

Under the Giant's Head

The Kelowna Art Exhibit Society is sponsoring a showing of paintings and prints by a Summerland artist, Mrs. J. M. McArthur. The pictures will be on display from April 1 to 14 at the regional library building in Kelowna.

Kelowna to pay extra share

A recommendation has been made that taxpayers in School District No. 23, Kelowna, pay a slightly larger share of the operating costs of the proposed Okanagan Regional College than other participating districts.

Representatives of the 10 school districts comprising the Okanagan Regional College Committee unanimously agreed on the recommendation Sunday at a meeting in Vernon.

The proposal calls for Kelowna taxpayers to pay one-half a mill more or their assessed evaluation than the other nine participating school districts.

The recommendation was made in the form of an amendment to the proposed agreement between the ten school districts for the establishment and operation of a regional college. The agreement must be signed by all participating school boards, following a successful plebiscite in each school district, before it is binding on any board.

The proposed agreement has been under consideration by the committee for several months, and had previously received the tentative agreement of all boards. Until Sunday, however, it had provided for a uniform mill rate for operating costs in all districts. Capital costs must be based on a uniform mill rate according to the Public Schools Act.

Bridge results

At visitors' night at the South Okanagan Contract Bridge Club Monday night 11 tables were in play. Winners were:

North-South: Dr. W. G. Evans and G. Mackelaine, tied for second; C. Hepperte and C. Eisey and Mrs. A. J. Berry and P. MacRae; W. Hepperte and H. Hughes. East-West: A. McClymont and M. McKenzie; J. Garraway and J. Wakley; Mrs. W. Powell and Mrs. B. White; Mrs. W. Gartrell and Mrs. J. Auty.

Trophies presented to minor hockey players

There was an excellent turnout of adults and young people at the Summerland Minor Hockey Association banquet held on Saturday evening at the Youth Centre. Three hundred and four people sat down to the dinner.

In the Bantam division, the Joe Bullock trophy was presented to the Blacks, captained by Gary Bullock. The Yellows cap-turned the Doug Campbell trophy in the Midget division. Team captain Jim Jenner received the award. In the Pee-wee division, captain Jackie Bullock accepted the "Tiny" Hankins trophy on behalf of his All Star team.

Following the presentation of trophies, some excellent slides on wildlife were shown by Walter Mulligan of Penticton.

Grade changes made in secondary school

The junior secondary school (grades VIII, IX and X) has now been reorganized. The changes in the senior secondary school (grades XI and XII) will start next September with the present grade X students.

In order to qualify for the various programmes in the senior secondary year, various prerequisite courses must be completed in grades IX and X. In order to graduate at the end of the grade XII year certain definite courses must be taken in the grade XI and XII years.

In order to acquaint all the parents with the changes, a special meeting was held on Monday for parents of students at present in Grades VIII, IX and X.

The administration and staff of the school feel that it is of utmost importance that all parents understand fully the special requirements needed to complete the various programmes.

Steve Sakal heads curlers

At the annual meeting of the Summerland Curling Club Monday evening, Steve Sakal was elected president for the coming year. Other officers elected were: vice president: Peter Beulah; secretary, Val Trippe, treasurer Phil Munro.

Two new members, John Caldwell and Harvey Eden will serve on the executive for a three year term. Harry Hackman and Dr. James Marshall were elected for two years, and Dr. R. Cuthbert and C. B. (Tiny) Hankins were elected for one year. The club had a very successful season and is looking forward to an ever better season. Ice has already been booked for next winter.

DR. RAY PARKINSON

1965 New Democratic candidate for Vancouver-Burrard will be guest speaker at the Okanagan-Boundary NDP nominating convention Friday.

The convention will be held in the Glengarry Room of the Prince Charles Hotel on the evening of April 2.

Dr. Parkinson is the president of the Section of Psychiatry, Canadian Medical Association (B.C. Division), and Clinical Instructor at UBC for final year medical students. He is also Psychiatric Consultant for the Narcotics Addition Foundation and the Mental Health Centre, Burnaby.

John Young of Keremeos will be chairman for the meeting.

Police Court

Appearing before magistrate Reid Johnston, Roy Yamaoka of Summerland was fined $20 and costs for driving a motor vehicle contrary to the regulations on his driver's licence.

William Impett of Summerland was fined $20 and costs for exceeding the speed limit at Trout Creek.

On March 29, Bryan Hugh Rickson of Kelowna paid a fine of $25 and costs for speeding on Highway 97, north of Summerland.

Local Fertilizer developed

A new company, Gro Products has been organized by two Summerland men, Les Rumball and Bill Gallop. The company will manufacture and sell two products, Hildibrand Peat Moss and Gro, a fully organic soil conditioner.

Gro is being manufactured at Gallop's Greenhouses from local materials. It is excellent for the treatment of lawns and other plant life, and no other fertilizer is needed to supplement it. It is safe to use under any conditions, as it will not burn grass or tender plants.

The company is now distributing the two products from Kamloops to Osoyoos.

WCTU 55th convention next week

Members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet in Summerland for their 55th annual district convention. Ladies from Kamloops to the border are expected to attend the meeting in the Summerland Baptist Church. Mrs. W. Reeves of Kamloops is district chairman.

As well as the annual meeting, discussions will be held regarding the use of alcohol and narcotics in society and preventative education measures, now being taken by the WCTU.

Ladies of the local branch will preside at a noon luncheon. The meetings, slated for Tuesday, April 6, will start with registration at 9 a.m.

Reeve Norman Holmes will welcome the delegates to Summerland.

College a must, says Trail trustee

Thinking regarding the building and financing of a junior college should be based on the value to the people, mostly the young students who will be in the institution, and not on the sacrifice that any money concessions may mean to a district, said Frank Beinder, school trustee of Trail, as he addressed a large audience in the secondary school auditorium Wednesday night. The meeting was called by the school board to discuss the regional college plebiscite which will be held April 10. If approved the college would be built on a site near Kelowna.

Mr. Beinder told an attentive audience of nearly 150 that thinking on the college must be on a purely educational basis, which leaves no place for community pride or consideration of commercial advantage.

Such a college will not be just a glorified high school, but students finishing two years, will be ready to enter the third year courses at any Canadian university. Mr. Beinder also said the college will have a university atmosphere, giving the students an opportunity to prepare themselves emotionally for the crowded university scene they will probably enter.

He presented some interesting figures on junior colleges in the United States. There are now over 200 such institutions, and the figure is growing by 25 a year. In Florida 70 per cent of the population is within commuting distance of a college.

Having a college within driving distance can be a powerful motivating influence in the life of a young student, Mr. Beinder noted. University attendance can seem very remote to a young graduating student but if he knows that there is a college within commuting distance, his goals can be set early in high school.

It will likely cost a parent about $700 a year to send a student from Summerland to the Kelowna institution. This figure represents the cost of transportation and tuition fees. Projected cost of sending a student to UBC is $1500 a year.

The meeting was chaired by school board chairman John Bennest, who spoke briefly, emphasizing the need for a regional college and asking the ratepayers to support the plebiscite.

Florist service added by Gallop's

The well-known firm of Gallop's Greenhouses is now offering greatly extended florist services to its Summerland and Penticton customers. In addition to cut flowers and potted plants, they now have world-wide floral telegraph service, and are equipped to design and arrange floral arrangements for weddings and funerals.

A building will be constructed at their present location in Peach Valley to display the flowers and plants. It is expected to be completed in June.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Search and Rescue Unit organized in Summerland

The Editor,
The Summerland Review.
Dear Sir:

May I take advantage of the hospitality of your columns to make known to the public of Summerland and district, news of the formation of a "Search and Rescue Unit" for our area.

In common with many other towns and cities in Canada, we have for long recognized that there existed a real and urgent need for the training and the equipping of such a unit.

Over the course of these last few years at the federal civil defence college at Arnprior and also at our own provincial school in Vancouver, many hundreds of trained and qualified rescue workers have completed courses in basic and advanced rescue training. This does not include many of those trained in the field by our own provincial chief of rescue services.

There is no need for me, to enlarge on the value of such training, especially during periods of natural or man-made disaster. Such valuable training cannot be computed or over-emphasized. In the past, no actual Search and Rescue Teams have been recruited on a permanent basis in our community. However, it may be mentioned, that public spirited volunteers could always be relied on to aid in any search.

The chief disadvantage of this form of operation was the fact that many such volunteers had received no actual training in night rescue techniques and perhaps other skills that might prove to be useful in a difficult operation.

With the formation, training and the enrolment of the unit under the Civil Defence Planning Programme, a store of valuable equipment is now being steadily built up.

In this way, the services of the unit will be made available at short notice, should it have to be summoned to a hasty mission, subject to the conditions that may be applicable at that time.

Calls for aid, should in the first instance be made to the Summerland detachment of the RCMP at 494-3406 or via the Penticton RCMP at 492-4300. Alternately the superintendent of municipal services at 494-3306 or home 494-6301 or the writer at 494-3308 or home 494-1983 may be called.

SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 77 (SUMMERLAND)

Notice of Plebiscite

(Pursuant to the provisions of section 17 (p) of the Public Schools Act and rule 23.02 of the Council of Public Instruction).

"Are you in favour of School District No. 77 (Summerland) participating in the establishment and operation of a Regional College in the Okanagan area?"

TAKE NOTICE that the above is a true copy of the proposed question upon which the vote of the electors (owner-electors, resident-electors and tenant-electors) will be taken on Saturday, the 10th day of April, 1965, between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 8:00 p.m., at the Municipal Office, Summerland, B.C.

"And now here is the CBC (National News, read by Earl Cameron", is probably the most familiar introduction on Canadian broadcasting. Millions of Canadians habitually tune to CBC announcer Cameron reading the news on CBC radio or television. Cameron was born in Moose Jaw in 1915. He taught school, drove a hearse and worked as a lifeguard and railway section hand before joining the CBC as a staff announcer at Toronto 21 years ago.

Elks attend Nelson initiation

Elks from Summerland, Kelowna, Penticton, Keremeos, Oliver, Osoyoos and Kettle River travelled to Nelson by chartered bus over the week end to stage an initiation at Nelson BPO Elks No. 444.

Attending from Summerland were Jack Wilson, Dave Davis, Vincent Senger and Andy Kalembach.

Nelson lodge hosted all the visiting members to a dance and supper which concluded the evening.

Stone fruit regulations

Forecasts of a sharp reduction in British Columbia's crop of stone fruits have prompted a reminder by CDA's Plant Protection Division of regulations governing shipments to the province from elsewhere in Canada.

British Columbia's poor crop prospect follows unusually cold weather earlier this winter.

The division lists the following regulations for the benefit of those who may be planning to ship stone fruits to B.C.:

Shipment of Ontario-grown fresh peaches is prohibited. The measure is aimed at preventing introduction of some virus diseases of peaches found in Ontario but not here.

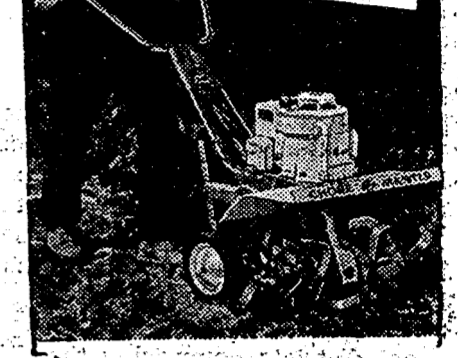

Other Ontario-grown stone fruits, including cherries, apricots and plums, may be shipped providing they have first been fumigated against the oriental fruit moth.

Shipments of stone fruits grown in other provinces are permitted providing they are accompanied by certificates of origin.

Last Overture Concert features Cassenti's

by Madeleine Alstead

The final Overture concert for the current season will take place on Friday, April 9, at 8:15 in the secondary school auditorium, and will feature the Cassenti Players who were here some years ago and left a very favorable impression. This fine, well-known ensemble performs constantly in Vancouver and on CBC radio.

A new departure is offered for this final evening. For new members taking tickets for next season, free admittance will be given on April 9 to introduce the fine programs offered by the Overture Concert Association.

The campaign for 1965-66 will be held from April 30 to May 6. Membership was up last year and it is hoped that many new members will be welcomed for the coming season. More details on the campaign will be given later.

Some excellent programs are being offered for next year. The first, definitely settled, is Duo 66, a vocal ensemble with Sylvia Grant, an exciting young soprano and Alexander Gray, baritone, who will be pleasantly remembered by all who saw the Canadian Opera Company in "Die Fledermaus" in Penticton recently in which he sang the title role. He has a fine voice, is splendidly trained, as are all singers in the Canadian Opera Company to which these young singers belong, and he is an outstanding actor. This program will have dramatic presentations in costume from some of the operas and will be looked forward to by all.

Still to be selected from several artists for two more Summerland concerts is Claudia Lindsey, an arresting new find with a lovely mezzo-soprano voice; Yoichi Hiraoka, a miraculous xylophone player; Phillip Hanson, the one man adventure in theatre playing the "Christmas Carol" in November or December; or Howard and Patricia Barr, duo-pianists with special stage personality. Two programs will be chosen from among these artists.

Please remember that your Summerland membership entitles you to three Summerland concerts, four Kelowna concerts and three Oliver concerts, all for the one price, a bargain in the best in music and entertainment, for the winter months. Another attraction, price-wise, is the special family rate.

Sewage system soon

The "soon" in the above headline does not mean "immediately" of course. The term "soon" in civic affairs, and planning, can mean anything from five to ten years.

And that's why council's action last week to start a survey for a sewer system, as recommended by Councilor W. S. Ritchie, is a good one. Already, there are more than a few signs, and one or two places, where a central sewage disposal system would be beneficial. This need is not now critical, but in a few years it could become so.

But the need for planning is urgent. We need to know sufficiently well in advance of construction what we need, what it will cost, what areas must be served soonest, and how far to extend the system in the foreseeable future.

Student demonstrations

The demonstrations carried out by students in Toronto are giving Canada a bad name all over the world. They are accomplishing absolutely nothing and are providing Communism with fodder. But worst of all they are creating an illusion in the United States that Canadians are Negro sympathizers. Many people now travelling south are being confronted with this very question.

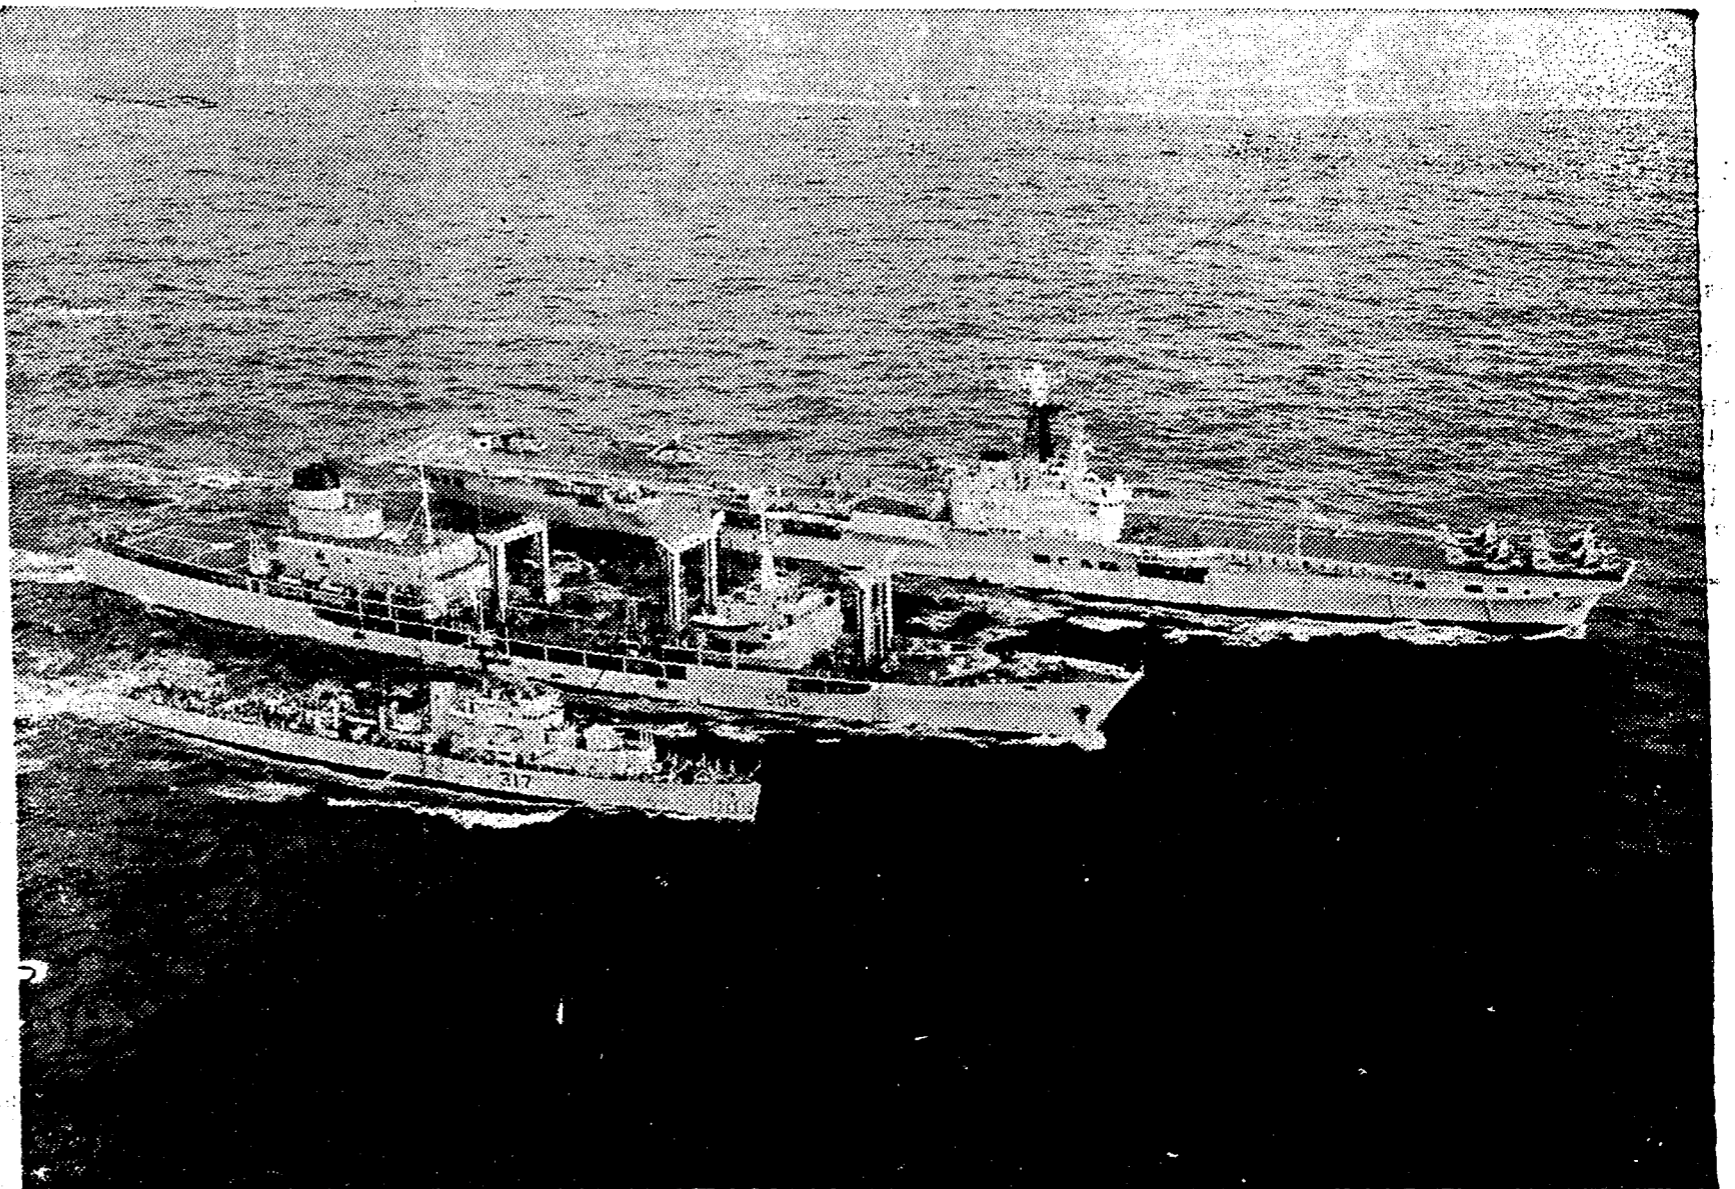

There is no question that the majority of Canadians resent brutality of any kind and are generally sympathetic to the Negroes, but it is also a fact that most Canadians don't know the first thing about the Negro problem in the United States. And furthermore, when our own country disbars black people, it would seem to us that the least we can do is to keep our mouth shut.

The youth of today have far too much to say, and it pains us greatly to see half-educated university students, suddenly finding answers to all our world problems. Never in history has a world society needed tolerance more than it does today. Here we are, in our part of the world, with the highest standard of living in history, with plenty of security, lots of room, telling less fortunate people how to live. Through our world help programs we can and are doing quite a bit to help those less fortunate, but only as long as it isn't affecting our standard of living.

We have often been critical of the United States, and many of the situations they now find themselves in could have been avoided with a little foresight. But the one thing we shouldn't do is try and tell the United States how to solve any internal problem. The negro problem is so complex, and involved, that it will be many years before it can be solved, if it ever is.

In the meantime, we feel the police in Toronto should disperse student demonstrations and we don't particularly care how they do it, if they are creating a disturbance.

The operational support ship, HMCS Provider, has her work cut out for her when she takes part in giant naval and air exercises such as Exercise Maple-spring in the Caribbean. Flanked by the ocean escort HMCS Cap de la Madeleine (317) and the aircraft carrier HMCS Bonaventure, the Provider pumps fuel into one as she passes lines to the other. The operational support ship is equipped with facilities for furnishing mobile support which enables units of the fleet to operate for extended periods at sea. She can pump fuel oil to other ships and transfer heavy stores while steaming at speeds in excess of 18 knots. The winches controlling the lines between the ships are self-tensioning.

Parable of the two sons

by Rev. M. Schultz

John A. Morrison, president-emeritus of Anderson College, occasionally takes to writing parables. The following is an abbreviation of one of his parables called "the parable of the two sons".

And it came to pass that a certain mother had twin boys. As these two sons grew out of infancy into childhood they looked so much alike that they were known as identical twins. They were the same weight and the same height. Their hair was the same color and their eyes and even their voices were the same.

Now it came to pass that as the two sons approached high school age they grew far apart in disposition and bent of mind. One had a high IQ and sailed through high school and college with notably high academic standards. Then he did graduate work in a great university from which he earned a doctorate in some branch of science. But he was a cynic in depth. He had no faith in God and very little in man. He knew very little about true love, respect or joy. He was stone blind to the glory of spring flowers and rippling brooks. He regarded all life as utterly without purpose, like a story mouthed by the stupid.

Now it came to pass that his brother went along another road. His IQ was much lower than his brother's. No college would take him in. But he knew how to love life. He believed in God and that God cared for people. He believed in people and in their essential goodness. He loved his neighbours and they returned his love. He married a humble country girl whom he greatly loved. His days were filled with simple, holy joy that spread as fragrance around the countryside as real as that of apple blossoms.

Verily, I say unto you that an ignoramus who is happy is more fortunate than a genius who is miserable.

SUGAR AND SPICE

by Bill Smiley

Don't Knock The Teens

A columnist on a big city daily recently fired a salvo at high school students. The intrepid journalist gave them both barrels, with no holds barred, as an Irishman might put it.

He had been speaking to groups of high school students from middle and upper-income homes. He took a very dim view of the kids, suggesting that: they haven't learned manners, have no sense of adventure, are terribly sheltered, terribly staid, terribly sad, and empty.

I'm sorry he received this impression of today's youth. It is not at all the one I have received in five years as a high school teacher, and several years as a parent of teenagers.

In the same column, he managed to convey the idea that he was none of those things of which he accused the students, that he was, in fact, a hell of a fella who had lived life to the full.

Let's face the charges, one by one. Bad manners. My personal experience is that their manners, on the whole, are better than those of their parents. They can be cruel, when they are thoughtless, but generally, they are more sensitive to the feelings of others than are adults.

No sense of adventure? He's all wet. One of my students headed across the continent on a bicycle. Others plan to go to Africa or Asia for the Peace Corps. Another swiped his old man's car, picked up two side-kicks, and took off for Mexico. My own son ran away last summer and hitch-hiked to Quebec, after I'd expressly forbidden such a jaunt.

From every direction come walls of alarm that students will try anything: hot cars, drinks, drugs, sex. And this man says they're no sense of adventure! What they have is too much of it.

Terribly sheltered, he says. Nonsense. We try to shelter them from the sordid, the harmful, the evil, as we see them. But the only teenager who is sheltered in this age is a kid who lives in a trapper's shack in the wilderness with two maiden aunts, and is kept chained to his bed until he's 20. They're a lot less sheltered than I was at that age, and a lot better able to cope with reality, as a result.

Terribly staid, he says. Poppycock. They're conformists, I'll admit, as far as fads and fashions go. But I scarcely think I'd call those writhing, screaming masses at a Beatle show staid. They're almost as unstaid as their old ladies were, swooning over Sinatra. Or their grannies, wilting over Bing Crosby.

Terribly sad, he says. Ballyne. Admitted, they can be deeply touched, because the hearts are not yet hardened. They can be terribly sad, sometimes. But they can be wildly exultant, too. How long is it since you've been truly joyful, Jack? The kids are much more human, emotionally, than adults, because they have not learned those grown-up horrors: the control, the stiff upper lip, the smothering of the flame.

And he claims they are empty. Empty of what? Dishonesty, greed, self-delusion, cruelty, selfishness, ruthlessness? I'm afraid he's right. But they are full of a lot of things that have pretty well gone out of style with adults: pity, love, joy, fear, unselfishness, honesty, idealism, loyalty.

Don't worry, I'm not soft on teenagers. I have two of my own, and sometimes they drive me right up the wall, across the ceiling, and down the other side. I teach about 140 of them daily, and there are days when I could go into class with a tommy gun and mow them all down. But they're people. And if I have to associate with people, I think I'd as soon associate with them as with any other class of the species.

The local Guide Association held its annual Daffodil Tea on Saturday afternoon in the IOOF Hall. Mrs B. A. Brandon and Mrs W. R. Chalmers convened the very successful tea.

Ranger Captain Mrs S. Fenwick and her capable Rangers decorated the hall with profusions of daffodils and set up the games for youngsters to enjoy.

Mrs W. Burne supervised the tea tables. Guides served and helped with the selling of baking which the Guide and Brownie mothers so lavishly provided. Mrs W. Tavender was in charge of baked goods and Mrs W. Marles and Mrs H. Killick assisted.

Mrs J. May was in charge of the candy table assisted by Mrs G. Wardle and Mrs K. Hickson and Brownie members.

The white elephant table was taken over by Mrs F. Gale with Brownie helpers.

Mrs J. Dunn headed the kitchen helpers who were Mrs J.

Hack, Mrs E. Inglis, Mrs W. Walker, Mrs W. Impett, Mrs A. Simpson and Mrs N. Wrest.

The first door prize of a beautifully carved gnome donated by W. LaPlante was won by Mrs Alex Smith. Second prize of assorted syrups donated by Summerland Sweets went to Mrs L. McKilligan.

Brownies from the first, second and third packs entertained during the afternoon with singing.

Family Crusade at Pentecostal Church

Rev and Mrs Alex J. Rasmussen of Vancouver will present a Family Crusade at the Summerland Pentecostal Church next week, April 5-9. These youth services are to be held nightly from 7 to 8:30 p.m.

The Rasmussens have been active in youth services at churches and camp meetings throughout Canada and the United States.

A special piece of equipment to be used during the crusade will be the 6 foot Bible Illustration.

trator. There will be chemical and magic Bible sermons, puppets, mechanical object talks, film strips, sword drills, Bible Bee's, cartoon work and Tick-Tack Toe contests.

On Friday evening, April 9 there will be the crowning of a king and queen. Gifts will be given away for the highest points earned during the week.

All youth throughout the community are welcome to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rothwell have returned from a five month holiday in southern California.

George Fudge and Warren Palmer of Penticon have left for a 10 day holiday at Los Vegas.

Bake sale Saturday

by Ron Kostelniuk

On Saturday night a joint Summerland-Penticon teen-town dance was held in Penticon with music provided by the Strangers. The turnout for the dance was good.

This Saturday Teen-Town will be featuring a car wash, bake sale and dance. Proceeds will help pay for the NOTA-SOTA conference to be held in Kelowna April 21-23. The car wash will be from 9 to 6 p.m. at the school grounds, with the charge $1 for cars and 50c for Hondas. The bake sale will be held all day in Holmes & Wnde Hardware. Dance will be from 9 to 12 in the Yacht Club with music by the Impacts from Penticon. Dress is casual and admittance 75c single and $1.25 couple.

A SOTA sports day is being planned for a future date in May

DEAR DORIS advice from Doris Clark

On Dating A 'Car'

DEAR DORIS - My problem is that I have never been on a real date with a boy. I am 16. I have had quite a few boy friends but none with cars.

What is the matter? In my opinion I am just as nice, and I don't act half as bad as my friends. They all get good boy friends, but mine all look like young kids not yet out of their diapers.

No Dates

DEAR NO - Do you want a boy or a car ride? When you can begin seeing boys as people who need friendship, whether or not they have a car, you'll be on the right track.

DEAR DORIS - A girl married in good faith, only to have a girl come to the door a month later announcing she was the wife of the girl's husband. He owned up. She was telling the truth, so they separated, but in the meantime naturally, she had her name changed at work, at the bank, apartment lease, on insurance and other papers.

She finds it hard to tell her employers all that happened, so she has just gone on using her married name. What should she do about it? Can she legally use this name? She doesn't intend to bring any charges; she just wants to be absolutely rid of him.

Stumped

DEAR STUMPED - She has no legal right to this name and should get rid of it with its owner.

It's a seven days' wonder. She must take herself in hand, talk personally with the boss about what happened, explain the situation to her close friends, and boldly take up life again where she left off. Giving her right name!

DEAR DORIS - When we have company and there is an awkward silence in the conversation, I try to fill in. But my mother resents this and my father seems to think I am just being stupid. I am 20.

I have had some sickness before in a mental hospital. Yet

I'm well enough to work. It seems my mother is always trying to belittle me, and no matter how hard I try this still happens.

Discouraged

DEAR DISCOURAGED - Sometimes parents think they have to be protective about a family member who has been in a mental hospital. If this goes too far it hinders, rather than helps.

And it's not just those who have been ill who need encouragement to talk. Belittling any person tends to make him give up even trying, after a while.

Since you are now recovered and working, your best plan is to get things to do outside your home. Practise conversing and sharing the activities of a community club or Y.W. group. I'm sending you my leaflet "Tips on Talking" which can help. (Available to other readers for ten cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

DEAR DORIS - I consider myself fortunate to have a wonderful husband and three fine children but do have a yearning to develop the part of me I left behind at school. Not that I have any intention of making my family second to any other interest now, but rather to develop something that would fill my life when necessary.

I love to learn for learning's sake, but am especially interested in a course that would lead to a degree and eventually a job if I should ever need one.

Mother Of Three

DEAR MOTHER - No one apologizes these days for seeking knowledge. You can help, not hinder, your family, by broadening your horizons.

Write to: (1) your nearest university, for their calendar of correspondence and extension courses; (2) the board of education in your city, for the same; and (3) your government headquarters for leaflets about adult education, vocational training and opportunities.

We're Celebrating Our

50th Anniversary

The oldest retail food chain in British Columbia is celebrating its Golden Anniversary this year — 50 years of growing with B.C. and building an enviable reputation for quality and service.

A unique organization, Overwaitea Foods Ltd., today is the only 100 percent employee-owned and operated chain of food markets in British Columbia. Its 47 stores are located in every major area of the province outside the metropolitan areas of Vancouver and Victoria and its name is one of the better known to Mrs. Housewife.

But the Overwaitea firm of today is a far cry from its beginning in 1915.

It had its humble start in a small store on Columbia Street in New Westminster. The founder, the late R. C. Kidd, was a big, six foot three Irishman whose dry humor and quick repartee often drew more customers than did his small tea and coffee business.

It is said that often on a Saturday night in those early days the shop was filled to overflowing by people who came to listen to the fast-moving talk between Mr. Kidd and any customer who ventured an opinion.

The founder was an astute businessman with many unconventional ideas for his day. He believed firmly in word of mouth advertising, in selling only top quality merchandise and in penny-pricing. His methods shocked his competitors but they soon proved sound and most are in universal use today.

Take his tea packing for instance. He packed 18 ounces of tea in a one pound package to ensure customers full-measure. It also ensured word-of-mouth advertising would bring more customers to the shop that sold "Overweight Tea". And it was from this early practice that the firm derived its present name.

Where quality was concerned Mr. Kidd was adamant. He refused to allow smoking in his shop because it might contaminate the tea and butter he sold and went so far as to tell customers to leave if they did smoke. The word soon spread that when he said he sold top quality items, he really meant it.

But it was his penny-pricing that scandalized the business. He could see no justification for the then current method of rounding out prices to the nearest nickel and firmly believed that where a product could be sold for 17 cents instead of 20 the customer should be the one to benefit. Of course, this practice is one of the basics of Overwaitea operation today.

In 1918 Mr. Kidd opened his first branch store in Nanaimo. At that time he envisaged a chain spreading throughout all British Columbia but at the same time realized that he would have to rely greatly on his managers.

The stores followed one by one over the years until today they are located at Courtenay, West Campbell River, Parksville, Port Alberni, Terminal Park, Nanaimo, Chemainus, Duncan, Ladysmith, Lake Cowichan;

Hope, Chilliwack, Abbotsford, Mission, Haney, Langley, Cloverdale, Ladner, Squamish, Cranberry Lake, Powell River, Oliver, Summerland, Princeton, Merritt, Salmon Arm; Kamloops, Terrace, Fort St. John; Williams Lake, 100 Mile House, Quesnel, Kimberley, Cranbrook, Creston, Nelson, Nakusp, Kaslo, Salmo; Trail; Grand Forks, McBride, Prince George, Sprucedale, Dawson Creek and Prince Rupert.

In the past 12 years alone Overwaitea has built or opened 32 markets and made additions or renovations to 23 others — some of which had only recently been built but had outgrown their premises. Hopes are high, too, that the chain's 50th store will be open by the end of this anniversary year.

The head office, located with the main warehouse in the Lake City Industrial Estate in Burnaby, is in the centre of supply of the Lower Mainland. From this nerve centre branch stores are kept supplied with the finest quality items available whether grocery, produce or meat.

Development of Overwaitea lies in the hands of its 525 employees. They hold all the common stock, and the harder they work the more the Company grows and the more they share in profits. The dividend on Overwaitea shares has never been less than 8 percent, even in the depression years. Annual payroll is $2 million.

This is a direct outgrowth of the founder's belief that employees should share in the profits of the firm they helped to build. In the 1930's he changed the Company's financial set-up so that his family had a fixed interest in the form of preferred shares, the amount representing the capital the family had put into the business. The common shares were earmarked for employees thus giving them control of the operation and growth.

Successful as Overwaitea has been, it is not content to rest on its laurels. A constant watch is kept on the big developments taking place in British Columbia and one thing is certain — as soon as the opportunity presents itself, an Overwaitea store will be handy to provide the same kind of quality and service at the lowest possible prices that have been the chain's trade mark for fifty years.

NEW HOUSE DESIGN — The bungalow is Canada's most popular house type. Traditionally, it provided for living on one floor with a basement that could be used for storage, workshop, laundry and heating plant space. Recreation or rumpus rooms introduced new uses for basement space and this led to the development of the "split-level entrance" house.

Basically the split-level entrance house is the well known bungalow with the main floor aisead a few feet to provide more headroom in the basement area and greater window space for ventilation and natural lighting. The old basement stairway is replaced by a main entrance arrangement of stairs that lead up to the main floor and down to the lower level.

Architect K. Briestensky of Guelph, Ontario designed this unusual two-level house which features an inviting sun porch off the living room.

This house not only has an interesting elevation but a practical layout. The use of space has been well organized allowing for two bedrooms on each level. The split level entrance provides easy access to both floors and because it is centrally located it allows an easy approach to every room in the house. Every inch of space is well used as evidenced by the convenient arrangement of the closets in each bedroom and the orderly arrangement of the kitchen and dining room. A good sized family room should be of particular interest for the large family. For best siting the front door should face east.

The floor area is 1,190 square feet and the exterior dimensions are 25 feet four inches by 37 feet two inches. Working drawings for this house, known as Design 814, can be obtained from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost.

Senior curlers take part in provincial finals

The Summerland Senior Men's Curling Club has completed its most successful season to date with eight rinks competing. With the growing enthusiasm in this afternoon play, the club increases each year, and hopes to have nine rinks next season.

In the final playoff, the Hallquist Trophy was won by the Del Carter rink with Hans Hanson, D. Rutherford and Walter Shaw.

After the closing games, a small gift was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Eden in recognition of their competent work and help at the rink.

At the annual B.C. Senior Bonspiel held in Kelowna, four rinks from Summerland took part along with 28 others from all over the province. Local rinks were skipped by G. Paterson, Del Carter, A. Etter and Herb Lemke.

The Kenyon Trophy was taken by the Morrow rink from Salmon Arm with Lemke the runner-up with five wins to one loss.

The Paterson rink of Ken Cameron, Walt Shaw and Wm. Ward, was the senior rink with a total age of 295 years.

A closing banquet was held on March 17 in true Irish style, featuring Irish stew. At the annual meeting which followed, it was decided to hold next year's provincial final at Keowna.

Gavin Paterson was elected as director for this district.

Services for Mrs. Z. Dempster

Mrs. Zena Dempster passed away in Summerland hospital on Thursday, March 25 at the age of 76 years.

Born in Purdy, Missouri, she has been a resident of Summerland for the past 20 years.

She is survived by one son, Troy Lane, LaHabra, California; 4 grandchildren, two brothers, Troy Anderson, Arkansas; Otis Anderson, Iylahoma. Her husband, Henry, predeceased her in 1963.

Funeral services were conducted from St. Stephen's Anglican Church, Monday, March 29 at 2 p.m. with Rev. Norman Tannar officiating. Interment family plot in Peach Orchard Cemetery.

Wright's Funeral Home entrusted with arrangements.

IMPEESA IMPS FROM TROUT CREEK

A new item has been added to the program with a view of providing training towards the Observation-test and badges. Each Six is given an object from nature. During inspection each boy will be asked a question about it and if he can give the correct answer he earns a point for his Six in the monthly competition.

Rodney Hickson was invested at the March 26 meeting. Alan Fisher received the new Swimmer's Badge (green stage), Eric Munn was awarded the House Orderly, Homecraft and Guide Badges.

During the meeting, the Pack had a traffic safety test based on the talk by the RCMP in Penticton the previous week. The test will be completed next week. This is required for both 1st and 2nd Stages.

In the monthly competition the Yellow and Black Sixes were tied, but the badge earned by Eric Munn put the Yellows out in front.

The neckerchiefs will be presented next week to the invested boys who do not have them. For those who have not paid the price is 85c. I will do my best to remember them next meeting.

Bridge Problem No. 3

This is the third in a series of bridge problems prepared by members of the South Okanagan Contract Bridge Club. Readers are invited to write the club, c/o The Review, for answers to their bridge problems or explanations of bridge hands.

1 Club	1 Heart	3 Diamonds	Pass
4 Clubs	Pass	4 Spades	Pass
4 No Trump	Pass	5 Diamonds	Pass
6 Diamonds	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening Lead: 7 Hearts.

This hand was played at the club Monday, March 22. Three of seven North-South teams bid and made this hand, one stopped at 5 Spades and made 6; and two bid 3NT, making 6. Six Diamonds is the only safe bid as 6NT can be set one if proper leads and defence are used.

Bidding:

North opened 1 Club (short club bid). East with 6 Hearts to King, Jack and weak hand threw in a 1 Heart bid, hoping to find partner with a fair hand. South with 5 Diamonds and 15 HCP's and single Heart bid 3 Diamonds, showing a good opening bid with 15 HCP's and A-Q-8-2 of partner's suit knew game should be there and possible slam, so using Gerber called 4 Clubs for Aces. South answered 4 Spades (2 Aces), North called 4 NT (for Kings), South answered 5 Diamonds (1 King); North looking at his hand knew they controlled Clubs, had two stoppers in Spades and Ace of Hearts, so bid 6 Diamonds.

Play:

West opened with 7 Hearts, taken by dummy's Ace, East signalled with 10 Hearts. Ten Clubs was led to South's Ace, Jack of Diamonds finessed and losing to King in East hand, East led his King of Hearts, ruffed in South's hand. South led 4 Diamonds, playing Ace in Dummy clearing trump from East and West led 9 Hearts forcing East to cover with Jack and ruffed in closed hand. He then led K-Q-9 of Clubs as the Jack fell to his King, discarding 6-4 of Spades and Queen of Hearts, thus insuring his contract without having to resort to a Spade finesse which always has a 50 per cent chance of failure. He could also have led his Queen of Hearts, discarding a Spade on it, but the other plan would work no matter what East led at trick four.

SCHOOL NEWS

by Ron Kostelniuk
At Kelowna

On Wednesday, the rugger teams boarded the Kelowna bound bus at 2:30 p.m. The juniors tied their second straight while the Seniors lost their second straight.

At Oliver

A cool, windy day was the condition in which two shutouts were recorded. The Juniors continued their unbeaten streak at three games, shutting out Oliver 10-0. Bill Fitzpatrick, playing with a bad foot, scored a try and Ron Mayne, a convert, in the first quarter to make the score 5-0 and in the fourth quarter Fitzpatrick with a try, and Mayne, with a convert completed the Summerland scoring. The boys played well and deserved the win. No notable injuries were reported.

The Seniors played their best game of the season but came out of the game 21-0 losers. The game marked the return of Dennis Dean to the lineup for the first time this season, but he hurt his bad ankle as soon as he got in. Ken Buchkowski was playing with a bad shoulder and Leo Bonthoux was shaken up and had to be removed from the game leaving Summerland with a one man handicap.

Next action will be Saturday when the teams travel to Penticton. Next home game will be April 10 when Oliver comes to play. The boys would appreciate it if the town residents would come out and encourage them on to winning. Home games are played in the ball park. Admission price is a good loud voice to lead our boys on to victory.

Under the Giant's Head

Members of the Rotary Club assisted by Teen Town members, canvassed for the annual Canadian Red Cross appeal on Thursday evening.

Campaign chairman Jim Green said that the response by the citizens of the community had been very gratifying, and a substantial total was raised.

Further donations may be left with Green's Drug Store, Holmes & Wade or Family Shoe Store.

Three building permits for $15,500 and 13 alteration permits for $8,250 were issued in March, according to building inspector John Khalembach. One new commercial permit for $12,000 was issued. Total value of permits issued in March was $35,750, down from the 12 permits issued in March 1964 for $52,605.

Total permits for the first three months of this year is 27 for $67,700, compared with 20 for $77,755 in the same period last year.

One moving permit was issued in the month of March.

Alec Turner was named New Democratic candidate for the Okanagan-Boundary riding at the nominating convention of the party held in Penticton last Friday.

Dr. James Marshall, guest speaker at the Chamber of Commerce's annual meeting Thursday, gave the point of view he thought Churchill would have expressed on bilingualism and biculturalism.

Weather sets two records

March set two weather records at the research station. A 49-year low of .04 inches of precipitation was recorded. Previous low was .07 inches set in 1923.

Number of hours of sunshine also set a record with 215.3 hours. Previous high was 189.8 hours in 1941.

During the past week we had 25 inches of rain and 40.2 hours of sunshine.

New location for liquor store

The new government liquor store opened on Monday. Situated just across the road and a few doors down from the old premises, the new building was built this winter.

The store is much larger than the former building and is attractively appointed inside. The exterior is painted a dark green color.

Manager of the store is Fred Mallett with assistant Steve Dunsdon.

NATIONAL WILDLIFE WEEK

Stop water pollution!

National Wildlife Week is an annual observance declared by an Act of the Parliament of Canada in 1947.

This province is blessed with an abundant supply of clean, fresh water, but in recent weeks controversy has ranged over the problem of suspected contamination of certain oyster beds on the east coast of Vancouver Island. These are several contributing factors that are too lengthy to describe in detail but they may be grouped together and classed under the heading of pollution.

Using our water resource as a septic tank has long been accepted as adequate means for disposal of human and industrial waste. Fortunately, in the light of recent publicity, this practice is being questioned by many thinking people. In the past, small groups of dedicated persons have attempted to air the problem, but at best it can be described as a political hot potato, and therefore something that our worthy members of the legislative assembly prefer to keep buried. In our own small community we sometimes fail to realize the impact of industrial development and burgeoning populations upon our fresh water supplies.

Figures reported last week regarding the cost of sending a student to a regional college should have read $200 a year for tuition plus a dollar a day for transportation, not $700. This figure is the total price for a student boarding in Kelowna.

Vote Sat. on plebiscite

Voters in School District No. 77 (Summerland) along with nine other school districts, will go to the polls on Saturday, April 10, to vote on whether they wish to participate in a regional college for the Okanagan.

Voting will take place in the municipal office from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Water colors on display

A very colorful, and well-chosen showing of art is on display at the regional library, the work of well-known artist and teacher, Marion A. Morham (Mrs. Grigsby) of Winfield. The beautiful water-colors show a great sense of design and lovely color combinations.

Mrs. Grigsby studied art for seven years in London, England, and graduated with a teaching diploma from the University of London. She has exhibited in London, Newcastle-on-Tyne, Toronto, Montreal and Vancouver. Her work was included in "Tribute to Leningrad" in 1944 when Canadian paintings were sent to Russia.

A very versatile artist, her work in illuminating the Book of Remembrance for the West Vancouver War Memorial is on view in the memorial section of West Vancouver library. As a teacher of art to children, she has kept very busy, being connected with the children's Saturday morning classes at the Vancouver Art Gallery for 10 years, and director of classes for five years. Now working in adult education in the Okanagan Valley, she has held classes in all centres from Summerland to Salmon Arm. Still teaching, she is presently engaged in portrait work.

Police Court

At 2:30 p.m. on April 2, a car driven by Dr. D. V. Fisher was sideswiped by a semi-trailer driven by Bernard LaRiviere of Richmond. Damage to the Fisher vehicle amounted to $200. Both vehicles were travelling south at Trout Creek. Dr. Fisher signalled for a left hand turn, and the driver of the truck attempted to pass on the shoulder of the road. LaRiviere has been charged with unsafe passing. There were no injuries.

On April 4 a car driven by Edward Mamuro Maka was approaching a yellow car near the Lutheran Church on Highway 97 when a deer attempted to cross the road. Maka struck the deer and killed it. Damage to his car amounted to $900. There were no injuries.

Appearing in Summerland police court on April 3, Patrick Walter Stevenson of Kelowna was fined $25 and costs for speeding in a 40 mile an hour zone near Peachland.

For speeding in the Trepanier area, Albert William Anderson paid a fine of $25 and costs on April 4.

Walter Formey was fined $25 and costs for speeding on Highway 97 near Greta Ranch.

Improved beach planned at Peach Orchard Park

Council will call for bids from Summerland's three major trucking firms to haul 7,500 yards of fill into the Peach Orchard beach area. This land is being expanded to create more beach for holidayers staying at the Peach Orchard Park. As well as the fill, parks board chairman councillor W. S. Ritchie indicated that his department is also planning to build modern toilet facilities in the area.

Summerland's outdoor privy situation got another hard look by council at this week's meeting. A bylaw, still in the draft stage, was studied. It indicated that privies will only be allowed in GI agricultural areas, thus maintaining this type of accommodation available for pickers' cabins.

PLENTY OF DAM WATER

According to a report from works superintendent Ken Blagborne, Summerland will start the spring work season with plenty of water. He said that the dams which are not full are likely to fill very soon. Snow in the hills is well down though over last year, he reported.

OLD GOLF COURSE

Councillor Jim Schaeffer noted that the former club house on the old golf course is in hazardous shape and asked council to consider razing it. It was decided to ask the fire brigade to burn it down during a practice.

PARKDALE PLACE

The assistant matron at Parkdale Place has resigned and council was notified that the job will be open for applications.

KIWANIS PLANTING TREES

The Kiwanis Club will purchase 50 trees, possibly to be planted in the memorial park, to commemorate their organization's 50th anniversary. Councillor Ritchie reported.

ZONING CHANGES

A letter from BCFG, president Charles Bernhardt laid out that organization's thoughts on zoning changes they had previously recommended to council.

The group indicated their concern over orchard land being cut up into parcels too small to be included in a profitable operation. The letter asked council to reconsider present regulations which ask for a two acre house lot when an orchard parcel is being divided.

A copy of the letter will be sent to John Northey, South Okanagan Regional Planning Board and to the local advisory planning commission for further study.

Final readings were given two bylaws covering the relocation of the bus stand to the south side of Williams Street and the rezoning of the property on which the new hospital will be built.

Council will investigate the sports car races being held on the old golf course. This property has been leased by council to Emil Bonthoux for grazing land, and he complained that the turf was damaged.

ATTENDS FIRE COURSE

Fire chief Joe McLachlan will attend an orientation course in Vancouver on April 28-30.

UNSIGHTLY SIGNS

A request was received from R. G. Cuthbert asking that the advertising signs on the lake side of the road across from their property be relocated or removed.

SPRING LEAGUE STARTS

Stringalongs win bowling title

In the playoffs held last week in the Mixed Bowling League, the Stringalongs took the trophy in A division, in B division the top honors went to Bud's Garage, and the C division trophy was won by the Weavers.

A six game playoff was held on Monday and Tuesday evening this week with the three top winners competing for the grand championship of the league. The Stringalongs came through with a total of 5423 pins to take first place followed by Bud's Garage with 2596 and the Weavers with 5261.

A spring league will get under way next week. Teams in this league will be made up of two men and two women.

WCTU CONVENTION TOLD

Parental example prime control factor

The 55th district convention for the Kamloops-Okanagan area of the Women's Christian Temperance Union was held on April 8 in the Summerland Baptist Church.

Greetings were brought to the convention by Councillor H. J. Barkwill in the absence of Reeve Norman Holmes.

Rev. F. W. Haskins delivered the devotional message, saying: "Let's praise God. We are dealing with a subtle enemy. The WCTU is like a big lever, removing the stones out of the way, in order to help young people find and know the facts about alcohol and drugs."

Reports were received from all local unions, each reporting an active year. Main project for the year was raising money for a new car for the field secretary.

Probation officer Todd Lee told the group that in his work, he had found that a lot of the trouble young people do get into, is the result of drinking. Damage to material things as the result of drinking, he said, is incidental to the damage done to the personality of the one involved. He stressed the need of setting a good example before children, standing firm for total abstinence as the best policy.

Provincial president Mrs. B. R. Barnes presented three members with gold star pins, in recognition of their efforts in getting new members during the year. Awarded the pins were Mrs. Howard DeWitt of Summerland, Mrs. F. McKenzie of Vernon, and Mrs. R. Smith of Kelowna.

Resolutions discussed dealt mainly with advertising of both liquor and cigarettes, especially those packages using prizes to attract customers.

At the evening program, open to the public, the provincial president presented district president Mrs. Reeves with a life membership pin.

Members of the Anglican Junior choir, under Mrs. A. W. Watt, sang for the group. They were accompanied by the piano by Mrs. Roy Mead. The piano duet by Rosemary Munn and Mary Foster was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Barnes addressed the meeting on the health of the nation, basing her talk on Isa. 9:12. For every $1 taken in by the government in liquor taxes, she said, $4 must be spent to take care of the results of liquor.

Executive elected for the coming year were: president, Mrs. J. W. Reeves, Kamloops; 1st vice president, Mrs. R. Smith, Kelowna; 2nd vice president, Mrs. R. Woodrow, Kamloops; corresponding secretary, Mrs. G. Wray, Summerland; recording secretary Mrs. H. DeWitt, Summerland; treasurer, Miss E. Prior, Kelowna.

Ode to the Okanagan

Oh! dear little town of Summerland,
We that live here think you're grand.
It's a busy place in a busy season,
Canneries and packing houses is the reason.
Penticton is about ten miles south,
With a lake and beaches at both ends,
Shops and stores — there's always action,
Really a great tourist attraction.
Trout Creek is a lovely flat land
Ending in beaches and lots of sand.
We then drive up the hill from there,
And find ourselves without a care.
Our throats swell up with an exclamation,
This is the beautiful Experimental Station.
North from here the highway graces,
Picnic spots and camping spaces.
Peachland too is a travellers' delight
With its quiet beaches and so sunny and bright.
The entrance to Kelowna is simply grand,
The most beautiful in all the land.
If you write — you might get a data
Of the home of the Ogopogo and Kelowna Regatta.
Then comes Winfield, Vernon and Salmon Arm,
Each with their beauty and their charm.
You're back to the Number 1 Highway and the Train,
Promising you'll soon be back again.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS on Okanagan Regional College

Q. What is the difference between capital and operating costs? Who pays these costs?

A. Costs can be divided into two main areas: capital costs and operating costs. Legislation and the agreement between the co-operating school boards spells out the basic for the sharing of these costs.

Capital costs are the costs of buildings and equipment. These costs will be shared by the provincial government and the local taxpayer on a 50-50 basis, after any grants from the federal government will share substantially in the cost of building and equipping that portion of the college devoted to technical-vocational education. Under the terms of a dominion-provincial agreement, the federal government will pay 75 percent of the cost of approved facilities. This could reduce the cost to local taxpayers substantially.

Capital funds to be supplied by the provincial government and local taxpayers will be raised in the same manner as for regular school purposes, that is, by the sale of debentures. These debentures will be retired over a 20 year period. The local school boards will include appropriate amounts in the annual school levies for their share.

Costs of operating the college will be shared on the same basis 50-50 formula. Again, these costs may be reduced by federal contributions. There are two possible sources of federal income. First, it is expected that a portion of the federal per capita grants to the provinces on behalf of post secondary students will be available to the college. Secondly, federal funds are available for operating technical-vocational programs under a number of formulas mutually agreed to by the provincial and federal governments. It is fully expected that the technical-vocational programs offered by the college will qualify for such funds.

The legislation provides that fees charged to students will be credited against the local share of operating costs. Considering all these factors it is quite probable that the local taxpayers' share of operating costs will be less than 1/4 of the cost.

Spring setting for March ceremony

Darlene Faye Shannon became the bride of Richard James Crawford in a spring ceremony in the Summerland United Church on March 20. Rev. P. K. Louie officiated at the 5:30 p.m. ceremony in the church which was decorated with lighted tapers, colorful daffodils and red carnations.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Shannon of Summerland, and the groom is the son of Mr and Mrs James D. Crawford of Penticton.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in a formal length gown of terylene taffeta with a fitted bodice and lily-point sleeves of Chantilly lace. The scoop neckline was accented with a single strand of cultured pearls, a gift of the groom. The high Empire waistline was outlined with seed pearls and accented at the back with a large self-fabric bow. The softly pleated skirt extended to a chapel train. Her chapel veil of silk illusion mistle from a crown-like headdress of matching fabric and was trimmed with tiny seed pearls. She carried a cascading bouquet of red rosebuds and white freesia intertwined with white tulle.

The three senior attendants, Mrs. Patrick Garrett, Seattle, matron of honor; and bridesmaids, Miss Lynda Scott and Miss Marie Gove, both of Summerland, were identically gowned in formal length peacock peau de soie sheaths, with matching stoles lined with white satin. They wore matching wedding ring, headdresses, white shoes, and elbow length gloves, and carried bouquets of white carnations and yellow freesia.

The little flower girl, Corrine Elliason of Wetaskiwan, Alberta, wore a bouffant formal-length gown of daffodil yellow brocaded cotton. Her matching headdress was styled similarly to the other attendants, with wrist length gloves. She carried a posy of pink and yellow carnations.

Best man was Lawrence Patton and ushers were Brian Gardiner and Jim Manning, all of Penticton.

Ken Storey was at the church organ and Mrs. Bud Green sang The Wedding Prayer during the signing of the register.

At a reception held in the Summerland Yacht Club, the mother of the bride received the guests wearing a silk-crepe sheath in old rose, with an overblouse of imported lace en tone. Her accessories were in Panama beige and she wore a corsage of pink rosebuds, and deeper pink feathered carnations.

The mother of the groom wore a nylon ribbon-knit two-piece jacket dress of beige. A spring green flowered hat and matching gloves accented the ensemble and her corsage was fashioned of tangerine carnations and white roses.

The bride's table was covered with a heavy lace-bordered cloth and a square cloth edged in lace under the three tiered wedding cake. On either side of the cake were double candleabra holding lighted tapers. The background decorations formed a double arch centred with large white bells hanging from yellow streamers above the cake.

Guest tables were decorated with centrepieces fashioned like garden arches with miniature brides daintily curtseying beneath. Daffodils and spring flowers added to the garden scene. For a honeymoon trip to Reno, Nevada and Seattle the bride wore a two-piece textured wool suit in tan and brown, with a panama straw hat banded with chocolate brown ribbon. Her accessories were in chocolate brown and she wore a corsage of yellow roses with feathered tangerine carnations.

The young couple will make their home in Trout Creek. Many relatives and friends attended the wedding from Alberta, Vancouver Island, Vancouver, Kelowna and Penticton.

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY NEWS

At the Hospital Auxiliary meeting on Monday, over $850 was donated for purchases of new equipment for the hospital. Equipment includes a set of stainless steel equipment for each bed unit, and a stethoscope and otoscope for the nursery. A Balkan frame for broken bones will also be purchased.

Samples of puppets made by Auxiliary members for the children's ward were shown to the meeting.

A report from the Thrift Shop showed a profit of $348 during the month of March.

Comic books for the children's ward in the hospital are needed. Donations may be left at the hospital or by contacting any Auxiliary member.

A miscellaneous shower tea for Miss Judy McGillivray was held in the Pilgrim House in Penticton recently. Mrs. W. Setter, aunt of the bride, arranged the reception with 15 guests present.

The floral centrepiece on the tea table was flanked by ivory candles. The color decorations for the flowers was in the RCMP color theme with red carnations, yellow daffodils and blue primulas.

The table decorations were small figurines of a bride in white and a groom in the scarlet dress of the RCMP.

Miss McGillivray, daughter of Mr and Mrs Ed McGillivray, former residents of Summerland, will be married to Con. Michael Roth, RCMP, on Saturday, April 10 in Saskatoon. They will make their home in Mission.

SCHOOL NEWS

by Ron Kostelniuk
AT HOME
On March 31 the visiting Kelowna team split a rugged double header with Summerland. In the junior game, Bruce MacGregor scored a third quarter try and Ron Mayne added a convert to break up a 0-0 game and gave the locals a 5-0 win. It was a good game with Bill Fitzpatrick, the only minor casualty, shaken up slightly.

The seniors, playing better every day, lost 13-0. It was a way better effort than in their first meeting when they lost 23-0. The boys had two or three good chances of scoring but muffed all of them.

AT PENTICTON
In over 50-above weather in Penticton Saturday, the Summerland juniors knocked off the previously unbeaten Penticton squad by 6-3 and won the league championship. Garry Bullock scored a first quarter try to give Summerland a 3-0 lead and Bill Fitzpatrick scored a third quarter try to make the score 6-0 before Penticton got on the scoreboard.

Oliver juniors are unable to play against Summerland in the final junior game of the season. For this reason Summerland finishes on top of the league with an unbeaten record of three wins and two ties. They outscored their opponents 30-12 this season and a great deal of credit goes to coach Hamilton, and to all the boys for such a fine showing this season.

The seniors ended a four game losing streak as they battled Penticton to a 0-0 tie.

1st Summerland Troop

The first time this spring the troop had the first part of the meeting outside. The program was given to planning overnight patrol camps for the Easter holidays. Next week points will be awarded to each patrol on the basis for their written plans for patrol camps.

The recent Court of Honor meeting promoted PL Michael Inch of the Eagle patrol to Troop Leader and Jack Barkwill to patrol leader of the Eagles. It was also decided to attend the International Camporee at Loup Loup, Washington on May 22-24. An all-day Saturday meeting at Faulder will be held in May to plan for the camporee.

Patrol point standings are: Eagles 359, Beavers 339, Buffaloes 322 and Hawks 271. Duty patrol for April 12, Buffaloes.

No Fairy Godmothers Need Apply For Job

special dream — a place in the country, a trip back home, college for the boy. But, for many people it's just plain hopeless.

But there's no magic involved to make your particular dream come true. You don't need a fairy godmother to do it — just a little determination.

Simply plan to set aside part of your income in a Bank of Montreal savings account. Do it regularly, and watch the balance grow. Watch the B of M's three per cent interest help swell the amount too.

Regularity is the secret, as hundreds of thousands of the B of M's more than three million customers know. They save as much as they can spare each pay-day, and their dreams are turning into reality.

Ask Bob Evans, accountant at the Summerland branch of the Bank of Montreal about it. He'll show you how easy it is — and how profitable — to open a savings account. See him soon!

New Brownies enrolled

The Youth Centre was buzzing with activity on Friday afternoon as the meeting of the 2nd Summerland Brownie Pack got underway.
Six excited Tweenies awaited their turns to be enrolled into the Pack. Other Brownies prepared to take their parts in the activities and ceremonies.

Mothers of the Tweenies, as invited guests, were greeted by the hostess Brownies, Joy Chalmers and Judith Walker.

District Commissioner Mrs W. A. Laidlaw was welcomed to the Pack by Maureen Welsh.

The Pack's Golden Hand Brownies acted the Brownie Story in skit form for the benefit of the new Brownies and their mothers. This was cleverly done and proved to be an excellent way of presenting the idea that a Brownie is helpful.

Following the skit Commissioner Laidlaw received each new Brownie in turn and enrolled her into the Pack. New Brownies are Jenny Smith, Kathy Tyacke, Kathleen Ruegg, Marjorie Wright, Janice Impett and Beverly Stein.

A number of badge presentations were made by the District Commissioner: Golden Hand to Linda McIntosh, Skier's Badge to Shirley Weeks, Athlete's Badge to Barbara Clark, Allison Smith, Shirley Weeks, Linda McIntosh and Donna Bourne.

Skater's Badge to Maureen Welsh, Susan Downing and Joy Chalmers.

A special treat for those present was a talk given by All-Round Cord Guide Jane Millmore. She chose Ireland as her subject and added to the interest she created by showing displays of pictures, linens and even a shillelagh. This effort on Jane's part should take her one step nearer to her Gold Cord.

Tea was served by Brownies Susan Downing and Pam Steuart. Brown Owl Mrs D. B. Clark reported that the Brownies in her Pack are preparing Easter tray treats for hospital patients.

A recent theme meeting depicting Alice in Wonderland characters was under the direction of Mrs. Lea Marten. This provided Packies Jill Pruden and Joyce Bourne and the Brownies with a delightful way to use their originality and gain experience in self-expression.

Mrs. Clark reminded Brownies that children's books are needed at the hospital. These need not be new books, but should be clean and in good condition. Brownies may bring their book donations to any Pack meeting.

TEEN TIDINGS
by Ron Kostelnik
The Elk's Hall Saturday night was the end of a big day for the teen-town members. Earlier in the day a bake sale, held at Holmes and Wade, and a car wash, which was held at the school, had netted about $85 to help pay for the BCTA Convention to be held in Kelowna on April 21 to 23.
The dance, the last one until April 17, was well attended with about 150 all told. Music was provided by the Impacts from Penticton, a good group, doing especially well on instrumentals.

IN MEMORIAM

BLAZEIKO — In loving memory of our dear son, Lawrence, who was accidentally killed April 8, 1964.
"We have only your memory, dear son, To remember our whole life through. But the sweetness will linger forever As we treasure the image of you".
— Ever remembered by his loving Mom and Dad.

BLAZEIKO — In beloved memory of our dear grandson, Lawrence Blazeiko, who passed away April 8, 1964.
"We do not need a special day, to bring you to our mind. The days we do not think of you are very hard to find. They say that time heals all sorrow and helps us to forget. But time so far has only proved how much we miss him yet."
— Lovingly remembered by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Rennie and family.

Pianist in concert series

Pianist Dwight Peltzer will replace the Cassenti Players in the final Overture Concert series on Friday. He will play in the secondary school auditorium at 8:15 p.m.

The Cassenti Players, a string ensemble, were scheduled, but illness of one of the instrumentalists last week, caused their cancellation.

During the past eight years, Mr. Peltzer has distinguished himself, both in the U.S. and Europe, as a leading exponent of contemporary music.

He was the recipient of two consecutive grants from the West German government for study in Berlin. During his stay in Europe he appeared as soloist with orchestras and in solo recitals in Germany, Austria and Switzerland.

Since his return to North America he has been on the faculty of the Victoria School of Music and has made his home there since last year.

Let's Work and Build Together for the Education of Our Young People

COLLECTIVELY, we in the Okanagan Valley can create an outstanding Regional College to provide the advanced education which is becoming so increasingly necessary for our young people.

INDIVIDUALLY, school districts cannot provide the necessary funds or facilities to fill 'the big gap' between a High School and a University education.

Saturday, You Will Be Asked to Answer the Question

"Are you in favor of your School District participating in the establishment and operation of a Regional College in the Okanagan?"

We have bickered among ourselves long enough. If we are to have ANY Regional College ANYWHERE in our valley in the immediate future, we must all work together ... and place

EDUCATIONAL REQUIREMENTS ABOVE ALL ELSE

Here is what a

will offer -

- ★ Two-year academic program, university-level transfer courses.
- ★ Two-year terminal technical-vocational courses.
- ★ Adult Education courses and Cultural activities.

- ★ The need is apparent — and urgent.

- ★ Grade 13 will soon be discontinued in most High Schools.

- ★ The location has been determined by a competent authority.

- ★ The cost is within our ability to pay.

Similar colleges are being organized in the West Kootenays and in Coast areas.

Okanagan students need the same opportunities.

New classes added to fruit fair

The Summerland fall fair committee held its second meeting of the season on Monday. This committee, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, is made up of representatives from various local service clubs and organizations.

An overall plan from the September fair was drawn up, under the chairmanship of Dr. James Marshall. The fair will mirror the various activities of the community, in such fields as agriculture, horticulture, hobbies, art, educational displays and home arts.

The latter section, home arts, will again be under the direction of the Women's Institute. Two new items have been added to the baking section. The first, jams and jellies, with particular emphasis on jellies made from wild fruit or berries; and the second, a frosted chocolate cake, sponsored by a chocolate manufacturer.

The theme this year for the handicraft section will be "wool and its many uses". Details from all sections of the fair will be published in the very near future so that entrants will have time to plan and develop their exhibits.

Summerland votes yes in plebiscite

Summerland school district rate payers voted Saturday to join with eight other school districts in the Okanagan in a regional college area. The vote passed with a 65 per cent majority. Only Penticton voted against joining the college which probably will be located near Kelowna. Other districts favoring the project were South Okanagan Oliver-Osoyoos with 61 per cent in favor, Keremeos 53 per cent, Revelstoke 83 per cent, Armstrong 75 per cent, Vernon 57 per cent, Kelowna 90 per cent and Enderby 82 per cent. A simple majority was required for passage of the plebiscite: Capital financing by a money bylaw at a later date would require a 60 per cent majority. Next step is the organization of a college council and the signing of an agreement by the nine school districts.

Pretty Felixe Fitzgerald, one of CBC French network television's top actresses, is the new co-host of the conversational French For Love series, seen on Sundays on the CBC-TV network. Felixe, who has worked with such stars as Sir Alex Guinness and James Mason, came to Montreal from Toronto six years ago and modelled and did sales work to pay her tuition fees for French study at the University of Montreal.

ASSISTANCE TO REPLACE SOFT FRUIT TREES

Have trees examined by horticulturist

The Hon. Frank Richter, Minister of Agriculture, has announced that there was extensive damage to soft fruit trees in the Okanagan and Similkameen areas. A program is being developed to help growers purchase replacements: Assistance will be given where cherry, apricot and peach trees are removed because of severe frost damage or killing. In addition to tree replacements there will be a special loan program under the Distress Area Assistance Act, available to all producers of tree fruit crops. Details of the revised regulations will be available at an early date through chartered banks.

Teachers attending convention

Delegates of the Summerland Teachers' Association to the 46th annual convention of the B.C. Teachers Federation will be Don Puddy of the Summerland Secondary School and E. F. Weeks of the MacDonald Elementary School. Several other teachers from this school district will attend. Mrs. Isabel Cull of Vancouver, BCTF president, will preside over the sessions to be held in Vancouver from April 19 to April 22. The keynote address will be given by Dr. J. F. K. English, B.C. Deputy Minister and Superintendent of Education. W. R. Long of Kitimat will speak on the African Project, a program financed by an annual grant of $15,000 from the B.C. Teachers Federation to permit B.C. teachers to visit African countries to conduct summer schools for African teachers.

The extent of tree killing has yet to be determined. British Columbia Department of Agriculture officials are keeping a close watch on the orchards. Liason with the executive of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association is being maintained. Application forms for assistance are being prepared and will be available from the nearest Horticultural Branch office of the British Columbia Department of Agriculture. Growers should not remove frozen trees until losses have been confirmed by the district horticulturist. Mr Richter announced that a committee will be formed consisting of provincial officials and grower representatives from the BCFGA to handle the tree replacement scheme. As soon as the damage can be clearly identified a further release will be forthcoming.

Police Court

During the past week 12 motorists have paid penalties ranging from $20 to $40 when charged with speeding on Highway 97. Total speeding penalties amounted to $330. A voluntary penalty of $20 and costs was paid by Helmut Gedig of Penticton, charged with passing on a double solid line. As the result of an accident on April 2, when a car driven by Dr. D. V. Fisher was sideswiped by a semi-trailer, Joseph Bernard Lariviere, driver of the truck, paid a penalty of $15 and costs when charged with unsafe passing. William Mortimer of Summerland was fined $250 and costs when found guilty of being impaired while driving. He is prohibited from driving a motor vehicle anywhere in Canada for four months.

ARDA approval appears imminent

ARDA aid for the reconstruction of Summerland's dams and major flume systems appears imminent, according to a letter from the engineers who are drawing up the plans for the work. Council Tuesday night expressed satisfaction at the prospect of putting this major system into shape without possibly having to ask for a money bylaw. In discussing the major overhaul program, council said they felt that since the work will be done over a period of years, and since the local purse only bears one-third of the cost, it can probably be financed from the budget.

Scenic route undertaken by C of C

With an intricate system of roads covering the district, driving around Summerland can be very confusing to the tourists and other visitors, so the Chamber of Commerce is now planning a well marked scenic route of the district. With this idea in mind, two members of the Chamber, Alan Butler and Charlie Bernhardt, accompanied by Bert Simpson representing the Camera Club, took a tour of the district on Sunday afternoon.

Commencing at Peach Orchard Park, they drove up the Switchback Road, along the north bench, up Cordy's Hill to the Jones Flat Road. From there they went in to Garnett Valley, returning to town via Quinpool Road. From town they drove up the North Prairie Valley Road to Walter Powell's, crossed to the South Prairie Valley Road to South Victoria Road, thence through Peach Valley to Giant's Head Road, down the Sandhill to Trout Creek Point, returning on Highway 97 through lower Summerland and back to Peach Orchard.

Using this as a basic route, the Chamber will draw up a tour showing points of interest to visitors. The route will be marked on a map in a brochure which will be prepared for distribution this summer.

Almost all of Summerland's dams will be rebuilt under the ARDA project, and present plans call for more capacity in some of the dams. COURT OF REVISION Eight appeals were heard on Tuesday at the irrigation court of revision: The court was adjourned to the same time next week to enable council to study the appeals: F. R. Ganzeveld requested the removal of rates on part of a 2.5 acre sidehill which he feels is not suitable to grow commercial fruit on: Council denied the request: He also asked that a block which he is presently paying full rates on be reduced by one acre: He noted that he is paying for an extra acre he does not have: Council asked the superintendent to measure the lot and bring in a report: Ray Johnson of Garnett Valley asked to have his three parcels blocked under one rate which council granted.

Elmer Harbicht of Prairie Valley asked to have two parcels of land blocked for payment of rates: This was granted: E. H. Kenvig of Jones Flat asked council to provide irrigation on two acres of newly opened land: Granted: W. R. Ridley questioned why he should pay full irrigation rates on the blocks he owns on Sandhill Road: It was moved that Mr. Ridley be charged for only 2-10 of an acre on each lot as part was on top of a hill: Mr. Murdoch of Prairie Valley asked for his half irrigation rate be increased to full rate: Passed: Mrs. Violet Kerr asked that her parcels of land be blocked to one rate: Granted: T. I. Davies asked that his irrigation rate be reduced from 3 1/2 acres down to two acres: Council will study this request further: JUNK YARDS Council feels action must be taken to keep old car bodies away from travelled road ways and possibly behind high fencing: A Summerland junk yard was cited as having old wrecks parked very near the municipal road: They also discussed limiting the amount of time an unlicensed vehicle can be left sitting in a yard: HOME NURSING CARE The South Okanagan Health Unit is proposing another public health nurse to provide home nursing care for those needing it: The scheme would cost approximately 10 cents per capita: Council will meet with the staff from the local unit to discuss the move:

RECEIVES CITATION Howard Wright of the research station staff was recently presented with a citation and $250 from the department of agriculture. While at work in the pomology section Mr. Wright made a modification to a machine used for detection and recording work. The modification means that the machine will be useable for a number of years and will save the research station about $3,000 in replacement costs.

Mr. Murdoch of Prairie Valley asked for his half irrigation rate be increased to full rate: Passed: Mrs. Violet Kerr asked that her audience was asked to fill out a questionnaire for next season, indicating preferences in music, also willingness to participate in the work of the Overture concerts. The work is not difficult nor does it take much time if people work together, but it must be done. This year there has been difficulty in appointing a new executive. Members of the former executive have worked long and faithfully from the inception of these concerts in Summerland and it is felt that a new executive and co-operation from the people of Summerland is a requisite for the new season. It would be a great pity and a loss to our community to lose these excellent concerts and entertainment which have provided so much enjoyment over the years for a large number of residents here. Help is needed to carry on this worthwhile project. Don't let Summerland lose the Overture Concerts.

Lawn bowlers seek to reorganize

Interest is being shown, especially among the older residents of the community, in the organization of a lawn bowling club. If the club is organized, it is hoped to build the greens on the area between Parkdale Place and the arena. For many years Summerland had a very active lawn bowling club, with greens on the site of the present Legion Hall. When that location was no longer available, clay greens were built on the south end of the Memorial Park. These did not prove to be very satisfactory, so the sport fell by the wayside. However, if good greens can be built there is little doubt that lawn bowling will again become popular, as it will not only be a pleasant pastime for local people, but may also prove to be an attraction for the tourists during the summer months. Anyone interested in the formation of the club is asked to phone 494-2140.

Famous pianist in final concert series

The program opened with two sonatas by Scarlatti and ended with the Mozart Sonata in B Flat Major, all played in excellent style with fine phrasing, modulation of light and shade and a wide range of feeling. The second half of the program began with his explanation and interpretation of contemporary music and improvisation on a theme, a startling departure, and he followed it with "Now I'll show you where it came from" and he played the well loved, Claire de Lune by Debussy, most beautifully and the origin of the new music was plainly evident. The final number was Beethoven's Appassionata sonata played with dynamic technique and great emotional effect, a most satisfactory finale to a unique program by a most talented performer. Mr. Peltzer is at present head of the Victoria School of Music. During the intermission the audience was asked to fill out a questionnaire for next season, indicating preferences in music, also willingness to participate in the work of the Overture concerts. The work is not difficult nor does it take much time if people work together, but it must be done. This year there has been difficulty in appointing a new executive. Members of the former executive have worked long and faithfully from the inception of these concerts in Summerland and it is felt that a new executive and co-operation from the people of Summerland is a requisite for the new season. Camera club will sponsor color slide show on Australia

A Color Photographic Association series entitled Project Australia will be showing on the lower main and on April 22 and the local camera club has arranged to bring this show to Summerland for a public showing on April 27. Tickets will go on sale within the next few days and will be available from club members or at Deluxe Electric.

At the meeting held Monday evening members of the Camera Club enjoyed a showing of the Color Photographic Association's slide set, Taking Better Vacation Pictures. This series gave a lot of very useful information on taking better quality travel pictures and also good advice on the care of equipment while travelling.

Following the CPAC show, 4 local series were presented: They were Holiday on the Olympic Peninsula by Norman West, Fruit Blooms in the Okanagan and My Holiday Mishaps by Howard Shannon and Gu'ch Road by Bert Simpson.

Bridge results

A monthly master point session was held by the South Okanagan Contract Bridge Club in the Rosedale Room Monday evening. Eight and a half tables were in attendance.

Winners were: North-South: Mr and Mrs R. Stewart, Mrs A. McLymont and Mrs M. Allan, Mrs J. Lyon and W. Hepperle, G. Hepperle and A. Menikoff.

East-West: E. Vivian and Bert Berry, B. Mack'aine and H. Hughes, Miss J. Bennest, and Mrs W. Gartrell, Mrs P. Forsyth and Bob Stewart

Badminton players finish active season

Summerland's junior badminton players have enjoyed an active season under the direction of Mrs Ken Storey and Mrs. W. Evans, assisted by senior members of the Athletic Club George Fudge instructed the young players during the season.

Ten of the junior players took part in a tournament that was held recently in Kelowna.

The Recreation Commission's annual grant to the Summerland Athletic Club assists with the financing of the junior play at the badminton club.

IMPEESA IMPS FROM TROUT CREEK

Alan Clark was invested at the April 2 meeting and Bobby Head joined the Pack. Michael Prokopenko, Rodney Hickson, Ricky Gurnett and Lorn MacGregor received their Pack neckerchiefs.

At the April 9 meeting Alan Fisher was presented with the Reader and Guide Badges.

The next Pack meeting will be on April 30. The two meetings preceding this are cancelled because of the Easter holiday.

Scout Apple Day will be on May 1. All Cubs must be at the high school grounds at 9.45 and bring a small cloth for polishing the apples. When you arrive report to your Sixer. There should be no problem with transportation as there will be several cars going up from Trout Creek. If you need a ride get in touch with your Sixer, except for the Black Six who will be in touch with the second. Let's have a full turnout.

The April 30 meeting will end the Six competition. Who is going to win this month?

Brownies prepare for Easter

If a pretty Easter basket is left at your door on Easter Sunday, you had better look around for footprints. It is just possible that those footprints will belong, not to the Easter bunny, but to a Brownie.

Brown Owl, Mrs. Gunnar Rasmussen of the 1st Summerland Brownie Pack reports that for the last few weeks the Brownies have been making novelty Easter baskets which each Brownie will give to someone to bring a note of cheer at Easter time.

A most enjoyable meeting for Brownies and leaders alike was held at the Youth Centre on Wednesday, April 7 when Mrs. J. Mason paid a visit to the Pack. Mrs. Mason, a former popular Brown Owl, is well-known for exceptional talent in the field of story telling. She treated them to stories told in her own inimitable style and then inspired them to enthusiastic participation in acting story games. Sparkling eyed Brownies saying, I hope she comes again, testified to the success of her program.

Brownies who were enrolled in November and in February are working on their Golden Bar tests. These tests include the basic skills in community knowledge, observation, handicraft, health, athletics and service. They require a good deal of time and effort on the part of the leaders to teach and test and of the Brownies to practice and accomplish.

Golden Bars were presented to Patricia Dale and Barbara Norris. These Brownies will now be able to work toward four proficiency badges of their own choosing.

Unitarian speaker in Penticton

On Tuesday of next week residents of this area will have an opportunity to learn more about a religion which is gathering attention.

A public meeting in Penticton will be addressed by the Rev. A. Phillip Hewett of the Unitarian Church in Vancouver, and by the Rev. Robert L. Fulghum, executive director of the Pacific Northwest District of the Unitarian Universalist Association.

Although Unitarianism dates back to the time of Luther, it is particularly suited to the knowledge and attitudes of the twentieth century mind.

This is a free church, without any creed, welcoming men and women of goodwill without regard to race or background or theological belief. They salute the faithful of all great religions of the world because they believe that truth is not the monopoly of any sect. They welcome the discoveries of science, the insights of art and all the true forms of culture as aids to clearer understanding and fuller life. Their practical expression of religion is service to others, standing for a brotherhood of man that knows no barriers.

The interested and curious are invited to attend a public meeting to be held at eight o'clock next Tuesday evening, April 20, in the Heather Room of the Prince Charles Motor Inn.

Lady: Do you mean to tell me you are content to walk about the country begging?
Tramp: Oh, no. I often wish I had a bicycle.

Homes needed for children

Guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the United Church Women was Miss Kay Davies of the social welfare department who gave a very informative talk on the pressing need for adoptive homes to place many youngsters in, both in the infant group and older. She noted that in this area many children are now living in foster homes as a stopgap while they wait for the right parents to come along. She went on to say that although this fills the need for the present, many more homes must be found for these youngsters. She told the ladies of the painstaking care her department takes in matching parents and child.

A film was shown of prospective parents, the interviews they go through and many of the youngsters available.

The United Church congregation, by means of a special collection taken at Christmas, sponsors three children outside of Canada. Delightful letters written by the grateful children were read in the group.

Mrs. Rex Chapman presented Mrs. W. F. Ward with a life membership and pin for her many years of service in church work.

A pot luck supper is planned for June 14 at the research station. This is a regular summer feature for the ladies of the UCW.

SCHOOL NEWS

by Ron Kostelnik

The rugby season ended April 7 with the Summerland seniors losing to Oliver by a score of 17-3. Gerald Marsh got Summerland off with a first half field goal but Oliver tied it up and then went out in front to stay. Bill Potter and Dale Stevenson were shaken up in the second hand.

The seniors finished the season with a record of a tie and five losses. They yielded 101 points for an average of 17 points per game.

Report from Parliament

by Dave Pugh, MP

Last week end saw the end of Canada's longest and wordiest Parliamentary Session. Most of us got to bed about five in the morning on Saturday, knowing that we would start all over again on Monday.

The chief complaint among Members, and this goes for all Parties, is that the government didn't take a breather of at least a month so that all could settle into work a little more cheerfully. The main point, of course, is that the Government must always keep ahead of its legislation, and if they don't take time to prepare it, then it is open for just that much more criticism. To my mind, the average backbencher can go along with any plan of Parliamentary sitting, but the cabinet ministers have a much more difficult time. Every day that Parliament sits they are subject to a barrage of questions from any Member on any subject just so long as it is urgent and of national importance. The question period is a great strain on Ministers, and I have often wondered how they lasted out through our longest session.

When Parliament is not sitting the Ministers get away from this, and also have more time to study their Departments and any legislation which might be necessary.

Just what history will record of the lost session is a moot point. Actually, it might be tied in the flag debate, but I doubt whether, when all is totalled up, it will be known other than as "the longest session". Reasons were given for the length, the government claiming obstruction, but this doesn't tie in with their claims that it also was a most productive time. To my mind, considering the amount of legislation brought forward, very little time could have been cut off. In other words, we had a certain amount of work to do, and we took the time to do it.

MEET AT OLIVER

Oliver was the site over the week end for a gathering of 672 persons to hear, on Sunday, the talk, "The Moral Breakdown — What Can Be Done About It?" The speaker, A. M. Didur, is a representative of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, and District Supervisor of Jehovah's Witnesses in the Valley.

Saturday afternoon saw the baptism of 13 new ministers to serve chiefly in the Oliver, Penticton and Summerland areas.

WORTH LOOKING INTO...

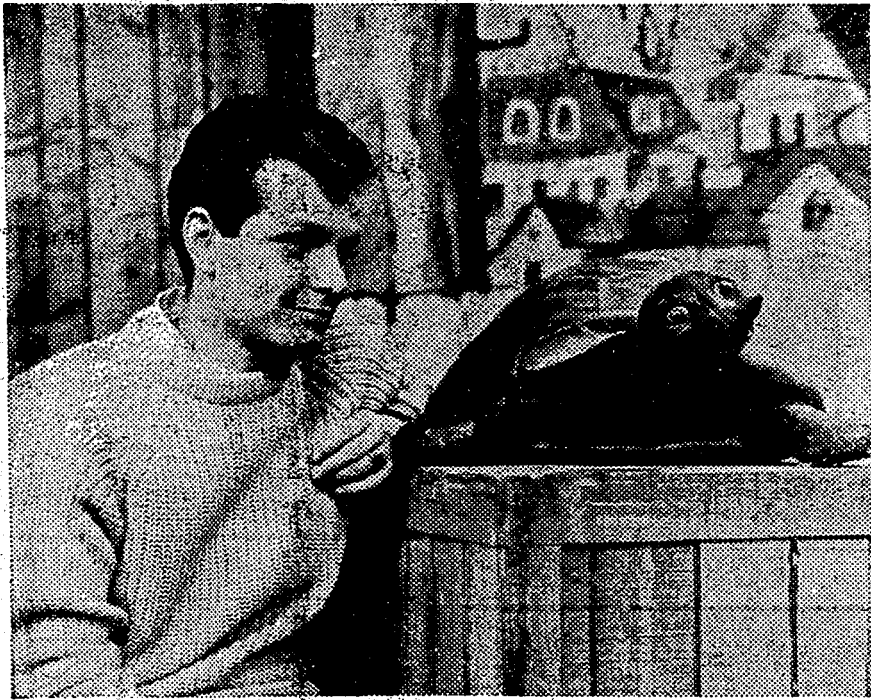

the modern advantages of

electric heat

Heating with "Flameless" Electricity gives you a special feeling of comfort. There's a big difference between being comfortable and simply being warm — gentle, safe Electric Heating provides a "sunshine kind of warmth" that floods a room from corner to corner with even comfort.

Join the trend to modern heating — plan to enjoy the matchless quietness and efficiency of Flameless Electric Heating.

Large lumber company joins Crown Zellerbach

S. M. Simpson Limited has joined the Crown Zellerbach Canada Limited organization, it was announced in Kelowna on Monday by H. B. Simpson, president of the Okanagan forest products company.

Terms of the transaction were not disclosed.

The S. M. Simpson operations, four sawmills, a plywood mill, a box factory and a wholesale plywood distribution company, are all located in the Okanagan.

The Kelowna-based firm's timberlands include Tree Farm Licence No. 9 and other forms of tenure.

S. M. Simpson Limited was founded in 1913 and incorporated in 1924 in Kelowna. It is one of the largest family owned forest products companies in the interior of British Columbia.

Crown Zellerbach Canada Limited is a fully integrated forest industry company. The company's logging, tugboat, pulp and paper manufacturing and converting divisions and its lumber and plywood plants are located in the B.C. coastal area.

PARKDALE PLACE

(Continued from page 3) was convened by Mrs. Lott and Mrs. Montague. The ladies assembled in our tea room and Mrs. J. McKenzie saw to it that the tea was served in the good old Scottish manner. Our invited guest was Mrs. Jessie McKenzie. Before we dispersed, Mrs. Sloper took some snaps, so we hope to have a lasting souvenir of a very happy birthday party. Mrs. Whitehead, her sister, presented a beautifully decorated cake. Mr. D. Smith, her nephew, brought her greetings and a gift from the family in Ontario.

Our thanks to all who provided entertainment in Parkdale. Mr. Parrott's Accordion Band is always enjoyable. The Singing Melodiers and their capable conductor, Mrs. Fudge, are very welcome. They served tea in the lounge before leaving.

An opportunity to meet old friends is provided by the United Church Harmony Circle when they come in and give us a taste of their home made bread with an afternoon cup of tea.

We thank the United Church for the flowers given by Mr. and Mrs. Blazeko in memory of their son Lawrence.

To show our appreciation to Mr and Mrs. J. McLachlan for the vase of spring flowers sent to each resident, Mrs. Atkinson sends them this appropriate little poem:

"From the depths of McLachlan's garden,
Come to us fresh flowers of spring,
From the dull cold tomb they slept in
They arose — O wondrous thing!
I think of the tomb that is empty
Which brought us a great surprise.
But the soul of man is immortal
A celestial home will be our prize!"

We regret that our assistant matron, Mrs. Ross, is leaving. We have appreciated her great kindness. She leaves with our best wishes.

Kiwanis Korner

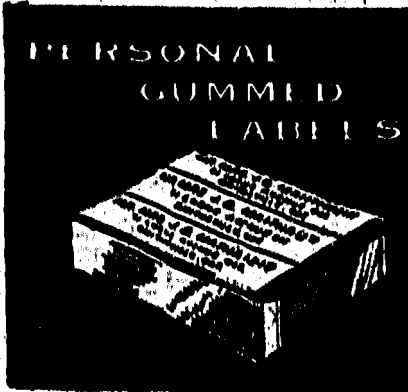

Guest speaker at the Kiwanis Club meeting on Tuesday evening was Dr. James Marshall who spoke on centennial projects.

Arrangements are being made for the cancer drive which will be held on May 4.

A special item of interest appeared in the Girl Guide magazine concerning the Guide camp Mewata, in which the Summerland Kiwanis assisted in establishing in the South Okanagan.

Two visitors attended the meeting, one from Manitoba; and Alfredo Strueps from Buenos Aires, South America, who is on a tour of the Americas.

DEAR DORIS

advice from
Doris Clark

A Place For Father

DEAR DORIS — My fiance lived with his aunt because his mother had a long illness. When he was 13 his mother died. Later his father remarried.

Our problem is just who should be "parents of the groom" at the wedding. His aunt and uncle are the ones who raised him. Is there any way that both his uncle and father could have an equal standing in the receiving line?

Engaged

DEAR ENGAGED — Yes. In the receiving line, your mother is first, then could come the aunt, with your mother explaining, perhaps, that "This is the aunt who raised Michael". Then attendants, bride, groom, more attendants, or whatever order you decide.

Both father and uncle of groom could stand, not on the receiving line, but close to its other end, to share honors with your father in taking care of wedding guests, serving refreshments, introducing one to another and performing other hosting duties.

DEAR DORIS — I go out with the sweetest boy in the world, and he is 22. All of the other girls my age bring their boy friends into the house with them to stay after their parents go to bed.

Now my parents don't want me to start this until I am older. I am 14. What they don't seem to realize is that we can do just as much outdoors as we can in the house, if we want to, and that won't stop us. I love my parents and I also love this fellow. What should I do?

In Love

DEAR IN LOVE — Try with all the good sense you can muster to understand why your parents are holding out about this.

Boys and girls are attracted to one another physically; they tend to think this means love, or at least a go-ahead for necking. They are not ready for the sometimes overwhelming urgency of their attraction. Nor for its unstable nature.

Everyone should value protection and rules. And should play in their own league. To you, this means abandoning a 22-year-old man, as well as sitting up alone (indoors or anywhere) with any date.

DEAR DORIS — My nephew, 22, has been on social assistance since school days. Three months ago we let him come to stay with us, and said we would carry him until he accumulate some money to go on his own.

I finally got him started putting something in the bank. But he missed banking anything for the last two pays. I was so disappointed.

He only needs coffee and cigarette money. What do you say? Give him till summer time? He doesn't even realize it takes a lot of everything to run this house, with eight children in it.

Charity Begins At Home

DEAR CHARITY — A lifetime of leaning doesn't groom a lad for independence. He has no idea what money is for. How would he know what it costs you to feed him?

Make it clear that if he lets you down, the support lets up. But try first to train him; discuss what you expect of him, give him a deadline, and praise even the slightest sign of thrift.

DEAR DORIS — My only child is now 13 and I feel that I can get a full time job again. I am a registered psychiatric nurse (Great Britain) and have always had skill at handicrafts, which I have certainly not allowed to get rusty.

Would it take much extra training for me to qualify for work in the field of occupational therapy? I would enjoy this work, remembering from my mental-nursing days how much good can be done.

Nurse

DEAR NURSE — Many hospitals now give courses to train the occupational therapy assistant in the mental health field. Your past training and your own skill will be a valuable asset.

Comings and Goings

Mr and Mrs Joe Bullock and family left on Sunday for a two week holiday in California.

Mrs J Sunderwood left this week end for a three month trip to Britain and Europe. She left from Vancouver on the liner Oriana and will go via the Panama Canal to France. She will also visit in Holland and Austria, England and Scotland before returning home via Montreal in July.

Mr and Mrs Hubert Ward have returned home after visiting relatives in Vancouver and Victoria.

Mrs Sandy Fenwick and Mrs Gordon Ritchie accompanied a Troop of Rangers to Vancouver this week.

Mr and Mrs Norris Laidlaw were in Kamloops on Thursday, to attend the graduation of their son Lowell, who has passed his examinations as a laboratory technician at the Kamloops Hospital. Lowell has been appointed as a technician at the Williams Lake Hospital.

Spring flowers for wedding ceremony

Candlelight and pink carnations set the scene of the marriage of Dorothy Kaduko Arase, daughter of Mr and Mrs Kimiyuki Arase of Summerland, and Don Lum of Vancouver. The wedding took place on April 10 at 4 pm in the Summerland United Church with Rev P K Louie officiating.

Entering the church which was decorated with pink carnations, white stocks and candles, the bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white peau-de-soi floor length gown fashioned with a train in back. Her bouffant nylon net veil was caught in place with a double auroa boralis crown of seed pearls. A dainty bouquet of four white orchids completed her ensemble.

The bride's three sisters, Sylvia; Margaret and Joyce were bridal attendants, identically gowned in rose peau-de-soie gowns fashioned with a train in back. They carried bouquets of white carnations and stephanotis.

Groomsman was Poon Wong of Vancouver. Ushering duties were shared by Roy Yamaoka and Jimmy Lee. Wedding music was provided by organist Ken Storey.

Later about 100 guests met at the Pilgrim House for a wedding reception. Guests were received by the bridal party.

The toast to the bride was made by Mr Shigeyoshi with a response by the groom. The bride and groom were toasted by Earl Gallagher and the bridesmaids by Poon Wong.

For a motor trip through the southern USA and Mexico the bride chose a beige wool suit with accessories in tone. On their return the couple will make their home in Vancouver.

Out of town guests included Evelyn Gronlund and Donna Laidlaw of Vancouver; Leona Keys of Victoria; Mr and Mrs P Wong, Mr and Mrs H Lee; Jimmy, Joyce and Julia; Earl Gallagher, Vonda Wade of Vancouver; Ernie Pushkarenko of Williams Lake; Mr and Mrs Glavind of Burnaby; Grace Shigeyoshi and Eddie Naka of Kelowna.

Use of herbicides around fruit trees outlined by researcher

Herbicides can be a big help to a fruit grower and they are safe if the directions for using them are followed carefully.

How do herbicides help? Chiefly by the saving in labor, says Dr. J. C. Wilcox of the research station here.

Methods of using herbicides have been developed which enable the ground around young trees to be kept reasonably weed free with less labor and at less cost than by hoeing or by cultivation, explains the researcher.

Because every chemical used as a herbicide is potentially dangerous to the user, care in handling is essential. Use of mask and gloves is important, especially when preparing the material for use.

Herbicides for use in orchards should not only control weeds but should be harmless to trees. These requirements, says Dr.

Wilcox, pose a problem. Some chemicals are effective against weeds but produce residues in fruit, while some others damage the tree leaves. The effects are usually worse on sandy soil than on silt or clay, and with stone fruits than with apples and pears.

Only three chemical mixtures are being recommended for weed control under certain fruit trees in the Okanagan valley, the researcher says. The rates, time and number of applications and the safe crops vary with each chemical and because of this, it is important to read, understand and follow the directions on the labels.

The common names of the active ingredients in these products are amitrole, dinoseb and paraquat. Since no products are sold under these names, growers should check with their dealers for products containing these materials.

Read the label and make sure the herbicide you are buying is suitable for your purpose, Dr. Wilcox advises growers. Amitrole, for example, should only be used under non-bearing apple trees, while paraquat should only be used under non-bearing trees or bearing apple, pear and peach trees.

Guides plan Cookie Day

The local Association to Guide and Brownies met with the leaders last Tuesday at the home of Mrs Marlis Marles to discuss plans for events to take place in the next two months.

Mrs A J Berry will be in charge of the annual Cookie Day on May 8 and she hopes to have 21 drivers this year. Mrs N Rasmussen and Tillie Sawat-sky will look after supplying the Trout Creek area with the Guide cookies.

Transportation to and from camp was discussed and it was decided to use car pools. It will be arranged by Pack mothers that any car going up to camp will bring Brownies back from the first camp.

Two work parties are planned for Camp Mewata, one on April 24 and 25 and the other early in May. It is hoped that fathers of Brownies and Guides will turn out for these work parties. There will not be any heavy work to do, so if fathers take along a shovel, rake and hammer, plus some lunch, they will enjoy a day at the camp and be helping to make the campsite better for the girls. Bruce Blagborne will gladly direct anyone to the camp so please check with him.

The Guides have decided to purchase their own new flag and information is expected from headquarters on the laying away of the Union Jack.

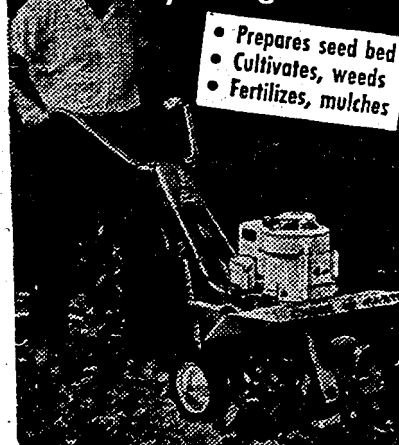

Summerland Guides and Brownies will have their own library from now on located at the home of Dr W Evans. Leaders are asked to send their $1 fee to Mrs Evans.

Members of the Kinsmen Club went on a painting spree Sunday and gave the Youth Centre two coats of paint. From 8:30 in the morning to 6:30 in the evening 16 gallons of paint were used to give the community hall a new appearance. Bill Austin organized the paint-up.

CNIB elects new officers

Reports of the year's activities were given at the annual meeting of the Summerland branch of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind which was held at the secondary school library on Monday night.

Mrs Eric Tait, acting secretary in the absence of Mrs George Ryman, read a letter from the BC superintendent, Ross Purse, expressing appreciation of the work done by the Branch and thanking the residents of Summerland for their generous support.

Treasurer Mrs J H Dunsdon reported that $671.82 had been collected during the 1964 campaign.

Field secretary J C Hembling was guest speaker, telling of his work and experiences during the 21 years he has been with the CNIB.

Representatives were present at the meeting from the Rebekah Lodge, IOOF, Kiwanis, Legion Auxiliary, Chamber of Commerce and WI.

A letter of thanks and appreciation will be sent to Robert Alstead, who is moving away for his many years of work and interest in the blind.

Officers are Chairman: Mrs. Walter Rothwell; first vice president: Preston Mott; and vice president: Mrs Eric Tait; secretary: Mrs Herb Lemke; treasurer: Mrs J H Dunsdon; board members: Miss Lois Read and John Caldwell.

A film produced by the CBC showed the blind enjoying recreation at the CNIB Centre in Vancouver. Lloyd Shannon was projectorist.

Pictured above are some of the concrete ornamental products manufactured by Mas Inouye in his home workshop next to the firehall. The cement is poured into moulds, dried and then tinted or left in a natural shade.

At the moment 12 different ornamentals are produced, as well as bird baths and garden flagstones.

Mr. Inouye is the only manufacturer of this line in the Okanagan and he is retailing through major outlets in the area.

He plans later to manufacture outdoor fireplaces and permanent fireplaces for backyard installation.

Teachers attend convention

Dun Puddy and E F Weeks, teachers in the Summerland School District, returned to the classrooms after having sat as delegates to the 46th annual convention of the BC Teachers Federation in the Bayshore Inn in Vancouver.

Teachers president Mrs Isobel Gull, in her opening address called for drastic reforms in BC elementary education. In BC elementary schools, Mrs Gull said are the forgotten half of the school system. Learning should be a personal and many splendored thing which is impossible in classes of 30 or more, incarcerated in rooms 32 by 24 feet. Such learning is impossible when success is measured only by good handwriting, accurate spelling, tidy notebooks, conformity and good marks on written tests. We must create a learning situation in which every child can proceed at his own rate she said. Billie Ann Palsion of Lake Cowichan was selected as this year's winner of the Charlesworth Memorial Scholarship awarded annually by the BC Teachers' Federation to a graduate from secondary school. This award serves as a memorial to Harry Charlesworth, first general secretary of the Federation, and is given upon application to the teacher's child with the highest scholarship standing.

Miss Jean Bailey, intermediate supervisor for Burnaby schools, was granted the 1965 Fergusson Memorial Award as outstanding teacher. Miss Bailey's 34 years service as a singularly successful classroom teacher, supervisor, authority in remedial reading and co-author of a Grade 4 reader widely used throughout Canada were listed as reason enough for this award. A standing ovation was accorded Miss Bailey by the 1200 delegates representing 15,000 teachers of the province.

Much of this year's business at the convention dealt with reorganization of the huge complex of authority to make smoother the operation of the BC Teachers' Federation. The Federation's 29 member executive committee has been cut to 11 and provision was made for a new representative assembly of 42 members.

Teachers roundly defeated an Abbotsford resolution calling for settlement of salaries at the teachers' federation level. Opponents said salary bargaining should be carried on between local school boards and teacher associations. They said variations in economic conditions and living costs of different parts of the province make local negotiation a necessity. Teachers are concerned with ineffectual negotiations which precipitated arbitrations this year but it was left by delegates to agreements and executive committees to find better solutions.

Teachers resolved that the federation seek to reorganize the hours of instruction required of teachers during the school day, week and school year in order to improve teaching and learning conditions. It is misleading to both public and teachers said their brief, that the day seems short. There are less than easily recognizable relationships between the hours of instruction required of teachers and the work that those hours of instruction entail. More time is required to do much research so as to give better instruction to pupils. School boards and arbitration boards have ignored the matters of working conditions and hours since they are part of the legislation of the provincial government.

CAMERA CLUB SHOW

Australia depicted in colored slides

On Tuesday evening an audience of over 125 people saw an excellent series of slides depicting almost all phases of Australia, from heavy industries in the cities to the primitive natives in remote territories.

Project Australians is a series of 400 slides taken by members of the Australian Photographic Association and is being shown in almost every country in the world. The Color Photographic Association of Canada sponsored the Canadian showing and the Summerland Camera Club obtained it through the BC Regional of CPAC.

The entire show was a master piece of photography and the taped commentary certainly left little to be desired.

The Australian show was followed by a short series, Song of the Seasons. These slides were taken by members of the Summerland Camera Club. The script for the show was written by Rev Norman Iqn with Mrs R G Cuthbert as commentator.

Song of the Seasons will be sent to Vancouver as Summerland's contribution to a public slide show to be held in that city in early June.

FOR SCHOOL ADDITION

$379,500 Bylaw in June

In order to give vocational and occupational students adequate facilities to work in, the Summerland school board will present a $379,500 money bylaw for approval in early June.

Although they will ask the ratepayers for borrowing power for the above amount, the money will be borrowed over a number of years as it is needed.

Proposed additions to the secondary school include a ground floor addition to the north side of the west wing to accommodate a woodwork construction shop and a metal works mechanics shop. A second floor on the west wing will hold a combined home economics room for foods and sewing instruction and accommodation for three occupational classes.

Costs are broken down to site improvement $9400; construction of additions $238,000; conversion of the heating systems to natural gas and equipment for the new rooms $100,000.

School officials feel that the new expansion will benefit the vocational and occupational students who make up a large portion of the student body. The building program will make it possible for students now on the general or occupational course to get a complete grade 12 certificate. With the present facilities, these students are finding it necessary to take more academic work than vocational training.

The provincial government pays grants up to 50 per cent where the local share is three mills or less; 75 per cent on three to 4 1/2 mills; and on more than 4 1/2 mills the government share is 90 per cent.

The school board estimates that the bylaw will cost less than one mill because for the first few years a portion of the cost will come in the 90 per cent portion.

The retirement of debentures under Bylaw No. 1 and No 2 in 1969 and 1970 will also contribute to a low increase in the mill rate.

School board officials outlined the referendum to council on Tuesday night and approval was given to hold a vote early in June.

Council notes

It was reported Tuesday night at council that Mrs. Alma Bruce of Naramata has been appointed as assistant matron at Parkdale Place.

First reading was given to a bylaw to allow Meadow Valley Farms Ltd. to lease water storage rights on Garnett Lake.

On behalf of the Rotary Club G C Johnston requested that council hire Richard Randall as lifeguard at Rotary Beach for six weeks this summer.

Approval was given to the BPO Elks Lodge to hold an auction on the new portion of the Memorial Park on May 1.

Council agreed to lease a piece of land on Paradise Flat for a period of five years with council retaining the right to cancel the lease if conditions appear to be endangering the slide area.

The application was made by Barry Wilson of Monashee Nurseries.

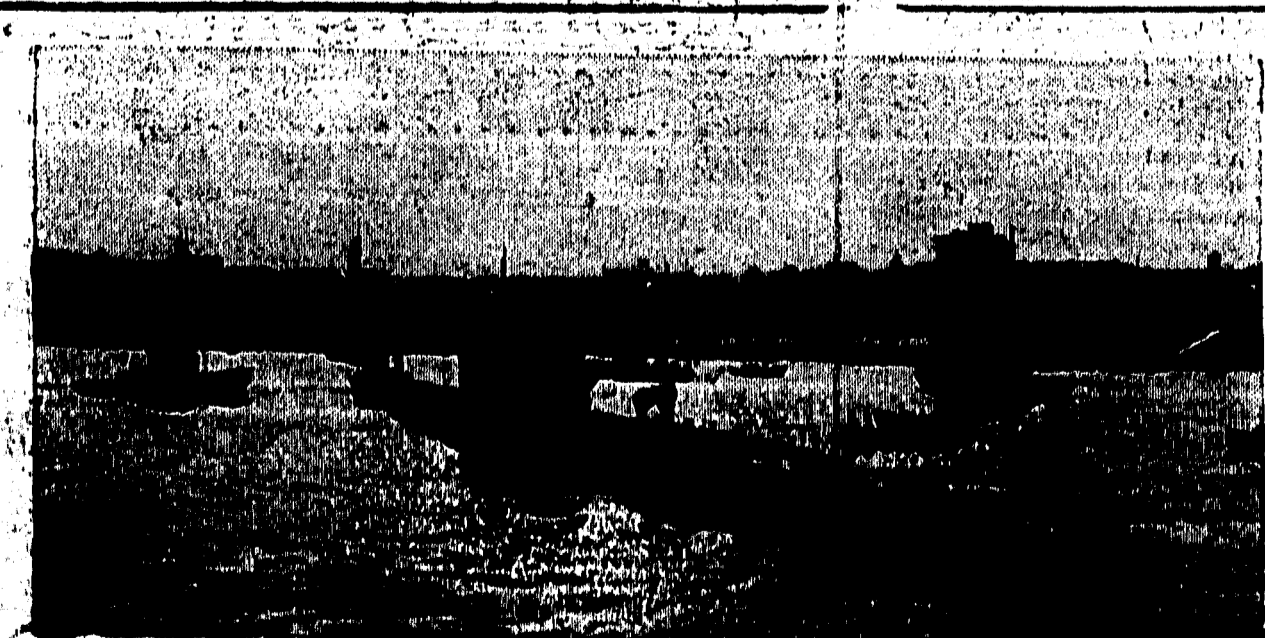

PATRICIA RYMAN AUXILIARY CANDIDATE

The Youth Club Auxiliary has announced that they will sponsor Patricia Ryman as their candidate for the 1965 fall fair queen.

The next meeting of the Auxiliary will be held May 19 when members are asked to bring a guest.

COLLECT $1306 FOR RED CROSS

In its annual appeal for funds for the Canadian Red Cross this month, the Rotary Club has announced that donations of $1306 were collected. Committee chairman was Jim Green and the Rotarians were assisted this year by the Teen-Town club.

Summerland was represented by 17 delegates at the BCTA conference held in Kelowna over the week end. Everyone who attended the conference benefited from it. For entertainment three dances were held with music provided by The Chatterboxes, who played here at a dance on March 6; The Strangers and The Nocturnals.

Representing Summerland at the Conference were Joe Smith; Andy Baker; Bill Shannon; Harvey Parkinson; Dale Stevenson; Ray Mitchell; Alan Eden; Jackie Bennest; Ann Dean; Sheryl Stein; Sandy Stein; Janet Tamblyn; Judy Steel; Dianne Selinger; Daphne Lamb; Betty McInnes; and Sharon Biagioni.

There will not be a dance this week end.

OK TEL. DONATES TO UNIVERSITY FUND

An important problem facing Canada today is the provision of better education through expanded educational facilities.

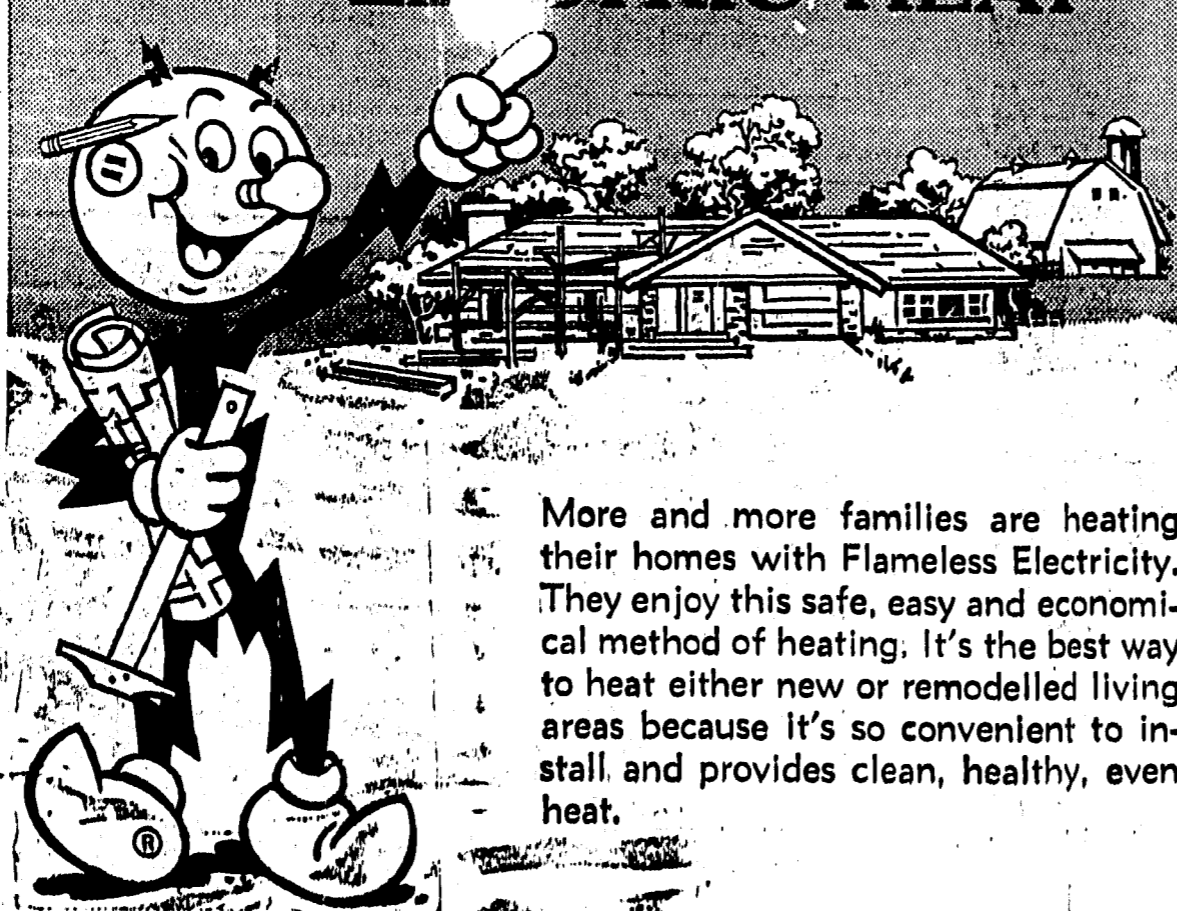

British Columbia, a burgeoning giant in the vast domain of Canada, must provide a necessary reservoir of highly skilled people in order to keep pace with severe competition in world trade. Recognizing these needs and its corporate responsibility in helping to meet the financial goal, Okanagan Telephone Company announces its contribution to the 3 Universities Capital Fund of $25,000 to be paid over a five year period.

Tips for Tots

Child-Safety-Day on Sunday, May 2 will aim at reducing the injury and death of Canada's children. The one day awareness campaign will be jointly sponsored by the Canadian Highway Safety Council and the National Safety League of Canada.

In this interest, the League and Council offer some tips for the tots:

Bike riders — slow down and look carefully before riding out of an alley or driveway.

Good manners are safe manners, riding a bike or playing. Be considerate of others: Playing rough can hurt the rough player and others, too.

Wait for the right time to cross the street. Jumping in front of cars is the sign of a show-off. Nobody likes show-offs.

Watch for cars, not only on streets but coming out of driveways, alleys or garages. A car being backed up can hide children from the driver.

Never leave it to the motorist to avoid a child. The child must always be alert and ready — and careful.

Blaming somebody else for an accident never makes a hurt feel better. Avoid the hurt in the first place by being sharp-eyed and careful.

Bicycle handlebars are for steering, not riding. Riding double — head for trouble.

Pick a safe place to play, away from traffic dangers. It's smart to be safe.

Privilege-Duty

by Rev Norman Tannar
The modern Church has a number of important, if not fatal flaws. It is subject to serious temptations. If it has ceased to be a vigorous community in the culture of our time, it is because so many members of the community have lost their understanding of the real nature of the Church and its everlasting mission to the world.

The best way to discover the nature, the shape and mission of the Church is to go back to the New Testament to learn how the Church began, and came to the knowledge of its purpose.

Now there is an idea abroad in our Churches that Church is a place where morally worthy persons gather together for the good of their own salvation. To them it is a democracy made up of assorted individuals who can vote on matters of Church policy and principle.

But the Church is not really a democracy at all. It is a theocracy and God is King. As E. E. Scott wrote: The Church did not arise from casual association of a number of Christians. It was a Kingdom into which men were called, a new community brought into being by Christ who was sent into the world to reconcile men to himself and to each other.

The Christian is not called just to privilege, but to duty. The law of the Kingdom is Love, the working principle of the Kingdom is Privilege-Duty.

No Help From Mother

DEAR DORIS — My mother never once offered to help me after my baby was born. I was really lost, as I had never taken care of a baby before.

The only time we hear about her is when she phones to tell us her troubles. We have helped her with money when my dad was out of work.

She never did much for me when I was young, either. She slept in while I grabbed toast and a glass of milk before I was off to school. My dresses were dirty and torn and never fitted right.

My husband thinks she is horrible, and wants nothing more to do with her.

Confused and Hurt

DEAR CONFUSED — Be thankful you got dragged up somehow and are now able to manage. Might as well accept her as she is, and always has been. Bearing a grudge helps no one.

DEAR DORIS — I have been separated from my faithless husband for years. I started going with a man whose wife ran around, too, and left him with two children who are now working, and living with their father.

Two years ago we put his daughter and mine together in my home while they attended high school, and we both worked away from home, coming home week ends. This did not work out as his daughter was not brought up the way mine was. She smokes, drinks, does not help with chores.

I am now in love with the girl's father and he says he loves me, but what can we do about it? We are not divorced or well off, and neither home is big enough for two families.

He tells me when the children are on their own we will get together. I hate this kind of life; I don't want to just go around with any man forever. Do you think I am wasting my time on him? There is nobody else. I'd care to go out with.

Couple will live in Alberta

The marriage of Mrs. L. James of Summerland and G. Sharp of Bashaw, Alberta, took place on Monday, April 19 at the home of the bride. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Norman Ion. Bridesmaids were Miss Lois Sharp and Miss Marilyn James. The groom was attended by Charlie James and Brian Sharp. A reception was given by the WMS of the Free Methodist Church in the IOOF Hall with about 70 relatives and friends. The hall was decorated with pink and white streamers and balls. Preston Mott acted as master of ceremonies.

Rev. J. James of Kelowna proposed the toast to the bride, responded to by the groom.

After refreshments J. James family sang a number of songs. Out of town guests included Mr and Mrs Boyd and daughter of Alberta, Mrs Kohl and two daughters; Miss Lois Sharp and Brian of Alberta; Mr and Mrs L. Bourgaynes and two sons of Kam'ons; Carol and Donald James of Victoria; and Mr and Mrs Ken Luck of Penticton; Mr and Mrs Ken MacCallum of Chilliwack.

The couple will live in Bashaw Alberta.

SCOUT SHORTS

1st Summerland Troop

In the first meeting after the holidays we had almost perfect attendance with 27 boys. Mr W Eyre, vice-president of the Legion, our sponsor was present to give Queen Scout rings to Scouts: Inch, Lackey and Fenwick.

The program, because of the start of Daylight Saving Time consisted of stalking and other games up the mountain back of the Youth Centre. Several boys also worked on 1st Class tests.

This coming Saturday is Scout Apple Day. The three Scout groups meet in full uniform at the high school at 9:45 a.m. for the canvass between 10 and 12 noon: Funds obtained from Apple Day are split among the three groups and used for equipment, camping and other needs.

Next Monday night the troop will work on pruning and training trees for the Christmas tree project. Trees which have been cut can by proper pruning be made to grow a saleable top. Mr Fenwick will be in charge of the program. Boys are asked to bring pruning or other small saws, or small sharp hatchets.

In the patrol competition just concluded, winners were the Eagles who will receive a silver compass. Duty patrol next week, Beavers.

Corporation of Summerland PROCLAMATION

To the Citizens of Summerland:

Thanks to the intensive efforts of research scientists, doctors and lay educators; significant progress is being made in the fight against cancer. But each advance in medical science only emphasizes the urgency to make sure that people act on these advances and that no clue to further success is left unfollowed.

For this reason, I am pleased to proclaim the week of May 2 to 8 as Conquer Cancer Week in Summerland, and I urge you to give generously to support the Canadian Cancer Society's programs of cancer research, education and welfare services.

It is also fitting that we set aside one day in which to focus our prayers for the ultimate conquest of cancer and to give thanks for the lives that are being saved through increased knowledge about this wasteful disease. For this reason I would ask you to observe Sunday, May 2 as Cancer Sunday.

Rangers week-end in Vancouver

The Easter holidays proved to be an exciting time for some members of the Penticton-Summerland Ranger Company.

For some time they had planned to broaden their horizons by taking a trip to Vancouver and packing three days full of new sights and activities.

The girls, through their own efforts, raised much of the money necessary to pay for their trip. To keep costs as low as possible they travelled at night and prepared all their own meals — except one.

Ranger Captain Mrs. Sandy Fenwick and Mrs. Gordon Ritchie accompanied the girls. Summerland Rangers Kay Fenwick, Angela Taylor, Rosemary Munn; Jane Miltimore and Dawn Ratzlaff were joined by Penticton Rangers Gay Carew-Gibson, Bet McIver, Dianne Leighton and Gail Johnson to make up the complete group.

After settling into a motel which was to be their home for three days, they visited the New Public Library. Here they were impressed with the spacious, pleasant surroundings and artful decor of the structure. Learning something of the scope of library services and the place of the librarian in today's search for knowledge has added a little more light on such a profession.

A totally new experience for some of the girls was to set foot on a sea-going ship. Under the guidance of the publicity officer of the Northland Shipping Company they were taken aboard the SS Northland Prince, which sails weekly between Vancouver and Stewart. The group was treated to a tour of everything on board from bridge to galley.

Good weather favored the girls and on their second morning in Vancouver Stanley Park's cycle paths resounded to the laughter of the Rangers as they rode tandem bicycles through the park, stopping to see most of the points of interest that car drivers see and a number that they don't.

In the afternoon they visited the campus at UBC which is an adventure in itself by nature of its very size and location. They reported that the Japanese Gardens were particularly beautiful in springtime dress.

A change of pace in the evening rested sore feet as they enjoyed the film Mary Poppins.

On the third morning the girls thrilled to an expansive view of Vancouver and the Pacific Ocean from the 19th floor of the BC Electric building.

My Fair Lady provided a musical treat for them at a Vancouver theatre on their third afternoon.

Dinner, on their last evening in Vancouver was the meal they did not prepare for themselves. Their leaders had carefully arranged for something very different. The girls were taken into what looked like a part of a South Pacific Island. There, in an exotic Polynesian setting with simulated starry skies they enjoyed a Polynesian meal. The atmosphere seemed so authentic that there were moments when they wondered if perhaps they had crossed the Blue Pacific, but they will have to save that for another day.

The time had come to pack and board the bus for the sunny Okanagan.

Special Announcement

ROSELAWN FUNERAL CHAPEL, 996 Main Street, Penticton, wishes to announce that the policy of advertising prices of funerals, or of the type of service we have to offer will continue as usual.

Due to the highly emotional nature of the funeral business, and our desire to acquaint the public with all aspects of our services, we consider it in the public interest to advertise prices. This allows for a calm and considered decision prior to need.

We are not associated with the Interior Funeral Directors' Association. Our personal business ethics require that we inform the public of prices and services available, and we dedicate ourselves as businessmen in this area, to serve in whatever capacity we are able.

WE BELIEVE OUR PRICES TO BE THE LOWEST IN

Survey starts for European Pine Moth

The European Pine Shoot Moth was discovered in the Okanagan Valley on ornamental pines imported from other areas. This insect can be destructive to the pines in the area and will attack native pines as well as the exotic types. Last year a survey was conducted to locate trees infested. The survey will be repeated again this year to see if the insect is present and what progress it has made, if any.

Beginning about May 10 you may see men looking around your premises for pines of all types and examining them closely. If any suspicious evidence is found that pines are infested they will snip off the twig for closer examination. They will not be mutilating trees or destroying them unless they are very seriously infested and only after notifying you of the problem. If they request information about the tree, such as where it was purchased and how long you have had it, any help you can give will be appreciated.

The provincial and federal departments of agriculture and forestry are co-operating in an effort to keep the insect out of the interior of BC, particularly the southern interior which is the pine growing area. All nurseries have been alerted and careful surveillance of pine moving into the area is maintained. You can help by not bringing pines into the area.

UBC Alumni meet here May 6
