Under the Giant's Head

The monthly report of building inspector John Kalembach shows an increase of $6,800 in building permits issued during the first two months of 1965 over the same period in 1964.

In February, 1965 there were three new dwelling permits for $29,000; four dwelling alterations for $2,200 and one commercial and industrial alteration permit for $300 for a total of $31,500 compared to $25,150 in February 1964.

The weather continues to be sunny with 33.8 hours of sunshine and .04 inches of rain during the past week reported by the research station.

Plans proceed for hospital

Word has been received from the Hon. Eric Martin, Minister of Health and Hospital Services, that the Summerland General Hospital may proceed with the working plans and specifications of the proposed new hospital. This is the final step before going to tender.

The annual meeting of the Summerland Hospital Society will be held on March 24 at 8 p.m. to receive yearly financial and statistical reports and other business pertinent to the hospital. Those wishing to become members of the Society may do so upon payment of $1.

It is hoped that eventually the bylaws of the Society will be changed to enable all owner-electors to become part of the Society without paying an extra fee.

Yacht Club reports very active year

Annual meeting of the Summerland Yacht Club was held in the club house on February 24. Commodore Doug Campbell called on each of his executive members present to outline to the meeting the club's activities for the past year.

Harry Dracas reported on the breakwater, Bob Richards on entertainment. Andy Utterhagen reported on the building, while Ralph Downing gave a financial statement. Mrs. Bev Utterhagen, president of the Ladies Auxiliary, reported on the very active year of the Auxiliary.

Following the reports D. H. Hill conducted the election of officers. As half the board still had a year to go, the following were elected to the board for a two year term: Jim Green, George Witte; Norm Reid and Bill Cory of Penticton. Commodore Campbell, Bob Richards, Keith Marten; D. H. Hill; Harold Scott and Ralph Downing remain on the board for one more year. Bob Butler was again appointed secretary.

Commodore Campbell thanked the ladies and the 1964 board for their help and interest shown over the past year.

Club members and friends are reminded of the pot luck supper and dance to be held in the club house on March 19 at 6:30. Everyone is welcome and a good time assured.

Speed cut on highway due to deer

Blinker lights and warning signs have been erected along Highway 97 from Summerland to Peachland and the speed limit has been reduced to 40 miles per hour.

These measures have been taken because of the hazards caused by deer crossing the highway on this 13 mile section of the road. More deer than usual have been seen south of Greta Ranch during the past week and several have been in accidents with cars this winter.

Motorists are urged to use caution when driving on this section of the highway.

Council considering controlled collections

As a follow-up to last week's discussion on garbage disposal problems, Reeve Norman Holmcs reported Tuesday night to council on policies used in some neighboring communities. He noted that most areas operate their own garbage trucks taking the cost out of the mill rate. At present Summerland residents are responsible for their own garbage.

Two dwelling units in the commercial area will not be allowed to be rented as they are not up to the standards set by the building code.

An application from City Taxi to create a new taxi parking zone in front of its new office was approved.

Works superintendent Ken Blagborne reported on a meeting of the Water Reclamation Association he attended in Calgary last week.

Councillor J. H. Schaeffer and municipal clerk G. D. Smith were appointed delegates to the Public Relations Seminar sponsored by UBCM in Burnaby on March 13.

REV. F. W. HASKINS

was elected president of the Summerland Handicapped Children Association annual meeting on Monday. The meeting was held in the library of the secondary school.

Secondary school principal J. Tamblin headed a panel which discussed various phases of the responsibility of the community to retarded persons. Members of the panel were Mrs. A. E. Wells of the Happyvale School, Penticton; Mrs. Flora Bergstrom, John Bennett, chairman of the Summerland school board; and George Lane who gave a brief history of the work of the association.

Other officers elected were J. R. Prior, vice president; secretary, Mrs. J. Sheeley; treasurer, Hans Meierhofer; directors: Mrs. Heather Geddes, Mrs. A. B. Caldwell, Bert Stent; George Lane, Dr. F. C. MacInnes and Ian McCuaig.

Main project of the association is to raise funds for transportation of Summerland handicapped children to Happyvale School in Penticton.

J. A. Young to speak at Education Week meeting

A public meeting will be held in the MacDonald School auditorium at 8 p.m. Wednesday, March 12 in connection with Education Week. The meeting is sponsored jointly by the Summerland Teachers Association and the school board.

Speaker will be J. A. Young, of Keremeos and his topic will be Education in Sarawak. Mr. Young is an authority on the subject as he spent three years in Sarawak, Borneo as Group Headmaster under the Colombo Plan. He was in charge of setting up and organizing an experimental scheme in education. His talk will be illustrated with slides and a display of artifacts and souvenirs.

There is no admission charge and refreshments will be served by the Future Teachers Club.

Police Court

Appearing in Summerland police court before magistrate Reid Johnstone, a Penticton Indian, James Andrew George was found guilty to shooting a deer contrary to the regulations on his permit. He was fined $50 or in default 30 days. The fine was not paid so he will serve the sentence in Okalla Prison Farm.

The proprietor of Summerland Billiards was found guilty on a charge of dumping garbage on a highway. The charges arose when a quantity of garbage was found dumped along the Faulder Road. A fine of $35 and costs was levied.

Robert Humphrey Davie of Kelowna paid a voluntary penalty of $25 when charged with exceeding the speed limit in Trout Creek Point.

Kenneth Warren Lawson, West bank, was charged with driving contrary to instructions on a traffic device. He paid a fine of $15 costs. He was driving in the centre lane on the Summerland Hill on Highway 97 and this lane is to be used for only passing.

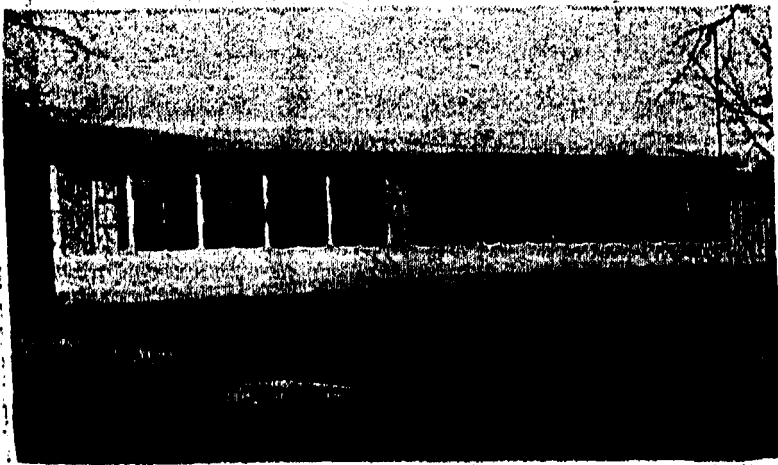

Bridge results

Results of Monday night's play at the South Okanagan Contract Bridge Club were:

North-South: Dr. W. Evans and M. Small; B. Berry and A. Menu; W. Hepperle and Mrs. S. Lyons; Miss Enid Maynard and Mrs. Burns.

East-West: G. Hepperle and G. Peddle; Mrs. Ha' and Mrs. I. Gartrell; J. Dunn and C. Elsey; Mrs. R. Fredrickson and G. Howis.

Education Week activities

An open open will be held in the Trout Creek elementary school on Monday, March 8 from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. to enable parents to see their children's work and visit with the teachers.

On Tuesday evening, March 9 commencing at 7:30 there will be a one-hour display of student activities in the MacDonald

School gymnasium. The program will consist of choral, gym displays, basketball, volleyball and badminton.

WEEKLY PUBLISHERS VISIT EXPO 67. William Telfer, left, managing director of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association and K. E. Patridge, president, receive their golden Friend of Expo pins from Commissioner-General Robert Shaw. The directors of the Association paid a day long visit last week to the Exhibition offices and site in Montreal. Explaining the operations of Expo Mr. Shaw told the publishers: It is being run not by English Canadians, not by French Canadians, but by good Canadians.

Going it alone

If we listen to some of the recent statements emanating from and surrounding the Royal Commission on Bilingualism and Biculturalism, certain elements and areas in Canada are indeed having a hard time of it. There seems to be a three-centuries-belated aura of sympathy for the conquered, i.e. French Canada and French Canadians.

This has given rise to an attitude, on the part of some residents and peoples of Quebec province that we should now and at once make up to them for the fact that they have had to continue to be a racial minority, that lost out when Canada was conquered by Wolfe on the Plains of Abraham.

Even the not-so-extreme people in Quebec now seem to have the idea that they should be able to "go it alone" and yet at the same time retain all the privileges and benefits that accrue from Canadian citizenship, including pensions, provincial payments and the like.

While we're about it, let's apply the "go-it-alone" policy to both ends of the country. This would mean that B.C. could have its own bank, could develop its own trans-Pacific trade with Japan and other nations.

Yes, we could do it. But Quebec couldn't. However should they really want to opt-out of Confederation, they must do so without any of the aid they're now receiving. They've contributed little to the development of Canada, any more than their ancestors did in opening up the land when they owned it. Just read some comparisons of the development in the U.S. (prior to 1745 and while they were still a British colony) and what was done north of the 49th parallel.

This comparison will show that the early settlers in "America" the colony, wanted to open it up, were always, risking lives and fortunes in attempts to move into new areas as permanent settlers.

In contrast, the French did little of this. They made a lot of journeys but always in search of furs and adventure; rarely, if even to settle and develop the land. Indeed it doesn't seem to have occurred to them that they could do so, particularly in the areas outside the La-Belle Province.

All of which is, of course, long past history. We only suggest it in rebuttal to views evidently held and loudly proclaimed by some Quebec leaders.

Actually, the people of French ancestry, those of German ancestry — and all others, as well as those from the British Isles, can contribute to making Canada better than it is, through co-operation by thinking and being Canadian before we're anything else.

Certainly we can accomplish this by pandering to the passions of the masses.

Report from Parliament Hill

The object of the Canada Pension Plan was that all Canadians would share in the Plan in a fair and equitable manner. Since all parties agreed to this in principle, the plan has gone through Committee and is now back in the House for consideration. Opposition parties feel that far too many Canadians are being excluded, and that a great many will receive very little benefit. For example, some two million persons who are presently over the age of 64 will not be able to participate and also another large group in the small income bracket will not be making sufficient to be covered. Farmers making less than $800 or employed persons less than $600 are cut out entirely and those earning slightly more will only come into the Plan partially (thus the principle has been broken for all Canadians cannot participate).

The Conservative Party has suggested that rather than both groups all in the foregoing groups should receive at least $25 a month in addition to the Old Age Pension which will commence at age 65.

Questions are being asked as to its fairness when those persons who need the Plan most get the least advantage and those who need the Plan the least get the most.

I believe that there a number on the government side who feel that certain amendments should be made, and it is hoped that their voice will have some weight.

What my Chamber of Commerce means to my community

The following is a speech made by F. E. Atkinson, president of the Summerland Chamber of Commerce in 1940 and 1964, to an area conference of Chambers of Commerce held in Vernon on February 25.

"I am speaking for a community of about 4,500. I think this point is important as the role of a Chamber of Commerce in a community will vary somewhat with the size of the community. However, regardless of the size there are some things that apply to all communities, and I would like to quote two lines: 'Don't trust to luck or pass the buck; the town depends on you'."

"Don't rely on the other guy, he has a different point of view."

The Chamber of Commerce deals with the general well-being of the district — so it is everybody's business. Remember that there is no power greater than that of the individual except Divine power, so what the Chamber of Commerce does or can do depends on you. Your vote is as important as any other.

The Chamber of Commerce does work in a community, not handled by any other organization. I like to feel that it is midway between the governing body (Municipal and, social, and service organizations. It is an overall organization representing the whole community, and the smaller towns various groups should be segments of the Chamber of Commerce. We are too much inclined to form separate organizations, each going its own way. In Summerland the Chamber serves a useful purpose that brings at least groups together that could be completely separate. I refer to the fair committee, the retail merchants' committee and the royalty committee. The three are fairly large groups (probably about 20 members each) and each has a president, vice president, secretary treasurer, and its own bank account. The royalty committee, although being a smaller group, also has separate funds but has a guarantee "from" the "main" body of the Chamber of Commerce. The retail merchants committee raises money for advertising the spring Lila Day and the Christmas season and they set their hours of opening and closing. They handle any other business that distinctly affects merchants, but they do report to the monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

Other committees on a district basis are: tourist information booth, district brochure, Good Citizenship Cup and Christmas Light-up contest.

The Chamber of Commerce can act as a body to receive constructive criticism from the citizens of a community, an individual, often, does not wish to make himself known to a provincial department, municipal council or to members of the federal or provincial house, but he often has an idea that is quite worthwhile and it is much better for it to be funneled through the Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber of Commerce can act as a sounding board for new community development ideas from the general public. The municipal council may try out an idea at the Chamber of Commerce. This is quite important when new projects are first being debated.

Owning of property is probably unusual for a Chamber of Commerce, but in Summerland the citizens are indebted to the Chamber for the playground park adjacent to the business district. This property was offered to the Chamber at a reasonable price, so they bought it and held it until the second world war was over and then it was turned over to the Memorial Parks Committee for development and has been a valued asset of the district ever since.

Getting out the vote probably fits the Chamber of Commerce better than any other organization.

In conclusion, Chamber of Commerce can mean a great deal to a community. It can be the mouthpiece below the of-

by Rev. J. R. Coughlan

In many homes, the Bible has been neglected and the only purpose it serves is to collect dust upon a shelf in some remote room. God has preserved the scriptures down through the centuries for our spiritual benefit during this 20th century.

John 20:31 reads: "But these are written that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that believing ye might have life through His name." The words that introduce us to the Saviour, Jesus Christ, are written that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that believing ye might have life through His name.

Somebody has said that the Bible contains the mind of God and that if you will find it to be a living book offering a living experience and giving it reality.

the state of man, the way of salvation, the doom of sinners, the happiness of believers. It has light to direct us, food to support us and comfort to cheer us. It is the traveller's map; the pilot's compass, the soldier's sword and the Christian's charter. Christ is its grand subject, and the glory of God is its end. It is a mine of wealth, a paradise of glory and a river of pleasure. It will reward the greatest labor and condemn all who try to trifle with its sacred contents.

The Bible is an ancient book, but it is not old. It is a living book, offering a living experience and giving it reality. Why not read it with an open mind and a heart? You will find it to be a living book offering a living experience and giving it reality.

What my Chamber of Commerce means to my community

The Chamber of Commerce can act as a body to receive constructive criticism from the citizens of a community, an individual, often, does not wish to make himself known to a provincial department, municipal council or to members of the federal or provincial house, but he often has an idea that is quite worthwhile and it is much better for it to be funneled through the Chamber of Commerce.

They Could Have Asked Me

That aging infant, terrible as it was, pulled me under my feet. Live Pierre Berton has charged out every minute of its video. Now I can't blame the general confession and the creed with he took what was supposed to be a long, hard look at contemporary Christianity.

According to the critical review, views, the result, entitled The Comfortable Pew, turned out to be a short, soft look. Forty years I have envied Berton for a number of reasons: his facility with words; his TV interviews with gorgeous dolls; his colossal ego; his big fat income; Every time the big buzz-dome scores another coup, I get the green sickness.

But what a contrast to the yearling, busy, simple, and direct. I wanted to write a book about them, why did they turn to the back-sid Anglican like Berton when they had a front-sid Anglican me available? Like most converted Anglicans, I was hauled, kicking and struggling into the fold, on sexual grounds. My wife was an Anglican.

At first, she used to shame me into accompanying her to church a couple of times a year. Then the outfit fastened its tentacles to the kids and first thing I knew I was going to Bible Class pageants and Sunday School picnics.

The pressure increased. "Wouldn't it be lovely," she speculated with that phony wistfulness that makes you want to run for the nearest exit, "if you could be confirmed at the same time as your little son?" I dug my heels, I refused to join in the general confession, because I could hear my mother, with her mild Methodist grave around, groaning in her grave every time we came to that bit about believing in the holy Catholic Church.

To cut a long story short, I was confirmed at the same time as my son. And frankly, I must admit that once I was confirmed, I was a member of the church.

DEAR DORIS

advice from Doris Clark

Think Before You Marry

DEAR DORIS — I went with a boy for five years. My parents were set against him because of his drinking (which is normal for young boys).

During the sixth year I became pregnant. My parents were very hurt but would not take any help from this boy. He left and moved to another city. I gave the baby to an adoption agency. I truthfully thought I could forget this boy but he came back and we started going out again. I am not saying this is true love but I think after a year if you have not forgotten a person he must mean something to you.

This Christmas he gave me a ring. My parents are not pleased but they are leaving the future to my own choice. Wedding plans are now in order. I would like your opinion as to how big the wedding should be, what I should wear and if a reception is proper.

Second Chance

DEAR SECOND — How's that again? You're not saying it is true love, but "wedding plans are in order?" With parents unhappy about it, and even you doubtful, do you think your brave plans have any chance of bringing happiness?

If you have a wedding, it should be small, you should not wear a white gown and veil; and a small reception is in order. If you go by me, it is also in order to stall enough to give yourself a third chance.

Talk it over with someone who's been through the mill.

DEAR DORIS — I've taken a leaf out of your book and got Mom helping me put on a St. Patrick's Day party. The invitation I composed is in the form of a rhyme, and I've said everybody must wear or carry something green.

Now I need some ideas about Irish games to play. Any suggestions?

Patsy

DEAR PATSY — Sure and I have the very thing for you!

It's a leaflet of "Games for a St. Patrick's Party," and may be had by anyone writing in and enclosing ten cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

DEAR DORIS — My adopted son was taken from his real parents when he was five. The home was immoral and he was starving. He was three years in a foster home.

When he came to us, six months ago, he had a mental age of five. We simply can't get through to him. He is quiet, lazy-minded. Looks right through us when we try to reason with him. Easily forgets instructions. Disobeys.

To challenge him to eight-year-old behavior I've got him going to Scouts. But the worker says he is perfectly normal and that love and affection will do the trick.

This answer makes me see red. I think he needs help.

Adoptive Parent

DEAR PARENT — With his past history, what could he do but build a shell around himself? He has found that the best way is not to try, not to argue. "What's the use?"

Opening up that shell will take uncommon understanding and patience as well as love. Try meeting him where he is, at a five-year-old level. He needs to taste success. Educational toys for boys of five might intrigue him.

Then praise, love, a celebration for any step forward will bring about more of the same. You can do it.

DEAR DORIS — Have you a leaflet on headaches? I get terrible headaches.

Suffering

DEAR SUFFERING — A headache is a symptom — just a sign that something is wrong somewhere. Almost anywhere. Eyes, nose, teeth, ears, nerves, glands, digestion, fatigue, even feet!

Pay attention to this sign of trouble and get to your doctor, pronto.

Over 200 attend annual Mother & Daughter Banquet

The local Guide Association's annual Mother and Daughter Banquet was held February 24 at 5:30 p.m. in the Youth Centre. This banquet takes place during "Thinking Week", commemorating the birthdays of Lord and Lady Baden-Powell, founders of the Guiding Movement.

The banquet was convened by Mrs. Fred Mallett and Mrs. Ken Nistor.

Mrs. R. Kuroda was in charge of the decorating committee. There were lovely springlike daffodils on each table and the decorative theme "Pennies with Wings" was done by Patsy Ryan as part of her work towards badge earnings.

Over 200 guests were welcomed by chairwoman Mrs. J. Miltimore.

Guests of honor included Councillor and Mrs. W. S. Ritchie, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hackman, representing the Summerland Kiwanis Club; Rev. P. K. Louie, Mrs. H. V. Harrison; Mrs. B. Blagborne; Mrs. Ted Pool; Ranger Captain Mrs. S. Fenwick;

District Commissioner Mrs. W. A. Laidlaw; Guide Captain Mrs. Enid Maynard. Unable to attend were Mrs. J. E. O'Mahony, Mrs. W. Raven, and Mrs. W. Durick.

The banquet began with the candle lighting ceremony. Mrs. F. V. Harrison, representing "guiding past" lit the first candle; Mrs. Fenwick "guiding present" and Cheryl Marten "guiding future" and seven Guide Patrol Leaders carried on by lighting the candles on each table.

Mrs. Ted Pool led the Guides and Brownies in singing. Johnny Applesed as grace.

Mrs. Miltimore introduced the guests and all the many Guiders and their helpers and the members of the executive that make up the local Association.

Rev. Louie gave the benediction.

Mrs. Blagborne gave an interesting talk on her first Guiding years in Summerland. She said that her first Guider was Mrs. Harrison.

Mrs. Miltimore gave the toast to the Queen. Toast to mothers was given by Brownie Berit Rasmussen with reply by Mrs. Jim Hack.

Toast to Guiding was given by Kay Fenwick with reply by Mrs. G. Naylor.

The highest award of a Gold Cord was presented to Marjorie Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lewis. Mr. Hackman, on behalf of the Kiwanis Club presented Mrs. Lewis and Marjorie with corsages. Kiwanis takes an active part in sponsoring Guiding each year.

Mrs. Pool gave a brief talk on the merits of Guiding and showed a film on Mexican Caban in which ten Rangers participated. This was very interesting for the Brownies and Guides as well as being most informative for the mothers. The side trips to other places were also much enjoyed.

Assisting in the kitchen were Mrs. R. Wright, Mrs. E. F. Smith, Mrs. W. Evans, Mrs. J. Mayne; Mrs. R. Hardy and Miss Louise Atkinson.

Awards given during CYC Honor Week

CYC week culminated in Honor Council at the Summerland Free Methodist church Sunday evening, February 21 at 7:30.

Technistill Picture Parade was the special feature each evening Tuesday through Friday, with Rev. Joe Gallop of Abbotsford in charge.

Starting out at 9:30 a.m. on Friday the Cadets had a toboggan party with hot dog roast at noon.

Climax of the week came when Rev. Norman Ion awarded the Christian Youth Crusaders the badges, pins and honor awards which they had achieved during the past four months. Nine Heralds received honor awards for Home Helpfulness and Bible Study. Cheryl Kehler received recognition for being the Herald of the month for each month October through January. Heather Barnett won the highest honor ribbon for the best scrap book made by the Heralds; Mrs. Lillian James and Mrs. Elsie Ion served as judges of the scrap books.

Eleven Cadets received awards with Larry Barnett receiving highest honor of five pins and the highest honor ribbon in the Cadet cookie baking contest. The Cadet of the month for December was Ron Evans and for January Terry Ion.

The Jr. H.C. is the CYG division that all Heralds and Cadets are working toward. There were eight of these young people to receive awards. Marilyn James received the highest achievement of two badges and eight of the twelve requirements of the first rank Traveler. Sandra Ion received the highest honor ribbon in the Jr. HIC cake baking contest. Crusader of the month for December was Sandra Ion, for January Ken Kehler.

The evening closed with delicious refreshments served by the Jr. HIC.

Mrs. R. Hodgson and Mr. Killik served as judges for the baking contests.

Darlene Shannon honored at shower

A wedding shower was held at the home of Miss Linda Scott, honoring Miss Darlene Shannon on Monday evening, February 15. A Valentine theme was used with red and white streamers, and cups decorated the bride's chair.

Gifts were placed under a red and white decorated umbrella. After the gifts were opened, several games were played. The evening ended with refreshments being served and Miss Shannon cutting the bride's shower cake.

Those present included Mrs. Lloyd Shannon, mother of the bride elect; Mrs. James Crawford, mother of the groom from Pentleton; Mrs. R. Shannon, the grandmother of the bride elect; Mrs. H. Shannon; Mrs. L. Shannon; Mrs. Jessie MacDonald; Mrs. H. Hackman; Mrs. K. Blagborne; Mrs. L. Rumball; Mrs. A. Dunsdon; Mrs. E. Scott; Mrs. H. Noble; Mrs. T. Bradley; and the Misses Malda Morell; Judy Kaatz Rita Keuning; Joanne Campbell; Maureen Hardy; Georgine Kennedy and Marie Gove.

Those unable to attend but sending gifts were Mrs. H. Clark and Audrey; Mrs. G. Beggs; Mrs. G. Henry; Mrs. G. Braniff and Francis; Mrs. J. Newton and Mrs. Elsie Crawford, Pentleton.

Miss Dorothy Britton has accepted the position of member advisory in the Alpha Lambda Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority. Miss Britton is a charter member of Beta Sigma Phi in Pentleton, and is an active member of the Xi Gamma Exomlar Chapter.

FROM TROUT CREEK

At the February 26th Pack meeting Michael Prokopenko and Lorn MacGregor were invested into the Brotherhood of Boy Scouts. Alan Fisher was awarded his Collector Badge with a fine collection of stamps. There is a noticeable increase in interest in Proficiency Badges with the new badges introduced and the removal of all restrictions on age and advancement. Any boy who is interested in working for a proficiency badge should borrow the badge pamphlet from his Sixer and decide which is the most suitable for him. Your mother and father will help.

Alan Carter, Ricky Gurnet, Angus McNabb and Rodney Hickson have completed their Tenderpad Tests and will be invested as soon as they have their uniforms. We are still awaiting the shipment of our neckerchiefs but they should be here soon.

The First Star Cubs are working on First Aid now and the Tenderpads are growing things. Their plants should be up now, remember to observe them every day and make notes on what is happening. How are the Cleanliness Tests. They should be finished by now.

We won second place for our window in the 5c to $1 Store.

The Red Six won the monthly competition in February.

There will be a first aid examiner at the Pack meeting on Friday to examine the First Star Cubs for their Second Star test and for the First Aid Badges. I hope all boys will be ready for this most important test.

J. M. McArthur, Cubmaster

1st Summerland Troop

This week we completed our second round of Ambulance Man's Badges. George Lewis, the examinee, passed Scouts Roy Heinrichs, Bob Stewart; Jim Haddrell and Howard Wiens. Many boys are anxious to pass tests and it will be necessary to make arrangements with leaders during the week for testing in many cases. We plan to complete Personal Fitness Badge track events on Saturday morning, March 13.

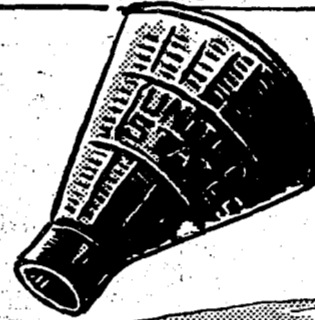

The Troop had a nearly full turnout of 25 boys on Monday almost completely in full uniform. Points were taken for bringing Tenderfoot to Queen Scout Manuals and for attendance at the church parade on Sunday. The patrol competition points are very close with Beavers 255; Hawks 206; Buffaloes 254 and Eagles 253.

In the Scout Week window display the Troop won second prize for its display in Holmes and Wade's Window. Thanks of the Troop go to Rev. Tannar of the Anglican Church for an excellent service at the Scout Parade.

D. V. Fisher, Scoutmaster

From OUTER SPACE to the Ocean's Depths

A man can measure anything today with a glance at his wrist. The ingenious Watchmakers of Switzerland have designed a watch for every purpose and for any environment. Astronaut Scott Carpenter wore a watch on his tour of outer space that measured speed consumption, rate of climb and descent, elapsed time and a score of other flight computations.

Navigators guiding their planes across oceans and continents have a special Swiss watch to tell them where they are, what direction they are travelling, when they should arrive, the ground speed, the rate of climb and descent and the elapsed time down to a second.

Aquatic adventurers rely on a versatile underwater Swiss watch that warns divers when they must surface, allows them to send signals to other divers distances away and enables them to work out level stages and stopping times quickly and easily.

By Ron Koslinski

AT OLIVER
Upsets were the order of the day as the Summerland teams upset the favorites. Summerland finished second in the Southern Zone finals played at Oliver. Oliver took first by beating the locals who had defeated Osoyoos. Against Osoyoos they started slow and were unable to hit in the first half and had to come from behind for the victory. Ron Mayne and Ray Betuzzi were the leaders in rebounding and this along with fast breaks was how they won. The team played a strong defensive game containing Osoyoos' top man. They won 65-32 with Bill Fitzpatrick leading the way with 15 points. Ray Betuzzi had 12, Ron Mayne 14, Gordon Laakey and Bruce Parker 2 apiece.

An hour later they played Oliver and lost 35-20. They were handicapped on account of their tiredness and their slowness compared to the tall Oliver players. Points were divided pretty evenly with Ray Betuzzi getting 6, Ron Mayne 5, Bill Fitzpatrick 4, Gordon Laakey 3 and Don Johnson 2.

AT KEREMEOS
The girls also finished second at Keremeos. They won the first game 19-11 over Osoyoos, overtaking a 6-4 half time deficit. Elaine Charles and Janette Jacques each had four points; Judy Brown, Elizabeth Orr and Gina Storey each had 2 points; and Patty Stevenson one point.

They lost the big game, however 25-19 to Keremeos. Keremeos held on to a 12-10 half quarter lead before exploding time lead and a 15-14 third for 10 points in the final quarter. Janette Jacques led the Summerland attack with 8 points. Elaine Charles, Judy Brown and Patty Stevenson divided the remaining points with 4 each.

Both teams deserve a tip of the hat for the good job they did. They are a great credit to the school by showing that Summerland is a school not easily beaten and it takes a good team to beat them. Coaches did a good job with the teams and the whole school should be proud of them for going as far as they did.

30 rinks entered in ladies spiel

The annual Summerland ladies open bonspiel will start at 7 o'clock on Friday morning with 30 rinks entered for the four events. Rinks are entered from Merritt, Osoyoos, Kelowna, Penticton, Peachland and Summerland. Finals in the B event will be played at 10 o'clock on Sunday afternoon with the A, C and D finals commencing at 7:30 p.m. A dinner will be held in the J.O.C. Hall on Saturday evening for the lady curlers. Prizes for the bonspiel are on display in the window of Macil's Ladies Wear.

Night courses offered for sailing instruction

A course in basic sailing for beginners is being offered at the Penticton night school commencing on Thursday evening, March 4. The course under the auspices of the South Okanagan Sailing Association has been organized by Leighton Lopatecki. It will consist of a series of six lectures on the theory side of sailing. Practical sessions will be conducted in May by the sailing association at its headquarters in Summerland. It is not necessary to own a boat in order to take part in the course, as the club will have extra boats available. A charge of $4.50 is being levied to cover expenses at the night school.

BOWLING RESULTS

With only three weeks of play left in the schedule of the mixed bowling league the race for the top place in A, B and C divisions is really getting close. Four high teams from each division go in the playoffs.

Individual scores in A division last week were: ladies high single and high three: Lorraine Irvine 344 and 652; men's high single and high three: Al Coffey 328 and 635.

In B division: Elsie Archibald took top place in the high single and high three games with 238 and 560. Men's high single and high three went to Chuck Hill with 289 and 651.

C division high single and high three were: Marg Olman with scores of 221 and 595. Men's high single was scored by John Newton, 263; and Doug Laidlaw had high three with 650.

High teams for the week were: Borderlines 3088, MRS. 2748 and Weavers 2443.

Hospital Auxiliary buys instruments for surgery

Membership was increased at the Summerland Hospital Auxiliary at a well attended meeting on Monday evening when several ladies joined the society.

Members voted $92 for the purchase of surgical instruments for the hospital.

A member of the secondary school's Future Nurses Club, Miss Dorothy Waterhouse attended the meeting and displayed the uniform worn by members of the club when they are working in the hospital.

Four baby spoons were presented last month by the Auxiliary.

Members were reminded of a spring clean up March 24 at the Thrift Shop.

Teen Topics

On Saturday at the Teen-Town dance held at the IOOF Hall about 100 attended. Music was well planned ranging from Shake by the late great Sam Cooke to Willow Weep for Me by Chad and Jeremy. It was a well planned dance which was enjoyed by all in attendance.

A Sweetheart Dance is planned at the Yacht Club. The three contestants for sweetheart are Daphne Lamb, Sheryl Stein and Betty McInnes. Music will be provided by the Chantells from Vernon with dress semi-formal. Admission $1 single and $1.50 per couple.

Show film on conservation at schools

The Canadian Forestry Association film and lecture tour will be visiting the schools in Summerland March 8 to 12. Students will hear Charles Gray, regional supervisor of the Association speak on forest conservation, and will see a film "Conservation in Action".

Subject of the film and lecture is forest conservation. According to the CFA more than 50 percent of every B.C. dollar comes from the forest. This means that conservation of B.C.'s largest renewable natural resources should be everyone's business.

Kiwani's Korner

Two members of the Penticton Kiwanis Club attended the regular Tuesday night meeting. They were Jim Heavenor and Evan Lougheed, chairman of the Kiwanis centennial committee.

The club is planning an ice fishing trip with members of the Key Club in the near future. Two members of the Key Club were also at the meeting to assist with the plans for the outing.

Members of the Key Club are busy planning to attend the convention in Anacortes, Washington in May. They hope to hold a bottle drive soon to raise funds for the trip.

The Drama Club of the secondary school will present 3 one act plays at the Okanagan Drama Festival to be held in Oliver March 17-19. Rehearsals for The Stolen Prince, Pinocchio and The Storm are keeping more than 20 members of the club very busy these days.

It is hoped that a local presentation will be held shortly after Easter.

The fire brigade answered a call at 3 p.m. Sunday afternoon to the home of Leroy Johnson, in Garnett Valley. The house, built by James Dunsdon Sr. in the early 1900's was a total loss, and no contents were saved. The loss is covered by insurance. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson were visiting in Vernon at the time of the fire.

Both fire engines were called Thursday afternoon to the Lloyd Uzick property in Trout Creek, where a grass fire was endangering a shed. The fire was brought under control before any serious damage resulted.

As the result of a fall on Saturday morning, Arnold Gayton is a patient in the Pentiction Hospital. Full extent of his injuries is not yet known.

James Dunsdon is a patient in Summerland hospital having sustained severe injury to his back. Mr. Dunsdon fell from a Girette while pruning his orchard.

Over 700 students at the Trout Creek and MacDonal Schools saw films and heard talks on forest conservation on Tuesday. The program was presented by C. Gray, regional supervisor of the Canadian Forestry Association.

The Pentiction-Summerland El Rancho Brons take to the ice for the last time this season in an exhibition game with the Vancouver Junior Champions on Saturday night at the Pentiction Memorial Arena. Game time 8 p.m.

The boys have had a very good season, and are already making plans for next winter. A banquet is being arranged at which the players will be presented with fawn and maroon club jackets.

Calendar for community activities

A calendar of community events highlighting all group activities during the tourist season will be compiled in the near future to be ready for the spring influx of visitors.

The idea was presented at Thursday's Chamber of Commerce meeting by D. H. Hill and met with the approval of all present.

Members felt that each service club, church and other organizations could be responsible for drafting up an outline of their summer activities and forwarding it to Alan Butler who will present the material to the executive.

It is hoped in this way to have a number of activities each week during the summer to give tourists something to do. With sailing club, riding groups, summer active yachting club and mer skating, baseball and tennis, the fall fair and countless other group activities, the Chamber feels this can have a worthwhile effect on tourist business.

Any organization now planning summer activities will be asked to finalize dates and itineraries as soon as possible, so work can start on the proposed calendar.

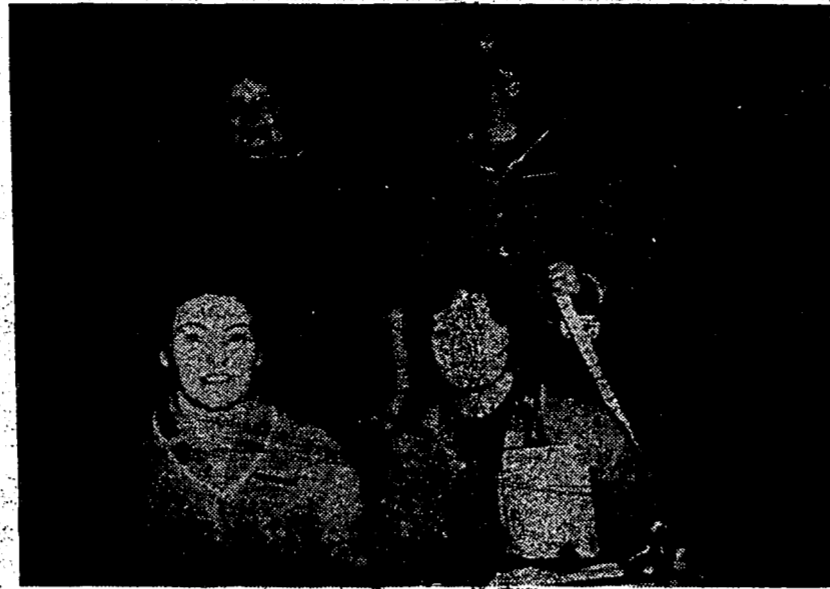

Services for Mrs. Alice Olson

Mrs. Alice Geneva Olson passed away on Saturday, March 6 in the Pentiction Hospital at the age of 51 years.

She is survived by her husband, Ivor in Summerland; three daughters, Mrs. Eileen Griffiths, Terrace; Mrs. Agnes Miller and Miss Barbara Lang, Prince George; three sons, William and Robert Lang of Terrace and Gilbert at home. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gust Anderson reside in Vernon and a sister, Mrs. Effie Gorseth in Summerland; six brothers, all in B.C. and 14 grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted from St. John's Lutheran Church, Summerland, on Wednesday, March 10 at 2:00 p.m.; Rev. F. Ulmer officiating. Interment in Peach Orchard Cemetery. Wright's Funeral Home entrusted with arrangements.

Miss Vicki McKee, who is attending Kinman University in Spokane, was a visitor last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry McKee. Accompanying her were Miss Sharon McPherson and Duane Kovar of Spokane.

Winners of A Event in the ladies' bonspiel held over the week end was this Pentiction rink of L. Tyler, skip; Dorothy Prince third, Eleanor Trumppour second and Irene Barton lead.

Winners of the Dr. W. H. B Munn trophy in B Event was the Ida Topping rink of Peachland.

Chamber making plans for tourist season

The Chamber of Commerce and the Fall Fair Committee are both in excellent financial condition to start the new year. The Chamber reports a bank balance of $227 and the fall fair group has $827 to start this year's activities. These figures were presented at last week's Chamber meeting by Howard Clark, treasurer of the Chamber, and Eric Tait, last year's fair chairman.

Mr. Tait reported that Dr. James Marshall has accepted the post of fair chairman this year. Mr. Tait said that the fair group is particularly happy to have Dr. Marshall to lead them this year. He said all service clubs will be asked to send representatives to the meetings. Mr. Tait will be the Chamber representative to the fair.

Chamber president T. S. Manning announced the following committee chairmen: programs, in charge of executive members; membership, Don Estabrooks; publicity and promotion, Charles Bernhardt; preparation of maps and signs for road sides, Alan Butler; traffic control, Bud Rusaw; industrial development and real estate, D. H. Hill, Walter M. Wright will again be in charge of the Chamber's picture post cards. Mrs. M. Lamb and Miss Dorothy Britton will be in charge of the phoning committee.

A number of good ideas came from the floor during the course of the meeting, mostly regarding the upcoming tourist season. The president reported that letters seeking brochures and information on Summerland's holiday accommodations were already coming in. Alan Butler suggested that the Chamber seek out a service club to sponsor a scenic drive in the Summerland area. He pointed out there are countless possibilities for such a drive, which as well as showing mountains and lakes, could take in some of the more attractive homes and gardens. Such a drive would need to be routed and signs put up.

Charles Bernhardt suggested that the Colorado Recreation concern who had recently cancelled out a projected 25 million dollar development in the Fernie area, should be contacted with the possibility of interesting them in a similar development here.

Following a suggestion by Mr. Wright, the group will again write to the minister of highways on the progress of the Pentiction by pass.

G. C. Johnston showed slides taken during a trip, to Eastern Canada and the United States last summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hornby, who have been managing the Powell Beach Motel have returned to the coast.

Family court plan endorsed

A family court, under a family court judge, has been suggested for this electoral district, which takes in the area from Summerland to Vernon.

At a Kelowna meeting last week attended by Councillor W. B. Powell and municipal clerk G. D. Smith, a committee was set up under Mayor Elwood Rice of Vernon to head an investigation of the family court.

A per capita cost basis was decided as the best basis for computing costs. The municipality would be expected to provide office accommodation and equipment, furnitures and supplies and a stenographer.

Estimated cost for the services of Magistrate D. S. Denroche, who would preside over the travelling court is $12,000 to be shared by the provincial government. Summerland's share of the cost on a per capita basis would be approximately $900.

The provincial government will pay up to 32 percent of the cost.

Councillor Powell noted that one of the chief features of this type of court is its preventative aspect.

Members of council throughout this province have a unique invitation to visit similar municipalities and large cities in Quebec in May. Reeve Norman Holmes and Mrs. Holmes will represent Summerland, with about 200 other B.C. council members who will fly east for the three day visit. The invitation was extended following a similar trip west by a number of Quebec municipal officials last year. Part of the expenses of the trip will be covered by the federal centennial fund and possibly a donation from the provincial government.

Summerland centennial committee chairman Dr. James Marshall and three committee members, C. Bleasdale, B. Stent and H. Pruden met with council on Tuesday night to discuss a project for Summerland's observance of Canada's centenary in 1967.

The centennial group has worked since early last year sifting out the suggested projects, and last month presented a brief to council naming what they considered the three top projects.

Before starting the discussion Reeve Norman Holmes paid tribute to the committee for the fine job they have done, not only in preparing the brief, but

Services Tuesday for Mrs. Arnold

Mrs. Sarah Eliza Arnold passed away on Sunday, March 7 at the age of 84 years. She had been a resident of Summerland for the past 18 years.

She is survived by two sons, Adrian of Summerland and Elmer of Vancouver; three grandchildren and five great grandchildren. She was predeceased by her husband in 1961 and one son, Laverne in 1917.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday, March 9 from Wright's Funeral Home at 2 p.m. with Mr. Ervin Felker conducting the service. Interment in Webster Cemetery, Rockanville, Saskatchewan.

Wright's Funeral Home entrusted with arrangements.

Kootenay vote forward step for regional colleges

The recent affirmative vote for a regional college in the West Kootenay again indicates the need for such colleges in British Columbia. Okanagan Regional College Committee chairman Frank Venables said in a statement this week.

West Kootenay voters in six school districts approved by 72 percent a capital expenditure of $2,000,000 for the construction of a regional college to be located at Castlegar, and to serve the districts of Trail, Nelson, Rossland, Grand Forks, and the Slocan and Arrow Lakes communities.

Mr. Venables termed the West Kootenay vote a great step forward for the West Kootenay area the benefits of which will be felt for many years to come.

Stressing the need for a similar institution in the Okanagan, he emphasized that there is presently a "big gap" in educational facilities between the high school and university levels, a gap which could be filled only by regional colleges offering terminal vocational and technical courses, and university level 2-year academic courses. A regional college, he added, will also enable a greater number of Okanagan students to eventually attend university, and at the same time relieve overcrowding in B.C. universities by offering the first two years of academic courses.

"West Kootenay voters have by a substantial majority agreed to the need for such a college in their area," Mr. Venables concluded, and my only hope now is that the people of the Okanagan Valley will show the same consideration for essential facilities when the opportunity affords itself here."

The ten school boards in the Okanagan have retained Prof. F. T. Giles to recommend a site for the college, and his report will be made public March 18. The school boards have also agreed to a plebiscite based on his recommendations, the tentative date for which has been set for April 10.

Police Court

Appearing in police court before Magistrate Reid A. Johnston, Harry Davies of Summerland was found guilty of being intoxicated in a public place. He was fined $15 and costs, or in default, 15 days. He was allowed time to pay the fine.

Lambert Charles Gartner was found guilty of being a minor in possession of liquor. He was checked by the police on Saturday night at a Teen Town dance. He paid a fine of $50 as liquor was found in his car.

In attempting to avoid three deer on Highway 97 six miles north of Summerland, Andrew Kalemback rolled his small car 100 feet over the east side of the highway. Damage to the car amounted to $900. Mr. Kalemback was using a seat belt and escaped uninjured.

On March 7, a car driven by Dawson Philip Ritchie of Pentiction went out of control on Highway 97, nine miles north of Pentiction and rolled in a ditch. Mr. Ritchie was attempting to pass a slower moving vehicle, but due to oncoming traffic was forced off the road. Damage to the car was $500. There were no injuries and no charges were laid.

Underdeveloped nations in need of education help

As part of an Education Week program, the Summerland School Teachers' Association and the School Board jointly sponsored a public meeting on Wednesday evening. Guest speaker was John A. Young, principal of the South Similkameen High School, who spoke on Education in Sarawak.

The speaker was well versed in his subject, as he spent three years in Borneo under the Colombo Plan, as Group Headmaster in Sarawak. He was the first teacher to go to that country under the Colombo Plan.

In his talk he stressed the necessity of education on a world wide basis, with the more fortunate countries giving all aid possible to the underprivileged nations.

hundred million people of whom two thirds are illiterate, and in many countries illiteracy reaches one hundred percent. When he arrived in Sarawak he found the educational facilities were very primitive, the schools being only mud huts, and the teachers having no better than a grade 5 or 6 education. Under his instructions, schools of frame construction were built and equipped with text books, blackboards and other teaching aids. He found the natives very co-operative and eager to receive an education.

Borneo is a very primitive country with few roads, only two airports and almost no natural resources to raise the standard of living. There were only two doctors in Sarawak, so Mr.

Young spent some time in the capital obtaining information on the treatment of the diseases he might encounter in the jungle, as in addition to his teaching duties he also had to render medical aid to the natives. His talk was interspersed with many humorous incidents, but he never lost sight of the fact that a very serious situation exists in that country and it is up to the western world to give all possible aid to better the lives of the more unfortunates.

At the conclusion of his talk he showed a series of slides of the country and people of Sarawak, and he also had a display of native artifacts.

Refreshments were served by members of the Future Teachers Club of the secondary school.

Let's not panic over education

Knocking education is like knocking virtue or motherhood.

The present acceleration in education is wonderful to behold and we're all for it. But we are not so keen on some of the panic and pressure that is occurring as a sort of "educational fallout".

We have seen little or no direct evidence of this in our own school district but there is a growing tendency among educators to create a dread of the future for any person not equipped with a "computer-type" mind.

J. Bascomb St. John, writer of the daily column, the World of Learning, in the Toronto Globe and Mail, noted that some teachers were worrying children to death about their future. He said, and we agree with him, that it is ridiculous to subject children to undue pressures at a time when they are going through the natural growth pressures and pain of youth itself.

Mr. St. John's opinions are so well thought of in educational circles he's recently been appointed to the newly-formed policy and development council of the Ontario department of education.

He had long argued that teaching is a two way process: that the teacher must first learn something about the person with whom he is trying to communicate before any real education can take place.

We are out of sympathy with those zealous educators who would place children in school at the age of three, eliminate summer holidays, lengthen the school day — and shorten childhood.

Let's not panic about education.

It comes from the Latin stem "educio" — meaning: "I lead out".

We feel this should mean a leading out into a fuller, richer more interesting life — not the programming of a person to become a semi-automatic pedant.

And since much of the nature of thought, subjective experience and life itself is a mystery, we must retain a little respect for the private world and private development of the individual.

On the whole, the members of the educational profession seem to be doing a tremendously effective job. We hope they continue to do so — while placing the pupil, as a complete person, at the centre of their program.

Bread and King

by Rev. P. K. Louie

People talk most about their health when they are sick, and most about freedom when they are in danger of losing it. Despite all the pleas for freedom, it must be remembered that every flight from responsibility is a flight from freedom; and every denial of personal guilt is also a denial of freedom. Cabbages cannot do wrong, though they have heads; typewriters cannot commit sins, though they do "write". Perhaps it is the very burden of responsibility which flows from free choice that makes so many ready to surrender their great gift of freedom. This also explains the search for someone to whom they can commit their choice, who will do their thinking for them and relieve them of the awful burden of the consequences of their free decisions.

Two Russian writers of the 19th century foretold that this state of affairs would come to pass in the 20th century; one of them predicted that the leaders to whom free minds would surrender themselves would come from Russia. Soloviev said the leader who would captivate souls in our generation would be the author of a book on "Peace and Security for the World". Milliams would submit to him as supreme authority in the political and economic sphere for no other reason that because he promised bread. Dostoevski also foretold that Russia and the world would fall to the "temptation of bread and power".

One cannot help but contrast this search for a dictator or an economic king with our Saviour, Christ when He fed the bread to the multitudes in the desert. Having fed the hungry masses, they "sought to make Him King". It is always human weakness, when man loses his love of the spiritual, to worship those who promise full stomachs or economic power. They wish to make Christ king in opposition to all the kings of the earth; instead of surrendering themselves to Him and His sublime teaching concerning sin and redemption, they wished to have Him submit to themselves. They did not want to be drawn up to Him, but to draw Him down to them. They sought Him not for a higher part of their being, but for their stomachs; not for His morality, but for their economics; not for His saving-grace, but because of the inertia in their own souls.

When loaves are more valued than the Divine Power which multiplied them; when streams are more admired than the fountains that produced them; when nature is loved more than the God who created it, mankind will accept any kind of a king who promises bread and plenty. Nor let it be forgotten that He who promised the spiritual did not deny bread to the poor. This is the real problem: the whole world is dying of hunger — the Eastern world is dying of hunger of body; the Western world, is dying of hunger of soul. The first will be fed, but not by those who hate freedom when they give them flour; the Western world will be saved by feeding the East while recognizing their own hunger of the Spirit and by seeking again the Saviour who alone can give "The Bread of Life".

Report from Parliament Hill

by David Pugh, MP

A great many things have come before Parliament during the last week. The most important piece of continuing legislation before us is the Pension Plan. Everything seems to be moving along extremely well, and we now have a very few sections left to consider before the final vote on the Plan as a whole. The method of handling the matter has been to go over each section, to examine it and to bring forward amendments which are either accepted, or rejected, by the House. There are 125 sections, and we are now on 114, but many have been left open for a second look. You must remember that a committee studied this, having before it experts from across Canada, to a total of 51 meetings.

The Plan has run into heavy opposition; there is a feeling that it doesn't fulfill its object. The government was startled when one of its senior civil servants in the Actuarial Branch, made public his thoughts on the shortcomings of the Plan. That he was prepared to lose his job over the matter shows the depth of his feeling.

Normal business has been disrupted by current outside events: the first was the rise in steel prices, and the NDP along with Conservatives, sought to have normal business stalled until a full debate could be taken on the increase and its effects on our economy. This was voted down. Then, the Rivard escape saw a full day's debate on the inadequacies in the administration of justice. The point behind the whole matter was not just the escape but the fact that Rivard was the top man in a gigantic smuggling ring. He was still fighting extradition proceedings after his arrest in Canada. The U.S. authorities wanted him badly, and his custody should have been safeguarded to the utmost. This is the same Rivard who has been figuring in the bribery scandals presently before the Dorion Commission.

Some Spring Fancies

We all know what a young man's fancy is supposed to lightly turn to in spring. But when you get right down to it, young men are vastly uninteresting, except to themselves, recruiting officers, and, of course, young women.

So we will ignore the fancy of young men this spring, especially since it's lightly turned to the same sort of thoughts in the other three seasons too. Let's examine the fancies of some of the more interesting age groups.

Sole aim of very small males, in the spring, seems to be mud. They love mud. It has the same fascination for them that it has for small pigs. They like to walk in it, kneel in it, roll in it, push small girls down in it, and bring as much as possible of it home with them.

Slightly older boys have a fancy in the spring for anything that is dangerous, foolish or irritating. On the first day the temperature is above 40 they want to go hatless and barefoot. They build rafts that sink. They dig caves in the sides of crumbly sandpits. They cross swollen streams on the slippery trunks of fallen trees. They walk on railway tracks.

The mature, or married, man is stunned by spring. A few weeks ago, his home was quite attractive, with that nice white snow covering everything. Now it's nothing but a big, fat eyesore. Paint peeling, eaves-troughs dangling, cellar window broken and a potato sack stuffed in it. Storm window for the southeast side of the kitchen still leaning against the house, where he left it last fall. Front lawn littered with kiddy car, grapefruit rinds dropped while hustling into wine bottles contributed by passersby, the rake, a pile of dead leaves; and the whole torn into trenches worthy of Flanders' fields by the visits of the coal truck.

He does the only sensible thing, in the circumstances. He sits down with pencil and paper and lays out a plan of cleaning up, painting, and general improvements. He reads it triumphantly to his wife. He's so sincere she's really impressed. She's proud of him. A new leaf. First job he'll tackle is the front lawn. Then the cellar.

Half an hour later, she discovers the new leaf is just the other side of the same one he turned over last year. She catches him cleaning up the front lawn by chipping grapefruit skins into the coal-truck craters with a golf club. They have words. She dons her boots and rakes the lawn, sending him to the cellar.

When he doesn't show up for supper, she figures he's really bucking down to it, and goes down cellar to call him. And there he is, crouched on the remnants of the coal-pile, with his fishing rod, practising his fly-casting into the large pool between the vegetable-bin and the furnace.

What about the oldster, the codger? What kind of a fancy does he have, come spring? After dicing with death through a long, cruel winter, when his old side-kicks were appearing with monotonous regularity on the obituary page, I imagine he's pretty pleased with himself. In fact, I know he is. I was talking to one the other day. As he sunned himself in front of the post office, he told me:

"Didn't think I'd make it, back there in January. Flat on my back and gettin' worse every day. The old lady practically had the insurance collected and off to Florida for the rest of the winter. "But," with an evil chuckle, "she got fooled. She caught the cold and I buried her the end of February. Have snort now whenever I feel like it. See, son, when do them tourists start to arrive? I'm goin' to spend the whole summer watchin' them girls in their shorts. I figure it won't do them any harm and should do me a lot of good."

Leadership of high value in Guiding Movement

Guide captain Miss Enid Maynard is kept busy with her 36 Girl Guides in the Summerland Guide Company. She is assisted by her lieutenants, Mrs. George Taylor and Mrs. Richard Head.

have given instruction to the Guides.

Bud Green of the provincial recreation and conservation department spoke on the value of fish ladders, beaver dams and the trout hatchery.

Jane Miltimore received her Little House emblem, an award which is given only after a Guide has obtained proficiency badges in five other phases of home service.

Pat Ryman earned her Woodlore emblem. To a non-Guider it is truly amazing to discover the variety and extent of the knowledge and skills which a Girl Guide may acquire.

Of course, her leaders plan her program and teach and guide her in acquiring many of the basic skills. Then, people from various occupations are always willing to lend assistance as instructors and testers. Guides and parents of Guides owe a great deal to the usefulness of these individuals.

Yet, after a Guide has received help and instruction she must use her own initiative and effort in carrying a project to completion and in passing a test. When she has been successful and has earned a proficiency badge, she has just cause to wear it proudly. But Guiding is not all work and skills. It's fun and friends, and learning to play and work with consideration for others. Such things are fundamental to good citizenship.

DEAR DORIS advice from Doris Clark

Try Gentle Wooing

DEAR DORIS —My wife and I are in our forties.

We have difficulties. It is I who has to do all the persuading. I was told by a clergyman the type of relationship where one must always play up to the other never was any good.

I don't expect someone to lavish me, but when you're hungry you'd give almost anything for the other half to show some affection.

Lonely Bill

DEAR BILL —Indeed you would. But is your own approach gentle enough? Most women like to be wooed.

Since her remoteness is of long standing, I'd suggest you talk to your wife's doctor about this. And I am sending a list of books on sex which come well recommended.

This is too important to be ignored, even at this late date in your marriage.

DEAR DORIS —I was born an orphan 19 years ago as my mother was only 13 and couldn't look after me. I lived with a family who never adopted me.

Things got bad when the lady died and I looked for my mother through the agency and found her. She is still unmarried.

My schooling ended in grade nine. I worked as Nurse's aide and now I'm working as a domestic. It is my 80-year-old employers who asked me to write to Doris for guidance. I want to make good on my own.

I would like to be a singer. I've done a lot of singing for weddings, radio, church services. How could I get started?

Orphan

DEAR ORPHAN —I'd say you are already started. A girl with your drive is likely to get somewhere. At the same time, a singer needs an education. And only the singers who reach the top support themselves with their voices.

Aim to improve your education, even if this means working while you study (at nights or by correspondence). Then choose a remunerative career that will use your other abilities. (Nursing? Stenography?)

Once you are really self-supporting, find the best teacher you can to develop your voice. Rome wasn't built in a day. Good luck!

DEAR DORIS —I am light-housekeeping in the same house as another girl attending college. She is a bit of a flirt. When my boy friend calls for me she always manages to be in my room.

We share one telephone and it is in her room. She always answers it, even if I'm expecting a call. If it's my B.F. she talks for a few minutes and this burns me up.

Seeing Red.

DEAR SEEING —The color is green, Dearie. But I can't say I blame you.

Is it time you had your own phone? Tell her you are thinking of this. If she can't face the expense, this might be enough to move her to letting you answer your own phone calls. Or to having the phone moved to your room for awhile.

DEAR DORIS —Thank you for the information you sent me. As a result I purchased a "sandpaper ball" for my moustache. It worked wonderfully.

But when I rub my upper lip it irritates it and forms red areas. Could you suggest a cream I could use to clear it of the raw look?

Mary Ann

DEAR MARY ANN —Perhaps a depilatory would be less chafing than the so-called "velvet mitt" when you are using it on the sensitive skin of your face.

I am sending you the leaflet "Removing Unwanted Hair" which discusses several methods, and recommends a soothing cream for use after. (Available to others for ten cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope).

The beautifully decorated Yacht Club was the scene of the Sweetheart Dance on Saturday. Over 150 enjoyed the music propided by the Chattells from Vernon. The dance started at 9 and ended at 12.

The big moment of the dance was at 11 p.m. when Breen Bergstrom, last year's queen, crowned Daphne Lamb as this year's queen. Daphne won over two others, Sheryl Stein and Betty McInnes for the honor.

The Chattells from Vernon are a promising group of five young men, Gary Moore on rhythm guitar, Bob Stein and base guitar, Willie Yarmey on lead guitar, Dennis Brown on the drums and Laurence Hystad on the organ. They are ready to get a recording contract now and I understand they will make their first recording shortly. Bob Adshead, manager of the group, complimented those at the dance for making the Chattells feel so welcome and for being so friendly.

The Saturday dance will not be held this week due to the Nota-Sota Teens Association Conference to be held Friday to Sunday at Pentiction. Twelve delegates will be attending.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Laidlaw have returned home from a three week tour of Arizona and other southern states.

Varied menu for sportsman's banquet

Over 150 attended the Rod and Gun Club's annual game banquet last Friday in the Rosedale Room of the Royal Canadian Legion.
On the menu were such delicacies as moose, bear, deer, cougar, porcupine, mountain sheep and trout.
Master of ceremonies was the club president, Harold Richardson.

Alf Kohlhauser showed slides of areas around Summerland.
Wes Funnell and his three-piece orchestra from Peachland played for dancing until 1.30 p.m. and a late smorgasbord lunch was served.
Ladies of the Legion Auxiliary catered for the banquet.

Summerland Rifle Club outshoots Penticton guests

The first inter-club shoot of the season was held at the indoor range last Thursday evening, when the Summerland Sporting Rifle Club hosted 24 members of the Penticton Rifle Association.

Men's high aggregate score was shot by Harold Richardson with 297 out of a possible 300. He was followed closely by Jim Leeson of Penticton with 296. Del Dore of Penticton shot 292 for ladies' high score, Louise Atkinson placing second with 290.

Matches were shot from the prone, sitting and standing positions. In the very difficult standing position, Harold Richardson shot a perfect 100x100 score.

Following the shoot, a presentation of a diary and a decorated cake was made to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bertram who are leaving on Friday for a three month tour of Europe.

STAR OF THE WEEK

Twenty-three year old Bobby Goldsboro was born in Maryanna, Florida and attended school there to the ninth grade, when the family moved to Dothan, Alabama. Bobby completed two years of study at the University of Auburn before succumbing to his first love, music. After a brief period of free lance work, he joined Roy Orbison as a guitarist and at the present time is still working with Roy and his popular group. His first record, See the Funny Little Clown, was a big hit but has had fame ever since until now. His latest record, Little Things, is a smash and has jumped from No. 22 last week to No. 9 this week.

for the excellent attitude they have created toward a centennial celebration.
Much of the discussion centered around the Giants Head proposal. This project ranked number one with the centennial committee and had created a great deal of interest in the community.

In talking of the project, Dr. Marshall said before the committee had taken a trip up the mountain and saw the project first hand they had been very sceptical, but once on the site the committee was almost unanimous on the idea. He suggested council as a body should go over the site. He said the road would not be graded over 15 percent and there would be three switchbacks. The plan is to stop the road about 600 feet from the top in an area which is adequate for parking and a picnic site.

Mr. Bleasdale said that of all the projects submitted, this one fills the bill as far as the type of permanent project the federal government is suggesting.

Council said they would ask a provincial department of highways engineer to look over the site and see if the road is practical.

Kiwanis Korner

At our regular Tuesday night meeting we were shown the Kiwanis film, No Man Stands Alone, produced for our anniversary year.

A Key Club representative was present and informed us that they will be holding a bottle drive Saturday to raise funds for their trip to the convention. Final arrangements were made for the ice fishing trip to Headwaters next Sunday.

COMING EVENTS

The annual meeting of the Central Okanagan Honey Producers Association will be held in Summerland on Thursday, March 18 at 8 p.m. in the Village Inn Annex. Everybody welcome. Order your bees now.

The Key Club and School Band will hold a bottle drive on March 20.

Basketball at Osoyoos

McNicol school won the basketball tournament held last week at Osoyoos. The Summerland grade 8's finished second. The locals won their first game 19-16 over Oliver as they overtook a 9-8 halftime deficit. Ron Taylor led the attack with 8 points. Art Bolton had 6, Bruce Karlstrom and Bucky Barkwill each had 2, and Ken Roberge 1. They, however, lost the oig game to McNicol Park. They were outthusted and had the score doubled on them by a count of 32-16. McNicol Park took a 17-4 halftime lead and contained the locals for the first quarters and hung on as Summerland exploded in the final quarter outscoring the winners 10-3 but it wasn't enough to win. Art Bolton was top gun as he connected for 6 points. Ron Taylor had 5, Bud Senger and Phil McMechan 2 each and David Stewart 1. Osoyoos Bonspiel

The Greg Pruden rink won the A Event at the bonspiel held in Osoyoos over the week end. They swept the five games they played to win the 'spiel. They won the first game 11-0 in five ends but found the position harder from then on. They beat Greenwood for the trophy, leading by seven points coming home. Rink members were Greg Pruden skip, Nancy Fudge third, Jerry Goddard second and Sharon McIntosh lead.

LOCAL BONSPIEL UNDERWAY

A reminder that the school bonspiel started this week. Nine teams are playing on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday in the two events. Parents and spectators are welcome.

SPORTS

Penticton rinks take top prizes in ladies' bonspiel

The 13th annual Summerland ladies open bonspiel was held over the week end with 28 rinks competing.

In A Event, the top three places were won by Penticton rinks skipped by L. Tyler, S. Laub and L. Kay. The A. McDonald rink of Peachland took fourth prize.

The Dr. W. H. B. Munn trophy in B Event was won by the Ida Topping rink of Peachland; D. Flintoff, also of Peachland finished second; A. Barzal of the International Curling Club at Osoyoos was third, and Norma In C Event, the Summerland Lichtenwald of Summerland 4th. Hardware trophy went to Flo McInnes of Summerland. Gladys Smith and Mary Carter, both of Summerland, placed second and third, with the Wheeler rink of Osoyoos fourth.

The Fairburn rink from Penticton took the Ladies' Club trophy in D Event with the Topham rink of Peachland in second place. The Ellis rink of Penticton finished in third place and H. Eden's rink of Summerland won fourth place.

The bonspiel opened with a coffee party on Friday morning with a banquet being held in the IOOF Hall Saturday evening.

CURLING NOTES

In curling activities during the past week, local rinks have taken their share of honors. The Brian Eden rink captured the A event in the Grand Forks bonspiel when they defeated the Acres rink. It is a note of interest that the played on both rinks were all under 21 years of age. Members of the winning rink were Brian Eden skip, Jim Sheeley third, Russ Bleasdale second and Dick Dunsdon lead.

Three rinks attended the Greenwood bonspiel with the Furuya rink placing third in C Event.

In the Penticton bonspiel last week the J. Hallquist rink won fourth place in A Event. The four other Summerland rinks failed to place in the finals.

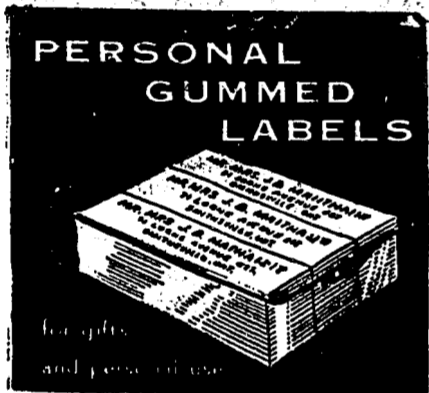

BOWLING RESULTS

In the Mixed League bowling, the Accidentals and Keglers still occupy top places in A and C divisions and the EAC's have taken over the lead in B section.

Ladies' high single in A division was bowled by Beryl Flebbe with 283, Mildred Stein and Beryl Flebbe tied for high three with 633. Men's high single and high three went to Don Clark with 320 and 754. High team, Occidentals 3034.

In B division, Joan Cousins scored 219 for high single and Nona Bareson rolled 542 for high three total. Barney Furuya's 260 was high single, and Doug Rumball had a high three total of 656. High team, Bud's Garage 2651.

High single games and high three totals in C division went to Doreen Moore and Hugo Harks. Doreen scored 287 and 608, Hugo rolled 316 and 787. High team, Have Knots, 2646.

At 9:45 Wednesday morning, the fire brigade answered a call to the home of Wally Harrison, Hospital Hill, where they found that the furnace fan had burned out. No damage was done to the dwelling.

Rev. George Leasor will be showing the film, "The Professor and the Prophet" in the Free Methodist Church on Friday, March 19 at 7:30. Rev. Leasor was the former pastor in Summerland and is now pastor of the Free Methodist Church in Moose Jaw, Sask. He will also be bringing information on the latest developments of the Aldersgate College located at Moose Jaw.

Bright, sunny weather continued during the past week with no precipitation and 66.4 hours of sunshine reported by the research station.

Although the weather is sunny the nights continue very cool, and the following verse which appeared in the Review in January, 1916 is very appropriate: These frigid days that freeze our spuds, And run all our peach tree buds. And nip us through our warmest duds And make us blather. That form ice in our water mains, And paralyze our septic drains. Take these, and give us back again Our Okanagan weather.

On Wednesday, March 10 at the Youth Centre, the Tweenies of the First Summerland Brownie Pack were enrolled as Brownies.

The new Brownies are Janet Jenner, Brenda McAdam, Laurie Moore, Shari Hollis and Shelley Smith. Mauréen Morphy, who was ill, will be enrolled at the next meeting.

The girls were greeted by district commissioner Mrs W. A. Laidlaw who enrolled them in the traditional Brownie ceremony.

As invited guests, mothers attended the meeting and following the enrolment tea and toast were served by Joy Barkwill and Jean Peeters, as practice for their Golden Hand tests.

Additions planned for schools

The Summerland School Board is planning a fairly extensive building program in the school system this year.

As a direct result of the recommendations in the Chant report on education, and need for expanding facilities in higher commercial, vocational and community service training (home economics) an addition is planned for the secondary school.

Many of the students in the school, according to principal John Tamblin, whose aptitudes are toward the vocational fields, will not be able to graduate from grade 12 unless these separate departments are added. He went on to say that the academic program is getting much tougher, but with the proposed expansion the vocational or general program students will be able to get a full grade twelve standing by taking more vocational subjects.

The proposed building plan for the secondary school will add two shop areas at the north-west corner of the present school to house a division for power mechanics and an electrical department. The home community service (formerly called home economics) will be built above the west wing. The school now has a small department but the new proposal will allow a much larger number of courses in home services.

At present the estimated cost of the program is not available. A Penticton firm is handling the details and will present its estimates to the school board in the near future. A money by-law will probably be presented to the ratepayers later this year.

As soon as school is out this summer, work will start on an addition to the Trout Creek elementary school. The estimated cost of $50,000 will come out of an unexpended portion of a former school construction bylaw. Another classroom and an activity room will be added.

Services Tuesday for Arthur Crook

Arthur Henry Crook passed away in Summerland on March 13 at the age of 74 years.

Born in London, England, he had been a resident here for the past 7 1/2 years.

He is survived by his wife, Sahra; 2 sons, Jack and Edward, both of Burnaby; three daughters, Mrs. Audrey Mitchell and Mrs. June Eyres, both of Burnaby; Mrs. Betty Kidson, Deep River, Ontario; one step-son, Allan Scott, Port Coquitlam; one step-daughter, Mrs. Freda Bishop, New Westminster; 19 grandchildren; one brother, George, Brooklyn, New York; and one sister, Mrs. Jenny Tompkins of Bridgeville, Pennsylvania.

Funeral services were conducted from Summerland United Church on Tuesday, March 16 at 2:30 p.m. with Rev. P. K. Louie officiating. Interment in Peach Orchard Cemetery.

Wright's Funeral Home entrusted with arrangements.

Accident sends two to hospital

Two motor vehicle accidents were reported to the local RCMP during the past week. In the first one, on March 12, a car driven by Bertha McKinnon of Peachland was damaged to the extent of $300 when it ran off Lipssett Avenue in Peachland. Mrs. McKinnon had taken her eyes momentarily off the road to attend to a youngster in the front seat. They were taken to the Kelowna hospital where they were treated for minor injuries. There were no charges.

In the second accident which occurred on March 13, 8 miles north of Summerland, Terry Wilson of Naramata was proceeding south on Highway 97 when the right rear tire of his car blew out, causing the car to leave the road and strike a bank on the east side of the highway. Damages amounted to $1900. There were no injuries and no charges were laid.

Mrs. Kenneth Hicks, the former Miss Wendy Wright, left Vancouver by plane on Friday to join her husband in Sidney, Australia, where they will make their home.

DAVID PUGH

federal member for Okanagan-Boundary, will address the annual meeting of the Okanagan-Boundary Conservative Association this Saturday. The group will meet in the IOOF Hall in Summerland at 8:30 p.m.

WINTER WINNERS

Winners of the winter bridge series were: Ray Stewart, W. Hepperle, J. Dunn, Mrs. Dot Stewart, Mrs. S. Lyons and W. Evans.

Details given on dole valves

The operation and regulation of dole valves for the irrigation system were explained to the three Summerland packinghouse managers at Tuesday night's council meeting. Present were Clare Elsey of the Occidental, Chuck Bleasdale of B.C. Shippers, and Walter Toevs of the Summerland Co-op.

Councillor W. B. Powell outlined the reasons for this new by-law regulating the distribution and use of irrigation water.

Use of the valves will help provide equal pressure for all growers on the irrigation system.

The valves cost $2.10 each and will be distributed through the packinghouses to the growers. Three valves per acre will be used, each valve producing two gallons of water per minute, of a poor crop for some growers.

Because of the possibilities this year, council has indicated it will not enforce the installation of the valves this year, but will enforce the amount of water used at six gallons per minute per acre.

Rates at the municipal senior citizen's home, Parkdale Place, may have to be raised. Increased costs due to rising wage rates may bring an increase from $85 per month to $95.

Electric light applications were approved for Victor Parker for light, range, water heater and space heat for his new golf clubhouse. An electrical application by E. G. Mayert was also approved.

Domestic water applications were approved for Cece Wade and M. Clark.

A copy of a letter from the superintendent of lands to Wilf Smith regarding his application for a foreshore lease, said that the provincial government is willing to lease 4.8 acres at a rate of $280 per year for two years, providing a proper survey is made within six months. Mr. Smith intends to use the land near Crescent Beach for a tent and trailer court.

Police Court

Appearing before Magistrate Reid A. Johnston in the Summerland police court, Michael James Brown of Kamloops paid a voluntary penalty of $25 and costs when charged with speeding on Rosedale Avenue.

August Mayert appeared on March 15, and paid a voluntary penalty of $40 and costs for speeding in the 50 mph an hour zone between Trout Creek and the Summerland Hill on March 12.

A Penticton juvenile was fined $25 and had his driver's licence suspended indefinitely for operating a motor vehicle without insurance.

A female Summerland juvenile appeared in juvenile court before James Hack and admitted to being intoxicated in a public place. The case was adjourned to April 15 for disposition.

In connection with the case involving the female juvenile, John Rauman of Penticton was found guilty of juvenile delinquency. He had supplied the juvenile with liquor so was assessed a fine of $250. He was given time to pay the fine.

Services for motel operator

Leonard William McNabb passed away in Vancouver General Hospital on March 11 in his 58th year. He was born in Saskatchewan, Sask. April 15, 1906.

He came to B.C. in 1948, moving to Summerland in 1955 where he operated the OK Village Motel.

Surviving are his wife Ruth in Summerland; two sons, Donald Herbert with the RCAF at La Macaza, Quebec, and James Conrad in Vancouver; one daughter, Mrs. Thomas (Leona Marie) Campbell, North Surrey; 4 grandchildren; one brother Kenneth in Nelson; one sister Anna (Mrs. Les Palmer) Saskatoon.

Funeral services were held in the Summerland United Church, Monday, March 15, at 2:30 p.m. with Rev. P. K. Louie officiating. Interment in Peach Orchard Cemetery.

Roselawn Funeral Home entrusted with arrangements, Richards and Williams directors.

THEME FOR NATIONAL HEALTH WEEK

Here's to your Health

Here's to Your Health, is the theme of National Health Week, March 14 to 21. Efforts will be made to promote the concept that good health is essentially the responsibility of the individual and his family.

The 36th annual report of the South Okanagan Union Board of Health has recently been published and contains a great deal of interest in the public health field.

A man well known for his work in the public health field and education, Frank Venables of Oliver, is given special recognition. Mr. Venables has been the health representative of the South Okanagan Union Board of Health from 1947 to 1964. He has been on the school board in that area for the past 43 years. Summerland representative is Councillor W. S. Ritchie.

The South Okanagan Union Board of Health is made up of 15 representatives from the six districts comprising the geographical health unit. There are nine representatives from municipalities and six trustees from the school districts served. The board meets four times a year to study public health matters.

In Summerland the public health unit is under the supervision of Mrs. H. Geddes, RN, RPN, with Mrs. S. Evans, RN, BScN, S. Husch, CSI and Mrs. M. Klefer on the staff.

The Okanagan Mental Health Centre in Kelowna serves the whole area. Presently there are two psychiatrists and a psychiatric social worker on the staff.

Last year's cost of the health unit services, according to the report of the medical director, Dr. D. A. Clarke, was $223,509, which represents an investment of $3.75 per person served. This is broken down into the following contributions: local 30c, federal 50c and provincial $2.64.

Some of the highlights of the year according to the medical director, were the appointment of two psychiatrists, a provincial dental hygienist, a speech therapist and two town planners for the central and south Okanagan areas.

The poison control centre at the Kelowna hospital has treated 111 patients in the last five years, according to Dr. Clarke, with only one fatality. Two year olds are the main offenders, with that group totalling 40 percent of all cases. Aspirin was responsible for 28.9 percent of all cases.

Motor accidents took a big toll in this unit in 1964. Dr. Clarke's report shows a total of 1,191 accidents with 438 injuries, 19 deaths and property damage of $619,700. This was an accident increase of 23.8 percent, however injuries were down 12.4 percent. Over the past three years 44 people have met their death in vehicle accidents in this Unit with a total property damage of $1,750,000. Total deaths for the province during the past three years was 1,107 with property damage of 36.6 million dollars.

In the communicable disease control service, Dr. Clarke reported six new active cases of TB diagnosed, with seven admissions to the sanatoria. 183 cancer notifications were made, with a total of 96 deaths, 15 from cancer of the lung.

Total school enrollment in this health unit in the past year was 16,986 pupils, a gain of 1,005 over 1963. There was a total of 53 retarded pupils.

Under the vital statistics section of the report, there were 68 births recorded in Summerland with no infant deaths or still-births. Total births in the health unit for 1964 were 1,225. Sixty-six illegitimate births were recorded, a 13.8 percent increase over 1963.

Heart disease was the leading cause of death with 229 recorded in 1964. Cancer is the second leading cause, with 98 deaths.

Miss Dorothy Deakin, a speech therapist from London, established the first permanent speech therapy clinic in the Unit last year. The work is partially sponsored by the Kinsmen Clubs of B.C. By the end of December she was treating a weekly caseload of 50 patients, as well as seeing other patients on a less frequent basis. Speech and language disorders presently comprise the bulk of the cases which include articulation defects, stammer, aphasia, hard of hearing and delayed language development, as well as voice disorders and cases where part of the larynx or tongue has been removed by surgery.

Artist Crawford's work on display

Sketches, delicate ink and wash-water-colors by Bruce W. Crawford, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Crawford of Trout Creek, will be on display at the regional library for the next two weeks.

This young artist is here on a visit from Montreal. He has been at the Duncan's Cove Art Colony, where he worked with John Reppeteaux and Donald Mackay, both of the Nova Scotia College of Art. The art colony is located near Halifax.

Mr. Crawford has travelled extensively throughout Canada and is keenly interested in Canadian art.

NEW BOOKS

AT THE LIBRARY

by Kay Dunsdon

A most interesting set of books on Canada have come to our library. They are a sequence of four books, written by different writers and taking a certain era to write about. The first is Early Voyages and Northern Approaches by Tryggvi J. Oleson and includes the years 1000-1632. The second deals with years 1631-1701, Canada under Louis XIV by W. J. Eccles. Upper Canada, the Formative Years by Gerald M. Craig includes the years 1784-1841. The last is The Critical Years, Union of British North America, 1857-1873 by W. L. Morton.

The Novel and the Modern World by David Daiches is an analysis of Conrad, Joyce, Lawrence and Woolf, who this author considers leaders of their age of the novel.

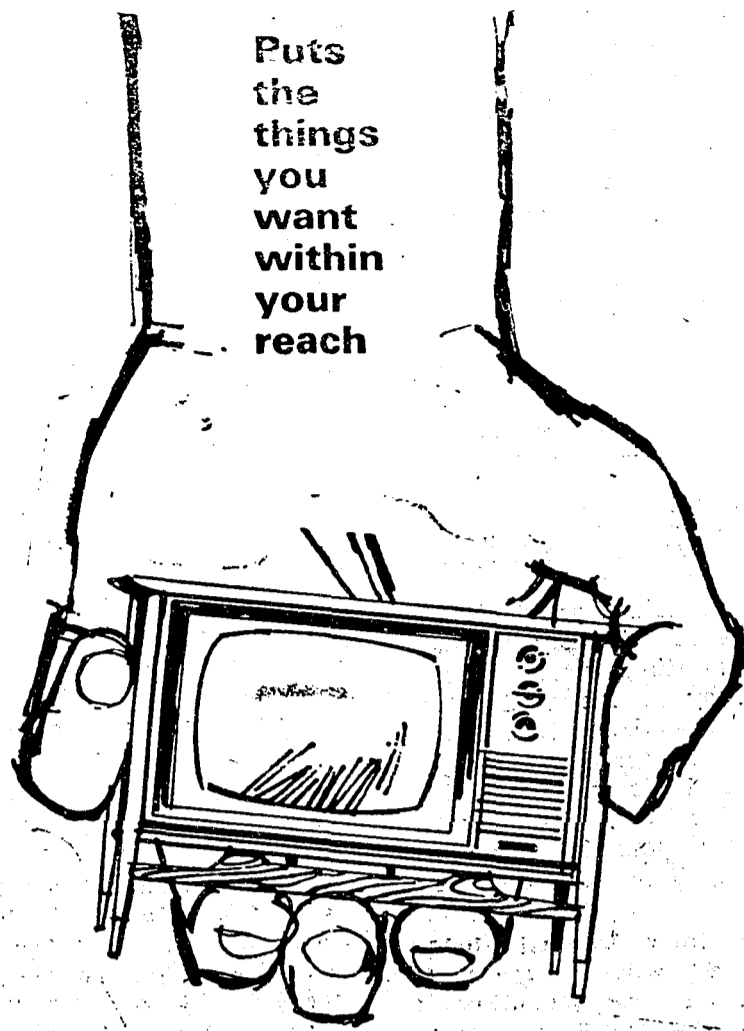

Worlds Without End, by N. J. Berrill, is a talk on moon travel, planets and time.

In biography, Mrs. Robert Henry's Wednesday at Four will delight her many followers.

The Last Grand Duchess, by Ian Vorres is an interesting account of Olga, Tsar Nicholas of Russia's favorite sister, who spent her last days in Cooksville, Ontario.

Story of a Life, by Konstantin Paustovsky is also Russian in background. The author is considered the greatest of living Russian writers and tells of his early life in southern Russia.

In fiction, Henry Treece, well known author of the Greek myth first of a trilogy set in early theological scene, has written the Greece, Oedipus.

Beauty - plan

These are the days when there's the perfume of the odd little fire as someone burns the over-winter collection of last year's garden remainders. They are the days of aching backs and sore muscles from digging and raking gardens and "tidying up the place".

Summerland is a community where there are a lot of lovely gardens, where almost all owners take pride in having highly attractive residences.

While on the topic of summer gardens, let's think for a moment or two about the Summerland fall fair. This event is many moons away — but preparation for it, both in flower and produce gardens, must start now if a real presentation is to be made. Also, this is the time to consider what hobbycrafts individuals or groups might enter.

Advice to drivers

The jet age has brought with it a new problem of "jet fatigue" which is now receiving the attention of physicians and psychologists, says the B.C. Automobile Association.

Swift trips through several time zones, or even from today into yesterday, can upset delicate body processes such as metabolism, pulse and nerve response, the BCAA says.

Get a "fresh" start. Try to avoid the late-hour farewell party and have a good night's sleep before you begin your journey. A hangover can compound the body imbalance of the flight through time zones.

Try to space your eating. One problem particularly of flying from east to west with the time getting earlier — by the clock — is a tendency to eat too many meals. Cut down on the intake at each meal.

If your schedule permits, try to break up a long trip with a layover somewhere between. This will give your body a chance to adjust gradually.

Don't schedule any strenuous activity for immediately after you reach your destination, such as a round of sightseeing or business meetings. This will give you a breathing spell to adjust to new routines.

Why not a church vocation

by Rev. F. W. Haskins
Crocuses have been up for days. Spring will soon be "bursting out all over". This means young people who are completing secondary school education are faced with the need to make decisions for future vocations.

Why not a Church vocation? It is to be hoped that the spate of self-criticism which has broken out in some Church circles recently will not cause those who are considering their life work to overlook the opportunity for profitable service in the work of the Church.

Christian people have faced all types of criticism. The securing of the services of a professional journalist by Church authorities to write critically is evidence that some good people believe that self-criticism is good for the soul.

Let us hope that all this critical talk is more than a passing fad — which it appears to be — and that there will be true soul searching and a renewed effort to be loyal in carrying on the work of the great Head of the Church who commissioned his followers to preach and teach the truths of the Gospel.

Churches are important in the life of the community. Workers are needed to carry out the vast work of the Kingdom of God in services of worship and in the teaching ministry both at home and abroad. Apart from the preaching of the Gospel and the conducting of services of worship, the teaching, medical, social and agricultural ministry of the Church is extensive.

Ministers and missionaries in addition to their work within their own communities are all of them community workers for a ministry of help and counsel is carried on inauspiciously and yet is of inestimable value. Any reader of Anne Lander's column will note how often she refers people who have problems to talk things over with a minister.

In our modern world of change and tension there is great need that recruits should enter the ministry either at home or abroad to carry on the work of the Christian Church. Young people who are giving thought to a life vocation would do well

Report from Parliament

by Dave Pugh, MP

The work of the House has been directed almost entirely towards the Pension Plan. Originally we went through all sections of the Bill and any that presented a real problem were put over so the main differences of opinion could be more or less lumped together in an effort to clear up any difficulties. It is now perfectly clear that the government has no intention of making any major changes in the Plan, regardless of opposition criticism.

In the speeches I have made on the subject I have stressed the fact that fruit growers and farmers are placed in a very poor position because of the impossibility of having a steady income: returns might be low for one or two years and then be balanced off by two or three very good years. From this it will be seen that only a very small percentage of orchardists will be able to qualify for the maximum pension. There are a number of other anomalies in the Act; however, with all this, I believe that most MP's want to see a pension plan started. If there is apparent hardship at the beginning, then the Act will have to be amended as time goes on.

SUGAR AND SPICE

by Bill Smiley

Humor Isn't Funny

For the past few weeks, I've been confronted by an enigma. This word does not mean, as one of my students told me, "Something a nurse gives you in the hospital, before you have an operation."

The enigma is this: what is humor? And the reason it confronts me is that some misguided people asked me to be one of the judges in a competition involving humor. Equally misguided by an inflated ego, I accepted.

I should have known better. Not that being a judge is all that difficult. I've judged public speaking contests with great success. Everyone agreed completely with my decisions. Except those who didn't win, and their relatives and friends.

I've judged races at the Sunday School picnic. And had to fork over a dime to every runner because, "I wooda beat him if he haddena tripped me (or shoved me, or beat the gun)."

And there'd be no trick to judging a beauty contest, I'm sure. Although there's always the danger of getting a bust in the eye from some disgruntled contestant. Or even from some grunted one.

But judging humor is a horse of a different color. There's always, in fact, the menace of misjudging the dark horse, which turns the whole thing into somewhat of a nightmare.

The character of humor is as perverse and varied in its qualities as the character of women. Picking the winner in a humor contest is as tricky as picking a wife. Everybody else thinks you made a bum choice.

Do you want Mabel, who bows you over on first acquaintance? Or do you want Gert, who will wear well over the years? Do you want an hilarious companion for an evening or a quiet chuckle once a week for generations? Humor is in the eye of the beholder.

It's no use. Let's get back to the enigma. What is humor? Ask the first person you meet, and he'll say, "It's anything that makes you laugh."

Well, it's not, necessarily. People will howl with laughter from sheer nerves, giggle interminably from drink, or titter uncontrollably from a story whose point they have missed completely.

People will laugh at practically anything. Only yesterday, I was looking out the window. A young matron, known for her high opinion of herself, minced along, serene in her mink. Right in front of our place, zip went her foot on a piece of ice.

Mere words cannot describe the half-gainer she performed, the way she looked, flat on her tummy, fur hat over her nose. Only a camera could capture the wild, desperate look she threw around to see if anyone had spotted the spill. Only the great Charlie Chaplin could have imitated the frantic scramble to her feet, the desperate effort to stroll off as though nothing had happened.

Did I laugh? Thought I'd bust a gut. I was glad she wasn't hurt, but like most people, got a tremendous belt out of seeing the deflation of a stuffed shirt. Or girle, in this case.

What is humor? I've no idea. For some, it is the bitter, even vicious, parody of a political cartoon. For others, it is the dry, pawky humor of the realist, the man who sees life without rose-colored glasses. For some, it is the stuff scrawled on the walls of a washroom. For others, it is the mechanical, canned wit of the professional comedian, the pun, the gag, the topical reference.

All I can say is, "Never again." Even judging a baby contest would be child's play, to this. At least the entries would all be made of the same material.

This hand was played at the South Okanagan Duplicate Bridge Club. Each North player who bid 4 Hearts or more went down. One North opened with Gerber Convention (4 Clubs), asking for Aces. His partner, having seven Clubs, was delighted, and disregarded his partner's call for Aces. He answered 5 Clubs instead of 4 Diamonds (no Aces). North was very unhappy and was forced to bid 5 Hearts. Then South bid 6 Clubs, forcing North to bid 6 Hearts, down three and a low board.

This proves that you should honor your partner's bid when Aces are called for. North would have ended at 4 Hearts, down one trick.

Readers will be able, by studying this hand, to see that 4 Hearts is there, if the declarer makes the right moves in handling his Heart suit.

The troop continues to have almost perfect turnouts. The boys are working very hard on badges which they hope will be presented at the Father and Son Banquet. The banquet is at the Youth Centre at 8:15 p.m. on Monday, and parents are reminded to read carefully the notices they have received.

Badges completed this week were 1st Class for Nigel Blagborne and Dispatch Rider for Allan Heinrichs.

The Troop appreciated the visit and instruction given by Harold Richardson on rifle construction, handling and safety. The Buffalo Patrol under PL Bruce Lane received a compass as a prize for winning the last patrol competition.

Mr. and Mrs. John Embree celebrate 45th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John Embree, Trout Creek Point, observed their 45th wedding anniversary on Tuesday, March 16.

On Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Embree, their son in law and daughter, Mr and Mrs C. W. Ketchum, dined at the El Rancho in Penticton.

A surprise party was arranged by members of the Bethel Pentecostal Church and was held at the Embree home on Monday evening. Games were played and guests were shown pictures of Africa with taped commentary, sent to them by their daughter, who is a missionary in that country.

Mr. and Mrs. Embree were married at the home of her parents, Mr and Mrs Miller, Trout Creek Point on March 16, 1920 and have resided continuously in Summerland since that time.

They have two daughters and two sons: Loretta (Mrs. C. W. Ketchum) of Vancouver, Marilyn in Africa; Bernard in Trinidad and Maynard in Kelowna.

Comings and Goings

Mrs. M. E. Creese was the guest of Mrs. E. M. Hookham over the week end.

Mr and Mrs T. B. Young have returned from a trip to Hong Kong and Japan followed by a stay in California.

Mrs. Isabelle Nelson and Mrs. Granville Morgan are home after a winter holiday at Long Beach, California.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kita were honored at a surprise party recently on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Atkinson have returned from from a two week holiday at Los Angeles and Mexico.

Mrs. Helen Miller left for Victoria this week. While there she will visit with her daughter, Mrs. Elaine Fisher and family.

Mrs. Oscar DeWitt, Bulwark, Alberta, visited briefly with Mr and Mrs. Howard DeWitt last week.

BOWLING RESULTS

The tight race for top places in the three sections of the mixed bowling league continues with only two more weeks of play left in the schedule.

In A division the Accidentals have 47 points, the Occidentals 46 points and the Borderlines 45 points.

In B division Super Valus are leading with 43 points, EAC's are 42, the MP's 41 1/2 and the Mad Five 41.

In C division, however, the Keglers are seven points ahead of their nearest rivals; the Pinchoppers and the Weavers who each have 42 points.

DEAR DORIS
advice from
Doris Clark

Tall, Dark And Handsome

DEAR DORIS — My mother does not like the boy I love, and objects to my accepting a ring from him. She says just because he missed his year at school that he is not ambitious and will never amount to anything.

But Doris, he is all a girl could ask for, tall, dark and handsome, and I'm crazy about him. How can I make her see what he is really like?

Entranced

DEAR ENTRANCED — If you could spend your life in a trance, just gazing at Handsome and sighing long, heartfelt sighs, you might be right.

Sooner or later — usually sooner — one stops gazing and starts the business of living. How will he measure up when there are bills to pay, babies to care for, friends and leisure hours to share?

What happens when that dark hair goes grey or falls out? When the good looks give way to worry lines and wrinkles? You'll be wishing he'd done his homework!

I'm sending my leaflet "What Is Love?" which gives you some ideas about what to look for in a marriage partner besides breath-taking beauty — which turns out to be of minor importance, after all.

(Note to readers: The above leaflet is available to anyone sending in ten cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

DEAR DORIS — I read in your column about the woman who was afraid to have a baby. When I became pregnant I was terrified of the pain and agony to come, I would only like to say that pregnancy isn't the most wonderful time of your life, but when you feel your baby moving and know it is forming inside you, these few discomforts are soon overlooked.

As for the labor and delivery, this is the hardest and most painful part of the whole pregnancy. But when you hear the first little cry of your baby and the doctor says, "Well, you now have a healthy son (or daughter)," and the nurse places the little pink squirming bundle in your arms, all the memories of pain melt away to nothing.

Then when your husband smiles at you and says, "He's beautiful," you can smile and look forward to having more children in the future, free of fear.

Mother of Three

DEAR MOTHER — Your letter will comfort others who tend to panic. Memories of pain do tend to disappear in the miracle of life which happens to young parents.

DEAR DORIS — The topic of our debate is, "Resolved that poverty in this country can be substantially eliminated in this generation." A subtopic qualifies poverty as material poverty by which a man is deprived of basic necessities. Where can we look for material?

Does this stipulation of material poverty rule out intellectual and social poverty?

Mark Anthony

DEAR MARK — Government statistics can show you trends between one census and the next, re. cost of living, standards of living, numbers on public assistance rolls. Indices of national productivity and spending can help.

To stay with the qualifications of the debate, I'd say you must stick with material poverty. At the same time, there are some inescapable links between material poverty and resources of mind and spirit.

With better counselling, toward happier marriages, we may raise a man's morale so that he may find or stay with a difficult job. With education and a trade he may become employable and off relief rolls.

With counselling, a couple can make a skimpy budget stretch to support a large family. With planned parenthood, we can keep family size within practical bounds!

And so on Good luck!

ATTENDING CONFERENCE

During the week end the Elk's Hall in Penticton was the scene of the Southern Okanagan Teen Association conference which was attended by five centres, including Summerland. Local delegates to the conference were Joe Smith, Dale Stevenson, Jackie Bennest, Ray Mitchell, Harvey Parkinson, Dennis Dean, Sharon May, Francis Cook, Sheryl Stein, Judy Steele, Janet Tamblin, Betty McInnes and Marcia Stankowy.

Joe Smith, local teen town mayor, was elected sports director, and Jackie Bennest was elected public relations officer.

FRENCH PLAY AT VERNON

'C'est ure question de temps' was the play presented at the Vernon Festival of French Plays last week. The cast included Beverly DeWitt, Sherilyn Shenton, Barry Pollock and Leo Bonthoux. The play was produced by Jane Foster. It will be given again at an evening of plays by the Summerland Secondary School Drama Club at a future date.

DANCE FRIDAY

There will be a dance Friday night at the Elk's Hall in lower town with music provided by the Fugitives. Dancing starts at 9:00 with admission 75c and $1.25. Dress casual. A council meeting will precede the dance at 7 p.m.

ANDY BAKER WINS 'SPIEL

Last week the school bonspiel was held with nine rinks participating. In the big finale Andy Baker met Clinton Skinner in the A section while Gord Dunsdon met Lillian Hankins in the B section.

The Baker foursome with Gord Booth, Bob Walker and Ann Dean came out victors in the A, and the Dunsdon rink with Bruce McGregor, Marjory Porritt and Ray Davis came out victors in the B event. Both rinks came from behind to win.

Baker defeated Ron Croft and Clinton Skinner to win, while Dunsdon lost to Greg Pruden, defeated Dennis Dean and Lillian Hankins to win the B. Baer in the final.

Clinton Skinner defeated Leo Bonthoux for the right to meet

It was a well planned and played affair with every rink displaying fine effort and everybody getting a prize.

to give careful heed to the opportunity of service for Christ who commissioned his followers: "Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you."

Of course, one would be unsuited to a Church vocation unless he was a sincere follower and believer in Christ, the Saviour, and had been called to serve Him. But who is called to serve God? One would never know unless he listens to God.

Kiwanis Korner

Rev. Norman Tannar was the guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Kiwanis Club Tuesday evening. He took as his subject Pierre Berton's latest book, The Comfortable Pew.

The president welcomed a visitor from Seattle and also Brian Liebert, who recently returned from a trip to England.

On Sunday, members of the Kiwanis and Key Clubs went on an ice fishing expedition at Headwaters. Rollie Dunn was the first one to catch a fish, and the Roberge boys took the greatest number. The afternoon concluded with a broomball game, Key Club vs Kiwanis with the Kiwanis winning by a score of 4-2.

Weather conditions were perfect with the sun shining brightly all day, and everyone agreed it had been a most successful outing.

IMPEESA IMPS FROM TROUT CREEK

The Pack has been working hard and making good progress. Several boys have almost completed their Star Tests. Keep at it boys.

There has been quite a lot of activity on Proficiency Badges: Jon Spalding, Eric Munn, Chris McIntosh and Alan Fisher received their First Aid Badges. Eric Munn received his Swimmers Badge Green Stage, and Chris McIntosh his Bronze Swimmers Badge. Jon Spalding has completed his Team Players test and will receive his badge as soon as they are in stock again.

Ricky Gurnett was invested and received his Tenderpad Badge.

The next meeting on March 19 will be held in the Anglican Hall, Penticton where the RCMP will give a talk and pictures on road safety. Boys will travel in their regular car pools. Meeting time 7-8:30. Every boy should bring a cushion as we will have to sit on the floor.

Ball teams need your support

If minor baseball is to continue in Summerland it is imperative that parents of the young players turn out to the annual meeting of the Minor Baseball Association in the Village Inn Annex on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Retiring president Gordon Beggs has pointed out that coaches and helpers are needed before practices can get underway, so he is hoping for a good turnout of people willing to help the young people get organized for the coming season.

At the meeting there will be an election of officers, coaches and teams will be announced, and plans made for scheduled games with other valley teams.

CD siren sounding Wednesday

The fire siren will sound at 11 a.m. on Wednesday as the Summerland Civil Defence test the Attack Warning System. The public is urged, in its own interest, to study the signals and retain the information for future reference.

The "Alert Warning" signal will be a steady note of three minutes duration and will, in a national emergency, mean that an enemy attack is probable within two hours.

The "Take Cover" signal following the Alert warning, will be an undulating note of three minutes duration, and will mean that the public should take the best shelter available.

THE SUMMERLAND REVIEW

Thursday, March 25, 1965

Summerland, B.C.

Volume 19, No. 41

5c Per Copy

Four brothers and two sisters of the Miller family were reunited recently in Summerland for the first time in 25 years. At the reunion were Mrs. T. Joy, Mrs. J. Embree and Lloyd Miller, all of Summerland; Arthur and Mel of Castor, Alberta; and Fred Miller of Calgary.

Hospital revenue up, again in black

Pending approval of the final blueprint plans by the provincial government, the Summerland Hospital Society is anticipating an August start on the new hospital. The new building is expected to cost $800,000 and will be constructed on a site near the Giant's Head Road, facing over Okanagan Lake. Preliminary clearing work on the site will start shortly.

A good turnout at the Society's annual meeting, held on Wednesday, heard reports from board chairman Leslie Rumball, who will retain his chairman's post for another term, administrator Harvey Wilson and other heads of hospital departments.

The statement of revenue and expenses for last year was presented, showing the hospital operated in the black with excess revenue of $1,361.69. Mr. Wilson reported that patient days had been up over the anticipated figure and the matron, Mrs. G. Butler, reported increases in all hospital services. Mrs. Butler gave a breakdown of hospital usage, using the percentage figures over the past five years. Maternity service is up 13.4 percent, operating room service 4.45 percent; outpatient department service, not including laboratory or X-ray service, is up 300 percent. The X-ray department showed a 48.8 percent increase and the laboratory services were increased by 66.5 percent over the past five years.

All the Society heads and medical staff paid high tribute to the fine work being done by the Hospital Auxiliary. Last year the Auxiliary spent $224.06 on equipment for the hospital, all of which will be utilized in the new hospital. Among the equipment was an incubator for newborns, costing $998; (Dr. F. McInnes, commenting on this item said that the University Hospital in Seattle installed a similar isolette this year), two cribs, an ice machine, four over bed tables, a clock, intravenous stand, utility cart, four basins, ettes and mattresses, refrigerator, hot plate, a set of stainless steel and other small items.

The Auxiliary's largest money-maker is the Thrift Shop which netted $3,000 last year.

Dr. Dugald MacGregor and Mrs. C. R. Adams were returned to the board by acclamation.

Police Court

Appearing before magistrate Reid Johnston in Summerland police court, David Anthony Warren Henry of Vernon was fined $25 and costs when charged with exceeding the speed limit through Trout Creek Point.

Richard John Newton, Summerland, was found guilty of falling to yield the right of way to an oncoming vehicle. He was fined $15 and costs.

John Bruce Ross paid $25 and costs for operating a motor vehicle without the necessary insurance.

Dennis Rowland Tremblay of Penticton was found guilty of being a minor in possession of liquor. He was fined $50 and costs and was given time to pay the fine.

A fine of $25 was levied against a Summerland juvenile who admitted to passing a school bus when the bus was unloading passengers.

Work starts on Co-op CA storage

The Summerland Co-operative Growers' Association, at its annual meeting on Tuesday, endorsed construction of a Controlled Atmosphere (CA) storage this year. Work on the big addition started on Wednesday morning. Taylor Construction of Penticton are contractors.

Expected to cost in the neighborhood of $185,000 the major portion of the work will be done this year with the CA storage ready for apples in September. Need for more storage and particularly controlled atmosphere storage, has been anticipated by B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. and the Co-op management for some time. Manager Walter Toevs told the Review that during 1963 the packing house needed cold storage for 80,000 boxes of apples, and last year 65,000 loose boxes had to be trucked to Kelowna or Oliver to be placed in CA storage. In some instances apples had to be left outside before space could be made for them. The building now under construction will hold 100,000 boxes.

CA storage offers many advantages to the growers as apples can be held in perfect condition for many months and brought out for sale at more advantageous prices. The Summerland Co-op is now bringing in local fruit which this year, was stored in CA storage at Oliver and Kelowna, and packers will be back to work next week getting the fruit ready for the apple market which is more than ready for Okanagan apples in prime condition.

The new building will be 100 feet by 100 feet, and will be constructed from huge cement slabs, lifted in place by a heavy crane. Reinforcing cement is now being poured.

This addition will bring the Co-op Growers cold storage up to 360,000 box capacity.

Graveside services Friday

James Henry Moncrieff passed away in Summerland hospital on Tuesday, March 23 at the age of 87 years.

Born in Selkirk, Manitoba he resided in Summerland for the past 19 years.

He is survived by one son, Ben Trafford of Summerland; sister in law, Mrs. H. I. Dempster of Summerland, and one nephew, Robert of Vancouver. He was predeceased by his wife in 1964.

Family graveside services will be conducted at Peach Orchard Cemetery, Friday, March 26 at 2 p.m. with Rev. Norman Tanner officiating.

Wright's Funeral Home entrusted with arrangements.

Speaker to explain regional college plebiscite

A meeting sponsored by the Summerland school board, will be held in the secondary school auditorium on Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. to present information on the proposed Okanagan Regional College.

Guest speaker will be Frank Bijender, trustee of School District 11 (Trail) and vice-president of the B.C. School Trustees' Association.

In regard to the proposed college, a plebiscite will be held on Saturday, April 10 at which the voters will be asked "Are you in favor of School District No.

77 (Summerland) participating in the establishment and operation of a Regional College in the Okanagan area?"

Voting will take place in the municipal hall on Saturday, April 10 and is open to owner-electors, resident-electors and tenant-electors.

Following a successful plebiscite, a regional college "council" will be formed to organize specific planning, hire staff and architects, and to present a referendum to authorize the necessary borrowing.

LAUGH OF THE WEEK

The lady's car had broken down and was holding up the traffic.

Use your noodle, lady, use your noodle, yelled the impatient driver behind her.

My goodness! Where is it? I don't think this car has one, she complained.

Guest: What a pretty name your maid has.

Hostess: Oh, that isn't her real name. We just call her Dawn because she's always breaking!

Recreation Commission offers services to many organizations

What is the Summerland Recreation Commission? What purpose does it serve in the community? Too few people know the answers to these questions.

The Recreation Commission, made up of a group of local citizens, receives a quarterly grant from the Community Programmes Branch of the Department of Education, and from the Municipality of Summerland. This money is used to assist clubs and organizations that need financial aid.

To cite a few examples of the benefits received from the Commission: the Rotary swim classes receive a donation of $200, a grant of $50 is made to the Badminton Club for the purchase of shuttlecocks for the junior members, thus keeping the club fees within reach of the young players.

The Junior Baseball Club, the Junior Tennis Club and the Kyak Club have all received benefits from the Commission. Recently a grant of $250 was given to improve the ski hill and a group of teachers sponsoring Saturday morning basketball received funds to purchase team singlets.

The Commission is not concerned solely with sporting projects. Any club or organization in any worthy field of recreation may seek assistance from it. The Summerland Art Club has been given money to assist with night school classes and special shows and scholarships.

Financial aid is not the only benefit offered by the Commission. It will help with the organization of a club, in planning programs, and in bringing in qualified instructors for clinics in many fields of recreation.

The secretary, Mrs. R. D. White, R.R.1, Summerland, will be pleased to answer any questions regarding the work and benefits of the Summerland Recreation Commission.

Special Announcement

ROSELAWN FUNERAL CHAPEL, 996 Main Street, Penticton, wishes to announce that the policy of advertising prices of funerals, or of the type of service we have to offer will continue as usual.

Due to the highly emotional nature of the funeral business, and our desire to acquaint the public with all aspects of our services, we consider it in the public interest to advertise prices. This allows for a calm and considered decision prior to need.

We are not associated with the Interior Funeral Directors' Association. Our personal business ethics require that we inform the public of prices and services available, and we dedicate ourselves as business men in this area, to serve in whatever capacity we are able.

WE BELIEVE OUR PRICES TO BE THE LOWEST IN THE VALLEY AND OUR SERVICES LEAVE NOTHING TO BE DESIRED.

OUR PERSONAL BUSINESS ETHICS COMPEL US TO ADVERTISE PRICES.

Brass rubbing explained to women's group

The regular monthly meeting of the Summerland Women's Institute was held in the Parish Hall on March 12 with the president, Mrs. G. Ritchie in the chair. After the visitors and members were welcomed, the roll call was answered by "Health Hints" which were often instructive and sometimes amusing.

Among the correspondence, was a letter of thanks from NOCA thanking the Institute for its stand and support on the milk quota.

Mrs. S. Fenwick read excerpts from the news letter, telling of the results of the "Pennies for Friendship" fund. Mrs. S. A. Macdonald explained the "Books for Overseas" project, and asked that suitable books, such as biographies, child care, o'd classics, books on Canada and reference books be brought to the next few meetings.

Mrs. H. Miller reported on a recent sewing meeting, and had with her a large box of sewing materials, which she invited the members to share. A vote of thanks was accorded Mrs. Mary Mackenzie for her generous contribution of wool and knitting to our Unitarian Services work. Again there was a goodly display of work done since the last meeting.

After discussion it was heartily agreed that the WI continues to assist at the fall fair with the tea garden and possibly other features.

At the close of the business meeting, the Institute was favored by a delightful and interesting talk and display of brass rubbing by Mrs. Ivy Mason. On a recent visit to England, Mrs. Mason had visited many ancient churches and with painstaking zeal had taken "rubblings" of many old brasses.

Mrs. Mason told of her experiences and often related a good deal of the subjects of these memorials. The rubbings were a delight to see, and knowing something of the life of the subject added to the interest.

The afternoon sped too quickly and was complimented by a tasteful tea served by the Cultural Activities Group, who also sponsored the afternoon's entertainment.

Ten weak countries - or one strong one?

Ottawa's present tendency toward the increase of "states' rights" at the expense of a strong, central government is alarming, to say the least. Perhaps it is part of the "pussyfoot around Quebec" play that has had such dire outcomes in parliamentary scandals of late.

Be that as it may, the condition that is appearing is one that will lead to more, rather than less dissension. And most of all, giving each province the right of veto in the amending of the constitution is an invitation to disaster. For it will be practically impossible to get all ten of the provinces to accept any really solid moves in up-dating Canada's 100 year old "document of being" — or to do anything about it in the future.

More than 100 years ago the United States went through this sort of struggle, with the "states' rights" movement exceedingly strong in opposition to the "federalists". The latter were, according to comment at that time, "out to cripple the effectiveness of the states" or else "planning to keep the states weak, so that the central government could be strong".

Events proved the States Rights group to be utterly wrong. The individual states have gained immeasurably by having a strong central government — even if it took a civil war to at least partially clear the air. In other parts of the world, the trend is toward more centralization of government, rather than less.

Perhaps Canada must go through the mill, and learn the hard way. But we certainly hope not. Particularly when there's no need of it — and any province can accomplish its full destiny without so-called States' Rights, and with the support of a strong, central government.

Time to be careful

Spring is here! Spring clean-up time; Spring house cleaning; Spring gardening — and with it, extra hazards face us all, but especially face our elder citizens, warns the Elder Citizens' Safety Advisory Committee of the B.C. Safety Council.

Be sure, before climbing, that you have a secure ladder or stepladder, never use a chair or table. Ask for help in moving and securing the ladder. Even with invigorating spring days, slow down, take twice as long, but be sure. Falls are the greatest killer and crippler of elder citizens — 448 British Columbians over 65 years of age spent 18,053 days in hospital in 1963, due to falls.

★ Make Yourself Heard ★

by Rev. Norman Tanner
"Lord, teach us to pray". "What shall I do, to inherit eternal life?" "Is it lawful to give tribute to Caesar or not?" "By what authority do you these things?"

By requests and by questions so Jesus preached and taught; and by the reaction of the people Jesus knew what he had accomplished. By the situation at hand, by the question at hand, by the request at hand, Jesus spoke to them; and because of this the people heard him gladly for he explained clearly to them what they wanted to know.

Preaching, as God would have it done is not an easy task and the preacher needs not only the prayers but also the cooperation of his hearers if he is to allow God to speak through him. How many church-goers have asked their pastor to preach expository sermons explaining some particular Biblical chapter or book, or sermons on Christian ethics in today's world, or a talk explaining the what and why of their church? Of course it is not desirable that the preacher produce the kind of sermon his people merely enjoy, but it would be a proper thing to do if he preached on the subjects on which they wished to have their thinking clarified.

Illustration in point: After a rousing pulpit pounding sermon on sin the preacher was approached by one dear soul who said sweetly, "Wonderful sermon, pastor! I hung on every word. Everything you said applied to somebody or other I know."

Sometimes the reaction from the sermon (or the lack of reaction) causes the preacher to wonder if he is preaching the right kind of sermons. The preacher doesn't want praise, nor desires condemnation, or appreciates the sullen silence, although sometimes any one may be due him; he does need your help with your prayers, and by your request, question and suggestion

Report from Parkdale Place

by Augusta Emery

March did not come in like the proverbial lion but introduced us to two weeks of glorious sunshine. Just to remind us that spring had no officially come to stay, the chilly north-east winds did surely blow and blow.

But signs that the beautiful springtime is not too far away can be seen as we look toward the west. The distant hills have cast off their mantle of snow; the weeping willow in the Memorial Park has taken on its golden-yellow attire. Tiny buds in our garden are ready to burst open, local gardeners report a lovely display of spring flowers.

Our sincere thanks to Mr. and Mrs. J. McLachlan for beautifying our private rooms with daffodils, our recreation room with a basket of all the spring flowers. All these brilliant touches of color seemed to say: Here we are and so is the beautiful springtime.

Several organizations have been active in their entertainment. The Mariposa Circle of the United Church, Trout Creek served afternoon tea in the Lounge and renewed acquaintances with the ladies they had met at their previous visit. Our gracious thanks.

An evening with the Gideon Society was very enjoyable, a pleasant get-together for community and part singing. Pictures of flowers and flowering trees of the Okanagan were very beautiful. We saw the countries where Bibles are distributed and realized the great work the Society is doing. Our sincere thanks for your visit, also for the vases of daffodils by the ladies recently seen in the tea room and lounge.

We appreciated your visit, Miss Tait. The pictures of Britain taken on your recent visit were beautiful in color. They helped to take us back in spirit to our dear homeland.

We send best wishes to Mrs. Crozier for a speedy recovery. She is at present in our local hospital receiving the best of care.

A simple thanksgiving to the Almighty from whom all blessings flow:

"We thank Thee for the place in which we dwell,
For the beautiful surroundings,
For the peace accorded to us each day,

For the hope with which we expect the morrow.
For the good health we enjoy,
For the work, the food,
For the kindness of our Summerland neighbours,
For the bright skies, the beautiful Okanagan sunshine that make our life delightful.

LAUGH OF THE WEEK

Doctor: I'm sorry, my dear. They were marked 'Appendix' and I took them out without thinking.

RED CROSS IS ALWAYS THERE WITH YOUR HELP

It's Teacher's Choice

Rather an interesting time to be a teacher, the spring. Even before the snow has completely gone, school boards and principals are flipping over logs and stones, in the forlorn hope of finding a teacher under one of them.

There are three reasons for the frantic spring scramble. The first two are deaths and retirements. The third, and major cause for the panic is the population explosion. Classrooms are multiplying with the rapidity of rabbits.

Every one of these classrooms is full of kids. And the kids, like baby robins, expect to have something stuffed into them. Therefore, according to tradition, there must be a body, however little it resembles a Momma Robin, standing up there in front of the class, stuffing something — pebbles, or pearls, or even worms — into the gaping maws.

It is the time of year that has principals grinning wildly at old teachers, pouring on the charm with potential new ones, snapping at their own wives and biffing their own children about the ears, because they've heard by the snake-vine — that's the vine that runs from the staffroom to the bridge-club to the Saturday night party to the after-church coffee — that they're losing half their staff.

It is the time of year that has school board members deciding to take a holiday in Jamaica, or if they can't afford it, going to bed with the 'flu. On the one hand are the taxpayers, shouting that school taxes are away out of hand. And on the other hand are other taxpayers, declaring that the board must hire the best possible teachers.

And in between are the teachers, with 10,000 jobs open to them, every one, at first glance, better than their present one.

Last weekend I was in the city, and out of sheer curiosity it says here, dropped in at the hotel which is the centre of teacher-hiring for the coming year. It was interesting.

My first impression was that the whole thing was being run by one of the metropolitan newspapers. This enterprising sheet, in an effort to crack the monopoly on the fat, luscious acreage of teacher-advertising held by another newspaper, had hired half the ground floor, and was passing out free papers, free coffee, free interview-arranging (whatever that is). The only thing missing was free teachers.

Picture an old-fashioned slave market. New Orleans, 1855. O.K.? Now, picture a slave market in which every slave has the latest market report on slave-prices tucked under his left arm, in which every slave has ten potential buyers, in which every slave is free to choose his new boss or go back to Ole Massa.

I had an overwhelming impulse to jump up on one of the upholstered chairs and cry out, "One English specialist; spirit broken, but sound of wind, limb and grammar. How much am I offered?"

Fortunately for my professional status, at that moment, simultaneously, the bar next door opened, and my wife grabbed me by the arm. She'd seen that look in my eye.

I would like to state that I was admitted to the bar and began a long and successful career as a lawyer. But my curiosity held me for another five minutes, to see what was being offered.

It was fascinating. Salaries were almost standard, across the board. But those fringe benefits... wow!

City schools sang culture: museum, art galleries, theatres, opera. Rural schools heralded hunting, fishing, leisurely living. And both signed people up, on those grounds.

The birds who signed for the city schools will spend all their weekends, and most of their money, going to the country for swimming, fishing, skiing. And the types who head for the country will spend most of their weekends, and money, tearing to town for the shows—the ballet, the bright lights.

As I said, it's an interesting time to be a teacher.

DEAR DORIS

advice from
Doris Clark

'How Far Can A Girl Go?'

DEAR DORIS — We have the most wonderful group of young people in our church, boys and girls 16 to 18. We are discussing teen-age problems.

They have handed in questions in sealed envelopes (unsigned by request). The one question I find difficult to answer is: "How far can a decent young girl go on a date with her regular boy friend, and still keep his interest?"

Counsellor

DEAR COUNSELLOR — When a couple become good friends, some affection is acceptable: a good-night kiss, a hand-hold at the movies, maybe a hug as a greeting. No long necking sessions, which so easily become heavier petting and sex experimentation.

We associate the "too fast" girl or boy with an empty mind. One boy said when criticized for his behaviour with a certain girl, "Well, she can't dance, can't talk, won't walk with me. What else is there to do but neck with her?"

Far better to share interest in companionable, active sports, or mental gymnastics; to concentrate on something outside of oneself. Physical indulgences have no place in good teen-age relationships.

DEAR DORIS — I once read in your column that you would send out to a lady a good diet, and I would surely like one too. I am five foot five and a half and weigh one hundred and fifty five. How much should I weigh?

Fatty

DEAR FATTY — You weigh more than the average, but without knowing your age, I can't say how much. Probably ten or 15 pounds. I'm sending you "Simple Reducing Diet." Follow it — which takes good sense and will power — and you're bound to slim down. (Readers: Anyone may have this diet by writing in, enclosing ten cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

DEAR DORIS — Grant and I have been going steady for three years. We are both 17.

In October Grant left me. You see, I was "sick" — crooked, nagging, over-possessive. I was seeing a psychiatrist regularly. When I saw Grant with another girl, I'd start crying, wherever I was.

Later he told me he was forced to break up with me because my mother asked him to leave me alone until I recovered. We made up and had some good times, then he said he was fed up with me "hanging around and tormenting him."

Sometimes he comes around, sometimes he avoids me. Are all boys moody like this? I love Grant very much. He's my reason for living. If I leave him, I'll have another breaking point.

Breaking Point

DEAR BREAKING — Being so exclusively Grant's from 14 to 17 handicaps you now. How can you know you wouldn't like someone else better?

When you marry, you promise to live in the same house with another person for the next 50 years or so. You agree to work with him, raise his children, get up in the night with them. To put up with all the queer things about him, as he will you. It's a terrific, adult undertaking.

Your mental health will improve when you free yourself for dates with others and open your mind for new friends and fun. And no serious decisions for a long time.

To Disappointed — Don't go thumbs down on adoption until you learn more about it. Child care agencies go to no end of trouble in locating the just-right baby for a couple wanting to adopt. They examine background of natural parents, think about talents, level of intelligence, even color of hair and eyes!

And a skilled child care worker will guide you through those first anxious months and years.

Twin bill by players' group

Summerlanders are in for a treat on Thursday evening, April 1, when the Summerland Players' Club, under the auspices of the local night class, will present a double bill in the secondary school auditorium.

The first play will be in one act — Pink and Patches by Margaret Bland. It was the winner of the Samuel French prize in the National Little Theatre Tournament in 1928. The story takes place in a hillbilly setting with Maureen Griffiths and David Driedger as twins, Maureen Roberge as Ma, and Sandy Mott as the beautiful summer visitor.

The second play, Noël Coward's Fumed Oak is an "unpleasant comedy." The setting is the dining room of an upper-middle class home in south London, England. The time is the present. Mr and Mrs Herb Waterhouse and daughter Dorothy, and Mrs. Gwen O'Leary fill the family roles.

Both plays are directed by Mrs Peg Deeder. Mr. Frank Plunkett will emcee the evening. Stage crews are Frank Plunkett, Earl Deeder and Roger Blagborne.

Tickets will be on sale at the door and the curtain rises at 8:15 p.m.

Comings and Goings

Mr. and Mrs J. S. Kirk are home from a winter holiday in southern California.

Mr and Mrs Wm. Wotton have returned from a lengthy trip in the southern states.

Mr and Mrs Cormie MacArthur of Dawson City, Yukon, have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sandy McEachern. They will be moving to Edmonton shortly to live. Their two sons, Donald and Robert will stay in Summerland to attend school until the end of the term.

Mr and Mrs. Bernard Robert, David and Mark, have returned from Vancouver, where Mrs. Robert visited her sister, Mrs. B. Capustensky, while Mr Robert attended a sales meeting at the Hotel Vancouver.

Guests with Miss Mary Scott were Mr and Mrs John McKenzie, Saskatoon; and Mr and Mrs Morley Braithwaith of Nakomis, Saskatchewan.

Mrs. Ray Wilburn visited recently with her son, Layne, at Woodlands School, New Westminster.

Mrs Jean Dunsdon and Mrs Fred Schumann went to Vernon last week to take part in a curling bonspiel.

Opening lead: King-Diamonds.

This unusual hand was played at the club's March Master Point night. Only one team arrived at a grand slam. Two bid small slam in Hearts, one ended at 5 Hearts. A1 made 13 tricks except the South who played 7
No Trump. He was set one trick by depending on a squeeze of his Hearts to establish the 13th trick in Spades. He could have made contract by proper discards in dummy, after East discarded a small Club on fifth Heart trick.

Bidding

South preempted at 3 Hearts, showing a weak hand and at least 7 Hearts. North with 22 high card points knew a slam was in making so using Gerber, bid 4 Clubs asking for Aces.
South answered 4 Hearts (1 Ace). North then called 4 Spades

(calling for Kings). South answered 4 No Trump (no Kings).
North, then missing one King, went to 7 No Trump and was doubled by West and West opened the King-Diamonds.

Only a perfect defence can defeat this contract if South discards properly in the dummy and leaves the 8 Clubs in dummy and discards Spades and only two of the Clubs. The squeeze is on if he can get East to discard a Club on one of his Hearts. Perfect defence would be for West to hold Spades and on 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th Heart tricks discard Q, J, 9 and 3 of Clubs in that order, forcing East to hold his Clubs while he protected Diamonds and Spades.

Seven Hearts could be bid on this hand and no defence could stop it.

TEEN-TOWN TOPICS

by Ron Kostelniuk

The Elks Hall was the scene of a teen-town dance Friday.
Festivities started at 9 p.m. with only a small crowd on hand but as the evening progressed the number increased to about 150.

The music, provided by the Fugitives from Penticton, was good, ranging from rock and roll to folk music. The Dave Clark 5 songs were done most, along with the Beatles. Members of the Fugitives include
Gerry Montgomery, bass guitar.
Bruce Gibson, lead guitar; Bill
Hunt, vocal; Bruce Shiott, organ; Alex Gordon, rhythm guitar, and Dale Burnett, drums.
Manager is Steve Phillips.

Next week Summerland and Penticton teen-towns will combine dances with the dance being held in the Elks Hall, Pen-ticton. Dance starts at nine, with admission $1 and $1.50.
Dress is casual, no slacks how-

Impressive ceremony for Guides and Brownies

Would you go to the Youth Centre to see a brown ring, a blue horseshoe and a white ladder? Mothers as invited guests of Brownies and Guides of Summerland did just that on Tuesday evening, March 16.

From their vantage point on the stage, the mothers looked down upon the large floor where their daughters, with their leaders, stood in colorful formation. Smiling Brownies from all Summerland Packs formed a fairy ring around their toadstool. Guides in their blue uniforms, with their color party, formed the Guide Horseshoe and the combined Penticton-Summerland Ranger company stood smartly in their navy and white uniforms in ladder formation.

Commissioner Mrs. W. A. Laidlaw explained to the mothers the significance of these formations at the various stages within the Guide Movement.

The occasion of this assembly was to mark the fly-up of Brownies who were eligible to become Guides and of Guides who were advancing to the ranks of the Rangers.

Separating the Brownie ring and the Guide horseshoe was a quaint, flower bedecked picket fence and orchid gateway, guarded on one side by a doll in Brownie uniform and on the other by a doll in Guide uniform.

Brown Owls Mrs. George Naylor and Mrs. D. B. Clark presented a Golden Hand, the highest Brownie award, to Dale Charles, Shirley Weeks, Barbara Kuroda and Patty Fitzpatrick.

Before leaving the Brownie ring to proceed to the entrance to Guide land, small golden slippers were pinned to the uniforms of Barbara Kuroda, Debbie Blumhagen and Gail Hickey. Brownie rings, which may be worn later on the Guide uniform, were presented to Patty Fitzpatrick and Barbara Clark.

As each of these five Brownies approached the gateway, she was challenged by a Guide patrol leader, and then, proving her right to enter, took the important step to the other side where she was welcomed by Guide captain Miss Enid Maynard, and

Rugger Season Underway

A cool, chilly day was the start of the Rugger season for both the junior and senior teams.

In the opener, a field goal with less than two minutes to play, gave Pentiction a 6-6 tie. Pentiction led 3-0 after the first quarter but were behind 6-3 after three quarters before salvaging the tie. Ron Mayne scored two field goals to account for the local scoring. Wayne McInnes, Bill Fitzpatrick and Don Hannis were injured slightly in the game.

The seniors, on the other hand, were whalloped 27-5. Pentiction struck early and was never in trouble during the game. For Summerland John Halverson scored three points, while Dale Stevenson had the remaining two.

The next action for the boys will be on March 27 when both teams travel to Oliver. Next home action will be March 31 when they entertain Kelowna.

Intramural Results

Gina Storey and Ann Ganzeveld won the junior girls badminton championship while Margaret White and Betty Shenton took the senior title.

Ed Mead and George McMechan won the senior boys table tennis championship, with the junior title going to Dale Weist and Bill Fitzpatrick.

Second Class badges went to F. Holler, D. Wiens, G. Davis, and R. Ryman; 1st Class to A. Heinrichs and Queen's Scout to Michael Inch, Frank Fenwick and Gordon Lackey. "A" Cords were won by Gordon Lackey, Frank Fenwick, Inch and A. Heinrichs.

Cub instructor badges were presented to G. Lackey and F. Fenwick.

On behalf of the Legion, Dr. MacGregor presented the three winners of the Queens Scout Badges with Queen Scout rings.

The entertainment portion of the program consisted of a judo display by the Summerland and Pentiction Judo Club. Performers were Bill Lewis, Mitz Oakawa and Paul Scott, each of whom in turn provided a commentary. This part of the program was very well received and the team was thanked by Scout Rolly Dunn.

CYC Notes

All three divisions of CYC are keeping busy. The Jr-Hi-C had an election of officers to serve until September, 1965. Elected were: Lawrence Muir, Marshall; for Mission Committee, president, Ken Kehler; vice president, Nancy Ion; secretary, Marilyn James; treasurer, Herb DeWitt.

The Jr-Hi-Cer of the month for February is Glen Smith.

A camera club and quiz team is being organized by the Jr-Hi-C. They plan to make picture taking tours and also have quizzes with other CYC chapter quiz teams.

The Jr-Hi-C and Cadet divisions took part in the Compassion Sunday program at the Free Methodise Church March 14.

The Cadets also had an election of officers. Elected were: Ken Mayert as Marshall; for the Mission Committee, Ron Wilander, president; Ralph Johnson, vice president; Bruce Kehler, secretary; Larry Barnett, treasurer.

The Cadet of the month for February is Larry Barnett.

The Cadets went to the Trout Creek Church of God Monday evening, March 15, to enjoy a missionary program.

The Heralds have selected Noleen Bennie as their Marshall. The Herald of the month for February is Nanci Williams.

These beginning CYCers are always busy with handcraft, learning the Bible, being helpful, new games and learning how to get along with each other.

Scrooge Method Deployed in Attaining Yule Solvency

There are at least two effective ways to keep out of the red at Christmas time, according to Jock Johnston, manager of the Summerland branch of the Bank of Montreal.

Notice to the Public

The Municipality of Summerland

Summerland and District Civil Defence

A test of the Attack Warning System (sirens only) will be made in the Summerland and District area on Wednesday, March 31, 1965

at 11.00 a.m.

In their own interests the public is urged to study closely the following signals and to retain this information as a ready means of reference.

The "Alert Warning Signal"

Sirens will sound a steady note of three minutes duration. This signal will mean to the public (in a National Emergency only) that this is an "Alert" signal. Listen to your local radio station for announcements and instructions.

The "Alert" would mean (in a National Emergency only) that an enemy attack is probable in as little as two hours.

The "Take Cover" Warning Signal — Following an Alert

After the initial "Alert" warning it may be necessary (in a National Emergency only) to warn the whole country or certain areas that an attack is imminent. The "Take Cover" signal — an undulating note of three minutes duration, which will mean to the public (in a National Emergency only) take the best shelter possible.

Take Cover Warning — With No Alert

It is possible that the "Take Cover" warning might be given without an "Alert". Such warning would indicate imminent attack on Canada. All media of broadcasting would be used to advise the public that a take cover warning had been declared. In this event the public would take the best shelter that is immediately available.

Radiation Fallout Warning

Should nuclear or thermonuclear attack on Canada take place a decision will be made as to what areas are liable to contamination by fallout. Arrangements for warnings would then be as follows:

The "Alert" signal would be sounded in those areas, which would mean to the public, this is an "Alert" signal, listen to your local radio system. Announcements would be made over the emergency broadcasting system to the effect that the "Alert" signal had been sounded in those areas that have sirens and this is a warning that radiation fallout is expected in the following areas (areas to be named), listen to your radio for further instruction.

All Clear

The "All Clear" may be declared after consultation with provincial authorities, for specified areas considered likely to be free from direct enemy action for an hour or more, provided, that these areas have not been contaminated by fallout or are not in imminent danger of becoming contaminated.

Special Note

The state of "All Clear" which will cancel the "Take Cover" only will be announced over the emergency broadcasting system and by all other means of communication available.

Sirens WILL NOT be used for the "All Clear". Information that fallout danger has decreased or passed in any area, will be conveyed to the public over the emergency broadcasting system by the civil authorities responsible for giving instructions on the action to be taken in a declared fallout area.
