Construction has started on the tourist booth on Highway 97 by the Chamber of Commerce. It will be situated next to Gordon Beggs' fruit stand. Chamber officials hope to have it in operation by July 1.

D. H. Hill, Chamber president, said that he is pleased with the site and arrangements for servicing the booth. He and his staff will take care of passing out information to visitors.

Mr. Hill attended the Okanagan Valley Tourist Association meeting last week and reports an active discussion on the visitor industry in the valley.

The Chamber is concerning itself this year with getting extra tourist dollars into the community and is asking the help of everyone in this work.

Summerland Rod and Gun Club members Monday night unanimously opposed granting of commercial leases to land bordering on either Pennask or Peterson Lakes.

The monthly meeting was told that six Penticton men have applied for a lease on 10 acres in this area and that if such a lease was granted, it would affect the access to both Pennask and Peterson Lakes.

The sportsmen's organization along with other clubs in the valley are against any leasing of land in this area, feeling that instead the land should be retained for further development as a park. The clubs have done considerable work near the lakes, creating a picnic area. They now find that the parking lot is overcrowded on weekends and consideration will have to be given to building a larger area.

The Rod and Gun Club hopes to have a show of falconry in the fall fruit fair in September.

A work party is planned for Monday evening, June 24, to clean up the picnic area at Garnett Valley Dam.

At 3 p.m. Friday firemen were called to a fire on the side of Trout Creek Canyon. Altogether about 18 men, including the local brigade and the municipal crew, as well as some volunteer help, were digging fire guards.

About 10 acres of land was burned over before the forestry crew under Emery Scott finally put the blaze out.

It is felt that the fire probably started from a camper's fire and the forestry branch urges campers to use caution.

As yet an estimate of the cost of fighting the fire is not available but at one time 35 men were on the scene.

New zoning bylaw creates Green Belt

"We have a good zoning commission, representative of the community, and I think they will do a good job", Reeve Norman Holmes said today, after a meeting of the newly appointed commission and the municipal council.

The two groups met Monday night with town planner Gordon Hirtle of Kelowna. Mr. Hirtle presented a draft of a zoning bylaw for Summerland, which was approved in principle after detailed study by the group.

In the bylaw, the municipality has been divided into four main classifications, broken down into sub-classes. Area one is the Green Belt, comprising of health and safety, conveniences and welfare of the public; and recreational; area two is made up of residential; area three is commercial; and area four industrial-distribution. Mr. Hirtle is now drawing up the proposed areas on a map of Summerland.

The specific purpose of this bylaw is to enable the district to grow in such a way as to benefit all the community. This will be done by ensuring that the various uses made of the land and structures in the district develop in a proper relationship and the municipality plans to interpret every section of this bylaw with this in mind.

When the new zoning bylaw was drawn up, consideration was given to: (a) promotion of health and safety, conveniences and welfare of the public; (b) prevention of overcrowding of land, and the preservation of the amenities peculiar to any zone; (c) securing of adequate light, air and access; (d) value of the land and the nature of its present and prospective use and occupancy; (e) character of each zone, character of the buildings already erected, and the peculiar suitability of the zone for particular uses; (f) conservation of property values.

The map showing the various zones proposed for the municipality will be ready in about a month.

Seek road improvements

Council received a petition Tuesday night from nineteen Victoria Road residents asking that the road on the hill north of Mrs. E. Kercher's home be widened. The petition said that a number of very near accidents have occurred on this piece of road over the years. It listed a number of other suggested improvements for the road.

The reeve and council agreed with the petitioners in regards to the narrow hill area. Reeve Norman Holmes said that it should not be too expensive to take corrective measures. The matter was left to the roads department under councillor H. J. Barkwill for action.

Councillor W. S. Ritchie attended the opening of the new museum in Oliver last week. He reported that he was very impressed with the museum, which had one room showing pioneer relics and an entire area devoted to Indian artifacts. Ritchie said that the cost of the building to the municipality was $4,300. It had been built under the winter works program.

The house situated on municipal property next to the new fire hall will be demolished. Tenders for the work will be received at the municipal hall.

The municipality paid $18 for 12 chickens belonging to Lionel Jackson. The birds had been killed by a dog.

Special use permits that have been issued to persons wishing to build a summer home along the storage dam areas are being held up following a complaint by council of possible contamination of the water supply.

Fruit Fair plans indicate bigger and better show

F. E. ATKINSON chairman of the Fall Fruit Fair Committee, reported at an executive meeting Monday night that the annual event is shaping up to be better than ever this year. The fair is set for Friday and Saturday, September 7 and 8 in the arena.

Discussion at the meeting Monday night centered around prizes and displays. The prize list will be increased this year with increased prize money and trophies hoped for. The prize list booklet will be ready for distribution July 15.

A request was made that more orchardists exhibit their fruit. It was suggested that the Summerland local of the BCFGA could take a more active part in promoting exhibits at the fair.

Officers named Monday included: C. Bernhardt, vice-chairman; G. C. Johnston, treasurer; and Mrs. M. Lamb, secretary.

Committees include: arena space rentals, chaired by J. E. O'Mahony; arena committee for setting up and taking down booths: Jim Schaeffer, Bud Rusaw, G. A. Laidlaw, Dan Spencers, Lloyd Shannon, Earle White, Lloyd Miller; hobbies: John Cooke, Dan Spencers; WI tea room and pie contest: Mrs. E. C. Bingham; Mrs. Eric Tait; local industries, T. S. Manning; Horticultural Society flower show: W. F. Ward, Mrs. E. C. Bingham; prize booklet: Mrs. T. Croll, Keith Marten, Eric Williams; pet parade, John Dunn; general agriculture committee: E. Tait, C. Bernhardt, Dr. D. V. Fisher, A. D. McMechan, Nat May and W. F. Ward; junior agriculture and children's gardens: A. W. Watt; entertainment: Mrs. L. Smith and Tom Ritchie.

A report from the queen crowning committee said that plans are well in hand. Next appearance of the nine candidates will be July 13 at a Strawberry Social. Conveners are Mrs. G. C. Johnston and Mrs. Norman Holmes.

OF COURSE IT SELLS PAPERS

The Big Paper in the Big Town next door has got a bone in its teeth. It's going on a campaign against what it alleges to be a "terrible situation" of traffic infractions on the stretch of road between Summerland and the afore-mentioned Big Town.

There may be some infractions of the law on this stretch of highway. There are on every stretch of road that is adjacent to a large town; it is just a matter of percentages - where there is more travel, there are likely to be more offenders traffic-wise.

Not only is there more inter-community travel on this stretch of Highway 97, but there is more tourist travel - the sort of business our neighbouring Big Town is so eager to get. And right here might be a good place to remind the Big Paper that a good deal of its own revenue comes from that same tourist traffic. They should therefore be more circumspect on their campaign against traffic violations lest they scare some of the lucrative tourist trade. People are apt to avoid a portion of highway that is as dangerous as the Big Paper makes out. They'd either figure that they'd be in danger from one of the "reckless drivers" or from too-close police scrutiny - which all of us, even the more law-abiding, shun.

Mention of the law brings forward the final argument. This is that if there were as many offenders as is claimed the RCMP - a particularly efficient force - would have long since made more vigorous crack-downs on the alleged conditions. The fact that they haven't argues against the Big Paper's position.

But then, when you've got to put out a paper every day, and you're looking around for something to write about, you may be apt to pick on anything. After all "it sells papers" - which is the important thing.

SEARCH FOR HAPPINESS

by Rev. F. Haskins

Many tourists come to the Okanagan Valley in search of relaxation and happiness. Do they find happiness? It takes more than a cheer leader to make us happy. Every parent knows that merely telling children to be happy is not sufficient to make up for a disappointment or to stop a quarrel.

To keep Junior happy, he must be kept occupied. Is it not also true that Junior's mother and father are not happy if their lives are empty?

The search for happiness is mankind's age-long quest. Yet what an elusive thing happiness is? It is not a sweet commodity like sugar which can be purchased from a merchant. Many who expend time, energy and much money to secure happiness often find it is something which escapes them.

True happiness is a spiritual possession. In our efforts to gain happiness, we have modern improvements which are taken for granted although a generation ago they would have been considered lavish luxuries. Yet there is still a lot of discontent even in well appointed homes. The more we have, it seems, the more excuse we have to fuss and grumble.

The Bible teaches: "Who so trusteth in the Lord, happy is he." Happiness comes with faith, hope and love when we trust God. Of course, troubles will come into our lives and we must be prepared to meet difficulties in a calm and confident spirit. Faith in God and in Jesus Christ as Saviour and Lord gives spiritual stamina to the individual.

"Blessed is the man to whom the Lord will not impute sin." These Bible words teach us that a man who has confessed sins of selfishness and sought forgiveness gains blessedness or spiritual happiness.

Spiritual victory comes when we conquer weakness and fear and go forth to meet difficulties with confidence.

"Take what God gives," writes B. Y. Williams, "and build your house of happiness. You have enough of pleasant things to house your soul in goodly state."

Conservation Corner

by Alf Kohlhauser

It is thrilling to observe the individual man and compatriots fighting for their rights, their community, and their province. Such was the scene at Monday night's meeting of the Summerland Rod & Gun Club. If the name wouldn't be so cumbersome, "The Organization For The Preservation of British Columbia For Its Citizens And Their Children" would be more appropriate for our club. In short, the main business dealt with the intended commercial lease at Peterson Lake, adjacent to Pennask Lake.

In the long it is a bit more complicated.

To set the ground work to solicit support for our protest, relatively immediate history must be examined.

To begin with, most of the twenty some miles of shoreline on Pennask Lake has been and is private property. A truly democratic citizen of the South Okanagan, whose name I hope I have the honor to someday immortalize in print, established the public right of access and a probable route. In the late forties and into the fifties the fight was picked up by the Summerland Rod & Gun Club. The major effort must be credited to the present president of the Summerland club, George Stoll.

Assistance, finally otherwise was mutually extended by the other clubs in the area. Sixty acres was set aside by the Department of Lands as Park Reserve. This and the access road had been crudely developed by the Summerland and other clubs. Crudely, that is, in comparison to a finished development such as the Provincial Campsite on

97. The fishing and camping potential has proved to be beyond expectations and promises to be an attraction far greater than the mere sixty acres of Park Designate will be able to service.

Red Sox back on winning trail

The Summerland Junior Red Sox got back on the win trail on Sunday in Oliver as they pounded two Oliver pitchers for 13 hits and a 11-2 victory. Skinner and Selinger were the hitting heroes for the Red Sox as they each blasted out home runs. Selinger's came with a man on base. The Red Sox continued their fine display of defensive ball, only committing one error. Skinner came up with the fielding play of the day as he made a shoe string catch of a line drive in short center field, to chop off an Oliver rally. Sheeley went all the way on the mound for the winners and picked up his third win against two loses. He held the Oliver team to seven hits and struck out seven. This Sunday the Red Sox go to Vernon for a single game to be played after the senior game. Game time about 5:30.

Fishing Report

by Bert Berry
Okanagan Lake
Not too active this last week. Billy Borton caught two fish, one six lbs. and one just under, early last week, and T. Kwak caught a 6½ pounder on Sunday in the Fish Derby. The Kohanee are still biting and if weather conditions are favorable the fishing should improve this next week, as the moon is approaching the new moon on June 21.

Fish Lake Camp
Fish Lake itself still OK, no big fish, but nice catches of 8-10 inch Kamloops and Eastern Brook. Fishing good for Kamloops in the Upper Lakes. Road good and boats and accommodation available.

Headwaters Camp
Received a note from the operator of this camp and he reports spotty fishing until June 15, but it has improved this last week. Fly and trolling both producing good catches. Road good, boats and accommodation available.

Hatheume Resort
No reports but I presume open for business.

Agur Lake
Same as White Head. Moody, but some nice fish here. Road rough but suitable if you take your time.

Shannon Lake
OK for bass and perch. Boats available.

Rose Valley Dam
No reports but could be OK. Big fish here but moody. Have had scattered reports from lakes south and further north of us. They were good on the whole and they should improve, especially the mountain spots.

Tennis Kwak derby winner

It was no ladies day at the Yacht Club Fish Derby Sunday although quite a few of the staff side tried their luck. Only some girls under 14 were lucky enough to bring in a catch.

Tennis Kwak brought in the biggest fish, weighing 6¼ lbs. Bill Corey had the second largest, 4 lbs. and 11 oz. W. A. Laidlaw and Hilton Hughes came in third and fourth.

C. Freeman got the prize for the most fish bringing in 17, and the winner of the boys 14 and under class was Grant Spelsburg.

Margaret Downing won two prizes, she took the girls 14 and under class and received an award for being the youngest to catch a fish.

Yacht Club fall fair queen candidate Mary Cuthbert gave out the prizes which were donated by local stores.

Two thefts in district

Kiwanis notes

Tuesday night proved to be a very hot night, so the Club moved across from its regular quarters to the Park, where our good friend Joe, served a nice cold supper.

Several guests were on hand, Glen Stevens, from Okonogan, USA; and our own Dr. Wilf Evans and Robin Wright.

Jerry Hallquist celebrated a birthday and refused the chance to sing a solo. Too bad Jerry, we would have enjoyed it.

Jim Schaeffer was busy on his gas sales for Saturday and lined up his help for the morning and afternoon.

Next week is ladies night and at the moment, the arrangements are for dinner in the Legion Hall at 6:30, p.m. All members and their wives are looked for to be present.

The Rev. Norman Tannar gave a short and interesting talk on Father's Day, and the necessity in this day and age of "giving of ourselves" and "doing something for others."

The abandoned turkey farm by the dump, owned by George Haddrell was visited again this year by thieves. About 900 feet of plastic pipe and 500 feet of barbed wire worth over $300 was stolen. Last fall about three tons of potatoes planted by Mr. Haddrell were dug up and carted off.

Thieves have also been at work at the Clarke and Lacey logging camp at Thursk. Kitchen utensils valued at $100 were taken from the cook shack.

William F. Toews appeared in police court on a speeding infraction. He was fined $10 and costs.

Dwaine Dickison was fined $25 and costs for passing on a double solid line.

Accident claims two S'land residents

A car accident Wednesday afternoon claimed the lives of two Summerland residents. The accident occurred about two miles south of Westbank.

Seventeen year old Sandra Bennett was killed almost immediately and her mother, Mrs. Catherine Bennett, age 40, died two hours later in Kelowna General Hospital.

Another daughter, Dianne, age 14, is in fairly good condition in the Kelowna hospital.

The car which Mrs. Bennett was driving went out of control on a slight curve and hit a patch of gravel in the right side of the road, flipped back over the road and smashed into a rocky bluff. The car was a total wreck.

Mr. Curtis Bennett of Prairie Valley moved with his family to West Summerland about two years ago.

Surviving are Mr. Bennett, daughters Donna and Jerry and one son Kelly.

Ambulance Service For Community

This district will have an ambulance service shortly. Leslie Rumball, chairman of the hospital board, told council last night, that the hospital is willing to purchase the ambulance which they will then turn over to the Corporation for furnishing. Rumball also said that the board had approached Robin Wright, who is presently building a funeral home in Summerland, asking him to manage the ambulance, which would be kept in the fire hall. Money for the new vehicle would be taken from a bequest which was left to the hospital earlier this year from the estate of the late Hon. Randolph Bruce.

In discussing the service, Councillor H. J. Barkwill said that the Kelowna ambulance, a municipally-owned service operated from the fire hall, made 556 calls last year.

He said that the minimum amount of equipment would cost approximately $500. This would include a stretcher, oxygen kit, resuscitator, first aid kit, light blanket and a Brooke airway for mouth to mouth resuscitation. Mr. Rumball said that the hospital can supply one stretcher for the ambulance.

It was decided by council, along with suggestions put forward by the board, that a charge of $6 be made for each ambulance trip made within the municipality. Two dollars of this would go to the driver and four dollars for maintenance.

The ambulance will be parked in the extra bay of the new fire hall. Council made a motion to spend up to $600 to equip the machine and Ken Blagborne was commissioned to work with the hospital board in the purchase of the vehicle.

Flower Show Saturday expects many exhibits

Annual Rose and Flower Show of the Horticultural Society will be held in the Anglican Parish Hall this Saturday. The doors are open from 6 to 9 p.m. and the 25c admission includes tea.

Exhibits may be staged from 12 noon to 3 p.m. There is no entry fee.

The prize list includes 26 classes. Three cups will be offered — the Summerland Rose Cup, Sammett Cup and Grand Champion Rose Cup. The awards will be presented at 9 p.m.

Those attending the flower show are asked to use the car parking lot at the Badminton Hall.

Council interested in irrigation aid Act

Councillor W. B. Powell reported Tuesday night on an ARDA meeting he and municipal clerk G. D. Smith attended in Kelowna last week. Two men, one from the federal agriculture branch and a representative of the provincial agricultural department, spoke on the new Agricultural Redevelopment Act. This act is to get farming off an marginal basis and allow it to be able to stand on its own feet, Councillor Powell said.

Powell expressed an interest in the new Act and suggested that council should investigate it and perhaps receive financial help with local water problems.

It was indicated at the Kelowna meeting said Powell, that help was available for work on irrigation systems, which would also include drainage and diking. Council decided to write the provincial minister of agriculture and ask him to meet with them in the near future to further study the matter.

Parkdale Place report

by Mabel Atkinson

June has been a month of entertainment. Mr. and Mrs. A. Crawford came to show us pictures of the navy, taken by their son who served on the warship Ontario for five years in the Pacific, supplemented by the beauty of Buchard's gardens. The African Violet Society aid us an evening visit, leaving a goodly supply of potted violets for us.

The Women's Institute held a very successful coffee party on our front lawn, we have attended the CWL tea, Anglican strawberry tea, two coffee parties under the auspices of the WI, Mrs. Agur's expansive lawn loaned itself to a party to renew our friendship of our old friend, Mrs. McGinness.

We welcome this month to our ranks Mrs. Johnston and Mrs. Lott.

Miss Chambers and Mr. Rickett celebrated birthdays.

We appreciate the beautiful flowers, especially the large bouquets from Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie who also donated two chairs. Thanks also to the Gould family. Eggs came from Mrs. Miltie and vegetables from Mr. and Mrs. Verrier, J. Ellis and others. To one and all we express our heartfelt thanks.

Our sincerest good wishes for the restoration of health go to T. Garnett and G. Williams in the hospital.

We have had the pleasure of reading an old unpublished manuscript Charles Dickens wrote in 1849 for his children, which was not given to the general public until published in a Vancouver paper in 1934, a most touching children's story of the "Life of Christ" written in his inimitable style with a facsimile of his handwriting.

Mr. Pugh has favored us with a daily copy of the parliamentary bulletin which we pursue with a great deal of interest.

As a tribute to Mrs. E. Gould and Mrs. R. Tullett who have gone to the better land we quote Longfellow:

"There is no death, what seems so is transition.

This life of mortal breath, is but a suburb of the life Elysium,

Whose portals we call death."

WI arranging for fall fair

Any person wishing more information on needlework exhibits should contact Mrs. Alex Inch.

Kiwanis notes

On Tuesday night the club put on one of those evenings with their good ladies present, which they know so well how to stage. The members were in great form, we suspect just showing their wives how entertaining they can be when called upon.

The affair was held in the Yacht Club with the tables tastefully decorated and a superb buffet supper was provided by the ladies of the CWL.

During supper, Johnny Selinger and his wife were boasting loudly about the barbecue they acquired recently in a raffle. We expect to be invited for a slap-up steak cooked by Johnny and Willie.

Eight people were at the head table, the guest speaker (more of him anon) with his charming wife Jean Roe; president Bill complete with wife; Wally Mulligan and wife Ethel (our present Lt. Gov.) and Ja O'Mahoney with wife Betty to keep him in order.

It was good to see old friends around again, for example, Clare Elsey and his wife. Brian Liebert however was alone, Brenda could not be present. We missed you Brenda.

After supper Wally Mulligan inducted three new members in the club. He gave an excellent short resume of the aims and objects of Kiwanis, and after each new member was introduced by his sponsor, Preston Mott by Jack Ratzlaff, Bill Jameson by Lockie McGillignia and Robin Wright by Walter Toevs, president Bill Laidlaw pinned on their "K" buttons and welcomed them into the club.

Jack Ratzlaff did his customary good job in leading the club singsong and strangely enough, who should help out by playing the piano for the singing but our guest speaker Jim Roe. Thanks Jim, you had better make a habit of coming every Tuesday night. It would be a pleasure to have you with us.

The guest speaker (who has already popped up once or twice in these rambling remarks, was Jim Roe, editor of the Penticton Herald and a man of many parts. He was introduced by president Bill who made known to us that Jim attended the Royal Military College and Queen's University (with a BA to his credit) served during the war in the Royal Navy and the Royal Marines, and has held various positions in the newspaper world and is now in Penticton.

His talk was most interesting and developed the theme of the South Okanagan. He pointed out the splendid potential of this area and stressed the points of necessity of well developed transportation, particularly road and air, and that fruit and tourism in themselves do not do this area justice. Light industry and diversification with advanced education is essential and that determination and co-ordination of effort can bring this about. His talk was much enjoyed and he was suitably thanked by Brian Liebert.

Many Things to Many People

If you ask the man in the street, "What is conservation?" he is apt to reply, "Tree planting to replace the trees that have been cut, or plowing around a hill instead of up and down, to prevent erosion." Or he points to contour plowing, strip-cropping, terracing and farms ponds and says, "This is good conservation."

The logger block-cutting a forest of Douglas fir, says "This is good conservation." And it is if it is properly done, even though the wilderness enthusiast looks at the same block-cutting and cries "devastation."

Foresters say it is good conservation because it is the only way to harvest and renew this type of forest. The Douglas fir will not grow in the shade of larger trees. It requires full sunlight. As a result, it must be cut in blocks just as a crop of wheat. Then nature or man will start a new young forest.

The young forest will heal the scars of the harvest and in turn become a haven for wildlife and a place of beauty. We must be practical as well as emotional. The economy and well-being of the country demand wood for homes, schools, furniture and a thousand other uses.

Since the days of Gifford Pinchot, the great American apostle of conservation, the word has taken on active connotations not contained in the original concept of mere preservation. Pinchot believed we could protect our resources most effectively by using them in a manner that would ensure a constantly renewed supply.

Today, conservation is regarded as a way of life—a way of thinking. Conservation is use plus beauty. It is the skillful employment of our national resources for material benefit with full regard for the safeguarding and enhancement of their aesthetic and spiritual values through planned responsible management.

Picnics and camping

The season for picnics and camping is here again. The time is here again too for warning people about the danger of starting forest fires.

The cost of such fires cannot be measured in dollars. What price a forest that will take at least 100 years to be replaced?

In the last year for which figures are at hand (1957) the majority, 1,042 fires were caused by smokers; 933 by campfires; 904 by railways and 2,922 by six other factors in less numbers. The cost of fighting these fires was $2,115,000 and the outlay for fire protection totalled $20,000,000.

But these statistics tell only half the story. Forest fires bring other disasters in their wake unemployment in forest industries; devastation of recreation areas; destruction of animal and fish life; erosion and floods by altering of watersheds and often the loss of lives and homes.

To fight the forest fire battle the co-operation of everyone who goes into or near the woods is required.

Take every known precaution to prevent them — and don't forget to take away your garbage and empty bottles at the same time after a picnic or camping out.

The World Over

CARIBBEAN-BOUND air travelers, both group and individual, are now being offered lower fares, added schedules and new routes on selected flights between New York, Miami and various island resorts.

Pan American World Airways plans to introduce on June 15 a new island-hopping service that will connect Miami with Jamaica and three islands in the Lesser Antilles. The new flights, which are patterned after the carrier's similar service to the Greater Antilles, will serve Antigua, Barbados and Trinidad. The flights will leave Miami on Thursday and Saturdays and return from the Caribbean on Fridays and Sundays.

British Overseas Airways has lowered group round trip fares on its twice-weekly flights between New York and Bermuda. The new rate, which is available to groups of 25 or more, is $74 a person.

New 17-day excursion fares between Miami and Jamaica will be instituted this week by British West Indian Airways. The summer excursion fare, which will continue in effect until Dec. 15, will be $49, a reduction of $20 as compared with the old rate.

STUDENT HOTELS

Tourists who visit northern Europe during the summer months can obtain low-cost accommodations in Scandinavia's student hotels. The hotels, which house students during the school year, are rented to visitors from June to September. Most of the hotels, which range from 100 to 750 rooms, have single or double rooms with private bath and telephone.

Minimum rates for singles, $3.50 to $4.50 a day, including service charges. Most of the hotels are a short distance from downtown areas.

In Copenhagen, for example, there are at least three such student hotels: the 500-room Egmont; the Minerva, with 307 single rooms; and the Solbakken, with 117 double rooms. Norway's Studentbyen (Student Town) in suburban Oslo is one of Scandinavia's largest. It has 750 rooms.

In Bergen, the Alrek has 240 rooms available for summer visitors. In Stockholm are the Domus, with 265 rooms, and the 136-room Jerum. Gothenburg, Sweden, has the new Volrat Tham, with 370 rooms, and the 105-room Viktor Rydberg. In Tampere, Finland, the new Rasti houses offer space for 100 guests in summer. In Helsinki, the 100-room Domus Academica provides inexpensive accommodations.

MOVIES ALOFT

Trans-World Airlines is extending to economy class the showing of motion pictures on its international flights. For almost a year now, the movies have been shown only in the first-class section. Screens are lowered at the forward part of both sections, and the sound is relayed to the passengers by means of individual ear-phones. Thus, although the passenger has little chance of not watching the screen, he need not listen to the sound track, if he so chooses.

REINDEER HUNTING

Three 10-day reindeer-hunting trips in Norway including a short stay in Oslo, are available to hunters this August and September. The tours originate in Oslo, and the price is about $385 a person in a group of five. This includes accommodations, meals and guides. The complete program is available from Bennett Tours, Inc., 290 Madison Avenue, New York 17.

KEY WEST MUSEUM

The grounds and buildings surrounding the 115-year-old lighthouse in Key West, Fla., will be developed as a Navy and Coast Guard museum. The property, which was recently turned over to Monroe County by the Federal Government, will be administered by the Key West Art and Historical Society. The 86-foot-high lighthouse will continue to be operated by the Coast Guard.

BOOKLETS, BROCHURES

"Iliamo Land," a 52-page booklet listing sights and tourist accommodations in the Upper Mississippi Valley, is available for 50 cents from Illi-amo Land Travel Guide, 807 Broadway, Quincy, Ill.

The 1963 edition of "Guide to Housekeeping Cottages," which contains details about 700 cottage colonies in New England, New York and eastern Pennsylvania, can be obtained for $1 from Resort Publishing Associates, PO Box 597, Lynbrook, L.I.

TAMBLYN NEW PRINCIPAL

John Tamblyn has been appointed principal of the secondary school. He replaces A. J. Longmore who has been appointed a district superintendent. Mr. Tamblyn has been in Summerland for the past 11 years, a vice principal for five years, and acting principal last year.

Charles Greenhough of Prince Rupert has been appointed as a vice principal here.

Grade 11 and 12 students on the university program have now finished their departmental exams. The results will be mailed from Victoria late in July. No supplemental exams are available for students who do not make a passing grade.

The secondary school library shelves are bare in spots and teachers urge all students to check their home libraries. If you have any of the school reference books at home please return them for next year's students.

The new vocational school in Kelowna will open in September. Courses will be given in auto mechanics, auto body repair work, commercial courses, farm machinery repair, heavy duty mechanics, practical nursing, welding (general and trade extension).

Further information is available at the secondary school.

A four week summer school session from July 8 to August 2 will offer any subject for which a sufficient number of registrations come in. The school will emphasize the review of fundamentals for the purpose of offering marginal failure students the opportunity of raising their standards of understanding to make a passing grade. In view of this fact, only students the school recommends will be able to take the course. This will be indicated on report cards.

Narrow win for Juniors against Vernon

The Summerland Red Sox scored two runs in the first inning at Vernon Sunday, and then held on to defeat the Vernon Juniors by a score of 2-1. These two teams are very evenly matched as the records show each team having won two games by a one run margin, Vernon by 1-0 twice and the Red Sox by 4-3 and 2-1.

The Red Sox started fast, after Ken Pushkerinko had grounded out to start the game. His brother Ernie bounced one over the fence for two bases. Ken Selinger then got a single to score the first run of the game. After Skinner went out, Selinger stole both second and third and scored on a single by Jim Sheeley.

George Walton started on the mound for the Red Sox and had Vernon eating out of his hand until the eighth when with one out, a double, a single and an error scored Vernon's only run. Jim Sheeley came in to relieve Walton with men and second and third and got the next two batters to fly out. Joe Beggs came up with a long running catch to end the inning.

George Walton picked up his second win of the season while Douglas was charged with the loss.

Sunday will have first place Kamloops here for a double header, game times 1:30 and 4:00 p.m.

Fishing report

by Bert Berry

Okanagan Lake

Has been slower last week, especially in the late afternoon and evenings. Alf Johnson had, I heard, caught four nice sized fish Sunday morning. From reports, fish stopped biting at 4 p.m. Solinor Tables show mid-day as the major period right now.

Fish Lake Camp

Was spotty for the start of last week but good the latter part of the week. Should continue good this week.

Headwaters Camp

One report this past week from here reports fair fishing.

Pennask Lake

Good reports of limit catches from here.

White Head

Road rough last mile, but this lake is moody. Big fish here and I would like to be there when they start to bite.

Silver Lake

No reports but should be OK. No boats or facilities.

Rose Valley Dam

No reports. It is moody but if you hit it, big fish.

Agur Lake

Another moody lake, and good sized fish. Wonderful if you hit it right.

Garnett Valley Dam

Mostly small fish but lots of them.

Shannon Lake

Good perch and bass here. Boats available.

Haven't heard much of northern lakes. The salmon fry should be coming down soon on their way to sea. This could be real interesting with streamer buck-tail fly. Most northern lakes have been spotty but picking up over the week end.
