Peachland's Centennial Committee read this proclamation at the New Year's Eve Dance. They asked district men to step forward to enter a beard growing contest. Thirty took the pledge, and more are inited to do so. The competition ends on April first when they will hold their official Centennial Day. Anyone wishing to take part may contact Pete Spackman.

Beards will mark official Peachland Centennial day

By BRENDA DAVIES
PEACHLAND — Centennial year here was brought in with the pealing of the "Union" Church bell in sequence to the Centennial Year 1867-66-7 by J. K. Todd and his son Barry.

Vice-chairman J. G. Sanderson, assisted by other Centennial Committee members P. Spackman and T. R. Stewart, read the Committee's proclamation at the New Year's dance and invited all men present to sign up for a beard-growing contest. Great interest was shown with over thirty contestants signing up, on the spot.

And more have signed since. Contestants to date (who'll be issued with special buttons) are: Peter Stym, D.A.K. Fulks, P.R. Spackman, A. Topham, J. G. Sanderson, L. Fleming, T.R. Stuart, J.T. Garraway, D. Davies, J. Seminoff, C. McLoughlin, L. Bawdon, L. Burns, C. Knoblauch, G. Stuart, H. Lewis, J. Houghtaling, D. MacKay, H. Campbell, B. Wayne, F. Loft, F. Folhough, S. Seminoff, G. Beck, D. Careless, D. Wilson, D. Wurzer, D.E. Sutherland, J. McKay, F.G. Ulbrech, V. Felker, B. Kennedy, N. Hewitt, R. Moore, B. Himn, J. Swift, J. Flako, J.R. Davies, B. Metz, J. Clements, V. Oakes, T. Mao Laughlan, M. Gazda and L. Jacobson.

Any other persons living or working in the district wishing to enter this contest are asked to get in touch with P. Spackman at the Totem Inn.

Rules are as follows: Facial whiskers to be worn from the present time for a three-month period. This includes not just beards but also mutton chop style goatees . . . in fact, any facial adornment in the fashion of the Confederation period. Entrance fee is $1, of which half the proceeds are to be used for a prize for the winner. A word of caution to participating gents: a $10 fine will be levied on any contestant shaving before judging (judgement?) day. Businessmen of the district wish to apologize in advance to visitors for the facial foliage flourishing freely.

It is hoped during the next three months to arrange interviews and pictures for the Review, which of course will be published under the "wanted" column.

A full day of Centennial events is being planned for the 1st of April, starting with a Wild Game luncheon, and centennial auction, with auctioneer Bud McKague (professional license No. 1867). Another attraction (?) will be a local hog calling contest. For all these affairs, costumes will be mandatory.

The day will end with a Honky Tonk dance, held at the Athletic Hall. All residents are asked to get in the act and back up the Centennial Committee to make this year a memorable one.

Accidents plague police over New Year holiday

Meetings to mark week of prayer

Sponsored by the Summerland Ministerial Association, three services are being arranged in the second week of January in recognition of the world-wide week of prayer.

Services will be held in the Baptist Church on Tuesday January 10th, in the Pentecostal Church Wednesday the 11th, and in the Free Methodist Church on Thursday the 12th. Time for the meetings is 7:30 p.m.

Rev. Norman Tannar is the President of the Summerland Ministerial Association.

Power stoppage explained

Works Superintendent Ken Blagborne told council Tuesday at their statutory meeting, it was a delayed action that caused the power stoppage New Year's Eve in the south end of the municipality.

During the Christmas weekend, a motorist had struck a power pole as well as a fruit tree. The tree hitting was reported to the RCMP, but not the pole.

He said whenever the police get reports of a pole being struck they let him know so his crews can investigate any possible damage.

In this case, Blagborne said, the shock broke the insulator leaving a loose wire. The snow caused a short in the line thus the power failure. Municipal crews hunted for the break for three hours before they noticed a spark on the damaged crossbar.

"It was not the fault of our crews or West Kootenay Power," he said. Expenses incurred will be passed on to the motorist's insurance company. Workmen lost out on New Year's Eve festivities to repair damage.

In other council news: Councillor Powell asked if provincial Fish and Wildlife authorities have made contact about a meeting they were to arrange to discuss the domestic water change-over in Summerland Lakeshore. Clerk Gordon Smith said they had written last fall and said they would arrange a meeting for the end of October but he had heard nothing since.

Smith will contact the Fish and Wildlife Department.

The pay days for municipal employees will be every other Friday rather than twice a month. This will relieve book-keeping considerably, office manager Gerry Goddard said.

Reeve Holmes announced the following committee heads for the coming year. The first named is the chairman of that committee:

- Water: Powell, Barkwill;
- Light: Schaeffer, Powell;
- Roads: Hill, Barkwill;
- Finance: Barkwill, Hill;
- Insurance: Barkwill, Schaeffer;
- Pound: Hill;
- Real Estate: Powell, Hill;
- Fire: Barkwill, Holmes;
- Parks and Arena: Schaeffer, Hill;
- Library: Mrs. M. Croil;
- Hospital representative: Barkwill;
- Civil Defence: Schaeffer;
- Parkdale Place: Powell;
- Advisory Planning Commission: Hill;
- Okanagan Valley Pollution Control Committee: Powell;
- Okanagan Regional Industrial Development Council: Schaeffer;
- Centennial: Schaeffer;
- Councillor J. A. Schaeffer was elected Acting Reeve who will take over the duties of the Reeve whenever Holmes is absent.

F. J. Manning, in a letter requested exemption from using control valves because pressure on his lines was only 20 pounds. Blagborne confirmed the pressure so his request was granted.

Copies of the 1967 provisional budget was given council for their inspection before approval at the next meeting.

Municipal duties to be designated

Municipal accountant, Reid Henderson was appointed municipal treasurer at the council meeting last week.

The appointment became effective January 1st.

Municipal clerk Gordon Smith will confer with office manager Gerry Goddard and Mr. Henderson to distribute office responsibilities among the three of them and report back to council.

The Summerland detachment of the RCMP were kept busy over the weekend with investigating accidents after a quiet Christmas holiday.

W. Davis of Summerland was involved in an accident on the Canyon View Road Dec. 29 at 3 p.m.

As Mr. Davis travelled east down the hill, his car failed to negotiate a right curve, due to the 4 to 5 inches of new snow. His vehicle slid off the corner and rolled over. There was $600 damage to the car. No injuries resulted and no charges were laid.

On Dec. 30, Stanley Coles of Summerland appeared before Magistrate Reid Johnston and was found guilty to the charge of driving without due care and attention. He was fined $50. The charge was laid on Dec. 19 when Mr. Coles was in collision with a concrete planter on the Main Street.

Dec. 30, 11:40 p.m., John B. Lecamp of Oliver was motioned to stop by the RCMP at the Five Corners. Instead of stopping, Lecamp sped north on Highway 97, resulting in a chase by the RCMP. Six miles north of Summerland the Le-camp vehicle went off the road. Upon investigation, it was discovered that the vehicle had been stolen. The driver was arrested and turned over to the Penticton detachment. There was $250 damage to the car.

Also Jan. 1 at 10:15 p.m., Brian Flintoff of Peachland was involved in an accident at the southern entrance to Peachland. His vehicle skidded on the icy road, slid over to the edge then rolled over onto its top. Damage amounted to $350. There were no injuries and no charges will be laid.

Another accident on Peach Orchard Hill occurred Dec. 31 at 4:30 p.m. Robin F. Reed of Summerland was travelling down the hill when the right wheel struck the snow on the side causing the car to slide into the ditch. She received a bruised knee. There was $200 damage to the car. No charges were laid.

Jan. 1, Marcia Stanchoway was travelling north on Highway 97, Trout Creek, when her car went off the left side of the road. Miss Stanchoway was taken to the hospital, suffering from a broken jaw and bruises. The car was a total wreck.

Twenty-two rinks take part in Christmas family bonspiel

The annual Christmas family bonspiel went off without a hitch again this year, with 22 rinks taking part. Here are the results of play:

In the A event, Ralph F. Spelsburg with Eve Spelsburg, George Taylor and Nellie Taylor took the top position. The Don Skinner rink took second followed by Gerry Goddard, and Howard Pruden.

In the B event, it was the Randall foursome who took top spot with Tom Randall skipping the rink with the assistance of Rick Randall and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Randall.

Greg Pruden skipped the second place rink here while Geo. Sheeley and Tim Hankins headed the rinks taking third and fourth respectively.

On Saturday, starting at 8:00 a.m. the Ladies will hold a local bonspiel, with 10 rinks competing for three trophies.

Hockey action resumes, S'land

Government grants a possibility for drag strip installation

Interest in the proposed drag strip at the site of the old golf course in Paradise Flats is growing.

Reeve Holmes conferred with premier Bennett last week, and was given to believe government grants were possible for the construction of the strip, because of the fact it will be a tourist attraction.

It was also suggested a black top emergency landing strip would a possibility along side.

The Valley Saints Car Club of Penticton are interested in building a drag strip on the site. Club officials have been talking to municipal officials about a lease and have been out with Works Superintendent Ken Blagborne, doing some measuring.

Three quarters of a mile is needed for the track, 60 feet wide, plus room for parking and spectators.

Holmes said everyone he has talked to with any background knowledge about drag strip racing, were very enthusiastic and indicated to him it would have the advantages of a new industry for Summerland.

Under The Giant's Head

By KEITH BERGH

Time to get your thinking caps on and nominate a candidate or two for the Good Citizen Cup. The Chamber of Commerce have announced they'll accept your choice in writing up to January 21. The secretary, Bill Ramsay will accept them.

Here we go, swinging into a new year. The visiting is over and the parties will slow down to a walk. It is a welcome feeling to get back into the old routine again. It would seem everyone was in a good mood to bring in the Centennial Year. All the many gala events New Year's Eve were just that — most agree it was the best ever.

We got a good laugh when one of our house guests, a native son of Summerland told this true story . . . that took place years ago during Sunday School at the Baptist Church here in Summerland. A teacher was telling her class about eternity and instructing the children the hows and whys of leading a good life. To review the lesson, she asked a few questions. She asked a little fellow, "Where do all the bad boys go?" He looked up at her and said, "To Penticton on Saturday night."

Get a word from Mr. and Mrs. Bill Crawford from their winter resting place in Yuma, Arizona this week, who are enjoying receiving the Review each week to read of all their old friends. It is no doubt the Crawfords are enjoying "time out" after working night and day for so many years in their store in Trout Creek. They head for California early in February and will return home in April.

We will be watching the progress of arrangements for a drag strip out on the old golf course. The Valley Saints Car Club of Penticton are hoping they will be able to build one out there within the near future. I don't know anything about the sport, but whoever I talk to says it could well be the biggest tourist attraction over to come to Summerland.

Peachland may not be the biggest district in the valley but they are sure working on being one of them. With all the mining interest to the west of them, it has already reflected on their economy . . . but they haven't stopped here. They are having ten thousand brochures printed for distribution to bolster their tourist business and to show they are a bunch of community-conscious people as well as good sports, the Centennial Committee is spearheading a beard growing contest until their big Centennial celebration day on April 1 . . . That will be a "don't miss" day. If they don't put on one of the best, I'll chew Pete Spackman's beard for breakfast the next morning . . . after he has shaved, that is.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, CANADA!

Summerland Review — 2

Our affluent society

Statistical reports usually make pretty dull reading, but here are a few that we in the main are all involved with that make interesting comparisons — especially as we go into a new year — our Centennial year.

In 1966, Canada had 4,938,000 households and at the time of the 1951 census the total was 3,338,000. Fifteen years ago only 48.9 per cent of all households had central heating, compared to 76 per cent in 1966. Further, most furnaces today are automatic only 2.1 per cent burn wood and 3.7 per cent coal, whereas 24.2 per cent use gas as their fuel and 45.8 per cent oil. For cooking equipment, 84.7 per cent of all homes now have a gas or electric range, compared to 50.8 per cent in 1951. And still in the kitchen, in the earlier year only 47.6 per cent of all households had gas or electric refrigeration, compared to 80.2 per cent today.

Back in 1952 there weren't enough television sets in the country to bother counting them in the survey, whereas today 93.9 per cent of households are TV equipped. In 1951 only 60.3 per cent of households had phones compared to 90.4 per cent today. Only 43 per cent of households had cars in 1951 but today the figure is 75.1 per cent.

In 1966, 14.1 per cent have two or more cars and 39 per cent have powered lawnmowers, 9 per cent have outboard motors, 61.2 per cent have record players and 54.2 per cent electric floor polishers.

24.1 per cent have home freezers and 30.1 per cent have gas or electric clothes dryers. The above figures were produced by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

Yes there is little doubt that we live in an affluent society but we have progressed so tremendously during the past decade it makes one wonder how these figures will compare with those ten, twenty or a hundred years from now.

Did you know that coffee breaks and rest periods cost the Canadian employer an average of $192.70 per year? Or that in a survey of 165 firms with 427,230 workers the average annual cost for fringe benefits was $1,355.00.

These figures compare the American worker's standards with Russian, ours would be roughly compared.

An American worker must work seventeen minutes to purchase a pound of butter, while a Russian worker must work for two hours and fifteen minutes. For a pair of nylons, an American works a half an hour, a Russian five hours. For a pound of sugar, an American works three minutes but a Russian has to work for three quarters of an hour. An American works something over six hours to buy a pair of man's shoes and a Russian forty-one hours. In America they work six minutes for a pound of bread while in Russia they work for twenty-three minutes.

These are eloquent comparisons about the standard of living under two different ideologies. Although the Russians have made significant gains in living standards since 1960, life there is obviously still hard and unrewarding.

While it may be true that the competitive enterprise system has a few kinks here and there — we live in a Utopia compared to those in the Communist world.

by A Practising Lawyer

COPYRIGHT APPLIED FOR

Q. — I am thinking of buying a business. Is it possible that I can be made to pay the debts of the person from whom I propose to purchase?

A. — It certainly is. This is what is known as a bulk sale. Let's say Mr. Seller is selling a hardware store to Mr. Buyer for $25,000 cash and that seller owes $10,000 to various creditors. If buyer does not take the proper precautions, he can be forced to pay the full $10,000 — after having paid seller the $25,000. Buyer must obtain a sworn declaration from seller listing all creditors and amounts owing.

One of three things must then happen: (1) The Creditors must be paid — in the above case this could be done, seller receiving $15,000 rather than $25,000; (2) the creditors may waive their rights; (3) the creditors may consent. This occurs where the down payment is not sufficient to pay the creditors, but periodic payments are being made. A trustee is appointed to receive same and disburse on a proportionate basis to the creditors.

Sometimes, in a sale where the down payment is not sufficient to pay the creditors, seller, will probably hold up the sale, deliberately leaves him off the list. The buyer is safe. He is entitled to rely on the declaration as he receives it. Of course, the seller has committed a crime (swearing false declaration) and may be prosecuted criminally and fined or imprisoned.

What will happen if seller and buyer conspire together to leave a creditor off the list? Buyer is liable, he being a party to a fraud.

What happens if buyer is not told about a creditor (who is left off) but knows about the debt from another source of information? Again, buyer is liable. In all cases, seller remains indebted to the creditors, but he has probably caught a slow boat to China with his ill gotten gains.

Q. — I want to collect a debt. Do I have to sue? Do I have to go to a lawyer? With a lawyer using a collection agency? Which is the cheapest way to proceed?

A. — If the debt is for under $200, you do not need a lawyer. Simply apply to your local small debts court and they will issue the summons for a very small fee.

If the debt is for over $200, you can consult a collection agency or a lawyer. The advantages of the agency are: they are experts at pressuring the debtor to pay without suing and they don't charge anything if they don't collect. The lawyer will however expect to be paid something for services performed even if unsuccessful. The big advantage of using a lawyer is that his fee is less — 10-20%, whereas the agency will charge 33-50%.

There is no law which prevents a person from suing in the higher courts without engaging a lawyer but it is impractical to do so. The law, like repairing your own TV set, is no field for the do it yourself expert.

Some debtors are extremely difficult to collect money from, even by exhausting all the collection and legal processes. When a collection agency runs up against a really tough nut to crack, they hire a lawyer.

Pioneer in work for the blind retires

J.C. Hembling, who has been for twenty-two (22) years a Field Representative for the CNIB in this district, retired at the end of December. He pioneered the work of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind in the Okanagan and the Kootenays in the early forties. Since then he has helped hundreds of blind persons to live more comfortably with their loss of vision. He has also spoken to hundreds and hundreds of school children about the prevention of eye accidents and the need for good eye health. "My talks to schools have been one of the most enjoyable parts of the work", Mr. Hembling said. "I am keenly interested in the prevention of blindness".

Mr. Hembling was born in Didsbury, Alberta and educated on the prairies. He is a graduate of Brandon College and the Regina Normal School. Mr. Hembling taught in all three prairie provinces before leaving the profession in the early thirties because of failing eyesight.

He and his wife, Harriet, came to Penticton in 1935 to begin an electrical business. Three years later Mr. Hembling retired from the business to operate his father's fruit farm at Oyama. Six years later, in 1944, Mr. Hembling became one of the first two field secretaries for the CNIB in B.C.

Mr. Hembling will be succeeded by Mr. Burton Johnson who will also serve the Okanagan and Kootenays for the CNIB's new offices at 618 Main Street in Penticton.

Rod and Gun Club host biggest trap shoot ever

The Summerland Rod and Gun Club hosted the biggest trap shoot in the history of the annual Boxing Day event this year.

The concession booths sold out early in the day and they ran out of prizes for the competitors. All the turkeys, bacon and chickens went so they had to pay cash to winners late in the day.

There was 25 hundred rounds fired during the event.

Girl Guides continue with year filled with activity

The Girl Guides under the leadership of Captain Enid Maynard and Lieutenant Mrs. Nellie Taylor have been meeting on Tuesday evenings at the Youth Centre.

They have had a number of interesting talks. Mrs. Chalmers instructed them in emergency helpers, which is a combination of First Aid and general knowledge in helping people involved in accidents, fire, or other unfortunate situations. A large number of girls received their badges for Emergency Helpers. Yvonne Klein, Jenny Skippings, Donna Gould, Dale Charles, Janice Cook, Naida Sawatsky, Alison Smith, Barbara Norris, Jane Peeters, Gale Abernathy, Jane Willoughby and Maureen Miltimore were proud recipients of the badge.

Hikers' badges were given to Alison Smith and Janice Cook; Homemakers' badge to Janice Cook; Hostess badges to Gale Abernathy and Janice Cook. Second class badges went to Janice Cook; Joy Chalmers, and Donna Bourne.

The girls were given a fascinating lecture on conservation in Canada and the need for setting aside large park areas to preserve our natural and game resources.

In the late fall Mrs. Maynard took a number of the guides to McIntyre Canyon where they were taken on a long hike. They were made aware of the Park Area that is set aside for the preservation of the Big Horn Sheep. The girls prepared their food in advance and later roasted it over an open fire.

The Dec. 20 meeting was held at the Nurses' Home. The Girl Guides then proceeded to the hospital where each patrol tastefully decorated a small potted Christmas tree. They went to the various hospital rooms placing a tree on the vanity stand, where it glittered in front of the mirror.

The Guides and members of the Rangers clustered on the stairs of the hospital and sang a selection of Christmas carols to the patients. The girls returned to the Nurses' Home where they had an exchange of gifts, played games and sang songs. Donna Bourne and Alison Smith acted as hostesses and served a delicious snack.

Centennial choir begins next week

Rehearsals of the Centennial Mixed Choir will begin at 7:30 next Wednesday night, Jan. 11, in the Secondary School.

As a large group is anticipated, arrangements have been made with the School Board and Mr. Tamlyn for the use of the auditorium stage for practices.

Plenty of music is on hand, and it is hoped those planning to join will do so from the first. All voices, young and old, will be made welcome. No advance registration is required and no fee will be charged.

Formation of a choir to take part in this year's celebrations has been the outcome of a request by the local Centennial Committee. Organization has been taken on by the Singers' & Players' Club under the presidency of Peter Beulah. The membership committee has been headed by Mrs. Flora Bergstrom. Musical Director will be W. A. (Bud) Steuart.

A concert of Canadian music and folk songs is projected for April. In addition, the Choir will take part in an outdoor religious service at the end of June, and at the dedication of Giant's Head Park on July 1st.

in their scarlet choir gowns.

Young Bonnie McKinnon played lively selections on her accordion and the George Pringle High School play staged by the school drama club, under Mrs. Tozer's direction, kept the audience amused. Selections by the Peachland recorder band were also enjoyed, and the young men's band comprising of Bill Miller, Dave Derikson, Dennis Mack and Craig Milligan gave selections of music in a more modern vein.

Highlight of the evening for the young fry was a visit from Santa Claus, assisted by helpers Vicki Bradbury and Sharon Mitchell in handing out treats for the kiddies.

Mrs. J. Hunter, president of this year's Christmas Tree committee and all her assistants are to be commended on the excellent concert.

Reeve Holmes, left, welcomes Walter Powell back to council to begin his sixth term of office. Looking on is Jim Schaeffer who was chosen Acting Reeve at Summerland's statutory meeting Tuesday afternoon. Powell was re-elected by acclamation last December along with Bill Barkwill. Barkwill could not attend this first meeting.

Many agricultural meetings and events during January

By A. W. WATT, District Horticulturist
The orchardists night school program resumes on Monday, January 9th in the Summerland Secondary School. Attendance at these sessions has been excellent all fall and we expect even greater interest during January and February as growers swing into the 1967 season. The speakers for these sessions are authorities in their fields. They afford an excellent opportunity for orchardists to gain first hand information on most aspects of fruit growing. The first session of 1967 starts at 8 p.m. on Monday, Jan. 9th. The speaker will be Dr.

Dave McMullen of the Summerland Research Station who will deal with Pear Psylla. Coloured slides and movies of psylla will be shown. Copies of the program for all sessions are available from the District Horticultural Office. Also on January 9th and 10th daytime sessions of the second annual Agricultural Outlook Conference take place at the Capri Motor Inn, Kelowna. The meetings will appraise the long and short term outlook for agricultural supply and demand in the region and will include new research developments. Last year's Outlook Conference held in Penticton attracted over 200 interested persons from many spheres of agricultural interest. It is expected that this year's conference will pick up from where the 1966 Conference left off and will include short and long term outlook as well as a close look at farm credit and agricultural education. Panel discussions will be held on three commodities — beef, dairy and tree fruits. Your attention is drawn to the panel on tree fruits which was incorrectly advertised as small fruits in an earlier release. The meetings will be expected to run from 9 a.m. to 12:15 noon and from 2 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. on each of the two days. No formal night sessions are planned. All those interested will be welcome to attend. Later in January the 78th Annual Convention of the BC-FGA will convene in Kelowna at the Aqua Ballroom of the Aquatic Association. Dates for this, a major event of the orchardists' year, are January 17, 18 and 19. A total of 32 resolutions will be placed before the delegates at this convention. The final week of January will see the start of the Sunrise Chautauqua over CHBC-TV. Dates for this program are Jan. 30, 31, Feb. 1, 2 and 3. Program is scheduled to start at 8 a.m. and run to 9:30 each morning. Subjects to be covered are insect and disease control, apple quality, tree training and pruning and questions and answers.

Skaters return lost boy to anxious folks

The six hours between noon and 6 p.m. seemed much longer for Mrs. Clifford Gibson on Tuesday of last week.

Her nine-year-old son Clifford was lost in the hills between Highway 97 and Garnett Valley.

He had left his house on the Old Peachland Td. about noon to go and look at some deer on the hill behind the house. When he had not returned by 3 p.m. and it started snowing, Mrs. Gibson phoned her husband at work in Penticton to come home and look for the boy.

Mr. Gibson scoured the hillside for more than two hours without finding a trace.

The boy was brought home shortly after 6 p.m. by a group who had been at a skating party at Garnett Valley Dam.

FALLEN ASLEEP
Young Clifford said he had fallen asleep, and when he awoke it was snowing and he couldn't tell which way he should go to reach home.

He said he started walking and heard voices so headed towards them and came across the skating party at the dam, which is on the other side of the hill from his house.

"He shouldn't have been lost," said Mrs. Gibson. "He has been running over those hills for years. But I am very grateful to the young people who brought him home safely."

Equalization grant sought for out-of-town university students

A students' committee has been organized to work for an equalization grant for out-of-town students attending B. C. universities.

Organized at the University of Victoria, the "Equalization Grants Committee" is seeking to focus public attention on the greater cost of attending universities which must be borne by rural area students, and to urge the provincial government to make a grant to help compensate for the extra cost.

An initial report by the student committee claims the present financial situation of students tends to educate a "financial and sociological elite" . . . and that the students bear the characteristics of the middle and upper income classes of society. The existing educational system, continues the report, "grossly discriminates among certain elements of the population . . . and particularly the out-of-town students".

LET'S GET NEWSY...

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kopp, Shirley and Brian of Prince George spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. J. Heichert.
Dr. and Mrs. M. D. Proverbs held an open house on New Year's day.

Scouts seeking land for growing Christmas trees

Mr. Norman Abernethy, chairman of the First Summerland Scout Troop, told the Summerland Council Dec. 28, they are seeking municipal land to lease to start a Christmas tree farm.

He said, in the past, they've been able to finance themselves through the sale of Christmas trees and with the help of their sponsor, the Summerland Royal Canadian Legion, but since they are no longer able to cut trees in what is now Giant's Head Park, they need another source of supply.

They also sponsor an apple day during the year.

He had been in contact with Works Superintendent Blagborne, who was not present at this meeting, and he said there should be no difficulty in coming up with a suitable location. Abernethy said they are looking for five or six acres.

Reeve Holmes questioned the wisdom of such a small acreage and suggested twenty acres may be better, but Abernethy said he had been assured it would be sufficient, but possibly they could use up to ten acres.

He said the forestry branch would supply the seedlings and qualified people would supervise the planting.

It was decided to ask Blagborne, with Scout officials to look over some sites and report back to council.

"I think it is marvellous that you will take this on", Reeve Holmes told Abernethy, "and you can expect every co-operation from council."

BY-LAW MAY BE TOO RIGID

John Dunn questioned the fairness of the by-law that states that a barn or a corral must be situated at least 150 feet from any property line, in agricultural zones.

He said there are ten-acre properties in Garnett Valley, only 300 ft. wide which means a barn or corral could not be built. He said his property is only 300 feet wide, which means he could not extend his existing barn if he wanted to. The by-law was passed two years ago.

Mr. T. I. Davies also attended council on the same issue and suggested the by-law be changed so each situation would be considered separately depending on existing conditions.

He said there is a lot of talk about diversification of agriculture in the valley and suggested the raising of cattle is one alternative.

Councillor Barkwill said the reason the by-law was passed two years ago as a result of many complaints of people having one or two horses on their property.

Council thought there was a possibility the by-law was too rigid and said they would refer the matter to the Planning Commission.

Davies made the suggestion that the council, as a Centennial project, should have a copy of all by-laws printed and distributed to ratepayers.

This would be rather a large project because the last by-law passed was number 1110 — and besides, the copies would soon be obsolete because changes and amendments are continually being made.

DRAG STRIP

Councillor Powell said Blagborne and members of the Valley Saints car club had looked over the site at the old golf course.

This Penticton car club has expressed a desire to lease some property to build a drag strip.

Powell said he was told they would not need the whole area, for which he was pleased because he felt "some day there could be agriculture there". Negotiations had not started for the land.

Councillor Barkwill was appointed Director and Councillor Schaeffer, alternate, of the Regional District of Okanagan-Similkameen.

Outlook conference set for January

Agriculture Minister Frank Richter announced this week, that from early indications, there would be a good attendance at the forthcoming three Agricultural Outlook Conferences sponsored by the British Columbia Department of Agriculture in co-operation with various groups interested in Agriculture. Conference dates are January 9, 6 at Prince George, January 9, 10 at Kelowna and January 12, 13 at Vancouver.

The Minister pointed out that this, the second annual series of Outlook Conferences, would continue to focus attention on the long term and immediate outlook for agricultural production and market prospects in the various regions of the Province, as well as point up the impact of new technological research on agricultural development. In addition, Mr. Richter emphasized that the program was being expanded to cover discussions on farm credit and agricultural education and provision was being made for panels on some of the major agricultural commodities in the area.

"Our aim is to focus attention on agricultural supply and demand possibilities and we hope that this can be accomplished by providing these opportunities for all those associated with agriculture to contribute their knowledge and ideas," the Minister stated. "The dynamics of agriculture require as to take this forward looking approach," he said.

Mr. Richter expressed the hope that all those interested in agriculture would attend and participate in the various sessions of these Conferences.

The Prince George meeting will deal with beef, dairy, grain and seed; and in Vancouver poultry, dairy and small fruits will be discussed.

The Kelowna meeting will be held at the Capri Motel Inn, Jan. 9 and 10, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and from 2 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. All those interested will be welcome to attend. Beef, dairy and tree fruits will be discussed.

TEEN PULSE

By GORDON STENNER

DEAR GORDY: When a teenager continuously deceives his parents until all trust has been shattered, how does this young person begin to untangle the web? It seems so often that young people rationalize that they were forced into this by over-strict parents.

—A PARENT

Dear Parent: Your problem is not new. Deception is lying. But, why does your teen lie to you? What causes him to mistrust you?

There must be a reason! Very bluntly, young people invariably reflect their parents' attitudes.

Do you "protect" him from thinking for himself? Do you hold up unrealistic goals? Is he rebelling against pre-digested opinions?

I have personally questioned scores of teens concerning parental relationship. Close to 80 per cent indicate a "no communication" barrier. This is tragic!

Many state they are "afraid" to confide in mom and dad. One said she could not talk to mom because she "blabs it all over the place".

Let's face it! Teenagers tend to mirror their parents' chronic state of waster energy, bitterness, anxiety, worry, selfishness and immaturity.

Your boy's respect must be earned. Be firm but thoughtful. His respect cannot be gained by "giving in" or by lavish gifts to "buy" obedience and trust.

Above all, you must sit down with him and have a real talk. By this, I suggest that you ask him his reasons why he cannot confide in you. Then, listen! You may be surprised.

From the religious bigot to the poor, fallen Samaritan woman, Jesus a l w a y s listened. You will overcome more than fifty per cent of your problem right here.

Listen for the diagnosis! And remember, Christ has the answer to every communication problem. He did for us!

A former Summerland High School Principal, now an executive with the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation will be the guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Summerland Chamber of Commerce February 2.

Kenneth Caple, Vancouver, Director of the western division of the CBC will speak on the Centennial year. He was principal in Summerland in the mid-twenties. Arrangements have been made by Chamber President, Eric Tait.

Norman Tannar Kiwanis president

The Summerland Kiwanis Club held their annual banquet, dance and installation of officers in the IOOF Hall Tuesday night.

Master of Ceremonies was retiring president Harry Hackman.

Harry, after a busy year, had one last duty to perform before he could sit back and enjoy the evening — he had to sweep one of Jerry Hallquist's curling rocks.

The rink was made in "jig time" by placing two large slabs of ice on the floor. Hallquist threw the curling rock, and Hackman did the sweeping — fully dressed in kilts — supplied by Scottie Ritchie.

Installation officer was Lt. Governor Don Hasler. Taking over the reins as president is Norm Tannar. Vice-president is Bernie Hume-Smith; secretary, Brian Liebert; treasurer, Hans Meierhofer; directors: John Tamblay, Walter Toews, Lloyd Shanon, Jerry Hallquist, Ken Heales, George Henry and Bill Laidlaw.

Group singing was lead by Bill Laidlaw and Jack O'Mahony gave the toast to the ladies and Pat Hume-Smith replied.

The toast to Kiwanis was given by Doug Campbell.

Guests of the evening were Reeve and Mrs. Norman Holmes, Kinsmen president Wally Austin, Rotary president Keath and Mrs. Marten, incoming president of the Pentiction Club—Reese and Mrs. Calvert, incoming president of the Oliver club — Bob and Mrs. Potter.

Greg Pruden skips top school rink

Congratulations to Greg Pruden who attends school in Pentiction, who skipped his rink to the South Okanagan championship in school competition. He takes his rink to Vernon this weekend to challenge the northern winners.

Bentley Memorial Scholarship awarded to James Leigh

The Elizabeth Bentley Memorial scholarship of $500 is awarded to James Leigh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Leigh of Ottawa, and recently West Bench, Pentiction.

This award is presented to third year students by the Grand Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, an award given annually to sons and daughters of members of the order.

Jim received his early schooling in Pentiction and at Pen-Hi and is now in his last year of Chemical Engineering at UBC.

Construction value close to two million in Summerland

Construction value in Summerland was up $874,520 in 1966 and attained a record figure of $1,922,874 according to Building Inspector John Khalembach's report presented to council last week.

Included in this amount is the new hospital for $996,000. Last year, total building was $1,048,960 which also included institutional permits for school additions for $234,150.

Without the institutional permits considered for the two years, construction of residential, accessory buildings, commercial and industrial building was up $114,064 during 1966 over the previous year.

There were 177 permits issued during 1966 and 171 during 1965.

Total permits applied for in December, 1966 was 10 for $44,200 compared to 6 for $2,300 for the same period in 1965.

The women of the Anglican Church tell me their Centennial calendars have sold well — in fact they are nearing the bottom of the barrel so to speak — so if you want one of these souvenirs, act fast . . . there will only be one Centennial calendar, and this one is filled with Summerland pictures. They are still available at this office, at the "Bulletin," at Jim Green's Drug Store, and at Daniel's Grocery on Lakeshore Drive.

Benjamin Franklin was a man of many accomplishments. This is well known. Little is written about his father but contained in a story I read of his life in the printing industry, it noted the senior Franklin was the father of seventeen children — seven by his first wife and ten by his second. Should any of us have that many children, we would need a genius (without going on welfare, that is), like Benjamin Franklin to figure out how to feed them all. Mind you, if the Franklins were living in B. C. today, they would get a minimum of about $800 per month on welfare.

Many memories of my school days were brought back to me when I looked at the front page of the January 5th issue of the Pentiction Herald. On top right of that page was a picture of B.C. Labor and Education Minister Leslie Peterson and smack in the centre was a picture of Chester Ronning, Canada's peace emissary to Vietnam. Les and I were classmates at

Hospital and Municipal officials have talked to Premier Bennett regarding the future use of the old Summerland Hospital, and on the suggestion of the Premier, the building may be turned into a nursing home.

Hospital Administrator Harvey Wilson, 1st vice-president of the Hospital Society, Frank Haar; 2nd vice-president, Dugal MacGregor, and board member Don Clark were at the council meeting Tuesday evening to discuss this.

Wilson said he and Reeve Holmes, and Hospital Society president Les Rumball had talked to Mr. Bennett in the hope they could make the old hospital available for chronic patients. Bennett said patients could get better care in a centralized hospital in Pentiction. But he did agree that a Nursing Home would be an ideal institution.

Holmes had pointed out to him there were many retired people in Summerland and there was a waiting list to get into Parkdale Place.

The Hospital Society at a special meeting, divided the old building should be turned over to the Municipality. They said the municipality would have more chance of the government waiving their equity in the building than the Society would and in addition to this they did not think the department would allow them to operate the other institution.

Wilson said the building would be all ready to go with a few exceptions — the main one being the installation of a new elevator to transport patients and to bring food up from the ground floor. Estimated cost of this was 20,000. He said a nursing home operation should have bathrooms suitable for patients to be wheeled in. It is estimated that $25,000 would put the building in good operating condition. Most of the furniture would stay and possibly some linen.

Private interests have indicated a willingness to go into a lease agreement. They have inspected the building and think it is excellent.

Wilson said the board is anxious to have someone move in at the same time as they move out. The implication was that vandals could make short work of the empty premises. The target Star for several years, until moving recently with her family to Ottawa.

Under The Giant's Head

Camrose College when Mr. Ronning was the Principal of that school. Both men have done extremely well . . . then there is me.

Isn't it funny, the guys who sell snow shovels and scrapers have canopies over the sidewalk. Our neighbor, Jack Dunsdon at Farm and Garden just stands at his door and grins at me every morning after a snowfall. After awhile he brings out a display of snow moving equipment and places them side by side on his dry sidewalk. It's not fair . . . and Jack, look how many more scrapers you would sell if you had the opportunity to demonstrate them . . . show people what a good job they can do when operated properly. I'll tell you what I'll let you do. Next time it snows, you can come up the street and clean my walk . . . put a sign on your back telling the citizenry where the scraper is available, or for a fee (being as how we bought our scraper from you) I will wear the sign and clean my own walk . . . but Jack you gotta have your snow removal equipment demonstrated when the ingredients for a successful promotion are so close at hand so often.

Some of the Peachland residents have gone nuts. If you don't think so, call in and see Ken Fulks or Pato Spackman — but if you haven't got a growth of beard of a week or two's standing they may not recognize you . . . and if they can find an excuse they will have you sign on the dotted line, pledging to let your board grow until their Centennial day, April 1. They are very fair about it though. They got a dollar and a pledge from me with a reasonable alternative of a professional tar and feather job on April Fool's day. . . . They didn't say when I had to start though — not at least until I get back from Montreal at the end of the month. Spackman, on a dare, tinted his a fiery red. The ladies are in the act too. They are wearing colorful garters one inch above the knee, and the only ones who are authorized to challenge these ladies as to whether they are wearing one or not are the bearded gents. If they are, it must be shown . . . Jack Garraway is still shaving — says he is giving the boys a 17-day handicap.

Ken McInnes is real enthusiastic about the historic films that will be made available to Summerland Adult School. They are all of Canadian history and we understand the National Film Board is pleased to — so pleased they have thrown in some extra special films in addition to the seventeen arranged for, at the same price. The "Lesson Shows" start tonight and go for three nights, January 19 and Feb. 3 at the Secondary School and there is no limit to the number who can take part. Ken says, if there is enough interest, they may be able to give a special rate to Mr. and Mrs. for $5.00, rather than the specified $3.00 each. Here's a bargain — and you learn about Canada's history too.

Council approved their proposal to accept the offer in principle. Now the board has to call a special meeting of the society to see if their recommendation meets with the approval of the membership.

LOCAL IMPROVEMENTS
The Summerland Advisory Planning Commission has requested the Regional District to take action or investigate the possibility of some improvements in the municipality. A copy of their letter was read to council. Here are the three suggested points:

- (1) Request a study be done on Main north access to the Summerland business area and Victoria Street and to consider the possibility of an Urban Renewal project being undertaken which would include road widening and park facilities.
- (2) That plans be prepared to show the possibilities of development of the Summerland Lakeshore area as a major tourist attraction to the municipality and also for high quality residential development.
- (3) That Highway 97 be re-routed from the south end of Pentiction to the north end of Summerland and the construction of a four lane highway be pursued by the Regional District, the Department of Highways and the Department of Public Works.

The letter stated "These projects can be considered to be of prime importance to the development of the municipality."

The letter was signed, D. B. Clark, Chairman, Advisory Planning Commission.

OTHER COUNCIL BUSINESS
F. E. Atkinson, Howard Pruden and John R. Butler will act on the Court of Revision.

Jack Barkwill and Katie Evans attended the meeting to request permission on behalf of Teeri Town, to be able to use the Summerland Billiard Parlor on Sunday afternoon exclusively for their own organization. Competitions will be arranged.

Future Teachers' Club attends meeting of school trustees

School Superintendent Gordon Paton chaired the first meeting of the year of the Summerland School Board last week, prior to the swearing in ceremonies of re-elected trustees and the election of a chairman for the coming term.

Secretary-treasurer Jas. Hack took charge while Trustees Dr. David McIntosh, Dr. James Miltimore and John Bennest took their oath of office. All were returned to office by acclamation.

Past chairman John Bennest retired from his position and trustees chose Dr. Miltimore to take control.

You have a genuine interest in your work."

Trustee McIntosh, who heads the Teacher Retention and Recruitment Committee said he was pleased Summerland had an active Future Teachers club and congratulated the girls for choosing a teaching career. He said there would be a demand for 1,700 more teachers than will be available in B. C. this year. There is a great need for teacher recruitment outside the province as well he stressed.

The girls were introduced by teacher K. D. McInnes before McIntosh presented new members with pins.

plans for levelling the property so tenders can be called for doing the work. The plans are to do it in the spring so it may be seeded and in use by fall.

The secretary-treasurer was authorized to sign cheques of $100 or less alone. For over $100, chairman Miltimore or Bennest must also sign.

Donald H. Wright was appointed custodian at the Trout Creek School for the usual probationary period of six months. The next meeting will be held on January 18th.

Visiting to watch the procedure were members of the Future Teachers' Club. They were Sheryl Shenton, president, Cathy Caldwell, Beverley DeWitt, Sandra Dunn, Ellen Gerard, Vivian Kinvig, Connie Roberge, Sue Nelson and Mary Fester. This represents nine of the 23 club members.

Before turning the chair over to chairman Miltimore, Paton brought personal greetings to the girls. He praised the trustees for just concluding "one of the biggest building programs ever to take place in Summerland." He said this has made a change in the original pattern of education.

Mr. Paton told trustees, he was "glad to be associated with you gentlemen and Mr. Hack.

The board agreed to contribute $30 towards the expenses of two girls to attend the conference of future teachers to be held this year at the University of Victoria later this month. President Sheryl Shenton and Beverley DeWitt will make the trip. Various projects are sponsored by the teachers club in co-operation with the Students Council to assist with expenses as well.

OTHER SCHOOL BUSINESS
Hack said the flume has been removed on the Dunham property now owned by the school, and the municipality will undertake to bury the pipe shortly.

Works Superintendent Ken Blagborne has been asked to prepare specifications and

Peachland Council appoints heads

PEACHLAND — Municipal clerk H. C. MacNeill presided at the swearing in ceremony for the 1967 incoming council members J. H. Clements and T. R. Stuart at last week's inaugural meeting of Peachland's council.

Department appointments for the coming year were made as follows: Clements, roads; E. Boots, domestic water and fire department; S. Elatone, beach and recreation; Stuart, municipal property and finance.

Council meetings will be held on the second and fourth Wednesday of each month at 7:30 p.m.

Municipal representatives to the various local district boards and committees are as follows: H. Thwaito, Kelowna and district Hospital Board; S. Elatone, Regional Planning Board; I. Jackson, South Okanagan Health Board and Okanagan Valley Pollution Control Committee; T. R. Stuart, Peachland Recreation Commission; Boot, Peachland Centennial Committee; Dr. A. L. Wells, Okanagan Regional Library Board.

Councillor Clements was elected acting-reve in the coming year in the event of Roove Thwaito's absence.

Signing officers are clerk H. C. MacNeill and Roove Thwaito or Councillor Clements.

W. A. Ker, representing the engineering firm doing a water study for Brenda Mines was present. Mr. Ker spoke of Planning studies that the municipality will need if the mine commences operations this spring and stated his firm's qualifications in this kind of study.

Some of the points mentioned were the expansion of domestic water service, order of growth — both in commercial and housing developments, the roads, street lighting and sewage development.

Roove Thwaito thanked Mr. Ker for his helpful suggestions, but added, council can make no plans at this time until there is definite information as to whether the Brenda Mine is to go ahead. But an outline of what planning would be necessary and the maximum cost of such a study, would receive careful consideration.

Roove Thwaito reported that R. C. Seed's plans for installing his own water system from the lake, as approved at the last council meeting had now been changed.

Seed now wishes council's permission to hook up the domestic water pipe in Trepanier. The clerk was instructed to request he put his new proposal in writing and they would hand down their decision at the next meeting.

32 resolutions on agenda for 78th BCFGA convention

By BRENDA DAVIES
PEACHLAND — The following students have returned to their various institutions of learning after spending the festive season at home: Jennifer Sanderson left for Victoria; Francis MacNeill returned to Calgary; Brian Flintoff left for SFU and Margaret MacNeill returned to UBC.

Home again after a holiday visit to Edmonton are Mr. and Mrs. P. Lucier and Brock. Guests at the home of Mrs. W. D. Miller for a new year's visit is Mrs. E. Lawley of Oliver.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Miller and Kelly are home again after a holiday trip to the coast. A number of young girls in Peachland would like to start a Girl Guide troop but at present cannot find a leader. Any women in the community interested in helping these youngsters is asked to get in touch with Trudy Lingor.

Mr. H. Pentland left at the end of the month for Kelowna, where he will make his home until spring when he plans to take an extended trip to Mexico. On his return to the Okanagan Mr. Pentland intends to build on the Blue Waters subdivision.

Richard Smith has returned to Vancouver after spending a few days at the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. G. Smith. He was accompanied by a friend, Al Frost of Vancouver. Congratulations are in order to Richard who has now completed his course and was awarded his BA.

Newcomers to the community are Mr. and Mrs. J. Slivinsky who have bought Mr. Pentland's house on Beach Ave. The Slivinskys moved here from Kelowna where they have resided since last summer. Mr. Slivinsky is employed by Brenda Mines.

Mrs. L. B. MacPherson is home again after a short visit to Port Coquitlam where she attended the funeral of an old friend.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Smith received word that their daughter Margy, who has been living this past year in Bermuda, has a new job and has moved to Nassau in the Bahamas.

Home again is Mrs. G. Fallowfield after spending Christmas and New Year's visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. Fallowfield and her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. L. Svekla in Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Walker are home again spending two weeks at the coast.

TEEN TOWN DONATE $75
At Thursday's meeting of Peachland Teen Town, the group voted to donate $75 to the Peachland Recreation Commission. This money is to be used for new tables in the renovated Baptist Church.

To raise money for March of Dimes they collected beer bottles, held raffles and went carolling. They decided to donate $34 to the $68 collected to make the total $100. A Teen Town Sweetheart contest is being planned for February.

Only 32 resolutions are listed on the order paper for the 78th annual convention of the B.C. Fruit Growers Association to be held in Kelowna next week. Normally from 40 to 50 resolutions are placed on the agenda. Many of the resolutions to be discussed are familiar ones that have been defeated in other years.

Oliver has the highest number of resolutions among the South Okanagan locals. Their resolutions call for the investigation of the purchase of fertilizer from the Alberta Wheat Pool; withdrawal of restrictions and handling of fruit to maintain a high quality product at retail outlets. A Glenmore resolution suggests an apple seminar in the large centres "to familiarize the staff of retail outlets in the proper method of handling apples." A Rutland-Ellison resolution asks for more rigid inspection of retail outlets by Canada Department of agriculture officials.

Longest bylaw on the agenda this year is the extraordinary resolution submitted by the executive of the BCFGA, in place of a resolution that failed to gain support at last year's convention. The resolution is designed to "provide for changes and consolidation of industry administration."

It will in effect ratify changes made last year which combined the two boards of B. C. Tree Fruits and Sun-Rype Products Limited. In addition it will amalgamate Northern and Central district councils, leaving three district councils — northern, southern and Kootenay, with a reduced number of representatives on the BCFGA executive and the combined boards of B.C. Tree Fruits and Sun-Rype Products Limited. on the immigration of qualified orchard workers; the study of setting up camps for workers and inspection of nursery stock.

Summerland local has called for a bonus for all Star Pack Red Delicious and that growers be allowed the option of deciding which fruit shall be packed in the Star Pack.

Penticton has called for a reduction in the number of packages and that assistance be given designated packing houses in the installation of equipment to handle other than a standard boxes. Penticton resolution also requests that future convention sessions do not extend past 6:00 p.m.

Botanically speaking, the apple is a member of the rose family.

If 100 apple trees are grown from the seed of one tree, all will be different.

A wonderful route to follow

Someone wisely observed that it is fortunate for us all that before we enter the New Year we first pass through Bethlehem, hear the Christmas angels "their great glad tidings tell," and lose our old fears in renewed faith. Also the Christian Year takes us with Wise Men to offer gifts of devotion, hope, worship to the One whose grace and spirit "maketh all things new." We need a guiding Star, for the road ahead is one we have never traveled. God gives us Christ, and also the promise: "Fear thou not; for I am with thee; be not dismayed; for I am thy God; I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness."

CENTENNIAL GESTURE

Legislature to open Jan. 24 in New Westminster Arena

One hundred years of British Columbia history will be bridged on January 24, when the first session of the twenty-eighth Legislative Assembly will open in New Westminster. The British Columbia Centennial Committee requested the government to convene the session in the city where the first session of the Legislative Council of the colony of British Columbia was convened on January, 1867.

The colony had been formed by proclamation of the union of crown colonies on Vancouver Island and the Mainland on November 19, 1866.

New Westminster did not long remain the capital of the new colony, but the Provincial Centennial Committee received the temporary return of government to the mainland as a fitting reminder of the birth of the province 100 years ago. "It is expected up to 7,000 people will witness the opening," said L.J. Wallace, general chairman of the Provincial Centennial Committee. "This will be far the largest crowd ever to attend a legislative opening."

The furniture of the legislative chambers in Victoria will be transported to New Westminster, by the British Columbia Department of Public Works and the floor plan of the Chamber simulated in Queen's Park Arena.

The session will open at 3 p.m., with the colourful panoply of ceremony inherited from British Colonial days.

The guard of honour and band will be provided by the Royal New Westminster Regiment and the Ancient Order of the Hyack Anvil Battery will fire the Royal Salute.

Lieutenant Governor George Pearkes will read the speech from the throne.

Council seeking second referendum

The Okanagan Regional College Council agreed to retain their present staff at their meeting in Kelowna Monday.

Council chairman Frank Venables was asked if presidential Norman Walker's contract was for a year. He answered, "No, longer than that."

New council members attending council for the first time, were Allen Michelson, Vernon and Mr. Dixon of Armstrong.

The 1967 budget of $290,434 was approved. Of this, $51,400 are anticipated architect's fees which will be needed if the referendum they expect to hold is successful.

The option for additional office space will continue to be in effect until May 31, 1967.

President Walker was authorized to appoint an information officer for the future.

The last referendum campaign will be analyzed and the publicity committee will report back.

The building committee reported there would be no additional funds spent until it is definite the referendum is going ahead and that Penticton is in.

Chairman Venables said they are going to try to consolidate all school districts and get Penticton in. He told the press they have spoken casually about it but that no decision on future action has been made.

Summerland Review — 4

A damaging attitude

If we were to accept the tone of the December "Newsletter" a publication issued to the British Columbia Teachers' Federation, the reasonable conclusion would be that those responsible for its content are promoting open warfare between teachers and school trustees in the province. We do not accept this as being the intent, but we would like to suggest to Editor K.M. Aitchison that nothing will be gained by making trustees angry, nor will it produce good employee - employer relations.

There was no suggestion that School Trustees are right once in a while, or that their responsibility is towards the taxpayer, the children and the teachers. There was no suggestion that they have an interest in education, conversely, it was implied on more than one occasion that they are standing in the way of educational progress. School Trustees do have a genuine interest in education - they serve their community without remuneration of any kind except for travelling and living out expenses when away from home on school business.

On the other hand, teachers are striving for the betterment of education for our children. They want to improve teaching methods and upgrade teaching conditions and this is an advantage to both teacher and pupil. We should, and must, listen to them - make full use of their experience. But to sound off as was done in the December newsletter is not dignified or representative of a respected profession. The monthly newsletters are distributed to school trustees and the press throughout the province.

It is not our intention to take sides with teachers or trustees. The Chant Royal Commission on education recommended there be no more than 30 to 35 children per teacher to ensure adequate teaching and learning situations, which is a topic now being considered. We accept this as being a fact. So do we accept the fact that there is an area of difference regarding wage negotiations but the manner in which Editor Aitchison is going about making his point can do nothing but insert a wall between teacher and trustee.

For example the following was taken from the front page editorial of the periodical.

"The problem this year, as in the past has been that BCSTA (British Columbia School Trustees' Association) policies have violated basic principles of collective bargaining. There would be no problem if trustees would accept their responsibility to negotiate in the true sense of the word. Until they do, the form of bargaining - local, zonal, or provincial - will be immaterial. "Trustees are being naive if they think compulsory zonal negotiations will somehow make teachers accept decisions by trustees that they are unwilling to accept now in local areas. The only difference is that in a zone there are more of them to become incensed about any denial of their bargaining rights."

"The tactics of the school boards this fall were ones the BCSTA has been promoting for several years. Chief among them is to adopt salary policies guaranteed to prevent negotiated agreements, thereby forcing arbitrations, and then to cry loudly about the 'chaotic' conditions which have resulted, in the hope that the provincial government will pass legislation to 'solve' the problem."

Later in the editorial it charges, "In short, the conciliation procedure was reduced to a farce by trustees bent on destroying local bargaining."

Editor Aitchison came up with a real public relations bomb when he closed his editorial with "Many trustees prefer to let arbitration hearings settle salaries. In doing so, they incur the double fees and expenses of bargaining agents, the cost of the arbitration hearings, plus the increase awarded by the hearings - which are usually what teachers would have settled for anyway. This is economy? It's time taxpayers were given the full story, not just part of it."

What is meant by "Many trustees" is not spelled out, but it sounds like a pretty blanket statement which no doubt ruffled the hair of many trustees.

After reading this, the human reaction would be for trustees to be on the defensive when even constructive proposals are presented to them by the teaching administration. These unpaid servants of education do not deserve such treatment, but we hope are above retaliation.

Here is another editorial comment under the heading, "Pity The Ostrich."

"A recent BCSTA statement complained that the 7.5 per cent increase awarded in the 58 agreements reached this fall were too large. The statement then described how difficult it is to recruit enough teachers each year."

"Apparently the BCSTA sees no relationship between the level of teachers' salaries and recruitment difficulties. An ostrich with its head in the sand has a better vision than that."

In view of the lack of respect shown here, the author can expect little in return from the BCSTA.

Running for shelter

This is the age of the security seeker. People seem to be more concerned with the promised pleasure of growing old in comfort and dying in comfort than they are with the joy of living today.

Too many young men embarking on a career show more interest in looking for a safe harbor for retirement than a search for adventure on the sea of life.

Fringe benefits and generous pension are magic phrases that have moved up to a place of more importance (in the eyes of the employee) than the job itself.

The insurance hucksters add their contribution to the security paint by pointing out the dire consequences of not having "adequate protection" against just about everything.

Their maxim could well be: "Don't take a chance," which seems ironic in a nation that risks millions on horse racing and bingo.

Even the government has moved into the security business with its old age pension and Canada Pension Plan.

This phase of security has grown in importance with the progress of medical science which has added many years to human life span and brought more people into the pension age.

Latest move of the government is into the field of crop insurance for fruit growers. This looked attractive at a distance, but as presently constituted fruit crop insurance has few supporters, even though it was instituted at the request of the growers themselves.

Hail insurance has long been available from private companies, and recently from the grower organized company, but until now there has been no coverage for loss by frost, wind, etc.

Farmers are traditionally an independent lot, accustomed to running their own show, and living dangerously by gambling with the vagaries of climate and weather.

Unless there's a new breed of farmers in the fruit business I believe most growers will limit their crop insurance to hail coverage, take a chance on the other hazards, and pass up the government sponsored all-hazard coverage unless it is made more flexible and less costly.

Vernon peppers Summerland

By Ron Kostelniuk

In hockey action this past week, the PEE WEES were dumped 15-1 by visiting Vernon. A goal by Fred Perepolkin, his first of four, at the .45 mark of the first period started the Vernon runaway. Other marksmen for Vernon were Jeff Todd and Barry Dye with two goals and four assists each and Bernie Marchand with three goals and one assist.

For Summerland, Bruce Gartrell netted the only marker past Ken Holland, in the Vernon net, at the 1:35 mark of the final period. Dwayne Smith drew the assist. There were three penalties in the game, with one to Summerland. Ray Stevenson drew it when he and Lyle Brewer went off together in the second. The game was played on the 8th at the Arena.

The JUVENILES, in Kelowna on the 5th, were dumped 15 to 4. After an unsteady first period, newcomer Bob Dundon, in goal, settled down and did a good job but Summerland was unable to come from behind. Summerland sharpshooters were George Jenner with 2; Dale Jenner 1; Barry Smith.

Next hockey action will see the windup of regular league action on the 12th. The Juveniles host Penticton, starting at 8:30 at the Arena, and the Midgets travel to Kelowna.

Seniors win, Juniors loose at basketball in Winfield

By Ron Kostelniuk

On Saturday the 7th, the Jr. and Sr. boys basketball teams travelled to Winfield for exhibition games.

In the opener, the George Elliott squad came up with a 25-18 victory. Trailing 5-4 after one quarter, they bounced back to take a 12-0 half-time lead and never looked back. The locals had the opportunities to win the game but failed to capitalize on them. For Winfield, the scoring was evenly divided with Jim Polukoshko and Marvin Gunn leading the way with six points. Bill Denhise had 4 and four players had 2 points. For Summerland, Herb DeWitt had 7; Jerry Johnson 5; Len Gores and Ron Hack 2 each.

Meanwhile the Seniors, in an exciting game to the final second, fought from behind to win a 37-36 squeaker. Trailing late in the final quarter, they took the lead and hung on in the final minute for the win. Captain Bill Fitzpatrick was the big gun as he connected for 13 points. Ron Mayne had 7; Gerry Marsh and Colley Eaton 5; Don Johnson 4 and Marvin Barg 3. Making the trip but not playing due to a cold was Rod Akitt. Not making the trip were Gord Lackey, Ray Davies and Art Bolton.

Next action will see the Srs. host Keremeos on Jan. 13th. The Jrs. host Princess Margaret.

SUMMERLAND

Former Summerland Residents celebrate diamond wedding

Nelson residents for the past 11 years, and former Summerland residents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Neilson Ferguson celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary on the last day of the old year.

Mrs. Ferguson is a patient at Mount St. Francis and their family gathered there to see their parents cut a three-tiered diamond wedding cake.

Telegrams of congratulations were received from Her Majesty, The Queen; Prime Minister L. B. Pearson; Lieut.-Governor G. R. Pearkes; Premier W.A.C. Bennett; Hon. W. D. Black and from Mayor Louis Maglio on behalf of the City of Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson were married at the Black Bull Hotel in Mrs. Ferguson's home town in Milngavie, about nine miles from Glasgow on Dec. 31, 1906. Mrs. Ferguson was born there on April 11, 1881, while Mr. Ferguson was born at Falkirk, Scotland, a town half way between Edinburgh and Glasgow, on April 8, 1882.

The couple migrated to Canada in 1907 settling in Montreal where their first three children — William, Jessie and Archie, were born. After living there nine years the family moved west to Calgary, where they made their home from 1916 to 1923. Here their other two children — Thomas and Betty were born. Mr. Ferguson was an iron molder by trade and when they moved to Trail he worked eight years there in the Cominco molding shop.

They returned to Calgary in 1930 when Mr. Ferguson's health failed. It was during the depression period and the family farmed on a quarter section of land.

"We had to live from hand to mouth," Mr. Ferguson admitted, "but it was the happiest time of our lives."

His three boys are all in the plumbing business, William and Archie in Nelson and Thomas in Vancouver. Their daughter, Jessie, Mrs. Vic Weatherhead, lives in Vancouver and Betty, Mrs. William Fell, lives in Summerland. The couple is proud of their 13 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Mr. Ferguson, 45 years a Mason, is a member of the Summerland Masonic Lodge.

Many cards of congratulations were received by the couple on their auspicious occasion.

The 'Dewdney Trail' subject at Rotary

Penticton Toastmistress, Mrs. Kay DeKay Dewdney will be the guest speaker at the Summerland Rotary Club Friday night.

She will give a historical sketch of the Dewdney Trail — the route used by her husband's pioneer family to transport supplies by pack horse between Hope and Princeton. Mining supplies was the major cargo in those early days. The Hope-Princeton highway takes roughly the same route.

The talk was arranged by Rotarian Walter Wright. Other members of the Toastmistress' Club will address the Summerland Club the following two weeks as well.

Five cars crash, power pole 'injured'

On Jan. 5 a three-car accident occurred on North Victoria Road. As Duane Dickinson of Summerland, north-bound, approached a parked vehicle owned by Alba Minchin, he stopped to allow on-coming traffic to pass. The Dickinson vehicle was then struck from behind by a vehicle driven by Thomas F. Lenzi of Summerland.

Mrs. Minchin was charged with illegal parking and Mr. Lenzi, with following too close. On Jan. 7th at 12:20 a.m., Robert I. MacDonald of Summerland was travelling south on Lakeshore Drive and failed to negotiate a curve at the Cornwall cannery, and struck a power pole. Damage amounted to $800. There were no injuries and RCMP are still investigating. Power was off for as much as one hour in some parts of the municipality.

At 2:24 p.m. on Jan. 9, Howard L. Clark of Summerland was travelling south on Simpson Road. At the junction with Canyon View Road, his vehicle failed to negotiate the turn on the very slippery surface, and struck a tree. Damage amounted to $400. There were no injuries and no charges.

Feb. 17 declared school holiday

Friday, Feb. 17 will be proclaimed a special school holiday to honour the Canadian centenary and the accomplishments of the Fathers of Confederation, it was announced this week by the Hon. L.R. Peterson, Minister of Education.

The Federal Government has proclaimed Wednesday, Jan. 11 as a day to commemorate the birth, in 1815, of Sir John A. Macdonald, Canada's first Prime Minister, but it was not a public holiday and schools in British Columbia did remain open. However, Mr. Peterson said, all school principals had been requested to hold appropriate special exercises yesterday to honour Sir John A. Macdonald.

February 17 was picked as the special Confederation holiday in British Columbia schools because it falls midway between the Christmas and Easter holidays.

Mr. Peterson said he hoped the holiday would emphasize in the minds and hearts of school-age citizens the significance of Confederation and the privilege of being Canadian.

Peachland, brochures distributed, may form Chamber of Commerce

PEACHLAND — The new brochures were distributed last week. E. Beet, chairman of the committee reports that not all donations have been received, but there was enough money in to cover costs at present. The maps have not yet been completed but should be ready in time for the next meeting.

Participating businesses can pick up brochures from H. Lyon and the general public may buy small quantities at the Municipal office. Next meeting, to complete the project, will be held at 8 p.m. on Feb. 2 in the Municipal Hall.

At the February meeting discussion will take place regarding the possibility of forming a Chamber of Commerce. The brochure committee has been so successful "that it seems a pity not to continue to work for other community services", one resident commented. If you are interested in a Chamber of Commerce in Peachland attend this meeting and bring your ideas.

DOG PROBLEM

The New Westminster British Columbian complained in 1865 that prowling dogs were a hazard to pedestrians in the city. They had just torn apart a pig on the street.

Fruit industry must be integrated

E. W. Moore, general manager of B. C. Tree Fruits, stressed at the second Outlook Conference held at Kelowna that maximum returns in the fruit industry can only be obtained by providing the right goods and services in the right form, at the right time and place and to the right people.

He felt that all too often orchardists consult with the wrong people in planning new orchards. He pointed out that there can be a vast difference between products which may be termed successful from a growing viewpoint and those for which there is a ready and profitable market.

He stressed that closer consultation between the grower and the market, through the marketing agency, is essential.

He urged for greater unification at the packinghouse level. "It has long been recognized," he said, "that a multiplicity of scattered operations cannot make for uniformity in handling."

He predicted major changes in the industry and stated that innovations and a touch of more daring was necessary. "There are immense possibilities in distribution," he explained, "the transportation of fruit from the orchard to the packinghouse, within the house and then to the ultimate market. Hover-type vehicles, hermetically-sealed controlled atmosphere containers, air freight and others are but the forerunners of further immense strides in this field."

He contended that there is an urgency in seeking new markets and suggested the Pacific Rim — Japan and China and neighbouring lands.

"We cannot let sentiment keep us divided in small uneconomical units. We must integrate and evolve into the one big marketing entity which will permit us to hold our position as one of the world's leaders in the tree fruit industry," he concluded.

Camera Club to sponsor a 'Concert in Color' presentation

The Summerland Camera Club will again sponsor a "Concert in Color" this year. Such a showing was held last winter and it was very well received. The audience can expect to see some of the best photography in the province. All camera clubs in B.C. have pooled their efforts and contributed pictures to make up the program.

A taped commentary will give a full explanation of the color slides. The Summerland Camera Club's contribution, is a twenty minute series titled, "Growing Up in the Okanagan".

The show, sponsored by the Camera Club will be held in the Elementary School on Friday, January 27 at 8 p.m.

A spokesman for the club said "It is a wonderful opportunity to see what other clubs are doing and at the same time the public will have a chance to see them too."

News from the library

(By the Librarian)
Now the holiday entertaining has settled down a little we can relax with a good book, and we have many suggestions for your reading in our library.

A Stranger and Afraid is a first novel by Marika Robert. This is a good story set in Paris, of a refugee trying to find a niche for herself in a different world. The author was born in Czechoslovakia, but has been several years in Canada. She writes for Chatelaine and McLane's, but this is her first novel.

Also with a background in France is Clochemerle les Baines by Gabriel Chevallier is about a spring of mineral water which gushes out of a field, and gives a young doctor ideas of a famous spa—But first he needs cash and political help, and how it all comes about is lighthearted reading.

The Operators by Allan Prior is a story to hold one's interest—the main character is Mo, a professional criminal, and his two unwilling accomplices, a beautiful model who can't keep a steady job, and a cad who has been living well, off rich old ladies on the Riviera.

A Banner with a Strange Device by Arona McHugh, is a big book full of lively characters, set in Boston after the last war. Each one has a problem to resolve in the aftermath of war. The author was raised in Boston, and received her degree in Arts from the University of Iowa.

Corridors of Power by C. P. Snow is part of a series—Strangers and Brothers, written over the last few years, by a master writer of the world political scene. During the last war C.P. Snow was advisor on scientific personnel to the Ministry of Labour and Civil Service Commissioner in Britain. He was knighted in 1957. His background knowledge has brought forth a powerful novel of high politics—the hero Roger Quai-fe is a ruthless politician, who intends to use the power he has won—to take Britain out

Woman's Institute enjoy luncheon

A delicious pot-luck luncheon was enjoyed by the members of the Women's Institute, several husbands and guests last Friday. This is an annual affair and becomes more popular each year. W. S. Rothwell and E. O. Mortimer thanked the ladies on behalf of the husbands.

During the business meeting following the lunch, the president, Mrs. W. S. Rothwell named the following conveners for the year:

Mrs. A. Inch, agriculture; Mrs. S. A. MacDonald and Mrs. Vera Barrs, citizenship; Mrs. J. L. Brown, cultural activities; Mrs. E. Tait, health and welfare; Mrs. F. Hunter, home economics; Miss Ruth Dale, Unitarian Service.

Miss Dale reported that she has wool and instructions for cardigans, shirts and heelless stockings as well as patterns for pajamas, gowns, etc. If you knit or sew and would like to help the U.S.C. call Miss Dale. Good used material is also in demand for these garments.

Mrs. E. O. White, secretary-treasurer read letters of thanks from the Queen Alexandra Solarium for used postage stamps, and from the Mental Health Assn. for gifts.

The next meeting, Feb. 10th will be a combined birthday and Valentine party celebrating the 70th anniversary of the founding of the Women's Institute. Each member is asked to bring a guest.

Fred Hollinger released Monday

The community was pleased to see Fred Hollinger out of the hospital on Monday afternoon from what has been suspected as food poisoning. Unfortunately his wife, Dorothy, and nine-year-old son Todd were not with him. They died during the weekend. (See story elsewhere.)

Funeral services for Mrs. Hollinger and her son will take place from St. John's Lutheran Church on Saturday at 2 p.m. of the nuclear arms race, and how this affects Washington—a modern novel with a real story to tell.

The Hounds of Hell by Jean Larte'guy, a translation from the French by Xan Fielding, is set in Katanga, Africa. The story is of three mercenaries sent to Katanga to influence events, one a soldier, one a political agent, and a German ex-legionary. This novel is set against actual events and conflicts in the Congo.

A biography is our last book on our list, the story of Frances Steloff by W. C. Rogers, a special reporter for Associated Press in New York. The book tells the moving story of Frances Steloff, a penniless girl of Russian emigrants, with only her love of books, and a determination to make something of her life, which leads her to unheard of success. All through her many ups and downs, her real success shows in her early recognition of the genius of such writers as Joyce, Gertrude Stein, Henry Miller to name a few, and the help and encouragement she gave to artists, actors and dancers, most of whom later became world famous—as she herself did. A good story of an extraordinary woman.

Peachland budget is approved

By Brenda Davies
PEACHLAND — The 1967 provisional budget was discussed at the council meeting here last week. Mill rate is to be 49.5 mills. The breakdown of this will be 15.42 mills for General Purposes; 6.25 mills for Debt Purposes; and 27.83 mills for school purposes. The budget will come up for revision again April 15th.

More money was allocated for sanitation and waste removal, and additional was needed for the Peachland cemetery. The capital expenditure for a fire truck for the fire department was also a factor.

Councillor Clements stated that he will need more money allocated for roads, but will go along for now in the hope that Council will keep this in mind. They voted to accept the provision budget as prepared.

Mr. R. C. Seed asked council to finalize his agreement to buy water from the domestic system, to be installed by him at no responsibility to council. A meter will be installed, and he'll be charged accordingly.

Teen Town representatives Louise MacNeill, Larry Sunstrom and Otto Olmanns requested that the $75 charge for use of Athletic hall be changed.

Reeve Thwaite and Councillor Elstone explained that more money is needed for hall repairs and rent had been low. Teen Town will be allowed use of the hall for not more than two evenings per month at $35. Cleaning-up to be done by the municipality. Auxiliary police must be present at dances as well as chaperones.

H. Lyons gave a financial report of the Brochure Committee. Balance on hand is $5.95 and maps are still to be printed. Lyons will order 2,000, because more money is expected by the Committee. Council is willing to pay the balance if the committee is not able to collect enough.

The reeve spoke of the 33 parcels of land in the area of the Flintoff property, where, according to a surveyor there is a discrepancy. A letter will be sent to all residents concerned, asking them to attend a meeting with the surveyor to perhaps form a group-sharing plan for an overall survey.

J. Enns' sub-division plans were approved. A. MacKinnon's sub-division plans were referred to the Planning Board because there was some question about roads.

Mrs. M. Powell, residing in the Blue Water sub-division, in a letter complained about poor service and rising taxes there. Weed control is needed, as are black-top roads and lights, she added. Mr. Clements said a weed control ordinance in the municipality is needed. Mr. Stewart was appointed to study costs of lights on the access roads off Beach Avenue. Mr. Beets was appointed to the Okanagan Shuswap Canal Committee.

The Okanagan Telephone Co. said there has been a change in the exchange group of the municipality. The re-classification will cause a rate increase.

Qualified speakers to address S'land meetings

THERAPIST TO SPEAK

REV. MAE FIELD TO SPEAK

Committee concerned about space for 'Best of Barkerville'

The "Best of Barkerville" the show that has been playing to capacity crowds in the province will be in the Summerland Secondary School on Saturday night, February 18th.

The show depicts the days when Barkerville was the largest city west of Chicago and north of San Francisco and a performance similar to the one Summerland will see, was headlined every night in the old Theatre Royal (a converted fire hall), in Barkerville, B.C. during the gold rush.

In discussing this at a Centennial Committee meeting Thursday night, it was not "how will we get the people out for the show," but rather "How will we make room for them".

It was decided to hold an advance sale of tickets so if the house is sold out previous to the show, the people can be notified. Howard Pruden offered to handle the tickets at his office.

Skaters compete for trophies

Club competitions for senior skaters from Summerland and Penticton will continue for four days. They started yesterday in the Penticton Arena and the events Friday and Saturday will be at the Summerland Arena, and the finals will be in Penticton on Sunday.

The events are held in conjunction with the Glangarry Figure Skating Club. However, each club will hold separate competitions.

Trophies will be awarded in all events by each club.

Junior competitions for Summerland begin Thursday, Jan. 26 at 4:00 p.m. in the Summerland Arena for juvenile figures only.

All other Junior skaters including beginners and Novice "A" and "B" are to be on Friday, Jan. 27 at 5:30 p.m.

Two top trophies will be given in the Junior divisions, also a small cup will be awarded in each event which the skater may keep. Ribbons for 1st, 2nd and 3rd will also be presented.

Rebekah Lodge elects officers

The officers of Faith Rebekah Lodge No. 32, Summerland, were installed into their respective offices at installation ceremonies Wednesday evening, Jan. 11. The installing officer was Mrs. Rupert Brown, district deputy president, assisted by Mrs. J. H. Dunsdon as deputy marshal and other past noble grands. The installing suite and officers were in long white formals accented by pink carnation corsages.

There were visitors from Redland Rebekah Lodge, Penticton; after the meeting closed a pleasant social hour was enjoyed with them, and dainty refreshments were served by the social convener, Mrs. J. A. C. Raincock in charge.

The following are the officers for 1967: Mrs. Earle Inglis, noble grand; Mrs. Irene Doherty, vice-grand; Miss Maida Morrell, recording secretary; Mrs. Bert Brydon, financial treasurer; Mrs. Peter Beulah, treasurer; Mrs. Lloyd Shannon, chaplain; Mrs. Ella Chamberlain, warden; Mrs. Jack Raincock, conductor; Mrs. C. Denike, color bearer; Mrs. F. E. Atkinson, pianist; Mrs. E. G. Gillespie, right supporter noble grand; Mrs. Una Inglis, left supporter noble grand; Mrs. Jennie Macdonald, right supporter vice-grand; Mrs. Scottie Ritchie, left supporter vice-grand; Miss May Howard, inside guardian; Mrs. Fred Schumann, outside guardian; Mrs. Fred Downes, junior past grand.

A momento of a silver tray in appreciation of her year as Noble Grand was presented to Mrs. Fred Downes by Mrs. Rupert Brown, District Deputy President on behalf of the members of Faith No. 32.

Rooftop mystery is no longer puzzle

The protrusion above the roof of the new Summerland General Hospital is not a sun deck... a recovery room... a penthouse... or a swimming pool — it is a machinery room!

Many local citizens have been asking what the structure is. Building Superintendent Bill Smith was asked by the Review and said it is to house the equipment for the fan system, kitchen ventilation and air conditioning.

The building is going up on schedule. Smith said his part of construction is nearly complete — much of his work now is to supervise the various sub-trade installations.

The natural gas fired boilers are ready to go and the installers were expected yesterday to get it going so they could retire their propane blowers now used to heat the building.

Smith praised the municipality for their co-operation in installing a temporary three phase power line so the boilers could become operative.

Smith said the only thing that may hold them up from hitting their schedule of May 31 is electrical equipment. Much of this has arrived now, but there could be a slow-up due to availability of some of the more intricate equipment still to come.

The partitions in the hospital are rapidly taking shape with the wards, private and semi-private rooms, office space, operating rooms, X-ray room, recovery and delivery rooms, etc. becoming more obvious each day.

Crop insurance, direct deal for grower-canner discussed

The Summerland local of the BCFGA held a meeting in the IOOF Hall Thursday to discuss various aspects of their industry prior to their convention this week.

The crop insurance program took much of the time as did the present proposal to ship canning peaches and sour cherries direct to the canner.

The growers complained that the crop insurance plan was not clear and in the way many understood it, it was not acceptable.

BCFGA Director Chas. Bernhardt agreed the formula was very complicated and not understood by many. "The formula affects almost every grower differently and varies under different conditions", he noted. Bernhardt told the Review he knew of one grower who had made application for crop insurance, the result being he had better coverage than he thought he would.

He urged all growers to apply for crop insurance if they are interested at all and have the agent work out the actual figures. He said it does not cost anything to apply and if you don't like the results of the agent's findings, you may reject the plan.

There must be at least 500 applications on hand by the end of January before the government will put the plan into effect. Application may be made to the Fruit Growers Mutual Insurance Co. in Kelowna. Bernhardt said there have been some changes in the program.

Growers who have a large proportion of young trees in an orchard and can show a definite uptrend in production will qualify for a substantial adjustment in their insurable levels. The change means that growers in this category will now be able to buy additional protection beyond the level formerly allowed.

Changes have also been made in the $3,000 minimum requirement for crop insurance eligibility. Growers who could not previously qualify on their five year average may now qualify provided that they can show that they have produced at least $3,000 worth of fruit in two of the last five years, or have had their crops covered by an insurance policy in three out of the last five years, provided that their actual average is at least $2,000.

PRODUCER TO CANNER
S. A. Mephram, director of B. C. Tree Fruits and Sun-Rype said they are recommending the establishment of a direct grower-cannery deals for sour cherries and canning peaches. The minimum price would be established by the B. C. Tree Fruit Board after consultation with B. C. Tree Fruits Ltd. and Sun-Rype.

The question of premiums above the basic price will be a matter of negotiation between the grower and canner.

It is recommended that every possible effort be made to institute a direct deal scheme for the 1967 crop year. After a trial period, should flaws manifest themselves, the industry will reserve the right to cancel the arrangements. A decision on this will be made this week.

Commission inspects new meeting place

PEACHLAND — Present at Recreation Committee meeting was T. R. Stuart, new council representative on the commission.

A vote of thanks was given J. H. Clements, former representative for service during recent years.

The free skating sessions in Summerland every Sunday afternoon for Peachland children are popular because the weather has been too warm to arrange for a local outdoor rink as yet this year.

Members made a tour of the old Baptist Church to see renovation nearly completed. This has been one of the Recreation Commissions main projects recently, and will be ready soon.

LET'S GET NEWSY ... Mr. and Mrs. J. Tamblin flew to Vancouver for the weekend. Mrs. A. K. Macleod of Trail, visited Mrs. Grace Whittaker last week.

at the convention ending tonight.

District Horticulturist Alex Watt offered to conduct a pruning tour to view the various techniques in the municipality. This will be carried out Feb. 3. Delegates to the BCFGA convention are Hans Stoll, Rob Towgood, Bob Smith, Arnold Boerboom, Colin McKenzie, Brian Liebert and John Caldwell.

The speech and hearing program of the Foundation provides services for over 2500 persons each year. Little Sandy Handja (above) with therapist Berlinda Stewart is one of those helped by your Mother's March donation. This year's provincial goal is $275,000 to help the disabled.

Kinsmen ask for support of Summerland-Peachland residents

Publicity Chairman of the "Mother's March", Bob Towgood, sponsored by the Summerland Kinsmen Club, asks for community support for their annual campaign again this year, so their objective of $1,500 may be reached. Money collected in this drive is for the Rehabilitation Fund of B.C.

Eighty mothers will be out in Peachland and Summerland on Wednesday night, February 1 starting at about 6:15 p.m. Keep your porch light on for the ladies.

Kinsmen's wives and volunteers will make a door-to-door canvass of the two districts. $1,300 was collected last year.

Federal hospital grant received

Les Rumball, president of the Summerland Hospital Society, received a letter from Hon. Allan J. MacEachen, federal Minister of Health and Welfare — with a cheque enclosed for $82,240.

This was the federal government's grant towards the construction of the new hospital.

Trustees approve record budget for education

The Summerland School District is looking for an additional $83,980 to balance their budget for 1967. The total budget amounts to $876,870, an increase of 20.5 per cent over 1966.

The greatest single addition is in the instruction account, including teachers salaries, school clerical salaries, teaching supplies and other instructional expenses.

Teachers' salaries increased from $360,200 to $407,000 or $46,800. The contract signed by the board was equal to the average of eight school districts in the valley, plus $100 annually for teachers with the Bachelor of Education degree teaching in Elementary Schools.

Government grants do not enter the picture on this increase, because Summerland schools are operating with two teachers over entitlement at the present time. Under the grant structure, they are entitled to 48 teachers on staff for which they receive a grant of $2,610 per teacher. There are 50 teachers on staff at present.

The salary scale this year, ranges from $3,775 per year for a elementary conditional teacher, with no experience, to a high of $10,565 per year for a staff member with eleven years experience, and holding a Master's degree.

In addition to the basic salary, Principals receive allowance for administrative and supervisory allowances. In the case of the present staff, in the Secondary school, $3,880; MacDonald Elementary, $2,650; Trout Creek School, $809. Vice-principals receive one half of such amounts based on their own experience within the district.

An additional $29,082 is needed for operation of which $12,000 is sharable with the province.

The conveyance of pupils will cost $2,495 less this year, but for Auxiliary services, such as Health Unit, dental programme, Happyvale School, the Regional College the budget is raised by $9,046. The greatest increase here is for the Regional College budget, from $5,100 to $18,786.

Summerland completed a building programme last year, which increased the debt service account by $25,787, but the provincial grants will pay 75 per cent of this which means the taxpayer will pick up only $6,447 this year.

The site development program will cost an additional $6,400 which, in the main, is the improvement on the Dunham property which now belongs to the school.

To talk mill rate, without knowing the actual assessment, is only to estimate what this will be.

Secretary-treasurer J. B. Hack, took the average increase over the past five years and estimated it would take $9,000 in taxation to raise one mill. On the basis of this, the increase for school purposes will be 9 mills.

"This is based on the continuation of the Provincial Government adjustment that was received last year in addition to the regular grant," Hack added. "If this adjustment is not forthcoming this year, we could expect an additional cost of about $20,000 or about 2.2 mills."

The combined budgets for Municipal and school purposes total $1,131,663. On the basis of the figure of $9,000 to raise a mill, the increase may be 10.725 mills in total — unless the province comes up with additional grants and both Secretary-treasurer J. B. Hack and Municipal clerk Gordon Smith believe this to be unlikely.

Efficient Fire Department may save insurance dollars

Miltimore replaces Bennest on Okanagan College Council

John Bennest asked the Summerland School Trustees to relieve him as their representative on the Regional College Council, so Chairman Jas. Miltimore was appointed.

Mr. Bennest told the Review, this did not mean he was disinterested in the progress of the college, but he felt it was very time consuming — and this time could well be spent operating his orchard.

Members of other school committees are: Personnel and finance, Boothe and Bennest; Building, Grounds referendums, Barkwill and McIntosh; Liason, transportation and policy, McIntosh and Bennest; Educational, Bennest; and McIntosh; Regional Library and Board of Health Miltimore; Social, Barkwill.

Standing ovation for Army Band

Over 800 Summerland children and adults heard the famed Royal Canadian Engineers Band from Chilliwack Jan. 18 during two performances in the Summerland Secondary School. It was sponsored by the Okanagan Symphony Society.

The 500 chairs were filled by students in the afternoon and the auditorium was about three quarters filled in the evening.

Secondary School Principal John Tamblin said he could not praise the band enough and the students' reaction was wonderful. They were given a standing ovation after the last selection.

The reaction from the evening crowd was similar. The perfection of the group was indicated after the first bar of O Canada and held the crowd spellbound for ninety minutes.

They didn't always play the "straight part" but threw in a little humor with a couple of the boys clowning around, coming up with little tricks like pouring wine (?) into a French horn and a brassiere into the base while members of the band "fouled up" the conductor at intervals.

It was a rare treat for Summerland music lovers.

Ladies win half of prizes offered

Summerland rinks took two firsts in the four events in the Ladies Bonspiel in Kelowna over the weekend. The Amy Beggs rink took first in the B event and Hilda Eden first in the D event.

On the Beggs rink were, Doreen McIntosh, third; Eileen Minter, second, and Muriel Walker lead. They were awarded a trophy and electric blankets.

With Hilda Eden were Helen Tilbe, third; Mary Dunsdon, second, and Annie Dunsdon threw leaf rocks. They were awarded the SuperValu trophy and stand-up mirrors.

Two other rinks competed as well, those skipped by Mary Carter who got third in the C event and Charlein Enns.

Change in trades licenses a possibility this year

Summerland Council will look into the structure of assessing for trade licenses this year. At present it is on volume of sales and nothing else. They will investigate the possibility of using selling areas, number of employees, area of ground covered and equipment used as well. This was decided at the regular meeting Tuesday night.

Works Superintendent Blagborne said the levelling is complete on the new school grounds and they will start laying pipe in a day or two.

Councillor Hill was appointed representative of the South Okanagan Union Board of Health.

The first reading of a by-law, compelling businesses operating under the amusement act to supply separate toilets and washrooms for men and women.

The municipal architects presented a bill for $980 for drawing up plans for renovation of the Summerland Arena. Council is in possession of the plans but no action was taken.

"There is no sense in putting up a by-law now the way the money market is," Reeve Holmes added.

Counselling tabled for the future

The Summerland school trustees did not think they could afford to extend counselling services in the schools this year, but the idea has not been abandoned.

School Superintendent John Paton had prepared a comprehensive brief for the guidance of trustees and teachers.

In the brief Paton said, "a full-fledged guidance program is complicated and many sided — so much so that relatively few school systems provide for it in full.

"It includes vocational, educational, social, civic and personal aspects. It uses both group and individual procedures. It uses both group and individual procedures. It seeks to provide each student with a maximum of useful knowledge and understanding concerning himself, his school, his community, and the world he lives in. It advises and counsels him in the application of his knowledge to his various problems. When he leaves school, it seeks to guide him into post-secondary institutions, or to help him to get a job, to develop in vocational competency and to adjust himself in his other life relations.

"On the elementary school level, guidance generally stresses the educational, social and personal aspects. Vocational guidance comes into prominence in the secondary school."

He pointed out there is little counselling in the Elementary grades, the exceptions being the provision of a slow learn-

Summerland Fire Chief Joe McLachlan made his annual report to the municipal council Tuesday evening, and Reeve Holmes had information that because the volunteer department had such a fine record of turnouts at meetings and practices, consideration may be given to reducing the fire insurance rates in the municipality.

Holmes said he had talked to the inspector who had indicated that because, down through the years the firemen were so good at turning out to practices, there may be a consideration in rates. There was a 71 per cent turnout during the year.

Chief McLachlan said they had 46 calls during 1966 and a fire loss of $50,333 was experienced which was four times that of last year. The main losses were Family Shoe Store, Cockell's home and furnishings, Knispel's house and the Sunoka building.

There were eight chimney fires, 10 buildings, three stoves, 18 brush and grass, two car and tractor and five miscellaneous-type fires.

McLachlan said they had an average of 63.6 per cent attendance of firemen at actual fires. There were 118 ambulance calls.

He expressed his appreciation to the department for their co-operation.

"I have often been asked the question, 'How can I be the Fire Chief and be out of town so much?' I have one standing answer for it, 'I have a damn good department looking after things.'"

"They have a good leader", Councillor Hill added.

The Chief made special mention of Phil Richardson for keeping the Fire Hall in good condition, and to the Reeve and Council for their support. He thanked Ken Blagborne and his men and the RCMP who are very co-operative and helpful at all times when we need them."

Holmes expressed his thanks by adding, "I hear nothing but good reports. It just proves what can be done with co-operation."

A portable pump was purchased last year, which is very versatile and can be used where trucks cannot go. It is capable of operating three hoses "sufficient for a house fire", McLachlan stated.

OTHER COUNCIL BUSINESS

Councillor Barkwill said they should have a month-to-month rundown of expenses so they could be compared with the budget and with the corresponding month the previous year.

Reid Henderson, treasurer, will give his first report next month, and the format of future reports will go from there. Councillor Powell wanted the money owing Trout Creek resident's on the water system installed in 1962 to be cleared up. "I want to go on record as wanting to get this set up", he said.

A money by-law passed in December 1961 was greater than necessary by over $20,000, and Trout Creek residents were taxed an additional mill to cover this. Municipal Clerk Gordon Smith said it is on the list and will be coming up. The by-law was for $105,000.

Powell was wondering if they could "drop the one mill now" but Smith had doubts about this.

The trout hatchery wishes to expand and would require all the spring water for the additional fish and agreed to bear the cost of obtaining domestic water for Summerland Lake-shore by other means. This was agreed upon by council, and a meeting was to be held last October to make it final, but it never came off.

Clerk Smith had correspondence from the department stating they would meet with Summerland officials when the provincial budget is brought down and they had assurance the money would be available.

Councillor Barkwill will not be able to attend the Regional District meeting Feb. 1, and his alternative representative Jim Schaeffer may be away as well. Reeve Holmes agreed to attend.

Barkwill felt it was important someone should be there because Penticton Mayor Finerty was going to bring in policy to the effect that the chairman should have municipal experience.

Jas. Miltimore will not be able to subdivide his property in Trout Creek because it is contrary to the general plan study completed in 1965 and there was a question of a dead end road.

The general plan has not been adopted by council as yet but the necessary advertising steps will be taken so it will become effective Feb. 15. The sign by-law will also come up at the same time.

School Board chairman Jas. Miltimore, Trustee John Bennest and Secretary-treasurer Jas. Hack were present to explain the school budget in detail. (See school budget story elsewhere in this issue.)

Council questioned the $14,000 budgeted for the Regional college. Bennest said this would not all be spent if there is a referendum passed. Summerland is assessed 4.85 per cent of the total college budget of $290,000. There is a $41,000 deficit that will have to be picked up however.

Holmes took exception to the fact that so much money had to be spent before a referendum. He cited the Summerland hospital where it was necessary to spend $75,000 for architects fees before it went to a referendum.

Speech Therapist to speak to Ass'n of Handicapped Children

The annual meeting of the Summerland Association of Handicapped Children will be held in the Home Economics room of the Secondary School on Tuesday, January 31 at 8:00 p.m.

Special speaker will be Miss Dorothy Deakin, Speech Therapist of the South Okanagan Health Unit. Miss Deakin received special training in London, England and worked in Croydon before coming to the Okanagan two years ago.

Hallquist wins six straight

The Jerry Hallquist rink won six straight to take the top money in the International Curling Club men's open bonspiel in Osoyoos over the weekend. This is the third year in a row he has taken the 'spiel, so they got the Osoyoos Merchants Trophy to keep this time around. They also received individual trophies and electric razors.

Only one member of the rink has played with Hallquist the three years — Howard Pruden, his third man. Playing second was Peter Beulah and lead Bruce Hallquist, at Osoyoos in the four-day competition this year.

They met two Vancouver rinks, two from Oliver-Osoyoos one from Princeton, and the Okanagan High School Champs —skipped by Howard Pruden's son, Greg. The high school boys almost upset their applicant. There were three blank ends in the game, and the score was 4-4 coming home but Hallquist made his last rock count to take the game.

The final was played against Dick Topping, Oliver, which the Summerland rink won 9-3.

Hallquist is taking Peter Beulah, Brian Eden and Teunis Kwak with him to Prince George next week for the B. C. Bonspiel where they will be in competition with 70 other rinks from all over the province.

The high school boys play in Kitimat this weekend in provincial competition. Howard Pruden will accompany them.

Possibly Peachland's George Bates is advertising for customers to patronize his hotel with the sign he displays. He may be a good operator, but not a clean shaven one — and won't be until April 1 when the Centennial beard growing contest is over.

G.E. Woolliams retires after forty-one years of service

The staff at the Summerland Research Station honoured Mr. G.E. Woolliams on the occasion of his retirement after 41 years of continuous service except for short periods on educational leave) as plant pathologist for the Canada Department of Agriculture at Summerland.

He was presented with a pair of binoculars by the staff, and a certificate of Service signed by the Minister of Agriculture, the Honorable Mr. J.J. Green.

"Mr. Woolliams has had a remarkable career of devoted service to the vegetable and fruit industries of the Okanagan-Kootenay, Similkameen and Shuswap regions of B.C.," Dr. Maurice F. Welsh, head of the Plant Pathology Section said.

He is a native of Vancouver and New Westminster. Graduated with honors from UBC in 1925 with a Bachelor of Arts (Botany, Plant Pathology) and was a scholarship student of the University of Idaho where he received his Master of Science in 1926. Later he studied as a scholarship student in botany and plant pathology at the University of Toronto.

During his 41 years of service he has conducted research on diseases of such diverse crops as onions, peas, tomatoes, potatoes, lettuce, beans, radishes, carrots, beets, calery, cucumbers, peppers, turnips, apples, pears, cherries peaches, apricots tobacco, hops, grapes and a long list of ornamental plants. Since 1948 Mr. Woolliams has been a vegetable disease specialist, responsible for all the research on diseases causing losses to the B.C. interior vegetable industry.

He made a study of the apple scab problem, simplified treatment and presented a simplified more efficient control. He produced commercial tomato varieties, resistant to the Verticillium disease, now grown as standard varieties in B.C. and a number of other regions of the world.

Mr. Woolliams developed control measures for the smut disease of onion which threatened to wipe out the growing onion industry of the B.C. Interior as well as developing solutions for most of the other serious disease problems of the vegetable industry of the region.

During 1940-45 and to some extent in later years, the B.C. Interior had a flourishing vegetable seed-growing industry. The region was especially suitable for health approved seed production because of the low incidence of vegetable disease. An elaborate scheme had to be developed for disease inspections of all fields and the issue of certification certificates. Mr. Woolliams devised the techniques for these inspections and trained the inspectors. He played a similar key role in developing tulip and narcissus bulb inspection program during the same period.

He is an authority on the native and weed plants of the region. He has provided service to the Department of Agriculture and to many amateur gardeners and botanists in identification of such plants.

ACTIVE IN COMMUNITY
Mr. Woolliams has been and still is, a hard worker for the community — especially with youth and church groups.

He is a very active member of the Summerland Youth Centre committee and spent a period as chairman. During his time on the School Board he showed foresight by urging a building program to accommodate the postwar school population. He is an elder of the Summerland United Church and a member of the church's men's club.

When president of the Summerland branch of the U.B.C. Alumni Association, the Summerland Scholarship Fund project was initiated. This is acknowledged by the university to have been a pilot project that paved the way for establishment of the now extensive province-wide program.

He has been, and still is, active in Boy Scout Association work, now serving as a member of the South Okanagan District Council. He also takes an active interest in the Okanagan Similkameen Parks Society. Mrs. Woolliams, like her husband is also active in many community affairs.

Their one daughter, Jane was home to be present at her father's retirement function.

Fruit growers urged to file for crop insurance program

The executive of the B.C. Fruit Growers Association has urgently requested and recommended that all growers act quickly to participate in the fruit crop insurance programme.

The deadline for applications is January 31, 1967 and a minimum of 500 contracts must be reached before the programme of crop insurance can become operative.

The failure of growers to sign up for crop insurance could be disastrous to the fruit industry according to executive officials.

Some changes were brought about in the insurance plan at the recent convention which should make it more practical for all types of growers.

Park allocation topic of guest speaker at Trout Creek

A director of the Okanagan Similkameen Parks Society, Mr. Steve Cannings was guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Trout Creek P.T.A. Thursday, Jan. 19.

Mr. Cannings outlined briefly the aims and projects of this society which is made up of various sports organizations and individuals having a common interest in promoting park conservation. This society acts as a liaison between the government and the people.

The recently-purchased park land at Vsaseaux Lake is an accomplishment of the Okanagan Similkameen Parks Society. Other areas soon to be presented to the government for consideration as park development are: a historical park at Fairview, east of Oliver; Cathedral Lakes Park; Snow Mountain; Squally Point on Okanagan Mountain and a desert-like park south of Oliver.

Mr. Cannings' coloured slides of natural beauty in our local area was enjoyed by all those attending the meeting.

endum. "Hospitals should be standardized" he said, "it is foolish that every municipality should go to that expense."

The government does have standardized plans for schools. Assessor J. P. Sheeley, provided a written report to council.

The total taxable assessment for school purposes, taking land at 100 per cent and improvements at 75% is $8,756,646—an increase over 1966 of $675,421. For general purposes it is $8,494,666, an increase over '66 of $667,480.

The percentage of farm land included has decreased from 18.92 in 1965 to 17.64 in 1966 to 16.96 this year while residential has increased from 34.35 to 35.65 to 37.50 respectively.

Commercial has decreased slightly from 13.04 to 12.48 to 12.15 for the same period. Industrial has gone from 8.38 to 8.72 to 8.60. The change in small holdings is fractional.

During 1966 there were 95 vacant land sales, an increase of 22 over 1965 and 120 improved sales, a decrease of five from 1965.

Support the boys in the minors

There is nothing that pleases a boy more, than to have his dad come and watch him play hockey — and if mother goes too — it's better than a chocolate cake and ice cream treat after the game.

When dad is there for the first time, the boy may get all excited and fall over his feet a time or two, but in only a few minutes, he will be playing his normal game — and on many occasions, he exceeds past performances. There is nothing like encouragement from the parents — and it is so easy to offer — just sit in the stands. You are then part of him. "Dad is there, he is interested in what I am doing" they say to themselves. It means so much. What's worse it will reflect on the behavior of the National League hopeful at home too.

Easy to offer encouragement? Just be in the stands? Not so easy. We all think this at one time or another. We are so busy keeping up to the rat race we are in, that we often forget, and our family takes a back seat. Before we know it our children are away, living their own life and have taken on their own responsibilities. Then we ponder the times when they have asked us to participate in their activities. Had we done more of it, we would have had more time with them — youth is but a fleeting moment. Here is a little poem that says much, written by William J. McCormic, noted orator from Philadelphia.

"Slow me down, Lord. I am going too fast;
I can't see by brother when he's walking past.

I miss a lot of good things day by day;
Slow me down, Lord, so I can talk
With some of Your angels. Slow me down to a walk."

This is Minor Hockey Week in Canada. The Summerland Minor Hockey Association will have their annual Booster Night tonight when they will canvas Summerland and Peachland selling Booster Tickets which will, not only assist their Association, but will admit you to a big minor Hockey Jamboree that will take place in the Arena on Saturday night, complete with parade when the 160 boys, coaches and managers will take to the ice. Then it will be a full night of hockey including one game between the over-age juveniles and the senior men's team. Parade time, 7:00 p.m.

You may not all wish to go to the arena but if your son, brother nephew or neighbor is going to take to the ice, your presence would no doubt be appreciated. In any case, buy a booster ticket. It will hurt little and help many.

Just a word of appreciation to the unsung heroes — the coaches, managers and committee members of the S.M.H.A. Many of these do not have children participating, but they love the game and know the benefits derived in building character. Full marks should be given to these people.

To used the words of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, "Keep in step with Canada . . . support minor hockey . . . don't send . . . take your boy to the arena. . . and stay to see him play! Not a bad idea?"

The addiction problem

Canada can not tolerate the continuing growth in drug addiction. Effective ways must be found to prevent and combat it.

An understanding of the causes will help us destroy this evil at its roots. Why the addict? Young people hear that it is the "in" thing to do and too often see it as a way to be a part of the group or gang. Duped into the first experiment, many many are eventually "hooked."

The drug problem is not confined to beatniks and toughs. Many believe society's main drug problem to be widespread - middle class addiction to relatively easy-to-get barbiturates and amphetamines.

What then can be done about it? Prevention is better than cure. Removing the social, economic and psychological causes is essential. Poverty-ridden areas are breeding grounds for addicts.

Perhaps most needed of all is a thorough, intelligent, sustained program of preventive education. In every community and university programs should be launched to deglamorize narcotics and bring home the true facts concerning the slavery of addiction. And the media and government should lend strong support.

Only Pee-Wees left in finals

By Ron Kostelnik
In hockey playoffs held last week, the Juveniles, Midgets, and Bantoms were knocked out in two straight games. The Juveniles lost 18-2 in Vernon on the 21st and 10-4 in Summerland on the 22nd. In Vernon, Bob Dunsdon kicked out 45 shots as Vernon had a 15-0 lead before back to back goals by Pleun Notenboom, unassisted, and Barry Smith, assisted by Bryce Parker, made the score 15-2 in the third period. Jeff Wilson, Larry Hackman, and Brian Kakeske all had four goals for Vernon.

At Summerland, Vernon had a 6-0 lead before Dave Hill, assisted by Ed Nield and Munro, scored at the 18:27 mark of the second. Dale Jenner, unassisted scored at the :07 mark of the third and Bryce Parker, three minutes later—assisted by Jim Haddrell and Barry Derosier, made the score 6-3. Derosier got the final Summerland goal at the 16:27 mark. Fisticuffs erupted at the 18:22 mark when Summerland's Wayne Campbell and Pleun Notenboom tangled with Barrie Mori and Jeff Wilson.

In MIDGET action, Summerland lost 11-3 on home ice on the 19th and 14-2 on Kelowna ice on the 21st. In Summerland, Kelowna broke the game open with five goals in the third. Ed Nield, assisted by Dave Hill, scored in the first; Jim Jenner, assisted by Nield, in the second, and Hill, assisted by Geo. Jenner in the third to account for the Summerland scoring.

Jim Campbell got a third period misconduct.

In Kelowna, George Jenner and Ed Nield scored for Summerland. In the game, Jenner sustained an ankle injury.

In BANTOM action, Summerland lost 29-2 in Summerland on the 18th and 12-0 in Kelowna on the 22nd. In Summerland, Jack Bullock, assisted by Gordon Flebbe, in the first; and Ed Mayer, unassisted, in the third scored for Summerland.

Summerland Reeve, N. Holmes supports Minor Hockey Week

Reeve Norman Holmes this week stated that he will "Keep in Step with Canada" by supporting Minor Hockey Week, and issued a call to every citizen to do likewise.

In announcing his support of Canada's most publicized week, the Reeve said "In view of this being Canada's Centennial Year, I think it is more important than ever that we support those who make it possible for our boys to take part in Canada's National Sport". He went on to say that "It is not only my privilege, but my pleasure and duty to suggest that we show our support of the local minor hockey program by visiting the arena this week. Minor Hockey Week in Canada is the nation's most successful amateur sports promotion and our opportunity to pay tribute to those who make it possible.

"By our attendance," he said, "we can do many things. We can buy a ticket and thus support the program financially; we can attend and show our interest in what our boys are doing but most important, for this week at least, we can pay tribute to the volunteer workers who make it possible for our citizens to boast that our community has one of the best minor hockey programs in Canada. Let us pay them tribute".

"By their work they are providing our youngsters with an opportunity to play hockey. Out of this comes better bodies, healthier minds and of course, better boys and better citizens. There will be, of course, better hockey players, and if we are fortunate, it may be that one or more of the boys produced in this fine program may eventually become members of Canada's National Team. When that happens, we shall indeed be happy that we all supported minor hockey in Summerland and Minor Hockey Week."

Holmes went on to say that "We all know that practically every community in Canada, from Newfoundland to the Yukon, has a minor hockey program of some kind and will be actively participating in Minor

Hockey Week. The organization here in our town does not take a back seat to any of them — and this is our opportunity to show that we, as well as they, can keep in step with Canada. Our part is to turn out to the rink at every opportunity during Minor Hockey Week in Canada.

"Because participation in this healthy sport provides exercise that will improve the body, discipline that will train the mind, teach co-operation, team play and a respect for the rules, the boys will benefit. When the boys benefit, the community benefits, and because our community benefits, our community must contribute. We do this by supporting Minor Hockey Week. I hereby issue this call to every Summerland citizen to show appreciation of the good work being done. I shall, and I know you all will", he concluded.

Parade opens hockey night

This is Minor Hockey Week in Summerland and in every Canadian town and city from Newfoundland to Victoria. Some centres celebrated the occasion last Saturday, but in Summerland they are starting tonight with a blitz of Peachland and Summerland to sell booster tickets and on Saturday night it will be hockey in the arena.

The booster tickets, selling for 50 cents will be good for admission to the arena Saturday to the Minor Hockey Jamboree. The Jamboree will start at 7 p.m. with a big parade on the ice consisting of the 160 boys playing minor hockey in full dress, their coaches and managers.

The younger groups will play periods of 20 minutes each. This will be followed by a game between the over-age juveniles and the senior men's team. This should prove to be an entertaining evening. The youngest age group participating is six years and up to 18 years. Doug Campbell, executive member of the Summerland Minor Hockey Association said, "I would say that the highlight of Minor Hockey this year is the Centennial Midget Hockey Jamboree to be held in Kingston, Ont. from March 25 to April 1st. All provincial Midget winners will enter this jamboree, sponsored by the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association.

S.M.H.A. President Ken Anderson had words of praise for the volunteer workers in Summerland. "We have 19 hours a week of ice rented from the arena which means much supervision is necessary on the part of the executive, referees, timekeepers, etc. The work those volunteers do is appreciated."

Mrs. Berle Flebbe, is the secretary of the S.M.H.A. and Mrs. Geo. Stevenson, treasurer. Executive members include, Doug Campbell, Jim May, Al Chomst, Gordon Boggs, Steve Sakal, Bob Rogers and Porky Haddrell.

Another proclamation? ??

Peachland's Beardless Men this week issued the following proclamation:

"WHEREAS there are many among us who (for diverse reasons) do not wish to grow a beard and

WHEREAS we are as proud of Canada and her Centennial as those who do,

THEREFORE take notice of the following:

CENTENNIAL PROJECT

Hear Ye, Hear Ye, Hear Ye!

And let it be known that from this day to July first next, we do hereby swear to remain clean-shaven of cheek, jaw and lip, until such time as:

(a) these hills shall crumble into dust, OR

(b) This lake shall dry up and cease to be, OR

(c) Our several shavers shall cease to chatter along;

AND let it be also known that we do hereby donate the sum of $1.00 to swell the Centennial Fund for the benefit of all,

AND FURTHER THAT we shall at all times remain gentlemen and never ask to see ladies' wearing apparel not readily apparent."

(SIGNED):

"So step forward Ye Men of Great Fortitude, who have withstood Pete's most eloquent persuasions, and sign your names for all to see," the proclamation concludes. (Deadline for signatures is March 1st. See Wes Funnell or Rob Robinson.

Teachers' Club take classes

MacDonald School Principal John Cooke told the school board trustees at their regular meeting last week that 19 members of the Future Teachers' Club will be coming to his school on Feb. 15 to teach a lesson for the third time this year. Cook expressed concern when it was announced the Centennial train would not come to Summerland, and requested that pupils be taken to Kelowna by bus to see it when it visits that city. However, after he corresponded with provincial and national Centennial officials, he was informed the Confederation Caravan would be here on Aug. 30.

Ray McNabb, principal of the Trout Creek School, was not able to attend, but in a written report said they are making use of the CBC school telecasts to a much greater extent this year, and favorable comments about many of the productions.

Eleven of his students are taking part in Grade 7 band sessions being conducted at the Summerland school.

a part-time librarian is becoming evident so maximum use of the library can be used. According to standard, they should have 1110 books to the number of pupils at the school.

The principal asked the board to consider the employment of a librarian on the basis of one morning a week. Trustees will look into the possibility of employing the secretarial staff.

All of us want something

Why not follow the example of three million Canadians from coast to coast who plan to get what they want by saving at the Bank of Montreal. By doing this you can use the B of M in many other ways. We shall be glad to discuss any of our services with you.

A B of M savings account does three things for you:

- 1) It helps you to financial independence and enables you to get what you want by saving.
- 2) It helps you to build a good credit standing makes it easier to borrow money when the need arises.
- 3) It builds confidence and peace of mind.

There is no substitute for saving — and you will like saving at the B of M.

We invite you to come in and open a savings account with us. One dollar of your money and three minutes of your time are all that are required to start your "My Bank" success fund.

One more thing you will find important: it is literally true that when we grant personal loans — as we do every day — our applicant is influenced to a great degree by whether or not the applicant has a satisfactory savings account with us.

More than three million Canadians deposit their funds at B of M branches from Coast to Coast, and Jock Johnston, manager, would be pleased to welcome you to Summerland branch and "MY BANK".

Johnston chairs Canada Week

Don Johnston, although living in the United States, is still a top public relations man for Canada. He is the son of Mrs. Lydia Johnston and brother of Mrs. Doris McLachlan. He grew up and attended school in Summerland.

Mr. Johnston is co-chairman of the Canadian Centennial Commission in New York where he has been employed with an investment firm in that city.

He is also chairman of the Canada Week Committee who will be presenting a huge show during the first week in May in New York.

They will bring the best talent that is available in Canada "to make as big an impact as possible in the one week", he wrote his mother.

They plan to have the Canadian Guards Regiment, the RCMP Musical Ride, a large number of Canadian artists and performers, Canadian dance and choral groups, art and sculpture displays as well as books and music done by Canadians. The climax will be a massive Ball at the Grand Ballroom of the West Astoria with Guy Lombardo and his "Roya. Canadians".

Mr. Johnston expects Prime Minister Pearson, some cabinet ministers and as many premiers of the provinces he can obtain to be in New York for the week.

U.S. Vice-president Hubert Humphrey has been invited as has the mayor of New York city and the Governor of the state.

He has been working closely with Canadian Centennial Commission Chairman, John Fisher and has travelled to Ottawa to discuss arrangements with him.

All this no doubt presents problems, to make all the arrangements for the big show — but the Johnston family have one more — of their own making. They will leave New York early next month for San Rafael, California where Don will be one of three partners in a new firm called Investment Indicators. He will commute between San Rafael and New York when the date of Canada Week draws near.

He is a graduate of U.B.C.

Pool is B.C. Guides Centennial project

The Girl Guides of B.C. took on the construction of a swimming pool at their provincial camp and training centre located in the Chilliwack area as their Centennial project.

Known as Tsouana, the eighty acres comprising it has been developed mainly with "cookie money" although assistance was given from outside the Girl Guide organization to aid in making it a reality. A Centennial fund committee was set up under the chairmanship of Mrs. D. M. Armstead with the formidable job of raising $12,

Trail ride films shown at meeting

The Summerland Trail Riders held a short meeting on Friday, Jan. 13 at the Bye home. The date for the annual meeting was set for Thursday, Feb. 9 at the Bye home. They would like to see many new members in the club this year.

After the meeting, 35 riders with saddle-soap in one hand and a rag in the other, got down to the task of cleaning their riding equipment.

A film was shown about the fun that can be had on a week's trail ride in Alberta.

Mrs. Potter showed some slides of their local, annual trail ride which recalled some of the fun they had during the past year.

To end the busy evening, coffee and cake was served to all. Don't forget the meeting on Thursday, Feb. 9.

Canadian Flag for door mats?

Mr. Norman Abernethy spoke to the school trustees at their regular board meeting last week to find out if rule No. 3.01 of the Rules of the Council of Public Instruction was being obeyed, in whole or in part? If so, to what extent and since when? If not, why not?

(Rule No. 3.01 reads as follows: "At least one day in each week, preferably at the opening of school in the morning, all pupils when in attendance at a public school shall be assembled by classes or school, in front of the flag, either within the school or on the school grounds, and shall salute the flag and sing the national anthem. The Principal and teachers of the school shall endeavour to see that proper ideals of loyalty to our Queen and country are instilled into the minds of the pupils in attendance at that due respect is paid the flag and Canadian institutions.")

The School Superintendent said the latter section of the act is carried out in spirit, and the flag is raised each morning. The Queen's picture is displayed prominently and O Canada and God Save the Queen is sung at assemblies. Special assemblies are carried out on Remembrance Day and on Commonwealth Day and they have a close liaison with the Legion Remembrance Day.

He said their Social Studies program includes this and the students are participating in Centennial programs, and they have discussions on current topics regularly.

He said the regulations he felt are being met in all school divisions.

"I want to know why the assembly in front of the flag once a week is not being done, and if the rule is wrong, it should be changed," Abernethy said.

"I overheard some high school students in the barber shop one day, who thought it would be a good idea to make door mats out of the Canadian Flag, which wouldn't be in keeping with the second part of the rule. This is what brought it to a head and this is why I am here," he disclosed.

"If the rule is there and this is the law, it ought to be done," he emphasized.

"I am shocked to hear of door mats being made out of the flag — it was even suggested they should be exported to the U. S. of A. This was apparently one particular class, but it is appalling to be even considered," Abernethy concluded.

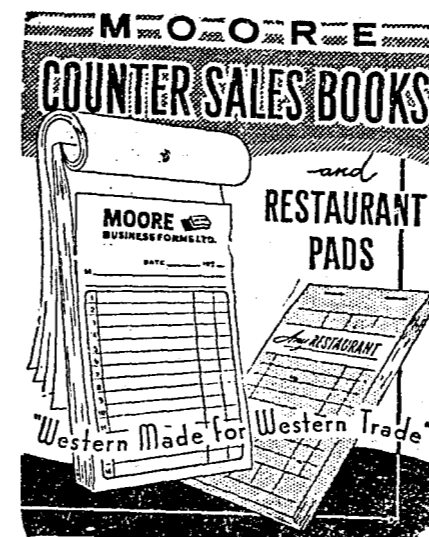

Chairman Millmore assured him, "we will consider this. I am glad you brought the point up."

OTHER SCHOOL BUSINESS

To equalize the cost of band instruments, in that some students purchase their own while some are supplied by the school, the board agreed in principle to a rental charge be made those using school instruments. The education committee was asked to study this. The rental charge is to look after the upkeep of the instruments.

Paton said this was a common practice in other districts.

Paton, Principal Tamblin and one trustee — possibly Boothe will attend Trustee Day at the University of Victoria on March 14 and UBC March 15 to interview prospective teachers.

Peachland W.I. help Centennial

PEACHLAND — The monthly meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. L. B. Fulks, Jan. 20. Ten members answered the roll call with a New Year's resolution. Centennial spoons ordered last month have all been sold, so the ladies ordered 24 more to be sold to members and the general public.

An invitation was received from the Kalamalka W.I., Oyanma, for delegates to be sent to the W.I. district conference in May. Official delegates will be named later from Peachland.

A raffle was held in December that only realized $11.50. It was decided to make this up to $25 and send it to the local Centennial Committee.

The Valentine contest will offer three prizes for each grade. These valentines will be on display at the next meeting, to be held at the home of Mrs. W. B. Miller. The meeting has been called for 2 p.m. so members can attend the Teen Town Sweetheart Tea later in the afternoon of Friday, Feb. 10.

Mrs. H. C. MacNeill was appointed to contact the school to arrange the Valentine contest. When the meeting was adjourned, hostesses Mrs. L. Ayres and Mrs. H. C. MacNeill served a delicious tea.
