, President of the BCFGA on Monday.

The Summerland Review

Vol. 13, No. 25

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 18, 1958

WEST SUMMERLAND, B.C.

Frank MacDonald Chairman Fruit Fair Committee

Frank MacDonald, vice-president of the Summerland Board of Trade has agreed to act as chairman of Summerland's second annual fruit fair, which will be this community's major tourist attraction in this Centennial year.

Mr. MacDonald plans early appointment of a committee and early action in view of the short time left to organize the big event.

In other business at the Board of Trade June meeting it was decided that a committee of the Board of Trade will meet with a group of ladies to discuss future methods of electing and crowning Summerland's Queen.

Volunteering to act as chairman of the float committee was immediate past president of the board, Roy Wellwood who has undertaken the float committee chairmanship for many years. The board hopes the float will be ready to enter the Peachland Centennial Parade on July 18 and it will also be at Pentiction Peach Festival.

G. A. Laidlaw was complimented on the Queen's Ball which he with his committee staged at the Youth Centre on June 4.

The board considered a Canadian Chamber of Commerce referendum on lotteries which was presented by W. A. Gilmour. How the member boards vote, on the referendum will establish the Chamber of Commerce policy on this matter at its next annual meeting.

SATURDAY SWIM CLASS DEADLINE

Parents are reminded that Saturday, June 21 is the deadline for entries in the Rotary Red Cross Swim Classes.

Application forms have been sent to every household in the area.

Trade Board Urges Council To Request Liquor Plebiscite

Meeting called Friday In Effort To Reorganize Fish And Game Club

An effort will be made to revive and reorganize Summerland's defunct Fish and Game Club.

Once the strongest Fish and Game Club in the valley, a vigorous club which secured the fish hatchery for Summerland, and which once boasted a membership of more than 250, for some mysterious reason, despite a then healthy bank balance, just upped and died.

Now a meeting has been called for Friday night by George Stoll, a former president, at the request of many interested parties, to see if the club can be revived. Meeting is at 8 p.m., place the arena.

W. Snow Wins Top Honors At Annual Rose Show

The Annual Rose Show of the Summerland Horticultural Society was held in the Anglican Parish Hall last Saturday, June 14. There were fewer entries this year but the quality was good. The total number of entrants was 17 and the total number of entries 53.

Tea was served in the afternoon and evening by the ladies of the society, Reeve F. E. Atkinson presented the awards. Wm. Snow came first in total number of points won. He was awarded the Summerland Rose Cup for four named varieties. The prize-winning varieties were Mrs. R. M. Eddie, Peace, Golden Jubilee and Good News. Miss Doreen Tait was second in points and also won the Sammett Memorial Cup for her artistic display of flowers in a three foot space.

E. H. Bennett placed third and Dr. D. C. Boyd, Pentiction, fourth.

Summerland's Municipal Council will shortly receive a submission from the Summerland Board of Trade asking the council to request the holding of another liquor plebiscite in Summerland.

This action by the board, was agreed upon following prolonged discussion at last week's Board of Trade meeting, during which it was claimed that several potential and attractive hotel propositions had foundered upon the rock of uncertainty as to whether or not a second plebiscite can be held after a community has once voted dry.

In 1954 Summerland voted against liquor outlets.

Later a plebiscite approved establishment of a liquor store, but apart from the liquor store and the Canadian Legion, which serves beer under a club license Summerland is dry.

The board members emphasized in the discussion that it was neither their prerogative, nor their intent to presume to tell people how they should vote in the event of another plebiscite being held, but the board feels that an informed vote would decide an issue that will never be fully laid until a decisive and official verdict has been handed down.

In the previous plebiscite held on Wednesday, September 8, 1954, voters said "No" on all four questions.

By a slim margin they voted against beer parlors and cocktail lounges in this district and they spoke with a firmer voice against clubs and liquor in restaurants.

A total of 1224 voters, 61 per cent of the eligible voters cast their ballots and here is how that 61 per cent voted:

West Summerland		Summerland		Total
YES	NO	YES	NO	YES	NO
465	452	109	149	574	601

Tennis Courts Under Construction

After a lapse of several years Summerland again has its tennis courts, two concrete courts now under construction with pouring expected to be finished this week.

The courts are located in the area which was the site of Ellison Hall in Peach Orchard Park. A general meeting is to be called by the executive of the Athletic Club for the purpose of reorganizing the tennis club.

Main Apple Pools Close; Prices Are Down

The 1957 main apple pools closed last week and showed a total $12,521,702.26 paid to shippers, it was officially announced by B.C. Tree Fruits Wednesday. These pools, which include all except early varieties, contained 6,202,479 bushels of apples, the largest amount since the 1950 crop year.

The average price paid to packinghouses for all varieties, grades and sizes, after deducting assembly, inspection, advertising and other costs, prior to rebates amounted to $2.02 per box, or about 15 cents below the average for the past ten years.

Prices obtained in 1956 were relatively high because of the short crop. Comparing the 1957 crop returns in the main varieties with returns in 1955, the following values appear:

"It will be noted that the returns for Cee grade in McIntosh and Delicious varieties show a marked reduction in 1957. These and some other variations reflected adjustments made by the industry pooling committee in carrying out instructions from the growers, given through the BCFGA convention resolution that the pool values reflect as accurately as possible the current year's values for individual grades and sizes, with particular emphasis on Cee grade or, in other words, that the various classes of fruit return to the grower may more nearly what they brought from the market."
On a message being issued to all growers today, the following comments by B.C. Tree Fruits are made in respect to the returns for the 1957 crop:
Ex. Fancy	M.	1.27	2.34 1.70

"We have endeavoured to keep all growers as well informed as possible on the marketing situations, as they might be reflected in the final returns, through this newsletter issued from time to time through the season. Apple sales in Western Canada were maintained at reasonably satisfactory prices, with the total volume of sales to this market, reaching the highest level since 1949. The average returns were lowered, however, by the heavy percentage of the crop which had to be diverted to processing, the lower net price yield from Continental sales, and the depressed condition of the American markets. All apples which could be sold in boxes were sold at the best prices obtainable — and apples for which there was no market demand, and which could not be packed without risk of direct loss in packing charges, were diverted to processing. An interim payment of $20.00 per ton has been received from B.C. Fruit Processors who inform us that some further payment can be expected."

Member Reports

The House of Commons had as a visitor the President of the Federal Republic of Germany, Professor Dr. Theodore Heuss. Many guests attended including the honorable members of the Senate. In introducing the president, Mr. Diefenbaker made it known that NATO forces will be maintained in Europe as long as they are needed. Dr. Heuss made his address in German and stated that the German people appreciate what it means for Canada to maintain troops on German soil and to have training here German Airforce men. He further mentioned that Germany had many reasons to be grateful to Canada for her early and unwavering understanding.

When the House opened, Mr. Diefenbaker declared statement would be made on NORAD. When this comes up there will be a great deal of discussion as to Canadian Airforce personnel being under the control of a senior American officer. The purpose of NORAD is, of course, one of defence on a continental basis.

Considerable discussion took place over calling of a Dominion Provincial conference, it being the opinion of the opposition parties that the government had not made its stand clear on equalization payments and stabilization. The government is very emphatic that this is not so and that the conference will take place this fall, as scheduled. Naturally this is of importance for all as in the long run it may well affect payments which are made through the provinces to the municipalities.

Supply estimates of the Public Works Department came up for scrutiny. The Opposition's remarks were of the digging variety, prodding the government as to the totals which were being spent to relieve unemployment. The government's reply set out the expenditures of the department and also large expenditures which were made under other departments, the work being carried out by the Department of Public Works.

Two private members bills received the full attention of the House, one introduced by Mr. Argue required that a ceiling be placed on interest rates and one by Mr. Winch, requiring the abolition of corporal punishment. Two of the discussion on the latter bill, two new members, Mr. Baldwin, Peace River, and Mr. Bigg, Athabasca, both Conservatives, added greatly, as Mr. Baldwin has had long experience of the courts and Mr. Bigg is a former member of the RCMP. The bills had to be adjourned because of time running out.

Visitors in Ottawa were J. B. Lander and G. S. Webster of B. C. Tree Fruits Ltd.

Of Which We Are Proud

Frost, hail, pests and when the crop has survived the weather and the pests it becomes something of a drug on the market and the grower, the primary producer upon whose shoulders the industry rests, receives less per box than it costs him to produce — surely cause for pessimism — surely cause for the Cassandras of the industry to cry out their prophecies of doom — and the question arises is there a future — can there be a future for the fruit industry of the Okanagan?

The answer is written for all to see right here in Summerland, a bold unqualified YES — that answer incorporated in the new Co-operative Packing House which will formally open its doors on Monday of next week.

A three-quarter million dollar investment in the fruit industry and of significance in these days of uncertainty the investment was authorized and planned by growers banded together as a co-operative who must have a deep faith in the basic foundations of their industry to invest in the building of what is believed to be the world's most modern fruit packinghouse.

There it stands today, assembly lines geared and ready for the throwing of the switch to handle the 1958 crop — to our mind a convincing testimonial to the forward vision of the co-operative membership who could peer through the fog of today's uncertainties, to a brighter future.

Summerland is proud of its new packinghouse which has arisen Phoenix like from the ashes of the blaze which razed the old Co-operative packinghouse last year.

Summerland today, with its up-to-date Occidental Packinghouse opened less than two years ago and now with its spanking new Co-operative Packing house can be said to lead the valley and the Pacific Northwest in modern handling of fruit.

To an industry struggling in treacherous economic quicksands the Summerland Co-operative Growers' Association's new packinghouse must appear a solid and comforting fact, a symbol of faith in an industry that is going through parlous times.

To the directors and membership of the Summerland Co-operative Growers' Association who had the vision and courage to go ahead and to all who helped create the imposing plant we say well done — well done indeed.

Your Responsibility

That sharp, new boat of yours is a greater responsibility than you realize. When you are skimming across the lake remember your passengers are in your care. Don't overload your boat — one seat per person is a safe rule to follow. Be sure you have enough life belts for every passenger in your craft. If any of your passengers are non-swimmers insist they wear a life belt or leave them on shore. Your boat is built for pleasure — never try to test its durability in a storm. This summer have a happier vacation — learn and observe the Red Cross rules of water safety.

This Summerland

One of the problems, we think confronts The Review more than it does newspapers elsewhere, is the problem of how to say thank you on behalf of the community for a job well and truly done, when most of the community was involved in the doing.

We are referring to the recent Centennial Celebration, truly a community-wide endeavor, reflecting not only this community's wealth and variety of talent, but also the essential loyalty of its people, who gave unstintingly to make the day a success.

Key personnel such as organizer Doug

Campbell, who has every reason to feel proud of the success of his production, hard working S. A. MacDonald chairman of the Centennial Day committee, and to persons such as Mrs. H. R. Hodgson whose unquenchable enthusiasm and untiring efforts did so much towards the day, those and many, many others are to be congratulated on the success of the event and to be thanked for their efforts on behalf of the community, but by and large we think Summerland folk can give themselves a big pat on the back and if their modesty permits, a murmured, "we did it again."

A Spot Of Color On Granville

Concrete flume sections filled with earth and planted make pleasant oasis' of color on the desert that is this community's main street, Granville street.

The Retail Merchants Association of Summerland which set up these planting boxes on strategic corners and the strip which enhances the main approach to Memorial Park is to be highly commended for its efforts, as are the businessmen with the green thumbs who daily tend the plants.

The Review cannot however resist this opportunity to point out that the setting up of these planting boxes is a tacit admission that the Review's arguments in favor of trees on our streets has considerable merit.

Letters to the Editor

The Editor,
Summerland Review.
Dear Mr. Editor:

Re: your editorial
"Blanket Hail Insurance"

I welcome this opportunity to give you a little of the history behind the formation of the BCFGA Mutual Hail Insurance Company and also outline the reasons why I believe it both unnecessary and undesirable to have a blanket compulsory hail insurance scheme.

The BCFGA first became involved in the study of Hail Insurance about 1940 when the first committee was formed. The growers through their annual conventions consistently turned down any compulsory hail insurance proposal and I believe would still do so today. It was in 1949 that committee was formed to again study the question. This Committee brought into the 1950 Convention a recommendation to seek provincial legislation for the establishment of a grower owned Mutual Hail Insurance Company and to proceed to do business on a voluntary basis. The Convention gave full support to the plan and authorized the necessary financial loan to launch the new company.

Since that start the Mutual has seen a steady growth. It has performed a very valuable service to the industry and has made history as being the only Company of its like to my knowledge, operating solely for the purpose of providing hail insurance to a fruit industry. It has paid off the original loan, met all its claims in full, reduced premiums to a very reasonable level and has built substantial reserves.

In order for a blanket scheme to be legal and workable it would require a clause in the growers three party contract authorizing a deduction to be used for the purpose of providing hail protection. Herein lies the evil. Growers like all other farmers are basically individualists. They do not like compulsion. In this industry they have grown to accept compulsory marketing and the one desk selling because it is necessary to their very existence, so why introduce it as a compulsion?

You suggest that the cost would be less if a blanket scheme was in effect. We do not believe this would be true. The rates as presently set are at about rock bottom for safety and any large operating surplus is used to reduce the year's premium cost, as it was in 1957 when a 20% refund was paid to all policyholders who had no hail claim for the year.

The grower who waits until June to insure is taking a very unnecessary risk. He may place his insurance on his prospective crop in February or March and if paid by packing house crop order, his premium is not deducted from his account until crop returns in the fall, so that early insuring costs him no more. He then has the right if his crop has not come up to expectation because of frost or other uncontrollable reasons to reduce his coverage if done so by the 2nd of June. It is far more satisfactory from the Companies' point of view to have the grower insure early. It spreads the work of office processing of policies and assists in keeping costs down.

A last thought which I might express is this. Few growers will take the risk of neglecting their spray programme on which they spend a considerable amount, but one hail storm such as the one Summerland recently received can cause a greater financial loss than the complete absence of a spray programme for the year.

Yours very truly,
ERIC M. TAIT.

The Story Of Summerland's First Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Day

We are indebted to Mrs. Gartrell Orr for the following interesting and timely article concerning Summerland's first bride.

June is the month of brides, and so, here is the story of Summerland's first bride, a timely story, in view of the fact that looking back over the province's history is one of the popular pastimes in this, British Columbia's Centennial year.

Some readers will recall that Summerland's first bride was Mary Jean Gartrell, who on October 20, 1888, at the age of 19, married Ephraim Arthur Day.

Mary Jane came here from Stratford, Ontario, where she was born on April 19, 1868, in the year 1885, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Gartrell, her sister, Edith, and brothers Billy, George and Fred.

For two years the family resided on the Ellis Ranch, on which Penticton now, stands then moved to their pre-emption on Trout Creek Point, the first family to live in this area.

Arthur Day, who was born in Utah, U. S. A., in 1862 came to work for Ellis as a foreman, and there he and Janie became acquainted. After the Gartrells moved to Trout Creek, he would ride up on a stallion to visit the young lady. There were hazards to travel in those days, particularly at night, one being the crossing of the Okanagan River at the foot of the lake.

Arthur Day cut down travelling time by taking up a pre-emption just west of Gartrells, the property now owned by J. Y. Towgood.

When the young couple decided to get married they found that the nearest Protestant minister was at Kamloops, so they had to journey there, a long trip by horse and buggy. On arriving in Kamloops they found the minister absent and they had to wait several days. A kindly family took Mary Jane in.

Arthur Day worked at the Barclay ranch as foreman, after the marriage and each day rode from his home on the pre-emption by the trail between the Giant's Head and Little Mountain. Mary Jane's brother, Fred, still remembers when he and George, as little boys, walked along the edge of the Sandhill to visit Mary Jane and some of her babies.

A few years after they were married they moved to Kelowna, as did Edith, who had married David Lloyd-Jones.

The pre-emption was sold in 1898 to R.M.H. Turner. Mr. Day was the foreman on Bernard Leguime's ranch and Mr. Lloyd-Jones went into the lumber business with the Leguimes. Later they became partners in the Kelowna Sawmill.

Eight children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Day, Dr. T.A. Day of Summerland being one of them. One died in infancy at Salt Lake City when the Days were on a visit. Mary Jane died when the eighth child was born in 1904, but Arthur Day, her husband, lived until 1954, when he died at the age of 93.

Like one point especially about the engine. The linkage between choke and throttle has three positions—for start, warm-up and drive. All the driver has to do when the engine is stone cold is to switch on and depress and release the accelerator pedal.

No over-choking
The engine then starts suitably choked for the conditions at the earliest possible second. Thus you cannot be guilty of over-choking with its damaging effect of spoiling lubrication at a critical time. In every possible way, Vauxhall designers have produced cars worthy of carrying their proud name.

Less wind noise
The designers wanted to bring about a new standard of stability, so they dropped the overall height by four-and-a-half inches, widened the cars by two inches and also increased the wheelbase by two full inches. The result is better in difficult conditions because of this. And they should produce less wind noise at higher speeds. The new design gives passengers more shoulder, hip and leg-room. The luggage compartment is about the biggest in cars of its class I have yet found.

Next, they have all-round visibility. The Luton designers were not satisfied merely to sweep the front windshield around on both sides so that anything coming out of a side street is immediately obvious to the driver, but they also made sure he sees through his rearview mirror. When reversing, any cyclist or walker lurking in the normally blind space on both sides of the back of the car is clearly visible. To do this they inserted quarter windows at the back. The motorist can see all four corners of the car when turning slowly.

THE spotlight moves to the new big six-cylinder Vauxhalls—the Velox and Cresta. First thing to realize is that they seat six passengers without cramping.

Fruit Industries Research Foundation is incorporated in the State of Washington to specialize in engineering, research and service work in the fruit industry. It is now completing its fifth year of serving clients throughout the United States and Canada, but in fact, has many more years of experience. The organization that comprises Fruit Industries originated in 1946 as the research department of the Washington State Apple Commission. This staff since that time has played a major part in introducing many innovations in fruit handling in Washington State and has helped bring about basic changes improving handling and accomplishing major reductions in cost of operations. The research and consulting service on a multitude of problems with relations to fruit handling, marketing, engineering and anticipating to help bring about these improvements has given a wealth of experience to Fruit Industries making it even more unique as the only specialist in the field. Since 1940 the industry has made its biggest improvements in 40 years.

Fruit Industries is headed by Earl W. Carlsen, who has directed the Washington State Apple Commission Research Program for over 12 years. He has been a former staff member of Washington State College, the University of Idaho and Assistant Director of Research for the (continued on following page)

Farm Credit Administration of Spokane, Washington. He is presently supported by D. Lloyd Hunter, graduate mechanical engineer and licensed industrial engineer, as head of the engineering department. The organization has a staff of 20 to 25, with professional personnel in the fields of economics, industrial, mechanical, architectural and development engineering.

Fruit Industries is consulted on problems of packing, fruit handling, inventory controls and marketing research related to the fruit industry. The statistical phases of this research and service work is carried out by the payroll service department with the use of International Business Machine punch card equipment. These complex machines and the trained staff of the payroll service department are available to the public for preparation of payrolls including cost distributions, State and Federal reports and automatic machine printed checks.

A chief effort of Fruit Industries has been research and service work related to improving the quality of apples shipped from the State of Washington. In helping do this and to keep the industry informed of fruit handling opportunities and cost reduction possibility, a subscription publication is issued monthly to a list of over 6,000 growers and fruit handlers. Yet the engineering department is the largest department in Fruit Industries which is actively consulting in the fields of industrial engineering, laying out packing plants, designing equipment, packing rooms and cold storages.

Fruit Industries' engineering services have rapidly gained recognition throughout the United States and other countries, at present serving clients in eleven state and two foreign countries. The list of clients served has grown largely as a result of word-of-mouth recommendations. During the last four years, engineering work has been done for 42 different firms — fruit and vegetable packing and storage plants, cannery storages and terminal market produce handlers and packagers. In just the past year, Fruit Industries designed 1,120,000 bushels of cold storage capacity for 10 different clients and in addition, worked out plant remodeling and renovation programs for 22 others. The number of clients served is even greater for the present year.

Highly Efficient Cooling System

One of the features of the new Co-operative Packinghouse is the 160,000 box capacity cold storage plant. Cooling of this huge area called for something special. This something special was a cooling system designed by John Inglis, long-time experts in the refrigerant field.

The compressor plant is at the rear of the building and on the ceiling beams of the storage plant are 24 blower units, with three fans to a unit. This amounts to 72 fans driven by 72 electric motors and these drive the cool air throughout the cold storage plant direct from the cooling coils.

This is a comparatively new system and the actual process whereby cooling of the large area is obtained is still considered in the nature of classified information.

The storage plant 231 feet in length and 100 feet wide is divided into three units the centre one taking up half of the area.

Co-op Congratulated By B.C. Tree Fruits Head

On the occasion of the opening of Summerland's Co-op packinghouse, R. P. Walrod, general-manager, of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., has sent the following congratulatory message.

The rapid adjustments taking place in agriculture today in both Canada and the United States are being forced for the most part by technological advancement. As the race quickens, the distance between the front and rear runners seems to be widening. The B.C. Fruit industry is currently deeply engaged in this adjustment process. Our future prospects, if not our survival, would seem to depend on our ability to seek out and develop every advantage that can be secured.

With this perspective, the new packing facilities in Summerland represent a development of major importance, not only to the growers of the Summerland Co-Op., but to the industry as a whole.

This body of growers is to be congratulated for the foresight that is so evident in the packing house being opened today. It rises as a monument out of the ashes of the old building which served its purpose over the years.

But this is a new day and the future needs of the industry can only be served by the very apparent careful and constructive thinking that has gone into the planning and design of this new operation and its equipment. Those responsible have taken advantage of new developments available to them and have made every effort to anticipate the future.

It is a real pleasure for me as head of the industry's selling agency to extend the best wishes of B.C. Tree Fruits, Limited, to the management and directors of the Summerland Co-Operative Growers Association and the association members in this endeavour.

Summerland Co-op

Total of all construction approximately 57,000 square feet.

The cold storage holds slightly over a 160,000 bushels of fruit when stored in boxes, and over 200,000 when bulk pallet boxes are used.

The refrigeration capacity is equivalent to cooling 155 tons of pears coming in daily with an average temperature of 80 degrees F.

The refrigeration systems is based on high volume and uniform velocity of air circulation to achieve even temperatures, close humidity control and assure rapid cooling.

The building is planned for future expansion.

The cold storage rooms are divided to provide special pear storage with even temperatures. Refrigeration in each room can be controlled separately and turned off and on at the discretion of the management.

After extensive industrial engineering study all of the buildings were planned around the most efficient handling system possible with present equipment.

The wall between the storage and packing room is a free standing, tilt up wall braced through the glue laminated roof trusses to prevent pilasters interfering with fruit handling in the packing room side.

Wall panels were poured on the floor then tilted into place. Largest tilt up panels in the building are 20' wide by 28' high, weighing about 19 tons.

The building was designed to accommodate Canadian suppliers and materials.

to be associated with this progressive, forward-looking organization which is adopting up-to-date ideas to cut costs in the handling of our famous Okanagan fruit.

FEATURES OF THE BIN CARRIER ARE:

It is designed to carry a full load of 12 bins, a single row of bins stacked three high. This is approximately 300 boxes.

It will pick up and stack the bins three high. It will transport the load to the packinghouse at ordinary truck speeds.

Unloading is accomplished by the flick of a lever which sets the whole load down at once, to be moved into cold storage by fork lift at the convenience of the warehouse crew.

Stacking, loading and unloading is a one-man operation, all operated by controls in the cab of the Bin Carrier.

Eight pairs of hydraulically operated forks pick up the bins, stack them two or three high, and support the load while transporting it to the packinghouse.

The power unit is a Ford V8 industrial motor with torque converter reversomatic transmission and 4-speed transmission driving through a 2-speed axle while picking up the load. The driver's seat swivels around so that he may quickly switch from one set of controls to the other.

The Carrier is equipped with power steering.

New Co-op Packinghouse Designed Around Equipment and Work Flow

There are two unique things about Fruit Industries' engineering service. First, it specializes only in the fruit and produce industry; it is not a general practitioner, but a specialist drawing on the best research and practices from every fruit growing area in the United States. Second, Fruit Industries is different in that it is a "one-stop" engineering service. On one staff all of the professional skills needed to arrive at the best design and construction of a parking plant and storage is to be had. Thus, the various engineering talents are coordinated to bring about the most economical and efficient layout and use of refrigeration, electrical and construction materials.

The approach to designing a plant is unusual. First, an efficient operating scheme is worked out by laying out the equipment and work flow. Next, the buildings are designed to fit around an efficient operation. Architectural and other engineering skills are bent to accomplish this purpose — the completion of the most efficient facility possible at a lower cost than any other method. In many cases a long range plan is worked out so that even though only a small part of the construction or remodeling program is carried out at a time all changes are directed toward a long-time efficient operation. The finished construction avoids a "jerry-built" appearance of an addition at a time.

An important part in keeping cost down is to have the proposed construction, remodeling or equipment designed and specified in such a way that contractors when bidding will be bidding on identical facilities. Experience has repeatedly indicated that such competitive bidding has realized considerable reduction in costs. The effectiveness of designing and specifying plans for bidding is impartial; there is no handicap of any vested interests in equipment or materials because Fruit Industries sells no equipment, only its services.

The advantage of centralized planning has brought worthwhile results to clients. Instances are recorded where they have reduced their costs five or more cents per bushel. One client reduced their fruit handling crew from 42 to 11 people by carefully following the outlined program. In one case where Fruit Industries was asked to design a plant previously let out on bid by another engineering firm, $72,000 reduction in bid price resulted for a 250,002-bushel plant, even though Fruit Industries specified better refrigeration facilities.

Evening Branch, St. Stephens W.A. Goes Into Summer Recess

The last meeting until the fall of her years of faithful work on behalf of the W. A. Mrs. Solly has served on the executive for the past 13 years. Mrs. Earle Wilson reported on the final preparations for the Garden party to be held July 9, in the Rectory gardens. Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. James Heavysides will convene the event.

At the close of the business meeting, Mrs. J. H. Blackey, of Westbank, showed slides taken when she was on a trip in the Holy Land. The slides were very much enjoyed. The meeting was closed with a prayer by the Rev. Northrup. Refreshments were served by Mrs. E. Bingham, Mrs. W. Birtles, Mrs. A. K. MacLeod and Mrs. L. Beaver.

Promenade News Comings & Goings

By E.R.H.

Eight couples from Summerland and Peachland travelled to Spokane on Friday to attend the Washington State Festival and square dance jamboree. According to reports from the dancers attending, this affair was a tremendous success. The highlight of the whole jamboree was the magnificent emceeing and calling of Joe Lewis. It looks like this event will become more popular to local dancers, and another year may find many couples attending.

This Saturday, June 21, the Summerland Pairs and Squares will be holding their party night at the Youth Centre Hall, West Summerland. Harold Burdon is the local caller in charge. Callers are invited to bring along their records. Lunch is "bring it yourself" style with coffee and trimmings provided.

Another dance to mark on your calendar is the Benefit dance to the Girl Guides on July 12 at the Youth Centre. This is a combined affair with Peachland, Summerland and Penticton as joint sponsors. A large crowd is anticipated. Les Boyer, popular teacher and caller, will be the emcee.

Miss Mary Stuart is on vacation at the coast.

Mr. Jim Hack of Spence's Bridge spent the weekend at the home of his mother, Mrs. E. Hack.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Shields over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ellison and son Ed and Miss Butterfield, all of Vancouver.

Mr. Ken Blagborne is spending a few days at the coast.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Oxley last week were Mr. and Mrs. George Armour of Antigonish, N.S.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Laidlaw, Mr. and Mrs. Ryan Lawley, Mr. Jim Dronsfield and son, Larry, went on a fishing trip to Pinaus Lake over the past weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Dugald McGregor, formerly of Princeton, have taken up residence in Summerland, and are being welcomed by old friends. They are the parents of Dr. Dugald McGregor of the Summerland Experimental farm.

Women's Institute Concludes Year's Activities With Garden Party

Following the annual custom of the June meeting of the Summerland Women's Institute took the form of a garden party, with a neighboring Institute as guest. This year's party was held at the home of Mrs. M. E. Collas, Crescent Beach on Friday afternoon and the Peachland Institute members were guests. A plant exchange was arranged by the agricultural committee and proved highly popular. Large garden hats worn by members added interest.

The spacious lawn, lovely flowers and the paintings of the hostess were admired by all. A delicious tea was served by Mrs. E. M. Tait and her committee.

During the business meeting, president Mrs. L. W. Rumball was in the chair. Mrs. W. R. Powell, delegate, gave a very interesting report of the 14th Biennial Provincial Convention, which was held at the UBC for three days in May. Each day reported Mrs. Powell, was filled with work and entertainment and proved most enjoyable to large gathering. One of the highlights of the convention was the presentation of $4,200 to furnish a ward in the new Queen Alexander Solarium. The International picnic will be held at Oroville, Wash., on with the Homemakers' Club as hostesses. The Centennial Cookbook was on display and could be ordered through Mrs. W. S. Rothwell. Following the summer recess the next meeting will be held on the second Friday in September and will feature a pot-holder shower for the Fall Fair on October 18.

Answers About Freezing

Numerous inquiries on freezing and home freezer management are received every week by the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture. Recently the questions most frequently asked have concerned "freezer burn", the importance of good packaging, and what to do about foods that have accidentally thawed. There are the answers given by the home economists:

Q. — What is "freezer burn"?
A. — "Freezer burn" is a surface discoloration of frozen foods caused by loss of moisture. Sometimes it is called dehydration or desiccation. Freezer burn is objectionable because it is accompanied by changes in the colour, flavour and texture and loss in weight of the food. Usually it is a sign of poor packaging.

Freezer burn may be recognized by the bleached, chalky, mottled appearance it gives to frozen foods, especially meats and fish. Dark red meats like beef become light pink and sometimes have light gray spots on affected areas. On poultry, freezer burn appears as light coloured, circular spots around the feather follicles, or as larger discoloured (whitish) areas on the skin surface. The colour of vegetable fades noticeably, peas becoming pale green. Probably because of their high acid content, fruits show less deterioration from freezer burn than other foods do.

Q. — Why are special packaging materials necessary for freezing,

A. — To keep the moisture and flavour of the food inside the package and to keep air and objectionable flavours out. Packaging materials made especially for freezing are moisture-vapour resistant which means they are designed to prevent freezer burn, rancidity development through oxidation, and the interchange of flavours of the foods stored in a home freezer or locker.

The cold dry air present in freezer storage exerts a constant pulling force on the moisture within the food packages. Any exposed or improperly packaged food will lose its moisture to the surrounding cold air in the form of vapour. As explained previously, freezer burn develops when moisture is lost.

Today In Your Garden

There are many brands of fertilizer on the market today from which the amateur gardener can choose an extra stimulant for his flower borders. This presents a confusing problem to the average householder who has a meagre knowledge of soil chemistry.

Two factors assist him. Regulations in Canada compel the manufacturer to print the analysis of his product, stating the phosphorus and potash contained, which are the most important fairly tolerant, little damage results from using fertilizers of different formulae according to the directions, provided the fertilizer does not come in direct contact with the leaves or roots.

Tests at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, over the past two summers, showed that on sandy loam soil, annual flowers responded best to 2-4 lb. per 100 square feet of a 5-10-13 fertilizer (5 per cent nitrogen, 10 per cent phosphorus, 13 per cent potash). Too much fertilizer, or fertilizer that supplies too much of one element, is of course wasteful. This fertilizer combination proved best on the local sandy soil which is naturally low in available phosphorus and potash while on clay soils, a fertilizer with less of these two elements would probably prove as satisfactory.

To get the best results it is advisable to determine what is in your soil by analysis. Soil test kits are available from any good seed store which give fairly accurate results if directions are followed carefully.

THE SUMMERLAND REVIEW goes all over the world every week as well as to many parts of Canada or the British Empire for $2.50 per year; other countries $3.00.

Tree Fruits Emphatic No Money Lost

The management of B. C. Tree Fruits wish to state that any interpretations or inferences that might lead growers to believe that any monies were actually lost with respect to the pool closing of McIntosh would be absolutely incorrect.

In actual fact the miscalculation was in connection with the figures used for advance purposes only, and that the final pool closing automatically corrected the situation, and would like to repeat that no actual monetary loss whatsoever to the pool as a whole was involved.

Pools have been closed in the normal way and final payments have been issued to shippers within the last few days. Only in some isolated instances are individual growers of McIntosh expected to be affected by the over-advance.

Community Praised For Response To Appeal

The following letter was received by E. F. "Hill" Smith as chairman of the Kiwanis Cancer fund drive, and is self explanatory.

Dear Mr. Smith:

It gives me much pleasure on behalf of the 1958 Conquer Cancer Campaign to acknowledge the excellent contribution of the residents of Summerland and district, to the Fight against Cancer.

That this amounts to $1,527.15, reflects the kindly generosity of your residents. For their help and encouragement in this and previous years, my colleagues and I join in conveying our warm gratitude and appreciation.

We note, too, that this contribution handsomely exceeds the quota of $1,200 and is in fact, the largest ever received from your community.

Also, we wish to say how grateful and obliged we are to the members of the KIWANIS CLUB OF SUMMERLAND, who again sponsored the appeal and carried this through so successfully. This success is in keeping with the careful attention to all records and receipts.

Joint Campaign Committee.
Yours very sincerely,
Donald F. Farris,
Chairman.

Macs Win One; Lose One

Summerland Macs, despite a five run rally in the top of the ninth took a lacing from the Pentiction Red Sox at Pentiction last Friday, losing 14-8, but the Summerland Club stayed in the top brackets by nosing out the Princeton Royals at Princeton on Sunday by a score of 3-2.

The Macs have their opportunity to square accounts with Pentiction on Sunday when they meet the Red Sox at the Athletic Park here. Game time 2:30 p.m. Under the lights at Pentiction Friday, the Red Sox catapulted into 4-2 lead in the first inning and were never threatened, as they rode into the ninth with 14 runs as against the Macs three. Their Macs exploded in the ninth, bunting two, two base hits and a single to score five runs.

At Princeton the Royals out-hit the visiting Macs, 9-8 but they were widely scattered. Summerland drew first blood, with two runs in the fourth inning on a combination of two singles, an error and a walk.

Princeton came up with one in reply when Penski clouted out a home run.

Parker's two bagger and a single by Hooker scored the Macs third run with Princeton scoring their second and last run in the seventh.

Summerland's Junior Red Sox Take Double Header Here Sunday

During the past week the local lads didn't have too much trouble. Chapman pitched a 4 hitter as his team mates climbed all over Lee Day to pick up 12 hits. Parker, Chapman, Uchida and Cliff Shannon each picked up two, one of Chapman's was a triple, in fact he is such a good junior pitcher that is now playing the outfield for the Macs.

Sunday's game against Pentiction was a close one all the way. Sheeley had Sato both pitched six hitters. Summerland won the game in the sixth inning when with two out, and the score tied 2-2 McNabb hit a long triple and scored on Lemkes' single through the box.

In other league action, Naramata split a double header with Vernon 7-1 and 3-0 to keep the Northern team only one game ahead of the Red Sox.

One of the problems involved in bulk bin handling, is that or transportation, but at the Summerland Co-Op's new packing-house this problem is believed solved by the Trump bin carrier. Trump Ltd. of Oliver have designed and built this carrier with a view to cutting down cost of handling. The carrier is equipped with four pairs of fork lifts, designed to stack the bins three high and to transport a load of 12 bins to the packing-house at ordinary truck speed.

According To The Mood

By Sid Godber

The clock was put back for me last Saturday a.m. Rush trip to Vancouver by train Thursday night, returning by train Saturday a.m. Committed to writing a story before leaving town. Up betimes and hied me to the Vancouver Sun office. At 7 a.m. the place a busy beehive. Scrabbled for a typewriter sat down at one. Key lettering worn off, or maybe it never had any. Not for me and I recalled the time when we old timers, veterans of the hunt and peck system would look down our noses at the young fellows coming in who could sit down at a machine and gawp up at the ceiling while typing at about 40 per minute. They'll never make newspapermen was our opinion. Never did seem that a man was the real McCoy if he used the touch system.

A typewriter without keys is as much use to me as a pair of spectacles to a totally blind man.

Then behind a pillar I spotted an old machine at a rickety old desk — some copy boy's beginnings of a newspaper career. I sat down at the machine — it had lettering worn and one key letter completely missing.

The letter was "X" and I recalled how I used to have trouble finding the "X" when I worked at the Sun. That set my mind churning and I turned up the machine — sure enough, there were my initials scratched on the thing. Marking your machine was a sensible precaution in those days when the Sun was absorbing old and new men every day as they came back from the wars. Typewriter hi-jacking was the order of the day among us lesser breeds, although I've seen and heard the City Editor screaming more than once that some unprincipled so and so had stolen his machine.

One grizzled veteran of the newspaper wars, fed up with having to hunt for his machine resorted to padlocking the thing to a pillar using a massive padlock and chain.

My old machin didn't seem to be much if any worse for wear than the day I left it, the lower case "t" struck way below the line and the effect of line of copy was that of a very ill person's fever chart. Still it produced and I can vouch for some massive production. First big story I wrote on it was the Jenny Conroy murder — it was on this machine that I finally pounded out the story that I had unwittingly first phoned into the opposition.

As one of the old desk men cracked when he saw me at the typewriter; "I hope you know who you're writing that for."

I dunno that I'd want it now for a steady diet, but it was good to be back amid the clatter and the apparent disorder and chaos of a big city newsroom.

A reporter feet up on his city desk contemplating his finger nails — suddenly a phone call to city desk.

A crisp "Tom".

Curt and brief instructions and the reporter catapults out of the office as if the devil was on his tail — in fact worse than the devil — the city editor.

I wondered about the what, why, where and when of it, it could be a footling little thing — it could be a tip off that would crack the triple murder case. Whatever it turned out to be that reporter would get it.

"Here boy, copy," golly I'm all over nostalgia.

Council To Ask Liquor Vote Despite Protests

Summerland's Municipal Council will request the Provincial government to hold a liquor plebiscite in this district as soon as possible.

Council made this unanimous decision on Tuesday in the face of a storm of protest from five Summerland churches and the Summerland branch of the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

Request originated with the Summerland Board of Trade, which at its June meeting, decided to ask Council to request the plebiscite. The Board of Trade contends the issue must be clarified in relation to efforts being made to secure a hotel for Summerland.

Council, while in no way expressing opinion on the liquor question, was nevertheless, of the unanimous mind that it could not in fairness reject the Board of Trade's request. It was pointed out that this is democracy and that neither the council, nor any other group has the right to decide for the majority.

The people have the right to vote on this matter, Council affirmed, and so a request for a plebiscite will be sent forthwith, to Victoria.

Objecting to any application for a plebiscite are the United Church, Baptist Church, Free Methodist Church, Pentecostal Church, Church of God and the WCTU.

A copy of the WCTU letter to Council was submitted to the Review, and is published in full on the editorial page.

The Churches charged that liquor is harmful, spiritually, morally and socially, and it was also pointed out that the people of Summerland voted decisively against liquor in the 1954 plebiscite.

Best in the west and then some — Summerland's latest acquisition the Summerland Co-operative Grower's Association's new near three-quarter of a million dollar packinghouse officially opened its doors Monday. The massive overhead doors rolled up to admit hundreds of sightseers when A. R. Garrish, president of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association, pictured above, declared the building open. On the left is Reeve F. E. Atkinson who spoke of the happy co-operation which had existed between the municipality and the association down through the years and also of the economic value of the operation to Summerland. The Co-op payroll during the season lost through fire was sorely missed, the Reeve declared. On the opposite side of the Reeve is R. P. Walrod, general manager of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., who commended the directors on their planning and stressed the difficulties they had to face in planning within the limits of the funds available to meet the demands of the future.

Sprinkler Restrictions Are Imposed By Council

Sprinkling regulations went into force today, Thursday, June 26, on decree of Municipal Council, which on Tuesday was informed that excessive use of water on the domestic water system was creating hardship. Water rationing will apply only to those on the domestic system. Users will be restricted to two sprinklers every second day. The split up is alphabetical, with those whose surnames begin with A, C, E, G, I, K, M, O, Q, S, U, W, Y, sprinkling on the odd days of the month and those whose surnames begin with B, D, F, H, J, L, N, P, R, T, V, X, Z, on the even days. It was again pointed out during the council discussion, that many people could avoid water shortage and restrictions by being hooked up to the irrigation pressure system which can carry all the water required. Municipal workmen will make the hookup free of charge, provided the user supplies the connection. Council feels that some form of control is necessary owing to the habit of people to water excessively during hot spells. Owing to this excessive use of water during the current hot weather many people on higher levels are often without water.

Orchard Tour Here This Year

Fruit growers second annual Orchard Tour will be held in Summerland this year. Day set for the occasion is July 8.

Growers from Naramata, Penticton, Kaleden, O. K. Falls, Summerland and Peachland areas are invited to attend this tour. Four Summerland orchards will be visited and many interesting points observed.

Soil and water management, grass control around fruit trees semi-dwarf apple trees, budding and top working and mineral deficiencies will be studied. A number of specialists from the Department of Agriculture will be in attendance to discuss each phase of the tour. The tour starts at the J. Y. Towgood orchard at 9:30 a. m. July 8. Lunch will be eaten at one of the orchard stops and growers are advised to pack a box lunch for the trip.

A pleasant feature of the opening ceremonies at the new Summerland packinghouse, held Monday, was the presentation by Co-op Growers' president, J. Y. Towgood of a bouquet of flowers to Mrs. George Washington, pictured above as she received the bouquet from Mr. Towgood. The presentation was double-barrelled, as it expressed the directors' appreciation of the efforts of association manager George Washington, who, said Mr. Towgood, could not have put in the long hours and accomplished what he did without the help and encouragement and cooperation of his wife. Later Mrs. Washington was one of those who poured gallons of apple juice and served scores of soft drinks to the thirsty visitors. Another feature of the opening was demonstration of the new Trump bulk bin carrier.

Summerland stores will remain open on Monday, but will close all Tuesday, July 1, which is the Dominion Day Holiday.

Summerland Kiwanis Club will stage one of their high flying bingo nights on Granville Street, Saturday night.

Summerland Junior Red Sox, host the Naramata Juniors at the Athletic Park, Sunday afternoon.

Trout Creek "At Home" Success

Trout Creek "At Home" day proved a successful event with more than 200 turning out to enjoy a variety of entertainment, which included water sports, pot parade, decorated bicycles tug-of-war and ring toss. A library booth in charge of Mrs. R. Alstead carried a selection of surplus library books and magazines. The home cooking booth was in charge of Mrs. Rothwell and the angel food cake, donated by Mrs. Powell was won by Mrs. H. Doherty. Winner of the bean guessing prize, also donated by Mrs. Powell, was won by Gladly Parker. Clarence Lackey was winner of the power boat handicap race. An interesting exhibition of water skiing was staged by the younger people. Another hit was the windmill booth sponsored by New Canadians from Holland, presided over by Henry Abeling in full Dutch costume. An art display, featuring Trout Creek of the future, done by the children was topped by Jimmy. (continued on back page)

Plans for the opening of the new Health centre and Library building have been announced. The handsome new building pictured above, is rapidly approaching completion. Opening day is Monday, July 21, with official ceremonies timed to start at 2 p.m. Those will include the opening of the new library which is Summerland's Centennial project.

Letters To The Editor

Summerland Municipal Council,
West Summerland, B.C.

Dear Sirs:
As group of citizens of Summerland with its welfare and happiness at heart we, the undersigned, respectively request that a plebiscite with a view to providing further liquor outlets in Summerland not be held.

It is privilege and a pleasure to live in our fair community and it has attracted many new members and citizens for the very reason that it has organized liquor outlets such as a cocktail lounge, beer parlour etc. We realize that the responsibilities and duties that you have as Council members to listen to the voice of the citizens. The Board of Trade has less than 50 members and the request sent to you was not passed unanimously, much larger groups are submitting requests that such a plebiscite not be held. We are proud of the fact that the present council has carried on the fine traditions of Summerland Councils in the past in looking after the welfare of our community.

We understand the main reason for the request from the Board of Trade is that there would be more likelihood of a hotel being built in Summerland if there was license for liquor granted, but we feel that Summerland is not a convention type of town and the majority of tourists and salesmen prefer motels to hotels. Here are several fine motels existing in Summerland today and more are being planned for the future. Money spent on liquor is not going to benefit the Board of Trade and has always in the past contributed to the lowering of the standards of the community. We are proud to be members of this outstanding B.C. community and let us not in this centennial year let down the standards for which we are famous.

Yours Sincerely,
Women's Christian Temperance Union.
Mrs. Howard Milne, Mrs. Howard de Witt, Mrs. Ruth James, Mrs. Margaret Cashman, Mrs. M. A. Munro, Mrs. R. O. Moore, Mrs. Wesley Davis, Mrs. E. J. Smith, Mrs. C. W. James, Mrs. Blanche Milne, Mrs. J. S. Mott, Mrs. Rathjen, Mrs. H. Smith, Mrs. P. Smith, Mrs. Archie Nicholson, Mrs. V. B. Durnin, Mrs. Melvin Stevens, Mrs. Nora Blacklock, Miss Violet Banks, Miss Muriel Banks and Mrs. W. King.

ORCHARD RUN

EYE TO BEAUTY

It was an idea more aesthetic than practical that prompted the first fruit growers at Oliver to plant cherry trees along the roadside.

Back from World War I, men who fought and slogged through the mud of Flanders came to Oliver to build a new career in a new and virgin land. They wanted to build for beauty, so they planted rows of cherry trees along both sides of the roads.

Probably no sight is more beautiful than a cherry tree loaded with ripe red fruit ready for the picking. At the same time nothing is more enticing or makes the mouth drool with anticipation than that same cherry tree, branches sagging with the weight of luscious fruit.

TEMPTING
The passing motorist who sees such a sight dangling before his eyes is strongly tempted to get out and help himself, but this is no excuse for stealing from the fruit grower who gets little enough for his year's work.

The person who filches the orchardist's cherries is a thief and deserves punishment for the crime of stealing. If he also breaks branches off the trees he is a vandal and should pay for the damage he does.

I suppose some persons prefer to steal cherries rather than to determine what truth there may be in that old saying, "Stolen fruits are sweeter." Just the same, it's stealing, and a crime in the book.

TRY THIS
Here's a little trick that seems to work pretty good. When you see a car parked near a cherry tree (anybody's cherry tree) and the occupants are helping themselves to the fruit, stop nearby and let them see you take down the license number of their car, make, and other details.

By this time the cherry thieves are hurrying back to their car to make a quick get-away, and you casually remark, "You'll be hearing about this later."
They are likely to remember this incident the next time they are tempted to steal cherries.

This Vandalism Must Stop

One of the happiest sights in and around Summerland these hot days and will continue to be so throughout the summer months is the sight of children splashing with great glee in the water off Rotary Beach.

Here, under watchful eyes of Red Cross trained swimming instructors and thanks to the sponsorship of the Summerland Rotarians, children are learning to swim and to enjoy water sports in safety.

In creating Rotary Beach the Summerland Rotarians have earned the thanks of the community and yet, almost unbelievably so, they are being ill-repaid for their time, money and effort which they have devoted to the welfare of the children of this community.

Louts — that is the only printable word, with which to describe them — are committing acts of vandalism at Rotary Beach, and with some of their moronic antics they are endangering the lives of children bathing there.

Floats are being upset, benches smashed and the rest rooms left in filth that beggars description.

It is beyond us — we often hear the argument that the youth of today is no better, no worse than the youth of preceding generations. To some extent we agree, but search our minds as we will we cannot recall where the youth of our own day committed such acts of useless and revolting vandalism as is currently happening at Rotary beach.

Every citizen has a duty to see to it that these vandals are brought to justice.

We understand that some of the gang are known and so The Review gives fair warning that it will not hesitate to publish, and publish prominently, the names of those brought to book, if this wave of senseless vandalism continues.

Enjoy Them With Safety

Canada has been blessed with hundreds of thousands of beautiful lakes, rivers and streams. They are ours to enjoy in so many ways. Unfortunately, their appeal for healthful, happy recreation is always marred by Canada's annual drowning toll.

This week has been named "National Water Safety Week" and it is the hope of the Canadian Red Cross Society that this promotion will save lives this summer.

The need for education in water safety is apparent at every turn. Our headlines usually give the grim details. There is always the thought that the majority of these deaths could have been avoided if a few simple rules had been learned and practised.

Death by drowning plays no favourites. Men, women and children of all ages are its victims. Expert swimmers are no exception and are as likely to become a drowning statistic as are those making their first venture in the water.

The Red Cross rules of water safety are simple. They are merely the practical application of common sense. Parents are requested to become familiar with these simple rules and to give guidance and example to their children. Boating enthusiasts should realize their responsibility for others seeking recreation in the water and have consideration for their passengers.

This year everyone can have a happier vacation and a more healthful summer if we learn to observe the Red Cross rules of water safety. Our drowning record is not a proud one. A mutual effort will save lives this summer.

The Member Reports

for week ending June 14

One of the highlights of the week was the visit of Mr. MacMillan, Prime Minister of Great Britain. He spoke to a joint session of parliament and I know that you will have already read the text of his speech. It was a timely reminder of the basic principles behind the free world. He was extremely well received in the crowded house and I cannot tell you what a wonderful thing it was to watch him as he spoke. He spoke simply and quietly, now serious, now humorous, and his audience paid him rapt attention from start to finish. The day before I had met Mr. MacMillan at a reception. He asked me the name of my constituency and when I told him "Okanagan Boundary," the conversation that followed showed that he knew the Valley and Boundary country well. You will remember that in his speech he mentioned that he probably knew Canada better than most members. I enjoyed meeting him as I know all others did who had the opportunity.

Parliament this week went on with the estimates of Public Works and the opposition continued to direct its attack against the amounts being spent on new public works. They hold that there has been no great increase to combat unemployment but the government stand is that in the short term there has been an increase and an acceleration of many public works programs.

The long standing debate on NORAD began. Opposition centered on the fact that the government had entered into arrangements with the United States which somehow had impaired Canadian sovereignty. Liberal criticism would have it that the arrangements should have been submitted to parliament at an earlier date. CCF criticism was directed towards NORAD and held that instead of being under NORAD it should have been under NATO and the states behind NATO should ratify any agreement. In dealing with the points, Mr. Diefenbaker stated that the matter could not have been brought up at a prior time and that as far as the CCF are concerned, they had at their convention in B.C. this spring opposed NATO and urged Canada's withdrawal from it, offering instead that Canada should find collective security through the United Nations. The debate was adjourned after Mr. Diefenbaker had spoken for only ten minutes.

Two private bills were worthy of note — the first on pollution of rivers and waters was introduced by a Conservative but it was talked out. My own feeling on this subject is that legislation should be introduced to effectively stop the pollution of streams and waters. The second private bill was brought in by Mr. Herridge in order to amend the Railway Act so that curtailment of service would have to come before the Railway Board before taking effect. The Minister of Transport speaking on the debate stated that the Railway Board now has full power to deal with the matter. The importance of this point can be appreciated in our area in view of the curtailment of service on the Kettle Valley Line.

When you ask for a loan
 at the B of M...

you do not ask a

FAVOUR

WHEN the housewife calls at the grocery store and orders a supply of provisions, she is not asking a favour... she is buying goods for which she will pay cash... purely a matter of business.

So with your bank. It is a business proposition just as much as the grocery store.

The grocer deals in groceries... the banker deals in credit. And, as the making of loans is the principal way by which his bank derives its revenue, he is as anxious to sell his credit as the grocer is to sell his groceries. And, like the grocer, the banker naturally wants to know that he is going to be paid for his goods... that his loans will be met when they fall due. That, too, is only good business.

When you have occasion to ask for a loan, look at it this way. Come to the Bank, not feeling that you have to ask a favour, but to offer the manager a sound business proposition which will be of profit to you and to his institution.

Time To Houseclean Freezer

Time flits by so quickly that soon you'll be starting to refill your home freezer with the new crop of fruits and vegetables. So, while you're in the mood for housecleaning, why not give this important appliance some attention?

About 12 hours before you plan to start, turn the temperature control of the freezer to its coldest position, in order to get the food that's left as cold as possible. If it is necessary to remove the food while housecleaning, wrap it in several thicknesses of newspaper or pack it in heavy cartons. Blankets can be wrapped around it too, as an added precaution against thawing.

The home economists of the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture, recommend that for specific instructions on defrosting and cleaning, you refer to the service manual with your own freezer.
