The general fall meeting of the Summerland Curling Club will be held Monday, October 5 at 7:30 p.m. in the curling rink. This is an important meeting when all pre-season business is discussed and curlers and all those interested in curling are asked to come along and help get the season rolling. Ice will probably be in about the first of November.

Badminton play starts next week in the badminton hall. Adults will meet Tuesday evening with junior times to be announced later. New players are welcome.

Recent graduates of the Royal Inland Hospital training school in Kamloops, Miss JoAnn Ongaro of Summerland and Miss Donna Koskimaki of Enderby have left for Saskatchewan where they will join the nursing staff of the Lloydminster Hospital.

During the past week, the research station reports .05 inches of rain and 44.6 hours of sunshine.

For a good portion of this month world attention will be focussed on Tokyo and the Olympic games.

Summerland's attention will be on Allen Birtles, son of Mr and Mrs. Walter Birtles, as he competes with Canada's basketball team in the games.

Early this week the Canadian team defeated a scrappy Korean team 73-65, boosting the team's chances of making the Olympic basketball tourney in Tokyo next month. After this game, only the Mexican team held a better record than Canada in the round robin elimination tournament.

Allen scored 12 points in the game against Korea.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Orr and Elizabeth spent the week end at Victoria where they attended the wedding of Miss Gayle Bartran to Mr. Kenneth Ballard in Metropolitan United Church. Miss Elizabeth Orr was bridesmaid.

Pack rats have come up with modern, fast construction methods. They constructed this nest in front of the radiator of Elmer Johnstone's panel in two nights. Used for building material were nails, peach pits, twigs, mattress stuffing, nuts and bolts and paper. Mr. Johnstone made sure it wouldn't happen again — he trapped the villain.

Summerland, B.C.

Volume 19, No. 24

5c Per Copy

This new type dipping machine, built by Summerland Welding and Machine Shop Ltd. will be installed in the Sun-Rype plant at Kelowna.

Five of the machines have been placed in packing houses in the valley.

Machine shop owner Charlie Drummond feels confident that there is a good market in the Okanagan for specialized fruit handling equipment. His plant, which employs up to six men, is now developing other types of machinery.

'Mum show this Saturday

The annual Chrysanthemum Show sponsored by the Summerland Horticultural Society, will be held in the Anglican Parish Hall on Saturday, October 3.

There are over 40 classes this year for various varieties of 'mums. Also included are classes for arrangement of garden flowers other than 'mums; arrangement of drift wood and mums; arrangement of dried flowers and grasses.

Exhibitors are advised that if there seems to be a danger of frost, to cut their flowers a few days ahead.

Exhibits must be placed by 10 p.m. Saturday. The show is open from 3 to 9 p.m.

Admission is 25c, children under 10, with parents, free. Afternoon tea 15c.

Miss Heather Lawford of Vancouver was a week end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Norris Laidlaw.

The baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Gartrell, Sherri Ann, was christened Sunday at Summerland United Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Preston Mott and sons are holidaying at Caldwell, Idaho.

New packing equipment made here

A new innovation in fruit packing, invented and manufactured in Summerland, is now being installed in a number of valley packing houses.

The unit, built by Summerland Welding and Machine Shop Ltd., is a hydraulic immersion dumper and dipping tank. The machine is used to dip fruit into a solution prior to its being placed in cold storage or CA storage.

A major feature of the machine is that the tank is sunk into the ground, enabling a fork lift to be used in the operation. Using the machine, this dipping process has been speeded up from 90 boxes an hour to over 900 boxes an hour.

Summerland packing houses have installed and tested the machine, and are quite pleased with its speediness and efficiency.

Designer Charlie Drummond, owner of the machine shop, says that his is the only company in the valley building this type of unit. He intends to expand his operation here to provide more equipment for packing houses and canneries in the valley.

CYC starts fall meetings

The Christian Youth Crusaders (CYC) will hold its first fall meeting at the Free Methodist Church this Friday at 7:30 p.m. Parents are invited to bring their youngsters to this first meeting to hear the explanation of this valuable youth program.

Children from all faiths are welcome and will meet weekly to receive spiritual training and take part in the many CYC activities. The youngsters are taken on interesting field trips and taught crafts and games.

Children from ages 6 to 14 enter into the keen competitions and are able to compete for the 80 badges which are offered as study enducements.

Very successful results from reading course tested in schools here

For the past two years there has been going on in the Summerland Secondary School, a very interesting experiment in connection with the teaching of reading in particular, and English in general. The experimental course has been called Developmental English.

In the past, most courses of this nature have been directed towards the needs of those who have shown themselves to require special help in the field of reading. This course, on the other hand, has been carried out with all students of grade seven, eight and nine, and has occupied their time for approximately two periods per week.

The course is predominately a course in reading, with instruction and practice occupying almost eighty percent of the time.

Special attention is also given to spelling, oral English, hand writing and library instruction.

When the results were tabulated, it was found that outstanding gains were made in vocabulary, and in comprehension in reading. It is of interest, too, to note that all students, both the weak sections of the class, and the strong section of the class profited by the special instruction which was given.

Principal John Tamblin initiated the experiment, and Mrs. C. Reinertson conducted the classes.

The experiment is continuing for at least one more year.

Art, drama courses at night school

Courses for Night School for the new term were announced this week by W. R. Chalmers.

On Wednesday, October 7, classes will commence in an art course instructed by Mr. Hamilton of Kelowna. Mr. Hamilton has recently opened an art gallery in Kelowna and is a well known professional artist. The fee for the 16 week course is $8.50. Courses will be held during October and November, and February and March.

The drama course will commence Thursday, October 8. Instructor is Mrs. Earl Deeder.

Both courses start at 7:30 p.m. in the Secondary School.

Proposed courses for January are a parents course in Mathematics 8, and a book-keeping course for small businesses and orchardists.

If you wish typing, sewing, copper-work or any other course please phone the Secondary School at 494-2501 or W. R. Chalmers at 494-8007. If a sufficient number of people show an interest a course will be arranged.

Purchase land for future classes

Summerland school board has started preliminary negotiations for the purchase of the orchard property situated just north of MacDonald School.

If this property is acquired, the acreage of the school will be well above that which is recommended by the department of education. The Board feels that the land will not be put to use immediately but will be in readiness when growth in school population indicates further classroom expansion.

Dr. James Millmore made the motion to start negotiations and secretary-treasurer J. B. Hack said the first move will be to get the approval of the department of education.

Mrs. David Munn was at the coast over the week end to attend the funeral of her father, George Challenger.

JOHN DOWNTON

One of the UBC students from Summerland has been greatly honored in being appointed Lab Instructor in two Genetic Lab Sections (Biology 333). Four years ago John graduated from high school with top honors, winning the Municipality Scholarship for high marks, the IOOF Scholarship and the Cran-na watch. He was valedictorian of his class.

Today John, at age 21, is a fourth year Science student at UBC. He has continued, over his student years, to earn many scholarships and bursaries and awards for high marks. This year and last, he received scholarships for first class honors amounting to half his tuition fees. Some of his other awards are: the Annie Campbell Memorial Scholarship, the McMillan Scholarship, the IOOE Scholarship for highest marks in Science and Entomology, and a proficiency prize from the Entomology Society, besides additional bursaries.

The hearts of all Summerland people interested in education must be warmed by the record of this young student, who is proving that where there is a will there is a way to gain an education. We prophecy that, God willing, John Downton will never quit until he earns his Doctorate. As a matter of fact, people like John never quit. NNN — P.D.

CNIB asks support for tag day Saturday

Mrs. W. S. Rothwell, chairman of the Summerland and District Branch of The Canadian National Institute for the Blind, has announced the date of the annual campaign for funds to support work for blind people in this province.

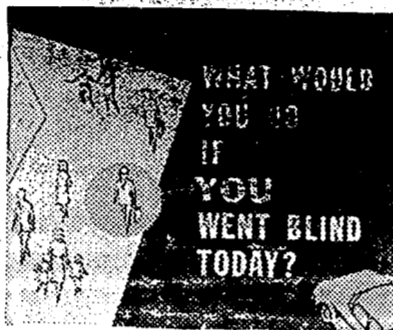

She requested that citizens of this district become aware of the need for their personal concern in the welfare of the 2,586 persons registered as blind in B.C. She said also that the CNIB is the only organization in Canada with a complete program of services for men, women and children who have lost their sight.

Our generous support of the campaign taking place during October is the most effective way in which we, who have the precious possession of sight, can lend our helping hand to this worthy organization, said Mrs. Rothwell.

Through The Canadian National Institute for the Blind, thousands of sightless Canadians are being guided to a new way of life — a life of self-reliance and independence.

Vice-chairmen Robert Alstead and Mrs. Eric Tait, Mrs. J. H. Dunsdon, treasurer, and secretary Mrs. George Ryman, with the directors and members are actively working with their Chairman in planning and carrying out the once-a-year CNIB appeal.

The annual tag day will be held Saturday, October 3. Other donations may be left at the Read and Pruden office.

Employment opportunities rising

Employment opportunities for men and women, particularly in services, fruit packing and cannery occupations, were at an extremely high level during September, reports Irvine Moss, manager of the Penticton National Employment Office.

Some shortage of skilled workers for the construction and sawmill industry was apparent from time to time during the month.

The apple harvest got underway early in the month and is now general throughout the area. At present there is an increased demand for apple pickers. A shortage of these workers could develop over the next few days.

There is still a desperate shortage of female cannery workers. This work is expected to last for from two to three weeks. Any women interested in this employment are asked to contact the local office as soon as possible.

The Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada Ltd., have immediate openings for journeyman carpenters (at Company rates) and plant labourers. Labourers must be between 18 and 35 years, a minimum of 150 lbs. in weight and have a minimum of Grade XI. A company representative will be at the National Employment office in Penticton on Friday, October 2, to interview and hire suitable applicants.

CA storage gains in Okanagan

Use of controlled atmosphere storage for apples is on the upswing in B.C., observes a Canada Department of Agriculture researcher.

Although this method has been used for many years in eastern North America and in Britain, it is relatively new to the west coast province, says Dr. S. W. Porritt, of CDA's research station here. Until fairly recently there was little need for it in the Okanagan because varieties like Delicious and Winesap could be held in cold storage satisfactorily.

Because of increasing apple production and changing marketing requirements, however, controlled atmosphere (CA) storage has become important to the apple industry in the Valley.

CA storage made its debut in British Columbia in 1956, when two 10,000 bushel rooms were built in Kelowna. There was no further expansion in facilities until last year when a six room storage, with a capacity for 144,000 bushels, was built at Kelowna.

For the 1964 storage season, there will be 22 CA rooms in operation in the Okanagan. Storage capacity will top the 500,000 bushel mark.

At present CA storage is used only for McIntosh, Delicious and Spartan varieties. The Spartan appears particularly suited for this type of storage and will become an important variety in the CA program, Dr Porritt says.

Meantime, with the swing to this type of storage well under way, still further increases in storage facilities are expected in the next few years.

Cutting Costs in the Packing House

by Wally Smith

The recipe for success in fruit growing includes more than producing the right varieties under good management. It is not enough that a grower have a well balanced unit and produce a heavy tonnage of high grade fruit.

What happens to the fruit in the market place is also a very important factor in determining the size of the grower's income, but the cost of handling the fruit in the packing house — preparing it for market — is of increasing importance.

A brief study of figures showing the packing costs for apples in different packing houses up and down the Okanagan Valley shows how deeply packing costs can cut into the grower's orchard returns.

Packing costs are the only figures to consider when looking at apple prices paid out by the various houses.

Under our one desk marketing scheme all apples of a given variety, grade and size, are paid for at the same price, so any difference in price paid by one packing house as compared with another is directly due to a difference in cost of packing and storing.

The figures show there is a wide spread in the charges assessed by different packing houses, ranging from 10 cents to more than 30 cents a box, depending on variety and grade.

Parliament Report

by David Pugh, MP

The last two weeks have produced a few surprises in the House of Commons, and the business is proceeding with rapidity. The Flag Committee has been set up, and I find myself a member — being one of the 15 chosen. I feel honored to have been selected. We went to work immediately, and have had numerous meetings. These are being held behind closed doors. The idea is to give a press release from time to time. It is felt that this method of procedure will produce better results in the long run.

Last week, along with a few other Members of Parliament, I participated in the final Columbia River round-up. From Ottawa we proceeded to Great Falls, where we were platform guests — along with the President of the United States and a number of his Senators. We were all there to welcome our Prime Minister when he flew in from Canada. There was a short, impressive ceremony.

Later that morning I was privileged to ride in the President's plane to Vancouver, attend the ceremonies there and afterwards those at the Peace Arch, Blaine. All in all, it was a very eventful and interesting trip.

I enjoyed pointing out various watersheds in the interior of British Columbia, and points of interest in my constituency as we flew over the Boundary Country, the Okanagan and Similkameen. Christina Lake appeared like a jewel.

Michele Finney, favorite of Razzle Dazzle fans, takes on a new assignment this fall when she joins Peter Kastner as co-host of Time of Your Life, a Sunday half-hour variety show for young people. Michele, who will be 15 in December, is a student at Jarvis Collegiate Institute in Toronto.

Do we appreciate abundance?

by Rev. F. W. Haskins

Last week, a young man from the prairies, on his first visit to the Okanagan remonstrated in an agitated manner about "the waste" as he was looking at some prunes on the ground which had fallen from a tree. It is true that in "Beautiful British Columbia" as advertised on our car licence plates we are blessed by abundance of many good things. Although there is much hunger in the world, we look upon the loss of fruit in the orchards as but an incident in the fruit growing business.

Do we appreciate abundance? It is a question whether we know how to use the material resources available to us when we see our young people leave the Valley for job opportunities elsewhere; and, also when we know that there is a lack of institutions to take care of those who are chronically ill and need nursing care. While much has been done in many fields of service there are many needs which cannot be neglected if the opportunity for decent living is to be accorded to each citizen.

The best use of our resources for the good of all is also an ideal which applies to the welfare of man's soul as well as his mind and body. The Bible tells us that "a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth." Jesus said: "I am come that they might have life and that they might have it more abundantly." Through the ministry of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, the message of man's need to receive forgiveness for wrong, and to discover inner harmony of life and peace has been declared.

The record of the response of churches to the Christian challenge to build character and work for righteousness is evidence of the gift of the abundant grace of God.

There is need for men to use the resources of our land for the material welfare of all. There is also a deeper need to appreciate and receive the bounty of the grace of God who "giveth to all men liberally and upbraideth not".

SUGAR AND SPICE

Mainly The Money?

By BILL SMILEY

Phooey to you Mrs. F. J. Glaubitz and the association. But isn't that taking a very dim view of the church, the government, and the parents of all those who will make up the future?

Mrs. Glaubitz was widely quoted recently as "expressing concern that some persons are attracted to the teaching profession because of high salaries rather than a genuine interest in teaching."

The lady is reported to have said that persons in the past have been drawn to teaching because of a sincere interest in human beings, but the higher salaries of recent years have brought an increasing number who consider it "just another job."

Dear Mrs. Glaubitz, you're all wet! Where are all these people who are flocking into teaching for the big salaries? Every spring, principals do everything but turn over stones to see what they can find under them, in the search for teachers.

Where are these big salaries, Mrs. Glaubitz? Now, I'm not going to get personal, and ask how much Mr. Glaubitz is making these days. But if there is a Mr. Glaubitz, I'll bet he's making a whale of a lot more than this teacher.

Teachers' salaries are reasonable after years of shabby gentility. But they're a long way from being opulent. They make less money than engineers, dentists or bone-benders. They're not even within sight of doctors and lawyers. They're about one jump ahead of the preachers, about on a par with the skilled craftsmen.

Anybody who has a wild idea about getting into the high-salaried profession of teaching should immediately take a tranquillizer, followed by a short course in hotel management, hair-dressing, or something in which he can make real money.

The story continued: "Mrs. Glaubitz emphasized that the association does not oppose high salaries for teachers because 'the whole future of the country rests in their hands.'"

Well, bully for Mrs. Glaubitz and the association. But isn't that taking a very dim view of the church, the government, and the parents of all those who will make up the future?

It's a bit much to saddle the teachers with, isn't it? Frankly, if the whole future of the country rests in my hands, I'm going to put my hands in my pockets and stroll quietly away.

Mrs. G., in the same story, suggested that greater care be taken in choosing candidates for teaching training using such means as aptitude tests to weed out unsuitable persons. Now, I realize that teachers have not the pristine purity of medical or law societies, where there is never a bad apple in the barrel, but I'm afraid aptitude tests are not the answer.

Here's the type of test Mrs. Glaubitz might approve, with the answers that would be given by one of the best teachers I know, a mature experienced man whose students worship him, whose colleagues respect him, and whose results are excellent.

Q. Do you have a sincere interest in human beings? A. Well, not really. I like dogs, though.

Q. Do you smoke? A. Sure.

Q. Do you indulge in alcohol? A. Just beer, except on the weekends.

Q. Do you enjoy helping people? A. Hell, no. I only do it because I have to.

Q. Are you interested in a higher salary? A. Are you kidding?

Q. What cultural interests do you have, aside from your profession? A. Watching football on TV.

Q. What sort of home life do you have? A. Well, the kids drive me crazy and I fight a lot with my wife. About average, I guess.

And so it would go, the aptitude test. This chap should be hurled out of the profession, by rights. He's not dedicated or anything. He's just a cracking good teacher.

Have a problem? Write to Canadian social worker Doris Clark in care of this newspaper.

DEAR DORIS—When I was 11 years old, while my mother was out, my father got in bed with me and showed me how you get a baby. At first I didn't realize what was happening and then it continued every time my mom went out.

Nothing happened for three years so I thought he'd given up. Then suddenly one night he got in the tub with me. I quickly left and then just one week ago he came at me again.

What can I do to prevent this from happening ever again? I've got to talk to someone because soon he'll be doing the same thing to my sisters and I don't want them to go through what I have. I am now 16.

WORRIED GIRL

DEAR GIRL — What your father has been doing is considered a criminal offence. I admire your determination to do something about it.

Since other children are now threatened, you should go to the child care agency for the area where you live and talk with the worker there. She will keep what you tell her confidential and together with you work out the best way to handle things.

DEAR DORIS—My legs are just awful looking. On the inside of my knees it sticks out and I don't know if I'm bow-legged or what.

SANDRA

DEAR SANDRA — Not bow-legged but the opposite — knock-kneed. A common figure-fault with the fair sex. Women's hips are relatively wider than men's and the thigh bone is set at an angle. Most noticeable when you point your toes out.

When the difference amounts to 30 cents a box it adds up to a lot of money — more than the hard-pressed grower can afford.

Different packing houses have different methods of calculating costs. Because of this one house may pay a little more for peaches and pears and a little less for apples, as compared with another house.

A difference of a few cents a box one way or another is quite understandable, but a spread of 30 cents a box on apples would seem to indicate that the house with the high cost is operating with a low degree of efficiency as measured by today's standards.

In recent years packing house buildings, methods and equipment have undergone many improvements that have increased man-hour output and kept down overhead costs. Bulk bins, automatic dumpers, high stacking lift trucks and various other labor saving devices have been introduced. Probably more are coming, such as electronic color sorting, automatic packing, and automatic bagging.

Some of these changes are better adapted to, and probably within the financial reach of only the larger packing houses.

The modern prairie wheat farm with its vast acres and highly mechanized equipment has largely replaced the half section holding with its 4-horse sulky plow and 8 ft. binder.

The signs are pointing to a similar trend to bigness in fruit packing houses. Dean McPhee, in his report on the fruit industry, recommended amalgamation of some packing houses with a view to reducing overhead costs. Up to this date his recommendation has found little favor with fruit growers, but as the economic pressure increases they may be forced to join forces in order to survive.

Walk with a light springy gait, toes pointing straight ahead, weight resting on outer borders of feet. Then forget about the "insides of your knees."

DEAR DORIS—I am a bachelor of 33 years, the only unmarried one of five boys. My problem is my father. We were generally poor because of his irresponsibility.

I have worked steadily since I left school. I was forever sending money home for some money-making scheme but things never got any better. By last year I had saved up enough for a year at university, but my father needed capital to start a small store and he got it. The store business was a fiasco.

I had a summer cottage but my father had someone forge my signature and borrowed money on it. Now it is gone.

I gave up the girl I was engaged to. I have sacrificed a university education. Except when I'm wearing a mask I feel and look miserable. Is there any humane solution to my dilemma?

DESPONDENT

DEAR DESPONDENT — Being an easy mark isn't easy, is it? How about the poor deal you've given your girl? She has rights too. And so have you.

It's high time you asserted them. No more throwing good money after bad. Get back to your girl—let she'll still have you—and make a five-year plan for university, marriage, children.

Call on your brothers to take on your Dad. It's their turn.

Red Cross Work Room opens soon

The Summerland Red Cross work room at the Health Centre swings back into operation on Tuesday, October 13. District ladies are invited to help with this worthwhile work and enjoy an afternoon with their friends. The work done by the Summerland branch and similar branches throughout Canada does much to assist the Canadian Red Cross throughout the world.

Here the workers are busy every week cutting and sewing fabrics which they receive from headquarters. From these supplies are made sweaters, quilts, pyjamas and many articles of light weight clothing used in needier countries.

Workers for the cutting department are urgently needed, and any lady wishing to help out will be very welcome.

Mrs. Rex Chapman is president of the Summerland workshop with Mrs. Percy Taylor vice-president. Secretary is Mrs J. Y. Towgood and Mrs. Anna Woolf is treasurer.

The work room is under the direction of Mrs Percy Taylor, knitting is under Mrs. George Inglis; Mrs. Jake Heichert is in charge of the quilt section and the cutting is under the supervision of Mrs. Jack Peddie. The ladies enjoy tea and refreshments after their busy afternoon.

Last year about five large shipments of useful handmade articles were sent by the Summerland group.

YOUTH CENTRE

(Continued from opposite page) licity committee will advertise that the hall is available. Miss Tait may be contacted for any information concerning rental.

The grounds committee reported that a deposit had been paid on the lot adjoining the parking lot, which the Association would like to sell. The prospective buyer planned to build a duplex, but found that the zoning bylaw would not allow this type of building there, so the deposit was refunded.

Improvements to the Youth Centre were suggested as a Centennial project to the Centennial Committee, but it was found that the grant could not be used for renovations. The Youth Centre must therefore continue to operate on its present frugal budget.

3 Summerland girls in first practical nurses' class

Two Summerland girls, Linda Rumball and Mona Inaba graduated from the practical nursing course at the provincial vocational school in Kelowna recently. Also graduating was Alice Downes of Summerland.

Three Summerland girls, all graduates of the Secondary School, were among the first graduating class of practical nurses from the provincial vocational school at Kelowna.

The girls, Miss Alice Downes, Miss Linda Rumball and Miss Mona Inaba, were among a group of 11 practical nurses who received a year's training both at the school and in hospitals.

At the ceremony, W. R. Brown, principal of the school, and Mrs M. J. Aitkens presented the students with their caps, pins and diplomas.

In his comments to the class and their guests Mr. Brown said: "It is a momentous occasion for the vocational school to see its first class graduate. Now the practical nurses can go out to do the job they were trained to do. I feel confident they will do a good job and we can be proud of them."

The lecture portion of the course is four months and is carried out at the school. Following the basic training, the girls go out to hospitals to do practical work.

Duties of a practical nurse include bedmaking, patient bathing, temperature, pulse and respiration recording, cleaning equipment, bed care and admitting.

Outstanding programs arranged in new series by Overture Concerts

by Madeleine Alstead

The executive of the Summerland Overture Concert Association held a meeting last Friday, at the home of Mrs. Brian Liebert with Mrs. R. D. White, president, in the chair.

It was most encouraging to learn that the membership this year is above that of last year. A series of excellent concerts is scheduled for 1964-65. These Overture concerts are of high musical calibre, many of them appearing at the Queen Elizabeth Theatre in Vancouver, winning high acclaim from the critics.

The first concert, the Carillon Quartet, will be held on Monday, November 16. All concerts are at 8:15 p.m. in the Secondary School auditorium. This quartet consists of members of the Canadian Opera Company and was chosen by Herman Geiger-Torel, conductor of the opera company. Part of the program will be staged and all will offer superb singing by leading young Canadian vocalists. Among them will be Miss Barbara Strathdee, well-known in Summerland for her memorable concert here last year and her singing in The Merry Wives of Windsor at Oliver a few seasons ago.

The second concert will be folk-singers Malko and Joso on Tuesday, January 26. This is an exciting and unusual duo, one of the most popular programs on the concert stage and those who have heard and seen them on TV say they are excellent. Their songs are delivered with vitality and drama, accompanied by the superb and distinctive guitar playing of Joso.

The third concert, on April 9, will be the Cassenti Players, unusual combination of winds and strings with piano. The music is a delightfully varied program of instrumental works through the centuries and features unusual instruments. The players are outstanding Canadian instrumentalists from Vancouver, CBC radio and TV studios.

Oliver, after experiencing a difficulty in electing a new executive, is ready for the new season with the usual four concerts and Kelowna with four concerts, dates and details to be announced later. Summerland members are entitled to attend these concerts also and are very fortunate to be able to attend these concerts each year on their tickets. No doubling of programs will occur in the Okanagan Valley.

New arrivals in Summerland since the spring campaign are advised that they may be able to obtain tickets from Mrs. R. D. White or Mrs. Brian Liebert as a few are still available.

The three concerts in Summerland last year were most enjoyable and an interesting and stimulating variety of concerts is anticipated for the coming

Many improvements on Youth Centre

The quarterly executive meeting of the Summerland Youth Centre Association was held last week at the Youth Centre.

President Ewart Woolliams expressed satisfaction with the work being done by the municipality to level off the parking lot, in exchange for the soil to be used as fill. Soil had been cleared from the west side of the building to level off that area, and the north side was in the process of being levelled. After inspecting the work, the executive all agreed the grounds will be much more functional for outdoor youth activities, and for parking.

The president also commended the properties committee for the ramp and gutter which has been installed to drain away the liquid from the peach pits stored behind the building for use as fuel in the winter. This liquid formerly seeped into the basement, but the new drainage system has corrected that difficulty.

The possibility of using blacktop to provide a bigger area for proper drying and storage of the pits was looked into, but found to be too costly. D. V. Fisher reminded the executive of the big saving on fuel through the use of the pits, and suggested an addition to the cement block already in use.

A work party comprised of Don Fisher, Lorne Bloomfield, Hans Schmid and Jim Munn painted the downstairs floors. A garbage can was purchased for the back door. Other improvements suggested were a light for the parking lot, and repairs to the outside stairway.

Evidences of neglect in the maintenance of the building prompted several suggestions for a new slate of duties for the janitor.

Treasurer Don Clark reported that rentals had brought in about $400 this year. He expressed the feelings of all the executive when he stated that more use could be made of the building on nights when the youth organizations are not there. Secretary Doreen Tait reported that both Friday and Saturday nights are now available for rental, and Tuesday and Thursday nights after 8 p.m. She was asked to draw up a new schedule of rates for the 1964-65 season. Happy holidays take more than new swimsuit

How was the holiday? Did it live up to expectations? Or did you have to pinch pennies?

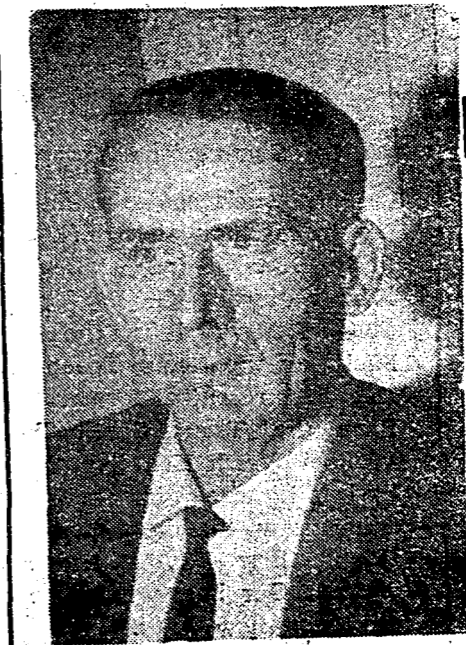

Don't let it happen again next year, when it's so easy to plan wonderful vacations — and to pay for them in advance by steady saving at the Bank of Montreal.

Many modern families now operate their own "do-it-together" savings plan. Everyone contributes according to the amount he can spare, regularly.

The time to start is right now! And the way to do it is to deposit each pay-day enough to cover the expenses of one day of your holidays. Then, when it's holiday time again, your special vacation fund will be big enough to make it a holiday to remember.

Don Carmichael, accountant at the Summerland branch of the B of M can show you how easy it is to start your special savings account.

Special service bulletin for Mutual Life policyholders

Have you arranged with Mutual Life for an income if you become disabled?

If you became disabled and unable to work for a long period of time — the bills wouldn't stop coming in. Your family would still have to be clothed and fed. The mortgage, the light bill and the heating would have to be paid — not to mention medical expenses. That's why it's a good idea to arrange for disability income through The Mutual Life.

You can add disability income protection to your present Mutual Life policy for a small additional charge — or include it with a new plan. Then if, through sickness or accident, you were unable to work for a certain length of time — Mutual Life would pay you a monthly income. (It would begin after a three or six month waiting period depending on your choice). And, what's more, Mutual Life would pay your premiums as well.

Your Mutual Life representative will be happy to discuss disability income protection with you at any time. Why not call him today, or simply complete and mail the coupon for more information.

Senior citizens invited to C.U. dinner

Summerland and District Credit Union is observing International Credit Union Day, Thursday, October 15 with its annual banquet for senior citizens of the community. The banquet will be held in the Rosedale Room of the Royal Canadian Legion.

Those wishing to attend are asked to phone Mr. Ben Mayne at 494-1169. Transportation will be provided for anyone who needs it.

Two hundred and twenty-five thousand people in British Columbia are owner-members of credit unions. This year credit unions in our province celebrate 25 years of operations. Because of their unique structure and the many benefits they offer to people, more than 300 credit unions have been organized in B.C.

85 years of public singing celebrated Sunday

Not too many persons can boast they have been singing in public for 85 years, but Joseph Williams, a resident of Summerland proved the point last Sunday, when he sang, "How Great Thou Art" for the congregation at the Free Methodist Church. Mr. Williams started singing for the public at the age of five and on Sunday he celebrated his 90th birthday.

Mr. Williams was born in Kansas and has spent most of his life in Canada. He enjoys good health, and drove his own car to Alberta earlier this year.

On Monday afternoon Mrs. James Roe and Miss Mary Edwards were co-hostesses at a birthday party for Mr. Williams. Guests included Heather Bloomfield, Karen and Sandy Elliot, Marjorie and Robert Nichol, Barbara and Keny Kuroda, and Mrs. Roe's four small daughters.

Watch out for stop signs

RCMP are asking motorists to take notice of a new stop sign near the Anglican rectory. Officers have been giving only a warning to drivers who fail to observe the stop sign but will start issuing tickets soon. The move was necessitated by the recent work on Gulch Road which now carries a much heavier volume of traffic.

Council has granted permission to the RCMP to utilize Auxiliary Police whenever necessary. Summerland has three men trained as Auxiliary Police.

POLICE COURT NEWS

Howard Smith of Summerland appeared in police court before magistrate Reid Johnson on a speeding charge. He was fined $25 and costs and his licence suspended for 60 days. On September 25, Charles Hill of Summerland was fined $25 and costs for driving without due care and attention.

On September 29 Warren M. Smith of Summerland, charged with passing on the right was fined $15 and costs. Roy Rusaw received the same fine for the same type of offence.

On October 1, three magazine salesmen were fined $15 and costs for selling without a proper licence.

Council briefs

Council has no objections to home owners grassing the road allowance near their property, but solid constructions such as concrete walls are another matter. C. Miller, whose home is near the bottom of Gulch Road, attended council Tuesday night to complain that since the road widening program, a great deal of run-off is coming down the road and on at least two occasions he has had a considerable amount of water in his basement. He said other basements in the area were filling also.

Councillor Barkwil said that until the cement wall in front of Mr. Miller's home is removed the works department cannot take corrective measures. The wall, built by Mr. Miller, is partially on municipal property.

ASK FOR RE-ZONING

The Summerland Welding & Machine Shop Ltd. asked council to consider rezoning of the property where his engineering works is located. Owner, C. Drummond indicated he wishes to build an office in the future.

Curling season opening with mixed bonspiel

A mixed bonspiel at the end of October will open the curling season for another year. An organizational meeting was held at the curling rink on Monday. President Howard Pruden outlined plans for an active season. The choosing of rinks will be the same as last year.

Time will be available on the week end for organizations and clubs wishing to use the ice. For further information contact Harvey Eden, who will again be the rink custodian.

Senior curlers enjoy many hours of afternoon curling during the winter months and their organization is expected to be active again this year.

ARDA approval appears hopeful

"A real, honest-to-goodness ARDA project that will not place a further money burden on Summerland growers" was the way an ARDA official in Victoria summed up the report which was presented to that branch outlining Summerland's first stage ARDA proposal.

Councillor W. B. Powell and Works Superintendent K. M. Blagborne met recently with provincial officials in Victoria for an initial study of the plan. It will be six weeks at least before the municipality learns whether Victoria approves but Mr. Powell said he felt confident the plan would go through.

The report was prepared by Ingeldow, Kidd & Associates of Vancouver, Consulting Engineers and reviews the need for and the feasibility of carrying out the rehabilitation of the water and irrigation system owned by the municipality.

The system is used to irrigate orchards in the municipality and was installed initially before 1906. Since that time it has been rebuilt several times; from the first earth ditch, to wooden flumes, to metal flumes, and then to the concrete flumes which are carrying the water in from the dams today.

The engineers report plans the rehabilitation of 4.5 miles of the mains. The entire system is 120 miles long and a later report to ARDA will outline a plan to rebuild and improve the five storage dams.

The estimated construction program on the mains will take three years and if approved by ARDA, the cost will be shared by the two senior governments and the municipality.

Purpose of the program is to replace all existing metal flumes and certain of the concrete lined flumes and ditch with flumes of precast concrete.

Over 3,450 acres in the municipality (12,000 acres) are under irrigation presently.

If the report is passed by the provincial government it then goes to Ottawa to be studied by the ARDA board. Approval from this group will mean the project can go ahead.

New regalia for Rebekah lodge

The next regular meeting of Faith Rebekah Lodge No. 32 of Summerland on Wednesday, October 14, will be a very auspicious occasion for its members. Recently a new set of beautiful chain regalia for its officers was purchased and at this meeting it will be dedicated and worn for the first time by the officers.

Visitors will be present from Kelowna, Penticton and Oliver to share in the special evening that has been planned.

Dedication services are under the direction of Mrs. J. L. Brown, with special refreshments under the convenorship of Mrs. J. Dunsdon, district deputy president.

Hair Raising Report

Warning to barbers:

Business is liable to slack off for you fellows next year because a long hair fashion now becoming increasingly popular among youth in England is certain to spread to this country soon.

Reports from London schools say headmasters are talking in clipped tones to male students who persist in wearing their hair down to the shoulders.

It has got so the teachers are getting them confused with girl students, a circumstance that has given rise to some tense moments when one of the faddists pops out of the boys' washroom with long hair swinging.

But it is not only students who have long hair.

In Durham, England, a plant owner became so worried about the risk of his apprentices getting their hair caught in the machinery he ordered them to wear hair nets.

It's tribute to English belief in a man's right to set his own fashions that the courts ruled the plant owner had no authority to enforce the hair net decree.

That the shoulder-length hair style will spread to this continent appears certain. Young people are much greater conformists than their parents, who stick by the right to wear hair long, short or with a wide horse-shoe part — and devil take the hindmost.

We expect to see page boy cuts on half the youths in Canada come spring.

But don't make the mistake of thinking this means the nation has gone sissy.

There was a fellow named Samson who lost his strength only after his hair was cut short and just a few decades ago chaps in England and in the brave New World too, were wearing long powdered wigs and affecting mincing accents while at the same time making a hobby of beating up professional pugilists.

So prepare to endure the new fad with equanimity. Long hair isn't going to look any sillier than the brush cut, Spanish sideburns, the duck cut or the Ir-quis warlock.

As for the barbers, they're going to lose out for a while. But they'll reap a bonanza when the long hair fad fades and all those tresses have to be lopped short again.

Smiling and vivacious Peggy Neville is featured guest singer each Wednesday night on Red River Jamboree. Host Stu Phillips, the Altones and other members of the cast started their fifth season of lively country music and dance September 23 on the CBC-TV network.

Ingratitude

by Rev. M. Schultz

The Bard of Avon, William Shakespeare, generally was restrained and impersonal when he unveiled the weaknesses and follies of man. But there was one matter on which he could not calmly sit in his seat and hold back; that is when he talks about ingratitude.

Listen:
"Blow, blow thou winter wind,
Thou art not so unkind
As man's ingratitude."

Again he writes:
"How sharper than a serpent's tooth it is to have a thankless child"

He does not hide his feeling as he storms:
"I hate ingratitude more in man than lying, vainness, babbling, drunkenness,
Or any taint of vice whose strong corruption
Inhabits our frail blood."

He must have seen ingratitude for what it was.

Less violently than Shakespeare's, but even more pointedly, one feels Christ's reaction to this black trait.

One day the Master Healer was stopped by the roadside by 10 lepers. They shouted to him: "Jesus, have mercy on us."

Jesus replied: "Go show yourselves to the priests."

As they went on their way to the temple they were cleansed of their leprosy. When they noticed that their leprosy was gone, nine continued on their way but one immediately turned around, retraced his footsteps, came and kniel-ed down before Jesus and thanked him.

Jesus asked: "Were there not 10 healed, but where are the nine?"

Then he placed an added blessing upon the one that had returned. Only one took time to say "Thank you" and he was greatly rewarded for his effort.

The nine that did not return were the losers. Mark it well, gratitude always brings constructive benefits to the individual who develops this quality.

This is "thanksgiving" time, let us be truly grateful and express our appreciation to both God and man, we shall find a second blessing coming upon ourselves.

SUGAR AND SPICE

Canada, Act Your Age!

By BILL SMILEY

There is one country in the world that I feel sorry for. It has all the outward attributes of a spoiled-rotten teenager.

It is good-looking, if a little gangly. It is strong and well-made, if a little inclined to flabbiness. It has always had a big allowance because its mother and father came into a lot of property.

But all the signs of the mixed-up adolescent are there: the sudden flaring resentment over nothing; the great desire to be loved and made a fuss over; the surliness when things don't go right; the sullen apathy towards anything worthwhile; the absorption in material things; the flashes of decency; and the impulses towards vandalism.

It must be dreadful to see a child you love, one who has brought sun and laughter as an infant, pride and joy through the growing years, turn into one of these creatures.

It is equally sad to see a country one loves turn into a schizophrenic, whining with self-pity one moment, swagger-ing with threats the next, bragging with one breath, complaining with another. I'm talking about Canada.

There is something sick in our country today, and I feel for it the same baffled sorrow that I feel for the teenager who has a good mind, with nothing more on it than bashing around in a big car and smashing things up, who has a fine body, with nothing more to do than let it go to pot.

I don't know quite what has brought me to this state of gloom, but the flag debate certainly helped. An insignificant issue, ineptly introduced by an inadequate prime minister and immediately attacked by an incredible leader of Her Majesty's loyal opposition.

People complain, periodically, that Canada gets little or no attention in the world press.
Thank goodness! If newspaper readers in other nations could peruse some of the juvenilia that has passed as debate in our House of Commons on the flag issue, they would shake their heads in bewilderment, and write us off as a nation about one jump ahead of the Congo.

Personally, I don't care whether our national flag is three mangy maple leaves, or three beavers eating the left thigh of Sir John A. Macdonald, or three roosters crowing "O Canada" from a dunghill. But I do care that my country shows none of the signs of strength, maturity and wisdom that might be expected from an adult democracy.

Another thing that has produced my present mood is the threat to the life of the Queen, if she has enough gumption to visit Canada, on invitation.
Which she has. Would that the shrivelled punks who threaten her had as much.

Canadians are not made for bowing and scraping before royalty. But who, except a few fanatics of desperate paucity of soul would want to harm this rather plain, rather sweet, quite dignified and extremely courageous woman who does her earnest best in an extremely difficult role?

The answer is, only those who have adopted the philosophy of the communist and the fascist — that the end justifies the means. The Queen has nothing to do with imperialism or colonialism or any of the other
"isms" that Quebec is belatedly excited about, after sitting complacent under a dictator, and a corrupt one, for years.

I hereby announce that if anybody takes a potshot at the Queen when she visits Quebec,
I will personally call up a crowd of creaky old fighter pilots and march on that province. I doubt if we'd have a banner, because if you told an old fighter pilot to follow a flag into action he'd tell you promptly what you could do with your flag. And it would be painful.

Perhaps I'm wrong. Perhaps the mixed-up teenager will, as so many have done, grow up, stop tearing things down, and turn into a rank old reactionary like me. I hope so.

Report from Parliament

by Dave Pugh, MP

It is refreshing to have favorable comment on the workings of Parliament, and particularly so when it comes from one of the stature of Charles Lynch, a long time member of the Press Gallery. He states:
"Believe it or not, Parliament seems to be working very well.
I say believe it or not, because praising Parliament isn't exactly fashionable, and the old place has been taking quite a beating at the hands of its critics as well as at the hands of its members.

of step, I would merely point out that a fair amount of business is being transacted, and

Dear Doris

Have a problem? Write to Canadian social worker Doris Clark in care of this newspaper.

DEAR DORIS — My daughter and her husband don't get along. I guess he loves her all right; but she can't stand him near her. I think this is what has caused her to have a nervous breakdown.

The psychiatrist told her she would never be any better if she continued to live with him, feeling as she did. I didn't want them to marry but her father thought so much of this fellow, and still does, that he wouldn't let her go with anyone else.

Now she has fallen in love with an army officer and he with her.

She can't marry him on account of our religion.

Do you think it would be wise for me to go and have a talk with her psychiatrist and maybe the priest and try to have this fellow transferred and try to save their marriage? We are heartbroken.

NERVOUS WRECK

DEAR NERVOUS — You simply can't handle human lives like you would chess men. They don't fall into place. First your husband pushed your daughter into marriage; now you'd like to make her stay there.

Naturally we cringe from separation or divorce, but when a psychiatrist who knows her well sees no out but separation, who am I to say anything different?

I agree that the new love holds no solution, but she can't stay where she is and regain mental health.

DEAR DORIS — I am a 12-year-old girl. I feel as if my mother hates me. She always blames me for my family's wrongdoings and I'm the one who gets spanked.

This afternoon my brother and sister were fighting so I called for my mother to come and stop them. She just said, "I hear you", and ignored me.

When they started to cry, she came out and grabbed Mary and sent her to her room. She told me that I should be ashamed of myself for letting them fight. I had already tried to stop them.

The only person I can tell is my grandmother, but she never seems to believe me. Even my father won't listen to me.

ALWAYS BLAMED

DEAR ALWAYS — Well, I believe you. Try to remember that mothers get rattled; make mistakes. They are not perfect, but they try very hard.

You are lucky to have a grandmother to talk things over with. Let her know you care about her and count on her; and work at controlling your own temper. Things can change.

DEAR DORIS — I am 18 and have been going steady for 1 1/2 years. I don't know whether I really love him or not.

I feel that separating for a while would make us both realize our true feelings; but he is dead against this way of solving the problem. Also we fight a lot.

I believe that I have been in love before, three years ago, and I am still not entirely over him. I keep hoping to either make up with my past love or to meet someone like him.

DOUBTFUL

DEAR DOUBTFUL — Then you are settling for second best if you take this one, at this time. That is not to say you might not begin appreciating him later, because our tastes do change.

Right now you do yourself and him no favor to keep up what has become drab and unsatisfying. You both need other friends and experiences. Keep circulating.

Thrift Shop prepares for winter season

The ladies of the Hospital Auxiliary who operate the Thrift Shop have had a busy fall. In order to put the winter clothing on the shelves and pack away summer goods, the changeover committee spent 42 extra work hours at the Shop.

When the winter stock was in place the pricing committee took over and spent an extra 35 hours pricing items and putting them on the shelves. Not to be forgotten, the sales ladies have been on the job for 72 hours this season offering these items for sale.

The ladies feel the work is well worthwhile, as they have just placed a new incubator unit in the hospital with proceeds from the Thrift Shop.

Friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. H. Barr will gather at the home of their son in law and daughter, Mr and Mrs. Fred Walker of Prairie Valley on Monday, October 12, on the occasion of their 60th wedding anniversary.

1st Summerland Troop

This week the troop enjoyed a talk by Dr. F. MacInnes on certain aspects of personal health dealt with in the new Personal Fitness Badge. Last Saturday five more boys went through track event qualifications for the badge. Soon we hope to have a badge examiner so that boys who are qualified may pass the necessary test.

Mr. C. Denike continued with instructions on Ambulance Men's Badge. Mr. Fisher instructed the recruits on whipping ropes and Dr. Heinicke on 2nd class lashings.

This week end is the fall camp and it appears that there will be an almost complete troop turnout. Patrol leaders are arranging details for their patrols. There will be a good program for the four days. On Friday afternoon the camp will be set up on the Fenwick property four miles from Fish Lake. Three leaders will be in charge. Tents with tarpaulin floors will be used.

Boys must bring a warm sleeping bag or a bag reinforced with blankets. Also extra sweaters, socks and shoes. A red cap is desirable. Food will be arranged on a patrol basis at a cost of around $3 each for nine meals. Each boy is to bring a jar of jam.

In patrol competition scores are Hawks 115, Beavers 130, Buffaloes 130 and Eagles 127. Next meeting is October 19. Duty patrol Eagles.

New junior team starts play Oct. 16

First appearance of the new Penticton-Summerland junior hockey team, the El Rancho Broncs, will be on Friday, October 16 when they meet the Kamloops Rockets. The game will be played in the Penticton arena.

This will be the first appearance of the newly-formed Okanagan-Mainline Junior A hockey team and fans are expecting it to start an excellent hockey season in the valley. Some of the games will be played in the Summerland arena. Manager George Stoll said that all games are slated for the week end as most of the players are in high school.

A number of players from last year's Summerland Legion Juvelines are trying for posts. Other teams competing in the league are from Kamloops, Vernon and Kelowna.

The El Rancho Motel in

Penticton made a large contribution to get the team started but running expenses, amounting to about $150 per game, will have to be met by gate receipts and sales of programs.

Coach for the junior team is Jack Taggart of Penticton. He was a member of the world champion Vees and is a former Western Hockey League player. Penticton ice is being used and the boys have started their training program with two weekly sessions of one hour.

Mr. Stoll said that the main reason the league has been formed is to give the boys in this area an opportunity to play the game under good supervision while they complete their education. He said that the boys will get good stiff competition, and top calibre coaching while finishing his education.

Care of game meat

A cook will have no difficulty preparing game meat, in the kitchen, provided it has been properly cared for by the hunter in the field.

Some hunters treat game meat as if it were indestructible. Then when they get home their wife has to over season it in order to make it even palatable.

Handling game meat in the field is simple, and only involves adhering to a few basic principles. Once the bird or animal is down, it represents a supply of fresh meat, and should be treated as such. It should be eviscerated immediately, cooled as quickly as possible and kept cool until it is safely under refrigeration.

If the game meat has been properly prepared in this manner, it presents no cooking problems. However, there are a few hints that may be helpful to the cook.

All commercial meat is aged, and game meat should also undergo an ageing period if it is to taste its best. The length of time it is aged will depend on family taste.

Most game meat has a familiar counterpart that is everyday fare, so cooking it is fairly straightforward. For instance, venison is similar to lamb and can be cooked in the same manner. However, because of the life it leads, game does not acquire as much fat as domestic animals, so fat may have to be added during cooking.

The dark color of game meat, caused by blood remaining in it, may not appeal to some cooks. If so, the blood can be removed simply by soaking the meat overnight in a solution of salt and baking soda. Then, to speed the draining process, knead the meat gently for a few seconds before taking it from the solution.

Minor hockey registrations Sat.

Saturday morning, October 10 all boys interested in playing minor hockey should register at Doug's Sport Shop. Practices will start Saturday, Oct. 17.

According to the B.C. Amateur Hockey Association, all minor hockey players must be covered by Mutual Aid. Each player who registers this year will be covered by his dues.

It has also been strongly recommended by the BCOHA that all players wear helmets. The Sports Shop has offered a very good deal on helmets provided they can order a large quantity. If you are interested give Doug Taylor your order early.

The Summerland Minor Hockey League will not carry sticks for sale this season, but again the Sports Shop has offered a very good deal on sticks.

There will be new sweaters for all minor hockey boys this season. Parents will be asked to sign the player's registration which obligates them to pay the Summerland Minor Hockey Assoc. $2 provided this sweater is not returned clean and in good repair at the end of the season. No sweaters will be issued until this registration has been received.

This season all dues must be paid by November 1 or arrangements made by the parents for the payment.

The minor hockey association expects a large registration this season and will need a lot of help with coaching, refereeing and transportation. Anyone who would like to help please give your name to a member of the executive.

"Instead of taking the usual summer holiday, the MP's stayed around and discussed the flag — and whatever you may think about the flag issue, it shouldn't be thought that discussing it was a waste of Parliament's time. As a result of this prolonged debate the flag issue has been referred to a secret committee — that is a committee that's meeting in secret. The MP's who are on the committee are going about their business with a furtive air, hardly daring to open their mouths — a refreshing development for all who meet them"

As a member of the Flag Committee, I find that I am again on one of the toughest Committees in the the House. This is from the point of view of numbers of meetings and time spent on study and research. This spring I was on the External Affairs Committee when it examined the Columbia River Treaty. The Columbia River and the Flag Committees are of extreme importance to Canada, and I feel honored indeed to have been a member of both. The Flag Committee is meeting behind closed doors, and at this time all I can say is that all 15 members are there every day, and all day, and that we are learning a great deal of our early historical background and associations.

Guard against fire hazards

October 4 to 10 is Fire Prevention Week, and this year the Summerland Volunteer Fire Brigade is observing the occasion by taking the fire prevention message to Summerland schools.

Coloring contests are being held in grades 1 to 4 and essay contests from grades 5 to 7. Fire chief Joe McLachlan will present prizes to the winners at a school assembly later this month.

Because of the improved water distribution in Summerland, the new fire hall and truck, plus the high standard of the volunteer fire brigade, the board insurance companies serving Summerland have announced a reduction in the premium rate for fire insurance in a large portion of the municipality. An inspector from the B.C. Underwriters Assoc. recently toured the area and recommended a change from Class 3 to Class 2 for fire insurance.

Checking a home, plant or office for fire hazards does not absolutely guarantee freedom from fire. But it helps — and there is a greater peace of mind for the occupants. Know something about the causes of fire or ask the firefighter to help point them out to you.

Firebugs can be as common as flies around a home. They breed in trash and oily rags and the like and, far too frequently, in the hides of careless souls who fan fierce flames in stoves.

Kinsmen preparing for busy year

The Summerland Kinsmen Club will entertain their wives at dinner on October 30, with a masquerade dance following.

The Kinsmen, under president Gordon Day, meet twice monthly in the new Elks Hall.

Some of the projects the club is busy with include the minor league ball park, where they have built a scale diamond and fitted it up for the use of the youngsters. Each year they present a $200 scholarship to a deserving secondary school graduate.

The club is responsible for the Mother's March held each spring in aid of the Poliomyelitis and Rehabilitation Foundation. This is a large undertaking which involves work by the Kinsmen, Kinettes and many Summerland mothers.

This year the club installed webbing safety belts on all park and school swings in the community. The club planned the move to eliminate any danger to small children who will often run in front of a swing.

Horticultural groups meeting in Kelowna

The fourth annual convention of the Okanagan Valley Horticultural Association will be held in the Kelowna Aquatic Auditorium October 17. The meeting will be sponsored by the Penticton and District Garden Club and the Summerland Horticultural Society.

Clubs will be represented from Kamloops, Salmon Arm, Armstrong, Vernon, Kelowna, Westbank, Summerland, Penticton and Oliver.

The program will start at 1 p.m. with registration.

A panel discussion on horticultural subjects will be taken by the Kamloops club.

Discussion groups will be led by: judging, Maurice King and Maurice Trumpour; winter hardiness, Dr. James Marshall and George Robinson; drying flowers, Mrs Charles Raitt and Mrs. Donald Salting.

Steve Cannings of Penticton will give an illustrated lecture on wild flowers, wild life and conservation.

Camera Club elects Mrs. C. B. Snow to head new season

Mrs. C. B. Snow was elected president of the Summerland Camera Club at its annual meeting in the health centre Tuesday night. Bert Simpson was elected secretary and Norm Wrest treasurer. Executive members are Jack Morrow, Tom Hall and Verne Charles, with Miss Enid Maynard and Verne Charles as the phoning committee.

Two slide shows from the Color Photographic Association of Canada were shown, one on slide evaluation, the other being a nature series.

Two club members will show slides at the Credit Union dinner Thursday. Howard Shannon will present "Fruit Blooms of the Okanagan", and Norm Wrest "Journey Through the Olympic Peninsula".

Junior hockey starts Friday

Opening game of the new Junior A Hockey League takes place Friday in Penticton Memorial Arena. The El Rancho Broncs, comprised of Summerland and Penticton players will meet the Kamloops Juniors, last year's provincial champions. Team manager is George Stoll.

New identification for Air Canada

Air Canada's new corporate symbol, signature and color, one product of many hundreds of hours of work by Air Canada officials and a team of design consultants, will reflect the Canadian character of the airline in a highly competitive international field.

The assessments were carried out and the designs developed by Stewart Morrison Roberts Limited of Toronto, working closely with Air Canada's corporate identity committee.

It was decided to retain the maple leaf symbol, since it has enjoyed a traditional association with the airline since its inception in 1937 and because the maple leaf is readily identifiable abroad as uniquely Canadian. The traditional many pointed leaf was modified and stylized to maintain an individualistic Air Canada appearance.

A broken roundel surrounds the leaf, abutting the stem on one side and providing further definite identification and maximum visual impact.

The new shade of red was chosen from the schedule of Canadian government standard paint colors both for its distinctiveness and because, as a classified shade of red, it can be readily duplicated by any paint manufacturer.

The new lettering is bold, contemporary and uncluttered for application on everything from aircraft hulls to travel folders with high legibility.

The airline believes that its new corporate identification more accurately reflects the international scope of the company and the country it serves; that it will assist Air Canada in maintaining the world wide respect and prestige earned and enjoyed by Trans-Canada Air Lines since 1937.

The multi-talented Don Francks will be seen weekly as host and performer of a new CBC-TV public affairs series Other Voices, beginning Tuesday nights in October. The new series will incorporate Francks' talents as singer, performer and actor.

WI Variety Sale has many bargains

Plans for the annual variety sale were discussed by the Women's Institute at the regular meeting on Friday afternoon. The sale will be held Saturday, October 17 at the IOOF Hall, opening at 2:30.

Conveners of all standing committees will be in charge of the various booths with help from the other members. Good used clothing, home baking, fruit, vegetables, flowers, gift articles and aprons will be on sale. The opportunity booth offers costume jewelry, books, games and many other articles. Tea will be served.

A number of sweaters, socks and other donations were brought to the meeting for the Unitarian Service Committee. The convener, Mrs L. W. Rumball, asked for more donations of clothing for adults and children, practically all kinds of wearing apparel being needed.

Cash donations were made to the Salvation Army, CNIB, the Solarium at Victoria, and the Crippled Children's Hospital in Vancouver.

A report of the National Convention held in Wolfville, Nova Scotia was given by the delegate, Mrs W. S. Rothwell.

Tea was served by Mrs A. Holler, Mrs D. I. Gilman, Mrs E. Kinvig and Mrs J. S. Kirk. The November program will be presented by the Health and Welfare Committee.

Poppy Day set for November 7

The annual Poppy Day sponsored by Royal Canadian Legion, Branch 22 will be held on Saturday, November 7.

Remembrance Day services at the cenotaph will be held on Wednesday, November 11.

Rink Association has good progress

Efficient management of the Summerland rink was cited at Tuesday night's council meeting.

The rink association secretary treasurer reported $1,700 in liquid assets. He said that the rink was in its best financial position since he had taken over as secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Munro said that $1,000 had been made from summer skating.

In presenting the schedule for the coming winter, Mr.

Munro said that public skating is the highest per hour paying business the rink has and that the skating rate is favorable with others in the valley.

Legion president Dougald MacGregor asked information from council on how and when changes will be made on the road past the cenotaph.

He was told that an engineer is working on a road plan and will report to council on what roads should be changed or widened. A copy of the report will be sent to the Legion.

Works superintendent Ken Blagborne reported that only one-third of the Summerland storage water was used this year because of the wet summer.

Leo Kropinske was reported operating a scrap iron and junk yard at his home in lower town in an area classified as residential. He will be asked to remove the material and stop the operation.

Applications for subdivisions were received from Miss B. Harris, H. R. Klix and E. J. Schierer and approved. An application from Walter Ward was held up subject to rezoning. Applications from Peter Yeomans, Fraser Macdonald and Miss Mildred Clark will be discussed with the town planner.

Building still up over last year

Seventeen building permits were issued in September for a total of $40,925. For the same month last year 14 permits were issued for $25,090.

Building inspector J. F. Khalembach reported 9 new dwelling permits for $24,575, and six alteration permits for $2,850. One new commercial permit was issued for $10,000 and one alterations for $3,500.

Total permits for the first nine months of 1964 are 101 for $288,396, compared to 88 for $271,440 for the same period last year.

K. L. Boothe elected to 'Trustees' executive

Summerland School Trustees, K. L. Boothe, W. S. Ritchie and Dr. J. E. Millimore, who attended a recent Jubilee Convention of the B.C. School Trustees Association in Vancouver, report this to have been a very successful convention with a great deal accomplished.

Besides the many interesting topics and resolutions discussed and debated in convention, the trustees attended various clinics dealing with education in the province. Some of these clinics dealt with local, provincial, and national responsibilities for education, educational finance, teacher recruitment, modern school design and construction, and the future of television in education.

The trustees were addressed by many of the province's top educators including the presidents of the three universities, as well as several members of the provincial cabinet. The Minister of Education, Leslie R. Peterson, dealt mainly with vocational training in the secondary schools outlining a considerable expansion in this field of education to commence in September 1965.

The convention closed with the installation of the new executive. W. J. Peck of Cowichan Bay was installed as president of the BCSTA.

K. L. Boothe of Summerland was installed as an executive member. He will represent the 12 school districts in the Okanagan Branch.

Famous speaker for Kelowna talk on UNESCO

One of Canada's most prominent women political figures will open a two-day public conference on the role of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, Friday, October 23, in the Kelowna Senior High School at 8:00 p.m.

Mrs. Margaret Konantz, OBE, member of parliament for Winnipeg, South and the only woman appointed by Prime Minister Pearson to his flag committee, brings a wealth of experience with the United Nations to the conference.

She will discuss Canada's part in solving the problem of a widening gap between the haves and the have nots in the world today.

A panel discussion will be held about International Cooperation Year (ICY). The year 1965 has been designated ICY by the UN General Assembly as a year to emphasize co-operation rather than conflict throughout the world.

The conference is sponsored by the Kelowna UN Association, the National Committee of UNESCO and the UBC Extension Department. It is being held in recognition of October 24 as UN Day.

Mrs. Konantz is chairman of the advisory panel of MP's to the Canadian Committee for ICY. She was one of Canada's official delegates in 1963 to the 18th Session of the UN General Assembly which approved ICY.

Other speakers include Der-yck Thompson, executive director of the Family Service Agency of Greater Vancouver and a Canadian delegate to a 1964 UNESCO conference in Paris; and Dr. F. T. Fairley, former deputy minister of education for B.C., who was with UNESCO in Japan, Thailand and West Africa.

Fee for the conference is $2.00. For further information contact Mrs. W. Wintonyk, Secretary Treasurer of the Kelowna Branch, UN Association, 1299 Briarwood Ave., Kelowna.

RENTING MONEY

That's what you do when you borrow money. Interest you pay on a loan is the same as rent you pay for the use of a house or a tool. Most people pay too much interest—much more than they would if they borrowed from a credit union.

Quoted rates of interest mean little or nothing. A "6% loan" can cost you 14.2% interest per annum. Many used car loans cost as much as 40% and in some cases considerably more.

Credit Union interest costs NEVER exceed $6.61 for $100.00 repaid in 12 monthly instalments. In many cases the cost is less.

Fall setting for vows in United Church

For her late afternoon marriage to Robert James Watson, Miss Linda Evelyn Rumball chose a lovely formal length white gown with molded bodice of Chantilly lace, sweetheart neckline and longilly point sleeves. Her bell-shaped skirt of peau le sole swept to deep fullness in the back, with a self bow at the back waistline. A regal coronet of seed pearls interspersed with rhinestone drops held the three-tiered veil of silk illusion in place. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie M. Rumball of Summerland, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Watson of Penticton.

The ceremony was held in the Summerland United Church with Rev. P. K. Louie officiating. The church was decorated with pink and white chrysanthemums.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Val Spearing, the bride's sister, and bridesmaids were Miss Judi Watson and Miss Mary Bleasdale. The three attendants chose ballerina length gowns of peau de sole in identical styling. The matron of honor was in Cottillion blue and the bridesmaids in rosewood. The bodice of each gown had a sweetheart neckline with three-quarter length sleeves. The skirts had gathered fullness at the waist, with skirts draped to one side and held with a tallered bow at the waistline. They carried bouquets of white feathered 'mums, and wore rhinestone tiaras as headdress.

Mr. Stuart Orge of Penticton, as soloist, sang 'My World'. Groomsman was Larry Fix of Penticton and ushers were Douglas Rumball of Summerland, brother of the bride and Lyle Lavset of North Vancouver.

For a reception for 150 guests at the Prince Charles Hotel in Penticton, the bride's mother wore a pink sheath with matching jacket, a marabou hat and pink accessories, with a corsage of pink feathered carnations. The groom's mother wore a gold brocade sheath with rhinestone crystal beads, brocade shoes, and hat and gloves in champagne color. Her corsage was Talisman rosebuds. The bride's table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, flanked by silver candle holders and white candles. The toast to the bride was given by Art Dunsdon. Telegrams were read from Nassau, Calgary and Kamloops.

For a honeymoon trip to Spokane and Banff, the bride wore a double knit Italian suit, in Princess Turquoise color, with matching hat and black patent accessories.

The couple will reside at 592 Nelson Ave., Penticton.

Out of town guests were present from Burnaby, Osoyoos, Naramata, Victoria, Trill, Calgary, Vancouver, Cloverdale, Chilliwack, Kamloops, Seattle, Kelowna and Spokane.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Kitson Duncan; and Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Kitson and family of Grant-ham's Landing were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Kitson.

Dear Doris

Have a problem? Write to Canadian social worker Doris Clark in care of this newspaper.

DEAR DORIS — My mother objects to my boy friend because his father drank when he was alive. But Joe does not drink. He says he saw enough of it around him to know better. We are both 21.

She thinks that any boy who asks a girl to marry him before 23 is asking her to throw her life and career away. She is always saying awful things about the way young couples act, kissing and smuggling over one another.

She doesn't like to see you give a good night kiss. Sometimes I wonder if my mother ever kissed my father before they were married.

DISCOURAGED

DEAR DISCOURAGED — From your long letter it appears your mother is piling up the obstacles to marriage just as high as she can. She is blinding herself to the facts.

The great majority of marriages are planned for, most of them consummated, before age 23. And neither party considers he or she is asking the other to give up a satisfying vocation!

Want my leaflet "What is Love?" to help you with your decision? Apparently all your mother will help you to say is "No!"

P. S. She kissed him all right; but she has amnesia.

Confidential To In-Law Trouble — If you simply can't move away, you can take steps to improve relations with your in-laws. You resent too easily, you bottle things up, you are touchy about the little things they do.

From here it seems your in-laws are no more than loving grandparents trying to help. They are allies; not enemies! Open up to your husband; have a heart-to-heart with your mother-in-law. Bury the hatchet, forever, and plan together for some fun.

DEAR DORIS — We want to put on a shower for my girl friend who is getting married. Guests will range from teenagers to 70-year-olds.

We want to arrange some entertainment, perhaps comical games, but there should not be any writing, as the aged people can only write in their own language.

SALLY R

DEAR SALLY — Have you thought of making up a Bride's Scrapbook? Everyone can have fun with this and chip in their own humorous contribution. Then, some of the young ones could put on the little skit, A Mock Wedding.

Write me for leaflets about both the Bride's Scrapbook and the Mock Wedding, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope as well as ten cents for each leaflet.

DEAR DORIS — I have a friend who is looking after a man who is dying. When she is not needed there any more she would like to live with her sister in the States.

But she is afraid that she will not be able to get her old age pension if she stays there.

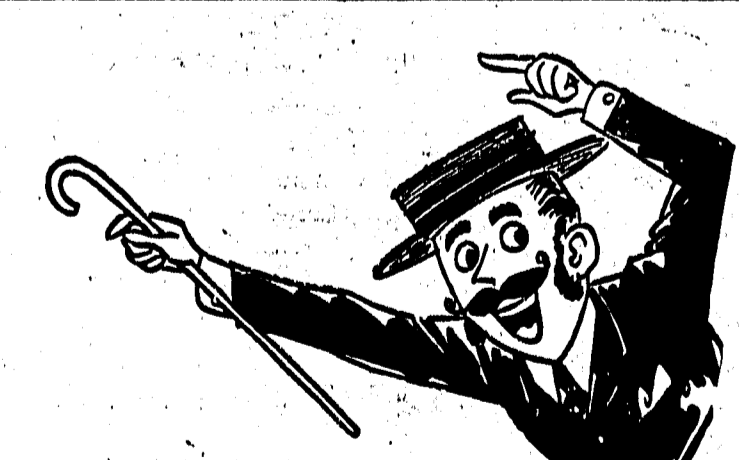

Would she have to come back here every six months?

A FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND — If she has resided continuously in Canada for the last ten years, and is still here, she will qualify. Once she starts receiving the pension she can move to wherever she chooses and keep on getting it.

If she has lived out of the country for any length of time in the past ten years, she must have more than twice the period of outside residence as a resident in Canada. And she must have been residing in Canada for the last 12 months prior to applying.

Exchange vows in Anglican Church

Lovely fall flowers set the scene at St. Stephen's Anglican Church, when Dorothy Marilyn Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Watson of Summerland became the bride of Robert Bruce Hoem, son of Mr and Mrs. George Hoem of Rossland. Rev. Norman Tannar officiated.

For her marriage the bride chose a lovely floor-length gown of white chiffon over taffeta. The fitted bodice featured appliques of satin accented with sequins and seed pearls. The appliques were repeated on the skirt. A bouffant net veil was held in place by a tiny crown of seed pearls and sequins. She carried a cascading bouquet of yellow roses.

Her attendants were Miss Elaine Dunsdon, as matron of honor, and bridesmaids were her sister, Miss Anita Watson and Mrs. Don Campbell, all of Summerland.

All were gowned in simple gold satin dresses, their bell skirts featuring two satin roses at the back of the waist. Their ensembles included matching shoes and elbow length gloves. They carried bouquets of gold and bronze mums.

Groomsman was Harold Noble of Summerland. Ushering duties were shared by the groom's brothers, Ken and Gerald Hoem. Later the guests gathered at the Rosedale Room of the Royal Canadian Legion, where they were received by the bridal party and their parents.

Ralph Blewett was the master of ceremonies, with the toast to the bride proposed by Jack Dunsdon.

For a wedding trip to Banff the bride chose a turquoise wool suit with black accessories.

The young couple will make their home at Trail.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hoem, Dagfinn Hattevik, Wm. Taylor, all of Rossland; Mrs. Ruth Chapman, Mrs. C. MacGillivray, Mrs. M. Day, Mr and Mrs. E. Taylor, Mr and Mrs. E. Larsen, B. Bibby, Miss E. Glover, Miss S. Jackson, Miss B. York, Miss B. Heebner, Mr and Mrs. A. Kent, Mrs. G. McAndless, all of Penticton; Mr and Mrs. L. Priori, Mr and Mrs. W. I. Noble, Trail; N. Crusaders plan Hallowe'en event

The Junior High Crusaders held their first chapter meeting of the year Friday. Organization was the order of the evening. Ken Kehler became the Chapter Marshall. Ken is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Kehler, and is a grade 9 student.

Plans were begun for a Hallowe'en party to be given for the CYC Heralds and Cadets. This party will take place the last week of October.

The evening closed with ping pong contest and refreshments. Herb DeWitt was the winner of the contest and refreshments were served by Sandra and Nancy Ion.

From OUTER SPACE to the Ocean's Depths

A man can measure anything today with a glance at his wrist. The ingenious Watchmakers of Switzerland have designed a watch for every purpose and for any environment. Astronaut Scott Carpenter wore a watch on his tour of outer space that measured speed consumption, rate of climb and descent, elapsed time and a score of other flight computations.

Navigators guiding their planes across oceans and continents have a special Swiss watch to tell them where they are, what direction they are traveling, when they should arrive, the ground speed, the rate of climb and descent and the elapsed time down to a second.

Aquatic adventurers rely on a versatile underwater Swiss watch that warns divers when they must surface, allows them to send signals to other divers distances away and enables them to work out level stages and stopping times quickly and easily. K

Hunting shirt developed on suggestion by hunter

A resolution submitted by Alf Kohlhauser, of Summerland to a Fish and Game convention last year has resulted in a new hunting jacket being manufactured for safety minded hunters who also want to keep warm.

Mr. Kohlhauser said that the present fluorescent red jackets made for hunters, while doing a good job of making hunters visible to one another, were of too light a material to help keep a hunter warm in the cool fall days in the hills.

A coast manufacturer took the suggestion and developed a wool jack-shirt, waterproof and colored a bright fluorescent red.

The jacket is available at most men's wear stores and sells for about $12.

Your Credit Union Provides:

Endowment Plans

Personal Savings

In the Credit Union movement we believe:

Credit Unions are essentially thrift associations. They recognize thrift as the wise use of one's resources, which includes credit. They devote themselves to the development of regular thrift programs, to provide their members a greater measure of financial security.

Credit Unions must provide maximum protection for their members' shares, adequate surety bond coverage and systematic supervision by the auditing committee of their own members. They must have adequate annual examinations as required by law.

Credit Unions provide their members thrift and loan service that is more complete, more convenient and more thoroughly helpful than they could otherwise obtain. Where possible they provide insurance to cover the lives of their members to the extent of their loan balances and on all or a portion of their shares — for the benefit and protection of their members' families.

Credit Unions should regard the character of the borrower as the prime security consideration regardless of the amount involved, and the rate of interest can, by law, not exceed one per cent a month on the unpaid balance.

Credit Unions recognize the essential and important place and other financial institutions have in our economy. They appreciate the service these institutions render and believe that friendly relations with them is desirable.

Credit Unions are united with each other to increase their services to their members and fulfill their obligations to bring Credit Union benefits to all people.

Credit Unions are alert to changing conditions and should adapt themselves to changing needs and desires of their members, while they always maintain their basic integrity and principles.

Credit Unions are responsible organizations of their communities and fulfill their civic obligations in a generous and exemplary manner.

Credit Unions have demonstrated that average people can operate their own financial institutions. Credit Unions are increasingly recognized as instruments of human well-being and will continue to be, so long as they maintain and cultivate the highest levels and standards of conduct.

Our unknown picture of the Okanagan last week caused a great number of readers to bring in answers. Some said it was in the south and some in the north. Some said it wasn't in the Okanagan. T. B. Upton of Kelowna wrote suggesting Lumby. But Mrs. Kate Crozier of Parkdale Place came up with the correct answer — accurately identifying the location in the North Okanagan. See her answer on page three.

During the past week, the research station reports .05 inches of rain and 50.1 hours of sunshine.

A pleasant surprise for Mr. and Mrs. H. Wouters is an unexpected trip to their homeland, Holland. Their two eldest daughters, Magda and Everdeen, both of Vancouver, are now on their way to Holland by boat.

Ikuye Uchida of Summerland has returned to Wheaton College, Illinois as a junior for the 1964-65 school year. She is a graduate of Prairie Bible Institute, Three Hills, Alberta.

More than 100 senior citizens of the district gathered at the Rosedale Room last Thursday to help the Summerland and District Credit Union observe International Credit Union Day. The annual event was catered by the Legion Auxiliary.

Chairman for the evening was Harold Burdon. Howard Shannon and Norm Wrest of the Summerland Camera Club showed slides on fruit blooms of the Okanagan and a trio through the Olympic Peninsula.

A young girl, Louanna Rhys, who was severely burned in a fire near Kelowna, was flown by chartered plane from Kelowna to Vancouver for treatment. The plane was chartered by the Mothers March Committee sponsored by the Kinsmen Club.

The Summerland Kinsmen will be selling Christmas trees again this year to raise money for Kinsmen charities.

Moderator Fred Davis and panelists Betty Kennedy, Gordon Sinclair and Pierre Berton are on hand for the eighth season of Front Page Challenge over the CBC-TV network. The regular panelists and guest panelists each week try to identify newspaper headlines associated with challengers.

VOTE IN DECEMBER

$353,000 Bylaw will be submitted for new hospital

Municipal council will prepare a $353,000 bylaw to present to the ratepayers on December 12, to finance Summerland's proposed new hospital.

Projected cost for the 28 bed hospital is $820,000. The proposed bylaw covers the municipal portion with the remainder of the cost borne by the provincial and municipal governments.

Hospital board president L. M. Rumball, and administrator H. L. Wilson, attended Tuesday night's council meeting, reporting that authorization for the hospital had been received from council and asking council for the bylaw. Reeve and council all indicated approval for the project.

The estimated cost includes the price of the land, already purchased and located on the former Anderson property above Gulch Road; building, fixtures and furniture.

The proposed hospital will have 28 beds and four basinettes. Three private rooms will have their own shower, toilet and basin facilities. The plan also includes two one-bed isolation wards, six double wards. Two wards with four beds each will be the largest patient rooms and one pediatric ward with three beds is included.

An out-patient department is planned. The present hospital handles out-patients but without a proper working department. Administrator Wilson noted that since the acquisition of new X-ray equipment in the past few years, out-patient treatment has doubled.

Other planned departments include an X-ray laboratory, general laboratory and operating room. A complete maternity section includes a labor room and modern case room. A recovery room for surgical patients is planned.

Space is planned for the many valuable assets bought in recent years by the Hospital Auxiliary including a gas machine and isolette.

The administration department includes a general office, administrator's office and board room combined, an office for the director of nursing and a doctors lounge room.

In general construction the building will be of reinforced concrete. It will be air conditioned and heated by natural gas.

The building is of one-storey construction with a full basement. Both the first floor and basement have ground level entrances. A solarium for the use of up-patients overlooks Highway 97 and Okanagan Lake.

The design uses double corridors with all treatment and service rooms situated between creating access from either side. There will be one central nursing station and the wards are designed for the greatest patient flexibility.

Basement space has been utilized to the fullest with an elevator service between the floors.

Services for Mrs. J. Lillico

Mrs. Jessie Isabel Lillico passed away in Stillwaters Private Hospital in Kelowna on October 19 at the age of 92 years.

She is survived by two daughters, Cecelia, Mrs. H. T. March, and Gladys of Vancouver. She was predeceased by her husband James in 1945.

Funeral services were conducted from Summerland United Church on Wednesday, October 21 at 2 p.m. with Rev. P. K. Louie officiating. Interment in family plot, Peach Orchard Cemetery.

New courses at night school

Secondary School teacher W. R. Chalmers reports an active interest in the courses offered at the night classes this fall. Due to the many extra inquiries and applications several more courses other than the art and drama courses which were announced earlier are now being planned.

A 16 week typing course conducted by Mrs. R. D. White will give instruction in the basics of typing. Cost of the course is $8. The first night is October 26 at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Ken Blagborne will again present a course in basic and advanced sewing. Opening night is October 28 at 8:00 p.m.

Physical education teacher David Hamilton will instruct a "Keep Fit" program for the ladies who feel they need some instruction in physical exercise. This course starts October 28 at 8 p.m.

In January the night school will offer a course in bookkeeping for orchardists and small business and a grade eight maths course for parents.

Evangelist at Pentecostal Church

Evangelist DON MOORE, an ordained minister of the Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada, will hold special services in the Summerland Pentecostal Church nightly at 7:30 p.m. from October 23 to November 1.

Rev. Moore is the author of the book entitled "Modern Miracle", in which he describes the miracle which took place in his body in 1955. He was admitted to the Vancouver General Hospital on July 9, 1954, where a diagnosis of miliary tuberculosis complicated with tubercular meningitis was made. Today, Rev. Moore stands as a testimony to God's healing power and a living reproof to those who claim the days of miracles are past.

Throughout the summer, Evangelist Moore is engaged in tent meetings throughout B.C. and has a ministry greatly used of God in meeting the spiritual and physical needs of many.

Bible Society work shown in film

The story of crowded ways and human misery, of rampant nationalism and militant Communists, of resurgent faiths and rising expectations, is being told throughout the province by Rev. J. A. Raymond Tingley, District Secretary of the Canadian Bible Society.

Mr. Tingley travelled around the world, visiting 16 countries in Asia, Africa and Europe on behalf of the Bible Society. The trip was made to discover areas of greatest need as the Bible Society seeks to provide for the Church the Scriptures in the languages of all people and at a price which all can afford.

Through word and picture the Secretary tells of the Church across the provinces and ter-

1st Summerland Troop

This week the troop had as visit from Fire Chief Joe McLachlan who spoke on fire prevention. The talk should have been two weeks before during Fire Prevention Week, but we were unable to fit in it at that time. Mr. McLachlan promised later to give a demonstration on extinguishers. Senior boys working on the Queen's Scout Fireman's Badge are welcome to meet with the fire brigade for practices.

Mr. C. Denike continued with his instruction on the Ambulance Man's Badge, featuring methods of artificial respiration. The patrols wrote out reports and suggestions on the recent week-end camp which will be discussed next meeting.

Mr. Fisher and Mr. Wiens worked on the Tenderfoot Scout tests.

Boys are reminded the annual dues of $4, consisting of $2 registration and $2 dues are now payable. The $4 may be paid in one lump or split before and after Christmas. Reminders should be completing uniforms as we plan investitures on each of the next two meetings.

Point scores are: Beavers and Buffaloes 160, Eagles 155 and Scouts 143. Duty patrol next week, Buffaloes.

Minimize temptation

Children's Halloween "pranks" can result in injury to themselves and others. Despite all police and parental efforts, some pranks occur each Halloween.

Make sure temptation is kept to a minimum: all loose articles, such as garbage cans, around the house should be put inside; the family car should be left in a locked garage, or else in a well-lit area; cover up any open areas in your yard; keep house and surroundings as well-lighted as possible.

An apt slogan is: "Lead not into temptation."

Wynken, Blynken & Boris

Vladimir, Konstantin, and Boris one day
Sailed off in a space-type shoe
Sailed in an orbit with, one might say,
A quite magnificent view.

"Where are you going, and what do you chase?"
The old moon asked the three.

"We want to see whether three in space
Are a crowd or just company."
We're testing ourselves, you see."
Said Vladimir, Konstantin, and Boris.

The old moon laughed and said, "So long,
Be seeing you late or soon".
The trib said, "Da, we hope you're not wrong,
But more can play this tune."
"By Gemini, you're right, it will be a race,"

The old moon said with glee.
"You photographed me aft, but they caught me full-face,"

"Still I guess we'll have to see If they can catch up with three,"
Said Vladimir, Konstantin, and Boris.

For orbit on orbit their tests they took Watching each other for clues.
And when they came down from their flying nook,
It was good to hear the news.

Says our own editorial we,
At the moment their land has deserved pride of place,
But the achievement belongs to the whole human race,
Not just to me or to thee.
We all claim that redoubtable three,
Vladimir, Konstantin, and Boris.

Indian Summer

A death-like stillness settles o'er the land,
Hazy the mountain tops, placid the quiet lake,
Motionless the air as if in reverie,
An ominous calm portentous of the storm
Ere winter's blasts disrobes tranquility,
Burying deep the late autumn grandeur,
Shrouding her in the cold sleep of death,
All color, all perfection laid to rest.
So let the autumn of our lives be thus:
Serenely quiet and peaceful ere the fall,
To lay aside life's beautiful treasures
In the dust, to sleep 'neath wintry snow,
Dreaming perchance of spring's eternal hope
Of newer life surging to higher rhythm.

Letter to the Editor

Picture identified

The Editor,
The Summerland Review.
Dear Sir:

Re the picture in the Review of Thursday, October 15. It looks very familiar to me as O'Keefe and the Indian settlement around it on the north arm of Okanagan Lake.

The famous North Okanagan rancher, a real old-timer, and his family owned a huge ranch and extensive land surrounding same, with cattle, horses and various farm animals, etc. towards the back of the picture.

Very noticeable was the prominent windmill — an interesting item to all. The place was named after the O'Keefe family. Plainly visible is one of the many little alkali lakes in the district, a very fine country for sportsman.

There is a little station named O'Keefe, also a swell general store to the left — a general meeting place for residents and visitors alike.

The landmarks which I spotted and helped me to pick out the place were the alkali pond, and general country, but outstanding of all is the Indian Church, plainly visible, with a small school nearby. Lots of children are always around playing Indian games and such-like.

O'Keefe is about nine miles southwest of Armstrong where I lived for over 57 years and was vice-principal of the city school for several years. I am the oldest living teacher of that school and was an honored guest at Armstrong's 50th anniversary.

O'Keefe is about five or six miles northwest of Vernon. The road passing O'Keefe ranch goes east of the lake and then south to Vernon. The north-south road seen in the picture goes south on the west side of Okanagan Lake, passing in the middle of the big Indian settlement (seen plainly). With all its gorgeous colored houses and dresses of the women who are everywhere is a pretty sight. The road then passes south on west of Okanagan Lake through Whiteman's Creek, on through Fintry and on to Westbank where we then boarded one of the three ferries to cross Okanagan Lake to Kelowna. A grand trip in wonderful hunting and fishing country.

The lovely hills in back of the picture are covered in the very early spring with Buttercups, Spring-beauties, Mission-Bells Balsam (a young, short variety of sunflowers, the tall ones come later) then follows a great variety of beautiful blooms.

The Indians have a fine ball team that competes with towns and villages around — they are known as the "Head of the Lake Team".

I trust this will answer your request re the picture. I am sure that it is O'Keefe in the North Okanagan at the north end arm of Okanagan Lake.

Mrs. Kate F. Crozier, Parkdale Place.

The gospel of power

by Rev. J. R. Coughlan

A few years ago, a missionary on furlough was ministering in the city of Chicago. During a period set aside for discussion, a young agnostic directed a question at the guest speaker. "Why go to India to bother those people about Jesus Christ?" he asked. "Aren't they getting along all right without Him." The missionary replied, "No, young man, they are not getting along all right without Him. No one anywhere is getting along all right without Him."

It is true that most people throughout the world have their own religious beliefs. However, the answer to man's personal need is not religion but the gospel of Christ which is a gospel of life and power.

There is a vast difference between religion and the gospel.

Religion is man-made; the gospel is God-sent. Religion tells what man tries to do for God; the gospel tells us what God has done for man. Religion at its best produces an outward reformation; through the gospel an inward transformation is wrought.

The Apostle Paul had been very religious. He was a Pharisee and as touching the law he was blameless. Yet his heart was hard and empty. One day on the Damascus road he personally met the Lord and the gospel of power brought reality to his life. It was this man who wrote, "I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ for it is the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth."

The word "gospel" means "good news". And it is good news to know that reality can be found in Christ.

Here's Truth Wilder Than Fiction

I've decided to write a book. Not because I want to. Not because I have a message. Not because I think anybody will buy it. But because a fellow has dared me to.

He was a publisher. I told him hundreds of people — nay, thousands — had asked me when I was going to produce a book made up of my columns. This was a big, fat lie, of course. I think the total of the queries was between twelve and thirteen.

He was nice about it, if a little steely-eyed. He agreed that there'd be a big sale, if I bought the 1,000 copies I promised to buy, to give away to my friends. (They'd be getting about 120 copies each, at that rate, but they could give them away to THEIR friends.)

He agreed that the whole thing was a great idea. For some other publisher. But he sort of took the steam out of my self-esteem when he came out with the logical statement, "If a book is worth publishing, it's worth writing."

This is the sort of thing publishers sit around thinking up, when they're not worrying about some of us great writers getting away from them. Which they don't seem to spend an excess of time doing. Unfortunately, writers can't flash back with, "If a book is worth writing, it's worth publishing." Mainly because it isn't true.

What's the book going to be about? Well, that's still on the secret list, because I don't know. But after looking over a few shelves of books at the local library, I know that publishers will print almost any kind of garbage.

So, if it's garbage they want, I'm going to make up the biggest literary garbage pail that has ever been set before the public. It's going to be crammed with sex, violence, delinquent teenagers, corrupt politicians, dope fiends, alcoholics, doctors, cowboys, how to raise prize zinnias, favorite recipes, and all the other ingredients of the most successful books.

It will be autobiographical, of course. At first, I thought that might be a little difficult, as I've led rather a sheltered life. Then I realized that all I had to do was decorate things a little. Gild the Billy so to speak.

Thus, instead of going to high school and being on the football team and going steady, in the book I'll be the leader of a group of teenage terrorists who get their kicks out of setting fire to nursing homes, under the influence of heroin.

Instead of joining the air force and becoming an officer and a fighter pilot and having a ball most of the time, in the book I'll be an army private, intellectual and embittered, under the whip of a sadistic captain.

Instead of spending a year in a sanatorium, loafing, laughing, playing chess and reading, in the book I'll spend a year in a mental institution with a gang of perverts, alkies, junkies and a doctor straight out of Edgar Allan Poe.

Instead of becoming a weekly editor, writing about sewers and such, in the book I'll be an advertising executive with three mistresses, no morals and an unlimited expense account.

Instead of becoming a docile English teacher peddling metaphors and similes, in the book I'll be a famous television personality with great talent and no scruples, who poisons the minds of his listeners with cleverly disguised racial prejudice and completely undisguised commercials about armpits.

How does it sound? You like it? Oh, you don't. Well, in that case, I'll just have to write a dull, insipid book about dull, insipid old things that really happened.

Boy, are you ever going to be bored reading about the time the two nine-year-old girls cornered me in the treehouse and kissed me. Or the time I fell in love with the Brazilian girl in the dead of a Canadian winter. Or the time the Old Battleaxe chased me through the snow in her dressing-gown, trying to hit me with a phone she'd yanked off the wall. Or the time I was beaten up by four old men...

Married in United Church

On October 10 at 7:30 p.m. Betty Ann Clark became the bride of David Bruce Binney of Victoria.

Entering the Summerland United Church on the arm of her father, the young dark-haired bride looked lovely in a simple floor length sheath of peau de soie. An embossed rose applique enhanced the waistline and a detachable train floated at the back. An organza cornet held her shoulder length veil in place. She carried a cascade of American Beauty roses.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Clark of Summerland; the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Binny reside in Victoria.

Rev. P. K. Louie officiated at the ceremony.

Four bridal attendants were Mrs. Caroline Khalembach, the matron of honor; Miss Audrey Clark, the bride's sister; Miss Carolyn Parkinson and Miss Donna Gorrigan. They all chose identically styled royal blue peau de soie gowns, with a fitted bodice and wrap around skirts. Matching headpieces and bouquets of white carnations completed the ensembles.

Groomsman was Terrance Hood and ushers were Lnn Meyer, Gary Zamzow and Mr. Menard.

Following the ceremony the wedding guests gathered for a reception in the IOOF Hall which was decorated in a blue and white motif for the occasion. Earl Smith was master of ceremonies.

For a wedding trip to Spokane, the bride chose an attractive Cranberry Red wool suit with white accessories.

The couple will make their home in Victoria where the groom is stationed with the Royal Canadian Navy. He has just returned to Canada from an around the world cruise.

Guests were present from Victoria, Esquimalt, Ladysmith, Vancouver, Chilliwack, Penticton, Naramata, Peachland, Kelowna, Creston and points in Alberta.

Retiring leader receives gift

Mrs. W. G. Evans, a Brown Owl in the Summerland Brownies for the past eight years, was honored on her retirement at a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Barkwill last week.

Sixteen members of the Auxiliary to the Brownies and other leaders were present. Mrs. Evans was presented with a Brownie spoon and a lawn ornament in recognition of her many years of service to the group.

Comings and Goings

Miss Darlene Raincock of Vancouver spent the holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Raincock.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Atkinson over the Thanksgiving week end, were Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Ewing, formerly of Christ Church, New Zealand, and now living at Castlegar.

KINSMEN NOTES

Tuesday, October 20 proved a very exciting evening for the Kinsmen Club. Seated for supper were 37 members. Guest speaker was Al Cowen. Guest Kinsmen from Penticton outnumbered local members.

Mr. Cowen, introduced by Rob Towgood, spoke on Polio and Rehabilitation Foundation Work. He said that two qualified speech therapists for children are now serving the Okanagan, one at Kelowna and one in Vernon. Mr. Cowen was thanked by Bill Pollock.

President Gordon Day and Rob Towgood attended a Polio and Rehabilitation meeting in Kelowna.

President Day also attended a fall council meeting for Kinsmen presidents in Vancouver.

DEAR DORIS advice from Doris Clark

'Coward' Fears Simple Operation

DEAR DORIS — Deep inside I feel very ashamed because of my lack of fortitude, and you will probably advise me to kick myself in the seat of the pants. At the age of 34 it seems I must have my tonsils out and the idea of it terrifies me. Little children in all their innocence do it; what's wrong with me? The idea that I will choke to death whilst unconscious bothers me.

Do you know, Doris, in our little community you see a lot of brave people—many with serious illnesses—no one ever says they are frightened. That is why I can't tell the doctor. He has real problems to deal with.

A friend of mine died while having this simple operation many years ago. If you could reassure me that I won't choke to death, perhaps I'll feel safer.

COWARD

DEAR NOT-A-COWARD — Considering the shock it must have been to lose your friend your deep fears are understandable. And don't ever think your stoical friends bear their burdens without a twinge. If they seem strong minded now, that's because they have worked through their dark hour to a way of facing life again.

Tonsil operations are harder on an adult, but are not considered too serious. Little children blithely trust their parents in accepting such things. You can trust your doctor with your fears. Wait no longer to talk with him.

DEAR DORIS — My sister-in-law is shortly to arrive in Canada from Holland. Some ten years ago she passed through her apprenticeship and took night courses and became, in Holland, a properly qualified hairdresser. I would like to know how she should set about obtaining whatever qualifications are necessary in Canada.

DUTCH TOO

DEAR DUTCH TOO — Have her bring evidence of three years' employment as a hairdresser in Holland, stating dates, names of employers, location. If employers' letters are not available, she may make a sworn statement before a notary.

This evidence goes to the department of labor in the province where she settles. Then she writes trade examinations, for a certificate to practise.

DEAR DORIS — Could you please tell me what to do about a double chin? I am trying to reduce all over, but this extra bit of fat seems particularly stubborn.

REDUCER

DEAR REDUCER — It is true that the fat comes off first in the areas which get the exercise. Send me ten cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet "Exercises for Double Chin". (Note to other readers with the same problem: This helpful sheet of exercises can be yours for a dime and an envelope, too.)

To Hopeless — Your twenty page letter at least got a few things off your chest. Humans need someone to talk to—and so do you. Bottling it all up is never going to mend your marriage.

Naturally your not-quite-mature husband scorns discussing things with anyone else; wouldn't this mean he couldn't handle his own affairs? Yet he would hardly hope to cure a condition by himself!

United Church Women hear talk on Brazil

Mrs. Colin Campbell presided over the fall quarterly meeting of the United Church Women held last week. The meeting with 46 present, opened with a Thanksgiving devotional service.

Letters from children adopted by the Summerland United Church Women were read. Ten boy, age 10, in Hong Kong wrote a very interesting account of his school life. From Korea, a letter was read from the seven year old girl the group has adopted.

Final arrangements were made for the Tea and Christmas Sale on November 28.

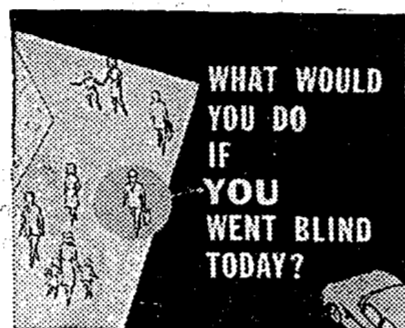

It was announced that a congregational fellowship pot luck supper will be held November 18.

Following the business, the program committee had invited Rev. R. Schutze, a former minister at Keremeos and now assistant minister at Penticton, to speak on Brazil. Rev. Schutze was born and brought up in Brazil and spoke of the beauty and bounty in that country. His talk was inspiring and timely as Brazil is the current topic for study by the group. Rev. Schutze studied theology in Germany and served in mission fields in northern Manitoba among the Indian population. Mrs. J. Wilcox thanked the speaker. Refreshments and a social hour brought the evening to a close.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Earle of Winnipeg were guests with Miss Mary Scott over Thanksgiving week end.

Mrs. J. A. Beedham, Mrs. S. M. McCulloch and Mrs. H. Carmichael, all of Victoria visited over the Thanksgiving holiday with their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. M. Lamb.

CANDLE MAKING IS A HOBBY SUITED TO THE WHOLE FAMILY

Candle making is a fascinating, inexpensive hobby which can be enjoyed by the whole family. By following the simple, step-by-step instructions outlined in this series of seven articles, you will soon be producing professional looking candles you can be proud of.

Most of the items needed are available in the home; the few extra materials required such as wicking, and additives can be purchased at hobby shops. As in baking, all ingredients and utensils should be at hand and complete instructions read ahead of time so that each step can be followed readily without having to reheat wax while an item is being located.

Utensils required for making your first candle include: a double boiler, or as a substitute, a pan in which a trivet can be placed, together with a 48-oz. fruit juice tin for melting wax. The juice tin's top rim can be pinched to form a spout for easier pouring. A foil pie plate, paring knife, and small watercoloring brush complete the equipment.

Materials required include two pounds of paraffin wax; stearic acid (one to two tablespoons to be added to 16 ozs. of solid, or one pint of liquid wax) to make candle longer burning, improve non-drip qualities and add gloss; white household glue for affixing decorations to candle; and wicking, available in various sizes to suit diameter of candle.

Before starting on your first candle, cover work area with newspaper to catch any wax splatters, then break up slabs of paraffin wax from one box and place into double boiler. While wax is melting, add a tablespoon of stearic acid and procure one of the slabs from the remaining box to receive the wick by cutting a lengthwise groove down the centre of one side. The groove should be just deep enough to hold the wick. Cut a length of wicking twice the length of the wax slab, dip it in the hot, melted wax and place it in the groove with a piece of wicking protruding from each end.

Now dip the side of the slab containing the wick into the hot wax and quickly place another against it allowing the two to become welded together. Add the remaining two slabs, after dipping them in the hot wax, one to each of the original two so that the wick remains in the centre.

When the wax has set, hold the candle by its wick and dip quickly into the hot wax to cover joints and give it a smooth glossy finish. Set the candle on the foil plate to "dry", and recruit the rest of the family to help with decorations.

Decorations can take the form of decals, or perhaps a pattern of sparkles or glitter. Sparkles are applied by first squeezing glue in the desired pattern onto the candle's surface, then sprinkling or pressing sparkles into place with a finger.

Remove any excess particles with brush and your first candle is ready to burn! For additional information write to: The Candle Making Institute, P.O. Box 4090, Terminal A, Toronto 1, Ontario.

A few words of caution:

- Never melt wax over direct heat, always use a double boiler arrangement.
- Do not pour hot wax down sink drain; it can cause clogging.
- Do not leave the room while wax is melting on stove.
- Keep pans of melted wax at back of stove so that it cannot spill on your feet.
- Urge small children to stay out of work area until candle has been poured.
- If wax should flash into flame, cover melting pot with foil pie plate, or saucapan top, and throw on baking soda, or use a small aerosol bomb fire extinguisher.
- Never use string for wicking; even when chemically treated it does not perform satisfactorily.

Clean-up tips:

Utensils may be placed in the boiler and heated until free of wax then removed and washed in hot water and detergent. Set boiler aside to cool and skim off the surface wax which forms. Boiler can then be washed in hot water and detergent as well.

Remove wax drippings from linens and rugs by letting wax harden, then scraping off the surface wax with a knife and washing the spot with varsol. Heat tends to set stains so it is not advisable to use the blotter and hot iron method of removal.

Scrooge Method Deplored in Attaining Yule Solvency

There are at least two effective ways to keep out of the red at Christmas time, according to Jack Johnston, manager of the Summerland branch of the Bank of Montreal.

You can follow the Scrooge technique and just ignore the holiday. But it's not the best way to win friends and influence people. You're not likely to have much fun, either," he adds.

Much better to plan ahead, Mr. Johnston believes, and open a special Christmas savings account at the B of M.

This year, when it's time to start Christmas shopping again, it'll be much more fun to draw on money in your special Christmas account.

Why not start right away? Figure how much you'll need to spend at Christmas, divide the amount by the number of paydays between now and then and make a regular deposit of that sum. It's guaranteed painless.

Each year, more and more Canadians are learning how pleasant it is to do their Christmas shopping with no worries about where the money's going to, come from.

Mr. Johnston will be glad to show you how easy it is to operate your own special Christmas account throughout the coming year at the B of M.

Now's the time to start!

Broncs show good form in first two hockey games

Summerland hockey players are taking an active part in the El Rancho Broncs junior hockey team. Although the Broncs lost two games over the weekend to the Kamloops Juniors, they put on a terrific show both games and coach Jack Taggart is confident he has the makings of a top junior team.

Ernie Pushkarenko of Summerland, net minder for the Broncs, was a positive standout in both games.

Martin Hoffman of Summerland is spare goalie. Despite the two losses, the Broncs had their fair share of the action in both games and spectators report enjoying every minute. A large number of Summerland fans attended the games in Penticton arena.

How Do You Proceed?

Scouts enjoy cooking as well as camping

The fall Camp of the 1st Summerland Boy Scout Troop was held on the Thanksgiving week end, at the Fenwick property near Fish Lake.

Nineteen boys and three leaders attended the camp.

Although the camp was set up just as it started to rain, and it rained the first night, good weather was enjoyed for the three days with only light frost one night.

Camping was on a patrol basis, and for a number of recruits it was their first Scout outing. The patrols cooked all their meals at their own camp sites, and many parents would have been surprised at what tasty meals were produced over open fires. An interesting demonstration in aluminum foil cooking was the Kabob dinner cooked by pairs of Scouts on burger, carrots, onion and potato Saturday hike to Munro Lake. Ingredients were ham-tato.

On Saturday the Troop hiked 4 1/4 miles from Fish Lake to Munro Lake and back. On Sunday morning they held the Scouts own worship service with boating and fishing on Fish Lake in the afternoon.

On Monday they had several games, sing-songs, and games were featured evenings in the Fenwick cabin followed by cocoa and cookies.

The troop is indebted to the Fenwicks for the use of their property.

FUTURE TEACHERS

VISIT HAPPYVALE

On October 13, the Future Teachers Club of the Secondary School, under the sponsorship of Mr. McInnes, visited Happyvale School in Penticton.

Mrs. Flora Bergstrom of Summerland showed the girls around and told them of her work with mentally retarded children. That afternoon a workshop group was in attendance and the members of the group made articles that later will be sold.

Mrs. Bergstrom mentioned the work in other parts of the province, such as at Tranquille and Woodlands, and said that much research was being done in the field. Work with mentally retarded children is perhaps more rewarding than the work with ordinary children, who sometimes are in the habit of being unco-operative.

The old section house, which was situated above the West Summerland CPR station has been sold and was moved away this week. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dymoski, who have lived in the section house for a number of years, purchased the building and moved it to a lot in Peach Valley.

In reporting on the new plans for the hospital last week we said "the municipal share was $353,000 with the remainder of the cost borne by the provincial and municipal governments". This, of course, should have read: "borne by the provincial and federal governments".

Receiving degrees at the fall convocation of UBC are: Glenn Gordon Parker, B.A., General Course; Walter Toru Uegama, B.Com.; Mrs. Isabel Reinertson, B.Ed., Secondary Field, General Programme.

Sports Shop moves to new location

Premises formerly occupied by the 5c to $1 Store have been re-opened and now contain Doug's Sports Shop.

Doug Taylor has moved his sporting goods store from Hastings Road to Granville Road and opened a bright spacious store featuring the latest in equipment for the hunter and fisherman.

Fishing and hunting information on the district is available at the store, as well as supplies and equipment.

The store also handles a complete line of hockey equipment and skates.

Bicycle sales and repairs are also available at Doug's Sports Shop.

Hallowe'en theme for Saturday tea

Ladies can stock up on home baked goods at the annual Eastern Star bake sale this Saturday in the IOOF Hall.

The hall will be decorated in the Hallowe'en theme and the small admission charge will include a cup of tea.

Worthy Matron Mrs. F. Madocks will receive the guests at the door.

This is the main money making project of the local chapter and proceeds of the afternoon will go towards furthering the work of the B.C. Cancer Society.

General convener for the tea and bake sale is Mrs. E. Wilson. Decorations will be arranged by Mrs. Doney Wilson and tea arrangements are in charge of Mrs. J. Leinor.

In preparation of the CBC radio series Flanders Fields, Gregory Clark recalls to broadcaster Frank Willis, the days of the First World War. Clark was one of those who witnessed the period of the war from the first enlistments in 1914 to the entry of the Canadians into Mons on November 11, 1918, and he is one of 500 interviewed in this first person narrative of the Canadians who fought in that war, Flanders Fields, a 17 part series begins on the CBC radio network November 11, marking the 50th anniversary of the outbreak of the Great War.

Curling underway with mixed 'spiel

Curlers take note! The roaring game is underway for this year with a mixed bonspiel, which starts on Thursday of this week. Curling will go to Sunday. To date 20 rinks are entered in the spiel.

Regular men's and ladies' curling starts Monday of next week.

Twenty-four rinks will curl in the regular men's draw, with the ladies entering 10 rinks. The research station has Friday night curling with 10 rinks, Saturday night is mixed curling, with 10 rinks entered this year.

On Sunday afternoon the Penticton Legion will use the Summerland Arena and will have at least five rinks up.

Early history of hospitals in Summerland reviewed

Because of the announcement last week of a money bylaw in December to build a new hospital, the Review has been talking to a number of old timers here to find out some of the history of the hospitals that have served Summerland.

We have a copy of the book published by Dr. F. W. Andrew entitled "A History of Summerland" and from it have taken the following facts. We hope in the next few weeks to write more of the hospitals, both past and present, and would appreciate any old photos of buildings or staffs which could be used with the articles.

The following are excerpts from Dr. Andrew's book.

In the year 1908 Mrs. Ronald Sinclair opened up a nursing home in the Fenner House at the foot of Gulch Road, and this proved to be the nucleus of the first hospital. Dr. F. W. Andrew opened his surgery in the Gartrell Block and Dr. R. Matheson of Kelowna made regular visits to attend to the dental requirements of the community.

In 1909 the Ladies Hospital Auxiliary was formed, some of the active leaders being Mrs. Lipssett, Mrs. Coulter White and Mrs. Solly.

The cottage hospital established by Mrs. Sinclair, was later operated by Mrs. Stillingfleet of Kelowna, Mrs. A. Solly and Mrs. L. Wilson (Mrs. Ralph MacDonald). The time came, however, when this was not sufficient for the needs of the community. At several public meetings it was urged that a proper building should be erected and suitably equipped for medical and obstetrical patients.

The Hospital Board, which by now had been incorporated, was assured of assistance from the department of the provincial secretary, so H. C. Mellor was asked to prepare plans for a 10 bed hospital. The Summerland Development Company donated two acres as a site on a bench overlooking Summerland and the lake.

Here a two-storey stucco hospital was opened early in 1914 with Miss Malale Althezon as matron and Miss Belle Warner and Miss Annie Armstrong as assistants.

Municipal ownership asked for hospital

Norman Abernethy, a Summerland taxpayer who takes a great deal of interest in the affairs of the municipality and sits in on the majority of the council meetings, presented three petitions to council Tuesday night on behalf of himself and A. W. Rae.

The first petition suggested that the Summerland council has a heavy work load, with growth in the community increasing all the time. Abernethy said that the taxpayer should be ready to remunerate councillors more for time spent and out of pocket expenditures.

Reeve Norman Holmes told Abernethy that he appreciated his interest in the amount the council is called upon to do. Council declined to make any comment on the petition.

Presently councillors are paid $600 per year. The reeve receives $1200. The municipal act provides that councillors can receive up to $700 and the reeve $2000. The petition suggested that council get this amount. After presenting the petition, Mr. Abernethy suggested council consider raising the number of councillors to six from four. He said a municipality of this size generally has six councillors thus reducing each man's work load.

In his next petition Mr. Abernethy asked council to prepare and adopt a procedural bylaw. This, he said, would assist the ratepayer in bringing his business before council in an orderly manner. The petition also asked that council consider having the municipal solicitor present at all regular meetings. Mr. Abernethy stated this could facilitate municipal work as well as making the solicitor fully conversant with municipal affairs.

Councillor Walter Powell said the municipal clerk acts in an advisory capacity to council and is usually conversant with the municipal act but for very difficult problems. He felt the present set-up to be adequate. Municipal clerk G. D. Smith told council that only in major areas such as Vancouver City, is a solicitor present at regular meetings.

In his third petition regarding the upcoming hospital bylaw, Mr. Abernethy said: Where as it appears the Board of the Summerland Hospital Society has asked this council to place a money by-law before the people in the amount of $353,000 to go towards a new hospital, and whereas the amount requested is a very large sum, which would in fact more than double the other than school debt as at December 31, 1963, and the people who will be responsible for this large debt have an unquestionable right to proper and adequate protection of this money, which can only be achieved through their elected council, and the Summerland Hospital Society, is a private organization outside control of council, the petition asks that council refuse to put any money by-law for hospital purposes before the people until after such time as the municipality has absolute ownership and control of the Hospital Society.

Council accepted the petitions and tabled them for further study.

$300 damage in Peachland accident

An accident in Peachland on October 19 resulted in $300 damages to cars driven by Evelyn E. Bradbury of Peachland and Harold Lindroth, Rutland. Lindroth was proceeding west and his vision was obscured by the sun as he met the Bradbury vehicle on a curve. There were no injuries and no charges were laid.

The following cases were heard in Summerland police court before magistrate Reid Johnston.

Gordon Leonard Gingell of Summerland pleaded not guilty to a charge of speeding. He was found guilty and fined $25 and costs. His driver's licence was suspended for 12 months.

DEAR DORIS advice from Doris Clark

His 'Stare' Just Concentration

DEAR DORIS — I have been a very unhappy married woman ever since I was married 18 years ago.

I had a heart operation three years ago, and since then I cannot get my doctor out of my mind. Every time I saw him at his office he always stared at me (especially when he was about to check my heart!). I am almost sure that he hypnotized me once (by talking to me). The last time I saw him was for my annual check-up last year. He still stared at me.

It almost broke my heart to see him so tired and sad looking. There never was a word of love or gesture between us. (He is a married man.) Could he be very unhappy also?

Should I see him next year for my annual check-up again? What would be your best solution to this problem?

HEART BROKEN

DEAR HEART — See him again No! Your empty hands and heart have made you dream foolish dreams. Don't be misguided by the disturbing intimacy of the man-doctor woman-patient relationship. When he stared he was concentrating!

Forget him and seek help in handling your own unhappy marriage.

DEAR DORIS — We were living on the farm with my husband's parents up until a year ago, when we moved to the city.

My mother-in-law and I did not get along. Once she slapped my face in front of my little girl. A big fight followed. After that I packed my things and left with my two children.

Both my husband and I do not like the city. My husband wants to go back to his parents' farm because he has a lot of money invested there, but I would prefer to get a farm of our own. My own relatives tell me that a wife must do whatever her husband wants to do whether she likes it or not. I would be miserable if I went back there, but what can I do

IN DESPAIR

DEAR IN DESPAIR — Stand by your guns. Being where your husband is doesn't mean courting disaster by living with a domineering mother-in-law.

If the parents won't give him his percentage to get him started on a farm of his own, he and you will have to save up.

DEAR DORIS — I am 15, my boy friend is 19 and we love each other. Now I am going to have his baby and he wants to marry me.

My stepfather says he is too old for me and won't let him come to see me. How much right is your stepfather supposed to have

IN LOVE

DEAR IN LOVE — Until you are of legal age to marry without parental consent, your stepfather has the say, as well as the responsibility for taking care of you, just the same as if he was your real father.

But you should be seeing a social worker to discuss realistic plans for your future. Go to your nearest child care agency for help and understanding.

DEAR DORIS — I'm not a drinking woman and I'm not used to beer around the house. My husband promised me he would do without his beer. He stopped for awhile but now it's in our house and every day he has his beer. I've given up my love of green onions because he hates the smell. I hate the smell of beer.

L. M.

DEAR L. M. — It's time to bring your marriage up to date with tolerance of "blonds" and beer. Love is worth it, isn't it?

JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES MEET IN PENTICTON

Do Wives Really 'Have It Made?'

Some of my best friends are women. I like women, generally, because they are compassionate, courageous, and smell nice.

Some are good lookers. Others are good cooks. Most have a great fund of common sense.

For these very reasons, I have refused to stand by and let that fine creature, the housewife, be lead or misled, into a morass of frustration and unhappiness by a few frustrated, unhappy female agitators.

For years, I have been fighting a battle. It has been made up of skirmishes in speeches, fullscale attacks in this column, and occasional hand-to-hand combat with my old lady.

On some occasions, I have been routed, my banners tattered, my forces in disarray. But my ideals have remained intact, my cause untarnished.

Once in a while, I've won a minor encounter. At a party, for instance, when a housewife has flung a drink in my face and rushed off to the bathroom in a confusion of rage and tears.

I don't regret a minute of the long campaign. The only thing that has depressed me has been the intense loneliness. Time and again I have felt like a lost patrol, cut off from all reinforcements, betrayed by allies.

But my heart leaped in my breast with new hope the other day, when I read an article in Maclean's magazine. For the first time in a decade or more, I felt that my cause, "Equality for Husbands", had an outside chance of winning.

Title of the article was, "Marriage is Easy Street (For Women)". Written by Sidney Katz, it was a sober, factual refutation of that base, insidious and increasing whine of the times — that a housewife is "bored, trapped, a slave to her family, and unfulfilled as a human being."

Mr. Katz quotes sociologist, psychologist and anthropologist to prove what I have been saying for years: that it is just the opposite, that it is the male creature in marriage, who is trapped, who is the slave to his family, and who, very often, is bored silly with the whole business.

I have no need to quote any kind of an "ologist". All I have to do is look around me.

There's the former terror of the tank corps. A tiger in action, his name was a by-word among the troops, a symbol of dash and elan. There's not much left of his former fiendish skill as he steers his shopping cart submissively about the supermarket. His wife is busy Friday nights with her little theatre group.

There's the former bomber pilot. For three years, he held within his clever and capable hands six thousand horsepower, six tons of bombs, and the lives of six men. I wonder if he feels "fulfilled as a human being" as he drops another quarter in the coin wash. But it's Saturday night and his wife likes to watch the movie on TV.

Most of the damage has been done by a comparatively small group of harridans who have produced a veritable tidal wave of books, magazine articles and TV diatribes, all with the same theme: if you are a housewife (a) you are unhappy and frustrated; (b) you're a slob because you're not out working, or writing a novel or sculpting a sculp or something.

Normal, intelligent housewives, under this finger of scorn, are slinking around guiltily trying to convince themselves that they are unhappy, frustrated shirkers. The only thing I'm worried about is that they may succeed.

As any woman of real insight knows, it is the male of the family who is a slave to the family, who is frustrated, unfulfilled and trapped. Let me quote from the article. In a survey, one housewife said, "A married woman has it made."

Welcome to the barricades, Katz. You can pile sandbags while I sharpen my finger to stick it in the dyke.

Go get him girls. Katz, that is.

Report from Parkdale Place

by Mrs. Augusta Emery

Summertime is once again in the past. As we look out of our windows we see the leaves gradually changing to beautiful red and gold; the morning mist hanging low in the distant valley; the slim spires of smoke from burning leaves rising away in the distance into the October sky. So autumn is here to bring variety to our surroundings.

There are so many happy things to fill the human heart; the crops of golden grain on the prairies, the wonderful yield of fruit in our Okanagan Valley. So we greet with joy the advent of this lovely season of the year.

October is the month when millions of Canadians from the Atlantic to the Pacific celebrate the great feast of Thanksgiving — when families reunite, contemplate their blessings and give thanks to the Almighty.

We, the senior citizens of Parkdale, joined our fellow Canadians to give thanks to Him for the countless blessings we have received during the past year. We are grateful to the board of directors for providing us with so many comforts of life, for making Parkdale a real "Home from Home" staff for all the extra duties they take on for our happiness. The citizens of Summerland have been outstanding in their generosity, providing us with flowers to beautify our Home; fruit and vegetables for our canning. To you, our gracious thanks.

The outstanding event this month was the dinner given by the Credit Union to which all the senior citizens of Summerland were invited. Seventeen residents and four of the staff from Parkdale were in attendance. Transportation was provided. The dinner and service in charge of the Legion Auxiliary was excellent. The Rosedale Room of the Legion Hall was the scene of a very happy gathering. A program of music and pictures was most enjoyable. Piano selections by two young artists, Lynn Gartrell and Marilyn James gave the audience a great deal of pleasure. We thank the officials of the Credit Union for their kind invitation.

We were very pleased to read a letter to the editor of the Review from Roger S. Backman of Barrie, Ontario. He had spent part of the summer in this neighbourhood. Of all the areas of Canada he had travelled through nothing was as beautiful as this spot right here, our lovely Summerland.

Many from distant parts visited here this month — from California, Nova Scotia, Lancashire, England. Mrs. Bradshaw of London, England spent a few days in our town. She was charmed with the Home, amid such beautiful surroundings and has returned to her homeland with many sweet memories of her visit to the Okanagan. We have been very pleased to have in our midst for the past two months Mrs. Lloyd from California. She has been visiting her mother, Mrs. McClement.

Congratulations to Dr. Wilcox who has been named Man of the Year by the Sprinkler Irrigation Association of Canada and the U.S. Dr. Wilcox expects to go to Phoenix, Arizona, where the award will be presented on October 26.

A presentation was made to Mrs. May Campbell from the matron, staff and residents of the Home on the occasion of her retirement from work.

We were very pleased to welcome back Mrs. Parry after a long leave of absence. One of our dearest and oldest residents passed away at Stillwater Private Hospital in Kelowna. Mrs. Lillico leaves with us many sweet memories of her kindness during the years she spent with us in Parkdale. May she rest in peace in God's loving care.

Another birthday has been celebrated by Mrs. Howis and Mrs. Lott. Miss Verrier had a party on her special day at which Mrs. McKenzie did the honors. Our matron, Mrs. Elliott, will be remembered on the last day of October, when (Continued on next page)

1st Summerland Troop

The troop meeting saw a turnout of 24 boys and four leaders. Two Scouts, Michael Welsh and Garry Davis were invested into the World Brotherhood of Scouts. We expect next week to invest the remaining six Scouts who plan to pass their test during the week. This is registration time and we want to register the new recruits as invested Scouts. Some boys have paid their registration and troop dues of $4 for the year. We hope the rest will pay shortly; dues may be paid in full or $2 now and $2 later.

Mr. Denike continued his instruction on Ambulance Man's Badge and will spend one more week with the group. Next week there will be an examiner for health aspects on the Personal Fitness Badge and the following week an examiner for Ambulance Man's Badge.

In the patrol competition the points are Beavers 199, Eagles 190, Buffaloes 185 and Hawks 175. Duty patrol next week is the Hawks.

It was such a pleasure to have the little Sunday School children from the United Church come to our lounge and sing their little hymns for us. We thank the teachers who had them so well trained. May we have this pleasure again Mrs. Setter and Mrs. Foster?

We are very grateful to all who remembered us this month. The fish was so good, Mr. Borton. Lovely flowers came from A. McLachlan, H. Brown, T. Ritchie, Mrs. Ward, Mrs. Croil, Mrs. C. Dunsdon, Mrs. G. Daines.

Fruit was received from the United Church, Peachland Anglican Church, Mr. O'Leary, Mr. Blumenschein, G. Ritchie, Miss Holder. Vegetables were received from Mr. Moodie, and G. Ritchie. The mushrooms, Mr. Hansen, were enjoyed so much.

Looking back on the past year and making comparisons with other countries we realize that we are among the most fortunate in the world. But let us not forget to thank Him from whom all blessings come. "We thank you for all the gifts, dear God,

New books at the library

by Kay Dunsdon

A number of new books have come to our library recently, but we have room to mention only a few.

In the fiction, a book of short stories by Mavis Gallant, called My Heart is Broken, is well written and interesting. The settings are the Italian Riviera and Paris. I liked Image in the Mirror best of these, by this Canadian author, Montreal born, now living in Paris.

The Fabulous Mrs. V. by H. E. Bates is another collection of short stories by the delightful author of The Darling Buds of May. With its British setting it is good light reading.

The Stone Angel by Margaret Laurence is rather a sad story but compelling. One has to read it to the end. Hager Shipley is a very old lady living with her son and daughter in law. She is proud and independent, but as she lies in bed, she reviews her life, first with her driving but loving father, and then a foolish marriage to a shiftless but handsome husband. She despises weakness in others, and clings to one son, ignoring the one who eventually proves a tower of strength and kindness in her growing frailty. Her head strong actions bring her trouble, but she is a pioneer woman in heart, and her defiance arouses our admiration while we sympathize with her family. A strongly written book, well worth reading.

Five Lives by Frank Pakenham, Earl of Longford is a book packed with anecdotes of famous names in political life of England in the last few years. The Earl is a most unusual man, interested in many things. He was Labor Minister in Attlee's government, and gives intimate views of the House of Lords, and writes of his interest and work in the Penal Reform movement in England.

The Quimby Manuscripts edited by H. W. Dresser, tells of Dr. P. P. Quimby and his scientific research of silent healing which he called the Science of Health. These manuscripts were written almost 100 years ago, and show that Dr. Quimby was a man very much ahead of his times in scientific thought. It has been said that Marv Baker Eddy borrowed his ideas for her own book.
