

OKANAGAN BOUNDARY LIBERAL CANDIDATE W. A. Gilmour, Trout Creek, Summerland, talks over the Pearson plan for the March 31 federal election with party leader Lester B. "Mike" Pearson during candidate's workshop in Vancouver.

Summerland Needs New Hospital Building

Summerland's hospital board of directors is thinking in terms of a new hospital. The time is ripe — the present building is fast becoming inadequate to meet the needs of a growing population and it is a difficult and costly building to maintain. That the B.C. government has indicated it intends to double the grant from $1,000 to $2,000 a bed on new hospital construction is also an important factor which could accelerate new construction planning.

Intimation that the board is thinking in terms of a new hospital was given by Hospital Board chairman Les Rumball, at the annual meeting of the Summerland Hospital Society held last Thursday. It was one of the largest hospital meetings on record.

Need for a new hospital was also stressed by guest speaker Dr. Brian Williams, radiologist of the Pentiction Hospital.

Mr. Rumball was re-elected chairman, R. Alstead and Norman Holmes re-elected 1st and 2nd vice-president, respectively. Hospital administrator, J. E. O'Mahoney, was re-named secretary-treasurer. Mrs. T. B. Lott was named to the board again and G. C. Johnston was elected to take over the unexpected term of I. H. Solly, who has left Summerland. Other members of the board are S. A. MacDonald, Harvey L. Wilson, Dr. M. Welch and J. M. Betuzzi. Council representative is F. M. Steuart; auxiliary, Mrs. C. A. Adams; provincial, Sid Godber. $1,417 SURPLUS Reports showed all branches of the hospital had increased in services during the past year, although, it was noted that a large percentage of patients is lost to outside hospitals. In 1957 there was a 57 per cent occupancy. The hospital finished the year with a surplus of $1,417.91. In January this year occupancy was 76 per cent. It takes 53 to 55 per cent continual occupancy to keep the hospital "in the black."

Wages totalled $55,000, of which 90 per cent stays in the community since nurses and staff members are local people. Total expenses last year were $82,214.38.

New equipment obtained in 1957 included 15 chairs for the board room; an X-ray table with spot film; TV donated to the nurses' residence by E. T. Matcchett; mobile X-ray; new mattresses; sphygmoidoscope; X-ray view box and film hanger; and surgical instruments.

New Soils Building Open To Public Monday

The new quarter of a million dollar Soils Building at the Summerland Experimental Farm will be formally opened on Monday and thrown open for public inspection between the hours of 2-5 in the afternoon and 7:30 and 9:30 in the evening.

A permanent staff of 12 will be located in the building. Officer in charge will be Dr. J. C. Wilcox, head of the soils section who has been at the farm since 1931. Also working in the building will be Dr. J. L. Mason, in charge of plant nutrition of tree fruits and chemical analysis since 1948, and Dr. Max McGibbon, in charge of plant nutrition of vegetables and weed control since 1953.

Others on the staff are J. M. McDougald, equipment and instruments; J. L. Brown, D. M. Munn, the official photographer and the statistician.

Grads Centennial Concert To Be Held Next Friday

Everyone is invited to come to the Grad Variety Concert, next Friday evening, March 14, in the High School Auditorium. This is the eighth of its kind and its main purpose is to help graduates of '58 raise money for their graduation ceremony, banquet and dance to be held in June.

This year's program is featuring several vocal solos, two very good plays, vocal duets, instrumental numbers, a ventriloquist, chorale numbers, an imitator of modern music and several comic acts featuring this years grads.

If you listen to Radio Station CKOK on Thursday, March 13 at 11:00 a.m. you will hear an interview with some of the members of the group who have been working hard to make this grad centennial project a big success.

Tickets can be obtained from any high school student and if anyone is interested but cannot get in touch with a student, they may phone Dot Carston at 6542 anytime after six.

Tickets are only 50c for two hours of fine entertainment.

The Budd car, or self-propelled rail diesel car pictured here, went into service between Vancouver and Pentiction on Monday, March 3, leaving Vancouver at 8 p.m. and arriving at Pentiction at 3:20. The same CPR car will leave at 4 p.m. and arrive at Vancouver at 11:20.

These streamliners, which can be operated in multiple units if the traffic demands, can be accelerated and decelerated quickly and are the essence in comfort. Their introduction opens up a new field for travellers anxious to see the spectacular Coquihalla Pass.

Building Permits Tell Of Continuing Expansion

Summerland is away to a flying start on building construction this year. Permits for nine new homes and permits for nine alterations and additions were issued in February for the respectable total of $63,450 and, to top it off, was a permit to the value of $40,000 for the community health centre.

Altogether in the first two months of this year permits to the value of $117,100 have been issued, as against only $12,250 in the first two months of 1957.

This bespeaks plenty of building activity with work on the new Summerland Co-operative Growers' Association Packing house steadily continuing.

Indications are for a good construction year especially in view of the promises being made by Conservatives and Liberals in the current election campaign, which, if implemented, will make more money available for construction.

Summerland Couple Wed 60 Years

Celebrating their 60th wedding anniversary on March 4, were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Arnold of Summerland. They were married at Rocanville, Saskatchewan where they spent their working years carrying on mixed farming before they came to Summerland to retire ten years ago.

Mrs. Arnold was born at Saulte Ste. Marie, Ontario, 78 years ago and Mr. Arnold was born 81 years ago at Cookstown, Ontario.

The Arnolds have two sons, Elmer of Vancouver and Adrian who lives in Summerland.

Political Pot Beginning To Simmer In Okanagan

The political pot is beginning to simmer in the Okanagan but so far it appears to be the Conservatives who are doing most of the fire building.

Last week in Pentiction they had Davie Fulton, Kamloops, who held the portfolio of Minister of Justice in the Diefenbaker minority government, speaking at a luncheon in Pentiction.

On Monday night in Kelowna, March 10, the Conservatives will fire their biggest gun in the person of John Diefenbaker, the man who led the Conservatives out of the wilderness in the election last June who will be the main speaker at the Kelowna meeting. This is Mr. Diefenbaker's only appearance in the valley.

Former Postmaster Here Dies In Oliver

J. Harry Bowering, postmaster in West Summerland for 30 years, passed away in St. Martin's Hospital, Oliver, on February 27, the day before his 85th birthday, after a short illness. Mr. Bowering retired in 1948 and has been living with his son Ewart in Oliver for the past five years. He was predeceased by his wife in 1952.

Mr. Bowering was born in Bristol, England in 1873, but emigrated to Canada in 1888, after the death of his parents. After working in Quebec and on the prairies, he enrolled in and graduated from Brandon College in its first graduating class in 1902. He was a Baptist minister in a number of parishes in Saskatchewan and Alberta, being responsible for the building of a church in Wetaskiwin. He moved to Summerland with his family in 1913 and remained there until moving to Pentiction in 1950. Mr. Bowering was well known as the Postmaster in West Summerland from about 1920 until after the second World War.

Surviving are his four sons: J. L. (Red) in Pentiction, Ewart in Oliver, Jack in Victoria and Gerald in Naramata; two sisters, Mrs. E. L. Sutton (Grace) in Vancouver and Mrs. D. S. Lockhart (Ella) in Courtenay; also a brother Edgar in Summerberry, Sask., and a sister, Maud, in England.

Mr. Jones is scheduled to speak in the IOOF hall next Tuesday and with him will be Erhart Regier, M.P. for Burnaby-Coquitlam. Mr. Regier is rated one of the ablest debaters in the house and he is well worth hearing.

"Bill" Gilmour, Liberal; O. L. Jones, CCF, and Henry Carson, Social Credit. The meeting will be held in the school auditorium.

Orchard Notes

by Alec Watt,
District Horticulturist

Fire Blight of pears is the greatest single menace to pear growing in the Pacific Northwest. Just lately it has been increasing in the Yakima Valley to the South. The control of Fire Blight is by removing and burning all diseased limbs and spurs during the dormant season. Diseased limbs can usually be detected because they have dead leaves adhering to them. By now many diseased limbs have lost all their withered leaves and must be detected by a close examination of the bark. Diseased pear limbs have a leaden grey colour to them whereas the healthy limbs are a whitish grey colour. Often the affected tissues is divided from the healthy tissue by a crack in the bark.

All diseased limbs should be cut off at least a foot below the last sign of the blight. This is because the bacteria causing this disease live in the healthy bark at the edge of the dead bark. Therefore, merely cutting off the dead limb does not always remove the cause, especially if the cut is made close to or in the dead area.

Bright sunny weather is required to be able to see the High cankers and diseased limbs clearly. Searching on a dull day is often a waste of time. Unfortunately, the weather has produced very few sunny days so far this year. Perhaps this is why little progress has been made in cutting out the blight in some areas.

The District Horticulturist, A. W. Watt, is continually on the lookout for Fire Blight. An inspection is made of the area each year. Where Blight has been missed or not cut out it is marked with red bunting and the grower notified of its presence.

Growers can help in this inspection by notifying the horticulturist when their blight pruning is done. A further inspection of the orchard can then be made by both the grower and horticulturist together. Quite often more blight will be found.

Pear growing is one of the most valuable phases of the Tree Fruit industry. Annually over 100,000 bushels of pears are grown in Summerland alone. Fire Blight can kill an entire pear orchard. It is up to all of us to guard against the ravages of Fire Blight by co-operating in a program to control this disease.

Women's Federa'n Of St. Andrew's

Thursday afternoon Feb. 20, Mrs. J. E. Sheidrake welcomed three visitors and 34 members of St. Andrew's Federation to their regular monthly meeting. Mrs. J. Dunston the new president in the chair. The opening hymn, "All the way my Saviour leads me" is a favorite of Mrs. Shepherd a former member, now residing in Valley Lodge, Penticton.

A most appropriate prelude to The Women's World Day of Prayer held February 21, was Mrs. R. Chapman's talk on "The Fellowship of Prayer," she stated that last year 118 countries joined in a chain of Prayer around the World, even penetrating the iron curtain countries.

The secretary, Miss Ada Cochran read the minutes of the last meeting, covering the annual reports from the various committees. Letters of thanks, for financial support from the junior choir, board of stewards, Naramata Leadership Training school, and the Presbyterian supply Secretary were read, also a note of appreciation from a shut-in member of the congregation.

The president spoke with deep regret regarding Mrs. W. Powell's resignation as supply secretary. Mrs. Powell ably filled this position for several years. Owing to her frequent absence from Summerland she felt she could no longer give the required time to this duty. Mrs. H. B. Muir has consented to be responsible for this work.

Three colorful and attractive quilts had recently been finished and were on display. Mrs. Dunston read a list of articles requested for shipment to Korea. This list may be obtained either from Mrs. Mair or Mrs. A. McLaughlin.

The question of delegates to the annual Presbyterian in Oliver, Feb. 27 and 28 came up for discussion. Mrs. J. Lazenby and Mrs. J. Dunston will officially represent the society. A number of other members hope to attend as visitors.

Miss Cochran and Mrs. Dunston reported a visit to the residents of Mountain View Home. The entertainment on this occasion was colored picture slides with recitations, music and songs by Mrs. K. Boothe and Lynne.

Mrs. Chapman reported the Mission Band had reorganized under the leadership of Mrs. C. Campbell, with 16 grade 1 and 2 children. Magazines and other supplies for this group had been donated by Mrs. V. Charles and Mrs. Campbell.

UNITED CHURCH W.A. BIRTHDAY

The 14th birthday meeting of the Summerland United Church W.A. was held on Feb. 16 in the Church Hall. About 60 ladies were present including visitors from the Women's Federation.

The president, Mrs. John Holman, was in the chair. Reports were heard from convenors of the Congregational supper, the AOTS supper, and catering for the Presbytery meetings.

The committee appointed to set up Circles presented a list of recommendations for the operation of this system of dividing the association into smaller units. There will be seven circles at present with from ten to thirteen in each. Each circle will meet once a month and four times a year all circles will meet together under the central executive. Two representatives were chosen from each circle to call the first meeting and get organized.

Other business included approval of a donation towards maintenance of Union College and to assist in sending a delegate from B.C. to the World Convention of Christian Education to be held in Tokyo, Japan, in August.

The special program opened with the devotional led by Mrs. L. Wright. Her theme "The Owner's Stamp" was based on Acts 4:13. "They recognized that they had been with Jesus."

A very entertaining skit was presented re-enacting the first meeting of the W.A. when it was formed fourteen years ago. Mrs. E. Bates, Mrs. L. Fudge, Mrs. J. Mayne, Mrs. K. Boothe, Mrs. S. Crooks, Mrs. V. Foster, Mrs. J. Sheeley, Mrs. W. A. Laidlaw took part, attired in the fashions of that era.

The fourteen candles on the beautifully decorated birthday cake were lighted by the past presidents and Mrs. E. Bates presented each with an appropriate remembrance.

The tasty refreshments were convened by Mrs. K. Boothe and SCGeSE TA ETA EE E representing Canada, proved most interesting. The questions and answers demonstrated that while Japan is crowded with 90 millions of a population and the standard of supplies meager in comparison with Canada, she is rich in Art, Drama and Literature. The political progress during the last decade has been amazing. Their fear of the nuclear bombs has been learned by experience!

AOTS Hear About Municipal Water Supply

The Summerland AOTS Club held their regular meeting on February 27, in the church lounge.

Guest speaker for the meeting was Ken Blagborne, water superintendent for the Municipality, who gave the Club a very interesting and comprehensive description of how the Summerland water supply is conserved and released to fruit growers. He told how old type flume is being replaced by concrete flume and trestle, and other parts of the system being modernized without any interruption in the water supply. Summerland has a water supply that should be ample for any emergency, or whatever expansion may take place in the future.

A brief question period followed the address, and the number and variety of questions showed the keen interest members had in the subject. A vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Blagborne by the Club.

A short business meeting followed. The whist drive has been completed but final scores are not all in. Considerable volunteer labour has been done in the new church hall and thanks is extended to all who helped with that.

Cubs and scouts, with their parents will hold a banquet on March 7th.

Dr. Rose of Naramata will be the guest speaker for the March meeting.

ORCHARD RUN

by Wally Smith

As the author of a weekly column that deals with problems affecting the fruit industry of the Okanagan I can hardly escape from making some comment on the newly formed growers' "rebel" group called the Canadian Fruit Growers Association.

Not that I am anxious to escape, but it is somewhat early to express an opinion, favorable or otherwise, on a group that has just appeared over the horizon to lead the growers out of the valley of the shadow.

This column has not yet received a copy of the new group's aims and principles, but judging from portions appearing in the press it is quite an imposing document.

Some of the objectives may possess merit, but it is a bit difficult to see what can be gained by adopting others. It is stated, for instance that the CFGA would provide the fruit industry with the choice of a second administration since the CFGA is formed to oppose and compete with the BCFGA for control of the B.C. fruit industry.

Some growers can see an advantage in a division of fruit marketing on geographical lines, but the CFGA would split growers on a policy basis, not geographically.

A freer use of election by ballot of all growers instead of by delegates at the annual convention is also advocated. This plan was turned down at the last BCFGA convention.

The new group's so-called statement of provisional aims and principles is a curious mixture of accusations, denunciations, aims and objectives, veiled and not-so-veiled charges. Main objective of the group is declared to be "to promote the maximum sale of the growers' product."

Words such as "controlling cliques," "social coercion," "intimidation and retaliation," appear in the 20 point program, the final point of which reads as follows: An open opposition to all forms of social, economic, legal or political totalitarian encroachments and impositions.

I wouldn't be surprised if they also take a firm stand against armed robbery and murder.

Leaders of the new group must be in possession of some evidence that there is within the industry "social coercion, intimidation and retaliation," and "controlling cliques."

That evidence should be immediately turned over to the McPhee Royal Commission for thorough investigation. To withhold the evidence is to do the fruit growers a grave disservice.

The new organization is off to a noisy start, but it remains to be seen what support it will get from the growers. I don't think it will get very much.

EDITORIAL

A. R. Garrish, president of the BCFG, addressing Prime Minister Diefenbaker on Monday of this week informed the P.M. that unless government assistance is forthcoming it is doubtful if the fruit industry can survive.

That then is the important issue locally of the current election.

What stand do the four Okanagan-Boundary candidates take on the vital question of assistance to the fruit industry?

Well, there's nothing like getting it straight from the horses' mouth and thanks to the efforts of the Summerland Board of Trade, we the people who will mark our X on March 31, can get the word direct from the candidates themselves, candidates who will be on the well-known spot at a combined candidates meeting to be held in the High School auditorium next Wednesday, March 19.

A recent Gallup poll discloses that there is a surprising large percentage of voting age Canadians who know little about the political issues of the day.

We flatter ourselves that the findings of the Gallup poll do not apply to the voters of Summerland.

But as voters it is our duty to keep informed and the way to keep informed on the local political issues and pass judgement on the candidates is to see them in action — under fire, so to speak, from all sides.

The Board of Trade hopes for a crowded-to-capacity auditorium, which would be a sure sign that Summerland folk are vigilant and alive to their responsibilities as voters — and besides — with four candidates of differing political hues on the platform — most anything can happen — it should be quite a meeting.

WEST SUMMERLAND, B.C.

P.M. Promises Fruit Growers Price Support

Summerland Singers and Players will present the Pirates of Penzance in the High School auditorium on March 24. And now, as the time nears, the chosen cast works on perfecting their lines, the orchestra tunes up their instruments and the "behind-the-scenes" workers hurry here and there to complete final arrangements.

This year A. K. Macleod has the leading role, that of Major-General Stanley with Joe Morrison playing the Pirate King. Other cast members include Ken Boothe as Samuel, the Lieut. David Jensen as Frederick, the Pirates' Apprentice, Delmer Dunham as the Sergeant of Police; Fran Johnson as Mable, Flora Bergstrom as Edith, Laura Booth as Kate, and Peggy Johnston as Isabel — all the Major-General's daughters. Ruth the pirate maid of all work is played by Alma Fudge. A. K. Macleod, Delmer Dunham, Flora Bergstrom and Alma Fudge played the same roles when the opera was produced here some years ago. Tickets go on sale at Green's Drug Store on Saturday.

Annual High School Grad Concert, Friday

Have you bought your ticket to the Eighth Annual Grad Variety Concert that is going to be held this Friday, March 14, in the High School Auditorium.

This year the Grads promise the biggest and the best program ever to be presented by a graduation class. This is their contribution to the Centennial celebrations in our community and they want to have the adults of the entire community to attend and enjoy themselves.

All proceeds will be kept in the school and will be used to help pay for the graduation ceremony, banquet and dance to be held in June, to which everyone is welcome.

CARWASH!

This Saturday you are invited to bring that car down to the school and get the Juvenile boys basketball team to get it a shining and bright colour for the spring weather.

Starting at 9:00 a.m. Saturday March 15, all the senior boys will be out in old clothes ready with a car brush to give your car the "new look". They are doing this in order to raise themselves some money and help defray expenses for their trip to Kimberley on March 22 to play in the B.C. Semi-finals against the Kimberley Juveniles.

The Juvenile team defeated Kamloops on Saturday night to advance into the semi-finals.

Already ticket sales are booming along but the Grads would like to make this one last plea for your support. You'll enjoy yourselves at the '58 Grad Concert. See other parts of the paper for a programme.

Shuttle Club Honors Couple

Deep regret at the RCMP transfer which will take Corporal and Mrs. E. "Ted" Piers to Prince George, was voiced by members of the Summerland Badminton Club at a gathering tendered last night in honor of the couple, who for five years have been active club members.

The club president, G. R. B. Fudge spoke on behalf of the club and Mrs. E. Bernhardt presented the Piers with a silver tray, suitably engraved.

Macs Cafe Aces Play Sunday

Summerland Macs Cafe Aces won over Revelstoke in an invitation hockey game played at Revelstoke Sunday by a score of 10-7.

KELOWNA—Prime Minister Diefenbaker promised Okanagan fruit growers unequivocal and definite price supports when he addressed a standing-room-only audience in Kelowna Memorial Arena Monday night.

Major part of Mr. Diefenbaker's speech was devoted to replying to issues raised at a civic luncheon by Arthur Garrish, president of B.C. Fruit Growers' Association.

Mr. Garrish had told the prime minister that the survival of the entire fruit industry was in question and said growers were hopeful of government action on price supports, tariff protection against the influx of U.S. crops at distress prices, freight rates and farm loans.

He said recent freight rate increases had increased discrimination against producers in both Western Canada and the Maritimes.

His cabinet had postponed, for the first time in history, a rate increase by the board of transport commissioners — the recent 3.6 per cent increase — pending cabinet hearing of the case.

He added he has "asked — more than asked," the transport commissioners to produce their full recommendations on freight rate equalization "at the earliest date and without further delay."

On import of U.S. fruit and vegetables, he reiterated his former promise not to allow Canadian farmers to be "sacrificed" by dumping from any other country.

He said existing anti-dumping tariff legislation does not protect against one major problem: heavy imports from earlier U.S. crops at the time the Canadian crop goes on the market.

This was because the Canadian price of the imports was not lower than the U.S. price. The government had appointed a royal commission on price spreads of farm products to see

A happy blending of veterans of wars one and two were well represented at the gathering and supper held at Legion Headquarters on Monday last, the occasion being the visit of the Provincial President R. MacNicol to the Summerland Branch.

In addition to the guest of honour R. MacNicol, the company included Zone Commander J. Bolton and his Deputy G. Kincaid, both of Penticton with the Branch President W. C. McCutcheon in the chair.

Following grace by the Chaplain Rev. A. A. Northrup the company were seated, doing full justice to the good fare as provided by the Ladies Auxillary.

To the ever versatile David Jack fell the honour of extending greetings and a warm welcome to the Provincial President on behalf of Summerland Branch. His pleasant task he performed in his usual humorous vein to the accompaniment of much laughter and applause.

In his response the Provincial President expressed his thanks and pleasure at being present and almost at once had his listeners deeply engrossed as he traced the growth, the history and the progress of the Legion from the earliest days up to the present. He recalled the many difficulties, the obstacles that were surmounted and the eventual welding into one strong and united organization from

CCF Wants Minority Gov't

Canada's last parliament which lasted only 68 days accomplished more for the people of Canada than in any previous 68 days in Canadian history.

A political speaker made the foregoing flat statement in Summerland last night, but he wasn't plugging for the Conservative government.

The speaker was Erhart Regier, former MP for Burnaby-Coquitlam speaking before approximately 50 people in the IOOF Hall, in support of O. L. Jones, veteran parliamentarian, who held this riding for the CCF for nine years until defeated by Social Credit last June and who is now seeking to regain the riding for the CCF.

Mr. Regier rattled off an impressive list of accomplishments to the credit of the 68 day Parliament and then went on to claim that what was accomplished resulted from the fact that "for once the government was on its toes."

"It had to be," Mr. Regier declared. "The government had to stake its life on the merits of the legislation it brought forward and it had to be sure that it was so good for the Canadian people that the opposition dared not vote against it."

To maintain this happy state of affairs, Mr. Regier advocated that the people of Canada refuse to give Mr. Diefenbaker the majority he is asking.

"My advice to the people of Canada is to keep the government on its toes. Don't give

Concert Series Discussed Here

A representative group of our community met on Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Emery to discuss with Mr. Geo. Zukerman the presentation in Summerland of a concert series by the Overture Concert Association.

This group has been functioning successfully in about 17 small towns in B.C. for the past few years, and in Oliver for the past two years.

Each season there would be a minimum of three concerts, and one of these they would endeavor to have feature an outstanding Canadian artist.

Mr. Zukerman felt it was an accomplishment for a community the size of Summerland to have acquired its own grand piano and a series of concerts would prove how valuable an acquisition it is, making it possible to bring some very worthwhile artists to perform here. The selection of artists is wide and varied, including most of the top flight artists in the United States and Canada and those invited to perform here would be chosen by the local members of the association.

General chairman of the local group, A. K. Macleod; Membership chairman, Mrs. Ewart Woodlams; Secretary, Mrs. C. E. Emery.

The Kiwanis Music Festival started only two years ago has unearthed a variety of talent among local youngsters and the scholarships are aimed at helping the youngsters to develop this talent.

According To The Mood

By Sid Godber

When the Toronto Lyndhursts lost the World Hockey title to the Russians in 1953 it started something for which a group of Canada's top sport writers and radio men should be happy about.

I was thinking the foregoing profound thought as I listened to the Canada-Russian game on Sunday and heard the voices of Andy O'Brien, Milt Dumel, and other top flight sports writers comment on from ice-side.

Prior to the Lyndhursts losing to the Russians, Canadians didn't take the world hockey championship series at all seriously. Usually the Canadian team was a pick up affair of players looking for a junket, rather than serious hockey. And usually the Canadian team was good enough to win, and so, was built up Canada's reputation for superiority in ice hockey.

Generally speaking Canadians looked down their noses at the so-called world hockey tournament — and it was an accident if a Canadian sports writer happened on the scene. I suppose it would have remained that way — even when the Lyndhursts lost — but for the cold war.

I'm betting that if and, let's hope, when nations learn to live at ease with their respective ideologies, that the world hockey tournament will again fade into obscurity, insofar as Canadians are concerned and the annual migration to some place in Europe of Canada's top flight sports writers will cease.

Anyway it is over for another year — the sportswriters have had their junket — sure I envy them — and now we Canadians can proudly raise our heads and shout with one voice — "we showed 'em — we're the champs."

It's a sure thing though when a Western team is Allan Cup champ, the Eastern moguls do everything possible to evade sending that team to Europe. They squealed and squirmed and wangled to get out of sending the Penticton Vees — they took on a lofty moral tone when the Hungarian affair co-incided with the Vernon Canadians being the Allan Cup champs and so, the Vernon Canadians stayed home.

But when it is an eastern team — oh my — the bands begin to play — those ducky eastern boys — such gentlemen — schooled in the art of eating with a knife and fork and any one of them would, undoubtedly, rather sneeze a million deadly flu germs over a crowded restaurant than grab a table napkin.

I still boil at some of the stuff the eastern writers sent back on the Penticton Vees — those uncouth westerners. That silly napkin story was a typical example. At the time the Vees were overseas there was a particular virulent flu bug on the rampage. Most of the players, and this writer were bitten. German folk were dying right and left from the disease.

So, as I recall it, Dino Mascotta came down to eat full of snuffles — suddenly it was a case of he had to sneeze and when a man has to sneeze he has to sneeze. Steaks were on the table, the restaurant was crowded and no matter which way Dino turned his head there was another food laden table. Dino groped for his handkerchief — A-a-a-toot... he grabbed his table napkin and successfully smothered the sneeze — that incident came back as illustrating the boorish, uncivilized character of the Canadian West and its hockey players.

So, when the gentlemanly Whitty Dunlops — a team that had everything including silk pajamas and a wealthy sponsoring company — began to wilt before the Russian onslaught at Oslo, Norway — I couldn't squeeze a tear. Sounded to me on the game from start to finish that the Dunlops were lucky to win.

It will certainly be interesting to see what happens next year. I've got a hunch a western team will win the Allan Cup this year — could be the Kelowna Packers or, if Kenny MacKenzie pockets his pride and puts Grant Warwick back in the lineup, it could be the Kamloops Chiefs — but what will the eastern hockey moguls do then poor things?

By golly nearly missed my anniversary boast. March 13, 1954 — the year the Penticton Vees won the Allan Cup. March 13, right in the middle of all the tension and excitement of play-off hockey and I gave up smoking — practically a chain smoker — most days three packs — then snip — just like that — I quit — yes quit absolute cold and here it is, March 12, 1958 and I'm still quit.

Mind you, I'm not at all sure that I'm going to stay quit — I'm told that fatty tissue is just as life shortening as tobacco — if no more so — and brother, fatty tissue is becoming quite a problem.

ORCHARD RUN

by Wally Smith

When times are rough and the going is tough conditions are favorable for sowing the seeds of rebellion.

The man who is struggling to make ends meet and seemingly fighting a losing battle is sometimes a ready listener to the voice that blames it all on somebody and demands a sacrifice.

So we see the new group of rebel growers attempting to capitalize on the present difficult times besetting the fruit industry. They propose to destroy the fruit growers' old organization and set up a brand new one.

One of the outstanding features of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association is the completely democratic set-up of the organization. It is a body of fruit growers with a common cause, banded together for greater strength. There is no skulduggery in the BC FGA method of electing local officers and delegates, and in electing the central officers, boards of directors and governors.

Local meetings are open to all growers and so are the annual conventions. A grower can attend the local meeting or the convention, introduce resolutions and make a bid for the support of other fruit growers. If he fails in his efforts it is only because he is opposed by a majority of the growers.

When you have an organization operating on such broad, democratic principles there is no point in setting up a similar organization to oppose it.

The suggestion has been made that there be two growers' organizations, each competing for control as two political parties compete for control of a country's government. Using the same argument in local affairs we should have two groups competing for control of the school board and two groups of electors striving to dominate municipal government. Does that make sense?

It is true that many growers are dissatisfied with their fruit returns (who can blame them?) it is true some of them are going broke because of low income; it is true some of them don't like the methods employed by the selling agency.

All true, indeed, but why join the rebels and chuck the whole deal overboard? Why not bring about reform within the present organization?

The new rebel group, to get anywhere, will have to enlist the support of half the growers in the valley. That same support, if kept within the ranks of the BCFGA, would be enough to profoundly influence the policy of the organization.

The local of the rebel group formed at Salmon Arm was recently disbanded. The president of the group said they didn't know what they were getting into. They want to improve the position of the growers but they do not want to discard the BCFGA.

Only comment I have on that statement is that it's just good common sense.

Art Classes Well Attended

Art classes were held in Summerland last week in afternoon and evening sessions.

Each class was attended by about 15 interested participants including five from Penticton.

Mr. Leroy Jensen of the UB Extension department gave instruction to the group. He has studied in this country and also European countries and is well known for his excellent teaching.

'NO PLACE LIKE HOME' Says Burglar Bill

If you took the advice of Burglar Bill, you'd keep all your valuables at home. Under the mattress, maybe. Or in that old teapot which lost its spout.

But Bill's advice isn't entirely objective. He figures if you leave your valuables at home — even in a "safe" hiding place — he stands a better chance of getting his hands on them.

Much better advice comes from Jock Johnston, manager of the West Summerland branch of the Bank of Montreal. "Keep your valuables really safe in a B of M safety deposit box," says Mr. Johnston. "Your personal strong box, exclusively yours, costs less than two cents a day, and it pays for itself over and over again in peace of mind alone," he adds.

Hundreds of thousands of Canadians use B of M safety deposit box facilities. Their valuables — bonds, leases, stock certificates, insurance policies, deeds, birth certificates, passports and other important family papers — are safe and sound behind the steel doors of the B of M vault.

Forget what Burglar Bill says. Mr. Johnston says: "Clean out those closets, drawers — and teapots. Bring your valuables into the bank instead."

Editorials

WEDNESDAY, MAR. 12, 1958 NINETEEN FIFTY-EIGHT

Shades Of McCarthy

Okanagan Valley fruit growers, at least that very small percentage which happened to read an editorial headline in a valley newspaper, will, no doubt, now rest easy, for the editorial headline informed all and sundry that there is "NO DOUBT NOW ABOUT MR. WALROD'S LOYALTY."

Our first reaction and we think, likely, the first reaction of anyone remotely interested in the fruit industry was to wonder out loud, who ever questioned Mr. Walrod's loyalty.

We found out on perusing the editorial — It seems that the editorial writer had been in anguish ever since Mr. Walrod accepted an invitation from the premier of the province to sit on the Royal Commission on Education.

The editorial writer was darkly suspicious that Mr. Walrod, under the influence of the heady wine of being chosen to perform a public service, was going to kick the growers in the teeth.

Says the editorial in part, "There was a period when we wond-

March Is Red Cross Month

This is Red Cross Month—a time of the year when we focus attention on a great international organization.

The importance of the 1958 Canadian Red Cross campaign for funds should be apparent to every citizen of this community and the nation.

The budget of the Red Cross for 1958 is a large one and there is only one source for the money to allow the Canadian Red Cross Society to meet its humanitarian obligations for another year. That money must be provided through the generosity of the people of Canada.

The Canadian Red Cross means many things to many people. In most provinces, the Red Cross means free blood transfusions for everyone. When disaster strikes at home or in any part of the world we know the Red Cross will be on the job doing the things we would like to do if we had the opportunity. In remote areas of our vast land a string of Red Cross Outpost Hospitals and Nursing Stations provide care and treatment.

Through our Red Cross we are assured that our veterans are not forgotten men and women. They receive regular visits, see current movies, enjoy the pleasant atmosphere of Red Cross Lodges and spend hours that would normally hang heavy over their heads in the pleasant pursuit of the arts and crafts program.

Officials of the Canadian Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service estimate that some 300,000 Canadians will require almost 500,000 bottles of whole blood for transfusions during this year.

The collection of this quantity of blood from voluntary donors and its eventual delivery to the hospitals of Canada without charge will be an expensive undertaking. The projected budget will approach $2,370,000 or approximately 40 per cent of the 1958 Canadian Red Cross financial requirements.

It is interesting to note that the provision of this one Red Cross service will mean a financial saving to the people of our nation of over $12,500,000. This figure is based on prevailing charges in communities where the Red Cross free blood transfusion service is not yet in operation.

These are bewildering and staggering figures but most realistic. The operation of the blood transfusion service by the Red Cross since 1947 has been a tremendous asset to the public health of Canada. The number of lives saved cannot be estimated but among the 1,300,000 citizens of our nation who have received how faithful Mr. Walrod would remain to us once he accepted the position on the commission to study education . . ."

But growers need not yield to despair—Mr. Walrod's very able presentation before the transport commissioners on behalf of more equitable freight rates for fruit and vegetables being shipped out of the valley dispelled the suspicion of disloyalty in the mind of the editorial writer for he continues

" . . . his (Mr. Walrod's) forceful presentation of the facts at Kelowna removes all doubt from our mind."

Well, we're happy that one of our brethren is now satisfied as to Mr. Walrod's loyalty, although we cannot but wonder why he bothered to write the editorial, for, although some growers may not see eye to eye with Mr. Walrod at all times, we doubt if anyone but that editorial writer — not even any of the rebel group — ever entertained doubts as to Mr. Walrod's complete loyalty and devotion to the fruit industry.

ceived a free transfusion of Red Cross blood in the past ten years, are many of our friends and relatives. They are living proof of this life-saving transfusion service made possible by the generosity of our neighbors.

In this community there are many people who regularly and willingly contribute their blood to the Red Cross. By this voluntary gesture they are performing an act of citizenship and expressing assistance for their fellow man. Not all of us are able to do this but there are few among us who cannot make some financial contribution to the annual campaign for Red Cross funds.

The amount we give is not the issue. The number of us who support the Red Cross is important. If we all do our share we will be helping to provide a Red Cross free blood transfusion service and assist many other worthy projects as well.

It may be well to remember that there is not one among us who can be sure that he will never need a Red Cross free blood transfusion for himself or a member of his family.

Through the Junior Red Cross our school children are learning to become better citizens and gaining an understanding of their counterparts throughout the world.

Here in our community the Red Cross means many more acts of kindness and help for our citizens.

This year the Canadian Red Cross will again have increased obligations. An increasing population always presents a challenge for more extensive activities.

One of these days a volunteer canvasser will call on you to request your financial support. Answer that visit with a generous donation and you will have the inner satisfaction of doing your share to help others.

Girl Guides' Mother - Daughter Banquet a Success

The Annual Mother and Daughter Banquet was held Friday, February 21st in the Youth Centre.

The tables were tastefully decorated with birthday cakes and candles commemorating "Thinking Dorp"; the birthdorp of Lord and Lady Baden Powell.

Mrs. R. McLachlan, president of the local Girl Guide Association, opened the banquet by calling on Mrs. D. Blagborne, Divisional Commissioner and District Trainer to lead in singing Grace.

Guides Ruth Lapin, Anthea Morgan, Phyllis Mundel, Carol Williams, Alice Dunsdon and Janet Storey took part in the Candle Lighting ceremony.

Guests at the head table were introduced by Mrs. R. McLachlan. They included Dr. James Marshall, guest speaker, and Mrs. Marshall; Mr. Eric Tait, acting for the Reeve, and Mrs. Tait; Mr. J. E. O'Mahony, represent the Kiwanis, and Mrs. O'Mahony; Mrs. L. Shannon, Ladies Legion Auxiliary; Mrs. M. Fenwick, Women's Institute; Mrs. K. Bissett, Mrs. M. Vandenberg, Rev. Northrup, Mrs. D. Blagborne, Divisional Commissioner; Mrs. E. Piers, District Commissioner; Miss E. Maynard, Captain of the Girl Guide company; Mrs. M. Fenwick and Mrs. S. Hodge, Lieutenants of Girl Guides; Mrs. N. Kopp, Captain of Peachland Girl Guide company; Mrs. L. Bowden, Brown Owl of Peachland Brownie Pack; Mrs. L. Hyde, Brown Owl and Mrs. R. Oxley, Tawny Owl of 1st Summerland Brownie Pack; Mrs. I. Charles, Brown Owl and Mrs. G. Clark, Tawny Owl, of 2nd Summerland Brownie Pack; Mrs. G. Rymon, Brown Owl and Mrs. M. Tait, Tawny Owl, of 3rd Summerland Brownie Pack.

Mrs. W. Durick, Fairy Godmother and Packies Mona Inaba, Ursula Nurnberg, Frieda Bangmon, Sheila Green and Maureen Keyes were introduced from the floor.

The toast to Mothers was offered by Darlyn Ducommun, replied to by Mrs. I. McQuaig; toast to guiding by Frieda Bangma, replied to by Mrs. E. Piers; toast to community by Miss Barbara Fudge, replied to by Mr. E. Tait.

Dr. James Marshall, guest speaker of the evening, commented on the pleasure and privilege of working with the young people, and of the profit that can be derived by becoming a member of the Brownies and Guides. He was thanked by Mrs. Wm. McCutcheon.

The Pares Memorial Cup was presented to Miss Maureen Keyes by Mrs. D. Blagborne as outstanding Guide of the year.

Thanks was tendered to the ladies of the Legion Auxiliary for their part in serving the dinner.

Mrs. R. McLachlan, president of the local Girl Guide Association, stressed the need for support of the association. Mothers were urged to become members of the L.A., which is the sole support of the Guides and Brownies.

The Annual Girl Guide St. Patrick's Tea will be held on Saturday, March 15, in the IOOF Hall. There will be a home baking and rummage sale. Mrs. H. A. McCargar is in charge of rummage and anyone wishing to donate rummage is asked to leave it at the switching station, marked "McCargar."

After the benediction by Rev. Northrup an impressive "Fly Up" ceremony, in which the Brownies become Guides, was held. Those taking part were:

Gwen Dunsdon, Jo-Ann Campbell, Darelyn Ducommun, Margaret White, Linda Bullock, Lillian Hankins, Jeanne Stevenson, Cheryl Ann McCargar, Becky Downing, Susan Blewett, Tanna Trussel, Mickey Williams Pat Barkwill and Doreen Glasgow.

Beautiful slides of Guides camping were shown by Mrs. D. Blagborne, after which she spoke on the need of the South Okanagan to have its own Guide and Brownie camp site. Sites for Guide camps have been difficult to find, and Brownies have been unable to camp at all.

A project for funds was launched by a small Brownie, who having found five cents but no owner, asked if she could donate it to the Camp Project.

A sing-song by Guides and Brownies brought the very enjoyable and successful evening to a close.

Peachland News

A very pleasant evening was enjoyed at the home of Miss Alice Elliott on Thursday, the occasion being Miss Elliott's birthday.

The Women's Missionary Society, of which Miss Elliott was secretary for a number of years, first greeted her with singing Happy Birthday. Then relatives and friends from Kelowna came bearing gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Elliott brought a beautiful centerpiece of spring flowers, and a cake from a niece in Philadelphia, Penn. There were cards and greetings from Pennsylvania, Arizona and Alberta, and many gifts and cards from Peachland. Mrs. Danny Cousins made a beautiful birthday cake.

Mr. Charles Elliott, a brother, came from Edmonton, Alta. Mr. Elliott taught the first school in Peachland 60 years ago.

Mrs. Gerald Elliott, Mrs. Bill Wilson and Mrs. Cousins served tea.

The ladies of the Jr. W.A. of the United Church served a very nice dinner in the Athletic Hall on Friday evening. The hall was filled with hungry people and the food was very good, and well served.

The entertainment following shows that we have some good talent in Peachland. It was a very successful evening, both for entertainment and financially.

Mr. Verne Ferguson of Kittimat came home on Monday to visit Mrs. Myrtle Ferguson, his mother, and many friends.

THE SUMMERLAND BOARD OF TRADE

Invites you to attend a joint meeting of all four candidates seeking to represent Okanagan Boundary

W. H. CARSON

The torch carried by the Social Credit victor in the 1957 Okanagan - Boundary Federal Election is now being carried by Henry Carson, of Penticton.

A newcomer to the "hustings" Mr. Carson is no Johnny-come-lately insofar as Social Credit is concerned, as he has been a staunch Social Creditor for ten years back.

A rancher and farmer for 27 years, Mr. Carson is singularly fitted to serve what is basically an agricultural riding.

A soldier who attained the rank of Lieut-Colonel, he is conversant with the problems of the day.

D. V. PUGH

Soldier, lawyer, businessman and the father of seven children that is David Pugh who is carrying the Progressive Conservative banner in the current election campaign.

Mr. Pugh, at 48 years of age, is in the insurance business in Oliver, but he is also a member of the B.C. Bar Association, a law graduate of Osgoode Hall.

Mr. Pugh served throughout the war, first with the Seaforth Highlanders and later with the B.C. Dragoons, rising to rank of major. During the election campaign he has shown himself to be well versed in the problems of this riding.

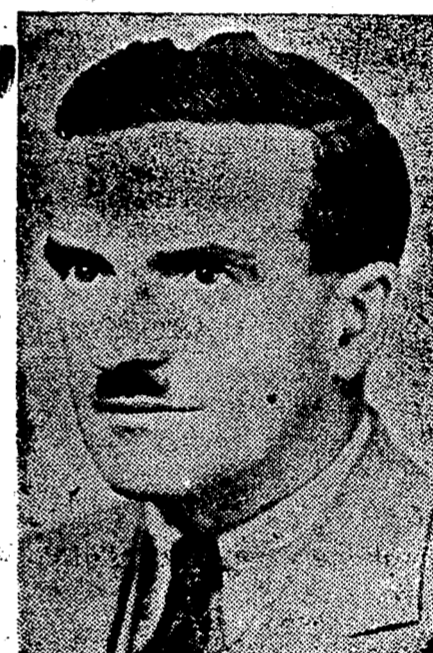

W. A. GILMOUR

Candidate Bill Gilmour is a prominent member of the Summerland Community where he is a Director of the Board of Trade and an active worker in his church. He is a member of one of the Okanagan's leading law firms and practices in Summerland and Penticton.

Born in Calgary 36 years ago, he was educated in Vancouver. He left his studies in 1941 to join the Navy. He volunteered for submarine service and was loaned to the Royal Navy. After 2 years of undersea warfare, Bill was invalided home and later spent 2 years in Shaughnessy Military Hospital.

O. L. JONES

Owen L. Jones served you well in Ottawa for nine years.

Owen was severely wounded when serving with the Welsh Fusiliers during the war of 1914-18. He was Alderman of Kelowna for 10 years, Mayor for 4 years; Chairman of the Okanagan Regional Library for 12 years; Past President of the Union of B.C. Municipalities, and Past President of the Kelowna Canadian Legion.

Owen was first elected to the House of Commons in a by-election on June 17, 1948 and has represented you since that date up to last year.

Each candidate will speak fifteen minutes

-and there will be a question period

Buy Home-Town News

By Earl W. Foell
Staff Writer of

The Christian Science Monitor

In a small Maine town a textile mill announces it will have to close, leaving about 90 per cent of the community's wage earners threatened with unemployment.

In Texas there is million-dollar graft in the state's redistribution of land to veterans.

In southern California real estate agents give the gentlemen's agreement treatment to a veteran searching for a home.

In Florida the Ku Klux Klan tries to hit the comeback trail with its supercalif bigotry.

In these four cases — as in thousands of other — economic or social injustice might have run roughshod through a community were it not for the rallying force and spearheading drive of a local weekly newspaper.

Such smalltown and suburban papers — weeklies, bi-weeklies, and even dailies — are in quantity and diversity, a unique American institution. Nowhere else in the world are there so many of them, with their roots so deeply sunk in community democracy.

In fact, in America — to paraphrase a wellknown ad — nearly everybody reads a "home-town" newspaper.

Well over 75,000,000 persons — some estimates range as high as two out of every three Americans — read such papers. Their total circulation in towns of under 50,000 amounts to about 43,000,000 copies.

They serve a suburban and rural market contain about 64 per cent of the population of the country, a market where about 49 per cent of the nation's retail buying power lurks — with sales amounting to about $95,000,000,000 last year.

In a majority of cases these papers are still the only path through which local merchants can really saturate their communities with advertisements of their products. And even where the little papers have had to battle big city dailies, radio and TV to a state of competitive co-existence, the greatest flow of local commerce is still stirred by the paper that stays on the coffee table all week long. Where "the little fellers" have failed it has usually been because they have not kept pace with the growth of their area, with the complexity of its government, its population, or its businesses.

Today there are some 9,000 of these "home-town" papers in the country. They are about nine times as numerous as their big city cousins, the metropolitan dailies. And they are more than nine times as diverse.

Among them are a one-man newspaper in Idaho and a Pennsylvania weekly with a press run of a million copies. Among them also are generations-old family-owned papers and modern chains in the suburbs clustered around every major city. Keep News Judgement

There are flashy tabloids. There are staid town journals dressed in gothic type. There are weeklies that have literally saved small towns from economic extinction, or helped purge them of corruption. There are others that are advertising handouts with little real news other than the current price of pork chops. Or thinly disguised apologists for some local business interest or political group.

Any country editor will tell you (as many gleefully told this writer) that it's dangerous to try to forecast just where this conglomerate army of 9,000 individualists is going. Some would say in all directions at once.

But almost all agree that the majority of home-town papers are prospering, that a lot of consolidation is taking place, and that the typical home-town newspaper of today is a really professional product backed by sound news and business judgement and housed in a modern plant.

The examples cited earlier show that news judgement at its best. If Sanford, Maine, was "the town that refused to die" when its textile mill moved South, it was mainly because the Sanford Tribune was a small paper that refused to be small. Its publisher, William F. Wright, Jr., was an instrumental figure in rallying the local chamber of commerce to attract new businesses to buy space in the old mill or build their own factories.

Rowland Kenneth Towery, managing editor of the tiny Cuero (Texas) Record, won the Pulitzer Prize in 1955 for a series of articles which blew the lid off a scandal in Veterans Land Program handling, a scandal which eventually reached into a state gubernatorial campaign.

Regier

Mr. Diefenbaker a chance to sit down — that's what he wants — keep it a minority government." The speaker lambasted Mr. Diefenbaker for calling the election and asked "why did he call it?"

Then went on to say that the Prime Minister having fulfilled some of his little promises ran up against some big problems, knotty problems, to which Mr. Diefenbaker didn't have the answer and "so he ran to the shelter of an election campaign."

Mr. Diefenbaker's alliance with Quebec's Duplessis came under withering fire — a man who made his reputation championing a Bill of Rights in alliance with a man who doesn't recognize such things.

The Conservative's price support was labelled by the speaker as worse than the one enacted by the Liberals.

"There is no guarantee for Canadian agriculture in that bill."

Mr. Regier maintained that the government should have acted much earlier on a program of public works to ease the unemployment situation, but he said, public works will not solve the problem, although had they been started earlier they would have helped.

In the matter of trade nothing had been done by the Conservatives, said Mr. Regier, and he concluded with a fiery blast at the foolishness of spending almost half the national income on defence while allowing the system within to go to pieces.

Mr. Regier was almost contemptuous in his treatment of Social Credit and Liberals. CCF will win eleven of B.C.'s 22 seats and the Conservatives will take the other eleven, he predicted.

Legion

the many small groups which at that time was the only representation of the veterans after the close of the first world war. He further reminded the members that it was entirely due to the ever watchful and untiring efforts of the Legion during the years between the first and second wars that the younger veterans on their return were able to participate to the full in the benefits of the Legion Charter. With the accelerated passing of the older veterans as the years took toll by reason of age and disability, so also had arisen the need, the urgent need of the increasing support and active participation of the younger veterans. The Legion still had much to do, not only for the veteran and his dependents, but also for the community life of Canada. For example the sponsorships of Scouts, Guides, Cadets, Scholarships and the Eye Bank, these were but a few of many worthy causes that the Legion had undertaken. Neither was this all for we were only on the fringe of our target which was our main objective service, service to which our great organization was forever dedicated.

Bob Sheeley Elected Mayor of Teen Town

by Laurane Bonthoux
Teen Town held its Annual Election Dance on March 1. A large crowd elected Bob Sheeley to be their Mayor for '53.

At their first council meeting, old and new councils met at Marj Campbells to elect members of the new council into their official offices of the year. Ron Fisher was elected Deputy Mayor; Gail Penney, secretary; Victor Uegama, treasurer; Bob Bleasdale and Joan Young will be advertising directors; Roy Rusaw, refreshments; Phyllis Young, money collections; Ed Menu and Jim Eden, bouncers; Laurane Bonthoux and Emilie Bonthoux, decorations; and then of course the person doing paper witoups is myself, Laurane Bonthoux.

There will be a big Teen Town dance this Saturday, March 15. Place, the IOOF Hall, time, 9:00 to 12:00 and admission is only 25c for members. Let's see everyone out for this dance. Help your council make 1953-54 a really successful year. Bye for now.

P.M. Promises

what could be done to ensure by the necessary legislation that the farmers will receive the largest percentage that is reasonable of the consumer dollar."

On farm loans, he said a full investigation is being made to make available an easier and more extensive system of farm credit.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker also made the first major appeal in his election campaign to attract votes from the CCF and Social Credit parties.

"A vote for any of the other third-party candidates is a vote for the Liberal party," he said here Monday night to more than 3,200 persons.

The Progressive Conservative leader, whose party held a minority 113 of the 265 seats in the last Commons compared with 106 for the Liberals, said only those two parties are capable of forming a government after the March 31 election.

"No government can operate under our system unless it has a majority. That's what we're asking — a mandate."

In this centre of the Okanagan Valley's fruit-growing industry, he also argued that a re-elected Conservative government could apply the new farm price supports legislation more favorably than the Liberals would.

His appeal to third party voters obviously had in mind the four-way split of British Columbia's 22 constituencies in the last election: seven each to the Conservatives and CCF, six to the Social Credit and two to the Liberals.

Forty-four talented Summerland youngsters took part in the elimination contests of the third annual Kiwanis Club's Musical Festival last week. Of necessity, some of these youngsters fell by the wayside but not before they had acquired valuable experience in displaying their talents before the public in open competition. Now, on Thursday night, 12 young artists, the cream of the crop, will vie for scholarship awards donated by the Kiwanis to assist them in further development of their talent. In the annual staging of this Musical Festival the Summerland Kiwanis Club is performing a tremendous community service. The least the community, as a whole, can do is support the endeavor by attending the music fest on Thursday night. It's a case of where doing one's duty to the community is a very pleasant and enjoyable duty indeed.

According To The Mood

By Sid Godber

This month, 31 years ago, the exact date escapes me, I landed in Canada, at Halifax. We docked during the night and I woke up to experience my first sub-zero weather. Hatches had been lifted and the cold made us all gasp. Came across on the SS Doric, 50 mile an hour gale running most of the way. Woke up first night out of Liverpool to see a green face in the mirror, mine. Four of us in the cabin, only two of us found our sea legs. There was romance despite the weather, can't think of the little Irish girl's name, could hardly understand her brogue and she was stymied at my Yorkshire accent — but as they say, the language of love is universal. Mind you I had hair in those days and if I had been shot then where my corporation bulges today, I wouldn't have been shot at all. Quite a feeling to step ashore in a new country — a queasy kind of feeling. Can't say I fell in love with Canada at first sight. It's a depressing ride up from Halifax to Montreal — I don't know what the country looks like now but it looked awfully poverty stricken to me then. Felt better when we got to Montreal, at least there were some stone and brick buildings. Said farewell to Irish at the Montreal depot. "Parting was such sweet sorrow." Colonist car — camping on wheels. Canadian kids, brash and altogether too cheeky to English folks, coming aboard at division stops to try and scare the immigrants with stories of Indians and scalping. Winnipeg — hired out. Tried to drive an Overland up Main Street English fashion keeping to the left — survived. Up in the back country a little hamlet — homesick — my only friend the collie dog. Canada National Railway flyer whooping as it went by about seven miles south, almost drove me crazy with longing for back home. Spent a whole morning loading wheat straw. Struggled mightily, heaved and groaned and then would come up with a few whisks on the fork. Finally had the straw level with the rack. Took off. Rack bumped a couple of times load settled and I had about a foot of straw in the bottom of the rack to show for my mornin's work. The son and heir of my employer, an impossible little tyke. He threw a stone at the collie dog, injured its paw. I bawled him out. He threw a stone, cut my cheek. I caught him and tanned him. Outraged father took a poke at me, I took a poke at him. I quit, he fired me. Drove me to the depot, and on the way I borrowed ten bucks from him. I always remember that as a solid gesture, of trust in a fellowman. (Jimmy Heavysides, please note) Took a ticket as far as nine bucks would take me and that landed me in Semens, Saskatchewan at 4 a.m. on an April morning with a dollar in my jeans. Well — that's quite a ramble guess I'd better cut short this serial to be continued at some future date. Thirty-one years — that's a lot of years — thirty-one years mostly a rolling stone — and it sure is true that a rolling stone doesn't gather moss.

Sound and fury of election is rapidly nearing its climax, but on coffee row interest seems to revolve around the Kelowna, Kamloops hockey playoffs. Kelowna should win — but just cast your mind back a few years. The Penticton Vees were in the same position against the Nelson Maple Leafs as the Kamloops Chiefs are in today. Leafs only needed a tie to win the series. Vees had to win three straight. — they did. Anyway, I'm looking forward to seeing an Okanagan league team in the Allan Cup finals. Tomorrow night (Thursday) the Kiwanis Music Festival finals, and on Monday, the Summerland Singers and players present "The Pirates of Penzance."

Grad Variety Concert Lays 'Em In The Aisle

On Friday evening in the high school auditorium, over 500 people enjoyed one of the best Grad Variety Concerts ever to be staged in Summerland. Ron Wilson, this year's Grad president, acted as Master of Ceremonies and he was ably assisted by two Grads (female) who gave forth with several bursts of slap-stick comedy which drew a good round of applause from the attentive audience. Guests from Penticton High School were Ian MacDonald a brilliant young impersonator and Don Brian, a ventriloquist and his guest, Clarence. Both of the performers were well received by the crowd. Summerland students performing included Marilyn and Helen Farrow entertaining with a vocal duet; Lynne Boothe who sang "If I Love You"; Janet Bullock who wowed the audience with her Hawaii Dance; "The Cockeyed Mayor of Kaulaika"; Ann McLeod and Anne Emery playing a piano duet;

Bruce Gatley singing "Dutch Sailor Song"; two very well presented plays by the Drama Club and an English class; Sheldon Doherty playing an accordion solo and Ian MacDonald and Don Brian from Penticton. Financial standings rated much higher than the Grads anticipated and the success of their show will certainly assist them to pay for their graduation expenses. OLD AGE PENSIONERS The monthly meeting of the Summerland OAP's was called to order on the afternoon of March 15 in the IOOF Hall with fifty-six members present. Mr. E. Bennet and Mrs. S. A. MacDonald gave an enlightening report on information they received from the Senior Citizens housing project in our neighbouring towns. A questionnaire will be distributed before the next meeting to acquaint the committee with the individuals needs. The Rotary Annes entertained with delicious tea and refreshments.

Playing Here Monday

On Monday night, in the High School Auditorium here, the Summerland Singers and Players Club will present Gilbert and Sullivan's "The Pirates of Penzance." Everybody knows the Gilbert and Sullivan light operas; everybody in these parts knows the Summerland Singers and Players, and everybody knows that put the two together and a slam-bang top quality show is the result. One of the leading roles is carried by the thespian pictured above. Alma Fudge, as the "Pirate maid of all work."

Kiwanis Music Festival Finals Thursday Night

On Saturday, March 15, 45 contestants entered in the third annual Kiwanis Music Festival. There were 14 entries in the 10 - 14 year vocal class, 21 in 10 - 12 piano class, 6 in 12 and over class and 4 instrumental in the 14 and over class. At the eliminations on Saturday four contestants from each class were chosen to enter in the finals Thursday, March 20 in the high school auditorium. Those chosen were as follows: Piano, 10 - 12 class: Judy Betuzzi, Anthea Morgan, Sharon Geres, Darlene Ducommun. Piano, 12 and over: Linda Betuzzi, Donna Powell, Marjorie Jones, Ruth Lapins. Vocal 14 and over — Ruth Charles, Helen Farrow, Pat Mc-Cutcheon, Linda Bell. Instrumental, 14 and over — Ed. Matsu, Alex Keel, David Davis, Ron Embree. Although there were not as many entries in the older classes there seemed to be more interest than ever in the younger groups. The adjudicators find it harder each year to pick the winning contestants. On the final night contestants in each class will receive $25.00 for first place, 10.00 for second and 5.00 for third and each contestant will be awarded a certificate. Adjudicators for the eliminations were Mrs. Alstead, Mr. Storey, Mr. Mackleheun. For the final event they will be Mr. Ken, Almond, Penticton Mrs. Dohler, Kelowna.

Last Rites Held Today For Harry C. Howis, 75

Harry Clement Howis, a man whose activities touched upon almost every phase of community activity in Summerland during the course of his 51 years residence here, died in Shaughnessy Military Hospital on Sunday, March 16 at the age of 75. Funeral services were held today from St. Stephen's Anglican Church, with the Rev. A. A. T. Northrup officiating. The Canadian Legion, Branch 22, paid Legion honors to the man who was an active and enthusiastic worker for the Legion cause, and who was a past president of the Summerland branch. At the time of his death he was chairman of the South Okanagan-Similkameen Zone. Death of Mr. Howis also leaves a gap in the ranks of the Summerland Singers and Players Club, in which he took an active part, playing many leading roles, only three years ago he played the Milkado. Active in sports, Mr. Howis was a keen tennis and badminton player and at one time he played hockey for Summerland. The late Mr. Howis was born in Herefordshire, England, in 1883, coming to Canada in 1903. He lived at the Coldstream Ranch in Vernon until 1907 when he came to Summerland taking charge of the Angus and Sir Herbert Holt holdings in Prairie Valley. In 1915 he joined the 54th regiment and served in France. He was wounded at Vimy and convalesced in England, returning to this country in 1919, and farming on the KVR Road until 1930 when he became a fruit inspector. In 1940 he joined the B.C. Dragoons returning to civilian life in 1945 and continuing as a fruit inspector until his retirement. Surviving are his wife, Nora; one daughter, Mrs. R. A. Fredrickson of Summerland; and one son, Gerry, a recreational director with the RCAF at Comox; and relatives in England. Paint Up, Clean Up Campaign Planned A committee is to be appointed to plan a more than usually vigorous paint up clean up campaign for Summerland, it was decided at last week's meeting of the Summerland Board of Trade.

Rift Between Growers, Trade Board, Alleged

Every effort will be made by the Board of Trade to heal differences, real or imagined, existing between Summerland growers and the Summerland Board of Trade. Lack of grower membership on the Board of Trade was pointed up by Jim Wells, governor of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., and active in the Summerland local of the BCFGA, at Thursday night's meeting of the Board of Trade. Mr. Wells declared that the growers had the feeling that they weren't wanted in the board of trade — that it was a closed shop. This was emphatically denied by various speakers, including trade board secretary Lorne Perry. At one time the grower membership was predominant in the Board of Trade, but Reeve F. E. Atkinson suggested that the drop off did not necessarily result from friction as from the upsurge of service clubs in the community which had taken over much of the community welfare work formerly done by the board of trade simply because there were no other groups to do it. Mr. Wells informed the meeting that a valley-wide effort is being made to have the growers more closely integrated with Boards of Trade. "We feel we need the support of the Boards of Trade and also that we can do the Boards of Trade some good," Mr. Wells told the meeting. He intimated, however, that at the moment the Summerland BCFGA did not have much enthusiasm for the Board of Trade.

The discussion arose following the comment of Lorne Perry who said he was concerned to read of the centennial celebration being planned for Trout Creek. Mr. Perry felt that a community-wide celebration should be planned and that sectionalism was a threat to the well-being of the community as a whole. G. C. Johnston recently appointed manager of the Bank of Montreal here, speaking from a wealth of experience garnered in small communities, said that Summerland's situation was far from being unique. In fact for such a widespread community things ran quite smoothly. The meeting decided to write the Summerland BCFGA to try and clarify the issues and it is also expected that an across-the-table meeting between the respective executives, will be held.

Rumors Brew Over Brewery

Rumors continue to fly regarding the establishment of a brewery in the Okanagan. One rumor has it that the United distillers have decided to maintain the Princeton Brewery, another rumor says Penticton has it in the bag, still another rumor says that Kelowna has the inside track. Insofar as Summerland is concerned interested parties are waiting with fingers crossed. A telegram sent at the instigation of the Board of Trade last week, asking if the Brewery people wished any further information regarding Summerland was answered by a wire. "Nothing further required right now." As good a way as any of finding out where the brewery will be located if the Princeton brewery is to be reestablished in the Okanagan, is to play eey-meeny miny-moe.

Local Legion Assist's Guides With Campsite

At the well attended regular monthly meeting of Summerland Branch of the Canadian Legion a wide and varied agenda came up for discussion and debate. Opening the meeting the President W. C. McCutcheon paid a tribute to the performance of the curling team, with the members passing a vote of thanks and appreciation to the team for their efforts. An interesting and comprehensive report of the Legion sponsored Troop of Scouts was given by D. V. Fisher which covered almost the whole of the period since its early formation. Alex Watt also reviewed the future activities of the troop and it was obvious that the branch had every reason to feel proud of not only the troop, but also the leaders, to whose leadership and training the scouts owed much of their success. The president explaining the aims and objects of the latest Legion sponsorship the "Eye Bank" urged all members to take up the pledges which were now available. Arising from the appeal made (continued on page 6) Sharpshooters Honor Piers

At the regular weekly practice of the Summerland Sporting Rifle Club on Monday evening, Corporal Ted Piers was presented with a pair of binoculars by Range Officer Harold Richardson on behalf of the club members. President Bill Barkwill expressed regret that Ted will soon be leaving Summerland to reside in Prince George, as his untiring efforts have been largely responsible for the success of the club in its first year of operation. There are now over 50 members, and so far, 23 bronze, 7 silver and 3 gold buttons have been awarded by the Dominion Marksman's Association. The final practice shoot will be held next Monday evening and on March 31 there will be a competition shoot with prizes for the individual and team events for club members.

Agriculture Minister Aims Talk At Growers

PENTICTON—Douglas Harkness, Minister of Agriculture, assured Okanagan orchardists that fruit can be supported under the government's Agricultural Stabilization Act. Addressing an audience of about 200, Mr. Harkness said there had been "misconceptions" concerning the scope of the act. "There is no doubt about it at all," he said, "fruit can be given support under this legislation." There also was a misconception that nothing could be done about the 1957 apple crop. "That also is not correct." When final crop returns had reached Ottawa, the government would be glad to consider the B.C. Fruit Growers Association's request for assistance. Speaking in support of David Pugh, Progressive Conservative candidate for Okanagan-Boundary, Mr. Harkness said the amount of misrepresentation of the Stabilization Act, particularly by the CCF and Social Credit parties, was "almost out of this world." An improved farm credit system with low rates of interest would be the next major agricultural conservation if they were returned to power. Also under study was crop insurance to protect farmers against drought, frost, hail, insect damage. The party's most important long-range plan for agriculture called for a national soil and water conservation scheme. "We have been farming most of this country for only 100 years, yet the fertility of our soil has depleted to a greater extent than soils in Europe that have been farmed for 2,000 years."

Having spent the past two months visiting many parts of USA and Canada going as far south as Mexico City, Mr. and Mrs. Matthon still believe there's no place to compare with the Okanagan Valley.

Orchard Notes

by Alec Watt,

GRAFTING—

The season for grafting fruit trees is upon us. Grafting may be done as soon as the sap flow in the tree is sufficient for the bark to "slip". The bark is said to slip when it pulls away from the wood without tearing. Usually any time from the early pink stage up to early June is satisfactory for grafting.

Scion wood of the desired variety should have been taken by now and stored in a cool place. Wrapping the scions in damp sacks and burying them on the north side of a building is a good way to keep them dormant until grafting time. If you have a root cellar this is an excellent place to store scions or they may be kept in a cold storage building or a refrigerator provided they do not freeze. Whichever way you store them, cool temperatures and darkness are required to prevent the scions from breaking dormancy while relatively high humidity is needed to prevent shrivelling and drying out of tissue and drying out of tissues.

GRAFTING TISSUES

The black asphaltum base is the most readily available and is obtained from hardware and feed stores. This material is easily applied with a brush and does not require heating. Unfortunately it dries out very quickly in this climate and may require repeated applications.

Several formulas are used for home made wax. One of the most popular is a mix of 4 lbs. resin, 2 lbs. beeswax and 1 pint raw linseed oil. This wax becomes pliable with body heat. Formulas for home made wax and more specific instructions on grafting are available from the horticultural office.

TAKE CARE OF BUDDING TREES

A number of orchardists are now double-working apple trees on Macintosh frameworks. Last July these growers set buds 18" to 24" out on the lateral limbs of 2-year old Macintosh trees. These buds should now be inspected. If the buds have taken they will have swelled a little and will look live and healthy. Where this is the case cut the branch back to a point just above the bud. Failure to do this before growth starts will result in the bud being crowded out by the growth further out on the limb.

Buds which failed to take last summer will by now look small and shrivelled compared to the live ones. On finding a bud which has failed first decide whether that particular bud is essential to the framework of the tree. If it is, be prepared to fit a whip and tongue graft there in April. If

Let's Have A Stable Government

"Keep a minority government," that was the advice to Canadians handed out by Erhart Regier, CCF, who represented Burnaby-Coquitlam in the last parliament, a parliament which Mr. Regier lauded to the skies.

The CCF spokesman, addressing a meeting here last week in support of O. L. Jones, presented a rather good case for a minority government. More was accomplished for the Canadian people during Canada's shortest parliament, 68 days, than in any previous 68 days in Canada's history, said Mr. Erhart and why? Because the government operating under sufferance of the opposition parties dare not do anything else but bring down good legislation, legislation so good that the opposition dare not vote against it.

Sounds entrancing put that way — All that the voter has to do, to guarantee good government is to refuse to give one party a clear-cut mandate to govern.

That is, of course, complete poppycock, and we suspect that Mr. Erhart and others, who advocate government by sufferance, know it.

Naturally CCF and Social Credit would enjoy continued government by sufferance, for then they would be very powerful indeed, holding a balance of power completely beyond the ratio of the voters they represent. In effect, what advocates of continued minority government are asking, is the negation of true democracy because, it enables, as was the case in the last parliament, small and in themselves insignificant groups to decide the life of the government.

Such a situation is unfair to both government and the major opposition party.

The major opposition party could, quite handily, be jockeyed into a position by power playing opposition splinter groups where it could, without intent, be shouldered with the onus of having forced an untimely and, perhaps, unnecessary election.

As for a minority government, its position is completely intolerable. To give responsibility without authority is unjust in concept and, in actual fact, unworkable.

Furthermore, the implication contained in Mr. Erhart's advocacy of keeping a minority government is that only under duress, only with a gun at their heads, will the people holding office bring on good legislation. That implication is manifestly absurd, as we are sure that Mr. Erhart cannot conceive of his own CCF party in office and holding a working majority, sitting back indifferent to its governmental responsibilities, just because it could by weight of numbers, ride out any vote of non-confidence.

We don't think the CCF would be guilty of such conduct and by the same token we don't think any other party would be so guilty — we certainly don't think the CCF has the monopoly on sincere and honest men in public service.

Another major objection to a minority government, and a particularly serious one in this day and age is the necessity of a government being able to speak with authority in international affairs — but a government which can be overthrown at the whim of a splinter group does not, and understandably so, pack much weight in international affairs.

Canada has an important role to fill in world affairs and Canada needs a stable government to play that role.

We can only hope that the voter will see through the glib talk of good government through a minority — which isn't government at all — and give a clear cut mandate to govern to either the Liberals or Conservatives, which are the only parties on the hustings today which have any chance of electing sufficient members to form a working government.

not, eliminate that branch or stub it back and keep it temporarily for foliage to feed the tree.

GRAFTING INSTRUCTIONS

The horticulturist is prepared to give grafting instructions to growers who request it. Those requiring instructions should leave their names at the office. When a sufficient number of names have been received a short course will be given.

FAVOUR

WHEN the housewife calls at the grocery store and orders a supply of provisions, she is not asking a favour . . . she is buying goods for which she will pay cash . . . purely a matter of business.

So with your bank. It is a business proposition just as much as the grocery store.

The grocer deals in groceries . . . the banker deals in credit. And, as the making of loans is the principal way by which his bank derives its revenue, he is as anxious to sell his credit as the grocer is to sell his groceries. And, like the grocer, the banker naturally wants to know that he is going to be paid for his goods . . . that his loans will be met when they fall due. That, too, is only good business.

When you have occasion to ask for a loan, look at it this way. Come to the Bank, not feeling that you have to ask a favour, but to offer the manager a sound business proposition which will be of profit to you and to his institution.

Jones, while in Kelowna with the Diefenbaker party last week. Mr. Taylor said, "I knew Mr. Jones during the nine years he represented this constituency in Ottawa and I fail to understand why this riding did not return one of the most able, hardworking conscientious members of parliament."

Other press gallery representatives from Ottawa also had high praise for Mr. Jones.

According To The Mood

By Sid Godber

The mood got bogged down this week — but never let it be said that the mood ducked the issues of the day. Here's the forecast: Kelowna Packers to win the Allan Cup — boy is my neck out a long way on that one.

And, of course, we can't skip politics. See no reason to change my earlier prophesy.

Conservative Dave Pugh the winner, O. L. Jones, CCF, a close runner up. I think Liberal Bill Gilmour has made some gains this past few weeks while Social Credits quite clear renunciation at least in this election of any hopes of marching on to Ottawa, will, I think, swing a lot of good provincial Social Credit votes to the Conservatives. So Pugh, Jones, Gilmour, Carson.

But I'm still not sure that if we elect Pugh that we'll be on the Government side. The question, as always in a Dominion election, whither Quebec?

Singers And Players Rate Pro Billing

When is an amateur a professional? The answer to that question is when the amateur is a member of the cast or of the backstage or orchestra groups that had any part in the Summerland Singers and Players Club 1958 presentation of "The Pirates of Penzance."

The performance here on Monday night was strictly professional.

Costuming and scenery could not be bettered anywhere. A little more volume over the footlights particularly in the patter songs in which much of the wry humor of a Gilbert and Sullivan light opera is embodied, is to be desired, but it is questionable, where the fault rests, with the artists, or with the acoustics of the school auditorium.

A delightful show, one that should not be missed and if you didn't catch it in Summerland on Monday you can see it at Penticton on Friday night or on Saturday afternoon.

This Opera, first produced on April 3, 1880, is among one of the best known of the ever popular Gilbert and Sullivan series. It deals with the adventures of Frederic and an unusual band of Pirates who carry on their loathsome business from a secluded spot on the rocky sea coast of Cornwall. Frederic has been bound an apprentice to this band through a mistake on the part of his nurse, Ruth, who was told to apprentice him to a "pilot." He hates the life and at a rollicking celebration in honour of his twenty-first birthday he tells them that he is leaving forever and intends to devote himself heart and soul to the destruction of their band.

Whilst seeking solitude he is discovered by a bevy of beau-

Council May Tighten Up On Building Code Here

Temporary use of a garage building for living purposes while the home is being built, is alright with Municipal Council and Municipal Council is prepared to even extend a living permit, but what Council intends to put its collective foot down hard upon, is the habit people have of building garages, using them as temporary homes, and then, on moving into their permanent home, renting out the garage for living purposes.

This puts two occupied dwellings on one small lot and council doesn't like it. Commented Reeve F. E. Atkinson, "this is a question we have been avoiding for some time. There are too many buildings around Summerland which meet only our minimum requirements of 10 feet by 12 feet, and we don't want two occupied buildings on one small lot.

A proposal to amend the building bylaw to provide 300 square ft. for a temporary unit, 400 square feet for a permanent residence, and the 120 square feet to apply only to pickers cabins will be left in abeyance until council has given further study to the small buildings code.

The matter came up when building inspector Roy Angus asked council what action he could take in regard to a small unsightly cabin being located within the Summerland boundaries.

Centennial Spring Celebration June

Wednesday, June 4 is the date of Summerland's major Spring celebration of the Centennial year. The Municipal Council has been requested to declare this date as a civic holiday and the School Board is also being approached to have the date declared a holiday.

Chairman S. A. MacDonald emphasizes that this is to be a day when all members of the community, young and old can get together for a family type birthday celebration of the Centennial.

The theme of the celebration will be "Entertainment Through the Years." Tentative plans call for Children's races and a pet parade in the morning. Afternoon program will consist of Summerland Queen selection and crowning with a two hour production of historical and modern entertainment and pageant. Picnic supper to be followed by evening of variety entertainment and dancing. The ladies have plans for dressing up in historical costume. Mr. Doug Campbell is the chairman of the day and will be announcing his committees at an early date. Mrs. H. R. Hodson, Mrs. W.H.B. Munn, Mrs. H. C. Whitaker and others have been responsible for the initial planning of this day.

Scouts To Build Winter Cabin

The 1st Summerland Scouts expect to get started in the Easter Holidays on their long awaited winter scouting cabin on the group's newly leased property at Faulder. Lumber has been generously donated by local mills and the boys' supervision will do the building. Some materials, however, such as shingles, building paper and nails will have to be purchased and to raise money for these items, the scouts plan to hold two work days Saturday, Mar. 22 and Sunday, April 6. Anybody wishing to employ a scout for part or all of Saturday should phone D. V. Fisher, states A. W. Watt, committee chairman. The boys are also looking for two second hand panel doors if anybody has these to spare.

Badminton Finals For Youngsters Here on Saturday

About 75 children will compete for a place in the "Finals" of a tournament to be held this Saturday in the High School Gym starting at 10 p.m. These young players are from grades five and six. Coaches have remarked on the good conduct, good sportsmanship and ability of these boys and girls.

Hospital Board Committees Named

The first regular meeting of the Hospital Board following the annual meeting of the Summerland Hospital was held on Mar. 18. Les Rumball chaired the meeting.

G. C. Johnston, manager of the Bank of Montreal was welcomed as a new member replacing Ivor Solly.

The following committees were named for 1958:

Finance: H. L. Wilson, G. C. Johnson, Norman Holmes.

Grounds: F. M. Stewart, R. Alstead, S. A. MacDonald.

House: G. C. Johnson, John Betuzzi, Mrs. T. Lott, Mrs. C. R. Adams.

Personnel: S. A. MacDonald, N. Holmes, Mrs. T. Lott.

Public Relations: Sid Godber, Robert Alstead, H. L. Wilson.

Civil Defence: M. F. Welsh, Robert Alstead.

Bylaws and Regulations: M. F. Welsh, N. Holmes.

Medical Advisory Committee: Pres. Les Rumball, Vice-pres. Robt. Alstead.

After considerable discussion it was decided to call for tenders on the installation of the new gas heating system which must be completed by August 1.

The Provincial Fire Marshal recently inspected the Hospital and reported that he was very pleased with the condition of all the equipment.

Mrs. Piers Honoured By Girl Guide Ass'n

Mrs. E. Piers, Girl Guides District Commissioner, was honored by the 1957 Members of the local Girl Guides Association at a tea on March 13 at the home of Mrs. Ross McLachlan.

Contests were enjoyed by all and tea was served by Mrs. Mel Ducommun, Mrs. W. Durlok, Mrs. R. McLachlan, Mrs. L. L. Fudge, Mrs. E. McGillivray and Mrs. G. Laidlaw, all attired in exaggerated sack and chemise dresses with hats to match, much to the amusement of the guests.

In recognition of her untiring and willing efforts for the Association, Mrs. Piers was presented with a Summerland cup and saucer and a corsage.

Says Liberals Will Aid Growers On Any '57 Crop Loss

The Liberals if elected to office will cover any deficiency resulting from the 1957 crop. The foregoing statement was made by Liberal candidate W. A. Bill Gilmour when addressing a supper audience of 60 at the Anglican Church Parish Hall last night.

Mr. Gilmour said that as a result of discussions with Liberal Leader Lester B. Pearson, he could make the only positive promise to fruit growers. That promise, he said, is more than any of the cabinet ministers who came into the valley have made. The Liberal government, Mr. Gilmour said, "would cover any deficiency resulting from the 1957 fruit crop."

The Candidates And Their Platforms

I would like to thank the Summerland Review for having given me, and other candidates in this riding, the opportunity to outline briefly our platforms.

One of the major problems is the fruit industry. Much has been said, many promises have been made, but to my mind one

Basically, Social Credit believes that our financial system should be used for the service of humanity. To this end the financial policy would do the following:

Immediate reduction in personal and small business income tax to stimulate the Canadian economy and relieve unemployment through encouraging consumer buying and private investment as follows:

er in the hands of the people. This can be accomplished through existing means (The Bank of Canada) and a monetary commission.

(b) New money representing the growth of the Canadian economy should be created, as needed by the Bank of Canada for the Canadian treasury, and paid directly to the people through a national dividend, or by means of a consumer's discount on retail sales.

(c) Inflation would be prevented by making chartered banks operate on a 100 per cent cash reserve, bringing this about as quickly as possible with safety and stability. At the same time the general interest rate would be lowered, and a ceiling placed on interest charged by finance companies on small loans.

Taxation: Abolition of all discriminatory taxes; reduction of taxes to aid in reducing consumer prices. Effort will be to stimulate production and consumption.

A just sharing of available revenue, so all the Canadian people can be on a high standard not just some of them. This will be distributed to rich and poor alike, with consideration given to the aged, the disabled veterans, the physically handicapped, and other unemployables.

Increased federal aid for education generally, and wider provision of university scholarships and aids.

Encouragement of free enterprise and investment; establishment of a continuing sound economy will assure this.

Establishment of a national fuel and energy policy, fair to all provinces and particularly to the individual consumer will be established. Setting up of a full research program for fuller development of Canadian resources as a whole.

EMPLOYMENT
Maintaining the national economic activity at a high level; (there is no unemployed in wartime, and need be none in peacetime either). To do this it would endeavor to provide the worker with:

A fair take-home pay—with full freedom for the individual. Wide selective tax reductions and public investments to stimulate production and employment.

As an immediate start of solving lack of work, a large-scale federal building of internal and terminal storage facilities.

Setting up a universal transferable pension plan for all workers, under which you would not lose a pension when you changed employers.

SOCIAL SECURITY
Ensuring aging citizens and those requiring special assistance of a scale of pensions based on needs, and the ability of the national economy to meet such needs.

INTERNATIONAL TRADE
This should be based on a reciprocal and mutually beneficial exchange of goods between nations. Canada should accept currencies of other countries to pay for any favorable balance of trade that occurs with other nations, such currency to be available for purchase of goods or investments abroad.

AGRICULTURE
This industry requires special attention. To provide: Low-cost long-term credits to cover general farm requirements, plus basic cash advances against grain stored on farms.

A two-price system for sale of farm produce, with parity prices for those sold on the domestic market, and abroad.

An all-risk national crop insurance act.

Federal participation in diking, drainage, irrigation and reclamation projects.

HOUSING
"A home for every family is our goal." To bring this about more money will be made available for home-building at lower rates, and smaller down-payments.

INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS
Canada is in a strategic position to affect positively the destiny of the world. A full Christian democracy—that is freedom—so compelling that Canadians, living in security and ease, will prove the superiority of their way of life over Communism—or any other "ism"—there may be. We believe that Canada's finest contribution to the peace of the world is to show that a free, honest, unselfish way of life is superior to any form of autocracy or totalitarian form of government.

married couples for first three years of married life, to apply immediately to everyone married since January, 1956.

(b) Reduction of 25 per cent in the personal tax, for the first $3,000.00 of taxable income for every Canadian.

(c) Reduction in small business income tax from 20 per cent to 10 per cent on profits up to $10,000.00 commencing this year.

(d) Increased depreciation allowance on capital expenditures commencing after April 1, 1958.

The foregoing is not a "give away" but a partial distribution of tax surplus built up by the Liberal government during prosperous post-war years.

FRUIT INDUSTRY
(a) Further enforcement of anti-dumping legislation to guarantee the fruit growing industry of Canada relief from American distress selling of all fruit, particularly soft fruit.

(b) Every possible assistance such as reduction of freight charges to Prairie markets and other federal government help to assist the fruit grower in obtaining a fair portion of the price paid for his product by the consumer.

(c) Active federal government assistance through Canadian trade commissioners throughout the world in marketing excess crops in years of large production.

(d) Extension of the principles of the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act to the Okanagan Valley and other federal financial assistance to the fruit grower in the event of major loss of trees or loss of crop, in the same manner as assistance given to other Canadians under similar circumstances, i.e. drought relief, unemployment insurance benefits, etc.

(e) Payment to the fruit grower for any deficiency between selling price and reasonable cost of production. This would mean a deficiency payment for the crop year 1957.

(f) Establishment of more extensive short intermediate and long term financial credit for the fruit grower far beyond present Farm Loan Board provisions, through establishment of a Farm Development Bank.

think of little else other than how to live on the small income derived from unemployment insurance and hope that spring will bring new work before unemployment insurance comes to an end. encourage more Canadians to be home owners. Extension of National Housing Act provision to encourage "boarding house" type of senior citizen projects such as planned by the Municipality of Summerland.

now beginning to realize that they voted against their own interests, with the result that many have promised to support the CCF because of its realistic approach to their problems.

Fruit farmers, whose industry is the mainstay of the Okanagan Valley are very disturbed about the suggested return that they will receive for last year's crop.

It is too early yet to say what that will be, but all indications are that it will be below the cost of production.

The federal bill for agriculture as brought down by the Conservative government will not solve the problems of the fruit industry and it gives no guarantee as to what the farmer will get for his produce, no guarantee that fruit will even come under the jurisdiction of the act.

World peace is of national interest in this election. We in the CCF maintain that a continuous build-up of more and more devastating weapons can only lead to peace. Peace can be attained by negotiation and a genuine desire to co-operate and to help other countries rather than to dominate them. All national interests should be directed towards peaceful settlement of world problems.

VOTE THE PEARSON PLAN

not eloquence!

THE PEARSON LIBERAL PLAN WILL END THE RECESSION QUICKLY. Immediate tax cuts will increase purchasing power... put men and women back to work again... signal business to go ahead with expansion plans... get Canada "humming" again.

Diefenbaker oratory and his confused program of public works CANNOT stop recession. Present projects in his impressive-sounding total, are largely carry-overs from the previous Liberal government. The promised future ones will take months, at least, to get under way.

Only the PEARSON PLAN offers action now to help all Canadians.

Income Tax cuts up to 25%... new helps for Education... aid for Newly-weds, Car owners... for Senior Citizens, Farmers, Labor... for Municipal Taxpayers - it's a plan for you, not just the few.

PEACE - ABOVE ALL!

Without peace, the Pearson Plan or anybody's plan can be meaningless. Naturally, all parties are prepared to work hard for world peace. But in all the world, no man has proven himself a more effective worker for peace than Canada's Lester Pearson. As Prime Minister, Lester Pearson - and Canada - will have a new and greater effectiveness in the vital cause of peace.

Your decision on March 31st will affect your income... your family security for years to come! Consider carefully... seriously - then VOTE THE PEARSON PLAN... VOTE YOUR LIBERAL CANDIDATE...

Price supports for agriculture and crop insurance covering the natural hazards of hail, drought, and flood are in the plans of the Conservative party if they are returned to power.

Price support legislation is already on the books, and crop insurance has been promised by Agricultural Minister Douglas Harkness if the Conservative government is elected by "a firm majority."

It isn't only the Conservatives who are wooing the farm vote. The other parties, too, show great concern for the plight of the farmer, and all agree that something must be done.

We in Canada appear to be rushing headlong into agricultural subsidies and other supports at a time when the United States government is desperately trying to find a way to get rid of them.

Our neighbors to the south have been pouring billions into subsidized agriculture for years, and they now find it is not the solution to the farm problem.

Under farm price supports in the U.S. plantings have increased and huge surpluses have been built up. Land that was in sod for many years was turned under by the plow, and livestock herds were increased as rapidly as the laws of biology would allow.

Certainly Canadian agriculture is in a rather bad way, but I cannot get enthused over the prospect of government subsidies. If government support of agriculture is sufficient to cover and they no find it is not the best to see a boost in production of supported commodities.

That's what happened in the United States, and it is what will happen in Canada. The American government is now paying farmers NOT to grow crops, a ridiculous business indeed but a warning to Canada as to what can happen when the government deals a hand in the farm economy.

Adequate tariff protection and the application of dump duties with a "fair prices" clause is one way the government can give the farmer considerable help.

In this matter the Canadian fruit grower is not asking for a high tariff wall. All he expects is legislation that will put a stop to the practice of shipping American produce into Canada at a price below cost of production.

These fire sales occur from time to time, and they play hob with the Canadian producer. He is entitled to protection against this unfair practice. If the Canadian fruit grower wasn't in business the Canadian consumer would pay plenty for imported American fruit, so it is no more than good, sound economics to provide the tariff machinery so that the Canadian fruit grower can STAY in business.

Let's Get Together

Summerland Board of Trade which once boasted a membership of more than 100 now can boast only half that figure and, if one counts only the active membership it boils down to less than a third of the high in membership reached some years ago.

In other words, interest in the Board of Trade is about as keen as is the interest in politics between elections.

At this month's meeting the question of membership came to the fore as a result of a valley-wide grower movement to become more closely integrated with the Board of Trades in the valley. The Summerland board was bluntly informed that Summerland growers are none too enthusiastic about the local board, and the handful of men who month after month keep the Board of Trade alive, were rather astonished to be informed that the Summerland growers think the Board of Trade is a closed shop.

That belief is certainly not founded in fact, except that it naturally follows that if one group of citizens continue to carry the

A Good Investment

This week Summerland residents will be receiving through the mail a letter appealing for funds towards the upkeep and maintenance of Provincial and National Headquarters of the Boy Scouts Association.

The Scout movement is, undoubtedly, the finest youth movement ever conceived and in this day and age of a seriously disturbed younger generation it is more important than ever that the Scout movement be continued and expanded.

In Summerland the Scout movement is flourishing — we owe this condition to a handful of adults who give unstintingly of their time to the movement. We have some mighty fine lads too in the Scout movement, three of whom will be journeying to Victoria shortly to receive their hard won Queen's Badge.

Yes the Scout movement is healthy and rapidly expanding in Summerland, but it is worthy of note that the movement could not continue but for the provincial and national headquarters which directs Scouting.

Now we are being asked to donate towards the cost of operating these headquarters.

Of one thing, those who donate can be sure, they'll never, in any way shape or form get a better return for their dollars.

Your dollars are an investment in the making of good citizens. Give generously.

ball alone, the plays they develop naturally follow along the lines of their thinking.

What closed shop there is, insofar as the Board of Trade is concerned, can be blamed entirely, and without apology, upon the shoulders of those who stay away in droves.

This applies to more than the growers, it applies to those merchants and businessmen who belong to the Retail Merchants Association, shun the Board of Trade. It applies to every man in Summerland who has a stake in the community and who does not belong to the Board of Trade.

The Summerland Board of Trade can be a dynamic force, sparking the development of Summerland, or it can be weak and ineffectual — it all depends upon the degree to which it is supported.

The Board of Trade wants the growers, it wants every businessman — it wants every man who is interested in the "well-being" of this community within its ranks — and it is not a closed shop, except for one taboo, which this paper cannot understand — it is a closed shop to women.

Summerland Red Cross Soc. Holds Annual Meet

The Red Cross campaign this year with an objective of $2,600 is being conducted by Summerland Rotarians. The target which was $2,800 last year has been lowered $200.

At the recent annual meeting no president was appointed but other officers elected were 1st vice-president, Mrs. A. K. Elliott; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. T. W. Boothe, who is also convener of workroom activities.

Treasurer is Mrs. Florence Stark and secretary, Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh. Executive members are Gordon Dinning, E. E. Bates, Mrs. E. M. Hookham, Miss Marian Cartwright, Mrs. George Inglis and Mrs. Rex Chapman.

Mrs. J. Y. Towgood was elected and attended the provincial conference at Vancouver as Summerland's delegate.

At the meeting, Mrs. Towgood gave an excellent report of the last blood donor clinic, since Mr. Towgood, convener, was unable to attend. A telephone canvass was conducted for donors by the Klwanis Club, and many came voluntarily. Mr. Towgood's resignation as convener was accepted with regret. The report stated that ten year donor pin were awarded to A. K. Macleod, Walter Charles, Roy Wellwood, Ernest Doherty, J. Y. Towgood, Gordon Blewett, J. R. Butler, Roy A. Smith, Wm. Verrier, Ewart Wooliams, and Mrs. Phyllis Hickson. Thanks were expressed to those who helped with clinics, and to conveners of departments, Mrs. R. G. Russel, Mrs. A. K. Macleod, Miss Marion Cartwright and Mrs. Wm White.

Mrs. Boothe reported that the average attendance in the workroom had been over 30 each week, and Mrs. Inglis said that over 20 are knitting in their own homes and more were expected to help.

R. F. Angus, secretary of the Rotary Club reported on last year's drive, convened by I. H. Solly, who has been transferred from Summerland. He reported, also, on the Red Cross Rotary swim classes which, he said have been very successful and grown rapidly.

Mrs. Vanderburgh reported on the grant received from Red Cross towards the new Health Centre where the workroom will be established when the building is completed.

Mrs. Boothe thought that a Loan Cupboard might be established in the new workroom and that the Home Nursing service might become more active.

Home And Schools Should Work Together On Education

Professor W. H. Auld addressed a well-attended meeting here recently in the high school during Education Week on the responsibilities of the home and school. His opinion was that the community, home and school should work together having the same aims and objectives in educational matters.

He stated the seven principles laid down for secondary schools by a group of people after the first World War. These were health; worthy use of leisure time; training in educational processes; development of moral and ethical character; vocational training; worthy from membership in the present and future; citizenship, with the aim towards world citizenship.

He said that knowledge and skill of teachers makes for more efficiency than educational processes at home and some teaching is the exclusive province of the schools. The other principles require co-operative effort.

"Process" was applied to education because it is continuous, building and developing each child as a product of his or her whole experience and environment.

Dr. Auld said the influence of the home can aid or hinder a child in school. He continued mention attitudes towards the teacher and to study. "Study," he said, "is not merely doing assignments but reviewing and reorganizing what has been learned earlier. The "have-to" jobs should be done always before recreation." Attitudes towards report cards, work and property were discussed and health habits. In the latter it was important that cleanliness and promptness be made habitual, the educator thought.

Referring to the increasing incidence of mental health, a philosophy towards life was recommended, and service to humanity said to be one of the best philosophies for adolescents, particularly those between 16 and 18. Immediate goals were desirable to give drive and purpose from day to day. Confidence, courage, self-discipline, self-reliance, and self-regard were all important too. A sense of humor was a help in many cases, and a wholesome interest in other people generally made or pleasure and harmony. Professor Auld concluded.

W. R. Chalmers of the high school teaching staff introduced the speaker Mrs. Victor Parker, president of the P-TA welcomed the audience. Mrs. C. A. Adams convened refreshments.

St. Andrews Women's Federatoin Plans Bazaar

St. Andrew's Women's Federation met in the church hall Thursday, March 20. Opening with the singing of the 23rd Psalm, a favorite of Mrs. H. K. Lott, a life member now unable to attend.

The devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. G. Sheldrake, Mrs. W. A. Caldwell and Mrs. R. Chapman, who gave a talk on the Introduction of Christianity into Japan by the Jesuit Fathers, early in the 16th century. This resulted in persecution and the monarchy forbade the pursuit of Christian religion. The ruling prevailed more than 300 years.

The usual business session followed. Mrs. A. McLaughlin reported on sending cards, visiting the sick, the shut-ins and the hospitals. Mrs. W. Ward reported packing a 13 pound parcel for Korea, containing children's wear and useful articles. On a suggestion from Mrs. A. C. Fleming it was agreed to send three quilts to Hazelton Hospital.

Details for the Spring Tea and Bazaar to be held April 19, were discussed. Volunteers were invited to convene the various committees, resulting in Mrs. A. C. Fleming and Mrs. R. Chapman heading the kitchen and tea committee; Mrs. W. Ward and Mrs. J. Lazenby and Mrs. G. Mrs. M. Pollack the apron stall; Harper the home cooking; Mrs. J. Dunston and Mrs. M. Scott the table decorations.

Mrs. W. Bleasdale, who had represented St. Andrew's at a committee meeting held in Penticton regarding the ministers and laymen's conference, to be held in that city May 20-27, placed before the federation members a request for assistance in billeting a portion of the visitors to this conference.

There are expectations of 400 ministers and laymen to this gathering. Mrs. A. C. Fleming and Mrs. R. Chapman were asked to act on this committee.

Mrs. Lazenby, delegate to the Presbyterian, held in Oliver Feb. 27 and 28 gave an excellent report on the program. Several returned missionaries from Japan were speakers. By word and visual aid, they clearly demonstrated the rapid growth of Christianity there. They urged members of church groups to look into our immigration laws pertaining to Asiatics, and ask our government to open, a little, the door now closed against the Asiatic people.

The study book this year is on the religious development in Japan. Mrs. J. Lazenby introduced the subject. Mrs. S. A. McDonald and Mrs. A. McLaughlin discussed the impact of Western traditions, ideas and styles on the Japanese business man and industrial worker. It is a happy fact that the high ideals home life are unchanged by and fine native customs of their western fashions and conventions. It is the hope of every christian leader they remain that way.

The president, Mrs. J. Dunston adjourned the meeting with the Mizpah Benediction.

Mrs. H. Draca was a kindly and gracious welcoming hostess. Mrs. S. A. McDonald, Mrs. Mowatt, Mrs. W. M. Fleming and Mrs. Hiker served a dainty lunch.

Showdown Looms Between Rival Fruit Unions Here

KELOWNA—A showdown is near in one of the longest and bitterest fights on the Okanagan labor front.

The B.C. Labor Relations Board will hold a hearing in Kelowna April 8 in an effort to settle the 27-month old dispute between warring factions of unionized fruit workers.

The hearings, scheduled for the court house, will affect principally Local 48 of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters and the Federation of Fruit and Vegetable Workers' unions.

Both groups have been fighting for certification as official bargaining agents for packing house workers.

About 26 employers in Okanagan Centre, Oyama, Winfield, Kelowna, Penticton, Oliver, Osoyoos, Keramos, Creston and Summerland are affected.

The Board has notified all interested parties that it will hear representations on

An application for cancellation of the certificate of the Federation of Fruit and Vegetable Workers' Unions in all Okanagan Valley locals, brought by the Teamsters.

An application for cancellation of certification of FFWU cannery locals in Vernon, Creston and Summerland, brought by the Teamsters.

A Teamster application for certification as bargainer for Teamster Local 48 and for Teamster Local 48 of the Fruit and Vegetable Workers' Union.

An application for certification for the Fruit and Vegetable Workers' Union Local 6.

Approximately 3,000 people are employed in the packing-house industry at peak season. Average employment is about 1,500.

tiful maidens, the daughters of Major-General Stanley. Frederic asks if there is one maiden there who will take pity on his unhappy position. All refuse except Mable, who falls in love with him. This is the occasion for some particularly beautiful musical numbers.

The pirates, seeking for Frederic, enter and promptly annex the other maidens and are about to carry them off when the Major-General himself appears on the scene. In an amazing patter song he describes the accomplishments that made him "the very model of a modern Major-General." After introducing himself in this way, he learns the seriousness of the situation. He pleads with the Pirates not to deprive him, an orphan, of the sole remaining props of his old age. On the basis of this fiction the Pirates reluctantly give up the girls.

We next find the Major-General suffering from guilty conscience because of the story he told to escape the pirates. He is heartened, however, because Frederic has enrolled a detachment of police to arrest the pirates. This provides an opportunity for a series of Gilbertian digs at the stolid and respectable Bobby, the symbol of British law and order. After much vocal encouragement ("forward on the foe!"—"Yes, but you don't go") the police depart to do their duty.

In the meantime the Pirate King and Ruth enter stealthily in search of Frederic to tell him that his apprenticeship does not expire until his 21st birthday and that as he was born on February 29 he cannot be released for another 67 years. They appeal to Frederic's strong sense of duty which he cannot deny. Further, he must now betray his beloved's father and reveal the plan of the Police to arrest them.

The encounter takes place with the Pirates winning easily. But when called upon to surrender in Queen Victoria's name, they yield at once because, "with all their faults, they love their Queen." Ruth reveals that the Pirates are all noblemen who have gone wrong. Now repentant, they are allowed to resume their ranks and legislative duties, and there are wedding bells all round.

The caustic wit of Gilbert combined with some of Sullivan's most engaging airs makes this thread of nonsense a delightful entertainment.

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

COME TRY THE SMOOTHEST CHEVY THAT EVER WHISPERED "BUY"!

Silence says volumes about Chevrolet! Quieter engines tell of super smoothness never bettered by any car at any price.

And Chevrolet moves from a standstill to cruising speed like greased lightning without the thunder. Then ride Chevy — and be even more amazed: One of two new suspensions smooths your way like broadloom — while 23 kinds of insulation in its Fisher Body all but swallow sound completely. Absolute newness from road to roof supplies the answer!

First, on a 30% stronger X-built frame, Chevrolet's stylists placed the sleekest, roomiest and most luxurious body they'd ever planned. But not before Fisher engineers saw to it that Chevrolet's "Sound Barrier" body matched its beauty in practical protection.

Next, Chevrolet increased its power range with the most efficient V8's ever built . . . radically new, with machined-in-block precision for pace-setting performance and economy. Total engine choice is now six, with four cream-smooth transmissions. It's the widest selection ever—available in every Chevrolet made!

Talk about smoothness! Chevrolet tops it off with a choice of two new rides: Standard on all Chevrolets, completely new Full Coil suspension means a big advance in riding comfort. Deep steel coils at all four wheels soak up road shocks like a sponge! And Chevrolet engineers went even further to bring you the suspension news of the year — Level Air Ride — the lowest-priced air ride available! * You just have to try it to know how easy a ride can be!

Yet, with all its newness, this smoothest of all Chevrolets comes to you at its traditionally low price. Little wonder that Chevy's whispering "Buy!" to more Canadians than ever before. Come try 1958's most popular car at your Chevrolet dealer's soon!

Why Elect A Conservative Candidate In Okanagan Boundary?

You have probably asked yourself this question many times. The answer we feel is obvious. There is no doubt that across Canada the swing is to John Diefenbaker and his team of Conservatives. The definite feeling is that Mr. and Mrs. Canada want a Conservative government, and this, we are sure you will agree, will be proved on March 31st.

It has been 23 years since this area had a member sitting on the government side of the house. In the past men have represented this riding, but not once has sat with the government to represent you, the farmers, orchardists, working men and women, business men and housewives. The Diefenbaker government is fully aware of the problems in this riding. Let's give Dave Pugh, John Diefenbaker and the Conservative team a chance to get things done.

The trend is to John Diefenbaker and his government so why not send another Conservative member to Ottawa in the person of Dave Pugh? Dave is an excellent man and you can rest assured he will do everything within the bounds of human endeavour to get things done that must be done in this riding.

He makes but one promise: to work intelligently, aggressively and enthusiastically on your behalf.

On March 31st cast your vote for the future of Okanagan-Boundary. Cast your vote for Dave Pugh.

DAVE PUGH
will appear on

CONTROLLING SOIL PESTS VEGETABLE GARDENS

Every year a great deal of loss is caused by cutworms, wireworms and other soil pests. Nothing is more discouraging to the orchardist or housewife than to see a good part of the summer vegetable supply dwindling daily as the young peas, beans etc. are cut down by the voracious feeding of hordes of cutworms. Often this condition is discovered too late to take effective control steps.

The best time to take effective action against cutworms and other soil pests is now, before the seeds are put in. The operation is surprisingly simple. Here's what you do. Obtain from your feed store or hardware merchant a supply of 2 1/2% Aldrin or 2 1/2% Heptachlor dust. If your garden is 50 feet by 100 feet in size you will need 18 lbs. of dust. (The rate of application is 160 lbs. per acre.) One week before planting your garden scatter this dust as evenly as possible over the soil. You will need a calm day. Protect yourself by wearing overalls and gloves while doing this. Then cultivate the soil to a depth of at least six inches.

This treatment will get rid of cutworms, wireworms, white grubs and potato flea beetles. It will do the job before seeds germinate and before young plants are set out thus preventing loss from the beginning of the season.

thing stands out—and that is that the one party has always stood for the farmer throughout Canadian history is the Conservative party. John Diefenbaker, and his Conservative government, demonstrated this by passing, just prior to the closing of the last session of Parliament the new "Agricultural Stabilization Act," John Diefenbaker at his meeting in Kelowna, Davie Fulton speaking in Penticton and Mr. Harkness, the Minister of Agriculture, also speaking in Penticton, all described this Act and all emphatically stated:

1. That the Act definitely and unequivocally applied to all fruits and fruit products.
2. That the Act provides for floor prices on a regional basis, based on the cost of production of the region concerned. In other words, the Okanagan Valley as a region could obtain floor prices based on our costs of production here.
3. It will be possible under the Act for Okanagan Fruit growers to obtain deficiency payments on the 1957 crop if, when all returns are in, the prices are below average.

I would not suggest that this Act solves all the problems of the fruit grower but it is a step in the right direction and a step that the Liberals refused to take during their 22 years in power. At the commencement of this campaign the opposition parties were alleging that this new Act accomplished very little, but I noticed that recently over TV both Mr. Coldwell and Mr. Low acknowledged that it was a good Act.

MANY OTHER PROBLEMS

The fruit industry has many other problems which I sincerely feel I understand and which, if elected, I will do my utmost to solve.

Another major problem of this riding is the present unfair freight rate. The present schedule of freight rates is injurious, not only to the fruit industry, but to all industry in the Okanagan Valley. I feel that high freight rates are one of the major reasons that new industry, which we so sorely need and want in this riding, has not come into the Southern Okanagan. John Diefenbaker at his Kelowna meeting stated that the whole structure of freight rates was being reviewed and that action would be taken to equalize freight rates. He also pointed out that for the first time in 25 years an application by the Board of Freight Rate Commissioners for an increase in freight rates made to the Conservative government had not been allowed. If elected, I will do my utmost to press for a solution to this most serious problem which I know John Diefenbaker understands and himself realizes must be solved.

Space does not permit me to deal with all the matters I would like to and I am going to assume that everyone is aware of the Social Security legislation passed by the Conservative government. The increase in Old Age Pensions, Disabled Persons' Allowances and Veterans' Allowances. The Conservative party feels that what they did in this field during the last session of Parliament is only a start, and they are at present actively studying the American Social Security system which is a contributory system and has many advantages not existent in this country.

UNEMPLOYMENT SITUATION

I would like, briefly to deal with unemployment. The Conservative government recognizes the present unemployment situation as extremely serious and has undertaken a vast program of public works. We feel that such a program of public works is the fastest possible way of getting money on the market and creating jobs.

The measure I have described which John Diefenbaker and his Conservative government have taken to ease the unemployment situation are, of course, emergency measures only and one of the main principles and platforms of the Conservative government is a national development policy.

I am proud to be a member of John Diefenbaker's team because I believe in the policies we have started and which we hope to be given the mandate of the people of Canada to finish.

I feel I know the problems of this riding. I know I can help the people of this riding in solving their problems and I sincerely hope I am given the privilege of having this opportunity.

Guiding Campsite

At the monthly meeting of the local Girl Guides Association, held March 19 in the Youth Centre, the South Okanagan Camp project was discussed, and plans were laid for a membership and fund raising campaign.

This camp will serve some six hundreds girls and will provide Brownies and Guides with practical application of things learned during their year's work.

The District Commissioner, Mrs. E. Piers, explained how important the local Association is to Guides and Brownies, being the sole support for these groups.

Vote A Protest Vote!

WHY?

Because no party shows alertness to the times. All are apathetic to the world's disorder and lawlessness.

HOW VOTE?

By writing on the ballot paper. Or, leaving it blank. It is then a "Spoil" Ballot. Yet you have exercised the franchise.

A vote for a party means apatheticness to the world's wantonness. No party is disassociating itself from the "most warlike nation in the world" (Cyrus S. Eaton, humanist-industrialist); Lord Russell's "almost certain" that the U.S. was guilty of murder (Rosenberg case); $100,000 offered by the U.S. for the stealing of another country's plane; the minor crude lie of "the cone" going up into outer space and returning to earth again. The moral value of that nation is zero, and this general election is silent. Shame, shame! $80,000,000 alleged offered for Nasser to be killed. This is the world of cutthroats in which we live. Juvenile delinquency submerges into perspective and their elders' emerges in all its shame.
