Figure skaters spending the summer months in Summerland are having a very busy and interesting agenda.

On Monday they had a beach party at Powell Beach with about 50 skaters and their parents from many B.C. and Alberta points in attendance.

Last week in the arena, the skaters held a pop concert with all the students taking various roles in 35 different numbers. A large crowd enjoyed the show.

Last Saturday and Sunday many skaters undertook a rigorous testing with 42 out of 68 skaters achieving a passing grade.

Following the exams on Sunday, Ron Beattie of Trail, a world skating judge, instructed some of the valley judges in classification and evaluation of skaters.

Summer skating at the arena will continue until August 24.

Mrs. L. A. Smith, wife of the Exalted Ruler of BPO Elks, presents a ribbon to Joy Postill of Vernon, winner of the Junior Jumping at the horse show Sunday.

First horse show highly successful

Summerland was host to a very successful horse show over the past weekend. The show, held by the Summerland Trail Riders and sponsored by the BPO Elks, was well attended by contestants and spectators alike. There were 49 horses present, some of them ridden by as many as three or four riders during the day.

Two little girls from the Shuswap Saddle Club who live in Revelstoke stole the show with their display of ambition, horse sense and showmanship. Nora Knuff, aged 10, riding the 24 year old mare Jubilee, took home several ribbons, while her 8 year old sister Lynn on Golden Girl, captured several more.

The Summerland Trail Riders did well in the show, keeping several of the beautiful rosette ribbons at home. Kelowna Riding Club won the most ribbons, with Shuswap Saddle Club second and Summerland Trail Riders third in the club aggregate. The individual aggregate went to Gail Brewer of Kelowna in the intermediate section, and Allan Macdonnell of Kelowna in the well filled; the bareback equine division. All classes were uitation; was so large it was divided into two groups for judging. The judge, Mrs. Fred Dey of Kamloops, was particularly pleased to see so many bareback riders and the two bareback classes in the show, as she feels that bareback riding helps to make a really proficient rider.

The intermediate jumping class proved difficult for many riders and horses, however, it was designed to be a course of difficult but not high jumps, since the purpose of the show is to help develop good senior riders for the future. Toward this end, Mrs. Dey gave the riders a good workout in the equitation classes.

The Summerland Trail Riders would like to thank the following people who helped enormously it make its first show such a success: BPO Elks, Summerland Fire Department, Bob Chalmers, whipper-in; Miss Joan Grimsdick, ring clerk, Pentiction; Miss R. K. Owen and Mrs. C. Van Doren, Pentiction; aggregate assistants: A. Hyndman, Pentiction, ring steward; A. Jenkins, Pentiction; ring master; Mrs. L. A. Smith, ribbons; L. Reinertson, announcer; Miss C. Reinertson, aggregate clerk; general help, Dr. C. D. Newby, Kelowna; C. Letts, C. Reinertson, R. Steele; Bud Bye, show manager; Mrs. Isabel Jeffery, show secretary; Mrs. S. Blazeko, first aid attendant.

Winners of the various classes were:

English equitation, 12 years and under: Derrick Wemp of Kelowna riding Tiny Miss; 13 to 16 years, Katny Niesol, Vernon, riding Hoolio.

Western equitation, 12 years and under, Larry LeLonde of Vernon, riding Miss Rusty; 13 to 16 years, Bob Sloper, Shuswap, riding Amigo.

Bareback Equitation, 12 years and under: Allan Macdonnell, Kelowna, riding Seabreeze; 13 to 16 years: Helena Olinger, Kelowna, riding Palahan.

Matched Pairs, English or Western: Mr. Roberts ridden by Gail Brewer, and Copper King ridden by Susan Snowsell, both of Kelowna.

English Pleasure: Palahan, ridden by Helena Olinger, Kelowna.

Western Pleasure: Silver Jubilee ridden by Jody Harvey, Oliver.

Junior Jumping: Joy Postill, Vernon, riding Juanita.

Intermediate Jumping: Gail Brewer, Kelowna, riding Mr. Roberts.

Pair Jumping: Joy Postill, Vernon, riding Juanita, and Nora Knuff, Shuswap.

Pole Bending, teams of 3, 13-16 years: Ron Reinertson riding Deena, Judy Steele riding Barbie C., Beverly Bye riding Trixie, all of Summerland.

Stake Race, 12 years and under, teams of three: Allan Macdonnell, Kelowna, riding Seabreeze, Larry LaLonde, Vernon, riding Miss Rusty, Joy Postill, Vernon, riding Juanita.

Musical Mugs, 12 years and under: Allan Macdonnell, Kelowna, riding Seabreeze.

Bareback Challenge, 13 to 16 years: Don Miller, Shuswap riding Trixie.

Saddle-up race, 13-16 years, couples: Beverly Bye riding Flicka, Herman Tees riding Sweetheart, both of Summerland.

Junior Aggregate Award, donated by Miss R. K. Owen of Pentiction: Allan Macdonnell of Kelowna.

Intermediate Aggregate Award, donated by Reinertson Riding School: Gail Brewer of Kelowna.

The door prize of chaise longue was won by Mrs. Brent Muirdock of Summerland.

Winner of the Elks raffle was R. Gilliland of Pentiction.

School Board asks for referendum

At its regular meeting last Thursday, Summerland School Board passed the following resolution:

"Resolved that School District 77 (Summerland) make application to the Minister of Education for approval to hold a referendum for the establishment and operation of a Regional College under the authority of the Public Schools Act 1958 (and as amended) and as recommended for the Okanagan Valley by the report of Dr. John B. Macdonald entitled: 'Higher Education in British Columbia and a Plan for the Future', such referendum to be held forthwith and in conjunction with School Districts No. 13, Kettle Valley, No. 14, Southern Okanagan, No. 15, Pentiction, No. 16, Keremeos, No. 17, Princeton, No. 19, Revelstoke, No. 20, Salmon Arm, No. 23, Kelowna, No. 78, Enderby."

The board received a copy of a memorandum addressed to Hon. P. A. Gagliardi, minister of highways, asking for highway changes at Trout Creek to ensure greater safety for school children. The board was of the opinion that highway crossings, with their potential danger, should all be considered rather than laying stress on one area.

Accounts totalling $31,563.39 were passed which included repayment of temporary bank borrowing to the amount of $2,500.

Trustee W. S. Ritchie reported on a meeting of the Okanagan branch of the B.C.S.T.A held in Vernon on July 24. The meeting was addressed by Dick Lester, president of the B.C. School Trustees Association, who is making a tour of the B.C. interior. Mr. Lester discussed regional colleges, and stated that in his opinion, to decide what type of college was needed was more important than where it was to be located.

At this branch meeting, K. L. Boothe, president of the Okanagan branch, was appointed delegate to the Canadian School Trustees convention in Montreal on September 22.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Hobson were at the coast for the week end.

Peach Festival next week

The Peach Festival starts next week with many new events on the agenda. There is a special sky show with the Red Knight and the Golden Hawks, Satchel Paige is bringing his Negro World Champion Kansas City Monarchs baseball team for a double header, and the giant parade with 15 bands will take an hour and a half to pass a given point.

On Wednesday, August 7 at 7:30 p.m. Queen Val-Vedette XVI and her princesses will be crowned at King's Park, followed by Nationality Night.

On Thursday all the exhibits in the memorial arena will be opened at noon. This show includes agricultural, horticultural and educational exhibitions and features professional entertainment during the day. At 6 p.m. the parade will move through the city and at 8:30 p.m. the first rodeo queen will be crowned.

Other exciting events are slated for Friday and Saturday.

Another prize winner.

Skill of both horses and riders was shown in the jumping

To gain an impression of how lovely our community is, take a trip to the top of Giant's Head. From there you can look over West Summerland, see the trees in Prairie Valley, Garnitt Valley and up the lake towards Peachland. Where irrigation starts and the bright green of grass and orchard begins is a clearly marked line. We took a jeep from Bud's Garage, past the old college, and then straight up. It's a sharp climb and sometimes one hangs on by the seat of the pants but the jeep travels slowly and the trip is perfect for youngsters and adults. Coming down is even more exciting. Bud's Garage makes the hour and a half trip anytime during the day.

Red Sox in top shape for valley playoffs

The Summerland Red Sox ended the regular season playing their best game of the year by defeating the Vernon Juniors 1-0 in the second game of a double header played in Vernon on Sunday.

Vernon took the first game 8-0 behind the pitching of Douglas Sheeley started for Summerland and took the loss. He was relieved by Skinner in the sixth.

The Red Sox started fast in the second game and jumped on starter Howie McNeil for one run in the first inning. Ken Pushkerinko led off with a double and scored on a single by Selinger. That was the scoring for the game as Ernie Pushkerinko handcuffed the hard Vernon hitters with the help of some great defensive work by his brother Ken. Vernon threatened in the last inning with two men on and nobody out, but a great throw by Drought in left field cut off a run. Pushkerinko then made the next two batters pop out and ground out to end the game.

Ernie Pushkerinko made his first start after several good relief jobs and looks like money in the bank for the play-offs which start on Sunday with a single game in Oliver and a double header in Summerland the next Sunday.

IT'S B.C. APRICOT TIME!

The Okanagan Valley of British Columbia, the only part of Canada producing a commercial crop of apricots, expects to market a crop smaller than last year's bumper harvest, but the fruit is of excellent size and quality.

First small quantities of B. C. apricots come along about mid-July, and build up to volume shipments in refrigerated railway cars over the following three weeks or more.

Apricots are one of the best fruit sources for minerals, are a rich source of pectin, a good to excellent source of vitamin

A, containing more than any other fruit, and a fair to good source of vitamin C. Apricots are eaten fresh as they come out of the box, stewed, in fresh fruit pies, in fruit salads, or preserved for winter use.

If the apricots you buy are a bit on the green side, keep at room temperature and they will ripen without loss of flavour. Try serving fresh apricots this way:

APRICOT COTTAGE CHEESE SALAD
Wash, halve and pit fresh apricots. Arrange crisp lettuce on salad plates, mound cottage cheese on lettuce. Circle with apricot halves. Garnish with marashino cherries.

Harvests

by Rev. Frank Haskins
Our new highways have brought the prairies closer to the Okanagan. Ever since the beginnings of fruit growing in this valley there has been a close link with the prairies. The founders of the fruit industry were well aware of the potential markets for fruit among the wheat growers of the West. Each section of the country contributes to the well being of the nation.

Harvests of either fruit or grain are the results of hard work and experience. Early pioneers both on the prairies or in the valleys of this province experienced hardships.

George, who was a prairie farmer, was an example of the way our pioneer citizens showed courage and pluck under severe handicaps. For many years George and his family were compelled to live in the basement of a partially constructed home because a hail storm wiped out promising crops when he was building his house. Crop failures and reverses made it impossible to finish the house which stood like a stark gaunt skeleton on the prairie.

Yet George kept on sowing and reaping with very disappointing results. Even when he broke a bone he still worked with his horses and had another mishap due to the handicap.

George's mission in life was to plant crops and he worked tirelessly. In his later years the family prevailed upon him to visit the Okanagan but the prairie farmer was restless. He did not care much for mountains and the closed-in scenery.

He wanted to get back to the farm.

George said: "These mountains out here would be all right if you could level them out and grow something on them." To a man who had spent a lifetime growing things, mountains looked like waste land.

Yes, George's mission in life was to sow and reap crops. How much this country owes to these tireless workers of the plains who before the coming of the combine used horses to farm the Great West.

Our Master observed men sowing and reaping in His day. The work of the Kingdom of God was likened to the sower who went forth to sow. "The seed is the Word of God," taught Jesus who appealed for workers to go forth to sow, to plant, and to reap the spiritual harvest.

All of us by our influence, words and example are sowing either good seed or the tares make it our task to sow the of unrighteousness. We should good seed.

When Christ saw the forces of evil at work and the indifference of men to the good things of life he called for workers for His kingdom. He said: "The harvest truly is great, but the labourers are few; pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvesters into his harvest."

Words can be seeds of truth which lodge in the minds of men and produce spiritual fruit goodness. The work of God's in deeds of purity, honesty and harvest demands acceptance of Christ's great law of love and forgiveness of sin and demands consecrated endeavour.

Parkdale Place Report

by Mabel Atkinson

July with its temperamental weather has provided the usual summer entertainment.

Two coffee parties under the auspices of the Women's Institute led us through the sylvan groves by the lapping waters of the lake midst flowers and statuary in the home of Misses Howden, while at Mrs. Inch's we admired the wide expanse of lawn and Prairie Valley and gathered the story of rabbit raising from Mrs. Field who has over 400.

The IOOF included us in their drive for the pensioners to Naramata.

Mrs. Booth represented us at the international picnic held at Osoyoos, where Canadians and Americans met to hear Mrs. Geeda Von Beekhoff from Holland, president of the Country Women of the World, speak of women's work in the world.

We welcome to our numbers Mr. V. Meade and Mr. H. W. Brawner and have enjoyed Mrs. Eva Liowd's visit to her mother Mrs. McClement, for a month. She came from California.

Mrs. Daines, Mrs. McClement, Mr. Meade and Mr. Brawner have celebrated birthdays.

Fifty callers from near and far registered, including Mr. ad Mrs. MacDonald from Scotland and Mrs. Flora Kvarine from Norway.

Some who have brought donations, for which we are truly thankful, are Miss Scott, bowling balls; Mr. Braniff, pegs; Mr. and Mrs. McLachlan, flowers; Miss Tait, currants, gooseberries and apples; Mr. Beattie, capiflower; Mrs. Gilbe, vegetables; Mr. Henderson, vegetables; Mr. Ward, apples, Mr. Verrier, vegetables; Mr. Ellis, vegetables and cherries; Mr. Moody, potatoes, plus several other donors.

As a tribute to Mrs. Maude Read who was with us so long and has now passed on we quote Don Blanding: "Thinking of death as just another place to go, Another road to walk, another land to know."

FEW CHANGES

Minister releases details on new game regulations

Opening and closing dates for the hunting of game birds and animals in British Columbia were announced by the Honourable Earle C. Westwood this week. The Minister of Recreation and Conservation said that few major changes have been made from last year except to adjust the opening dates. The details are as follows.

BIG GAME

Black Bear
Black Bear have been provided with the added protection of a close season in G.M.A. Nos. 2, 3 and 10 because of an increasing interest in black bear as a game animal on the part of the general public.

Caribou

In G.M.A. 11, the opening date for bulls has been advanced to August 17 to allow early caribou hunts when animals are available on alpine range. Closure dated in G.M.A. 17 and 18 have been standardized to Dec. 1.

Deer

The opening date for bucks in G.M.A. Nos. 2 and 3 advanced one week to September 7 and antlerless to Nov. 2 in order to assure a better harvest.

In G.M.A. Nos. 6, 9, 13, 14 and 19, the closing date on bucks is extended two weeks to allow a better kill of mature bucks, and antlerless season is extended one week because of the excellent state of the herds.

The antlerless season in G.M.A. No. 8 has been shortened to conform with G.M.A. Nos. 7 and 7A where similar hunting pressure obtain.

Elk; Wapiti

In G.M.A. No. 1 an antlerless elk season has been declared on the more inaccessible herds north of the Alberni to Parksville Highway. In G.M.A. No. 2 an elk season has been declared due to changes in boundaries of G.M.A. Nos. 2, 6 and 7. In G.M.A. No. 3 the opening date has been advanced to August 31. In G.M.A. No. 5 an any Elk season declared from August 24 to Dec. 1 to enable hunting before the animals migrate beyond the reach of hunters. In G.M.A. No. 11 the closing date on antlerless elk has been changed from Nov. 4 to Nov. 24 to allow an adequate harvest. At the present time the elk population is increasing and serious competition with mule deer is apparent.

In G.M.A. No. 20 the season on antlerless elk has been extended to December 1.

Moose - Bulls

In G.M.A. No. 21 the opening date has been advanced to August 17 to allow early moose hunts when animals are available on alpine range. Closure dated in G.M.A. 17 and 18 have been standardized to Dec. 1.

Mountain Sheep

In G.M.A. No. 11 the season on sheep has been advanced to August 27 to allow high quality hunting on the alpine ranges. In G.M.A. No. 21 the season advanced from August 15 to August 1. Pheasants - Cock

In the Central Interior (G.M.A. Nos. 6, 7, 7A, 8, 9, 13 and 14) an extension of one week to Nov. 24, Winter surveys indicate a surplus of cocks which may be harvested to no detriment to the basic stock.

MIGRATORY BIRD SEASON

All recommendations for changes to the migratory birds regulations are subject to the approval of the Federal Authorities. The following changes have been recommended.

A split season is recommended for snow geese on the Mainland coast - G.M.A. Nos. 2, 3 and 4 from October 13 to Nov. 10, and Jan. 18, 1964 - Feb. 20, 1964. This will allow a harvest of snow geese during the early part of the duck season.

Black brant season to close on March 8, 1964.

An open season on doves in G.M.A. Nos. 7A and 9 to open with pheasants on October 12 and close Oct. 31. In the remaining areas the season will close Oct. 31 instead of Sept. 30.

It is recommended that the daily bag limit on ducks be eight birds instead of six, and possession limits adjusted accordingly, and that a province-wide goose limit of five be instituted.

Hunting licence and big game tag fees remain unchanged, but tags will no longer be required for pheasants, announced the Hon. E. C. Westwood.

Golden Hawks and 3000 dancers at Peach Festival

The RCAF Golden Hawks, one of the world's best aerobatic teams, will perform in Penticton on the final day of the Penticton Peach Festival, August 10.

Prior to the appearance of the Golden Hawks an RCAF helicopter team from British Columbia will give a display of parachute rescue work.

Then will follow a 12 minute demonstration by the Red Knight flying a T-33 jet trainer. The Golden Hawk show will last about 20 minutes and will feature 20 tricky manouvers.

Penticton claims to be the home of the largest square dance jamboree in the world. An estimated 3,000 square dancers will converge on Penticton August 12 to 17 for the tenth annual B. C. Square Dance Jamboree.

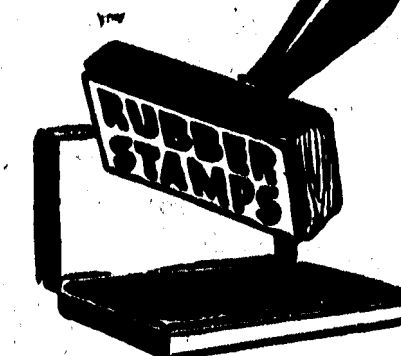

Stop litter on highways

Motorists have been urged by the B.C. Automobile Association to curb highway litter this summer through use of litter bags and trash disposal receptacles.

Garbage deposited along the highways is not only an eyesore for people who come to see the scenery, the BCAA said, but it is a safety hazard as well. Many accidents occur when drivers swerve to avoid objects thrown onto the highways by careless travellers.

"Broken glass on the highway can ruin tires," the auto club said. "Fires are caused by people throwing lighted cigarettes from a moving vehicle. Garbage not properly disposed of presents a definite threat to health. And rubbish clogs drainage ditches along the highways."

QUICK SERVICE

PADS - INKS - SUPPLIES

THE SUMMERLAND REVIEW

The BCAA cited an article which appeared in the magazine "Better Roads", describing the manner of creature known as the litterbug. The article said:

"Probably a substantial citizen, active in civic work, who goes to P.T.A. meetings and takes a vacation trip once or twice a year. Or a not-so-substantial citizen who would rather dump his household garbage by the side of the road than pay regular disposal costs. Or one of a gay party of high-living people who are drinking their way down the highway, throwing out empty cans and bottles."

On July 22, Trans-Canada Air Lines celebrates 20 years of air service across the North Atlantic between Canada and Europe. TCA began flying between Montreal and Prestwick, Scotland, on July 22, 1943, using converted Lancaster bombers, renamed Lancastrians, and carrying armed services mail and priority passengers. The Canadian carrier was one of the earliest scheduled operators in trans-Atlantic service and made more than 1,900 crossings with the Lancastrians between 1943 and 1947. The converted bombers made the 2,600-mile journey in 12-and-a-half hours. Today, TCA's DC-8 jets make the crossing in just five hours. The airline now serves Prestwick, Scotland; Shannon, Ireland; London, England; Paris, France; Dusseldorf, Germany; Vienna, Austria, and Zurich, Switzerland, in Europe.

Conservation Corner

by Alf Kohlhauser

As we fast approach another hunting season it might be in everyone's interest if we all reassess our habits in the field.

How many of us are really careful with fires I used to believe that indiscriminate burning of dense Jackpine stands would solve the game habitat problem. Education has proved this to be a false belief and I now preach and practice all fire prevention practices.

Regardless of the fact that it is sheer lunacy to drink and hunt, how many practice this prelude to murder. Some are loners who carry a mickey and take the odd sip, while others gather as a gang at some old abandoned cabin and have a party. Yup, some of you guys are known and are given a wide berth when you're clumping around in the sticks.

We have had enough tragedies in our neck of the woods to remember to watch our gun muzzles. Yet I see gun handling every year that makes me shudder. Many who are very conscious of gun muzzles have come to it the hard way. Myself, I carry a bullet hole scar on my left hand that was put there by a bullet that clipped my left ear.

With those that don't do much shooting throughout the year, early season carelessness is particularly evident.

Quite a number of years ago now, my two hunting partners and I developed a system for safety that applied to anyone that hunted with us. When anyone was noticed to be pointing his gun muzzle at or even near anyone else he was instantly reprimanded. After three reprimands a swift kick was administered without warning, the force of the kick being left to the discretion of the kicker. We were amazed that it took several seasons to get to the point where we could at least be careful enough to avoid the kicks. In the last few seasons the three of us were able to hunt together, a few times of "pardon your muzzle" were enough to last the season through.

One of the ugliest scars left in the wilderness by those that think only of their own generation is discarded glass, whether shattered or intact in its original form. Glass is virtually indestructible. Unfortunately it makes a good dramatic target. How many generations of careless, stupid hunters and shooters will it take to cover everything with glass. It's almost impossible now to drive any distance without having to drive over shattered glass. Apparently many of the smaller bays and bodies of water in the Great Lakes area in eastern Canada are so littered with glass as to make them sterile as far as fish habitat is concerned.

It's easier to carry out empty pop and beer bottles from a camp than it was to carry them in. Why this crazy urge to leave and scatter glass all over our beautiful country.

Anyone with at least a few ounces of brains will take tin cans when possible and bury them when empty. These at least rust away.

Finally, how well do we see what we shoot at. I wonder how many hunters have aimed at what turned out to be a man. I have, and it is a very sobering experience indeed. And how well are we seen. The man I had aimed at wore all black clothing, and crawling through brush resembled a bear to a frightening degree. A fellow hunter once purchased a yellow hunting cap. As he bobbed away through the trees early one morning he looked exactly like the hind end of a male deer bounding away.

Let's all take a pre-season look at ourselves so that when the season is over we can review it with pleasure, not with grief.

"RADICAL JACK"

Lord Durham, whose famed report ultimately led to self-government for Canada was only 46 when sent here by Queen Victoria and in England was known by the nickname Radical Jack.

Olympic finals Vernon Aug. 2-3

All Legion zones have now completed their finals for the Junior Olympic Training Program and their results have been forwarded to the Provincial Command in Vancouver.

The B. C. finals will be held in Vernon August 2 and 3.

It is interesting to note that in every event the provincial record has been broken in some events seven or eight times. It is very obvious that the standard throughout the Province has risen considerably this past year reflecting great credit on all branches and their coaches who have helped with the program.

All athletes will be billeted at Vernon. The girls will be staying at one of the Vernon elementary schools and the boys will be billeted at Vernon High School. Meats will be provided at the Vernon Branch of the Legion under the control of the Vernon Ladies Auxiliary. Owing to the shortage of bedding from the Army this year all travelling to Vernon should bring their own bedrolls or sleeping bags.

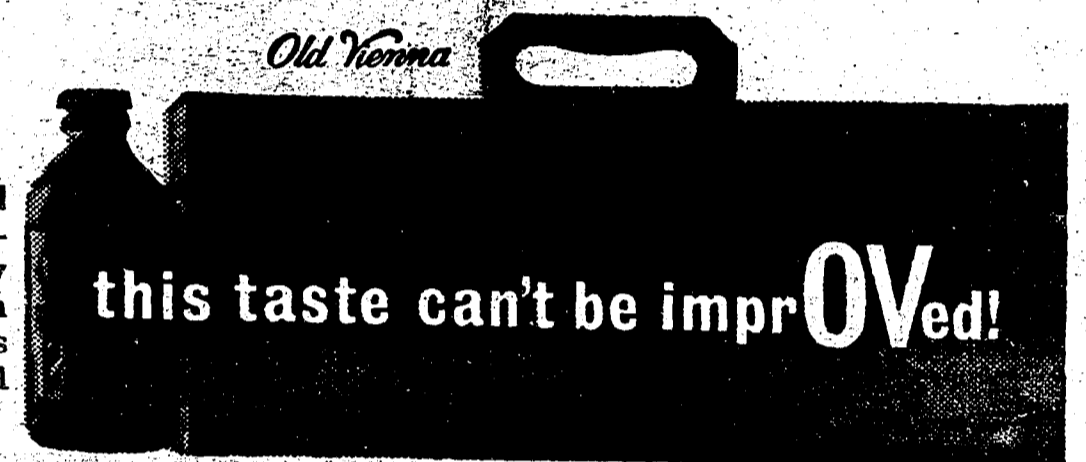

From all points in B. C. 154 girls, 207 boys with 39 coach-chaperones male and female will converge on Vernon August 1st via land, sea and air.

Athletes from the Queen Charlottes and Port Alice will fly to pick-up points. Busses will carry many, but the main body of 254 will leave from the C.N. Depot at 11:30 a.m. daylight time Aug. 1, picking up others along the way.

The main party consists of athletes from the Greater Vancouver Area Zones, the Island Zones, Fraser Valley and Elphinstone Peninsular Zones.

EDUCATION & HEALTH

Of the total provincial government spending of $3,997,000,000 in 1962, health and welfare spending accounted for $867 million and education $753 million.

School Board asks for referendum

At its regular meeting last Thursday, Summerland School Board passed the following resolution:

"Resolved that School District 77 (Summerland) make application to the Minister of Education for approval to hold a referendum for the establishment and operation of a Regional College under the authority of the Public Schools Act 1958 (and as amended) and as recommended for the Okanagan Valley by the report of Dr. John B. Macdonald entitled: 'Higher Education in British Columbia and a Plan for the Future', such referendum to be held forthwith and in conjunction with School Districts No. 13, Kettle Valley, No. 14, Southern Okanagan, No. 15, Penticton, No. 16, Keremeos, No. 17, Princeton, No. 19, Revelstoke, No. 20, Salmon Arm, No. 23, Kelowna, No. 78, Enderby."

The board received a copy of a memorandum addressed to Hon. P. A. Gagliardi, minister of highways, asking for highway changes at Trout Creek to ensure greater safety for school children. The board was of the opinion that highway crossings, with their potential danger, should all be considered rather than laying stress on one area.

Accounts totalling $31,563.39 were passed which included repayment of temporary bank borrowing to the amount of $2,500.

Trustee W. S. Ritchie reported on a meeting of the Okanagan branch of the BCSTA held in Vernon on July 24. The meeting was addressed by Dick Lester, president of the B.C. School Trustees Association, who is making a tour of the B.C. interior. Mr. Lester discussed regional colleges, and stated that in his opinion, to decide what type of college was needed was more important than where it was to be located.

At this branch meeting, K. L. Boothe, president of the Okanagan branch, was appointed delegate to the Canadian School Trustees convention in Montreal on September 22.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Hobson were at the coast for the week end.

First horse show highly successful

Summerland was host to a very successful horse show over the past weekend. The show, held by the Summerland Trail Riders and sponsored by the BPO Elks, was well attended by contestants and spectators alike. There were 49 horses present, some of them ridden by as many as three or four riders during the day.

Two little girls from the Shuswap Saddle Club who live in Revelstoke stole the show with their display of ambition, horse sense and showmanship. Nora Knuff, aged 10, riding the 24 year old mare Jubilee, took home several ribbons, while her 8 year old sister Lynn on Golden Girl, captured several more.

The Summerland Trail Riders did well in the show, keeping several of the beautiful rosette ribbons at home. Kelowna Riding Club won the most ribbons, with Shuswap Saddle Club second and Summerland Trail Riders third in the club aggregate. The individual aggregate went to Gail Brewer of Kelowna in the intermediate section, and Allan Macdonnell of Kelowna in the well filled; the bareback equine division. All classes were divided into two groups for judging. The judge, Mrs. Fred Dey of Kamloops, was particularly pleased to see so many bareback riders and the two bareback classes in the show, as she feels that bareback riding helps to make a really proficient rider.

Peach Festival next week

The Peach Festival starts next week with many new events on the agenda. There is a special sky show with the Red Knight and the Golden Hawks, Satchel Paige is bringing his Negro World Champion Kansas City Monarchs baseball team for a double header, and the giant parade with 15 bands will take an hour and a half to pass a given point.

On Wednesday, August 7 at 7:30 p.m. Queen Val-Vedette XVI and her princesses will be crowned at King's Park, followed by Nationality Night.

On Thursday all the exhibits in the memorial arena will be opened at noon. This show includes agricultural, horticultural and educational exhibitions and features professional entertainment during the day. At 6 p.m. the parade will move through the city and at 8:30 p.m. the first rodeo queen will be crowned.

Other exciting events are slated for Friday and Saturday.

The intermediate jumping class proved difficult for many riders and horses; however, it was designed to be a course of difficult but not high jumps, since the purpose of the show is to help develop good senior riders for the future. Toward this end, Mrs. Dey gave the riders a good workout in the equitation classes.

The Summerland Trail Riders would like to thank the following people who helped enormously it make its first show such a success: BPO Elks, Summerland Fire Department, Bob Chalmers, whipper-in; Miss Joan Grimsdick, ring clerk, Penticton; Miss R. K. Owen and Mrs. C. Van Doren, Penticton, aggregate assistants; A. Hyndman, Penticton, ring steward; A. Jenkins, Penticton; ring master; Mrs. L. A. Smith, ribbons; L. Reinertson, announcer; Miss C. Reinertson, aggregate clerk; general help, Dr. C. D. Newby, Kelowna, C. Letts, C. Reinertson, R. Steele; Bud Bve, show manager; Mrs. Isabel Jeffery, show secretary; Mrs. S. Blazenko, first aid attendant.

Winners of the various classes were:

Winner of the Elks raffle was R. Gilliland of Penticton.

Another prize winner.

In an impression of how lovely our community is, take a drive to the top of Giant's Head. From there you can look over Summerland, see the trees in Prairie Valley, Garnett Valley up the lake towards Peachland. Where irrigation starts he bright green of grass and orchard begins is a clearly defined line. We took a jeep from Bud's Garage, past the old mine, and then straight up. It's a sharp climb and sometimes hangs on by the seat of the pants but the jeep travels slowly the trip is perfect for youngsters and adults. Coming down is more exciting. Bud's Garage makes the hour and a half anytime during the day.

Red Sox in top shape for valley playoffs

The Summerland Red Sox ended the regular season playing their best game of the year by defeating the Vernon Juniors 1-0 in the second game of a double header played in Vernon on Sunday.

Vernon took the first game 8-0 behind the pitching of Douglas Sheeley started for Summerland and took the loss. He was relieved by Skinner in the sixth.

The Red Sox started fast in the second game and jumped on starter Howie McNeil for one run in the first inning. Ken Pushkerinko led off with a double and scored on a single by Selinger. That was the scoring for the game as Ernie Pushkerinko handcuffed the hard Vernon hitters with the help of some great defensive work by his brother Ken. Vernon threatened in the last inning with two men on and nobody out, but a great throw by Drought in left field cut off a run. Pushkerinko then made the next two batters pop out and ground out to end the game.

Ernie Pushkerinko made his first start after several good relief jobs and looks like money in the bank for the play-offs which start on Sunday with a single game in Oliver and a double header in Summerland the next Sunday.

Council seeks action on highway entrances

Final work is being finished on the new Wright's Funeral Home. Official opening will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. with Reeve Norman Holmes cutting the ribbon followed by a dedication service conducted by members of the Summerland Ministerial Association. The building will then be open for inspection by the public and also throughout the following week.

Lack of provincial government action in improving the two main entrances to West Summerland, Five Corners and Gulch Road, was discussed by council this week.

Earlier this year the provincial highway department had been asked to widen and improve these entrances but to date no action has been taken.

At its Tuesday night meeting council decided to write to Premier W. A. C. Bennett and highways minister P. A. Gardiner asking for action.

Councillor Bill Larkwill reported that at a meeting of the town planning commission last week, planner Gordon Hirtle of Kelowna said that the new zoning bylaw is now in its final draft. It will be presented at the next meeting on Sept. 9.

Larkwill also reported that the town planner had suggested a tightening up on the municipal subdivision bylaw. The divider should oil roads to stop dust problems, said Hirtle.

Barkwill noted that the new national building code had not been adopted by Summerland and recommended that this be done.

Councillor Eric Tait noted that a small fruit stand at the entrance to the Bonthoux property at Trout Creek is causing a traffic tie-up. He suggested that the council write the highway department regarding the stand. He commented that the Trout Creek section is considered a dangerous strip of road and that hazards must be kept down.

Two municipal employees have recently received certificates. Assessor J. P. Sheeley has been awarded the Certificate of Appraisal, successfully completing the final provincial assessors' examinations. The assistant municipal clerk, Glen Fell has received his senior municipal administration diploma. He has completed a three year administration course.

Council sets rates for new ambulance service

Summerland's new ambulance has been used on six calls since it was purchased in July. Ambulance rates, set at Tuesday's council meeting are: a local call to Summerland hospital, $6; from Peachland $15; from Westbank, $20; from Kelowna, $25; Okanagan Lake Park $8; and to or from Penticton hospital $10. A standby charge of $5 per hour will also be levied.

Works superintendent Ken Blagborne reported that all the equipment for the ambulance is here and ready for installation.

Services Friday for J. T. Niblock

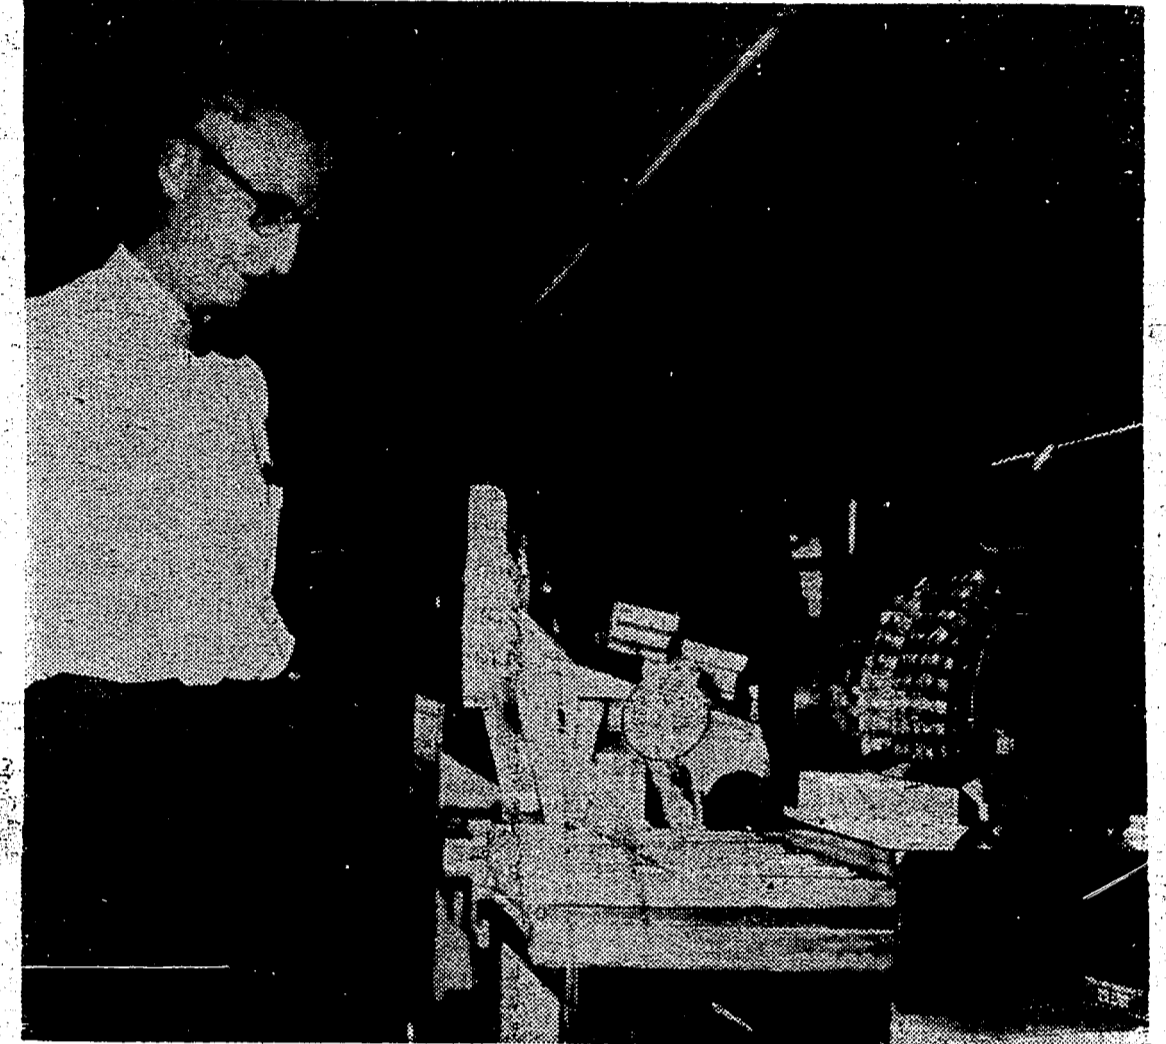

John Thomas Niblock of West Summerland passed away in Summerland Hospital on August 6 at the age of 65 years.

He is survived by his wife Sarah; two daughters (Ida) Mrs. R. J. Connagham of Burnaby; and (Beth) Mrs. A. S. Cruickshank of Kelowna; one son, Const. A. J. Niblock of Prince George and five grandchildren.

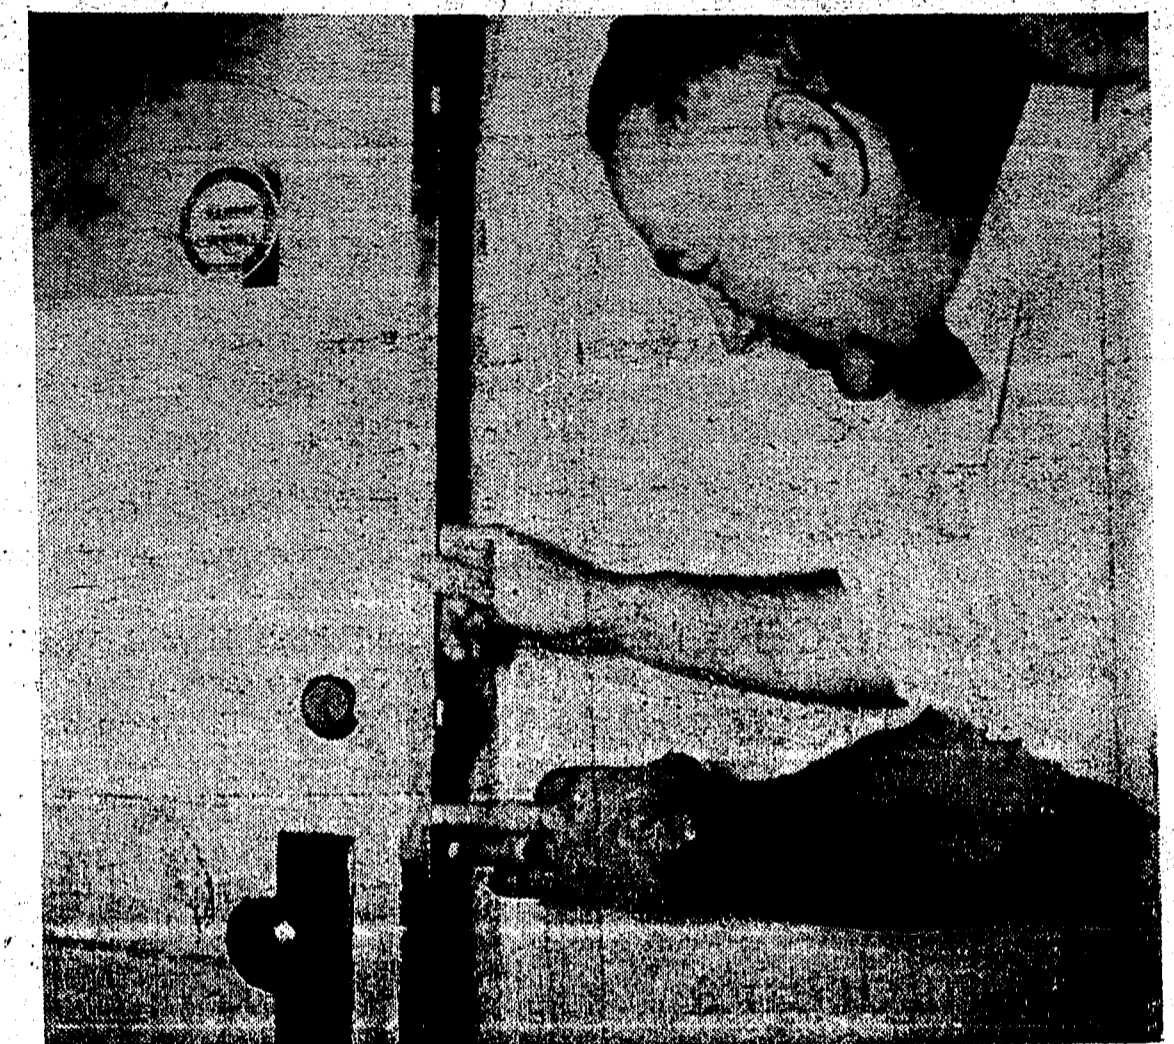

Funeral services will be held from Summerland United Church on Friday, August 9, at 2 p.m., Rev. F. W. Haskins officiating. Interment in Peach Orchard Cemetery.

Clarke and Dixon of Kelowna entrusted with arrangements.

Six thefts reported

Jim Green examines the cash register at his drug store which was broken by a thief early Monday morning. Altogether six Summerland business places were entered, netting the thief only a small amount of money. Other places reporting entry were Farm and Garden Supply, Taste-Freez, Read and Pruden, West Summerland Hardware and Occidental Fruit Co. Below Len Weist examines the door of his insurance office where an unsuccessful attempt was made to enter. 5c to $1 also reported an unsuccessful attempt to enter that building. Police suspect the culprit was on foot as no merchandise was taken.

Many visitors at Municipal Camp

Peach Orchard Park has been full to capacity and at times overcrowded, reported Councillor W. S. Ritchie. Total receipts for July were $3,097, collected at $1.50 a night per car. This is well up over last year and the park's popularity is steadily growing, noted Ritchie.

He reported that a brochure with the municipal crest on the front, park rules and regulations inside and a list of Summerland attractions is now being prepared to give to the campers.

Services held for Mrs. Rose Derosier

Mrs. Rose Derosier of West Summerland passed away in Summerland General Hospital on Thursday, August 1 at the age of 82 years.

She is survived by four daughters, (Tillie) Mrs. John West, Haywood, Calif.; (Pearl) Mrs. Richard Neal; (Mary) Mrs. Fred Clarke both of West Summerland; (Ruby) Mrs. Allan Weaver, Fort McLeod, Alberta; four sons, Louis, Roy and Donald, all in West Summerland; Clarence in Fort McLeod, Alberta; two sisters, Mrs. Nellie Beausoleil, Yuclapa, Calif.; Mrs. Sarah Thompson, Yakima, Wash.; 18 grandchildren and 20 great grandchildren.

Prayers were said in the Penticton Funeral Chapel Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Requiem mass was sung in the Church of the Holy Child on Saturday, August 3 at 10 a.m. with the Reverend Father Guinan celebrant. Interment family plot, Peach Orchard Cemetery.

Mexico's "First Lady" will be the first lady to officially open the PNE on August 17. Her Excellency Senora Eva Samano Lopez Mateos, wife of the President Sr. Adolfo Lopez Mateos, will be accompanied by her daughter and the Mexican Ambassador to Canada. She will stay in B.C. for a week.

New crop for farmers

A new crop will provide extra income for B.C. farmers if experiments being carried out by the House of Seagram prove feasible.

Grain corn used for distillation purposes is being grown at several B.C. areas on a test basis to see if it will mature and air dry to the required moisture content.

Robert Sutherland, Western Division Manager, said the tests are being carried out in a 20 acre plot at Walhachin, 10 acre plots at Ashcroft, Vernon and Kelowna, and smaller tests at Summerland, Lytton, Vernon and Creston.

The House of Seagram annually imports nearly half a million bushels of field corn for use at its New Westminster plant. The corn is used with rye grain and barley malt produced in Canada.

Federal help needed

Recently the school trustees in Summerland approved holding a referendum on the junior college question. The school board is anxious, in the midst of the present series of rumors, street corner opinions and misunderstandings, to know what the people of Summerland think about the plan.

This is an excellent idea. We should have a clear cut knowledge of whether the people of this school district, and others, think about the idea of the newest item in education.

The holding of the referendum must be carefully arranged. Full publicity must be given to all phases of the question. We must be free of prejudice, invendo and misrepresentation, whether from one side or the other.

Amid all the furore of speculation and unfounded opinions, two or three things emerge. One of these is the urgent need for a higher education for those who, while not going on to university, are nevertheless not fitted for their life's work when they graduate from high school. Something must be done about this group of young people, and school boards, both here and elsewhere, faced with the problem, want to do something about it.

We admire their attitude. They feel that the most important thing is the future of the young people. It is, but there are other items that enter into it.

One of these is "Who pays?" In making the statement we are not being mercenary, nor do we feel the upward reaches of education should be stunted for mere financial considerations.

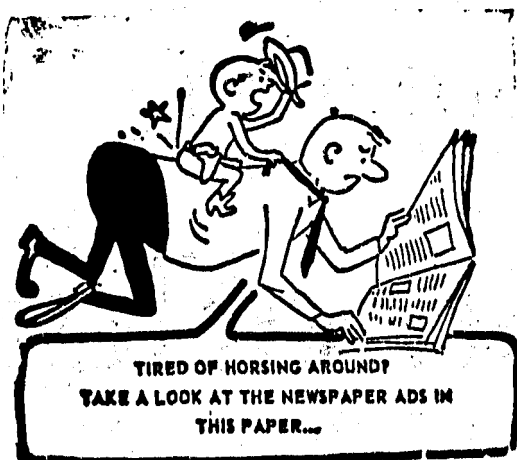

The big paper in the big town near us has inferred there isn't enough money to finance the college. We don't believe that. There is sufficient money — if it is taken from the proper pockets, such pockets being the big federal ones, rather than those of the small wage-earning taxpayer on the local level.

For years now civic leaders have been deeply concerned with the "rising costs of education." What they really mean is the "increasing burden of such costs on the property owner." It has been definitely established that placing the major share of educational costs on the home and farm owner, or the man who invests his earnings in commercial rental holdings, is out of step with the facts of economics.

Boiling this down, it means that property shouldn't be the barometer of a share in educational costs, but income must be so. In other words "ability to pay" should be the basis, with payment from federal funds.

If this is true of the costs of grade and high schools it is doubly true of the junior college. For here the end-product, the more highly trained youth, will benefit not their own immediate area, but the nation as a whole.

So, when the referendum comes up, let us remember these things. Let us make it clear that we are all for the junior college — no matter where it is located, for mere location is a minor matter. But we are also all for federal participation in the costs of such a college to a far greater degree than has so far been indicated.

According to the rules

by Rev. M. R. Schultz

Galatians 6:16 reads: "As many as walk according to this rule, peace be on them and mercy". No one lives very long without being introduced to some rules and regulations. We can't even play a simple game without rules.

Rules and laws are made for our good. We may not always like them, for sometimes they seem to get in our way, but it would be impossible to continue our existence without some rules.

Rodeo at Penticton Festival

Top horses, top riders and a lovely young lady are the features of the 1963 Penticton Peach Festival Annual Rodeo to be held at the Penticton Rode Grounds in Queen's Park.

The lovely young lady is the Festival's first Rodeo Queen, Teresa Kruger, who was chosen by the local Indian Reserve as its royalty and delightful representative to the rodeo and festival.

The rodeo will open at 8:30 p.m. Thursday with the official crowning of Miss Kruger in a simple but dignified ceremony.

And then the fun begins — three nights of the buckingest broncs, wildest bulls and hardest riding cowpokes to hit the Okanagan Valley.

One of the sports features of this year's Penticton Peach Festival will be a long distance swim, August 10.

Under sponsorship of the Penticton Yacht Club, the swim will be a five mile event from a provincial picnic site on Highway 97 to Rotary Park Beach, at the foot of Martin Street in Penticton.

A hundred dollar watch is being offered by a local jeweller as first prize and other prizes will be awarded to competitors.

Our scripture text points to that which multitudes of people seek today: peace and mercy. It would seem that the early church had some real problems changing from the way of the law to the way of love. Therefore the Apostle Paul laid down several simple rules which guided Christians in the way of peace and mercy then, and will do the same for us today if we live by these rules.

The first rule was: accept the rather than condemn him and one who is weak, build him up push him down. This isn't the way it is usually done for most often the strong feed on the weak. This is not to be according to the rules.

The second rule gives us liberty to differ and still be one in Christ. This business of following Christ is a personal matter, we each take our own background, our own personalities, these go with us when we follow Christ. Yet in Christ our aim and goal is one. we are His.

The third rule for peace and mercy is, we are to seek to please others rather than self. This law cuts right across our human nature. But consider what would happen to the world, to our community, to the church, and to our family if we lived by these simple rules.

Wright's Funeral Home will be officially opened on Saturday, August 10 at 2 p.m. by Reeve Norman Holmes.

Following the official opening, a dedication service will be conducted, by members of the Summerland Ministerial Association.

Situated two doors west of the Free Methodist Church, on Pineo Street, the attractive cream and brown concrete block building will be completely landscaped. The driveway at the front is blacktopped and will curve in around a large flower bed.

Inside the building is attractive and functional. A visitation room for the use of family and friends and the repos- ing room are conveniently situated at one end of the building. The interior of these rooms is pale green, with the beamed cedar ceilings and bamboo car-

Final try for Red Sox Sunday

The Summerland Red Sox find themselves with their back to the wall as they are faced with the problem of beating the Oliver Juniors twice this Sunday in Summerland after being defeated 12-8 in a hard fought game at Oliver last Sunday.

The game, played in terrific heat, was a hitters' battle all the way. The big difference was that three home runs by Selinger, Skinner and Pushkerinko only provided four runs while Oliver got their big hits with men on base.

Both teams used three pitchers. The Red Sox started with Sheeley who was relieved by Ernie Pushkerinko and Skinner. Pushkerinko was charged with the loss while Popoff picked up the win.

Besides the home runs, Ken Pushkerinko picked up two singles and Skinner one. Ernie Pushkerinko hit a long double and Sheeley had a triple and a double as well as putting one over the fence that the umpire ruled foul much to everyone's amusement.

The Red Sox, although one game down, are being called the favorites to win the series with a double win here on Sunday.

Game times will be 1:30 p.m. for the nine inning game and 5 p.m. for the seven inning final.

Conservation Corner

by Alf Kohlhauser

In every occupation and activity that exposes one to possible physical injury or death there are unwritten laws of safety and conduct as well as the written laws. These unwritten laws are those that are beyond the fringe of enforceability. They are many and varied. Drive with a clean windshield. Don't horse around in a boat. Never point a firearm at anything you do not intend to shoot. They all have one thing in common. They are meant not only to protect yourself, but others as well, against your becoming careless.

There is one that experienced woodsmen and loggers especially adhere to. Never cut a tree almost through and then leave it standing. As far as loggers are concerned this is akin to Russian Roulette.

Well, someone has broken this law. On the much travelled Agur Lake road, just after the turn-off from the main Bathfield Range road, there is an old dead fir standing, on the left, about 30 feet from the road. Coming down yesterday I eyed this tree for potential fireplace wood. Apparently someone else had done the same thing. But they had undercut the tree and cut almost through from the opposite side before realizing it would fall on the road. I would have finished dropping it had there been somebody along to warn traffic, so if someone goes by there with a chainsaw and a couple of fellows to hold up any cars, before I get back to it, please drop it, before it drops on someone.

Employment satisfactory

Employment conditions are at a satisfactory level, reports Irvine Moss, manager of the National Employment Service in Penticton. This, in the main, is due to demand for cannery, packing house and orchard workers. The condition should continue for the next several months. The demand for carpenters was heavy but with the co-operation of the local Union, several difficulties were overcome. All motels, hotels, restaurants and other services report exceptional good business, an increase over the same period last year.

The totals of persons registered as at the end of July are 363 male and 382 female, an increase of 10 over the same period for 1962. Reflected in these figures, always at this time of year, are the students and local cannery workers who are now on a "stand-by" basis.

Fishing news

by Bert Berry

Okanagan Lake

Still slow on trout fishing but good catches of Kochanee reported. Skin divers off Peachland report the trout are there and lots of them at 84 feet. They must be staying down feeding on the white fish. Very deep trolling could give good results.

Fish Lake Camp

Good report of smaller fish from 8-10 inches on lower lake. Good reports from the upper lakes as well.

Garnett Valley Dam

Small fish but lots of them.

Pennask Lake

Still limit catches from here.

White Head Lake

No reports but could be good.

Bear Lake

One nice report from here. The hot weather has slowed down fishing generally but if you can be on the spot at the feeding times you will get catches.

Summerland boy married in Ontario ceremony

Mattawa, Ontario was the scene of a wedding of interest to Summerland on July 13 at 11 a.m.

Principals were Theresa Joan Turcotte, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney E. Turcotte of Mattawa, and Max Louis Ongaro, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Ongaro of Summerland.

Rev. Father Greaudreault officiated. The church was tastefully decorated with gladiolis for the occasion.

Wearing a lovely, floor length organza gown, the bride was given in marriage by her father. She carried a cascade of Talisman roses.

Bridal attendants, Mrs. James Towie, Miss Alice Colbourne and Miss Jean Turcotte were identically gowned in sparkling coral organza with matching bouquets and accessories.

Best man was James Towie and Leonard Burdon and Charles Brennan ushered.

Later in the day, 200 guests gathered at the bride's home at Mattawa for a buffet supper. The bridal couple were toasted and wires of congratulations were read. The evening concluded with a dance.

For a honeymoon trip to Summerland the bride chose an attractive silver gray brocaded suit with coral accessories.

While at Summerland, the young couple were honored at the groom's home with a banquet for 150 guests followed by a dance.

For the occasion the new bride chose a pretty street length white gown with red roses.

Master of ceremony was Charlie Betuzzi and the toast to the bride was given by Lacey Fisher of Salmon Arm.

Guests were present from Mt. Vernon, Washington; Spokane, Revelstoke, Vernon, Salmon Arm, Kelowna, Westbank and Penticton.

Newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Max Ongaro were honored at a reception in Summerland recently.

Next week's meeting will be on Locky McKilligan's lawn. — The Recorder

Kiwanis Notes

Tuesday night's meeting was short, with not too much to report.

The usual steak dinner, prepared by super chef Jerry Hallquist, was thoroughly enjoyed on Fred Schumann's lawn, truly a beautiful setting. Twenty-five members were present including one from Vancouver club, Ed Leahy, guest of Ken Heales.

Two of the members, Jim Schaeffer and Jack Ratzlaff, made the headlines. Jim endeavoured vainly to edge away home before the club could collect a dollar for singing happy birthday, it being his 39th. However Jim has a lot on his mind just now, his 14th wedding anniversary also coming up on the 8th, so he was excused.

It was different with Jack who wrote the wrong signature on his dues cheque, and whose explanations were unsatisfactory.

After the dish washing ceremony, a short director's meeting was held.

Scottish actor Bill Simpson plays Alan Finlay in Dr. Finlay's Casebook, a medical adventure series seen Thursday nights during the summer on the CBC TV network.

One of the best Peach Festival parades ever was held last Thursday, and Summerland's float made an excellent contribution. It received honorable mention in its class.

Irvine Adams has received word from the Royal Institute Galleries, London, England, that one of his paintings has been juried for hanging in the Summer Salon in London. The work is "Silver Thaw" which portrays morning light through the abstract forms and traceries of ice on reeds and sedges at water's edge in the Okanagan.

Members and their wives and families of Summerland Lodge, BPO Elks, held a picnic Sunday afternoon at Trout Creek. Elks from Penticton joined the over 100 present in boat rides, water skiing and horseshoes.

R. M. Kent took the grand champion award at the Saskatoon Industrial Exhibition for a colored slide of the mill site on Adams River. The picture was taken early last fall and shows the brilliant fall colors. He received second prize for a monochrome (black and white) at the Regina Exhibition with a scene of Okanagan Lake looking toward Kelowna.

Reeve opens funeral home

Reeve Norman Holmes cut the ribbon to officially open Wright's Funeral Home on Pineo Street Saturday afternoon. The reeve congratulated the owner, Robin Wright on the modern building, and said it was a service the community had been lacking.

Rev. Frank Haskins gave a prayer of dedication.

The building was then open for inspection. It also is open to the public during this week.

It's views like this that bring thousands of visitors to the Okanagan Valley each year.

Records set at provincial campsite

In spite of poor camping weather this summer the provincial campsite north of town. Superintendent Jim Moore reports that so far this year 5,705 campers have used the park, up 1,375 over the same period last year. Filled-up signs have been put up early every night recently.

A comparison of figures shows that 113 campers used the park in April this year, with 75 registered in April, 1962. In May there were 406 this year and 228 last year. In June 1143 this year and 735 in 1962. In July 4,043 this year and 3,292 last year.

Federal minister to visit at research station

The federal minister of agriculture and one-time Calgary rancher, Harry Hayes will make a brief visit to the research station on Friday.

Other visitors are Dr. Thomas Anstey, a former superintendent, and now a director at the research station at Lethbridge. Dr. Anstey and his family are here on a holiday.

Skaters on display Friday

A pop concert featuring 45 figure skaters who have been studying at the summer school here will be held in the Memorial Arena this Friday starting at 8 p.m.

The program planned is varied and will show highlights of the skills the young skaters have spent the summer perfecting. The show is entirely free and the public is cordially invited to see an evening of top-notch skating.

Final tests for the summer will be held on August 24 and 25.

Mrs. James Richardson and daughters of Trail are visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ward.

Road improvements cost $4,295

Earlier this year 17 petitioners from the Victoria Road area asked council that action be taken to lessen the hazards in that portion of the road near the home of Mrs. Ace Kercher. At its meeting Tuesday council moved that $4,295 be spent on corrective measures in this area.

A retaining wall will be built and the road will be considerably widened making it safer. Some land for the widening will have to be acquired and the preliminary work will be started as soon as possible. A survey will be carried out prior to the actual work.

Following council's letters to both Premier W. A. C. Bennett and highways minister P. A. Gaetardi regarding the town's two main entrances from highway 97, A. L. Freebairn, highway engineer from Kelowna visited the town and with Reeve Norman Holmes reviewed the work to be done. Freebairn assured the reeve that the work could be done on a 50-50 share basis, and that it probably would be included in the 1964 provincial budget. A survey has already been made of the Five Corners area and the engineer expects a report from Victoria shortly, the reeve said. Mr. Holmes has also asked the provincial highways department to consider blacktopping the area from Five Corners down Rosedale Avenue past the Royal Canadian Legion and up

Pineo Street to the highway. The request is now being studied by the provincial government.

Fifth accident recorded at Trout Creek this year

An accident Tuesday evening and another Wednesday morning brought the number of accidents on the Trout Creek section of Highway 97 to five this year. Last year there were three accidents on this populated section of the highway.

Summerland RCMP have stated that none of the accidents that year were attributed to speed, but in most cases to lack of driver knowledge.

On Tuesday evening a car driven by William A. Low of Abbotsford slammed into a vehicle driven by Charles M. Raham of West Summerland. Skid marks indicated that the Low vehicle was travelling approximately 37 miles per hour. No one was injured but damage to both vehicles was estimated at $700. RCMP are investigating.

At 9:15 on Wednesday morning, a truck driven by Pete G. Battista of Vancouver, going to Kelowna, pulled over at Trout Creek to buy some fruit. A car and trailer from Dishbury, Alberta driven by Stanley Burr pulled out to pass the Battista truck which was moving back into the traffic. An oncoming car prevented the pass and in an attempt to move back the Burr car hit the truck with a resultant $900 damage. There were no injuries. RCMP are investigating.

On July 25, Thomas Watson Nelson and Luciano Andreucci both of West Summerland met head-on at the Rosedale Ave. and Giant's Head corner causing $250 aggregate damage. No charges were laid.

On August 6, Charlton A. Sheeley paid a fine of $40 and costs on a speeding charge which was waived from Revelstoke.

Also on August 6, Douglas J. Herrington of Keremeos appeared before magistrate Reid Johnston on a speeding charge and was fined $75 and costs.

On August 12, Bill Chernoff of Penticton was fined $25 and costs on an intoxication charge.

Courtney mayor refuses to sign cheques

Mayor W. C. Moore and council of Courtney have agreed cheques of able-bodied men on welfare should not be signed, starting August 15, unless the recipient agrees to work out their cheques for the city.

Aldermen put no motion for or against the proposal, but discussion at Monday night's meeting generally appeared to support the Mayor's suggested action.

Mayor Moore said he is annoyed twice a month when he signs the welfare cheques for cases that include "six or seven" men who appear to be able bodied.

He said some of these people have been on welfare as long as six years and there are occasions when some of them are seen in an inebriated condition.

The mayor proposed able-bodied welfare cases for a start could be put to work clearing underbrush in a four-acre park to be developed in the land assembly subdivision. "I shouldn't be misunderstood, I'm not suggesting these people be taken on the city payroll and I'm not suggesting that we cut off widows or deserving cases," Mayor Moore said.

He said the matter already had been taken up with the supervisor of the provincial welfare office here, John Melville, who was contacting Victoria on the matter.

Several aldermen probed the proposal with cautious questions and one alderman said: "You're really picking up a hot potato".

Aldermen Ken Willis and George Hobson wondered if there would be any problem of discrimination in knowing which cheques to be singled out for the work-for-pay treatment, and how much work would be required for how many dollars. It was felt if doctor's evidence could be produced against a man working, he would be exempted. The welfare department should have such evidence on hand the mayor suggested.

He pointed out that the cases are of all ages, with some of the men he had in mind in their 20's.

The city pays about 10 per cent of the cost of each welfare recipient and the provincial government the remainder, but the mayor on behalf of council signs all cheques for the total amounts.

Alderman Willis said the city under the present system was being asked to pay out something over which it had no control.

It was felt that the refusal to sign cheques of the able-bodied at least would bring the problems to attention.

"It's about time municipal councils in B.C. took a stand," Mayor Moore said.

W. H. Bailey, Chamber of Commerce president, said today he felt the chamber will support the recommendation that able-bodied men drawing welfare be required to work at union wages up to the amount of their monthly welfare cheque.

Addled Brain

When New York City authorities discovered an electric brain that would sort out employees for promotion on the basis of scientifically processed data, they must have thought they really had something.

Gone, they would say to themselves, are the pressures of friendship, favoritism, politics, seniority and plain, old-fashioned corruption.

Enter, instead they would add, the brand new era of promotion purely on merit—experience, skill, aptitude, knowledge and all that.

They might have hesitated a little at the prospects of sending aspirants up the promotion ladder (or back to running errands) on decisions arrived at in a coldly impersonal manner by a punch card eating mass of wires, tubes, slots and wheels. But they went ahead with it anyway.

These machines had already shown themselves capable of at least one human characteristic, generosity — such as making out a cheque for $1,000,003.00 when it should be for $3.00.

Now the whole unhappy truth is out.

New York's 'brain' has shown that it is also capable of being corrupted, or at least addled a little. In the past three years, its operator, Alfred Nisbett, has assured appointments or promotions for 13 of his friends simply by punching wrong holes in their cards.

In the eyes of the law, his was no doubt a crime and one must hesitate to condone it. And yet there is something heart-warming about the whole affair.

In an era when our lives seem to be run more and more by the machine—by the automobile, by automation, by processed data — it's comforting to know that man can still direct, or even misdirect, the machine.

—Morden Man., Times.

Decline of Liberalism

Liberalism and rugged individualism were originally synonymous but, somewhere along the line, they parted company and are now regarded as the antithesis of each other. Everyone in the United States—except Barry Goldwater—fancies himself a "liberal" and one of the main intellectual pursuits of our time is dreaming up new definitions for Liberalism. Permit us to air our views.

Liberalism is a good word. It stems from the same root as liberty. Liberal, as an adjective, means "free from narrowness and prejudice"; as a noun, it means "one who advocates a maximum of individual freedom." Unfortunately liberalism has veered away from these concepts towards paternalism, regimentation and confiscatory taxes.

Political opportunists, masquerading as liberals, have copied Robin Hood and Jesse James, who legend has it, robbed the rich and gave to the poor. These great liberals were also strong believers in the redistribution of wealth. Luckily, there are many genuine liberals holding public office today although, generally speaking they are not the ones making the most noise.

Perhaps we can ask a few basic questions to help identify false or non-liberal "liberals": (1) When a person claims to have all the answers and the only answers, is he a liberal? (2) When a person stirs up strife and hatred among his fellow men, is he a liberal? (3) When a person engenders false hopes or false fears among those incapable of discernment, is he a liberal? (4) When a person uses his position to obtain special privileges for himself and his friends, is he a liberal? (5) When an entrenched political machine appropriates the money of one group to buy the votes of another group, is that liberalism?

A true liberal, of course, does not attempt to right wrongs by perpetuating other wrongs. He believes in "live and let live" and the Golden Rule. He seeks justice for all, knowing that human rights and property rights are identical. He respects the opinions and beliefs of others, no matter how different from his own. In the words of America's greatest liberal he harbors malice toward none and is sincerely charitable to all. In short, a real liberal is a real fine person.

Police patrols in B.C. parks to be increased

By The Canadian Press

Provincial authorities have moved to rid B.C.'s campsites of hot rodders and troublemakers.

Dr. D. B. Turner, B.C.'s deputy recreation minister, says police patrols of the 80-odd provincial campgrounds are being stepped up and in some areas regular park patrols will be doubled.

The measures follow complaints of youthful rowdiness by tenters.

Dr. Turner said the RCMP has agreed to co-operate with the recreation department to keep the campsites free from hoodlumism.

If that doesn't work, he said, consideration will be given to erecting gates at campsite entrances next year, manning them with guards and imposing a night-closing hour.

"We like our campsites to be open but we've got to keep beer-happy kids out of them," Dr. Turner said. "Campers are entitled to peace and quiet."

He said the department has so far received complaints from campers who visited three campsites: Saltery Bay, near Powell River; Wasa Lake near Kimberley, and Goldstream, a few miles north of Victoria.

From these, he said, the problem seems more annoying than serious.

Staff-Sgt. Earl Nelson of Nelson RCMP detachment said police and park officials are co-operating in a concerted drive to stamp out hooliganism at the Wasa Lake site.

"We have increased patrols at the site, particularly during the night and at week-ends," he said. "There have been no incidents reported for the last two weeks."

Meanwhile, Charles Velay, chief engineer for the recreation department, said in Victoria that campers themselves are to blame for most of the rowdiness.

"Sure, people will complain," he said, "but when you ask them to lead you to the offenders, or to press charges, they always back down."

He said the number of complaints is "negligible compared with the number of people using out sites."

An RCMP spokesman said one problem is that loud parties always break up as soon as a patrol car appears on the scene.

He said the only answer is "full time patrol by the parks department." The department has patrols in the daytime but relies on the RCMP to police the sites during the night.

PHOTOGRAPHY FOR THE SMALL FRY

How young are photographers? When they can see something they want a picture of, plus the ability to locate the subject in the viewfinder and trip the shutter.

Maybe too young to be using film yet, just lugging an old box camera around playing photography, but by the time a year or so of school has been added to the score, any youngster who is interested can make picture-taking a rewarding pastime.

There's a touch of philosophy here too — photography is a hobby which is enjoyed most when the results are shared with others.

Summer time is camera time for young people as well as old. It is the best time to introduce children to photography. They have their full range of activities, their trips to local parks and beaches, games, vacation and perhaps summer camp. All ideal occasions for pictures.

Parents would like pictures of such activities, but few are bold enough to invade a secret conference of the Wolf Cub weekend or a small daughter's slumber party to obtain them. These are the pictures the youngsters must take themselves.

Photography is a small cash investment for the pleasure it can bring. An uncomplicated camera for beginners costs less than many toys, lasts longer and pays dividends. To get a little long hair about it, it is also an ideal medium for releasing creative ability in many children and much less messy than finger painting.

When a child sees his pictures, after processing, study them with him. Show where the horizon should have been level, that much as he detests cousin Miranda it wasn't nice to chop off her head in the viewfinder.

Point out that the camera must be held steady and shutter gently pressed when taking a picture for really sharp results; that simple cameras don't take pictures closer than six feet unless a low cost close-up lens is slipped over the front, and if the child shows real interest, get one as an encouragement.

Simpler cameras even have flash guns built in. This extends picture making to indoors, or outdoors at night — ideal for a weiner roast or camp fire sing song!

People who make young people their concern have recognized photography as a valuable and important hobby for some time. The Boy Scouts give a merit badge for it, many schools have their photo clubs and darkrooms to encourage students.

Beyond this however, a camera in the hands of a young boy or girl can give immeasurable pleasure, build a keen and worthwhile interest.

This could be the summer to start your child in photography!

plastic "bullets"

FOREST researchers in Alberta are experimenting with plastic "bullets" to plant lodgepole pine seedlings, an idea originated by a university forester which makes possible the use of a planting gun to drive the bullets into the soil.

Jack Walters, research forester at the University of British Columbia, developed the technique of growing and planting tree seedlings in bullet-shaped plastic cups. Seedlings as young as eight weeks can be planted successfully by this method without disturbing the root system, in contrast to ordinary nursery-grown stock which is transplanted first in the nursery and again on transfer to reforestation areas.

If the "bullet" technique proves successful in the field trials under way at Hinton, Alberta, it could be applied to reforestation and restocking of forest stands. The plastic containers, two and one-half inches long, are driven into the soil with the seedlings inside. They are designed to permit the small trees to grow out of them.

The Alberta District Office of the Federal Department of Forestry is trying out procedures and assessing the results of this method, in co-operation with the North Western Pulp and Power Ltd., at Hinton and the Alberta Department of Lands and Forests.

Attention is focused on the possibilities of survival and growth of the seedlings. Mr.

Walters used a spring-triggered planting gun in his original trials, but there are possibilities of developing various types of mechanical devices utilizing the plastic bullets.

This is only one of a number of silvicultural research projects conducted by the federal Department of Forestry in Alberta, in co-operation with industry and the provincial Lands and Forests Department.

In the Mixedwood Section of the Boreal Forest, experiments are continuing of methods of obtaining adequate white spruce regeneration through the preparation of seedbeds by heavy mechanical equipment.

New projects in the Sub-alpine Forest are concerned with cutting methods on mature spruce stands to ensure regeneration of spruce and fir, in co-operation with Blairmore Sawmills Ltd., Blairmore, and with the planting of hybrid spruce and Douglas fir. Also being assessed is the value of pre-logging scarification to aid regeneration of high-elevation spruce and fir stands.

Nature Scrapbook

Precarious balance

Nature is never wholly in balance. All forms of life possess the innate power to multiply far beyond their normal death rate unless controlled by some system of checks and balances. It is when such checks are no longer operative, as when men drive predatory birds from the countryside and the rodent and insect populations suddenly expand with almost explosive vigor, that we begin to recognize the dangers attendant upon the advance of civilization and the need for intelligent conservation of all life forms.

Disease free trees

The long range objective of tree breeders is to develop or discover trees that are highly resistant to disease. In British Columbia the search is being pressed by the Plus Tree Board, a co-operative body composed of representatives of the coast forest industries and the B.C. Forest Service. Specifically, the aim of the Plus Tree Board is to increase the volume and quality of trees to be cut from future stands. The tremendous improvements made in agricultural and horticultural crops have been largely best parent stock and breeding from it. It is the contention of the Plus Tree Board that the same process can be applied to forest trees.

Ant Society
All ants live in communities of colonies and these assemblages are composed of several kinds of individuals. There are winged males and females — as well as wingless workers in all typical colonies. In addition, there may be exceptionally developed workers with tremendously specialized heads and jaws, the so-called soldiers, together with fertile wingless males and females. Eight different kinds of castes of ants are known to science, but not all are found in any one colony, as certain castes peculiar to one species are not developed in another.

We learn slowly

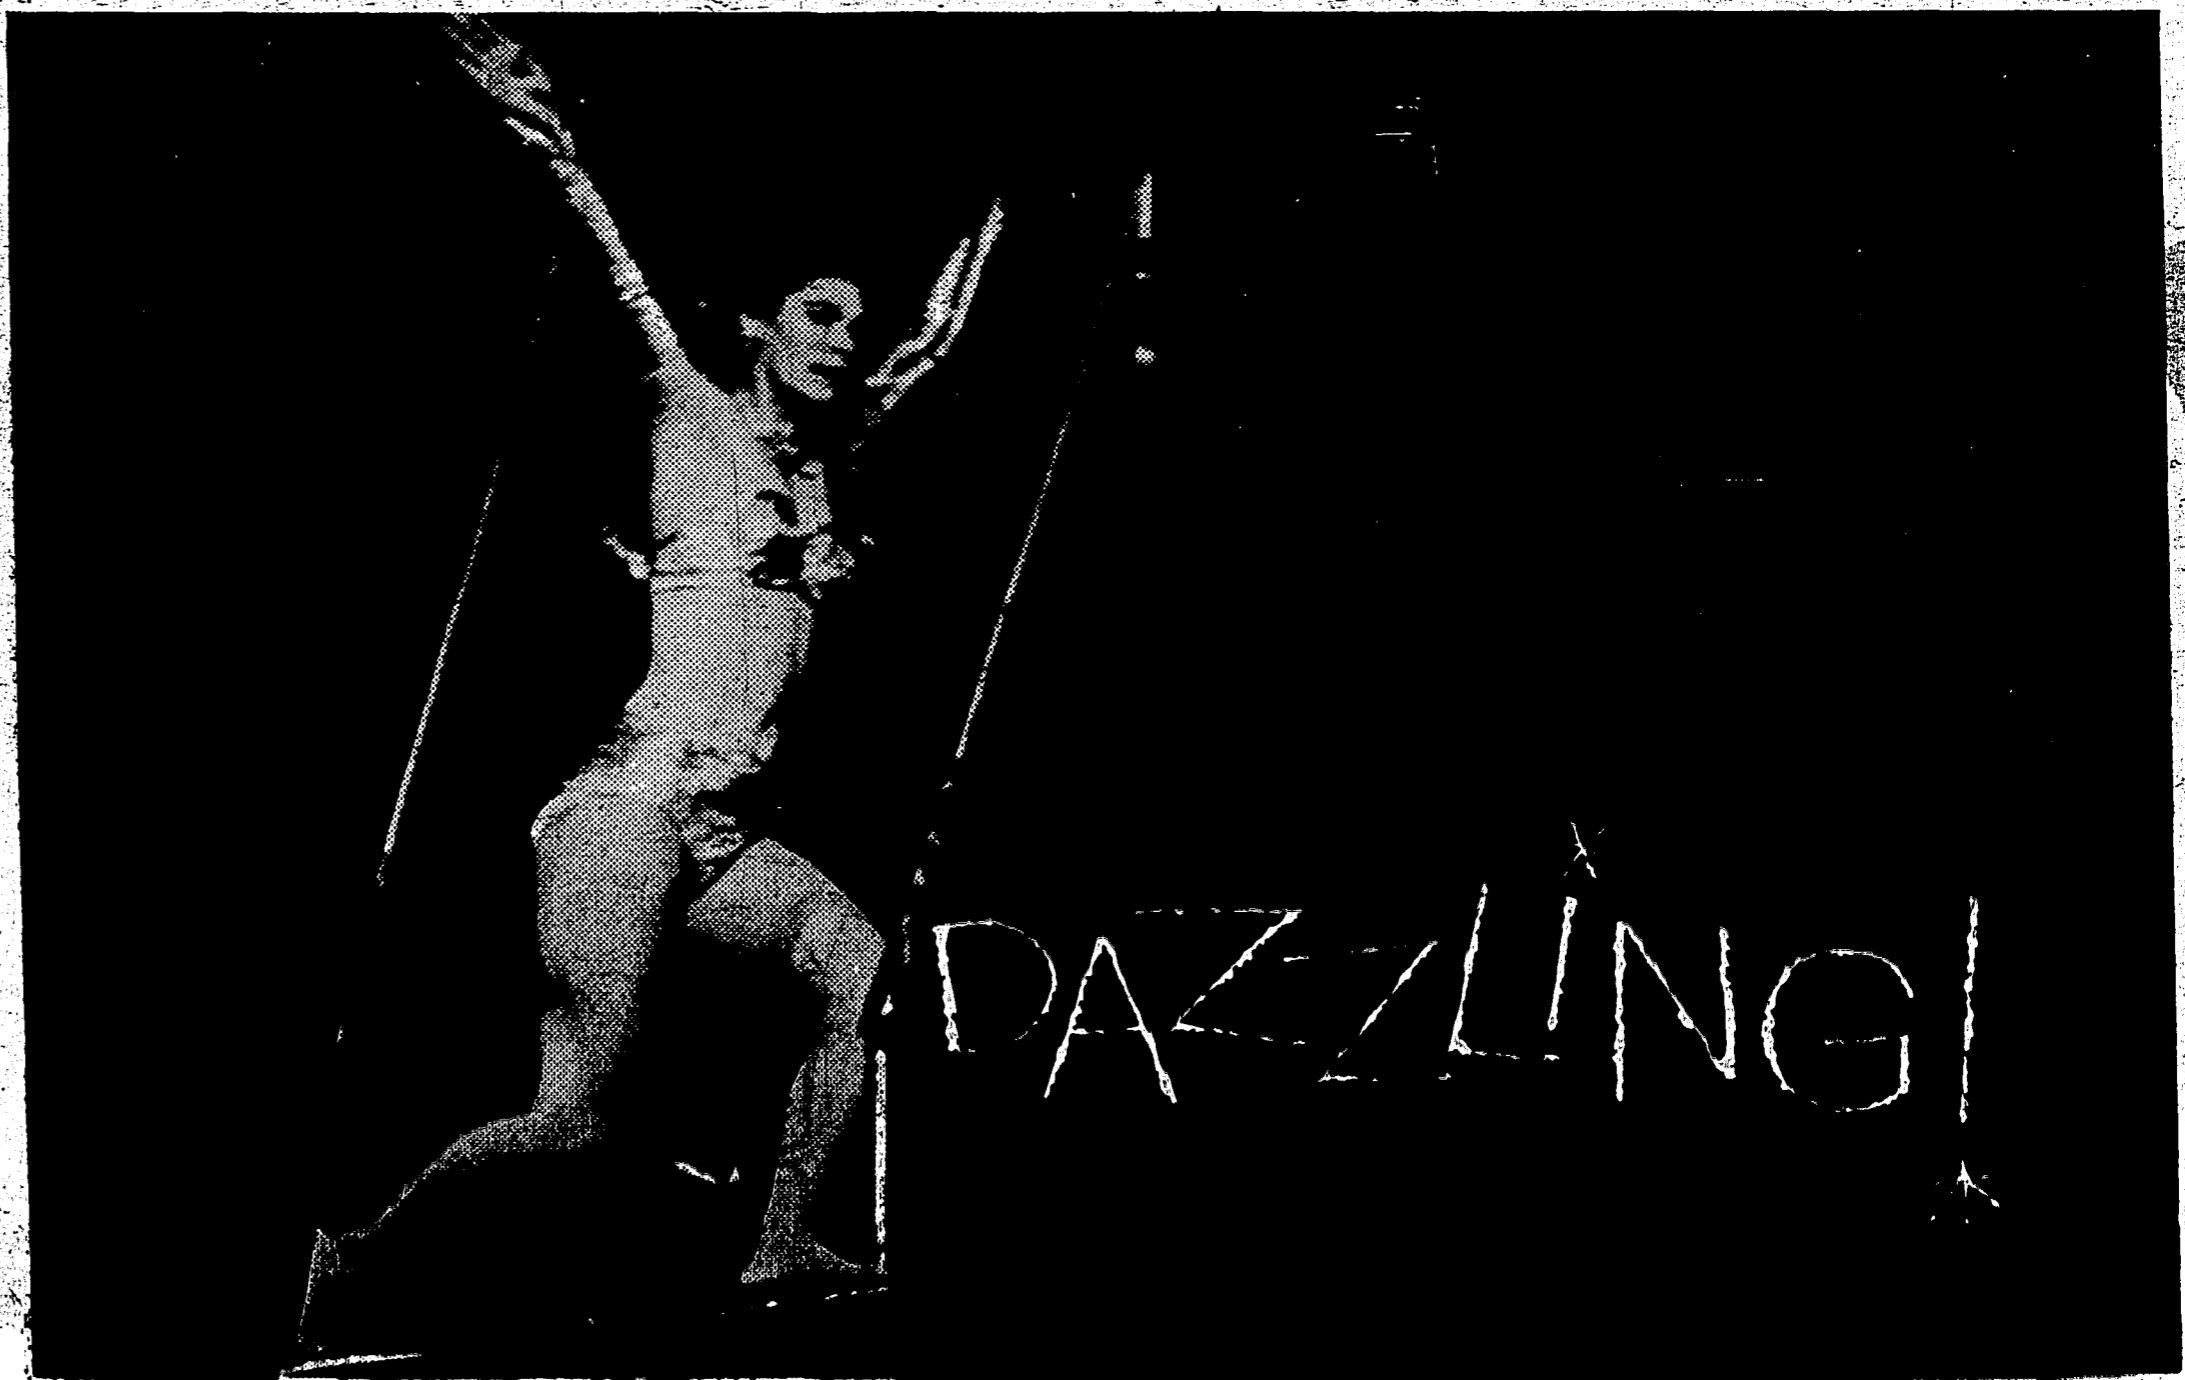

Recently authorities in China were shocked to discover that, on the average, wild birds were consuming grain and other foods at the rate of four catties each per year. A catty is an Asiatic measurement of weight equivalent to 600-615 grams. Two years ago instructions were given for the destruction of all wild birds with the object of conserving the nation's food supplies. The result was a spectacular increase in the number of rodents, insects and other pests with disastrous consequences to standing crops and the slaughter of birds is now a punishable offence.

The next meeting of the Summerland Rod and Gun Club will again be held and preceded by a shoot at the trap range. The shoots are enjoyable and interesting and the meetings might be a little more so if some of the shooters did not make such a mad dash to leave just before the business. It is the information magazine of the Fish and Game Branch, Dept. of Recreation and Conservation and it is free. As far as I am personally concerned, my tax dollars have never been put to better use than in this publication.

Anyone claiming that the conservation officers aren't on the job should have seen Mr. Tyler checking firearm's permits and fishing licences during the sweltering weather last week. By the way, have you got your firearms permit yet. If you have, you should also have your membership in the Summerland Rod and Gun Club with the $100,000 liability insurance protection. If you do not care about yourself, at least think of the other guy, who may be me, and I'm dog-gone partial to myself.

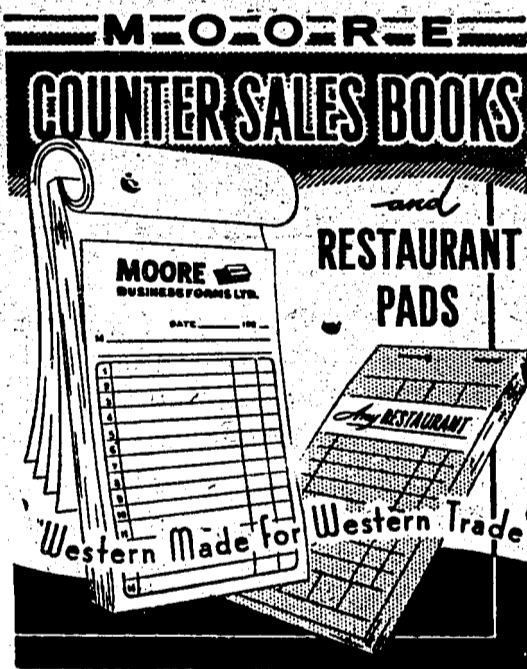

If there are any doubts about the value of Pennask Lake to British Columbia's fresh water fisheries, the fact that 3,300,000 trout eggs were collected from spawners by the hatcheries department should dispell such doubts.

It is also interesting to note that a post hooking morality study was carried out at Pennask Lake. Results are now being analyzed, with tentative results indicating that morality was highest among gang-troll caught fish.

A letter direct from the office of the minister of recreation and conservation will be read at the next meeting reporting on the Monashee Park question.

So don't forget that shoot and meeting, August 19, the shoot to start about 6:30 p.m.

Oliver knocks Red Sox out of league playoffs

Fishing News

by Bert Berry

Okanagan Lake

No reports of any large trout being caught. Several heavy strikes on Kohanee tackle, but none landed. Kohanee still biting, good and nice catches being brought in.

Fish Lake Camp

Not too much news from here, but a couple of reports from upper lakes good.

Headwaters Camp

Have report in from K. Moore from here indicating that fishing has started to improve and some nice catches being made on No. 1.

Pennask Lake

Still good fishing here, some large fish up to 19-inch being caught. Road still rough, last four miles.

White Head Lake

No reports but will be coming on.

Brenda and McDonald Lakes

No reports but should be OK.

Shannon Lake

Bass and perch fishing here. Last report said lots of algae in water and makes it hard to find the holes in seaweed.

Bear Lake

Nicest catch I have seen for some time came out of here last week. Fish up to 3 1/2 lbs. and nice shape. Caught by J. Mayne and family.

Oyama Lake

One report 5 1/2 pounder caught. Still one of the best in this area but moody as all good lakes

The baseball season came to a close for the Summerland Red Sox on Sunday as they split a double header with Oliver and lost the series two games to one.

The Red Sox took the first game behind the pitching of Jim Sheeley by a score of 10-5. They looked like champions in this game as they banged out 15 hits and played good ball.

The second game was all Oliver as they outplayed and out-hit the Summerland team. Pushkerinko started for the Red Sox and was charged with the loss. He was relieved by Sheeley after the first inning. The Red Sox tried hard for a come back but the final score was 6-4.

This was the last junior game for Ken Pushkerinko, Keith Skinner, Don Kennedy and Brian Drou. They will all be missed and it will mean a major rebuilding job for next year's Red Sox.

In the other playoffs Kamloops defeated Vernon two games to one and will now meet Oliver for the league title.

No reports in from the southern lakes but with cooler weather should be getting better. Generally speaking fishing will improve from now on.

Man found in pig pen

by Rev. G. Leasor

A young man who had left home with a considerable amount of money found himself in a pig pen feeding the pigs. According to a reliable source the man had travelled a long distance and had squandered all his wealth in wildest extravagance.

On the verge of starvation, in desperation he took a job feeding pigs. It was at this point he found himself. Quickly composing a confession of his folly he set out to seek employment as a servant at his boyhood home.

To his delight and amazement, his father welcomed him with open arms. He was restored to the family with full privileges of a son.

The young man in this account could be you, for it represents the man who has separated himself from God. A similar reconciliation between you and God could be enacted by a similar return and confession — "Father, I have sinned against heaven and in thy sight, and am no more worthy to be called thy son." Luke 15: 21.

All of us want something

Why not follow the example of three million Canadians from coast to coast who plan to get what they want by saving at the Bank of Montreal. By doing this, you will not only build a fund for your particular purpose, but you can use the B of M in many other ways. We shall be glad to discuss any of our services with you.

A B of M savings account does three things for you: It helps you to financial independence and enables you to get what you want by saving. It helps you to build a good credit standing — makes it easier to borrow money when the need arises.

It builds confidence and peace of mind.

There is no substitute for saving — and you will like saving at the B of M.

We invite you to come in and open a savings account with us. One dollar of your money and three minutes of your time are all that are required to start your "My Bank" success fund.

One more thing you will find important: it is literally true that when we grant personal loans — as we do every day — our decision is influenced to a great degree by whether or not the applicant has a satisfactory savings account with us.

More than three million Canadians deposit their funds at B of M branches from coast to coast, and Jock Johnston, manager, would be pleased to welcome you to West Summerland branch and 'MY BANK'.

A 42-week National Film Board series, Canada at War, will be seen on the CBC-TV network on Saturdays during the summer months. The program, which revives a significant decade in Canada's history from 1936 to 1946, is a repeat of last year's series and portrays developments on the home front in addition to the role played by the armed forces in battle. Canada's distinguished record on the war fronts is recorded in films covering the Spitzbergen raid, Dieppe, Sicily, Italy, Normandy, Holland and Germany.

Plan now to enter the WI fruit pie contest at the fall fair, September 6 and 7. There are five classes this year — peach, apricot, cherry, apple, and any other fruit. Pies must be in by noon, September 6, and should be in a nine inch tinfoil plate. Miss Dorothy Britton will be the judge. A first and second prize of $1 and 50c is offered in all classes. The Review is again putting up a special prize of $10 and $5 for the best two pies in the competition.

Phone company will spend $78,500 in improvements

Continuing growth in demand for telephone service in the Summerland area has necessitated the expansion of exchange facilities. A program constituting an additional investment of $78,500 is now in progress and involves an addition to the exchange building, as well as to the exchange equipment. Modern features are being incorporated in the exchange equipment installation which will improve telephone service.

Effective April 1, 1964, future moves of party line subscribers from one location in the community to another will no longer require a change in telephone number. This is a decided advantage and will be applicable even though you may up-grade your service from multi-party to a higher grade of service such as four-party, two party, or individual line service.

Telephone numbers for Summerland subscribers will have a "new look" effective April 1, 1964. The present prefix of Florence Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Junius Johnson has been awarded the Inland Natural Gas scholarship of $250.

At commencement exercises this year she was awarded the Summerland scholarship of $250. Because her marks averaged 86 per cent she is entitled to a UBC scholarship of $175. Florence also won the Women's Institute Rose Bowl for top standing in the graduating class in home economics.

Florence will be entering the faculty of arts and science at UBC this fall to proceed towards a Bachelor of Home Economics degree.

Anderson advocates new pooling key

"Price" not "Season" To Be Main Integer

The Anderson report is out. Not officially, but copies of it are in the hands of delegates of BCFGA locals. Sent out with it is a report by the Soft Fruit Pooling Committee — which, it is indicated is already implementing some of the recommendations made by Dr. Anderson, following his interviews with leaders, review of briefs and analysis of the situation.

According to information made available to the Review, the Anderson findings recommend the following items.

That price shall be used as the barometer in soft fruit pooling, rather than season. The basic policy of Dr. Anderson's report appears to be that instead of the common principle of pooling being used — period-pools; short term or seasonal pools — a price series based on the trend of actual fruit sales value of any commodity daily throughout the season.

Dr. Anderson points out that direct pooling has had to be modified by the pooling committee for several reasons. The existing method of adapting the direct-pooling principle are, by regulation too inflexible and it is indicated, not sufficiently in line with actual conditions to permit a satisfactory result. Hence the idea of a "price" key, instead of the "time" one now used.

In establishing this "pricing" as a daily level would be far too complex, a bi-weekly integer is recommended. Thus, it is suggested, the returns to the growers would reflect the actual monies received for the fruit.

Inasmuch as Summerland growers have been greatly concerned with the so-called "surplus" problem, Dr. Anderson's recommendations on this are of more than passing import locally.

He first of all states that returns from sale of that part of the crop known as surplus should be spread over all growers, excepting when it results from the growers who persist in delivering after the normal marketing season has ended.

However it is made quite clear that growing of uneconomic varieties will not only not be encouraged, but will certainly become somewhat unprofitable. "Surplus" is defined as fruit that is sold at prices very much below the normal market price and the growers' cost of producing the commodity.

Invite agriculture minister to visit fall fruit fair

An invitation has been sent by the executive of the Summerland Fall Fruit Fair to the Hon. F. X. Richter, asking him to officially attend this year's function. Hope was expressed by several members of the committee that Mr. Richter, as the provincial minister of agriculture, and as an individual interested in all phases of farm production and activity for many years prior to his entering the legislature, would find it possible to attend.

In its new, enlarged scope the function is expected to at-

Peach Valley water line will be replaced soon

Keeping pace with the requirements of the municipality, council this week approved a two stage domestic water improvement. The Peach Valley domestic water line, long realized to be too small to serve the increased number of homes it serves, is to be replaced.

The undertaking will be carried out in two stages, the first of which will be completed this fall. Second phase will be done in 1964-65. Total cost of both projects may run to more than $50,000.

At the present time a four inch main serves most of this area. During the years since this main was laid the number of homes served by it has multiplied many times. Council agreed that the draw from this small main, originally intended to serve not only fewer homes, but also a lower per-residence consumption had reached the end of its usefulness.

Municipal Works Superintendent Ken Blagborne, in his report to council on Tuesday night stated that it is planned to replace this four inch line with a ten inch for the first 6,500 feet, approximately a mile and a quarter. This section will be completed this fall. For the other section, he stated, it was planned to do this in 1964-65, using a further 4,500 feet of the same size of main.

It was pointed out that the ten inch main has several times the capacity of the existing four inch. This will eliminate the depletion of supply that has resulted in some gardens and lawns being short of water.

Dr. Anderson indicates that where fruit is sold to sustain the market-as-a-whole the deficit accruing should be spread over the whole, when it is delivered within the normal growing season.

Cost of the first phase has been worked out, said Blagborne, who quoted a figure of $36,096 for this sector.

Under the plan, the first phase of the line replacement will commence at the CPR station on Victoria Road. It will end at the Pete Eden property.

Phase two, when it is laid, will carry on from this point, ending at the Ryan Lawley place. Council agreed to the suggested immediate start on phase one, and Blagborne was instructed to seek bids on the required material.

The superintendent pointed out that the first sector is the most difficult, as it is necessary to lay part of the line through bedrock, and other portions through a swamp area.

Blagborne said that it would take about 35 working days to complete the laying of the line. He suggested a starting date of October 1, with completion by November 20. Council approved his recommendation.

A garden party and reception in honor of the Hon. Harry Hayes, federal minister of agriculture, was held at the Summerland research station on Friday. The former Calgary mayor, now a member of the federal cabinet, met heads and members of the research staff plus Reeve Norman and Mrs. Holmes and Mayor and Mrs. M. P. Finnerty of Penticton.

Rash of accidents at Trout Creek

A further rash of auto accidents has occurred on the Trout Creek sector of Highway 97. Two of these occurred on Sunday, and one on Tuesday. Two persons have been hospitalized, and property damage amounted to almost $3,000.

This latest series of accidents has brought the total occurring on this stretch of highway during 1963 to date, to eight. Last year there were only three for the full calendar year. Injuries to individuals and damage to property have soared similarly in the comparison.

Alarmed at the weak end series of car accidents, and impatient over the lack of response from Victoria, the executive of the Trout Creek PTA have sent a further wire to the Hon. P. A. Gagliardi, minister of highways. They are in hopes that the combination of the accidents and their insistence may achieve some action in correcting conditions on this portion of Highway 97.

The wire points out that there have been five serious accidents on this stretch of highway within a very short time, three of them this week. They have reiterated their demand for a solid white line throughout the Trout Creek sector, plus a 30 mph speed limit.

One of the trio of accidents, that occurring on Tuesday might well have been more serious but for the ability of one driver involved being able to deflect his car. This motor mishap hospitalized an Oregon man with undetermined injuries. The RCMP are still investigating, and the name of the injured man has not been released.

In this accident a car stopped on the highway at the first corner north of Bonthoux's corner, to make a turn. In turn, three other cars paused behind his vehicle. Then a fifth car, driven by Peter Thompson Chapin of Penticton plowed into the rear of the fourth car, driven by the Oregon man. His car, in turn, slammed into the rear of a small European car driven by Lloyd Donovan French of Rutland. Mr. French succeeded in swerving his car off to the right, thus avoiding continuance of the "box car" effect.

The Chapin car was damaged to an estimated amount of $300; the Oregon car to $100 and the Rutland vehicle to $200. Charges are contemplated, the RCMP state.

Attending convention in California

Ervin Felker of Summerland is a minister on the move. The Felker family will lead a delegation of members of the Summerland congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses to an international convention of the religious group scheduled for the Pasadena, California Rose Bowl, September 1-8.

Upwards of 70,000 persons are expected to attend the eight day gathering representing Western Canada, the United States and 36 foreign countries. Mr. Felker said the delegates from Summerland will be mixing business with pleasure but the emphasis will be on business when the assembly is in session.

Fletcher Markie is host of 'Telescope', the CBC TV series of half-hour programs examining the Canadian image at home and in the world at large. It is seen Monday nights during the summer moving to Fridays in the fall and winter.

Kiwanis Notes

Uncertain weather and meeting place may have had something to do with a smaller than usual attendance. Another factor of course is that this is an especially busy time.

Frank Hayward, a former Summerland boy and brother in law of Clair Elsey was introduced and welcomed.

He was very enthusiastic about the famous "Hallquist" steak dinner, which we fear many in the club take for granted.

Before adjournment of the regular meeting, a short directors discussion was held.

A letter had been received from John Cooke, asking the club to assist in sponsoring an "Old Timers Day" in latter October, the idea being to promote and encourage a Summerland museum.

The members were sympathetic to the idea, but felt before committing themselves they should seek further information.

A motion was passed to rent a TV set for a juvenile, who will be tied up in hospital for some two or three weeks.

Locky McKilligan, Robin Wright and Hilly Smith were appointed a committee to work in conjunction with the recreation committee on a new suggested public project.

Jack O'Mahoney is visiting with relatives in Anchorage, Alaska and is expected home on Thursday.

— The Recorder.

Social Rebuilding

Frustrated by rising welfare costs, plagued by taxpayers that the municipal burden is too heavy, a number of B.C. reeves and mayors are dropping the portcullis on relief payments. In many cases those embarking on this move are doing so only to highlight an increasingly intolerable situation.

Some of the proponents of the new move are asking that all "able-bodied" males on welfare work on the municipal woodpile, or whatever project passes for it. They state that many of the men drawing payments are "well able to work, and should do so."

This would be an excellent idea if the situation was as clear as is indicated. The fact is that a lot of people, particularly in the smaller communities, criticize those they know who are drawing welfare, without actually knowing whether they are or are not entitled to welfare payments.

What is causing this increasing number of people on welfare? Any such examination will discover that by far the majority of those on welfare rolls would infinitely prefer the dignity of drawing a paycheck for which they have worked. The difficulty is to find a job they can do.

Who make up both the ranks of the unemployed and those on welfare. By far the majority are those who have been, for some reason or another, forced out of productive earning because they have no profession, trade, or even the vestiges of a skill that can be merchandized on the labor market.

There are three main categories among both the unemployed and those on welfare. There is the senior group — those who are over 55 and find they cannot get a job, because they are regarded by so many of us as too old. There is the junior group, those who left school — where they learned nothing of value in wage earning — and who find they lack not only knowledge, but the capacity to get that knowledge.

The third group is the shadowy in-betweens, those who have little or no skill, or none that can be marketed; who are over 35 and hence often not considered for purely pick and shovel jobs, and who finally get discouraged and drift to the dole as the only means of keeping themselves and their families from starving.

We've got to answer these problems, we've got to do it nationally, not at the local level or even provincially. Doing so won't be easy, but it has to come, and we have hopes that the present government in Ottawa will start on the difficult road to a solution.

Meanwhile, the efforts being made by municipal leaders will succeed in spotlighting the problem, an highly essential item. But we have doubts as to whether it will produce a solution.

The protest, as such, is worthwhile; but let's put the pressure, not on those who are themselves helpless to find a solution to their own problem, but on Ottawa, where the final answer must come from.

This spring I won a contest sponsored by the South Okanagan branches of Rebekahs and Oddfellows. I was to take part in the 14th annual United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth, Bus Tour No 17

In Spokane, on July 7, I, with 35 other delegates from Oregon, Washington, Alaska and B.C. and four counselors departed on our bus Maud. From there, we were to travel across Canada via Regina, Winnipeg, Ottawa, Quebec City to New York City, where we would spend six days and then back across the United States, through Valley Forge, Gettysburg, Washington, Chicago and other points of interest.

New York City was, to put it mildly, different. When coming into New York, we could hardly see the skyline, due to a perpetual haze which hung over the city. At the Sheraton-Atlantic Hotel, located next to the Empire State Building, we were joined by 112 other delegates from New York State, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Kansas, Pennsylvania and Quebec. Altogether there were 16 Canadians.

From dawn until dusk we toured New York, seeing Greenwich Village, Chinatown, the Bowery, Times Square, Rockefeller Centre, and most important of all, we visited the UN.

Many of the American delegates on our floor had received pamphlets from the John Birch Society, stating to the effect that the United Nations was a communist instrument. By the end of the week, our delegates had changed their minds. Whenever the question was raised as to the use of the veto, we were told that the Americans abstained, the rest of the Western powers followed her lead, getting the same result as a veto.

We heard lectures from people working in the United Nations, and also visited delegations from member countries. Our groups sat in on a session of the Security Council and the Committee of 24.

Our stay in Ottawa was brief much to my disappointment. We had time only for a quick tour, saw the Changing of the Guard and visited the Mint.

Fortunately for the Americans our stay in Washington was longer. There we visited the FBI, Smithsonian Institute, Capital Hill, White House, the Washington Monument, the Lincoln Memorial, two Jima Memorial and other interesting areas.

I will be grateful to the people who made this trip possible and to the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs all over Canada and the U.S. always. They gave me the best summer I have ever had. We saw more than most people are able, met more people than others, and enjoyed the comradeship of 35 of the future leaders of the world.

Living Water

by Rev. D. M. Rathjen

"Jesus answered and said unto her, Whosoever drinketh of this water shall thirst again; but whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst: but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life." John 4: 13, 14.

The following comment by H. A. Ironside on the above passage of Scripture is worthy of note.

"What Jesus said of the water of Jacob's well is true of everything that earth can offer. There is nothing in this scene that can effectually quench the thirst of a human soul. Man is made for Eternity and the things of Time can never satisfy. Augustine spoke truly when he cried, 'O God, Thou hast made us for Thyself, and our souls can never find rest until they rest in Thee.'"

But he who drinks the living water of the gospel finds that which quenches his thirst forever. Christ fully satisfies the heart that learns to confide in power of the Holy Spirit produces the new birth, thus giving everlasting life. This is the present possession of all who put their trust in the Lord Jesus."

"I heard the voice of Jesus say, 'Behold, I freely give the living water, thirsty one. Stoop down, and drink and live.'"

I came to Jesus, and I drank

Of that life-giving stream,
My thirst was quenched, my soul revived,
And now I live in Him."
— Bonar

Letter to the editor

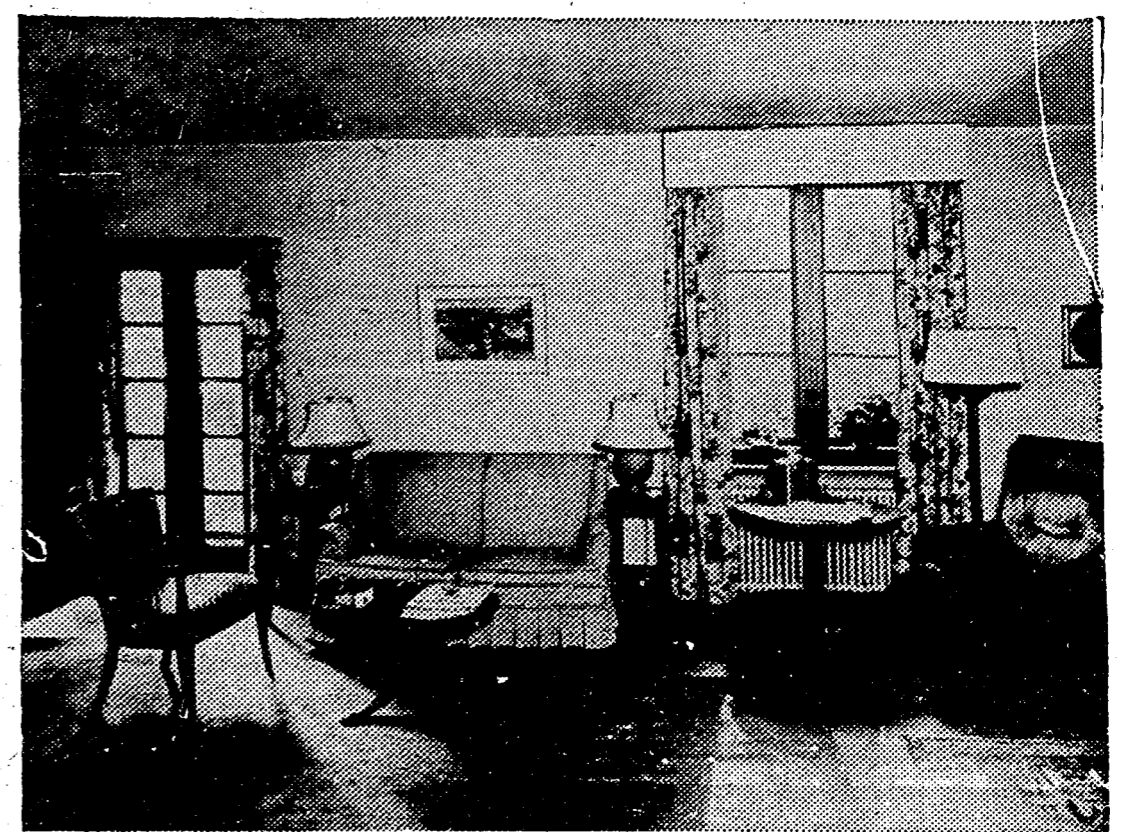

The Editor,
The Summerland Review.
Dear Sir:

The Review publication of an article in the Courtney Comox regarding mayor W. C. Moore and social welfare gives me the impression of a pompous group of overpaid aristocrats ganging up on the unfortunate for the purpose of fattening their greedy egoist personality.

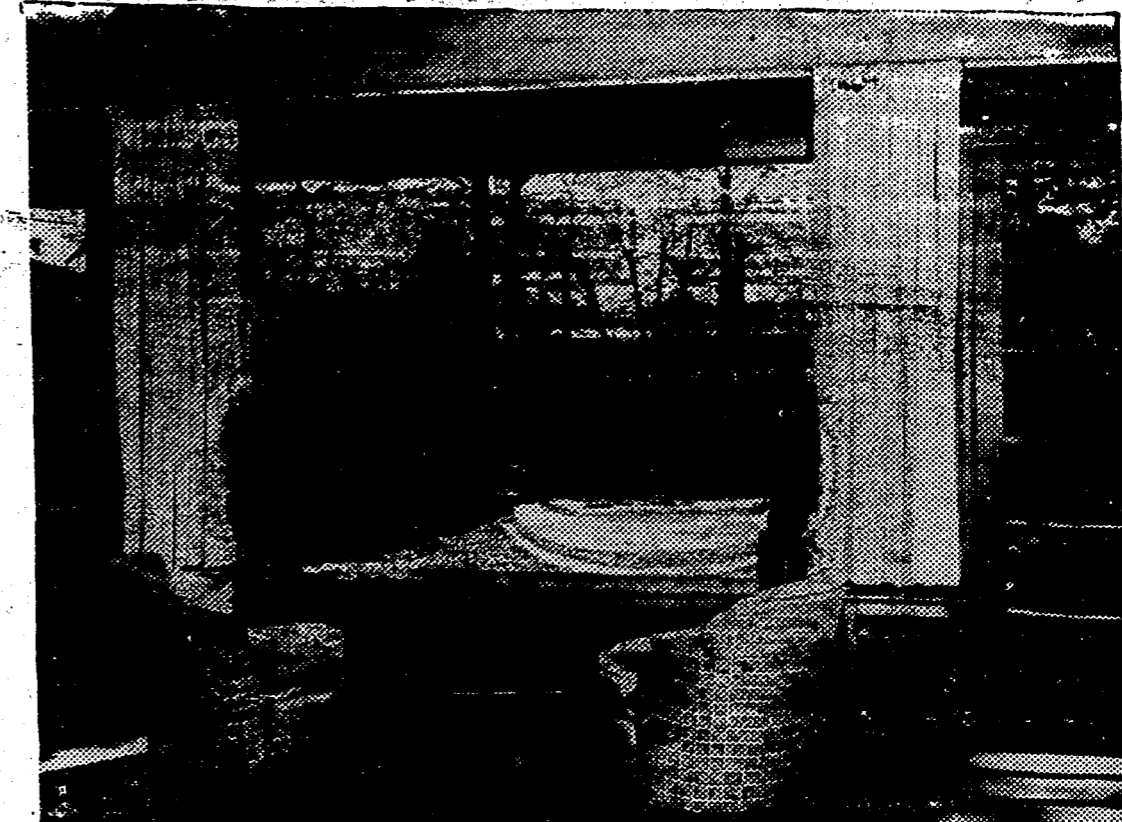

We had slave drivers before the war, during the war, and still have them. I want to ask what type of people do they not realize that they themselves have a substantial number of substantially serious sins of their own to mend and which should be done before griping about the unfortunate.

How about dealing in an equitable way with those who have and enjoy wealth much in excess of the value of their personal contribution to society. For example we have a party who is reported to have acquired six million dollars worth of our natural resources at a cost of only thirty thousand dollars; it is in the form of mining property presumably treated as capital gain and therefore free of income tax. That is equal to an average income of $273.78 for every

Japanese students tour Summerland

The Summerland UBC Alumni Association was host to six Japanese exchange students on Sunday and Monday of this week. They were Takeshi Kamiyoshihara and Susumu Adachi of Tokyo University; and Michiko Nagayama, Hajime Ando, Konosuke Konishi and Kotaro Ebata of Keio University. The six students have just completed a six week summer session at UBC where they attended courses related to their particular fields of study.

Three of the students are studying medicine, two are working towards degrees in Economics, and one is planning a career in International Relations.

The students were guests of the Alumni at a corn roast at G. E. Woolliams, Trout Creek. They were billeted by various Summerland residents on Sunday night and Monday were taken on tours to local points of interest. P. Phillipoff showed them around the Entomology lab at the Summerland research station and, following this, Wilf Gilmour took them through the Co-op Growers packing house. The final visit of the day was to the fish hatchery where Bud Green explained the functions and operations involved.

The students left Monday afternoon for Kelowna where they were to be Alumni guests.

One of the students from UBC now on a similar University sponsored exchange in Japan is Tom Gant of Kelowna hour of 25 years, for net gains subtract cost of development is reported at two billion. We are supposed to consider that and processing, his total wealth justified and for my part if that is freedom then it is freedom for the domineering class at the expense of the worker. I consider it legalized fraud! Mayor W. C. Moore and the type he is should all trade places with the unemployed and prove whether or not they can excel under the same circumstances. My guess is they would go on acting like balky mules.

It is impossible to have so much migration and automation without displacing many workers, you have what you call a democracy, Canada is big enough to give satisfactory employment to all the people who are here; there is much development work to be done. Those of you who are fortunate and complain about the unemployed have yourselves to blame for most of it.

MULTIPLE

Multiple Listing Services do achieve outstanding results for buyers and sellers alike — $7,000,000 worth of property sold in the Okanagan-Kamloops area in 1962, more this year! But when you know how this effective home-selling technique works, you'll agree that MLS owes its success to good sense, and good business

HERE'S HOW SELLERS BENEFIT:

1. You list Multiple with the realtor of your choice — deal only with him at all times.
2. Within hours, he sends full details of your property to all MLS member Realtors throughout the Okanagan and Kamloops area.
3. All the Realtors and their salesmen go to work selling your home! You reach all potential buyers — and only MLS can offer such effective exposure to the market.
4. For your complete protection, credit investigation and prospect screening are carried out as part of the MLS service.

BEST FOR BUYERS TOO.

Details of all MLS-listed houses are available to you through the Realtor of your choice — plus photos to help you decide which properties warrant further investigation.

Swim display Friday at Rotary Beach

Culminating hours of instruction during which scores of Summerland youngsters learned not only how to swim but how to be safe in the water, the Rotary-Red Cross swim class examinations will be held on Friday, August 23. The event will be held at Rotary Beach.

The junior and intermediate examinations will be held simultaneously at 9 a.m. The seniors exam will start at 11, with intermediate life saving and bronze medallion classes at 2.

Miss Barbara Fudge and Mr Bruce Wallace, assistant directors of the Red Cross, and Mrs Gloria Nevens of Penticton will be the examiners.

At 7 p.m. a demonstration of swimming strokes and skills, which have been taught during the six-weeks course will be presented for the Rotary Club members and their wives, and any others interested. This will be given by the instructors of the Summerland classes, headed by Tom Brennan, Doreen Ducommun, Linda Munro with assistants Susan Hallett and Becky Downing.

Swimming awards will be presented during the evening session by Cece Wade, president of the Rotary Club, and Dr. Blanchard Munn, chairman of the swim class committee.

Junior gardens reported excellent

First results of the 1963 junior garden competition sponsored annually by the Chamber of Commerce have been released.

In the girls' division Barbara Porritt and Margaret Fell were tied for first place and Lee Beggs took third prize.

In the boys' division Rollie Dunn took first place, David Gartrell was third.

The Porritt and Fell gardens were so close that the judges decided to award two firsts instead of a first and second prize. Judging was on the excellence of the garden and such things as weed control, layout, thinning and growth of plants were carefully scrutinized by the judges.

Judges were Mr and Mrs John Berg, Mrs. J. Schaeffer, C. Bernhardt, Walter Ward, Tom Ritchie, Mr. and Mrs John Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kirk and Alec Watt.

Twenty-five childrens' gardens are entered in the contest.

The committee wish to point out that all contestants still have equal opportunity to win prizes by exhibiting in the Junior Section at the fall fair on September 6 and 7. Entries will be accepted on the evening of September 5 at the arena.

Fishing News by Bert Berry

Okanagan Lake

Some reports in this week of trout up to two pounds being landed. Lots of Kohanee. Fishing will improve from now on.

Fish Lake Camp

Some good reports from Fish Lake itself, however water is very low and hard to troll. Upper lakes give good reports.

Headwaters Camp

Report in this week shows good improvement on catches. Cooler weather will help from now on.

Pennask Lake

Still limit catches coming out of here. Road very rough last four miles.

Shannon Lake

Lots of algae but should be OK for perch and large mouth.

Bear Lake

Still good reports from here.

Oyama Lake

Fish up to seven pounds landed last week by one party.

A note of interest for fishermen wanting to rent boats for Okanagan Lake. A Johnson at foot of Peach Orchard has a few boats he is renting out.

There will be prizes for the pet parade; for junior handicrafts — which have been a feature at previous fairs — as well as for winners in the fresh fruit and kindrid classes. E. M. Tait, chairman of the agricultural section, is asking all growers to select suitable entry items for the September 6 and 7 event, and to keep them in condition for entry then.

Entertainment during the fair will include Tony Stolz, who will provide organ music for the coronation ceremony, and possibly also the Summerland band.

A gymnastic display will be featured at 8:30 on Friday, this to include acrobatics, trapeze and trampoline demonstration, the performers being a group sponsored by the Kelowna Recreation Commission.

A reception and banquet is to be held for the new queen and her court, with fruit fair chairman F. E. Atkinson and Mrs. Atkinson as host and hostess. This will be held at the Yacht Club at 6:30 on Friday.

Prize monies will range from $2 for first for the kiddies parade, which will be held at 2 p.m. on Friday; to $1.50 for such items as winners in the junior handicrafts and $1 for winners in each of the agricultural classes. In addition, worthwhile special prizes are offered in many classes.

Joy of West Summerland were involved in an accident on the Trout Creek sector. The Joy vehicle was stationary at the side of the road facing south; then started up and crossed the highway into the path of the Ontario car. There were no injuries; damage totalled approximately $450; and RCMP report that charges are contemplated.

At approximately six o'clock Sunday evening a car driven by Harry Semenov of Grand Forks paused on the highway, then backed up to pick up a passenger, while still partly on the travelled portion of the highway. It was rammed in the rear by a car driven by Gunther Schmah of Vancouver, who indicated he had seen the other car but did not expect it to back up.

In this accident Mrs. Schmah was taken to hospital; damage aggregated approximately $1,800. Investigation into this accident is continuing.

REGISTRATION
ENDS SATURDAY

"I feel indebted to Canada; this country has been good to me," said Dr. James Marshall of Summerland, in announcing he was seeking the Progressive Conservative nomination for South Okanagan. "I feel that if in some way I can now repay this country for the opportunities it afforded me, then it behooves me to do so," Dr. Marshall continued.

He said that he had planned to retire in February of next year, but that when it became known he would be free by then, he had been approached to enter the lists for the Progressive-Conservatives. He said that since his arrival in this country in 1909, from his birthplace in Paisley, Scotland, he had been afforded opportunities that would hardly have come his way in his native land.

"The Progressive-Conservatives in B.C. have an outstanding leader, one who is bound to leave his mark on affairs in this province," Dr. Marshall stated. He added that he had been "incensed at being pushed around, and considered others felt the same way."

Date of the Progressive-Conservative nomination has been set tentatively as Friday, September 6 in the Kelowna Aquatic. It is understood that E. Davie Fulton, new leader of the movement in B.C. will be the key speaker at this gathering.

Registration of voters will be possible until Saturday at Farm and Garden Supply for West Summerland; and Daniel's Grocery for Summerland. After August 31 those not on the list will be unable to vote.

Enthusiasm keynote for fall fair

For the past nine years the British Columbia Fruit Growers Association has sponsored an Okanagan Valley entry in the class of District Agricultural Exhibits at the Pacific National Exhibition in Vancouver. The exhibit this year has once again been awarded the Dewar Shield. The exhibit is made up of products from the entire Okanagan Valley and was made possible by the work of a committee under the chairmanship of a well-known Okanagan fruit, vegetable and flower grower, E. J. Hock and ably assisted by W. F. Ward of Summerland, W. Baverstock of Vernon and P. G. Jack James of Kelowna, who was for many years horticulturist with the B.C. Inland Vegetable Marketing Board.

Indications are that the 1963 Chamber of Commerce Fall Fruit Fair will not only be the best yet held by the community, in point of entertainment and displays, but also that it will be the most representative. While final entries will not be known until next week, there is advance indication that these will be both more plentiful and more varied even than in 1962, which in itself set new marks.

The committee in charge of the coronation has been working hard to make the queen crowning ceremony an even more impressive occasion than previously. This group is under the convenorship of Mrs. G. C. Johnston and Mrs. Norman Holmes. F. E. Atkinson, general chairman of the fair, and his committee have co-operated to make the Friday night opening function as impressive as possible.

The crowning of the new queen will start promptly at 9 p.m. It will be preceded by an entertainment program, commencing at 8 p.m.

Now an important part of the fair, the children's pet and costume parade will commence its march at 2 p.m. on Saturday afternoon, en route to gather in the new Memorial Park playground well before that time. There will be prizes for fancy dress, comics, historical, and national costumes; also for the best decorated bicycle and the best decorated wagon; the best dressed dog and the best dressed cat.

For the fruit exhibits entries must be placed by 10 p.m., Thursday, September 6. Judging of these will be on Friday morning, so there will be no danger of loss of quality before

Mothers cheer, Local furniture firm kids cry, school starts makes new progress

Next Tuesday, September 3, at about 12 noon, busses will start to pick up Summerland school students to bring them to the school for the school opening exercises which take place at 1:00 p.m.

Secondary students new to the area are asked to register at the school office this week so that they may be assigned to their proper classes thus avoiding unnecessary delays on the opening day. These students are requested to bring any former report cards with them to assist the school authorities in placing them in their proper classes.

All pupils attending, from grades 8-12, are to assemble in the secondary school auditorium at 1:00 p.m. From there they will be assigned to their divisions, given their timetables and their text book rental fees will be collected. All students are asked to bring $5.50 on the opening day of school. For grades 8-9 this will pay for their text book rental ($4.50), a Developmental English Record Book (50c) and a locker rental fee (50c). For grades 10-12 this amount will cover their text book rental ($5.00) and their locker rental (50c). The 25% assessment for all industrial arts and home economics students will be collected later.

New impetus has been gained by Summerland's new furniture manufacturing firm, Georgian Bay Rustic Furniture Co., following their display at the Pacific National Exhibition. A picture of the items displayed there appears below. This is the fifth year they have exhibited at the PNE.

It is expected that the firm will make further new progress shortly, following the encouragement it received at the coast recently. In addition to previous dealerships, they have signed up the Hudson's Bay Co. which will handle their lines at its Vancouver store.

Previously, orders had been received from both Simpson-Sears and Woodwards, which are continuing with their representation. Rob Horné, head of the firm, received considerable praise and favorable comment for the products displayed at the PNE, as well as much commendation from the firms

A Surprise Election

Premier W. A. C. Bennett has done it again — called an apparent snap election, just when everybody (including us) had considered he wouldn't. As in the past, he has picked a time when it would appear all items aren't in his favor. He has done this in the past and, should he retain his hold on the government, is likely to do it again.

He has said he is seeking a mandate on the power question. He did this before, when he first took over the B.C. Electric. In that campaign all the stops of the old political organ were pulled out by a variety of groups, not all of them political. The public heard all the arguments, the boastings, the wailings and the promises — and they chose Premier Bennett.

What the voters will do on September 30 is something that will be known after the tally has been made. It would seem to be too early to start forecasting the outcome of the election.

But it does look to us that the same conditions which prevailed before the last provincial election, prevail now. No new truly valid arguments have been brought forth since the last provincial election. But for the next month, we can sit and back and listen to the politicians' rehash all the various arguments of why we should vote for this or that party — and then on election day we can show them who's boss!

Taxes and Taxes

It has always been our contention, as well as that of just about every property owner, that taxes on taxes are not fair.

The money we pay in municipal taxes, sales taxes and many concealed taxes of which we are not conscious, was all part of our original income. Otherwise we would not have had to pay out.

However, we have to pay our income tax on a "net" amount which really is not net because it includes all the other taxes, over which we have no control.

What at first blush appears a praiseworthy suggestion was put forth at the recent convention of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities. It was that the municipal taxes paid by homeowners should be deductible for income tax purposes. And as it stands that is a suggestion which would be approved wholeheartedly by every homeowner in the country.

It seems rather naive though when one notes the reason advanced by the Federation in its support. If its proposal were adopted, it states, the municipalities would be able to make more use of the taxability of property values.

The Federation should clarify its statement.

Does it mean that the municipalities could increase our taxes only by the amount of our income tax savings, or that the municipal tax could be made so high that, being deductible, we would not pay income tax at all?

We can't win, can we!

Remember - School opens Tuesday

The Gospel of Labor

by Rev. P. K. Louie

One of the glorious things about Jesus was that he was a worker. Whereas most founders of religions lived lives of contemplation and ease, Jesus worked with His hands. He did not complain about his lot or feel downtrodden because of it. He was proud of his work. He thus dignified the labor of man as a vital part of the program of God for mankind.

Work is an instrument of the good and full life. On the wall of a factory there appeared this little verse, called "A Funny Age."

"We're living in a funny age. What most folks seek these days is less of anything to do.

And yet, it does amaze,

They want more time to do it in.

And man, ain't we got fun!

They think they ought to have more pay

'Cause they don't get it done'

We need to recover a sense of the importance of honest, plain hard work as the basis of our economic life. It is the keystone of our national character. It is also a tonic for living at its best. Furthermore, we need to recover a sense of pride and workmanship. It is work well done that makes men happy, creative, useful and leads to life's rewards of satisfaction.

Let no man be ashamed to work if he does his job well, if he is working for some greater objective than the satisfaction of his own personal physical desires. "Man shall not live by bread alone." A full dinner pail is no assurance of a full life. We need to see beyond our work its true meaning.

Perhaps some people feel that religion spent a large portion of its force in doing things apart from life in sacrificing, praying, worshipping. They forget that these visible signs and expressions of inner devotion provide our work with a vision and higher purpose, thus translating our labor into a token of our partnership with God. After all, God made the forests, He did not make the gardens. He made the herbs, but not the medicines. He needs the daily work of man if His will is to be accomplished upon the earth.

When man sees his work as a continuation of his worship, or as an integral part of it, he is growing spiritually. Spirituality is indeed rooted in prayer, meditation and study of the Word of God, but it is expressed also by the way one lives his life, and, in particular, by the way one does his job, how he earns his daily bread.

Report from Parkdale Place

by Mabel Atkinson

Notwithstanding the concourse of travellers on the streets in August our registered visitors have been fewer, however from Arizona we had Caryl Kellar and Mr. and Mrs. Blair Underwood, the latter to visit his mother here and to share the square dance jamboree in Penticton.

As usual, we wish to thank all for numerous donations. For beautiful flowers our thanks go to the United Church; Gordon Smith, Mrs. Tilbe, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Ritchie, Mr. and Mrs. Dunham, Gordon Beggs, Eric Tait, Mrs. Waines, W. F. Ward, John Dunn, Miss Doreen Tait, Mrs. Nelson, Mr. Moody, Mr. Ellis, Mr. Jackit and Mr. Milne for donations of fruits and vegetables.

Mrs. Emery, Mrs. Boothe, Mrs. Perry celebrated birthdays. We welcome back Miss Chambers from a three week visit to the coast. Pleasant enough, but our weather is preferable, she says.

Mrs. K. Crozier writes of her remarkable recovery and restoration to health and sends greetings to all.

Call Of The Wild Goose

A stories-high Canada goose, its wings raised for flight, welcomes travellers to the nearly tamed wilds on the north shore of Lake Superior, the world's largest fresh water lake. The giant bird is at Wawa, Indian for goose, historic gateway to Ontario's new 540-square-mile Lake Superior Provincial Park, opened to the motorist by the Trans-Canada Highway.

This is a land of soft beaches and hard, craggy bays lined by cliffs 1,500 feet high; a land of smooth-surfaced lakes bubbled by jumping waterfalls, trout and pike; a virgin land, yet well equipped with camping and picnic areas. It is one of the many wonderlands opened by the 5,000-mile Trans-Canada. For word on more write the Canadian Government Travel Bureau, Ottawa, Canada, for the free booklet, "Circle Tours From the Trans-Canada Highway."

Summerland well represented at PNE

In addition to the exhibit shown on this week's front page others in this community made a good showing at the Pacific National Exhibition. One of these items also illustrated on front page, was the product of the Summerland factory of Georgian Bay Rustic Furniture Co. There were, in addition, a number of entries and several awards in the Women's Institute classes, as well as in the ceramics group.

A first prize in ceramics was won by Desmond Loan. Mr. Loan entered a coffee set including cream, sugar and eight mugs; a covered candy dish; a bowl and a lamp. All of these were in stoneware.

In the Women's Institute classes, the Summerland WI was well represented and also won a number of awards. The group won first prize in a crochet class; for a patchwork quilt; an applique quilt; fourth prize for thrift class items; and third for hand-made soft toys.

Until he was notified by the Review, Mr. Loan was unaware he had been an award winner. He indicated that the information would prove an encouragement for further work and further competition.

Wellwoods honored prior to departure

In view of their moving from Summerland to Kamloops, Mr and Mrs. Roy Wellwood and their family, Cherie, Peggy-Lee, Ida, William and Michael were honored at a social gathering last Sunday in the Baptist Church.

A presentation of a stereo-record player with detachable speakers and stand was made in recognition of their long and active association in the work of the church.

Mr. Wellwood has been a resident of Summerland for 25 years except during his absence for war service in the RCAF. He was superintendent of the Baptist Sunday School.

Family re-union for Doherty's

Mr and Mrs. Malcolm Doherty, Virginia and Scott of Brighton, Ontario visited, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Doherty of Trout Creek last week.

A family reunion was held in their honor. Guests from out of town were Miss Frances Doherty and Mrs. M. E. Costerton, Vernon; Mr and Mrs.

Born at Royal Jubilee Hospital, Victoria, to Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Turnbull, a son, Rob-in Franklin, weight 6 lbs., 15 oz. Another grandchild for Mrs Viola Turnbull, formerly of Summerland

Mr and Mrs O. Morphy spent a short holiday in Coulee City and Wenatchee last week.

Miss Nancy Young leaves today for Mission City where she will be teaching.

Mrs. Joe Dickson and Mrs. Sam Dickson visited Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Butler recently.

Van Cutler and family of Pen-ticton. Also present were Mr and Mrs. Don Estabrooke. Mr Estabrooke and Malcolm were school friends.

Principal John Tamblyn stated that five new staff members will be with the Summerland Secondary School for the 1963-64 school year. They are: Mr. Greenhough, vice-principal who will be teaching senior social studies classes as well as counselling for grades 8 and 9; Mrs Lepins in the home economics department; Mr. Verigin will be instructing in art and junior boys physical education; Mrs. Cox, biology and senior sciences; Miss Krehel, girls' physical education. Mr. Makse, a former member of the staff who has been on leave of absence in Europe with the department of national defence, will be returning to teach social studies.

Reeve Norman Holmes held the view that the community should be responsible for only those fringing the roads.

This discussion arose out of a letter from D. L. McIntosh, a Trout Creek resident, who complained to council that the drain, bordering a municipal road, carrying water from properties to the rear of his home had begun to block up. Water from this seeps into his basement, he declared.

Dr McIntosh said that during the past few years he had spent a total of $180 to clear the drain, yet the problem continues. He said it plugs approximately every three years. He asked the council to consider making it a municipal project and to "make a job" of fixing it properly.

Works superintendent Blagborne said this area is plugged by a lilac hedge and by roots from a tulip tree. He stated this particular drain needs piping on both sides of the sump.

Councillor Tait said that someone must take the responsibility for such drains and that it would appear the municipality was the one to do so. Reeve Norman Holmes said he felt the municipality should be responsible only for drainage ditches paralleling the roads. The councillor from Trout Creek replied that it is essential to the whole Trout Creek area that these drains function properly.

It was finally agreed that a cost-sheet for this particular project be submitted. Meanwhile the municipal works crew will dig out the clogged area to give temporary relief to the immediate area.

Local "Greeter" Praised

Evidently it isn't just the "big" tourist towns of the Okanagan that have welcoming committees. In a letter to the council at last week's meeting, Mr. and Mrs. E. Lloyd Brooks of Edmonton spoke highly of a recent holiday spent in Summerland. They stated they had been greeted on the street by Tom Ritchie, whom they called a "one man welcoming committee."

They said Mr. Ritchie had showed them around and when Mr. Brooks was taken ill, Mr Ritchie had been of considerable help. The letter further commented on the excellent care given at the Summerland hospital, also on the bouquets of flowers taken to them by Mrs. Ritchie.

The couple remarked that they had been strangers in this community, but had found in it a splendid welcome.

years ago, the Spiritual Regeneration Movement, by His Holiness Maharishi Mahesh Yogi, who is visiting Canada in a world tour. His message is to reach the deeper levels of consciousness, unfold latent facilities, realize more complete happiness, bring to fruition the glories of life, spiritual and material.

This rather unusual missionary comes from the Valley of the Saints in Uttar Aasli, hidden in the deep recesses of the Himalayas. Strange to say he has recruited disciples from Montreal to Vancouver, who are holding a two week course in September on Vancouver Island. The USA must have given a hearing to this new crusader, for the last conference was held in Catlina, California.

Concessions won by Trout Creek PTA

On Wednesday provincial government crews were engaged in widening of the shoulders of the Trout Creek portion of Highway 97. At the same time, 40 mile per hour speed limit signs were installed on this portion of the Okanagan traffic link.

It is understood that there has been no move to install the double solid line requested by the Trout Creek PTA.

No further accidents were reported on this strip of road during the past week.

Speeding on the highways in the vicinity of Summerland still continues, however, as police court records show.

Kiwanis Notes

The last outdoor, steak dinner of the season was held on Tuesday evening on Tommy Young's lawn.

Twenty-eight sat down, with the odd codling moth peering nervously round the corner of a leaf.

Substituting for regular chef Jerry Hallquist, Walter Toews did a bang-up job.

President Bill Laidlaw welcomed back two members: Hans Stoll, who has been under the weather for several months, and Ernie Jenkinson, who has been holidaying in England and Scotland.

The club's delegate to the Museum Society, Scotty Ritchie, was asked to make a report outlining what was expected of Kiwanis. Scotty stated that as yet the details are not finalized. The society is seeking the co-operation, not only of this club, but the Rotary Club and any other community group who might be interested, in staging an "old timers" get-together in late October. The purpose of this is to promote interest in the museum idea. Fifty years residence in the valley constitutes an old timer. It would seem that there are not too many left, since only 25 or 30 invitations would be mailed. The Kiwanis will be happy to assume any share of the responsibility assigned to them.

Jerry Hallquist's recommendation to hold a sweepstake on the coming election was adopted. One half of the proceeds to go to the club, and the other half to purchase B.C. Electric. Jack O'Mhaony, delegate to the Kiwanis convention in Alaska, will give his full report at a later date.

It was decided that next Tuesday the club would meet in a body at 6 p.m. at the high school and caravan to a smorgasbord dinner at the Totem Inn at Peachland. This will be the last fling before finally going into our regular indoor quarters.

Fishing News

by Bert Berry

Okanagan Lake

Has been improving. This last while and Jack Henley caught a nice six pounder off Crescent Beach. I think that fishing will be getting progressively better from now on.

Fish Lake Camp

Still have some nice reports in from here.

Agur Lake

One good report and very nice catch from here. Could be losing its moodiness and start to produce.

Headwaters Camp

A few reports show fishing improving, especially on No. 1 lake. I know of one very good catch made on Tuesday which was well worth the trip.

Pennask Lake

Still have nice reports from here, but report road bad. It has rained on top of work that was done by the maintainer. Caution should be used until it dries up.

I have been hearing of some nice catches in the Oliver area and this could be worth while now the nights have cooled. Generally speaking fishing will be coming on from now on.

Hunting season is just around the corner and I would like to urge hunters to be careful. Hunting is a wonderful sport but one careless act can result in tragedy.

Can you live on your income and enjoy it?

For most people, modern living is placing an ever-increasing strain upon their pay cheques. With yesterday's luxuries — automobiles, television sets, washing machines, and so on — becoming today's necessities, many of us feel haunted by instalments to be paid here, there and everywhere.

The Bank of Montreal Family Finance Plan is the modern approach to financing things you buy. It enables you to plan your purchases for your home and family, and helps you to meet unexpected expenses under one single comprehensive plan.

If you have a steady income, you don't need to labour under the strain of endless calls on your income. Now, through the B of M, you can arrange one regular payment each month to cover everything.

Depending on your income, you can borrow up to $3,500 at the B of M with payments extending up to 2 years, or even 3 years if need be. The Bank of Montreal Family Finance Plan can be tailored to suit any salary. Planned re-payments help you to run your income instead of it running you.

All F.F.P. loans are Life Insured and should you die, your debt to the bank will be cancelled. In short, F.F.P. is the modern aid to better living for you and your family, so why not call on Mr. Johnston at the B of M tomorrow.
