Bill Baker foursome take Legion Zone championship

A powerful rink from Summerland went through five games undefeated to capture the Legion Zone curling championship in Penticton Sunday.

Skip Bill Baker and his foursome made up of Bill Eyre, lead, Stan Porritt, second and Bill Craft, third outdueled Oliver's Dick Goodall 7-6 in an end thriller Sunday night.

Goodall's quartet of Ken Raincock, lead, Eric Bastian, second and George Elliott, third, made it tough on the Baker rink but a fine shot in the 10th end by the hot shot skip proved the Oliver downfall.

Goodall opened the scoring netting one in the second with Baker going initially ahead in the third with two.

Goodall got one back in the fourth but fell behind 3-2 when the winners grabbed a singleton in the fifth.

The game losers went one up with two in the sixth and increased their advantage with a single tally in the seventh.

The Baker rink evened things in the eighth with a pair but Goodall went one up again in the ninth with a single.

The victors potted a single tally in the tenth to force the extra end situation.

Summerland in chalking up the championship defeated Len Saunders, Goodall twice, Don Turnbull, and Graf.

Goodall won games over John Reid, Ted Wray, Jack Young, and W. A. Mullen twice. Jerry Rozander was the winner in the 'C' division beating Bob Finch.

Last year's zone champion Jack Danderfer finished out of the money this time around.

Danderfer bowed to Les

Saunders and John Reid in opening round action.

The two-day bonspiel ran very successfully with most clashes keeping to the originally budgeted schedule.

Saturday evening a special smorgasbord and dance was held at the Blue Boy restaurant Penticton mixed with a short business meeting.

The zone champs now advance to the provincial play-off slated for Quesnel in the last week of February.

Dominion playdowns are scheduled for Kamloops Mar. 21-25.

New curriculum for Guides

All Summerland Brownie Packs and Guides are meeting again and now using the new handbook issued by the Association. The groups are starting on the new curriculum.

Mrs. L. Lopateki is giving the Guides first aid instructions.

The Local Association to the Guides have had a meeting and the Mother and Daughter banquet has been planned for February 22nd at 5:30 p.m. Mrs. J. Millmore and Mrs. Fred Mallott are the conveners.

Hockey Jambories successful

by Ron Kostelnik

The annual minor hockey jamboree was held Friday from 7:00 to 10:00 p.m. at the Summerland Arena. All the hockey groups saw action including the final which matched the Midgets against A.C.T. from Penticton.

The coaches were introduced and Bill Barkwill officially opened the jamboree. The Atoms delighted the crowd and kept everyone laughing. The Pee Wees, and Bantams played a period of hockey before the stage was set for the Midget, ACT game.

In the game Summerland took an early 1-0 lead on a goal by Barry DeRosier, who took a perfect pass from Bryce Parker. Penticton had other ideas and were soon leading 3-1.

Goals by John Liebert and ant Penticton mixed with a short business meeting.

The zone champs now advance to the provincial play-off slated for Quesnel in the last week of February.

Dominion playdowns are scheduled for Kamloops Mar. 21-25.

School needs big increase for this year's operation

The Finance Committee of the Summerland School Board presented the budget to the Municipal Council Tuesday — with tongue in cheek — but helpless to do anything about what may mean a big increase on the Summerland tax bill this year.

Present were John Bennest, chairman, Ken Boothe, who is in charge of the finance committee and member Jim Miltimore. The budget was explained by Jim Hack, secretary-treasurer.

The story was a sad one. $85,119 more will have to be found this year over the last year's operation of schools.

How sad this is is not known. The provincial government is expected to review their grant system this year, and the board is hoping they will look favorable towards increases to school districts.

The increased payroll costs amounted to $53,502. This included increases in salary to teachers, administration, clerical staff and janitors as well as two additional teachers next year.

The reason for the increase in the staff was due to the change in the secondary school system next year when more courses will be offered.

Although the building program has been heavy, this does little to alter the local costs. Under the present provincial program, they pay 50% of cost up to 3 mills; 75% for the next 3 and over 6 they pay 90%. We have graduated to the 90% class, so the increased cost of the building program last year will only amount to about $2,500 according to Mr. Hack.

He explained every school district in the province is faced with the same problem this year. Penticton has a similar percentage increase this year over last year. Summerland's increase is 17.8%, compared to 7.8% and 7.3% the two years past.

The Canada Pension Plan will cost the board an additional $5,300 and the balance of the increase is shown all down the line.

Reeve Holmes congratulated the board for consideration on the budget as all increases were of the type that they were powerless to do anything about. In fact Councillor Hill, wondered if they were not cutting some departments a little fine in an effort to bring the budget to a minimum.

Time will tell how much it will cost the taxpayer. It will all depend on what happens in Victoria.

Bill Myers passes away at Quesnel

Bill Myers, formerly of Summerland, passed away suddenly on Saturday, January 29th in Quesnel. Attending the funeral in Quesnel on Tuesday February 2nd, was his brother-in-law, John Caldwell of Summerland. Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. Art Topham of Peachland.

Mr. Myer is survived by his wife Betty and a son Michael and his family, all of Quesnel, B.C.

Mothers' March great success

The Kinsmen's Mothers' March, held on Monday, January 31st in Summerland and Peachland met with a very gratifying response. The march brought in $1137 from Summerland and $227 from Peachland, to make a total of $1364. When further receipts through the mail and from donations are included in the Kinsmen feel that this year will be one of the best to date.

Oliver downs Summerland in weekend basketball action

by Ron Kostelnik

In basketball action over the weekend, the Oliver Sr. and Jr. boys defeated the home town Cosmics and Rockets on Saturday afternoon.

In the opening match, an exhibition game, Oliver took 20-10 half-time lead and 30-14 at three quarter time, lead and hung on for a 33-30 win.

For the winners, Tim Garish was the big gun as he scored 10 points. The other scorers were Bob Mitchell with 8; Dave Libby with 5; Rob Ross with 4; Dane Ryck and Stuart Simson with 3.

For the Cosmics, Don Johnson led the attack with six baskets for 12 points. Ray Davis had 8; Ron Taylor and Colley Eaton had 3; and Howard Wiens had 2. The Cosmics, however, in league action are undefeated with a 3-0 record.

The ROCKETTS, after a fine start, lost their third straight game as they were handed a 52-40 set back by the visiting Hornets. The Hornets led by a basket after the first quarter and by 25-22 after the half. They put the game on ice by outscoring the Rockets 16-10 in the third quarter and 11-8 in the final one. The Hornets' scoring effort was divided between five players; Bill Niles had 21; Forshaw and Taylor 10; Newman 6 and Macleod 5. Clint Skinner and Bill Fitzpatrick each netted 11 points for the Rockets while Ron Mayne had 8; brother Gerry had 5; Gerry Marsh 4; and Rod Akitt 1.

The Summerland cheerleaders, Joyce Arasse, Donna Holmes and Marilene Allen, again put on a fine show.

Long-time Summerland resident passes at age eighty-four Robin G. Russel passed away on Thursday, Jan. 27th, at the age of 84. The funeral took place on Saturday, Jan. 29.

Mr. Russel was born in Arle Gibbon House in 1881 and came to Canada in 1905. He moved to Vancouver in 1910 where he was a land surveyor until the First Great War.

He served in the R.N.V.R. in the Irish Sea and the Mediterranean. He came to Summerland in 1922. In 1935 he married Mollie Hutchison, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hutchison.

For many years he was interested in tennis in the Okanagan and was one of the founders of the Summerland Athletic Club.

Besides his wife he is survived by his sister-in-law, Joyce, Mrs. H. Mitchell of Paget, Bermuda, and 2 nephews in England.

St. Stephen's holds annual meeting

Approximately 175 men, women and children packed the St. Stephen's parish hall Monday for the annual congregational meeting.

Members of the church honored three of their members who have contributed to the time and talents to the church over a number of years — J.E. Britton who has recently retired from the Church committee after many years of service; Harold Lupton, organist for the past eight years and Mrs. E. S. M. Harrison who retired last month as treasurer.

The church committee for 1966 was elected with F. E. Atkinson as lay delegate to synod and Tim Decie as alternate. Mrs. Tim Decie was elected treasurer to replace Mrs. Harrison and T. H. Waterhouse was re-elected secretary. Fred Trussel is the new rector's warden and J. B. Roe the people's warden. J. H. Schon will continue as envelope secretary and G. C. Johnson as auditor.

Two cars collide at Manning corner

Rev. P. K. Louie and RCMP Cpl. Jack Bell rubbed fenders and doors at the intersection at Manning Lumber and Building Supplies, Thursday morning.

Rev. Louie was proceeding south and was making a left turn. Cpl. Bell was approaching the intersection from the west and his front left fender struck the Louie car at the left rear door.

Penticton RCMP are investigating.

Juvenile faces two driving charges

A Summerland juvenile appeared before J. B. Hack, Judge of the Family Court on Thursday night and paid fines totaling $20.

The first charge was driving without paying due care and attention to which he pleaded not guilty. Judge Hack found him guilty and fined him $10.

The second infraction was allowing an unlicensed minor drive his motor vehicle which cost him a similar amount.

BRIDGE RESULTS

The Summerland Bridge Club celebrated their charter night by donating the proceeds from this Monday's play to the Optimist Club of Penticton. There were 13 tables and the winners were as follows:
N/S — Mrs. P. Forsyth and Bob Stewart; W. MacKlaine and Gordon Hepperle; Mrs. E. Hall and Mrs. P. MacRae; Mr. and Mrs. R. Stewart.
E/W — Mr. R. Darnell and Mr. M. Prokopchuck; Mr. and Mrs. E. MacKay; Mrs. G. Lewis and Mrs. E. Chamberlain; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Evans; Mr. A. McClymont and Mr. A. Antrew.

Requests for grant increases made

The South Okanagan Planning Board had a surplus of $2,269.37 last year according to representative Councillor Barkwill at the regular meeting of council Tuesday.

The overall budget was also presented, totalling $23,230 for 1966 but he pointed out that this organization will be dissolved when the Regional Planning District is formed later in the year. Summerland's portion of the budget is $3,230 which represents 75 cents per capita.

Mr. Dennis Sheer, a corporation engineer made his first survey of providing more water for the expansion of the fish hatchery but no prepared report was made.

Works Superintendent Blagborne said they would be finished gravel crushing for the year on Wednesday.

Good progress has been made on flume work due to the mild winter. Blagborne planned on constructing 8,000 feet per year for three years under the A.R.D.A. program but he expects to exceed that amount by 1,000 to 1,500 feet this year.

Mrs. M. Croll wrote a letter of thanks on behalf of the Library for the additional shelving being made available. She also expressed appreciation on behalf of the Art Club for the use of the facilities at the Youth Centre.

District Planner John Northey requested a meeting of the Regional District Committee on Thursday, March 17, assuming the plan would go ahead. The 60-day waiting period is up on March 8.

Increased costs caused the Youth Centre committee to request an increase in their annual grant from $600 to $900. This was referred to the estimates committee.

Due to the increase in the number of requests for funds from various organizations in Summerland, the Summerland Recreation Commission requested an increase in their grant from $300 to $600. This was also referred to the estimates committee.

The water line under the highway serving the Rotary Beach area broke last Thursday morning.

According to Blagborne, the line under the highway should have been placed in a tube to prevent washing the bank away in the event of a break and to make it easy to repair in such an emergency.

In view of this, the Department of Highways agreed to pay half the costs of placing this area on the line with Summerland lakeside. This was done by the municipal crew in about 12 hours. Total cost of the change was $1,236.

Okanagan Day to be held in Vancouver in April

By KEITH BERGH

At a recent meeting of the executive committee of the Okanagan Regional Industrial Development Committee, they reported an advertising campaign was underway to publicize the Okanagan.

The meeting was held in Summerland.

The campaign started Jan. 8 and will continue periodically until February 23. Papers being used are the Financial Post, Vancouver Sun, Vancouver Province, Calgary Herald and the Edmonton Journal. The total cost of this advertising will be $3,600. The campaign was set up by an advertising agency.

The Summerland headquarters has received many inquiries as a result of this.

There are community data sheets now at the printers and copies are expected to be available in a short time. Administrator Ted Atkinson will be in charge of this. An industrial map will also be ready this spring.

Mr. Atkinson provided a financial statement showing income for 1965 at $8,389.70 less expenses of $1,258 leaving a balance at the end of the year at $7,131.70. A new levy for 1966 will be sent out to participating municipalities.

The meeting was chaired by M. P. Finnerty, Penticton, the chairman and representatives from Kelowna, Vernon, Oliver, Salmon Arm and Summerland were present. Mr. Garry Gall of the Department of Industries, Ottawa was also in attendance.

Okanagan Day was set for February 9th in a Vancouver hotel but due to an invitation list not being quite complete, this was postponed until mid-April.

Messrs. Jim Macdonald, Bruce Millar, Howard Powell and F. E. Atkinson will be in Vancouver from February 7 to 11 checking prospects who may be invited to participate. They are receiving help from the Canadian Manufacturers Association in this regard.

Chairman Finnerty explained he had presented a brief to Hon. Frank Richter, asking for a survey to be made under AR-DA requesting the Okanagan be classified a Special Rural Development Area.

Managing Director Atkinson was instructed to write to the Northwest Trade Fair to reserve a booth at that function if the cost did not exceed $500.

Penticton has resigned from the organization. The reason given was that they felt they would not get dollar value. This was received with much regret. Ottawa representative Garry Gall said he would make an effort to call on them in the near future to see if he could not change their minds.

Summerland residents attend Historical meeting in Penticton

Among those who attended a meeting of the South Okanagan Historical Society at the Peach Bowl in Penticton recently, to honour Dr. Ellis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ellis, the first white settlers in Penticton, were several Summerland members. Among those attending were Mrs. Granville Morgan, Mrs. E. C. Bingham, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Orr, D. H. Wright and Walter M. Wright.

Student of the month at Summerland Secondary School

The Key Club at Summerland Secondary School is sponsoring a "Student of the Month". The students are chosen on the following basis:

1. The student must have a solid C average.
2. The student must be able to work and co-operate with the students as well as the teachers.
3. The student must be active in one or more extra curricular activities in the school.
4. The student activity in the community is considered.
5. The student is selected by a committee of five teachers and three members of the Key Club. The student body can suggest candidates which the committee will gladly receive and consider.

LET'S GET NEWSY . . .

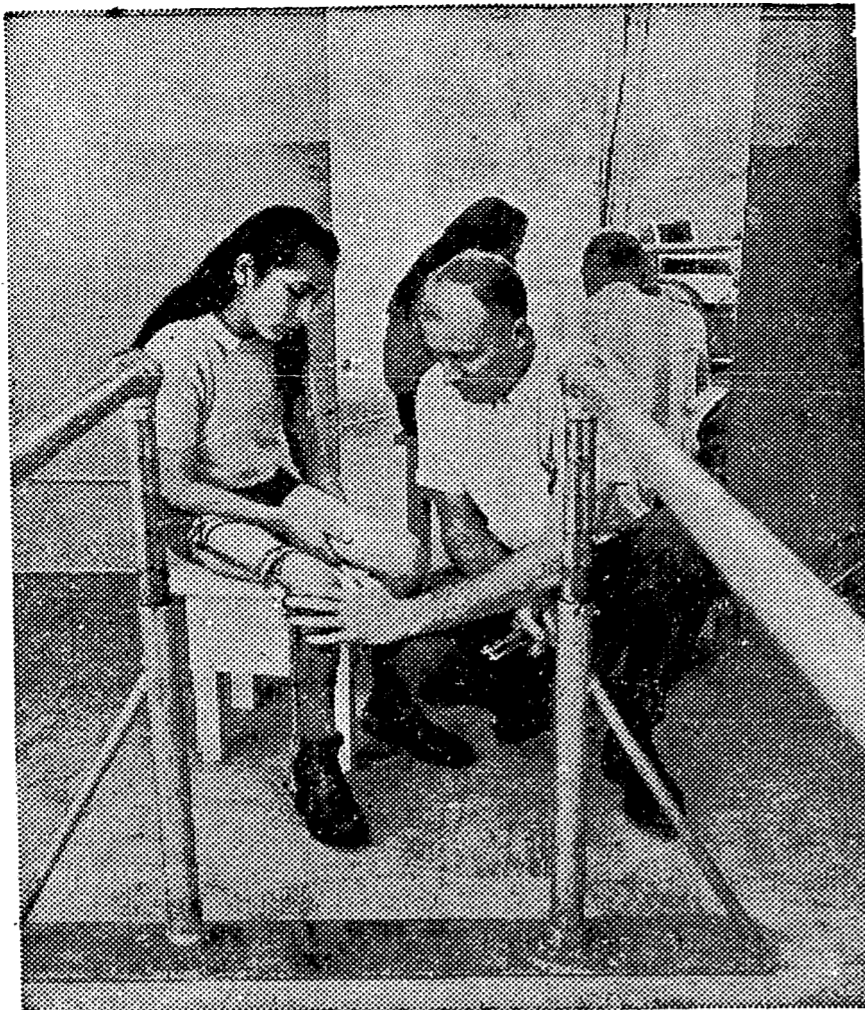

Rev. Norman Tannar returned home last week after attending the consecration of Bishop Edward Walter Scott of Kootenay in Vancouver. Also attending the consecration in Vancouver was Mrs. N. O. Solly.

The research officers of the Summerland Research Station hosted Dr. and Mrs. C. Strachan at a dinner party at the El Rancho in Penticton Thursday evening, Jan. 27. Attending were the officers and their wives.

Mrs. Ed Butler has returned from the coast where she has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Furness, in Burnaby for six weeks.

MEDICAL REHABILITATION and EQUIPMENT for more than 500 persons annually is provided through your contributions to the Mothers' March. Nancy Johnson (above) is fitted with new braces by Geordie Taylor. Nancy is a post-polio victim from Fort St. John, B.C. The Foundation also pays her expenses to Vancouver. This year's provincial goal is $275,000 to help the disabled.

Clinton Skinner named the 'Student of the month' in Sum'land

Clinton was born in Summerland eighteen years ago and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Skinner of Summerland. At the present time he is completing his Industrial Education and Mathematics major. Following his graduation he hopes to be a mechanic.

Clinton is very active in curling and basketball. He is skip of a school curling team, played third on the curling team that represented Summerland Secondary School in the Bryer Rink. Clinton also curls as second on a team in the Men's League of the Senior Curling Club.

In basketball he plays centre and left forward and averages 12 points per game. Last year he was unable to play due to a knee injury, but once again he is back. "Clint is a good team man, consistent co-operative—adds experience to the team and is an asset to the team," said Mr. Hamilton, coach of the basketball team, "I am pleased to have him on the team."

All Summerland Secondary School students can be proud to have Clint on their teams.

Rotary sponsors Wildlife show

The Summerland Rotary Club will sponsor a wildlife show in the school auditorium Friday and Saturday, Feb. 18 and 19.

Big game and wildlife photographer Al Elsey will present the movie, one of over 50 he has shown over the last two years in B.C. and south of the border.

It will feature action scenes taken in north west British Columbia of all the wildlife and fishing in that area including some Indian lore.

Those attending will see the hoary marmot at 8,000 feet, ptarmigan in their winter plumage, the unusual albino robin, the majestic baldheaded eagle and the pacific coast black bear.

Mr. Elsey is proud of the fact that the show is a clean one, without a lot of killing and blood. It has been well received by parents of small children and religious groups have appreciated the fact that it is a study of nature and wildlife in their own surroundings.

Children 10 years and under and accompanied by parents will be allowed in free to both shows.

Pee-Wees dumped in first semi-finals

The Summerland Pee Wees had a nothing but trouble on their hands Sunday afternoon when they tangled with Kelowna in the first of a two out of three series. They fell behind 4-0 in the first before Summerland netted its first tally. Kelowna added one more in the second to take a 5-1 lead and then bombarded the home towners 8 to 1 in the third. Final score was 13-2. Bart Stevenson assisted by Ray Lenzi, got the Summerland marker in the third.

Summerland took 7 out of the 12 penalties handed out. The next action for the Pee Wees is in Kelowna.

Keath Marten came to Summerland 'for two months' many years ago

Keath Marten came to Summerland in 1953 to manage Nalos Lumber for one or two months. These months are possibly some of the longest on record as they have lasted about 13 years and it looks like they will go on as long as there is a Keath Marten.

Mr. Marten has purchased the Okanagan branch of the company and will, in the future, be operating under the name of Martens Lumber Ltd.

He started with Nalos in 1930 and until his "temporary" move to Summerland. He worked out of the Vancouver head office, buying lumber all over the province.

He had the opportunity to transfer to their Vancouver office but "We wouldn't leave Summerland", he said proudly.

Summerland Review — 3

We want to be better

It is our intention that the Review provide you with the news of Summerland. Although it is the advertiser who pays the bills, the news plays a vital roll in a newspaper operation. We must have both to adequately do our job and to serve our community in the intended manner.

We feel that the news content in the Review has been, with all things considered on a par with many papers in the country, but it is our desire to do better. You can help us reach our goal, and at the same time, help yourself.

If you belong to an organization which considers it essential to maintain contact with the public, then we suggest your organization appoint an individual or public relations committee for the handling of reports for publication.

Many organizations in Summerland function in this manner and we appreciate your cooperation.

We feel there are some who would like to take advantage of this opportunity and we invite you to do so.

We attend meetings, in the main of organizations publicly elected because we feel it is our duty to keep readers acquainted with what their elected representatives are doing. This alone requires many hours of work — day and night.

But our reporting staff is limited and it does not require any great stretch of the imagination to understand that we cannot cover the activities of all organizations.

We are pleased to attend special functions if it may be worked into a busy schedule — just give us a call. But it is impossible to cover them all personally so we need your help — and in turn help your organization.

We are most anxious to render a service as a medium between your organization and the public.

All we ask is that newsworthy reports are either handed in to us or telephoned to us as quickly as possible. Include all pertinent information and be sure christian names as well as surnames are given.

In this way we feel we can produce a bigger and better newspaper for Summerland.

Jennifer Morgan wins painting award, shown at Vancouver Gallery

Jennifer Morgan has won one of four prizes awarded to youngsters who took part in the Painting in the Parks program throughout B. C. last summer.

Jennifer is the 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. G. Morgan of Trout Creek, and is in Grade 6 at Trout Creek Elementary School.

She first joined the outdoor painting group in 1964 when Mrs. John Tamblin was instructor for the six-week program. In 1965 she continued with Mrs. Trevor Punnett, who sent in a group of her paintings of scenes around Summerland, done with poster paints.

First and second prizes are awarded for the Vancouver area and two more prizes for the rest of B.C. It was the second prize in the latter group that Jennifer won.

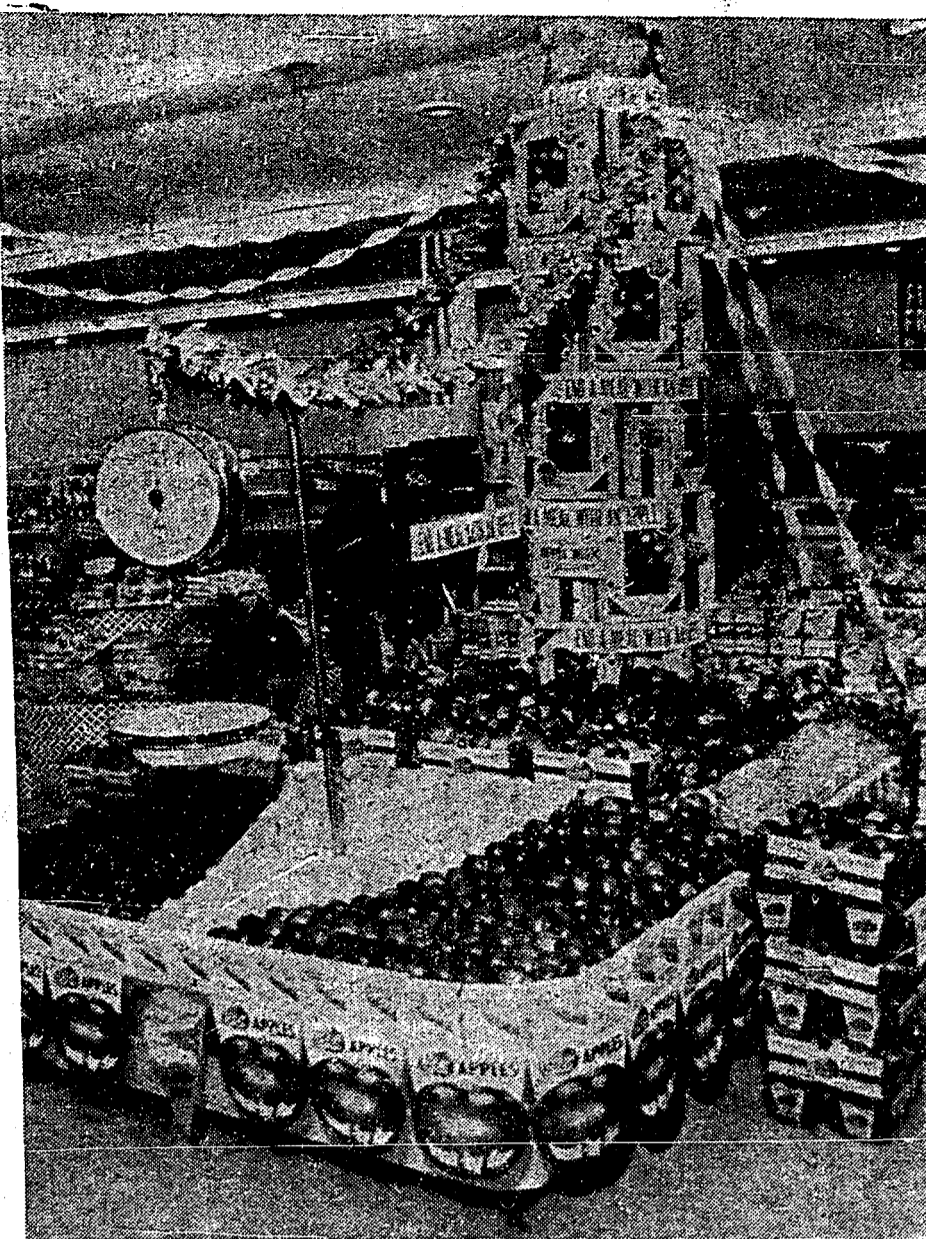

The prize was a wooden painting case, containing oil paints, brushes, canvases and palette and the prize-winning paintings were hung in a Vancouver Art Gallery for one month.

Pole prevents patrol car from rolling

RCMP Const. Edlund of Penticton struck an icy patch on Lakeshore Drive at Windy Point and went into the ditch.

According to Summerland RCMP, the road was dry going into the curve but Const. Edlund lost control at that point and his car headed down the 10 ft. bank but stopped before his back wheels left the shoulder of the road.

He may have rolled over had there not been a telephone pole there for the left side of the patrol car to come to rest on.

Four Cubs are advanced to Scouts

by J. M. McArthur

On Monday, January 24, four boys went up to Scouts in the 1st Summerland Troop.

The boys are Alan Fisher, Jonathan Spalding, Grant Gale and Billy Head. Alan and Jonathan are Two-Star Cubs and received their Leaping Wolf badges. Jonathan also received his Four-Year Service Star and Billy his Two-Year Service Star.

With all the Pack Sixers going up to Scouts acting Sixers were appointed. They are: Red Sixer: Christopher McIntosh; Yellow Sixer: Eric Munn, and Black Sixer: Wade MacGregor. Their assistants are: Red Second: Lee Miltimore; Yellow Second: Danny Ashton; Black Second: Rodney Embree. These boys are the Pack leaders and are expected to help the leaders run the pack, help the younger Cubs and set a good example for them to follow.

In the second Pack Meeting Jan. 26, the Pack started full swing on the new Cub program which came into effect Jan. 1st 1966. To help them with the new requirements until the new Cub books come out in March, each Cub was given a Pocket Record Card which contains all the new tests. The new Star requirements are more interesting and offer more challenge to the Cub. However, if he is to progress he will have to do some work at home. However, he should find the requirements interesting and make good progress with adult encouragement.

The new Cubs are learning the Cub Law and Promise on the back of the Cub Record Card. The Red and Yellow Six Cubs are working on the eight knots for the Green Star. If the boy makes a knotting board, a collection of the knots mounted on a board he will find it a big help in learning the knots. The Black Six are making neckerchief slides for the Tawny Star. All boys were shown ideas for making scrap books on the great men of Canada for the Blue Star.

The new stars are all equal and the Cub can work on any and as many as he wishes. So get at it boys, especially the older ones so you can get them before going up to Scouts.

Book Review

(A column contributed by the Okanagan Regional Library. Books reviewed are available at your local library.)

Russian Settlement in the North by Terence Armstrong (Cambridge) is a study of the development and exploitation of resources in the Arctic and sub-Arctic regions of the U.S.R. The Russians are pioneers in the development of this inhospitable environment and the author discusses the ways in which others — notably Canadians — might benefit from their experience.

O Canada by Edmund Wilson (Farrar) is subtitled "An American's notes on Canadian culture", and is a collection of essays concerning Canadian writers and their work.

The author deals with the literature of both French and English Canada and also makes use of current events, politics, and news reports to illustrate the present political and religious crises which Canada is now experiencing.

Anya Seton's latest historical novel is called Avalon (Houghton Mifflin). This is a saga of mystery and love among the conflict of Anglo-Saxons and Vikings, the Church and the State.

The Last Summer by Rex Holmes (Baxter) is a collection of essays, stories and memories of life on a Peace River homestead during the nineteen thirties. "A person who has lived in the north country never really moves away; wherever he goes, he lives there still; his days are filled with memories of it, and his nights are haunted with snow shadows".

A recent novel by Thomas Berger, "Little Big Man" (Eyre & Spottiswoode) introduces to library members the youthful reminiscences of one J. A. C. Crabb. This worthy enjoys total recall (at the age of one hundred eleven years, yet) of the events of an action-packed twenty-five years on the Frontier during the Indian wars.

Despite the alleged antiquity of the hero, the willing suspension of disbelief (that part of a novel which is necessarily the reader's contribution) is not hard to maintain.

The detail written into this tragic yet preposterously comic picaresque adventure story gives it a powerful sense of authenticity. This is especially true of the descriptions of life among the Cheyenne.

It is easy to visualize the book as a wide-screen western. (It already contains the Hollywood cliché of the wheel coming off the stage-coach while being pursued by a band of hostiles).

On the other hand it is difficult to imagine any Hollywood actor with enough natural dignity to enable him to portray the Indian Chief whose death is perhaps the most remarkable sequence in a most remarkable book.

FOUND: Sure Cure For The Hic-Cups

Ever try and start your engine on a cold morning and have it start hiccupping and gulping like it's been on a three week binge? Know what I mean?

Well I gotta tell ya! I found the cure. P-D-Q right here in Summerland. How about that!

All you gotta do is wheel your old buggy into the Service Department at Summerland Esso and ask for P.D.Q. Service. What could be easier?

Say, they got mechanics there that really know what makes an engine tick or hiccup. Why, in no time at all they had my engine purring like a kitten. That's what they mean by P.D.Q. — (P)rompt (D)ependable (Q)uality Service.

How about you? Not going to let cold weather get your car down, are you? Take the cure. Come to Summerland Esso, P.D.Q., of course.

NEW JETLINER — Air Canada has taken delivery of the first of 18 Douglas DC9 twin-jets presently on order for delivery in 1966 and 1967. Six of the 72-passenger versions of the new aircraft will be turned over to the airline by mid-June, while twelve 94-passenger extended versions will be delivered in 1967. The short-to-medium range jetliner will go into service on regular Air Canada routes beginning April 24.

Powered by two tail-mounted JT8D-5 Pratt & Whitney turbo-fan engines, the aircraft will cruise at 555 miles-an-hour on routes between 100 and 1,350 miles length in length. The acquisition by Air Canada of the 18 DC-9s, plus six standard and extended versions of the Douglas DC8 to be delivered in 1966 and 1967, will more than double the number of jets in the airline's fleet.

Reception follows ceremony at home of bride's parents

St. Paul's United Church in Kelowna was decorated with yellow and white chrysanthemums on Jan. 22 at 7 p. m. when Judith Margaret Charter of Kelowna daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Charter of Kelowna, became the bride of Keith Edward Skinner of Vancouver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Skinner of Summerland.

Rev. F. H. Gollightly officiated at the pretty evening ceremony and the music was provided by the church organist, Mrs. Gibson.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in a suit of white wool, styled with three-quarter length raglan sleeves and an A-line skirt. Her headdress was a white rose, and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Carol Schmidt of Kelowna and the bride's cousin, Miss Lorraine Charter of Vernon, was her bridesmaid. Both attendants were charming in similar turquoise suits and lace whimsies. They carried bouquets of white 'mums. Acting as best man was Victor Uegama of Vancouver, and ushering the guests to their pews were Ben Tycholaz and Satoshi Uchida, both of Vancouver.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents where the mother of the bride received wearing a suit of dark royal blue, a blue hat, black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The groom's mother, who assisted her in receiving the guests, chose a dress of light blue wool complemented with a white hat and a corsage of white carnations.

A lovely three-tiered wedding cake topped with a lace arch and pink bells centred the white lace cloth covering the bride's table. Richard Warman proposed the toast to the bride, which was ably answered by the groom, and the best man gave the toast to the bridesmaids. Also honored with a toast were the couple's two grandmothers, Mrs. Charter and Mrs. Dickens.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. E. Charter and Mrs. C. Charter of Vernon; Mr. and Mrs. D. Nelson-Smith of Penticton; Miss Rosemary Day, Mr. and Mrs. E. Skinner, Mr. and Mrs. D. Skinner, Clinton Skinner, Miss Beverly Bye, Kenneth Beggs, and Pete Unsau, all of Summerland; Mr. and

Mrs. C. C. Strachan guest of honor

Mrs. C. C. Strachan was entertained by the ladies of her bridge club at a going away party Tuesday, Jan. 25 at the home of Mrs. Cecil Morgan.

She was presented with a travel diary from the club. After an interesting evening of bridge, refreshments were served. The ladies attending were Mrs. Don Fisher, Mrs. David Munn, Mrs. Cecil Morgan, Mrs. Erich Smith, Mrs. Eric Tait, Mrs. Ralph Downing, Mrs. Jim Mortimer and Mrs. F. Bannan.

Dr. and Mrs. Strachan will be in Athens, Greece for a year where Dr. Strachan will

Mrs. R. Connor and Dennis Charter of Kamloops and Russ Bleasdale of Vancouver.

ORCHARD RUN by Wally Smith

Bits and Pieces

The 1966 BCFGA Chautauqua got off to a good start Monday morning this week with a discussion on the spray program for the current season.

Orchard spraying is becoming an increasingly costly operation. Development of new and more potent chemical compounds is barely keeping ahead of new strains of the tiny beasts that menace our fruit orchards.

In the Kootenays the cherry fruit fly has been giving growers a lot of trouble. I recently talked with one Kootenay grower whose orchard was infested with this pest. By all accounts, it's a bad one.

The cherry fruit fly has already shown up in the Okanagan. Here's hoping our higher summer temperatures and low humidity provide a habitat less hospitable than that found in the Kootenays.

Interest is running high in the smaller tree on dwarfing rootstock or of the spur type. About 40 growers, including many from Osoyoos, attended the opening night of the instruction course on dwarf trees and high density planting now being given at the high school in Oliver.

This week the class will be held Friday night, 7:30 o'clock, with Frank Morton of Kelowna the speaker. Next week the class will meet Tuesday night.

When I read about fresh strawberries being flown from New Zealand to our Pacific Coast it makes one realize how rapidly changes are taking place in our transportation business.

It was a 7,000 mile trip for the strawberries, a small shipment of 700 pounds, and they sold for $1.50 a lb.

Last year 38 carloads of strawberries travelled by fast freight plane from California to European markets, and there is a rapid increase in air transport of produce from the orchards and vegetable fields of Florida, Arizona, and New Mexico.

Jet freighters and cargo carrying passenger jets are now flying blackberries, figs, raspberries and cherries from California to London at a rate of $29.40 per 100 pounds. Rates on apricots, pears, plums, peaches, lettuce tomatoes and some other items are slightly lower.

The revolution in transportation is bound to make a serious impact on the production end of the fruit and vegetable business.

When an item can be grown three or four thousand miles away brought in and sold cheaper than the home grown product, there is little chance of the home grown product holding the market, even if it is equally as good.

A resolution passed at the recent BCFGA convention requested the provincial government to extend their rodent control program for mice and pocket gophers (sometimes mistakenly called moles) so that each orchard could be treated at least once a year if needed.

The rodent control people are doing good work, but I think it's up to the orchardist to assume some responsibility for his orchard. After the rodent control team has cleaned out a bed infestation of gophers the grower should keep his property fairly free of the animals by the use of traps.

The trap is a simple, inexpensive, and very effective tool. A few traps and a watchful eye should keep the gophers under control following a treatment by the rodent control people.

The grower who hollers for help every time he sees a few push-ups (small mounds of earth made by tunnelling gophers) is refusing to help himself and doesn't deserve any help from others.

From The Back Files...

50 YEARS AGO

A Cold Winter

On Wednesday, February 2nd, three hardy adventurers from Summerland, Messrs. Gantrell, Thornber and F. Anderson came across the lake on skates — a feat duplicated by another trio from Nar-amata, Mr. J. O. Robinson and his sisters Gwen and Kathleen. "That's nothing" you say? All the same the previous evening a citizen walked around Penticton rather than take the chance on the un-tried icy surface.

Church Board Elected

The first meeting of the 1916 Board of Managers of St. Andrew's Church was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Robertson last Monday evening. The attendance was excellent. The following officers were elected:

Chairman, J. G. Robertson; Secretary, A. H. Steven; Treasurer, Lee McLaughlin.

Messrs. D. Gray, R. Johnston and C. W. Lees are the latest additions to the Board which is beginning the new year with considerable measure of enthusiasm.

Liquor sales totalled $124.9 million in B.C. in the year ended, March 31, 1965 — an increase of $7.7 million over the previous year. The Liquor Control Board made a net profit of $35.4 million.

40 YEARS AGO

Elect Officers for Institute J. C. Blacklock is President of Trout Creek Farmers Institute

The annual meeting of the Trout Creek Farmers' Institute was held at the school house on Monday evening last, when the following officers were elected for the coming year.

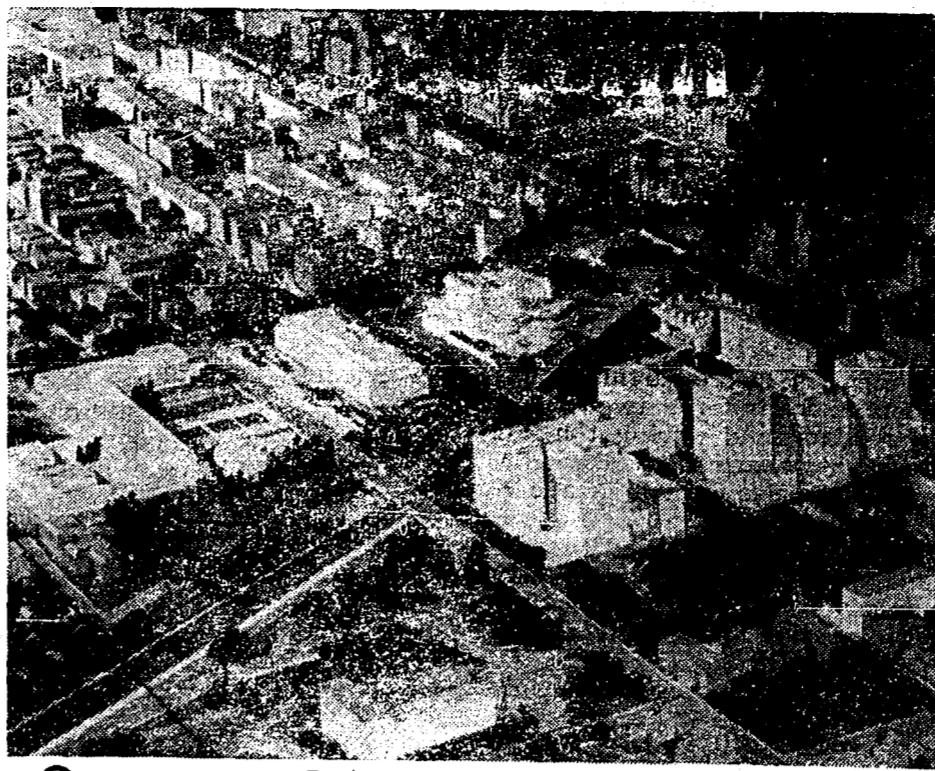

President, J. C. Blacklock. Vice-Pres., R. C. Palmer; Directors, G. W. Cope, M. Tait, R. B. Barkwill; Secretary-treasurer, Geo. W. Johnson.

For the meeting to be held on Feb. 22, a debate was arranged: "Resolved that Summerland is a more desirable place to live in than Vancouver. This should prove a very interesting meeting.

The preliminary steps were taken for the formation of a small library for the use of members of this Institute, several members present offering either donations or loans of books and magazines.

The Community Club held a successful basket social last Wednesday evening January 27th. There was brisk bidding on the baskets and the temptation of the odd dollar in the baskets caused some additional excitement. A few of the lads were disappointed in not obtaining baskets. Better luck next time boys.

Ottawa redevelopment plan ensures modern capital city

(Last in a series of articles)

A capital is a privileged city among all the cities of a country. It reflects the soul of its people. It is the mirror of a nation's vitality and its dreams for the future. As was pointed out in the opening of this series a capital city belongs to everyone in the nation and, as the seat of central government and national institutions it is a community with undefined limits.

In a speech to a Canadian service club recently an official of the National Capital Commission — which is charged with the responsibility of preparing plans for and assisting in the development, conservation and improvement of the national capital region — likened Ottawa to a symbol.

"Like a flag, or a national anthem or any emblem identifying a nation," he said, "a capital is a tangible thing... and we need tangible symbols to help focus our patriotism."

"We want something to shout about," he added, "and it is high time that we Canadians did a little shouting of our own. If we have any pride in being Canadians, then we must be proud of our national capital and want it more beautiful, more symbolic of our vitality as a potentially great northern nation."

And Ottawa is fast becoming a beautiful capital — a capital to be truly proud of.

Planning in Ottawa is not new. It began in 1899 with the establishment of the Ottawa Improvement Commission, was carried on by the Federal District Commission from 1927 to 1938 and has been vigorously promoted since 1939 by the NCC. In developing a capital to be proud of, the NCC is guided by a master plan conceived by the late French city planner, Jacques Greber, and his Canadian associates. This plan was approved by the Canadian Parliament in 1951 and reviewed again by a joint Parliamentary Committee in 1956. It has, therefore, received the approval of the nation and remains today the general framework for the planning activities of the NCC.

The National Capital plan, or Greber plan as it is commonly called, was dedicated to the memory of all Canadians who gave their lives during the Second World War. It is a suitable monument to our dead soldiers — for what better way is there to honor their memory than to give the country they died for a beautiful, proud and worthy capital city.

Prime Minister William Lyon Mackenzie King in 1928 ably expressed the principle on which

There was only one table that bid 7 no trump in this hand out of nine tables and it happened to be one of our charming lady bridge players to go all out and bid the works and make it.

We want to point out that some of our women bridge players are just as good as the men and when it comes to gambling, leave it up to the ladies. They will out-do the men at times, proving they are just as capable at the game as the male sex.

Most players bid 6 no trump on this hand, making seven.

This hand is not exactly a laydown — you just have to be a little careful that you don't get trapped in either hand or you could lose the contract.

This one thing in bridge many people get a little careless when the Dummy goes down, it looks like a cinch to make. After playing six or seven cards, we all of a sudden realize we have been had by our silly error. It happens to experts at the game — but not too often.

By Rev. FRANK HASKINS
Summerland received unexpected pleasant publicity on the C. B. C. Television network on account of a "thank-you" gesture from this area.

Summerland was thanked over the T. V. hook-up for a gift of apples sent to the choir and crew of the Hymn Sing program. The local people who sent these apples as an appreciation for this program naturally did not expect publicity. This incident, however, reminds us that thoughtful expressions of "thanks" may have very happy results.

Sincere commendation and thanks usually have a good two way effect, both on the giver and recipient. It gives people a lift when they get a bit of commendation which they have earned. It is also good for one's personality to put sincerity and understanding at work when expressing thanks.

In our comfort-loving age we are very apt to take many things for granted without a sense of gratitude. It seems easier to be vocal in giving vent to criticism than to offer praise.

The attitudes of praise and thanksgiving often need to be cultivated. Blessings which God gives us should be appreciated and enjoyed. The Psalmist asks: "Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and why art thou disquieted within me, hope thou in God: for I shall yet praise him, who is the health of my countenance and my God."

I have visited restaurants where cards giving the grace used by people of different faiths are part of the table setting. Yes, surely man should give thanks to God for his daily food in this land of plenty and also be concerned for those countries which face shortage and famine.

Giving thanks is part of worship whether it is public or private. Giving thanks for blessings which we enjoy in the course of our daily life helps develop a spirit of gratitude and appreciation for the work and care of others. Above all, we are taught to give thanks to God for the spiritual blessings made available to us by the revelation of the love of God in the Gospel of salvation through Christ the Saviour.

Editor, Summerland Review,

Sir:
In the past few months there has been a "new look" in the content of our Summerland paper which has brought me some memories of community life in the Okanagan. I wish the paper good luck in the future, and the editor encouragement in his personal editorials which have, for me, created a hope for the survival of a fine town.

Must also mention that I once assisted in the great nightmare of getting the paper out on time from the old presses. I folded papers after they came off a lead-heaving press — seldom on time, but always printed.

Good luck in the future Mr. Editor and staff. I remain,

Yours sincerely,
A. TURNBULL,
Halifax, N. S.

Two accidents Thursday cause damage totalling about $1,000

There were two accidents reported to the Summerland R.C.M.P. Thursday, that caused a total damage of $1,000.

At 2:30 in the afternoon, the Okanagan Telephone Co truck was pulling out on the main street in Peachland. He noticed a car coming from the south towards him but it did little good to hit the brakes. The icy condition of the road caused him to slide directly into the path on the oncoming car that was driven by Gwentyth Kathleen Garaway. There was $200 damage done to the car, none to the truck. There were no injuries and charges have been laid. At 11:10 p.m. that night, Leonel Joseph Bonthoux was proceeding north on the Front Bench Road. When making his way around a slight curve, ice caused him to slip across the road and hit head on with a car driven by Richard Norman Bangma, Summerland.

Bangma was taken to the hospital with a sprained ankle and cuts to the head. RCMP are investigating Robin Wright, a member of the Ambulance brigade told the Review, they had a record number of calls for their services last week. They were out eight times.

The ambulance services, under the direction of the Summerland Fire Department has been operating for two and a half years, and during that time they have had 250 calls, or an average of two each week.

Mr. Wright explained that to get ambulance service, it is necessary to call the hospital, who in turn contact the ambulance standby.

"This is done so the hospital knows where the ambulance is and they will know what to

New business in Summerland

Bill Marles Heating opened for business on February 1st of this year to serve the community in the business of heating and installations.

Bill has been employed for the past three and a half years by Inland Natural Gas, Penticton, as a service man. He was formerly with Northern Gas of Dawson Creek, in charge of tinsmithing and heating installations. He has had 18 years of experience in the business.

The business will be operated from Bill's home for the present time. Bill has resided in Summerland for the past three years with his wife and three children.

Two new members at Kiwanis

Fred Field and Ken Carter were given the full blindfold treatment as they were initiated into Kiwanis Tuesday night by Bernie Hume-Smith and a number of friends.

Past Governor Doug Campbell, with a more serious vein went through the installation ceremony. The pins were presented by Harry Hackman, president.

Mystery night at Rebekahs

At the last regular meeting of Faith Rebekah Lodge No. 32, Jan. 26, it was past noble grands night. These members were in charge of the program and refreshments.

All the members were asked to bring a photo of themselves when they were not over ten years old, they were then numbered and placed for observation on the wall and the game was to guess who they were. A very pleasant hour was spent trying to "guess" who these charming children were—what changes in a few short years! During this fun period delicious refreshments were being served by the past noble grands buffet style.

During the meeting the following were officially installed into their respective offices by Mrs. J. H. Dunsdon, district deputy president, assisted by Mrs. Fred Schumann as deputy marshal; chaplain, Mrs. Rupert Brown, warden, Mrs. Jack Raincock inside guardian, Mrs. Mildred Campbell and outside guardian, Mrs. Edith Richards.

LEGION WHIST RESULTS
Jan. 25th saw another ten tables of whist have an enjoyable evening in the Rosedale room.

Mrs. J. MacDonald won the Ladies' First Prize and Mr. C. Clarke the Men's First, while consolation prizes went to Miss N. Bareson and to Mr. H. Currie.

The donated door prize luckily fell to Mrs. J. H. Schon.

Planning commission turn thumbs down on tent camp

January accounts for a total of $86,648.42 were authorized paid at the Summerland Council meeting Tuesday evening. Municipal employees were granted increases in salary. The basis used was the average paid to valley municipal employees last year. The wages were last reviewed two years ago.

Harry Killick of the Summerland Band Committee, in a letter, said that organization would be agreeable to the five instruments now in storage, be loaned to the elementary school on condition they would be properly maintained, repaired and when replacements are made they be authorized by the band committee. They would be subject to recall on thirty days notice and they should be returned to the committee each year by August 15.

Council agreed they would be loaned if the above conditions were agreeable to the school board.

Cedar Brooke Auto Court made application for a tent and trailer park south of their motel units. Although the planning commission turned it down, council wanted to give it more thought before any decision was made and when Reeve Holmes was present. Deputy Reeve Bill Barkwill was in the chair.

According to the report by District Planner Mr. John Northey, he doubted if it was an economical move for the operators. The access is poor and it would come next to a residential section to the east that was expanding, according to the report by the commission. Mr. Northey questioned the economy of installing six lavatories and washroom facilities—the area was marginal, providing for only 30 tent spaces and he felt it would not add to the motel operation.

The Search & Rescue Squad have a new truck and the members are so pleased to have it, they are giving freely of their time to equip the machine. They said all they wish from the municipality is for them to pay for material.

The cab over-engine truck was purchased from Ria's Cash Store by the Corporation and Civil Defense.

BRIDGE WINNERS

There were ten tables at the Monday night Duplicate Bridge and Scramble Mitchell bridge was played. The winners were: 1st G. Hepperle and W. Hepperle; 2nd Mr. and Mrs. R. Stewart; 3rd Mrs. E. Hall and J. Poslowski; 4th D. Fredrickson and C. Elsey; 5th Mr. and Mrs. D. MacGillivray; 6th W. Evans and M. Berry.

AT CONVENTION

Mr. Doug Campbell left on Tuesday to attend the Cannery Convention in Vancouver and was accompanied by his wife and son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Forsdick, who will spend the week in that city.

A Legion Crib Party was held Feb. 2 in the Rosedale room with 8½ tables playing. Winners were Mrs. Hankins, ladies first; Mr. C. Cook, men's first; Mrs. Finch, ladies consolation; Mr. Currie, men's consolation.

Seniors end season, juniors dumped in non-league action

by Ron Kostelniuk

The basketball season for the Senior's came to an end over the weekend, seeing the boys win one of their last two encounters and the girls lost. The girls finished .500 with a 3-3 record while the boys finished .375 with a 3-5 record. The girls won twice over Princeton, split with Pentiction and lost twice to Keremoes who finished on top with a 6-0 record. The boys took two from Keremoes, split with Pentiction, and lost twice to Oliver and Princeton.

Eric Tait installed Chamber president

Well over 100 sat down to enjoy the annual Summerland Chamber of Commerce banquet last week. The highlight of the meeting was the announcement of Mr. Dave Taylor Sr. as Good Citizen of the Year (see story elsewhere) and the installation of officers by Reeve Norm Holmes.

Tom Manning, 1965 president was master of ceremonies. The MacDonald Senior Choir sang a few numbers under the direction of Mrs. Paul Roberge. The toast to the ladies was given by Ken Boothe and was answered by Mrs. G. C. Johnston.

Mr. Manning gave a summary of the year's activities and related their support to the Tourist Association, the Okanagan Regional Industrial Development Council, the fall fair and the information booth on the highway. He made special mention of the efforts of past secretary treasurer, Howard Clark for the many duties he carried out during 1965.

After installing the new officers, Reeve Holmes said, "I know the Chamber is going to have a big year after looking over the executive. The council have enjoyed good relations with the Chamber of Commerce last year and I am sure this will continue."

The Reeve briefly outlined future plans for Parkdale Place. He and Councillor Walter Powell had made some studies of the home and they now feel it wise to add another wing. There are 40 on the waiting list to enter Parkdale Place.

It is anticipated they can make room for 14 more guests with only one more chambermaid and to enlarge the dining room somewhat. The kitchen is large enough to handle the additional residents.

CONTEST WINNERS Mrs. F. E. Atkinson made the presentation of the F. E. Atkinson Christmas Lighting Cup to the winners, Mr. and Mrs. Don Hermiton and presented a cheque for $25 on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce. Second prize went to Mr. and Mrs. Art Matsu and third to

Lena Manylyk passes away Friday

Mrs. Lena Manylyk passed away in Summerland General Hospital, Friday, Feb. 4 at the age of 81 years.

Surviving are three daughters Mrs. Dick Fletcher, Yorkton, Sask.; Mrs. Chester Carey, Summerland; Mrs. John Amon, Toronto; two sons, Alex, Toronto; Peter, California; 10 grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren.

She was predeceased by her husband Fred and 5 children. Funeral services were conducted from the Trout Creek Community Church of God, Mon., Feb. 7 with Rev. M. Schultz officiating. Cremation followed at Wright's Funeral Home were entrusted with arrangements.

Getting steam up for Fall Fair

The new Chamber of Commerce President Eric Tait is going all out to stir up public interest in the Fall Fair. The fair, sponsored by the Chamber may take on a few new looks this year, if unofficial suggestions offered Mr. Tait come to be.

The fair, sponsored by the Chamber may take on a few new looks this year, if unofficial suggestions offered Mr. Tait come to be.

They are holding their first meeting on Monday night and the public are invited to take part. It will be in the Co-op cafeteria at 8:00 p.m.

According to Mr. Tait, there have been rumblings about the queen committee not taking part in the fall fair. He has been told it was a bad time of the year for the crowning ceremonies as so often royalty has registered for higher learning at the coast and it results in them having to make a trip back to take part in the official ceremonies.

There has been talk of having only a one-day fair, and if the queens drop out—this becomes more of a possibility.

Mr. Tait said there are centres who have more activity and exhibits than in Summerland and it is done in one day. However all this will be decided at this meeting and a good representation is requested.

The meeting on Monday night is an open one, although official executive business will be carried out. It is the desire of the Chamber to get anyone with an idea out.

"We want advice and criticism," Mr. Tait said. Summerland organizations will be contacted and urged to make representation at this meeting.

Kay Hamilton dies in General Hospital

Miss Catherine J. (Kay) Hamilton passed away in Summerland General Hospital Feb. 7 at the age of 52 years.

A resident of Summerland for the past 24 years, Miss Hamilton was well-known in musical circles, her students receiving top honors at music festivals in the Okanagan.

She conducted the Summerland Girls Choir and was recording secretary for the Registered Music Teachers Assoc.

Surviving are her mother Mrs. Isabel Hamilton; 2 brothers, William, Victoria; Ian, Comox; 4 nephews and 3 nieces.

Family funeral services will be conducted from the Vancouver Crematorium, Thursday, Feb. 10 with Mrs. M. Barrett of the "I Am Following" of flecting. Cremation to follow. Wright's Funeral Home are entrusted with arrangements.

Juveniles defeated by Pentiction

Pentiction dumped Summerland Juveniles 7-2 in an exhibition game played here on Sunday in the Arena.

Pentiction took a 1-0 lead on a goal by Blais at 10:09 just as Wayne Campbell, finished serving a minor penalty for interference. Pentiction made it 3-0 at the end of the first period, including a goal by Summerland teammate Bill White. White picked up an assist as well on the second Pentiction goal.

In the second, Pentiction outscored Summerland 2-1. Allan MacWhinnie got the Summerland goal with George Jenner and Norm Norrish getting the assists.

In the third, White, with his second goal, made it 6-1 at 2:12. Barry DeRosier made it 6-2 with a powerplay goal at 8:31 and Wayne Campbell and Wayne Molnes drew the assists.

Busy month for Impeesa Imps

by J. M. McArthur

The third meeting of the Impeesa Imps Cub Pack was held February 2 and is progressing very well. The new chums are working on the Cub Law and Promise. Some are ready for testing while others need more study.

Scrapbooks are being made by the boys, dealing with Great Men of Canada but there are some slow starters as only one third of the group are away on this project.

Another test the boys are doing is a drawing, in color of the Canadian Flag, after being shown the essential features.

Apparently there is some misunderstanding regarding the registration fees. They are $5. However, I think we should encourage the boys to pay their own way which is in keeping with the principles of Scouting. With this in mind, we have used the money the Pack obtained from bottle drives and apple sales to cover the registration.

As far as their weekly dues of 5 cents is concerned, they should be encouraged to earn this rather than to get it from mum or dad.

February is a busy month for scouting. Lord Baden-Powell, founder of Scouting, was born on Feb. 22, 1857 and his birthday is celebrated with extra activities.

There will be a Scout's Own in the Pentiction Peach Bowl on that period.

The stages will be authorized from year to year, with 9,676 to be spent during 1966. All work will be authorized by the board as a whole before the building committee goes ahead.

Mrs. Graham Bouey, Home Economics teacher, underwent an operation and it will be necessary for her to have another in the near future. Mrs. Joan Lyon was appointed to substitute in this department.

The committees for the year were appointed: Personnel, Finance and Transport—Boothe and Millmore; Buildings, Maintenance and Grounds—Barkwell and McIntosh; Liaison, Policy and Social—McIntosh and Millmore; Elementary Schools, Facilities Survey—Millmore and Barkwell; Regional College, Regional Library and Health, Bennett.

A letter from John Tamblin, secondary school principal, stated that students winning bursaries to attend the Summer School of Arts, Pentiction.

These bursaries are given by Summerland organizations and School committees are appointed

An operating surplus of $619 was reported by Jim Hack, Secretary-Treasurer to the Summerland School Trustees at their first meeting of the month.

Some renovations and minor changes were discussed for the Summerland Secondary School with Maintenance Supervisor Elton Knuff but the building committee wished to look into it before any decisions were made. The work, if done as recommended by Principal John Tamblin, will cost about $4,500.

The five year site development plan was adopted in principle. It is planned to spend a total of $24,758 over

Under The Giant's Head

By KEITH BERGH
Have decided to start a weekly column under the caption "UNDER THE GIANT'S HEAD". It will be kind of a ketch all column... stating opinions, right or wrong — I heard or I saw sort of a thing. Some may make sense — some nonsense.

Here we go. Bon Trafford came out with a giant size "true" story Monday morning. It came to mind when it was snowing outside. He told of snowflakes so large that when they fell on his head, it wet both shoulders. When they hit the ground they big four inches stacked up like cordwood. You bet.

When I came to work last Wednesday morning, there wasn't a place to park anywhere. Mol Ducommun's fire sale was on at Farm and Garden. That place was so packed the customers couldn't even see their own shoes let alone try a pair on... one customer tried to pay for her footwear at the till near the door and was pushed right out on the street. She had to reach over and through the crowd to hand the money to cashier Bruce Hallquist. Some were trying shoes on out on the sidewalk.

Guess the fellow with the best sense of humor in Summerland is Rev. Frank Hawkins. "If you want a picture of me for the paper, I do have better ones at home than the one you published this week," he told Pearl laughingly... We got his church column head misplaced with a Centennial picture... If I didn't know our comp man, Summerland's Dennis Martin so well, I would think he had taken to the jug.

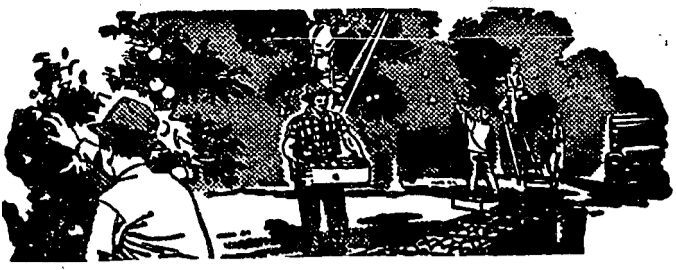

Eric Tait isn't fooling about his job as Chamber of Commerce president. He is full of new ideas — the first one being the getting the 1966 Fall Fair on the go in good time. He has called a meeting for Monday night and asks that anyone with ideas, pro and con show up that night. There is talk of not having the Queen committee participating which should bring up some points, and there is talk of cutting the event down to one day. Any thoughts along this line should be brought to this meeting. It is open to the public and will start at 8:00 p.m. in the Co-op cafeteria.

The Rotarians saw a sampling of Al Elsey's work at their meeting Friday night. Al is presenting a 2-hour wildlife movie Friday and Saturday nights Feb. 18 and 19 in the MacDonald Auditorium. Great for kids I understand. Besides the sponsors, the Rotary Club, need the money. They expect a good turnout. Might be a good idea to get an advance ticket from a Rotarian.

Progress has shot holes in the imagination of children. For years we have been told to look at the "man in the moon". Now it seems we are close to making that fantasy come true. Do we dare think some day a "o w" will jump over the moon?

By the way — do you know how to get rid of an enemy? ... Make a friend out of him.

ORCHARD RUN

by Wally Smith

To Plant or Not to Plant

Interest is running high in dwarf trees and high density planting, judging from the large class of growers attending the night classes now being held in the high school at Oliver.

It was originally planned for the whole course to be conducted by Louis Van Roehoudt of Okanagan Centre, a recognized authority on dwarf trees and a successful grower with a large high density planting.

When it was learned Mr. Van Roehoudt would be able to attend only one night session, arrangements were made for substitution by well qualified instructors including Dr. D. V. Fisher of the Summerland Research Station, Frank Morton, district horticulturist of Kelowna, A. W. Watt, district horticulturist of Summerland, and Don Allan, district horticulturist of Oliver.

Declining returns from old trees, difficulty in obtaining harvest help, loss of trees in the Dec. 1964 freeze, and reports of high yields of top quality fruit from dwarf trees—all have sparked wide interest in high density planting with smaller sized apple trees.

The decision the grower must make in view of this new concept in apple growing is whether he should at once launch a program of replanting with small trees or go with what he now has for a few years and wait until he sees what proves out to be the best kind of tree and the best system of planting. This decision will depend largely upon the present yield of his orchard.

If the grower decides to jump in right now he has other important decisions to make. Should he plant dwarfs in hedgerows or semi-dwarfs with a wider spacing? And what particular rootstocks will do best on his particular soil?

There appears to be considerable danger of collar rot in some dwarfing rootstocks. Should the grower skirt this danger by growing standard trees and adopting the mold & hold system of pruning? Or should he plant spur type trees?

Or, again, should he plant the three piece tree with a seedling root, a dwarfing stem piece in the trunk, and top of the desired variety?

Two or three new dwarfing rootstocks are being tried out, but we do not yet know how they will perform under Okanagan conditions. These new clonal roots may grow a tree with high resistance to collar rot, but we do not know for sure. Other clonal roots showed such promise in their earlier years, but collar rot developed in some after the trees started bearing fruit.

Little seems to be known about various combinations of clonal roots with spur type trees. Their performance will depend largely upon the kind of soil in which they are planted and compatibility of root and top.

It is known that clonal roots are more sensitive to soil types than are seedling roots.

It is possible than an individual orchard may be made up of two or three different kinds of soil, and each kind of soil may require a different type of rootstock to achieve nearly uniform tree size throughout the orchard.

Another factor that may influence the grower's decision on what to plant is his method of irrigation. In a hedgerow orchard it is almost impossible to irrigate with moveable aluminum sprinkler pipe.

The grower with hedgerows will be obliged to use furrow irrigation or overhead sprinklers. Thirty pounds pressure per square inch is all the grower will be allowed in some irrigation districts. Overhead sprinklers require 40 pounds or more to provide a satisfactory irrigation pattern, so the grower will have to install a booster pump unless arrangements can be made to get the required pressure from the irrigation district.

All this uncertainty about the new trend in apple growing may be enough to scare off the timid grower even if his orchard is going downhill and needs to be renewed.

However, there are some growers who have given the matter a lot of study and are going ahead with the planting of hedgerows, dwarfing rootstocks and spur type trees, or laying out a planting for a mold and hold program.

They will make mistakes, but they stand an excellent chance to have, in a few years, an orchard in high production of top grade apples while their over-cautious neighbor is still trying to decide what to do with his fast declining, low production trees.

The biggest mistake could very well be to sit back and do nothing.

LOW CONCENTRATION

This year phosphamidon was sprayed in lower concentrations and, in conjunction with a penetrating agent, Invadine JFC, produced faster absorption by foliage so that birds were exposed to the chemical for a shorter time.

"At low dosage the budworm spray will not harm the birds," says Dr. C. D. Fowle, head of the biology department of Toronto's York University who led a research team studying the effects of the chemical.

He found that direct spraying of the birds with phosphamidon did them no harm but that over a small amount on their perches made them accumulate enough to cause sickness.

DDT, which has little or no effect on birds, continues to be used in deep forest areas away from streams.

Experts discuss industrial development in Okanagan

Members of local Industrial Development committees in the Okanagan gained much knowledge and know-how at an Okanagan Industrial Development Training Seminar held in Vernon on Wednesday and Thursday of last week.

That organization's Managing Director, Ted Atkinson was present as well as members of the Summerland Development Council including Joe Akitt, Jim Schaeffer, Doug Hill and Keith Bergh. Mr. Bergh was only able to stay for the first day.

Chairman of the Seminar was Mr. Ray Kersey of the Department of Industrial Development, Trade and Commerce, Victoria.

Mr. Garry Gall, Ottawa, Co-ordinator for the Okanagan region as well as Mr. Joe Bergasse who holds the same position in N.B. and P. E. I. and Mr. Tom McLaughlin, Nova Scotia representative.

Mr. Gall told a good representation that industrial development committees should be relatively permanent. They should serve several years so they may follow up on all contacts and be able to talk to them on a personal basis. It is a never ending job, he said.

He asked that the committees work with community leaders, seeking their advice and guidance. "You need their support and the support of the community or you may as well quit", he insisted.

"Set your goals, many have none. Each member of the committee should head another committee in specified fields where they have knowledge. You must be very positive-minded," Mr. Gall said.

Okanagan Regional Chairman M. P. Finnerty, Penticton was the guest speaker at the luncheon Wednesday.

He explained the budget for 1966 is $17,000 and will be obtained by a levy to each municipality. Kelowna, Vernon and Penticton will contribute 40 cents per capita while smaller communities will be assessed 20 cents. They have a carryover of $7,000 from the 1965 budget which was expected.

They have a series of advertisements running in western dailies and the Financial Post from which they have had 64 inquiries after the first two ads appeared. One of these wanted specified information about Summerland.

The Toronto Globe and Mail have requested co-operation of the Regional Council and do a story on the Okanagan Area Development plan.

He stressed that all municipalities should set a goal. In the case of Penticton they have set theirs at 500 new jobs created in the four years the incentive plan is in effect, but the Penticton Mayor predicted they would exceed that. That city has a budget of $41,000 for their convention and industrial bureaus. After salaries, $30,000 will be left for promotion and travel. "We feel this is inadequate and we expect to increase it", he said.

In the afternoon session, Mr. Tom McLaughlin, Area Development Plan representative, Nova Scotia, told the communities to be prepared and to lay out a plan. "Nothing will replace optimism, enthusiasm and hard work to get industries into your area".

Mr. Jim Donald, Kelowna Chamber of Commerce Manager, said there would be no problem obtaining skilled labor.

"When the temperature drops on the prairies, our office gets no less than 50 letters from people wishing to move to the Okanagan", he explained.

Mr. Kersey said in B.C. the forest industry needs 2,100 skilled laborers and the mining industry 1,200

Kinsmen Funspiel host curlers

The weekend saw 32 rinks entered in the Kinsmen Mixed Funspiel at Summerland. This event was open to anyone wishing to curl, experienced curlers and beginners alike, including men and women.

The Summerland Kinsmen and Kinetes hosted 90 guests at a steak breakfast Sunday morning, held in the Curling Club. A dance Saturday night at the Legion was well attended and a Smorgasbord supper at the Legion on Sunday night with an attendance of over 130 finished up a gala weekend.

Rinks attended from Kamloops, Salmon Arm, Oliver, Kelowna and Penticton.

James O'Leary answers last call

Mr. James Francis O'Leary, Summerland passed away suddenly Feb. 1, 1966 at the age of 58 years.

A veteran of World War II, he served with the Second Division R.C.C.S.

Surviving are his loving wife Gwen, Summerland; and 1 nephew Desmond O'Leary, Victoria. Prayers were said from Wright's Funeral Home Thursday, Feb. 3 at 8:30 p.m.

Requiem Mass was celebrated from The Church of The Holy Child Friday, Feb. 4 with Father Guinan celebrant. Interment was in the Peach Orchard Cemetery. Wright's Funeral were entrusted with arrangements.

Stump Lake closed to fishermen

Summerland fishermen may save themselves the time and expense of a fishing trip to Stump Lake for the next few months. An announcement from the Fish and Game Department at Kamloops stated that Stump Lake has been closed since February 1st and will remain closed until May 16th of this year, due to the operation of an egg-collecting station set up on this lake.

Stump Lake is between Merritt and Kamloops.

Summerland Review — 3

The Americans are fighting our battle

Canadians and citizens of other "Western" countries should be thankful they're not confronted with the agonizing problem facing the U.S. in Viet Nam.

The Americans find themselves involved up to their necks in the one specific confrontation they have always sought to avoid... a substantial land war on the Asian mainland. They find themselves embroiled in a way a racial conflict... white man versus yellow man... or at least that's how their adversaries would have the rest of the world believe. They find themselves killing not only armed men, but relatively innocent women and children. And the fact that they don't like what they're doing neither eases their own conscience nor excuses them in the eyes of many.

But what alternatives have they? There is no doubt that a surrender to the Communists in Viet Nam will immediately lead to almost exactly the same type of infiltration in Cambodia, Laos, Thailand, Burma and the Malay peninsula. India, Pakistan and Indonesia could quite easily follow. Cessation of hostilities by conceding to the Communists in Viet Nam will not result in a cessation of hostilities... it will only extend them to another country.

Asian Communists have made it abundantly clear that theirs is a revolution bent on complete Communist control of all Asia. And if the democratic Western countries should have learned a single lesson during the past three decades, it should surely be the necessity of opposing totalitarian ambitions with armed force. Communism has no monopoly on the desire to eliminate poverty and it advocates the elimination of personal liberty.

Many of us in Canada do not trust the U. S. w a r machine... nor do we completely agree with the apparent U.S. fear that there is a Communist behind every telephone pole in America. And many of us hold substantially different political views than those in power in the U.S.

But the U.S. is fighting our battle for the system of government in which we believe, and we are being something less than fair if we overly criticize them for it.

The Viet Nam war is a dirty conflict, and the American and Australian men fighting and dying there don't have the inspirational patriotism for which Western countries fought in the last war.

The job they are doing is partly our job, whether we like it or not. Canada has fortunately found a convenient way to avoid participating... but we needn't get too sanctimonious about it.

OSCAR, THE GASSED GUINEA PIG

Oscar, a small, brown guinea pig, is the latest addition to Inland Natural Gas Co.'s permanent staff, and he gets gassed sometimes as frequently as two or three times a week. He is pictured above with Inland's Safety Officer, W. F. Anderson. Oscar's job is to sit in a clear plastic box which contains atmosphere of 30% natural gas, enough to be burned at the outlet on top of the box. The demonstration which is conducted for schools, fire departments and service clubs, is intended to prove that natural gas is completely non-poisonous. Oscar seems to enjoy breathing gas and is usually ready for a good meal when he comes out, Anderson states.

Many seeking information on development in valley

by Keith Bergh

"The response has been wonderful — very encouraging", Okanagan Regional Industrial Development Committee Managing Director F. E. Atkinson said.

He was referring to the interest he has received from prospective industrial development clients from all over Canada.

The committee is presently conducting an advertising campaign in daily papers in B. C. and Alberta as well as the Financial Post inviting companies to take advantage of the Area Development Plan by settling in the Okanagan.

The advertising series started January 8 and will continue periodically until Feb. 23 at a cost of $3,600.

Mr. Atkinson said he has had about 64 enquiries as a result.

His staff are busy making photostatic copies of the inquiries to distribute to the municipalities who are expected to carry the ball from there.

Mr. Atkinson acknowledges all letters, informing them of the workings of the Area Development Plan and gives them general information about the plan and the area.

Inquiries are coming from almost every part of the country.

HOLIDAYERS

Mr. and Mrs. Nels Charlton visited in Vancouver from Friday until Tuesday, Feb. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Heales have left for the sunny climes of Hawaii.

College could excell UBC 2-year courses, says spokesman

Students at the Okanagan Regional College will likely get better education than students in the first two years at the University of British Columbia even though they pay less for it, a college spokesman said Tuesday.

A number of factors made this possible, Administrative Assistant Jim Bigsby told a meeting of the Kelowna Gyro Club.

"The myth of the highly-qualified professors at big universities is sometimes just that," said Bigsby.

A PHD is not necessarily a born teacher and rarely is he a trained teacher. "Lectures can easily go like this, the professor rushes in from his lab slightly late. He reads his lecture notes and the student copies them down; he takes class time drawing on blackboards and setting up demonstration equipment, then the bell goes and he rushes back to his lab."

The professor is expected to perform research to maintain his academic standing, and this combined with his interest in research often leaves insufficient time for instruction.

Most professors do an adequate job considering the circumstances, and some do an outstanding job, but teaching first and second year students is rarely a welcome task, he said.

This combined with outmoded teaching methods, large classes, the lack of tutorial sessions and a shortage of time for staff student conversations makes big university instruction somewhat unsatisfactory for many students.

This isn't new in B.C. Many students used to take their first two years at the old Victoria College.

Students who were slow starters in high school, taking a general program rather than a university entrance program, or not meeting the university's rising entrance requirements, would have all opportunity to show their stuff in the new environment. At a smaller campus there is far less psychological stress. Student could easily change from technical to academic or vice versa as their interest and abilities require. "Okanagan College for these very reasons", he said.

LET'S GET NEWSY...

Mrs. Kay Bissett is at present in General Hospital in Vancouver where she is undergoing treatment. She is in Room 947 in the Centennial Building.

Dr. and Mrs. Harold Madson will be occupying the home of Dr. and Mrs. Strachan while they are away. The Strachans leave for Europe on Friday.

Mrs. Robert Holmes and son Stephen of Dublin, Calif., are visiting her sister and family, Mrs. J. Roe.

Students would have several other advantages because better instruction could be offered without the terrifically high cost of research personnel, equipment and graduate programs. The cost to a student will be from $500 to $800 less than attending a coastal institution.

Don Fisher to lead District Scouts

About 3,000 boy scouts from B.C. and the Yukon will attend the Adventure Jamboree at Ponderosa Camp in Penticton, scheduled for the week of July 9-16.

The Jamboree, first ever to be held in British Columbia will have Scouts from all parts of the province and representatives from all parts of Canada and the United States.

Arrangements are being completed to transport the boys from the campsite to nearby Skaha Lake. The program includes swimming, boating, and other water sports, archery, marksmanship, and Scoutcraft.

Each district council will be represented by a composite troop consisting of 33 boys. Scoutmaster for this district will be Don Fisher, Summerland assisted by Wes Wensley and J. B. Laidlaw of Penticton.

Scouts slated to take in the Adventure Jamboree are Gerry Davis, Howard Wiens and Roy Heinrichs

THE CORPORATION OF THE DISTRICT OF SUMMERLAND

RE: ZONING BY-LAW NO. 1018

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that a public hearing will be held in the Municipal Office, Summerland, B.C. at 8:30 p.m. on Tuesday, February 15th, 1966 on proposed By-law No. 1078 to consider the following amendment to the Zoning By-law.

1. To permit the operation of a Beauty Parlor in the C-2, Local Commercial Zone.

All persons whose property will be affected by such Zoning By-law may appear in person or by Attorney or by Petition. A copy of proposed By-law No. 1078 may be seen at the Municipal Office.

Dated at Summerland, B.C. this 26th day of January, 1966.

G. D. SMITH,
Municipal Clerk.

CITIZEN OF THE YEAR

Dave Taylor Sr. is named Summerland Good Citizen

Summerland Chamber of Commerce vice-president Charlie Bernhardt made the presentation of the Good Citizen Cup to Mr. Dave Taylor Sr. at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet Thursday night.

In making the presentation, Mr. Bernhardt said "Our Good Citizen of 1965 has, over many years shown an awareness of this challenge and has responded by rendering a service to his fellow man that is an example to us of devotion to duty.

"It is fitting that we this evening bestow a form of recognition that expresses our high regard for a fellow citizen. His contributions made in various positions of responsibility, in the many acts of kindness and willing help to his neighbors and particularly to those in need of a friend at times of sickness and sadness has had a unifying effect on our community.

Mr. Taylor was born in Montrose, on the east coast of Scotland on September 11, 1883. In 1909 he moved to a cattle ranch in Wyoming and a year later came to Summerland working as an orchardist on Jones Flat on the old Adamson place now owned by Bill Baker.

In 1912, he moved to Aspen Grove to work on a cattle ranch. The years 1916 to 1919 were spent serving as a member of the 78th Battalion in England and France. In 1920 he returned to Summerland, bought an orchard and married.

Mr. Bernhardt said "He has been a continuous worker in various organizations, quietly but actively discharging the responsibilities of office in all of them. "He was a director of the Summerland Co-op packing-house for a number of years. He was a member of the Municipal Council from 1940-46 and earned the affection and respect of his fellow council members.

"In past years, he was an active member of the Loyal Order of Orangemen. More recently, he has also turned his talents to the Old Age Pensioners Association, serving on the executive and as secretary. Much of his time has been spent visiting and comforting the sick and lonely.

"Perhaps his most outstanding contribution has been to his fellow veterans. Mr. Taylor has been a member of Royal Canadian Legion since 1926, first serving in various offices on the executive and as president of the Summerland branch in 1933 and 1934.

"Since 1958, he has been chairman of the sick and visiting committee. In spite of his advanced age, and sometimes poor health, he puts in many hundreds of hours and drives many hundreds of miles each year visiting sick and needy veterans and their families.

"During 1965, he visited the Summerland and Penticton hospitals 55 times, made 163 home visits and wrote 44 letters of cheer to veterans in hospitals and homes outside the district.

"In 1963 he was awarded the honor of a Life Membership in the Royal Canadian Legion. Mr. Taylor has quietly and effectively served the people of Summerland for 50 years and it is worthy of note that at 82 years young, he continues to do so. It can truly be said that he has called all men his brothers. "In addition to his individual merit, he represents the type of modest, hard working pioneer that has made this community and this country. He is certainly worthy to receive Summerland's Good Citizen Award for 1965."

In the first nine months of 1965 the value of goods imported into Canada totalled $6,198,000,000, an increase of 12.2 per cent over the corresponding period of the preceding year while exports increased by 1.2 per cent to a value of $6,232,000,000.

Red Carpet Showcase Tea

The annual Valentine Tea, sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary to St. Stephen's Church, Summerland, will this year offer a new attraction in the form of a Red Carpet Showcase. Members of the parish as well as others have been asked to display their special talents or hobbies and some twenty-five exhibits will be shown, ranging from exquisite hand embroidered tea cloths to rare and beautiful sea shells.

Mrs. James B. Roe is general convener with Mrs. Tom Croil in charge of the Showcase and Mrs. Clarence Adams the Tea.

Asked to pour are Mrs. Norman Tannar and Mrs. F. V. Harrison of St. Stephen's as well as representatives from other church organizations in Summerland — Mrs. James Mayne, United Church; Mrs. Roy Fitzpatrick, First Baptist Church; Mrs. Arthur Bombardier, Roman Catholic Church; Mrs. Howard DeWitt, Free Methodist Church; Mrs. Wesley Davis, Church of God and Mrs. Ralph Ward of the Pentecostal Church.

Mrs. Lydia Johnson has donated a door prize of a pot of spring flowers and a hand crocheted tea cloth, made by Mrs. Wm. Beattie, will be raffled.

The tea will open at 2 o'clock

Bitter Winds play at Teen Town dance

By RON KOSTELNIUK

A teen-age dance was held on Saturday night at the IOOF Hall which wasn't as well attended as usual due to the hockey game in Penticton. About 75 attended the dance. The "Bitter Winds" from Penticton, a five-piece band provided the music. Go Go girls Brenda Hardisty and Sue Hampson were also present.

A SOTA conference will be held in March and Summerland Teen Town is making plans to attend.

Cattle inspections up 50,000 head

Inspection of cattle in British Columbia in 1965 were 195,171 head, compared with 144,806 head in 1964. This shows an increase of 50,365 head.

Cattle shipped from the interior of British Columbia to the U.S.A. in 1965 were 36,555 compared with 6,406 head in 1964. An increase of 30,149 head.

A number of cattle were purchased for export by the U.S.A. buyers. Cattle sales were held at Williams Lake, Okanagan Falls, Merritt, Quesnel, Spillumachen Dawson Creek, Kamloops and Cranbrook.

Inspections of cattle from the Cariboo were 32,857 compared with 28,061 head in 1964. An increase of 4,796 head.

Kamloops-Nicola inspected 73,823 head compared with 58,040 in 1964. An increase of 15,783 head.

Shipments of hides were 15,011 as compared with 13,224 in 1964. An increase of 1,787.

Inspection of horses in 1965 was 8,642 head, compared with 8,007 head in 1964. An increase of 635.

Shipments of cattle to the Prairies were 58,487 head in 1965, compared with 49,875 in 1964. An increase of 8,592 head.

BOWLING RESULTS

By RON KOSTELNIUK

The leaders lost ground in the past week's action but still hold comfortable leads. In A League, the Borderlines moved to within 10 points of league leaders, the Outcasts. The M. P.S. climbed to within 7 points of 7th place Boppers, but still remain mired in the basement. In B League, individual performances were highlighted as Bud's Garage remained 7½ points behind Super-Valu. Peach Brandy moved to within two points of 7th place String-a-longs. Carol Head bowled a 325 single and an 870 high three. In C League, the standings tightened up so that five points separate second place latecomers and 7th place Unpredictables.

Remote control banking aid to modern living

Getting to the bank to make a deposit or transact other financial business can some times present quite a problem — especially for older people and people who live some distance from the nearest bank. That's why today, so many Bank of Montreal customers find it convenient and simple to conduct their banking by mail with their local branch.

Banking by mail is designed to give you prompt service in all kinds of transactions. As soon as the mail arrives, the staff at your B of M branch handle the deposits and other matters that have come in from out-of-town customers. You avoid waiting, avoid transportation costs and save time that can be profitably spent doing something else.

If you would like more information about this special B of M Banking-by-Mail service, write to Jack Johnston, manager of the Summerland branch of the Bank of Montreal. He'll be glad to send you the B of M's Banking-by-Mail folder which tells you how the B of M and the post office can get together to help fill your special banking needs. (adv.)

Fifty attend the Handicapped Children's Assn. annual meeting

The Annual Meeting of the Summerland Association for Handicapped Children was held on February 4th in the Library of the Secondary School with some fifty persons in attendance.

Chairman of the meeting was George Lane. The treasurer's report given by Hans Meierhofer showed $711.16 received through the annual campaign which was in excess of the previous year's donation.

Officers elected were F. W. Haskins, president; John Prior, vice president; Mrs. D. Sheeley, secretary; Mrs. M. Caldwell, treasurer; executive members: Dr. Fred Macinnis, Mrs. Heather Geddes, Mrs. Olive Wilson, Bert Stant and George Lane. Bert Simpson is auditor.

Mrs. Flora Bergstrom described the work of the Happyvale Workshop. Guest speakers were R. J. Paton, superintendent of schools and J. B. Hack, secretary of School District 77 school board. Appreciation was expressed by Ian McCuaig for the services given by Mr. Meierhofer who retired after serving for some years as treasurer.

The most recent U.S. census, taken in 1960, reported a total of 3,181,051 Canadian-born residents in that country.

Canada's population reached an estimated 19,705,000 at October 1, 1965, an increase of 1.8 per cent from one year previously and of 8.0 per cent from the June 1 1961, census.

To Discontinue Local Branch

Announcement is officially made that the Summerland branch of the Dominion Bank will discontinue operations at the end of the month. A statement to this effect has been expected for some time, it having been rumored that the bank would close its Summerland office. The deposits will be taken over by the Bank of Montreal.

The new appointments for the staff have not yet been announced, with the exception that Mr. Wilkeshaw will be moved to Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan.

Gold Lodge Pin Awarded

A number of members of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the G. W. V. A. met at the home of Mrs. K. Bentley and presented her with a gold lodge pin. Mrs. Bentley was president for three years and in that time helped considerably with the building of the hall.

Mrs. Holden, the oldest member, presented the pin. Mrs. Bentley thanked the ladies in a few well-chosen words. Mrs. Bentley was taken completely by surprise and all the members expressed their regrets that she cannot carry on, and hope she will still prove an active member.

CHRISTMAS LIGHTING CUP

Mrs. F. E. Atkinson left, is presenting the F. E. Atkinson Cup to Mr. and Mrs. Don Hermiston. This is an annual presentation to the home judged to have the best Christmas lighting. The presentation was made at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet last week.

Summerland Rink wins Okanagan Spiel

Herb Lempke skips his rink to win the Senior Curling Club Okanagan District Playoff in Kelowna over the weekend.

Losing to the Nelson Clow rink of Kelowna in the first round, the Lempke rink came back to face them in the final play and came out on top after a very close game.

The next step for Lempke and his team: C. Davis, Don Wilson, and J. Caldwell is the interior playoff, and from there to the Provincial Playoff — should they keep up the pace they have set. The winner has been established at the coast, but no dates have yet been set for either event.

Friends and family honor Mr. and Mrs. D. Derosier on anniversary

Relatives and friends gathered together at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Derosier in honour of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Derosier on the occasion of their 25th anniversary on January 30th.

During the evening songs were sung by Mr. and Mrs. Shane Mihalick with the guests joining in.

A mock double ring ceremony with Ken Hunt of Penticton acting as Parson Brown was performed. The bride was presented with a veil and corsage, while the groom looked dashing in a high top silk hat and cane and boutonier.

The wedding march was played by Shane Mihalick and brother Louis, and Mrs. Myrna Mihalick sang "I Love You Because" while the couple signed the wedding card along with all those present.

A toast was given by Mr. Howard Clarke in honor of the couple. They were then presented with an electric wall clock. A buffet supper followed and a cake had been specially decorated for the occasion. Sisters of the groom, Mary Clarke and Pearl Neal were co-hostesses.

Thunderstorms occur most frequently in Canada on the southern prairies and in southern Ontario, an average of 20 to 30 days with thunderstorms each May-September period.

Stork comes through snow tunnels

Word has been received from Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stewart that they are the proud parents of a daughter Nancy Patricia, born December 23. They are former Summerland residents now living in Weston, Ontario.

They have plenty of snow there apparently as Mrs. Stewart says in a letter, their children go out the back door of their home and immediately disappear into grooves tunnelled through the snow.

"I like this armchair banking"

Banking by mail saves time, travel and parking problems for customers of a chartered bank. It's one of many ways your local branch helps make modern banking so simple, so convenient. From your own armchair, you command nearly the full range of bank services. You can send deposits, make withdrawals, transfer funds . . . or handle almost any other banking business, including some types of loans. Special mailing forms are available. There are no extra bank charges. At home or away, you can count on prompt, personal attention to all your banking needs.

THE CHARTERED BANKS SERVING YOUR COMMUNITY

Through 3,650 branches, all across Canada, the chartered banks bring full-range banking within the reach of everyone.

Ken Booth was a recent visitor to Vancouver where he spent the weekend on school trustee business.

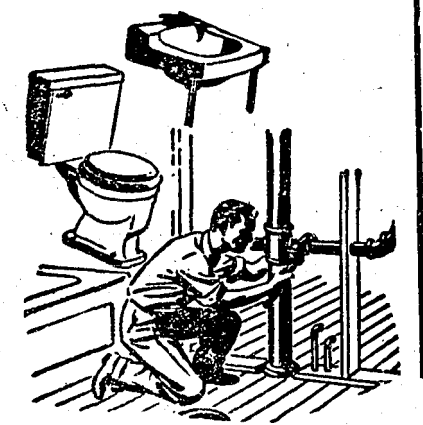

Harvey Wilson and Gertie Butler spent the weekend at the coast on Hospital Business. Due to the inclement weather they were held over 24 hours in Vancouver before flying back to Summerland but arrived home safely with the business apparently well in hand.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Laidlaw have returned home after holidaying for two weeks in Mexico. They left on January 16th and arrived home February 1st.

Congratulations to Glennis Clark and Mel Ducommun on a good try to make $25.00 for their organization, the Summerland Hospital Auxiliary on the T.V. show Challenge Sunday night. They lost to the Kelowna J.C.'s.

Report From Parliament Hill

By DAVID PUGH, M.P.,
for Okanagan-Boundary

Second thoughts on pension, sales tax

Canada's third minority Government has just completed its third week of work, and all indications are that — barring accidents — this Parliament will continue on for a number of years — and may well run a full term. Behind the scenes, the consensus is that the Government will receive the necessary backing. In any event, it would appear that there is a good deal more thought directed towards getting the nation's business done.

The debate on the Speech from the Throne has been completed without incident, although it produced some serious and humorous items. The Government resisted an Old Age Pension increase and the rescinding of the 11% Sales Tax on building materials and production equipment. Both of these saw Members voting contrary to their spoken wishes. Because of this, I feel that the Government may well have second thoughts. Certainly the Sales Tax is hurting home builders as well as our whole production and manufacturing fraternity, and acts as a brake on our exporting ability.

The Debate also included very serious talks on Canada's capacity to amend her own Constitution. As the matter now stands, even though we are a sovereign power, we still must have the consent of Westminster to any change in our Constitution. For a great many years politicians have spoken enthusiastically about bringing this power to the Canadian Parliament, and many Federal-Provincial meetings have been called for this purpose. It looked as though final agreement had been arrived at when all Provincial Premiers spoke glowingly about the Fulton-Favreau Formula and the term "Co-operative Federalism."

However, last week Premier Lesage of Quebec had second thoughts on the matter, and as a result of statements made by him, the Plan will have to be considered further. Ironically, Co-operative Federalism and the Formula were evolved with what was thought to be express emphasis on Provincial rights and mainly directed towards Quebec. For my part, I am rather glad that the matter will have to be gone into further. Serious doubts on the formula have been raised by fairly eminent constitutional authorities. In some quarters it was felt that such a change would detract from central authority and thus weaken the Federal Government. Too much power over an amendment would be given to the Provinces and it well might be that one Province could end up with powers greater than the others.

The balance of the week has been spent on those Estimates not previously passed in the last Parliament. The first Department is External Affairs, and Mr. Martin, as its Minister, is being questioned on Canada's stand in Viet Nam, sanctions against Rhodesia, and to undernourished nations, and the like. Although an examination of the Estimates provide detailed examination of Government spending, this Debate will emphasize Government policy rather than actual expenditure.

Former resident off to Morocco

Robert R. Madsen formerly of Summerland has been named a U.S. Peace Corps Volunteer, having completed 12 weeks of training at the University of Texas. The new Volunteers were home on leave prior to an early January departure for Morocco.

They will work in hospital, sanatorium and public health laboratories throughout Morocco where they will perform lab tests, help to train Moroccan assistants and conduct routine surveys of public water supplies, milk products and canned food. Volunteers in this project will join other public health Volunteers who have already been working in Morocco for a year.

During training these Volunteers studied French and Arabic, the two chief languages of Morocco. They also had instruction in laboratory procedures, and some trainees worked in hospitals and sanatorium labs near the training site. Courses in the history and culture of Morocco, United States history, world affairs, health and physical conditioning rounded out the training program.

With the arrival of this group some 125 Peace Corps Volunteers will be in this North African country. Besides public health, the Volunteers are working in women's community centre and teaching in secondary schools.

Mr. Madsen is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Harold Madsen.

Centennial art contest depicting landmarks

The B.C.-wide Historic Landmark Contest sponsored by the Saanich Peninsula Art Centre is attracting much interest. This centennial project is open to artists throughout the province. Subject of the contest may be a building, place or person 75 years old or over, and should be of significance to B.C. history.

Entries will be shown in leading centres throughout the province during 1967. Prizes are offered for the most outstanding works of art. For further information and rules, please write: Historic Landmark Contest, Box 55, Saanichton, B.C.

TO RESIDE IN LONDON

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Doug Campbell on Sunday to bid bon voyage to Mr. and Mrs. Alan Forsdick (Darlene Campbell) who leave on February 14 to make their home in London, were Mr. Sid Campbell and daughter of Revelstoke, Mr. and Mrs. Don Day and family of Oroville and Miss Ann Anderson of Vancouver.

Slight decrease in employment opportunities in district

Employment opportunities occurring within the area serviced by the Penticton National Employment Service office show a slight decrease compared with January 1965, reports Irvine Moss, Manager.

This is due mainly to a decrease in construction activity coupled with a reduction in the size of Municipal Winter Works Projects being undertaken this year as compared with those completed last year.

There are vacancies with the Penticton office at present in the following occupations: Electrician; Structural Draughtsman; Construction Estimator; Stenographers with shorthand qualifications; fully qualified restaurant cook for an out of town employer and a supervisory waitress for employment to commence later in the spring.

The annual Winter Employment Campaign is well underway and all local citizens are urged to have a look around their homes or business premises to see if they have any work which could be done now while there are men available.

There are many reasons why it is advantageous to have such work as redecoration, alteration or remodelling done now. First, it may be less expensive because some companies offer discounts at this time of year on the building supplies necessary for home improvement projects. Secondly, the job can be done more quickly because contractors and skilled tradesmen are not so rushed in the winter months and can take on the job right away; as well, the demand for materials is not so heavy in winter; therefore deliveries and services are usually more prompt.

LET'S GET NEWSY . . .

Mr. Desmond O'Leary of Saanich, was a recent visitor at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Frank O'Leary, to attend the funeral of his uncle. Also visiting Mrs. O'Leary were her mother, Mrs. E. V. Seaward, and her brother and sister-in-law Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Seaward, of Vancouver.

Rotarians see wildlife preview

Rotary President Jock Johnston appointed the nominating committee at their regular meeting on Friday night. They are Gordon Smith, Chairman, Chas. Bleasdale and Gordon Beggs.
He was very pleased to report that there were only two members not attending the meeting and hoped for 100 per cent attendance this week.

Bill Riddle and Jerry Laidlaw of Penticon were guests. Gordon Beggs said they have sold $475 in apples to date, and they still have 175 to 200 boxes to sell. (Some have been sold since.) He expressed appreciation to Chas. Bleasdale for boxing 8 bins of apples for the committee.

The women of the Red Cross Room sent a donation of $15 to be used for their water safety program. Writing for the group was Mrs. Percy Taylor who expressed thanks to Rotarians for their work with the children at Rotary Beach. Cece Wade introduced Al Eisey who showed movies of northwestern B.C.

Mr. Eisey is bringing his fabulous two-hour color movie to the MacDonald School Auditorium on Friday and Saturday Feb. 18 and 19 at 7:30 p.m. both nights.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Bergh and family met friends from Lethbridge and Nelson at Grand Forks where they enjoyed the weekend together.
Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lloyd are home after spending five weeks in California and Nevada. While in California, they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Sandy McKenzie who are spending the winter down there.
The Trout Creek P.T.A. are holding their annual card and games party Saturday night at 7:30. They hope for a good attendance as this is their big money making project of the year.

Dream comes true for ten Summerland couples

Less than a dozen years ago the Jolly Boys' trip to Hawaii was no more than a wistful dream. This week that dream came true for all ten of the Summerland couples as they winged their way by jet across the blue Pacific for two weeks of tropical sunshine in the enchanted isles.

To go back to the genesis of the Hawaiian Dream... way back in 1949 ten local upstarts joined together to form the Summerland Jaycees as part of that international organization. Soon there were 53 lively young fellows in their 20's and 30's all working toward community betterment, a n d promoting such campaigns as "Get Out and Vote" and "Paint-up Clean up", anything to battle apathy. To help relieve the current labour shortage the 53 members on several occasions turned out en masse to help harvest the fruit crop from local orchards. They painted buildings, entered floats in local parades... they were the spirit of the community at that time... in their younger and more boisterous days.

Then, perhaps as a result of over organization, or perhaps just overwork... the membership dropped off. Eventually 10 or 12 years ago, there were only 10 original members left. It was decided that they should divorce themselves from the Jaycee organization and become more of a social fun-club. They dubbed themselves, hopefully if short-sightedly, the Jolly Boys Club... a name that today embarrasses some of its members who by now are beginning to show signs of outgrowing their boyhood.

Meeting in the homes of the members, once a month, has proven to be a most congenial and harmonious arrangement. Several times a year the 10 "boys" arrange a night out with their Jolly Girls... and the club picks up the tab.

When someone, not so many years ago, suggested that perhaps it would be fun if someday the 10 couples could have a trip together... perhaps even Hawaii... and paid out of club funds. There was considerable doubt that such a trip could ever be realized. But each member coughed up five dollars for the pot to launch the fantastic idea... even if nothing came of it there would be money for a night out on the club.

As the fund slowly grew, one of the boys announced that he had been told of an old building that was coming up for bids on demolition, and that perhaps the club could handle it and make a few bucks on the deal. They were successful on their bid, and successful with the sale of the material gleaned from the demolition.

With the profit on the demolition job they bought mining stock, which proved to be money down the drain. Deeming it safer to invest in an accumulative share fund, they soon had enough equity to borrow on their shares at 6 per cent and re-invest at a better rate in mortgages. Six or eight months ago it became apparent to the Jolly Boys that they could now seriously consider that fantastic Hawaiian holiday, which such a relatively short time ago had been only a dream.

This week and next, the Hawaiian sun shines down on all ten of the Jolly Boys and their ten Jolly Girls. Returning by P. & O liner 'Canberra' are the following eight couples:—Mr. and Mrs. Ted Weeks, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Les Rumball, Mr. and Mrs.

Howard Pruden, Mr. and Mrs. Al McIntosh, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Minter, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hallquist, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Clark. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kuroda and Mr. and Mrs. Mel Ducommun leave the above group when the ship sails from Honolulu. They will fly to some of the other islands to visit friends and relatives of the Kuroda's before returning to the Okanagan by air a few days later.

Incidentally, the Jolly Boys have left a nest egg in their fund. When they return from Hawaii a new dream will be born... a new goal... a new horizon on which to set their sails. A Fun-Club? Each member is betting on its future of fun and faraway places.

Bruce Crawford presently showing sketches at Kelowna

Bruce Crawford has at present a collection of 38 water colors and pencil and pen sketches on show in Kelowna at the library.

His works are basically of local interest and have been done especially for showing in this area. The show started on February 1 and continues until Feb. 19.

Bruce is better known in the Maritimes where he studied and first created his art. The results of his present show are, however, very gratifying to date. We will probably be hearing more of Bruce Crawford in the future.

Auto court addition probed

Mr. Garry Ferguson, representing the Cedar Brooke Auto Court was present at the council meeting Tuesday, to be on hand when the decision regarding the application of a tent and trailer camp on his property.

Reeve Holmes suggested to council they all make an on the spot tour of inspection before any decision is made. The planning commission turned it down last week but council have the final approval.

An application was received from Mr. David Jones, to have the lane opened behind his home. At present there are apples planted on this roadway. Although council are obligated to do so, they will open the lane if costs are paid by Mr. Jones. Superintendent Blagborne estimated it to be around $250.

John Khalombach, building inspector, will attend the annual building inspector's conference to be held in Vancouver April 28 and 29.

Mrs. Pool made application to conduct a kindergarten in the Parish Hall of the Anglican Church. No action will be taken until a report from the fire department is made regarding the building.

Fall Fair reverts to one day--no royalty this year

A new Fall Fair Chairman was elected at a meeting Monday night. He is a well known, long-time resident of Summerland, Jack Twogood.

His right hand man will be Charlie Bernhardt who holds two important positions, that of Vice Chairman and Exhibit Chairman.

Preston Mott will continue as Treasurer, but a secretary was not found up to the time of this meeting. Past secretary, Mrs M Lamb said she would help out until another one is appointed.

In charge of publicity a n d fair book are Dr. J. Marshall and Keith Bergh. Rob Towgood is the head of the Agricultural committee and John Khalombach is the Arena Manager. John Dunn heads the pet parade and the 4-H participation and Tom Manning the Horticultural section.

Chamber of Commerce president Eric Tait chaired this meeting.

Mrs. Ted Atkinson speaking for the Royalty committee suggested the possibility of withdrawing from the fair.

She stressed that if the fair committee felt this unwise, they would certainly carry on, but it makes it very difficult to get the queens and princesses back for the ceremony at the fall fair. In the case of last year, the queen had to fly home and was late arriving and there was only one of the princesses available.

The committee also felt the crowning should take place earlier in the year, so she may take part in district functions as the Summerland queen rather than queen elect.

"We will do anything the Fall Fair Committee wants us to do," Mrs. Atkinson said, "but if the Queen Crowning ceremony was eliminated, it would very likely be only a one day affair."

After considerable discussion it was felt that the committee would be better served if it were a one day fair with an all-out concentrated effort put forth.

They felt the show dragged somewhat the second day.

In view of this, they felt it impossible to have the queen crowning ceremony so the queen committee retired to formulate plans of their own.

The Fall Fair committee will meet on the second Monday of each month.

Deer killed on highway Thursday

WO1 Geo. Barr of the Army Camp, Vernon struck and killed a deer eight miles north of Summerland on Highway 97 on Thursday evening.

He was travelling north when the animal darted into the path of his car.

The impact caused $200 damage to his car. There were no injuries and no charges were laid.

Guard rail cheats death of Albertans

Donald James Roland of Edmonton and a passenger had a brush with death on Highway 97 at 11 p.m. Saturday night. A guard rail prevented them from falling 300 to 400 feet down to Lake Okanagan.

They were travelling north. Roland was making his way around a left hand curve and his right wheels travelled to the right gravelled shoulder and went into a skid sideways. They struck the guard rail which kept them from going over the bank.

He scraped the rail for 60 ft., then the car veered to the left on to the road and back to wards the guard rail and side swiped it for a short distance before control was regained.

Damage to the 1966 model car was estimated at $2,000. No one was injured and no charges were brought against Roland.

Summerland RCMP did not feel they were exceeding the speed limit.

Two new medical doctors have set up practices in Summerland

Two doctors moved into Summerland this month and have set up their practices with offices in the Dr. Munn building. They are Dr. Donald Williston and Dr. Barbara Moss.

Although they are a husband and wife team, Drs. Barbara Moss and Dr. Donald Williston, they will function in separate fields.

Dr. Williston will carry on a general practice as well as serve the Summerland Hospital in his specialty, anaesthesia.

He graduated from Queen's University in 1945, practiced in West Vancouver for 12 years and more recently he took post graduate work in anaesthesiology in Buffalo N. Y.

Dr. Moss is a Paediatrician and will serve as a consultant in valley hospitals. She received her degree from King College Hospital, London, England. After practicing in England for a time,

Future Royalty on parade

The Royalty Committee met at the Summerland Fire Hall Parlors to plan a Coffee Party at the Auditorium of the School, Saturday morning, February 19th.

The committee is contacting all organizations who they feel will be interested in sponsoring a queen this year. All the grade 11 girls and their mothers will be present.

This is an opportunity for the organizations to choose a candidate. The Royalty Committee feel this is a fair way as all the organizations will have an opportunity to meet all the girls.

The committee find themselves in poor financial condition so there will be a small charge for the refreshments.

Anuk River mines to start drilling

Summerland investors in Anuk River Mines Ltd. will be pleased to know they are making arrangements to do some work in the area according to a report in the Vancouver Province this week.

Preliminary programs have now started on the Brenda Lake area property of Anuk River Mines Ltd. The current work is general reconnaissance preparatory to prospecting, geological, geophysical and diamond drilling which is scheduled to start in the next few weeks.

The main claim block held by Anuk is located along the southwestern border of the Brenda Mines property, 15 miles west of Peachland.

The company recently completed the sale of its second public offering of $200,000 shares at 50 cents per share and there is now approximately $125,000 in the treasury. There are 1,250,000 shares issued of the 5,000,000 shares authorized and there are 650,000 shares in escrow.

Anuk River Mines also holds a 32-claim block in the Stikine River area that cover favorable geology of the area and a program of prospecting and induced polarization survey are planned for the 1966 field season.

Summerland Valentine Sweetheart to be crowned

The Valentine Sweetheart Dance in the Secondary School Auditorium on February 18th will be an evening to remember for the girl who is chosen as the Valentine Sweetheart, to be crowned at the dance.

ATTEND CONVENTION

Frank Haar, Vic Smith, Joe Akitt, Ken Nister Don Agur and Norm Ross attended the annual meeting of Maverick Mining and Oil Ltd. in Calgary over the weekend.

Mr. Lloyd Gartrell is on a business trip to Montreal this week.

Miss Pat McCutcheon was home on a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill McCutcheon, over the weekend. Pat is a student at the Simon Fraser University.

Under The Giant's Head

Los Angeles during January and picked up a copy of the Los Angeles Times, issue of the weekend of January 20. It consisted of 368 full size pages. The classified section had 3,655 ads in it. A fair sized operation that.

It's quite a world. One of the giants in the business of making laundry soap is making a lot of noise about advertising soap to sell soap. Now this sounds foolish but for as many years as I can remember, they have been selling the dish towels, silverware and face cloths, etc. they offer as a so-called premium. So now they are heroes when they have thrown out the gimmicks—at least on one line. It's about time soap and cereal companies let their products stand on their own merits—sans bribery.

Talking about advertising—see where a coffee company is pumping the fact that you can't tell the difference between instant and ground by getting testimonies from patrons of restaurants after being served the instant variety. I have been in plenty of restaurants who would be wise in making the change to instant. In many cases it may be different—but it couldn't be worse.

The golf classes currently being conducted each Monday night are going over in a big way. I understand the registration is around the 60 mark.

Doggone it I like to sleep as long as I can in the morning and I am sick and tired of rising early to clean up after neighborhood dogs who have worked over our garbage during the night. I realize the dog bylaw is a tough one to enforce—but surely those who own dogs should take some personal responsibility for their behaviour. One night I e a n o home late and a big brown lab, I think it was, was quite indignant about me parking my car in the carport and interrupting his (mine for lunch) dinner.

Oliver buries Princeton; Rockets win consolation round

Sat. was a big basketball day in the gym which saw Oliver take Princeton for the night to advance to the B.C. playoff. The Jr. Cosmics remain undefeated with a 27-26 overtime win over Princeton. The Sr. Girls lost to Keremeos in a game there.

OLIVER slipped by the Pentiction Royals 51-46 by outscoring the opposition 18-9 in the final quarter. The Royals had led most of the way before the Hornets onrush in the last quarter.

Oliver buried Princeton 37-24 in the big game. Jumping in front from the opening whistle, the Hornets from Oliver were in complete control of the game, taking a 20-0 half time lead and wound up with 37 points compared with 24 for the Rebels.

SUMMERLAND was the consolation winner knocking off the Royals 36-33. They lost their opener 54-46 to Princeton before a large crowd which kept cheering them on. They were unable to combat with the powerful Rebels, however, even though they led after the first quarter 12-7 and in the second were leading 7-12 but the Rebels came on and took a 27-20 halftime lead. Pete Antonick with 14 and Garry Atkinson with 12 were the big guns for the Rebels while for the Rockets it was Gerry Marsh with 20; Gerry Mayne with 16; Bill Fitzpatrick with 9; Keith Kennedy 6; Ron Mayne and Clint Skinner 3. The cheerleaders, Donna Holmes, Marilmae Allen, Joyce Arasse, and Isla Schepens again did well.

In the Pentiction game the Rockets fell behind 1-0 early in the first but went ahead 10-6 in the second. The half time score was 20-13 for the Rockets and the final was 36-33 for Pentiction, Ken MacDermott with 11 and Bill Leighton with 9 were top scorers while for Summerland it was Gerry Marsh with 11; Bill Fitzpatrick 8; Keith Kennedy 5; Gerry Mayne, Ron Mayne, and Clint Skinner 4.

IN JUNIOR ACTION, the Cosmics needed overtime to get a 27-26 victory over Pentiction. The Cosmics overcame a 19-18 third quarter and tied the score up at 23 all to force the overtime. Guard Ken Madsen was the Cosmic hero in overtime as he scored a basket and two foul shots to preserve the Cosmics unbeaten record at four straight in league action. Madsen led the Cosmics with 9 points; Don Johnson had 7; Ken Kehler, Ray Davis and Art Bolton 3; and Alan Barkwill 2.

THE SR. GIRLS lost to Keremeos in the Sr. girls playoffs held in Keremeos. They beat Pentiction 35-22 but lost to Keremeos 46-27. In the Pentiction game, Bea Young had 13 points; Ann Dean 7; Bev Bye 5; Sheryl Shenton and Denise Benison 4; while in the Keremeos game, Dean was high scorer.

Summerland to take part in production of 'Brigadoon'

The musical comedy "Brigadoon" which had such an outstanding success on Broadway in the late '40's, will be the next production by Light Opera of Pentiction during Easter week, (April 14-15-16) at the Pen-Hi auditorium.

In the female lead will be Carol McGibney, who played "Elsa" in LOOP's production of "The Sound of Music" last spring. Taking the male lead role will be newcomer George Warne.

Summerland residents Elizabeth Henley, Enid Maynard, Lila Smith, Pat Danallanko, Jack Ratzlaff and Lorna Bloomfield are also in the production.

Music and dramatic production are under the direction of Millard Foster. Choreography by Gweneth Lloyd.

Dr. Marshall speaks at W.I. meeting

The February meeting of the Summerland Branch of the Women's Institute was held in the Parish Hall on the afternoon of February 11, with a fair attendance.

The President, Mrs. S. Fenwick, conducted the meeting. After routine business several convenors gave short reports.

Mrs. Holler for Agriculture showed how an economical miniature greenhouse could be made from a cardboard carton and plastic. Mrs. V. Barrs, Citizenship, gave an interesting account of the Portuguese people. Mrs. J. Brown, Cultural Activities, reported material for sewing was available.

Mrs. S. Fenwick then introduced Dr. J. Marshall, who outlined Summerland's proposed Centennial project, and the part suggested for the W. I. participation, namely the entrance gates.

Following this Mrs. E. Tait and Mrs. E. O. Mortimer conducted an amusing game in which members and guests took part.

Tea was served from a daintily appointed table, with Mrs. S. A. MacDonald and Mrs. M. Colias pouring. The invited guests were introduced, and the birthday cake was cut by Mrs. G. Inglis, one of the oldest members of the Summerland Women's Institute.

training, and food production problems throughout Latin America, and the Near and Middle East.

Dr. Borlaug visited the Research Station while enroute to Kelowna where he addressed a joint meeting of Kamloops and Okanagan-Kootenay Branches of the B.C. Institute of Agrobiologists on "Food Production in a Fertile World".

Recipes for Girl Guide mother and daughter banquet Feb. 22

We have been requested to publish the following recipes for the convenience of those bringing food for the Girl Guide Mother and Daughter Banquet to be held on February 22, 1966. They were supplied to us by Mrs. Jim Miltimore.

CHICKEN CASSEROLE

- 3 three pound chicken
- 2 medium onions
- 2 pounds frozen mixed vegetables
- 1 tin sliced mushrooms drained or one tin of mushroom soup
- 2 tablespoons of butter flour to thicken seasoning to taste
- 1 baking powder biscuit recipe (double amount of shortening) grated cheese

This recipe may be started a day or two before if desired. Simmer chicken with sliced onion until tender. Remove all meat from bones, cut into chunks, and cover with chicken broth. Cook vegetables and add with juice to chicken mixture. Blend in mushrooms, butter, and seasoning. Add enough flour to make a thin to medium mixture. Roll out Baking Powder Biscuit to 1/4" thick, sprinkle with grated cheese. Roll up and slice 1/2" to make pinwheel style biscuits. Bake 35 min. at 425 degrees or until done.

GRAHAM CRACKER / JELLO DESSERT

2 pgs. Jello
1 qt. vanilla Ice Cream
Fruit if desired
Graham Cracker Crumbs
Dissolve any flavored Jello in one half required amount of water. Blend in Ice Cream and fruit. Refrigerate until mixture starts to set. (About 20 min. to 1/2 hour).

Mix Graham cracker crumbs and spread in 9x13 pan. Pour in Jello mixture. Top with light covering of crumbs. Refrigerate until ready to use. Particularly nice in flavours of pineapple, raspberry or strawberry.

Opening lead from West. Hand Seven of Spades.

How many of our readers can make seven no trump with a spade opening?

Nearly all the players bid six no trump on this hand at the Duplicate Bridge on Monday night, but unfortunately no one made seven unless a diamond was led.

Win the opening lead in the dummy. Lead the Queen of hearts. East can cover if he likes or not. When the 10 of hearts drop from the west hand you find out the heart situation and play accordingly. Run out all your hearts, play two rounds of high spades and on the second spade you discard the Jack of diamonds from your hand, then lead a diamond up to your Ace.

Now all players are down to four cards. Poor West is squeezed. He can't let go of the King of Diamonds and he can't afford a club because a sharp Declarer, counting the cards will then see all his clubs are good. If he throws the King of diamonds, lead a small club to your ace in dummy, cash your Queen of diamonds and throw away your losing club.

Once again we would like to point out it is very important in bridge to count the opponent's discards. The Declarer will then see if he has to take the diamond finesse or not.

Let's Get Newsy . . .

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Long have returned from three weeks holiday in Victoria.

Mrs. R. G. Russell left with her sister, Mrs. Howard Mitchell, on an extended visit to Bermuda, on Sunday.

Mr. Allan Reid was a visitor at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Reid, over the weekend.

Mr. Tom Brennan was a visitor at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brennan, for the weekend.

Mr. Bob Mortimer spent the weekend at the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. T. Mortimer, Summerland.

Doug Hill spent several days in Vancouver where he was called to attend the funeral of his aunt, Mrs. Wm. Staples, on Feb. 14.

Don Hermiston and Woody Gillespie are in Vancouver for two weeks taking a Civil Defense course. The information gathered will be used in their work with the Search and Rescue Squad. This makes five of Summerland members of this organization to have taken the course.

Darlene Ducommun who is attending the University of Victoria was home over the weekend.

Attending the Cannery Convention in Vancouver last week were Bill Barkwill, Bob Barkwill, Lorie Bloomfield, Ryan Lawly and Doug Campbell. Accompanying the men to Vancouver were Mrs. Chadburn and Mrs. Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Forsdick left for England Feb. 14 where they will make their home. Darlene is the daughter of Doug and Ruth Campbell where they have been visiting for several months following her wedding to Alan in November.

Returning to Summerland with Mr. and Mrs. Ryan Lawly was Mrs. Lawly's father, Mr. J. K. Sinclair, who will now make his home with his daughter and son-in-law.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Holmes left Feb. 7 for Todd Mountain where they were met by their son Doug and his wife Marg, of Prince George. Bob Thompson and Amile Trudeau of Prince George also spent the week with them skiing at Todd Mountain. The skiing was said to be very good and everyone enjoyed the week immensely. Doug and Marg accompanied Norman and Flo Holmes home for the weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Scott drove to Vancouver over the weekend, taking their son Ted to UBC.

Planning by paper alone?

We have previously stated that town planning is one of the most difficult roles there is to play, be it done by a commission made up of laymen or professionals. Due to the fact it is such a difficult task, it would be wise for leaders in that field to concentrate on the business of planning and not offer advice in other areas that may or may not be sound. The Cedar Brooke Auto Court, made application for a tent and trailer camp to operate in conjunction with their motel units. The planning commission recommended that council should turn the application down on grounds of poor access and it was going to be too close to the growing residential area to the east. The council is taking another look. We are not, at this time, going to question the judgement of the planning commission on this. We were out and looked at the property and hoped council will do the same before making a decision one way or the other. We assume the planning commission has looked the property over before coming to their decision to turn it down. An on the spot interview with the owner would seem reasonable. In addition to the above reasons for turning the application down, District Planner John Northey suggested it would not be economical for the owners. That there is marginal space available. That washroom facilities would be too costly and that a tent and trailer camp would not "add" to the existing motel operation. This is an insult to the intelligence and judgement of the applicant. As far as our long nose could find out, this economic advice was not sought by the owners — in fact, they were not consulted by the district planner. Planning by paper alone is a dangerous business and would be very unfair.

ORCHARD RUN

By Wally Smith

We Went -- We Saw -- We marvelled.

Perhaps I should say we went, we saw, and we were flabbergasted... at first. We were a score of apple growers from Oliver and Osoyoos, and the occasion that aroused our interest was a demonstration of mold and hold pruning at the Law Bros. orchards between Oroville and Tonasket. Mold and hold is a method of pruning an apple tree grown on seedling rootstock the common type of tree grown in the Okanagan) to keep it from getting too large and at the same time keep the tree bearing good annual crops. Mold and hold might be called a compromise between the dwarf or semi-dwarf tree and the giant size tree so characteristic of most of the older Okanagan orchards. It is a method of pruning that could be used by a grower with healthy young trees that are too valuable to pull out and replace, but will grow to be too large of pruned in the usual way. The general idea of mold and hold is not new for it is used in New Zealand and Australia, and was at one time used in some parts of the Okanagan. On Wednesday morning of last week one of the brothers, Noble Law, met our group in Oroville. Mr. Law is a field man for a large co-operative, and is a former government horticulturist. He took us first to the Law orchard (180 acres) just north of Tonasket, and later to another large orchard a few miles farther north. Before showing us the orchard Mr. Law sounded a warning: "You are accustomed to the long method of pruning, so be prepared for a shock." And a shock it was. Measured by our long pruning standards, the mold and hold trees looked like a ragged, badly neglected mess. "I know what you are thinking," said our friendly guide. "That's how I felt when I first saw this s t y l e of pruning. You'll get used to it, as I did. The trees now look fine to me. Give it a little time to soak in before you decide it is good or bad."

With mold and hold little attempt is made to remove branches except where they cross over or interfere with the placement of ladders. All new growth is cut back to about half its length. Suckers growing up through the centre of the tree are cut back to about 10 inches in length; drooping branches are shortened. That's the way the Law Bros. do it, their method being a modified form of a system followed by Auvil Grady of Quincy, Wash. It looks rather terrible but the Law Bros. are happy with it. The idea behind so much cutting back is to promote the growth of more fruit spurs and reduce the amount of vegetative growth. This lets in the light, increases leaf area, and the result is a smaller tree, more and better fruit, according to Mr. Law. All branches are kept rather short except the scaffold limbs, with the object of making it easy to get in with a ladder for thinning and picking. Spur wood is developed and maintained all the way back to the centre of the tree. Time required for pruning is about the same or a little greater than for long pruning. The trees are easier to thin, easier to pick, and very few prunings are needed. Most of the trees we saw are 10 to 15 years old and had been under mold and hold for the last three years. The old, very large trees are more difficult to adapt to mold and hold pruning, but the Law Bros. are tackling the big trees too, and are satisfied with results so far. In conjunction with their system of pruning the Law Bros. follow a carefully planned program of chemical thinning, making use of both Elgetol and Sevin. They believe chemical thinning is a must with Goldens, and advisable with Red Delicious. In the Law Bros. orchard the is no dising or other form of tillage. The sod cover crop is moved and grown around the trees is held in check during early summer with chemical spray. Mice are controlled by spraying the cover crop. Some growers in our group were favorably impressed with what they saw and heard of mold and hold pruning; others were frankly skeptical. One member of the party, after watching the demonstration and listening to the explanation, turned to his companion and murmured, "You'll no be callin' that prunin'!" The Law brothers, after a three year trial, say they are getting better grades, heavier tonnage, need fewer props, and the pickers prefer to work on this kind of tree. That seems to spell success, and I'm not prepared to quarrel with it. In the first nine months of 1965 labor income in Canada totalled $18,463 million, an increase of $1,787,000,000 over the corresponding period of 1964.

New restrictions on aldrin and dieldrin

Farmers who intend to use aldrin or dieldrin on their crops this year should check container labels carefully. Changes have been made in the requirements governing the sale of these pesticides to ensure that residues do not turn up in livestock products such as meat and milk. Aldrin and dieldrin may not be sold for use on any crop, including forage, that is likely to be fed to animals. The restriction takes in all root crops, including turnips. Aldrin and dieldrin may still be used on specified crops for direct human consumption as use as permitted does not result in residues that would be objectionable under the Food and Drugs Act. Soil and seed treatments are permitted where a crop is grown for seed and where no part of the crop will be fed to animals. Soil treatments are not to be used where root crops are in rotation. Use of aldrin and dieldrin in fertilizers for farm use is no longer permitted. The Feeds Act prohibits the sale of feed containing these insecticides. The agricultural chemical industry and provincial extension agencies were advised of the new requirements, under the Pest Control Products Act, affecting aldrin and dieldrin in August 1965 to provide ample time for label changes for 1966. The United States Department of Agriculture recently announced similar regulation changes affecting aldrin and dieldrin.

New stamp to feature Yukon, NW Territories

The floral emblems and coats of arms of the Yukon and Northwest Territories are featured on two new stamps to be released March 23, Postmaster General Jean-Pierre Cote announced.

These five cent stamps are the twelfth and thirteenth in a series initiated in May, 1964, honouring the various geographic regions in Canada as a prelude to Centennial celebrations in 1967. A fourteenth and final stamp in the series will be issued later this year.

Yukon's colourful firewood emblem, adopted in 1958, will be pictured on one of the new stamps in tones of blue, red and green. Its companion issue will use shades of yellow, green and olive to illustrate the mountain avens, chosen as a symbol by the Northwest Territories in 1957.

Designs for both stamps were by the Canadian Bank Note Company who will print the total 14 million for each issue with a combination of offset and intaglio methods.

Feb. 11, was read and accepted. This social will celebrate the birthday of Thomas Wildey, the founder of Odd Fellowship on this continent one hundred and forty-seven years ago. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Miss Louise Atkinson and Mrs. F. E. Atkinson.

Jim Marshall leaves for speaking engagements in U.S.

Dr. James Marshall will be leaving on Friday, Feb. 11 for Charles Town, West Virginia, where he has been invited to speak to the West Virginia State Horticultural Association.

During his visit of approximately two weeks, he will give talks on Low Volume Spraying, The Future of the Apple Industry, and an after dinner talk at the Banquet and Ball to be held by the Association.

Mrs. Roy Larsen, Mrs. Marshall's sister from Levinworth, Washington will be a visitor at the Marshall home during Jim's absence.

Legion winners to continue play

Legion President Hilly Smith chaired his first monthly meeting last week since his installation.

There will be more entertainment for club members in the future as the general meeting approved the purchase of a second pool table. They will purchase a three-year-old table from the Penticon Golf and Country Club by making a small down payment, and taking over their payments of $59 per month. Total price is $1500. Although there was some doubt among some members, it was generally agreed this would be a good investment.

Mr. Wm. G. Stowe, a veteran of both wars was installed a new member at this meeting. A letter of thanks was received from Sue Wilson on receipt of $10 for her winning the Remembrance Day essay contest.

The Old Age Pensioners Association also thanked the Legion for the use of the P.A. system for their meetings. Legion representatives will attend a coffee party at the Secondary School Feb. 19 to view queen candidates for 1966.

Bill McCutcheon, chairman of the welfare committee, questioned the amount of $116 for advertising last year. As he was advertising each week that he was available for interviews every Monday, he felt enough people knew this now, and would cancel that advertisement.

The rink who won the Zone curling champions consisting of Bill Baker, Bill Craft, Stan Porritt and Bill Eyre were congratulated. They advance to provincial competition at Quesnel February 25.

Dave Taylor Sr. received a standing ovation out of respect and admiration for his winning the Reid Johnston Good Citizen Cup for 1965.

Members were reminded of the next zone meeting to be held in Oliver Feb. 27.

Key Club is sponsoring 'school motto' change contest

The Key Club of Summerland Secondary School is sponsoring a motto change contest in the hope of changing the present school motto.

Presented here are the general rules of the contest.

1. All students of Summerland Secondary School, except Key Club members, may enter the contest.

2. The motto may be written in English, Latin or French. (If it is written in Latin or French the correct English translation must accompany it.)

3. The judging will be based on originality, aptness and effectiveness.

4. The judging will be done by a committee composed of teachers and Key Club members of Summerland Secondary School.

ary School.

5. All entries must be in by February 25, 1966 and the winner will be announced March 14, 1966.

The prizes awarded by the Key Club will be: first—five dollars; second—three dollars; third—two dollars.

To ascertain that the student body as a whole has the final choice of a school motto, the Key Club will submit to the student body the present school motto and the three best from the contest. From these four will be selected the motto for Summerland Secondary School.

5 pass Cub promise for first badge

by J. M. McArthur

At the February 9th meeting Billy Killick, Ian McIntosh, John Wilson, Melvin Zachary and Kevin Prokopenko passed the Cub Promise for the Tenderpad Badge now they have only the Grand Howl to pass.

The Red and Yellow Sixes have been working on their knots and Lee Millmore, Eric Munn and Chris McIntosh have completed the test. Alan Clark passed the flag test and Wade and Lorn MacGregor have made their neckerchief slides. Although a number of Cubs have passed tests, there should be many more.

Eric Munn was awarded his Bronze Swimmers Badge, this is the second stage and has the same requirements as the Red Cross Junior Swimmers Badge. The Cub Swimmer Badge tests are now set by the Red Cross and any Cub who has passed a Red Cross test should bring his certificate and he will receive the appropriate recognition.

Scouting is a system of education. Lord Baden Powell saw that the formal education system did not cover the whole of a boy's education. He devised Scouting to fill the gap. Since attendance is not compulsory the program must be attractive.

I cannot discuss all the facets here but I would like to enlist parent help in one aspect. One of the things I try to do is teach respect for law.

This is inherent in the Cub Promise which the boy makes upon joining:

I promise to DO MY BEST To do my duty to God and the Queen,

To keep the Law of the Wolf Cub Pack, and to do a good turn to somebody every day.

For the Cub "duty to the Queen" is obeying the laws of Canada. For a small boy this largely amounts to the operation of his bicycle. Yet Cubs come to Pack meetings at night dressed in dark clothes on bicycles without lights or reflectors. This is contrary to the law and his Promise. Any parent would be horrified if their son played with a loaded pistol. Is riding an improperly equipped bicycle at night any safer?

From The Back Files

20 YEARS AGO An article written January, 1945 by Rev. Frank W. Haskins

A stroll along West Summerland's Hastings road and Granville and remain one of the changes which have taken place during recent times. The following list of business places on these two streets is made so that our Summerland friends in the forces may be provided with detailed information about the home town. The result of visits to other business places in the municipality will be given in this column at some future date.

West Side of Hastings Road
The Red Cross Superfluity Shop, under the direction of Mrs. A. Vanderburgh, is held each Saturday in the building where J. J. Blewett formerly carried on his flour and feed business.

Next comes the garage where Horace Read has been located for 25 years. He is assisted by Edgar Gould and Tom Washington.

Although V. M. Lockwood has sold his barber chair, he still bustles busily about and is helped in his hardware and furniture transactions by Mrs. Lockwood and his daughter, Mrs. W. Nicholson.

The next group of stores is a little farther south on the street. William Jewell, the ardent angler, carries on his boot repair business and store in a building erected in 1942, next door to what was formerly Dr. A. W. Vanderburgh's office. When A. E. Hickson enlarged his butcher's store the former doctor's office was included in the larger structure. Mr. Hickson's assistant is Archie Campbell, formerly of Kingston, Sask.

L. W. Rumball's groceria was remodelled in 1941. The staff of this store is composed of Miss Dorothy Dunsdon, Miss Violet Taylor (who hails from Armstrong and says "she is not afraid of men") and Russel 'Butch' White. Assisting part time are Mrs. Rumball, Norman Mayne and Lorne Logie.

Then comes the office from which Alex Smith and George Henry carry on their trucking business with the aid of Ted Dunsdon, Walter Gould, Ellwood Gillespie, Larry Garneau, Allan Campbell, Jimmy Mitchell, John Thaler, Lawrence Burnell, and Arnold Cowan.

East side of Hastings Road

Wing Fong carries on his laundry business, perturbed over the absence of news of his wife and son in China. Roy Gilbert is plumber and tinsmith in the former Barton shop which houses William Beattie's labor office.

The Rialto Theatre is in charge of Mrs. W. Nicholson, with Mrs. R. Tingley collecting tickets. Edna Gould is usher; Howard Shannon and Elbfongstrom are operators.

The Blacksmith Shop has been taken over by George Kapick, of Wellington, Alta. Frank Schwass, who has been in charge of the business since the passing of his cousin, Charlie Schwass, is returning to logging work at the coast.

L. A. Smith's paint shop completes the list of business buildings in the above order on the east side of Hastings Road. (To be continued next week.)

Hospital Auxiliary contributes $33,000 over past 20 years

The regular monthly meeting of the Summerland Hospital Auxiliary was held on Monday, February 7, with the new president Miss Doreen Tait, in the chair.

January sales at the Thrift Shop totalled 271.96. 125 volunteer hours were spent in the Thrift Shop and 81 volunteer hours were given to the Hospital during January.

An anonymous donor offered to pay half the price of a TV set for the use of patients in the hospital, if the Auxiliary were willing to put up the other half. This was discussed and agreed upon.

Four baby spoons were delivered to new babies born during January.

Dr. W. H. B. Munn, retired, is compiling a history of the hospital and the auxiliary, and it was noted that, over the last

LEGION WHIST

The first February whist party was held in the Rosedale Room of the Royal Canadian Legion with nine tables of players. First prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. R. Taylor. The consolation prizes fell to Mrs. R. Davis and to Mr. H. Currie. The donated "door prize" was won by one of the hostesses, Mrs. H. Cartwright.

Total revenue of all governments in Canada amounted to $759 per capita in 1964.

New pattern of service

VANCOUVER — A marine ministry, conducted for 60 years by dedicated clergy and laymen who brought the Christian gospel and medical services to remote settlements on the islands and inlets of British Columbia's famed "Inside Passage," is being curtailed because of modern road development and transportation.
Started in 1905 by Rev. John Antle, the Columbia Coast Mission of the Anglican Church of Canada now operates only one ship instead of three in its ministrations to fishermen, lumbermen and Indians in the Pacific Northwest.
With the provision of roads and ferry services linking hitherto remote communities, two-thirds of the area cared for by the mission is being brought under diocesan supervision and will be served by resident clergy. The northwest coast of Vancouver Island and the Cortes Island area will form two missionary parishes in the Diocese of British Columbia, while further south the Kingcome and Sechelt regions have already been taken over by the Diocese of New Westminster.
The 65-foot Columbia, with its chaplain and doctor, now will serve the islands in the northern section of the Inside Passage. Aircraft take care of many emergencies, but the Columbia with its well-equipped surgery is a reliable substitute in times of rough weather and fog.
The mission's reduced operations will no longer require the services of a superintendent and Archdeacon Patrick Ellis who has filled the post for five years has returned to parish work in Vancouver.

"The Columbia Coast Mission is not folding up," he said. "Financial support, which comes from a variety of sources will still be welcome. You might say the mission is consummating its work and its name will always occupy a place of honor."

Since the Columbia Coast Mission started, its little ships have travelled hundreds of thousands of miles. Its chaplains and doctors have ministered to the sick and injured, conducted marriages, baptisms, funerals and the services of the church. Over the years, new roads, air travel, the radio and the telephone have changed the mission's character, but the devoted service of its personnel has earned the affection and appreciation of the people they served.
Rev. John Antle supervised operations until 1936 when Rev. Canon Alan Green carried on until his retirement in 1960.

LETTERS

Good Citizen says thank you

(Editor's Note: The following letter was received by Eric Tait, President of the Summerland Chamber of Commerce from Mr. Dave Taylor Sr., who was presented the Reid Johnston Good Citizen Cup,

Dear Mr. Tait:
I wish to give the members of the Chamber of Commerce a better idea of what I wanted to say on the acceptance of the Good Citizen's cup Thursday night. I always found it hard to express myself in public speaking so I will do so on paper.

It was my proudest moment of my life when the citizens of Summerland chose me as the recipient of the highest honor they had to bestow. I felt very humble indeed and I know there were probably dozens of others better qualified for this honor.

I have said on occasion, that elderly persons have many happy memories to look back on, but not much to look forward to. How was I to know that my most wonderful moment of my life was just around the corner. The citizens of Summerland have showed me that perhaps my greatest moment is yet to come, so I must peer more closely into the future. Perhaps I could use the present honour as a stepping stone to higher things in the future.

I fully realize that when any honour is bestowed on a person, a certain responsibility is attached to it, so I accept this cup and the responsibility that goes with it and will try to remain a good citizen.

On Friday morning following the presentation I had to sit by the phone all morning to accept congratulations from my many friends.

My wife has not yet come down to earth. She is still basking in the reflection of the glory the Chamber of Commerce has made possible for me. Long may she stay that way.

Respectfully yours,
DAVE TAYLOR sr.

Art club names new executive

Mrs. C. V. G. Morgan is the new president of Summerland Art Club.

A full slate of officers was elected at the annual meeting held last week in the Health Centre, and includes Mrs. Geo. Lane, vice-president; Mrs. T.M. Croil, secretary; Mrs. Lila Smith, treasurer; and Mrs. John Tamblin, Mrs. J. M. McArthur, Mrs. Norris Laidlaw, Mrs. J.L. Mason, Mrs. Margaret Babcock and Mrs. Jack Dunsdon, directors.

Committee heads appointed include Mrs. Leonard Weist, advertising; Mrs. Dunsdon and Mrs. Croil, publicity; Mrs. Lane, Mrs. Croil, Mrs. Dunsdon, Mrs. Tamblin, picture hanging with Mrs. McArthur as adviser, Mrs. A. Doney Wilson and Mrs. Babcock, rugmaking.

Reports of the years activities read by chairman Mrs. Tamblin showed the club had an active year with monthly shows of art in the library, judging at the Fall Fruit Fair, films on art, and weekly workshop in the crafts room of the Health Centre.

The club sponsors a Saturday morning Art class for children taught by Heinz Foedisch, and submitted a plan for a children's room in the library to the centennial committee.

Each year the club awards two scholarships to the Okanagan Summer School of the Arts, but only one was picked up last year. Mrs. Tamblin said transportation to and from Penticton seems to be a problem for summer school students and some thought is being given to obtaining a bus.

A proposal to show art films in the secondary school library once every six weeks was approved and Mr. George Lane was appointed to head this committee.

The club voted to continue the Friday craft workshop sessions at the Health Centre and will encourage any kind of art or handiwork, and hope it will be a place for exchanging and stimulating ideas and techniques.

The possibility of joining the Western Art Circuit is being investigated by the executive to give the club a wider field

Report From Parliament Hill

By DAVID PUGH, M.P., for Okanagan-Boundary

Dept. of Transport on agenda

I have mentioned before that Parliament seems to be settling down, and this last week would bear out my statement. We have just finished a very sensible and down-to-earth inquiry on our foreign policy, which came up when the Estimates of the Department of External Affairs were looked into. The Estimates are normally an examination into departmental expenditures, but the 5-day debate just concluded has dealt more with policy. It should be of interest to all Canadians as Viet Nam and Rhodesia were heavily debated, and there were many varying views. Although the general form follows a series of speeches—just as in other debates, yet each participant has an opportunity to put questions to the Government. If the participant feels that he has not had a satisfactory answer, this does not preclude him from further questions, and he may rise again and emphasize his question and prod the Minister so that eventually the Government policy becomes known.

We are now starting on the Department of Transport, and as the Minister has a great deal to do with railways, it is not unnatural that the first speeches are being directed to the holdup on grain deliveries to the elevator terminals in the ports. This is really a preliminary to the questions for which answers will be demanded from the Ministers of Agriculture and Finance when their departments come before the House.

This week I had the honour to second a Bill brought forward by Mr. Woolliams, Member of Parliament for Bow River, which would make changes in the Criminal Code relating to young offenders. As the law now stands, a person seven years of age might be convicted of an offence, provided he was competent to know the nature and consequence of his conduct and appreciate that it was wrong. The Bill would raise the minimum age limit to ten years. As there are many young offenders in penitentiaries today, this Bill would ask also that no person under the age of 16 be sentenced to imprisonment in such an institution. Should sentence be imposed, then confinement would take place in an industrial school, as defined in the Juvenile Delinquents Act. The Bill has had First Reading, and will come up for debate, in turn, during Private Members' hour.

FOUND: Sure Cure For The Hic-Cups

Ever try and start your engine on a cold morning and have it start hiccupping and gulping like it's been on a three week binge? Know what I mean?

Well I gotta tell ya! I found the cure P-D-Q right here in Summerland. How about that!

All you gotta do is wheel your old buggy into the Service Department at Summerland Esso and ask for P.D.Q. Service. What could be easier?

Say, they got mechanics there that really know what makes an engine tick or hic-cup. Why, in no time at all they had my engine purring like a kitten. That's what they mean by P.D.Q. — (P)rompt (D)ependable (Q)uality Service.

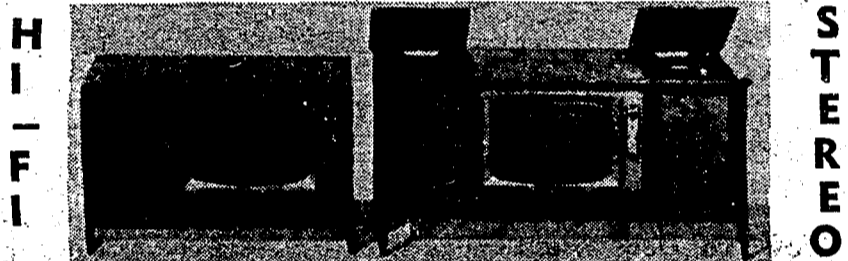

How about you? Not going to let cold weather get your car down, are you? Take the cure. Come to Summerland Esso, P.D.Q., of course.

BOWLING RESULTS

By RON KOSTELNIUK

In the mixed league, the league leaders slumped badly and the fight for playoff positions tightened up more than ever, especially in the C League. In A League, the league leading Outcasts managed only one point and Occidental moved in to second spot, 1/2 point ahead of the Borderlines. For points separate seventh place Boppers and 4th place Accidentals.

In B League, Bud's Garage climbed to within 5 1/2 points of league leading Super-Valu. The End Pins climbed from a 5th tie to 4th while Sportsmen slipped from 4th to 6th. String-alongs and Peach Brandy continue to battle it out for 7th with Peach Brandy slipping three points back.

In C League, the story is the surge of the Unpredictables, who were last three weeks ago, to a third place tie with Greenback. The Latecomers climbed to within 2 points of first place Peachland Pin-ups while two points separate third and last place. Here are the results of the week of Feb. 8-10.

Order at the

Bill Head elected president of Summerland Trail Riders

Summerland Trail Riders held their Annual Meeting on February 10th. There was twenty-eight people present.

We had an election of officers to hold positions for the forth coming year.

The officers are as follows: Bill Head, president; Bob Chalmers, vice-president; Beryl Potter, secretary-treasurer; Chester Reinertson, Bud Bye, Bev Bye, Wendy Stevenson, executives; delegates to OLHA are Bud Bye, Roy Bertram, George Stevenson and Chester Reinertson (spare).

A date was set for the annual overnight trail ride which is June 11 and 12. This year it is a camp-out trail ride. The date was also set for the Summerland 4th annual Junior Horse Show which is July 24.

After the meeting was over films dating back to horse shows in 1961 up to 1965 were shown by Alan Jenkins. Refreshments were served and people enjoyed watching the films and talking about the past year.

We are very sorry to lose two of our members, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Jenkins to Kelowna, they have been a great asset to the club.

THE PENSION PLAN

The maximum direct contribution to the Old Age Security pension is $120 a year and the maximum contribution by a self-employed person for the Canada Pension Plan is $158.40 a year.

"SOUTH PACIFIC" TICKETS

Tickets for Kelowna Musical Productions' 1966 presentation, "South Pacific", are moving very quickly. More than 1300 tickets were sold on the first day of the box office opening at the Jack Hambleton Galleries.

"South Pacific" plays five performances, March 1st to 5th in the Kelowna Community Theatre at 8 p.m. Those who wish to see this superb musical would be well advised to get their tickets soon.

Visually and acoustically, each of the 900 seats in the theatre is perfect for audience enjoyment.

Ticket sales for show are good

Keath Marten, who is in charge of distribution of tickets to the Al Elsey Wildlife Show slated for the MacDonald School Auditorium Friday and Saturday nights at 7:30 p.m., told Rotary members Friday night, tickets for the event are going well.

President Jock Johnston felt there was more than the usual interest in the show.

A unique feature of the two hour film, is that there is no killing shown. Elsey has endeavored to bring back films of the usual and unusual of big game in its natural habitat.

The country described in the book "Grass Beyond the Mount ains" by Richmond Robson will be shown as well as steelhead fishing in the Bella Coola River system. A 14 day pack trip into a vast isolated wilderness area in west-central B.C. will be shown along with close up shots of big game.

Many of the pictures were taken in country never hunted by man previous to Mr. Elsey guiding a group of Americans in.

You will see a herd of 50 mule deer, tamed by an old man who lives in the upper Atanrko river system. This is especially attractive to the children.

A hair raising trip by jet boat up the Kimsquit River that nearly ended in catastrophe will be filmed and a study of Bella Coola Indians will be shown.

It is sponsored by the Summerland Rotary Club.

PROVINCE OF BRITISH COLUMBIA
DEPARTMENT OF HIGHWAYS
SIMILKAMEN ELECTORAL DISTRICT
ADVANCE WARNING OF LOAD RESTRICTIONS ON HIGHWAYS

During the Spring break-up it will very likely be necessary to impose load restrictions on some roads, pursuant to Section 27 of the Highways Act. These restrictions may be imposed on short notice and trucking and transportation companies should govern themselves accordingly, and are requested to take advantage of the present road conditions.

The restrictions will limit the axle loads of trucks and buses. Vehicles with solid tires will be prohibited from using the highways.

Summerland band plans 'blitz'

The band is going to conduct a chocolate bar blitz Tuesday, February 22 to help pay for a band trip to Spokane. The band members will be selling one-quarter pound bars made by World's Finest Chocolate Ltd. at fifty cents a bar.

Early in March, if this drive is a success, the senior band will commence a four day trip to Spokane via Grand Forks and Nelson. They plan to arrive at Grand Forks in time to give an evening concert on Mar. 9. The band will leave Grand Forks March 10 and arrive in Spokane at 3 p.m. A student committee has planned a very interesting evening of entertainment, including a dance followed by a movie regarding the Robin Hood Band of Hollywood. Their sponsor-hosts, the largest high school in Spokane, are providing this entertainment at their school. After this programme, the students will return to their respective homes until they return to school the next morning for their next concert. After this morning concert they will travel to Nelson. The band will play an evening concert along with the Nelson band on Friday night. The band plan to return to Summerland on the afternoon of March 12.

Trout Creek PTA report successful evening of cards

President of the Trout Creek P.T.A., Mrs. G. Wardle, was extremely pleased with the turnout at the annual P.T.A. social evening held Saturday evening at the school. She reported that all three sections of the evening (games, whist, and bridge) were successful and that the money raised will be used for the school sports' day which is held in May and to carry on P.T.A. projects such as the purchasing of book prizes.

Principal, Ray McNabb, presented the various prizes for each section. Bridge prizes went to Dr. D. V. Fisher and Mrs. G. Ryman, whist prizes were presented to Mrs. T. Bryan and Mr. Bryan. In the games section G. Halvorson and Mrs. W. Powell, Sr. received prizes. A new innovation this year was a door prize of one year's subscription to the magazine 'Beautiful B.C.' Mrs. G. Sheberg received this.

Committee members for the evening were Mrs. G. Rasmusen, Mrs. H. Killick, Mrs. M. Aoki, Mrs. J. Raincock, Mrs. G. Wardle, Mrs. M. Welsh, and Mrs. G. Halvorson. General convener was Mrs. J. May.

For many residents it was the first opportunity they had to see the newly completed facilities of the school. The bright atmosphere of the activity room certainly added to the success of the evening.

Awards presented at rifle meet

The Summerland Sporting Rifle Club have received a number of awards. Grests for Standing, Kneeling and Sitting have been received by J. H. Doherty, Gold Pin by Doug Taylor, Silver Pins - Ernie Best and a member of the Junior Group Allen Schindel. Bronze pins - Shirley Ann Kopp, Ev Spelsberg, Nona Bareson, Sue Bradbury and Rosalie Taylor.

The Junior Group has still been doing well with a very good turnout. A prize has been given for a lucky shoot and the winners last week were Shari Howis and Patty Taylor. The Senior Group has been working hard but they would like to see a few more of the older members and any new ones of course turning out to practice. A shoot with Penticton has been set for Feb. 26. Last year we won the competitions twice and of course hope to do it again. The winner of the Senior Groups Lucky Shoot last week was Wanda Coffey.

Centennial feature

ROBERT WILLIAM WEIR CARRALL, MD

When Canadians celebrate their national holiday on July 1, they should give part of the thanks to a pioneer British Columbia statesman, Dr. Robert W. Carrall.

He was one of the province's first three senators and it was his bill, 12 years after Confederation, which made the holiday official. There had been previous attempts. But many parts of Canada still opposed the national union and didn't see it as a cause for celebration. Passage of Carrall's bill was the first legal ruling that was accepted by banks and other commercial ventures. The "Act To Make The First Day of July A Public Holiday By The Name of Dominion Day" was passed May 15, 1879.

Robert Carrall was born near Woodstock, Ontario, in 1839. He was educated at Toronto and Montreal. Graduated from McGill as a doctor in 1859, he practised in Canada but soon found himself a surgeon in the northern army in the U.S. Civil War.

In 1866 he was back under the British flag, practising at Nanaimo. Two years later he moved to Williams Creek seeking Barkerville gold rush prosperity and he became Cariboo representative in the Legislative Council of the United Colony of British Columbia, remaining in office until 1871. He was an ardent unionist and in 1870 was a delegate to Ottawa for talks that led this province into Confederation in 1871. He was immediately appointed one of the first senators from B. C. He died in office in Eastern Canada in 1879.

Camera Club takes part in Centennial celebrations

by Herb Simpson

Members of the Camera Club can certainly look forward to a very busy year, as the club has agreed to take part in the Centennial celebrations in 1967. Plans call for a slide set depicting the history of Summerland from the late 1800's to the present day.

For several months the club has been working on a series entitled "Our Fruit Industry". This set consists of 100 slides with taped commentary and shows fruit production from the breaking of the new land to the delivery of fruit to the packinghouse. It is hoped that this show will be completed next month.

It was very gratifying to see several new photographers at the meeting on Monday evening, and it is hoped that more interested people will turn out to help with the various club projects. New members mean new ideas, and the club can certainly use ideas and suggestions in the projects now undertaken.

'Pennies on the March' theme of Mother-Daughter banquet

The Summerland Guide and Brownie Mother and Daughter Banquet was held on Tuesday, February 22nd in the Youth Centre.

Guests for the occasion, seated at the head table, were Helen Chalmers, Guide Association President; Mima Laidlaw, District Commissioner; Bill Laidlaw, Kiwanis representative; Mrs. F. V. Harrison; Gladys Poole, Division Music Advisor; Rev. F. Haskins and Mrs. Haskins; and Enid Maynard, Guide Captain.

This year's theme was "Pennies on the March" and the head table was nicely decorated by Nan Watt and Jean Roe. Rosemary Munn was in charge of decorating the other tables, and used imitation pennies with little legs to carry out the theme, along with floral decorations. Pots for pennies were placed on the tables for contributions to be sent to the World Friendship Fund. This fund goes to train loaders and guides not only in Canada but in other countries.

The Candlelight Service was performed with Ranger Jackie Mann representing past guiding as she lit a candle at the head table. Next, Maureen Tavender a guide representing guiding lit her candle, followed by Brownie Elizabeth Watt representing guiding in the future, who lit the third candle.

Grace was offered by Rev. Haskins. Supper was enjoyed by the gathering, followed by a toast to the Queen.

Helen Chalmers introduced the guests, then spoke on the reason for the Mother and Daughter Banquet. This banquet is held during "thinking week" to celebrate the birthday of the founder of guides, Lady Baden Powell, and to remind all brownies and guides of their purposes and aims.

A toast to the mothers was given by Peggy Moyles. Sheila White replied on behalf of the mothers. A toast to guiding was made by Anne Millmore, the reply given by Gladys Poole.

The Peares cup was awarded to Patrol Leaders Joyce Barnes and Jill Pruden and presented by Guide Captain, Enid Maynard.

Presentations were then made

Some industrial interest shown

Ted Atkinson, Managing Director of the Okanagan Regional Industrial Development Council, in a newsletter to the members in the valley said the possibilities of receiving manufacturing of furniture component parts "appear bright" but it is a matter of effort on the part of each local industrial committee.

At Keremeos a group is interested in polishing and treating marble in a former packing house at Canoe.

As of February 18, they have had 80 inquiries as a result of their advertising in Western Canada dailies and the Financial Post.

He said April 20 has been selected for Okanagan Day in Vancouver in the Georgia Hotel, when a selected list of industrial people will be invited to a luncheon.

Rug making meets with enthusiasm in Summerland

The Community Craft Centre received a very enthusiastic response to their call for persons interested in rug making at their Friday afternoon meeting last week. Over twenty ladies turned out, sixteen joining in the rug making session and others doing silk screening.

Mrs. Donie Wilson and Mrs. Margaret Babcock are teaching rug making. Needlepoint embroidery and other types of embroidery will also be taken up if anyone is interested in this type of work.

Started by the Summerland Art Club, this craft centre is proving very rewarding. It may very well be the nucleus of a future valley craft centre.

The Recreation Commission, whose policy is to further new projects, supplies the funds for materials used in the work. This is a club in which the handicapped as well as others may take part, and everyone is welcome. It is held every Friday.

Eric Britton new commodore of Summerland Yacht Club

The Summerland Yacht Club held its Annual General Meeting on Wednesday, February 16, in the Yacht Club, with a fair attendance of members. Commodore Bob Richards was in the chair.

Harold Scott gave a report on the breakwater. It has been hoped that an addition to the breakwater would be forthcoming from the Federal Government, but promises from this body have not been fulfilled, and at present this project is rather at a standstill. However, with a waiting list of boat owners wishing to berth their boats in the breakwater, the Club plans on continuing its pursuit to enlarge the facilities.

George Witte gave his report as head of the entertainment committee. Ralph Downing then presented the financial report. The club has made good progress during the past year and is solvent, making a good start for the coming year.

The election of officers saw several changes with Eric Britton being elected as the new Commodore. Vice-Commodore, Harvey Edward of Penticon; treasurer, Fred Schumann. Elected to the executive for a two-year term were Ron Hodgson, Keith Marten, Joe McLachlan, and Phil Pelletier. Still on the executive with another year to serve are Jim Green, George Witte, Norman Reid, Bill Corrie and Harry Dracas, ex-officio.

Appointed as secretary by the executive was Pearl Reid. Expressions of appreciation were given to Bob Butler for the excellent work he has done as secretary to the club during the past years.

Ralph Downing was given a hearty round of applause as he retired this year from the position of treasurer which he has held for many years.

The Ladies' Auxiliary was highly praised for their work during the year and the financial assistance given to the Yacht Club. "This was greatly appreciated" said Ralph Downing. "We have them to thank for making this a successful year."

Pentecostal ladies have busy year

A special W.M.C. service was held at the Pentecostal Church, Sunday morning. Mrs. R. Ward president of the ladies' group, was in charge.

In the annual report brought by Mrs. J. Embree, there was much evidence of a successful year. It was stated that the group canned 2,375 tins of fruit for the home workers of the province, this past year.

Mrs. J. Manning sang a lovely solo during the receiving of the offering. The choir sang "Throw Out The Lifeline" and Mrs. M. Toews and Miss Geraldine Evans sang a duet entitled "Ready".

The theme of the message delivered by Mrs. J. R. Coughlan was "Because I Care — I Will Share".

By KEITH BERGH
Since last week, I was taught a lesson. Never get far out from under the Giant's Head this time of the year.

Our daughter Heather was married in Edmonton on Friday. Peg and daughter Joy flew out on Monday of last week and son Kim and I headed out at noon on Thursday by car. Drove the whole 801 mile shot in one sitting.

When we left Summerland, it must have been 40 above and a better than average day. By the time we got north of Vernon a few miles, our perfect roads changed to wet ones — it was raining.

By the time we got to the Trans-Canada Highway, the rain had turned to snow and we were driving on packed snow that prevailed to Revelstoke.

Those of you who have not been in Revelstoke during the winter may as well stop reading a paragraph or two — you will not believe what I have to report.

We wanted to stop in Revelstoke for pop but the snow was so high along the highway, we couldn't see the service stations on our right. Not even the signs. So we saw the top of a sign to our left and turned in and drove through a tunnel until the gas pumps appeared. They had no pop.

We turned on to the highway again and finally found we had missed the only entrance to the pop stop so had to turn back.

In to another tunnel on the other side of the road we went and finally found a restaurant and a service station that matched our credit card (credit cards are dandy things to have on the way to your daughter's wedding) after a surprising amount of searching.

After the car and us were serviced and after receiving specific instructions from a very obliging service station owner as to how to find the road, we were on our way again — through snow and sleet. No wonder a courteous RCMP officer stopped me to check my winter tires before letting us start over the Rogers Pass.

We didn't travel far until we were stopped to wait an hour while they "shot an avalanche" a mile or two ahead of us. This is done with explosives to make a section of the snow on the mountains fall before the build-up gets dangerous. If the blast covers the road, the highway department knows no one is buried beneath it, and can quickly clear it.

We went by a point that was

A firm who will be conducting assay tests for mining interests in the area will open an office in Summerland soon.

Although council had to rezone the future office from a multi-family zone to commercial located in Summerland on the Lake, the way was cleared at their meeting Tuesday night. They will move to town in a few days.

Councillors and Reeve Holmes made an on-the-spot inspection of Cedar Brooke Auto Court as a result of their making application to install a tent and trailer park on the same property.

They were all amazed as to the amount of space and the beauty of the location and felt they were justified in their request.

Owner, Mr. Ferguson was present and agreed that a fence should be constructed to keep it separated from other property and that they would comply with all sanitary regulations.

The water committee consisting of Councillors Barkwill and Powell will inspect the property of Mr. Andreucci who has requested the municipality to move the irrigation flume to his property line.

Mrs. Ted Atkinson and Mrs. Jas. Roe, on behalf of the Royalty committee requested financial support.

In view of the fact they were no longer a part of the Fair Committee, they were in a position of having no sponsor and only $10 in the bank.

They felt the publicity Summerland receives in the various appearances the queen makes throughout the country was well worthwhile and asked if the council could see fit to assist them.

Council made no decision in the matter but promised a letter before the ladies meeting Monday night.

They did suggest that it was possibly a problem for the Chamber of Commerce to find a sponsor for them. They felt this would not be too difficult.

The budget for the Royalty committee last year was $300 when they were part of the fall fair.

Councillor Barkwill said the plans of the new hospital are now drawn up and were in the hands of the minister. "We are making progress", he said.

Orchardists have been asking when they were going to enforce the bylaw making dole valves compulsory in Summerland, Councillor Powell stated this would not be done until 1967.

Municipal Clerk Gordon Smith was authorized to draw up a new by-law amending the new electricity schedule. Rather than allowing a discount of 10 per cent for prompt payment, when this by-law is passed, users will be billed, allowing for the 10 per cent but will impose a penalty of that amount on those who pay after the due date. This will provide more efficiency for the office staff.

They decided to offer the small beach area below Peach Orchard Park for sale and to use that money to assist in developing their property to the north for a beach.

This was proposed by Councillor Schaeffer and work will proceed on this, this year.

A delegation from South Prairie Valley Road said the water table had risen and their septic tanks had almost filled and there was a danger of sewerage coming to the surface.

One stated he has had water in his basement since last fall and had to continually pump it out and was in constant fear of his septic tank overflowing. Works Superintendent Blagborne and Councillor Powell and Barkwill will look into it.

Former resident dies in Vancouver

Arthur Russell Japp, brother of Mrs. Nora Wakefield, passed away at Shaughnessy Hospital in Vancouver, Feb. 14, at the age of 67 years.

Mr. Japp was born in Somber, Ont. and moved to Edmonton as a boy. He served in the first world war overseas army, and upon leaving the army moved to Vancouver. He later moved to Summerland where he resided with Mrs. Wakefield for seven years. He returned to Vancouver, served in the second world war and spent the rest of his life in Vancouver.

He is survived by four brothers, Walter in Surrey; Clarence in Stettler, Alta.; Charles in Winterburn, Alta.; Jack in Seattle; four sisters, Mrs. Nora Wakefield Summerland; Mrs. Florence Bratton, Prince George; Mrs. Lily Rhodes, Saskatoon; Mrs. Ethel Wakefield in Kamloops. The funeral was held in Vancouver Feb. 17.

Under The Giant's Head

Here we stopped for dinner (it was 9 p.m.) and phoned Peg in Edmonton to tell her how big a hero her husband was, and that if the roads were good, we would come right through.

The roads were good—there was only one trouble — we couldn't see for the snow from above and from the rear end of those big trucks.

There were few other damn fools on the road and so we forged ahead and arrived in the capital in the wee hours of the morning completely exhausted and in dandy shape to go to a wedding.

The same road was dandy coming home so the above was pretty hard to make Peg believe — until we got to Revelstoke—the snow was still there — thank goodness.

On the way home, I asked the operator of the motel we stayed in that city how they put up with the snow. "We start shovelling right after Christmas and don't stop until spring". You can believe it.

In any event, don't leave the protection of the Giant's Head unless you have a wedding in Edmonton. And if you have one planned — have it moved to Calgary. I like the Stampede city much better.

Agur, Dean, Barkwill and Bennest big ski winners

By RON KOSTELNIUK

The annual school ski meet was held on Saturday at the ski hill and saw 29 students participate. The weather was clear and the hill was fast — and no one was injured.

Robin Agur won both the slalom and downhill in the Sr. boys races with Gord Lackey and Jim Haddrell tied for the runner-up position in the slalom and Dale Stevenson runner-up in the downhill.

Jack Barkwill won the two intermediate races, with Alan Barkwill runner up in both races. Ted Arkel finished third in the slalom while Craig Moore won that honor in the downhill.

In the girls section, Ann Dean and Bea Young finished 1, 2, in the senior races. Lorraine Bennest won the intermediate races, on combined points, with Nancy Barkwill right behind her.

The co-operation and help of many made the meet a success. Those giving a helping were hill captain Robin Agur and the senior boys: Mr. Don Agur, Ann Dean, Janice Beggs, Susan Agur, Susan Lopatecki, Bea Young, Andy Baker, John Bennest, Miss Gwen Rea, Mr. Dave Hamilton, and Mr. Henry Frioud. The meet was under the direction of Mr. Ian McCuaig.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Killick celebrate Silver Anniversary

A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. DeWitt to honour Mr. and Mrs. Bob Killick on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary.

Rev. J. James of Kelowna, as Master of Ceremonies welcomed the guests, after which all joined in a program of singing and games.

Mr. J. Graham presented the happy couple with a silver purse from the church. They also received some very nice gifts. A lovely lunch was served by the ladies, with Mrs. J. Graham as co-hostess. There were 41 people in attendance.

During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Killick received a phone call from their son, Clifton, of Calgary. Out of town guests attending were: Mr. and Mrs. C. Killick, Penticton; Mr. and Mrs. W. Davidson, Cawston; Rev. and Mrs. J. James, Kelowna; Miss G. Halstead and Mrs. L. Keller of Kelowna.

Happy Vale costs to total $12,446

Mrs. L. J. Ask of the school maintenance staff slipped on the ice and broke her ankle recently and expects to be off work for at least two months.

In view of this the Summerland School Board appointed Mrs. Felker to take her place.

The 1966 budget for the Happy Vale school was released to the trustees. It amounted to $12,446.50. Major costs are the teaching staff and bussing.

The Simon Fraser University have a program for practice teachers which is different from the usual, in that they stay at one school for a period of 16 weeks.

The trustees agreed this was a good educational program, but there was a question of how much, if any, should be paid for living allowance to these students.

According to Ken Boothe, a director of the BCSTA, this is presenting a problem with that organization as it could become a bidding proposition and possibly a set fee be agreed upon.

This brought up problems, in that a large percentage of students would take this training at their home school and would be living at home; hence should not be paid but those who were away from home should get something.

Mr. Boothe will attend a meeting of the BCSTA in Vancouver over the weekend where it will be discussed further. Chairman John Bennest and Summerland representative on the Regional College Board said they expected the referendum on the college to be held in April.

Previous to this, speakers will be urged to address service clubs and students and a public meeting will be held shortly before the referendum date.

Scouts plan winter camp

This weekend the postponed Winter Camp is scheduled for Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The boys will meet at the Youth Centre at 8:00 a.m. on Friday. Cars will take them within 3 miles of their destination, Hidden Lake. The last 3 miles they will snowshoe in. The road is past Headwaters Fishing Camp and the turn is at the Pen-pak Lake Brenda Lake sign, proceeding as far as plowing has been done. Road conditions are good.

Boys should come equipped with a packed lunch and all other food is provided except for one jar of jam, which each boy should bring. A warm sleeping bag is needed and changes of socks, trousers, gloves and shoes. Two extra sweaters are advised. Overshoes or gum boots are needed with long heavy socks to keep out snow. Snow shoes are provided.

Each boy must bring cup, plate, knife, fork and spoon marked with his name on tape and a cotton sack to keep these items together. Everything will need to be placed on a pack board or in a pack sack for packing in. There should be one toboggan per patrol.

Sixty rinks in annual bonspiel

by Herb Simpson

Sixty rinks took part in the annual mens' bonspiel at the Summerland Curling Club over the week-end. Represented were clubs from Merritt, Princeton, Kelowna, Summerland, Penticton and Oliver-Osoyoos.

In addition to the three rinks in the Curling Club, an additional four sheets were used in the Arena.

Lady members of the Eagles Lodge catered to the smorgasbord dinner at the youth centre on Saturday evening, and from remarks overheard around the youth centre on Saturday evening, and from remarks overheard around the club, everyone had a very enjoyable time. There were excellent prizes and trophies awarded for each event, and the winners had a choice of any prize they wished. This idea proved very popular with the contestants.

Winners in each event were as follows: "A" event, Occidental Trophy, Brian McCormick, Kelowna; second, Bruce Morris of Penticton; third, Eddie Lloyd, Summerland; fourth, Ken Foulks, Peachland.

"B" event, B.C. Shippers trophy, Don Skinner, Summerland; second, F. Harris, Kelowna; third, F. Wiltse, Penticton; fourth, C. Brakenridge, Kelowna.

"C" event: Summerland Hardware Trophy, first, D. Noelia, Penticton; second, B. Porter, Penticton; third, B. Dunn, Penticton; fourth, Kilborn, International Curling Club, Osoyoos.

"D" event: Holmes and Wade Trophy: first, G. Brochu, Penticton; second, W. Burgart of Penticton; third, CKOK, Penticton; fourth, H. Eden, Summerland.

Steady supply of cornea need by provincial eye bank

It is within the power of everyone to bequeath the gift of sight to another. This is possible through the Eye Bank of Canada, British Columbia Division and the corneal transplant operation.

The need for corneal tissue is on the increase but the supply of donor cornea is not keeping pace with this need. The bank requires a constant supply of fresh cornea. Donor eyes should be removed from the deceased person within six hours and used within 24 to 36 hours. For these reasons the Bank has placed thermoses in the major hospitals throughout the province.

Therefore an eye donated in Fort St. John could save the sight of a patient in a Vancouver hospital or a donor in Kelowna could restore the sight of a Victoria resident.

In the corneal transplant operation the clouded window over the pupil in the patient's eye is replaced by a clear window from the donor eye. Since the first Eye Bank was established in Canada in 1956, over 900 corneal transplant operations have been performed.

As medical techniques improve and population increases in the next ten years, a number of Canadians requiring corneal transplant operations will also climb.

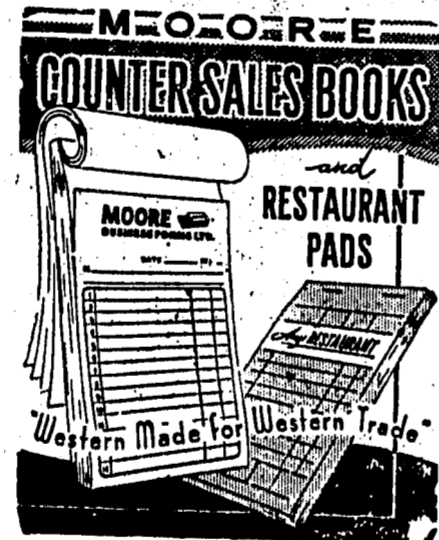

The gift of sight can be given to another by completing an Eye Bank consent form, which would be signed by the donor's next of kin. Your wish should also be made known to your doctor. Consent forms may be

Summerland Review — 3

We will all profit

Some interesting information was supplied to the Industrial Development Committee.

It is an illustrated chart on "What 100 Additional Manufacturing Workers Meant to Their Community". It is a n actual case history.

It meant 427 more people for the town and 131 more households. There were 66 more school children and an additional 187 motor vehicle registrations.

Additional manufacturing brings much more employment in other fields as well. In this illustration it meant work for 117 more workers employed other than in manufacturing.

Three more retail outlets were established and 393 more telephones installed. The annual increase in retail sales, at the time the survey was made (1951) was $939,000 but this would be much greater at present day prices.

According to Doug Hill, who obtained this chart, these figures can be used, in ratio, with any number of manufacturing workers. If an increase of 25 workers isures by four. If it increased to 200, you expected, you would divide the above figure by four and so on.

It is not difficult to see that we all have an interest in the growth of Summerland. In view of this, everyone should take an active interest in the present drive to attract industry.

One could make a grave error of concentration was made on an industry that would employ 100 people. Nice to get — granted — and we want them. But much consideration and attention must be given to smaller firms who possibly employ say five to twenty people.

It produces a much more steady economy to have ten firms employing 10 workers each than to have one giving employment to 100. There has been more than one town suffer financially as a result of one large plant closing down, making a big hole in their economy.

The industrial committee is active and have had a few inquiries from outside interests.

However, it should not be forgotten that the Area Development Incentives Act provides for expansion of existing facilities and anyone in business in Summerland that has this in mind may be eligible for a grant of up to one third of the cost.

Ted Atkinson, Director of the Okanagan Regional Industrial Development Council could provide you with information in this regard, or you may contact Joe Akitt, Chairman of the local board.

EASTER SEALS "TAMMY" FOR 1966

Meet Miss Mildred Mouw, age 6½ years of 759 Williams Road in Richmond, B.C., recently selected as this year's "Tammy" symbolic of Crippled Children for the coming Easter Seals Appeal.

Mildred was born with Spina-Bifida, a crippling disease of the spinal column. She wears braces, uses crutches, and is presently undergoing some therapy treatment. Her brothers name is Ronald.

This year SIXTY Lions Clubs plus other affiliated groups in the Province hope to realize a goal of $115,000 through the sale of Easter Seals. Each Club has a quota to reach in their area. With business, employee groups, and special bequests the B.C. Society for Crippled Children must raise $175,000 during the year to continue its extensive services to these handicapped children.

The Easter Seal Appeal is conducted annually the last three weeks in March through until Easter Sunday. "Tammy" will mail out 500,000 Easter Seal letters this year in B.C.

Department exams may be stopped

Secondary School Principal John Tamblyn told the School Board last week that the departmental examinations for grade 11 have been eliminated this year, and there was a good possibility they will withdraw the Grade 12 exams next year.

This will mean the individual schools will be responsible to pass the individual student.

Mr. Tamblyn felt this may be a good plan as a final exam "tried to do too many things and could not do it adequately."

He felt there was too much emphasis placed on the final exam as everything hinged on it as far as university entrance, scholarships and other qualifications are concerned.

This procedure places more responsibility on the student and teacher during the whole year as they will be marked closely on their day to day work. "There will have to be some changes made in the report cards," he said.

There has been no decision from the department of education regarding the Grade 12 exams, but it is expected they will be eliminated when they embark on a new program next year.

Without depending so much on the final exams, students could be judged on oral work with languages and lab experiments.

For entrance to university, students will likely be required to take entrance exams. "This procedure is used all

Motorist loses duck game

One deer got away, but another was not so lucky in two accidents on Highway 97 in the last few days.

Benjamin Tupper of Penticton reported to police he had struck and killed a deer one mile south of Peachland about 2:50 a.m. Sunday. Damage to the car had not been estimated.

About 10:35 p.m. Thursday, two cars were involved in a collision after one swerved to avoid a deer about eight miles north of Summerland on the highway.

A car driven by Gary Walter Boyd of Naramata was following one driven by Arthur L. Howarth of Penticton travelling south. Howarth told police the deer jumped out in front of him and he swerved to avoid it. At the same moment Boyd pulled out to pass and ran into the rear of Howarth's car, forcing it into the rock bank.

Continuing south we find W. Vernier carrying on the butcher shop formerly operated by W. S. Nield. J. McPherson's store, where he mends boots and boy's broken bikes, and J. A. Read's office where Lois Read and Mrs. S. Cannings sometimes do overtime.

Jim Green conducts the drug store with the help of Miss Betty Nelson. In the next store is the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. Dunbar's bakery with Miss Beverley Walsh as clerk. The only vacant store on the street is the former Rowley jewellery store. This store was purchased and remodelled some time ago by Mr. Laidlaw.

Hill's Dry goods store is next. This business was taken over from the Laidlaw stores by Mrs. L. H. Hill who moved here from Peachland and is assisted by Mrs. J. B. Kellogg, Mrs. R. L. Sharpe, Mrs. C. Blagborne, and Mrs. E. Smith.

C. E. McCutcheon is kept busy at his barber store on the corner of Hastings road and Pender. His dog, Tip, is still on the job.

The post office staff will be augmented for the Christmas rush. J. H. Bowering with Mrs. Bowering and Frank Hopkins take care of the mail during normal times.

Mac's Cafe, which some time ago was taken over by Allen Holmes, was recently acquired by Charlie Smith, of Penticton. Helena McPherson, Elsie Bonne, r o m Winnipeg, and Florence Taylor, another fearless Armstrong girl, assist Mr. and Mrs. Smith. At rush times, young Jack and Herbert Smith lend a hand.

A. Keith Elliott, with William Kennedy and Lee McLaughlin, carry on the Elliott Department store. This store has been enlarged by the inclusion of the building next door which was White's butcher store but now houses a furniture and gift shop under the supervision of Robert McLachlan.

The store next to the bank building has been converted into an Apostolic Tabernacle.

South Side of Granville Road

Miss Audrey Steuart is the clerk in the office of the Summerland Box Company.

Dewy Sanborn and his nephew, Stewart Sanborn, still carry on the garage business at the old stand across from the Telephone Office building.

Clough's Bakery recently installed new equipment. Mr. Clough is assisted by Mrs. Clough and his son, Chris, who has now returned home after active service with the navy.

The most recent change in Summerland is the store which was formerly Pop's Kandy Kitchen. The store front now boasts a modern display window for the Family Shoe Store with Hazel and Mel Ducommun, from Vancouver, as proprietors.

Carl Nesbitt and the popular bachelor George Forster, continue to do business at their garage at the junction of our two main streets.

Laura Davis, '66 Valentine Queen

by Ron Kostelniuk

Friday night was one of the biggest nights for radiant Laura Davis, who was chosen Valentine Queen over four other contestants: Pat Miller, Sandi Bernhardt, Barbara Brandon, and Margaret Downing. Miss Davis was escorted by Don Hannis; Barbara Brandon by Nigel Blagborne; Pat Miller by Norm Stein; Sandi Bernhardt by Rod Akitt; and Margaret Downing by Keith Kennedy.

The dance was held from 8:00 to 12:00 with the music being provided by two local bands. The SPAZTIX comprised of two local boys, Ron and Dennis Hollenback and three Pentictonites, played for the first half of the dance while the MAD MEN, the local four-piece band of Gordon Boothe, Ken Sellinger, Dale Weist and Ray Betuzzi, played for the last half. It was sponsored by the Key Club.

The big moment of the dance, however, came at 9:45 when M.C. Leo Bonthoux announced that Laura Davis was this year's queen. 1965 Queen, Judy Clark, then crowned Laura. Dick Johnston, president of the Student Council, presented the lovely Miss Davis with a school ring, on behalf of the council.

JAMES STRANGE

Fur trader James Strange believed that if one of his men could learn the Indian speech and habits he would improve his trading position. So in 1786 he persuaded his ship's surgeon, Dr. John Mackay, to remain at Nootka on Vancouver Island in the care of Chief Maquinna. Mackay was given a quantity of seed, books, pen and ink and a musket and thus became the first white settler in what was to be British Columbia. Strange did not like to leave firearms but he told the Indians that the British musket would prove fatal to any who used it, except a white man. Overcharging it with powder he allowed the chief to fire it. The recoil almost threw Maquinna to the ground. Mackay stayed one winter with the Indians. Strange never returned to pick him up but he was rescued by another trader and was lost to sight. Strange went down in history however.

He was the eldest son of Sir Robert Strange a celebrated English artist and engraver. James was born in 1753. He entered the service of the East India Company in 1773 and served in India until 1785 when he led an expedition to the northwest coast of America seeking the furs that Captain Cook's voyages had reported.

Strange came to this coast in the trading vessels Captain Cook and Experiment, ending a six-month journey at Nootka Sound. He was first to see Queen Charlotte Sound, which he named. He took possession of the country formally, in the name of King George III — a step which Captain Cook apparently had omitted.

Strange wrote in his journal that he hoisted the colors and turned a turf in the tradition at a place he called Oxenford Bay, (now called Sea Otter Cove) near the northwest end of Vancouver Island. He also named Cape Scot in honor of a trading associate David Scott of Bombay. Strange returned to India in 1787 and to England in 1795. In 1804 he was back in India where he gained high civil offices including the posts of postmaster general and chief judge of Madras. He died in 1840. It was not until 1928 that his original journal came to light in Bombay.

ORCHARD RUN by Wally Smith

As Old As Civilization

Shortly after being appointed to the position of Tree Fruits Ltd. general manager, Eric W. Moore outlined his views on the new concept in marketing, as distinguished from mere selling.

Perhaps few growers will have the opportunity to study and appreciate the fine points of the new concept, but the basic principles of marketing are not complicated, and are much the same as they were in ancient times.

Milian D. Smith, executive vice president of the National Cannery Association, put it this way in a recent address:

"Merchandising is probably as old as man's discovery that each of us has talents of his own, and that these talents may be of value to others."

Even packaging, with its exacting developments of the last few years, is from 'way back.

When the keels of Phoenician trading vessels grated on the sands of the Lycian shore in Asia Minor or the mud of Capthor on the Nile delta, seafaring merchants set up shop at shipside.

"The graceful amphorae, the large jug with a pointed base and handles on either side, was developed specifically for this trade. Easy to lift overboard, the pointed amphorae loaded with goods of trade were thrust into the sand or mud shore.

"This probably constituted one of the world's first point-of-sale displays as the natives gathered to trade or fight. Whichever it was to be depended upon how effective the merchants were at establishing good customer relations.

"Competition was as fierce then as now, if not more so, and customer dissatisfaction usually resulted in wholesale butchery at the retail level. It became a matter of some importance, even survival, to display a line which was at least as competitive as some of the cutrate items offered by the Thracians, or have more appeal than the olive oil of second-ranking quality packaged in fancy filigreed amphorae by Corinthian merchants who were catering to the women's market in Tyre and Cyrene.

"It was quite evident that some ground rules were needed. Consumer groups were abroad in the land and their accusations that conical amphorae were designed to delude the buyer, not as a convenience package, were believed in high places.

"Accurate weights and measures played a vital role in merchandising in Biblical times; so much so in fact that weights and measures are mentioned in five books of the Old Testament.

"Most specific, perhaps is the 13th verse of the 25th chapter of Deuteronomy. It says: 'You shall not have in your house two kinds of weights. You shall not have in your house two kinds of measures. A full and just weight you shall have, and a full and just measure you shall have.'

It's a long way from the amphorae to the handpak, but today, as in ancient times, quality of product and skill of promotion loom large in the success of any marketing effort.

Alvin and Dennis Stevenson, Don Cockell and Ian and Chris McIntosh turned in Canadian flags for the Blue Star. Chris made a fine job of his with red and white cloth. Michael Prokopenko turned in a Ueckerchief slide for the Tawny Star test no. 8.

A number of boys are working on their scrapbooks of the Great Men of Canada. I was particularly pleased that about half had made their own books. Keep them up, there has been a lot of material in the newspapers lately. I plan to call them in soon to see how you are progressing and to give the others ideas.

With respect to the Ice Stampede next Friday, Feb. 25 a special event is being put on for all Cubs not on one of the teams. The Cubmaster will play broomball with the Scoutmaster. All Cubs not on a team will play the winners. You must bring a broom and it must have a fair amount of straw on it, no fair cutting off the straw.

At the Feb. 16 meeting Dr. Madsen gave a talk on collecting insects. He showed a large number of butterflies and described some fascinating things about them. Some of the boys showed a surprising amount of knowledge on the subject. If any Cubs are seriously interested in collecting insects, talk to me about it. There are a number of entomologists here and I am sure instruction and help can be obtained if you will be serious about it. I have heard that some parents and others read this column and I would like to devote a little space from time to time to explain what we are doing. First with respect to Star Tests. There are five Stars each awarded for achievement in a certain area. The tests are devised to interest and challenge the boy and in this way to help him in his development to manhood. The Black Star Tests encourage the boy to explore the natural world. To this end the tests involve gardening activities, growing plants, measuring rainfall, studying the water cycle, feeding and observing birds and other nature activities. It is hoped that through these he will develop a healthy curiosity about the world of nature.

In later articles, I hope to discuss the work and objectives in the other Stars.

Painting donated to Trout Creek

MacDonald School Principal John Cooke told the School Trustees last week he expects nine student teachers from U.B.C. and University of Victoria at his school in May.

In his monthly report to the board he praised Mr. Clay for his showing of slides on Europe —describing the differences in living in the various countries. All intermediate classes took part.

Some of his classes are taking advantage of the educational television programs.

Principal Ray McNabb of Trout Creek told trustees, the film "It's Wonderful Being A Girl" was well received by the parents. The film was supervised by Mrs. Heather Geddes, Public Health Nurse and assisted by Mrs. O. Hackman.

Only students with written permission from their parents were allowed to see the film and they had 100 percent participation. They plan an educational film of the same type for the boys later in the year.

Mrs. and Mrs. E. P. Willis and family have donated a large reproduction of an attractive oil painting "Lower Fort Gary" by the noted Canadian artist Nicholas Hornyansky, to the school.

An open house will be held at the Trout Creek School during Education Week, on Thursday evening March 10.

Report From Parliament Hill

By DAVID PUGH, M.P.,
for Okanagan-Boundary

Defense 'touchy' department

Once again we have spent a week on last Parliament's unfinished business — giving approval for the expenditure of money which has already been spent.

The Department of Transport is now through, but not before a first class debate on grain movement. This debate was worthwhile because it focused attention on the big tie up. The result has been a partial breaking of the bottleneck. A great deal has yet to be done though, for we must fulfill our commitments on wheat sales abroad. There was no excuse for the tie up. I believe that all that is needed is a co-ordinator with plenty of drive, rather than the present divided responsibility.

We closed off the Transport debate and have now moved into National Defence. This also is a very touchy Department, and anything can happen. It has been stated that the morale of Canada's Forces is at a low level, causing a great deal of dissatisfaction and many early retirements. This however, may be only a portion of our Defence troubles because when you get right down to it, all equipment has become extremely expensive. We are already spending a great part of our Budget on defence, and with the extra expense for new equipment, it is very hard indeed for those in authority to make the money go around.

There is a strong undercurrent on automobile safety, and I know all of us feel that this is a move in the right direction. Howard Craffley, a Member of Parliament, has been pressing for some time on both a national television hook-up and in the House of Commons. He has a good deal of support, and no doubt we will hear more from him in the future as he isn't the type to let the matter drop.

Car manufacturers are already beginning to see the light, and a few safety announcements have been made recently, but this is only one factor in curing our highway toll. Periodic inspection of motor vehicles should be a requirement, and then, of course, there is the final element—the person behind the wheel. People are now beginning to realize how terrific a toll is being taken on our highways.

Walrod funeral held Wednesday

Funeral services were held in Kelowna Wednesday for R. P. "Tiny" Walrod, a pioneer in the Okanagan fruit industry. He suffered a heart seizure Friday.

Walrod came to the Okanagan in 1931 and entered the fruit industry in 1937. He was named production manager of B.C. Tree Fruits in 1949 and general manager in 1955. He also headed Sun-Rype Products Ltd.

He resigned from B.C. Tree Fruits in July of last year and in December became managing director of Mission Hill Wines Ltd.

He is survived by his wife, a daughter, Mrs. John Bank, of Powell River and a sister, Mrs. G. C. Pultz who lives in the United States.

Food production can be adequate

Dr. Norman E. Borlaug said that the world can produce enough food if food production problems are tackled with direction and vigour.

His talk "Food Production in a Fertile World" was given to the combined Kamloops and Okanagan-Kootenay branches of the B.C. Institute of Agrolgists in Kelowna. Dr. Borlaug is Associate Director of Agricultural Science for the Rockefeller Foundation and is stationed in Mexico City. His particular responsibilities include wheat research, training and food production problems throughout Latin America and the Near and Middle East.

Expansion of food production must be met with comparable advancement in all aspects of society. The need for education of the very young is even more urgent, Dr. Borlaug stated. The problems involved in providing social amenities such as schools, roads, hospitals and in developing industry appear more complex than the problems involved in expanding food production.

Mass donations of food do not offer a solution to the en-demie near famine condition in many emerging nations. Most of these countries do not have physical facilities such as docks and railroads to distribute the food. Such donations affect price levels and hence cause dislocations of the local economy. However, donations of food are useful in emergency situations.

The "have-nots" are now aware of what they are missing and are becoming impatient. Riots and wars may be adopted as methods for accelerating their progress. Emerging nations all have similar problems both in complexity and in the need for total development of their societies.

WHEAT PRODUCTION MUST BE DOUBLED

Returning to the quest for more food, Dr. Borlaug stated that the need is tremendous. Using wheat as an example in the next ten years it will be necessary to find additional wheat production equal to the present production of the two wheat producing giants, Canada and the United States.

IRRIGATION, FERTILIZER VITAL IN PRODUCTION

Extra production can be achieved by the use of commercial fertilizer and development of irrigation projects. Ten-fold increases in yield have been rapidly obtained by fertilization. Improved varieties are now available which will give double the present yield.

Direct utilization of grain by humans, would save food as animals consume from 2 to 5 pounds of grain to produce a pound of meat. Algae from the sea present a tremendous potential food source. Any day biologists may unlock the secret of photosynthesis by which plants manufacture our foods.

Plant breeders have recently developed a strain of corn that more adequately supplies the complete protein requirement for humans. New strains of wheat have also been developed which combine high energy yields with protein contents higher than hitherto possible.

Grounds budget is authorized

Although the contractors have been delayed on masonry work on the Secondary School addition, they are ahead of schedule.

The weather was the factor involved in the concrete work. They expect to have work complete by May 15 but Principal John Tamblin does not plan to use the addition this school term. This was revealed at the trustees' regular meeting last week.

The grounds committee were given the green light on their 1966 site development program, but were instructed to stay within the budget.

The prunings on the Dunham property will be burned, the stumps removed and holes filled as soon as possible so it may be used somewhat this term.

Under the supervision of works superintendent Ken Blagborne, the northeast corner of the west playing field at the secondary school will be filled levelled, and cultivated and seeded. The west half of the MacDonald playing field will also be made ready and seeded, as will the north end of the Trout Creek grounds.

A sprinkler system is planned for Trout Creek, the approaches to the steps will be filled, and excavation and filling of the planters will take place.

A seed coat at the court at Trout Creek and MacDonald is planned as well as the parking area and roadway at MacDonald.

Additional sprinkler pipe will be installed at MacDonald and they will fence the remainder of the downtown schools.

ROYALTY CANDIDATE

Summerland's Patricia Dunsdon, 19 is one of five young Penticton hopefuls who are competing for the Alpine Mardi Cras Princess. Pat, a practical nurse at the Penticton Hospital is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Dunsdon.

Carnival date closing in

by Ron Kostelniuk

The members of the Summerland Figure Skating Club are now practising for their big Skating Carnival to be held on Saturday, March 12th at the end of the skating season.

The Junior theme is "Alice in Wonderland" and will feature 80 Juniors in group numbers with the Intermediates doing pairs and solos. Costume and properties are keeping the parents very busy for the next few weeks and Saturday, a ticket blitz of the Summerland district will be held to ensure the financial success of this ice show.

The professional, Miss Dolores Casier, has great hopes that this year's Carnival will be of the same high standard as previous shows that the club has put on over the past ten years.

Guest skaters will include

Pam Wyles, Okanagan Mainline Senior Ladies Champion and the Glengarry Four, winners of the Okanagan Mainline trophy. The cast will include all of the Summerland skaters with several group numbers and dances being produced during the show.

HM frigate Thetis, 36 guns, 1,450 tons, served on Esquimalt station 1851 - 1853. She was later traded to the Prussian government for two small paddle steamers.

Boy Scout image due for a face-lift in '66

Boy Scout Week, February 20 to 27, will mark the 58th Anniversary of the Scout movement, and usher in a new era for Scouting in Canada.

The more than 320,000 Canadian Wolf Cubs, Boy Scouts, Venturers, Rovers and Scout leaders from coast to coast will see changes in many things from organization to activities during the next few years.

By the time the Centennial is over, Scouting in Canada will be well on its way toward a new look combining the best of past traditions with all the freshness of the future.

Even the Scout's image is due for a face-lift. Small boys in short pants selling apples and helping little old ladies across the street will be a faded memory in 1966 and beyond. In their places will be boys "Fit for Service" in a space-age society... boys more keenly aware of the problems facing the communities in which they live.

All of this will come about through new programs now being studied by the Boy Scouts of Canada and involving nearly every phase of Scouting from national management methods to patrol procedures.

The Wolf Cubs, who are celebrating their 50th Anniversary this year, have already revised two vital areas of their activities, including the introduction of a new proficiency badge scheme in 1965 and a five star scheme last month.

EXCITING CHANGES

Perhaps the most exciting changes in Scouting will come about in the Boy Scout section.

A new program currently being tested in the Peterborough area will eventually affect Scout ages, badges, patrol sizes, activities, and leadership and training techniques.

If this pilot project proves successful the new Scout program should be fully approved for general adoption throughout the country by fall, 1967.

One of the major changes will be in Scout age. Boys from fourteen to seventeen will go into Venturer sections, leaving the updated Scout program for boys eleven to thirteen.

The next two years will be interesting and exciting ones for the Boy Scouts of Canada. The Boy Scout Week theme, "Fit for Service", encourages boys to be ready and willing to help their communities.

Is your community Fit for Service to the boy?

COAST VISITORS

Mr. Bob Reid of Vancouver, was a visitor at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Reid, over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Tait were in Vancouver from Thursday until Sunday, where Mr. Tait was a delegate to the Co-operative Union & Wholesalers Conference.

An old-time resident of Summerland, but recently of Penticton, Mr. H. S. Kenyon, passed away last week.

CUSTOM-BUILT OR READY-BUILT

A new house, like a new suit of clothes, can be made-to-measure or can be bought ready-made. By far the largest percentage of new homes in Canada are bought from merchant builders. The customer selects his home from among a number of "model homes". While probably not as intimately satisfying as the custom-built home tailored to your own specifications, these builder-produced homes still offer considerable variety and comfort.

Ready-built homes can also be produced more quickly and the builder can pass on some of the savings to the customer. Saving in land costs, quantity purchase of materials and smaller overhead per unit can mean a substantial reduction in the overall cost of a completed house. Because builders compete with each other to offer the best home at an attractive price these benefits are passed on to the purchaser. However, the discriminating buyer who is looking for a more personalized home will have a house built to individual specifications from a selected plan. Before doing this however, the prospective home owner will have to buy a building lot in a locality of his choice.

A mammoth valley-wide Bingo is planned on May 7th by Casey (Catholic Aid Society for Education of Youth) with a total cash prize list of $20,000.

It is planned to set up a special broadcast circuit to connect Kelowna, Penticton, Vernon and Kamloops into one gigantic bingo arena. Numbers called will be heard simultaneously in each hall and players will be able to participate equally just as if they were in one hall. A two-way control circuit will handle reporting of bingos. The broadcast circuit will be connected directly to PA systems in each locality.

A total of 16 games will be played with a cash prize of $1,000 for each of the first 15 games. The last bingo will have the fabulous prize of $5,000 to complete the total of $20,000 to be given away that evening.
For the past few years CASEY bingo has been played at home with the numbers published in the newspapers.

Telephone Bingo is a new innovation and will be a first for Canada. It is expected to be very popular.
Admission charge will be $2 for the first card which will be good for all 16 games. Additional cards will be sold for $1. All games will be blackouts.

As space will be limited, there will be an advance sale of tickets at selected spots in each community. These tickets will go on sale April 18th. Full details on the game will be available in all news media in the near future.

Juniors continue winning streak

It was another big week of basketball for the locals as they won all three games.

The girls won at HOME against Penticton on Tuesday. After a poor first half they came to life and overcame the 6-2 deficit and went on to win rather handily 18-8. Ghina Storey led the attack with 10 points; Carolyn Norris had 4; Lorraine Bennett 2; Patty Stevenson and Janette Jacques 1.
At McNICHOLL PARK, the locals bombarded the hapless McNicholl Park crew, coasting to a 30-4 win. The girls had an 18-0 lead before Osborne got a basket for the losers. At half time the score was 22-2 for Summerland. Patty Stevenson led Summerland to victory with 8 points; Ghina Storey had 6; Karen Holman and Nancy Barkwill had 4; Elizabeth Orr, Jeanette Jacques, Carolyn Norris, and Lorraine Bennett 2.

The boys won 30-21 over the hometown Pogogs. The Pogogs had held a 10-9 half time lead. Ken Madsen led the Cosmics with 8 points; Don Johnson had 7; Art Bolton and Colley Eaton 6; Ken Kehler 2; and Ray Davis 1. Pat Moore led the opposition attack with 7 points while Wood had 5.
Here are the final statistics for the Rockets this season:

As we like to point out to our readers, the most unusual hands that come up in playing bridge, may it be rubber or duplicate bridge, are what make the game so interesting and fascinating.

As you can see, with the heart opening North and South are down for a very good score because seven hearts could be made. It would also have paid North and South to go seven spades and take a little greater loss than to let East and West make a grand slam.

There is one system in playing bridge where you can bid this grand slam in hearts safely and that is called the Shenzen System, where East player opens the bidding with two diamonds, asking what his partner holds. He bids three clubs, then East bids three diamonds asking for kings. West will respond with four hearts showing the King of Hearts and a minor suit king, then East will bid were performing a service at the request of Mel Ducommun, owner of the Family Shoe Store.

He suggested the letters should be answered disclaiming negligence on the part of the municipal crew and let the Summerland Insurers, who carry the liability insurance, conduct their own investigation.

Joe Akitt, chairman of the Summerland Industrial Development Board spoke to council and requested a budget of up to $4,000 to be used in that department.

Although no names were released, he produced letters from a number of people now interested in Summerland as a possible location.

The money would be needed for office space, a part-time secretary, travel, etc.

The $4,000 was authorized. It was pointed out this was less than ten percent of Penticton's $42,000 used for promotional purposes.

Casualty simulation course

by Gladys Laidlaw

Under the arrangements of Mr. I. E. Phillips, Civil Defence Co-ordinator for Summerland, Mrs. R. N. Laidlaw travelled to Kamloops last week to attend a Provincial Civil Defence Casualty Simulation Course which was held on February 16, 17, 18 in the Department of Highways Building. There were three instructors for this first course of its kind in B.C. — Miss A. R. Diercks from Victoria, Mrs. L. A. Gibbard and Mrs. L. G. Hill from Penticton.

Arrangements for participation in this course were by the local civil defense co-ordinators in the interior cities who sent two from Kamloops, three from Vernon, three from Kelowna and one from Summerland. The civil defense hired 12 students from the John Peterson High School to act as models for the participants.

The seven women and five men who took the course agreed that it was interesting, educational, and enjoyable. At the close of lessons each one drew for an assignment for Friday afternoon. These were evaluated by the instructors, and certificates, pins and class photos presented at the closing.

Similar classes will be held at Nelson Feb. 21 to 23, Vancouver on March 22 to 24 and Victoria on March 28 to 30.

Wildlife show very successful

It is difficult to get an accurate count of the number of people who attended the Rotary Club-sponsored Al Eisey show Friday and Saturday nights in the MacDonald School auditorium, but it has been estimated to be around 800. Many under 10 years old were allowed in free of charge.

The show was well received and was accorded high praise from everyone attending.

WE HAVE GOOD LOTS

We have a number of lots available. You should see the view lots that overlook the lake. Or if you wish to be close to the Okanagan, we would be pleased to show you them.

We also have homes listed for sale from only $3,500 up as far as you want to go just waiting for buyers — and business opportunities are many.
