

THE WINNER IS DRAWN

Here is W. R. (Bill) MacMorran pulling the lucky winner of the Review Vancouver trip contest at the Kiwanis Club meeting on Thursday night. Holding the box is Kiwanis president Lloyd Shannon.

The winners were Mr. and Mrs. Dave

McMullen of Summerland. The McMullens have two daughters age 2 and 9 and they plan to take the trip about the end of September or early October.

They came to Summerland a year ago and is on staff in the Entomology Laboratory at the Research Station.

Barkerville recommended for historic vacation trip

Mr. J. E. Clark of Vancouver was a guest of Rotary Club on Friday evening recalling many old memories of the days when he was employed by the Bank of Montreal here during 1922 to 1924. Other guests included a member from High River, Alta., Dean Tomkins, as well as two Pentiction members Rick Sworder and Harold McLarty. John Holman, a prospective member also attended.

Joe Akitt was the draw winner.

In a report from the District Governor Ted Atkinson, he said he was very pleased with the work the clubs are doing in his district and encouraged inter-club visits so they may compare activities and progress.

The annual valley picnic will be held at the first Provincial Park Campsite north of Summerland on Sunday, Sept. 19 starting at 1:30. Pentiction is the host club.

Club member Walter Wright told the club he felt "we should encourage our senior citizens to take part in Rotary and in community life. I think they would appreciate it", he said.

It cost Cece Wade a dollar for the members to sing Happy Birthday to him. A usual procedure.

Gordon Smith chaired this meeting and was asked to give a brief rundown of his impressions of Barkerville where he and his family visited on their vacation this year.

MUCH IMPRESSED. According to Gordon, there is little doubt that this historic centre is a highlight for any vacation. "It is a wonderful spot to see", he said.

"There is so much B. C. history contained in this frontier village. There are buildings still standing that were in use 100 years ago and there were papers on display from 1868.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave McMullen win Review Vancouver trip

The draw for the free trip for two was made at the regular meeting of the Summerland Kiwanis Club Thursday night by a man that was no stranger to the newspaper game, Mr. W. R. MacMorran, Advertising Manager of the Winnipeg Free Press, a member of Kiwanis for 25 years in Winnipeg.

The guest drew the name of Mr. Dave McMullen of Summerland who is employed at the Research Station, while Kiwanis president Lloyd Shannon held the box.

Publisher Keith Berg telephoned Mr. McMullen who expressed his gratitude and Mrs. McMullen could be heard in the background obviously happy.

The trip may be taken at any time convenient to the McMullens.

They will fly Canadian Pacific Airlines to Vancouver and stay a weekend at the Sands Motor Hotel on English Bay and enjoy steaks at Hy's Steak House, compliments of the Summerland Review.

There were the names of four hundred and twelve subscribers in the draw box, the majority of which were new subscribers. The offer was made to new or renewal subscribers.

Trustee questions cost of bill for school maintenance

A tender of $7,606 was accepted by the trustees of the Summerland School District Thursday night for the installation of the heating conversion in the Summerland School. The charge will be from coal to gas.

The successful tender was submitted by Pacific Pipe and Flume of Pentiction. The only other tender received was from McKay and Stratton also of Pentiction for $10,875.

$5,300 of this will come out of Referendum No. 3 and $2,306 out of the contingency fund of Referendum 3.

Trustee Dr. Dave McIntosh reported that grass has been planted on the experimental plot on the school grounds.

Until the expansion in the High School is complete, the auditorium will be partitioned with apple bins to make two rooms if arrangements can be made. They will contact the Summerland Co-op to see if they can obtain 150 apple bins for this purpose.

It had been suggested to Secretary Treasurer Jim Hack that the Music Projection Room should be used for the Trout Creek grade 5 children.

This room is in the basement and not bright. The board felt that the opportunity room would be more suitable. A committee will look into it.

Trustee McIntosh pointed out that the grounds maintenance cost the school $75 per week during the summer and felt that that was too high.

Trustee Ken Boothe challenged this and felt it was a reasonable figure taking into consideration manpower and equipment. He recalled a few years ago they paid a student $200 per month and had much less to maintain and the job was not as good.

"I am not too concerned about the cost," Mr. Boothe said, "it is all coming out of tax money."

It was decided to request the Municipality to supply an itemized statement for services done.

Trustee Boothe had some reservations regarding this because "I don't want to spoil the excellent relations we have with the Municipal Council."

Ken Boothe and Bob Barkwill will attend a branch meeting of the British Columbia School Trustees Association to be held in Kelowna on Aug. 30.

Fruit and vegetable entries to be in by Thursday night

The Summerland Fall Fair Committee requests that growers make a special effort to exhibit as many varieties of fruits and vegetables as possible this year. Booklets containing the Standards of Perfection for fruits and vegetables may be obtained from Alex Watt's office.

Exhibiting at a fair is interesting and informative as well as contributing immeasurably to the success of the fair," chairman Dr. Jim Marshall said.

It is suggested that you get your prize list and bring your entries in on Thursday evening, September 9 between 7:30 and 10:00 p.m.

This is the only time entries in this section will be received as judging takes place the following morning.

"There are substantial cash prizes to compete for and it costs nothing to enter, so come and help us all put on a show."

Miss Virginia Maddock awarded Home Economics scholarship

Miss Virginia Maddock of Westbank, has been awarded the NOCA scholarship for the year 1964-65. The announcement was made this week by Mr. Floyd L. Irwin, District Superintendent of Schools.

The NOCA scholarship is awarded annually by the producers of the S.O.D.I.C.A. organization to the students who obtain the best marks in her grade and who plans to continue studies in Home Economics at the University.

The scholarship is open to any grade 12 student in the Kamloops-Salmon Arm or Okanagan areas. During her grade 12 year, Miss Maddock obtained an average of 78.5% in her junior matriculation exams and a school mark of 76.5% in her junior matriculation exams and a school mark of 90% in Home Economics for the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Hibbert have been staying with Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Barkwill.

Mr. Richard Mattengyr from Malawi, Nyasaland, Africa are visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Barkwill.

CHILDREN'S BOOKS FASCINATE ADULTS

Library enjoys busy summer

By Kay Dunsdon

During the summer our library has been busier than usual, for the weather has been ideal for a good book in a shady nook.

You may be interested to know that we had a circulation of 2,979 books read during July, 915 of these being children's. Children's and young people's books are being presented in such a fascinating way that many adults are reading them, especially books on scientific subjects, the ideas are written so clearly, with beautiful illustrations.

How the Great Religions Began by Joseph Gaer, a well-known author of religious subjects. This is really a new edition with several new features, one being a map with distribution areas of the great religions shown, with their numbers, founders and sacred books. More detail is given in beliefs and observances of these religions, and mention is made of American sects. The book still contains the life stories of Jesus, Buddha, Confucius, Lao Tze, Moses and Mohammed, with lesser-known teachers and leaders. This book is especially aimed for high school students and gives a clear and well-written history of a great subject.

U.N.: The First Twenty Years, by Clark M. Eichelberger, presents a review of history and events occurring in the United Nations' rocky road of peace-keeping; by one of the committee of five who prepared the first American working draft of the U.N. charter. This also will prove of great help to students.

In adult books, Majorca Observed is a witty and easily-read commentary on life and tourism on the island paradise of Majorca, written by the poet Robert Graves, illustrated by Paul Hogarth.

If you enjoy history, The Great Siege, by Ernie Bradford an English writer, is a bit of the little known events of the battle between the Turks and Christian Knights of St. John. As a naval officer during the war he became interested in the past of the island of Malta.

Still about history, but in a different sense, Robert MacIver has written Power Transformed, in which he traces the changes in society, the power of the sword, the word, wealth, knowledge and organization, and how it can bring about lasting peace. The author has had a long career as educator and writer and presently serves on the council of a new school for social research.

A lot of new fiction is also on our shelves—to mention just a few—The Legend of the Seventh Virgin, by Virginia Holt who once more gives us a vivid story of suspense and romance set in Cornwall.

The Grass Won't Grow Till Spring, by South African born David Lytton, is first of six he plans to write on different levels of social life in Africa.

The Boy With The Sling, by Jonathon Wade, is an exciting tale set in the valley of the Dead Sea.

The Raid, by R. Frison-Roche, is a good story of romance, revenge and adventure set in Lapland.

Yes, we have roamed the world in books, so see you in our library.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Hibbert from Gambler Island, B.C. and their family have been visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cook.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Macleod has been staying with Mrs. Whittaker at her beach cottage at Crescent Beach after her husband left for Trail.

Mrs. Coldwell, school secretary requested to take part in Math 91 classes for the coming year. The time missed in the office would be made up. It was approved on the recommendation of the principal.

The new bus route schedule was shown to the board and approved. The complete schedule is advertised in this issue.

School Superintendent Mr. Gordon Paton attended this, his first meeting since his appointment.

"I wish to thank the Board for the faith you have shown in me," he said. "I appreciate the opportunity to come to the Okanagan as it has always held a certain intrigue with us. Now it has rained every day since we came," he said jokingly.

He said the Centennial Commission is presenting a historic play in the Pentiction Secondary School Auditorium on September 15 at 8 p.m. They had reserved 100 seats for Summerland grades 11 and 12 students and asked the board if they would wish to make transportation available for this and they concurred.

He also announced that the department had made available, a three lesson training unit on venereal disease for grade 10. Before the course could be offered it needed board approval as well as the written approval of the parents. The Board approved the course.

Summerland Royalty on T.V.

You will have an opportunity to see Summerland Royalty on CHBC-TV on Friday night.

Summerland Fall Fair Queen-elect Pat Ryman along with her ladies in waiting Donna Jean Taylor and Rosalie Geres will be interviewed at 6 p.m.

Also expected to be on camera are Dr. Jim Marshall, Fall Fair chairman and vice-chairman Eric Teat, Mrs. Gordon Stien, chairman of the Queen committee and Mrs. Jock Johnston has been travelling with the Royal group this year.

Richard Randall wins top honors in Grade 13 exams

Congratulations are certainly in order for Richard Randall of Summerland who attained the highest average in his Grade 13 Exams. He attended school in Pentiction.

Richard got an average of 87.5 percent which put him among the top six in the province.

Besides winning a first class government scholarship which will provide half of his first year university tuition, he received a provincial government bursary of $120, he won the $300 Royal Institution Scholarship and the $250 Golden Jubilee Chapter IQDE scholarship and a bursary from the Summerland Kiwanis Club of $150.

Richard will attend U. B. C. this year, working toward his B.Sc. majoring in math and chemistry.

Mrs. A. E. Macleod has been staying with Mrs. Whittaker at her beach cottage at Crescent Beach after her husband left for Trail.

Driver caught for speeding charged for second infraction

A suspended sentence was given a Kelowna man on a hit and run charge in Summerland court this week.

Nicalola Spoljaric appeared before District Magistrate G. S. Denroche and pleaded not guilty on a hit and run charge but was found guilty of the charge.

This arose out of an accident which occurred in Peachland on April 18th on Peach Avenue in Peachland when Nicalola Spoljaric struck another vehicle.

The sentence was suspended for six months and he entered into recognizance to keep the peace and be of good behaviour for a period of six months.

Berk Julien Queltette of North Surrey appeared before Magistrate Johnson on Friday and pleaded guilty of speeding when he was caught in the radar net at Trout Creek. It cost him $40 and costs. Lisuor was found in his car as well which cost him an additional $50 and costs on a charge of a minor being in possession.

GOOSE THAT HATES WATER

It looks like Gerry Howls, with the help of the Canada Goose, just came in for a landing — not so — he is of all things trying to convince the full grown bird that its place is in Okanagan Lake, not on Highway 97 at the intersection near Rotary Beach.

The bird has a crippled wing so isn't going far. After Gerry got him in the water it just turned around and came back on the highway.

We later learned the bird was found without a mother by Wes Tavender and has been raised by Wes and family. He has no fear of humans, dogs or cars, but will put any cat on the run. His name is Mack, and the answers to that name too. It was a three-quarter mile walk. Last time in the area he flew to take in a picnic at Bill Evans' so they slowed him down by clipping a wing.

Signs are important

It would seem that having a bylaw rigidly governing the placing of commercial signs within the Municipality would be rather difficult to justify for local government and the owner.

At present in the C2 zone, which is local commercial, a sign must be at least 25 feet from the property line parallel to the highway.

At the council meeting, upon the recommendation of District Planner John Northey, denied permission for Powell Beach Plaza to erect a sign thirteen feet from the edge of the blacktop — the required distance as far as the Department of Highways is concerned.

Where does this distance of 25 or 13 feet come from. Why not 10 feet or why not 30? There are too many things to take into consideration to make it definite. A specified reasonable distance is ok. if the road was straight with no view obstructions but in this country it must be open to negotiations with agreement reached between government and owner.

There may be times when it would be advantages to all, including the motorists, to have a sign placed in a rather obscure position while on the other hand there could possibly be situations where it isn't quite possible to place a sign at the required distance — what then? A business place should have the opportunity to place a sign where it will advertise his wares — while at the same time be reasonable and just as far as the public and the Municipal Council is concerned. The placing of signs should be given much study. It is an important part of the operation of a business.

Council members went to Powell Beach Plaza to look over the situation, but the owner was not present at the time. This is unfortunate because we feel that if they made an on the spot study with owner Les Kirkby a mutual satisfactory agreement could be reached with no ill feelings.

Miss Bonnie Ganzeveld, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Ganzeveld on July 24th became the bride of Mr. Paul K. Laimana of Honolulu, Hawaii at the Kawaiahao Chapel, Rev. R. E. Akaka officiating.

The tall, fair-haired bride was given in marriage by Mr. Al Newman. For her wedding she wore a white peau de sole satin princess styled gown with scooped neckline, lily point sleeves and a gently flaring full length skirt which extended to a chapel train. A chapel length veil of illusion silk completed her finery.

The bride's bouquet was three large mauve and purple cattleya orchids, white leitch-lini and fern, and she wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

The bridesmaid was Miss Evelina Newman from South Surrey, B.C., who wore a deep pink silk chiffon gown.

The flower girl was Momi, a small Hawaiian girl dressed in a deep pink gown and carrying a basket of tearoses and fern.

The best man was Mr. Francis Laimana, the groom's brother, from the island of Hawaii. During the signing of the register Mr. Joe A. Quinn sang The Lord's Prayer.

Summer skating school over

By RON KOSTELNIUK
The dance tests, held over the weekend, ended the 1965 Summerland Summer Skating School. There were two sections held with a total attendance of 75.

Figure skaters came from as far away as Fort St. John, B.C.; Seattle, Wash.; and parts of Alberta and as near as Pentteton and Summerland. The overall operation was a success according to club "pro" Dale Ores Causier. Two pop concerts were held during the summer as well.

The winter program highlights include club competitions in January, a carnival in mid-March. The winter program will start on October 15.

Agricultural section in '65 Fall Fair

It won't be all fruit vegetables and related products at the fall fair this year. Calves and horses will share some of the limelight as well.

For the first time since fall fairs began, The South Okanagan 4-H Beef Club will have representation. The club extends from Summerland to the U.S. border and calves from all locations will be on hand to be judged.

John Dunn is in charge of this part of the fair and he says they will be judged in three categories: The grand champion, the reserve grand champion, and the best in the field of showmanship. There will be some trophies and prizes.

The club leader is Ray Thomas of Okanagan Falls and his assistant is Barry Rogers of Shingle Creek.

The fair committee feel this is a section of the fair that is deserving of support and they hope many will be on hand when the judging takes place on Saturday, September 11, at the north end of the arena.

This is due to follow directly after the kiddies parade—a section of the fair that John Dunn is also in charge of.

This parade has, in many instances, been called a pet parade while, according to John, this isn't exactly the proper term. Children are welcome in any kind of dress, fancy or comic—pet or no pet. There are ribbons and prizes for all entrants too.

The Summerland Riding Club will put on a little show and gymkhana following the 4-H show and, according to president Bob Chalmers, there will be a good variety of showmanship as well as competitive classes in the junior and intermediate groups. This will all take place outside the arena.

Remember the date of the fall fair, September 10 and 11.

New teachers on staff in S'm'land

Nine new teachers will be on staff at the Summerland schools this year. There will be 5 in the secondary school, one at Trout Creek and three at MacDonald.

In Secondary School Gerald M. Bell, Whitehorse — Social Studies and boys councillor; Jessie Davidson, Duncan, home economics; Henri Frioud, North Vancouver, French.

The bandmaster will be James Grinder and he will teach music as well as English and Occupational Arithmetic; Mrs. Isobel Kuzyk, Nanaimo, Occupational class.

Geraldine Evans will be added to the Elementary School at Trout Creek.

At MacDonald School there will be Mrs. Henri Frioud, Gr. 5, Valerie Pearson, Okanagan Falls, Grade 3 and Mrs. Marion MacDonald, Grade 3.

The Secondary School will be open for registrations of students not previously registered or enrolled, from now until school opening from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

CORRECTION

The gromlins were at it again. The lead type of two weddings were interchanged. The lead for the Jeffery Powell wedding is above the Ganzeveld-Laimana wedding. Very sorry.

An unusual mode of transportation is an aerial car ferry that carries pedestrians and one car across the Fraser River between Boston Bar and North Bend, B.C. It can carry up to three tons, operates 24 hours a day and is free.

Summerland Review — 3

A Few Comments . . .

Doug Campbell very kindly took us on a tour of the Cornwall Cannery last week. It was interesting to see and rather sad to note that although they were going full tilt canning peaches that day Doug said it wouldn't last long this year. Too bad all those workers must lose payroll. And this is only one plant.

Guess we confused a number of youngsters and readers when the gremlins switched the cutlines below the pictures of children taking swimming instruction last week. Don Somerville at the Chronicle told us to blame him. So here goes. No worry however, Don is doing a great job printing the Review. It is nice to know others make mistakes. One thing about the newspaper business when we do make a mistake everyone knows it.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Dave McMullen on winning the trip to Vancouver in our subscription campaign. He is talking about taking it on a weekend when there is a football game in town.

Lucky the Kiwanis meeting started when it did on Thursday night because a couple of us got right in to a discussion about public power that could have turned into a real hot argument. We won't take advantage of our freedom of the press to explain why we don't condone public takeovers of private business. That should be enough to start the discussion all over again this week wouldn't you say?

Gordon Smith gave an impressive talk on his trip to Barkerville on Sunday. We would wager that there will be a few more Rotarians making the trip soon.

Fair time is just around the corner. It deserves the support of the whole community. It took scores of people many hours to arrange. Remember the dates—September 10 and 11.

Knut Berg, laid to rest at Lakeview Cemetery, Penticton

The passing of Knut Berg of Summerland occurred in the Mildred, Sask. hospital on August 18th. He was 83 years of age.

Mr. Berg was born at Waldres, Norway, on November 27, 1881. He emigrated to the U.S.A. in 1901, living there until retiring to Summerland, B.C., in 1945, where he resided until his passing. He was a trustee of the Glenfield School District for 21 years and was greatly interested in its progress. He was predeceased by his wife in 1960; by one son, Salmer, in 1929; and by one grandson, Malcolm Campbell of Wiseton.

He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Marie Campbell of Wiseton, Mrs. Raymond Gordon of Harris, and Mrs. Ben Weenk of Plenty; and by one son, Ingolf, of Dawson Creek, B.C. There are five grandchildren.

Funeral services were held from Clements Funeral Chapel in Rosetown on August 20, 1965, at 2 p.m. with Rev. J. A. Brown of Harris officiating.

Mrs. G. Staples was at the console of the organ and sang as a solo "Beyond the Sunset, and led the congregation in the singing of the hymn "Nearer My God to Thee".

Interment was to follow on August 23, 1965, at Lakeview Cemetery, Penticton, B.C.

Up From the Stone Age

As we are just about to commence the main apple harvest in the Okanagan Valley, it might be interesting to take a brief look at the history of this King of Fruits.

The apple is said to be the most widely grown fruit in the world. Apple trees blossom throughout Europe and across Asia, in Russia, Siberia, China, Korea and India; apples grow in Japan, Australia, New Zealand and South America. Every state in the U.S.A. produces apples to some extent, and in Canada apples are grown in every province, although some provinces are limited to crab apples.

This limitation may be overcome in a few years, for experiments are continuously under way to develop new and harder varieties. A number of them now under test look very promising for backyard production if not on a commercial scale.

North America produces an enormous crop of apples, but the fruit is not native to this continent. The apple came here with the first immigrants.

Apple varieties we have today were developed from the species Malus Pumila, believed to have come from southwestern Asia in the area from the Caspian to the Black Sea.

Even in those pre-historic days of limited travel and primitive agriculture, the apple soon spread clean across Europe. Stone Age lake dwellers of central Europe used apples extensively. Remains found in their habitations show that they not only stored fresh apples for eating, but also preserved them by cutting and drying in the sun. They may have learned how to make a cider from the fruit that became too ripe.

Cultivation of the apple was well developed in Greece in the 4th century B.C. According to mythology, Aphrodite was awarded a golden apple as the winner of a beauty contest.

The apple was Europe's most important fruit when Columbus sailed into the setting sun. When the first immigrants followed not long after, they took the apple with them to grow in the new land—the English to Virginia and New England, the Dutch to New York, and the French to Canada.

From these early plantings, apples soon spread westward to the Pacific coast, in some places beating the arrival of the white settlers for the Indians also learned how to plant the apple.

Although their ancestors came from Europe, most of the varieties grown in North America today were developed on this continent, either by controlled cross breeding or from seedlings and mutations.

The search for new and better varieties of apples goes on apace, but of the tens of thousands of trees under test, rarely is one found that shows promise of being any better than the commercial varieties now grown. If it does look promising, more years of testing are required to prove its worth on the market.

Reader appreciates new blacktop road

The Editor, The Summerland Review

Dear Sir — In an age where so much is taken for granted, it seems to me that at least once in a while it behoves us to express our appreciation for a job well done.

I am surprised that this has not been mentioned before.

I am referring to the new road up the hill by the Baptist Church, good enough to grace any city. We are proud of it and also everyone who took part in its making, from the first who planned it and including everyone who had a hand in it right down to the one who put the finishing touch on it.

And while we are in the appreciative mood, how about a tip of the hat to our new editor Keith Bergh for his transformation of our local paper?

The Editor, Summerland Review

Dear Sir — We visited Summerland recently and couldn't help but admire the beautiful flower beds in the centre of the streets, also some of the beautiful flower gardens.

We searched the town for some postcards but were only successful in locating one with Summerland on it.

My brother was looking for one of Giant's Head but failed to find one.

Hospital plans expected in Sept.

Summerland Hospital Administrator Harvey Wilson told the Review this week that they are hoping to have the working drawings of the new hospital returned from Victoria in three to four weeks time.

The holdup has been due to the lack of staff in the architectural department to handle the demands of the many hospitals being built in the province.

Tenders will be called for as soon as the plans arrive in the hands of the Hospital Board.

Freedom stressed by president of Canadian Weekly Newspapers

Weekly editors must be continually conscious of the increased effect of government controls on Canadian freedom, J. L. McKenna, newly elected president of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association, said in his inaugural address.

MISS IKUYE UCHIDA, Summerland received the Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in history, graduating with honor, at the 32nd summer commencement of Wheaton College, in Wheaton, Illinois, Aug. 13. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Takeshi Uchida.

"Some politicians would be only too happy to inflict a controlled press on those they claim to represent," said Mr. McKenna. Despite this pressure, he said, weekly newspapers must continue "to serve the best interests of our people by informing our readers of what is going on and, where necessary, by providing leadership through editorial comment."

Mr. McKenna said that weekly publishers can best serve this purpose by putting out good newspapers which attain high readership and respect in their communities.

"We have a great number of free thinkers in Canada", he said, "and free thinking may have some useful purpose. But sensible thinking is far more important to Canada and it is in this field where the weekly newspapers stand out as a light brighter than any other type of medium."

J. Louis McKenna, publisher of the Sussex (N. B.) Kings County Record was elected president of the Canadian

The Canada Pension Plan and its benefits

Here is what the Canada Pension Plan will do for people like Thor Andersen, a farmer who works for himself and makes $4,000 a year.

The Andersens are both aged 45 and have no family. If Thor's earnings continue at $4,000 a year until he reaches age 65, he can look forward to a retirement pension of $83.33 a month from the Plan. This, plus the $75 each Mr. and Mrs. Andersen will receive from Old Age Security, will give them a total of $233.33 a month—equal to 70% of Thor's previous average earnings.

If Thor becomes disabled anytime after 1970, having contributed until his disability began, he will get a disability pension of $87.50 a month. This will continue until he becomes 65 when he will receive his retirement and Old Age Security pensions.

Should Thor die anytime after 1967, having contributed until his death, his wife will receive a widow's pension of $56.25 a month until she becomes 65. From then on she will get $125 a month—$50 from the Plan and $75 from Old Age Security. At the time of Thor's death Mrs. Andersen will be entitled to a lump sum payment of $500.

All benefits under the Plan will maintain their value. The actual benefits payable will probably be higher than those given here since benefits will be adjusted to meet changes in living costs and in wage levels before they are paid and changes in living costs after they become payable.

What will the Plan cost you?

If you, like Thor, in a particular year, have self-employed earnings of $4,000 you will pay $122.40 in instalments, in the same way you pay income tax.

This advertisement is one of a series which relates some of the important benefits of the Canada Pension Plan to individual circumstances.

Issued by authority of the Minister of National Health and Welfare, Canada, The Honourable Judy LaMarsh.

Changes in school bus routes

Parents and students would be wise to look over the schedule of the school bus routes as published elsewhere in this issue.

The changes have been made up at the school office and secretary treasurer Jim Hack had them approved at the regular meeting of the school board on Thursday.

Should students not check the schedule closely there may be some to early to catch the bus or worse yet some may be too late if they go by the same times and places as last year. There will be only two buses this year rather than three.

* The morning pick-up at Peach Orchard will only handle those students from the Crescent Beach and immediate Peach Orchard areas.
NOTE: There will be no school bus stop on Highway 97 hill.

A Smith & Hill cement mixer driven by Joe Maddison backed up to pour the foundation and the dirt gave way and mixer, truck and all slid down into the excavation as shown above. Note the spilled cement which is darker than the dirt fill. The other picture shows the mixer as Bud's Service is towing it out inch by inch. They had to cut it away from the truck. Equipment damage will amount to about $500. The frame was twisted on the truck. The truck had stopped about 9 feet from the cement forms. An adequate distance, it was thought.

Wedding vows exchanged at Summerland United Church

Summerland United Church was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday afternoon, August 28th, when Isabel Reinertson Jeffery, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Reinertson, of Summerland, was united in marriage with John Osborne Powell of Toronto and Vancouver.

The tall, fair-haired bride was given in marriage by Mr. Al Newman. For her wedding, she wore a white peau de soie satin princess styled gown with scooped neckline, lily point sleeves and a gently flaring full length skirt which extended to a chapel train. A chapel length veil of illusion silk completed her finery.

The bride's bouquet was three large mauve and purple cattleya orchids, white leitch-linii and fern, and she wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

The bridesmaid was Miss Evelina Newman from South Surrey, B.C., who wore a deep pink silk chiffon gown.

The flower girl was Momi, a small Hawaiian girl dressed in a deep pink gown and carrying a basket of tea roses and fern.

The best man was Mr. Francis Laimana, the groom's brother, from the island of Hawaii. During the signing of the register Mr. Joe A. Quinn sang The Lord's Prayer.

Reception for 100 people was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ah Nee, relatives of the groom. A wedding dinner comprised of a variety of American, Japanese and Chinese foods.

For the honeymoon the young couple flew to the island of Hawaii where they went fishing and sightseeing, and took a boat trip to the fern grotto up the Hanalei Bay.

LARGER FAMILY HOME

Four bedroom home on two acres of level land. Close in. Full price $12,000. Low down payment. Good Terms.

ON DOUBLE LOT

Curriculum planning stresses purpose and goal for students

(This is the seventh in a series of articles by The Minister of Education describing the new senior secondary school curriculum.)

By The Hon. L. R. Peterson Minister of Education

This is the last of the articles that I have been writing about the new senior secondary school curriculum that will be available to students entering Grade XI in September. They covered five optional programmes. Four lead to careers — preferably after further training at one of B. C.'s regional vocational schools — in commerce, industry, community services and the visual and performing arts. The fifth leads to university or the B.C. Institute of Technology. Again I advise against students enrolling in the Academic-Technical Programme simply because they think it has more prestige. Those who think they are fitted for a professional or highly technical career should go to it. School counsellors can give them good advice based on their school records. On the other hand, those who think they would prefer employment as skilled craftsmen should not forget the vocational schools. They provide excellent training and their graduates are in demand by industry and commerce.

As well as the five programs I have covered so far, the new curriculum makes provisions to keep pace with the different and changing needs of the community. Some schools, for example, may wish to include a study of agriculture in the curriculum. Like other programs it would require the same four general education constants, two courses in English, one in social studies and one in guidance and physical education.

The program constants would be mathematics and general business. The specialty element of the program would include two courses on the theory and practice of agriculture, two on power and machinery related to agriculture, and another business course on agricultural economics. The objective is to equip a student with a foundation of salable skills and knowledge helpful in either employment or further specialized training.

Provision has also been made for similar courses relating to the fishing, forestry and mining industries. The decision on what specialty is given rests with the local school authorities and is of course dependent on the demand and the teaching resources available.

Another significant feature of the new curriculum is the provision made for adjusting courses to suit both the interests of the students and the needs of the community. For example, not all students will study identical courses in English, or in industrial power, or in mechanics. In the latter cases particularly provision is made for emphasis on machinery used in forest communities and in manufacturing in industrial communities.

In concluding these articles may I mention that in all our planning, stress has been placed on the importance of providing programmes which have a purpose and a goal. This purpose need not be narrow, and it need not force a student into an irrevocable choice. It should however be pronounced enough to allow the student to keep his mind on the general field of endeavour in which he hopes to be employed, with specialization at a higher level of education to come later. All of the available programmes have been designed to provide good general education; all contain standards and demand effort; all allow freedom of choice dependent on achievement. In the final analysis no programme, however good, can guarantee a pupil his future. This is the individual responsibility.

Catholic Social Conference next June in Nelson

Plans for a regional Catholic Social Life Conference to be held at Nelson next June were discussed at a meeting in Nelson recently.

The conference for dioceses in Alberta and British Columbia will take up the theme of the national conference in Montreal last May "The Christian in the Community". Other regional conferences are also planned for 1966.

Reverend Joseph B. Barnes of Fernie and Dr. J. Harrigan, Trail, will be local co-chairman. Bishop W. E. Doyle of Nelson and Chancellor of Notre Dame University will be the special host. Sessions will be held at NDU, June 17-19, 1966.

Rev. Aquinas Thomas, S. A., president of Notre Dame and NDU Associate professor of Psychology, James M. MacAulay, a member of the National Social Life Conference also attended the meeting.

Summerland High School Principal Mr. John Tamblin was very pleased with the results of the Grades 11 and 12 departmental examinations this year.

83.3 per cent of the students passed. This has been increasing for the past three years.

There were 100 students writing a total of 354 papers and 295 of them passed. This is slightly above the provincial average.

Mr. Tamblin said "I am very pleased. The students have worked. The results have borne this out and I hope we continue to do as well next year."

Wedding vows exchanged

at Summerland United Church

Summerland United Church was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday afternoon, August 28th, when Isabel Reinertson Jeffery, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Reinertson, of Summerland, was united in marriage with John Osborne Powell of Toronto and Vancouver.

Wearing a soft suit and bandeau of pale blue silk brocade brought from Japan by the groom and fashioned by herself, the bride was attended by her sister, Miss Carol Reinertson, and by Mrs. Peter Barg of Vancouver, both wearing fitted silk sheaths in deep blue and carrying white gladioli. The bride's bouquet was of salmon pink gladioli.

The groom was supported by Mr. Arthur Martens of Abbotsford as best man. His brother, Mr. Gordon Powell of Toronto, and Mr. Lawrence Reinertson, brother of the bride, acted as ushers.

The ceremony was followed by an informal reception at the home of the bride's parents, during which a toast to the bride and groom was proposed by Mr. W. R. Chalmers. The four pretty serviteurs were Miss Nancy Fudge, Miss Janet Tamblin, Miss Judy Steele, and the bride's cousin, Miss Rodina Reinertson, of 100 Mile House.

After a brief trip to Banff and Lake Louise, the happy couple will make their home at Crescent Beach, B.C., together with Mrs. Powell's three small daughters.

Out of town guests besides those previously mentioned, included the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Powell of Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. George Powell with daughters Louise and Catherine, of Edmonton; Mrs. L. MacMillan, Mrs. Glen Hamilton, Miss Marion Macmillan, Miss Joan Branlye, Mr.

Comforts assured by auxiliary

We have had a number of requests to publish the work of the Summerland Hospital Auxiliary, and Mrs. Gerry Laidlaw kindly gave us a copy of their annual report.

The Ladies Auxiliary, with a membership of 53 paid up members raised a total of $5,113.20. Their projects included the Thrift Shop, Tag Day, knitting for the hospital show-case, stationery, rags, calendars, Christmas cards, donations and fees, and Christmas raffie.

The Thrift Shop was the big money maker, making a profit of $1,700.

A very hard working member takes the usable cotton clothes and strips all articles such as zippers and buttons off them and sells the rags to gas stations, which netted a tidy sum. So there is no waste she strings the buttons together and akes the zippers back for sale.

Orders are ever increasing for the auxiliary calendars, but the selling of regal stationery and Christmas items has been discontinued because they have difficulty in finding converters.

The Auxiliary sponsors the Future Nurses Club at the high school and organized the members as Candy Strippers. The girls are a pleasing sight to patients and staff in their red and white striped aprons and bibs when they help on wards after school and on weekends.

The library committee has given new life to an outdated library that was in bad condition. The 400 books have been catalogued and sorted, put on shelves for easy selection. Games and toys for children are also receiving attention. Puppets are being made for small patients to play with.

The auxiliary has extended appreciation to the Brownie packs who make up tray treats for patients at Easter and Christmas.

The ladies have adopted the procedure of giving a gift of an engraved silver spoon to each mother of a baby born at the hospital.

Among the items purchased recently are two intravenous stands, utility cart, an isolette, OR instruments, balkan frame, otoscope and transilluminator, adult crib and sets of stainless steel basins etc. for each bed unit.

The isolette is a joy in the nursery. It is one of the things that makes the work of the auxiliary worth while. This group looks to the future with enthusiasm.

They are now organizing voluntary assistance in the hospital, the story of which is elsewhere in this issue.

Hospital auxiliary needs help

The first fall meeting of the Summerland Hospital Auxiliary will be held in the Health Centre at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, September 7. This was changed from the usual first Monday of the month due to Labor Day being a holiday.

An appeal is being made for new members at this time as the auxiliary is embarking on a new type of work, that of volunteer assistance at the hospital and they will need many new helpers.

A recent trend all over Canada has stressed that auxiliary should get away from being solely a fund raising organization and to carry on a volunteer program at the hospitals.

Mrs. Eric Smith is the director of volunteer help and will be interviewing prospective workers, placing them in the department of the hospital most suited to them.

It is hoped many new faces will come out to the September meeting or failing that they are invited to phone Mrs. Smith at 494-1579 if they wish to offer their services.

It will be possible for young mothers to take part as well as there is work that can be done in the home or at the hospital in the evenings.

Another important phase of the auxiliary's work is the Thrift Shop. This is a busy place and the ladies are always looking for more help in this department.

THE SUMMERLAND REVIEW

NO COUNCIL MEETING

Due to the fact that yesterday was the fifth Tuesday in the month, there was no Municipal Council meeting to report this week.

It has been the practice not to hold more than four meetings in any month unless special meetings are called.

Every 4 1/2 seconds in Canada, someone receives a free blood transfusion.

FROM THE CAPITAL CITY

By JIM HUME

Summerland housewives can look forward to an increase in the price of canned salmon this fall and winter — unless West Coast fishermen hit record catches during the next few weeks.

So far this season they, the fishermen, have been fighting a losing battle with their depth finding, radar, echo-sounding equipped vessels.

The overall fish catch for the province is down 20 per cent, but hardest hit are the salmon fishermen who report sockeye, the main canning specie, down 30 per cent, and pink and chums down 70 and 75 per cent.

Only coho, up seven per cent, and springs up 13 per cent, are making it worthwhile to brave the tormented seas of the West Coast of Vancouver Island.

And if you ever doubt that those seas are tormented, try a trip off the Nitinat Lake mouth some time with heavy seas and a north-easter blowing.

I tried it a week ago in sweltering misery and didn't really care that we couldn't find the springs in an early morning fog. Just happy that we were able to pick up the sound of the Nitinat Bar breakers and get back inside "before as the skipper said "it really starts to blow."

All readers of the Review will be happy to know that according to the latest public accounts report released by the government we are still out of debt.

With masterly juggling Mr. Bennett reveals that his buoyant economy continues to boom, the happy society continues dynamically . . . and the contingent liabilities have now hit the $1,385,249,644.

Yes, even if you read it slowly it says ONE BILLION.

But it's better than being in debt, isn't it?

Following the latest wave of vandalism in public parks, plus a minor wave of hooliganism at provincial campsites, the government is stepping up police and guard protection in camping and picnic areas at the coast.

The forecast is that the day is not far off when all provincial campsites will be entered via a guard-manned gate.

Not a happy thought, but possibly the only way to guarantee a night free from terror for families seeking a quiet camping holiday.

The pattern here has been fairly consistent all summer.

A late night gang of liquor-ed-up hoodlums roar into an already asleep campsite, hurl beer bottles at trailers, snip guy-ropes on tents, scream obscenities at women and challenge the men to come out and fight.

Only a few have been caught at their brave little game.

They have been hit hard with court sentences ranging up to six months in jail plus heavy fines, but the night riders still strike in out of the way places where it is difficult to get the RCMP on the scene in time.

If it takes guards and gates to stop them, so be it, though it's a pretty disgusting commentary of our times.

The easier way would be for campers to jot down car license numbers and let the RCMP and courts do the rest. But it isn't easy to keep calm when the kids are screaming in terror and the wife is on the verge of hysteria.

The inside betting is that Mother Cecelia Mary will win her battle with Rome and keep her animal shelter open.

The battling old lady is getting telephone calls by the hundred, cash aid she never dreamed off, volunteer workers she could have used years ago and moral support from Orangemen and Catholics alike.

The only other items worthy of note from Victoria this week are that Prime Minister Pearson beat John Diefenbaker in the first round of the forthcoming election contest.

He boated three small salmon, lost three big ones while fishing in Saanich Inlet. Big John could only manage a rock cod when he tried the big tye grounds off Campbell River earlier this year.

We have no confirmation of the rumor that Mr. Diefenbaker has ditched his fishing tackle and said that he will cut Vancouver Island off from the rest of Canada should he be re-elected.

And one last item: It may have escaped your attention but HMCS Stettler went aground on a mudbank in the harbor entrance last week.

On the outside a minor news item, but on the inside, oh, brother.

Work shortage in Summerland meant change for students

Circumstances this year created a situation not unusual to the life of Summerland students in the past. Many of them had to leave the district to find summer work.

Due to last winter's frost, there was a lack of work in orchards and packing plants, many of these young men were working in construction camps, logging camps or lumber mills at various B.C. points. Here are a few of them.

Prince George, a booming city to the north, claimed quite a few but have released them to us once again so they may attend their regular classes. At that point were Gordon Boothe, Kenny Selinger, Bob Dunham, Wayne and Bill Shannon, Mark Tamblin, Dave McInnis, Bill White, Bill Maddison and Sheldon Doherty.

At Williams Lake were Greg Pruden, Gordon Lackey and Cameron Ross. Gordon Greber was in Prince Rupert, Ray Haar in Ocean Falls and Dennis Dean in Fernie.

Whist players Bridge pros

Gerry Hallquist and Mary Dunn had trouble getting their feet on the ground Tuesday after winning the east-west portion of the SOCBC bridge on Monday night. Gerry says "not bad for a couple of whist players." They got together at the last minute to compete in the fun.

Here are the results of the seven-table Mitchell Movement.

North-South: 1. Mrs. I. Gartrell, O. Onishkevitch; 2. W. Hepperle, Mrs. A. McClymont; 3. Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Stewart. East-West: 1. J. Hallquist, Mrs. M. Dunn; 2. J. Dunn, C. Hadrell; 3. Mrs. R. McNicol, Mrs. E. Brown.

The results of the final summer series was: 1. Mrs. I. Gartrell; 2. H. Hepperle; 3. W. G. Evans; 4. J. Dunn.

The number of private aircraft registered in Canada in 1963 were 4,109.

The number of passengers carried by the two major railways in Canada rose 3.1 per cent in 1962 to 18,061,204.

Every weekday in Canada, 115 daily newspapers are published in more than 4,000,000 copies. Of the 115, 98 are in English, 11 in French and six in other languages.

Parkdale Place

Summer days are once again in the past. Autumn tints can be seen in the meadows, on the hillside, on the banks of the silent creek. With gratitude, we close our summer booklet, a record of all the pleasures we enjoyed in our beautiful, sunny Okanagan Valley.

We received such a pleasant surprise at Parkdale recently. So surprising it was, that we are just wondering whether the two Spacemen called at Fairyland and picked up three fairies — two little girls, one little boy. They may have spied our beauty spot — their way around this earth — just a lovely place for fairies to land. In they came — each one had a box which they handed to our Matron. "These cakes are for the old people — we made them ourselves, icing and all. Now we are going to the hospital to make the sick people happy." Off they went, no names given, so we are left to wonder and wonder. Wherever you may be, little fairies, the old people at Parkdale wish to tell you how very good your cakes were. A loving thank you for your kindness, dear children.

There are many others to thank — those who gave so generously of their garden produce. Cucumbers: Chew Tada, Mr. Dunham, Jacob Geres, G. Geres, Mr. Budd, Mr. and Mrs. Geres, Beets: Mr. Dunham, J. Greenaway, John Dunn. Corn: Alf McLachlan, John Dunn, Mrs. Lockhart, Veg. Marrow: Mrs. Darke. Potatoes:

College head named soon

A principal for the proposed Okanagan Regional College will be selected and retained at an early date in order that he may assist and advise in the planning for the college.

College Council members, meeting in Kelowna Monday, heard a strong recommendation from U. S. Professor Dr. F. T. Giles that a principal should be hired as soon as possible. Professor Giles outlined how other U. S. colleges had benefited in their planning by retaining a principal at an early date to assist and advise with architectural and curriculum planning, and noted that Canadian educators also recommended the early selection of a principal.

The council will advertise for a principal and in other ways invite applications for the position. A committee comprised of chairman Frank Ven-

Chew Tada, Mr. Gallop; Tomatoes, carrots, cucumbers: Mr. and Mrs. Greenaway. Beans, cabbage, squash: Mr. Verrier. Cabbage: Mrs. King.

Thank you Mr. McGuire of Trout Creek for those beautiful flowers.

The Matron, staff and residents offer our sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Hill on the death of their young son. There is comfort and consolation in the words of Our Divine Saviour — "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven."

ables of Oliver, and vice-chairman Charles Buckland and Frank Orme of Kelowna will screen applicants with assistance from Dean S. N. F. Chant of the University of British Columbia.

"The selection of a principal," said Professor Giles, "is one of the most important things you will do . . . it will set the tone for the entire institution."

Council members Monday also decided to retain Dr. Giles as architectural consultant to advise whichever architectural firm is eventually engaged, and approved the rental and renovation of an office in Kelowna and the lease of office furniture and equipment. A secretary will be hired when necessary.

A committee comprised of Oscar Domke of Revelstoke, Hugh Kaley of Armstrong and Al Green of Salmon Arm will study proposals from at least two firms of architects and make a recommendation to council.

Penticton School District trustees C. J. Tingle and Avery King attended the meeting as observers. An informal discussion took place regarding the possibility of presenting another plebiscite to School District No. 15 voters, but no conclusion was reached.

Penticton School District voters rejected the plebiscite held April 10 by a substantial majority, and are not represented on the College Council.

Don Cristante rolls in ditch

For a change the Summerland RCMP did not have an accident to report on Highway 97 north of town this week, but there was one in Summerland.

Don Cristante of Summerland was travelling south in the Shoestring Valley district. He applied his brakes and the right front wheel grabbed and pulled him over to a soft shoulder.

The wheel sank so deep he rolled his truck over. There were no injuries but the damage to Don's truck amounted to $400. No charges were laid.

THE Summerland Review

Vol. XX—No. 32 Summerland, B.C., Wednesday, September 8, 1965 8 Pages — 5c per Copy

The Search and Rescue Squad were "Johnny-on-the-spot" Thursday when John Flintz of Calgary was pulled out of the water by S. S. Fabbi and Bruce Campbell. He was skiing behind his father's boat when he fell and was lost for over half an hour. With his back to the camera is Tom Jomori and on the far side of the stretcher is Phil Richardson and Robbie Wright. (See story elsewhere.)

Cubs, Scouts to disband if leaders are not found

A cubmaster, scoutmaster and assistants are urgently needed by the 1st Summerland Scout Group, reports chairman Lawrence Charles. The cubmaster, after many years of service, has resigned as well as one of his assistants. The scoutmaster, who has been with the group almost 20 years, is very anxious to be replaced, and two scout assistants are also needed for the coming season. A meeting of parents is being called for 8:00 p.m. at the Youth Centre, Tuesday, September 14, to review the situation and discover where leaders may be found. Mr. Charles states that ideally parents of boys should take on the leadership role. Unless cub and scout leaders are found, the 1st Summerland Group — the oldest original group in B.C., will have to be disbanded.

Any person who would like to help in this important activity is asked to contact the group secretary, Mr. R. J. Barkwill, phone 494-3101.

Alex Stephens solves mystery

John Dunn, who lives by the Anglican Cemetery noticed a man looking for a grave and asked who he was searching for. It was the nephew of John Philp and all he knew was that he worked in Summerland in the early 1900's and there was a story that he had drowned. John went to work and did a little research and finally asked oldtimer Alex Stephens if he recalled the name. Mr. Stephens had. It was in 1903 when he was a bookkeeper for the Summerland Development Co. He recalled that Mr. Philp had been at a picnic and had decided to go for a swim in a reservoir and they later found him drowned there. The deceased also worked for the development company. His stay in Summerland was very short. Mr. Dunn then went to the Municipal office and the only thing they had on their cemetery map was that a man by the name of Philp was buried in 1903 in grave No. 12. There was no first name. It was assumed that although the name was spelled different, it was the same person. The nephew was from Salem, Oregon.

Arthur Menu skips to varsity

A former Summerland youth, Arthur Menu now of Kelowna, is one of ten students in the province that will be accepted for entrance at Simon Fraser University this month without completing the regular university entrance. Arthur is the son of John C. Menu and the late Mrs. Cyrilla Menu and he attended the Summerland school for five years before moving to Kelowna. He is 15 years old and completed his Grade XI this past term at Immaculata School. "The youngsters have been recommended as outstanding, mature students by their schools," said Norman Barton, registrar of the Simon Fraser University. "The plan is in operation in a number of universities in the United States and some students have been accepted on a similar basis in Canada. They will be regular students, taking either arts or science degrees and will take no special classes. "We will watch them very closely and give them all possible counselling and assistance." Fr. Francis Godderis, who recommended Arthur for the course, said he was most pleased the boy's exceptional ability was being given a challenge. "The idea behind this course, as we understand it," he said, "is to prepare students for the service of Canada with the least possible delay. "It is not actually a course, since the students will take regular university classes, but it is a course in the sense they will be skipping their final year in high school. "If a student can measure up, and we are counting on Arthur to do that, it can cut a year off the time towards his degree. We are very proud of Arthur and the development he has shown under our teachers." He was president of the Immaculata High Athletic Council last year, a member of the students' council and the glee club.

Good vegetable entry expected

According to Charlie Bernhardt who is in charge of the agricultural division of the Summerland Fall Fair slated for Friday and Saturday, there will be fewer exhibits of fruit this year, but a good variety of vegetables are expected. All entrants must have grown their own fruit so, due to the shortage of soft fruits in the area, it is doubtful there will be any peach entries but there may be a few grapes and prunes around to make somewhat of a showing. Alex Watt is in charge of the children's entries in the vegetable division and states that there will be a good showing in his department. The Shannon Trophy will be up for competition for school entries in all grades but Grade 5 who have their own category. "There are those who are afraid to enter because of the fear that they won't be the best," Mr. Watt said. "This is not the important thing. The important thing is to participate — we can't all win." All entries of fruit and vegetables in all classes must be brought to the arena Thursday night between 7:30 and 10:30.

Roy de-Rosier passes away in Vancouver at fifty years

Mr. Roy Harold DeRosier passed away in Vancouver Aug. 30 at the age of 50 years. Born in Fort Macleod, Alberta, he has resided in Summerland for the past 28 years and was an active member of the Summerland Fire Department. Surviving are his loving wife Mary; 3 sons, Harold (Calgary), Ronald (Winnipeg), Barry and one daughter, Deborah Anne, both at home. Also surviving are five grandchildren; three brothers, Louis and Donald (Summerland), Clarence (Fort Macleod); four sisters, Mrs. John West (California), Mrs. Dick Neal and Mrs. Fred Clarke (Summerland), Mrs. Allen Weaver (Fort Macleod). Requiem Mass was sung from the Church of The Holy Child, September 3, with Fr. Guinan celebrant. Interment was at Peach Orchard Cemetery. Wright's Funeral Home entrusted with arrangements.

Hobby Club suggested at Kiwanis

A visitor of the Kiwanis Club proposed a "trades hobby" program for young and old at their meeting at the Summerland Yacht Club Thursday night. A guest of Dick Randall, John Barrell suggested that there may be interest in forming a club that would embrace instruction in the various trades such as electronics or woodwork. Mr. Barrell worked with the boys at Wood's Christian Home in Calgary in the electronics line and it proved to be interesting and educational. Wood's Christian Home is sponsored jointly by funds left in an estate and donations from the general public for homeless children. He has lived in Summerland for the past year. He did not propose this to be on the same line as a night school, "but it could create the interest in youngsters so they would further their study in some trade," he said. He suggested that there would be enough retired tradesmen in Summerland that would be glad to offer their services and possibly some equipment. The organization would have no age limit — adults would be encouraged to take part. Dick Randall said a similar program had started in the U.S. and had mushroomed into a big thing. Before any decision regarding sponsorship would be made it was decided to wait until it was given this publicity in the Review and to invite anyone interested to contact Mr. Barrell by phoning him at 494-8425. It will be discussed at the next Kiwanis directors meeting. Mr. Barrell suggested that there is limited recreation for older people in Summerland during the winter, especially if they did not curl and reasoned that this would be right down their alley.

MEETING PLACE CHANGE Steaks were again served by chef Gorry Hallquist and his committee and they were dandies as usual. Next meeting the club moves to their winter quarters above Mac's Cafe. Another guest for the evening was John Poacosh, proprietor of Summerland Lockers, where the steaks have been purchased during the summer. The quality was applauded and he was thanked for other favors he had done for the club. Harry Hackman said they will build a new school bus shelter in the Paradise Plaza district and would be calling for volunteers. He also said the backstop at the Trout Creek School would be repaired. Mr. and Mrs. Seattle Ritchie and President Lloyd Shannon attended the Pacific Northwest District Convention in Pasco, Washington. Mr. Ritchie gave a report of the affair where the registration was 2,113 with 402 delegates attending representing 194 clubs. There are 316 clubs in the district. President Shannon announced that the 1967 convention would be held in Penticton. A new club had been formed in Merritt and according to President Shannon, he closed his furniture store for three days to attend the convention. Jack Stewart is away on vacation so Bill Laidlaw will take his place in arranging for help at the gate during the fall fair.

Reeve asks good attendance at area development meet

Councillor Jim Schaeffer reported his attendance to an Okanagan-Similkameen Development Council meeting in Penticton where the method of representation was discussed. He said all cities and southern municipalities were represented but Coldstream was the only one from the north. There will be one from each municipality and two from each city.

The budget for this year is $7,000 and next $17,000 for promotion and advertising. "A heavy advertising schedule is planned," Mr. Schaeffer said. Reeve Holmes stressed the importance of a meeting with Ottawa officials to outline the Area Development program to be held in the Peach Bowl Convention Centre, Penticton September 15 from 9:15 a. m. to 4:00 p.m. "All the council should attend this meeting," Holmes said. "The meeting is open to the public as well and it is hoped many will attend, but at least as many as possible of the council should be there. It is an important meeting for Summerland."

Councillor Schaeffer added "It will be good for the whole interior. It is tremendous. These representatives are coming out from Ottawa expressly for this purpose. Ken Blagborne said it would cost a total of $2800 to provide parking space, in front of the Walker and Lampard property on Crescent Beach Road. These people had petitioned council to give them costs of making parking available in front of their homes as at the present there is none. It would include fill and a retaining wall.

Due to the fact that it will improve the road and the build up in fact, will be on the road allowance, Lampard and Walker will be notified that the municipality will pay half the cost on the condition they will both be done at the same time.

Works Supervisor Blagborne will attend the annual Public Works Association meeting in Penticton on September 15-17.

A letter was received from G. E. Baynes of Trout Creek complaining about night activity at Powell Beach and the immediate area. The letter stated that at 2:00 a.m. one morning last month, "five hoodlums came up on my porch, defying requests to go using very bad language. I called police, but they were three quarters of an hour getting here."

On another occasion some boys were consuming beer on the beach at 10 p.m. and when asked to move on they became obnoxious but finally left. It stated that the local police were excellent but requested that more patrolling be done in the Powell Beach area. Regulations state that no one is allowed in the beach area after midnight.

Some questioned why it took the police three quarters of an hour to arrive on the scene but it was explained that at that time they were one man short and they have a large area to cover. Councillor Powell cited a case when he needed the police after hours. He phoned the Penticton detachment who radioed the Summerland police and were "at the gate before we could turn around."

The police will be made aware of the letter. Council had requested of RC MP officials to bring their Summerland detachment to the proper strength of three last month.

"The co-operation we received was wonderful" Reeve Holmes said. "We called them on Friday and another man was here on Monday."

Reeve Holmes, Councillors Schaeffer and Ritchie will attend the annual meeting of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities in Victoria from Sept. 21 to 25. (Cont. P. 8, see 'Council')

Pelican seen on the Okanagan

Visitors and dwellers got all excited when they saw a Pelican on the Okanagan just a hundred yards from the beach at Lakeshore Tent and Trailer Camp. It was a white one, and although they do show up in this area from time to time, they are very rare. It must have got off the track a little bit because our research tells us that they are found mostly in Florida, Texas and the southwestern states. By the time this reporter got there the pelican was out in the middle of the lake so Mr. S. S. Fabbi kindly took us out in his boat to see if we could get a picture but we couldn't get one up close enough to reproduce.

Arena exhibits well balanced

Exhibit chairman John Khalembach and his committee are busy setting the arena stalls and booths up in preparation for the Fall Fair on Friday and Saturday. John told the Review there is still space available for anyone wishing to display their wares but they should contact him right away. "It is not only open to commercial classes and organizations," John said, "anyone with anything to display in the way of hobbies and such are welcome to come and see me regarding space. We bar no one." The committee started moving lumber and material in on Tuesday to build the stage and the display booth partitions. They will set up the Tea Garden that will be operated by the WI as well. The local service clubs are assisting with this chore. Delmar Dunham has made a very nice backdrop for the stage this year along the lines of an English wrought iron gate. It will be located mid-way down the west side. The Summerland Power Squadron will have a fully equipped power boat on display and will, in general, promote water safety. The South Okanagan Sailing Association will have a fully rigged sailboat on hand and the Rod and Gun Club will have their usual attractive display. Valley florists have been contacted inviting them to put up a florist display. This is expected to be a highlight if enough interest is shown. Many other organizations including the Brownies, Kinettes and Women's Institute will be represented as well. A well balanced display depicting life in the Okanagan will be enjoyed by the large crowd expected.

Militia unit wants recruits

The British Columbia Dragoons (BCD), for many years an armoured regiment, is now taking the role of re-organization and is one of the major units under the re-organized militia. The militia is made up of two sections: First, students 16 to 19 years of age attending school; and second, regular members 18 to 45 years of age. The training programme consists of four parts: 1. Basic military skill, drill, first aid, personal weapons and map using. 2. Reconnaissance vehicles, maps and military radio. 3. Leadership training for junior and senior Non Commissioned Officers. 4. A few openings for commissions. The new training year commences on Thursday, September 9, at 8 p.m. at the Penticton Armouries. The unit is under the command of Captain Howard T. Wright, and he is most anxious to enlist any ex-service personnel under 40 years of age, with commission rank. Captain Wright is a Summerland man and it is a note of interest that during the years the unit was commanded by Captain A. M. Temple of Summerland there were as many or more members from this district as there were from Penticton. Young men who enlist in the unit will find the training not only instructive and interesting, but also a step toward their future security. Captain Wright stated that if a sufficient number of Summerland recruits are obtained, transportation will be provided each week.

BENT - BROKEN BUT NOT FINISHED Les Kirkby isn't bemoaning the fact that his car is all smashed up. It's supposed to be that way. Lorne Carey and Harvey Bombardier rode this Powell Beach Plaza entry in the Destruction Derby in Penticton on Saturday night. There were only four or five cars left when they had to bow out because of dirt in the carburetor of all things. Next time they leave the air cleaner on. The car still runs and will enter the next crash fest.

Houses of Parliament and Confederation Square.

Moore new general manager of B.C. Tree Fruits Sept. 7

The Board of Directors of B.C. Tree Fruits Limited announced last week that Eric W. Moore of Toronto has been appointed General Manager of B.C. Tree Fruits Limited.

Moore is 36 years old, married, and has two children. He was born and educated in England, receiving his BA in Leeds University in 1948 and his MA in 1950. He received his teachers diploma in 1948 from St. John's University, York, England.

Monroe has had a wide range of business experience. He served as Manager of the Merchandising Division of "Personal Products Ltd." (a subsidiary of Johnson & Johnson). He has had experience in advertising with two leading advertising agencies: J. Walter Thompson Co. and Vickers Benson Ltd., where he acted as Account Group Supervisor, specializing in consumer food products. He comes to the Okanagan from General Foods Ltd., Toronto, where he has been employed as product manager, directing all marketing activities for several food products, including the development of marketing plans, advertising and distribution. His responsibilities also involved new product development, consumer research, sales promotion, packaging, budgeting and general administration.

"The Board of Directors consider Mr. Moore to be well qualified to assume the duties of General Manager of B. C. Tree Fruits Limited, which he will do on September 7th," the news release concluded.

erment again in 1945, this time to direct the planning of the whole National Capital. In co-operation with his Canadian colleagues, Edouard Fiset and John M. Kitchen, Jacques Greber conceived a master plan for the National Capital which was tabled in the Canadian Parliament in 1951 by the Prime Minister.

In 1959 the Federal District Commission was replaced by the National Capital Commission under the terms of the 1958 National Capital Act. At that time, the National Capital region was extended to include an area of 1,800 square miles about equally distributed between the Quebec and the Ontario sides of the Ottawa River.

Why a National Capital?

(This is the first of a series of 9 articles telling of the development of Ottawa, the focal point of our national capital region, embracing some 1,800 square miles about equally distributed between Ontario and Quebec.)

The capital of a nation reflects the soul of its people. It reflects the culture, the wealth, the power and the political spirit of a nation. It is the mirror of the country's vitality, its energy and dreams for the future. A capital city belongs to everyone in the nation and, as the seat of central government and national institutions, it is a community with undefined limits. It is the nation!

Situated at the junction of the Ottawa and Rideau Rivers with the Gatineau River flowing down from the north in the Quebec section of the National Capital area, our national capital stands on a site rich in natural beauty. Its parliamentary buildings conceived on neo-gothic lines and topped by the Peace Tower stand high on a rock cliff overlooking the Ottawa River. They stand as a symbol of Canada's confidence in the future.

Initially, Ottawa was a military construction yard, then a prosperous centre of the lumber industry. It grew haphazardly until 1899 when the Federal Government realized that if Ottawa was to become a capital worthy of a vast and rapidly developing country, it was imperative that some planning be undertaken without further delay. As a result, the Ottawa Improvement Commission was formed.

With a limited budget it succeeded in constructing a driveway, developing a boulevard and a beautiful park. This was the beginning.

In 1927, the Improvement Commission was replaced by the Federal District Commission to which the Government granted broader powers and a healthier budget. Its authority was extended to part of the territory of the province of Quebec.

The projects completed by the Federal District Commission between 1927 and 1959 were numerous. The FDC Act created a National Capital area embracing 900 square miles about equally divided between Ontario and Quebec. Later, the Federal District Commission Act was amended to increase its terms of reference and to confer upon it a truly national character.

One of the most important stages in the planning of the National Capital of Canada was begun in 1937 when the famed town planner Jacques Greber of Paris, was invited to come to Canada. At that time he prepared plans for the redevelopment of Elgin Street and Confederation Square. Greber was invited by the Federal Gov-

PARKDALE PLACE

(Held over from last week)
Our sincere wishes for many happy returns to all those who have passed another milestone. . . Mrs. F. Sloper, Mrs. Parry, our competent cook, Miss Evelyn Egely our young, very alert maid.

The lady residents spent a very enjoyable afternoon at the Experimental Farm where tea was served outdoors by Mrs. Wilcox. The weather was perfect, the refreshments delicious, the surroundings beautiful. To you Mrs. Wilcox and to Mr. Lott our sincere thanks for the pleasure you gave us.

DREAMS OF THE OKANAGAN LAKE

(Poem by Mrs. Mabel Atkinson, Parkdale Place).
On the banks of the Okanagan As the rays from a setting sun Artistically painted pictures, I sat when day was done.

The rainbow tinted colors Shot across the western sky, Transfusing the opalescence On the lake and hills close by.

Clouds were slowly darkening, Night hawks swooped in flight, Lullabies of water fowl Trilled across the night.

I sat there idly dreaming Of the pageantry of time, Ghosts that might haunt the valley, Some grotesque, some sublime.

The stolid red skinned warrior, His tepee, papoose, wife, Scarping with cruel vengeance All that crossed his life.

The strange and fearsome stories Of monsters in the lakes, The weird and ghastly ceremonies, The medicine man's crude fakes.

Boat and craft and commerce, Clanging hills of trains, Each came in succession Of man's triumphant reign.

What of the far flung future? What of the day to be? Shall it be ever onward Following: vistas all men see?

'303' Rifle Club wraps it up

Sunday, Sept. 5th the Summerland Big Bore Rifle Club held its final shoot of the season. Club president Harold Richardson was away at the time. Three ranges were used, the 200, 500 and 600-yard ranges.

On the 200 yard range Don Tait and Kathy Shannon tied with 44 points for first and second with Don winning the shoot off.

The 500 yard range was won by Kathy Shannon with 46 points and Andy Nielsen was second with 43.

On the 600 range, Don Tait was first with 43 points and Carol Shannon was 2nd with 36. Ken Nielsen was high man in the junior division on the 200 and 500 ranges.

High aggregate was won by Don Tait with 129 and Kathy Shannon 2nd with 126 points.

Kathy won the Tyro Aggregate with her sister Carol in second place. Ken Nielsen won the junior aggregate. Following the shoot, lunch was served at the home of Len Shannon.

ORCHARD RUN

by Wally Smith

The Passing Show

Sid Godber's "B. C. Orchardist" has been slicked up to rival other popular horticultural journals.

The Orchardist, launched under humble circumstances six years ago, is now being turned out by the well established printing firm, the Orchard City Press and Calendar Co. Ltd. Mr. Godber is managing editor of the magazine.

A smart looking printing job and good reading material combine to make the Orchardist a worthwhile publication.

The official organ of the BCFGA is Country Life, a very good monthly periodical covering all branches of agriculture in British Columbia. But Country Life has to spread its pages over so many departments that it must, of necessity work within rather narrow limits in any one department.

Our Okanagan fruit industry needs a magazine of its very own. The Orchardist could supply that need, and I think the growers should give it every chance to do so.

This interesting little item on the apple was gleaned from the columns of an Eastern Canadian publication:

Apples are important tooth cleaners because of their texture effects on mechanical removal of food particles.

But more important, the acids contained in the fruit as malaeic acid, stimulate the flow of saliva in the mouth above the normal rate.

The action of the saliva does much to remove refined sugars, the main cause of tooth decay.

These facts have led to the development in England of a special malaeic acid tablet which may be taken orally to replace tooth brushing (the electric toothbrush people will not like this).

However, a pill has not yet been made to duplicate the pleasure of eating an apple.

Higher consumer prices for food are expected to follow the passing of a minimum wage bill now before the U. S. Congress.

The bill, if passed, would guarantee the workers a minimum of $1.15 an hour commencing next summer, and $1.25 an hour by 1968. Piece work harvesters are expected to be guaranteed at least the minimum hourly rate.

Harold D. Cooley, chairman of the House Committee on Agriculture, predicted that the blanketing of farm labor under the minimum wage law, "will certainly mean a rise in food costs of substantial proportions throughout the nation."

These increased prices are bound to be reflected in Canada because we import hundreds of millions of dollars worth of American foodstuffs every year, and much of it could be grown right here in this country.

One certain result of higher farm wages will be increased farm mechanization. More mechanization will come about in any event whether farm wages go up or not, but a boost in labor costs always gives an impetus to the search for ways to displace labor with machines that can do the job at lower cost.

More mechanization means fewer farm workers, more unemployed drifting from farm to city, and there doesn't seem to be anything we can do about it.

PER CAPITA SPENDING UP
In the 15-year, 1950-1964 period spending by all governments in Canada rose from $290 per capita to $760 per capita.

Barry Lawley weds Vancouver girl at Grace Memorial United

A wedding of interest to Summerland residents took place in Vancouver at the Grace Memorial United Church recently when Kathaleen Joanne Landers of Vancouver and Barry Charles Lawley also of Vancouver and formerly of Summerland exchanged vows.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ryan Lawley of Summerland.

The bride was lovely in her model gown of French faille taffeta as she entered the church on the arm of her father. Fashioned in sheath style with scoop neckline and fitted lily point sleeves, the wedding dress featured lace overlays on the skirt and a flowing train which fell from the waistline in an attractive cascade of folds.

A tiara of pearls and aurora borealis held the bridal veil which fell to fingertip length in a bouffant mist of illusion sheer. She carried a shower bouquet of yellow roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. J. Bernert was matron of honor, Mrs. F. Hutchinson bridesmatron, and Miss Mary Monaghan bridesmaid. Four-year-old Kelli Watson, niece of the bride, was flower girl.

Ray Dunsdan of Moose Jaw was best man and ushers were James McNabb, John Menu and Adolf Falk. All but the latter were former Summerland residents.

The wedding reception was held in the Imperial Room, Hallmark Hall.

Vases of yellow roses and white carnations with lighted tapers flanked the three-tier wedding cake cut by the young couple during the evening.

For travelling the bride chose a pale pink velvet dressmaker suit with matching pill box hat, white accessories and a gardenia corsage.

After a two-week honeymoon in the United States, they will live at the Sardust Apartments, 1420 West 11th Ave., Vancouver.

Colleague likes our "new look"

The Editor, Summerland Review

Dear Keith — I'm only in the district (and editor of the Gazette) for a short time (subbing for my father who is on a short holiday), but was delighted to see the new look of the Review when it arrived at the office this morning.

It looks great... hope that all goes well with you at the Review and the paper keeps getting better and better.

Nothing sadder than a weekly on the downhill run as the Review seemed to be when I was last here. But there's nothing better than to see someone take hold in time and restore it to its former greatness... and add some laurels of his own.

Sincerely,
Milton Orris

CENTENNIAL MEMO

Prior to 1863, Lamalchi Bay, Kuper Island was the lair of Indian pirates who preyed on seafarers in Trincomali and Stuart Channels. A naval expedition that year, led by H. M.S. Forward, dispersed the pirates, and the four leaders involved were hanged at Victoria.

The Canada Pension Plan and its benefits

Here is what the Canada Pension Plan will do for people like Mary Todd, a 22-year-old nurse who earns $310 a month ($3,720 a year).

If Mary's earnings continue at this rate until she reaches age 65, she will receive a retirement pension of $77.50 a month from the Plan plus $75 a month Old Age Security.

Because Mary will have the opportunity of contributing for 43 years, she can have as many as 6 1/2 years of lower or no earnings and still be entitled to the same pension.

Actually, Mary's retirement pension will undoubtedly be more. This is because as Mary advances in her profession and her earnings increase so will her pension. Furthermore, to ensure that all benefits under the Plan maintain their value, they will be adjusted to meet changes in living costs and wage levels before they are paid and changes in living costs after they become payable.

If Mary continues to work and becomes disabled at any time after 1970, she will be entitled to a disability pension of $89.12 a month until she reaches age 65. From then on she will receive her retirement pension as well as $75 a month from Old Age Security.

If Mary dies any time after 1967, having contributed until her death, a lump sum payment of $465 will be paid to her estate.

What will the Plan cost you?

If, like Mary, you are employed and have earnings of $3,720 spread evenly over the year, you will pay at the rate of $4.68 a month. Your employer will pay the same amount.

This advertisement is one of a series which relates some of the important benefits of the Canada Pension Plan to individual circumstances.

Issued by authority of the Minister of National Health and Welfare, Canada, The Honourable Judy LaMarsh.

Carlton Sheeley weds former Pentiction girl in Coquitlam

Jean Karen Smith of Coquitlam and formerly of Pentiction, exchanged vows with Carlton Arthur Sheeley of Summerland in a quiet wedding held at Como Lake United Church, Coquitlam, recently with Rev. R. J. Love officiating.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sheeley of Summerland and the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith of Abbotsford.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked lovely in a gown of white organza over faille taffeta in Empire style with Belgian lace panel three inches in width centred from neck to hemline. The lace-trimmed jacket was buttoned down the back with a train flowing from the shoulders of the jacket. The veil was chapel length with headdress of orange blossoms and seed pearls. She carried a spray bouquet of coral Tropicana roses.

The maid of honor was Donna Marchant, Pentiction, and bridesmaids were Bonnie Smith, sister of the bride, and Elizabeth Smith, cousin of the bride. The best man was Bruce Lemke and he ushers were Jim Sheeley, brother of the groom, and Tom Smith, brother of the bride.

A reception was held at Admiral Hotel, Burnaby.

The bride's mother received guests wearing a three-piece suit of ivory brocade with pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother who wore a two-piece dress of pink brocade with hat of beige flowers with a corsage of pink roses and buds.

Guests from Summerland included Mr. and Mrs. Paul Charles, Mr. and Mrs. A. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Fudge, Miss Nancy Fudge, Mr. and Mrs. J. Heavysides, Miss Lesley Heavysides, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parker, Mr. Warren Parker, Miss Vonda Wade, Mr. Verne DeWitt, Mr. Jim Eyre and Mr. Ed Matsu.

From Pentiction were Mrs. Betty Smith, Mr. Richard Smith and Miss Lynn Emsland.

For a honeymoon at Lake Chelan, the bride chose a two-piece suit of white linen weave silk with accessories of pink.

The happy couple will reside at 685 Fairview St., Coquitlam.

Symphony season to open

The Okanagan Valley Symphony Orchestra's seventh season opens Sunday, Sept. 12.

On that day, orchestra director Lt. Leonard Camplin will be holding rehearsal-auditions starting at noon in the Pentiction High School Auditorium.

The orchestra is starting its season earlier this year in preparation for the series of Christmas and spring concerts, the actual dates of which have not been set.

SECOND SEASON

Lt. Camplin, who is making this his second season as orchestra director, hopes that player interest will be sufficient to support instrument classes. These classes would be held every other Saturday when Lt. Camplin come to Pentiction from Chilliwack where he is director of the Royal Canadian Engineers' Band.

Civic reception at Yacht Club for district royalty, mayors, reeves

The Summerland Council will head the usual pre-fair Civic Reception in the Summerland Yacht Club on Friday night.

Royal parties from Keremeos, Rock Creek, Kelowna and Pentiction are expected to attend as well as the Mayors and Reeves from surrounding districts and cities.

Heading the guest list will be David Pugh, M.P. who will officially open the fair at 8:00 p.m. that evening. Minister of Agriculture Frank Richter will also be present. About 95 are expected.

The Queen crowning ceremonies will take place in the Arena at 9 p.m. when Queen-elect Pat Ryman will be crowned.

Now! False Teeth Fit Beautifully!

Amazing dental discovery, 'Cushion Grip' — ends sore spots — refits loose dentures to hold snug as a dentist's mold! Tasteless! Nothing to mix! One application lasts months!

After years of research, modern science has developed a remarkable new way to make false teeth fit beautifully—stop looseness, slipping, clicking, relieve sore spots—without messy, old-fashioned pastes, powders and pads! It's CUSHION GRIP—amazing new soft, pliable plastic that holds false teeth snug as a dentist's mold, through soothing suction—makes loose dentures fit properly again. Result is, you can talk, laugh, eat anything without discomfort or embarrassment. CUSHION GRIP is easy to use—nothing to mix or measure! Simply squeeze out of tube onto dentures, then insert false teeth into mouth and bite down. Instantly, CUSHION GRIP molds to contours of mouth and gums — provides beautiful fit—holds dentures firmly in place with suction. Looseness, slipping, clicking disappear. Sore spots are quickly relieved. One application lasts for months, despite nightly cleaning, yet CUSHION GRIP is easily removed when desired. What's more, CUSHION GRIP actually refits, relines worn dentures. Save 73¢... For generous trial offer send 25¢, your name and address to PHARMACD 3635 Metropolitan Blvd., Polina Claire, P. O.

Swim leader steps down, praises work of Red Cross

Swimming instructors and leaders were guests at the regular meeting of the Summerland Rotary Club Friday night.

They included Mrs. Laverder Hyde who, for the past ten years, has been an instructor and/or leader of the swimming instructions at Rotary Beach; head instructor Dorelyn Ducommun and instructors Becky Downing, Linda Munro and Rich Randall, and Mrs. Hyde's assistant Jan Beggs.

Mrs. Hyde said she had enjoyed the past ten years and expressed with mixed feelings that she will now step down and let someone else take over.

She was introduced by Les Rumball in the absence of Rotary Swimming Instruction Chairman Mel Hyde. "He said he had to work but I think it was because he didn't want to introduce his own wife," Mr. Rumball said.

Mrs. Hyde praised the Red Cross for their work in water safety in providing instruction schools and examinations without charge.

Summerland affiliates with the Royal Life Saving Society each year who supplies literature and examiners. In the future the society plans on having their separate examiners.

She said she enjoyed teaching swimming much more than organizing.

Miss Ducommun thanked the club for giving her an opportunity to teach swimming and hoped she would be back next year.

Charlie Greenhough spoke for the Rotarians in thanking the instructors, and expressed regret at Mrs. Hyde's resignation but added "she may be back".

Vice-president Keath Marten who was in the chair in the absence of president Jock Johnston, praised Richard Randall for his high Grade 13 standing last term.

He also praised the community for contributing to the swimming instruction fund so generously.

Getting on with Rotary's routine business, Gordon

Beggs reported they were not able to get sand for the beach this year as planned, due to circumstances beyond their control.

He did say, however, that the Municipality now has some available and they may be able to obtain some. The beach committee will approach council.

A new member, John Holman, was welcomed to the club and there was one guest from Penticton, Al Bent.

The next meeting which is Friday night, was cancelled because too many of the members would be busy at the Fall Fair, but secretary S. A. MacDonald will be on hand should some visitors show up.

Trail Riders to add talent to Summerland Fall Fair

There has apparently been some confusion as to what events will take place during the Summerland Trail Riders Gymkhana and Show on Saturday afternoon. This is a new addition to the fair.

I will start at 4:00 p.m. if all goes well, immediately following the judging of the South Okanagan 4H show.

Here are the categories as supplied by Trail Rider president Bob Chalmers.

1. Showmanship and grooming, 16 years and under: To be judged on the cleanliness and grooming of horse and exhibitor, and the manner in which the horse is shown on halter or bridle.

2. Performance of horse and rider, 12 years and under: To be judged on the ability of the rider, suitability of rider to mount, and general way of going and manners of horse.

3. Bareback challenge, 13 to 16 years: Timed event. Course to consist of six jumps and six bending poles. Rider will ride bareback over six jumps and bend back and forth through six bending poles.

The prizes in each category will be $10.00, $5.00 and $2.50.

LET'S GET NEWSY . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Norm West, daughter Cathy, her friend Maurine Fitzpatrick, and Bert Simpson spent the day in Revelstoke on Sunday.

There will be a scout meeting on Tuesday evening at 8 p.m. in the Youth Centre.

Potatoes are growing big these days. One came to the office that tipped the scales at 2 lbs. 11 ozs.

Guests of Mrs. W. R. Powell last week were her granddaughter, Miss Judi Johnston of Merritt, and Miss Sharon Harmer of Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. White and family returned from Vancouver where Mr. White attended a workshop of the B.C. Commerce Teachers.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Tait have returned from a trip to Barkerville and other points in the Cariboo.

Gordon Greber is home for a visit after spending the summer working at Prince Rupert. Gordon will leave shortly to attend the Langley Junior College.

John Kitson is in Montreal this week participating in the sailing races.

Judges named for kiddies parade

John Dunji, who is in charge of the Fall Fair kiddies parade has announced the judges who will have a tough time picking the best in the various categories.

They are Mrs. Francis Steuart, Mr. Bob Chalmers, Mr. Don Puddy and Miss Dorelyn Ducommun.

The starting time of the parade is at 1:30 p.m. on Saturday and it will be led by the Penticton Pipe Band. All children are invited to take part in this. There are no rules regarding costume or props but everyone will receive a prize and a ribbon.

Happy Holidays Take More Than New Swimsuit

How was the holiday? Did it live up to expectations? Or did you have to pinch pennies?

Don't let it happen again next year, when it's so easy to plan wonderful vacations — and to pay for them in advance by steady saving at the Bank of Montreal.

Many modern families now operate their own "do-it-together" savings plan. Everyone contributes according to the amount he can spare, regularly.

The time to start is right now! And the way to do it is to deposit each pay-day enough to cover the expenses of one day of your holidays. Then when it's holiday time again, your special vacation fund will be big enough to make it a holiday to remember.

Bob Evans, accountant at the Summerland branch of the B of M can show you how easy it is to start your special savings account.

See Mr. Evans soon. He's a good man to know!

Skiing incident almost fatal

A Calgary youth almost lost his life while water-skiing on Lake Okanagan on Thursday morning.

John Plintz and a friend were being towed by John's father, Harry Plintz also of Calgary. John fell, and instead of picking him out of the water he chose to take the other skier in to shore at Lakeside Tent & Trailer where they were camping. When they returned for the boy, they could not find him. He had fallen 200 to 300 yards from shore on the other side of the lake.

As the search continued, a Summerland resident Mr. S. S. Fabbri arrived with his boat. Bruce Campbell, also of Summerland saw Plintz in the water, took a sight on him from shore and they were able to go right to the spot and pick him out of the water. He had been in the water over half an hour. Fortunately he was wearing a life jacket.

The ambulance and the Summerland Search and Rescue Squad were on the scene and he was taken to the Summerland General Hospital suffering from exhaustion and exposure. At his own request he was released within a few minutes.

RCMP Cpl. Bud Stahl sternly reprimanded Plintz Sr. for not picking him out of the water immediately.

SUMMERLAND COUNCIL NEWS

Concern was expressed regarding the condition of a converted garage - apartment building behind Deluxe Electric.

According to building inspector John Khalembach's report, it does not conform to the National Building regulations or the health unit requirements. It is owned by Mr. Monro.

There are no bathroom facilities and the toilets are in the main building 45 to 50 feet away. It does not have the required amount of windows, with no windows in the bedroom. There is only a water tap and sink in the building.

It was classified as sub-standard accommodation by council and they will review the situation with their legal department.

Mr. E. D. Burk had made application for the payment of six chickens, killed by dogs. Six others had been injured. Her allegations were confirmed by an RCMP report. It was turned over to the pound committee to establish a value on the chickens and they will report to the next meeting.

Percy Miller had made application to have highway property in Trout Creek rezoned for a trailer court.

The planning commission had rejected the request due to poor access and drainage and trailers would have to enter and leave on a curve. The report suggested the area would be best used for agriculture but also stated that any future residential development would be hindered. Council agreed and rejected the application.

An application made by Mrs. A. B. McArthur of Trout Creek to subdivide property will be given further consideration. Council could not accept it in the form presented.

The request was to subdivide a lot with a 75 ft. frontage and a 389.6 ft. depth.

The planning commission rejected it as presented as it was contrary to the municipal act which requires the frontage to be at least ten percent of the perimeter and also suggested that it be rezoned to agriculture. The property is directly east of Powell Beach Plaza.

Council will request the planners to draw up an overall plan of the area so some arrangement can possibly be made for Mr. McArthur.

FLOAT WILL TOUR SUMMERLAND

The Summerland prize winning float will appear once more before it retires for the season, when it makes the complete round of the town during the Fall Fair.

The float, constructed by the Elks Club took two firsts and an honorable mention during its tour of events in the valley this summer. The top prizes were awarded at the Penticton Peach Festival in the communities under 10,000 class and at Salmon Arm. Honourable mention was received at Kelowna. The float, complete with Royalty plus all the lovely candidates will first make a tour of Summerland on the lake starting at 1:30 p.m. Saturday and then come uphill and take part in the Children's Parade.

Queen Pat Ryan and her ladies in waiting Donna Taylor and Rosalie Geres with all other candidates, Betty McInnes, Joan Diensdan, Susan Lloyd, Sharon Biagoni and Daphne Lamb.

Opening lead 7 diamonds.

East takes the first two tricks with 10 and ace of diamonds. Leads king, hoping to get a favorable exit but dummy ruffs with the 3 of hearts. Declarer is not put to the test. He leads jack of hearts and forces the ace from west's hand and west leads 2 of hearts taken by 8 in south's hand. Now the key plug must be played. The evidence in bidding guides him in his decision he must avoid loss of a club trick and after west played the ace of hearts on trick four he is sure that east must have the queen of clubs because if west held the queen he would have led into east's opening one diamond bid.

Now south starts a backward finesse to lose no club tricks. He clears trumps at trick six, wins his three spade tricks ending in north's hand, leads jack of clubs covered by queen in east's hand and taken by south's king. Nine of clubs is now led and west not putting up ten is run through to take the trick. The rest is routine and contract is made.

The key play of his deal is to use the evidence of the bidding to help you make your contract.

CENTENNIAL MEMO

On November 29, 1865 heavy rains in New Westminster caused several merchants to build a wingdam, such as placer miners used in their search for gold, across Columbia St., to divert floods from their stores.

One of the commonest subjects for argument around the campfire is the question, "Why do some creature's eyes glow when darkness falls?" The light is not like the miner's headlamp that guides his steps. On the contrary, the owner of the gleam has no knowledge of it and the gleams differ greatly in color and size. The con's light is yellow, the coyote's golden, as are some of the bears', and the wildcat's gleam is green. Even the reptiles may show an orange glow and the stork gives out a silver gleam. Creatures that hunt in the dark may be carrying a beam for their mate or their young. No other reason can be given, for the light should not reveal the hunter. The different glows are interesting, but they seem to be of no benefit to the wanderers in the dark.

Many attend civic banquet prior to Fall Fair opening

Summerland Fall Fair officials, Reeves, Majors, a Member of Parliament, and Valley royalty met at the Yacht Club Friday night to enjoy the Municipal Banquet, an annual event prior to the opening of the two-day show. Reeve Norm Holmes was the master of ceremonies and introduced the head table.

Kelowna were introduced as well as Mr. and Mrs. Keith Bergh, publishers of the Summerland Review. Mrs. Gordon Stein introduced the valley royalty. From Salmon Arm, Queen Melanie Bedford and princesses Anna Salo and Barbara Miller; Vernon, Queen Joan Harper and princesses Hillary Brown and Linda Wutzke; Kelowna, Lady of the Lake Marcia Ferguson and princesses Susan Aynsey and Wendy Dubbin; Keremeos, Queen Meiki Sanders and princesses Joan Liddicoat and Teresa Lammers.

Jim Marshall introduces Royalty

M.C. Jim Marshall called all the visiting Royalty to the stage before the official crowning ceremonies took place declaring Pat Ryman the Queen of the Summerland Fall Fair.

Queen Pat McCutcheon said she "will never forget the warm friendship she has received everywhere she went and there is no community in the valley as friendly as Summerland."

The new Queen thanked everyone responsible for making "a dream come true." She expressed her joy for having the opportunity to represent Summerland and that she would do her utmost to be a good ambassador.

Princess Rosalie Geres and Donna Taylor were officially installed in their positions by Jeannie Stephenson and Lillian Hankins.

Summerland may be dry this week

The members of the Summerland Branch of the Canadian Legion were told the beer supply could run out on the weekend, but apparently has lasted part of this week—although when this paper is published Summerland could be dry.

Hilly Smith, vice-president, was in the chair in the absence of president Dugal MacGregor.

It was reported that the Ladies of the Royal Purple will cater to the November 11 banquet again this year.

A letter of thanks was read from St. John's Ambulance for the donation the branch sent them.

Mr. Taylor reported on those who have been ill during the month. Mr. Smith confirmed that Mr. Taylor is well respected while he calls on Legion members at the hospital and is a credit to the branch.

The Legion sponsors the cubs and scouts, and members were told if they cannot find leaders, they will have to close down.

Fire Chief Joe McLachlan had told the executive that the Legion building is possibly the most fireproof building in Summerland, but should be protected with fire extinguishers. One will be purchased of sufficient size, as judged by the executive.

Steve Dunsden outlined and explained some sections of the new Zone Bylaws.

Mr. Beattie was welcomed to the meeting. It is the first he has attended in 20 years but he has always maintained his membership.

Parade Marshal for the November 11 parade will be Steve Dunsden.

Garrish says he won't run for 16th term as BCFG president

Art Garrish has advised the Executive of the BCFG that it is not his intention to accept nomination for another term as president of the association when his current term of office is finished.

Mr. Garrish will have completed his fifteenth term as president at the time of the annual convention next January.

JUVENILE COURT

The following Summerland juveniles were before Judge J. B. Hack in Family and Children's Court. Two for possession of liquor, and they paid $25 each; 1 minor in licensed premises paid $25; 1 with no driver's license and no insurance paid $5 on a charge; one pleaded guilty on two charges of theft of two bicycles and was placed on probation for six months on both charges; and ordered to make restitution of $40 on one bicycle; two jointly charged with possession of stolen bicycle paid $5 each.

Seventeen attend hockey meeting

Only 17 attended the annual meeting of the Summerland Minor Hockey Association Monday night.

Doug Campbell was elected President after a rest of four years as the head of Minor Hockey. During that time Gordon Beggs had held that position. Vice-president is Ken Anderson and temporary secretary Betty Haddrell.

The boys will register Oct. 2 and hockey starts Oct. 16.

Municipal crew praised for efficient dam construction

Councillor Jim Schaeffer was appointed Summerland's representative on the Okanagan Similkameen Industrial Development Council at the regular meeting Tuesday morning.

According to a letter from Chairman M. Kinnerty, there will be one representing the Chamber of Commerce and one the Council in each of Vernon, Kelowna and Penticton and in the smaller communities there will be single representation.

At least four of the Summerland Councillors are attending a meeting in Penticton today where Ottawa officials will explain the Industrial Development program. The meeting is open to the public and starts at 9:15 a.m. and continues until 4:15.

Dam Inspector H. Felhauer submitted a written report on the construction of No. 4 dam that received much praise from council.

He stated the compaction was ample, well mixed with no signs of cavities. Even loosening the stones in the fill required considerable effort. The job was done by the municipal crew.

"When we take our own crew in and get a report like that we should be pretty well satisfied," Reeve Holmes stated. Council agreed.

Watch nextweek for pictures and a story on above dam.

A letter was read from the firm of Callaghan & Co., Penticton, on behalf of Mr. Les Kirkby regarding the proposed sign at Powell Beach Plaza. It is the desire of owner Kirkby to place a sign 13 feet from the blacktop in the parking area at his place of business.

This was turned down by council last week as their bylaw states it must be 25 feet from his property line.

The letter stated Mr. Kirkby will take down the three older signs on the property if he is able to put one up as requested, "which would be an improvement to the looks of the area."

They suggest that council rezone the area if necessary.

At the meeting last week when District Planning Consultant John Northey was present, he recommended the request be turned down, but if council accepted it they should have it rezoned.

Reeve Holmes agreed that replacing the other signs with one good one would be a vast improvement. "Why hold him up?" he said.

Councillor Barkwill warned that "if we do it for him, we would have to do it for others as well. If the bylaw is too strict, let's change it."

Councillor Schaeffer said he would like to make an on-the-spot inspection of the situation and negotiate more with Mr. Kirkby.

Reeve Holmes said he liked Barkwill's idea two weeks ago of discussing the possibility of placing the sign at the north end of the property and suggested this should be studied further.

Although Kirkby has not showed any signs of alternating his thinking, Councillor Schaeffer and Barkwill will meet with him on the site so

Puppet show slated for Summerland Sept. 29th

The Summerland Rotary Club will sponsor a puppet show in the MacDonald School Auditorium on September 29 at 8 p.m.

It will be the Hogarth Puppet Show presented by Jan Bussell and his wife Ann Hogarth, directors. They are of England's best known marionette company and have appeared on television and in theatres all over North America and in London.

They have over 700 dolls and give a performance of the highest standard.

Children make up a great parade

Fall Fair fun in Summerland started with a bang on Saturday afternoon with the children doing their part by participating in a very colorful parade through the park, down Main Street to the arena.

It was led by RCMP Cpl. Bud Stahl directing traffic, followed by the B.C. Dragons junior Pipe Band and the very impressive Elks float.

The children dressed in everything from beautiful to comical, extended almost two blocks.

The float, which won two firsts and an honorable mention in Valley parades this year, carried the Summerland royalty and the queen candidates.

Here is the prize list: Fancy dress, boys under 7: Dean Chalmers, Grant Blumhagen, Fancy dress, boys over 7: Doug Green, Billy May, Fancy dress, girls under 7: Anna Smith, Kelly Uytterhagen, Fancy dress, girls over 7: Heather Bloomfield, Janet Smith. Best comic costume under 7: Donna Louie, Brenda May. Best comic costume, over 7: Ron Johnson, Eleanor Wouters. Best national costume under 7: Patricia Fisher, Fred Baham. Best decorated bicycle: Jenny Skipplings, Pat Howis. Best dressed dog: Donna Gould, Lois Goodland. Best dressed cat: Cathy Tyacke, Irma Klux. Miscellaneous pets: Shirley Muir, Nancy McCuaig. Best wagon: Mark and Steven Erant, Brad Day. Tricycle: Kathy Evans, Susan Evans. Horse and buggy: Edith Johnson.

In addition to this list all other children received honorable mention and received prizes. John Dunn was in charge of the parade.

Gymkhana entries are big attraction

The Show and Gymkhana, sponsored by the Summerland Riding Club was a big attraction at the Fall Fair. Here are the results.

Showmanship and grooming, 16 and under: Beverly Bye on Flicka; Greg Pruden on Robot; and Wendy Stevenson on Irish. Performance of horse and rider, 12 and under: Bart Stevenson on Irish; Shirley Pruden on Bonnie; Edith Johnson on Spud.

Chuck Nield on Dolly; Greg Pruden on Becky; and Beverly Bye on Flicka.

The judge was Allen Jenkins of Kelowna.

This is the first time a show and gymkhana was presented in the 18 year history of the Summerland fair.

Bareback challenge, 13 to 16:

Artist of note in Summerland

A newcomer to the Okanagan, Heinz Foedisch, will teach art in night school classes in Summerland and Penticton. Mr. Foedisch is making his home in Summerland.

Recently from teaching at the University of Alberta's extension department, the artist was attracted here by the climate, the scenic beauty and general friendliness of the valley.

He was born in Silesia in 1919 and was self-taught until the end of the war in 1945.

When he came to Canada eight years ago, the first painting he had accepted for exhibition was at the 9th annual show of the Saskatchewan Arts Board. Since 1959 in Calgary he has participated in shows of the Calgary Arts Council, Alberta Society of Artists, Alberta Crafts, Vancouver Art Gallery, art rentals in Victoria, Vancouver, Edmonton, Calgary and east to Charlottetown in Prince Edward Island.

Another honor came when he was awarded an Alberta Government Scholarship for study at Calgary Technical School.

Canadian Art printed a reproduction of one of his paintings in 1963 with a favorable critique by Clement Greenberg of New York.

Mr. Foedisch has had one-man shows in Calgary and two travelling exhibitions arranged by the Provincial Cultural Activities Branch in Edmonton.

Wonderful results in evidence at Sum'land skating school

Summer skating at the Summerland Arena, ended on Sunday, August 29, on a triumphant note when the final tests were taken by skaters attending the school. A Penticton skater, Pam Wyles, was successful in passing three Gold Dances, and thus completed the Gold Dance Tests, achieving the distinction of being the first skater in the Okanagan Valley to obtain a Gold Medal for the dances.

John Mitchell of Vancouver, who with his sister Donna Lee contested dance competitions for world championship titles, acted as dance partner for Pam Wyles and Bev Marshall, and the exciting grace with which these dances were carried out was a joy to behold.

In July Frank Koanders of Vancouver was dance partner for Loreen McKinnon and Barb Porritt.

Figures Preliminary: Peni Ham, Bev Bradbeer, Dawn Nott, Darlene Schlaht, Verla Andrew, and Susan Bourassa.

First: Shirley Mann, Linda Wells, Darcee Hurlburt, Glen Campbell, Nadine Kulak, and Maria Kaseak.

Second: Shirley Mann, Betsy Murray, Gladys Hays, Marian Murray, Dianne Wallace.

Third: Nina Emdon, Sharon Kincaid, Haille Fugata, Kim Hutchinson, Anne Porritt, Harvey Andrew, Donna Roberts, and Loreen McKinnon.

Fourth: Barbara Porritt and Loreen McKinnon.

Dance Preliminary: Dutch Waltz: Peni Ham, Vicki Nicol, Linda Wells, Susan Bourassa and Dawn Nott.

Canasta Tango: Darcee Hurlburt, Betsy Murray, Donald Gardner, Shirley Mann, Marian Murray, Linda Wells, Darlene Schlaht and Nadine Kulak.

Swing Dance: Darcee Hurlburt, Marian Murray, Sheila Day and Glen Campbell.

Summerland students win scholarships

British Columbia Government scholarships to help pay the cost of this year's higher education have been won by 2,456 students who wrote spring examinations at the University of British Columbia, University of Victoria, Notre Dame University at Nelson, and the B.C. Institute of Technology, it was announced by the Hon. L. R. Peterson, minister of education.

All winners of first class standings get one half of their tuition fees paid. The top 2750 winners of second class standings get one-third their fees paid. The figure was previously 2500.

Mr. Peterson said the government had been pleased to raise the limit because of the significant increase in the number of students seeking higher education. The figure of $860,000 is $91,400 over what was originally estimated.

Winners of first class standings from Summerland and the faculty they are taking at UBC are: Michael Lopatecke, arts; John Rathjen, education; Florence Johnson, science; Adrian Moys, science.

Fair opened by David Pugh M.P.

Mr. David Pugh, M.P. officially opened the Fall Fair Friday night.

Before acting in his official capacity, he said, "When Summerland does things, they always do it extremely well. Be it streets or fairs—and look at the lovely girls."

He congratulated the entrants. He congratulated the entrants to the fair and had warm words for the many who were responsible for putting it on.

Civic welcome was extended by Reeve Norman Holmes and the M.C. was Jim Marshall.

The Penticton City Band in which there are many Summerland members, entertained throughout the evening.

Peachland Fair to feature varied exhibits all day Friday

The Fall Fairs continue in the Valley. This weekend it is at Peachland when the Athletic Hall will be filled with exhibits of everything from woodwork to fruit.

It will be a one-day affair with 38 classes of cooking awaiting entries, 26 for flowers, 33 needlework, 21 fruit and the same number for vegetables.

The Junior classes will include coppercraft, prints, art, woodwork, sewing and knitting to mention a few.

The chairman is John Hinter

New members join local hospital auxiliary

The Summerland Hospital Auxiliary were very pleased with the turnout at their first meeting of the year on September 7 at the Health Centre.

Eight new members registered as a result of an appeal they made last week, and others have indicated their desire to join. There was also much interest shown for volunteer work at the hospital for the coming year.

Mrs. Wilfred Evans will be the official delegate to the Provincial Hospital Auxiliary convention to be held in Vancouver Sept. 29, 30, and Oct. 1.

The group have lost their corresponding secretary, Mrs. Heineke, who will leave for Moscow, Idaho, shortly, where her husband has accepted a teaching position in the Agricultural College there. She was given a silver spoon.

Mrs. Eric Smith, director of Voluntary Hospital Services, outlined the routine and explained the services she will require. Forms are available for applicants to sign, and Mrs. Smith will interview them in an effort to fit them all in to the best suited position.

It was reported that the Thrift Shop's total sales for the three summer months was $1021. There will be a work party busy Sept. 29 and 30 all day each day when the "clean up" or winter change-over will take place. Help during a part of or the whole of that time will be appreciated.

The Auxiliary has paid for $1000 in equipment for the hospital this year, including lab. equipment and an electric cautery machine.

Fourteen baby spoons were given to new mothers this summer.

New York trip described to club

Nine members of the Summerland Kiwanis Club indicated they would make the trip to Merritt on Oct. 1 to attend their first charter night.

They held their first meeting of the season Thursday night in the banquet room above Mac's Cafe, and House Committee chairman Geo. Henry apologized for the fact he had not been able to bring the flags up from the Yacht Club as he could not contact anyone with a key, so the Rotary Flags were used. (That should be good for another confused story. All the flags were left "as were" when this reporter left.)

Mr. Seattle Ritchie introduced the guest speaker of the evening, Ken Buchowski, who travelled to the International Key Club Convention with him in July. Ken is now president of the local Key Club and they held their first meeting Thursday afternoon.

Ken related their 10 hour bus trip to Vancouver and the train trip to New York. Although tiring, it was very interesting, especially the Hootenany's they held each evening—much to the sorrow of the train porters.

He told of his experience of accidentally ending up in the middle of the Chicago slums while looking for food to take along on the train. "You can't imagine how bad and dirty it was," he said.

They were one of 100,000 people daily who visit the grave of the late President Kennedy, which was very impressive. He saw John Glenn's space capsule and visited the Pentagon in Washington, which covered ten square acres.

He recalled their tour of Manhattan Island, the United Nations Building, and he and a few new found friends managed to get lost three times during the trip.

The convention was a great experience for Ken. He was instrumental in getting Pacific Northwest member Kelvin Miller elected vice president of International Key Club.

He said he learned a great deal about Key Club at the four day convention and was "an experience I will never forget."

Before coming home, they took time to visit the World's Fair and other attractions along the way, including a visit at Kiwanis International Building in Chicago.

He thanked the Kiwanis Club for making the trip possible, and expressed gratitude to Mr. Ritchie, his travelling companion.

Gerry Hallquist thanked both Ken and Scottie for taking the time out during the summer to take part in the convention and wished Ken every success as president of the Key Club this year.

Wilful destruction by hunters

According to a release received from Mr. J. Hatter, director of the Fish and Game Branch, there are hunters in B. C. who have as little respect for private property as in our former home province of Alberta.

We could fill this column with incidents of hunters killing cattle supposedly in error; of fences cut; of bodily harm done to land owners who were trying to protect what was theirs. In one instance a man was shot when he went up to claim his prize.

We would suspect that here, as in Alberta, it is that small (and very small) percentage of hunters who are responsible for these deeds. It doesn't take an army of hunters to kill a prize bull.

If someone could come up with a way of stopping these irresponsible pups, the sportsman and the property owner would be extremely happy.

It doesn't take long to stop and ask permission to go on the land. In almost every case the hunter will get cooperation. In fact there is a good chance they will get a tip as to where to go to bag his limit. Respect the requests to stay off certain portions of property. Before you shoot, make sure there are not buildings close. The recipient of the bullet could be your neighbor.

Whatever you do, do not panic. We know it is tough to hunt all day without getting a shot, but if and when the game does appear, do not lose your head. Don't get over anxious and shoot before actually taking a review of the situation. There could be another hunter within range or a building close by. The price of an error when packing a gun is too great.

It is the old story of the few spoiling it for the masses, but if wilful destruction continues it is very possible the masses will be deprived of privileges now enjoyed.

A Few Comments

Here we go again. The printer gets fat every election so we should say we are pleased there is an election coming up on November 8th, but this would not be our true conviction. However as Jim Rowe said in the Penticton Herald the other day that is water under the bridge now so we will watch proceedings with great interest and hope all candidates for all parties are well chosen to assure us good representation in Ottawa. We will be going after election printing too. During the past four elections we have made predictions of the outcome of the federal elections and more often than not we have looked like a donkey — but we will give our Review readers the opportunity to give us the He Ha this time around. Now now — later.

We haven't been a patient in the Summerland General Hospital, but according to the glowing reports from those who have, there must be a staff second to none up there. The little things done over and above the call of duty are always appreciated.

The Fall Fair is history. Many say it was the best ever with a record number of entries in some categories. This is a great credit to not only those in charge, but also to the many who brought their entries in. The 4-H'ers and the Riding Club added much to the show. All in all it was an excellent example of our community pulling together and doing their best. It showed.

Then there is the Fowler report on broadcasting telling us what we should like. Our broadcasters are governed by those who pay the shot — the advertisers — that is as much as possible and still be within the Board of Broadcast Governors by-laws. The people will accept or reject good and poor programming — quick. It doesn't take a commission to tell them that. This Fowler commission feels the right to use TV channels and radio frequencies for profit is a privilege. We hope no one comes up with a regulation as to how much air we breathe. They forget that many listen to TV and radio as a form of relaxation and don't want to listen to nothing but panel shows, deep music and documentaries. We have nothing against these, but when we hear of commissions digging into another freedom, we boil. The state taking advantage of its power of position is no worse than media taking advantage of theirs.

Joe Sheeley pointed out an error in the limit for deer as published last week. It gave you 3 when it should have been 2.

ACCIDENT VICTIM RECOVERING

Visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Roberts for a few days was Mr. Roberts' sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Roth of Victoria. Mr. and Mrs. Roth were on their way to make their home in Red Deer.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dolan of Calgary visited Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Robert.

Lynn Thomson has returned home after a 12-week stay in Vancouver General Hospital. Lynn was injured in a car accident on Highway 97 June 12. She is recovering nicely but will have to return to Vancouver for observation in five weeks.

FROM THE CAPITAL CITY

By JIM HUME

Premier Bennett won't say so, but he's hoping that wobbly status of the two major political parties in Canada will see Social-Credit elected as a minority government come November.

Far too devious a man to forecast an open victory (and far too wise, I suspect, to say he would like to see Robert Thompson as the next prime minister) he put it this way to an assorted bag of reporters gathered in his inner sanctum last week.

No thinking man will vote Liberal for the Liberals have treated B.C. more shabbily than any other government. (He always wraps this little barb up with his now oft repeated quote: "They are trying to drain the goblet of B.C. dry.")

The NDP cannot be elected in Canada for the Canadian people will not tolerate socialism in any form.

Having listened to these two pearls from the lips of Mr. Bennett, I quietly asked if he was forecasting a victory for John Diefenbaker.

Such questions always draw dazzling answers from the premier.

He said he wasn't forecasting a victory for anyone, but that he would say this. "After November 8 Canada will have another minority government — and it may not be the Conservatives."

Would it then be Social Credit?

Ah, Mr. Bennett wouldn't be trapped, but if the reader trims away his always present verbiage, that's what he said.

No thinking man can vote Liberal, the NDP will never be elected, the government will be a minority but not necessarily Conservative. That leaves Bobby Thompson and his sadly depleted Secreds — and heaven forbid that — even by some freakish quirk of fate, should ever hold power in Ottawa.

Mr. Bennett was equally enigmatic when he was asked if he would be taking an active part in the election campaign.

His reply was that he would be in Europe for a month (he left Monday for London).

Would he campaign when he returned?

Well, he had a few things to say but he wasn't sure where he would say them.

It will be remembered that in other campaigns our beloved premier sallied forth on the hustings, even into the wilds of Quebec.

This time he "thinks" he will stay closer to home.

Will he campaign outside B.C.?

He way and then again he may not.

Will he hit the election campaign in the far corners of the province? He may, and then again he may not.

This is all said with the friendliest of grins leaving the impression that any campaign he has in mind is already planned, but that he wants his trip to Europe behind him before making a final decision.

Trying to guess the course of the unpredictable is a hazardous occupation at the best of times, but here goes on Premier Bennett's role during the last whirlwind month before the polls open.

His first move he has already made. Spread confusion, sow enough doubt to have people worried that the Liberals really are out to take B.C. and that the Conservatives are too dessenion-riddled to be trusted.

And dismiss the NDP with a wave of the hand.

Second stage go to Europe to haggle with the money boys regarding further investment in B.C. (And he isn't going there without some hope of success.)

Return to Canada with a pocketful of goodies to be proudly waved from the hustings with the promise "what Social Credit can do for B.C. it can do for Canada, look how clever we are."

Look for him when he comes through the Okanagan for he'll have at least one gem for you. Maybe even the promise to buy those apple boxes you are using as classroom dividers.

At his press conference the premier did make one double-edged prediction. Tuck it away for a while to be dusted off later in the year.

"Whatever the outcome of the election there will be a change in the leadership of both Liberal and Conservative parties after the election."

He could be right on that one.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Somehow, apple bins turned to boxes after the story of the Summerland School Auditorium being divided with "bins" was released to Canadian Press wire services. This is what Jim refers to.

John Newton, Summerland is seen accepting the keys to the Honda he won in the Elks draw on Saturday night from Exalted Ruler John Wilson. Apparently John's son Richard was real pleased too as his father wanted to ride the boy's Honda to work and now they are a two-Honda family — enough to go around. Sixty-five percent of proceeds of the draw will be used to furnish a ward in the new hospital and the balance for Elks charities. The Honda was purchased from Penticton Honda Sales. Andy Kyalembach sold the winning ticket.

Don Wagner wins Grand Champ'ship

The South Okanagan 4-H Club took part in the Summerland Fall Fair for the first time in the history of the big annual event.

The grand champion in the opinion of judge W. J. Marshall of Kelowna was a calf shown by Don Wagner, while the reserve grand champion was owned by Rollie Dunn. Cathy Wegner took the third spot. All these youngsters are from Summerland.

The showmanship award went to Laura Lindsay of Okanagan Falls and the second to Jerry Norish of Summerland. Another Okanagan Falls entry, Cathy Thompson, took third in this class.

Bruce Rennie buried at Peach Orchard Cemetery

Funeral services were held for Bruce Alexander Rennie on September 4 from the Summerland United Church with the Rev. P. K. Louie officiating.

The deceased was a victim of a car-truck mishap at Golden.

For the past five years he resided at Golden and for the past three years he had been employed as a trucker for a logging firm there. He was born and raised and received his education in Summerland.

He is survived by his loving wife, Irene and a small son Jimmie; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rennie, a brother, a sister, and his grandfather, Mr. A. M. H. Turner.

Interment followed in the Peach Orchard Cemetery. Wright's Funeral Home were in charge of arrangements.

MR. AND MRS. DAVID DAVIS

Trout Creek Church setting for wedding

The marriage of Esther Elaine Wittke and David W. Davis, both of Summerland, took place September 2 in the Trout Creek Church of God. The church was decorated with multi-colored gladioli.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Wittke of Medicine Hat. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley W. Davis.

The officiating clergyman was Rev. M. R. Shultz, Mrs. Ben Wittke, Summerland, accompanied by Ben Wittke, sang We'll Walk Hand in Hand Together.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a formal length gown of white peau de soie. The sleeves were short, and she wore long gloves.

A three-tiered veil of shoulder, sleeve and waist lengths, misted from a rhinestone tiara. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli, and a lace handkerchief which had belonged to the groom's great-grandmother. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls, a gift from the groom.

The bride's niece, Miss Janice Wittke of Medicine Hat, was the only bridesmaid. Her dress was of pale yellow brocade, styled with a rounded neckline, short sleeves and a full skirt with box pleats. She wore a cultured pearl drop necklace, a gift from the bride, and carried a bouquet of white and yellow gladioli. Her pill-box style headdress was also of pale yellow brocade.

David Woolliams, Victoria, was best man. Ushering duties were shared by Richard Davis of Summerland and Lorne Peter of Vernon.

For the reception at the Prince Charles Motor Inn, the bride's mother received, wearing a two-piece pale blue lace suit and a blue hat. Her accessories were white, and her corsage of white and blue baby 'mums. The mother of the groom was in a soft pink jacket dress with lace top en tone. Her hat was white, and her flowers were pink and white baby 'mums.

For a honeymoon to B.C. points, the bride wore a bright pink two-piece Italian knit suit with coffee brown accessories. The happy couple will live in Anderson, Indiana, where the groom will attend college.

Trout Creek singer on radio Sunday

Visiting for the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Robert have been his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Robert of Red Deer, Alta.

On Sunday morning between 9:30 and 10:00 a.m., those listening to the radio heard a young man from Trout Creek singing on the radio. Gordon Greber, who was of the Gordon Greber and the Fortune Singers fame last year, sang two songs, which were taped by CKOK. The first song was House of the Rising Sun, and the other was Mr. Tambourine Man. Gordon is attending Trinity College at Langley this year.

John Rathjen of Creston has been visiting friends here and attending the fair.

Re: NATURAL GAS RATES

A Public Hearing will be held to consider the application of Inland Natural Gas Co. Ltd. (Inland) to file certain revised rates which the company proposes to put into effect during the next three-year period.

The first sitting will commence at 11:00 A.M. on September 30th, 1965 in the Banquet Hall, Civic Centre, Prince George, B.C. The second sitting will take place commencing at 2:30 P.M. on October 7th, 1965 in the Council Chambers City Hall, Kelowna, B. C.

The first item of business will be the determination of procedure in consultation with counsel.

An interested party wishing to make representations at the Hearing should inform the Secretary, Public Utilities Commission, 620 View Street, Victoria, B. C. not later than September 23rd, 1965.

Here is what the Canada Pension Plan will do for people like Joe Costello, a 52-year-old unmarried labourer who earns $50 a week.

If Joe continues to work full time until age 65 he can look forward to retiring with a monthly pension of $54.16 from the Canada Pension Plan and $75 from Old Age Security—a total of $129.16. That's almost 60% of what he was earning.

If he is ill or out of work for as long as two years, or if his earnings for a period of up to two years are below his regular wage, he will receive the same pension at age 65. This is because under the Plan a certain number of months of low or no earnings do not affect the amount of the pension.

If Joe wishes to continue working between 65 and 70 and earns higher wages than previously he can improve his pension. For example, if he works until age 69 and earns $3,600 a year, his pension will be $61.74 a month instead of $54.16.

If Joe becomes disabled after 1970, having contributed for at least 5 years, he will get a disability pension of $65.62 a month until he gets both his retirement and Old Age Security pensions at age 65.

All benefits under the Plan will maintain their value. The actual benefits payable will probably be higher than those given here since benefits will be adjusted to meet changes in living costs and in wage levels before they are paid and changes in living costs after they become payable.

What will the Plan cost you?

If you, like Joe Costello, are employed and have earnings of $2,600 spread evenly over the year, you will pay at the rate of 69¢ a week. Your employer will pay the same amount.

This advertisement is one of a series which relates some of the important benefits of the Canada Pension Plan to individual circumstances.

Issued by authority of the Minister of National Health and Welfare, Canada, The Honourable Judy LaMarsh.

MR. AND MRS. BELA WOUTERS

Bela Wouters marries Alberta girl -- will reside in Claresholm

Garden flowers formed the floral decor in Nidaros Lutheran Church, Claresholm, Alta. for the wedding on Saturday, Aug. 14, of Miss Faith Weme, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Weme, Claresholm to Bela Miklow Wouters, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Henk, Wouters, Summerland.

Rev. H. Houseman performed the double ring ceremony. The wedding music was played by Miss Colleen Clifton who also accompanied the soloist, Mrs. B. Goertze.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a floor length gown of white silk with lily point sleeves and the bodice fell into a sweeping full back. Her four tiered nylon tulle veil was held in place by a flower crown. She carried a bouquet of red sweetheart roses. Her jewellery was string of simulated pearls, a gift of the groom. Matron of honor was Mrs. Lyle Nelson, Edmonton, sister of the bride. Mrs. Tom Cochlan of Claresholm, also a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. They chose identically styled floor length gowns of gold paeau de soie satin with matching head pieces. They carried bouquets of tangerine carnations, sprays of gold wheat and barley.

Lyle Nelson of Edmonton was best man; Tom Cochlan, Claresholm, was attendant; Const. Lorne Weme, brother of the bride, was usher.

The Nidaros LCW catered at the reception in the church parlors. Rev. H. Houseman acted as master of ceremonies. Toast to the bride was given by Francis Edey, an uncle of the bride and was ably responded to by the groom.

Out-of-town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Henk Wouters, Eleanore, Annaliese and Dieuwie, Summerland; Miss Everdien Wouters, Vancouver;

Record entry in flower show

The Flower Show held by the Summerland Horticultural Society at the Fall Fair was a success even if the space was limited due to the many entries.

Roses, asters and decorative classes were all up this year, but there were fewer dahlias shown.

"Owing to the late date of the show, the quality in many varieties was not at its best," a society spokesman said, "but we were happy with the showing made and wish to convey our thanks to those who exhibited and made the show the success it was."

Thirty-six exhibitors had 287 entries in the 51 classes.

Mrs. E. W. Hughes of Pentiction won the most points with 46, followed by Tom Manning with 45 and E. H. Bennett with 33.

Mrs. Hughes won the C. Napier Higgins Cup for asters and the Mrs. Tait Memorial Bowl for her arranged bowl.

Other winners were, Mrs. G. Stevenson, the Noca Cup for asters (four colors), and the P. E. Knowles Cup for her artistic display. Tom Manning and H. W. Brown tied for the Dr. R.

The following were the judges at the Summer School, and the members of the executive and the skaters are very grateful for the time and effort so freely given by these judges, all in the interest of helping the skaters, and this is very much appreciated: Mr. and Mrs. Ron Beattie and Mr. Nick Zuk of Trail; Miss Eve Lettice of Victoria; Miss Carol Dunsmuir and Mrs. Jacque MacFarlane, both of Vancouver; Miss Janet Munro, Mr. Stan Porritt, Miss Marjorie Porritt, Mr. Pat Minchin, Mr. Ralph Downing and Mr. Roy Steele, all of Summerland; Mrs. Pat Warr, Mrs. Laura Marshall, Miss Bev Marshall, Mrs. Carol Milburn, Miss Pam Wyles, Miss Gail Palm, Mrs. Sylvia Proke, Mrs. Edith Southworth, Miss Colleen Madill, Mr. Ralph Leard and Mr. and Mrs. Harley Andrew, all of Penticton.

No program of instruction would be successful without the dedicated efforts of the skating professionals, and they were Miss Dolores Causier and Miss Dale Hutchinson. We in the Okanagan Valley are indeed fortunate in having available the highest calibre of dance instruction under Miss Causier's tuition. This is borne out by the number of dance tests successfully passed by the skaters.

This year skaters from Fort St. John, Smithers, Williams Lake, Prince George, Kelowna, Kamloops, Summerland, and Penticton, B.C.; Seattle, Wash.; Claresholm, Peace River and Fort McLeod, Alberta, enrolled in the Summer School and enjoyed the skating, pop concerts and beach parties, and a considerable number of the skaters have indicated that they would like to come again next year.

Plans are now being made for the winter skating season, and the executive of the Glen-Garry Figure Skating Club will soon be busy with the various duties on the winter program.

Summerland Trail riders win again

The Summerland Trail Riders came home from a competition Kelowna recently with no less than 15 ribbons and two trophies.

It was a three day Horse Show and Gymkhana of the Okanagan Light Horse Improvement and Show Association. Nine of the eleven came home with awards.

The Alan Jenkins trophy was won by Carol Reinertson in the western pleasure class and Alan Jenkins won the Bellevue Tackroom trophy in the reining class. In each case the horse was Crown Jewel, owned by Alan Jenkins.

Beverly Bye came first in the bareback equitation class, winning the book award donated by Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Van Doren of Penticton. Chuck Nield came in third in this class.

Other firsts were obtained by Greg Pruden and Bev Bye in the costume comic class, and Carol Reinertson riding with Jim Davidson and Ed Chennels of Armstrong-Enderby club and Carol Street of the Vernon club in the section ride.

The Reinertson family, Carol, Ron and Laurie, came in second in the family ride, and Greg Pruden gained second in the individual pole bending.

Greg also obtained a ribbon in the showmanship class showing Robot on Halter. In the relay bending race, the Summerland team of Greg Pruden, Ron Reinertson and Beverly Bye came in fourth.

LET'S GET NEWSY . . .

Mrs. Magdaline Wurst and Mrs. M. Pills are visiting with Mrs. Wurst's sister, Mrs. Anna Wolfe of Victoria Road. They are from Detroit, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pearce of Vancouver visited Mr. and Mrs. Alex Inch and family last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan McMechan and son George were at Vancouver over the weekend. George remained to attend UBC.

COUNCIL NEWS

Council members will discuss it with Mr. Northey again.

The Public Utilities Board will present the three-year contract as offered by Inland Natural Gas at a meeting in Kelowna on Oct. 7. Any submission council wished to make would be taken up at the meeting.

The Department of Municipal Affairs urged representation at a demonstration Civil Defense Day, Saturday, Sept. 25, of rescue work in slide areas.

Two domestic water applications were approved.

The meeting next week will be held on Monday morning at 9 a.m. rather than Tuesday as council members would be at the Union of British Columbia Municipalities convention in Victoria that day.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY — CALLING ALL BOWLERS!

School decrease is reported

As of Tuesday morning, the total registration in the three Summerland schools are down by 47 compared to last year.

A total of 1169 was reported while the figure was 1216 last year. This is due to the decrease in the amount of orchard help in Summerland this year.

The Secondary School showed a slight increase from 490 to 495 and Trout Creek went from 94 to 125 due to the fact that another grade was added to that school this year and bus routes were increased as well.

This big increase was offset by a decrease in the Elementary school from 632 to 549.

Wins two prizes in Gun Club draw

Here are the winners of the various draws sponsored by the Summerland Rod & Gun Club, on Saturday night at the Summerland Fall Fair.

Cold weather delays street program in Summerland

Works Superintendent Ken Blagborne reported on the Public Works convention held in Penticton last week at the regular meeting of the Summerland Municipal Council.

He said an excellent educational program was introduced to some 350 who registered for the convention. Next year it will be held in Dawson Creek.

Mr. Mel Munro will be notified that his converted garage to residence is non-conforming for living quarters and will not be supplied with water and light for that purpose.

It is not being allowed for a residence because there is insufficient window space, there are no bathroom or toilet facilities, and it is zoned C-1 commercial. Legal advice was given by lawyer Preston Mott on this.

August accounts for a total of $59,156.40 were passed for payment.

Regarding the commercial sign at Powell Beach Plaza, councillors Schaeffer and Barkwill had been out and looked over the location viewing from north and south.

Council would like the sign at the north end of the property and the fact that the existing Texaco sign is located there substantiated their reasoning.

It was felt that if it were placed nearer the highway towards the middle of the parking area it would not be easily seen due to many existing poles.

Council stayed with their original decision to have it placed on the north end.

Two electrical applications were approved.

The contract for the Summerland electrical workers has been signed for 1964-65 and council authorized the picking up of retroactive pay to the beginning of 1964.

The Summerland contract is tied with the Kelowna contract but calls for 8c per hour less.

Reeve Holmes made a report on the Industrial Seminar held in Penticton on Wednesday.

He said it was suggested that each municipality set up an industrial committee to make a survey of property available complete with pictures if possible.

They also suggested that 1 mill per year or at $1.00 per capita should be set aside for industrial development.

Works Superintendent Ken Blagborne said the weather has been too cold to continue with their asphalt program and that Prairie Valley Road will not get done if the weather continues as it is too cold to lay cold mix.

He said the crushing and mixing should be done before the hot weather so it can be laid during the heat of summer. He said they were overloaded with work and suggested the possibility of contracting some of it out.

Fire starts at Scott ranch home

A fire started in the basement of the Scott Ranch home on Saturday afternoon.

Scott's son Percy and wife were sitting at his home and Percy was burning some garbage.

They were going to burn some boxes but changed their minds and carried them in the basement and placed them on a wood bench. Apparently there was a spark in one of them and went up in flames.

The Summerland Volunteer Fire Department were called and had it out before much damage resulted although the house was filled with smoke.

Conservatives getting all set

Okanagan Boundary Progressive Conservative Association is holding its nomination meeting on Friday, September 24, at 8 p.m.

The meeting will be held in the auditorium of the Penticton Community Art Centre at the corner of Main and Guestview Road in Penticton. Guest speaker will be Mr. Eldon Woolliams QC, MP for Bow River, Calgary, Alberta.

All conservatives are invited to attend.

Grounds prompt lively debate

A lengthy discussion on grounds maintenance took place at a meeting of Summerland's school trustees last week.

Dr. D. L. McIntosh, chairman of the grounds committee, indicated to other board members he is concerned over the apparent negative attitude of the board to matters relating to grounds.

This remark was prompted by a discussion regarding the use of the newly acquired Dunham property north of the present school grounds. Trustees intend to rent the orchard property to a suitable tenant.

The land was acquired for future expansion of the school block and is at present planted to orchard.

Secondary school principal John Tamblin was asked for his comments on the existing playing field situation. He said there is no place to play inter school games without going to the ball park a mile north of town, and physical education classes frequently use the Memorial Park because of inadequate games room on the field.

Using the ball park has many disadvantages, he said. (There is the danger to students travelling along Highway 97, and spectators don't go to watch games there.)

He added, "There are a number of good athletes coming up and no proper facilities for training." At Memorial Park the students cause a certain amount of disturbance to the senior citizens at Parkdale Place and there is the loss of time to be considered.

Dr. J. E. Miltimore said Summerland should have a good playing area and that he knew of many much smaller schools with better sports facilities.

"I think the taxpayers would go along with me if they realized the situation," he added.

This discussion led into a lively exchange between Dr. McIntosh and trustee Ken Booth on the experiments conducted on the school grounds during the summer.

Mr. Booth said the experiments had not yet been analyzed.

A dam tour at Headwater -- source of S'm'land water

By Keith Bergh

I asked Superintendent Ken Blagborne to take me along some day when he was going up to Headwaters to inspect the Municipal dam setup. He dropped in to the office a few days later and picked me up so away we went.

It is a beautiful drive away climbing the mountain road back in there. you look down in a gully that is so deep the bottom cannot be seen.

The dam I particularly wanted to see was what they call No. 4. I had heard so much in Council about it but did not know what they were talking about.

No. 4 is a dam that just got tired out. Cement tunnels were crumbling allowing much seepage and water waste.

Municipal crews and a government engineer went up and went to work. The job was supervised by Ken Blagborne but Harold Felker was the boy who saw to it the orders were carried out. He has been the foreman at the dam since they started moving dirt on May 15.

The head of the dam had to be all moved out, the old tunnel destroyed and a new one put in.

The tunnel is of 24-inch heavy reinforced concrete pipe and is on a bed of reinforced concrete 42 inches wide, 12 inches deep and 250 feet long. There are also five cut-off walls in the 250 feet length, six feet square and 12 inches thick, made also of reinforced concrete.

The estimated cost of this dam will be around the $20,000 mark—much less, according to municipal officials, than if the work had been contracted out.

Municipal equipment was used wherever possible but where heavier equipment was necessary it was obtained.

This is one of ten dams the Corporation of Summerland operates, and has a capacity of 600 acre feet. (If you are like me, you don't know what an acre foot is. It is a depth of one foot of water over one acre.)

The total capacity of all dams is 9,000 acre feet and they range in size from 300 to 2600 acre feet. The largest is the Thirsk dam which receives water from the other dams then releases it through Trout Creek down to Summerland.

The engineers say that No. 4 is a dandy and will last at least fifty years and could go to seventy-five.

It is plenty chilly up there at 4200 feet, but we went and looked at No. 3 as well. They are in the process of doing the same thing with that as they did with No. 4. A big D8 was moving dirt out so another new tunnel could be placed.

Pentecostal evangelist will speak in Summerland next week

Pentecostal speaker Rev. St. Clair Knights of San Juan, Trinidad was so well received in Penticton last week that they decided to hold him over another week.

It was announced last week that he would be at the Summerland Pentecostal Church from September 21 to 26, now this has been postponed to September 28 to October 3. He will be here each night at 7:00 except Saturday.

Rev. Knights is the Assistant Superintendent of Pentecostal work in Trinidad and is Pastor of a large church in Port of Spain, Trinidad where, including his branch Sunday Schools he is in charge of 2000 students.

According to Summerland Minister Rev. J. R. Coughlan, Rev. Knights is a product of Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada missionary endeavour in Trinidad.

In addition to being a dynamic speaker, he is an accomplished soloist and is heard over "Your Radio Church" in his home country. He is assisted by his brother Stanley Knight who travels with him.

SPONSORED BY ROTARY CLUB

Two presentations of puppet show

Louise Dunsdon and Sandra Wright were guest students at the regular meeting of the Summerland Rotary Club Friday night. Sandra is Walter Wright's granddaughter. Walter is a long-time member of the Summerland club.

Each girl gave a brief sketch of the other.

Both are Grade 12 students and Louise wishes to become a teacher and, as a sideline, write a book and have it published.

Sandra hopes to go to the University of California and to major in dancing. She is taking dancing lessons at the present time.

Earl Wilson also introduced other guests. John Coe, Past District Governor from Penticton, Walter Marshbank of Oliver, and Wilber Young of Carrot River, Sask.

Cec Wade is in charge of a puppet show, sponsored by the Rotary Club, and will be held in the MacDonald School auditorium on September 29. Mr. Wade said there will be a free showing for grades 1-5 in the afternoon and the adults will have opportunity to take it in the evening.

They are the Hogarth Puppets and are presented by Holiday Theatre in association with the British Council. They have toured all over North America and continental Europe and have been very well received.

Special programs will be selected for the two shows, one for juniors and one for the family.

Modern school heating brings problem of garbage disposal

Progress presents problems. Trustees of School District 77 discovered last week that modernizing the heating system of the Secondary School was creating a problem as old as time—the disposal of garbage.

The heating system is being converted from coal to natural gas making it impossible to burn garbage in the furnaces as had been the practice in the past.

An attempt was made to burn one day's waste from MacDonald School and the secondary school in an incinerator, but it meant keeping it burning for three hours.

Garbage collector C. F. Day has given the board an estimate of $50 per month for daily garbage collection five days a week.

Trustees accepted this figure but stipulated that waste from the school board office and the two school offices must be burned by the janitor in the incinerator and not picked up by the garbage collector.

INDUSTRIAL SEMINAR URGED

Get prospects here and then fight over them

By KEITH BERGH

A meeting attended by civic and business officials in the Peach Bowl in Penticton was told that the idea behind the Area Development plan in Canada is to have all areas share in the economic growth of the nation.

John A. Teeyer, Deputy Commissioner of ADA, told some 300 that there was no doubt about the success of the plan but said considerable effort must be put forth at the local level in making connections with those expanding in the industrial field.

"You must co-operate with each other and formulate solid regional plans—get industry interested in your area, then get into friendly competition as to where they will locate," he said.

Mr. Gary Gall, Regional Coordinator with offices in Ottawa, promised his assistance in every way and could provide data regarding any company the region may be interested in but they do not investigate or look for companies to locate in any region.

His job is to assist those at the regional level and to help them organize. He met with valley representatives following the meeting.

Many Summerland citizens including members of the Municipal Council were present at the all-day session. Jim Schaeffer, Summerland's representative, attended.

Mr. Gall stressed the importance of having liaison with all levels of government and to come up with long range development plans.

"We do not promote any one region—only overall promotion," he explained. "It is up to the community itself to make themselves known and what they have to offer. The community who will go out and sell will get the most industry. If you sit back and wait for us or the region to do it all, your benefits will be doubtful."

He suggested each community should have its own brochure printed giving all the necessary information desired by prospective clients.

"You must be prepared to accept industry. You must have land available now—not after a prospective executive comes to town and you send him from the municipal office to the Mayor to the President of the Chamber of Commerce, and so on," he advised.

He suggested a local organization be formed to work with prospects. These members could be those from the council and chamber of commerce, prepared to work with prospects.

The price of land should be set beforehand and information regarding rail and truck rates, power and water charges should be in a published form. Town and regional planning was stressed.

"Why regional? The Okanagan is well known all over Canada and you now have an opportunity to take advantage of the name. Mr. Gall explained, "All towns working together can do a better job avoiding wasteful duplication. When you get them here, then you can each have a go at him."

He did not want smaller communities to just sit back and do nothing because they do have advantages, one being cheaper land in many cases or utilities could be less. In any case he suggested that "you will learn more by working with them (Penticton and Kelowna) than against them."

The prospects must be obtained at the regional level because the government does not get any more information regarding company expansions than you do. "In most cases by the time industry comes to the government for assistance or information, they have chosen their location."

"All levels of government from Federal to local have an important part to play in this expansion."

He suggested that municipalities may wish to consider the levy of a half or one mill earmarked for industrial expansion as some points do. Budgeting $1.00 per capita is also being done.

Mr. Sam Keyes, Chief Incentive Officer of the administration of ADA, who is actually the department's top man for ADA, gave a detailed rundown of the benefits being offered to industry.

He explained the capital development grant which is an outright grant where basic manufacturing and commercial enterprises apply. They offer one third of the capital outlay up to $250,000—in excess of this up to $1 million the grant is one quarter and the excess up to a maximum of five million dollars they will be eligible for one fifth.

There is also a plan exempting the developer from federal and provincial income taxes, and a special capital allowance on machinery and equipment and on buildings. A choice can be made as to which of the plans will be most beneficial.

"Everything from grocery stores to finance buildings can come under this three-year tax exemption plan," he said. "Any building that is normally subject to tax depreciation is eligible," he said.

Much of the afternoon was taken up in a question and answer period when clarification was requested of specific examples.

JOURNEY'S END

Dr. Jim Marshall, Dr. Munn and Lionel Fudge are pulling in with their sailboat at the Yacht Club. They went on a three-day trip, leaving Monday of last week and expected to be home Wednesday but a storm caused them to camp out one more night.

S'land camera club resumes activities

By Herb Simpson

After a recess of two months the Summerland Camera Club resumed its regular monthly meetings on Monday evening, Sept. 13, at the Health Centre. Representatives from the Kelowna Camera Club and other guests attended the meeting. The programme consisted of three slide sets: One from the Red Deer Camera Club showing points of interest in that city and the surrounding district; a set prepared by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Morrow, describing their journey into

Rotary student to speak here

Joe Weiss, a Rotary Fellowship student, from Coulece Dam, Washington will address Summerland, Penticton and Oliver members in Summerland December 31.

Each year a student in the district is chosen and is given a fellowship to study in a university in some other country in which they have a working knowledge of the language.

Rotary International pay the travel, tuition, room and board and other moderate expenses. Each club sends money to the international organization for this purpose and is raised in various ways.

Student Joe Weiss studied in England and will visit various B.C. and Washington clubs during the Christmas holiday.

These Fellowships are a memorial to the founder of Rotary, Paul P. Harris, who started Rotary in Chicago in 1905.

Mr. Harris passed away in 1947 and since that time there have been 1,998 fellowships awarded students.

DIVOT

By GARRY SLATER

Well, here we are at that time of year when our golf courses are back in the control of the local population, as much as we enjoy having visitors from all parts of the American continent, it is always a pleasure to stand on the first tee and feel we can play a round without that infernal waiting. It makes for better golf and our courses have a chance to get back in condition.

Well, enough of that—the big news this week is the up and coming inter-club October 10, Sumac Vs Oliver Cherry Grove. This is a fun tournament, so if you are not a good golfer don't be hesitant about joining in the fun.

Oliver hopes to send 20 men and about seven ladies; handicaps will range from 6 to 36.

It will be team play, two from each club will make up four-somes, net score, 3 points per match. Club with most points winner, losers buy the lunch.

My good lady was down to Oliver Thursday for their invitational and mentioned this coming event, Kelowna had a number of ladies playing and they also would like to participate. So let's pitch in and make this an event all valley clubs will wish to take part in.

Any of you Sumac golfers who are not posting your scores, please do so as this is the only way in which we can establish your handicap.

If there are any questions, I am sure Vic or his good lady will be only too happy to answer same.

Looking forward to meeting you all at the club.

Cruising finished -- back to school

The Summerland Power Squadron is now preparing to go back to school, having ended the summer season with a cruise up the lake on Sunday.

The registration to date for the Piloting Class which permits anyone to become a member by passing the course has been very gratifying. The majority of the present members will be taking Advanced Piloting this year and it looks like a very busy winter ahead. Anyone still wishing to register may do so by attending the organizational meeting on September 27th.

The final cruise of the season was a combination scavenger hunt and treasure hunt, set up by the Cruise Master, Jack Harlock. Seven boats left the breakwater at 10:30 hours with 26 passengers, comprised of members, wives and children. Each skipper followed a pre-set compass course which led him into bays and beaches where the crews landed and searched for the articles required, mingling and joking with each other. The course finally led them to a cove where, after having their picnic lunch, the treasure hunt was on.

Compass bearings again led everyone from one spot to another until the hidden treasure chest was found by several members of the group. Mrs. Pearl Lackey was awarded the trophy for the scavenger hunt. It was a day to be remembered and stored away until next summer, as the boats arrived back at the breakwater at 19:00 hours with everyone wearing a happy smile after

Minor hockey league divided

Minor Hockey will begin in Summerland on October 16 according to president Doug Campbell.

The children are asked to register on October 2.

Although they don't anticipate any shortage of children, the minor hockey executive is very short of managers and coaches, so anyone interested should contact Doug as soon as possible.

Minor hockey will take in all children and students up to 18 years.

They will participate in a league in the Pee Wee, Bantam, Midget and Juvenile classes.

Summerland will be coupled with Vernon, Penticton and Kelowna to make up the south end of the league and up north there will be North Kamloops, Kamloops, Merritt and Salmon Arm.

This is the first year the league has been split this way, but it is also the first year the Pee Wees and Bantams have been in the league so it will cut down on travelling time for the younger players.

Gate money down at the Fall Fair

The Summerland Fall Fair Committee met on Friday night to wrap up activities for another year but they didn't get all their business done so another meeting will be held.

The gate took in less money this year than last. It was down from $988 to $889.

This year the admission was 50c for adults each day while last year it was 75c for the two days.

Due to the fact that the big fair crowd comes on Friday night to see the exhibits while they are fresh and to take in the Queen Crowning ceremony, many only paid the 50c and did not return the following day thus the committee felt they may have lost 25c on many admissions.

However, the judges of the fruits, vegetables and flowers told chairman Jim Marshall "how remarkably good the show was."

LET'S GET NEWSY . . .

Mr. Scott Rand was driven home by his son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Percy Rand of Nanaimo where the senior Rand has been staying since spring.

Mr. T. J. McKee of Rosedale, B.C. has been the guest of his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harry McKee. He was accompanied by Mr. Jack Nesom of Stave Falls.

A cheque for $145 was acknowledged from the provincial government towards prize money and remunerating some judges travelling expenses.

Letters of thanks will be sent to organizations and individuals who assisted with the fair.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Stark and family of Vancouver spent a few days with his sister and brother-in-law Mr. and Mrs. W. Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Fudge and Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Crawford spent the weekend at Slokan Valley and took the round trip to Nakusp to the Gateway of St. Leon Hot Springs. There they visited the hotel which was built and began operating in 1902. At the same time the CBC were there to make a documentary to appear on TV at a later date. Mrs. Fudge and Mr. Crawford will appear in those pictures. Watch for our Summerland stars.

The costly Medicare scheme

Canadians can expect to have their taxes increased if the Federal Medicare scheme outlined in July by the Prime Minister is accepted by the provinces. It is estimated that under the proposed scheme the total costs to provincial and federal governments will be of the order of $600 million, half of which will be paid by the federal government — and this does not include the costs of administration which, the scheme dictates, must be by a state agency.

To meet these heavy costs, the various governments will almost necessarily be forced to raise tax rates and every taxpayer will feel it. In addition, there will be no opting-out — every Canadian, regardless of need, must join the plan. Doctors could eventually become salaried civil servants, and one wonders what will happen to those young people now contemplating medicine as a profession — will they be content to accept this arrangement, or will they move away to places that are less restrictive?

The Canadian Chamber of Commerce movement believes that, a country like Canada, no citizen should lack the fundamental requirements, of which good health is but one. There are those in Canada who are definitely not able to provide good health for themselves and their families and it is surely toward these groups that the governments should direct their assistance — not to those who can, without difficulty, take care of themselves and who are doing so under existing, private medical care programs.

A Few Comments . . .

Gary Slater is organizing a "Fun Tournament" between the members of the Oliver Cherry Grove Golf Club and those playing the Sumac Ridge mine on October 10. Gary explains the whole deal in his column in this issue. He has some bigger plans to help Vic Parker gain more Interior B.C. interest too. We will likely hear more of this next spring.

There is little doubt that the Tories have gained ground with the announcement that George Hees and at this writing, possibly, Premier Duff Roblin will join the Diefenbaker team. These men, both with proven ability will do much to seriously challenge the government and give the people of Canada a strong alternative to the present government.

A good look at the corporate tax structure is due in Canada. Tax incentives are offered in the Area Development plan which they feel will bolster the economy in special areas so it should hold true throughout the whole country. Corporate taxes have been reduced in the U.S. with a great degree of success and in order that Canada remain competitive with her largest competitor, the U.S., she must proceed in somewhat the same manner or in such a way we may keep our production costs to a minimum.

Received a letter from friends from Strathmore, Alberta last week. They were fine except for a few minor items. A brother-in-law had cut his finger, their hired man cut his off, (but the doctor saved it). A car ran in to one of their cows and another ran over their dog and killed it. They had combined 40 acres and only had another 960 to go and some misunderstanding over a real estate deal had cost them $1300. At the time of writing they were just leaving to go watch the Calgary - Vancouver football game on their injured brother-in-law's idiot box. You know it — Calgary lost. Sure glad Mary and Eddie are getting along with a minimum amount of trouble this fall.

Assumes top fruit industry position

Eric W. Moore, formerly of Toronto, assumed the position of general manager of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. on Sept. 7. At 36, Mr. Moore is the youngest man ever to hold the position. He succeeds R. P. Walrod, who left the sales agency in July. Mr. Moore came to Canada in 1953 from his native England. He is a graduate of Leeds University, receiving his BA and MA degrees from that institution. In Canada he has had a wide range of business experience, specializing in marketing. He served as manager of the merchandising division of Personal Products Ltd., a subsidiary of Johnson & Johnson, and was an account executive with two leading advertising agencies, J. Walter Thompson and Vickers & Benson Ltd. He left General Foods as director of marketing activities for several consumer products to assume the post with Tree Fruits. Mr. Moore is married and they have two children.

Correct maturity vitally important for Spartan apples

By Wally Smith
 What is the correct picking maturity for Spartan apples? Growers pondered that question at last Saturday's Southern District Council meeting in Penticton, and all agreed that the answer was of paramount importance to the industry.

Last season's storage problem with the Spartan has caused a great deal of concern for the future of this variety which now ranks fourth in valley tonnage estimated for 1965.

Improper maturity at picking time is suspected as being a cause of the storage problem.

It was stated at the meeting that growers seemed to lack definite, concrete information on correct picking dates for the Spartan. If the information was available it was not getting through to the majority of growers.

A few years ago starting date for Spartan coincided with Delicious. Later, growers were told to start the Spartan harvest a few days after starting Delicious. Now it would appear the Spartan starting date should be still later.

Hans Rhenisch of Keremeos said that two officials from the Summerland Research Station had recently been in his neighborhood testing Spartan apples for maturity. They had told him his Spartans were not ready for picking, and would not be ready until the vascular bundles had turned white. This can be determined by cutting the apple across the core. All green must disappear before the apple is ready to pick, said Mr. Rhenisch.

He said that it was very important for the reputation of the Spartan that it be harvested at the correct maturity, and information on when and how to pick this variety should be widely published immediately.

SUMMERLAND FALL FRUIT FAIR

The fair this year was a big success. The folks turned out to do their best. Pumpkins and squash in every size. Whether or not they got a prize.

Carrots, beets and potatoes too. And other vegetables — not a few. Flowers and foliage in great array. Making a wonderful display.

The shiny apples and pears in lots. Never missed the peaches and cots. There was needle craft, hobbies and art. Vieing with each other to have their part.

With various pies and chocolate cake. Good natured competition for those who bake. When you get so tired you couldn't see. You went to the W. I. Gardens for a cup of tea.

The nicest sight that could be seen. Was the princess and our lovely Queen. We liked the pipes and loved the band. And all the entertainment on the stand.

To all those who worked so hard and did their parts. Many thanks and good wishes come from our hearts.

Cars - trucks scatter on street

A lady tourist from the U. K. had cars and trucks scattering on Main Street Friday morning.

Driving a small car, she headed east on the left side of the road as if it was the thing to do.

She was going straight but the natives were not. Cars and trucks veered around her on both sides.

Couple will make their future home in Toronto

The marriage of Orla Marguerite Raham of Toronto, formerly of Summerland, and Mr. Jack Norman Fox of Toronto took place September 11th at 3 p.m. at the Trout Creek Community Church of God. Baskets of white gladioli and yellow mums decorated the church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Melvern Raham of Summerland. The groom's parents are both deceased.

The officiating clergyman was Rev. A. F. Irving of Camrose, Alberta, assisted by Rev. M. R. Schultz of Summerland.

The maid of honor was the bride's only sister, Elva Raham of Summerland, and the other attendants were the groom's two sisters, Ruth and June Fox of Toronto, and Miss Lauriel Youngusband of Vancouver. The groomsmen were Mr. Fred Lane Jr. of Toronto. The ushers were Mr. Frank Berry of Kitchener, Ont., Mr. Shig Tamaki of Rutland, and Mr. Harry Robinson of Hamilton, Ont.

Given in marriage by her father, Mr. Melvern Raham, the bride chose traditional floor-length gown of white peau de soie with lily point sleeves and short train. Loops of lace and seed pearls accented the neckline, edge of train and sleeves. Her shoulder-length veil was held with a coronet. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink roses and ivy.

The bride's attendants wore matching gowns of gold peau de soie with overskirts of the same material caught at the waist with rosettes. Their head-dresses were of matching material trimmed with rosettes. They carried bouquets of yellow mums and white carnations.

Miss Joyce Booker of Toronto was the organist and Mrs. Ben Wittke of Summerland was soloist.

The reception was held at St. Stephen's Parish Hall in Summerland. The bride's mother received the guests. The guests' tables were decorated with vases of yellow marguerites and fern.

The bride's table was centred with a 3-tiered wedding cake, flanked on either side by tall white tapers in silver candelabra.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Walter Greber of Summerland to which the groom ably responded and offered a toast to the bridesmaids.

Wires of congratulations were received from Toronto and other points in Ontario; Fort St. John and North Surrey, B.C.

Misses June Fox and Joyce Booker favored the guests with a duet and Mrs. Frank Berry of Kitchener with a solo.

Out of town guests were the bride's uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Raham of Edmonton; and others from Seattle, Toronto; Kitchener, Hamilton, Kamloops, Lumby, Rutland, Vancouver, Kelowna, Penticton, and Camrose, Alberta.

The bride chose as her going away outfit a yellow wool suit with brown accessories, her corsage was pink roses and carnations.

The bridal couple went by plane to Toronto and from there will motor to Florida for their honeymoon.

They will make their home in Toronto.

Library head speaks to W.I.

Guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Summerland Women's Institute last Friday was Mr. Peter Lofts of Kelowna, head of the Okanagan Regional Library.

Mr. Lofts spoke of the library service given by the Regional library to the 54 branches serving 100,000 people or about 40 per cent. of the population of the valley.

Mr. Lofts said we cannot underestimate the importance of reading and that by reading we further our education long after formal schooling is completed. Mrs. A. A. Fenwick thanked the speaker for his very interesting and informative talk.

The president, Mrs. Gordon Ritchie, conducted the business meeting and dealt with various matters. Letters of thanks for used postage stamps sent to the Crippled Children's Hospital in Vancouver and the Queen Alexandra Solarium in Victoria were read by the secretary, Mrs. Eric Tait. Convener for the Unitarian Service Committee Mrs. L. W. Rumball, thanked those who had knitted during the summer and asked that donations to the USC be brought to her as soon as possible so a shipment may be made.

Members were asked to keep the date of the Fall Sale in mind, October 16 at the IOOF Hall beginning at 2:30.

Mrs. Ritchie brought up the matter of approaching the board of the Okanagan Regional College to ascertain if provision has been made for entrances and facilities for handicapped students in the architectural plans for the new buildings. Motion was passed

Byes host day for horsemen

A "Fun Day" sponsored by Bud, Alice and Bev Bye was held Sunday afternoon.

Thirty horses participated and in most cases had riders. Enthusiastic and energetic riders entered games and races and amid cheers and laughter the winners rode by.

The following are the events and winners in order of merit. Egg race, intermediate (team event), Jean Moilliet, Betty Walton, Greg Pruden. Egg race 12 and under (individual) — Sherlene Potter, Bart Stevenson, Geraint Davies. Rescue your partner (team) — Chuck Nield and Donna Impett; Beverly Bye and Betty Walton. Esther Brittain and Gail Mielke. Sack race (12 and under) Bart Stevenson, Joy Chalmers, Glen Davis. Ribbon race (team, 13 to 16 years) — Chuck Nield and Greg Pruden; Beverly Bye and Sonny Faasse; Wendy Stevenson and Jean Moilliet. Tire race (12 and under) — Shirley Pruden, Terry Schafer, Terry Raebien.

Obstacle Race (team of 3) — Beverly Bye, Chuck Nield, Alice Bye Jean Laquer, Don Hannas, Ken Dunsdon Greg Pruden, Gale Mielke, Esther Brittain. Balloon Race (12 and under) — Judith Davies, Edith Johnson, Shirley Pruden. Pole Bending, (individual intermediates) Greg Pruden, Beverly Bye, Chuck Nield. Pole Bending (Juniors) Edith Johnson, Shirley Pruden, Gerrie Bennett. Pole Bending (Seniors) Alice Bye, Bob Chalmers and tied were Frank Johnson, Allan Jenkins and Bob Davis.

Barrel Racing (intermediates) Beverly Bye, Esther Brittain, Greg Pruden. Barrel Racing (Juniors) Edith Johnson, Billy Chalmers and tied were Joy Chalmers, Terry Raebien. Barrel Racing (Seniors) Allan Jenkins, Alice Bye, Steve Dunsdon and Bud Bye tied.

(Allan should really have longer stirrups to win.) Last event but not the least interesting was a barrel race between Howard Pruden and Jerry Hallquist (both on horseback of course). The Trail Riders were wondering if they made it to work on Monday morning.

Supper of delicious stew, beans and wieners, buns, biscuits, cookies, coffee and juice were served to some 60 people.

During the afternoon more than 100 people enjoyed this colorful performance of horsemanship.

There will be a trail ride of about 20 miles on Oct. 2, leaving Reinertsons at 10:00 a.m.

Participants and spectators owe Byes a hearty thanks for a swell day of sport.

Girls win in grass hockey boys lose in soccer

By RON KOSTELNIUK

On Saturday the sports season got under way with Summerland splitting a double-header with McNichol Park. In the opening grass hockey game, a second half goal by Shelvey Erikson gave Summerland a 1-0 victory. Summerland was in McNichol territory most of the game and failed to capitalize on three or four other chances of scoring. Both first half goalie Katie Evans and second half goalie Donna Biagioni had no field day in goal. The others who played in the game (besides Shelvey Erikson) were Patty Stevenson, Gina Storey, Carolyn Norris, Kathy Caldwell, Josephine Andreucci, Nancy Barkwill, Lee Beggs, Lorraine Kropinski, Lillian Tucker and Jean Pelletier. All girls played well and it looks like their coach, Miss Rhea, has done well in making them into a hustling, well-moulded team.

The junior boys' soccer team under coach Mr. Hamilton, had their problems as they were whitewashed 7-0. They fell behind 3-0 in the first half and didn't recover. A great save by the McNichol Park goalie with the score at 5-0 robbed Summerland of a goal. McNichol's stronger defensive, as well as their hustling spirit, proved to be the difference in the game.

The starting lineup for the game saw Bob Stuart in goal; Ray Davis and Ted Arkell the fullbacks; Jack Barkwill, Al Barkwill and Mervin Barg the halfbacks; Ken Bolten, Bill Coates, Ron Taylor, Allan Stent the forwards with Jim Campbell the centre. Others who saw action were Bill McCuaig, Don Wright, Dave Stuart, Ken Roberge, Ken Haddrell, and Jack Bollack.

A note of interest is that on Saturday in a senior soccer game with ex-Summerlander Gerry Marsh in goal, Penticton beat Princeton to the tune of 4-1. Another Summerlander attending school in Penticton, Mark Tamblin, was held scoreless.

The next action for Summerland is Wednesday, September 22 when the senior soccer team hosts Southern Okanagan. On Saturday the junior teams travel to Princess Margaret.

Bennett rapped for not replying to correspondence

By KEITH BERGH
The quarterly meeting of the Okanagan Similkameen Associated Chambers of Commerce held in Naramata Wednesday last almost got to the stage of a political battle a few times.

The contentious point was: "What is anyone doing in the way of putting pressure on the government—and which government—to expedite assistance to the fruit grower following last winter's freeze?"

The result was, a petition will be circulated by local chambers asking for immediate action and it will be sent to the B.C. Agriculture Minister Frank Richter. This was moved by Doug Hill and seconded by Charlie Bernhardt and received much support.

Chairman of the meeting was John Hext of Oliver, in the absence of President Darrel Cordell, who was in Victoria on business.

It was charged that the BCFGA was doing nothing—and if this was not true, why did they not make known their findings.

This drew fire from some corners and supporters of this were told that, although it would appear that the BCFGA was doing nothing—they were in effect doing much but with no results and as a consequence there was nothing to report. It was also suggested that the chamber of commerce did not know anything about the fruit industry and should keep their noses out of it and let those who know (the BCFGA) fight this out.

The meeting was told Federal Minister of Agriculture Harry Hays and provincial minister Richter cannot agree on a Crop Insurance plan. Ottawa wants a 60 per cent coverage and Victoria says this isn't enough. They want 80 per cent, and, as a consequence nothing is being done.

Hon. Frank Richter was quoted as saying that nothing could be done until after the federal election. This did not go down too well with the chamber delegates, and was denied by some.

Secretary Bruce Howard of Penticton had been busy contacting Hon. Harry Hays by telephone and was told that he was well aware of the situation and he expected to make an announcement in a few days.

Canadian Cannery manager Mr. Joe Rider could not understand why Ottawa did not make $1 million available now at the banks. He felt this was only a token amount.

He said there would be $500,000 lost in payroll in his plant this year due to the small amount of canning.

"It is time our representatives cross party lines and do more for the valley," he said.

"Our MLA (Premier Bennett) will not answer a single letter," one grower said. "He has been written many times but he never answers. It is time we placed our vote for someone else," he reasoned, "apparently he doesn't care. You just waste a stamp writing to him."

Regarding the $4 million supposed to be coming from each of Ottawa and Victoria, Penticton Editor James Rowe suggested that they were passing the ball back and forth and it has never been able to be intercepted.

The Canada Pension Plan and its benefits

Here is what the Canada Pension Plan will do for people like Huguette Samson, a 22-year-old married woman who earns $56.50 a week:

Huguette and her husband, who is earning $4,200 a year, hope that Huguette will work for a few years before family needs require her attention full time.

Assuming that Huguette does just this, her contributions to the Plan will benefit her in several ways. For example, if she works only for another five years, at age 65 she will receive a small retirement pension of $8.38 a month in addition to her $75 a month Old Age Security.

Through her husband's contributions to the Plan, should he die when they have three young children, Huguette would receive a widow's pension of $57.81 a month plus $25 a month for each child—a total of $132.81 a month. She would also receive a lump sum payment of $500.

At age 65, based upon both her own and her husband's contributions she would receive a pension of $57.53 a month plus $75 a month Old Age Security—a total of $132.53.

If she decided to supplement her income at any time by returning to work, she could still receive the widow's and orphan's benefits, could substantially increase her retirement pension, and could also ensure her entitlement to a disability pension if she became disabled.

All benefits under the Plan will maintain their value. The actual benefits payable will probably be higher than those given here since benefits will be adjusted to meet changes in living costs and in wage levels before they are paid and changes in living costs after they become payable.

What will the Plan cost you?

If you are employed and, like Huguette, have earnings of $2,938 spread evenly over the year, you will pay at the rate of 81¢ a week. Your employer will pay the same amount.

This advertisement is one of a series which relates some of the important benefits of the Canada Pension Plan to individual circumstances.

'Get Acquainted' Party
 The Summerland School District No. 77 held a "get acquainted party" at the Yacht Club Thursday afternoon. It was attended by the school staff, School Superintendent Paton, school trustees and their wives or husbands. This gave the new teachers an opportunity to meet their co-workers.

Holiday Theatre here September 29

Principals of Summerland's three schools presented reports to school trustees at their meeting last week.

Secondary School principal John Tamblin indicated satisfaction with the temporary rooms created from apple bins in the auditorium and said they had been made as attractive as possible by the maintenance crew and provided adequate teaching areas.

The enrolment in the school has reached 497 and is expected to increase during the coming week with an anticipated total enrolment of more than 500.

The new staff members are fitting in well at the school and he reported that lay markers would be employed for all Grade 11 and 12 English students this year.

SCHOOL BOARD BRIEFS

Working drawings of the addition to the Secondary School are expected this week. Two temporary rooms have been built in the auditorium to house students until the additions are completed.

The drawings must be approved by the board of trustees of School District 77 before they can be submitted to Victoria. Tenders cannot be called until final approval is received and it is expected building will not begin for several weeks.

Concrete slabs three feet square have been ordered for the foot-worn area beneath the swings at Trout Creek school. They will be installed by maintenance supervisor Elton Knuff as soon as they are received.

School trustees have voted to regroup their meetings holding alternate meetings to discuss administrative affairs and principals' reports. With three principals reporting to the board, some members consider insufficient time is given to the discussion of educational matters when administrative affairs take up a considerable part of each meeting.

A letter was read to the board from a parent protesting the distribution through his children of literature not relating to attendance at school. Secretary-treasurer James Hack was directed by the board to notify the complainant, the principals will be instructed to comply with his wishes.

Enrolment is down from last year with 547 children registered at this time.

The Trout Creek School report was given by principal Ray McNabb, showed a total registration of 125 with one class being transported to MacDonald until the additional room is completed.

Mr. McNabb requested some alleviation of the situation necessitating the hasty eating of lunches by his staff when on noon hour supervision.

Each teacher is on duty two out of three noon hours of a half-hour period. With work preparation, marking of books and exercises, supervision of lunch pupils for 15 minutes, and the multitude of duties expected of a teacher, he said it is not unusual for staff members to have to gobble down their lunch in 10 or 15 minutes.

Summerland Hospitals officials to attend annual conference

More than 400 delegates from all parts of British Columbia are expected to register for the B.C. Hospitals' Association Annual Conference September 29, 30 and October 1, in the Hotel Vancouver.

"The exploding industrial economy with thousands of their workers and their families pouring into new communities has caused drastic changes in local hospital situations," says Frank W. Laird, president of the British Columbia Hospitals' Association. "This topic, together with the need for trained personnel to meet the challenge will be among many of the subjects discussed," he said.

Among the speakers at the conference who are anticipated to consider these problems are The Hon. Eric Martin, Minister of Health Services and Hospital Insurance and The Hon. Dan Campbell, Minister of Municipal Affairs.

A highlight of the conference will be a panel discussion on Medicare with panelists Dr. Frank Turnbull, past president of the Canadian Medical Association; E. P. O'Neal, Secretary Treasurer of the B.C. Federation of Labour; W. A. Street, Chairman of the Board of The Vancouver General Hospital; with well-known radio and TV commentator Jack Webster as moderator.

Attending the conference from Summerland will be Hospital Administrator Harvey Wilson and Superintendent of Nursing Mrs. J. R. Butler RN. It is not known how many of the board members will be able to get away.

POSTER TELLS A STORY

This poster by Jill Pruden took first place at the Summerland Fair in the Grades 8 to 10 category. There was a good list of posters entered in the fair this year and judges had a tough time picking the winners. The contest was sponsored by the Summerland Rod and Gun Club. (Photo by Bert Simpson)

LESSON IN SAFETY

Constables Jim Mundle and Ed Kitzul of the Penticton branch of the RCMP gave the Trout Creek school children, Grades 1 and 2 a lesson on safety yesterday. The top picture shows Const. Mundle telling them how to conduct themselves when crossing streets and highways and in the lower picture he is demonstrating the proper way to cross No. 97 Highway at Trout Creek.

used and it was too soon to know which of the two ideas was best. The bare section of the grounds had been watered this year creating a good growth of weeds but little grass cover, and an experimental plot was seeded by Dr. McIntosh on a cost assessment basis.

Dr. McIntosh reported the grass is growing well and should give good turf by next year with about five percent of the recommended rate of seed per acre having been used.

He felt the cost of seeding the north section of the playgrounds would be much less than originally predicted, while he agrees the watering has produced a cover crop which has kept the dust down all summer, this is still not the answer.

In further matters concerning his committee, Dr. McIntosh asked the board to consider making maintenance supervisor Elton Knuff responsible for grounds maintenance as well as buildings.

His reasons are that he believes it would be good business to have a board employee responsible for the grounds; that the present system seems to have the job split between school and municipal authorities, and he could see no reason for it interfering with the mowing of lawns and changing of sprinklers, now carried out by the parks board.

He suggested that Mr. Knuff could report anything in need of attention to the secretary treasurer.

John Bennest, chairman of the school board, remarked, "Responsibility without authority means nothing."

In reply to Dr. McIntosh's question as to objections to giving Mr. Knuff responsibility for grounds maintenance, Mr. Boothe outlined difficulties encountered in the past when delegating authority.

The discussion closed with Mr. Bennest suggesting a plan be outlined and circulated among trustees to give them time to think before "spreading authority around."

Council nears agreement on making way for a new motel

The road building is all but complete in Summerland for this year. This was the report at the regular meeting of the Summerland Municipal Council Tuesday morning.

The works department are going to try to complete the construction across from the Anglican Church on Gulch Rd. before it gets too cold but it may have to be left until spring. This department was praised for their fine job at that location.

Superintendent Blagborne said he has been using more men than usual on this job in an effort to beat the cold weather.

Councillor Ritchie had met with the Arena commission and they will start two weeks earlier this year, October 9, and close down two weeks sooner. This committee wish to meet with council in the near future to discuss some problems they are having, including financial. They have, in the past year, just broke even on their operation according to Ritchie.

Mr. Ritchie will attend the B. C. Health Unit Services executive meeting to be held in Vancouver on October 7.

Mr. G. V. Lampard of Crescent Beach Road, in a letter to council stated he was not prepared to pay the $900 being his portion to provide parking in front of his and the Walker residence.

He did not criticize council for the amount, in fact he stated the offer was fair. He thanked council for their cooperation in this regard.

J. P. Sheehey will attend an Assessor's Executive meeting in Hope on October 8.

Reeve Holmes said the present system of voting on money by-laws did not present a true picture.

He referred to the fact that possibly 30% to 40% of the people of Summerland pay only $1.00 per year taxes under the home owner's grant.

Mr. Bullock offered to pay $100 of the costs but would think over the additional cost and let them know.

It is council's policy to pay for the costs of such changes. It was reported the new thermostat would be installed. Users had been requested to use a minimum of water Tuesday night.

system and when they vote on money by-laws they would have little to lose in agreeing in most cases. "It does not give a true picture," he said.

Agreement was reached, on the recommendation of the planning commission, that the following persons be granted permission to subdivide and/or rezone their property, Mrs. Susan McArthur, W. M. and M. H. Johnson, Ben Trafford and Paul F. Charles.

Mrs. C. V. Armour, applied to have some of her property rezoned from agricultural to auto court area.

It is proposed to use this property for multi-family or resort units so council recommended she change her application to have it rezoned in that manner to avoid future difficulties.

The land in question is located between the ball park and the golf course.

A developer has indicated the desire to construct a $100,000 to $150,000 motel hotel complex there.

Joe Bullock attended the meeting to request a power pole be moved so it would be more convenient for him to get his car out of his garage.

It was estimated that the cost of the move would be a total of $284.00 and they agreed to make the change if Mr. Bullock would pay half.

He told council the pole was marked as being installed in 1984 and felt that they would have to replace it soon in any case.

Mr. Bullock offered to pay $100 of the costs but would think over the additional cost and let them know.

It is council's policy to pay for the costs of such changes. It was reported the new thermostat would be installed. Users had been requested to use a minimum of water Tuesday night.

Two trucks collided head on Friday night on Highway 97 just south of Summerland. The Highway Dept. truck driven by Raymond Woods of Kelowna got the worst of the deal. He was loaded with gravel at the time. Mr. Woods had the presence of mind to duck to the right and lucky he did as the lower picture indicates, or he would have been crushed by the steering wheel. His legs were jammed in among the levers and had to be released with a winch truck, but he escaped with minor injuries. The other truck driven by Harold Zschiedrich of Armstrong was on the wrong side of the road when they struck. Total damage between $5,000 and $6,000.

Quick Thinking Averts Tragedy

Harold Zschiedrich, of Armstrong said he blacked out when coming around a curve just south of Summerland 11:20 Friday morning when he rounded a left-hand curve, crossed over the center line and crashed head on with a Dept. of Highways gravel truck.

The driver of the gravel truck Raymond Wilson Woods, Kelowna, said he saw it coming and threw his body to the right—which was fortunate because he would have been pinned by the steering wheel.

His legs were caught in the entanglement of levers and he couldn't get free until Bud's winch truck pulled the dash forward. He was taken to the hospital but released after bruises were treated. RCMP are investigating.

Liberals name Bruce Howard

Okanagan-Boundary Liberals Saturday named Bruce Howard, former secretary-manager of the Penticton Chamber of Commerce, to carry the Liberal banner in the federal election November 8.

Howard's nomination was contested by Dr. David Clarke of Kelowna, and although the results of the vote were not announced, the balloting was known to be a close contest.

A record turn-out of delegates, estimated at about 170, represented one of the most enthusiastic Liberal meetings in recent years. The party finished third in the last federal election—about 3,500 votes behind the winner and Conservative member Davo Pugh of Oliver. The Social Credit candidate ran second.

Howard, age 42, is married and is the father of three teenage children. He is the former publisher of the now defunct "News Advertiser" in Penticton, and served as chamber secretary-manager from 1961 until this year when he resigned to enter the real estate business.

He assured delegates of his awareness of the problems facing the Okanagan and of his intentions to "work for all areas of the riding with equal vigor," and said he and other interested Liberals had already completed plans for an intensive campaign.

The recently concluded Automotive Agreement with the U. S., he stated, will bring Canadian auto prices "close to parity" with the U. S. in 3 or 4 years and would provide 11,000 new jobs.

Kiwanis change meeting night

The Summerland Kiwanis Club has changed their meeting nights.

In the future they will meet at the same place (above Holmes & Wade) but on Tuesday night.

This was done because the caterers were not able to continue with Thursday night.

Nurses to meet Oct. 2 in Salmon Arm

The annual meeting of the Registered Nurses' Association of British Columbia, Kamloops-Okanagan District, will be held at the Salmon Arm Motor Hotel on October 2, 1965, at 4 p.m. Smorgasbord supper at 6 p.m.

The guest speaker will be Sergeant Dent, RCMP; his topic will be "Eskimo Life."

BRIDGE RESULTS

The SOCBC held their usual game Monday night with nine tables taking part. Here are the results.

NORTH-SOUTH: F. Brodie and D. Morgan; W. Evans and J. Paslowski; Mr. and Mrs. D. MacGillivray; Mrs. E. Hall and Mrs. I. Gartrell.

EAST-WEST: Mrs. A. McClymont and Mrs. D. Davidson; Mr. and Mrs. Bert White; Miss M. Stewart and G. Hepperlie; Mrs. M. MacRae and C. Elsey.

FOR FORTHCOMING CONVENTION

Trustees discuss resolutions

School trustees of Dist. 77 discussed last week the 44 resolutions being presented to the annual convention of B.C. School Trustees being held in Vancouver Oct. 3 to 6.

Trustees Ken Boothe and Dr. J. E. Millmore and secretary treasurer James Hack will attend the convention.

On most of the resolutions delegates were instructed to listen to the debate from the

Considerable Loss At Greenhouse Fire

Fire took a bite into the Gallop Greenhouses at 12:30 Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gallop were sound asleep in bed when Beverly Bye and Clinton Skinner, who were driving by, yelled in the house and said one of their greenhouses was on fire, and they should call the fire department.

After looking at the extent of the blaze Mrs. Gallop phoned but was told the alarm had already been turned in and the trucks were on their way. It is not known who turned in the alarm.

The fire department had little trouble putting out the blaze, but not before about $1,000 worth of damage had been done to one end of the plastic greenhouse.

It will not be known for some time how much damage was done to the flowers. There were potted azaleas and beds of standard mums being prepared for the Christmas market in the greenhouse.

There was a ten minute power failure earlier in the evening, and Mr. Gallop thinks the motor on the blower failed to come on when the power returned, and burned up.

They had a lot of praise for their plastic greenhouses. Plastic does not burn, it melts when subject to heat. They feel it would have been much worse had it been of frame construction. It was not insured.

ATTEND CONVENTION

Mrs. Gladys Laidlaw, Mrs. Pearl Gibbard and Mrs. Donna Chatham motored to Vancouver to attend the 20th annual Convention of Industrial First Aid Attendants over the week end.

Kaleden Man Sacred Candidate

Frederick H. Krueger, 47, of Kaleden, will carry the Social Credit banner in Okanagan-Boundary in the coming federal election.

He is relatively unknown in party circles, but he won the nomination from C. E. Emery, a prominent businessman and chairman of the Osoyoos Village Commission, a post he has held for the last 12 years.

Krueger made an appeal to the 73 voting delegates to return to the basic principles of Social Credit.

He was convincing as many of the crowd had never seen him before, and he made his point by speaking to the group for four minutes previous to his nomination.

A native of Medicine Hat, Alberta, and was the son of a former Liberal who was converted by the late Premier Abarhart of Alberta, one of the founders of the Social Credit movement.

After travelling extensively South America, he came to Penticton 18 months ago and went into the automotive business but resigned when the election was called to devote his full time to politics.

He said a Social Credit national government would make Canada "a Utopia, envied by every nation."

Pole interrupts forward progress

Friday evening, Glen Ellis of Summerland was travelling north on Victoria Road and drove off the right portion of the road and struck a telephone pole according to Summerland RCMP.

Total damage to the pole and the Ellis vehicle was estimated at $500. The incident is still under investigation.

TOP CALF BRINGS $2.50

Dave Wagner Takes 4-H Reserve Grand at P.N.E.

The South Okanagan 4-H Beef Club did themselves proud over the weekend with their entries in the 4-H Show and Sale at the PNE grounds. A total of 140 head was shown representing eight clubs from the lower mainland.

It was a money-making proposition for the top calves, with the Grand Champion shown by Caroline Dorin of the Surrey club bringing $2.50 a pound, and the reserve shown by Dave Wagner of Okanagan Falls (South Okanagan club) bringing a very healthy $1.00. The champ weighed in at 1048 and the reserve 890. Both were herefords and were bought by the Waldorf Hotel chain.

The calves were divided into classes and Rollie Dunn of Summerland was in the class with the Champion and rated third in that class. Other members from Summerland participating were Grant Ralston and Gerry Norrish.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dunn attended the two-day affair as well as Mr. and Mrs. Ron Norrish, Mrs. Dave Ralston, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Eden and Mr. and Mrs. Barry Rogers.

This judging certainly confirms the judging at the Summerland Fall Fair. Dave Wagner rated the Grand Championship here and Rollie Dunn was reserve.

The leader of the South Okanagan Club is Ray Thomas of Okanagan Falls and his assistant is Barry Rogers of Shingle Creek. John Dunn of Summerland is a faithful helper and follows club activities very closely.

Summerland Students to do Extra Writing Assignments

Under the new organization of the Junior-Senior Secondary School curriculum, greater emphasis has been placed on written English. Along with a much wider choice of literature to be read is an increased stress on the amount of writing to be done.

It is generally accepted that if the students are going to appreciably improve their writing they can best do this by increasing the amount of written assignments which can be marked, returned to the student and corrected by him. In order to do this in Grade 10, 11 and 12 English courses the Summerland School Board has authorized the appointment of lay markers who will work under the direction of the classroom teacher to mark and check the corrections of the extra assignments to be given.

These assignments will be in addition to the regular assignments usually given by the English teachers. To implement this plan the school authorities are looking for lay markers who will be prepared to work with them.

Anyone interested is requested to send an application, outlining their training in English, to Mr. John Tamblin, principal of Summerland School.

Some trustees indicated they considered the school system not yet ready for such an innovation.

It was pointed out that French instruction in primary schools was inevitable and even if the resolution passed, it was not likely to be introduced for at least five years.

Trustees agreed to support the resolution unless any startling facts were brought out from the floor to condemn it.

David Pugh nominated

"It is too bad we are obliged to say that we want to give the people honest government." These are the words of H. J. Hamilton, President of the Okanagan Boundary Progressive Conservative Constituency Association when he opened the nominating convention in Penticton Friday night, and set the stage for a lively meeting—the Liberal administration being the major target.

It was no surprise that the P.C.'s gave David Pugh of Oliver the nod for the fifth time to carry their colors.

In accepting the nomination Mr. Pugh said, "I am deeply indebted and humble that you have sent me on my way again. There is a real need for an election—and the real reason will never ever be known because of their (the present government) hierarchy in parliament," and added, "I am annoyed because they have brought parliament in disrepute."

He said the Conservatives started the trade boom and, although criticized, the pegging of the dollar at 92½c did much in this regard.

He said the pegging of the dollar meant an additional 56.2c per box of apples to the orchardist in the export of apples.

"I only ask you to do one thing in this campaign," he said, "separate fact from fiction."

Dorothy Harrison Smith, Kelowna, National President of P.C. Women's Associations of Canada, said the reasonable voters of Canada will give "us a majority government. We are the only truly national party left in Canada."

TERROR OF OPPONENTS
Stewart Fleming, MP Okanagan Revelstoke, introduced Eldon Woolliams, MP Calgary, Bow River Riding, as being a man who is a terror to his opposition.
Mr. Woolliams said, "The Conservative party is one that believes in treating all of Canada alike and shows privilege to none. The individual is always supreme.

"In order that Canada may stay secure, strong, united, and morally strong we must have honest administration."

"The truth about corruption, mistakes and bungling of the present government should be on the front pages of every newspaper in Canada," he proclaimed.

"The only way we can get rid of the ministers that Pearson won't fire is to win this election."

Twins caused more than fatherly confusion Friday night

Some confusion was caused when it came nominating time at the Progressive Conservative Nominating Convention Friday night.

Dr. W. H. White was to have nominated David Pugh, but he was called away just as the meeting began, to deliver twin daughters for Mrs. Don Somerville, wife to the publisher of the Oliver Chronicle.

The head table did not realize this until the nominations were called for but a Kaleden supporter Philip Farmer stepped forward and came to the rescue. Percy Tinker of Kelowna was the seconder.

BCAHA meet in Kamloops

BCAHA held their 46th annual convention in Kamloops Sept. 17 to 19.

Some fifty resolutions were dealt with for the betterment of amateur hockey.

Dr. Leo Margolis of Victoria was re-elected president for a third term. Mr. Ivan Temple of Victoria was elected secretary-treasurer-registrar.

Dr. Margolis reported that 14,555 boys registered with the BCAHA last season and many more playing hockey who are not registered with the branch. He mentioned his concern regarding the increase in claims to the Mutual Aid Fund for dental care and stressed that the association instruct their referees to call or watch high sticking a little closer.

With new arenas being built in many centres it was felt that the northern district and Okanagan Mainline should be divided into zones to relieve the travelling for younger players.

The north is now divided into three zones and the Okanagan into two.

Penticton and Vernon bid for the 47th convention with Vernon given the nod.

On the Bargain Counter

Not many consumers will believe it, but food is today one of the greatest bargains on sale in Canada or the United States.

Try telling that to the shopper who has six mouths to feed. She probably would say, "Don't tell ME food is cheap! This family of mine eats up a small fortune every month!"

When it is stated that a thing is "cheap" or a bargain there must be some basis on which to make a comparison. If we take as a basis the earning power of the worker (I think this is a fair basis) it is found that nowhere else in the world will an hour's work buy as much food as right here in Canada or the U. S.

A few years ago the Canadian government issued a little bulletin on our food costs. It showed how food took about 25 percent of the average worker's income, and how this percentage was steadily being reduced as income increased faster than food prices.

U. S. government figures show that the American consumer today spends less than 19 cents of her after-tax income dollar to furnish all of her family food needs. Our figure today probably is very close to the U. S. figure.

In other countries the food bill takes 30, 40 and up to almost 60 percent of the worker's income, so there isn't much left with which to buy shelter, clothing, household appliances, automobiles, and the many other amenities that contribute to the good life.

The trouble with food is that it disappears so quickly. The family makes short work of a $5 roast and supplies of vegetables, fruit, bread and milk that go to make up the meal—and there are three meals a day. What have you got to show for your money? Nothing tangible but a pile of dirty dishes.

This makes food appear expensive, but as government figures show, food in this country is comparatively cheap.

During the last few years food prices have increased, but most of the increases have been due to higher cost of services—packaging, transportation, retail service, pre-cooked foods, etc., rather than higher prices to the producer.

A tremendous increase in farm efficiency through the use of fertilizer, new techniques and new machinery has resulted in an increase in food production by a smaller farm work force. The consumer has reaped the benefit.

Another reason why farm food prices have not climbed higher is the comparatively low scale of farm wages.

If and when farm wages reach a parity with those of construction and brewery workers ($2.50 to $3.50 an hour today) farm prices will have to keep pace and we will be looking back to the old days when food was a bargain.

Summerland Review — 3

It is a privilege -- not an obligation

The Summerland Branch of the Canadian Institute for the Blind will carry out their annual campaign for funds during the month of October.

We can make life just a little easier for those who live in darkness if we contribute. We should not hesitate to come to the aid of this great organization.

Last year they, with their Braille texts made it possible for seventy-two blind university students to successfully complete their year's work.

The newly blind need much patience and through guidance and explanation from CNIB officers these people are shown how they may be useful to themselves and more important to their fellowmen.

Possibly this is what makes the CNIB a great organization—they help the blind to help themselves, wherever possible.

We can help the CNIB to open new horizons for the blind, new places of gainful employment, new techniques for doing the jobs hitherto the work of the sighted, new methods of recreation and relaxation, new ways to make life happier and busier.

We can do all this if we support the cause with a dollar or two. Support Tag Day on Saturday or contribute generously when the canvasser calls at your door.

A Few Comments ...

The top price of $2.50 per pound for the Grand Championship 4-H calf at the PNE is about as top as one could expect.

Well, the political guns have all been loaded in Okanagan Boundary with the election of three during the past week.

Frank Hunter in the labour office says he has more jobs open than pickers.

to fill them this year, although business picked up this week.

There is no doubt the fall season is here with all organizations gearing for their various activities—the school sports activities seem to be in full swing and hockey noise is just around the corner.

Al Birtles back from S. A. tour

A Summerland athlete who has played basketball in many points all over the world is back in Vancouver after a tour in Latin America.

Al Birtles landed in Vancouver Wednesday with other members of Canada's national basketball team after spending the last month and a half in South America.

Al was selected as one of 12 of the 31 who made application to become a member of the touring team.

He is a runner of note as well as having neared the mile at 4 minutes, 1.5 seconds in Vancouver two years ago, but he no longer participates in running events and concentrates on basketball.

Plenty of action in school sports

By Ron Kostelnik

Wednesday, Sept. 22, the Sr. Soccer season opened for Summerland with a 3-2 win for the locals. They held back a determined Oliver drive to tie the score after they had been down 3-0 at one point.

The Oliver crew, which arrived an hour late, trailed 2-0 at the half, due to Summerland goals by captain Keith Kennedy and Billy Fitzpatrick.

In the second half, a long shot went in, by Ray Betuzzi, giving Summerland a 3-0 lead, proved to be a winner. Two shots, which went through a maze of players, went past goalie Bill Potter, cut down the margin 3-2, but the clock ran out before Oliver could get the equalizer.

In the Oliver goal, Gene Goodonoff kicked out shot after shot, much to the frustration of the Summerland crew, and kept the score close. The members of the Summerland team included Bill Potter in goal; Ron Mayne, Gerry Mayne, Wayne McInnes, Ron Reinerton, Nigel Blagborne, Robin Agur and Dale Stevenson playing defence; Bill Fitzpatrick, Gil Inglis, Keith Kennedy, Ed Mead, Ray Betuzzi, Gord Lackey, and Jim Haddrell played offensively.

Their second game of the season which was to be played on Saturday, September 25, was cancelled.

The junior soccer team, retaliating from a 7-0 humbling from McNichol Park, evened their record this year at 1-1 with a 4-3 win over Princess Margaret. Summerland took a 3-1 half-time lead on goals by Jim Campbell, Bill Coates and Ken Bolton. Campbell's goal came early in the game. Then Bill Coates scored the second Summerland goal, after Princess Margaret had tied the score. Bolton's goal came right after Bob Stewart made a great save in the Summerland net.

In the second half, Don Johnson scored what proved to be the winning tally. Summerland then held off a Princess Margaret drive which saw them push two goals by Stewart, who robbed them time and time again.

In the dying minutes of the game, Princess Margaret was robbed of a tie when the ball hit the goal post.

Also seeing action in the fast moving, exciting game were Ted Arkell, Ray Davis, Bill McCaig, Jack Barkwill, Allan Barkwill, Ken Keller, Ron Taylor and Stan Ikata.

The junior grass hockey game scheduled for Saturday was cancelled by Princess Margaret.

Mrs. Norris Laidlaw, Mrs. Ralph Gibbard and Mrs. Harry Charlton were at Vancouver to attend the 20th annual convention of the Industrial First Aid Attendants on Friday and Saturday.

The next action will be Saturday when the senior soccer team travels to Penticton.

Banking Bright Boys' Best Bet For The Future

"Bright, ambitious young men, looking for a career with a challenge, a satisfying salary and advancement opportunities, can find all of these things and many more in banking," Jock Johnston, manager of the Summerland branch of the Bank of Montreal said this week.

"Best evidence that anyone with intelligence and drive can really achieve distinction can be found in the rapid rise of today's top executives of the B of M," Mr. Johnston continued.

The bank's policy of promoting from within its own ranks gives every young man who enters banking today the chance of rising to a senior executive appointment. Ability is the only consideration.

Right from the start, the B of M puts young men on a training program that forms, in effect, a series of stepping-stones to the growing responsibilities and rewards that constitute success.

Variety is the keynote of this training, with every young banker spending time in as many posts as possible in the branch. Above all, the young B of M banker is encouraged to develop his own abilities.

A chat with Mr. Johnston could be the introduction to a rewarding career in one of the most solidly established and respected fields of business today. Why not see him soon and ask him for a free copy of the B of M's careers-booklet. (ADVT.)

FEDERAL GRANTS AVAILABLE

Okanagan Valley qualifies for new incentive program

The Area Development Incentive Act passed in Ottawa June 30 provides for capital grants in respect of new manufacturing and processing facilities which are established in designated areas as well as to firms already located in these areas which undertake significant expansions.

The area from Salmon Arm south to the border and west to Princeton has qualified as a designated area and any new industries or expansion of existing industries can qualify for government grants. This is the only area in British Columbia that will qualify for the incentive program.

One of the main qualifications necessary for an area to qualify for the government grants is an area where there is high unemployment or seasonal employment and where the annual family income is less than the national average of $5,449.

The duration of the incentive program is designed to ensure the best possible results in that the benefits will be available to eligible firms which enter production before March 31, 1971.

The government grant to companies creating or expanding a new industry can reach as high as 1 million dollars. Where the approved capital costs for new industry does not exceed $250,000, the grant will be one-third of the capital cost; if the capital cost is between $250,000 and $750,000 the grant will be one-fourth of the total cost and if the capital cost is from $1 million to $5 million the grant will be one-fifth of the total costs.

The amount of a development grant for the expansion of an existing facility shall not exceed the lesser of the amount obtained in the above formula to the amount remaining after subtracting from the approved capital costs the greater of 10% of the value as determined by the Minister of the existing facility being expanded or $10,000; or $5,000, 000.

Applications for grants or for further information regarding the new incentive program must be directed to the Minister of Industry, Ottawa.

Material possessions secondary -- Rotary told

The Summerland Rotary Club will purchase a gift with money provided by the Reno, Nevada, club for a door prize for that club at their Christmas party.

Summerland was chosen as one of 25 clubs throughout the world to do this favor. They requested them to buy something depicting the area and manufactured in the area.

District Governor Ted Atkinson's letter to district clubs pointed out that Summerland's attendance percentage was 23rd out of the 25 clubs in the district. President Jock Johnson was not pleased with these results.

Member Frank Haar, barrister and solicitor, was requested to outline a simple will to the members. He said there was no such thing as a simple will.

"It must be complete and full expressing your wishes," he said, and reviewed various conditions of estates at the time of death.

He recommended careful consideration to wife and children and the appointing a guardian be given.

"You must be explicit because if it is necessary to go through the court it is very costly," he warned.

"I have outlined how you can protect material things," he said, "your children justice, morality, concluded, "but if you teach religion, and show them affection and understanding, this is the best thing you can leave. No one can take that away."

School Band program probed

A meeting will be arranged between school superintendent Gordon Paton and principals John Tamblyn, John Cooke, and Ray McNabb to discuss the school band program.

With a new bandmaster James Grinder, the board of trustees of District 77 said last week it is desirable that a review of the program from the elementary level be made.

Many bandmasters consider Grade 8 too late to start band training and some effort should be made to work on preliminary training in the elementary schools.

The Canada Pension Plan and its benefits

Here is what the Canada Pension Plan will do for people like Robert Martin, a 55-year-old skilled tradesman who earns $100 a week ($5,200 a year).

If Robert works full time until age 65 he can look forward to a monthly retirement income of $104.17 from the Canada Pension Plan and $75 from Old Age Security—a total of $179.17 a month. When his wife, who is two years younger than Robert, receives her Old Age Security pension, the Martins' monthly income will rise to $254.17.

If Robert becomes disabled at age 60, having contributed for five years, he will get a disability pension of $103.13 a month until he reaches 65 when his retirement and Old Age Security pensions begin.

If Robert dies after contributing for three years, his wife will receive a widow's pension of $64.06 a month until age 65. From then on her widow's pension will become $62.50 and she will also receive the $75 Old Age Security pension—a total of $137.50 a month. At the time of Robert's death, Mrs. Martin will also be paid a lump sum of $500.

All benefits under the Plan will maintain their value. The actual benefits payable will probably be higher than those given here since benefits will be adjusted to meet changes in living costs and in wage levels before they are paid and changes in living costs after they become payable.

What will the Plan cost you? If you, like Robert, are employed and have earnings of $5,200 spread evenly over the year, you will, commencing in January, pay at the rate of $1.59 a week until your contributions for the year amount to $79.20. Your employer will pay the same amount.

This advertisement is one of a series which relates some of the important benefits of the Canada Pension Plan to individual circumstances.

P

Issued by authority of the Minister of National Health and Welfare, Canada, The Honourable Judy LaMarsh.

Ian P. Greenwood, General Manager of Sun-Rype Products Limited, announced the appointment of Mr. W. G. Smith as Manager of Operations for the company. His duties will include management of all production, quality and control and engineering. Mr. Smith is a graduate of the University of B. C. and has held a senior production position with a major meat packing firm in Vancouver. He is 40 years of age, married and has two children.

FROM THE CAPITAL CITY

By JIM HUME

City editors on daily newspapers are not nice guys.

They may be the gentlest men of the human breed before they move to that traffic director's spot on the city desk. But after that lips curl, the heart hardens and mercy becomes a word high on the taboo list.

So I wasn't unduly surprised when I reported to work a week ago with a sniffing, sneezy head and a throat as raw as sliced liver, to be informed that I would be departing in two hours for Hudson Hope.

I sneezed impressively, tried to look hang-dog, but evidently failed. Two hours later I was on an aircraft heading to hell-and-gone north of Dawson Creek.

Outside the wings iced up, head winds bucked the plane—and I felt gloomily, revoltingly ill.

But it was worth it, I guess. I saw the Portage Mountain Dam through teary eyes and am one of the few men alive to sneeze five times on the vast underground power station site.

It's an impressive sight, up there at Hudson Hope, and I have to reluctantly admit that Premier Bennett has a winner.

Dr. Gordon Shrum was my guide for the day, merrily trotting out statistics which have mostly been heard before.

One, however, I hadn't noted in any previous publications. All the power to be generated by the vast Peace River project is now committed. Sold, if you prefer simplicity.

Not a bad record for a project that will not be completed until 1968.

Premier Jean Lesage was through town last week on a whirlwind lecture tour to boost the image of French Canada.

As a man he wowed his audiences whether from the bright and still somewhat brittle University of Victoria or the more austere Canadian Club. But he also left behind the disturbed feeling that he and his fellow Quebecois were asking for too rich a slice of the Canadian pie.

When I asked if there was any foundation to former Conservative cabinet minister Michael Starr's claim that he was seeking, ultimately, the leadership of the federal Liberal party, he just smiled and said he was too busy to think of federal politics.

There is little doubt, however, among those who heard him and met him in Victoria, that the Prime Minister plums dangles in his dreams.

It may be recalled that during the 1963 federal election Premier Lesage (like Premier Bennett he prefers to be called Prime Minister) declined to campaign on behalf of the Liberals. He just said that he was for a stable government and writes it off as coincidence that Liberal campaign literature that year carried the theme "a stable government for Canada".

On his present tour he insists that he is not campaigning for the Liberals, just trying to get the west to understand Quebec.

SUMMERLAND REVIEW — 6
Wednesday, Sept. 29, 1965

nagging doubt remains that Mr. Lesage is stumping the west with greater things in mind.

Talking to many of the people who listened to him in Victoria, one predominant theme emerged.

"I like the man very much," one leading businessman said after his Canadian Club speech. "He's smooth and easy to take. But he seems to be saying that if we understand Quebec we're fine people, but if we don't we are hide-bound with old prejudices. I'm left feeling just a little scared of what might happen to Canada if he ever did become prime minister for there is no doubt that in his thinking Quebec comes first and last."

A book carrying a matron was more direct.

"He seems to forget the French lost their battle on the Plains of Abraham," was the way she summed up her reaction to the Lesage message.

One item of gossip to tuck away and remember.

Before the next couple of months have passed a Penticton alderman will announce his engagement to a schoolteacher with marriage to follow a few months after that.

Ah, well, we pick up all kinds of things down here in the stately capital city.

The porcupine sheds its quills just like fur but never loses or replaces them all at one time.

CARD OF THANKS

It is difficult to say thank you to the many who were so kind to me during my illness.

The praise cannot be too great toward the nurses and the staff at the Summerland General Hospital. They were wonderful and assisted so much in my recovery with their very friendly attitude.

Thanks also to the doctors who, with their knowledge, did so much for me. The organizations — Rebecca Lodge, Hospital Auxiliary, Legion Auxiliary who called each week to bring goodies and good cheer. Appreciation is extended to Jim Marshall, Tommy Ritchie and Tom Manning for the lovely flowers they continually supplied to our ward.

Many thanks to Frank Haar, Irene Clark and Walter Wright for their kind assistance at the office and to the many clients who have been so patient during my illness.

To the many friends who visited me, sent get well wishes and flowers, I wish to express heartfelt appreciation. LEN and EM WEIST.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend a hearty vote of thanks to the Summerland Fire Department, Beverly Bye and Clinton Skinner who awakened us, the unknown man who phoned the fire department and anyone who helped in any way. — MR. and MRS. WM. GALLOP

NEW SUB FOR CANADA

The submarine HMCS Ojibwa, shown here during trials, was commissioned into the Royal Canadian Navy at Chatham, England, Sept. 23. The Ojibwa is the first of three Oberon class submarines on order for the RCN. The Ojibwa displaces

2,000 tons, is 295 feet long and designed for both arctic and tropical service, and is capable of high underwater speeds. She will be employed on Canada's east coast for the training of surface and air anti-submarine units of Canada's Maritime Command. (Royal Navy Photo)

Teen Town starts a new season

Summerland Teen Town is back in swing after a quiet summer with big plans for the winter months. Their first dance was held on Saturday, preceded by a council meeting.

The same officers were presiding with the exception of Mayor, Joe Smith, who is out of town. Betty McInnes, vice-Mayor presided very capably in his absence.

They plan to hold regular chaperoned dances, open to anyone from 12-20, until the Membership Dance some time next month, when the dances will be closed to members only. As well as their dances they have plans for skating and tobogganing parties and other activities of interest to their members. Their next dance will be a by-election dance to elect a new mayor and vice-mayor.

Teen Town activities expand beyond activities for their own pleasure. Plans are in motion to hold the March of Dimes drive for Summerland, and other activities will be announced later.

A bottle drive will be held on Saturday with the hope that everyone will co-operate to give these young people a start towards their very full program. Teen Town does a good job of keeping our young people of the streets, offering them good wholesome activities.

Five new council members were sworn in at the meeting and two new adult advisors welcomed — Mr. Bell and Mrs. Reid. Their sponsors for another year are the Kinsmen who helped them so much in the past.

NOTICE

CARD OF THANKS

The Summerland Elks Lodge No. 476 wish to thank all those who supported the Hon da raffle.

MAJORITY OF HOMES READY-BUILT

...The majority of people who obtain a new home buy it ready made from a builder. One of the reasons for this is that there are not many remaining serviced lots in the larger urban areas on which an individual owner can have a house built. But there are also other reasons. The purchaser can see what he is buying when he visits the builder's model home. He knows just how much it is going to cost him and this will probably be less than if he had a house built to order. There is much less paper work involved than if you build your own home. Furthermore it means the family will probably be able to move into the house much sooner than if it had been contracted out. One of the disadvantages when buying from a model home is that though there is usually a wide variety of models to choose from in most subdivisions you may not always be able to buy exactly the type of home you prefer. In any case make sure that you get your home from a builder who has established a favourable reputation in the community. That is your best guarantee of satisfaction later on.

More responsibility given school superintendent

The district superintendent of schools for Summerland has now been included to a greater degree in the policy laid down by school trustees.

The policy committee made several recommendations to the board at a meeting last week for changes to its policy.

Policy changes approved by the board included the superintendent as a liaison officer between instructional staff and the board; he was appointed one of two executive officers for education administration, with secretary treasurer James Hack for business administration.

It will now be the responsibility of the superintendent to solicit, receive and process applications from prospective teachers. Formerly these procedures were carried out by the secretary treasurer who in turn had to submit them to the superintendent and the board. The board will still have final say on the hiring of teachers.

Other changes included the routine to be followed by persons wishing to rent school rooms. The board now requires requests be sent to the principal of the school who will notify the secretary treasurer. This should prevent clashes of school and outside events.

Future enquiries of parents regarding teaching or teachers should be made to the teacher responsible. If no satisfaction is gained the inquiry can be channelled to the principal and superintendent in that order. In the past board policy asked that such inquiries be made to the principal.

Summerland Trail Riders Ride to Glory at Osoyoos Show

The Summerland Trail Riders wound up the show season with a bang at the Blue Sage third annual Horse Show in Osoyoos. The Trail Riders brought home a total of 27 ribbons, two trophies and an aggregate ribbon.

The following are the events, standings, and winners:

Team pole bending: 1. Greg Pruden on Becky, Bev Bye on Trixie, Chuck Nield on Dolly. Barrel race, individual: 1. Bev Bye on Trixie; she attained the buckle trophy in this event; 3. Greg Pruden riding Becky. Flag race, team: 2. Bev Bye on Trixie, Chuck Nield on Dolly, Greg Pruden on Becky. Apple relay: 1. Chuck Nield, Greg Pruden, Bev Bye. Stake race, individual: 3. Chuck Nield. Obstacle race, team: 2. Greg Pruden, Bev Bye and Chuck Nield. Halter and bridle, 2 to a team: 1. Bev Bye and Greg Pruden; 2. Chuck Nield and Anne Dean. Bareback relay, 4 to a team: 2. Greg Pruden, Chuck Nield, Bev Bye Alice Bye with Dolly. Scurry by pairs: 1. Bev Bye and Alice Bye. Flag race, sr.: 2. Jack Young on Starch and Bill Head on Roxy.

Beverly was awarded the aggregate ribbon and the all around Cowboy Trophy. She also won the gate prize draw, so Bev was credited with plenty of skill and good fortune this day.

A very good number of Summerland Trail Riders spectators were at the show cheering the participants.

Next Sunday the Trail Riders plan a 20 mile ride.

Timely Farm Topics

Canada to be represented at Chicago 4-H congress

For the first time in the history of Canada's 4-H Club movement, a national delegation of club members will travel to Chicago to attend this year's 44th National 4-H Club Congress, November 28 to December 2. Ten members, one from each province, will arrive in Chicago on November 27 to participate in one of the most outstanding annual 4-H events in the United States, which includes attendance by more than 1200 award winning 4-H members from all states of the union.

The Canadian delegation will be financed by International Minerals and Chemical Corporation (Canada) Ltd., Esterhazy, Saskatchewan, a member of the Canadian Council on 4-H Clubs, and accompanied by two provincial 4-H extension representatives and Council Manager, James D. Moore, Ottawa.

The Congress is similar in purpose to the annual fall conference held in Ottawa and Toronto for Canadian 4-H award winners. The program is designed to provide opportunities for 4-H members to hear stimulating speakers and to participate in group discussions, educational tours, banquets and entertainment.

Through an interchange of ideas and sharing experiences with young people from all corners of the continent, the Congress program helps to broaden understanding and to inspire young people to become better citizens and leaders, on return to their home communities.

Farm Business Management Program

The first year of the new Farm Business Management program of the B.C. Department of Agriculture is nearing completion. It has gone over very successfully with the first farm groups in each district of the province. All the members of each group are expected to continue with keeping excellent farm records in their new Farm Account Book for 1966 and for each year thereafter.

The Farm Business Management staff of the B.C. Department of Agriculture under John Pankratz analyzes the summary sheets from each Account Book and advises each farmer how he stands in comparison to others in the same farming enterprise. Suggestions are given as to where improvements can be made in operations, so that the greatest possible profit will result.

We are now ready to start enrolling members for a new group or two in this district. Preference will be given to a group being formed to meet at Okanagan Falls since the present group meets at Rock Creek. Only those farmers whose main income is from livestock and field crop enterprises should apply. All such farmers in the Lower Similkameen and South Okanagan areas are invited to apply. Just send a letter to your District Agriculturalist at Grand Forks to show your interest and you will be supplied with all necessary details of the program.

If more interest is expressed from farmers of the Boundary and Grand Forks areas, then they will be granted a new group formation also.

Although the bobcat is a good climber it only occasionally — for refuge, it climbs trees rest or food.

New Methods of Grape Growing Investigated

When grape growers gathered at the Research Station recently for a demonstration of training grape vines, several were uncertain whether the advantages of the different systems outweighed the additional cost.

Dr. D. V. Fisher, who has been working on research on grape growing in the Okanagan, showed three different methods of posting and wiring as a framework for grape vines.

Growers were eager to know costs and were a little dismayed to find it would cost them as much as $25 per acre more for the newer methods. Some of this would be offset by savings in picking and cultivating costs and the potentially higher yields.

In addition to the 20 some growers present, there were horticulturists from all up and down the valley, and several members of the research station staff.

Dr. Fisher showed slides taken at Prosser, Washington, where he and Dr. C. C. Strachan, director of the Summerland station, visited recently.

They brought back several new ideas from this large planting of grapes.

In the last few years many valley orchardists have turned to grape growing as an additional source of income.

Grapes can be grown on ground that is unsuitable for anything else, says Dr. Fisher, and with new markets for the product, many farmers are planting vineyards on land previously thought non-arable.

The first commercial plantings were made in the Kelowna district in 1926 and gradually increased until a level of 500 to 600 acres was reached. In 1964 the acreage planted to grapes was estimated at around 1,500, and in 1965 is expected to reach 2,000.

Dr. Fisher believes it may ultimately reach 4,000 acres. While present production of grapes there appears adequate for basket sales, growers cannot yet meet the demand of the wineries.

In his demonstration Dr. Fisher outlined the three systems used. The old method called the Kniffen four-arm system, is most commonly used in the Okanagan, but he pointed out several disadvantages in its use.

Wires at four and six feet from the ground, supported by posts 24 feet apart, allow drooping of new growth to ground level, creating difficulties in weed control, spraying, and irrigation.

It also results in shading of lower arms of the plant with reduced yield and quality of fruit.

Grapes need a lot of heat in the form of sunshine and the maximum area of the plant should be exposed to the sunlight.

The T-arm is being tried at Prosser. Wires are strung between cross arms mounted six feet high, allowing the permanent wood of the plant to be at six feet instead of the four feet using the Kniffen system.

With bud canes allowed to droop downward during the growing season there are several advantages. Much better light exposure is obtained, more buds per plant on fruit and with canes and crop higher off the ground, cultivation and picking are easier.

After the lecture the group was taken to an experimental plot on the station grounds to view these two systems and another which is attracting attention because of its advantages to a new mechanical shaker system of harvesting.

It is called the Geneva double curtain system and was developed at an agricultural experimental station in Geneva, New York.

This system is similar to the T-arm, but the crossbar consists of two pieces of wood attached to the main post by bolts. They form a V with the wires stretched between the tops of the vines all down the row at a height of six feet.

The trunk of the plant is trained so that at 4 feet from the ground the two arms are taken off, one to one wire and one to the other. A training wire is used for this purpose.

This results in a V shaped top surface of vine exposed to the sun and four to six bud canes on the arms from which new canes droop downward as a curtain.

The new mechanical picker still in the experimental stage can harvest at the rate of 25 hand pickers when grapes are raised on the Geneva system.

Another feature shown was the end posts embedded in concrete. They stand at a 75-degree angle and support the whole row of posts without the disadvantage of guy wires and consequent wasted ground at the ends of the rows.

Further developments in the grape growing industry will be discussed by similar conferences at the research station, and officials expressed satisfaction at the interest shown by those in attendance.
