

The Summerland Trail Riders were well represented at the annual Pentiction Horse 1st. Show and Gymkhana on July

Competing and taking part in the grand entry under the trail riders' colors were:

Carol Reinertson, who won first on Crown Jewel in the reining class; Ron Reinertson, who won first on Deena in the bareback challenge.

Janet Tamblin, honourable mention on Coquette, with Esther Brittain on Little Joe, in western matched pairs; Edith Johnson riding Darcy won third place ribbon in junior jumping.

Also competing were Wendy Stevenson, George Stevenson, Jean Laver, Bill Head, Norma Johnson and Isabel Jeffery.

Valley industry is sought here

Reeves, councillors and executive members of Chambers of Commerce in the Okanagan-Similkameen area met in Summerland July 2 to discuss the federal government's new cash grant incentive program for industrial development in areas not enjoying a stable economy the year around. Chairman of the meeting was Mayor Maurice Finnerty of Pentiction.

Under the federal scheme in such areas the companies establishing would receive a grant of one-third for equipment worth up to $250,000, one-quarter from $250,000 to $1,000,000, and 20 per cent from up to $5,000,000.

Mayor Finnerty said that necessary legislation had been passed in this regard, and he learned that the Okanagan-Similkameen was chosen by a computer. It was the only area chosen in B.C.

To say the meeting was enthusiastic would be an understatement. All of the fifteen municipalities represented felt that this was necessary to give stability to the area and formed an organization called the Area Development Council.

Mayor Dick Parkinson of Kelowna had been in touch with the provincial government urging them to support this and like proposals. They were non-committal in the part they would play and advised Mr. Parkinson that their negotiations should be made direct to Ottawa.

There will be a federal-provincial conference July 19 to discuss plans at both government levels. After that time the Area Development Council will go to work to arrange a campaign promoting industry to this area.

It is expected the finances will be obtained from each municipality on a per capita basis. No definite figure was decided upon.

Members on the board of the new organization will be Mayor Finnerty, Mayor Parkinson, Harold Meyers chairman of the Okanagan-Similkameen Associated Chambers of Commerce, Mr. Buchanan president of the Okanagan Valley Labor Council, and Bill Malcolm chairman of the Okanagan-Revelstoke Associated Chambers of Commerce.

A letter will be drafted and sent to Victoria urging them to negotiate favorably on behalf of this area at the federal-provincial conference and to make them aware of the representation at this meeting. A similar letter will be sent to Ottawa. Names, who they represented and where they were from will be included in the letters.

Parking study to be made

Due to heavy traffic, the hardtop on Gulch Road will not be completed until fall. The material now on the road will be laid, however.

A resident complained that the Peach Orchard Beach area was used too much for parking. Councillors had been watching the area and they had not seen more than 2 or 3 cars parked there at any time, but will watch it further.

Sam Howe said his entry was not adequate. He could not see oncoming traffic on his right and it was not safe, and the road was slippery when wet. He gave council permission to go on his property to clear it so vision to the right would be better.

He also said his domestic water only flowed at the rate of about a gallon and a half a minute. Although council told him Bolton had been warned of this, they would compare the cost of digging in an existing pipe on the surface and installing a pressure pump on the existing line. Parts Superintendent said the reason for the low pressure was the fact that his house is almost on the same level as the supplying spring.

Mr. Blagborne suggested a blacktop curb be installed on Gulch Road and a sidewalk placed, also of blacktop. Council agreed that this would be wise.

A letter was read by clerk Gordon Smith from BCFGA suggesting council co-operate with them on a survey under the ARDA program related to the agricultural problem here. Council agreed to do this.

The RCMP yearly contract was approved.

The provincial government was asked to participate 50-50 on the surfacing of Gulch Road and Rosedale Ave. as they felt it was a secondary road. They did not consider them secondary roads but offered a grant of $5,000 if Summerland matched same. This was accepted.

A stop work order was issued to Mr. Chester Carey on a residence as his actions did not comply with building regulations.

Improvements will be made on the parking facilities next to the bowling alley. It had been discussed to use the portion of the park behind the $c-$1 store, but council felt an overall study of possible parking locations should be made as there was some negative feeling towards using any of the park area.

It was felt that the angle parking at the park was unsafe and an additional ten feet should be used at that location. A playground sign will be erected on Gulch Road near the park.

Clerk Smith read a number of recommendations for changes in zone planning. These will be studied by the councillors and action was delayed until that time.

Paper under New Ownership

The assets of the Summerland Review Printing and Publishing Ltd. have been purchased by Mr. Keith Bergh of Strathmore, Alberta, where he has been the editor, publisher of the Standard since 1957.

This is the first issue under the new ownership and it will now be known only as The Summerland Review as Mr. Bergh did not purchase the company stock.

He is married, with four children, two of school age (Kim and Joy) who will be attending the Trout Creek School. A daughter, Heather, is employed in Edmonton, and the other son Norm is employed with the Fairview Post in Fairview, Alta.

The family moved into the Don Trait home at Trout Creek on Sunday but have been here since June 20, living at a local motel.

Building Permits almost double

Applications for building permits in the District of Summerland for the month of June amounted to $67,868 for dwellings and $7,000 commercial for new construction and a total of $6,450 in alterations and additions. These figures were released by J. F. Khalembach, building inspector.

Total permits for the month was $73,918 in 22 applications compared to 15 applications for $38,364 in June last year.

The total for the first six months almost doubled over the same period last year, the figures being 84 permits this year versus 61 and $207,618.

Summer Skating and Hockey School

The summer figure skating school will commence its sixth year of instructions on Monday, July 5, at the Summerland Jubilee Arena.

This year it is a joint venture of the Summerland Figure Skating Club and the Glengarry Figure Skating Club of Pentiction. Under the direction of Miss Dolores Casulieri, children from various parts of B.C., Alberta and Washington will take part in the course of instruction which lasts until August 28. In addition, this year summer hockey will be featured for juvenile and junior players under the direction of George Stoll. Tentative nights for hockey practice will be Monday and Friday.

The hockey school will operate its first mid-summer training camp at the Summerland Jubilee Arena commencing August 9 and running to August 20. Classes will be held on Monday and Friday nights commencing at eight o'clock. The curriculum is such that it requires full attendance for the two weeks.

Summer Theatre begins, July 12

Pentiction Summer Theatre under the guidance of Vancouverites Ben Kopelow and Max Power will open its second season on Monday, July 12, at Riverside Park in Pentiction.

This outdoor professional company will begin with Tunnel of Love on July 12, then on an exchange plan with Tom Kerr's Metro Theatre will follow with Noel Coward's Hay Fever, and close the season August 21 with the musical set in the 1920's, The Boy-Friend.

The first show, Tunnel of Love, takes place in suburban New York and is about a couple desperately trying to have their first baby. This is complicated by a loathsome next door neighbour, his ever-pregnant wife, and a vivacious social worker from an adoption agency.

Under direction of Holiday Theatre's Joy Coghill, Tunnel of Love will run from July 12 for 2 weeks through July 24 nightly at 8:30.

Basic fundamentals of hockey will be taught and the boys will have the opportunity to discuss their individual difficulties with an instructor and receive personal instruction. Each boy will have ample time on the ice.

The instructors have been chosen from graduates of Okanagan minor hockey. Bill Lougheed, former Edmonton Oil King and now member of the Denver College team, has been appointed as goaltending instructor and coordinator. Two-year veteran of the Seattle Totems of the Western Hockey League, Larry Hale will handle the defense instructions. Hale was an outstanding junior defenceman with the Edmonton Oil Kings when they swept the western championship for two successive years.

Centreman of the San Francisco Seals, Larry Lund, who also played with the powerful Oil Kings and was a member of the Western Hockey League champion Seals in the 1963-64 season, has been appointed as instructor of the forwards.

Further information on the clinic and application for registration forms may be obtained at Mac's Cafe in Summerland and the Legion Barber Shop in Pentiction.

Merritt teacher is honored

Miss Edith Bristow, who is retiring after 38 years of teaching Grade VII in Merritt's Central Elementary School, was guest of honor at a tea on Saturday afternoon, June 19, with a large number of friends and former pupils in attendance.

Mr. L. E. Morrissey, principal of Merritt's schools for many years, was master of ceremonies and introduced Mayor Allan Collett, who thanked Miss Bristow, not only for many years of service to schools and students but for the part she played in the life of the community.

Miss Bristow has been a member of the Library Board for more than 20 years as secretary-treasurer, and has been active on the executive of the Cancer Society and the Red Cross through the years. Mr. Collett pointed out that when Merritt had an active tennis club Miss Bristow had been an enthusiastic member.

Giving a brief background history Mr. Morrissey said that she had been born at Balmoral, Manitoba, and came to Summerland when she was five years old. She received her elementary and high school education there and at the conclusion of elementary school was awarded a medal for that area, one of ten in the province. She received her teacher training at Victoria, then taught in Alberta, Walhachin and Nakusp before coming to Merritt. Mr. Morrissey said she had been a faithful member of the teaching profession and had earned her retirement.

The assistant secretary of the B.C. Teachers' Federation, Stan Evans, also lauded Miss Bristow for her years of devoted service to the BCTF pointing out that a year ago her service to this organization had been honored when Miss Bristow was presented with a life membership. (This is one of 52 such awards made since 1920. He also stated that she has a record of presidency of the Nicola Valley Teachers' Association that will never be matched.) Floyd Caswell, principal of Merritt Central Elementary School, read telegrams and

Review reader to win weekend trip

Late in August a lucky subscriber to the Review will win an expense-paid trip to Vancouver.

For the next six weeks, a copy of the paper will be placed in all the post office boxes in Summerland so everyone will have the opportunity to look at the product.

After this six-week period, a draw will be made and the prize will be two tickets to Vancouver by air and accommodations at one of the finest motels in that city for a weekend. Details are now being worked out.

All renewals and new subscribers are eligible.

More people seek employment

There was a considerable increase in the number of persons seeking employment through the Pentiction National Employment Service Office during the month of June, advises H. I. Moss, manager. The increase was not entirely due to the large number of high school students seeking employment after completing studies.

Job opportunities were understandably much lower than in 1964, particularly in the horticultural occupations. There is a shortage of some skilled workers in sawmill, mining, logging and heavy construction trades.

Vacancies in the following occupations are presently listed at the Pentiction office: Auto mechanics, auto body repairmen, sheet metal workers, stationary steam engineer (4th class), maintenance electricians (mining) and short order cooks. There are also vacancies listed by "out of town" employers for waitresses and short order cooks.

good wishes from Dr. J. I. Macdougall, who has been superintendent for five years; H. R. King, executive director of the B.C. Cancer Society who informed Miss Bristow that a certificate of merit for twenty years of service would be on its way shortly; and Miss Kathy Batten, a former pupil.

A letter of good wishes came from Mrs. I. Service, executive director for the Canadian Red Cross, recognizing her years of service within the schools encouraging children to take an active interest in Junior Red Cross.

Presentations were made by Ted Balshaw on behalf of the first class she taught in Merritt; by Loe Lauder on behalf of her second class, many of whom were present; and by Sue Turnbull on behalf of her last class.

Other gifts were given by Cliff Renzie on behalf of the School Board, Ed Johnson for the Nicola Valley Teachers' Association, Mrs. E. Grams for the P-TA (Miss Bristow is a charter member), Barton Howos for the Central Mainland District Council of Teachers, and Miss Helen Nisbet who is a personal teaching friend of Miss Bristow.

In thanking everyone for the gifts and good wishes Miss Bristow said "she had enjoyed her 38 years of teaching in Merritt and didn't really want to stop now."

Several members of Miss Bristow's family were present for the occasion. From Summerland came a sister, Miss Bertha Bristow; from Vernon, a sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Strother; and a nephew and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Strother.

One of the most progressive organizations in the district is the Summerland Yacht Club with its excellent breakwater and clubhouse facilities. At present there are 45 mooring stalls and plans are being made for additional space. The club now has a membership of 65 with Doug Campbell as commodore. During July and August dances will be held every Saturday night at the clubhouse.

EDITORIAL PAGE

The first issue

A sincere thank you to those who have met and so warmly welcomed us. We came to Summerland so much strangers a short time ago and already feel at home. Truly western hospitality.

The Review will be operated as an independent newspaper. News and editorial writing will be done without fear or favor. We promise factual news writing and editorials to praise, promote, or constructively criticize in a manner to the betterment of the district.

Many tourists will be reading this issue and we wish to welcome them and hope they come down and see what we are so proud of. We have heard so many people say, "This is the best place in the world to live."

We wish you to feel this is your paper. We are here to give you the news. It is difficult for a stranger to get all the news so we need your co-operation. We covered as much as we heard of this week, and we request you to phone the office if you hear anything newsworthy. If there is an important meeting coming up you think we would like to cover, tell us. If we are not committed for another one, we will be there.

People are interested in what local clubs and lodges are doing and we are interested in telling them. We understand there are many organizations in town, all the way from Boy Scouts to riding clubs. Write it up and bring it to the office, or give us a call. Publicity is very important and is part of your work. It will be impossible for us to attend all meetings for reporting purposes—there are not enough nights in the week.

So we are here and we are glad we came. You know little of us.

We are in trouble

Since writing the above, the troubles have piled up to a point that the paper is a day late.

The Linotype broke down and through the fine co-operation of Don Summerville of the Oliver Chronicle and our operator John Philp, the type was set at that plant.

We have a new typesetting machine on order and it should be here in a week, although it looks as though the typesetting will have to be done in Oliver for next week's issue as well.

We are sorry. It does not leave a good impression, but rather than stop publication we will do the best we can until the new equipment arrives. We ask for your consideration in this regard. Many thanks.

Roses show well despite heat loss

Delay of a week this year resulted in flower losses owing to heat. The annual rose show suffered accordingly, but although entries were fewer than usual, some fine blooms were displayed.

Grand champion rose of the show, a bloom of Isobel Harkness, a pale yellow high-centred beauty, was one of the finest roses ever exhibited in the community. It was grown by E. H. Bennett.

The door prize, a rose motif cup and saucer, was won by Mrs. Lionel Fudge.

Old Lanbmark ends Career

A landmark for the past 40 years in Summerland is soon to be demolished. Yalters Limited packing house has been sold to W. J. Guedit who will tear it down and the property will revert to the Canadian Pacific Railway.

The first building was put up in 1926 by C. A. Walter who had previously operated a small fruit packing house in Peach Orchard. In 1928 an addition was built and later a second storey was added. In 1935 the company purchased a nearby building owned by the Occidental Fruit Company to obtain additional floor space. The first fruit brader was installed in 1928.

Walter's Limited was overated for over 30 years by J. V. Charles and A. Y. Nesbitt until they ceased operations in 1956.

The building was later taken over by Gordon Beggs for the purpose of raising frying chickens. Since that business closed, the building has been vacant.

Local girls host neighbors

The South Okanagan District of the Girl Guides hosted a weekend for the Winachee Camp Fire Girls beginning June 26. Eleven of these girls were billeted in private homes of the Summerland area.

The girls, who travelled by chartered bus, arrived in Penticton and were introduced to their weekend homes Saturday night. They all attended a large camp fire at Okanagan Beach, Penticton. This camp fire was conducted by Gladys Pool.

On Sunday the whole group of girls supervised by Enid Maynard attended an all-day cook-out at Fenwick's Cabin. The girls from Wenatchee had never seen their whole dinner cooked in tin foil over a camp fire and were amazed and pleased by the new flavor.

The day ended with a singing and Taps and return to respective billets.

Monday morning the guide captain and Mrs. Laidlaw took the girls to Penticton to begin their homeward trek. The girls from Wenatchee had had a wonderful weekend. Both groups had made many new and close friends and our group of guides and our group of guides from the South Okanagan will visit Wenatchee next year.

Brownie Camp at Mewata

There will be two brownie camps held at the girl guide and brownie Camp Mewata on Lake Okanagan near Kelowna. The first camp runs from July 4 through to July 6 and the second July 6 to July 8.

Each camp will be attended by twelve Summerland girls and six Keremeos girls, aged 9 to 12 years.

The camp commander for these camps is Mrs. Gredda Evans; her assistants will be Mrs. June Barkwell, Mrs. Nan Rasmussen and Mrs. Kay Mayls, Mrs. Naylor, Mrs. Jean Skepping and two leaders from Keremeos.

This will be a first for many of the girls.

Thrills at PNE

Every movie fan everywhere remembers the breathtaking, death-defying chariot race from the Academy Award film Ben Hur.

Now you can see it recreated live and in person at the exciting 1965 edition of the Pacific National Exhibition, August 21 to September 6.

Highlight of the Empire Stadium Show of Shows, the daily grandstand attraction at the PNE, will be a thrilling chariot race featuring horses and drivers who actually took part in the filming of Ben Hur at Cinecitta in Rome.

The chariots, each drawn by four snow-white steeds, will race at top speed around the track of Empire Stadium at each of the 27 matinee and evening grandstand shows.

And there's always the danger of a spine-tingling pile-up or spill when these spirited horses take to the track.

The horses in this heart-stopping act, many of them purebred Arabians, have been trained by Glenn Randall of North Hollywood,

Rotarians make it possible for Mary Foster to take training

The members of the Summerland Rotary Club approved a scholarship for a 14-year-old girl to attend the school of fine arts in Penticton this summer to advance her piano studies.

She is Mary Foster and the club was assured by Les Rumball that it would be money well spent because 'her music ability is exceptional and she will go a long way' Mr. Rumball said. She is a student of Miss Kay Hamilton.

Dave Stewart of the Langley club was a guest as was Cec Walker of Kingsley. Harold McLarty of Penticton was made an honorary member for the year.

The new publisher of the Summerland Review was introduced by Walter Wright. Mr. Bergh thanked the members for their kind welcome and assured them that he would co-operate in every way possible. He said everything was going about normal. 'This is my first day in the business here and I have two meetings to cover tonight,' he said.

to the executive. The poplar tree that is infested with bugs will be treated and more sand will be hauled to the beach this week.

District Governor Ted Aftkinson presented the club with two banners, one from Dodge City, Kansas, club, and one from Mays Landing N.J. Although he did not attend the Atlantic City International Convention they were given to a friend of his who did. They were accepted by president Jock Johnson.

The Corporation Council was approached for assistance in life-guard expenses at Rotary Beach this year.

The wisdom of a lifeguard being employed by the council was questioned by some Rotary members as far as insurance was concerned so it was left until Summerland lawyer Frank Haar returned from the east for advice on the subject. The corporation did offer a grant of $150.

Distress Area Assistance Act

The Honourable Frank Richter, Minister of Agriculture, announced that due to a misunderstanding of the term "expenses involved" in the purchasing and planting of seeds and plants which includes tree-fruit and small fruit planting stock in those areas which were declared distress areas on March 22, 1965, clarification has now been made and the expenses of planting will include labor, spraying, irrigation, fertilizers, etc., up to and including harvesting.

The Minister also announced that in order that farmers may obtain returns from their 1966 crops, arrangements have been made with the banks to extend the time of repayment of loans made under the "Distress Area Assistance Act" so that interest and one-fifth of the principal will be due December 31, 1966, and each December 31 thereafter.

Bonner pays tribute to the B. C. Credit Union directors

In order to meet the annual capital requirements necessary to maintain the present rate of population and economic increase, it is important that British Columbia, and Vancouver particularly, become one of the financial centers of Canada, B.C. Attorney-General Robert Bonner told delegates attending the 26th annual convention of the B.C. Credit Union League.

B. C.'s population, he explained, is increasing at the rate of three percent compounded annually. Per capita income in the province is about $2,000 per year per man, woman and child. In order to keep up with this rate of population increase and provide the residents of the province with the equivalent of today's standard of living, capital investment must rise by $2 billion annually.

It was in the light of such facts as these, he said, that the government decided a year ago to work towards establishing a bank in British Columbia. However, it is imperative that the source of credit to the people of the province not be held by any one particular source.

Credit unions, with total assets of almost $125 million and 250,000 members, must realize the significance of their role in the province's expanding economy and the importance of the services they offer. Few organizations can boast such a record of achievement in such a short period of operation, he said.

Mr. Bonner reminded the 250 credit union representatives at the meeting that now, in good times, was the opportunity to put their individual organizations on a sound basis. "If you can't collect in good times you cannot collect in bad times," he emphasized.

He paid tribute to the directors and staff of the B.C. Credit Union League for the part they have played in assisting the government to keep its credit union legislation up to date and in harmony with the needs of the changing and growing economy.

Orchard Tour is planned

The North Okanagan Orchard Tour organized ten years ago has each year brought fruit growers up to date on new developments in fruit production. The tour has been alternating between growers orchards and discussing such items as insect and disease control, pruning, varieties, dwarf trees and management practices.

This year the tour will take place on Friday, July 16, at the Research Station in Summerland. An interesting program both for fruit growers and their wives has been arranged.

For those who have not visited the beautifully landscaped grounds of the Research Station for several years this will be a good opportunity. It will also be an opportunity to observe and discuss with the research officers some of the research work being carried out in various fields of fruit production.

Discussion on the possible uses of the growth resulting hormone of B9, new approaches to irrigation with the scheduling method, and new ideas being utilized in insect and disease control.

The ladies' program will consist of a tour of the gardens and a talk on ornaments, also a look into new developments in uses for Okanagan fruit and fruit products.

Plan now to attend the North Okanagan Orchard at the Research Station, Summerland, on Friday, July 16.

B. C. "NATIVES"

The Raccoon is usually about 3 feet long including a 12" tail. He is easily identified by his black mask and ringed tail. The home of the raccoon may be in the evergreen or deciduous forest, in bushland or on the coast. In the latter area he feels entirely on seafoods. When found in other areas his food consists of crayfish, snakes, frogs, birds and fruit, an odd course the odd raid on a chicken pen.

WINTER KILL

Application forms for assistance in replanting fruit trees killed by the 1964-65 winter were mailed to all growers ten days ago.

Orchardists who want assistance from the B.C. Government to replant winter-killed trees should complete the application form and return it to the District Horticulturalist's office, Granville Road (P.O. Box 198), Summerland. The deadline for filing applications is September 1.

Bishop of Kootenay W. Coleman resigns

The Right Reverend W. R. Coleman, D.D., Lord Bishop of Kootenay, has announced to the Executive Committee of the Diocese, that he will be resigning, effective August 31, 1965 for reasons of health.

Bishop Coleman was elected in November 1960. Bishop Coleman is unable to make any statement on his future plans at the present time, but he will be carrying on his duties as Bishop until the effective date of the resignation. It is anticipated that the Synod of the Diocese will be called to a special meeting for the purpose of electing a successor to Bishop Coleman during November 1965.

Bishop Coleman is one of the leading scholars of the Canadian Church and as such has stimulated many of the major developments in the life of the Church in recent years. One of his very important functions was to serve as a member of the Committee of Ten, which recently, with the comparable committee in the United Church, produced the principle which should govern the union of the two Churches.

Before coming to the Diocese of Kootenay, Bishop Coleman was Principal of Huron College in the University of Western Ontario where he served with great academic distinction.

Challenging and Beautiful

Vic Parker at Sumac Ridge golf course has one of the most beautiful and certainly one of the most challenging courses in existence.

He started blasting out of solid rock in the spring of 1962 and since has hauled tons and tons of topsoil for the fairways. He says there has been no special problem, but it has been a hard tough grind.

He praised the municipality for their cooperation throughout construction.

He has a beautiful A-frame building which houses the pro shop, a coffee shop operated by his wife Mary, and they are in the process of finishing the dining room.

He was hoping for more yearly memberships for his opening season, but says the tourist business is good and all who play the course come back for as many rounds as time permits.

His membership rates and green fees are reasonable for any course, but certainly on this one. He has a big investment. There are special rates for juniors and university students.

SUMMERLAND, B.C.

Petition presented to council protesting garbage burning

Acting-reeve, Walter Powell was in the chair at the Summerland council meeting yesterday in the absence of Reeve Norm Holmes who is in the hospital.

Mr. McEachern presented a petition with 12 names complaining about burning of refuse after 6 p.m. and suggested a by-law be made prohibiting burning from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. "The smell was very bad in addition to it being a fire hazard" he said.

Council said they knew who he was referring to and will write the offender asking his co-operation. If this does not bring results, they will make up a by-law. One ratepayer had told clerk Gordon Smith that they didn't want it restricted from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Councillor Barkwell had attended a meeting of valley municipal officials in Penticton to discuss plans for a Regional District and another meeting will be held at a later date when Municipal Affairs officials will be present. Mr. Barkwell felt it was the government's attitude that a regional district would be forthcoming.

June accounts amounting to $110,369.30 were authorized to be paid.

Works Superintendent Ken Blagborne said he was disappointed about the slight ripple on the blacktop on Gulch Rd. This was done last week with a grader and a government official said the job was exceptionally good, taking into consideration that a proper hard-top laying machine was not used. The job will be completed in the fall. He praised the RCMP for patrolling the road so well during the time the mix was setting to say that there were no potholes or ruts around to break it up.

Chester Carry, who had his house building permit revoked last week for not complying to the building code still wished to build a home according to building inspector John Khalembach.

He referred the matter to council and they decided to confer with welfare officials regarding the matter. There were complaints regarding debris on the lot but council felt this was normal during building proceedings.

Councillor Barkwell felt that there were many commercial signs being placed in Summerland without obtaining a permit to do so.

"It is possible that they do not realize that a permit is necessary" he said. He referred to some that were in bad repair.

Ken Blagborne said that new town road signs were ready to erect as soon as he had men available to do the job. These include map signs of the town to be placed on the highway. He suggested that more be done regarding signs at that time, and possibly change all of them.

Two resolutions from Oliver were read requesting support at the forthcoming municipal convention.

(1) Due to the fact that other western provinces do not use all municipal loans available, they should be made available to B. C. Municipalities where they have found funds to be insufficient to complete projects.

(2) Government assistance regarding the increasing problem of pollution due to the increase in tourist traffic.

The Public Utilities Commission by letter informed council they were not satisfied with the decrease in the gas rate as advertised by Inland Natural Gas and asked for comments. Hearings will be held in the fall regarding this. Council did not take action on this.

J. A. Cove complained of a dog killing or injuring six of his chickens. The dog broke through a fence and was caught and is now in the pound. Council moved to pay for the four dead ones at $2.00 each.

S. Fabbi requested permission to place a trailer on his lot for a "short time". Council said all sanitary regulations would have to be adhered to in that the septic tank would have to be at least 100 ft. from the lake and they felt this would be impossible.

Baptist Church to mark Diamond Year

The Summerland Baptist Church was organized on July 23, 1905.

Next Sunday this event will be commemorated and the pioneers honored at the 11 a.m. service at the church. A former member of the church, Rev. Bruce F. Haskins of Moosomin and son of the present minister will preach the sermon at this 60th anniversary service.

Before the church building was erected in 1908 meetings were held in the homes of members and in a tent located in Prairie Valley. The first minister was Rev. T. N. Ritchie who came from Peachland by horseback to start services in Meadow Valley. Rev. A. G. Campbell, Rev. H. G. Estabrook and Rev. F. W. Pattison also served the church in the early days.

Mrs. M. M. Stephens is the only surviving charter member. Miss A. Ruth Dale, the church organist and the two honorary deacons of the church—John McDougald and Walter M. Wright have been active in the work from early days.

The opening of the Okanagan Baptist College in 1905 stimulated activities of the local church. It was during the first world war that the college closed.

Review to be printed at Oliver

Arrangements have been made with Publisher Don Somerville of the Oliver Chronicle, to have the Summerland Review processed and printed at that plant.

Due to equipment failure last week, it was decided, at least until replacements are made, that this would be the best move to assure delivery of the paper in Summerland on Wednesday. Firm commitments have been made for July.

Advertisers are requested to have their copy in the Review office by Saturday and it would be appreciated that any news contributions be in as soon as it is available throughout the week but it may be accepted up to Monday, which will also be the deadline for classified ads.

All editorial and advertising copy will be supplied by the Review.

The page size will increase from 6 columns 18 inches to 7 columns 20 1/2 inches.

FIRST COUNCIL MEETING

College sites narrowed to three

The selection of a specific site for the Okanagan Regional College has been narrowed down to a choice of three locations in the Kelowna area.

Twenty-one sites had been originally considered by Dr. T. F. Giles and his associates and members of the Regional College committee.

Members of the newly-formed Okanagan Regional College Council, meeting for the first time Monday in Kelowna, studied recommendations made by the site committee and will now enter into negotiations and give further critical study to the three sites still under consideration. A decision may be reached within a few weeks.

The College Council succeeds the Okanagan Regional College Committee, and its activities will include the preparation of specific construction and curriculum details of the proposed college, and the presentation of a referendum at a later date to ratepayers within the area of the nine participating school districts.

The council includes one member named from each of the school districts, together with government appointees: P. Walrod of Kelowna and Mrs. Vera McCulloch of Vernon, and District Superintendent of Schools Frank Orme of Kelowna.

Frank Venables of Oliver was named chairman of the council at the Kelowna meeting, and Charles Buckland of Kelowna vice-chairman. B. A. Tingley of Summerland will continue as temporary secretary of the council.

Mrs. McCulloch, Mr. Orme and Mr. Buckland were named to a Finance Committee to prepare a provisional budget for the council, and to make other studies concerning the hiring of staff and an assistant. They will report back to the council at an early date.

Charles Finch of Keremeos and A. D. Green of Sicamous will begin studies to determine a formula which will help make the college available on an equal basis to students from throughout the college area.

Sailing Club holds Open House

The South Okanagan Sailing Association held an open house last Sunday.

Open house is held by this association to encourage anyone, who may be interested in sailing, to come and talk with members, go for a sail on the lake, and generally get acquainted.

The turn out was not as large as the first open house; however 25 to 30 additional people turned out and at 2:30 p.m. a nice breeze came up so they were able to be taken sailing.

There were 8 Jolly Boats, 3 or four Enterprise Dingies, two Cruise Sloops so everyone wishing to could sail.

Refreshments were served, however several brought their own lunches and an enjoyable afternoon was spent.

One of the many attractions in Summerland, is the Trout Hatchery located on Okanagan Lake. Although Summerland depends, in the main on fruit growing, packing and processing, it also boasts tourist attractions such as the Trout Hatchery that supplies thousands of fish for many streams in the interior of B.C. Visitors are welcome to drop in and look over the operation during the day until 4:30 in the afternoon. Signs on Highway 97 will direct you to the hatchery.

Fair committee considers stage, entertainment plans

The Fall Fair committee held a meeting Monday night. Jim Marshall chaired the meeting in the absence of Scottie Ritchie, chairman.

The question of the stage in the arena was discussed and what entertainment should be provided.

Dr. Marshall had talked to Mrs. Jim Rowe who had some excellent ideas he felt, but she requested direction from the committee.

Mrs. Rowe was unable to attend the meeting as she was obligated to attend the opening ceremonies of the Penticton Summer Theatre.

She had suggested that a curtain be used on the stage and that some good entertainment should be provided each evening. The committee hoped it could be held to local talent and felt arrangements could be made with the Youth Centre Association to rent their curtain for the two nights.

Basing their opinions of past experiences, the committee recommended that they not try too much vocal entertainment due to bad acoustics. "It was not fair to the singers or the crowd", Eric Tait said.

The entertainment committee and the Royalty committee were authorized to spend up to $100 for entertainment.

Details will be further discussed at a meeting of these committees on July 26.

The committee are hoping for more commercial floral displays this year and John Khalembach, who is in charge of the arena said space up to 10 feet in width could be provided each for them. Mr. Walter Ward will contact valley nurseries and florists to see what interesting displays and possibly a shield for the best display will be offered.

It was announced that the school band would be unable to participate this year as the new leader does not take over until September, giving no time for rehearsal. The Cadet Pipe Band of Penticton will be contacted.

Alex Watt who is in charge of the children's garden competition said he has a slate of judges but wished for more help as there are more gardens to judge this year. Mr. Jack Omahone kindly volunteered but Mr. Watt would like a couple more as well.

Due to the fact that the South Okanagan Sailing Club was so active and was known across Canada, the members were hoping they would be able to arrange to have a sailboat on display, either in a booth or as a backdrop for one of the displays or even on the stage. Ken Story will be contacted by John Khalembach.

The Fair Book was in the process of being printed. Keith Bergh, Publisher of the Review regretted that they had to job it out as they were unable to print it due to circumstances but the printers felt that a proof copy could be provided in two weeks for the community to study.

All committees were reported to be active and progressing favorably.

Mr. Khalembach wished all those wishing space in the arena for displays to contact him so he may draw a layout as soon as possible.

Busy summer for local Baptists

A public service sponsored by the Okanagan Baptist Association will be held in the Maple Springs Camp at Peachland next Sunday at 7:30 p.m. Guest speaker is Rev. Bruce F. Haskins of Moosomin, Sask. The service will be conducted by Rev. J. L. Reggin of Vernon and of Kelowna. Rev. Kutch Iwayoshi will conduct the devotion period. Evening service at the Summerland Baptist Church will be withdrawn in favor of the service at the campsite.

Camps sponsored by the Okanagan Baptist Association are conducted by various churches. Kaleden and Summerland churches are responsible for the family camp July 18 to 25. Co-educational camps have been arranged with First Baptist Church of Vernon in charge July 25 to August 1 for young people 13 to 15. First Baptist Church Penticton conducts the camp August 1 to 8 for 9 to 10-year-olds, and the First Baptist Church of Kelowna conducts the camp August 8 to 15 for the 11 to 12-year-old group. Mrs. Albert Doerken of Penticton is camp treasurer.

REPORT FROM PARKDALE PLACE

By AUGUSTA EMERY
The Matrons, Staff and guests of Parkdale Place extend a warm welcome to Mr. Keith Bergh, the present Managing Editor of the Summerland Review. Best wishes to all the members of his family.

The first days of July gave us signs that summer had really come — brilliant sunshine, not a cloud in the sky, birds chirping in the trees, rosebushes in bloom and such very hot days.

The view from our west window is magnificent. The Memorial Park is at its best — the trees in lovely shades of green, the grass so well cared for by our Municipality. The distant hills make a wonderful contrast in their darker shades of green.

How blessed we are to live in such pleasant surroundings!

Our sincere thanks for the many donations received recently. Flowers from the Rev. Tannar and from the United Church Sunday School, also from Mrs. Henry, E. Day, M. Matsu, M. Parry. They made our living rooms so bright and cheerful.

A few boxes of eggs came from Mrs. Milley; tomatoes, Mr. and Mrs. Beerboom; rhubarb, Mrs. Enid Anderson; box of apples from Occidental Packinghouse. The sack of new potatoes brought in by Mr. Moody were greatly appreciated. Green vegetables from Mr. G. Gares.

We certainly enjoyed the evening's entertainment given by the Penticton Pipe Band. Our Scottish residents were specially thrilled as the music of the bagpipes brought to mind many pleasant memories of earlier years. Come again boys — you will be welcome.

Fishing time is here again. Here is something for our fishermen to ponder over as they sit peacefully on the banks of a lake waiting for a catch:—"Oh, that the problems of the world could be settled on the bank of a stream or the quiet of a lake. Where the powerful could talk as men and equals. Where selfishness would be quelled by the greatness of the surroundings, and man would see the puny nature of his misunderstandings in the tremendous plan of the Universe".

Quite a Week

Our first issue has been published and we now look forward to many more weeks of coming into your home. Last week's Review did not come without much sweat and tears — bruises and loss of sleep. This writer received a bash, a burn and a cut all on one finger not to mention all other abrasions. Our better half is fine with the exception of a bruised knee and shoulder as a result of falling on the sidewalk in the line of duty bringing papers in to M & M Food Market. Just so our children would not feel left out, they were each blessed with a bout with chicken pox. Our linotype would not produce and had to have a $10.00 per hour expert from the big city out to get it operative so we will be able to use it to turn out job printing in this shop. The press motor is capable of doing the dipsy doodle and the press has the blood lines of a race horse. It goes flat out — when the motor belt does stay in place that is. It seemed beyond our capabilities to operate it under those conditions. The management and family were not selfish in hoarding all the grief, operator John Philip had his moments or two as well. Tuesday night that moment lasted until 6:00 a.m., setting type at Don Somerville's Oliver Chronicle — the night before he got off light — he was able to get home to his bride-of-three-months, by 2:00 a.m. You readers have been patient in our plight and we appreciate it. Arrangements have now been made with the Oliver Chronicle to have the Review set and printed at that shop at least for the month of July. It will be printed on Tuesday afternoon and will be distributed in Summerland on Wednesday morning. You will notice the page size is larger by one column and deeper by four inches. Although there was little humorous about our situation last week — we can look back at it and laugh about it now. The only reason there wasn't more trouble was because there were only seven days in that week — there wasn't time for more. Be that as it may, we are optimistic about the future of the paper and promise it will be one of the best in the province before too many weeks pass. Summerland is growing — this is good — it must be thus for those who stand still slip behind and we will grow with it.

We see -- by the Review

According to last week's Review, that "An Old Landmark ended its Career" and the property will revert to the CFR. In 1935 the company purchased a nearby building" and we had an unknown by the name of Nesbitt owning the operation instead of Nisbett. . . The Brownies did not go to camp, they went to camp. There is a new city in these parts by the name of Penticon and the editor "had two meetings to attend tonight" a dubious character no doubt. Many think that Ted Atkinson was the Rotary District Governor but according to the Review, he is the District Governor and later on in the same story the operator was cleaning out a line in his linotype and it came out "They were ac/vvvvbg bb re". We don't think John was swearing but wouldn't blame him if he was. These are just a few of them as a result of not being able to make corrections due to the condition of the typesetting machine. Hope there is an improvement this week. By the way Ken Blagborne wasn't the Parks Superintendent, he was the Parts Superintendent.

Curriculum for senior grades geared to technological age

(Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of articles that will appear each week in this newspaper describing the new senior secondary school curriculum which will be instituted in Grade XI in September. The articles were written by the Minister of Education in the hope that they would help both students and their parents to choose their course of studies.)
By HON. L. R. PETERSON, B.C. Minister of Education
 Students entering British Columbia's senior secondary schools at the Grade XI level in September will be subject to both a concept of education and a curriculum that is advanced as any in North America.

either employment or further training in business and commerce; The Industrial Program, leading to employment in industry or to further technical training; The Community Services Program, leading to employment or further training in such occupations as practical nursing, food preparation and processing, child care, the provision of living accommodation, and other personal services; The Fine Arts Program, leading to employment or further training in art, music, drama and other related branches of the fine arts;

In the next few weeks each program will be discussed separately. Meanwhile may I caution parents and students on three points.

One is that these articles are very brief and touch only highlights. Teachers and counsellors are well informed and will discuss program selection with you in detail.

Another is that not all 11 schools will give all programs. Where school enrolments are limiting factors school boards have tried to select the programs most appropriate for their own areas.

The third word of caution I would like to give is that it is a mistake for parents to place their children automatically on the academic and technical program for the sake of prestige. Not all individuals have the same talent. Try, with the help of school counsellors, to find the field in which your child will be happiest and most productive, especially as this province needs every technician and skilled workman it can get.

Both the regional vocational schools, which will be operating by 1967 in ten different locations in the province, and the new community colleges, will be providing specialized training at a more advanced level to graduates of these non-academic programs in the secondary schools.

Five honored on retirement

Many memories passed through the minds of five long members of the staff of the Summerland Experimental Station on Friday night when Dr. C. C. Strachan presided at an informal ceremony honoring them on the occasion of their retirement. Many words of serious praise and comments of good humor were passed along as past years were summed up by the Master of Ceremonies and other staff members present for the occasion. Mr. Ted Atkinson will retire in September as head of the Fruit Production Lab and Mr. T. B. Lott already retired was a Lab Pathologist. Mr. G. Lew is retired as a staff member of the pathology division. Two ladies, one retired and one is leaving her employment to get married were among the five. Mrs. Cockell retired as a steno and Miss Robertson will exchange a switchboard and typewriter for a position in her own kitchen.

Summerland woman dies at Nanaimo

Mrs. Louise Beatrice Rand who came to Summerland 50 years ago, died last week on Tuesday in Nanaimo hospital. She was 83 years of age and was born near Sawyerville, Que. in 1882.

Surviving are her husband Scott in Summerland; one son Percy Scott Rand of Wellington; one grandson Donald R. Rand of Vancouver; two great-grandchildren and one brother. Burial will be in the family plot at Nanaimo.

Youth worker dies at Peachland

PEACHLAND — A man who will be remembered by many for his work with young people, died July 3 at his home here.

Peter Carl Gerrie was 68 when he died, having spent many years working with young people as a school teacher and principal, a superintendent of Sunday Schools, and organizing Army Cadets, Cub and Scout groups both in Saskatchewan and B.C.

His other activities included PTA work, several years as secretary in the Royal Canadian Legion, and an Army Reserve Major.

In April 1962 he was one of three B.C. teachers to receive an honorary citation award from the department of education.

Pesticide lab. ready for tests

The Honourable Frank Richter, Minister of Agriculture, announced that the Provincial Pesticide Laboratory has recently been completed at 300 South Cassiar Street, Vancouver 6. The laboratory is under the direction of the Entomology Branch of the Department and staffed by W. D. Sargent as Analyst, together with laboratory technicians. It will begin operations May 17, 1965.

The main purpose of the laboratory are (a) to monitor pesticide residue levels in agricultural or other products, thus enabling the Department to further assist producers to produce crops and products which are free from harmful pesticide residues in the interest of public health. (b) to provide alternate pesticide residue analytical facilities which will be available to individuals on a fee basis of $17.00 to $25.00 per sample, depending on the pesticide and product being analyzed.

Arrangements for sample analysis must be made with the laboratory prior to any submission of samples. An outline of fees to be charged will be made available upon request.

Do not bring or send samples to the laboratory without first having arranged with Mr. W.D. Sargent (Analyst) for a time when samples can be analyzed; how samples should be taken and submitted.

In view of the limited available facilities, the Department of Agriculture reserves the right to limit the number of samples which may be accepted from any person or firm. This will make the facilities available to the greatest number of people.

Persons whose samples are accepted for analysis will be charged a fee for each sample analyzed. Payment by cheque or money order payable to the Minister of Finance must accompany all samples to the laboratory. No work will be started until payment is made.

Valley Portuguese featured on TV

The CBC has completed the production of a film, "Camera West" dealing with the Portuguese people in this area.

The film, a documentary will show how the Portuguese are fitting into the communities of Oliver and Osoyoos.

During the past year CBC camera crews have been taking pictures in orchards, home, school, church and other places to show a complete picture story.

"Camera West" will be shown on the C B C Sunday, August 8th from 10:30 to 11:00 p.m.

Centre re-opens in Summerland

After being closed for the winter, a shopping center in Trout Creek has taken on a new name as well as new owners.

Mr. and Mrs. Les Kirkby have purchased the centre from Mr. Cormie McArthur of Edmonton. Their official opening will be held this weekend. They have named it Powell Beach Plaza.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirkby came to Summerland from Dryden, Ontario in May of this year. They have three children, Kathy 7, Linda 5 and Susan 3.

The restaurant is operated and leased by Mrs. Pat Hisey and husband Everett is the mechanic in the service station.

The Hiseys came to the valley from the Elk Island National Park area, 30 miles east of Edmonton where Everett was employed by the government as a mechanic.

They have five children, Me-riel 19, Judith 18, Dawn 16,

Wanda 14, Everett Jr. 10.

Mrs. Kirkby (Dorothy) will manage the food market with the assistance of her husband. Mr. Kirkby also manages the service station.

So it is a two family combination shopping centre offering fuel for body and automobile.

TAX COMPARISONS

The maximum corporation tax rates in Canada are 23 per cent on the first $35,000 of income and 52 per cent on the remainder, compared to U.S. rates of 22 per cent on the first $25,000 and 48 per cent on the remainder.

Dairy Co-Op history to be published

"The History of SODIGA", written by Mrs. Beryl Wamboldt, of Enderby, will be published July 16th, by the Vernon News, to commemorate the 40th anniversary of the Shuswap Okanagan Dairy Industries Co-operative Association.

In honor of the author, Mrs. Beryl Wamboldt, a reception will be held at the Coldstream Motor Hotel Banquet Room, in Vernon, on July 16th.

This book will reveal the secrets of how a small group of dairy farmers in the Okanagan during the 40-year period achieved the astounding feat of developing an investment of 50 cents each, into a multi-million dollar farmer owned dairy co-op.

Court News

At 11:30 p.m. on July 9, damages amounting to $200 resulted when a car driven by a Summerland juvenile girl left the Jones Flat Road near the junction of Garnett Valley.

The accident happened when the young driver shifted into second gear on the short hill and lost control, the car going over the side of the road and striking some stumps. There were no injuries. The girl has been charged with driving with out a driver's licence.

Appearing before Magistrate Reid A. Johnston on July 9, a youth from Kelowna, pleaded guilty to charges of being a minor in possession of liquor, and to being on a licensed premises. He was fined $50 and costs, or in default, 30 days in jail on each charge. The fines were paid.

A Kelowna female juvenile and a Summerland juvenile were each fined $25 for being in possession of liquor.

On July 2, Kurt Neuman, Penticton, pleaded not guilty to a charge of passing on a single solid line. He was found guilty by Magistrate Johnston, and paid a penalty of $20 and costs.

Two youths paid fines of $50 and costs when they were found guilty of being minors in possession of liquor.

Gulls seem to sleep while floating on the water, as do ducks and geese. While it is said that the Albatross family sleeps while on the wing.

AN ENGRAVED INVITATION!

"You might as well give a burglar an engraved invitation to help himself at your house, if you leave valuables lying about," says Jock Johnston, manager of the Bank of Montreal's Summerland branch.

Mr. Johnston adds that behind the steel doors of a B of M vault is the safest place for valuables such as bonds, leases, stock certificates, insurance policies, deeds, birth certificates, passports and other important family documents.

"It costs less than two cents a day to rent a B of M safety deposit box," he says, and explains that hundreds of thousands of Canadians use B of M safety deposit facilities, an indication of the popularity of this service. "It pays for itself again and again in peace of mind alone," he says.

"Give the burglar a brush-off at your house," Mr. Johnston advises. "Keep your valuables in your personal strong box — it's exclusively yours — in the Summerland B of M vault."

Drop in soon and see Mr. Johnston about renting a safety deposit box . . . it will set your mind at rest. —Advt.

38 graduates trained to work with Indians

Graduation of Canada's first class of Community Development Officers — specialists trained to work with Indians to help them develop their own leadership—was announced last week by the Honourable John R. (Jack) Nicholson, Minister of Citizenship and Immigration and Superintendent General of Indian Affairs.

The 38 graduates of the three-month course will be assigned to Indian communities throughout Canada to help residents develop their potential for leadership and to assist Indian leaders in achieving social and economic advancement.

The Community Development Course, at the University of Ottawa campus, was the first venture of its kind in

Summerland Trail Riders win Ten ribbons at Playday

At a playday organized by the Blue Sage Riders in conjunction with the Cherry Carnival held on July 1st at Osoyoos, riders from the Summerland Trail Riders brought home ten ribbons.

Canada. It was organized by the Indian Affairs Branch when it became evident that no comprehensive program of this type was available at any Canadian University. Subsequent courses are expected to include an increasing percentage of Indians among the students.

The Minister said that graduates of the course will work with community leaders in order to help Indians themselves build a sense of identity and to encourage them, through the Band Councils, to become progressively more self-governing and less dependent on government assistance.

Beverley Bye from the Summerland Trail Riders and G. Willis from the Princeton Riding Club won first place in the Junior Obstacle Race.

Charlie Nield and Ken Dunsdan were second.

A team made up of Bud, Bev and Alice Bye and Charlie Nield won first in the egg and spoon race.

In the "rescue your partner" race (Juniors) — Bev Bye and G. Willis won first and Charlie Nield and Ken Dunsdan second.

New stamps set for 1966

Eleven commemorative postage stamps will be issued by Canada in 1966 the Hon. Rene Tremblay, Postmaster General announced.

The series featuring the official flowers and armorial bearings of the provinces and territories will be concluded next year. Alberta and Saskatchewan will be honoured on January 19th and the newest province, Newfoundland will be commemorated on February 23. Florals for the Yukon and Northwest Territories will be issued on March 23.

The three hundredth anniversary of the arrival of La Salle in Canada will provide the subject for another 1966 issue. The stamp will go on sale April 20th.

May 18th has been selected as the date of issue for a stamp explaining that traffic deaths are increasing alarmingly each year and expressed the hope that this issue will serve to make people more aware of this needless tragedy.

Peaceful Uses of Atomic Energy will be the theme of a stamp to appear July 20th.

The third stamp in a series honoring the major steps which culminated in Confederation will go on sale September 7th. The London Conference will be the subject.

For the third consecutive year, Canada will have Christmas stamps in 1966. Mr. Tremblay explained that they will be of the three cent and five cent denominations, the most commonly used for Christmas cards and letters.

B. C. "NATIVES"

The Badger is between 25" and 30" long including a tail of six inches. He usually weighs about 25 pounds. In British Columbia Badgers are found only south of Williams Lake. Badgers are equipped with short powerful legs and long sharp claws. These are used in digging out ground-squirrels, his main food source. Extremely cold winters may force the badger into a period of hibernation. (B.C. Natural History, by Tom Hunter).

New law requires motorcycle riders to wear safety helmets

Steps are being taken to encourage the development of a Canadian standard for motorcycle helmets by the Canadian Standards Association, and to provide for testing motorcycle helmets offered for sale in British Columbia. Manufacturers in countries which supply helmets for the British Columbia market have expressed a great deal of interest in this type of program which, when it comes in to effect, will make it practical to prohibit the sale in British Columbia of helmets not meeting the standard.

On July 1st the new British Columbia law came in to effect which requires riders on motorcycles to wear approved safety helmets.

Several months ago it was announced the standards approved for safety helmets were those set by the British Standards Institution and the American Motorcycle Association. Helmets produced by firms associated with these standards may be identified by the markings "BST", "AMA1" or "AMA 2".

The market supply in British Columbia of safety helmets, with these markings, is inadequate to meet buyer requirements. It is now apparent that safety helmets manufactured in countries which do not use the BSI or AMA standards are, in the great majority of cases, made in a manner to provide just as good protection for the users who properly wear them. In addition, many motorcycle riders have helmets purchased prior to the law being passed by the Provincial Legislature and many have concern about their helmets complying with the standard because of lack of identification in the helmet. It is known most of these helmets afford good protection.

The first objective of the safety helmet law is to require motorcycle riders to wear helmets in the interest of their safety to minimize serious injuries which result from motorcycle accidents. Accordingly the previously announced approval policy is re-written as follows:—

"An approved safety helmet is a helmet designed for motorcycle riders which helmet is equipped with a strap and buckle for properly securing on the head of the rider. The strap and buckle must be fastened under the chin of the rider when the motorcycle is in motion."

Industrial hard hats, and wartime helmets—"tin hats"—are not designed for motorcycle use. They do not afford proper protection.

A word of advice to buyers of safety helmets is not to select a helmet solely because of its low price. You need good protection if an accident occurs. Test the strappings and buckle to see if they are secure. And observe that the webbing is substantial.

Finally, you have no protection unless your helmet is securely fastened. And an unfastened helmet does not meet the law requirement.

DOWNTOWN SUMMERLAND

There is no resemblance to the Summerland of today and not too many years ago. It has become a beehive of activity in recent years with the population growing at a steady, healthy rate. Resident count during the past eight years has risen from 3,000 to almost the 5,000 mark. The picture above is of Main St. where resident or traveller can buy everything from an orchard to a pin.

NEW FLAG ON ORDER

Jack Ellis made life member of Summerland Legion

The Summerland Youth Centre Association told the Summerland Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion, that they will donate a flag pole to them. This was announced by president Dugal MacGregor at the regular Legion meeting held Thursday night.

It was suggested by one member that the branch had difficulty in taking care of one flag as it flies at all times, and was wondering what they would do with two. He was assured that new flags were on order and the proper procedure would be followed.

The Review publisher, Mr. Keith Bergh was introduced. He is a member of the Strathmore branch.

Ray Fitzpatrick of Summerland was introduced to the club. Mr. Fitzpatrick saw extensive service overseas during the last war.

Zone Commander Jim Fairley of Princeton attended the meeting and assisted vice-president "Hilly" Smith and president MacGregor in the initiation.

A highlight of the meeting and certainly one that Jack Ellis will not forget was when he was made a life member of the club by president MacGregor.

In making the presentation, the president referred to him as "senior member of the branch and has sure given the president a bad time but has always had the interest of the organization at heart". In addition to the pin, he was given a Legion jacket.

A letter was received from Joan Dunsen thanking the Legion for their part in sponsoring her as candidate for Fair Queen.

It was agreed that the branch would continue with the tradition of donating a portrait of the Queen to every classroom and have one provided to the new room to be built at the Trout Creek School this year.

Of interest to the whole community will be a demonstration in mouth to mouth resuscitation in co-operation with the St. John's Ambulance of Pentiction.

A letter was read from this organization expressing their willingness to come to Summerland.

Games of skill (?) will be operated by dubious members of the Kiwanis Club and while playing you will be able to munch on a hamburger, eat an ice cream cone and at the same time dig in your pocket for a few shockies to allow your kidies to get a surprise at the fish pond.

Although by now you will have run "face on" into a cone

The executive was instructed to make contacts, set a date and advertise, extending an invitation to the general public. President MacGregor had a checkup. Mr. A. Menu is out got wind of the fact that there may be a Sherman Tank available, and the members wanted one to keep as a museum piece on the lawn at the branch.

They had written in this regard to the proper authorities and they replied that they were "looking in to it". The group were encouraged in that the answer was not exactly no.

Mr. Dave Taylor Sr., chairman of the sick and visiting committee reported the death of Mr. Frank Morris on June 30. Arthur Simpson underwent an operation and is now home feeling and looking much better and that Mr. Sam Howe was in the local hospital for a of the hospital and A. L. Cowland entered the hospital a week ago in Summerland and is expected to remain there for some time. He has a heart ailment.

The new Secretary-Manager is Mr. William Brown who took the place vacated when Mr. Ken Hickson accepted the same position at Mission City.

The president suggested a date should be set for the summer picnic and some long range plans should be made to beautify the grounds, including a luminous sign.

Zone Commander Fairley brought greetings and reported on his activities. He expressed regret at the loss of Ken Hickson.

Bernie has been a member of the Pentiction Golf and Country Club for three years and has an 8 handicap.

The trip up Giant's Head Mountain has been a popular one again this year.

Bud Rusaw has had his jeep busy taking passengers—local and tourists—to have a look at the valley and beyond. They gaze across Paradise Flat where Sam McGee worked for Jas. Ritchie a few years after Sam was cremated in verse by Robert Service.

It is a wonderful trip up that Summerland landmark, wandering up the various little hills and valleys—then to reach the top and gaze, to the southwest and see that spot that Sam cleared, beside the canyon, and up Prairie Valley to the reservoir that holds Summerland's water for distribution.

When they turn to the east and look out across Okanagan Lake and down 1,800 feet—a sight that World Fairs would love to match.

From this vantage point they can see the cars, looking like dots crawling along Highway 97 one after the other.

A road up to this famous lookout is the proposed Centennial project.

To the north is Rattle Snake Mountain and Squally Point, the home of Ogoogo.

People from all over the world have registered in Bud Rusaw's book after making the trip. He has taken well over 100 so far this year.

The chairman of the Carnival is Doug Campbell. No accurate statistics were available as to how long these carnivals have been going on, but Doug estimates about 10 years.

It will be a supper of candy floss and hamburgers for the Works Superintendent Ken Blagborne said they are stockpiling asphalt to place on Rosedale Ave. and will be done when the telephone crew have completed the moving of their lines.

In order that a new chlorinator may be installed, Mr. Blagborne said they would ask the residents to curtail the use of water for one night in the near future.

"Water will not be cut off", he said, "it will be bypassed by using an auxiliary line during the installation, but there will not be a sufficient supply to irrigate or to fill tanks if it is to go around". All users will be notified of the night. It will possibly be from 9 p.m. to 6 a.m. His crews will work all night to make the change.

Council will investigate at R. W. Randalls, where there is some orchard rock at a dead end road and is blocking his driveway in part. It is on a municipal road.

Mr. S. Howe had requested costs of digging a surface water line, now used for irrigation, to below the frost line because his domestic water supply had very little pressure.

The cost of the digging and installation of $390 and council recommended that he install a booster pump on his domestic line. They said this could be done for $150 to $175.

Three electrical installations were approved and two domestic water lines approved.

They had a report that an orchardist had not sprayed this year and his orchard was infested with late codling moth, and was affecting neighboring orchards.

The by-law was reviewed and it stated that a committee appointed by council may investigate and if it warrants it, the offender is given notice by mail and he has seven days to do the spraying and failing this, the municipality would do it and charge it back to the owner.

If the infestation warrants it, the committee can go right ahead and have it sprayed immediately without notice.

It is recommended that it be sprayed double strength. This will prevent the moth from getting out of the infested orchard. Council also feels that the spraying should be strictly supervised to see that a proper job is done, regardless of who does it.

The by-law allows the committee to enter any orchard or property that is likely to be infested.

A by-law will be drafted regarding privies. It will outlaw the construction and use of them in all areas except the agricultural G1 green belt zone.

However, there are restrictions. Clerk Gordon Smith was asked that in the by-law it be noted that they be no closer than 200 feet from any building and no less than 100 feet from any boundary, or less than 75 feet from any of the owners' buildings. It must be fly proof.

Arrangements have been made with the St. John's Ambulance Brigade of Pentiction to have them demonstrate the mouth to mouth resuscitation. It is sponsored by the Summerland Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion.

The program is open to the public and will be held in the Rosedale Room at the Legion headquarters on Thursday, July 29, starting at 8 p.m. There is no charge.

Busy experimental hands apparently started the fire at the school on Monday morning. This is the opinion of Fire Chief Joe McLaughlan.

It was in the trash bin, directly below the chute where waste paper is thrown before it is burned in the furnaces. The bin is constructed with laminated 2 by 4s lined with metal.

Orchard infestation brought to the attention of council

Those responsible for burning garbage during late hours which prompted a petition presented to council last week talked with clerk Gordon Smith about it. A satisfactory arrangement was met in that there will be no more grass burned in barrels.

Works Superintendent Ken Blagborne said they are stockpiling asphalt to place on Rosedale Ave. and will be done when the telephone crew have completed the moving of their lines.

when all the paper burned but it also caught the metal lining and smoldering for hours before the smoke was noticed.

Water was poured from above but it was a difficult fire to put out.

Fire smoulders for hours before it is noticed

The damage was estimated to be between $50 and $75, but the school will need a good airing for a few days.

Thousands pack church gathering

The four-day "Word of Truth" assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses in Vernon came to a conclusion Sunday, July 11 with a peak attendance of 4,865. Local delegates returned home with two new printed aids which provide help in establishing the complete truthfulness of the Bible.

Vernon's Civic Arena was filled to overflowing. A convention cafeteria which operated to feed the large crowds had been situated inside the arena, but with the crowd growing in numbers, the cafeteria moved outdoors onto the arena parking lot.

Friday morning saw an outdoor baptism of 46 new ministers in Okanagan Lake. The new ministers ranged in age from 10 to 74.

Scotty Ritchie, Ken Buchkowski return from New York trip

Scotty Ritchie and Ken Buchowski returned from New York Tuesday morning. They report having had a nice time but glad to be home.

They travelled with the International Key Club sponsored by Kiwanis for Grade 10, 11 and 12 High School boys. Mr. W. Watts of North Vancouver, district chairman of Pacific Northwest Key Club travelled with the group. Twenty boys represented the Pacific Northwest. This is not a good representation as there are 70 clubs in this district and only 10 were represented.

The group travelled via Washington D.C. and there toured the FBI building and also President Kennedy's grave at Arlington Cemetery.

At New York they were registered for the convention which took place July 11, 12, 13 and 14 with 2,300 boys attending.

One vice-president was elected from among the boys from the Pacific Northwest district.

A schedule was laid out to tour Manhattan Island, United Nations building, Empire State building and a tour of the World's Fair, Friday, July 17 the group left for home. They travelled approximately 8,000 miles during the trip.

$1,465,200 LOSS IN SUMMERLAND

3-step program of aid sought to ease valley's economic loss

Federal and provincial governments will be asked to implement immediately several steps designed to ease the economic loss to the valley resulting from the winter damage to trees and crop.

A thirteen man committee, representing almost every community from Summerland to the horizon and comprised of growers, municipal officials, businessmen, union officials and others, will meet with federal and provincial ministers of agriculture August 5 in Pentiction to ask for three methods of government assistance:

1. Immediate cash assistance for "frozen-out" growers;
2. Immediate implementation of ADA to help rebuild devastated orchards;
3. A change in the Unemployment Insurance Act regulations to enable workers to qualify for benefits after seven weeks of employment.

The committee will also seek a definite commitment on crop insurance.

The committee, headed by Pentiction Mayor Maurice Finerty, has stressed that its efforts are intended to supplement and assist efforts already extended by the BCFGA.

The direct loss to growers has been estimated at about $6,500,000, broken down in areas as follows: Oliver-Osoyoos, $2,178,900 or 39 percent of the 1964 return; Keremeos-Cawston, $499,000 or 45 percent; Kaleden-Pentiction-Naramata, $2,424,100 or 73 percent; Summerland, $1,465,200 or 69 percent.

Direct loss in wages to unionized workers and including unemployment insurance benefits is estimated at $2,000,000, including about $500,000 in the South Okanagan.

The meeting was sponsored by the South Okanagan-Similkameen Associated Chambers of Commerce.

FIRE AT THE SCHOOL

The fire alarm sounded shortly before noon Monday when a call came in from the Summerland High School. It started in a laminated bin made of 2 x 4s and the department kept it to that area. Much smoke went throughout the school. The picture shows Fire Chief Joe McLaughlan directing operations. On his left is George Smith and Gordie Day is partly hidden by a spectator. Phil Dunsden cannot be seen but he is pouring water at the bin through an opening between the men in the picture.

There will be fun-a-plenty when the Kiwanis boys (with the assistance of many others) will square off with their annual Street Carnival on Friday night.

The frolicking will begin at 7 p.m., and according to Doug Campbell the Bingo will be starting in good time to get the people in the "carnival mood" and then they will play it by ear and visit the many concessions featured on Main Street. There will be no penalty for jay-walking this night.

Games of skill (?) will be operated by dubious members of the Kiwanis Club and while playing you will be able to munch on a hamburger, eat an ice cream cone and at the same time dig in your pocket for a few shockies to allow your kidies to get a surprise at the fish pond.

Eagle-eye Ritchie, just back from New York, where he took a refresher course at the World's Fair in guessing weight, will be at his usual stand, and you will be able to buy some home cooking at the "home cooking table" from one of the Kiwanis ladies, with your winnings.

Although by now you will have run "face on" into a cone of candy floss or you've got a hull caught in your throat from eating popcorn, you may take comfort in the fact that you can buy a ticket on a beautiful patie set. Just take it home and relax. You will agree it has been a good night and you will also know that all the proceeds are going to a good cause—for community projects.

The chairman of the Carnival is Doug Campbell. No accurate statistics were available as to how long these carnivals have been going on, but Doug estimates about 10 years.

It will be a supper of candy floss and hamburgers for the Kiwanis members because they will clear the street at 6 p.m. and the carnival will be rolling at as full a tilt as the crowd desires by 7 o'clock. All cars will be cleared for a distance of one block.

A lot of co-operation is necessary for a carnival such as this. The 30 Kiwanis members will be busy as well as 20-non-member volunteers. Taking in the ladies, and they play a big part the total count working this night would be around the 65 mark. Lloyd Shannon is the president of the club and he will be busy working with Doug to see that all goes smoothly.

Friday morning saw an outdoor baptism of 46 new ministers in Okanagan Lake. The new ministers ranged in age from 10 to 74.

Vernon's Civic Arena was filled to overflowing. A convention cafeteria which operated to feed the large crowds had been situated inside the arena, but with the crowd growing in numbers, the cafeteria moved outdoors onto the arena parking lot.

The four-day "Word of Truth" assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses in Vernon came to a conclusion Sunday, July 11 with a peak attendance of 4,865. Local delegates returned home with two new printed aids which provide help in establishing the complete truthfulness of the Bible.

They had a report that an orchardist had not sprayed this year and his orchard was infested with late codling moth, and was affecting neighboring orchards.

Summerland Review — 2

More Identification

Having come to Summerland from a non-tourist part of Alberta and only residing here for a couple of weeks it would seem that our views are more from the tourist viewpoint than that of an editor of a newspaper located in the Okanagan Valley.

The Valley is in a unique position. We would like to compare it with Banff, Banff relies almost entirely on the tourist industry for its income. They are a group of businessmen operating at a profit for a maximum of three months in the summer and the balance of the year they are trading each others dollars. True, it is becoming a winter sport centre, but at present this does not count for much.

On the other hand, the Valley does have a basic fruit industry — which, although a bumper crop will not be enjoyed this year, is the backbone of the economy and does not depend on the travelling public to such a great extent as does Banff. We are in a much better position.

Tourism is not a small industry. It is a giant — one which Canada counts on in no small way. We are part of that great industry. It is up to us to do our part in making it convenient for our visiting friends.

We were pleased to hear at the council meeting last week that there are highway signs and maps ready to put up. Although it must be agreed that they should have been up a month ago, they will do much to assist not only the traveller, but the business community of Summerland.

Summerland is not marked sufficiently well. It is not known as well as it should or could be. Signs, of sufficient size so they can be read at high speeds are needed — they must be brief and to the point.

Our neighbors to the north and south, Kelowna and Penticton have done a fine job in publicizing their cities. They are both an attraction recognized all over Canada and Summerland is fortunate in that we are between these two larger centres and thousands of cars each day pass through here.

The traveller is always looking for something new and different. We dare say that there have been many tourists who have stayed in Penticton or Kelowna for many years running and did not realize the size of Summerland. We know this to be true, because we were one of them who stayed in Penticton for a number of years and never realized there was such a lovely town just a stone's throw from the highway.

The new signs will be welcomed by all concerned. Tourist dollars will mean much to Summerland businessmen, especially this year with the fruit crop being as it is. Dollars to one means a better economy for all.

A Few Comments

The big street carnival sponsored by the Summerland Kiwanis on Friday night deserves support. We understand this is THE big money-making project of the year. The members discussed the night at considerable length at their meeting Thursday night. Sounds like fun, see you there.

Another project currently on is the appeal for swimming instruction funds by the Rotary Club. The members got together at the municipal office Friday night stuffing circular letters to send out. The drowning of the 13-year-old youth from Edmonton in Penticton last week is a sad example. Had that child taken lessons — yes, even for a short time, he would have gone home with his mother and father in the family car. Learning to swim is a must. It must be made available to all — be they financially able or not.

We have had friends from Alberta play the local golf course and were thrilled with the beauty and challenge. This course will become one of the most talked about in the province, before long.

We are real pleased with the contributions of news. Although only in business for the third week we have been fortunate in covering much of the local happenings. Keep it up.

Don't look for some jewels of wisdom regarding the fruit industry from this writer. If you wanted something in regard to prairie agriculture there is a chance it would make a little sense. But not fruit. I will learn.

What a busy weekend this will be. The Elks are sponsoring a junior horse show and gymkhana on Sunday in Summerland. This is more down my alley. There are plenty of gymkhanas where we come from. Wonder if the dust will be as bad. The Trail Riders are in the process of licking that situation too according to a news release elsewhere in the paper.

One thing this reporter appreciates in Summerland, are the early meetings of service clubs. One can get home at an early hour to spend the evening with the family. Even when they are later starting, they seem to get the business at hand over with and all is complete at a reasonable hour. The Summerland Council do well in this regard too. On the prairies, many a week we were out until midnight three to five nights a week.

The Frank Haar family are pretty glad to get where the traffic is easier to live with. He told us that in Montreal it took him four hours to go a distance that should have taken a half an hour. Cars boiled over and tempers flared.

Passing Days

 And the woodbine's crimson sprays

ORCHARD RUN

by Wally Smith

Somebody Is Stalling

As the weeks come and go fruit growers are becoming restless over lack of a workable plan that will provide adequate aid for those suffering heavy crop and tree losses from winter damage.

Some assistance has been offered by the provincial government, a tree replacement program, and the distress area assistance act. Both fall far short of what is needed to get the growers back into business.

In the tree replacement program the provincial government has offered to pay up to 90 percent of the cost of nursery trees purchased to replace those knocked out by last winter's freeze.

Price of the nursery tree is less than a quarter the total cost of replanting. By far the heaviest cost involves the cutting down of the old tree, pushing out the stump, hauling away stump and branches, digging a new tree hole, and planting the new tree.

Growers who have lost trees are supposed to register their loss with the district horticulturist who will inspect the dead trees as they stand in the orchard. Final date of filing claim for tree loss was set at July 31 this year, but now there appears to be some uncertainty about this date. I agree with many growers who believe this deadline is too early.

Some trees are just now beginning to show signs of weakness resulting from last December's sub-zero freeze. One cannot claim these trees as being dead, but there is no doubt some of them will be dead by next spring or so seriously injured as to be no longer capable of producing a commercial crop.

In all fairness I would think the deadline for filing tree loss claims should be no earlier than June, 1966.

Growers are finding the distress area assistance act is not applicable to their problem, and very, very few growers can make use of it. While this act may fill the bill for farmers who plant annual crops such as grain or potatoes, tree fruit production is an entirely different story.

Those who borrow under this act must commence repayment at the end of the year in which the crop was planted. It is assumed that having planted the crop in the spring and reaped the harvest in the fall, there will be crop money coming in to start repaying the loan.

However, newly planted fruit trees will produce no crop for several years, so it will be impossible to commence repayment of the loan as soon as with a grain or vegetable crop.

There appears to be a lack of agreement of the interpretation of the act. The Hon. Frank Richter, minister of agriculture, has stated that the grower who lost a large number of trees may borrow from the bank up to $5,000, and the money may be spent in any department of the farm operation.

Growers who have approached their banker with a view to getting a loan under the act have been told by their banker that the money may be spent only on that area of the farm where the tree loss occurred.

This would mean that if a grower lost all his peach trees he could use his loan money to pay expenses on that particular area, but not to pay the cost of spraying his pears or apples on the other end of his orchard, even if it was the only money he could get his hands on.

Thus there appears to be a definite disagreement as to what can and what cannot be done under the act. The situation should be clarified and the loan made available to growers who need it.

Growers are hoping for an outright government grant of $8 million to alleviate the immediate financial stress caused by the crop loss.

Provincial and federal authorities are not racing to see who gets there first with the money or with a workable alternative. Ottawa is entitled to expect Victoria to make the first move, but Victoria doesn't appear to be showing more than a passing interest.

Their proffered aid in the form of tree grant and distress area financing are both inadequate. Perhaps Victoria is stalling until they find a way to convince the federal cabinet that this wealthy province of British Columbia, rich in natural resources and free of debt, is unable to find $8 million for the relief of Okanagan fruit growers.

Tree Fruits make company changes

The Board of Directors of B.C. Tree Fruits Limited have taken another step in the re-organization of the Company as recommended by Stevenson & Kellogg Ltd. consultants. They have now completed the portion of the study dealing with systems and procedures.

The position of General Sales Manager has been discontinued. The duties formerly carried out by that office, will, in future, rest with the General Manager who will now be recognized as the company's top marketing official.

Mr. J. B. Lander, General Sales Manager for the past 16 years, has been appointed Acting General Manager. He assumes his duties July 14, when Mr. R. P. Walrod's resignation took effect. Mr. Lander will continue until the position of General Manager is filled permanently, after which his ser-VICES will be available to the Company for consultation with the new General Manager and to introduce him to the trade.

The Board of Directors are confident that the planned re-organization is sound and well conceived and that they will have the continued support of the capable and efficient staff so that the re-organization will be completed with no disruption to the affairs of the company.

Spare tire is real lifesaver

That spare tire you haul around in the trunk of your car can be a real lifesaver when it comes to rescuing people at the lake or seashore this summer, says the B.C. Automobile Association.

Water rescue demonstrations by police and safety groups have shown that a spare tire—wheel and all—can support four grown men in the water, the BCAA says. It is just as effective in winter, too, for rescuing persons who have broken through ice.

The auto club advises motorists to keep the spare at proper pressure. "In addition to its use as a lifesaver, it comes in mighty handy if you have a flat."

EARNINGS RISE, WAGES DECLINE

Average hourly earnings in manufacturing in Canada rose in April, but the average hours worked per week were shorter, the bureau of statistics reports. Average hourly earnings were $2.12, compared with $2.11 in March. Average weekly wages declined to $86.98 from $87.07 because of the shorter average work week.

"THINK DON'T SINK!"

Head swimming instructor speaks out for water safety

By Darlene Ducommun

No one, as far as the records show, ever walked directly into the water and swam without previous knowledge of or practice in some form of a swimming stroke. One must LEARN how to swim.

Here in Summerland, we have what we feel is an adequate Water Safety Program. This season we are proud to boast an enrollment of approximately 400 children.

A varied program is offered ranging from the pollygog classes to the Bronze Medalion. Synchronized swimming is in the planning stages. The curriculum becomes more involved and challenging as the pupils advance. The instructors, having previously engaged in a rugged training program, including both practical and theoretical studies, are responsible for the instruction of water safety knowledge, strokes and skills, search and rescue, artificial respiration, first aid, etc., to the children of the community.

Even the physically and mentally handicapped are benefiting from the program. In fact, in many instances their enthusiasm outranks that of the other children.

Mom and dad, have you heard of L. P. S.? — "Lose Pounds Swimming" is a program designed not only to rid you of those "unwanted bulges", but is an invitation for the expansion of your knowledge of water safety strokes and skills.

So you see, the Red Cross Water Safety program includes persons of all ages.

Make Water Safety a family affair! Think, don't sink — be water-wise!

All are invited to take the swimming lessons. You are never too late to register. The tourists are invited to bring children to Rotary Beach in Summerland as well.

Elks plan $12,000 scholarship fund

Delegates from the Elks Lodge here will consider widening the scope of their national Elks Purple Cross Fund. Local representatives of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks of Canada will consider establishing a $12,000 scholarship fund at their 53rd annual convention in Lethbridge this month.

The proposed fund will provide 12 yearly scholarships of $1,000 each. The scholarships will be granted to deserving students in each province, the Yukon and North West Territories. The award will be made to a young student in each province on the basis of scholastic standing and financial need.

Sam T. Dare of New Westminster, Grand Exalted Ruler of the Order in Canada will chair the three-day gathering.

The host lodge in Lethbridge have made preparation for 3000 delegates and visitors who will be attending. The July 26, 27 and 28 session is expected to be the largest national convention ever held by the B.P.O. Elks and its auxiliary, the ladies of the Order of the Royal Purple.

Trail Riders prepare for show and gymkhana Sunday

Sponsored by the Elks' Club of Summerland, preparations are well under way for the Summerland Trail Riders' Junior Horse Show which will be held on Sunday, July 25th. There is great activity at Reimertson's Riding School grounds as club members strive to improve conditions for both riders and spectators in their effort to make their third annual Junior Gymkhana more triphant with each successive year. Sawdust has been laid and the riding ring disced in an endeavour to lay the dust, and other improvements made.

The show gets under way at 8:30 a.m. with the Junior Equitation class. Equitation classes continue to lunch time. At 1:00 p.m., the Grand Entry takes place with all horses and riders participating. The afternoon will see the Junior and Intermediate Jumping Classes followed by games, such as, Pole Bending, Stake Races, Gretna Green and finally the Bareback Challenge, always an exciting event.

Judge for this year's show will be Mrs. Fred Dey of Noble Creek Ranch. During the afternoon, programme prizes will be drawn for.

The Elks Club will serve a pancake breakfast at 7:30 a.m. and their concession stand will be open all day for those who get hungry or thirsty.

The proceeds from the Elks' share of this show are used to aid charitable causes in our own district.

Rotarians hear progress report

A report made by Mr. R. Lawley showed the Rotary Club have had an active year. Their year end was July 1.

In his report it showed community assistance in many fields. Included were the swim classes and beach improvement; donations to the Summerland Youth Centre and to the Boy Scouts. Exchange students were brought from Chelan, Wash. for a week and four youths from Summerland were in Washington.

Donations were given the CNIB, and to Minor Hockey. A radio was given to the hospital and Christmas hampers were distributed.

The members will meet on Don Agur's lawn Friday night at 6:30. Members will bring their own chairs, tables and food.

The members stuffed circulars in envelopes to launch their campaign for funds for swimming instruction following the meeting.

There are over 400 registered for swim classes.

Great fishing is reported

PEACHLAND — K. W. Moore sent word from Headwaters Fish Camp that conditions for the sportsmen are excellent over that way. He said the road to Headwaters is in excellent shape and the fishing "greatly improved".

"The best results have been on the carey special or black gnat fly or willow leaf troll and worm", he said.

The guests have apparently made several limit catches — some up to 18 inches during the past week.

Senior citizens enjoy outing provided by Summerland IOOF

(Contributed)

Some forty members of the Old Age Pensioners Society enjoyed a pleasant afternoon drive down Shingle Creek Road to Penticton recently.

The drive was made possible by the Summerland IOOF who provided the transportation.

Some of the pensioners had made the trip before, but some had not but all enjoyed the day. While in Penticton, they made an interesting tour of the recent growth and returned to the IOOF hall in Summerland where they enjoyed a delicious lunch provided by the lodge.

Mr. W. Haddrell thanked the hosts for their consideration and kindness shown the senior citizens.

The Old Age Pensioners Society will not hold an official meeting until September, so Mrs. L. Brind took this opportunity to give a short report of the provincial convention she attended in Nanaimo in June.

She said there were over 100 branches of the organization in the province. Mr. M. G. Yates was re-elected president.

FEWER UNION MEMBERS

Since 1955 the proportion of union members among the non-agricultural paid workers has declined from 34 per cent to 25 per cent.

Academic-Technical program has four separate elements

(Editor's Note: This is the second of a series of articles by the Minister of Education describing the new secondary school curriculum.)

By The Hon. L. R. PETERSON, Minister of Education

In my article last week I mentioned that the reorganized curriculum for the senior secondary schools which will affect students going into Grade XI in September has six programmes or options. Five prepare students for subsequent specialized training at one of the regional vocational schools in the fields of commerce, industry, community service, arts or agriculture. One leads to university or an institute of technology and I would like to tell you about that one first.

It is called the Academic-Technical Programme and like all programmes it has four elements. The first element consists of same general education constants as all the other programmes. These are two courses in English, one in social studies and one in guidance and physical health education over the two-year period. The same subjects will be taken by all students in senior secondary schools.

The programme constants, taken by all students on the Academic-Technical Program, form the second element. They consist of one science course, one mathematics course and one language course. The language requirement is an addition of one year to the present requirement. It is felt that any student who is going to pursue a further academic education must have enough facility in one foreign language, or enough knowledge of language structure, to study that language or some other even further. One exception is allowed for the pupil intending to go to an institute of technology. For language he may substitute an additional technical course from the specialty he intends to follow if that is his wish.

Assuming that all academic students require the same general education and program constants, the Academic-Technical Programme then makes provision for three fields of endeavour which the student may enter. These are called program specialties. They are the arts or humanities, science and the technical specialty.

The arts specialty is for people whose chief interest lies in languages or in the social sciences. They must select three courses from a prescribed list of language studies, history, literature, etc.

The science specialty also requires three courses, one in senior mathematics and two more sciences.

The technical specialty, designed for those who plan to attend an institute of technology, is much like that for science. It requires the senior mathematics but only one science course. The third course is selected from the appropriate vocational specialty.

The remainder of the students time is occupied by four elective courses. These may be chosen to make up deficiencies at the Grade X level if he has them, to widen his education on a personal basis, or to take more work in his chosen field.

The new Academic-Technical Program will in some ways be more demanding than the old University Entrance Program. It is frankly intended for students whose abilities are such that they will be able to undertake the strenuous work demanded in universities and technological institutes. For those whose interests and talents lie in other fields, other programmes leading to further specialized training in vocational schools are available.

These programmes cover commerce, industry, community services, visual and performing arts and agriculture. Each will be explained in future articles.

The Province has six vocational schools already and will have 10 by 1967. They offer a wider variety of specialized training than is available anywhere else in Canada. The institution known as the vocational school is not new but in recent years has become recognized as an essential branch of the higher education which all young people should have if they are going to be successful in the complicated modern world.

Farm Safety Week begins July 25 to curb alarming accident rate

Farm Safety Week, promoted nationally in the United States, will be observed in most of Canada from July 25 to 31, 1965. The National Safety League of Canada is supporting all organizations participating in this most important campaign.

"Safe and Alive in '65" is the theme for this year's Farm Safety Week. It is also a cue for action. Once again, it is time to wage a personal war on accidents. The League urges all farm residents to correct dangerous work and living conditions, as well as dangerous habits and attitudes before they take their toll of injury and death. Make this week the beginning of a successful campaign to keep the family "Safe and Alive in '65".

It was a long but happy day for Cathy Nielson who competed in the Gymkhana held in Summerland Sunday and got most points in the Intermediate class and the Elks trophy. Shown here is the Summerland Exalted Ruler Jack Wilson looking equally happy about Cathy getting the big one. She is a member of the Vernon Riding Club. She was riding Julio. (Review Plate)

School trustees say 'no' to janitor's wage proposal

In reporting to the school trustees at a meeting held Tuesday night of last week, Secretary-Treasurer Jim Hack said the insurance adjuster had investigated the damage done during the fire in the school basement on Monday and estimated it to be in the neighborhood of $200 to $250.

He said they are putting a lock on the outside chute so it cannot be opened by unauthorized persons.

The chute is located behind the school and it is thought that children lifted the door and threw matches down to the refuse bin. Trustee Barkwill felt there was no intention to burn the school down. It was just a case of children playing.

Mr. Hack said when school is open, the paper in the bin is burned in the furnace each day, but apparently this had not been done since school closed. He was answering a question as to why there was so much paper in the bin.

A number of broken windows had been reported as well. RCMP are investigating and have said they will keep a closer watch on the school property.

Trustee McIntosh suggested that a small plot should be cultivated and planted to grass on the football field to see if it was possible to make that area more presentable. If grass grew sufficiently well, it would be his intention to continue on with planting the whole area. The experimental plot was approved.

Trustee Barkwill suggested that there had not been enough watering done on the grounds this year. It was indicated that the grounds are now costing $75 per week for maintenance.

Maintenance Superintendent A. Knuff gave progress report saying that all painting and repairs would be made by mid-August.

The negotiations with the Janitors Union did not result in an agreement. After going through the usual channels, with no apparent agreement in sight it was brought before a conciliation board.

This board made up a 14-page brief and this was accepted by the Kelowna and Penticton schools, but on the advice of an expert from the British Columbia School Trustees Association, the Summerland board turned it down. In doing this, they requested that if it came to a strike that it be supervised by the government—not the union.

The recommendations of the conciliation board over and above the present contract included:

- (1) A 7 per cent increase in pay the first year and a 5½ per cent increase the second year;
- (2) Consideration of employer share of premium for pension and medical plans;
- (3) Return of seniority rights as a result of amalgamation;
- (4) Lay-off notice;
- (5) Vacation for four weeks for 20-year employees;
- (6) Bereavement leave with pay for three consecutive working days;
- (7) Half day with pay when acting as pallbearer;
- (8) Supplement to Workmen's Compensation;
- (9) Severance pay for employees;
- (10) Double pay for Saturday and Sunday.

Authorization was given Mr. Weeks to get 10 days leave of absence sometime during January or February as a tour involving a club he belongs to have arranged trip to Hawaii. A substitute teacher had been arranged for and Mr. Weeks' leave would be without pay.

Although it was authorized, the board felt that in the future, they should have comments from the principal in writing so they would have a clear picture of the circumstances.

Cards of thanks were received from Mrs. J. Johnston and Mrs. M. McRae thanking the board for the retirement gifts they received.

It was authorized that the Student's Union dues of $1.00 be added to the school fees. This practice has been adopted in many schools because although all students participate in student union activities, there are those who do not pay their dues but still reap the benefits of the organization.

SUMMERLAND COUNCIL NEWS

Gravel crusher is on last legs -- Blagborne

Summerland Councillor Barkwill reported to council Tuesday morning at their regular meeting that there has been no action taken regarding additional parking space in the Park Lane as he felt that they should wait until the complete study of town parking is done. It is generally agreed by council that the survey may show that extra parking would be found on the north side of the main street. A survey is now being done.

In Barkwill's report of the Municipal meeting held in Merritt, he said Salmon Arm had presented a resolution to extend the terms of office of Mayors, Reeves and Councillors to four years from the present two. The meeting suggested three years would be more realistic and this proposal had previously been presented to the government but was turned down.

The subject of the gas company lower gas rates was brought up. Council felt that the token decrease was so little that it was merely an "advertising gimmick". It is possible that the municipal association will make a gas rate study, which would be costly, but they felt they should cooperate if it is made.

A meeting to discuss Regional Districts will be held in Penticton on Friday, when Deputy Minister Brown will attend.

Joan Crawford married Saturday

A pretty mid-summer, late afternoon wedding was solemnized in the Church of God, Summerland when Joan Maureen Crawford of Summerland, exchanged vows with Clarence William Hurein of Vancouver on July 24th.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked lovely in a tailored white suit and she was holding a bouquet of pink roses and white carnations. Rev. M. Schultz officiated. Mrs. Carol Ducek, cousin of the bride.

The Matron of Honor was Mrs. Robert Rogers. Mr. Ben Witke played the wedding march.

A reception was held in the Prince Charles Hotel, Penticton where Bill Towlin proposed a toast to the bride to which the groom responded. After a honeymoon at various B.C. points, the happy couple will reside at Prince George.

Councillor Ritchie, had attended the opening to the Penticton Museum and said it was "certainly a building Penticton can be proud of".

Works Superintendent Ken Blagborne said four trailer tires and wheels had been stolen over the weekend. It was reported to the RCMP.

He had received complaints that the boats were coming inside the bouy area at Powell Beach, and that skiers had come dangerously close to children swimming. RCMP will keep a lookout.

Mr. Blagborne said the gravel crusher is only holding on by "a wing and a prayer" and could cost between $5,000 to $10,000 to fix it up.

He suggested, and council agreed, that crushing may be done by contract cheaper than owning a machine. He was asked to get some prices on contracting the municipality crushing.

Reeve Holmes suggested that they may be wise to contract all work done by machines that are not used eight hours a day.

The works superintendent was authorized to construct another garage addition at the Electrical Department so all equipment, tools and wire may be stored. It will not be anything but a shell and would not run into too much money. Municipal crews would do the work.

There were four electrical applications approved.

A by-law governing the use and construction of privys was given the first reading.

They can only be constructed or used in the Green Belt G1 agricultural zone and the city must be not less than 75 feet from the dwelling it serves or no less than 200 feet from any other building and not less than 100 feet from any lot or boundary or parcel of land.

No more reports of coding moth infestation were received since last week when they got one. Clerk Gordon Smith said he had another one by phone since but requested it be put in writing. This had not been received.

The first reading was given to amendments to the Zoning By-law. A public meeting on this will be advertised in this issue.

NEGOTIATIONS NOW UNDER WAY

To name college site next week

An announcement is expected next week regarding the final choice of a site for the Okanagan Regional College.

Members of the Okanagan Regional College Council, meeting in Kelowna Monday night, gave tentative approval to the selection of a site and hope to reach agreement within a few days with the property-owners on major details of an option agreement.

These details are expected to be resolved prior to another meeting of council members next Monday evening in Kelowna, at which time the site and financial terms will be made public.

In a news release today, a college council spokesman said he expected any agreement would take the form of an "option", whereby the council would be able to obtain the property under consideration when and if ratepayers in the college area approve a by-law authorizing the construction of a college.

The college area now comprises nine school districts in the area between Revelstoke and Osoyoos, but excluding Penticton school district.

A small committee of the council is now working with the property-owners in preparing a draft agreement,

The site under consideration is within a few miles of Kelowna, as recommended by U. S. professor Dr F. T. Giles;

The Council is actively working on many phases of activity concerning the proposed college. Monday, council members decided to ask a University of British Columbia professor to act as a consultant on the preparation of an academic curriculum, and are also seeking a qualified man to assist in determining the technical programs to be offered at the college. Representations will also be invited from community groups and organizations, and from teachers, students, etc.

FINANCING

The council accepted recommendations from its Finance committee for a $30,000 budget to cover the period of August 1 to December 31, 1965, which will be apportioned to the nine school districts on an assessment basis, and empowered the same committee to make suitable arrangements for office space and necessary temporary office help.

H. S. Harrison-Smith of Kelowna was named solicitor for the council, and the Imperial Bank of Commerce will handle the council's banking requirements.

Kiwanis Street Carnival postponed for one week to July 30th

Executive members of the Summerland Kiwanis decided Thursday afternoon to postpone the Street Carnival scheduled for Friday night due to the threat of rain. This was reported to the membership by chairman Doug Campbell at their regular meeting Thursday night. It was postponed one week to July 30th.

A letter of thanks was received from one child who attended summer camp under the sponsorship of the Kiwanis.

Ten Summerland children were sent to the camp of their choice this year, all sponsored by the Kiwanis. Mr. Campbell urged the membership to get out and sell more tickets on the patio set because advertising of the postponement of the Carnival will cost additional money.

Jerry Halquist made a quick count of tickets sold and said more support in this regard was needed.

HOSTESS POURING COFFEE

Mrs. Don Agur is seen here pouring coffee at one of the many tables set up Friday night when she and Don hosted the Rotary Club on their lawn. Guests at the outing included Dr. Pattle Groves and Mrs. Alice Pool, both of Mass., U.S.A. and Miss Eve Thaler of Germany who was with the Ted Atkinsons. Ted met her through a District Governor he met in Germany. Also present was Miss Trimble who is the Penticton exchange student who will spend the next year in New Zealand.

President Jack Johnston urged attendance to the Summer Theatre in Penticton, which is sponsored by the Rotary there. "The weather went against them last year, so they need a good season this summer" he said.

Federal minister to open centre

PENTICTON — This South Okanagan city marks two big events here this summer, the social event of the summer season, and the opening of one of the finest convention centres in Western Canada.

The brand-new Peach Bowl will be opened with the annual Queen's Ball of the Peach Festival, August 5th. The Festival runs from August 4th to 8th inclusive.

Federal Agriculture Minister Harry Hays — patron of this year's Festival—will officiate at the ceremonies opening the city-operated, 2000-seat centre. This will be followed by the annual Ball, in honor of Dale Hutchison, this year's Queen Val Vedette.

A live orchestra will play for the dance between 10 p.m. and 1 a.m., and later food will be served. A bar will be available for adults, and soft drinks will be offered the younger set.

Guests will include local and visiting VIPs from government and the military, of course the Peach Festival royalty, as well as Queens and Princesses from B. C. and Washington State centres.

Dress is formal or semi-formal.

By RON KOSTELNIUK

The Summerland Arena, on Friday, was the scene of the successful "Pop Concert", held by the Summerland Summer Skating School, which included skaters from B.C. and Alberta. The 27-act show started off with all the skaters doing the "Dutch Waltz". Then Loreen McKinnon, of Prince George, Barbara Porritt, of Summerland, Beverly Bradbeer, Gail Palm, and Raymond Campbell, all of Penticton, followed with solos.

A group number, "Crazy Lazy Days of Summer", followed them. Penticton's Marlene Midill followed with a solo when the Penticton club pairs champs, Hallie Fugeta and Sharon Kincaid came on to perform. The 10-year-old Ft. McLeod club champion, Susan Bourasso, followed. The Dance Four group of Betsy Murray, Linda Wells, Raymond Campbell, and Nigel Blagborne were next. Then Ann Forster, of Summerland, and Pam Wyles, of Penticton, performed solos before the Swingdance, which ended the first part of the program.

Summerland's Shelly Erikson started the second part of the program with a solo. Cathy Minchin and Ann Porritt, both of Summerland, then performed. Smithers club champ, Shirley Mann, and Kim Hutchinson, performed solos. A Four-some, consisting of Dawn Marie Nott, Penny Ham, Bev Bradbeer and Vicki Nichol, the No. 19 act on the show, then came on. A solo by Don Gardner, of Ft. St. John, preceded a number by the girls, who in their flashy costumes performed "Fancy Pants". Then Vicki Nichol, Gladys Hays, both of Penticton, Darcy Halbur, of Ft. McLeod, Ann Porritt, of Summerland, and Colleen Midill of Penticton performed solos before the Canasta Tango ended the evening.

Of all the acts, Raymond

Campbell, Pam Wyles, Shelly Erikson, Kim Hutchinson and Shirley Mann were most applauded.

At the end of the program, the club pro, Delores Causien took a bow to the audience, which was well attended. The work she and the figure skaters put in certainly paid off because the show they put on was very good.

"Hoy Fever"

second show of Summer Theatre

The witty pen of Noel Coward once again comes to life when Penticton Summer Theatre presents his favourite play, "Hay Fever". Being staged at Riverside Park in Penticton, this comedy of English country life at its most madcap opened Monday, July 28th and runs nightly to August 3rd. "Hay Fever" is the second show of the season preceded by "Tunnel of Love" and followed by the musical "The Boy Friend".

"Hay Fever" was recently revived in London and became an even greater smash hit than it was years ago when it first opened, proving that comedy Coward style, will stand the test of time. It has been a favourite with audiences through out America and when the second season of legitimate theatre was planned for this year, producers Max Power and Ben Kopelaw felt it was an ideal choice. As Kopelaw said, "It offers variety to our program of comedy and Coward is at his best in "Hay Fever". He is never better with his acid wit than when he is going fun at his own British heritage. Through the medium of movies, we as North Americans now understand the typical brittle English humour and I'm sure it is brought to the stage most efficiently in this play."

Plenty of action at horse show, Gymkhana Sunday

A young rider from Vernon, an active member of that Riding Club chalked up the most points and won the Summerland Elks Trophy, in the 13 to 16-year-old class at the Gymkhana and Horse Show held in Summerland Sunday at Reinertson's Riding School grounds.

Ron Reinertson, Ring Steward was Charlie Letts, and Whipper in Bob Chalmers and Ring Clerks were Joan Grimsdick and Agatha Lehs.

Dave Davis, Bob Davis and Vic Smith were with Vince Senger on the Elks committee.

Vince had nothing but good to say for the ladies of the Royal Purple who operated the booths. "They have done a wonderful job," he said.

There were over 77 entries.

This is the third year the Elks have sponsored this show and judging from the remarks heard, it was the best yet. The weatherman assisted the Fire Department with a few sprinkles of rain, but never enough to spoil the show or to dampen the enthusiasm of the contestants.

Much credit was given the Summerland Fire Department who dampened the grounds in an effort to keep the dust down. They watered it down on Friday and Saturday as well as midway through the show.

The day was sponsored by the Summerland Elks Lodge No. 476 and Vince Senger was in charge.

Vince and his committee had a busy couple of days. On Saturday they put up concession booths and worked until dark. They were on hand again Sunday by 6:15 a.m. to prepare for a breakfast that was very well attended, starting at 7:30.

The Horse Show took up all the morning, the results of which will be at another spot in the paper if a pair of busy ladies by the names of Lavender Hyde and Beryl Potter, the aggregate recorders, can squeeze in the time to give us a complete listing of the show and gymkhana winners.

The afternoon opened with Bob Steele, president of the Summerland Riding Club bringing greetings and Exalted Ruler Jack Wilson offering a word of good luck to the contestants.

The Judge was Mrs. Gloria Dey of Noble Creek Ranch, Kamloops, and the Show Manager was Roy Steele. Roy's Assistant was George Stevenson and the very busy secretary of the Riding Club was Carol Reinertson and the announcer was Lawrence Reinertson.

The Ring Master was Allan Jenkins and Games Master, Clubs taking part were: The Summerland Trail Riders, Penticton Riding Club, Kelowna Riding Club, Oliver Riding Club, Blue Sage Riders from Osoyoos, the Armstrong - Enderby Saddle Club and the Kamloops and District Light Horse Club.

ORCHARD RUN by Wally Smith

Government Aid Short of Need

I think most of the growers who attended the short meeting with the Hon. Frank Richter in Penticton last Saturday were disappointed with the minister's attitude toward the problem of provincial government aid for fruit growers who lost crops and trees in last winter's freezeout.

The provincial minister of agriculture was defensive rather than cooperative.

The meeting with Mr. Richter was called to clarify the apparent confusion surrounding the Distress Area Assistance Act, and to discuss any other aid that the provincial government may be in a position to supply.

It was a short meeting. Mr. Richter had only one hour available because he had another meeting to attend. Had there been more time for discussion a better understanding between growers and Mr. Richter might have resulted.

Mr. Richter vigorously defended the D. A. A. Act and blamed the banks if growers were not able to borrow money under the Act. However, the minister's defence of the Act fell apart under the simple, logical argument presented by N. H. Affleck, manager of the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, Penticton branch.

Mr. Affleck concluded by suggesting that the government re-word the act so that it could be made applicable to the needs of the fruit growers.

The D.A.A. Act is designed to loan a farmer up to $5,000 for crop production, but this kind of assistance alone is not going to rejuvenate tree fruit production.

The provincial government's tree replacement program is not going to be very much help either.

Steve Mephram of Osoyoos urged that Mr. Richter take another look at the tree replacement program which fails to meet the need of basic changes taking place in horticulture.

Under the present plan for every tree a grower loses due to winter kill the government will pay 90 percent of the value of a new tree planted to replace the dead one.

The fate of the Okanagan fruit industry hinges upon apple growing. If an apple grower is to survive the coming years he will have to grow two apples where only one is growing now.

That is not possible on the standard 50 trees to the acre planting. The orchardist can do it if he plants a smaller size tree and 200 or even up to 500 trees to the acre.

This is being done by our competitors in other fruit growing areas, and unless we do likewise we are going to find it well nigh impossible to compete on the market because production costs will continue to rise and it is highly probable apple prices will not keep pace.

So Mr. Richter's plan to supply a new tree to replace every dead one, so far as apples are concerned will meet only a quarter to one eighth of the grower's tree requirements. Something better should be considered.

Of the outright grant sought by the grower delegation that went to Ottawa several weeks ago, Mr. Richter said his government was waiting for the next move from Ottawa.

I like the idea of solving the dilemma of the distressed grower by providing long term loans. Many other growers favor it.

Such a loan could be designed to provide financial relief for immediate needs, would solve the long term problem of orchard rejuvenation, and would carry the orchardist until his new trees come into commercial production. The loan could be interest free until this time, and repayments made over a long period of years starting with commercial production of the trees.

There are many orchards that have no dead trees resulting from winter kill, but the trees are old, poor varieties, and unprofitable. I think a loan should include these orchards.

The sooner a tree removal and re-planting job is done in every orchard that needs it the sooner the fruit growing industry will get back on its feet, and the sooner the whole valley will benefit.

THIRD IN A SERIES

Commerce programme set for Grade XI students

(Editor's note: This is the third in a series of articles by The Minister of Education describing the new senior secondary school curriculum.)

By The Hon. L. R. PETERSON, Minister of Education

Last week I mentioned that five programs which prepare students for subsequent vocational school training would be available for Grade XI students entering senior secondary school in the fall. Not all five will be available in all schools, but one which I expect will be given almost everywhere is the Commerce Program because we know, on the basis of statistics, that over 30 per cent of school students will find employment in business and commerce.

Over the two years, students in the Commerce Program will take the same four general education constants as will students in all others — two courses in English, one in social studies and one in guidance and physical education. These are the common elements in the general education of all students in senior secondary schools, regardless of program.

The second element is formed by the program constants taken by all students in the Commerce Program. These consist of two courses, one in Grade XI and one in Grade XII, in general business.

The third element of the program is the specialty chosen, and there are three. The secretarial specialty leads to stenography and allied occupations and requires six courses over the two years — typing, two in shorthand, secretarial practice, office practice and office orientation.

The accountancy specialty is intended for those students whose main interest lies in the financial aspects of business.

Again six courses are the requirement of the specialty — typing, applied mathematics, two courses in bookkeeping, one in accountancy and one in office orientation.

The clerical specialty is for those interested in going into small businesses as employees or as owners. They do not require specialized training as do secretaries and bookkeepers but need some knowledge of both. The six courses they will take are typing, bookkeeping, applied mathematics, business machines, office orientation and office practice.

As well as the courses required by his specialty, each commerce student may choose two electives, one in each year. These may be used to make up any deficiency from Grade X, or to satisfy broader interests. A student taking the accountancy specialty, could, if he wished take typing and a course in music. One interested in science might take two courses in biology.

Any student completing the Commerce Program will have acquired improved skills in English and mathematics as they are related to office work and will be familiar with new office procedures and equipment, though these are changing rapidly. I recommend that students going into business or commerce but not wanting to attend university take it. They will have the basic requirements for a business career and can build on these by attending a vocational school or community college where more advanced specialization will be available.

And, as I suggested earlier, there is strong indication that the services of trained office people will be in demand. The greatest increase in the labour force in recent years has been in the occupational groups called clerical, service, commercial and financial, and despite the worry about automation the trend is expected to continue. The Commerce Program is designed to make the student more valuable in this field and enhance his prospects for promotion.

A child's playhouse, built by husbands of members and painted by the girls is to be raffled off during the Peach Festival. The playhouse will also be featured in the Peach Festival Parade.

Tickets in this area are being sold each Saturday in front of the Overwater Store. Miss Dorothy Britton and Mrs. James B. Roe are in charge of the Summerland ticket sales. At present four children in Summerland attend Happy Vale.

WINNER OF JUNIOR CLASS

Dog takes sick -- car in rhubarb

A visitor from Washington State got more than a little concerned about her companion in the front seat last week while driving around Trout Creek.

Mrs. Norma Ann Parker of Centralia, Wash. was proceeding west on 1st Ave. when her dog got sick and showed very plain that he was.

Mrs. Parker, although going at a slow speed, grabbed for her pet and the car was on its own for a moment and chose to run in to some flowers and trees. There were no charges laid.

Summerland officials attend Municipal Association convention

Summerland municipal officials attended the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association convention in Merritt on Thursday. They were acting-Reeve Walter Powell, Councillors Bill Barkwill and Scotty Ritchie, building inpector John Khalembach and assessor Joe Sheeley.

They heard an explanation of the new labor negotiation plan adopted by the Association by Pentiction City Administrator H. W. Cooper.

According to the Pentiction Herald, Mr. Cooper explained to the group that during negotiations locally and up to the time a conciliation offer is likely, the local city governments are on their own. When a conciliation officer or arbitration is called for, the combined group enters the picture and also takes over the cost. A fully qualified labor negotiator will be engaged for any future moves.

Cowboy flavor at Peach Festival

PENTICTON — The Okanagan's own, Kenny McLean will meet his colleagues from many parts of North America here Aug. 5, 6 and 7.

If they're lucky, the men will return to their homes later all in one piece.

McLean is a rider on the rodeo circuit, an authentic professional cowboy from Okanagan Falls. A former world champion, McLean is at present holding down second-place in overall Rodeo Cowboys Assn. standings.

The performances, scheduled for this city's traditional Big Week, begin at 8 p.m. each night, and feature saddle bronc, bareback, steer wrestling, calf roping, and bull riding. Another item popular in the past, girls' barrel racing, will be featured as well.

Clowns and bullfighters will also put on a show, as well as remaining nearby during performances with dangerous animals.

West: Pass, Pas, Pass;
North: 2 Spades, 3 Sp., Pass;
East: Pass, pass, pass.
Opening lead 4 hearts.

Play:
West opened 4 hearts taken by ace in north with king dropping in east. North led low spade to king driving out all in west hand. West leads Q-hearts and another heart ruffed by east led small club taken by Ace, as north had to take and not chance the Queen finesse. Cleared trumps. After trumping one club ran his two hearts then kept leading trump until on final lead of spade kept Queen and 2 of diamonds in hand. And had ace and Q diamonds and jack of clubs in dummy. East was left with King and ten of diamonds and King of Clubs thus had to let one go and was trapped. North only had to discard after east either making two diamonds or a diamond and a club.
