BIG PAN SIZE

Plenty of big trout in Okanagan Lake says Roy Gilbert, left, who caught these 6 and 7 pound fish in one hour Monday morning. Vic Smith, who has caught some big ones himself, is admiring them.

EDUCATION MINISTER SAYS:

Tight money not to affect Regional College

By KEITH BERGH

Education Minister Les Peterson told delegates to the annual convention of B.C. School Trustees Association in Penticton this week, the tight money situation may result in a slowdown of school construction.

"We are aware that capital expenditures are being seriously affected now and may be even more seriously affected in the months that lie ahead until the national situation improves," he said.

"Under these circumstances, it has become the responsibility of my department to determine how rapidly capital programs can proceed," Peterson added. He disclosed that classroom building will receive priority—but expressed grave doubts about any construction of gymnasiums, auditoriums, etc.

At a press conference following his speech in the P e a c h Bowl, he said he was not referring to the anticipated construction of the Okanagan Regional College, and indicated again they will do their utmost to supply classrooms.

In his speech Peterson said they are going to examine the Public Schools Act in an effort to direct more responsibilities to the local boards.

The education minister noted that there is a great demand for teachers in British Columbia due to immigration and natural growth.

EXAMINATIONS

Government examinations in Grade 12 will only be offered in Latin, German, Spanish, History, Geography, English, Literature, Mathematics, Biology, Chemistry and Physics.

"Students therefore will be writing government examinations in those subjects which they themselves have chosen as being those in which they have the greatest potential," Peterson said.

The recommendation of the principal will be accepted in all other subjects.

For the purpose of scholarships, students will be required to write only two subjects of their choice under the new plan, rather than four as it has been in the past.

ASSIST WITH TUITION FEES

More assistance for graduates to the university level was also announced.

Those who attain 80% or better on their final results will have 75% of their tuition fees paid by the province. Currently it is 50%.

The number of students with second class marks receiving grants for part of their fees will be increased to 7,000 from 3,500. The first 3,500 will receive 50% of their fees rather than the present one third and the remainder will receive a third of their university tuition fees paid.

The convention enjoyed one of the largest registrations ever. This is the first time the B.C. S.T.A. gathering has been away from the Coast.

Adele Miller good competitor in Fairbanks Equinox Marathon

A Summerland girl took part in the annual University Equinox marathon in Fairbanks, Alaska recently and out of 843 entrants, was 37th to cross the finish line.

Adele Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Miller started the gruelling 26 mile, 385 course at 8:00 a.m. and arrived at home base at 4:45 p.m.

There were 1,026 entries but only 843 started and 600 crossed the finish line. The race was won by Debbie Traines of Fairbanks.

In a letter to her parents, Adele said "for the last four miles I was almost crawling on my knees." Her longest rest stop was 15 minutes.

She has been in Fairbanks since June last year and is a secretary at the University of Alaska.

The marathon has been going on annually since 1963 and entrants this year ranged in age from 7 to 69.

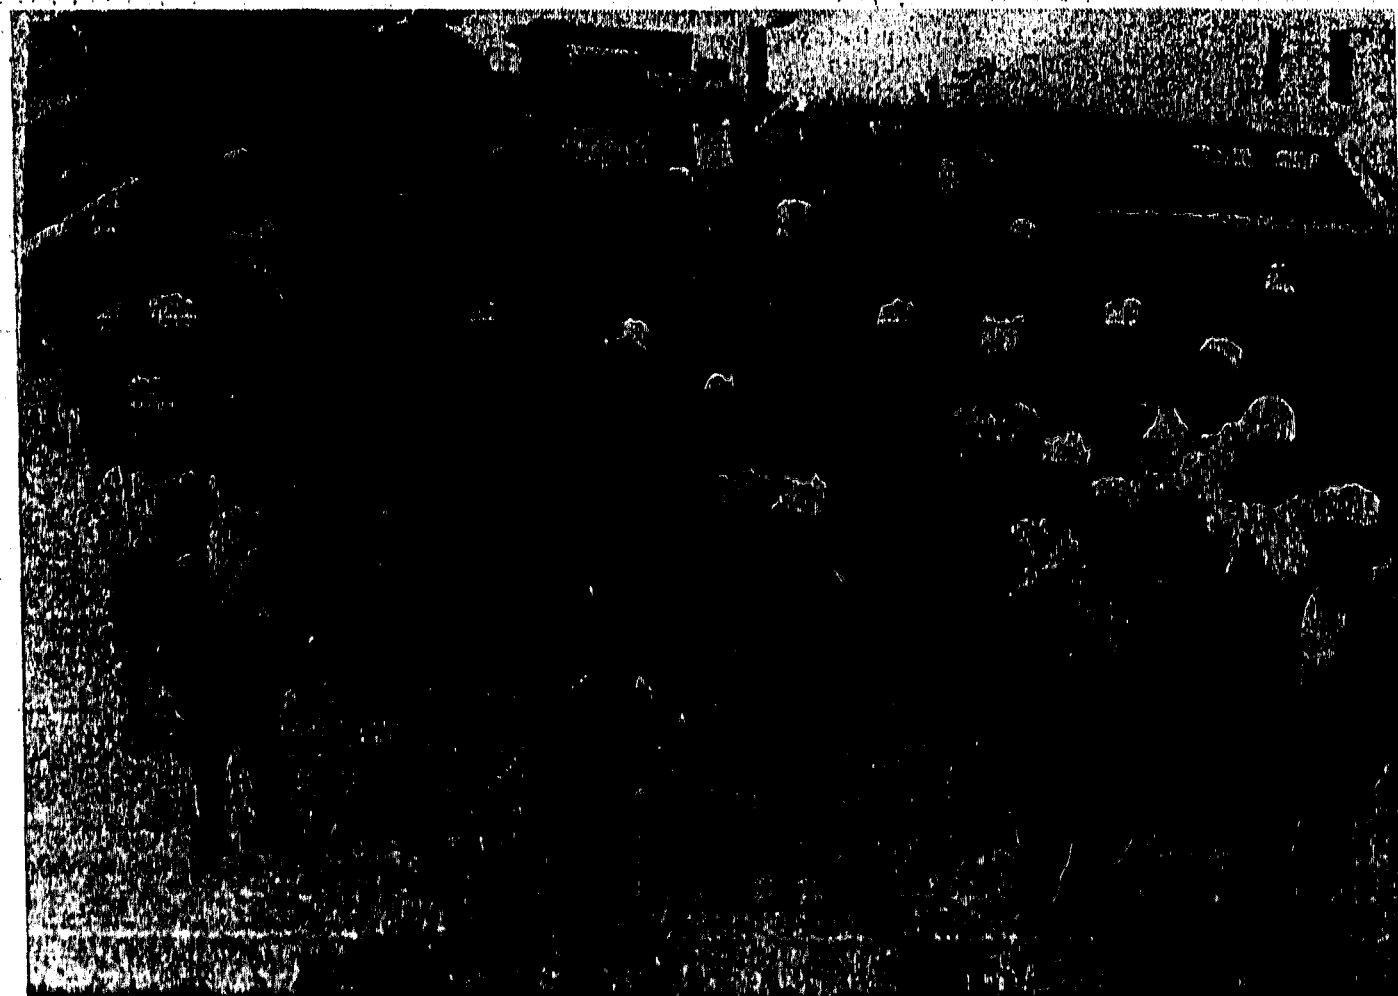

Chartered Librarian now on staff at Summerland Research Station

The Summerland Research Station has a new Librarian. Mr. William Anderson came from Dundee, Scotland where he was librarian at the Scottish Horticultural Research Institute.

At Dundee, he was elected as a Fellow of the Library Association having completed the requirements of the Association for registration as a Chartered Librarian.

To become a fellow, it is first necessary to have passed the examination of the Library Association; to have been registered as an associate and to have practiced as a chartered librarian for at least five years. Fellowship is awarded to members who write a thesis of high standard and which is likely to be a valuable contribution to professional literature.

A period of three to four years is allowed for the accomplishment of this task, which comparatively few Chartered librarians undertake. Mr. Anderson's thesis is a "World Bibliography of Strawberry Literature, 1920-1962." This work is a classified bibliography which lists 6,827 separate literature references. Such a bibliography is considered a valuable contribution to the literature of horticultural science.

BROWNIES AT CAMP SUMMERLAND

Here are Summerland Brownies at Mewata Camp on Okanagan Lake during summer camp. Summerland girls are urged to take part in Brownie and Guide activities so they too may enjoy these outings. It was a military theme this year. The girls are wearing hats made of bleach containers.

Septic tanks deemed useful in fighting pollution of lake

Reeve Holmes informed the Summerland Council Tuesday night he was told by an authority on pollution control, Summerland should keep using septic tanks as long as they can.

He was told centres who use disposal systems are running into trouble with pollution where lakes and rivers are on the receiving end.

They were discussing the meeting on the subject held in Penticton last week where Councilor Powell and Barkwill attended.

Barkwill said there has been much progress in the Okanagan in that the Okanagan Watershed Pollution Control Council knows where the pollution is coming from and how much. "There is more to be done but they are certainly working in the right direction," he said.

Concern was expressed by Alderman Doug Stuart at this meeting regarding Skaha Lake which receives the Penticton flow that in time it will pollute the water. Osoyoos Lake is presently at a danger point.

Powell said they are not creating a hazard here. It is the big plants that are causing pollution, dumping nitrates and phosphates in the water.

Summerland contributes to the Control Council and Reeve Holmes said "it is some of the best money we have spent."

OTHER COUNCIL NEWS:

Mr. Howard Pruden attended council, on behalf of Mrs. Woodhead who has requested subdivision of her property on Prairie Valley Road. It has been under study by council for some weeks although it was previously recommended for authorization by the planning commission, and again at their meeting Monday evening.

They said in this report it should be done in stages and that nine or ten should be subdivided immediately if possible.

Councilor Powell said they should take a look at the creek that runs through the property and investigate the cost of moving the flume.

Councillor Hill said he would not like them to chop down all the trees in the area and not develop some portions of it.

Powell said the cost should be determined to fix and move the flume so Mrs. Woodhead can consider this when pricing her lots.

Pruden said Works Superintendent Blagborne had told him the creek was not prone to overflowing.

Barkwill recommended preliminary work should start towards improving Front Bench Road. Holmes agreed it should be widened but doubted the bud get for this year could stand too much work but preliminary could be started.

Blagborne said power lines could possibly be moved this year and negotiations could get underway for land before the first of the year. He was given authority to go ahead with this.

Blagborne said the flume work under the ARDA program has begun.

He said his foreman brother Bruce is still off work, and according to doctors will be for about two or three months. Harold Felker is taking his place until his return to duty.

August accounts totalling $89,719.09 were authorized paid.

Mike Prokopenko had requested subdivision of his property but was requested of council to provide an easement for the tile drain on his property.

He did not agree with this last week but agreed to confer with Blagborne.

Blagborne told council, Prokopenko was within his rights when he said he did not have to supply easement property and he thought the present drain now goes under the corner of his garage and his house.

However Prokopenko did agree to give right-of-way at the south boundary of his property so this may be arranged.

His subdivision was approved. Fun was poked at the Reeve when Blagborne called at his home last week to check to see if he had a building permit to build a carport. He didn't, "but I did have in 15 minutes," Holmes said, and congratulated Blagborne for being on the job, "that's what we are paying you for."

The first full meeting of the Summerland Chamber of Commerce will be held tonight at the I.O.O.F. Hall with dinner at 6:30 p.m.

This meeting has been declared Merchants' Night, President Eric Tait said Monday, and the Summerland Business and Professional Services Association will be formally welcomed as a committee group of the Chamber of Commerce.

A panel group has been organized with F. E. (Ted) Atkinson moderator, to discuss and review the tourist business of 1966. Suggestions are expected to attract more tourists to the community, to improve this rapidly growing business.

CNIB fund campaign launched with successful tag day

A very successful tag day was held Saturday by the Summerland Branch, Canadian National Institute for the Blind, when $266.00 was collected. The chairman Mrs. Walter Rothwell expressed her appreciation to all who contributed or helped in any way. Volunteers who tagged and those who helped with the appeal letters were Mrs. Will Brown, Mrs. J.H. Dunsdon, Mrs. Eric Tait, Mrs. S. Crook, Mrs. S.A. MacDonald, Mrs. J. Sheeley, Mrs. Geo. Wardle, Mrs. W. Morrisley, Mrs. C.V.G. Morgan, Mrs. Alex Inch, Mrs. Norris Laidlaw, Mrs. H. Lemke, Miss Lois Read and Miss Loise Atkinson.

Tagging at Trout Creek were Jane and Anne Millmore, Sharon Pauls, Dianne Hodson, Marjorie Lewis, Gail Palmer, Margaret Downing, Barbara Porritt, and Sandra Sawatzky.

The financial campaign continues through the month and contributions may be sent to the treasurer, Mrs. J.H. Dunsdon or left at the Bulletin office.

Great fishing in Okanagan Lake

Fishing is good in Okanagan Lake according to Roy Gilbert, Summerland — there is no need to go any further to catch the big ones.

It only took an hour to prove his point on Monday morning about a mile off the breakwater, directly east of Summerland when he landed a six and seven pound trout.

To bag them he used a Macsquid greenback plug and a 10 pound monofilament line on a light spinning rod.

Gilbert said he goes deep to get these big ones, in this case he used 4 and 6 ounce weights and let out about 400 feet of line.

He hooked another one he estimated to be much bigger than those he caught. The trout struck one hook and in the fight, got tangled up in his second line and eventually broke them both and went on his way.

Cerebral Palsy film coming

The parents' group of the Okanagan Neurological Association are presenting a film on the world-famous Bobath method of treatment for a child with spastic cerebral palsy.

All parents of cerebral palsied children and those who are interested in the welfare, health and development of the crippled child are invited to attend this film at the South Okanagan Health Unit in Summerland, at 8:00 p.m., Wednesday, Oct. 12.

Under The Giant's Head

Elsewhere in this issue is a note of thanks from Jim and Lillian Dunsdon who won the expense-paid trip to Vancouver following our subscription contest. I'll tell you one thing — sincerely—it couldn't have happened to finer people. The appreciation and co-operation we have had from them before, during and after the trip is proof of what kind of people they are. They even took time out to send me a card from "The Sands" to let me know they were "having a wonderful time". You say thanks, I say, "You are very welcome."

Not hard to guess who was at the Canadian Open Golf Tournament held in Vancouver last weekend. Chuck Bleasdale was there and I would imagine he enjoyed it as much or more than any of the some 18,000 that took in the affair. Chuck said something to the effect it made him ashamed of his game. This he doesn't have to be—he is one of the best in the valley.

I see by the Strathmore Standard, their Rockyford correspondent listed their "most active community groups"—where they meet and when—I counted them—there were 20. This is a town of about 350 people. Some met once a month, some twice, and some each week. I wonder how many there would be if the inactive groups were included. At the end of the list was, "if any organization has been inadvertently missed, please advise Leona Hendry". That's back in my old stamping grounds. I knew the Rockyford people were community-minded but never, until now did I realize how much. With all that activity, it's a wonder they have a mind at all. Mind you the only difference between Rockyford and any other center is I counted them. But we are as well (?) organized.

Don Dingwall brought some old coins in to show me the other day. One was a 1707 British copper coin a boat the weight of two silver dollars worth 2 pence. Then there was a dollar American gold piece that was so small you could lose it in your ear, dated 1851. He had a King Edward sovereign dated 1902 that he says is worth about $800. Maybe some of us should go hunting rare coins instead of trying to make our fortune in mining stocks.

I promised to give Cliff Brownlee's Pen-Trio a plug a couple of weeks ago. I don't know why I did "enuse we still sell advertising — but we were so impressed with his orchestra when they played at the recent Golf and Country Club "Ho" at Sumac Ridge, that I got carried away and told them I would tell you about it. They're good—no doubt about it. One of the best.

A costly Thanksgiving

By REV. P. K. LOUIE, Summerland United Church
One-day King David was moved with an impulse to set up an altar where he might worship God and offer up a sacrifice of thanksgiving. Out in the country he found a suitable place owned by Ornan the Jebusite. It isn't just every day that the king comes to a farmer's premises, and Ornan seemed quite overwhelmed by the honor. He eagerly offered the king his place for the purpose. "Take it, and let my lord, the king, do that which is good in his eyes. Lo, also, I give thee the oxen for sacrifice, wood for the fire, and wheat for the offering. I give it all."

It was then that David came back with one of those majestic and magnanimous touches so characteristic of his inner fineness and nobility that made him a man after God's own heart. He said, "No, I want to pay for it. I want to pay the full price for it. I will not take what is thine for the Lord. I will not offer unto the Lord my God that which hath cost me nothing." (II Samuel 24:24)

Here is the word of a gentleman, the mark of a thoroughbred; indeed the prophetic quality of the true Christian approach to life. David simply scorned a faith that made no demands on him. He refused to be a religious hitch-hiker. He would not ride to God's kingdom at another man's expense. I want to put down the full price, make my own contribution for that which I cherish as worthwhile. For religious faith is not merely an emotional sentiment, a good feeling about things. It does not begin to have meaning until it carries in it a sense of personal obligation and indebtedness. Almost all the things we get for nothing cost more than what they are worth. The only thing that costs more than religion is irreligion.

Our religion doesn't begin to have substance and power until it begins to talk like David, "I want to pay something for this. I will not take the rich heritage of the ages as a hand-out. I will not worship the Lord my God with that which has cost me nothing. I want to make some contribution of my own."

Goethe said: "That which thy father have bequeathed thee thou must earn anew to possess it." The Kingdom of God is not a hundred yard dash in which you win the cup and set it up on the mantel as a permanent possession. It is more like a relay race. Each generation must take it up, pay down the cost of it, carry its hopes and dreams into the future.

Bridge players to storm Kelowna

North-west of North America will be well represented at the first Okanagan Sectional Bridge Tournament to be held in the Capri Hotel, Kelowna this weekend.

R. V. (Dick) Thomas, unit secretary, said the 56 table capacity at the Capri will have to be augmented by table assemblies being set up in the Aquatic Club.

Two busses will not be enough to accommodate bridge players from Edmonton, some will be arriving by air.

Many have registered from the Interior and coast centres as well as from Washington, Oregon and Idaho.

The Okanagan executive had planned for 300 tables taking part in the six events but early indications show this target will be surpassed.

Many of the Okanagan units representing almost 300 members will be playing for the numerous trophies, prizes and of course Master Points.

Summerland Review — 3

Thanksgiving

Canadians have much to be thankful for. The horn of plenty is in evidence throughout our land - we are fortunate in the true sense of the word.

We may live in peace and contentment with our families. We are surrounded with friends who stand ready to assist in times of unfortunate circumstances and when we have this we are rich.

It is true we are not all rich in a monetary way - but money does not necessarily bring happiness. Nothing can compare with being out with family and friends, enjoying a day at the beach, a drive in the country or an afternoon at the ski hill. These are pleasures money cannot buy, nor can it replace. We are so fortunate - rich in so many ways.

On Thanksgiving day, we should think on these things and thank God for every one of them. We should consider those in the world less fortunate - those who are starving. We should encourage our governments to distribute our surplus food to the starving people of the world. To hoard and waste food is a sin we are all guilty of.

Thanksgiving Day can be considered the most important one of the year. We may appreciate - Christmas - Easter - Armistice Day and all they signify, all at one time. It is a day to count our many blessings.

The deep-seated plot?

Maybe we are letting our imagination run away with us, but there are times when we almost believe there is a widespread, deep-seated plot or conspiracy against newspaper people.

Two common symptoms dealing with people in public life have been so general of late, that we are inclined to believe there might be something to this seemingly outlandish idea.

One is the increasing prevalence of the alibi used by public officials or candidates for office that they have been misquoted. They never openly admit, "That was a stupid remark that I never should have made. I truly didn't mean it. If I had given it any thought, I never would have said it." Instead, they say the newspaper misquoted them or took "something out of context".

The other symptom is the vehement denial by people who ought to know of the truth of a rumor which becomes an established fact the very next day. And when the truth finally becomes known, these same spokesmen expect newsmen to forgive and forget the denials they had previously made.

Could there be such a thing as a double standard concerning the truth for people in public life and for newspaper people?

But don't get us wrong—it's still a great life.

Mrs. Captain Creese and her two children had a rather thrilling experience on Sunday morning when their car turned over on its side on the Peach Orchard Hill below Dr. Lipsett's property. Mrs. Creese had kept too far to the right and the car was on a slant against the side of the bank when it capsized. No one was hurt and even the car was not badly damaged and was run into town on its own power.

RCMP says no more warnings for illegal parking on Rosedale

RCMP Cpl. Bud Stohl told the Review they have been giving warnings to those who have stopped on Rosedale Ave. to let off school children where it is posted "No Stopping" but this will no longer be the case. The costly type of ticket will be issued to future offenders.

Stohl said it was formerly posted "No Parking" which allowed motorists to stop to let out passengers, but due to this being a traffic hazard, it was changed this year.

"People who want to let off passengers, may turn into the school driveway and stop", he said.

Stohl also said school bus drivers are instructed to take down the license number of any vehicle that does not stop when school busses stop.

"Traffic must stop when approaching a school bus from either direction when the bus has its red lights flashing. Vehicles must remain stopped un-

Laidlaw robbed thieves caught

Laidlaw's store was broken into again Friday night, but it didn't take the Summerland detachment of the RCMP long to round up the culprits. They had them in custody early Saturday afternoon.

This is the second time within a year Laidlaw's store has been unlawfully entered. In Nov., '65, $254 in merchandise was taken with $31 worth returned when the thieves were apprehended.

For the Friday night caper, Philip J. Gingell and Summerland juvenile were arrested on Saturday and both pleaded guilty to the charge of breaking, entering and theft.

Gingell appeared before Magistrate Reid Johnston Tuesday and was given a jail sentence of 12 months definite and nine months indeterminate.

The juvenile appeared before Family Court Judge J. B. Hack Monday and was remanded in custody until Oct. 7th when he will be sentenced.

A number of articles were taken including shirts, underwear, jackets, socks and shoes, most of which has been recovered.

Entry was gained by breaking the glass in the front door. They tried to get in the back way by breaking a small window, but they apparently could not reach the lock.

Important decision faces Okanagan Valley voters

(This is the first in a series of three articles on the Okanagan Regional College.)
 Voters in the Okanagan Valley will be called upon this December to make one of the most important decisions to come before the electorate here in many years.

They will be asked, simply, if they are in favor of spending an as yet undetermined sum of money on the construction of a two-year regional college for the valley to be built in Kelowna.

Approval of the referendum will mean that a vast range of post-secondary educational opportunities will be open to all the young men and women of the Okanagan Valley.

Rejection will mean that only a privileged few, whose parents can afford to send them out of town, will have the benefit of a higher education.

For a variety of reasons, mainly centred around a dispute over where the college should be located, the establishment of the Okanagan Regional College has been slow in getting off the ground, since it was first proposed in 1962 by University of B.C. president Dr. John B. Macdonald in his report on higher education needs in the province.

However, over the past year the Okanagan Regional College Council, under the leadership of Frank Venables, of Oliver, has made tremendous strides; nine of the 10 school districts that make up the college boundaries approved the college in principle by plebiscite last year, a president has been hired and plans for the college have been drawn up.

If the referendum is approved this December, a start will be made immediately on construction and the college will be ready for occupancy by September 1968.

What is a regional college? It is not a university, a glorified high school or a vocational school. Instead, it is a composite institution offering:

- The first two years of university, permitting transfer to a university for completion of degree work.

- Courses of up to two years of a general and technical nature which permit the graduate to go directly into employment.

The regional college has two broad purposes. The first is to provide within a single educational milieu a variety of educational opportunities for students of different abilities, talents and interests.

The second is to extend more widely the opportunity for young people to continue their education after graduation from secondary school.

Though no current figures are available on the number of young people from the Okanagan region who go to university, educators believe that many who have the ability and desire to go on cannot do so because of lack of funds.

It has been estimated that fees and living accommodation at University of B. C. or Simon Fraser University cost a student $1800 a year.

Finding this amount of money for four years in a row is simply beyond the resources of many students and their families.

A recent survey by University of Victoria showed that while 50 per cent of graduating grade 12 students in Victoria indicated last year that they were planning to go on to university, only 25 per cent of graduating grade 12 students from up-island areas indicated that they were going on to university.

Major reason for the discrepancy was the fact that most students away from university areas find it too costly to go to university.

Establishment of a regional college immediately wipes out such cost discrimination and permits students who want to take university courses to actually pay lower tuition fees than they would at a full-fledged university.

President Macdonald made the point forcefully in his report when, referring to the interior, he said:
 The dearth of higher educational opportunity in the interior of the province means that an important stimulus is missing which should be attracting all the ablest students to college or university.

"Many potential leaders remain unchallenged by the opportunities for higher education simply because they live in communities where the rewards of intellectual endeavor are not made evident by the presence

Guide activities are outlined

Camping is a very important part of "Guiding" and in this Division of the South Okanagan we are indeed fortunate to have our own campsite named "Camp Mewata".

This site has several buildings on it, one being called the Brownie Retreat and this is where our Brownies sleep when they attend camp. Brownies must not sleep under canvas therefore it was necessary to erect some sort of building to house them. The Camp Committees got busy and rounded up work crews, lumber was bought — though a great deal was donated.

The ladies of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the British Empire saw to it that a lovely stone fireplace was built and this is very much appreciated, during wet weather especially. Brownie Camp or Pack Holiday as leaders prefer to call it, is just a 2 1/2-day affair and is a nice "breaking-in" period for eight-year-old girls.

When Guides go to attend the camp they go for approximately seven days and have planned interesting programmes, and most of their meals are prepared by a cook. There are special camps called "Pioneer Camps" designed for the older Guides, where they learn to do most things for themselves.

They are responsible for pitching their own tents and cooking all means on various types of fires. From here a Guide or Ranger can be chosen to attend one of the Heritage Camps providing she meets the high standard required by our province.

This year Jane Miltimore was chosen to attend such a Camp held in Quebec and she gives a nice account of her trip:

"Eight Guides and Rangers from British Columbia were Church group sponsors UNICEF

The Summerland United Church Hi-C group are this year sponsoring the sale of UNICEF greeting cards in Summerland.

Through the co-operation of Mr. Alan Butler, the cards will be made available at Butler's Jewellery Store. Orders will be taken by any Hi-C member, or by phoning the Hi-C Counsellor Mrs. David Munn, at 494-1564.

This active group of young people are already sponsoring two needy teen-agers in Hong Kong. Their new UNICEF project will provide another means of showing love for their fellow man.

Through the purchase of the cards a hungry child is nourished, a naked child is clothed, or an illiterate child learns to read. These are gifts of life and hope, the gifts of UNICEF. Its members and its money go everywhere in the world where children are: caring for expectant mothers, for infants and children, equipping health and day-care centres, training teachers, providing books and educational aids for many kinds of schools. Believing implicitly in the dignity of man, UNICEF does not dispense charity, but works directly for and with projects and organizations that countries provide for their children.

Voters have final say on building of Regional College

Though the Okanagan Regional College Council is going full steam ahead in planning the college, Council chairman Frank Venables last week assured valley ratepayers that they will have the final say in deciding whether or not a college is built.

A referendum to approve a college, we are confident that the referendum will be overwhelmingly successful," Mr. Venables said.

In the meantime, he said the college council president, Norman Walker, and members of the staff are going ahead with planning.

"The people of the valley have already told us through a plebiscite that they want a college. We are now carrying out the mandate given us at that time. However, all that we do is subject to the passage of the referendum and judging by the interest of the people in the

Mr. Venables added that though a lease has been signed for the college campus it will be invalid unless the referendum is approved.

He quoted the appropriate section of the lease as follows: "The college, in the event of proven inability to obtain the necessary permission and the necessary funds from local, provincial and federal governments a referendum on the referendum, shall not be bound by this agreement and the clauses herein and the land shall be restored to the original form as far as is reasonably possible."

"I might add that the college council had full authority under the Public Schools Act to sign the lease," he said.

Replying to charges that leasing costs would be unusually high compared to purchase, Mr. Venables pointed out that though net leasing costs over 99 years will be $990,000, the provincial government will pay half of this.

"The cost of the lease per valley homeowner will be about 13 cents a year, or about five cents per person per year, based on the present population."

Mr. Venables said that though the annual rental is tied to the cost of living, "it is impossible to say, over a 99-year period, whether the cost of living will go up or down."

Subdividing scramble in Peachland Municipality

By BRENDA DAVIES
PEACHLAND — Mr. Hirtle, land surveyor of Kelowna, accompanied by Mr. Spark and Mr. F. Stee, head of their Engineering department, attended the Peachland council meeting with the official plans of the Princeton Ave. survey. Mr. H. C. MacNeill as signing officer was authorized to sign plans.
Hirtle also presented a submission to council dealing with problems to be faced if the mining development goes through, and gave plans for a sewerage system, water mains and road allowances. He stated Peachland's population could reach 3,000 in the next three years, and plans for this increase must be made once the verdict is known.
Mr. and Mrs. Chippindale of North Delta presented a subdivision plan for property recently bought from Mr. Scov in Trepanier. They plan to keep a 5-acre plot for themselves and divide the rest into 23 view-lots for sale to the public. Council approved in principle a rough sketch, subject to a more detailed plan to be submitted.

Councillor Beet will attend a Shuswap Canal meeting in Vernon Oct. 22.
A meeting of all business people is being called for 8:00 pm. Oct. 14 to plan a brochure.
Mr. Beet was appointed to act as council's representative on the Centennial Committee in place of Mr. Sidebotham who resigned.
K. Domi's request to build a tank on York St. was considered. He has alternative sites for the water tank and the committee felt that it was not good policy to allow it to be built on the food allowance.

Mr. G. W. Burns, Trepanier wished to subdivide property above the road into three lots, and below the road into two lots. Council approved plans in principle. He also brought Council's attention to extensive re-decorating of the post office and council will send a note of thanks to owner of the property, Miss McDougall, for the improvements.
J. Enns, Beach Ave. plans to subdivide property into three parcels, and L. G. Bawden plans to sub-divide his property into two lots. Both plans were approved in principle.

A complaint regarding weeds on Bluewater subdivision was read and Council hopes to get the matter under control in the spring.
The official notice of census figures listed Peachland's population at 681 on June 1, 1966.
Maps of the municipality are now available at the municipal office.
Deadline for taxes is Oct. 31. They are coming in slowly.
Court of Revision of the list of electors will sit at 10 a.m., Nov. 1, at Municipal Hall.

Increasing demand for pickers in area south of Summerland

Farm labour conditions effective Oct. 3 were:
In the northern areas of the Okanagan the labour situation is a balanced one, with the exception of the Winfield District which is in need of D'Anjou pears, prunes and McIntosh apples.
The southern districts from Summerland to Osoyoos and Keremeos are experiencing a growing demand for pickers to harvest Delicious, Spartans, Newtowns, Golden Delicious and Winesaps and this demand is expected to increase by the coming weekend, and to extend into the next two weeks.

Keremeos: McIntosh harvest completed and growers are now harvesting Delicious and later varieties such as Golden Delicious, Winesaps and Newtowns. There is, currently, a slight demand for pickers and six are needed immediately.

Osoyoos: Harvesting of Delicious in progress. This will be followed in a few days by Golden Delicious, Winesaps and Newtowns. About seven pickers needed at present.

Olive: Pickers are busy on Delicious. Next will be Golden Delicious, Newtown and Winesap. Some 12 pickers currently needed.

Summerland: Picking of Delicious and Newtowns prevalent at present. The immediate need is for six pickers.

Penticton: General picking of Delicious started today. There is an immediate need for 25 pickers. Lack of picker accommodation on quite a number of

School Sports

By Ron Kostelnik

Sports action, this past week, saw the soccer teams go down to defeat and the grass hockey teams picking up the only win in six contests played.

The Senior Grass Hockey team was blanked 1-0 in a game played at Pentiction on the 28th but trounced visiting Oliver 5-0 in a game played on the 1st. Bev Bye, in goal, stopped everything that came her way, Ghina Storey scored the first goal of the game in the first half and Sandy Stein added an insurance marker before the half ended.

In the second half, Storey scored twice and Bea Young added the final goal to give the girls a record of two wins and one loss for the season.

The Junior Grass Hockey squad were held to a 1-1 draw by home team McNichol Park on the 29th. Patsy Norris had the locals ahead 1-0 in the first half but McNichol Park scored the equalizer in the second half. The Jr.'s now have a record of a win and a tie in two games.

In Senior Soccer, the boys came up with a tie and a loss in two games played. They tied Pentiction, in Pentiction, with no scoring on the 28th. At home, to Oliver, they lost their second straight game to the winners by a score of 1-0. Barton scored for Oliver, on a shot that eluded Bill Potter, in goal, for the win. The Seniors have a new member on the team, Bud Senger.

The Juniors were dumped 3-0 while playing at McNichol Park on the 28th. Three penalty kicks proved to be the difference in the game as Steve Howard kicked two goals in and Dwight Folk booted one in. New members on the team are Dave Stewart, Ron Taylor and Peter Nan.

CRABBY LOVERS

On the Pacific Coast it is fortunate that there is a variety of edible crabs that tickle the palate of gourmets, as well as general sea food lovers. One of the most important of crabs, the king crab is a most romantic crab, and during courtship participates in an unusual kind of hand-holding courtship that often extends for more than a week.

Services to be held to-day for John Radies

Mr. John Gottlieb Radies of Oliver passed away Monday, Oct. 3 in his 41st year.

Mr. Radies was a Navy veteran of World War II, and a member of Royal Canadian Legion No. 97 of Oliver.

He is survived by his wife Mary, two sons, Barry and Timothy, one daughter, Linda, all at home; six brothers, Chris and Bob of Kamloops, Bill and Herbert of Vancouver; Albert, Oliver and Alvin, Pentiction; two sisters, Mrs. Elsie Bestler, Gravelberg, Sask., and Mrs. Ida Keller, Osoyoos, his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Radies of Oliver.

Council happy with progress made with Centennial Park

The Summerland Centennial Committee met with council Tuesday to report past performance, future plans and budgets.

Chairman Jim Marshall said, "We have reached the point where we must meet with council to discuss various aspects of the Centennial Park on Giant's Head Mountain."

Bert Stent said a gate has been built and wanted guidance as to how elaborate a cairn should be placed at the summit.

He said they had called for designs, but those submitted by individuals were "over our heads".

They have asked two local artists to submit one of a simple design and one more elaborate. It was the feeling of council and the committee agreed, that one of a simple design would be most appropriate.

C. Bleasdale said they had given consideration to supplying water to the park and Al McMechan had spent much time researching the possibilities but that it was council's decision to make, because he estimated the costs to be around $4,000 to pump water to the park. This would include water for drinking and for washrooms.

Money was the main problem he said. "People are now coming to us with ideas but they all cost money."

He felt direction was needed from council because they would be responsible for the maintenance of the park and the committee wanted to know how far to go.

Councillor Powell said "I feel we should make every endeavour to get water up there."

"I don't think it can be a success without water", Reeve Holmes said.

The Elks have volunteered to do the work on the line if materials are supplied.

Council was also informed by the committee, the use of a tank truck hauling water to a tank located at the park had been considered.

Works Superintendent Blagborne did some quick figuring and said this may be the best way.

Chairman Marshall said he and provincial centennial officials expect a host of Canadians will visit the park which will take on a national significance. It has been recognized as being one of the finest in Canada.

"With the present budget, we can get it as a workable park", he said, "but council may want us to go a little further".

Holmes assured him the park will be given every possible consideration.

Marshall said there is some blasting necessary on the road yet, some cleaning up to and the park area needs to be prepared for seeding. The Horticultural Society will seed it to grass this fall.

Although the Scouts have had a good arrangement in cutting their Christmas trees from Giant's Head in the past, he questioned the wisdom of this when it is to be a municipal park.

He suggested a by-law be passed against picking flowers or cutting trees in the park.

"The Horticultural Society have second thoughts about reforesting and have another organization cutting them down", he said.

Ken Stewart said tentative arrangements are being made with the Camera Club to show pictures of Centennial interest one evening during the year before July. A choir may be formed and a pageant has been discussed.

The Centennial Caravan will be here as well as will the "Best of Barkerville", a show touring the province. From February to July, it is planned to have at least one Centennial function a month.

The Summerland Ministerial Association may organize a commemorative service.

It was suggested the committee present council with a projected budget at the first of the year, so they may consider some of the aspects of development at that time.

Holmes congratulated the group on a job well done, and assured support from council.

Arrangements will be made to prepare the park for seeding, and it is hoped they will be able to take some advantage of the winter works program on the labour on the road improvement.

'Mac' Kuroda passed away October 5

Mr. M. (Mac) Kuroda passed away suddenly Oct. 5 at the age of 83 years. Born in Japan, Mr. Kuroda was a resident of Summerland for the past 59 years. He was predeceased by his wife, Tori, in 1963 and two infant children.

Surviving are two sons, Roy and Frank of Summerland; four daughters, Midori, Kitsuya and Shima of Japan; Sada of Kelowna; 15 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren; one sister and four brothers in Japan; one brother, Robert Nakamura, of Summerland.

Prayers were held Friday evening from the family residence and funeral services were held Sat., Oct. 8 from the Summerland United Church with Rev. Philip Louie and Mr. Wm. Harms officiating. Interment in Peach Orchard Cemetery.

Wright's Funeral Home was entrusted with arrangements.

Building in Summerland up without considering hospital

When they took out the building permit to build the new Summerland Hospital, it made September look like a pretty impressive month.

According to John Khalembach, Building Inspector, the total building for the month was $1,151,475.00 including $996,000.00 for the hospital compared to $42,400.00 last September. Deduct the hospital and it was $155,475.00 still an impressive increase in the normal building pattern. All but $950 of this was residential.

Without taking the hospital into consideration, the total building for nine months of 1966 is $671,730.00 compared to $627,480 for the same period last year, an increase of $44,250.00.

Boothe gets top executive post

Mr. Ken Boothe was elected one of the top executives at the annual meeting of the B.C. School Trustees Assn. in Penticton last week.

Those elected on the floor of the annual meeting include the president, vice-president and two directors to form the inner executive. Other members of the executive are chosen at the district level. Boothe is now one of the directors and if the normal pattern follows, he will be moved up to the president's chair in two or three years, depending upon which of the two directors moves up to vice-president next year.

Frank Beinder, Trail was elected president and J.M. Campbell, Saturna Island, vice-president. The other director chosen was J. R. Lamont, Castlegar.

There were four trustees vying for the two director posts. The more than 450 voting delegates elected Boothe and Lamont on the first count.

DONALD W. FORD

Named to assist College President

As a member of the English staff at the Southern Alberta Institute of Technology has been named administrative assistant to the president of the Okanagan Regional College.

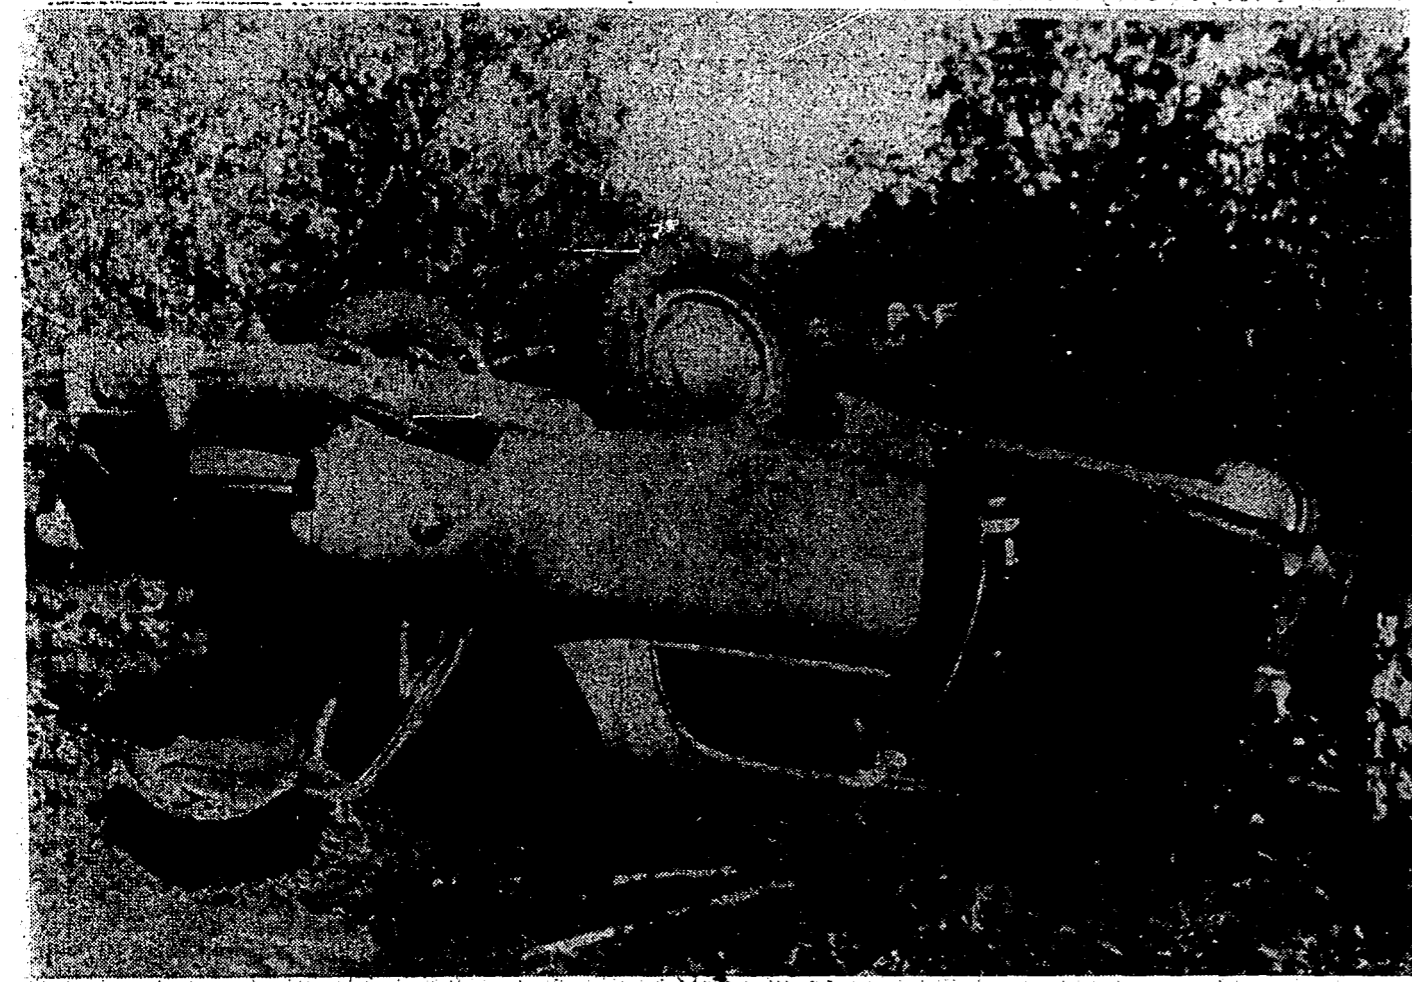

He is Donald W. Ford, age 39, who assumed his duties Oct. 1st.

College President Norman Walker said Mr. Ford will be "working on the question of analysis of the kind of college programs which are recommended for the valley."

"He will also be concerned with allocating space and special requirements for these programs," Mr. Walker said.

Mr. Ford is a graduate in English of the University of Toronto and has done post-graduate studies in educational administration.

In addition to his work in the English department at Southern Alberta Institute of Technology Mr. Ford, for the past three years, assisted in the development of new courses in graphic arts, journalism and radio and television arts.

Barbara Inch walked away from this with only slight bruises. She was travelling North on Prairie Valley Road at 1:40 a.m. October 7th when the right wheel struck the dirt shoulder which pulled the steering wheel from her hands. The car overturned landing on a pear tree, breaking the trunk off two feet from the ground. There was $450.00 damage done to the car. RCMP say that no charges

Summerland arena needs some immediate attention

At the Tuesday Council meeting, Superintendent Ken Blagborne requested more time and professional advice regarding the re-locating of irrigating flume running through the proposed Woodhead subdivision. He said there is considerable expense involved and did not wish to make an incorrect estimate for Mrs. Woodhead. These costs will be taken into consideration when she determines the selling price of the lots.

Mr. Blagborne said if the work under ARDA is progressing well although they are having the expected problem with bedrock. They are constructing 3,000 ft. of new flume.

"The executive of the Western Canada Reclamation and Conservation Association has been invited to attend the annual meeting of the Saskatchewan Irrigation Districts Oct. 28 and 29."

Blagborne, being a member of that executive, requested permission to make the trip. This was granted.

Mrs. M. Croil will be asked to attend a one-day Library Seminar to study the future of "Our Public Library" in Kelowna Oct. 30.

A letter was received from the Union of B.C. Municipalities protesting new legislations governing municipal winter works programs this season.

As it now stands, it does not include year around employees. They will make representation to the Minister of Manpower and Immigration requesting the plan revert back to last year's regulations.

Blagborne said the present Winter Works program is "useless other than for bush cutting. It is down to where we can no longer hire any supervisory people at all."

"Looks like they are trying to regulate it (the winter works program) out of existence", Reeve Holmes said.

$356,839.00 of the debentures sold has been received and was turned over to the Summerland Hospital Society for hospital construction.

Percy E. Miller had previously requested council to cut the trees on the road allowance past his property.

Upon investigation, Blagborne suggested a survey will be necessary to determine which trees belong to the municipality and which to Miller.

Miller had agreed and said he would present council with a split cost proposal.

Blagborne said the floor at the south end of the arena is in very poor condition.

"It will not last much longer", he said, "it's really rotten. We plan to put ties under the floor to enable equipment to go in and out. All we can do is a patch job on the floor this year."

Councillor Powell questioned the safety of the seats in the south end. Blagborne said they could not tell until they open the floor up. He was asked to inspect the situation and report back.

"The balance is o.k. but any work done on the south end this year would only be good for this season", he said.

Councillor Powell was appointed council's representative to the Okanagan Pollution Control Council.

A letter of appreciation will be sent to Gallop's Greenhouses in appreciation for the flowers decorating the streets which were purchased from this firm at a nominal fee. They will also be thanked for the attention given flowers during the season.

Summerland will participate, with other valley municipalities to send a representative to a meeting to be held in Ottawa this fall regarding the pollution problem in Canada.

Elementary school children will participate in Fire Prevention week

Summerland Elementary school children will again participate in fire prevention week. Fire Chief Joe McLachlan said.

Grade 1 and 2 will have a coloring contest using outline pictures provided by the Fire Department. Grades 3 and 4 will participate in a competition designing a poster of their choice, using the fire prevention theme.

Grades 6 and 7 will write essays on fire prevention and the opportunity room will also participate. The best first five will get a prize in each grade.

Tourism is becoming big business in Summerland

Thirty-seven Summerland Chamber of Commerce members and guests sat down to dinner at the IOOF Hall, Thursday night previous to their first meeting of the season. President Eric Tait was in charge.

Members of the Summerland Business and Professional Services Association were welcomed. This organization has become a branch of the chamber.

New faces representing businesses in town were, L. Emale, Fashion Footwear; Art Hunt, Hunt Shoes Ltd.; Dick Hall, Trout Creek Services; Jack Bailie, Lawrence Realty Ltd. and Vic Parker, Sumac Ridge Ltd.

A letter regarding a proposed canal to connect the Shuswap with the Okanagan was read, inviting the Chamber to send representation to a Vernon meeting in this regard Oct. 22. The canal would begin one mile east of Enderby.

Representation from all municipalities and chambers will be sought as well as organization representing water recreational activities in the valley.

Summerland will be represented at this initial meeting by the Municipality, C. of C., Yacht Club and Power Squadron.

Ted Atkinson, in explaining the reason for the proposal said,

"It will give us access to more water and recreational facilities."

It has been proposed that the first stage, costing $50,000, be done this fall. Provincial and federal authorities have been working with chairman Lionel Morcier of Vernon for two years discussing the project.

Interest was shown by the Chamber, but discussion was held until after the Vernon meeting.

President Tait said he knew the Okanagan - Similkameen Parks Society were going to request the Chamber become a member of their organization in an effort to receive support throughout the valley in their parks campaign, but the meeting decided to wait until they received an official request before it is considered.

The Parks Society is currently raising $5,000 to acquire 500 acres east of Vaseux Lake for a winter range for California Big Horn sheep.

Dr. W. Evans requested Chamber representation to a Centennial supper dance to be held in the Youth Centre Oct. 28. All organization in town are being invited. Three couples expressed a desire to attend.

Ted Atkinson was the moderator of a panel to discuss the past tourist season and to study ways of improving our facilities.

On the panel were Jim Moore, Parks Superintendent of government parks in the Okanagan; Councillor Doug Hill; Mitch Lamb, services; Les Rumball, retail business.

MORE CAMPERS IN '66
Mr. Moore had some interesting figures comparing the number of campers during the 1965 and 1966 seasons visiting government campsites.

In the valley at all campsites there were 22,005 registered campers in 1965 compared to 23,445 this year or an increase of 2,500 families or cars. Breaking it down to number of people it was 91,820 compared to 101,702 this year, or an increase of 10,172. (The nose count is approximate, obtained by multiplying the number of cars by 4).

At the campsites north of Summerland, they hosted over half of them. Cars, 11,780 last year and 13,396 this year or an increase of 1,500. In population it was 47,156 compared to 53,584 or an increase of 6,428.

The above figures do not include day visitors or those picnicking.

Moore said the most common complaint is lack of beaches in Summerland, and the lack of something to do.

Res Rumball said business firms are taxed to the limit during July and August.

"We are geared to handle our regular business and for two months it is difficult to handle the extra traffic", he said.

Rumball estimated there is an increase of about 47% in business during July and August.

He said the local consumer suffers because stores are not able to give the kind of service they would like to with facilities at hand.

He said he has to meet the challenge because there was no doubt in his mind it has become the second industry in Summerland and "it is going to get bigger and bigger every year."

He said the most common complaint he has heard from tourists, is that the Government Liquor Store is too often closed.

He said he was not making any reflections toward the vendor, because of it being a one-man operation, it is necessary for him to close up to go to the bank, get the mail or eat his lunch, and half-day closing.

The chamber has urged the Liquor Board to supply a second man for the liquor store, with little results.

Rumball said there have been requests for trailer hook-ups at Peach Orchard Park and for seven-day, 24-hour service at the Laundromat.

The most favorable comments have come from those who had played at Sumac Ridge golf course. He said the course has made a wonderful contribution to Summerland, and congratulated owner Vic Parker for this.

VOLUNTEER INFORMATION
Mitch Lamb said they are overtaxed serving in the capacity of an information bureau, but that it was paying off. He said repeat business year after year results and recommended everyone take time out to assist tourists.

He said they have many in-sign system be instituted.

"And I wish someone would have some pamphlets printed explaining what that big house on the hill is," he concluded.

(He was making reference to the building on Giant's Head, now operated by the Seventh-Day Adventist Church. Lamb said everyone asks that question.)

SEEKING MORE SIGNS
Councillor Hill said the municipality comes under the same highway regulations in the placement of signs as anyone else.

Phillip Keller to speak in Pentiction

The noted Canadian author and photographer, W. Phillip Keller, will give an illustrated talk in the Peach Bowl, Pentiction, on Friday, Oct. 14, at 8:30. The public is invited.

Mr. Keller's talk is sponsored by the Okanagan Similkameen Parks Society, which is working toward establishment of the first Canadian sanctuary for the rare California Bighorn Sheep, native to British Columbia. He will speak on "Bighorn Sheep and Wildlife of the Okanagan."

He achieved worldwide fame with his book "Africa's Wild Glory". This was followed by "Canada's Wild Glory", and, in 1966, "Under Wilderness Skies". These popular books are illustrated by the author's own photographs.

Mr. Keller is famous as a keen observer of wildlife, with more than 20 years of expeditions into the wilderness of North America. His varied experiences include work in the citrus industry, on cattle ranches, and in National Parks. He has visited many different countries on writing and photographic assignments.

This is an exceptional opportunity to hear an accomplished speaker.

The basketball season will be starting Nov. 25.

The Junior Boys tied Pen-Hi 1-1 on a second-half goal by Peter Nan. Doug Scott scored in the first half against Ken Bolton, in the Summerland nets. Summerland had numerous scoring chances but failed to capitalize on them, and should have won by two or three goals. The record of the boys is now two losses and a tie, having wondered if it was all talk. "Who is going to do something about it," she asked.

Mr. Moore said there is no place for visitors to Peach Orchard Park to swim, and that he had heard many complaints about the condition of Powell Beach.

President Tait said there is a committee presently working on a format for a new Summerland brochure.

Near the close of the meeting, Charlie Bernhardt said the many ideas brought out to promote tourism were very good, but who was to carry out the ideas was another problem. He said it is difficult to get volunteer assistance, so the problem was lack of money to see the ideas become a reality.

Mr. Atkinson agreed our society is moving so fast, everyone is too busy to give time to their community.

He said, "We are going to get more industry, more population and more tourism. Highway 97 has become a stream of gold and we must cater to it."

He agreed Summerland has been a nice peaceful community and in some aspects "this is good. But we cannot stand still—we must progress or go behind."

Motel operator, Mrs. Smith said she spent much time last summer on the phone in an effort to get tourist accommodation, even in private homes. She said many were forced to sleep in their cars.

She said she appreciated the ideas for making Summerland more of a tourist attraction but

John Manning Early B.C. pioneer passes

John Manning, well-known throughout the Okanagan and Nicola Valleys, died in Kamloops Wednesday, Oct. 5, in his 100th year.

Born in England, Mr. Manning came to B.C. in 1892 going first to Spences Bridge where he worked on a fruit farm. His first winter in Canada was spent at Enderby and he later moved to a farm at Dot — between Spences Bridge and Merritt.

It was while living at Dot that most of his family of 5 daughters and four sons was born.

After giving up the farm he moved to Hazelton where he was the head gardener at Wrinch Memorial Hospital until his retirement at the age of 85.

He lived with members of his family until failing health necessitated him living at a private hospital.

He was predeceased by his wife in the early 1930s. One daughter, Phoebe, Mrs. Arthur Miller is also dead.

Surviving are four daughters, Lily, Mrs. Otto Koester, Pentiction; Rose, Mrs. Tom Johnston, Hazelton; Beatrice, Mrs. Bartle Dodding, Merritt, and Louise, Mrs. Mark Embree of Summerland; also four sons John and Tom of Summerland, George of Kamloops and Charles of Tranquille.

Funeral services were held on Monday at the Merritt Pentecostal Church with Rev. Bob Starrett officiating.

been outscored five to one.

The Junior Girls Grass Hockey team were beaten for the first time, to give them a record of a win, a loss and a tie. Pen-Hi scored a goal, which eluded Donna Sharpe in the second half. In the first half of the game, Nancy Barkwill was hit in the face by the ball, but she returned in the second half.

Next action for the Juniors is on Oct. 19 when they tackle on Princess Margaret at 8 p.m.

Lady golfers host Pentiction

Sumac Ladies' Golf Club entertained the Pentiction Ladies' Golf Club on Wednesday, September 29. 53 players teed-off. A buffet luncheon was served at the clubhouse after which prizes were presented for low gross, low net, long drive, least number of putts and the most honest golfer. Many laughs were had when the prizes were opened, as they were chosen from a "white elephant" table.

Play for the Rumball Cup which has been completed with Mary Parker the winner and Lavender Hyde the runner-up. Under way now are matches for the Club champion. The winner will receive the Andrew Cup, which was presented to the club by Mrs. George Henry. This cup was given to the women of the first Summerland Golf Club by the late Dr. F.W. Andrew and the Executive of the Sumac Ladies' Golf Club feel it would be fitting to carry on this tradition.

Mixed two ball foursomes will be played Sun. Oct. 15.

Summerland Review — 3

This is Fire Prevention Week

Fire prevention time has come around again, as this week we observe Fire Prevention Week.

In thousands of towns and cities across the nation fire prevention will be stressed in the schools.

Fire Chief McLachlan has arranged essay and poster contests within the Summerland Elementary schools to impress the importance of fire prevention on our youth. Some people will ask why Fire Prevention Week is observed each year.

The answer is simple. Three out of every four fires are the result of carelessness. By using ordinary care, we can prevent fire from happening. And if we do that,

Fire Prevention Week will have been worthwhile.

The tragic ten year record in Canada is 5,860 people were killed by fires, $1,360,000,000 in damage. Entire families have been wiped out. Many small town plants have been forced to fold and it has cost industry $600,000,000. During 1965 there were 588 deaths and 68,580 fires reported.

Three quarters of our fire deaths occur in homes. And not only deaths, for many people are horribly burned and often permanently scarred.

Fires rarely just "happen"! Most are the result of sheer carelessness and thoughtless neglect of simple precautions.

Putting their money where their mouth is . . .

Two organizations in the Okanagan deserve more than the usual plaudits for their recent efforts to provide land reserves for game, nature studies, and public recreation.

They are the Okanagan - Similkameen parks Society and the Southern Okanagan Sportsmen's Association, who have succeeded in acquiring 500 acres east of Vas-eaux Lake as a winter range for one of the world's few remaining bands of California Big Horn Sheep.

The Parks Society has agreed to purchase the 500 acres, and is starting a fund to raise the necessary $5,000. The Sportsmen's Association has agreed to contribute $500, which together with a private donation of $500 from Kelowna makes an excellent start toward the total.

For years the Sportsmen's Association has urged the Provincial Government to take steps to acquire at least part of the heard's winter range to assure its preservation. For reasons best known to the government, no action has been taken. More recently, the newly-formed Parks Society has also urged acquisition or reserve of this and other tracts of land in the south Okanagan to ensure recreation and game preserves.

The two organizations have now shown they really believe their objectives as worth while enough to put forward their own money. Their money speaks even louder than their words.

Recognition should also be given to the anonymous lady in Kelowna who also contributed $500.

FROM OUR FILES . . .

41 Years Ago

Summerland boys and girls must be well behaved. According to reports submitted at the school board meeting on Wednesday night, corporal punishment was only administered once during the past month. This includes both the public and high schools. Considering that one could understand an exuberance of spirits during the first month of school work following a lengthy summer vacation, this is considered a pretty good showing. Evidently the doctrine of "spare the rod and spoil the child" is not adopted in Summerland.

Mrs. J. Lawler leaves on Monday for Toronto where she will remain for some time.

Mr. W.L. McPherson left last Monday on a business trip to Norquay, Sask. He expects to be away six weeks.

H.M. Lumsden arrived Tuesday night from Ireland, where he has been for some time. Mrs. Lumsden went up as far as Okanagan Landing to meet him.

Mr. Purvis has traded his house and lot in Victoria Gardens for Miss Graham's lot above the Kettle Valley Station.

Mrs. Sharman and daughter are spending a vacation at the Coast.

Foster Parents' Plan (P.O. Paul Martin, Secretary of State for External Affairs, and Mrs. Martin. Like over 7,200 other Canadians, the Martins pay $16 monthly toward their Foster Child's support, and will correspond regularly with the child with translations both ways supplied by the Plan. Nerida lives with 8 relatives in a crowded hut of woven reeds with earthen floor. She is one of hundreds in this tragically neglected area for whom the Plan hopes to find Foster Parents.

JESSIE JAMES WAS A "SISSY" COMPARED FIRE PREVENTION

Fire Chief McLachlan great supporter of fire prevention

Summerland Fire Chief Joe McLachlan takes fire prevention seriously. This being Fire Prevention week, he released this statement for the press: "I am happy with the year's operation and I feel it is related to the efforts made during Fire Prevention Week, not only locally but throughout the country.

"It is my hope that people will consider every week Fire Prevention Week, but when there is one week designated, it keeps the ball rolling."

The Fire Chief offers a few tips regarding fire safety:

Sound an alarm in case of fire. Call the Fire Department. Don't take it for granted somebody has acted. It takes only a few minutes for a minor fire to become a big one. Analysis of 1965 large loss fires in North America, shows that discovery was prompt in only a third of the outbreaks.

He said, water is still the best means for extinguishing most fires, but you should remember that water is useless in, say, an oil fire — it only spreads the burning oil so fire extinguishers should be available.

Read the directions on fire extinguishers where you work. Too often, people do not know how to operate their extinguishers. You may never know when yours will be the responsibility of action in emergency. You may be the means of preventing a small fire from becoming a big one.

Because three-quarters of all fires happen in the home, and because the basic hazards are quite simple (over-fusing, frayed wiring, faulty heaters, rubbish and the like) their elimination will go a long way in prevention. "Check these hazards yourself. Or call the de-

Fire prevention keeps home safe

Your fire department urges that you take time this week to think about fire prevention.

Dispose of combustible trash, like old newspapers, on which fires feed.

And keep your electrical appliances in good repair.

They remind you that every fifth fire is caused by matches and smoking and another one out of every five fires is caused by misuse of electricity or faulty electrical equipment.

"Fighting a fire is serious business," says Fire Chief Joe McLachlan. "Fire fighting is dangerous. Firemen are experts at fire fighting and every day they willingly risk their lives in their regular work."

But firemen also stress the importance of fire prevention work.

"Remember, this: A fireman would rather spend his time teaching fire prevention and inspecting property than riding a truck to a fire. You can help protect your property from the hazard of fire by using care at those points where fires frequently start."

Fire threatens hardware store

A fire that could have well got out of hand started in Summerland Hardware Sunday afternoon.

R. Randall, owner, and son Dick were doing some cleaning up.

They were burning paper excelsior packing in their trash burner located near the back door in the store. When Dick opened the cover to pour more in, a small explosion took place scattering burning paper in the immediate area.

The Fire Department were called but they had it out when they arrived. There was smoke damage and one wall was slightly burned.

Mr. Randall said he was just about to give up at one time.

TO WHAT FIRE STEALS FROM YOU WEEK OCTOBER 9 to 15

Dr. Ian McTaggart-Cowan recently met with members of the Okanagan-Similkameen Parks Society, toured the site of the winter range of the herd of California Big Horn Sheep near Vaseaux Lake, and complimented the Society on their recent agreement to purchase 500 acres of the winter range. Shown overlooking part of the range are Joe Smith, of the Southern Okanagan Sportsmen's Association; Mrs. Taggart-Cowan; and Frank Paul, North Okanagan Naturalist Club, Vernon.

Blood clinic here Oct. 21

There is a great need for new blood donors at Red Cross clinics. Thousands of faithful men and women volunteers who have been donating their blood since the inception of Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service in 1947 have now reached the age of 65 years when they can no longer give. Also, in the rapid growth of British Columbia there is a larger transient population and it becomes more difficult to keep track of such donors for telephone and mailed reminders of clinic dates.

There is also an increasing need for more blood and blood derivatives as population increases, new techniques in surgery are developed and traffic accident rates are growing as more cars use the highways.

It now takes 1600 British Columbian blood donors every week to meet the hospital needs of the province. These are the men and women who step forward voluntarily to give the gift of life. They are the persons who share their good health with unknown patients, many of whom would die without their generosity. However, with increasing calls on the Red Cross Blood Bank these regular volunteer donors need the support of new donors to keep pace with the demands.

To give blood takes but a brief half-hour and all healthy persons from 18 to 65 years can participate in this life-giving service.

There is no charge for the blood needed for transfusion therapy and there is no demand for replacement. The gift of blood given at a Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic is distributed at no cost to the patient.

Last year the 75,600 free bottles of blood issued in British Columbia were a direct saving to the recipient of more than three million dollars.

There will be a blood donor clinic in Summerland Friday, Oct. 21 at the United Church Hall, sponsored by the Summerland Kiwanis.

Employers asked to co-operate In drive to eliminate overtime

The Honourable Leslie R. Peterson, Minister of Labour, issued the following announcement dealing with Overtime Permits and hours of labour:

"In order to expedite the completion of certain projects essential to the industrial and economic well-being of this province, the Board of Industrial Relations has allowed some employees to work overtime. As we are aware, the high level of economic activity prevailing in British Columbia has created a situation whereby the demand for labour exceeded the available supply for almost every type of occupation. Through the granting of Overtime Permits the strain on the labour force has been to some extent lessened and this policy has as well facilitated general growth and prosperity in British Columbia.

While the rapidly growing labour force of British Columbia has found employment in recent years, there are certain economic factors now at work which could alter this favourable trend. In an attempt to slow down an overheated economy, both in Canada and the United States, and with the resulting pressures on prices, a "tight money" policy is now in effect. This condition has already adversely affected some of British Columbia's major industries. It is, therefore, quite possible that the favourable employment picture experienced in recent years could deteriorate as a result of the present monetary policies. There is, as well, a normal seasonal increase in unemployment during the winter months of the year. We are all aware of the seriousness of unemployment,

Fire prevention a job for stores

Retail stores along the Main Streets of Canada are urged by the Canadian Underwriters' Association to observe Fire Prevention Week by making a check of their establishments for any possible fire hazards.

They were urged to check these points:

- Make sure, when goods are unpacked, that packing cases are disposed of immediately. Corrugated paper cartons and cardboard boxes are combustibles on which fire feeds.

- When unpacking merchandise for display on counters or shelves, be sure workmen do not block aisles with boxes or push trucks.

- Check all exits and make sure they are clearly marked with exit signs. Also make sure all doors may be opened from the inside quickly in case a fire starts and customers have to flee. Panic lock doors are recommended for retail establishments.

- Check fire extinguishers and make sure they are in working order. If your extinguishers are of the type that must be refilled periodically, make sure they are serviced on time.

- When decorating windows or display shelves, use care with electric lights. A hot bulb or faulty socket can start a fire if it comes in contact with highly flammable materials.

- Make sure all employees know how to call the fire department, both by phone and by fire alarm box. If an employee is dispatched to send an alarm from a fire box he should be instructed to stay by the box until the fire department arrives so that he can tell firemen where the fire is.

Tell baby sitter what to do if there is a fire

If you employ a baby sitter to watch over your children when you and your husband are away for an afternoon or evening, choose a baby sitter competent and qualified for the job.

Choose a baby sitter whom you know, one that has a sense of responsibility and likes children.

Have the sitter meet the children before you leave, so they will become accustomed to her. Introduce the sitter to any pets you may have, particularly the family dog.

Give the baby sitter a card with the telephone number of where you can be reached, the numbers of the fire and police departments, and of your family doctor.

Show the sitter all the exits from the house or apartment and provide her with a flashlight to be used in case the lights go out. Explain to the sitter that in the event of fire, she should get the children out of the house, then call the fire department, preferably from a neighbor's house. Then after she has done these things, she may notify you. Remind her that no one should re-enter a burning building.

Tell the sitter the time when you expect to return. Be sure to telephone her if you are unavoidably delayed.

Outdoor groups announce trip to range of Bighorn Sheep

A field trip to visit the rangeland of the rare California Bighorn Sheep near Vaseaux Lake will be held on Sunday, October 16. Meeting times for all Taxidermy Shop on Highway 97 south of Vaseaux Lake.

Access to the rangeland is easy, and only comfortable walking shoes are needed. Those joining the special trip are urged to bring their cameras, for the area includes some of the most spectacular scenery in Canada. Visitors will see part of the magnificent McIntyre Canyon.

The trip is sponsored by the Okanagan Similkameen Parks Society and the B. C. Nature Council. The Parks Society represents many of the outdoor groups of the southern Interior, which are joining forces to protect the rangeland of the California Bighorn Sheep near Vaseaux Lake. The Vaseaux Lake band of Bighorns is unique in all of British Columbia in that the sheep are often seen by travellers using busy Highway 97.

Visitors from many parts of British Columbia are expected to join the trip to the Bighorn rangeland. Further information on the trip may be obtained from the Okanagan Similkameen Parks Society, Box 787, Summerland.

Your Fire Department urges you to Check for Fire Hazards In your Home Today!

Don't wait until after the fire to check fire hazards in your home.

Are attic, basement, closets and garage free of clutter and rubbish? Are furnaces and stoves in good repair and placed well away from combustible walls and ceilings? Are frayed electrical cords replaced promptly? Are gasoline and other flammable liquids stored safely?

These are some of the questions you should ask yourself.

If a fire strikes your home, in what room will it start? The National Fire Protection Association says the most likely place is either the kitchen or living room, where one out of every two fires start. Bedrooms and basements are the next most likely starting places.

This is FIRE PREVENTION WEEK and a good time to check ALL the rooms in your home for fire hazards.

Bull sale October 26 at Okanagan Falls

The third annual sale sponsored by the B.C. Southern Interior Hereford Club will be held in Okanagan Falls on Wednesday, October 26th. The bulls, twenty-seven top registered heifers, and approximately fifty good replacement commercial heifers.

The B.C. Southern Interior Hereford Club is a comparatively new organization, formed with the purpose of encouraging the raising of good Hereford cattle in the Southern Interior of British Columbia; and of promoting field days, auction sales, judging events, and other functions considered beneficial to members and the promotion of the Hereford breed.

Field days have proven their worth, giving the ranchers an opportunity to visit with neighbours, to exchange ideas and to match their judging ability of stock. Two very interesting field days have been held at Sellers Cross L Ranch in Princeton, and this year, the field day at Rogers' Shingle Creek Ranch, Penticton, was enjoyed by the members of the B.C. Hereford Association.

A club member noted that "in promoting a local auction sale of registered Herefords, it was felt we were rendering a needed service to many ranchers in the area. It gives them the opportunity of acquiring top animals, in good show condition. The response to the first two sales has been very good, and members are anxious to make and maintain a reputation for sale of quality animals.

This year, as a special feature, there will be a competition for the top pair of registered yearling heifers entered in the sale. McCabe Grain Company, Edmonton, Alta., are putting up a trophy for this event. Judging of this class will begin at 10:00 a.m. Oct. 26. This competition is stimulating a lot of interest, and will also afford any one interested in starting in registered stock, or in adding to their present herd, the opportunity of buying top quality foundation stock.

Allan Stoolkey, well known auctioneer from Okanagan, Washington, will get the sale underway at 11 a.m. With a heated pavilion, lunch available, and top quality stock on offer, Okanagan Falls sales ring, will be a fascinating spot on Oct. 26.

Not too many years ago, a scene such as this would not merit a picture, but it is rare we have visitors to Summerland travelling in a hay rack. They are Mr. and Mrs. Wm.

A mixed pairs golf tournament is slated for the Summerland Golf and Country Club on Sunday. To date 38 have been signed. This will be followed by a buffet lunch.

George Taylor, a south-paw will be gunning for his third trophy of the year on Oct. 25th when the lefties compete. He will be the boy the golfers will be after.

George Henry, a big winner and a left hander will be a guest of the club that day so he and the other 11 or so could make things tough for the champ. See you at the golf course.

Here are Summerland and Penticton students from the Happyvale School boarding the bus for home Monday. The Summerland Handicapped Association are launching a drive for funds this week. Money received will all go towards the operation and maintenance of this bus, supplied by Women's organizations of Penticton.

Each school day the Happyvale School Bus calls for children and young people to take them from their homes to Penticton and return in order to permit them to attend the Happyvale School and Workshop. Because this transportation is provided, Summerland has the advantage of a school for the Retarded without the necessity and expense of having a school in this Municipality.

Contract for garbage pick-up considered by council

Poppy Day scheduled for Nov. 5

A navy Veteran, Ernest Atkinson, Summerland, was inducted as a new member of the Summerland branch of the Royal Canadian Legion at their regular meeting last week.

Poppy Day this year will be on Saturday November 5th Legion Auxiliary members will make them available for sale on the streets in Summerland, and 19 legion members, with cars will provide transportation for Summerland Scouts and Guides, who will make a door to door canvass.

It was announced the ladies Auxiliary will assist the men in furnishing a hospital ward in the new hospital. A donation of $10.00 will be made to the Canadian National Institute for the blind.

Stop when school bus flashes lights

According to the office of the Summerland School District, school bus drivers are still having trouble with motorists not stopping when they are letting off or picking up children.

The drivers are instructed to take the license numbers of the offenders, and in the past, the RCMP were issuing warnings, but those days are apparently gone.

"When you see flashing red lamps on school buses, there is an obligation upon you," the October Motor Vehicle branch bulletin said. "You must stop your vehicle and not proceed until the lamps cease flashing. The obligation is the same whether you approach the school bus from the rear or from the front of the bus."

The bulletin warns the police departments throughout the province are closely watching to be sure that this law receives full adherence from motorists. The law is designed to protect children who are getting into or disembarking from school buses and, in some instances, to permit the children to cross the road whilst the school bus remains stopped.

Alberta truck driver dies in flaming wreckage

An Alberta man died in the flaming wreckage of a five-ton flat deck truck Saturday afternoon near Peachland.

Donald Norman Dayton, 28, of Hanna, Alta., was dead on removal from the cab of the truck which overturned and dropped 30 feet onto an embankment on Princeton Ave. near the Maple Springs Baptist Camp.

RCMP said it looked as if the truck had travelled along the left hand bank of the road then turned onto its side, falling down the embankment after travelling another several yards. It burst into flames at the bottom of the fall.

Donald Arthur Benson of Kelowna arrived on the scene shortly after and attempted to remove the truck driver from the vehicle, but gave up after being burned on the hands. He was taken to Kelowna hospital and treated.

Dayton leaves a wife and two children in Hanna. He had been working for a Calgary drilling company and had been in the Okanagan a few days according to police.

No injuries in two-car collision

Two cars collided two miles west of Summerland Oct. 11 at 10:50 a.m.

James Sheppard, Summerland was proceeding towards town and Wm. John Murray of Kelowna away from town on the Agur Road.

They met on a sharp blind corner and the two left front ends of the cars collided.

Damages to the vehicles was estimated at $225. There were no injuries and RCMP contemplate no charges will be laid.

Under The Giant's Head

By KEITH BERGH
If Bill and Bob Barkwill thought they were going to get in a good afternoon's work on Wednesday last week, their plans went all whacky when I walked in.

I was in time for their coffee break when Mrs. Edith Elliott was honored by management and staff on the occasion of her retirement after working with the Barkwills for 17 years. Bob pours a fine cup of coffee, and the cake was delicious.

Bill made the mistake of asking me if I would like to look around. He gave me the royal that isn't a product plug tour, explaining each detail of their pear canning process.

To a Prairie dog like me who has always thought, "so it's a can of fruit — so what". Not quite so easy.

Readers of this would only be bored with a word description of the process, but it brought one thing to mind very forcible. The process is very ingenious — and yet as a result of years of research the process is the last thing in simplicity. Intricate timing, exacting in procedure, yet when explained and demonstrated, very easy to understand how it works.

I got the full treatment, Bill and I both got wet when he showed me how the peeler works. They have come a long way since their first little cannery in the early forties.

We have moved again. It was no easier than any of the other seven times since we eloped —

The Woodhead subdivision was authorized at the regular meeting of the Summerland Council Tuesday after information was supplied by Works Superintendent Ingham regarding costs of utilities and moving the irrigation flume.

Mr. Howard Pruden Realtor attended council on behalf of Mrs. Woodhead.

It will be subdivided in two stages, the first of which will face Prairie Valley and Victoria Roads.

The cost to the municipality for utilities etc. for this was estimated to be $2,815, but when the balance is subdivided the total swells to $10,640 because roads, power lines and water services will have to be installed. For stage one, the lines are already available only to be dug in to the property. The later stage will include burying the flume and a culvert under a road running over a creek. The cost will be borne by the developer.

Councillor Barkwill said the former Assistant District Planner, Dave MacDonald was appointed District Planner at the last meeting of the Regional District executive.

He said it was suggested an effort be made to encourage representatives of the Regional District to serve on hospital boards.

A letter of thanks will be sent to retiring representative on the Okanagan Control Committee, Scottie Ritchie for his work with that organization. Walter Powell was appointed this year. These members are to be members of municipal councils.

A letter from the provincial fish and game department stated they were prepared to spend the money necessary to convert the domestic water system in Summerland Lakeshore and wished to have further discussion on the plan towards the end of Oct. They stated they are prepared to spend the money during 1967-68.

A letter of thanks was received from the Summerland Chamber of Commerce in recognition for the lighting of the bridge on Highway 97 in Trout Creek. A similar letter will be sent to the Dept. of Highways by the chamber who likewise co-operated.

They decided to go ahead with the survey to widen and improve Front Bench Rd. The survey will proceed as soon as possible and negotiations will continue until the end of the year. At that time Superintendent Blagborne will have a cost estimate of the job, to be included in the 1967 budget.

The drafting of a garbage pick-up by-law was brought up by Councillor Schaeffer. This was discussed some months ago.

It is proposed it be put to a vote to see if people wish the charges be paid by the municipality and in turn charged to the residents on a regular basis rather than each resident paying for pick-up under private arrangement.

There have been complaints where some have their garbage picked up while others do not, causing inconvenience and odors.

Schaeffer was wondering if the vote could be taken at the same time as the December elections.

It was the general feeling that only the more populated areas would be included and boundaries would have to be determined. This would require more office work than could be done before the election.

A study will be made of this and a request for sample by-laws will be made from other municipalities who contract garbage pick-up.

Schaeffer also suggested burning of refuse in barrels in back alleys be stopped. "We are large enough so we don't have to and old enough that we shouldn't" he said.

As a result of a request from council, the Summerland Planning Commission made a study of sanitary facilities in homes.

They came in with a recommendation that sanitary facilities should not be allowed in non-conforming dwellings.

Council felt this was too general, and threw it back in their laps.

Reeve-Holmes said he didn't see how council could stop people from putting sanitary facilities in any home. "How can we tell anyone you can't put in a bathroom?"

Councillor Hill, Planning Commissioner, said they were making an effort to keep those converting picking cabins and poor buildings into structures they could rent out.

What brought the problem on the table was one resident (not named) who has installed a toilet "in a bedroom that was no larger than an average bathroom."

Some suggested an addition to the building should be insisted on, it was also suggested, in heated debate, to put sanitary facilities in wherever there is room but was decided to turn it back to the planning commission and have them suggest requirements and conditions.

Fund drive on for Happyvale bus

Each school day the Happyvale School Bus calls for children and young people to take them from their homes to Penticton and return in order to permit them to attend the Happyvale School and Workshop. Because this transportation is provided, Summerland has the advantage of a school for the Retarded without the necessity and expense of having a school in this Municipality.

Mr. J. Leslie Gould is the experienced driver in charge of the bus which is daily filled to capacity as this year has seen an increase in attendance of both the Happyvale School and workshop.

Summerland residents, for some years now have contributed to an annual campaign to help meet the cost of bus transportation from this district to Penticton.

"The retarded children of our community need your support. Your help in the past has been appreciated and is still required." This statement is made in the annual letter being mailed to Summerland residents which points out that all proceeds from this appeal will go directly to help local children attend the Happyvale School and Workshop.

The appeal is a Summerland project to enable our community to help meet the cost of transportation and is evidence of a co-operative arrangement with the Penticton Chapter of the Association for Retarded Children. Funds from school grants from both districts 77 and 15 as well as voluntary giving from Penticton groups and individuals do not cover the cost of transportation, therefore a campaign for this purpose is required.

Price of liquor increases for pair

Douglas A. Wade of Westbank and Donald Rejelech of Summerland appeared before Magistrate Johnston, Oct. 18th on charges of being minors in possession of liquor.

Wade was apprehended in Peachland Oct. 8 and Rejelech on Aug. 20 in Summerland.

Both Wade and Rejelech were fined $50 each.

Guides and Brownies to hold banquet - tea

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Summerland Brownies and Girl Guides held their Fall meeting Tuesday, Oct. 11.

Mrs. M. Laidlaw, Commissioner presented her report on the activities of local Guiding for the past year.

The executive and workers for the new year were nominated and filled.

Plans for the annual banquet and Spring Tea were discussed.

It is hoped that these events will be well supported as they are important occurrences in the lives of the Brownies and Guides.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivor Nilson, who have been living in White Rock have returned to Summerland to reside.

Ian Tait was home for the weekend from Wenatchee where he is attending college.

Eight hundred visit Secondary school Mon.

Summerland Secondary School Principal John Tamblyn, estimated 800 people turned out for the Open House on Monday night.

The tour was indicated by arrows numbering sections of areas from 1 to 13. Most people took from an hour to an hour and a half to make the route before sitting down to a cup of coffee or tea and cookies prepared and served by the Home Economics students in the auditorium.

Students were at work in various sections including physics, chemistry, industrial arts, typing, business machines, drama guidance, physical and health recreation.

The business machines room was an attraction, especially for those who work in offices. There were adding machines, calculators, bookkeeping machines and transcription equipment.

Men were intrigued with the mechanical department and woodwork construction.

Woodwork construction provides for instruction in use of woodworking hand tools and machines in furniture construction and design, cabinet making, and building construction. The equipment provides for a wide range of milling operations. A vacuum collection system, laid under the floor, provides for the collection of sawdust and shavings from most machines, minimizing dust problems in the shop. An adjoining upstairs area provides dust-free finishing facilities, and a convenient instruction and projection room.

The metalwork mechanics area provides for instruction in shop practice with equipment for foundry, welding, lathe work, etc. and instruction in mechanics.

The new west wing housing the team teaching area drew much interest.

Movable walls, provide rooms of various sizes to allow a greater flexibility in student grouping.

The number of students in any group depends on the circumstances. For instance, in the Grade 9 team teaching program, groupings of 107, 55, 25, and about 10 students respectively are being used for a variety of purposes.

By breaking the large groups into smaller sections, students with similar interests and abilities can be grouped for enrichment or review in a way not previously possible.

A textiles room is equipped with cutting tables, automatic sewing machines and pressing boards. Students make new clothes and renovate old and make their own basic patterns.

Many spent more time than usual at the foods room, the new Home Ec. Lab.

Studies of foods and nutrients are being conducted as well as practical work including home canning. It is equipped with modern kitchen appliances.

Many spent a few minutes to watch continual volleyball in the gym with mixed groups competing. Physical education is taught by a team of four teachers providing a wide choice for the 80 students in the class.

Throughout the evening the Senior Band was rehearsing on the stage. One quarter of the secondary students are in the band program.

Much art was on display and the 3,000 book library created much interest.

This is the first time many have had the opportunity to see the new addition. All comments this reporter heard were very favorable.

ORCHARD RUN By Wally Smith

Thoughts While Picking Apples

Here we are on the home stretch in the harvest race. We seem to be harvesting all summer long. First it's cherries, then apricots, followed by peaches, pears, more peaches, prunes, and finally the several varieties of apples ending with Winesaps.

Picking Winesaps late in October can be a disagreeable and discouraging job. I remember a fall 'way back in the mid-thirties . . .

These apples are darned tight on the tree and I can't make fast time. Have to be careful not to break off too many spurs. A couple of frosty nights might loosen up the apples.

What was I . . . ? Oh, yes . . . 'way back about 1935 or 1936 the thermometer dropped to the neighborhood of 16 degrees late in October.

Many growers were caught with fruit still on the trees or boxed fruit still in the orchard. Losses from frost were heavy. Could happen again.

After bringing the crop along to maturity must decide whether to play it safe and get the crop off at the earliest possible date, or take further chances on freezing and water core in the hope of getting more color and better grades from the crop.

Well, there's another binful; takes a lot of these small apples to fill up a bin.

Glad I don't have to climb up and down a ladder a n y more. The old legs couldn't take it. This Kangaroo hydraulic lift is a great boon to we older growers. Don't know what I'd do without it. Sell the farm, I guess.

Just look at that! Miserable little apples right alongside fruit of normal size. Frost last spring following the big December freeze in 1964 left many apple trees hurting all over. Must have upset the growth habits of many fruit blossoms.

Looks as though the P. G. E. rail strike is about to be settled—on the terms offered the workers a couple of weeks ago. I suppose the postmen are next to walk out.

Wouldn't it be an interesting situation if the farmers union staged a Dominion-wide strike for higher meat, grain, a n d produce prices, and set up picket lines to prevent the importation of food. Of course we'd expect our picket lines to be honored by other unions.

The farmers would be denounced as cruel, heartless, and wicked; there would be shrill demands that the government must not allow such a strike; it's extortion; it's blackmail.

Well, maybe. Depends upon where you are sitting. But after all, the strike is our only weapon. Take it away a n d where does that leave us?

Didn't realize these trees were so hard to get into. Pruned them last winter, too — or did I? Can't tell for sure by looking at them. I wonder would it be a g o o d idea to s p r a y them with that B-9 growth retardant?

Well, this bin is just about full. It's slow work at best because up to this date nothing has been devised to replace the human hand in the harvesting of apples.

The fruit can be removed mechanically — by shaking it off, but this results in too much bruising for the fresh market. Maybe some day we'll have a good picking machine. Yes, maybe, but right now I'd better keep reaching for those apples or I'll be caught with my bins empty.

B.C. Tree Fruits warns of use of poisons

B.C. tree fruit industry officials in Kelowna this week said, "the wide publicity afforded the unfortunate experience of an Edmonton doctor who suffered ill effects after eating fruit which had erroneously been sprayed by a rat poison, should alert the public to the need for most careful checking before using a n y spray materials, particularly where exposure to human beings or animals is probable."

Traces of Thallium w e r e found during tests on the doctor, a n d Kenneth Williams, head chemist of the Fruit Insects laboratory at the Federal Government Research Station at Summerland, states, "It is a highly dangerous poison, and in the United States and Canada there are strict controls on its use and sale, and it has never been recommended for use on fruit trees in the Okanagan."

In Canada and the U. S. A. strict regulations govern the amount of any toxic chemical that may be present on farm produce at harvest time. A further safeguard for the public health is the constant checking of agricultural products for excessive residues by the Food and Drug Directorate.

Commercially grown tree fruits from the Okanagan are also subjected to rigid industry inspection and quality control programs, say industry officials, and only tested and government approved sprays a r e listed in t h e recommended spray calendar issued annually.

Special freshmen at University

UBC's freshmen are all "special", but there is one group among them that is a little more special than the others. These are the Northern MacKenzie Alumni Regional Scholarship winners.

For a number of years now the Alumni Association of the University of British Columbia has given scholarships to freshmen at UBC, whether entering from Grade 12 or Grade 13. A scholarship is granted in each provincial electoral constituency, thus ensuring that every part of the province is represented. The value has been raised from time to time and now stands at $350, a total of $14,700. The money is allocated from Alumni Annual Giving, which is a program shared in by alumni of UBC all over the world.

It is hope that next year the number of scholarships can be raised to allow for the increased number of electoral constituencies under redistribution.

Winners from South Okanagan were Margaret MacNeill, Peachland and Richard Johnston, Summerland.

The winner of a Norman MacKenzie Alumni Scholarship—so named to honour President Emeritus, now Senator, N.A.M. MacKenzie—is a boy or girl with a h i g h academic standing and a good record for citizenship and character. A local committee of alumni in each riding screens the applications, and makes recommendations to Dean Walter Gage, Chairman of the South Okanagan screening committee is Mrs. J. C. Wilson, Summerland.

Valley teachers meet Saturday in Kelowna

Teachers in the 1200-member Okanagan Valley Teachers' Association will meet in Kelowna on Saturday, Oct. 22 for the annual general meeting of their association.

Retiring president, J o h n Tamblin of Summerland reports the meeting, to be held in Kelowna Secondary School Auditorium, will consider several important resolutions to be submitted to the provincial teachers' convention at Easter. Among these a r e resolutions on teachers' pensions and educational research.

George Rands of Enderby is the nominee for president and for vice-president the nominee is Murray Joyce of Kelowna.

Teachers attend from Revelstoke on the north to Osoyoos on the south. Following t h e general meeting, a meeting of the new executive will be held. Of interest this year is the fact that the valley teachers' group has now passed the 1200 mark in membership. Actual count has 1207 certified teachers in the schools of the eleven schools districts making up the OVTA.

This meeting of teachers is a one-day affair and will be held on Saturday only. There are no sessions on Friday.

Summerland Kiwanis to sponsor Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic

The Summerland Kiwanis Club will again sponsor the Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic this year, on Friday, October 21. (Tomorrow).

Jerry Hallquist, Lockie McKilligan and Walter Toevs are co-chairmen in charge.

Hallquist said they have been slipping in numbers of donors in past years because many of our senior citizens who have been so faithful for many years have reached the maximum age of 65 and the drop-outs have exceeded the new donors.

New donors wishing to register may do so at the clinic or at the 5c to $1.00 Store. It is hoped many new faces will be seen at this clinic.

The age scope is 18 to 65 years.

The Red Cross, with the assistance of local volunteer nurses and assistants will again set up in the United Church Hall and will take donors from

Summerland Review — 3

Much help . . . little effort

Summerland citizens will have an opportunity Friday to give something that costs nothing yet you will be able to assist in saving Canadians' lives by giving at the Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic in the United Church Hall.

The Summerland Kiwanis Club are the sponsors of the clinic, and publicity chairman Jerry Hallquist said new donors are needed. He says many of the old faithfuls have reached the maximum age and there are not those coming forward to fill the bottles with younger blood. When an individual loses great quantities of his own blood through an injury or surgery, transfusion of whole blood or blood products is the only answer.

Last year in Canada, one person in sixty-six needed a transfusion of two or more units of whole blood. One person in 427 needed a transfusion of blood products. These needs were met because people like those who attended the Summerland clinic last year voluntarily donated their blood. Through the Red Cross, blood is available free of charge to anyone in hospital who needs it. Because it is free, sick and injured Canadians saved more than twenty five million dollars last year.

The money saving angle, however, is not the most important part of the Red Cross free Blood Transfusion Service. What is important is that through this service, an individual's right to life can be preserved by his fellow man. This is the most basic of all human rights, and in order for it to survive, all people must work to uphold it no matter what the cost.

It is not possible for everyone to enter the medical profession and allied sciences in order to help preserve human life directly, but it is possible for healthy individuals to help the medical profession in its great task. That help can be given by donating blood tomorrow, Friday, October 21, at the United Church Hall. It is one of the best ways for us to help maintain man's most basic right; his right to live.

For your convenience the clinic will be open from 1:30 to 4:30 in the afternoon and from 6:30 to 9:30 in the evening. Give the gift of life. GIVE BLOOD.

Be seen Be sure Be safe

is the slogan for this year's B.C. Wildlife Federation Hunter Safety Campaign, President Jim Murray announced in Vancouver last week. Each year, says Mr. Murray, half a dozen hunters are killed and others are injured because they fail to observe this simple message.

BE SEEN. Every hunter who goes into the bush, particularly during the peak hunting pressure period from now until early December, and in heavily hunted areas, should wear some item of fluorescent red or orange clothing. As our Federation has pointed out for some years now, animals just don't come in those colors.

BE SURE Be absolutely sure of your target before you shoot.

Be sure that your hunting equipment is in good condition and that you know how to use it.

Be sure that any young or inexperienced hunters that you know take an approved program of firearms safety training before they get hunting license. (The B.C. Wildlife Federation offers such training programs in most B.C. communities.)

Be sure that your family knows where you are going hunting so that if you do get lost a search can be started quickly.

Be sure that either through personal experience or through maps you know the area in which you are hunting.

Be sure that you are carrying basic survival items - waterproof matches, a small emergency food pack, an extra jacket, and a small plastic sheet - all of which could make the difference between survival or death on a few cool nights in the woods.

Be sure that if you realize that you are lost that you don't panic. If you are lost and someone knows where you are hunting, a search party will come looking for you. Don't wander around in circles. Light a fire and stay where you are. Things always look better in the morning and by then someone will be looking for you anyway.

Be sure that you carry some form of liability insurance. (this is available through your local fish and game club) for the safety and protection of your fellow sportsmen.

BE SEEN "This might seem a long list says Mr. Murray, "but if every hunter took the time and trouble to obey these simple safety rules we could eliminate many of the hunting accidents that now occur and make hunting a safer sport yet."

Summerland Review

Kelowna— As B.C.'s tree fruit industry approaches the height of its export season, a new method of cutting freight rates when shipping to certain export markets.

B.C. Tree Fruits Limited is the first company to avail itself of a new concept in freight rate rail charges available in the Pacific Northwest. Great Northern Railway has inaugurated facilities for shipping, based on a flatcar basis. This rate is quoted for the use of a flatcar irrespective of the amount of freight shipped. B.C. Tree Fruits Limited is availing itself of this new concept and rate structure by shipping two 40-ft. refrigerated truck trailers to New Orleans.

The shipment is the first to be routed by this method from Oroville Washington, to New Orleans, and expensive arrangements were needed to establish routing to the U.S. Southeastern seaport. The overland rail journey is estimated at approximately 3,500 miles. Eventual destination for the two - trailer shipment of B.C. apples is Laguaira, Venezuela.

Report From Parliament Hill

By DAVID PUGH, M.P., for Okanagan-Boundary

Press Gallery predictions of squabbling hasn't materialized

Parliament has now resumed its interrupted session and it is generally expected that the program of work outlined by the Government will not be completed until just before Christmas.

The Parliamentary Press Gallery predicted trouble and were speculating and making dire predictions about what was going to take place when Parliament resumed sitting early this month. "The Munsinger case was going to explode again," and "the Government Party was going to be torn apart over the delay in the Medicare legislation" to mention only two. Life, however, is full of surprises, and neither of these predictions have taken place to date, nor, indeed, have most of the other prophecies. In fact, Parliament has been proceeding about its work in a rapid and businesslike manner.

The principal items of work for the remaining part of the session are the amendments to the Bank Act, Medicare, Unification of the Armed Forces, legislation concerning assistance for Storage and Transportation for Feed Grain, legislation respecting Broadcasting; amendments to the National Housing Act to increase the amount of money available for home building loans, plus a new provision for loans to improve existing homes, and the completion of approval of the Government's Spending Estimates. There are, of course, some other minor pieces of legislation of a routine nature.

At the moment the Federal Grain legislation has been completed and the very complex legislation concerning the Bank Act is presently being considered in great detail by the Banking and Commerce Committee.

The Medicare Bill will undoubtedly, cause some fireworks because of the Government's delay in implementing it.

JUNKYARD IN THE SKY

Sputnik I signalled the start of the space age in Oct. 1957. But by last week no fewer than 1,158 man-made objects were orbiting around the earth, sun and moon. In all 884 trackable pieces can be classified as space junk: burned-out rocket bodies, a glove that floated out of Gemini 4, camera lost by Gemini 10 astronauts, etc. More than half of the U.S. satellites are on military missions. Some use cameras to photograph military installations like China's atomic plants. There may be as many as 7,000 pieces of junk in orbit by the 1970s. Some scientific satellites will sail on for many thousands of years. —Newsweek.

Women make Various donations

A film showing the need for facilities for the handicapped in public buildings was featured at the regular meeting of the Women's Institute Friday-Afternoon.

Miss Joan Paulson, physio-therapist, was a guest and commended the members on their campaign to contact architects, contractors and others responsible for public buildings to make them more aware of the need for ramps, wide doors and other aids for those in wheel chairs, on crutches or otherwise handicapped. Roy Heinrichs was projectionist for the film "Sound the Trumpet".

During the business meeting the president, Mrs. Sandy Fenwick appointed a committee to make up the prize list for the Home Arts section of the Fall Fair for next year and to publicize the list early so the women may begin working on their entries.

Horticultural association hold sixth annual meeting at Kelowna

Delegates and members of garden clubs from Kamloops to the border attended the 6th annual Okanagan Valley Horticultural Association meeting held October 15 in the Kelowna Aquatic auditorium. Sponsored by Kelowna and District Garden Club, the gathering was presided over by vice-president A.M. Thompson of Westbank, who welcomed the 150 men and women who attended the day-long show.

Representatives from active clubs present came from Kamloops, Salmon Arm, Armstrong, Vernon and district, Kelowna and district, Summerland, Penticton and district and Oliver, all of whom enjoyed the five-minute talks given as follows: Mr. Grason, Kamloops, on the use of native trees in new gardens; Mrs. Ollie Kallio, Salmon Arm, on value of compost; Mrs. E. Lamoureux, Kelowna, on conservation of wildlife, with particular reference to Bighorn sheep. Bernard Morien, Kamloops Club chairman, also spoke, his subject being rock formations and the making of new gardens.

A centennial project will be included in plans for the 1967 convention, and further discussion resulted in the decision to choose a flower as an emblem for the Okanagan Valley, this to be adopted by the Society. The Iris was suggested as it does well in the area and also would interest many of the tourists who visited the valley in the early summer.

Mrs. Ernest Worman, Kelowna, showed a series of splendid garden slides. Penticton and district Garden Club took the trophy for the best display with 94 points — three representatives from other clubs were active as judges. Enjoying the 6 p.m. banquet were 76 delegates and visitors. Concern was expressed that invitations to press and council were ignored, and the sponsoring club felt the slight in that both council and press continually urge home-owners to beautify their town, particularly during the summer. Members were disappointed, especially as the largest majority of the 150 attending the sessions were from other districts than Kelowna.

Vonda Wade and James Parker exchange vows at Sum'land United

A beautiful candle light ceremony was performed in the Summerland United Church on September 24 when Vonda Mary, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wade became the bride of James Warren Parker, also of Summerland. Rev. P.K. Louie was the officiating clergyman and Miss Lorraine Parker, cousin of the groom sang during the signing of the register.

Large baskets of gladioli graced the altar in matching colours of mauve, purple and white.

Given in marriage by her father the lovely bride wore a full length empire style gown of nylon organza over taffeta featuring imported chantilly lace train and matching front panel of gown, her four tiered veil was held in place with a single gardenia. She carried a cascading bouquet of white chrysanthemums and carnations centred with a mauve orchid. The bride's only jewelry was a single strand of cultured pearls, a gift from the groom.

Attending the bride was her sister, Mrs. Don Cristante as matron-of-honour; Miss Donna Laidlaw, maid-of-honour and bridesmaids, Miss Joanne Campbell, Mrs. Vince Menelly and Mrs. Len Raynor. The Matron of-honour and Maid-of-honour were gowned in floor-length gowns in empire style of deep purple peau de soie with matching headdress and they carried cascading bouquets of white and purple chrysanthemums, the Bridesmaids wore matching light mauve peau de charm with matching headdress and carried similar bouquets. Their jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bride.

Vern DeWitt acted as best man and ushering duties were shared by Robert and Bryce Parker, brothers of the groom and Carlton Sheely and Chris Parker of Vancouver.

The bride's mother received the guests, at a reception held in the Glengary Room of the Prince Charles Motor Inn, in Penticton, wearing a deep rose dress with matching semi-coat and accessories, her corsage was of deep wine roses.

Mrs. Parker, mother of the groom chose a dress in light turquoise with matching accessories, her corsage was of pink roses.

The bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake nestled in white and silver tulle and topped with a musical bride and groom which played the wedding march while the cake was being cut.

The bride's nephew, Kirk Cristante was in charge of the guest book.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Gerry Laidlaw. Mr. Gordon Parker, uncle of the groom was master of ceremonies for the evening.

Before leaving on their honeymoon for Lake Tahoe and other southern points, the bride changed to a white ribbon knit dress with matching shoes and her corsage was a single purple orchid. The happy couple will reside in Summerland.

Out of town guests included friends and relatives from Kelowna, Penticton, Trail, Vernon, Osoyoos, Oliver, Vancouver and Montana.

October 20 is Credit Union Day

It was the first victory of the season, the first shutout for Gerry Marsh in the Summerland nets, and first goals scored in the season. They have now outscored their opponents 3-2 and have a record of one win, two losses and two ties. Their last game is a rescheduled one against Penticton at home.

The SR. GRASS HOCKEY team were shaded 1-0 Saturday while hosting Penticton to end their regular season with a record of two wins and two losses. They outscored their opponents 6-2 and are now waiting to see if they get in the playoffs.

During the game, Shelvey Ericson got a breakaway in the second half but was unable to tie up the game.

B.C. Telephone Co. offers to purchase Okanagan Tel

The British Columbia Telephone Company has offered to purchase all of the outstanding common shares of the Okanagan Telephone Company at a price of $27.30 per share.

This was announced by J. Ernest Richardson, president and chief executive officer of B.C. Telephone, who said formal offers were mailed Saturday, Oct. 15, to Okanagan Telephone shareholders.

He said he has been advised that the board of directors of the Okanagan Telephone Company supports the B. C. Telephone offer to Okanagan shareholders.

Okanagan Telephone has 472,966 common shares issued. If all shareholders accept the offer, the transaction would represent an investment by B. C. Telephone of nearly $13,000,000.

Mr. Richardson said the offer will expire on November 1, 1966.

He said the offer is conditional upon the approval of provincial and federal regulatory agencies. Approval of the Board of Transport Commissioners for Canada for the purchase of the Okanagan Telephone shares by B. C. Telephone, and approval of the Public Utilities Commission of British Columbia for the transfer of these shares on the books of Okanagan Telephone to B.C. Telephone.

Mr. Richardson said that there is no immediate intention to merge the corporate structures.

Okanagan Telephone provides service to Revelstoke, Salmon Arm, Vernon, Kelowna, Penticton and the areas surrounding these growing communities in British Columbia's Interior. At August 31, 1966, the company had 38,516 telephones in service.

B.C. Telephone serves the remainder of the province, with the exception of Prince Rupert, and at August 31, had 738,863 telephones in service.

In a statement accompanying the announcement of B.C. Telephone's offer to Okanagan Telephone shareholders, Mr. Richardson said:

"The Okanagan Telephone Company and the B. C. Telephone Company have worked effectively for many years to provide connecting communications between their two service areas.

"Today, with the rapid development of the interior of the province, it is evident that the planning for and the expansion of the more complex communications facilities of the future can be provided best, and most economically, across the whole province through integrated operations.

Phillip Keller urges action now to save Okanagan parklands

At a public meeting held on October 14 in the Peach Bowl, Penticton, a cheque for $500 was presented to the Okanagan Similkameen Parks Society toward its purchase of rangeland for the band of Calaveras Lake.

This generous gift was presented to Avery King, President of the Okanagan Similkameen Parks Society, by George Tanner of Oliver, on behalf of the Southern Okanagan Sportsmen's Association.

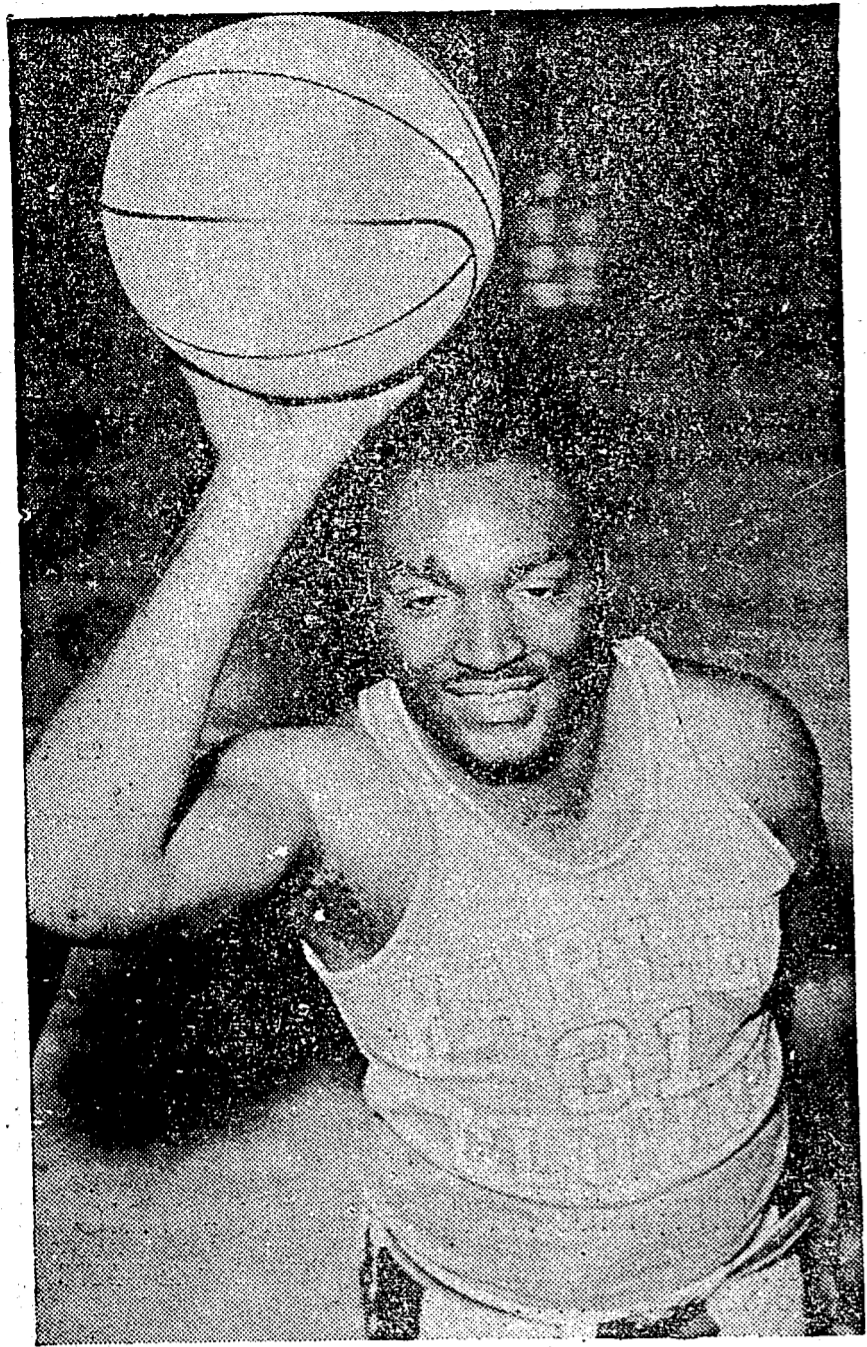

An audience of almost 300 persons from many parts of the Okanagan heard Phillip Keller, noted Canadian author and photographer, urge immediate action on parklands. "Twenty years from now," Mr. Keller stated, "your beautiful Okanagan Valley will be so crowded that our children and grandchildren will ache for a place with some solitude. Time is running out for us, but we can still save some of the masterworks of Nature in this part of British Columbia."

Mr. Keller praised the action of the Okanagan Similkameen Parks Society in starting work toward acquisition of rangeland essential to the survival of the band of Bighorn Sheep at Calaveras Lake. "This is no action foisted on you by a dictatorship, but the free will of people in a democracy," he added. "To win the battle for parklands will take courage, persistence, and determination — and I wish you well."

The speaker was introduced by John Woodworth of Kelowna, a director of the Okanagan Similkameen Parks Society. Joe Smith of Oliver, vice-president of the Society, gave a progress report on the work of the Society since its organization in May of this year. The address of the Okanagan Similkameen Parks Society is Box 787, Summerland.

Canadian Credit Unions now third largest lender

Current tight money conditions have resulted in a dramatic increase in credit union lendings in recent months, according to studies of B.C. Credit Union League and CUNA International is the world-wide association of credit unions.

Dr. Walter Polner, director of research and economics for CUNA International, has estimated that credit unions are now the third largest lender of consumer credit in Canada. Only the chartered banks and sales finance companies have more receivables outstanding.

This is a significantly altered picture of Canadian consumer credit patterns compared with 10 years ago when the sales finance companies led the field, followed by the chartered banks, small loan companies, department stores and then, in fifth place, credit unions.

Peachland subdividing continues at steady pace

By BRENDA DAVIES
PEACHLAND—Mr. R. Seed of Penticton attended council with surveyor's plans for subdividing the front eight lots of his Trepanier property. Also submitting plans, was C. O. Whinton. They consist of 25 half-acre lots taking in all the balance of his property. They were approved.

Councillor Beet reported on the Centennial Committee meeting. The project is going ahead with topsoil being dumped and levelling of site in progress.

Councillor Clements pointed out domestic water problems in the Trepanier sub-division, and suggested one pump could serve all new sub-divisions.

The District Engineers will be asked to make a survey of water supply on Shaw, Seed and Chippendale subdivisions.

Recreation Commission accounts of $68.80 were submitted and passed for payment.

Final revision of the budget was discussed and amendments approved.

Peachland will have a 10 pm curfew this year for all juveniles under 21 on Halloween.

Citizens are asked to patrol public buildings.

The Municipal office will be closed daily between 12:30 and 1:00 p.m.

Mr. Hayden, who resides along Highway 97, presented plans for the sub-division of his property into 3 lots rather than 2 as it is at present. Council approved plans in principle.

J. Satherwaite of Trepanier submitted plans for the subdivision of his property. Council approved them in principle subject to a 10 ft. strip being donated along his property. The 10 ft. had previously been donated by the owner of property on the other side of this narrow road. This will bring the road up to standard width.

P. Topham's survey's plan for a sub-division of one lot of his property on Ellison Ave. was approved.

Dr. A. J. de Boissiere, a new resident of Trepanier, requested permission to build an access road from Huston Road. Councillor Clements asked for a plan of the proposal and then will go and inspect the property. Mr. McCaull asked if he'd be allowed to build a culvert to divert water from the other side of the road to his property. Reeve Thwaite and Councillor Clements will inspect the property.

Mrs. J. K. Todd, librarian, will attend a one-day library seminar Oct 30 in Kelowna.

The Recreation Commission asked for permission to sponsor the old Baptist Church building for meetings and other town activities. Permission was granted provided the commission be responsible for the lighting, heating and janitor services.

Peachland Women's Institute told council they voted "no" on the proposed moving of the cenotaph from its present site.

Reeve Thwaite reported on a meeting with J. T. Garraway, L. Fleming, W. McKenzie and H. A. Grieson, land owners whose boundaries were affected during widening of Princeton Ave. They have agreed to accept the rate of 5 cents per sq. ft. for marginal footage on Princeton. Total footage to be purchased is 29,437 and will cost the municipality $1,471.95.

Silent Revolution

"Throughout the world for every one of the 24 hours a day 8,000 adults learn to read," Rev. J.A.R. Tingley of Vancouver stated when he visited Summerland last week to confirm arrangements for Bible Society Sunday here on October 23rd.

The vast increase in the number of people in the world who have learned to read was described by Mr. Tingley as "the silent revolution—perhaps the most important revolution of our times." It is estimated that due to new methods of teaching such vast numbers become literate that for each hour of the day some 8,000 adults learn to read.

One example of educational demands is seen in Hong Kong where although a new school is opened every ten days the great need to educate children is but very partially met. Tremendous population increases had brought a demand for more schools and reading material.

Mr. Tingley who is well known as British Columbia's indefatigable Bible Society secretary for the past 20 years maintains that the present situation "presents a challenge to make scriptures available. There is a great famine of scripture in the world." During his world tour, Mr. Tingley noted that in countries of the world where bibles are in short supply and the Bible Society is seeking help to get scriptures distributed, Communistic and salacious literature was in abundant supply and widely displayed.

"What people read is of vital importance for the future of the world," stressed Mr. Tingley.

The Archbishop of York refers to the "silent revolution" in giving aims of the United Bible Societies of which he is president: "We do not pursue the great tasks of Bible translation, production and distribution as an antidote to Communism, or to promote the British or American way of life. We pursue it because we believe a Word has come from God to man, a Word as up to date as tomorrow's newspaper, the only Word which assures people of God's love, of Christ's return."

Suburbs offer attractive living

The things people are looking for when settling in fringe communities of suburbs are accessibility, basic services such as water and sewers, paved roads, equitable municipal taxes and as many as possible of the amenities enjoyed by home owners in the longer established neighbourhoods. These include playgrounds, schools, shopping centres and parks. If the development is too scattered the cost of services can become excessive.

When the population is thinly spread the cost of installing sewers and water mains and storm drains to the new areas, building roads and erecting new schools is divided among fewer households. Revenue to pay for these and other services usually comes from municipal taxation. Caution also demands, when moving into a suburb being newly developed, the zoning regulations should be looked into carefully.

Some promising suburbs have been downgraded as a residential community by the presence of heavy industry moving into the area, a plant giving off objectionable fumes, noisy commercial centres or other adverse establishments. A well planned and attractively laid out shopping centre on the other hand can enhance the value of a residential area.

ditions and acceptable sanitary facilities.

A sub-division request from W. A. Pollock was turned down because the width of the lot did not conform to the by-law.

Wilks and McIntosh requested subdividing an area from three lots to two. This was approved.

Considerable time was devoted to the consideration of a new cemetery by-law, pertaining to the new cemetery on Canyon View Road.

Municipal Solicitor Frank Haar discussed this with council at length, and he will draft one suitable on recommendation by Council.

The new cemetery is named Canyon View Cemetery, on a motion by Hill and Schaeffer. It received unanimous agreement.

Night school starts Oct. 24

Various courses are being offered in Adult Night School again this year according to Director, W.R. Chalmers. They will take place in the Summerland Secondary School starting with painting Oct. 24, sewing on Nov. 1 and modern orchard practices Nov. 7. A complete schedule can be found in this issue.

Mr. C. Murray will be in charge of the painting classes. He teaches in Penticton schools. The basic procedure will be a workshop with individual instruction to enable beginners as well as the more advanced artists, to receive full advantage.

Mrs. Ken Blagborne, who has taken the sewing classes for a number of years has been engaged again. She will give

The Women's Institute here held a very successful variety sale and tea on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Caldwell have returned from a week's visit in Toronto.

Brenda manager confident - Definite announcement in February

A 150-ton-per-day pilot mill which serves as a research tool for the designing of the final 20,000-30,000 ton mill has been in operation at the Brenda minesite since September.

By BRENDA DAVIES

PEACHLAND—On invitation from mine officials to tour Brenda Mine recently were Reeve Thwaite and two councillors of the Peachland Municipality, chairman D.A.K. Folks and seven board members of School District 23, Mr. Orme, Superintendent of Schools, two trustees of the Peachland Irrigation District, J. Sheely, assessor for Peachland and Summerland; manager of the Westbank-Peachland branch of the Bank of Montreal, Peachland postmaster G. Barns and myself.

The group gathered in a cool though bright morning to start the hour-long drive to the mine. Welcoming the party upon arrival at the camp was mine manager Peter Stym and Brenda officials Jack Stulhers and Keith Douglas who were the group's guides for this fascinating trip.

First stop was a visit to the modern laboratory at the camp where all core samples are tested and the group was shown step by step process and evaluation of each separate sample is put too. Though rather on the technical side for the layman it was very interesting.

Next on the agenda was inspection of trailer bunkhouses which are modern and houses four men in self contained units two to a room with common washroom facilities. Heat is thermostatically controlled and each man being allotted a surprising amount of comforts, such as bed lamps, cupboard space and closets. To anyone who had the idea that men roughed it in mining camps this modern camp was an eye-opener.

After being split into two groups we were driven to the pit area which is about 16 acres at present. It has been completely cleared of all trees and vegetation, and is quite a sight, standing out starkly in the midst of the surrounding timber. The altitude at this area is 5400 ft. and after a short climb to the top of a small hill, Mr. Stym pointed out where the road to Peachland will be constructed, and informed us that the building of this road will start within a few weeks. Plans call for a 30 to 40 mile per hr. road which will cut present travel time to the mine in half.

He pointed out from the vantage point, was the probable site for the permanent mill, and tailings dump. Looking over the acres and acres of timber spread before us, one of the school board members was heard to remark "and we think we have problems".

Next stop for the party was the pilot mill, where we were taken through all stages of the operation from the raw ore transported on the conveyor belt, which feeds a crusher, to a separation of the minerals, and a froth floatation process, which separates the molybdenum from the copper. The final stage is the cleaning of the moly.

This research mill, which is at present running 24 hours a day is processing 4.2 tons of material per hour.

In one corner of the mill is a modern lab to take samples at regular intervals throughout the process. This mill is a miniature of the one which will be built, when and if the mine goes into full production.

This rotary percussion drill is carrying out fill-in drilling to establish definite tonnages and grades at Brenda Mines open pit area. To date 125 acres of land have been prepared for open pit mining.

A PICTURE STORY

Here is what the children of Summerland did for this Korean family last year by collecting $204.44 in their "Save the Children Fund" tins Halloween night. The top picture shows the house this father and three children live in now which may not be a palace by our standards, but to them it is, when one considers what the conditions were for them (see bottom picture) before the Summerland children stepped into the picture. The children will be around again this year with their "Save the Children Fund" tins and they would like to do this again for another Korean family—with your help.

Further study to be made on connecting two lakes

Councillor Jim Schaeffer represented Summerland at a meeting of the Okanagan Shuswap Canal Association in Vernon on Saturday where 45 members were present from Osoyoos to Kamloops. Chairman was Mayor Mercier of Vernon.

Mercier and a small executive have been probing the possibility of joining the two water systems with a canal for the past two years and have been working with provincial and federal departments in this regard.

Schaeffer said the purpose of the meeting was to have what the organization has done explained and to decide whether they should carry on with the study or let it drop.

He said the Water Resources Department has started a study of the possibilities of the connection and the results will be available this fall. It was the feeling of the meeting that no decision, pro or con, should be made until this report is complete.

Schaeffer said it is the plan of the Canal Association to form a committee embracing agriculture, tourism and municipal governments. Summerland will receive a request of representation, he said.

From this committee an executive will be formed and they will go from there.

Chamber President Eric Tait and vice-president Chas. Bernhardt who were also at the Vernon meeting agreed with Schaeffer that it was a project the Chambers of Commerce in the valley should take on.

In other council business on Tuesday night:

Councillor and finance chairman Doug Hill floored council when he said he made a motion to approve September accounts to the total of $525,404.70.

When the smoke cleared he explained $380,000 of this was going to the General Hospital and $45,000 representing the amount due the school district.

The Travelling Centennial Gavel will be in Summerland Monday night, April 17 and used at an official meeting of council. Council meetings fall on Tuesday so a special meeting will be called by the Reeve.

The gavel has been purchased by the B.C. Centennial Committee and will travel throughout the province as a tribute to British Columbia during the centennial year.

With the gavel will be a book which Reeve Holmes is to sign. The municipality was authorized by the Department of Welfare to pay the usual Christmas bonus to those on social assistance. It is $10 for the head of the head of the household plus 94 for each child.

The annual meeting of the Okanagan Watershed Pollution Control Council will be held in September high was 88 degrees

The highs and lows during the month of September were issued by the Summerland Research Station this week in their monthly Climatological Station Report.

The highest temperature was recorded on September 5th to be a balmy 88 degrees and the lowest reading was a not so balmy 40 degrees on the last day of the month.

The mean maximum was 72.23 and minimum 52.57 with an overall average of 62.40.

Chamber arranging tour of Brenda

The Summerland Chamber of Commerce executive held a meeting Friday night to discuss the possibility of working closer to officials of Brenda Mines Ltd. who have mining properties west of Peachland.

The result of the meeting was carried to the Summerland Council Tuesday night by president Eric Tait.

Tait said there are those who are quite confident there will be a mine operating there in the near future which could be a factor regarding the growth of Summerland.

He said he had learned that there will not be a company.

Under The Giant's Head

By KEITH BERGH

The BC. Safety Council says "There are two types of heads common at Halloween time; one is the Pumpkin Head, the other is your head. DON'T BE A PUMPKIN HEAD!"

October 31st, the night that all the little witches and goblins create a nightmare world, could possibly turn Halloween into a real nightmare if certain safety precautions are forgotten.

Use light colored flame resistant costumes on those little fellows who go from door to doors. They should not be too loose or too long or the wearer may trip. . . . Masks hamper vision — cosmetics are safer. Know where your goblin is going and for how long. And we can keep porch lights on to assist in lighting the streets to minimize the danger of accidents.

Pretty poor turnout at the Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic on Friday last. Out of a population of about 4,800 bodies in Summerland, only 186 pints of blood were taken. It seems impossible that so few would turn out. I find it difficult to believe all the stay-aways can say they didn't know about it. Summerland media gave it good publicity as well as on radio. The sponsoring group, Kiwanis, feel they should have got a phone committee working—and this could be so but I can't understand more not turning out for such a fine cause. . . . Mrs. Rox Chapman, local Red Cross president was very disappointed to say the least. There were only four new donors this year which isn't too proud a record either.

Mrs. Woodhead, I believe felt we did not make it clear last week that she, not the municipality would be responsible for the costs for service connections at her new subdivision. I also misunderstood the fact that the moving of the irrigation flume will be done in the first stage, not in the second.

The Gordon Edgelys are eating strawberries out of their garden. Gordon brought one in Friday that measured 2 inches across that he had picked that morning. Pretty good for October. He said his fall crop was not heavy but they are getting enough for a treat once in a while.

Peg and I will be in Vancouver taking in our first annual convention of the B.C. weeklies when this comes comes out. I don't imagine it will be much different than the many such get-togethers we attended in Alberta. . . . publishers have a chance to cry a bit on each other's shoulder over mutual problems. . . . they can brag about their hometowns — and we all come from the best town in the province. . . . and we might garner some good ideas of how we can improve our paper and do a better job for our readers.

Then there was the guy who crossed a bon constrictor with a Volkswagen. I don't know what he got — but boy is it hard to get parts.

I was invited to take in a Teen Town meeting Sunday evening and enjoyed it very much. A finer group you could not find anywhere. President or Mayor Dale Stevenson conducted this meeting like a pro. He had about forty members filling the living room at the Mel Hyde home and he kept control at all times.

This group has increased from just a handful last year to a membership total of over 45.

The so-called "do-gooders" who blast our teenagers at every turn should make it their business to find out what our leaders of the future are really like.

There was no evidence of the so-called "revolt" which many people are so willing to connect our teenage students with. They went about their business in a very democratic way over conscious of others.

They are going to sponsor their annual bottle drive Saturday, Nov. 5. They deserve our support. They have fun—yes—why not. But what is foremost in their minds is that they wish to make a contribution to society. They want to be part of the community—and to play a useful role, become useful citizens and shoulder responsibilities. This is no fly-by-night organization—it is an impressive one.

The members have many words of praise for their Adult Advisor, Mrs. Don Randall, who no doubt has had much to do with their huge increase in memberships this year.

SCAPEGOAT FOR PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT?

Regional Directors less than happy

Some of the directors of the Okanagan - Similkameen Regional District are beginning to suspect that the government, the Department of Municipal Affairs headed by Don Campbell in particular, has sold them a false bill of goods.

And some of the directors are becoming quite incensed by the fact that they have been deliberately misled by officials of the government.

My main beef at the present time," Osoyoos rural director Jack Hulton said, "is the statement made by Minister of Municipal Affairs Dan Campbell that no area may opt out on regional hospital financing.

"We were assured by Deputy Minister Brown that if any area did not wish to take part in a particular service undertaken by the Regional District the area would have the right to opt out. Now the Minister tells us that no area can opt out."

He went on to explain that Naramata had voted to opt out of the Regional District and added that they are now in whether they want it or not. "Where is all this going to stop?" he asked. At a Regional District meeting held in Osoyoos in August the directors were informed that the only method of hospital financing the minister would approve is the "umbrella-type" plan. In the June meeting in Oliver a Department of Municipal Affairs official had outlined three methods that could be used for hospital financing. "I guess we have autonomy in the Regional District as long as we do what we are told to do by the Government," A. C. Afflock, Koro-moos, said at the Osoyoos meeting.

At the recent Regional District meeting in Princeton the directors discussed hospital financing and a report of the meeting between directors and government officials was discussed.

The meeting was attended by Regional District directors Alex Gough, Oliver; E. Jacobson, Princeton and G. C. Allington, Kaledon and Okanagan Falls. Government representatives at the meeting were Deputy Minister of Municipal Af-airs J. E. Brown, W. K. Smith, Director of Finance and Statistics, Department of Municipal Affairs and D. M. Cox, Deputy Minister of Hospital Services.

Councillor Bill Barkwill represented Summerland.

During the discussion, M. P. Finnerty, Penticton, told the directors they were premature in discussing hospital financing at the present time. "The government will eventually tell us what methods or taxation we can use and they will also tell us where we have hospitals here, here and here."

"We've been made a scapegoat of this thing and we'll become the whipping boys of the hospital boards," G. C. Allington said, "we are faced with this thing now and we must discuss it now. We can't ignore it. We can't let B. C. Hospital Insurance Services and the hospital boards plan ivory towers because we will be faced with the problem of financing. Let's not just back away," he added.

DIRECTORS FIRM
Directors of the Regional District have been firm in their stand on other problems presented to them by the government. They had been asked by the government to undertake pollution control. In reply to the government's request they made it pointedly clear that pollution control was a problem for both federal and provincial authorities and they urged the government to accept their responsibility. At this meeting they received an answer to their letter from the Minister of Municipal Affairs: "The contents of your letter have been noted."

At Thursday's meeting in Princeton they received a letter from the government asking the Regional District to set out benefitting areas for the hospitals within the district.

"This is the last thing we want to get into" was the general feeling of the directors. They felt that this was none of their business and Finnerty suggested the letter be filed. The secretary was instructed to write the government informing them that they did not feel this was part of their duties.

Mott President of Bible Society

The most urgent task confronting the Christian Church in this new age of the revolution of rising expectation when millions learning to read are pleading for books through which to find the truth that will make them free, is that of providing the Scriptures in the languages men speak and at a price they can pay, declared Rev. J.A. Raymond Tingley, Vancouver, District Secretary of the Canadian Bible Society, speaking at a community wide rally on Sunday night at the Baptist Church.

It is a matter of deep concern, said Mr. Tingley that the campaign of the Bible Society, to increase the annual circulation of Scriptures within three years, from 50 million to 150 million, is failing to reach its goal due to lack of money. Is it not rather tragic, he asked that while billions of dollars are available for instruments of warfare in Viet Nam funds are not available to overcome the famine of Scriptures in that troubled land as well as in many other countries of the world.

The secretary presented the challenge of this current campaign of the Bible Society through an outstanding motion picture "This is the Vision", which portrays the many characteristics of the age in which we live and makes clear that this new age desperately needs to hear God speak through the Scriptures to the millions who are becoming literate.

It was stated that if the world is to receive the Scriptures then the people of such affluent countries as Canada must greatly increase their giving to enable the Bible Society to provide the Scriptures at a mere fraction of their cost. The secretary said that the 60% of the people of India who have an average daily income of about 3 cents possibly pay the cost of a Hindi Bible which amounts to $3.00. These Bibles must be sold at much less than $1.00 if those who are pleading for them are to be able to secure a copy.

While the day of the missionary from the west is rapidly passing as the emerging nations identify him with western colonialism, imperialism, materialism and militarism, the day of the Bible is just beginning, for this book in their language is regarded as their book, and is most welcome, continued the speaker as he told of his experience of travelling around the world two years ago.

It is indeed disturbing, he said, to encounter the famine of Scriptures in a world in which more than one half the Christian homes have no Bible. 7 out of 8 Christians do not have a New Testament and one half of the people who can read do not have even a Gospel.

Expressing the hope that all people in the community would through a house to house canvass be presented with the challenge of this great work and given the opportunity to contribute, the secretary, spoke of the objective in B.C. of $135,000, which fell $16,000 short last year due to the failure of many of the branches in the province to make contact with the people. This year, we must not, we dare not fail to reach the objective in view of the critical shortage of Scriptures in so many parts of the world, concluded the speaker.

Sunday morning Mr. Tingley was guest preacher at the United Church, in the afternoon the film at a rally in Naramata, and in the evening prior to the rally presented the challenge at the Church of God. The rally for the community held at 8:45 at the Baptist Church was conducted by the minister, Rev Frank Haskins.

J. S. Mott was re-elected president of the Summerland branch of the Bible Society and John Graham was named vice-president. The secretary-treasurer is Howard DeWitt, while other members of the executive are Wilfred King, P. R. Gayton, Lloyd Miller and Mrs. R. Wilburn. The ministers are honorary vice-presidents. An appeal is being made through the churches for increased support to assist the Society in this critical time of desperate world need.

This may be the nicest looking girl and costume you will see Hallowe'en night but Elizabeth Watt and many like her will be out with "Save the Children" tins accepting your contribution to assist families in depressed countries. Give generously when children like Elizabeth call at your door Monday night.

Mel Hyde new president of Summerland Golf & Country Club

The Summerland Golf and Country Club held their annual meeting last week and elected a new slate of officers for the coming year.

Mel Hyde will take over the President's chair from Robin Wright who will continue on the executive as Past President.

Secretary Treasurer is Jim Hack, Captain Ken Nistor, Vice Captain George Uzawa. Directors are Don Clark, George Clark, Bill Laidlaw, George Taylor and Ken Williams.

Bill Laidlaw was appointed to be in charge of the night school golf classes, so popular last year.

The executive will make an announcement of when the classes will begin shortly, but it is expected they will get underway about the first of the year.

See you at the golf club.

S'land children build a home

Mrs. Wendy Burke, representative of the Save the Children Fund for B.C., was entertained by the Summerland Committee at the home of Mrs. David Hurn with a luncheon.

A young girl named Gladwyn Jebb saw the conditions after World War II and conceived the idea of the fund and raised 1,000 pound sterling the first year. Now Save the Children Fund is serving 100,000 children in many countries.

A pleasant time was spent and Mrs. Burke told of conditions in Korea as she and her husband had seen them on a recent trip. She also brought a picture of the hut which was paid for with the money the Summerland Children raised last Hallowe'en.

Last Hallowe'en there were 179 children participating and $204.44 was raised. It is amazing that this small amount of money can build a hut in Korea, but it shows the children how they can help. One fifth of all Save the Children Fund comes from Hallowe'en. Each person counts.

A child, in any of the many lands where Save The Children is working, can be supported for $50 yearly.

Local children on Hallowe'en will be issued tins, labelled "Help Save the Children" and the names of the countries where the help is being received.

Children of Summerland Elementary and Trout Creek schools will have them distributed to them on Oct. 31.

Summerland Review — 3

Where do we stand?

When the idea of a Regional District came to the attention of the public and municipal council meeting to the effect "O.K.", but this is one we will have to watch. He was right - the picture is changing from the original painting.

The department of Municipal Affairs pushed the Regional District idea for all it is worth. We joined - now the waves are getting high.

Before we got our feet wet, Deputy Minister of Municipal Affairs Brown gave the assurance that any area not wishing to take part in a particular service undertaken by the Regional District they would have the right to opt out. Not so.

The Minister of Municipal Affairs Dan Campbell has stated that "no corner can opt out of Hospital Financing". It did not take long.

The late District Planning Commission was taken under the wing of the Regional District.

If the early statement by brown holds, why is it that The Corporation of Peachland cannot opt out of Regional Planning? They have tried to for months - Reeve Thwait and a couple of Councillors went right to the horses head in Victoria requesting to get out. The answer was an emphatic NO on this and on every other occasion they have made the request.

If everyone is to pay the piper in the area of hospital financing - Summerland must know where they stand.

We are in the process of building a hospital costing over a million dollars of which $530,000 plus interest, will be paid by the Summerland taxpayer. If the statement by the Minister that no one may opt out of hospital financing, does this mean we will have to pay for ours as well as proposed additions in Penticton and new plants at Oliver or Osoyoos? Are we to pay a portion of any future expansion in Princeton if hospital financing is taken over by the Regional District.

Mayor Finnerty of Penticton told the last Directors Regional District meeting they were premature in discussing hospital financing at the present time. "The government will eventually tell us what method of taxation we can use and they will also tell us there will be hospitals here, here and here." He could be right.

provincial authority at the local level - Action must be taken to slow down answer to a written request from the local but how. We have heard of more than one level to departments of the provincial government to be merely "The contents of your letter have been noted". And it is left at that.

In the minutes of the Princeton meeting October 13, and we quote "It was suggested that a representative from the RDOS (Regional District Okanagan - Similkameen) should be on each hospital board."

This did not carry. It was decided to ask the four hospital boards if they could have one of their members attend their meetings as a liaison officer.

It would be interesting to know who proposed the dictatorial designation of Regional District member on a board which is elected at the public annual meeting in a democratic way.

It is the intention of Regional Districts to lend more weight and influence at all levels of local government? If the above designation was adopted, this would be the situation.

The member of the RDOS is a municipal councillor. Now if the RDOS insisted their members be on the hospital boards as well they, as a group would have a powerful triangle of influence.

Not that this situation could not or does not exist, but there is a difference as to how it comes about - in a democratic manner or dictatorial. Our representative, Bill Barkwill is in that position - one that is not to be envied. He has a heavy responsibility, answering to many and still be mindful of the affairs of each one.

In any case, if the RDOS goes ahead with taking the responsibility for hospital financing, they better be prepared to take over the debts as well and go on from there. They have suggested they would, but concrete assurance is needed.

FROM OUR FILES . . .

For the first time in the memory of the oldest resident of Summerland, sleigh bells jingled in West Summerland yesterday morning. Full advantage was taken of the heavy snowfall by at least one sleigh-ride party, and is reported that the sleighing was very good.

Yesterday five inches of snowfall was registered, which is a remarkably heavy snowfall for the Summerland District even in the depth of winter. The present cold weather is said to be the reaction here to the cold front which has been sweeping over the prairies for the past few weeks.

Miss Bessie Caldwell left for Vancouver on Sunday.

Miss Ella Bowering left on Wednesday for Brandon, Man. where she will continue studies at Brandon College.

Miss Lee, who is returning to her home in England following a visit at Victoria is stopping over at the home of Mrs. Hookam.

Mr. Ralph Harwood returned home from Yorkton, Sask. on Saturday night.

Miss Robinson of Shanghai China, is visiting her uncle, Mr. E. Mountford. Miss Robinson has spent a number of years in China.

"Second hand Religion"

By Rev. M. Schultz,
Trout Creek Church of God

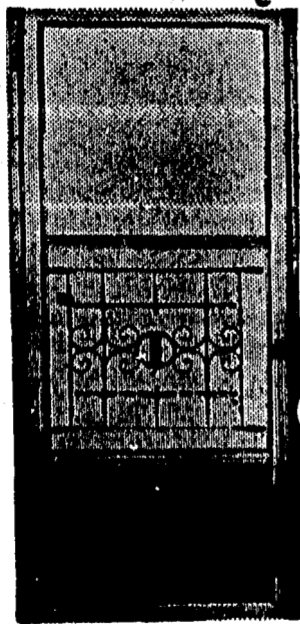

Too many people get their religion second hand. When young they accept their mom and dad's by a church Sunday School teacher, still later many hide behind the words "our church believes . . ." then they mouth the words told to them by the Church or a friend or a parent.

Of course we recognize that the teaching of our church leaders and our family is necessary and it is good, however, these are never good enough to replace personal experience. When Jesus told Nicodemus he needed to be spiritually re-born, Jesus urged Nicodemus to exchange his second hand religion for something he personally experienced. Jesus would have agreed that it was good to know about forgiveness of sin but Jesus surely he taught that it was far better to experience forgiveness of sin. We can know this experience, Jesus said "Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you: For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh, findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened." (Matthew 7:7-8)

Second hand things seldom give you much satisfaction; who is as pleased with hearing the second hand story of catching a 10 - pound trout as he would be if he were holding the rod. Why be content with second-hand religion when Christ has invited us into direct contact and experience with His great salvation and forgiveness and love?

Fair Committee assess performance

The first post-fair meeting of the Peachland Community Fall Fair Committee was held Wednesday night. President J. Hinter thanked committee members for their good work which made the 1966 Fall Fair such an overwhelming success. Various suggestions as to changes for next year were put forth. These will be filed and acted upon next year.

Mr. E. Saunders, treasurer, indicated the Fair is still not paying its own way but is in better financial shape than last year. Commenting on all the equipment purchased for the hall, Mr. Hinter stated, the Committee could not have done this without donations received and monies raised by concerts and other activities.

Mr. Hinter suggested the Fair Committee branch out into a community club on the lines of a board of trade with the Fall Fair as part of the overall group. It was decided that the committee would remain a Fall Fair group and work for the betterment of the community whenever possible.

In 1967 Fair will be Sept. 15. Mrs. Hinter, last year's Christmas Tree Committee chairman will organize this year's committee and secretary Mrs. E. Sutherland will write to the W. I., Legion L.A. and Teen Town, asking them to appoint two members each to serve on this committee.

The Recreation Commission asked the group to appoint a member to serve on their commission. Cousins was selected.

The next meeting will be on Nov. 15, 8 p.m., Municipal hall.

town built on the site and permanent employees will seek housing from neighboring communities.

He said the Chamber executive felt town officials, school board, planning board and the members of the Chamber should try to arrange a tour of the site so "we may get some idea of what is going on."

He said he was trying to make arrangements with a high company official to speak at their next Chamber meeting on Nov. 3.

He said officials of Brenda in Penticton felt a tour could be arranged and asked Council's opinion on it.

Reeve Holmes congratulated Mr. Tait and said "I think you have a real good project and I think you can count on, if not one hundred percent of council, most of them to make the tour with you."

Indications were that all council members would make the trip.

Jeunesses Musicales membership campaign

Letters go out this week to all parents of students in grades 6 to 13 in the Penticton and Summerland school system in an attempt to let each one know of the opportunities offered by Jeunesses Musicales of Canada concert series.

Jeunesses Musicales (Musical Youth) is a world wide organization started in Belgium 26 years ago to foster the appreciation of good music. In every country Jeunesses Musicales is helped by the Federal Government as well as by the public. The Canada Council gives an annual grant of $100,000. This enables J.M.C. to offer four outstanding musical concerts per year by international concert artists.

The concert series was started two years ago in Kelowna with membership going from 300 in the first year to more than 500 at the end of last season.

Members of the School Boards of Summerland and Penticton have voted support of this concert series, and membership forms will be included in the form letter which the children will be given this week.

The World Congress of Jeunesses Musicales will be held in Montreal in 1967. Sylvia Hodge, a Kelowna Secondary School student attended the world congress meeting in Paris where

There are 17 branches in B.C. including those at Kamloops, Vernon, Nelson, Trail and Kelowna.

DUANE BATES Cost of membership is kept low by federal grants, and there are special rates for adult students and families. Duane Bates, president of the local group may be contacted at the High School for further information.

J. G. McKinley, of Kelowna, director of the Okanagan region stated "Every elementary school student is supposed to have some musical appreciation. This is usually supplied by listening to recordings. To see the performance of various instruments, to witness live talent on the stage, has a great influence on our young students. It creates a field or an atmosphere in which musical talent develops much more readily."

Mr. McKinley is the Supervisor of Music in the Kelowna school district.

BRENDA MINES

We were then shown the finished moly, which is packed in tubs and shipped out, to be used for open market studies. After poking our fingers in the finished product, we found it not only looked like soot, but also has its hard to clean off qualities.

At noon, we were driven back to camp, and to the cook-house, where a delicious buffet meal was all prepared.

A question and answer period followed, with P. Stym, K. Douglas and J. Stulhers answering all questions as fully as possible.

Information on water, and d pollution control, was requested by F. Topham and H.C. MacNeill, irrigation trustees. Mr. Stym said they have been working closely with the pollution control board and expect no troubles in this regard.

Present studies have shown that a dam on Deep Creek, and the raising of the present dam at North Fork will provide the mine with ample water. Approximately 19 acre ft. per day will be used when they go into full production, but with the new methods being developed, they expect to reclaim a good percentage of this amount.

S. Elstone asked why a town-site at the mine is not in the planning. He was informed, this is due to the short traveling time from already organized communities, where the temperature is more moderate making new development impractical. Mine planners are not expecting any residences at the site, once the mine is in full production. However, for the next year and a half which will be the construction period, there will be 600 or more men employed and they will live in bunkhouses at the site. Officials assured school board members they have no intention of setting up family housing.

Board members also questioned mine manager Stym as to the number of families that could be expected, once the mine was in operation, and were told that they anticipate 300 to 350 men will be employed full time.

Assuming two-thirds of these will be married and have children, this would assist the school board in planning the probable increase in school enrollment.

Staff members stated, there was no doubt in their minds, there will be an operating mine.

A feasibility report, to be compiled by the end of the year, would study how much,

This is Brenda Mines Manager Peter Stym, who hosted a Peachland group to a tour of the property west of Peachland. He is confident there will be a permanent mining operation there but definite announcements are not expected until February, 1967.

and how big an operation it will be, but an official yes or no should be known no later than February. All plans now made call for permanent construction to start in May, 1967.

F. Topham suggested a committee be set up to work in conjunction with the mine staff. Mr. Stym agreed and said this was the purpose of their inviting this group at this time, so some form of co-operation may be worked out to plan for future development.

Reeve Thwaite thanked the officials on behalf of the party for the information and hospitality. All members were taken back to the tunnel entrance, for what was for most, one of the highlights of the tour. With knee high boots, hard hats and miners lamps we were taken into the tunnel and at times were in a foot of water but we walked to the end where the present work is being done. It is a queer feeling to be told you are now 200 ft. underground. The tunnel is shaped like a "T" with the top cross being where the richest ore is located.

The party got a thrill out of chipping their own samples out of the rock as souvenirs. So ended our tour of Brenda Mines west Peachland. I am sure all will long remember it.

Visitors impressed with S. land school

Secondary School Principal John Tamblyn, commended Secretary Jim Hack and his secretary Mrs. Kuroda for their assistance to teachers at the regular board meeting last week. He was referring to the duplicating work done in the board office. "The copy machine has saved many hours for the teachers as well as allowed duplication of material which otherwise could not have been reproduced for the students." He said.

The elementary principals had similar praise for this service.

The board was pleased to hear this as they had spent considerable money to develop this central printing area this year.

Recent visitors were impressed with the Summerland plant.

Mr. Tony Embleton, Kamloops principal, Mr. Jake Longmore, Assistant Superintendent of Schools in Victoria and Mrs. McKinna from Simon Fraser University were taken on a tour of the school.

"These visitors have been most interested in the school facilities and each one commended the School District for supplying the students with these facilities," Tamblyn said, thinking specialist visited the school and spoke to teachers and students and was impressed with some of the things going on in the school and would "very much like to come back and spend more time with us".

Although Tamblyn said it was too early for an accurate assessment of students' work his staff has turned in names of students who they feel are doing exceptionally well or are in trouble.

"Letters of commendation will be sent to the parents of those students doing particularly well the principal said, and letters requesting interviews will be sent to the parents of those students who appear to be having problems."

Public Health Nurse Mrs. Geddes, made equipment available for the preliminary testing of hearing of all students in secondary school. Tests were given by the Health and Guidance teachers.

"Any student not tested 100%

The board recommended similar tests be made of sight.

"If we can help or find out even one student is having trouble with their sight or hearing the effort will be worth it" Barkwill said.

Tamblyn said the eyes test would be arranged.

Out of the 537 students taking the hearing test, 55 have been referred to Mrs. Geddes for further checking.

Tamblyn said the board should not get alarmed about this because the preliminary tests are not conclusive. As far as he knew, this was the only school in the province conducting such tests.

He requested the board authorize changing bus routes in such a way to allow the bus-taking teams out of town for competitive sports to get away sooner, and in turn arrive home earlier.

This would mean one bus would take the teams when elementary runs are complete and students of that bus would be delayed until the first run came back to the school.

Taking into consideration it would disrupt the regular schedule causing children a delay in arriving home to do the chores, deliver papers etc. the boardwards the request.

They felt the students taking part in the sports should be the ones to suffer the delay so the request was turned down with regret.

Jack Dunsdon is southpaw champ

Jack Dunsdon is the Summerland Golf and Country Club "southpaw" champion. This was decided at a tournament held on Sunday at Sumac Ridge. The day was cool, and the wind strong, but eight of the eleven left-handers in the Club took part and had a fine time.

Winds made the slices bigger and hooks worse. Dr. Will Evans, a lefty himself, said no one really wanted to admit their scores except Jack who won by five strokes with a net of 77.

The previous Sunday a mixed two-ball was a big success with 30 couples taking part.

The big winners were Beryl Barkwill and Bernie Hume-Smith who nosed out Louise Williams and Mel Hyde.

Some side events were recognized. Don Clark had the longest drive for the men and Marg Berry for the women. Glenys Clark was the closest to the pin and Lavender Hyde sunk the longest putt.

A very successful party was held for members and friends at the Sumac Ridge dining room Saturday night when trophies were presented.

George Taylor won the president's trophy as the 36-hole medal play champion. Mary Parker won the Rumball Supper-Valu trophy as women's me-

Teachers' salary demands range from 10 to 30 percent

School Secretary Treasurer Jim Hack confirmed the Jehovah Witnesses have rented Secondary School facilities for a provincial conference planned for Summerland. They will use the auditorium, gymnasium, kitchen and two classrooms and the equivalent for $202.50, the amount set out by board policy, from 1 p.m. Nov. 11-13.

In other business during the regular October School Board meeting it was estimated the cost of moving the irrigation flume on the new school property (Dunham) would be $2,500. It would be replaced by an underground pipe. It has not been established as to who will be responsible for the cost of moving the flume, the school, the municipality or both.

Trustee Ken Boothe moved a vote of thanks to Principal John Tamblin and his staff for the very successful open house held Oct. 17 in the Secondary School. About 800 attended. Tamblin said Vice-principal Chas. Greenhaugh is the one who deserves much of the credit as the evening was planned under his supervision.

Trustee Dave McIntosh and Jim Miltimore had attended a session at the recent trustees' convention where the matter of counselling was discussed, and asked Mr. Tamblin how much time was devoted to this in the secondary school.

He said two teachers devote about 20 periods out of 35 each in this regard.

He explained the function of counselling was to direct stu-

"Save the Children" fund committee to distribute tins for the children to take on their rounds Halloween night on the condition arrangements did not interfere with school activities.

The public relations firm James Lovick Ltd., Vancouver, who handle Regional College publicity, requested the board to give approval for the Secondary School to participate in a poster contest depicting the advantages of having a college in the Okanagan. Prize money is being offered.

The board did not think it proper for this to be entered into as a classroom project for two basic reasons.

The fact that individual prizes were being offered and because they did not feel it was fair to have the children taking part in, or promoting a referendum.

The information will be passed on to the students however so they may participate, if it is their wish to do so—but on their own time.

Chairman Bennest, Trustees Boothe and Barkwill voted in favor of this motion and Trustees McIntosh and Miltimore abstained with no comments.

A request made by the Council Committee for the use of the music room and piano in the Secondary School for choir rehearsals once a week was granted.

A letter from the provincial executive of the BCSTA was read by Hack thanking the board, teachers and students for their co-operation and assistance during the recent convention held in Penticton.

A tour of the Research Station for the ladies was arranged by Miltimore and Boothe and the Senior School Band provided music at various times during the convention.

The next meeting will be held Nov. 2.

Summerland Nov. 2. School District secretary-treasurer J. B. Hack notified council that terms of chairman John Bennest, trustees Dave McIntosh and Jas. Miltimore expire this year and requested they make arrangements for the election of three trustees.

A letter from J. R. N. Geason took a dim view of newspaper reports of the possibility of the garbage pickup being contracted by the town.

He indicated he could fake his own garbage to the nuisance grounds for one third the cost he heard was going to be charged the taxpayer. He said he understood the charges will be $1 per month. (This amount has not been decided or discussed at council, nor was it published in this newspaper.)

He said the economic conditions would not support garbage collection even if there are business and council men living in $40,000 homes, drive $4,000 cars, $3000 to $4000 boats and take trips to Hawaii. He said this class spend on luxuries what some have for daily living. Council took no action.

Nov. 5 was declared tag day and the Legion will be in charge of Remembrance Day services in the memorial park Nov. 11 from 10:45 a.m. to noon.

Municipal clerk Gordon Smith will attend the Okanagan Valley Municipal Officers' Association meeting in Merritt Nov. 5.

Reeve Holmes encouraged all council members to attend the Regional College conference in Kelowna on Nov. 5.

Harlem Clowns here Wednesday

There'll be fun and frolic in the Secondary School gymnasium on Wednesday at 8 p. m. when the world famous Harlem Clowns, masters of basketball and comedy, come to town for an exhibition game against the Summerland Seniors.

If you've seen them before, you know that Al Pullins' hoop comes always try to stage a better-than-ever show. If this is your first time, then you're in for a real treat.

There's no question that the Harlem Clowns are the funniest basketball team in North America. Night after night they put on their tremendous show of ball handling, shooting and comedy routines.

Elks provide school trophy

Trout Creek school principal Ray McNabb said they are in the process of forming a choir again this year under the direction of Mrs. Lockheart "who is very well qualified". Mrs. Novak and Mrs. S. White are starting gym classes.

McNabb thanked the board for the retaining wall placed across the front of the school during the summer. Teachers, students and bus drivers agree it makes a very good loading and unloading zone, separating the area from the rest of the school yard.

A Penticton principal, J. Ellis will address the regular meeting of the Trout Creek PTA tonight, Oct. 27 to explain and discuss the new levels system to parents. Mr. McNabb will also tell of the progress they have had in Trout Creek with this new system.

"The school was above the provincial average in contributions last year, for a first year group", McNabb said.

They are making use of the morning educational television programs and both Trout Creek and MacDonald principals agreed they were much better than last year.

'MAC' SCHOOL REPORT
Principal John Cooke reported on the various activities active in his school and named those responsible for each phase of it.

He noted that their boys soccer team made a trip to Oliver on Saturday, and although they lost both games, they showed good sportsmanship. "Not a single bee was heard from the Summerland boys, which did not hold true to the opposing team. We were very proud of them", he said, "they are learning the true meaning of sportsmanship — which after all, is the most important thing."

He said Mrs. Toews, Mrs. Allison and Miss Yamabe attended a physical education workshop at Vernon Sept. 30 and Mr. McMurray, Mr. Robertson and Mr. Clements attended the same workshop the following day.

"As a result of these workshops, a survey of physical fitness of our school students will be made, if time permits", Mr. Cooke said.

Each Thursday evening, a number of MacDonald School teachers are taking university courses in Kelowna. Taking Education 407 are Mr. McMurray, Mrs. Johanson, Mrs. Stevenson, Mr. Weeks and Mr. Cooke.

Mrs. Roberge and Mrs. Davies are taking English 303. "The Elks Lodge has provided

Soccer, Grasshockey in school sports

By Ron Kostelniuk
In limited sports action, the SR. SOCCER squad finished the regular season with all tie at home against Penticton on Oct. 13th. Lorne Brown gave Penticton a 1-0 halftime lead, in the wind dominated game, on a shot Gerry Marsh was unable to handle. In the second half, Jim Haddrell tied the score up. Bill Potter played goal in the last half.

The boys finished with a record of 1 win; two losses and three ties outscoring their opponents 4-3.

In JR. SOCCER, home team Princess Margaret dumped visiting Summerland on Oct. 12th. They have one league game left. They will not repeat last year's performance when they finished second in the southern finals. They have yet to win a game.

The JR. GRASS HOCKEY team continued in high gear, led by the performance of Nancy Barkwill. They defeated Princess Margaret 4-0 with Barkwill scoring three goals and Karen Holman adding the last. Barkwill made the score 1-0 after the first half and that was all the visitors needed as Donna Sharpe had a field day in the Summerland net, stopping only two shots in the game.
