PUSHING ON WITH CENTENNIAL PROJECT

This is not exactly "paving a road" up Giant's Head Mountain, but it is Don Agur's big cat pushing through a rough grade in preparation of a gravel road to the Summerland Centennial project — a park at the top of the mountain. Don has it planned so the actual grade at any point up the mountain will be less than the entrance road off the street to the base of the old college building.

Public get first glimpse of the Queen candidates

The 1966 Summerland Royalty Committee got the show on the road last Sunday April 3rd. The Queen candidates for this year served tea to interested citizens of Summerland. The turnout was very gratifying. The girls all wore spring costumes and were delightful. Miss Dianne Selinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Selinger is a small, green-eyed brunette who has spent all her life here. She golfs, swims, skis and likes to sew and cook. She is a member of Teen Town and hopes at the end of her schooling to become an air stewardess. Teen Town is her sponsor.

Miss Judy Steele, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Steele was born in Montreal and has lived in Summerland for the past nine years. She is a blue-eyed blonde who is interested in sports namely riding, skating, skiing, curling and swimming. She likes sewing and is undecided about her future plans. She is a member of the riding club, curling club and the school band. She is sponsored by Summerland Yacht Club.

Miss Griselda Evans, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Wilf Evans was born in Vancouver but has lived in Summerland eight years. She skates, water and snow skis, swims, golfs, plays basketball and enjoys a game of bridge or reading. She is a tall hazel-eyed blonde who intends to become a nurse. Her sponsor is the Summerland Kiwanis Club.

Patricia Gillespie daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gillespie, is a tall blue-eyed blonde who was born in Summerland. She plays the piano and likes to cook and sew, and she is a curler. She is also a member of the school band. She intends to become an interior decorator. She is sponsored by the Summerland Kinsmen Club.

Donna Holmes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norm Holmes is a blue-eyed auburn haired sixteen year old who was born in Summerland. She is a cheer leader, member of the school band, and plays the piano. She winter and water skis, plays tennis and likes to cook and sew. She would like to be an airline hostess. Donna is sponsored by the Summerland Rotary Club.

Miss Rita Rusaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Rusaw was born in Selkirk, Manitoba but has been living in Summerland for 12 years. She is a hazel-eyed brunette who takes part in many sports namely, swimming, basketball, snow and water skiing, grass hockey, and tennis and likes to cook. She belongs to the ski club and Teen Town and would like to become an airline stewardess. She is sponsored by the Summerland Fire Department.

Gale Palmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Prokopenko was born in Cranbrook, attended school in England one year and came to Summerland one and one half years ago. She is a brown-eyed brunette who

Former resident dies in Salmon Arm

Dr. J. R. Graham of Salmon Arm passed away Sunday April 2. The son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Graham, former residents of Summerland during the 1920's. He leaves to mourn, his wife, Betty, of Salmon Arm, two sons, Peter who is with the RCMP in Lethbridge and Tom in Vancouver; two sisters in Penticton; Mrs. C. E. Clay and Miss Carol Graham. Dr. Graham served overseas during World War I.

Woodpecker Patrol earns Efficiency award

The First Troop welcomed back Bruce Lane. Bruce has spent many years with the Troop and is well on his way to earning his First Class Badge. The troop also welcomed Ray Davis who has spent several years with the First Trout Creek Troop, which is not now operating. The Woodpecker Patrol, under the leadership of Gary Davis, won the Troop Efficiency Award for the second quarter of the year. This award is based on the number of tests and badges earned as well as on attendance and general behaviour. There will be no meeting next week.

Red Cross Drive over the top

Three generations attended the Summerland Rotary Club meeting Friday night.

There was the secretary, S. A. MacDonald, his son Dave MacDonald and grandson Ken MacDonald of Penticton.

The junior member of the family showed slides of a canoe trip he and nine fellow scouts from the 1st Penticton troop made last year at Bowron Lake Park. They covered 75 miles and the pictures were taken by Jack Stocks of Penticton.

There were five canoes involved and members said the pictures showed some of the most beautiful mountain scenery they have ever seen.

Francis Stuart was chosen Summerland's "On to the Penticton Conference" chairman. His duties will be to keep the club posted on arrangements. The conference will be in the Peach Bowl on May 20, 21 and 22. Summerland is the host club but Penticton has come in to lend a much needed hand. A registration of over 500 is expected from all of District 566 which includes south central B. C. and northern Washington state.

Red Cross chairman Les Rumball said they had $1600 in the bank as a result of their recent drive and four more canvassers were to come in yet. In 1964, $1418 was collected and last year $1480. Apparently crop conditions did not dampen the generosity of Summerland residents.

Accident results in heavy damages

William Earl Forsyth of Summerland has been charged with failing to yield the right of way following a collision with a Penticton car late Sunday afternoon which resulted in $1400 damage to both vehicles but no injuries.

A 1957 sedan driven by George E. Tavender of Penticton was proceeding along Highway 97 on the Summerland Hill when the Forsyth car entered the highway from the Front Bench Road, colliding with the Tavender car.

In another accident on Saturday police said Alexander R. Dunlop hit the gas pedal instead of the brake, while turning off North Prairie Valley Road into his driveway, and hit a flume. Damage was estimated at $200 and there were no injuries.

Councillor Jim Schaeffer told Council Tuesday, work was progressing well on preliminary road, building up to the future home of Summerland's Centennial Park on the top of Giant's Head.

He said equipment is nearing the half way mark up the slope with the rough grade. "I am very pleased with the progress", Schaeffer said.

Council authorized the purchase of a new pick-up truck. A GMC was selected as a result of invited bids. Loewen Pontiac Buick Ltd., Penticton was successful.

Their money difference on a trade-in was $1900 which was the lowest of five bids. The highest was $2230.25.

Councillor Barkwill was elected vice-chairman of the Regional District at a meeting held in Penticton last week. Alex Gough of Oliver is the chairman.

Under the Regional District, planning is a function. West Bench in Penticton is in the unorganized district so Summerland's building inspector John Khalembach was appointed to cover this area.

A technical planning commission was set up which has to do with water rights, health, highways, schools, municipal works. Works superintendent Ken Blagborne was appointed to represent Summerland.

About the Regional District, Reeve Holmes said, "Council must follow this closely, there will be a lot of regulations, and we must be prepared to face them."

The municipality may send a representative of the planning commission to the annual short course in community planning sponsored by the extension department of the University of B. C. Chairman Don Clark was suggested as one who may be able to take it in. It will be held in Vancouver May 16 to 20.

Council will meet with the Summerland Planning Commission on April 18 to discuss the new proposed zoning map and by-laws.

Ken Blagborne said two engineers from the highways department had looked over the situation at Trout Creek bridge and agreed that three lights should be placed there. Two would be on either side of the bridge and one just north.

The highways department would pay the construction expense of approximately $704, and the municipality the electricity used.

Ken Blagborne said he understood the Trout Creek PTA had written the department a letter in this regard as well "which gave a lot of weight to our request", he said.

To receive the water in the McIntosh subdivision, it will cost the developers $2,187 which would only include a 2-inch line. Council will stand the cost of placing a 4-inch line because they feel this will be needed in future development of the immediate area. This additional cost to the municipality will be about $1,100.

To bring light and power to the area, it will cost them $1,763 within the subdivision, but the municipality will pay the cost of $368 to bring the main line to the property.

A letter signed by ten mothers stated concern regarding the speed the highway traffic goes past the 5 corners intersection.

For the protection of all, including many school children, they suggested a well marked crosswalk and that the speed limit be reduced to 30 miles per hour.

Although they got sympathy from council, they could do nothing about it as the highway is under the jurisdiction of the Highways Department and suggested they direct their complaint to them.

They questioned the wisdom of reducing the speed to 30 mph, but generally thought it foolish that the limit was 40 mph, through Trout Creek and 50 through Summerland.

Coming up Peach Orchard Hill, the Vanderberg Road traffic has the right-of-way according to law. A study will be made of this, as Councillor Schaeffer thought it may be a good idea to put a yield sign on Vanderberg Road, because of the heavy traffic on Orchard Hill Road.

Clerk Gordon Smith and Assistant Gerry Goddard will attend the annual Municipal Officers Conference in Victoria on May 30, 31 and June 1.

A lineman from Ontario Hydro made application for a position with Summerland. He is being considered.

Mr. J. Scott of Trout Creek has been a municipal water user for three and a half years and thought he was paying for it through a tax arrangement but the corporation did not know he was a user.

Apparently, back in July, 1962, municipal crews were installing a line in some tough digging past that property and thought it wise to put a connection there to prevent opening it up again if and when the water was requested.

Three and a half years ago, Mr. Scott decided to put in the water, and his plumber, connected him with the outlet already there, but no application was made through the municipal office.

As a consequence he is three and a half years behind in water payments. Mr. Smith will make suitable arrangements with Mr. Scott to bring him up to date.

Jim Marshall and his Centennial crew are getting into the meat and potatoes of the thing now. The road up Giant's Head Centennial Park is being rough graded and while Don Agur is busy with his equipment up there the committee are working on another project.

They are seeking talent to present a Summerland Historical night during 1967 and their plans are to go all out on the thing. Anyone interested in committee work or have any ideas, Jim will welcome them.

Molybdenum, the Cinderella metal of the British Columbia mining industry, has come from a standing start only three years ago. It is expected 13 percent of the world's molybdenum will be produced in this province by 1968. This metal is known to be in the Brenda Lake area west of Peachland — how much is not yet been proven — but it is hoped it will be in good quantities, suitable for mining. Many are optimistic. This will be a real shot in the arm — not only for the immediate area, but for the whole Okanagan as well as the province. Possibly mother

There is no doubt the Summerland Women's Institute are behind our Centennial project. The Centennial Committee had but cashed the last cheque for $100 they received from them and we see by their April meeting they matched that again this month. . . . Those very fine gestures serve in more ways than paying the bills. It is very encouraging for the committee when they get such support. . . . makes it all worthwhile. And there are plenty of other organizations in town who are or will be in there pitching too.

Among the many we are pleased to see back in Summerland after spending the winter in the warm south is Mrs. Walter Rothwell who is the faithful W. I. correspondent. . . . we get most of our "Newsey" column from her. We pay the W.I. for these so if you have any to offer, give Mrs. Rothwell a call.

Last Christmas I got the finest little jewellery box you ever saw from our daughter Heather. It was just the right size . . . about 8 by 5 and about two inches high. It has compartments suitable for cuff links, tie bars, tie pins, etc. — you know, real handy so I wouldn't have to dig for what I wanted. It was all visible . . . but not for long.

You have all been in the situation when you had something you wanted to keep but you didn't know where to put it where you could find it again . . . so have I, and that Jewellery box to prove it.

Yesterday morning after a search for a tie pin, I took inventory. Here's what I found. A package of lighter flints, an old tarnished identification bracelet, a portion of a watch strap—one inch long, a hand from a "Hummer" that fell to the floor—some day I will get it glued together.

A pink coat button, and I don't think there is a pink coat in the house — but we might get one next year, a variety of sport and white shirt buttons, a finger nail clipper and a flash bulb that doesn't fit my camera.

There are safety pins in assorted sizes — and colors, a pair of tweezers and a spattering of the original Jewellery. . . . and what makes me mad, I can't blame the family. . . . I did it all by myself.

Rumball re-elected hospital head

Les Rumball was re-elected president of the Summerland Hospital Society following their annual meeting last week.

First vice-president is Frank Haar and second vice-president is Dugal MacGregor. Harvey Wilson re-elected secretary-treasurer and John Cooke was returned a director.

New directors are Mel Dugomm and Tim Dele. Others on the board include H. J. Barkwill representing the municipality, Don Clark the government representative, Francis Stuart, Mrs. K. A. y Adams and Colin Campbell.

Society president Rumball had high praise for the work done by Mr. Wilson, hospital administrator and Mrs. E. R. Butler, director of nursing "who have spent much of their own time during the planning stage of the new hospital".

"I don't know what we would do without the Hospital Auxiliary" Mr. Rumball said, "all you have to do is look at the financial statement and you will realize the amount of eqquipment they purchase is a great help to the hospital."

He, as well as Dr. McInnis, praised the work done by the fire department with their search and rescue squad and ambulance service. The ambulance answered 273 calls during 1965.

Dr. McInnis, speaking for the medical staff, said they had to really rush to the scene of an accident to beat the ambulance.

He praised the auxiliary and suggested the possibility of giving senior patients assistance after they arrived home so they may be released from the hospital a little sooner.

Mr. Rumball expressed his regret that board member Jack Johnston would no longer be able to act on the board after nine years of service. In his position as vice-president, he acted for Mr. Rumball on many occasions.

John Betuzzi could not let his name stand for re-election for reasons of health.

Municipal Councillor Bill Barkwill suggested a letter of thanks be sent to the Fire Department in appreciation of their services.

Tenders for the new hospital will be opened on April 28 at a public meeting. Mr. Wilson said six or seven contractors had picked up plans for the construction.

A vote of thanks was given the municipal council for keeping Hospital Road in such good condition during the winter.

At last year's annual meeting, members of the society agreed to investigate possible changes in the by-laws. These changes would include the changing of the annual meeting date to March from February which was done by the department, and the revision of the by-law governing membership. The proposal was to make all owner electors automatically members of the society.

In view of the fact all phases of the by-laws needed study, it was decided to wait until the new hospital was built before making any changes. Membership fees remained at $1.

The financial statement showed an excess of revenue over expenditure of $3,480.34 for 1965. There were $94,954.71 paid out in salaries and wages. Gross earnings from in and out patients was $19,448.00.

Dr. Barbara Moss, Pediatrician was the guest speaker following the completion of business.

She said in 1900, the death rate of children under one year was 200 per thousand and in 1961, the world average was 25 per thousand. She expressed pleasure in her work, watching children develop from birth to adolescence.

Dr. Moss spends much of her time in consultation work with other valley doctors.

Some changes in Fall Fair '66

According to Fall Fair Chairman Jack Towgood, the format of the prize list book will be simplified this year. The new book, will be more concise, easier to refer to.

"Rather than the advertisers buying space in the book, they will be asked to make contributions towards the prizes and their names will be given clear identification as being the donors," Mr. Towgood said.

The Summerland Fall Fair will be a busy one-day affair this year.

"All committees are now working to assure that Summerland and its cultures will have a worthy display", the chairman said. "All classes of exhibits will be maintained and others may be added."

"The Fair Committee have declared the challenge" he said "exhibitors are urged to plan their gardens and to be prepared to polish the apple. Competition will be keen."

After slow start, Summerland building soars during March

There were twenty-three building permits issued in Summerland for a total of $95,700 during the Month of March. Last March permits totalled $35,750.

After a slow start during January and February when the figures were well behind those of 1965, last month brought the overall total to almost double that of the previous year. $112,200 compared to the 1965 figures of $67,700.

Most of the permits issued were for residential building, seven homes for a total of $85,300.

End of season windup for Sporting Rifle Club

The Summerland Rifle Club held its Windup Shoot to end the season, on April 1st. The members turned out in full strength and very entertaining evening was had by all participants.

The High Aggregate Winner for the evening was Harold Richardson with 298 points. Second winner was Jim Doherty with 295 points and Roy Bertram was third with 294. These scores obtained by shooting from the three different positions: prone, sitting and standing. Men's consolation went to A. DeWitt.

In the Ladies Shoot the High Aggregate went to Carole Shannon with 291, second to Louise Atkinson with 287 and third to Nona Bareson with 264. Consolation for the Ladies went to Shirley Copp.

The only shooter of the evening to score 100 and 10x sitting was Louise Atkinson.

The team Event was won by the team of Harold Richardson, Scott Mann, Allen Schindel, Alex Kalinin, Don Tait and Roy Bertram.

A special "Rabbit Shoot" was won by the team of Len Shannon, A. DeWitt, Jim Doherty, and Colin Mann.

A party followed with special refreshments prepared for the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Coffey were presented with a gift for their services for the season in taking care of the club premises.

Some of the Summerland bridge players — Dr. Will Evans, Bill and Gordon Hepperle and Jack Garraway from Peachland took in the big Yakima, Wash. Bridge Tournament over the weekend. They came away empty handed but quite impressed with the life masters' playing that took place.

Mr. and Mrs. David Jones have recently returned from Moose Jaw, Sask. where they attended the Wings Presentation at the R.C.A.F. Station. Their son, Jim, was one of three Canadian Airmen to receive his wings.

They were accompanied home by their son and daughter-in-law, Flying Officer and Mrs. James Jones, who are on leave before going to Chatham, New Brunswick, where they will be stationed for several months.

Mrs. John Kitson has returned from a month's visit with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Parsons in Hollywood.

Baseball season off to good start

The Annual Meeting of the Summerland Basketball Association (1965) was held March 28th at 8:00 p.m. with a fairly good attendance.

The new officers for the 1966 season are: Ray Fitzpatrick, president; Dennis Kean, vice-president; Herb Waterhouse, secretary and Herb DeWitt, treasurer (re-elected).

Executive members include Frank Kuroda, Winston Potter, George Chadburn, Corky Haddrell, Lou Flebbe, Lil Niseter, Lilac Nilson and Nora Rajacich.

Anyone interested in coaching or managing teams for Little League, Babe Ruth or Connie Mack teams would be very welcome to phone any of the members and offer a small part of their time for the boys of their town.

The Connie Mack team is in great need of a manager and a coach. We urge you to consider this need. Baseball is still one of the great outdoor sports and fills a need for many boys. They need your help.

The baseball association invites the parents of the boys to come and see them play their games at the ball park. Audience participation is also an important factor.

Summerland Review — 3

Parochial is the word they should think "big"

(Editor's note . . . An editorial in the Chronicle last week strongly attacked the actions by Vernon and Penticton groups for "wrecking" efforts to establish an Okanagan Regional College at Kelowna. Our readers will no doubt be interested in the comments of Jim Jamieson, editor of the Armstrong Advertiser which appeared in that newspaper on the same day as the Chronicle editorial).

We are just a little disappointed in the purely parochial attitude some of our neighbors to the south have suddenly taken in their approach to the site of the proposed Okanagan Regional College. "If Penticton is in, we're for it" . . . without Penticton, Vernon will defeat the money by-law they declare.

We commend the tight little group who are spearheading this rather petty approach, in the belief that they are thinking in genuine terms of the good of the entire youth of the whole Okanagan, but their obvious interest from the above seems to be centered on the premise that "if we can't have it we'll do our d— to see that no one else has it".

And it appears that the complete switch from a year ago evolves down to one point slightly more than a tinge of inter-city jealousy; and that's where the parochial creeps in in no uncertain terms.

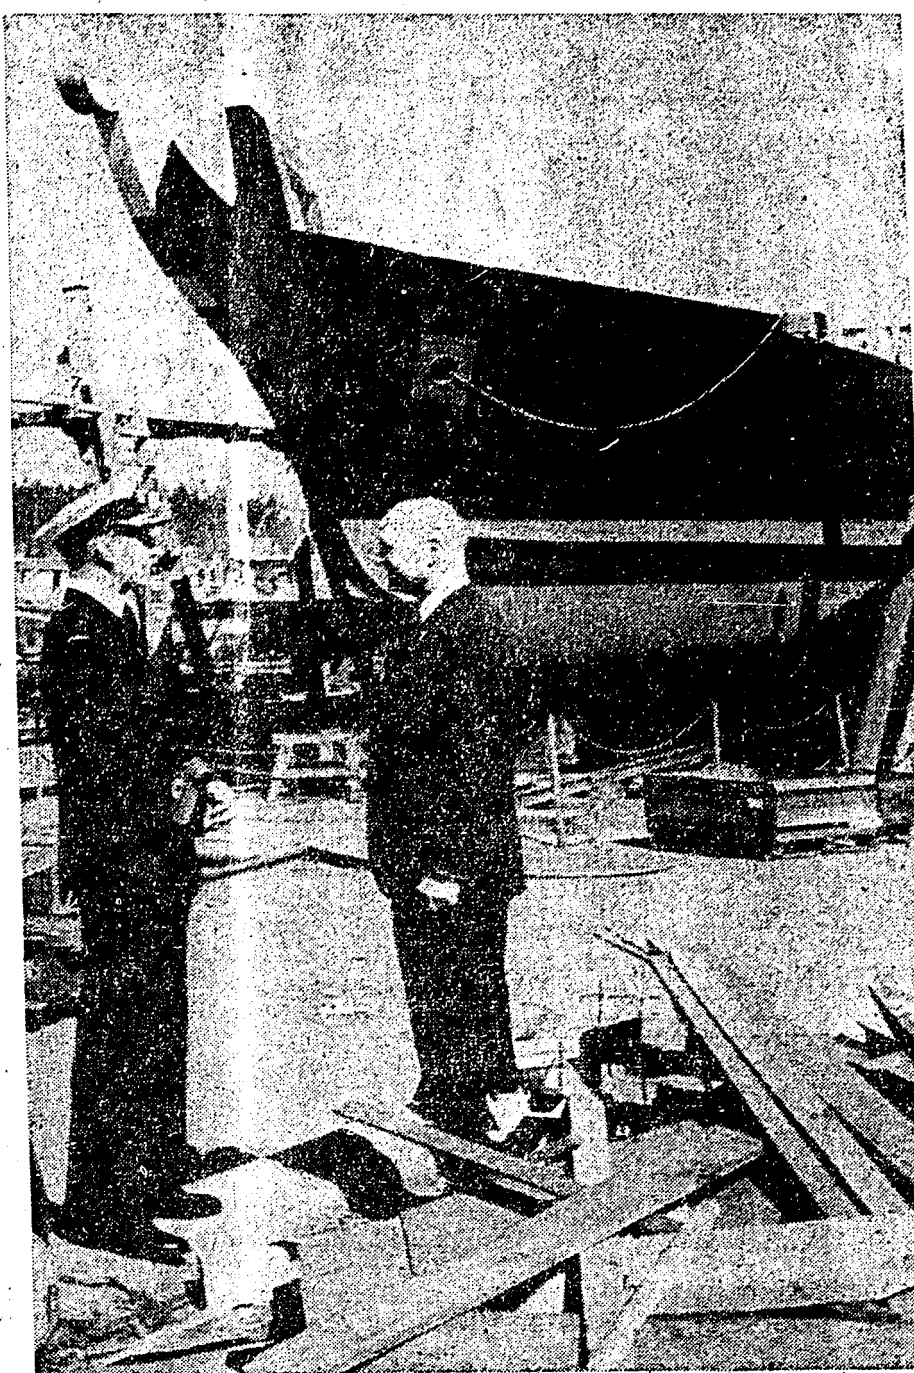

It has been reliably stated, and we feel there is no reason to doubt the line of reasoning, the Regional College will be lost to the Okanagan Valley for at least ten year's time.

Let's face it, this Regional College is a very vital facet in the rapidly broadening British Columbia system of education. There are literally thousands of youth who form financial restrictions, despite their acknowledged academic ability, are upon graduation. Here, the Regional College fits into the picture — and institution that will provide them with the incentive to acquire a skill, or be a stepping stone to further academic or technical pursuits, and at a realistic tuition figure.

With the cost equalization system as devised by the College Council, it seems wholly unnecessary for all this sudden petty parochial frame of mind on the part of an eager beaver, grab it all group. If they were really thinking "big", and goodness knows we must think "big" in these days of radical change, they would be protecting into what was the best for the overall. The site myth is only a smoke-screen—face up to it gentlemen — are you really thinking of the entire composite area and the thousands of youth whom you might well jeopardize in their educational pursuits, or that personal desire to outdo the other centre where the experts have judiciously placed the college site as the location where the maximum will gain by its choice.

And we might add there are those in our own immediate area who should, by the same token, start to think "big"; their thinking is richly touched with the parochial stamp. A look at the percentage of graduates who go on to university higher education is worthy of study — the proposed Okanagan Regional College is a logical answer for that considerable majority who become lost in the uncertain stream — this is obviously the means whereby they can find their niche and become useful citizens of this fast expanding nation.

HISTORICAL TRADING VESSEL, SS. BEAVER will cruise again in British Columbia coastal waters, reconstructed by the British Columbia Centennial Committee, in collaboration with the Royal Canadian Navy. Replica of the first steamship to ply Pacific Coast waters is rising above the hull of a navy auxiliary vessel. Progress of work at HMC Dockyard, Esquimalt, is checked by Rear Admiral M. G. Stirling, Maritime Commander (Pacific), left, and L. J. Wallace, General Chairman, Provincial Centennial Committee. The "new" Beaver will visit B.C. ports during the fall of 1966 and throughout 1967, on a cruise schedule now being worked out. She will be manned by navy personnel, and will be a floating museum with relics of the provinces maritime past. The original Beaver was employed initially to serve Hudson's Bay Company forts from California to Alaska, brought founders of Victoria to Vancouver Island, and contributed more to the early development of B.C. than any other vessel.

LETTER TO EDITOR

No water, no life on the moon

Editor, Summerland Review,
Sir:
In a recent issue of the Review, under the heading 'Moon Magic' (Orchard Run column), which interested me, and I beg for space in the Review that I may pen a few remarks and the opinions astronomers have on some of those 'moon magic' ideas.

The writing mentions "changes in the moon" — astronomers use the term "different phases of the moon". My own opinion is, there has been no change in the moon since our forefathers quit climbing coconut trees.

But don't take my opinion as official. I will quote what astronomers say on some of the "Moon Magic" ideas. And if they are wrong then the universities of the world are all wet too.

Astronomers say, there is no known connection between the moon and the weather — and how crops grow. The weather changes when the moon changes. Some suppose that potatoes thrive best when planted in the dark of the moon, but we know of no reason why it should be so. Some people still believe that stormy or fair weather can be foretold. From the direction of the horns of the crescent moon. In one position it is the dry moon and in the other the wet moon, but there is not much difference in their direction during the same season.

They point always directly away from the sun. "Moon Magic" states that man soon learned to link the moon with ocean tides. Yes, but don't forget the sun has something to do with it. The theory is that the moon is the cause of rains and winds but astronomers say it's the sun. One scientist in poetic words said: "The waves of the seas wooed by the amorous kisses of the sun, rise to meet their lover but fall to earth in tears of disappointment."

I will just add a few lines. That may be of interest to some. The moon is wheeling around us at the rate of more than 2000 miles an hour. This however is rather slow travelling for celestial bodies. If you weigh 150 lbs. here, you would only weigh 25 lbs. on the moon. You could jump over an ordinary house. It has some craters as much as 150 miles across and some mountains as high as Mt. Everest. It has no water. No sir, no life. Do you want to go there?

50 YEARS AGO
Local Happenings

Mr. T. N. Ritchie returned from a brief trip to the Coast over the K.V.R. last Monday.

Mrs. C. C. Chittendon came up from Penticton about the middle of this week to spend a few days at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Limmer. She returned to her home on this evening's boat.

Mrs. Lloyd Jones and son Allan are visitors at present at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Gartrell.

Miss Connie Neve was the guest of honor at a delightful luncheon party given on Tuesday this week by Mrs. O. F. Zimmerman at her Trout Creek home.

Inspector Anstey has been in the district this week continuing his work in the Summerland Schools. He also visited Upper Trout Creek and went south Thursday night. He expects to return shortly to complete the inspection of the schools.

C. N. Borton who enlisted as a private some years ago was promoted to lance-corporal and then to corporal. Recently he stood examination for sergeant. The result has not been announced. In the meantime Corporal Borton has been acting as sergeant.

40 YEARS AGO
Local Happenings

Mr. C. P. Evans and son, Wilfred, arrived last Friday from Brandon, where they have been spending the winter months.

Mr. J. Lawlor has returned to Summerland after a few days at the Coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Atkins, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Milne, motored up to Peachland on Sunday, returning to Summerland the same day.

The victory of the Brandon College team over the Winnipeg Canoe Club basketball team in the finals of the Manitoba senior championship will be of special interest to Summerlanders. Warren Gayton, former local star athlete, and one of the best basketball players developed in the Okanagan, was captain of the winning team.

A splendid response is being made to the Memorial Fund by Summerland citizens. Contributions have been received recently from G. Graham, Summerland Public School, George Armstrong, Mrs. Harwood, Major Tweedy, D. R. Barkwill, Miss Barkwill, Granville Morgan, Harold Smith, S. S. Millar, D. Laidlaw, S. F. Sharp, F. Gartrell, J. Gartrell, O. Smith, Rev. Solly and Mrs. Solly. There still remains a considerable sum to be collected, however, and further contributions will be welcomed within the next few days.

Impessa Imps from Trout Creek
By J. M. McARTHUR, Cubmaster

At the March 30th Pack meeting Melvin Zachary, was invested into Wolf Cubs. Now all the boys in the Pack, except Don Cokell who is living in Pentiction temporarily, have been invested.

Six boys have completed their road map test for the Green Star. Unfortunately I was not able to get their names because Raksha is ill. Let us hope she will be well enough to return soon because we cannot get along without her. John Wilson has worked out a secret code for the third Test for the Green Star. It is quite complicated but no doubt it would be very difficult to decipher.

At the Pack meeting we made bird houses from half gallon milk cartons. Most of the boys finished. However, a few did not. They should finish them at home. Do not forget to put your bird house up in a suitable place and watch it to see if birds make use of it. If birds build a nest in your bird house be sure to find out what kind of birds they are. Bird-houses should be put up right away or you may be too late, as the nesting season will soon be over. This is Test No. 6 for the Black Star.

On April 6 we will have a visitor who will talk on astrology. If you are thinking of making a sky map please do something else because we hope to do this soon at a Pack meeting.

Lorn and Wade MacGregor turned in their knotting boards. There are quite a few that have not been turned in yet. How about getting along with it. It is not hard if you get at it.

The Red Six won the March Six competition. The scores were Red 167, Black 130, Yel-

OUTCASTS GRAND CHAMPIONS

In the Grand Championship bowling held on March 21 and 22, the Outcasts of A League squeezed past the Super-Valu of B League to win. The Unpredictables of the C League wound up in last place well back of the winners.

Outcasts trailed Super-Valu by 7 points after the first day of competition but came back to erase the deficit and win by 8 points. The Unpredictables finished 580 points behind the Outcasts.

The Outcasts finished with 5881; Super-Valu had 5873; and the Unpredictables had 5301.

low 118. The Red Six pulled out ahead on Test points. Each week they pull a few more points further ahead by getting a few extra points for passing tests. All Sixes are losing a lot of points each week because they are not neat and tidy. There is much room for improvement in neckerchiefs and clean faces, hands and knees.

It is called an Easter Sunrise Service and Ministers taking part are Rev. Haskins, Baptist Church; Rev. Schultz, the Church of God; Rev. Tanner, Anglican Church; Rev. Coughlan, Pentecostal Church; Rev. Louie, United Church and Rev. Stenner of the Free Methodist Church.

Much of the organizing has been conducted by Rev. Stenner who said "We will be dealing with the Resurrection of Jesus Christ, the greatest factor in history. This is the date all history stands on."

Rev. Stenner will deliver the message, "The Resurrection! Fact or Fantasy?"

A number of solos will take part as well as the Baptist Choir under the direction of Mr. Waters. Pianist will be Miss Ruth Dale.

BRIDGE HAND

North
H - Q J 7 3
D - Q 9 4 2
C - A J 10 9 4

West
S - A Q 10 9 5 3 2 S - 8 7 6
H - K 9 H - 10 8 6 2
D - K D - 10 8 6
C - 8 3 2 C - K 7 5

South
S - K J 4
H - A 5 4
D - A J 7 5 3
C - Q 8

The bidding went as follows:
South West North East
1 D 3 S 5 D Pass
6 D Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead from the West the 5 of Clubs. The answer to last week bridge problem. Here is the play which will make six Diamonds. You let East take his King of Clubs on the first trick. He leads a heart. You can't let it ride up to your Queen. You must go up with the Ace of Hearts, for West is almost sure to have the King. His bid told you that.

Next play your Ace of Diamonds, the King drops. Then play your Jack of Diamonds. A third round of Trump to your Queen takes care of the trump in enemy hands. Play your Ace of Clubs in dummy, dropping your Queen. There are more rounds of Clubs gives you a chance to drop the five and four of hearts and a spade from your hand. Lead the Queen of hearts or a small heart and trump in your hand. The King drops from West's hand. Trump the Jack of Spades with dummy's last trump. Lead the Jack of Hearts which is good now, throwing away your King of Spades. It is very easy, dear readers, when you see all the cards.

Sorry our printers left out the Ace of Diamonds from declarer's hand, but I guess most would figure it was the Ace missing when I mentioned both Kings were outside of Aces.

Services demand of hospital on the increase

Summerland Hospital Administrator Harvey Wilson told the annual meeting of the Hospital Society last week that all phases of the operation increased over the previous year.

An increase of 539 patient days were experienced and "newborn" days increased by 39. Outpatient work increased proportionately, "especially with a Laboratory Technician on staff," he said.

Mr. Wilson and Nursing Supervisor Mrs. Butler had spent much time working with the architect on working drawings and specifications on the new hospital. This project was approved by provincial authorities on March 16.

Tenders for building the new hospital have been called and these will be opened on April 28. The public may be present when the tenders are revealed at that time.

"All we can do is hope we have enough money to build the hospital," Mr. Wilson said. He added, "Unfortunately, this has not been the case in the immediate past with so many hospitals."

It has been over two years since the architects estimated the cost of constructing a hospital, and it is realized that although these are the figures they have been working on, construction costs have risen since that time.

There is now a second pathologist on staff as a result of a number of meetings attended by a representative of the board, the medical staff and Mr. Wilson.

In an effort to become an accredited hospital, the medical staff formulated bylaws and are now being studied by the department in Victoria.

Mrs. Butler and Mrs. Blagborne have been taking medical records courses with the Canadian Hospital Association, another step towards accreditation.

Last May, Mrs. V. Killick, a registered laboratory technician joined the hospital staff on a half-time basis.

He praised the work of the Ladies Hospital Auxiliaries who have supplied "much needed and expensive equipment for better laboratory facilities."

During the year, several staff members attended special courses. Mrs. E. Maynard, an x-ray course in Vancouver; Mrs. G. Brambley, a dietitians course in Vancouver and Mrs. D. Blagborne a course on Medical Record Library Science at Notre Dame University and Misericordia Hospital in Rossland.

Pentiction Hospital dietician, Miss June Palmer is now working part-time with the Summerland staff.

Due to the hospital being closed to visitors during the recent influenza outbreak, there was no outbreak among patients. The ban was lifted on March 29.

"Last year, Dr. Munn retired — or nearly retired, I should say, as he continues to head the medical staff and stand-by for Summerland doctors", Wilson said. "His help and willingness to assist our staff at all times is sincerely appreciated by us all."

Dr. Munn is now writing a history of the hospital.

He thanked members of the board and staff for their assistance during 1965

Women's Institute donation doubled

The April meeting of the Summerland Women's Institute was held Friday at the Anglican Parish Hall because of the regular meeting day falling on Good Friday.

The president, Mrs. Sandy Fenwick presided over the business meeting which covered many activities. Mrs. M. E. Collas spoke on the Centennial donation of $100 which was given in March and made a motion that an additional $100 be given. This met with the approval of members.

Mrs. Fenwick paid special tribute to a loyal member for many years—Mrs. Vernon Charles who died recently. The president also welcomed a new member, Mrs. E. Paessler, a transfer from Osoyoos.

Mrs. J. P. C. Atwood was named delegate to the District Conference which will be held at Okanagan Falls May 6.

Guest speaker Dr. Dugal MacGregor of the research station gave a very interesting talk on water pollution and what is being done in the valley to keep the lake water pollution under control. Many questions were asked and ably answered by the speakers. Mrs. Walter Rothwell thanked Dr. MacGregor for his interesting and informative talk.

Tea was served by Mrs. E.O. Mortimer, Mrs. W. R. Powell, Mrs. Gordon Ritchie and Mrs. S. Fenwick.

The next meeting will be held May 13 when the program will be presented by the citizenship committee, Mrs. S. A. MacDonald and Mrs. Vera Barrs and will feature the Northern Expansion Program.

TALENT NIGHT A SUCCESS

On Saturday evening, April 2, a Talent Night was held in the Baptist Church, which proved highly successful and most entertaining. Preston Mott was the chairman for the evening.

Sponsors of the evening were the Young Peoples Group of the church, the president of which is Divi Wouters.

OFF TO MEXICO

Geraint Davies wins Junior Shoot

The Junior Section of the Summerland Sporting Rifle Club held their end of the season windup shoot on March 24th. This club has had a very good enrollment this year and many youngsters turned out to enjoy the final shoot and party.

A cup for the highest score was awarded to Geraint Davies, 13, who scored 100.

Allan Schindel won the first in the 14 years and over division. Kathy Shannon came first in the 13 year olds and Michael Raincock was first in the 12 years and under division.

The shooting was all done in prone position with which the young people are familiar. Following the regular shoot, a special event took place. Balloons were suspended and each participant was given 2 shells to try shooting from a standing position. The results were surprising. Many of the younger shooters came to the fore and shot down their balloon with their first shot. Ranging from 9 to 14 years of age, the following juniors made their target.

Frank Poole, Rickie Nistor, John Schaeffer, Bill Knuff, Ron Johnson, Roddy Erickson, Allen Schindel, Brian Hankins, Mike Andrew Pat Howis, Annie Impett, Sherry Howis, Lynn Shannon, Grant Spelsberg, Larrie Kahlembach and Brock Potter.

Winners of the lucky chicken draw were Andy Impett, Marie Etter and Judith Davies.

EASTER MESSAGE

Happy Deliverance

By Rev. Norman Tannar
Every so often our children play the game of 'Run, Hide and Scare.' You no doubt have played it at sometime too. Maybe you still play it in different version. As you may remember the game goes like this: there is the terrific horrifying yell to make the unwary victim jump and scream in fright as he comes around a corner or through a doorway and almost simultaneously the malicious laugh of the causer.

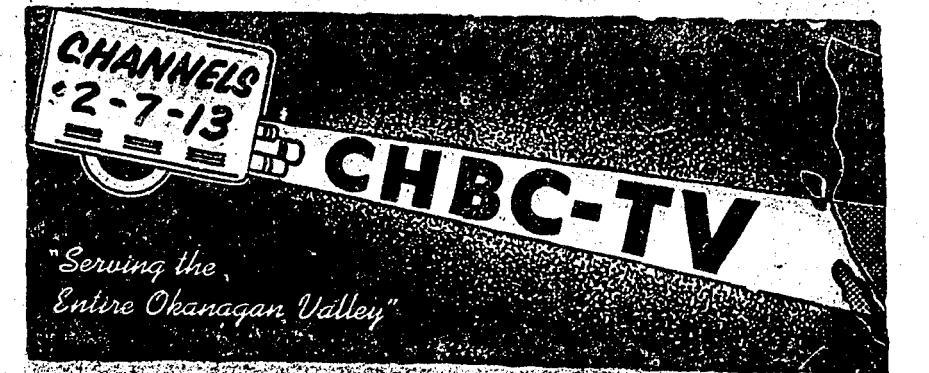

Now many people never get over playing this game and take great delight in throwing fears and scares into others. They do it because they are afraid themselves and want others to be fearful too. In a slightly different way this similar type trait action is seen in others who being unhappy cannot bear to see others happy. Whether these persons are conscious or unconscious of what they are doing they are bullying types of the same stripe. They cannot have peace of mind, they cannot find joy, they cannot know love; and by all that is unholy no one else will if they can do anything about it.

What has all this to do with Easter? Plenty! It has been said that Christianity begins where religion ends, with the resurrection.

Most of us commonly accept the meaning of 'religion', as it comes into our language from the Latin: religare — to bind together, to mean bound together with God. But what has happened — many have taken religion and bound it to superstitions and fears, forms and mechanics of propitiation, astrological and metaphysical philosophies, all of which lead to the unhappy doctrine of fear.

Jesus Christ came, as St. Paul writes in his letter to the young Christian Church in Rome, "to deliver (us) from the bondage of corruption into the glorious liberty of the children of God." Jesus calls men to intellectual honesty and maturity and to a spiritual partnership in love with God. In this relationship men are freed from their bondages to fear and corruption, as Paul writes in a letter to Timothy, "For God has not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and a sound mind."

May you experience the true joy of Easter and its happy deliverance to Life.

X-ray machine new project for Hospital Auxiliary

The regular monthly meeting of the Summerland Hospital Auxiliary was held on Monday, April 4th, with the president, Mrs. Griselda Evans in the chair.

A report on the Thrift Shop showed a profit for the month of $412.07. During the Spring and Summer changeover on March 23 and 24, 76 volunteer hours were spent, with a total for the month of 129 hours.

The Volunteer Service of adults and candy-strippers served 148 volunteer hours during March. This service was especially appreciated this month because of the ban on visitors due to the flu. The volunteers made phone calls, delivered messages and did some shopping for the patients who show great appreciation for this service.

The Second Brownie Pack will again be preparing the Easter Tray treats for the hospital.

May 14th has been set for the Hospital Tag Day, pending authorization of the Council. The project of the Auxiliary for the coming year has been set. This is to purchase a portable X-ray machine at approximately $5,000, for the hospital.

Hospital Auxiliary reports a busy, expanding year

Mrs. Griselda Evans, President of the Summerland Ladies Hospital Auxiliary told the annual meeting of the Hospital Society, they had 56 paid up members and they had an average attendance of 32 members at their 13 meetings during 1965.

One of their many projects during the year was the setting up of a volunteer service department at the hospital.

"In the spring," Mrs. Evans said, "it was noted that during the few times of peak bed capacity, the hospital staff would welcome some organized volunteer help. The newly-organized Candy Strippers could possibly help in a small way, but their availability was very limited due to school pressures."

As a result of conferring with regional and local officials, it was decided to send Mrs. Adams to attend a conference in Vancouver on volunteer service directorship.

As a start towards volunteer work, members distributed a basket containing small patient needs, a job that was previously time consuming for the staff. A cart made by Mr. Wm. Baker was used for this purpose.

Now, the volunteer services, under the direction of Mrs. Eric Smith is operating by doing work in the children's ward and offering their services in various fields.

She said, "it should be noted that the Auxiliary's only link with this service now, is through a chairman and a committee of auxiliary members who are in touch with Mrs. Smith to bring needs and report of the meetings. It is a regular hospital department, answerable to the board."

All members are not volunteers and some are recruited from outside their ranks.

Hand puppets are given children patients which they are able to take home and 93 baby spoons were given new mothers in 1965. In the future they will be given a plastic bag containing many free samples of baby needs.

Mrs. Evans praised the membership for their work at the Thrift Shop who "spend count less hours in the shop pricing, cleaning up and selling. Many volunteers spent many more hours in the major rejuvenation program last fall and have made the establishment a lot more pleasant for workers and buyers."

She thanked the community for the "seemingly endless stream of saleable goods".

Thrift Shop sales amounted to $2,912.85.

Other means of raising funds was the Tag Day, stationery, knitting, calendars, rags, donations, fees and the Christmas raffle.

Their year's purchases have included surgical instruments, stainless steel set for each bed unit, Balken frame, Stethoscope with transilluminator, hyperator, Coleman spectrophotometer, oxygen tank holder for the isolette, a set of pulleys for use by the therapist, adult crib and equipment needed to set up the volunteer service department. Total cost was $2,080.21.

Second Look Essential On Farm, City Girl Finds

Tom, the village philosopher says the best education doesn't come from books and blackboards and such, but from taking a second look at things. That's the one that counts, he figures, and a second glance can often save you from making a fool of yourself.

To illustrate his point, Tom tells the story of his niece, Dolly, who visited from the city a couple of weeks ago.

"I took her around to see my brother Ed — the one who runs a farm. 'Oh, what a strange looking cow,' says Dolly, 'Why hasn't she any horns?' So Ed says, 'Well, some cows is born without horn and never had any, and others shed theirs, and some we dishorn, and some breeds ain't supposed to have any horns at all. There's all kinds or reasons why some cows ain't got horns, but the reason this one ain't is because she ain't a cow. She's a horse!'"

Which leads us to wonder if a second look isn't called for in personal planning sometimes. If you find your money slips through your fingers, consider regular saving with a Bank of Montreal savings account. Deposit so much of each pay-check into a B of M savings account. In that way you make sure of getting your share of your own income.

Bob Evans, accountant of the Summerland branch of the B of M will be happy to tell you how easy it is — and how profitable.

MR. and MRS. CARPENTER

Candlelight ceremony for Summerland girl

The glowing of tall white tapers in antique silver candleabra and large floral arrangements of white Chrysanthemums and red Poinsettias set the scene for a recent wedding.

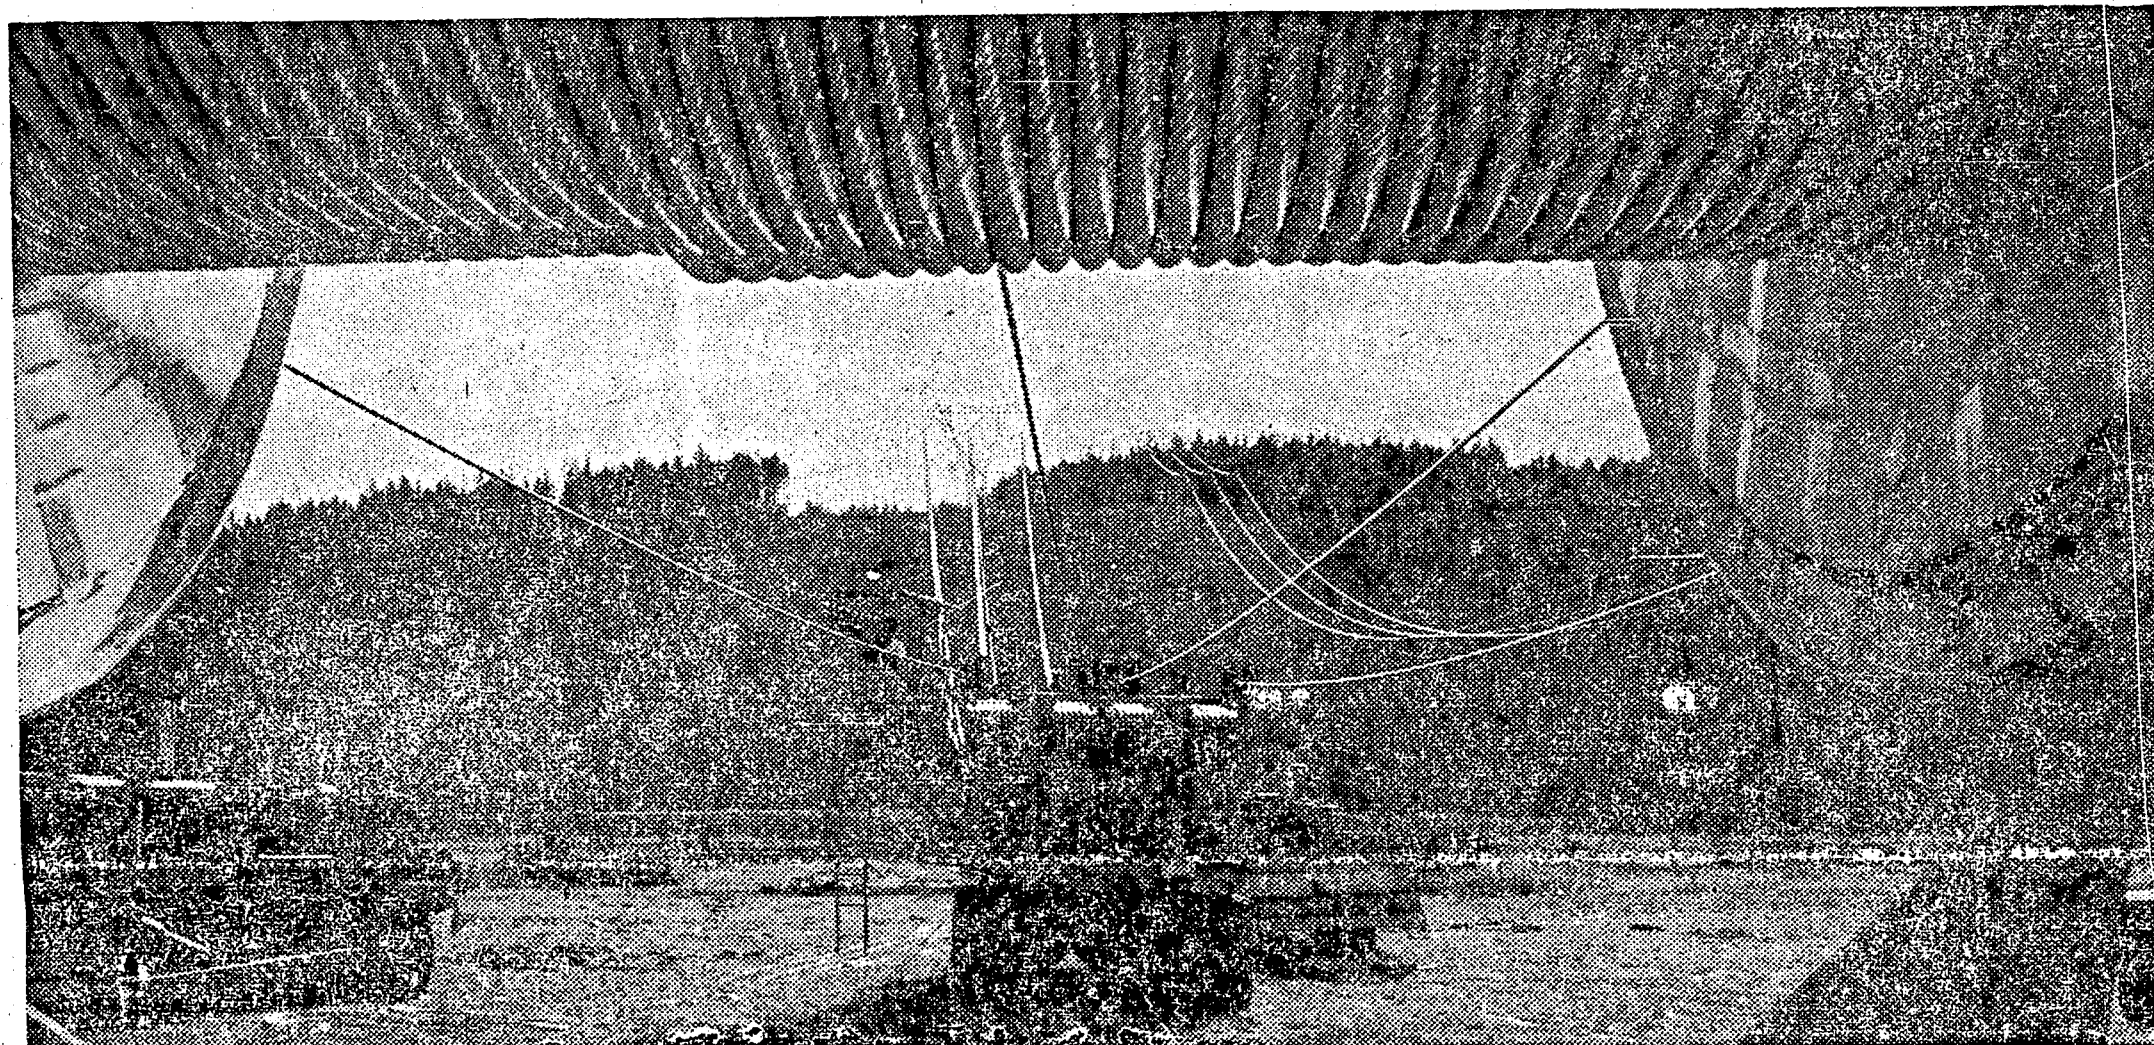

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Victoria Brake of Summerland, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Carpenter of Nanaimo. Given in marriage by T. R. G. Bennett of Victoria, the bride wore a floor length gown of white cut velvet fashioned in a sheath with an empire line. A matching train was caught by a bow. Her headdress of seed pearls held a floor length, silk illusion veiling and four shorter tiers. She carried a bouquet of red roses, white feathered chrysanthemums and Ivy. Her "Something old" was a gold bracelet which belonged to the bride maid's grandmother. The matron of Honor was Roberta Manzini of Nanaimo, the maid of honor was Miss Audrey Stasuck of Dawson Creek; flower girl was Miss Christina Heiduk, the groom's niece, and Danny Heiduk, the groom's nephew, was ring bearer. The senior attendants wore floor length A line gowns of red velvet, their headdress was a red velvet flower with silk illusion veiling. They carried white feathered chrysanthemums. The little flower girl wore a floor length white velvet gown with red velvet sash and red velvet hair band.

Best man was John Murray of Powell River and usher was Joe Menzini of Nanaimo. The bride's mother wore an aqua French cut velvet dress with matching three quarter length coat, hat and shoes. Her accessories were black gloves and purse. Mrs. Brake chose a corsage of pink carnations to complement her outfit. The bridegroom's mother wore a two-piece dress of pink lame black velvet hat. Her flowers were of pink and white carnations.

The wedding reception took place at Tideview Banquet Rooms. The head table was decorated with pink and white streamers and white wedding bells and held a three-tiered wedding cake topped with doves holding entwined rings. For a honeymoon to Los Angeles and other southern parts, the bride changed into a two-piece pink dress with a white fox cape and winter white brushed wool hat, black shoes and gloves. Her corsage was pink roses.

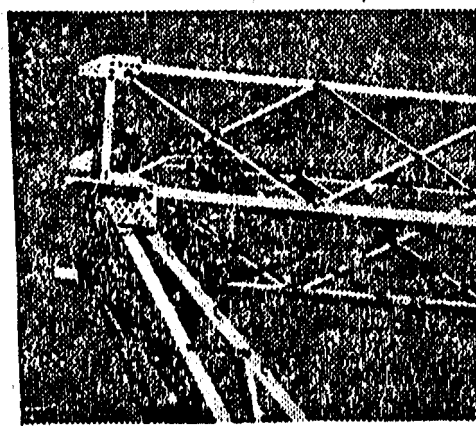

Telegrams of good wishes came from Beverly Hills, Calif.; Sudbury, Ont.; Ottawa, Fort Saskatchewan and Edmonton. Guests attended from Dawson Creek, Powell River, Vancouver, Victoria, Courtenay and Summerland. Upon their return the newlyweds will make their home in Nanaimo.

Elocution contest held

A well attended elocution contest was held Monday, March 28, at the Free Methodist Church, with Mrs. C. Miller in charge.

Ten children took part, competing for a Bronze Medal and the Silver-plated medal.

While the judges retired to make their decisions, there was a duet by Heather and Maureen Coughlan, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. Coughlan, Pastor of the Pentecostal church. There was also a piano solo by Donnie Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Miller of Peachland, which was enjoyed by all. The winner of the Bronze Medal for ages 7-9, went to Heather Bloomfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Bloomfield of Summerland, her piece was entitled "Stop, Look and Listen". Winner of Silver-plated medal, ages 10-13 went to Nathan Harms, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harms of Trout Creek, his piece was "The Trojan Horse".

Mrs. Rita Allen heads Catholic Women's League

The regular meeting of the Catholic Womens League was held in the Parish Hall on Thursday, March 28th with the president, Mrs. Emma Betuzzi, in the chair. Father Guinan opened the meeting with the regular prayer.

Business was discussed and Mrs. Mary Logie gave a report on the emergency welfare meeting which she attended. The nominating committee than brought in the slate of new officers, which are as follows: Mrs. Rita Allen, president; Mrs. Julie Bombadier, 1st vice-president; Mrs. Helen Bonthoux, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. Loretta Simpson, 3rd vice-president; Mrs. Marg Irwin, secretary and Mrs. Mary Lou Meehen, treasurer.

The new executive took their places and Mrs. Allen thanked the outgoing executive for the good work they had done.

Mrs. Allen then named some of the convenors for the coming year, as follows: Mrs. Helen Bonthoux, spiritual; Mrs. Helen Schaeffer, education; Mrs. Mary Logie, citizenship; Mrs. Emma Betuzzi, membership; Mrs. Julie Bombadier, press and publicity; Mrs. Gilbert, lunch; Mrs. Jacobs, funerals and Mrs. Mary Ongaro, hospital visitations and cards.

Mrs. Allen was asked to be delegate to attend the convention in Creston May 5-7.

The matter of a Centennial project was discussed and it was thought befitting a church group to choose a spiritual project. They decided upon the "Travelling Rosary" to pray for "the welfare of our families, our parish, our community and our country"; following their motto "For God and Country".

Father Guinan's address to the members was very interesting and informative. As food for thought the president reminded the members of the motto of the late Pope John 23rd—"Be ever more concerned with that which unites than that which divides".

Indians plan restoration

by Dorothy Hewlett Gellatly

WESTBANK — The Centennial project planned by the Indians on Reserves No. 9 and 10 at Westbank, to restore a 100-year-old house and relocate it on a park area, there to be used as a crafts centre, is as interesting as it is commendable.

Equally interesting is the fact that 75 years ago this log structure was rebuilt for Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lindley, the former son of a Yorkshireman who took part in the Cariboo gold-rush, and for his wife, whose line is linked with the chiefs of the tribe from time immemorial.

Such was the irony of fate, that our gold rush pioneer, who came riding down the Okanagan trail with his poke of gold, could find no food or any place to buy it, and was getting uncomfortably close to starving when he reached an Indian camp, where he was fed. He later met prospectors on their way north, and with these he traded his horses for some of their flour and bacon.

Deciding to settle in the valley, Lindley married an Indian girl and started farming in the Ellison district. After his first crop was frozen in July and his second destroyed by grasshoppers, Lindley gave up and moved to the Nicola country.

Years later, his son came in turn to the Okanagan, and here he married the granddaughter of Chief Pantherhead, and they made their home in the house now to be restored as a centennial project. Today, Tom's son, Norman Lindley, is chief of the Indian band on Reserves No. 9 and 10.

Serving on the Centennial committee are Nolan Derickson, president; Mrs. Alex (Mary) Eli, secretary and Mrs. Jack, treasurer.

Re-located and restored as a crafts centre, the original Lind

Westbank is still looking for pioneers

By Dorothy H. Gellatly

WESTBANK — The Centennial Committee in Westbank is still looking for pioneers, and either Rhea Boynton at 8-5652 or Dorothy Gellatly at 8-5396 will be grateful for names of possible pioneers entitled to the commemorative medallion struck in their honor.

Already the committee has discovered more than members had thought possible, and have therefore asked Victoria for more pioneer forms, which will be distributed on arrival.

Remember, a pioneer is designated as one either born in Canada or a resident of Canada prior to January 1, 1892. It is not necessary to have had continuous residence in Canada since that time, but they must be residents NOW.

Peachland lady curlers awarded the Trautman-Garraway trophy

by Brenda Davies

The last meeting of the season of the Ladies Curling Club took place Wednesday night, March 30. Election of officers for the coming year was postponed until fall, as a smaller group than usual was in attendance, owing to the flu in the district.

Mary-Lou Topham, president gave a full report of the year's activities and thanked all her executive and the members for their help and co-operation during her term of office. This was reported to be a good year financially for the group, and it was voted that all proceeds from the coffee bar be donated to the men's league to help in the maintenance of the rink.

Winners of the club bonspiel and receiver of league pins was the Ida Topham rink with I. Topham, skip; Myrtle Ferguson, 3rd; Ruby Stewart, 2nd and Melba Shortread, lead.

Winner of the daytime league and the Bert Henry Trophy was the Mary-Lou Topham rink with Mary-Lou Topham, skip; Kathy Banard, 3rd; Mavis MacKay 2nd and Olive Thwaite, lead.

Trophies were then presented and the winner of the night league Trautman and Garraway Trophy and pins was the Doloris Houghtaling rink with D. Houghtaling, skip; Elner Beet, 3rd; Jan Bregeda, 2nd and Doren Lyons, lead.

PEACHLAND REPORT

by Brenda Davies

Mrs. W. D. Miller of Beach Ave. will celebrate her 78th birthday Wednesday. Mrs. Miller, who came to live in Peachland in 1898, is one of Peachland's longest residents. Happy Birthday Mrs. Miller from all your friends and neighbors.

In town Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. C. Sime former Trepanier residents visiting old friends before returning to their present home in Kamloops.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Spakeman, Beverly and Joy are leaving Wednesday for a holiday in Hawaii.

Visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Enns, last weekend were Lyle and Norman Enns from Vancouver. Other visitors at the Enns home were Mrs. Enns' brother and sister-in-law Mr. and Mrs. J. Fehr, Calgary.

Mrs. G. Wallace and Miss F. Casey of Vancouver are staying in Peachland for a few days. Mr. and Mrs. Wallace will become permanent residents as soon as their new home, which is at present under construction, is completed.

Mr. and Mrs. MacPherson left Monday for a quick trip to the coast, they will return with their grandchildren and Godchildren who will spend their Easter holidays here.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Mitchell of Trepanier, last week, were former residents Mr. and Mrs. J. Grundy of Vernon, and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Reid of Summerland.

Spending the weekend with their parents Mr. and Mrs. A. Oltmans were Hank and Otto Oltmans who both now reside in Kamloops.

Staying at the Pin cushion Bay Motel are Mr. and Mrs. Barnfield, formerly of Edgewood. Mr. and Mrs. Barnfield are the owners of the house at present under construction on Beach Ave. We are pleased to bid them welcome to our community.

Birthday party for shut-in

A surprise birthday party was given in honour of Miss Mamie Booth recently, at the home of her mother, Mrs. Thaxton.

Hostess for the party was Mrs. Martin. Also present were Mrs. John Grey, Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Ashbee. Miss Booth was presented with a beautifully decorated cake to celebrate the occasion.

A letter from Mr. Andrew Nielson stated he would take firm action if something was not done about the condition of Brambley Road, where he has a home. He said he could not sell his home while the road was in such bad condition. The roads committee will look into it.

At the request of Centennial chairman Jim Marshall, Council appointed Keith Bergh a member of the committee. Increased amount of work was the reason for the increase.

Two requests from persons to live in trailers while building their homes was tabled until the next meeting. They are building in G2 agricultural and the present by-law only permits a special use permit to be issued in residential zones. District Planner John Northey will be consulted with the idea of extending this privilege.

Reeve Holmes felt the regulations should be expanded because orchardists would depend on transient help this year and many may be travelling in trailers.

THERE IS A FUTURE QUEEN HERE

Summerland to host quarterly meeting of Valley Chambers

Summerland Chamber of Commerce president Eric Tait told the regular meeting last week, that they are to host the quarterly meeting of the Okanagan-Similkameen Chamber of Commerce on May 4th. The Kelowna Chamber will make a bid to join that organization at that meeting.

It has been over two years since Summerland hosted this meeting.

Due to the fact that this is one day previous to the regular meeting of the Summerland Chamber, they will not meet in May, but all members or interested people are invited to attend the quarterly meeting. There will be a reception previous to a banquet and general business.

Mr. Tait said the Chamber played a part in obtaining lights at Trout Creek bridge, as well as the Trout Creek PTA and municipal authorities. The road committee under the direction of Howard Pruden had made a study of the dangers involved at that bridge and brought it to the attention of the highway department.

A retired secretary-treasurer is too important a person to drop out of the executive the following year. In view of this, it was passed by motion to include years executive.

Executive members will meet with Mr. Albert Hickie, Western Canada representative for the Canadian Chamber of Commerce when he arrives in Summerland this afternoon.

The fifteenth annual meeting of the B. C. Chambers of Commerce will be held in Penticton this year May 29 to 31. Summerland and neighboring chambers will sponsor a reception on May 29 in the Peach Bowl at which president and Mrs. Eric Tait will act as hosts. A resolution from the Westbank Chamber to the annual convention requested agricultural courses be offered at the Kelowna Vocational School and the future Okanagan Regional College.

BCPGA director Charles Bernhardt said their organization is thinking along the same lines. He said the proposed course at the vocational school would possibly be a three-month winter course while at the Regional College, a more advanced course may be expected.

Gordon Beggs will again take care of the tourist information booth on the highway. His employees at his fruit stand double in this capacity.

It is intended to place a fairly large sign on the booth to identify it better.

Mr. Seattle Ritchie is again Summerland's representative to the Okanagan Tourist Association. Meetings this year will be held in Vernon which he, president Tait or vice-president

Chas. Bernhardt will attend. Fall Fair chairman Jack Towgood made a report by saying that all is going well and committee heads are working well. The fair will be held on September 10, starting at 10 a.m. with exhibits being accepted the previous evening from 7 to 10 p.m.

The executive will take steps to encourage a music teacher to come to Summerland. Since the recent passing of Miss Kay Hamilton, Mr. Tait said, many children are now left "high and dry" as far as music is concerned.

It was felt that the local liquor store should have one more employee to bring their standards of service on a par with other business places in town.

With only one man it is necessary to close the store for anything from lunch hours to bank deposits which the chamber did not feel was fair to the general public and especially the tourists.

A brief will be sent to the liquor board in this regard. It will be in no way a reflection on the efforts of the vendor. A similar brief was sent last year but with no results.

Guest speaker was Mr. Lloyd Gartrell, Summerland, president and general manager of Okanagan T. V. Distributors Ltd. who operate the cable television system.

He was introduced by Mr. Ted Atkinson who said he started with this company shortly after the war on a part time basis and has worked up to the top chair in the company.

"Summerland is proud of your progress, Lloyd", Mr. Atkinson said.

Mr. Gartrell spoke of the progress of the industry, and estimated their services on the continent would double during the next five years.

He said Vancouver had the largest system in North America, and Victoria was situated so they had the best reception.

Car key tags here this week

Summerland motorists will receive their miniature car key licence tags from the TB and Chest Disabled Veterans Association this week says TB Vets manager G. Roy Wilson. Some 1,400 key tags have been mailed to car owners in the Summerland district. More than 610,000 key tags will be sent to B. C. motorists this year.

Miniature key tags guarantee the return of lost keys through the TB Vets car licence registration service and contributions for tags finance one of the most effective rehabilitation programs in B. C.

Student of the Month

KEN C. BUCHKOWSKI has been chosen a Student of the Month for March at the Summerland Secondary School. Ken, a grade twelve student, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Buchkowski. He was born January 28, 1948 in Tuelon, Manitoba, and moved to Summerland in 1960. Ken is active as president of the Key Club, and is also a member of the Annual Club. On completion of grade twelve, he hopes to attend UBC to enter into engineering. Ken is the third student to receive this honor sponsored by the Key Club.

Urge more facilities at Parkdale Place

Don Clark, Chairman of the Summerland Planning Commission will attend a short course in community planning at U.B.C. May 16th to 20th. His employers kindly offered to continue his pay during that time. Council were very pleased with this.

There was no decision on the lakefront property the municipality offered for sale. The highest bid of $7200 received jointly from J. Shori and H. Gedig was for a motel, but the Okanagan Health Unit advised there would not be sufficient space for sewage disposal.

Gedig and Shori were present and suggested a tank may be acceptable which would be pumped out. They will confer with the Health Authorities in this regard.

A sidewalk will be built from the IOOF Hall to Jubilee Ave. to replace the present one which is in bad repair.

The IOOF requested a loading zone at their west entrance but it was felt this would tie up too much parking space considering the amount it would be used. But they authorized a crossing at the rear of their building so they may park on the north side.

Councillor Powell conferred with Bud Green regarding increase in water supply to the hatchery. Mr. Green said his department have money available now and are anxious to have the change-over made. The results of a study to supply Lakeside Summerland with water other than from the creek are not complete, although a preliminary survey was studied by council last week in committee.

A bylaw will be prepared, setting the kennel license at $30 per year housing from 3 to 10 dogs and $50 for over that number. It was previously a flat $50. Non-transferable tags will be supplied.

Realtor Ed Lloyd introduced Mr. McPherson to council, who wished to purchase the corner lot, south of L. A. Smith Ltd. for an automatic car wash.

Council could see no reason why he would not be free to make the purchase but asked that Mr. McPherson set the building for enough back on the lot so traffic vision would not be hampered when entering the avenue. He agreed to this.

Mr. David Jones, who had previously requested the council to remove trees in his alley so he could build a garage, met with council.

Council previously decided they would do this if he paid the costs of approximately $250. He offered to pay half if he could keep the topsoil. The road committee will take another look on Saturday morning.

Eric Tait addressed council and asked what their policy was regarding admitting residents in Parkdale Place.

He said there was a "crying" need for an extension.

His mother-in-law had been trying to get in for two years and although he had been told twice she was near the top of the priority list she had not at this date been accepted.

Reeve Holmes said council had no authority in this regard as a government committees are appointed including a minister, a doctor a welfare official and two others appointed by council.

He said to his knowledge, there were no priority lists, rather they were chosen on the basis of need, with pensioners receiving only their monthly cheque, getting first choice.

There was no change in residents at Parkdale Place during 1965.

Mr. Tait pointed out that three generations in his family have been paying taxes in Summerland for almost fifty years.

He also encouraged council to look into starting a home offering chronic patients a home consideration.

FALL FAIR
Fair chairman Jack Towgood and vice-chairman Chas. Bernhardt suggested the annual municipal banquet would possibly not be necessary now because of the fact there will be no Queen crowning ceremony this year. They threw out the broad hint that they may consider a grant in lieu of this.

Car accident Easter weekend

Sunday, April 9th proved to be an eventful day for four Summerland residents as they were involved in motor vehicle accidents totalling $900 damage.

The first accident occurred at 11 a.m. when the car driven by Irwin Archibald was struck by a car driven by Howard Lee Clarke at the intersection of Quinpoole and Victoria roads. Clark, who was travelling on Quinpoole Road, stopped at the stop sign and then drove onto Victoria Road, colliding with Archibald who was driving along Victoria Road. Damages were estimated at $150 with no injuries to either driver. RCMP are still investigating.

The second accident occurred at 10:30 p.m. on Beach Ave. in Peachland. The driver of the car, William Thomas Downtown, was travelling north on Beach Ave. Rounding a slight curve, he drove off the pavement, sheering off a power pole and coming to rest against a second pole further on. Damages to the car and property totalled $750. Downtown and his passenger, Ralph Wuenche, also of Summerland, were taken to Summerland Hospital. Wuenche suffered back injuries and Downtown was treated for lacerations and released from hospital on Monday, April 11. Wuenche is still in hospital, but reported to be in good condition.

Increased interest in Yacht Club

The Summerland Yacht Club has made plans to start the social season off with the 'Commodore's Ball' on Friday, April 29th. George Witte, head of the entertainment committee, has been very busy making arrangements for the event and the Ladies Auxiliary to the Yacht Club will be in charge of the banquet.

At a general meeting held on March 22 moorage was discussed and future plans for the operation of the Club were voiced. Further to this a meeting was held on Monday, April 11th, and reports from various committees were heard.

The moorage committee, headed by Harvey Edwards, reported work already being done at the club. The fill along the south side of the bay has been levelled off, and the water flow from the adjacent creek diverted so that it is clearing the area of the ramp. It is hoped to be able to improve the ramp in the near future, but those wishing to launch their boats will find it quite satisfactory.

The building committee has also been very active. The Yacht Club has been given its spring cleaning in readiness for what is expected to be an active season. Teen Town formed a work party last Thursday and descended upon the Yacht Club with mops, brooms and cleaners. Their cooperation between the Yacht Club and Teen Town is proving to be an advantage to both, as they have a "home" for many of their dories.

As a result of the meetings all moorage rates have been raised ten dollars. This still leaves the members in a favorable position in comparison with similar moorage facilities. Even at this early date, after contacting all 1965 berth renters, there are only ten berths left to be rented, which gives an indication of a very good boating season.

Both berth rentals and memberships are now due. Members are advised to contact any member of the executive to obtain their tickets to the Commodore's Ball, as they are, as usual, limited.

Increased interest has indicated a desire for more boating activities, but so far no one has volunteered to head such a committee. It is hoped that during the coming season more of the members will take an active part in their Yacht Club by attending the regular meetings to be held and taking an interest in the activities of the Club.

Under The Giant's Head

By KEITH BERGH
It's sometime after midnight, Tuesday night. The report of the council meeting is tucked away so it is very unlikely this column will make any more sense than it has in the past but here goes.
Griselda Evans thanked me very much for elevating her to the president of the Summerland Hospital Auxiliary in last week's paper, but informed me that Doreen Tait held that position. Sorry Doreen, guess if I bought a subscription to the Review I would know that. I don't want to intimidate the outfit I am connected with is cheap, but I am not allowed to read the paper unless I pay the usual 2.50 per year. That is one of the benefits I will get after 20 years of continuous service.
Sure nice to see the Chamber of Commerce and the Wildlife people got together — or maybe they are lucky. This is National Wildlife Week and next week is National Chamber of Commerce week. I would be willing to wager there is some kind of a week for 10 organizations each week. They have been piled on so thick and fast the significance is lost. There are so many it is difficult to get enthused about any of them. Ever celebrate "Cat Week"? There is one. For real cats — the four-legged ones I mean. (Brother, that's a weak paragraph, sorry teacher.)

Summerland Review — 3

'Tis the season for it

Spring is possibly the most beautiful season of the year. Nature is walking up once more after a well deserved rest. She will again bring us all the joys and beauty she is so willing to share.

Our attitudes with the first sign of blossoms, with vigor and confidence. We are unaware that anyone could have anything but the most honorable intentions.

As the old saying goes "All that glitters, is not gold".

With signs of spring, comes the dubious salesman who leave the smoke stacks of the big cities for a breath of fresh air. But their intentions are not so honorable. They are seeking the fast buck.

They will go from door to door selling everything from potato peelers to roofing. Too often these products are inferior and what is more frightening, there may be hidden benefits (for themselves) contained in the contract you sign.

Watch for free gimmicks. We have been told of an $80 a week factory worker who must pay $64 a month for five years for goods he was told were free. A woman was tricked into signing sixty promissory notes by the salesman. She was unaware of what she was doing. A quick call to her lawyer would have been the best investment she could have made.

Don't take the attitude it couldn't happen to you. It IS happening to people all over Canada. These salesmen are experts and they usually have literature to back up any of their statements. Remember, anyone can have literature printed — this offers you no protection or guarantee.

There are cases of people travelling the country selling roofing or will make repairs to your roof or chimney at prices far below the usual.

These we have in mind never canvassed on a cloudy day, because rain would wash away their workmanship. Concrete was not used for the chimney and some sort of a soot-water mixture was used on the roof. This particular crew originated from the southern States.

The Chamber of Commerce always warns citizens at this time of the year in this regard and their blanket advice is to deal with a reputable dealer.

Not all door-to-door salesmen are con artists but if one calls you do not know, ask for identification, then phone or write his office. Don't be in any hurry — in fact if you are being pushed for time, take this as a warning. He will no doubt be offering the same deal in the next town weeks from now.

Check with your husband. Not that he is any smarter than you — but two minds are better than one.

Let the salesman know you are checking and ask him to call back in a day or so. If he is not genuine, this may put him off.

We do not wish to throw a scare into you to the point you think any salesman who calls at your door is a fast buck artist. This is far from being the case. The vast majority of them are honorable hard working employees of reputable companies. But you can be taken for a long ride if you don't exercise caution. Remember 'tis the season for it.

MAN WITH A MISSION is Mr. C. D. "Denny" Wilson, Chairman of the April Conquer Cancer Campaign for B.C. and the Yukon. Mr. Wilson is counting on some 5,000 volunteers to help him raise $400,000 to support vital programmes of cancer research, education and welfare. Part of the money will go toward new cancer research and treatment facilities like the $70,000 Cobalt Therapy Unit pictured here. The B.C. Cancer Institute has three of these super-voltage radiation units and will require a fourth in the near future.

NES distributing booklet for graduates

The Penticton National Employment Office at 301 Main Street has now received the 966-66 supply of booklets entitled "Supply and Demand — University Graduates", prepared and distributed annually by the National Employment Service.

The booklet is being distributed to schools throughout the local office area and copies are being placed in public libraries.

The booklet contains useful information to industry and graduating students in connection with what may be expected during the coming spring in terms of potential manpower, employment opportunities and starting salaries. The information may also be of value to prospective employers of graduates; to teachers and to vocational counsellors, particularly at the high school level.

The latest available information relating to employment of the 966 class of university graduates is presented, as well as significant trends in the university field related to employment.

The 1966 graduating class is expected to be approximately 43,000, or about 15 per cent larger than the class of 1965.

Visitors for the past week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thornthwaite were their son, Basil, his wife Joan, and son and daughter Jamie and Joanne.

Regional District budget set at $32,000 by directors

The board of directors of the Okanagan-Similkameen Regional District have drawn up a budget of $32,310 for their 1966 operation.

A breakdown of the budget shows $22,000 for salaries and remuneration; directors and chairman's remuneration and committees $1,760; vehicle mileage, $2,010; rent and associated expenses, $1,260; office expense, $1,200; fringe benefits, $1,130; office equipment, $700; advertising, $250; publications and memberships, $200; audit, $100; library reference data, $50 and miscellaneous $1,650.

The revenue will be derived from a 75-cent per capita requisition from municipalities and unorganized areas. Penticton will contribute $10,394; Summerland $3,230; Princeton $1,342; Oliver, $1,320; Osoyoos, $750 and Keremeos, $422. The rural areas will contribute $4,569. To this will be added the Province of British Columbia grant of $8,000 and $2,269, a surplus Province of

B. C. grant from 1965.

The board of directors have been empowered to borrow $10,000 to carry them until they receive their revenue. They have also been authorized to borrow $2,000 for the purchase of office equipment and furnishings.

LET'S GET NEWSY

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Bradley travelled to Spokane over the weekend.

Five members of the Summerland Faith Rebekah Lodge No. 32 travelled to Kelowna on April 5th to attend the Okanagan Rebekah Okanagan District Association meeting. Those attending were: Mrs. E. L. Gillespie, official delegate from Faith 32; Mrs. T. MacDonald, Mrs. Ella Chamberlain, Mrs. Fred Downes and Mrs. Ina Atkinson.

Collectorship Goes to Mr. K. S. Hogg

The dual position of municipal collector of rates and taxes and accountant made vacant last month by granting to collector Nixon leave of absence so that he might enlist has been filled by the appointment of Mr. K. S. Hogg. Though no invitations for applications had been advertised there were four letters from citizens asking for the appointment when the Council met in extra session last Friday afternoon.

The Clerk was instructed to notify Mr. Hogg of his appointment and to request that he be at the office a week before the end of the month when Mr. Nixon's duties terminate. The salary was fixed at $100, being $25 a month less than is being paid at present.

Some Summerland Military Officers

In an enumeration of the officers of the 11th Canadian Mounted Rifles given in a recent issue of a Victoria paper, the following paragraphs relating to officers from Summerland will be of interest:

"Major E. E. Hutton, second in command, South Africa, 1900, 1902; command Compton's Horse, and subsequently second in command 36th Battalion Imperial Yeomanry; Queen's medal and five clasps".

"Lieut. T. E. Pares, 1903-1908, Cape Mounted Rifles."

A. E. Nelson, who enlisted from Summerland into this regiment last summer has been certified as a sergeant, thus confirming a provisional appointment made some time ago.

40 YEARS AGO

Lowest rate in Okanagan Valley with Reduction in Assessment is Announced

Struck at Thirty Mills with Ten per cent reduction in assessment — No tax improvements — Municipality in excellent financial situation — Penticton rate is forty-six mills with tax on improvements.

The lowest tax rate in the Okanagan Valley and probably the lowest in the Interior of British Columbia will be applied on taxable property in Summerland municipality this year. The tax rate has been struck at thirty mills, together with a ten percent mills below the rate last year. The rate even reduction in assessment. This is a cut of four then was considered low; the rate in every municipality in the Valley being higher.

Taxes on improvements have been imposed by many municipalities and is the policy in Penticton. In Summerland, however, it is felt that such a tax proves an injustice. The man who improves his property, helping Summerland thereby, should not have to pay an additional tax. This, at any rate, is the opinion voiced by many residents. Fortunately, the municipality is in good financial condition, that the taxing of improvements does not even have to be taken into consideration.

Tax rates for 1925 in the Okanagan Valley placed Summerland in the most favorable position of all. Following is the list: Kelowna, 40; Vernon, 40; Peachland, 38; Penticton, 45, and Summerland, 34. This year the tax rate in Penticton is 46 mills, with a twenty percent tax on improvements.

The excellent financial condition of the municipality should be the means of attracting more settlers to this district.

Thumb-nail sketches by Queen candidates at 'April showers'

The Summerland Royalty Committee met Tuesday, April 5 and again April 11th to plan the forthcoming "April Showers" to be held in the school Auditorium, Friday April 29th.

This is a variety show with several local groups taking part. "Thumb-nail Sketches" is the name given to the part the Queen Candidates will take in the evening.

The theme this year is "Good Citizens" and should prove very interesting to all.

The show will be short and snappy, lasting just over one hour.

The Penalty Box

By Rev. Frank W. Haskins
Whoever devised the use of the penalty box for hockey did a wise thing. It has saved the game from becoming chaotic. Whether it is in sports or other phases of our complicated existence, infractions of rules is something which simply cannot be ignored without dire consequences.

In sports, the referee or umpire should deal impartially with those who break the rules. The same is true of laws which govern business and our way of life for those who dispense justice cannot overlook the consequence of broken rules or laws.

In social life, it is expected that when one person offends by breaking the rules of good behaviour that he should apologize and be forgiven. We are free to forgive the errors of others in our social life. We, unlike hapless referees, have the right to forgive those who offend us and we do not need to wave them off to a penalty box.

The right to forgive others graciously, helps make life pleasant and puts us in the way of being able to get along with others. "It must needs be that offences come," said Jesus who taught that "If ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you." Forgiveness for wrong doing is a central doctrine of the Christian faith. We have the example of Christ who prayed for his enemies: "Father, forgive them, they know not what they do." God is the Creator and those who do wrong can find forgiveness. John gives this promise: "If we confess our sins, he is faithfully and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness."

St. Stephen's W.A. busy on project

Plans are well in hand for St. Stephen's W.A. second annual Nearly-new Sale to be held at the Parish Hall, Saturday, from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Clothing will be featured for all members of the family as well as household items.

Also featured will be a sale of garden and home plants. Mrs. E. C. Bingham will be in charge.

Mrs. Matt Graham and Mrs. J. B. Roe are convening the Nearly New Sale.

The W. A. will also be putting on another bridge luncheon Thursday, April 21 at 1:00 o'clock and convenor for this event is Mrs. Wilford G. Evans.

WCTU annual meeting wants compulsory breathalyzer tests

The District Convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union was held in Vernon April 5 attended by approximately 28 members and delegates, with a few visitors attending from Kamloops, Kelowna, Summerland, Penticton and Vernon.

Special speaker for the day was Mrs. G. A. Fretwell, second National vice-president. Mrs. J. Reeves, president was in the chair, also shared by 1st and 2nd vice-presidents.

The year's work was reviewed in the form of a press report, which was interesting. Each local showed an increase in membership over last year, films were shown in a number of schools on alcohol, smoking and narcotics, and its effect on the individual. Highlight of the morning was when the special speaker, gave a very interesting and informative talk, on some of the resolutions that have gone in to government, and what is still being worked on. Mrs. Fretwell also spoke at the luncheon hour, some of the highlights of her talk were as follows:

To commend the B. C. government for using the breathalyzer, but would like to see it compulsory, for safety measures.

Alcohol is involved in 40% of highway accidents — B. C. was second highest in Canada, in 1965, as deaths increased from 393 to 500.

A recent press report stated that one out of ten births last year were illegitimate, unwed mothers 15-19 years.

Mrs. Fretwell spoke of an abstinens insurance that they have in Alberta and that it might be well to have such an insurance in B. C.

WCTU motto is "For God and Home and every Land". There are now 27 departments of work and it's a world-wide organization in 70 different countries and 5900 members in Canada. The greatest weapon today should be the church. Today the world challenges the church to solve social and economic problems and prove its worth. "The liquor traffic if it could; the church could destroy the liquor traffic if it would." (Quote from Francis Willard, founder of WCTU).

Officers elected for the coming year for the Kamloops-Okanagan district were: Mrs. G. A. Fretwell, president, Canoe, B.C.; Mrs. R. Smith, 1st vice-president, Kelowna; Mrs. H. E. Woodrow, 2nd vice-president, Kamloops; Mrs. D. Clarke, 3rd vice-president, Penticton; Mrs. H. DeWitt, corresponding and recording secretary, Summerland; Mrs. D. C. Miller, treasurer, Kamloops.

Centennial contribution made towards Hydroplane races

Inland Natural Gas Co. Ltd., will contribute $10,000 toward the British Columbia Cup unlimited hydroplane races on Lake Okanagan July 13-17.

John A. McMahon, president of Inland, made the announcement March 30.

Inland is doing this as a Centennial public service gesture to its customers and to the interior B. C. areas it serves.

The races — the first of their kind in Canada — are expected to draw 100,000 persons to the interior during the five-day period.

The British Columbia Cup, sponsored by the B. C. Centennial Committee and the Kelowna Boat Racing Association, will attract all of the world's top unlimited hydroplanes.

These "thunderboats," as they are known, are from 28 to 33 feet long and weigh up to five tons. They are the largest gasoline-powered water racing craft in the world and regularly attain speeds of 180 miles per hour and beyond.

The Kelowna races, which will be held over a 2.5 mile course, are the only ones scheduled for outside the U. S. this year. At least 15 world-class unlimiteds will be on hand for this spectacular highlight of B. C.'s Centennial celebrations. Largest contribution toward the $50,000 production is $20,000 from the B. C. Centennial Committee.

Inland feels the races will focus a lot of attention on the C. The company services an estimated 30,000 homes, hospitals, schools, commercial and industrial users over a distance of 800 miles from Hudson Hope to Nelson.

Visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brennan, was Tom Brennan of Vancouver, for the weekend.

Visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Reid for the Easter weekend was their son, Bob of Vancouver.

Stamp to be issued May 26

The London Conference convened in the British Capital on the 4th December, 1866, third and final major assembly leading to Confederation, will be commemorated by the Canada Post Office with a postage stamp to be issued on the 26th May, 1966, Postmaster General Jean-Pierre Cote announced.

Of the five-cent denomination, the stamp will be horizontal in format and produced in tones of brown. It was designed by Paul Pederson of Bridgens Winnipeg Limited, the Postmaster General said.

Prominent in the design are delegates who, at the historic event one hundred years ago, included John A. Macdonald, Georges Etienne, Charles Tupper and Samuel Leonard Tilley, all eventually knighted for services to their country. To the left the stamp pictures the House of Commons area skyline on the far side of the River Thames in London.

Weeks of negotiations at the London Conference resulted in final agreement on the British North America Act, later to be approved by the British Government and given Royal Assent by Queen Victoria on the 29th March 1867.

The London Conference stamp has been steel line intaglio engraved by the Canadian Bank Note Company, Ottawa, whose facilities will be used to produce twenty-four million of the issue.

Peachland W.I. mark anniversary

PEACHLAND — Honoured guests at the 53rd Birthday Meeting of Peachlands Women's Institute on Wednesday April 6th, at the home of Mrs. W. Wilson, were Mrs. W. D. Mille, charter member, and Mrs. A. MacKay who has been a W.I. member since 1921. Two beautiful corsages were presented to these ladies by Mrs. L. B. Fulks and Mrs. W. Wilson on behalf of the W.I.

Mrs. L. Ayres who was in the chair in the absence of the president Mrs. K. Domi called the meeting to order and welcomed all guests and members, all present to answer the roll by stating their date of birth and year . . . if they so wished.

An invitation was read from the Westbank W.I. inviting members to attend their 38th birthday party to be held on the 19th of this month. Some members from here will attend.

A letter was read from the Cancer Institute asking the W. I. if they would arrange a drive again as in other years. Mrs. W. A. Selwyn was appointed the chairman of this drive.

The W.I. District Conference will be held Friday, May 6. The president will be asked to attend if possible. Otherwise another delegate will be found.

Mrs. J. Hinter was appointed as delegate to the W. I. bi-annual provincial convention in Vancouver to be held June 5 to 9.

Mr. J. Wilds is to be approached to take care of the cenotaph for another year. This is one of the many services that the W. I. in Peachland looks after and pays for each year.

Mrs. Ayres announced that Turveys in Kelowna had donated a set of T.V. tables and arranged for a draw to be held for these, in aid of the Peachland Community Fall Fair committee sponsored by the W. I. Conveners were appointed and arrangements made to invite all Peachland senior citizens to a tea, which is to be held on Friday, April 22 at 3:00 o'clock in the Athletic Hall.

The annual spring flower show came up for discussion. This year the W.I. will go back to the usual show with all classes, and trophies given, and possibly an art show held in conjunction. Date was set for June 10th in the Athletic Hall. More arrangements will be made at the next meeting.

As the next meeting is the agricultural one when plants are exchanged by members, it was decided to invite a speaker who will speak on the care of gardens. The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. W. Selwyn, at 2:30 p.m. on May 13th.

Mrs. Ayres then introduced Dr. Edith Wells of Peachland who spoke on her stay in Jamaica in 1961. Dr. Wells was director of B. C. Secondary School Correspondence Courses in Victoria for 26 years. She told of how she was invited by the minister of education in Jamaica to set up correspondence school courses in Kingston. This being made possible by a grant from the Ford Foundation. She related some of the trials that occurred with customs on her arrival. Her description of housekeeping complete with white ants and a house lizard, in a house with glass louvers and iron bars instead of the usual windows, were very amusing.

On the education side of her stay she told of 35,000 students who leave grade schools every year with no secondary schools available to carry on their education. Only 80 students enrolled the first year in the correspondence courses when these were made available, although this was thought quite good in some circles. Jamaican people are quite slow to take on new ways, and seven years was thought needed, to get an idea to be general practice.

Mrs. Ayres thanked Dr. Wells for a very entertaining talk, and hoped she would come to speak again on the same subject.

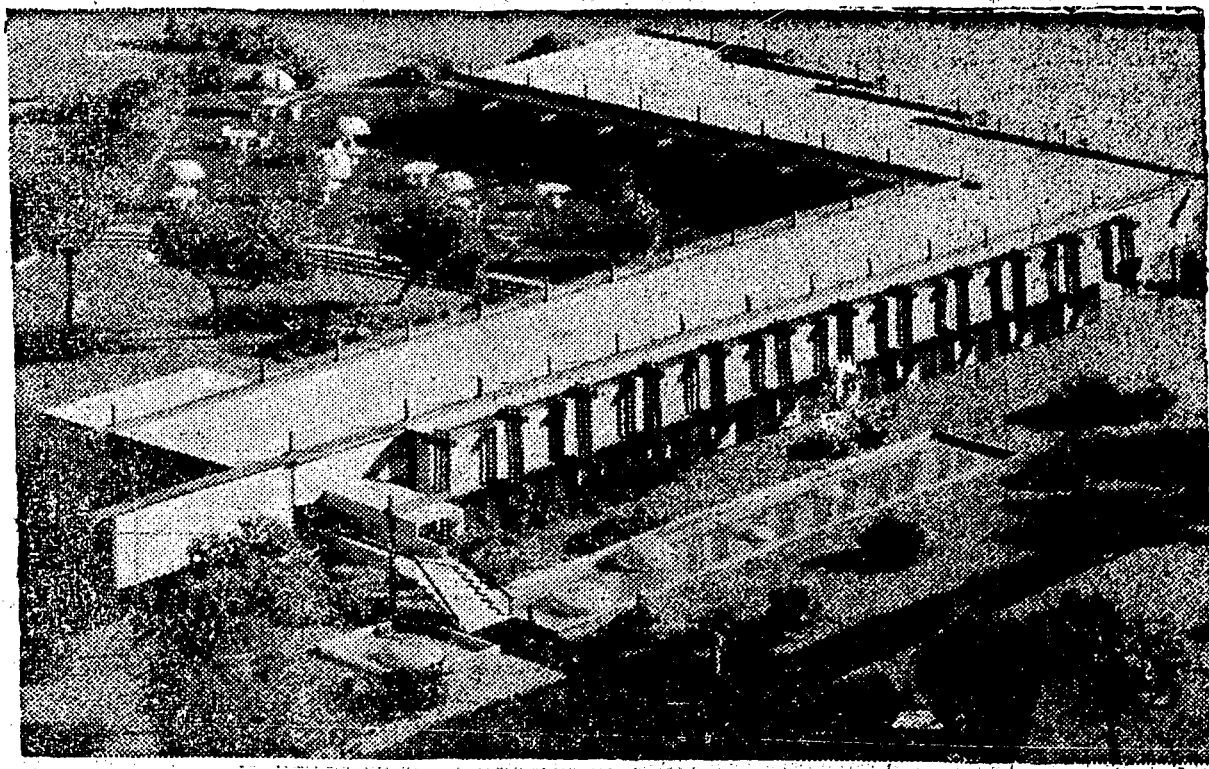

The birthday cake was then cut by the two senior members, and all enjoyed the delicious refreshments, served by the hostesses Mrs. J. Hinter and Mrs. H. MacNeil.

Westbank man to stand trial

KELOWNA — Donald Abel, 78-year-old Westbank man, was committed for trial last week on a charge of non-capital murder after a hearing lasting more than two days.

He appeared before Magistrate G. S. Denroche.

Abel was accused in the slaying of his son, Fritz, aged 32, who was found shot Feb. 6 on the Westbank Reserve.

During the preliminary hearing, Const. R. J. Grunert identified felt wads and pellets as having been removed from the chest cavity of the victim.

Peachland Legion probes methods of raising Centennial funds

by Brenda Davies

PEACHLAND — Pres. J. R. Davies welcomed a new member, R. Huva of Westbank, Monday night at the monthly meeting of Branch 69, Royal Canadian Legion, Peachland. The first business under discussion was the raising of the branch quota for the Legion Centennial fund project. 67 various suggestions were put forth by members as to how this money could be raised, and more will be done about this at the next meeting.

A committee was formed to look after membership cards which have not yet been picked up by members. J. R. Davies will head the committee in Peachland and A. M. Thompson in Westbank.

The dance committee, appointed last meeting, started making plans for the W. E. Dance that is to be held May 6th. A committee consisting of L. Bowdon, T. McLaughlan, E. Christolm and H. Thwaite will take charge of Family night at the end of the month. The next meeting will be held on May 2nd.

KC's planning mammoth bingo

Tickets go on sale today for the largest bingo game ever held in the interior of the province. Casey has launched the mammoth telephone bingo which will be played on May 7 with a total of $20,000 in cash to be given away on that same evening.

A special broadcast circuit has been arranged to connect Kelowna, Vernon, Penticton, Kamloops and Salmon Arm into one gigantic arena. Numbers for the game, to be called at one central location, will be relayed over the circuit to all five centres simultaneously. This will permit the playing of the game just as if all participants were in one hall.

A total of 16 games will be played. Each of the first 15 games will offer a $1,000 cash prize. The final game will be for $5,000 cash. All games will be blackouts and in case of a tie the prize money will be divided equally.

Admission cards to the game are now on sale in your community at stores displaying the Casey Bingo sign. The admission charge is $2 which will be good for a bingo card to play all 16 games. Extra cards will be sold in the hall for $1 each. As space is limited the advance sale of admission tickets is to insure those planning to play a seat.

All proceeds from Casey Bingo are earmarked for charity.

Mr. and Mrs. Les Rumball and son Kevin, spent the weekend in Trail.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Beulah of Victoria visited their son and daughter-in-law over the holidays.

A WORD TO WISE MOTHERS

Every mother wants her child to have the lifetime advantages of a university education. Yet one year of college could cost as much as $1,500.

By saving with permanent life insurance you and your husband can use policy cash equities to meet this expense. If later you decide to pay education costs out of current income, these funds can accumulate for your retirement.

Most important, your insurance guarantees complete financial coverage for education in case your husband dies prematurely. To learn more about our College Savings Program, just call your Manufacturers Life Man.

High honour for Summerland Scouts

224 Queen's Scouts will receive their Queen's Scout parchment from His Honour G. R. Pearkes, Lieutenant-Governor for British Columbia in a colourful ceremony to be held at Government House this afternoon.

Queen Scouts from the mainland areas of British Columbia will gather together in Vancouver arriving April 13 where they will be billeted in the homes of Queen's Scouts in Burnaby and Vancouver area. On Thursday, the Queen's Scouts will go by bus and ferry to Victoria attending a luncheon sponsored by the Honorary Vice-President of the Provincial Council, Honourable Frank M. Ross.

Parents of the boys have been invited to the Presentation Ceremony which will take place at Government House at 2:30 P.M. on Thursday, following which the boys will tour the Navy establishment at Esquimalt arriving back in Vancouver on the evening of April 14th.

Queen's Scouts from outside the lower mainland will remain as guests in the homes of parents and friends of local scouts until the morning of the 16th when they will leave for their homes.

Two members of the 1st Summerland troop will be included with this group. They are Allen Heinrichs and Howard Wiens.

Tom Jomori has returned from a trip to Edmonton and Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lloyd spent the weekend in Vancouver with their family. It was a cold tour of Stanley Park Monday according to Ed.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack McLaren of Bowden, Alberta are spending some time at the Bergh home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Toves spent the Easter weekend in Calgary.

Dr. H. L. Keenlyside, B.C. Hydro Chairman, was on hand for the diversion of the Duncan River through two 20 foot diameter tunnels at Duncan damsite recently. Low water in the river produced only a trickle but when spring floods occur in May a torrent will pour through these two 1,000 foot-long structures. Duncan Dam, scheduled for completion in 1968, is now more than half its ultimate height of 130 feet.

Gonzaga Choir here tonight for concert

The Gonzaga University Concert Choir with a mixed group of 40 to 45 voices, will present a concert in the MacDonald School Auditorium, April 14 at 8:00 p.m.

The choir has gained considerable prominence and has appeared before high school and adult audiences in all of the Northwest states. It was recently selected to appear for the Washington Music Educators conference and in '65 performed over a nation-wide NBC radio series.

Robert Cook, conductor of the Concert Choir, has had more than 20 years of experience in all areas of Music Education and has done considerable work as a guest conductor.

The Gonzaga Choir was organized as a tour group in September, 1962. Its membership consists of approximately 40 vocalists selected by competitive auditions from a student body of over 2,000 students from various schools and departments throughout the University. A large percentage of the membership is currently studying voice, piano or other music subjects and many members are music majors.

In addition to the Concert Choir, Gonzaga University music organizations include the Concert Band, a pep band, a small symphony orchestra, the University Chorus and various small ensembles. One of the highlights of the musical calendar at Gonzaga is the annual production of a Broadway musical. In past years "Oklahoma", "South Pacific", "Music Man", "Kiss Me Kate", and "The King and I" have been successfully staged and have received high praise from the public and the press. This year "Carousel" was presented to "standing room only" audiences totalling over 7,000. This presentation was given a standing ovation at four of its five performances.

Gonzaga University is a co-educational Catholic University conducted by the Society of Jesus (Jesuit Fathers). It is open to students of all faiths. Its 47 acre campus located in Spokane, Wash., is a rapidly growing complex which includes several new student dormitories, a new student union building, the Crosby Memorial Library, and Hughes Hall, a completely modern chemistry building. The John F. Kennedy Athletic Pavilion has just been completed and was dedicated in November, 1965 with Senator Edward Kennedy as guest of honor.

The Gonzaga University undergraduate degree programs include the Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) with a music major and the Bachelor of Music Education (B.M.E.) with certification in the State of Washington. The Masters degree program in Education is also offered with a major in music. Music Scholarship auditions are held each year in major cities of the Northwest. High school seniors who are interested in making application should do so by contacting the Music Department prior to December 15th of their senior year. Scholarships are awarded to students of outstanding ability in the field of music but are not limited to those who wish to major in this area.

Impeasa Imps from Trout Creek

By J. M. McArthur, Cubmaster

It is obvious that the Pack tempo is picking up. Last week we made bird houses from milk cartons and most boys have them up. We have one report of swallows moving in and one of blackbirds (red winged?) Of course house sparrows are accepting them.

A number of boys have completed their road maps. They are Allan Clark, Melvin Zachary, Ian McIntosh, Dennis Stevenson, Kevin Prokopenko, Robin Bellevue and Alvin Stevenson. However, several have not finished theirs. Rodney Embree turned in a code, quite complicated. There is a code based on semaphore in the old Cub handbook. It would be an advantage as others could read it.

No one has used invisible ink. There are several that can be made from ordinary household items.

Alan Clark turned in a knotting board.

At the April 6 meeting Don Karlson gave a talk on astronomy. He showed the light gathering elements of both refracting and reflecting telescopes. He told of various types of stars and galaxies. The questions from the boys showed a surprising knowledge of space and even some knowledge of Einsteins theory of relativity. Later we went outside and Mr. Karlson pointed out some interesting stars and constellations on the move.

A new monthly competition has started. The scores are Black 20, Red 22 and Yellow 31. The Yellow six has pulled ahead on Star tests. They got two-thirds of their score in this way.

LET'S GET NEWSY . . .

AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Chairman and Members, Board of School Trustees of School District No. 77 (Summerland)

We have examined the balance sheet of School District No. 77 (Summerland) as at December 31, 1965 and the statement of revenue and expenditure for the year ended on that date. Our examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of accounting records and other supporting evidence as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion the accompanying balance sheet and statement of revenue and expenditure present fairly the financial position of the District as at December 31, 1965 and the results of its operations for the year ended on that date, in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

The Corporation of The District of Summerland PUBLIC NOTICE

Re: Zoning By-law No. 1016

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that a Public Hearing will be held in the Municipal Office, Summerland, B.C. at 8:00 p.m. on Tuesday, April 26th, 1966, on proposed amendments to the Zoning By-law:—

(1) That Parts of Blocks 59 and 60, Map 287A as shown on Plan B4221, being parts of the southerly portions of said Blocks as shown on Plan B1184, be rezoned from R-2, Single and Two Family Residential to C-1, Central Commercial Zone.

All persons whose property will be affected by such Zoning By-law may appear in person or by Attorney or by Petitioner. A copy of proposed By-law No. 1086 and plans may be seen at the Municipal Office.

Dated at Summerland, B.C. this 7th day of April, 1966.

G. D. Smith,
Municipal Clerk.

Gordon Griffin re-elected Recreation Commission head

By DOROTHY H. GELLATLY
WESTBANK — Additional directors were elected to the joint Recreation Commission and Community Association at the annual meeting last week, with Gordon Griffin continuing serving chairman. Volunteering to serve a second term as secretary was Mrs. H. C. Murray, and re-appointed treasurer is Mrs. Belva Rimby, through whom the hall may be booked by organizations and individuals.

Re-elected as directors were V. E. Norman, Derek Parkes, Laurence Whitehead, Henry Paulson P. G. Miller, Mrs. A. L. Currie, Mrs. Alex Windt, Jr. and Mrs. Clarence Fretton. Additional directors appointed are Laurence Kneller, Mrs. F. Oshi and Mrs. Herman Kneller.

Highlight of work done in the Community Hall during the past season was installation of the oil-furnace which has proved a boon to all using the hall. Mrs. H. O. Paynter voiced the thanks of the Badminton Club for this facility as well as for financial help given by the Recreation Commission, and Mr. Parkes echoed these sentiments on behalf of Westbank Club and Scout troops.

Mr. Parkes sought information concerning regional zoning as proposed for this and other valley regions, and also inquired concerning care of the local cemetery. In the case of the latter, a cleanup day is being organized for Saturday, April 16, from 9 a.m., and all others in the community that plans for zoning should be made known to the public before any proposed vote on the matter is taken.

Mrs. Murray, Mrs. Currie and Mr. Paulson attended the recent Okanagan-Similkameen - Boundary Recreation Commission's annual meeting in Penticton, and reporting on this session told of support given the various resolutions, including one concerning placing of necessary buoys and markers at swimming areas on the lake.

SWIM INSTRUCTOR APPOINTED
Plans for summer activities are underway, with Mrs. Currie in charge of swimming activities, which includes Red Cross swimming classes, for which Westbank will have as head instructor, Miss Esther Gorman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Gorman. A second instructor will be appointed at a later date.

The area adjoining the Community Hall will be sown to grass for use as a playground this summer, and the meeting was told that arrangements to deposit the title-deed and other papers belonging to the Community Hall in the bank for safe-keeping, have been made.

It is Mrs. Parkes' opinion, and also the opinion of many interested are invited to come and help and bring shovels, rakes, rototillers and so on, if available. This clean-up day is being sponsored by the Community Association and Mrs. H. Kneller is the moving spirit.

BRIDGE RESULTS

It was Master Point night at the duplicate bridge club on Monday with nine tables in play. The results were as follows:

North-South — 1. D. Phelps, Kelowna and W. Hepperle, 2nd J. Lockie and B. Berry; 3rd J. Garraway and W. Evans; 4th G. Hepperle and E. Hall tied with V. Andrew and A. McClymont of Kelowna.

East-West — 1st R. Thomas and R. Stewart, Kelowna; 2nd P. MacRae and M. Berry; 3rd I. Gartrell and C. Eisey; 4th H. Haldane and R. Buchanan, Kelowna.

COUNCIL

The Summerland Hospital Auxiliary asked permission to use the basement of the Health Centre during Tag Day, May 14. This was granted.

Works Superintendent Ken Blagborne and John Graham will attend a Turfgrass Workshop in Penticton on May 18.

Because there had been only two office working days since the last council meeting, the accounts payable were not prepared. This caused council some concern as they felt the cheques should go out on time.

Clerk Gordon Smith said they would have them ready by Thursday so council will hold a special meeting this afternoon to approve them.

Temporary permits will be issued on a three-month basis to people wishing to park their trailers on lots where they are building homes. They must put their septic tanks in first and hook their trailers up if their units are not self-contained. They must have a valid building permit as well. An additional three-month extension may be allowed where necessary.

In order to service the Benneft subdivision with water, the present two-inch line will have to be increased to four inches. It would be possible to install another 2" line at a cost of $833 while the 4" costs $1332. It was decided to replace the present 2" line with the 4" but only charge Mr. Benneft the cost of the smaller pipe.

In the past, the municipality has been connecting temporary power to new construction at no charge. It was decided a nominal fee of $15.00 should be made. This is the bare cost.

Valley concerts to feature Vancouver, Okanagan orchestras

A rare musical experience is in store for residents of the Okanagan Valley when the Okanagan Valley Symphony Orchestra will bring its talents with the Vancouver Metropolitan Orchestra to bring to the Valley the Spring Concert Series in Penticton, Vernon and Kelowna.

This impressive aggregate of musicians, numbering over 70, will perform in the Penticton High School Auditorium, Sunday, April 24, at 2:30, under the direction of C. P. Leonard Camplin, well known throughout the valley. Assisting him in conducting will be Miss Annette Coates and Mr. Helmut Hoebig who plays viola with the Metropolitan Orchestra, an assemblage of top-ranking amateur players. Miss Coates has long been associated with orchestral music having organized and conducted the Vancouver Ladies Concert Orchestra some years ago. This was the only group of its kind west of Toronto.

A warm welcome also awaits guest artists Ernst Friedlander, principal cellist with the Vancouver Symphony Orchestra, and an artist and composer well known in North American musical circles. Mr. Friedlander will perform the Dvorak Cello Concerto in B Minor, Opus 104, a work of great technical difficulty, with ten during Dvorak's stay in America. The Concerto, as a result, includes a great deal of music which stems from American folk sources, and displays a rhapsodic feeling from the sombre to the exhilarating.

Among other works on the program are the Overture to Oberon by Carl Maria von Weber, Edvard Grieg's "The Last Spring" and Benjamin Bitten's "Soirees Musicales", taken from the melodies of Rossini.

This program has been selected to appeal to a wide variety of musical tastes and as recent audiences have shown, the Okanagan Valley Symphony Orchestra is gaining ever increasing community support, not only from its loyal patrons through the years but from a comparatively new group of listeners who have found real enjoyment in good symphonic music.

Visitors for the week at the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Brown, and Tony and Rickie Wakefield.

TEEN PULSE

By GORDON STENNER

Gordon Stenner seeks to help meet the problems and frustrations of modern youth. If you have a question or problem write to him c/o THE REVIEW QUESTION: I think the Bible has all kinds of contradictions. What do you think?

An English professor once said to me "Gordy, why do you always use the Bible as if it's THE AUTHORITY in life?" He continued "It's full of mistakes!" "Thanking him for his 'question?' I said, "Fine, can you name ONE?" He answered, "Well, not off the bat". I continued, "Have you ever studied the Bible?" He paused for a moment, then hesitatingly replied "No, I can't honestly say that I have".

Then I said, "What would you think to me sitting in your Shakespeare class stating that Shakespeare was full of mistakes?" "Well," he answered, "I would ask you which mistakes they were." Then I said, "Supposing I told you I had never read Shakespeare, what would you think then?" The professor returned "I would strongly suggest your need of mental care!"

And yet, this university professor used this SAME procedure to cut the Bible up in little pieces, which was neither logical, reasonable or honest!

If the Bible has one single error it must take its place beside Aesop's fables. Written thousands of years ago while man lived in dread of dragons and myths, the Bible precisely declared the science of all creation that must now stand the closest 20th Century scrutiny.

In any age when the plains of Eurasia only knew the pillaging of nomadic tribes, the Bible confidently foretold the rise and fall of future empires. It declared to all mankind HOW he happened, WHY he existed, and wherein lay his destiny.

The Bible assumes FOREKNOWLEDGE as it reaches into every field of human understanding, a few of these being Geology, Astronomy, Biology, Zoology, Physiology, History. JUST ONE MISTAKE, and its claim of supernatural inspiration vanishes! ONLY ONE misguided prophecy, but one false scientific assumption, and it crumbles into mortality.

When you consider the great writings of the Egyptians, Babylonians, Greeks and Romans, how they are saturated with mythology, superstition, and fantasy replete with scientific blunders, surely it is impossible the Bible could escape without error? STILL, IT STANDS WITHOUT A SINGLE PROVEN ERROR AFTER 34 CENTURIES OF SCHOLARSHIP!!

What odds would you give that a series of 66 books, written over a period of 1600 years, by over 40 authors, educated, uneducated, Kings, peasants, and writing from as far away as Babylon in Asia to Rome in Europe could be selected that would not contain a single error or a single proven contradiction?

To what extent would you increase the odds if these books were drawn from three different continents and written in three separate languages? If you didn't know I was talking about the Bible you'd figure it was like taking candy from a baby!

Educational television discussed by school board

The grounds committee of the Summerland School Board reported good progress in their department since last meeting. The newly acquired Dunham property has been plowed, ditched and was ready for the final levelling process by last week's meeting, and much of the grounds at the MacDonald and secondary schools was seeded or was ready to plant.

The Trout Creek grounds have had all the necessary fill including topsoil and it was expected that levelling and rolling would be done very soon.

Concern was expressed regarding the condition of the parking area in front of the secondary school and board office. Although it was not considered in the budget, it is hoped that there will be sufficient left after this year's program is finished to make some improvements here. There is a danger of run-off water going into the building.

A change order was approved in the industrial education shop. These improvements were recommended by Mr. Smith, Inspector of that department.

The building committee recommended renovations in the secondary school which would cost $2,700. They involve the general office, staff room, lab storage and cooking room.

Mr. D. G. McMurray and Mrs. M. Davies will be given leave of absence on April 29 so they may write university exams at U.B.C.

A letter of appreciation was received from Mrs. Marion Bouey for the flowers the board sent her while she was in the hospital.

She is now home and will resume teaching duties after Easter.

A request from television interests to attend a conference April 23 in Kamloops was received.

The purpose of the meeting was to discuss educational television which is being proposed for 25 school districts in this part of the province and it was the understanding of the board that some kind of a decision would have to be reached.

The board agreed with advice from the Okanagan Teachers Federation in that there was a possibility educational T.V. was being pushed rather fast.

In view of the fact the board was not ready to make a n y commitment, they decided they would not send a representative but invite television officials to a meeting here or in Pentiction when all board members and principals may be in attendance.

"This type of education has potential and I do not suggest you do not participate, but we should not make decisions too quickly," Superintendent Gordon Paton suggested.

In a survey in North Vancouver with ETV, it was found, much to the amazement of all, that it does not decrease the number of teachers necessary. After the survey they did not come to the definite conclusion that the new method was better than the one presently being used. Trustee Dr. Miltimore said we must be interested in what our children would receive out of it first and then weigh the cost.

Mr. Paton was enthusiastic about the potential of educational TV and "if we go into it we should use it to the very best advantage we can."

The Summerland Scouts are holding apple day April 23 and they were given permission to use the entrance of the school as their distribution point.

Contractors plan to have school additions complete by May 15 and the Board office ready to move in to by May 1. All facilities will be used before this term is up.

Previous to any part being used the architect will go through it with the contractor, noting what has or has not been completed to mutual satisfaction and action will be taken accordingly.

This is a copy of the architects drawing of Peachland's Centennial project (see story on page 5). It will be seen by all travellers through the town and will no doubt stop many who wish to take in the beautiful view of Lake Okanagan it will offer. The park will extend out into the lake somewhat, so Centennial officials are anxious to get on with the job before the water rises. The park will be enclosed in cement retaining wall.

Council doesn't agree on opening of lane

The Summerland Council held a special meeting on April 14 to authorize the payment of $92,124.94, representing the March accounts.

At their regular meeting on Tuesday night, they rejected all tenders to purchase the 100 ft. of lake property at Peach Orchard.

Schori - Gedig had the high est bid of $7,200 but wished to have it re-zoned for a motel. The Health Department had told council last week there was not enough room on the property for sewage disposal. They informed the gentlemen of this and invited them to confer with health officials to see if something could be worked out.

They telephoned council during their Tuesday meeting informing them they are withdrawing their tender because, apparently, they would not be able to build their motel.

Two other tenders were received for 6,100 and $6,500, but they were rejected because after some discussion, it was felt the property was worth more. They will contact local real estate firms and dispose of the property in that manner.

Municipal Assessor J. Sheeley set the value between $10,000 and $11,000.

Joe Akitt, chairman of the Summerland Industrial Development Board and Howard Pruden, Chamber of Commerce industrial chairman attended Okanagan Day in Vancouver Wednesday.

The day was sponsored by the Okanagan Regional Industrial Development Council and will confer with a selected group of possible developers in the Okanagan.

Mrs. L. Lopatecki and Mrs. Parsons, on behalf of the Recreation Committee, urged the council to participate in constructing shuffle board courts at the Memorial Park.

Mrs. Lopatecki said they have become very common in Western Canada and many tourists seek them in their travels.

As a result of local advertising, 40 people indicated they would be interested in it and she knew they could double that number.

Two courts were suggested. Each court is 52' by 6', with a concrete base.

Reeve Holmes was concerned about the care of discs and cues and suggested the Recreation Committee form an organization to take over this responsibility.

It will be referred to the Parks Committee.

Mrs. Lopatecki suggested it be open to the public and not be available to club members only.

A car wash to be built by Mr. McPherson was given authority to go ahead, but there was one written objection. It will be located on the corner across from L. A. Smith.

Mrs. Louise Hunt who owns a duplex adjoining the property said she fears the noise it will produce and that it would depreciate her property.

She said it would cause more traffic which would endanger school children but felt it wouldn't last and would become run-down and eventually become an eye sore.

The location is zoned I-1 industrial so council found no objection with the application. Mr. McPherson agreed to conform with council requests in construction as far as set backs were concerned and would comply with all regulations.

Council accepted the school budget as presented. It took the new grant structure into consideration, bringing the increase to two mills. This is much less than anticipated. (See story on this page.)

A petition signed by Hunters and Growers, neighbors of David Jones, who has requested the lane behind his property be opened, objected to such action.

They felt that if it were opened it would become a dead end lane and feared it would become a parking area for trucks and equipment.

Councillor Barkwill and Hill had inspected the property and agreed with Mr. Jones and suggested that if he cut the four trees down and clean up the brush, the municipality should clean out the stumps and put shale in.

Lawyer Frank Haar, at the request of the Reeve, informed council they were not required to open the lane if they did not see fit to do so.

Councillor Schaeffer and Reeve Holmes agreed it would deteriorate the value of the whole corner.

Although Holmes and Ken Blagborne did not agree, Hill and Barkwill said he could not get to the back of his property from his front entrance.

Hill said he bought the property thinking he could have the lane opened in the future.

Councillor Powell was the only one who had not been over to take a look at the situation and would not vote on any decision until he did, so it was held over until next week.

There will be no problem with the amount of irrigation water available this year according to Works Superintendent Blagborne, but there may be less run-off due to the ground being so dry.

"I would say the snow pack is about at the 20-year average", he said, "but due to the dry ground there will be more taken up for a build-up before the flow".

Frost damage not general

District Horticulturist Alex Watt told the Review Tuesday afternoon, the frost damage was not too great up to that time, but we are not out of the woods yet.

He said the only crop significantly damaged by recent frost are the cherries. This too depends on the location of the orchards. Some have been hurt considerably and others were not affected.

There has been some thinning of blossoms on such fruit as peaches and Delicious apples. Many King buds have been damaged, however some had not been hit.

"The frost danger period is not over", Mr. Watt said. "There is always a possibility of frost until May 24."

Cancer Blitz in Peachland April 26

PEACHLAND — The Cancer campaign of Peachland will get underway with a blitz on Tuesday night, April 26. Mrs. Wm. Selwyn, campaign chairman announced that canvassers will cover all areas from Deep Creek to Tropanier and residents are asked to leave their porchlights on.

United Church Women complete Quilts, layettes for missions

The quarterly General Meeting of the United Church Women was held Monday evening, April 18, in the Church Hall with the president, Mrs. J. Mayne, in the chair.

A feature of the evening was the dedication of the 65 quilts and the completed layettes and knitted articles that have been turned in for Mission work. Mrs. A. McKenzie, supply secretary, also reported that 11 quilts and several articles of clothing had already been sent to a Mission field in response to an urgent request.

An invitation was extended to all ladies to attend the Kamloops-Chanagan Presbyterian to be held in Penticton, United Church, April 27, from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Several Units are co-operating for a Tea on May 7th, at which there will be several unusual features, including a Penny Auction and a Plant Sale. After the items of business had been dealt with, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey showed some fine slides of the Bella Coola area which is served by the United Church Hospital, and also took the audience on a trip to Death Valley, Calif. The evening closed with refreshments served by the Federation

School mill rate will only increase two mills

The announcement by Education Minister, L. R. Peterson last week was good news for Summerland taxpayers. Secretary J. B. Hack had previously estimated the increase in the school mill rate to be somewhere between 6 and 4 mills, but as a result of increased provincial government participation, this was reduced to 2 mills.

Many school districts, including Summerland found themselves facing a big increase after the grant structure was announced from Victoria last month, but another 72 million was authorized by a special warrant. This meant that no school district in B.C. will have an increase in mill rate over two mills this year.

The budget for Summerland schools this year is $551,550 which is an increase of $81,887 over the previous year, or 17 percent.

Of the total budget, the provincial government will pay 63 percent and the balance or 37 percent will be raised locally. This represents a figure of $202,000 for the municipality and rural areas to collect. $191,840 will come from the Municipality and $10,160 in the rural area.

CENTENNIAL PROJECT DISCUSSED

Subdivisions requested at Peachland

By BRENDA DAVIES

PEACHLAND — Councillor Sidebotham spoke on the Centennial park project stating this must be started soon before high water and said a larger donation would be needed from council if this is to be completed this year. Reeve Thwalte told council he had already approached by chairman I. Jackson and J. G. Sanderson and that the financial request would have to be dealt with when the budget was discussed.

When the committee's working plans were ready, council should be able to have workmen available, as most of the present work on Princeton Ave would be finished this week.

J. T. Garraway's plans for the subdivision of his property was discussed. Mr. Garraway wished to divide his property into four lots — two in the front, one on which his present home is on and one behind his home bordering on Princeton Ave. Council decided to withhold approval, subject to property lines being established by the survey on Princeton Ave.

Mr. C. O. Whinton submitted plans for the subdivision of lots 40 and 41 of his property. They consist of 12 lots of approximately one-half acre each — all with frontage on Princeton Ave. Water for these lots was discussed but there is no By-law stating water must be provided, if the lots in question are in the rural area and are one-half acre in size.

Mr. L. B. Shaw of Tropanier attended council with subdivision plans for land in Tropanier between Highway 97, and Clarence Road. Mr. Shaw, asked Councillor Beet (who is in charge of domestic water) whether water could be made available for this subdivision.

Councillor Beet stated that it could be obtained but booster pumps would be needed — the cost of which would be paid by the subdivider. Councillor Clements who is in charge of roads, reminded Mr. Shaw that any roads constructed, must conform to provincial government regulations and have a crushed gravel surface. Council gave Mr. Shaw approval in principle to go ahead on lots 12 and 14.

Mr. C. O. Whinton again attended council and the road between lots 15 and 16 was again discussed. Reeve Thwalte said he talked to Miss Frith and she had no objection to the closing of this road. This piece of land the road is on council bought from Miss Frith for $50, is still on her title as an acceptable survey was never carried out. This has been holding up the title to Lot 15, which was bought from council by Mrs. C. O. Whinton three years ago.

A motion was passed that the cut-off road through Lots 15 and 16 is closed and title to Lot 15 be given to Mrs. Whinton, and that the portion of Lot 16 which was purchased from her be sold back to Miss Frith for the sum of one dollar.

Mr. Thwalte stated that this would solve the problem which has been a headache for council since 1954. A letter was read from CNR regional office accepting the rent increase on their office and shed on First Street. The lease will now be arranged for a rent of $50 per annum for a twenty-year term.

Plans were received from Mrs. G. Wallace and Miss Casey co-owners of property who wish to divide the property by cutting six to seven acres off on a northeast angle. Council approved this in principle, subject to a survey.

Reeve Thwalte read the petition for the closing of 9th and 10th Streets and as all requirements have been complied with, the clerk was authorized to forward the petition to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council.

It was reported that all but three of the boat stalls at the breakwater are rented. Mr. MacNeil was instructed to rent the remainder to out of town persons who have already applied.

The clerk was authorized by council to approach Mr. Fairbourn, Highways Engineer, to make a basic survey for the boat garage on Princess Ave. from Lily St. to a suitable access on Princeton Ave.

Under The Giant's Head

By KEITH BERGH

The 1965 traffic fatality toll in B.C. reached a startling total of 500, a rise of 108 from the previous year. If the present rate of highway slaughter continues it looks like we are going to surpass this figure this year as there were 114 highway deaths to March 31 compared with 77 a year ago — an increase of a whopping 48 percent. Much too much blood is being spilled on our highways — and what is more alarming is the fact that in almost all cases death could have been avoided.

If we think we are busy with our Centennial project, how about St. Paul, Alberta, who has more than 20 projects already completed or under way and they plan to go even further.

The latest project is a wading pool, tennis courts, playground equipment and other recreation facilities at a cost of $13,383. The province and the Centennial Commission are each contributing $4,461 toward the project — the first time the town of 3,500 people has received any grants towards its Centennial projects. (They no doubt took in some of the rural community to bring their per-capita grant up to the 4461.)

They were the first in Canada to complete a Centennial project. Its people first built a $200,000 recreation centre by raising $100,000 themselves and borrowing $100,000 which they will repay by themselves. . . . Then project after project developed. . . . This is a credit to this predominantly French speaking community. . . they have shown the way in Centennial spirit.

If public relations was ever necessary, it is now — concerning the battle between the Regional College Committee and the Vernon Taxpayers & Parents Committee who are openly opposing the lease arrangement and location of the college. These organizations need to work around a conference table rather than through press releases from their respective offices. . . . which makes for open warfare. Hon. L. R. Peterson, in speaking to the annual convention of the PTA said to get on with the job or we will lose the college. . . . Let's get together boys.

There are plenty of dwellers under the Giant's Head smiling these days. The two bit stock of Anuk River Mines Ltd. they bought has grown to around the $1.30 mark and plenty have cashed in. Our local councillor in mining stock, Joe Akitt figures it has brought an added $200,000 to the economy of Summerland.

The Summerland Trail Riders, according to president Bill Head are heading for bigger things. They are expanding their show this year to include chariot races and the like and there is a pretty fair chance they will extend it to a two-day show. . . . The Municipality has given them the OK to use the ball park so with such a fine location there is no doubt the club can increase their attractions. . . . They will have competition from all over the Interior this year according to Bill. . . . sounds good.

Here are two long time members of Peachland W.I. who were honored guests at their 53rd anniversary celebrations. Mrs. A. MacKay, wearing a hat, has been a member since 1921 and Mrs. D. W. Miller who is the only known charter member.

Flags not down, it's no joke

Summerland Legion president Hilly Smith informed the membership Monday night they had purchased a copy of "Sinews of Steel" and placed it in the library of the Secondary School. It is a history of the B.C. Dragoon, an army regiment in which many Okanagan men served.

A verbal request from the Centennial Committee was received, asking the Legion to supply a flag to be placed on Giant's Head Centennial Park. The executive will not act on this until a formal request is made in writing.

A new member, Robert H. King was installed. Mr. King served with the RCAF during World War II. He and his family moved to Summerland early this year from Calgary and is a taxation officer with the Department of Revenue, Pen-ticton.

A Legion golf tournament will be held in Pen-ticton May 7 which is open to all mem-bers. Registration is expected from all over the province. Anyone wishing to enter should contact Hilly Smith or Emil Bonthoux before May 4.

Ted Mortimer has been in charge of the whist parties during the winter. They have had an average attendance of 30.6 and during the 11 oc-casion 380 have taken part.

He praised the many not members of the Legion and the Legion Auxiliary, who assisted with the many duties involved in providing lunch and with other arrangements.

Steve Dunsdon took excep-tion in the fact that the flags at the branch are flying at night on occasion.

"It is no joke", he said, "and people are making a laughing stock out of us."

President Smith said he would see to it personally that the flag is taken down at the proper time.

The branch has donated mone-y to the Junior Pipe Band in Pen-ticton towards purchasing uniforms.

Bill Sherman told the mem-bership there were two Sum-merland members in the group and have taken part in 8 or 10 engagements and have many more to come.

Three juveniles charged with theft

Three Summerland juveniles were charged with theft of money from a Summerland busi-ness place. About $9 was in-volved.

Family Court Judge J. B. Hack placed them on probation for three months when they pleaded guilty to the charge.

Wildlife Habitat . . . Your Heritage

Nature's slow processes of evolution, adaptation and special-ization have bequeathed to Canadians a rich heritage of wildlife even more varied than the beauty of our landscape. Wildlife has served us well in the past — through the era of early exploration and develop-ment and through the lean years of the pioneering society. Although fewer and fewer of us depend upon wildlife for food or for our livelihood, the recreatin and enjoyment now provided by wildlife may be more important to the health and well-being of our society than any of its past contribu-tions.

About 130,000 B. C. hunters and perhaps double that num-ber of anglers, along with un-counted thousands of natural-ists, place a very high value on wildlife. Almost everyone, whatever his interests, finds his life enriched and made more enjoyable by contact with nature. A rich variety and abundance of wildlife is surely an integral part of our national culture.

Even though we value wild-life as a renewable natural re-source to be used and enjoyed by all, we are allowing many forms of wildlife to diminish to levels of scarcity and even to the brink of extinction. We would most certainly rebel against the kinds of wanton destruction which exterminat-ed the passenger pigeon and the plains bison, but we do not seem to be fully aware of the more subtle and insidious agents of destruction which now threaten many species.

The very specialization which permits a large number of spe-cies of wildlife to live together without undue competition has also imposed limitations on the circumstances in which each can live successfully. Each spe-cies has its own special re-quirements for food, shelter from the elements, places to build nests or rear its young, and cover for escaping its ene-mies. Without areas which pro-vide these essentials of suit-able habitat, wildlife can not survive.

Conditions favouring wildlife have traditionally been provid-ed by the natural communities of plants which occupied the land. We have had to modify these natural communities, of course, so that the land can better serve man's purposes. Excepting a few notable cases, these modifications have gen-erally been detrimental to wildlife. Now, however, with increased competition for the use of land, and with increas-ing mechanization of the farm-ing, forestry, road building, subdividing and other activi-ties which use land, we seem to be bent on eliminating wildlife habitat altogether. Drain a marsh to make a few more acres of farmland of du-bious productivity, or fill it to provide an industrial site or space for a subdivision; bull-doze or burn out a bushy fence-row; pollute a stream or denude its banks or allow it to become silted by eroding soil; overgraze the critical win-ter range or elk or mountain sheep, and the wildlife of those habitats will be gone as surely as if by intentional extermina-tion.

To quote from a report by a prominent B. C. research bio-logist:

"The future of bighorn sheep in British Columbia, as in other parts of North America, is in jeopardy. A detailed re-search program is urgently re-quired . . . Continued die-offs at frequent intervals, coupled with over-exploitation of the range resource can only spell the ultimate end of these mag-nificent animals. In addition to the necessary research, it is mandatory for the continued survival of the Rocky Mountain Bighorn sheep in British Col-umbia, that the important win-ter ranges be set aside and managed for the production of mountain sheep."

This year the Canadian Wild-life Federation and its mem-ber organizations are devoting their annual Wildlife Week program to creating public awareness that we can retain our valuable wildlife only by preserving the habitats it re-quires. It is going to take time and perseverance to develop the kind of national conscience needed to ensure preservation of the habitat on which the wildlife resource depends.

Many causes contribute to losses of wildlife habitat. Need-less manicuring of unused lands, whether it be farmlands, parks or roadsides, may be at-tributed to an affinity for neat-ness. In the light of its effect on wildlife, it might better be described as thoughtlessness. More often, destruction of wildlife habitat has an economic incentive, though the fin-ancial gains may be paltry and the total effect may be contra-ry to land and water conserva-tion practices. Removal of windbreaks, pollution of water and drainage of natural wet-lands are examples which come to mind. We fail to realize, it seems, that land can have a value to the community when it is left in a natural state to conserve soil, water and wild-life.

When Crown lands are used in a manner which fails to pre-serve wildlife habitat, or when government programs or sub-sidies contribute to destruction of wildlife habitat, we are cer-tainly justified in raising our voices to insist that such prac-tices be stopped. But what of wildlife habitat on privately owned land? Have we any right to suggest that the owner of private land has obligations to the community? When land is treated as nothing more than a commodity to be wasted or conserved according to the whim of its current owner, surely the whole community, present and future, has a prop-rietary interest.

Chamber a silent servant

Chamber of Commerce Week is being observed across Canada this week. The theme is "Building a Better Community."

This is the 9th year for observance of this special week. Prime Minister Pearson has said that the effective work done by the Chambers of Commerce and Board of Trade "in helping to build and maintain strong Canadian communities as a basis for a strong Canadian nation, is recognized and appreciated by governments at all levels."

Unless one is directly connected with the Chamber of Commerce, it is not realized how much work is involved. So much is done that receives little or no publicity.

Check with any of the secretary-treasurers as to how many letters they receive for information about our municipality. Or have a chat with your president and he will tell you his duties are equal to a not too minor part-time job.

In Summerland, our Chamber is playing the background music for the Fall Fair and for the Queen committee which is fairly well known.

But in addition to this, they have representatives on the planning commission, the parks board, roads and safety committee, parking and the Centennial committee. They are well represented with the industrial development group . . . and so on . . . we could go on.

They are much a part of the community, working for every phase of the community. Before you say the Chamber of Commerce does nothing . . . go to a meeting and you will find their efforts are far reaching. Check with almost any civic committee working for community betterment and you will find the Chamber is represented.

The Summerland Business and Professional Services Association who sponsor the Christmas program and treats for the kiddies as well as the Lilac Day in May is a branch of the parent organization.

Although they may be classed as silent servants, there would be a loud cry if they did not exist. They deserve support.

From The Back Files . . .

50 YEARS AGO

Passing Events:

At her home on Wednesday, Miss Anna Hayes entertained a number of friends to an afternoon tea party in honour of Miss Connie Neve. A most pleasurable afternoon was the outcome of the affair.

Word has come to Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Smith that the Battalion into which their son William, has enlisted is the 100th Grenadiers. He has become a bugler in that Battalion.

Mrs. T. R. Harwood returned this week from a visit with her sister at Spokane, Washington.

John McLeod, second son of Rev. A. W. and Mrs. McLeod, enlisted last week in the University Battalion at Vancouver. His elder brother, Harry, has been in the service of the branch responsible for the placing and maintaining of telephone wires in the fighting zone.

Mr. and Mrs. Alden Peck arrived from Vancouver on Tuesday evening, and are staying with Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Duncan, Mrs. Duncan being Mrs. Peck's sister.

Mate McDonald, the well-known officer of the "Sicamous", met with a particularly painful mishap as the boat was making a landing at Naramata last Saturday evening. One forearm was caught between a pile and some of the boat structure, lacerating the flesh badly from the elbow to the wrist. It was feared at first that the accident was of a very serious nature, but after being treated at Penticton it was found that the injury while extremely painful in nature, will by no means permanently disable Mr. McDonald.

Dr. Andrew Heads Golfers

Dr. Andrew was elected president of the Summerland Golf Club at a meeting conducted on Wednesday night. Rev. Solly is vice-president; T. A. Walden, secretary-treasurer; and the executive comprises of Messrs. Benmore, Walden, Alex Smith and Major Coode. A grounds committee consists of Messrs. M. Steuart, Benmore, Coode and Solly.

The club is justly proud of the fine nine hole course on Paradise Flat. The course is without doubt a valuable acquisition of the community and will be a considerable attraction to the tourist. Work is being carried on in removing the rough spots and it is believed that in a short time the course will be in first class condition. Ask Council to Purchase

The municipal council will be requested to purchase the Crescent Beach grounds in order that this valuable recreation property will not pass out of the hands of the people of Summerland. This was decided at the Board of Trade meeting last night when upon motion of members Jackson and Gowan, it was decided unanimously to make this request.

The cost of the property is $1500 and includes six lots adjacent to the beach. It was emphasized that Crescent Beach is too great an acquisition to the town to allow it to pass into private hands and probably be fenced off.

Cancer is everyone's concern

The local Branches of the Canadian Cancer Society are engaged in a drive to raise funds to help stamp out cancer. At the same time, the appeal brings to attention that the fight against this dread disease is continuing and that every resident of your community can contribute to its eventual conquest through his or her contribution.

No one is immune to cancer. Young and old, athlete and sedentary, the robust and the weak . . . all fall victim to its scourge. Many are giving a great deal of their time and labour in the war against cancer. Your contributions will enable the Society to continue treatment and maintain the moral of those who have already contracted the disease and help in the research which will eventually subdue and conquer this tragic affliction.

The bidding went as follows:
North—East—South—West
1 C—Pass—1 nt—T—Pass
3 H—Pass—4 H—Pass
Pass—Double

This hand was played at the Revelstoke Unit meeting.

North opened one Club under the Shenker System showing a fairly strong hand. His partner bid one No Trump showing no more than eleven high card points, but also no less than nine high card points knowing all this they went on to four hearts.

East and west doubled, opened up the Ace of Spades, seeing the King drop from declarer's hand played the ten of Diamonds. Next our declarer went down one on the hand, but also once again this hand can be made, by playing a little heart up to the Jack at trick three after that there is no defence if you play out your Ace and Kings in the minor suit, discard one loser on the Queen of Spades.

Lead a Club from either hand even if the double partner wins the trick with a high Club. You are forced to trump, seeing you are left now with four Trump and at the same time you are end stayer. . . . The declarer holding his losses down to one Spade and two Hearts, making his doubled contract. Now what we would like to point out to our reader, it is not always wise to draw trump.

New buildings at NDU to accommodate 1,200 students

The architectural style of the new Science Complex is "rugged, strong and bold," as described by Mr. John Di Castri, architect. They reflect the rugged grandeur of the mountains among which the Campus nestles. To a degree, the terrain dictates that the building shall be of contemporary, split-level design to conform to the contour of the slopes. The buildings relate to each other and to existing structures already on Campus.

The Science Complex, which like the Library will be a four-storey structure, will contain 18 laboratories and two lecture theatres. The theatres will accommodate 100 students each. The laboratories will be for Physics, Chemistry and Biology. Additional facilities include seminar rooms, a Biology Museum, a Department Library with reader stations, a periodicals reading room and faculty offices.

Being constructed at an estimated cost of $1,800,000, the Science Building will accommodate 1,200 students in the three Faculties. There will be one laboratory for faculty research.

The public campaign for capital funds, under chairman- of Kelowna, is being organized ship of Mr. Pasquale Capozzi throughout British Columbia.

Pendozi comes home

By DOROTHY GELLATLY
WESTBANK — A year ago Westbank welcomed the MV "Pendozi" to its shores — a fitting finale for an Okanagan Lake ferry whose passengers, in large part, dwelt in Westbank and its vicinity and whose transportation depended for so many years on the ferries.

In that year the "Pendozi" has been transformed from the hulk it was when towed to its last berth into a clubhouse for Westbank's Yacht Club members and their friends. Today, boarding the former ferry, which still retains its old lines one enters mahogany and pine-paneled lounges built around the centre section of the ship, while sliding glass windows extend the length of the vessel on each side.

The covered afterdeck provides a dancing pavilion, the top deck has been railed in for strolling and the former deckhouse will provide a museum to house the tangible reminders of what ferries once meant — to west-side residents, especially. But no museum can hold the memories of days when ferries provided only erratic service, or did not exist at all.

The Indians used dug-outs or canoes to cross the lake at the narrows, for which the Indians' name was "Ix-kwa-naw-ston", though we've never been able to determine whether this name applied to the lake-crossing or to the mirage the Indians claimed was to be seen on approaching the narrows.

When white settlement began, Eneas MacDougal built a scow for ferrying passengers across the lake. Eneas was one of the eight sons of John MacDougal, veteran packer for the Hudson's Bay Co. from Fort Garry to Fort Kamloops, whose sons became famed hunters and trackers.

There was need for ferries in those days when prospectors stocked up with supplies at Lequime's before riding off to the new gold discovery at Granite Creek near Princeton. Eli Lequime came early to L'Anse au Sable, the priest's name for the sandy point where they established their mission in 1859, later to be known as Okanagan Mission and Kelowna.

Soon came the days of gas launches and scows and Captain Len Hayman, in his story in the tenth Okanagan Historical Society report says that "... if the seas were calm, all went well; if rough, the scow might start to fill, in which case the end-rails were slipped and the horses loosed, so they could swim for it, if necessary, "While I", says the captain, "sat it out on the hand rails and let her drift till she fetched up somewhere ... I'd then bail her out and tighten the caulking." If the motor stopped, which, being exposed to all weathers, it frequently did, he'd tinker with it till it decided to go again.

Among us are those who still remember L e n 's "Clovelly", he built in Vancouver and shipped in on a flat-car. Besides her regular trips she ran twice a week to Bear Creek, hauled lumber and feed to settlers up and down the lake, and fruit from the little fruit orchards to Kelowna. Next came the government-operated ferries, of which MV "Pendozi" was one, her name a corruption of Pandosy, for Father Charles Pandosy, who established the mission at L'Anse au Sable. Pandosy Street in Kelowna also commemorates his memory, and was spelled Pendozi until the correct spelling of the priest's name came to light.

Very many of us remember sailing aboard "Pendozi" and her sisters; good crossings and bad, including those in winter when the lake froze. In earlier days the ferries came to a halt at such times; but later, when the CP lake-steamers had ceased their runs, and traffic depended on the ferries — it was imperative to keep going.

Frequently the boat-channel was kept open with difficulty, and rimmed each side with ice a foot thick, closing repeatedly as it became clogged with floating ice. Sometimes the ships were frozen in their berths, or were delayed in mid-lake, and wise passengers took lunch or snack along with them — just in case.

Other memories, too, include last-minute dashes for the ferry, and of reaching the landing, only to see the distance between the wharf and ship widening as the ferry pulled out and we cooled our heels — or perhaps we should say cars ... and tempers.

So passed 75 years of ferry history until finally, when ferries could no longer cope with the traffic which formed endless queues on either side of the lake, Okanagan Lake bridge materialized. But memory remains, and so long as there are those who recall the days of the ferries — so long will V Pendozi hold a special place in their hearts. And they feel that this is just where "Pendozi" should be berthed — among those who feel they've paid for her cost in ferry-tolls over many years.

BOOK REVIEW

(Reviewed by the Okanagan Roy Thomson of Fleet Street by Russell Braddon (Collins) is a classic rags to riches success story.

Starting on the wrong side of the Toronto tracks in 1894 Roy Thomson left school to become a junior clerk in a small business. He did well but not well enough to justify his boast of becoming a millionaire before the age of thirty.

After an abortive spell as an unlikely prairie farmer, Thomson returned to sell radios in Northern Ontario — an area notorious for poor reception. Undeterred he stimulated his sales by opening his own radio station. Finding the local press opposed to his new venture he bought the offending newspaper for a down payment of $200.

This is perhaps the most absorbing part of the story: the constant battle between income and expenditure, the lack of accommodation, the lack of qualified personnel, the lack of technical know-how, the lack of capital. But through an unstinted capacity for hard selling and the possession of an open face which looked good for a further extension of yet another loan, Thomson not only got by, but seemed to thrive on it.

This uncompromising determination to sacrifice leisure and pleasure — a ruthless drive to succeed at any price — was also a sacrifice for those surrounding him, not least for the Thomson family.

If you were to make a graph of Thomson's success the big zoom upwards to the top of the page would not be plotted until the post war years. The war meant a period of enforced consolidation of his properties but by 1946 by floating a debenture issue, Thomson was in the position of enjoying virtually unlimited credit. He could as Braddon says "rampage through the weary and death-depleted ranks of his country's small town small publishing families".

PENTICTON HERALD
By the time he reached the Regional Library) Okanagan, however, it was ten years later and he was so engrossed with controlling Scottish TV "a licence to print your own money") that the Daily Courier in Kelowna and the Penticton Herald are merely listed as headnotes to Chapter 30.

Thomson's ambitions grew as his achievements increased. He wanted more than anything else to have a title and unashamedly petitioned everyone from Macmillan to Diefenbaker. He began to broaden his social circles. He employed — to the ire, s c o r n and sour grapes of Fleet Street — the Queen's brother-in-law. On learning that, although he might get the Governor-Generalship if Diefenbaker's instigation, he could never fulfill his main ambition as a Canadian, Thomson applied for British citizenship. He thoughtfully ensured that Macmillan was aware of his new status. The next Honours List contained his name.

Since leaving school, Thomson's reading has been confined to financial accounts and "whodunits". His favourite music is "the sound of radio commercials at ten bucks a whack". His opinion of artists is qualified by the investment potential of their work. He would sleep at the Savoy and economize by eating at a truck driver's pull-up. He was worth at the last count, $300,000,000. Any teacher will tell you that it doesn't pay — in terms of dollars and cents — to be literate.

Roy Thomson controls communications media — radio, television, newspapers, periodicals, books — in five continents. In the underdeveloped countries his activities are a re-throwing as a contribution to the democratic way of life as well as a contribution to Roy. Thomson is not the old fashioned press baron who used his papers for propaganda purposes. This is A Good Thing on the face of it. But Thomson is concerned only with an enterprise which pays and he lays down strict budget controls for his media. If the business runs at a loss something has to be done to improve the sales, i.e. broaden the base and make a wider appeal, i.e. equate the standards with lowest common reader/listener/viewer multiple or it will be killed off.

Thomson's non-interest in editorial content ("the stuff you separate the ads with") as long as it does not attack the monarchy (presumably the God of the Christians and the Monarchy of the British) has another face when one considers say the Laurel Leader — Call — a pro-segregation Mississippi newspaper.

AT OYAMA

Special camp for diabetic children

Again this year the camp for diabetic children from all over B.C. will be held on Kalamalka Lake, half mile east of Oyama. The camping dates are from August 21st to September 2nd. "Camp Kakhmela" has been chosen by the Diabetic Association as their own distinctive name for their summer camp. This is an Indian word literally meaning "a hunt" and is appropriate, firstly to honour Dr. Hunt who has contributed so much to the development of the B.C. Camp; and secondly to denote "the hunt" or search for greater understanding of the Diabetic Life.

The first B. C. Camp for Diabetic Children was established in 1961 right here in the Okanagan and through the untiring efforts of the Provincial Branch of the Canadian Diabetic Association it has been held annually in this area. Like all worthwhile causes it has thrived and grown so that last year it was moved to larger quarters. The present site will accommodate over 100 campers.

Last year there were 61 diabetic campers plus a highly qualified staff of Camp Director, Program Director, Physicians, Nurses, Dieticians, Senior and Junior Counsellors and Cooks. It is a big responsibility to give a camping holiday away from vigilant parents to boys and girls between the ages of 9 and 16 all of whom require daily medical care. Therefore it is a costly camp with the 1965 budget going over $7,000. Although the cost per child at camp is around $125, the fee asked of each family this year will be $50 with the association making up the difference. No diabetic child is denied camp, for if a family is unable to pay all or part of the fee the Association will cover the cost. The camp program includes badminton, swimming, boating, tennis, hiking, handicrafts and camp fires. Many have been able to earn their Red Cross Swimming Badges.

This camp provides an exceptional experience for diabetic children allowing them to associate with others having similar problems and learning about their disability under the care of professional personnel.

Recently a branch of the Canadian Diabetic Association was formed in Vernon. Further information about the camp may be obtained from the North Okanagan Branch, Canadian Diabetic Association, 3902 28th Ave., Vernon, B.C.

THE ANSWER TO CANCER
The Canadian Cancer Society maintains that only through research can the cancer problem be completely solved. Almost half of the Society's money, collected during its April campaign, goes to the National Cancer Institute of Canada — its professional affiliate — to support cancer research projects in many parts of Canada. Your donation to the Canadian Cancer Society will help hasten the solution to one of the most difficult problems faced by modern medicine.

SERVING YOU AND YOUR COMMUNITY

By BRENDA DAVIES
PEACHLAND — Mr. and Mrs. Vern Oakes and son Ricky have returned from their vacation at the coast where they visited their three daughters; Mr. and Mrs. A. Zeccapt at North Surrey, Mr. and Mrs. R. Macintosh at Haney, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilson at New Westminster.

The christening of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Martin of Kelowna took place Sunday at St. Margaret's Anglican Church in Peachland. The Reverend Norman Tanner of Summerland bestowed the names, Vincent James on the tiny boy, and satnding as godparents were Mrs. Martins' brother and sister-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Don Topham from Port Moody. A family tea was held later at the home of the grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Topham Jr.

Visiting at the Elstones on Easter weekend were Mrs. Elstones daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. I. Toews and Mr. and Mrs. G. Lockard from Golden. Mr and Mrs Elstone drove them back Monday and stayed to visit for two days, arriving home again Wednesday.

Miss M. Long is spending her Easter holidays visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. G. Long on Beach Ave.

Visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. Elstone is Mr. A. Richter from Stettler, Alberta.

Mrs. G. Schwartz, Larry and Tracey left at the weekend to spend some time in Vancouver. Mrs. Swartz will visit friends and relatives, while Larry will be admitted as a patient at the Crippled Childrens Hospital.

Home again after a trailer trip to the States are Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Moore while on their travels they visited with their daughter Mrs. J. Brunberg in Santa Anita in California, and spent a month at Tucson, Arizona, making this their base while they went rock hunting.

Visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Enns this week are their daughter Lou and her husband, Mr and Mrs. Dyck and four children from Vallhala, Alberta. They will spend the next few days visiting relatives and friends in the district.

Back home again after two weeks visiting in Barrhead, Alberta with her parents a r e Mrs. G. Beet and Cindy. Mrs. Beets parents Mr and Mrs G. Tyreman drove her home and stayed to spend the Easter holidays here.

Peachland Teen Town delegates Louise MacNiel, Maur- een and Glenna Todd, and Lau ra Enns left Wednesday morning to attend the three-day BC TA conference in Nanaimo.

Mrs. J. Todd and boys are back home again after a few days visit to the coast which was spent visiting Victoria and Mrs. Todd's sister Mrs. D. Muir in Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Wes Funnell arrived home last weekend after a week's holiday spent visiting old friends in Vermilion and Edmonton.

Recent visitors at the Stump home were their daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. L. Burnier and Michell from Vancouver.

Mrs. F. Dunn, David and Bob arrived home Saturday after a week's holiday visiting relatives in Edmonton.

Home again after a few days holiday at the coast are Mr. and Mrs. D. A. K. Fulks and family.

Juvenile shears power pole

A Summerland juvenile paid a fine of $25 when he appeared before Family Court Judge J. Hack on Monday answering a charge of driving without due care and attention.

At 10:20 p.m., April 14th while driving on North Prairie Valley Road, he left the right hand side of the road and sheared off a power pole.

It caused a power failure throughout the town for a few minutes until crews isolated it to the point of trouble. Crews worked far into the night to restore power to the Prairie Valley area.

Centennial Park for Peachland

By BRENDA DAVIES
I. Jackson, chairman of Peachland's Centennial Committee announced that plans submitted for Peachland's Centennial Park project now have the approval of all three governments—municipal, provincial and federal.

The park will be built out into the lake between 2nd Street and Careless' store. The fill will go out into the lake 90 ft. with a concrete retaining wall all round, and the width is to be 114 ft. not including the wings. On the fill will be concrete walks, lawn and trees.

With benches here and there placed for residents and visitors alike to enable them to sit and admire the wonderful view up and down the lake. A flagpole and a plaque will be placed at the furthest side towards the lake, and on the beach side the wings will be planted in lawn, with the possible inclusion of a shuffle board and checkerboard that Peachland's Recreation Commission have already offered to donate and build at the park.

J. G. Sanderson and L. Bowden who have been looking into the costs of having working plans drawn up reported that of the firms contacted, prices seemed quite high and don't seem to be available to take this on right away because of other commitments.

It was decided to approach a retired qualified engineer now resident in Peachland to see if he will consider taking it on.

As the concrete work must be done soon — at least before high water, council will be approached to find out just when trucks and men will be available to get started.

F. Sidebotham, council's representative on the committee, spoke of the need for more money and stated that he himself will ask council to make a larger donation than the $910 called for as their share, so the park can be finished this year and enjoyed in 1967.

The Centennial Caravan visit was discussed which will be in Peachland May 2th from 1 to 10 p.m. A letter from Victoria stated two members must be on duty all the time the caravan is in town.

Entertainment and centennial activities contemplated as reported by A. Lowery — in the planning stage is an amateur night with a theme (100 years of song) and summer street dancing.

More money will be needed so the committee will send letters to all organizations in town asking for aid. The letter will suggest each group put on activity before January 1967 and donate the profit which will be applied to the cost of the Centennial project and celebrations. This will also provide more entertainment in the community during the year.

J. G. Sanderson stated there are three or four possible pioneers in the district which he at present knows of, but would like the help of all to make sue no-one is missed. Only the following persons are eligible: A pioneer for the purpose of receiving a medallion, shall be any person who, was either born in Canada, or a resident of Canada prior to January 1, 1892. It is not necessary that such a person shall have had continuous residence in Canada since that date, but must be a resident of B. C. now. Any person in Peachland and district who can qualify or know of anyone who can, please contact Mr. Sanderson as soon as possible.

Next meeting of the committee will be held Tuesday, May 10.

Anuk River gets essay reports

Results of a recent drilling at the Anuk River Mines Ltd. property west of Peachland have shown values in copper and molybdenum.

They drilled 23 holes and have had results of five of these at the first of the week.

The best hole, drilled to 150 feet was overburden to 16 feet and they were in mineralized grandiorite from 16 feet to 150 feet, the depth limit of the equipment used.

The entire length of 134 ft. from 16 to 150 feet averaged 0.114% copper and 0.114% MoS₂. Within this section, a 10 ft. length from 100 ft. to 110 ft. assayed 0.274% MoS₂ and a 60 ft. section from 70 ft. to 130 ft. averaged 0.155% MoS₂.

From visual examination of the cuttings, president Alex Briden said, mineralization is known to occur across at least a 2500 ft. section extending in a southwest direction. An assay results from the current holes are expected to be completed in three weeks.

During this interval, a 12-man camp is being erected on the property, with line cutting and further bulldozer work to continue. The company is currently negotiating a diamond drilling contract and expects to have a diamond drill on the property within two weeks. The property adjoins the south property of Brenda Mines Ltd.

Powell Beach Motel changes ownership

Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Smith, formerly of Calgary took up residence here April 14. They have purchased the Powell Beach Motel and are open for reservations and business.

The couple hope to build a house on the property as there is no living quarters in the motel. They are looking forward to a warm busy summer.

Kiwanis Club to host the Vintage Car Run

Summerland Centennial Chairman, Jim Marshall received word that the "Vintage Car Run" will be in Summerland for lunch, arriving at 12:40 p.m. Monday, July 4.

This "run" will take place during the period of Saturday, July 2 to Saturday, July 9.

It will be comprised of representative cars of 1936 or earlier vintage, accompanied by approximately 65 operators and passengers. Each entry has been carefully selected for its public interest and overall historical nostalgia, representing a special niche in the past development of the automotive field in British Columbia.

Dr. Marshall, contacted the Summerland Kiwanis Club who have kindly offered to provide a luncheon for the tour in the Memorial Park.

Kiwanis President Harry Hackman said the public are invited to take part. A small fee will be charged those not participating in the Vintage Car Run.

A letter from L. J. Wallace, Centennial chairman for B.C., to Mr. Marshall said all members will be in period costume and "it would create further atmosphere for the event if the reception officials and members of your committee were similarly attired."

Mr. Hackman said they are planning a tour up Giant's Head for the visitors if roads are passable and Jeeps are available.

Eight tables at Legion Whist Party

The first April Legion whist party was held in the Rosedale Room on April 12, with eight tables in play. The evening passed all too quickly. Mrs. H. Cartwright and Mrs. H. Rothwell tied for first place which Mrs. Cartwright won on the draw. Mrs. E. O. Mortimer received the consolation prize.

Mr. C. Clarke headed the men, and Mr. A. Stoberg and Mr. C. Cook tied for the men's consolation, which Mr. Stoberg drew. The door prize was won by Mrs. A. Stoberg. The new lunch committee provided an appreciated lunch.

The group will tour through the Fraser Valley and Okanagan to Kamloops, returning via North Vancouver to Vancouver Island.

"Healed"
By M. SCHULTZ
Pastor, Trout Creek Church of God

Shortly before Easter 1963 Steven Walters was a five-year old crippled boy, suffering from a bone condition that had affected him since birth. His mother was with him as he made his way on crutches up the walk to a home where some of his church friends were gathered. His young friends were fascinated by the heavy brace on his better leg and the little shoe built up with four inches of extra sole on his withered short leg.

His pastor's wife, Mrs. Clemmie Mayes, greeted him with an understanding smile. Then she spoke to the other children — some 20 or 25 of them about Steven and his need. "You know, children, Jesus is able to heal our diseases," she said. You could see the questions in the children's eyes as they looked at Steven's poor crippled body. Could Jesus really heal a leg that was four inches too short?

But Mrs. Mayes was asking them, "Would you like for us to pray that God will heal Steven?" And the simple faith of children became active as they nodded their heads and joined hands around the room and then prayed that Steven would be made completely well. Then Mrs. Mayes said to Steven's mother "Tomorrow morning at eleven o'clock I want you to measure Steven's leg, and let me know how much it has grown."

Here were all the elements for divine physical healing as the church has experienced it for more than nineteen hundred years. Nothing novel, nothing artificial, nothing magical or weird. Just the need of a sick body, faith of children, prayer and a gracious God. So He said in Exodus 15:26 "I am the Lord, your healer". And as was said of Jesus while he ministered on earth, Matthew 9:35 "And Jesus went about all their cities and villages preaching the gospel of the Kingdom and healing every sickness and every disease among the people."

There seemed to be no particular change or sign at the time Steven was prayed for. He had a good night's sleep and his mother awakened him the next morning. He did not want to put his brace on and she remonstrated with him. Then he suddenly stood up. She reached to help him, for he should have fallen over. Instead, he joyfully walked across the room with no sign of a limp. God had extended his leg a full four inches overnight, and there has been no recurrence of the perthes disease which caused the damage.

Summerland couple celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary

There was a family dinner held Saturday evening, April 9 with an open house April 10.

Many gifts were presented to the couple. Telegrams were received from Three Hills and Hanna, Alberta and telephone calls from Chicago, Ill. and Broadus, Montana.

Family members present for the occasion were Mrs. Gladys Hnagland of Warrenton, Ore.; Mrs. Lela Parsons with Lorne and Linda of Youngstown, Alta.; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Benner and Wayne of Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Benner and Glenn jr. of Ashcroft; Allan Benner of Summerland; Mrs. Helen Mill and Valerie of Calgary; niece, Mrs. Ward Mans, Broadus, Mon. One member — Harold Benner of Rimbeay Alta. was not able to attend.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Murgridge, Don, Dick and Jerry of Nara-mat; Mr. and Mrs. Reg Hambley of Benalta, Alta.; Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Peterson of Condor, Alta.; Mr. and Mrs. Garnett Gardner of Kelowna; Mrs. Annie Bise of Kelowna; Mrs. Inez Cundiff and Gail of Abbotsford; Mr. and Mrs. Davenport of Eckville, Alta.; Mr. Al Spears of Rocky Mt House, Alta.; Mr. and Mrs. Martin Delaney of Oliver; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cartwright and family of Canmore, Alberta.

Red Cross drive exceed quota

The Red Cross drive, sponsored by the Summerland Rotary Club, exceeded their quota by $503.11 this year. This was revealed by the campaign chairman Les Rumball at the regular meeting of the Rotary Club Friday night.

Total received was $2003.11 while $1500 was the goal.

District Governor Ted Atkinson said he had received word that there were 27 members from a Washington state club planning to attend the annual District 508 Conference slated for Penticton May 20-21-22. Summerland is co-host.

Francis Stuart urged members to attend the conference and said registration cards are available from S. A. MacDonald, secretary.

The Gonzaga University Choir presentation Thursday night was a financial flop but president Jock Johnston took comfort in the fact that those who did attend were thrilled and a very worthwhile program was offered the community. A $100 loss is anticipated.

It was felt the reason for such small attendance was because there were many other functions scheduled on the same evening. The same choir packed the auditorium four years ago.

Deer still being hit north of Summerland

A deer was killed Saturday and another Sunday north of Summerland.

Saturday, Folke Carlson of Spokane had $300 damages done to his car eight miles north of town, there were no injuries; and no charge will be laid.

Sunday, a car owned by Beryl Nerling of Oliver struck a deer 6 1/2 miles north, but Summerland RCMP are investigating as to who the driver was. The driver was not present when the car was found at the side of the road.

Peachland UC Women plan dinner in Athletic Hall

PEACHLAND — A community dinner was planned Wednesday night at the monthly meeting of the United Church Women, held at the home of Mrs. W. Wilson. This dinner which is to be held in the Athletic Hall this year, will be served Smorgasbord style from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. on May 6th. Kitchen convenors Mrs. W. Dunkin and Mrs. J. Enns. In charge of the serving is Mrs. J. Khalembach and on the purchasing committee is Mrs. A. M. Moore and Mrs. M. Powell. Mrs. W. Walker was appointed to fill the position of Sewing Convenor for the balance of the year. The next meeting of this group will be held May 11th at the home of Mrs. C. T. Redstone.

WESTBANK SOCIAL NOTES

by Dorothy Gellatly
Mrs. James Lawrence, of Abbotsford, was the guest during Easter week, with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Wakefield and granddaughters, Aven and Steri.

The evening Circle of Westbank United Church met for its Mrs. H. E. Doynton, with Mrs. April meeting at the home of Kazui as joint hostess. Plans were made for a congregational pot luck supper to be held in the church hall Friday, May 6. Mrs. C. R. Cameron convening. Further details will be forthcoming next week.

Here for a holiday from her home in Alberta is Mrs. Daisy Hardwicke, a former long-time resident of Westbank. She is welcoming and being welcomed by her many friends who are delighted to have her among them again.

Miss Connie Currie, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Currie, is receiving congratulations on the passing of her trainer's swimming course at Vernon last week. Awarded the bronze medallion, Connie now is qualified to teach swimming, and the course she took was sponsored by the Vernon Recreation Commission and held in the new heated pool.

Alberta visitors in Westbank during the holiday week were Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Bergum and family, of Blackfalds, who were guests of Mr. Bergum's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Able, at Traveler's Motel and Service, McDougall Creek.

Mrs. Clifford Fenton gratefully acknowledges a future contribution of $10 to the Red Cross fund in Westbank, thus raising the total in this area to more than $350, some $25 over the quota of $325. Grateful acknowledgement also has been mailed to each canvasser taking part in this year's Red Cross canvass, a mark of appreciation from headquarters that is also appreciated by recipients.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hewlett and family motored south of the boundary for a couple of days holiday last week, returning Friday, April 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Hussey are home again after a motor tripto Lynden, Wash., where they were called on the death of a member of Mrs. Hussey's family.

Here from Vancouver for several days visit with Mr. and Mrs. Hussey, was Gordon's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Hussey.

An error crept into last week's news items, when we called Mrs. Florence Edwards by her maiden name of Dobbins. Mrs. Edwards motored via the Crows Nest and Rogers Pass circle, during the holiday week and was accompanied by her daughter Donna, her mother Mrs. F. A. Dobbins and sister Miss Doreen Dobbins.

Mr. and Mrs. Stan Taneda and family were holiday visitors to the coast, where they spent a week with relatives. Mr. and Mrs. M. Taneda also visited the coast over the holiday weekend.

TEEN PULSE

By
STENNER

Question: I'm real "kookie" over this guy! How can I really know I'm in love?
—NOT SURE

DEAR KOOKIE!

Where there is doubt about it there very often is no doubt about it! Heartbreak is fine providing it is not 25 years long. I suggest you apply Secret Formula "Love Plus 24!" to your problem.

It goes like this: Does your boyfriend have a thirst for knowledge? an inquiring mind? a fascination for life, Or, is life a bore to him?

Is he tolerant of other teens views? His parents views. Your opinions. Are your dates good, wholesome fun or just opportunities for necking parties? What are his attitudes towards clothes, cars, money, in general material possessions? Are they more important to him.

now than his family, and the is he genuinely interested in the growth, achievements, of his parents, his brothers and sisters? Being "in love" is far more than a cliché or an emotion! Rarely is a teenager mature enough for marriage. And being "in love" is for marriage! No doubt about it! Apply "Love Plus 25!" and enjoy your teen years! church? Do you see patience, fairness, industriousness, thriftiness and flexibility in him?

Certificate now required to sell pesticides

A recent amendment to the Pharmacy Act will require that every person engaged in the retail sale of pesticides in the province of British Columbia will be required to obtain a pesticide dispenser certificate.

A notice released by Frank Richter, Minister of Agriculture states that certificates will be issued only to those persons who have completed the official course of instruction provided by the British Columbia Department of Agriculture.

An official instructional course will be held in the Elks Hall, Keremeos, May 5 commencing at 8:30 p.m. A reference test, "Pesticide Handbook for Pesticide Dealers" is now available at the Department of Agriculture office at Oliver, Penticton and Victoria.

Westbank volunteers turn out Saturday to clean up cemetery

by Dorothy Gellatly
WESTBANK — The wonderful response to the call for volunteers to assist at Saturday's clean-up day at the cemetery has gratified the combined Westbank Recreation Commission and Community Association, and a special thank you is extended to Mrs. Herman Kneller for her untiring organizational work.

It is hoped now to make further improvements to the cemetery, and to give it more or less regular care, particularly when it has been how very willing are the volunteers who turned out as they did Saturday. Bringing all sorts of garden tools and implements, the more than 70 people set to work with a will and accomplished wonders within a few hours.

Court of Revision makes changes in irrigation services

The Irrigation court of revision increased and decreased private land to be irrigated.

C.V. Armour decreased from nine acres to six acres. Shulte went to black rate and Gingell decreased from 15 acres to eight because of non-usable land.

J. Doherty increased from 1 to 5 because of increased development and A. Leardo requested service on 10 acres, J.

Laderio developed three more acres and J. A. Stewart had his lot reduced to .25 acres, L. E. Gutliot reduced from .67 to .25 and Alf Kohlhauser went on the block rate on a portion of his property.

W. Bolton decreased from 4.26 acres to 3.5 acres. Richard Neal had sold property to the point where he was taken off irrigation. Paul Charles reduced to 7 acres and the Summerland Hospital to three acres.

Roy Beedle to be buried today

Mr. Roy Beedle passed away Tuesday, April 19 in Summerland Hospital at the age of 80 years.

Born in Iowa, Mr. Beedle farmed for many years in the Moose Jaw, Sask. area. He moved to Burns Lake, B.C. 22 years ago and has resided in Summerland for the past 18 months.

Surviving are his loving wife Beulah; five sons Rae in Barhead, Alta.; Alan and Robert in Summerland; Ronald in Keremeos and William in Tintagel, B.C.; three daughters — (Joyce) Mrs. Donald Lacey in Tintagel; (Winnifred) Mrs. T. Rossi in Kamloops and (Betty) Mrs. Gordon Corder in Vernon. Also 21 grandchildren and one great-grandchild, two sisters and two brothers. Funeral services will be held Thursday, April 21 at 1:15 p.m. from Wright's Funeral Home with Rev. Philip Louie officiating.

Interment will be in the Peach Orchard Cemetery in Summerland. Wright's Funeral Home entrusted with arrangements.

The first chief justice of Vancouver Island was David Cameron. A brother-in-law of Sir James Douglas, he had no legal training.

Parking habits are not the best -- crack-down coming

Councillor Bill Barkwill suggested to the council meeting Tuesday night that there are areas in town where parking motorists are not heeding the law.

He agreed, at the present time, that the road construction along Memorial Park restricts parking space.

But he said he has had some concern expressed by school officials regarding trucks parking at L. A. Smith Ltd. He said children are darting out from parked trucks and cars, posing a danger to them and oncoming traffic.

When street construction is complete, council agreed the RCMP should be informed to be more strict with parking regulations.

Is This... A Good Advertisement?

"Is this a Good Advertisement? If your advertising could be printed in a special kind of invisible ink that became visible only between 5:00 and 5:01 Thursday, and then disappeared, the chances are you wouldn't think such an ad was worth much. You'd only reach a small fraction of the total newspaper's audience — those who happen to be reading the newspaper Thursday afternoon at precisely the time your ad appeared, and who in fact happened to be turned to the page your ad was on at the precise moment.

"And yet this is what happens to advertising in media other than newspapers. A survey showed that 75 percent of all shoppers check the newspaper ads before making their main shopping trip.

"Newspaper messages are available at the convenience of the customer. He doesn't have to be at a certain place at a particular time of day or night to hear or see the message.

"Perhaps equally important — he looks at newspaper advertising because he wants to. It is never an unwanted interruption."

Highway accident at Peachland takes life of Kelowna youth

What Summerland RCMP determined as a head on sideswipe caused the death of an 18-year-old Kelowna youth at 9:55 a.m., April 17th. Dead is James Robert Butwell.

The driver of the other car was Harry Leslie Dick, of Seattle who was travelling north on the slight curve to the right on Highway 97 just above downtown Peachland when the two cars met.

Robert John McEwen, a passenger in the death car was not injured but Dick was taken to the Kelowna hospital, with head injuries.

RCMP are still investigating.

Summerland riders take first ride

A meeting of the Summerland Trail Riders Friday night was held at the Bye's home. Further preparations were discussed for the Annual Trail Ride and Horse Show.

A trail ride was announced to be held Sunday, April 17, led by Ron Reinertson.

Sunday at 1 o'clock 22 riders met at Tamblins corner to ride, through the lower part of Three Lake Valley then to Meadow Valley and down to Trout Creek bridge near the dump.

We were met at the bridge by Mrs. Bye, who served hot coffee, freshie and cookies — which was enjoyed by all. This was the first of many trail rides that are to be held this year. The horses were frisky and riders rusty but this did not hinder the enjoyment had by all on this ride.

In the spring especially, when the horses are excitable it would be greatly appreciated if motorists would take this into consideration. If a horse is acting up, pull the car to the side of the road and wait until the rider has the horse under control before proceeding. Do not honk your horn when close to a horse or go speeding by at unnecessary speed. This care isn't only taken in consideration of the horse and rider but also the owner of a car... dents can be very expensive.

LET'S GET NEWSY

Mrs. Diana Waterhouse took ill at work on Monday afternoon and is now a patient in the Summerland Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Patterson spent Easter holiday with relatives at Williams Lake and Prince George. They report a foot of snow and 4 degrees below zero temperatures.

Mrs. W. S. Rothwell C.N.I.B. chairman

The Annual Meeting of the C.N.I.B. was held Monday evening at the Secondary School Library.

The treasurer, Mrs. J. H. Dunsdon reported that $763.25 had been collected during the 1965 campaign. The chairman, Mrs. W. S. Rothwell thanked all who contributed or helped with the campaign in any way.

The secretary, Mrs. H. Lemke read a letter from the B.C. superintendent, Mr. R.C. Purse expressing appreciation of the work done by the branch, and thanked the people of Summerland for their generous support.

Representatives were present from the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary Club, Kiwanis Club, Rebekah Lodge, Catholic Women's League, Legion Auxiliary, Hospital Auxiliary, and Women's Institute.

The guest speaker was Mr. J. C. Hembling of Penticton, who is the field secretary. He spoke of the 238 registered blind people he works with. He also told how to become registered.

The secretary was returned to office by acclamation and Mrs. W. S. Rothwell, chairman, Preston Mott, 1st vice-president; Mrs. Eric Tait, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. H. Lemke, secretary and board members are Miss Lois Read and Mr. John Caldwell.

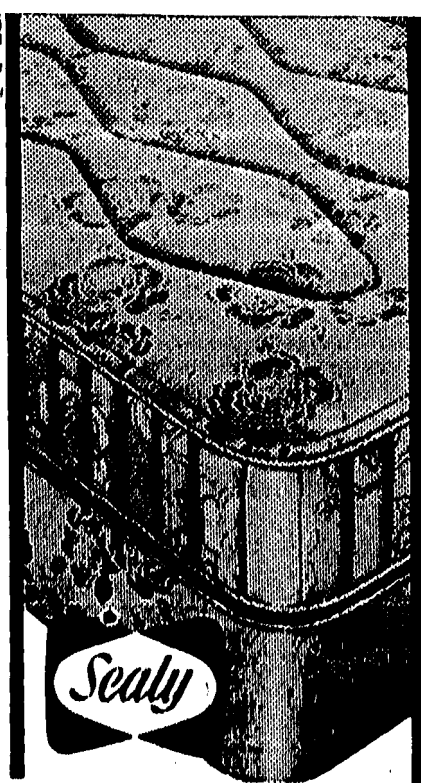

A film entitled "It's Great to be Back", was shown. Mr. Lloyd Shannon was the projectionist.

Apple Dumplings

Apples:

4 to 5 good sized apples, peeled and cored quarter cup brown sugar
2 tablespoons butter cinnamon raisins

Dough:

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
3/4 teaspoon salt
6 tablespoons shortening
6 tablespoons cold water

Sauce:

1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 cup brown sugar
3 tablespoons butter
1 1/2 cups water

Blend sauce ingredients and cook until thickened. Cool. Make dough. Sift dry ingredients. Cut in shortening. Stir in water and blend. Roll out one quarter inch thick. Cut into 7 inch squares.

Place apple in centre of each square. Fill core cavity with cinnamon and raisins, brown sugar and butter.

Fold dough over top of apples. Press down over top of apples. Place in greased pan. Prick dough with fork. Pour sauce over all and bake in hot oven, 425 degrees, for 45 to 50 minutes.

THE BAND PLAYED ON - AND WELL

This is the Summerland Secondary school band. They arrived home Saturday following a 700 mile tour to Grand Forks, Spokane and Nelson. They were well received at every appearance, receiving a standing ovation in Spokane on both occasions. Below is the German Comedy Band made up of the parent group who, as always, got a good laugh each time out.

S'land Elementary Schools to defend trophy on June 4

John Tamblin, Principal of the Summerland Secondary School said he wished to extend their new science program to Grade 8 in September.

Teachers with better and more experience in the science fields have a greater opportunity to offer this to the students with the new system. It is presently being used in grades from 9 to 12.

They will use more efficient use of science labs but said the teachers will need assistance in making the labs ready previous to classes and cleaning up after it is over.

To employ such a person, it would cost about $400 from September to the end of the year or until the next budget.

Secretary Hack was instructed to see if he could find a way of getting the money from the 1966 budget, and they will consider it at their next meeting.

Principal Ray McNabb said in his report that their school Sports day will be held on Thursday, May 27. They will have the assistance of the Trout Creek PTA who will serve tea, etc.

They will host the South Okanagan Elementary Track Meet this year and will be held at the Baseball Park on June 4.

Trout Creek School will go with MacDonald School to form a Summerland team which will try to retain the Challenge Trophy won last year at Osoyoos" Mr. McNabb said.

He is a member of the Okanagan Teacher's Association Committee set up to study educational TV and gave a report of their findings. The committee was set up two years ago.

Over that period, "I feel a great deal has come out of the study, but it is, by no means yet complete" he explained and warned it should not be pushed too hard and too fast.

"All our aims have been to one end — to ensure the best possible ETV for the schools so that classroom teachers will see the benefits of using TV as a tool to assist them in their daily lessons.

Lilac Day slated for May 21 in Summerland

The Summerland Business and Professional Services Association is off and running once more. This was decided at a meeting Monday of over 30 members who placed Tom White as president of this organization that got a new shot in the arm.

The organization has been operated by a small group in the past and has done some fine work.

They sponsored Lilac Day last year at a cost of $134.40 — they donated $5.00 to the Chamber of Commerce for the operation of the information booth on the highway — and $265.68 was used for Christmas favors for the kiddies last year. They still have $339.40 in the treasury.

Ken Boothe was one who spearheaded this meeting which he said was a do or die effort.

He said the business and professional people need an organization to discuss problems of mutual interest and to develop promotions for Summerland and to have a voice in community affairs. He suggested they could assist with the parking situation, tourism, signs and Lilac Day.

Mel Ducommun, a former businessman and member was chosen chairman for election of officers.

Tom White was elected chairman and Dick Randall, vice-chairman. Harry Killick was appointed secretary - treasurer and the directors are Bill Laidlaw, Howard Shannon, Robin Wright and Jerry Hallquist.

Mr. White pledged he would do his best and asked for the much needed support from the members.

Lilac Day was set for Saturday, May 21 and many ideas were brought forward in the way of suggestions for the executive to consider at a meeting they will hold May 2.

An off-street talent show was an idea as was the school band performing. A mammoth draw was a possibility and it was suggested the Queen candidates play a part. Tea may be served and of course plenty of lilacs on display.

Meetings will be held quarterly, or at call of the chairman.

Suggested items of discussion at the next meeting will be town parking and summer store hours. The chairman will be calling a meeting sometime in May.

It was the feeling of the group they should act as a part of the Chamber of Commerce. A letter, offering their services will be sent to the Chamber.

Taxi service is on the way

There was little on the Corporation agenda Tuesday night, but considerable discussion took place regarding street signs.

Councillor Barkwill said a number of years ago, a map, naming streets was drawn up, but as soon as it was made public, there were so many complaints, further action was not taken.

However as a result of Tuesday night's discussions, Works Superintendent Ken Blagborne was instructed to go ahead with placing the signs, and if changes were necessary, they could be made later.

The feasibility study of a change in the water system in Summerland Lakeshore is now complete, but Councillor Powell, who is in charge of the water department, had not had time to study it so it was tabled. It arrived Tuesday morning.

The Teen Town was authorized to hold a track meet at the ball park May 7 and 8. The estimated cost of placing a shuffleboard in the park is $492.

Councillor Hill had contacted the Parks department who thought it was an "excellent idea".

It was the feeling of council, they would build the court if the recreation committee would arrange that an organization be formed to purchase and care for equipment.

The south east end of the park is the suggested site.

Clerk Gordon Smith and Assistant Clerk Gerry Goddard will attend a municipal conference on finance at UBC June 2nd.

Mr. Philip Austen, of Pleasant View Royalite made application to operate a taxi service during the day and up to the time of the arrival of the last bus at night. He is the agent for Greyhound lines.

Council were pleased to approve this, as a taxi service was needed since there is no longer this service in town.

The opening of the David Jones lane came up once more.

On the suggestion of Councillor Barkwill, the lane will be offered for sale and District Planner John Northey will be asked to come up with a plan of how those involved may purchase portions of it with the result, everyone will be satisfied and will offer maximum convenience for everyone concerned.

Mixed Bowling banquet held

On Friday, April 22, the Mixed Bowling League held their banquet and dance in the Youth Centre.

Following the dinner, trophies were awarded by the president, Irvin Carty. The executive for the past season has done a very good job and special thanks go to the secretary, Shane Mihalick who has given so very much of his time to make it such a successful evening.

The new executive for the following season was announced. These were: President, Rick Head; vice-president Earl Bryden; secretary, Barb Roberts; treasurer, Dorothy Mayert and on the executive are Norris Laidlaw, Carol Head, Wes Funnell and Eileen Funnell of Peachland.

The dance followed, proving very successful and providing a good time for all the bowlers and their friends.

The winners of the raffle prizes were: first, Mr. C. Welsh, who won the polaroid camera; second, Mike Marus, the luggage and third, Ken Haddrell, the electric clock.

Door prizes were won by Anne Haufmann and Mary Payment.

Norm Clark new squadron com'nder

The annual general meeting of the Summerland Power Squadron was held on Monday, April 25th in the Yacht Club, with Commander Harvey Edwards in the chair.

A report was given by the Commander on the results of the Piloting class which must be passed by anyone wishing to become a member. Of those that started the class, six wrote the exam and all passed with the highest average of marks in B.C. A report from the Dominion Training Officer was read in brief by the chairman. Results from this year's advanced Piloting class have not as yet been received.

The Commander commended Training Officer John Kitson, who was not able to be present for the excellent work he had done, saying "the results of his work speak for themselves". Norman Clark was also commended for the excellent help he has given to the classes and to the squadron during the past year.

The treasurer's report showed a successful year, in that all expenses were met, the Squadron being a non-profit organization. It was felt that holding the classes under the sponsorship of the Night School had been very satisfactory.

The election of officers produced the following results: Commander, Norman Clark; Executive Officer, Harvey Edwards; Treasurer, Adrian Moyles; secretary, Maurice Trumppour; entertainment officer, Jack Harlock; public relations officer, Harold Madsen; and supplies officer, Clarence Lackey. John Kitson was reappointed training officer for the coming year.

The date for the annual graduating banquet and change of watch was set for June 3rd.

A request was made to the Squadron that a member have a boat available for the use of the Civil Defense rescue organization, in case of an accident on the lake. It was decided to give both this organization, and the RCMP a list of boats and drivers available in an emergency, as has been done in past years.

The next meeting has been set for May 8th at 7:00 p.m.

Summerland Girl Guides to sell cookies on Saturday

Summerland Girl Guides will join thousands of other Guides across Canada to sell Cookies on Saturday, April 29th through May 7th has been declared Cookie Week. The profit from cookie sales is retained in each province for the furtherance of Guide work provincially.

Funds derived are used for community service, leadership training, camping, international contacts, equipment for Guide companies, Brownie packs and for the other needs of an organization of over 30,000 members. During 1965, in various ways, members of the Guide movement assisted more than one hundred different service groups in B.C.

S'land winners in Bridge tourney

NEWS FROM PEACHLAND

PEACHLAND — Red Cross swimming classes were discussed at the meeting of the Recreation Commission on Monday, April 25. Jennifer Sanderson was appointed swimming instructor for the 66 classes. The position of assistant is again vacant, so any boy or girl aged 16 years or over wishing to apply is asked to submit a written application to the secretary Mrs. J. K. Toddas, as soon as possible.

Plans are underway for starting Junior Softball in the district but no date is set as yet. Badminton will continue on Wednesday nights in the Athletic Hall.

A FUTURE QUEEN?

Here is another of the lovely candidates for Summerland Queen. She is Dianne Solinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Solinger. Dianne golf, swims, skis, and likes to sew and cook. She is a member of Teen Town and plans on becoming an airline stewardess. She is sponsored by Teen Town.

Bob Tingley has been dining with Generals this week.

He attended a reunions dinner of "D" Company, 198th (Western Universities) Battalion, hosted by General H. F. Letson, to celebrate the 50th anniversary of enlistment. It was held at the Vancouver Hotel.

When this battalion was formed in April 1916, one company was recruited from each of the four western provinces. "D" was encamped at Vancouver and Harry F. Letson was the first recruit.

Letson made the army his career and became a General and served as aide-de-camp to the Governor General of Canada.

On his return, Bob claimed he had not changed a particle himself in the last fifty years but some of the other "boys" had aged "slightly" during that time.

Postal departments have no their problems no doubt. L & L Motel received a request for a reservation from a California couple, and it was addressed.

Under The Giant's Head

sed, West Summerland, British Columbia, Alberta. American citizens know precious little about our country. No doubt a national story would result if ne was to address a letter California, Iowa. How could anyone be so stupid in not knowing that California broke away from Iowa in the summer of 1981.

There are plenty of laughs over morning coffee — but I hard one last week that is worth sharing. Two booths were filled and the thing, directly across the way was occupied by Fred Field, Jim Schaeffer came in and had some Industrial Development business to talk over with Howard Pruden and was leaning over the back of the booth talking to him. Bill Laidlaw was sitting next to Howard so he got up saying, "Here Jim, I got the seat all warmed up for you, you sit here and I will move over with Fred."

Says Jim, "How come only half of it is warm?"

By the way, better go to April Showers on Friday night in the MacDonald School auditorium because Royalty candidates are going to talk about a few of Summerland's citizens and you wouldn't want to be talked about without having the opportunity to defend yourself would you? I'll guarantee more surprises too — on stage and off.

Peachland's Centennial Park looks like an interesting one. A park will be built out in the lake so to speak. At high water, much of it will be surrounded by water by the use of a retaining wall on three sides. Looks like it will be money well spent. There is no doubt that Canada and Canadians are going to benefit as a result of the many projects throughout the country. Projects are being developed that never would have had it not been for the Centennial.

Our apologies to Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Benner. The gremlin took the lead paragraph of the story of their Golden Wedding Anniversary 1 a t week, and their name was omitted. Very sorry.

Kindergarten teachers form Okanagan Mainline group

By GLADYS POOL

Forty enthusiastic Kindergarten teachers from Vernon to Penticton including Gladys Pool and Iris Stewart of Summerland met April 21 in the Ogopogo Room of the Kelowna Arena. This was the first meeting of the newly formed Okanagan valley Mainline preschool Education Association.

The organizers of this group were the 30 who have been taking the Kindergarten teacher training course under adult education at the Kelowna Secondary School.

Various Kindergarten supervisors throughout the valley welcomed this group into their classes for observation and practice teaching. During these visits and talking with the many Kindergarten teachers, it was discovered that an organization was needed to bring together all persons working with the pre-school children, for sharing ideas and problems.

After much thought, discussion and preparation a committee drew up an interim constitution. An interim executive was elected and the Okanagan Valley Mainline Pre-school Education Association was off the ground.

The objective of this organization is to work for the education and wellbeing of pre-school children by: (1) making known to the public the needs of children and the benefits of pre-school education; (2) promoting desirable conditions, programs and practices in all phases of day-care, nursery and kindergarten education; (3) raising the standards of preparation, and encouraging continual professional growth of teachers and leaders in the field; (4) bringing into active co-operation all groups concerned with pre-school children in the communities.

Mrs. E. R. Pelley, a member of the Kelowna Board of School Trustees, also a district representative on Canadian Conference for Children, welcomed the newly formed group, and brought greetings from the school board with this thought — there is night school for adults, university, right down to grade 1 for the others — but our greatest unmet need is pre-school education.

Mr. Dave Small brought greetings from the Department of Social Welfare.

Mrs. R. A. McFadyen, the instructor for the teacher training course, wished a successful future for the newly formed organization, she also advised the group to remember that only hard work will assure the achievement of their worthwhile objectives.

Miss Frances Treadgold, Primary Supervisor for School District 23 was the speaker. Her wealth of past experience in the field of teaching has given her deep understanding of the importance of pre-school education she pointed out that a child learns more during pre-school years than he will ever learn in any other comparable length of time in life.

Officers for the following year are: Mrs. R. A. McFadyen of Caston, honorary chairman; Mrs. V. E. Norman, Westbank, chairman; Mrs. G. Johnson, E. Kelowna, vice-chairman and program; Mrs. Gordon Brookfield, secretary; Mrs. Hary Nakayama, Kelowna, treasurer; Mrs. Francis Hatfield, Vernon, membership; Mrs. E.S. Pool, Summerland, publicity; Mrs. John Brodie, Penticton and Mrs. Stan Lindahl, Kelowna, social.

The next meeting is to be a dinner meeting in May with a speaker on mental health.

Workmen's Compensation Board announces pension increases

The Workmen's Compensation Board has announced that pensioners and allowances to widows and dependent children are increased by 2 per cent as a result of a new provision in the Workmen's Compensation Act which ties most pensions to the Consumer Price Index.

The increase is retroactive to January 1, 1966 and will be included in cheques issued April 30. About 480 widows and dependent children will benefit from the new rates.

Persons currently receiving WCB disability pensions which were granted before 1965 will also receive a 2 per cent increase, retroactive to January 1, 1966 on their May 31 cheques. More than 10,000 persons will receive increases in their disability pensions.

The amendment to the Act by the Provincial Government tying WCB pensions to the Consumer Price Index results from a recommendation by Mr Justice Charles W. Tysoe who conducted a Royal Inquiry into the Workmen's Compensation Act.

The monthly rate for widows is increased from $115 to $117.30 as a result of the 2 per cent rise. This latest increase follows an additional $25 per month payment which was announced last November and which was retroactive to January 1, 1965.

Allowances for dependent children were also increased last November. Children's allowances now run from $40.80 to $56.10 per month including the latest increase.

The Act now provides for annual increases in pensions when the Consumer Price Index has risen more than 2 per cent in the preceding year. The estimated future cost of the C.P.I. factor above in calculating benefits for current pensioners is $29,000,000.

GREAT MAN APPRECIATES HORSES

"And here I say to parents, especially wealthy parents, do not give your son money. As far as you are able, give him horses.

"No one ever came to grief — except honourable grief — through riding horses. No hour of life is lost that is spent in the saddle.

W.C.T.U. petition for restricted alcohol consumption

The Summerland union of the Women's Christian Temperance Union held their monthly meeting in the Baptist church parlors April 15 with president, Mrs. C. Miller in the chair. Mrs. G. Stenner led in a very interesting and informative devotional talk, bringing from the Scriptures, some portions against the use of alcoholic beverages.

After the Bible talk a very interesting report of the convention was given, outlining some of the resolutions that were presented to the convention, and will be presented to the Provincial convention to be held at White Rock early in May.

1. Whereas studies reveal that one drink of alcoholic beverage in the air, is equal to four on the grounds, be it resolved that WCTU petition the government to ban all alcoholic beverages on all airplanes; also all liquor be banned on government ferries.

2. Whereas recent scientific research on cigarette smoking has alerted the public to the inherent dangers in it, and whereas, the end results of the consumption of beverage alcohol have been even more devastating as a menace to health and the general well-being of our Society;

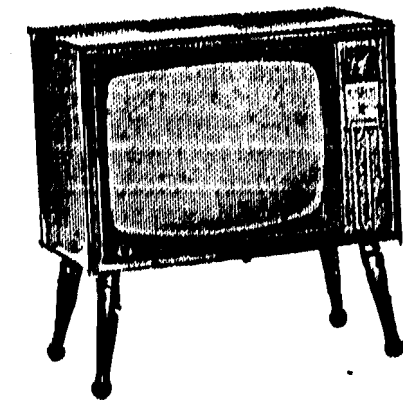

Therefore, be it resolved: the District WCTU request the Provincial WCTU to petition the Provincial Government to study the problems associated with drinking, such as its relation to economic insecurity, juvenile delinquency, crime and further — that an evaluation be made of the actual cost of the consumption of alcohol in our society at the provincial and local levels, as compared to the revenue accruing from the sale and use of liquor in all its varied forms. And moreover that this resolution be sent to the Dominion Government.

Whereas — because of the crisis in our social system and rising wave of delinquency and crime and anti-social behaviour throughout the country, the Vanier Institute, was set up, in 1964 — by the Governor General His Excellency the Honourable Vanier for the study of family life. The WCTU recommend that the above resolution be sent to this committee also.

The May meeting will feature reports from the Provincial Convention.

Search for Canadian talent campaign now underway

L. J. Wallace, General Chairman of the Canadian Confederation Centennial Committee of British Columbia, in co-operation with the British Columbia Association of Broadcasters, today announced a five-month "Centennial Search For Canadian Talent", the most comprehensive competition of its kind yet to be held in British Columbia. Endorsed at this year's annual meeting of the B.C.O.B. as that organization's main Centennial Year project, the talent search is being conducted by radio and TV stations throughout the province.

The Centennial Search For Canadian Talent will run from mid-April to mid-September, 1966. Local competitions will be conducted by participating stations during May and June, with regional contests following in July and August. The local contests will be broadcast, and the regional finals will be radio and TV simulcasts.

In September, twelve provincial semi-finalists will appear on two programs originating in Vancouver. The six selected as a result will then perform on the grand final program, telecast from the stage of the Queen Elizabeth Playhouse, and will compete for $1,000 first prize, $500 second prize and $150 third prize.

Five of the regional finalists will be chosen from the Lower Mainland area, two from Vancouver Island, and one each from the Okanagan, North-West B.C., North-East B.C. Kootenay and Cariboo regions.

Stations involved in the Talent Search are centred in Vancouver, New Westminster, Langley, Chilliwack, Abbotsford, Salmon Arm, Victoria, Nanai-

S'land Brownies earn badges

The Division 'Semi-Annual Meeting of the Girl Guide Association will be held in Summerland on May 9th at the Youth Centre, starting at 9:30 a.m. Representatives from Princeton, Keremeos, Naramata and Summerland will be in attendance. A business session of interest to all guide and brownie mothers will be held in the afternoon from 1:30 to 3:00 p.m. This is an excellent opportunity for the mothers to become acquainted with what the organization is doing for their children.

The second Summerland Brownie Pack has earned some more badges. Those receiving their skater's badges are Barbara McIntosh, Sheral Marten and Diane Kita. Joyce Evans received her ballet badge. Already in Guides, but receiving badges earned while in Brownies are Judith Walker, skaters badge and Maureen Welsh, golden hand.

An investment ceremony placed the following girls as sixers of their pack: Barbara McIntosh, Diane Kita and Heather Smith. Jennie Smith, Janice Impett and Beverly Stien were invested as seconders.

Summerland Review — 3

Clean up 'Seven Days'

The TV program "This Hour Has Seven Days" has become a best seller. The fact that it has become so popular is not to the liking of CBC. We have little doubt they would like to drop it due to internal and external pressures but they have a tiger by the tail and don't dare let go.

They have let the "faces" of the show go down the road however.

Co-hosts, Laurier La Pierre and Patrick Watson were given the sack for reasons not spelled out in black and white. There has been a public uproar as a result but CBC directors have held fast to their original decision. Watson and LaPierre must go.

To criticize the CBC for such action is unfair. These gentlemen did their job well as far as the viewer is concerned but we do not know the problems of production and we should not expect the CBC to lay bare all the intricate difficulties but rather should respect their judgement in this regard.

We feel production tastes have not been good in some cases. We feel there are too many half stories being aired. Tape has been edited to the point the speaker has not had an opportunity to state his or her case in full.

Entertaining? Yes. Does it give us food for thought? Yes. But at who's expense?

For its probing for its controversial material, Seven Days has built up a fine reputation.

Possibly a change in the production end, will be for the better. We would like to see the show go on — but in better taste.

An example of what we mean was the program last Sunday when the last half hour was taken up by those supporting LSD. A pack of so-called authorities encouraging the use of "acid" to solve the many problems of life by going out of their minds. They could have at least ended the program with a word of caution by medical experts. We wonder how many more LSD users we have as a result of this program.

Power and the Poker Players

Today's power struggles bewilder men and nations. It has not always been so. The Pax Romana and Pax Britannica were long periods of peace built on power. The Romans had their legions. Britain thanked God for her navy. Gunboat diplomacy kept even the great continents of Asia and Africa quiet and respectful.

Two great wars in our century popularized power in Washington and Moscow. Then came the atomic bomb. It looked to the U.S.A. like the ace in the hole for any international power poker game. But in a few years, first the Soviets, then Britain and France had it. Now China has its atomic bomb.

The shift to more power centres is more than national, more than the addition of China's Mao and France's de Gaulle. In their continental might, Asia and Africa rise up as vast power areas.

Three years ago a mighty power challenge erupted as Cuba became the base of Soviet missile sites. This threat to the U.S.A.'s soft under belly gave Washington the jitters. Here was poker-playing brinkmanship in high gear. Said American State Secretary Dean Rusk: "It was eye-ball to eye-ball."

The thermonuclear bomb is too big and threatening for the players of international poker games to control. When the very existence of men and nations is threatened, such players must become an extinct species.

There is but one hope, the United Nations, made truly international by the admittance to membership of all powers, including Communist China. The challenge is to all nations to unite and curb the threat and realize the promise of thermonuclear power.

Expo '67 everybody's job

Promoting Expo 67 as the foremost of a host of projects scheduled across the nation to mark Canada's hundredth birthday year is a job for all Canadians.

Admittedly, each individual community quite naturally prefers to polish the image of its own centennial plan and, besides, it might be logically argued, Expo 67 has at its disposal a high-powered public relations team and a substantial budget to put its story across.

But in a day and age when the eye, the ear and the mind of the public are battered by a ceaseless barrage of messages, even the best of publicists has his work cut out to get over a bare fraction of his story.

Of course, there are those with much to gain by publicizing Expo who say that, when the proper time comes, they will help and help plenty, but these concerns — the air lines, the railways, the bus companies, the restaurants, the travel agencies, to name but a few of those able to underline the importance of Expo to Canadians at home and foreigners abroad — argue that 1966 comes before 1967.

Business in centennial year will be big for them all, but they also feel that beating effect, be tantamount to telling the tourist the 1967 drums too loudly now could, in traveller to sit tight in 1966 and save his from outside our borders and the native travel funds for next year.

The argument has some merit; publicity for any given subject can reach a peak too soon and the public's interest can wane at a notorious clip. But it's only a trace more than a year before the big show opens its gates and, if we want the message to filter through the maze of other news and, of a necessity, well beyond our shores, we should be talking up Expo now.

A peripatetic journalist recently return from an across-Canada trip notes that Expo publicity is conspicuous by its absence and that few people beyond the environs of Montreal know anything of the what-when of this, one of the most ambitious national projects since the completion of the Canadian Pacific Railroad in 1885.

Granted that opening day is still twelve months away, this is not a state of affairs which should be allowed to obtain for much longer. The plans for telling the Expo story in the weeks and months ahead need to be implemented now.

But spreading the word is not only a job for the paid publicist and those who hope their cash registers will ring a merry tune of tourist dollars. It is a task for all who recognize Expo 67 for what it is: a unique and superlative mirror to reflect Canada's young and eager face to the world.

ORCHARD RUN

by Wally Smith

Freezing Temperatures Threaten Industry

After two successive years of heavy crop loss caused by low temperatures one can be excused for wondering if fruit growing in this area is destined to become a marginal industry.

There is plenty of evidence throughout the world as proof of climatic shift, and we may be experiencing such a shift right now in the Okanagan. It requires but a few degrees to have a profound affect on the climate.

On the other hand, old timers tell of severe frosts here in the old days, so we may just be on the turn of a climatic cycle.

But whatever the explanation, there is no doubt the low temperatures caused heavy losses in Dec. 1964, and further severe crop losses have occurred this spring.

We don't know yet how much damage has been done to the blossoms and tender green fruit, but it is quite extensive in some orchards.

Of course there will be fruit to harvest, but for many growers it will be only part of a crop, maybe half a crop or even less, and that's not good enough.

In these days of high operating costs a fruit grower must harvest a full crop every year or he will not even make farm wages.

The way some progressive thinking apple men figure it, the situation is even more serious than that. They say the only growers who can survive in the future will be those who go in for high density planting and thereby double their present production.

One thing becoming more apparent is that we must find a way to eliminate or reduce our crop losses caused by frost.

There isn't much we can do about sub-zero winter temperatures except grow trees that survive such temperatures and produce a crop the following summer.

This could mean the severe limbing of stone fruit planting and a strong preference for apples and pears.

To moot the threat of blossom time frosts we can raise the temperatures in the orchard with a large number of modern heaters — an expensive undertaking — or we can grow hardier fruits that can withstand the low temperatures sometimes experienced at blossom time.

It is unfortunate that one of our most widely planted apple varieties, Red Delicious, is very susceptible to frost damage at blossom time. The Red Delicious is very tender, and the blossoms will die at temperatures not low enough to harm McIntosh, Rome, and Spartan blossoms, and perhaps other varieties.

Investment in adequate orchard heating equipment could run as high as $250 an acre. However, if the crop can be saved the cost is worth it. The important thing is to have enough heaters to do the job. Only half the required number is a waste of money.

Some research has been done on the use of a chemical spray to delay the time of blossoming by a week or two. If this can be achieved without harmful side effects it will provide part of the answer to the spring frost problem.

ASPARAGUS PIZZA

'Asparagus Pizza' is a novel way to serve fresh asparagus. Buttered buns are topped with cooked asparagus, seasoned tomato sauce and grated cheese. They are heated under the broiler until the cheese melts and they are delicately browned. This suggestion comes from the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Horticultural Society holds meeting

The regular meeting of the Summerland Horticultural Society was held on Tuesday, April 19th in the Parish Hall. In the absence of the president, vice-president, Tom Manning was in the chair. Three door prizes of growers supplies were won by: E. J. Melvin, Edith Burns and W. G. Snow.

A plant sale was held with a very good selection of dahlia bulbs donated by E. Bennett.

Alex Watt and W. F. Ward were judges for a parlour show and winners in class one were Mrs. W. R. Powell, Mrs. C. E. Bingham and Mrs. A. Inch; in Class two, Mrs. Bingham, Mrs. A. Inch and Doreen Tait; Class

Senior citizens entertained

PEACHLAND — Peachland's Senior Citizens gathered Friday in the Athletic Hall at a tea given for them by the Peachland W.I. Entertainment was provided by a group of singers from the United Church Choir and Rick Oakes, a very talented accordionist.

Card tables were provided for the card players of the group, and Mrs. L. Mitchell of Trepanier entertained the ladies by her teacup reading. A very pleasant afternoon was enjoyed by all.

The site of Expo 67 is within 10 minutes' driving distance from downtown Montreal.

LET'S GET NEWSY . . . of the West Kootenay Rebekah District Association held in Nelson, April 16. Mrs. Atkinson resigned as supervisor of this district, an office she has held for many years; Mrs. F. Grubisic of Rossland was recommended to this position. Dr. and Mrs. James Marshall are back after spending a week in Prince George.

"No Place Like Home," Says Burglar Bill

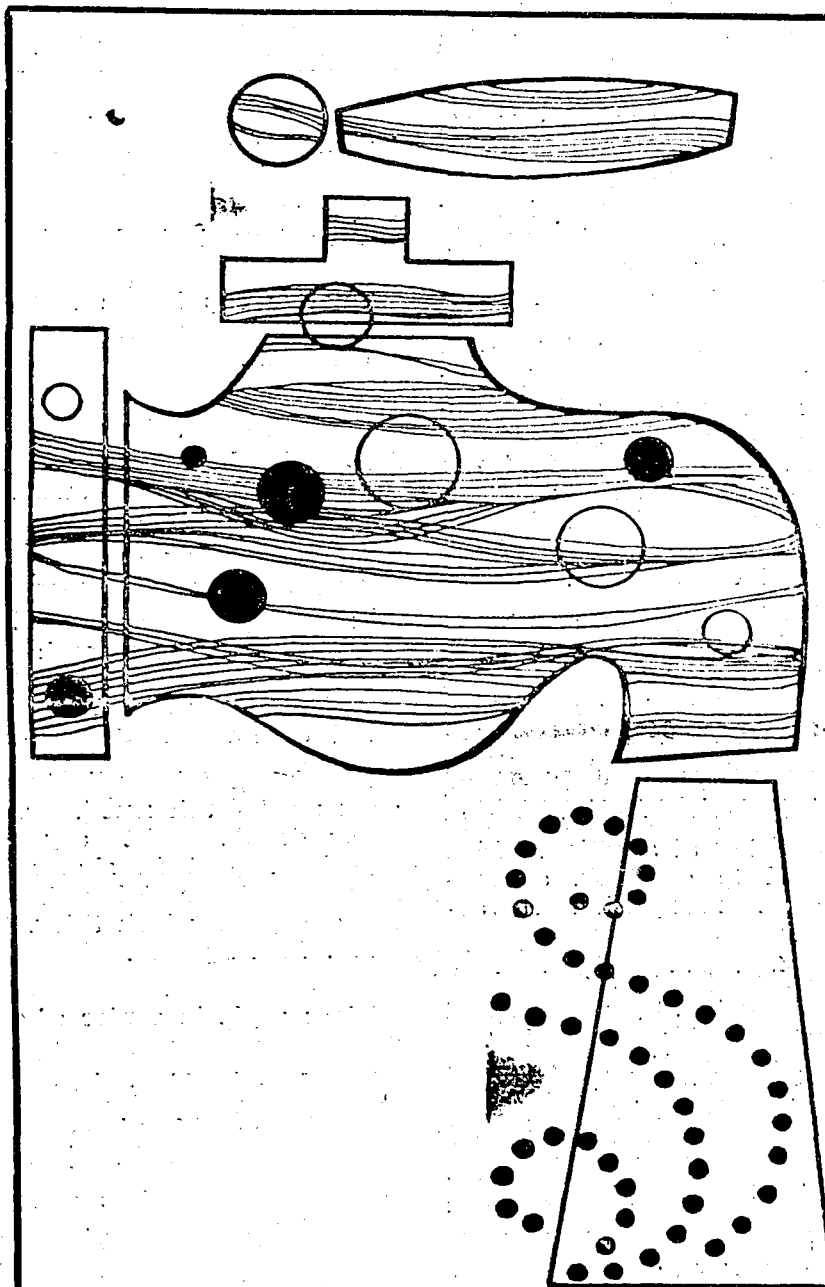

If you took the advice of Burglar Bill, you'd keep all your valuables at home. Under the mattress, maybe. Or in that old tea pot which lost its spout.

But Bill's advice isn't entirely objective. He figures if you leave your valuables at home — even in a "safe" hiding place — he stands a better chance of getting his hands on them.

Much better advice comes from Jack Johnson, manager of the Summerland branch of the Bank of Montreal. "Keep your valuables really safe in a B of M safety deposit box," says Mr. Johnson. "Your personal strong box, exclusively yours, costs less than two cents a day, and it pays for itself over and over again in peace of mind alone," he adds.

Hundreds of thousands of Canadians use B of M safety deposit box facilities. Their valuables — bonds, leases, stock certificates, insurance policies, deeds, birth certificates, passports and other important family papers are safe and sound behind the steel doors of the B of M vault.

Forget what Burglar Bill says. Mr. Johnston says, "Clean out those closets, drawers — and the tea pots. Bring your valuables into the bank instead." Advt.

Centennial Report

1867 | 1967

CENTENNIAL COMMISSIONER

What small town or city in Canada has not been served, at some time in its history, by a Chinese restaurant or a Chinese laundry? Our communities have been built by the contributions of many cultures and it occurs to me that too often the contributions of the Chinese have been overlooked.

In earlier times the Chinese provided the backbone of labour for railroad building. They were the cooks in mines and lumber camps. Gradually they developed small businesses and provided services to communities which few others were prepared or able to offer. They still do that today and scores of small communities would have no public eating places if it were not for Canadians of Chinese extraction. Also they provide a cultural addition to our cities with their glamorous and interesting modern "Chinatowns".

These contributions I have mentioned are some of the more noticeable ones. Chinese Canadians today are active as well in most other areas of modern society — in the arts, the professions, in business, even in politics. For example Mr. Peter Wing recently became the first Chinese Canadian to be elected mayor of a Canadian city, at Kamloops, B. C.

The people of Vernon, B. C., are quite aware of the contribution the Chinese have made in the development of their community. What has made them more aware recently is an effort by the Chinese community of Vernon to build a tea house as a Centennial project in the city park. Walter Jee, spokesman for the Chinese community's Freemasons and Dart Coon Club, told the city council that some of the oldtimers wanted to build the tea house as a reminder of the new and old cultures.

I can agree heartily with the Vernon News which commended in one of its editorials: "Chinese Canadians should be saluted on their desire to play a part in celebrating the 100th anniversaries of B.C. and Canada. In this way their part in the building of a nation, which we tend to overlook, can receive the recognition it deserves."

The first Chinese arrived at Vernon 60 to 70 years ago and the community reached 700 people around the time of the First World War. The News states that they went to Vernon in force with the building of the railroad and earlier some took part in the Cherry-

To decide golf champions Sunday

Members of Sumac Ridge Golf & Country Club will be teeing off at 8:00 a.m. Sunday to decide the winner of their annual Captain - Vice-captain tournament.

Most members have registered, so a good turnout is expected. Play will be a two ball mixed foursome.

Members not yet registered may do so by contacting Geo. Taylor or Bernie Hume-Smith.

The main form of transport at Expo 67 will be by the Expo Express railway and it will be free.

ville gold rush. "They stayed to provide the labour needed to operate canneries and the agricultural industry. It was menial labour because they lacked the education and knowledge of the language to get better jobs.

"But the Chinese established themselves as hard workers and good citizens. Many became prosperous businessmen and played a significant role in the community's development." I might add that whenever the Chinese were allowed to bring up families in Canada, they strove to give their children higher education.

It is easy to see that the Centennial is not only an occasion of celebrations. It is a time when we are reminded that Canadians of all backgrounds have developed this country and that we cannot afford to think that any group of us can be self-sufficient in isolation. I believe that the Centennial projects — the big ones being conducted on a national scale and the small ones like the Vernon tea house — will remind us that Canadians originated from societies and cultures all over the world and will increase our understanding of each other's way of life and point of view.

Apple Dumplings

Apples:
4 to 5 good sized apples, peeled and cored
quarter cup brown sugar
2 tablespoons butter
cinnamon
raisins

Dough:
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
3/4 teaspoon salt
6 tablespoons shortening
6 tablespoons cold water

Sauce:
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 cup brown sugar
3 tablespoons butter
1 1/2 cups water

Blend sauce ingredients and cook until thickened. Cool. Make dough. Sift dry ingredients. Cut in shortening. Stir in water and blend. Roll out one-quarter inch thick. Cut into 7 inch squares.

Junior ladies form golf association

It will be Ladies Day at the Sumac Ridge Golf & Country Club May 4 when the 40 members will invade the course.

A Junior Association was formed last night. We could not get the report of this at press time, but 25 young ladies had indicated interest.

Bill Fitzpatrick Key Club president

The Summerland Kiwanis Club, sponsors of the Key Club hosted the junior group to a steak dinner April 28 at the High School Auditorium.

Jack Towgood officiated in the Key Club installation of officers and Bill Fitzpatrick was made president; Wayne McInnis, vice-president and Dave McIntosh secretary treasurer. The directors will be named in September.

School band receives two standing ovations in Spokane

Summerland's Senior Secondary School band had a very enjoyable 700-mile trip. The band left Wednesday and returned Saturday. They played four concerts on this trip.

The first of these concerts was played to an enthusiastic audience in Grand Forks. The Grand Forks secondary school has no band program hence our band concert was well appreciated. Second and third concerts were played in Spokane's North Central High school auditorium. Approximately 2000 students attended the concerts. Summerland Band Director Jim Grinder said that the band played exceptionally well at these two concerts.

The American audiences were extremely receptive, giving the Summerland band a standing ovation at each concert. The Summerland band's fourth concert was played along with Nelson's Secondary Band directed by Ted Gergely, and the Trafalgar Grade 8 Girls' Choir directed by M. R. Bunt. The band members played well at each of these concerts.

The band was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Chalmers and Mr. and Mrs. Grinder. The chaperons commended the students for their good behaviour on the trip.

The Nelson Trafalgar - L. V. Rogers Schools' Concert Band will be visiting Summerland on May 13. Jim Grinder mentioned that the Nelson and Summerland band will be putting on a joint blanket concert in Summerland's park on May 13 at 7 p.m.

This concert will be open to the public. Admission will be one blanket big enough to "sit" your family. If the weather doesn't permit this concert to take place outdoors, it will be held in the Secondary School auditorium. This Saturday's bottle drive along with a coin collection taken at this concert will help pay for the Summerland band trip.

Bridge Club celebrates 2nd anniversary

The Summerland Duplicate Bridge Club held its second anniversary on Monday, April 25. A large attendance saw 17 tables in play with two sections. Following are the results:

GREEN — N/S 1st tied: Mrs Edna Hall and John Paslowski of Penticton and Mrs. Pearl Forsythe and Bob Stewart of Kelowna; 3rd Mrs. Gert Lewis and Mrs. Marg Berry; 4th Mr and Mrs. Roy Stewart, White Lake;

E/W 1st Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Ford, Kelowna; 2nd Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hughes-Games, Kelowna; 3rd Mr. J. Millen, Kamloops, and Dick Thomas, Kelowna; 4th Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Brown, Kelowna; RED N/S — 1st Bill Heppeler, Summerland, and Don Phelps, Kelowna; 2nd Mr. and Mrs. Wm. G. Evans, Summerland; 3rd Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Purcell, Kelowna.

4th Mrs. Ada Haldane and Mrs. Ruth Buchanan, Kelowna.

Following the bridge session a social evening was held. Mr. Clair Eisey presented Bill Heppeler and R. G. (Don) Phelps of Kelowna with the Open Pairs Championship.

Among the players was Wes Funnell of Peachland, who brought with him his orchestra, and those present enjoyed a very nice social evening.

square. Fill core cavity with cinnamon and raisins, brown sugar and butter.

Fold dough over top of apples. Press down over top of apples. Place in greased pan. Prick dough with fork. Pour sauce over all and bake in hot oven, 425 degrees, for 45 to 50 minutes.

Canadians not declaring all incomes

If Canadians were paying all the income taxes they should, a general tax increase could be avoided for the country, said a chartered accountant.

J. A. Charpentier, a member of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of British Columbia, said many Canadians are blissfully unaware that much income they receive is taxable — and so they don't declare it and don't pay tax on it.

The result is that the government fails to collect all the income it should, and the overall tax rate must be boosted to bring in the additional revenue.

"From the practical point of view, the lack of adequate reporting on the part of the individual enables him to pre-judge many receipts and when ever there is a n y possibility that the item will be non-taxable he naturally rules in his own favor.

Peachland News

By BRENDA DAVIES
Peachland's Red Cross campaign is now completed. Mrs. F. Wraite, chairman, announced this week that $216 was collected this year, and she wished to thank all canvassers who did such an excellent job of covering the district.

Friends and neighbours will be glad to know that Mrs. C. C. Helgway and J. K. Todd are now home, after their lengthy stay in Kelowna Hospital.

A recent visitor at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Nell, was Mrs. Peggy Rice from 100 Mile House.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. K. Domi last week wore Mrs. Domi's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Rye of Huntsville, Ont. This was their first visit to B.C. and they were impressed by our climate and scenery.

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Fallowfield on Lipsett Ave. were their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. L. Svokle, and their son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. R. Fallowfield and daughters Karen and Kelly — all from Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Spakoman, Bev and Joy are home again after a wonderful holiday in Hawaii. They spent the first nine days in Walkiki and remainder of holidays visiting Mrs. Spakoman's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. D. Robertson and family at Maui, where they spent most of their time on the beach, arriving home Friday with lovely tans.

Several members of Peachland's W. I. drove to Westbank Tuesday afternoon to attend the latter's 80th birthday meeting. Mrs. K. Domi presented Mrs. E. Gaskell, president, with a corsage to mark this happy occasion.

Teen Town plans big weekend

Fourteen delegates of the Summerland Teen Town attended the B.C. Teens Associated Conference in Nanaimo during the Easter holidays.

Everyone had a lot of fun and learned more about Teen Town procedure. Nanaimo Teens went to much trouble to show the delegates a good time. They had luncheons, banquets and dances for approximately 300.

Awards were given at the final banquet. Summerland Teen Town received an award for placing fourth in B.C. in the March of Dimes drive. Jack Bennett, the Premier of S.O.T.A. and a member of the local council received a citation of merit for hard work and leadership during the past year. The B.C.T.A. Conference is to be held in Penticton next year.

Summerland Teen Town has a big weekend planned for May 6, 7 and 8. This is the second of what they hope will be an

by Dorothy Gellatly

Westbank — Twelve members and guests of Westbank United Church Alpha Circle met April 20 at the home of Mrs. Emma Wolfe, president Mrs. John Seltenrich presiding at the regular meeting. A welcome was extended to Mrs. Daisy Hardwicke, former member and long-time Westbank resident, who now lives in Alberta, and presently is the guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Hardwicke. Several Circle members plan to attend the Kamloops-Okanagan United Church rally April 27 in Penticton. Discussion of a project to be undertaken by the group resulted in the decision to set up a missionary box in aid of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart, who are in charge of a school and orphanage in Haiti.

Mrs. Alex Windt, during her winter travels, bought a quantity of supplies to be used for the annual United Church bazaar, and these materials were distributed among the members, and will be made up into a variety of articles for this year's bazaar.

Mrs. Windt, in conjunction with Mrs. Wolfe, offered to undertake the fitting and making of drapes for the Christian Education Hall from materials

Westbank considers Regional District

At the executive meeting of the Westbank and District Chamber of Commerce, held April 18th aboard the mv Pendozi, the executive voiced itself as unanimously in favour in principle of the formation of a Regional District under Bill 83, within School District No. 23. The executive answered in the affirmative to holding a representative meeting in the near future along with other representatives of School District No. 23. The mechanics of operation of such a district with regard to taxation, representation and fields of participation such as planning, zoning, building inspection, health etc., would be up to the electorate to decide at a later date.

The Chamber feels this progressive move will be to the benefit of all residents of the area in that it will provide a basic governing body to control the growth of the community involved in a truly democratic way through locally elected representatives.

It is important to note each area involved may elect or reject participation in any phase of control or service offered by the Regional District and they pay only for what services they want.

The Chamber applied for application to join the Okanagan-Similkameen Associated Chambers of Commerce which covers the southern part of the Okanagan.

A report was given by President, Edward F. M. Hill on the telephone toll removal. The Public Utilities Commission has informed the Chamber that to date, three proposals have been turned down and they are awaiting a further proposal by the company which will come closer to the Chamber's request for the revision of tariff downward on an equalized basic rate. The elimination of tolls would appear to be inevitable at this date, but a further public hearing may be necessary.

The Road Petition for widening and surfacing of a further three miles in progressive improvement of the Westside road is receiving favourable attention from the Department of Highways, and now has over 125 names of property owners. Any person owning property along this road and wishing to sign a petition is asked to contact any member, or the president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Considerable discussion regarding entering a float in the Kelowna Regatta parade took place. Ideas for the same are solicited from any resident in the area.

The Chamber is discussing the possibility of arranging a general meeting in June to discuss topics of local interest and importance with the possibility of using a panel of authorities on the subjects on the agenda.

Mr. Carl Purdy has been confirmed in the position of treasurer of the Westbank and Dis-

Mysterious Quartette expected at Westbank Variety Night

by Dorothy Gellatly

Westbank — St. George's Day, April 24, was marked by the congregation of St. George's Anglican Church by a pot-luck supper held Friday, April 23, in Westbank Community Hall, St. George's Guild making the arrangements.

Another evening's entertainment planned by the Guild is set for Tuesday, May 3 at 8 p.m. and aptly named "Maytime Melodies", which also will be held in the Community Hall.

Local and imported talent will present a variety program, one number of which is a barber-shop quartette. Always popular, this item is a bit of a mystery, as names of those comprising the quartette cannot be learned, and many guesses are heard concerning the identity of those taking part.

Other items will consist of instrumental and vocal numbers, and the program promises to be enjoyable, with Highland dances from Kelowna, a community sing-song, door prize and refreshments.

Jehovah's Witnesses 1126 strong converge on Peach Bowl

Delegates to the weekend assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses in Penticton's beautiful new Peach Bowl, heard the answer to the current theory that God is Dead, when District Supervisor, M. Mais, spoke on the subject — "Does God Have Influence in This Twentieth Century?"

Mr. Mais said, "As a result of the 'God is Dead' theory, an increasing number of people are influenced to become lovers of pleasure and to shove God into the background." He then pointed to the Biblical evidences of God's interest in the affairs of mankind, before drawing attention to this twentieth century.

1126 were on hand to hear the informative discourse Sunday afternoon.

Earlier, convention delegates were treated to the sight of six new ministers symbolizing their strong faith in the dynamic Creator and their dedication to do His will by being immersed in water during a baptismal ceremony.

Mr. E. Felker of the local congregation, who shared in a portion of the assembly program on Saturday evening, spoke enthusiastically of the benefits received at the convention.

The European Common Market will be among the international bodies taking part at Expo 67.

Couple exchange vows at candlelight ceremony

A pretty candlelight ceremony was performed by the Reverend John Harder of Kelowna at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Shannon, Lakeview Heights, Westbank, on Saturday April 16th, when their niece, Telvina May, of Rutland became the bride of John Arthur McLelland of Saskatchewan.

The living room in which the ceremony was performed, was decorated with candleabra and a beautiful arrangements of pink gladiolas, pink carnations and white chrysanthemums.

For the reception, the hostess Mrs. Shannon wore a dress of blue satin and wool lace, with a white carnation corsage. Among the 30 guests were her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. E. Ritchey, of Kelowna, and Mr. and Mrs. Melvyn Marshall, Heather and Bobby from Rutland, and the bride's young cousins.

During the buffet supper Mr. Shanon gave the toast to the bride and a telegram was read from Victoria, B.C.

The young couple left for a honeymoon trip to Edmonton and upon their return will reside in Kelowna.

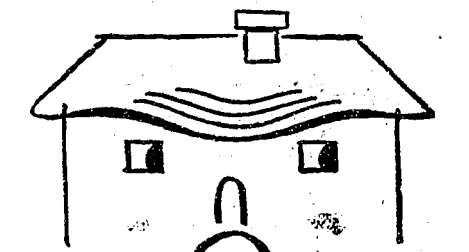

The bride, given-away by her uncle, wore a white satin brocade sheath dress with a matching coat, and a small white feathered hat. Her only ornament was a fine gold cross and chain and she carried a bouquet of red roses. Attending her was her aunt, Mrs. Elmer Speer, of Rutland and the organist for the evening wedding was Mrs. Schroeder, the wife of Pastor Schroeder of the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church, Kelowna.

The bride's cousin La Donna Shannon, dressed in a pale blue dress trimmed with hearts, was the little candlelighter.

John Cooke talks on new system

There is no doubt that the children of the MacDonald School want a milk dispenser. The first day it went into operation, 80 pints were put in and were all sold. The following day the machine was empty after school was out and had accounted for 120 pints.

This was included in a report to the trustees by Principal John Cooke.

Student teachers will arrive at the school next week and will be taking training for two weeks.

Mr. Weeks will attend a library workshop at Kamloops on May 6 and 7, and Mr. Cooke attend an arithmetic workshop in Kelowna on April 25.

Primary registration is taking place this week. Children who will be 6 years of age by December 31 are eligible to start school in September.

Parents may register their children at the MacDonald and Trout Creek schools until tomorrow. A birth certificate or other proof of age is necessary.

The Kiwanis Club, sponsors of the School Patrol will be entertaining the members at a dinner on May 10th. Mr. Cooke praised by the Kiwanis for their financial and moral support.

The Principal outlined a non-graded, new progressive promotional policy to the board.

The aim of the system is to promote a refinement in organizing groups and curriculum at the elementary level, so that the groups may move at a speed in relation to their ability to learn in those subject areas where there is an organized building of skills required.

Mr. Cooke said that those in favor of the non-graded (i.e. no more grades 1, 2, 3, etc.) system feel it offers a solution to the dilemma of whether to promote a pupil who has fallen behind the others in his grade. With this system, at the beginning of each school year, they will just continue where he left off the year before.

This was proposed for the first six grades.

"The administration to this system will be extremely difficult," Mr. Cooke said. "We must make sure all the children are ready for the grade system again at Grade 7. Careful records must be kept."

He anticipated misunderstanding on the part of parents and some older teachers may find it difficult to change their thinking.

He outlined examples in arithmetic, spelling, writing and language as to how it may work and had prepared a sample report card. This system is being used in the Oliver Elementary school.

Nelson — A weekend of memorial proportions is scheduled at the end of April when Notre Dame University's largest graduating class in its 16-year history receive recognition.

Bachelor degrees in arts, sciences and education along with first six diplomas offered in the medical secretaryship field, will be conferred on 48 NDU students.

Junior badminton finals held

The Summerland Junior Badminton Club held their final night of play on Saturday, April 16th at the Badminton Hall. The evening marked the close of a very, very successful season with 40 juniors playing and receiving coaching three times a week during the season.

Winners of the tournament held on Saturday were: Girl's single, Gina Storey, and Boy's single, David Stewart. They were presented with cups by George Fudge. The trophy for the junior showing the greatest progress during the year was awarded to Margaret Holler, who was not present at the time to receive the award.

Mr. George Fudge and Mrs. Freda Storey have been the organizers of the junior club throughout the season and deserve a hearty vote of appreciation for their efforts. This is a very time consuming job and the lack of parents turning out to help with the training and care of the youngsters makes it an even more demanding position. Assisting Mr. Storey was Jocelyn Stewart.

A grove of 60-foot evergreens will be transplanted from the West Coast for the Western Provinces pavilion at Expo 67.

Days of yore recalled at Westbank Women's Institute meet

by Dorothy Gellatly

Westbank — Marking its 38th birthday, Westbank Women's Institute entertained guests of Peachland WI as well as charter and early members of the Westbank organization, at the April meeting held at the home of Mrs. Peter Smid.

First Institute president Mrs. R. A. Pritchard told of early days when the late Mrs. W. J. Stevens was an inspiration to all and who, during the depression days, was responsible for the one-day conference, still carried on by WI's in various districts. Westbank WI also was instrumental in establishment of the Peachland-Westbank Victorian Order of Nurses, a boon to these communities when transportation was more difficult than it is today. Another first for WI was the founding of Westbank Fall Fair, the first being held in 1928 as a flower show.

Peachland WI president, Mrs. D. M. presented a corsage to Westbank WI president, Mrs. Ed Gaskell, and business was dealt with briefly so that the afternoon might be enjoyed as a social gathering. Mrs. J. H. Blackey showed pictures of Hawaii as well as local flower gardens, and a quilt made for the Institute by Mrs. Emma Wolfe, was drawn for and won by the very lady who made and donated it!

Miss Jeane Brown, whose mother, the late Mrs. Washington Brown, was a charter member, brought one of her delectable chifon cakes to Tuesday's tea and among early members welcomed were Mrs. A. C. Hoskins, Mrs. Daisy Hardwicke, Miss M. M. Gellatly and Mrs. Pritchard. Others invited, but unable to attend were first WI

Mrs. T. B. Reece will be the hostess for the May meeting, when Mental Health Week will be marked by a talk on that subject; date of the meeting being May 10 at 2 p.m. Peachland members invited Westbank WI members to their next meeting.

United Church W. I. to hold penny auction

The Onward Unit of the United Church Women has decided upon the date of their Afternoon Tea and this year are adding a new feature which should prove of interest to all. The tea will be held on Saturday, May 7th in the United Church Hall. The new feature is a Penny Auction Sale. This auction sale will start at 2:00 p.m. with an interesting assortment of articles to be knocked down by the auctioneer. Everyone is invited to bring their pennies, and a few larger coins, and enjoy the fun. There is bound to be something you can't resist bidding on.

A Plant Sale will also be held in the lobby of the hall, and a good assortment is promised. Tea will be served in the church hall after you have enjoyed the sales.

Cure for cancer the killer

How soon can we expect a cure for cancer? The ever-cautious men who probe this disease will go as far as to say we may soon be taking pills to protect us from some cancers. The opinion of experts is also on record that leukemia will probably give us the first real breakthrough in the cancer picture.

But no serious-minded scientist can predict when the complete mastery of man over cancer can be achieved.

We can't buy surefire predictions in this war:

We can buy steady progress against a major threat to human life.

The Summerland Unit of the Canadian Cancer Society is currently preparing for its annual campaign for funds. On Tuesday, May 3 the Kiwanis Club will make a house to house canvass for funds to fight cancer. Please give generously.

Wisdom of purchasing IOOF Hall given second look

The winter works program possibly held up construction on the new wing of the Summerland Secondary School.

The contractor told secretary treasurer J. B. Hack a firm in Vancouver was to lay the floors but has not been able to make it to Summerland due to pressure of work at the coast. It was suggested by Superintendent Gordon P. A. T. O. N., that it may be due to the pressure of getting winter works construction completed by the end of April.

The trustees are considering doing a minimum amount of work on the new school grounds (the former Dunham property) this year.

The question was whether they should water it and let come up what will or continue to work the land this summer killing unwanted grass and do a proper job in the fall.

Principal Tamblin did not feel it was level enough to use as a playground and would rather keep off it this year, and do a proper job in the fall. It was left to the grounds committee.

They will make a decision on the disposal of the home on the property at their next meeting.

Councillor Barkwill suggested it may be the time to negotiate with the IOOF Lodge to purchase their hall to increase the playground area. The last time the school investigated the costs, it was set at $18,000.

With reference to this, Barkwill said he did not think the price was too high.

"We will lose good ground if it is sold to anyone else", he said, "and now that it is fenced, we are losing more."

The building is located in the southwest corner of the grounds.

"It will never be cheaper than it is now", Barkwill concluded.

Mr. Tamblin said he could put up arguments showing advantages in acquiring the land, but said the cost factor was something else.

Chairman John Tamblin said "the whole west strip is lost with that corner lot in there."

Trustee Boothe moved that a survey be made to find out what advantage it would be to the playgrounds if they purchase the property. This was carried.

Secretary treasure Hack said the provincial government grants have been increased $40,355 this year.

Trustee Dave McIntosh wondered if it would make any difference in making out the budget, if the provincial home owners grant was shown as being an educational grant — which, in effect it is.

Superintendent Paton said it was just part of the tax structure in the way of a municipal grant for education so the school board cannot claim it because they don't receive it direct.

A quick piece of mathematics revealed that the increase of $10 in the home owner grant will take care of the two mill increase needed for education in Summerland this year.

An automatic telephone exchange system will be installed in the school complex in September. It will be used for one year on a trial basis.

The system will give them an inside as well as an outside communication.

This vote went three for and trustee Boothe against. For the motion were McIntosh, Miltimore and Barkwill.

Mr. Boothe was in favor of installing three new phones where the tie-ups or places of

At the April 20 meeting, we had a full attendance. There was evidence that some had spent some of their time on S t a r Tests because several were turned in. Some have developed a very ingenious code which although it appears complicated, it is very easy to remember and decipher if you know the key.

Lee Miltimore completed the National Flag test for the Blue Star. Melvin Zachary and John Wilson passed the Foreign Fags Test for the Tawny Star and Melvin Zachary and Michael Prokopenko passed the Water Cycle Test for the Black Star. Since these boys are all in the Red Six it is obvious they are out to win the April competition.

At the Pack meeting we had a test on knots. I am afraid some have not been practising and did not do very well. The following boys passed: Wade and Lorn MacGregor; Chris McIntosh, Eric Munn, Michael Prokopenko, Danny Ashton, Lee Miltimore, Allan Clark and Rodney Embree. A few have not turned in their knotting boards yet and will not be credited until they have completed the test. The younger Cubs have started on the First Aid Test for the Blue Star. If the boys continue to turn up at Pack meetings with as many injuries as they had tonight there will be no lack of patients to practice upon.

The Bicycle Rodeo is scheduled for Sunday afternoon, May 1. But at the time of writing I have no further information. This will be part of the bicycle test.

The six competition points are: Black Six 75; Red Six 89; Yellow Six 77. Quite obviously the extra efforts of the Red Six outside Pack meetings has given them a substantial lead.

need were indicated. One more for the MacDonald School and one each for the two Counsellors in the Secondary School.

This could be done for about $20 less per month, but the other trustees felt the convenience of inside communication would be worth the extra money. The new system will be installed in September.

Secondary School Principal John Tamblin and Assistant Principal Chas. Greenhough will attend a meeting in Vernon with the Okanagan Regional College President Walker to discuss the curriculum for the college.

A floor polisher was authorized to be sold to the Summerland Elks Lodge and a number of other items of furniture will be advertised for sale to the public.

Band, Key Club bottle drive slated for Saturday

As in previous years, the Summerland Secondary School band and the Summerland Secondary School Key Club are combining to hold a bottle drive. The band students, recently returned from a very successful tour to Spokane, Nelson and Grand Forks, will be actually making the collections at the various homes throughout the Summerland community. The Key Clubbers, a senior boys' service club in the secondary school, will be in charge of organizing the routes and sorting the bottles. The money raised from this drive will be used by both groups towards travelling expenses.

In the past, the bottle drives early in the spring have been most successful and much appreciated by the residents of the community. It gives them a chance to help the students as well as obtain help in cleaning up their basements, garages, etc. for the summer. Collections will start at 9 o'clock on Saturday, April 30 and should be finished by noon hour.

Householders not called on by twelve o'clock are kindly requested to phone the high school at 494-2501 between 12 and 12:30 and a special pickup will be made.

Hawaii comes to Summerland

Aho . . . ha! That was the warm greeting exchanged over and over again as the Summerland Jolly Boys and their wives were paid a surprise visit last Wednesday by their tour guide from Hawaii.

Mrs. Gladys Burke who heads "Pink Cloud Holidays" in Honolulu, was driven down from Kamloops by the former Josephine Lenzi and her husband. They met Mrs. Burke on their Hawaiian trip last December.

She popped into the 5c to $1 Store with only a half hour to spend in Summerland as she was due back in Kamloops to appear on TV that evening.

Gladys, as she is fondly called by all, was quickly whisked from home to home, and to the various business premises to greet her friends of the Jolly Boys group.

The weather, that day, was anything but Hawaiian, but Mrs. Burke was enchanted with the scenery and referred to our weather as pleasantly invigorating.

Peachland Teen-Town

PEACHLAND — Chaperones, bouncers, and the advisability of asking the RCMP to be present at dances were discussed at Wednesday's meeting of Peachland's Teen Town. There are plans underway for a Casterways dance to be held May 30th with Peachland's champion Go-Go dancers in attendance.

Maureen Todd gave a report on the Teen Town conference in Nanaimo during the holidays, and spoke of a plan to stabilize the top 10 hits in all of the Okanagan. Marina Davies and Glenna Todd were appointed public relations officers, and one of their jobs will be to compile Peachland's top ten hits each week, and send them to the tabulation center.

They also discussed hiring the Burnaby Jesters to play at the May dance, and sending representatives to the annual SOTA sportsday which is to be held in Summerland May 6, 7 and 8.

Catholic Women's League hold Day of Prayer

The ladies of the Catholic Womens League, on Tuesday April 26, completed a day of prayer and recollection. The retreat master was Father Gillis, O.M.I. of Penticton. The day started with mass in the morning.

The conference topic for the morning session was "Prayer", a topic which proved to be very interesting and informative.

For the afternoon session Father Gillis chose as his topic "The second Ecumenical Council" and our Blessed Mother.

Between conferences Father Gillis was available to the members for private consideration on personal problems. The public discussion period later in the afternoon was very informative, after which benediction brought a very satisfying day to a successful conclusion.

Kiwanis Golf Trophy lost to Oliver

Summerland Kiwanis played the Oliver Kiwanis in a golf challenge match on Sunday, April 24. The trophy was made possible by the Summerland group.

According to Summerland president Harry Hackman, "The purpose of the trophy is to promote inter-club relations and good fellowship."

Oliver won this time out by a single stroke. Eight players represented Oliver.

"Deer hunters look"

Editor, The Review,
Sir:
Having hunted deer and other game in various parts of Canada during the past fifty years, it has been interesting to note some of the changes that have taken place.

We, as Sportsmen should be supporters of any measure that will insure good hunting for the present and also future generations. Much discussion has taken place especially in Gun Clubs re: the open deer season, should it be shortened? Should bucks only be killed? ... and on it goes.

Where the bag is limited, the length of open season before snow gets deep should not matter, whether it is two weeks or two months. Where the season is short more hunters are in the woods creating a hazard not only for the hunters but also for game as they are more likely to be kept on the move. Whereas a long open season does not bring all the hunters out at one time.

In regards to hunting does, there seems to be a lot of misunderstanding, sentiment, or ignorance, perhaps a little of all three.

We would do well to listen to those who make it their livelihood, and can approach the problem on a scientific basis. Our Fish and Game Branch, have competent Biologists, who make recommendations which are based on facts. Our Conservation Officers are just as concerned about preserving our wildlife as we are.

There are many deer killed out of hunting season, dogs running at large kill more deer than wolves. Perhaps more die off during severe winters from lack of food, than from any other cause. Many are killed on our Highways, deer of all kinds will suffer where bush lands are overgrazed by domestic livestock. They are also subject to some cattle diseases.

What can be done to improve conditions. We can watch where deer usually cross the highway and avoid hitting them with motor vehicles. Our Government can set aside more unsettled land for Provincial Parks and game preserves. Controlled fires are helpful, as deer just love burn over areas. Large areas of wild and uncultivated bushlands should not be sold, for in such case all our good hunting may someday be posted 'No Hunting'.

Closing the deer season on does, will not improve the habitat, it could worsen conditions for deer by increasing the herd where feed will not support them.

Our Government, by protecting hunter rights adds much to the nation's economy, for hunters spend millions of dollars annually in our province for licences and equipment.

B.C. is known by Sportsmen the world over as a great "Big Game" country, may it always be so. Bucks are generally not so good for the locker, toward the end of the season, that is when doe season might be open to advantage. There are many things that can be done to improve our deer herd, but meddling with the game regulations is not one of them. Let us leave that to the Game Department for that is their business.

W. T. DEAN,
Summerland, B.C.

TEEN PULSE

By GORDON STENNER

QUESTION: Does 20th Century Science conflict with the Bible? It seems that Science deals with facts. Are we to accept the Bible by blind faith? —WANT TO KNOW

ANSWER: DEAR "WANT":
This question is being asked by millions of teens throughout the world. However, faith is required in almost everything in life. The scientist deals with RELATIVE TRUTH, the Bible with ABSOLUTE TRUTH. Apart from THEORIES, I have never heard of Scientists discovering any FACT which disagrees with the Bible.

Take the ATOM! A miniature solar system! Your high school physics instructor will tell you that the atom is so tiny it would take 150 million, placed side by side, to make a line one inch long. The heaviest atom Uranium, has 92 electrons, 92 protons and 146 neutrons, the electrons swirling in orbits at fantastic speeds, EACH ONE obeying with mathematical precision, fixed and rigid laws.

Before the atom, which cannot be SEEN with the naked eye, was smashed, Scientists had FAITH that it existed and indeed could be smashed. True faith is never blind!

We all live by FAITH! Before you drank that glass of milk for breakfast this morning did you go down to the dairy where the cows were milked to examine them, or out into the fields to scientifically test the grass they ate? Of course not. You ate your breakfast by faith. The salt which you put on your eggs, is composed of two poisons, sodium and chlorine. If taken separately, they would kill you. You enjoyed that meal by FAITH!

Yes, science DISCOVERS the ALREADY MADE universe. The Bible says "In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth". The Bible also says, "Faith is the SUBSTANCE of things hoped for, the EVIDENCE of things not seen!" There is no conflict!

Yach Club bows to royalty

Due conflicting dates, as the royalty candidates hold their Variety Show on April 29th, the Summerland Yacht Club has postponed the date of their Commodore's Ball until May 6th. This will allow the members of the Summerland Yacht Club Ladies Auxiliary to serve tea at the show, and the parents of the girls to attend the Commodore's Ball. All other details remain the same.

Legion Auxiliary sets date for Spring Tea

PEACHLAND — Arrangements were made for the annual spring tea at the L. A. to Royal Canadian Legion Branch 69 Peachland. The date has been set for May 17 in the Legion Hall. Conveners were appointed as follows: Mrs. E. Chisholm, kitchen; Mrs. J. R. Davies, plants; Mrs. A. West, novelties; Mrs. L. B. Fulk, home baking and Miss M Coldhams, door prize.

Refreshments were given from all committees and Mrs. Chisholm, president thanked Mrs. A. Coldham for the marking of all chairs and hall equipment. Mrs. Chisholm will head the committee for the making of refreshments for the coming V. E. Dance to be held May 6.

The inventory committee reported that dishes had been ordered to replace the last two years breakages. The next meeting of this group will be held after the spring tea.
