PREMIER W. A. C. BENNETT wins again

Voting was heavy in Summerland on Monday as voters across the province returned the Social Credit government with an increased majority.

In the South Okanagan constituency Premier W. A. C. Bennett was returned for the eighth time. He received 8,589 votes.

Dr. Jim Marshall of Summerland, Progressive Conservative candidate, was second with 2,464 votes, followed by Barbara Bedell, NDP with 1,686 and Art Dawe, Liberal, with 580.

Party standings in the new legislature will be Social Credit 34, NDP 16, Liberals 5. Progressive Conservatives again failed to get a seat.

Under The Giant's Head

A Western and Hunter Jumper Show was held in Kelowna on Sunday. Two riders from the Summerland Trail Riders Club, Bev Bye and Donna Impett participated.

Donna won a third ribbon for pole bending.

Other members attending the show were Alice and Bud Bye and Carol Reinertson.

Court and police action locally has been light, insofar as accidents or convictions for offences are concerned. Only one case is on the list, that of Gerald Vernon Barret, who, on October 2 was convicted on an intoxication charge. He was fined $25 or in default, 15 days.

During the past week the research station reports 59.9 hours of sunshine and no rain.

Everyone was expressing surprise Tuesday on the results of the provincial election. But at least two people in Summerland had a good idea of what the results would be. Mrs. C. Elsey and George Mott won the Kiwanis sweepstake. Each was only one seat wrong. One gave the Conservatives a seat and the other gave the Liberals four instead of five. Maybe the Province should hire them.

The good old days revived

The new Mrs. John Loewe, formerly Miss Jo-Ann Schafer, had a trip down main street Saturday in style, following her marriage Saturday evening. The horse and buggy was gaily decorated for the occasion and drew a large crowd on main street, as the couple went to a reception in the Legion Hall.

Handicapped drive this month

The Summerland Association for Handicapped Children is making its annual appeal to the community on behalf of retarded children in the area. A letter is being mailed October 4 asking for financial support. The outstanding need of the Summerland Association is to provide transportation for children of this district to attend the Happy Vale School in Penticton.

By providing dependable transportation with a licensed driver, it is possible for local children to have the advantage of attendance at a school designed to meet their need for training suitable to their ability. President of the Summerland

FORMER RESIDENT PASSES

Mrs. Charles Postel, 44, of Fort St. John, passed away in Vancouver September 24. Mrs. Postel was the wife of Rev. Postel, who was pastor of the Summerland Pentecostal Church in 1953 and 1954.

She is survived by her husband, two daughters and one son, and one sister in Ontario. Funeral services for the late Mrs. Postel were held in Fort St. John on September 27. Rev. C. W. Lynn of Summerland officiated.

Slight decrease in building permit values

Building permit values in Summerland have slipped slightly below comparable totals for 1962, but the overall picture remains good. This was evidenced by the report of building inspector Roy F. Angus for the month just ended.

The report shows that a single permit for a residence for a value of $1,500 was taken out during September. There were also permits for alterations or additions for an amount totalling $2,000. On the business and commercial side there were no permits for new construction issued; but two permits for alterations or additions were taken out. These two totalled $1,400.

During the month, 14 permits for a total of $25,090 were issued. A year ago 17 permits for a value of $39,750 were issued. These brought the 1962 total to $27,555. For the current year the total value of permits is $27,090.

Use of electricity in Summerland is expanding, judging by permit figures. During September 18 electrical permits were issued.

Association is Edward Krause. Hans Meierhofer is treasurer, and Mrs. J. P. Sheeley is the secretary.

The transportation service has been in operation for four years. The local Association is concerned for the welfare of handicapped children and has accepted the responsibility to raise funds to pay for the transportation of pupils to Penticton. The vehicle in use was donated some time ago by Penticton organizations. This service is available to retarded children in this district and any parents who are interested are asked to consult the officers of the Association.

K. L. Boothe delegate to trustee convention

K. L. Boothe, chairman of Summerland school board, attended two meetings east recently. As a representative of the Okanagan branch of the B.C. School Trustees' Assoc. he attended the Canadian School Trustees convention in Montreal and the Canadian Education Association convention in Quebec City. Next week he will attend the B.C. School Trustees convention in Vancouver. Mr. Boothe is president of the Okanagan branch of school trustees.

It looks like a good Christmas for Summerland growers. An excellent apple crop, tops in harvesting weather, plus the prospect of being able to sell the crop for good prices. While in the fruit industry, anything can happen and usually does, present indications point to the best all-round conditions for more than half a decade. These impressions were obtained by the Review this week, following an analysis of crops, handling and general conditions both locally and in relation to existing markets.

According to those closest to the industry in Summerland the crop is the largest since at least 1957. In addition, which is considered of even more importance, the apple crop is of unusually high quality. There are a few shadowy points in this but there are not considered of too great importance.

Linked to this is the gigantic wheat sale made during the past week or two. This will bring new prosperity to the wheat growing areas, and will undoubtedly affect fruit sales. It is still too early to estimate the effect of the wheat sale on the community mart, but it is felt by those most closely in touch with conditions that a material upping of sales could result. Also prices may remain good, with few losses.

Summerland has been particularly fortunate, insofar as apples are concerned. The 1963 crop is definitely the largest since 1957, with quality and sizing excellent throughout. Color on Macs has been slow in coming, but is now beginning to appear fully on late Macs. For those already in the houses, the color factor may have a slight bearing on returns, but not a material one, according to industry experts.

Delicious are coloring excellently, and like the Macs, are of good size and top quality otherwise. The same holds true for Newtowns. It now seems that some of the top apples of the Okanagan for the 1963 crop, will come from Summerland orchards.

Some of the largest and best D'Anjou pears for several years are now going over the graders in some of the local houses. Not only is the size good, but the flavor is excellent too. It is stated. Linked to this is the Bartlett situation. Bartletts, like D'Anjous, were of good size and appearance. Now comes word that they appear to have been selling extremely well, for good prices.

Both pears and apples have been fairly free of blemish, this being regarded as one of the cleanest crops for many years. Codling moth has been far fewer than for the past few seasons. This has meant fewer grade problems.

J. S. Kirk of the farm labour office reports there are sufficient pickers to take care of needs. This means elimination of one problem that has dogged farmers in other parts of Canada; for instance, in Ontario, schools have been closed in some areas so that students could aid in harvesting crops. Most of the pickers are local people, which means fewer problems with transients.

A round-up of packing houses made mid-week showed some are working on pears, and others on apples. Those who are working on pears are in some instances doing this to clear the way for the deluge of Macs that has all but inundated them.

At the time the survey was made the Co-op packinghouse was working on D'Anjou pears. They reported that all the McIntosh produced by their growers were in and that they had switched from putting Macs over the graders to the D'Anjous in order to catch the export market. This remark indicated the fact that this variety of pear is finding customers outside Canada.

Officials of the Co-op stated: "this is one of the best apple crops we have ever handled" and the statement that the Macs were of very high quality.

The Occidental packinghouse reported they may be on Macs for another couple of weeks, with a possible shift to D'Anjous if conditions necessitate it. They stated they made a generous estimate at the start of the season but now find receipts of fruit at the house going slightly over the estimate. B.C. Fruit Shippers report they are putting D'Anjous over their graders and that these pears are the largest seen here for some years. They too, say the volume is considerable.

The Shippers plan to return to handling Macs by Friday of this week with the likelihood they will continue on Macs to the end of the run.

ARTHUR J. MANN DIES SUDDENLY

A former pathologist at the Summerland Research Station, Arthur J. Mann, died suddenly in Moose Jaw on September 30. He was 73 years of age.

Mr. Mann was born in London, England, and worked at the research station from 1921 to 1956. He was a graduate of Toronto university.

Mr. Mann was instrumental in introducing Van and Sam cherries and the Spartan apple to the Okanagan.

He is survived by his wife. Funeral services have yet to be announced.

As my favorite season and business pressures are consuming all my time I will arbitrarily end this series of Rod and Gun Club reports. My thanks and surely that of the executive of the club goes to the Summerland Review for publishing our news and views. Also thanks to those that came up with suggestions and favorable comment. I can't thank anyone for unfavourable comment because there were none. To end this series I'll make a personal game report, secure in the knowledge that I don't have to listen to someone else's which is a rare-if not egotistical situation to be in.

First, contrary to official reports on a provincial basis and to a few local reports, the Blue Grouse situation seems to be the worst encountered. Many scattered reports from the south Okanagan have my concurrence on this. After four days in the field, in roughly the same areas and under generally the same conditions I have seen only about ten percent of the birds seen in 1961. About Willows I can't say much because I generally hunt above willow habitat. Nor have I heard any comments.

On the other hand, up at the homestead here, the Quail seem to be doing wonderful. Having accounted for six skunks, one while it was actually cleaning out a quail nest and having seen many of the broods day after day I feel sort of a paternal affection for them. However, we will see what the state of emotions are when quail season starts.

I've heard a few favourable reports on pheasants, but outside of the resident birds around my place I'm pretty much in the dark.

The bright side of things appears to be the good number of deer already seen and bagged. I went out on opening day, one of the few times I've made it, with the intention of bringing the first deer into town. I almost made it, too, but just as I got a shot at a nice sleek three-point, a tree jumped in the way and hit my bullet. I saw seven deer that day. The following day I saw four deer, all bucks. Being on a grouse hunt in a remote area I was quite happy not to bag one. Several occasional hunting companions of mine have already taken a deer and various reports indicate good prospects for other hunters.

Next week I'll finish this series with the story of a goat hunt over in the Keremtos-Cawston area.

Time to unite

After Monday's election, some people — and this could include the Review — might be inclined to do a little gloating, even to the point of being smug about it. Actually none, and this newspaper most of all, should take the time for it.

We in B.C., and the newly re-elected government in particular, can't afford to take time to do this. Instead, we must all, and this includes winners and losers alike, get on with the job of building a better B.C.

While we will not gloat, we will outline some of the things that evidently led the people of B.C. (including, of course, the Review) to take the attitude they did, judging by the voting. The fact that the Socreds increased their hold on the legislature, and in many instances piled up larger majorities than in 1960 lends weight to our view.

In the first instance, the people quite certainly want a government that will do things — even some wrong things. Memory of past inaction on the part of previous administrations, and the bad fumbblings of others, remains. The voters quite evidently felt that the Socreds had a plan of action, and a positive approach to the problems and progress of this province.

With a few slight exceptions, this was not particularly true of any of the opposition. For the most part they thundered and threatened dire disaster if we allowed Social Credit to continue. But they utterly failed to convince the public they had real down-to-earth plans for the advancement of B.C. The opposition parties seemed to create the impression they were agin the government, and little else. They will, of course, refute this by stating they had quite definite plans for the betterment of the province. They may have such plans, but they utterly failed to convince the public of them; instead, wasted words and energy on the negation of "the other fellow".

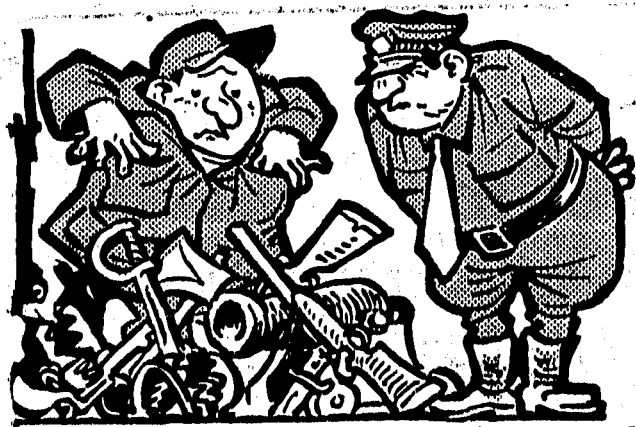

Let us at once say we do not for a moment doubt the sincerity of these movements, and certainly the candidates for all parties were of particularly high standing. They all mean well, and would work for the best of B.C., but they seem to have taken the wrong approach to the voters.

While not doubting the sincerity of the candidates, we could not say the same of the daily press, whether it be that at the coast or in our own valley. The tongue-in-cheek attitude of the coast dailies in urging the voters to "elect a minority government" smacks of pure chicanery. Those who advanced such ideas must certainly know that "split" governments are often weak, ineffectual, and without the ability to lay down, and carry out positive plans.

That goes for the coast press, as to the namby-pamby attitude of the press of the "big town" nearby, this is just riding a barbed-wire fence, and can only lead to discomfort, if not downright injury. We'd far rather a vigorous opposition campaign than this soft-pedal, mustn't wake the baby approach.

The new government has been elected to carry out a job; they must do their task as expeditiously as possible. By and large they have indicated in the past decade they have been in power that they are capable of that, even if there have been occasional lapses.

One final word: this is a vote of thanks to all the candidates who offered themselves and did not win. We should all endeavour to show our appreciation of their efforts, for only by such willingness to campaign against heavy odds can our democratic system survive — and that, after all, was what was manifested in Monday's voting.

The One Mediator

"We have a great High Priest that is passed into the heavens, Jesus the Son of God". Hebrews 4:14.

The Epistle to the Hebrews is one of the greatest revelations of the Divine plan of Salvation in the sacred Scripture. Jesus Christ is shown to be the exalted and glorified Son of God — One with God in majesty and power (Heb.1). The grace of God is revealed by Christ leaving His throne to accomplish our great Salvation (Heb. 2). He became our Great High Priest (Heb. 4, 5, 6, 7) and by the sacrifice of Himself, made the only atonement for sin (Heb. 8, 9, 10.)

The third verse of Chapter One states: "When He had by himself, purged our sins, sat down on the right hand of the Majesty on high."

I quote the exhortation of Hebrews 4:14-16 as taken from the "Amplified New Testament": "Inasmuch then as we have a great High Priest who has (already) ascended and passed through the heavens, Jesus the Son of God let hold fast our confession (of faith in Him). For we do not have a High Priest who is unable to understand and sympathize and have a fellow feeling with our weaknesses and infirmities and liability to the assaults of temptation, but One who has been tempted in every respect as we are, yet without sinning. Let us then fearlessly and confidently and boldly draw near to the throne of grace — the throne of God's unmerited favour (to us sinners): that we may receive mercy (for our failures) and find grace to help in good time for every need — appropriate help and well timed help, coming just when we need it."

MISS DOROTHY FRANCKLIN a missionary from Bolivia will show pictures of her work in the Summerland Baptist Church at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, October 3rd.

Gulare, California, came to renew acquaintance with a teacher of 50 years ago.

We shared with Mrs. Lillicoe the pleasure of a short visit from her daughter from Vancouver and wished her bon voyage over a cup of tea.

Arizona has enticed Mrs. Underwood to spend the winter under balmy skies. Mrs. Scoutum arranged a tea for the residents to bid her a pleasant winter with an injunction to bring back a report of the mysterious, aeronautic manoeuvres of that state.

During the month Mr. Bombadier, Mrs. Haker and Mrs. Montague have joined us. Mr. Bombadier is off to the prairies to share the good news of a bountiful harvest.

EMPLOYERS WHO HIRE WORKMEN FOR FULL OR PART-TIME WORK

The Workmen's Compensation Act of B.C. requires employers in most industries to register with the Workmen's Compensation Board. This includes persons operating small businesses such as retail stores, apartment houses, trucking, restaurants, etc., where one or more employees are hired for either full or part-time work.

If an employee in an industry covered under the Act sustains an accident and his employer is not registered with the Board the employee is still entitled to Workmen's Compensation benefits, but his employer may be charged with all of the cost of such benefits.

Anyone in doubt as to whether he must register should write or telephone—

Kiwanis Report

There was a real good turnout at Tuesday night's meeting. It was too bad a better entertainment program hadn't been arranged.

Jim Schaeffer was simply wonderful in leading the sing song.

Jack O'Mahoney is celebrating his 14th wedding anniversary.

Letters were received from, Penticton Club, acknowledging receipt of Summerland's share of district assembly meeting expenses; from UBC thanking this club for bursary fund assistance, and from Jack O'Mahoney, divisional chairman on international relations reminding the club that United Nation's Day was October 4, and recommending they turn in a generous donation to CARE.

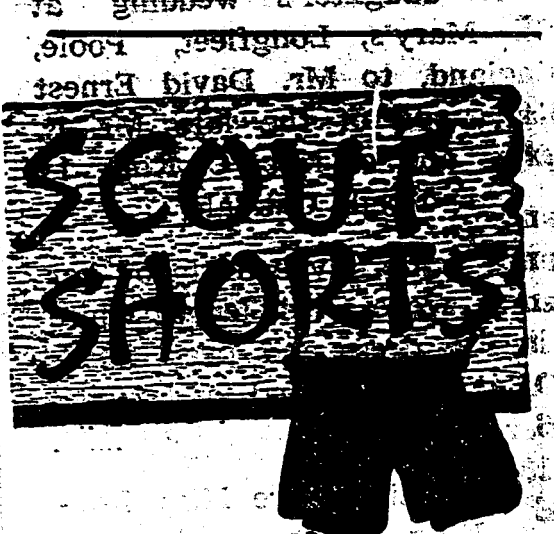

Jerry Hallquist reported on the election sweep, and John Selinger on the interclub visit to Oliver club last week. This club is of special interest to Summerland, having been sponsored by them last year. They were celebrating their first anniversary, and nine from here went down.

Jerry Hallquist advised that arrangements had been made for ladies' night next Tuesday night in Penticton at 6:30 p.m. This will be a smorgasbord dinner followed by cards, etc. A large attendance is hoped for.

During the summer out-of-doors meetings, there was considerable legal laxness, but now eagle-eyed sheriff Johnny Selinger suddenly went into action with a bang, discovering wrong name plates, upside down name plates, etc., and consequently with fines enriched the club's coffers, at the expense of his own popularity.

The evening was concluded by a showing of colored slides by Tommy Young, depicting some of the scenes taken on his European trip. He was introduced by Jack Towgood and thanked by Bob Alstead.

1st Summerland Troop

The troop renewed meetings on Monday with a turnout of 19. An outside tug of war was followed by patrol projects of repairing ropes from summer camp and practicing Tenderfoot knots. In the knotting competition which followed the Eagles won.

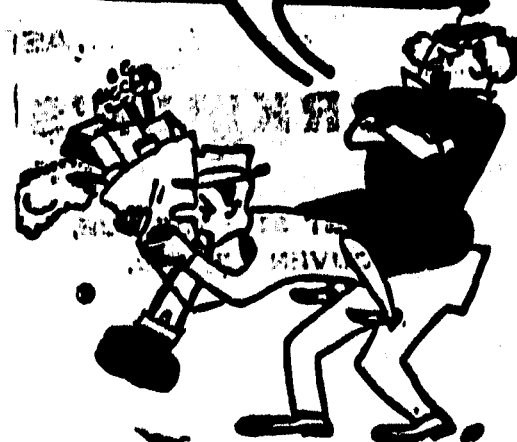

The Court of Honor met before the Monday meeting and chartered the program for the patrol system, patrol instructor, Emphasis will be on the ion, patrol camps, good discipline and personal achievement by each boy. Next week each boy will select the tests he plans to pass before Christmas, a minimum of four tests per boy.

As enrolment in the troop will be at a premium, the patrol leaders decided on a system of suspension for boys not conducting themselves in a Scoutlike manner at meetings. In other words there will be no place this year for boys who do not plan to make Scouting meaningful as well as having fun.

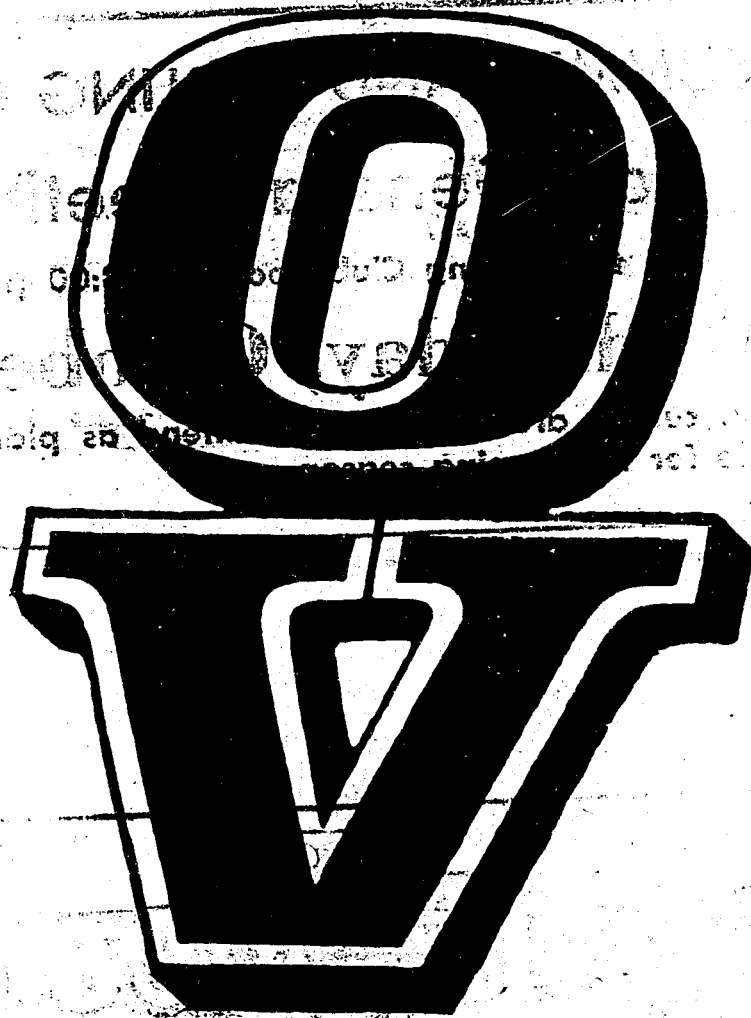

A full turnout is requested next week to complete patrol organization. Duty patrol next week, Eagles.

Fruit situation better here than in other valley areas

While elsewhere in the Okanagan the fruit-handling situation is described as desperate, in Summerland we seem to be getting by without a crisis. This was learned by the Review in a survey of local houses, conditions and plans, in comparison with what is happening in other parts of the Okanagan. Apparently thousands of boxes of apples, particularly in the central and north Okanagan regions, will have to be dumped. The keeping quality of many other thousands of boxes is being imperilled as they are "outside" — that is, not in cold storage — as earlier varieties crowd existing storage capacities. None of this is true in Summerland. A few hundred boxes of culls have been dumped, but this, in the whole, will not be much more than 1,000 and considered a "drop in the bucket" of this year's overwhelming crop.

A number of people have commented on the excellent films of R. M. Kent, now on display at the regional library. These are award winning photographs, some taken locally and others of eastern Canada. Well worth seeing.

During the past week, the research station reports no rain and 26 hours of sunshine.

The Summerland Recreation Commission is working on finding out more details on the construction of an indoor swimming pool. At its October meeting it was decided to write to Vernon and Prince Rupert for details on the operation of their pools.

Services for Mrs. H. Simpson

A pioneer of two interior B.C. communities, Summerland and Wallachin, Mrs. Harriet Simpson, passed away in the Penticton hospital on Wednesday, October 9. She was 83 years of age.

Mrs. Simpson, who was born in Manchester, England, came to Summerland prior to its incorporation, arriving in 1903. Together with her husband, who predeceased her in 1941, they participated in many of the early endeavors in Summerland.

In 1916 she and her family moved to Wallachin, where they remained until 1923, when they returned to Summerland.

She is survived by two sons H. M. (Bert) and A. E. (Art), both of Summerland and two grandchildren.

Funeral services were held from Summerland Baptist Church, Friday, October 11. Rev. F. W. Haskins officiating. Interment Peach Orchard cemetery.

Wright's Funeral Home entrusted with arrangements.

Nothing wrong with extra grant

Reeve Norman Holmes said he does not agree with Mayor R. F. Parkinson of Kelowna, in the latter's complaint against being on the "sixty per cent of winter works costs" list. Towns were placed on this list by reason of employment figures.

The reeve said that while the extra ten per cent would make but little difference to the Summerland winter works program "every little helps the taxpayers, and we're thankful for the handout."

According to some sources, the department of labor merely took the figures, as they came, and did not take into account the fact that a considerable number of married women, desirous of only working part of the year, swell out of work figures out of line with actual conditions. Some of these women would not work year around if they could, these sources state.

Students come second in TV contest

Summerland high school students have participated previously in TV "Reach for the Top" programs and have always made a high mark. Recently a local group, of Linda Charles, LaVerne Lynn, Michael Lopitocki and Neil Mason participated in another of these programs.

In the finals they were just nosed out by the Vernon team. The scores were Vernon 250 points, Summerland 205.

Students visit hospital

The Summerland General Hospital was visited recently by two boys and two girls, elected representatives of grades 6 and 7 class of Mrs. P. Roberege of the MacDonald Elementary School.

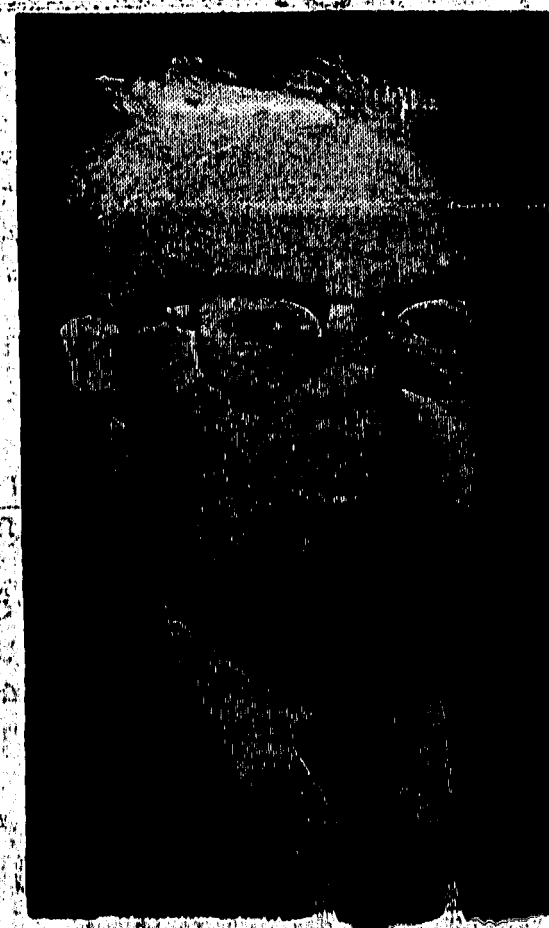

They brought gifts of fruit, flowers and vegetables donated by fellow students of their room for the benefit of the sick in the hospital over Thanksgiving week end.

Each child had a prepared question about the operation of a hospital, its treatment facilities and care of patients, each question being answered by the administrator, Harvey L. Wilson or the director of nursing, Mrs. G. Butler.

The young visitors were shown the new x-ray machine, a series of x-ray films depicting bone injuries as well as a visit (through the nursery window) with the latest small arrival, a baby boy.

Illustrated booklets telling the many legends and customs of Thanksgiving and made by each student were then given to the director of nursing to accompany the breakfast trays on Thanksgiving morning.

REEVE NORMAN HOLMES

has announced that he will seek re-election in the December municipal elections. He has served one term as reeve.

Among other items of the "fruit emergency" is the fact that the central and north Okanagan districts may have as much as 100,000 boxes yet to be picked (or housed) — no really accurate estimate has been possible; they are in a highly critical condition for bins and boxes, and haven't sufficient floor space to house fruit, and hence some of it is out of doors under temporary wraps.

As the above mentioned conditions change rapidly, from day to day, no accurate reportage of the situation has been possible. The big thing is the contrast between their situation and the one in this community.

B.C. Fruit Shippers manager C. J. Bleasdale said Wednesday afternoon: "We are beginning to see daylight and everything indicates we should be out of the woods by the end of the week." This house, in common with others here, have so arranged things that everything can be picked", which is in contrast again, to other areas where selective picking is the rule. "There is no need for a panic here," it was added, with a cautionary word that "anything can happen in a year like this", but with the further word that, barring the completely unforeseen, the houses are set up so they can adjust to meet emergencies.

C. H. Elsey of the Occidental reported "No one has been able to adequately estimate this crop. In places it is going 25% over the estimates, because the apples are so large. The processing plants are doing a fine job." He supports the statements of other houses that Summerland will likely be in the clear by the end of the present or the first of next week. Careful doling out of boxes and bins has been essential so that no one has, so far, had to go without containers.

The Summerland Co-operative Growers said: "The current situation has been a bit grim" and said they had to dump some fruit. "But there will be no material loss to the growers", they added.

No complete reports on the sales possibilities of this huge 7,000,000 box crop have so far been issued by the sales staff of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd, but it is indicated the outlook, due to the wheat sales to Russia and other improved economic items, is encouraging.

Gabriel Gascon and Mohique Joly play the young lovers in Moliere's Le Medecin Malgre Lui, CBC-TV's first Frenchlanguage production on the English network. It will be seen on Festival, Wednesday, October 30.

CNIB raises $270

The tag day held Saturday, October 5 by the Summerland branch of the CNIB was very successful with $270 collected.

The chairman, Mrs. Walter Rothwell, would like to thank all who contributed or helped in any way, with special thanks going to the residents of Parkdale Place for their generous donation and to the Review for advertising.

Much appreciation goes to the many volunteer workers who helped with sending out the appeal letters and on tag day. They included Mrs. Thos. Fisher, Mrs. J. H. Dunsdon, Mrs. Will Brown, Mrs. Hans Moors, Marilyn Dunsdon, Mrs. S. A. MacDonald, Mrs. Eric Tait, Mrs. T. H. Winter, Mrs. Bud Green, Mrs. W. Impett, Mrs. James Roe, Mrs. C. V. G. Morgan, Mrs. Alex Inch, Mrs. F. Gibbs, Miss Edith Verity, Tommy Inch, Mrs. M. C. Robinson, Miss Dorothy Britton, Miss Lois Read, Mrs. Gladys Chadburn, Mrs. Norris Laidlaw, Mr and Mrs G. Dinning, R. Alstead, Mrs. Geo. Ryman and Miss Louise Atkinson, Pat McCutcheon, Pat Ryman, Aloma Polesello, Jean Charlton, Janet Munro and Becky Downing tagged on Trout Creek Point.

The letter campaign continues through the month and anyone who has not contributed is urged to send their donation to the treasurer, Mrs. J. H. Dunsdon, RR1, West Summerland or leave at the office of Read and Pruden.

Kiwanis Notes

Tuesday night a good crowd, augmented by a visitation of eleven members from Summerland's protege, the Oliver club, sat down to a turkey dinner with all the trimmings.

Walter Toevs welcomed the visitors. On behalf of the Oliver club, their president, Ron Amos introduced individually, the members of his contingent. Ken Heales, ably aided by Don Carmichael, led the sing song.

George Henry, having celebrated his 14th wedding anniversary last year, is now celebrating his 15th.

Election of officers, which had been planned for this night was postponed for one week.

Inasmuch as Oliver had undertaken to provide the entertainment, Bill Kreller introduced the speaker, Abe Braun. Abe is a well known taxidermist but hobby is photography. He proceeded to take the members on a hunting and fishing trip through the Cathedral Mountains south of Keremeos. His colored slides showed the touch of the real artist, and were thoroughly enjoyed.

On behalf of the club, Walter Toevs expressed sincere thanks and appreciation.

Last week the club and their ladies were entertained at a smorgasbord in Penticton. The evening wound up with an hour of whist.

Recreation Commission making training survey

The Summerland Recreation Commission is endeavoring to find out what interest there is in recreational clinics in the community and also what clinics might be most wanted. Mrs R. D. White is collating the information.

Quoting Jon MacKinnon, of Kelowna, recreation consultant, Community Programs Branch, the local commission has outlined the purpose and plan for these clinics. These sessions are distinct from, and in addition to the many other recreational activities carried out by the programs brach, and also to the regular work of the local commissions.

At the outset, both the commission and the community must ask itself several key types of programs shall be offered, who will be obtained to lead them; and how the leader might be trained." This latter topic is one of the key ones for clinics, together with the questions. These are: "What if programs the community is first, an enquiry into the types looking for.

These clinics are in addition to the other activities, including leaders training, workshops and aid for local recreational activities. Costs of holding the clinic are arranged so that the local commission pays the in-ranges for the audience and structures' accommodation, ar-hall, and any supplies needed. The Programs Branch pays the instructors' travelling expenses and fees.

The clinics are set up so that they run for a maximum of four sessions, which may be four straight days, once weekly for four weeks, or bi-weekly for eight weeks. Arts, crafts, hobbies as well as sports of any kind; creative writing, horticulture and many other topics may be subjects for the clinics.

Groups interested in this development should contact Mrs R. D. White.

WILL RE-DESIGN ROAD

Efforts to clarify the Victoria Road straightening have been continued by Summerland municipal officers. This was learned from reports at last week's council meeting.

Supt. K. W. Blagborne stated that Councillor Barkwill and he had been spending considerable time on the matter. "We can make a good road of it by straightening out some spots, by arcing corners, and using only municipally owned land, without paying exorbitant prices for private property", the superintendent told council.

Some compromises and adjustments, as well as plans for further improvements will be possible, it was stated. However, at least 15 feet will be gained at some of the dangerous spots.

WI plans October tea

The address given by the world president of the Associated Country Women of the World, Mrs. Gerda van Beekhoff of the Netherlands, formed the program of the Women's Institute at their meeting Friday afternoon. The interesting talk was tape recorded at Osoyoos.

The Marion Cartwright Memorial cabinet is now in the library at West Summerland and may be seen there anytime during library hours. The late Miss Cartwright was a long-time active member of the Institute. The cabinet will hold trophies won by the Summerland Institute and the three volumes of the Village History which won a prize in the national level in the Tweedsmuir Competition.

The president, Mrs. Alex Inch was in the chair to conduct the business meeting. Roll call was answered by naming a favorite apple dish with apple pie proving the most popular.

The annual grant of $10 was received from the B.C. Dept. of Agriculture and a donation was made to CNIB.

A letter of thanks from the Solarium for used postage stamps was read by the secretary, Mrs. E. Tait.

Mrs. L. W. Rumball reported taking a shipment of articles for the Unitarian Service Committee to Kelowna. Another shipment will be made later and any new or used articles for layettes are needed. Old blankets suitable for making baby nighties or blankets are also acceptable.

Final plans for the annual variety sale and tea, Saturday, October 19 at the IOOF Hall were discussed with all conveners asking for donations for their booths. Conveners are Mrs. A. Fenwick for flowers, fruits and vegetables; Mrs. S. Procuronoff for gift items and fancy work; Mrs. Joe McLachlan for used clothing, shoes and hats; Mrs. Vera Barrs, the opportunity booth and Mrs. W. S. Rothwell, home baking and candy. Mrs. H. Moors is in charge of the tea.

Councillor Eric Tait reported to council last week that the Trout Creek Boy Scout Troop has an accommodation problem. They have acquired the old Camp Sorac building, but by ruling of the research station officials must move the building from its present location on farm lands.

Council felt the building is in a good spot now and will see what can be done to keep it at that location.

"I'm no expert, so I'm glad that I can rely on my Mutual Life policies."

"I'm going across to the bank for a minute"

Wherever Canadians live and work, a local chartered bank is nearby—a familiar, friendly source of financial services. Banking in Canada has been brought to people as in few other countries—the proportion of banking centres to population is among the highest in the world.

Every day more customers become aware that a chartered bank can not only guard their savings, cash their cheques and make loans, but help in many other ways too. They find new banking services being introduced, others being changed, improved or enlarged. For example: personal money orders, life-insured loans, company payroll plans, night depositories, banking by mail, safety deposit boxes—the list could go on and on.

The local branch of the bank is the one place where you'll find complete banking facilities—all under one roof.

INTERNATIONAL CREDIT UNION DAY

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 17

Your Credit Union Provides :

Personal Savings

In the Credit Union movement we believe

Credit Unions are essentially thrift associations. They recognize thrift as the wise use of one's resources, which includes credit. They devote themselves to the development of regular thrift programs, to provide their members a greater measure of financial security.

Credit Unions must provide maximum protection for their members' shares, adequate surety bond coverage and systematic supervision by the auditing committee of their own members. They must have adequate annual examinations as required by law.

Credit Unions provide their members thrift and loan service that is more complete, more convenient and more thoroughly helpful than they could otherwise obtain. Where possible they provide insurance to cover the lives of their members to the extent of their loan balances and on all or a portion of their shares — for the benefit and protection of their members' families.

Credit Unions should regard the character of the borrower as the prime security consideration regardless of the amount involved, and the rate of interest can, by law, not exceed one per cent a month on the unpaid balance.

Credit Unions recognize the essential and important place banks and other financial institutions have in our economy. They appreciate the service these institutions render and believe that friendly relations with them is desirable.

Credit Unions are united with each other to increase their services to their members and fulfil their obligations to bring Credit Union benefits to all people.

Credit Unions are alert to changing conditions and should adapt themselves to changing needs and desires of their members, while they always maintain their basic integrity and principles.

Credit Unions are responsible organizations in their communities and fulfill their civic obligations in a generous and exemplary manner.

Credit Unions have demonstrated that average people can operate their own financial institutions. Credit Unions are increasingly recognized as instruments of human well-being and will continue to be, so long as they maintain and cultivate highest levels and standards of conduct.
