Do you have a spare box of apples? The hospital would appreciate donations to help them stock up for the winter months. Give them a ring if you can help.

Figures recently released show that the number of "camper nights" recorded at the provincial campsite north of Summerland total 23,532 this year. 1960's total was 21,160.

Summerland Rotary Club will bring an evening of entertainment to the high school auditorium on November 3. Featured will be 40 boys and girls from the Indian Residential School at Kamloops. These children, ranging in age from 6-16 years, will present a concert of folk dancing from all over the world. They were featured at the recent UBCM convention at Vernon, and their zest and enthusiasm delights their audiences. The boys and girls will be billeted overnight in Summerland by the Rotary Club, before going on to Oliver.

Trout Creek ratepayers Saturday voted with a loud yes for domestic water service. In the balloting, 141 voted yes with only 10 voting no. There were three spoiled ballots.

The affirmative vote assured construction of the $105,000 domestic water system this winter.

Local Cub Master, Dr. Jack McArthur of the research centre, attended a training course for Cub masters held at Shawnigan Lake on Vancouver Island.

For the past four years Dr. McArthur has been a member of the provincial training team, who present this course to the Cub Masters from all parts of the province.

The eight day course is mainly to teach Cub Masters how to organize meetings and pack work in general. Dr. McArthur mentioned that many of the leaders take the courses at their own expense.

Three of these training courses were held in B.C. this year.

H. N. McPherson, P.Eng., of West Summerland will receive a Life Membership Medallion at a meeting of the Central B.C. Branch of the Association of Professional Engineers of B.C. at SS Sicamous, Penticton this Friday.

The occasion is the annual visit to the Central B.C. Branch of the Association by Association President, William Hall, P. Eng., of Victoria. Mr. Hall will be accompanied by the Association's Registrar J. A. Merchant, P. Eng.

500 women attend film on cancer

The Summerland branch of the Canadian Cancer Society was delighted with the reception given the Cancer Society's free film, "Time and Two Women", shown in Summerland on Sept. 26. A record attendance of some 500 women crowded the High School Auditorium after the meeting was transferred from the IOOF Hall, originally slated, which proved much too small for the large audience attending.

The Cancer Society film carried a message of vital importance to all women showing how early diagnosis, yearly examinations and treatment can lead to almost 100 percent cure for cancer of the cervix, second to breast cancer as a killer of women. The film was informative, clear and interesting and many women expressed an understanding of problems which had not been comprehended before.

Power takeover likely "deferred"

Able presented by Reeve. F. E. Atkinson, the "power brief" placed before the sitting of the provincial cabinet held in Oliver on Tuesday gained at least a partial, and indirectly-favorable answer. But this answer did not come at the cabinet session.

Instead, it was included in a "power-full" speech given by Premier W. A. C. Bennett on Tuesday evening to a capacity dinner session held in the Oliver Legion Hall.

The brief, one of several area petitions put before the heads of government, outlined the views of those communities now enjoying service from the West Kootenay Power & Light Co., and their desire to continue with that service, rather than have the private firm taken over by the provincial government in the manner B.C. Electric was.

This well-prepared document set forth the advantages accruing to the participating communities, including favorable power rates for all, and a source of municipal revenue for several.

Observers sitting on the sidelines as the various briefs were presented noted a marked difference in the reception accorded the power brief to that given other petitions. Whereas with the others the cabinet members were all attention, and asked a series of questions, there was a notable silence during and following the brief as presented by Summerland's reeve. Only comment at that time came from Premier Bennett when he remarked that the brief had covered a great deal of ground. It was quite apparent at that time he and the remainder of the cabinet had made up their minds with respect to the issue.

First Concert Series Oct. 20 features puppet show

From the company of more than 600 marionettes, Daniel Llord's "International" lifts the curtain of secrecy on just one of the many exciting numbers which the Summerland Overture Concert Association will present on Friday, Oct. 21. This is the first of the 1961-62 series of Overture Concerts.

Llord's "International" — America's incomparable puppet theatre for adults — offers a kaleidoscope of charm, color, choreography. The Faust legend is telescoped into two sumptuous and amusing scenes full of musical magic: the astonishing materialization of Mephistopheles in a cloud of smoke, the fires of hell that leap up to claim the soul of Faust in just reward and the three temptations. (as originally devised for the premiere presentation of "Faust" as the Paris Opera.)

Bennett outlines power progress of province

Answering his critics that the government is "ignoring the Columbia", Premier Bennett Tuesday night in Oliver declared that this, so far from being the truth is a perversion of facts. He said that work is being carried on on both rivers, that engineering studies, running into millions of dollars are now under way on the Columbia, and hearings are being held regarding the flood damage and other items concerning the Arrow-Columbia basin.

He paralleled the developments on the Peace with those on the Columbia, indicating both are required for the future of B.C. Regarding financing of the Columbia, Mr. Bennett said he proposes that the "downstream power" accruing to this province be resold back to the U.S. as "it would cost more than six mills, and would be expensive power" in any event.

Instead he states his plan is to utilize the money realized from the sale of this power to finance the dams and electrical installations on the Columbia. This, he said, would mean that the power from the Columbia (at source) would cost the province nothing. And there would be two million horsepower of energy obtained from the three dams now proposed.

The premier told of the development of the northland, and said that rather than — as had been intimated — money shying away from B.C. there is plenty of it coming into the province. He said there is one hundred and fifty million dollars coming in from California interests; money going into oil development — and a new cracking plant and pipeline from Taylor Flats; also new financing with attendant employment for the mining developments in the province.

You won't lose hospital Bennett tells Board

"You're not going to lose your hospital. Make your application for what you need and we will start on a survey and other preparatory work". These were the parting words of Premier W. A. C. Bennett to Hospital Chairman Bob Alstead and hospital administrator Tuesday at Oliver. The two had met with the premier at the cabinet session being held in Oliver to discuss Summerland's hospital needs.

Later in the afternoon Councilor Norman Holmes, Mr. Alstead and Mr. Wilson talked with the Minister of Health and Welfare Eric Martin, about the community's needs. Tuesday night Mr. Martin came to Summerland and toured the hospital before meeting with members of the hospital board. Mr. Martin told the board that Summerland hospital has an excellent record financially and has been very well operated during the past years. In discussing the hospital in general, Mr. Martin said that the Summerland Ladies Auxiliary is a magnificent group of workers and has a fine reputation. He particularly praised their recent efforts in raising money for a new X-ray unit for the hospital.

Board chairman Bob Alstead told the Review Wednesday morning that consultations will start immediately with the architect towards planning a new 25-30 bed hospital. Cost of the project is estimated at $300,000. It is expected that it would be approximately two years before the new building could be completed.

Pick up your prize list for 'Mum Show'

The Summerland Horticultural Society will present its annual 'Mum Show on Saturday, October 4, in the Anglican Parish Hall from 3 to 9 p.m.

This will be the last and one of the most gorgeous displays of flower collections from Summerland gardens for the year.

There will be varieties to please everyone, from dainty little button mums and graceful spray mums, besides various classes competing for best of variety.

all gardeners. Prize lists are available from the district horticulturist and at local stores displaying 'mum show posters.

Many residents look forward to this annual fall garden event and this year a large attendance is expected. It is hoped all interested will remember the show and perhaps stop for a refreshing cup of tea which is served throughout the show.

Police court

James Sheppard of West Summerland appeared before Magistrate Reid Johnston in local police court Oct. 3, on three charges of defrauding the Unemployment Insurance Commission. Sheppard pleaded guilty to making a false statement relative to unemployment insurance, and was fined $50 on each count, or in default one month in jail for each charge, sentence to run consecutively.

Frank Lauer of West Summerland appeared in police court charged with driving while his licence was expired. He was fined $10 and costs.

Robert Nakamura was fined $25 and costs for making a left hand turn in the wrong lane on highway 97.

A ladies wrist watch, found in the vicinity of the municipal hall on September 29, has been turned in at the RCMP office.

Dates set for night school classes here

"If you are interested in a night school hobby course, be sure and come the first night to the course of your choice," says Mr. W. R. Chalmers, teacher-in-charge of the night school courses. The number of persons registering must total 15 or the course isn't practical. Mr. Chalmers and the instructors are hoping for good turnout on opening night. The courses, opening nights and fees are advertised elsewhere in this issue.

Mrs. Ken Blagborne will again take the sewing course and is hoping for a good group of intermediates and beginners. Mrs. Blagborne will teach basic sewing techniques as well as dealing with some of the more advanced methods. Pupils will be asked to prepare booklets containing samples of their work for future reference.

Students will learn flat pattern checking, which is the method of altering a pattern to fit the figure, how to operate and care for their sewing machine and they will have an opportunity to make several garments during the 20 hours of lessons.

An interesting millinery course has been lined up by Mrs. Wally Harrison. This year the emphasis is on fabric hats. Mrs. Harrison feels these hats are the most popular as the materials are so accessible. Lots of new exciting patterns are available and Mrs. Harrison styles each hat for the individual. Soft hats for travel will be another feature of this year's course.

Parkdale Place report

by Mrs. F. Atkinson.

The interest in Parkdale Place increases as time goes on.

We have had, during September, a visitor from Switzerland, one from England, one from the West Indies; and Miss Elna Webb, a social service worker from Jasmania, now touring Canada. There have been six visitors from the US, 14 from other parts of Canada and 70 from our own province paid us a visit.

During the month six new residents have come: Mr. J. Adams, Mr. G. H. Williams, Mr. N. Kidd, Mrs. J. Caldwell, Miss Chambers, and we hope to see Mrs. R. Niéld back very soon.

Miss Chambers, a school nurse for 15 years in Honolulu, narrates stories of the three famous schools for Polynesian children, fully subsidized by lands left by the last heir, Pauahi Bishop of the Kamehamehas Dynasty.

One elementary and two high schools accommodate 2,000 pupils with 66 teachers and a managing staff of 70 with a legacy at present of $73,000,000.

The interest shown in the Home is evident by the copious donations of peaches, pears, prunes, grapes, vegetables, especially cucumbers, 12 inches long, which Nellie announces with the efficient help of the staff has been canned. 426 qts. of peaches and pears, 100 qts. plums and prunes, 175 jars of jam, 60 containers of pickles, and I might mention Nellie has been seen up a ladder retrieving plums for jam.

We have not lacked for entertainment. Free tickets to the Country Fair, invitation to the Pensioner's meetings, and Mr. T. B. Young came one evening with his films depicting the leviathan boat and plane on which he travelled. His pictures showed the natives of Suva and the flamboyant gardens of New Zealand and fauna of Australia.

On Friday, September 29th, Mrs. Read celebrated her birthday, which was not forgotten by her many Summerland friends.

We cannot refrain from quoting Browning: "Grow old with me, the best is yet to come."

Important to community

As Summerland enters into the fall season there is always an increase in the activities of the local service clubs, organizations, auxiliaries, etc: Each in its own way is a part of this community, represents thinking of our people, undertakes projects which the members feel are worthy, and in one form or another make up the social, business and recreational life of Summerland. No matter how large or how small, each group in its own way contributes something for our community and its residents.

With the arrival of autumn, and the end of summer recess, the first fall meetings are called, notification through the Review, over the phone, or through personal contact goes out to summon the membership back into action. Each group in its own way competes for the attendance and the attention of people who sometimes are active in far more than just one or two of the local groups.

There are those who take a keen and active interest in their communities, and conscientiously devote a certain amount of their time to organizations which they feel they should support. These are the people who do not need any prompting. They are the leaders in their various capacities as chairmen, presidents, etc.

Next to this type, are those who feel they must contribute to the activities of their community. Although they hold no particular office, they nevertheless attend regularly and take an active part.

Unfortunately there is only a small percentage that fall into these two categories. The balance are those that have to be reminded, pleaded with, invited over and over again, and almost forced to take an interest in what goes on. Among these are the ones who leave it to the "other fellow" and only take an interest when they have a complaint or a personal slant on the subject. Here are those who just prefer to sit back and act as if they did not belong to the community.

Organizations mean a great deal to our community. Without them there would be a great many things that we would lack, many projects that would never be carried out. They are vital in so many ways. By attending any of the meetings it can readily be seen there is a good purpose for their existence and a great need for your support.

True Worshipers

by Rev. D. M. Rathjen

"God is a Spirit, and they that worship Him must worship Him in spirit and in truth." John 4:24

Throughout the ages and down to the present, people's opinions have differed, and do differ, as to the place where men ought to worship." In this diversity of opinion many think they have an excuse for not worshipping. They say, "Who is right"? However, Jesus in talking to the Samaritan woman in John, 4:21-24 shows very plainly that it is not the place that is important but "what and how" we worship. "But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshiper shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth; for the Father seeketh such to worship Him."

Many, like the woman of Samaria, are worshipping but they "know not what." They have little or no knowledge of the God to whom their worship and adoration belong. Knowledge of Him must be sought in the Holy Scriptures. Jesus said that God, His Father, is a Spirit and the true worshiper is he who worships Him in "spirit and truth".

True adoration and devotion from the heart is what God seeks as worship — not religious formality void of the warmth of the spirit. We may become true worshippers through contact with Christ, as did the woman of Samaria.

Report from Parliament Hill

by David Pugh, MP

Last night I stayed to the bitter end in the House of Commons and saw the conclusion of the longest session of Parliament that has ever been held in Canada. It was not only long but weary. Many reasons have been given for its length, but as I stood in the Senate while the representative of the Governor-General of Canada, Chief Justice Kerwin, read the long list of legislative achievements, I felt that this was true cause. Certainly the session started off last November with a burst of speed and the last three weeks have been the same; but there was a long period ending last July when a great deal of unnecessary talking and bickering went on.

The main point at issue during the last week was Canada's attitude toward Britain's entry into the European Common Market. What Mr. Fleming and Mr. Hees said in no uncertain terms was that should Great Britain enter the ECM then Canada and the other Commonwealth nations would be adversely affected in their trade. No warning was given that Britain must choose between ECM and the Commonwealth. Nothing but good can flow from Canada's stated position. Britain's hand has been strengthened in any dealings she may have with the ECM. The stand taken by Canada is the stand taken by all the members of the Commonwealth. There is no doubt that we are trade-wise at a point of decision. Meanwhile Canada's trade position has increased with the adverse balance lower and her gross national product has risen.

Nine hundred thousand checks per month

(One of a series of articles describing the Federal Health and Welfare Services Canadians get for their tax dollars)

Seventy-five thousand cheques come back to the Department of National Health and Welfare's regional office each year — for a total of over $4 million.

They are Old Age Security cheques which cannot be delivered because the pensioner did not tell his local Old Age Security office that he had moved.

It isn't enough, department officials stress, to give the post office authorities your new address and expect them to do the rest. Postmasters return all undelivered pension cheques to the office of origin. A prompt note to the regional office will ensure that the cheque arrives in good time and with as little inconvenience as possible to all concerned.

Old Age Security cheques of $55 each go out each month to 900,000 Canadians, 70 years of age and over, from 10 regional offices across Canada. The regional offices mail the cheques on the 3rd last banking day of each month. This is to allow the pensioner two clear banking days before the end of the month in which to cash his cheque. The plan works well, when such procedures are followed.

The same thing is true of cheques for pensioners living outside Canada. Under law, Canadians who approved pensioners and who have lived in this country for 25 years after age 21, can draw Old Age Security benefits abroad for as long as they wish. People who have lived in Canada for less than this time can draw pensions abroad for 6 months plus the month of departure. The provision of payments abroad is a recent development. Commenting on this aspect is a recent address, the Hon. J. Waldo Monteith said: "It is not the intention of the Government to encourage pensioners to leave Canada; what we are anxious to do is to give our senior citizens greater freedom of action in arranging their retirement years in line with their own best wishes and best interests".

Cheques for pensioners abroad go out on the same day as the in-Canada variety, but there is an important difference between the two types. Out-of-Canada cheques can be cashed anywhere abroad. In-Canada cheques are good only in this country. So, if you are planning a trip to Florida or France, you should let your regional office know promptly. The office will send you a special cheque and arrange for payments to continue as long as you are away—subject to the provisions mentioned above.

Old Age Pensions are administered by the Government of Canada under the Old Age Security Act of 1951. The Act provides a universal pension of $55 a month to residents of Canada, 70 years and over, who meet certain residence requirements. Payments total about $600 million per year for about 900,000 people across the nation. Over one-third of these pensioners, 328,000 live in Ontario, a fact which some attribute to the comparatively mild climate of the province's southern section. Quebec with a similar population accounts for only 191,000. British Columbia is next with 115,000. The present life expectancy for the pensioner is 11½ years, and Canada's life expectancy is rising. Thus the program can be expected to play an increasingly important role in the Canadian economy.

This large and complex operation calls for a massive job of organization and book-keeping. But the co-operation of pensioners in such matters as address-changes helps to keep the machinery running smoothly. It helps make the service better for everyone.

"I put two dollars on the nose like you told me to."

Winter Best Time To Make Indoor Home Improvements

"You can save yourself much time and trouble," says Jock Johnston, manager of the Summerland branch of the Bank of Montreal, "by having your indoor home improvements done in the winter when building tradesmen are not tied up on outdoor construction."

"And it's often more economical, too," continues Mr. Johnston, "to have all those repairs or improvements done at once."

Of course, there's always the chance that you haven't the ready cash to make those repairs and improvements now. If that's your problem, drop in at the B of M and have a chat with Mr. Johnston about a Home Improvement Loan. H.I.L.'s are available for all kinds of worthwhile purposes -- from insulating the attic to wiring the basement playroom.

B of M Home Improvement loans are inexpensive - only 6 per cent interest per annum - and they're repayable in easy monthly instalments. Why not drop in at the B of M tomorrow. Mr. Johnston will be glad to give you full details about a B of M Home Improvement Loan.

Emergency North The World's Most Expensive Citizens

Canada takes good care of her 12,000 Eskimos. To protect their health the government puts out more than $23 million a year. In emergencies such as the one shown above, for instance, flying an injured Eskimo from his remote village to a modern hospital may cost up to $4,000. All this makes the Canadian Eskimos the world's most expensive citizens.

No one complains of this expense, however. For there is a very good reason for it. Until not too long ago Eskimos were dying out. This came about when to the Eskimo's naturally hard lot of hunger, cold, and accident, contact with the White Man added tuberculosis, syphilis, polio and many of the other ills of civilization. The government realized that unless something were done to help them, the Eskimos might well disappear from the Canadian scene.

Now, a regular network of health stations protects the well being of these indigenous residents of Canada's Far North. Costs are high because the country is wild and rough and distances great between the widely scattered Eskimo communities.

The story of how Canada has accomplished this impressive task is told in the September-October issue of "World Health," the bimonthly magazine of the World Health Organization. This latest issue of World Health is devoted exclusively to health in the Americas. Other articles cover the water crisis in Latin America, the building of model health services in Brazil's new capital city of Brasilia, and the history of the Pan American Sanitary Bureau, the world's oldest international health organization and since 1949 WHO's Regional Office for the Americas.

Kiwanis holds Ladies Night

Kiwanis members and their wives spent, once again, one of those delightful evenings at a Club Supper Dance, that they know only too well how to arrange and enjoy.

The setting was the Yacht Club and after several guests had been introduced, including Bill Rathbun and his wife (Bill has been a member of Kiwanis for 35 years and is Past Lieutenant Governor), Bernie Hubbard was welcomed as a new member, by Jack Towgood, and awarded his K button by the president.

The club had just got well underway to enjoy some club singing led by John Tamblyn, when we were invaded by a trio from darkest Africa. They carried weird looking instruments and (finally turned out to be the firm of Ratzlaff, Selinger, Schuman and Schuman. (Schuman is mentioned twice because he did all the talking). These stalwarts then startled us by singing, "Old Black Joe is in de cold cold ground" or something that sounded like it. You put on a good show fellows, and we all enjoyed it.

Shortly after 9:00 p.m., tables were cleared from the floor, the orchestra got all set, and dancing was the order until midnight when the ladies served coffee and sandwiches.

The unanimous opinion was that it will still be too long before the next one.

New books at the library

by Kay Dunsdon

A wide selection of new books have come to our library but we can mention only a few. Of the fiction, a new novel by Richard Llewellyn is "A Man in a Mirror." This is set in modern Africa, and is a strong, moving story of the struggle of African tribesmen to adapt themselves to twentieth century living. Raised in primitive, tribal ways, and then forced by economic necessity to crowd into cities looking for work, they are bewildered and confused. Even those educated in European schools are torn between their tribal customs and modern ways.

This is the story of Nterenke, or James Teren in English, who is forced to find the answers to these many questions, to help his proud Masai tribe of Kenya.

Richard Llewellyn will be remembered as the author of "How Green Was My Valley." He has lived and studied the daily life of the Masai and is able by his facile pen to bring them all to life.

"A Wild Surmise" a novel by a young modern writer, is full of action and dialogue. In the story Robert Carn, the hero, sets out to prove that dictators are not necessary, but his freedom does not last long in San Rogue. The author, Frederic Raphael, is one of the rising young English authors, and published his first novel "Obligato", in 1956.

"These Ruins Are Inhabited" by Margaret Beadle, is the humorous and witty book of her stay in England, when her husband was a visiting professor teaching at Oxford University. While there Professor Beadle was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize, which gave them the opportunity of visiting Europe also. A professional writer, Mrs. Beadle gives us almost a guide book, sprinkled with her reactions to English lodgings, electrical fixtures and heaters, which makes hilarious reading. But between the lines a serious comparison is made of English and American education. You will enjoy this book.

A really handsome book with beautiful photography is "Living Japan, the Land and the People, and Their Changing World". Donald Keene, associate professor of Japanese at Columbia University, has a reputation in America and Japan, as an outstanding student of Japanese life and letters. He has written in Japanese for Japanese publications and his translations have helped to make Japanese literature known outside Japan.

With this background, the author is able to give us an authentic picture of Japanese at work and play, their politics and industry, their religious beliefs and social systems. This book would be a wonderful guide for visitors, or a real pleasure for those who know Japan.

Teen Town Topics

Teen Town operated very successfully last summer, sponsoring Saturday night dances and the special Queen's Ball.

A membership dance will be held on Saturday, October 14, featuring The Pacers band from Kelowna. The 1961-62 membership cards will be sold at this dance. Like all other Teen Towns in B.C., Summerland now operates on closed membership and you must be a member to participate in any Teen Town activities.

With a new winter season starting we are again faced with the problem of getting chaperones for our dances. Adults who have helped us in this respect before have enjoyed it very much, but we cannot depend on the same people every week. Teen Town can't operate without the co-operation of adults. Any couples interested in helping with the chaperoning or wanting more details please call me at HY4-6231 any evening.

Square 'em up

Ray Fredrickson emcees the Wagon Wheelers party in Kelowna this Saturday, Oct. 7. Pie and ice cream are on the menu, and it sounds like a good place to go square dancing this week end.

The following Friday, Oct. 13 is the date all members of the Pairs and Squares have marked on their calendar. That's the night we'll be getting together at the Youth Centre with all the people who want to learn to square dance. It's a free party for everyone who is interested in this popular recreation. Come and see for yourselves just what we mean when we say "Square dancing is fun"! I think you'll find it's more than that. It's a wonderful way to meet people. The lively music, the exercise, the need for concentrating on what the caller says, and the friendly atmosphere, all help to break down some of that tension we feel these days.

Ray Fredrickson, our beginners instructor, will emcee the party. The club members are providing the refreshments. All you have to do is be at the Youth Centre at 8:15 p.m.

Saturday, Oct. 14 is Westbank's party night. Ray will emcee that night too. He's a busy man these days! Buffet supper will be served.

Pairs and Squares are host on Saturday, Oct. 21. Bob Emerson will be the caller, and we hope there won't be another fire to celebrate the occasion, like there was when he called at our party night last October! Plans are laid for a gala evening — our first party night of the new season.

Coming Events

Red Cross work room will re-open Tuesday afternoon Oct. 10. All interested ladies cordially invited.

Women's Institute Variety Sale, Saturday, Oct. 21, at 2 p.m. in IOOF Hall. Handcrafts, home cooking, garden produce, used clothing for sale. Tea 25c. 3-40

'Mum Show, Saturday, Oct. 14, at the Anglican Parish Hall, 3 to 9 p.m. Prize lists now available at the office of the district horticulturist.

Start your square-dance lessons now and be ready for the Peach Festival Jamboree next summer! Come to a free party at the Youth Centre on Friday, Oct. 13, at 8:15 p.m. Ray Fredrickson emcee. Refreshments served. 3-38-c CNIB campaign for funds will take place during month of October. Tag Day will be Saturday, October 14. Give generously to help the blind. 3-39

Troup turnout October 2 was 24 out of 25 boys, all in full uniform but three. This is a very good start and we hope to see every one fully uniformed by next meeting. Although there are a number of applications to join the troop, no more new boys can be accommodated, owing to the fact we must leave room for eight Cubs coming up in February. Bryce Parker was accepted into the troop and posted to the Eagle patrol.

At the meeting the Eagle patrol elected Roger Blagborne as Patrol Leader. Congratulations, Roger.

Instruction was continued this week in Map Reading, Tenderfoot Tests and Signalling. Swimmers Badges earned at last summer's camp were awarded to eight boys.

Owing to the long holiday weekend coming up there will be no Scout meeting on Monday, Oct. 9. Instead there will be a Court of Honor meeting to plan for the coming year. The meeting will be in the Youth Centre at 7 p.m.

Patrol standings are: Beavers 61; Buffaloes 57; Hawks 49; and Eagles 47. Duty patrol October 16 will be Beavers.

D. V. Fisher, Scoutmaster.

Card of Thanks

I wish to take this opportunity to thank Dr. Munn and the staff at Summerland Hospital for their care and many kindly acts through my recent stay there and also to extend my grateful thanks to the Kiwanians who made it possible for me to have a wheel chair on my discharge from hospital. It surely helps to break the monotony of what would otherwise have been a bedfast life. Also at this time I should like to thank the Legion Ladies Auxiliary, the Legion boys, the Oddfellows, the Rebekah ladies for their visits and treats, the United Church ladies for their visits, and Mr. Dave Taylor and Mr. Tom Ritchie for their many visits. Thank you all so much.

Students to sponsor Shakespearian plays

Holiday Theatre of Vancouver, under the direction of Miss Myra Benson will bring to Summerland "Shakespeare by Five" on October 16. Beginning at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium, the show is being sponsored by the high school drama club.

"Shakespeare by Five" is a colorful dramatic presentation

Many women came from Peachland to the north and as far as Oliver to the south, several coming from Penticton who had not been able to get in when the film was shown there earlier. This was substantial evidence of the interest aroused by the subject itself and the good publicity work done by the local branch. Much credit is due Mrs. J. E. O'Mahony who planned and carried out the campaign with the aid of her able band of helpers.

After the film, Dr. W. H. B. Munn and Dr. W. G. Evans came on to the platform and answered clearly and concisely the many questions sent up by the audience.

This free film showing by the Canadian Cancer Society and local branches has aroused great interest whenever shown, and doctors report a great increase in requests for the necessary examination so clearly portrayed in the film. This is a fine public service which is already showing results. M.A.

of scenes from Julius Caesar, Macbeth, Twelfth Night, Richard III and Much Ado About Nothing. The script has been especially prepared by Ian Thorne and will be presented in unique avenue-arena style, with various platform arrangements on the floor of the auditorium. The action takes place in and around the audience who are seated on both sides along the length of the hall.

Admission for this entertaining feature is adults 75c, students 50c and children 25c.

This mature and sophisticated extravaganza has been hailed by internationally renowned critics as "dynamic".

The duo pianists Monsset and Bouchard have been engaged for an appearance in April. The executive is hoping that McHenry Boatwright, a distinguished baritone will be available for the February concert.

Holders of Summerland Overture Concert tickets will be able to enjoy the Oliver Overture Concerts at no extra charge. First Oliver presentation will be the Canadian Opera Company, November 30.

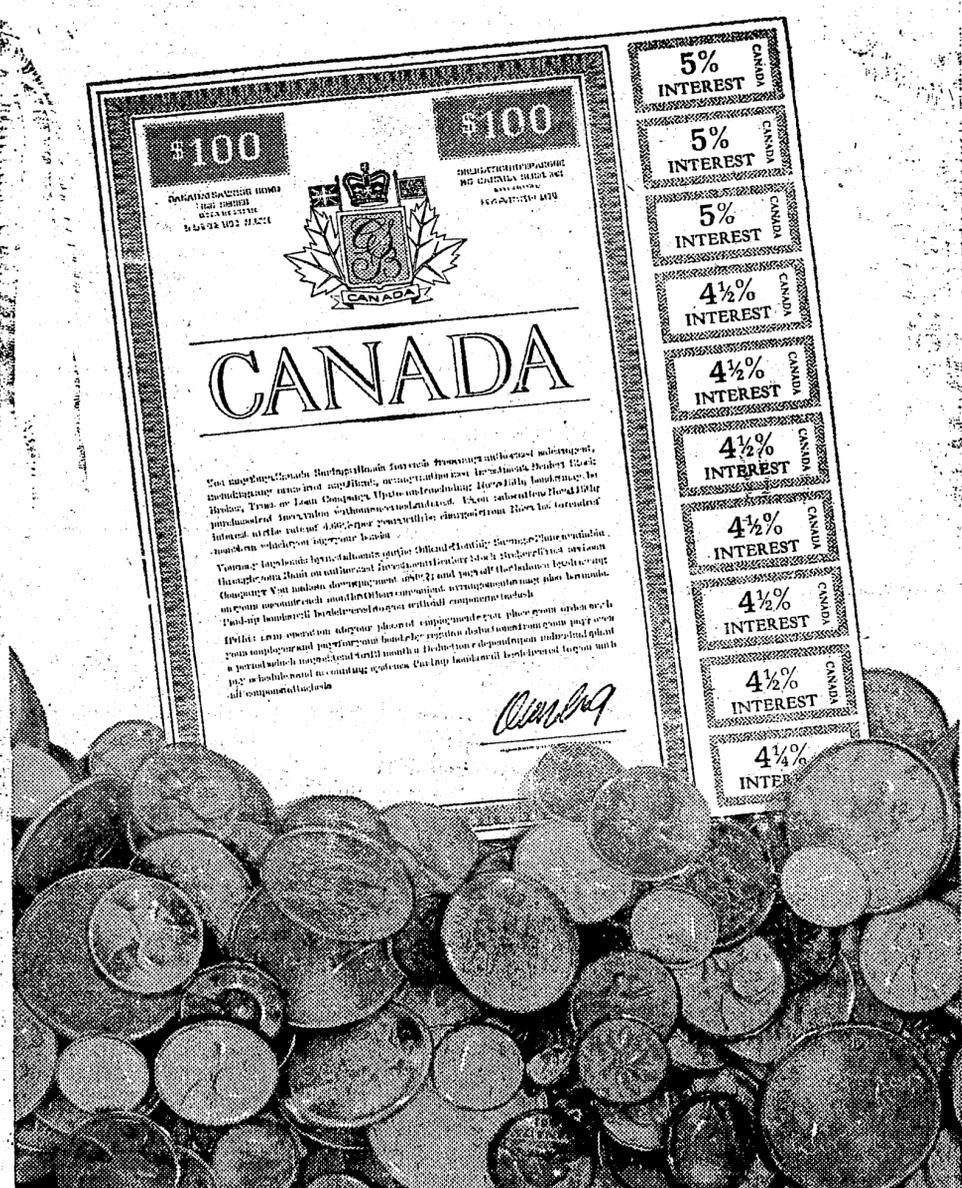

Any Summerland resident who has not been contacted and would like tickets ($5.50 for the whole series) is advised to phone immediately Mr. Harry Killick

In his remarks on highways, Mr. Bennett said there will soon be a new influx of tourists over the completed Southern Trans-provincial Highway (along the B.C. border) and will increase materially as soon as the new route is completed. This will bring resulting benefits to the people of the whole interior, and particularly to the tourist towns of the Okanagan.

Referring briefly to the forthcoming Canadian Centennial, he said this will be of particular import in B.C. and concluded: "There is no room, in such expansion for partisanship, only for confidence and determination "And unless we have the cooperation of an enlightened people we cannot succeed. Given this, we can continue to build."

Under the Giant's Head

We note in the Osoyoos Times a report that starlings are returning to that area. After being absent all summer, the report states, starlings have returned in large numbers. Growers of Golden Delicious apples appear to be the hardest hit, with individual growers reporting losses of up to 200 boxes.

Pity the poor orchardist. After a summer of bugs, blights, etc., now its beaver. Seems a family of beaver are busy up Prairie Valley way, making dams with choice pear trees. These "busy as beaver" types have clogged up several culverts in a vain attempt to create a lake and are proving a headache to everyone concerned.

Also in the animal department we hear Mrs. Ollie Egeley got her deer again this year. She must have been looking for a choice one this year as the hunting season had been open for a few days before she made the kill. Mrs. Egeley generally has her deer the first morning.

Some nice moose have been sighted up at Headwaters and another lucky hunter got an elk on Bathfield.

Another hunting story with a grim theme occurred Thanksgiving Monday when Ray Dundson, 21 was hunting in the Fish Lake area with two Vancouver companions, Jan Creighton and Barry Lawley.

Ray left the cabin, alone, with only five shells in his gun, to scout up some game. He took a shot at what he supposed was a bear, took a second shot and recognized it as a big cougar. He shot three times and wounded the cat. When it still came on, he gave it his last shell. At this moment he heard a growl behind him, turned and saw another cougar inching toward him on its belly. He found that yelling stopped the animals advance and by yelling and running in turn, made it to the cabin. Returning later the boys found the wounded animal dead.

It measured six feet, nine inches from nose to tail tip.

Marcel Bonthoux, formerly of Summerland, is pictured in the Clinton-Cache Creek News, as proud as punch after bagging a big moose. The animal, which went well over 600 lbs., was shot in the Highland Valley area.

Fire Prevention Week started off in a poor way in Summerland on Sunday. The volunteer fire brigade was called out twice. One call was to a small grass fire at the Royale Service Station. Almost at the same time a garage caught on fire at Mountain View Home and burned to the ground.

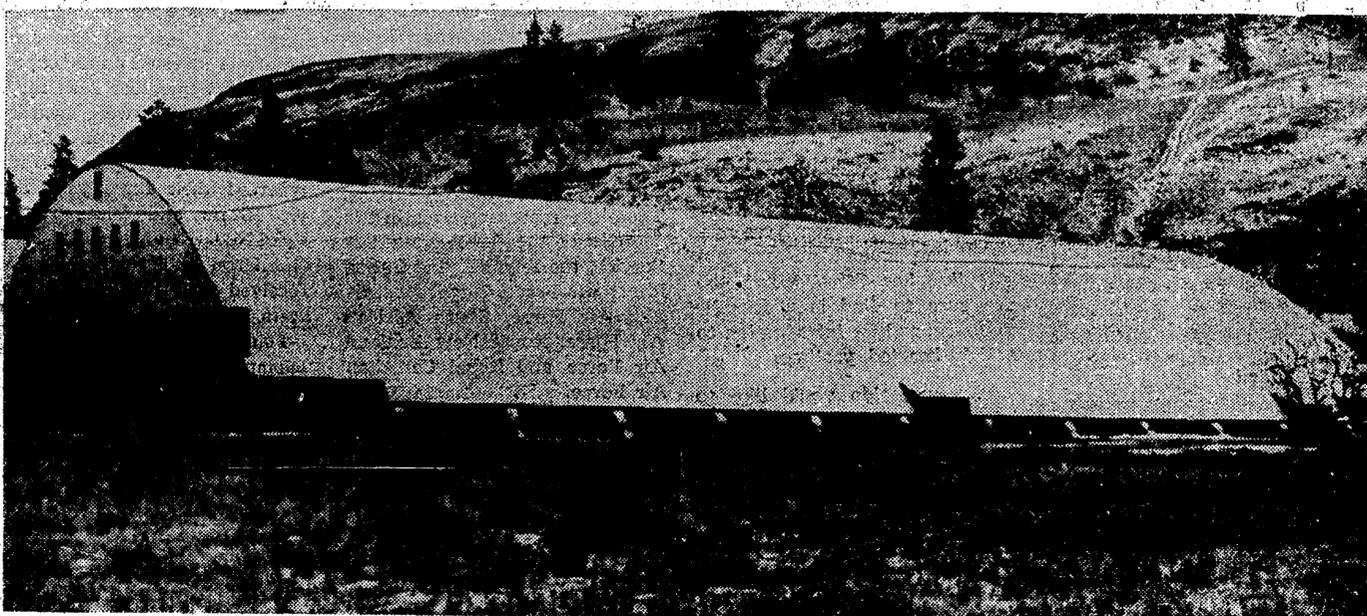

On Monday, Thanksgiving Day, Mrs. F. E. Atkinson, Mrs. F. Downes, Mrs. Lillian Brind and Miss Maida Morrell, travelled to Vernon to attend the official visit of Mrs. E. Shaw, president of the Rebekah Assembly of B.C. to Kalamalka Rebekah Lodge 6 of Vernon.

Busy season ahead for Jubilee Arena

Summerland's Jubilee Arena opens for another season this Saturday, October 14.

The Summerland Figure Skating Club will open the 1961-62 season on October 14, with the registration of members at the Arena, beginning at 4 p.m.

Miss Dolores Causier has again been engaged to instruct the members for two sessions per week, and Club officials feel that they are very fortunate in being able to secure this very talented instructress, as her ability to produce top skaters is becoming very well known in the figure skating circles of the province, due to the operation of the Summerland Summer Skating School and also to the fact that her pupils won 13 of the 20 trophies in the Okanagan Mainline Championships in Kamloops last winter.

The Summerland Club has undertaken to host the Championships this year and they will be held in the Jubilee Arena on Saturday and Sunday, December 2 and 3, with the top skaters from all the valley towns and Kamloops participating. This will be an excellent opportunity for the people of Summerland to see some top-notch skating, as some of these skaters are of a very high calibre.

Judges will be brought in from Trail, as well as many of the local valley judges, who will help in the various categories.

Granville Mayall of Vancouver, who is the president of the Canadian Figure Skating Association, plans to attend the Championships and assist in judging and refereeing, as he is very interested in all competitions.

FRANK NAKAGAWA

and his father, J. Nakagawa, open their new dry cleaning plant in West Summerland on Friday, October 13. Located next to OK Swap and Shop, the building has been completely renovated and modern dry cleaning equipment installed.

Both father and son have had considerable experience in the dry cleaning business, having operated a plant at Greenwood for 19 years.

On opening day, Friday, special prizes will be drawn for, including a TV lamp, with free candies for the kiddies.

This new cleaning plant will feature pick up and delivery service in Summerland. Dave Cox, will be calling at homes.

Another special service will be a week.

Another special service will be free moth and mildew proofing of all woollens, brought in for dry cleaning.

Mr. Frank Nakagawa is married and has one girl, 1½ years old.

Purchase of new fire truck approved

It's Fire Prevention Week — and the week that council decided to purchase a new fire truck.

At Tuesday night's meeting, council authorized the purchase of a fire truck for $16,264 from Roney's of Abbotsford, Ltd., with delivery in 90 days.

The truck will be assembled by the Roney Co. at Abbotsford using an International Truck body and a two stage Waterous Pumper. The Roney Co. is a locally owned firm, employing B.C. people, and many of the truck fittings are fabricated in B.C.

SUN-RYPE OPEN HOUSE

Last year an Open House was held at the Sun-Rype plants for the grower-owners and their friends. Many growers for the first time saw their plants in operation.

There are still many growers who haven't seen the plants in production and Open House will again be held this season. The main Kelowna plant will be open for inspection on Wednesday, October 18 at 2:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m., and the Oliver plant will be on Thursday, October 19 at 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. The directors of the firm will be in attendance.

Film of Bible on Friday

The thrilling story of the work of the Bible Society among the blind people of the world is being told throughout the province by Rev. J. A. Raymond Tingley of Vancouver, District Secretary of the Canadian Bible Society.

Mr. Tingley is presenting a motion picture entitled, "So Great the Light" in the Anglican Parish Hall, Friday, Oct. 13 at 8:00 p.m.

This is the story of the Braille Bible, in its production, distribution and influence.

In its world wide work of providing the Scriptures for the missionaries of all churches, the Society renders this outstanding service to the blind at a fraction of the cost of production.

All are welcome to attend.

Police Court report

On October 4th at 8 p.m., a two car collision occurred on Highway 97, a mile north of Peachland. A car, driven by Karoly Pok of Kelowna, arriving in the construction area, swung wide and into the lane of an oncoming vehicle driven by Elsie M. Luhala of Peachland. Cars were damaged to the extent of $500. Pok was charged with driving in the wrong lane.

On Friday, October 6, a vehicle driven by John Byers of Penticton, while driving south on highway 97, left the road near Trout Creek and overturned. The driver was apprehended at the Tank and Tummy Service Station and arrested for impaired driving. This was Byers second offence, as he was previously convicted in Penticton on the same charge in January of 1960. Magistrate Reid Johnston gave him a mandatory sentence of 14 days in jail.

Saturday, October 7, at 1:00 p.m. a car driven by George Roy of New Westminster while driving on Highway 97 in the Deep Creek area south of Peachland went out of control. The Youth Centre drive Oct. 18

This year's Youth Centre financial drive will be held one night only, Wednesday, October 18. Canvassers will be calling at every home in Summerland between 6:30 and 9 p.m. Objective this year is $2,000.

Money raised will be used to finance the buying of the parking lot adjacent to the building and also for general operating expenses.

A major renovation of the hall has been completed this year with the basement completely renovated.

The executive, comprised of Walter Toevs, president; Ralph Blewett, vice-president; E. R. Butler, treasurer, and Miss Doreen Tait, secretary, are hoping for a good response to this annual appeal for funds.

President Walter Toevs told the Review that the Youth Centre is probably one of the busiest halls in Summerland. Children from 130 families use the hall's facilities regularly, and the executive expect that number to increase by at least 20 families this season.

NIGHT SCHOOLS START

Attendance was not too good at the opening nights of this year's night school classes, but director W. R. Chalmers is hoping for a larger attendance next week.

At least 15 students for each course is necessary to make the courses financially feasible.

The pottery course under the able instruction of Mrs. F. Sidebotham so far has only eight students. The course continues next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

Millinery and sewing start on Monday, October 16 at 8 p.m., and band practice under the baton of Dr. J. Mason continues next Wednesday at 8 p.m.

car crossed the highway into the west ditch and skidded over 200 feet. Several of the passengers were thrown out with all five occupants sustaining injuries. A passing motorist brought them to Summerland Hospital for treatment.

Also on Saturday, October 7, Stanley A. Bowe of Coquitlam struck a deer, and did $250.00 damage to his car. The animal was killed outright.

In Summerland police court, Oct. 5, James Parker of West Summerland pleaded guilty to a charge of driving without due care and attention and was fined $15.00 and costs.

James Verigin of Penticton appeared in the same court and was fined $35 and costs on the charge of being a minor in possession of liquor.

Jack Altenhofer, lately of Summerland, appeared before Magistrate Reid Johnston charged with receiving money on false pretenses. Arrested in Cranbrook and escorted back to Summerland, Altenhofer pleaded guilty to the charge. Case has been remanded to October 17 for sentence.

There are representatives in the Interior of the Royal Navy Air Service, the Royal Flying Corps, Royal Air Force, Royal Australian Air Force, South African Air Force, Royal New Zealand Air Force and Royal Canadian Air Force.

These annual dinners bring together members from the area embraced by Osoyoos, Princeton, Salmon Arm and Kamloops. All former members of Commonwealth Air Forces should get in touch with Hamish MacNeill of Peachland.

It is expected that a senior RCAF officer from Vancouver will be the speaker of the evening and that topical RCAF films will be shown during the evening's programme.

CUB CAPERS

The Trout Creek Impeesa Pack started the 1961-62 season in its den in the Church of God basement with an evening of games on Friday, September 22. Richard Pielou and Bernie Jardine who had completed their Tenderfoot Tests at the end of last season were invested. Morley Strachan, who completed his Tenderfoot Tests at the same time was invested on October 6.

At the September 29th meeting Service Stars were awarded. Robert Munro, Ralph Smith, Guy Cockell and Raymond Davis received their three year Service Stars and Vicar Hodge, Dyke Noel, Dan McArthur, Freddie Baron and Ronnie Ryman received their two-year Service Stars.

Four new Chums: Bobby Thompson, Blaine and Rod Cockell and Peter McGibbon have joined the Pack. I hope they will soon pass their Tenderfoot Tests and become Cubs. This brings the Pack strength to 21.

The White Six are off to a good start in the Six competition, but the Red and Yellow Sixes are close on their heels. The White Six won both competitions last season. Come on, Red and Yellow Sixes, you are not going to let them win three times in a row are you?

Canada's disgrace

It is the world's most gruesome highway. For Canada, it is a national disgrace.

It is a highway 5,000 miles long, stretching from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

On both sides of the highway, on lots 100 feet apart, there are homes, an eighth of the homes of Canada.

These are the homes which have been struck by fire.

At every mile of the highway, there is a cairn for the dead.

More than 500,000 homes destroyed or damaged by fire! More than 5,000 victims of fire!

Since the birth of Canada? No. Only in the last 10 years.

That is the tragic picture of Canadian carelessness with fire in the home, and everywhere.

The lesson for Fire Prevention Week, October 8-14, and every week: Keep off this highway, by not giving fire a place to start in your home.

Canada's fire situation, as of 1960: Fewer fires but greater total loss. Explanation: Increased number of "large loss fires", those of $250,000 and up.

There were 17 of these last year, compared with 11 in 1959. Their waste jumped to $17 millions, from $5 millions before.

Three-quarters of a million was the toll of fire in two schools, half a million in a couple of churches.

What's the thinking on large loss fires, most of them in big industrial places? Fires likely to put many out of work?

One thing is certain: nearly all start as minor outbreaks, not stopped before they become conflagrations. Principal reasons given: construction weaknesses and the absence of alarm and protective sprinkler systems. (Structural weaknesses include the lack of division walls, unenclosed stairwells and elevator shafts).

Whether it's a huge plant or a small, cherished home, fire can become an inferno in minutes. Five minutes is par for the course of fire in the home. The big plant need not take much longer. The bigger the place, the bigger (even faster) the fire.

The lessons of fire safety in the home offer a good place to start in looking at the problem of Canada's large loss fires.

With four million homes, and million people living in them, fire prevention can be highly personal, greatly productive.

Letter to the Editor

The Editor,
Summerland Review,
Dear Sir:

I see that the citizens of Summerland are to be offered once again the opportunity to decide whether or not our children will enjoy the benefits of fluoridation of the municipal water system. Presumably this means also another round of noisy arguments, disagreements and strained relations between friends, shouting at public meetings, and the community divided into two opposing factions. And to what purpose? None that is readily apparent.

Associated always with fluoridation plebiscites is the spread of misinformation, uncertainty, suspicion, skepticism and outright opposition. Doesn't it seem rather ridiculous that the electors are being asked to make a decision on a question of public health that members of the medical and dental professions can't agree on, and one that may affect the dental health of our children for years to come no matter which way the voting goes? Would it not be more prudent for the Municipal Council of this and other communities to dissociate themselves completely from the fluoridation controversy and let the heads of each individual family decide whether or not they should administer fluorine to their children?

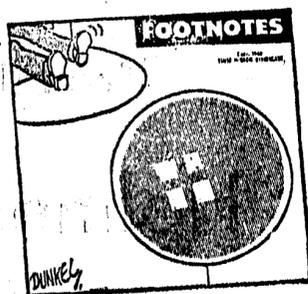

Providing a daily dose of fluorine to children in the home is a very simple operation. You may require a prescription to buy it, but you just ask your druggist to give you a quart of water containing 200 p.p.m. actual fluorine. Then you give each child between the ages of 0-8 years, 1 teaspoonful in a favorite drink, whether it be fruit juice, milk, water or something else, once a day. This is safe, effective, and ensures that the child receives the exact amount of fluorine recommended daily. The stock solution should be very cheap, with the bulk of the cost likely shared by the bottle and the charge for making it up. One quart will provide approximately 225 daily doses.

Under this scheme parents who want their children to have the benefit of fluorine need not await the approval of the electors in December. They can begin giving it to them as soon as the chemical is available from their druggist. Best of all, those people who don't want to drink, bathe in, wash their car or water their lawn with fluoridated water, are not compelled to do so. It's really so simple that it makes one wonder if a proposal to fluoridate the entire water supply of a municipality, and all the foo-feraw that goes with it, isn't actually a great hoax that is being perpetrated on the community.

If our Public Health Services are as genuinely concerned about tooth decay as they appear to be, and if fluorine is as beneficial in its prevention as it is advertised, is it not rather surprising that they don't suggest an alternative scheme to encourage the use of and provide guidance for the administering of fluorine, either in the home, in the primary school, or by some other means, when these plebiscites fail? Of course, admitting that a suitable alternative method does exist would be most embarrassing for them because such an admission might weaken irreparably the case for fluoridation of municipal systems. But let's face it. If the plebiscite in December is not approved, do we deprive our children of the benefits of fluorine indefinitely, or do we find some other way of providing it?

Yours very truly,
D. L. McIntosh.

"Thanks for blowing up my balloon, Daddy"

The story of the ungrateful robber

by Rev. G. Leasor

The story is told of a young boy who was graciously entertained in a fine home for several days. He was given the best the family had. One morning, however, the family arose to find the boy missing. He had taken with him about everything he could carry including the baby's bank from the mantel. "Such ingratitude" you say.

But wait a minute, let us change the scene. Let's pretend you're the boy and let the host represent God. Do we now begin to excuse the boy because we see ourselves in an embarrassing light? Has not God entertained graciously?

Has he not said, "Ho, everyone that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money: come ye, buy and eat; yea come, buy wine and milk without money and without price. (Isa. 55:1).

On the other hand, haven't we kind of "sneaked off" on God and in so doing robbed him of the praise and honour, and glory and thanks that are due him?

It's not too late to apologize, you know. Come back to God and thank him for his unspeakable gift, the Lord Jesus, and return those praises and thanks when you come. Jesus said: "Him that cometh unto me I will in no wise cast out."

B. C. Waters for irrigation

Just because it's water does not mean it's good for crops!

Scientists who have been testing water sources in southern British Columbia found some of the smaller streams contained too much injurious mineral matter to make them suitable for irrigation purposes.

Dr. J. C. Wilcox of the Canada Department of Agriculture's research station at Summerland, reported that waters of the larger lakes and streams were suitable. They were tested for alkalinity and for calcium, magnesium, potassium and phosphorus content in a survey stretching north from the U.S. border to Golden, Tweedsmuir Park and Prince George. The phosphorus content was low in all waters tested.

Some of the waters contained fertilizer elements that would be deposited in appreciable amounts on the land if irrigation at the rate of 36 inches for the year was applied.

On the same basis, water with the highest calcium content would deposit the equivalent of half a ton of lime per acre; that with the highest potassium content would deposit 36 pounds of this plant food element; and that with the highest magnesium content, the equivalent of 1350 pounds of epsom salts per acre per annum.

Such an amount of epsom salts would not be detrimental to crops, said Dr. Wilcox.

Local Girl wed in home ceremony

A wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Doug Holmes, West Summerland, on Saturday, September 23, at 2 p.m. The bride was Ruth Inis, daughter of Mrs. Thomas F. Scott, West Summerland, and the late Thomas F. Scott. The groom was Edward Arnt, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Arnt, Manitou, Manitoba. The early afternoon service was performed by Rev. Beiderweigen, of St. John's Lutheran Church.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Raymond Scott, wore a wedding gown of white taffeta, ballerina-length, styled with panels of Chantilly lace in the skirt. The lace was repeated in a collar embroidered with white sequins and rhinestones in an iris design. Lily point sleeves were a feature of the dress. A coronet trimmed with iris formed of white sequins and rhinestones to match the gown, secured the fingertip veil to the head. Completing the bridal ensemble was a pretty arrangement of red roses with ivy wound-in as a background.

The bridesmaid, who was the bride's sister, Mrs. Doug Holmes, wore a peacock blue sheath, topped with white accessories. Her bouquet was made up of pink feathered carnations completed by tinted leaves.

Best man was Mr. Doug Holmes.

National Health Grants - Investment in life

(One of a series of articles describing the Federal Health and Welfare Services Canadians get for their tax dollars).

The Canadian baby born in 1930 could expect to live until age 60; today's baby can look forward to 68. Along with this increased life expectancy have come many public health advances in the last three decades. Enormous progress has been shown in public health with the inauguration of the health grants in 1948. Once hopelessly-crippled children have been rehabilitated, mental patients once given up as incurable have been cured, and the ill in general get better treatment today. Both in the nature of its services and its costs, there is a wide difference between the hospital of the '60s and its predecessor.

In achieving this general brightening of the health picture, national health grants, federal money spent on health, have played their part. Money has been channelled into many health areas, also hospital planning and building.

Health is the primary responsibility of the provinces, but the federal government assists them with developments of new programmes. This situation is very much like that of a partnership wherein one partner will supervise the administrative structure of the enterprise, advise and provide, while the other party sees to the executive side of the programme. With this comparison in mind, it is easy enough to understand the reason for the national health grants, which are administered according to set regulations and principles, towards the benefit of the provinces and territories, including the humblest hamlet as well as the most progressive centre.

Health grants are funds provided by Parliament through the Department of National Health and Welfare. Each fiscal year, estimates are voted and approved in Parliament for the administration and the utilization of the monies. These sums are then applied, with the Minister's approval, to the assistance of public health programmes and hospital planning and construction. The authorized expenditure last year amounted to $48 million. This tremendous amount of money was applied to the following health grants which have done much to improve health services. Mental health, although one of the chief concerns of our country, is being dealt with in a very vigorous manner thanks to the assistance of federal health grants, in extending programs for the prevention and treatment of mental illness. Many new community mental health clinics for both children and adults stress prevention or the early treatment of mental illness, while new treatment procedures and larger and better trained staffs in mental hospitals have resulted in the return to society of many patients once thought to be incurable.

Child and Maternal Health has been assisted greatly in an accelerated and intensified programme for the improvement of maternal and infant care. Fewer deaths, both maternal and infantile, have been reported in recent years; children's health has been checked and maintained through the well-mother-and-baby clinics and immigration programmes provided by county health units, established through health grants. Statistics show that in the last two years maternal deaths decreased from 5.6 to 5.5 per 10,000 live births and the infant death rate from 30 to 28 per 1,000 live births.

Crippled children and adults benefit by an approved programme of medical rehabilitation and prevention, and treatment of crippling conditions.

Tuberculosis control and cancer control also are aided by health grants to expand their programmes of detection, free treatment and rehabilitation. Tuberculosis deaths are definitely on the decline; and cancer victims are getting more and more conscious of the excellent treatments provided through their provincial units.

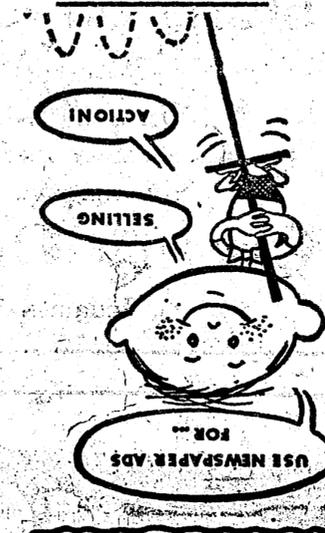

Hospital construction grants have assisted Canadian hospitals in expanding their facilities by awarding them sums of money for building purposes, renovations or alterations. This means larger and better equipped hospitals to serve a greater population.

The Public Health Research Grant assists hospitals and universities in stimulating and developing public health research in many phases of medicine. From time to time a province, or two or more provinces will work jointly on such projects, resulting in useful findings which will benefit all Canadians.

The Professional Training Grant has enabled hospitals, laboratories, provincial and local health services to get competent help through special training of doctors, nurses, dentists, sanitariums, laboratory technicians and other specialized personnel.

Dental health, both curative and preventative, is provided in some areas, specially in the remote regions where access to dentists is made impossible by distance and geographical accidents. For instance in Northern Ontario, the public health grants assist in the cost of staffing and maintaining a dental railway car, which serves the remotest outposts. VD control and radiological and laboratory services have equally been assisted by federal sums of money.

Be Wise . . .

Avoid Poor Percy's Trouble by doing your part in not giving fire a place to start!

WALTER M. WRIGHT
Over 40 years insuring people of Summerland

Practice safety always, urges local Fire Chief

When asked what he considered most important about Fire Prevention Week, Summerland's Fire Chief said that observance of fire prevention during the other 51 weeks of the year is as valuable as anything.

Mr. McLachlan said that every householder should take special precautions to remove fire hazards from their homes.

He stressed checking heating appliances and chimneys at regular intervals; placing hot ashes and coals only in metal containers; protecting woodwork close to smoke pipes with asbestos and metal, leaving an air space of at least two inches between this protection and the pipe.

"Above all," said the local fire chief, "don't give fire a place to start."

Thrift Shop reported doing well

The regular meeting of the Summerland Hospital Auxiliary was held in the Health Centre on the evening of October 2nd, with Mrs. H. Fiske in the chair.

The twenty members present went over to the Thrift Shop for a work bee. Summer clothing was sorted and put away, and winter wear brought out. The rooms were given a general housecleaning. A spokesman for the Auxiliary expressed pleasure at the response the Thrift Shop has received, both from the customers and the people who make it all possible by donating used goods. Money taken in at the Thrift Shop is added to the organization's X-ray Fund.

Recent purchases for the hospital include an anaesthetic table, bedside tables, bed rails, bed jacks, night lights, several chairs, and foam pads for beds.

As a new project the members voted $25 to be used for magazine subscriptions for patients in the hospital.

President Mrs. H. Fiske reported she would attend the B.C. Hospital Association convention to be held in Vancouver October 17, 18 and 19.

with FIRE?

If your answer is a quick NO, think again! You may be gambling with fire every day.

Do you think that by obeying a few rules you are protecting your home and family from the danger of fire? If you do, you're a real gambler, all right!

The only real way to prevent fire is to become aware of the causes of fire. Make yourself fire conscious! The man who is careful not to smoke in bed can lose his family, his home and his own life as well, simply because the curtains in the kitchen were hung too close to the stove.

Few fires start by chance. Most fires are caused by ignorance and carelessness.

Other good rules: Be careful always when you do smoke — Don't use frayed electric cords and make sure your electric wiring is not overloaded — Keep matches away from children — Clean out junk from basement and attic! Most of all,

Don't give fire a place to start

But Don't Listen

IF YOU HEAR ANYTHING, IT'S TOO LATE!

Do your lights dim or flash when your stove, refrigerator or any other appliances are turned on or off. If the answer is yes, then your wiring is too small and you do not have an adequate wiring system. Don't take a chance with faulty wiring! Fires are too costly and dangerous. The winter months are here and you are going to use more electricity, causing your wiring to carry a larger load. The result from an overload is heat. Too much heat on wire causes fire.

Increase in fines for liquor offences

Minors charged with possession of liquor have, in the past, been charged $35 and costs for the first offence. However, Magistrate Reid Johnston told the Review this week, that considering the increasing number of such cases and the grave seriousness of the offence, he is contemplating raising the fine substantially.

Allen John Smith, West Summerland, appeared in police court this week charged with speeding and being a minor in possession of liquor. He received $40 and costs on the speeding charge and $35 and costs on the liquor charge, or in default 30 days on both counts to run concurrently.

John A. Watson appeared before Magistrate Johnstone on two charges: intoxication in a public place and a minor in possession of liquor. He received fines of $10 and costs and $35 and costs.

Jack Altenhofer, charged in connection with defrauding a Trout Creek service station operator on a truck sale, appeared in police court Tuesday and was sentenced to four months in Oakalla prison farm.

High School report

The high school Key Club is starting its movie project again this week. Jules Verne's "20,000 Leagues under the Sea" will be the feature shown Friday night and Saturday afternoon in the auditorium. This is for students only. The Key Club started this project last year and it proved so popular they decided to continue it again this year. They show two movies a month. The next feature is "Alice in Wonderland", a Walt Disney production. High school principal A. J.

Longmore, president of the Principals Association of B.C., spoke to the Kamloops teachers convention last Friday. Also in this capacity, Mr. Longmore will go to Vancouver this week end to discuss the curriculum for grades 8, 9 and 10.

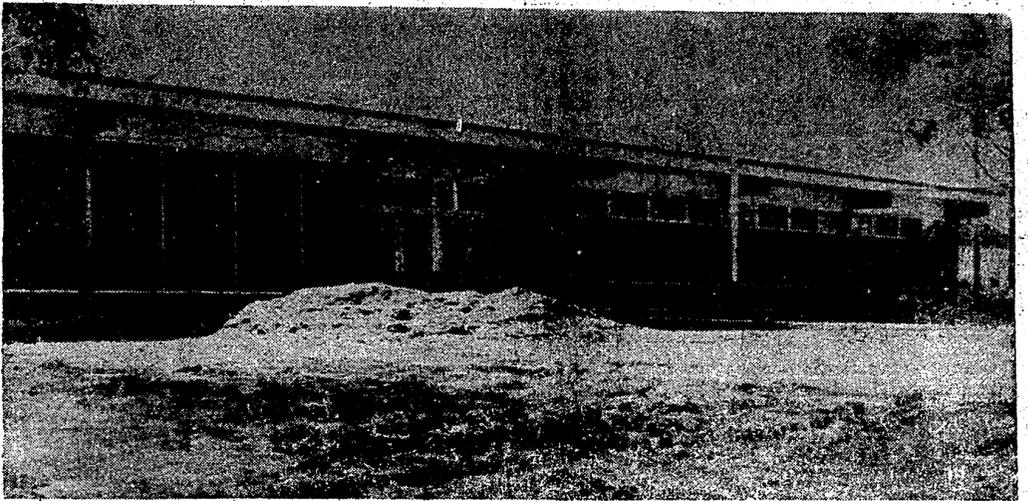

Vice principal John Tamblin will take a week end trip to Victoria as the guest of the Royal Canadian Navy. The object of the trip is to acquaint teachers with the different naval installations on the coast and the various naval training plans available to students. He will leave Penticton by plane Friday evening and take a destroyer escort out to sea on Saturday. He also expects to visit the Royal Rhodes Military College on Sunday.

The Interhouse games started this week with keen competition expected between the houses. The high school is divided into four houses, representing each of Summerland's major districts, Trout Creek, Summerland, Prairie Valley and West Summerland. Each year the houses compete for a shield, this for academic work as well as sports.

Teachers, School Board starts salary discussions

The Summerland Teachers' Association has requested the School Board for a revision of the 1961 Salary Agreement. The Association has listed two clauses they wish eliminated and a sabbatical clause is requested. Other concessions have been asked for including deduction at source of Federation dues and group life insurance premiums, a change in method of salary payment and a withholding of a portion of salary for payment at the end of June. These latter items would not be included in the agreement.

The clauses in the agreement which the teachers question give the Board the privilege of engaging a new teacher at a salary in excess of the salary scale in special circumstances. The

Official Legion opening Saturday

Royal Canadian Legion, Summerland branch 22, new building will be officially opened on Saturday, October 21.

The program will begin with a concert by the Summerland Town Band from 2:30 to 3 p.m.

Dr. W. H. B. Munn, honorary president of branch 22, will cut the ribbon to officially open this attractive addition to Summerland. Inspection of the building with refreshments following served in the banquet room by the Legion Ladies Auxiliary.

Among dignitaries present for the occasion will be Legion provincial president Jack Potheary of Armstrong; 2nd vice president Jim Bolton of Penticton; zone commander George Carter of Penticton, and deputy commander Harry Webster of Okanagan Falls. Heads of Summerland service clubs will also participate in the opening ceremony.

Chamber seeks information on government beach

Summerland Chamber of Commerce will write to the provincial government asking what the plans of the provincial government are for the lakeshore property south of Trout Creek known as Farm Beach. Opinion at last Thursday's meeting was that this is one of the finest beaches in the valley and should be opened up for public use.

The Chamber will donate a trophy to the Okanagan Mainline Skating Championships to be held in Summerland Jubilee Arena, December 2-3.

In reply to a request for an opinion from the provincial executive, the Chamber passed a resolution against the method used by the provincial government in expropriation of the B.C. Electric and Peace River Power companies.

A report on the fall fair showed 1,424 paid admissions to the annual event. This was the highest attendance ever recorded and figures showed 205 from Penticton, 39 from Interior, 36 from coast 12 from rest of B.C. and 8 from Alberta.

A letter was sent to the municipal council congratulating it on the purchase of luminaires for Rosedale Avenue, and suggesting that consideration should be given to better lighting near Highway 97.

Only eight replies have been received from 49 questionnaires sent to local merchants. While these replies contained important suggestions on improving our tourist industry it is hoped that the rest of the questionnaires will be completed shortly and returned to the secretary.

Hallowe'en is near

Hallowe'en is just around the corner and Corporal Larry Martin of the RCMP suggests that homeowners start now to clean up their property and take reasonable precautions.

Last year the young people in Summerland behaved very well with only a few incidents of damage done and it is hoped the trend continues this year.

Six extra men are hired each year as an extra patrol to keep the streets free of loiterers.

"Have fun on Hallowe'en — but good, clean fun", says Corporal Martin. "Any person found deliberately destroying public or private property will be charged and brought to court."

W. A. "DILL" GILMOUR

40 year old lawyer of Summerland, was elected head of the British Columbia Liberal Association last week. Mr. Gilmour said after his election in Victoria Saturday afternoon, that he will leave his law practice for a year to devote all his time to organizing the Liberal party in British Columbia.

"Pay the Piper" is the title of a film to be shown at the Baptist Church, October 26. Sponsored by the Summerland branch of the WCTU the film deals with the problem of teenage drinking. Mrs. G. Hitchcock, Vancouver, WCTU field secretary will be present. A film for children will also be shown.

9 Group holds annual Thanksgiving meeting

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Wolff celebrate 60th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Wolff of Victoria Road, celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary, Monday, October 9, when they were "At Home" to their friends from 3-5 in the afternoon and 7-9 in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Wolff were married in Lutz, Russia, October 9, 1901, although according to the Russian calendar it was two weeks earlier, September 25.

The couple came to the United States, and then homesteaded near Clair, Saskatchewan, nearly fifty years ago. They retired in 1944 to Penticton, and moved to Summerland a year later.

Congratulations were received from Queen Elizabeth, Prime Minister John Diefenbaker, Lt. Governor George Peakres, and many others. Greetings from the municipality were extended by Reeve F. E. Atkinson.

Present for the occasion were daughters Mrs. Jack Martin, of Quill Lake, Sask.; Mrs. Eric

Following a long established custom, the Thanksgiving program of the Shirley Knight Circle of the Baptist Church featured an address by the pastor. Taking as his theme the account of the little ships which followed Christ around the sea of Galilee, Mr. Kennedy spoke of four little ships which had changed the course of Christendom's history. The first was the boat from which Christ spoke to the crowds as he developed the new idea of the Kingdom of God as being in the hearts of men. The second was the small vessel which carried Paul from Asia Minor to Troy in Greece. The third was the boat in which Columbus left the shores of Spain to reach a new world, and the fourth was the Mayflower bringing Christian pilgrims to establish new homes and their religion on the North American continent. He spoke of the debt of gratitude we owe to these pioneers of vision and fortitude.

Mrs. A. Nicholson brought missionary news telling of the transfer of Canadian Baptist Missionaries from the area of violence in Angola to Tanganyika to work with the American Baptists. She also noted the celebration of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the Isabella Thoburn College for women in Lucknow, India, now associated with Allahabad University. From this College have graduated some of India's first women degree holders, several being first in their professions of doctor, dentist, agriculturist and educators. The College motto, known around the world is "We receive to give".

Members were asked to remember donations of used clothing for both sexes and all ages for the sale to be sent to Dawson Creek in November. Pastors' wives there and in Fort St. John tell of great cold hardships suffered by our Indian population of the north.

A solo by Mr. Kennedy and a duet by Mrs. Bloomfield and Mrs. S. Kouvenhoven, along with a beautiful seasonal worship centre arranged by the President Mrs. J. Barg added to the pleasure of the meeting.

ROGER COTTLE

One of the newcomers to the Canada Savings Bond "team" this year is Roger Cottle, Okanagan Investments, Kelowna. Pointing up the importance of the area and the new industries there is the fact that this marks the first time an organizer has been named for the Okanagan alone.

Mr. Cottle is no stranger in the area, having gone to school there and played sports in the valley.

Total sales of Canada Savings Bonds over the past 15 years now exceed the $10 billion mark and individual transactions amount to more than 17 million, proving this security is the most popular investment Canada has seen.

The new bond, paying an average of 4.6 per cent if held for ten years, now is on sale through banks, investment dealers and the popular payroll deduction plan.

Again it is redeemable at any time at full face value plus interest. There is no market risk.

A growing awareness

"People are listening now, that's more than they did three years ago" said Civil Defence Officer Ivan Phillips, following the presentation of a resume of "Operation Vernon" at the municipal council meeting last week.

Both Mr. Phillips and Councillor Norman Holmes, official Summerland representative at the national civil defence exercise, expressed pleasure and satisfaction at the success of the operation and particularly the part played by Summerland volunteers. Four volunteer firemen and two research station workers, who had already attended courses in Penticton, and 10 others from Summerland attended courses at the Advanced Training Centre in Vernon.

It is hardly possible to live in our world today without grave misgivings about the state of world affairs, but how many of us have taken the time to make plans for our families should a national disaster arise.

The essential part of Civil Defence is awareness and it would seem that in Summerland, through the work of Civil Defence Officer Phillips, and the whole-hearted co-operation of municipal council, we are finally becoming aware of the importance of these operations and giving them the attention they deserve. Are you doing your part?

Congratulations Bill

Would Bill Gilmour have been elected president of the B.C. Liberal Association if he hadn't lived in Summerland? We understand at the Victoria convention last week he gave away samples of apples grown on his Summerland orchard. How could anyone vote against a man after tasting our delicious apples. And of course a lot of good publicity was garnered for Summerland and the Okanagan.

Mr. Gilmour has taken on a big job, however we are sure that he has the ability to succeed in his new position.

"Christ is the Lord of humanity, not a word for profanity"

Baby bonus - now sixteen years old

(One of a series of articles describing the Federal Health and Welfare Services Canadians get for their tax dollars.)

A young mother walks into a supermarket with her two preschool age children, selects several dollars worth of groceries from the shelves, goes to the check-out counter and endorses a small strip of cardboard. The Family Allowances program has helped one more Canadian family.

Millions of times a year, in clothing shops, pharmacies, department stores, this scene is repeated.

The battle of freedom from want is fought on many fronts. A key weapon is - and must be - money. The means to house, clothe, feed and educate children is basic armament in this fight.

Each month more than 2,600,000 Canadian families, large and small, receive Family Allowance cheques. The rates are $6 for children up to 10 years of age and $8 for older children up to 16 years of age. The average family has two or three children for whom allowances are paid. This money is designed to assist in maintaining a healthy, happy living standard. Surveys have shown that money, except in rare instances is spent wisely. Many welfare and other authorities believe that one big reason for this is the fact that most cheques are made payable to the mother.

The program, now 16 years old, has earned wide spread acceptance.

Canada is one of many countries (38 in 1958) which endorses with action belief that families with children, especially young ones, should be aided financially. Around the world various nations have established family-aid programs ranging from schemes which provide funds for families with one child or more to plans which assist only families with eight or more children!

Some programs allow more money for the second child than for the first, more for the third than for the second and so on. Others specify an increase in allowance as the child grows older. All have one thing in common - the recognition that the family unit is vital to a society and must be maintained.

Canada's program, though comparatively new, was considered long before 1945 when the Family Allowance Act was passed. One of the spark plugs of the Act was the Marsff Report in 1943 which spelled out the need to bolster the financial position of low-income families.

The money which the government, through the Department of National Health and Welfare's regional offices, distributes in the form of Family Allowance cheques, is obtained from various federal revenues. It is the money of Canadians being used for Canadians.

When the Postman delivers Family Allowance cheques each month, he is opening the door to a fuller life for the young people of Canada!

The problem of giving

by Rev. P. K. Louie

"To have" is the opposite of "to give," yet each of these things is good in its proper place. To have is to extend our personalities; we do not contain within ourselves all the essentials for human living, therefore our "being" must be completed by also "having". Existence implies to live; it does not, however, imply the right to have ostentatious luxuries. Our rights to own property, to have things, decrease as the objects are farther and farther removed from our personal necessities.

The virtue of giving is dependent upon having . . . for unless we possess something we cannot give it away. But some people look upon giving as a loss, because having in itself, has become an obsession with them. This is short-sighted; if you give away half a loaf, another half-loaf remains to you, and you had the joy of sharing, too.

In Mark 12:42 Jesus was interested in studying the almsgivers and it was the quality of their giving which arrested Him, far more than the quantity they gave. On that occasion He immortalized a gift of two of the smallest coins in the ancient world. He had once said that where our treasure is, there our heart is, also. Now He tells us that where the heart goes, there treasure follows.

The widow's tiny gift has another meaning: it reminds us that Our Lord wants everything that we hold nothing back from from us. He was the first "totalitarian" of the spirit: He asks Him. He demands total love: "with thy whole mind, thy whole heart, thy whole spirit, and thy whole strength." Only those who have given their whole hearts to God are able to give Him their whole capital, as well.

The use to which we put what we have is closely related to what we are, to our "being", and to what we will become. He who keeps everything he has for himself, must lose it all at death; he who has given it away will get it back in the coin of immortality and joy.

Letter to the Editor

The Editor:

The Summerland Review

Dear sir:

I see by your paper that we are to have another chance to vote on fluoridation. May I add my voice to those who favor fluoridation?

Prior to our voting on this this last time, scientific proof of both the benefits of fluoridation and of lack of harm from it, were reviewed in this paper. There is one aspect of the problem, however, that received little consideration in the press but did so quite widely in the community at large. This aspect can be illustrated by the following two opinions that have been expressed to me:

1. Fluoridation means use of a chemical. This is contrary to the laws of nature and of God. Chemicals should be avoided either in producing foodstuffs or in feeding ourselves. We should return to natural foods and drinks and natural ways of living.

2. God made the earth and the water. "And God called the dry land Earth; and the gathering together of the waters called he Seas; and God saw that it was good." This means that everything on the earth is good, and we are disobeying His will when we change things from the way He made them. To tamper with our water supplies is sacrilegious.

Mr. Editor, I have been quite shocked by statements of this nature.

God did not do everything directly for our comfort and convenience. He left many things for us to do ourselves. He put cold winters here, and we could not live here unless we clothed and housed ourselves warmly. He did not put enough rainfall onto our soil, but left it for us to put irrigation water on it in order to grow the necessary crops. And He did not put enough fluorine into our water or food, and He is leaving that for us to do.

We must remember that: "God created man in His own image". He gave each of us a soul, a conscience and a mind—a creative mind — and He did not give them to us to be either unused or misused. I consider it to be our duty to use the minds and conscience that God gave us for the benefit of all.

Had past generations accepted the principle that man was not meant to use his mind in a creative manner, we would still be living the life of animals. We would not even have invented bows and arrows, or be using fire, or know how to farm — let alone be covering our bodies with clothes, or living in heated houses, or driving cars.

What God did to was to put trees on the hills, and minerals in the rocks, and irrigation water in our creeks; and He gave us the brains to use them. As long as we use them beneficially, we have no right to feel that we are doing wrong in His eyes. We farm, we cut timber, we mine coal and minerals, and we use the products in many beneficial ways. We have developed medical science and we are using it beneficially too.

God did not make all water good for drinking, any more than He made all temperatures suitable for the "natural" way of life. Aside from sea water much of the water in different parts of the world is unfit for drinking. Some of it is poisonous, some full of alkali. And much of our soil and water is lacking in the mineral elements so necessary for health — minerals such as iodine and fluorine.

We owe a great debt to the past, for the creative use the men have made of their minds and we owe a great debt to the future. Among other things, we owe it to our children, and grandchildren to see that they are raised in good health. And one of the things that we should do is to use the fluorine, that God put elsewhere in the world in large quantities, to ensure that our children and grandchildren get enough of it in their food and water.

Yours truly,
Jack Wilcox.

In St. Stephen's Anglican Church, West Summerland, on Sunday, October 15, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew R. Orman was baptized, receiving the names of Kristine Mabel. Her christening robe was the one worn by her father at the time of his baptism. The godmothers are Mrs. Mabel Stein of Naramata and Mrs. Marion Davies of Summerland; and her godfather Mr. Charles Stein of Naramata. The service was taken by the baby's grandfather, Rev. C. F. Orman of Sidney, B.C. After the service, tea was served at the home of the parents.

Local girl wed in autumn setting

Autumn leaves and chrysanthemums created a lovely setting in the Church of the Holy Child for the marriage of Phyllis Louise, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Fabbi to Mr. Keiran Thomas O'Neill, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. O'Neill of Victoria. Rev. Father Guinan officiated at the ceremony which took place on Saturday, October 7 at 11 a.m.

Wedding music was provided by Miss Linda Betuzzi at the organ.

The bride looked lovely in a ivory peau de soie gown which she had created herself. The gown featured a belled skirt, and a plain bodice with a scoop neckline. Her headdress of a large flower held the veil in place. She carried a prayer book centered with an orchid and a cascade of orchids.

The matron of honor, Miss Dolly DePaali of Natal, B.C. and bridesmaid, Barbara Beaven, of Vancouver were gowned in identical dresses patterned after the bride's dress, in burnt sienna satin, with gold flower head-dresses and gold veils. Sprays of bronze and yellow mums carried through the fall theme.

The two flower girls, Nadine Fabbi, sister of the bride, and a niece, Maureen Fabbi of Lethbridge wore dresses of gold satin with gold bows as head-pieces.

Groomsman was Allan Fabbi of West Summerland, brother of the bride. Ushers were Mr. Tom Croft of Vancouver and Mr. Tom Hutton of Cumberland.

A reception was held after the ceremony in the Summerland Yacht Club.

The bride's mother wore a blue, two-piece dress of embossed rayon bengaline with accessories of black and beige, and a corsage of Talisman roses.

The bridegroom's aunt, Mrs. Laura O'Neill, wore a dress of blue lace and corsage of Talisman roses.

For her going-away outfit, the bride wore a magenta wool dress with white and grey accessories and an orchid corsage.

The newlyweds will reside at 2095 3rd Ave., Vancouver. The groom is teaching in Vancouver and the bride will attend UBC.

Large gathering for Bible film and discussion

With 1,000,000 people learning to read each week, it is imperative that increased support be given to the Bible Society in its world-wide work of providing the Scriptures for the missionaries of all Churches that they may meet the urgent needs of these awakening millions, declared Rev. J. A. Raymond Tingley, Vancouver, the Bible Society's provincial secretary, in addressing a largely attended rally of the West Summerland branch of the Society in the Anglican Parish Hall on Friday night.

A feature of the rally was the showing of an interesting motion picture, "So Great the Light", portraying the publication and distribution of the Bible in braille for the blind in 40 languages. It showed how the braille Bible in English in 39 volumes is produced for $100.00 and made available to the blind for $10 or 25c per volume.

The rally was conducted by Rev. Norman Tannar, assisted by Rev. D. Rathjen, Rev. G. Lessor and Rev. P. K. Louie. Plans were made for increasing support of the Society by the local branch under the presidency of Ralph Ward. The secretary is Howard DeWitt and the treasurer is Cyril Stent. R. Gayton is a member of the executive and all of the local ministers are vice presidents of the branch.

While in West Summerland, Mr. Tingley was dinner guest at the Rotary Club.

Baby bonus can help to buy college education

Most parents are only too well aware that it takes a great deal more than brains for a boy or girl to go to college. That's why far-sighted mothers and fathers who want to give their children the best possible in life plan far in advance for the rising costs of higher education.

For many Canadian parents, the monthly family allowance cheque provides an opportunity to lay the groundwork of a savings program designed to cover the costs of higher education for their children.

Family allowance cheques for one child, if deposited in a B of M savings account until the age of 16, will total more than $100.00, including interest the bank pays. It's a tidy sum towards a college career.

If you're in doubt as to what it might cost in the long run to send your boy or girl to college, why not drop in at the Summerland Branch of the Bank of Montreal. Jock Johnston, the manager, will be glad to give you a copy of the B of M folder outlining the typical education savings program which can easily be adapted to the special requirements of your youngster.

Practices start for town band

Again this year, practices for the town band is on the agenda of the night school program at the high school, with practices starting this week, on Wednesday at 8 p.m. New members are needed and any person who now plays an instrument or would like to learn to play, can come along to the high school auditorium any Wednesday evening and join the group. If a sufficient number of beginners show up a learners class will be formed. Almost half of the members of the present band learned to play at the night school classes. Instruments are available.

The past season has been a very active one for the town band, under the baton of Dr. Jack Mason. Locally they were in attendance at the spring band concert, the fall fair and they will play at the opening of the new Legion building Saturday, at the Remembrance Day services November 11, and possibly a Christmas concert.

The band, organized in 1948, presently has 25 members. Conductor for the past two years has been Dr. Mason, with A. G. Downing filling in occasionally.

The financial needs of the club such as new instruments and uniforms are met with money realized from outside performances. This year the band travelled to Princeton, Peachland, the Kelowna Regatta and Penticton Peach Festival.

Although Hallowe'en began as a solemn festival it has become through the years an occasion for fun and gaiety. For families with young children the celebrations start bright and early with breakfast buns in the form of ghostly treats. Make the buns with sweet, yeast-raised dough, shape them into Ghosts and Jack-O-Lanterns, then bake and frost them. Black Cats can be made by substituting cocoa for part of the flour in the basic dough to make it chocolate in color.

You'll find the buns easy and fascinating to make, fun to look at and a delight to eat. Make enough for breakfast and to be handed out later when the trick or treat hour begins.

WI report successful Fall Fair projects

Roll call of the members of the Women's Institute at its regular meeting on Friday afternoon took the novel form of answering the question, "What was your best crop this year?" Replies brought interest, amusement and humour as the list ranged through fruit and vegetables to couch grass, cording moth, ear wigs, skunks, kittens and visitors.

Some fifty women, including several visitors, under the chairmanship of President Mrs. W. Rothwell began by reciting the club creed and then proceeded to business.

Secretary-treasurer Mrs. L. W. Rumball, reporting on the Fall Fair stated that total receipts from the Emporium, Tea Garden and Pie sales were $128.31. Expenses and refunds of prize pie entry sales and ten percent of profits to the Chamber of Commerce left a balance of $92.60. Present balance on hand is $283.67. Receipts from social news items was off slightly but was still a good source of income. Members and others wishing to help were urged to phone items of interest to Mrs. W. Brown, Mrs. Inglis, Mrs. W. Rothwell or to The Review for credit to the Institute.

Donations were made of $5 each to Salvation Army, CNIB and Queen Alexandra Solarium in Victoria. The latter replaces the usual shipment of apples which it was felt was costly since fruit could be had locally at reasonable prices.

Heads of committees each requested help for the annual fall bazaar coming on Saturday, Oct. 21. Mrs. E. Tait asked for agricultural products for sale, Mrs. McDonald of citizenship needs costume jewelry, nicknacks and novelties. Mrs. J. MacLachlan, welfare, requests good used clothing. Home Economics under Mrs. A. C. Fleming handles home cooking and candy. Mrs. G. Ritchie thanked those who had helped with sewing and other articles prepared during the year and also all who helped make the Emporium a success.

A display of UNICEF greeting and note cards in charge of Mrs. Collas and Mrs. McLarty gave members an opportunity to place orders at $1.15 per box. It was pointed out that sale of one box provides 250 glasses of milk or gives 50 children protection from TB.

Tea was served by Mrs. Moors committee of Mrs. A. C. Fleming, Mrs. Bennett, Mrs. Procurehoff and Mrs. R. Alstead.

This program in charge of Mrs. S. A. McDonald featured the Columbia River. As an introduction, Mrs. McDonald gave a short history of the area and a brief biography of David Thompson who played such a large part in the exploration of the headwaters area. By an odd quirk of fate, she said, it was Thompson who came down the Fraser and named it, and it was Simon Fraser who saw the Thompson at its confluence with the Fraser and named it for his friend, famed for his travels in that area. But Thompson himself never lived to actually see the river named for him.

There followed the showing of two National Film Board reels, one on the source of the Columbia in the great ice fields of Jasper Park and the other beginning at the mouth at Astoria and ascending the river along its beautiful course by Kootenay Lake, the Sinclair Canyon and back to Jasper.

Thanks of the meeting were tendered to Mr. Howard Oxley who was so kind as to come to run the projector.

1st Summerland Troop

This coming weekend is the troop's week end camp at Fish Lake. Scoutmasters Fisher and Towgood will be in charge. The troop will leave from the Youth Centre at 4:00 p.m. Friday and return at 2:00 p.m. on Sunday. Boys should leave the camp kit on Thursday night or Friday morning at the Youth Centre. The back door will be open.

Transportation will be by private car each way. There will be one tent per patrol. Food will likely be under $2.00 for Leader and each boy must pay his Patrol Leader for his share before leaving the camp. Cost will be likely be under $6.00 for six meals.

Boys are advised to dress warmly. Extra sweaters are a good idea. Any boy who hasn't a warm sleeping bag should phone the Scoutmaster to see if one can be arranged. For lightweight sleeping bags an extra blanket is desirable. Scout uniform is optional but not necessary. A red hat, or jacket is a good idea.

At the Monday meeting the troop was indebted to Mr. J. McLachlan for a talk on fire prevention and at a later meeting there will be demonstrations of fire extinguishers.

Patrol standings are Beavers 90; Buffaloes 83; Hawks 82; and Eagles 78. There will be no meeting next Monday, but on Monday, October 30.

D. V. Fisher, Scoutmaster.

International Credit Union Day

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 19

In the Credit Union movement this is what we believe:

Credit Unions are associations of people, owned and democratically controlled by their members. Should they cease to be such, they cease to be credit unions.

Credit Unions are essentially thrift associations. They recognize thrift as the wise use of one's resources, which includes credit. They devote themselves to the development of regular thrift programs, to provide their members a greater measure of financial security.

Credit Unions must provide maximum protection for their members' shares, including adequate surety bond coverage and systematic supervision by the auditing committee of their own members. They must have adequate annual examinations as required by law.

Credit Unions provide their members thrift and loan service that is more complete, more convenient and more thoroughly helpful than they could otherwise obtain. Where possible they provide insurance to cover the lives of their members to the extent of their loan balances and on all or a portion of their shares — for the benefit and protection of their members' families.

Credit Unions should regard the character of the borrower as the prime security consideration regardless of the amount involved, and the rate of interest can by law not exceed one per cent a month on the unpaid balance.

Credit Unions recognize the essential and important place banks and other financial institutions have in our economy. They appreciate the service these institutions render and believe that friendly relations with them is desirable.

Credit Unions are united with each other to increase their services to their members and fulfill their obligations to bring Credit Union benefits to all people.

Credit Unions are alert to changing conditions and should adapt themselves to changing needs and desires of their members, while they always maintain their basic integrity and principles.

Credit Unions are responsible organizations in their communities and fulfill their civic obligations in a generous and exemplary manner.

Credit Unions have demonstrated that average people can operate their own financial institutions. Credit Unions are increasingly recognized as instruments of human well-being and will continue to be, so long as they maintain and cultivate highest ideals and standards of conduct.

Message from the Prime Minister

As International Credit Union Day approaches I extend to all Canadians who participate in the Credit Union movement my best wishes.

On the 60th anniversary of the founding of the first credit union, many of you will be making plans for a better and brighter year to come and giving encouragement to fellow members in the working out of their financial problems. That the members of the Credit Union movement in Canada are now counted in the millions is a tribute to the soundness of its principles.

Eddie Lloyd, municipal line-man injured in a highwire accident, is back home with his parents. He will return to Vancouver in two months time for further treatment.

The annual canvass of the Summerland Youth Centre Association held last week raised $800. with treasurer E. R. Butler reporting that there are still a few more donations to be received. Seventy drivers and helpers took part in the one night blitz of the municipality. Enough money has been raised to pay off the parking lot and take care of this year's expenses. President Walter Toeys told the Review that the response was very gratifying and he wished to thank all those who took part in the campaign.

"Easiest way to have a baby" said Walter Toeys when he came in to tell us that the report in last week's birth column was incorrect. Our apologies to Walter Toeys (and Mrs.) and our congratulations to William Toeys (and Mrs.) who had a son October 17.

More than 600 students will receive their degrees from the University of British Columbia at the fall congregation in the University Armoury on Thursday, October 26.

High school vice principal John Tamblin, who presently holds his BA and BEd. degrees will receive his Master of Education degree.

Summerland's two popular public health nurses, June Frost and Sally Ney will receive their diplomas in public health nursing. Mr. John Cooke of Macdonald School will receive his Bachelor of Education degree (elementary program).

Fifteen year old Ken Harbicht, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Harbicht bagged a female cougar and her kitten while grouse hunting on Snow Mountain last Sunday. Carrying a twelve gauge shotgun, Ken shot the kitten first and then the mother.

Because of the holiday on Saturday, November 11, retail stores in West Summerland will remain open to 9 p.m. Friday night, November 10, as a service to their customers. Council approved the store hours Tuesday night.

D. Grant Macdonald, of the legal firm of Boyle, Aikins and O'Brian will represent the firm in Summerland during the absence of W. A. (Bill) Gilmour.

Mr. Gilmour, recently elected president of the B.C. Liberal Association, is taking a leave of absence from his law practice. He plans to travel throughout the province building the Liberal organization in B.C. and ensuring outstanding candidates are ready for the forthcoming federal election. Mr. Gilmour told the Review he will continue to live in Summerland.

Mr. Macdonald, a native of Pentiction, graduated from UBC in 1959 and joined Boyle, Aikins and O'Brian in the same year. He is married with one boy, and resides in Pentiction.

Dr. W. H. B. Munn, honorary president of Royal Canadian Legion, branch 22, cut the ribbon to officially open the new Legion building on Saturday afternoon. Looking on is Steve Dunsdon, president of the branch. Before the opening the Town Band performed. Dedication prayer was given by Rev.

Norman Tannar. Reeve F. E. Atkinson extended congratulations from the municipality. Jim Bolton of Pentiction, 2nd vice president of the provincial command and George Carter, zone commander, congratulated the local Legion branch. After a tour of the building refreshments were served by the Legion Ladies Auxiliary.

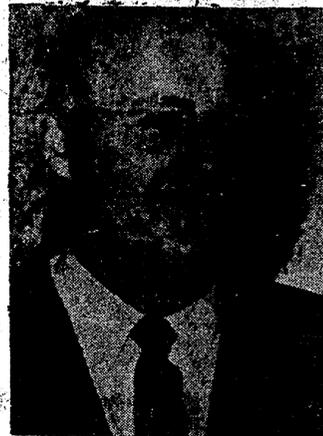

Atkinson retiring this year, Holmes running for Reeve

Reeve F. E. Atkinson will not seek re-election this year. His term of office, and that of two councillors, Norman Holmes and L. A. Smith, expire at the end of this year.

Reeve Atkinson, who has served eight years as reeve, and nine years as councillor, told the Review that he had enjoyed the work, but that he is becoming increasingly busier at the Research Station, and feels that after 17 continuous years of service on municipal council it is time to take a rest. Mr. Atkinson said he would continue to take an active interest in community affairs.

Mr. Norman Holmes announced that he will run for reeve in the municipal elections in December. "I would like to see a continuation of the present policies of municipal council," he told the Review, in announcing his decision. Mr. Holmes has served eight years on the municipal council, 12 on the hospital board, and six years on the Parks Board.

Mr. L. A. Smith said he will not seek re-election this year. He is completing his first term as councillor. Mr. Smith told the Review that he had been approached to run for reeve, and although he appreciated the trust these people had placed in him, he felt there are more competent men who have served on the council and had more experience than he has.

Winter works program includes water, sidewalks

Municipal council at Tuesday night's meeting announced plans for this year's winter works program. Major item will be the Trout Creek domestic water system which has received the approval of the provincial government. Other projects include the building of sidewalks on the Baptist Church Hill and steps down to Kelly street from Station road. Other sidewalks will be built on Jubilee Road from Kelly St. to Victoria Road; sidewalks on the west side of Rosedale Avenue to Julia Street; and widening of the road at the east end of Prairie Valley.

Municipal clerk G. D. Smith reported that $20,000 worth of Trout Creek water bonds have been spoken for and names are still being taken.

Summerland Athletic Club asked council to submit a referendum in the December elections for ratepayers to vote on giving the Athletic Club an opportunity to lease the tennis courts at Peach Orchard Park for 20 years with the club having complete control. Failing that, the club asked to have its $1,200 equity in the courts returned. This was given at the time of transfer from West Summerland to Peach Orchard when the tennis court area was made into a parking lot for the Jubilee arena and courts were built in Peach Orchard park. Council was not prepared to submit such a referendum but will recommend to the 1962 council that the $1,200 be put into the estimates for refund. Municipality would then have control of the courts.

Dr. C. C. Strachan, director of the research centre, informed

Students exchange with Sunnyside

The annual Rotary sponsored student exchange will take place next week. Four students from the Sunnyside, Washington, school will spend a week at the Summerland high school observing and taking part in the school program at their grade level.

The four Summerland students chosen to go to Sunnyside are Ruth Lapins, grade 12; Ann Leiner, grade 11; Teresa Keys, grade 12 and David Holman, grade 12.

These students will travel to Sunnyside and spend a week at the high school there, following the curriculum and observing school activities.

Student choice for the trip is based mainly on civic contribution and academic standing. Students are nominated by the teachers and a staff committee makes the final selection.

Curling starts on Sunday

Curling will begin in the Summerland Arena this Sunday.

President of the local club, Harry Hackman, has challenged the Pentiction club's president, Jack Young to a game on Sunday afternoon as an opening event. We hope Jack will bring his suitcase and spend the day.

A very successful meeting was held in the club rooms, where the curlers saw the film of the 1959-60 Briar Playdowns held in Fort William.

Officers elected for the 1961-62 season are: president, Harry Hackman; secretary Billy Baker, treasurer, Phil Munro; executive Jake Lichtenwald; Al McIntosh; Stan Porritt; Howard Pruden, Joe Elliott, Allan Cross.

The draw games will begin on Monday evening of 7 p.m. with 24 rinks.

council that negotiations are being completed for the establishment of a public picnic and park site at Farm Beach.

Councillor Norman Holmes reported that Parkdale Place is suffering from an acute shortage of hot water. The 66 gallon tank which was installed according to the architect's instructions has proved much too small and the home is constantly short of hot water. Professional advice is being sought before any move is made to remedy the situation.

Council amended the curfew by-law for Hallowe'en, making it illegal for children under 18 to be on the streets after 9:30 p.m. RCMP and extra patrols will be out on Hallowe'en and the curfew bylaw will be strictly enforced.

Display of painting by Irvine Adams this Friday

Irvine Adams, well-known Summerland artist, is giving a one-man show of his pictures in the Summerland Library, Friday, November 3, beginning at 2:30 p.m., and will be held for two weeks during library hours until November 18.

This showing will include many of his pastels that have been on exhibit in London and Paris. Mr. Adams is rapidly making a fine name for himself in the art world.

The Summerland Art Club will serve tea on the first day of the show, Friday afternoon and evening, November 3rd.

ANOTHER SHELTER

The Kiwanis Club plan to erect another shelter and bus stop for school children at the top of the Sand Hill.

Llords' Puppets enchants capacity audience here

by Madeleine Alstead

The Summerland Overture Concert Association held its first concert of the season in the high school auditorium Saturday evening, Oct. 21st.

Llords' "International" Puppet Theatre exceeded all expectations of the capacity audience. This fascinating one-man show held the audience spell-bound, breathless and silent for fear of missing any of the fine points of this astounding performance of one man.

Mr. Daniel Llords took his audience to the magic land of fantasy, a true fairy-land with kings and queens, prince and princess, courtiers, dancers, and strange animals from the fiery red Chinese dragon breathing smoke to the fluffy little white bear, Carmichael, so cuddly and so naughty.

The puppet stage, a model of ingenuity, was surmounted by the flags of many nations. Mr. Llords has taken his puppets to eleven nations on two continents, and speaks five languages. This was a puppet theatre for adults, he emphasized, though children could, and did enjoy it, but only adults could appreciate the dexterity and versatility of the artist and the thought and organization behind each production and behind each movement of every puppet, all to the finest classical music. The audience was torn between watching the movements of the limbs, hips and shoulders of the puppets and watching the expressive face and magic hands of the artist, visible above the puppet stage. Mr. Llords quite evidently entered into the adventures of his little people and enjoyed their antics as much as the audience.

Who could forget the presentation of Gounod's "Faust" and Faust's heaving shoulders as he leaned sobbing against the four-poster, weeping for his lost youth; the French Salon where models in sumptuous gowns and furs gave a fashion show; a modern square dance; the soprano from the "Metropolitan Museum", reaching for a high note in Mr. Llords' amazing falsetto; the Ballet Buffa to Strauss' "Emperor Waltz" with 22 puppets on stage; the red-coated soldiers changing the guard at Buckingham Palace; the clown who danced on the regular stage with his puppet master, the unforgettable Mozart and many others.

Retired missionary tells of Experiences

The Thankoffering meeting of the Women's Federation of the United Church opened with the singing of Mrs. Galloway's favorite hymn "What a friend we have in Jesus".

President Mrs. A. J. Lazenby presided at the meeting and Mrs. A. C. Fleming, secretary, and Mrs. Rex Chapman, treasurer were present.

Mrs. Leo C. Lockhart's theme for the devotional service was taken from the 21st Psalm: "Thou goest before Him with the blessings of goodness." The scripture was read by Mrs. A. C. Fleming, and Mrs. Lockhart spoke on "The God who goes before". One of the greatest revelations Jesus made about the future was "I go to prepare a place for you, and will receive you unto myself". All members joined in reading the general thanksgiving. Mrs. Lockhart led in prayer.

Miss Eva Empey, a retired missionary after 36 years of service in Canada's home mission fields, spoke of her work which began after her graduation from Toronto's United Church Training School. Miss Empey was well qualified for this missionary work as she had a musical education, and as well could read, write and sing in Ukrainian. Her first assignment was in Alberta and later in Winnipeg. From there she was posted to Ontario mostly to the northern part. She served as teacher and friend to many small communities in that area. In her talk she revealed that her work had been most rewarding. To the members present she emphasized the pleasure we have in giving thanks for our freedom of worship in Canada, which is not so in many countries. She asked the question: "What is prayer?" and then mentioned the four parts repeated in the Lord's Prayer: first adoration, then confession, next thanksgiving and lastly petition, in which we ask something for ourselves or other people. Miss Empey's interesting account gave the society a brief glimpse into her rewarding experience in her life's work in Canada.

Mrs. Rex Chapman was awarded a Life Membership with pin and lovely corsage, which came as a complete surprise. With a most suitable resume of Mrs. Chapman's valuable work over the years, Mrs. S. A. Macdonald made the presentation. Mrs. Chapman was totally unprepared for this surprise and humbly thanked the members for this great honor bestowed upon her.

Mrs. Macdonald also pinned a beautiful corsage on Miss Eva Empey.

During the business part of the meeting it was mentioned that the mite boxes should be brought to the November meeting.

A $5 memorial for a member, the late Mrs. Harvey, was sent to Naramata United Church Training School.

A social hour followed with tea served by Mrs. Robert Shannon, Mrs. I. Mowat and Mrs. W. Ward.

Best ever Variety sale

One of the most successful variety sales in recent years was held by the Women's Institute Saturday afternoon in the IOOF Hall. A number of people were waiting when the doors opened at 2 p.m. and business was good all afternoon.

Many found bargains in the good used clothing booth which was convened by Mrs. Joe McLachlan. Surprise treasures were found at the foot of the rainbow which was in charge of Mrs. Myrtle Scott. The home baking was a popular booth and soon sold out under the convener, Mrs. A. C. Fleming.

Mrs. Eric Tait's vegetable, fruit and flower booth attracted many buyers, while white elephants became opportunities at the booth convened by Mrs. S. A. MacDonald.

The north end of the hall was attractively decorated by the lovely gift items, aprons and novelties made and sold under the direction of Mrs. Gordon Ritchie.

After visiting the booths, many enjoyed tea which was under the direction of Mrs. Hans Moors.

Many members helped in all departments to make this annual event an enjoyable and profitable affair.

Heading the British Columbia Weekly Newspapers Association is Clive Stangoe, publisher of the Williams Lake Tribune. Mr. Stangoe was elected president for 1961-62 at the association's 43rd annual meeting held in Vancouver last week.

Speaks on agriculture in Europe

At the October meeting of the Summerland Horticultural Society, held Friday at the Parish Hall, plans were heard for the forthcoming horticultural convention to be held in Kelowna on Saturday, October 28. It is hoped there will be a good representation from the Summerland Society. Mrs. E. C. Bingham will give the report for Summerland.

Speaker for the evening was Mr. John Smith, horticulturist from Kelowna. He spoke on his trip last summer to Britain and Europe. Many pictures were shown of orchards in England, Holland and Germany. Of special interest were pictures of Dutch polders, land reclaimed from the sea. Mr. Smith had been shown around the polders by the parents and brother of a Summerland resident, Mr. Arnold Boerboom. In Holland, the agricultural land is carefully cared for and only those who are trained in farming are allowed on the land. There is no land speculation as there is in this country, where agricultural land can be bought by anyone and then used for anything but agriculture.

A social time was had after the pictures and tea was served by Mrs. W. F. Ward

Cleanliness is next to Godliness

by Rev. Norman Tannar

Soap ads, detergent ads, household cleanser ads, beauty and deodorant soap ads blast at us from newspapers and magazines. This constant and persistent advertising has made us dirt and odour conscious — so we use the soaps so gentle to the skin, and the cleansers that swish away the dirt and really deep clean.

Dirt must be washed out and away; but dirt like the ads is also constant and persistent. There is always more dirt to be tracked on the floors, to stain clothes and fabrics, and to get on little boys — so soap is applied to wash off the dirt. Applied, that's the word. If only we applied the Gospel teachings to the dirt and stain of sin as we apply soap to the dirt in our physical environment, what a wonderful community we'd have, or nation, or world.

Now we don't store soap but use it every day of the week, maybe as often as every hour of the week. We want to be clean. If only we had the same concern to have a clean heart, and mind, and soul. If only we applied our religion as we so lavishly apply soaps. We know we don't, and maybe that's why we feel better when we say, "Cleanliness is next to Godliness." The unfortunate misconception of this saying is that cleanliness is only next, and to quote another saying, "A miss is as good as a mile."

Wash you, make you clean; put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes; cease to do evil; learn to do well, and seek judgement, relieve the oppressed, help the fatherless, plead for the widow. Isaiah 1:6.

Need Parents' help

With the recent formation in Summerland of a Baseball Association, plus the active Minor Hockey Association which has started a new season, signs point toward the fact that, despite the fact that we are living in what has been termed a "soft" age, the joy of participating in strenuous physical activities will not be denied our younger folk.

We can take pride in the fact that many local youngsters are displaying that keen interest in sports which goes with a healthy body and zest for life. Although we have no use for the practice of pushing a student through his school life on his athletic ability alone, we do feel there is a correlation between a sound, healthy body and an alert, receptive mind.

If the proof of the pudding is in the eating then one has only to look back at the history of many of this country's leading men to learn that a great many of them starred in some sport or another in their younger days. It would almost seem the competitive spirit, the desire to give of one's ability to the utmost which is engendered by participation in sports, is carried on into adult life to the benefit of not only the person concerned but to his family, business and country.

In addition, he acquires a healthy respect for the ability of others, leading to the formation of a well balanced personality.

From time immemorial, mankind has used sport as a means of fitting his offspring to cope with the adversities of life, and its benefits are no less effective now than when the youngster was being trained to bring down his meat with a club.

Credit must go to those men and women who forsake the joys (?) of television or dearly loved hobby to go out and spend their time, and often money, to encourage and assist the young folk in their sporting endeavors.

Parents and others have a duty to perform in respect to sporting activities in a community, that of coming out to watch the youngsters display their abilities.

Certainly the thrill of scoring a goal, hitting a home run or even the fun of partaking in a sport is intensified when the feat is performed in full view of those dear to the performer.

Each of us owe a debt of gratitude to those stalwarts in the community who see to it that sports never die and it is in our power, by merely attending sporting events, to assure their continuation with the final result being a happier, healthier future generation.

Gardeners invited to Kelowna get-together on October 28

Of interest to gardeners in the Okanagan is the first annual convention of the Okanagan Horticultural Association. This event will be held Saturday, October 28 in the Kelowna Centennial Hall, 1424 Ellis St. in Kelowna.

Registration will be held from 1:00 p.m. to 1:30 p.m. The afternoon session will consist of reports from various garden clubs from Oliver, Salmon Arm, Summerland, Penticton, Kelowna and Vernon. Afternoon tea and a social hour will give the delegates an opportunity to meet gardeners from up and down the valley and to observe the interesting club displays. These will include books on gardening, new and hard-to-get catalogues, dried flowers and chrysanthemum displays.

After the supper hour and a short business meeting, slides will be shown "Around the year in the Okanagan".

Among those planning on attending from Summerland are: Mrs. A. Inch, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Bennett, Mrs. D. Tait, Mrs. E. C. Bingham, Mrs. A. Mott, Mrs. W. S. Harrison and Mrs. Jack Brown.

Registration is open to all interested, whether members of a garden club or not, and it is expected many others will attend this outstanding gardening event.

For further information on registration or transportation, contact E. H. Bennett, at HY4-2936 or Miss Doreen Tait, HY4-2099.

Letter to Editor

The Editor,
The Summerland Review.

Dear Sir:

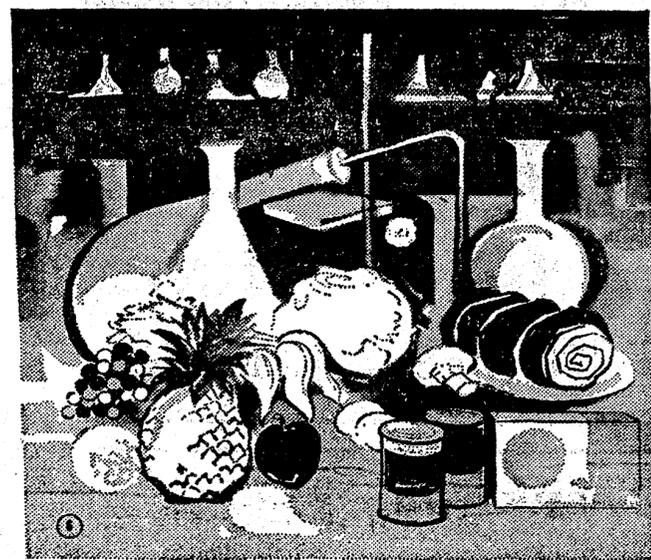

Is your issue of October 19th, I have read with great interest a letter from my good friend, Jack Wilcox, re the fluoridation of our domestic water.

With a great deal of his letter I am in full agreement, but in part I cannot do so. The claim is made that fluoridation is beneficial for children and the younger generation. This may be so Perhaps this might apply to 40 percent of our people. But is it right or democratic to compel the other 60 per cent to use the same water for whom there can be little if any benefit whatever.

And we are told that fluorides can be purchased at any drug store and cheaply, and can be used where required. I don't think that people individually or collectively should be forced to use water they object to.

Thank you.
Tom Garnett.

Food and Drug Act guards the consumer

(One of a series of articles describing the Federal Health and Welfare Services Canadians get for their tax dollars).

In 1877 Canada's worst suspicions about some of the food crossing its store counters were confirmed. Certain low-priced teas, it was revealed, owed their dubious tastiness to dried leaves faced with Prussian blue — not to mention stalk, starch, sand floor sweepings. Some coffee turned out to be less than pure Brazilian. The roasted wheat, peas, beans and bread crumbs found in it had obviously been added closer to home. As for spices —!

These and other unappetizing discoveries came as the result of a new piece of federal legislation. The "Act to Impose License Duties on the Compounders of Spirits and to Prevent the Adulteration of Food, Drink and Drugs" had been passed in 1874 but it was three years later before the four analysts appointed to implement it turned in their first annual report. Of the 180 samples of varied foods that had been examined, 93 turned out to be adulterated.

Eighty years later the Food and Drug Directorate of the Department of National Health and Welfare, developing from those modest beginnings, was examining 30,000 samples annually. Where each of the original analysts, working on a fee basis (not to exceed $2,000 a year) had been allowed up to $300 for equipment, millions of dollars had been invested in modern laboratories. There was a large central group in Ottawa and five regional units strategically located across the country.

Adulteration was still a problem but its frequency had been reduced to a point where, even among suspected samples, the frequency was five percent against the original figure of 52 percent. Moreover, the modern analyst was working against a set of standards where the early examinations had had no starting point other than whether a product carried a threat to health or to life itself.

It was obvious, of course, from the kinds of adulteration discovered in the early days, that a standard was not imperative to its detection at that time. Today's adulteration is something else again. A pound of butter may be delicious in flavor and present no danger to health but, if it has been diluted with cheaper vegetable fats the Food and Drug Directorate is interested. Butter must contain only milk fat. It is the Directorate's task to see that the consumer gets what he is led to believe he is buying.

To do this it is assisted by the fruits of modern science. In Food Chemistry Section of the Ottawa laboratories is a spectograph which can detect adulteration in very small quantities. In many instances if only an ounce of adulterant existed in thirty tons of an otherwise pure commodity, the spectograph would catch it. Adulteration in lesser quantities would scarcely be profitable!

Today's Food and Drug Act covers a field as broad and intricate as modern living. It establishes standards, regulates packaging, labelling and advertising, controls the sale of remedies for certain designated diseases, specifies drugs to be sold only on prescription.

While Food and Drug inspectors, located from coast to coast are the vigilant watchmen of the Act, its ever-increasing effectiveness has been rooted in the cooperation of the Canadian producer and consumer alike. Each has recognized it as an instrument conceived for mutual benefit.

Library News

by Kay Dunsdon

A world renowned American scientist, a Nobel Prize winner, gives us a most interesting book called "No More War". In this book, the author, Linus Pauling, discusses nuclear warfare and its effects on humanity and in his crusade for world unity he makes some original and practical suggestions for world peace.

A new novel by Will R. Bird is "Despite the Distance" a final book in a trilogy, about a group of Yorkshire men who settled in the Cumberland district in Nova Scotia after the American revolution. The book has several colorful characters, the hero Tristram and the Rev. Mercacious Admore, who advises Tristram to make amends for his wrongdoings and what happens to him in the way of unusual adventures as he tries to follow such advice.

"The Refugee", by Helen Fowler is a moving story of a young priest's efforts to help a man find a reason to go on living, when he has lost all those he loved. The setting is in Australia, and the author, being a native of Sydney, describes the country vividly. She will be remembered by her previous novels, "The Intruder" and "Hold a Bright Mirror."

"The Fit" a first novel by a young American writer, has an unusual subject. The hero is an awkward, bitter school boy who has a mental breakdown, and the story tells of those who tried to help him, and how his troubles affected his teachers and friends.

In the non-fiction section, we have a new book on weaving by Harriet Tidball with clear directions and good illustrations.

Doctor Ruth Strang gives us a book, "Helping Your Gifted Child", and tells how to help him utilize his abilities and includes a reading list for a bright child.

A number of our books are out and overdue, we would love to have them come home, and for your convenience we have a return slot in the rear of the library. Just drop them in.

Pictured above, a new face in Summerland music circles, Eva Beames, who is currently singing the lead soprano role in the opera Cavalleria Rusticana produced by the B.C. Opera Players Company of Vancouver.

Mrs. Beames, wife of H. W. (Bill) Beames, a teacher in the Summerland high school, began her musical career in her early twenties and has studied under Philip Watts, Axel Shioetz of Vancouver and Otto Gutt of San Francisco.

Her lovely soprano voice has won her an impressive number of awards both in Canada and the United States. The first year Mrs. Beames entered the B.C. music festival she came first in three events. She has also won awards twice at the met opera auditions held in Seattle, and she also holds a San Francisco regional scholarship.

Mrs. Beames has sung some very ambitious roles, at UBC she sang excerpts from La Boheme as Mimi. She also sang the lead role in Faust and appeared in the Tales of Hoffman in San Francisco.

A very busy young mother of two, Mrs. Beames manages to travel to Vancouver for practices, and she also plans to give voice training in Summerland.

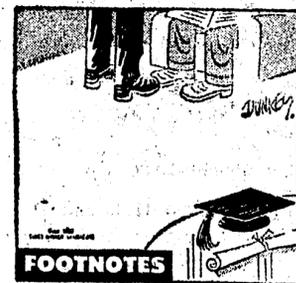

The budding Picasso presents no additional wash-day problems when garbed in this coverall plastic smock. Highlighted by a child entrancing clown's face, it was designed to encourage youthful artists to wear their smock faithfully during painting sessions. Clown's face consists of pieces of colored plastic tape.

Will donate funds to handicapped

The October meeting of the African Violet Society was held at the home of Mrs. H. Hansen. Plans were discussed for the 1962 violet show in May. It was decided that proceeds will be donated to the Happy Vale School for Handicapped Children. Mrs. J. H. Brown will be show chairman of the event and various committees were appointed.

Following refreshments, a social time was enjoyed by the members.

The November meeting of the society will be held in the West Summerland library, Nov. 20 at 7:30 p.m.

Square 'em up

Sixteen squares of very enthusiastic dancers came all the way from Vernon in the north to Omak in the south to gather at the Youth Centre last Saturday night, as guests of the Summerland Pairs and Squares.
Bob Emerson was in top form and kept the squares moving at a good fast clip.

Autumn leaves and berries, cornstalks and jack o'lanterns gave the hall a harvest festival look, just the right setting for country dancing on a nippy fall Under May Mayne's conven-orship, the ladies of the club provided a delicious supper when the dancing was over.

Everyone felt very happy about getting the winter season under way so successfully.

Because of insufficient attendance, the beginner's clas was cancelled last Friday night.
We were very sorry to disap-point those who hoped to take lessons this winter, but classes are impossible without dancers.

Intermediate lessons under Bob Emerson start on Wednesday, November 1, at 8 p.m. in the Parish Hall. Here again sufficient dancers are a necessity if square dancing is to continue in Summerland. The best instruction is being made available, but there must be dancers to attend regularly or the classes cannot function.

This is where you come in.

Trail Riders start season

The Summerland Trail Riders held a very successful ride on Sunday, October 15, under the leadership of Trailmaster Gary Schaffer.

The riders met at the Bennett ranch and proceeded up Prairie Valley to a large open flat. Here we played games on horseback, with equipment brought in C. Reinertson's truck.
After the games the club enjoyed a macaroni feed and not too successful coffee, prepared by the club secretary.

There were seventeen riders present, and a welcome is extended to new riders. There will be another ride in approximately two weeks, weather permitting, and anyone interested can call the secretary at HY4-2141.

Funeral services for P. A. Galloway

Funeral services were conducted for Peter Alexander Galloway, 66, of West Summerland, by Canon A. R. Eagles in Pentiction Funeral Chapel at 2:30 p.m. on Friday, October 20.

Born in Carberry, Manitoba, the late Mr. Galloway had been a resident of West Summerland for the past ten years. He died in Summerland General Hospital, October 17.

He is survived by his wife, Ethel; one daughter, Mrs. Earl Stewart, Gladstone, Manitoba; two sons, Keith, Dawson Creek and Clare, Gladstone, Man.; two brothers, Bruce and Melvin, both in Manitoba and eight grandchildren.

Graveside services for the late Mr. Galloway were conducted by Royal Canadian Legion, Branch 40, of which he was a member. Interment Field of Honor plot. Lakeview Cemetery, Penticton.

Kiwanis Club Notes

Kiwanis enjoyed five guests on Tuesday night. Two members of the Key Club were with us, Brian Corson and Scott Bergstrom.

Bill Laidlaw surpassed himself in introducing our old member and friend, Bill Gilmour. True at times, one was not sure whether we were the Rotary Club or the Kiwanis Club, but the introduction was good and so was the presence of Bill Gilmour.

Also with us were Wally Mulligan, president of the Penticton Club and Evan Lougheed, past president of the Penticton club.

John Tamblin led the singing, and it is wonderful how the club responds to the piano: Ken Storey presiding thereon.

Three birthdays were celebrated, Simon, Carl Dietrich and Bob Hardie, each of course, paying the usual tribute to the sheriff.

Lloyd Shannon was presented with a ten year service tab.

Father Muelenberg, our old and valued past member and friend, sent his regards from Greenwood.

Lloyd Shannon ran a tape of the international convention held recently at Toronto.

LLORDS' PUPPETS

It was stated that between 150 and 170 puppets were shown out of the 700 who "live" in Monterey, California, their permanent home.

Backstage, after the show, the puppets could be seen in "close-up" in their finery of gorgeous materials and fine furs, all the puppets and clothes made by the clever hands of Mr. Llords. The puppets were surprisingly heavy, for "on stage" in the hands of their master, they looked as light as air. The elephant who carried Cleopatra weighed 22 pounds.

This was almost an incredible spectacle. It had to be seen to be believed that one pair of hands, however, skilful, could create such magic.

Mr. Llords works with his puppets in concert with symphony orchestras, adding "another stringed instrument" to the orchestra. He will produce in Victoria, a world premier of a concerto written especially for his puppets. He will also make a TV show with the Vancouver Symphony for Christmas showing, and all those who saw his show on Saturday night will hope that it will appear here on TV.

The audience was left in the happy condition, for the artist, of wishing for more and will be looking forward eagerly to a return engagement of Llords' "International" some time in the future.

A public reception was held in the home economics room after the performance and those attending were able to meet Mr. Llords who had many interesting stories to tell of the experiences of himself and his "little people", who will not be forgotten.

Information about your Credit Union

Endowment Savings Plan

Your Credit Union is now offering its members a very attractive fifteen-year savings program supplemented with insurance. Here is how to create a $4,000 Estate immediately with a Credit Union Endowment Savings Plan.

You subscribe for $2,000.00 worth of shares and concurrently the credit union will by the same agreement lend $2,000.00 to meet the obligation on the shares. Through this combined savings and insurance plan you as a member agree to save $120.00 a year (or $10.00 a month) during the term of the contract. In the event of death before age 70 or total disability before age 60, the loan balance would be paid off in full by the insurance. In addition, if the plan is started before age 55, the $2,000.00 in shares would increase by another $2,000.00 in insurance leaving your family, dependents or beneficiary $4,000.00 in cash.

You do not pay any interest on your $2,000.00 loan nor do you receive any payments on the $2,000.00 shares, and you cannot withdraw any of the money you have paid in on this plan while the contract is in force.

Call into your credit union office in West Summerland soon. The staff will be glad to explain the Endowment Savings Plan to you.
