

ATTEND THE FALL FRUIT FAIR

Under the Giant's Head

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schumann of Trout Creek will be hosts to all the Queens and candidates at a coke party in their home following the queen crowning ceremonies.

Mr. Joe Sheeley, Summerland's municipal assessor, dropped in to tell us he will be attending the convention of B.C. association of assessors in Burnaby this weekend. (Joe says the object is to learn how to raise taxes painlessly).

The four South Okanagan candidates are spotlighted this week on page 5. Be sure to vote on Monday.

Weather report for the past week from the Research Station shows it was not as cold as we thought.

Saturday, Rev. C. Hutchinson of Berean Bible College, Calgary, will be speaking and showing color slides of his world tour at the Free Methodist Church.

J. S. Kirk of the Farm Labour office reports he sent out the first Mac apple pickers Wednesday morning.

Some say the art of baking a pie is nearly a lost one and that "the pies mother used to make are no longer obtainable. A number of Summerland homemakers will challenge that statement by their entries in the pie contest sponsored by the Women's Institute. Don't you wish you were a judge?

To complete road to Pennask lake

Mr. George Stoll has just learned that the efforts of the last two years by the Summerland Fish and Game Club have at last borne fruit.

Mr. Stoll told the Review he has received word that commencing September 15, there will be two cats and operators from the Department of Highways at Kelowna working for ten days on the remaining three miles of road to Pennask Lake. This is the section from White Rock Meadow to the public park known as Pennask Lake.

The Summerland Fish and Game Club and the Kelowna Rod and Gun Club are providing room and board for the operators while the work is going on.

It is expected that the local club, in co-operation with Kelowna and Penticton clubs will eventually provide fireplaces and other camp facilities at this 70 acre park which contains one of the few good fishing lakes in southern B.C. The only other building there at present is the one occupied by the Queen and Princess Phillip in 1959.

Reeve F. E. Atkinson will officially open the Summerland Fall Fruit Fair Friday evening at 8 p.m. W. S. (Scottie) Ritchie will then speak briefly on behalf of the Board of Trade, who are sponsoring this annual event.

The highlight of the fall season, of course, is the crowning of the Queen, to take place following the opening ceremonies. Retiring Queen Leona McNabb is flying home from the coast to perform this pleasant duty.

Incoming Queen Sigrun will have in her retinue her two princesses and the girls who vied for the crown this year. Queens and princesses from Kelowna, Peachland, Penticton, Oliver and Osoyoos have been invited to be present.

The band will accompany the girls during the march into the arena, and Mrs. A. J. Longmore accompanied by Mrs. L. Fudge will be the vocalist immediately before and following the crowning ceremony.

At the Queen's Ball to be held later in the evening at the Youth Centre, everyone will have a chance to meet the girls personally. Come and have a good time. Music by Saxie's Orchestra.

On Saturday night you can have supper at the fair western style at the Canadian Legion barbecue. Starting at 6:00 p.m. they will serve delicious barbecued sandwiches. So bring the family to supper at the fair Saturday night.

Another new feature this year will be the W.I.'s Emporium where rugs and quilts will be displayed. A large number of entries are expected and this is the first time rugs and quilts have been judged.

At the fair you'll be able to enjoy your tea in quiet and without straining your budget at the Women's Institute Tea Garden. Best of all, by arranging that this event is for "grown-ups" there will be a good chance for the older ones to pause and rest awhile after viewing the rest of the fair, or as an "in-between" after seeing part of the show. A special spot in attractive style has been set up for this phase of the big function, one a good many people will be certain to patronize.

For many years the ancient art and craft of the wood carver appeared to have been lost. Of later years it has come back and nowhere more notably than right here in the Okanagan, through the efforts of Harry Amundson of Nanaimo. Now Summerland residents will have the chance to see these masterpieces for themselves, and of wondering how a man could create so much beauty in so simple a fashion.

Saturday night at 7:15 the B.C. Dragoons Pipe Band will perform in the arena, and at 8:00 variety turns, with a magician, and local talent in rock and roll and western music.

Admission only 50 cents, school children free, and ticket good for both days, with door prizes donated by your local merchants.

There's more, lots more, so we'll see you at the fair Friday and Saturday.

Queen Sigrun Reports

My princesses and I enjoyed ourselves very much at both the Penticton Peach Festival and the Kelowna Regatta. Wherever we went we were treated with kindness. In Penticton we had a full schedule. We participated in the lovely and colourful crowning ceremony and later attended a coke party at the home of Dr. and Mrs. D. C. Boyd where we had lots of fun meeting and talking to the other guests. The yard with its tall trees was beautifully decorated by string after string of Christmas lights. From there we left for the Queen's Ball where all the visiting royalty was announced as they entered the ballroom for the grand march.

The following day our mothers and ourselves were invited to a tea party to be held in the open. Our gracious hostess was Mrs. C.

Nerby. There were beautiful flowers and shrubs everywhere and an organ played background music.

Then came the highlight of the Peach Festival - the parade. Our float received many cheers and we were proud to be representing Summerland. Besides the hospitality and kindness we were presented with lovely corsages and tickets to the rodeo.

Kelowna had an altogether different program for us. We took part in their spectacular parade and at the grandstand show all the visiting Queens were introduced to the audience. I had the pleasure of thanking Kelowna for inviting us and also to extend an invitation to the spectators to our Summerland Board of Trade Fall Fruit Fair. We were also given guest tickets enabling us to enter the fair grounds and the grandstand at any time.

Don't let it happen again next year, when it's so easy to plan wonderful vacations - and to pay for them in advance by steady saving at the Bank of Montreal.

Many modern families now operate their own "do-it-together" savings plan. Everyone contributes according to the amount he can spare, regularly.

Apple Blossom pupils to go to Penticton

Summerland's Apple Blossom School for mentally handicapped children has been closed for the time being, and the pupils enrolled in Penticton's "Happy Vale" School.

This move was finalized at a meeting of parents and the executive of Summerland Association for Mentally Handicapped held here last Wednesday, August 31.

Dr. J. Ratzlaff, president of the Summerland branch, told the Review that the reasons for closing the Apple Blossom school were:

Attendance had dwindled to only four pupils and the government grant of four hundred dollars per child, plus the money received by public subscription was hardly enough to keep the school in operation. According to Dr. Ratzlaff parents felt the children should have a full school day. They received training from nine to 11:30 at Apple Blossom school here whereas Happy Vale school gives classes for five hours. The executive felt a full day's instruction under the present set-up here would not be feasible as the teacher's salary would have to be raised and finances were not available.

Dr. Ratzlaff considers the closing of the school as a temporary expediency and if more children who require this specialized training should turn up the executive will then consider reopening the school another year.

Parents are faced with the problem of transportation and a special committee has been set up to study ways and means of assisting them

Shower held for Miss Carole Allison

Co-hostesses for a delightful surprise shower for Miss Carole Allison whose marriage to Palmer Hoem of Campbell River took place on Saturday, September 3rd were Mrs. Ed Krause and Mrs. Ivar Nilson.

They entertained on Monday afternoon, August 29 at the home of the former. The rooms were tastefully decorated with early autumn flowers for the occasion.

The bride received lovely gifts contained in a cleverly designed replica of a Canadian Bank of Commerce, where the groom is employed.

After all the parcels were opened, refreshments were served, including a cake decorated by Mrs. Bob Turner. Among others present were the mother and grandmother of the honoree, Mrs. Hil-da Allison and Mrs. L. Bancroft; Mrs. Donald Allison, Vancouver; Miss Myrna Harrod, Dawson Creek, a house guest of the Allison's who was a bridesmaid at the wedding; Mrs. Walter Wright, Mrs. Harvey Wrig-ht, Mrs. T. W. Boothe, Mrs. F. R. Ganzefeld, Mrs. Roy Wellwood, Miss Ruth Dale, Mrs. Jim Porter, Mrs. H. B. Mair, Mrs. M. M. Stephens, Mrs. John Smith, Mrs. Del-mar Dunham, Mrs. Nora Blacklock, Miss Violet and Miss Muriel Banks, and Mrs. Jacob Likei.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Kirk of Trout Creek over the long week end were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Coleman of Olympia, Washington.

Unable to attend but sending gifts were Mrs. E. O. White, Mrs. H. Baldwin, Mrs. Janet McNabb, Mrs. J. Nelson, and Mrs. O. A. Grop-jund

Kiwanis Club Notes

On Tuesday evening the Club was back at its regular home and the summer picnics are over for another year.

While there was a good attendance, it is to be noted that several members who were not present, did not phone the president and advise him that they were unable to attend. The attention of members is called to this obligation, and obligation it is. This ruling was not laid down by the club merely to add another restriction, but it is an essential owing to the catering involved. Will members please, therefore, remember to phone the president and let him know when they are unable to attend. A ready response is looked for to this request please.

Bill Gilmour introduced his guest Joe Barre. Very pleased to have had you with us Joe.

Back once again to the normal routine of meetings, club singing was enjoyed and led by Ed McGillivray.

As Tuesday evening was possibly Earl Smith's last meeting with the club here in Summerland, he was warmly thanked by the president for all his work and effort on behalf of the club and was wished God-speed and good luck in his new post at Williams Lake.

Tuesday night was work night and all committees met and discussed their particular projects.

A certain member of the club appears to be having an unlucky year. It all started by falling in the lake, now it would seem that the dog got "skunked" and well - he could have fallen in the lake after playing with the skunk. His name is being withheld until all of his friends have been notified.

The club meeting was followed by a short directors meeting.

Vote as you please

Everything but the kitchen-sink is being thrown in the current provincial campaign and the voter is being asked to believe that black is white and white is black.

The fog of propaganda generated by all parties lies thick and heavy over the land, but as the voters grope their way to the polls next Monday they can at least say to themselves, "they've been telling me for weeks past what is what, but today it is my turn and what I say goes".

Next Monday the little man is king. It is the politicians, big men and little men, who will, come next Monday, stand silent and apprehensive waiting for the people's verdict.

Handicapped children need our help

The fact that Summerland's mentally handicapped children have to be transported to Penticton for classes only points up more the need for a proper classroom or building to be provided locally for these pupils. There are only four children at the moment but the number could go up at any time.

According to J. A. Richardson, Professor of Special Education at the University of British Columbia, between 10-12 percent of the total child population of British Columbia is handicapped physically, mentally or psychologically to a degree that necessitates special education provision during the school years.

In many places in the province provision has been made by the school board for a classroom for these children, either in the school or on the school grounds.

The Society for Handicapped Children then provides teacher and equipment with the funds it has available from government grants and public subscription.

In Vancouver the school board has taken over the whole operation and the handicapped children are directly under their jurisdiction.

Election Day, any election day in democracy is a big day. It is the day when the voice of the people is heard, it is no empty saying "vote as you please, but vote".

That phrase, "vote as you please, but vote", sums up our democratic way of life and it might be well to emphasize at this time, just before election day, that your vote is secret.

You can indeed vote as you please without incurring risk of reprisal, the only risk involved is that the people's choice is not necessarily the wise one, but that is the risk of democratic living.

So vote as you please next Monday, but vote and remember, your ballot is secret.

One argument used against complete integration into public schools is that there are no teachers with the necessary qualifications. This year, at UBC, under the direction of Professor Richardson, provision is being made for a class in special teacher training to be part of the B.Ed. program. Students will major in teaching "educable mentally retarded, trainable mentally retarded, sensory handicapped, emotionally maladjusted speech defects, neurological or orthopedic handicaps."

The Summerland School Board is very sympathetic to the problem but this year the request by the Society for Handicapped Children for a classroom was turned down. The School Board felt that financially it was not feasible to consider it at this time.

But the problem remains, a classroom and proper facilities must be found for these pupils, not only the four we have to consider now, but the handicapped children of the future.

Because of the parents who have dared to love their children, have worked for their welfare whether they were away at Training School, or have made them a part of their family and the community, the outlook for handicapped children is brighter than it has ever been.

By recognizing the educational problems we can make it brighter still.

Tips for parents on back to school blues

By EDITH HENRY
Parents Education Associates

At this time of year for many parents there is the problem of the young adolescent who doesn't want to go back to school.

On questioning a number of these students, it appeared that their top reason, in general, was dissatisfaction with some aspect of school life.

"I don't like the language teacher; we just can't get on," came from one group.

For the benefit of parents who are facing this problem comes a further study.

Adolescents such as the above have been followed after leaving school. It is evident that their dissatisfactions went with them.

They could not get on with the head under whom they must work. Some could not cover the tasks assigned.

Others still failed to find enough satisfaction, and still felt they "weren't getting anywhere."

It appears that only one third of these "drop-outs" are happy in their jobs. Their tendency to drift increases.

The basic trouble seems to be that they have not learned how to face up to the problems that confronted them.

Their point of view is immature. They are "givers up."

It may be that they have needed more understanding by Mum and Dad. "I know how you feel, but life is often this way. We'll stand by you to work this out together."

After all, the reasons they have given are not unsurmountable. How to get on with others, how to persevere with work, how to get the feeling of success, can all be learned.

It may be that parents themselves will need help in counselling their youngsters. Sometimes those outside the family can put things differently.

Yet, as the Atkinson Study emphasizes, "parental interest in education is an effective influence."

God calls workers to work for Him

By Rev. Norman Tannar
John 5:17 - My Father worketh hitherto, and I work.

God never goes to the lazy or the idle when He needs men for His service. When God wants a worker He calls a worker. When He has work to be done, He goes to those already at work. When God wants a good servant, He calls a busy man. The Bible attests to this truth. Moses was busy with his flocks at Horeb. Gideon was busy threshing wheat. David was busy caring for his father's sheep. Amos was busy following the flock. Peter and Andrew were busy casting a net into the sea. James and John were busy mending their nets. Matthew was busy collecting customs.

All of these men were busy at their own work, and although they had neither the time nor ability to do God's work they accomplished the work they were called to do by letting God work through them. Every Christian should be a workman for God, but no one can be a workman for God until he is the workmanship of God.

ONE-STOP BANKING

He won't be long. In one brief visit to his local bank, he can do all his banking, even if it involves sending money half-way round the world.

He can handle money matters this easy, convenient way because only a chartered bank provides a full range of banking services, all under one roof.

Day-in, day-out, in more than 4,800 branches in Canada, bank customers are making deposits, putting valuables into safety deposit boxes, buying or selling foreign exchange... using all sorts of banking services.

At your local branch bank, you can count on prompt, courteous and personal attention to all your banking needs.

THE CHARTERED BANKS
SERVING
YOUR COMMUNITY

WHAT WOULD YOU DO IF YOU WERE IN THIS POSITION?

You are in Toronto, New York or London... or maybe in Vancouver. You are trusted as a professional manager or advisor with moneys saved up by people or by companies of shareholders. Your job is to place these savings wisely.

In the past you have put some very large sums of money in B.C. (This and more money like it helped make our province for a long time the fastest growing in Canada.)

You have been disturbed by the 1958 and 1959 record of strikes in B.C. But even more disturbing to you is the prospect that, if the Socialist CCF party were to win in the coming Provincial Election, an ambitious small group of paid officers of labor unions now dominating and financing the CCF would control the Government of British Columbia. Joining union leader power over labor and industrial relations with political power over all property and lives in British Columbia, this group would have dangerous strength.

So, wondering whether to invest more money in British Columbia or to put it in Alberta, Manitoba, Ontario or elsewhere — without such risk — what would you do?

To help these managers of savings make decisions favorable to B.C., British Columbians should vote to reject the idea of State Socialism, run by a handful of union officers.

Messages from your local Candidates

W.A.C. Bennett, Social Credit

(William Andrew Cecil Bennett, Social Credit candidate, was born in Hastings, New Brunswick, and after completing his schooling he moved west to Edmonton. There he entered the hardware business. He moved to Kelowna in 1930, and was elected to the Legislature in 1941. He has been returned five times since then.)

Throughout the first eight years of Social Credit administration in British Columbia, I have steadfastly refused to indulge in the misleading practice of making campaign promises. Our Social Credit slogan, "Action Not Promises" and "Progress Not Politics" mean exactly what they say; and I will not now, or at any time in the future, break faith with the people of British Columbia, who have supported us so loyally through three elections, by abandoning the spirit of those slogans.

The Social Credit Government has good reason to speak of faith, for when the electors voted for us first in 1952, they accepted us on faith, not on extravagant promises. I believe it is entirely fair to say that the record of the Social Credit administration has shown that their faith was justified and I am confident that they will ask this administration to continue the management of their affairs when the general election is held on September 12.

In other words, the platform of the Social Credit government in this election is the story of its achievements during the past eight years. Here, in brief review, are the highlights of that story.

The public debt of $191 million has been wiped out, and at the same time the value of your fixed assets—public buildings, highways and equipment—has risen from $188 million to over $500 million.

On your behalf, the largest per capita program of highways and bridges construction in the free world, over $500 million spent in eight years, has been carried out.

You are helped in payment of your municipal taxes Owner Grant of $50.

The Social Credit Government's grants to education are the highest per capita in Canada, since 1952 they have risen by 335 per cent.

Social Credit Government has increased aid to municipalities to help them pay for more local services.

Sympathetic care for the aged has been provided by a program of modern housing for senior citizens to which the Social Credit Government has contributed nearly $2 million since 1952.

Agriculture has been supported through land clearance, disease control and drainage programs and through advertising campaigns to increase consumption of farm produce.

The most progressive labour legislation in Canada—fair to both worker and employer—has been carried out and has earned overwhelming support despite violent partisan attempts to undermine it. As a result, British Columbia has enjoyed the greatest measure of industrial peace in its history during the present year.

British Columbia is the only province which has set up a separate Department of Recreation and Conservation, set up by the Social Credit Government in 1957 to develop our unrivalled recreation areas and build the mighty potential of our tourist industry.

This Government holds the rights of the individual to be inviolate, and believes that our citizens from every walk of life must prosper if our parliamentary system and British Columbia itself is to continue to prosper. That is why Social Credit makes no attacks on any special group, and that is why it represents no special group—only the people.

Walter Ratzlaff, C.C.F.

(Walter Ratzlaff, C.C.F. candidate, came from a farming family of 11, his parents being homesteaders in Saskatchewan. He took part of his teaching training in Saskatoon, was in the RCAF from 1941-1946 and after the war obtained his arts degree at UBC. He has taught at East Kelowna school, the junior high in Kelowna and George Pringle High in Westbank).

"I welcome this opportunity to speak to a specific group, namely, the people of Summerland and its surrounding areas. Dealing with matters where they occur is inherent in C.C.F. policy and practice.

I point out that municipal authorities are charged with making the decisions which are closest to our daily lives. To this end a C.C.F. government would encourage municipal enterprise and sponsor regular municipal-provincial conferences to discuss the general needs of municipalities.

Coupled with this, a C.C.F. government would agree with municipalities on a re-allocation of responsibilities assuming as a first step the full cost of health and social welfare. It would give leadership in establishing regional planning boards, assisting financially and encourage municipal participation in low-rental housing projects.

Thus provincial and municipal governments would work together, and in Summerland this would have a direct bearing on financing and building your senior citizen's home, your domestic water and sewage systems. This with legislation to enable long term borrowing at low rates of interest.

Further on the local scene, the C.C.F. provincial government would take a direct interest in your irrigation, power and market problems. Its policy would be, through your member and through regional planning, to bring Victoria to Summerland and Summerland to Victoria.

In this connection no community should overlook the issue of power development provincially, for the cost and availability of power will have a very direct bearing on industrial growth, employment, markets, and the soundness of our economy. I commend this to your thinking, as to its effect on day-to-day affairs.

The activities of an C.C.F. government are the outgrowth of an on the scene study of the people's needs. That applies municipally and provincially. That is why we speak of power and rural electrification, of homes and hospitalization, of research and action in agriculture, of making employment by fulfilling real needs.

Read our programme again for the details. It is my pleasure to commend it to you, and to ask your support.

Joseph Barre, Liberal

(Joseph Barre, Liberal candidate, age 47, was born and raised on a farm in Saskatchewan. Graduated from University of Saskatchewan 1936, BA, B.Ed., past president Kelowna and district Teachers Association; and Kelowna Canadian Club. Active with New Canadians and organizer of Kelowna and District Citizenship Committee. Active in church and Boy Scouts. Mr. Barre is married and father of five children, age 4 to 19.

The Liberal Party, under its brilliant new leader, Ray Perrault, offers basically two things, in this election.

It offers first, as candidates, men and women of personal accomplishment and representative of all walks of life. These include successful business men, Trade Union executives, farmers, lawyers, school teachers, including local candidate Joe Barre, respected high school teacher of Kelowna; the mayor of Revelstoke, and Merritt, a medical doctor, to name a few. Without men and women of high calibre, experience and integrity, a political party cannot give good government no matter how good its platform.

The new Liberal Party offers secondly, a carefully worked out plan to combat the pressing needs of today and the demands of tomorrow.

1. Emergency steps to relieve present serious unemployment.

2. An Economic Council of management, labour and government to promote co-operation to secure B.C.'s share of the world market, and to create new jobs and payrolls.

3. An agency of Consumer Affairs—a watch dog for the consumer.

4. End school taxes on homes and farms. Remove present injustices in the 5 percent Sales Tax.

5. Much needed Vocational Schools for Interior B.C. for our youth and those displaced by automation.

6. Chronic hospital facilities now for all of British Columbia. End financial tragedy of illness by MSA type non-profit medical coverage for all.

7. A better deal for agriculture, through research, technical and financial assistance to this basic and neglected industry.

The New Liberal Party presents the best alternative to the present government.

Harrison Smith, Conservative

H. S. Harrison Smith, Progressive Conservative candidate, was born in British Columbia, the third generation of his family to live and work in the Interior of British Columbia, his intense interest in Sociology and Law took him, after a successful business career, to the University of California and to the University of British Columbia. In the past few years he has been active in community development projects in Kelowna and the South Okanagan, president of the Kelowna Board of Trade 1958, active on the Kelowna Community College Committee, past president of the Kelowna Bar Association, past president of the Yale Bar Association and active on the Airport Committee.

1. A Conservative Government will end the hand to mouth experimentation with our natural resources and will immediately institute a comprehensive long-term plan to develop and safeguard our resources for the lasting benefit of all the people of British Columbia. It is recommended that a new department of natural and industrial development be set up to stimulate the processing of raw materials, to establish new secondary industries, to rehabilitate distressed areas and to stimulate marketing techniques.

2. A Conservative Government will regard it as a duty to develop as quickly as possible the cheapest source of power among the alternatives available. This means Columbia power. Columbia power would cut the cost of power to the people of the Okanagan, the Lower Mainland and South-Central B.C. It would mean cheap power to stimulate industry not power to enrich foreign investments and big business.

3. A Conservative Government would restore the farmer to his rightful place in the economy of British Columbia by providing tax relief from the burden of school and social services taxes, by bringing the benefits of crop insurance through the co-operation of the Federal Government, by expanding research and promotion on a long-term basis by stimulating planning, marketing the planning and marketing of crops for the B.C. demand, by providing long, low interest, long term loans for replanting orchards, water systems and the like.

4. A Conservative Provincial Government will aid property owners by completely overhauling the present form of land taxation, including Provincial-Municipal taxation. The cost of basic elementary and secondary education will be removed from land.

5. The Conservative Party in British Columbia is convinced that the future of our province depends, to a unique degree, upon broadening and maintaining the highest possible standard of education and the highest degree possible of opportunity for education. Upon adequate educational facilities all else depends. We must broaden the facilities for education in vocational, trades and business fields as well as in academic fields. This means a Community College in the Okanagan to provide locally, and at reasonable cost, training in vocations, trades and business subjects. Further, we will give priority to the establishment of a Teaching Hospital on the campus of UBC, as well as a faculty of dentistry.

Local residents take prizes at PNE

Residents of the Summerland area who entered their handiwork in the PNE this year can be proud of the fifteen awards their efforts brought them.

The Summerland WI received a total of ten awards in the weaving, rug making, tatting, crochet, embroidery, quilt and plain sewing classes, including five firsts, three seconds, one third and one fourth.

Stan Muir of West Summerland received the PNE Gold Medal for the best honey in the commercial class, as well as a first, a second and a third in other classes.

Tom Brown of Julia St., West Summerland won a third for pickling onions.

Although no one expects Canada to finish among the top at the Olympics, there is hope that this country may make its best showing ever in the Olympic Games at Rome. Between events, Canadian track stars enjoyed sight-seeing around Olympic village. Here they're seen receiving directions from friendly Italian policeman. Group includes Sig Ohlemann, George Shepherd, coach Hal Brown of Toronto (second from right) and Terry Tobacco of Courtenay, B.C.

These five promising young British Columbia students are among the 50 from all parts of Canada who will shortly begin their college careers in the Arts or Sciences at the Universities of their choice under the Bank of Montreal Canada Centennial Scholarship Plan. Each of these students will receive a scholarship of $750, in this, the first year of the Bank's seven-year Plan.

We, at the Bank of Montreal, congratulate these exceptional young people. We are happy to assist them in their pursuit of a higher education in fields where they will have the opportunity — through scientific research and pursuits in the public service — to contribute in some notable way to the common good of the nation in the years ahead.

To all of these students we extend warmest wishes in their endeavours to qualify for the additional valuable scholarships to be awarded each year until 1967, when the Plan culminates in Canada's Centennial Year.

HERE ARE THE ADDITIONAL AWARDS FOR WHICH THESE STUDENTS MAY QUALIFY:

48 SCHOLARSHIPS OF $1,500...

In the Spring of 1961, the top 16 of these 50 students will each be awarded a B of M Scholarship of $1,500 for second-year university training.

In 1962 and 1963, provided at least good second-class grades have been maintained, these same students will each be awarded a B of M Scholarship of $1,500 per annum... leading to graduation in 1964.

24 FELLOWSHIPS OF $3,000...

In the Spring of 1964, the top eight of these 16 students will each be awarded a B of M Scholarship of $3,000 for one year's study anywhere in Canada or abroad.

In 1965 and 1966, provided a satisfactory standard of work has been maintained, these same students will each be awarded a B of M Scholarship of $3,000 per annum for further study leading to their Doctorate.

2 BANK OF MONTREAL CANADA CENTENNIAL AWARDS OF $5,000

In 1967, to culminate this seven-year plan, the two top students—one in Arts and one in Science—will be chosen, from all 50 original participants in the plan, to receive the Bank of Montreal Canada Centennial Awards of $5,000 each for a further year of study anywhere in Canada or abroad.

Thus, to each of these two winners—if they have been participants throughout the plan—the Bank will have provided financial assistance amounting to $19,250.

Scholarship Students are chosen on merit alone — academic standing and character — by independent selection committees of faculty members of Canadian Universities. THE B of M HAS NO PART WHATEVER IN THE DECISIONS OF THE COMMITTEES.

Fair will observe 4-H Day

September 15, first day of the annual Interior Exhibition at Armstrong, has been set aside as 4H Day.

Matthew Hassen, managing director of the fete, added that a junior livestock parade will be held during the day.

Main parade of livestock will be held Saturday, September 17 at 1:45 p.m. Earlier in the day, at 10 a.m., a parade of floats will be staged.

In 1934 it was the Groceria, but when and why the name was changed to the Groceteria no one knows. Shown standing outside the store are Harvey Wilson, Art Dunsdon, the late Lawrence Rumball and J. Reid. Mrs. Lawrence Rumball brought this picture into the Review to add to our old time collection.

Rotary District Governor to visit

The Rotary Club of Summerland on Wednesday, September 14 will be host to Dr. Lyman Partridge, governor of the district number 506 of Rotary International who is making his annual official visit to each of the 26 Rotary clubs in Washington and British Columbia. He will address the local club and confer with president Ted Atkinson, secretary S. A. MacDonald and committee chairmen of Rotary administration and service activities.

Dr. Partridge is Chairman of Speech and Drama Department at Central Washington College of Education in Ellensburg and is a member and past president of the Rotary Club of Ellensburg. Wherever Rotary clubs are located, President Atkinson asserted in discussing the governor's visit, their activities are similar to those of the Rotary Club in Summerland because they are based on the same objectives, developing better understanding and fellowship among business and professional men, promoting community betterment undertakings, raising the standards of business and professions, and fostering the advancement of understanding good will and peace among all peoples of the world.

Macs place second in Quesnel Tourney

For the third straight time, Summerland Macs have taken second place in the Quesnel Labor Day baseball tournament.

This year Quesnel and Summerland opened the tournament at 10 a.m. Sunday. Macs had Hooker on the mound and he went all the way, giving up 6 hits and striking out 11. Quesnel started with Philpot, UBC's ace chucker, but the Macs drove him to the show ers in the fifth. In all Macs picked up 9 hits for a 9-2 win.

The second game for the Macs was at 12 p.m. Monday. They came up against Maple Ridge who were the pre-tournament favorites.

The game was a thriller all the way. In the 1st inning, the Macs got one run when Bob Parker singled and stole second as usual. He scored on Preen's single. This was, as it turned out, the winning run, as Sheeley on the mound pitched the best game of his career. Maple Ridge picked up 8 hits but they were scattered and the Macs played sensational defensive ball all the way. The Macs turned on the power in the last 3 innings to score 11 runs and take the game 12-0.

The final game of the tournament was at 5 p.m. Sunday and had the Macs against the powerful semi-pro Coquitlam team.

Menu started for the Mac and took the loss. He was relieved by Sheeley in the 1st who in turn was relieved by Hooker in the 5th.

Macs came to life in the 8th and 9th to score four runs but it wasn't enough and the game ended 8-4.

Lee Day, the Macs third baseman, was the batting champ and got a nice trophy. He hit 9 for 14, a .643 average.

Rick McPhee, Macs short stop also got a trophy for hitting the first homer of the tournament. The next game for the Macs will be about the middle of April 1961.

Joe Barre speaks in Summerland

Joe Barre, Liberal candidate, spoke to gatherings at Naramata and Summerland Tuesday evening.

Speaking on the Liberal platform, Mr. Barre said that provincial revenue is going up 30 to 50 million dollars, and that in order to shift school taxes from homes and farms it is estimated that only 13 million dollars would have to be found from general revenue.

Economic advisors to the Liberal Party in Vancouver including many prominent business men, not only endorse this long needed tax reform but maintain it can be done without raising taxes, he added.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. MacInnes and 3 children, formerly of Kamloops, have taken up residence on Beach Ave in Summerland. Mr. MacInnes is the resident unemployment insurance auditor for this area.

Dr. and Mrs. W. Mason are visiting at the home of Mrs. Mason's brother, W. A. Gilmour.

Girl Guides to have booth in fall fruit fair

Plans for the Fall Fair booth were made at the executive meeting of the Local Association to the Girl Guides held at the home of Mrs. Ross McLachlan last Friday.

As in past years, the group will sell home baking with candied apples to tempt the taste, but this year the responsibility for the planning and decoration of the booth will be shouldered by three of the five Girl Guides who are working hard for their Gold Cords. It is hoped that the public will give them a boost by making a point of stopping at the booth, as this is part of the next to final challenge they must meet before winning the coveted award.

An added attraction at the booth this year will be a guessing contest, with a nominal fee.

The proceeds from the booth this year will go to

Bonspiel results

Summerland's summer bonspiel wound up last Friday after a most successful week.

In the A event, Hackman of Summerland won over Ferrier of Kelowna with an 8-cup coffee carafe being the prize. The B event was won by Hallquist of Summerland over Lang of Penticton, fancy wooden trays being the prize. Walker of Kelowna beat Tyler of Penticton in the C event to win a brass plate plaque.

The seconds in each event received planters and the third and fourths, ash trays. Club officials hope it will be possible to hold the bonspiel again next summer and perhaps with an extra day more rinks may be accepted.

Locals

Miss Medori Matsu has left for Williams Lake, where she is on the teaching staff.

Mrs. Glen Bailie and her children were guests at the Hoem-Allison wedding last Saturday. While her they stayed at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Solly. Geoffrey Solly was home for the weekend also.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dolves have left Trout Creek to make their home in Vancouver.

Dr. and Mrs. Ratzliff leave this week for a short trip during which Dr. Ratzliff will be taking a refresher course in dentistry.

Misses F. H. and E. M. Howden are leaving shortly to spend the winter in Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hookham and children have returned home to Vancouver after visiting Mrs. E. Hookham of Parkdale.

Scouts enjoy camping

Sixteen Boy Scouts of the 2nd Summerland Troop under Scoutmaster Carl Jeffrey, and assistant scoutmasters Phil Richardson and Gary Schaeffer spent the long week end camping at Agur Lake. The little camp with five tents pitched saw much activity over the week end with the boys taking tracking instructions from Gary Schaeffer and afterwards engaging in a tracking competition, instruction in lashing and of course, fishing.

The main purpose of the trip was to map out a camp site to be developed by the scouts as a public campsite with tables, fireplaces, garbage cans, etc., so that it will be ready for use next summer. 2nd Troop headquarters will be here at this pleasant fishing spot 12 miles west of Summerland.

For some of the boys it was their first camp, and despite the heavy rain, the boys had a good time, returning home with a desire to camp again.

Under the Giant's Head
There is a shortage of cars to bring four handicapped children from Penticton to Summerland. If you can help phone HY4-2694.

What better advertisement can Mrs. Mary Wilson of the Quality Cafe have than to win first prize in the fruit pie contest at the fall fair.

One of the busiest places for the small fry at the fair was the working display of sand pile toys of Mr. W. Barton.

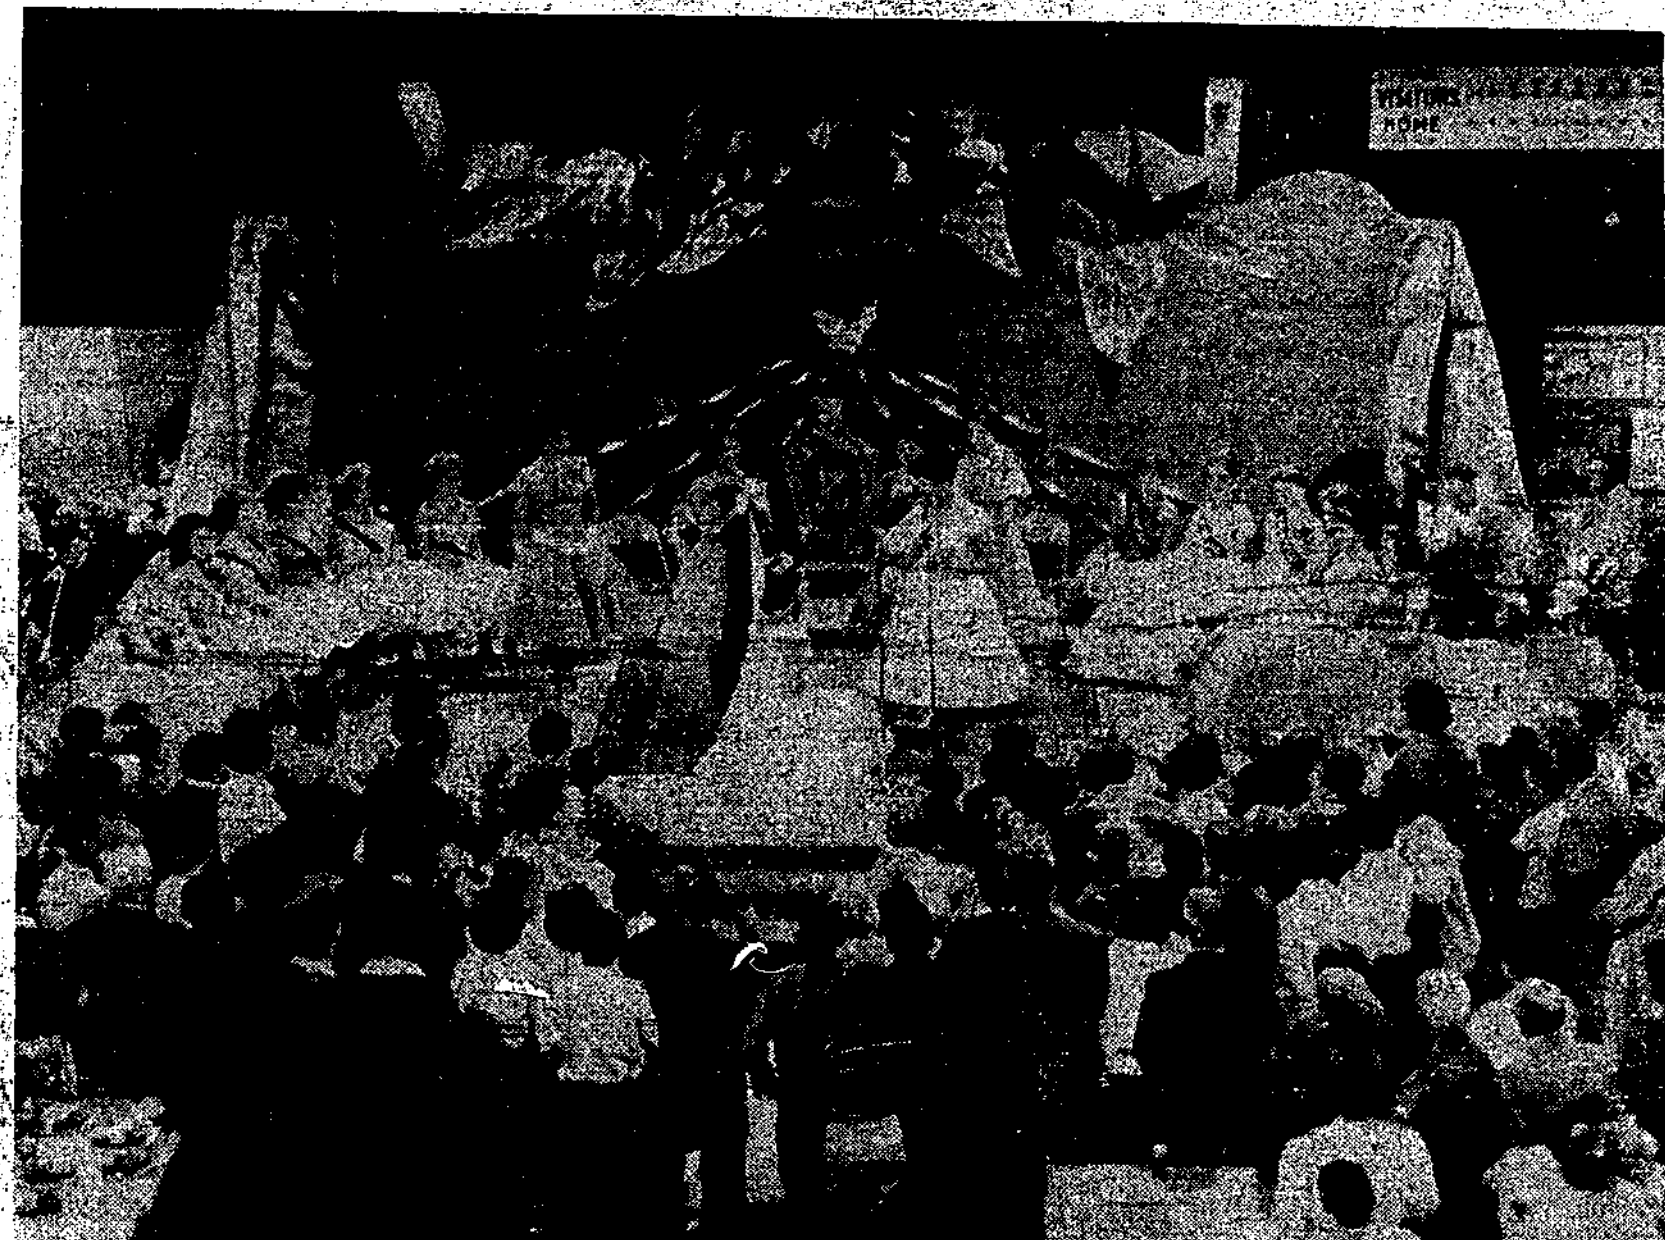

We wish to thank everybody who had such nice comments about our booth at the fair. The scratch pads seemed to melt away with over 6,000 sheets given out. Winners of the free draw for personalized stationery were: Mrs. H. R. McLarty, Mrs. Margaret McCuaig and Grace A. Muir.

Will these ladies please call at the Review office and tell us what they would like on their 250 sheets of notepaper and matching envelopes.

No doubt everyone has noticed the number of skunk around this year. Ron Andall certainly has — but as a switch, his seem to be the friendly type. Ron neatly straddled one on the road while driving his milk truck but a glance in the rear view mirror showed Mr. Skunk ambling off only slightly dazed. A few nights ago Ron stepped out his back door and sitting on the door step was another skunk. In neither case did the skunks make their presence known in the usual manner.

"The quality was high but the quantity was low." This was the remark over heard at the fall fair, concerning the fruit pie contest, rug and quilt contest and the fruit and vegetable competition. Someone else mentioned they thought there should be more commercial displays, so here's a thought for the Retail Merchants for next year.

Fall Fair attracts large crowds

Highlight of the fall fruit fair, sponsored by the Board of Trade, was Friday evening, when retiring queen Leona McNabb crowned the 1960 Queen Sigrun Meierhofer before an estimated 1,500 persons. Visiting princesses and queens were present from Kelowna, Penticton, Peachland and Oliver.

Ideal weather and large crowds made the Board of Trade Fall Fruit Fair one of the best ever held.

The fair was officially opened Friday night by Reeve F. E. Atkinson. W. S. Ritchie, trade board president, spoke briefly. Fred Schumann was fair convenor and introduced the various queens and their princesses. Mrs. A. J. Longmore was soloist. The Summerland Town Band led by Dr. J. L. Mason played for the fanfare and pianist was Mrs. L. L. Fudge.

Setting for the queen crowning was planned and arranged by Mrs. John Tamblyn assisted by members of the Kiwassa Club. Mrs. Lloyd Shannon was convenor of the queen crowning contest.

The Canadian Legion barbecue supper outside the arena Saturday night drew a large crowd.

The Women's Institute, which won the competitive silver rose bowl for the best booth in the fair sponsored a rug and quilt contest and a fruit pie contest. The rugs and quilts were displayed in a booth made to represent old fashioned country store and the attendants were in costumes of the period.

Exhibitors included wood work by Ray Blagborne, W. W. Borton, Harry Amundson, Fish and Game Club, WCTU, Little Gem Rock Shop of Peachland, Research Station, Hospital Auxiliary, home economics from the school, paintings in the park sponsored by Summerland Art Club and arranged by Mrs. Gwen Penney. The Girl Guides operated two joint booths, one selling candied apples and the other having a contest.

There were displays of pottery and stoneware by Peg and Des Loan; Olive Wilson, Kay Moys, Eileen McArthur, Marjorie Lane, and Allie Tamblyn. Peter Ochs showed sculpture.

An interesting booth was arranged by Summerland Sweets.

Attendance was high both nights and the interesting displays and exhibits impressed everyone.

Municipal council offers reward for information on park damage

Works superintendent K. Blagborne reported to council Tuesday night that considerable wilful damage was done to arena wash rooms during the fall fair. A door was pulled off, toilets were deliberately plugged causing water damage in both rooms as well as other malicious damage.

Mr. Blagborne also reported damage to the newly constructed park wash rooms.

In three instances the toilet in the park has had to be lifted in order to clear obstructions deliberately forced down. Also stones thrown from Station Road have made holes in the roof despite a heavy tin roofing used in building.

Council members are very concerned about this situation and are offering a reward of $50.00 to anyone giving information leading to arrest and conviction of the guilty party.

Council discussed the winter works program which begins this year in October. No definite plans are made yet but the building of a senior citizens home was discussed.

Application of W. Baldwin to subdivide his property at the top west side was turned down. Mr. Baldwin wanted to make three lots. There is enough for two lots in the holding.

Official delegates to this fall's UBCM meeting are Reeve F. E. Atkinson, councillor Norman Holmes and municipal clerk G. D. Smith.

What's happened to the Big Four football champion Hamilton Tiger-Cats? That's question being asked by Eastern football fans after losing first four games of season. Cats at times have looked like Bengals of old, as in Tommy Grant's TD catch, above, against the Argonauts. But such plays have been few and far between. Tiger-Cats' Western nemesis, Winnipeg Blue Bombers, are meanwhile romping through Western Conference play

BANK OF MONTREAL

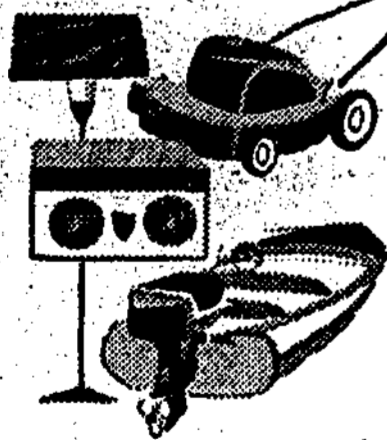

Family Finance Plan

Bring all your personal credit needs under one roof with a low-cost B of M life-insured loan

Here is the modern approach to finance the things you want to buy for your home and family... to take care of expenses for school, college, vacation and so on... and, of course, to meet emergencies.

The Bank of Montreal Family Finance Plan enables you to plan your purchases and helps you meet unexpected expenses under one single comprehensive plan.

Here are four good reasons why - whether single or married - you should use the Bank of Montreal Family Finance Plan...

- All loans are automatically life-insured. Should you die, before your loan is repaid, your debt to the Bank will be cancelled.
- Monthly repayments can be extended up to two years - or even three, if need be. This means that FFP can be tailored to suit any salary.
- You can borrow up to $3,500, depending on your income, to buy the things you want for your home and family, or to meet emergencies.
- Planned repayments help you run your income - instead of letting it run you.

If you have a steady income and can make monthly loan-repayments without hardship, you can finance almost any useful purpose through the Bank of Montreal Family Finance Plan. Why not talk to the people at your neighbourhood B of M branch... you'll like their helpful attitude. Whether you are a B of M customer or not, you will find a warm welcome.

Life defined

The people speak - and can speak again

If there ever was an election in which the result was in doubt — and by all parties, toward the end — it was the one on Monday. It was generally conceded the Bennett government would be returned, but with a greatly trimmed majority. The results show that most people disregarded the puff and fury of the campaign, and quietly made up their minds regarding what they desired — so quietly the voice could not be heard, even by the most "expert" of analysts.

A mandate has now been given the member for South Okanagan and his ministers — the only casualties being Newton Steacy and Lyle Wicks. This mandate carries with it an even greater responsibility than did that of the 1956 election — that the government shall "get on with the job" of bringing greater prosperity, greater industrialization and greater advancement to B.C.

If the government will heed the command their election indicates they will earn the acclaim of the people. If they don't, then four years from now the voice will speak in different tones, and with different commands — addressed to different people. For the power placed in the hands of the government must not be a source of pride, nor an excuse for overbearance, but a call to service on behalf of all in British Columbia, regardless of affiliation, persuasion, or opinion.

by Rev. Lyle Kennedy
Someone has defined life as "sensitiveness". It is a great definition. The lower down the scale of living you go, the less sensitiveness you find. The stone, for example, is numb; there is no life. The plant has some sensitiveness, therefore some life. The animal has more, therefore more life.

When you come to man you find the sensitiveness ranging out beyond itself, beyond its group, its nation and to God, and the larger life reaches out to man. The more sensitiveness, the more life. The highest, greatest life that has been lived upon our planet is Jesus Christ. There we find the supreme sensitiveness.

"For in Christ, we live, and move and have our being" Acts 17:28

TIPS FOR PARENTS

By EDITH HENRY—Parents Education Associates

THIS week I was invited to go shopping with an adolescent. I accepted the invitation, and came home feeling refreshed and gay.

Originally my place in the expedition had been that of advisor and guide. I approached the afternoon with some trepidation. Adolescents are apt to be difficult!

The tables, however, were turned, and I am still inwardly amused!

It began when we reached racks of men's neckties "reduced."

FORESIGHT

"Oh! do let's look at these. They make such nice Christmas gifts for the uncles and cousins," said my young companion as she swiftly sorted them over.

"Here's one for Uncle Arthur. He always wears brown. And look, it has the label cut off. That means it really is a good bargain."

My mind had no sooner got over marvelling at this young girl's foresight than it was called on to admire her shopping ability.

I found myself enthusiastically selecting colors for all the October birthdays, as well as for my male family members at Christmas.

Phrases such as the Scouts, "Be Prepared" motto, and Churchill's "Be prepared, and so prevail over," kept running through my mind.

Why was it that it had not occurred to me to "seize opportunity by the forelock?" What training had this young girl met on her short path of life that had not been vouchsafed to me?

The neckties have been delivered. To them will be gradually added other gifts as opportunity offers.

Birthdays and Christmas I can now face with a relaxed and delightful pleasure.

And our adolescents? They learn from us—we still hope.

But we can also learn from them, and in doing so set up a warm and welcome relationship.

Furthermore, if we can give them a few general principles to work from we are doing well. The neckties were a practical demonstration of this girl's code, Victorian code if you like — "Never put off till tomorrow what you can do today."

Let's start now

The overwhelming success of this year's Fall Fair, sponsored by the Board of Trade, can be attributed to hard work, sensible planning, and a tightly knit organization to activate these plans.

Increased attendance may be partly attributed to the change in date. But without the items mentioned in the first paragraph, the effect of the change would have been completely nullified.

There still remain some items that can be improved, others that should be expanded. We should have a full-dress discussion of all phases of the function now, while our memories are fresh, to make certain no principle is ignored, or item overlooked that will aid in improvement or expansion.

Then, with a concise analysis of these factors before us, we should start now on planning and preparations for the 1961 fair. To some, this may seem to be rushing things a trifle. In reply to such ideas we would state that most expositions are planned, not only for the one next in line, but also for the one beyond and sometimes, even for the one beyond that — in other words, they plan for three to five years in advance. Otherwise items could not be booked, or facilities arranged for a smoothly running function.

Summerland can take a leaf or two out of their book, so that, in 1961, the success we have just attained will be as far out-reached as the 1960 fair outdistanced those before it. That takes time — and 12 months of planning and work is all too short a time for it, so let's start on it now.

Beginners Sunday School

Three year olds are proudly beaming
Walking into Sunday School,
Feeling proud, and brave, and happy,
Learning of the Golden Rule.

Parents send their little children
To God's house — upon His day.
They will learn of love and kindness,
As we teach them, thro' their play.

Teach them of the sun, the springtime,
Of birds that nest in trees so green;
Flowers blooming, garden growing;
The Master's Love, in Nature's Scene.

Teach them thro' the things they're doing,
Helping Mommy, Daddy too.
Taking care of baby puppy,
Teaches kindness, thro' and thro'.

Singing hymns or telling stories,
Bowing little heads to pray,
Sharing toys, and happy moments;
That's our Sunday School today.

Mrs. Mary Squire.

Hospital Auxiliary reports summer work

The regular meetings of the Summerland Hospital Auxiliary have been resumed after a two month summer recess.

The group met last Monday night in the Health Centre. Several reports were heard from members in charge of the various catering projects and a report on the summer party held in July was given.

Mrs. Don Clarke reported on the Okanagan Auxiliary meeting held in Kelowna, which she and Mrs. E. F. Weeks attended. Thirty-six ladies representing Auxiliaries from Princeton to Ashcroft were present. Mrs. Coldicott was elected the Okanagan councillor and Mrs. Lyons of Penticton will be assistant councillor.

A very successful booth was entered in the fall fair this year under the direction of Mrs. Bert Berry. In the draw first prize of an electric frying pan was won by Mrs. N. Holder of West Summerland, and second prize of pie fillings was won by Mrs. K. Young.

An interesting report was given by Mrs. Clarke on her trip to the annual convention held in Vancouver on September 6-9.

A report was heard from Mrs. Wilcox on the golden rulers.

The Thrift Shop report was given and a request was made for donations of any saleable items. A check into the X-ray fund finds it at $528.00.

The executive of the Summerland Hospital Auxiliary would like to extend a cordial invitation to any person wishing to become a member. Come along to the meeting the first Monday in October in the Public Health Centre at 8 p.m.

Huntsley-Wolffer wed in United Church

A lovely wedding was solemnized at five o'clock on Saturday afternoon, September 3, in Summerland United Church by Rev. P. K. Louie.

The young bride was June Kathleen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis T. Wolffer of West Summerland, who was married to Neil Owen Huntsley of Quesnel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Huntsley of Quesnel.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length princess style wedding gown fashioned of heavy white satin with nylon sheer overdress. The dress featured a lace and sequin yoke and lily point sleeves. The chapel length veil was secured with a sequined tiara and the bridal bouquet was of red roses.

With her ensemble, the bride wore the groom's gift, a gold locket.

Mrs. Bryce McNeeley of Quesnel was matron of honor. She wore a turquoise organza frock taffeta with shoulder length veil and pink accessories. Her flowers were pink carnations.

The two bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Graham, Summerland, and Miss Maureen Lewis of Penticton. Little Miss Susie Bednard was the flower girl. The bridesmaids were in pink ballerina length taffeta with overskirts of pink lace and they carried pink carnations. Matching feather bandeaux were worn. The flower girl was dressed in pink in a similar style.

Albert Johnson of Quesnel was best man. Ushers were Donald Fowler and Roy Throssell, both of Quesnel.

Kenneth Storey, organist of the church, played for the service and Mrs. "Bud" Green sang "The Wedding Prayer."

At the reception following in the IOOF Hall, Mrs. Wolffer received in a light blue lace dress with matching bolero and shell pink accessories. Her corsage was pink and white carnations. The groom's mother, who assisted in receiving, wore a pink and beige suit with light beige hat, and white and pink corsage.

E. L. Farncheon was master of ceremonies and A. Tellman proposed a toast to the bride to which the groom replied.

For a honeymoon to coast points the bride wore a red ballerina length frock with white accessories. The couple will make their home in Quesnel.

Local girl married in lovely ceremony here

Gladioli in all their multicolors were the lovely decorations in Summerland United Church when Carole Louise, daughter of Mrs. Hilda M. Allison, West Summerland and the late Edward F. Allison, became the bride of Palmer Kaare Hoem of New Westminster, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hoem New Westminster. The ceremony was performed on Saturday evening, September 3 at 7 p.m. by Rev. P. K. Louie.

Lustre satin was worn by the dark haired bride who was given in marriage by her brother, Donald Edward Allison of Burnaby. In delightful simplicity, the wedding gown was styled with Sabrina neckline, long lily point sleeves and fitted bodice with a satin bow at the front of the waistline. The skirt was fully flared. A dainty mother of pearl coronet held the scalloped chapel length veil. The bride carried a bouquet of yellow roses centered with a white orchid and for "something old and borrowed" she also carried her grandmother, Mrs. Bancroft's lace wedding handkerchief.

The bridesmaid was Miss

Myrna Harrod of Dawson Creek.

John Hoem of Quesnel was best man and ushers were Allan Hoem of New Westminster and Douglas Foshbrooke of Comox.

Organist was Mrs. Delmar Dunham. While the register was signed Miss Lynne Boothe sang "The Wedding Prayer."

A reception followed at the home of the bride's mother. Mrs. Allison received wearing a teal blue sheath with matching flowered hat, blue shoes and gloves. Her corsage was of pink camellias.

For a motor trip through the States the bride wore a two piece pheasant blue suit with standing collar, pink and black accessories and a pink rosebud corsage. The couple will make their home at Campbell River.

The bride and bridesmaid are 1960 graduates of Royal Columbian School of Nursing, New Westminster.

Reports on trip to Vancouver

(John Lott, Summerland student reports on a recent visit to Vancouver to study United Nations)

On the afternoon of August 28 I arrived at the University of British Columbia in Vancouver. During the afternoon 100 students from all over the province arrived and were assigned to huts in the Youth Training Centre. For the next six days we enjoyed a varied program of lectures, discussion and study groups and social functions.

Distinguished speakers such as Dr. Hugh L. Keenleyside and Mr. David Owen gave us insight into the work of the United Nations in the fields of technical assistance to underdeveloped countries. Many other speakers talked on different aspects of United Nations work.

We studied hard during the day but also had a well organized entertainment program. This included a meal in Chinatown, a square dance, and a trip to the PNE.

My thanks goes to the Summerland Rotary Club and the Summerland Kiwanis Club for making this educational and entertaining week possible.

Locals

Of local interest is the marriage of Miss Beverly Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Smith and grand daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Smith to Mr. Wilfred Von Kries in Vancouver on September 5. Her attendants were Miss Barbara Shaw and her two sisters, Patricia and Christine. The principals plan to continue their studies at UBC. Mr. A. E. Smith celebrated his 91st birthday August 11 with members of his family.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Winter of Trout Creek are home again after a few days in Vancouver. While there they attended the wedding of their son John Allen to Miss Ida Hughes in New Westminster. Mr. and Mrs. John Winter will make their home in New Westminster.

Visitors at the W. H. Hackman home are Mr. Hackman's sister and niece, Mrs. M. Clarke and Ardelia of Winnipeg. Also visiting at the Hackman's were: Mr. and Mrs. Tommy McKay of Kamloops.

Thank You

I consider it a privilege to serve a political party. In such service in the recent campaign, I indeed appreciated the opportunity of meeting and talking to many hundreds of voters throughout the South Okanagan. I wish to say a very warm thank you to those who voted for me and to those who had it in their hearts to vote for me. All our help in waging this campaign was on a voluntary basis and my sincere gratitude goes to the fine Conservative team that was with me at every turn. I feel a deep personal satisfaction in the good job done.

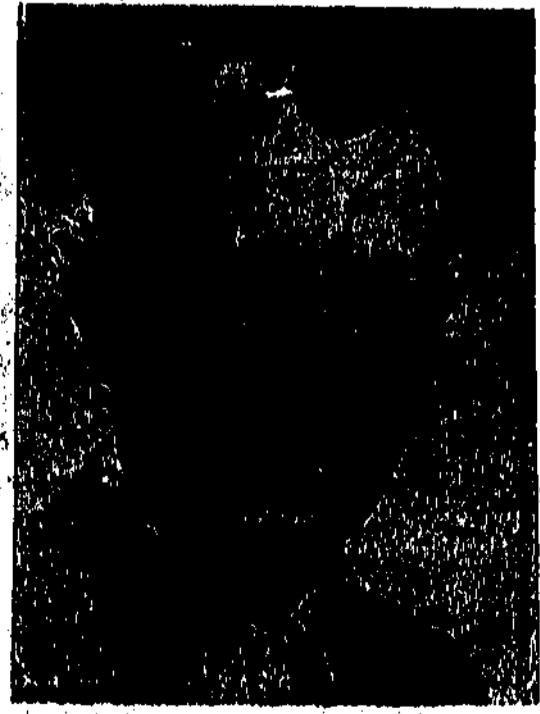

Harrison Smith

A Thank You

I wish to thank all my supporters who voted for me in Monday's election. While I did not get elected, the large increase in votes for me is very gratifying. I wish to extend special thanks to my campaign committee, scrutineers and those others who so capably worked and assisted me in my campaign, financially and otherwise.

CCF candidate, South Okanagan

If you're the worrying type, try worrying about rust. It's one of those things that seem to happen no matter what you do to stop it.

At this very moment it's probably chewing chunks out of your car, gnawing at your porch railings, eating away at your drainpipes.

Usually you don't notice rust until considerable damage has been done. A small break occurs in a film of paint, chrome, etc. Rust spreads underneath and by the time the paint has bubbled out and begun to flake off there's a large patch of hidden damage.

This is the common form of rust — a burning-up of metal which has been exposed to moisture plus oxygen.

Another type is electro-chemical corrosion. When different kinds of metal come together — say, bolts and washers of different material — and moisture is added an electric current is set up and one of the metals rusts away quickly.

The immediate answer to rust, of course, is to scrape it off. A rotating wire brush on an electric drill will take off heavy deposits on railings, etc.

But how do you prevent further damage? There are various kinds of rust inhibitor. Most of them form layers of iron phosphate over the wound. You then paint over and are safe for a while. But any new scratch will break the iron phosphate layer and start trouble again.

Cold galvanizers use the electro-chemical process described above to heal rust wounds as they occur. The primer goes on like paint but when it is scratched and moistened the electric process forms a new protective layer of zinc over the scratch.

This is handy for preserving garden tools which are constantly being chipped. But it's better to stop them rusting in the first place by keeping them clean and slightly oily.

Any car a year or so old begins to get rust patches. This is inevitable. But when rust spots appear on the outside bodywork, having eaten their way through from below, you're in trouble. You can poke holes in the car with one finger.

I have tried amateur bodywork with plastic patch kits and found them very effective. You first cut away the rusted area with a hacksaw or snips. If it's small enough you can slap the plastic patch on against a backing of brown paper.

For big holes I used sheets of galvanized metal from the hardware store, screwed on over the holes with self-tapping screws or small bolts and nuts. I removed the screws with a sander, spread plastic body filler over the new metal and sanded it smooth. It worked well. But eventually, like everything else, it will rust.—TNS.

Notes

To those members who were not able to attend the club meeting Tuesday evening, president John Tamblyn again requests and would much appreciate their co-operation if they would phone to advise him of their absence. This has become more important than ever owing to the new catering arrangement that started this week. All those present were very pleased with the supper that was provided.

Walter Toeves introduced as a guest, Bill Horne, who has only been in Summerland about a year, and we understand, is with Long's Building Supplies Ltd. of Penticton. Very glad to have you with us Bill, and we hope you will be making it permanent.

Bill Gilmour led the singing in his best courtroom manner.

The club, through Doug Campbell, showed its appreciation to Jerry Halquist by a small gift, for all his work and effort during the summer months in arranging and cooking the suppers. They were very much appreciated Jerry and its too bad that the summer has gone.

Lloyd Shannon ran off a tape recording of the last international convention, which was most interesting and the president hopes that a good attendance will be on hand representing Summerland at the coming convention in Vancouver at the end of the month.

A directors meeting will be held at the president's home next week after the regular weekly meeting.

TRANSFERRED

Earl Smith, accountant in the Bank of Montreal, has been moved to Williams Lake. New accountant is Simon Kouwenhoven, formerly of Nelson.

To the people of South Okanagan

Mrs. Bennett and I would like to express our sincere appreciation for your wonderful support during the election campaign.

I am highly honored and deeply grateful that you have again placed your confidence in me and I am not unmindful that this is the seventh time you have elected me to represent you in the Legislature at Victoria.

I pledge that I will continue to do my best to represent you well.

Yours Sincerely

Under the Giant's Head

Keeping up her hunting record of the past few years Mrs. Ollie Egely got a four point buck at 7 a.m. on the first day of the season. How about it fellows, anyone do as well?

The Board of Trade has placed white litter boxes on the streets. There are three in West Summerland and one in Summerland. More boxes are planned for next year.

The Review is pleased at the number of people who have remarked about the sketch of the "Giant" at the head of this column. It was done for us by Mrs. Herb Waterhouse.

My goodness, since we mentioned skunks last week everyone has been telling us of their personal experiences. Seems everyone and their dog (literally speaking) has had at least one encounter this year. Perhaps the most unfortunate experience was that of Mrs. M. Perry. A skunk walked into her back porch and sort of "waved his tail" over her fresh ironing.

Holiday Theatre, that unique company of travelling actors may return to Summerland Wednesday, October 12 with a play for children and a special Shakespeare program for high school students.

West Summerland is presently enjoying some activity in the building field. Work is progressing on the addition to MacDonald Elementary School and the new Anglican rectory.

Students receive tickets to Overture Concerts

The Canadian Club in Penticton has presented a guest ticket to the Summerland High School. During the year eight students will use the ticket, each attending one meeting of the club. The Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs have presented the students with three Overture Concert tickets, thus giving eighteen different students an opportunity to attend a concert. Things are just getting started in the line of sports.

A big attraction at the Fall Fair was the Women's Institute Emporium. Sales ladies were dressed in old fashioned costumes and sold candy at old fashioned

Stop for school bus!

George Lindsay, Superintendent of Motor Vehicles, issued a reminder today to British Columbia motorists to be on the look out for school busses that have stopped to permit the receiving or discharging of school pupils and which display flashing red lamps to indicate that action.

These busses will be readily identifiable to Summerland motorists as they will display two alternately flashing red lamps facing to the front of the bus and two alternately flashing red lamps facing to the rear of the bus.

When these lamps are flashing, drivers of vehicles which approach from the front or the rear of the school bus must stop their vehicles and the vehicles must remain stopped until the red lamps cease flashing. In some areas where highway conditions warrant, the school bus drivers will keep the lamps flashing to assist school children in crossing the highway either when leaving or before entering the school bus.

These changes put into effect an amendment to the Motor Vehicle Act made at the 1960 session of the Provincial Legislature. Prior to now, drivers of motor vehicles approaching a school bus were merely required to reduce motor vehicle speed to 15 miles per hour whilst in the vicinity of a school bus.

Two accidents during week

There were two accidents on the local scene during the past week.

On Saturday, September 17 Mrs. Colin James McKenzie was involved in an accident on a street just off Victoria Road. The car she was driving went out of control, sheared off a power pole plunged into an adjacent orchard, uprooting an apple tree. Mrs. McKenzie sustained a cut to her head and required treatment in Summerland Hospital. About $350 damage was done to the car.

On September 18 at 8 p.m. an accident occurred on Highway 97 near Bonthoux Corner at Trout Creek. Two vehicles, driven by Joseph Burns of Westbank and Ronald A. Reid of Princeton collided head on. Aggregate damage was $450.

Visits station

The British Dairy Queen, Birina Evans from Wales, who is currently touring Canada, spent the past few days in the Okanagan. On Sunday she lunched with Mayor Parkinson of Kelowna, followed by an interview on television. Later in the afternoon Miss Evans travelled to Summerland where she was the guest of Dr. J. E. Miltimore, officer in charge of animal husbandry at the Research Station. After inspecting the cows she had tea with the staff.

Rotary conference to be held here Oct. 1

A Rotary District Institute will be held in Summerland on Saturday, October 1. There will be representatives from the 25 Clubs within District No. 506. The District extends from Revelstoke and Kamloops in the north to Sunnyside, Wash. in the south. The president, Chairman of Classification and Rotary Information and the Bulletin Editor from all Clubs are expected to attend and other members are invited.

The purpose of the Institute is the development of practical ideas for the furtherance of Rotary within the District. Past District Governor Art Wickens of Tacoma will act as Counsellor at this Institute.

The meetings will be held in the Anglican Church Hall. A no-host luncheon is planned for noon on Saturday. As many delegates will be bringing their wives, the Rotary Annes of the local Club are preparing entertainment for these visitors.

Final arrangements for billeting have not yet been completed but it is expected that some delegates will be accommodated in the homes of Rotarians and the remainder in motels and hotels in the area.

Services for H. H. Gilmour

Funeral services were held for Mr. Mr. Harold Hannan Gilmour of Summerland on Tuesday, September 20 at 2 p.m. in St. Saviour's Anglican Church, Penticton with Canon A. R. Eagles officiating. Mr. Gilmour passed away in Penticton Hospital on Saturday, September 17, after a short illness.

Born in Brockville, Ontario, Mr. Gilmour had been a resident of Summerland and Penticton for the past eight years. He was a member of Orion Lodge, No. 51 Penticton, and of Prince of Wales Lodge, No. 100, Vancouver.

He is survived by one son, William of West Summerland; one daughter, Mrs. W. E. (Louise Mary) Mason, State College, Penn.; and one sister, Mrs. Alice Moles, San Francisco, Calif. Burial was in the family plot in Forest Lawn Cemetery, Vancouver.

Attending from Summerland were Mrs. Paul Roberge, P. Minchin, R. McNabb, D. Loan, I. McCuaig, J. Clement, A. Raham and J. Tamblin.

Members of the executive of the B.C. Teachers Federation were present to lead the discussions.

Milady votes for independent action

The ladies, 'bless em', have improved their lot a good deal since the days of the kitchen woodstove. Now, bright, white appliances stand ready for their command; frozen foods are in the freezer; and little cans of pre-cooked goodies line the shelves.

Makes you wonder why they need a stove at all, a can opener and a few candles to heat them may do fine.

Actually, all these kitchen improvements are a good thing. With fewer chores at the stove, milady has much more time to enjoy life and who can blame her for taking advantage of progress? A wife should have independence; it makes for happiness all around.

Nowadays, if the modern wife wants to visit in the next city, she goes; if she feels a new hat coming on, she buys it without reference to the Master for every penny she wants to spend. That's financial independence. A wife likes to feel she hasn't lost all her independence to become "just a housewife".

You know, it's surprising how quickly this 'independent' feeling grows when she has her own Bank of Montreal savings account. She deposits small amounts regularly, and when she wants ready cash for a new hat or a pair of shoes, it's there at the B of M, with interest

Why not visit the Summerland branch of the B of M soon? The accountant, Simon Kouwenhoven, will be glad to show you how easy it is - and how profitable, to open a B of M savings account.

Scouting Activities

1st Summerland Troop

The troop turnout consisted of 21 boys and 4 leaders. This number included 3 recruits from the Trout Creek group who have just left cubs and who will be with us until a troop is formed in Trout Creek. These recruits, together with two more from Trout Creek will form a Trout Creek patrol under Michael Lopateeki who was appointed patrol leader by the Court of Honor. One more boy is required to bring the troop to full strength of 24 after which a waiting list will be established.

The program consisted of three vigorous games, instruction in tenderfoot tests, first class knots and signalling and 2nd class knots. Mr. Horne gave a valuable ten minute period in drill and smartness and the Scoutmaster pointed out the need for wearing full uniform, wearing it correctly and keeping it clean.

Campers badges won last year by Patrol Leaders Beaven, Robertson and Fiske were presented by ASM Towgood. Among other requirements the Campers' Badge requires 30 days of camping out.

Next week it is suggested Scouts familiarize themselves with requirements of Handyman's Badge. Badge manuals may be obtained next week for 50c describing requirements for various badges.

The Court of Honor decided on two outings this fall, one a full day hike on October 22 and the other a winter camp in the Christmas holidays at Headwaters. D. V. Fisher, Scoutmaster

A Faithful Teacher to the Handicapped

With the closing of Apple Blossom School here we feel that credit and recognition should be given to Mrs. Brian Leibert for her splendid work with Summerland's handicapped children at the school.

It was mainly through Mrs. Leibert's enthusiasm and drive that the school was opened in 1957 and since then with occasional help Mrs. Leibert has carried on the teaching duties herself. As well as her class room hours and the time spent in preparing for the classes Mrs. Leibert spent some weeks at UBC and at Woodlawn's School to further acquaint herself with the techniques used in teaching handicapped children.

Working under conditions that were far from ideal Mrs.

Leibert established a well ordered class room and under her patient guidance the children showed definite signs of progress.

This work is very slow, painstaking and sometimes discouraging. But progress is being made thanks to people like Mrs. Leibert and all the men and women who find it in their hearts to do this work with our handicapped children, whether in small class rooms or in the larger established institutions. Their reward lies not only in helping each individual pupil but in giving public recognition of these children and a growing desire throughout the province to see that these children receive a place in our society.

A program on the West Indies was featured at the regular meeting of the Summerland Women's Institute, held Friday afternoon at the Anglican Parish Hall.

Mrs. Gordon Ritchie was in charge of the program and explained the project and explained the No. 400 project for the West Indies by the ACWW.

Mrs. Ritchie then introduced Mrs. Ken Thomson who gave a very interesting talk on the Barbadoes. The Thomson's have spent 3 winters there and Mrs. Thomson gave her impressions of the climate, industry, religion, schools and handicrafts. Mrs. George Inglis thanked Mrs. Thomson for her interesting, informative talk which was enjoyed by all. Mr. Gordon Ritchie showed a film which was produced by the University of the West Indies and gave a clear picture of the life of the younger people.

During the business meeting, the president, Mrs. A. A. Fenwick was in the chair. Reports showed that the coffee parties held during the summer were very successful. Money raised will be equally divided between the National Office fund, the Lady Aberdeen scholarship fund and the No. 400 project.

Summerland placed third in the PNE Home Arts section. Of 16 entries, 10 won prizes.

The tea garden, pie booth and Emporium operated at the Fruit Fair, proved very successful. The Emporium for the quilt and rug contest won the Rose Bowl for the best booth.

Miss Janet Storey, a Girl Guide, was present and gave a talk on England. This was a requirement for a Gold Cord candidate.

Tribute was paid to the memory of a long-term member, Mrs. C. E. Orr who passed away during the summer. Mrs. Orr won many prizes for her quilts and rugs and was always a willing worker.

Plans were made for the annual variety sale which will be held Saturday, October 1 at the IOOF Hall. clothing, home baking, flowers and vegetables, opportunity gifts and aprons. Tea will also be served.

Chinese dancers with Peking Opera, Tsi Hua-yen, 24, and Chang Yi Chu, 25, take in Canadian street scenes between performances. Troupe has played in seven Canadian cities. Some have attacked opera as Communist propaganda device but music and dance critics hail it as "excellent."

Big Jobs for the Board of Trade

This Thursday the Summerland Board of Trade recommences regular sessions and already has a full program ahead of it. To fulfil its regular functions, and the Summerland Board has more than most such groups, requires the co-operation of every member, every retailer and businessman in this community.

Now the Board has before it at least three major items which will tax its energy and capacity for planning. We refer to: the tourist question, the suggested special long range agricultural committee, and a pressing problem of roads and routes.

Just to be perverse, we will deal with the last one first. We should seek out positive facts, not being pulled this way or that, or following this or that pressure group, before acting on or supporting any major route.

We should endorse efforts for present and future access roads in this general area. They will be vital to Summerland's future tourist industry, providing routes to hitherto inaccessible lakes, streams and hunting grounds.

This newspaper has already spoken out for the special agricultural study committee, suggesting such a body. We said then, and repeat now that Summerland has an extensive area which might meet future food needs of parts of this province - and incidentally add materially to the prosperity of our community as well. It will take a special group to analyze all the details and angles, and it will take a lot of time, but the end-result could be quite rewarding for all concerned.

On the third item, tourism, the Board executives working on a questionnaire on the past tourist season to be sent to local merchants. We urge all those who receive the questionnaires to fill them in fully. Some may have the idea that it is "all for nothing and will do no good anyway." To those we would reply that many a community with far less to offer than Summerland has, has leaped or grown into a thriving tourist center.

After all, we have the most vital ingredient, one lacking in some larger centers, this being community co-operation. Now let's demonstrate this by turning out to the Board of Trade meeting and giving it our utmost support.

First concert on Friday in Penticton

Penticton and district concert goers will have their first opportunity to hear the Societa Corelli, a remarkable organization of thirteen string instrumentalists, on the evening of Friday, September 23. An Italian ensemble, each of them is a gifted artist in his own right. Yet each of them works only for the personality of the group.

The thirteen musicians who make up the Societa Corelli have done well to name themselves after Arcangelo Corelli, in his day the toast of Rome just as these string players are today the toast of the discriminating concert goers of the Eternal City. As a violinist Corelli brought the art of string playing to heights never before achieved. As a composer, he revealed new dimensions of tonal richness in string instruments.

What makes you cry?

by Rev. Ira Johnson
St. Luke 19:41-44 begins like this: "And when he (Jesus) drew near and saw the city, he wept over it, saying... (in our words) 'If only you realized your REAL needs!'"

Hillery Rice introduced an article on this topic with this story. "One cold winter night some years ago, a high society woman sat in a theatre for two hours watching a sordid triangle love story. While she sat there shedding crocodile tears, her underpaid coachman waiting outside for her froze to death!" Mr. Rice also tells of visiting in a professing Christian's comfortable home where he overheard the wife weeping for a nicer home. In fact she made such a tantrum that the husband went out to purchase a larger, finer home. Yet in one city alone in the Far East, a million sick, hungry people lie down on the streets every night. They have no home, little food or medicine.

"What makes you cry?" Do we weep for the transitory things, and view with dry eyes the sin and corruption of our world? Jesus wept outside the city of Jerusalem because they would not avail themselves of the love and pardon, and cleansing he offered them. Today, alcohol, tobacco and narcotics are crippling thousands of our population... especially the young people. Should we not pray for a true sense of values, and begin weeping and working over the Real needs of our world? Only God can forgive sin in our hearts and theirs, and sin is the basis of so many REAL needs.

District Governor addresses Rotary

Lyman Partridge, District Governor of District No. 506, was speaker at the regular meeting of the Rotary Club last Wednesday evening. Governor Partridge is from Ellensburg, Wash., where he is a professor at the State College. This was the Governor's first visit to Summerland since he assumed his office in July. He is, at present, making a tour of Clubs in District No. 506. Governor Partridge, who was introduced and welcomed by Ted Atkinson, president, gave an interesting address on "The Inspiration of Rotary". He told of the development of Rotary from a single supper club to the present day when there are Clubs throughout the world except in Communist controlled areas. He related the purpose of Rotary service to others - and how this was accomplished both locally and on a worldwide basis. He explained what Rotary meant to him and what it should mean to all members.

Governor Partridge stressed the international aspect of Rotary and his pleasure at being Governor of a District with Clubs on both sides of a border, 10 in Canada and 15 in U.S.A. This was a border, he said, that instead of separating brought Rotarians of two great nations together for a common purpose.

Rotary Foundation was discussed. This is a fund established by donations from Clubs the world over to finance the education of outstanding students in a country of different language.

Governor Partridge was thanked by S. A. MacDonald following which, Ryan Lawley, on behalf of the Club, presented the Governor with a cheque for $50.00 as a contribution to Rotary Foundation.

In order to speed day of direct long-distance dialing across Canada, exchange names are being dropped in favor of seven-digit phone numbers. Some Ontario communities already have lost exchange prefixes. Move means loss of local names and sharpening of memory for phone users like teen-ager Jo-Anne Hunter, above, who has to remember seven-digit numbers.

R.C.M.P. Issue Booklet on Crime

"Armed Robbery" is the subject of the current booklet prepared by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police under the general title of "Crime in your community". The booklet is the fifth in the series which was instituted several years ago in the belief that the volume of crime in certain categories could be greatly reduced by acquainting the owners of business establishments and the public generally with certain simple measures by which they might safeguard their property, their goods and themselves from the criminal before the intervention of the police became necessary.

Made up of illustrations in silhouette with brief explanatory captions, the booklet is directed at the more lucrative targets of the armed robber, such as banks and business establishments, but discourages any notion on the part of the private citizen that he is immune from this type of crime.

Copies of the booklet are being made available to police departments in Canada for distribution to business establishments in their areas.

Top Ballet classes taught in valley

In the third year of their work in the Okanagan Valley, Gwenneth Lloyd and Betty Farrally, founders of Canada's first ballet company, The Royal Winnipeg Ballet, and Canada's largest ballet school, are awaiting the time when the potential talent of the Valley can be moulded into a Valley Ballet.

Coming from England 20 years ago, they have built a coast to coast reputation in both teaching and theatre, and with schools in Winnipeg, Toronto and the Okanagan, have trained many dancers who are now famous, such as Carlu Carter of the Carlu Carter Trio, often seen on television and David Adams, premier danseur of the National Ballet of Canada.

Unseen Industry Benefits Canadians Everywhere

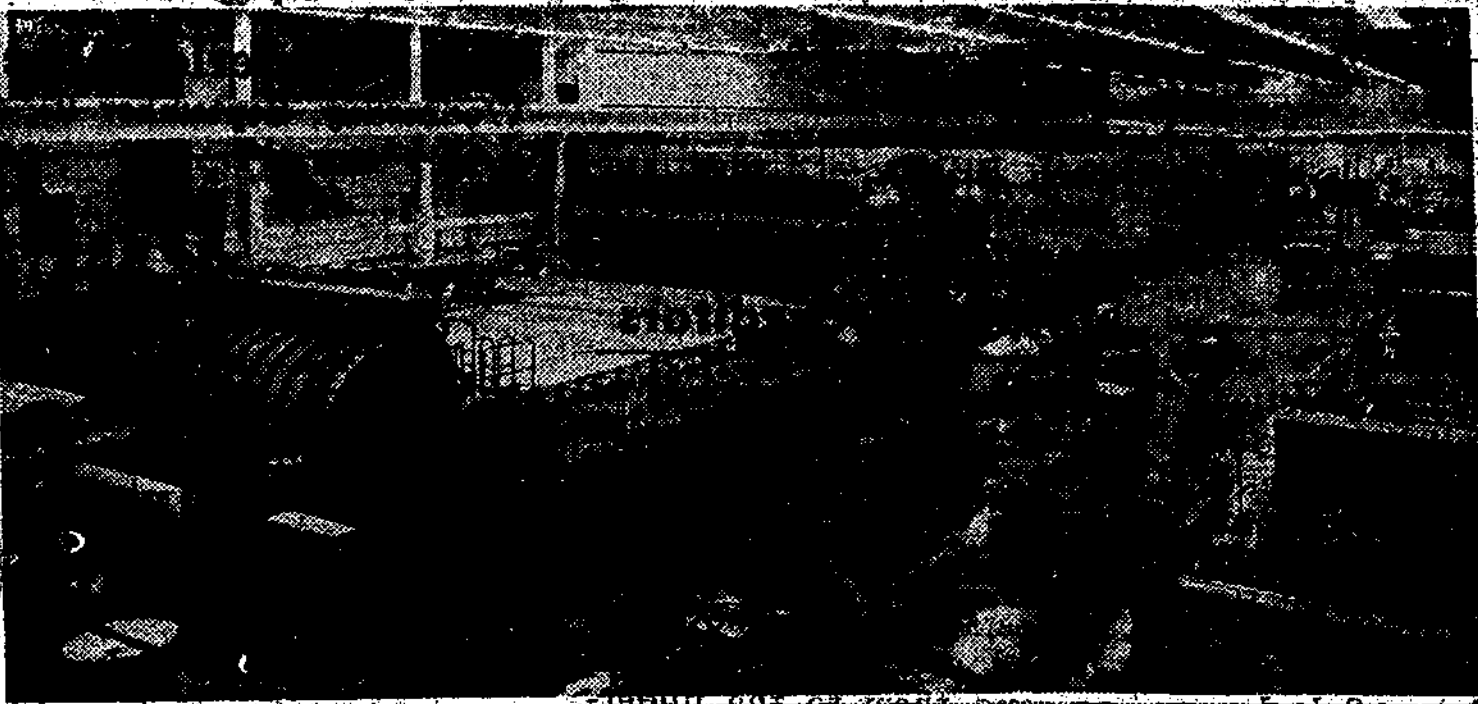

National Pulp and Paper Day Marks 150 Years of National Contributions

Canada's pulp and paper mills, generally located in the hinterlands, are unseen by most Canadians, yet the entire country benefits from the operations of this one great enterprise that is the nation's leading producer and exporter.

The pulp and paper mills convert the forest harvest into a variety of products, including the newsprint for this and all other Canadian newspapers. In addition to meeting Canada's paper, paperboard, and pulp requirements, the industry accounts for more than a fifth of the value of all Canada's exports. The industry is also the nation's leading manufacturing employer and wage payer. Hence, its operations stimulate and quicken every facet of trade, commerce, agriculture, and business in the land. For example, pulp and paper is the chief user of the railways, and by far the leading consumer of electric power in Canada. It is also a leading buyer of chemicals, mill supplies, and industrial equipment.

To feed their woodworkers alone, the mills buy each year, some 14 million pounds of meat, 20 million eggs, 10 million pounds of flour, 3 million cases of canned milk and more than 6 million pounds of powdered milk and other dry foods. Thus the industry is also a leading purchaser of agricultural commodities.

In a pulp and paper day statement, M. Fowler, president of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association said, "This day will serve to remind us that we are in a period in which the world will make increasing demands on Canada for pulp and paper."

A giant newsprint machine (top), as long as a football field, may spin out a 20-foot ribbon of paper at speeds of more than twenty miles an hour. Canadian mills, with a newsprint output three times that of any other country, supply almost half the free world's newspaper pages. Each day they produce the equivalent of a five-foot ribbon of paper stretching from Toronto to Baghdad. Below, a pulp and paper logger gets ready to move a log, the industry's raw material, while a camp cook prepares a daily batch of pastries and bread.

Conservative estimates reveal that world demand will double in the next fifteen years," continued Mr. Fowler. "This means that Canada, with her resources, will be in a position to increase greatly her foreign trade." This will provide still further opportunities for the millions of Canadians whose livelihood depends directly and indirectly on the well-being of the pulp and paper mills. With a variety of events, the mills of the industry are setting aside a Day as a reminder year's teen age class are invited to dance with the adult intermediate dances on Tuesday night at the Youth Centre starting October 25 under Chuck Inglis. Beginners of senior high school age will be able to get their lessons on Friday nights at the Youth Centre under Ray Fredericksen on October 21. Junior dancers will form their own squares at both these classes.

The Youth Centre is also available for the 10-12 year olds, and the 12-15 year olds, and Chuck Inglis will again instruct these groups. All that remains to be decided on is the best time to hold these classes. Please phone Mrs. Stankowy immediately if you are interested.

Kiwanis Club Notes

Tuesday night saw a good turnout of the Club and Charlie Bernhardt was with us as a guest and was introduced by George Henry. It was a pleasure to have you with us Charlie.

Jerry Hakquist led the club singing, and of course "Dinah was in the kitchen" again. This appears to have been adopted by the club as a theme song.

President John reminded members of the convention in Vancouver at the end of the week. Even a member without his wife will be welcome, but better bring your wives fellows.

The Club expressed regret on hearing the sad news of the passing on of Bill Gilmour's father over the weekend. Our sincere thoughts go out to you Bill.

Gordon Ritchie was kind enough to show us some pictures he took on his recent trip to Europe, and we saw scenes of Scotland, France and Spain. They were very interesting. Gordon and we thank you for a pleasant evening.

A directors meeting was held in the home of John Tamblin after the regular meeting.

Square em up

Lots of dance notices in the mail this week, a sure indication that the new season's dancing is getting underway.

Les Boyer emceed the Armstrong Fair dance on Friday, and will also be doing the honors at Vernon's Kalamalka Squares party night this Friday.

Saturday will be party night at Peachland. Chuck Inglis is MC with guest callers invited. Bring along a little lunch and enjoy an evening with the Totem Twirlers.

Kelowna Wagon Wheelers are starting the season off the right way on Saturday, Oct. 1. MC that night will be our Crescent Beach crooner, Ray Fredericksen. Smooth and sweet is the way he calls them, and the way we like em, so let's all arrange to meet at a central spot, and drive up there together. We'll make it "Summerland night" in Kelowna October 1st and really show them how.

Pairs and Squares opening party night will be on Saturday, October 15. Plans are all made for a gala night with Bob Emerson emceeding, and Lorine Potter convening refreshments. We're looking for pumpkins to make jack o'lanterns for decorations, so if you have any we could use, please phone Ruth Munn.

Mertice Stankowy is working very hard to make arrangements for junior dancing. Graduates of last Summerland vegetable and tree fruit growers did themselves proud at the Armstrong Fair this year. Mr. Nat May took nine of the awards in the vegetable section and in the tree fruit sections Summerland growers romped away with almost all the prizes. W. F. Ward took 34 prizes, Mrs. E. C. Bingham received 28, J. Ganzeveld won 13 and Walter Powell took 3.

Fluoridation plebiscite in December here

At the regular council meeting Tuesday night Bill Laidlaw waited on council to inform the members of the Kiwanis plans on public education regarding fluoridation of the local water supply. Members of the Kiwanis club expect to spend a lot of time and effort this fall in a drive to educate the public on the benefits of fluoridation. Council passed a motion to have a plebiscite in the December election to find out the wishes of the people in this mat-

Plans not completed for Trout Creek

J. Russell Baxter, town planner, and Don South, of the dept. of municipal affairs were present at a committee meeting of Summerland municipal council Tuesday evening. Mr. Baxter consulted with council on a plan he is drawing up for Trout Creek Point. Further work has to be done by Mr. Baxter on the plans before they can be presented at a public meeting of the ratepayers concerned.

Council feels that the plan for subdividing Trout Creek must be completed before further work can be done on the planning of the Trout Creek domestic water system. At the moment it does not appear that a water by-law will be presented to the voters in December as the planning work will not be completed in time. This complete and detailed survey, prepared by Mr. Baxter will greatly assist council in its planning of the domestic water system.

Some Explanations of Municipal assessment

(Article No. 1)

In ancient Egypt or Assyria, the man who held the land was a lord indeed. Ownership of land meant crops and crops were used for food (the crops came later) or which there never was enough. Hence the man of the soil could trade or barter that which he did not need for himself and his household for other things greatly to be desired.

Pennask Lake Road nearing completion

Pennask Lake, one of the finest fishing lakes in the Interior, now has an access road thanks to the determined efforts of the local Fish and Game Club in co-operation with the Kelowna Club.

The possibility of extending the road put in by the Simpson Sawmill has been under consideration for some time. A number of years ago George Stoll of the Summerland Club put in a resolution to this effect to the B.C. Federation of Fish and Game Clubs, it was considered and passed at that time but that was as far as it went.

Last year Mr. Stoll and George Pennington spent a week surveying the route and planning the easiest access into the lake. Nick Solly supplied his plane to make an aerial survey of the route. Following the survey they approached all the Fish and Game Clubs in the valley and together they convinced the Department of Public Works the idea was sound. The Department promised the loan of a bulldozer and operator. Unfortunately the machine was not available at the time it was needed and the idea had to be dropped for the time being.

However, they tried again this year and the Department supplied not only one but two bulldozers and the operators.

Work has gone one reasonably well. A swamper and cooks are provided from funds supplied by the Summerland and Kelowna clubs. At the moment work on the road has progressed within half a mile of Pennask Lake and a branch road is being run into Peterson Lake.

When the work is completed, Pennask Lake will be accessible to any ordinary car, whereas up to now it has been inaccessible from the Okanagan.

For the next few years, the Summerland, Kelowna and Penticton clubs plan to spend a good deal of time fixing up the park and camp site to make Pennask Lake a wonderful holiday spot.

Mr. Stoll told the Review that there is a possibility of work party this Sunday and if not, October 9 for sure. Volunteers are welcome, anyone wishing to help can call any member of the Fish and Game club executive.

Soil Reclamation Is Not New

Unravelling the tax problem

Commencing in this issue The Summerland Review is publishing an exclusive series on municipal assessments and taxes, some details of which — to coin a pun — even tax the experts. This series, while dealing specifically with Summerland, is being so written that it can be applied to other communities — but those preparing it have ruled that it should not be transferred because the danger of misinterpretation and further misunderstanding, not to say actual misrepresentation, is extremely likely.

While some phases of the problem require disentanglement — through government action, and others leave a great deal to be desired, the underlying principles utilized under the existing system of taxation of real property, are, for the most part, both understandable and fair.

Where they fall down is not in modus operandi or method, but in the whole principle of using land and improvements as a basis for wealth. In the 16th, 17th and 18th and early 19th centuries the "man of property" was a man of wealth, but from the mid-19th and certainly in the mid-20th century this is no longer the case, as the first of the articles explains. Much of our disagreement (and the disagreeable flavor of) municipal land and improvement taxes stems from this. Only major national legislation, by an exceedingly realistic and courageous national government could change it. Inevitably, it will be changed. Meanwhile, an understanding of conditions as they exist will be of benefit to home-owners, elected officials, and paid officials alike.

We therefore commend this series to you, and we ask you to not only read, but ask questions. While we must rule that all letters be signed, names will be withheld on request. So send in your questions, and the Review will ask its experts to answer them.

Motorists co-operate, so should children

Which side of the road does a pedestrian walk on? Ask the average small child and we're sure you will get some oddly assorted answers, judging from the performance of the small fry on the local roads. The Review has received numerous complaints of school children walking six and seven abreast on roads and highways. At the foot of a horn they scatter every which way, leaving the motorist no place to go in case of an emergency.

The average child seems to have no respect for the passing motorist. Rather one gains the impression that he feels no one would dare to hit him as he slowly moves to let the car go by.

Generally speaking local motorists are carefully observing the new school zone speed limit of 20 mph and the new regulation requiring motorists to stop when approaching or passing a school bus with flashing red lights.

The motorist is doing his part. Teach your children to do theirs. Spend a few minutes in the morning stressing to your youngsters the necessity of observing safety precautions on the way to and from school.

'Tis autumn

The maple stands there by the road,
Just at the brink of the hill.
In summer time it's lovely green,
Rustling in the morning's still.

But, now, at the first chill hint of fall,
Though the others still be green,
The maple's forsaken its summer coat
And accepted the autumn's sheen.

The green has shaded, gold to red,
Its leaves the sun's rays catch,
And hold, in breathless beauty there
For the morning breeze to catch.

I stood, in awe and wonderment,
As I came to the top of the hill,
The colors were dancing, in beauty blest
In the early morning still.

The other seasons all have their own,
For in beauty all seasons share,
To the riotous beauty of golds and reds,
And autumn: there's none can compare.

Mary Squire.

By Rev. G. Leasor
"Hear ye therefore the parable of the sower." Matthew 13:18.

In that familiar story Jesus told about the sower who went forth to sow. Four types of human response to divine truth were revealed.

The first was pictured as similar to the footpath around or through the field. A quality of soul known as hardness which brings the response of rejection.

The second type of soil mentioned was rocky. There was a response to the seed, but it was a shallow response hence defection.

The third was receptive and deep, but not selective. It allowed the thorns to choke out the grain.

The fourth was good soil; soft, deep, well cared for and productive. There was reception of the seed.

What kind of soul would best illustrate your heart and mind?

Hard? Hardened by the trod of circumstance, or the foot of disobedience?

Shallow? A shallow purpose in life, a shallow faith?

Thorny? Careless? Unselfish regarding the thoughts concerns and interests that are allowed to first catch, then monopolize your time, energy and devotion.

If one of these typify your heart you need to be broken up with the plow of humility, deepened with a load of the top soil of determination, or weeded out by the hoe of faith which eliminates the thorny "cares of this world and the deceitfulness of riches" on contact.

Thank God there is a divine process for reclamation of the hard, shallow or deceived heart so as to make it as the good ground which beareth fruit.

God initiated this process almost 2000 years ago when He gave His Son to die for the sins of the whole world. It is made effective in your heart when you, by faith, receive the act as having been done for you.

TIPS FOR PARENTS

By HELEN R. HEWSON
Parent Education Associates

A YOUNG mother asks anxiously, "Are there more emotionally disturbed children than there used to be? I don't remember hearing the term until a few years ago.

"Were these unhappy children called something else when I was a child or is this a new manifestation of the tensions of life today?"

"Is there anything mere parents can do to ensure the emotional well-being of their children?"

A few days ago the executive secretary of the Family and Child Welfare Division of the Canadian Welfare Council said, "the number of emotionally disturbed children appears to be increasing.

"Their behavior is a reflection of the uncertainties of life today. The emotionally disturbed child has a feeling of always being thwarted."

The number appears to be increasing. All children as they are growing up exhibit certain forms of behavior that are usually labelled "problem": temper tantrums, irritability, aggressiveness, defiance, etc.

In the emotionally disturbed child this troublesome behavior is intensified.

The uncertainties of life today—our physical comfort and convenience—are accompanied by much worry and anxiety.

We feel it is good to have the things that man's industry and ingenuity have produced, but we worry about values, about discipline, about changing social habits.

We can't worry in secret; our children are aware of it.

What can parents do? Parents are all-important in promoting the emotional well-being of their children.

Accept the fact that adult responsibilities involve a few headaches and heartaches as well as satisfactions.

Also realize that children's activities require thought and planning today.

It may be troublesome to find, space and things to do, but it pays off in peace of mind for both adult and child. Too many "no's" add up to that "feeling of always being thwarted."

Work, fun, and a firm but friendly discipline build emotional health and well-being.

Letter to the Editor

The Editor,
The Summerland Review.
Dear Sir:

Thank you for your kind editorial about the teacher of the Handicapped. It gives me an opportunity to underline what is not generally understood about the work my wife helped to start in this community. Apple Blossom School was not a baby-sitting service for low mentality children. It was a courageous attempt to fill the gap in the present school system which cannot cope with handicapped children for one reason or another.

As we look into the future it is clear that eventually the Handicapped Schools will be integrated with the present school system, providing free interchange of pupils between them and the opportunity classes.

Summerland was indeed doubly fortunate in having a school which catered for these pupils whether they were unacceptable in the school system by reason of mental retardation, physical handicap or emotional instability; and in having a teacher whose work extended beyond the strict confines of school work to the whole facet of retardation.

I feel sure that the far-sighted leaders of our community in its younger days would scorn the timidity of the Association for Handicapped Children and indeed the School Board in allowing this pioneering work to fail.

Yours truly,
J. B. Leibert.

Just pick up another couple or two and meet us at L. A. Smith's

October 8th Bill French will be at Westbank to MC their party in the Community Hall.

We're all looking forward to dancing to Bob Emerson's calling at our own party night Oct. 15.

You'll be hearing from convenor Lorine Potter as to what your contribution to the party is to be. Refreshment convenors are being asked to line up dish washers, and driers in addition to their helpers, so that each of us will have a turn at the different jobs.

It's nice to think of dance nights starting again as the busy summer season draws to a close. These first parties are a good way of getting loosened up. They'll probably also show up just how much we have forgotten, if you other dancers are anything like us!

Badminton starts next week

Badminton play will be resumed Thursday, October 6. Play begins at 8 p.m. in the Summerland Badminton Hall. A round robin will be held during the evening. The club is planning a drive for new members and a cordial invitation is extended to any person interested. Instruction will be given.

Bridge players are reminded of the annual badminton club bridge tournament which will commence Friday, October 21 in the IOOF Hall.

Pensioners hear report on annual Convention

The Old Age Pensioners held their monthly meeting in the IOOF Hall on September 20. Forty members were present with president A. Glen in the chair. Membership now stands at 107.

The president read about the passing of the late Mr. Meal who was treasurer of the OAPA at head office, about the good work he had done and how he was held in great esteem in the community where he lived.

Treasurer Macdougald read the financial report.

A lively discussion was created by hearing the reading of the resolutions that came up at the recent convention in Vancouver. Old people's homes, the home owners grant, pensions, assessment of property were discussed.

Happy birthday was sung for Mrs. Jacket, Mrs. Hallam, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. R. Shannon, D. Taylor, B. Mayne, Mr. Macgregor, Mr. Brown. Mrs. Bancroft was pianist.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Breen, Mrs. Hallam, Mrs. L. Johnson, and Mrs. D. Taylor. The men will serve lunch at the next meeting.

Kiwanis

Club Notes

Tuesday evening saw the Kiwanis Club "On Parade" as usual but with John Tamblin, Jerry Halquist, Scotty Ritchie and Walter Toeves away in Vancouver, attending the Convention at the Hotel Vancouver. It is to be hoped that they realize that we want a full, BUT A FULL, report of their doings upon their return. Bill Laidlaw led the Club into the Kitchen, after Dinah of course, which is now definitely the Club's theme song.

The puzzle of the evening was - who is the Kiwanian that forgot his wedding anniversary and had to be told about it?

Mr. Bert Stent was introduced by J. Selinger and informed the club of a unique arrangement whereby, for the comparatively small cost of about $50 per year, he helps a small Italian boy, and the money provides food and clothing and it would seem that the boy is now quite well provided for. Good going, Mr. Stent. Our guest then showed some slides, depicting peasant life in Mexico which proved very interesting, and was well received by the Club. He was warmly thanked by Fred Schuman.

Locals

Mr. and Mrs. James Gartrell, formerly of West Summerland and their two daughters are spending some time visiting friends in Summerland and Penticton. They are here on a three month holiday from Northern Rhodesia, where Mr. Gartrell is the African representative for the Boyles Brothers Drilling Co. in connection with the mining industry.

Douglas Rumball, son of Mr. and Mrs. Les Rumball is in Moose Jaw, Sask., attending technical school. He is taking a course in auto body mechanics.

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Benison were Mr. and Mrs. Don Grice of New Westminster.

Mrs. J. H. James, a former resident of Summerland has returned to Vancouver after spending two months in the Okanagan visiting relatives and friends at Trout Creek and Wilson's Landing.

Canadian swimmer Helge Jensen, 23, who set a world record of 10 hours, 23 minutes for crossing English Channel says he feels as if he could "turn right around and do it all over again." Time knocked 2 1/2 hours off previous record. He is now back in Canada job-hunting.

Fruit cake uses apple

A new appetizing use for apples has been introduced in Canada. Diced apple, properly candied, colored and flavored, may be used instead of cherries and citrus peels for fruit cakes. The apples are prepared by a vacuum method of treating fruit for pie fillings that was developed a few years ago at the Summerland Research Station and is now used commercially.

HANDYMAN ABOUT THE HOUSE

By GORDON DONALDSON

In a century or so, when wooden furniture is a thing of the past (the forests having been blasted to bits) and what is left of civilization is relaxing on exotic seats made of adjustable nuclear rays, there will be some fascinating items in the antique shops.

These will be the bits of furniture hacked out by today's do-it-yourself artists. They will be very expensive, very wobbly and their great charm will be that you can see the workmanship.

"Look!" the gushing lady of the future will cry, "see that lovely old mitre joint that doesn't fit. And there's the mark where the saw slipped, with a tiny little old bloodstain beside it. You can just imagine the old craftsman hopping about and howling in Early Canadian."

Shop-made furniture will be in far less demand. It lacks character, even today. Because character implies blemishes and the professionals are too good at covering them up.

(I still remember a boat I rebuilt years ago. That had character all right. The holes in the roof were patched with plaster and the first time it rained the stuff snowed down in white blobs, blighting my fiancee's hair—and my life).

No-blemishes are an essential part of do-it-yourselfery. But they can be concealed.

The common screw-hole or chisel gash that ruins the appearance of a homemade coffee table or bookcase can be filled with plastic wood. (Two applications are advisable, because the first will shrink.) But if you then try to stain and polish it you'll find the filled part a different color from the rest.

A crafty method is to use sawdust from the wood you're using, mixed with glue.

Plain glue can be used, too—particularly for filling in end grains. But you can't stain over it.

Here I should mention the dangers of staining directly on fir plywood jobs. The grain is so pronounced that it immediately produces a tigerish effect that can be seen a mile away. Unless you like this glaring grain, use white filler sealer—giving it plenty of time to dry—and then wipe stain over it.

For jobs that are to be painted, all sorts of fillers are available. Putty is grand for large, quiet holes that are well out of sight and will not be subjected to any strain. Gray caulking compound—the stuff you force in around leaky window joints, will take slight strain as it remains pliable, although hard enough to paint on the surface.

Wood putty comes in powder form, so you don't waste so much by forgetting it and leaving it to harden. It is mixed with water and dries hard in a couple of hours.

When painting old, battered wood that is deeply pitted and scratched but not worth resurfacing entirely, mix a heavy dose of plaster in with the undercoat, slabber on thickly and then strike off with a broad-knife. This gives a strong, even surface that can be painted in the normal way.

Using these methods, you can produce jobs that have less character but look a little better. It'll all be the same in 100 years so why worry about posterity!

Living room learning courses offered here

"Living Room Learning" is coming to Summerland this year. In the summer of 1957 an agreement was entered into by the Fund for Adult Education and the University of British Columbia for the establishment of a liberal arts program for adults.

In the first three years of operation emphasis has been placed on living room learning, which has been developed to bring the University out to the community. These are not lectures or classes but round table discussion groups, stimulated by especially prepared books, dramatic recordings, motion pictures and other visual media. Any community can take advantage of this packaged program.

For each of the topics the participant is given a complete set of reading. These are included in the fee of $10 a person. Married couples receive a special rate of $15 and share one set of readings.

In Summerland "An Introduction to the Humanities" is the topic chosen for the discussion group at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Croil, starting October 12 at 8 p.m. Here you can expect an entertaining and revealing contemplation of your personal responses to music, literature, poetry, painting and architecture.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. White of Trout Creek starting on October 17 at 8 p.m., the discussion will be "Ways to Justice", a study of the morality of law and order, the rights and wrongs as seen by various times and places. You will judge the cases of "The Borrowed Wife", "The Repentant Horse Thief" and other crimes and disputes.

Anyone wishing further information on "Living Room Learning" should contact Mrs. N. O. Solly or Mrs. C. C. Strachan

Youth Centre elect officers

The Youth Centre Association held a well attended executive meeting recently and appointed the following officers for the ensuing year: president, M. W. Toevs, vice president, Ralph Bléwett; secretary, Doreen Tait; treasurer, E. R. Butler. Executive: Mrs. Goldie Charles, Al McIntosh, D. M. Mrs. R. Munn, Dr. D. V. Fisher, Mrs. George Woolliams, Mrs. Hewart Woolliams, John Bennet, Mrs. Bruce Blagborne, Don Clark and Howe Thomson. A very hearty vote of thanks was given Dr. Fisher, retiring president for his many years of service in the chair.

CNIB campaign

Mrs. W. S. Rothwell, chairman of the Summerland and District Branch, CNIB, has announced the date of the annual tag day for funds to support work for blind persons in this province as Saturday, October 15.

She requested that citizens of this district become aware of the need for their personal concern in the welfare of the 2,450 persons registered as blind in British Columbia. Mrs. Rothwell said also it was important that persons should know, before giving, their dollars are going to the Canadian Institute for the Blind, the one and only organization in Canada with a complete program of services for men, women and children who have lost their sight. "Our generous support of the campaign during October is the most effective way in which those who have the precious possession of sight, can lend our helping hand to this worthy organization", said Chairman Rothwell. Through the CNIB thousands of sightless Canadians are being guided to a new way of life, a life of self-reliance and independence.

Members of the executive of the local CNIB branch working with Mrs. Rothwell are vice chairmen Robert Alstead and Mrs. E. M. Tait, secretary Mrs. J. H. Dunsdon and treasurer Gordon Dinning.

Scouting activities

A first rate meeting was held on Monday with only one absentee on account of illness. With the acceptance of Michael Inch into the Hawk patrol the troop now consists of four patrols of six boys each. A number of boys were passed on 1st class knot tests and several recruits are now almost ready to be invested. Mr. Towgood continued with 1st class signalling and a number of boys are almost ready for testing. Mr. Bennet continued with instruction on tenderfoot tests. Any boys wishing to be examined on any tests should make appointments during the week with any of the leaders. We hope all patrol leaders will soon complete 1st class tests and instruction on Queen Scout badges will commence soon to enable those eligible to be invested as Queen's Scouts next spring by the Lieutenant Governor of B.C. at Victoria.

All Scouts have been issued with Scout catalogues and we hope parents will co-operate in seeing their boys are fully uniformed in the near future. A letter to parents on uniforms and related subjects will be in the mail shortly. In the patrol competition points are as follows: Hawks 16, Beavers 21, Eagles 11 and Buffaloes 19. Hart House Orchestra pleases large crowd

The first of Summerland's Overture Concert Series was held in the high school on Saturday evening, September 24. A large audience enjoyed the Hart House orchestra, a group of thirteen stringed instruments under Dr. Boyd Neel, who not only conducted but introduced each piece in an interesting and amusing way.

It is because of a special grant from the Canada Council that this famous Canadian orchestra is able to make its western tour. One of the works played was commissioned by the Canada Council and was written especially for the orchestra's western tour.

This interesting work was well received, but it was to the beautiful playing of Mozart's Eine Kleine Nachtmusik and Tchaikowsky's Andante Cantabile that the audience gave its most wholehearted applause.

The musicians' said the warm appreciation made Summerland's audience a pleasure to play to. The audience was delighted with the orchestra. It was a happy beginning for the Overture Concert's 1960-61 season.

Churches join in training programme

On Tuesday, September 21 Summerland United and St. Stephen's Anglican Churches met with other churches in the Pentiction area for their first training dinner meeting for their planned fall visitation on Sunday, November 20. Eight churches of different denominations are taking part in the Pentiction Area Sector; one church from as far as Princeton.

The Sector Program, under the sponsorship of the Canadian Council of Churches, has been operating in Canada for five years. During this time it has grown from a pilot group of 4 churches, to over a 1,000 churches, both urban and rural, participating in a co-operative effort. The Sector Program has proved that churches of different denominations can train and work together in unity for the mutual benefit and witness of their own individual church.

Mr. S. A. MacDonald is chairman of the five man committee for the Summerland United Church and Mr. A. Watt for St. Stephen's Anglican Church.

RCMP find lost Hunter

The Summerland detachment of the RCMP was notified last Saturday night of a hunter missing in the Peachland area. Marvin Johnson of Kelowna started out Saturday morning from the Headwaters area and when he failed to return by 7:00 p.m. RCMP were notified. Corporal Larry Martin and Ken Fulks of Peachland searched until 2 a.m. and a larger party of volunteers from Summerland and Peachland started out at 7 a.m. Sunday. Johnson was found at 12:30 Sunday noon. Two other men who had lost their way were brought in Sunday by Jack Shiosaki of Kelowna.

Corporal Martin wishes to thank the people who so willingly volunteered to help in the search and to add a word of caution to would-be hunters, to equip themselves with a compass, matches, some food and be properly dressed before going into the bush.
