declarations of the two elected councillors, L. Smith and Robert Alstead were accepted at Monday afternoon's statutory

Provisional Budget at $348,153

According to legal requirements a provisional budget for 1960 was presented to Summerland council Monday afternoon by municipal clerk G. D. Smith. The budget will be used until May when the tax rate for 60 will be struck. Total revenue and corresponding expenditure was estimated at $348,153.60.

Among revenue items general taxation amounts to $7,353.50; debenture fund, $5,853; schools $142,000 and one per cent utility revenue $750, based on last year's experience.

For revenue purposes licenses are estimated at $4800; dog tax $800; building permits $1000; rents $1,150; fines and costs $2,000; interest $1,500; service charges $1,020; penalties $600; local government grant $60,716; fire service $650.

Recoveries are from social welfare at $35,700; debt charges on utilities $22,136.10 and school $16,650. Sale of cemetery plots $250; and am parks, beaches (baseball) $250 and tourist camp $500.

Assessment

Notices Mailed

Assessment notices for 1960 were in the mail last week, J. P. Sheeley, municipal assessor announced.

Mr. Sheeley said although there has been no general increase, all and in the municipality has been reassessed to bring it to 60 per cent of actual value.

In some cases, especially on lake front property, the increase has been quite substantial due to the large increase in land value over the past five years.

Mr. Sheeley will be in the office to explain assessments and the assessment roll will be open to taxpayers during the month of January.

Court of revision will be held on February 1 at 10 a.m. in the municipal hall.

council meeting. The new councillors were also welcomed by Reeve F. E. Atkinson.

Reeve Atkinson said Summerland council works on an old principle of presenting a united front. If council opinion is divided on any issue, the matter is laid on the table.

Time has proven that a good solution comes after a while showing that the system works well and to the advantage of the community Reeve Atkinson added.

He said money by laws usually pass in Summerland.

In 1950 there was divided opinion in the council on construction of a Community Hall in the Memorial Park playground. When put to the people it was defeated. Only other instance was when a school bylaw did not pass many years ago.

The reeve asked the new councillors to speak their mind so that opinions are brought into the open for discussion.

Committees were appointed by the reeve according to abilities, likes and dislikes. (Continued on back page)

HOCKEY HERE SUNDAY

Hockey action resumes at the Summerland Jubilee Arena this coming Sunday, when the Macs Cafe Aces will meet the Armstrong club in an exhibition game starting at 2 p.m.

One of the highlights of the holiday season was the turkey and ham shoot sponsored by the Summerland Rod and Gun Club, at the Trap Range on Boxing Day.

Seventy-six different events were held in trap and small bore rifle shooting, with contestants from Vernon, Kelowna, Oliver, Keremeos and Penticton, as well as a party of shooters from Idaho taking part in the day's activities.

The weather, although chilly, was very favorable and the warm fire and hot coffee in the cabin afforded comfort to those waiting their turns in the competitions.

Proceeds from the shoot will go toward financing club projects, and it is hoped that more such activities will be sponsored by the club to help in its numerous activities.

A Happy New Year

High School Wins Re-Accreditation

The Department of Education Accrediting Committee has advised the local school administration that the Summerland Junior-Senior High School will be accredited for the year 1959-60.

The letter signed by F. P. Levirs, Assistant Superintendent states, "This restoration of accrediting to the Summerland Junior-Senior High School is a result of the greatly improved achievement of students as evidenced by last June's departmental examinations."

The re-accrediting is due to the work of former principal. Continued on back page

Park Board

Plans Landscaping

Ernie Bennett and L. L. Fudge, who along with W. Snow were appointed as park commissioners for 1960 waited upon council Monday to discuss location for the public lavatories, to be built under the winter works program at Memorial Park.

Mr. Bennett indicated that the parks commission would plan immediately for landscaping the area and the planting of shrubs as soon as the building is complete.

Work is proceeding on the building of public conveniences at the Memorial Park, and also on the 800 foot retaining wall designed to contain the embankment on the west side of the park.

Both projects have been approved under the winter works program which provides that the Federal Government will pay 50 per cent of labor costs, the provincial government 25 per cent and the municipality the remaining 25 percent.

The conveniences will be located towards the northwest corner of the park abutting onto the retaining wall where it curves to the north.

Cost of the conveniences is estimated at $3,500 with $1,500 of this for labor. The retaining wall is being built at an estimated cost of $4000 with $300 for labor. This latter project previously failed to win approval under the winter works program but was resubmitted.

Council has also submitted the proposed plan for stopping erosion at Powell Beach for approval as a winter works project. The plans call for the notched cement beams being locked

Welcome News

That the Summerland High School has been re-accredited is welcome news indeed. To be an accredited school demands a combination of high standards, both in regard to school equipment, calibre of the school staff, parental interest and last but by no means least, student performance.

A school can lose its accreditation for any one of a number of things, but one thing certain, it cannot become re-accredited without a good standard of performance being recorded by the students.

In the case of Summerland the re-accreditation followed on the greatly improved achievement of students as was evidenced by last June's departmental exams.

It seems only fair to emphasize that this was the direct result of the higher standards set and demanded by former principal A. K. Macleod and his staff, a policy which resulted in some unhappy repercussions last summer, but a policy which in view of the re-accreditation, appears to have been fully justified.

Now Summerland High School is re-accredited and that is something of which the community can be justly proud, or perhaps we should say, relieved, for while it is a prideful thing to achieve a new honor, it is only burnishing tarnished brass to regain an honor which once having been won should never have been lost.

Let's Do Something

From the staff of The Summerland Review to all of you:

"HAPPY NEW YEAR"

Looking back over 1959 we cannot in honesty boast of Summerland's great progress. Summerland has, in truth, marked time and we think has perhaps slipped back a little.

The fruit industry, our mainstay, is still in the doldrums; industry has, in the main, passed us by; and we the people are doing absolutely nothing to try and get a share of the tourist dollars which annually are scattered the length and breadth of the valley.

There are, as always, exceptions. There's George Stoll who demonstrated that summer ice skating could become a summer attraction. There were the highly successful efforts of the boating enthusiasts, sparked in large measure by new Municipal Councillor L. A. Smith, which resulted in a breakwater and small boat harbor that could be the beginning of making lower town what it should be, a lakeside holiday resort.

In 1959 there was the effort, fortunately still alive, to restore golf to the community.

The truth is Summerland has so much and does so little about it.

We have what is, perhaps, the finest trap shooting range in the valley. We have or at least can have, for a comparatively small expenditure, one of the outstanding golf courses in the valley.

We have a beach potential in lower town that cries out for development.

What we haven't got is the united will to do something about what we have got.

This is a new year — we can only hope that at its end we can look back on more, much more progress than this community made in 1959.

Al McIntosh Tops Light-up Competition

Results of the board of trade Christmas home lighting contests, announced Howard Shannon, convenor of the project for the trade board, gave Al McIntosh on Julia St. first place for originality and general appearance. A group of choiristers singing on the lawn were made realistic with records playing carols. The front door was decorated and lights were shining to outline the whole house and lawn.

Second place was taken by the H. R. Hodgson's on Jones' Flat who have won several times for their varied original seasonal motifs to which they add from year to year.

Mrs. L. W. Rumball on Quinpoole St. was the third prize winner. Her corner lot lighting showed to advantage in several directions.

Honorable mention was given to Dr. J. Ratzlaff on the Solly subdivision; K. M. Blagborne in Garnett Valley whose whole place was a vivid spot; the Dixon traier and house in Parkdale; and Harry Hunter in Garnett Valley. The unusual tracery of lights on the Hunter place singled it out from others.

It was also noted that the residences of H. W. Brown, M. M. Stephens, Joe Biollo and H. R. Ganzveld on the KVR Road were especially good and gave the area distinction as did the homes of C. J. Bleasdale, G. A. Laidlaw and George Clark in Jones' Flat. The three gables of the Bleasdale residence showed from many parts of Summerland with their bright colored lights and star in the peak of the one facing west. T. B. Lott's place on the Switchback Road was noteworthy also.

Community Concert Well Received

Attended by 300 the first annual PTA Community Concert was a great success and augers well for repeat performances in future years.

With Dr. J. L. Mason, conductor, the Town Band started off the evening with a group of appreciated numbers. John Tamblyn was master of ceremonies for the evening and Dr. Mason announced band selections giving something of the background of each composition.

A carol sing song was participated in with lusty singing from the audience followed by the Melodiers first section of music.

The Melodiers Ladies' Choir had 14 voices and is led by Mrs. L. L. Fudge. During their rendition of sacred songs, Cheryl Wellwood recited the Christmas story from St. Luke and Ruth Keys, as an angel completed the pantomime which finished as the choir sang: "The Heavens Are Telling."

The second half of the program struck an amusing note as the Melodiers ad libbed and sang carols in old-fashioned costumes in a street scene set with benches and a street lamp.

Joe Mackie as a beatnik, gave his version of 'Twas the night before Christmas.

The evening concluded as Summerland massed choirs sang ending with the Hallelujah Chorus from the Messiah.

During the intermission there was a sale of candy and popcorn which netted a good sum to add to the result of the concert. Money raised will be used for the PTA scholarship and other awards and for the grand piano fund.

Taits Honored

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Tait were guests of honor on Christmas Eve at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norris Laidlaw when Mrs. Laidlaw and Mrs. Leonard Shannon entertained at a surprise family party in honor of this popular couple.

A gleaming star on the housetop and fir tree at the driveway decked with colored lights beckoned the guests and the house was decorated in the Christmas motif. The dining table was centered with an anniversary cake iced in silver and white and delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Games were played and presentations were made during the evening.

Guests included Mrs. M. L. Laidlaw, Mr. Magnus Tait, Miss Doreen Tait, Miss Nellie Holder, Miss Edith Verity, Miss Helen Taslawski, T. O. Williams, Don Tait, Lowell Laidlaw, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Logan, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Winter, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Shannon, Mr. and Mrs. Don Orr, the latter having been bridesmaid at the ceremony which took place in Summerland, and Mr. and Mrs. Norris Laidlaw. Mr. Laidlaw was best man at the wedding.

Elder Veterans Dinner Guests

Eight older veterans who live alone and six other guests were entertained at the annual Christmas dinner in the Legion Hall by the Ladies Auxiliary to the Legion. Mrs. Bill McCutcheon was convenor.

Head table guests were Mr. and Mrs. Steve Dunsdon, the former acting president of the Legion in the absence of L. L. Trippe, president; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Shannon, the latter president of the LA; and the honorary president of the auxiliary, Mrs. Dave Taylor, Sr. and Mr. Taylor.

Entertainment was provided after the dinner and gifts given to the veterans. Mrs. McCutcheon played the piano for a sing song.

New Manager For Local Credit Union

T. H. Waterhouse, formerly with the Canadian Legion, Branch No. 2 and Credit Union in New Westminster is the new manager of Summerland Credit Union as of January 1.

Mr. Waterhouse replaces Walter Bleasdale who has resigned because of poor health. Summerland CU is one of the larger branches in the interior with more than 1,000 members. Mr. Bleasdale is well known in the Credit Union circles in the Okanagan and has seen the local group grow to its present proportions. A member of the provincial directorate, Mr. Bleasdale is going to Silvery Creek near Squilax to join his brother R. H. Bleasdale who operates a fishing and tourist camp there.

Mr. Waterhouse has purchased the McAdam house near the arena and his wife and family, five girls and one boy will arrive soon.

During World War II, he was in England for four years as a radar mechanic and married there.

Mrs. Waterhouse has been active in community affairs and has been a president of PTA and was assistant civil defence officer of Surrey municipality.

Mr. Ken Brawner was home from Vancouver where he is employed by the law firm, McCullach, Armstrong and Jarvis, to spend the Christmas holiday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. Brawner.

Mrs. J. H. James, a former well-known and long time resident of Summerland, visited with her son in Kelowna, during the Christmas holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Emery had as their guests during the holidays Mrs. Emery's sister, Mrs. J. M. Jackson and her three children from Lawrence, Kansas.

Visitors for a few days during the holidays at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cuthbert were Miss Muriel Nuttall and Mr. Leonard Dunsford of Vancouver.

Guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Emery for ten days during the holidays was Mrs. Emery's mother, Mrs. L. E. Brown of Vancouver.

New Street Lamps Council Okays

Quotations have been received by Summerland council for changing the light poles from 25 to 28 feet and installing 400 watt mercury vapor street lamps.

The cost for improving lights on 20 poles was approximately $4000 or $200 each. This is for davit extension, the lamp itself and labor.

Council has decided to do the work over a period of three or four years, doing most needed areas first.

K. M. Blagborne, superintendent of works, suggested that the light at the east end of Granville St., be one of the first done as well as one at the Anglican Church corner; and one near John Tamblin's residence on Rosedale Ave. Laidlaw's Corner was next on the list.

Mr. T. J. Garnett is in Vancouver visiting his daughters.

Many House Parties Over Festive Season

Well, it was a good Christmas, and New Year season, wasn't it? Hope everyone enjoyed to the utmost the good things that make it such a wonderful time of year, the gay decorations, the carols and other music, the candlelight and inspiring church services keeping the true meaning of Christmas before us, the sharing of what ever we have, the friendly handshakes that are easier and perhaps a little warmer at this time, the affectionate greetings of those around us and the cards and letters from those far away and, of course, the wondering expectancy of excited children.

What if Christmas dinner was an hour late due to people dropping in, it finally arrived, complete in every detail — well, almost (wonder what did happen to the candied sweet potatoes?) Afterward replete with too much of everything came the complete relaxing, kicking off shoes and even the surreptitious loosening of belts or anything else that would add to comfort as everyone gathered around the open fire. There was the usual round of visiting with neighbors dropping in to enjoy the cup that cheers, filled with the beverage of their choice be it wine or something stronger, coffee, good old Okanagan apple juice or cider or that "best possible of all drinks — TEA!"

Among those entertaining at various parties during the festive season were Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Johnson who held open house the day after New Year's Day.

Reeve and Mrs. F. E. Atkinson entertained at tea on Boxing Day and also on Boxing Day, Mrs. C. Emery and Mrs. C. Bernhardt held a coffee party at the home of the former.

Mr. and Mrs. Les Rumball entertained a group of their friends on Tuesday evening, December 29.

Prior to joining a New Year's Eve party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Croil, fifteen guests gathered to enjoy a potluck buffet supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Crawford

At their Trout Creek home Mr. and Mrs. Eric Brinton entertained on the afternoon of New Year's.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. O'Mahoney entertained about twenty of their friends on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 20.

About forty guests enjoyed a "No Host" party sparked by Cece Wade and Norm Holmes held in the old Masonic Hall on New Year's Eve.

Sponsored by a group of former Jaycee members a party of thirty couples enjoyed games and dancing on New Year's Eve at the IOOF Hall. Master of Ceremonies for this party was Ted Weeks and a delicious supper was served by Mr. and Mrs. John Dunn.

Some of the younger set were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Fudge on New Year's Eve when Miss Carol Hackman and Miss Barbara Fudge were hostesses at a supper party.

Mr. E. T. Matchett, Shaughnessy Ave., held open house on Christmas Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Svd Hodge entertained on Christmas Day and also on New Year's evening.

THEOSOPHICAL SOCIETY

What is the Theosophical Society?

It is an absolutely unsectarian body of seekers after truth, striving to serve humanity on spiritual lines and therefore endeavouring to check materialism and revive religious tendency.

Its three declared objects are: first, to form a nucleus of the Universal Brotherhood of Humanity; without distinction of race, creed, sex, caste or color. Second, to encourage the study of comparative religion, philosophy and science. Third, to investigate unexplained laws of nature and the powers latent in mankind.

All the great religions of the world have members who also have membership in the T.S. without surrendering their special dogmas and beliefs. The Society has no dogmas or creeds. Every member is free to voice his or her own opinion but has no right to force them on any other.

600 Youngsters

Welcome Santa

Six hundred Summerland boys and girls had a glimpse of Santa the day before Christmas when he made his official visit to Lower Town and West Summerland in a horsedrawn cutter. Frank Maddocks drove him and Tom McDonald lent him a horse as arranged for him by the board of trade.

In Summerland he was greeted enthusiastically by 150 elementary school children and at West Summerland by approximately 450. Each child was given a bag of candy and an orange. At West Summerland there was a big bonfire.

Bill Fell was convenor of the board of trade Santa Claus committee, assisted by Bob Barkwill, Jock Johnston, Percy Austin; the president Joe Biolla and the secretary, Lorne Perry.

Keath Martin supplied wood for the fire.

HONOR COUNCILLORS

Following the last council meeting of the year G. D. Smith, municipal clerk and Mrs. Smith, entertained members at their home.

While refreshments were served Reeve F. E. Atkinson presented retiring Councillors Eric M. Tait and F. M. Steuart with pen and pencil sets in recognition of their years of work on council.

This is the first time that retiring councillors have been given presentations and Reeve Atkinson said he thought it was time to establish a precedent that when anyone had served 10 years or more on the council it should be recognized.

How much of your first $100,000.00 will you save by next New Year?

That's right — your $100,000.00. For, believe it or not, you'll likely earn more than that during your working years. Question is: how much will you keep?

Right now is the time to resolve to keep a larger part of what you earn throughout this new year. And the place to keep it is in a B of M Savings Account.

Make saving every pay-day your No. 1 New Year's resolution this year. The B of M can't help you resolve to stop eating between meals or get you to work on time, but it can help you save.

Why not start your account tomorrow at "MY BANK" — it's a good place to accumulate a portion of the vast sum you will earn during your working years. It takes just one dollar — and three minutes — to open your B of M Savings Account.

Here's a resolution-keeper... Ask at your neighbourhood B of M branch for a copy of our booklet "Blue-Print for Successful Personal and Family Financing". It will show you how to make up a workable budget that will keep your New Year's resolution intact.

Trout Creek Flood Menace Discussed

George Lewis, Trout Creek resident has asked Summerland council what could be done to prevent flash floods on Trout Creek such as the recent costly occurrence.

Council maintains this is not its responsibility and help should be sought from the government.

When the creek was straightened some years ago Trout Creek residents paid $1,100 towards construction and expected protection from flood.

Now the B.C. district engineer has asked Mr. Lewis to submit a letter signed by those who suffered loss during flood conditions this fall and has said that he will pass it on to higher authorities.

Municipal council is willing to co-operate in allowing machinery to be used to make a dyke on the north side of the creek.

Also under discussion are plans for preventing erosion at Powell Beach. Original plans called for making and sinking solid section groins. Council now favors bin wall type construction as suggested by K. M. Blagborne, superintendent of works.

Cement plans suitable for the bin wall, weighing 150 pounds each and containing one cubic foot of cement, could be made at a cost cheaper than groin sectors, Mr. Blagborne reported. When put in place the centre would be filled with big rocks and coarse gravel with a topping of sand. This sort of work was done along the highway against erosion from the North Thomson river it was stated and is satisfactory.

Mr. Blagborne was given permission to go ahead if cost was significantly lower.

Principal A. K. Macleod and the school staff of 1958-59.

An accredited school may recommend students in grades 10, 11 and 12.

The restoration also is an indication that the community shows an interest in education and that the School Board has provided adequate facilities and services for education. Further the staff is of high calibre and maintains high standards in instruction. The school is satisfactory entrance requirements to Universities, Vocational and Technical Schools.

together to form a series of bins that would be filled with rocks, gravel and a topping of sand. The groin will be 3'6" deep and 6' wide and 50' long. Cost is estimated at $1,500.

Council has on the recommendation of works superintendent Ken Blagborne approved similar type of construction notched, reinforced concrete members, for the building of the Memorial Park retaining wall.

Bus Terminal Gone But Not Forgotten

Summerland council never did want to see the Summerland Greyhound bus terminal taken out of town, Councillor Norman Holmes declared at last night's council meeting. All that council wanted was to get the bus off Granville Road where it constituted a traffic hazard.

Discussion on the bus stop stemmed from a letter from the Canadian Legion, branch 22 protesting the relocation of the bus depot on Highway 97 as working a hardship on the older veterans.

Councillor Robert Alstead contended that the Legion complaint was justified and that he had on several occasions driven older people down to the bus when the taxi was not available. The additional taxi fare also made it an expensive manner.

Councillor L. A. Smith said he had received many complaints on the new location since he had become councillor.

Councillor Holmes said "Council tried everything for six months to find another location. But this is strictly a Greyhound matter all we asked was that they move off main street."

The Legion protest was the first directed to council. Other organizations, the Old Age Pensioners, the Women's Institute and the Board of Trade have protested without result to the company. Protests should be made to the company, council pointed out, but no one held out any hope of getting the bus stop back in West Summerland.

Five Fruit Resolutions Axed Here

Summerland local of the BCFGA held a meeting in the IOOF Hall to consider resolutions before going before the 71st annual convention in Penticton next week.

While approving most of the resolutions, five were turned down by the meeting.

These were No. 27 concerned with crop estimating, No. 19 regarding standard accounting, No. 32 under the pooling section on pooling of small apple sizes, and marketing concessions No. 43.

Resolution No. 53, proposing to amend the bylaws so that no member would be permitted to hold office in the association or to occupy a position unless he has signed the three party contract did not pass either.

Delegates to the annual convention are the chairman of the local, Charlie Bern-

Local Family In Narrow Escape

On Sunday Vaseaux Lake was the scene of a skating party that almost ended in tragedy. Three families, Ken Plasketts of Osoyoos, the Ken Storey's and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Emery of Summerland whose daughter, Dede was the first to go through the ice as she stumbled Mrs. Emery lay flat on the ice and tried to reach her, but also broke through. Mr. Emery tried to reach them with a pole, but failed in this bid for safety for Dede and her mother, and he too joined them in the cold waters of the lake.

Ken Plaskett pushed his coat toward Dede and she managed to grab it and was pulled to safety, but not before Mr. Plaskett had also been dunked. They all made it safely to shallow water and thence to shore and at last were rejoined by the rest of the party with the car which was left three quarters of a mile along the lake.

All ended well with not even a cold reported by those taking an unexpected dip in the lake.

It was fortunate for Dede that she kept her head and dog paddled until help came and Mrs. Emery wished she had remembered her father's precaution of having a rope along for just such an emergency. It was not her first such experience on Vaseaux Lake.

St. John's Ass'n Meets Monday

Summerland St. John Ambulance Association is holding its annual meeting in the Volunteer Services Room of the Health Centre Monday evening, January 18. Charlie Denike is president of the organization.

If there is enough interest nursing classes may be conducted this spring.

More Street Flower Plantings in Spring

W. C. "Bill" Gallop waited on Council to ask improvements to the road leading to his nurseries, but he stayed to talk about the planting boxes which bloomed with such good effect in West Summerland last autumn.

Reeve Atkinson expressed appreciation for the work done by Mr. Gallop and spoke of the favorable comments received. Mr. Gallop promised an even better planting next summer.

Ogopogo Spotted Off Rotary Beach

Pete Stayamowski, who moved here from Saskatchewan last fall, has now joined the ranks of the few who have had the privilege of seeing the Ogopogo.

On going to Penticton on Tuesday at four o'clock in the afternoon he noticed a disturbance out in the lake about 300 yards from shore near Rotary Beach.

At first he thought it to be mud hens, then he noticed the three humps, but no head or tail were visible. The wash coming into the shore was a good three feet high. The Ogopogo was travelling very fast toward Penticton. Even after it disappeared, Mr. Stayamowski said he could see the wake from it further down the lake. Mr. Stayamowski tried to flag two cars and a truck to see it, but they went right on.

Other people report swims on the lake Tuesday afternoon and some pictures were taken.

Young Coast Violinist Pleases Many Here

A young violinist (24) who has climbed very quickly to the peak of the Canadian musical scene played to a most appreciative, responsive audience on Tuesday night in the high school auditorium. Those in the audience best qualified to judge predicted a brilliant future for Arthur Polson.

Mr. Polson produced tone color of a warm singing quality, brilliant by turn exciting and moving, then delicate and carressing.

The encores were loved and familiar compositions which were welcomed by the audience.

Mr. Hugh McLean, accompanist, was at all times adroit and sympathetic.

17 Receive Home Nursing Diplomas

Be prepared to be called by motto with Summerland womenfolk.

Last night Reeve F. E. Atkinson presented home nursing diplomas to 17 women who had completed the Civil Defence home nursing course. Ivan E. Phillips, Civil Defence officer for Summerland, introduced the home nursing class to council. Receiving their diplomas were: Mrs. M. Squires, Mrs. Ann Fetterer, Mrs. Beatrice McKee, Mrs. Bernice White, Mrs. Helen Anderson, Mrs. Jean Skipping, Mrs. Mary Doherty, Mrs. Hazel Doherty, Mrs. Martha Ganzveldt, Mrs. Laurena Lobban, Mrs. Laurette Gaudelot, Mrs. Lois Jackson, Mrs. Marguerite Baker, Mrs. Olga Pushkar, Mrs. Ann Fetterer, Mrs. Marguerita Sunderwood, Mrs. Kathleen Greenlade.

Another year, another BCFGA convention, this the 71st annual convention to be held this year in Penticton at the Legion Auditorium on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday next week.

The program follows its usual pattern, again ignoring the old adage that "work and no play makes Jack a dull boy."

It's all work for the grower-delegates, with 12 night sessions expected, a with but one opportunity let their hair down, the annual BCFGA banquet, hosted by the city of Penticton on Wednesday night.

Dr. James Marshall of the Summerland Regional Health Centre is the guest speaker at the banquet.

Speeches, as usual, have been kept to the minimum with only Dr. Richeter.

Suggestion for Scenic Lookout Wins Favor

Mrs. Donald Orr has submitted a winter works project to the municipal council which has received favorable attention.

She suggested that a viewpoint be made for tourists and local residents on Highway 97 approximately where the Front Beach Road meets the main thoroughfare. From this spot there is a splendid view of the lake, the mountains across the lake and the lower town.

Reeve F. E. Atkinson said he had noticed the place often and considered it attractive. It would be a major job to level off the nearby cliffs.

District superintendent roads, Mr. Underwood Kelowna, has looked with some favor on the suggestion.

A sketch of the location with two entrances is to be made by superintendent works Ken Blagborne, present to the government engineer.

The government would be bulldozing for the site. Reeve F. E. Atkinson reported after a conversation with Mr. Underwood. The municipality would put crushed rock and shale.

A Big Job To Be Done

Summerland's Board of Trade embarks on another year tomorrow night with the election of officers for 1960. At this writing we don't know who those officers will be but we do know that they will be taking office at a crucial time in Summerland's history.

question. We have said it before and we will say it again, a community cannot stand still, it must either progress or regress. Obviously no one wishes to see Summerland slip backwards and the most logical group, in fact the only group, fitted by designation and makeup, to overcome the inertia and to start Summerland moving forward is the Board of Trade.

The Municipal Council, as the Reeve recently pointed out, has very definite and limited scope, but a municipal council can be very helpful to a progressive, aggressive Board of Trade and we are confident that the Municipal Council will support the board to the fullest possible extent, if the board approaches council with sound and practical plans.

The Review is of the opinion that the danger signals have been flashing for some time and that the Board of Trade has been acting ostrichlike. We hope that the 1960 Board of Trade will get its head out of the sands and give the community that push of which it stands in need.

Of course, this crack train isn't likely to pull in at your Imperial Esso service station, but it, too, is an important Imperial customer and plays quite a part in your everyday driving.

Why competition among oil companies for customers like "The Canadian" benefits you

You and customers like the railroads want to be sure that you are getting the best products, the best service and the best price.

In Canada there are 74 oil companies competing to serve you and your car. Imperial is one of them and has 13,000 people working in oil fields, research laboratories, refineries and sales forces— all helping to compete for business.

The standards of quality, service and price that it takes to win railroad business benefit all our customers, large and small.

That's one reason Canadians have made Esso stations the busiest on Canadian roads.

Senior Boys Lose By One Point At Kamloops

The hard playing of the Summerland senior boys brought them within one point of the championship at a tournament played in Kamloops over the weekend. The first game was played against the Indian School. The game started slow with the score at the end of the first quarter 4-3 in favor of Summerland. The game speeded up to a one sided climax with a score of 40-25 for Summerland with Frank Carey as high scorer with 17 points.

The second game was played against the Kamloops Gremlins. The Gremlins, baffled by our man to man defence, went behind and stayed there for a 53-19 defeat.

The final game became the most exciting for the spectators and players alike when the Kamloops Red Devils defeated the Summerland Rockets by a one point margin.

Penticton Wins Volleyball Tourney Here

Saturday, January 9 was a big day for South Okanagan volleyball teams. The girls teams in attendance were Penticton, Keremeos, Oliver and Summerland. Penticton took top honors, while Keremeos and Summerland tied for second place and Oliver placed third.

Boys teams in attendance were Penticton and Keremeos and Penticton again took top honors.

Each team played three matches consisting of three games each. Referees were Mr. Schwab, Miss Flett, Grace Johnson and Elinor Raincock.

The next tournament will be held in Oliver on the next Saturday in February.

Mr. Longmore comes to us from Grand Forks where he was vice-principal. Before that he taught in Oliver, Osoyoos and Creston. He attended UBC after graduating from Kamloops High School. Mr. Longmore for many years has been active in basketball as a player, coach and referee. He likes our school and is pleased with the attitude of the students. When asked for a comment on the school paper he replied that a good job was being done, but he would like to see more letters to the editor.

Penticton Teams Here Friday

All senior teams will be active this Friday when the Summerland High School will play host to three teams from Penticton. The visiting teams will include the Penticton Lakers, the Lakettes and the Pen High Senior B. They will be matched against our own Rockets, Rockettes and Senior B teams. The evening will open with the Senior B teams playing at 6:30. The girls' games will follow at 7:30 and the boys will start the final game at 8:30.

Key Club Builds Bicycle Shed

The Key Club bicycle shed is now completed except for one corner of the roof.

Stan Krause and Wes Schindel headed the club project and Mr. Tamblin and Mr. Gatley were supervisors. The shed was started the week end of Nov. 7.

Key Clubbers did the work themselves after school and week ends. The shed is 20 by 18 feet and cost approximately $85. This money was raised last fall at a well supported auction sale.

The shed accommodates 25 bikes and the boys are planning to build an addition.

Comings and Goings

Born to Mr. and Mrs. James Grant in Summerland General Hospital, January 6 a daughter.

A reporter to "Comings and Goings" spotted three bluebirds in Summerland last week. Hope these harbingers of spring mean that season will arrive early this year. The viewer insists they were all males, probably a scouting expedition to look over the building situation before the ladies arrive back from the sunny south all ready to get on with the business of setting up house-keeping and raising their families.

Mrs. T. A. Walden returned home Tuesday after New Year holidays visiting at the home of her son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Dave Nesbitt and their spending the Christmas and family in Kamloops.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Bullock are visiting in Vancouver this week.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Fabbi and family returned home New Year's Eve after spending the Christmas holidays visiting with relatives in Lethbridge.

Dr. and Mrs. H. R. McEarty, accompanied by Mrs. Granville Morgan, left recently to spend a holiday in California.

Miss Nellie Holder has left for California and will visit the Don Taits at San Jose. She was accompanied by Miss Muriel Banks and Miss Violet Banks who will spend a holiday at Venetian Square, Long Beach.

Word has been received in Summerland from Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Kirk who are presently vacationing in Spain and are enjoying a wonderful time there.

Dr. and Mrs. Malcolm Edworthy of Kamloops were visitors to Summerland last week to attend the funeral of Mrs. Wm. Jenkinson. Mrs. Edworthy is a niece of the late Mrs. Jenkinson.

Mrs. E. O. White and Mrs. Stan Taylor of Maril's have returned from a recent buying trip to Vancouver.

Magistrate and Mrs. R. A. Johnston have left for a holiday at Laguna Beach, California.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Butler left recently for a vacation in California. Enroute they visited at the home of their son in law and daughter, Mr and Mrs Tom Furness of New Westminster.

Miss H. Empey, PHN has returned to her nursing duties here.

Mr. Frank Carey and Mr. B. T. Washington left Monday to take a course in sprinkler maintenance in Vancouver this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Neil spent a week in Seattle during the holidays visiting friends and relatives.

WI Notes

The third annual pot luck luncheon was held by the Summerland Women's Institute preceding their January meeting on Friday afternoon at the Anglican Parish Hall. Several husbands and a number of other guests along with the members enjoyed the bountiful and delicious meal.

The business meeting followed with the president, Mrs. A. A. Fenwick in the chair. Conveners for the years were named as follows: agriculture Mrs. E. M. Tait, citizenship Mrs. S. A. MacDonald, cultural activities Mrs. Gordon Ritchie, home economic Mrs. H. C. Whitaker, social welfare Mrs. E. Hookham. Mrs. M. Cox will be special teas convener. Volunteers for the phoning committee were Mrs. Gordon Dinning, Mrs. A. C. Fleming, Mrs. H. B. Mair and Mrs. V. Charles.

Miss Mary Scott reported that socks and candy were sent to the Mental Health Association gift program for distribution.

Mrs. Gordon Ritchie showed beautiful and interesting colored slides of the ACWW conference in Edinburgh and other points of interest she visited on her recent extended trip to Europe. Mrs. A. C. Fleming thanked Mrs. Ritchie on behalf of the audience.

The next meeting will be held February 12 and will feature the annual Valentine party. Each member is asked to bring a guest.

Promenade

Square dancing is again the going thing and lessons under the direction of Ray Fredrickson for beginners are underway on Thursday nights and lessons for intermediate dancers under the direction of Chuck Ingalls are being held on Friday nights at the IOOF Hall.

Blues and Squares will welcome this Saturday night the come all their square dance friends to dance with them at the Youth Centre Hall. Local callers will be in attendance and all callers in the area are invited to participate. A sack lunch will be served, so bring along your own sandwich, coffee and trimmings will be provided by the club.

Mrs. H. H. Dunsdon will return this week end after spending two weeks visiting at the home of her son in law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Armitage in Calgary.

Scrooge Method Deplored In Attaining Yule Solvency

There are at least two effective ways to keep out of the red at Christmas time, according to Jock Johnston, manager of the Summerland branch of the Bank of Montreal. "You can follow the Scrooge technique and just ignore the holiday. But it's not the best way to win friends and influence people. You're not likely to have much fun, either," he adds.

Much better to plan ahead, Mr. Johnston believes, and open a special Christmas savings account at the B of M. This year, when it's time to start Christmas shopping again, it'll be much more fun to draw on money in your special Christmas account.

Why not start right away? Figure how much you'll need to spend at Christmas, divide the amount by the number of paydays between now and then and make a regular deposit of that sum. It's guaranteed painless.

Each year, more and more Canadians are learning how pleasant it is to do their Christmas shopping with no worries about where the money's going to come from.

Mr. Johnston will be glad to show you how easy it is to operate your own special Christmas account throughout the coming year at the B of M.

Now's the time to start!

Advt.

DO IT NOW!

... when skilled men and materials are available. In addition to interior renovations to homes, plants and businesses, there are many other things that can be done to advantage during the winter—maintenance of lawn and garden equipment, electrical appliances, outboard motors and automobiles, as well as dry cleaning of drapes and rugs, replacement of upholstery, etc.

Card of Thanks

Mr. F. A. Miller wishes to thank the hospital staff and his many friends who remembered him while in the Summerland hospital during Christmas.

Obituary

Passed away in the Summerland hospital on January 5, 1960, Mark Lee Embree, at the age of 66. Left to mourn his passing are his loving wife Louise, one daughter, Marilyn, one son, Ronald; three brothers, John of Summerland; Thomas of Castor, Alta.; Roy of Hanna, Alta.

Born at Bickleton, Wash. he came to Canada with his parents in 1907 and resided at Castor, Alta until 1913 when he took up farming in the Hanna, Alta., district.

In 1932 he moved to Summerland and has lived here ever since. Engaged in orchard work Mr. Embree took a keen interest in community affairs and was highly respected. He served on the board of directors for the Credit Union for seven years and was a board member of the Trout Creek Church of God for 11 years.

In lieu of flowers donations for the cancer fund will be received at Roselawn Funeral Home.

UBC PRESIDENT HERE

Annual banquet and presentation of the Good Citizen award of the Summerland Board of Trade, usually held in January, is to be held in April when it is hoped to have Dr. N. A. M. McKenzie, president of the university as guest speaker.

Last Thursday night's annual meeting of the board of trade showed that the organization operated with a profit in 1959 and that the annual Fall Fruit Fair established a few years ago showed a credit balance.

Board membership was 85 individuals and 14 multiple tickets bringing the total to over 100. Roy Wellwood, convenor, reported women were admitted to the board for the first time last year.

Organization of the junior vegetable garden competition for the Fall Fair, providing grade five with seeds given by the Canada Research Centre and the board induced 45 children to enter.

Appreciation was expressed to E. O. White, Summerland float convenor and to the women's group who arranged for the queen ceremony. Bob Barkwill, new development's committee head, received thanks for

Quality Theme At Convention

Gordon Wight, president of the Board of Governors, speaking at the BCFGa convention currently being held in Penticton. Alongside is B.C. Tree Fruits general manager R. P. Walrod and to the rear is Sales Manager J. B. Lander.

Backbone of grower criticism relating to the marketing of the 1959 handpaks in the early part of the season was broken Tuesday afternoon with the presentation of the report of B.C. Tree Fruits general manager R. P. Walrod.

Some criticism was voiced at Tuesday afternoon's session of the 71st annual BC-FGA Convention which opened Tuesday in the Penticton Legion Hall, of the actions of B.C. Tree Fruits, and undoubtedly there will be more criticism as resolutions relating to quality produce are debated as the convention progresses.

Outstanding event so far was defeat Tuesday night of the Rutland resolution opposing standard accounting.

It was stated that 11 out of 30 packinghouses were opposed to introduction of standard accounting, which was strongly recommended in the MacPhee report. Legal right of the BCFGa to dictate to the packinghouses was questioned, but A. R. Garrish, BCFGa president and convention chairman stated that this was covered under the Act.

It was also emphasized that the new accounting procedure need not prove more costly than current methods.

The convention got off to a good start with B.C.'s deputy minister of agriculture

Kiwanis Installation Bright Breezy Affair

Annual installation ceremonies of the Summerland Kiwanis Club which saw John Tamblin installed as president succeeding "Scottie" Ritchie was a bright and breezy affair, but not without its serious overtones such as the speech by Lieut. Governor of District Five, Warren Holley of Prince George, who spoke in glowing terms of the activities of the Summerland Club, particularly in relation to the Key Club and other youth activities.

Other executive members installed were Jerry Hall-quist, vice president; Brian Leibert, secretary; Bill Laird law treasurer, directors, Earl Smith, Ken Heales, George Henry, Nick Solly, Walt Toevs, John Betuzzi, Don Randle.

Guest speaker was Penticton Herald editor Jim Hume.

Introduction of guests was made by Scottie Ritchie and toast to the ladies was proposed by Bill Gilmour with reply by Nettie Shannon. Toast to Kiwanis was proposed by Jack Stewart.

Retiring president Scottie Ritchie gave a report on a highly successful year. Pianist was Mrs. Flo Holmes

House Ramsacked, R.C.M.P. Seek Help

John Paul Anderson, of Giant's Head Road, by Milnes Cannery, returned home after a month's absence to find his house ramsacked. He reports it was broken into between December 13 and January 19. Entry was gained by pushing in the two back doors. Missing is one valuable shot gun, two valuable rifles, and an undetermined amount of cash, 30 silver dollars, and a box containing an old coin collection.

Anyone having any information please contact the local RCMP as they are most anxious to get any leads that would be of help.

Town Planning Chairman Looks At Summerland

Dr. M. F. Welsh, chairman of the Summerland Town Planning Commission prepared the following article in an effort to promote understanding and interest in local town planning matters. Working with Dr. Welsh on the commission are Lorne Perry, Jack Dundson, School Board chairman T. S. Manning and two representatives from council.

Is Summerland growing as quickly as it should? Can we attract more industry? Are our tourist possibilities being exploited fully? Are there means by which lower Summerland could be converted into a prosperous resort area? Are we losing too much good orchard land to subdivisions? Will expansion of the community lead to higher taxes?

These are some of the questions being asked frequently around Summerland in recent months. So far they have been merely questions. There are few local people qualified to provide the answers. Many communities are now turning to qualified community planners for the answers to such questions. It seems to be time that Summerland considered the merits of taking the same step.

Summerland, thanks to alert municipal councils during the last five years, with some support from the Board of Trade has already taken the first several steps toward organized community planning. Most local citizens, however, have not only given little encouragement to planning activities, but remain almost unaware of the work already done.

Probably Summerland's least known community agency is the Advisory Town Planning Commission. Every one is aware of the School Board, the Parks Committee, and the Hospital Board. Everyone knows what they are for. It is safe to assume that relatively few people in Summerland know that the Town Planning Commission exists, and that even fewer realize the possibilities that are available in organized community planning activities.

What is town planning? In its narrowest sense it means framing a Zoning Bylaw to segregate residential, rural, recreational, commercial and industrial districts within the municipality. In a somewhat broader sense it means laying out master plans for roads, streets, subdivisions, and services to provide for the most efficient and economical development. In its broadest sense it involves asking, "What has our community to offer? What do we want for the community? and How do we go about getting what we want and getting it economically?" and answering these questions with the assistance of community planning experts

Amalgamation not popular

When Dean E. D. MacPhee brought out his recommendations to the Okanagan tree fruit industry he suggested the possibility of considerable savings to the grower through the area amalgamation of packinghouses. His studies included a close examination of the inner workings of all, or nearly all the packinghouses in the valley. What he found convinced the dean that many houses could join forces and thereby make substantial savings for the grower.

Even if it were possible to save only five cents a box by amalgamation the annual savings would average several hundred dollars per grower.

Dean MacPhee collected a body of evidence concerning the private business of packinghouses. As it was information given in strict confidence it could not be made public. This information is on file and available for those packinghouses interested in his amalgamation proposal. By studying this information with the assistance of one of the royal commission staff, fruit growers can feel qualified to decide whether their packinghouse could benefit by union with one or more other houses.

About a year has passed since publication of the MacPhee report and very little progress has been made in the direction of amalgamation. Results up to now seem to be bearing out the dean's fears that the most serious problems in the way of amalgamation were the personal equations, the loyalties, the jealousies, and the suspicions attached by growers to other packinghouses.

Another attitude apparent is that of approaching the amalgamation idea with a closed mind. Some growers have condemned amalgamation without taking a look at the evidence. They have refused to even consider the evidence.

These growers have held a kangaroo court, passed judgement, and sentenced the accused, all without hearing testimony from the witnesses.

If there is any money to be saved in the packinghouse operation they are determined it will not be saved through union with other groups of fruit growers. Here we see the old loyalties and prejudices given a free rein.

Of course it is quite possible that these growers are right, and that a particular

A Challenging Assignment

Summerland has good reason to be proud of its Kiwanis Club. It is not generally known and it was certainly news to us that the Summerland Club is the only one in the widespread Kiwanis District Five that has so far sponsored a Key Club. This emphasis on youth by the local Kiwanis embraces more than the Key Club, although this is becoming their major youth activity, but the local Kiwanians also sponsor the School Boy Traffic Patrols. They sponsor minor hockey.

Last year the club sponsored garden contests in connection with the Summerland Fall Fair and the winning students were taken to the Interior Exhibition at Armstrong. Key Club visits, building up international goodwill through better understanding, is another Kiwanis youth project.

All these youth activities will be continued on through the years but this year the Summerland Kiwanis were handed another task by Warren Holley of Prince George, Lieutenant-Governor of District Five which constitutes a man-sized challenge. That challenge, nothing less than awakening the people of this community to their duties as citizens.

In simple terms the Kiwanians are told to "Get out the vote". That in itself is a mammoth task, but the Kiwanis assignment, not only here but throughout the Kiwanis International, is the reawakening of the peoples of their communities to the meaning of the ballot, what it represents and of the dangers inherent in apathy and indifference.

At first we thought that this was an assignment a little outside the sphere of a Service Club, and then we thought what could be more important for a service club and indeed for any group, Church, School, Legion, Trade Board, Women's Institutes and any and all of the many groups within a community, than to devote some of their time towards eradicating what is a national and international disgrace throughout the free world, the indifference and apathy towards what is our greatest heritage, the right to vote.

We have a decided hunch, based on the drive and energy that Summerland Kiwanis put behind their many assignments that they will do well with this new one — which won't be easy — but which is very worthwhile.

Calling The Board Of Trade

The Summerland Board of Trade is fortunate in that it has a ready-made crusade with which to implement its 1960 objective of tourist development.

That crusade is the cleaning up of the lake front at Summerland, in accordance with a plan outlined by Dr. M. F. Welsh, chairman of the Town Planning Commission, in an article published on the front page of this issue.

Dr. Welsh believes that Summerland can recapture its lake front.

Dr. Welsh, in making this suggestion makes it an essentially practical one by telling how this major project can be financed, which is the knottiest of the knotty problems which must be untied in forwarding such an undertaking.

Under the Urban Renewal Act, financial assistance is available to municipalities in the demolishing and rebuilding of dilapidated areas. Well, surely no one will dispute that the lake shore in lower town is cluttered with unsightly, almost unusable, tumbledown buildings, that should qualify for demolition under the terms of the Urban Renewal Program Act.

Cost, if the project is approved, is shared 50 percent by the Federal government, 25 percent by the Provincial government and 25 percent by the municipality.

Here then is something for the Board of Trade to get its teeth into right away. The Board can make a good case. It can point to the beginning that has already been made through the initiative and drive of the Summerland Yacht Club, which resulted in a breakwater and small boat harbor.

The Board of Trade must, of course, recognize that there is little point in attracting tourists unless they have somewhere to stay. More motels, more camping sites and trailer parks must be planned for and, surely a Board of Trade committed to tourist development must face up to the need for a hotel.

The Board of Trade, in its planning will be wise to recognize that Summerland, particularly West Summerland, has little, if anything, to attract the tourist in the face of the competition from Penticton's lovely beaches, movie theatres, and four hotels, kiddies playgrounds, the Sicamous and its museum and the bustle of a fair sized community. So, to attract tourists Summerland must have something different.

We suggest that the Board of Trade might well investigate the possibility, the practicability and the cost of emulating that small European village which established a summer ski run by laying plastic waste ends on a hillside. Skiing is a popular sport claiming thousands of new enthusiasts every year. Opportunity to keep in practice on our Giant's Head would we believe, attract skiers from far and near, not just for an overnight stop, but for most of their vacations. One has only to consider how curlers respond to a summer bonspiel, how figure skaters respond to summer ice, to believe that skiing enthusiasts would respond in like manner to the opportunity of summer skiing.

That would be something different. Much, much more could be made of Summerland's lake studded hinterland through widespread publicity. It's there, a fisherman's paradise, but the tourists breeze by on Highway 97 unaware of what is back of beyond.

Yes, there is much that can be done to divert a sizable percentage of the tourist dollar into Summerland. And it is important, only recently the Hon. Robert Bonner predicted that the tourist industry will soon outrank the tree fruit industry in economic importance to the valley. Summerland cannot afford to stand idly by and watch that golden stream flow by.

Home-made street signs with big-city names are one kind of link between the people of the New North and the rest of Canada.

Banking service is another.

Canadian banks have, since the earliest days, taken part in the development of new areas, the opening of new frontiers. Today the chartered banks continue to bring banking services to pioneer settlements as the economic map of Canada is rolled back.

They have at the same time greatly increased the number of branches in established areas across Canada—new suburban communities, expanding industrial centres—keeping pace with the country's population and business growth.

To take care of all these varied needs, 1,200 new branches have been opened by the chartered banks in the past ten years.

Minor Hockey Week To Be Observed Saturday, Jan. 23

This week being minor hockey week throughout Canada, Saturday, January 23 all towns and cities with minor hockey will be holding a minor hockey jamboree.

Summerland minor hockey association has arranged a very entertaining evening for everyone this Saturday at the Summerland Arena, starting at 7 p.m.

Attendance has been very low at minor hockey games this winter but the association is hoping that there will be a large crowd in attendance so you can see what is being done for our boys of the community who are interested in hockey.

Tickets may be picked up at the door or from anyone of the minor hockey players.

OMBL To Meet in Kelowna

The annual general meeting of the Okanagan Mainline Baseball League will be held at Kelowna January 24 at 1:30 p.m. in the memorial room of Kelowna Arena.

Main business on the agenda will be the application of the Merritt Metro's baseball club to join the league which now consists of Trail, Oliver, Penticton, Summerland, Kelowna, Vernon and Kamloops.

Election of officers, annual reports, and re-drafting of the OMBL constitution will also be included.

Mrs. Mary Felker returned home from a two week holiday in Calgary where she visited her brother and sister in law, Mr. and Mrs. Art Lekie.

Local Figure Skaters Show Proficiency

Summerland figure skating club has come a long way in the last 3 years under the direction of Dolores Causier. Parents and friends turned out to cheer Summerland's young champions on the occasion of their 3rd annual competitions.

Lance Jones and Anne McLachlan were crowd pleasers and judges' favorites as they skated off with four trophies for as many entries. Other favorites were Leona Keys with 3 wins for three entries; Teressa Keys, Robert Munro and Marjorie Porrett with two wins each.

Results were as follows:
Senior Ladies: Leona Keys.
Senior dance: Leona Keys and Lance Jones.

Senior ladies pair: Leona Keys and Teressa Keys.

Summerland has a Zoning Bylaw, passed five years ago. Until recently the activities of the Town Planning Commission have been confined to advising on the administration of that bylaw.

During the last year council and the Commission have been concerned with an additional phase of planning, the master planning of those parts of the community that are developing rapidly. These include especially Trout Creek Point and the fringes of West Summerland. The planning is aimed at locating all eventual roads and streets in these areas, and ensuring that future subdivisions will be designed logically and economically. The need for such master planning has been emphasized by evidence of a few mistakes already made, by the threat of other mistakes as new subdivisions are created, and by the delays becoming necessary as the dangers become more evident, and Council members grow more cautious. The 1959 Council considered requesting estimates from Consultant Town Planning firms for the master planning of Trout Creek Point.

There is much more that can be done if Council and the Town Planning Commission can be provided with sufficient support and encouragement from the community.

The most important step would be to obtain the services of an experienced firm of consultant town planners to assess Summerland's assets and recommend the best means to profit from them. Most of the communities in B.C. of Summerland's size or larger have had such surveys made, and the process of doing so, or are anticipating doing so. Such consultants would work closely with the Municipal Works Foreman, the Town Planning Commission, the Board of Trade and other interested community organizations.

Until such a survey is made by an expert, it would be rash to forecast what his recommendations might be. However, to an amateur in town planning, these appear to be among the more likely recommendations:

Industry. Communities with more obvious assets than ours are finding difficulty in attracting industry. Rapid development appears to be limited to greater Vancouver and New Westminster. However a planning expert would be able to spot unique assets that we do possess and that we could advertise. He could also suggest means by which we could make our assets more attractive, in providing suitable sites and services.

Tourist and Resort Developments

The most attractive possibility seems to be the renovation of lower Summerland, and its conversion to a resort area, centered around the breakwater, boat harbor and beaches. With the elimination of the older buildings between Chinaman's Gulch Road and Daniel's store, on both sides of the street, one can visualize room for beaches, park area a marina, perhaps a yacht club, tourist facilities, and probably some additional choice residential development. This would be a major undertaking, and would have to be done as a single orderly project. Fortunately there do exist means for financing such a project. These means are provided by the federal government's Urban Renewal Program under the National Housing Act. This provides for assistance to a municipality in the demolition and rebuilding of dilapidated areas in the community. Those of us who have known lower Town in its better days must swallow some pride before we acknowledge it but there is no doubt that it is an area of potentially very valuable land now covered by old run-down buildings that have outlived their use. This should qualify it ideally for urban renewal. The urban renewal program calls for a study of the area and its potentialities for which the federal government will pay up to 75 percent of the cost. For the actual renewal of the area the federal government will provide up to 50 percent, and the provincial government up to 25 percent of the cost.

With this area as a tourist and recreational centre there seems no reason why other tourist activities should not develop through other parts of the community.

Orchard Land

The backbone of Summerland's economy is still the fruit industry. Good planning should safeguard as much as possible of the best farm land, encourage other developments on the poorer locations.

Residential Development

Much of Summerland's recent growth has derived from an influx of people who simply want a pleasant place to live - sunshine, fruit, beaches, access to fishing, boating and hunting, and adequate room to live and move. These assets become even more attractive when combined with low taxes. Careful planning should allow us to provide all of these attractions at once, and to continue drawing desirable types of new residents from areas with less desirable climates, higher tax rates, and crowded city conditions.

All these types of development require careful long range planning if we are to avoid excessive costs in providing roads, water, sewage and other services. A master plan for the community, and access to continuing planning advice thereafter would save far more than it cost if it ensured that the development proceeded efficiently and economically.

Summerland is perhaps the only community in southern B.C. that has no unorganized fringe areas to disrupt its plans for logical development. Relatively few mistakes have been made so far. If we take appropriate steps now we have the opportunity to become the best planned community in the province. That should automatically mean continued growth and maintenance of our low tax structure.

Red Cross Reports Very Successful Year

More than 2,000 articles were made in the workroom by the Summerland Red Cross workers in 1959 according to a report given by convener Mrs. T. W. Boothe at the annual meeting. More than 60 women in Summerland are working for Red Cross, Mrs. Boothe said.

Mrs. F. R. Stark was re-elected president of Summerland Branch, Canadian Red Cross Society. New vice president is Gordon Dinning and new treasurer is Mrs. Anna Wolfe.

Executive members are Mrs. T. W. Boothe, Mrs. Jake Heichert, N. O. Solly, Gordon Beggs, Miss Marion Cartwright, Mrs. George Inglis and Mrs. E. M. Hookman.

You'll certainly drive a long way before you find one of T.G.A.'s new DC8's at an Imperial Esso service station. But they're important Imperial customers just the same.

The jet and the family car—together they mean lower gasoline prices

The new DC8 jets are powered by a special jet fuel, as carefully tailored for its job as the gasoline for your car.

Today gasolines and jet fuels are only two types of a whole range of products—over 600 of them—made by Imperial from petroleum.

This efficiency in getting everything out of every gallon of crude oil is an important reason for lower fuel prices—whether for a DC8, a jalopy or the new family car.

Gasoline is a bargain: in the last five years the average price of things people buy has gone up nearly 16 per cent, while gasoline has actually gone down about half of one per cent.*

Esso IMPERIAL OIL LIMITED
... for 79 years a leader in Canada's growth

by Freda Storey
Quality rather than quantity was evident when our New Year quota of books arrived from Kelowna this week. There were fewer older books than usual, but a far larger number of new editions.

Among these Robert Payne's new novel "The Shepherd" is prominent. Here the author has recreated the life of Yeshua, the shepherd of Nazareth from his childhood as son of the carpenter Joseph, to the time of his baptism in the Jordan by his cousin Yona. The author's aim, which has been achieved with a brilliant intensity of vision, is to tell a credible story of the growth of the young Jewish prophet at a time when the Jewish people daily awaited the coming of the Messiah, and to set it against the turbulent history and the harsh, yet beautiful landscape of ancient Palestine.

Equally fascinating is "The Golden Years" by F. W. Kenyon; a novel based upon the life and loves of Percy Bysshe Shelley.

Also for the fiction shelves we have a new volume of "Great Russian Short Stories" containing a comprehensive selection of tales by such distinguished writers as Pushkin, Chekhov and Dostoevsky.

For those who enjoy French novels, there is "Cafe Celeste" by Françoise Mallet-Joris, sometimes classed all to conveniently with Mlle. Françoise Sagan.

"The Slide Area" by Gavin Lambert portrays scenes of Hollywood life, and a very gripping novel, "Eva" by Meyer Levin tells the story of a daring Jewish girl who flees from a death trap in occupied Poland, hides in the very heart of Germany, and moves in disguise among the Nazis, determined to outwit them and live.

Among the non-fiction, there are new biographies, and a collection of essays by Gilbert Highet. These cover a variety of topics from Bach to Buddhism.

"Let's take stock" by Don G. Campbell, an inside look at Wall Street may interest some readers, and there is one extremely notable travel book called "Arabian Sands" by Wilfred Thesiger. He may well be named a second Lawrence of Arabia.

There are just a few of the new arrivals. There are many more, and a particularly large collection of new children's books should please our younger readers.

1959 in the library has proved to be quite sensational. More than 28,000 books were issued during the year, an increase of approximately 2,000 on last year's figures.

During the past three months alone, circulation was very nearly 8,000. Of these 2,562 were children's books, 3,609 adult fiction and 1,760 adult non-fiction.

Also during the past three months there was a remarkable increase in registrations. Eighty juveniles and 37 adults making a total of 117 persons joined the library during that period.

Total junior registrations now stand at 816, adult at 1047, making 1,863 members in all. Each of these figures provide new records.

More than 300 requests have also been filled for special books during the year.

We thank all those who have helped to make our library what it is, and wish you all "happy reading" in 1960.

packinghouse could not gain anything by amalgamation. But how is anyone going to know for certain unless they act upon Dr. MacPhee's suggestion and study the body of evidence which he has made available?

Dr. MacPhee showed a good knowledge of human nature when he foresaw the biggest obstacle to amalgamation was the grower himself and his attitude toward others. The industry can ill afford to pass up an opportunity to save a few cents a box here and a few cents there. As the cost price squeeze on the farmer grows tighter and tighter that extra nickel or dime a box is going to loom up bigger and bigger.

Summerland Wins Junior Tourney

On Saturday Summerland played host to 4 junior basketball teams at their annual invitational tourney.

The Summerland boys won their games against Pen Hi (16-4) and Princess Margaret (22 to 16).

The last game between Summerland and Princess Margaret was by far the best. R. Henly, D. Mallett and T. Brennan tied as high scorers in the game.

The junior girls were defeated by Pen Hi, and defeated Princess Margaret School to place second in the tourney.

Letter to Editor

Dear Editor:

Regarding a news item I heard the other day, it looks as though the scientists are mistaken when they say that in 50 years the peoples of the world will be starving to death. Apparently the standing population is expected to be doubled by this time, and the supply of food will diminish.

Now I hear that some scientists have mixed news print with hay and are feeding it to the cows. It will take six months to find out whether or not the cows appreciate this new delicacy, but if they do, it is quite probable that, in time, we too will be eating our daily mail. The sales of magazines and newspapers should go up with a new slogan "Read it today, eat it tomorrow."

I enjoy "The Chaff" as it is but this should help to make it even more popular. Anonymous.

Letter to the Editor

To the Editor:

S'land High passing thoughts; enthusiasm created enthusiasm short-lived S'land High "creamated"? whood ever know.

How could we, the student body, rattle the rafters or shake the windows with our false cheers. Could they be else? One look at the packed gym, the cheering crowd of the noon hour and another at the cheering few at the games Friday was enough to convince anyone that we are all but a dead group. A pep rally revives our lost spark for an instant, but then it dies almost immediately. Should we do something or just let it die?

Signed -O

Senior B's Defeat Pentiction On Friday

Led by the high scoring of Gordon Smith, the Senior B boys surged to victory over Pentiction Friday night. The game started slowly with little action in the first and second quarters and the score deadlocked at 6-6 at half time. Summerland was leading by a few points at the end of the 3rd quarter. With less than three minutes to play in the last quarter, Pentiction tied the score, adding some excitement to an otherwise dull game. Summerland immediately retaliated, and went on to win the game 17-13.

The senior girls were defeated by Pentiction. Pen Hi went ahead in the first quarter and by the end of the first half the score was 15-6. Summerland picked up in the third quarter but Pentiction stayed ahead to win by a score of 28-17.

The final game was played between the Rockets and the Lakers and was the most exciting of the night. Summerland led 17-15 at the end of the first quarter, and at half time the score was tied 25-25. The Lakers, under the able leadership of Richard Skermer, pulled ahead in the third quarter 46-34. The Rockets tried gamely to overtake the Lakers, but the final score was 67-50 in favor of Pen Hi.

Future Teachers Confer At UBC

More than 120 high school students from 60 B.C. schools registered Jan. 16 for the second annual Future Teachers Clubs conference at UBC.

Following registration, the delegates toured the campus and had lunch at the Men's Common Block. Topics for afternoon discussion were "Your life on the campus next year", "The college of education" and "How to have more effective future teachers clubs."

After a supper on the campus, conference delegates saw the Harlem Globe Trotters perform in the War Memorial Gymnasium.

Dean Scarfe addressed the conference with a two hour lecture. He stated that an important characteristic of a teacher is a sense of humor. His lecture was followed by a round of discussion.

Delegates toured Vancouver in chartered buses and were guided through B.C. Electric Building and the British Columbia Building at the PNE grounds.

The two delegates attending from Summerland were Carolyn Reid and David Krause.

Pep Rally Held on Friday

The second Pep Rally of the year was held on Friday at 11:35 a.m. The purpose of the Rally was to boost school spirit for the games played against Pentiction on Friday night.

As the students entered the gymnasium they beheld the limp body of a scarecrow hanging on a rope, the scarecrow dressed in the colors of Pen Hi Lakers.

The program started with cheers from all four houses, followed by the introduction of the teams, and ended with a game between the senior A boys and senior girls.

Lots Of Hot Water As You Like It

It takes a lot of hot water to make a house a home, but an automatic gas water heater does the job efficiently and economically for millions of families all over North America.

A plentiful supply of hot water, once a luxury that only the wealthy could enjoy, is a necessity of modern living.

The desire for hot water dates back thousands of years. A wealthy Popmeian used one of the first known water heaters in history 2,000 years ago. It consisted merely of a water tank which circulated cold water through the hollow sides of a container filled with hot coals. It was not until the early 1800's that gas was used to heat water. That first unit, with its uninsulated tank and manually operated burner, was the forerunner of today's streamlined automatic gas water heater. Because hot water cleans 2 to 20 times faster than cold water, it has more than 140 uses in the modern home. One of the strongest weapons against dirt and the spread of disease, it makes housework easier and personal cleanliness a pleasure.

During the last few years, the demand for hot water in Canadian homes has soared because of increased population and the installation of more automatic washing machines, dishwashers and bathroom facilities.

All of these new facilities require more hot water. Experts have figured that a tub bath uses 15 gallons of hot water, a shower three gallons per minute, an automatic clothes washer 18 gallons per load, an automatic dishwasher five gallons per load, hand dishwashing three gallons per load, food preparation three gallons per meal and household cleaning five gallons a day.

In the new automatic gas storage water heaters, a thermostat automatically controls the temperature. When hot water is drawn off, it is replaced in the tank by the same amount of cold water. And, when enough water has entered the tank to lower the temperature below the thermostat setting, the thermostat turns on the gas.

As the water reaches the desired temperature, the gas is automatically shut off.

J. E. O'Mahony headed the get out and vote campaign and secretary Lorne Perry said that more people asked for transportation in the recent civic elections than at any other time.

Reeve F. E. Atkinson officiated at the installation of the new president, W. S. (Scotty) Ritchie and vice-president, W. A. Gilmour.

Other officers are treasurer E. R. Butler; secretary Lorne Perry, executive members Fred Schumann, Colin McKenzie, Wm. Fell, Bob Barkwill, J. S. Kirk, G. C. Johnston, Mrs. E. O. White, Mrs. T. M. Croil.

BCFGA Conference

Wm. MacGillivray, substituting for Agriculture Minister Newton P. Steacy, who is ill, promising government financial support in the industry's grader research program.

Mr. MacGillivray said: the government had watched with interest the attempts of fruit growers to solve their soft fruit grading problems.

"I now am able to say the government is preparing to place an engineer at your disposal to assist in your experiments and also that we are prepared to help you financially. I'm sure you'll be hearing from Mr. Steacy on this matter as soon as he gets back to work."

Mr. MacGillivray praised the growers for their fine organization but warned them against becoming over-organized.

"This is the age of organization," he said. "Possibly we tend to become over-organized. Never have we spent so much of our time attending to organizational matters. Possibly production in many fields is not as high as it could be because of lack of personal attention to production. A farmer should know his land and his crop and spend the maximum on production. Nothing can beat sound land management."

Admitting that governments at times tended to lose touch with the men on the land, Mr. MacGillivray said one of the essential features of good government was that the men in office did not lose contact with the man involved in production.

"We must keep our feet on the ground and not lose contact."

Touching briefly on marketing problems and forecasting tough competition for years to come, Mr. MacGillivray said the many changes during past years had seen fierce competition introduced on markets we used to regard as traditionally ours.

R. Nyffeler, Oyama thanked the speaker and moved that a telegram be sent to Mr. Steacy wishing him a speedy recovery.

Mr. Walrod said in respect to the marketing of the 1959 crop that "The sales program for 1959 was designed to recover the greatest return for the growers. While accepting certain risks in consideration of the situation over which we had no control, and the general quality produced by the season, we believe we have been reasonably successful. We know that there has been some consumer dissatisfaction, but this has been by no means limited to Handipak McIntosh. Many deliveries of earlier commodities had proved equally, if not more, unsatisfactory. While some Western Canadian consumers may wonder what happened to B.C. fruit this year, others may realize that the cause is the same as the one that left much of their grain crops unharvested. We are confident that when we offer equivalent quality at an equivalent price that the consumer choice in Western Canada will continue to be for B.C. fruit."

On Wednesday there was warm discussion over a Creston resolution asking that vehicles bearing out of province license plates be allowed to transport 20 standard packages of fruit, their whole season's allotment, as against the 10 packages now permitted.

It was vigorously pointed out that this would amount to discrimination against B.C. residents and an amendment making the increase applicable to all was passed and the resolution in a secret ballot was carried 40-29. Interpretation of this resolution is that it will actually reduce the volume of fruit transported out of the regulated area as formerly a family was allowed 10 packages and in many cases three and four families could be represented in one vehicle and thus take out 30 or 40 boxes. Now the control will be applied to vehicles.

A resolution from Penticton asking publication of claims against packinghouses and all pertinent data, was defeated by the delegates, the thinking apparently, that this would mean too much public washing of dirty linen.

At noon today the convention defeated a much amended resolution which originated from Glenmore and proposed that no person shall hold office or be nominated for office unless he had signed the three party contract.

"Frustrated" was the word used as the executive was reporting on proposals to test dwarf trees for replanting orchards which took the severe frost beatings, the last in 1955.

Thousands of trees were killed, then or have died since, or have been uprooted by their owners because they were no longer good producers. Roy Lucio Keremeos, touched with a declaration other businesses, other es of agriculture, seen get immediate aid in agencies or disasters by fruit industry was still ing for government on the 1955 loss.

He said that almost as the Alberta crop was frozen "no but frozen" a bill before parliament to help wheat farmers. But fruit growers had been ing five years to get that help would be them, and still didn't Executive member Taylor said officer members of the BCFG "frustrated" in effort obtain action.

For a time they had the MacPhee royal mission report for g

That report divided responsibility between

The federal government had placed responsibility on the province.

The illness of Agriculture Minister Steacy blocked negotiations with him.

Mr. Taylor said "we were unable to see Mr. Bennett in Victoria, when he visited Kelowna he would meet them only as their MLA rather than as premier, and any reference to government thing was taboo, "a very convenient position for him to take." MLA Bennett had suggested a provincial-federal conference to deal with the frost loss situation.

"In our opinion... such conference would be pretty futile thing" stated Mr. Taylor. A conference of future policy might be worth while but as to 1955 loss "we are not prepared to accept" the premier's suggestion.

The executive reported action on proposals to sales level, in accounting and in other phases recommended in MacPhee report

But growers themselves were disappointingly slow to get to work on packinghouse amalgamation as a means of cutting "middle man" cost

A new project before the growers is "guaranteed annual returns" to help bridge bad crop years.

S. J. Land of Okanagan Centre, offered a special committee's proposal that fund be set up, with equal contribution by growers and government, to serve as sort of crop insurance. This project is to be developed further before action taken.

Assessments Up Over Million In Past 5 Years

Assessment values in the Municipality of Summerland have jumped $1,932,450 during the last five years Municipal Assessor J. P. Sheeley reported to council last night.

This increase results in some measure from increased valuation of lake shore property and some residential view properties in lower town, but the main increase stems from new residences built and new subdivisions opened up during the past five years.

Total assessment now stands at $9,232,260.

Mr. Sheeley reported that in 1959 all land was re-assessed to bring it to the 60 percent level of the four year average 1955-59, using 1955 as the base year.

All improvements in the commercial district re-assessed, using 60 percent of replacement cost, on a four year average (1955-59) with 1953 as the base year.

All new buildings brought up to date.

All records and reports kept up to date.

Since the last re-assessment of land, the largest increase in value has been on lake front property with a slight increase on view property. Subdivision lots in the West Summerland district have increased in value very little.

In re-assessing the commercial district it was found that the land was at the correct level. The older buildings were assessed too high and were lowered accordingly while the newer buildings were generally too low and had to be increased.

There is no indications that values are declining on any type of property except maybe on farm land of over five acres. However it may take a little longer to sell residential property above the $10,000 level.

In 1960 a start will be made on re-inspecting all dwellings in the Municipality with a view to adjusting the depreciation and picking up any improvements.

Olympic Wrestlers Here Saturday

Saturday at 8:00 p.m. the Summerland High School Gymnasium will echo to the grunts and groans of the province's top amateur wrestlers as two teams, one from the University of British Columbia and one from Quesnel, will put on a series of 9 minute bouts which will provide a preview of the Olympic trials. Many of the wrestlers appearing on Saturday evening will be meeting each other later on to compete for a place on the provincial Olympic team.

To add to the evening and provide local color will be several Summerland wrestlers. Local wrestlers appearing will be Norman Smith, Ken Mountford, Paul Bartello, Maurice Braniff, Harry Derosier, Duane Dick inson and Paul Roberge.

A special bout will feature two heavyweights John Hargrove of North Vancouver and Keith Maltman from Kelowna. Both are experienced wrestlers and this bout alone should be well worth seeing.

Hosp. Aux. Raised $4000 Not $400

Owing to a typographical error (failure of a matrix to drop) it was reported last week that the Hospital Ladies Auxilliary had raised $400 during the year. This should have read $4,000 just ten times as much as was reported and a tidy round sum of which the Ladies Hospital Auxilliary can well be proud.

School Trustees Will Be Guests Of PTA

The February meeting of the Summerland PTA will be held Thursday, February 4th in the High School Library. This meeting should prove to be of special interest to everyone in the community. The school board, consisting of secretary treasurer R. E. Tingley, chairman Tom Manning, Ken Boothé, John Bennest, Eric Brinton and Harvey Wright will be guests.

It is hoped that a large attendance will meet the board members and hear of their qualifications and duties.

At this meeting they will present the proposed planned building program.

This is a wonderful opportunity for Summerland citizens to find out more about their schools. It is also an opportunity to ask questions pertaining to school matters.

Local Investors Like Debentures

Twenty-eight thousand dollars of the $35,000 Canyon dam debentures have been locally subscribed, Municipal Clerk Gordon Smith reported to council last night.

This leaves only $8,000 worth of debentures to be taken up and it is considered that these will be snapped up in the near future.

This is the second time that council has financed a money bylaw locally.

Reeve F. E. Atkinson expressed satisfaction at the response to the offering.

Big advantage of local financing is that it keeps interest money at home. Ready response of local investors also demonstrates confidence in the financial stability of the municipality.

Many Far Reaching Matters Approved

Despite low returns for their produce . . . despite grumblings from many sectors of the fruit belt that every effort is not being made to sell the crop . . . despite the fact that charges have been made during the past year that industry officers do not represent the "local level" of primary producers delegates attending the 71st annual convention of the BCFGA re-elected all their directors for the coming year — with one exception on the board of governors of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd.

All of which adds up to a vote of confidence in industry leaders.

The three day parley wound up shortly before midnight Thursday after delegates slugged through 30-odd resolutions which had

Orchard Run

By Wally Smith

Begins in the orchard

For a long time this column has been advocating the growing of better fruit if the industry was ever to get back on a paying basis.

It is gratifying to learn that many more growers are coming to realize this and are making themselves heard in the locals and at the BCFGA convention.

To anyone who took a careful look it was quite obvious the grower was losing money on the production of a large percentage of cee grade apples. There was a time when he was making money on such fruit but that time was passed some years ago.

And it didn't require an expert in economics to see that, under the modern method of retail selling and customer selection there was little room in the market quality.

place for fruit of unattractive appearance and low

Keen competition

Every year that has become more and more evident. It is also evident that fruit growers in other areas are aware of this and are supplying the markets with apples of good appearance and good quality in some cases better than the Okanagan product.

There is ever growing concern at the orchard level with this large volume of low grade fruit that is so difficult to sell and this year's BCFGA convention had almost a dozen resolutions designed to do something about it.

Many of these are aimed at limiting the size and quantity of cee grade so that our apples will not be at a disadvantage as they were last fall when they had to compete with a better product from Ontario; Wisconsin and Michigan.

Quality begins in the orchard. Unless the grower produces good quality fruit the sales agency isn't going to have much to offer the buyer who demands quality.

A grower problem

Our problem in the Okanagan is fundamentally a grower problem. The grower must adjust his production by growing better strains, better varieties and improved orchard practices so that cee grade is kept to a minimum. Proposed changes in packing regulations if implemented by the sales agency will keep much of this low grade fruit off the market and improve our sales position.

We could also do with im-

On Monday between the hours of 6:30 and 8 p.m. the Summerland Kinsmen Mothers' March will be held.

The very fact that it is the mothers who march, accentuates the need to raise funds for the rehabilitation of the victims of polio.

The dread disease is believed conquered to the extent that Salk Vaccine is used to combat it, but the effects of polio still need to be fought and crippled victims restored to a life of usefulness.

Summerland Kinsmen turned over $1,000 last year to the Kinsmen polio fund. This year they hope to do even better, for funds are sorely needed. It costs on an average more than a $1,000 to restore even

B.C.'s New Labor Law, What It Does

A public opinion survey recently taken in British Columbia shows there is a good deal of public concern over our rash of labor-management troubles in the past few years.

But there is also much confusion about the situation and the actual processes involved. The survey makes it clear that few people understand the laws that govern labor relations and the public is only vaguely aware of changes in the law, and the real effect of these changes.

For example, while 56 percent of the people interviewed knew that labor laws had been passed in British Columbia last year, namely the much publicized Bill 43, that became the new Trade Unions Act, only 15 percent were able to name one provision of the bill. About a quarter of those interviewed thought that it "out-lawed strikes", which of course it does not do.

The processes of bargaining and procedures involved in labor management negotiations are set out in the Labor Relations Act of 1954. This is the law governing the phase of labor-management relations.

But the so-called rights of labor unions were embodied in the Trade Unions Act which dates back to 1902. This was the law that was changed by Bill 43 which became the new Trade Unions Act. Bill 43 one polio victim to a life of usefulness and there are many, still waiting their turns.

The money we give to the Kinsmen for the polio fund, like the money we give to the Cancer Society, the Red Cross and to the fight against TB is like bread cast upon the waters.

When you give to the Marching Mothers of Summerland on Monday there is the possibility that your donation will be returned a thousand fold in restoring, or in protecting one of your own loved ones, or someone in your own community.

In any event, in giving to the Marching Mother who calls at your door on Monday you will be giving towards a great humanitarian endeavor, one of which you can be proud to be associated.

amended rights and prohibitions of both unions and management and effects the conducting of both strikes and lockouts, though in no sense prohibiting either. Its main provisions should be understood by the public. And the reason why certain practices have been made illegal should be understood as well in order that opinion will be based on reality and not on misinformation.

The main changes made in the Trade Unions Act are simple, and their effects are as simple and clear-cut.

(1) Unions are made legal entities that can sue or be sued for damages arising out of unlawful and harmful acts.

(2) Unions are prohibited from picketing businesses not directly connected with a strike and are restricted as to practices known as secondary boycott.

(3) Unions are made responsible for acts of their members deemed to be authorized by the union.

Employer's organizations were also made legal entities liable under the law for illegal acts and to suit for harmful acts.

The main effect of the changes is to prohibit picketing of premises not involved in strikes or lockouts; in other words, the prohibiting of sympathy strikes and secondary boycotts. The practice of declaring goods "hot" is illegal.

It should be understood that such acts have never been authorized by the law. Under the old Trade Unions Act the rights of labor were ambiguously worded and the question of labor responsibility was largely evaded.

The result was that aggressive trade unions were exercising powers, such as sympathy strikes and secondary boycotts, not conferred by law that did injury to businesses and citizens not involved in labor disputes. This was clearly harmful to the general interests of the province.

The complaints of labor leaders to the contrary, the facts clearly demonstrate that the real effect of the new Trade Unions Act (Bill 43) was to curb labor excesses. In no way does it restrict rights of collective bargaining. Nor does it in any way prohibit the right to strike.

OAPA Debate Name Change

On January 19 the Old Age Pensioners held a monthly meeting in the Oddfellows Hall with 36 present.

President Glen was in the chair. Acting secretary Mrs. Porter read the correspondence and treasurer MacDougald gave the financial report.

Three new members have joined, four died in 1959, three have moved to Penticton.

Mrs. L. Johnson spoke in favor of changing the name from Old Age Pensioners to Senior Citizens which caused a lot of discussion among the members. When a vote was taken the majority voted to keep the same name

For entertainment the president sang some Scottish songs, and a short reading was given by a member.

The auditor's report from Mr. Trippe was read.

Mrs. Bancroft was pianist for the meeting.

Mrs. D. Taylor, Mrs. MacDougald and Ben Mayne served lunch.

According to the Mood . . .

By SID. GODBER

Here it is January 27, and this column has just got around to wishing its readers a "Happy New Year".

So, Happy New Year everybody.

I brought in the New Year sat watching Teevee, made no resolutions — not even about dieting, although I most surely should — the bathroom scales tell a ghastly story.

Seems there are too many dinners, some rating the title of banquet, for a man who must reduce. The manager of the Russian hockey team, speaking at the civic luncheon in Kelowna on Monday which was undoubtedly a banquet, commented on this habit of eating, pointing out that we Canadians seemed to think the Russians were heavy eaters, but said the manager through his interpreter, "after watching you people here today I'm convinced we can't compete in that department."

Kelowna did it up proud for their Russian visitors, a group of clean-cut lads, who could pass any day on the street as Canadian.

I can't help but wonder though, what the Russians made of the speechifying. For example, the Hon. Phil Gaglardi, supposedly speaking for the benefit of the Russian visitors sounded funny to us when he tied in his notorious speeding record, but what on earth the Russians made of it. It would have been worse, of course if somebody had tried to explain that here was a Cabinet Minister of the province, also a Man of God, glorying in the fact that he is a law breaker.

Then there was, to us, the perfectly understandable thrust and riposte between the Mayors of Kelowna and Vernon, but again what did the Russians make of it?

And the CAHA and the BCAH representatives, trite and boring to all, let alone the Russians.

I think Mayor Parkinson would have done better to turn the show over to the Russians, the manager and the assistant interpreter could I think, have really given us something to chew on.

Not that I should carp. I got an invitation, enjoyed a whale of a meal — buffalo meat. Tastes like a cross between beef and moose, but good, a little coarser and tougher than beef, but not bad, not bad.

Had the shudders when I first sat down at the table. Salads! Seemed there were more varieties of salads than there were people, and all of them, to me, gruesome concoctions. I thought, jeeppers here's where I go into the reach for a bun routine while explaining to my neighbors that I'm on a diet.

What looked like a salad was handed to me. I hastened to pass it on to my neighbor, Herb Geddes of Penticton. Herb poked into what looked like a salad and bared a lovely hunk of salmon. Now I like baked salmon, that isn't spoiled with horrible sauce and this one was pristine in its purity under its camouflage of green stuff.

Pass it back, pass it back, I whispered urgently to Herb Geddes, but Herb had already passed it on down the line and by the time the platter got back to me all that was left was the green stuff, there wasn't any more.

But it was a lovely meal. Grapes, apples and Jap oranges made lovely looking table centres. Y'know I've often looked at those fruit centres and wondered why people don't eat them.

I started nibbling at the grapes. I munched an apple when the Hon. Phil was speaking, his voice drowning the sound of my munching, then I had a Jap orange, and nibbled some more grapes.

When the show was all over I felt ashamed of myself. There as far as the eye could see stood these lovely looking fruit centre pieces, undisturbed by the hand of man. Only one was a wreck, the one in front of me. I'd sure like to know what they put that fruit out there for at these banquets, if not to eat, or maybe it's a ritual testing man's strength of will to resist temptation, ala the Garden of Eden. In that case I guess I'm a lost soul.

THE GREENS MADE IT ALL RIGHT! . . .

all $100,000 of it. Mind you it took Mr. Green 18 years — and that's what he made, not what he kept. Like the Greens, most of us in our lifetime will earn more than this imposing pile of bank notes. Question is: how much will we keep? Systematic saving at the B of M helps you keep more of what you make. Just one of those 100,000 dollars will open a savings account for you. Keep it strictly for saving, and there's one thing you can say for the money you put into that account . . . you have really got it made.

Annual Reports Given by Women's Federation

The January meeting of the Women's Federation of Summerland United Church opened with the singing of the favorite hymn of Mrs. Tom Washington Sr. a shut-in member. The devotional was given by Mrs. R. Chapman and Mrs. M. Cox with Mrs. W. Hemingway leading in prayer.

Annual reports of the work of 1959 were given. Treasurer Mrs. R. Chapin reported a total income of $1106.99 with a balance of $312.99 at Dec. 31. Disbursements included the sum of $440 to the WMS Dominion Board of the United Church for work at home and abroad.

Supply secretary Mrs. W. Ward reported 44 pounds of articles sent to the U. C. Children's Orphanage and Hospital in Seoul Korea. Quilts were sent to Burn Lake hospital and to Burnaby Home for Girls. Christmas gifts, sweaters and knitting wools were sent to Ahouet Indian Mission B.C. and 86 pounds of warm used clothing for men sent to the United Church Central City Mission Vancouver.

Mrs. A. C. Fleming reported 272 hospital and home visits made; 126 cards sent and nine church calendars delivered to shut-in friends at Christmas; 72 copies of the booklet "Upper Room" were given to hospital patients.

Social secretary Mrs. W. Ward reported tea served at ten meetings; morning coffee and afternoon tea served at the joint fall rally of the WA and WMS of Kamloops-Okanagan Presbytery in Summerland United.

Mr. T. D. Grant of Vancouver was a guest with his in-laws Mr. and Mrs. H. R. McKee of Parkdale.

Members gave home baking and aprons to spring tea and home baking for the WA fall bazaar.

In memory of Mrs. W. Jenkinson the sum of five dollars was voted to the work of the Heart Foundation of B.C.

The retiring president Mrs. Mrs. A. J. Dunsdon then asked the Rev. Phillip Louie to perform the service for the dedication of the new officers for 1960. Following this the new president Mrs. O. J. Lazenby took the chair and expressed her hopes for a beneficial and successful year ahead in the work of the Women's Federation.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction and tea was served by Mrs. Bancroft, Mrs. Harry Dracas and Mrs. Roy Angus. Mrs. J. Grant greeted members at the door.

B of M Personal Chequing Account Simplifies Paying Monthly Bills

Almost everyone agrees the quickest and safest way of paying bills is by cheque. Until recently there have been only two types of accounts on which to draw cheques current accounts and savings accounts.

Now there's a new type of account specially designed by the Bank of Montreal to meet the needs of husband and wife who pay by cheque. It's the B of M Personal Chequing Account available at the Summerland branch.

Personal chequing accounts are economical to operate. You pay nothing in advance for your cheque-book; the service charge is only ten cents a cheque. And there's no charge for deposits to your account as there is with a current account in which there's a charge of ten cents for each entry.

With a B of M personal chequing account you receive a quarterly statement instead of a passbook. And your cancelled cheques which are held by the bank for 20 years; are readily available to provide the best possible receipt for the bills you've paid.

If you'd like to hear more about this convenient new B of M service Earl Smith, accountant at the Summerland branch of the B of M will be happy to give you the details. See him soon!

Over Kelowna Macs Win

Last Sunday Macs Cafe Aces defeated Kelowna All-Stars 5-6 in one of the most exciting, fast skating and story book finishes of the year. In the first period Kelowna outscored the Aces 3-0 but in the second period Macs outscored Kelowna 4-0.

In the third period Kelowna took a 5-4 lead. With less than one minute left in the game Hooker compiled his hat trick to tie and win the game for the Macs.

Kiwanis

Club Notes

The attendance at Tuesday night's meeting was very encouraging to the new president, John Tamblyn and he reminded members that those who cannot attend should contact him by phone not later than 12 noon, each Tuesday.

Four guests were welcomed by the chairman.

The club singing was very enjoyable, and the club successfully led Fred Schuman through his songs. Fred insisted on paying tribute to "Dinah in the kitchen".

Jack Towgood passed another milestone in birthdays and was promptly fined for his good luck.

Scotty Ritchie advised that the Kiwanis Club and their ladies from Omark, U.S.A. would be present Saturday evening for curling and Vernon and Kelowna Clubs would be down in Summerland on Sunday, also for curling.

Guest speaker, A. J. Longmore, high school principal who was introduced by Walter Toeves, gave a most interesting talk on education in general and in particular on long range plans for a first year University Course. This matter is being submitted to the Department of Education and sanction is fully expected to be obtained. He also stressed the constant efforts of his staff to improve standards and methods. Special attention is being given to problems that arise for students in English, mathematics, social studies, reading and the type of tests that are given students. It was very evident from his talk that Mr. Longmore in conjunction with his staff, is giving very serious thought to the whole problem of imparting, not only knowledge, but a useful basic type of knowledge, to pupils.

His talk was thoroughly enjoyed and he was suitably thanked by Earl Smith.

Committee meetings will be held next week and chairmen are requested to come prepared with their agenda.

On May 3 a visit is expected from the Winthrop Washington Club, who will present our club with a new flag of the United States of America. All members are asked by the president to make a special note of this date.

Art Fleming President Of New Men's Club

The organizational meeting of the Summerland United Church Men's Club was held on Thursday, January 21 in the Church Hall.

John Dunn and Mr. Louie served a very fine dinner, after which a ten minute singing song featuring two solos by Jim Gourley, was enjoyed by all.

An instructional address was given by Dr. Woollard, of Naramata, who pointed out the many advantages, to the individual, and the resulting closer fellowship within the church created by such a club.

New officers of the club appointed were: Art Fleming, president; Will Jenkinson, vice president; Cyril Stent secretary; Jim Gourley treasurer.

The meeting night of the club was set for the fourth Thursday of every month, if possible. The type of program desired, and whether the meetings should be in the form of dinner meetings was discussed at some length. The new executive promised that an interesting program will be provided, along the lines indicated by the members themselves and extended an invitation to those who were unable to attend this meeting, to be sure to come to our next one, to be held February 25. Installation of officers will take place on that date.

The meeting closed with the benediction.

Promenade Notes

Square dancing last week end in Winfield with the Oyama Twirlers in Oliver with French's twirlers and in Princeton with the Haylofters kept dancers going in all directions. Reports from all three dances are very encouraging in that all were well attended and lots of fun was enjoyed.

The Okanagan Square Dance Association held a very successful workshop on Sunday with Kelowna Wagonwheelers as hosts. Les Boyer as emcee added the professional touch and the good crowd of dancers enjoyed a wonderful afternoon of dancing. Two new round dances were shown namely: Firefly and Marcheta. Out of these two dances Marcheta a lovely waltz was chosen.

Dancing this week is at Peachland with the Totem Twirlers as hosts. Bill Dickson will emcee and call the dance.

Manufacturer's Life Reports Good Year

The Manufacturers Life's 1959 new business of $468 millions was an all time high for a year's operation and represented a gain of 9% over the 1958 figure. An important milestone was reached during the year when business in force passed the three million dollar mark. At year end it amounted to $3,181 millions.

Total payments to policyholders and beneficiaries in 1959 also set a new record with Manufacturers Life paying out $54 millions in death claims, matured endowments, annuity payments and other policy benefits including $7.4 millions in dividends to policyholders. The total of benefits paid since the incorporation of the Company in 1887 now exceeds $780 millions.

President George Holmes predicts that 1960 will be a very favourable year for life insurance sales and that it will bring further solid gains for the Company.

Penticton Shopping Centre Opens Thursday May Have To Reduce Bruising Tolerance

Penticton Plaza — the Okanagan Valley's newest shopping centre — officially opens tomorrow, Thursday, with the feature attraction the opening of SHOP EASY. This smart store is even smarter and more modern than the Shop Easy store at Shops Capri, Kelowna. Although not as large, there appears to be ample floor space and the clever use of mirrors along the back of the store give the impression that the store is much larger than it really is.

Murals at each end of the store above the long meat counter and fruit and vegetable counter also add color. The concealed overhead lighting creates a lovely ceiling effect while giving perfect lighting on the

Shop Easy constitutes the core of the new shopping centre but from it stems many smaller businesses which when all are opened will enable shoppers to do their banking and men can have a shave and hair cut. There'll be a drug store and already in operation is a furniture and appliance store a bake shop and a first class restaurant in Luigi's. This restaurant is modern to the ninth degree but has managed to retain old fashioned comfort within its modern design. Here one can enjoy a cup of coffee or a full course meal including delicious Italian dishes prepared by an expert.

And at the Plaza Harmony House, there's everything in recorded music, from bebop to classic.

Here Ken Pattison, proprietor, an expert in the field of hi-fidelity equipment, stands ready to show you the best in hi-fidelity and to play you the best, to your taste, in recorded music.

Penticton Plaza official opening Thursday is a big event in the history of shopping in the South Okanagan.

Consideration may have to be given to a reduction in the bruising tolerance of B.C. fruit if it is to measure up to competitive supplies. This was the opinion expressed by the BCFGA grades committee in its report to the BCFGA convention. The committee is becoming increasingly concerned over the condition and quality of some of the fruit the packing houses and sales agency are being called on to handle the report said. Bruising continues to be a major problem and consideration might have to be given to a reduction in the bruising tolerance. Delayed harvesting resulting in over maturity and water cored fruit is also of vital concern.

In all probability additional concessions for water core could be obtained the committee noted but added "this is of little use when the sales agency continues to receive complaints on water core deliveries or outright refusals where fruit is found to be showing evidence of water core on arrival.

The experience with Jonathans during the past season should be ample evidence that harvesting of apples prior to development of this condition is essential.

Certain packing houses in the U.S. have set up a method of checking for water core at the packing house door and are classifying the deliveries into three categories with lots showing advanced stages of this defect being packed separately and sold to the best advantage as early as possible. Separate pools are also being operated for this type of fruit. This industry might be well advised to consider something similar not only on water core but also on advanced maturity fruit or on fruit of otherwise questionable quality.

On the question of stem punctures in Spartans the committee requested the Federal Inspection Department to ascertain whether or not any special tolerance similar to that in effect for McIntosh was required. A survey revealed that out of 357 individual lots of Spartans inspected 126 showed no stem punctures 132 showed less than two percent and only 11 lots showed in excess of five percent. The committee felt that there appeared to be no justification for any revision of the stem puncture tolerance on this variety. It would appear more desirable to continue studies in an effort to eliminate the incidence of stem punctures on all varieties rather than to extend tolerances as a means of overcoming any packing problem.

On the question of a special B.C. grade for peaches which would include certain minor defects and which it was felt might be sold in B.C. markets the committee obtained permission from Ottawa to include growth cracks up to one-quarter inch in length and an interpretation of split stone damage which would allow split stones up to one-eighth inch in width in the Canada No. 2 Grade. These concessions were in effect during the 1959 season and since the grade has apparently proved acceptable the committee is presenting a resolution to the convention requesting that these additional tolerances be now included in the regulations on a permanent basis.

The committee also reviewed the request for a special ripe peach pack for sale in nearby markets. After consideration it was deemed advisable to limit this ripe pack to Canada No. 1 grade only.

Convention notes

Research into the amalgamation of co-operative packing houses, with a view to reducing costs to the grower, was termed "disappointing" in a report of the BCFGA executive to the 71st annual convention in Penticton last week.

"No one expected that a major matter like this would be easy to resolve, but it is now apparent that many factors other than the financial position of the growers are involved," the report, given by President A. R. Garrish, said.

In some areas there is an apparent unwillingness even to study what might be accomplished through amalgamation of existing packing houses even though the cost of the initial study would be small, the report says.

The executive appealed for the active interest and support of the growers in bringing about packinghouse amalgamation recommended in the MacPhee report.

Other recommendations contained in the MacPhee report are being acted upon by the executive.

Mr. & Mrs. H. J. Mott Feted On Anniversary

Nineteen persons were present at a turkey dinner Sunday evening at the Prince Charles Motor Inn given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Mott of Summerland on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary, January 19.

The table was charmingly decorated with gilded white carnations, gold and blue place cards and a white and gold wedding cake made by their daughter, Mrs. A. S. Knowles of Campbell River.

Four generations were present, Mrs. Mott, Mrs. Knowles, Mrs. George Aylard of Sidney, a granddaughter, and a great granddaughter, Joanne Aylard.

Others attending the happy event for Mr. and Mrs. Mott were Mr. Knowles, Dick Knowles from UBC; Mr. Aylard; a daughter Mrs. Roy Hutton of Kamloops, and her son Kenneth Hutton of Kamloops; another daughter, Mrs. Ross McLachlan of West Summerland, Mr. McLachlan, Maureen, Anne and Neil McLachlan; Mrs. Mott's sister, Mrs. Ira Rush and Mr. Rush of Parksville, and Mr. and Mrs. George Graham of Victoria.

Following dinner the group went back to the Ross McLachlan's at West Summerland where the honored guests were presented with lawn furniture, pictures and a serving tray.

Additional honors were extended to Mr. and Mrs. Mott, when their daughter, Mrs. McLachlan and Mr. McLachlan of West Summerland entertained at an "Open House" reception for them. Many friends and relatives called during the evening to offer congratulations to the well known Summerland couple.

Mrs. W. L. McPherson and Mrs. Jake Ganzveld presided during the refreshment hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Mott formerly of Kamloops and Red Deer, Alberta, came to Summerland 14 years ago. They were married at Huntsville, Ontario, January 19, 1910.

No Formula For Crop Estimation Found Yet

"Crop estimating is a problem of the marketing agency and packing houses. It is essentially a mathematical problem of evolving a satisfactory formula."

This was reported by J. L. Mason of Summerland Experimental Station in an account on tests for the 1959 peach crop estimation to the BCFGA convention.

He suggested the B.C. Research Council may be able to help growers in arriving at a formula for estimating crops.

Following considerable preliminary work over a period of four years by the Research Station, it was decided in 1958 to proceed with an actual crop estimate in co-operation with the BCFGA. Technical supervision was provided by the Research Station. Recording in the growers' orchards was done by Barrie Webster of Kelowna who was paid out of the Palmer Memorial Fund. This is the second year of the work.

The method chosen to estimate the peach crop consisted of counts of fruit per unit of growing surface and measurements of diameters of fruits these being the two factors affecting crop size. Ratios of counts and of diameters were calculated to provide factors comparing the current year's production to last year's. The diameter factor was cubed to transform diameters to volume or weight of fruit. These factors were then applied to last year's crop figure to calculate the current year's estimated crop.

The results obtained were extremely disappointing.

The first estimate passed to B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. on July 18 was 1,146,000 crates. The second estimate of August 14 was 908,000. The actual crop outran as reported by B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. was 1,343,906. The first estimate is 85 percent of the actual crop and the second estimate is 68 percent.

Examination of the data has not produced any explanation for these discrepancies. However the climate during August and September was quite exceptional. Temperatures were down three degrees below the long term mean in both these months. Growers have observed that peach fruits sized exceptionally well in cool weather. Since diameters have the effect of their cube on volume of fruit a diameter ration of only 0.88 or 12 percent below last year's is equivalent to a crop estimate of 68 percent of last year's.

The data for the last estimate were collected early in August before the low temperatures had had much effect. It is possible therefore that the unusually low temperature in August caused a change in the normal sizing trend that could amount to 12 percent of diameter by harvest time.

This project has now been carried through to the point of making one crop estimate as originally agreed. It is felt that the Research Station having refined the techniques to this point should not be involved in any further work.

Ladies Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion, Summerland has 48 members with an average attendance of 18 at meetings. This was reported at the annual meeting held recently.

Among activities during 1959 were donations to the local Girl Guides, the Salvation Army, CNIB, Legion Youth Training Plan and local welfare.

Silver crosses were placed at the graves of all veterans. Over 70 were designated and more have to be ordered as investigation showed graves that were not known by the LA and not marked before.

A dinner was served on VE Day and there were Boer War and Vimy suppers. On December 29 a Christmas dinner was given to older veterans who live alone. There was a potluck anniversary supper.

Two afghans were sent to Hycroft Military Hospital.

Mrs. Annie Johnston visited shut-ins and sent gifts and cards to various people during the year on behalf of the auxiliary.

Mrs. Harry Webster of Penticton, zone commander, presided at joint installation ceremonies of LA and Legion officers.

Mrs. W. S. Beames was welcomed and Mrs. D. Strachan won the raffle at the December meeting.

New publicity officer is Mrs. Emil Bonthoux.

Couple Honored on 25th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Johnston entertained on the evening of January 22, at their home in Parkdale, to honor Mr. and Mrs. Frank Doumont on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary. About 15 friends were present to congratulate the guests of honor and to wish them many more happy years together.

The lace covered table was centred with an anniversary cake iced in silver and white, made by Mrs. Harvey Mitchell to commemorate the happy event. Silver candles in a silver candelabra completed the decoration.

Mrs. C. Bleasdale and Mrs. Mitchell assisted Mrs. Johnston in serving the guests and a happy evening was enjoyed by all.

Others present were: Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. C. Bleasdale, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Long, Mrs. Kay Sanborn, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Winter, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Heales and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Laidlaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Doumont are leaving shortly to visit Mrs. Johnston's sister and brother in law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grant in San Anselmo, California.

Chances are you'll never tie up alongside C.S.L.'s flagship T. R. McLagan at your Imperial Esso service station. But she's an Imperial customer too and an important one to you.

How ships like this giant grain carrier help Imperial keep the cost of gasoline down

The fuel used by the T. R. McLagan is a thick, heavy, black oil—quite different from the light volatile gasoline your car needs.

If gasoline were the only product made from crude, it would cost much more to produce. Instead, research and refining specialists in companies like Imperial have developed ways to utilize all parts of the crude, from light gases for making plastics, for example, to heavy asphalt for pavement.

In between are hundreds of other products, like oils, greases and fuel used by the T. R. McLagan and lubricants for your car.

Imperial's efficiency in getting everything out of the crude oil means the prices of all products are low. That's one reason government figures show that in the last five years the average price of things people buy has gone up nearly 16 per cent, while gasoline has actually gone down about half of one per cent.*

Boys Win, Girls Lose Against Oliver Friday

Both senior boys' teams were successful in defeating Oliver last Friday. The senior girls were less fortunate losing by a score of 29-17.

The senior "A's" edged Oliver's Hornets 54-43 and the senior B Comets trounced their opponents 27-17.

In the main event of the night the Rockets started slowly, and the contest was even all the way through the first half. Then, during the third quarter George Henly Frank Carey and David Davis started scoring points with their usual accuracy. This spurt was enough to unnerve the Oliver team and the Rockets coasted to victory.

Gordon Smith, the high scoring forward, led the Comets to its win. The game started slowly, the teams playing nip and tuck with the score. Then Gordon Smith's golden arm went into action scoring 16 points and paving the way to victory.

The Rockettes fought hard to come up with a win but they were no match for the height and deadly accuracy that Oliver possessed.

AN EVENING AT HOME

Come, enter this world of war,
Leave your peaceful thoughts behind
Enter now through this shot-riddin door,
Peaceful progress said some, a blind
For twisted minds that thought things
Cruel; and wondered what the next battle might bring.
Terror and distruction were things of the past
Now it's bound in a book, where it will last
Lies from the Liers, thoughts from the thinkers,
Words from the wordy, and all in a Book.
A battle of wits and words and unusual construction
We're nearing the end, an odd twist and we've finished the book, and lied it down.

New Class Slated For Summerland High School

School Board of District 77, Summerland, has sanctioned establishment of a senior matriculation class in Summerland high school subject to approval of the department of education.

The new class slated to begin in September will allow Summerland students to take first year university courses at home.

A. J. Longmore, principal of Summerland junior-senior high, has announced that details will be released at a parents meeting to be held in February.

The school board also sanctioned the "The Third Stream" or special class for non-academic pupils. The founding of this program will allow the school to keep up its standards in university and general programs and provide courses for the non-academic pupil thus preparing the student for a place in our society, Mr. Longmore says.

An honors graduation course is also being planned for university program students with a seminar course at the grade 12 level.

Senior Choir Seeks Members

Mr. Storey has organized a senior choir which meets every Thursday noon. At the last practice there were eight grade 11 and 12 girls and ten grade 11 and 12 boys. The choir at the moment is organized for enjoyment but as it progresses it may perform.

Any new members are welcome to come.

Pat McCutcheon Snow Queen

At the annual snow queen frolic Pat McCutcheon was chosen to reign for 1960-61. Other candidates competing for the title were Ann Clement, Breen Bergstrom, Jean Coates, Linda Grondland and Angela Taylor.

The dance was held Friday, January 22 and was enjoyed by all who attended. The teachers started a bingo dance and which was followed by other novelty numbers.

Visitors included the parents of the candidates and many teachers including Mrs. Hunt, Mrs. Armour, Mr. Andrews, Mr. Chalmers, Mr. Makse, Mr. and Mrs. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. McQuaige and Mr. and Mrs. Potter.

Students Voice Opinions on Recommendations

When asked whether or not they liked the idea of recommendations a good percentage of the students expressed the opinion that governmental examinations force you to exert yourself more and therefore you get more out of your schooling.

As one student put it: "I'm all in favor now but when I go on to university I'll likely wish that I had written governmentals."

Another student, when questioned, said, "I'm sure you learn a lot more and would be more prepared for university."

Other students felt that government examinations are a good thing because work doesn't "lag" in the last month.

Mothers' March On Monday, Feb. 1

Strengthening her arms and back with the aid of wall pulleys at the G. F. Rehabilitation Centre in Vancouver is polio patient Mrs. John Kuchuk who is the mother of four children whose ages range from two to seven years. With the aid of the Kinsmen sponsored B.C. Foundation for child care, poliomyelitis and rehabilitation Mrs. Kuchuk is presently undergoing an extensive rehabilitation program.

Polio victims, children with speech and hearing problems and persons severely disabled either from birth defects or by accidental means — these are the types of persons who directly benefit from the treatment services provided by the B.C. Foundation for Child Care, Poliomyelitis and Rehabilitation.

Each year the Kinsmen sponsored Foundation assists hundreds of B.C. disabled persons, ineligible for assistance elsewhere, along the road to recovery and independence by providing them with hospital and medical care, orthopedic equipment and appliances, physical and speech therapy, transportation and direct financial assistance where required.

These vital treatment services as well as the Foundation's work in research and prevention, and education are made possible by funds raised in the annual Kinsmen sponsored Mothers' March. Objective of this year's campaign is $325,000.

The Mothers' March campaign in Summerland will be held on Monday between the hours of 6:30 and 8 p.m. Residents may contribute their donations when mothers make a door to door canvass at that time or they may send contributions directly to the Mothers' March Campaign, in care of Rob Towgood, Kinsmen Club at West Summerland.

Why Bury Laundry Off The Beaten Path

Hey look- Somebody finally got around to being logical about the placement of utilities. After all must we always be hampered by stuffy tradition? Bedroom linen bathroom linen and the clothes that are changed in that area of the house make up the greatest bulk of the laundry with the kitchen contributing much less.

So why not have the facilities in a hall near the bedrooms or right in the bathroom itself?

Never again will you walk that long trail from the bedroom through the hall thru the kitchen and down the stairs to the washing machine toting the while an increasing accumulation of dowdy duds.

All you do is pass out of the bedroom door slide back the bamboo and push a button. If you have one of those cavernous old bathrooms why not cut its size and modernize it at the same time with that handsome fir plywood cabinet with the fold back doors? Use a cheerful color in easy to clean enamel.

Easy to make Rack Helps Keep Towels Off Floor

Two pieces of fir plywood four dowels and a bit of imagination can solve the towel rack problem in your house. As with other items around the home once the pattern of this rack is established several can be cut out at the same time and used as gifts for birthdays.

First step is to draw the end pieces on $\frac{1}{2}$ " fir plywood. This thickness is stiff enough to eliminate other framing. As fir plywood is marked PMBC Exterior is made with a completely waterproof glue moisture in the bathroom can never affect it. After the ends have been sanded to a graceful curve holes are drilled and $\frac{1}{2}$ " dowels inserted. There will give the rack all the stiffness it requires.

The assembled rack is then sanded and given several coats of varnish if you wish to retain the natural wood tones. Or it can be undercoated and painted with decals and fixtures.

A pair of gay decals would add color to the finished rack. Perhaps they could match the colors already used in the window drapes; bath mats or shower curtains.

The rack can either be toenailed into the wall studs or a piece of 1"x2" nailed across the back of the rack can be used to take the screws to attach the rack to the wall.

Many Matters Discussed

Improvement in Handling Sought

Growing conditions for the 1959 pear crop were hit by a severe spring frost that no doubt affected quality of the fruit. The blooming period was extended over three weeks, with the result that there was a wide variation of maturity which showed up when testing for picking dates, it was reported at the annual BCFGA convention.

In many orchards growers did not manage to control Psylla. It is recommended that growers pay particular attention to this pest in future as it has caused severe loss this year in cullage and down grading. As an example of this there was grade fruit in the Anjou a high percentage of Cee crop, a grade of fruit in creasingly difficult to market. The Cee grade packout of Anjous was approximately 19,000 boxes out of a total packout of approximately 87,000 boxes, despite the fact that only sizes 100's to 135's were packed in Cee grade. The remaining quantity of this grade on hand is heavy and movement slow.

The Flemish Beauty variety is as usual, moving very slowly. The total packout was approximately 39,000 boxes, the smallest for many years.

After consultation with B.C. Tree Fruits Limited, and a very thorough discussion, it was recommended that no Cee grade Flemish, and only sizes 100's to 135's in Cee grade Anjous be packed. With the downgrading because of pear Psylla, this was nearly disastrous to some growers.

Claims this past season have been substantial for the Bartlett variety, especially on the fresh fruit market. Growers must improve their handling of Bartletts particularly in the timing of their picking and delivery of their fruit to cold storage plants. They must remember that every 24 hours Bartletts are left in the orchard, shortens the storage life considerably.

The Pear Committee in consultation with B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., is recommending that Bartletts be picked at a pressure test of 19 lbs. All pears delivered to the packing plant within seven days will be commercial pears, without them definitely showing signs of local maturity, but all pears delivered after seven days must be tested to prove that they are not local maturity. To recognize local maturity government inspectors will pressure test pears. If five percent of the specimens tested show pressure tests under 16 pounds, then they will be declared local maturity.

Growers went on record favoring a more elaborate program of 'local' meetings dealing with all aspects of the fruit industry; asked the provincial government to carry out the recommendations in the MacPhee report governing tree losses incurred in the 1955 winter freeze requested continuation of the federal-provincial farm labor service; urged the incoming BCFGA executive to bring forward a positive program to sustain year-round interest in grower problems at the "local" level; approved a Glenmore suggestion that one meeting be held a year so that pear growers can be informed on the proper handling and harvesting of Bartletts, Anjous and other varieties; wanted more fruit and vegetable information published in "Country Life" (a farm publication); that a study be made of handling cee grade and cull fruit with a view of increasing returns to the growers and that a sum of $100 be paid to a grower who can produce to the varieties committee of the agricultural club a strain of Red McIntosh or other leading varieties which is superior in color to those now in commercial production — this grower to retain pro-nogating rights for the strain.

They also urged that provision be made whereby stack heaters be admitted duty free in order that crops may be protected from cold weather; that unemployment insurance for fruit growers be made available on either a compulsory or voluntary basis; and that the BCFGA market newsletters be continued. Another resolution of major importance which was approved covered packinghouse performance records. Submitted by Oliver, it asked that B.C. Tree Fruits take immediate steps to compile records on each packinghouse's performance in various fields of operations and supply the records to the houses, using a code number in place of the packinghouse name, the code number to be known only to the executive.

The Vernon local asked that the spot picking program of McIntosh apples be upgraded, and with little debate, this too was passed. It was pointed out this system of spot picking is "essential" to meet competition from Eastern Canada. From the extreme south end of the valley Oliver suggested that steps be taken to tighten up and make effective a more "thorough and conscientious" system of quality control and thus restore the prestige of the Okanagan grower for "quality fruit." This went through with little discussion.

Winesaps in the last few years have proved to be somewhat of a "problem child" in that they are one of the last varieties to be marketed. However delegates approved an Osoyoos-Keremeos-Cawston resolution that asked the industry formulate a marketing policy which would endeavor to put the Winesap on the market by the end of December or as soon as American Winesaps appear on the Canadian market. The locals suggested the sales of this variety be "pushed vigorously."

A resolution dealing with the request that peaches and Jonathan apples be disposed of by a grower "as he sees fit within the boundaries of B.C." was turned down by delegates despite vigorous opposition put up by the southern delegates. The reason it was defeated obviously, was that it was in direct opposition to the concepts of orderly marketing. Jonathan apples are not popular on the fresh fruit market and last year there was a surplus of peaches.

A resolution from Glenmore asking that any candidate for the B.C. Fruit Board be a signee to the present three party contract was defeated. It is understood there is only one tree fruit grower from the Central Okanagan who holds an industry position but who has refused to sign the three party contract.

Delegates approved a suggestion from the Winfield-Okanagan Centre local that the technical name of spray ingredient together with the trade of chemical sprays be placed on spray calendars.

The increase in the number of starlings continues to worry the industry and Glenmore asked that additional funds be made available for research in the field. The resolution was carried. Osoyoos similarly asked for a solution to the problem of controlling codling moth and other undesirable insects through biological or other means which would not be harmful to humans, beasts, birds or bees. This too was approved.

Delegates turned down a resolution from Summerland which requested the B.C. government to have all tree fruit nursery stock labelled as to variety and type of root. It was charged that many growers purchase young trees with no guarantee what root stock was used. A national resolution which was passed was one dealing with bruising of fruit. Submitted by Summerland it asked the BCFGA executive make a thorough study of the causes of bruising from the tree to consumer and having done so adopt the necessary measures to correct this situation used.

In order to relieve the duties of the BCFGA executive delegates approved the appointment of an acting president to be chosen from the executive.

Another resolution which could have been of major importance dealt with crop estimating. It was submitted by Keremeos-Cawston locals and asked B.C. Tree Fruits in future make crop estimates using the present staff of inspectors who are experienced fruit men. The resolution was tabled.

Under the heading of late resolutions delegates approved a suggestion from Okanagan Mission Kelowna locals asking that special consideration be given in the packing of Golden Delicious apples.

Most important resolution to survive tabling, amendments and finally pass with a solid majority came from the executive. The resolution calls for the establishing of a district picking date the harvesting of Bartletts at a pressure test of 19 pounds and the delivery of the pears to the packinghouse within one week of picking. Any pears delivered after the one week deadline will automatically become local maturity unless proven by government inspectors to have 95 per cent or more of specimens tested with a firmness of 16 lbs. or more. This marks the first step toward quality control measures which was the central theme of the convention.
