Miss Beverly Bye took third place in the intermediate equitation class (rider is judged for handling skill) at the Penticton Horse Show. Summerland riders rode in three events of the show.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Atkinson recently entertained Mr. Neville Whitcombe of Wellington, New Zealand at their home. Mr. Whitcombe, secretary of the New Zealand Apple and Pear Board, was impressed with the Okanagan, said Mrs. Atkinson, particularly the glimpse of July 1st snow that was visible on the mountain tops.

Last year we were bragging about the record number of hours of sunshine in June. This year, it wasn't worth adding up. Last week the research station reports we had .20 inches of rain and 64.1 hours of sunshine.

35 apply for summer classes

The Summerland secondary school is very happy with the enrollment for the first summer school courses to be offered here.

To date 35 students have registered with a few more applications still expected. The only course lacking sufficient registration to carry on is the English 30-31 course and Mr. John Tamblyn, teacher in charge of the summer school, is hoping that late registrations will enable the school to carry this course as well. He urges anyone interested in the English course to contact him immediately.

Classes will be held in the mornings for 1½ hours commencing July 9 and will conclude on August 3.

Police court

A 1960 model Pontiac stolen from in front of the home of Peter Beulah of West Summerland was found abandoned in a used car lot in Chilliwack and has been returned. The owner of the lot said the car had been there several days before he realized it did not belong to him. Mr. Beulah had removed the keys from the car but it had not been locked.

On June 29, Gordon George Sheline of Kamloops appeared before Magistrate Reid Johnston charged with driving without a licence. He was fined $25 and costs.

On the same date Jimmie Jules of Kamloops appeared on two counts; driving while impaired and producing a driver's licence belonging to someone else. Fined $75 and costs on the first charge or in default 30 days and $15 and costs on the second charge or in default 15 days. Jules choose the jail sentence.

In Merritt last Friday night a large crowd danced to the "big band" stylings of the Summerland Orchestra. This was the first public appearance of the orchestra after several months of rehearsal, and it provided a wide range of dancable music with fox trots, waltzes, tangos, etc. The orchestra was organized as a spare time activity by a group of local musicians, all of whom enjoy working together to recreate the sounds of the big bands which were so popular a few years ago. Plans are being arranged for the orchestra to participate in the fruit fair September 7-8.

Local support urged for Junior College

Junior Colleges will be built in B.C. in the very near future, said Bruce Howard, secretary of the Penticton Chamber of Commerce, and the communities that go after them first will get them. Mr. Howard was explaining why Penticton was seeking Summerland support for a junior college in Penticton, and how desirable such a college would be for this area.

Outlining the purpose and planning of the groups behind the junior college movement, Councillor W. S. Ritchie said that with K. Boothe, chairman of the school board, had met with civic officials from Penticton and surrounding areas to discuss the possibility of a junior college in Penticton. Mr. Ritchie said that pending favorable outcome of talks with university officials the Penticton school board would make space available for temporary use by the junior college. Also a tract of 26 acres of land, situated on a part of the old Penticton golf course would be made available for the construction of a college, by the city of Penticton, free of charge.

In reporting to council last Tuesday, Councillor Ritchie stressed not only the advantage of first and second year university courses available to young people at much less financial strain than going to UBC, but he also said that in colleges of this sort in has been found that the students find themselves in an atmosphere very similar to high school. They are not lost in a vast number of students as is the larger universities and consequently the pass rate is much higher.

Subjects that would be taught include English, physics, chemistry, zoology, psychology, mathematics and probably a second language.

At the moment a sub-committee, of which Mr. Boothe is the Summerland representative, is preparing a brief to be presented to the University of British Columbia and the provincial government.

Mr. Ritchie said that the college would be supported and supplied with students from the South Okanagan and Similkameen area. Public support is being asked for the project, as it is felt that a junior college in this area would be extremely desirable from a student standpoint as well as being good for the area in general.

Leslie Caldwell chosen fair queen

Leslie Caldwell was chosen as fruit fair queen for 1962 at the strawberry social held in the IOOF Hall Saturday evening. A capacity crowd of nearly 200 was served strawberry shortcake and ice cream by the ten candidates for queen.

Leslie, 17 is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Caldwell. Her hobbies include playing in the school band, swimming and reading. She was sponsored by the Kiwanis Club.

Her two princesses are Darlene Shannon, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd A. Shannon, and Vicki McKee, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry McKee.

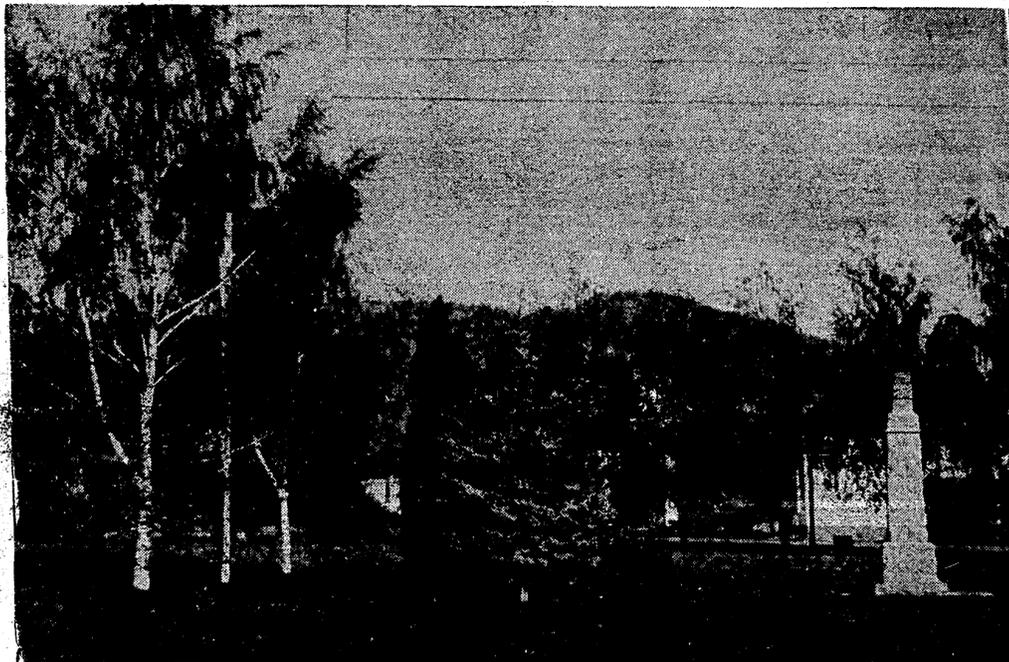

Darlene's activities include piano study, school band, teaching Sunday School, dancing, curling and sewing. She was sponsored by the Fire Brigade.

Vicki's activities include reading, music and skating. She was sponsored by the Figure Skating Club.

The hall was decorated in red, white and blue colors with baskets of peonies on the stage. The refreshment tables were centered with roses in silver bowls.

Master of ceremonies was G. C. Johnston, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

The door prize of TV tables was won by Mrs. Marie Robinson.

Pictured above, Summerland's Memorial Park is sparkling in the early morning sun. Although not very large, this is Summerland's most picturesque park, well tended and tidy at all times, despite the hundreds of adults and youngsters who use it constantly. The park is a constant hive of activity, with ball games, swings and games of all sorts in progress.

Irrigation methods studied

The increasing popularity of dwarf trees and grape vines in Canadian orchards has turned the grower's thoughts to discovering the best form of irrigation.

H. C. Korven of the research station at Summerland, has reported on tests of various types of equipment and is continuing experiments this season with longer hose and with tractor power for moving it.

Mr. Korven points out that an overhead system of irrigation is necessary for dwarf apple trees and grape vines as the dense growth which develops prevents good distribution of water by sprinklers on or near the ground. Having decided that an overhead system of irrigation is best, the question of what type of what equipment to use arises.

The portable pipe system involves moving the pipe across the rows and can therefore be used only where the growth permits such movement, in young orchards for instance. In this system the sprinklers are mounted on high-risers or hydrants incorporated into the portable pipes and it is somewhat inconvenient to recouple the system after moving the pipes. It's slightly more costly but much more convenient to attach the sprinkler to a portable tripod and to hook into the portable pipe with a short length of hose.

The initial cost of the portable pipe system is about $120 an acre or $20 more than for an under-tree system with low-riser pipes. Average moving time for a complete cycle of 12 sets is 165 minutes, 30 minutes longer than for an under-tree system.

For mature orchards of dwarf trees and for vineyards, portable sprinklers and underground pipes running crosswise to the rows are satisfactory. The sprinklers, mounted on tripods, are connected to permanent hydrants in the pipe by 50 foot lengths of hose and can be moved from row to row.

Placing the pipeline 120 feet apart and the hydrants 40 feet apart gives three sprinkler settings from each hydrant, one at the hydrant and one 40 feet each side of it. Each sprinkler covers an area 40 by 40 feet on each move and 120 by 40 feet on the three sets.

The cost of this system is about $200 per acre, or $80 more than for the portable pipe system. The sprinklers can be moved as quickly as an under-tree system, if not quicker.

Keep B.C. Green - Use Your Ashtray

The Hon. Ray Williston recently launched the annual B.C. Forest Service road-sign painting program.

Using paint gun and stencil, Mr. Williston started the first "Keep B.C. Green -- Use Your Ashtray" marker on the Victoria-Sidney Highway, some 14 miles north of the capital.

The paint crew will once again consist of a group of high school students under the direction of Mr. Les Moutray, Public Information Division, B.C. Forest Service. The students are: Randy Larsen, foreman; Barry Warner, Bob Thorburn, Brian Lees, John Moseley, all of Victoria.

Travelling by trailer, the boys will by the end of August have covered 5,800 miles, used up 160 gallons of paint and left 118 reminders to motorists to use their ash-trays. They will also have received a free lesson in the geography of this province, moving from Vancouver Island to the Alberta boundary, from the United States border to Quesnel

Paintings by Nara. artist on display

A display of paintings by Joseph R. Borsos of Naramata will be shown in the regional library in West Summerland for the next two weeks.

Born in Budapest, Mr. Borsos had his early schooling there, later attending the Academy of Fine Arts. In Austria he studied art and philosophy at Innsbruck University.

He taught art and design in Europe until 1958 when he came to Canada with his family and taught in Rossland, later moving to the Okanagan.

Mr. Borsos is a very versatile artist, equally at home with oil, pastel, or water-color and will be showing a varied catalogue of pictures.

He is presently teaching silk screening and painting in the summer school in Penticton.

Sylvia Hodge receives Violet May Trophy

A new trophy, the Violet May Achievement Trophy, donated by Mrs. W. May of Trout Creek was awarded to grade six pupil Sylvia Hodge at the Awards Day ceremonies held last Thursday at Trout Creek School. The trophy is given to the graduating pupil who has attained the highest degree of proficiency during the elementary schooling from grades 1 to 6.

Proficiency scrolls for outstanding achievement were awarded to Sharon May, grade 6; Lynn Gartrell and Judy Bonthoux, grade 5; Susan Wardle and Barbara Porritt, grade 4; Dale Rae, grade 3; Chris McIntosh and Aileen Wardle, grade 2; Wade MacGregor, grade 1. These scrolls were presented by Mrs. H. Hackman, Miss E. Aitken and Ray McNabb of the teaching staff.

The Citizenship Trophies presented by Mrs. M. J. Prokopenko were awarded to Raymond Davis, grade 6; Annette Bonthoux, grade 4; Bruce Gartrell, grade 2.

Robert Munro and Anne Porritt received the Gartrell Trophies for best boy and girl athlete. Honorable mention went to Bryce Parker.

Mrs. W. R. Powell presented the W. R. Powell Memorial Shield to the captains of the Reds, Robert Munro and Judy Bonthoux, for house competition. The Softball Plaque was awarded to the Whites, captained by Marilyn Parker and Raymond Davis.

Brooke-Bond book awards went to Sharon May for handwriting and Lindsay Strachan for art.

Special awards presented were for art, Jennifer Morgan, Anne Rae, Marilyn Parker, for penmanship, David Gartrell; for spelling, Sylvia Hodge, Anne Rae, Sharon May and Linda Keuning.

Sharon May presented a plaque bearing the names of all the citizenship winners since the school was opened in 1957 to the school. The gift was given by the grade six graduating class and was accepted by Mr. McNabb.

The program was chaired by J. Cooke, supervising principal, who expressed pleasure at seeing such a large crowd of parents and friends present.

About Pills

A news dispatch from Denmark states that at a medical ward in a hospital at Copenhagen more patients were admitted through misuse of medicine than from any other cause except heart disease. Danish doctors have reported cases of patients who walk in "a constant daze of intoxication, caused by munching a mixture of all types of headache pills, sedatives and sleeping tablets."

We are not sure whether North Americans have reached this stage, but they have a world-wide reputation for an addiction to pills.

It is part of our fast moving society. A business man who finds he is under heavy pressure seeks relief from nerves with a mouthful of pills. If he feels rundown in the morning he stuffs himself with energy tablets to get through the day. Then he tries to unwind at night by taking tranquilizers.

What this mixture and counter-mixture of pills does to a person's system is hard to tell, but it isn't natural.

There is a proper use for pills or they would never be allowed on the market. In modest numbers pills can help relieve pain, act as a stimulus, induce relaxation, etc. They can be of wonderful assistance.

The trouble is we try to become our own doctor, to diagnose our own condition, and to prescribe our own treatment in the form of self-administered pills.

A danger exists if pill consumption becomes a habit, and a person has mesmerized himself into believing that he can't move without a pep pill or sleep without a sedative.

The pill is a great modern medical discovery, but as cited in Denmark its overuse or misuse can become an illness.

A Great Day Coming

One of the more common causes of family friction around the average home is dirt, plain, ordinary dirt.

Kids get bawled out for coming home with their clothes dirty. Their fathers are scolded for tracking mud on clean floors and dropping ashes on rugs.

Dirt, like sin, finds favor with very few people. The arguments it causes are usually drab and uninspired. In short, who needs it?

Now, however, there appears to be a glimmer of hope that victory may be coming.

Henry Dreyfuss, a New York industrial designer, foresees the day when homes will be equipped with kitchens and baths that clean themselves; when closets will contain devices for cleaning and pressing clothes electronically.

He predicts the time will come when dirt and mud will be removed from feet and clothing by electronic gadgets in the entrance to a home.

There won't be any problem with dirty sheets and towels. They'll be made of soft disposable cellulose.

Dirty pots? They'll be made of foil which can be tossed in the garbage, if there is still such a thing as garbage.

It probably all sounds wonderful to the harassed housewife of today and although this workless wonder is probably a few years away, it at least aives cause for hope.

Mr. Dreyfuss says that if home makers are interested in seeing their dreams fulfilled they should give serious thought to their needs and then let industry know what they want.

Sounds simple enough.
There's your cue, ladies!

Cherry production increasing

Rapidly increasing production of cherries in B.C. has resulted in the adoption by growers of new and far-reaching control measures and shipping standards and methods that will enable them to market an increasing share of the crop in distant areas such as eastern Canada, the United Kingdom and the U.S. Heretofore, B.C. cherries have been almost entirely sold in western Canada.

Growers are advised to pick cherries early in the day, starting at dawn, when the fruit is cool. After picking, fruit must be kept in the shade and covered so it will not lose moisture, and finally, the cherries must be sorted, graded, packed and put into cold storage rooms within a matter of hours. When the heat has been taken out of the fruit, thus slowing down the ripening process, it is ready for immediate shipment.

Cherries destined for eastern Canada or export are packed in crates lined with polyethylene and thus enclosed, the ripening process is considerably slowed. A picked cherry is a living tissue, fruit experts explain, and as such, breathes continuously using up oxyges and giving off minute quantities of carbon dioxide. The rate at which the cherry respirates determines the speed at which it ripens.

By quickly taking the heat out of the fruit and cooling to an internal temperature of 32 degrees, respiration becomes very slow and thus, like a bear in hibernation, the fruit is kept in a dormant state. This allows more time to get the cherries to distant markets in perfect condition.

Cherries destined for the Vancouver market or nearby prairie points are in retail stores from one to three days after picking.

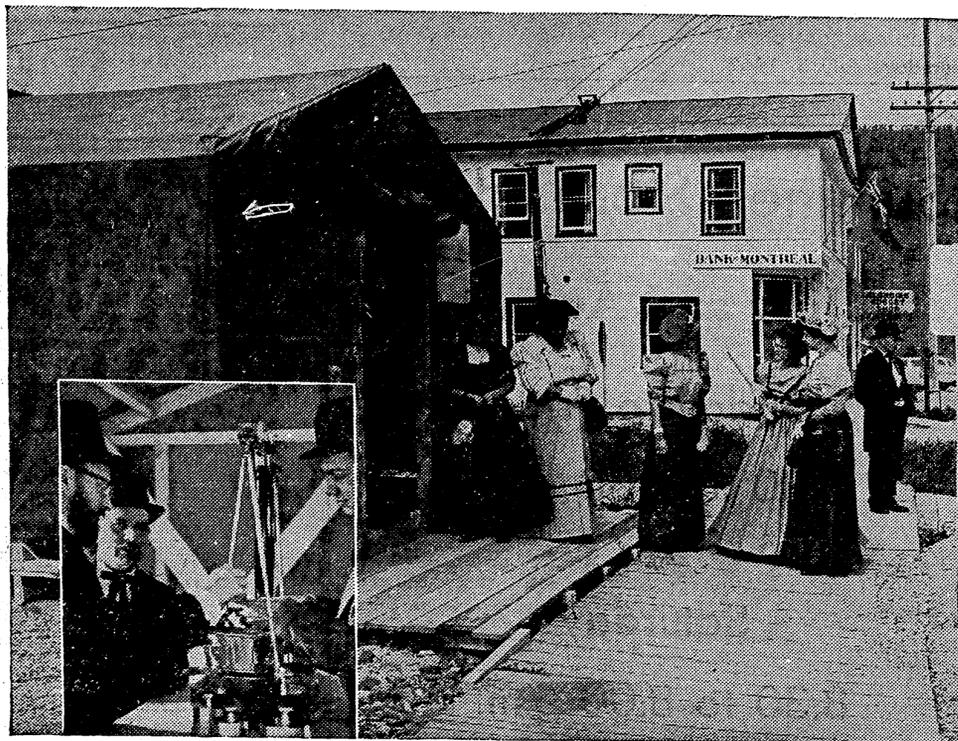

The 1960 cherry crop was valued at well over $1¼ million, and the 1960 crop of 376,000 crates was about 60 percent larger than its predecessor. The 1962 crop may be close to 400,000 crates, and forecasts based on tree plantings of recent years, indicate a B.C. cherry crop that will climb within a few years to more than 1-million crates annually.

Western Canada absorbed about 60 per cent of last year's B.C. cherry crop, and by rigid quality control, speed and care in handling, growers will endeavor to sell successively larger quantities in markets thousands of miles distant from orchards.

GROWERS INSURANCE

The British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association C.U. & C. Health Service Society Group Insurance Plan for fruit growers is about half way through the enrollment period for this year. BCFGA members and their employees are reminded that they have until July 15 to enroll under this plan. Those persons wishing to join the plan should take their applications to their packing house before July 15.

Growers who enrolled under the plan last year need not complete an application again this year, but they should check with their packing house that their dues will be paid this year.

Optional Christianity

by Rev. Norman Tannar

John 14:6 — Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me.

In "The Case Book of a Psychiatrist", Dr. J. T. Fisher, one of America's foremost psychiatrists, writes: If you were to take the sum total of all the authoritative articles ever written by the most qualified of psychologists and psychiatrists on the subject of mental hygiene, if you were to combine them and refine them and cleave out the excess verbiage, if you were to take the whole meat and none of the parsley, and if you were to have these unadulterated bits of pure scientific knowledge concisely expressed by the most capable of living poets, you would have an awkward and incomplete summation of the Sermon on the Mount.

Now is it not strange, considering the high regard we have for the sayings and sermons of Jesus, that we ignore the Life that gave us them? We have, in our Christian (?) nation today, reached a point of "optional" Christianity — "I like the teachings, but I'm going my way." Our way of life has become so cluttered with electrical appliances that it has charged our religious life with the "switch on, switch off" habit.

The importance of Christianity is not so much the teachings, to which anyone can pay lip service, but the Life; and the wonderful teachings of Jesus came from a Life that had learned the scripture of the Old Testament, a Life that prayed to God constantly, and a Life that worshipped regularly within the congregation of others.

Are we so much better than He, that we do not need this regular three-fold background to our religious life today? As followers of the Way (not as lip-serverers) how do you rate in prayer, Bible reading and worship?

The first bank at Dawson, Yukon, in the Klondike gold rush of 1898, was a rough, wood framed canvas covered shack, and it has been recreated by the Bank of Montreal as part of the Dawson City Gold Rush Festival, which opened Sunday, July 1. The office was established by the Bank of British North America, which later merged with the B of M.

The first manager, David Doig and two clerks took 47 days to travel - by steamer, dog-sled, pack pony and canoe - the 1,500 miles from Vancouver to Dawson to set up the sourdoughs' first bank.

Present B of M manager, be-whiskered Roy McPhaik, who was elected first president of the Festival in 1960, is depicted ed here in the doorway of the tent shack chatting with customers in period costume. Shown inset, he weighs gold dust on scales of the type, used during the Klondike gold rush.

by Kay Dunsdon

Summer and vacations is the time for light reading, and several new books in our library are made for easy reading.

One of these, "Miss Bagshot Goes to Tibet" by Anne Telscombe, is a gay and humorous tale of shrewd Miss Bagshot and Brenda, a red-haired teenager, who set off on their unusual journey shadowed by an ominous portent, for a large, dead goose had fallen on Miss Bagshot's head as she disembarked from the liner. A nearby Guru had foretold trouble and they find it when caught up with assorted journalists covering the flight of the Dalai Lama.

Oddly enough, another tale of Tibet, newly arrived, is called "Tibet is My Country" by Thubten and Harrer. This is a serious and authentic book of Norbu, a member of the Dalai Lama's own family. He tells how his brother was recognized as the 14th re-incarnation of the Lama, and of their family life. Norbu has been a tireless worker for the Tibetan refugees, forced to flee before the Communist Chinese Army. He deplores the highly colored tales of three-eyed holy men which imaginative authors have written of his country. The co-author is Heinrich Harrer, a German writer remembered for his book, "The White Spider".

"My Father's House" by Shirley Eclov, a new American author, is a beautiful and intelligently written story of the thoughts and feelings of Rena Morrison, mother of a family, who through a death in the family, reviews her life and those around her, and comes to better understanding of herself and those she loves. The author is a teacher of English Composition at American University in Maryland.

"Boy With a Flute" is a modern novel of Africa, written by a South African concerned with his country's troubles. The story is woven around the theme of whether white people should attend an African concert, and the re-actions of an educated African lad, returning from London, and the increasing racial antagonism in which he does not want to become involved. The author, Alexander

Charles Noble, was educated in South Africa and has worked as reporter and journalist on several Johannesburg papers. He is a keen student of international politics and affairs.

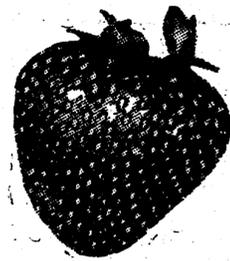

For young people, we have a new edition of the Swiss classic "Heidi" with beautiful water colors by Charles Mozley to illustrate it. Johanna Spyri, the author, was a Swiss, who loved nature and when Heidi was first published in 1880, it was considered the first good, well written book for children in German. So Heidi has lived on, still read by many children and translated into several languages. This edition would make a wonderful gift for a child.

"Dragging and Driving", by Tom McPherson is for teenagers, a car handbook for boys who hope to own their own car. Tells what to watch for in buying a used car, also auto maintenance. The author is editor of a National Boys' magazine.

"Savage Sam, the son of Old Yeller", is for younger readers and tells how Sam saved captive children from Indians.

"The Littlest Satellite" is space science for small children written in fairy tale style with enchanting drawings. Inez Hogan has written numerous books for children and knows how to capture their interest.

Irrigation methods of hose permitting seven sprinkler settings will be tested, and towing of the portable pipe by tractor will be compared with moving it by hand.

Dr. J. C. Wilcox, of the research Station, offers advice on determining when to irrigate orchards and how much water to apply.

Measuring evaporation of water from the soil is the best guide except in the case of soils with a high water table.

The Bellani plate has given good service in this capacity, says Dr. Wilcox, describing the operation:

1. Measure each day the amount of water evaporated from the Bellani plate. Using a simple graph adjusted for different soil types and crops, calculate in inches the water lost from the soil.

2. Starting from the first irrigation keep a moisture balance sheet. On the credit side enter the amount of water applied, plus rainfall. On the debit side enter each day the amount lost from the soil as determined by the Bellani plate.

3. Irrigate again when the credit and debit sides balance. Repeat this procedure throughout the season.

In practice, says Dr. Wilcox, the procedure is somewhat more complicated than that described here. However, it has been found to work very well at the research station and 17 commercial orchards in the Okanagan Valley are being irrigated by this method.

First anniversary for Parkdale Place

by Mabel Atkinson

We have come to the end of the first year at Parkdale Place duly celebrated by an elaborately decorated cake donated by Reeve and Mrs. Norman Holmes. Felicitations came from both Reeve and Mrs. Holmes and Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Atkinson, wishing us many happy returns of the day.

In the evening the inimitable Mr. Cook delighted us with a recital of piano music and singing the songs of long ago, much to our delight.

James McCuaig, from Clarence House, Vancouver, a nonagenarian well over ninety, touring the Okanagan, spent the afternoon with us. The conversation drifted to the Gay Nineties. We talked over the meagre wages of those days, $7 for women per month, $20 for men, a matron of a hospital earned $20. Nevertheless we wore real silk gowns, sweeping the ground, befrilled and befruffed, bouffant with bustles and hoops which we coyly raised to show neat ankles in high buttoned shoes while ostrich plumes and gay parasols completed the ensemble. On Sunday, church going was the only diversion and we listened to lengthy sermons on latitudinarianism versus anti-nomianism with a few moral values for the day; what to read on the Sabbath and a reprimand for the abominable habit of Sunday visiting, which young folk discreetly overcame by travelling to a distant neighborhood for evening service and enjoyed the slow drive home in a covered buggy.

The idle rich in Toronto drove in state to church with liveried footman and coachman, whom they left on the curb in heat and cold, to await the conclusion of the service.

In reminiscing, Mrs. Daines added that she helped fashion the bonnet Queen Victoria wore on her Diamond Jubilee, black of course, made from 27 yards of tulle.

Ah! Those were the days when we were young, but as Tennyson says:

"The old order changeth giving place to new,

SUMMER SCHOOL NEWS

Racheel Welke, B.Mus., of Seattle, returns for the third time to the Okanagan Summer School of Fine Arts to instruct woodwind classes. Former faculty member of the University of Washington, and the University of Puget Sound, Mrs. Welke studied conducting under Fritz Reiner and also at the Juillard School of Music. She has at present a private studio for woodwinds, and is conductor of the Seattle Women's Symphony Orchestra.

Mrs. Welke's classes will commence July 9, and continue on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays until July 21, with private lessons arranged by the instructor. These 10 hours of instruction for advanced classes (woodwinds and brass) will be at a fee of $25. Daily hours are to be arranged for ensemble work at a fee of $17.50, or if in master class, for $7.50. Ten half hour sessions for intermediate and beginners classes will be at the fee of $12.50 and $7.50

And God fulfils himself in many ways."

Our most distant visitor for June was Mr. Neville Whitcomb, from Wellington, New Zealand, guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Atkinson. He visits Canada as secretary of the Apple and Pear Board, studying conditions here. Other visitors, to the number of 37, came from Ontario, Manitoba and Alberta, while Mrs. Lloyd from Los Angeles spent a fortnight with her mother, Mrs. E. F. McClement.

Miss Chambers and Mr. Ricketts celebrated another birthday. A cake was provided through the courtesy of Naomi Circle of United Church.

We congratulate Mrs. Caldwell, who spent the winter with us, on the choice of her granddaughter, as fruit fair queen.

Very many thanks indeed go to Mrs. M. Collas for the beautiful garden set of umbrella, table and chairs to add to our pleasure.

Mr. Williams has interested us in his granddaughter, Betty Williams, a graduate of Toronto Conservatory of Music, who was chosen from 200 to play for Queen Elizabeth when she visited at Banff. She is now in Ethiopia, under summer schedule of Operation Crossroads, a company of 200 University students, 30 from Canada, partly sponsored by the United Church to go to Africa. Betty will go with 11 others to Sarka to help build a government school and hence for a trip through Kenya, carrying good fellowship. On returning she will make a lecture tour in Canada.

We appreciate the profusion of flowers, fruit and cards and the many rides and invitations with conveyance to social functions in town, and we thank everyone who gives their time to give us pleasure.

Our kindest thoughts go to Mrs. McGinnes who is at present indisposed.

Visit Wash. Lodge

On Monday, July 2nd eleven Rebekahs from Summerland travelled to Oroville, Washington, to visit Ellivoro Rebekah Lodge as they were celebrating International Good Will Day in honor of their Canadian friends. Those attending were Mrs. F. E. Atkinson, Mrs. F. Downes, Mrs. Hilda Allison, Miss Maida Morrill, Mrs. T. A. Walden, Mrs. J. L. Brown, Mrs. H. Lemke, Mrs. Mildred Campbell, Mrs. R. Smith, Mrs. Lillian Brind and Mrs. Ivor Nilson.

Tennis practices start on two courts

Mrs. Bob Barkwill, spearheading the tennis plans for Peach Orchard Park and Trout Creek courts, reports that 30 youngsters turned out for the practices last week. The Trout Creek group was small, said Mrs. Barkwill, but she feels more will come along to practice later.

Mr. Pierre Landry is giving instruction free of charge and young people are urged to take advantage of the courses.

Instruction will be given at the Trout Creek court at 6:00 p.m., Friday evenings, and at Peach Orchard Park 10 a.m. Saturday morning. Extra practice sessions for the Peach Orchard court have been set for Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

Rifle Club preparing for big shoot

by Herb Simpson

Attendance at the practice shoots, held each Sunday morning and Tuesday evening, continues to be very satisfactory. With so much interest being shown, especially by new members, it will again be possible to hold the club invitation shoot this year. More details about that later.

New wind flags have been made and are now in place, and at the south boundary of the range a large sign has been erected, which reads: "Danger, Summerland Rifle Club. Private Property. Trespassers will be prosecuted." It has been mentioned several times in this column that malicious damage has been done to the kitchen and other club property, so the club wants it clearly understood that any trespassers will certainly be prosecuted.

Several of the members expect to attend the Vernon Rifle Club's invitation shoot on July 15. It will be held on the Kelowna range, as the Vernon rifle range is no longer being used.

Cafe Aces meet Osoyoes tonight

Last week Mac's Cafe Aces dropped to second place in the Senior Men's Baseball League, when they lost to Penticton by a score of 10-6.

This Thursday at 7:00 p.m., in Summerland, Aces take on Osoyoes, who are tied with Summerland for second place.

Action takes place in the playground ball park.

Kiwanis Club Notes

The first lawn party, steak dinner of the season was held on Hilly Smith's lawn Tuesday evening with 30 present, including five visitors, ranging from Winnipeg to Victoria. The Victoria visitor was Buck Guernsey, formerly a member of this club.

The menu included grilled steak, peas, beans, carrots, all piping hot and served smorgasbord style, with bread and butter, sliced tomatoes, pickles, coffee and apple pie a la mode.

The sheriff had an easy night, only having to fine two members for wearing ties.

The club was delighted to learn that the honor of being selected for fruit fair queen went to its candidate, Lesley Caldwell.

Jerry Hallquist reported on plans for ladies' night when the Oliver club and their ladies will be joining us at 6:30 p.m. at the Yacht Club, next Tuesday evening.

Don Randle reported that he still needed help with the school shelters, but this time he was assured of plenty.

Bill Laidlaw and Lt. Gov. Doug Campbell reported on their visit to the Oliver club.

Wally Harrison was appointed chairman of the Kiwanis annual carnival to be held on the evening of July 28.

In summing up -- there were several absent members, probably due to cherry-picking, and also Jerry Hallquist is a wonderful chef. It is generally considered he would make a wonderful wife for any man.

The Recorder.

New equipment for fire brigade

A resuscitator has been purchased by the Summerland Fire Department and is available at the fire hall for use anywhere in the community. To be used in cases of suffocation, drowning or heart attack, the small, portable resuscitator can be rushed to your home in a matter of minutes by a member of the volunteer fire brigade. If you need help, phone 94-2000. All members of the fire brigade have been trained in first aid rescue work, either under the civil defence program or during fire marshal rescue training courses.

At the moment the resuscitator is not equipped with oxygen but Fire Chief Joe McLachlan hopes to have the unit completed very shortly. He urges everyone in the community to make use of this service provided by the brigade, should the need arise.

W. A. Steuart, former conductor of the Summerland town band is in Banff where he is taking a musical director's course at the Banff Summer School of Fine Arts.

Works superintendent Ken Blagborne reported to council Tuesday night that the storage dam water has not been turned on as yet. He said that he cannot recall a season when the storage water was not needed before now.

Work party at Pennask

Pennask Lake road and picnic area will receive a final polishing up this week end, before picnickers and fishermen converge on the area for a summer of camping and fishing fun.

George Stoll, president of the Rod and Gun Club, said today that sports clubs from the valley are sending in work parties both Saturday and Sunday of this week to get the road and picnic sites in shape.

The road requires a lot of fill and stones moved off, while at the lake the men will be building fireplaces, cleaning up the parking area and clearing away the underbrush.

The local club is hoping that a good number of Summerland fishermen and others enjoying the facilities offered by the Pennask Lake area will turn out on Saturday and Sunday, as at least 100 men are needed to get the area in shape.

Mr. Stoll mentioned that since the lake has proved so popular not only for fishermen, but for family camping and picnic outings, there will be, in the near future, a shortage of outdoor comfort stations. He said that the club could use about 15, and suggested that any person having one to donate could contact any member of the Rod and Gun Club and have it picked up.

Splits! Dim Local Cherry Prospects

Summerland growers are experiencing a drop in what had shaped up to be an average to good cherry crop, said local packinghouse managers today.

Despite an inclement spring and fairly late frosts, the cherry crop in this area was showing every prospect of fair returns, but the rains of the past few weeks have caused up to 60 per cent splitting in some areas, with a few crops written off in some orchards.

Cherry picking has not yet reached its peak, with the big portion of the crop expected to start moving into the packinghouses about Friday of this week.

Local packers are reporting quality very good, despite splits and have high hopes that the Lamberts, which have now become as large a crop as Bings in Summerland, will come in free of splitting, due to the later maturity date.

One packing house did report that a large number of the packs are going orchard run this year, instead of the usual No. 1 quality expected in Summerland. They explained that a fair number of split cherries have healed up in the dry weather, and were being used in orchard pack.

Striving for markets far afield to handle the ever increasing cherry crop coming out of the Okanagan, the packing houses this year are trying new picking and packing methods. The cherry is picked at an earlier maturity, fairly bright red in color, packed in the old style, thin wooden, tin top baskets, and then placed in an airtight polythene bag inside the lug.

The bags are sealed and chilled to 32 degrees F., thus retaining the tree fresh moisture of the fruit. On arrival at the stores, the bags are slit to allow the moisture to evaporate.

Authorities are hoping that this method will allow the cherries to go to English and distant USA markets in prime condition.

Police court

Residents are once again cautioned by RCMP to beware of phoney magazine salesmen.

Peter Wingerter, allegedly a magazine salesman, almost bilked a Summerland merchant out of $38. He presented a cheque for that amount issued under the name of Mrs. F. R. Stark of Summerland. Later it was found that the cheque was a forgery. Wingerter appeared before magistrate Reid Johnston, in police court on July 11 on a charge of uttering a forged document. The case was remanded until July 19. The money will be returned to the merchant.

On July 4, a car driven by Mrs. Theresa McDougald of Summerland hit the side of a car owned by James Toew of Penticton, which was waiting at a stop sign near Powell Beach Service Station. The Toew car was damaged to the extent of $80. Police are investigating.

Wm. Errol Woodland of Kelowna was fined $2.50 for failing to stop at a municipal stop sign.

Fred Fartaczek of Kelowna was fined $10 and costs for passing on a double line.

Trout Creek IGA manager Howe Thomson and Diane Bonthoux look over the newly installed booth of the Summerland Crafts Society. The booth is located on the parking lot of the store and protected by a bright colored umbrella. On display for sale are stoneware pottery, sewing, pot holders, pine cones, quilts and other products made by some 18 contributors. Reports indicate that tourists are particularly attracted by smaller articles relating to Summerland or the Okanagan. Articles are being accepted on consignment, and further information may be obtained from Mrs. John Tamblyn or Mrs. T. Croil. An official opening of the crafts booth, with a display of paintings by the Summerland Art Club, will be held on Saturday, July 21, from 2:00 to 5:00 p.m.

Owner will not destroy condemned building

Mr. Walter Hoscha, of Vancouver, owner and former manager of the Sunoka processing plant in lower town, met with council at Tuesday night's meeting to discuss the condition of the premises.

Councillor W. S. Ritchie took the lead in the discussion, insisting that Mr Hoscha either remove the old portion of the plant, all of which is presently in disuse, or at least make the area respectable. "It is not respectable now," said Mr. Ritchie.

Mr. Ritchie said that he had been given the job of getting new development for that area and "I can't get to first base with a mess like that to contend with".

"I am not speaking for the council, but as a councillor," said Mr. Ritchie, "and since talking to the inspector of canneries and the inspector of factories, I believe the area can be condemned as a menace."

Mr. Hoscha told council he did not feel the area could be condemned. He said that when he left the plant in 1954 it was in good condition, but since that time he alleged that vandals had stolen a great deal of property from his premises. "I admit the place needs a cleaning up and I am willing to do that and remove any hazards that may exist," he said. Mr. Hoscha told council he would not dismantle the old portion at this time.

Council moved to let the matter rest and inspect the premises after a cleanup has been made.

On a suggestion of councillor W. B. Powell it was decided that the No. 4 dam would be drained so that it would be dry for inspection and repair next year.

It was reported that the program for control of mosquito toes in Trout Creek had been completed by Eric Brinton

By the July 5 deadline for codling moth complaints, three letters had been sent to municipal council. The areas will be inspected by the codling moth control committee of J. Y. Towgood, Hans Stoll and F. R. Ganzeveld. If they are infested the owner of the property will be given seven days to spray. If this is not done, the municipality will have the lot sprayed and charged to the property. If this is not paid, by December 31 the amount will be added as taxes in arrears.

"We are still optimistic that a junior college may be started in Penticton this fall," councillor

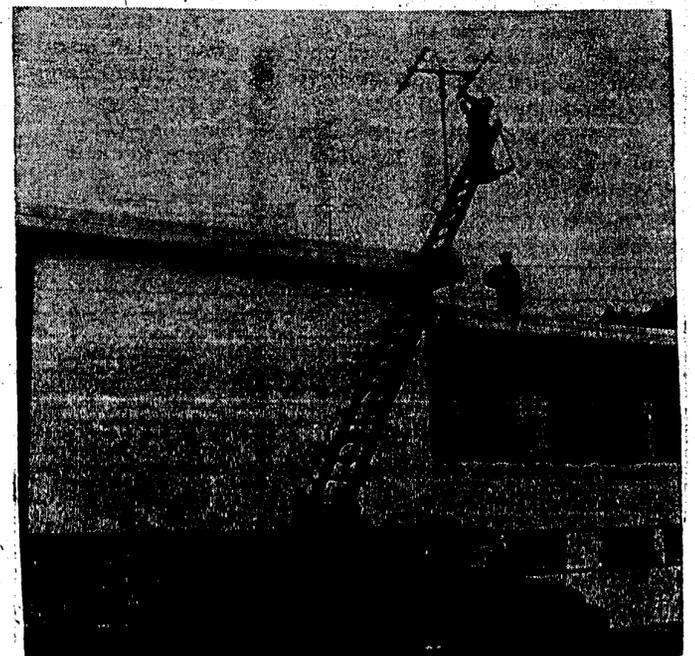

Ritchie told the meeting. He was reporting as council representative to a committee from the South Okanagan. The committee is hoping to reach an agreement in time to enable them to start the college this fall, but if the plans do not materialize they hope to get set for next year.

At the meeting, said Mr. Ritchie all the areas represented agreed verbally to backing the idea financially to the extent of one mill.

He said that Dr. John Mac Donald, new dean of UBC will be in this area on July 22 and the college committee would like written indication from each community indicating that it supported the college.

Councillor Bill Barkwill said that he felt the financial support should come from the government rather than locally. Mr. Ritchie said he felt it is necessary to get the college started through local efforts and then the possibility of government aid can be looked into.

Municipal clerk G. D. Smith reported that all the bonds for the new fire hall had been sold locally. Work will be done by the municipal crew under the winter works program.

Nope, they aren't installing TV at the municipal hall for the staff. This is the antenna for the 2way radios installed in municipal trucks last week. The main station is in the municipal hall, with units in three trucks. The antennas on top of the municipal hall are beamed toward Canyon Dam and Headwaters Dam. The radio beam reaches Canyon Dam clearly, but due to mountain interference can only be picked up about halfway to Thursk and Headwaters Dam. Works superintendent Ken Blagborne says that the radio units are already proving to be great time savers to the municipal crew.

Handle with care

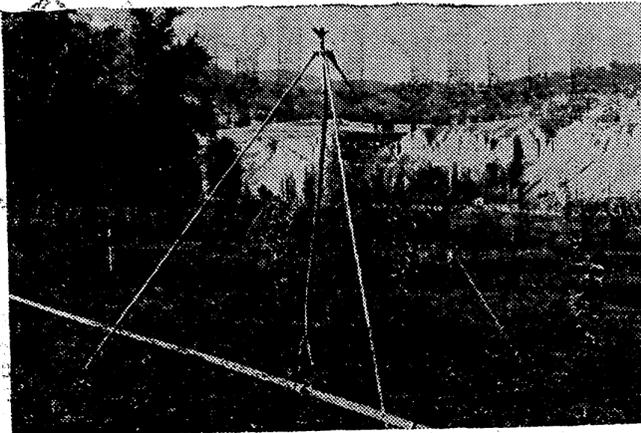

This, says a Canada Department of Agriculture researcher is the best way to curb losses in cannery peaches from rhizopus rot, or black mold.

In the Okanagan Valley, up to 10 per cent of the peaches may become infected between harvesting and canning, says Dr D. R. MacGregor, of the federal research station at Summerland. Rhizopus rot is caused by a fungus similar to common bread mold, he points out. The spores of the mold germinate in small cracks in the skin of the peaches and are spread by fruit flies.

In packed peaches, the mold spreads to other fruit and if canning is delayed many peaches may become infected.

But, says Dr. MacGregor, losses from the disease can be reduced greatly by picking the fruit carefully to avoid skin cracks, controlling fruit flies and by reducing the time between packing and canning.

A portable pipe overhead irrigation system installed in a young orchard of dwarf apple trees at the Summerland research station. The sprinklers are mounted on tripods and connected to the portable pipe with a short length hose. This is suitable only for young orchards when the pipe can be moved across the rows.

Tail gating - bad manners

Tail gating — driving too close to the vehicle ahead — gains nothing for a motorist, but can take away his liberty or his life.

"Leave some 'living' room between cars in traffic" the Canadian Highway Safety Council urges, recommending at least one car length for each 10 miles per hour of speed. "This will allow time to stop if the driver ahead suddenly decides to stop, turn, change lanes or make some other unexpected movement. No brakes are good enough and no driver is smart enough to stop shorter than that."

The council adds that tail gating is a definite sign of an immature, amateur driver, a showoff who believes he is being admired but is actually being ridiculed.

Portable sprinklers mounted on tripods and connected to permanent hydrants by 50 foot lengths of hose. This is suitable for mature orchards of dwarf trees and for vineyards as the sprinklers can be moved along the rows. The hydrants are connected to underground piping that is laid crosswise to the rows.

Guy Mitchell to appear at Kelowna Regatta

Officials of the 56th Annual International Regatta at Kelowna announce that Guy Mitchell, currently riding a spectacular wave of international popularity, will appear at the annual water show on August 9th this year. Mitchell will present an entire program under the stars at the evening grandstand performance.

Breaking into the big-time in 1951, the teen-age looking Mitchell has enjoyed an up-and-down career for the past 10 years but during the last 12 months has settled himself to the role of a solid, top-notch singer not only on recordings but in personal and television appearances. One of his latest hits has been on the top ten list of popular songs for 12 weeks. His program at the Kelowna Regatta will include all his past and current hits as well as new arrangements of songs not yet heard by the general public.

Regatta publicity officials stated that Mitchell's obvious appeal is not only the younger set but also family groups made their decision to engage Mitchell an obvious one.

Polio cases down

Not one case of paralytic polio has been reported this year in B.C., but the worst months are yet to come.

A provincial health department official said: "We are keeping our fingers crossed. August and September are traditionally the most dangerous months."

By this time last year there had been three cases; the year before, 65.

The big difference this year: about 80 percent of B.C.'s population has taken either Salk or Sabin vaccine. Lower mainland and Vancouver Island residents will get Sabin this fall.

Employment increasing

Employment conditions have now reached a very satisfactory level throughout this area although the upswing didn't materialize until the last two weeks of this reporting period. The contributing factors are the increased demand for orchard service help and packing house workers. There has been an influx of tourists and the picking and packing of cherries has created the increased employment. Carpenters have been in short supply but the contractors overcame this by various means.

Comparative statistics are as follows: Men— 1962, 283; 1961 - 455. Women — 1962 - 257, 1961 - 281.

The figures reflect 172 men and 23 women fewer registered for employment than the same period in 1961.

During the month, also, a total of 26 teenage youths, both girls and boys were interviewed by the Special Services Officer of NES regarding vocational training and Financial Assistance Plans.

BEER SAVES TREES

Beer is being used to help save $225 million worth of Australian woodlands menaced by the siren wood wasp. Glass wasp traps, each containing a half pint of beer mixed with water are hung on trees.

The siren are attracted by the beery odor and are trapped in the containers, which look like coffee percolators with a tube shaped opening in the bottom.

Spraying with insecticides and burning the affected trees are also being done to stamp out the tree damaging insects.

The capacity to dream

by Rev. Lyle Kennedy

Text: "And it shall come to pass afterward, that I will pour out my spirit upon all flesh; and your sons and daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions." Joel 2:28.

The value of dreams is that they merge into realities. This is a half-truth, for the dreams themselves are real.

In speaking of man's capacity to dream we are not thinking of the play of the unconscious mind in sleep, nor of those daydreams which create fantasies of wealth, position or power which have no substance in fact.

The capacity to dream of which we speak is a capacity to imagine attainable goals, the realization of which will require the effort of the individual and the group of individuals who share his dream.

1. The capacity to dream is God-given. It can be misused as when men have dreams of avarice and self-seeking. On the other hand it is a part of man's heritage as a son of God.

2. By the capacity to dream a man can later follow the pattern which was received in the mount (Exod. 25:40) of revelation. It is by the inspiration of the Spirit of God and by the empowerment by the spirit, men dream a better future for all mankind and a world redeemed working to bring it to pass. Notice how compelling was the vision of the kingdom of God, a dream of a world in which the law of love would dictate the actions of mankind, in the life of Jesus.

3. What then are our dreams? What blueprints of a better day do we follow? What patterns have we seen in the mount. Do we as Christians still dream selfless dreams by which humanity may profit and is which humanity may share? Do we have the spirit of Jesus when he said, "The spirit of the Lord is upon me because he hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor. He hath sent me to heal the broken-hearted to preach deliverance to the captives and recovery of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised, to preach the acceptable year of the Lord?"

What if we have the capacity to dream greater things, but by our concern with and our concentration upon selfish trifles we lose our capacity? How terrible to lose such a God-given talent! How tragic this is for others who wait for our leadership and help!

Summer School

Five sessions of concentrated and pleasurable choral work, junior and senior, with emphasis on the rudiments, are being offered at the Okanagan Summer School of Fine Arts, for a fee of $5.00. William Bertsch, who has directed children's choirs in Port Albernie, Victoria and Burnaby for four years, and also junior and senior church choirs, will be in charge of this course.

Besides giving excellent vocal instruction, and teaching participants the enjoyment of learning new and interesting material, Mr. Bertsch plans to finish the course with a picnic, swimming, and campfire singing. Times of the sessions are to be arranged so as not to conflict with swim classes.

Have we all the facts

There is a great deal of furore throughout B.C. in opposition to what has been called "the Bennett plan" for municipalities, covering grants, taxes, and the increasing of the "home-owner grant" to $100. Many voices, inspired doubtless by an obviously-prejudiced mass-media at the Coast, are rallying to the cause of opposition, without being fully certain what it is they are opposing.

If Mr. Bennett and his government plan to take away all grants to municipalities, giving back only a part of the money as taxes on government holdings plus an increase in the home-owner grant, then the city governments and officials elected to govern are right to oppose it. Anything that adds to the load on municipal taxation, individually or collectively is putting a greater burden where an existing one should be eased.

Note the word "IF". There's far too much speculation, and few facts available at the present time for people to follow blindly in the lead of a rabble-rousing daily newspaper, concerned only with its own hatred of B.C.'s Premier, and with any item that will help its need for wider circulation.

Thus the action by Ald. A. Jackson, member of the Union of B.C. Municipalities Executive, at the quarterly meeting of the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association last week, is to be commended. Ald. Jackson persuaded the group to refrain from putting in a resolution "opposing Mr. Bennett's Plan", stating that the UBCM executive would itself bring in a resolution at the group's convention in September. His action is wise for two reasons. First, it provides time to find out the facts, and facts may be far different from what many would have us believe, and at the same time makes certain that, possessed of the facts, the municipal groups in B.C. shall speak with single voice, confident it has the full story. Then its action, its opposition can be realistic. Until then, it is only opposing a rumor, and perhaps a myth, for all we're sure of at the moment.

Saturday is changing

Although we agree with West Summerland merchants that eight o'clock is late enough to open Saturday nights, we can't help feeling sorry that the big night of the week is disappearing. That this is a trend across Canada and the United States is shown by the following editorial from the Batesville (Ark.) Guard.

Like the "old grey mare" in that well known song, Saturday ain't what she used to be.

Most of us can recall when Saturday was something special. It was the big "trading day."

County-seat merchants might sit around half the week whittling on slabs from discarded orange crates and listening to the overhead piling up. But Saturday found them as busy as a cat in a butcher shop.

Saturday was the time the farmer and his family came to town and stayed from sun-up to sundown. It was on Saturday too, that the housewife bought provisions for the big Sunday dinner and staples for the coming week.

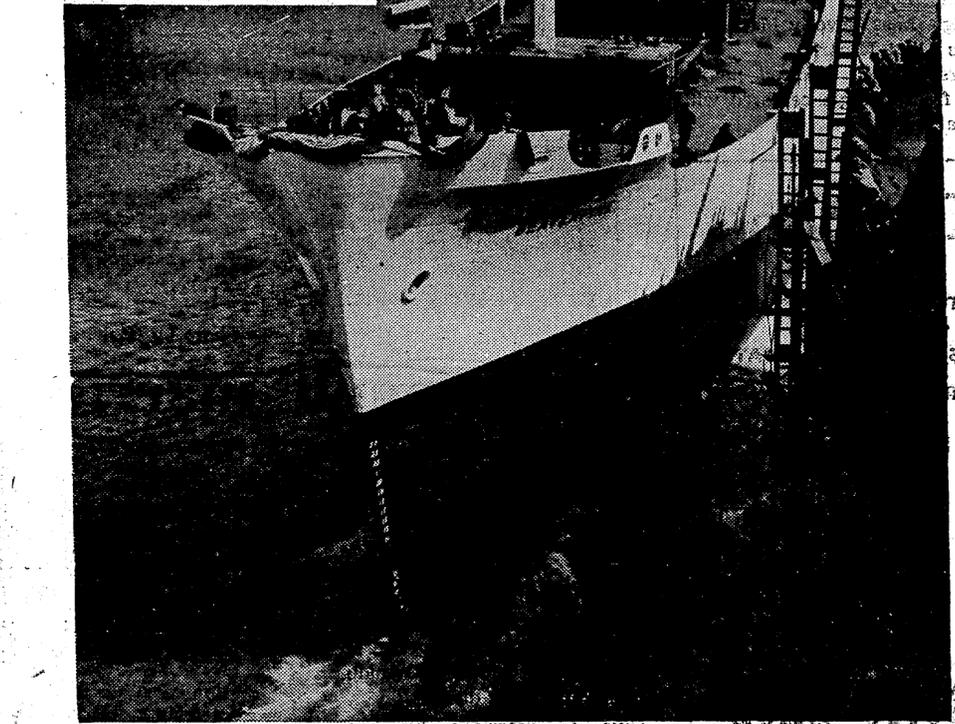

Children needing shoes, coats, mittens or other "sized" merchandise would be herded in on Saturday for a fitting. The laboring man, pay envelope in hand, would drop in the late afternoon or early night to settle his account and maybe take home a bag of candy for the kids.

It that by-gone era, most of the stores stayed open late on Saturday night to take advantage of late-trading customers — and there were plenty of them. Some of the barbers can remember when they cut hair until midnight on many a Saturday night.

Yes, indeed, Saturday was a busy, bustling, happy time. But in these late years, it seems, something has happened to Saturday. Something pretty serious. And if the trend keeps up, Saturday may lose its identity as a special day. It already has in many towns.

According to the National Retail Merchants Association, Saturday is no longer a "big day" in the stores of most small towns in America. Even Monday is likely to surpass it in sales. Thursday is the banner marketing day in most places, says the NRMA.

We suppose it's simply an indication of the changing times. But somehow we can't help feeling a little sad about Saturday. It was quite an exciting day.

Convention in Kamloops

Glen Woitte and family are making arrangements to attend a three day ministerial training program in Kamloops Ministerial Arena, July 20 to 22. Sponsored by Jehovah's Witnesses, it will be a link in a continent wide chain of assemblies throughout North America this summer. The purpose of the gathering, say local representatives, is to instill Godly principles more deeply upon the minds of practicing Christians, young and old alike.

Mr. Woitte has been building homes in Summerland for six years and has been a minister for almost as long.

Mr. Woitte serves the West Summerland congregation as the territory supervisor. He estimates that almost the entire group will join with him in journeying to Kamloops. More than 5,000 persons are expected to fill the Kamloops Arena, Sunday, July 22 to hear the feature discourse entitled "Take courage, God's kingdom is at hand"

BUILT IN 1860

The cornerstone of Canada's parliament buildings was laid in 1860 by the then Prince of Wales, who later became King Edward VII.

The new Beaverpine, a 6,000 ton cargo vessel specially constructed for Canadian Pacific's Atlantic fleet and capable of navigating the St. Lawrence Seaway, slides down the ways at the yard of the Burntisland Shipbuilding Company in Scotland, after being named by Miss Janice Crump of Montreal, (inset) daughter of N. R. Crump, chairman and president, Canadian Pacific. The vessel is expected to make her maiden voyage to Canada later this year.

HONORED WITH SHOWER

Mrs. T. M. Croil and her daughter, Mrs. D. R. Walker of Winlaw, entertained at a tea and shower for Miss Midori Matsu on Saturday afternoon prior to her marriage July 14.

Lovely gifts were presented from those attending in two pale pink boudoir cushions by Katy and Nancy Vanderburgh of Oliver and Katie Walker.

Others among those present were: Mrs. A. Matsu, Mrs. L. L. Fudge, Mrs. K. L. Boothe, Mrs. Harold Hansen, Mrs. J. Kaw-kami, Mrs. F. E. Atkinson, Mrs. Peter Beulah, Miss Barbara Fudge, Miss Beverly Matsu and Miss Mitzi Jamori.

Mrs. A. K. Macleod poured tea from a table centered with Regal lilies.

Local couple married

In a lovely setting of pink, yellow and white roses Evelyn Agnes Hoffman became the bride of Clifford Clayton Ask, in Summerland United Church, Saturday, June 30, Rev. P. K. Louie officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hoffman and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Ask, both of this district.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a pretty street length gown of nylon chiffon, featuring a shirred bodice and a dropped waistline. Her veil of nylon tulle was held in place by a tiara of seed pearls and mother of pearl. A bridal bouquet created of pink roses in lace completed her charming ensemble.

Her attendants, Mrs. Ken Marshall, matron of honor and Mrs. Doug Taylor, wore turquoise taffeta sheaths with a lace overlay. Headpieces were of yellow flowers and accessories in white. Little Cathy Lee Marshall, as flower girl, was charmingly attired in a yellow nylon and lace dress with turquoise flowers in her hair. Her accessories were white. All three attendants carried pink roses centered in white dillies.

Best man was Mr. Bill Unterschult of Salmon Arm. Mr. Douglas Taylor of Summerland and Mr. Jack Antifaev of Penticton, acted as ushers.

Following the ceremony, the bridal party received 150 guests in the Rosedale Room of the Royal Canadian Legion, which was tastefully decorated for the occasion.

The bridal table was centred with a three tiered wedding cake flanked by tall white tapers set in crystal.

Later in the evening, guests danced to the music of Tony Stoltz' orchestra.

For a trip to Lac LaJeuene, the bride chose a mint green cotton knit with a pink flowered hat and white accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Ask will reside in Summerland.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Sigvart Berg and sons, Roy and Merlin; and Mrs. Julia Ask, of Grande Prairie, Alberta; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Scott, Lumby; Mr. and Mrs. M. Ask, 100 Mile; Mr. and Mrs. E. LaBlanc, Kamloops; Mr. and Mrs. Ron Coulter, Revelstoke; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mortimer, Vernon; Mr. and Mrs. Don Ganzeveld and Mr. Jack Antifaev, Penticton; Miss Sylvia Arase and Miss Masako Serizawo of Vancouver; and Mr. Jim Brake, Calgary.

Miss Marilyn Washington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Washington of Penticton, was honored recently at a shower held at the home of Mrs. Les Rumball. Hostesses were Mrs. James Marshall, Mrs. A. R. Dunson and Mrs. Rumball.

Miss Washington will marry Larry Kiehlbauch, presently of Montreal, on July 21 in Summerland United Church.

The guest, neighborhood friends of the Washington family when they lived in Summerland, and relatives were entertained with bridal games and contests.

Later in the evening, a unique container, shaped as a replica of an airplane, was moved in by Miss Linda Rumball and Miss Linda Scott and many lovely and useful gifts were presented to the bride elect, following which delicious refreshments were served.

Guests of honor were Marilyn, her mother, Mrs. G. Washington of Penticton; and Mrs. E. Kiehlbauch, mother of the groom to be.

Other guests were Mrs. F. M. Stewart, Mrs. B. T. Washington; Mrs. Ross Auxworthy, Penticton; Mrs. D. Skinner, Mrs. G. Stewart, Mrs. L. W. Rumball, Mrs. Edith Scott, Mrs. G. Auxworthy; Mrs. K. M. Stewart, Mrs. E. F. Weekes, Mrs. Farrow, Sr., Mrs. Don Clarke, Mrs. C. McKenzie, Mrs. Isobel Jeffereys, Mrs. C. H. Reipertson, Mrs. J. H. Mott, Mrs. T. S. Manning, Mrs. Wm. Snow, Mrs. A. F. Calder and Mrs. W. Cook.

Guests sending gifts but unable to attend were Mrs. D. Thompson, Mrs. C. Kiehlbauch, Mrs. Watkins (Mrs. J. Marshall's mother, visiting Summerland from Washington) Mrs. Betty McIntosh, Mrs. Rex Chapman, and Mrs. A. J. Berry.

Date-banana ring cake

Summertime conjures up pictures by the lake, patio dinners and gardening in the back yard. But whatever the agenda for the day, there are few ways of reviving flagging energies and refreshing the spirit than a break for a long cooling drink, accompanied by some tasty snack such as Date-Banana Ring Cake.

As the name itself suggests the main flavor ingredients of this cake are bananas and dates, with just a dash of ground cinnamon to add a touch of spiciness. The cake has a rather light texture, reminiscent of a loaf cake, and it keeps very well if stored in a covered tin. Although it is certainly flavorful enough without added garnishments, a lemon or vanilla glaze gives the cake a party air for those special entertainments.

Yield — 1 deep ring cake
 1 2-3 cups once-sifted all-purpose flour or 2 cups once-sifted pastry flour
 2 1-2 teaspoons baking powder
 1-4 teaspoon baking soda
 1-2 teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon

2-3 cup chopped pitted dates
 1 cup fine granulated sugar
 1-2 cup soft shortening
 2 eggs
 1 cup mashed ripe banana
 2 tablespoons milk
 1 teaspoon vanilla

Grease a ring cake pan, 8 inches in diameter. Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. (moderate).

Sift together twice, then sift into a bowl the all-purpose or pastry flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt, cinnamon and suaar; add and mix in dates. Add shortening, eggs and half of the mashed banana; stir to combine, then beat with a wooden spoon for 300 strokes or with an electric mixer, set at medium speed for 2 minutes. Add milk, vanilla and remaining banana; beat batter for 150 strokes or 1 minute, with electric mixer. Turn into prepared pan and spread evenly. Bake in preheated oven 1 to 1 1-4 hours. Stand cake in its pan on a rack or 15 minutes, then turn out cake and allow it to cool completely on rack. Store in covered tin.

Take care with your youngsters

When taking youngsters along on a vacation trip by car, keep them safe, keep them occupied and tailor stops and mileage to their eating and sleeping habits.

How well these rules are followed, says the B.C. Automobile Association, "may well spell the difference between a happy motoring vacation and one beset with harassment and unfortunate incidents."

Concerning safety, the BCAA

urges seating the children away from the driver at all times, preferably in the back seat. Instruct them not to play with door handles or buttons or put their heads or arms out the window. Seat belts should be used where possible.

Keeping the children occupied will prevent them from becoming bored and restless. One mother took along three favorite toys for each of her children and brought a few "surprises" for insurance — used when the novelty of the trip begins to wear off.

A new jigsaw puzzle, playing blocks, coloring sets, etc., can be time consuming and educational at the same time. They can be set on a suitcase or other hard surface on the back seat.

Finally, the BCAA advises interspersing the silent play of coloring sets or building blocks with pastimes such as singing with mum and dad (if he's in the mood) and counting games involving licence plates or road side signs or discussing points of interest.

Stopping for a picnic gives everybody a chance to work out and let the children try their hands at toasting wieners and car stiffness. Take along a lunch marshmallows at an outdoor campfire meal.

Cafe Aces take lead in league

Last week Mac's Cafe Aces defeated Penticton in Summerland by a 9 to 6 score, to take over top spot in the Inter City Softball League. Winning pitcher was David Davies and the loser was Terry Perrott.

The Thursday game against Osoyoos was rained out.

Next home game for the Aces will be on Monday, July 16, when they meet Osoyoos. Game time is 7:00 p.m. in the Memorial Park playground.

Sox fight hard, but lose again

The Summerland Red Sox lost another game on Sunday as the Naramata Nomads beat them 7-3.

Once again it was a good game but the Red Sox, as has been usual this season, were not able to get the hits when there were men on base.

Sheeley started on the mound for the Red Sox and lasted until the fourth inning. He was retired by Skinner, but a sore arm forced him off the mound after one half inning. Young rookie, Ernie Pushkerinko, relieving for the first time as a Junior, left handed the Naramata team to death and with some good support only allowed them one run for the rest of the game.

Hamilton, on the mound for the Nomads was good, and held the Red Sox hitless until the eighth inning, when Ken Beggs, the oldest player on the team, also singled.

In the ninth, Ken Selinger the youngest player on the team also singled.

Selinger looked very good at short and will be a great help to the team now that he is finished with Babe Ruth.

Line Score	R	H	E
Naramata 001 600 100—7	9	2
S'land 000 000 210—3	2	1

The next home game will be on Friday evening July 20, at 6:30 with Kelowna and Sunday, July 22 Vernon will be in town for a double header, game time 1:30 p.m.

Bank awards scholarships

Two young B.C. students have been awarded $1,500 Bank of Montreal Canada Centennial Scholarships for third year university studies, the bank has announced.

PAT ELLIS

The youngsters, included among 16 of the most brilliant students in their generation in all of Canada, are: Terrence Chew Leung, son of Mr and Mrs Chew Chung Leung, of Victoria, a science student at Victoria College; and Pat M. Ellis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Ellis, Vancouver, who is studying art subjects at U.B.C. in Vancouver.

TERRENCE LEUNG

The latest honors follow similar awards to the two youngsters last year and first year scholarships of $750 in 1960. Their awards are among 16 for all Canada and represent major distinctions for the B.C. students, the bank announcement said.

Fishing News

by Bert Berry

With better weather coming (I hope) mountain lakes should start to produce some good fishing.

Okanagan Lake

The odd large trout still being caught. T. Moran landed a 12½ lb. trout last week and a visitor from Vancouver caught a 6½ lb'er off the provincial park. Fishing off the rocks on the dropoff is good as well and should improve as soon as the grasshoppers start. Kookanee fishing still very good.

Fish Lake Camp

Good reports from the upper lakes and fairly good on Fish Lake itself.

Garnett Valley Dam

Just fair this week.

Agur Lake

No reports but some big fish here.

Headwaters Fishing Camp

Nice reports from here.

Hatheume Camp

Biggest fish here if you are lucky enough to hook one. A nice place to try your luck.

Pennask Lake

Lots of fish up to 1½ lb. It should be easy to get your limit here.

Silver Lake

No reports but should be OK.

Shannon Lake

Good bass and perch fishing.

Bear Lake

A couple of good reports from this lake.

BIG AND SMALL

Lake Superior, deepest of the Great Lakes, has a maximum depth of over 1300 feet; Lake St. Clair, shallowest of the chain has a maximum depth of 23 feet.

Pirate Gold In Our Dollar's Family Tree

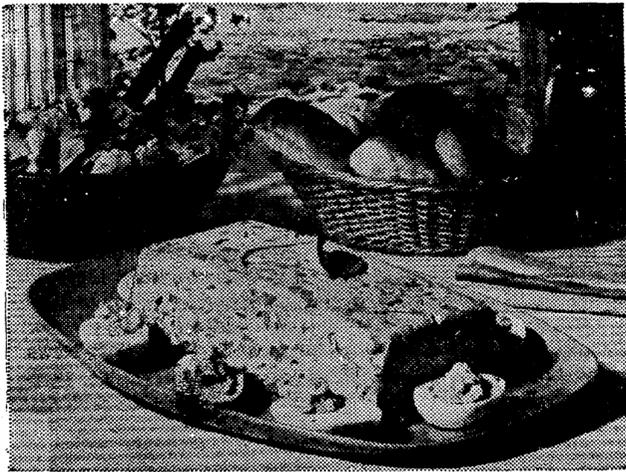

No one knows for sure, but our modern dollar sign, $, is believed to have originated with the figure 8 stamped on "pieces of eight" which Long John Silver and others of his breed coveted as they scoured the seas in bygone days.

Whether this is a tall tale or a true one, we do know that the $ sign was in use in the United States before the introduction of federal currency and before our own decimal monetary system began in 1853.

But more interesting to most of us than the $ sign itself, are the figures that come after it, especially if those figures are in a savings account passbook from the Bank of Montreal. It's quite a thrill to watch them grow and grow as we save regularly. Interest payments of three per cent also help to swell the amount.

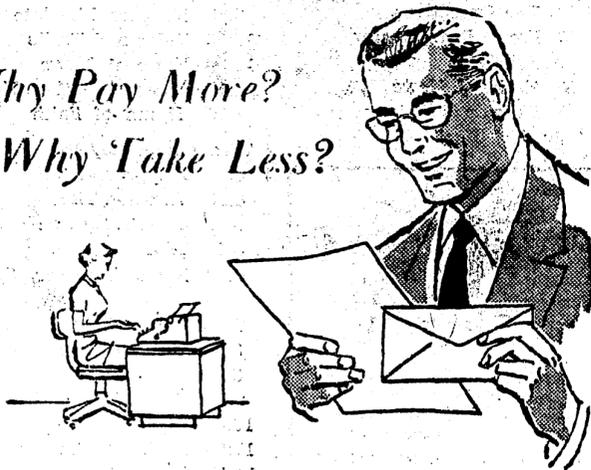

It makes sense to save regularly at the B of M and it makes for success in life, too.

To start your own "success fund", visit the West Summerland branch of the Bank of Montreal soon. Don Carmichael the accountant there, will show you how easy it is to open a B of M Savings Account. It takes just three minutes and one dollar to start.

Sajad suppers served indoors, outdoors or at the halfway mark on porch or patio, are refreshing and relaxing after a hot summer day. Even a hungry man will enjoy one like this which features a Ham Salad Loaf and Devilled Eggs for the maincourse.

PRO GRID LOOMS

JIM PRESTEL, former University of Idaho gridder, returns to the Northwest when his Minnesota Vikings meet the San Francisco 49ers in the University of Washington stadium, Saturday, August 11. The Greater Seattle, Inc. pro football spectacular is a highlight of the World's Fair.

Broadcast European programs

The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation will provide part of the first North American television program to be transmitted directly across the Atlantic later this month.

The program will be part of Project Telstar, a continuing series of experiments designed to lead to a full-fledged commercial international communications system using earth-orbiting satellites. It will be followed by a television transmission direct from Europe.

Both transmissions will be carried live on the CBC's English and French TV networks.

The North American program, which is being produced by the three United States television networks, is expected to rely on two pick-ups from the CBC — Signal Hall in St. John's Newfoundland, and the Shakespearean Festival at Stratford, Ontario. Actual length of the transmissions is still uncertain and subject to last-minute changes, as are the actual times and dates of the broadcasts.

The satellite itself was launched on July 11, with the earliest date for the experimental program being July 19. However, because the orbit on this date would not permit "back-to-back" transmissions from both sides of the Atlantic, the most probable date for transmissions would be July 24.

The North American program would then begin at 12:20 local time, with the European program beginning at 3:14 p.m. Both programs will be 15 minutes in length.

The principal transmitting and receiving station in North America will be at Andover, Maine, while the European stations will be in England and France.

RECEIVE FINES

Walter Bednard of West Summerland appeared on July 4, charged with driving while under suspension and was fined $75 and costs. Also appearing on the same charge was Victor Wm. Felker. He too was fined $75 and costs.

Kiwanis Club Notes

Tuesday evening, a real gala night was enjoyed at the Yacht Club when Oliver and Summerland Kiwanians, with their ladies, combined their regular weekly meetings.

A wonderful smorgasbord dinner was served, topped with coffee and raspberry shortcake.

After dinner the club was organized to handle the raffle to be drawn at the annual carnival July 28. This consists of three internal rocker TV chairs all of equal value, for 1st, 2nd and 3rd prizes. Three lucky people will get three wonderful chairs for very little.

Jerry Hallquist organized and Bob Alstead emceed a unique singing song, in which four men on one side and four ladies on the other side competed by singing alternate verses of several songs in parody. They were simply terrific, especially the men, so it was very surprising when Jerry asked the crowd if they wanted more, that every body hollered no!

The evening wound up with a game of buzz, handled by John Tamblyn, and in which only the fittest survived.

A get-together such as this one, is a wonderful thing. There should be more of them.

— The Recorder.

SPORTSMEN MEET JULY 16

Under the Giant's Head

The weather this past week brings to mind a description we heard of Saskatchewan weather — eleven months of winter and one month poor sledding!

The research station have checked their records and report that the low for this month has been 45 degrees. Only on nine occasions in the past 47 years has a lower temperature been recorded in July. Lowest was on July 1, 1955 when the temperature went down to 40 degrees. In 1955 it went to 41 degrees on July 8.

During the past week there were 53 hours of sunshine with only a trace of rain recorded.

Bingo nights cancelled

Emile Bonthoux, president of the Summerland Social and Recreation Club, announced Tuesday that the club will discontinue its Saturday night bingos for the time being.

The decision was made at an executive meeting Monday and will be in effect until legal aspects of bingo playing are clarified by the attorney-general.

Services for Mrs. G. Wade

Mrs. Florence Wade, wife of Mr. George Wade of West Summerland, passed away in Summerland General Hospital on Monday, July 16, at the age of 77 years.

Besides her husband, she is survived by one son, Cecil, of West Summerland; and two daughters: Mrs. Norman Holmes (Florence) of West Summerland; and Mrs. Alex Watson (Marjorie) of Vernon; eight grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren. One daughter, Lillian, predeceased her in 1941 at Prince Albert, Sask.

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Florence Wade will be conducted from St. Stephen's Anglican Church on Thursday, July 19, at 2:00 p.m., Rev. Norman Tannar officiating. Interment in Anglican Cemetery.

Roselawn Funeral Home entrusted with arrangements.

Championship horse now in Okanagan

A few weeks ago we carried a story of a horse visiting Mr. Jack Sproule, owner of Pleasant View Service. The horse Golden Flasher, had been bought from Saskatchewan by R. (Dick) Parmley of Penticton. Mr. Sproule had trained Golden Flasher for a number of years. The following story from the North Battleford News Optimist, gives the background of this famous show horse.

An era ended recently for Gerrit Nyholt and indirectly for North Battleford with the selling of the beautiful stallion Golden Flasher. For some years now, Flasher has shown his golden heels and tossed his flowing mane to cars passing by the Golden Gate Stables located two miles north on Highway No. 4. His corral is now empty! Also for several years Flasher and his mate have been a pleasant sight leading the fair parade decked out in silver saddle and regalia. A great many people enjoyed his prancing antics as he seemed to keep time to the band which always followed close behind the leading horses.

Golden Flasher was on his best behavior when he boarded the trailer June 19 and left the Golden Gate stables with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Fleet, who had come to escort him to his new home and new owners, brothers R. G. and T. F. Parmley of Penticton, B. C.

Although his new owners are strangers to him, Flasher will be close to an old friend, J. C. Sproule, commonly known as Jack to many of his friends, and possibly one of the best horse trainers of his time. Jack Sproule spent a couple of summers as the trainer of the Golden Gate horses. He helped to launch Flasher on a show career that took him from our city to Prince Albert, Saskatoon and Regina and brought back many championships. Jack also took Flasher to the largest Canadian show the Toronto Royal and set a

Building permits down in June

Building permits for the month of June were much below the same month last year.

Three new dwelling permits amounting to $19,500 were issued this year and 14 permits for alterations, amounting to $5,865 were issued.

Last year total June permits were $63,150.

The first six months of 1961 saw permits totalling $442,375, while for the same period this year the total is $199,905.

record for our province in 1954 by bringing home a reserve championship for each horse taken down as well as other prize ribbons. After this accomplishment, Flasher was issued a premium certificate by the provincial authorities and won his permanent premium for several years now.

Golden Flasher was bought as a yearling in 1949 from Mr. McCook, Nebraska. He descends from a famous line of American saddle-breds. His great grandshire was Prince of Belvedere, the first registered golden American saddle-bred put on record in the United States. From him the golden tide spread and Golden Flasher helped to carry it on in a concrete manner. He is sire and grandsire to a great many foals and not one of them failed to pass the test for registration. This is a record that few stallions can equal.

So, it was with mixed feelings that Mr. and Mrs. Nyholt watched the golden coated Flasher prepare for his long journey to his new home. They are reassured that he goes to a good home of people who appreciate a good horse and he may some day have the honor of leading the popular Peach Parade in the holiday centre of the Okanagan."

Pottery making feature of opening

The Summerland Craft Society's new marketing booth, called "The Apple Cart" will be officially opened on Monday, July 23.

The portable booth, equipped with a large red umbrella, is situated in the Trout Creek IGA parking lot and features hand-made articles from this district.

Many of the articles displayed have a distinct relationship to Summerland, and as time goes by, the Crafts Society hopes to add more Summerland articles to the display, which will not only create an attraction for Summerland, but will also supply an outlet for local products.

The Crafts Society, which was formed through the efforts of the Summerland Art Club, is planning a summer show of crafts and paintings next Monday. One wall of the IGA store will be hung with paintings done by local artists and the various hand made creations will be on display outside the store.

Featured at the opening of the Summerland Crafts Society's booth next Monday, will be Mr. Mr. Des Loan making interesting and useful items of pottery. Mr. Loan will be operating his wheel in the afternoon of the opening.

On display at the booth are hand knits, articles fashioned from pine cones, Indian sweaters, hand blocked stationery, small articles including toys, novelties and gift items.

Some of these articles have been prepared by people who are handicapped and the Craft Society hopes to create a market for their products. They are also anxious to find more and varied products to offer at the booth.

During the summer months, Craft Society members will assist at the booth and will be available to talk over projects with anyone wishing to participate in the new venture.

A good turnout is expected at the official opening and tea will be served. Small sketches of Summerland will be sold in order to defray expenses.

Warn about trespassing

Summerland RCMP report that they have received complaints of youngsters tampering with the flumes and gates of the Trout Creek Irrigation System. Serious damage could be done to the equipment, they point out, and they request parents to remind their children that trespassing on the Irrigation System property is forbidden.

RCMP say that charges under the Water Act will be laid against any trespassers. Maximum fine is $250. RCMP will be patrolling the Irrigation system throughout the summer.

Last year two boys appeared in juvenile court on charges of tampering with the irrigation system. They were placed on probation and ordered to pay damages.

Al Hooker leads league in homers

Last Wednesday, Macs Cafe Aces travelled to Osoyoos, losing a close game, 5-4.

On Monday night, on home grounds, Summerland came out on top, defeating Osoyoos by a score of 4-2. Al Hooker, league leading home run hitter, hit No. 11, a three-run homer. The Aces played one of their better games, which featured some fine pitching by Vern DeWitt.

Some game for the Cafe Aces will be Monday, July 26, when the visiting team will be Penticton.

Vocalist Norma Locke joins the Art Hallman trio and the singing comedy team of Jack and Ellie Van Evera in the new summertime CBC radio program What's New? Heard Tuesdays and Thursdays on the Trans-Canada network, the show features songs and comedy routines geared to current Canadian activities and events.

Anthea Morgan taking trip to Stratford

A future Kate Reid or Christopher Plummer may well be among the young people who will visit the Stratford Festival this summer as guests of The Canada Council.

One hundred and thirty-five talented high school students from all parts of the country will spend July 31 to August 3 on an all expense paid tour of Stratford attractions as members of the fourth annual "Canada Council Train."

During their stay in the Festival city they will attend three Shakespearean plays "The Tempest", "The Taming of the Shrew" and "Macbeth", Edmond Rostand's "Cyrano de Bergerac" and "The Gondoliers" by Gilbert and Sullivan.

They will also visit the exhibitions of costumes, paintings and books, tour the theatre under the guidance of Artistic Director, Michael Langham and lunch with the acting company.

Students were chosen for the trip with the help and co-operation of the Canadian Educational Association and the Provincial Departments of Education. Selection procedures varied from region to region. Some were chosen on the basis of recommendations from their local high schools; some were selected as a result of a specially written essay; some won their place in a series of interviews with school superintendents and drama experts.

Leaving from Summerland for the Stratford tour will be Anthea Morgan, daughter of Mr and Mrs. C. Morgan.

"But darling, haven't I always given you my pay on the first of the month?"

"Yes, but you never told me you were paid twice a month."

ONLY SUN NEEDED

As of May 31, 599,000 non-resident motor vehicle liability cards have been requested by United States motorists.

Making the announcement, the Minister of Recreation and Conservation, Honourable Earle C. Westwood, says this reflects very favourably on the wide publicity given British Columbia. "This," said Mr. Westwood, "is terrific news for British Columbia. The Superintendent of Insurance estimates that 750,000 pink cards will be issued before the end of the year. Last year 300,000 pink slips were sent out for the entire 12-month period."

Request for the unprecedented number of cards is the result of increased inquiries from United States residents intending to vacation in British Columbia. Mr. Westwood feels the Seattle World's Fair is an influencing factor. He also says his department's concentrated publicity campaign, timed to coincide with the Fair, has had considerable effect in helping persuade United States residents to holiday in British Columbia.

WORKING WITH CANADIANS IN EVERY WALK OF LIFE SINCE 1817

Editorials

Vanished Chivalry

Some observer of modern manners and customs has said that chivalry began to disappear from life when man picked up a handkerchief dropped by a lady and discovered it was a piece of Kleenex. Other observers might set an earlier date perhaps about the time when streetcars became the common mode of transportation. Women themselves, unless they are quite elderly, no longer seem to expect a man to relinquish his seat to them as a matter of course.

The custom of doffing the hat when a lady enters an elevator still is recognized by most men when the elevator is in a hotel, but does not seem to apply any longer in office elevators. This is a sensible dropping of a custom, for the rush hour in most office buildings so crowds the elevators that hat-doffing becomes impossible.

The pace of modern life perhaps has something to do with the deterioration of manners. People, particularly in a city are always in a hurry to get somewhere else, so much so that they have no time for the minor niceties of conduct, if their parents have ever taught them what these should be. Try to edge a car away from the curb into a stream of traffic, and you will discover that only one driver in twenty will give you a break, although the drivers all know that they will be stopped by a traffic light within the next minute or so.

Freedom of competition is admirable in business, but it need not be carried into all departments of life. It may sometimes be more profitable to let the competing motorist push his way through traffic. That way he may sooner arrive at an accident that will remove him from the roads.

See B. C. first

Everybody can't holiday in faraway places. But this need not bother British Columbians. The finest scenery and some of the continent's most-favored vacation spots are close to our back door.

The B.C. Automobile Association has prepared the following tour guide of holiday highspots for the use of motorists who wish to see this province.

British Columbia's better known areas are the Kootenays, east and west, the Okanagan, the Cariboo, Frazer Valley and Vancouver Island. If you've always travelled to places where other flags fly, it's time you discovered these areas. Each is different, with its own charm and characteristics of terrain and resources.

In the East Kootenays there are four National Parks, Yoho where you stand at the great divide, Glacier Kootenay, and Revelstoke.

There's Windermere Valley with the Purcells on one side and the Rockies on the other. There is Kootenay lake with the Selkirk rising from it. There are the Arrow Lakes and the Big Bend of the Columbia River.

Because the Hope-Princeton Highway and the Frazer Canyon Highway, the Okanagan is readily accessible from Vancouver and so is better known to motorists from the coast. The rich Okanagan Valley is famous for its fruit. It is also blessed with the Okanagan and Shuswap Lakes and several lesser lakes.

In the Interior of B.C., north of the Okanagan, lies a high plateau. This is the Cariboo. Here you can follow the Frazer River along its wild course. Don't stop at Quesnel, but continue on to see the "fabulous" development which is taking place in the northern part of B.C.

Visit the area between Prince George and Prince Rupert. Highway No. 16 provides you with some of the finest scenery in British Columbia and that means . . . in the world.

On Vancouver Island there is every kind of holiday resort for every type of vacationist. If you want the city, there is Victoria; if you want sea, there are beach resorts. There is Forbidden Plateau where you can see pink snow and can climb Mount Albert (7000 feet).

If you want a boat trip without parallel, visit the Gulf Islands. They are as lovely as their names, Galliano, Valdez, Theris, Garbriola, Mayne, Saturna, and Saltspring.

We haven't mentioned Vancouver and the Frazer Valley. Vancouver can amuse you and you can make trips from there up to the Frazer Valley, to Squamish or up the mountain on the chair lift.

The Provincial Government Travel Bureau says, "No province is more endowed or more infinitely varied in its charm." But don't take their word for it. See British Columbia for yourself.

New every morning

by Rev. D. M. Rathjen
"It is of the Lord's mercies that we are not consumed; because His compassions fail not. They are new every morning; great is thy faithfulness. Lam. 3:22, 23.

We are surrounded with the blessings and goodness of God every day of our lives. Often these mercies are taken for granted with little thought of their source, but thoughtful and gracious souls will reflect on the faithfulness of our loving Father.

Here are the words of Annie Johnson Fleet:
Yes, "new every morning," though we may awake,

Our hearts with old sorrow beginning to ache;
With old work unfinished when night stayed our hand.

With new duties waiting unknown and unplanned:

When a duck's not a duck

If you are interested in ducks you may have heard of the Geoduck (pronounced "goedyuck"). But you will be disappointed if you expect to get a shot at the bird because it is a large clam and not a duck at all. The geoduck resembles a huge mussel and is found along the Pacific coast. Its name is of Indian origin.

LAUGH OF THE WEEK

The drunk approached a stranger with the lament that he could not remember where he had parked his car.

"Why don't you take a bus?" inquired the stranger.

"No earthly use, old boy," replied the drunk. "It wouldn't go in my garage."

"Are you worrying unduly over the possibility of nuclear war?" asks a columnist. We don't know. How much worrying is duly?

With old care still pressing, to fret and to vex.

With new problems rising, our minds to perplex;
In ways long familiar, in paths yet untrod,

Oh, new every morning the mercies of God!
His faithfulness fails not; it meets each new day

With guidance for every new step of the way;
New grace for new trials, new trust for old fears,

New patience for bearing the wrongs of the years.
New strength for new burdens new courage for old.

New faith for whatever the day may unfold;
As fresh for each need as the dew on the sod;

Oh, new every morning the mercies of God!

The text taken from Lamentations 3:22,23 (quoted above) reveals that God is merciful yet faithful in judgement also.

50 attending convention at Kamloops

Mr. Ervin Felker, presiding minister of the Summerland congregation announced today that upwards of 50 Jehovah's Witnesses from Summerland will be leaving early this week for Kamloops to attend the "Courageous Ministers" District Assembly, July 20-22, sponsored by the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, Toronto. Delegates are expected from the Okanagan, Cariboo and Coastal points.

Mr. Felker said, "We are looking forward to attending this assembly because of the spiritual encouragement we shall receive from the Christian fellowship and the Bible discourses to be given from the convention platform."

Scheduled meetings of Jehovah's Witnesses will be cancelled this week.

Varied experiences for Drama School teacher

by Helene Scott

Mention Tom Kerr's name to theatre devotees anywhere in the province and you'll find they know him, either as an actor director, drama teacher in the schools, adjudicator, or TV producer. A native of Glasgow, now teaching in Kamloops, Mr. Kerr's long list of qualifications and his amazing versatility make him a top drawing card for the Okanagan Summer School of Fine Arts. He is a licentiate of Trinity College (London) in speech and drama, and he studied also with the British Drama League at Winchester College, England, and at UBC Summer Drama School.

Last summer he was guest director of the White Rock Players, having previously guested as an actor in their presentation of the play "The Hasty Heart" by John Patrick, for which he twice won acting honors in Vancouver Island Festivals. During two trips to Europe, he studied mime at Paris, and many facets of acting at the British Drama League Summer School in London.

Mr. Kerr's laurels as an actor are matched only by his obviously superb directional ability. In 1961 he was named Best Director at the B.C. One Act Drama Festival in Vernon for a most successful production of "Johnny Dunn". The following year he copped the Best Director's Award for a second Canadian play, "Rainmaker", by Gwen Ringwood of Williams Lake, which had its first presentation in 15 years in this province.

Mr. Kerr will be holding a week end workshop, July 20-22, Friday evening, Saturday, and possibly Sunday, with a minimum of four two-hour sessions. They will emphasize stage mechanics. Consideration will be given to private or small group instruction by special arrangement. Weekend workshop fee is $10 each.

of National Health and Welfare; Assembly President Dr. Serget V. Kurashov, USSR Minister of Health; and Dr. Luther L. Terry, U.S. Surgeon General.

The health flag international experts meet under combines the United Nations emblem in white, with medicine's traditional symbol, the Aesculapian staff and coiled serpent, in gold, superimposed on a blue background: Aesculapius is the ancient Greek and Roman God of medicine.

The three were among the delegates from WHO's 115 member states that met to map the WHO program for the coming year. During three week sessions the delegates voted in favor of a $80 million dollar budget for '63 — the highest ever in WHO history and higher than this year's $8.9 million — to run more than 800 public health projects around the world.

About one-seventh, $4 million will go for campaigns to aid the world of malaria — since 1955 a main WHO's goal — and $700,000 for training of African and other newly independent nations medical and paramedical personnel.

Also earmarked are research projects in cancer, cardiovascular diseases and immunology as well as projects to control and eradicate communicable diseases, such as cholera, smallpox, leprosy, tuberculosis, and Yaws.

The global health program is administered by six WHO regional offices throughout the world.

Tips for July gardens

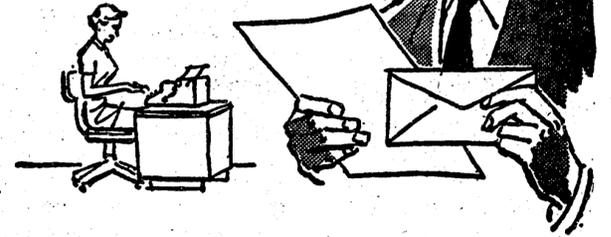

This is the month when mildew appears, particularly on Roses, Delphiniums and Phlox. Garden sulphur dusted on regularly will control this. Giving the plants lots of room, so that there is free circulation of air around them is one of the best ways to avoid mildew. Plants that are susceptible to mildew should not be watered by sprinkling from above. Dusting the soil around the plants with wood ash often helps to control mildew.

While on the subject of watering, care should be taken when watering cucumbers, squash and any of the vines. Overhead watering should be avoided as it will keep away the insects that are useful in pollinating. The open hose allowed to trickle for an hour or two will give the bed a good soaking and is much better than frequent use of the sprinkler.

Potatoes can be sprayed with Bordeaux Mixture now to get ahead of the blight. Three sprayings during July and August are sufficient to get good results. Eight tablespoons to each gallon of water is the proportions to use. Always add a tablespoon of Paris Green to the solution in case there are any leaf eating bugs around.

Keep the hoe working among the potatoes and other vegetables. Hill up the late potatoes. Carrots, turnips and beets should be thinned out to allow them to attain their maximum growth.

WI ladies' attend picnic at Omak

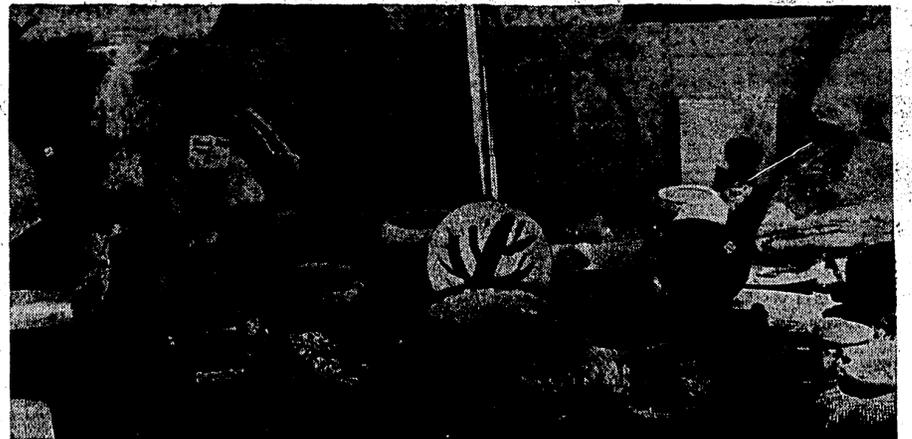

The eighth annual International picnic of the District Women's Institutes of British Columbia and the Homemakers Clubs of Washington was held Tuesday at Conconully Park, near Omak, Washington.

One hundred and sixty-five women were present from various points in Washington and British Columbia.

Twelve ladies from Summerland attended, including Mrs. E. O. White, Mrs. J. Ritchie, Mrs. H. Whitaker, Mrs. F. Pearce, Mrs. A. Bingham, Mrs. M. Cruse, Mrs. M. Scott, Mrs. L. W. Rumball, Mrs. G. Inglis, Mrs. G. Chadburn, Mrs. W. Wright, and Mrs. W. S. Rothwell.

Ladies also attending were present from Princeton, Penticton, Oliver, Kelowna and Rutland.

H. Simpson wins trophy at Kelowna

The Vernon Rifle Association's invitation shoot was held on the Glenmore Range, Kelowna, on Sunday. There was a very good turnout of shooters, although several of the "regulars" from Penticton, Summerland and Kelowna were attending a work party at Pennask Lake.

Local members entered in the competitions were Jim Shepard, Frances Bentley, Ray Maddocks and Herb Simpson. Ten shot matches were fired at 200 and 500 yards with a fifteen shot match at 600 yards. The grand aggregate trophy came to Summerland when Herb Simpson won with a shoot-off with Bill Lightburn of Mission, both men having finished with an aggregate score of 158 points in regular competition.

The Summerland invitation shoot will be held on July 29 and a good turn-out is expected although some of the Interior men will be in Ottawa with the B.C. rifle team at that time.

SPORTS

Junior Red Sox win one - lose one

The Summerland Junior Red Sox won one game and lost one during the week. On Wednesday evening, they defeated the Penticton Juniors in Summerland by a score of 5-2 and on Sunday in Keremeos they lost to the Rattlers by a score of 10-3.

Big George Walton, pitching his first time in junior ball, picked up the win against Penticton by doing a nice relief job.

On Sunday, the Red Sox could do very little against the pitching of Terbasket and on top of that played very sloppy ball, and deserved the loss.

Dennis Lackey was the big hitter in the game, as he hit a long home run over the centre fielder's head to score two runs.

The Red Sox have a full schedule this week. Last night they crossed the lake to play against Naramata. On Friday night they meet Kelowna at the Memorial Park. On Sunday they meet league leading Vernon. This will be a double header on the Red Sox home grounds.

The Red Sox have started to build for next year, as they have brought up Selinger, Walton, Beggs, Johanson and Pollock from the Babe Ruth All-Stars.

Tips on accidents

Few motorists are emotionally or otherwise prepared for the aftermath of a traffic accident, says the B.C. Automobile Association in issuing a list of suggestions in the event of such an emergency.

Warn approaching traffic in order to prevent a second accident.

Care for the injured. If serious, do not move the victim. Call a physician or the ambulance. Cover the victim with a blanket until help arrives.

If police do not arrive on the scene, call them at once.

Exchange drivers' and owners' names, addresses and licence numbers with the other party. Show your driver's licence upon request.

Try to keep cool. Do not admit liability. Do not discuss the accident with the other party or anyone but police. Statements made at the scene of an accident carry great weight in court.

When it is feasible, move your car out of the way of other traffic.

Write down the names and addresses of everyone at the accident scene. Indicate whether they are drivers, passengers or pedestrians, and whether or not they actually saw the accident.

Write down a detailed description of all damage to the other car.

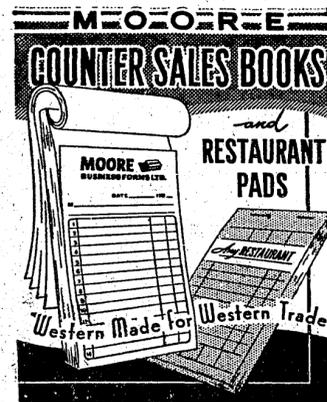

Write down the physical facts of the accident — precisely when, where and how it happened. Make a note of the number, direction and length of any skid marks.

If you have a camera handy, take photographs of the scene and the vehicles.

Report the accident immediately to your insurance company, no matter how seemingly minor the accident.

FAIR GRID SHOW
A HIGHLIGHT of the World's Fair is Greater Seattle's pro football game between the Minnesota Vikings and the San Francisco 49ers in the University of Washington stadium, Saturday, Aug. 11. Tickets are on sale at the UW ticket office and major state agencies. Pictured above is Aaron Thomas, former Oregon State University great, now with the 49ers.

Shriners Plan Childrens Burn Hospitals

TORONTO—A new philanthropic activity of the Shrine, the Shriners Institutes for Childrens Burns, gets wholehearted endorsement from Billy Roach, 8, Sullivan, Mo., who can walk today following treatment in a Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children. He could not walk after his right leg was severely burned. He is shown reading the resolution calling for an expenditure of up to $10 million to set up the burn hospitals to Past Imperial Potentate Harvey A. Beffa, chairman of the committee which successfully presented the proposal to the fraternal group's 88th Imperial Council Session here. The planned institutes will care for and treat burned children, conduct research in burn treatment and train medical personnel in this field.

Kiwanis preparing for street carnival July 28

Tuesday was a cold night. Probably due to the fact that many of the members foolishly had put away their winter coats in mothballs, only about 25 sat down to the Kiwanis second steak dinner, held in Brian Liebert's basement.

There were four visitors: our old friend, Simon Kouwenhoven, formerly of the Bank of Montreal here, and now of Burnaby; Herb Adams, a newcomer to Summerland, introduced by Bob Alstead, Eric Williams, editor of the Review, introduced by president Walt; and George Chadburn, introduced by Lt. Gov. Doug Campbell. The latter two were invited by reason of meritorious conduct highly beneficial to the club.

Wally Harrison, chairman of the July 28 carnival, discussed its organization with the members.

Lt. Gov. Doug Campbell arranged a carload of volunteers to accompany him on a visit Thursday evening to Oliver.

Lockie McKilligan and Ken Storey both celebrated their 39th birthdays. They both look it but don't act it. Happy birthday was sung to each of them, everyone joining in whether they meant it or not.

Don Carmichael of the Bank of Montreal staff, put in his application for membership. One bite of those famous Dietrich steaks grilled by super chef Gerry Hallquist and he was sold.

Next steak dinner, Tuesday night at Clare Eelsey's home. It is hoped the weather will be warmer.

Talk about jet planes. Jim Smith has a pigeon that flew from Smithers to Summerland in 13.75 hours, a distance of 481 miles. That, Jim says, is the equivalent to a four minute mile.

Fifteen members of the Kelowna Garden Club toured the gardens of Harry Brown, Wm. Snow and E. H. Bennett on Sunday afternoon.

In case you are wondering who did the excellent caricature of Verne DeWitt in the new publication of the Summerland Credit Union, "The Clarion", it was staff member, Mrs. Mel Hyde.

Bill Gillard reports that he came back from his recent tour of Great Britain and France highly impressed with the people and their countries. He says that accommodation is excellent and the people very obliging. Highlight of his trip was watching the Trooping of the Colors in London on the Queen's Birthday.

Nope, we're not going to complain that it is too hot, hope it stays like this until Christmas. The research station reports no rain during the past week, with 68.7 hours of sunshine.

Plenty of interesting and varied ways to entertain your guests this week end.

On Friday night the skating club is putting on a free skating exhibition at the arena.

Saturday night the Kiwanis club takes over main street in West Summerland for their annual carnival. They promise bigger and better prizes, more contests and lots of fun for young and old.

Next Tuesday square dancers are in for a treat at the annual Trail Dance held in the Youth Centre in conjunction with the Peach Festival.

And speaking of the Peach Festival, of course it starts next Wednesday in Penticton, and promises to be bigger and better than ever.

An exceptional exhibition of paintings in oils and water colors will be shown in the regional library for the next two weeks. They are the work of Endre Boszin, who was born in Hungary and educated in modern French and Hungarian art.

He has exhibited regularly in Budapest where the city purchased several of his works, and has held one man shows in Edinburgh and Glasgow.

His work has been brought to B.C. by Zeljko Kujundzic, head of the Nelson Art School.

Road improvements outlined

Smoke rises as the Summerland Fire Brigade extinguishes a grass fire at the home of Roy Smith in Garnett Valley last Thursday. The fire started from burning cartons, went up the hill, destroying a few trees. Also on Thursday, the fire brigade assisted the forestry branch in fighting a 3½ acre blaze in Trout Creek Canyon. The fire, started by a careless camper, was patrolled until Sunday night. Fire chief Joe McLachlan told the Review today, that because of the extremely high fire hazard, all burning permits issued by the municipal office have been temporarily cancelled.

The widening of Gulch Road to create a main entrance to West Summerland was discussed at the regular municipal council meeting Tuesday night.

Roads chairman H. J. Barkwill said that the road had been surveyed and staked. He said that it had been found that residents had built stone walls and rockeries on the road allowance and asked what council policy would be in these cases. Councillor W. B. Powell suggested that it was entirely a homeowner's responsibility.

When purchasing property they should ascertain where the property line is and adhere to it.

Reeve Norman Holmes suggested that a letter be sent to all homeowners in the Gulch Road area, whose improvements are encroaching on the road allowance, informing them of the council's plans for widening the road.

Council eventually hopes to make Gulch Road the main access road to West Summerland for north bound traffic. The project has been discussed at previous meetings and it is felt that a clearly marked entrance would be a boost to Summerland's tourist flow.

Council will also improve the road between Gulch Road and the Co-op Growers packing house, for heavy truck traffic. This road is between the homes of Cece Wade and Dr. Jack Ratzlaff.

Final reading was given to a new traffic bylaw, effective August 1.

Parking is now allowed along the school ground in front of L. A. Smith. Also from the Super Valu crosswalk to the IOOF Hall crosswalk and down Kelly Street parking will be allowed on the school grounds.

side to opposite A. McLachlan's. A stop sign will be placed on Jubilee Road on the corner next to T. S. Manning Lumber. The Victoria Road stop sign will be removed, making Victoria and Hastings a through road.

Yield right of way signs are to be erected on Telephone Hill the Prairie Valley Nuisance Ground, south fork; and Garnett Valley and Jones' Flat intersection.

No parking is allowed from the north side of the Giant's Head Road at the Youth Centre and south side of the road from the sub station east 405 feet.

The speed limit in Trout Creek from Wharf Street north to Powell Beach entrance and east to Okanagan Lake is set at 20 miles per hour.

The speed in school zones has been increased to 20 miles per hour.

Free skating exhibition in Arena Friday night

"We're skating on the best summer ice we've ever had anywhere", is the pleased remark of a number of the professional and student skaters now studying in Summerland.

Good ice isn't the only thing the skaters are enjoying. Out of town students are having pleasant Summerland weather and will take home tales that will probably encourage a greater number of skaters here next year.

The best way to beat the heat this Friday evening is to go to the arena and watch the young students and their teachers cut a few capers. The skating exhibition starts at 7:30 and is designed to give interested people a chance to see the skaters at work.

Miss Delores Causier of Penticton is once again in charge of the summer school, assisted by Mrs. Gloria Millard of Kamloops. Students ages range from 9 to 15 years.

Average temperature in the arena is 52 degrees. Admission is free to the exhibition on Friday night.

Motel owners protest increased water rates

A delegation of owners from local motels waited on council to discuss the recent hike in their motel water rates. Mr. G. Smith of the L & L Motel acted as spokesman, pointing out that a raise in rates, particularly since this had been a slow season, would create a hardship for the group. Reeve Holmes quoted rates from Kelowna and Penticton, pointing out Summerland's rate is below Kelowna and almost in line with Penticton. Council promised further study of the water rates.

Municipal clerk G. D. Smith told council that Mr. P. Hoska, owner of the Sonoka processing plant in Summerland had indicated verbally that the entire plant will be removed within the next six months.

Four bids for the removal of the old municipal hall were opened and council awarded the contract to Mr. M. Prokopenko of Trout Creek.

A report from the codling moth committee was read indicating that three lots had been inspected and in each case they had found indication of serious codling moth infestation. Council instructed the clerk to make immediate arrangements to have the lots sprayed twice with double strength Guthion.

Reeve Norman Holmes reported that the purchase of electricity is up 17 per cent over the first six months of last year.

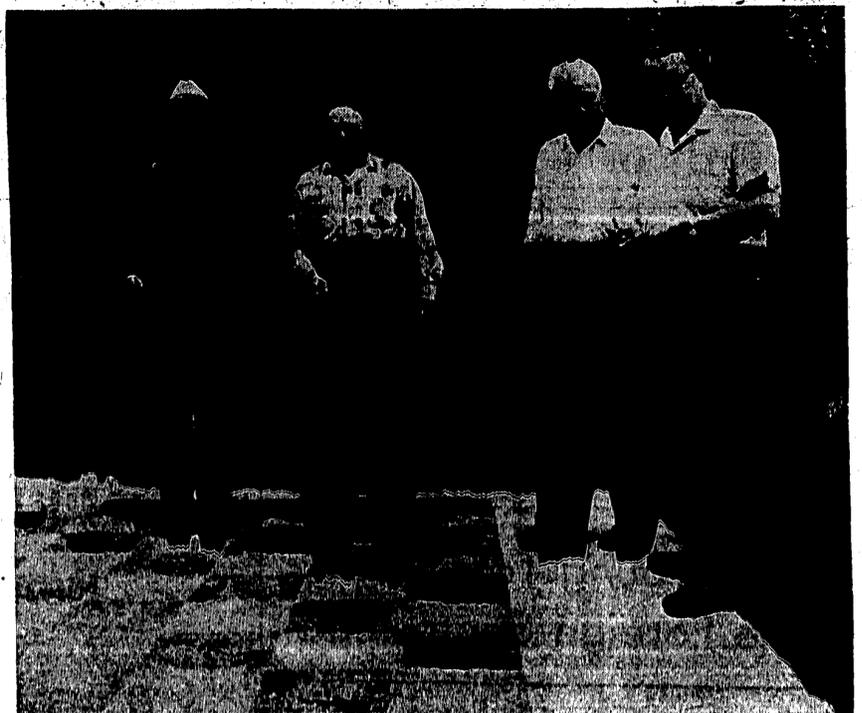

Reeve Holmes announced that Glenn Fell had passed his third year exams in municipal administration, and commended Mr. Fell on his efforts.

Funeral services David Dickson

Mr. David Dickson, 83, a resident here for the past 53 years, passed away at his home on Monday, July 23. He was a former municipal employee.

He is survived by his wife, Aretia; one daughter, Mrs. A. B. (Margaret) Caldwell of Summerland; two sons, Herbert Rice of Revelstoke and Harry Dickson of Summerland.

Funeral services for the late Mr. Dickson were held in the Summerland United Church on Wednesday at 2 p.m., Rev. P. K. Louie officiating. Interment in family plot, Peach Orchard Cemetery.

All set to start a game on the Kiwanis checkerboard in the park are D. MacGregor (left) and G. Schultz. They were fortunate (sic) in having two Kiwanians, T. B. Young and R. Alstead as instructors. Checkermen are in a box near the board, with the key available from the matron of Parkdale Place. Who won the game? Don't know, the instructors were still arguing when we left.

Liquor plebiscite in September

Municipal council received word Tuesday night that permission has been authorized by the Chief Electoral Officer in Victoria to hold a liquor plebiscite. It was also stated that liquor plebiscites are held in the same manner as a provincial election.

Tentative date for voting has been set for Thursday, September 6 or Thursday, September 20.

LOSES LEG

Leon J. Schepens, 41, was injured when a truck carrying heavy equipment rolled back down a hill and ran over his leg. He is in satisfactory condition in Penticton Hospital after his leg was amputated below the knee.

Annual Trail dance next Tuesday

The Summerland Pairs and Squares are making final arrangements for their annual Trail Dance. Held at Peach Festival time when dancers from all parts of Western Canada and the United States are converging on Penticton for their big square dance jamboree it is the biggest event of the year for Summerland dancers. the ladies of the club at the conclusion of dancing.

Arne Hagen of Renton, Wash. will be emcee for the evening, and Ray Fredrickson has been busy lining up visiting callers from many different clubs to take part in the program. Tuesday, July 31 is the date, and the Youth Centre is the place. All square dancers are very welcome, and also spectators, who would like to watch this very colorful event.

Fruit and flowers will again be used to decorate the hall, with plenty of fresh fruit on hand for guests to enjoy during the evening. Coffee and doughnuts will be served by Club members may feel rusty because they haven't been dancing much since lessons stopped, but just remember everyone else is probably in the same condition. The important thing is to come out and meet all these people who have come to our valley to do some square dancing, and to get to know the people who dance here.

Let's show them our usual Summerland hospitality on July 31, and have an evening of fun ourselves while we're at it.

Tomato diseases

Anybody growing tomatoes has a few disease problems with the crop. This is true no matter how small the garden, according to K. A. Harrison, a federal specialist on such diseases.

If it isn't early blight, it's late blight, or both; or it's anthracnose or gray mold. Any of them can cut yield by 10 per cent but late blight is the most serious and can ruin the crop, says this researcher at the Canada department of Agriculture's Kentville, N.S., research station.

If the grower doesn't delay too long, fungicides can be used to check these and other diseases. Tomato growers have a choice of several spray materials.

Fruit canning still popular with housewives

A survey during which one thousand housewives in western Canada were personally contacted shows that 70 per cent — seven out of every ten — did some home preserving or canning during the last fruit season.

A higher percentage of country women put down home preserves than do city women, the survey shows, nevertheless more than half the city housewives do engage in home preserving too.

The most popular fruit among all women, both urban and rural for home preserving is the peach. This is closely followed by pears and apricots in all parts of the four western provinces. These far and away the most popular of any fruit or berry for home preserving.

Sixty-one percent of the hundreds of women spoken to said they did as much or more home preserving as they ever did, while 39% said they did less. Trends clearly revealed that women do more home canning as their families grow, less as children reach maturity and leave home.

Reasons given for engaging in home canning at all were mostly "we prefer the taste," "my family likes" or "economy". Many women added that home preserves are "handy to have for quick deserts in winter," and "when we do it ourselves we know it is top quality." Several said it gives them a sense of accomplishment.

The survey, conducted by reputable market research organization on behalf of the Okanagan fruit growers, was made in order to find out how much home preserving was being done. The majority of housewives mention quantities between one and two dozen quarts, while a significant percentage said they put down more than 50 quarts of various fruits.

Save for Centennial

We celebrated our 95th birthday as a nation July 1, but perhaps the chief significance of the date is that it is just 54 months until our national centenary. It also happens that the Canadian Centenary Council has issued the report of its second annual meeting.

As might be expected, the report is made up largely of a sifting of ideas by the council committees. Two plans have emerged, however, which have interest for all Canadians and which will require action at the local level.

The first is the suggestion that the federal government institute a system of "Travel in '67" stamps and bonds to encourage Canadians in every part of the land to start saving now to "see Canada" in 1967.

Family savings of a few cents a week could assure a substantial sum for the holiday of a lifetime in 1967, and the savings stamp method, instituted during the war, would be a simple and effective device to help us all to save.

The second Centenary Council suggestion which seems likely to bear fruit is that each locality form a centenary committee to work in conjunction with the national body, both by accepting and implementing ideas from Ottawa, and by initiating plans for local observance.

The national council has already considered a number of possibilities for local committees, including such projects as the removal of overhead wiring, and the development of large and comprehensive community recreation centres. The creation of a local committee to weigh these ideas and make recommendations to municipal councils is a logical next step.

Elections - too long

Unstable and divided as the new House of Commons is, it has the power, and ought to have the unanimous desire to correct two serious defects shown up by the recent elections campaign. It was too long and too expensive, says the "Star Weekly".

The door-knocking, hand-shaking, cross-country junketing and air-wave bombardment lasted eight weeks. The cost to candidates and parties was the greatest in history. The sum total can only be guessed at; there is no doubt that the two major parties spent at least $10 million each.

Much of this was unnecessary. The campaign speeches were repetitive. And the enormous expense holds candidates up to ransom and subjects parties to the possibility of undue influence from large private donors.

The electioneering period should be shortened and campaign spending curbed, by law.

Most of the new M. P.'s — as well as the defeated candidates — were exhausted physically and financially by the recent campaign. With that experience still rankling and another campaign looming, they should have no reluctance about legislating against another ordeal of the same magnitude.

To shorten the campaign period a change in the Election act is required. It now stipulates that enumeration of voters must be completed 49 days before election. This name gathering requires about eight days to prepare. So elections regularly last 57 days. This procedure is obsolete. If Canada had a permanent voter's list, the campaign period could be reduced to perhaps three weeks, as in Britain.

Nowadays no Canadian elector is farther away from the political platform than from a radio or TV dial. Party leaders carry their appeals in person between Halifax and Vancouver in a few hours flying time. Mr. Diefenbaker, Mr. Pearson and Mr. Douglas have all announced that they favor shorter campaigns. Let the new Parliament limit them.

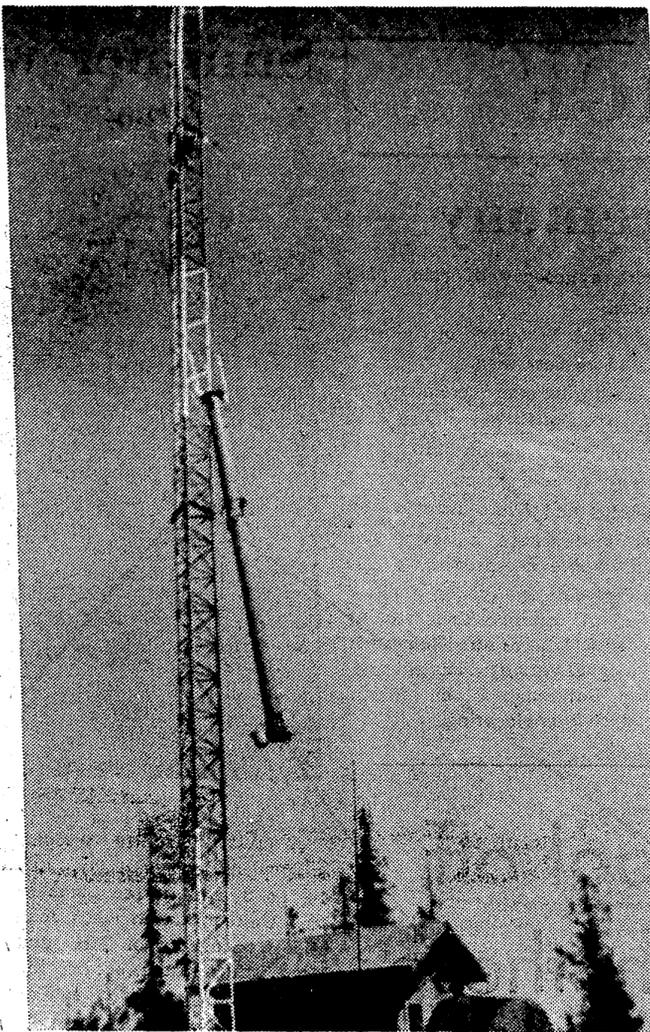

Shortening campaigns will help reduce election costs. But this should not be left to chance. One way to curb excessive expenses is to limit by law the amount that candidates and parties may spend. The remedy should be accomplished by a requirement that the names of donors and amounts contributed be disclosed. Thus cash support of a political party would become an open book and the idea of trading favors for funds would be discouraged.

A fundamental remedy that is being tried by Premier Jean Lesage of Quebec on the provincial level is to pay campaign expenses out of the public treasury. This of course was suggested months ago for federal elections by J. W. Pickersgill of the Liberal front bench and NDP Leader T. C. Douglas agreed with him.

The proposal is reasonable. A campaign for election is an integral part of government processes, and so should not depend on private ability to pay for it. It should be, under proper ceilings, a legitimate charge on the public treasury.

The buying of votes was outlawed long ago. Yet in a sense that is what candidates and parties are required to do to make themselves and their policies known and to advance their chances of election. The system is wrong.

Parliament should act to limit the duration of election campaigns and to control campaign spending. And democracy would be well served if campaign expenditures were met by the public purse.

It's a long haul as CBC work men erect a new tower near Courtney, to provide better TV coverage for the Island.

Park motor licences needed for new national Parks

Revelstoke and Glacier National Parks will require National Park motor vehicle licences after August 1st, Resources Minister Walter Dinsdale announced today. The same licences will be honored in Banff, Jasper, Yoho, and Kootenay National Parks.

Mr. Dinsdale said that the licencing requirement should not be regarded as a "toll" on the use of the Trans-Canada Highway. He pointed out that vehicles operated on roads maintained by the provinces must secure annual licences; the same principle has for many years been applied in other national parks.

"Motorists have accepted the annual $2 licence fee for entry in Banff, Jasper, Yoho and Kootenay National Parks as a token contribution to the maintenance and development of the roads and other national parks facilities for public use and enjoyment," he said.

Up to the present, the licencing system has not extended to Glacier and Mount Revelstoke since there have been no surfaced highways or through roads in either park. When the Golden-Revelstoke section of the Trans-Canada Highway is open to general traffic, both national parks will receive a greatly increased number of visitors.

Our worst driver enemy

Screaming tires, racing motors and erratic driving are the the major signs of an immature person at the wheel, claims the Canadian Highway Safety Council. "He is his own worst enemy," the Council believes. "Like an animal without logic or reasoning, he gives warning before he strikes. He can only damage himself if other drivers accept that warning and stay away from him."

The immature driver, says the Council, gives in to the urge to show off, to attract attention to himself. He is the same person who shouts on the streets, talks loudly on the bus and makes noisy rude remarks to others. The Council claims this person gets no acclaim. "He gets ridicule, disgust and contempt to such a degree that, could he but know it, the temper that accompanies immaturity would certainly send him on to tantrums."

CHSC's advice is to avoid the immature amateur. Don't try to educate him on the spot. That's impossible and only tantalizes him. Let him alone and do your best to escape his idiotic caperings.

LAUGH OF THE WEEK!

Two drunken gentlemen were wandering through the zoo. Eventually they came to the lion's cage and stood watching the beast for several minutes.

Suddenly, the lion let out with a loud roar.

"Hey, let's go", said the first drunk.

"Go ahead if you want to", said the other, "but I'm gonna stay and watch the movie."

"Everywhere I go I am asked to come again?"

"Popular?"

"No, debt collector"

Don't be a fool

by Rev. G. Leasor

This advice is often given, but is it often understood? What does it mean to be a fool? Webster says it is probably from the Latin word "foliis" which means bellows or windbag. Not too complimentary is it? The Bible throws some light on the subject. Some of the Hebrew and Greek words that are translated "fool" in the English Bible literally mean "boaster, self-confident, empty, thickheaded, thoughtless, unwise, heedless, witless and rebel". So you see, there are different types of fools mentioned in the Bible.

1. The atheistic fool. "The fool hath said in his heart there is no God". Psalm 53:1.

2. The materialistic fool who said: "I will pull down my barns and build greater. But God said unto him: "Thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee" Luke 12:16.

3. The disobedient fool - as King Saul who said "I have sinned . . . I have played the fool" I Samuel 26:21.

There is only one alternative to being a fool, that is be wise. How, you ask? "If any man lack wisdom let him ask of God who giveth to all men liberally" James 1:5. Jesus said: "Whosoever heareth these sayings of mine and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man which built his house on rock." And that rock is Jesus.

Large attendance at convention

4,233 people packed out the Kamloops Memorial Arena, on Sunday, July 22, to hear the feature discourse of a three day assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses, which delegates from Summerland attended. The talk, "Take Courage — God's Kingdom is at hand!" was delivered by Mr. Donald M. Mills, B.C. supervisor for the Witnesses. Delegates came from as far east as Nova Scotia, as well as American states from Alaska to South Dakota.

Building on the theme of courage needed to face coming changes, Mr. Mills stated, "God's kingdom spells something different for mankind's benefit than having religious authorities to run things."

Married in Kelowna ceremony

Rosemary Lynn Bleasdale and John Bruce Dalrymple were married in St Paul's United Church, Kelowna, July 14 at 8:00 p.m., Rev. Burdsall officiating.

The young couple are the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Bleasdale of West Summerland and the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Dalrymple of Penticton.

Entering the tastefully decorated church on the arm of her father, the bride looked lovely in a simply styled white silk ballerina length organza gown. A lace trimmed bodice framed the round neckline. She carried a dainty crescent shaped bouquet of red roses.

Her attendant, Miss Johan Bergstrom, chose a street length dress of yellow silk, accented with a nosegay of pale pink roses.

Mr Bob Woodland of Kelowna acted as best man.

Following the ceremony, a small wedding party was held at the Capri Motor Inn.

For a honeymoon trip to Seattle and Vancouver Island, the bride chose a navy suit with white accessories.

This fall the young couple plan to continue their studies at UBC where Mrs Dalrymple is a third year arts student and Mr. Dalrymple is in fourth year civil engineering.

A pretty summer wedding took place on Saturday, July 14, at 2 p.m. at the Summerland United Church when Joan Midori, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Matsu, became the bride of Edward Hideo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kozuki of Williams Lake. Rev. P. K. Louie officiated.

The church was attractively decorated with baskets of white lilies and blue delphinium with small nosegays of pink carnations to mark the guest's pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked charming in a white silk chiffon gown. The simply styled bodice featured a round neckline trimmed with lace and pearls. A small pearl coronet held a shoulder length net veil in place. Her cascade bouquet of pink roses completed the bridal ensemble.

Her four attendants were Mrs. Don Laurence of Vancouver, matron of honor; Miss Beverly Matsu of Summerland; Miss Freda Kozuki of Williams Lake; and Miss Kathleen Yamabe, as bridesmaids wore identical pink taffeta gowns with pink headpieces. They carried colonial bouquets of pink and white carnations.

Little Donna Inaba of Summerland was flower girl. She wore a dainty white nylon dress and carried a basket of pink and white gladiolus.

Mr. Dick Kozuki of Williams Lake was best man. Ushers were Mr. Eddie Matsu of Summerland, and Mr. Roy Kozuli and Mr. Boyce Ransom of Williams Lake.

Wedding music was provided by Mr. K. Storey on the church organ. Mrs. K. Boothe sang "Those Whom God Hath Joined Together" while the register was signed.

Later in the afternoon, the bridal party received the guests at a reception in the Yacht Club, which was attractively decorated in pink and white. The bridal table, covered with a lovely lace cloth, was centered by a three tiered wedding cake topped with pink and white flowers and flanked by matching tapers. Mr. Min Keta was master of ceremonies for the evening. Mr. A. K. Macleod proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom replied.

For a honeymoon in the United States the bride chose a pink linen suit with matching hat and white accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses.

The bride, a graduate of UBC has been teaching school in Williams Lake. The couple will make their home at Williams Lake where the groom is employed.

Out of town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kozuki, Harry Kozuki, Frank Kozuki, Mr. and Mrs. Don Chamberlain, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dechene, Miss Bonnie and Miss Theresa Dechene, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burgess, Mr. and Mrs. John Brogon, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Abe, all of Williams Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Don Lawrence, Mrs. A. H. Richmond, Rev. and Mrs. C. O. Richmond, Mr. and Mrs. T. Wakabayashi, Mr. and Mrs. G. Yelle, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Yano, Mrs. Mitsu Tasaka, Miss Miwa Tada, all of Vancouver; Mrs. Y. Kawasaki, Miss Y. Kawasaki, Kelowna; Carleton Sheeley, Merritt; Mr. and Mrs. T. Taiji, Winfield; George Uzawa, Mr. and Mrs. H. Fijita, Mr. and Mrs. Colin Fijita, all of Penticton; Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Macleod, Trail; Mr. and Mrs. David Walker, Winlaw; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cook, Abbotsford.

HUGH COMES HOME
HURRYIN' HUGH McELHENNY will return to the University of Washington stadium on Saturday, August 11 when his Minnesota Vikings meet the San Francisco 49ers in a pre-season pro football spectacular. The game is sponsored by Greater Seattle, Inc. and is one of the top sports highlights of the World's Fair. Tickets are on sale at the U. of W. ticket office and major agencies throughout the state.

Kelowna honors visiting Premiers

Considerable interest has been aroused by the announcement of Kelowna's newest award, "The Most Excellent Order of the Ogo-pogo", an elaborately designed scroll, the first ten of which will be presented to Canada's Premiers during their visit to the Kelowna International Regatta on August 8th.

Immediately following the civic luncheon being tendered the Premiers, Lady of the Lake candidates will, one by one, present the "Order of the Ogo-pogo" certificate to each visiting head of state during which a photograph will be taken and a copy sent to every daily newspaper in the receiving Premier's province. The idea, of course is to get Canada-wide publicity for Kelowna Regatta.

The certificate is 16 inches long by 13 inches deep and is offset-printed in three colors: gold, green and black. The recipient's name is "letter-pressed" on in red ink and as exclusively designed red seal affixed to the parchment. The artwork was done locally by R. L. Dowler Associates and encircling the scroll with heads pointed to the centre. Intertwined around the fabled sea creatures are gold, water plants. The idea for the "Order of Ogo-pogo" belongs to publisher R. P. MacLean of the Daily Courier, Kelowna, and the City of Kelowna plans to present the certificate only to VIP's who who visit the Regatta city.

Over fifty present at coffee party

Over 50 women attended a coffee party at the home of Mrs. M. E. Collas on Wednesday morning. The next party will be held Wednesday, August 1 between 10 and 11 at the home of Mrs. Alex Inch, with Mrs. H. Moors and Mrs. Gladys Chadburn as hostesses. All WI members and friends are invited to attend.

Shower for recent bride

A shower in the form of a morning coffee party was held for Mrs. Bruce Dalrymple on Tuesday morning, July 24, at the home of Mrs. G. Laidlaw. The recent bride, the former Lynn Bleasdale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Bleasdale was the recipient of many lovely and useful gifts presented to her in an attractive pale pink box decorated with white blossoms. Guests included friends and relatives of the bride. Hostesses were Mrs. G. Laidlaw, Mrs. G. Clarke, Mrs. S. Feltham and Mrs. F. Bergstrom.

Invited on motor trip

The IOOF wishes to give members of the Old Age Pensioners Association a drive on August 5, starting at 2 p.m. All wishing to go please phone the president or secretary before July 29. The trip is to be to White Lake, to see the Radio Astrophysical Observatory. Members are asked to bring their own lunch, tea and coffee will be supplied.

Either Signature Valid Modern mates decide

Time was when the "obey" part of the bride's marriage vows was a pretty literal undertaking. Now more generally a quaint morsel of tradition, most modern couples favor making mutual decisions instead.

One major convenience in operating today's family finances, which more and more people are discovering, is a Bank of Montreal joint account.

Besides representing a fine symbol of distaff progress, a joint account makes money management a lot easier. When her husband is away, the lady of the house can sign cheques and eliminate the problem of keeping cash at home. Both parties have all the convenience of the account, and both can make deposits as they choose.

Don Carmichael, accountant at the West Summerland branch of the Bank of Montreal, will be glad to show you how easy it is to open a modern joint account, just one more item in the B of M's catalogue of helpful services for modern living. See Mr. Carmichael soon.

Invitation shoot here Sunday

by Herb Simpson

An invitation shoot will be held at the Garnett Valley range on Sunday, July 29, with shooters from other interior clubs competing with local marksmen for trophies and prize money.

The major award is the Dundon Shield which was donated several years ago by "Pop" Dundon and sons, and is awarded to the winner of the grand aggregate score for all ranges. Present holder of the shield is R. S. Weeks of the Kelowna Rifle Association.

Cups are also awarded to the winners of the 200, 500 and 600 yard matches, and to the winning team.

Work parties were held on Thursday evening and Sunday morning to repair targets and put the firing points in good condition. A general meeting was held at the home of the club president, H. Richardson, on Tuesday evening, to draw up the prize list, arrange for refreshments and other details.

With everything ready to go at 9 o'clock Sunday morning, the members are hoping that the good weather will continue and that there will be a good turnout of shooters from all clubs.

Shooting will continue until late afternoon, and visitors will be welcome any time.

Fishing News

by Bert Berry

Okanagan Lake
No reports of big fish this week but the Kokanee are biting good and trout up to 2½ pounds are being landed.

Fish Lake Camp
Some good reports from Fish Lake, still fishing for easterns. Upper lakes in this chain promise larger fish on fly and troll.

Garnett Valley Dam
Not too much action, mostly small. No boats for rent here for the rest of the season.

Headwaters Camp
Mixed reports from here. Some very good and others fair.

Hathume Lake Resort
No reports, but there are some big ones here.

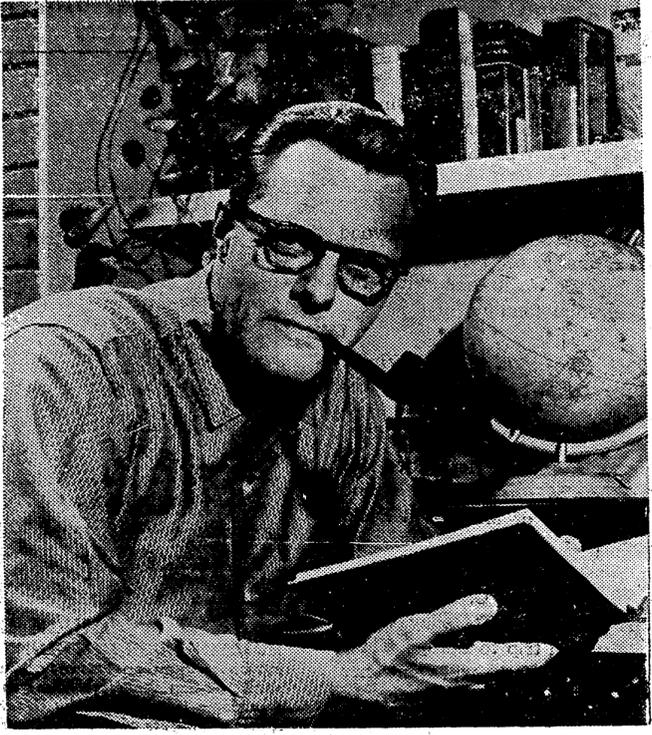

Panask Lake
Still the best place to catch your limit. Fish running up to two pounds have been caught. Road is rough but passable now.

Silver Lake
No reports.

Shannon Lake
Now that hot weather has come it will improve the bass and perch fishing.

Rose Valley Dam
One report from here. Good, but no big ones caught.

Red Sox win two as season nears finish

The Summerland Junior Red Sox gained an even split in games played during the past week.

Last Wednesday evening in Naramata young Ernie Pushkerinko did what all pitchers dream of when he pitched his team to a 1-0 no hit-no run victory.

On Friday evening, in Summerland the Red Sox defeated the hard hitting Kelowna Juniors 10-0.

Big George Walton was on the mound for the Red Sox and got his second win in as many starts. George was only one out from duplicating Pushkerinko's feat when a little pop bunt, that no one could get too, gave Kelowna their only hit.

On Sunday, the Red Sox took on the first place Vernon Juniors in a double header and lost both games.

The first game was a pitchers' duel until the sixth inning, as Jim Sheeley and Reg Main (the Yankees bonus baby) pitched hitless ball. In the sixth, the Vernon power began to tell and they scored three runs. They added five more in the seventh for an 8-0 win.

The second game saw the Vernon team jump on Pushkerinko in the five innings he worked, inko for eight hits and six runs. Keith Skinner came on in relief in the sixth and held the Vernon boys scoreless for the rest of the game.

The Red Sox have four more games left in the regular season. They were at home last night against Penticton in their last home game. They go to Kelowna on Friday evening and to Lumby on Sunday to play a double header against Vernon.

Spraying should start the third week in July and continue at intervals of ten days up to final harvest.

For late maturing fruit, or when the crop is irrigated, it is necessary to add two pounds of thiram to the maneb spray to prevent gray mold, or to use dyrene instead of thiram. Gray mold can be as destructive as blight.

Bordeaux is excellent for blight control but if used early it may reduce yields by preventing fruit set; it also leaves a very persistent residue. A dust of one of the fixed coppers can be useful for the backyard garden.

Kiwanians ready for annual street carnival

The third summer steak dinner Tuesday evening was enjoyed by 31, including four visitors: Ed Leighie, Simon Kouwenhoven, Bjorn Bjornson and Ed Kita. Truly a beautiful setting on Clare Elsey's lawn, surrounded by shade and fruit trees, with the odd codling moth peering nervously from behind a leaf or whatever a codling moth peers from behind.

The entire club sang "Happy Birthday" to president Walter, it being his 39th birthday. This cost him the customary dollar, which proves "you can't get something for nothing".

President Walter organized a carload of visitors to Oliver's club Thursday evening, and spoke of the club going down in a body for an interclub meeting, in the near future.

Wally Harrison, carnival chairman, set forth the duties of each and every member for the Saturday night carnival.

The baseball club will be permitted to have a booth, and it is possible there may be a limited period for square dancing.

All members are requested to meet at Hilly Smith's office on Friday night at 6:30 p.m. for a final checkup on all arrangements.

The Kiwanis checkerboard in the park is all ready for use, and the public in general is cordially invited to use it.

The club wishes to express its sincere appreciation to Ken Blagborne for his co-operation in supplying the checkermen. The key for the box is available from the matron of Parkdale Place.

Next week's steak dinner will be on Doug Campbell's lawn.

Barkerville hanging judge returns

Hanging Judge Begbie has returned to Barkerville.

Matthew Baillie Begbie, later Sir Matthew, first judge to hold office in the mainland colony and ultimately chief justice of the new Province of British Columbia is appearing daily before visitors to Barkerville centennial celebrations.

Begbie, of course, died in 1894 at age 74. He has been "revived" by Vancouver actor, R. Cooper as part of the "living history lesson being provided by the B.C. government in this restored mining town, 60 miles east of Quesnel.

Buy a ticket for a ride on the Barkerville-Richfield four-horse stage and the lesson starts. Pat "Curly" Swaile, the driver, picks up his passengers outside the Theatre Royal where two-a-day vaudeville is playing.

The stage ride is three miles and a hundred thrills long. The stage follows an original section of the Cariboo-wagon road. It goes by the Morning star claim-where dudes can pan gold. It passes restored saloon, general stores (where you can buy real rock candy) the smithy and the carpenter shops and the Wake up Jake coffee saloon as it wends its way up the creek canyon to Richfield.

Richfield was a neighboring gold camp to Barkerville. Now there is just the courthouse, authentically restored by the Barkerville Restoration Advisory Committee. The stage stops and the passengers are directed to benches set before the front stoop.

That's when a horseman approaches, iron-grey whiskered, thickset, frock-coated, striped pasts tucked in high boots and wearing a curious flat-crowned hat. Just as he did 100 years ago when he made his first horseback ride into the Interior from Yale in 1858, Begbie doffs his hat and dons a judge's wig taken from his saddlebag.

Begbie holds court, more of a lecture really, for 20 minutes. The visitors love it.

The real-life Begbie sentenced two murderers to death on almost that very spot and they were buried somewhere nearby. The gallows stood before the courthouse. That was the way of the law when Begbie rode circuit.

Begbie came upcountry behind 30,000 roistering gold rush miners in '58 and fixed it so they didn't have to carry side arms or knives tucked in their boot tops.
