Light-up competition announced

Brilliant colored lights are going up all over the community as residents prepare for Christmas, and for the annual light-up competition. This has always drawn a good list of entries, it being anticipated that this Christmas will be no exception. This will be, as in previous years, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, which last Thursday named T. S. Manning as chairman.

Objective of the effort is to induce residents to brighten up their homes and premises for the festive season. The awards are based upon originality, effectiveness of the lighting and appearance.

Top winner will be awarded the F. E. Atkinson Cup, to be held for one year, and a $10 cash prize. Last year Rev. Norman Tannar won the award.

Second prize is $10 in cash and third prize is $5. These prizes will be awarded at the annual C of C banquet held in February.

To assist judges in finding decorated homes, please phone your entry to HY4-5406.

NEW CONSTABLE HERE

Constable Mike Roth, formerly with the Penticton detachment of the B.C. Mounted Police, is now stationed here.

A portion of this year's large apple crop was turned into apple pie filling at Cornwall Cannery. These three pictures show various phases of the operation. The cannery recently celebrated its 15th year in Summerland.

No snowplowing for private lanes

The plan whereby municipal equipment plowed snow on private roads and driveways has come to an end. At Tuesday night's municipal council meeting it was agreed that the scheme will be dropped immediately.

Those who paid in the previously arranged five dollar fee for this service will have their payments refunded.

During the discussion on this topic it was revealed that it costs the municipality approximately $500 for snow removal after each storm.

One sidelight on the debate was a discussion of local equipment. Councillor Barkwill said the intention is, in 1964, to enquire into the feasibility of acquiring a new sander and also into the possible use of calcium chloride.

As originally invoked the snowplowing plan was beneficial to a number of homeowners. But as was reported on Tuesday, some people took advantage of the idea and demanded far more than was originally agreed upon.

Supt. K. W. Blagborne said that some people seemed to expect that not only would their lanes be plowed out but that the snow would be removed as well.

Councillor Walter Powell stated that the original idea, promoted as a service extended to property owners, was that those invoking it should make their payment early in the season, well before the first snowfall. Further, it was planned that such plowing as was carried out should be performed at the discretion of the works superintendent.

At the meeting a letter from Mrs. Brian Liebert, critical of the use of municipal equipment for this purpose was received. She suggested that only in the case of elderly residents, unable to perform the work themselves should municipally owned equipment be used for plowing lanes.

Supt. Blagborne said that local trucking firms have equipment that can plow the lanes, and that it is available on quick call. The council agreed the municipality should not go into competition with private firms and should therefore withdraw the service.

Reeve answers Martin's objections

Arguments put forward by the Hon. Eric Martin concerning a "reduced" hospital for Summerland met their match in statements and facts put forward by Reeve Norman Holmes in an answer to a letter from the minister received recently. Key of the answer is that while the recorded number of births in Summerland hospital was low, the actual number was considerably higher.

Said His Worship: During 1962 there were 72 babies born to Summerland families, and while only 49 of these were at the local hospital, all or most of them would have made use of local facilities had modern ones been available. A new hospital, complete with a maternity wing would be used by practically all new mothers in this community.

The same might be said, stated Reeve Holmes of the "patient days" bracket. With a more modern complete hospital available, local residents would be more than willing to use it, rather than the bigger institution in Penticton.

His Worship quoted, as further evidence, facts and figures regarding area population. He said that in 1941, the official census showed that the Summerland population was recorded as 2,054. The 1961 census votes a figure of 4,307 or more than double in 20 years. Further increases are likely, the reeve declared, as the growth trend is being maintained. This is particularly true of Summerland, where the economy is "not a boom and bust" one, but is exceedingly stable.

As a further item, Reeve Holmes has stated that there is now one more practicing physician in Summerland. If Summerland has to use the Penticton hospital, it could, conceivably, lose its medical practitioners as well. This would likely work a serious hardship on the residents of Summerland, who would be called upon to pay high fees for a house call, when doctors would have to travel all the way from Penticton to answer them.

Another point raised in the reply, is that Summerland is a district which has a high level of retired people. These residents cannot travel too far for treatment.

Members of council commended the reeve for the letter and agreed that further ideas should be gathered both by members of council and the general public and sent on to Victoria.

Museum planned as library addition

Sketch plans and a proposal for linking the suggested Summerland museum to the present regional library building were laid before council Tuesday evening. F. E. Atkinson, chairman of the Museum Society, made the presentation.

Suggestion is that the planned addition to the library could be a Canada Centennial project. Members of council have added a further suggestion that such a project might be financed under the new Municipal Development and Loan Act.

In putting forward the recommendation, Mr. Atkinson said the museum should be a live, active factor in the education of the younger generation occupying a place between the library and the school academically.

For this reason, as well as to make the museum more available, an addition to the library would be beneficial, Mr.

LUCKY NUMBER FOUND

W. W. Borton found the lucky number last week when he bought his paper at Mac's Cafe and won $10. This week's lucky number is 92 and it is worth $2. The number of your paper is Atkinson also recommended there be an additional room provided for a children's library and also accommodation for a room for storage of film.

W. A. Gilmour, who has been a Summerland resident for some years has announced his return to the practice of law in this area. Mr. Gilmour has been president of the B.C. Liberal Association for the past two years, and during this time devoted his time exclusively to Liberal party activities in this province.

In the course of his duties he has travelled extensively through various parts of Canada, and has visited all portions of the province. He referred to the political scene as now being stabilized, and business conditions as good throughout western Canada. The future looks very bright for B.C., he said.

Kiwanis

Notes

No chickens in the Kiwanis club. There was a good turnout Tuesday in spite of the cold night and slippery roads.

Preston Mott led the sing-song. It had been thought that Harry Hackman's superb performance of last week could not be beaten, until we heard Preston. There is a lot of talent in this club.

Wilf Gilmour reported on an interclub visit he made with his party to Wenatchee club, and Hans Stolj reported on a similar meeting at Okonogan Club.

President-elect Brian Liebert called for volunteers to transport the minor hockey league team to Vernon on Saturday.

Jerry Hallquist reminded the club of the annual custom of having the members of the school patrol as guests for dinner before Christmas.

Welfare chairman Scotty Ritchie reported that it appeared there would be more requests this year than usual for Christmas hampers.

Doug Campbell announced that the Yacht Club had given a general invitation to all service clubs to attend its dance Saturday night.

Jerry Hallquist introduced and Doug Campbell inducted the newest member, Harry Hackman.

J. R. Borsos, university professor of art, gave a highly interesting talk on his profession illustrating his points by mere blobs of paint on a canvas, which left his audience mystified, until by a couple of final strokes on the picture and it assumed startling realization.

The speaker was introduced by president Bill Laidlaw and thanked by Don Carmichael.

Midgets battle to tie with Kamloops

by Glenn Fell

The Summerland Midgets battled to a hard fought 3-3 tie with Kamloops Midgets last week. Peacosh led Summerland's attack with two goals and Agur put in a single. Assists were by Bullock and Fenwick. Goalie Fitzpatrick was an outstanding star for the home team.

The game was interspersed with 20 assorted penalties reminiscent of the penalty-ridden juvenile game with Kamloops.

The Summerland Bantams were defeated 11-1 in a game at Kelowna. The Summerland boys looked much improved in the second and third periods, but they couldn't make up the loss in the first period.

On Sunday the Bantams will play host in an exhibition game with the Kamloops Bantams.

A new name, new plans and renewed publicity for the main highway that passes through Summerland was outlined to an international group meeting in Penticton during the week end. At the same time it was indicated that the old Highway 97 designation will disappear, at least in the U.S.

The gathering was that of the directors of the Okanagan-Cariboo Trail Association. Representatives from as far apart as Kamloops and Reno, Nevada, attended the sessions.

It is now planned to make the organization and the route it publicizes extend from Mexico City north to Fairbanks, and Anchorage, Alaska at the ends of the Alaska Highway. To tie in with this, a new name designation, the Pan-Am Highway, has been coined.

Festive Books at the library

by Kay Dunsdon
 Among new books of fiction we have a number of young authors from Germany, Spain and France, and through their translators we gain a fresh insight into the political and everyday life of the people.

The first is "Speculations About Jakob" by Uwe Johnson, translated from the German by Ursule Molinaro. It tells the story of a young rail road worker who becomes drawn into a Soviet plot to enlist the help of a German girl working for NATO. Taking place on both sides of the Iron Curtain, events provide the speculations about Jakob's death. The author is a young East German who won the Prize. Now living in West 1962 International Publishers' Berlin, he is credited with being a contemporary writer giving a clear picture of the conflict between East and West.

"School of the Sun" by Ana Maria Matute is a good novel set in Spain. This author won Spain's most important literary award and was writing best sellers at 18. Translated by Elaine Kerrigan.

A British ministry official has written a humorous and ribald satire on most everything. It is called "Blood Rare" by Mickey Phillips.

"Glass Facade" by John Watney is a good tale of a secretary and her rather wacky boss, a British food industrialist.

"The White Cockade" by Vincent O'Brien tells of Gillian Kensedy, who wears the white cockade, symbol of the Jacobites in 1745. Losing his home and wealth after the battle of Culloden, he goes to Canada and here he serves in his regiment during the struggles between Britain and France. "The PGE Railway to the North" by Bruce Ramsey is a fascinating, well written story of the trials and political tribulations of those connected with this railway. Bruce Ramsey is a B.C. boy born in Nakus, but growing up in Vancouver. His love is history, especially of our province and he has given us a well written book.

We have new booklets to help you choose a Christmas book for the young person on your list. They are grouped by age and have very good selections. Once more we urge you to please return overdue books, there is a slot in the back of the library for them.

First Concert most enjoyable

by Madeleine Alstead
The Summerland Overture Concert Association held its first concert of the season on December 5 in the secondary school auditorium. The audience was enthusiastic in its reception of the two singers, Bernard Turgeon, baritone and Shirley Chapman, mezzo soprano.

These fine singers of wide experience in the operatic and concert fields presented a program that charmed the audience. Both singers possess extremely good voices of warmth and vitality, produced with complete control and ease, and they gave a truly finished performance. Delighted comments were heard on all sides. The happy personalities of the singers who displayed a pleasing sense of humor, added much to an evening of pure enjoyment.

The program began with a duet, "My Friend is Mine" by Bach, beautifully sung and was followed by operatic arias. Miss Chapman sang the two famous arias from "Carmen", the "Habanera" and the "Seguidilla" with dramatic effect. She was a true Carmen with all her coquetry and charm.

Mr. Turgeon sang the "Catalogue" aria from "Don Giovanni" and the "Credo" from "Othello". Here again we had a powerful dramatic voice and a fine and exciting performance.

The artists then sang duets from "Don Giovanni", "Così fan tutte" and the "Magic Flute", a lovely blending of voices and interpretation. The next part of the program consisted of folk songs, duets and solos.

The final number was a scene from Humperdinck's "Häsel and Gretel" in costume and action and displayed the dramatic ability of the singers making a fitting finale to a varied and lovely program.

The fine accompanist was Miss Kathleen Busby Letourneau.

A reception was held in the home economics room and members of the audience could meet the artists.

An Okanagan flag

While all the present hassle over the Canadian flag — which we haven't got — is going on, the Review has a suggestion for the Okanagan. Since parts of Canada, and groups of this national rootstock or the other organization, all want either a part in the design of the flag, or to dominate it altogether, let the Okanagan join in the procession.

So, by all means, let's have an Okanagan flag. Of course, we'll keep the Union Jack in one corner, with the fleur de lisse in the other (like boxers growling at each other from opposite sides of the squared circle. But for the main item, the pece de resistance, let's have a McIntosh Apple mounted on a bulk bin rampant (with perhaps the codling moth ensconsed, under a bar-sinister of course).

Or, as an alternate choice use crossed picking-ladders as background with groups of peaches, pears and apples, dangling from a cherry tree, of course. The Review is open to suggestions, so let no absurdity be barred.

All of which points up the silliness of what's happening in this flag question. Prime Minister Pearson has promised a flag for the 1967 centennial (provided he's still the prime minister then, of course), but so far has done no more about it than any previous administration.

They all seem to fear Quebec. This province, of course abhors the Union Jack — has done ever since the Plains of Abraham. It wants to see "something distinctive", by which it vaguely infers "something French".

To us the answer is obvious: that is to accept what has become (except in Québec) to be generally accepted as the Canadian flag — the Red Ensign. This carries the Union Jack in the upper quarter, next to the staff, with the badge of the Canadian coat of arms in the fly on a red background. An Order in Council in 1945, states that it is appropriate to fly the red ensign to mark any significant Canadian occasion. Ships of Canadian registry were authorized to fly the red ensign in 1892; in 1924 parliament approved the flag for use on any Canadian building abroad.

The red ensign is the choice of the Royal Canadian Legion — an organization that should have much to say on the matter of the flag its heroes have honored. It has also been selected by many other national organizations.

Let us retain this flag which not only by tradition, but by design, is Canadian.

Saturday night is singalong night on CBC radio as some of the top stars of Canadian entertainment get together for Hoop Dee Doo. Among the regulars on this hootenanny are (clockwise): Scottish-born singer Elan Stuart; Maurice Pearson, former singer with Lawrence Welk and more recently star of his own television show; leader Gino Silvi and his singers, known to many through their appearances on CBC-TV's Parade and comedian Larry Mann, the happy host of the show.

On the receiving end

by Rev. M. Schultz

We are now in the midst of America's most economically prosperous holiday. We enjoy Christmas with its hurry, flurry and worry. These past few weeks we have all been busy shopping for gifts for other. Now our thoughts turn to what we shall receive. Most of us will be on the receiving end of at least one or more gifts. Most people give gifts begrudgingly and receive the gifts enthusiastically.

It is refreshing to know that not everyone looks at Christmas to see what we can gain from it.

A little girl was asked what she liked best about Christmas. The expected answer was opening her gifts. But after careful consideration the child seriously: "The best part of Christmas is watching other people open the presents I give them."

Another family gathered together Christmas morning. Before opening the gifts there came the regular counsel to be careful with the wrapping and don't lose the cards, etc. The children listened with at least a pretense of patience. When the father had finished his instructions the oldest son spoke up and said: "Well, dad let's get started with the giving."

Christ said: "It is more blessed to give than to receive." We need to learn this from practical experience. Let us give, not for what we expect to get back, but give for the joy of giving.

After all the value of Christmas is God's gift of His only Son, and we were on the receiving end of that gift.

SUMMERLAND: Well-deserved mandate. Congratulations to Scotty Ritchie on his win at the polls, which he headed. Scotty earned his honor by his continued public service, in many fields. To the freshman member of council, Jim Schaeffer: you've tackled a new, and difficult job, one you'll have to learn — and it usually takes a member of council about a full term to learn what it's all about. Approach it on this footing, and you can accomplish a great deal. To retiring councillor Eric Tait: you well served your community — and we would suggest that you do not permit this loss — it was only by a small margin — make you withdraw entirely from public life. There's lots to do, and lots of places where your experience can be of benefit. To Howard Shannon we'd say: "Please try again. You might win next time — and anyway, you're manifesting that most valuable component of a democracy — the free election — when you enter the lists. Also — to all of those who should have been candidates and weren't, don't grumble on the street corners about the mistakes of council which "you" could have corrected. Work along with those who had the intestinal fortitude to try something you were too timid to attempt . . .

BEE CEE: seems as if the Columbia River-plan and settlement of all differences is much closer at hand than some would have you think. When three top cabinet members (W. A. C. Bennett, Robt. Bonner and Ray Williston) are trekking to Ottawa to "iron out final details" — and the Hon. Paul Martin indicates agreement is near, then things are on the move . . . we hope.

CANADA: The Arms decisions: this doesn't seem so important to us, so far, far away, but the recent decisions by the Hon. Paul Hellyer, minister of national defence will be far reaching. They will affect all of us, by reason of the saving in taxpayers' hard earned dollars.

Nearly 10 inches of snow this week

We think it safe to say that everyone here knows it has been snowing, but for the information of some of our out of town readers, such as Mr. and Mrs. W. Rothwell holidaying in California, Mrs. Rose Fiske in Vancouver, or Mrs. Wiffin in France, we have had 9.4 inches of snow and not one hour of sunshine during the past week.

Decision closer on swimming pool

Encouraging support for the idea of having a swimming pool in Summerland — and for having it soon, is rapidly gaining momentum. This was made manifest at Monday night's meeting of the Summerland Recreation Commission, which is actively backing the pool idea.

A number of local clubs and organizations are also behind the idea, reports Commission chairman F. W. Schumann. Representatives will be chosen from the school board, municipal council, Chamber of Commerce, Kinsmen, Rotary, Elks, Kiwanis, Legion, Red Cross and W.I. Mr. Schumann also broached the subject of Peachland, which presently has an inter-community arrangement for use of the Summerland Memorial Acre for skating and may also be interested in a similar plan for the new pool.

George Crofton of the Perco firm, talking to the Commission earlier this fall on various types of pools, including details on construction, size and needs of the community.

Mr. Schumann said that to serve the needs of Summerland the pool must be an "enclosed one or nothing" pointing out that pools which operate only in the summer months are not on a financially sound footing. A closed pool, operating throughout the year, can maintain itself financially, he stated.

The commission is hoping to get private support from Penticton, which at present has no all-season pool, and hence no place in which swimmers may swim in the off-season.

Plans and details of the pool at the Guelph, Ont. Veterinary college have been sought, and the Commission is hoping to have these on hand to present to council at its next meeting. This is a regulation pool, 42 x 82 feet, and thus large enough for official swim meets. In addition, further information from other points which have constructed pools, including the plastic-domed pool at Steggar are to be obtained. A nucleus of a pool committee including Dr. W. H. B. Munn, Puddy, Bill Pollock, Harry Wilson, Gordon Beggs and Mrs. M. Hyde and Mrs. Margaret Solly was set up.

At the next meeting of the Commission, figures of plans, cost and financing (including the use of centennial funds) will be presented.

Review sponsors ski classes again

The Summerland Review is joining with leaders of the local ski club in sponsoring a special ski school, which will hold its first session at the Summerland ski hill at Meadow Valley on the week end of January 4. Those wishing to participate are required to fill in the form appearing in this issue of the Review, and hand, or send it into the Review office as soon as possible.

The ski school will provide free lessons to beginners of all ages. Provision will be available for both youngsters and adults who wish to learn more about this fascinating winter sport.

General indications point out this to be a good snow year, and after last year's lapse when little or no snow made the local hill unusable, it is now in excellent shape. When the hill was opened last week end without much fanfare, the club leaders were surprised when

Christmas program at Baptist Church

Christmas music at the Baptist Church next Sunday at the 11:00 a.m. service will be the Cantata "Love Transcending".

The choir will be directed by Hendrik Wouters with Miss Ruth Dale organist. Soloists will be Mrs. Flora Bergstrom, Mrs. H. Wouters and Dr. J. P. Ratzlaff.

There will be a service on Christmas Day in the Baptist Church at 10:30 a.m. conducted by the minister, Rev. F. W. Haskins. "Satisfaction from Christmas" is the theme of the service.

Teacher-Board salary dispute is arbitrated here

No decision has so far been announced in the arbitration between local school teachers and the Summerland District 77 school board. The arbitration procedure was followed when no agreement was reached on salary schedules for the coming year.

Decision of the arbitration group, which includes B. A. Carouthers of Vancouver, as chairman, Frank R. Haar of Summerland, representing the teachers, and G. O. Fahrni of Abbotsford for the school board is expected shortly.

For Summerland the increase sought by teachers was 7.18 per cent. The board offered 1.42 per cent on the payroll (as indicated by the rise in the cost of living.) If the teachers' demand was met it would mean a further $20,000 of non-shareable taxation that Summerland ratepayers would have to meet.

At Tuesday's hearing here, it was shown that 40 per cent of the secondary school teachers are below the basic level of certification, although it was also pointed out that Summerland has a unique situation in being short of students in this community, possibly tend to stay in school more years with fewer drop-outs here than in some communities. In consequence the general situation prevailing elsewhere in Canada of 70 per cent elementary to 30 per cent secondary is reversed here with over 50 per cent of the whole force in secondary education.

Dr. J. Grady, administrative assistant to the B.C. Teachers Federation said that salaries must be kept in line to attract certified teachers to B.C. generally and hence to Summerland.

The Okanagan, said Mr. Grady, is not attracting teachers in the volume required to meet needs. If lower salaries are offered, then the valley must be satisfied with teachers of lesser qualifications.

Len Wood, advocate for the school board, who was assisted by Frank Reeder, general secretary of the B.C. School Trustees Assoc., quoted the minister of education as saying that the two main factors contributing to the teacher shortage are the exploding population, and the number of teachers that leave the force to better their education.

His argument put forward the idea that we are cultivating a great teaching force who will be young in years and in length of experience, thus the rate of salary scale can decline when these new teachers are absorbed into the working force. He said that according to statistics, B.C. has a favorable advantage over other provinces as here all teaching levels are steadily improving. Indicating the 1963 payroll of Summerland school district, Mr. Wood said: "Here we seem to have some pretty fabulous salaries. I doubt that many people in Summerland earn this kind of take-home pay." He pointed out that the average salary of a teacher in Summerland is $5,717.

Services held for Gustave Turigan

Funeral services for Gustave Turigan, aged 58, were held Wednesday at 2 p.m. from Summerland Baptist Church. Mr. Turigan died Sunday in Summerland hospital.

He was born in Lapan, Romania and lived in Summerland for 18 years, moving to Penticton two years ago.

Surviving are his wife, Constance; two daughters, Mrs. Frederick (Marion) Schmidt, Victoria; Mrs. Gregory (Betty Anne) Freeman, Vernon; and two grandchildren.

Rev. F. W. Haskins officiated at the services and interment was in Peach (Orchard Cemetery).

Wright's Funeral Home conducted the arrangements.

Unique film made by Camera Club

A unique idea in publicity for Summerland, and perhaps for the Okanagan, was given a public presentation at the annual Christmas party of the Summerland Camera Club. The members of the group and a number of guests were given a special showing of "The Summerland Story" as told on tape and by colored slides.

Some unique effects, woven into a comprehensive whole; were included in the slide tape show.

Approximately 50 slides were collated for the show, winnowed from a far larger number submitted by members of the camera club. Photographers taking the slides included Enid Maynard, Pauline Snow, Howard Shannon, Bert Simpson, Norm Wrest; Verne Charles and Alan McKenzie.

Rather than have a single person do the entire commentary, it was agreed that several should take part in "voicing the tape." This provided variety and tone color to the comprehensive whole. Those doing "speaking parts" in the story included Pauline Snow, Howard Shannon, Bert Simpson and Norm Wrest.

During the Christmas party some new slides taken by members were screened. The list included some splendid pictures of flowers by Enid Maynard, Doug Ramsay and others. Other slides included some taken in Alberta by Miss Maynard, some prize winning shots by Bernard Kent, and some special entries by Doug Ramsay.

Junior Club plans hike

A cross country hike from Garnett Valley Dam to the Peachland highway at Pennask may be undertaken by the Summerland True Sportsman Club. Date scheduled for the cross country trip, a distance of eight miles is January 26.

To make the trip more in- A unique idea in publicity drive for funds, the club members are selling guesses on the time it will take them to make the trip.

The group will be under the leadership of Mrs. Gray and C. Mann and, with the continued heavy snowfall, they are wondering if they will have to use snowshoes to make the journey. Public interest in the cross country trek is mounting and club leaders are hoping this will induce a greater public support for the club.

The club will start its rifle training course on January 9. Club members are looking forward to obtaining the new club crests. These are on fluorescent cloth, thus, in addition to being an emblem of the group they serve as an illuminated safety guard at night.

Artist's work on display at library

A Summerland artist, Robert Borsos and his pupils, have a display of their work in the regional library. Mr. Borsos' work in gouache and ink has something for everyone and range from the delightful birds and landscape (McIntyre Bluffs) to more complicated and original designs such as Canadian folklore. His colors are always bright and clear, lines and forms strong and appealing.

Mrs. Ruth Keyes' water colors are fresh and pleasing and have some unusual designs. Hank Wouters' line-cuts are beautifully executed with the care of a true craftsman. There are several Christmas card designs by various pupils. Have you a Canadian painting? Most of the work is for sale at a fraction of what they would bring in larger centres.

Who's behind the whiskers?

by Rev. G. Leasor

To come right to the point, I believe that Satan is. If you want to know why I think so, read on.

1. It's such a typical manoeuvre of Satan to imitate Christ and try to divert to himself the worship and contemplation which is rightfully Christ's.

2. Satan's primary ambition has always been to be like God — Isaiah 14:14. He lusts after worship and adulation. Matthew 4:9.

In heathen societies this worship is paid to him openly as fear-ridden souls testify, to sacrificing to the evil spirits. In "open bible" lands, however, Satan must disguise himself in order to extract socially acceptable homage. What more opportune time could he choose than Christmas to imitate the Son of God? Notice these points of similarity:

1. He promises gifts to the good and punishment to the bad.

2. He comes secretly through the sky from up north (heavenward). It was said of Jesus: "this same Jesus shall come as ye have seen him go into heaven. Acts 1; and "Watch therefore, for ye know neither the day nor hour wherein the Son of man cometh, Matthew 25:13.

3. Santa is represented as omniscient and practically omnipresent. (All knowing and present everywhere). "He knows when you are sleeping, he knows when you're awake. He knows if you've been good or bad." Does he?

However, it is said of Jesus "He knew all men". John 2:24.

4. Children are led to believe that their gifts come from Santa. The Bible says; "Every good gift cometh down from the Father of lights" James 1:17.

Limited space prohibits further comparison.

The Lord Jesus Christ is worthy of all our Praise, Honour and Worship. Let's not rob him of any and offer it to ol' Nick. Satan gloats with glee if he can thrust thoughts of Christ from our mind for one minute, he must be delirious with delight these days. We should be as the Apostle Paul in relation to Satan; "not ignorant of his devices". II Corinthians 2:11.

It's almost Christmas.

Ask anybody. Ask the housewife, dashing about in the kitchen, cooking up plenty of food and goodies for all the "company" that is expected.

Ask the average father. Christmas is practically here and he has done very little (or none at all) of his gift buying. He's been visualizing the total cost of all the other packages that have been brought into the house and wonders if he won't have to find a place to hide come January 1.

Ask the children. They are "wound up" tight as an eight-day clock and it seems to them Christmas "will never get here."

Ask anybody. They'll tell you Christmas is almost here. Regardless of whether all preparations are made, all cards addressed or mailed, or whatever, just ask anybody . . . and you'll know.

Ask anybody. They'll tell you why Christmas is almost here. It's a feeling that comes to virtually everyone at this time of year. It is difficult to describe accurately, but it is a mixture of joy and warmth, of happiness and friendship.

Let's just call it the Christmas spirit — and hope that it is shared by all men, everywhere.

HEARTS GO HOME AT CHRISTMAS

Christmas is that time of the year when most every heart turns homeward.

The blinking lights of a Christmas tree in the window or the jingle jangle of Christmas bells is enough to send one's thoughts winging across the years and over the mountains and seas to that "one best Christmas of all" so long, long ago.

The sounds and the smells of Christmas are so easily captured . . . freshly-cut evergreen, a basket of fruits and nuts, cookies and pies, turkey roasting in the oven, the pop-pop-popping sound of logs burning low in a hearth fire.

How easy today for the crunching sound of boots in the snow to bring the memory of long ago when young hearts trudged across the crusty fields toward the light that beckoned through the church window, a haven of warmth and peaceful reverence in the near-dawn of a Christmas morn.

How easy to recall the sight of a family gathering about the tree, first for a moment of prayer and thanksgiving, and then the merry sounds, the laughter, as one by one, each opened a gift from beneath the tree.

This is a part of the Christmas, this turning homeward. If time and distance make the "real" trip home impossible, the next-best thing is a trip down memory lane.

Letter to the Editor

The Editor, The Summerland Review.

Dear sir: With regard to your account of the council meeting last week, and the subsequent cancelling of the use of the municipal owned grader for private lanes, you reported a letter written by me "was critical of the use of municipal equipment for this purpose."

This is entirely incorrect. I did not criticize the council for using equipment for this purpose, rather I remarked what a good cheap service it was, and suggested that as it was becoming so overloaded there should be a priority list of elderly people, those who are sick, and women living alone and further stated that I felt sure that if the younger, fit residents realized that the ones who really needed the service would be penalized, they would be pleased to do their own snow clearing.

However, this is all academic now — the council saw fit to cancel the whole thing, but it seems a pity because perhaps with a little planning this could have been avoided.

Brenda Liebert.

SUMMERLAND: Congrats to the Camera Club on creating a unique way of publicizing this community. Their slide show and commentary can, and will do a lot to let "outsiders" know what's available for the vacationeer (and there's plenty). If more groups will come up with similar schemes, we will soon have our rightful share of "summer people."

THE VALLEY: Speaking further of tourism: At last there's now a valley group working for the valley as a whole, including tourists to visit the Okanagan; they are spending $20,000 a year and doing an excellent job of intelligent publicity. The latest effort by this group (the Okanagan Valley Tourist Association) is a ski pamphlet. Next time you see Scotty Ritchie, ask him about it . . .

CANADA: The Hon. Judy LaMarsh, minister of pensions and health in the federal government, in her telephonic address to the Penticton Chamber of Commerce last week gave an her plan (or, more correctly, the plan concocted by Cabinet, civil servants and others). The talk came over the wire as clearly as if she had been right in the room, and, from her point of view, the plan was as clear as could be. From ours, it left some gaps — but at least it's a start.

WI re-elects

Mrs. Inch president

At the annual election of officers of the Summerland Women's Institute, held last week Mrs. A. Inch, president for the past year, was returned for a further term. The gathering named Mrs. J. Gray as vice president and Mrs. E. Tait as secretary treasurer. Executive for 1964 will also include Mrs. Earle White and Mrs. Joe McLachlan.

The annual report showed a credit balance of $701.52. Mrs. Fenwick read the annual report on agriculture; the citizenship report was given by Mrs. V. Barrs, and that on home economics by Mrs. Williams; Mrs. J. Gray for welfare and Mrs. Engels for cards. Special thanks were accorded Mrs. Hans Moors, who has been in charge of the kitchen for the past term, regrets being expressed that she would be unable to continue.

The meeting agreed to provide a Christmas treat for the residents at Parkdale Place; also, to send a card of welcome to the new owners of The Highlands. It was announced that birthday funds, together with donations of goods and cash will be used to provide Christmas hampers for the needy. In addition, the Institute has sent gifts to the B.C. Mental Hospital; and provided packages of used stamps for patients in the children's hospital at Vancouver.

Five huge boxes of clothing and three fine blankets were sent to the Unitarian Service League during the year. Also it was shown the WI had sent many cards to those who were ill, and had displayed and sold articles by the students at Happyvale School.

Other reports included one from Mrs. S. A. MacDonald on the November tea. Letters of thanks from the Young Sportsmen's Club, the PNE, and Mrs. Rothwell, telling of her safe arrival in California.

A novel Christmas carol plan was used for the roll call with Mrs. Olive Rumball being the winner. In the drawing for three beautiful centerpieces, the work of Mrs. E. Bingham and Mrs. A. Inch, the winners were Mrs. Guttridge, Mrs. J. Gray and Mrs. G. Harper.

Children's parties during holidays

Summerland believes emphatically in celebrating Christmas, according to information available from the many clubs and groups in this community. More especially it believes that "Christmas is for the kids", judging by the number of entertainments and parties being provided for the children.

The Royal Canadian Legion is arranging a special Christmas party on Sunday afternoon at 2:30, which will be held in the Rosedale Room. This is for the children of all veterans and Legion Auxiliary members.

The Summerland Rotary Club is providing a special luncheon for children of all members, where each Rotarian will have a member of the younger generation as guest.

The Kiwanis club entertained members of the school patrol at a turkey dinner Tuesday evening.

Children of members of the BPO Elks and Royal Purple will be guests at a Christmas party on Sunday afternoon, commencing at 2 p.m. in the IOOF Hall. Parents are asked to attend with their children.

The Jack and Jill Kindergarten will entertain mothers on Friday morning with a program of plays and drills.

The secondary school annual Christmas frolic will be held Thursday, December 19.

In addition there will, of course, be Christmas parties for young people at Summerland's churches, as well as the private parties for children held in many homes.

1st Summerland Troop

Monday's meeting was the last before the holidays and until January 13. Three Scouts were invested: Jack Jameson, Bruce McIntosh, and Ron Taylor. We wish them the best in Scouting.

Highlight of the evening was a visit from the 2nd Summerland Troop and the Trout Creek troop to view two movies appropriate to the season. One was on winter camping and the other on ice rescue. Both are excellent and can be recommended for any adult or youth showing. The one on ice rescue had some particularly good ideas.

The troop's winter camp will be held on January 3 to 5. Further details will go out by mail to parents in the near future. About 18 boys are planning on attending.

Patrol scores are Hawks 281, Beavers and Buffaloes each 275 and Eagles 70. This makes the Hawks winners of the patrol competition.

The next meeting is on January 13.

Season's greetings to the troop from the Scoutmaster.
— D. V. Fisher

Locals

Dr. and Mrs. J. Marshall will spend the holidays in Prince George with their two daughters.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Tingley will spend the holidays in Chilliwack with their daughter.

Dr. and Mrs. J. M. McArthur will be spending Christmas with her parents at Victoria. McArthur's parents' 50th wedding anniversary on New Year's Day.

Future Nurses Club successful

Although only ten girls came out to the first meeting of the Summerland secondary school Future Nurses' Club on October 31, there are now 30 members enthusiastically taking part in the club's activities.

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. A. Boulbee and with a volunteer executive, the club has a program for this year that will provide an insight into the nursing profession.

The schedule that has been planned has begun with visits to the Summerland hospital at noon hours and will extend to volunteer work in the hospital between the hours of 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. each day. For this experience they are indebted to the matron, Mrs. A. R. Butler. In addition to the hospital work, these girls will have the opportunity to hear various people in different branches of the medical profession.

The Future Nurses assisted in the organization of the records for the recent oral polio vaccine in the school.

The immediate goal of these girls is to pay a visit to the Royal Inland Hospital in Kamloops. Here they will see the nurses in training and also see the different areas of work in a larger hospital.

To obtain money for their activities the girls have begun a series of sales to be held within the school during noon hours. The first of these was a hot dog sale, to be followed by other projects in the new year.

The Summerland Review
the Penticton Juveniles in an

SPORTS

Winning streak still unbroken

The Summerland Legion Juveniles added to their laurels by outplaying the Kelowna Juveniles 8-1 last week. Keith MacInnes set a record by scoring Thursday, December 19, 1963 and Sandy Brown made one each. Assists went to Dwayne Young, Lance Jones (2) and Eugene Peacosh (6).

The Juveniles also took on Biagionni, Joe Beggs, Larry exhibition match that resulted in a 6-4 decision for Summerland. Bob MacAdam got two and Keith MacInnes, Harvey Parkinson, Dwayne Biagionni each counted for one goal. I might add that Ernie Pushkarenko was outstanding in the net for Summerland.

Both games with Kelowna and Penticton were good clean games. Summerland did not have to spend any time in the penalty box. That's the kind of hockey that will keep drawing larger crowds!

The Midgets lost out to Vernon last week by a score of 6-2. Gary Bullock and Robin Agur earned the Summerland goals.

Summerland Bantams lost out to the Kamloops Bantams by a score of 16-3. Jimmy Haddrell made two of the goals and Ron Mayne scored the other one.

Next scheduled home game will be on Sunday, December 22 at 12 noon when the Juveniles take on Penticton.

Anyone who wants some good entertainment on Boxing Day be sure to take in the exhibition game between Summerland and Penticton Juveniles at 2:30 p.m., all in aid of the March of Dimes.

Extra Curling for holidays

The roaring game is definitely on the upswing in Summerland. The Saturday night curling group now has twelve pinks in play; the senior curlers have more persons in play and will soon have to have more rink time so all rinks will be able to curl once a week.

In addition to growing local interest, there is now inter-community play as well. On Sunday afternoon two married couple rinks from Keremeos took part in friendly games on the local ice.

Plans for the annual bonspiel chairman of the Christmas are moving ahead. At a meeting of the directors, the bonspiel committee was appointed. Also Peter Beilah was named head of the Christmas mixed bonspiel. This will be held Dec. 27, 28 and 29. Those wishing to curl in this are asked to enter early.

Arrangements are also now underway for a "cash bonspiel" to be held early in January.

All Summerland residents who have taken an interest in sports will no doubt remember Miles Gillard, a former resident of our community. Miles is on a scholarship at Denver College now. On December 12, he scored a goal against Father Bauer's famed UBC hockey club, who is representing Canada in the 1964 world olympics.

Kiwanis Notes

Tuesday night was a big one for Kiwanis. Tables everywhere laden with turkey and all the trimmings. The occasion was the hosting of some of the better citizens of tomorrow in the persons of 17 members of the school patrol, chaperoned by principal John Cooke.

The entertainment was divided into three main parts. Rev. Norman Tannar showed colored slides with commentary on "The Christmas Story" This showing was interspersed with carols in which all joined. He concluded this part with a short and appropriate Christmas talk. He was thanked by Walter Toevs.

Freston Mott led in more carols, assisted by three members of the school band, Dave Jones and John and Jim Rathen who provided the music.

The third part, which to some was the climax, was when Santa Claus Jerry Hallcast (sans beard, etc.) distributed gifts to members of the patrol. Coleen Jones thanked the club on behalf of the patrol.

Retiring president Bill Laidlaw announced that there would be an At Home for all Kiwanis and their wives at the home of Brian Liebert on Boxing Day and at Laidlaw's on New Year's Day. Members note that this is the reverse of what was announced at the meeting.

It was decided to maintain an East Indian child by the club on an annual basis.

Congratulations must go to president Bill for a wonderful year just concluded and best wishes to Brian for the ensuing year.

Building up slightly report shows

At the end of November, building figures in Summerland for 1963 were only $14,000 below those for last year, which was a big year for this community. All of this year's total is from private investment, while last year's figures include those for public structures, notably the new firehall.

Figures for the current year show a gross total of 126 permits for a value of $395,455; last year it stood at 146 permits for a value of $411,455.

Heavy snowfall and inclement weather may slow further building for the current year, yet some further construction is understood to be on tap and will carry through into the new year.

One notable fact in the November figures is the high rate of new home construction. Six permits for a total of $50,000 in this category were taken out during the month. Additions and alterations to homes during November amounted to $12,275. Commercial and institutional construction during November showed two new permits for a value of $4,400 and one alteration for $950.

The November 1963 value total for all permits, $74,625 is ahead of last year when the total reached $62,000. There were 19 electrical permits taken out during the month.
