

COUNCILLORS TAKE OATH
Reeve Holmes flanks the two Councillors who took the oath of office Monday afternoon at the annual statutory meeting. On the left is newly elected Councillor Doug Smith and on the right is Councillor Schaeffer who was elected from his second term.

Council meetings revert back to Tuesday evening

Reeve Holmes welcomed Councillor Jim Schaeffer back to the council table at their Statutory meeting Monday afternoon, and expressed his pleasure of having newcomer Councillor Doug Smith with them.

"I am sure you will have good advice to offer the community", he said.

He said there are times when council gets into a few heated discussions but "we never let it become personal and we don't take it away from this chamber."

Regional Industrial Development Director Ted Atkinson informed council there would be a conference in Vernon on February 2 and 3.

Don Estabrooke, member of the Summerland Industrial Development Committee resigned his post because he was taking up a position with the Department of Natural Resources and would not be available. Reeve Holmes had made contact with Joe Akitt and he volunteered to act on this committee.

The following committee heads were formed: Powell and Barkwill, water; Barkwill and Hill, roads; Schaeffer and Powell, electricity; Hill and Schaeffer, finance; Barkwill and Schaeffer, insurance; Hill, pounds; Powell and Hill, real estate; Barkwill and Holmes, fire; Hill and Schaeffer, parks, arena and recreation; Mrs. T. M. Croil, library; Powell, Parkdale Place; Hill, Advisory Planning Board; Barkwill, hospital.

One committee, that of the South Okanagan Health and Pollution Control was not filled.

The remuneration for members of council was increased. Councillors went from $600 per year to $700 while the Reeve from $1200 to $1500. The maximum according to the municipal act is $2000 for the Reeve and $700 for Councillors. The Reeve can be increased up to one third more than that by by-law.

The reason for the increase is that there is more and more work and time required to carry on council business. Some discussion took place questioning the possibility of increasing the council to six but no decision was made.

A complete report was received from the corporation's insurance broker regarding the condition of buildings from the standpoint of fire protection and some minor recommendations in the way of safety were made. Superintendent Blagborne will follow these up and report back to council. Bill Barkwill was elected Acting-Reeve.

The time of council meetings were changed from Tuesday mornings at 9:00 a.m. to 7:00 Tuesday evenings. There will be four meetings each month. In the months where there are five Tuesdays, there will only be meetings on the first four.

An appeal was made by Rev. and Mrs. K. V. Hlsvac for tax reductions or forgiveness on Mountain View Home due to the fact that it has been the target of vandals. They will be informed that council is not able to take such action according to the Municipal Act.

Reeve Holmes felt they should have protected their investment better than they did and had the place boarded up properly. "We can't help people with their personal losses any more than we can the fruit growers", he said.

The appointees on the Court of Revision are F. E. Atkinson, Don Wright and Bob Butler.

A change in the method of assessing business licences must be reviewed. In the past it has been done on yearly gross volume, but according to Clerk Gordon Smith, this method cannot be used anymore. Other methods are going to be looked in to.

A copy of the 1966 preliminary budget was handed councillors for their study and consideration. Action on this will be taken at a later meeting.

Skaters, family and friends enjoy gala skating party

The Summerland Figure Skating Club held their Christmas party on Monday, Dec. 27 at 4:00 p.m. in the Summerland Arena. At least 150 figure skating club members, parents, brothers and sisters of club members were in attendance.

Everyone enjoyed many novelty races and games, and a grand march in which everyone participated. After Santa Claus made an appearance and gave all the children candy canes, refreshments were served.

Plenty of fun on the ski hill

by Keith Bergh

There is little doubt whether the lovers of the slopes are spending every moment possible these days after all the fresh snow cover they have been enjoying recently. They are all up on the Summerland Ski Hill.

President Don Hermiston said Monday, "The hill is wonderful and we sure had a dandy weekend."

Yes, they did. About fifty took to the hill on Saturday and at least double that took advantage of some additional snow and kept the two tows busy all day Sunday.

Everyone can take part here. If you don't know how to ski you can take instructions with beginners and if you just wish to brush up on the sport, intermediate classes are being given.

There is no charge for the lessons for members or for those who pay the daily tow fees. All you have to do is register at the cabin this Sunday before 2:00 p.m. and you are on your way to learning a sport the whole family can take in.

No one changes for their services of looking after the tows the cabin or the hill. They all enjoy doing it — or at least certainly seem to.

There are three instructors — Don Hermiston, Don Agur and Bob Barkwill and anyone wishing to lend a hand in this department is welcome too apparently.

The Summerland Ski Club is an independent organization, but if they get their backs to the wall, the Summerland Rotary Club is there to help out.

Rotarians take turns to look after the coffee booth in the cabin and we understand they make enough money on the profits to pay for the gas in the tow motors.

There are two tows. One for the younger or more inexperienced skiers and one that takes you right to the top. There is no problem of getting off at any point on the slope. The interest since the snow has been real good. The membership climbed from zero to 70 in three days and is still going up.

If anyone is interested you can contact any of the executive or just go out to Prairie Valley Road on Sunday and follow the signs. When you get there, just tell anyone who looks like they know their way around that you want to ski and you are away.

Here is the executive: Don Hermiston, president; Paul Charles, vice president; Adrian Moyle, secretary; Ken Stuart, treasurer; directors are Don Agur, Bob Barkwill, Don Cristante, Ted Weeks, John Benest, Bill Baker, Ben Stent and Freda Agur.

The two ski tows operate every weekend.

Summerland resident dies while shovelling snow

Mr. John Gowans passed away suddenly December 28, at the age of 75 years, while shovelling snow.

Born in West Calder, Scotland, Mr. Gowans has resided in Summerland for the past 42 years during which time he operated a hardware store.

He was a member of Summerland Lodge No. 56, A. F. and A. M.

Surviving are his loving wife and numerous nieces and nephews. Family services were conducted from Wright's Funeral Home Thursday, Dec. 30 with Rev. Philip K. Louie officiating. Interment was in the Peach Orchard Cemetery. Wright's Funeral Home entrusted with arrangements.

Best citizen is being sought

The Summerland Chamber of Commerce held their usual executive meeting Monday night, and laid plans for choosing the Citizen of the Year.

The presentation of the Good Citizen Cup will be made on February 3 at a dinner meeting starting at 6:30 p.m. in the IOOF Hall.

They are now appealing to Summerland citizens to submit names of those they feel are deserving of this honor. They must be in the hands of secretary Alan Butler by Jan. 20.

When all the nominations have been submitted the Chamber will make the decision from that number. Nominations must be in writing, stating the reason the nominee feels their candidate is justified.

The Good Citizen Cup is presented annually to a Summerland citizen who in the opinion of the judges has proven herself, or himself, worthy of honor.

Employment opportunities good in area in some categories

The employment market in the Penticton local office area remained fairly active during the month of December, reports Irvine Moss, Manager of the Penticton National Employment Service.

While employment opportunities were not as plentiful as in previous months, there still was a good demand for workers in a number of occupations. "With regard to the immediate future may we, of the National Employment Service, remind all citizens that the Winter Employment Campaign will again get underway early in January," said Moss.

Most of us realize that seasonal unemployment has long been a costly feature of our growing and vigorous Canadian economy. The effects of winter unemployment are felt by almost everyone in our community. Therefore it is to the advantage of everyone to help create employment at this time of year.

"May we solicit your cooperation in making the Winter Employment Campaign a success again this year."

"If you are waiting until spring to have building alterations, repairs or redecoration completed in your business premises or your home, 'DO IT NOW' — yes, 'Do it now' while skilled tradesmen are available. If you wait until next spring or summer you will have to compete with the annual spring and summer demand. Remember that every dollar you spend now in helping to provide Winter Employment for others also helps the economy of your community."

"Support your local Winter Employment Campaign. For further information or assistance call your local National Employment Office at 492-3848."

Proper feed essential for pets during cold spell

During the winter weather it is essential that we observe a few elementary rules in the care of our pets and also wild birds. Dogs and cats which are kept in the house and only let out to exercise should not be left out for excessively long periods of time.

Heavy coated dogs which are normally kept outdoors at all times should have a draft-proof kennel or shelter to protect them from the elements, with dry bedding.

Canaries and budgies should be kept away from drafty windows and doors.

The S.P.C.A. receives numerous enquiries concerning feeding and watering of wild birds. A few drops of glycerine or mineral oil will prevent water from freezing. Chick scratch is a very good food as it contains cracked corn, which produces body heat. This and wheat screenings, also very good, are quite inexpensive at any feed store. Most people have on hand bread crusts or crumbs, crushed cereal, etc. Fats are essential during winter weather.

A lump of suet tied to your clothesline will do. A simple and effective feeder can be made by melting down dripping or any cooking fat. Add grain, cereal, crumbs, peanut butter or anything the birds will eat; pour into a mold such as a milk carton having first threaded string through so that when you have chilled the mass until firm, then torn off the cardboard, you have a compact block ready to tie your clothesline or anywhere off the ground in a protected area, safe from cats.

W. R. Matkovich passes at 50 years

Wencil Frank Matkovich passed away in Summerland General Hospital on December 25 at the age of 50 years.

Born in Roundup, Montana, he had resided in Summerland for the past nine years.

Surviving are his loving wife Helen; three sons, Roger of Port Moody; Gary of Calgary, a nephew of Golden; one daughter, Wendy at home; three grandchildren; one brother, Cyril of Beech, Manitoba. He was predeceased by two brothers, Mike in 1961 and Joe in Feb., 1965.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, Dec. 28th from the Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses in Summerland with Mr. Irvin Felker officiating.

Interment in Peach Orchard Cemetery. Wright's Funeral Home were entrusted with arrangements.

BRIDGE RESULTS

Snow and blowing snow prevented many from attending the bridge competition in the Rosedale Room of the Legion Monday night, but competition was keen and a good night was enjoyed. Here are the results:

NORTH-SOUTH — Iras Cartrell and Joan Paslawski; Wilf Evans and H. Hughes; Fred Evans and Jack Garraway.

EAST-WEST: Peggy MacRae and Marg Berry; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stewart; Merle Stewart, and Gordon Hepperle.

Review publication time changed

The Summerland Municipal Council have changed their meeting time from 9:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. Tuesday.

In the past, it has been possible to report and publish the council news so it will appear in the same weeks paper, with the printing of it being done Tuesday afternoon.

In view of the fact that the meetings have been changed to evenings, the publishing time of the Review must be moved back so, instead of boxholders getting their paper shortly after noon Wednesday, in the future they will find it in their box first thing Thursday morning.

Delivery to Summerland Rural Route will remain unchanged. It will go out as usual with the Thursday morning delivery.

This change has been made to enable readers to get the news of their council meetings as soon as possible. Otherwise it would be a week late which would be of little value.

The Junior Figure Skating competitions will be held in the Summerland Arena at 3:30 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 6.

The first groups on the ice will be the Beginners at 3:30 p.m. and the Novice A figures at the same time. The Novice B and C start at 5:00 p.m. and the Novice A free skating starts at 6:00 p.m.

The trophies and cups will be awarded at 6:30 p.m. The judges this year will be Mr. P. Minchin and Mr. W. A. "Bud" Stewart as well as four senior skaters: Nigel Blagborne, Marjorie Porritt, Shelvey Erickson and Ann Forster.

The senior competitions will be held a little later in the season.

HOUSE BURNS ON PURPOSE

When a house burns, usually many of the citizens turn out to watch. They follow the fire truck out, and often get in the way of the firemen. Not here — there were neither firemen or spectators at this one.

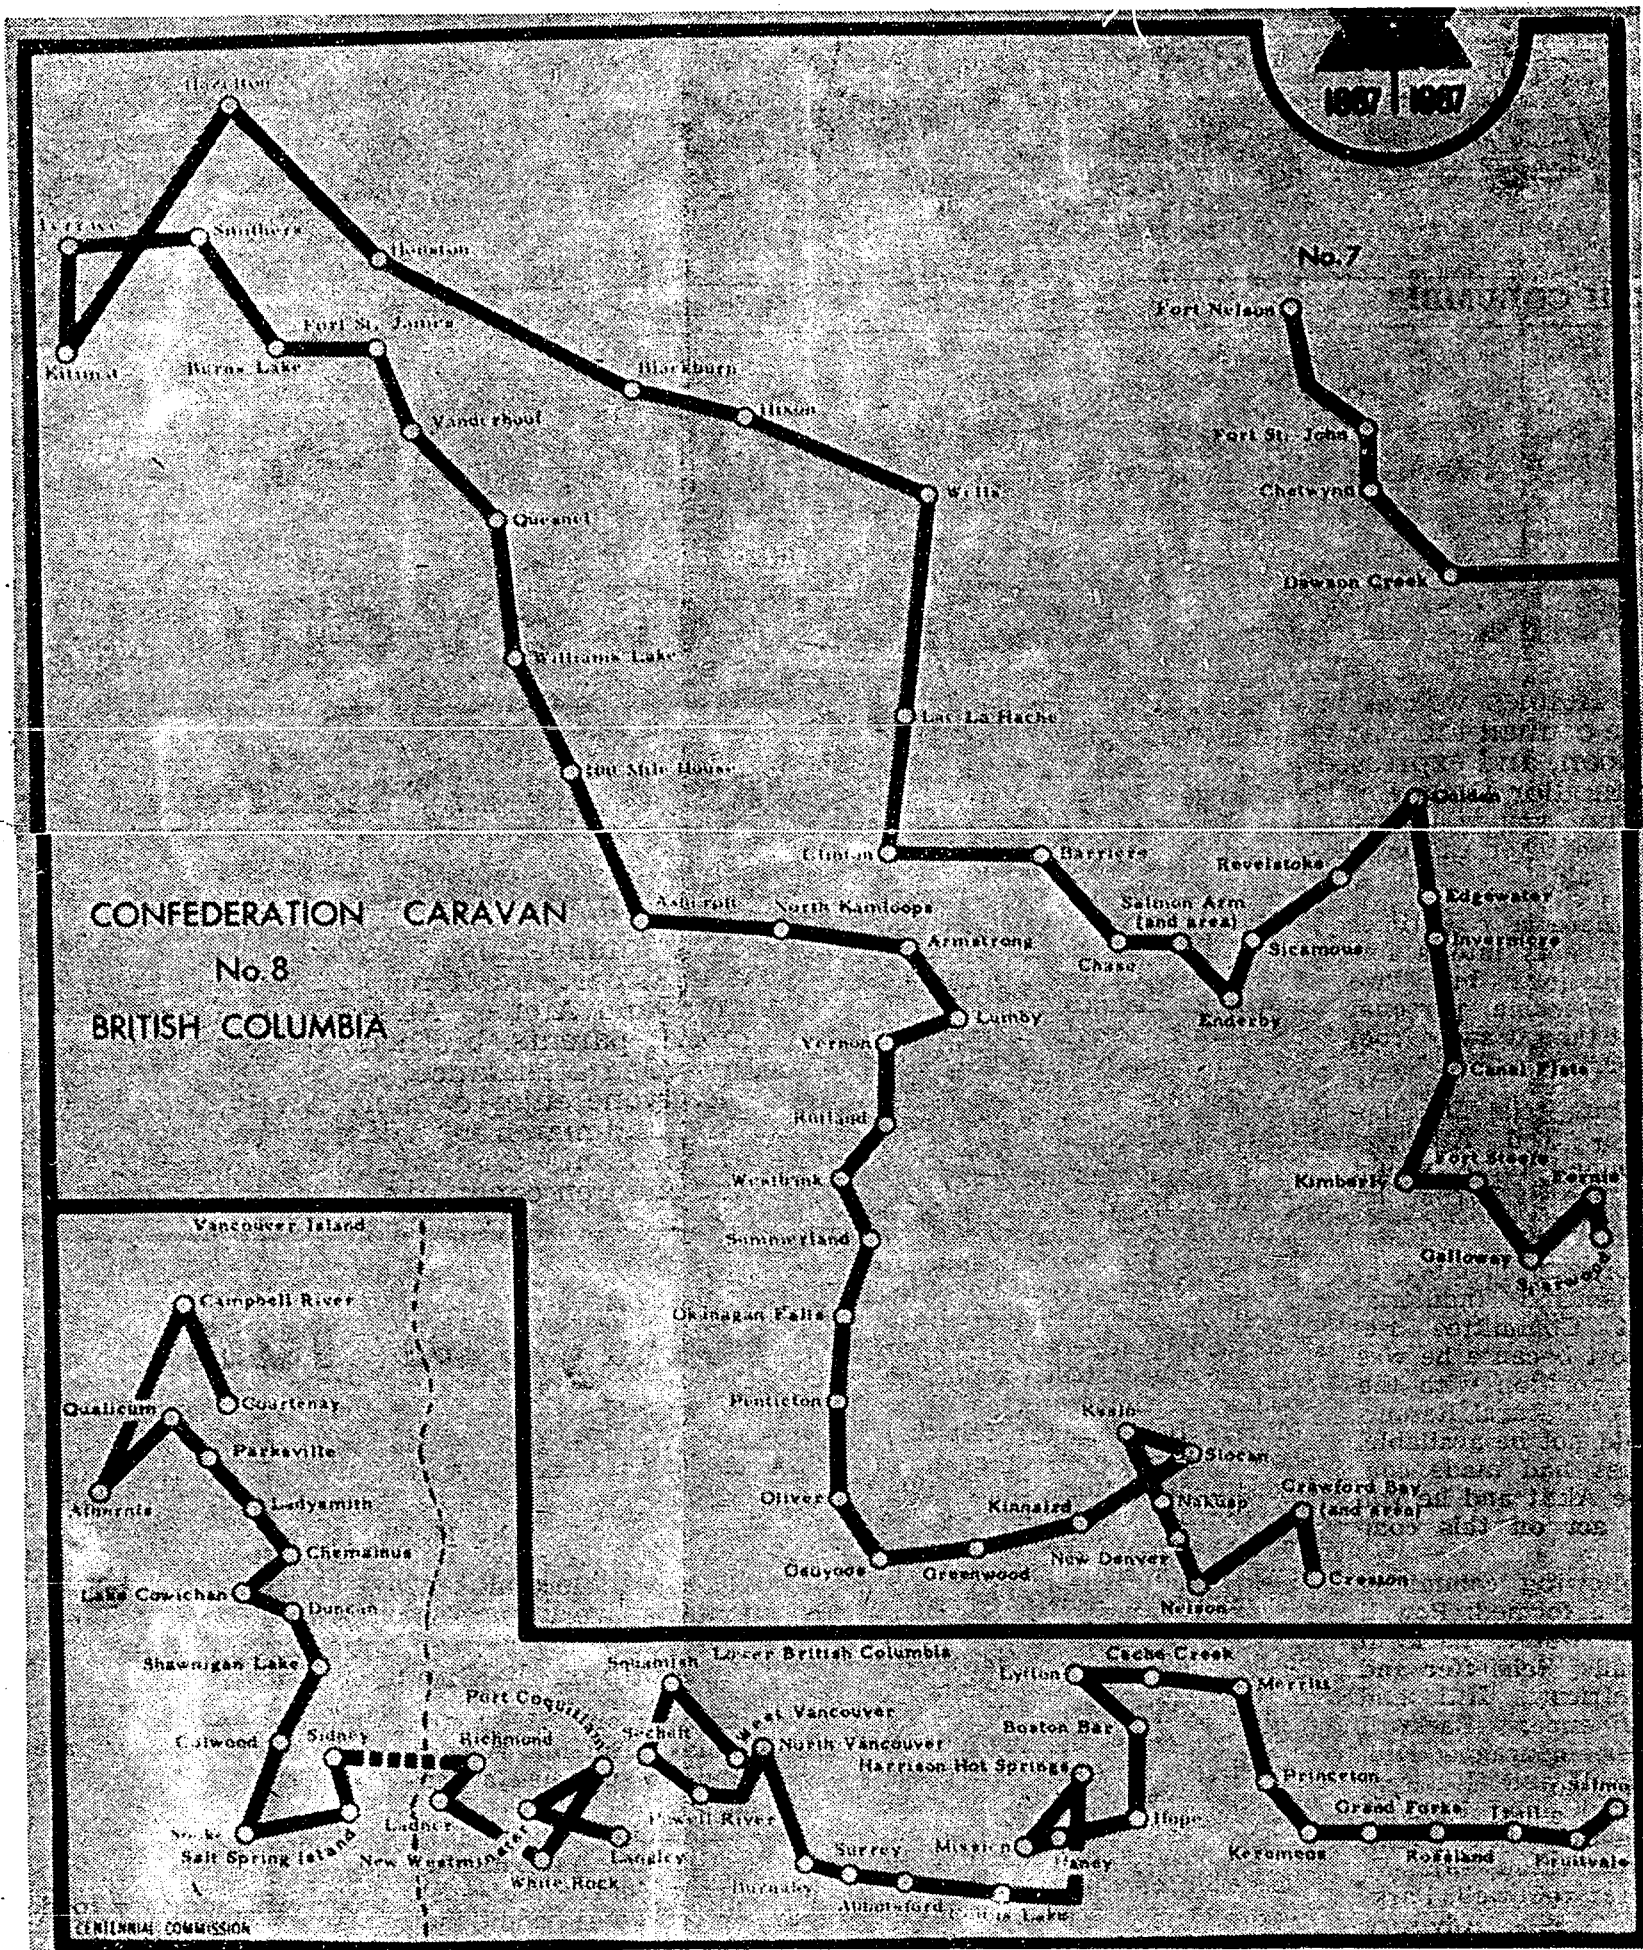

It was an old house in the Barkwill orchard on Giant's Head Road they felt was an eyesore, so Wednesday, while there was plenty of snow cover, they set it on fire. When this picture was taken, all that was left standing was the chimney.

GREAT FUN IN THE SNOW

The snow drifts aren't this high in Summerland, but David and Kenny Tannar are pleased that the snow the municipal crews hauled off streets on Wednesday are so close to home. Some may not be pleased with winter, but these fellows sure are. They are sons of Rev. and Mrs. Norman Tannar.

Map released recently by the Canadian Confederation Centennial Committee of British Columbia shows the route planned by the Confederation Caravan Tour planned for B.C. in 1967.

Successful year by local Duplicate Bridge Club

Organized less than two years ago the South Okanagan Duplicate Bridge Club appears to be firmly established and is looking forward to further expansion. As many as twenty tables have been in play at the Legion's Rosedale Room where open competitions are held every Monday evening at 7:30.

Competition is under American Contract Bridge League rules and awards have world wide recognition. The success of the local club must be credited to Dr. Wilfred Evans for his enterprising leadership, ably assisted by Bert Berry as director and Mrs. Pearl Lachie as secretary-treasurer.

It is hoped this year to publish particularly interesting hands that have actually been played and a committee of Bill Hepperle, holder of a National Master's Certificate, and Fred Evans has been set-up for this purpose.

Organized less than two years ago the local club must be credited to Dr. Wilfred Evans for his enterprising leadership, ably assisted by Bert Berry as director and Mrs. Pearl Lachie as secretary-treasurer. While many hands will receive quite uniform treatment, it is interesting and surprising the different results others will produce, from a successful slam to five down on the same cards. This is the challenging appeal of the systems used as well as the player's skill. It doesn't always, as any loser will attest, and it's a lot of fun trying to prove it. Drop in Monday evening.

Summerland Review — 3

An Appealing View

We made the climb up Giant's Head with Jim Marshall, and enjoyed every moment of it. Little wonder residents of fifty years ago discussed the recreational possibilities up there.

It has taken many years of dreaming and recently, planning, to come as far as we now are. A park will soon be located at about 200 feet from the summit.

Those who have never been up possibly doubt the wisdom of placing a park so near the top of the mountain for lack of room. Have no fear — there is room for many tables and benches — and only a stones throw away, is a view that can only be made possible by the Divine. It Summerland has not the finest Centennial project in Canada — it certainly will rate among the top.

Beyond the park area and up about 200 feet is the summit of Giant's Head. The "Head" put our heads in the clouds that day so we could see little but it doesn't take imaginary genius to realize what an appalling view it must be after seeing clearly just below this point.

There is no other way to go but up. A road must be built before the job on the park can be completed. Now the Centennial committee needs cooperation from us all — the municipal council — the community, and the organizations within the community. Let us not be petty, let us get on with the job. It will be so much part of a great future that lies ahead for Summerland — a future we must make ourselves.

An interesting case history . . .

The record of Saskatchewan's 20-year experience under a Socialist government is the subject of a recent study. Viewed as a whole, it is a significant story.

Of the 19 government-owned corporations set up in an attempt to implement the Socialist theme of state ownership of the means of production, about half went bankrupt or were disposed of; the others operated at a loss and had to be bailed out each year by the taxpayers, or returned a profit only by virtue of their monopolistic power.

While the rest of Canada and the U.S. were experiencing an unprecedented boom, industrial development in Saskatchewan lagged. In 1963, last full year of the CCF government, only $225,000 was spent by mining companies on development in the province; this year they will spend more than $7 million. In 1963 oil companies drilled 997 wells; this year they will drill about 1,800.

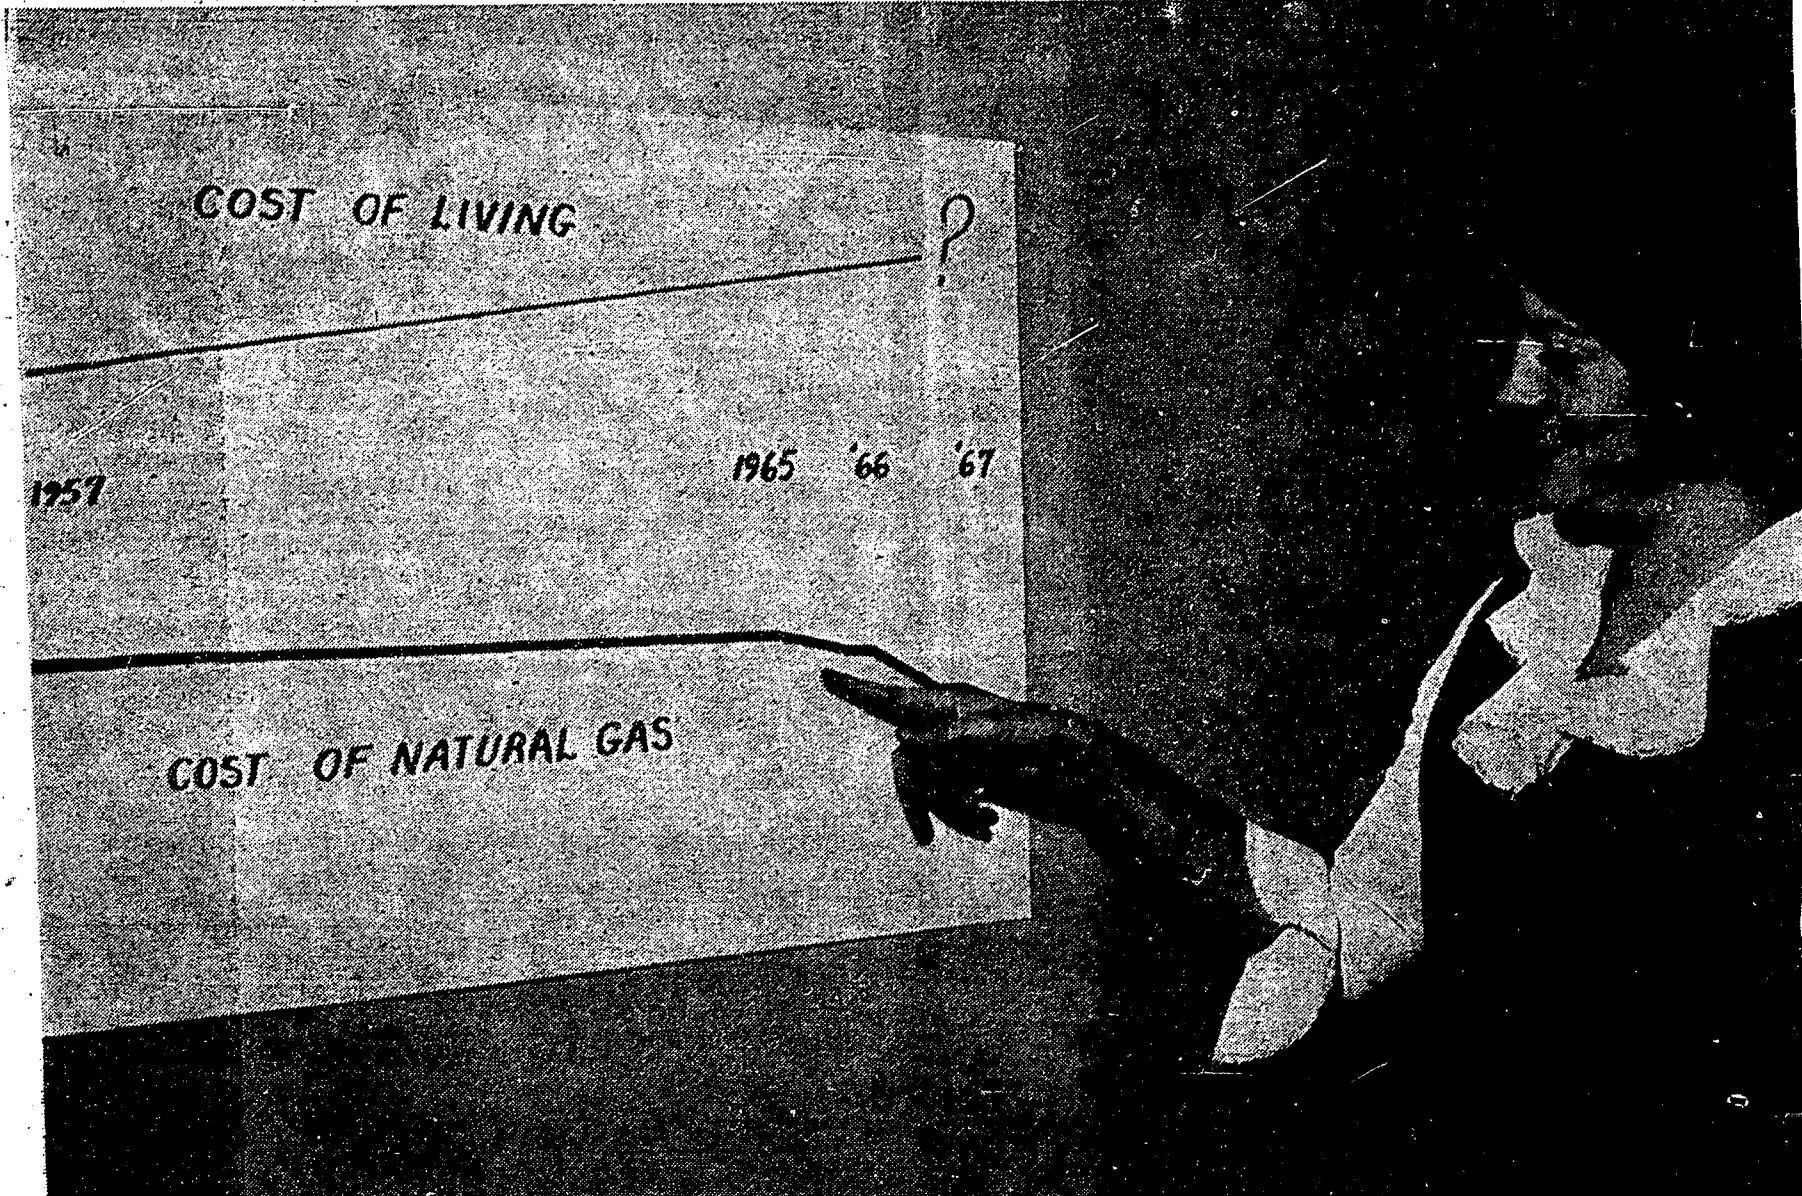

Under the Socialist government the highest number of major mining companies doing extensive exploration in the north was eight; this year there are 55. Management of government enterprise adopted a stand-pat, negative philosophy; for example, the publicly-owned electric and natural gas utility viewed big industrial customers as antagonists, rather than a means of benefiting smaller customers through the expanded transmission services that big customers make essential.

Taxes needed to finance welfare programs proliferated, to the point where the per capita revenue of the Saskatchewan government is highest of any of the provinces. Finally, and perhaps most important, several hundred thousand residents moved away to seek jobs and opportunities in other provinces; in the 20 years under socialism, Saskatchewan's population increased by only 13 percent, compared to a 59 per cent increase in the country as a whole in the same period.

The new Liberal premier, Ross Thatcher, former Socialist who sat in the House of Commons for three terms as a CCF member, summed it up for the magazine writer: "There's only one thing wrong with socialism — it just doesn't work."

Saskatchewan provides a case history proving the point. —Vancouver Province

Pictured above is Inland Natural Gas Co. Ltd. employee, Miss Maureen Erskine, who points out the Company's lower rates for natural gas to residential and commercial users. Reductions in gas bills will vary between 4 percent and 16 percent effective immediately, with further rate adjustments being considered. The new lower rates represent the first revision of the General Tariff since natural gas was turned on in 1957 and it is expected that further reductions will follow.

Asphiles, torn clothes and dirty faces

(Held Over From Last Week.)

By M. Schultz — Trout Creek Church of God
To our way of thinking, people of the past have done some very strange things. It is probable that to future generations our way of thinking and acting in certain situations will also seem rather strange.

Probably you are wondering "Well, what do asphiles, torn clothes and dirty faces have in common?" Let us become even more involved. We could add such things as putting on sackcloth, lying face down on the ground, pulling out hair and weeping. What is the common denominator of these actions? They all refer to ancient practices of expressing sorrow or repentance.

At one time, sitting on a pile of ashes was an accepted way of showing anguish and sorrow. It was common for persons to tear their clothing to show horror at times that had been said or done. In fact, for the priesthood there was even a prescribed way of tearing their clothing. The prophet Ezra plucked out the hair of his beard in agony over Israel's sin. On occasions we read of whole communities putting on camels' hair sackcloth garments to show their repentance. Tears are as old as mankind and as young as a newborn baby as a sign of distress.

We too have our ways of showing sorrow and repentance. However, outward signs of religious emotion are easily manifest and can be hypocritical. But to feel true repentance is far more difficult and therefore far less common. True repentance is too humbling, too heart-searching and too thorough to be put on as an act. True repentance is an experience which makes us give up that which is wrong and take up that which is right.

Mexican trip now costs less

An 11 per cent cut in the 17-day economy excursion round-trip fare from Penticton and the South Okanagan to Mexico City was announced by Canadian Pacific Airlines.

The excursion fare will drop to $237 from $267. The regular round-trip will drop 8½ per cent to $322 from $352 in economy class and 6½ per cent to $428 from $458 in first class. There will be similar reductions in one-way fares.

The fare cuts became effective January 1, subject to government approval. The new fares are identical to those of Vancouver, Victoria, Calgary and Edmonton. CPA explained that the equalization was carried out since the Penticton airport is an intermediate point on its route between Vancouver, Calgary and Mexico City.

Heinz Foedisch shows paintings

The show is sponsored by the Penticton Art Club. Foedisch has one abstract showing and all the others are outdoor scenes "finished on the spot".

The show continues until Jan. 15. It is open evenings between 7 and 9 p.m.

First deer hit on Highway 97

The first report of a deer being hit on Highway 97 north of Summerland has been received by RCMP.

The police were called out on Wednesday, Dec. 29, to attend to a deer which had been hit but not killed near the Antlers picnic site.

Damage to the vehicle driven by Carson Weisbeck of Rutland was less than $100.

RCMP say they believe the highways department will erect 40 m.p.h. speed limit signs between Summerland and Westbank early in the new year.

Snow problem

Before the arrival of the motor car to further complicate our lives, we were not upset by a foot or even two feet of snowfall.

Man discovered long ago that the sled runner was far superior to the wheel for travel through snow.

Travel through snow was not much of a problem in those pre-pneumatic days. We just switched from wheels to runners, from the rattle and clatter of iron shod wheels to the musical jingle of sleigh bells.

How those sleigh bells did jingle! The manufacture of

ORCHARD RUN

By Wally Smith

sleigh bells was developed to a fine art, and the customer could choose from a wide selection of every note in the musical scale, and there were harmonized sets tuned in perfect thirds and fifths.

In the old prairie homestead days winter travel never came to a standstill except during the height of a blizzard. Horses and sleighs always got through. Traffic was slowed down while breaking trail after a fresh snowfall, but after the passage of two or three teams the road was again back to normal.

Now when we get a foot of snowfall we think it is a major disaster. Highways are blocked until the snowplow comes along, and orchardists with a long lane-out to the road find they have a lot of shovelling to do — unless they are fortunate enough to own a tractor operated snowplow.

Growers who can't afford one of those expensive blades can do as I did — make one at a cost of only a few dollars and a few hours of work — a snowplow that does an excellent job.

Now that we are using bins for harvesting all kinds of fruit, every grower with a tractor has a fork lift attachment, and this is the foundation and working mechanism of my snowplow.

The blade consists of two 2-inch planks about 10 or 12 inches wide and a foot or 18 inches longer than the width of the tractor.

A piece of steel three sixteenths of an inch thick, four inches wide, and as long as the plank is bolted to one of the planks with the steel projecting one-half inch below the plank edge. Ten or 12 bolts are needed. This is the working edge of the snowplow and it rests on the ground.

Two rectangular holes are cut in this plank about two inches above the edge of the steel plate, the holes being spaced the same distance apart as the fingers on the fork lift.

The fingers are now threaded through the holes and the plank shoved all the way on. The steel shod side faces backwards.

The second plank is placed on edge above the lower plank, and the two are bolted together with 24 inch lengths of heavy angle from a few inches from each end.

Two injured in car accident

The first accident was reported in Summerland for the year when a car driven by W. John Berg, Summerland, collided with one driven by Moneen Clifford of Penticton on the Ski Hill Road at 2:45 p.m. Sunday.

The Clifford car was proceeding towards Summerland and the Berg car towards the ski hill.

While making a curve Mr. Berg was on the left side of the road and struck Miss Clifford. Damage to both cars was estimated at $400.

There was heavy snow on the road.

Mrs. Berg suffered a fractured knee cap and Bruce Hallquist, Summerland, a passenger in the Clifford car, had two of his front teeth knocked out. Both were taken to the Summerland hospital. The drivers were not injured.

Berg was charged by Summerland RCMP with failing to give half of the highway.

from a point near the end of each finger straight back and down to the bottom edge of the steel shod blade. Side braces run from the same point on the fingers to the right and left ends of the blade. This bracing gives the plow great strength.

This simple inexpensive device will push snow either backwards or forwards. The snow can be angled off to the side by using two long braces on one side and short braces on the other side of the blade.

Alex Watt holds 8-week course

District Horticulturist Alex Watt is instructing an eight-week course in the propagation of fruit trees in Summerland. It started Monday night.

The course is sponsored by the B.C. Department of Agriculture.

Most of the registrations came from Summerland but growers from other areas in the southern Okanagan are also represented. Registrations were accepted on a first-come-first-served basis.

The course will cover the culture of fruit trees from the beginning, including root stocks and grafting. The curriculum is designed so that it will meet the needs of both experienced and beginning growers.

Assisting Mr. Watt will be guest speakers — fruit experts discussing aspects of propagation.

Pucksters unable to hold lead

by Ron Kostelniuk

In Midget hockey action last week, Summerland managed to take the lead at one time, but lost. They played twice and lost both, and the Juveniles and Pee Wees lost their outings.

In MIDGET action, at Penticton on Tuesday, the Home Team dumped the visitors 8-3. Penticton took a 4-1 first period lead and never looked back. John Liebert scored the Summerland goal with the assist going to defenceman Rob Munro. Garry Bullock and Jim Haddrell scored the other goals. Defenceman Rob Munro got the assist on Bullock's goal while Bullock got the assist on Haddrell's goal.

On Sunday, at the Arena, the boys took an early 3-0 lead but wound up on the short end of an 11-7 score. Robin Agur was the top man as he scored a hat trick as well as getting an assist. Rob Munro got the first goal of the game and Alan Nilson got the assist. Agur made the score 2-0 when the homeowners had a man advantage. He was assisted by Bryce Parker. 30 seconds later, John Liebert made it 3-0 with the help of Dave Khalemback and Nilson. Then Kelowna got hot and pumped in four goals. Summerland was outscored 3-2 in the second. Nilson, assisted by Kalemback and Liebert, and Agur, assisted by Jim Haddrell scored the Summerland goals. In the third, Kelowna outscored Summerland 4-2. Agur, assisted by Kalemback, and Jim Jenner unassisted, scored for the losers. Each team had two penalties including a 10 minute misconduct to Jim Jenner of Summerland.

In JUVENILE action on Thursday night at the Arena, a goal at the 7:19 of the opening period by George Jenner, assisted by Bill White, gave Summerland a 1-0 lead but Penticton then scored four times in the first and won handily 8-1.

In PEE-WEE action in a game played on the 27th, visiting Penticton knocked off the locals 10-7. Penticton put the game on ice when they outscored Summerland 5-2 in the middle frame. It was 3-2 for Penticton after the first. Ken Ackles, scoring his first of two goals, and Ray Lenzi scored for Summerland. Lenzi helped on one and then went in for another unassisted notch. In the second, Ray Stevenson, unassisted and Bart Stevenson, assisted by Ackles and Lenzi. In the third, Ackles, Kurt Roberge, and Tim Araki did the scoring with assists going to Lenzi, Stevenson, Hava and Erikson.

Snow removal crews out for first time

Snow removal crews were out Wednesday night clearing streets for the first time this year. Early morning drivers found roads in the business section of town much easier to navigate than they had been for several days before.

Signs were posted on Granville Road Tuesday asking motorists not to leave vehicles parked on the main streets from 6 p.m. Tuesday to 6 p.m. Wednesday so that crews would not be hampered in their task.

New radio and weather station opened at Castlegar airport

The new Radio and Weather Station at Castlegar Airport commenced operation on December 1, 1965.

The station is operated by the Department of Transport, Telecommunications & Electronics staff, formerly at Crescent Valley, who have now been transferred to the enlarged Castlegar Air Terminal. Their departure from Crescent Valley ended a weather watch at that station which started in 1939 in the early days of Air Canada and continued day in and day out for 26 years.

There will now be a 24-hour weather observing program at Castlegar and, with this increase in observing frequency, it will be possible to provide the West Kootenay area with additional weather service, both for aviation and public interests. Hourly Castlegar weather observations will be sent to the B. C. Weather Office at Vancouver International Airport over high speed teleference point in the Kootenay-North Thompson region of the public forecast. This added service recognizes the increasing importance of the West Kootenays to the B.C. economy.

The new radio station at Castlegar will continue to provide service to aircraft, as was formerly done at Crescent Valley.

Plenty of snow on highways but only two accidents reported

Praise and caution came from Cpl. Bud Stohl of the Summerland RCMP this week. Praise for motorists in their behaviour during December and a warning to travellers about deer now on Highway 97 from Summerland to Westbank.

There were only two reportable accidents during December for which Cpl. Stohl is most thankful. "The traffic was exceptionally good" he said, "and I certainly wish to thank everyone, it was wonderful."

The second deer of the year was killed on the highway near Peachland last week when Lynn Spraggs of Prince George hit one with his car and reported it to RCMP.

Motorists are warned to be very careful between Summerland and Westbank from now on since there is heavy snow. Especially at night, Cpl. Stohl said.

CARD OF THANKS

During the year, and especially the holiday season just passed, many groups, organizations, merchants and individuals have contributed to the comfort and enjoyment of our guests, by supplying in and out of the Home, flowers, fruit and vegetables, magazines and individual comforts.

It has been impossible to thank everyone for these, as in some cases the donors were anonymous — but on behalf of the guests in Parkdale Place, the Management wishes to extend thanks and appreciation for the pleasure and enjoyment which these kindly services have brought to our senior citizens, particularly those who are unable to leave the Home for entertainment. We wish also to thank the doctors and nurses for their care during the year and members of the Post Office staff.

Summerland enjoys moderate temperature during December

The Summerland Research Station reports a high of 49 degrees during the month of December and a low of 13 above.

The high mark was reached on December 5th and the low on December 29th. The mean maximum was 35.03 and the mean minimum 27 degrees for an overall average of 31.02.

By the end of the month a depth of 8 inches of snow was on the ground.

Injuries plague Summerland boys

A hockey game in Regina brought bad news to Summerland as two of our local boys, while playing with the Flin Flon Bombers of Manitoba, received severe injuries. Joe Beggs received a broken nose and Larry Young is in hospital with a cracked hip.

Those who are familiar with Joe's fighting spirit will not be surprised that, after being fitted with a football mask to protect his nose, Joe was in the line-up the following game as the team left for a road trip and has been doing his share of the playing. Larry, however was not so fortunate. He was left behind in the hospital where he will remain for a time.

Earlier in the season another defenceman was put out with a broken finger and with Young now out of play (and it is doubtful whether he will return to hockey this year) the Flin Flon Bombers are feeling the pinch with one remaining defenceman.

Those of you who have been wondering what has been happening to M. Gillard, who was originally signed up with the big league, has been attending Denver University. News from Flin Flon has brought us in touch with him.

Miles has been working in Flin Flon, probably taking a breather, and coaching a juvenile team there. However, he soon will be back at Denver completing his education there. We still hope to see Miles make the big league before too many years.

Car damaged on initial run

An accident in Summerland involving two cars caused a total of $135 damage on Friday at 5:30 p.m.

William Gudeit pulled over to the right shoulder of the road on Highway 97 to allow an oncoming bus to pass before making the turn to Victoria Gardens. Just as the bus went by, he proceeded to turn left and Carl Nielson, also of Summerland who was proceeding north, ran into the left side of his car. There were no injuries.

Mr. Gudeit went before Magistrate Johnston on Tuesday morning and paid a fine of $15 and costs for making an illegal left turn.

He was on his way home after purchasing the car in Pentiction.

Diana Waterhouse in horse mix-up

Linda Smith, 15, of Pentiction, escaped injury when the horse she was riding collided with a car at West Bench Road and Highway 97 Saturday.

Police said the rider lost control of the horse on the icy conditions of the West Bench Road.

The horse ran onto the highway and was in collision with a car driven by Diana Waterhouse of Summerland.

Police estimate $200 damage to the car.

The horse escaped injury.

Four figure skaters in provincial finals

Four members of the Summerland Figure Skating Club will compete with the best in the province this week when the B.C. Figure Skating Championships are held in Pentiction.

The competitions run through Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Jan. 13, 14 and 15, hosted by Pentiction's Glengarry Club, under the chairmanship of Harley Andrew, Cariboo, and Okanagan Mainline.

Anno Forster, Nigel Blagborne, Ann Porritt and Cathy Minchin are the local skaters competing. Anne and Nigel are entered in the Novice Mixed Pair, and are teamed with Pat Roberts and Raymond Campbell of Pentiction in the Junior Ladies Pair, and the latter will also compete in the Juvenile Ladies' Singles event.

Miss Dolores Causter, the club professional for both Summerland and Pentiction Glengarry clubs, has a total of 13 skaters entered of the total 108 from 23 clubs.

HOME FROM A JAMAICA HOLIDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Clair Elsey of Summerland and Mr. and Mrs. W. McGill of Victoria returned on Friday, Jan. 6 from a trip to Jamaica.

They left by boat from New Westminster on Nov. 12 and returned by plane via Toronto to Vancouver.

Both the Elseys and the McGills had a very enjoyable and worthwhile eight weeks away from their homes.

Joint meeting for Church ladies

The ladies of the St. Stephens W.A. are hosting the ladies of the United Church W.A. after their regular meetings on Monday, Jan. 17 at 9:15 p.m.

The two groups are joining to see films presented by the Summerland Camera Club. Refreshments will be served.

Mrs. M. T. Croil, Summerland regional library representative, in a letter to council, asked them to provide more library space for the expanding community.

She said the library has shrunk as the population of Summerland has increased and suggested a children's bay should be provided.

She asked council to consider expenditure in this direction in the 1966 budget.

She explained that books are now being piled on tables as there is not enough room on shelves, and was confident that the efficient works department could make the changes with a minimum of cost.

After considerable discussion council concluded that books in the library were kept active and assumed there was little or no dead stock. Superintendent Blagborne and Reeve Holmes will make a study of the situation and report back to council.

Bernie Hume-Smith was suggested by the Summerland Chamber of Commerce to replace Doug Hill as their representative on the Summerland planning commission. This was approved.

Councillor Barkwill praised the public works department in the way they have handled the snow on the streets.

Barkwill, who attended a Regional Planning Board Meeting the following day, told council when the Regional District is formed, their duties will be taken over by that body.

In the meantime they will carry on as soon as in 1965 on the same basis and will requisition council for 75c per capita for their operation. To avoid overpayment, they will be billed quarterly.

The Regional District is expected to be formed about mid-year.

Dave MacDonald, Assistant Regional Planner has resigned his position effective January 21 and will take up a position in Calgary.

Having recognized the possibilities of the Okanagan, Hon. Frank Richter, B. C. Agricultural Minister, suggested a study be made under the ARDA program according to Councillor Barkwill.

The development of orchards and tourism would be the subject of study.

Mr. Barkwill had attended a Pentiction meeting of the directors of hospitals in the region.

The Deputy Minister of Municipal Affairs was to attend but could not fly due to the weather.

He was to explain the role of the proposed regional district could play as far as hospitals are concerned.

In his absence, Regional Planning Director John Northey spoke.

Barkwill explained to council that some locations are having problems.

Oliver is in a position where they need a new hospital, but due to the lack of population of the village, they could not

A delegation was appointed to study as to how hospitals could operate on a regional basis.

December accounts for a total of $99,947.65 were authorized paid.

The Boy Scouts were given permission to cut Christmas trees on Giant's Head above James Lake and Trussells. This move was suggested in a letter by Leader Bob Barkwill as they felt this would not hamper the view up the proposed road to the Centennial Park on top of the mountain.

The letter stated they are cutting trees under the conservation practices but reforestation has been a failure. Of the 700 planted, few survived.

Reeve Holmes said if trees are cut properly there is no stump waste and you can continue to get trees for many years from the same stump.

Council went into committee to study the budget for 1966. It must be passed before Monday, January 17th.

New minister is appointed

Reverend Gordon Venning Stenner, newly appointed as Pastor and youth Counsellor at the Summerland Free Methodist Church, has a vital concern, and fully integrated program for the youth, older folk and young couples of the southern Okanagan area.

Mr. Stenner was born, raised and educated in Vancouver and attended the Canadian Bible College in Regina, Sask. Despite heavy involvement as Convention speaker, lay youth leader, Theological Faculty member, sports Director, basketball and baseball coach, he was Divisional Sales Manager of a large Canadian investment firm.

Mr. Stenner, his wife Zeno and children Thana and Lisa, extend a hearty welcome to the warm and personable folk of lovely Summerland to attend their various activities.

TO SKATE IN FINALS

Ann Forster and Nigel Blagborne will compete in the B.C. Figure Skating finals in Pentiction on Friday and Saturday in the Novice Mixed Pair and are teamed with Pat Roberts and Raymond Campbell of Pentiction in the Junior Mixed Four. They are members of the Summerland Figure Skating Club.

Here is a rough map of holdings by various mining companies 20 miles north west of Peachland. The balance of the area is pretty well staked even as far west as Merritt. The map is by no means accurate but serves only to give a general idea as to where the holdings are. Brenda holdings are considerably larger than as shown they have taken over many of the Noranda claims. (See story elsewhere in this issue).

Peachland mining mystery revealed with optimism

What is happening west of Peachland?

This question has been asked by hundreds — and there were few answers.

Now it is answered—in part.

Brenda Mines Ltd. a company with considerable holdings in that area has applied to the B.C. Superintendent of Brokers for authorization to sell 700,000 shares of their stock at $1.05 per share. They have 63 claims, located at an elevation of between 4,700 and 6,100 feet.

Buttle Lake and Trojan Mines say they have negotiated for 90 claims in the area. Several claims are registered by Summerland individuals adjacent to Brenda. A local investment club called the "Shadow Club" have registered 30 claims and have had a number of firms showing interest in the holdings.

Last month the consulting firm of Chapman, Wood and Griswold estimated that on the basis of work done to date, there were 14,000,000 tons of copper and molybdenum on the property.

The copper graded at .26 per cent and the molybdenum at .07 per cent.

Noranda Exploration worked the property 10 years ago but dropped it.

Brenda Company directors are Bernard Brynolsen, president, who is also western superintendent of Noranda Explorations; Morris Menzies, also a Noranda employee; Mervin Davis of Pentiction, Alex W. Fisher Dr. A. E. Aho and G. K. Fujisawa.

It is estimated that if a mill is placed in the area it would mean an investment of around $25,000,000 and would directly employ some 600 people. Such a mill would handle a 10,000 ton per day capacity and Chapman, Wood and Griswold have indicated that a 40 to 50,000 ton capacity mill may be needed.

Brenda officials are optimistic about the consulting firm's report which indicated a possibility of between 90,000,000 and several hundred million of tons of ore in the area and they estimated an 85 percent recovery figure on both copper and molybdenum could be expected.

Basketball action during weekend

The Junior Girls opened the Secondary School Basketball season on Saturday evening on a happy note as they swept both games from Princess Margaret School, taking each game by 12 points.

On Friday night the girls took Osoyoos 18-15 in an exhibition game. They trailed 4-2 after the first quarter, but outscored the visitors 9-2 in the second to take an 11-6 lead, and then on to their win. Ghina Storey and Jeannette Jacques each scored seven points while Patty Stevenson and Carolyn Norris each had two.

In the junior boys basketball action at Princess Margaret on Saturday the locals outscored the hometowners 42-30 in the first league action. It was a close game until half time, with Summerland leading by two points. In the third quarter Summerland wrapped up the game by outscoring the home team 14-6. For Summerland Art Bolton led the way with 10 points. Ray Davis had 9, Don Johnson 7, Ken Kohler 6, Howard Wiens 4, and Colley Eaton and Ron Taylor 3.

In an exhibition against Osoyoos on Friday night at home the boys lost 27-22. It was 7-7 after the first quarter but then the visitors outscored the Cosmos 13-5 in the second quarter to take a 30-12 lead which they never relinquished. The 22 points were accounted for as follows: Don Johnson 11, Bill McQuaig 4, Colley Eaton, Ray Davis and Art Bolton 2 apiece and Ken Kohler one.

The next action for the Juniors is this Sunday when they will host McNichol Park.

40 Years Ago

Reeve Johnston remains Reeve of Summerland, having been re-elected by acclamation on nomination day. This will be Mr. Johnston's second year as head of the municipality's affairs. Only three were nominated for the school board, and as these were all that were required to fill the vacancies, Mrs. Joan Steven, Mr. C. W. Cope and Mr. Jack Logie were elected by acclamation. The latter two were on last year's board, but Mrs. Steven is a new member. She will take the place of Miss Sinclair.

Summerland's new police commissioner is Mapor Tweedy.

The annual meeting of the Summerland Women's Institute was held on Friday, January 8th, at 3 p.m. in the parlor of the United Church. The secretary gave a full report of the work done during the year—after which the election of officers took place, the following being elected for 1966:

Mrs. Magnus Tait, president; Mrs. Butler, vice-president; Mrs. Washington, Mrs. Secord, directors; Miss Marion Cartwright, secretary-treasurer.

50 Years Ago

There was one topic of interest this week that claimed priority even over the matter of the nomination of Councillors and Trustees. It was the weather. There were some pretty warm discussions upon this subject early in the week, but they did not seem to prevent the temperature from going just as low as it wanted to. It has not been the kind of weather the poet could thrill about, because he wouldn't have time between filling up the stoves.

Even in the more sheltered positions near the lake one or two degrees below zero were noted, and farther back in valleys the registration was as low as ten below.

That night the Metrological Station thermometer at Balcombe Ranch registered seventeen degrees below zero, and Garnett alley experienced just about the same temperature. The Trout Creek Experimental Station was only one or two degrees better, Peach Orchard and West Summerland were likewise, and in the Town section the temperatures ranged from ten to twelve degrees below zero.

Summerland Review — 3

A few comments

An apology to Doug Hill is in order for calling him by his partner's last name last week. Possibly subconsciously we were balancing the scale for the time we printed "Hilly" Hill. Which adds to the confusion we have a friend by the name of Doug Smith too.

to buy sweepstake tickets or take part in bingo games or service clubs carrying on with raffles and the like, passes all understanding.

A recent grab of Irish sweepstake tickets by police in Toronto and Montreal was not a popular enforcement to millions of Canadians. The police cannot be blamed, they were merely doing their job as outlined by our laws which, they must uphold.

Why is it right for our governments to sanction gambling on horse races and even take their cut and at the same time outlaw sweepstakes that millions of Canadians have been partaking for many years.

It is time for this Parliament to take a good hard look at our gambling laws. If the private citizen is not to partake, the government should not derive profitable benefits.

Motorists are to be congratulated on their conduct since the first of December. There have been few accidents over the distance. A note of warning to pedestrians so the record book can remain with a limited amount of entries — it is slippery on the streets — and cars just cannot stop as fast as you may expect. A longer life is assured if you give the motorist the benefit of the doubt and allow him plenty of room. Many pedestrians have insisted on their right of way but didn't live to explain it to the judge.

There is much optimism in these parts since the announcement that Brenda Mines Ltd. have applied to the superintendent of brokers for authorization to sell 700,000 shares at $1.05 per share. The property in mind is that west of Peachland which has been the topic of silent conversation for many months. There is a lot of local money — if not in Brenda, in claims and or shares in other companies who are sniffing around that vicinity. Sounds as if this could be big. It would be wise to have our town planning in working order so we will be ready for anything that may come along in the way of expansion. If they start mining out there it is going to mean a big boost to the economy of the whole area and we must have our house in order to cope with the situation.

The inconsistency and hypocrisy of Canadian laws which ignore gambling on the stock market and the turf while denying the same privilege to those who like EQUIPMENT for the handicapped, including braces (above), wheelchairs, crutches etc., are provided by your donation to the 'once a year' Mothers' March. Hundreds of disabled in British Columbia each year require these services from the Foundation. The provincial goal this year is $275,000.

BOOK REVIEW

The purpose of this column is to talk about books. The books talked about are those recently added to the stock of the Okanagan Regional Library.

Unfortunately news space is limited and the books are many. The Alternative is to just list the books. A list of books concerning British Columbia was issued in October. This runs to twenty-five pages and will be of great interest to readers in search of material on the province. It also covers books written by B.C. authors.

Recent additions 1964 - 1965 comprises non-fiction titles added during the twelve months ending August, 1965. The book list contains almost one hundred pages of entries, together with an index to the main subjects listed. These booklists are part of the service offered to library users; they are available on request at all branch libraries or on application to Okanagan Regional Library Headquarters, Kelowna.

THE LEADER by Gillian Freeman (Blond) is a novel about a uniformed neofascist would-be dictator. Set in Britain and largely based on the sensationalism surrounding C. I. Jordan's self-appointed role as Führer over there a couple of years ago, this is an it-could-happen-here story. It is odd that the author didn't research her background more thoroughly — political uniforms were banned in Britain over twenty-five years ago.

It was in 1956 while watching the barebosomed dancers of Les Ballets Africains de Keita Fodeba at London's Palace Theatre that the thought occurred that there must be a fortune waiting for bra salesmen on the dark continent.

CORSETS IN AFRICA (Hale) humorously describes how Lilian Rivers tried to tackle the overdeveloped ladies of the underdeveloped country.

Girdles are necessarily limiting in function and the humour that can be squeezed from them is equally constricted.

The frightful fascination which snakes seem to exert over most individuals accounts for a Whitechapel in the East End of London was no place to be after dark during the Autumn of 1888. For a period of three months an unknown attacker terrorised the area; six women were murdered and their bodies mutilated. The identity of the murderer was never established and he is known as Jack the Ripper.

Two books have recently been added to the library shelves concerning the supposed identity of the assassin.

WHEN LONDON WALKED IN TERROR (Houghton Mifflin) originally called Autumn of Terror in the English edition, sees author Tom Cullen electing Scotland Yard's prime suspect (whose identity was never officially divulged) as the mysterious killer. This is a careful study of the crimes.

Robin Odell however, puts forward another intriguing theory concerning the killer's identity in his book JACK THE RIPPER. It is the lack of proof of identity which gives the case its peculiar interest and has made the Whitechapel murders part of English folklore.

Read both these accounts and then try Colin Wilson's novel RITUAL IN THE DARK (Collanz) for an insight into the mentality of a latter-day Jack the Knife.

ORCHARD RUN

By Wally Smith

Should you do it yourself?

Two big questions facing apple growers today are: 1, what kind of varieties shall I grow and 2, what kind of root stock shall I grow them on?

Most of us are in need of an orchard re-building program, and these are the questions we must answer before our program can get under way.

The December 1965 BCFGA Quarterly Report contains a list of planting recommendations prepared by the Fruit Varieties Committee of the Okanagan Agricultural Club. The list is designed to act as a guide for those intending to plant new trees, but the list leaves little for the grower to choose from.

Out of nine main apple varieties listed the committee has said a definite "no" to four of them, a qualified "yes" to three of the varieties, and a simple "yes" to the remaining two.

That makes it rather difficult to pick a winner. As to the kind of rootstock, that is something the grower will have to decide according to the type of orchard that he wishes to operate, and the kind of soil in which his trees will grow.

There is now a wide choice of clonal rootstock for all sizes of trees, with the size partly depending upon the type of orchard soil. There are also the spur type trees which may be grown on standard roots or on clonal roots to produce trees of almost any given size.

Many growers are planning to use the smaller tree of one size or another. This means dense planting—200 to 400, or even 600 trees to the acre. When you consider that a good tree costs about $1.25, a replanting job measures up to a rather expensive business.

The resourceful grower will consider the possibility of growing his own trees, and this is well within the ability of the average grower.

Roots may be purchased for 30 cents each, planted in the nursery row, and budded or grafted with the desired variety.

This is not a difficult operation, but it requires accurate workmanship to get a high percentage of successful unions, and the average grower does not do much budding or grafting, so at first he will find the work goes rather slowly.

Instead of planting in a nursery row, the roots may be planted directly in the orchard, but these young trees need special care and they are more likely to get better attention in the nursery row—and less likely to get run over by a mower or spraying machine.

It takes two or three years to produce a nursery tree suitable for planting in the orchard, so the grower who is going to raise his own trees must plan far ahead.

A few growers in this neighborhood have been raising their own fruit trees in recent years, and a variety of results have been achieved.

One of the problems in raising nursery stock is to find the time to give the young trees the kind of care they need. Nursery trees have to be budded, irrigated, weeded, sprayed, and carefully watched. The busy grower with peaches, pears and apples to thin, also cherries to pick, spraying to keep up to date, and the twice daily chore of moving sprinkler pipes, may find there is no time left to properly care for a nursery.

Perhaps that is why some orchardists who have been growing their own trees have made a score of only 60 to 65 percent. This means that out of 100 roots originally planted, only 60 to 65 of them developed into good nursery stock.

This makes rather expensive trees when you add up the cost of the roots and all the work of budding, weeding, irrigating and so forth. I have heard of a few growers who make a score of 90 percent, which is a worthwhile result if they have not neglected their other work.

It would seem then that before he starts raising his own nursery stock, the orchardist should determine whether he has sufficient time to properly take care of the nursery of a size he wishes to plant.

For those who want to give the nursery idea a whirl, perhaps it would be a good idea to start in a small way and gradually work up, then you are not going to lose much if you decide to back out.

The taste appeal of the relatively new variety of Spartan apple from the Okanagan is captured by Vancouver Art School student E. M. Mackay during a recent class project on B.C. apples. The B.C. fruit industry offered cash prizes to students participating in the project.

Employment opportunities good in area in some categories

The employment market in the Penticton local office area remained fairly active during the month of December, reports Irvine Moss, Manager of the Penticton National Employment Service.

While employment opportunities were not as plentiful as in previous months, there still was a good demand for workers in a number of occupations.

"With regard to the immediate future may we, of the National Employment Service, remind all citizens that the Winter Employment Campaign will again get underway early in January," said Moss.

Most of us realize that seasonal unemployment has long been a costly feature of our growing and vigorous Canadian economy. The effects of winter unemployment are felt by almost everyone in our community. Therefore it is to the advantage of everyone to help create employment at this time of year.

"May we solicit your co-operation in making the Winter Employment Campaign a success again this year."

"If you are waiting until spring to have building additions, alterations, repairs or redecoration completed in your business premises or your home, 'DO IT NOW'—yes, 'Do it now' while skilled tradesmen are available. If you wait until next spring or summer you will have to compete with the annual spring and summer demand. Remember that every dollar you spend now in helping to provide Winter Employment for others also helps the economy of your community."

"Support your local Winter Employment Campaign. For further information or assistance call your local National Employment Office at 492-3848."

1 rock determines bonspiel outcome

The two top skips had the pressure placed on them to determine the outcome of the Summerland mixed bonspiel. They were forced to throw one rock each to the button to break the tie in a total point competition.

In this spiel, four points were given for a win and one point for each end and half points for blank ends. Each team played three games.

Ken Beggs and Steve Sakal each earned 29½ points and were faced with having to throw one rock to the button to determine who would get the top prize. Ken Beggs proved to have the best weight.

Third was the Bill Kroft rink with 27½, then came Jerry Hallquist 26½, Pete Eden 25, Joe Sheeley 24 and Rick Randall 23.

The top seven and the bottom rinks received prizes. Howard Earl reserved the low spot with 12 points.

On the Beggs rink were Tenius Kwak, Clara Kwak and Stosh Uchida third, second and

South Okanagan wins school curling playoff

The Summerland boys put up a game fight, but came out on the losing end of the school zone curling playdowns over the weekend.

They went all the way to the final game with a foursome from South Okanagan who overpowered our locals.

Skipping for Summerland was Greg Pruden, third Clint Skinner, second Jerry Goddard and lead Dick Johnston.

South Okanagan now advances to competition with North Okanagan towards provincial finals.

AUTUMN COLOURS

The riot of colour displayed by our broad-leaved trees in the fall is an indication that activity within the leaves is slowing down. The production of the green chlorophyll has stopped and that which was present has been destroyed by the sunlight. With the disappearance of the chlorophyll the colours of the carotenoids are exposed. There are two carotenoids. One is orange and is called carotin after the carrot of which it is the main colouring agent. The other is yellow and is called xanthophyll. Most of the reds and purples seen in autumn foliage are due to anthocyanins. These form in the cell sap and contrast sharply with the greens and yellows. They may be present throughout the growing season as in beets and some kind of plants or they may be produced in the autumn as in ripening apples and some leaves. The combination of green yellow and the colours of the carotenoids and anthocyanins together with the browns of dying leaf cells, are responsible for most of our flaming autumn foliage.

From 1955 to 1965 the proportion of Canadian households equipped with cars increased from 57 to 75 per cent, with central heating from 55 to 75 per cent, with telephones from 71 to 80 per cent, with washing machines from 88 to 88 per cent, with refrigerators from 70 to 86 per cent, with television sets from 31 to 98 per cent.

TAKE IT DOWN FROM THE SHELF

by the Rev. J. R. Coughlan
A man entered the office of a jewel expert in Chicago and handed him a stone to be cut and polished—a stone that had been lying around home for years and which had served as a playtoy for his children. The jewel expert was amazed, for he realized it was a pigeon's blood ruby valued anywhere from $100,000 to $250,000.

This ruby is believed to be the largest in the world, and for years it was a neglected jewel, for its true value was not realized.

Could it be that you have a jewel in your home that is being neglected? I refer to the Bible. This book of books is a mine of wealth. Treasures are hidden between its pages. Its contents are rich deposits available to all who will claim them.

It has been said, "The Bible is the best seller in the world but it is the least read of all books."

This is a tragedy, for we are not only neglecting a book, but Jesus Christ, its central theme. And worse still, we are neglecting our own souls for Christ alone is the answer to our spiritual needs. Jesus has said "Search the Scriptures, for in them ye think ye have eternal life and they are they which testify of me."

And John reveals, "But these are written that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that believing ye might have life through His name." In other words, the Bible introduces us to Christ and clearly reveals how we can enter into a personal relationship with Him.

Take that Bible off the shelf and place it in your mind and heart. Read it, heed it, practice it and live it. Be personally acquainted with its author and you will love it and treasure it.

When West went two spades and North passed, South was very delighted to double, sensing they now had the bird in the cage. Most North players didn't feel the same, or their partners, and went on to three clubs which is easily made. South being very annoyed at his partner, takes out of the two spades double, never to speak to him again.

What we are trying to express is even with a long holding of trump of the opposition, that really doesn't say you are going to sem them. They can run five or six tricks in the other suits at times, plus two or three trump tricks, leaving you high and dry with all your long trump holding which looks so good.

The declarer will take four or five spade tricks, or one heart trick plus three diamond tricks. There is no defence, making his two spade contract doubled.

Mrs. Vera Barrs was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Summerland Rotary Club Friday night.

The seven year old lad from Turkey had spent six years of his life in an International Welfare Home, but now due to the

Even after it was all over some investors were wondering if they had bought enough—that's mining fever.
It wasn't too many days ago when Anuk River Mines Ltd.

It has been an exciting week for Summerland residents who were holding mining claims in the "hot spot" northwest of Peachland. More than a few local men could make a dollar or two if all goes well. Some are guaranteed at least a good sniff of the long green after weekend negotiations with a Calgary firm.
Maverick Mines and Oils Ltd. of Calgary purchased 79 claims located about three miles south of the Brenda properties owned jointly by Don Agur, Jack Knott and the Candle Club for a figure somewhere in the neighborhood of $400,000 to $500,000 in cash and options.
The Candle Club is an investment club consisting of 21 Summerland men.
The contract was signed in Pentiction Saturday afternoon; Joe Akitt acting on behalf of the Candle Club.
Maverick, Mr. Ray Skogberg, president, is reputed to be a young, active company. Financial and business consultant Wm. H. Ramsay of New York was present at the Pentiction meeting and spoke highly of the firm.
Among their many holdings are 11 acres of promising mining property at The Pas, Manitoba according to Mr. Ramsay who predicted that with the combination of his B. C. properties it has a wonderful Elsewhere in this issue is a rough map of the area and the companies with interests in that location. Those receiving the most publicity of late are Brenda Mines Ltd. Pentiction, Anuk River Mines Ltd. of Vancouver and Quinalta Petroleum Ltd., Calgary and Maverick.
It wasn't only the selling of claims that caused an uproar in Summerland over the weekend. A compelling desire to get on the Maverick bandwagon was evident by the fact that almost $70,000 of Summerland money was on hand in Calgary Monday morning when the exchange opened. This represented private individuals who had given instructions to Pemberton Securities Ltd., Pentiction, to act for them. Although it was a tough battle to fill the order, it was accomplished so quite a few Summerland people were able to get their feet wet—for better or for worse.

Even after it was all over some investors were wondering if they had bought enough—that's mining fever.
It wasn't too many days ago when Anuk River Mines Ltd.

was the thing to invest in—and local investors came to the fore by purchasing 200,000 shares, or thereabouts. Don Agur sold a few claims to Anuk as well.
Then few investors haven't a few dollars in Brenda and Quinalta. How many hasn't been discussed over the coffee table so no statistics can be revealed. But the mining pot is brimming over and you can "take stock" in the fact that the financial page of the dailies is one of the best read pages in Summerland.

The word is molybdenum—and all have a showing of the magic mineral, but investors will be satisfied with the profit from any of the many other ores present 20 miles northwest of Peachland.

The church works through the Canadian Save the Children fund and pays $60 each year toward the welfare of each child. This money is administered by the Fund, but they send money direct for their birthdays and at Christmas.

The 10 year old Korean boy has a mother in poor health but is now able to attend school and church. He wrote that it is necessary for them to study hard, during summer holidays so they may pass an entrance exam before they are able to attend school the next year. This is also done in Hong Kong. In these countries the children must pay their own tuition.

The 12 year old Hong Kong child lives in a hostel. He escaped from communist China and still has two brothers there.

He is doing well in school, coming up with an average of 85.9 percent, topping the class of 34.

Jerry Laidlaw was a guest at this meeting.

BUSY WITH SCHOOL BUSINESS

Here are three re-elected school board members looking into one of the many problems confronting them at regular meetings. John Bennest, centre, was again appointed chairman at Thursday's meeting and Bob Barkwill, left and Ken Boothe were elected for another term and took the oath of office at this meeting. The other trustees are Dave McIntosh and Jim Miltimore.

Harry Hackmann installed president of Sum'land Kiwanis

The Summerland Kiwanis Club held their official installation meeting at the Yacht Club Saturday night with Herb Hermanson, Moses Lake, Wash., Division 5, Lieutenant Governor in charge of the ceremony.

A toast to the ladies was made by Fred Schumann and the reply was given by Pat Carter. Jack Towgood toasted the Kiwanis.

Retiring president Lloyd Shannon reported a busy year during 1965.

A donation of $100 assisted two children to make a trip to Vancouver for heart treatment and $25 was given to the handicapped children and ten children were given the opportunity to attend church camps this past summer and two burials were given Summerland students to assist in furthering their education.

A bus shelter was completed in Paradise Flat for children waiting for the school bus.

Key Club president, Ken Bushowski accompanied by Scottie Ritchie attended the Key Club International Convention in New York in July.

The annual street carnival was a success again in 1965.

During the year, they transported 50 students to the Vocational Guidance Health Service Centre for a tour and planted 50 trees in Memorial Park and looked after the gate at the Fall Fair.

With the co-operation of the Key Club, they collected $1,438.75 for the Cancer Society and sponsored the Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic.

Christmas hampers were donated and help was given to the municipality to distribute them.

Church directories were made available in all motels and camps in Summerland.

President Shannon made a special mention and thanks to "Mr. Kiwanis", Secretary Jack O'Mahony for his help during the year and to his wife Nettie.

Seated at the head table were Reeve and Mrs. Norm Holmes, President and Mrs. Lloyd Shannon, Lieut. Governor and Mrs. Herb Hermanson and President-Elect and Mrs. Harry Hackman.

The new president of the Pentleton club, Mr. Geo. Cooper and his wife were guests as well as the new Oliver president and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Galbraith.

Heads of various Summerland organizations and their wives were guests. Mr. and Mrs. Cle Smith, Elks; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Day, Kinamen; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Johnston, Rotary.

The following will take over the executive of the Kiwanis for 1966: Harry Hackman, president; Roy, Norm Tannar, v. president; Jack O'Mahony, secretary; Hans Meierhofer, treasurer and Lloyd Shannon, immediate past president.

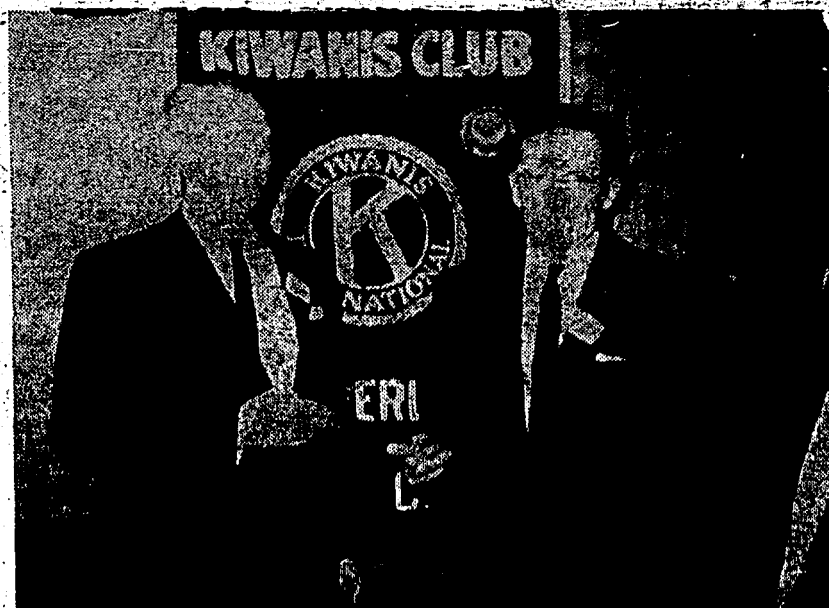

Directors are Jerry Hallquist, Dick Ran- dal, Doug Campbell and Norm Dr. Wilf Evans, Dick Randall, Bernie Hume-Smith, Hugh Bala- lantyne, Doug Campbell and Bob Evans.

After Harry Hackman took over the president's chair, he made a presentation to the wife of past president Lloyd Shannon, Nettie for her many services on behalf of the club.

Doug Campbell made a presentation to Mrs. Hermanson.

The boys figured Lloyd's business had suffered during his year as president so they were going to "fix him up" according to Bill Laidlaw.

Summerland search & rescue called out to find staker

A man was lost overnight and two youths were reported missing in the area north of Peachland as mining fever hit the district.

All were out staking claims in the hills following recent reports of copper and molybdenum being found in the area.

Archie Barber, 23 of Kelowna was found about 10 a.m. Sunday morning after he had walked in circles all night on the slopes of Pennask Mountain.

Hired by Interior Engineering Co. of Kelowna only Saturday morning as an axeman, Barber left his companions about 4 p.m. Saturday to take a short cut to return to the Brenda Lake Rd. He said he found himself in a canyon and had to turn around and then lost his bearings.

RCMP in Summerland received a call at about 9 a.m. Saturday when Barber failed to return to the engineering company's headquarters. Cpl. Bud Stohl accompanied by auxiliary policemen Ivan Austin and Roger Stewart, field supervisor for Interior Engineering, went into the area and checked cabins along the way, but felt searching during the night would be impossible.

They returned and organized search parties to start out at 7 a.m. Sunday. The Civil Defence Search and Rescue Unit from Summerland sent five men with Harold Felker in charge, and the Search and Rescue crew from Kelowna also headed into the bushy area where about 30 inches of snow lay on the ground.

Several times the Summerland crew crossed the tracks of the missing man, and found evidence that he had tried to start a fire.

When found, Barber said he had rested several times, but found he kept falling asleep. Knowing he shouldn't doze in the cold temperature, he kept walking.

Felker said the man was dressed warmly enough but

Council considers new wing on Parkdale Place

For economic, practical and reasons of obligation, the Summerland municipal council will consider increasing the facilities at Parkdale Place. Although this is only in the initial stages of development, Reeve Holmes and Councillor Powell spoke in favor of a complete study, and all Councillors agreed.

Councillor Powell, chairman of the Parkdale Place operation, had conferred with the staff and found a wing may be added which could be maintained with present personnel, plus an additional chambermaid.

The waiting list to get into these rooms now stands at 20, including applicants from out of Summerland and there are 13 municipal residents awaiting rooms.

The plans for the new wing would house about 12.

"I think a study should be made" Councillor Powell said, "it could be we don't have an economic unit now when we could have more with little additional operational cost."

The deficit during 1965 was $6,925 which was about $600 more than the debenture payments cost.

The raising of the monthly rates to residents was authorized by the Provincial Secretary, from $85.00 to $95.00 per month which brings it up to about the valley average. The pensioners with no other income or resources other than their monthly cheque will still get their usual consideration with the provincial government paying the difference.

Reeve Holmes felt they had an obligation to see to our senior citizens had the opportunity had the opportunity to go into the home.

There was no change in occupancy at Parkdale place during 1965. None had moved away and the "roll call" remained the same.

School Board Secretary-Treasurer Jim Hack, in a letter to council requested on behalf of the Board, a meeting with council to discuss a five year school grounds program with municipal participation.

Mr. Hack suggested the school grounds could be of mutual benefit to school children and community.

Much of the present grounds are not suitable in that it is rough, dangerous and dusty.

Council and the Board will discuss the matter at next weeks council meeting.

Holmes and Blagborne have made an inspection of the library at the request of Mrs. M. Croil, Regional Library representative last week.

They found little room for children's books, which had to be left on a table.

To overcome this they suggested a rearrangement that would enable them to build a twelve foot shelves back, giving the library an additional 240 feet of shelving and still leave plenty of room for a table. The cost will be $200. This was authorized.

On their tour, it was noted that there were two rooms in the Health Centre that were not

Less windows on Secondary school than plans call for

A change in the building contract at the Secondary School was made over the weekend. There will be fifty percent less windows than the original plans call for.

Two by six cedar uprights will be placed right across the west side protecting the lower floor windows and well as on the new addition.

The reason for this move was to keep out the direct light in the summer and there will be less heat loss in the winter as well as protecting the windows from the playground. The uprights will be placed on six inch centres, 18 inches out from the wall.

It will also be more economical to black rooms out when pictures are shown in the new addition.

Bennest re-elected school chairman

After Secretary-treasurer Jim Hack performed his duties of installation of Trustees Bob Barkwill and Ken Boothe by virtue of their re-election in December, John Bennest was again selected School Board Chairman at their regular meeting Thursday night.

Mr. Hack reported that all inspections are complete at the Trout Creek school and it is now in full operational use. All suggested alterations and improvements had been made by the contractor so the hold-back of $9,461.42 was authorized.

The Regional College budget was presented to the board, but no indication was given regarding the amount Summerland was expected to share in the cost. No action will be taken until this is revealed.

A study will be made regarding the cost of offering grade 7 band instruction in the future. Bandmaster Grindler has indicated his willingness to do this. It may be put into operation in March, but there was nothing definite decided.

The annual budget will be ready for approval at the next meeting.

Trustees Boothe, Barkwill and Chairman Bennest said they would attend a B.C. School Trustees Association branch meeting in Kelowna January 17. Bennest will take in the regular Regional College Council meeting the same night.

The official opening of the new addition of Trout Creek School will be held in conjunction with the annual P.T.A. Bridge and Whist Drive on February 12 to which the public are invited to attend and inspect the new construction.

The Trout Creek P.T.A. will sponsor a Cub Pack and requested the use of the school Tuesday evenings from 6:30 to 8 p.m. The permission was given but arrangements must be made with the custodian.

The regular meeting nights of the board was changed from the second and fourth Thursday to the first and third Wednesday of each month. This night was more convenient for the majority of the members.

School Superintendent Gordon Paton extended an invitation, on behalf of the Pentleton Board, to attend a meeting with a representative of Simon Fraser University to hear their teaching program explained. No date for the Pentleton meeting has been set.

Chairman Bennest was re-appointed Summerland representative on the Regional College Council.

The driver was Philip Sidney Stirling of Vernon. He was driving south on the highway and striking an icy spot on the highway, went off the road and headed into a rock bluff. Damages are estimated at $500. Mr. Stirling received cuts to his head and was treated in the Summerland Hospital. He was later released.

Peter Wesley Swetliko of Pentleton was involved in an accident at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday, about three miles east of the Trouman Garroway Sawmills on the Brenda Lake Road.

Mr. Swetliko was going down a steep grade which had an icy surface. He approached a sharp left hand curve and the vehicle which would not turn on the icy road, went straight ahead to the edge and rolled, landing about 60 feet

Ann Forster and Nigel Blagborne teamed up with Pat Roberts and Ray Campbell of Pentleton to win second place in the Junior Mixed Pairs. ## From The Back Files...

40 Years ago:

NEW BOAT SERVICE

It should be a source of gratification to Summerland that the head office, contacting the new boat service, working in co-operation with the Canadian National Railroads will be in Summerland. It is the Okanagan Lake Boat Company which has taken the initiative all along. The announcement of the new boat service up the lake is the best news for several weeks.

It is not to be implied, that the Canadian Pacific Railway, with the "Sicamous" has not given excellent service. The new boat, however, will make two trips a day during the busy season, and this, with the daily journeying of the "Sicamous", should solve our local transportation problems.

50 Years Ago:

A NEW SCHOOL

If it is going to be necessary this year to open another primary school for Trout Creek children, it might be wise to consider the feasibility of bringing these children under the same roof with the primary children of the Town section. This could be effected if a building were erected somewhere between the two sections. If any new buildings are to be erected motives of economy should prompt an investigation into this suggestion, which is by no means new.

The present Town School building, while serving its purpose, cannot be said to be as altogether up-to-date and desirable in some respects as it might be. Moreover, its commanding site would surely be realizable into hard cash, and this sum would about care for the difference in the cost of erecting a larger building rather than a small one, and more too, if the government pays its usual share. There would still be a drive for the Trout Creek children, but not nearly as objectionable a one as at interest.

THE UNFORTUNATE VICTIM of an unusual mishap last Monday evening, Clarence Elsey is now confined to his home suffering from a broken ankle. He was playing hockey at Parkdale Skating Rink at the time of the accident which seems to have been the result of an effort to turn very sharply rather than anything else. The mishap occurred fairly late in the evening, and he was taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vanderburg close at hand, where he passed the night after medical attention had been given to the broken ankle.

Boom year ahead?

There is every indication that the Southern Okanagan is about to join the rest of British Columbia in its economic boom.

Last year's winter freezes were followed by a poor crop year, a somewhat related drop in tourist traffic and fruit stand sales and a generally mediocre business year.

1966 has every indication of being completely different... providing winter and spring frosts are not crippling.

Fruit prices should not change materially except for a hopeful increase in returns from stone fruit because of a smaller crop.

Every survey points to more and more tourist business.

The two industries, fruit growing and tourism, will remain the backbone of the valley's economic life... and both appear to be headed for a better-than-average year.

But the incentives for industrial development in the area can bring about a change more rapid and more extensive than many dared hope in the past.

The benefits available to industry in the valley are enormous under the Area Development Incentives Act and already many enquiries have indicated there will be a substantial increase in industrial activity and development in the Okanagan.

Many of these enquiries will no doubt fail to materialize into active enterprises. But others WILL establish industries in the larger centres primarily... but at least some smaller districts such as our own.

The Okanagan Valley has always been favorably endowed with advantages for light secondary industry. It is now in a preferred position, and coupled with the already considerable existing industries, the climate is now perfect for a substantial boom.

Let us hope that municipal and business leaders throughout the area devote their efforts primarily into bringing in new industries, new capital and new people in our valley.

And let's hope that at least ten percent of the "big deals" which are rumored to materialize into something.

If they do, we've got a boom for sure.

Sue Wilson wins Zone essay contest

The regular monthly meeting of the Summerland Legion was held previous to the annual meeting last week with a good turnout of 64 members.

Since the last meeting Emil Bonthoux had been appointed secretary of the club.

Sue Wilson, Summerland was the Zone Winner of the Legion sponsored Remembrance Day essay contest. It now goes to Provincial and then to Dominion if it is judged the best in B. C.

B.C. Centennial Medallions popular

One of the largest shipments of commemorative centennial medallions went out this week to one of the smaller communities among the close to 400 helping to celebrate British Columbia's Centennial year.

The Fort St. John (population 5,800) Centennial Committee undertook to sell 5,000 of the gold-colored, dollar-sized souvenirs.

The medallions are supplied by the Canadian Confederation Centennial Committee of British Columbia, for resale by Local Centennial Committees at 50 cents each. Proceeds are used to finance local celebrations.

Close to 40,000 medallions have been shipped to date.

Camera Club has good year

by Herb Simpson

Officers for the coming year are: President, Bert Simpson; Vice President, Jack Morrow; Secretary, Mrs. R. G. Cuthbert; Treasurer, Norman Wreath and executive members are: Mrs. C. B. Snow, Ken Selenger, Tom Hall and Howard Shannon.

Mrs. C. B. Snow, the retiring president, stated that the club had a very successful year, having sponsored two public slide shows, "Australiana" and "Concert in Color". Both shows were given excellent support and were highly praised. She also thanked the members for the help and co-operation she had received during her term in office.

It was decided to enter ten slides in the Star K Trophy competition. These slides will be chosen at the workshop night, January 20.

Following the business meeting an instruction slide set entitled "Closing In" was shown. This set was obtained through the Color Photographic Association of Canada.

The evening concluded with a discussion and criticisms of the slides.

In other club news, work is progressing on the slide show "Our Fruit Industry". This series of 100 slides will show fruit growing from the breaking of new land to the delivery of fruit at the packing house. It is complete with taped commentary describing the numerous operations necessary for the production of orchard products.

Wednesday, Jan. 13, Howard Shannon and Bert Simpson entertained members of the Old Age Pensioners' Association with two slide sets, "Song of the Seasons" and "Yellowhead Pass".

Golf lessons will be available

If you plan on golfing this year, you now have an opportunity to get off with the right swing — at night school.

A ten-session adult school sponsored by the Night School and the Sumac Ridge Golf Association will be held in Summerland starting Monday, Feb 7 at the Secondary School Gym at 7 p.m.

If you think this driving range has too many limitations you are right — if a golf ball is used. A plastic ball will be used, and you will be swinging on a mat. Golf clubs will be made available by the Sumac Ridge Golf Course for those who do not have their own.

Instructing will be Mr. Ernie Tait, Pro at the Mountain Shadow Golf Course, Kelowna.

Eight indoor sessions will be held and two out at Sumac Ridge.

For more information phone Bob Chalmers at 494-8007.

Principals report to school board

Trout Creek School Principal R. L. McNabb told the trustees at their regular meeting last week, Grade 1 students are now getting out of school at 3:00 p.m. rather than at 2:30 p.m. since Christmas. This was done at the request of Grade 1 teacher Mrs. Novak.

At the early stages of school he deemed it advisable to let the children out early, but "by this time of the year, their habits have been developed to the extent where the extra half hour in school would be more profitable."

Mr. McNabb invited the board to attend the P.T.A. meeting of January 20 when School Superintendent Gordon Paton will speak on "A look at Education Behind the Iron Curtain". Mr. Paton spent six weeks recently in Russia making an education study.

LET'S GET NEWSY . . .

He also announced the annual bridge and whist drive sponsored by the Trout Creek P.T.A. to be held on February 12. The proceeds of this are used to sponsor the Sports Day in May and to purchase book prizes for the classrooms.

Girls of grades 6 and 7 will have the opportunity of seeing the film "It's Wonderful Being a Girl" on January 18. They must have their parents written consent. It will be shown by Public Health Nurse, Mrs. S. D. Husch.

Mr. Dave McMurray represented Mr. John Cooke, Principal of the MacDonald School who was unable to attend.

Like spiders on a web, workmen at Duncan damsite prepare cribbing for the concrete work on the Intake structure of one of two 1,000-foot-long diversion tunnels now nearing completion. Water from the Duncan River will be diverted through the 20-foot-diameter tunnels early next spring. Spider web effect spreading from the centre of the structure will disappear from tunnel opening when the concrete has set and the cribbing removed. Duncan Dam, 26 miles north of Kaslo, is scheduled for completion in 1968.

Talents of Ivy Mason recognized

Taking a place at the National Gallery, Ottawa with such famous artists as the group of seven is Summerland resident Ivy Mason.

Mrs. Mason made an impression on art circles in the Okanagan last year after a short visit to England where she spent her time rubbing old brasses in the churches and cathedrals. On her return she displayed her work and gave talks on the art form and the history of the subjects.

She became so interested in both the historical aspects of the art and the visual appeal of the black and white results, that she returned last fall to do some more.

The National Gallery in Ottawa has commissioned 25 of the 60 or so Mrs. Mason brought back from England with her just before Christmas.

While in England most of her efforts were confined to the southern counties where she found some of the oldest and most beautiful brasses on and walls of the churches and cathedrals.

At Stoke D'Abernon in Surrey, she did a rubbing of the oldest known memorial brass in Britain. It is a life-size likeness of Sir John D'Aubernon and is dated 1277.

At St. Mary Redcliff church in Bristol, she found a brass dedicated to John Brook and his wife Joan.

She has done a lot of research into the lives of the people represented in the brasses she chose to rub and discovered that Brook as king's sheriff handed John Cabot the £20 reward from King Henry VII for finding the "New Founde Lande" now called Canada.

His wife was the daughter of Richard Amerike and it is thought by some that America may have been named after her.

Another interesting illustration is that of Thomas Chaucer—son of Geoffrey Chaucer who wrote the Canterbury Tales. This brass is in the church at Ewelme, Oxford and is dated 1434.

Much research was done by Mrs. Mason before embarking on her fascinating hobby some years ago. It was necessary to know not only the proper technique of the art, but where to find the best brasses and whether they were available for rubbing.

The general procedure is painstaking and requires many hours spent on the hands and knees on hard cold floors, mostly in poorly lit churches. Paper is spread over the brass engraved memorials, and carefully rubbed with black much like the method used to make a likeness of a coin by rubbing pencil on paper placed over it. It is difficult to calculate the number of hours spent on them, but some of them are more than three by eight feet and took all day to produce. A private showing was held in the library at Summerland Monday afternoon and evening, where members of the Summerland and Penticton Art Clubs and other invited guests viewed about 25 of the largest of the collection. A few were too large to be displayed, said Mrs. Mason, but will be included in the group going to Ottawa.

One guest remarked, "They are so beautiful—how can you bear to part with them?"

"Don't remind me that I have to," exclaimed Mrs. Mason, "Every time I look at them I realize they are no longer mine and will soon be on their

Legion committee heads report to the membership

Sixty-four members of the Summerland Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion attended their annual meeting last week. Zone Commander Jas. Fairley, Princeton was also present.

Retiring president Dugald MacGregor reported a good year, but there were problems. The beer strike was an inconvenience as well as a financial burden.

He thanked the members for their voluntary work during that time so the club could be kept open.

Membership Chairman Emil Bonthoux said there were 352 ordinary members, three life members, one honorary and 17 associate members in the club. He did not include club members which number around the 80 mark.

Hilly Smith, on behalf of the canteen committee thanked Howard Shannon for his efforts as chairman part of the year. After that time a committee took over the operation. Another pool table was suggested.

Wm. McCutcheon said they have assisted in obtaining pensions for 17 men and have helped obtain widow's pension for five.

Christmas hampers and small amount of cash were distributed and the Ladies Auxiliary distributed gifts for some children.

The budget for welfare is $500 per year.

Dave Taylor Sr., chairman of the sick committee said there have been 36 Summerland members in the Summerland Hospital during the year and 18 were treated at other hospitals.

Mr. Taylor, a man of over 90 years, made 47 hospital visits during the year and visited homes 143 times.

"It brings me happiness to carry on with this job and I hope I will be able to act in the same capacity for another year", he said. The Legion gladly gave him this opportunity, recognizing the fine work he is doing.

Bill Milne, although he had a difficult time getting leaders for the Scouts this year, reported things going well now. They are having no financial worries and leaders were obtained. They now have their own room in the Youth Centre to carry on their activities.

LET'S GET NEWSY . . .

Mr. Tom White and Mrs. Bernice White spent most of last week in Vancouver on a buying trip.

Rev. and Mrs. Thomas T. Tazumi, missionaries under the Far Eastern Gospel Crusade returned from Japan last May, and are at present traveling throughout Canada and the United States visiting various churches.

Tom and his wife Mary, graduated from Prairie Bible Institute, Three Hills, Alberta, and took one year of missionary internship in Detroit, Michigan. Tom pastored a church in Lethbridge for three years before going to Japan. Mary joined him there in 1963.

The Mission Board they were working under was begun by Christian servicemen stationed in the Far East during World War 2. When servicemen returned from overseas in 1945 a number of Christians among them shared a deep concern for the peoples of the Pacific who were without Christ. Meeting with laymen, pastors and missionary leaders, they formed a missionary fellowship that might reach these neglected areas with the gospel.

Today Far Eastern Gospel Crusade is an incorporated missionary agency consisting of 145 missionaries working in Japan, Philippines, Okinawa and Hong Kong.

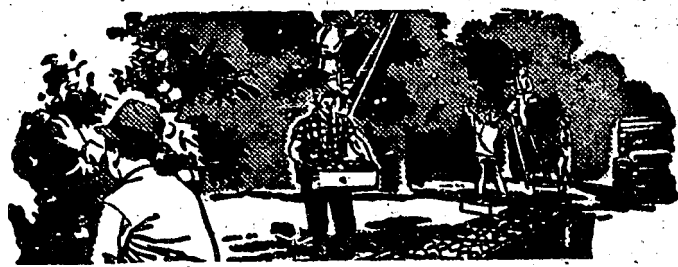

Rev. and Mrs. Tazumi, after 18 months of formal Japanese language study, have been laboring in the city of Tsuru, in the province of Yamanashi for the last four years. Their main work has been the planting of indigenous churches. Bible classes, evangelistic campaigns, prayer meetings, worship services, and leadership training sessions all go into founding of strong churches. Together with church planting they are seeking to reach the 2,000 students at the local university

The photograph of the Rev. and Mrs. Tazumi was taken in October, 1964 at the Canadian Embassy where the Canadian ambassador and his wife invited all Canadians residing in Japan to a reception in honor of the visiting Canadian Olympic Team.

Ontario grape growers in trouble

Recent forecasts indicate there will be a tremendous increase in Okanagan Valley grape production during the next few years.

During the last two or three years growers have been urged to become interested in grape production for the wineries, and a considerable acreage of the newer varieties of wine grapes has been planted.

This writer hasn't come out in support of extensive grape production. I think we should move slowly in the grape business, prove out the new varieties being tested, and compare grape returns with tree fruit returns planted to the same acreage.

It is still too early to draw conclusions. We will have to wait several more years before we will know whether grapes are as profitable as peaches, pears, cherries or apples.

In the meantime we might learn something from watching other districts. Ontario, for example, where many growers had a disappointing year because of a very large grape crop.

According to "The Grower" of Toronto, the 1965 grape crop in Ontario was very large and the Grape Marketing Board was faced with a very difficult problem of disposing of the crop.

The final result, according to "The Grower" was a crop loss estimated from 8 to 20 percent, and it is doubtful if the financial loss will ever be recorded.

The Grower continues, "Over the years the unchecked planting of grape vines, prompted and promoted by the wineries, has finally given birth to a crop situation which could grow into an uncontrollable giant. The wineries have encouraged the growers to increase their acreage of the newer and more preferred varieties. However, acreage of the older types such as Concord, has not decreased or been placed into balance with demand."

"It is doubtful if this surplus is going to be just a memory of 1965, as it is estimated at least four to five hundred additional acres will come into production in 1966. Furthermore, increased acreage in the eastern part of the U.S. will also come into bearing."

The situation is of interest to Okanagan growers who have planted grapes or who seriously contemplate doing so.

Grapes, like cherries or peaches, or any other fruit, have a limited market, and when production exceeds this limit the growers are in trouble.

Growers considering grape growing would be well advised to move carefully. The new, recommended varieties are still under test and it will be several years before they can be proven to be a profitable crop in this district.

The grower must also decide whether his land will produce more profit growing grapes, or growing cherries, peaches, pears or some other tree fruit.

Building addition Costs extra $25

Richard E. Norris of Summerland pleaded not guilty to a charge of building bathroom facilities in a shack on his two acre property but it did little good as Magistrate G. S. Denroche found him guilty and levied a fine of $25.

He was refused a building permit by Inspector J. O. H. Kihalembach because it would create a second dwelling on his lot, contrary to bylaw.

The facilities were for the convenience of an elderly man who had lived in the shack for many years but only had the use of an outdoor privy. He was paying Norris a rent of $10 per month. An addition to the shack was also made, to allow space for the bathroom.

According to Norris, the improvements cost between $700 and $800.

The charge was laid by the corporation.

The facilities will be retained by the owner.

LETTERS

Magnus Tait enthusiastic over Centennial project

(Editor's Note: The Review gained permission to publish the following letter which is an indication of the feelings of a Summerland oldtimer towards the Summerland Centennial project.)

Summerland Centennial Committee, Summerland, B.C. Gentlemen:—

I was pleased to hear that the development of the Giant Head as Summerland's Centennial Project has been approved. I have always admired that Mount, and had climbed it many times from different angles. My first year in Summerland, 60 years ago, I climbed the M o u n t up the south face, getting there with some difficulty.

It is very fortunate that, ever since the Municipality of Summerland was formed, the Giant Head has remained public property. Now it will be developed into a Public Park and made possible for all citizens to enjoy.

As one who has been credited with suggesting this project I would like to help in the development, but, as I am not as young as I used to be, manual help is out. I am sending you a cheque for $500 to be used in the development of the project.

If I may make another suggestion . . . I would like to see more trees of suitable variety planted on this Mount in a plan as not to interfere with the view points.

Yours truly
MAGNUS TAIT

CLASSIFIED ADS Joe McLachlan

re-appointed chief

The Summerland Volunteer Fire Department held their Annual Meeting on Sunday, January 16th. Election of officers produced little change for the coming year.

Joe McLachlan was re-elected as Fire Chief and Fred Dunsdon as Assistant Chief. The slate of officers includes Art Dunsdon, Phil Dunsdon, Francis Stewart, with Phil Dunsdon being appointed secretary.

The wives of the firemen have suggested having a Ladies' Auxiliary to the Fire Department and the men have decided to encourage the ladies in this idea.

Bantams lose a heartbreaker in end of season playoffs

by Ron Kostelniuk

It was a short season for the Midgets this year, with Vernon knocking them out in the semi-finals. At Vernon they took a 17 to 2 trouncing and on Sunday at the Summerland arena they dropped it by a 6 to 2 decision.

During their home game, Jim Jenner did all the scoring with assists going to Bryce Parker, Robin Agur and goal tender Garry Davis.

The bantams lost a tough one at Vernon, 2 to 1. Vernon did all their scoring in the first 3 1/2 minutes of the first period.

Thrift Shop turns in a good year

Miss Doreen Tait, president; Mrs. D. MacInnes, 1st vice-president; Mrs. H. Chalmers, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. I. Clark, treasurer; Mrs. G. Evans, secretary; Mrs. J. During 1965, 1760 volunteer hours were spent in the Thrift Shop, resulting in sales amounting to $4,422. The expenditure of $2,080 on hospital equipment included $885 for stainless steel equipment and $580 on laboratory equipment.

Mothers' March set for January 31

The Kinsmen's Mothers' March will take place this year on Monday, Jan. 31. Chairman for this event will be Gordie Day, and Pauline Gale will act as headmother in the Summerland area. With the assistance of the Oliver Kinnete Club they expect to have about 70 marching mothers in this area.

In Peachland Mrs. Nona Cooper is acting as headmother with 10 ladies canvassing the Peachland district.

The mothers will gather at the I.O.O.F. Hall in Summerland and start their march at 6:30 p.m. The Kinsmen Club will serve coffee to the marchers at this location.

The money goes to help the disabled and this project is unique for Kinsmen in B. C. as other Kinsmen hold their Mothers' March in aid of the March of Dimes. Summerland Town, officially sponsored by the Kinsmen, is in charge of the March of Dimes in this area.

Escape death in car plunge

Two Summerland teenagers miraculously escaped injury and possible death early Sunday morning when the car in which they were riding plunged 60 feet down a cliff.

Police said Raymond Louis Betuzzi, driver of the car and Diane Selinger were travelling north up Summerland Hill on Highway 97 about 1 a.m. when the vehicle left the road. It caught in a pile of snow and crashed through the guard rail, dropping at an angle down the cliff.

RCMP Cpl. Stahl said the car appeared to have rolled over about 10 feet from the bottom, but landed right side up. Both occupants were shaken up, but there were apparently no injuries. No estimate of damage to the vehicle has been made.

Police attributed the couple's escape to the fact that momentum of the car was halted by the guard rail, and the slope rance gates were considered. Edna Bonhoux, Lionel Fudge and Fred Schumann were re-appointed to the parks committee for another year.

An error in filing resulted in a refund of $104.00 for William Eyre.

In February, 1960, Mr. Eyre applied for a permit for a water and space heater, and he was not put in the proper category, hence the refund. Municipal clerk felt it was one of those mistakes that could not be explained and he could not tell who was responsible.

Reeve Holmes said "we all make mistakes and I think he is entitled to his refund." Council agreed.

Works Superintendent Ken Blagborne reported another 1000 feet of flume has been placed "up the mountain" and "if we can get another 600 to 700 feet in this winter we will be very happy".

He suggested that they purchase a rock breaker similar to the one they have been renting for $70 per month. The cost was $600 so this was considered a good move in that it can be used in street work as well.

He said they are about half way through the gravel crushing program and were producing a very fine product that

CIGARET SMOKING AT ALL-TIME HIGH

On the second anniversary of the surgeon general's report linking smoking and lung cancer, cigarette consumption in the United States is at an all-time high. U.S. Dept. of Agriculture estimates that Americans smoked 532 billion cigarettes last year. Spokesmen say sales will continue to rise until Congress requires health warnings to be included in cigarette advertising.

Of the 32,411 manufacturing establishments in Canada in 1961, 27,744 had less than 50 employees.

would produce better asphalt for road building.

To enable the public to get in touch with key municipal employees, in a minimum of time, the municipality will pay the difference between party and private telephone rental.

The wheels of rezoning are turning.

The first draft of the proposed revision to zoning was on hand for councilors to inspect.

Councillor Powell agreed that the district planner has a job to do — but future planning in Summerland should not be too rigid. "We must judge each case on its merits". He said it was council's responsibility to see that the planning is fair.

The preliminary municipal budget of $384,921.18 was authorized by council.

The general budget was down from 15.5 mills in 1965 to 15.42 this year, but the debenture went up from 1.0 to 4.86 mills which represents the building of the new hospital slated for this year. This makes an increase of 3.78 mills.

From taxation they anticipate $143,832.70 and in local government grants $82,912.

The sum of $65,700 is anticipated to be spent on public works and $97,346.25 on debenture interest. Social assistance will cost $79,000 but $89,000 of this will be recovered from the provincial government.

TOWING BUSINESS IS GOOD

This is a familiar weekend scene at the Summerland Ski Hill. Although in low lying areas the snow is all but gone, such is not the case up on the hill. As is evident here the tow is kept busy every hour of operation.

Youth killed instantly in car crash Sunday morning

Summerland RCMP were called out at 4:05 a.m. Sunday to investigate a complaint of a prowler near Cedar Brooke Motel, but didn't realize they were actually going to investigate a highway fatality and a serious injury.

They came to a dead end looking for the prowler and were about to drive home when they noticed a rear view mirror on the shoulder of the road and saw a light in the ditch.

Apparently Henning Paulson, 22, the driver of the car, failed to make the turn at the Trout Creek bridge on Highway 97 and ran into the abutment. He was killed instantly.

Passenger John Lynn Hurren 18, was no doubt the prowler neighbors heard. He was found semi-conscious in a Research Station lab a short distance from the scene of the accident by the Summerland Search and Rescue Squad who were called in on the search. He had climbed out of the car by breaking a window.

He was apparently trying to get to a telephone to call for help.

Police said the car was travelling north at the time of the crash when it hit the south end of the bridge, slid down the bank, and came to a stop on Trout Creek 20 feet below the highway.

Poulsen had been employed in Penticton since his return before Christmas from Germany where he had served with the army for 4 years. He was to get his discharge on February 12.

Many will recall February 18, 1960, when three were killed when they hit the same abutment. They were Dr. W. O. McDaniel, and John Paul Anderson of Summerland and Robert James Tinning of Naramata.

Mr. Paulson was born in Denmark, and moved to Summerland, from Westbank in 1960. He attended Summerland High School before going into the army.

Dr. Chas. Strachan accepts U.N. post

Dr. Charles Strachan, director of the Summerland Research Station of Canada Dept. of Agriculture, leaves about February 3rd on a year's assignment with the Food and Agricultural Organization of the United Nations.

He will go to Athens, Greece as special adviser to the Greek government on fruit and vegetable processing.

This will involve advising on the suitability and quality requirements of fruit and vegetables for processing; harvesting, transportation and storage; development of processing facilities; development of products to meet local and export requirements; institution of quality training for the industry.

Dr. Strachan will be accompanied by his wife and three children, Lindsay, Morley and Sarah. The children will attend an international school in Athens. They will return to Summerland at the end of the FAO assignment.

"Acceptance by senior personnel of special assignments from time to time," says Dr. Strachan, "is part of the Canadian government's policy of assisting the United Nations wherever possible."

Fire completely destroys Family Shoe Store Tuesday

Fire struck in the heart of the business section of Summerland, Tuesday, Jan. 25 at 3 a.m., completely gutted the Family Shoe Store.

Mrs. Marge Butler, living two doors away above Marjay Fashions, which she owns and operates, smelled smoke at approximately 2:45 a.m. She awakened her husband, Allan, and upon investigation they found smoke coming from the shoe store.

A phone call to the Summerland Volunteer Fire Brigade brought the firemen within a few minutes to the scene. The fire department worked through the night, quelling the fire only to have it flare up twice after they thought they had it out.

The 5c - $1.00 Store, west of the shoe store apparently received no damage as a result of the fire.

To the east, the Sports Shop has received light smoke damage, but the basement which has been used as a rifle range for the Summerland Rifle Club was filled with water. Marjay Fashions and their living quarters upstairs suffered some smoke damage.

A family dwelling directly behind the Family Shoe Store, on the same lot, was left intact except for smoke damage.

Spectators were very impressed by the efficiency of the Volunteer Fire Brigade who kept the conflagration of burning rubber and shavings from breaking out either of the side walls of the building, and away from the building at the rear.

BIRTHS

Born to Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Proulx of Summerland, a girl on January 21st.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Inglis, a boy, January 21st.

The store was insured. The cause of the fire is as yet unknown. Damage was estimated at $25,000.

Regional College names president

A leading figure in post secondary academic and technical education was today named president of the Okanagan Regional College.

He is 42-year-old Norman Walker, principal of the 4,000-student Stretford Technical College in Stretford, England.

Walker is a university trained professional engineer and educator with considerable experience in the planning and administration of colleges offering university level academic technical programmes.

College Council members who interviewed him in Revelstoke in December consider him ideal for the position.

Walker, his wife and four sons will take up residence in Kelowna in July. He will visit the Okanagan within a few weeks to meet with British Columbia educators, the College Council and the college architects.

Walker is an active member of major education councils and professional institutes and is an external examiner in education for the University of Manchester. At Stretford he has pioneered activities in sports, drama, adult education and community services and local need training.

He is a member of the British Institute of Management, Institute of Marine Engineers and Institute of Production Engineers.

His interests include sport, literature, philosophy and community activities such as Rotary and St. John's Ambulance.

Growers elected to the executive of the British Columbia Fruit Growers Association at their annual convention held in Penticton are: John Kosty, Bill Ritchie, John Hall, Harry Byatt and Charles Bernhart. Front row: John Bullock, Allen Claridge and Syd Land.

El Rancho Broncs to take on N. W. Royals in exhibition game

Summerland and Penticton players of the El Rancho "Broncs" Junior Hockey team, have finished their league play, and are now awaiting results of the final game between Vernon and Kamloops to decide who lands in the coveted second place slot.

The Broncs, however, have no intention of slackening off at this time, and have invited the New Westminster "Royals", B.C. Junior Champions, for an exhibition game on Saturday, January 29th at 8:30 p.m. in the Penticton Arena.

Market gardening in Summerland?

On a suggestion by Dr. Jim Millmore, a soil survey may be made in Summerland, probing the possibility of growing vegetables in the area.

Dr. Millmore had talked to Reeve Holmes regarding this and they felt that the Research Station would possibly be willing to assist with this. Councilors felt there may be land in the municipality that may be suitable for market gardening. This was discussed at their regular meeting Tuesday night.

Praise was directed towards council and lineman George White, by the Summerland Youth Centre.

Mr. White donated his time and the corporation their electric light truck to place wire mesh screens in the windows of the Centre to avoid breakage.

A commercial sign as presented to Council was given approval by council.

The Camera Club expressed their thanks for the use of the Health Centre for their meetings, at no charge.

School Trustee Dr. Dave McIntosh, and school secretary treasurer Jim Hack presented council with a five-year plan for site development at a total cost of $21,305, including field surface improvement, fencing and playground equipment.

They proposed the municipality participation in this and the grounds could be available for public use as well as for school children.

Mr. Hack explained the trustees were holding the line wherever possible in the budget, but did have about $9,000 of sharable capital with the provincial government to use in this manner.

Council expressed their agreement to participate, but how to do it was not decided. Some suggested it be paid as a grant over the five-year period, and others felt they should ask the school to put it in their budget. The balance to the municipality would amount to about $2,000 per year.

School grounds are maintained by municipal equipment payable to the corporation at usual rates.

Summerland lawyer, Frank Haar will be their legal adviser in the future, replacing Boyle & Co. of Penticton.

Mr. Haar previously told a council delegation if he were appointed, he would like to sit in on council meetings so he may get background and councilors' thinking regarding affairs he may be responsible for. He said he would gladly assist in spotting trouble before it happens. There would be no charge for this service.

Council felt they should have legal advice at their meetings and felt that Mr. Haar was very interested in the community hence would be of great assistance at their meetings.

NEW PRESIDENT

BCFGA convention signals start of changes in industry

With a new top man in their selling agency, a new manager of their processing plant, new president, and a new type of administrative body for both business enterprises, the B.C. Fruit Growers Association might truly say the Okanagan fruit industry has a brand new look following the 77th annual convention held in Penticton last week.

Their new president, Allan Claridge of Oyama, who won 43-28 over Nigel Taylor of Kelowna, is an old hand in the BCFG, and Ian Greenwood of Sun-Rype, who moved up to the manager's desk last summer, has been a key man with the industry for many years. Only now face in the industry is that of Eric Moore who succeeded R. P. Walrod as manager of B. C. Tree Fruits Ltd., and who appears to be rapidly acquainting himself with his new job.

The new administrative body failed to take the shape intended by the planning committee, but the growers in their own blundering way evolved a substitute body that closely resembles what was desired.

Recommended by the planning committee in extraordinary resolution No. 31 was a single board of elected members, plus the president and vice-president, who would constitute the BCFG executive, B. C. Tree Fruits Ltd. board of directors, and Sun-Rype board of directors, all rolled into one. It failed by one vote to get the required two thirds supported when some growers favored a joint business board but believed there should be a BCFG executive separate from the business board.

This objective was achieved in the election the following day when delegates first elected a BCFG executive, then a board of directors for B. C. Tree Fruits Ltd., and finally a Sun-Rype board consisting of exactly the same men as the Tree Fruits Ltd. board.

A late resolution was passed calling for the president and executive to review extraordinary resolution No. 31, have it redrafted, and brought before the next annual convention.

Biggest disappointment of the convention and a bitter pill for many growers was definite word from Minister of Agriculture Frank Richter that a $4,000 ceiling has been placed on joint federal-provincial government aid to growers who suffered crop loss in the December 1964 freeze.

Growers are not taking this lying down, and loud were the protests against this phase of government policy. Delegates passed resolution No. 8 asking the BCFG executive to reopen negotiations with a view to getting better terms in the aid program.

In the discussion on this resolution it was claimed responsible authorities for a number of years have been stressing the need for fruit growers to build up their small holdings into larger, more economic units.

Those who have taken this advice, and those who were already operating larger units, now find the maximum government aid of $4,000 to any one individual, while it may be enough for the small grower with less than 10 acres, (previously condemned as an economic unit) this sum of money is woefully inadequate to compensate the grower with 25 or 30 acres.

There are growers from Penticton north who find themselves in a desperate position. They suffered heavy crop loss and tree loss in the 1964 freeze; they have borrowed heavily to keep themselves going since that disastrous event, and now they find the financial aid they will receive is only a fraction of that required to keep them in business.

The financial problems arising from the December 1964 freeze sparked a lot of interest in resolution No. 10 which dealt with crop insurance.

Hans Rhenisch of the Keremeos-Cawston local was the mover of this resolution which was passed after amendments that provided for insurance on a basis of actual crop value, provision for insuring individual crops, and payment on a basis of 80 percent of crop value.

Mr. Rhenisch said this was the most important resolution to come before the convention, and that had adequate insurance been in force at the time of the 1964 freeze the growers would not have had the serious crop and tree loss problems they are faced with today.

Delegates supported three resolutions dealing with canneries, long term contracts between canners and growers, and separation of canner fruit from fresh fruit pools, but they turned down

Oliver resolution No. 21 that asked for a guaranteed price for canners Vee's and a separate pool for the same variety.

Sponsors of the resolution questioning trend line pooling, No. 28, confirmed their argument to a challenge of the legality of trend line pooling.

President A. R. G. A. R. G. quickly settled the legality issue when he explained the association lawyer had thoroughly investigated this point and found nothing illegal about trend line pooling. The resolution was then withdrawn.

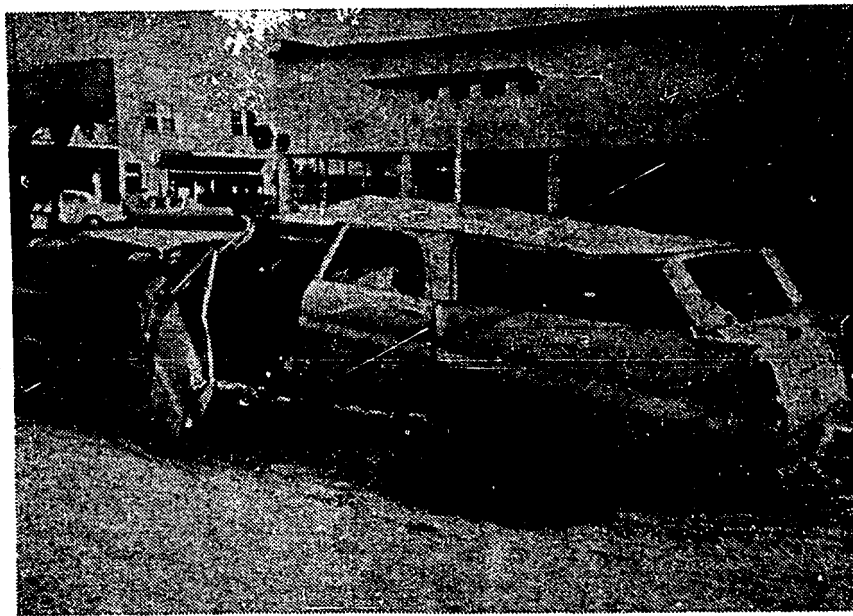

Substantial savings in packing house operation are possible according to a preliminary survey made by the research firm of Stephenson & Kellogg. Prompted by this report the Summerland local introduced a late resolution requesting the Okanagan Federated Shippers to take all steps that in their opinion they find necessary to achieve integration and greater co-ordination of our industry fruit handling facilities; motion carried. Another late Summerland resolution receiving general support concerned the Canada Pension Plan. The resolution called for modification of the plan to provide that a farmer's income be calculated on a gross income basis, and on an estimated five year average up to the ceiling.

Osoyoos believed orchard rehabilitation of sufficient importance to bring in a resolution requesting the Farm Credit Corporation include as a reason for a loan the rehabilitation of certain specified areas (say 25%) of properly managed producing orchards that have a defined block of either overage or off variety trees; motion carried.

An Oliver resolution covering the granting of long term loans was passed earlier in the business program. The Oliver resolution, No. 7, suggested long term loans for rehabilitating orchards, with a five year moratorium on interest.

PLUNGED SIXTY FEET

This 1957 station wagon was considered a write-off after rolling over an embankment on Brend Lake road Tuesday afternoon. Driver of the vehicle Peter Swetleko of Penticton could not make a curve due to icy conditions. He was treated for minor injuries and passenger John Soveskov also of Penticton was treated for head wounds in the Penticton hospital. The picture was taken in front of Bud's Service after the wreck was towed in.

Free transportation to college for Summerland students

A "Home Town" formula permitting students through the Okanagan Regional College to attend the college on an equal cost basis was announced today by the college council.

The formula, approved by all participating school boards, divides region into three areas on the basis of travel time to the college site.

The northern and southern extremes of the region, area 3 is considered to be outside a reasonable commuting distance. Students from this area will live in college dormitories free, paying only for their meals at cost.

South Okanagan, Keremeos, Enderby, Armstrong, Salmon Arm and Revelstoke school districts are all in area 3. Isolated areas of other school districts, particularly remote parts of the Vernon district will be classified as area 3.

Area 2 takes in Summerland and most of the Vernon school district. Students from this area will be able to take free college buses to and from the campus each day.

If the students wished to live in dormitories instead, they would pay a room rate in the neighborhood of $12 to $15 per month and would pay for meals at cost.

Exact rates will be determined by the college administration. Where practicable the buses may also be used to transport distant students homes for voting or for major holiday seasons.

Students from Area 1, the Kelowna school district are nearly all within easy personal commuting distance and will have parking space provided for them on the campus.

Students from non-participating school districts will pay their full costs, receiving no tuition or dormitory subsidy. The exact costs will be announced later.

"I don't think any human could develop a fairer formula than this said College Council chairman Frank Venables.

"This means a Salmon Arm student for example, is financially as close to the college as a Kelowna student. It's just like having a college in his home town." Two of the big advantages of a Regional College are pretty obvious under this formula — a lot of money will now stay in our towns and not go down to the coast, and a lot of our youngsters will now be able to get a useful education they couldn't afford before."

He said that tuition fees will not be set until federal per capita grants are announced, but that "they will be about half of the U. B. C.'s"

The college is scheduled to open in September 1967, offering the first two years of university and several two-year technical courses. It will be located near Kelowna on a broad point overlooking Okanagan Lake.

Summerland representative on the board, John Bennest told the Review "I hope it is fair to all concerned" when asked for his view of the formula he has had a part in developing.

"I think there could be some changes in the future. We may find what we have proposed will need revision, but at the present time, as a result of our studies, it seems to be the plan to adopt at the start", Bennest said.

Reader takes exception to editor's opinions

The Editor, Summerland Review

Sir,

While it is clearly evident that you don't mind publishing editorials against the principles of state ownership including the brain washing propaganda of Capitalist papers, I have not noticed you advocating Free Enterprise ownership and operation of a number of Dominion, provincial, and municipal institutions such as the army, navy and air force, highways and roads, the postal service, forestry, agricultural, mining, fisheries, and other such services. Our schools colleges and universities, a quantity of health and sanitary service, inspection and control of medicine and food. Maybe you would like free enterprise ownership and operation of our courts, penitentiaries, mental institutions, sanatoriums, our sewage systems, and perhaps a number of other similar things. No, Mr. Bergh, I don't see you or any other free enterprises spend any more money than is essential on those very essential matters of which the above is only a fraction of the whole lot. However I have noticed amongst a number of their affairs a most pertinent fact, it is the fact that when something can be done profitably by free enterprise they want it at the earliest opportunity; But when something essential is needed that they are unable to exploit for personal profit they want it done at public expense while they take everything they can out of it from profit on finance all the way to sales. One other affair I have noticed is that when their business fails a large number of them take their troubles to local, provincial and Dominion governments. By how much has the CPR been subsidized to date? How many farmers would be left on the Prairies had they not received help; now we have orchardists in similar financial conditions. How many pensioners are there who receive pensions at public expense. Mr. Bergh, have you ever met any private enterpriser who deliberately refused help from public treasury in or out of Saskatchewan, unless he had money to burn?

lished area now where very few other than the larger centers had it before.

It is not necessary to go to Saskatchewan to find failures there are new victims every day in B.C. and Alberta. Two east coast financiers were reported each in possession of two billion dollars, that amounts to the average of $4,563.20 net per hour for every hour of 50 years. How can anyone justify that type of performance when most people don't get that much per year? One million on the same basis amounts to $2.28 net per hour. All that proves to my satisfaction the Communist have no monopoly on sin. The Russian and Chinese ect. did not overthrow capitalist government because of Capitalism being better, when a government is defeated in a revolution it is defeated because most of its people don't want it.

We buy bread at 23 cents per 15 oz. made of 2 or 3 cents per pound. Wheat at possibly one and one-tenth pound of wheat per loaf, these are some of many proofs that free enterprise cares very much to satisfy it-

The C.C.F. — N.D.P. did more good for the people of Saskatchewan than all previous governments. Of those people who left Saskatchewan, more than 75% were gone before the C.C.F. was elected and as for impropotional gain in population; farm mechanization and meager other resources was the cause of that. Development of petroleum started and progressed very much during the C.C.F. administration also electrification although it is impossible to produce electric power by diesel for the same price as hydro which is very scarce, electrification may include more than 75% of the estabself and is not too much concerned about others.

In regards to state ownership how else will it be possible to control social economy when conditions become substantially worse which it will with increasing population when those who consider themselves Christians are unable to get along in the same church (no less than six denominations in Summerland).

In conclusion I am well aware of the fact you will undoubtedly give us more lamentation on a number of occasions while you take a revenue to do it and I am one of the unfortunate who has to pay for it indirectly and without choice.

Attempt made to collect money

The Review received a report of a Summerland resident being asked for a donation for the Boy's Club of Penticton.

In following up the report, we contacted the Boy's Club by telephone and was informed they are not making a public appeal for funds. They receive their share of contributions from the Community Chest.

Apparently the caller who was making the appeal in Summerland was a phoney, so people should act accordingly.

Summerland Review — 3

Planning is a headache

There is little doubt that one of the toughest tasks in serving your community is that of acting on the town planning commission.

There are so many angles to consider. Doing the right thing from a professional planning viewpoint, may not be practical, workable or fair to those involved.

Making decisions which are not popular is about as common place as coffee for breakfast. Members are charged with impeding progress and community development because those directly involved do not understand why their particular area is zoned contrary to their convenience.

In a recent study of a subdivision request made by the Summerland Commission, it was evident that if approved, it would be contrary to the future planning of that particular area, hence they recommended the council turn the application down.

But at the council meeting last week it was pointed out that at the time the applicant purchased the property, it was for the specific purpose of subdividing. At that time, it was zoned residential, leaving no doubt that when application is made it would be approved.

Council took the attitude that they could do nothing but instruct the commission to have another look at that area and to come up with a new plan.

This is only one example of the complexities of the planning commission. This is not to criticize the commission. They were acting in good faith towards what they thought, was unfair for all concerned — but in doing so, they found their decision was not workable so they have to go back to the drawing board and come up with a solution.

Councillor Powell hit the nail on the head when he said "we can't be too rigid on our planning decisions".

Planning a town that has subjected to many different ideas is a rough assignment. It is a little like putting a jigsaw together without having the proper pieces.

We would agree with Councillor Powell. It can be summed up in two words — "reasonable versatility".

Criticize the Planning Commission — this is your democratic right — but at the same time sympathize with them. Their problems are not minute.

Report From Parliament Hill

By DAVID PUGH, M.P., for Okanagan-Boundary

'Speech disappointing'

All Members of Parliament looked forward with a great deal of pleasure to Opening day. The traditional pomp and ceremony go back to the origin and meaning of Parliament, and are a firm reminder of the rights and duties which must be observed. This being a new Parliament, the Commons elected as Speaker The Honourable Lucien Lamoureux, and I believe the choice to be an excellent one. As Deputy Speaker in the last Parliament he proved himself to be able and just. Perhaps of importance at this time, he has an excellent understanding of human nature. I say "important," because this is the third minority Government in a row. It will take an outstanding man to control the situation.

The Speech from the Throne proved disappointing after all the talk that went on during the Election. With very few exceptions we find ourselves dealing with past business that should have been concluded last year. It brings to mind that perhaps the country has been subjected to an unnecessary Election. There is very little change in Party standings, and that which had to be done still remains before us. One exception is the stress that is being laid on Education, and the feeling here is that all Members are behind the changes sought. Certainly during the Election great emphasis was placed on this subject. Also of interest to Members are changes on the Government Front Bench. There are a number of new Ministers and also a number of changes in Portfolios, but in addition to these, many Departments have been switched. Naturally, this time is one of trial to the new Ministers, but so far all has gone well. The Throne Speech will occupy the first two weeks and will be subject to the usual two amendments. By tradition, these are Votes of Confidence, but because of the minority Government there is a strong move to have them treated otherwise. In other words, if the Government were to lose a Vote it should not be thrown out of Office. My own feeling is that a Government must survive a Vote, or go. If it went, the reins of Office could be handed over without an Election. The proposed amendments are of a ticklish nature in that the Conservatives and the NDP both want the Old Age Pension raised to $100, but in a different manner. In view of the stands the various Parties took during the Election, it will be interesting to see how they vote. If they vote as they spoke, then the Government should lose.

Employment figures show 3.9 per cent increase in '65

Total employment, at 6,933,000 in December, was virtually unchanged from November. In previous years, employment has usually declined considerably during this period.

Unemployment showed a smaller than seasonal increase, rising by 32,000 to 252,000 between November and December.

The labour force showed unusual strength during the month, rising by 26,000, where as typically it declines at this time. The total, at 7,185,000, was higher than a year earlier by 273,000, or 3.9 per cent. For men and women, the advance was of about equal magnitude.

The year-to-year increase in the male labour force was well above the average for any year since 1957. Employment in December was 305,000, or 4.6 per cent, higher than the year earlier and unemployment was 32,000 lower.

Employment was noticeably higher than a year ago in all regions. The gains ranged from 3.2 per cent in the Prairie region to 6.9 per cent in the Atlantic region.

IMPORTANT FACT WAS OMITTED

The write-up "On tour in North America" last week, giving an account of Rev. and Mrs. T. T. Tazumi's activities while home from the mission fields in Japan, the fact that Mrs. Tazumi is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Uchida of Summerland was omitted.

LET'S GET NEWSY

Mary Carter skipped her "link to third place" in the B class at Kelowna during the Ladies Open Curling Bonspiel over the weekend.

BCFGA CONVENTION NOTES

Penticton's magnificent Peach Bowl makes an ideal place for holding a convention. The auditorium is spacious; the seating is comfortable; the acoustics are very good; there is a large parking area.

President of the B.C.F.G.A. for the last 15 years, A. R. Garrish received a standing ovation upon his retirement.

The new president, Allan Claridge, is a cool operator, but it will take a man of outstanding talent to measure up to the high standard set by Art Garrish.

With Art Garrish retiring and John Luthy losing out in the election, Oliver now has no representatives in any branch of the industry. This is quite a change from the days when Oliver was represented by Garrish in the president's chair, Gordon Wright was chairman of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. board of governors, John Luthy a member of the B.C.F.G.A. executive, and Ed Hack on the Sun-Rype board.

This year Chas. Bernhard of Summerland replaces Luthy. Bill Ritchie of Keremeos is also a member of the executive.

Summerland has another industry official Hans Stoll was elected to the B.C. Fruit Board along with perennial chairman J. G. Campbell of Salmon Arm, and R. G. Penson of Creston.

Two of the elected industry officials come from Osoyoos, Steve Mephram and Warren Williamson. Both were elected to the B.C. Tree Fruits, Ltd. board and Sun-Rype board.

During the convention session John Kiene of East Kelowna deplored the great length of time delegates often spend on matters that should be disposed of quickly. This writer noticed that Mr. Kiene was at the microphone more often than any other delegate, which may account for some of the wasted time.

Mr. Kiene did have a point, for there were times when delegates insisted on talking at considerable length on something that appeared to warrant no further discussion. But this is the democratic way and the democratic way is not always the most efficient way.

MR. CARL PURDY Appointed Manager

Carl Purdy has been appointed manager of the Bank of Montreal's Westbank branch. He was formerly accountant of the bank's Chilliwack office.

A Native of Vancouver, Mr. Purdy joined the B of M there and subsequently served in branches at Terrace, Ganges, Whitehorse and Victoria.

He was appointed accountant at Merrit in 1919 and, two years later, he moved to Castlegar in the same capacity. He has been accountant of the Chilliwack B of M since 1964.

While at Chilliwack, Mr. Purdy was also registrar and a director of the Kinsmen Club.

Kuentz Paris Chamber Orchestra to perform in Penticton Jan. 31

On Monday, January 31 the Paul Kuentz Chamber Orchestra will be presenting a concert in the Penticton Senior Secondary School Auditorium under the auspices of the Southern Okanagan Community Concert Association.

Paul Kuentz, founder and director of the orchestra, organized his ensemble in 1950 from among prize winners at the Paris Conservatory. The instrumentation of the group normally consists of seven violins, two violas, two cellos, one double bass, and either piano, clavichord or organ. To this basic unit may be added wind instruments (flute, oboe, bassoons, trumpet, horn) to achieve the combinations desired.

The repertory of this orchestra spans three centuries of masterworks for small orchestra. From the 17th century Vivaldi to the 20th century Tchaikovsky, the group is acclaimed for its renditions of "The Seasons" and "Eine Kleine Nachtmusik", to name but two.

This group made its first appearance in North America in 1961-62 with an 80 city tour of Canada and climatic closing performance in New York's Metropolitan Museum of Art. It has returned to North America each season since by popular demand.

Appearing with Paris Chamber Orchestra this season is the renowned trumpet soloist, Adolf Scherbaum. He has been acclaimed as one of the most superlative Bach trumpeters of the present day, and it is by popular demand that he is returning to America.

Concert time is at 8:15 and concert members are asked to be in their places by 8:05.

Russia's educational system explained to local P-TA

The Trout Creek P.T.A. meeting stressed "father participation" in their advertising in the local School Superintendent Gordon Paton speak on "Education Behind the Iron Curtain".

They were successful as fathers turned up with their wives in good numbers.

Dave McMullen chaired the meeting.

This organization had requested the department for school zone signs on highway 97, and a flashing light at the intersection of the Shell and Texaco service stations.

Secretary Mrs. Fisher read correspondence from the departments concerned promising to take a look at the situation.

Principal Ray McNabb's room won the attendance record.

School Trustee Jim Miltimore introduced the guest speaker, Superintendent Paton.

Paton explained that the children of Russia get an early knowledge of Communism.

When a child is 6 years old, he has the opportunity to join a Communist group and to wear a blue kerchief around his neck. Older children up to 14 wear a red one.

They wear these to school, and if a child has not got one, he is marked because he or she is different. This encourages them to join forces with the socialistic ideas early in life. It is a form of punishment to take their kerchiefs away from them for short periods of time.

At 14 years, they may join the Young Communist League, and at 18 the Party.

In grade one, when questions formulated in text books, they are careful to include the word factories because it is very vital to them. Or the working women who has no place in the home — only in the factories, increasing their gross national product. May Day is mentioned often or awards being given.

Many awards are given for service to the state.

The teachers are elected in Russia for periods of six years

If a child is not doing well in school, they may, on occasion, make this known on the bulletin board at the factory where their father works, calling the father a poor one because his child is not coming up to standard in his work.

Foreign languages are stressed. There are 5 English high schools in one city, where nothing is taught but English. These graduates may be sent abroad to work as translators, a vocation used in every form of business and government in Russia. German and French are also stressed.

Teachers receive a salary of about $100 per month. They live in government blocks, paying normal rent. Meals can be had at the school and they do not drive cars. During the summer, they are sent, by the state to camps where they can rest their minds.

Teachers are considered very important and are very much respected because in their hand lies the responsibility of grooming the mind of the adult of tomorrow in their Communist state.

Senior Citizens guests of Rebekahs

On Thursday evening, January 20th, members of the Old Age Pensioners' Club and residents of Parkdale Place were guests of the members of Faith Rebekah Lodge No. 32 at dinner in the I.O.O.F. hall. At this annual event 104 guests were served a delicious roast beef dinner with all the trimmings.

Mr. Ben Mayne, president of the O.A.P., chaired the gathering with Reeve and Mrs. Norman Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Downes, noble grand of Faith Rebekah Lodge, and Mr. Stanley Taylor, noble grand of the Odd Fellows Lodge, and Mrs. Taylor, as head table guests.

After dinner, Reeve Holmes brought greetings from the municipality and expressed his appreciation to the Rebekahs for this annual gesture of entertaining the senior citizens of our community. A warm welcome was extended to one and all by Mrs. Fred Downes on behalf of the Rebekahs, and Mr. Taylor spoke on behalf of the Odd Fellows, who are happy to provide any needed transportation each year. A beautiful floral arrangement was donated to the Old Age Pensioners' Club for their dinner by Gallop's Greenhouses.

During the evening magnificent slides were shown and commented by Mr. Wm. Snow on his recent trip to Australia and New Zealand. The evening closed with a singsong and a very appropriate "thank you" song, proposed by Mr. Percy Taylor.

Romeo and Juliet at Penticton High

Produced by the Playhouse Theatre Company, Romeo and Juliet is sponsored by the Penticton Summer School of the Arts. George Gay, chairman of the board of directors for the Summer School said the production is compatible with the aims and objects of the school which has always been particularly interested in the arts for young people.

Bantams lose in semi-finals

By RON KOSTELNIUK
Hockey in the Summerland Arena on Sunday saw the Bantams lose the semi-finals to Vernon in two straight games. The score was 5-1 for Vernon.

At the end of the first period Vernon was ahead 3-0 and Summerland never caught up. Vernon's goalie proved sensational and the one Summerland goal came in the last five minutes of play as Brock Clieger made the goal with assists from Ken Boulton and Ed Nield.

This leaves only the Peewees in the playoffs.

Ambulance League Continues Strongly in Good Work

The Summerland branch of the Okanagan Ambulance League may be well proud of the extensive work it has done in the past on behalf of the wounded soldiers, and the fact that it has just sent off its twenty-sixth bale of indispensable comforts is evidence enough of the fact that this energetic body of ladies are by no means weary of well-doing.

The contents of the 26th bale sent to the Red Cross Society by the Ambulance League from Summerland were: 70 pair socks; 14 mufflers; 7 mitts; 2 pair slippers; 3 suits pyjamas; 30 hospital handkerchiefs; 4 many-tailed bandages; 8 T bandages; 17 field handkerchiefs; 1 triangular bandage; 1 heel rest; 1 bundle face cloths; (100) 20 tray cloths; 1 draw sheet; 80 wash rags; 5 dish cloths; 1 bundle old flannel; 5 bundles mouth wipes (500).

Means Much to Okanagan

Not in a long time has there been an announcement of more importance to the Okanagan fruit grower than that issued from Ottawa that the vast Peace River district is to be given rail connection with the Coast.

Early settlers on the newly plotted orchards to be in the Okanagan will recall the often repeated statement that growth of population on the Prairies would keep well in advance of the development of the fruit industry in this valley and that the Prairie provinces would absorb all the fruit that we could produce. The facts have been otherwise. Production of fruit in this valley has considerably outdistanced the consuming capacity of the Prairie markets with the result that an important proportion of our crop must annually find buyers abroad.

With the opening of the Peace River country there will be a rapid flow of population and the Okanagan will be its logical source of supply for fruit. It is not improbable that in less than ten years the home markets and our output will be more nearly on a level than they are at the present time.

Novel Method of Obtaining Fuel

It is a very unusual thing to see an Indian on our streets under the influence of alcohol. There were two of them, however, in that condition early this week, Johnnie Pierre and his nephew, Andy and for a few minutes they made things rather interesting for Constable Graham. This was when he undertook to lock them up. Making sure of Johnnie, he tried to keep the other with him too, but Andy was not going to be taken, and getting a chance slipped away.

Brought before Magistrate English, Johnnie pleaded guilty to drunkenness. He was allowed to go upon condition that he and Andy would provide the Hospital with five cords of wood.

Andy later came back, and going to Mr. English consented to the above fine and signed papers satisfactory to the court.

"Ous Vadis"

(Going around in circles)
by Rev. P. K. Louie

G. K. Chesterton once said: "There is one thing in the world that never makes any progress and that is the idea of progress." By this he meant that unless we have a fixed concept of what progress really means we can never know that we are making any headway. Unfortunately, there are many who, instead of working toward an ideal, change it, and call it progress.

Everything in earth's geology and everything on the earth's surface point to a future: the impulse of a river is forward into the sea; the little child tells what he intends to be when he is a man; thoughts fly on wings toward the tomorrow; all these impulses which carry us onward imply a future under a Divine Providence. Those who lose sight of goal often concentrate on mere motion and try to derive pleasure from it. Their zest is not in the achievement of a destiny but rather in gyration and action for the mere sake of movement of which these new "twists" in dancing are good examples.

Perfection is being, not merely doing; it is not to affect an act but to achieve a character. There are tens of thousands of minor purposes, but the one great purpose is the perfection of our soul and character from a moral point of view. Infinite as are the varieties of life, he who has not found out directly how to make everything to serve this master purpose has missed the meaning of life.

The son of Confucius once said to him: "I apply myself with diligence to every kind of study, and neglect nothing that genius, but still I do not advance." To which Confucius could render me clever and in-

Cougar guided down Apex slope

Colin Mann captured his 29th cougar last week, and brought 'em home alive. This one he caught up Apex Mountain.

His dog chased it up a tree and Colin, with the aid of a stick and a rope was able to make the line secure around the animal's neck. He then tied the cougar's hind legs with a heavy shoe lace and brought him down.

To get it down the mountain, he found it too active to carry wrapped in a coat, so he picked it up by the back legs and guided it down with the cougar walking on its front feet down the slope. High top boots kept the cougar from biting Colin's leg as he snapped back now and then.

It was estimated to be about 3 to 4 months old. It's next home will be in a zoo.

Why wait for spring?

do it now!

In winter, men are available. Materials are available. And special off-season discounts are often available. So, doesn't it make a lot of sense to have those repairs and renovations done now. Not simply construction and building jobs—but things like having the lawnmower fixed and the screens mended; having the drapes cleaned and the rugs shampooed; having the furniture re-upholstered and the electrical appliances repaired. All jobs which can call for a long wait come Springtime—but which can be handled quickly, efficiently and easily, during the winter season. What's more, government-sponsored, low-cost Home Improvement Loans are available through your bank, to assist you in carrying out all kinds of renovation jobs you've been meaning to do—up to $4,000 with up to ten years to repay! No doubt about it—winter is the best time to spruce up your home or place of business. Do it now!

Everybody benefits when winter work is increased

R. Towgood, foundation director explains work done with funds

The Rehabilitation Foundation of B.C., which is the recipient of all Mothers' March Funds, hopes to continue expanding its services.

Emigration from Canada in the 1946-64 period is estimated at about $1,000,000.

Here is a summary of its services presented by Rob Towgood, Regional Director of the Foundation.

- 1 Over $200 was spent in 1965, purchasing braces and appliances for Summerland residents.
- 2 A full-time speech therapist, serving the South Okanagan exclusively, is part of the province-wide speech and hearing program.
- 3 Physically handicapped from all over the province are given vocational training. Because of intense interest of the government and other groups, this program will mushroom in the next few years.
- 4 Grants to initiate research will have long term benefits.
- 5 Direct grants are helping to build the Venture Training Centre in Vernon, and the addition to the Penticton Health Centre.

From 1950 to 1963 total public welfare spending in Canada rose from $1 billion to $4 billion.

Public Works Minister, W. N. Chant, gets an explanation of the B.C. Government's new nine position switchboard in the Parliament Buildings in Victoria from Marjorie Jones, the Government's chief telephone operator. This centre is the heart of the new inter-city telephone system giving authorized Provincial Government personnel direct links between Victoria and six other major centres in B.C.

The new network of telephone lines are designed to reduce the provincial government's long-distance bills and to speed government business calls among major centres across British Columbia.

Mr. Chant told a press conference that the system, provided by the B.C. Telephone Company, is expected to reduce the government telephone costs by at least $100,000 a year by eliminating long-distance charges on many calls and reducing those on others.

League leaders increase lead; Men's league underway

by Ron Kostelnik

The leaders in the A, B and C leagues strengthened their hold on top spot in last week's action. In the A league, the Borderlines slipped to nine points behind the Outcasts.

Accidentals were knocked out of third place, falling behind Nextimers and Albert's Sport Shop, tied for third. In B league there were no changes in the standings but Super-Valu had its lead cut to 5½ points. In C league, Peachland Pin-ups increased their lead to 7 points over Greenwood Cleaners and Greenback, tied for second. The Crackerjacks and Latecomers both climbed into a tie for third. ### DESTROYED BY FIRE

Not exactly the usual neat window display usually seen at Mel Ducommun's Family Shoe Store that was gutted by fire early Tuesday morning. Building, fixtures and stock were completely destroyed. Mr. Ducommun has operated the business for twenty years.

COUGAR HOLDS SPOTLIGHT

School children got quite a thrill out of inspecting the 3 to 4 month old cougar Friday noon, all caged up after being caught by Colin Mann up Apex Mountain. The animal was tamed by Mr. Mann's dog and with the aid of a rope and a stick, Colin was able to get it down to the ground. This one is the 29th he has caught. It will find a home in a Canadian zoo.

Fewer fire calls for Sum'land in '65

There were fewer calls for the Summerland Fire Department during 1965 than during any year on record according to Fire Chief Joe McLachlan's annual report as read to the Municipal Council Tuesday night at their regular meeting.

His written report stated: "With our population steadily growing, it is gratifying to see that the number of fire calls per year is going down. I hope this trend is here to stay." Total destruction by fire was $12,325 which is about the average for the last five years, $12,843. Chief McLachlan felt that in the past record may be, in part due to the annual contest their organizations sponsor on fire prevention for school students. He expressed thanks to the ambulance drivers, fellow firemen and the council for their co-operation. He also expressed his appreciation to Phil Richardson for his "good house-keeping" in the fire hall. For turning out to practice, 61.1% of the firemen took part during 1965 and 68.3% were on the scene at actual fires.

Fishing, hunting license changes announced

Introduction of a short-term angler's licence, an increase in the year-around angler's fee for non-resident aliens, changes in the expiry dates of hunting and fishing licences, and the establishment of tag-licences for the shooting of black bears were announced recently by Dr. J. Hatter, Director of the Fish and Game Branch.

The short term angler's licence will cost $2.00 for a three-day period. It is for the convenience of visitors who are in the province only briefly.

At the same time, the year-around angler's fee for non-resident aliens has been increased from $7.00 to $10.00. This will not affect visitors under the age of 18 years who may still fish all year for the $1.00 licence fee. Also unchanged is the licence for non-resident Canadians who will still pay $3.50 for the year-long angling licence in British Columbia.

Dr. Hatter also announced changes in the expiry dates of hunting and fishing licences. All such licences, except the trapper's licence, will in future cover the period from April 1 to March 31 of the following year. Trapping licences will remain in effect from July 1 to June 30 in order to include the legal trapping season.

Current licences held by sportsmen, whether they are for hunting or fishing, are good until the expiry dates marked on them. It was also announced that tag-licences will be required by persons who shoot black bears, but this will not apply to the shooting of bears

Seniors lose, Juniors win in local basketball action

by Ron Kostelniuk

In weekend basketball action, the Seniors lost three out of four, while the Juniors won both their games. The Seniors split two games in Princeton and dropped two in Penticton. The Juniors had little trouble keeping their undefeated streak going as they won easy games over Penticton.

At Princeton, the girls won their third game of the season with a 39-30 victory. They led all the way from the opening whistle except for brief times in the first and second quarters but in the last half got the points they needed for the win. Ann Dean led the Rockette attack with 13 points. Bea Young had 6; Dennise Bennisson 7; Jean Felker and Bev Bye 4; Kay Fenwick 3; and Rita Rusaw 2.

The boys, on the other hand, lost their second game of the season to the undefeated league leaders as they took a 49-21 roasting. It was a close first half, which saw the league leading Rebels only holding an 18-13 lead but the second half told the story. Bill Fitzpatrick was top man for the Rockets with 9 points; Clint Skinner had 6; Keith Kennedy 3; Gerry Marsh and Gerry Mayne 2.

At Penticton, the tables were turned as the home town Royals added to the miseries of the Rockets by winning a 44-43 squeaker. They led throughout most of the game but lost the lead in the third and were trailing 41-37 with three minutes left to play and exploded to take a 44-43 lead with less than a minute remaining to win their second game of the weekend and pull into a tie with Summerland with identical 2 wins and 3 losses records. For the Rockets, Gerry Mayne was top man with 16 points; Gerry Marsh had 10; Bill Fitzpatrick and Ron Mayne 8; and Keith Kennedy 1.

The girls, never threatening in the game, lost 21-25 to drop their record to 3 and 2. Penticton led all the way in the game and were never in any serious trouble as Bev Bye, Shelvey Erickson and Sheryl Shenton were missing from the lineup. Ann Dean was the top Summerland scorer, with 8 points; Bea Young had 5; and Rita Rusaw had 2.

In Junior action at Penticton on Saturday night, the visitors had little trouble in each winning their third game of season. The girls dumped the hometowners 16-3 while the boys did the same only by a 21-10 score. In the girls game, China Storey and Elizabeth Orr had 4 points; Carolyn Norris 3; Jeanette Jacques and Lynn Bennisson 2; and Lorraine Bennis 1.

The boys, on the other hand, exploded for 10 points in the last quarter after a low scoring three quarters of play. Penticton got off to a 3-0 start but the Cosmos soon erased it and took a 7-3 first quarter lead which they stubbornly held.

Ken Kehler led the Cosmic attack with 10 points; Don Johnson had 5; Art Bolton, Colley Eaton and Howard Fiens had 2.

Next action for Summerland is on the weekend when the Jr.s host Oliver in an exhibition game on Saturday. The Seniors host Oliver on Saturday afternoon.

Seven hockey games Sat. night

Minor Hockey Week will be celebrated on Saturday night when fans will have the opportunity to see seven games at the Summerland Arena during three hours of almost continuous play.

The youngest fellows will be composed of a mixture of grade 1 and pre-school pucksters and as the evening progresses they will move up through the ranks to juvenile play.

The night is sponsored by the Summerland Minor Hockey Association in recognition of this being Minor Hockey Week in Canada.

Members of the Minor Hockey Association will be calling at your door on Thursday night (tonight) with booster tickets which will be offered for sale for 50 cents.

This is an annual canvas and provides them with their prime source of revenue for their winter activities.

Residents are asked to leave their lights on for the convenience of those "making the rounds" for this good cause. Those with booster tickets will be admitted free to the Saturday night hockey marathon.

It is hoped parents and friends will all turn out Saturday night to cheer their favorite sons on.

Total assessment up million dollars

Municipal assessor Joe Sheeley presented the Summerland Council the 1966 assessment roll Tuesday night which showed an increase of $1,009,162 in total assessment of all property over last year.

The total assessment of all property in the municipality, including land, improvements, landowner and tenants assessments is $11,763,734. Mr. Sheeley noted that the total assessment has increased $4,445,092 since the 1956 roll.

The assessment was based on 100% of land value and 75% on improvements.

There was a general increase on improvements of 5% over the manual rates, due to increased construction costs. While there was no general increase in land assessments, assessments were increased in districts where land values have increased. They range from 50% in residential subdivisions to 100% for front bench view lots.

"Although the selling price has not doubled since last year," Mr. Sheeley said, "they were too low in the first place."
