Vol. XX—No. 36 Summerland, B.C., Wednesday, October 6, 1965 8 Pages — 5c per Copy

When George Henry retires in a few days it is believed his 46 years of driving a "school bus" will be a record for all Canada.

It is impossible to estimate how many youngsters have travelled to school in conveyances driven by Mr. Henry since 1913, but it's quite a few.

The first "bus" was a rig drawn by two horses which he used to drive to the top end of Prairie Valley and return down the back road, picking up about 10 passengers at two or three stops. He called it his "Black Marla".

Some of the students in these early days still live in Summerland.

Mrs. Harry Thornthwaite, then Rita Harrison, says she must have been an awful trail to him. Every day on the way home, she had to pick up a lard-pail full of milk from a farmer who lived on the corner of Valley Station Roads on the property now occupied by F. G. Ganzeveld.

She recalled the passengers eating the remnants of lunches on the way home, and the strong smell of hard boiled eggs that escaped from the tightly closed lard pails used before the days of thermos fitted lunch boxes.

In winter the buggy was replaced by a sleigh, and another of the students of that era Mrs. Arnold Gayton remembers the Lyster boys who wore kilts, just as they did in their homeland Scotland. The journey up the valley took them through large patches of stinging nettles, and into the irritating weeds, she says more than once the boys were ushered out much to their disgust and the laughter of their companions.

Mrs. Gayton was then Gerlie Darke, another young lady who travelled in the rig was Mae Smith who lived in a two-story house right at the top end of the valley. She is now Mrs. Audrey King and lives on a farm out in Meadow Valley.

In 1916 progress caught up with school transportation in the form of a flat deck truck.

It didn't save much time but at least it was right up-to-date. The truck had a removable canopy made of wood struts and canvas which was placed on it before the first trip in the morning and then removed so the vehicle could be used for hauling until the afternoon trip was made. Then the canopy would slide back on, and off they went again.

This was used until the 30's and then progress loomed again in the shape of a real bus. By this time of course many more students were being carried.

The job was relinquished by Mr. Henry in 1920, but he returned to it in 1926. From 1920, to 1962 George Henry was partnership with Alex Smith in a trucking business. When Mr. Smith died in 1962, Mr. Henry carried on for a few months with Smith's son Hilly, and then sold his share to Doug Hill.

A member of the Summerland Board of Trade for 25 years, Mr. Henry now holds a life membership in the organization. He is an ardent golfer and has one of the prettiest gardens in town. Asked what he intends to do in his retirement, he said "make a garden and do a bit of golfing." But it's a sure thing that he'll miss the chatter of "his" kids.

Evans and Hepperle rate high in Bridge championship at Kelowna

One of the biggest and certainly one of the longest events in the history of bridge in the valley took place in Kelowna on Sunday. Forty couples played in two sessions from 12 noon to 8 p.m. for the open pairs championship of the Okanagan unit of the American Contract Bridge League.

Thirty-eight master points were played for, one of the largest on record here. The Champions, and winners of the Vice-President's Trophy were Mrs. MacDonald and Mrs. McLeod of Kamloops with a score of 246½ followed by Mrs. P. Forsyth and Bob Stewart, Kelowna, 244½; W. Evans and W. E. Hepperle, Summerland 234; W. Conventry, Kamloops and D. Phelps, Kelowna, 228; Mr. and Mrs. Warren Wilkinson, Kelowna, 220; Mrs. Stalker and Mrs. Tomlinson, Revelstoke, 219½.

TIME TO GET MEMBERSHIP FEES IN Your Guide dollar stretches

Now that Guiding is back in full swing, each Pack of Brownies, the Guide and the Ranger Company meeting on schedule, it is also time to gather in the Membership Fees for each girl.

Have you ever wondered just where your money went — once it was turned in, to your daughter's leader? Well — that dollar of yours is stretched, much farther than most of us are capable of making money expand! First—10 cents of it is for insurance. Each Brownie, Guide, Ranger and Leader is covered for any injury which might occur while travelling to and from her meeting, as well as during the meeting time. That is a lot of coverage for only 10 cents! Next 50 cents of that dollar goes to National Headquarters in Toronto. This contributes toward operational expenses, as well as the Guide magazine which is sent gratis to every registered Guide in Canada, to help them better understand their work and the girls with whom they are working. Add to this the cost of correspondence and you see how far 50 cents can spread.

Now we are down to 40 cents—which stays at Provincial headquarters—and that is spread thinner! The mountains of mail that each Brown Owl, Guide and Commissioner — plus the Local Association, receive is paid for from this.

Auxiliary purchases new cart to bring cheer to patients

Summerland Hospital patients are now being served by a new cart which is pushed from ward to ward twice a week by friendly, cheerful auxiliary members.

The cart was constructed by Mr. Bill Baker, husband of an auxiliary member. This is not basically a money maker, but a convenience and service for patients.

Candy, cigarettes, bobby pins, stationery, stamps, toothbrushes and paste, etc. fill the top of the cart and are for sale.

A library consisting of all types of books and magazines fills the bottom shelves and these are lent out to the patients during their stay in the hospital. This new service is proving to be very popular with the patients and is another example of the good work done by the volunteer workers of the Summerland Hospital Auxiliary.

KRUEGER WITHDRAWS

Chuck Emery Sacred candidate

C. E. "Chuck" Emery, Osoyoos village chairman, will contest the federal election Nov. 8 as Social Credit candidate in Okanagan-Boundary.

Fred Krueger of Kaleden, originally nominated at the Social Credit convention Sept. 25 in Penticton, has tendered his resignation as Sacred candidate "for personal reasons" and Emery was named this week by the Social Credit federal constituency executive.

Emery had originally sought the nomination at the convention but was defeated by Krueger.

Social Credit constituency president Art Osland released a press statement regarding the party's candidate this week as follows:

"On Saturday, Sept. 25th a large and enthusiastic convention of Social Credit supporters held at Penticton, gave their support to Mr. Fred Krueger as their candidate for the constituency of Okanagan-Boundary for the forthcoming Federal Election.

"Another contestant, well qualified for the nomination was Mr. C. E. Emery, chairman of the Board of Commissioners, Village of Osoyoos.

"Since the convention, Mr. Fred Krueger has come to the conclusion that personal reasons of an urgent nature do not allow him to discharge so great an obligation as fully as he would wish. He therefore tendered his resignation to the Federal Constituency Executive and it was accepted.

"Mr. Charles Emery, the alternate candidate, will be my now for his many public services, has agreed to stand for election.

"The whole of the Social Credit forces in this constituency are happy to support Mr. Emery with full confidence in his ability to win Okanagan-Boundary for Social Credit. He is our official candidate."

There was a slight increase in total value of building permits issued during the month of September in Summerland over last year.

According to the building inspectors report at the council meeting Tuesday, $42,400 was issued this year compared to $40,925 during September, 1964.

The total figures for the same nine months last year was $298,296 compared to a whopping $627,480 this year—which brings the increased construction value up by $329,184.

Philip Munro, representing the Summerland Arena Association requested permission of council to start operations on October 9 and to close down March 13.

Family memberships decreased from $15 to $12 this year. Adults and students over 14 years 6.00; children 14 and under 4.00. Any of those participating in Minor Hockey or Figure skating may have skating privileges for an additional $2.

The following is the schedule of hours breakdown. Minor hockey 23; Figure skating 15; Public skating 7½; commercial hockey 5½; rentals 3½; Tiny tots 1%. There will be adult skating on Saturday nights from 8 to 10.

Superintendent Ken Blagborne said they were able to make the chlorinator switch in one-hour and ten minutes last week. It went off like clockwork.

Councillor Jim Schaeffer will attend an Area Development Council meeting in Kelowna tonight. Mr. Schaeffer is the Summerland representative.

Approval was given for subdividing a lot belonging to H. T. Farrow, but rezoning approval was rejected as received from W. H. Bolton.

Mr. Bolton expressed a desire to build a motel on Highway 97 off Gulch Road but the application was rejected because he did not produce plans and specifications of his intent.

Review equipment, lists sold to Oliver publisher

The equipment and subscription lists of the Summerland Review have been purchased by Don Somerville, publisher of the Oliver Chronicle.

Review editor Keith Bergh will continue as editor and advertising manager and job printing salesman from the same location in Summerland and the office will also be staffed with a full-time clerk and social editor.

In announcing the sale, Bergh disclosed he was faced with the purchase of "substantial" equipment and that production economies could be effected by the move.

The Review has been printed in Oliver since early July. A Summerland resident, Dennis Martin is a full-time employee at the print shop in Oliver.

Bergh will retain complete editorial control over the Review.

Gov't vehicles meet abruptly

RCMP Staff Sgt. Knox, Chilliwack was involved in an accident Friday morning enroute to Penticton.

Travelling south at Trout Creek he was meeting two cars travelling in the opposite direction. At the same time another car pulled out on the highway in front of him on his side of the road.

He was not able to swing out to avoid hitting this car because of oncoming cars and swung out at the last minute and struck a parked Highway Department truck on the front bumper and the rear end of his car slid into the ditch. The Highway department truck was parked in the parking lane facing north.

There were no injuries. Staff Sgt. Knox is the Sectional N.C.O. for the Chilliwack district and was on his way to Penticton.

ARENA ADDITION CENTENNIAL PROJECT?

Curling club decide to remodel present premises

Summerland Curling Club president Steve Sakal chaired a general meeting Monday night to discuss plans for the coming year.

The treasurer's report stated there was an operating surplus of 1,040.85 during 1964-65 season and their total surplus was $3297.09 but repairs to headers on the plant would cost about $500.

The fees were set as follows:

All curling after 7 p.m. would be $30.00 plus the $2.00 membership. Day curling before 7 p.m.) was set $15.00 which included the ladies and the seniors.

Rental curling will be $1.00 per game for non-curling members and 50 cents per game for participating members.

Mr. Bob Cuthbert had been asked at a previous meeting to head a committee to probe the costs of building a new four-sheet curling rink.

After much work and research they came up with an approximate figure of $60,000 for a building 60' x 80'.

This was discussed at length but it decided that although their present quarters should be improved they could not justify the additional spending for a new rink.

Jerry Hallquist, president of the Arena Association said he still had hopes that the arena addition would become the Centennial project in Summerland but that remained to be seen.

He suggested however, as a member of the curling club, that either an improvement or a change must be made.

Joe Akitt told the group they had drawings of plans for making an addition to the north end for multi-purpose use. He suggested a museum could be housed there, dressing rooms as well as facilities for additional space for the fall fair.

Regular curling will begin on Nov. 1 which will be preceded by a local mixed bonspiel.

The draw system will be used for regular curling this year and the number of draws to be used will depend on the number of rink entered. There are hopes for 24.

It was decided to make plans to remodel the present facilities. Some felt $6500 would do the job.

Stan Porritt presented tentative plans for the south end which will be studied by the executive before further action is taken.

Harry Hackman offered his services to instruct anyone interested in curling and would make himself available to anyone on Monday afternoons and they should feel free to contact him by phone.

The ladies had indicated at a meeting with the executive they wished to curl in the evenings but it was felt this would be doubtful due to the time element but a draw committee would see what they could do when they know how many rinks they have.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Mascot last week were: Mr. and Mrs. M. Hawley of Thetis Island, also Mr. and Mrs. D. La Sebre of Ottawa.

Railway relocation -- for a better capital

New Ottawa railway station. (THIRD IN A SERIES)

When the late Jacques Greber, the famed French City Planner, presented to the Canadian Government a master plan for the development of the city of Ottawa and the National Capital Region, one of his main basic proposals was the relocation and reduction of railroad tracks which criss-cross the capital and constitute a veritable scar on the face of the city. As early as 1915, a Government report said: "We are of the firm opinion that the pivot, on which hinges the success or failure in carrying out any comprehensive plan, lies in the proper solution of the problem of steam railway transportation." At the time Jacques Greber and his Canadian colleagues were carrying out their survey preparatory to publication of the master plan in 1950, there were 11 individual railway lines in Ottawa and Hull, with some 150 level crossings which obstructed traffic and were a danger to human life. There is no question of blaming the railway companies for this of course, because Ottawa was a thriving centre of the lumber industry and railway communications played an important role in the town's industrial development.

The physical work of the National Capital Commission's railway relocation program started when it began construction of the Walkley Yards in 1951. A new C.N.R. freight building began operations in 1958. The NCC will erect a similar building for the C.P.R. The construction of the Ottawa Queensway, begun in 1957, is evidence of the excellent use that can be made of abandoned railway rights-of-way. This limited access thoroughway is being built under a four-part agreement between the National Capital Commission, the Federal Department of Public Works, the Ontario Department of Highways, and the City of Ottawa. The NCC has supplied the land and will landscape. Construction has begun on a new Ottawa station including new trackage, freight sheds, signal and telecommunications installations and construction of a tunnel and open cut for the CPR Prescott Sub-division from east of Rideau Canal to approximately Somerset St. This will be the only remaining north-south line through the area.

The new Ottawa station will be part of a rail transportation centre including two merchandising terminals and a new telecommunications building. The station will be connected with roads readily accessible to all parts of the National Capital Region including a proposed new road from the Queensway on the alignment of the tracks beside the canal to downtown Ottawa.

As a result of the NCC's railway relocation program, some 35 miles of track will disappear from the urban areas of the Capital. About 70 level crossings will be eliminated. Land thus released, amounting to approximately 450 acres, will be used for parkways, building sites, parks and other planned land uses.

LIBRARY REVIEW

Several new books of fiction have come to our library recently, among them Winds of the Day by Howard Spring. This is a good story by a well-known author who presents the happenings of fifty years with his portrayal of Alice Openshaw, a servant girl in wealthy family.

Another popular author, Monica Dickens has given us Kate & Emma. In this novel two girls meet in a magistrates office. One is wealthy, from a good background, the other a girl from the slums. They form a deep friendship and through it come to an understanding of each others problems.

If you liked the Syp Who Came In From The Cold, you will enjoy The Looking Glass War by John Le Carre. After the success of his last novel, he has been able to give up his teaching post and devote himself to writing. His real name is David Cornwall and he lives in England, was at one time in Foreign Service posted to Germany.

The Intern by Doctor X is most interesting as it reveals the day to day events in the life of a young doctor, during his year of hospital internship. This is a true record of his training as a young doctor.

Not a new book, but new to our Library is Thomas Raddalls historic account of The Forming of Halifax, and account of the early beginnings when Cornwallis' soldiers built their first shanties on the shore of what was to be the beginning of Canada.

Young people are fascinated by the tales of World War I. So Irving Verstein has collected a good selection under the name The Many Faces of World War I. This is written especially for the teen-age and young adults. Also for young readers. The Dunes and The Diamonds by Ronald Syme is a fast moving tale of rival parties searching for a fortune in diamonds, lost in Africa before the last war.

The Early Days of Automobiles by Elizabeth Janeway, has authentic cars and drivers, which most boys will enjoy.

Big weekend for Summerland Secondary

by Ron Kostelniuk

Saturday was a big day for Summerland teams against Penticton. The Junior and senior boys tied in soccer, as did the junior girls' grass hockey team. The senior girls, on the other hand suffered a setback in their opening league game.

AT PENTICTON

In the opening game Summerland and Penticton fought to a 3-3 draw in a fast moving, exciting game. Summerland kept coming from behind scores of 1-0-2-1, and 3-2. In the first half, Penticton drew first blood but Bill Coates scored one right back to tie the score at 1-1. Then Penticton went ahead again but Summerland came right back and tied the score at 2-2 on a goal by Stan Kita. In the second half, Summerland again fell behind 3-2 but again came right back when Ken Kehler scored the tying goal on an indirect kick.

Bob Stewart, in the Summerland net, again played a good game as did the rest of the team. Don Johnson, Don Wright and Marvin Barg didn't make the trip and were replaced by Herb DeWitt, Norm Stein and Rob Munro. Also seeing action were: Ted Arkell, Ray Davis, Bill McCaig, Allan Barkwill, Jack Barkwill, Ken Kehler, Ken Bolton, Ken Roberge, Ron Taylor, Bob Tamblyn, Rob Munro, Stan Kita, Jim Cambell, Bill Coates, Herb DeWitt, and Allan Stein.

In the Sr. game, the final score was 1-1. For Summerland, the defensive team Ron Mayne, Gerry Mayne, Ken Butchkowski, Wayne McInnes, Robin Agur, Dale Stevenson and Ron Reinerton, along with goalie, Bill Potter, played magnificently. Potter, in goal, kept making save after save including some real big ones before Penticton finally scored in the second half to tie the score at 1-1. Keith Ken nedy, on a flip pass from Bill Fitzpatrick, scored on ex-Summerlander, Gerry Marsh, to lead.

This leaves both teams undefeated this year although Summerland has a few games in hand over Penticton. The offensive squad of Kennedy, Fitzpatrick, Ed Mead, Ray Betuzzi, Jim Haddrell and Gil Inglis didn't have too many opportunities to score and muffed up a few real good chances they had. Gord Lackey missed opportunities to score and muffed

The next action is on Wed. the 13, when the juniors travel to McNichol Park and the Seniors host Penticton.

AT SUMMERLAND

In grass hockey action the Sr. girls started their league opener off on the losing end of a 5-0 whipping at the hands of the Penticton Sr.s. The Jr.s kept their unbeaten record alive with a 0-0 game K. Evans in goal had little trouble as Summerland dominated play in the game, keeping Penticton tied up in their own zone. Those seeing action included: Shelby Erickson, Patty Stevenson, Ghina Story, Carolyn Norris, Kathy Caldwell, Lee Beggs, Lorraine Kropinski, Lillian Tuckery, Jean Pelleher. Their record is now a win and a tie. They have yet to allow their opponents to score a goal.

The Sr.s on the other hand, suffered "opening day blues", as they were whipped 5-0. They fell behind 4-0 at the end of the one-half and never caught up. Those playing in Saturday's team were: Biamoni, who played in the second half after a bad first half, Judy Brown, Janke Beggs, Ann Dean, Elaine Charles, Bev. Winters, Susan Wilson, with the forward line consisting of Janet Jacques, Bea Young, Majory Pritt, Lillian Tucker and Inma Wouch.

Summerland Review — 3

More pay needed

We think there is a possibility that there are those who would like to serve on the Summerland Municipal Council but do not feel they can afford to. To do the job properly it takes many hours each week — and time is money.

At present, the Reeve is receiving $1,200 per year and Councillors $600. This may seem like a fair amount of money. Realize these men attend regular council meetings every week and each would attend possibly an average of one more meeting a week in their capacity as a committee head.

In addition to this, they have many other duties. In fact, in most cases, the amount of time spent at meetings is often a small portion of that spent outside the chamber.

There is a devotion to duty as far as elected officers are concerned, but when you consider the brewery workers are turning their nose up at an average wage of $2.96 per hour over the next two years — the Councillors and Reeve are paid peanuts.

Full payment for services rendered isn't expected by any Councillor, but remuneration for time spent away from their job or business should be considered.

There is a possibility that there are good men who would like to run for council but cannot afford it. The way should be opened to them. We don't mean to buy them — just help them.

We know it will open the way for opportunists who will try to get on council for the paid ride, but in towns the size of Summerland where everyone is known, voters will realize this and not put him or her in office.

If Summerland is going to make a sincere effort to promote industry under the area development plan, much more will be expected of our Reeve and Councillors.

Municipal Clerk Gordon Smith kindly supplied us with the above statistics and looked up in the Municipal Act which said that municipalities with populations of 2,500 to 6,000 may go up to $2,000 per year for Reeves and $700 for Councillors.

It will not be long before Summerland reaches the maximum 6,000 population mark so we should get "up to the times" and go for the bundle.

The Reeve and Council may enact this anytime. It is time they did. It's justified.

Then there are the School Trustees and their Chairman who get nothing. This is unrealistic and ridiculous. More on this if nothing comes of a resolution presented at the Trustee's convention in Vancouver this week.

FROM THE CAPITAL CITY

By JIM HUME

BENNETT'S BACK

Three weeks ago in this column we forecast that Premier Bennett would return from his trip to Europe with a pocketful of promises ready to hit the federal election hustings.

Well, he arrived home last week.

Statement number one: he will participate in a "real" Social Credit campaign.

Number two: "Nobody, but nobody, should vote Liberal."

Three: He saw the Pope. (And will no doubt remind R.C. audiences wherever he goes).

Four: He wants the people to rise above party politics and vote Social Credit. (Please, never confuse Social Credit with a political party. It's a "movement", though what kind has never really been defined).

And oh glorious fifth: "Big developments follow these trips. It was very successful, but I can't reveal the details."

But patience, gentle reader, he will reveal them, one by one as the election campaign winds its weary way to Nov. 8.

As a little exercise, people who keep diaries should jot down the premier's promises, for, contrary to Sacred belief, they do not all come true.

The name of Wenner-Gren can still freeze the ever-present Bennett smile. And readers will not have forgotten Mr. Bennett's defence of Robert Somers just before the former Minister of Forests was arrested and eventually convicted of accepting a bribe.

For a more recent foul-up you have to go back just a few months and the dramatic moment in the legislature when the Premier stood up and announced a huge expansion program for MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Company.

A few weeks later MBPR officials announced that their planned expansion would not go through owing to slight difficulties with the government.

These things are mentioned just in passing to remind readers that while Mr. Bennett may have spent 20 minutes talking to the Pope, he cannot yet claim infallibility.

See from the wire services that Okanagan — Boundary Liberals gave Bruce Howard the nod to carry the banner come Nov. 8.

A nice fellow, maybe too nice for the hurly-burly of modern politics where heavy-weight cut-thrust-and-parry boys are needed if a constituency is to be represented properly.

From this neutral vantage point I can wish Bruce a lot of luck, but I think more than luck will be required to dislodge Dave Pugh who, believe it or not, is well respected and well known among political reporters in points as far flung as Ottawa, Edmonton and Victoria.

Dave's record in parliament, if not spectacular, is one of hard, sincere work. And that's a combination hard to beat.

A nod of congratulations to Bruce Howard, anyway. At least he's prepared to give it a whirl, which is more than can be said of those ardent well-heeled committee room Liberals who mouth platitudes but fear defeat on the hustings almost as much as they fear death.

Hope Penticon has a healthy slush fund to dip into next

Sum'land Kiwanis to assist Vernon

Mr. Bill Snow showed the Kiwanis Club slides of his recent trip to Australia and did the commentary at their meeting, Tuesday night.

This was the first meeting of the club on their new night. It was changed from Thursday to Tuesday as the caterer was not able to handle them on Thursday.

President Lloyd Shannon announced that Vernon wished to start a Key Club and asked Summerland for assistance. A half a dozen members will go up tonight to give them a hand with the organizational work.

September when the city plays host to the annual convention of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities.

It was held in Victoria this year — Okanagan delegates behaved extremely well — with the tab for "hospitality" just a shade short of $1,300.

There's a shorter, five letter word for hospitality, but it looks like heck when written on an annual financial statement to present to the taxpayers.

Little more need be said about this week being Fire Prevention Week. Turn to page four where it is pointed out the seriousness of fire. This is something everyone realizes but must be brought "home to them" every once in a while.

George Henry has retired. He has a record of 46 years driving a school bus, starting with a pair of reins and a team of horses. It will no doubt hurt a little as he sees the busses come and go morning and night for a while unless he is out on Sumac Ridge Golf Course, where he can't see them. Congratulations Mr. Henry and may you enjoy the life of not punching the clock.

We see where the British Columbia Amateur Hockey Association is sponsoring clinics for hockey referees. This is good. Good, well versed referees are a big part of any hockey games. Referees without sufficient knowledge of the game have broken the hearts of many hockey players. Besides those with aspirations to boss hockey should take it in self defence. The clinic will be at the Kelowna Arena October 9 and 10 starting at 10 a.m.

Jim Hume has some fine things to say about local politicians Bruce Howard and Dave Pugh in his column this week. Jim has a solid background knowledge of the Okanagan. It is refreshing to know men of this calibre in our midst. . . . Jim called in to say hello over the weekend on way to an assignment over Cranbrook way. For the benefit of those who are not acquainted with Jim, he is a former Editor of the Penticon Herald.

Fire dangers outlined by Fire Chief McLachlan

Don't rely on Lady Luck in place of a good baby-sitter. Children left alone at home would be trapped and helpless if fire or some other emergency should strike. Fire Chief Joe McLachlan warns.

"Never leave your children alone, not even for a few minutes," the Chief urges in a Fire Prevention Week message. "A study by the National Fire Protection Association shows that one out of every three children fire victims was alone and helpless when the fire struck."

Chief McLachlan also pleads with parents to take these precautions to protect their children from fire at home and at play:

1. Be sure that baby sitters have specific instructions in case of fire. These include orders to get the children outside the instant smoke or gas is smelled, the location of at least two escape routes, and how to get in touch with the fire department, parents, doctor, and police.
2. Keep young children—two and under—in constant sight and mind.

3. Teach older children how to use and respect fire. Don't forget: they learn best by your example.

4. Keep your home free of fire hazards by regular inspections. The fire department will help in this.

5. Train children of all ages how to get out of the house to safety in case of fire. Have at least two escape routes from every room, and be sure the youngsters know these routes by heart.

Fire brigade striving to make all Summerland safe

How many fire hazards are there in your home.

"Not many people can answer that question fully," says Fire Chief Joe McLachlan. "But most people are living with one or more of the conditions that cause fires—they cause more than half-million home fires every year in the United States, according to National Fire Prevention Association records."

Surest way to get rid of these dangerous conditions, says the Chief, is a fire department inspection of your home. A fireman knows where fires start and what breeds them, he points out.

Some of the hazards are defective wiring, improper fuses, frayed extension cords, or extension cords under rugs, rubbish that piles up in closets, attics, basements and yards can be treacherous. Paint and flammable liquids carelessly stored may start a fire.

Other causes of fire that killed some 6,000 people in their homes every year include defective chimneys and heating and cooking equipment, ignorance about the use of cleaning fluids.

Careless smoking and bad habits with matches are at the very top of the list.

During Fire Prevention Week, October 3rd to 9th, in Summerland, there will be an accelerated program of inspections by the fire department. Chief McLachlan says. He urges residents to take advantage of this opportunity.

Meanwhile, the Chief adds, families on their own account can do some checking in their homes, and rid themselves of many of the obvious hazards.

"The goal in Summerland is every home a fire safe home," he says.

DON'T BE ASHAMED

Shame (over an untidy house), fear (of consequences), ignorance (or what it's all about)—forget these things if you have an ounce of commonsense. Welcome the uniformed, authorized fire fighter if he knocks at your door, suggesting a look-see for fire hazards.

Close your door to fire, keep it open for fire prevention. This neatly describes the philosophy of Canada's campaign for greater fire safety in the home, on the job, and everywhere. In plants, office buildings, stairwells, fire doors must be kept closed. Why? To shut off live air (oxygen) from fueling a fire. In the home, too a closed door will slow down the spread of fire.

So Simple

But because three-quarters of all fires happen in the home, and because the basic hazards frayed wiring, faulty heaters, are quite simple (over-fusing, rubbish and the like) their elimination will go a long way in prevention. Hence the purpose of the fire fighter's call.

But why wait for the fire fighter? Check these hazards yourself. Or call the fire chief and make an appointment.

KNOW HOW TO GET OUT...

It's not the actual flame but the smoke and the gases that usually threaten personal safety in fire in a high-rise building, office or apartment, where upper floors are beyond reach of the highest fire department rescue ladders.

It took half an hour to evacuate 3,000 people from a 36-story building which was quickly smoke-filled by a fire that itself did not reach above the fourth floor. The fire started in an air-conditioning duct.

For the people involved there are two rules:

Know the fire alarm signal and drill.

Know the Exit plan. If there's a small blaze on your floor, telephone the fire department directly.

In one recent office building fire, it was 20 minutes before anybody called the fire fighters.

Begins at Home

In Case of Fire

SHOUT "FIRE" to arouse the household if you see fire, or smell smoke or gas. If you believe the fire to be in a room, a cupboard or in the basement, keep the doors closed. Quickly shut any doors and windows that will help confine the fire, cut down the draft and prevent spread of deadly gases. This will give you more time to escape with your family.

Save lives by getting everyone out of the house as quickly as possible. Don't wait to dress yourself or your children — wrap them in blankets.

If you have to go upstairs or away from exits to rescue children and you are unable to return to the ground floor or if you are otherwise trapped, get to a room with a window, quickly shut the door between you and the fire, and shout for help.

Human Lives

It goes without saying that a human life is worth more than anything else. Yet each year we know that thousands die by fire. Fire that was "accidentally" started, carelessly started.

Don't give fire a chance to erase human lives.

Make it a daily point to guard against this killer, FIRE.

Your Fire Department Urges You To Check For Fire Hazards In Your Home Today!

Don't wait until after the fire to check fire hazards in your home.

Are attic, basement, closets, and garage free of clutter and rubbish? Are furnaces and stoves in good repair and placed well away from combustible walls and ceilings? Are frayed electric cords replaced promptly? Are gasoline and other flammable liquids stored safely?

These are some of the questions you should ask yourself.

If a fire strikes your home, in what room will it start? The National Fire Protection Association says the most likely place is either the kitchen or living room, where one out of every two fires start. Bedrooms and basements are the next most likely starting places.

This is FIRE PREVENTION WEEK and a good time to check ALL the rooms in your home for fire hazards.

Two government vehicles came together on Highway 97 at Trout Creek on Friday morning. The car driven by RCMP Staff Sgt. Knox of Chilliwack who swung out to avoid hitting another car and landed in the ditch after striking the front bumper of the Highways Department truck.

School building progress shown

Summerland school building projects are nearing completion and one is almost ready for tenders to be called on.

Grades 5 and 6 students are no longer being bussed to Mac Donald School from Trout Creek effective last Wednesday as their new classroom has been completed.

The activity room, staff room, principal's office, library, kitchen and a room for janitor's storage at Trout Creek will be framed in by the weekend.

The burners for the new furnace in the secondary school are here and will be in operation by late this week.

Secretary Treasurer J. Hack said Thursday the working drawings and the specifications for the Secondary School addition should arrive Friday and will be sent to Victoria for their approval the same day.

They hope to be in a position to call for tenders by the middle of this month.

School officials attend convention

School Trustees Ken Booth, Dr. Jim Miltimore and Secretary Treasurer Jim Hack attended official school functions in Vancouver over the weekend and the early part of the week.

Mr. Booth attended a British Columbia School Trustees Association

(of which he is a member) meeting on Saturday and Mr. Hack a Secretary Treasurers Association meeting the same day. On Sunday they both took in a special delegate meeting and were met by Dr. Miltimore on Monday to take in the three-day convention.

Committee preparing for bigger fairs in future

Many things were discussed at a meeting of the Summerland Fall Fair committee, probing ways of making the annual show better and anticipating a bigger fair as years go by.

The Royalty committee was present for the discussion as well.

Some thought was given to the possibility that it should revert back to a one-day show, increasing it in stature and efficiency.

Some consideration was given to a more suitable time of the year which would be better as far as the royalty and flower displays are concerned but would work a hardship on fruit exhibits.

The committee were pretty well convinced that sometime in the near future, the fair is going to outgrow the arena and something will have to be done in this regard.

It was suggested that they meet with Arena Association President Jerry Hallquist and his executive to see if they may work together with council to increase that facility.

Treasurer Preston Mott could not tell yet whether the 1965 Fair ended on the black side of the ledger or not. The printing of the program and the amount given for prizes were greater this year than in the past.

Fair Chairman Dr. Jim Marshall was real pleased with the helpful suggestions that were brought forth and a committee was chosen to give them some thought and report back to another meeting to be held on November 15.

Heading this committee is Preston Mott with Seattle Ritchie and Charlie Bernhardt assisting him.

Much to the regret of all present, Mrs. Mitch Lamb announced that she could not continue as secretary of the Fair committee after this term is up. She was thanked for her untiring efforts.

Mrs. Matilda Grant went to Burnaby with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Topham and boys of Peachland, to attend the wedding of her granddaughter, Miss Lois Grant, of Burnaby.

Students will take part in fire prevention

Summerland students will take part in Fire Prevention Week this week.

The Summerland Volunteer Fire Department, in cooperation with School Trustees and teachers, have put a little competitive spirit into it with various fields of interest to students.

Grades one and two will be supplied with coloring sheets according to Fire Chief Joe McLachlan and grades 3, 4 and 5 will design posters of their own making with a fire prevention theme and essays will be written by grades 6-7.

Members of the Fire Department will judge the work and prizes of equal amounts will be given to five pupils in every grade.

Driving Privileges Halted for 2 Years

Glen Ellis, Summerland was ordered by Magistrate Johnston not to drive a motor vehicle anywhere in Canada for the next two years. This was the result of his striking a telephone pole Sept. 25.

He pleaded to driving while under suspension which cost $100 and he will not be able to drive for two years.

Report from Parkdale Place

By Augusta Emery

All across the land the slim spires of smoke from burning leaves rise up into the October sky. The red and gold of autumn fringe the roadside, the lakes and rivers — all gentle reminders that summer is once again in the past.

This weekend nearly 20 million Canadians can enjoy family reunions, contemplate their blessings of the past year and give thanks to the Almighty. From millions of kitchens will rise the familiar fragrance of roasting turkey. This is the Time of Thanksgiving.

Looking back on the history of the past year we realize that in many homes there has been some private sorrow, some un-realized ambition, some disappointed hopes, but making comparisons with other countries and other peoples we must know that we are the best housed, best clothed, best fed humans on this earth. If ever people have had reason to be thankful it is Canadians in 1965.

We, the Senior Citizens of Parkdale, are very grateful for all the blessings we have received. Our gratitude to the Board of Administrators for the Home comforts we enjoy, to our Matrons and Staff who give us so many pleasures in life. Last but not least to our Summerlanders who are outstanding in their generosity. Our Home has been a place of beauty with bouquets of flowers from our florists and citizens. The Gallop display from the Fall Fair gave us a great deal of pleasure. The fruit and vegetables were very acceptable. Our gracious thanks to you all.

We enjoyed the very colourful Fall Fair parade especially the part played by the children — also the B. C. Dragons Junior Pipe Band and the very impressive Elks float that carried Summerland royalty and the Queen candidates. The Gymkhana was especially interesting to our male residents.

Visitors during the past month were numerous — several from Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba — some from far away New Zealand, England, Texas, California. They seem to be charmed with our Home and the surroundings.

Another birthday has been celebrated by Mrs. Trippe, Miss Verrier and Mr. Brown. Mrs. Howis was in hospital for her special day but greetings were sent for a speedy recovery. The next milestone of life bring them many days of good health and happiness.

Our ladies enjoyed the car drives so kindly planned by Mrs. Colin McKenzie. Miss Raham brought to the Home her beautiful wedding bouquet to give pleasure as she said, to the Senior Citizens. These are the courteous things of life which give so much pleasure to us in our lessening years. Our gracious thanks to you both.

Donations are acknowledged gratefully — of flowers, fruit and vegetables:

Flowers: Messrs J. Graham, Tom Ritchie, Gallop display; Carrots: Durham estate; Mr. Sheppard; beets: Mr. deWitt; Mrs. Ridley; Mr. Ken Blagborne (also tomatoes); turnips; cabbage; beets; squash: Mrs. Van Horne; Swiss Chard; beets: Mr. George Geres;

Squash and cucumbers: Mrs. Moore; green tomatoes: Mrs. Harer; ripe tomatoes: Exeter Farm; Mr. Verrier; Mr. Jockett; one box pumpkins; Mr. Percy Taylor; cabbage: Mrs. Szing; Mr. Van Horne also beets, turnips, squash;

Tomatoes and cucumbers: Mrs. Lineal, Mr. K. Blagborne; vegetables were sent in from the Fall Fair and from the Anglican Church Ladies Aid. Mr. Moodie from Trout Creek is supplying all the potatoes. Potatoes and beets were handed in by an anonymous donor!

Crab apples, Mrs. Hankins; Tiny Ganzeveld, McKenzie brothers; apples: Mr. Tait 1 box apples and two boxes pears; McKenzie brothers, Frank McDon aid; Tiny Ganzeveld, 1 box; pears: John Clark 2 boxes, and Tiny Ganzeveld.

We were pleased to welcome Mrs. Clark who returned home after visiting her family in Ontario during the month of September.

GRATITUDE — THANKSGIVING DAY!

We thank you for these gifts, dear God, Upon Thanksgiving Day — For love and laughter, and the faith That makes me kneel to pray

For life that lends me happiness And sleep that gives me rest — These are the gifts that keep my heart Serene within my breast.

Love, laughter, faith and life and sleep, We own them, every one — They carry us along the road That leads from sun to sun.

Legion gives $39,500 in scholarships

Scholarships and Bursaries ranging from $75 to $500, totalling $39,500, were announced by Pacific Command of the Royal Canadian Legion.

The total was made up of 148 awards totalling $19,300 awarded students direct from the Branches and 70 totalling $20,200 to students who applied through Pacific Command Committee.

This committee screens applicants on the basis of need and scholastic achievement. It is regretted that although Command added another $2,500 to the fund this year, 227 students could not be accommodated.

The awards cover all universities in the province as well as senior matric at high schools and one to Vancouver City College.

Referee school slated for Kelowna

Mr. George Stoll, Manager of the El Rancho Summerland-Penticton Junior Hockey club said this week there is going to be a referee clinic held in the Kelowna Arena, October 9th and 10th. They will start at 10 a.m.

This is one of 21 such clinics to be held in the province this month, sponsored by the British Columbia Amateur Hockey Association.

To qualify to referee organized league or inter-association games they must be qualified and the BCAHA strongly recommends that anyone wishing to do any kind of officiating for any hockey should take in the clinic "in the interest of good hockey."

Teen Town is looking for home

The Summerland Teen Town Association held their third general meeting of the season on Saturday evening in the Elks Hall.

About half of the thirty-five were present so most items on the agenda were tabled until a "full house" meeting could be arranged.

Due to the lack of interest and shortage of bodies, it was suggested that S.T.T. should look for a new home. It was felt that Teen Town had not changed since it began.

Mr. Bell, one of the advisors, and councillor at the Secondary school, said that in order to compete with commercial dance spots, Teen Town must offer at least as much or more in the way of music and general recreation.

It was felt that although the words "tape dance" casts dark shadows over most teenagers, in actual practice, tape dances can and should be a lot of fun. Nothing definite has been decided as yet but watch for this column and the association will keep you posted regarding the new look.

All things considered, the bottle drive went off pretty well although more vehicles and helpers were needed once more. Again it was a case of a few people doing the majority of the work. Mr. Mitch Lamb received high praise for making his garage available as a collection centre. They also appreciated the fine cooperation of the citizens.

Teen Town wants a home of its own. A small monthly charge could be handled. It is not Delegate reports on convention of Hospital Auxiliary Assn.

Summerland Ladies Hospital Auxiliary held their regular meeting Monday evening Oct. 4th. There was a good attendance with one new member joining. Mrs. Betty McIntosh resided.

Mrs. W. G. Evans the Summerland delegate to the Auxiliary Hospital Convention at the Georgia Hotel, Vancouver Sept. 29 and 30 and Oct. 1st gave a very interesting report. Mrs. George Clark also attended. She reported that the accent is still on volunteer hospital work rather than fund raising. This work of course is limited in a small hospital. Six baby spoons were given to the new mothers at the hospital during last month.

The Thrift Shop has made its change over to winter clothing and during the month of September took in $379.

Volunteer service has started at the hospital under the direction of Mrs. Eric Smith.

There is a need for science fiction books at the hospital and it is requested that any available could be left at the Thrift Shop.

Surprise shower for bride-to-be

A surprise shower was held at the home of Miss Linda Scott honouring Miss Darlene Campbell, whose marriage will take place on October 16th.

Everyone brought a favorite recipe and put it in a special recipe box which was presented to the bride-to-be.

The gifts were placed under a gaily decorated umbrella in pink, blue, and white. The bows from the gifts were put on a paper bell which she wore as a hat.

After the gifts were opened, a few games were played and the refreshments were served. The shower cake was cut by Darlene and then served to all present. Those attending the shower were Miss Linda Scott, Mrs. Edith Scott, hostesses, Mrs. Darlene Crawford, Mrs. Sharron Bradley, Miss Joanne Campbell co-hostesses; Mrs. D. Campbell, mother of the bride, Mrs. Mildred Campbell, grandmother of the bride; Mrs. Nettie Shannon, Mrs. Naomi Blagborne, Mrs. Edith Halquist, Mrs. Kaatz, Miss Judy K a a t z, Mrs. Audrey Noble, Miss Rosalie Geres, Miss Rose Mary Day and Mrs. Linda Watson. Mrs. Emil Bonthoux and Mrs. Lil Smith sent gifts but were unable to attend.

Young artists will perform

A Young Artist Concert will be held in the Penticon High School on Friday, October 8 at 8:15 p.m.

The concert will feature pianist Ruth Callander and Donald Whyte, violinist.

Ruth Callander is a 20-year-old Vancouver artist and is in the final year of the Bachelor of Music program at the University of British Columbia with a major in piano performance.

Starting piano at the age of 11 she has been winning many festivals and competitions for many years. Many awards, cups, trophies and scholarships were won from the B.C. music festival from 1952-1963. She also won four silver medals and scholarships from Royal Conservatory examinations. She has appeared on CBC.

Donald Whyte is 22 years old and was born in Rivers, Manitoba and won the Harris

Scholarship and silver medal for grade 8 violin Royal Conservatory Examinations at 11. He played his first recital in Winnipeg the same year. He took first prize in the Winnipeg competition festival classes at the ages of 7, 8 and 9.

He has received many scholarships and awards in Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

During the past five years he has appeared as deputy concert master of the Regina Symphony Orchestra with which he has performed as soloist on three occasions. He was also concert master of the American Federation of Musicians International String Congress Orchestra during the summer of 1962 at Michigan State University.

Rotary will furnish ward at hospital

Walter Marchbnak of Oliver and John Bennest of Summerland were guests at the regular meeting of the Summerland Rotary Club Friday night.

A letter was received from MacDonald school principal John Cooke, thanking the club for sponsoring the Hogarth Puppet Show last Wednesday.

He said over 500 children had the opportunity to see it and were "wildly enthusiastic about them, and it was a rare privilege for the children to see this live performance."

Cece Wade who was in charge of the show reported they would at least break even and possibly they will make a little money when the proceeds of the advance ticket sales come in.

One of the major projects for the Rotary Club for the coming year will be to furnish a room in the new hospital.

Additional cost of wages for swimming instructions and life guard duties this year has depleted the funds to some extent as reported by treasurer Ryan Lawley so "ways and means must be found to raise some money".

Gordon Beggs said he has been getting some apples for the annual apple campaign and has 125 boxes to date but anyone who has some available for sale should contact him.

Member Bob Tingley and secretary of the Okanagan Regional College committee gave a history of the formation of the idea of a college in this area to the present time.

He said the members still feel that Penticon will come into the fold and "see the light" before the college is constructed. He estimated it would cost 1½ to 2 mills to the taxpayer but felt this was a small item and would be a little burden to the taxpayer.

BRIDGE RESULTS

The South Okanagan Contract Bridge Club held their regular Monday evening session in Summerland with the following results of a Mitchell movement

NORTH-SOUTH — Mr. and Mrs. Bud Fisher Mr. and Mrs. R. Stewart; W. Hepperle and Bert Berry; W. Evans and B. Trafford.

EAST-WEST — G. Hepperle and H. Hughes; Mr. and Mrs. J. Lackie; Mrs. A. Clymont and V. Andrew; Mrs. E. Chamberlain and F. Evans causes accident

Dorothy May Brotherhood of Westbank lost control of her car rolled over, and hit a telephone pole.

She was travelling north on Beach Avenue in Peachland when apparently her steering stuck. The car abruptly veered west and turned over on the highway—on into the ditch and struck a telephone pole.

About $500 in damages resulted. She was not injured and no charges were laid.

ALMOST AS MANY RATS AS FISH

What was thought to be a rat, found its way to the motor of Keith Bergh's car while on a fishing trip with his son over the long weekend. When checking the oil Tuesday morning, a well made, well lived in rat's nest was found just under the air cleaner. To feather his nest he used the insulation from under the hood, pine needles, grass, roots and kindling wood. But catching rats was not as good as catching fish. They at least got one fish. Course they were only on the lake one day.

A SAUCY LAMB

Here is a shot taken by Bert Simpson out at Crescent Beach in Summerland. A close look at the "broken-away" portion will reveal a saucy lamb complete with nose, eye and night ear. It seems to be trying to attract attention to the fact that he may not be a Giant Head, but should be entitled to some consideration.

Season closed on Bighorn sheep

The open season on Rocky Mountain Bighorn sheep, proclaimed in this year's game regulations, has been cancelled announced the Hon. W. K. Kiernan this week. The closure affects the bighorn sheep in G.M.A. No. 11 in the East Kootenay and became effective on Tuesday, Oct. 12th.

The order for the closure was issued by the Minister after an outbreak of an epidemic disease was found to have caused widespread losses in the population of these animals in the East Kootenay district and an investigation of the causes of the epidemic and its exact extent is to be started by the Fish and Game Branch immediately.

Further information for the benefit of those sportsmen who have already purchased sheep tag-licenses for mountain sheep in this area will be forthcoming from the Director of the Fish and Game Branch at a later date.

Four-party meetings planned for Summerland

The Summerland Chamber of Commerce held their first meeting of the fall season in the IOOF Hall on Thursday night with President Tom Manning in the chair.

A letter from Bruce Howard, Liberal candidate for the Okanagan Boundary constituency in the forthcoming election was read by Secretary Treasurer Howard Clark.

Mr. Howard said he would make himself available should the Chamber wish to sponsor a meeting with all four candidates on the platform.

This offer was accepted and president Manning will contact all candidates and arrange a date for such a meeting.

On behalf of the Fall Fair Committee, a Chamber sponsored project, Eric Tait told the group they ended up a little in the red this year.

"There was a good carry-over from last year and if we had not had it it would have been a disaster rather than just being in the red," he said.

Disappointment was expressed by Doug Smith in the lack of Main Street businessmen at the meeting when making his Industrial Committee report.

He outlined briefly the purpose to the Area Development Council and suggested a committee meet with the Municipal Council to discuss plans for industrial expansion in Summerland. The committee will consist of Dick Randal, Bill Laidlaw and Doug Smith.

Charlie Bernhardt reported on summer meetings held in Osoyoos in June and at Naramata in September. He said the fruit freeze problem had been discussed at length at both meetings but little in the way of results could be reported.

He said Agriculture Minister Hays was to make an announcement that day or the day previous but none was forthcoming.

President Manning said pressure was being put to bear on the Labour Relations Board for a reduced eligibility working length of time before eligibility is effective.

The Chamber will again make a car available for the transportation of citizens unable to get to their poll to cast their ballot on November 8th. They will be able to phone the Summerland Hardware to make arrangements.

Tom White joins Summerland firm

Tom White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earle White has joined the staff of his parent's firm, Macil's Ladies' Wear and Dry Goods Ltd. in Summerland.

Tom will work closely with Mr. and Mrs. White relieving them of many of the management duties. They continue to take an active part in the business.

Coming from Vancouver where he was employed with an engineering firm for the past twelve years, Tom was educated in Oliver and in the United States.

He lived in Summerland for a year and a half fifteen years ago and has made frequent visits home since that time.

Flag issue is renewed at Summerland council meeting

Councillor Jim Schaeffer reported to the Summerland Municipal Council Tuesday morning on the area development meeting he attended in Kelowna last week.

He said they agreed that the central office would be established in Summerland but meetings would alternate between Kelowna, Vernon and Penticton.

Little more than initial organizational work was discussed at this meeting but a new name was founded. In the future it will be known as the Okanagan Regional Development Council.

Councillor Ritchie had attended a meeting of the Association of Boards of Health of B.C. in Vancouver last week and that that much was discussed but no concrete decisions were made.

He also suggested Summerland should possibly request of the provincial government that they sponsor an inspection for three days in the near future.

He pointed out that Vancouver had reduced accidents, due to faulty vehicles, from 14 percent to 1 percent, since their inception of inspection.

Councillor Schaeffer will attend the Regional District meeting in Penticton Wednesday next as Councillor Bark will be unable to be there due to personal business.

A letter was read from the Save The Children Fund committee requesting Council to change Halloween night activities from Sunday, Oct. 31 to Saturday, Oct. 30.

This received considerable discussion and Councillor Powell felt it rather silly to change the night when he was not in favor of Halloween activities in the first place.

"Halloween night gets kids doing things that they never would do otherwise," he said. "The little parties are o.k. but it gradually works up to when they are 14 and 15 and these parties get too tame."

Councillor Schaeffer was wondering that if it is a night was changed to Saturday night, if "we wouldn't have two Halloween nights."

There is a by-law on the books making a 9:30 p.m. curfew effective on Halloween nights and some wondered if the by-law should be changed to cover Saturday night as well.

The Save the Children Committee are sponsoring a drive with the co-operation of school officials to have children collect pennies that night for that organization. The School Trustees have authorized this but it must not affect their school work in any way. It was left in the hands of the principal.

Councillor Powell said he had nothing against the Save the Children Fund but questioned if the collecting was being done on the right night.

No immediate action was taken on the letter until more consideration was given to the matter with police and other authorities.

Ed Lloyd representing Inland Realty, spoke on behalf of Mr. M. Sonneburg, his client, who wished to purchase the house on lot 1 plan 14784 being the former Tom MacDonald home north of the liquor store.

He requested the property to be re-zoned commercial as Mr. Sonneburg wished to open

They went along the top of Wildhorse Mountain and down to Cost-a-Mucha Cabin. It was sponsored by Ron Reinertson.

Summerland W.I. appeals to college

Food technologist John Kitson of the Research Station gave a very interesting talk to the members of the Summerland Women's Institute following their regular meeting Friday afternoon.

Mr. Kitson told of various experiment and research carried on while he was in Albany, California for ten months on loan to the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Many new ideas were developed such as instant apple sauce, low-fat potato chips processed in microwave ovens and freeze-drying of foods. As proof of their interest many questions were asked by his listeners and ably answered by the speaker.

During the business meeting the president, Mrs. Gordon Ritchie read a copy of the resolution and letter which will be sent to the twelve members of the board of the Okanagan Regional College asking that suitable entrances and facilities for physically handicapped students be included in the plans for the new buildings.

The secretary, Mrs. Eric Tait reported that $71.80 had been raised for the Northern Expansion Fund during coffee parties held during the summer, a raffle and donations. Motion was passed that 6 Unesco coupons be purchased, freight paid to send velvet to the Fort Providence W.I. in the balance used for Unitarian Service work.

A one-day workshop is slated for Nov. 10th at the Kelowna

W.I. hall and all who can are urged to attend.

Plans for the annual variety sale and tea were discussed and all conveners asked for donations for their stalls. Included are used clothing, home baking, candy, opportunity, fruit, flowers and vegetables, hand work and gift articles. Sale is Oct. 16th at the I.O.O.F. hall with doors open at 2:30.

Following the program tea was served by Mrs. Hans-Moors, Miss Ruth Dale, Mrs. Walter Wright, Mrs. B. A. Tingle and Mrs. Clarence Agoff.

Rotary District Governor Ted Atkinson and Mrs. Atkinson have been busy with official visits to the district clubs.

Last week they attended festivities at Chelan, Ellensburg and Yakima. This week they will be visiting Coulee Dam and Cashmere, Washington.

They report enjoyable visits at all points with many extra teas and activities of all kinds.

'Lay markers' appointed to help mark English papers

Summerland is easing the load of the English teachers in high school by the authorization from the trustees of School District No. 77 to appoint four 'lay markers' to assist with the broadened English course.

The Junior-Senior Secondary curriculum now emphasizes written English to a greater extent, as well as a wider choice of literature to be read, increasing the written assignments of the pupils, thus putting a heavier load on the teacher. All papers must be marked and returned to the student for correction.

The job to be done by these markers will be under the di-

Political storm brewing on fruit aid

Liberal candidate Bruce Howard told reporters Tuesday that federal assistance payments for crop losses will be distributed based on the difference between this year's crop and an average of crops in previous years.

But his announcement touched off an immediate reaction from B.C. Minister of Agriculture Frank Richter which leaves no doubt that federal and provincial officials are far from complete agreement on the payments.

Both governments had previously indicated that each would put up $4,000,000 to assist fruit growers who had suffered serious crop losses and tree damage this year.

providing the money was matched by the other government. Howard told reporters he had been assured by a "high source" in Ottawa that federal aid would total $4,000,000, and that it would be distributed according to a formula previously worked out.

But B.C. Minister of Agriculture Frank Richter wasn't so confident. He said the grant announcement is "still up in the air," and said he had sent a telegram to Ottawa informing Federal Minister of Agriculture Harry Hays that "we are absolutely opposed to an announcement unless and until a firm federal provincial agreement in writing is settled." He indicated a B.C. government proposal had "apparently" been turned down at the Cabinet level in Ottawa.

Howard said a joint announcement had originally been planned, but indicated federal officials were miffed because the provincial government "had jumped the gun" last summer in making the original announcement of aid.

Richter has been quoted as saying that Ottawa has so far delayed an announcement to "time it for political reasons." And Conservative MP Dave Pugh, though not immediately available for comment, demanded in a TV appearance last week that Ottawa make an early announcement regarding the grants.

Howard said he had been badgering Ottawa officials for weeks asking for an announcement and Tuesday told reporters the formula has been worked out, but that specific information is not yet available. He said he did not know how much of the $4,000,000 would be available for crop loss; and how much for tree replacement.

Obviously and perhaps inevitably, the matter of aid for the Okanagan Valley's winter-hit fruit growers has become a political football of the first magnitude.

And, as one grower said this week, "It will probably be kicked around so much between now and November 8th that some of the politicians will forget the original purpose of it. I just wish they'd make up their minds and then tell us what we're going to get."

Area Development headquarters to be located in Summerland

Word was received by the Review that the headquarters office and staff for the Area Development Council will be in Summerland.

This was decided at a council meeting held in Kelowna on Wednesday at which Summerland member Jim Schaeffer attended.

What the office staff will consist of was not disclosed but it was learned from unofficial sources that it may consist of a secretary and a manager or organizer.

Burrow builder setting bait

A Burrow Builder has been working in Summerland orchards east of Highway 97 during the past two weeks in an effort to rid the area of the dreaded pocked gopher who have been busy killing fruit trees.

They borrow their way down orchards, eating roots and killing, in the main trees.

The present plan is to do the orchards east of the highway first but it is planned to do all of Summerland before it leaves the area.

By JIM HUME

Peterson's Little Bombshell

Minister of Education Leslie Peterson dropped a little bombshell here this week.

Addressing the annual meeting of the Pacific Northwest Personnel Management Association he rocked his top-brass audience by telling them that they were partly responsible for today's crowded universities

As the audience visibly winced Mr. Peterson, one of the brighter lights in our Social Credit cabinet, cheerfully committed sacrilege.

"The whole business of the university degree has been overdone, more so in the United States (most of the delegates were from the home of the brave) than in this country."

After the speech was over — the audience remained attentive to the end awaiting more karate-chops — I nabbed Mr. Peterson between the potted palms that grace the stately old Empress Hotel.

"Tell me more," I asked this ever smiling young man who had dared to say that a university education is not as essential as we have been led to believe.

"After intensive study it has been revealed that only 25 per cent of our high school body should be on the university program. At present 50 per cent of the student body is on the program.

"Many youngsters (you parents reading this?) are being pushed towards the university degree as a status symbol or by unreasonable demands by prospective employers.

"My main complaint is that they start the university program but often do not have the ability to complete it. They finish up unhappy, frustrated individuals who would be much happier, much more useful, and I might say often better paid, if they were trained to do the highly skilled jobs in industry."

If Mr. Peterson had his way entrance exams for university would be toughed up, so would the courses taught.

"That way a degree would mean something," he said as an ancient tea trolley creaked by with a fresh load of crumpets.

As can be understood his unspoken implication it that the university degree today is not all its cracked up to be.

One thing should be made clear before enraged education buffs who boasted of little Tommy's degree from Nobodyflunks College start hanging Mr Peterson in effigy: he was not saying that universities should be reserved for the chosen few to the detriment of brilliant but financially poor students.

He was saying, with magnificent bluntness, that 75 per cent of our high school body just don't have the grey matter to master a tough university course. Or, if you would like it put in a little more general liking, everybody can't have a university degree neither does everybody need one.

He was also saying that the trained technician is as important, sometimes more important, to industry as the diploma — sporting white collar chap who wouldn't know a can shaft from a left handed glockenspiel.

And he was also saying that it was time somebody stopped this nonsense whereby personnel managers demand educational standards the job in question does not require.

"If the present trend should continue," said Mr. Peterson, "the day will come when you'll need a B.Sc. to be a street sweeper."

To all of which I say a loud "amen."

Summerland Review — 3

A Few Comments . . .

Mr. Pearson's campaign itinerary indicates he will only be making token appearances in large cities for the balance of his campaign. It is his obligation to make his report not only to large urban centres but to meet as many people as he can reach in the time allowed. However his not doing this should be good news to opposing parties. We think Mr. Pearson's charm is a personal one — it is a very warm one and he is missing the boat by not spreading himself around more.

In constrast, veteran campaigner John Diefenbaker is going with a full head of steam. He has four get-togethers in the Valley Saturday, including one major speech in the Peach Bowl, Penticton.

We assume he will be in Penticton overnight and it is a good bet he will be out on the streets taking his usual morning walk on Sunday morning.

The Summerland Chamber of Commerce has indicated action towards getting industry in Summerland and are ready to work with the Municipal council. The council has yet to appoint an industrial development committee for Summerland but we assume this will be done very soon.

With all the noise about the sign going up at Powell Beach Plaza and regulations regarding the placing of signs, it makes one wonder why the rural post box is placed where it is at that intersection. It is blocking the view of more oncoming traffic from the south when entering the highway from Trout Creek.

By the way, the crazy coffee kids tell us that Fred Schuman is looking high and low for a Garden Hackle. Fred is a great fly fisherman and the "birds-in-the-bush" boys say you can catch some dandies on a fly of that type. Give Fred a call if you run across one. He can't find them in his extensive fisherman's library, and the sport shops can't help him.

Charlie Bernhardt was told we could expect an announcement from Agriculture Minister Harry Hays "yesterday or today" according to his report to the Chamber of Commerce Thursday night, regarding assistance to the Okanagan. Auctioneer Harry made an announcement alright. That prairie farmers crop insurance benefits were going to increase from 20 percent to 25 percent.

Takeover of community projects

Dr. Wilf Evans brought up an interesting point at the Kiwanis last week regarding poor membership attendance and overall interest in the club.

It was suggested they did not have enough projects on the go.

The Doctor was wondering if our governments were doing so much for us in the way of community services there is little for service clubs to do.

We don't think the situation has come to an ultimate — but what the good Doctor said should give us all food for thought.

We can recall the day when we could not skate or play hockey unless we (high school students) repaired the boards on our out door rink, leveled the snow and made ice complete with lines before the town would come up with and promise of financial backing.

We can recall the day when all the work on the baseball diamond from leveling to fixing the backstop, was done by a volunteer farmer with his equipment and yearly maintenance was done by baseball players, young and old.

We can recall many hours of labor weeding and reviving an ash base tennis court each spring. We recall spring and fall clean-ups around the school yard or fixing the basketball hoop and pole, and the like.

Now much of this is done by governments which is fine but we can't help but feel that something has been taken away from us. If the work is done by those involved it is appreciated and the feeling of accomplishment is precious.

Getting back in reference to what Dr. Evans said. If people continue to make demands on government coffers, it could very well be that service clubs will lose their big daddy to do it. This is deterioration.

Going a little further. Service organizations continue to do much in the way of welfare but every year there is less and less of this to do because of our government welfare programs.

Not that we don't feel that governments should not help those who are less fortunate — but there are thousands riding this little red wagon whose needs are minimal.

The first time a government does something for us it is considered a gesture, but it is a demanded democratic from that day forward. If we continue these demands there will be little point in the existence of service clubs for anything more than for good fellowship — and they can't survive on this alone.

Diefenbaker to speak in Peach Bowl on Saturday, Oct. 16

Arthritis Blitz Thursday night

The Summerland Rebecca Lodge No. 32 along with cooperation of high school students and members of the Oddfellows lodge will carry on a one night blitz Thursday, October 14.

They will be campaigning for funds on behalf of the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society.

According to organizer, Mrs. Lloyd Shannon, this is the first time they have made their canvass in the form of a Blitz. In former years the canvassing has been done over a period of a month.

Members of the Oddfellows Lodge will provide transportation as will students of the Summerland Secondary School as well as assisting with collections.

They have requested the residents leave their veranda lights on that night so it will be more convenient for all concerned.

The Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society is a non-profit organization, financed partly by campaign and Community Chest donations, partly by patients' fees and partly by government grants.

The society exists to serve all persons suffering from arthritis and kindred rheumatic diseases. Inability of the patient to pay scheduled fees will not hinder his receiving treatment as prescribed.

In a release from the Society they say "Arthritis and other rheumatic diseases disable an estimated 285,000 Canadians of these, about 69,000 are confined to bed or wheelchair. There are about 3000 children suffering from juvenile rheumatoid arthritis in Canada today."

This disease plays no favorites — it hits children and adults alike and the Society's program is to minimize the acute phase of the disease and afterwards to keep active in later years.

Help the C.A.R.S. solve the problems of arthritis by giving generously to the canvasser calls Thursday night.

Okanagan property sales up 51%

September property sales through the Multiple Listing Service of the Okanagan-Mainline Real Estate Board topped the $2,000,000 mark this year — the largest volume of sales ever achieved by the service during September.

One hundred and forty properties valued at $2,105,525 were sold through M.L.S. in September, a 51 per cent jump over September 1964. Last year 118 properties were sold in September for a total value of $1,393,970.

For the first nine months of the current year sales now total over $15,000,000 — up 28 per cent over the same period in 1964. A total of 1,177 properties have been sold through M.L.S. this year compared with 945 in the first nine months of 1964.

Listings, the number of properties offered for sale through M.L.S., totalled 3,606 for the nine month period. Up to the end of September 1964 2,816 properties were listed with M.L.S.

THE VALLEY IS WAITING
The fruits of the orchard are laid away—
The valley is waiting, hushed and still,
For the silent, moccasin'd snow to come
Pussy-footing across the hill.

The poplar is hooded in gold again,
And the sumac fires ready and bright;
The bales are stacked, the wood is cut,
And everything ready for winter's night.

The morning pools are finger'd with frost,
And soon, too soon, the geese will fly
South to the sun, leaving only a faint
Dark signature on the sober sky.

Development of open green spaces in our national capital

(Fourth in a series)

Previous articles dealt with the reasons Ottawa, our National Capital, means so much to the nation as a whole and describe some of the work of the National Capital Commission in developing Ottawa and the 1,800 square mile National Capital Region.

All who visit the National Capital notice the abundance of open green spaces in the cities of Ottawa and Hull. It could be said that the NCC practices "open-space therapy", offering visitors — who come from all over the world — fresh and restful spots on the banks of Ottawa's watercourses.

The city of Ottawa itself does everything possible to preserve the huge elms and maples which adorn its streets and avenues. They complement the NCC's parks and floral displays, the green surroundings which lend characteristic style to any building. The NCC is determined that our National Capital will never become a jungle of asphalt and concrete where man loses his precious contact with nature. On the contrary, the master plan takes advantage of the "charm of its large wooded vistas, its picturesque canals and falls, the grandeur of its parks and monuments".

The NCC owns and maintains five parks in Ottawa and Hull and through an agreement with the city of Ottawa, it is responsible for the upkeep and care of 13 other municipal parks, including Rockcliffe Park. The open green spaces also include large tracts of land on which more than 140 Federal Government buildings are situated. The grounds are designed and maintained by NCC landscape architects and gardeners.

The National Capital Commission also looks after the planting and cultivating of most of the flower beds which adorn the Capital from early spring to the first snows. Its gardeners attend to 600,000 crocuses and close to a million daffodils. For many years now, the Canadian Tulip Festival in Ottawa has been attracting thousands of tourists. It is sponsored by the Ottawa Board of Trade in cooperation with the NCC and holds its official opening every year at the Garden of the Provinces, an NCC park symbolic of Canada's Confederation. About one million tulips arranged in flowing masses along the parkways and in the parks, make Ottawa the "tulip capital of America". Thousands of annuals following the tulips also are the responsibility of the NCC and provide a year-round symphony of colour in Canada's Capital.

Open space within the capital is further enhanced by exceptionally broad rights-of-way for driveways and parkways. At the present time, there are 21 miles of such parkways in the Ottawa area. To that must be added the Ottawa River Parkway which is on the way to completion and will run beside the river for a distance of about six miles, with overlooks and parking areas that will offer sightseers a panoramic view of the Ottawa River and of the Quebec shoreline. It will be the scenic approach to Parliament Hill from the West. The Commission also owns another 30 miles rights-of-way for future use.

Girls field hockey tournament to be held in Vernon Nov. 5 and 6

The Second Annual High School Girls Field Hockey Tournament and Clinic will be held in Vernon on November 5th and 6th, 1965. Fifteen teams represented various areas in B.C. will be playing in this Tournament. Play-offs will be held before November on Vancouver Island, In Vancouver, Fraser Valley, Okanagan Valley, and West Kootenay to declare representatives which will attend the Provincial Finals in Vernon. Thirty-three games will be played in this year's tournament. Clinics will be held for players, coaches and umpires.

Fire season in B.C. ended officially October 8

The Honourable Ray Wiliston, Minister of Lands, Forests and Water Resources, has announced that with the exception of that section of the province lying east of the Rocky Mountains, principally the Peace River area, British Columbia's 1965 fire season officially terminated October 8th.

The Minister stated: "The immediate effect of this action is to eliminate the necessity of obtaining campfire or burning permits to light a fire in or near the woods."

Although present statistics are subject to later revision, it is evident that the 1965 fire season has been a comparatively costly year, exceeding the 10-year average by a wide margin although falling short of the peak years of 1958, 1960 and 1961 when the number of fires exceeded 4.00 and costs

Sr. Girls win against Oliver

On Wednesday, Oct. 6 Summerland Sr.'s recovered from the 5-0 thumping suffered in their opener and shut out the Gren and Gold from Oliver 2-0. The game marked the return of goalie Bev Bye, who missed the opening game.

She was cool, calm, and confident and played brilliant. It was an exciting game that saw the action go up and down before Marjorie Porritt, who took a pass from Bea Young, confident and played brilliantly. It score ended 1-0 at the half.

In the second, Oliver pressed but couldn't score on goalie Bye. Then Janete Jacques scored with time running out to give Summerland an insurance goal. Summerland, holding on for the victory, evened up their record at a win and a loss.

Those seeing action in the exceeded $4 million in each year.

As of the week ending Oct. 9, a total of 2,668 fires were reported, with a fire-fighting 1,963 fires with fire-fighting average for a full season is cost of $2,417,000. The 10-year costs of $1,609,366.

ker, Ann Dean, Elaine Charles, Marilyn Tucker, Jannette Jacques, Marjorie Porritt, Bea Young, Devi Woulters and Inga Wouch.

Gerry Marsh, ex-Summerlander, was injured slightly in the game on Saturday which Summerland and Penticon played to a 1-1 draw and will probably miss the next game. — Ron Kostelnik

If Esther continues to earn this amount from her business until age 65, she and her husband, who is disabled and cannot work, can look forward to a retirement income of $104.17 from the Plan and $75 from Old Age Security—a total of $179.17 a month. When her husband receives Old Age Security, their income will be $254.17 a month.

Should Esther die anytime after 1967, having contributed until her death, her husband will receive a disabled widower's pension of $64.06 a month until he reaches age 65. At that time, or if he is already 65 when Esther dies, his pension under the Plan will be $62.50 a month plus $75 a month Old Age Security. On the death of his wife, Mr. Meyer will also be entitled to a lump sum payment of $500.

All benefits under the Plan will maintain their value. The actual benefits payable will probably be higher than those given here since benefits will be adjusted to meet changes in living costs and in wage levels before they are paid and changes in living costs after they become payable.

What will the Plan cost you?

If, like Esther, you have self-employed earnings of $5,800 a year, you will pay $158.40 a year which is 3.6% of $4,400, the maximum amount upon which contributions are payable. Payment will be in instalments in the same way you pay your income tax.

This advertisement is one of a series which relates some of the important benefits of the Canada Pension Plan to individual circumstances.

Issued by authority of the Minister of National Health and Welfare, Canada, The Honourable Judy LaMarsh.

Kiwanis to sponsor Red Cross blood donor clinic

Preliminary plans were discussed to sponsor the Red Cross blood donor clinic at the regular meeting of the Summerland Kiwanis Club.

The clinic is planned for the day and evening of Friday, October 22. Exact time will be announced later.

Lockie McKilligan, Bill Laidlaw and Jack Towgood will be the committee in charge of arrangements.

Scottie Ritchie gave a report on behalf of those who attended the Merritt charter night where a big crowd was on hand. 120 were expected and 160 turned up. The average age of the club's members is 30 years.

The annual meeting to elect officers for the coming year will be held at the October 19 meeting.

John Tamblin, Harry Hackman, Hilly Smith, Jerry Hallquist and President Lloyd Shannon attended a Vernon club meeting October 6 to assist them in starting a key club.

Fred Schumann arranged a panel for the entertainment period, headed by Past District Governor Doug Campbell. On the panel were, Bill Laidlaw, Wilf Evans, Ken Heales and Harry Hackman.

The subject discussed was attendance — and why it was not better.

Some felt the summer meetings at the Yacht Club where no entertainment was held was a factor. It was also suggested that they were not carrying on enough projects to keep the members interested with the thought in mind that a "busy member is a good member". It was also brought up that "possibly we are working on past laurels" or that the club is suffering on a downward cycle. Dr. Evans was wondering if service clubs were losing their purpose in that the governments from federal to municipal levels are doing so much in the way of community projects it is lessening the scope of club activities.

Work is progressing on new hospital

Summerland Hospital administrator Harvey Wilson says detailed work is continuing on the plans for the new hospital.

Members of the board have met with consulting engineers and electricians to discuss various specifications peculiar to hospital construction and detailed drawings are being made.

Mr. Wilson said Friday he hopes to have the plans ready for submission to Victoria by the 15th of November.

"Is government encroachment leaving us (service clubs) no real place to do the things they started to do" he questioned.

Doug Marshall felt that although these thoughts had merit, he felt there was still much for service clubs to do for communities.

Starting the meeting on time — keeping them rolling and not stopping on time was a must, all agree.

The necessity for members leaving meetings without sound reasons came under fire.

How to be Gourmet Queen of your street

Beautiful B.C. apples are here again from the Okanagan Valley, and those great international favourites — McIntosh Reds — are awaiting your pleasure. In addition to the sensation people get from just looking at the colour, or sniffing the aroma of a McIntosh Red, there is the sublime eating experience — out of hand or cooked. Today's two recipes feature ways to use apples in cooking that are a little off the beaten track. These two will set you up as the Gourmet Queen of your street.

Chili Apple Garnish

"Sharp, tangy and easy to make."
4 McIntosh Apples
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 tablespoon honey
1 cup chili sauce
Cut unpeeled apples into wedges. Melt butter in skillet. Add honey and chili sauce. Mix well. Heat until mixture bubbles. Add apple wedges and coat with chili mixture. Cook apple wedges until slightly soft, turning frequently to baste with chili mixture for 8 to 10 minutes. Remove to serving dish.

Serve hot or cold as a meat accompaniment.

Bite-size Apple Cakes

Here is a "do-it-yourself" easy fruit cake that is ready to eat when baked or just as delicious several months later.

1 15-oz. can sweetened condensed milk (not evaporated)
½ teaspoon cinnamon
1 package (14-oz.) pitted dates, finely diced
1 tablespoon honey
2 cups coconut (8-oz.) cut fine
1 cup pecans, chopped
½ cup candied cherries and pineapple, diced
1 cup finely chopped fresh McIntosh Apples

In a large bowl, mix condensed milk, cinnamon, dates, coconut, pecans. Add candied fruit, reserving part of the cherries to decorate top of cake. Blend fruit mixture with diced apples and honey. Oil small muffin pans thoroughly. Pack cake mixture in pans. Decorate tops of cakes with bits of candied cherries. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees F.) 45 minutes to 1 hour or until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Remove from pans at once. Cool before storing in closed container. Little cakes freeze beautifully and defrost in about 30 minutes. Yield 2 dozen Bite-size Apple Cakes.

Banking Bright Boys' Best Bet For The Future

"Bright, ambitious young men, looking for a career with a challenge, a satisfactory salary and advancement opportunities, can find all of these things and many more in banking," Jock Johnston, manager of the Summerland branch of the Bank of Montreal said this week.

"Best evidence that anyone with intelligence and drive can really achieve distinction can be found in the rapid rise of today's top executives of the B of M," Mr. Johnston continued.

The bank's policy of promoting from within its own ranks gives every young man who enters banking today the chance of rising to a senior executive appointment. Ability is the only consideration.

Right from the start, the B of M puts young men on a training program that forms, in effect, a series of stepping-stones to the growing responsibilities and rewards that constitute success.

Variety is the keynote of this training, with every young banker spending time in as many posts as possible in the branch. Above all, the young B of M banker is encouraged to develop his own abilities.

A chat with Mr. Johnston could be the introduction to a rewarding career in one of the most solidly established and respected fields of business today. Why not see him soon and ask him for a free copy of the B of M's careers booklet. (ADVT.)

ORCHARD RUN

by Wally Smith

Reform is overdue

Industry returns for the 1965 cherry crop are about 35 cents a pound. This is the highest figure the grower has received for a long, long time. It may even be a record.

Those growers who sold their cherries over the fruit stand for 25 cents, or to a fruit stand operator for even less money, can now see how foolish they were. If they are not kicking themselves they ought to be. The signs were out long before harvest that cherry prices would be high because of the short crop.

People who don't know any better (but should) are inclined to use last year's prices to the grower as a scale for setting this year's price on the fruit stand. They seem to think they are doing a smart piece of business if they sell to a dealer or direct to a tourist for last year's packing house price.

Growers who operated on that basis this year took a beating on cherries and pears. I don't feel a bit sorry for them.

These are the people who complain bitterly if they get what they think is a low price for fruit sold through B. C. Tree Fruits Ltd., yet they will retail fruit from a roadside stand at the same figure or even a lower figure. They don't seem to realize that at the retail outlet this fruit is worth more money, can get more money if they stand together and ask for it. So often they will make the excuse that "so and so down the road cut the price, so I had to bring my price down too."

It's about time growers who sell over the fruit stand, or to a fruit stand operator, got together and drafted some kind of a price policy. The cutthroat type of business that has been going on

Rotarians fine District governor

Three Oliver Rotarians were introduced as guests of the Summerland Club on Friday night by Earl Wilson. They were Bill Rice, Ivan Hunter and Walter Marshbank. It cost Gordon Beggs a dollar for celebrating his birthday and Chas. Denike won the draw and donated his portion of the proceeds to the swimming instruction fund.

District Governor Ted Atkinson was the object of good fun when it was suggested he pay a fine for not having a Rotary pin on. He said he was wearing it out these days on another suit. He made official visits to three Washington clubs last week, arriving home late Friday afternoon. He has two trips this week and three next.

John Holm was welcomed as a club member and inducted by past president Les Rumball. Cece Wade reported that the club had just financially "made it" in sponsoring the recent Puppet show. They were $4.00 to the good.

Charlie Greenough was the guest speaker and outlined a branch of Rotary youth work—the Interact Club. This is a club within the schools but after careful study and consultation with school officials, it was thought there were enough clubs for the number of students in the Summerland Secondary School. This includes a Key Club sponsored by the local Kiwanis Club.

Students may return home to vote

University of B. C. students who wish to return to their homes to vote in the Nov. 8th federal election will be excused from lectures and laboratories. President John B. Macdonald announced this week.

The president said the ruling applies to an estimated 2,000 students of voting age who live in UBC residences or other rented accommodation in or near Vancouver.

Students affected by the ruling will be expected to inform their instructors of their intention to return home to vote.

Where students are forced to miss laboratory periods, instructors will make arrangements for "make-up" periods later in the term if necessary.

Absent students should also make arrangements to obtain notes taken during lectures which they miss.

Trips for honor students were mentioned as well as educational entertainment such as the Puppet show. They have also assisted the Teen Town financially.

MR. AND MRS. FREDERICK EDGAR TRUSSELL

Rangers and Scouts form honor guard for Summeland couple

A double ring wedding ceremony of interest to Summerland took place in St. Michael and All Angels Church, Summerland when Mona Marie Inaba, Vancouver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Inaba of Kelowna exchanged vows with Frederick Edgar Trussell, Vancouver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick (Bud) M. Trussell of Summerland, with the Venerable Archdeacon Catchpole officiating.

Twelve Rangers and Scouts from Summerland formed a guard of honor for the former Summerland couple.

Given in marriage by her father, the lovely bride wore a floor length sheath of silk faille with scooped neckline and lily point sleeves. Her long train formed by four pleats from the back was topped with a tiny bow. Bodice silk corded leaves encircled with tiny pearls. Her head-dress was a pill box decorated with matching silk cord leaves and tiny pearls with elbow length four tier French veiling with scalloped edges.

She carried a bouquet of crescent shape pink sweetheart roses with rosebuds cascading on white satin streamers.

The maid of honour was Miss Eleanor Petch of Kelowna and the senior bridesmaids were Wendy Louise Inaba of Kelowna and Tana Trussell of Summerland. Junior bridesmaid was Donna Inaba of Kelowna.

Small bush fire stamped out Friday

The Summerland Volunteer Fire Department were called upon to put out a small bush fire on Friday night.

Municipal crews were burning right-of-way near the reservoir early in the day so it is thought a spark landed in the bush and with the aid of a little wind it caught fire.

Andy Faasse who lives near the area went over first then called for some of the Municipal crew. They felt they should ask the fire department to come out to make certain it was dead out.

According to Fire Chief McLaughlin, there was little or no damage and only burned a small area.

intentions of what they will build are made clear. The first reading of the by-law to re-zone this property was given.

Mr. Ernie Bennett addressed council requesting that the Union Jack fly at the cenotaph on Armistice Day.

He claimed the Union Jack was supposed to be used for any Empire occasions — and that Armistice Day was an "Empire Day".

He recalled the days in the trenches and the flag they were fighting for and said there would be many veterans who would not attend the Armistice Day ceremonies if a Maple Leaf flag flew that day.

Councillor Ritchie had found out through local research that it is to be the Maple Leaf, the constitutional flag, if only one flag is used but the Union Jack can fly beside it.

Council decided they would get a ruling on it from No. 1 Command Legion in Ottawa and from the Secretary of State's office. They will also confer with local Legion authorities.

The reason Mr. Bennett came to council with his request was because the Memorial Cenotaph is located on the Municipal Park.

Mr. Bennett charged that if they flew the Maple Leaf flag they would become a party to political whims but Reeve Holmes said they could not make such decisions at the request of one citizen.

"We must do what is right by law" the Reeve said, "and there is nothing political about it — and I think that is an unfair statement."

Superintendent Blagborne said vandals had smashed the centres out of 100 ft. of flume out at Garnett Valley worth about $200. "They were smashed in with a boulder", he said.

He also reported the burning of dead fall at No. 4 dam and that the flume construction out at Garnett Valley and Prairie Valley is coming along well and that they will do as much as possible before the cold weather strikes.

Council gets second thoughts on insurance cancellation

Effective July 1, 1965, the Summerland Municipal Council cancelled the general insurance coverage supplied by local agents in favor of a Vancouver brokerage firm, because they felt they could get a better coverage, for less money.

NO AGENT REFUNDS

Just as we were going to press, Municipal Clerk Gordon Smith contacted the Review stating that he had been informed by a Summerland insurance agent that they were unable to accept a refund in lieu of lost commissions with reference to the developments above.

It is contrary to the insurance act, Mr. Smith was told.

One Vancouver proposal was accepted to go into effect July 1 which was about mid-way through the contract they had with the Summerland insurance people.

With the cancellation, the corporation had a refund coming on unearned premiums from insurance companies, which included that portion of commission earned by the Summerland agents.

As a result of this, Read & Pruden sent a cheque to the corporation for $2,403.53 which represents the total unearned premium including commissions.

All the business was transacted through the Read and Pruden office but a portion of the business was handled by agents Joe Akitt and Len Wiest.

The Summerland council were not aware that the Summerland agents would be money out of pocket on cancellation of the contract so they authorized a return of commissions to the amount of $588.53.

"Councillor Powell, at the meeting Tuesday said, 'I think we should make this good because they did the work to deserve the commissions and I think it is our duty to pay up this part'. This was agreed.

POPPY DAY NOVEMBER 6

COUNCIL HAVE LAST WORD

Legion suggests Union Jack fly on Nov. 11

Thirty-seven members of the Summerland Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion met for their regular session on Wednesday evening.

President Dugal MacGregor chaired the meeting.

During the month, Secretary-Manager, Bill Brown, was forced to resign his position for health reasons. The executive held a special meeting and engaged Steve Dunsdon who carried out his official duties at this meeting.

At an executive meeting, they decided the new Canadian Flag would be carried in the November 11th parade along with the Union Jack and their own Legion flag. But the decision as to what would fly on the pole at the cenotaph in the Municipal Park presented some controversy.

Although the Summerland Municipal Council have the say regarding the flag in the park, members of the council had indicated to Mr. Dunsdon that they wish guidance from the Legion.

A letter was read from Summerland resident, E. H. Bennett requesting consideration be given the Union Jack as it is an Empire occasion, not completely a Canadian celebration. He also stated sentimental reasons.

Mr. Phillips, in a prepared statement upheld Mr. Bennett's attitude, but suggested it would save controversy if both the Union Jack and the Maple Leaf be used.

He pointed out that the annual convention in Winnipeg had decided the Red Ensign should be the recognized Legion flag and "that resolution cannot be changed unless it is done by the next annual convention."

Due to the fact there is only one flag pole at the cenotaph they felt they should decide on one.

As a result, a motion was considered flying the Union Jack made to ask the council to which was passed with only one dissenting vote and a number abstained.

It was reported that the branch consisted of 335 ordinary members (those who have associate members, 1 honorary member and 71 club members. Mr. Dunsdon, in conversation with a brewery representative, said bottled beer could be delivered to the branch one day after the strike is settled.

The breweries are set up for immediate delivery with trucks engaged to travel at night and to make deliveries in the interior the following morning. Draught beer would take longer.

President MacGregor, with assistance of L. D. White and Emil Bonthoux, installed Ernie Stearn as a new member. He served in the Navy during World War II.

The Legion have been sponsors of the Summerland Scouts for many years. Summerland have the oldest scout group in B.C. but if another leader is not found, they will have to disband.

Laurence Charles reported this to the group and asked that every effort be made to obtain a qualified leader. Other organizations in Summerland will also be contacted by mail in an effort to obtain assistance.

Eighteen members volunteered to drive cars for the annual Poppy Day drive which will be on November 6 this year. Three more are needed. They will drive scouts and cubs around the municipality while they make a door to door canvass.

President MacGregor noted there may be members wishing to attend meetings but had no transportation. If such is the case, they should phone Secretary-Manager Dunsdon and arrangements will be made.

A $10.00 donation was authorized to the Canadian National Institute for the Blind and $25.00 to the Salvation Army.

A $10.00 donation was given to the Summerland Youth Centre in lieu of their giving the branch a flag pole.

Whist drives have been carried on during winter months and the same procedure will be followed as soon as possible.

Arrangements are in the process of being made with the schools for the annual Remembrance Day essays.

Wanted: 300 blood donors

The Summerland Kiwanis Club will again sponsor the Annual Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic.

This year it will be held on Friday, Oct. 22 in the United Church Hall. They will be busy much of the afternoon and evening, starting at 1:30 and working through to 4:30 p. m. and after dinner they will carry on for another three hours from 8:30 to 9:30 to give everyone ample time to take advantage of the clinic.

Jack Towgood, Kiwanian serving on this committee said there is a certain amount of concern regarding the number of people attending the clinic.

"There are 15 to 20 faithful senior citizens forced to drop out each year due to their age and it is urgent that we replace them with new donors," Mr. Towgood said.

"I can't see why a district of this size cannot consistently produce at least 300 pints of blood at these clinics. It is such a painless way of contributing and is a most vital humane gesture," he said.

In the past, they have been able to get between 250 to 260 pints at each clinic but their aim this year is for 300.

Group convenors for the clinic are: Reception, Mrs. H. R. J. Richards; registration, Mrs. N. O. Solly; nursing staff, Mrs. I. McCuaig; refreshments, Mrs. Rex Chapman; records, Miss D. Tait.

Pope Paul VI recently commended blood donors: "As you know, it is not the first time we stress the importance we attach to this generous act consisting of a man giving part of his blood in the service to his neighbor. This is a practice of undoubted human and Christian value. We are therefore very pleased to encourage all those who adopt or promote this service."

Chamber representatives pledge support of industrial expansion

Councillor Jim Schaeffer told the Summerland Municipal Council Tuesday morning that the South Okanagan Planning Board are in the process of compiling a booklet giving pertinent information of statistics of the various areas for the use of prospective developers. This was decided at a meeting of the Planning Board last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Hlavak, owners of the home on Giant's Head Mountain that has been the target of vandals in recent months, contacted Councillor Ritchie in the hopes that some assistance from the municipality be given them for the damage they have suffered.

It was the feeling of council that the building should have been better protected by them by having someone living in the place and could not see that any of the damage was their responsibility.

Ken Blagborne reported that work on flume construction will continue as long as possible and they hope to complete Garnett Valley this fall.

The Summerland Chamber of Commerce were awarded their annual grant of $300.

Legion Secretary Manager Steve Dunsdon in a letter to council asked if it were possible for them to fly the Union Jack on November 11 and suggested that if another flagpole was available the Maple Leaf could also be used. Council visited coast and Alta. Mrs. E. Scheiler has returned from a visit to Calgary, Ponoka and Innisfail.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Miller and son spent some time with Mrs. Miller's mother and close friends in Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Davis were week end visitors at Vancouver.

Broncos setting hockey pace

The Penticton — Summerland El Rancho Broncos took first place in the Okanagan Junior Hockey League Saturday night by sidelining the Vernon Blades 7 to 4 in a come-from-behind fixture at Vernon.

Larry Palanio was the star of the show with his three goal effort and Moe Hays came close behind by blinking the light twice. Singles went to Ray Picco and Dwayne Biagianni.

The Blades were on the score sheet twice before the local boys got into the game but soon showed their opposition they made the trip to win.

Educational tour for Gr. 12 students

Secondary school principal John Tamblin told the regular meeting of the Summerland School Trustees, he has made tentative arrangements to have Grade 12 University Programme students visit various educational institutions in Vancouver October 21 to 23.

They would visit the Institute of Technology, Simon Fraser University, Vancouver City College and the University of British Columbia.

Tentative reservations had been made for the student to stay in Yorkean House on the university campus at a charge of $1.00 per night per pupil.

A 41 passenger Greyhound bus can be chartered for $314. If all the 44 students eligible for the trip go, a car will go as well. Meals will run around $10.00 he estimated and he hoped parents would see their way clear to send their children. A total of $20.00 would see them through.

Superintendent Paton said it was a wonderful opportunity for the students and highly endorsed it.

The Trustees gave Mr. Tamblin authority to go ahead with arrangements.

Trout Creek school Principal Ray McNab said they conducted a safety course in their school and it was very successful, making children highway safety conscious.

He praised the support he had from the BCMP instructed grades 1 and 2 on highway safety and showed them the proper way to cross a highway. He also expressed thanks to the community and news media for their cooperation.

He reported Miss Evans had two choir groups going in the school and was doing a fine job with them.

The board authorized Secretary Treasurer Jim Hack not to charge the Summerland Rotary Club the usual $10.00 rental for the use of the auditorium for their recent puppet show. The club looked after all of the moving of chairs and gave 500 children the opportunity to see the show. The afternoon performance was done at no charge to students from Grade 1 to 6.

The following are the bridge results of Monday night's play with nine tables taking part in a Mitchell movement.

NORTH-SOUTH — J. Small and W. Evans; Mrs. M. Berry and W. Hepperle; Mrs. I. Cartrell and J. Onushkevitch; Mr. and Mrs. R. Stewart.

EAST - WEST: G. Hepperle and A. Menu; J. Garraway and J. Wakeley; Mr. and Mrs. Locke; Mrs. McNichol and Mrs. E. Brown.

The highest temperature, 76, was reached on the first day of the month, and it went down to 36 on the 16th. There were 203.1 hours of sunshine.

JOINT ANNOUNCEMENT

Federal and provincial grower help here!

The Minister of Agriculture for Canada the Hon. Harry Hays and the Minister of Agriculture for British Columbia the Hon. Frank Richter announced jointly Tuesday arrangements for rehabilitation assistance to be granted to the fruit and grape growers of the Okanagan, Kootenay and Similkameen Valleys on account of frost last winter.

The program has been discussed with the executives of the fruit and grape growers associations.

The assistance will be in the form of payments to reimburse growers for a portion of their loss of 1965 crop returns compared to normal crop returns on a ten-year average, to rehabilitate their orchards and vineyards for loss of trees or vines killed or damaged by frost beyond reasonable expectation or recovery.

The two governments will share the costs equally and the British Columbia Department of Agriculture will be responsible for implementing the operation.

Assistance in relation to the 1965 crop will be the difference between a grower's returns for that year and seventy five percent of his average returns over the immediately preceding ten years. Appropriate adjustments will be made where there is less than a ten-year operation involved.

There will be a maximum amount of assistance per owner or set after preliminary review applications. Further, to be eligible for this part of the program an owner will be required to have at least three acres in fruit or at least five acres in grapes and shall normally receive fifty per cent or more of his income from fruit.

Rehabilitation assistance to cover a portion of the cost of replacing the fruit trees or vines killed or damaged by frost beyond reasonable expectation of recovery will amount to two dollars and fifty cents for each tree replaced to a maximum of two thousand trees per owner for all trees killed in excess of twenty-five trees and forty cents per vine replaced to a maximum of ten thousand vines per owner for all vines killed in excess of one hundred twenty five vines.

Advisory committees of the growers and industry will be appointed for the fruit and the grape program and details which need review as the program progresses will be referred to these committees for recommendation. These advisory committees will also issue, after review, information for guidance of the growers in considering the best way in which they may use the grants provided for rehabilitating their operations both in relation to cultural practice and longer term demand.

Applications and an administrative procedure to permit growers to participate will be arranged as soon as possible. It is hoped in this connection that within a month all the administrative aspects will be in operation and growers will have been notified accordingly. The ministers in a final statement indicated that they wished to thank the executives of the British Columbia Fruit Growers Association and the Association of British Columbia Grape Growers for their corporation.

El Rancho Broncs dominate opener

The Pentiction — Summerland El Rancho Broncs proved they are a team not to be taken lightly in the hockey loop this season when they trounced the Kamloops Kings by an impressive 8 to 1 count.

Moe Hays had to be counted as the big gun on the ice with his three goal performance but he had a lot of help from all his team mates. Bob Belbin was brilliant between the pipes, and Picco who each potted a and big helpers were Rebelato pair.

L. Palanio found the net for a single.

There was little doubt about the outcome after the first frame.

Moe Hays started the rally at 7:41 which was equalized by Kamloops Dale Sandvke but before the twenty minute gong went Rebelato and Palanio were in there for Bronc counters.

They went on in the second leaving the northerners staring at a 6 to 1 deficit with Hays completing his hat trick and Ron Rebelato netting his second.

Picco rubbed it in a little when he placed the puck behind Kamloops goaltender Buderick twice during the third frame.

George Brent, Dwayne Biagioni and Ken Lawson were missing from the El Rancho lineup.

There was little doubt that Broncos netminder Belbin was up for this one. He recorded 23 saves to Buderick's 13.

Next game in Pentiction is Friday night when they host het ywt ig htF nrhday noes Vernon.

JOHN TAMBLYN

John Tamblin, principal of the Summerland Secondary School, was elected president of the 1100-member Okanagan Valley Teachers' Association at its 44th annual general meeting held Saturday in Kelowna. Mr. Tamblin, an active community worker and recipient of Summerland's Good Citizenship award in 1964, succeeds Len O'Neill of Salmon Arm.

Elected vice-president was George Rands of Enderby. Other appointments made at the meeting were Ray McNabb of Summerland as public relations co-ordinator for the Okanagan Valley and Rex Mackenzie of Kelowna as secretary-treasurer.

In his retiring remarks to the teachers, Mr. O'Neill commended Okanagan Valley teachers for their contributions to both local and provincial fields of education. He vigorously attacked those who propose the idea that too much is being spent on education. "As teachers I think we have chosen to earn our living in a most difficult profession and in a most difficult time. The extent and trend of the changes in society create great pressures on teachers as well as on the students. Because of these changes and forces, we must constantly examine our position as a professional service. For example, when we live in a society that spends more on cosmetics than on education, and more on comic books than on textbooks, and when this same society complains about not being able to afford education, then we still have a great deal of work to do."

Teachers opposed recent proposals to allow non-trained people in the classrooms. A resolution expressing opposition to any attempt to institute crash teacher training programs was passed. It was stressed that a longstanding aim of the teachers is to have a certified teacher in every classroom and that the way to do this is to offer wages favorably comparable to other professions.

Trout Creek School ahead of schedule

Work is progressing well on the new addition to the Trout Creek School and according to the contractors, the job will be finished by November 15, two weeks earlier than scheduled.

This was revealed at a regular meeting of the Board of Trustees in Summerland Thursday night.

All the framing, roofing and stuccoing is complete and most of the insulation is in.

Tenders will be called for the Secondary School addition as soon as the drawings are received back from Victoria.

Letters of thanks were received from teachers, Mr. R. L. McNabb, Mrs. G. Novak, Mr. P. W. Andrew, Mrs. E. W. Sparke, Mr. W. R. Chalmers, Mr. I. B. McCuaig and Mrs. I. Reinertson for the support they have received this summer.

Mr. Tamblin was asked if the construction work being done in the school was hampering any classes. He felt it did the Industrial and Drafting classes, but the Home Ec. and Community Service courses were proceeding very well.

They have received a new Chemistry 11 course this year and the lab equipment has been slow arriving although it was ordered in June. The suppliers have had a hard time to keep up with the flow of orders.

Principal Tamblin said he was to find out something definite about the equipment in the morning. Dr. Dave McIntosh suggested they may be able to help out with some items at the research station on a loan basis. This was accepted with great appreciation. The students have been taking the course for six weeks and have had experiment training.

The manufacturing industry directly provides employment for about 1,500,000 persons.

Chambers sponsor Okanagan meet

Delegates from north and south Okanagan communities will participate in a community improvement workshop to be held at the Prince Charles Motor Inn, Pentiction, October 25, 1965.

Key speaker at the noon luncheon will be W. J. Sheridan, Assistant General Manager, Canadian Chamber of Commerce, Montreal whose topic will be "Where do we go from here?"

Afternoon session will feature a panel discussion: "Planning for community progress" under the chairmanship of Maurice P. Finnerly, Mayor of Pentiction. Panelists will be: E. G. Rash-leigh, executive director, B.C. division, Community Planning Association of Canada; V. J. Wieler, director, Central Okanagan Regional Planning Board; J. L. Northey, director, South Okanagan Regional Planning Board; Lionel Mercier, Community Planning Association of Canada; Don South, director, regional planning division, Department of Municipal Affairs, government of British Columbia.

Summerland Review — 3

A Few Comments

Pretty dull school trustee meeting on Thursday night. Dr. Dave McIntosh and Mr. Ken Boothe didn't disagree once. These fellows have been making good news copy in recent weeks. More controversial figures like Dave and Ken are needed in public office. They bring all the facts to the fore. Do they get along? Sure; they are good friends with a lot of respect for each other.

A reader agreed with us that the rural mail box is misplaced at the intersection in Trout Creek, but she wondered why we didn't mention the telephone booth to the north. It obstructs the view of oncoming traffic too. Course it is difficult to pick out among the maze of poles and signs, so you can hardly blame us.

We wonder who the culprit was who very carefully knocked the name off the cenotaph which is obvious in a picture elsewhere in this issue. Whoever did, certainly didn't realize the disrespect involved. It is to be hoped there will be no repeat performances. We would like to believe the letters fell off, but this is doubtful.

The editor of the Penticton Herald took the Oliver Chronicle to task in the choice of words in a recent headline regarding area development promotion (a head and story written by this editor which also ran in the Review), so we will take exception with the choice of words in Friday's issue: "Rowdies at Arena Concern Parents." They are not rowdies; they are boys and girls just like present day editors were at one time. In our many years of association with arenas and skating rinks I do not know of a single year when strict order and discipline was not necessary in the early stages of the season. Excitement reigns and often the youth are carried away. They are not ruffians as implicated. They do not need straight jackets or the whip—only guidance. I can recall the day when I needed it too. Possibly still would if I could skate as fast as I used to.

A Humane Gesture

No one can argue the fact that the work the Canadian Red Cross is doing for humanity in organizing blood donor clinics across the land is beyond question.

Whenever you, or a member of your family may be in hospital and need blood, you get it free of charge. But the very fact that it is available in our time of need should be enough to encourage us to give.

There was a time not long ago when we were charged $25.00 a pint for it but through the efforts of the Red Cross and cooperation with local organizations this is no longer the case.

But they are always short. If everyone gave who could, there would be an ample supply of the life giving fluid for you or a member of your family when it is needed.

They need an average of one bottle of blood every fifteen seconds of every working day to maintain an adequate supply of whole blood and blood products. More than 800,000 bottles will be required for transfusion therapy for patients in Canadian hospitals during the year.

There have been many faithful givers in Summerland over the years who have reached the age limit of 65 so we must make sure the younger generation steps in to fill the gap.

Like Jack Towgood told us, "It is a painless way of contributing and is a most vital humane gesture."

The clinic is at the United Church Hall 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. and 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. on Friday night. The Kiwanis Club are sponsoring the clinic and have set their goal at 300 pints. Won't you help?

HOME FROM SCHOOL

School bus driver Ed Sandbach has again brought Laurie Hughes, left, and Cathy Gingell safely home after another school day is complete. Cathy and Laurie are among the children who are taken each day to the Happyvale School in Penticton. The Summerland Handicapped Association are currently on a fund campaign to assist in bus expenses. They need your support. The bus is made available by Penticton Women's organization.

Comedy and fun featured at soccer ball Friday

by Ron Kostelniuk
Summerland Secondary was the scene of the Soccer Ball held Oct. 15, from 8:30 to 12:00. The show started off with music from tapes, provided by the Key Club, and popular records such as Last Time and Satisfaction (I Can't Get No) by the Rollingstones. Old records played included Memphis by Johnny Rivers.

At 9:30 the skits got under way with the M. C. being Ken Butchowski. The first one was presented by the Sr. Soccer Club which featured Ken Butchowski as a roving reporter, Dale Stevenson as James Bond, and also Ron Reinertson and Bill Fitzpatrick. The Deadbeats, featuring Norm Stein and Doug Trussel, then performed.

The last skit was the Ed Sullivan Hour, presented by the Sr. Grass Hockey team. It featured Leo Bonthoux as Ed Sullivan who introduced the act of Jan and Dean (Janice Beggs and Ann Dean), and an interview with the Italian mouse, Toppogejoe, (Bea Young).

Sandwiches were served and at 12:00 the dance was over. It was a good dance, and well attended.

Association for handicapped children ask for your support

The Summerland Association for Handicapped Children have mailed letters of appeal to all residents.

The letters ask for participation in the partial costs of operation of a school bus which brings the children to the Happyvale School in Penticton.

Grants are given by Summerland and Penticton School Districts toward the operation of the school as well, but local and Penticton organizations also assist. The bus is supplied by Penticton women's groups.

According to association executive members, if this cooperation was not received, Summerland would be faced with the problem of educating their children on their own at a much greater expense.

Canadian Credit Unions growing rapidly

OTTAWA, Oct. 1965—Credit unions in Canada in 1964 reported assets of $2.2 billion and a membership of 3.4 million or almost 18 percent of the nation. The most rapid growth in these societies took place after World War II, says a report compiled by the Co-operatives Section of CDA's Economics Branch.

In 1950 there were 2,965 credit unions in all Canada with assets of $312 million and a membership of one million. By 1958 credit union assets rose to $1.0 billion and in 1964 assets reached $2.2 billion. In 1965 10 percent of all credit unions had assets of over one million dollars each. Sixty-seven percent of all societies had assets of under $250,000.

Loans and mortgages outstanding increased by 18 percent to reach $1.5 billion in 1964. Loans granted in 1964 amounted to $914 million, an increase of 19 percent over 1963. Loans granted over the last ten years showed an average yearly increase of 17 percent. Business activity of the small loan companies has been growing at about the same rate as that for credit unions.

Savings (shares and deposits) increased by 14 percent over 1963 to reach $2.0 billion in 1964. The average savings per credit union member was $579. Quebec accounted for a substantial part of credit union statistics with 56 percent of the total assets, 58 percent of the savings and 54 percent of the membership.

The types of credit unions in 1964 were distributed, on a percentage basis, as follows: occupational 37, rural 34, urban 17, and other 12.

The percentage of non-rural types continued to increase over the rural type. In 1950 the non-rural types accounted for 42 percent but in 1964 they accounted for 66 percent.

In addition to the local credit unions there were 28 centrals serving them. Membership in the centrals consists of credit unions and co-operatives: These societies report assets of $303 million, loans and mortgages outstanding of $103 million and shares and deposits together of $263 million in 1964. Loans granted by centrals in 1964 amounted to $266 million, an increase of 23 percent over the previous year.

'38 school payroll of $1750 authorized by S'land trustees

The trustees of the Summerland School District authorized the payment of $1,750.27 at a recent meeting, representing the salaries for teachers and janitors for the month. That is, if February 28, 1938, is a recent meeting.

This was the information as indicated on a form in the school district office.

The principal's salary was $199.50 per month, and the teachers were getting from $80 to $147.00. The secretary's paycheck was $25.00, while the janitor received $50.00. The music teacher must have been on a part time basis as he got only $14.00.

In contrast, the Board of Trustees authorized the payment of $37,164.12 on Thursday night, representing the staff payroll for the current month.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Reader supports council pay raise

Dear Mr. Editor:
Firstly, and in a serious vein, may I express my appreciation for the scope that your editorials deal with the affairs of our community.

In a recent issue you brought to your readers attention the serious situation with regards to the compensation of our reeve and councillors. I applaud your reasoning as it has long been my contention that these citizens who are giving so ably of their time should be compensated the maximum allowed by the Municipal Act. At least these men are not getting paid for absenteeism which seems so prevalent in our federal government.

Secondly, and in a lighter vein, your concern with regards to my recent dilemma in obtaining a "Garden Hachel Fly" for my collection. This exceptional lure was first brought to my attention by an able counterpart in the person of Slim Pennington who was a bot vague in his description. After a great deal of research I have learned that while this particular bait is quite plentiful through the summer months it becomes very scarce in the fall and almost impossible to obtain in the winter months.

I am sure that the crazy coffee kids who so avidly play "Birds-in-the-Bush" at my expense will be pleased to learn that I now have a good supply on hand, and will try their effectiveness for ice fishing this winter.

Thanking you for this valuable space.

—FRED SCHUMAN

Don't bicker, attend

Dear Sir,
I was very sorry to read that in Mr. Ernie Bennett's opinion "that there would be many veterans who would not attend the Armistice Day Cerimonies if a Maple Leaf flew that day".

If Mr. Bennett attends the Service to do homage to a flag I think he is attending for the wrong reason.

I hope and pray 1st War Veterans, 2nd War Veterans and civilians alike go to the service to:

- 1 Give thanks to those who sacrificed their lives for us.
- 2 remember the dead of all nations.
- 3 vow there must never be another war.

As to the Maple Leaf flag, how can we teach our children to be proud of being Canadian if we reject our flag?

If we could see all Canadians at the Cenotaph regardless of their country of origin, if we could welcome those of German or Japanese or Italian stock, if we could all go to dedicate ourselves to Peace—then we would have progressed.

I have deeply personal reasons for attending the service, but I always feel so sorry for those who remain indoors Remembrance Day — or go hunting— or drive by sounding car horns—

Let us all be there for the right reason — for Peace.

Girl Guide and Brownie News

That the leaders of the Guides and Brownies attach great importance to the step which a brownie takes when she enters the sisterhood of Girl Guides was evident at the Youth Centre on Tuesday evening, October 12th. Much thought and careful preparations had been put into the "Fly Up" ceremonies.

Mothers of the brownies and one brave father, watched as the ceremonies unfolded in which seven Golden Hand brownies, prepared to "fly up" turn, explained to the parents some phase of the tests which she had taken to earn her Golden Hand.

Following this, by candle-light provided by a large circle of some sixty brownies, each holding a lighted candle, Shirley Weeks, Donna Mae Bourne, Joy Chalmers, Meredith Hack, Susan Clark, Maureen Millmore and Dale Charles walked down a pathway banked by autumn flowers to be challenged at the gateway, before entering into the horseshoe formation of Guides. No doubt the beauty and significance of this evening will be something that these little girls will remember always.

These new guides now bring the membership of the local company to thirty-three.

Guide Captain, Miss Enid Maynard, reports that twelve guides have recently passed their history tests for their first class certificates.

Patrol leaders have been voted on and six patrols are now established.

Each patrol has taken advantage of the fine fall weather to plan and hold a hike and cook-out.

A credit union is an organization in which the members save together, receive dividends, and lend the money at low rates to members who need to borrow. As owners and operators of the credit union, the members receive many special benefits which help them live better, fuller lives.

On International Credit Union Day, the third Thursday of October, millions of credit union members throughout the free world pause to recognize the many ways in which they are helped by their credit unions.

In B. C. today there are 300 credit unions — at least one in every major community. If you are not a member ask for details from your nearest credit union.

Singing in choirs for over 70 years

Walter Cook was honored with a presentation following choir practice in the Anglican Church Thursday.

Mr. Cook (over 80 we are told) has been singing in choirs since he was 10 years old and had decided it is time to lay the book down.

According to Rev. Norman Tannar his voice quality is still very good, but finds it difficult to stand during the singing.

Rev. Tannar presented him with a picture of the church.

Miss Everdien Wouters of Vancouver and her fiancé Mr. Mark Bawtinheimer of Abbotsford were week end visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Wouters.

Bridal shower held for Darlene Campbell

Miscellaneous shower held for Darlene Campbell whose marriage to Alan Forsdick took place on October 16, was held at the home of Mrs. Bud Green on October 6. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Mable Brown, and Mrs. Pearl Reid. Mrs. Pearl Gibbard decorated cakes as Bride, Bridesmaid and Flower girl. These were presented to the bride.

Guests were asked to complete the story of the Bride's life, by adding adjectives to the narrative, after which the gifts were presented in a decorated basket.

Mrs. Loretta Schumann and Mrs. Maxine Brennan won prizes in a short game, and luncheon was then served.

Those present were the bride's mother, Mrs. D. Campbell, grandmother, Mrs. Mildred Campbell, Miss Judy Brown, Mrs. Una Inglis, Mrs. B. Fell, Mrs. Engles, Mrs. B. Raincock, Mrs. E. Kropinske, Mrs. J. Hill, Mrs. P. Gibbard, Mrs. W. Senger, Mrs. G. Lewis, Mrs. A. Arnold, Mrs. Lil Smith, Mrs. D. McInnes, Mrs. B. Daniels, Mrs. L. Schumann, Mrs. L. McKecknie, Mrs. Mortimer, Mrs. M. Brennan, Mrs. M. Bennett will have the knife out for Liberal Art Laing

While the present election campaign has already been described as the dullist in years, there is one major sideline battle shaping up in British Columbia.

It's an old fight—even a marathon—with, so far, Premier Bennett and his minions three time winners of earlier skirmishes.

Students of politics will remember a dozen years ago that Arthur Laing, now minister of northern affairs, was then leader of the provincial Liberals.

There was no love lost between Mr. Bennett and Mr. Laing and during the campaign that saw Mr. Bennett assume the premier's mantle threats and counter-threats were issued with gay abandon on the hustings.

When the dust cleared Mr. Bennett was preparing his first throne speech and Arthur Laing was a leader without a seat in the legislature.

Not many years after the people went to the polls again with Arthur Laing astride his favorite charger. Once again he was going to bury Mr. Bennett.

Alas for the Liberals. Mr. Bennett won again triumphantly burying Mr. Laing. The vendetta continued until, with many a helping hand from our gleeful premier, Mr.

Laing finally gave up his leadership post to make way for Ray Perrault.

Then came some quiet years for Mr. Laing who retired from the public scene and appeared to have agreed that he was no match for Mr. Bennett and his well oiled Sacred machine.

Came the federal election of a couple of years ago and the return of the Liberals to power in Ottawa. Mr. Laing rode in on the Pearson band-wagon to represent Vancouver South and win a spot in the Pearson cabinet.

His cup, if not running over, was at least full. He'd made it to Parliament Hill and was happy.

But Premier Bennett has a long memory. He ignored Mr. Laing in the last election, apparently presuming the off-defeated didn't stand a chance. This time around the premier does not intend to make the same mistake.

Mr. Laing is in for a rough ride from now until Nov. 8.

As if to make up for past omissions Mr. Bennett will not be the lone attacker this time. He's rung in Highways Minister Phil Gagliardi, Municipal Affairs Minister Dan Campbell and Recreation and Conservation Minister Ken Kiernan.

Last week they launched their first attack and it was a howler.

Said Mr. Gagliardi: "This fellow Laing is not a friend of B. C. He's our enemy. He's stealing the resources of B.C. and trying to get his cotton-picking hands on our offshore oil rights."

Quoth Mr. Kiernan: "Mr. Laing's offer of unlimited federal funds to develop Garibaldi Park if the provincial government turns it over to the federal government and builds access roads is vague and included heavy costs for the provincial government."

Mr. Campbell slapped at the beleaguered federal minister this way, his topic being a Laing announcement on northern road building: "It's interesting to see that he's suddenly caught the northern vision."

"But we haven't asked for $100 million. All we are asking for is half of $15 million."

Conservatives hail "The Chief" in Penticton

by Al Siaben

Saturday night was a dramatic night in the history of politics in Penticton, particularly for the residents of the Okanagan and for people from the four corners of the province.

The actor in the drama that unfolded in the spacious Penticton Peach Bowl was John George Diefenbaker, leader of the Progressive Conservative party and leader of the Opposition in the House of Commons, Ottawa.

The players were the estimated 1,800 people who crowded into the Peach Bowl to hear Diefenbaker. By 8:00 p.m., a half hour before Diefenbaker was due to appear there were close to 1,000 people in the hall. By 8:15 the seats were all taken and by the time the "Chief" arrived more than 400 people had lined the side aisles and the back of the large convention room and stood there throughout the two-hour programme.

I watched them as they hurried into the Peach Bowl to get a seat. They came from the North Okanagan, from the South Okanagan, from the East and West Kootenay, from the northern riding of Kamloops and from Vancouver and many other points too numerous to mention.

There were old people, middle-aged people, young people and very young people. Some were elegantly gowned, some came in blue jeans. One came wearing a football helmet. And they were happy people. There was back-slapping, smiles and laughter. They were tense and you felt that you could almost touch, feel the air of expectancy that filled the foyer and the hall.

And when the "Chief" arrived, piped in to the tune of "For He's A Jolly Good Fellow" the 1,800 people rose in mass and gave him a standing ovation.

And when he spoke there was wrapt attention, there was laughter and there were moments of hushed silence—when the audience hung on every word, every pause from the "Chief".

And Diefenbaker was oblivious to the flashing bulbs and the parade of photographers as they sought to capture him in his ever-changing moods of joviality, of anger and of deep emotion.

And at the press table some reporters sat and wrote in wrapt attention, others listened listlessly, one I saw dozing. And there was a journalist from Vancouver, I believe, who tried to ridicule the "Chief" who at times called on God's help, who at times, choked with emotion, called for a new Canadianism, for a new greatness for Canada — and I thought to myself, "It was a very small mind indeed when a small man thinks he can ridicule a man of greatness".

His Message
Diefenbaker brought a three-fold message to his listeners. He set out to prove that his government was right when they were in power; he appealed to the conscience of the nation to return honesty to the government of Canada and promise immediate assistance to the aged and needy and to the young people he promised the opportunity to get the education they so rightly deserve.

He promised to repeal the tax on building materials and set up a department of Youth Affairs. And he promised honest government.

Man of humour
"This is my fifth trip to the Okanagan to help in election campaigns and sometimes I believe I've been too successful," he said, "I helped campaign for W. A. C. Bennett, you know," he said with a smile "and you know where he is now".

"I love to meet the Canadian people, that is why I travel. I wouldn't think of staying in Ottawa as someone else does," he said, referring to Prime Minister Pearson.

"You've seen the caricatures of me," he said at another point. "Well, one woman came up to me and said, 'you look much better than your pictures.'" "What a greater compliment could I get?" he asked.

He condemned the Liberal government for keeping silent on the question of aid for the fruit growers. "Mr. Pearson," he said, "is going around putting up new skating rinks, but who," he asked, "is he going to get to water all these rinks with Rivard in jail?"

He spoke of being maligned, ridiculed and even scorned, "But I never complained. I stood my ground. You cannot be in disgrace. "When I met him in Ottawa in 1941 I said to the face of principles," he said, "I saw charged vehemently. And he related of having first seen Winston Churchill when he was in disgrace. Which time was that?"

WHEN HOUDINI FAILED

Houdini, the magician and escape artist, could get out of any jail, handcuffs, or straight jacket — all except one, so the story goes.

That one place was a little jail in the British Isles. Houdini worked at the cell lock for more than two hours. He worked with that terrific speed that usually unlocked doors in thirty seconds, but he could not get the lock to spring.

Finally, tired out by his strenuous efforts, he fell exhausted against the door. It swung open. It had never been locked.

Life is something like that, isn't it? We build up in our minds barriers that do not exist. We lock ourselves up in the jail of future by doubts and fears that live in our imaginations.

Some of us have stopped trying because of past failures. We think that the door to success has been locked against us. Maybe if, instead of sitting down and giving up, we just leaned against the door, it would swing open — Contributed.

COMING EVENTS

Order at the SUMMERLAND REVIEW

Summerland school officials signed a Janitors' Union agreement Thursday night after months of negotiations. The contract will be in effect until the end of 1966.
Negotiations started with the union's business agent in November of last year, but talks broke down so it went to a conciliation board who offered a settlement. This too, was not acceptable to the Summerland trustees and was consequently rejected.

The conciliation board contract was also rejected by Vernon but accepted by Penticton and Kelowna.
On the completion of procedure as outlined by the Labor Relations Act, the local board were able to enter into talks with their employees which, by law, they were not able to do until this time.

From reliable sources we learned that local union members had no knowledge of what was going on during negotiations except what they obtained through the press.

"The cooperation we had from the Summerland janitors was nothing short of wonderful" Trustee Bob Barkwill told the Review on Friday. "The talks were friendly and it took only a short time for us to come to a mutual agreement."

They were given a five per cent increase retroactive to January 1, 1965, and will receive an additional five per cent for 1966.
Janitor engineers will go from $332.50 at present to $349.00 this year and to $366.50 during 1966. Janitors go from $312.50 to $338.00 to $344.50, and women sweepers go from $242.50 to $254.50 to $267.50.

During school they work from 4:00 p.m. to 12 midnight with a half hour off for lunch, and during the summer holidays they put in a regular eight hour day.
In addition to the increase in wages they were awarded double time for Sundays and holidays which was formerly time and a half.

Pre-schoolers are offered dental care

Dentistry is being offered at bargain prices in Summerland for pre-school children, but few are taking advantage of it according to School Secretary Treasurer Jim Hack.

This annual program, conducted by the Summerland School District with the co-operation of the Health Branch offers dental services to all children who will begin grade one next term.

The cost is only $3.00 per child, but there have been few applications to date. All work is done by Summerland dentist Dr. Ratzlaff.

School trustees are concerned by the few applications and hope more will take advantage of this.

Contact Mr John Cook, principal of the MacDonald school, or Mr. Ray McNab, principal of the Trout Creek school, by phone and arrangements will be made for your child to take advantage of this service.

Meierhoffers enjoy tour of Europe

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Meierhoffer and their daughter Sigra cannot say enough about the enjoyment they had on their recent European tour, but the highlight of it all was the trip across the Atlantic on an ocean liner.

Hans told the Review: "You have something to do from the time you get up until you go to bed."

At the same time he said it was the only time they had to relax during the six weeks trip. They visited relatives in Australia where Hans has two brothers in business—and business is good. Mr. Meierhoffer said one brother who is in the roofing business turned down two jobs on the phone during a short visit he had with him in his office.

There is no unemployment, and the wage to cost of living ratio is comparable to here. There is a scarcity of manpower in every field.

While away they visited, in addition to West Germany, Switzerland, Italy, Austria, Germany, Holland, and France. They flew home.

Sigra liked it so well she may go back next year to work.

Christmas Tree Farming

One branch of agriculture of which we in the Okanagan hear very little is Christmas tree farming. The harvesting of Christmas trees on a fairly large scale is carried on in parts of British Columbia, but it differs from the long range planned Christmas tree farming found in some of the eastern provinces, particularly Ontario.

The Christmas tree business in B.C. is chiefly confined to a harvesting operation. Where the mountain slopes of this province have been logged off or destroyed by fires, millions of young fir and spruce have germinated, taken root, and started to rear their spiny heads toward the clouds. Where not too crowded, these make very acceptable Christmas trees.

In Ontario Christmas tree production has been developed on a more highly organized scale.

The industry there began to take shape seriously about 20 years ago when wild growing balsam fir and Douglas fir were superseded by plantation species such as Scotch pine, said to be a better tree, because it holds the needles longer.

The tree business took its lumps in the 1950's when a magazine ran an article saying, in effect, that anyone with a few hundred dollars could make a lot of money by getting into the Christmas tree business.

Millions of trees were planted by amateurs anxious to make easy money but not caring a whit about good forestry practices such as shaping the tree and waiting for several years to produce a decent tree for sale.

There was a glut of trees; retail buyers became more and more disenchanted as quality fell to a low level, and that provided the opportunity for the youthful artificial tree industry to make inroads into a market which had reigned unchallenged for years.

Faced with the basic chores of pruning, spraying, cleaning, and fencing, most of the amateurs pulled out and left their trees to grow wild.

About this time the Christmas Tree Growers Association of Ontario was organized with long term goals of quality, grading, good marketing and, ultimately, a co-operative.

Dr. W. W. Breslin, president of the association, says they are not worried about artificial tree competition. "We don't suggest that people do not want them," said Dr. Breslin, "but an odd fact of this market is what the areas where people could literally take an axe and go down the road to get a good Christmas tree — such as the Maritimes — are helping boost sales of artificial trees.

"But the places where real Christmas trees cannot be grown — such as Trinidad or Bermuda — insist on buying the genuine article. They want quality too."

Diefenbaker lashes out at Liberals

By KEITH BERGH

"We have an appointment with responsibility" thundered Opposition Leader John Diefenbaker to a capacity crowd in the Penticton Peach Bowl Saturday night.

Much of his speech was similar to those made previously on his campaign trail, but that phrase sounded new to this reporter. He used it at a time when absolute silence reigned over the crowd of some 1,600 to make his point after making denunciations of the Pearson government.

Mr. Frank Haar of Summerland was the chairman.

Standard bearer, Dave Pugh charged the Liberal government with neglect over the fruit situation.

"In Ontario and Quebec when they had a drought, they received immediate attention, why can't we get it here?" he said. "You (the orchardists) cannot plan ahead if you don't know where you are going."

Chairman Haar introduced his former business associate, Dave Fulton who referred to Mr. Diefenbaker as "my leader" er" on a number of occasions undoubtedly to impress upon the crowd and the press gallery that he was not contesting the leadership.

Mr. Diefenbaker recalled he had been campaigning in the Okanagan on behalf of Dave Pugh for the last five five elections — "in fact, years ago, I campaigned for Bennett in the Valley too," he added with a grin.

"We told you the truth for six years — there was no suggestion of dishonesty," the Opposition Leader emphasized as he attacked the Liberals. "I was told I was stubborn and antagonistic. A Prime Minister must take a stand!" he shouted.

Referring to the charges against the Liberal party he said "never has a government been involved in so many things, involving so many people in such high places."

He promised his government would not charge the 11% sales tax on building materials and production machinery and that homeowners' municipal taxes up to $500 will be deductible for federal income tax purposes and would increase per capita university grants from $2 to $5. Old age pensions will be increased to $100 per month.

Local Teen Town on the move

As was reported two weeks ago, Summerland Teen Town's Bottle Drive was very successful. Over $100.00 was collected and with this in hand, the poverty-stricken S.T.T. has been given a lift and things are looking up.

S.T.T. sponsored a "Platter Party" in the I.O.O.F. Hall, Saturday, October 16. To put it mildly, it was a tremendous success. Close to two hundred people were present, a near record for S.T.T. Teens from Kelowna, Penticton, Oliver and other points attended, and perhaps the only problem which arose was the fact that a bigger hall would have been in order.

CKOK's D.J. Wayne Barry was emcee and his performance was nothing short of sensational. Top hits, flashbacks and a fine, newly formed band from Penticton seemed to satisfy everyone. Concerning the "new look", it can only be said that it started off with a great big, loud bang!

Everyone please note: Summerland Teen Town will be having another "Platter Party" in the very near future so read this column in following weeks as to the time and place; we will keep you posted.

Oliver Teen Town will be sponsoring a "Platter Party" Saturday, October 30. S.T.T. is presently thinking of forming a "Car Caravan" to attend this dance. Anyone interested may contact Miss Betty McInnis for further details.

The C.A.R.S. Drive was held last Thursday, October 14, in which S.T.T. played a leading role. The Rabecas organized the operation and provided the transportation for the blitz.

Editor, lawyer fined at Rotary

It cost Keith Berg and Frank Haar a bit of change Friday night for not wearing their badges at Rotary.

We wouldn't say District Governor Ted Atkinson had anything to do with it, he was only sitting beside Joe Akitt when Joe suggested Sheriff Wilson do his duty. But he seemed amused (in a friendly way of course) when it happened to this writer possibly because when the same thing happened to him last week it seemed like a good choice for a headline.

Birthday greetings were sung for Mel Hyde and Dave McInnis.

Spanish life at camera club

by Herb Simpson

The Summerland Camera Club held two very interesting meetings during October. The first, on October 7, featured a series of slides by Mrs. Robbie Bowser of the New Westminster Camera Club on Churches of America, and at the regular monthly meeting on October 12, Mrs. T. M. Croll showed an excellent set of slides taken during her visit to Spain last winter.

Mrs. Bowser had pictures ranging from small Indian Missions to the great Mormon Tabernacle in Salt Lake City. The show was complete with taped commentary and appropriate music, and was greatly appreciated by the members and guests who attended the meeting.

Mrs. Croll's show featured the every day life of the Spanish people in the cities and country, and her comments on their habits and customs were most interesting.

Ever since the club was organized, the election of officers has taken place at the October meeting. This has now been changed to January, as most of the inter-club slide shows commence in the fall, and it was felt that the October elections did not give the new executive a chance to organize the club for entry into these competitions.

Motorist lucky to hit a hole

Charles Buholzer of Golden went to light a cigarette and landed in the ditch on Highway 97, three miles south of Peachland last week.

During the process he went to the left of the road and came over to the right and over a 50 foot bank. Luckily his journey down was stopped by a deep hole a few feet from the road surface but he did about $250 worth of damage to his car.

He was charged with driving without due care and attention.

Summerland RCMP had the radar going on Gulch Road and through Trout Creek over the weekend and caught 19 speeders.

What's your stand on Mutual Life's low net cost record?

Mr. McIntosh
I didn't even know they had one!

Interviewer
Let me explain: net cost of a life insurance policy means how much money you get out compared to how much money you put in. Mutual Life policies, in the long run, are out in front.

Mr. McIntosh
Is that so?

Interviewer
Right! And The Mutual Life has maintained this enviable record for some years now.

Mr. McIntosh
How come?

Interviewer
Lots of factors... including a consistently high annual dividend.

Summerland students to exchange with U.S. group

During the week of Nov. 7 to 14, exchange students from Chelan, Wash. will be attending the Summerland school and four from there will go to Chelan.

This project, sponsored by the Summerland and Chelan Rotary Clubs was announced by committee chairman Charlie Greenhough at the Summerland meeting Friday night.

Those that will go from Summerland have not been announced.

The Washington students will stay at the homes of Rotary members and will be taken on tours of the area as well as provided other entertainment.

Summerland residents will have the opportunity to hear the Gonzaga University Choir on April 14th.

This choir from Spokane is well known throughout the northwest. A number of members had heard them and stated they were very good so the Rotary will sponsor an appearance here, possibly in the MacDonald School Auditorium.

Guest speaker was Dr. Catherine H. Bailey, from New Jersey who is exchanging with Dr. Karlis Lapins of the Research Station for a year.

She spoke on the breeding of peaches and said that over the past 50 years, there have been 75 varieties produced, some of which are not grown now.

She showed slides of peach varieties that were yellow, yellow and white, white and one that was red.

Next meeting will be the official District Governor Ted Atkinson's visit.

Wilson to encourage preservation

A guest speaker to the Summerland Chamber of Commerce will give a talk and show slides of park possibilities in the Okanagan.

At their November 4th meeting, Victor Wilson who has long been an advocate of the preservation of Fairview and increasing public park facilities, will make the chamber members aware of what could be done by way of pictures and commentary.

It will be held in the IOOF Hall starting with dinner at 6:30. The pictures will be shown after the regular business meeting.

Canadian flag to fly November 11

It will be the Maple Leaf flag flying on the pole in the park at the cenotaph on Remembrance Day—Thursday, November 11.

The Summerland Council had asked for guidance from the Secretary of State, Ottawa and Legion Command, Ottawa.

In a letter, the Legion Command said they were in a difficult position in that they were bound by the 1964 convention to recognize the Red Ensign as their official flag but on the other hand they were also bound to foster loyalty towards the country.

They said the issue is causing some conflict among their branches, but said the new flag—especially when there is only the one pole—would be acceptable.

The Deputy Registrar General of the State Department said although they have not been given direction to municipalities in this regard but indicated that the Canadian flag must not be replaced by any other.

Summerland Legion had requested the Union Jack be used as well as the Maple Leaf if another pole could be provided.

In view of the information from Ottawa officials, council felt they should use the new Canadian flag on Nov. 1.

Summerland man drives in lake after blacking out

A Summerland man blacked out and landed in the lake while driving his car on Hwy. 97 south of Summerland Friday afternoon.

George Andrew Wilson, travelling north on a straight stretch of road below Summerland Hill, apparently blacked out, drove along the shoulder of the road for 180 feet before going into the lake in about two feet of water. The rear of the car was about seven feet from shore when he stopped.

Damages to the car was estimated at $200. Mr. Wilson was taken to the Summerland Hospital suffering from bruises.

Penticton and Winfield declared tournament winners

By Ron Kostelniuk

The Junior and Senior Grass Hockey teams competed in the grass hockey tournament held in Vernon on Saturday but didn't fare very well. They won one out of five games played, with the Juniors winning that one. The Seniors took a 5-0 thumping from Salmon Arm in their first game and lost 3-0 in overtime against Kelowna in their second and final game.

They were outplayed, especially in the Salmon Arm game but pressed hard against Kelowna, sparked some great saves by goalie, Bev Bye, to go into overtime and having three goals scored against them. Summerland competed along with Penticton, which won the senior championship, Salmon Arm, Kelowna, Kamloops, Armstrong, Winfield, and Vernon. Those playing for Summerland were Bev Bye, Rita Rusaw, Bea Young, Judy Brown, Janice Beggs, Ann Dean, Janette Jacques, Divi Wouters, Sue Wilson, Elaine Charles, Marilyn Tucker and Donna Taylor.

The Juniors, on the other hand, finished third in the four team competition, which was won by Winfield. Summerland absorbed their first defeat of the year when they lost to Winfield 2 to 0 in their first game. They won their second game on account they had few or penalties when the regulation time score against John Peterson (Kamloops) ended 1 to 1 and no goal was scored in overtime.

Ghina Storey's goal which tied the score at 1 to 1 proved to be the only goal scored by Summerland all day. In their final game, they outplayed Vernon but fell on the narrow end of a 1 to 0 score.

Donna Biogioni and Katie Evans shared the goal-keeping job for Summerland. Those seeing action for Summerland were (along with Biogioni and Evans) Shelvey Erikson, Lorraine Kropinski, Kay Fenwick, Kathy Caldwell, Josephine Andrucci, Linda Dean, Ghina Storey, Nancy Barkwill, Carolyn Norris, Jean Pelletier, Lilian Tucker, Lorraine Bennett, and Patty Stevenson, who hurt her leg in the second game.

To get into the Vernon tournament, the Junior girls had to knock off Oliver in a game played last Wed. in Penticton.

to help the children. Other welfare agencies such as the Red Cross or UNICEF are co-ordinated with them so there will be no overlapping of effort.

The Halloween collection, she feels, not only provides funds to help such children as a beggar-boy in Somalia or a sick child in Jordan, but helps the child making the collection to develop a sense of responsibility toward others in greater need.

"It's not only the money collected, but the interest fostered," she says.

Whenever she can get away from the Vancouver office, she retreats to her cottage on one of the Gulf Islands. Here she watches the waves and the tide going in and out and realizes no matter how hard she works, her efforts are like one drop in the ocean pounding away from her feet.

"I always return with renewed energy thought. After all the ocean wouldn't be there if it weren't for all the drops."

CHILDREN ASKED TO COLLECT FOR NEEDY

Save the children on Hallowe'en

With a great conviction that children love to help children less fortunate than themselves, Miss Sybil Conery has the opportunity to prove she is right, over and over again.

She is the executive secretary of the B.C. branch of the Save the Children Fund, and is touring the province speaking to children of the work of the fund.

Friday she was speaking to the elementary pupils in the Summerland schools, telling them of the children in need of food, clothing, shelter, medical aid and advice, nursery schools and education in other countries.

She is encouraging them to share their Halloween treats with these underprivileged contemporaries, by collecting money as well as the usual candy and apples when they make their annual trick or treat rounds.

The idea of collecting in this manner started about 13 years ago, but the real reason seems to have been lost with the passing of time. One story says that a Vancouver department store had organized a campaign to encourage children to save their pennies. They gave away cans of money banks—of course with the store's name boldly imprinted on it.

It is said the scheme died a natural death. Many months later, some executive came across the thousands of cans cluttering up valuable warehouse space and decided they had to go. He knew of a woman in Vancouver who was active in several fund raising campaigns and phoned her.

Being a woman who couldn't see anything wasted, she took charge of the cans—then began to figure out ways of using them. Halloween was not far off and the Save the Children Fund was needing a shot in the arm and the two seemed to be logical companions.

Volunteer workers spent hours labelling them and a campaign was started to have Vancouver children share their Halloween happiness with others.

Miss Conery joined the organization 10 years ago after working in a church office and for the Vancouver School Board.

She was appointed after the death of Col. Owen who had worked for the fund ever since its organization in 1919.

A year later she was sent to Hungary for a week and assisted many refugee families to cross the border between Hungary and Austria.

She has many stories to tell of the difficulties encountered in helping these people, and their suffering.

"But," she says, "the greatest impact was made by the look of bare emotion on faces of the refugees."

Power consumption doubles in Summerland every 6 years

The Summerland Municipal Council were pleased with the new flume work done at Garnett Valley. "It is amazing how they have used that heavy equipment on the side of the mountain."

Building Inspector Khalemback had said Mr. Baxter had taken out a building permit for the construction, but there was some confusion over the lot line.

It turned out that Mr. Baxter could not build his boat house on his property, and still be within the limits of existing bylaws so he went towards the lake and was building it on foreshore.

Due to the fact that council could not authorize this building on foreshore, they revoked the permit and Mr. Baxter will be refunded his fee. He will now have to make application to the Lands Department for permission to build on the foreshore.

A letter from the Lands Department asked council if they had any objection to allowing Mr. S. Fabbri to purchase the foreshore on his property. They held no objection.

The Summerland Jubilee Arena Association will hold a meeting on November 3 to discuss long range plans for the arena and asked council to sit in on the discussions. They agreed.

Municipal Clerk Gordon Smith told council they had a 96.71 percent collection of taxes this year which is up two tenths over last year.

They were pleased with these results and felt that the increased home owner's grant had something to do with the favorable report.

The office of the federal department of Citizenship and Immigration urged council to have a representative at a conference in Vancouver, Nov. 19 and 20. The conference is sponsored by the Vancouver Citizenship Council and they wish to discuss centennial projects with municipal officials.

It was tabled until next week.

Blood donors fall short by 82

The number of blood donors did not come up to expectations, according to Jack Towgood who was in charge of arrangements for the Kiwanis.

It was hoped the quota of 300 pints set by the club would be reached but it fell far short with only 228.

There were 12 new donors, while on the other end one donor gave his 31st pint and another their 29th. Six who attended the clinic Friday night in the United Church Hall attended over 20 times previously.

Vehicle goes into skid, turns over — $500 damage

Dr. Wilford Evans did $500 damage to his new Jeep Wagon Thursday night when he turned over on Fish Lake Rd. He was approaching another vehicle on a right hand curve and when he applied the brakes the rear end skidded left and the front wheels hit a dirt bank on the right side turning the vehicle over.

Dr. Evans was not injured. The contents and glass were insured. The clothing was valued at $75.00 and the window at about $450. RCMP are investigating.

Assistance given B. C. natives

The quarterly meeting of the Summerland United Church Women was held Monday evening, Oct. 18 in the church hall, with forty ladies present. Mrs. Colin Campbell, president, was in the chair. An impressive Thanksgiving devotional was given by Mrs. David Munn and Mrs. W. Potter.

Guest speaker for the evening was Mrs. Gordon Wray of the Salvation Army and her talk was on her life among the Native Indians of the New Hazelton area. She told of their background and superstitions and, as an ordained minister, of performing marriage ceremonies and conducting last rites and of other services she was able to render as a Christian worker among these people.

Mrs. Wm. Durick thanked the speaker for bringing to the ladies present a very interesting and inspiring message of Christian Stewardship among these natives of British Columbia.

Baby clothes and layettes made by various units were brought to the meeting and these were dedicated by Mrs.

Gordon Smith. They will be sent to Korea shortly. Among the things on display were baby quilts made by Mrs. Tom Whitfield, who has made 42 of these quilts since April of this year.

Arrangements were made for the Congregational Fellowship Supper to be held in the church hall on November 16th.

Reports on plans for the annual Christmas Tea and Sale to be held November 27th were brought in by the various committees.

A special Christmas program is being arranged and this will take place Dec. 18th.

Fish Hatchery needs water for expansion

The Summerland Fish Hatchery have plans for expanding their facilities but will need more water supply in order to do it.

At present lakeshore Summerland and the hatchery are getting water from Shaughnessy Brook.

Summerland holds the license on the creek and they use approximately one cubic foot per second and the balance of about two cubic feet per second is contracted to the hatchery.

The Fish and Game branch now wish to expand their facilities, but before they do they must be assured more water. In fact, it is their desire to use the complete creek flow.

If Summerland allows this, they must look for a new water supply for lakeshore Summerland and the provincial department have indicated that they would be willing to pay the amount it would cost the corporation to obtain this water in exchange for the license to use the creek.

The water supplying the hatchery has been reported to be some of the finest for the purpose in B. C. Apparently the temperature and chemical content is almost perfect.

The hatchery has obtained more land for their expansion.

Council decided they should make a survey of where they could get additional water and how much it would cost. There is a possibility that it may have to be pumped from Lake Okanagan.

Hallowe'en treats for underprivileged

Miss Sybil Conery of South Pender Island was the guest speaker at the Trout Creek P.T.A. Thursday evening October 21st.

Her subject was most interesting and will be a definite part of Hallowe'en in Summerland this year.

Miss Conery was speaking on behalf of the "Save The Childrens Fund."

This is an organization helping children in need of anything in all corners of the world. Of course they can not help all the children but through taking doctors, nurses, teachers, experts in all fields to every corner of the world they are able to teach these people to take care of themselves. To be nurses, doctors and teachers and help children while they are doing such work, these teams of trained personnel, working for small wages, live under the same conditions as those people they are helping. In return for this help which they bring to these countries they ask for and get volunteer

AN ORGANIZATION AT WORK

In Korea they are doing a great work. These people are desperately poor, half the population is children and half these children have tuberculosis. They have one T.B. station in central Korea with 83 beds and with this meager facility they help as many children as is possible.

One doctor has a feeding station and with $500.00 they can feed 30 children one good meal a day for six months.

They help people to build new homes—small but adequate. However the poverty is so prevalent that when they move one family out another family who have no home moves in; so this is a never ending task.

They have health clinics but they are so under equipped that every day children die waiting outside till the doctors can get to them.

They bring in children who look old and withered from malnutrition and in a few months have healthy little bodies.

Their work extends all over the world, not just Korea but these are mere examples of their work and they need more funds.

For $50.00 a year a foster parent can give one child a home for one year.

The children in Summerland are going to be given a choice of where they want the money to be used.

On Hallowe'en night they will be carrying small cans with black and white labels reading "Save The Childrens Fund" the address and the names of all countries that the fund assists.

Miss Conery suggests that you drive a nail through the rim of a can to which a string can be tied, so they may carry them around their neck.

Let's Get Newsy . . .

Miss Sybil Conery, secretary of the B.C. branch for the Save the Children Fund stayed with Mrs. Spalding while in Summerland. While here she addressed the Trout Creek P.T.A. and the Trout Creek and MacDonald Elementary schools.

In Flanders Fields

In Flanders Fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing, fly
Scarce heard amid the guns below.

We are the Dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders Fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe,
To you from falling hands, we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high;
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep,
Though poppies grow
In Flanders Fields.

CURE CLOTHING SERVICE

Some culprits beat Bill Laidlaw to work over the weekend and helped themselves to some sweaters and jackets. They didn't use the door, they broke the corner of the window out (see arrow) and took all they could reach. They also broke some side windows at Hardie's Garage as well.

DO'S AND DON'TS OF HAVING FUN WITH FIREWORKS

Before firing your display, a few elementary precautions should be taken in order that the rules of fireworks safety be maintained.

1. Remember that younger children will always be fascinated by fireworks and make a good audience, but they should NOT participate in the actual firing of the pieces.
2. One person should be in charge of the display.
3. With the single exception of sparklers, NO firework is designed to be held in the hand when lighted. Older children should be taught to participate under adult supervision.
4. Read the printed instructions on each piece, and plan the order of firing. Keep in mind that the firing location should be clear of overhead obstructions, trees or wiring.
5. Assemble buckets or boxes of sand or a wheelbarrow filled with earth to be used as your firing base.
6. Items such as roman candles and other long pieces should be buried at least halfway down in the sand in your container and set at a 10 degree angle from spectators.
7. If containers of sand are not available, dig holes in the ground deep enough to bury the firework piece halfway up the barrel. Stamp the ground firmly around each piece before firing.
8. Have a large container such as a metal garbage can available to dispose of used firework pieces. When the display is over these items can be sprinkled with a garden hose.
9. A glowing cigarette or cigar makes a good substitute for punk as an igniter. Hold some at arms length, apply to the wick and stand clear immediately.

Summerland juveniles go down 11-7 defeat

On Sunday the Summerland juveniles went down to an 11-7 defeat at the hands of the Pentiction squad.

It was a fast moving, exciting hockey game that saw Pentiction lead all but two times. Summerland collected six of the 10 penalties handed out.

The big gun for Summerland was Garry Bollock who had 4 goals and an assist while for Pentiction W. Schaab had five goals and two assists.

Pentiction opened the scoring on a goal by Schaab but a goal by Bollock tied it up. Robin Agur was given the assist. The second Summerland goal came from Dale Jenner, with Agur again getting the assist, to tie the score at 2-2. Frank Fenwick put Summerland ahead 3-2 as Bollock drew the assist. The first period ended at 3-3.

In the second, Summerland scored first on a goal by Bollock, unassisted. Then in a span of five minutes, Pentiction scored 5 goals on Summerland goalie, Ron Fitzpatrick. Bollock with his third goal, ended the drought with Wayne McInnes and Robin Agur drawing the assists. Defencemen, Wayne McInnes, notched the final Summerland goal at 15:33 of the final frame with the assists going to Robin Agur and Allen Heinrichs.

Tom Manning rates high with flowers

A parlor show was held at the first Horticultural Society meeting of the fall last week.

The first eight classes were for chrysanthemums. There was one class for any other garden flowers.

The most firsts went to T. S. Manning, winning four classes. He also came second in one group, and third in one.

H. W. Brown was runner up with two firsts and one second. Mrs. E. C. Bingham and Mrs. Alex. Inch were close behind him, each with one first and two seconds.

Other winners were Lew Wright, E. H. Bennett and John Graham.

Mr. Bennett reported to the meeting on the Okanagan Valley Horticultural Society convention held in Kelowna, Oct. 16. He said all district in the Okanagan had displays at the convention and more than 100 people attended.

Dr. James Marshall, on behalf of the Fall Fair Committee, thanked the group for its help with the flower show at the fair.

Mr. Bennett entertained the meeting with slides of Summerland gardens—old and new.

Why is the Ottawa line always busy between elections?

It is a sad fact that the only time the old line parties ever take any notice of the problems of British Columbia is when they want your vote. Once they get that vote, they turn their backs, forsake their promises, ignore your support and generally act as if Canada ended at the Rockies. We must put an end to this lopsided treatment and send to Ottawa, representatives who will fight for a fair deal for our province. The job can be done—elect your local Social Credit candidate.

Planned location of government buildings in Canada's capital

(Fifth in a Series)
 The master plan for the development of Ottawa now being carried out by the National Capital Commission also calls for the planned location of large Federal Government buildings. Five important factors emphasize the advantage of grouping a certain large administration building away from the congested centre of the city. These are the progressive strangulation of traffic, the parking problem, the high cost of space in the heart of the city, the need to build office buildings elsewhere while waiting for wartime temporary buildings to be demolished, and the desire to surround them with lawns and landscaping which enhance their appearance. The last factor — the landscaping of the buildings — is by no means the least of the five factors. Even if town planning is far from being simply a technique of beautification, the application of its principles inevitably results in some measure of beauty. In other words, that which is well conceived is more apt to be beautiful. For a while after 1945 efforts were concentrated on construction of Government buildings outside centre town, for example the building groups at Confederation Heights and Tunney's Pasture, the buildings on Booth and Carling and the Printing Bureau in Hull. The Federal Government has no intention of vacating the central area of the Capital. On Sussex Drive, near City Hall, it has expropriated one sector of 32 acres to provide approaches to the new Macdonald-Cartier bridge. There is also sufficient land there to erect Federal government buildings. On the east bank of Rideau Canal, opposite the Chateau Laurier and adjoining Confederation Square, the Commission owns about 22 acres occupied in part by the present Union Station and its satellite installations. To the west of Parliament Hill, a short distance from the Chaudiere Falls the Federal Government has assembled 154 acres of land to be used partly for office buildings including the new National Defence Headquarters. The redevelopment of this area known as LeBreton Flats will pave the Ottawa River Parkway thus ensuring an admirable access route from the west to Parliament Hill. Other large buildings of national importance will be built in the centre of Ottawa, including the National Museum, the National Library, the National Gallery of Fine Arts and the Canadian Centre for the Performing Arts. Construction of the latter is underway.

Players contemplate spring variety show

A possibility of working outside the night school program this season was discussed at length by the Summerland Players at the first meeting of the fall held last Wednesday.

It was decided to wait at least until the New year before definitely deciding, and to read plays at the weekly meetings until then.

Some thought was given to producing a variety show, using local talent, some time next spring. The show would include one or two act plays, choral groups and comedy acts.

The Players new director, Alan Butler suggested the group send for several plays of different types for reading, and that plays written by local people be considered.

The next meeting will be held on October 29 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Waterhouse, Campbell Crescent, when three plays by Summerland resident Ted Logie will be read and discussed.

Exciting moments in soccer games

(Held over from last week)

The Seniors lost both games and fell below .500 mark. On Wednesday they were shut out 3-0 in Summerland at the hands of Gerry Marsh and company from Penticon. Penticon kept charging in on goalie Bill Potter, who kept making great saves before the Penticon team finally led 1-0 at the half. They went on to score two more early in the second half before goalie Potter, hurt his hand, and was replaced by Ron Mayne.

Then against Oliver, on Sat. they built up a 2-0 lead, in a wind dominated game, but wound up losing 3-2.

In the first half, when they had the wind, goals by Bill Fitzpatrick and Keith Kennedy gave them an early 2-0 lead but Oliver managed to score one in the first half to make the score 2-1.

In the second, Oliver having the wind in their favor, pressed and got two more goals and Bill Potter, who played another outstanding game.

The regular team of Potter, Ron and Gerry Mayne, Ron Reinertson, Wayne McInnes, Ken Butchlowski, Nigel Blagborne, Dale Stevenson, Bill Fitzpatrick, Jim Haddrell, Gil Inglis, Ray Betuzzi, Keith Kennedy and Ed Mead played the two games with the exception of Mead who missed the Oliver game. The action is over for this year finishing with a 2-3-1 record.

JR. SOCCER

The boys split two games they played and remain at .500. On Wed. in McNichol Park, they lost their second game, both against McNichol Park, by a score of 4-1. Jack Barkwill scored Summerland's only goal on a free kick in the first half. Alan Stent was injured and missed the Oliver tilt. Don Johnson missed both games with an injury.

In Oliver, however, two goals in the first half by Norm Stein gave Summerland a 2-1 win. There was no scoring in the second half with Bob Stewart playing another outstanding game in goal for Summerland. Those seeing action in the two games were, Ted Arkell, Bill McCaig, Norm Stein, Stan Kita, Ken Kehler, Ron Taylor, Bob Tamblyn, Jack Barkwill, Bob Stewart and Allan Barkwill. Getting into one game were Ken Bolten, Bill Coates, Jim Cambell, Allan Stent, Ken Roberge, Marvin Barg, Herb DeWitt, Don Wright, Rob Munro, and Ray Davis.

Talking About Golf

By GARY SLATER

On Monday, Oct. 10 we held our first inter-club — Oliver being guests at your fine golf course. I know many a game with mixed emotions but went away utterly amazed at what you have accomplished in such a short period of time. Not only do you have a most hospitable membership but it was brought to my attention that you also have an aquatic division, in connection with your golf club. I believe one of your local M. D.s, Dr. W. Evans is the instructor.

Any Summerland members interested, can get all particulars by giving Doc a call.

On behalf of the visitors and club members I would like to congratulate Mrs. Parker and her assistants on the wonderful meal provided for all.

The turnout was more than we had hoped for and was thoroughly enjoyed by all those who participated.

I must confess that I heard a few new words from some Oliver members. And I was unable to locate same, seems they were coming from top of cliffs and deep crevices which are spread liberally around the course.

Although there was no official tally I believe the Sumac golfers scored a resounding win. So next year's meet should be a good one with the Cherry Grove bunch out to get even.

We are now planning two major events for Sumac next year and as soon as the final details are worked out I will give you all the details. Please post all your scores on the bulletin board, and this will enable you to get a correct handicap by next spring.

Although it is late in the year, the weatherman has been very co-operative and the course is in great shape. So let's get out on the weekends and sharpen up that game.

Looking forward to seeing you at the club.

In 1955 government transfer payments to persons in Canada totalled $1,737 million, or 8.8 percent of all personal income; in 1964 such payments totalled $4,150 million, or 11.8 per cent of all personal income.

WILD SLAUGHTER

No, it is not a pleasant sight, but unfortunately, one that is only too common on Highway 97 during the winter months. At least 80 animals were killed last winter, and others probably died later from injuries by cars or trucks. Winter will soon be here again. Drive

Motor branch head commends G. Henry

Superintendent of Motor Vehicles, Mr. R. A. Hadfield learned recently of the retirement of George Henry after 46 years of service to the community as a school bus driver.

He said Mr. Henry has probably driven a school bus longer than any other person in British Columbia.

"The fact that the record of his driving in our files is without blemish speaks very highly of the manner in which he carried out his work," he said.

"The citizens of the community should be forever grateful to Mr. Henry who will have the pleasant memories of the countless thousands of children he transported safely to and from school with justifiable pride."

Mr. Hadfield told Mr. Henry, "We join your friends and neighbors in hoping you will enjoy a well-earned retirement. May good health and happiness long remain with you."

The Gulf Stream, flowing north from the Caribbean, and the Labrador Current, flowing south from the Arctic, each at about 25 miles a day, dominate the climate in the Atlantic provinces.

The Queen's Shilling

If we can believe the political speeches in the present election campaign the farmers are bound to win no matter which party forms the next federal government.

Every political party has a large section of farm planks in its platform, and a great variety of legislation is proposed to enable the farmer to receive an income commensurate with his capital investment and hours of work.

This is all very interesting, and the farmer can hardly be criticized for believing he cannot lose no matter who takes over the reins of government.

All the farmer has to decide before voting is whether he wants strawberry shortcake with ice cream, or banana split with cup cakes.

All parties agree the lot of the farmer must be improved, and to achieve that end they advocate a great variety of methods from subsidies, parity prices and guaranteed prices, to overall crop insurance, disaster loans, development of large foreign markets, rehabilitation of farm lands, and ARDA assistance for injecting new life into the industry.

There is no way of telling whether these policies spring from political expediency — an effort to woo the farm vote — but I like to think the business and political leaders of this country realize the crisis facing the farming industry and are genuinely sincere in their desire to do something about it.

It is extremely doubtful if the general public shares this desire, but the general public probably pays little attention to the farm programs put forward by the political parties.

Our own crisis here in the Okanagan Valley has been staved off by the federal and provincial governments agreeing to an $8 million grant for distressed fruit growers.

This will give immediate relief to growers who lost heavily in last December's sub-zero freeze, but it will take something more than this grant to rehabilitate the fruit orchards.

The big change in apple production — apples are the big crop in the valley — shows a definite trend toward dense planting of super-red varieties on controlled rootstock.

A tree removal and re-planting program is very expensive but must proceed to keep many orchards out of red ink.

Long term loans with delayed amortization will make such a re-planting program possible, but up to this date no government move has been made.

In the meantime we have our $8 million, but in accepting this handout I'm afraid we have lost some of the vaunted independence that has always been associated with the career of farming.

Like the new recruit impressed into military service during an earlier period in history, we have accepted the Queen's shilling. Shall we, too, be expected to march to orders?

Bruce Howard predicts win

An early morning group of Liberal supporters heard Dr. Pat McGeer, MLA, Point Gray, Vancouver say that it is impossible to have a strong government with a minority and called upon them to double their efforts on behalf of Bruce Howard so this end could be achieved.

An 8:00 a.m. breakfast was held in the Prince Charles Motor Hotel on Friday morning at which 57 attended.

After being introduced by Mrs. Jean Rowe, Summerland, Mr. Howard, Liberal candidate Okanagan Boundary told the early risers, "People are coming around and are liking the Liberal record."

He was confident he would win his riding judging from the interest shown and attendance at meetings around the constituency, but asked support of Liberals everywhere to assist in his campaign.

He said the Doukhobors in Grand Forks had offered a choir for one of his meetings and an offer had been made to preach a sermon in a Grand Forks church on the Sunday before the election.

Chairman Ralph Robinson

jokingly said he was a "little worried about Bruce because you know what happened to Diefenbaker when he spoke to the Doukhobors" (referring to the time some women proceeded to disrobe during the last campaign).

"This time, the natives are friendly" Mr. Howard returned.

Dr. Pat McGeer said "Countries all over the world lose confidence in a country with a minority government."

He cited the U.K. as an example where the Labour government only has a minority of 2. "Even when a member of parliament gets sick it hits the headlines because the world is wondering how long the government will stay in power."

He called for a strong leader in government and said "You have had an opportunity to see both John Diefenbaker and Lester Pearson as Prime Minister."

"It is true we have made some little silly errors" he went on "but we can still hit home runs."

Mother expresses thanks in many ways to those who helped

Much has been heard in recent years about the responsibility of society towards the retarded and otherwise handicapped children in the community.

Mrs. Flora Bergstrom, herself the mother of a retarded boy, has worked for many years to improve the lot of children afflicted with a mental handicap.

She expresses here her feelings on the responsibility of parents towards these "different" children.

"As the parent of a handicapped child, I am very grateful for what is being done for these youngsters who seemed a few years ago to be doomed forever to the fringes of society.

"The Summerland Association for Handicapped Children has faithfully conducted a fund raising campaign for many years and has again undertaken the project this year.

"Without this kind of help from interested and concerned people, these children would not have the care and opportunities now available to them.

"Until a little more than 10 years ago, parents received little help in bringing up a handicapped child. Now, society is looking with increasing concern at its responsibility to with the welfare of all the family.

"There is a tendency to be over-protective — either to the retarded child to keep it from curiosity, pity or ridicule — or to other people by keeping them from seeing or knowing this child who is 'different'. But the child needs to meet people or he has no concept of life outside his own home.

"Understandably, parents are concerned about what other people think. They are not only performing one of the most difficult tasks in the world, but do so in a very unenviable position.

"The fact that they must continually ask for help is humiliating, but for the welfare of retarded children now and in the future, they must tolerate their position.

"We parents hope the day is not too far distant when the governments will cease to discriminate and will accept the responsibility of educating all children.

"When the parents of a handicapped child say 'thank you' to those who have helped, they mean not only financial assistance, but understanding, tolerance and friendship towards these retarded members of the community.

"If these youngsters are given a chance, they will give us much in return — in appreciation love and in showing us there is much happiness in the simplicity of life."

Since 1949, hourly wage rates in manufacturing have risen faster in Canada than in the U.S., by 112 per cent here compared to 84 per cent there.

Vows exchanged in St. Stephen's Anglican - will reside in England

A wedding ceremony of wide interest took place in St. Stephen's Anglican Church, Summerland, October 16, 1965 when Darlene Ann, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas B. Campbell was united in marriage to Alan Philip Forsdick, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Forsdick, Thornton Heath, Surrey, England.

The Reverend Norman Tanar officiated at the ceremony and Mrs. Shirley Green, Summerland, accompanied by Mr. Lupton of Penticton, sang the Wedding Prayer.

Autumn colors of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums were used to decorate the church and the pews were marked with white bows.

The lovely fair-haired bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown fashioned in England for her by the groom's aunt who is a court dress-maker in London. The gown was a full-length white Empire styling with a detachable train from the waistline, a long sleeved bolero made of Nottingham lace edged with a narrow band of grosgrain. The head-dress was two white roses with elbow-length nylon veil trimmed with cut-out lace flowers. She carried a cascade of red garnett roses.

The matron-of-honour was Mrs. Gisela Rusaw and the bridesmaids were Miss Judy Kaatz, Penticton, and Miss Linda Scott, Summerland. They wore identically gowned in gold crystal charm nylon dresses of street length with bell shaped skirts, sleeveless bodices and scoop necklines. Their head-dresses were gold net halos with nylon bows. They carried cascade bouquets of bronze mums.

The flower girls, Misses Sandra Selinger and Judy Proulx wore dresses of soft green crystal charm nylon with matching net halos and they carried baskets of golden baby mums. The ring bearer was Master Ray Green.

The best man was Wayne Campbell, Summerland, brother of the bride and the ushers were Roy Rusaw, Summerland, and Donald Davis Gold River, B.C., uncle of the bride.

As the young couple left the church following the ceremony, a delightful English custom was introduced in the presentation table was further graced by flowers sent by the groom's parents in England, and the three tiered wedding cake was decorated with doves and white and yellow roses.

Mr. "Bud" Green acted as master of ceremonies and the toast to the bride, given by Mr. John Selinger, was ably responded to by the groom. Toast to the bridesmaids was given by Wayne Campbell. Congratulatory telegrams from many friends in Canada and England were read, including one from the parents of the groom.

Following the reception, a dance was enjoyed by the wedding guests.

For a honeymoon to Banff and other B.C. points, the bride chose an aqua wool sheath dress with brown accessories. She wore a corsage of yellow roses. The newlyweds plan to stay in Canada until after the new year and then return to England.

Out of town guests for the happy occasion were the bride's grandmother Mrs. Ruth Davis, Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. Art Englis and Linda Langly, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Davis and Patty, Gold River, Mr. and Mrs. John Davis and family of Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. Don Shippit, Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, Merritt, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lekei, Penticton, Mr. and Mrs. Gert Hollin, Penticton, Miss Louise Campbell, Kelowna, Mr. and Mrs. Sid Campbell, Revelstoke, Mr. and Mrs. Don Day, Oroville, Washington, Mr. Sinclair, Vancouver, and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Valin, Cranbrook.

A $100 assessment for driving illegally

Robert Allen Kinney, Summerland, appeared before Magistrate Ried yesterday and pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while his license was under suspension. It cost him $100 and costs or 60 days. Time was given to make payment of the fine.

Agents refuse refund cheque

Mr. Howard Pruden of Read and Pruden Insurance Agency wrote a letter to the Summerland Council on behalf of his and two other insurance firms in town stating that they would not accept the refund for insurance cancelled by the corporation. He said they could not accept it "more for ethical reasons than legalities." The refund consisted of the commissions lost by the agents on the cancellation.
