

The Review's opposition to the Okanagan-Kootenay Co-operative Growers' Association, and to its spokesman, Oliver grower Alf Beich, has drawn praise and criticism. We are, however, encouraged by the fact that the bouquets substantially outnumbered the brickbats.

One telephone call over the weekend, however, warned us that we were "backing the wrong side." It was a friendly warning from a friend. We were informed that the BCFGA has half a million dollars behind it, but that Mr. Beich is only the spokesman for a man who has $14,000,000.

We must admit that we found this tid-bit of information interesting and tantalizing. We could speculate at length as to the whys and wherefores of a man with $14,000,000 getting behind such a movement as that for which Mr. Alf Beich of Oliver is barnstorming. But, assuming our information to be correct and accepting that behind Mr. Beich's platform antics is $14,000,000, we see no reason to change our position, for not ten times $14,000,000, nor any times that amount can make Mr. Beich right, and the great majority of the men who go to make up this fruit industry, wrong.

Mr. Beich may have $14,000,000 behind him. The Review has the long history of the fruit industry behind it.

And above all, the Review has the MacPhee report, a report in which every serious charge made by Beich is fully answered, to support its opposition to Mr. Beich.

We'll take the fundamental one, which after all is the basis of all the unrest, returns to the grower. Mr. Beich takes marketing reports which in their manner of compilation do not give a true comparative picture as proof that B.C. Tree Fruits is not getting as much for the fruit it sells as are other fruit growing areas, and yet what did Dean MacPhee find after conducting the most exhaustive enquiry ever made into the fruit industry? He found, we quote in part from paragraph four of page 566 of the report "... he (the grower) is now obtaining both from the fresh-fruit market and from the cannery market as high prices as he can expect in competition from year to year ..."

Mr. Beich, of course, derides the report, but The Review maintains that, in challenging the integrity, the ability and the intent of a man of the calibre of Dean MacPhee, Mr. Beich is destroying what little case he has.

No, we are not perturbed to hear that $14,000,000 stands behind this movement to create anarchy where order now prevails for in this internecine strife, the facts, the simple truth, will prevail.

Biech & Co. Shy Away From Debate Challenge

Opportunity to make their accusations in the face of the accused has been rejected by the Okanagan Kootenay Co-operative Association. This opportunity to appear on the same platform with representatives of the BCFGA and B. C. Tree Fruits, was extended by the Penticton Board of Trade, which group rented the Penticton High School Auditorium for Saturday night in the belief that the Okanagan Kootenay group would have sufficient faith in their arguments to face up to open debate. BCFGA president A. R. Garrish and B. C. Tree Fruits Governor John Campbell, readily accepted the Penticton invitation.

The Penticton Board of Trade refused to accept the first turn-down and tried again to no purpose.

The following extracts from the correspondence tell the story.

In the invitation letter to J. Stirling Hauser, the Penticton Board pointed out it was greatly concerned over report of renewed disunity within the tree fruit industry as "all sections of the economy had hoped that publication of the MacPhee report and its seeming initial acceptance, would set the industry off along a new, more hopeful road."

The letter went on to say that if "we could hear just exactly what are the points of dissension now, we might be able to find some common ground or assess what might be right."

The reply from Mr. Hauser first of all told the Penticton Board of Trade, that "any disunity that exists in the fruit industry is purely an internal matter for growers to decide."

Wrote Mr. Hauser, "I do not believe your proposal is unbiased, as one of your members, who is a fruit grower and who is on the agricultural committee of your organization was not consulted about this proposal." The letter goes on to reiterate the groups viewpoint as published in the association's literature and then concludes with a real dilly of a reason for refusing the Board of Trade invitation.

"We suspect," writes Mr. Hauser, "the BCFGA through your good name and our recent climb to popularity would like to use these means to get a large body of growers together, because they will not attend BCFGA meetings in any numbers. I cite the annual meeting of the BCFGA Penticton local, when the principal topic was the election of officers and the meeting had to be postponed because of lack of a quorum."

Apparently the splinter group will not accept the invitation extended by the the Osoyoos local of the BCFGA

"Look at this junk"

Local Grower Makes Survey

Bill Baker, Summerland grower, back from a trip to the prairies, strode into the Review office Tuesday and said "look at these — look at 'em" — They were apples, bigger than the walnut-sized apples Frank Richter, MLA, complained about in Victoria recently, but not much larger than a large-sized egg.

These apples, proud product of some Ontario orchard were bought by Mr. Baker in Winnipeg's finest super-duper market three pounds for 39 cents, and the label said they were Canada Fancy, two-and-a-quarter up.

Bruised, pitted and dejected looking, the apples were a sorry sight and a sorry price.

Bill Baker snorted "look at 'em, just look at 'em, and there are people who would want to see the Okanagan Valley go back to uncontrolled packing, and to independent selling."

"And what will the grower get out of them at three pounds for 39 cents?" asked Mr. Baker.

"That kind of junk," he said, pointing to the wilted, sorry looking apples, "is the result of uncontrolled packing and the big buyer squeezing down the so-called independent grower."

Mr. Baker found that B.C. apples were selling in quantity and at higher prices in the face of this competition of junk, both from eastern Canada and the United States.

Three pounds for 39 cents for the Ontario apples, which Bill Baker brought back as exhibit "A"; a difference of about $1.30 a box retail.

American Winesaps are selling on the Prairie market for 40 cents for five pounds, but they're small, 2 and a quarter and up, but not much up.

Findings of Mr. Baker's one-man survey; that B.C. apples command a better price and meet the competition because they're of higher quality.

As for complaints of heavy profiteering on wholesale and retail levels, Mr. Baker says the only instances he saw where where apples, five apples to a tray, were selling at from 25 to 27 cents.

In his home town Bill learned that the retailer was buying Fancy B.C. Macs Delivered at the door, for $5.00 and retelling them at $5.75.

Two of the lassies who will be featured at the Summerland Figure Skating Carnival Friday night, will be Evelyn Groundlund left, and Ann McLachlan right.

Ice Carnival Being Staged Here Friday

The Summerland Annual Figure Skating Ice Carnival will be held March 7, at 8 p.m. under the direction of Miss Dolores Causier, professional.

Special feature performance: Miss Causier and Tony Griffith, Silver Medalist Professionals.

One hundred, twenty members of the Club will take part in the program, which will include solos, pairs, ballet, comedy (ballet, Indian fantasy, waltz, square dance, fox trot, novelty dance, calypso and tango; Scottish Lassies and an all-man comedy, and the Rain Theme, Nutcracker Suite.

The performers range in age from 3 thru teens, and include a grandfather.

The Club is fortunate in having several family groups, the largest, 5 in one family.

Miss Marion Cartwright, Club Patron, will assist with direction. She skated with the Minto Club in Ottawa and is still very interested in figure skating.

The executive of the Club are convening the carnival, with Irene Johansen as stage convenor.

Isabelle McCargar is in charge of costumes.

Lights, Gordon Blewett; tickets, H. Wilson; stage set, designed by Mary Walker, painted by the Art Club; M.C., Lorne Perry; programme, Florence McInnes; stage manager, Loye Campbell; senior records, John Keep; junior records, Griselda Evans.

The proceeds from the recent Eagles raffle ticket sale (at 25c per ticket) will go to buy permanent trophies for the Summerland Figure Skating Club.

For a cozy evening, to enjoy the performance fully, spectators should bring a blanket.

Grads 1959 Revue Promises To Be Good

The Grads of '59 invite the general public to join them on Friday, March 13 in a cruise aboard the good ship "S.S. Success" for a cruise on an ocean of music, to the beat of old sea chanties, hornpipes and ballads.

Its the Grad Revue of 1959. There'll be song and dance, a music feast with the Grads Orchestra providing the background music for the big show.

Hospital Here Shows Profit On '58 Operation

Hospital revenue for 1958 amounted to $90,844.11 as against expenses of $88,940.73 thus putting the Summerland Hospital very much in the classification of news that is different, insofar as instead of the usual deficit reported by hospitals at year end, the Summerland Hospital Society could boast of profit on operations of $1,943.38.

Retiring board chairman Les Rumball reporting to the annual meeting of Summerland Hospital Society held in the IOOF Hall last Thursday, pointed out that of the Hospital's expenditure two thirds, some $70,000 went in wages which were mostly spent locally. Beyond this supplies wherever possible were bought locally and thus the hospital was a factor in the community's economy.

Robert "Bob" Alstead, was elected president of the Society, Harvey L. Wilson is first vice-president and John Betuzzi, second vice-president.

Resignation of Mr. Rumball who has served on the board for many years, was accepted with deep regret. Other members of the board are G. C. Johnston, Dr. M. F. Welsh, S. A. MacDonald, Norman Holmes, Mrs. T. B. Lott; council representative F. M. Steuart; hospital auxiliary representative, Mrs. Clarence Adams. One other member will be elected at the March meeting to replace Mr. Rumball.

The board is now equipped to handle any major disaster, he said, and can go into action at a moment's notice. Regarding superannuation Mr. Rumball said the hospital could do nothing until the BCHIS recognizes the question and pays a share of the cost.

Salaries of the nurses and sub-staff are now up to Valley standards, he continued.

He listed repairs done mostly by the hospital auxiliary. A major change made by the board was installation of natural gas Panic doors and exit lights were installed.

The parking lot was gravelled and curbing made, all of which makes Summerland Hospital one of the most up-to-date institutions for its size in the province, he said.

Plans for the future are more paving in the parking lot; a new doctors' office, isolation ward, sound proof room, and planting of shade trees.

The occupancy was up last year to 62 per cent and patients admitted were 117 more than the previous year.

J. E. O'Mahony, administrator, reported that Summerland has one of the lowest birth rates in B.C. Patient days were up 989 more than in 1958.

Mrs. J. R. Butler, matron reported an overall increase in all of the hospital's departments, nursing staff, domestic and medical staff, the hospital auxiliary and the board for excellent co-operation.

OTTAWA - Appointment of Dr. C. J. Bishop, 39, as Director of the Summerland, B. C., Regional Research Station, Canada Department of Agriculture, effective April 1, has been approved by the Civil Service Commission.

Dr. Bishop is Superintendent of the Kentville, N. S. Experimental Farm.

He was born in Semans Saskatchewan, received his earlier education in Berwick, N. S. and obtained a B.Sc., degree from Acadia University in 1941. Following a 3 year stint with the Meteorology Service, Department of Transport, he attended Harvard University in the United States where he received an M.A., and Ph. D., specializing in Cytogenetics.

NOTED EDUCATOR TO SPEAK HERE FRI.

Hockey Playoffs Here This Week

Summerland Hockey teams are on the playoff trail and two playoff games are on tap, the first one tonight at the Summerland Arono, when the Summerland Macs will play a combination Kelowna-Vernon team in the first round of the Coy Cup Playoff.

The other game is scheduled for 12:30 p. m. Sunday, also at the Summerland arena, when the Poo wees, already the winners of the Okanagan Valley Poo Wee hockey championship will continue their duel with the Kamloops Poo wees for the Okanagan - Mainline championship. The Summerland hopes dropped the first game of the two-game, total goal series to Kamloops Poo Wees who won the first game at Kamloops 7-4.

Donna Shirley Eden Weds Vancouver Man

Donna Shirley, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Matthew Eden, Happy Valley, Summerland, was a pretty, petite fair-haired bride on Saturday evening, February 21 when she was married in Summerland United Church by Rev. C. O. Richmond to Claire Beverly Erout of Vancouver, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Erout of 820 Argyle St., Penticton. The double-ring ceremony took place at 7:30 p.m. in the presence of over 100 guests.

For the occasion the church was decorated with white and gold toned baskets of white carnations, pale pink antirrhinum and heather, each tied with big white satin bows. Guest pews were indicated with smaller sat in bows and sprigs of heather.

WHITE SATIN GOWN

Gleaming white satin in the lovely wedding gown was styled with a deep lace yoke having a bateau neckline and three-quarter length lace sleeves. The fitted bodice was held to the lace with a bias fold of satin featuring a bow of self-material mid-centre repeated similarly at the back.

The skirt, crinolined and worn with a hoop was made with unpressed pleats from the hipline, sweeping to the back to fall into a graceful small train. A delicate headband of iridescent sequins held the simple circular chapel length nylon net veil. The bridal bouquet was of red roses centred with white carnations. Mr. Eden gave his daughter in marriage.

FOUR ATTENDANTS

Mrs. E. Andrew of Penticton was the matron of honor and the bridesmaids were the brides cousins, Miss Penny Eden and Miss Gloria Tilbe. The dainty little flower girl was little Miss Dale Charles.

E. Andrew of Penticton was the best man and the ushers were the bride's brother, Jimmie Eden, Summerland, and Ken Vass of Vancouver.

Mrs. Delmar Dunham was organist playing while the register was signed and the processional and recessional music.

At the reception in the IOOF Hall, West Summerland, Mr. and Mrs. Eden were assisted in receiving by the groom's parents and by the bridal party.

John Caldwell was master of ceremonies.

The wedding cake was on a lace-covered table with tall pink tapers on either side and assisting at the buffet supper table were Mrs. Brambley, Mrs. Jack Raincock, Mrs. William Fell and Mrs. John Dunn.

For motoring to the coast where the young couple will reside, the bride wore a smart tomato colored wool suit, having a boxy jacket, complemented with a hat, scarf and gloves in a deep turquoise shade. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Last Rites Today For Mrs. Richardson

Mrs. Barbara Mary Richardson, 45, passed away in Summerland General Hospital on March 2. Funeral services will be held Thursday, March 5, at 3:30 p.m.

Besides her loving husband, Geoffrey, Mrs. Richardson leaves to mourn her loss, one daughter, Pat, in Scotland; one brother, Frank, in Worcester, England; a step-daughter, Mrs. K. C. (Lil) Nistor, in West Summerland, one step-son, Les, in Victoria.

The late Mrs. Richardson resided in West Summerland for the past two years and she was well known.

Officiating at the services to be held at the United Church will be the Rev. C. O. Richmond. Committal will be made at Peach Orchard Cemetery, with Roselawn Funeral Home entrusted with arrangements.

Town Band Active In Centennial Year

Summerland's Town Band was very much in demand during Centennial Year, but reported Band President Charlie Bernhardt at the annual meeting the band was only able to participate in only five of the out of town events. The band played on six different occasions in Summerland, including the annual band concert in November. Another highlight of the year 1958 was the band's participation in the Okanagan Valley Music Festival and the reward of retaining the shield.

The past year was not without its sorrows, for the band which lost three valuable members. The sudden passing of Herb Pohlman, who far many years was the band conductor, was a grievous loss to the organization. Henry Schaeffer, for many years the manager of the band, was forced to retire from active membership because of ill-health. Another member, Eddie Hannah, moved to Ottawa.

The president reported that the beginners' class, started by Jack Mason had aroused considerable interest. Anyone still wishing to join this group can do so and will be very welcome. Classes are held every Wednesday evening between 7 and 8 p. m. in the High School Auditorium.

The 1959 officers are, Charlie Bernhardt, president; Jack Mason, vice-president; Ted Weeks, secretary; Tom Washington, treasurer; Cecil Morgan, librarian. Executive, Ross Axworthy, Bert Berry, Jonn Betuzzi and Ralph Downing.

Red Cross Busy Providing Quilts

Last week the Red Cross Centre shipped a large consignment of finished quilts, including eleven quilts, to headquarters in Vancouver. About thirty ladies were busy sewing on Tuesday afternoon, mainly on quilts, although other articles are not being neglected. There is an urgent need for all the quilts we can make largely owing to the unusual number of home fires in B.C. this winter.

A large shipment of materials has recently been received from the supply depot so we can help even more ladies busy in our bright, comfortable work room. If it is not possible for some to come Tuesday afternoons there is plenty of home work to be done.

IN YOUR ORCHARD

By Alec Watt

District Horticulturist

FIRE BLIGHT —

For many years Fire Blight of pears has been the greatest single menace to pear growing in the Pacific Northwest. Just lately it has been increasing. The principal control of Fire Blight is by removing and burning all infected limbs and spurs during the dormant season. Diseased limbs can usually be detected because they have dead leaves adhering to them. But by March many diseased limbs have lost all their withered leaves and must be detected by a close examination of the bark. Blighted pear limbs have a leaden grey color whereas the healthy limbs are a whitish grey color. Often the affected tissue is divided from the healthy tissue by a crack in the bark.

All diseased limbs should be cut off at least a foot below the last sign of the blight. This is because the bacteria causing this disease live in the healthy bark at the edge of the dead tissue. Therefore, merely cutting off the dead limb does not always remove the cause, especially if the cut is made close to or in the dead area. When this infected tissue is allowed to remain in the trees the bacteria start multiplying with the return of spring weather and a new outbreak occurs.

Bright sunny weather is required to be able to see the blight cankers and diseased limbs clearly. Searching on a dull day is often a waste of time. If Fire Blight is serious it often pays to go through the orchard once just to cut out diseased limbs. After this is done the grower can then carry out the regular pruning as a separate operation.

Each year the District Horticulturist makes an inspection of the area for Fire Blight. Where blight has been missed or not cut out it is marked with red bunting and the grower notified of its presence.

Growers can help in this inspection by notifying the horticulturist (phone 4756) when their blight pruning is done. A further inspection of the orchard can then be made by both the grower and horticulturist together. Quite often more of the blight will be found.

Pear growing is one of the most valuable phases of the Tree Fruit industry. Annually over 100,000 bushels of pears are grown in Summerland alone. Fire Blight can kill an entire pear orchard. The best way to avoid loss is for every pear grower to eradicate diseased limbs from his orchard during the dormant season.

OKANAGAN WEED MEETING

Those interested in controlling weeds either in horticultural crops or on roadsides will have an opportunity to hear the latest control methods discussed in Kelowna on March 10th. In addition weed spray machinery and weed control in the community will be discussed.

The meeting is being sponsored by the B.C. Department of Agriculture and will take place in the Legion Hall starting at 10 a.m. A film will be shown at noon.

Programs are available at the Horticultural Office in town.

Founder Milne Cannery Dies in California

The woman who established what is today one of Summerland's thriving industries died in California last Saturday, February 28. She is Mrs. D. L. Milne, who in 1928 started over her kitchen stove to make jam and from that simple beginning was developed the modern Milne cannery of today.

Funeral services for Mrs. Milne were held Tuesday at Newport Beach, California, where Mrs. Milne has, of late years, spent most of the winter months.

JOHN W. HARRIS PASSES, AT NINETY

Nonagenarian John William Harris of Victoria Gardens, West Summerland, was buried Saturday.

Mr. Harris died at his home last Thursday at the age of 90. He had lived there for the past — years.

He was born in Dyserth, near Rhyll, Wales.

Besides his wife Marjorie he is survived by one daughter, Mrs. G. M. (Gyen) Lansdowne of Winnipeg, and five sons.

They are Dr. G. Howell Harris and Dr. John Allen Harris, both of Vancouver; John William of West Vancouver; Ivor of Burnaby and the Rev. T. E. Harris of Langley. Eight grandchildren and six great-grandchildren also mourn him.

Funeral services were held from St. Stephen's Anglican Church at West Summerland, Saturday at 2 p.m., the Rev. A. A. Northrup officiating.

Committal was in the Anglican cemetery with Summerland Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Milne, who was the widow of the late D. L. Milne, a former Summerland high school principal, was very active in the Summerland Baptist Church and in the WCTU.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Milne flew to California Saturday to attend the funeral. The other son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Blake Milne moved from Summerland to Newport Beach last fall.

Mrs. Milne will long be remembered as a church and a community worker and the bustling cannery which, with the aid of her two sons she built up from a kitchen stove, stands as a monument to her drive and business ability.

Besides her two sons, Howard and Blake, Mrs. Milne is survived by five grand-children, one brother, Albert Andrews of Brandon, Manitoba, four sisters Emily McVeity, Regina; Mrs. Walter Mitchell, Spirit River, Alberta; Mrs. George Pring, Woking, Alberta; and Mrs. Marjorie Smith, of Pasadena, Calif.

A group of members of the Summerland Research Centre left Tuesday to attend a two day B.C. Conference of Plant Pathology Laboratories being held at U.B.C. this week. Attending from here are Dr. M. Welsh, Dr. Lopatecki, Dr. Dave McIntosh, Mr. J. A. Stewart and Mr. E. Woolliams.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bendig and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Halverson and their son, Edwin, spent a few days in Vancouver last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Milne left by plane on Saturday to attend the funeral of Mr. Milne's mother in California.

Coming & Goings

Dr. James Marshall left on Tuesday for Hood River Valley, Oregon, where he has been invited to address the gathering honoring "Grower of the Year" at the annual banquet of the Chamber of Commerce which is to be held there today, Wednesday, March 4.

Rev. C. O. Richmond left Sunday night to spend a week in Vancouver.

Mrs. W. Tunbridge of Chilliwack is spending the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Tingley.

Mrs. George Graham visited her father in Kamloops over the weekend.

Mrs. E. Woolliams spent a few days visiting in Vancouver last week.

On Thursday, February 26th Mrs. M. D. Proverbs entertained for her daughter, Kathy, on the occasion of her fourth birthday. Those invited to the luncheon were Susan Downing, Maureen Welsh, Jennifer Morgan and Joan Proverbs.

From Vancouver Island, where he is stationed with the RCAF, Gerry Howis is spending a few days with his wife and family who are in Summerland for the winter months.

Visitors over last weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Del Carter were Mr. and Mrs. M. Halverson of Dawson Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown and their son, Robert, spent the weekend in Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. John Barg and Nancy visited over the weekend at the coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Bloomfield spent the weekend in Kamloops.

Recent visitors from the coast were Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Grant with their small son and daughter. They spent the past week at the home of Mrs. Grant's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. McKee, Parkdale.

9 Questions Asked and 9 Answered

The nine questions asked by the Okanagan Kootenay Co-operative Growers' Association serve to reveal the flimsy foundation on which the organization's insurrection is based, for it is natural to assume that the nine questions would pin-point what the OKCGA believes to be wrong with the present grower organizations and yet, in the main, there isn't a basic question bunch. Here are the questions and the answers.

1. What salaries and expense accounts for the year 1958 were paid to the personnel of B.C. Tree Fruits, Ltd., and the subsidiary company, C.F.D. Ltd.?

Answer — The BCFGA is ruled by the growers — the growers through their appointed delegates approve or disapprove of resolutions submitted to the annual convention of the BCFGA. The resolutions are submitted to the respective BCFGA locals advance of the convention so that the opinion of the growers can be expressed and instructions given to their delegates.

Now, after the preamble, the answer: twice a resolution asking that B.C. Tree Fruits salaries be publicized, has been submitted to two annual BCFGA conventions and twice delegates, acting on instructions from their own locals have overwhelmingly rejected the salary publicizing resolution. If Mr. Beich and Company require the answer to this question they will have to wait until the growers themselves authorize that the information be made public. Any official of B.C. Tree Fruits, Governor, BCFGA executive, or its president, giving out the information asked in that question from the OKCGA would be disobeying the instructions of the growers.

And notwithstanding the foregoing the three top men in the B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., R. P. Walrod, J. B. Lander and Carl Stevenson are prepared to have the amount of their salaries listed with every secretary of every BCFGA local and available to every registered grower asking the information, the only proviso being that it is not for publication. This information has been on file with the Pentiction BCFGA for some time.

2. What is the daily expense account of the B.C.F.G.A. Executive and Committee members while on executive business?

Answer — Ten dollars a day and actual out-of-pocket expenses — room and meals.

3. —Why does the BCFGA expect a grower to sign the three party contract? One that the BCFGA is not a signatory to, but which, however, they can void or change at will. We quote clause No. 23, Amendments of Contract "This agreement may be amended or modified by agreement between the Shipper and the Agent, and by the BCFGA on behalf of the Grower with the authority of a resolution passed at a general meeting of the BCFGA, and the Grower hereby authorizes consent to such amendment or modification to be so given on his behalf if authorized by a resolution passed at a general meeting of the BCFGA"

The answer — The answer to that is embodied in the quotes contained in the question, i.e. like everything else the three-party contract is not perfect, likewise times may change and modifications or additions may be required to make the contract suit future conditions, hence, all the "nigger in the woodpile" which the OKCGA professes to see in the sinister amendment clause is that provision is wisely made to permit of amendment to the contract provided that such amendment is approved by the growers and the BCFGA executive is notified of their approval, and instructed to act on the amendment by resolution passed at the annual BCFGA convention. In other words, no one can amend the three-party contract unless the growers who have signed it, approve of any change and that approval must come from the BCFGA locals level to the floor of the growers' own parliament.

4. What becomes of the monies of the B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., a limited company, and B.C. Processors, the ownership of which is held by ten men, in the event of sales of these companies?

The answer — The MacPhee report contains the answer to that one, on page 493 under the heading "2.— Organization, Board of Governors," it says in part, "the company (B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd.) is operated by a board of Governors elected at the annual convention of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association on the nomination of district councils" "Share certificates are issued to the ten members of the board and endorsed back (note that endorsed back) to the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association Executive. B.C. Tree Fruits and B.C. Fruit Processors are grower owned organizations, the BCFGA holds the shares, endorsed back to the BCFGA. It follows that the companies could not be sold without consent of the registered growers and it follows that any monies accruing if such a sale was authorized, would belong to the growers.

5. By what right does the BCFGA use the growers' money to enter the business of insurance and processing?

The answer — By the right of instruction and authority granted by delegates to the annual BCFGA convention as approved by grower members at the BCFGA locals' level.

6. Is the BCFGA within its rights using growers' money to campaign against the OKCGA, of which many growers are signed members?

The answer — Yes. The BCFGA executive is entrusted with the welfare, the protection and maintenance of the organization as built up painstakingly and democratically by the growers over many, many years. It has every right as the responsible group to fight irresponsible and destructive attack, aimed at destroying an organization in which the majority of growers believe and which, if the insurrectionists were successful would destroy the fruit industry in the valley. The BCFGA executives would be remiss in their duty to the growers and in fact guilty of betrayal of their trust if they did not fight this destructive group.

7. What is the connection between Canadian Fruit Distributors and the American owned C. R. Robinson Co.?

Answer — Another red herring. The name of C. R. Robinson has, it is true, some unpleasant associations with combines and monopolies for growers with very long memories, and so the name is labored. The Review is assured from responsible quarters that any connection, if any, between the Canadian Fruit Distributors and the American owned C. R. Robinson is a matter of routine business and furthermore that the firm has no connection either with CFD or any other wholesale firm and that the company is owned exclusively and entirely by employees of the company.

8. Why under our compulsory selling scheme, are B.C. growers, for the 1957 crop year, the second lowest paid in the USA and Canada, according to the figures of the Departments of Agriculture in Ottawa and Washington, D.C.?

Answer — The B.C. Tree Fruits Market Letter sent to all growers surely answered that one. The question is misleading and has been adequately answered by the BCFGA. One brief excerpt from the MacPhee report, page 55 headed "2, Prices," "Fresh Apple Prices." "The Commissioner was frequently advised that the United States growers received higher prices than did British Columbia growers. He has made a careful study of available data and presents the published answers. They do

The Summerland Review

VOL. 14, NO. 11

Wednesday, March 11, 1959

WEST SUMMERLAND, B.C.

District School Budget Goes Up Mill Rate Increase Seems Likely

500 Growers Hear Fruit Industry Leaders

More than 500 Oliver and Osoyoos growers, attended the Osoyoos BCFGA meeting held last night.

They heard two of the top men in the industry, A. R. Garrish, president of the BCFGA and R. P. Walrod, General Manager of B.C. Tree Fruits, they also heard C. Stevenson, assistant sales manager of B.C. Tree Fruits, Governor Jim Wells of Summerland and chairman of the Board of Governors Gordon Wight of Oliver.

They heard a straightforward presentation of the case for signing the three-party contract. They heard the nine questions asked by the Okanagan-Kootenay Co-operative Growers' Association, whose spokesman shielded away from the opportunity to meet the industry's top men on the same platform, answered in detail.

All growers, including supporters of OKCGA, were given a wide-open opportunity to question at will, but the questions which resulted were either related to old history or were puerile in the extreme.

The issue was put forward clearly and concisely by B.C. FGA president Garrish.

Mr. Garrish warned that failure to sign the three-party contract by a substantial number of growers could only be taken to mean that for some reason the growers are not prepared to back their organization.

"This doesn't mean that on April 1 B.C. Tree Fruits will fold," Mr. Garrish said, but the closing date for signing of the contract has a special significance this year. We have called a special meeting in April to consider the MacPhee report, but unless the contract is signed by a substantial number of growers, unless it can be established that the organization is on a firm base, it will put us in a poor position to do anything about the recommendations of the MacPhee report.

The whole concept of the Fruit Board and BC Tree Fruits with its compulsory control is only justifiable if supported by the majority, Mr. Garrish declared. If there are not sufficient signatories, then the government would feel justified in considering a plebiscite. There has been no fixed percentage ever on signing the contract, but it should certainly be a substantial percentage of the whole Mr. Garrish said.

not support the statements made by the growers."

And when there is a difference in net returns to the Ontario grower and the Okanagan Valley grower we can find the answer to Blech and Co. in the MacPhee report on page 562. The Commissioner writes, "I am quite prepared to recognize that the Ontario grower and the Quebec grower may obtain a higher net return because of proximity to market. These valleys are the end of a long line of steel and whether charges for transportation are reasonable or unreasonable, increasing or decreasing, they are part of the cost that those who live in these valleys must pay."

9. Why is the Canadian wholesale price invariably one dollar less than the quoted U.S. price per box on the Canadian market? Canada Department of Agriculture in the week ending Feb. 6th, 1959, Marketing Report quotes, "Washington Extra Fancy Red Delicious — Edmonton, $5.50." "B.C. Extra Fancy Red Delicious — Toronto, $4.50 - $4.75."

Answer — A deliberately loaded question. Washington extra fancy Red Delicious at EDMONTON, $5.50 B.C. extra fancy Red Delicious at TORONTO $4.50 - $4.75. This is not invariably true. Many examples can be quoted showing the reverse to be the case. In any case to make comparison between Toronto and Edmonton prices is futile. In the case of Edmonton during the time the Washington apples were quoted at $5.50 only two foreign carloads moved in during the seven week period with the market being given over 90 percent to domestic apples. Of the two cars shipped one was Michigan McIntosh. In other words, the quoted price looked good for the American grower but the American grower wasn't selling any apples and B.C. Tree Fruits were, ten carloads and 88 truck loads in that same period. In the case of the Toronto quoted price of $4.51 investigation shows that it cost $4.51 to lay the fruit down in Toronto, meaning that the wholesaler was either taking an actual loss at this time or making only a very small profit.

So there are the questions and the answers — and now The Review asks its own question and gives its own answer.

What has Blech and Company got?

The answer is nothing, absolutely nothing, but a lot of gall.

Summerland ratepayers can brace themselves for a sharp increase in the mill rate.

This became apparent last night when the School Board of District 77 presented its 1959 budget which showed an increase, payable by the municipality of $36,958 for a total of $143,399 over 1958. This increase represents the equivalent of six and a half mills of tax revenue.

Total school budget, presented by School Board Chairman T. S. Manning, supported by Trustee K. L. Boothe and secretary Robert Tingley amounts to $318,652 as against an actual expenditure last year of $288,184.

Teacher salary hikes account for the major part of the increase in school costs, with teacher salaries last year amounting to $189,514 as against $211,590 this year, up $22,086.

The School Board estimates that it will cost $13,350 to transport the youngsters to school in 1959. Actual cost last year, $13,570.

Sectional totals: Administration account, $9,680; Instruction account, the big item, $222,825; Repairs and maintenance, $9,410; Operation account, $27,066; Conveyance of pupils, $13,350; Auxiliary Service account, including health services, $3,640; Non-operating expense account, $3,600; Debt service account, $29,265, for a total of $318,652.

Of this amount the province pays $168,572, the Municipality $143,399 and the rural area $6,726.

Operating deficit from last year was $4,691. There is a reduction on estimates from 1959 of $184.

Council Told Of Arena Needs

Municipal Council will meet with the arena commission to discuss the 1959 budget.

George Stoll, arena manager, opened with the comment "you won't like this." Replied Reeve Atkinson, "go right ahead, we are numb, we've just received the school board budget."

Mr. Stoll recommended purchase of an ice shaver. With out the shaver, ice thickness builds up with consequent increase in power costs to maintain refrigeration. Other recommendations that roof trusses and stays be adjusted for strain, roof leaks repaired, electric service increased from 100 amps to 400 amps. Kitchen facilities required, new time clock needed. Parking space, dressing rooms, concession facilities and hot water supply, all inadequate. And a last recommendation that more money be made available for salaries.

Chanticleers Give Pleasing Performance

A large audience, including many from out of town, gave a very enthusiastic reception to the "Chanticleers" on Friday night in the Summerland High School Auditorium.

The famous group was made up of Richard Wright and William Diard, tenors; Raymond Keat, baritone; and James Martindale, bass. The pianist was Herman Allison.

The concert opened after a brief address by A. K. Macleod, president of the concert association, with the magnificent "Invocation" from the music drama "Eurdice", during the following two hours the talented group displayed amazing versatility from grand opera to musical comedy. Summerland devotees of Gilbert and Sullivan were particularly delighted with the "Pocket Pinacora." I felt that the varied musical tastes of this large audience were completely satisfied. It was encouraging to see so many teenagers so obviously enjoying this musical treat.

Signs of Spring were evident. Continued on Back Page

Local Students At Conference

Two grade twelve students from Summerland High, Ruth Gronlund and Dale Gunnarson, attended the twelfth Annual High School Conference held at the University of British Columbia last week-end, March 6-7. They report a most interesting and educational experience. After several lectures the conference was topped off with a gala banquet on Saturday, followed by a pleasant evening of dancing.

Girl Guide Mona Inaba, winner of the Pares' Cup, awarded annually to an outstanding Summerland Girl Guide. Presentation was made at the annual Mother and Daughter banquet by Capt. Enid Maynard.

Drastic But Necessary

Much is being said these days about compulsion in the fruit industry. And yet if we were not coerced to a considerable degree, our lives would indeed be chaotic.

It's a fine thing to talk of freedom, but an example of what freedom can lead to, is illustrated in the recent visit of a grower delegation to ask the Municipal Council to do something stringent about pest control.

In this tree fruit community most every one knows the reasons for, and the imperative need of following out the spray program. Everybody knows that pests uncontrolled in one orchard, or in isolated trees don't stay put, but migrate to infest other orchards. Everyone knows that to neglect spraying, results in financial loss, not only to the one who shirks his task, but to his neighbors who get the unwelcome attentions of pests from unsprayed areas.

And yet a Summerland BCFGa delegation, including such responsible growers as H. J. Barkwill, John Bennest and F. R. Ganzefeld, had to wait on council to recommend an even more drastic step than a compulsory spray program. They recommended that council should appoint an inspector to visit neglected orchards and where an 80 percent or worse infestation was found, the infested tree be destroyed.

High handed? An invasion of a man's property rights? Compulsion? So it is and so what. Owners of fruit trees, few or many, a single tree or a ten-acre tract, have no right to imperil the livelihood of other growers and the community has, in our opinion, every right to use compulsion, even to the ultimate of destroying infested trees neglected by their owners, that are a danger to the economic well-being of the community.

To Be Or Not To Be

On Thursday night members of the Summerland Board of Trade will debate a solemn issue. The question is can they face up to that issue without fear or favor, can they decide the issue on its merits or will it be decided by fearful pressure from outside.

The issue: shall women be admitted to membership of the Summerland Board of Trade?

Our guess is that the vote will favor taking down the "for Men Only" sign and extending the privileges of membership to qualified members of the opposite sex.

And, a good thing too — the idea that the ladies will talk the men's legs off — cannot hold water in the face of the verbosity of the males when they get their teeth into some favorite subject.

And the women's viewpoint can always be relied upon to be different, even though illogically different.

Yes, we heartily endorse the resolution proposing that women be admitted to membership in the Summerland Board of Trade. And we're sure it will pass, because what is Mister Summerland Board of Trade member going to tell his wife, if the motion is defeated?

It's a loaded question that will face the Board of Trade this Thursday night and it will be a foolhardy man who does not bow to the inevitable — so let's hope that it will be unanimous and we'll be premature and say right here and now,

"Welcome Ladies."

A Neighbour Will Call On Friday Night

On Friday night a neighbor will call at your home. The visit will be a friendly one as your caller will be on a mission of mercy.

The visitor will be a volunteer canvasser, a member of Summerland Rotary Club, for the Canadian Red Cross annual appeal for funds. That person will be one of many thousands of men and women who will knock on the door of the nation during Red Cross Month to seek financial support for the Red Cross.

The work of the Red Cross is people helping people and through its work everyone helps and everyone benefits. The annual appeal of the Red Cross is not an emotional appeal of the moment because the many services and programs of the Canadian Red Cross are provided throughout the year on a round-the-clock basis. They are essential projects for our community, our nation and the world.

This year the Red Cross looks back over 50 years of achievement and looks forward to the years of the future. A strong Red Cross is an asset to our nation and every citizen has a part in it. We do this by volunteering our dollars. A generous contribution this year will keep our Red Cross ready and able to serve us all.

Member Reports

The week ending on Friday, February 27th, saw two very important items brought forward. The first of these came on Monday as a result of a statement by the Prime Minister the preceding Friday, concerning the cancellation of the program on the Arrow, the Canadian super-sonic fighter. The basis of the decision is that the Arrow by mid-1962 would be obsolete. This date is the first time the fighter would be available on a squadron basis. The Arrow was contemplated in 1952 and came off the drawing board shortly after. By 1955 C. D. Howe, then Minister for Defence production, had stated that costs had risen and that technical difficulties had developed, and the whole project would have to come under survey annually. From that time on, production has lagged and the costs have mounted. Due to the advent of the missile, it is now felt that Canada's best air defence lies with the rocket integrated with present air weapons.

During debate, many other points were argued, namely the loss of technical skills to the country; continuing production to relieve unemployment; that the planes should have been sold to the United States, and that finally no notice was given to Avro the producing company.

You will have read in your papers how these have been countered. Certainly they are all important, but the overriding factor is that expressed by C. D. Howe himself, who on the rapid development of electronics and guided missiles overtook the Arrow.

The second matter of importance was the debate yesterday on External Affairs. From this debate, it must be inferred that the Berlin crisis will indeed be critical in East-West relations. NATO's stand, as set forth by Sidney Smith, Secretary of State for External Affairs, is that the occupying powers desire to leave no doubt as to the determination of the alliance to stand fast and to employ its defensive capacity in the event of aggression against Berlin or any interference with the arrangements that had been duly entered into between the occupying powers and the USSR in a series of meetings culminating in 1949.

Every effort is being made to avert the crisis through talks. There is too much at stake in the world today, and it is hoped the talks will be rewarding. This is no time for fly-by-night diplomacy.

SCROOGE METHOD DEPLORED IN ATTAINING YULE SOLVENCY

There are at least two effective ways to keep out of the red at Christmas time, according to Jock Johnston, manager of the Summerland branch of the Bank of Montreal.

You can follow the Scrooge technique and just ignore the holiday. But it's not the best way to win friends and influence people. You're not likely to have much fun, either," he adds.

Much better to plan ahead, Mr. Johnston believes, and open a special Christmas savings account at the B of M.

Next year, when it's time to start Christmas shopping again, it'll be much more fun to draw on money in your special Christmas account.

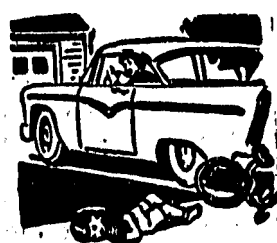

Why not start right away? Figure how much you'll need to spend at Christmas, divide the amount by the number of pay-days between now and then and make a regular deposit of that sum. It's guaranteed painless.

Each year, more and more Canadians are learning how pleasant it is to do their Christmas shopping with no worries about where the money's going to come from.

Mr. Johnston will be glad to show you how easy it is to operate your own special Christmas account throughout the coming year at the B of M.

Now's the time to start!

Road Signs won't shield you from Car Accidents!

St. John Classes Well Attended

The Summerland Branch of the St. John Ambulance Soc. held its annual meeting on March 4 at the Health Centre. Chairman C. H. Denike gave his report on 1958 activities. Last year a class of nine Girl Guides successfully completed a course in junior first aid. The St. John stretcher was placed in the hospital for the use of the general public. No calls were made last year for St. John attendants at public affairs.

Executive members for 1959 were elected as follows: Mrs. J. E. O'Mahony, honorary chairman; C. H. Denike; Mrs. L. F. Marten; Mrs. H. Charlton, secretary treasurer; Mrs. O'Mahony, auditor; executive, Mr. and Mrs. George Lewis, Miss L. Atkinson. Mrs. S. Blazieko and Mrs. H. Meierhofer.

There is a class of 19 taking senior first aid at the present time and a registration of 16 started a home nursing course, held Thursday nights under the civil defence.

Hospital Aux. Raised $2,272.

Summerland Hospital Auxiliary raised $2,272.69 in 1958 which went to purchase linen and china, a cautery machine and autoclave, paid for installation of some fluorescent lighting and repairs.

Largest revenue producer was catering by the auxiliary, Mrs. D. B. Clark, president of the auxiliary reported at the annual meeting of the Summerland General Hospital, held last Thursday in the IOF Hall.

Membership was 43 with an average attendance of 22. Commented Reeve F. E. Atkinson on this report, "How can this group invest $20 and make $500? It just shows they know something about business we men don't."

A vote of thanks to the ladies for their efforts on behalf of the hospital was moved by G. C. Johnston.

Contest Winners Are Announced

The Women's Christian Temperance Union Elocution Medal Contest was held March 3, in the Baptist Church. The meeting opened with a hymn, followed by a scripture reading and prayer given by Mrs. Rathjen.

The Bronze Medal was won by Peggy Lee Wellwood. Others in the class were Gary Smith, Glen Smith, Ida Wellwood, Donna Nicholson, Evelyn Rathjen and Beverley DeWitt.

The Silver Medal was won by Diewwie Wouters. Others in her class were Everdien Wouters, Marjorie DeWitt, Darlene Muir, James Rathjen, LaVerne Lynn and Douglas Lynn.

Mrs. John Barg, who took the chair in the absence of the president, Mrs. Howard Milne, was assisted by Mrs. Helen Miller, in presenting the medals to the winners, and gifts to each contestant. Mrs. Miller thanked all those who had co-operated to make the evening a success. The judges were Mrs. J. L. Mason, Mrs. Lorne Perry and Mr. T. I. Davis.

While the judges retired, a film "Not Alone" was shown, emphasizing our right and responsibility in upholding our principles and standards.

Orchard Run

(By Wally Smith)

BIG SMEAR

Out of the double talk, the histrionics, the shouting, the phony arguments and the misinformation that emanated from the speakers' platform at the recent Oziwer meeting of the Okanagan-Kootenay Co-operative Association, one thing stands out sharp and clear.

Alfred Biech is working tooth and nail to discredit the BCFGA and B. C. Tree Fruits Ltd., and is using every means within his power to discourage growers from supporting the present fruit marketing system in British Columbia.

Relying mostly on history dating back a quarter of a century ago, Mr. Biech makes free use of such words as "combine," "exploiting," "cheating," when discoursing on fruit marketing methods.

ANCIENT HISTORY

Mr. Biech claims that the BCFGA and B. C. Tree Fruits Ltd., are undemocratic; that a big and wicked combine has control of our crop and is putting the fruit grower through the wringer to extract the last possible cent from him.

He charges that our sales agency is dealing with a fruit brokerage firm that 25 years ago, was involved in charges of questionable dealing, and therefore that brokerage firm is crooked today, even with a different board of directors and different shareholders. What foolishness!

Mr. Biech made a number of charges, but produced little in support of them.

NOTHING IN IT

One piece of "evidence" was a letter written some years ago by a fruit buyer in Los Angeles who wanted to buy, so he wrote, up to 100 carloads of McIntosh apples. Tree Fruits Ltd., refused to sell him any. Yes, they actually REFUSED to sell this man even one carload! Terrible, isn't it? Turning away good business like that.

Mr. Biech failed to mention one thing. The Los Angeles buyer could have bought from our regular broker in Los Angeles, who was building up a nice business in McIntosh. But he wouldn't go to our broker. He wanted to buy direct from Tree Fruits, hoping to purchase at a cheaper price so that he could undersell to the very wholesalers who were being supplied by our own broker.

That's a neat bit of knavery known as "chiselling" in on the deal, but it doesn't help us to sell any more apples. Another thing about this would-be Los Angeles buyer—on investigation his credit rating was found to be low—good for no more than two carloads.

The foregoing is a truthful explanation of the incident. All the information is on file in the offices of B. C. Tree Fruits Ltd., in Kelowna.

SOUND AND FURY

It is typical of the kind of argument put forward by Mr. Biech I doubt if there's a single contention advanced by him that will stand up under investigation.

What about those charges or inferences of cheating, giving false audits, stealing, giving false returns, paying "blow-backs," to the loyalty gang of wholesalers, prepared to commit any crime short of murder and so on? What about them?

That's just Alfie blowing off steam flexing his vocal chords to impress. So it's the crooked brokers and combines who are doing these wicked things.

SIGNIFYING NOTHING

And who are these crooked brokers and combines? What are their names? Mr. Biech is very careful not to name any names as having committed any specific offences. He knows if he does so he will have to prove his accusations in court to protect himself from a slander suit. Mr. Biech can't prove a thing. If he could I'm sure all the growers would back him up.

DO FIGURES LIE?

Typical of the information, or misinformation which Alf Biech has distributed to the growers is the set of figures which are supposed to show average apple prices to growers in many states of the USA and Canada.

These American figures are official all right and are contained in a bulletin published by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The figures of the Northwestern states were compiled by Chas. D. Sherman, local representative, Market News Branch, Fruit and Vegetable Division, 235 Liberty Building Yakima, Washington.

On page 6 of this bulletin is a table headed "Season average prices: Apples per bushel; Received by growers by states and United States, 1947-57."

These are the figures used by Mr. Biech. Included in the list is the following:

Washington	1957	$2.19
Oregon		$1.95

He compares these to B. C. prices which in 1957 averaged 74c a box according to "Estimated value of apples produced in Canada by provinces." Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

The comparison looks bad for the B. C. apple grower but like most of Alf Biech' statements, he is trying to cloud the issue by not telling the whole story.

As I said before, Alf got his Washington and Oregon prices from page 6 of the U. S. government bulletin. These prices according to Mr. Sherman, who compiled them, are f.o.b. selling prices and they include packing charges, cold storage costs and selling costs.

According to this same Mr. Sherman, if you want to know what growers in the states of Washington and Oregon got for their apples after all packing, storage and selling costs are deducted, look at the table on page 7 of the same U. S. Department of Agriculture booklet.

The table is headed, "On tree returns to growers," and in that table are these figures:

Washington	1957	.80
Oregon		.77

The B. C. price of 74c a box quoted by Alf Biech is from our own Canadian Dominion Bureau of Statistics. "Estimated Value of Apples Produced in Canada by Provinces."

You will notice it is an estimated price. It would of course include the Fraser Valley and Vancouver Island.

The figure for our own controlled area is 87c according to our own records. On top of this we received 12c a box deficiency payment.

I find it hard to believe that many growers will fall for Mr. Biech's misrepresentation.

"Scottie" Ritchie Heads Welfare

Representatives of 12 Summerland organizations met in the Municipal Hall last Friday and elected W. S. "Scotty" Ritchie as chairman of the Summerland Central Welfare Committee.

Mr. Ritchie succeeds A. F. Calder, who has filled the position of chairman ever since the committee was organized eight years ago.

Dr. H. R. McLarty is vice-chairman, succeeding the Rev. C. O. Richmond, who is leaving the district at the end of June. A new secretary-treasurer, Mrs. W. T. Bleasdale was appointed to replace Mrs. A. G. Bissett who asked to be relieved. Both Mrs. Bissett and Mr. Calder will continue as executive members.

Also re-elected to the executive on which she has worked for eight years was Mrs. R. G. Russel.

Appreciation of the work of Mr. Calder, Mrs. Russell, Mrs. Bissett and Mrs. S. W. J. Feltham for their work during the past eight years was expressed by the meeting.

Promenade

Dancing news for this week-end seems a little sparse after the many dances announced for last Saturday. Peach City Promenaders will be holding their regular class lesson on March 14th. Ed Stebor, instructor. Visitors are welcome. This class is held in the High School Cafeteria and time spent attending these dances is very worthwhile as all the latest round and square dances are thoroughly taught.

Although no information is available it is assumed that Westbank will hold their regular party night on March 14th. Details regarding emcee, lunch, etc. are not known.

Some notes from the Okanagan Square Dance Association executive meeting are as follows: Callers and teachers of all clubs in the valley are being contacted regarding holding a workshop for the purpose of organizing a Callers and Teachers Organization. Council officers have called a meeting for March 22nd at the Youth Centre Hall, West Summerland, at 2 p.m. A Constitution and Bylaws for the Association have been approved by all clubs and will be forwarded to the secretary of each club for their records. March 21 will be the regular party night for the Pairs, Squares and Ed and Irene Stebor will emcee the event. Lunch provided.

Obituary

The funeral of Mrs. Agnes Ada Woods took place at Naramata on March 5, and interment was in the Anglican Cemetery, West Summerland.

Besides her loving husband, Thomas Arthur, she is survived by one son Alexander William Watt of West Summerland, one stepson Patrick Alexander Woods of Vernon, two stepdaughters, Mrs. Jim Apsey, of Vernon, and Miss Nora Woods of White Rock, and 6 grandchildren.

Chanticleers

Continued from Front Page among the well dressed ladies in the audience. The delightfully informal reception after the recital gave everyone an opportunity to chat with the artists. I was sorry to learn that this is the last season that these superb singers will appear as a group.

Members of the executive who arranged reception were Mrs. C. E. Emery, Mrs. A. K. Macleod, Mrs. G. C. Johnston, Mrs. L. L. Fudge, Mrs. Wm. Brown and Mrs. K. L. Boothé.

Pouring the tea and coffee were Mrs. F. E. Atkinson, Mrs. C. Bernhardt, Mrs. Peter Andrew and Mrs. Ewart Woolliams. Serving were Miss Dawn Grazely, Miss Sandra Dunn, Miss Carol Fiske, Miss Norma Hankin, Miss Mary Cuthbert, Miss Barbara Boyd, Miss Linda Betuzzi and her sister, Miss Johan Bergstromé.

The third and final concert of the season is still to come. Together with this keenly appreciative, music loving community, I am looking forward to it.

Florence Onley.

Summerland Board of Trade Supports Government Labor Bill

A lively argument, not without political overtones, took up considerable time at last Thursday's meeting of the Summerland Board of Trade.

A former Liberal candidate, W. A. "Bill" Gilmour, clashed with Reeve F. E. Atkinson over the Social Credit Government's labor legislation.

Issue was whether or not the Board of Trade should support the Government legislation which is variously described as simply to make labor unions more responsible to society as its management, or as legislation designed to hamstring labor.

Reeve F. E. Atkinson felt the board should support the legislation. He said that, in the main the working man was not to blame for abuses, but the union leaders felt they had to make newer and bigger demands every year. He cited a local instance where one group of civic workers were satisfied with the existing contract, but the union insisted on putting new demands and it had taken months of negotiation to arrive at a settlement.

Reeve Atkinson contended that if labor was sincere it would retain economists to study the labor conditions and wage rates in direct relation to the economy of the respective areas, rather than ask for blanket increases which could be hurtful in some areas.

In any event, contended Reeve Atkinson, the government legislation is only aimed at making labor officials more responsible.

Mr. Gilmour felt that the Board of Trade would be sticking its neck out in support of this legislation, the merits of which were, to say the least, arguable. Lloyd Miller, past president of the Board of Trade and well-known as a strong supporter of Social Credit, spoke earnestly on behalf of the legislation and L. L. Trippe, a known Liberal and a former Liberal Member of Parliament from Saskatchewan crossed party lines, so to speak, to argue in favor of support for "this courageous legislation."

President Bill Gillard felt that in view of the difference of opinion and the fact that the Board was made up of men of all political opinions, that it would be advisable to hold a secret ballot on the question. This was done and the "Ayes" won.

The Summerland Board of Trade supports the government's labor legislation.

Proud and happy winners in the recent Okanagan Badminton Tournament in Penticton are Mary Cuthbert and Alan Reid, members of the Summerland Junior Badminton Club. They captured the under 14 Mixed Doubles trophy.

Local Youngsters Shine In Badminton Playoffs

Summerland junior badminton players showed to advantage at the Okanagan Junior Badminton Tournament held in Penticton last Saturday and Sunday, winning two of the trophies, and finishing in the finals of two other events.

In the girls under 18 singles Carolyn Reid of Summerland lost out to Jean Shepherd of Salmon Arm, but combined with Rose Robertson of the local club to win the girls open doubles in two straight sets.

In the under 14 division, mixed doubles, Mary Cuthbert and Alan Reid of Summerland, showed great promise in winning the Fudge-Waddell Trophy defeating a strong Penticton team in straight sets.

In the same division Mary Cuthbert of Summerland and Mavis Semadeni of Penticton, teamed up to reach the final of that event, but just lost out in a thrilling three set match.

Players were entered from all clubs in the Valley from as far north as Salmon Arm to Oliver in the south.

Nine juniors were entered from the Summerland club and great things are expected from these players by senior members of the club.

Declines Post

Dr. J. C. Bishop has declined to accept the appointment as director of the Summerland Research Centre for personal reasons, and he and his wife will return east.

Dr. Bishop came here from Kentville, N.S., as exchange director with Dr. T. A. Anstey, who has accepted the position as superintendent of the Lethbridge Experimental Farm.

F. P. Fillipof, now taking a course in Ottawa has been named administrator of the Summerland Research Centre.

Grad Revue Provides Entertaining Evening

by Jim Onley

Maybe I am getting on, but boys were never as husky, good looking and intelligent and girls were never so pretty and attractive when I went to school or maybe I was less observant and appreciative then.

Well I went back to school on Friday night to see the Grads Revue. The Auditorium was almost full, ample evidence of the whole-hearted support which this community gives to every activity in spite of the fact that there is something on most nights.

From first to last it was an excellent show. It was the last romp of the Grads last year in school, and what a romp they had, there was never a dull moment.

An incredible amount of work and enthusiasm must have gone into the production, the nautical setting was really good, complete with fishing nets, fish, portholes, anchors and waves.

And the crew . . . they fairly sparkled with music, hornpipes and sea shanties. It was difficult to recognize the villainous band of pirates which boarded the ship and roared a rousing shanty at the sedate members of the teaching staff.

The teamwork, which is always the hallmark of a good show, was excellent. Each act was slick and polished and the entire production maintained a pace that held the interest of the large audience.

For those of you who missed a fun-filled evening here is the programme:

"O Canada"; Master of Ceremonies, Ted Hannah; Opening remarks, Mr. K. Storey.

1. Grad Orchestra: (a) ABC Boogie, (b) Bee-Bop-A-Lula, singer Scott Bergstrom, piano, Mayne McCutcheon, drums Denis Bonthoux, string bass Lowell Laidlaw, guitars Bob Sheeloy, Ted King.

2. Piano duet: Marilyn Embree and Ona Willis, "Military March" - Schubert.

3. Spanish Dance, Jennifer Penny.

4. Tumbling act (under Mr. Schwab).

5. Left Right out of Your Heart - Laurane Bonthoux, Lynne Boothe, Leona McNabb, Ilana Stewart, Joan Young.

6. Impersonation - Ian McDonald (Penticton), assisted by Ron Wilson, Phil Workman.

7. Japanese Dancers (under Mrs. T. Kuroda).

8. Lynne Boothe. "Gilded Days" - S. Romberg.

9. Ian McDonald, Penticton. Intermission (fresh apple juice sold in lobby by Grade 11 girls).

Scene: aboard the good ship "S.H.S. Success"; cast: crew: orchestra; hornpipe dancer, Elaine Dunsdon; captain, Richard Davis; cabin boy, Sheldon Doherty; chorus line, Elsie Karlstrom, Carole Hackman, Barb Fudge, Shirley Anderson, Anno Macleod, Gail Penny; crew, all the Grads of '58; pirates, ?????; pianist, Mr. K. Storey.

Jim Wells Takes Over At Co-Op

The Board of Directors of the Summerland Co-operative Growers Association are pleased to announce that they have appointed H. J. Wells as manager of their packing house. The appointment was made March 13, and became effective, Monday, March 16.

For the past three years, Mr. Wells has been a member of the Board of Governors of B. C. Tree Fruits Ltd. An electrical-mechanical engineer by profession, with extensive executive and administrative experience Mr. Wells has acquired considerable experience in the fruit industry as a grower and packinghouse worker since coming to Summerland in 1946.

Trade Board Now To Learn About Women From Them

The barriers are down.

No longer is the second Thursday evening of the month in Summerland an evening when a man can get away from the fairer sex by ducking into the Board of Trade regular monthly dinner meeting.

Last Thursday, with only one dissenting vote, the Summerland Board of Trade approved a resolution allowing women to become full-fledged members of the Board of Trade.

So far only one woman member has been signed up, Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh.

P.T.A. Calls Special Meeting For March 19

The February meeting of the P-TA may have helped to make history for Summerland, when four students, with Mrs. Emery as Moderator, joined in a panel discussion on the sub-

Nat May Heads Armstrong Fair

William May, Summerland fruit grower, was elected president of the Interior Provincial Exhibition Association at the 58th annual meeting held in the Armstrong Legion Hall on Friday, March 6.

Dates for this year's Exhibition have been set for Thursday Friday and Saturday, September 17, 18 and 19. Secretary-Manager Mat. S. Hassen explained that dates have been set as coming in the second full week in September.

Discuss Pros And Cons Of Water Contamination

Vigorous issue with the opinion of Dr. D. A. Clark, Okanagan Health Officer, was taken by the president of the Summerland Board William Gillard at last Thursday's Board of Trade meeting.

Mr. Gillard, who attended the

Scout-Cub Banquet Held

Annual Father and Son banquet of the 1st Summerland Scout and Cub group, was well attended with more than 100 present. Scoutmaster Dr. D. V. Fisher addressed the gathering and stressed the need for leaders. Scout Apple Day will be April 11 Dr. Fisher reported.

Cub Nigel Blagborne was presented with his first star by Scoutmaster Towgood and assistant Scoutmaster John Bonnest. Second class badges were awarded to Howard Oxley, Dick Dunsdon and Gary Robertson. Other badges went to Roger Blagborne, Dick Dunsdon, Dennis Luckey, Gary Robertson, Jim Flako and John Beaven.

ject of clothes, specifically school uniforms. Following a short business meeting, which was well attended, the girls took over. Lorna Dixon and Sharon Hansen presented the argument for uniforms and Nancy Young and Donna Butler were in opposition. During the discussion Lurane Bonthoux Ilana Stewart, Joan Young and Irene Pennington modelled different styles of uniforms. Elspeth Tavender and Marjory Brake displayed examples of clothes now in general use. The girls presented their ideas with humor and good sense and great credit is due to them and their instructors Mrs. Buey and Mrs. Boulbee.

At the close of the panel discussion the audience met in the Home economics room, where they divided into groups and discussed the points raised over cups of coffee. The majority voted in favor of uniforms and a committee was formed to study costs and other aspects of the question.

At the meeting members were reminded that the Royal Commission on Education would commence sittings in the Valley early in April and they were asked to bring any suggestions for a brief to the April meeting. Since that time the date for the hearing has been set for April 8th, the day before the next P.T.A. meeting. The executive has called a special meeting for March 19th at the High School at 8 p.m. to deal with the submission of a Brief. Subjects to be discussed are:

1. A request that school uniforms may be introduced at the discretion of the School Board.

2. That the posture and general health of the students could be improved and it was suggested that some subjects now discussed in the H.P.D. course could be dropped and the time used to better advantage in Rhythmic Drill periods.

3. Since Canada is a bi-lingual country, our people should be fluent in both English and French. To facilitate the ability to use a second language it should be introduced in the elementary school.

Any parents or others interested in education are cordially invited to attend this meeting and express their views.

Fire Dept. Busy

Tuesday was a busy day for Summerland Volunteer Fire Dept. when they answered two calls. The first, at 12:30, was a chimney fire at the home of S. R. Skippings, Station Road, which was quickly brought under control. The second call came at 4:30, a grass fire at the orchard of Tom Moran, Peach Orchard, was extinguished.

School Board Appoints New Janitor-Engineer

At the School Board meeting Thursday, Elton H. Knuff, of Cawston, B. C. was appointed to the position of engineer-janitor, succeeding Fred Smith who resigned.

Mr. Knuff has had a wide experience in the construction field, both building and engineering. He worked for Kenyon and Co. Ltd. for 12 years. He also worked in the aircraft industry prior to his enlistment in the Air Force, where he served as wireless operator and air gunner.

Mr. Knuff is married with two children, he plans moving his family to West Summerland later in the year.

The Board had received 16 applications for the position, one from as far afield as Denmark.

Last Rites Held On Saturday For Mrs. J. Barkwill

Mrs. Ellen Gwendoline Barkwill, formerly of West Summerland, passed away peacefully in the Summerland Hospital, on March 12, in her 74th year.

Besides her loving husband, John, she leaves to mourn her loss two sons, Harry J and Robert G., both of West Summerland and two sisters residing in England and 10 grandchildren.

Mrs. Barkwill was born in Gloucester, England, and has been a resident of Summerland for the past 37 years.

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Barkwill were conducted from the St. Stephen's Anglican Church on Saturday, March 14 with the Rev. A. A. T. Northrup officiating. Committal was in the Anglican Cemetery, Roselaw Funeral Home in care of arrangements. It was requested that in lieu of flowers donations, be made to St. Stephen's Chancel.

The Barkwills came to Summerland in 1922 and it was Mrs. Barkwill's hospitality extended to Summerland service men of the world war at their home near Bramshot, England, which resulted in the Barkwills settling in Summerland.

Three brothers of Jack Barkwill were in Summerland prior to World War I and when they enlisted and found themselves at Bramshot, only a short distance from the Barkwill home at Haselmore, they naturally gravitated there, taking with them other service men from Summerland, so when they moved to Canada it was natural for the Barkwills to come to Summerland.

Mrs. Barkwill contributed much to the building up of the Barkwill cannery, working there for many years. She was an enthusiastic out-door woman and one of her favorite pastimes was horseback riding.

Frost Damage To Apricot Buds

(K. O. Lapins)

The low temperatures at Summerland during the first week of January when the temperatures dropped to minus seven degrees, caused considerable fruit bud injury in apricots and provided suitable conditions to evaluate the winter hardiness of varieties and seedling material.

Of the named varieties on the Farm, Sophia was the most hardy with over 50 per cent bud survival. Moorpark and Trevatt sowed 12.5 - 5 - 25.0 per cent good buds and all other varieties had less than 6 per cent survival.

A number of parent trees selected for use in breeding for winter hardiness and 15 out of 40 seeding selections proved to be considerably more hardy than most commercial varieties.

Maturity Studies on the Spartan Apple

(By D. V. Fisher)

Random samples of Spartan apples were picked from a single tree on five dates extending from September 12 to October 14, and placed immediately in 32 degree F. storage. Samples were removed January 8 and evaluated after a week at 70 degrees F. From the standpoint of size, exterior and interior color, and flavor, the first two picks resulted in in-

The results of this test indicate that the present commercial picking dates are too early and that the variety must reach full maturity to achieve top quality and flavor.

275 Attend Annual Mother-Daughter Event

The largest banquet ever to have been held by the Summerland Girl Guides was held recently when 275 Summerland mothers, daughters and guests sat down at the annual Guide Banquet, held at the Youth Centre.

Highlighting the evening was the presentation to Mrs. W. H. Durick, badge secretary, and division secretary of a golden "Thank You" badge, by Trudy Schwab. This is a rare award and is only given for outstanding service.

Another big highlight came when Mona Inaba was presented with the Pare's Cup, awarded annually to an outstanding Girl Guide of Summerland. Captain Enid Maynard made the presentation.

Warrant badges were presented to Guide Captain, Mrs. Sandy Fenwick and to Brown Owl, Mrs. W. G. Evans.

Tables were arranged with spring flowers, flags and figures of Brownies. As the supper began, Mrs. R. S. McLachlan, president of the L. A. as mistress of Ceremonies, Guides Mona Inaba, Ann Leinor, Mary Dawn Gradeley, Janet Storey, Donna Powell and Jeannie candle lighting ceremony.

The Ladies Auxilliary to the Canadian Legion, Branch 22, Summerland, served, as their Stevenson took part in the contribution to Guiding, thus allowing mothers and daughters to sit down together.

Guests at the head table were Mrs. R. S. McLachlan; Mrs. B. T. Blagborne, division commissioner; Mrs. Sandy Fenwick, Capt. 1st Company; Miss Enid Maynard, Capt. 2nd Company; Mrs. Gordon Whitaker; Miss Dianne Young, Lieuts. 1st Company; Mrs. James Onley, Lt. 2nd Company; Brown Owls Mrs. L. Lopateckie, Mrs. W.G. Evans, Mrs. George Ryman of the 1st 2nd and 3rd Packs respectively and Mrs. J. L. Mason, Tawny Owl of the 1st Pack.

Promenade

Summerland will hold their party night on Saturday, March 21st with Ed. Stebor as emcee. Ed. and Irene have been teaching in Penticton this past winter and are very well liked in this area for their teaching ability, and also for their pleasing personalities. It is anticipated that a good turn out can be expected. All dancers are welcome and can be assured of having a good time. Ed's experience in teaching and calling can keep all levels of dancers happy and enjoying themselves. Lunch will be served by the club.

Guest callers are requested to bring their own records. Badges have arrived for the new dancers and may be given out at this dance.

The following week, March 28th, the Okanagan Square Dance Association is sponsoring an appreciation dance in the Athletic Hall, Peachland. Les Boyer will be in charge if the program. Bring a sack lunch and coffee and tea will be provided. Admission will be $1.00 per person.

ORCHARD RUN

by WALLY SMITH

Supply and Demand

One all important fact that some growers overlook, is that the law of supply and demand sets the price pattern for all farm crops including tree fruits.

In just about all parts of the world today heavy production is exceeding demand. This has created surpluses and prices have been slashed in an effort to reduce these surpluses.

That is a concise report on the agricultural picture and explains why agriculture today is suffering economic distress.

In the U.S. and Canada storage bins are bursting with surplus grain for which no market can be found. Cold storage warehouses are filled with pork, butter and other foodstuffs. Food is plentiful but buyers are scarce because the market is well supplied.

Of course in some parts of the world there are hungry people who would be glad to have some of our surplus food but they have nothing to give us in exchange.

Food can be disposed of as an outright gift. (Canada has already given away millions of dollars worth in this way) but that doesn't contribute anything to the farm income, and it's income — the price of apples and other tree fruits — that the Okanagan grower is so concerned about.

Competition

The fresh apple trade is a highly competitive business. Quebec, Nova Scotia, Ontario, Minnesota, New York, Oregon, Idaho, Washington — all are producing large crops of apples that come into direct competition with ours.

What they get for their apples depends to a very great extent upon the quantity they have for sale — the old law of supply and demand. And the price they get sets the standard for our prices.

It doesn't matter whether the Okanagan has a heavy crop or a light crop. Our five or six million boxes has little effect on the North American market which annually absorbs some 122 million boxes of apples. Our Okanagan contribution is only five per cent of the total U.S. and Canadian total. JUST FIVE PER CENT

It is not the intention of this column to be scornful of the Okanagan apple crop which is all-important to us because it provides the greater part of our living, but we should be aware of some of the fundamental facts of the apple economy and how they affect our own particular business.

With only five percent of the Canadian-U.S. apple crop it is obvious that the Okanagan is a comparatively small supplier and our customers, if they are not satisfied with our price and quality, can buy elsewhere. They sometimes do.

These are simple, fundamental facts that are a little farther away than the ends of our noses but they are there, and we have got to take a good look at them if we want a better understanding of our own business.

Watson-Miller Rites Held

A wedding of interest in the Okanagan, where the bride's parents are well-known residents of Trout Creek, and at Edmonton, the home of the groom's parents, took place on Friday evening March 6, in the Church of God, Trout Creek, Summerland, when Vera Marie Claire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Miller and Robert Neil Watson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Watson, of Edmonton were united in marriage.

The church was prettily decorated with daffodils for the candlelit service performed by the Rev. A. F. Irving in the presence of more than 70 guests. The bride was given away by her father.

The bride wore a beautiful heavy white taffeta floor-length wedding dress made with a molded bodice, pointed in front. The yoke and long lily-pointed sleeves were of lace, scalloped to form a bateau neckline, with the lace embroidered with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. The skirt was full and worn over a hoop. A panel gradually widening at the back from the waistline to the floor was of alternating rows of gathered net and scalloped lace.

A three-quarter length circular net veil edged with scalloped lace was caught to the head with a cap of sequins and pearls and styled with three points of pleated net at the front. The bride carried carnations and ivy centred with pink roses.

Miss Jean Miller of Oliver, the bride's sister, was the maid of honor and wore a charming gown of turquoise net and lace over matching taffeta. The bodice was strapless with a matching lace jacket and the skirt featured graduated net frills. Her headdress was a circlet of white flowers, salmon pink carnations and sprigs of lily-of-the-valley, were attached to a turquoise lace muff which completed the ensemble.

Miss Estelle and Miss Adele Miller, younger sisters of the bride, were the two bridesmaids wearing identical frocks of pink net over taffeta with lace jackets and matching pink muffs with white carnations. They wore hair bandeaux of pink flowers.

Mrs. C. N. Thiessen and Terry Parrot, all of Penticton, and Miss Doreen Miller of Kelowna.

The three best men were the groom's brother, Elmer Watson of Edmonton, the bride's cousin Delbert Joy of Edmonton and her brother, David Miller of Summerland.

Ushers were the bride's brothers, Bob and Charles Miller of West Summerland.

Miss Arlene Embree was the pianist and a trio composed of Mrs. Ted Harms, Mrs. Wesley Davis and Mrs. Wesley Johnston sang.

A reception was held in the Anglican Parish Hall, here. The toast to the bride was proposed by Percy Miller, a cousin.

For going away the bride wore a tailored wool suit with pink flecks, a hat of pink petals and a corsage of pink roses.

The couple will make their home in Edmonton.

Out of town guests were the groom's parents from Edmonton, and Sylvia Hudi of Edmonton, Mr. and Mrs. Atlee Hanson, Dennis and Nancy, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Midler, Mr. and Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Lewis, Trout Creek, were their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Wismer and their son Bob by, of Vancouver.

Bowling News

by GLEN FELL
Headlining the bowling spotlight this week is the results of a tournament held in the alleys to pick a team to represent Summerland at the Okanagan Play-offs in Kamloops. The captain is Don Gilbert, and the team members are Don Clark, Bud Sismey, Bill Pollick and Ernie Harrison.

Inure Toth will be the team spare.

Mixed league standings to date are:

"A" League:
Baby Austins	14
Kingpins	12
Occidentals	12
Diehards	12
Cackleberries	11
Beebops	9
Whizbangs	7
Pentics	3

Nan Thornthwaite bowled a 284 for the ladies high single and Bernice MacDonald bowled a 652 for the ladies high three. Don Gilbert bowled a 290 for the mens high single and Corky Haddrell rolled a 702 for the mens high three. The Diehards are the high team this week with a total of 2982 pins.

"B" League
Hilltoppers	16
Spudniks	14
Rollaways	13
Hobos	11
Les Bums	11
Trout Creekers	8
Highlighters	7
Misfits	7
Northern Lights	6
Albertans	6

Jean Gately won double honors by rolling a 240 and a 576 and Roy Bradley also won double honors by rolling a 280 and a 731. Nice bowling. The high team this week is the Rollaways with 2594 pins.

Ladies league standings this week are:

B.G.I.T.'s	20
Foresters	20
Unguided Missles	16
Pen-Mates	15
Nitwits	15
Ogo-Blow-Go's	14
Meteors	14
Blowpots	14

The high single was split this week between Nellie Newton and Evelyn Spellburg with a 208 each. Beryl Fleebe rolled a 578 to win the high three. The Blowpots are the high team this week with a total of 2482 pins.

Mens league standings this week are:

Pioneer Rollaways	33
Dodgers	28
Lucky Strikes	27

High School Curling Report

The Summerland High School Curling Club held their annual bonspiel on March 6 and 7. The "A" event was won by Robert Brown who had with him Ken Stoll, third, Ron Manning, second, Richard Ganzeveld, lead.

Winner of the "B" event was the Jim Eden skipped rink with Marie Gove, third, Lowell Laidlaw, second and David Kampe, lead. Ted Hannah's rink, with Mayne McCutcheon, third, Richard Davis, second and Myles Gillard, lead, took the "C" event.

Second in the "A" event was Bob Bleasdale, and third was Robin Caldwell.

In the "B" event Ken Beggs Toevs, third.

Roger Solly, and Bonnie Ganzeveld came second and third respectively in the "C" event.

Prizes were donated by the following merchants, Laidlaw's Mens Wear, Varty and Lussin, Green's Drug Store, Cranna's Jewelry, Macils' Ladies' wear, Roy's Mens Wear, Milne's Jewelry, Holmes and Wade and the 5c to $1 Store.

On February 21 and 22 a rink skipped by Ted Hannah, with Ruth Gronlund, third, Bonnie Ganzeveld second, and Doug Laidlaw, lead, travelled to Kelowna to participate in the High Schoolspiel and won the "B" event.

A rink skipped by Ken Beggs, skip, Ted Hannah, third, Brian Eden, second, and Doug Laidlaw lead, entered the Osoyoos High Schoolspiel but did not win anything.

Earlier in the year another rink of Robin Caldwell, skip, Bob Bleasdale, third, Brian Eden second, and Ron Derosier lead participated in the High School zone playdowns in Osoyoos but did not win either.

In closing we would like to give special recognition to Mr. Gately, our sponsor, and Sandy Munn at the rink, for giving us their time and help, whenever we needed it.

Full Text of Garrish Osoyoos Speech

MR. A. R. GARRISH SPEAKING TO A JOINT MEETING OF THE OLIVER-OSOYOOS LOCALS OF THE B.C.F.G.A. TUESDAY, MARCH 10th, 1959 AT OSOYOOS.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am certainly very pleased to see such a very large turnout for this meeting tonight. I find the situation just a little strange though in that it's only just about a month ago that I was in Ottawa attending the Annual meeting of the Canadian Horticultural Council, and one of the most important resolutions we took there was a resolution passed unanimously at your last annual B.C.F.G.A. Convention, not only unanimously but with very considerable enthusiasm, calling for the formation of a Canadian Fruit Board. I would just like to remind you that the terms of that resolution were quite sweeping; they called for the establishment of a Canadian Fruit Board which would have complete control over all fruit grown in Canada and sold in both domestic and export markets. Now those of us who were aware that there were no organized controls in the other apple producing areas perhaps felt that that resolution was rather far-reaching to take to the National body, the Horticultural Council, but we also felt that the proposal had to be started somewhere so we took it there, and we spoke to it, and we pointed out to the other areas that we were not fooling — that we had an organization here and that we were prepared to back up our proposals. And let me say this — that the representatives from the other areas did not consider that resolution at all lightly; they realized that we were in earnest in presenting that resolution, and they discussed it in that spirit.

Campaign To Destroy

Now it is not my purpose to review in great detail what happened to that resolution; suffice to say that at least we did find some common ground, and could see a basis for starting on such a move in the off-shore export movement of apples; and each of the other provincial areas were to go back, discuss it with their bodies and see what could be accomplished if we were able to move in the direction of one Board having control of off-shore export movement of apples. So, it was not a little surprising to come back to the Valley and find that a full-scale campaign was under way, the intention of which, quite plainly, is to destroy the organization which the growers of this industry have built over the last 50 years, destroy completely the position and authority of the B.C.F.G.A. in your affairs, and with it — the authority of the Fruit Board and all of our control over the sale of our products.

The two events, coming as they did within less than a month of each other, were in such terrifically sharp contrast, and the contrast was heightened by the fact that the ink on Dean MacPhee's Report was barely dry and the words that he spoke at our Annual Convention endorsing the principles and the policies of your organization, and saying categorically that this was the right type of organization for this fruit industry; those words must have been pretty nearly ringing in the ears of most of the growers who heard them.

Largest BCFGA Meeting

So we are here tonight — one of the largest B.C.F.G.A. meetings that I have ever had the pleasure of addressing outside of the Annual Convention; we're here tonight as I see it to discuss the basic issues that are right squarely before all of the growers of now. I don't wish to over-estimate or underestimate the seriousness of the situation. I want to tell you as plainly as I possibly can what I believe is at stake, and after the speeches, if we can have a full question and discussion period, perhaps we can clear up a lot of doubts and questions that are in the minds of the individual growers, because that is what we are here for tonight.

be implemented to the benefit of the growers of this industry, I have instead been rereading reports ranging up to 40 years old. I'd read them all before, years and years ago, and they were all tucked away in the files and I've dug them all out and read them all through again — the Duncan Report — both sections, Sanford Evans Report and the McGregor Report. You've all heard them referred to, and my purpose tonight is to try briefly as I possibly can to set them in their historical order, relate them to the things that you yourselves know have happened in this industry, and see if we can, together, paint a picture of what brought about the type of organization we have now, and why, in my opinion anyway as a grower, why it is essential that it should be maintained.

Goes Back To Year 1922

I think it is far enough to go back for purposes of tonight's discussion to the collapse of the Okanagan Growers and the formation of Associated Growers in 1922. We can go back further, if you like. Certainly that wasn't the attempt on the part of the growers to take the sale of their produce into their own hands, but the Okanagan United Growers formed in 1913 or thereabouts, was the first real effort that was made in that direction. It collapsed under the terrific weight of the increase in supplies that came in the immediate period following the First War, that increase in supplies resulting directly from the land boom that went on around 1910-1912. It had no sooner collapsed than the movement to bring the control of the marketing of fruit into the hands of the growers immediately sprang up again, and so we had the formation of Associated Growers.

Ladies and gentlemen, was the development of the Nash Combine. The Nash organization originating in the United States spread into Canada in the early 1900's had attained practically exclusive control over the wholesaling and brokerage houses dealing in fruits and vegetables, and by the early 1920's was spreading into the interior of B.C. and obtaining control of shipping interests, shipping interests, who were acting and posing as being agents of the growers, and only the agents of the growers, had come under the domination of the Nash Combine and were, if you like, attempting to serve two masters. It wasn't very long before they weren't even attempting to serve two masters — they had only one master and that was the Nash Combine.

It started in 1922 with 85 per cent of the tonnage signed up on a voluntary basis. Because Associated was put in the classic position of having to hold the umbrella for the whole deal, of having to ship apples export in order to try and maintain some stability on the domestic market, Associated inevitably lost support and its percentage of growers under contract steadily dwindled over the following 3 or 4 years. But during that period, there was another event going on, an event that had its origin far outside this Valley, and was totally unknown to the growers of this Valley until it burst with considerable publicity in 1923 and 1924. That I refer to,

As a result of charges that were made in 1922 and 1923, the Federal Government sent Sir Lewis Duncan to investigate the charges into this formation of the Combine, and in his reports in 1925 and 1926, he found that a Combine existed, that it had penetrated into the sales organizations in this valley and he recommended that action be taken against that Combine. Action was taken in the courts; the combine was forced to break up and was fined very heavily — $200,000 to $250,000 I believe was the fine that was levied against the principals in that Combine.

But Mr. Duncan made one point very plain, and it is a point that has not yet appeared

VOL. 14, NO. 13

Wednesday, March 25, 1959

WEST SUMMERLAND, B.C.

Signed Contracts Rolling In As Deadline Nears

With approach of the expiry date of the old three-party contract on April 1, new contracts continue to come in steadily from the growers and the rate for the last three or four days has shown marked improvement. The total as of March 24, stands at 1,500 or approximately 40 percent of the growers have signed to date. Naramata leads the way with almost 70 percent, followed by Oyama with 67 percent. Next is Oliver with a 55 percent sign-up to-date, followed by Summerland and Osoyoos with both over 50 percent.

Hold Easter Services

The annual Easter Sunrise Service organized by the Inter-School Christian Fellowship of Summerland High School, will be held Easter Sunday morning at 7:30 a.m. on Giant's Head near the Mountain View Home.

The Service will be conducted by the group's president Arlene Embree, with guest speaker the Rev. Rathjen. Scriptures will be read by Rev. A. F. Irving. Prayers will be uttered by the Rev. L. Kennedy and the Rev. J. James.

There will be a duet by Magda Wouters and Bonnie Ganzveld and also singing by a quartet composed of Marilyn Embree, Dennis Rabel, David Davis and Wilma Rabel. The ISCF choir will be accompanied by Sheldon Doherty in his accompaniment.

Singers, Players Set

Two Singers and Player offerings are going into final stages of rehearsal as production time draws near. "Tobias and the Angel", James Bridie's ancient Nineveh features everything from an archangel to a demon and a dog-complete with oriental music and dancers. It will be shown only once to Summerland audiences on Friday, April 10.

The singers division of this well-known Summerland group will present "The Sorcerer", the first of Gilbert and Sullivan's comic operas. The performance will be of interest to many, as it is believed to be the first time that "The Sorcerer" has been played west of the Great Lakes. The curtain will rise on this piece of musical magic on Monday, April 20.

Oil Burns Prove Fatal

Burns incurred when a can of inflammable liquid ignited from a hot stove exploded, proved fatal to Joseph Arthur Powell, 56, of Hope, who died in Summerland Hospital early Monday.

The tragedy occurred just before midnight on Saturday in Mr. Powell's Okanagan Service Station in Summerland.

Frank Daniels, who lives almost opposite the garage was awakened by screams for help and he saw Mr. Powell with his clothes flaming running towards the Daniel store.

Using a blanket Mr. Daniels extinguished the flames. Mr. Powell was rushed to hospital where he succumbed after a thirty hour fight for life.

Editorial

The three-party contract debate carried CHOCB - TV and the valley radio stations was lacking in one thing — time. TV time is costly we know, but it was unfortunate indeed that the debate should have been cut off at the half-hour mark, before the issue had been fully threshed out.

About the only thing we can say for the time limitation is that it was fortunate for Mr. Wilson, for it saved him a verbal knockout, for at the bell Mr. Wilson was already on the ropes.

Even so, we think Mr. Wilson is to be congratulated on making as good a case against the contract as he did, for Mr. Wilson was in the unhappy position of the Israelites of old, of trying to make bricks without straw.

Mr. Garrish was likewise in a difficult position in that he had to make detailed reply in too short a time to sweeping generalities. Mr. Wilson, for example, said the contract was "wicked", that it did not give the growers any protection whatsoever, but he never really got down to chapter and verse and brass tacks and his entire argument fizzled like a very damp squib, when the best that he could say in reply to Mr. Garrish was the feeble and utterly untrue complaint, that the growers don't run their own show.

We were surprised indeed that Mr. Garrish didn't blow a gasket on that one, for we defy Mr. Wilson, Mr. Beich, Mr. Hauser and anyone else to show us an organization that is run on more democratic lines or that is more under the control of the membership than is the BCFGA and its subsidiary organizations.

The contract the growers are asked to sign now is the same contract that the grower, through the medium of their own democratic organization, in which a one acre grower has the same voice as a 20 acre grower, fully approved.

And what makes the contract even more sense to us, is the feebleness of Mr. Wilson's attack upon it.

Take clause 23, held by Mr. Wilson as the villain of the piece (that is the clause which provides for amendment), Mr. Wilson and Mr. Wilson's lawyer must surely have skipped reading that clause, to be able to condemn it, for what can be wrong with a clause which allows the grower the privilege of amending it, if future developments suggest a change for the betterment of the contract.

Mr. Wilson put emphasis on the point that he had consulted his lawyer and that his lawyer had never heard of such a clause. We suggest that perhaps Mr. Wilson should get another lawyer, for the man who had so much to do with the contract in its present form as anyone else was Dean E. D. MacPhee, who retained legal counsel in advising on the contract, furthermore, the much criticized clause happens to have been an integral part of the contract for the past 17 years, although in less protective form, than now insofar as the BCFGA executive was empowered to amend the contract, whereas under the new contract amendment must be authorized by the growers at a general meeting.

But the time for arguments pro and con is just about past. The Review, which willy nilly is tied to the fruit industry, is hopeful that growers will in these last few days sign the contract in numbers. Failure to do so is the equivalent of cutting off one's nose to spite one's face. As a contribution towards helping the grower see the situation more clearly The Review in this issue has published in full the speech of A. R. Garrish which he made at Osoyoos on Tuesday, March 10. We submit that Mr. Garrish's address, even though perhaps heard on the radio, is well worth reading and re-reading.

The grower, of course, is the master of his own fate. Amid all these charges of dictatorship, it remains in the matter of the contract, as with all else in the industry, up to the grower — he, as in everything connected with the BCFGA and subsidiary organizations, is the man who makes the decisions and, if he wants to wreck what he has built, the organization is so democratically set up that there is no one to stop him — so, Mr. Grower, it's up to you, but before you decide, just read Art Garrish — it's long, eight columns — but it is all meat, solid meat, in contrast to the lemon pie meringue that has been fed to the growers these past few weeks.

SCHOOL CAR WASH SATURDAY

High School Band Car Wash and Cooking Sale will be held on Saturday. The boys will girls will sell their own cooking from 9 a.m. on, at the Super-Valu, Al's Meat Market and in front of the Medical Building. This is an annual event to raise funds for the band and designed to give full value for money received. School grounds.

There's a triumph in the pointing arms — there she is — she being the pile driver which arrived Monday to pound in the piles for the government breakwater at Summerland. Summerland Yacht Club Commodore Louis Smith and Harry Dracas, pictured above, have been working on the launching ramp.

Your car can get the going over that the one above is getting if you take it to the High School car wash on Saturday. The three energetic young fellows demonstrating what they can do for your car are from left to right, Lowell Laidlaw, Victor Uegama and Mayne Mc Cutcheon.

Full Text of Art. Garrish Speech (Con't)

in any of the references to the Duncan Report that you have seen distributed to you. He made it very plain that the reason that the Combine was able to move so effectively into our industry was the lack of organization existing amongst the growers themselves. The complete chaos which existed in the marketing of our fruits was an open invitation to the operators of the Nash interests to move in here and take over the whole of the distribution of our products.

I'd like to read from the last part of the conclusions in the Duncan Report very briefly. He's dealing with the question of people combining to take over complete control of distribution in this way, and he says: "In the United States of America, the Courts have been given the power to order the dissolution of certain Combines on the application of the Federal Trade Commission. Your Commissioner suggests the advisability of considering the enactment of similar legislation applicable to persons engaged in the distribution of the products of the soil. While your Commissioner feels that legislative action along the lines indicated is necessary, he is also of the opinion that many of the existing evils could be removed by the establishment of a nation-wide grower-owned selling agency. It would lie with such an agency, while obtaining the best prices for the growers, to give a maximum distribution without waste and overlapping, and to develop a rational and unified export policy." He says "Providing four tests are met — merchandising, no favoritism, strictest accounting, and the employment of men of probity — in that way lies success."

TWO SIGNIFICANT EVENTS

Those, ladies and gentlemen, were the views of Mr. Lewis Duncan in 1926. You note he recommended legislative action to prevent this type of happening again, and out of the report of the Duncan investigation came two very significant events in the history of this industry. The first one was the passage of the Sales on Consignment Act, and the second was the passage by the Provincial Government of the Produce Marketing Act of 1927. The Sales on Consignment Act we might almost say was still-born. It was a dead letter from the time it was put on the books, for the simple reason told by our legal advisor that only two provinces in Canada enacted the Sales on Consignment Act, British Columbia and Alberta, and Alberta never proclaimed the Act. So there was only one province in Canada where the Sales on Consignment Act had any legal status whatsoever, and that was in B.C., and since the vast bulk of our produce was being marketed outside of B.C., any provisions in the Sales on Consignment Act were null and void.

SALES ON CONSIGNMENT

Now what did the Sales on Consignment Act endeavor to do? Basically it endeavored to prevent any individual attempting to serve as both the agent of the producer and the agent of the buyer. It made it very plain that no individual could possibly have such divided loyalties. He couldn't be acting for a group of farmers on one side and a group of wholesalers or retailers on the other side, that this would obviously divide his interests and so he must, in law, decide on which side of the fence he was going to act on. That was the main purpose and intent of the Sales on Consignment Act.

NEVER DID APPLY

Now it has been alleged that certain changes have taken place in the Natural Products Marketing Act that makes this Act not apply to our industry. Ladies and Gentlemen, it didn't require any change or amendments to either the Natural Marketing Act or the Sales on Consignment Act, to do that, from the time that it was passed in 1927. In Clause 28, states quite plainly and quite definitely that it does not apply to groups of producers who have banded together in co-operative effort to market their own produce. It was never the intention of the Provincial Government that the Sales on Consignment Act should apply to producer groups who had organized for their own protection.

STARTED BIG THING

Now, when we come to that question of "organized for their own protection," we come to the next Act, the Produce Marketing Act of 1927, because it was the Act that first put this industry in a position to do something about controlling the sale of its produce. Under it, the Committee of Direction was formed with a Chairman, F. M. Black, appointed by the Provincial Government; two members, one appointed by the growers through the B.C.F.G.A. and one appointed by the shippers, and that three-man Committee for four years directed by quotas, by control of movement, the marketing of the whole of the fruit and vegetable crop of the Interior of B.C.

FOLLOWED PATTERN

Now it was the first time in Canada that such a venture had been taken — an attempt to regulate and control the marketing of produce under legislation. It was not the first time in the world. Canada was simply following the pattern already set by New Zealand and Australia as early as 1922, and it is very interesting to note that they even borrowed the name "Committee of Direction" from the term used in Australia. But being a new venture here, being the first place in Canada to try it, there were naturally a lot of people who were unconvinced that such steps were either necessary or justified, and the Committee of Direction had anything but an easy row to hoe. They had not a setup whereby they had complete control as the selling organization we have today; they could only direct shippers as to the amounts, quantities and so on that they might ship, and endeavour to control and maintain orderly flow to market in that manner. The Committee of Direction did its best under the conditions that it was faced with, but the opposition to this new venture soon took an organized form, and I think you will find that a rather interesting coincidence — that around about 1929 or 1930 a new grower organization emerged challenging the right of the B.C.F.G.A. to speak for the growers of this industry. Now what did it call itself? — The Independent Fruit Growers' Association. How many of you in this hall have ever heard of it? What became of it after the collapse of marketing legislation in 1931? Forgotten. It was serving only one purpose, and one purpose only — to destroy what control the growers had managed to build up over the disposition of their produce.

SANFORD EVANS

As a result of the activities of that organization and the criticism that was being directed at the Committee of Direction, the Provincial Government in 1929, a different Government from the one that had enacted the Produce Marketing Act, decided to hold a Royal Commission into the operation of marketing legislation, and for that purpose appointed Mr. Sanford Evans of Winnipeg — Mr. Sanford Evans, variously described as lawyer, former newspaper man, but basically and above all, Mr. Sanford Evans was a very prominent executive of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. The newspaper records of that time show very plainly that Mr. Sanford Evans was the outstanding opponent of his day to all forms of farm co-operative marketing, to all attempts on the part of the farmers to organize and market their own produce. He had consistently opposed the formation of the Prairie wheat pools and has fought them as a member of the Legislature of Manitoba.

Ed. Note.—In this regard Mr. Garrish admits he was in error accepting a widespread belief in the valley that Mr. Sanford was a member of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, which apparently was not so.

EXAMINE BACKGROUND

Now Mr. Sanford Evans was perfectly entitled to do so. He was perfectly entitled as a citizen to take that stand, but that is the background against which you must examine the recommendations that Sanford Evans made in respect to this industry. Mr. Sanford Evans came in in 1929; he conducted the first part of his investigation primarily into the Irrigation Districts and their problems; he made the first part of his report to the Provincial Government, and he is quoted in newspaper columns of that period as stating that he regards the marketing situation as still too experimental to justify a report, so he turned in the first part of his report and it is obvious from the newspaper stories of that time that the industry thought Mr. Evans had left. However, the move in the industry to bring about a further degree of control and to establish a workable central selling organization was growing in strength. It was growing stronger all the time, and demands were being made on the Provincial Government that the Produce Marketing Act be so amended as to allow for the establishment of a full-scale functioning central selling organization. This, ladies and gentlemen, is 1930.

CALLED BACK

The Provincial Government was not sympathetic. They were not interested in further increasing the powers of the growers to control their own affairs, and they called Mr. Evans back in December of 1930 and early in January of 1931, barely a month later, without holding any hearing in this Valley, without consulting any of the people that were then engaged in the marketing of our product, he produced his report. If you hold it on edge you can hardly see it! And it contains no evidence whatever to support his contention which was that the Provincial Government should get out of the field of marketing legislation completely and turn it over to the free operation of the law of supply and demand. It was Mr. Evans, a member of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, speaking his own personal, economic philosophy, the philosophy of dog eat dog and the Devil take the hindmost, and he makes it abundantly plain in the whole of his report that he holds no brief whatsoever for the small operator or anybody else — if you can't survive you're not entitled to stay in business, is Mr. Evans' philosophy.

REPORT REJECTED

Needless to say, his report was rejected completely by the Annual B.C.F.G.A. Convention that took place immediately afterwards, but the following month the Produce Marketing Act was thrown out by the Courts, and for three to four years the fight went on again to obtain some degree of control. And while the growers here were fighting to obtain some degree of control over their product, having had a taste of what control could do for them, another development was taking place, and again it was outside the area of this industry, and it was just exactly the same as what was happening before. The factors in the trade, finding that all semblance of orderly movement of our product to market had ceased, started to combine one with the other, for no other reason than to protect their own interests and to bring about some stability in the market. They combined first at the wholesale and brokerage level and then the temptation to move into the valley and obtain control as close to the producer level as possible was too great, and they started to manoeuvre into here, and by 1935-36 they had acquired complete and effective control over Sales Service Limited, one of the biggest selling agencies then operating in the Valley.

FOUR BIG GROUPS

There were at that time four groups in the selling field — Associated Growers, Sales Service, the Big Four as they were known as, and then a smaller group of independent operators and this concern, Western Grocers, had moved in through an indirect route and had obtained effective control over Sales Service — at that time posing as the agent of a group of packing houses, and through those packing houses as the agent of the growers. Charges were made in 1936 by Mr. D. Godfrey Isaacs of Oyama that the Combine existed and that it had obtained control over shipping interests in the Valley, and as a result of those charges, Mr. McGrogor was sent in here to investigate the alleged operation of this Combine, and he found in his Report of 1938 that this Combine existed and that it should be broken up.

MAKES SAME POINT

But Mr. McGrogor made exactly the same point that Mr. Duncan made — that one of the main causes, and one of the main reasons that the combine was able to come in and operate and spread through this industry was the complete chaos that existed in the marketing and sale of our own produce. Now it is perfectly true that by 1938 the Fruit Board had been re-established, but the Fruit Board had suffered from the same basic weaknesses as the Committee of Direction. It was able only to direct by quota, the movement of fruit to market. It was able only to attempt to establish some sort of a regulated flow of fruit by quantity to the various markets, but all the rest of the transaction was in the hands of the shippers, and there was competition between the shipper and the Fruit Board as to who could keep the closest eye on the other.

FOUR YEARS OF IT

So we went for four years of that, and it was the McGrogor Report of 1938 — exposing again the same set of conditions which had existed in early 1920, that I think gave more than anything else the impetus to a renewed demand for central selling — where all of these transactions from the handling of the cash from the growers' fruit — could be put over one desk; where there would be no possible chance of secret rebates, quantity discounts, policy claims, and all the other things that were attendant upon both of the Combines; the payment of discounts and rebates as a means of obtaining this business — all rampant through both of the Combine efforts, and all at the growers' expense.

So it was in 1939, just 20 years ago, that the B.C.F.G.A. Convention, and I stress that it was the B.C.F.G.A. Convention had instructed its president, Mr. A. K. Lloyd, to set up a Committee and go to work immediately to endeavour to bring in a central selling organization for the 1939 crop. All the way, ladies and gentlemen, it has been the B.C.F.G.A. and nobody else, that has picked up the pieces and fought for the growers' case.

BCFGA ALL THE WAY

Well, 20 years have elapsed since central selling was established. We have been through two Royal Commissions in that time, not just one — the Royal Commission by Judge Harper in 1942 into the operation of marketing legislation generally in B.C., and our latest one, the operation of our own industry, the Royal Commission conducted by Dean MacPhee. And in all of the six or seven investigations or reports, that have been made into the affairs of this industry over the last 40 years, only one condemns the attempt or the right on the part of the growers to sell and market their own produce — only one, and that is the one we have had quoted to us ad nauseam. All of the rest endorsed — have more than endorsed — state flatly and categorically that the prime solution to the problem, if there is a solution, is that the producer take into his own hands the running of his own affairs, and that in my opinion is what the producers in this industry have been doing for the last 20 years through the medium of the B.C.F.G.A.

ONLY ONE ISSUE

Now, Mr. Chairman, there is only one issue as far as I am concerned before the growers in this industry today. It is signified by the three-party contract, but the three-party contract is not the issue. The issue is whether or not you, as growers are going to support the organization that has been built up over the last 50 years, but certainly built and developed over the last 20 years, or whether you are going to see it torn down, whether you are going to see the grower group divided into two, three or four sections, none of them able to deal effectively with the marketing of your produce, all of them forced back into the position of having to bid for business against each other, and using as they did before the medium of quantity discounts, secret rebates, policy claims, and so on; because I have no hesitation whatsoever in saying that if the growers of this industry allow their organization to collapse and go back to the old days of grower against grower, shipper against shipper, that it won't be five years before charges are made that a Combine exists and that it has obtained control of shipping interests in this Valley; that it won't be five years before that happens. There will be every incentive and every reason for people in the trade, faced with complete chaos in the distribution of our product, to move in and attempt to obtain control over the shipping interests.

WHERE DO YOU STAND

So the issue today is very simple and very plain. Are you as you stand today — are you prepared to stand behind your organization and support it, or are you prepared to see it disintegrate either through hostility or indifference, and it makes very little difference, ladies and gentlemen, whether it be through hostility or indifference. Either one can kill this organization quite effectively. The three-party contract is your evidence of your support of this organization. It does two things as far as the grower is concerned. It establishes a legal basis for the pooling of the proceeds of our fruit so that each grower may receive a fair and equitable treatment, so that each grower will receive the same return for the same size, the same grade, and the same variety of fruit. It provides that legal basis, but far more important to my mind, it provides the only concrete evidence that we have, or that the Government will accept, that the growers of this industry are behind the organization that they have built up.

Don't think for one moment that the organization that exists in this industry is going to go on and on forever and ever like the laws of the Medes and the Persians, whether you people like it or whether you don't. This organization will not survive without grower support. You may think that all the decisions in this industry are made by a small group of executives, and you're probably quite right. That's the way it has to be because decisions have to be taken from day to day, from week to week and from month to month, but the fundamental basic issues in this industry every time are settled by the growers, and you have one of them staring you right in the face now — and it's going to be settled by each individual grower in his own mind and his own heart as to where he stands on it.

TWO CHOICES

If nothing else, Mr. Sanford Evans has made it very abundantly plain in his report that as he sees it there are two choices before the grower. One is controlled, regulated marketing, and the other is a wide open deal and everybody for themselves, but there are no in-between choices. We have today the controlled, regulated marketing scheme. The choice that you are being offered by the opponents to the scheme, by the opponents to the B.C.F.G.A., is a wide open deal. What do they say? — Abolish all controls; take out the word "compulsory"; stop the road blocks; open her up — let anybody sell any amount they wish; and then they go on to quibble about how the Fruit Board is elected.

Ladies and gentlemen, there's no use whatsoever in quibbling about how the Fruit Board is elected if you endorse that program, because you would just be wasting your money electing the Fruit Board. The Fruit Board would have no power whatsoever to do anything whatsoever on your behalf.

WHY NO CO-OP?

Now, Mr. Chairman, I'm just going to touch on a few legal points that have been raised. A great deal has been said about why B. C. Tree Fruits and B. C. Processors have been organized as limited companies. Why aren't they organized as co-operatives with each grower issued his own share?

Well, I think most of you will recognize that when these things were done, it was long before my time, that is as an official of the industry. I was a grower then, but I held no official capacity, unless you consider secretary of the Oliver Local as an official capacity, so I have had to go back and do considerable research, and ask legal opinion as to the why's and wherefore's of limited companies versus the Co-operative Societies Act, and it boils down to this:

CHEAPEST AND BEST

First, when B. C. Tree Fruits was established, being actually first established by the Fruit Board in 1937, and then taken over by the BCFGa in 1939, it was established as a limited liability company because it was the simplest and the most economical and cheapest method of establishing a company, but complete control of the company was retained in the growers' hands through the fact that all of the shares issued in that company are made out in the name of — in the case of B. C. Tree Fruits — 10 governors in the case of the Processors — nine directors, all of whom are growers. The shares are made out in their names and then endorsed immediately back to the BCFGa, where they reside in our safety deposit box and where the auditor annually certifies that they are in safe keeping. So, as far as the two companies are concerned, they are completely in the hands of the BCFGa and are held there in trust on behalf of the growers as a whole.

Now the other principle of a co-operative — we have established exactly the same thing in the form of the two limited companies as you could obtain in a co-operative. Would a share issued in the name of a grower give him any rights that he does not now enjoy? I say flatly, No.

ONE MAN - ONE VOTE

A co-operative is based on the principle of one man, one vote. Every grower has that at his local meetings by the simple method of filling out a registration card, stating that "I am a fruit grower of such and such acreage." That is all that is required of him. He becomes a registered grower which automatically gives him his vote in his local.

"Ah!", you say, "In his Local, Ladies and gentlemen, if it's the system of delegates that you're worried about, the Co-operative Societies Act recognizes that where a co-operative is established over any large geographical area, the only effective method of operating that co-operative is by delegates, and the Co-operative Societies Act permits a delegate just as much as our system does; but there is one aspect that is different.

CUMBERSOME

Supposing, for some reason, B. C. Tree Fruits had been organized as a co-operative, and then in turn when B. C. Processors was formed in 1946, it too had been organized as a co-operative. The situation that you would have had ever since then would be that instead of one Local meeting for each area, where the function of nominating for positions in all of these bodies, including the executive of the BCFGa, could all be combined in one meeting you would have had to have, at least in form, separate meetings, separate delegates and separate annual conventions. I think any of you will agree that such a cumbersome procedure as that, unless it gave the growers something additional over what he has today, would have been just that cumbersome and costly to no useful purpose, because I can assure you that as far as the ownership and control of the B. C. Tree Fruits, B. C. Fruit Processors, it is vested completely in the BCFGa and held there in trust on behalf of the growers as a whole.

Now Mr. Chairman, there are undoubtedly other legal points but I wanted to clear that one up. There are other legal points, but I'm going to leave them until question period because I might be pounding away at something that isn't bothering anybody here.

NOT PLEADING

So, I'd like to wind up by saying that, as far as I am concerned, as far as the executive of the BCFGa is concerned we are not pleading with any grower, or any group of growers to sign the contract. The decision is entirely yours. If you believe that what has been accomplished in this industry over the past 20 years, admitting mistakes have been made, admitting that we haven't achieved perfection — if you believe that all of that has been worthwhile and that it is also worthwhile continuing it in the hope of improving it, in the light of Dean MacPhee's report or otherwise, all we are saying is that the way you can demonstrate that, is by signing your contract now, by showing the support that I think we are entitled to ask for. If you do not believe that, do not think for one moment that any mysterious influence or authority is going to keep this organization in existence after grower support for it has departed. The issue is entirely up to you. Thank you.

Rotarians Elect 1959 Officers

At the Friday night meeting of Summerland Rotary, the nominating committee under the chairmanship of Mel Ducommun presented the list of nominees for office in the Rotary year 1959-60. In the election which followed the following officers were elected:

President, F. E. Atkinson; secretary S. A. MacDonald, treasurer, Ryan L. Lawley; 3 directors, Jock Johnston, Gordon Smith, Charles Denike. Rotary are currently active with their annual Red Cross drive.

Easter Theme At United Church Women's Group

Regular meeting of the Women's Federation of the Summerland United Church was held last Thursday with Mrs. E. Gould Sr. welcoming members and visitors.

The President, Mrs. J. Dunsdon opened the program with the hymn "Nearer My God to Thee", a favorite of Mrs. B. Shields, a shut-in member, at present in hospital.

Mrs. W. Boothe led a devotional service with an Easter theme, reading Matthew 16:24-28, she explained the many ways Good Friday and Easter are celebrated: Sunrise services, special music and flowers all express worship on this very sacred occasion.

She reminded members of the Lord's Supper and Communion service to be held Good Friday morning at 10 o'clock in the United Church.

Mrs. H. Milley sang a Good Friday hymn. Mrs. Boothe closed the service with an Easter prayer.

The reports were read and approved. The supply secretary, Mrs. W. Ward, displayed 3 warm quilts. The handiwork on one had been done by the Mission Band members. These quilts will be sent to the home mission hospitals or school. Mrs. Ward asked for wool for the 1959 supply allocation. Plans were completed for the bazaar and tea to be held on April 4th. The conveners are: kitchen, Mrs. J. Heichert; home baking, Mrs. W. R. Powell; tea tables, Mrs. R. Angus; aprons, Mrs. W. Ward; tea table decorations, Mrs. J. Dunsdon and Mrs. M. Scott.

Mrs. M. Babcock, delegate to the W.M.S. Presbyterial held in Kelowna February 24 and 25, gave an interesting report on the programs of these meetings.

Mrs. M. Cox, assisted by Mrs. J. Dunsdon, presented, by slide pictures, the study: "Concerning Our Neighbors". The neighbor under study was Mexico.

The pictures had been taken by Mrs. Cox's daughter, Mrs. Sylvia Bush. They graphically brought to the attention of the members the ancient as well as the modern culture of our Mexican neighbors. The views of their cities, the interesting architecture of their cathedrals, the adobe dwellings of the peasants, the brilliance of the flowers, made colorful pictures, all adding up to an informative lesson.

Mrs. Dunsdon adjourned the meeting with the Benediction. A dainty tea was served by Mrs. W. McCutcheon, Mrs. M. Mowatt and Mrs. W. M. Fleming.

Tribute Paid By Staff To Former Co-op Manager

Members of the staff of the Summerland Cooperative Growers Association packinghouse paid honor to their former boss, George Washington when they staged a surprise party at Mr. Washington's home on Friday evening.

Fred Dunsdon, an employee of many years, presented Mr. Washington with a copper eight day clock in appreciation of an association extending over 17 years, in 12 of which Mr. Washington was Co-op manager.

Mish Bertha Bristow presented Mrs. Washington with a bouquet of daffodils. Both Mr. and Mrs. Washington were surprised and obviously very, very happy at this tribute from the staff.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. McElheron, Miss Bertha Bristow, Fred and Phil Dunsdon, Percy Austin, W. Woodbridge, Lawrence Charles, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dickenson, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. J. Richards, Mrs. C. R. Hadrell, Mrs. R. N. Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Stewart.

Participating, but unable to attend were G. A. Brown, E. Farnchon and H. L. Wright.

GLEN M. GARVIN

Inland Natural Gas Co today announced the appointment of Mr. Glen M. Garvin as Advertising Manager. This appointment is in addition to Mr. Garvin's present duties as the company's Sales Promotion Manager and Chairman of the gas industry's Blue Flame Council.

Mr. Garvin has wide knowledge and experience of the Interior market of British Columbia. For seven years he was manager of the Kamloops and District Board of Trade, and before then travelled Canada extensively as a merchandising control system supervisor for Hudson's Bay Company.

Mr. Garvin is also well known in the Interior for his tourist promotion work.

MONEY BELTS EXCESS BAGGAGE THESE DAYS

Once upon a time - and even today in some parts of the world - travellers had to hide their money pretty carefully if they didn't want to lose it. Money belts were as common as Glastone bags in the old days.

Nowadays it's different. Today's traveller doesn't need to worry about losing his bankroll. Mostly because he doesn't carry a bankroll at all. Instead, he uses Bank of Montreal travellers cheques. They're the perfectly safe and convenient means of carrying funds while travelling.

A visit to the Summerland branch of the Bank of Montreal before starting off on your next business or vacation trip can give you complete peace of mind. There the accountant, Earl Smith, can sell you the B of M travellers cheques you need, in whatever denominations you think will be most practical for your purposes.

Then you'll be able to travel with the knowledge that if your travellers cheques are lost, stolen or destroyed, you won't be the loser because the Bank of Montreal will arrange to replace them for you.

If you're going abroad, the B of M can provide you special travellers cheques, or travellers letters of credit for large sums. Travellers cheques are much more comfortable than a money belt, we promise.

Trail Riders Meet

The first annual meeting of the Valley Trail Riders was held in the Parish Hall of St. Stephen's Anglican Church last month. A good turnout of interested members was present.

A general business meeting was held, chaired by Clive Atkinson. The treasurer's report showed a bank balance of $82.86 for the year 1958.

As this was the annual meeting, election of officers was held. The results are as follows: President, Don Hermiston; vice-pres., Chester Reinertson secretary, Carol Reinertson; treasurer, Edna Hugo. Directors: Charlie Emery, Harry Letkeman, Erma Anderson, Clive Atkinson, and Karen Johanson as the junior member of the executive.

Promenade

The Summerland Pairs and Squares held a very successful party on Saturday night with Ed. and Irene Stebor doing a very splendid job of emceeing. About seven squares of dancers were in attendance. During the intermission the president, Don Hermiston, presented badges to fourteen new members who have just completed a set of beginner's lessons.

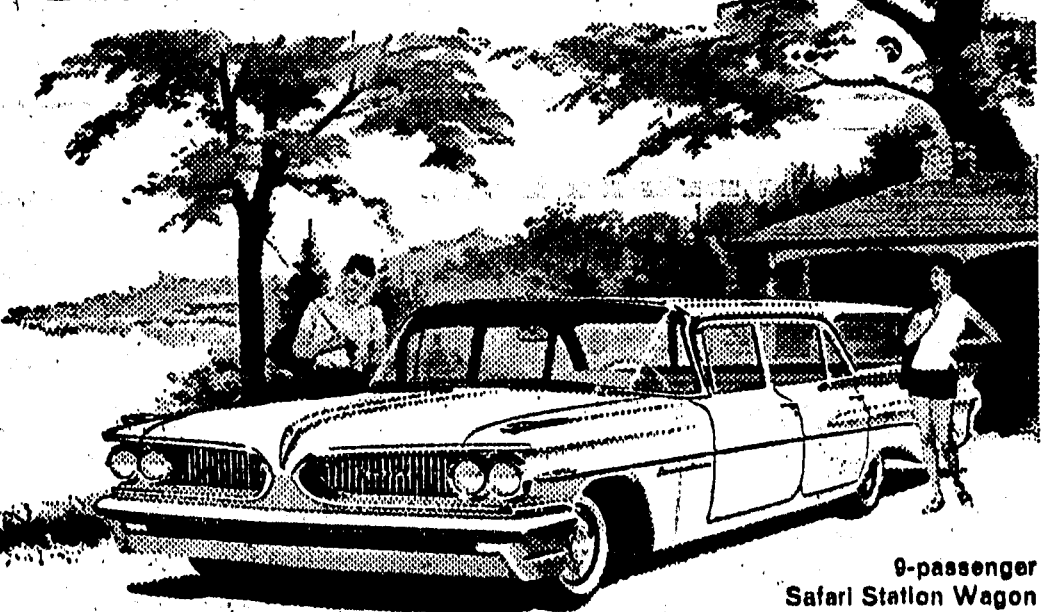

On March 22nd a very successful Workshop was held at the Youth Centre Hall. An organization for Callers and Teachers was formed with Percy Coulter as chairman and Alberta Phelps as secretary.

This Saturday, March 28, is the Ray Frederickson Appreciation Dance, at Peachland's Athletic Hall. Les Boyer is in charge of arrangements and it is understood that several other callers will share the program with him.

Miller Showers

On Thursday, February 26th, fifty-four friends gathered in the basement of the Church of God, Trout Creek, for a shower in honor of Miss Vera Miller of Edmonton prior to her marriage Friday, March 6th to Mr. R. N. Watson of Edmonton.

The hall was tastefully decorated with mauve and yellow streamers, pussywillows and Forsythia.

Besides the opening of the gifts the guests were entertained with contests and vocal numbers followed by refreshments.

Some fifty ladies gathered for a surprise shower in the Church of God hall on February 28, in honor of Miss Vera Miller, prior to her marriage to Mr. Robert Neil Watson, of Edmonton.

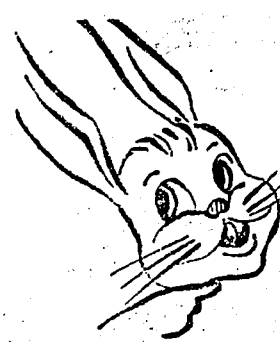

The room was prettily decorated with pink and white draped from the ceiling over a heavily loaded table of artistically wrapped gifts.

The evening was spent in contests and games and singing. Marylyn and Arlene Embree sang lovely duets.

Following opening of the gifts by the bride, she expressed her appreciation and the hope that those present would visit her at her home in Edmonton.

Mrs. and Mrs. W. Stewart had as their guests for a few days last week, Mrs. Stewart's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Pickering, of Chilliwack.

Tests On Underground Irrigation Pipe Made

(By J. C. Wilcox)

During the past eight years the Summerland Farm has tested a number of different types of underground irrigation pipes to determine their performance under Okanagan conditions. The following conclusions have been reached:

(1) Iron and steel pipes are not satisfactory when untreated, when asphalt dipped and welded, or even when asphalt dipped and coupled without welding. Electrolytic pitting on the outside is often serious and occurs quickly while tuberculation frequently occurs inside the pipe.

(2) Cement-asbestos has shown little if any deterioration and looks as if it would last indefinitely. It needs to be handled and laid carefully and also it must be anchored at the corners and ends. A.W.W.A. standards should be specified in ordering such pipe.

(3) Polyethylene pipe has given good service and has shown little if any deterioration. In the larger sizes it can be more expensive.

(4) Non-pressurized wood staving has lasted well in some cases, but in others it has been poor.

(5) Aluminium tubing, either untreated or asphalted has shown little deterioration after eight years of use. However, it is not generally recommended because of its poor performance underground in other parts of the world.

It appears from this study that for the larger sizes of underground irrigation pipe (4 inches or more cement-asbestos is best suited for Okanagan conditions, while for small lines polyethylene seems to be quite satisfactory.

DON'T BE A DRIP-DROPPER!

Get this amazing new Enamel that practically NEVER drips or spatters!

NO DRIPPING, NO SPATTERING!

Marshall-Wells Thixotropic Alkyd Jell Enamel can't give you or furniture "paint messes." It spreads like butter on hot toast. Stays on roller or brush even when painting ceiling. No unpleasant odor. Use indoors or out.

NEVER SAGS, RUNS OR BEADS!

Clings to the surface like it was part of it. Flows smoothly, evenly, uniformly—like baked enamel. Won't settle in the can... never needs stirring. Leftovers stay fresh and usable for years.

SUMMERLAND DOG TAX
BY-LAW, 1953

"Clause 8"

It shall be unlawful for the owner of any dog to suffer or permit the same to run at large on any street, lane, highway, boulevard, park, or public place within the Municipality, unless such dog is under his control, or to suffer or permit the same to be unlicensed contrary to this By-law, or to suffer or permit any female dog in heat to be on any street, lane highway, boulevard, park, or public place within the Municipality; and it shall be the duty of the Poundkeeper to impound any such dog as aforesaid in the Dogpound established pursuant to this by-law, and to keep any such dog so impounded for at least seventy-two (72) hours and until such dog shall have been delivered to its owner, or sold, or destroyed, as hereinafter provided for. Provided however that any person may distract any dog found running at large contrary to the provisions of this By-law and deliver the same to the Poundkeeper, and it shall thereupon be the duty of the Poundkeeper to impound such dog."

"This Victor
is my kind of car!"

A
VALVE

"The Victor is the sweetest looking car! It's so comfortable and fun to drive too. It parks easily, handles like a dream in heavy traffic and it gives me up to 40 miles to the gallon. With four doors, passengers get in and out easily. And there's lots of trunk space for all kinds of luggage and golf clubs and things. Take a good look at the Victor... it's your kind of car too."
