New water source proposed for Trout Creek system

There have been complaints received by council regarding the condition of the domestic water in Trout Creek. It contains considerable sediment especially at run-off time.

Councillor Schaeffer suggested to council this week that the area be connected to the Summerland domestic system by the extension of a 10-inch line that is now within 4,000 feet of Trout Creek.

At the time water was put in that area, a system was installed drawing water direct from Trout Creek to a 110,000 gallon tank where it is chlorinated and distributed.

Construction of this system cost $22,000 less than the by-law called for so this money is still being held.

There was a move previously to have Trout Creek residents agree to use this surplus to bring their system in with the Summerland main, but no decision was reached between the residents and municipal council so nothing was done.

Trout Creek residents have been paying an extra mill on their taxes to retire this debt. Works Superintendent Ken Blagborne estimates it would cost about $40,000 to connect this area with the town system, but in order to release the $22,000 so it may be used for that purpose, it must be voted on and passed by property owners in Trout Creek.

Blagborne said the reason the water is worse in Trout Creek than in the remainder of the municipality is because it does not have an opportunity to settle aerate in the 20-acre municipal reservoir.

Beans for winners -- losers pay

Sumac Ridge Golf Course was the scene of a men's tournament, Captains vs. Vice-captains on Sunday May 28. Tee off time was 7 a.m. and 32 members participated.

The captains won by six strokes with Ken Nistor heading the group, while Geo. Uzawaga was leader of the vice-captains. Menu & Clark tried to pull their usual skuldugery to win over Nistor & Knuff, but they ended up paying for the beans anyway! Play was over by 3 p.m., and a bean feed was enjoyed by all (losers paying for it of course!)

Inspector to check material before dredging operations

It will cost $1,500 per month to rent a dredge to work in Summerland according to Ken Blagborne, works superintendent and Gordon Smith, clerk.

They reported this to council Tuesday evening following a meeting they had late in the week at Harrison Hot Springs at the request of council.

Village officials there said the moving charges, fuel and operator will be in addition to the $1,500.

Penticton has expressed an interest in the service of a dredge as well and have offered to share the cost of transporting the equipment. Blagborne said it would take three trips with a flatbed type vehicle.

The operator will be in town soon to inspect the work desired to see if the material to make beach is available. If it is, council is prepared to go ahead with the project. The equipment can be obtained immediately.

Centennial Choir rehearsing

The Centennial Choir returned to practices last Wednesday in order to prepare for the open air Centennial Dedication Service which is to be held in the Memorial Park June 25.

The choir is under the direction of Bud Steuart, and issued an invitation to all singers who would be interested in joining them. They meet every Wednesday in the Music Room of the Secondary School at 7:30 p.m.

LADIES WORK & PLAY

There were 28 ladies on the golf course for the ladies day last week. Alma Minchin and Norma Lichtenwald were putting winners, but it is reported the hardest worker was Dorothy Powell.

Stock Car gets a third at Westbank

Arnold Fenton drove the Parkdale 66 and Summerland Welding & Machine Shop car to a third in one heat at the Billy Foster Memorial Track at Westbank Sunday in his class in stock car competition.

The car had to be sidelined during the next race when the transmission failed to function.

By KEITH BERGH

There is a horrible waste in Summerland. Goodness knows there is little enough public beach . . . so how come we are barred from "Farm Beach" as it is called. Besides it is unfair. Only those who have both can get to it. It was about the finest beach area in the municipality . . . I know—I have been there via both land and water. Its quite a job to get there by land 'cause you either have to vault over barbed wire fences or know someone who knows the combination to the lock on the gate (which includes almost any neighborhood kid over 10) or just know someone. I realize some preparation must be made before the general public could be allowed to go through the property of the Dominion Government Research Station. People cannot be allowed to walk around at large — but there are ways to lick this problem too. There is always a way if you want it bad enough. (A little birdie told me the Chamber of Commerce would bring it up at tonight's meeting . . . Good luck.)

Under The Giant's Head

The painting bug has really caught on. Howard Shannon's "house of shocks" is the latest one bitten. You know, I hear a lot of complaining about the appearance of Summerland. Take a drive and look at other towns our size. But bring your credit card and a fistfull of dough with you, 'cause you are going to buy a heap of gas and plenty of grub before you will find one of finer appearance. Sure there is room for improvement — but by and large it is pretty hard to beat.

Pardon me Fire Chief Joe, I had your lovely Queen candidate Ellen Davis as Miss Summerland Trail Rider last week. Although she is a member of the Trail Riders and not one of your volunteer firemen — she is MISS FIREMEN. Sorry men . . . Ellen too.

Guess Premier Bennett is going for a bigger surplus again in 1967. He has extended the liquor store hours to six days per week in Summerland. This has been requested by the Chamber of Commerce for three years so tourists may satisfy their dry whistle more conveniently without going to Penticton on days off.

A couple of reminders: The MacDonald School program and museum display tomorrow night and the Camera Club will sponsor a two-night show in the secondary school auditorium June 16 and 17. These are Centennial projects . . . no admission charge.

COUNCIL BRIEFS

Andy Nielson met with Summerland Council Tuesday evening, expressing a desire to purchase property adjacent to his own, including an existing lane not in use.

He said it is a corner lot, and suggested the lane will never be required. He wants to build a two-family dwelling but according to existing sewage regulations, there would not be sufficient room to install a septic tank unless he could purchase the lane.

Council agreed and will proceed with a by-law to close the lane.

The Hospital Society will use the municipal ambulance to move patients to the new hospital June 19th. They will provide their own drivers. The official opening of the hospital is set for June 17 at 2 p.m.

The municipal banquet will be held in the Yacht Club on July 1, Centennial Day in Summerland. Visiting dignitaries, including valley reeves, mayors and queens will be invited.

STREET WORK COMPLETED

Blagborne said the downtown street paving program is complete. Reeve Holmes told the Review the two-year program of laying the hot asphalt cost the municipality $45,000.

Phil Munro presented a statement of revenue and expenditures of the Summerland Rink Association which showed a cash operating surplus of $384.09 for the year.

Minor hockey brought in $1,068, while other sources such as hockey rental contributed $842 towards the total of $1,910.

Figure skaters paid $690 and public skaters $873. Rink rentals $495; Fall Fair $75; Curling club spiel and rental $1,050; skate sharpening and sale of laces $104.78. The net income from summer ice was $1,000 for a complete total of $6,199.13.

Munro presented a breakdown of public skating admission. They were, children 14 & under 2,111; adults and students 226 and season ticket admissions 1,206 for a total of 3,543.

Council was impressed with the number making use of the arena and praised the association for its skillful management.

KAMLOOPS RESOLUTION

Kamloops will present a resolution to the quarterly meeting of the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association meeting in Vernon June 22 in an effort to bring school costs down.

They want the valley association to support the standardization of new school structures. They said this would greatly reduce architects fees and make it possible for contractors to be more competitive in contract bids.

Barkwill was not sure this would be a good idea because each district has different demands. Some want more frills than others, heating systems would differ in various parts of the province.

Powell was in agreement and asked, "Wouldn't this bring us almost to a government state? I'm not sure the architects fees are that great."

He also said that the more you owe, the less you pay, the way the school act is now set up.

Councillors Schaeffer, Hill and Reeve Holmes supported the resolution, and agreed that standardization of hospitals should also be done.

The Hospital Auxiliary was given permission to use the Summerland Coat of Arms on the booklet they are having published of the history of Summerland which will contain Dr. Andrews book plus an up-dating by Bert Stent and a history of the Auxiliary prepared by Dr. Munn.

FORESHORE LEASED

Foreshore in Summerland will now be leased to the municipality at the rate of $25.00 per year. They have been seeking this authority for four years. It will not include foreshore previously leased or sold to other parties.

Mr. and Mrs. Len Millar were given permission to move into the old hospital as soon as everything is moved to the new building. They will look after the premises until such time as the couple is able to start a nursing home.

The South Okanagan Health Unit recommended council notify residents allowing sewage to go into the lake to discontinue the practice and divert it to underground septic tanks as far from the lake as possible.

Powell said this was discussed at the last pollution control meeting and it was suggested the only answer is a proper sewage system. He agreed.

A letter from the executive of the Summerland Chamber of Commerce suggested the removal of the big apple highway sign north of town, the small apple sign at Trout Creek and at the old highway to the north; the tourist accommodation sign at 5 Corners and suggested that all unauthorized signs be removed and requested the service club signs be repaired.

The Canadian National Institute for the Blind was authorized to carry out a house to house canvas for funds Oct. 3.

Three mercury vapor lights at the intersection of Highway 97 and the 5 Corners and two at Solly and Highway 97 are proposed.

The Dept. of Highways suggested 250 watt lights on 18 ft. arms extending from steel posts. On the suggestion of Superintendent Blagborne, they will request 400 watts be installed on an 8 ft. arm with the lights tilted slightly upward. The provincial government will pay 50 per cent of the installation and 50 per cent of operating costs.

Cost of the government recommendation is $943.37 and for council's alternative, $994.80.

Blagborne feared they would have trouble with the longer arms when strong winds prevailed.

Five hundred municipal maps naming streets will be ordered and sold at a nominal fee to anyone wishing them. They will be 23"x32".

In case we forget . . .

Too many of us too often forget that a total of 112,331 Canadians gave their lives in the name of freedom and in defence of the ideals which enable us to live the lives we do.

Perhaps this is the best reason for National Veterans Week, which will be sponsored in June as part of Canada's Centennial celebrations, and with the federal government and veterans' associations participating.

It seems fitting that at the conclusion of Canada's first century the contributions and sacrifices of those who protect our freedoms in time of war should be remembered.

It also seems fitting that some of us "older folks" who so clearly remember the real dangers of the last World War use the occasion to remind some of the "younger generation" of the supreme sacrifice made by so many of our former fellow-citizens.

It's hardly fair to blame young people who have not lived through at least a portion of a war if they fail to grasp the true sacrifice made by those who died . . . or the sacrifices and lost years made by the many thousands who weren't killed but who fought for our country. All-out war seems so far removed from our life today.

But it's a story which our young people should be made aware of, and should be reminded of. And, as the Creston Review editor last week wrote, "We wonder if the beatniks, hippies and youthful demonstrators of today realize the fact that they are able to exercise these democratic privileges made possible by the sacrifice of Canadians" in past wars. Sometimes when they're protesting or demonstrating because they are bored with life, perhaps they might give a moment's thought to the more than 112,000 Canadians whose lives were snuffed out in our defense . . . so that we may protest or demonstrate or complain or otherwise express our own opinions.

Beginning with memorial church services and the laying of wreaths on Memorial Sunday, June 11, Veterans Week will be filled with activities for Canada's 975,000 living veterans of the four wars in which Canada has participated since becoming a nation.

Those who served in the two World Wars are being asked to wear their service or "discharge" button during the week.

Here is how war has affected Canada: Since Confederation, Canada has taken part in four wars: South Africa — 1899 - 1902; World War I — 1914 - 1918; World War II — 1939-1945; and Korea — 1950 -

There are approximately 975,000 veterans living in Canada today. Perhaps 1,000 of these are veterans of the South African campaign of 1899.

There are approximately 70,000 Canadian veterans living in foreign countries today.

Canada remembers 112,331 war dead at Cenotaphs across the country each year. Their names are enshrined in four Books of Remembrance in the nation's capital as follows: Nile Expedition and South Africa 267, World War I 66,655, World War II 44,893, Korea 516.

Canadian servicemen have been awarded 94 Victoria Crosses in wars in which Canada has participated since the Victoria Cross was instituted by Queen Victoria in 1856.

Memorials to Canadian servicemen stand in Great Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands, Italy, Malta, Egypt, Singapore, Hong Kong, as well as in cities, towns and villages across Canada.

There are approximately 142,464 veterans receiving disability pensions in Canada today.

Canadian Vetcraft Shops in Toronto and St. Anne-de-Bellevue produce approximately 8,000,000 poppies each year for Canada's November 11th Remembrance Day.

In addition to poppies, veterans in Canadian Vetcraft Shops are producing 2,000 special commemorative wreaths this year, to be placed at war memorials and cemeteries across Canada during National Veterans' Week.

Canadian dead of both World Wars are buried in 70 different countries throughout the world, including Canada, records of the Commonwealth War Graves Commission show.

There are approximately 23,000 war widows living in Canada today.

William Dickie Mills, a native of London, Ont., and now in his 102nd year, is probably Canada's oldest living veteran. Mr. Mills, a veteran of the North-West Field Force (1885 Rebellion), now resides at the DVA Westminster Hospital, in London.

Canada's second oldest veteran is probably James Henry Weir who celebrated his 100th birthday, February 8, 1967. Mr. Weir is a veteran of the Canadian Expeditionary Force of World War I, and a descendant of Judge Robert Stanley Weir, composer of the English version of "O Canada". Born at Fitzroy Harbour, Ont., Mr. Weir now resides at DVA's Rideau Health and Occupational Centre, Ottawa.

From Our Back Files

11 YEARS AGO . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Boothe have been spending the past few days in Seattle. Recent visitors to Revelstoke were Mr. and Mrs. J. O'Mahony. They drove here where Mr. O'Mahony attended a regional hospital board meeting held there.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Miltimore and family spent the long weekend in Salmon Arm visiting their parents. Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wade visited Vancouver over the weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Mel Ducommun and family spent a short holiday at the coast. Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Butler visited the coast over the holiday weekend returning Monday accompanied by Mrs. Butler's mother Mrs. J. C. Robson; Mrs. A. G. Bissett and her mother Mrs. W. Morris. Mr.

and Mrs. E. Matton and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Woilfer returned from a visit to the Prairies.

20 YEARS AGO . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Norm Holmes and family left by motor for Saskatchewan. Miss Evelyn Reid, Miss Ellen Inglis, and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Smith motored to Vernon to participate in the Okanagan Bowling play-offs.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McCutcheon and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Roberts and daughter Carol all of Kelowna visited at the home of Mr. McCutcheon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McCutcheon. Mr. and Mrs. H. Howls left by motor for a week's vacation at Vancouver Island.

Teachland girls participating in the music festival at Vernon were Betty, Mannering, Doreen Troutman and Doreen Clements.

Valedictorian Robin Agur expresses much appreciation

Robin Agur was the Valedictorian of the Summerland Secondary School graduating class and expressed appreciation to parents, teachers and the community for their assistance during their school years.

"We have reached the final day, which has been set aside for us to express our appreciation to all those who have made this wonderful and diverse education system available to us", he said.

"For our parents, perhaps our being here today is thanks enough — they never did ask very much. For our teachers we can only hope that the good use of knowledge gained from them will show our sincere gratitude. To our friends and the community, we say "thank you"—we shall not fail to profit from your help."

He reviewed the past years since their entry in the Secondary school system, and praised the new concept of group discussions.

"We were definitely gaining our independence and were often given a free hand in group discussions."

He said the class was pleased that Homecoming was instituted during the term — "it will give us, and others like us an opportunity to return to the school and renew old acquaintances."

Rod Akitt master of ceremonies at Commencement banquet, Friday

Almost 400 sat down to dinner Friday evening following Commencement at the Summerland Secondary School, consisting of graduates, their parents and guests. The graduating class numbered 61.

Students Council president Rod Akitt was master of ceremonies. At the head table were John Bennest, representing the school board and Mrs. Bennest; John Tamblin, Principal and Mrs. Tamblin; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Akitt; Superintendent of Schools, Gordon Paton and Mrs. Paton and Joan Pelletier, guest of the M.C.

Jane Foster offered the toast to the school, which was answered by teacher, Henri Froid.

Jane Miltimore proposed the toast to the parents, which was answered by her father, Dr. Jas. Miltimore who is chairman of the Summerland School Board.

Miltimore said "You have done yourself proud, may you continue in the same manner in school, at work and play."

Entertainment was offered by three Grade 8 groups. They were Susan Agur, Michael Welsh, Don Aoki, Alan Rasmussen and Pally Smith playing brass instruments; Kathy West, Jean Brown, Susan Wardle and Debbie Charles played two numbers on wind instruments and "The Granules" in suitable costume, sang. They were Kathy West, Jean Brown and Debbie Charles, accompanied by Susan Wardle on the piano.

CANADIAN PRESS SERVES

From small beginnings fifty years ago the Canadian Press, the co-operative serving Canada's daily newspapers, has grown into a $4,000,000 a year enterprise employing some 400 editors, correspondents and teleprinter operators in a dozen offices across Canada, in New York and London.

BRIDGE RESULTS

On Thursday, May 25 in Penticton ten tables of bridge were played on the occasion of monthly Master Point night.

Winners were, North-south:
1. Jack Lockie and Bert Berry;

Choose Bighorn as B.C.'s official animal, asks Wildlife Federation

A resolution proposing that the California Bighorn Sheep be chosen as British Columbia's official animal carried handsomely at the recent B. C. Wildlife Federation convention in Victoria.

Another resolution, undertaking to restore the chukar partridge to its previous level of abundance, was defeated.

Other resolutions which passed unanimously covered such subjects as marginal lands in the Interior, the lowness of fines imposed for convictions under the Wildlife Act, development of a plan for the Kootenay Flats area and opposition to the use of poison in starling control.

White Sox	0	4	1	.000

WITH BRENDA OFFICIALS

Road connection is discussed

Councillors Walter Powell and Ken Blagborne had been out in the Headwaters district with officials of Brenda Mines and told council Tuesday night they were assured Summerland water supply would not be held in jeopardy.

Engineers said they wished to divert some water through Crescent Creek and they are looking to increase the size of the dam on Whitehead.

Powell told them Summerland was willing to co-operate in any way as long as "we are protected. We would come first and when the Trout Creek flow got down, they would have to stop using water," he said. This was agreeable to the mining officials.

Powell said they do not intend to use any of Summerland's storage water—only the waste water from the watershed. He said their greatest problem is going to be at first before they come to the point when they can reclaim the water they use which takes from one to two years.

Holmes said they plan to build a hard-surfaced road from Peachland to Princeton. He spoke to Brenda president B. Brinlyson following a meeting last week in Peachland and asked about the possibility of building a road from Thirsk into Summerland to make it convenient for traffic to get to Peachland without going around by the mine site. Brinlyson had told Holmes he should look into it, and agreed it is a reasonable possibility.

Portraits by Kathy Madsen

Summerland residents will be able to have their portraits done if they attend the annual Art club show in the IOOF hall on June 9 and 10. On hand to do portraits in color or charcoal will be Mrs. Katy Madsen and her daughter Carol.

Several guest artists have been invited to show pictures and each club member will hang up to three paintings in a variety of mediums. Collages, water-colors, oils and acrylics will be on view and both representational and abstract works will be represented. Also on display will be the Centennial wall hanging done by the Arts and Crafts Club during the past winter. This hanging is to be presented to the new hospital.

It is also rumoured that there will be a 'happening' at the show. Some form of art participation is being planned, so join the fun. As usual refreshments will be served. Mrs. Dorothy Morgan, club president and all members are working hard to assure you of an interesting and exciting art show.

YOU AND YOUR CAR INSURANCE

In the belief that education is an important step in accident prevention, READ & PRUDEN, in co-operation with the WAWANESA MUTUAL INSURANCE CO. and Canadian Handbook's Safety Guide Book, will present in the Review, a series of articles designed to improve your driving habits, and in so doing, become a safer driver and enjoy your driving more.

Section "C" (continued from last week)

DAMAGE TO YOUR CAR

(4) Specified Perils — Under this section the insurance company pays for loss or damage to your car due to certain specified causes. These are fire, lightning, theft, or attempted theft, windstorm, earthquake, hail, explosion, riot or civil commotion, falling or forced landing of aircraft or of parts thereof, rising water, or the stranding, sinking, burning, derailment or collision of any conveyance in or upon which your car is being transported on land or water.

DEDUCTIBLES — At a substantial reduction in premium you may get this protection subject to a deductible of $21, $50, $100 or more. This deductible does not apply if loss is due to theft of the entire automobile or fire, when the whole amount of the loss is paid.

THEFT — If your car is stolen, theft insurance pays the actual cash value of your car at time of theft. If the car is found, it repairs any damage done to it while it was in the hands of the thief.

If your car is stolen; the insurance company, commencing 72 hours after you report its loss, will pay you up to $8 a day — to a total of $240 — for rental of a substitute automobile or for taxi or public transportation fares.

RADIOS — Insurance purchased under this section covers your car radio without extra charge, except any radio designed for both transmitting and receiving, such as those used in taxicabs. For example, if only Specified Perils is purchased, the policy will apply to loss of or damage to your radio by fire or theft, windstorm or other perils mentioned but it will not apply if the damage is caused in a collision.

CUSTOMS DUTIES — This section also provides that if while driving in the United States, your car is stolen or is so badly damaged that it cannot be brought back to Canada, the insurance company will pay the duty which will be charged by the U.S. Government.

ACTUAL CASH VALUE — Depreciation and the condition of the car is taken into consideration and the insurance company's liability is limited to the actual cash value of your car at the time of the accident.

Couple to reside in Summerland

Friends and relatives gathered at the Vestry of the Summerland United Church on the evening of May 29 when Glenda Verne Chatten, became the bride of Robert William Henry. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman H. Henry, Summerland. Rev. P. K. Louie officiated at the ceremony.

The radiant bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full length gown of pale rose and white lace, chose for a headdress a halo cap with a short white veil, and carried a bouquet of snapdragons and chrysanthemums. For the traditional 'something old' she chose an antique brooch which had belonged to her paternal grandmother the late Mrs. Henry Chatten.

Mrs. Matt Henry, Oyama was the bride's only attendant, choosing for her gown a waltz-length dress of salmon pink brocade. Acting as his brother's best man was Matt Henry of Oyama.

The reception was held at the home of the groom's parents at Three Lake, Summerland.

Out-of-town guests attending included the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Art George, Penticton, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred George and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Lengel, all from Penticton, Mr. and Mrs. David Gingell of Merritt, Miss Rosalie Witter, Rutland; Robert Henry, Fort St. John; Bill Kereluk, Penticton.

The newlyweds will reside on Victoria St. N. in Summerland.

A new brochure for Summerland

A new Summerland Brochure has been printed.

Ten thousand came off the press late last week and will now be distributed by the Chamber of Commerce. The cover is a color separation reproduction of a scene taken by G.E. Wooliams, Summerland, overlooking Farm Beach and Trout Creek.

Howard Pruden, Chairman of the Brochure committee said he is very pleased with the production.

Inside are a few pertinent statistical facts about Summerland, a map of the valley locating Summerland from north, south, east and west as well as a map of "Summerland's Playground" indicating the many lakes and streams near the municipality. These maps are a three color production.

They were produced by the Chamber of Commerce.

There will be a mine says Brenda president Brinlyson

The president of Brenda Mines Ltd., Mr. B. Brinlyson told his audience at a Peachland Chamber of Commerce-sponsored banquet last week there will definitely be a mine constructed and revealed that Noranda is prepared to guarantee completion of the project.

He said there are ore resources to last for at least 20 years and he predicted the valley would increase in population by 3,000 as a direct and indirect result of the mine becoming a reality. He said they would play a large part in the Peachland activities.

He said there has been no decision on the availability of water from Pennask Lake, but "we do not have to depend on that supply."

Of the pollution problem, they do not anticipate any, because of a proposed system of recirculation and settling ponds. He said any surface water will be returned through their own system. The wastes will go through a rock floor filter from the pit, from which half the water will be returned to the pit and half to tailing ponds where the solids will settle and a certain amount of the water will evaporate and the percolation loss should be in a pure form after going through the ground.

"Any surface water will be returned to our own system," he emphasized.

He said there has been some discussion of a co-operative smelter, but there would not be sufficient ore coming from Brenda alone to establish one.

He said they will have no trouble selling their product because of the contracts they have with Japan. They anticipate exporting $30,000,000 of minerals.

Their capacity will be 20,000 tons per day and estimate the capital investment to be $56.6 million. He said they will move 20,000,000 tons of surface rock this summer prior to the start of the mill which will be near the end of 1968 or early 1969. Construction of an 18-mile road from Peachland to the site will start soon.

He said the work force when operating will be 265 men with an annual payroll of $1,900,000. Including their own men, hydro line employees, engineers and road construction crew, it could total 750 for the next 18 months with a payroll of about $7.2 million.

They estimate it will cost them $1.40 per ton to get the ore out and they hope to realize at least $3.00 per ton.

Peachland Chamber of Commerce president Harold Lyon was master of ceremonies. Civic greetings were brought by Reeve Harold Thwaite. David Pugh, M. P. was also at the head table.

Miss Summerland will be chosen at Queen's Ball

Saturday, June 3 is the day the 1967 Summerland Queen will be announced, at a Ball being held at the Summerland Yacht Club. The eight candidates have worked hard to represent their clubs during the past three months. Candidates are: Ellen Davis, Miss Firemen; Vivian Kinvig, Miss Elks Lodge; Sharon May, Miss Teen Town; Linda Flebbe, Miss Royal Canadian Legion; Elizabeth Orr, Miss Kiwanis; Sandra Stein, Miss Kinsmen; Linda Keuning, Miss Yacht Club; and Katy Evans, Miss Rotary.

The Modernaires will provide music from 9 to 12; and luncheon will be provided by the Kinette Club at midnight.

Graduation party takes completely new twist

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Campbell were completely surprised to find that the "graduation party" they were hosting for their son Wayne Saturday night turned into a twenty-fifth wedding anniversary celebration, with the "graduates" being somewhat older than is usual.

Approximately 30 friends walked in on them bringing refreshments and gifts. While the guests were arriving upstairs, Wayne, Jim, and Judy—sons and daughter of the Campbells, were busy adding wedding bells and silver hearts to the "graduation" decorations they had put up downstairs.

The couple were presented with corsage, boutonniere, and a crystal bowl, and a cakeplate with a 25th-anniversary motif. A decorated wedding cake was included in the refreshments. A pleasant evening of games and dancing was enjoyed by all.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. John Selinger; Mr. and Mrs. Ken Blagborne, who made arrangements for the party and Mrs. Edna Chadburn; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gallop; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Laidlaw, Mr. and Mrs. "Tiny" Hankins, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lekie of Pentiction; Mr. and Mrs. F. Schumann, Mr. and Mrs. J. Schaeffer, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Hill; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Shannon, Mrs. Mildred Campbell (Doug's mother), Mr. and Mrs. Bud Green, Mrs. Walt Toevs (Mr. Toevs was unable to attend); Mr. Keith Armstrong of Edmonton, and Mr. Les Armstrong of the Gulf Islands. Invited but unable to attend were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Chadburn, and Mr. and Mrs. Oswald of Oliver, Mrs. Campbell's mother and her husband.

Awards presented

The following graduates of the Summerland Secondary School received Bursaries of Awards at Commencement Exercises on Friday afternoon.

The Butler Awards, two watches, for the students obtaining the highest average marks were presented to Jane Miltimore, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Miltimore and Sherilyn Shenton daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Shenton by John Bennest.

The Credit Union Bursary of $100 for further training, was awarded to Jane Foster, daughter of Mrs. Vera Foster, by John Khalembach, president of the Summerland and District Credit Union.

W. B. Austin, President of Summerland Kinsmen presented Kathleen Tavender, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wes Tavender the Kinsmen Kinette bursary of $200 to be used to further her training.

President Norman Tanner of the Kiwanis Club presented a $150 bursary each to Dieuwertje Wouters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hank Wouters and Carol Shannon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Shannon on behalf of his club.

Wm. Eyre, vice-president of the Summerland Legion presented Sharon McIntosh daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al McIntosh, with a bursary of $200 to further her training.

The Rotary Club gave bursaries in two new categories, commercial and industrial. Bob Tingley, Rotary Vice-President presented $100 bursaries to Patricia Gowing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emerald Gowing and Robert Dunsdon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Dunsdon.

D. McMurray, on behalf of the Teachers Association, presented Marlene Charles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Charles a bursary of $300 to use towards her teacher training.

Marimae Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Allen won the Citizenship award of $150 presented by Ken and Chuck Brawner annually to further education leading to a degree-granting institution. Chuck, a former graduate of Summerland High School made the actual presentation. The student winning must have shown leadership in school affairs, in school government, fine arts and athletics.

The 1966 winner of the Verrier award, Marjorie Porritt presented it to Beverley Bye, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bye this year. This trophy is presented annually to the best all-round student of the graduating class. The trophy was purchased by the students council in 1941 and is in memory of Robert Verrier, who was killed in a hunting accident in 1939. A medallion was presented to Miss Bye and the trophy retained in the school.

Two Summerland scholarships were awarded by Reeve Holmes this year. They recipients are Jane Miltimore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Miltimore and Sherilyn Shenton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Shenton. The two $250 scholarships are awarded for academic ability, moral character, participation in athletic and other school activities, power of leadership, and such other qualities as the committee shall deem worthy.

Principal John Tamblyn told them the staff has been very pleased with the graduating class both as individuals, and as a group. "The staff has said this more than once", he said.

He said he hoped they have learned how to learn so they may adapt themselves to the changing world. He told them to be builders and hoped they have learned how to work. "Learn to work — the job you save may be your own", he concluded.

John Bennest speaking for the school board said it is the hope of the trustees that "what you have learned will assist you in your next step."

Reeve Holmes was confident they "will leave something to celebrate 100 years from now."

Superintendent Gordon Paton brought greetings from the Department of Education and Ray McNabb, Principal of the Trout Creek School and D. Murray, Vice-principal of MacDonald Elementary offered congratulations.

KEEP ON LEARNING
Guest speaker was Norman Walker, President of the Okanagan Regional College who said "You have to keep on learning — most of us have learned more since we attended school", he said.

"The world is wide open for those who have ambition. It doesn't matter how many examinations you have passed — it is how you use that knowledge", Walker stressed.

"If you have failure, put it behind you and go after success. If you have success, go after more success", the president advised.

CUTTING FOR NEW CROP

Different types of forests require different cutting methods to establish a new timber crop. In the dense Douglas fir forests of the coast, for instance, trees grow in even-aged stands and therefore are about the same size and height. Seedling Douglas firs will not grow in the dense shade of the larger trees. The mature forest, therefore must be clear-cut or removed at one time to provide the soil and light conditions favourable to seed germination and seedling growth. Since it usually requires from one to ten years for Nature to produce a good seed crop which will populate the logged land with the necessary thousands of seedlings, today's logger must assist nature by planting the desired crop he wishes for future harvesting. It takes 80 to 100 years to bring the timber crop to merchantable harvest size.

Interamural track meet held

By Ron Kostelniuk

The annual Jr. Intramural track meet was held on the afternoon of May 24th at the school. Division 12 was the boys winner for the second straight year while in the girls Div. 11 unseated Div. 6 to win. Division 11 squeezed past Div. 7 97 points to 95 to win.

More than 93% of '66 apple crop sold, reports B.C. Tree Fruits

B. C. Tree Fruits Ltd. reports that all but 364,948 boxes of the 1966 fresh fruit crop has been sold and shipped to market, of a total fresh fruit crop of 5,391,161 boxes. The figure compares with 85,431 unsold boxes of the 1965 crop at the same time last year. The 1965 crop was about 1,500,000 boxes less.

Grant offered to science students at School of Arts

Mr. Ted Eames, present Band Master at Prince George is a grandson of the Royal Military School of Music, Kneller Hall, England; after 11 years as an Army band master he became director of music at the General Gordon Memorial School. He has been teaching instrumental music in B.C. for 14 years. Mr. Eames has a unique museum of over 100 antiques musical instruments which he collects and where originals are unobtainable he makes reproductions himself. This entails some fine wood-carving at which he excels. This exhibition will be on display during the 1967 session. Mr. Eames recently lectured and demonstrated with his collection at the Idyllwild Summer School in California.

Minors in possession prove costly

May 29 a juvenile appeared before Juvenile Court Judge J. Hack and pleaded guilty to a charge of driving without a license. The charge arose out of an accident May 14 on Quin-pole Road. He pleaded guilty and was placed on a six-month probation under the probation officer.

Wayne Richard Lee of Rutland appeared before Magistrate Johnson and pleaded guilty to a charge of being a minor in possession of liquor. He was fined $50, or in default, twenty-five days.

Barry Elliott Hall appeared before the magistrate on charges of being a minor in possession of liquor, to which he pleaded guilty, and paid a fine of $50. He was also charged with obstructing justice by giving false information to prevent appearing in court on the first charge to which he pleaded guilty and was given a sus-

Newly-weds to spend honeymoon at Expo

Trout Creek Community Church of God was the scene of an afternoon wedding when Elsie Beryl Pauls, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Pauls of Trout Creek, Summerland, was united in marriage with Kennedy Russell Neumann of Fort Macleod, Alberta, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus A. Neuman of Fort Macleod. Rev. M. Schultz officiated.

Miss Sandra Dunn of Summerland was the soloist, and sang "O Promise Me", and "The Wedding Prayer", and Mrs. Melvin Schultz was organist for the service.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and was gowned in a full length peau de soie fitted gown with lily point sleeves and bell shaped skirt. The waistline at the back was decorated with three self fabric flowers. Her aurora borealis tiara held a shoulder length veil of multi-tiered nylon tulle. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

The matron-of-honour was Mrs. Kent Westerman of Vancouver, who graduated from the Royal Inland Hospital last year, along with the bride.

Bridesmaids were Miss Sharon Pauls, sister of the bride, and Miss Kerry Neumann of Fort Macleod, sister of the groom. The flower girl was Miss Lisa Fortin of Chilliwack. The bridesmaids and matron of honour wore semi-full skirted dresses of yellow nylon crystal crepe with yellow lace jackets, and carried bouquets of white and blue tinted chrysanthemums with yellow satin ribbons. Their headdresses were double layers of yellow nylon net, held in place with nylon flowers. The flower girl also wore a yellow gown, and carried a basket of flowers, and a small headdress. All attendants wore white shoes and gloves.

The best man was Mr. Jay Neumann of Kamloops, brother of the groom, and the ushers were Dale Pauls, the bride's brother and Garry Toffelmire, cousin of the bride from Veteran, Alberta.

The bride's mother wore a two-piece suit of Aqua linen with white accessories, and a corsage of pink roses, while the groom's mother was gowned in a blue lace sheath jacket dress, with white accessories and pink rose corsage.

The reception was held at the Rosedale room of the Royal Canadian Legion and a wedding supper was served. The masters of ceremonies were Stan Seifred of Langley, and Verne England of Aldergrove.

The bride chose a coral suit with beige accessories for a going away ensemble. The bride and groom will be going to Expo and other eastern points after the spring work is done. The newlyweds will reside on a farm near Fort Macleod, Alberta.

Out-of-town guests were from Penticton, Langley, Aldergrove, North Surrey, Mission, Vancouver, Kamloops, Veteran, Edmonton, Calgary and Bellingham, Wash.

Building and lot Sizes revised in Peachland

PEACHLAND -- At the regular meeting of the Peachland Municipal Council last week Reeve Thwaite volunteered to take charge of the roads committee in the absence of Councillor Clements who is a patient in the Kelowna Hospital.

By-law No. 346, as it refers to sub-divisions of land in rural, commercial and residential zones, was amended to read as follows: "A subdivision of land into parcel of less area 9,000 sq. ft. with 75 ft. frontage not be permitted and that minimum size of homes in the municipality be 800 sq. ft. unless otherwise authorized by Council." Until now subdivisions in the rural area not served by the domestic water system had to have a minimum of one-half acre lots and buildings could be as small as 400 sq. ft. After advice of the health department on sewerage disposal in the municipality, council decided to make the amendment.

A letter was received from the O.K. Telephone Co. in answer to council's request for telephone poles to be removed from the beach. The letter included plans for the reconstruction of telephone lines in the back alleys. Council approved this.

The Chamber of Commerce requested council to re-consider its decision on granting 25 cents per capita because the Chamber has numerous commitments and an increase was necessary. A 50-cent per capita grant was passed by council.

A thank you note was read from Gov. General Roland Mitchell thanking council for its good wishes sent him at the time of his taking office.

Mrs. Penny Smalls of Vancouver submitted sub-division plans of her Beach Ave. property which were approved by council. Plans submitted by Herb Coldman of Burnaby for sub-division of his property on Beach Ave. were approved in principle.

The Reeve disclosed that a request to the Dept. of Highways to provide surveyors to work in the municipality has been denied, due to pressure of work in the department. A motion was made that F. C. Slee, surveyor, be engaged to do the work needed on Trepianier Hill Road, Princess Ave. access off Princeton, and survey a further half-mile on the Princeton Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Chipmendale attended council to discuss the water system hook-up to their property and said they are willing to hook on the domestic water system, bearing all costs of this complete system, and then will turn the system, at no cost, over to the municipality. The main question raised was their position if other parcels of land were subdivided past the property in the near future, and asked for protection against this. Council agreed to a by-law be drawn up providing this protection.

John Graeme of Ker, Peterson & Graeme, who prepared a planning report for Peachland spoke to council of problems encountered while making the study and emphasized that domestic water and sewage had been the most time-consuming part of the report. Economy was also a problem in a small municipality and the fact that ARDA had no report available presented difficulties. He said although the report appears to be severe in some areas, it was his job to present ideal community planning and this was attempted. Reeve Thwaite thanked Gareme and said when more is known on the Brenda Mines situation, they will perhaps call on him advice again.

Lorne Fleming asked about an access of Princeton Ave and was told it will be surveyed in the next few weeks. He also enquired about water for his proposed trailer court. Council will allow an easement on Lily St. and promised a by-law will be written to protect Fleming's interests.

Marbar Holdings Ltd. requested to install a water system on their Trepianier property, and would like the municipality to provide a line from Highway 97. The request was considered not feasible due to the small size of the existing line. The company was told a four inch line could be constructed from the six mainline on Buchanan Rd. All expenses must be borne by Marbar Holdings.

Councillor S. Elstone reported that all glass has been picked up on the beaches, and called for residents to exercise care in leaving litter on the beaches.

Council voted to endorse a resolution presented by the Okanagan Shuswap Canal Committee regarding construction of a navigable canal.

May bride honored at shower

A miscellaneous shower was held in the Japanese Hall for Miss Margaret Arase recently. Miss Arase became Mrs. Roy Yamaoka Saturday, May 27.

Dear Senior: M a n y teens question, "Should I compromise on a date? Should I cheat on my math exam? Should I rebel against my parents and teacher's discipline?"

The ancient Persian writers speak glowingly of a certain young teen. They indicate his "god-like" appearance and muscular build.

Also, Mohammed devotes a whole chapter of the Koran to this teen's purity and virtue!

Separated from parents, betrayed by jealous brothers, knowing the pressures of bribery, corruption and sex, he nevertheless became the greatest leader of his day.

He did not have two sets of values. He did not have second-hand opinions. He did not fear those who did! He was not a parrot or mimic of other teens values.

His name? Joseph!
 Secret of his success? He had the ability to say "No!"
 Second, he thought for himself! A normal, red-blooded teenager who would not be pushed around by impulses.

Third, he had a secret about temptation. It went like this.
 Don't expect it. Don't look for it. Flee its presence mentally and physically.

Fourth, he knew personally the great Magnet of life Himself. His motto, "Thou God seest me."

Now that's what I call a real winner!

Centennial program and museum display at MacDonald School

The MacDonald School Senior Choir and Divisions 1 and 2 will present a Centennial program "Canadian Heritage" tomorrow evening (Friday). The program opens in the MacDonald School Annex with a varied presentation of history in song and story.

Approximately 85 pupils will take part. They will be in costume to greet guests, to entertain them and to explain items in the display.

"Because the program and displays are major undertakings, and a part of the younger citizens effort to contribute to Canada's birthday celebrations, it is hoped there will be a full house of adults and senior students to take in this function" Mrs. Roberge said.

Pupils of MacDonald Elementary will see the full program during school hours. Any children under 12 years of age at the evening program must be accompanied by their parents throughout the evening.

Following the program, the guests are invited to tour a large museum display in the main building. The display includes genuine antiques, loaned for the occasion, by residents of the valley.

Of special interest are items of furniture such as an antique settee, an organ, lamps, a writing desk and rocking chairs. Household equipment such as a spinning wheel, cider press, churn, irons, clocks, rugs, bed warmer and bread mixer. Farm equipment such as ploughs, a double-tree, pumps, buggy and

Robin Barkwill class poet

Robin Barkwill was selected Class Poet of the Summerland 1967 graduating class.

She read the following poem, one of her own composition during the commencement on Friday afternoon.

CLASS POEM 1967

What do I remember?
Sights, smells, sounds, indistinct;
Shrouded faces vainly mouthing words.
There must be more than that,
I am officially educated.
I have my ticket to the good life,
The car waits to take me to the station.
Who is coming to see me off?
The reception is guaranteed.
Now at the start,

Surrounded by those who disembarked,
Uncertainty holds me back.
What have I learned?
How to stuff 30 books into a locker
The anatomy of a foetal pig?
Or how to get ahead without really trying?
Looking back for gladness,
I see only 12 years of extracurricular sugar cubes.
It was Jagger who said,
"There's got to be trust in this world
Or it won't get very far", Yet his was broken and distorted.
We must decide ourselves
our own
And let it be forever.

Riding Club to host stage coach riders on Sunday, June 11

The Summerland Trail Riders offered to act as host of the B. C. Centennial Committee Stage Coach scheduled to arrive in Summerland on Sunday, June 11. Mrs. Alice Bye and Mrs. Ches. Letz made this offer at the meeting of the Centennial Committee last week. Their offer was accepted with thanks.

"I am so delighted you are going to help us out," chairman Jim Marshall said.

The Stage Coach will arrive about noon and will be met by the Trail Riders north of town. They will be directed into the ball park where they will unload in preparation for a tour of the updown area.

The riding club expressed concern about having horses travel over freshly asphalted streets so they will not parade to the municipal office, as originally planned, but will take a route avoiding these streets and stop in front of Parkdale Place in Memorial Park, where Reeve Holmes will accept an official scroll from driver A.T. Buckman. The other riders will be with him and chairman of the Centennial Committee, Dr. Jas. Marshall and Mrs. Marshall and Reeve and Mrs. Norman Holmes will ride in the stage coach along the parade route.

The riding club will then take the group to dinner and have arranged a special "Fun Day" on their grounds in the ball park to which the public is invited. It will be followed by a chuckwagon dinner for riding club members and the guests if their schedule allows them to stay in Summerland for that long.

The stage coach left Victoria May 22 and will end its journey at Fort Steele June 22. The outfit is being transported by truck.

THE ALL NEW VIVA

Has arrived at Loewen Pontiac-Buick

Longer, lower, sleek and silent. Wider, too. The all-new Viva is the one that has stood the small car class on its collective ear with a total design that will revolutionize your ideas about economy cars. While sound insulation and isolation was a paramount objective, every aspect of the new Viva has been redesigned or refined to produce the quietest running, smoothest operating economy car you'll find in a month of Sundays. Read the inside story.

MODELS — There are two versions of this all-new car: Viva and Viva De Luxe. Each is built to the same high Viva standard of quality and engineering excellence. Each features Viva's dynamic new 'space curve' styling. The series differ in interior and exterior trim and degree of luxury. The lowest priced and basic series in the line is called Viva. Viva De Luxe offers extra luxury. Specific differences are detailed in the following sections.

INTERIOR COMFORT AND CONVENIENCE — The most striking thing about Viva's interior is its surprising roominess. Curved side glass increases shoulder room and wheel wells don't intrude into rear seat space.

Leave young animals alone

The British Columbia Fish and Wildlife Branch reminds well-meaning nature lovers that Babes of the Woods are not "fair game" for adoption.

Dr. James Hatter, Director, states that infant wildlife creatures may appear lost, hungry and forlorn, but in very few cases have they been abandoned by their parents.

Their parents, naturally spooky and reluctant to show themselves to human intruders, often stand hopelessly nearby as their youngsters are carried away by people who find them cute and cuddly.

The young of any wildlife species require expert care and feeding that can be supplied only by the mother and they usually won't survive when this relationship is severed.

The young of all wildlife are protected by law under the Wildlife Act and it is an offense to have them in possession.

"The kindest thing to do for young animals found in the wild is to leave them alone," said Dr. Hatter.

Centennial Report

CENTENNIAL COMMISSIONER

Two big numbers in the Centennial's national show are "on the road" now and they have been giving "smash hit performances."

Attendance figures on the Confederation Train can be described as "peak capacity plus" and the Armed Forces Military Tattoo, which opened to the public at Peterborough, Ont., March 31, has established its reputation for being a highly professional show that produces unanimous audience enthusiasm and praise.

It's a major understatement to say that we at the Centennial Commission are pleased by the success of these important "opening numbers" in the 1967 celebrations.

The Confederation Train began its tour early in January at Victoria where it received 58,000 visitors. By April 6, when it was at Saskatoon on its eastward tour, 650,000 people had seen this colorful travelling exhibition.

Those in charge of the Confederation Train tour had estimated, last year, that about one and a half million people would board it. On the basis of daily crowds so far they now predict a total of two million. Unfortunately it is doubtful we can stretch that figure more since there is a physical limit to the number of people who can pass through the train per day and there must be a number of "no show" days during the tour to allow for travelling time between exhibit points and for maintenance and repairs.

The attendance figures are the main evidence of the train's success. Art and design critics aside, I like to quote a wide-eyed railway yard hand's remark to a fellow worker following a sneak visit on company time: "It's marvelous. I want my kids to see this, for sure."

From Air Marshall to Petty Officer to Private, all members of the Armed Forces should be proud of their Military Tattoo. The two touring casts have been performing to sell-out houses since the show opened.

The Tattoo casts are split-second trained. Pride, morale and discipline also are noticeable throughout the show. (This was noted by a Commission observer during a midnight briefing session following the final performance at Peterborough; you could hear a pin drop as 300 men assembled to receive comments and instructions for the next performance.)

The Tattoo does not glorify war nor does it remark on famous generals or battles won or lost. It does pull at your heart strings with memories or recollections of the "ordinary" Canadians who fought and died in past wars.

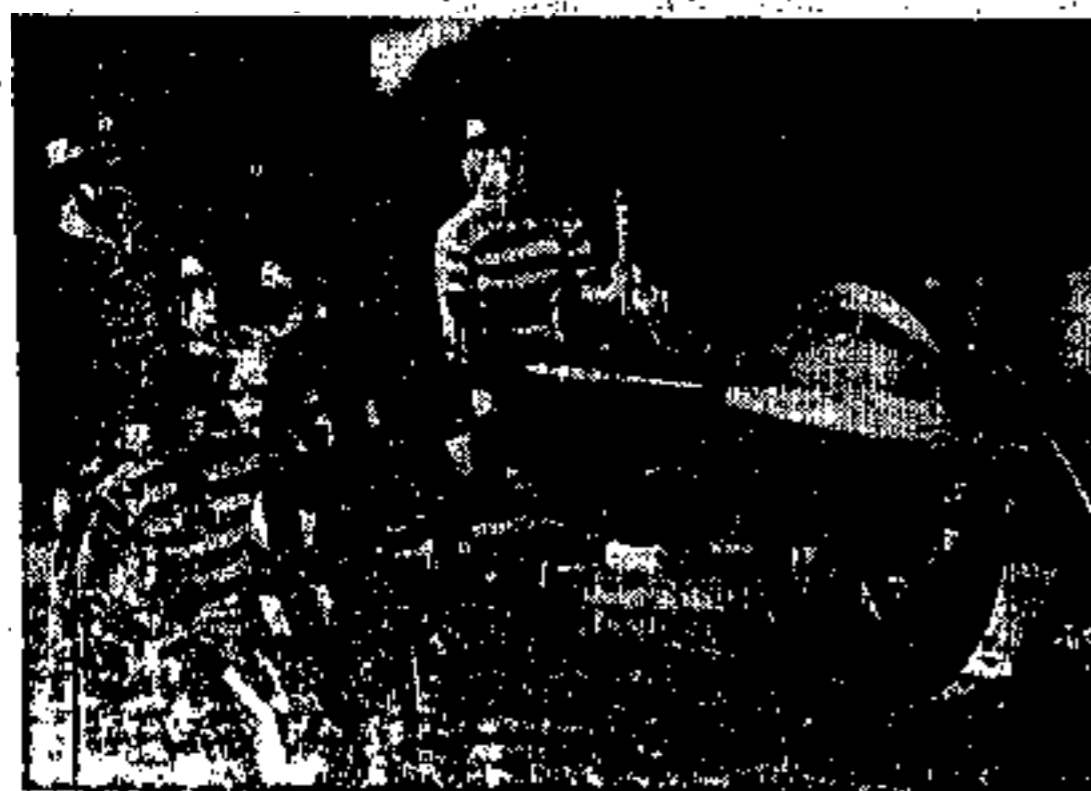

Tattoo service songs — of the earliest French regiments, the Scots, the navy, the 20th century wars — and original music are played by highly trained and rehearsed marching bands. Audiences on sea tides, with heart-in-mouth apprehension, watch the thrilling Armed Forces Gymnastic Display Team, precision manoeuvres and other spectacles including a naval gun-hauling race.

It would be a surprise to me to find anyone in a Tattoo audience who did not allow at least a measure of nationalistic sentiment to creep into his soul. The show will be a cherished part of many memories long after 1967.

Lots of material for excellent beach

C. of C. will ask that Farm Beach become public

The Summerland Chamber of Commerce is going to look into the possibility of making what is known as 'Farm Beach' on the Okanagan open for public use.

Ted Atkinson, a retired official from the Research Station gave a brief history of the problems.

He said the farm acquired the land in 1928 which gave the federal government control. With the population increasing trouble began so they locked the gate.

It was used for a summer camp for a church group for a time.

He said there have been negotiations and dealings with various people to bring the road around the government property to the beach, but have failed.

"That beach is one of the best in the Okanagan," he said "I'm sure it could be worked out"

The meeting was unanimously in favor that the matter should be pursued so the executive will contact the Director of the Summerland Research Station to see what could be done.

The picture on the front of the new Summerland Brochure is of Farm Beach. Some members questioned the wisdom of this when people are not able to use the beach. "Just look - don't use" one member commented. "I don't know how we are going to explain this one"

Gordon Smith elected to executive

Summerland Municipal clerk, Gordon Smith was elected to the executive of the Municipal Officer's Association of B. C. at their annual meeting in Victoria.

H. W. Cooper, Penticton City Administrator, was elected Vice President.

Heather Impett is one of the MacDonald School students who assisted in making the museum display a huge success on Friday night. The students explained many of the over 200 items on display.

Summerland has the material to produce a beach second to none on the Okanagan below Peach Orchard — and one that will enable bathers to walk out three to four hundred feet.

This is the report Mr. Fred Hardy, dredge operator from Harrison Hot Springs had for Council Tuesday evening after inspection.

The council have contemplated renting the Harrison Hot Springs dredge to make a public beach at that location if feasible.

Hardy said "There are wonderful possibilities, lots of material with every possibility of making a wonderful beach."

He said they could bring the beach eight feet above the existing water level and go out with at least 200 feet of beach. 1500 feet of shoreline is involved.

"The gain is similar to the Penticton beach" he said.

Works Superintendent Blagborne said he brought Hardy to council to give them an opportunity to ask questions and said they are ready to go ahead anytime they get the "go ahead" from council.

He estimated the dredge and operator would cost about $3,000 per month and that it would take about 3 months to do the job.

There would be a total of 64,000 yds. of material to move.

Charles Adams answers last call

Mr. Charles James Adams passed away in Summerland General Hospital Tuesday, May 30 at the age of 88 years.

Born in Bellville, Ont. he resided in Summerland for the past 20 years.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. C. R. Adams, Vancouver; 1 son James R. L. Adams, Port Alberni. 4 daughters, (Mary) Mrs. G. W. Benedict, Armstrong; (Jennie) Mrs. Jack Beckerley, (Roberta) Mrs. P. W. Anderson (Olga) Mrs. D. S. Stevens all of Port Alberni; 26 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted from St. Stephen's Anglican Church, Summerland, Friday, June 2 at 1:30 p.m. with Rev. Norman Tannar officiating. Interment Peach Orchard Cemetery. Wright's Funeral Home entrusted with arrangements.

TWENTY AT LADIES DAY

20 ladies participated in the "Ladies Day" at the Golf Club this week.

Winners of the game "Throw Out" were 1. Ethel Hughes, and 2. Norma Lichtenwald.

Play for the Rumball Cup is coming along very well.

Camera Club well prepared for Centennial show June 16, 17

Many are looking forward to the show to be presented by the Summerland Camera Club "Under the shadow of the Giant's Head" on June 16 and 17 at 8:00 p.m. in the Secondary School Auditorium.

The show has taken a year of hard work on the entertaining Centennial Showsyet.

They will be comparative slides. Mrs. Pauline Snow has been gathering pictures taken around Summerland back in the 1880's and Jack Morrow has reproduced them on slides. They then went out and took pictures, in color, of the same location as it is today.

The show is about one and a half hours long, with appropriate people doing the commentating. There will be no admission charge.

Residents have sewage problem

Following the Summerland council meeting last week, residents living on the lake who discharge their sewage directly into the lake were instructed, by letter to correct the situation.

As a result of this, Miss Jean Bennest, Lakeshore Drive, replied by letter and attended Tuesdays meeting and said in this regard. She said her second bathroom had been authorized as recently as 10 years ago.

She asked if an overall plan had been considered. "I came to council because I thought it is time someone from lower-town spoke up and showed some concern," she said. "I know my house is on a postage stamp and I have never been able to find my proper lot size."

She said the situation is not a good one but added, "we must figure out the best use of what we have."

Reeve Holmes said the answer is a sewage system.

Schaeffer said there are places where large storage tanks are used and are pumped out periodically but he did not know what satisfaction resulted in this system.

Holmes said possibly lake fill would be the answer, but agreed with Powell that sewage system would eventually have to come to Summerland Lakeshore and Trout Creek.

Under The Giant's Head

Double bouquets to Mrs. Paul Roberge and her MacDonald Elementary students for a fine Centennial show and museum display on Friday night. This one took just a whale of a lot of work to put on. She had many kind words for those who loaned museum pieces. There were so many offered they just couldn't find room for them. This one showed great Centennial spirit.

Jack Towgood says the Centennial parade is coming along fine with quite a few organizations coming forward with contributions but he requests that others who are planning to enter to let him know so his planning will be more complete. Among those officially contributing so far are: The Womens Institute, Brownies and Guides, Elks, Scandinavian Club, Kinsmen, Kiwanis and the Summerland Band.

Some of you young fellas get mixed up with girlfriends once in a while so I guess it's only right that an old crotch like me should get mixed up with grannies. This I did last week in one of the write-ups of the graduation program. In any case, they were Lillian Tucker, Rosemary Munn, Ellen Gerrard with Mary Foster on the piano, and they made their lovely costumes themselves and their singing at the banquet was excellent.

A cute little fella' dropped in at the house the other day for a visit and strolled into the bedroom. Being curious and being a normal red-blooded Canadian boy, he just happened to glance into Peg's dresser drawer and asked her, "Do you keep everything in here?" See you in the dog house.

Terrific Cooperation

Anyone with the idea that Summerland organizations will not do their share on community projects are not members of the Centennial Committee, or they have not been in a position where it was necessary to call out all organized troops for assistance. The cooperation everyone has given the Centennial group is nothing short of wonderful. There wasn't a single one who was not ready to pitch in to help when asked to do so, some came forward offering their services.

The hard-working Centennial Committee Chairman, Jim Marshall took a count of the number of organizations who have played a part to date and was astounded to find that the number was no less than twenty-one.

A typical example of the willingness of Summerland organizations was revealed at a recent meeting.

The Centennial Stage Coach will arrive on Sunday, June 11th, and the Summerland Trail Riders were asked if they would escort the group into town... they of course said yes but went on to offer more assistance.

They said they would play host to the visiting group, feed them and sponsor a special "Fun Day" in the afternoon at the Ball Park followed by a Chuck Wagon Dinner.

We mention this one because it is the latest example of support given to the Centennial Committee. There have been many others.

Having worked with the Centennial Committee over the past months, we know that Summerland is behind the celebration wholeheartedly. The help is coming from everyone from Teentown to a host of adult organizations we will not mention at this time, but proper recognition will be given in our Centennial issue.

The support the general public has given to sponsored programs has been excellent.

Everyone is looking forward to the Camera Club presentation on June 16 and 17 when pictures of "then and now" will be shown. We predict the Secondary School will be packed for this presentation too.

Yes — Centennial fever has hit Summerland, in a very pleasant unassuming manner. The Centennial Committee are now rounding third base, heading for home. Had it not been for the terrific cooperation of organizations they would have still been bogged down on first.

FROM OUR BACK FILES

15 YEARS AGO

Swim classes under proper supervision will be conducted this summer at Powell Beach under the auspices of the Rotary Club of Summerland. The summerland Board of Trade has carried on these classes but was unable to do so this year.

Mrs. William Stein left on Tuesday for Edmonton and Fairbanks Alaska to visit at the home of her daughter Mrs. D. M. Hart. Mrs. Clarence Adams has returned home after being in Vancouver last week to see the capping ceremony at the Vancouver General Hospital, where her daughter Phyllis received her nursing cap.

20 YEARS AGO.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Forester returned on Saturday from a honeymoon by motor to coast points and have taken up residence in their new home at Crescent Beach.

Mr. Bill Sherwood and Mr. Stan Tofsrud were weekend visitors to Vancouver. They returned by motor on Monday evening accompanied by Mrs. Sherwood.

Mr. Jim Hack is spending 2 weeks holiday here from his post with the C.P.R. at Tadanac.

Mr. Bill Snow returned yesterday from a visit to New Westminster, Chilliwack and Harrison. While at the coast, Mr. Snow attended the Fish and Game convention.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Maddison and son returned from Mountain Park where they have spent the past several months and will make their future home in Summerland.

Mike Weeks takes top honors in Junior Golf Tournament

There were fourteen starters in the Junior golf tournament sponsored by the Summerland Golf and Country Club Saturday. President Ken Nistor was in charge.

Play started at 9:15 and was over at 2:30, before sandwiches and pop.

Mike Weeks received most of the honors, taking the low gross with a score of 95 over the 18 hole distance. He also won the honors for the longest drive and got a pair of fours on number eight, which was the hidden hole. He was presented with a golf ball for each win.

David Evans made the longest putt and was awarded a golf ball, and was in second spot for low gross with a 102. Ralph Girard was third with 112.

Marg Fell was the only girl in the tourney and received high praise from President K. Nistor, who said he hoped more would come out next time. She was given the three golf balls for hidden hole, longest drive and low gross.

Mike Weeks gained the right to represent Summerland at the Jr. College for golf instruction at Chilliwack July 17 to 24. His expenses will be paid by the Summerland Golf and Country Club.

Lose your flat-bottom boat?

Two minors appeared in police court on June 7 and were charged with being minors in possession of liquor. Basil John Dickson of Summerland and Edward Clarence Pollard of Penticton, were both found guilty of the offense which took place on May 27, and were fined $50.00.

Anyone who lost a home made flat bottom boat, 7' 8" in length and white in color, can pick it up at the R.C.M.P.

CANADA'S CENTURY

A news background special on the Centennial of Confederation

When Culture Came To The Rugged Land

(Fifteenth Of A Series)
By WALT McDAYTER

It is often bemoaned by Canadians that this country is a cultural wasteland; a nation born without an artistic soul.

This despite the fact that in every field of the performing and creative arts, Canada since Confederation has produced talents that have won acclaim the world over.

Countless canvases by Canadian artists hang in places of honor in such famed houses as the Louvre, London's Tate Gallery, and even Moscow's Museum of Modern Art. There have been many styles of expression, from the serene pastoral scenes of Horatio Walker, the experiments in colorism of James Wilson Morrice, the bright and bold techniques of the distinctively Canadian Group of Seven and their stylized northern Ontario landscapes, to the expressive portraits of F. H. Varley.

Charles G. D. Roberts has been called the "Father of Canadian Poetry." Roberts' best known work is "Orion and Other Poems," published in 1880, and it exerted tremendous influence on the verses of William W. Campbell, Archibald Lampman, and Bliss Carman. A contemporary poet with a growing following here and abroad is the dynamic Irving Layton.

There are few nations where readers have not delighted in the gentle humor of Stephen Leacock. King of Canadian humor before Leacock was Nova Scotia's mid-18th-century satirist, Thomas Chandler Haliburton, creator of Sam Slick.

In opera, tenor Edward Johnson became the rage of Europe around World War I, singing at the greatest opera house of all, La Scala, and later at New York's Metropolitan Opera Company, becoming its manager, 1935. More recently, brilliant soprano Teresa Stratas has won thundering ovations at La Scala and New York, as well as the Bolshoi.

In popular music, bandleaders such as Percy Faith, Guy Lombardo and Howard Cable have few equals. In jazz, there is Maynard Ferguson, Moe Koffman, and Oscar Peterson.

In the most modern medium of culture, movie films, Canada has provided some of the most famous faces appearing on the silver screen: Mary Pickford, Norma Shearer, Walter Pidgeon, Lorne Greene, Glenn Ford, Yvonne de Carlo, and Boris Karloff, to name but a few.

Canada is gaining a respected reputation in the making of movies as well. Private film companies are now launching feature movies, and the National Film Board, founded in 1936, has won more than 50 international awards, including a Hollywood Oscar and a first prize from the British Film Academy.

In the legitimate theatre, Canadian names have had top billing on many a marquee: Beatrice Lillie, hailed as the world's funniest woman; Christopher Plummer; Lloyd Bochner; and Kate Reid. And of course, a monument to Canadian theatre is the Stratford Shakespearean Festival, established in 1963.

We can boast of comedians John Wayne and Frank Shuster; pianist Glenn Gould; in ballet, David Adam and Lois Smith; and Yousuf Karsh, world's foremost portrait photographer.

In every endeavor of the arts, Canadian stars have shone brilliantly. The tragedy is, however, too often these artists had to make their names on the international scene before they won the grudging applause of Canadian audiences.

A worthwhile Centennial project might be a concerted effort to teach Canadians to trust their own taste in art!

Katy Evans named Centennial Queen

It was a tense moment for the eight Summerland Queen Candidates when Chamber of Commerce President Eric Tait announced the Queen Elect and her two princesses.

It was done during the annual Queen's Ball at the Yacht Club Saturday night. A large crowd was in attendance.

The panel of judges, who have been watching the girls for many weeks at various functions chose the winner to be Katy Evans, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Wilf Evans, who was sponsored by the Summerland Rotary Club.

The Princesses are Miss Firmen, Elen Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davis, Miss Kiwanis Club, Elizabeth Orr; daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Orr.

Miss Summerland, Rita Rusaw pinned the ribbon on Miss Evans and Princesses Dianne Selenger on Elizabeth Orr and Princess Pat Gillispie on Ellen Davis.

They will be officially crowned at 2:00 p.m. July 1, during the Centennial celebrations.

The evening was spent dancing to the Modernaires who everyone agreed were in their usual top form. The Summerland Kinettes supplied and served a delicious lunch about 12 midnight.

All the other lovely candidates were in attendance, they were; Miss Yacht Club, Linda Keuning; Miss Kinsmen, Sandy Stein; Miss Canadian Legion, Linda Flebbe; Miss Teen-Town, Sharon May and Miss Elks Lodge, Vivian Kinvig.

Lyon Art Exhibition in Kelowna

By Brend Davies

Harold Lyon, Peachland, is holding an Exhibition of paintings at the Jack Hamilton Galleries in Kelowna. This will be open daily from 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m., from June 2nd. to 10th. Mr. Lyon has exhibited at the Gainsborough Gallery in Calgary, Dutch Galleries, Vancouver and the Bellvue Collectors Gallery, Bellvue Washington. His distinguished A-Frame studio in Peachland just off Highway 97 commands a panoramic view of Okanagan Lake, where Mr. Lyon devotes all his time to his paintings. This showing will be well worth a trip to Kelowna.

Here is George Giannotti standing beside an old apple juicer over 100 years old at the museum display in the MacDonald School Friday night.

Test aerial survey used for tree census in valley

Arrangements have been made with the B.C. Agriculture and Forestry Departments to make an aerial survey of the Valley. The project this year will be limited to two areas: from the border to Oliver, and from Skaha Lake to Naramata.

The purpose is to find out for certain what use can be made of aerial photographs to assist in maintaining a continuous tree census. Both color film and black and white will be used. Photographs will be taken at three different periods during the season: Early May (completed), mid-August, and late October. It is hoped that from these variables the best plan for making the pictures can be determined so that the best possible survey of the whole industry can be made in 1968.

The horticultural branch is co-operating by making a field inspection the same day the flight is made, to provide information that can be co-ordinated with photographic details.

Basic to the success of the project is the grower's own tree census to compare with the aerial photograph of his orchard. It will then be possible to determine to what extent varieties, tree age, and other factors, can be determined from the photographs. If you have not already completed your tree census please do so at once. This is vital to the success of the project.

When it is considered that the plane will be flying approximately one mile above the floor of the Valley, accurate information may, at first glance seem very unlikely. However, existing photographs show accurately tree counting can be done, and it remains for this project to demonstrate what else is possible. The successful portrayal of detail by high flying photographed in Cuba and Viet Nam is proven. We hope this industry can also make use of the techniques of photogrammetry.

Canal could make Okanagan Canada's tourist centre

Bernie Hume-Smith told the Sumerland Chamber a request of the Federal and Provincial Governments has been made to make a feasibility study of the proposed Canal connecting the Okanagan and Shushap water systems and called for local support.

Hume-Smith, the Chamber representative on that committee asked for support from the municipality, Yacht Club, Power Squadron and the Chamber.

He said the additional advantages in irrigation could well increase the Okanagan Valley agricultural production greater than that of the Fraser Valley. He said canning companies are willing to invest money in land as well as establish plants.

A canal connecting the two systems 10 feet deep and 60 feet wide is proposed.

Hon. Pat Jordon told the meeting she thought the provincial government could be sold on the idea.

The association proposes to control the flow of water from both north and south, and a series of storage dams may be constructed to assure the north of water when lakes are low. The Okanagan is 38 feet lower than Shushap.

He said there are three main advantages of having the canal. Irrigation water, water conservation and Craft navigation.

Ted Atkinson said in a talk earlier in the evening that the Okanagan has only scratched the surface of the Tourist industry. Hume-Smith said the canal could be one of the greatest single factors to make the Okanagan one of the biggest Tourist spots in Canada.

YOU AND YOUR CAR INSURANCE

In the belief that education is an important step in accident prevention, READ & PRUDEN, in co-operation with the WAWANESA MUTUAL INSURANCE CO. and Canadian Handbook's Safety Guide Book, will present in the Review, a series of articles designed to improve your driving habits, and in so doing, become a safer driver and enjoy your driving more.

"C" — DOES NOT COVER

Wear and tear — Automobile insurance does not cover ordinary wear and tear of your car or its parts or equipment. Tires — Under all parts of this section of your policy, loss or damage to tires is not covered unless the loss or damage is coincident with other loss or damage, or is caused by fire, theft or malicious mischief, covered by such subsection. Rugs — Rugs and robes are not considered to be part of the car's equipment and are excluded.

Breakdown — Mechanical fracture or breakdown, freezing or explosion of the combustion chamber is excluded unless it occurs as a result of an accident for which you are covered. Embezzlement — Loss caused by the conversion, embezzlement, theft or secretion by any person in lawful possession of the automobile under a mortgage conditional sale, lease or other similar written agreement is excluded.

Theft by fraud — The policy does not apply if you voluntarily part with the title or ownership of the car whether or not you are induced to do so by any fraudulent scheme, trick, device or false pretence.

Radioactive material — Loss of or damage caused directly or indirectly by contamination by radioactive material is excluded.

Contents of trailers — Contents of trailers are specifically excluded.

TOURIST BAGGAGE INSURANCE

May be purchased for a low premium covering you and members of your family while travelling anywhere in the world, for loss of or damage to your baggage and personal effects. Usually the only exclusions are the hazards of war; ordinary wear and tear; breakage except where the conveyance is involved in an accident. Sample premium for this coverage is from $5 to $10 for $1,000 insurance over a period up to 2 months.

TRAVEL ACCIDENT INSURANCE

A reasonably priced Accident Insurance policy can be purchased from any insurance agent to cover a person and his dependents travelling together by automobile, bus, train, ship or plane. The coverage is good 24 hours a day at home or abroad, while in transit in hotel or on the street; in fact anywhere. As is usual with accident insurance policies there is a principal sum payable in the event of death, dismemberment or loss of sight. Medical expenses reimbursement up to a fixed amount is also covered.

Check these exclusions if you intend insuring — usual exclusions from coverage are injuries due to war, flying in unscheduled aircraft, occupational hazards that would involve workmen's compensation and deliberate self-inflicted injuries. Sample premium for a month would be between $5 and $10 for $1,000 face amount and up to $1,000 medical expense. Check whether you have accident coverage under your regular automobile insurance policy.

Chamber requests street lights from Solly Road towards town

There were 25 members out to the Summerland Chamber of Commerce meeting last week and an interesting and varied meeting took place.

Dick Randall said a letter has gone to the Highways Department requesting a sign south of the intersection of Solly Road and the highway indicating "Summerland 100 ft. ahead."

His committee also requested street lights on Solly Road from the highway west. A letter will go to the Municipality regarding this.

Chas Bernhardt is in charge of the Traffic Control committee on July 1, Centennial Day. They will work with police authorities.

President Eric Tait reported the C.N.I.B. requested assistance in their drive for funds on October 3.

Ted Atkinson, Managing Director of the Okanagan Regional Industrial Development Council reported on his recent trip to Europe in search of people who may be interested in setting up business in the Okanagan. He brought out the following points.

* Industrialists are interested in Canada, but Canada to them means Toronto.

* A German businessman has invested $100,000 in B.C. because he does not have confidence in the German government, judging from past performances. He wanted security for his family.

* Six company representatives have been in the Okanagan since his European tour.

* It is compulsory for firms to become members of the German Chamber of Commerce and Industry. President is considered a very important person.

* Ontario doing a better selling job on the continent than B.C.

* Germany can use all the canned-sweet cherries and potatoes we can produce.

* Government restrictions hinder English development in Canada. They can only take $14,000.00 out and only if authorized by the Foreign Exchange department. A 25% discount on any money over $14,000.00.

* Various companies interested in having companies produce products from soap to road machinery.

Special tire mark is danger warning

A new tire safety feature being introduced this year in many automobile tires made in Canada is the "wear bar". It is designed to show when the tire tread has worn to 2/32 of an inch, and warns the owner that tread depth less than that could spell danger. "When the tread wear bar appears," said the Canadian Highway Safety Council, "it's time to replace the worn tire. Further use of the tire could result in loss of control and increases the probability of skids."

The wear bar is built into the tire at the factory where it is placed 2/32 of an inch from the bottom of the tread. The Council welcomed the bar as an important safety feature whereby the owner is warned of potential tire hazards unless he takes prompt action. The Council pointed out that the tire owner could reduce tread wear by paying more attention to proper inflation.

Many take part in Operetta staged in Peachland

by Brenda Davies

PEACHLAND — The Operetta "Peter Rabbit" staged by the Peachland-Community Jr. choir on Friday evening was an overwhelming success. The beautiful background scenery and costumes made a delightful set for the clear voices of the children of the choir.

Bill Stym was a very believable and mischievous Peter and Sandy Garaway as Flopsy, Heather Fulks Mopsy and Ronnie Shaw as Cotton Tail, played their parts with zest. Cathy Dene Stym as bustling "Mother Rabbit" tried very hard to keep her wandering family in order. Chuck Houghtaling as the cantankerous "Mr. McGregor" stepped on and off stage trying to catch the elusive Peter. The simple songs and dances of the garden vegetables gave each Accompanist for the program was Mrs. L. Kraft and choreography supervised by Mrs. G. Colby and Mrs. Murray. The effective scenery was painted by Mrs. Martha Powell and Mrs. R. D. Mitchell, and Mrs. Mitchell also produced and directed the show.

The second part of the evening consisted of folk songs and dances and piano recitals by students of Mrs. Mitchell. These students ranged from six year old David Kraft and pupils with only one month's lessons to the most polished performances of Margaret Veger and Cathy Fulks.

The two action songs "Soldier Soldier" and "I don't want to Play in Your Yard" staged by choir members were very popular and great crowd pleasers. The children's March around the hall with flags, singing "Canada" was very impressive. D.A.K. Fulks expressed the sentiments of all present when he gave Mrs. Mitchell a very heartily vote of thanks for this excellent show. Lizanne Murray presented a beautiful bouquet of roses to Mrs. Mitchell as a token of thanks from the cast. Proceeds from this show will be used to buy much needed music for the Junior choir.

Rev. R. D. Mitchell drew the winning ticket for a large grocery hamper which was won by Mrs. Charlene Enns of Summerland. Proceeds from this draw held for improvements to the Athletic hall were already quite noticeable in the new flooring and the beautiful new green curtains on the stage. These curtains were made by Mrs. Horst Gelsler, as a public service to the community.

Firmen hosts district demo.

Summerland firemen hosted the Okanagan Valley Firemen's College in Summerland June 4 with visiting firemen from points north to Salmon Arm and Revelstoke and south to the border.

The college was held in the secondary school auditorium and Reeve Norm Holmes was on hand to welcome the delegates. Guest speakers were Fire Chief Murphy from Tranquille, Inspector Clark Foster of the Fire Marshall's office, Also representing that office was Deputy Marshall Ken Collier.

During the day equipment suppliers from Trail, Vancouver and Edmonton demonstrated the latest fire fighting equipment.

Austin Mitchell, from the Summerland Trout Hatchery, gave an interesting talk on fisheries, after which a tour was made of the hatchery itself.

The ladies of the Legion Auxiliary were on hand in the Rosedale Room at noon hour to serve the visiting delegates a delicious luncheon.

Vernon student wins Fruit and Vegetable Workers scholarship

Harry Kublik, Grade XIII student from Vernon, has been named as the winner of the $250.00 Scholarship offered by the B.C. Interior Fruit and Vegetable Workers Union, Local 1572. Harry intends to go on to U.B.C. in order to study research chemistry. The award will be presented by Mrs. Leona Law, shop steward at Bulman's Products Limited where Harry's parents have been employed.

S Sg. Wm. H. Hill and family are leaving for Travis Air Force Base, California. S Sg. Hill has recently returned from one year service with the American armed forces in Vietnam.
George Lane has returned home from one week at Expo.
Mr. and Mrs. Steve Dunsdon have returned from Expo.

This is Miss Agnus M. Chambers, who celebrated her 94th birthday on June 1. Now a resident at Parkdale Place, the day before she quietly celebrated her birthday. See story.

Agnus Chambers keenly interested, happy and healthy

It was many years since Miss Agnus M. Chambers helped clear out an old building previously used by the army that became the Royal Columbian Hospital in New Westminster, but she remembers it as if it happened yesterday. She told me about it when I called on her at Parkdale Place on June 1, to wish her well on the occasion of the occasion of her 94th birthday.

"It was an old relic when we started in on it" she said, but they got the job done. She worked with the architects and contractors until work was completed and the hospital dedicated. This was in 1901.

Born in St. Catherines, Ontario in 1873, she moved to Winnipeg with her parents in 1879 where she received her education, and took stenographic training.

Her mother passed away in 1902 during the time they lived in Blairmore, Alta.

In addition to nursing in Vancouver, she worked for 8 years in a law office. She also spent 15 years in a law office in Winnipeg.

Her father died in 1906 so Miss Chambers was the breadwinner for her younger brothers and sisters for a time.

She recalls many memories when she received a government appointment to take charge of the Health Department for the Ahousat Indians at the coast. "I even had to report to the government when I found out who was making wine," she said.

She worked with Indians for 8 years until she went to Honolulu in 1926 to continue her nursing career at the Kamehameha School, as nurse supervisor where "they built a hospital for me".

She stayed with the school for 15 years and returned to Vancouver in 1941 just before the attack on Pearl Harbor.

"I'm sorry I missed that" she said, "I know I could have helped."

Although no longer at the Kamehameha School, which has grown to be the largest private school in the United States, Miss Chambers is not forgotten. She received a birthday card from the principal, a practice that has carried on since she left Honolulu. She also receives the school paper, "Ka Moi", which she looks forward to reading each week.

She lived in Vancouver until 1946 when she moved to Victoria and then to Summerland in 1954. She was one of the first to enter Parkdale Place when the home opened in 1961.

Before leaving, I wished her many more happy years, but it really wasn't necessary. She is happy healthy and looks and thinks as one many years her junior. She will be with us for many years.

Teaching staff complete for next year

Junior Senior School: Miss Mary Fitch, Graduate of UBC from Vancouver, Miss Norma Wills, Graduate of UBC from West Vancouver, Mr. P. G. Calancie Kenora, Ontario, Mr. G. Mills from Mt. Elizabeth Secondary School, Lillooet, Mr. L. R. Cloke from Lillooet Jr. Sr. School, Lillooet, Mr. D. B. Knowlton Graduate of UBC from Vancouver, and Mr. Thomas Garnons, Williams, Calgary Alta.

To the MacDonald Elementary School, Miss Janis Jones, Graduate of U of Victoria, from Summerland, Mrs. M. Ruth Schuls from Abbotsford, Mr. L.F. French from Castle Hill Elementary School, Terrace.

This completes the staffing for September.

Domestic water from the lake

Some Trout Creek residents were concerned about the advertised change allowing Cedar Brook Auto Court to install facilities for tents and trailers at the hearing previous to the council meeting Tuesday.

Phil Munro, Stan Porritt and Lavern Fox felt the tent and trailer residents would not realize where the Cedar Brook property ends, but council assured them they would insist that a fence be constructed before a special use permit is issued. This is what they questioned. The re-zoning by-law was passed.

After meeting with the Fish and Wildlife department last week, council agreed to transfer their water rights to the creek supplying water to Summerland Lakeshore to them so they may expand the fish hatchery.

Domestic water will be taken from the lake for that area.

The cost of the change-over will be $40,000 which will be paid by the Provincial government.

A. Matkovich's application to re-zone his property from agricultural to residential, R1, in the area of Front Bench was not allowed because of the contours. The planning commission felt the lots would be difficult to sell where grades are over 20 percent, and streets would be hard to form.

They did not close the door however, but suggested half acre lots would be suitable. This calls for a minimum width of 90 feet per lot and would be classified R2.

Matkovich, who was in attendance, said he felt large lots would be too much land for the average buyer.

"This is subjecting the buyer with a lot of land" Matkovich said.

A 90 foot frontage would mean a 240 foot depth.

Councillor Hill, Planning commission member said their hands were tied because there is nothing between zone R1 &

R2, and agreed that the half acre lots would be too large.

Reeve Holmes said if a subdivision plan with a frontage of a minimum of 90 feet is presented, it may be possible to approve the property under R1.

Powell agreed this should be done because "he will have lots that nobody wants".

Matkovich asked why the R2 classification existed.

Planning Commission Secretary Gerry Goddard said it is used in the transition of bringing agricultural property to R1 for those wishing small holdings, for those who do not want close neighbors, or those who want a large garden.

"It seems to me it is telling the buyer, don't want a half acre, you you will have to go somewhere else," Matkovich.

"You will have to come in with a suggestion that is practical," Barkwill said, "we have no obligation to make suggestions to you".

Powell said the lot depth of a half acre is not practical. I think the problem should be turned back to the planning commission.

Matkovich indicated he would see the Regional Planner.

Works Superintendent Blagborne said the ARDA inspector was in and was very pleased with the work done under the program, and authorized the paying of bills.

A change in the zoning by-laws will be started pertaining to the set-backs of pens, corrals, stables etc. in agricultural zones.

If passed, no such structure will be allowed within 25 feet of any other lot line, but where there is a school, church, cemetery or any other institution, on the adjoining property this will be increased to 100 feet.

The following subdivisions were passed: Chas. Bernhardt, to separate a house from a ten acre orchard; W. T. Bean to subdivide his property into four lots and subdivisions of A. P. Lepper and A. F. Menu.

Cheat - but cheat fair

The qualifying rounds of the Club Match Play Championships are coming in quite well. Some of the Lower Handicap players had big fat scores, and there seems to be lots of "room at the top". Sunday scores, were generally high. What went on in Summerland Saturday night?

Everyone should be in this tournament as there will be flights down to the worst scores. Only the Championship flight is played without handicaps.

Speaking of handicaps, please everyone, post your differential so Ken Nistor and George Uzawa can keep your handicaps up to date. "If you are going to cheat, cheat fair", says big M.

See you at the golf club.

Apple trees have wide variety of virus-induced symptoms

Apple trees, once believed to suffer from very few virus diseases, are now known to display a wide variety of virus-induced symptoms affecting the foliage, fruit, branches and roots, writes Dr. Maurice F.

Welsh, plant pathologist at C.D.A.'s Research Station in Summerland.

The most common foliage symptoms are mosaic, light green or yellow flecking associated with the veins, or light green ring patterns. These are often associated with such fruit symptoms as russetting in ring patterns, dark red or purple blotching, or pitting which may or may not be accompanied by russetting.

The trunks and branches may show a wider range of types of symptoms. Rubbery wood virus causes the trees of susceptible varieties to develop a weeping habit, as the branches become flexible and rubbery. Other viruses cause pitting and grooving of the wood in trunks and branches apparent only when the bark is removed. Such trees usually suffer considerable loss of vigor.

Viruses can cause various external bark symptoms such as cankering, cracking, or blistering. They can also cause internal bark killing, especially serious at rootstock-scion junctions, but sometimes apparent as scattered brown pits in the bark tissues of trunks and branches. These types of injury usually lead to loss of vigor, and sometimes to decline and death of the tree. Less commonly, viruses can cause killing of buds and spurs and the tips of new shoots.

A recent significant discovery is that the root systems of some commonly-used types of apple rootstocks can suffer wood pitting or bark killing, or both. Trees on such rootstocks are usually severely dwarfed and weak.

The knowledge that viruses can cause these symptoms adds considerably to the possibilities of diagnosing disease conditions in apple plantings.

TEEN PULSE

By GORDON STENNER

Dear Gordy;

What would be your advice to students graduating from high school. A Graduate.

Dear Grad:

First, my heartiest congratulations!

Second, keep graduating. Graduation is more than a ceremony. It is a launch pad from which you are thrust out into the orbit of life with all its challenges, frustrations, complexities and seeming contradictions.

Third, Webster call a graduate "one who has completed prescribed course of study". The prescription for a happy life involves the ability to absorb other teen's and adult's viewpoint without shifting your convictions.

It involves taking criticism in a calm manner and putting the best construction on other's actions.

Fourth, kick open doors of fresh ideas. Smash opaque windows of fear, hurt. Never be afraid of truth.

Fifth, restrain yourself. The average athlete often thinks nothing of gulping down ice cold water in the middle of a game.

But the star does not. He restrains himself both on and off the field in training, diet control and exercise. Train, feed and exercise your mind and heart every day.

Sixth, get wisdom. The old sage, wise King Solomon declared, "with all your learning, get wisdom". Know how to apply in daily life what you have learned in the classroom.

And... oh yes, don't forget those final exams at the end of life!

BASEBALL SCORES

In Little League action this past week Dodgers stopped the Yankees four game winning streak to move into first place. Mounties picked up two wins to even up their record at three wins and three losses. The White Sox were handed their fifth defeat in 6 games.

On May 31 Mounties whipped Pirates 21 to 6, breaking the game open with 10 runs in the first inning. Irvine was the winning pitcher while Roberge (Kim) was charged with the loss. Kingwig also was used as a hurler by the Pirates.

On the 1st Dodgers outscored the Yankees 17-13. Karoda was the winning chucker while Sakala was the loser. For the winners, Kuroda, Bloomfield, and Potter connected for two base hits while Inglis, McIntosh and Sakal connected as well for the losers.

On the 2nd Mounties dumped the White Sox 13-5. Johnson was the winning pitcher while Smith was the loser.

In Junior Babe Ruth play the locals continue to have their troubles. On the 1st visiting Longs dumped the locals 10-0. Reid was the losing hurler. On the 5th in Penticton the locals won their first game of the season, whipping Downtown 16-6. Wayne Johnson was credited with the win.

The Junior Babe Ruthers have three remaining games left, two at home. Tonight they host Folk Auto Sales, and on the 13th host A & W. They close the season on the 14th in Penticton when they take on Weston.

Here are the standings of Little League up to June 2:

	W	L	T	p.c.
Dodgers	4	1	1	.300
Yankees	4	2	0	.667
Pirates	3	3	0	.500
Mounties	3	3	0	.500

ORCHARD RUN by Wally Smith

Science Rivals Nature

The chemical engineers are becoming so clever at combining the different elements and compounds that they can now imitate just about anything produced by nature.

The label also lists the contents: water, sugar, concentrated apple juice, citric acid, sodium citrate, tannic acid, food coloring, artificial apple flavor and vitamin C.

A few years ago these chemistry magicians came up with synthetic orange juice. It was a concoction of water, sweetening, and chemical flavoring. A later improvement was addition of a small quantity of pulpy orange juice to give the product the appearance of real orange juice.

It does not tell the quantity of concentrated apple juice in the drink.

Recently the chemists turned their attention to the apple, and now their latest triumph is synthetic apple juice.

I was curious to learn how the flavor of Allen's Apple Drink compared with our Sun Rype apple juice, so I lost no time in tasting a sample.

Some time ago I heard it was on the market, so I told Auntie Kay to bring home a can of the stuff the first time she saw it on the market shelves in the local stores.

I could show my prejudice by saying the stuff was a poor drink, weak and watery, but I couldn't do so in all honesty.

"Allen's Apple Drink," as it is called, is manufactured in Vancouver and put up in 48-ounce tins by S. Allen Ltd., an Eastern firm with plants in Nova Scotia, Quebec and Ontario.

In my opinion it's a pretty fair drink, with a genuine apple flavor. Not as good as the best apple juice put up by Sun Rype, but still a good drink.

The attractive label is a masterpiece. A tall glass of amber liquid is the central figure in the picture. This is flanked on both sides with rosy red apples complete with leaves and apple blossoms.

And at 25 cents a tin many families are going to buy it instead of our Sun Rype juice at 30 or 35 cents.

The customer can hardly be blamed for thinking he is buying a can of apple juice, but manufacturer is careful to call it apple "drink."

I'm afraid the synthetic product is going to give our apple juice very tough competition but we can keep in the running by cutting the price close to the competitor's level. Of course the price cut will be borne entirely by the grower. Who else? Nobody else in the industry is going to accept less money, and labor is not likely to forego its prerogative of demanding an annual wage increase.

Large print across the picture conveys the information that vitamin C is added, and the reading matter in the printed box on the opposite side of the can tells the quantity of vitamin C in a full glass.

Every box of juicing apples represents a loss of money to the grower. New orchard technique and new strains of apples provide the means of growing a crop with a bigger percentage for the fresh fruit market and less for juicing.

It's up to every grower to streamline his operation for the best results.

some 15,000 farmers will purchase coverage.

Saskatchewan — The number of farmers expected to take out crop insurance this year is 8,500, an increase of 20 per cent; but the increase is attributed to more farmers joining from existing areas rather than from the opening of new areas for participation.

Alberta — Crop insurance is being offered to more farmers and it is thought that 9,000 will purchase coverage this year.

British Columbia — The province expects that 320 orchardists in the Okanagan Valley will be covered for $2,000,000 in this their first year under the federal-provincial scheme. The grain growers in the Peace River area and B. C. berry growers have expressed interest.

Prince Edward Island — The program is being continued for potato and grain with changes designed to make it more useful to farmers.

Nova Scotia — Negotiations are being conducted with the provincial government and apple growers.

New Brunswick — There were no plans for immediate participation by the provincial government.

The winner will receive a trophy donated by Mr. J. Miltimore and Dr. J. Mason of the Research Station, Summerland.

Federal crop insurance total may be as high as $83 million

Largely as a result of amendments made to the Crop Insurance Act in 1966, the current fiscal year will see an increase in the number of federal-provincial crop insurance program, Agriculture Minister J. J. Greene announced last week.

Coverage may run as high as $83 million for 33,500 farmers compared with $52 million for 24,500 last year, he said.

The federal contribution to the farmers' premium payments and to the cost of administration of the insurance program, are expected to be $2.6 million as against $1.3 million in 1966.

Reserve funds of the three prairie province crop insurance agencies totalled approximately $5,000,000 at the beginning of the current fiscal year.

Parliament last year authorized:

- Raising the limit of coverage from 60 per cent of the average crop yield to 80 per cent;
- Increasing the government's contribution to the individual farmer's premium from 20 per cent to 25;

Summerland stock car takes two flips during race on Sunday

Bruce Hallquist and his stock car "Second Wife" took a spill while rounding a turn in the very first race of the day at the Billy Foster Memorial track in Westbank on Sunday. Bruce only suffered minor scratches on his neck.

He said he had been bunted from behind by a Pentiction car a number of times and when he was hit again going around the north turn, his right front wheel struck one of the tires they use along the outside of the track and his car rolled over twice before coming to a stop.

Bruce is convinced of the value of crash helmets. His was scratched pretty badly "from hitting something". The car is also well equipped with roll bars throughout the interior, and of course they use seat belts.

The car motor was still running when it came to a stop. He and Joe Elliott of Parkdale 66, one of the sponsors, were busy knocking the dents out of the roof over the weekend.

When we asked if it made him a little "gun shy" Bruce answered, "Oh no, I'll be out there again next Sunday."

The other sponsor is Summerland Welding and Machine Shop.

Linda Scott honored at bridal shower

A shower, in the form of a buffet supper was held at the home of rs. Howard T. Wright, on Monday, May 29th, for Miss Linda Scott, whose wedding to Richard Newton takes place on July 8.

The room was decorated with pink and white streamers and the guest of honor was seated under a gaily decorated archway.

During the supper, Linda was presented with a recipe box and the ladies each gave their favorite recipe. As she cut the decorative cake with a miniature "Bride doll" on it, a set of T.V. tables was given to her A gift from all present.

CANADIAN EXPLORATIONS

Samuel Hearne on his journey to the Coppermine, 1770. He was the first man to reach the Arctic overland from Hudson Bay.

After working for three years as a mate on the ship of the Hudson's Bay Company, young Hearne was given command of the company's exploring expeditions inland from Hudson Bay. It was from Fort Prince George of Wales at the mouth of the Churchill River on Hudson Bay, that Hearne journeys ever made.

From the Indians Hearne had heard of Hills "Composed of copper all in handy lumps like heaps of pebbles". Accompanied by chief Matonabee and a group of Chipewyans he reached the mouth of the coppermine river on the Arctic Ocean after an eight month trek. The company had hoped to establish a permanent shipping port on the Arctic but this idea was quashed when Hearne saw the great ice packs stretching from shore to horizon. He found no hills of copper, but only one recognizable piece of ore in an area that is now being re-explored by modern methods.

Hearne discovered Great Slave Lake on the return journey. In all he covered 1700 miles of some of the bleakest territory in Canada. Parts of his trail have yet to be trodden by any other white man.

Water Improvement Requested

Al Buckman, who was in charge of the Centennial Stage Coach that arrived in Summerland Sunday presented Deputy Reeve Jim Schaeffer a scroll from the city of Victoria. The Deputy Reeve, Mrs. Schaeffer and Centennial Chairman Jim Marshall and Mrs. Marshall as well as Pioneer Queen Dorie Forster rode in the stage as it toured F.L. Banham presented council with a petition signed by 24 Trout Creek residents, requesting improvement in the quality of the water they use for domestic purposes.

At Tuesday evening's meeting they asked for a feasibility study of what it would cost to connect that area with the Summerland domestic water system.

At present their water comes from a tank filled directly by the irrigation flume, chlorinated and distributed to homes.

The petition stated that the sediment and debris plugs the plumbing and attached appliances.

Deputy Reeve Jim Schaeffer, who was in the chair in the absence of Reeve Holmes said he would like to see a former study updated, present the results to Trout Creek residents to see if they want to proceed.

Mr. Banham said he didn't feel it was a petition, but rather an indication of what Trout Creek residents wanted. He had only contacted 25 people, and of these 24 signed.

There is $20,000 credited to Trout Creek residents which represents what was saved when the water system was installed.

Councillor Powell said they had asked them if they would release this money to be used to extend Summerland's line some years ago, but it was turned down. "Possibly it wasn't presented properly" he said — "some may not have understood. We did not ask for additional money at that time, only permission to release that money to be applied to the cost of the job."

It was indicated the same proposition would be presented again.

Further study will be made, and Trout Creek residents will be called upon to make a decision.

Truck slides down a seventy-five foot embankment

June 6, Jack Robert Davidson of Summerland was coming from a logging operation with a full load, when the shoulder of the road gave away under the rear duals, and the truck slid down a 75-ft. embankment in the Meadow Valley area. There was $2,000 in damage to the vehicle, and Mr. Davidson received minor bruises.

June 11, on Highway 97 — north of Peachland, Richard E. Gruenke of Kelowna was proceeding south, following a car, when the car ahead veered and braked. He did likewise, but was unable to avoid hitting an 83-year-old Peachland resident. The man, Shozo Ueda was taken to Kelowna Hospital with minor injuries.

June 9, Mary Donald Bates of Peachland appeared before Magistrate Johnston and also pleaded guilty to an impaired driving charge. She was fined $150 or 30 days on default, and given time to pay.

June 10, Ralph W. Sunderland was travelling the White Lake Road, north of Peachland, when he hit a couple of washouts, that were hard to see. Damage to the car was $150 and Mr. Sunderland was admitted to hospital in Summerland with a fractured kneecap and ribs. His son Robert sustained a broken finger and shoulder injuries.

In court this week: Glen Leslie Bonner of Summerland appeared before Magistrate Johnston to plead guilty to an impaired driving charge. He was fined $100 or 30 days on default, and given time to pay.

The charge arose out of an accident occurring on Beach Ave. in Princeton, when the Bates car crossed the double line, hitting another car. Damages totalled $200 and no injuries resulted. A local juvenile appeared before Judge J. B. Hack on a charge of breaking, entering and theft of a dwelling May 3. He was placed on probation for an indefinite period of time, under the jurisdiction of the probation officer.

Harvey Edwards Power Squadron Commander

At a banquet and dance on Friday in the Yacht Club the Summerland Power Squadron held its annual change of watch and graduation ceremonies.

With Jack Harlock Master of Ceremonies, introduced District Lieutenant Archie August of Kelowna who administered the oath to the following graduates of the piloting course, admitting them as new members to the squadron.

Presented with certificates and Squadron flags were: Nigel Lamb, Jack Wilks, Bob Gordon and David Richard, all of Penticton. Jean Lamb became a new Lady Associate while a new junior member was also awarded his certificate — Ralph Trumpour, also of Penticton.

Amos Baker of Vernon, District Commander for the new Interior Zone, was officiating officer for the Change of Watch. Sworn into office for the coming year were: Ross Scott, Maurice Trumpour, Adrian Moyles Leighton Lopetocki and John Kitson. Harvey Edwards was then sworn in as the new Commander a post he has held previously. The class for Engine Maintenance was awarded recognition, these members being Bud Clark, Norm Clark, Norm Reid, Ralph Downing, Tony Shires, Ross Scott, Maurice Trumpour, Jack Harlock and Pearl Reid.

Merit marks for outstanding service to Canadian Power Squadron during the past year were awarded to Adrian Moyles Ross Scott, Jack Harlock, Margaret Edwards, Harvey Edwards, Maurice Trumpour, John Kitson, Norman Clark and Pearl Reid.

Many gifts for the first baby born in the new hospital

The first baby born in the new Summerland General Hospital will be a lucky one — or at least his or her parents will have the backing of many Summerland businessmen. This is obvious if you scan the pages of the Review-Bulletin this week.

The first baby born will be showered with many gifts and gift certificates.

However, the first donor was Mrs. Wm. Dorey who has told the Administrator, Harvey Wilson, she will give a blue set to the first boy and a pink set to the first girl. Summerland business firms were pleased to take part in a somewhat similar gesture.

POINT OF LAW

by A Practising Lawyer

Question: What can a lawyer charge for his services? Does it depend on the amount of time spent on the case?

Answer: The answer to this question is complicated. The rules of court lay down with exhaustive specificity the exact amount which a lawyer may charge for the drawing of hundreds of different types of documents and other professional attendances. In the case of a difference between lawyer and client as to the fees—either party may have them set by the registrar of the court. For this, the lawyer would have to draw up a document listing each item of services rendered.

It is more practical to answer your question by stating what lawyers do charge (and this would generally be a little less than they are entitled to charge). I would say the average law firm makes minimum charges as follows:

Phone conversations $1 each;
Letters sent ..... $3.00 ea.;

Okanagan grapes contribute to Sask. export

Okanagan grapes are playing an important part in the first shipment of wine to be exported to Alberta from Saskatchewan's first winery, Castle Wines Limited.

The new winery located in Moose Jaw, has been using Okanagan white and blue grapes very successfully, according to winery manager, Paul Bergeron.

Bergeron forecasted an increasing interest in Okanagan grapes by the wineries and said their quality rated very highly.

Castle Wines, a wholly owned subsidiary of Growers' Wine Co. Ltd., Victoria, operates from a $750,000 winery constructed in 1966 to become Saskatchewan's only such enterprise.

Letters received ..... $1 ea.
Time spent on interviews, court appearances, etc. $25 per hour.

Some matters have a more or less standard fee for example, an uncontested divorce—$300; or incorporating a simple private company $250.

In a sale of land (including deed, agreement for sale, mortgage; etc.), a lawyer may charge as follows:

1% of $2500 = $25.
½% of balance of value of land up to the next $47500 = $237.50. ¼% of excess.
I would think the average law firm would charge about three-quarters of this amount.

If the lawyer does the work of the executor after he above, that is, transferring title to the executor and thence to the beneficiaries, he would charge perhaps another 1%.

In all cases, the above may be increased according to the complexity of the subject matter and generally the value of the services rendered.

Every well run law office will have a record of every phone call and the length of time spent on interviews, court appearances, etc. If it doesn't, the lawyer will have a hard time proving his fee. If you have a dispute with your lawyer over the amount of his fees, don't hesitate to demand that he have them set by the registrar.

PREVENT FOREST FIRES

European Fruit Scale becoming serious pest in Valley orchards

The European fruit scale is becoming a serious pest in the apple orchards of the Okanagan, says C. V. G. Morgan of the CDA's Research Station in Summerland.

Some valley orchards, in fact, have been so severely infested that it has not been profitable to pick the crop, the researcher adds.

Until quite recently, the European fruit scale has remained comparatively unknown to most growers. Entomologists considered the insect an oddity that would never rank in importance with its close relative, the San Jose scale, because it lived in the bark and seldom attacked the fruit.

About 1963, however, the European scale began attacking the fruit of McIntosh, Newton, and Rome Beauty. Most of the infested fruit occurred on old, large trees that had lots of rough bark which helped protect the pest from insecticides.

While growers directed their efforts to controlling the insect in orchards of the three varieties, the pest began attacking several strains of Delicious and Winesap apples. They apparently made rapid headway. Mr. Morgan cites one packinghouse that last year reported that about 80% of its Red Delicious and 70% of its Winesap supplies were having trouble with the European fruit scale.

Scale insects are so tiny that they usually escape detection until they become quite abundant. But growers are learning to recognize the signs of trouble.

Infested trees have a dark gray, scurfy patches, which if scratched with knife or fingernail, exude an oily substance from the crushed insects under the scales. The insects breed rapidly and it is not uncommon to find large numbers of them on a tree that, up to that time, had been considered free of the pest.

Scales have peculiar habits, explains Mr. Morgan. Some do not lay eggs and the mother gives birth to living young commonly called crawlers. When the crawlers find a place to feed, they lose their eyes, legs and antennae. Those destined to grow into females never move from the spot again. When the males mature, however, they regain their eyes, legs and antennae and also acquire wings for flying.

Some species of scales like a hot, dry climate and others prefer cooler weather. In the Okanagan Valley, for example, the European fruit scale is a pest in commercial orchards only north of Penticton, while the San Jose scale is found to the south. Most species feed on the bark and fruit, but some also suck the sap from the leaves.

We must be thankful

It will be a historic event when Mrs. W. A. C. Bennett cuts the ribbon officially opening the new Summerland General Hospital on Saturday at 2:0 p.m.

Many are anxiously waiting to see this modern institution that will be so much part of our community.

When Florence Nightengale began the revolution in hospital practices a century ago, hospital services consisted of really nothing more than a handful of staff who did everything from nursing to working over laundry tubs and did kitchen chores. All equipment was very crude.

It is fitting that Summerland should open their hospital on Canada's 100th Birthday.

There is nothing crude about the Summerland General. The latest in structural techniques have been utilized and the most modern equipment known to the medical field has been installed to adequately supply the intended services.

The fact that Summerland will have the convenience of a new hospital did not just happen. Much credit is due those on the Hospital Board, past and present, to the Hospital Auxiliary and to the Administrative staff. They will no doubt breathe a sigh of relief when the patients are all moved in and all is going well.

With every touch of progress, there is a certain amount of sadness.

As the equipment and fixtures are moved out of the old hospital, no doubt doctors, nurses and staff will recall many pleasant memories. They will remember the lives that have been saved in that building. They will recall those who arrived without hope — left with a new lease on life.

Many will recall the sacrifices made to build that hospital back in 1921 when there was no money but an abundance of desire, courage and confidence.

It is ironic that this new structure which has been termed by visiting doctors as being one of the finest in the country for its size, has been possibly the easiest to get and to pay for.

So history repeats itself in Summerland. It has been a long history, dating back to 1907 when the first one was set up in what is now known as "The Old Fenner House". We have come a long way.

We must be thankful.

'Hospitality on the Highway'

The Canadian Highway Safety Council has adopted its own Centennial project in the form of a campaign "Hospitality on the Highway".

The campaign, which will run for three summer months and continue on to the end of the year is designed to encourage courtesy on Canada's highways. RCMP are co-operating in the campaign.

A courteous driver usually is a safe driver so the end result of the campaign, it is hoped, will be fewer accidents and a favorable impression of our country, our province and our city or town on the many visitors expected during Centennial year.

Canadian motorists (and pedestrians too) will be asked to consider themselves as host not only to visitors from other countries but other provinces as well.

As good hosts, they will drive and walk with care and courtesy at all times, with a desire to be helpful to visitors.

Here are 12 ways car drivers can show hospitality on the highway:

1. Be ready to give directions when asked.
2. Make allowance for a visitor who does not know local traffic rules.
3. Stop to see if you can help when a motorist seems to be in trouble.
4. Always lower your high beam lights when meeting a car.
5. Always lower your high beam head lights when close behind a car.
6. Don't tailgate — don't cut in.
7. Always use directional signals or hand signals when moving from lane to lane, or turning.

Statistics: Canada's 1966 highway accident toll:

Dead	5,258
Injured	160,656
Property damage	$650,000,000.

During the last 12 years there were 45,141 fatalities in traffic accidents in Canada; this is greater toll of life than Canada suffered in the Second World War (44,893).

Another comparison: Last year's highway accident death toll of 5,258 was far more than Canada suffered in the famous battle of Vimy Ridge in the First World War — 3,598.

During Centennial year, 30,000,000 visitors to Canada are expected, most of whom will travel by car. The year 1967 could be a black one on our highways. By driving like a good host, by showing the common courtesy that too often disappears once we get behind the wheel of a car, we can reduce the possibility of accidents and make more friends for Canada.

8. If a motorist fails to yield, don't insist on your right of way. (Remember the lines "he was right, dead right, as he sped along, but he's dead as if he was wrong".)
9. When another car moves to pass, don't make it more difficult by speeding up. (Would you walk faster if someone passed you on the street?)
10. When a passing driver seeks a place in your lane, slow down and let him in.
11. Drive as though the other fellow had a right to be there too.
12. Courtesy is contagious — why not give it a try?

20 YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. Geo Henry and Miss Bertha Bristow were visitors on Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Hare of Okanagan Centre.

15 YEARS AGO

Mr. Dennis Hack of Vancouver was a visitor at the home of his mother Mrs. E. Hack.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dunsdon motored to Chilliwack to enjoy last weekend visiting in the Fraser Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Manning were among those who spent the weekend at the coast. Dr. and Mrs. H. R. McLarity are going to New Westminster this week to attend the marriage of their son.

Two day art show

The Summerland Art Club's 25th annual show held Friday and Saturday in the IOOF hall drew a large and appreciative audience.

The total of 77 paintings and drawings displayed a wide variety of enthusiastic and, at times, inspired approaches to the problem of meaningful expression. Media ranged from oil paint to colored pencil, and style from basic naturalism to hard edge abstraction. No less satisfying was the section devoted to the work of local artists. Here the guesting interest in the possibilities of material and the dynamics of form, texture, and color, was evident in every piece. Guest artists from Kelowna, Penticton and Naramata, as well as from Summerland, provided work which complemented that of Art Club members.

Marjorie Croil once more showed that she is completely at home when working in batik, and her delightful handling in her 'Abstract' was no exception. Gladys Laidlaw and Emily Weist provided essays in pointillism which were dazzlingly colorful additions to the show. 'Abstract Landscape', a subtle arrangement of color values by Marjorie Lane, displayed fine judgement of shifting planes and volumes. Katy Madsen's 'Helen', a portrait in oils, somehow conveyed, at the same time quiet tranquility with an intense vitality. The compressed foreground contrasted with the deep space of the background in Ivy Mason's 'Village' produced an intimate quality that was most effective.

Gladys Pool's 'Birds in Flight' a water color and Eileen McArthur's 'Abstract', an oil painting in greens and yellows, contained an appealing sense of color and rhythm.

'Okanagan Cliffs', a strong, forceful composition by Millie Lambyn conveyed the artist's appreciation of thrust and counter-thrust of form and space in landscape.

From guest artists the pencil and ink drawing by R. P. Alcock, 'A Home Was Built', showed a fine sense of composition along with judicious use of media, as did Audrey Bowen in 'Anemones', a composition in acrylic and collage. Marjorie Weist produced a moving oil painting in 'Milkweed', essentially an arrangement of line and color in space. 'Bird Sanctuary' by Barbara Holden, a very successful handling of water color and ink was a pleasing combination of subject and material. Mary Bull's 'Oriental Nude' displayed the artist's ability to infuse her work with an all-pervading sense of mystery and quietness. The masterful technique and the monumental stillness with which he charges his landscapes have long been the hallmark of the work of Irvine Adams, and the pastel which he exhibited this year was no exception.

In the pottery section, the work of Des Loan and Adolph Schwenk was outstanding. In the case of both potters, a thorough understanding of the limitations imposed by their materials combined with imaginative perception, result in forms which are strong, forceful and balanced.

Club policy of limiting the number of exhibits this year to three per member resulted in a hanging that utilized the full viewing facilities without clutter and confusion. Indeed, considering the amount of local talent this is a policy which can not fail to produce, in subsequent exhibitions, a raising of the already high general standard.

Changes made in Peachland fair book

Summerland Review-Bulletin 4
Thursday, June 15, 1967

PEACHLAND — President of the Fall Fair Committee, K. Domi disclosed at the last meeting of the committee that the Centennial Slides evening has been a success socially and financially. Folders on provincial Fair standards were distributed.

Regarding omissions and errors in the fair lists for '67 it was decided that to write the five changes necessary, by hand would be too much work so only one in the painting section will be made, two omissions in the flower section will be left, and put in again next year if requested by exhibitors.

The committee meets again July 4th at the Sutherland residence.

Almost no beds for new hospital

All the furniture is in the new Summerland Hospital but there were a few anxious moments on the part of the hospital board and administrator Harvey Wilson. One truck load was a few days late.

There was a time when they were wondering if they would have to hold the official opening without beds in the wards or postpone the official dedication because the truck the beds and other ward furniture was in was involved in the CPR train wreck east of Revelstoke on June 1. The trailer was riding 'piggy back' on the 29th car of the train, but fortunately, only the 27 front cars went over the bank so the hospital beds were saved.

They arrived in Summerland Thursday, just one week late.

Early summer rites held in Princeton

St. Paul's United Church in Princeton was crowded to the door with friends and relatives who came to see Penni Gail Motherwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Motherwell exchange rings and wedding vows with Maxwell McIntyre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McIntyre. Rev. Russell Reid performed the ceremony which took place May 27 at seven o'clock in the evening. Mrs. Geo. Allen played the wedding music. The bride was given away by her father.

For her early summer wedding the charming bride had chosen to wear a full-length gown of white lace over peau de soie underskirt, fashioned in princess line with round neckline outlined in scalloped lace, elbow-length sleeves, and a full train of lace over peau de soie. Her veil was of three layers of the same lace as her gown and was held by a pearl diadem. Her bouquet was of yellow roses.

ATTENDANTS

Attending the bride were as matron of honour, Mrs. June Walker, and as bridesmatron, Mrs. Fern Naylor. They were wearing identically styled gowns of yellow brocade in full-length princess lines, with matching flower headpieces set off with veiling, and they carried bouquets of white 'mums and lily-of-the-valley.

Best man and groomsmen were Ted Robinson and Orv. Naylor. Ushering duties were carried out by Terry Hoy and David Walker.

RECEPTION

Dr. McMullen elected president

At its final meeting of this school year, the Trout Creek P-TA elected Dr. D. McMullen to his second year as president. In accepting the nomination, Dr. McMullen thanked the past year's executive for their contributions.

Elected vice-president was J. Dobi. Secretary is Mrs. G. Robson; treasurer is Mrs. R. Rogers; publicity, Mrs. R. Ashton; programs, Mrs. I. Luckhart; Ways and Means, Mrs. B. Wittke and Mrs. F. Banham; Social, Mrs. O. Morphy, Mrs. J. Novak and Mrs. G. Scott. A long time supporter of the Trout Creek P-TA, Mrs. W. Davis, was named honorary president.

The final function for the P-TA took place Friday when it treated the school pupils to hot dogs, ice cream and pop at the school's annual Sports Day.

Mrs. R. White was convener and arranging the tea for parents was Mrs. J. Raincock.

Plenty of action at Golf and Country Club

On the local golf course this week, the championship flight looks like this:

G. Taylor vs. Ken Williams
Bud Stohl vs. Sid Saunders
E. Harrison vs. Bill Croft
W. Evans vs. V. Parker
B. Hume-Smith vs. W. Laidlaw
Peter Beulah vs. Hilly Smith
T. Kwak vs. Don Clark
George Uzawa vs. W. Parker

First flight, first round, losses of Championship flight:
Ken Williams vs. Sid Saunders
Bill Laidlaw vs. Hilly Smith
Don Clark vs. G. Uzawa

Second and third flights will be made up the same way with the player winning his first match in the second flight, the loser in the third flight. There are 17 players fighting for the points.

The championship flight and the first flight are now completed with the exception of the Match between Evans and Parker. (Evans thinks Parker wants to delay the inevitable—Parker is convinced the opposite is true).

The Big M. ran into putter trouble Sunday. 'Tis said he 4-putted 5 greens. I'll bet no other president of a golf club can make that statement.
See you at the Golf Club.

The Kennedy Round and Agriculture

It may be several more weeks before we learn how the new tariff changes under GATT (General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade) will affect the fruit industry.

The new trade pact, referred to as the Kennedy Round, has the broad objective of reducing import duties all around as a stimulus to international trade.

The Canadian fruit and vegetable industry operates under a considerable degree of protection and has much to lose if there is a substantial downward revision in the tariff structure.

When MP David Pugh was in town recently I quizzed him about tariff changes under GATT. He admitted to a complete lack of detailed information on the subject which is being kept a cabinet secret until at least the end of June.

Mr. Pugh didn't think apples would be affected, but he wasn't prepared to make a guess about stone fruits.

Perhaps the possibility of lower duties was one of the reasons why the B. C. canning companies backed away from a grower-canner peach contract this spring.

Added to that fear is the recent competition from subsidized Australian canned peaches which are underselling our Canadian product.

As a result of this there are reports that one big company is giving consideration to the closing of at least one canning plant in the Niagara district, and the eventual withdrawal from the canning of all Canadian fruits.

The Liberal party has been traditionally a free trade (or freer trade) party, and the Kennedy Round is aimed at a nearer approach to this objective.

Recently, Ron Basford, Liberal MP from Vancouver, in addressing a Liberal Women's Association in that city, called for an immediate review of all tariffs on the grounds that many tariffs have little or no protective value.

He singled out bananas as one fruit that should be coming in duty free because we do not grow bananas in Canada.

True, but bananas do compete with Canadian grown fruits, and if they were brought here in large quantities and sold cheap enough it would seriously hurt the Canadian fruit grower.

Citrus fruit imports are already doing so. If the sale of citrus fruits in Canada were to be reduced by one-third there would be a tremendous increase in the sale of Canadian fruits—and at better prices.

Wood is made up of collections of small individual cells which are mostly from .04 to .12 inches in length.

But a reduction in citrus imports isn't likely to happen. If anything, American imports of fruits and vegetables are likely to increase rather than decrease.

B. C. is helping this along by building big dams to store water for Americans to use in the irrigation of new fruit and vegetable land in the Columbia Basin.

Stagecoach at Peachland.

PEACHLAND — The Provincial Centennial Stage Coach accompanied by young district riders rode along Beach Ave. at 4:30 p.m. Saturday to start its official overnight stay here. Passengers in the coach for the memorable ride were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Redstone, Mr. and Mrs. Ferdie Brent, Mr and Mrs. A. Bissett, Mrs. W. D. Miller, and Mr Archie Spence.

A good crowd was on hand to greet the coach, officially welcomed by Reeve Thwaite, Centennial Queen Helga and Princess Lorraine. An official scroll was presented to the Reeve from the Confederation Centennial Committee of B. C. to commemorate the visit.

Cherry harvest expected to start in South Valley about June 26

Seasonal Farm Labour Offices are now open at Keremeos, Osoyoos, Oliver, Penticton, Summerland, Kelowna, Rutland, Winfield, Oyama, Vernon and Creston. South Okanagan and Similkameen. It is anticipated however that workers already in the area should be able to cope with the demand.

A balanced supply and demand situation has existed in most parts of the Okanagan-Kootenay District so far this season.

Although there has been some demand for ranch and vegetable workers, fruit growers have required little in the way of orchard help. However, during the last few days some fruit crops, especially in the South Okanagan and in the Similkameen have developed to the stage where thinning has in many cases become necessary. Requests for experienced thinners are now being received and by June 15 thinning of soft fruit crops should be general throughout the Apple thinning is expected to get underway within a week to ten days. It is as yet too early to forecast accurately what the thinning demand will be.

The cherry harvest should commence at Keremeos, Cawston, Osoyoos and Oliver about June 26, and in the Penticton, Summerland, Kelowna areas some six to ten days later. Weather conditions in the interim will, of course play a part in either advancing or delaying these forecast dates.

All growers are asked to give their respective farm labour officers as much advance notice as possible, as to their picker requirements.

PEACHLAND — Mr. and Mrs. Walter Davies of Evansburg, Alta. are visiting their son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Don Davies.

Recent guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Flintoff was their nephew Verne Flintoff from Cloverdale.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Heighway, longtime residents here celebrated their 52nd wedding anniversary last week. Cards and good wishes were received from B.C. and the U.S.A. with friends visiting from as far as Arizona to celebrate the event.

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Thwaite were friends from Salem, Oregon; also Miss Betty Reid and Walter Woodall from Vancouver. All are old friends of the Thwaites from Montreal who have since moved west.

Two-long time residents celebrated birthdays last weekend: Mrs. Wm. Renfrew on Saturday and Mrs. Fred Topham sr. on Sunday.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Todd were Mr. and Mrs. G. Unmill from Kansas.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Halloran, White Rock, visited at the J.H. Wilson home.

Lora Enns and Kathleen MacKenzie have returned home from the Kelowna Hospital.

Rev. Father M. J. Guinan of Summerland; and Rev. A. C. Hamill, Kelowna were visitors at the June meeting of the Peachland branch Royal Canadian Legion. Other visitors were L.A. president Mrs. E. Chisholm, Mrs. A. Coldham and Mrs. A. Oltmans—to discuss the Legion Carnival (tentative date is July 14). The V.E. Social evening had not been too well attended according to a report given. Another social will be held June 23.

Indians say 'no' to highway signs

Councillor Bill Barkwill told council Tuesday evening the Regional District is now considering getting into the business of Regional Parks and have asked District Planner Dave McDonald to make a study of this.

Barkwill told council that Hon. Arthur Laing, Minister of Indian Affairs told them in a letter that the Indians have decided, on a voluntary basis, not to rent space for highway signs in the future. Revenues from this in the past amounted to about $2,000 to the band. They volunteered this action.

Works Superintendent Blagborne said their asphalt program is completed for the year.

He said the Garneit Valley Dam is almost full and they have diverted the water to Dark Lake and this one is 10 to 11 inches from full. He said the peak of run-off is over and Trout Creek is dropping.

The Summerland Rod and Gun Club has applied for a 99-year lease on its property because they want to expand their facilities and want assurance that they can have the land for a reasonable length of time. Under a 99-year contract, fees are reviewed in 10 years, and they are reviewed every five years after that.

They did not wish to purchase the land, but this was their second choice to the 99-year lease.

The majority of councillors spoke in favor of a 25-year lease, but the matter will be referred to Solicitor Frank Harr before further consideration is given.

A letter was received from the St. Stephen's Church board expressing concern about the corral adjoining the Anglican Church Cemetery. The matter will be studied.

Authority was given to rent the Harrison Hot Springs dredge when arrangements can be made.

In the future, the council will not make a decision on any rezoning or subdividing application at the first meeting it is presented.

Councillor Hill proposed the motion, because he felt it was not fair to the applicant or council. He said very often a complicated application comes in to council and most of them have never seen it before. He suggested any decision, one way or the other should be held until the following week. This will be policy in the future.

The bulldozer work on the beach at Trout Creek cost a total of $1,073.40 which is shared by residents and the municipality for their 50 ft. of access road. Some homeowners did not pay as much as others because they did not gain as much advantage. The municipal share was $101.

Copies of the new zoning by-law are available at the Municipal office for $5 each. It is a 30-page document.

Survey cost stuns College council

The B. C. Research Council which has been asked to assess the economic benefits to Kelowna by having a college in the area, has indicated such a survey would take four to six months. It would also cost in the neighborhood of $10,000, the College Council learned Monday night.

College president Norman Walker described the news as having "caused me greater depression than anything that has occurred since the defeat of the referendum."

Original estimates appeared to be around $4,000 and the cities of Vernon, Kelowna and Penticton had indicated they would share this cost.

The new turn in events stunned College Council members.

The Research Council operations head, J. C. Clapham wrote he did not think it desirable to undertake the study on a quick, order-of-magnitude, or rule-of-thumb basis. "The subject is controversial," he wrote.

This information also moved the Council to ask Mr. Walker to write School District No. 23 (Kelowna) to answer its ultimatum asking for a declaration by June 30 of its intentions with regard to the College. The Council decided it would not be able to declare its intentions, because of the Research Council's information, by the given date.

Another disappointment for the Council came with chairman Frank Venables' (Oliver) report that deputy minister of education, Dr. Neil Perry had told him four new Council appointees had been selected.

"I don't know who they are," said Venables who expressed disappointment at the long delay in adding members provided for under changes in the act at the last session of the Legislature. "They don't seem to be taking us seriously," he remarked when Charles Buckland, Kelowna, said, "It has been four months now."

Dr. Perry said six persons would be named, but gave no time indication.

Vernon Mayor Lionel Morcier, who has indicated knowledge of a possible college site for sale has informed the College that news of this site will be available soon.

Secretary-treasurer James Green of Vernon reported $7,400 owing from school districts in the Council for their part in College expenses.

Charles Buckland pointed out that Armstrong Spallumcheon had an outstanding bill, and it was suggested that "a gentle reminder" be sent to delinquent boards reminding them that the College has no borrowing power and requires these allotments to carry on.

Vice-chairman Charles Finch (Cawston) said he felt people

Important session for Rod & Gun Club

The Summerland Rod and Gun Club reports that Butch Tyler, well known Conservation Officer in the South Okanagan, and also a senior member of the St. John's Ambulance Association will attend the general meeting of the club Monday, June 19. He will speak on emergency first aid and give practical demonstration of mouth to mouth artificial respiration.

With the fishing, boating and swimming season in full swing, it's not necessary to point out the value of knowing what to do in an emergency. The meeting will be held in the IOOF Hall, 8 p. m. There is lots of room for everyone whatever your age or occupation, so let's have a good turnout.

High in month of May 77 degrees

The month of May saw 228.1 hours of sunshine in the Summerland area. The highest temperature was 77 degrees on the 19th, 20th and 22nd, and the lowest—35 degrees, May 6th.

Mean maximum temperature was 65.13, the average lowest temperature was 44.36, and the Mean temperature for the month was 54.75.

YOU AND YOUR CAR INSURANCE

In the belief that education is an important step in accident prevention, READ & PRUDEN, in co-operation with the WAWANESA MUTUAL INSURANCE CO. and Canadian Handbook's Safety Guide Book, will present in the Review, a series of articles designed to improve your driving habits, and in so doing, become a safer driver and enjoy your driving more.

KNOW WHAT TO DO IN AN ACCIDENT!

Even if you sincerely believe that you can be a safe driver and avoid any accident, you should know what normal procedure is, following an automobile accident.

Remember failing to report an accident may be an infraction of the law. Never leave the scene of an accident you are involved in. It is a serious offence and penalties could result.

KEEP THE ACCIDENT FROM GETTING WORSE!

FIRST AID — If you are able, you should first take steps to keep the accident or its result from getting worse. Your primary duty is to give first aid or assistance to any injured person. Be careful of moving an injured person unless it is essential for safety. Keep them warm to minimize shock.

FIRE — Prevent fire from breaking out; don't smoke if gasoline is spilled. If it has broken out, don't use water; it spreads oil or gasoline fires! Smother with bankets or use an approved fire extinguisher.

Wave Down Traffic — Avoid having another vehicle crash into the accident scene. Wave down traffic by having someone signal by hand holding white cloth or handkerchief or using flash light or flares.

Assume No Responsibility — Let the experts decide, don't commit yourself in any way.

Notify the Police — Police must be called if someone has been injured or if the accident involves more than very minor damages. If you do not know, enquire from the police constable who investigated the accident whether the other motorist is insured for public liability and property damage. It is the constable's duty to get this information.

WRITE DOWN THESE THINGS!

Get Witnesses — jot down the names and addresses of several witnesses if possible. License Nos. of cars in the area often produce useful witnesses.

License No., Name and Address of the driver of any other car involved with you. Enquire whether he is insured and if possible obtain the name of his agent or insurance company.

Year, Make and Model of the other car or cars.

Draw a Diagram — write down at the time all related facts about the accident so that you may later be able to draw a diagram of the accident. Notice position of the vehicles, skid marks, street names, the hour of the day, the date, the weather conditions.

Note the Damage — write down if you can a general description of the damage to both or any cars involved. Point this out to the other party in the presence of your witnesses.

Principal Tamblyn reports on school homework survey

District Superintendent of School, Mr. Paton reported to the School Board meeting on June 7 that the schools of District No. 77 are fully staffed for the coming term. There are eleven new coming to the district.

U.B.C. Education Faculty is holding extension courses in the Okanagan for the first time this coming term. This is the first time that courses will be offered to local teachers, that will be within commuting distance, two will be offered in Kelowna, and one in Penticton.

A letter will be sent to Mr. and Mrs. Hodgson, of the Cakebox thanking them for the time and interest that they have taken in setting up the Education display which was featured in their window during graduation week. It was felt that this display does a great deal to promote interest in education and the graduation in Summerland.

Principal J. Tamblyn reported that he conducted a test for Grades 8, 9, 10, 11 to see just how much homework was being done in the high school. The questionnaire contained two questions which were as follows:

How many minutes did you spend last night at your homework assignments study, review, etc.?

How many minutes did you spend on the average per evening, (this is over the entire year, not during a week of examinations or any special assignments)? No names were signed to the questionnaire, so the principal felt it to be a fairly true picture of the homework being done.

It would appear that most of the young people spend on the average of 45 to 60 minutes per night on homework—which is less than the 1½ hours maximum allowed for Grades 8 and 9; and the two hours for grades 10 and 11. A small percentage in each grade spent over the maximum time, and those that did so were doing so on their own rather than on instruction from the teachers to do so.

There is no study hall in the high school this year, but Mr. Tamblyn would like to have one next year to enable the students to use resource materials which are on hand at the school.

They are trying to work out a plan to have a centralized area for library-resource, and study hall.

Mr. Cooke reported that 69 attended orientation day in the MacDonald School this year, and that this is higher than other years at this time. They expect a total registration of 72 in Grade 1 this year.

Thanks was given to the school board for providing a truck to collect and return items for the Centennial Museum display held last week. There were no reports of damage or loss of any of the items on display.

Orientation day at Trout Creek saw 16 out of the 17 children expected present, and again, this number is higher than in previous years. Mr. McNabb expects the total grade 1 enrollment to be 20, the same amount of children that are leaving the school. This is the first time that the numbers have balanced, there are usually more grade sevens leaving, than grade ones entering the school. The Sports Day will be held June 28.

It was suggested that the Emily Carr paintings that have been presented to each school by the Centennial Commission, be presented officially to the schools on their awards day, so that all can see them. The paintings are at present being framed, but will be ready by that time, which is June 28th.

A letter was received from School District No. 16, asking if the Adult Education Department would like to cooperate in making a survey of contractors interested in making a survey of contractors interested in the electric heat program and other vocational training courses. Mr. Chalmers has been advised to cooperate with Mrs. Colby, the director of the night school in Penticton.

The resignation of Mr. P. H. Roberge was accepted with regret.

Mr. J. Black, secretary-treasurer of the board has been appointed to replace Mr. Boothe for the Technical Planning Committee of the Regional District of Okanagan-Similkamen.

SAILING

Amos Baker gave a talk on the duties of Squadron members to the new members. He emphasized the rules of safety, courtesy and aid to other boaters in difficulty. The duties of the members also include the observance of all rules and regulations set out by the Department of Transport and other law enforcing agencies and stressed the importance of obeying such rules.

As a lighter touch to the festivities "trophies" (?) were presented to a few members for misdeeds or irregularities at which they were caught during the past year.

Ross Scott received his trophy for launching a boat without putting in the plug. (This is not a good way to keep a boat afloat!) Maurice Trumppour received a trophy for losing a bolt on his boat trailer while transporting it to a lake for a squadron cruise. (He did not lose the trailer and boat, thanks to the help of other members on the trip.)

Pearl Reid earned her trophy for hoisting the squadron flag upside down. (This is a signal of distress!) Norm Clark received his trophy for losing a quantity of fishing gear on a cruise. The contingent of boaters travelling with him to the nearest supply centre for such equipment, causing a delay in their agenda. Ralph Downing ran into trouble with a motor which refused to run anyway but backwards. (Now that Ralph has taken the engine maintenance course it is hoped he will have no further trouble in getting out of such difficulties!) Marg Edwards won her trophy in a "swimming event" on a cruise.

The bent prop award went to three guilty members: Harvey Edwards, Jack Harlock and Norm Reid.

Following the banquet a dance was held and a good time was had by all the members and their guests.

Premier Bennett to open hospital

The Honourable W.A.C. Bennett, Premier of British Columbia and M.L.A. for South Okanagan, will bring the address prior to the official opening of the new Summerland General Hospital Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Bennett will cut the ribbon.

Official ceremonies begin at 2:00 p.m. and following this, the public will be invited to make a tour of the modern building.

The hospital will house 31 beds, including cribs and beds in the recovery room.

It is what they call a double corridor construction with the service departments down the centre. It is designed to obtain the minimum amount of noise.

General contractors were Norad Construction Ltd., Vancouver.

There are facilities for physiotherapy treatment which consists of a large room fully equipped with diathermy, wax bath, ultrasonic stimulator, fractionaid and exercising equipment. The area is large enough to enable patients to take all exercising required. There are three beds in the room.

The hospital has what they call a 'free standing bath'. It is a room large enough for the wheelchair patients to enter on either side of the tub so they can be easily lifted into the tub.

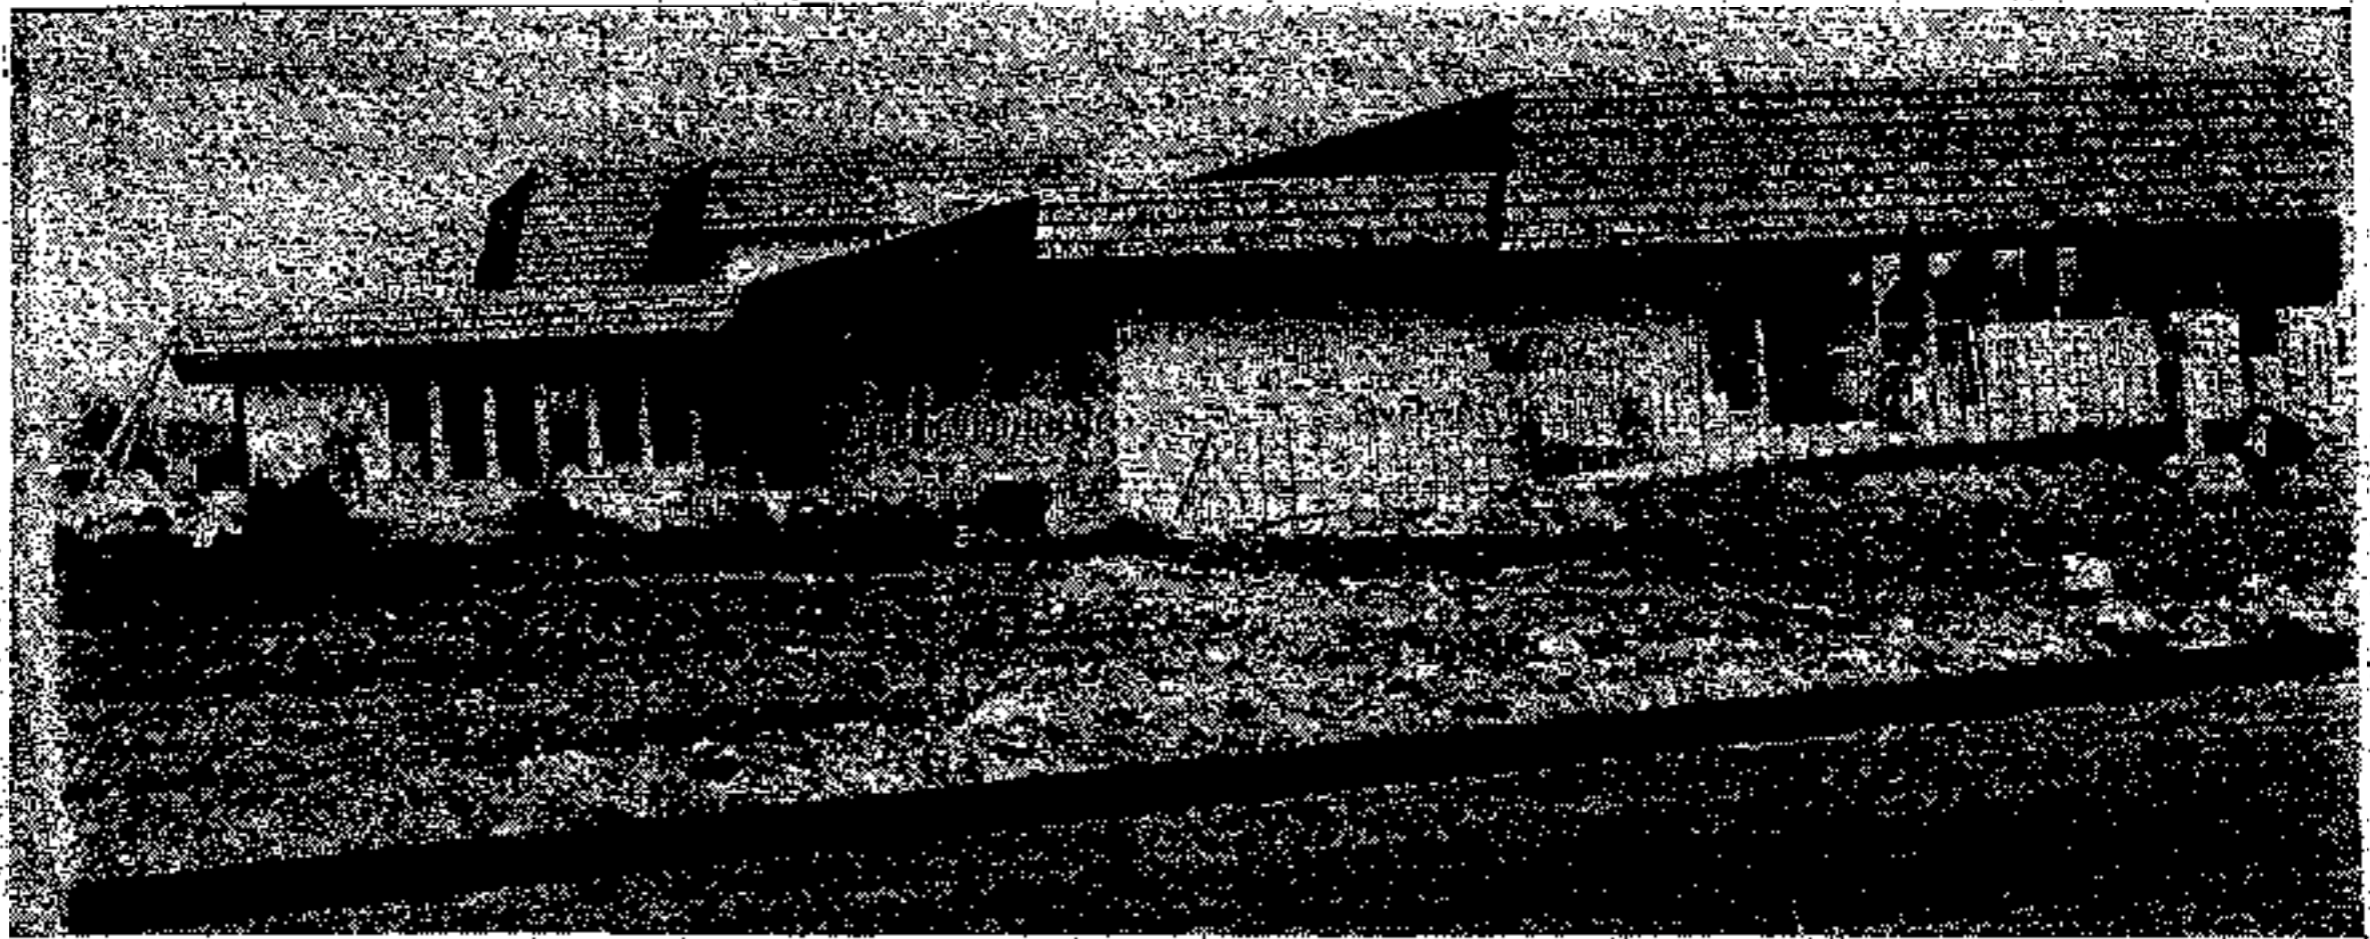

There are complete services for out-patients, and there are two isolation rooms.

There is a large Civil Defence room. It is in an unfinished state and will be used to store a crated hospital in the event of a disaster.

In the kitchen is an automatic dishwasher, a deep freeze and a walk-in cooler.

A mobile food cart will be used to feed the patients. A unique feature of this is that each tray is divided with hot food on one side and cold on the other. Supervisor of Nursing Mrs. R. Butler says "it keeps hot food hot and cold food cold." Beverages are also served from this cart.

It is hoped that patients will be moved to the new building on Monday. They will be transferred by the Summerland ambulance.

This is by no means the finished look of the Summer W.A.C. Bennett on Saturday. It was taken last Thursday land Hospital which will be officially opened by Premier when workmen were hard at work to meet the deadline.

Hospital President expresses appreciation for community effort

"The opening of the new Summerland Hospital will be a historical event that we will not soon forget," Hospital Society President Les Rumball said.

He said: "It is the result of years of planning—sometimes all went smoothly, sometimes not. However the end result more than justifies the various hurdles we encountered." "I believe the one factor that gave the Board the most encouragement was that we knew the Summerland people were behind us. This was assured by the results of the two money bylaws that they authorized with a majority of well over 90 percent each time.

"The Hospital Society, and indeed the community as a whole owe a debt of gratitude to the many individuals and organizations who came forward with donations. Because of this, we are able to provide some of the little extras that will make the patients more comfortable.

"I would be remiss if I did not express the Board's thanks to the administrative staff during this construction period. Although they are paid employees, their contribution was far above the call of duty.

"It is my hope that everyone will come out to the official opening Saturday to see our modern new hospital. I am sure they will come away feeling proud of what they themselves made possible."

Women's Institute Discusses Parade plans for July 1

A garden party meeting was held by the Institute at the home of Mrs. A. Inch, with 27 members present, Friday, June 9th. Mrs. E. O. Mortimer gave an instructive and interesting description of her visit to Expo '67 and points east.

Mrs. V. Barrs read a Centennial poem written by Mr. W. Dorey. The International Border Picnic will be held July 13 at Osoyoos.

The Women's Institute being the oldest organization in Summerland discussed participation of its members in costume for the July 1 parade.

It was decided to start the summer coffee parties, to raise money for 'The Help the Children' fund, in South America, and the first one will be held at the home of Mrs. W. Brown with Miss R. Dale as co-hostess. The second one will be held at the home of Mrs. O. E. White July 6. Visitors are invited and times are from 10 a.m. to 12 noon. The third one will be at the home of Mrs. M. Collas.

HOSPITAL HISTORY

ed that prepaid hospital care be investigated.

Considerable life memberships were sold for $50, spear-headed by the Legion. Mrs. Bertha Harvey, Mrs. Margaret Stephens and Mrs. R. H. Helmer were three of the original members.

Then depression years struck and the hospital owed the grocers $2,000 and according to S. A. MacDonald, then chairman, the standard motion was "to pay the accounts when money is available". Total salaries were reduced from $600 per month to as low as $360.

The Junior Ladies Hospital Auxiliary was formed in 1934 and they operated a small cannery. Mrs. Ted Atkinson, president said they had canned 720 jars of fruit the following year.

In 1937 the Hospital Auxiliary retired and handed their charter to the Junior Auxiliary, after 29 years of service.

The executive of the present group which started in 1909 were: President, Mrs. A. T. Robinson; vice-president, Mrs. Angwin; secretary, Mrs. Charles Stevens; recording secretary, Mrs. J. C. Robson and treasurer, Mrs. Dorothy Solly.

By the end of 1937, 220 hospital contracts were sold for $12 a year per family. In later years this was raised to $15 then to $16. Finances were now in good condition. In 1947 the north wing and a nurses home was built.

By 1949, wages and expenses were rising to the provincial government had to step in with their voluntary hospital insurance but soon premiums lapsed so Summerland had next to nothing as local contracts were cancelled.

In 1952, the government launched the B. C. Hospital Insurance Services based on the provincial sales tax.

Baptist Ladies observe Centennial

The Mission Circle of the Summerland Baptist Church last Sunday evening gave a Centennial program entitled: "The Voice of Women". The story of the contribution of the women of Canada to Christian missionary enterprises was presented.

Period costumes illustrated the passage of time. A ladies chorus conducted by Mrs. Ed. Danallanko provided musical selections, narrators were Mrs. John Barg and Mrs. Lorne Bloomfield. Organ and piano accompanists were Miss Ruth Dale and Miss Geraldine Evans. The president of the Circle is Mrs. O. R. Fitzpatrick.

Evelyn Bangma to head Royal Purple

The installation of officers of the Royal Purple Lodge of Summerland was held Friday, June 9 in the Elks Hall.

District Deputy Supreme Honoured Royal Lady VI Owens of Vernon, assisted by the Past Honoured Royal Lady, Phyllis Ingram, also of Vernon installed the following:

Immediate Past Honoured Royal Lady Irene Hankins; Honoured Royal Lady Evelyn Bangma; Associate Royal Lady Isable Smith; Loyal Lady Clara Morin; Lecturer Peggy Howe; Secretary Marg Wilson; Treasurer Pearl Neal; Chaplain Olive Cook; Historian Donna Charlton; Conductress Hazel Ganzveld; Inner Guard Marion Kean; Outer Guard Charlotte Khalembach; 3-year trustee, Getrude Downes (not present); pianist Flo Holmes.

A social evening and a turkey supper followed.

Little money, sweat, tears is hospital history

By KEITH BERGH

This is a brief condensation of the history of the Summerland General Hospital written recently by Dr. Blanchard Munn. Dr. Munn is well qualified in this task as he practised for many years in Summerland — and, although retired, still keeps an active interest in the hospital.

He quotes Rev. Haskins who wraps the history up in a few words.

"From the pioneer days of Summerland the hospital has been the outstanding community project for the response to human need and has knit together many who have worked to maintain this institution.

"The hospital was not sponsored by any special group or organization. It stands proudly because of the community's effort and desire to have a good hospital to meet the needs of the area. Its good record has been made possible by the devoted and often sacrificial service down through the years of the staff, and by the support given by the Ladies Hospital Auxiliary and the public.

"Summerland has been fortunate in the service given by the doctors associated with the hospital, as well as the succession of citizens who have served on the Board, especially to S. A. MacDonald, who served 36 years and to Mrs. Ted Atkinson, who now has served the new hospital auxiliary as long as Mrs. Solly did the first one.

"The future means a new hospital building. The fine tradition and accomplishments of the past gives assurance to continued excellent service to the community."

The first hospital still stands — but its days are numbered. It served the community well for seven years after 1907.

One of the pioneers of nursing, Mrs. Ronald Sinclair opened her home to patients of Dr. Chas. M. Smith and Dr. J. P. McIntyre before there was a hospital in Summerland. These houses included the Snow and Fenner residences.

Dr. F. W. Andrew came to Summerland in August, 1908 and was a great influence on the town. He practised here for the next 36 years, using the horse and buggy before graduating to the Model T.

In April, 1909, the Ladies Hospital Auxiliary was formed and was incorporated on April 11, 1910. They provided linens and other necessities for the Fenner house. Miss Louise Wilson was their first matron.

The work was hard and little equipment was available. She had stairs to climb 24 hours a day with only a little maid to help.

Miss Wilson resigned in 1910 and she was succeeded by Miss Lloyd. Then came Mrs. Stillingfleet and Miss Thompson from Kelowna.

The Ladies Hospital Auxiliary was equipping the hospital by this time but the Matron was paying the rent and making what she could from patients' fees.

Mrs. Arthur Solly took over as matron next and the Hospital Society under the direction of W. J. Robinson found they had little to do as most needs were anticipated by the Auxiliary and it went on that way until the Auxiliary insisted a modern hospital was necessary. The board went to work.

After making a number of financial drives and were assured of $3,500 from the provincial government, a two-storey, 10-bed hospital was built and opened on September 17, 1914.

H. C. Mellor drew up the plans, the Summerland Development Co. donated two acres (the existing site on Hospital Hill) and Harry Tomlin built it. Miss Maisie Atcheson was matron.

Total assets were $7,932, fully paid and the auxiliary collected $761.10 that year, a portion of which represented payment on the X-ray machine.

The ward rate was $2 per day and $2.50 for a ward outfitted by the IODE and Rebekahs.

The hospital ran smoothly, but financial trouble existed although expenses only came to $5,000. Then on December 14, 1919 a fire destroyed all but a part of the X-ray machine, and the Felix Hotel became the hospital. The Auxiliary borrowed or bought equipment to furnish it. Miss Jean Johnston was matron.

They then started to build again, with Bert Harvey, the contractor.

The provincial government provided $10,000. The municipality floated $15,000 in bonds and sold $12,500 worth and paid $2,500 in cash. Mrs. Van Allen donated $20,000 for a surgical wing in memory of her son Kenneth, who was killed in Belgium in 1916, as well as a fruit orchard in Prairie Valley. Other contributions to wards were made by the Great War Veterans Association, the Dales, the Japanese community and Mrs. Elizabeth Crowe and others.

The war was now over and in those days, Naramata and Summerland were closely knit, using water transportation between the two towns. (Naramata was at one time referred to as East Summerland.)

The Summerland, Mineola and Naramata Red Cross Societies joined and brought their funds with them, and with this and Ladies Auxiliary projects, they were able to donate $2,200 in cash and furnishings to the hospital. A tidy sum in those days.

In 1922 red ink appeared — growers were losing money, hospital bills were not being paid so no one was admitted in to the hospital without paying a week's hospitalization in advance—but this did not help. The following resolution was passed:

"In the event of business being done in the hospital in any one month (including April, 1923) bringing in an average of less than seven patients per day, the salary of each member of the staff with the exception of the maid, be reduced by $10 from the present rate of wages for each month, or the members of the staff could give one month's notice if not agreeable."

Later that year, the Board accepted a chequed from the Liquor Board for $1,800 and for $1,500 in 1924.

PARKING INSTRUCTIONS

Because of limited parking area, only official cars will be allowed in the hospital grounds during opening ceremonies on Saturday afternoon at 2:00 p.m.

However through the kindness of Mr. Joe Akitt and Mr. Jim Schaeffer, cars will be directed in to their respective lots on Hespeler Road by the RCMP assisted by the Summerland Boy Scouts.

You will see by the map above where the parking areas are and what intersections are closed.

The road will be closed at Solly and Atkinson so all traffic will be asked to enter at the intersection of Atkinson and Hespeler. Parking will be permitted on Atkinson. Neighboring orchards have asked for the co-operation of motorists not to park in their orchards.

Businessmen arrange for fun fest on Centennial Costume Day

The Summerland Business and Professional Services Association held a meeting last week to make plans for their Centennial Costume Day.

It will take place on Friday, June 30 and each participating business establishment will sponsor a draw which will be made that evening.

Management and staff will be all dressed in Gay Nineties costumes.

Each participating merchant will run an advertisement in the Review Bulletin where a coupon will be inserted. This coupon, when taken into the place of business as indicated on the coupon will not only entitle them to a chance on a draw, but they will receive free

Baseball Scoreboard

In Little League last week, Dodgers won two games and increased their lead over second place Yankees. White Sox finally won a game but remained mired in the cellar.

The Yankees lost by the 7th. Mark Bloomfield helped his own cause with a double and led the Dodgers to a 13-7 win over the Pirates. Ken Payment was the losing hurler. Bloomfield the winning. Knuff also connected with a double for the winners.

June 8, Dodgers dumped the Mounties 14-0. Kuroda got the win; Johnson took the loss. Thirteen runs in the first inning told the story.

Bowling Highlights

With two weeks left in the regular schedule, the top teams won and the bottom teams won. Hyacinths lead was cut to 4 points over second place Springers. Narod dropped to third. Beer Frames jumped to a fourth place tie with 4. Sprites from eighth. Emils dropped to ninth, only three points ahead of last place Beachcombers.

Here are the results of league bowling from the week of June 5 and 6. Hyacinths, 20; Springers, 15; Narod, 15; Beer Frames, 14; Squares, 14; Alley Cats, 13; Strikers, 13; Emils, 7; Beachcombers, 9.

High single, Terry Farrow 256; Max Rogers 278.

High triple, Allan Gould 701; Corrine Irvine 694.

High team, Beer Frames 2470.

Scandinavian Club donates Sun-Dial

The Scandinavian Club has donated a Sun Dial to be placed at the summit of Mount Mount.

This was revealed by Centennial Chairman Jim Marshall at their meeting last week. The committee accepted it with thanks.

Although arrangements are not complete, it is possible that the Scandinavian Elks will sponsor a barbecue on July 1, which will take place immediately following the dedication ceremonies of Giant's Head Park and previous to the Japanese Lantern dedication at 8:00 p.m. and the giant fireworks display at 10:00 p.m.

The committee has almost completed arrangements for the program, which will be released next week.

The barbecue, if held, will be in or near the Memorial Park and the United Church Women have expressed interest in sponsoring a first salad booth at the same location. The Elks are now seeking a barbecue expert.

Will your child

ever catch the Teacher's eye?

The B. C. Teachers' Federation is conducting a province-wide campaign to reduce the size of classes in B.C. schools in order better to educate YOUR children.

This year, in British Columbia there are 411 elementary classes with 40 or more pupils and 3060 elementary classes with 35 or more pupils.

For boys and girls to receive the maximum benefit from our revised educational system their classes should not be larger than 25 to 30 pupils.

Here is what Sir Ronald Gould, president of the World Confederation of Organizations of the Teaching Profession says about large classes:

"Put a teacher in front of a big group of children and the teacher can instruct or drill, he cannot educate. He cannot treat each child as an individual. Big classes mean bad methods. Big classes limit freedom to experiment. Big classes result in bad education."

Most modern facilities used in Summerland hospital

The equipment in the new Summerland General Hospital is the latest in every way. The floors, electrical equipment, standby utilities and operating room facilities are second to none.

The building is fully air-conditioned and equipped with oxygen suction and compressed air throughout for better patient care. According to Mrs. R. Butler, Nursing Supervisor, compressed air can be used where patients don't necessarily need oxygen.

There is an "audio visual system". This does not mean that when a patient calls for a nurse they can see her on a screen but when they press the button to request service, a light goes on outside the ward, and the nurse on duty at the desk can talk with them through a communication system.

There will be a TV set in every room that can be controlled by the patients. These were made possible by the many donations the Hospital Society has received.

The floors throughout the hospital are of a seamless non-skid material. There is not a seam in the whole building. Administrator Harvey Wilson pointed out that it is the latest in flooring and will not crack. No wax is needed to keep the shine, only a wet mop is used.

The building will be heated with natural gas, and in case there is a supply failure, the plant will automatically switch to oil in fifteen seconds.

There is also a standby power plant large enough to keep the plant operating at full capacity in the event of a power failure. This change-over is almost instantaneous in the event of a power failure.

A service elevator will bring patients from the main to the lower floor.

The operating room has conductive explosion proof flooring so necessary when working with gases. The same is true of the delivery and emergency rooms. They also have seamless walls as a precaution against infection.

Teacher resignations

The following is the list of teachers from School District No. 77 who have resigned their position.

From MacDonald Elementary School: Mrs. I. L. E. Hatton, D. G. McMurray, E. J. Robertson, and D. G. Clements. From the Junior Senior Secondary School: Mrs. K. M. Thomson; Miss Elaine Johnson; Miss Gwen Rea; K. E. Carrington, F. Verigin, W. V. Potter, D.J. Puddy.

Omitted from the list of new teachers coming to the district in the fall was Keith Haskins, who is the son of Rev. Frank Haskins of the Baptist Church.

Victoria sends greetings by stage Two-day art show here

Deputy-Reeve Jim Schaeffer accepted a scroll on behalf of Reeve N. Holmes Sunday from Al Buckman, who was in charge of the Centennial Stage Coach that visited Summerland Sunday. Centennial chairman Jim Marshall received a similar document.

Inscribed following their names was "Commemorating the journey of the British Columbia Centennial Stage Coach from the Capital City of Victoria, to the historic site of Fort Steel now being restored and reconstructed."

It was signed by L. J. Wallace, General Chairman, Canadian Confederation Centennial Committee of B.C.

The ceremony took place near Parkdale Place. Hundreds of people turned out. The Summerland Trail Riders were in charge of arrangements.

CONGRATULATIONS

Residents of Summerland and District Members of the Summerland Hospital Society Hospital's Board of Directors

Hon. W. A. C. Bennett
Premier of the Province of British Columbia

Your fine, new hospital is one of the most modern health care facilities on the Continent. It is the result of community effort and enterprise, assuring you of continuing high standards of patient care.

Your Provincial Government, through the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service, has been pleased to assist in the development and planning of the hospital, and to provide grants amounting to over $525,000, towards construction costs. This major project is part of a vast programme of hospital construction throughout British Columbia which has produced more than 6,000 beds since 1952, at a total cost of approximately $101,000,000, of which the Provincial Government has paid an estimated $49,000,000.

Hon. W. D. Black Minister of Health Services and Hospital
Insurance

THE GOVERNMENT OF THE PROVINCE OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

Hospital Administrator Harvey Wilson and Clerk of Works Bill Eyre inspect the load of beds that arrived at the new hospital Thursday noon.

Minister explains statement on social assistance earnings

The honorable Dan Campbell elaborated on his recent statement in connection with the purpose for the doubling of the allowable earnings for social allowance recipients who are not able to take full time employment or are involved in a rehabilitation program.

Some people may not be in a position to take full time employment for many reasons, such as a physical handicap or home or family responsibilities.

By allowing these people to earn increased sums of money they will have the opportunity of participating in work in the community and of keeping their work skills up to date.

By allowing persons engaged in rehabilitation programs to have increased earnings they will be given the incentive to continue to improve their skills and their standards of living towards the day when they will have their final independence.

In the case of both the person who is unemployable at the moment and the person being rehabilitated the example of the earning adult is a positive one for the children in the families and will orientate them towards work participation in society.

For those who fall in the above category the allowable earnings are increased as follows: the single person from $15.00 per month to $30.00 per month and married couples or widows with children from $25 per month $50.00 per month. In other words they will now be allowed to earn up to these maximums without it affecting their basic social allowances.

Sumac Ladies invite to Penticton tourney

Twenty-three ladies took part in an "ecclectic tournament" which will be concluded next week. Ecclectic Tournament which is the best score for each individual score for each hole with two chances.

The Penticton Ladies Golf Club has invited the Sumac Ladies golf club to take part in a tournament June 20. Entries should be in by June 16.

Summerland Camera Club show scheduled for Friday & Saturday

Anyone who has any idea what the Summerland Camera Club has been doing for the past year, is anxiously waiting to see the results in the MacDonald School Auditorium on Friday and Saturday nights. Show time is 8 p.m.

There has been so much interest shown, that the club is planning a third presentation on Monday, July 3 starting at 3:00 p.m.

They are sponsored by the Summerland Centennial Committee, so there will be no admission charge.

It is a picture story of Summerland entitled "In the Shadow of the Giant's Head" according to Mrs. Pauline Snow, who has spent many hours gathering pictures during the past year.

The pictures will cover every aspect of community life in Summerland since the 1880's and it will gradually build up to the present day.

They will cover the growth of education, religion, the arts, and some pioneer personalities will be shown.

What makes the show unique is that they have gathered pictures from the very early days and these were reproduced by Jack Morrow, in black and white, then they took pictures of the same locations as they look today, in full color. The results are amazing. Mrs. Nancy Morrow assembled the show.

It has taken one year to prepare. Music has been taped to give the show additional color. Alan McKenzie has done most of the narration but pioneers and children of pioneers have contributed as well. It is all on tape.

Baseball Chips

June 9th, White Sox won their first game, a 9-8 squeaker from Pirates.

In Jr. Babe Ruth on June 8, Folks whipped the locals 14-3 in Summerland. Larry Mitchell was tagged with 1-0. The boys close the season this week. In an exhibition game against Princeton, the locals whipped the visitors 12-3. Larry Mitchell and Wayne Johnson shared the pitching honors for Summerland.

Here are the standings of Little League up to June 9:

	W	L	T	%
Dodgers	6	1	1	.750
Yankees	4	3	0	.571
Mounties	4	4	0	.500
Pirates	3	5	0	.375

THE CORPORATION OF THE DISTRICT OF SUMMERLAND

The Reeve and Council, on behalf of the residents of the Municipality, wish to take this opportunity of extending their heartiest congratulations to all members of the Summerland Hospital Society, past and present, and others, who have, through their many worthwhile endeavors, brought to fruition the successful culmination of a new General Hospital.

This Hospital will not only be of inestimable value to the Community, but also, may be considered as a milestone in this progressive and expanding Municipality in which a source of pride may be felt by all those people having participated in this most worthwhile project.

Rod and Gun Club get 99-year lease

This quilt is Mrs. Kathern Gollnick's entry in the B. C. Government Centennial Quilt competition. It will enter the Regional Competition first which will be held in Oliver later this month then on to the P.N.E. for provincial judging. There is $1500 in prize money offered with first being $500. Mrs. Gollnick has worked on the quilt since Jan-

After a lengthy discussion and a split vote the Summerland Council approved leasing ten acres of land to the Rod and Gun Club where they now have their facilities, for a period of 99 years.

Voting in favor were Councillors Barkwill and Powell and against, Councillors Schaeffer and Hill. The tie was broken when Reeve Holmes voted in the affirmative.

Works Superintendent Blagborne, a director of the Rod and Gun Club said they wanted the long lease because they wished to expand their facilities and wanted assurance it would be available to them.

If they couldn't get a 99-year lease, they would purchase the land.

Schaeffer said he would rather lease the land than sell. "I have no objection to a lease," he said. "Only the length of it. I don't see why the club has any necessity for 99 years. We don't know what we may want to use that land for in 25 years," he said.

Powell noted that the financial arrangements can be negotiated in 10 years time and every five years after that and felt that was all the protection they needed. He said if it is obvious that the lease charges should be more they can raise it.

Municipal lawyer F. Haar said this may not be necessarily so because conciliators may rule that when the original lease was signed, they may rule that lease charges should not be too great because of the original intent of the property.

Reeve Holmes cited an instance in Vancouver where a golf club was forced to move because of the increase in the annual levy.

Councillor Hill voted negative because he felt the lease was for too long. He suggested that 49 or 50 years may be acceptable.

Haar said the agreement should be spelled out as to what constitutes a breach of the lease. He said it would be possible to have the rent negotiated every five years.

The terms of the lease agreement were not spelled out, or decided upon.

Storeys win tough race at Annual Osoyoos Regatta

South Okanagan Sailing Association was well represented at Osoyoos last weekend, when sailors from B. C. and the U.S. met at the Lake Osoyoos annual Regatta.

Saturday was disappointing with virtually no wind, but there was compensation by high winds on Sunday which saw frequent capsize by boats of every class. Any boats that managed to stay up throughout the two gruelling races deserved honorable mention.

Winners included C. Tyndal (Naramata) with D. Lane (Summerland) as crew. Their Flying Dutchman was the fastest boat race. D. Storey with G. Storey (Summerland) as crew won the Jolly Boat class and also shared the aggregate trophy with a skipper from the Osoyoos club.

Rules of Baby Contest

The first baby born in the new Summerland General Hospital will be showered with prizes.

In order to be eligible for the First Baby Contest the baby must be born in Summerland General Hospital.

The parents must be residents of Summerland and attending physicians must certify to time of birth.

The Review-Bulletin must be notified.

In a tie, the gifts will be evenly divided. All decisions final!

Golf semi-finals are underway at Sumac Ridge

Going into the semi-finals of the match play championship are George Taylor who had his day with his driver and short game against Bud Stohl. Equally big hitter Ernie Harrison gave Doc Evans quite a treatment. In the other half of the draw, Peter Beulah side-tracked Bernie Hume-Smith. Warren Parker and Bill Kwak tied after 18 holes so they will be replaying this match.

In the first flight, only two matches have been played and results will have to come in the next week. The second and third flights have yet to be determined.

Bill Laidlaw doesn't want anyone to think he had anything to do with the shorts Al Menu wears on the golf course.

Saturday, starting at 6:00 p.m. there will be a twilight mixed game. It is supposed to be husband and wife, but considerable leniency may be displayed, so everyone won't have to bunch up at 8 pm. Ken Nistor will post times, so check if you don't want to line up.

Afterwards the Big M. will preside at the barbecues. That ought to be quite a treat so do not go home early.

See you at the Golf Club!

Mrs. Reid Johnston is visiting in Vancouver with her daughter Mrs. D. A. Gow and family.

By KEITH BERGH

The Summerland Camera Club presentation was tops. I was told so. I couldn't make it over the weekend, but know I will enjoy it during the third presentation July 2nd at 3 in the afternoon.

I dug up a few names of persons who worked on the show—some more than others—but here they are. Jack Morrow, photo copy work and technical detail; Mrs. Pauline Snow, material and show chairman; Mrs. Nancy Morrow, compiled the story and majority of script; Herb Simpson, script; Mrs. Hazel Doherty, typing of script; Allan McKenzie, Master of Ceremonies (on tape); Ken Storey, music. The Melodiers sang the Summerland hymn and of course a host of Camera club members assisted with the comparison slides. Now I have probably left some out and they are mad.

I almost did. I turned the page and found a host of names of those who loaned photographs. Here they are: Mrs. Grace Whitaker, Mrs. Dorie Forester, Mrs. Iris Stewart, Mrs. Mina Milley, Mrs. Phyllis Morgan, Mrs. Barbara Bingham, Miss Bertha Bristow, Mrs.

Doris McLachlan, Mrs. Mary Orr, Ernest Doherty, James Doherty, George Henry, Herb Simpson, Bob Kent, Doug Ramsay, Bob Phinney, Steve Cannings, Arlie Gayton and the Women's Institute.

I talked to Mrs. Eric Smith during the hospital opening on Saturday, and she tells me they are in need of more hospital volunteer workers. How about it, ladies? Have you a little time to spare? If so, get in touch with Mrs. Smith. She is the head of that committee.

Help our neighbor

Inland Natural Gas Co. made application to the Public Utilities Commission to supply gas to Peachland, Princeton and Coldstream, but was turned down. However the Commission did encourage them to go home and do a little homework and come before them again in thirty days.

It is the intention of the company to hook up with the Alberta line to the south but this was indicated only with a letter of intent. The Commission wanted more concrete assurance that this would take place.

They also wanted them to raise the money through the sale of common shares rather than through a bond issue.

Inland Gas officials will be the first to admit they took too much for granted on their first application. They, no doubt, felt the need was so obvious the Commission would almost automatically endorse it.

As a result, they are requesting the support of the Municipalities and Chambers of Commerce in the area by sending a brief to the Commission indicating their desire to have their new application approved.

Inland has looked after the first two objections, now they are seeking public support.

If their present lines are connected with the Alberta line to the south, it will mean they can draw gas from two sources for Okanagan users. This is important. Almost a must, if we are to expect complete assurance of uninterrupted service.

The program includes extending service immediately to two Okanagan communities now without gas — Peachland and Coldstream, and of course Princeton to the west.

The company serves 16 Okanagan communities, almost every public school and hospital in the region and many major industries.

We believe it is the intention of the Summerland Chamber of Commerce and the Municipality of Summerland to support this new application and this is as it should be.

If for no other reason, to help Peachland Princeton and Coldstream in their bid for gas. This is nothing more than should be expected of a neighboring community such as Summerland.

From our back files . . .

15 YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Toews were recent visitors to the Kootenay Country.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bleasdale are spending a vacation at the coast.

Dr. and Mrs. J. M. McArthur are at the coast this week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. R. Richards drove out to Vancouver last week to attend the graduation of their son Norman.

20 YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. Een Heales have returned from Vancouver where they have been visiting for the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Laidlaw left yesterday for Vancouver where they will holiday for 10 days.

Miss Emily Mott arrived on Monday from New Westminster where she is a member of the nursing staff of the Royal Columbia Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Holmes and family have returned from a 2 week motor trip to Saskatchewan points.

West Kootenay strike settled

The electrical workers ten-week strike against West Kootenay Power has been settled for a basic 62 cents an hour wage increase for linemen in a two-year contract, as earlier agreed by the Company, but no 37½-hour week.

The agreement provides an immediate increase from $3.46 to $3.91 an hour for linemen, a further increase to $4.08 on November 1, and a continuation of the present 40-hour week.

The increases mean that within five months linemen will be making an average of $9,750 a year.

There will be a flat $125 in back pay for all electrical workers under the contract to cover the period since the last agreement expired October 31, 1966.

The contract covers 223 members of Local 999, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers who have been on strike since April 11 for increased wages and a 37½-hour week.

The settlement, approved last week by West Kootenay Power President, W. K. Gwyer, does move one step beyond the conciliation board award accepted earlier by the Company by providing an increase in wages in the year following the term of the agreement.

In a letter of intent, accompanying the agreement, the Company has guaranteed basic new wage benefits starting on November 1, 1968 whether or not the present two-year contract has been renegotiated at that time.

The guaranteed increase will be equivalent to a 6.6% raise, or 27 cents an hour on linemen's rates. Employees will be able to vote whether they want this guaranteed increase applied as more money in a 40-hour week or to maintain the same take-home pay on a shorter work period.

Harry Westerlaken answers last call

Mr. Harry Westerlaken passed away in Summerland General Hospital Sunday, June 18 at the age of 67 years.

Born in Hurwennen, Holland he was a resident of Summerland for the past 40 years.

Water system troubles plague Peachland

PEACHLAND — A report was given on the unsatisfactory performance of the automatic controls of the domestic water system by councillor E. Beet at last week's Peachland council meeting. A number of firms and individuals have tried to find a solution but without success. The latest report from a local engineering firm was discussed but George Smith said the recommendations would not help as they suggested manual turning on of the second pump.

SPRINKLING

Sprinkling regulations will be imposed on homes served by the domestic water system. Regulations apply to homes north of the school Monday, Wednesday and Friday; south of the school, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. No restrictions will be enforced Sundays.

Councillor Beet requested that plans of any water system be filed in the municipality on new subdivisions being developed and that no plans be approved unless a storage tank is installed at the highest elevation to eliminate steady pumping. He said his department is self-sustaining and suggested the water department should be paid water rates for outlets used on municipal park grounds. Council agreed to this and also that School District No. 23 should be paying for classroom outlets which up to now they have not been billed for.

Mrs. G. W. Burns was authorized to bill householders in the water district who have outside taps, in accordance with by-laws.

Mrs. Burns will be acting clerk while clerk H. C. MacNeill is on vacation. During that time also, the office will be closed between 12 noon and 1 p.m. instead of the usual 30 minute period.

Plans of designated school property which Council has already authorized to be turned over to School District No. 23 were presented again for approval. Reeve Thwaite was authorized to sign and seal these plans on behalf of council.

Peachland Chamber officially open tourist information booth

PEACHLAND — Garry Topham introduced the successful applicant for the position of a tourist booth operator, D. S. MacLaughlan at the Peachland and District Chamber of Commerce meeting.

Mr. MacLaughlan told of his previous experience in this work in Alberta and offered his complete co-operation.

President H. Lyon said safety measures at the "death corner" have been installed, but no reply on a request for an over or underpass at Princeton Ave. intersection has been received from the Dept. of Highways.

Businessmen who are Chamber members will be asked for a $10 donation toward operation of the tourist booth. Non-members will also be contacted and advised of the service provided by the booth.

A committee is looking into the matter of providing a large map showing district fishing lakes for the tourist booth.

Inland Natural Gas Company has asked the Chamber's support in getting the gas lines to Peachland. The Chamber will support the company's application to the Public Utilities Commission.

The Centennial Queen and Princess will be entered in the Kelowna Centennial parade on June 26. Kurt Domi will also participate with his old-time sawyer's float.

Summerland Hospital opened Saturday, June 17

Hundreds crowded in around the stage on the grounds of the new Summerland General Hospital to witness the official opening performed by Premier W.A.C. Bennett and Mrs. Bennett.

To start the program, Hospital Society president Les Rumball gave a brief account of the history of hospitals in Summerland. He made it short, as was the whole program. The day was very warm.

The President thanked the citizens for their moral and financial co-operation. He also expressed gratitude to the federal and provincial governments who contributed to the cost of the construction.

He said they had enjoyed wonderful relations with the Municipality of Summerland and praised the work done by the general contractors, Narod Ltd. and the sub-contractors.

Reeve Holmes in his civic address thanked the people of Summerland for the 93 percent majority the hospital bylaws were passed. He made special mention of administration, Harvey Wilson and Nursing Supervisor Mrs. Gertie Butler.

Greetings from the B.C. Hospital Association were brought by past president Frank Laird of Penticton, and he also extended congratulations from the Penticton board.

A. W. G. Pitkethly, representing the B. C. Hospital Insurance Service praised the contractors and the architects for a "wonderful job".

Much to the pleasure of the crowd, Master of Ceremonies Les Rumball introduced the first hospital Matron in Summerland. Mrs. Louise (Wilson) MacDonald was escorted to the stage and presented a bouquet of flowers by Mrs. Clarence Adams.

The invocation was given by Rev. Norman Tannar.

The opening address was given by Premier Bennett.

He said he is always happy to come back to Summerland because "here is where you elected me. If it wasn't for you people I wouldn't be Premier today."

He said, "The Okanagan is the best area in B.C. and Summerland is the best in the Okanagan. I can say that because you elected me."

The Premier thanked former hospital administrator Jack O'Mahoney and Mrs. O'Mahoney for their campaign on his behalf at that time.

Mrs. Bennett was then asked to cut the ribbon across the front door. She, accompanied by the Premier, walked through the doors, followed by hundreds of interested citizens.

Out of town hospital officials and contractors were heard to comment that it was one of the finest opening ceremonies they had ever attended.

The Summerland band was in attendance. Rumball announced that a member of that band, Delmar Dunham, also played in the band at the dedication of the old Summerland Hospital.

Mrs. Bennett was first to sign the guest book, followed by the Premier.

Architect Roy Meiklejon made a special presentation to Administrator Harvey Wilson and Nursing Supervisor Gertie Butler for their fine co-operation during the planning and construction period.

LET'S GET NEWSY

Mr. and Mrs. Rob Towgood and family have returned from a most enjoyable trip to Montreal, where they visited with Mr. Towgood's brother, Arthur and family, and also took in the world's fair.

Dr. and Mrs. D. L. McIntosh, and their three children have returned from a trip to Expo and to Ottawa. They reported that the trip was well worth making.

Five hundred children expect to take part in Centennial parade

Jack Towgood, Kiwanis Chairman of the July 1st Parade, said interest is mounting and entries are coming in well from various organizations. He announced that Hilly Smith will be the Parade Marshall.

After talking to MacDonald School principal John Cooke, Smith was encouraged by the number of entries from the school. Mr. Cooke assured him of every co-operation.

Many children's entry classes were decided upon and Cooke said he would see that all the elementary children received this information — thus encouraging participation. He said it wouldn't surprise him if over 500 would take part in the parade.

The Centennial Committee have authorized cash prizes in each category, and all those taking part in the parade will be given a flag.

It was also suggested that every child attending the opening ceremonies should receive a Centennial Ribbon. This is being arranged.

Will your child ever catch the Teacher's eye?

The B. C. Teachers' Federation is conducting a province-wide campaign to reduce the size of classes in B.C. schools in order better to educate YOUR children.

This year, in British Columbia there are 411 elementary classes with 40 or more pupils and 3080 elementary classes with 35 or more pupils.

For boys and girls to receive the maximum benefit from our revised educational system their classes should not be larger than 25 to 30 pupils.

Organizations of the Teaching Profession says about large classes:

"Put a teacher in front of a big group of children and the teacher can instruct or drill, he cannot educate. He cannot treat each child as an individual. Big classes mean bad methods. Big classes limit freedom to experiment. Big classes result in bad education."

This being close to Veteran's Week it is appropriate that this picture from the Vernon News be reproduced. They are three of the oldest veterans of the South African War. The daddy of them all is Summerland's J. B. Ellis, 93, left.

Next to him is Fred Bowers, Kamloops, 92 and G. L. Dore of Kelowna, 87. Of the 1,000 veterans of that campaign, four of them live in Summerland. The others are G. Williams, T. Whitfield and W. Brown.

BASEBALL SCOREBOARD

By RON KOSTELNIUK

The Junior Babe Ruthers' schedule came to an end last week when they dropped their last two games. On the 13th, visiting A & W dumped the locals 8 to 1 and on the 14th, the locals were whipped 15 to 5 by hometown Westone. Rodney Rieben was tagged with the loss. They ended with a record of one win and 10 defeats.

In Little League, Yankees won two games and the Dodgers won one. The Dodgers still lead the Yankees, however, and the White Sox still remain in the basement. On the 19th, Yankees whitewashed the Dodgers 10 to 0. Harrison was the winner in the contest while Bill Chalmers was the loser.

On the 19th Dodgers blasted main in the basement. On the Harrison was the winning pitcher in the contest while Bill

Chalmers was the loser.

On the 12th, Dodgers blasted
White Sox 20 to 4. Potter, the winning chucker, and Bloomfield connected for three-base hits for the league-leaders. Gibson, the losing chucker, and Smith connected for two-base hits.

The Yankees, on the 15th walked all over the hapless White Sox 20 to 6. Sakal was the winning pitcher. Smith and Gibson connected for two base hits for the losers. As well Smith connected for a home run. The losing pitcher was Strafahl.

The Pirates, on the 16th, whipped Mounties 15 to 2. The winning pitcher was Kirk Roberge and the loser was John-

TEEN PULSE

By GORDON STENNER

DEAR GORDY: Why does God allow so much injustice, suffering and evil? Why doesn't He do something about it if He is so good and just?

—Teen

Dear Teen: Robinson Crusoe helps us to understand this problem in answering his Man Friday.

"Well," says Friday, "you say God is so strong, so great; has He not as much strength, as much might as the devil?" "Yes, yes," says I; "Friday, God is much stronger than the devil."

"But if God much stronger, much might as the devil, why God no kill the devil so make him no more do wicked?"

"You may as well ask," answers Crusoe, "why does God not kill you and me when we do things that offend Him?"

We have not been created like machines, robots or puppets on the stage of time. We are voluntary creatures. We are responsible individuals.

How would you like your boyfriend or girlfriend or marriage partner to be like a chat-box? Every day you'd pull a string and get "I love you."

Man is responsible for His own actions. God does not create war. Without man's rebellion, greed and covetousness there would be no injustice, evil and suffering.

The scientific law of cause and effect is involved here. Is it necessary for God to "pull strings" to get us to say to Him "I love You?"

Don't forget! He has done something about those terrifying problems!

YOU AND YOUR CAR INSURANCE

In the belief that education is an important step in accident prevention, READ & PRUDEN, in co-operation with the WAWANESA MUTUAL INSURANCE CO. and Canadian Handbook's Safety Guide Book, will present in the Review, a series of articles designed to improve your driving habits, and in so doing, become a safer driver and enjoy your driving more.

NOTIFY YOUR INSURANCE AGENT

If your own insurance agent is in the area where an accident occurs get in touch with him or if injured get a message to him; otherwise notify the nearest office of your insurance company immediately. This is so that a proper estimate of the damages can be made. It ensures prompt handling of your insurance adjustment so that necessary repairs can be commenced as soon as possible and you may have the use of your vehicle again without unnecessary delay.

What to expect of your Agent — When an agent or employee of your insurer has been advised of an accident, he may contact the insured of the driver in person or by phone and enquire concerning the details of the accident. The insured or driver will be expected to convey information about the time and place of the accident, whether other vehicles, persons or property were involved and generally the seriousness of the accident.

Telephone report — An insured must realize that his agent has a duty to report to the insuring company and may be expected to have to provide detailed information about the accident. Some of this he may obtain from the insured, some from his records if he issued the policy, and some from police, passengers or witnesses. Complete co-operation with the agent not only assists in the speedy handling of your claim, but will pay handsomely because, human nature being what it is, the agent can be of real assistance to you in obtaining alternative transportation to your destination or in arranging accommodation or other convenience which you may require.

He will ask you to give in your own words a description of the events leading up to and resulting from the accident. He will ask you to describe the damage to your own and other vehicles in the accident. He will ask you for the names, addresses or phone numbers of any witnesses you have obtained.

Peachland W. I. hold successful flower show

PEACHLAND — Reeve Harold Thwaite opened the flower show on Friday and paid tribute to the Women's Institute for services rendered during its fifty years in the community. The Athletic hall was a colorful sight with table of exquisite flowers and paintings by local artists.

Art exhibitors included Mrs. William Seilwyn, Mrs. R. D. Mitchell, and members of Mrs. George Smith's art group as well as paintings by Frances MacNeill who just completed third year of studies at the Calgary art school.

It is impossible to name everyone in this short space, who exhibited in the show but it is surprising that such a small town contains so many talented people. A sculpture and ceramics display by a local senior art student, John Topham was well received and displays of rock jewelry by Mr and Mrs A. M. Moore and a handcraft display by J. W. Wilson added to the afternoon atmosphere.

Grand aggregate winner Mrs W. Wilson was also awarded the Cameron trophy for best three named roses. Grot. Sterling silver rose bowl was won by George Meldrum.

Other winners included:

Bowl of roses: George Meldrum, Mrs. G. Robinson; 1 rose named: Mrs. T. R. Redstone, Mrs. I. Jackson; three named roses: Mrs. W. Wilson; climbing roses: Joan Cousins, Brenda Davies;

Pansies (decorative): Mrs. T. R. Redstone; Pansies (12 bl.): Mrs. Ed. Neil; Columbine: Mrs. Ed. Neil; Pinks: Joan Cousins, Mrs. R. Redstone; Campular: Mrs. E. Neil, Mrs. M. Powell;

Iris: Mrs. E. Neil; Delphinium (single stem): G. Meldrum, Mrs. P. Gluskshenko; Peonies: Mrs. P. Gluskshenko, Mrs. T. R. Redstone; Snapdragons: Mrs. L. Ayres, Mrs. W. Wilson; Lilies: Mrs. P. Gluskshenko; Flowering Shrubs: Mrs. W. D. Miller, Mrs. E. Neill; Flowering House Plants: Mrs. W. Wilson, African Violets: Mrs. C. C. Heighway, Mrs. H. C. MacNeill; Geranium: Mrs. W. Wilson; a collection of wild growth: Mrs. Kurt Domi and Mrs. A. M. Moore; Collection of Garden Flowers, Joan Cousins, Mrs. J. Wilson; Centerpiece: Mrs. P. Gluskshenko, Jo Cousins, Ester Reid Daisy Mrs. T. R. Redstone, Mrs. W. Wilson; Foliage Plant: Mrs. Dan Cousins; Sweet William: Mrs. W. Wilson, and Mrs. L. Ayres; Petunias: Mrs. P. Gluskshenko and other flower not listed Mrs. C. Medrum and Mrs. W. D. Miller.

The door prize, a large box of plant food, was won by Mrs. Roland Kraft.

Beef Barbecue -- fruit salad menu following dedication

The beef barbecue is definitely on and the United Church women will sponsor a fruit salad booth in the Memorial Park on July 1.

The Elks Lodge, after considerable difficulty, have found a chef who will barbecue the beef in pits, so the meat has been ordered.

The announcement came at the Centennial Meeting last week and was considered very good news.

The Committee feel this is just what was needed to fill a gap in the program as well as stomachs between the official Giant's Head Park opening and the dedication of the Japanese Toro in the General Hospital Grounds at 8:00 p.m. The western type dinner will begin at 5:00 p.m.

The Centennial Committee recommends that those wishing to sit down during the Queen Crowning ceremonies, following the Parade, should bring their own folding chairs. It will be impossible to supply chairs for the thousands expected that day. They could also prove to be very handy at the barbecue.

Jack Prior in charge of music program at assembly

Jack Prior is one local orchardist with a difference. Mr. Prior is also well known locally as one of Jehovah's Witnesses and, as such, is currently helping make arrangements for a large assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses to be held in Penticton June 29 to July 2. He will be helping care for the musical arrangements at this assembly.

"I love music so I enjoy caring for the musical program. Music doesn't form a major part of the assembly program," he said. "But we normally have an intermission for group singing several times during each day's session and we are arranging a special musical period of about an hour's length prior to our main discourse on Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m. entitled 'Rescuing a Great Crowd out of Armageddon.'"

Jehovah's Witnesses have a new songbook containing original songs of faith and devotion written by Witnesses from all over the world. There are a number of melodies from such places as Hawaii, the Middle East, etc., which typify the type of music which has become well known in the different localities. "This songbook, of 119 songs, is the basis of all the music to be performed at our assemblies," he continued.

Mr. Prior was born in Saskatchewan but has lived in Summerland for the past 29 years. He said, "An assembly of this size (there will probably be about 3000 delegates) takes a great deal of advance planning. To take care of the organizing, 22 different departments have been set up. It's a lot of work but I think it will be an exceptional opportunity for residents of Penticton to see first hand how Jehovah's Witnesses are instructed to become disciple-makers."

July 1st fireworks moves down hill

The Summerland Centennial Committee has altered a plan or two in the July 1 Centennial celebration program.

The fireworks display will not be held at the summit as previously announced, but on the first peak, above and southwest of Mountain View Missionary Centre.

Ken Blagborne, who is in charge of the operation, said Thursday, after inspecting the shipment, that much of the preparation must be done before opening day, making it almost impossible to have the display at the summit.

In addition to this, he does not feel there is sufficient room at the summit.

After discussing it with members of the Centennial Committee it was decided the location would be moved.

There will be a disadvantage to this, in that Trout Creek, Lakeshore, Penticton and Naramata residents will not be able to see more than the very high flares. On the other hand, uptown people will have "ring-side" seats. It will mean that those living east of the mountain will likely choose to drive up town.

Included in the fireworks display are two ground displays.

It was the intention of the committee to contact the supplier requesting to exchange them for overhead flares, but with this new development, Blagborne is confident they can make a fine display on the face of the mountain, easily visible by those in the uptown

KIDDIES TREAT

It was the original intention to give the children treats in Giant's Head Park. This has also been changed, to start in the Memorial Park right after the Queen Crowning Ceremonies.

LET'S GET NEWSY . . .
Steven Richards and his Doberman Pinscher "Tammy" took first prize in the dog obedience classes sponsored by the Penticton & District Kennel Club recently with 165 marks out of 200.

CORPORATION OF SUMMERLAND DOMESTIC WATER SPRINKLING REGULATIONS

(Including Trout Creek Point)

The following Sprinkling Regulations have been authorized by the Municipal council effective immediately. These regulations apply to outside domestic water outlets not controlled by 'flow control' valves.

1. Domestic water users whose surnames begin with the following letters:

A - C - E - G - I - K - M - O - Q - S - U - W - Y

will be permitted to sprinkle and to use two sprinklers on the odd numbered days of the month. No sprinkling permitted on the even numbered days.

2. Domestic water users whose surnames begin with the following letters:

B - D - F - H - J - L - N - P - R - T - V - X - Z

will be permitted to sprinkle and to use two sprinklers on the even numbered days of the month. No sprinkling permitted on the odd days.

These regulations do not apply between 10:00 p.m. and 7:00 a.m.

The above regulations to be effective immediately

No open hoses to be used

G. D. Smith,
Municipal Clerk.

Peter Andrew S'land teachers' Assn. president

The Summerland Teachers Association held its annual general meeting in the Anglican Parish Hall on June 12th. After a most enjoyable supper catered by the Anglican Ladies, the meeting came to order. Mr. Ian McCuaig gave the president's annual report. He hoped the co-operative relationship between the teachers and trustees would continue. The president gave best wishes and gifts to STA members who are leaving the district.

The financial report was given by Jim Quigg, treasurer. He was thanked for his past services. Agreements committee chairman, Mr. Ed Danallanko reported that the Southern Okanagan school districts may bargain on a zonal basis next year. Public relations committee chairman, Mr. Jim Grindler reported that Keith Bergh's close co-operation helped make education week a success. Mr. Chalmers gave a report on the joint standing committee and felt that the liaison between teachers and trustees was beneficial.

New executive and committee members were elected.

Mr. Peter Andrew, president; Mrs. Paul Roberge, vice-president; Mrs. Johanson, treasurer; Mr. Ray McNabb, public relations officer; Mr. Ted Weeks, inservice committee chairman;

Mrs. Henri Frioud, secretary; Summerland Review

Mr. Gerry Bell, Mr. Ted Weeks, Mr. Fred Bevis, agreements committee; Mrs. Hackman, joint standing committee.

Mrs. Paul Roberge was handed the gavel and chaired the remaining part of the meeting. A welcoming committee was appointed: Mr. Fred Bevis, chairman, Mr. Henri Frioud and Mrs. Jim Grindler. This committee will welcome and help find living accommodation for the new teachers coming into the district.

Sky-diving, theme of bridal shower

The home of Mrs. Betty McIntosh was the scene of a shower for Miss Lynn Thomson. Assisting Mrs. McIntosh were Mrs. Will Evans, Mrs. Bob Barkwill, and Mrs. Mel Ducommun. The theme of the shower centered around the groom's hobby, which is sky-diving. A model plane and a parachute were part of the basket decorations.

A bride's cake was the table centerpiece, and was flanked with sweet peas on either side. Once again sky-diving was the theme of decoration.

Those invited were Mrs. Howe Thomson, mother of the bride; Misses Leslie and Sheila Thomson, sister of the bride; and Mrs. K. B. Thomson, the bride's grandmother. Mrs. T. Ritchie, Mrs. W. Cook, Mrs. E. Miles, Mrs. H. Hunter, Mrs. R. Blewett, Miss S. Blewett, Mrs. R. Cuthbert, Mrs. Bill Laidlaw, Mrs. Ted Weeks, Mrs. Don Clark, Mrs. Les Rumball, Mrs. Tom Campbell, Mrs. Geo. Clark, Mrs. Robin Wright; Mrs. Fred C. MacInnes, Mrs. Bill Barkwill, Mrs. Bill Snow, Mrs. Norman Tannar, Mrs. Alan Butler; Mrs. Ken Steuart; Misses J. Miles, Millie Clark, Elaine Johnson, and Enid Maynard.

Larry Dent graduates

The Southern Alberta Institute of Technology, Calgary, reports that Larry Norman Dent, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Dent of Trout Creek Summerland has graduated from the course of refrigeration and air conditioning technology.

The graduation exercises were held on Saturday, June 17th.

Peachland marks Veterans week

PEACHLAND — A substantial number of residents attended the Legion-sponsored parade and non-denominational church service held Sunday evening at the Centennial Lakeside stage to commemorate national veterans week.

Rev. N. Tannar, Rev. Father M. Guinan, Summerland, Rev. A. C. Hammill, Kelowna and Rev. Dr. R. D. Mitchell, Peachland participated.

The Community Jr. Choir under Mrs. R. D. Mitchell sang the Centennial hymn and a friend in need. The Ladies Auxiliary, headed by its president laid a memorial wreath at the cenotaph.

Mrs. L. B. Fulks was presented with a Legion Auxiliary life membership for her many years in the L.A., both as a president and secretary-treasurer and executive member. A standing ovation was given to this devoted, active member.

Summerland Art Club contributes to Centennial

Members of the Summerland Art Club met for luncheon at the Trout Creek home of Mrs. W. Gilmour on Monday.

Plans were finalized for the painting of stage scenery made by students under the direction of Mr. Fred Beavis. It is for use at the Centennial celebrations on Giant's Head July 1.

Mrs. Ivy Mason reported on the response to the new picture rental sponsored by the club. There is to be a complete change of pictures on display at the Village Inn. Members will be present at the Village Inn Thursday, July 6 from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and at the same hours on the first Thursday of each month to assist with the choice and to book the paintings out. A nominal fee of $1 per picture per month will be charged.

Mrs. Edith Scot is in charge of the club project at the Fall Fair, to be assisted by all the members.

Scholarship awards were recently made to Wendy Stevenson and Joanne Berry. They will attend the Penticton Summer School of Fine Arts.

The recent annual show was a success and Mrs. Dorothy Morgan, club president thanked members for making it so.

Eight hundred thousand dollars to service Peachland with gas

Inland Natural Gas Co. Ltd., will spend over $800,000 on a new transmission and distribution system for the Peachland district, with service to start as soon as possible.

Progress will depend on the success or failure of their application to the Public Utilities Commission which will be heard in Vancouver on June 28 and 29.

When Inland began its Okanagan service, their plans were, and received the PUC blessing, to include Peachland on its system. But this PUC permission lapsed after the gas line, for a number of reasons, was routed around the east side of Okanagan Lake.

They are now hoping they will be able to fulfill this obligation, but it depends on the decision of the PUC.

Summerland will support additional natural gas extensions

The Summerland Municipal Council will support the application of Inland Natural Gas Co. to supply gas to Peachland, Princeton and Coldstream when it comes before the Public Utilities Commission in Vancouver at the end of the month. This was decided at the regular council meeting on Tuesday evening.

Councillor Bill Barkwill, requested that the monthly treasurer's report be circulated to councillors prior to their meeting so they may request the presence of treasurer Reid Henderson, should any of them have questions regarding the report. This will be done.

Councillor Walter Powell had attended a pollution control meeting in Penticton Monday night and said they are concerned about the "enriching" and polluting of the lake in the area of Summerland Lakeshore.

He felt there would be little point in asking industry to extend their discharge pipes further out in the lake if this was not going to solve the problem.

"There isn't much population down there, but each is contributing", Powell said. He pointed out that all canneries from Vernon south are having trouble in solving the problem. "Both the Cornwall Cannery and the Fish Hatchery are concerned, but I don't think it is fair to have them put a pipe way out in the lake if it does not solve the problem".

Municipal clerk G. Smith will set up a meeting with officials of Cornwall, the Fish Hatchery and provincial pollution officials and the council to discuss the problem. It was suggested that even a sewage system may not be the answer.

Works Superintendent said the platoons for the Harrison Hot Springs dredge are on the lake and expected the balance of the equipment to arrive today. The equipment will be rented at a cost of $1200 per month.

The Summerland Yacht Club asked council in a letter signed by Commodore Fred Schumann to consider paying the bill of $176.05 representing the work done dredging a boat channel. This was approved for payment in lieu of their annual grant which in past years has been $250.

A study, of costs to convert the domestic water system in Summerland Lakeshore to get the supply from the lake was submitted. It was based on anticipated construction and labor costs December, 1967. The engineers estimated this to be $44,750.

This cost will be borne by the provincial government in two payments, the first $20,000 and the second $25,000. This is being paid by them in lieu of giving them the water rights on the spring the present source of water supply, so they may increase their facilities.

A draft proposal was approved.

The new sign bylaw, consisting of 12 typewritten, double-spaced, legal size pages was presented to the Councillors but no action was taken so they will have time to study it.

A request from A. R. Nielson to purchase road allowance so a duplex could be built on the property was not approved because it was contrary to the municipal Act.

Reeve Holmes had a request to install a street light at the intersection entering Faircrest Lodge hotel. Works Superintendent didn't think power is available there but he will check costs of the installation.

College council appointments announced

It was announced Friday by the Department of Education that the Provincial Government has approved the appointment of five new members to the Okanagan Regional College Council for a term of one year.

They are Mr. H. G. Buchanan, President of the Okanagan Trades and Labour Council, Kelowna; Dr. G. D. Harle, Dentist, of Salmon Arm; Dr. H. J. MacKay, Physician, of Revelstoke; Mr. H. B. Simpson, Pro-

Appeal made for additional gas

Vancouver businessman, Ted Charlton spoke to officials of the Chambers of Commerce and municipalities from Oliver to Summerland following a luncheon in the Stardust Motel in Penticton on Wednesday of last week.

He is heading a public education campaign in the Okanagan and Kootenays on behalf of Inland Natural Gas Co.

The gas company was turned down by the Public Utilities Commission to link its present system with the Alberta line to the south.

It is their desire to give service to Peachland, Princeton and Coldstream.

He said the reason it was turned down was because the company only had a letter of intent to hook up with the Alberta line rather than a contract. They insist that Inland issue more common shares, and they said the company had little indication from industry, municipalities or the public that there was a desire for it.

Charlton was not critical of the decision of the commission under the circumstances, and praised them for not "closing the door" but rather asked them to come back with a new application in 30 days.

He impressed upon the meeting that the new connection would minimize the chance of interruption of service to the Okanagan with the supply coming from the north and south.

"This is particularly important to schools, hospitals and industries," the speaker said.

He also pointed out that "additional advantage of a stable and reliable supply system would be a factor in bringing new industries to the area."

He asked that Chambers of Commerce and municipalities present briefs to the commission which sits on June 28 and 29 in favor of the application. "Personal representations would be better" he added.

Charlton said the new line would encourage the expansion of secondary industry, and with the greater volume of business, lower rates could well be a possibility.

Representing Summerland were, Councillor Bill Barkwill and Eric Tait, President of the Chamber of Commerce. Oliver Village Council was represented by commissioner A. Gough; John Hext represented the Oliver Chamber of Commerce.

ident, Simpson Limited, Kelowna; and Dr. J. M. Turner, Optometrist, of Vernon. Other appointments may be made later.

The Hon. L. R. Peterson, Minister of Education, had previously indicated that it was the intention of the Government to make several additional appointments to the College Council at a later date in line with the amendments made to the Public Schools Act at the last session of the Legislative Assembly which provided for the appointment of a larger Regional College Council in order that a representative of non-sectarian and non-political community interests would be included in the Council.

Sprinkling regulations imposed crack-down on offenders expected

Sprinkling water regulations to apply to domestic users not controlled by flow control valves were authorized this week Specific terms elsewhere in this issue.

Some users are complaining they are not getting any water supply.

Councillor Walter Powell told council Tuesday night he can notice the difference when the regulations are on.

It was suggested they clamp down on offenders because they felt "people are out of water and it is not fair".

Council agreed that stiff measures will be taken following the notification in the Review and the Bulletin this week. Copies of these regulations were circulated by mail to users as well.

Centennial plans near completion

The proposed route for the Centennial parade July 1 was approved following a letter received by council from Jack Towgood, who is making arrangements on behalf of the Kiwanis Club.

It will form up at the Co-op, go west to the school, then on to Main Street. At the west end of Main Street, it will proceed left then go east on Solly, past Parkdale Place and disperse at the arena. Horse riders will be in the parade, but will not form up where freshly-paved streets are.

Here is the program for the day, as outlined by the Centennial Committee:

1:00 p.m. Parade;
2:00 p. m Queen Crowning Ceremonies in Memorial Park where visiting Royalty will also take part as well as Pioneer Queen Dorie Forster. This will be followed by a treat for the kiddies in the park.

Cars will then proceed up Giant's Head Park for the dedication ceremonies at 4:30.

Here, the material will be placed in the time capsule and Centennial cake, made by Summerland ladies from a 100-year old recipe will be served.

The Elks will be ready with a beef barbecue at 5:00 and the dedication of the Japanese Lantern will take place at 8:00 on the new General Hospital grounds.

Centennial day will be history, after the giant fireworks display which will start shortly after 10 o'clock. Residents are reminded that this will not take place at the summit as originally planned but on the peak above Mountain View Missionary Centre.

GIANT'S HEAD continued from Page 1 for the Hospital Auxiliary.

We had our problems last week. The third showing of the Camera Club program was advertised for July 3rd instead of July 2nd and we tried to make June 28th a Sunday—the day of the Centennial Service. It is on Sunday—but June 25. Now let's see what we do with that.

Who started the rumor that there is going to be a dollar per head charged to those going up to the dedication of the Giant's Head Park on July 1st. This is absolutely a false report so if you hear it again, put them straight.

Say, how about that Main Street! When walking down the sidewalk, go straight down the middle or you could get some paint on your shirt sleeve . . . Did you hear what happened to Cece Wade? He went out one morning to hammer a nail into the corner of his store overhang. He was having trouble finding a spot for the nail to hold so he decided to replace some boards. This he did, and didn't like the looks of the top of the canopy so he had workmen replace it. By the time he painted the canopy, he thought he had better go all the way so he redecorated the whole front. It cost them $400 because he couldn't get that nail to hold.

Got a couple of cards from Suzie while she was taking in Expo with her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Blewett. She said it was hot there too . . . I bet it was, and there are so many people there to share it. We miss Suzie around here, but she has chosen to try her wings elsewhere. I think this is good. Young people should get out and see what the rest of the world is like.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Donaghy of Vancouver have been visiting Mr. Donaghy's sister, Mrs. Harold Scott and Mr. Scott.

Camera Club Centennial Show well received

Those who are interested in Summerland's history, and who are just curious to know how Summerland looked "way back when" should be sure to see the Camera Club's last showing of the Centennial slide show on July 2 at 3:00 p.m. at the MacDonald School Auditorium.

All aspects of Summerland's history from the time that the townsite was on the lake until present day were covered. Education, transportation, the fruit industry and the experimental station were all included, as well as the histories of the early settlers.

Narration was done by Mr. Allen McKenzie, and was placed on tape. He was aided by excerpts by Mrs. Mary Orr, on the history of the Gartrell family, and Mrs. Geo. Foster on the history of the Dunsdon family, and ended with the "Melodiers" singing the "Summerland Hymn", while a number of pictures of the area as it now were shown.

Going full swing at Sumac

The championship and First Flights are down to the finals now. The second and third flight results are still confused because someone talked Captain Nistor into making a curling draw out of a golf draw. If we ever get it straightened out, we will report it—however probably only the winners will be reported.

In the top half of the Championship draw, the big hitters Taylor and Harrison but Taylor just kept on winning. In the bottom draw, Bill Kwak squeaked out a narrow win from Peter Beulag. Kwak during the week had to replay his match against Warren Parker for the right to meet Beulah.

In the first flight, Bill Croft beat Sid Saunders of Westbank and will play Bill Laidlaw. All matches should be finished by the weekend.

On Saturday night, Nistor and Uzawa thought it would be nice to try a mixed two ball. They were floored when 60 people teed off and others came to the party in the evening.

In the main, it was husband and wife teams like Jack and Annie Dunsdon and Don Hermaiston, played with his wife Beryl Barkwill.

It is polite to say high gross and low gross but really the best were Louise and Ken Williams and the worst were Phil and Les Rumball.

It was a great success. Nistor and Uzawa have put on four events and every one of them successful. Any more like this and it might go to their heads. Don't let anyone fool you, it wasn't Big M. who did the cooking / it was Lil N.

Sunday the Summerland Firemen hosted some visiting firemen. What a day to pick with B.C.'s liquor laws. The visitors were so impressed with the course that some of them plan to come back on their holidays just to try again—to beat the course.

Right now, the fairways and greens are in beautiful shape. The course has been rated, and those who did the judging of the course commented very favorably and rated it well. There will be some changes in handicaps because of the rating.

Keep Summerland Green. Don't butt your cigarette on the fairways. See you at the golf club.

You now have your Centennial issue. Please don't phone me—I'll phone you.

We have come as close to correct history of Summerland and its organizations as possible. No doubt there are errors in information, but remember, someone thought they were right when it was submitted to us—and remember, they just could be right. In any case, enjoy it, it has been a heap of hard work to compile and publish on the part of all our staff and of those who went to a great deal of trouble digging up past history of their respective organizations or lodges.

Bill Randall was telling me that the Chamber of Commerce is not the richest organization in town (so what else is new?) and is asking the co-operation of travellers to assist in the distribution of our new Summerland brochures.

If you are going to some large centre where there may be a travel bureau, Bill asks that you drop in at Read and Mr. Thos. I. Davies attended the Public Hearing previous to discuss the proposed zoning bylaw amendments.

The change he was concerned with was the one dealing with the location of pens stables, corrals and fowl yards requiring that they be set back not less than one hundred feet from lot line abutting an Institution, School Cemetery or Public Park.

He said he had made a study of bylaws from Vernon to Penticton.

He said this gives concessions to non-agriculture users. "Any further should come from the non agricultural line," he said.

He said that Institutional land should be spacious enough for a landscaping area surrounding the usable part. "If 100 feet is excessive for institutions, then it is excessive for agriculture," he maintained.

He said spray chemicals are worse than agricultural conditions near residential or institutional areas.

"I am not opposed to having distances between, but I am opposed to legislation governing one side only."

"We think too much of the living and not enough of the dead when it comes to cemeteries."

Mr. Davis has a corral adjoining the Anglican Church Cemetery on Giant's Head Road.

He requested a meeting with church officials, council and himself to discuss the problem.

"We can't go 50-50 on the Giant's Head Road situation but I am prepared to make concessions," Davies said. He did not enlarge.

Holmes and many of his council agreed that the bylaw should make concessions on both sides so they will turn it over to the Planning Commission and discuss it again next week.

MONDAY A HOLIDAY

The council declared Monday July 3, a public holiday. Holmes said the banks, post office and liquor store are closing.

Geo Witte will make application to attend a Civil Defence course in September and Jerry Irving in November. The request came from Ivan Phillips, Civil Defence Director.

PROTEST MADE

The telephone company are building a line up Peach Orchard and Councillor Barkwill felt they are going too far from the road into the trees. "They are going to have to cut a lot of trees," he said. "They could have got well in the clear."

SEWER STUDY

An engineering firm informed Councillor Powell that it would cost $1,500 for a feasibility study of sewer installation in Summerland Lakeshore. No action will be taken until they see what kind of work the drainage does.

Brendt Nelson's request to go on half water rate because of his limited pressure was approved.

Powell said the people are not well enough informed about municipal affairs. He said they don't realize why the flow control valves are necessary. A letter will be drafted for circulation to explain the reasons for such action.

Under The Giant's Head

Prudens to pick up a few of them to take. This will save much expense and the personal contact will be available. He is interested in getting them out to Alberta, Saskatchewan and Washington and of course B.C.

***

It is high time the businessmen got together and agreed on hours of opening and closing their stores. I spent much of yesterday trying to tie down what they were going to do and got every answer in the book. I am not going to say what you should do—but it seems funny that some policy can't be laid on. If you can't agree, regulations may as well be thrown out the window and each go on their merry way. Course this serves to confuse the public—but what do you think they are now?

I finally found out that almost all of them are going to stay open on Friday night (tomorrow) until 8 p.m. and seven or eight are going to open on Monday, July 3. . . . I didn't have time to call on everyone but before I placed the ads I had the proper authority so don't blame me.

Remember the third engagement of the Summerland Camera Club of their Centennial showing of "then and now" pictures in the MacDonald School Auditorium Sunday afternoon at 3:00 p.m.

Everyone out for Summerland's Centennial Costumes day. This is being done in lieu of the annual Lilac Day this year. The stores are giving away a bunch of prizes and flags for the kiddies.

Robin Wright came in the other day with a bigger than usual grin and a pack of lettuce cigarettes he wanted us to try. I didn't like 'em. They tasted much like the stuff I used to smoke "down on the farm." (dried leaves). But I wasn't at all sure after I looked at the pack and found out they were made in Hereford, Texas.

HAPPY CENTENNIAL CELEBRATIONS

Swim class nears four hundred

Registrations for the Rotary Swim Class this year total approximately 350 youngsters, with a total registration of 400 expected. Classes start on July 6th instead of July 3rd as previously advertised, because of the July 3 holiday.

Head instructor of the Classes this year is Miss Janet Beggs, with instructors being Jeanette Jacques, Rosilend Hyde, Anne Miltimore, and this year there are two helpers, Stephanie Hyde and Margo Clark.

Summerland Review-Bulletin 3

Thanks for the co-operation

Canada will celebrate her 100th birthday Saturday.

To commemorate the occasion, the Review-Bulletin is publishing a special Centennial edition enclosed with this section.

Although there have been times (like right now) your editor has felt as if it must be his 100th birthday it has been a long but enjoyable task to bring all the information and pictures together. As we said we enjoyed it, but at the same time we hope no one gets the bright idea to celebrate our 101st birthday next year. One Centennial in a lifetime is enough.

There are a host of people to thank for their very generous contribution of information and background. Pictures came in from all angles—however it was surprising how many duplicates there were after screening them out. Possibly there were not too many residents who had cameras at the turn of the century so they perhaps shared their negatives. Many were post-cards.

But without the co-operation of our readers, the supplement could not have been published. It would take one person one or two years to research the material received.

While we are throwing out the bouquets, too often the people who pay the bills are not mentioned. Advertisers, and what they contribute not only to this publication but to every form of media is far greater than the average person imagines. Thank you very much on behalf of ourselves and our readers. They deserve consideration.

So that is it—enough has been said. It is our hope that you will enjoy reading the history of Summerland.

BRIDGE RESULTS

There were nine tables in play at both Penticton and Summerland. Here are the results. In Summerland:

North-South — Mrs. Shirley Percell and Bill Hepperle; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stewart; Gordon Hepperle and Tony Adams; Mrs. Margaret Berry and Jack Garraway.

East - West — Mrs. W. T. Hall and Bert Berry; Jean Bennest and Mrs. K. MacRae; Bob Stewart and V. Andrew; Merle Stewart and Ray Wilkinson.

In Penticton: Master Point night.

North - South — Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Purcell; Bill Hepperle and Gordon Hepperle; Mrs. Iris Gartrell and Mrs. Doreen Fredericks; Merle Stewart and Ray Stewart.

East - West — Mrs. Lottie Lyons and Mrs. Mabel Murray; Mrs. Hazel Brodie and Mrs. Rosina Campbell; Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Field; Mr. and Mrs. Ed May.

Gladwell — Mr. Stanley Edward Gladwell passed away in Summerland General Hospital, Tuesday June 20th, at the age of 70 years.

A resident of Summerland for the past 25 years he was the production manager for Summerland Singers and Players, Sec. Treas. of The Trout Creek Irrigation District and was the recipient of the Reid Johnson Good Citizen Award. Surviving are 2 brothers, Arthur, Bellville, Ont.; Roy, Montreal; one sister Mrs. A. T. Corner, Montreal. Funeral services will be conducted from St. Stephen's Anglican Church, Friday, June 23rd, at 2 p.m. with Rev. F. W. Haskins officiating. ## Agurs here since late 1890's

The name Agur has been around Summerland for a long time. The grandfather of Don and Pat Agur who are well known in the community, arrived in Summerland sometime during the late 1890's from Winnipeg. He was Summerland's second reeve.

Robert Henry Agur was the founder of the Balcomo Ranch in Prairie Valley where he developed an orchard. The home was then called Balcomo Lodge and is now owned by a descendant of another pioneer family, Walter Powell.

Robert Henry had four boys. Allen, father of Don, Pat and Robin who was killed overseas during World War II, carried on with the orchard business. His brother Eric operated a cannery for a time at Balcoma Ranch before moving to California in the early 'twenties. Brother Phillip also moved to California about the same time where they both still reside.

Robert Henry's third brother Athol operated the first stage line from Penticton to Vernon. He was killed in 1928 in a snow slide on Grouse Mountain.

Summerland Rod & Gun Club

The Summerland Rod and Gun Club has cancelled its general meetings for July and August due to the prospect of a busy harvest season for many of the members. We will, however, carry on with executive meetings to take care of any business that comes up. The next general meeting will be, Monday, September 18, in the I. O. O. F. Hall.

Our last meeting was attended by Mr. Butch Tyler, who gave a very interesting lecture on emergency first aid and artificial respiration. It was very disappointing to note that there were only about fourteen persons present. To those of you who shrugged off the saving a life, we can only say, chance to learn a little about we hope the day never comes when you regret it.

A general cleanup of the Garnett Valley Dam picnic area was held on Monday the 26. It was very pleasant to see the way the people have been

Vancouver fire officials win trophy

Summerland Volunteer Fire Department held their first annual 2 - ball foursome golf tournament last Sunday at the Sumac Ridge Golf Course. Sixteen players from Kelowna, Vancouver, Penticton and Summerland participated with Assistant Fire Marshall Ken Collier and Inspector Claire Foster of Vancouver taking home the Trophy.

Three teams tied for top place, Penticton, Kelowna and Vancouver. The high gross winners were the team of Geo. Dunsdon, and Don Hermiston, who won a 26 oz. Bottle of "Tonic Water" the compliments of the Provincial Fire Marshall.

After Golf was over, all participants enjoyed a lovely banquet catered to by the Ladies Auxiliary to the Fire Department at the Fire Hall.

A statement about your accommodations in Montreal for Expo67

Expo 67 is bound to put heavy pressure on accommodations in Montreal. Nevertheless, LOGEXPO, the official Expo 67 accommodation bureau, assures every visitor a place to stay.

At peak periods you may not be able to get certain kinds of accommodation—downtown hotel rooms, for example. But even at these times, there will be sufficient alternative accommodation for everyone.

Over 79,000 rooms are available in all.

Private Homes. Over 30,000 hospitable Montrealsers are welcoming visitors into their homes. RATES: from $8 to $14 a day for two people, $10 to $18 for three, or $12 to $22 for four. Efficiency Apartments, with kitchen facilities and maid service. RATES: $18 to $28 a day for two persons, plus $3 a day for each additional person.

Hotels. There are still some vacancies in downtown hotels during some periods, also in resort hotels within easy reach of Expo 67. RATES: from $12 to $30 a day.

Tourist Homes. The position is similar to that of hotels and motels, with some vacancies in all periods. RATES: $10 to $18 (double occupancy).

Every room has been inspected and approved by an agency of the Government of Quebec, and a controlled rate established.

All you have to do to make a reservation is mail the coupon below to LOGEXPO. You will receive a reply in 7-10 days, followed by confirmation direct from the management of the hotel, etc., or the homeowner.

Or phone (514) 397-8397 for immediate information and reservations.

Motels. Available in many periods, particularly early in the season, and after September 4th. RATES: $12 to $30 (double occupancy).

Motels (Trailer type) With kitchen facilities and maid service. RATES: from $25 a day for two persons, $30 a day for four, or $49 a day for eight. Children under 12, free.

Trailer Sites, within easy driving distance of Expo 67, with 3-way hook-up. RATES: $3.50 to $6 a day.

Camp Sites. 20,000 sites, in 120 separate locations, in the area around Montreal. RATES: $2.50 to $3.50 a day.

All these accommodations are government-inspected, approved, and price-controlled.

Kinsmen Club close a year of of much community activity

Past President Bill Austin told of their years activities following the annual Kinsmen banquet Friday evening at the Yacht Club.

He said they had contributed $1,200 towards the new hospital and collected $1,500 in their Mother's March campaign for crippled children. They also sponsored a $200 bursary.

They have assisted with minor baseball and Boy Scouts and built a trail from the parking area in Giant's Head Park to the Summit.

Kinnett President Pauline Gale presented him with a cheque for $300, a $100 of which is to be used for bursary and $200 for the children's ward at the hospital.

The following 100 per cent attendance pins were presented to Kinsmen and Kinnetts. One year — Bill Krause, Jim Quigg, Elaine Krause, G. Rusaw, Joan Flebbe; two years, Doug Grant, Dave Smith, Evelyn Spelsberg Betty Chreighton; three years, Bill Austin, and Lil Smith; four years, Marg Payment, Annie Austin, Nell Day; five years, Marilyn Towgood; seven years, Evelyn Pollock, Shirley Green, Mildred Stein. The Kinnetts have only been organized for seven years.

The daddy of them all was Bob Payment who got a big round of applause when he went up to get his 11 year pin.

Reeve and Mrs. Norman Holmes were present as well as representatives of other service organizations in Summerland. Out of town Kinsmen

Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Grant and family of Vancouver are visiting with Mrs. Grant's parents Mr and Mrs. H. McKee.

Mrs. Charles Evans and daughter Geraldine left on Saturday for Ireland, to spend a month holiday there.

were from Kelowna, Penticton and Oliver.

Reeve Holmes and Doug Smith were chosen as honorary members for another year.

LET'S GET NEWSY
The Summerland Fire Department were called out Tuesday afternoon to extinguish a fire in an oil tank steam heater at their asphalt mixing plant on Victoria Road.

YOU AND YOUR CAR INSURANCE

In the belief that education is an important step in accident prevention, READ & PRUDEN, in co-operation with the WAWANESA MUTUAL INSURANCE CO. and Canadian Handbook's Safety Guide Book, will present in the Review, a series of articles designed to improve your driving habits, and in so doing, become a safer driver and enjoy your driving more.

What is an Insurance Adjuster — An Insurance Adjuster is defined as a person who acts on behalf of an insurer or an insured person to negotiate the settlement of, or investigate a loss or claim under a contract issued by an insuring organization; or who investigates, adjusts or settles any such loss or claim. Adjusters are required to be licensed by the Government's Insurance Superintendent.

Before becoming a fully licensed independent Insurance Adjuster, an applicant must serve a year's apprenticeship and pass initial examinations, then work another probationary period under the strict supervision of his peers in the profession and pass a final examination. A licensed Insurance Agent or Broker cannot be licensed as an Adjuster and cannot lawfully act as an adjuster of claims.

Public adjusters prohibited — No person may lawfully hold himself out as an adjuster, investigator, consultant or advisor on behalf of any person having a claim against a person insured under a motor vehicle liability or property damage policy in Canada. This does not apply to a barrister or solicitor in the usual course of his profession.

Choosing the Adjuster — Choice of an adjuster to handle your claim is usually made by an employee of the insurance company in the branch nearest the scene of the accident. An Insurance Agent may, however, be specifically authorized to appoint an adjuster to handle the claim in either case. If the insured driver or owner has any personal objections to the choice at the time it is made, he should advise his agent or company. It will only delay settlement if objection is expressed after the investigation or adjustment of the claim is underway.

The Wednesday pack of the brownies enrolled two tweenies, Susan Jones and Heather Hoigate. The Mothers and tweenies passed through a gateway by the pond and onto the toadstool. Packie Jane Millmore sprinkled "gold dust" on the feet of the tweenies and the girls received their Brownie Pins.

Golden Bars were presented to Ann Germain, Kathy Andrews, Carla Van Nieuwkirk, and Brenda Drolet. Recipients of the Golden Hand were Connie Rasmussen, Joyce White, Sharon Cook, Linsey Laidlaw, Nopi Keys and Kathy Gale.

Ann Germain was presented with a gift as she and her family are moving. Sharon Cook gave Joyce White a world pen as Joyce is moving abroad to Germany where she hopes to join Guides.

Grey Owl, Mrs. White was presented with a gift as a memento of appreciation for the time she has devoted to Brownie work.

Joyce White received her collectors badge and was given a "fly-up" into Guiding where she received her wings from Mrs. Taylor.

The meeting ended with a sing song and the girls had a snack of delicious fairy cookies and juice.

Eight Brownies distributed programmes at the Hospital opening.

On Thursday 3 Summerland Brownie packs meet at Laidlaw Camp at Crescent Beach. The girls enjoyed wading in the lake. Collectors badges went to Cheryl Kean, Lynda Marles and Jenny Smith. Yvonne Buddingh received her minstrel badge. Janice Weins and Lorraine Lenzi were delighted to receive their Golden Bars.

Mrs. Naylor was given a Guide Cup and Saucer in remembrance of her Brownie work as she is going into lead the Ranger group. Mrs. Marten was presented with a gift from the girls. Mrs. White was given a Brownie spoon and floral arrangement along with many good wishes for their trip abroad. Mrs. Laidlaw presented these gifts in the absence of Mrs. Pool who is in the hospital.

The Brownies played a number of games and sang songs at "Pow Wow". Mrs. Sharp told the girls a lovely combination Brownie story and prayer. The meeting ended with the singing of "Taps".

The Guides had their last meeting in Peach Orchard Park. Mrs. Mavnard took the girls on a hike up the hillside, where they had a nature study group and noted a large variety of birds. Later the girls returned to the park and made a large fire and they cooked food in foil. The Guides enjoyed singing songs and later discussed plans for the Guide float to be entered in the Centennial Parade.

Peachland Legion Auxiliary plans Carnival for July 14

President Mrs. E. Chisholm welcomed guest, Mrs. D. S. McLaughlan to this week's meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Royal Canadian Legion in Peachland.

Reports were given and the President reporting on the new paint job in the kitchen which all admired stating "This is a great improvement."

Report was given by the L. A. Carnival Committee members on their attending the Branch meeting. Three members volunteered to serve on this committee, Mrs. K. MacPherson, and Mrs. Ron MacClean, and Mrs. George Swartz. Branch members appointed to this committee are J. B. Davis, J. G. Sanderson, and Harold Thwaite.

Various suggestions for the Carnival were discussed to be held in the Athletic Hall on July 14th. The committee will hold their first meeting on June 27th at 8 p.m. in the Legion Hall. Report was given by Mrs. J. E. Davies on the Zone meeting held in Summer on June 18th.

A motion was made to back the zone's proposed appointing of a General Convention Chairman. This appointment would save much time at all future conventions.

Mrs. L. B. Fulks, recipient of a Ladies Auxiliaries life membership thanked the members for this great honor bestowed on her.

Mrs. J. Vandenburg has requested other equipment for cleaning and waxing the Hall, the President was authorized to order goods needed.

A discussion was held on how the Hall dish towels get lost; it was decided that in future only flour sacks will be

Hospital expresses thanks for floral arrangement

The regular meeting of the Summerland Horticultural Society was held June 20, in the Parish Hall with President John Graham as the chair.

A letter of thanks from the Hospital Administrator was thanking the Society for the beautiful floral arrangements, that the Society arranged for the opening of the new Summerland Hospital.

Twenty-five members enjoyed a lovely day visiting Kelowna gardens on June 4.

The Rose Show will be held in the Parish Hall Wed. July 5th, afternoon and evening and tea will be served.

Mrs. Langstaff, President of Vernon Horticultural Society attended the meeting and invited the Summerland Society to a pot luck supper in Polson Park, Vernon, July 26th at 6:30 p.m. She also spoke on the Okanagan Valley Horticultural convention to be held in Vernon October 14.

The Society will visit Apex Mountain on July 30th, and will meet in Super Valu parking lot at 9 a.m. and bring a lunch.

Mr. John Maxwell, Vegetable Dept. of Agriculture of Vernon was introduced by Mr. A. Watt. Excellent slides of Jamaica were shown, along with a very interesting commentary.

A Parlour show was held and the winners were:

BASEBALL

In Little League action last week, Dodgers continued to increase their lead over second place Yankees. White Sox lost another game and the Dodger-Pirate game was postponed on account of rain. Little League heads into the final week of the schedule this week.

On June 20th, Dodgers nipped Yankees 11-7. Mark Bloomfield was the winning hurler while Harrison was the loser. Bloomfield and Huva connected for doubles for the winners while Bloomfield and Bernhardt had triples. For the Yankees, Sakal had a double and McIntosh a triple.

On the 21st, Mounties won a 17-8 contest from the hapless White Sox. Irvine was the winning pitcher; Frost the loser. White, Fabb, Irvine, and Johnson had doubles and Campbell a homer for the winners while Smith, Wertz and Gibson connected for two-base hits for the White Sox.

On the 22nd, Yankees walked over the Mounties 16-2. Sakal was the winning hurler and Johnson the loser. Sakal, Harrison, McIntosh, and Engles had two-base hits for the Yanks while Irvine and Dunsdon had them for the Mounties. Campbell had a home run for the losers, as well.

Here are the standings as of June 22nd:

	W	L	T	%
Dodgers	8	1	1	.800
Yankees	7	4	0	.636

CENTENNIAL EDITORIAL 2067 BIRTHDAY GREETINGS

By Keith Bergh, Editor

So you got the time capsule open. Congratulations and best wishes and Happy Birthday, Canada and Summerland on your 200th Birthday! Our Works Superintendent Ken Blagborne was a little worried and wanted to hang a sign outside the capsule telling you to get the key from the Superintendent, but I guess that wasn't necessary.

I wonder what Summerland is like now? I suppose you will classify us middle-aged fellows as pioneers. We still have a few of them, but they aren't middle-aged.

We can't help but wonder what changes have taken place in the world. The generation before us, middle-agers came through so much change and progress, it is difficult for us to imagine what Summerland will be like 100 years from now.

We are pretty backward in 1967. We still drive cars that don't steer by themselves, a machine washes our dishes, clothes and jet planes fly overhead. Industry hasn't come so far that we have eliminated the push-button operations — we still have to use our fingers for that. Men have to operate our municipal machines and our roads don't allow us to go faster than 100 miles per hour because our cars run on wheels.

In the days of our pioneers, they used an animal called a horse for means of plowing the field, cutting the hay or driving to church. Now we have them to round up cattle, but in the main they are used as a playmate and the commodity necessary to place racing bets on. We wonder to what extent you are using horses.

No doubt, as you read this, there is one phase of living that will be unchanged. The pleasant atmosphere. The warm water of Okanagan Lake, the beautiful shade trees, the warm winters and of course Giant's Head.

I would imagine there are more people in Summerland than there are fruit trees in the whole valley now. You know places like California where people are almost stacked one on top of the other don't know about the Okanagan yet. But this will have changed no doubt.

You know — you wouldn't have been reading this had it not been for a couple of pioneers by the names of Walter Wright and Magnus Tait who suggested a park be built on Giant's Head Mountain. Another fellow by the name of Don Agur played more than a little role in the construction of a road up here. Don is the son of the second reeve Summerland had. He got his instruments out and said he could build a road up here

Band played vital part in cultural development

By ART SIMPSON

From pioneer days to the present time bands have played a large part in the cultural development of Summerland.

Relating to the original band from its inception until the beginning of World War I is based on the recollections of pioneer residents and in particular those of Mr. Roger Tingley, a former member, and of Mr. Teg Logie. Dates have been purposely omitted because after such a passage of time they are difficult to "pin-point" by memory alone.

The history of the Summerland Band starts in the very early years of the present century. Summerland boasted of a band of high calibre which was a great credit to the town wherever it performed. Among the early leaders are such names as Jack Logie, Archie Burnette, Dan Williams and Mr. Pearce. The latter was a man of outstanding ability who had played in musical organizations in many parts of the world.

At this time the rehearsal hall was a room over a feed store in lower Summerland. During the summer months the band gave many delightful concerts in a band-stand located where the fish hatchery now stands.

During this period the band made a memorable trip to New Westminster to appear at the fair. They had to travel to Okanagan Landing by boat then by railway to New Westminster. They had a private sleeping car for the trip and this also served as sleeping quarters while there. The band met with outstanding success on this trip and proved to all who heard them that even in those pioneer days Summerland was fast becoming a cultural centre.

The band had its ups and downs but each time when the future seemed dark Jack Logie was the man who would do everything possible to keep it going. As well as being an excellent horn player, Jack was the local druggist.

The following names are those recalled as having been members of the band during this period: Roger Tingley; Muir Stewart; Bert Nelson; 3 Robinson brothers— Jack, Bill, and Cam; also Bill Robinson, a cousin of the brothers just mentioned; Fred and Chas. Brind, Cliff Borton, Howard Rounds, Tom Kelly, Ted Taylor, Dan Williams, Jack Moulding, Bill Armour, Harry Mulford, Tommy Kenyon; Mr. Walters and Dave Watson as band manager. That there were others whose names are not mentioned cannot be doubted; however to all of these men, both named and unnamed, Summerland owes a debt of gratitude.

With the advent of World War I the band ceased to function and the memory of these early musicians is a truly bright spot in the history of Summerland.

The band had a brief revival during the 1920's under the baton of Mr. Clyde He attempted to teach many of the younger people to play as well as encouraging those established musicians to join this organization. It is unfortunate that this band did not survive for long and hence again Summerland lost a musical organization.

In 1939 Freeman Reid attempted a revival of the band and for a short time met with success. The band made a few public appearances before it ceased to operate. By this time World War II had started and many of the local musicians had left to join various branches of the armed forces.

The idea of a town band remained dormant until 1948 when the late Mr. Herb Pohlmann decided that Summerland could again produce a band. In collaboration with the late Mr. Henry Schaeffer the groundwork was laid and a new band was formed with Herb Pohlmann as leader. It was soon evident that this band was to be a success and gradually new instruments were acquired such as Basses Baritones Trombones etc. Soon by various means and with a lot of hard work on the part of the members enough money was raised to buy new uniforms.

For many years afterward whenever the band appeared in public in other parts of B.C. or in the State of Washington their appearance combined with their musical ability was a credit to the town.

In 1954 Mr. John Tamblin, the high school bandmaster, undertook the job of conducting an adult beginners class. The purpose of this class was to give adults in town an opportunity to learn the rudiments of an instrument of their choice and later to become members of the band. This was a successful enterprise and was repeated later under the direction of Dr. Jack Mason. The success may be judged by the fact that several of the members of the Centennial Band are graduates of these various classes.

At their first appearance in the Okanagan Valley Music Festival, the band under the direction of Mr. Bud Steuart captured the shield and received both high marks and high praise from the adjudicator. This success was repeated the following year again under the direction of Mr. Steuart.

In 1960 Dr. Mason took over the baton and continued as leader until 1964. Because of the retirement of several members due to business, failing health etc. the membership had been gradually declining. A temporary amalgamation with the Penticton Band with Dr. Mason and Mr. Harold Crane sharing conducting duties failed to save the situation and in 1964 the band turned its assets over to the municipality and reluctantly suspended operations.

In 1958 the band received a sad blow with the sudden passing of Mr. Pohlmann who had given unsparingly of his time, talent and boundless enthusiasm. In 1960 an honorary life membership in the Summerland Band were given to Mr. Schaeffer and to Mrs. Herb Pohlmann.

This year of 1967 with the Centennial of Canada uppermost in everyone's mind, the idea of reviving the band for local celebrations met with an enthusiastic reception. Rehearsals are now being held and it is hoped that it will add some lively music to the celebrations. The leader for this band is Mr. Jim Grinder our Secondary School bandmaster.

ALL FINISHED — READY TO GO — LOOKS LIKE NEW
This is only one of many such jobs Ivan Austin and his staff have completed since coming to Summerland almost five years ago

They wish Summerland citizens success in the future, and look forward to continued fine relationships as our country enters her second century of progress.

Faith Rebekah

Lodge began in '34

Faith Rebekah Lodge No. 32 meet in the Oddfellows Hall every second and fourth Wednesday except during July and August.

Before the hall was purchased by the Oddfellows from the late Judge Kelly, it was occupied at various times by Dr. J. Graham, Dr. W. H. B. Munn, and the late Dr. Walker; a second hand shop run by the late George Ingham, and a variety store, by the late Tom Garnett, and also served as the post office.

Faith No. 32 was instituted May 12 1934 and at present has 76 members. Mrs. Nollie Walden was the first noble grand.

The community efforts have been the Summerland Hospital; canvassing for C.A.R.S.; welfare hampers at Christmas; and entertaining the Senior Citizens for dinner once a year.

Fraternal projects include an educational bursary each year, and helping to maintain the I.O.O.F. residence at Newton, B.C.

W.R. Powell instrumental in present irrigation system

When Summerland Municipality took over from the Summerland Development Company in 1906 water, yes water, was, and still is the most valued commodity. The water rights on the creeks were held by several early settlers. The Municipality found it necessary to have those licences, so they took over all but the one held by Gartrell and Woods, who had the prior rights on Trout Creek. Those settlers, with their properties near the mouth of the creek, thought it wise to retain their water rights on the creek. The mood of Trout Creek, like most creeks, was different in those early dry years when there were few storage reservoirs. I remember seeing 3 feet of water going over a 45 foot weir in the month of April and by the 3rd of June the bed of the creek was bone dry.

When the Trout Creek Water Users Community was formed in 1915, and later changed to an Irrigation District, they took over the Gartrell-Woods water licence and found it a valuable instrument. They had many a scrap with the Municipality to get a fair share of water, but no blood was shed.

When the Dominion Experimental Farm was started on the Indian Reserve in 1914, they were supplied with water for domestic and irrigation purposes through the Summerland Municipal system by a small pipe that dipped across Trout Creek Canyon. As time went on the Farm required more water. When Mr. Hunter was superintendent on the Farm, he thought the Farm should have a storage reservoir of their own. Scouting around he found Crescent Lake, a small lake, but just what he wanted. This lake is about 30 or 40 miles up Trout Creek. In 1924 the Farm developed this lake into a fine storage reservoir with a capacity of 755 acre feet of water. They also built a small diversion dam and tank in the bed of the Canyon just west of the Farm, intending to pump the water onto the Farm. When they were ready to use their storage water, the Comptroller of Water Rights gave the Farm permission to start pumping at a given time after they released a given quantity of water from their reservoir. But with all the hazards, especially heavier, the municipal foreman was quite sure the Farm water did not show up at the Municipal intake. He only sent by the bare amount for the Trout Creek Irrigation District — and the Farm pumped it. The members of the District threatened to blow up the diversion dam as an obstruction in the Creek. The Comptroller of Water Rights was appealed to to get the matter straightened out.

If the Farm could have got the water from their reservoir onto the Farm by gravitation it could have been an ideal plan. But to store the water at a high level, then to drop it down and have to pump it up 300 feet was questionable.

Early in the 30's, W. R. Powell, who was Reeve of Summerland at that time, and had the aptitude to solve some of Summerland's water problems, thought the Farm could get water on the Farm by gravitation from Shingle Creek. Scouting around he located a large meadow on the Indian Reserve just west of the Experimental Farm. This meadow could be developed into a storage reservoir and could be filled with water from Shingle Creek, then led to the Farm by a canal. He not only got a water licence on the meadow, he also filed on Brent Lake, which could also be tapped and included in the plan. He apparently caught Kaleden napping as Brent Lake was their main source of water but they had no licence on it. When Kaleden woke up the fat was in the fire. Hunter did not like the scheme. He would not accept it, so the plan was abandoned.

But Powell was not to be beaten, he intended to find a solution for the water troubles on the creek. He thought — if to pump is the only way to get water on the Farm, why not pump from the Okanagan Lake. The Farm borders on the lake on the east side.

By 1933 Reeve Powell got

House on the hill

Newcomers and visitors to Summerland invariably ask "What is that building up on the hill?" It is part of the Okanagan College built on the north side of Giant's Head by the Baptists years ago. The building which we see was the ladies' residence, called Morton Hall. The men's residence has long since been cleared away.

The college was forced to close in 1915 when the students joined up during World War I. Later it became a home for the aged, called the Home for the Friendless, then successively an old folks home, a hotel, a sort of nursing home run by a famous character called "Ma White" for a short time and is at present operated by the Seventh Day Adventist Church.

The Youth Centre was at that time the College Gymnasium.

the Summerland Municipality to offer to construct a pumping project on the Okanagan Lake for the Experimental Farm. This was approved and accepted by the Dominion Government. The Farm to be responsible for operation and maintenance. The Farm was also to receive their domestic water during the winter months, as heretofore, from the municipal system. The Municipality of Summerland took over all the Experimental Farm interests on Trout Creek.

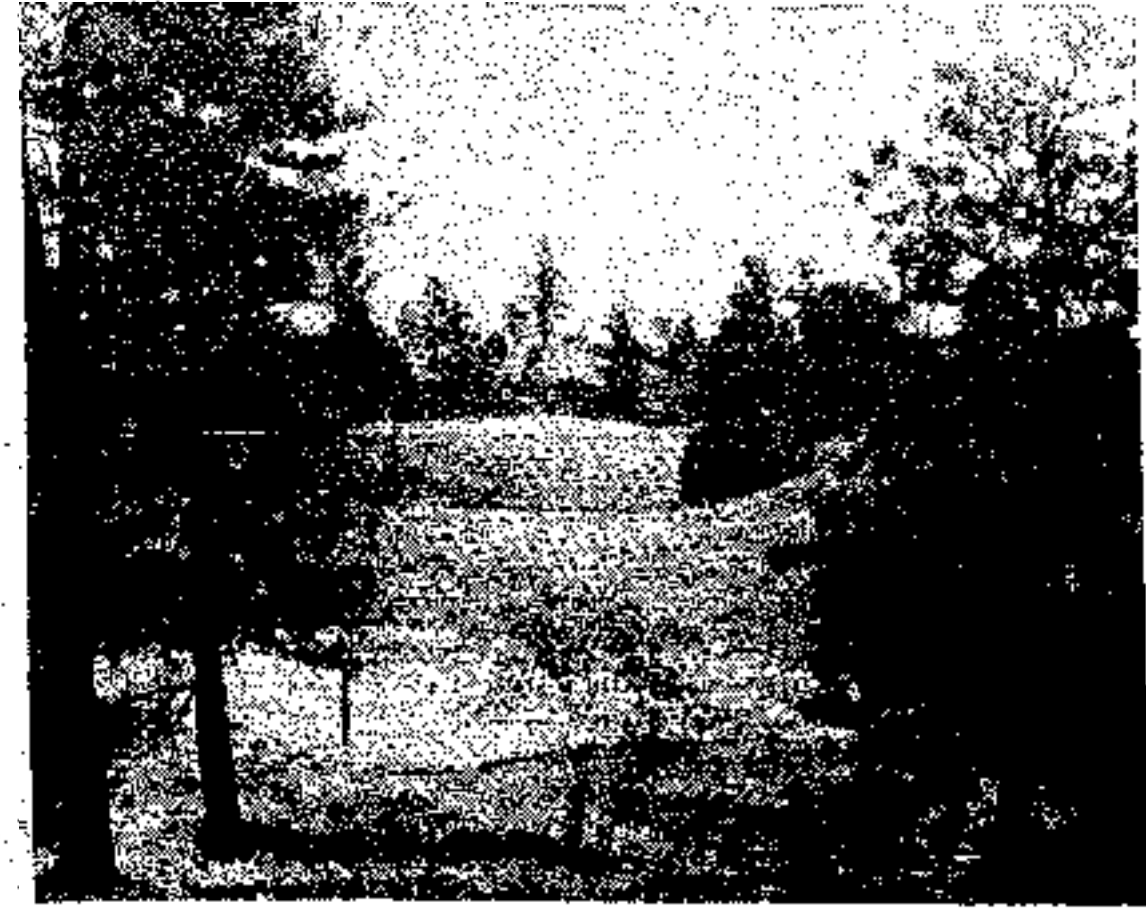

That was the solution to a water problem satisfactory to all those concerned.

Here is Tom Young, centre, with his 1943 staff when he operated the Summerland Evaporating Co. Ltd. at the location of the present pool hall and thrift shop. The building was two storeys, 50 ft. by 120 ft. at that time but it was partly destroyed by fire in 1946 and they rebuilt only one storey. Tom had 20 on the payroll at that time.

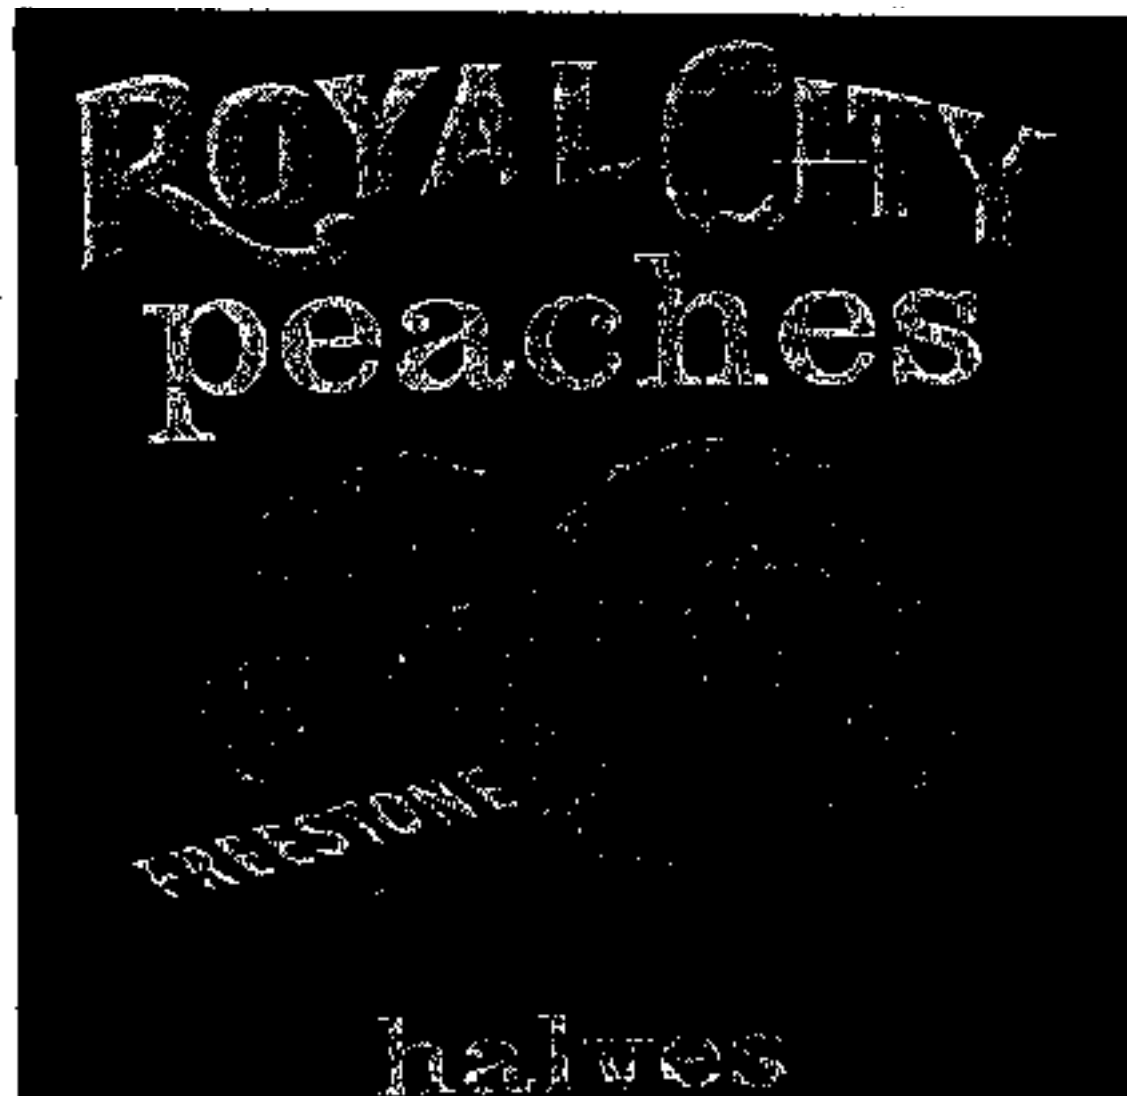

Sumac Ridge Golf Course is one of the new enterprises in Summerland, having opened on May 22, 1965.

It took three years to blast rock and haul loam to make the fairways on the beautiful unique golf course, owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Vic Parker. There are over 200 members and hundreds of tourists enjoying the game as well as the breathtaking views this year.

Summerland United Church as it looks today or at least every Sunday after worship service. The hall extends to the north which is used for many church activities as well as serving as a community facility. The Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic is held in the hall each year.

Basketball in the early days

(As presented by Elizabeth Orr, candidate for Miss Summerland. She will be crowned princess July 1.)

The first basketball games were played in the old College Gym and in the Men's Club of the Methodist Church. The College Gym was situated by the Giant's Head Road and after the college closed down at the beginning of the war it was called the Scout Hall and is now known as the Youth Center. The Methodist Church was situated in Lower Summerland on the road west of the Fish Hatchery. This had a gallery above the floor from where the spectators watched the game.

In the years before the first great war the president of the teams was Mr. Harry Bristow and the secretary-treasurer was Mr. Harry Everett. In 1914 the president was Mr. Adam Stark and the secretary-treasurer was Mr. Harry Bristow.

In 1921 during the Easter holidays, Bill Johnston took the high school team to the coast where they played King Edward High School in Vancouver, the Duke of Connaught team in New Westminster, and the North Vancouver team in North Van. They also played Senior A teams in Milner, Mission, and Abbotsford. The Summerland team won three and lost three games which was pretty good for a small town team.

In the late 1930's the Summerland Merchants started up a team. The manager and captain was Keith MacDougal and the chief referee was Chuck Bleasdale. This league was composed of Summerland, Penticton, Kelowna, Okanagan and Tonasket. Because of the enthusiasm of the crowds the old Gym west of the school had to be enlarged to accommodate the spectators. Crowds always gave tremendous support and drove the teams on to success. Even ministers put off their week of prayer one year to go and watch important games.

In 1936-37 this Summerland team was victorious and became the interior B Senior Champs. In the spring of 1940 the cup for the Senior B Men for British Columbia was won by Summerland when they defeated Powell River in the finals.

Some people who played in Summerland went on to further fame in big cities. Rene Harris who played a lot of basketball with the boys left here and joined the University team in Vancouver and later played in the Olympics in Holland and also in Germany. Warren Gayton went ahead and played on a Canadian championship team. Dr. Jim Marshall played at Guelph University in Ontario where he gained a m.e. John Purvis who was called Long John probably because he was 6'6" tall played on the Vancouver Championship team. Lately Alan Birtels did extremely well in basketball. He went to the University of Washington and the University of B.C. and also won a scholarship to attend the University of Hawaii.

Kinsmen have record of community assistance

The Kinsmen Club of Summerland was chartered on April 26th, 1958, and began their service to the community of Summerland by donating a cheque for $1,000 toward the building of the Summerland Health Centre. Charter Executive was President Murray Paynter, Vice-President Jim Newton, Secretary, Bill Pollock, Treasurer Hank Willemssen, Registrar Jim May, Directors Don Estabrook and Gordon Stein, Bulletin Editor, Bill Likei.

Kinsmen is a group of young men under 40 whose main aim is to help young people, and the Community as a whole. One of the major service projects of the B.C. Kinsmen is Mother's March, a blitz canvas which the proceeds are used for the Polio and Rehabilitation Foundation. This foundation has assisted many disabled children. Salk and Sabin vaccine for polio immunization clinics were sponsored by Kinsmen. Also in 1958 the Kinsmen built a house for a family whose home was destroyed by fire.

Kinsmen have aided the community of Summerland by building a Little League baseball park, painting the Youth Centre, furnishing a room at Parkdale Place, donated $1,200 to the New Hospital, constructed the Giants-Head Park

Veterans of first World War started Summerland Legion

The history of our Legion Branch dates back to 1919. Many of our records have been lost in the fire but some remain and these along with the reports in our local newspaper and the memories of those who were active in the organization in those days give us a fairly complete picture.

In the early fall of 1919 a meeting of returned men was convened by F. A. C. Wright and at that meeting a Branch of the Great War Veterans Association was elected. F. J. Nixon was the first President and S. A. MacDonald was the secretary. Many problems connected with the rehabilitation of the returning veterans had to be solved. Comrade W. Beattie, a local veteran who was at that time in Vancouver, was asked to represent us at the G. W. V. A. Convention there. Succeeding Presidents of G. W. V. A. were C. E. Bentley, A. B. Morkill, S. Bartholomew, W. Atkinson and T. Hermon. Secretary was W. Atkinson, S. W. J. Feltham and Noel Higgin.

On June 6, 1926, 16 members who were present at the last meeting of the G. W. V. A. voted to form themselves into a Branch of the newly-formed Canadian Legion. This Branch was numbered 32. T. Hermon, who was the last President of the G. W. V. A., became the first President of the new organization. Comrade Wm. Atkinson has the original handwritten copy of the resolution which was passed at that time. Moved, seconded and carried. That the sixteen members here assembled do hereby form ourselves into an association to be known as the Summerland Branch of the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League, to be governed by the published Constitution of the said Canadian Legion.

Signed:
C. E. Bentley, F. J. Nixon, C. J. Arnt, S. A. MacDonald, S. R. Davis, E. R. Graham, T. Brennan, M. J. Bennett, G. W. Fosbery, G. A. Marshall, B. Newton, Frank Mossop, D. Sanborn, S. W. J. Feltham, W. A. Atkinson, T. Hermon.

At the beginning, the meetings of the G. W. V. A. were held in the Anglican Parish Hall. In 1922 we purchased the property where we are now located and as it had a small cottage on it we were able to hold our meetings there for a short time. After the new school was built in 1922, the building that had been used as a Manual Training room was purchased from the School Board and moved to our present site. Over the years many alternations were made, the Hall was enlarged and a new kitchen built on. In 1961 the Hall was destroyed by fire. As soon as possible arrangements were made for a new building and our present Hall was completed.

The Legion has always taken an active interest in all the affairs of our District and has played an important part in its development. The projects supported are too numerous to mention but one may be of special interest as it has continued over such a long period of time. In 1938 the Boy Scouts Association had been dormant for some time. So on March 9, 1938, a motion that the Branch should sponsor a Boy Scout Troop was moved by W. Atkinson seconded by H. Thornthwaite and carried. A Scout committee was set up and the Branch has sponsored this Troop ever since then.

Presidents of our Branch since 1926 in order of time were: C. E. Bentley, J. E. Jenkinson, H. Thornthwaite, J. O. Mahony, D. Taylor, W. Atkinson, S. A. MacDonald, Harold Smith, S. P. Thomas, George Lee, D. Sanborn, H. R. McLarty, W. Grant, A. Calvert, R. S. McLachlan, C. Wood-

Fire plagued Summerland Lodge A.F. & A.M for many years

In 1906 some local interested Freemasons found there were quite a number of the Fraternity in the community, and commenced to talk of forming a lodge. On the 15th of March ten brethren met in Adam Stark's store, Lower Town, and formally organized, leaving the matter of obtaining a dispensation in the hands of Bro. Chas Stevens, who was at that time head of the Summerland Telephone Company. However, fifteen months passed with no apparent headway. And so another meeting was called, in which they elected a slate of officers which included W. M. G. L. Parker as Master with S. Bartholonew, S. W. and W. A. Doherty J. W. and K. S. Hogg, Secretary.

It is to be noted that when the dispensation was received Bro. Parker was absent in England and date of his return uncertain, and so Bro. J. C. Robson R. W. Bro. Butler's father-in-law, was elected in his stead, being first Master Summerland Lodge was instituted on March 1st, 1909, with an enrollment of twenty-six charter members, with the following officers: W. M. J. C. Robson, S. W. Bro S Bartholonew, J. W. Bro. W. L. Doherty, Treas. Bro. A Stark, Sec. Bro. K S Hogg, Chap. Bro H. A. Solly, D of C Bro Featherstonhaugh, Org. Bro. J Scott, Inner G. Bro. A. Richardson, Jr. S. Bro. Geo. Doherty, Tyler Bro. J Fyffe.

The first lodge meetings were held in what was called the Orange Hall in the northern section of the Lower Town. However, as this arrangement proved unsatisfactory they made a deal with A. B. Elliott to rent the upstairs part of his store. This hall was used until 1915 when they moved to the Oddfellows Hall, Lower Town. This hall was above what was Cliff Borton's plumbing shop and has since been torn down. They met here until 1921 when they took over the J. R. Campbell Hall on a rental basis of $250.00 per annum, subletting to the Oddfellows for half that amount.

In 1920 a fire started in the floor below causing considerable damage to their furnishings. As a result for a few months they were without a home. But after a time, Mr. Campbell cleaned up the damaged hall, new regalia and furnishings were purchased, and once again they were on their way. Unfortunately in 1935 a similar fire occurred, entailing a repetition of former damaged furnishings. The presiding Master W. Bro. Ted Atkinson appointed three committees to bring in reports to a Board of General Purposes meeting.

It was resolved that arrangements be made with Mr. Campbell to rebuild, and in October, 1940, they held their next meeting in his hall. W. Bro. Bert Harvey was in charge of much of the rebuilding.

During all the years it had been the Lodge's ambition to own their own home, lack of the necessary money, and up to 1958 they had always been able to rent at such a reasonable figure that it did not pay them to build. At long last they acquired their own home of which they are justifiably proud. The United Church in Lower Town, having gone into disuse was put on the market and was purchased by the Lodge for $3,750 which included a pipe organ.

The first meeting in the new hall was held in October, 1958.

In 1914 Wm. Brent, a Roman Catholic, joined the Lodge. This was their first R. C. although there have been several come in since.

In those early years, when the membership was small, I have been told that on several occasions when insufficient brothers turned up to form a lodge they climbed into their buggies and headed for Orion Lodge in Penticton. At that time there were no graded roads by the lake but they had to follow a winding gravel road from Trout Creek to Penticton. This road ran along the side hill just below the present railway, and took about 1½ hours.

From 1920 to 1928 the three lodges, Penticton, Summerland and Peachland, held their installations jointly with W. Bro. Andrew or W. Bro. Morley acting as Installing Masters. After this date, owing to increases in memberships, it was decided to hold them individually.

Summerland Lodge has produced seven District Deputy Grand Masters, viz. R. W. Bros. Andrew, Hogg, Huddleston, MacDonald Butler, Nisbitt, and Young.

Installing Masters in the earlier years the names appear prominently of W. Bros. Andrew, H. B. Morley, W. A. Doherty, and Huddleston. In the later years I note that W. Bro. Gillard performed three years, W. Bro. J. R. Butler four years, W. Bro. A D Wilson one year, and in 1958, R. W. Young.

The following members have been given 50-year membership buttons: W. Bro C. H. Tate, W. Bro. H. Dunsdon, and R. W. Bro. Huddleston and Bro. Geo Doherty. A great deal of credit is due many of the members, and some are worthy of mention for outstanding merit and service.

1. There was R. W. Bro. Andrew. He joined the Lodge shortly after its inception, Was made Master in 1913, Was made D. D. G. M. in 1919, Was Treasurer for 35 years from 1916-50 inclusive. He was the first to deliver the closing lecture to the Brethern after Installation and did so from 1924 to 1946, at which time he turned it over to R. W. Bro. Young who has carried on from that date to the present.

2. R. W. Hogg.
3. R. W. Bro. Butler.
4. R. W. Bro Huddleston.
5. R. W. Bro. MacDonald.
6. W. Bro. Feltham

And many others too numerous to mention.

Membership has grown from 26 in 1909 to 102 in 1967.

In No. 58 there is something unique and worthy of mention. S. M. Young, father, and T. B. Young son, were both masters. J. C. Robson grandfather, E. R. Butler, father, and J. R. Butler son, were all masters. And there is also the case of the three Wilson brothers, Earl, Harvey and Donev and all of these masters of the same lodge.

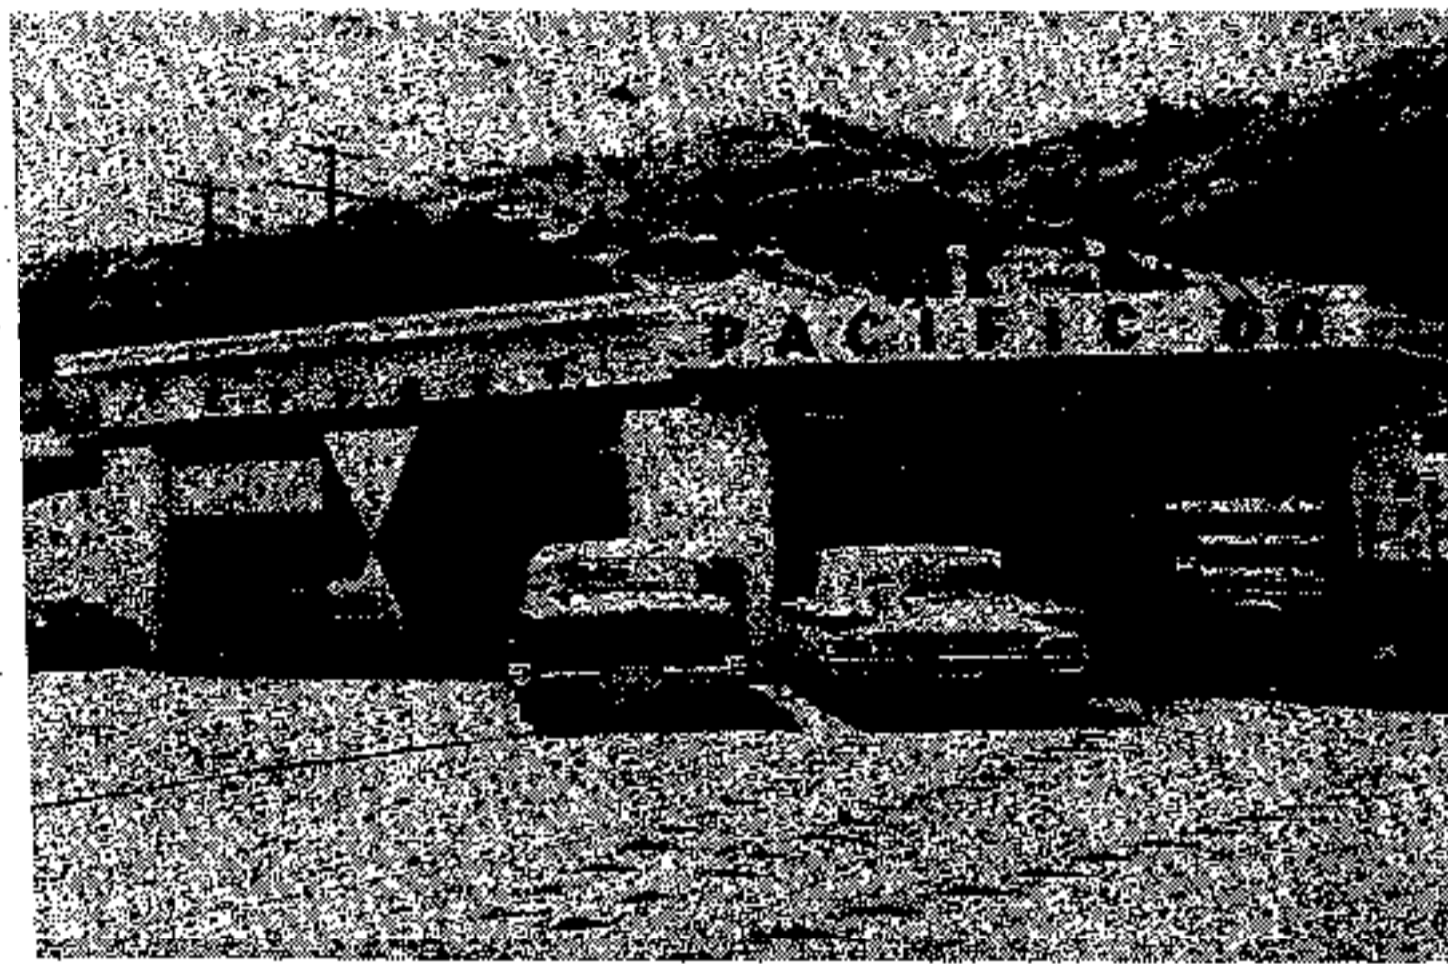

I have endeavored to give you a rough picture of the development of Summerland Lodge No. 58 over the years. It maybe that at the end of another length of time some other brother, as yet probably unborn, will be called upon to give the history of this Lodge. As I do not expect to be here at that time, and to save this unborn brother the labor of delving through this first period, I respectfully submit this report, subject to error and omission.

Les Gould says this picture was taken in 1929 during the construction of the first Summerland to Peachland highway. It was only a trail before that time.

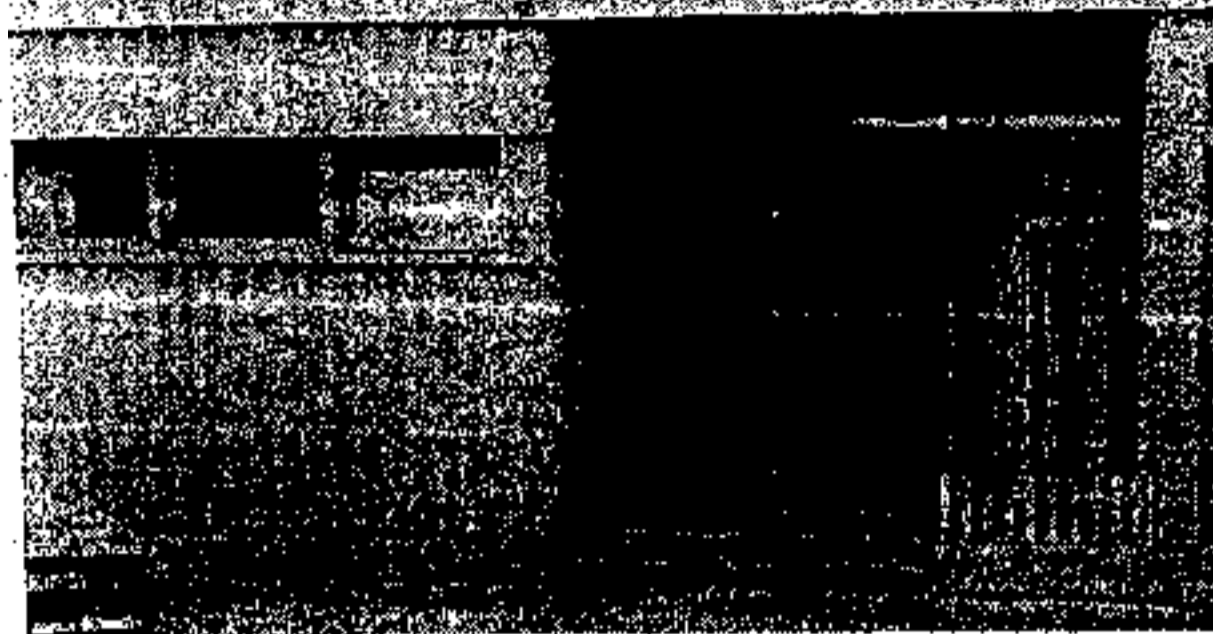

Murray (Joe) Elliott and Jack Henley started this business on Aug 3, 1963. Joe was born in Summerland, his father was one of our pioneer businessmen, having started here in 1908.

Baptists held first Sunday school in a tent in 1905

Since 1902 the Rev. T. N. Ritchie, a graduate of Brandon College and McMaster University, had been preaching in Peachland. In 1903 he used to ride horseback over the trail to Meadow Valley, ten miles north west of West Summerland where there was a lumber mill and small settlement. There he held a church service once a month in the home of Mr. Robert Darke. His congregation consisted of Mr. Darke, his mother, Mrs. Phoebe Darke, Mr. and Mrs. James Darke, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Huntley.

Rev. T. Ritchie rode from Peachland to Summerland to hold services in Summerland and in July, 1905, an organization meeting was held at the home of John Giles to form a Baptist church. On July 23, the same month, organization was completed with 17 members signing the charter. Rev. T. N. Ritchie was the pastor. The names of the charter members are as follows: Mrs. Mary Babbitt, Mrs. Flora Grieve, Miss Flora Grieve (Mrs. T. J. McAlphine), Mr. John Giles, J. M. Robinson, Christy Giles, Hutchinson James Fenner, Phillie Darke, C. V. Wolverton, E. M. Wolverton, Jas Ritchie, Mrs. Jas Ritchie, Mrs. H. Hayes, T. G. Marcham, Mr. Wm. Ritchie, Mrs. Wm. Ritchie.

The deacons appointed were John Giles and C. V. Wolverton. Miss Flora Grieve was a deaconess, W. H. Hayes, secretary, James Ritchie, treasurer. The finance committee members were John Giles, J. M. Robinson, James Ritchie, W. H. Hayes and T. G. Marcham.

Baptists had as their first Sunday school, a tent. It was on the flat in Prairie Valley. At the same time the Baptists at the lower town on the lakeshore were meeting in the Methodist church. Later the congregation obtained a larger tent.

Miss Bena Logie was organist, and Mrs. James Ritchie, now Mrs. M. Stephens, the only surviving charter member, sang in the choir and became organist for the prayer meetings. In the Sunday school Billy Grieve played a violin, Alex Grieve, a coronet, T. B. Young, a violin, and Miss Flora Grieve a small portable organ. Mrs. Mary Babbitt, was the competent superintendent.

A call was extended to Rev. A. G. Campbell to come to devote full time to the Summerland Baptists. On February 17, 1906, he took services for the first time.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dale came into the church on August 12, 1906, and Mrs. Dale became organist the same month, thus beginning a long ministry in music and song.

The present church was erected the summer of 1908, starting with $920 in cash; $10 in promised labor; an offer to do the plastering, with the church to find the plaster.

The structure will be ornamental in design and will be a credit to the denomination and to the community."

The church went up rapidly and by September a "Women's Committee of Help", was founded and headed by Miss Annie Dale, Mrs. E. Sawyer, Mrs. H. G. Eastbrook, Mrs. W. H. Hayes, Mrs. J. P. McIntyre and other members.

The congregation was in the new church in October. The building insured for $1,200. Meetings in the Methodist church were discontinued. Rev. J. G. Coulter White, a member of the congregation, gave shiplap to finish the outside of the building by Christmas.

A new double manual Doherty organ, called "The Victoria" was obtained and was used until 1955 when a new electric organ was installed.

Some Baptists were looking for a site to build a church at the lakeshore. Two lots at the foot of the Gulch Road were given by James Ritchie. Plans for a building to seat 225 were adopted in December 1909, and the attractive, half-timbered church was built. This church was continued until 1926 when an exchange was made with the United Church, whereby the Baptist church obtained the United Church buildings and land at the lower town plus $500 and the United Church took over the Baptist lakeside church. These United church buildings were torn down under a contract awarded to James Darke, and the parsonage at West Summerland was built with the lumber thus obtained, on land donated by Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Kelly. Rev. J. J. Smithson and his family were the first occupants of the present parsonage.

During the ministry of Rev. James Dunlop in the years 1911-1922 the baptistry was installed, and baptisms took place in the church at West Summerland.

Throughout the years alterations and improvements have been made to the church building. The church hall and parlor were added and kitchen areas enlarged and improved, greatly facilitating meetings and suppers. Working hard for this construction was Rev. D.

O. Knipfel.

During World War II the "Friendly Letter" was begun by Rev. F. W. Haskins as a means of keeping in touch with the young people of the church in the services. This monthly church communication is still mailed to all members and adherents of the church.

The following ministers and others have been members of the Sunday School or church: The late Rev. Kenneth James, Rev. Joseph James, Rev. Bruce Haskins, Rev. Kutch Imayoshi, Donald Blacklock, and Roger Smith Capt. D. O.

Knipfel, who became an army chaplain served in Korea. Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth Knight, who went to the Indian Mission field.

The pastors of the Summerland Baptist Church have been:

Rev. T. N. Ritchie 1901-1906, Rev. A. G. Campbell 1906, Rev. H. G. Estabrook 1906-1909, Rev. F. W. Pattison 1910-1913, Rev. Norman McNaughton 1914, Rev. E. Hatt, Dr. Everton, Rev. ## Fires claim three packinghouses in a six-year period

The Summerland Fire Brigade had their work cut out for them and contractors were busy from 1953 to 1960 as packing houses both uptown and downtown in Summerland burned with spectacular fury. Other packing houses in the Okanagan Valley were having similar troubles and specu-tion ran high as to the cause of the fires.

In 1953 the Occidental Packinghouse burned to the ground and was rebuilt on the same location. In 1957 the Co-Operative Packing House met the same fate. It had been located downtown and was rebuilt uptown. Walters Ltd. Packing House, close next door, was saved from the fire but bankruptcy claimed the business the next year. Then in 1960 the B. C. Shippers Packing House was burned and rebuilt with the latest improvements.

We now have three fine packing houses which employ a goodly number of the residents of Summerland, the hub of the fruit industry.

The Twenties brought the Summerland Horticultural Society

Early in 1925 Dr. Bennett of St. Thomas, Ont., visited Summerland and as a result of this meeting an organizational meeting was arranged, to form a local Horticultural Society. The inaugural meeting was held at the home of Col. and Mrs. Cartwright. Mrs. Wm. Fosberry was elected to act as president with Mrs. Collas assisting as secretary treasurer.

Among the first members of the Society we find the names of John Tait, Charlie Wharton, Mrs. Magnus Tait, Mrs. Ottley, Mrs. Hookham, Mrs. T. B. Elliott, Lee McLaughlin, Bert Harvey, Keith Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Bennett, Mrs. Fisher, Mr. Simpson and several others. W. R. Powell, Bill Snow and Mr. and Mrs. Ken McKay joined soon after.

The purpose of the Society was "The Society shall have for its objective the advancement of Horticulture, and with this end in view shall hold Flower Shows and Garden Visits also meetings with speakers and slides on Gardens and flower growing."

During the 1930's parlour shows and garden visits were held at members homes. Shows were held for Tulips, Iris, Peonies and Roses. Several of the Rose shows were held at the Summerland Experimental Station. Either in the old Log Cabin or in a Tent erected by the staff for the purpose. Dr. R. C. Palmer, the Superintendent at that time, along with most of his horticultural staff, were members of our club and assisted materially in its activities throughout the years.

From 1928 till 1939 a garden competition was held yearly. The first winner was Mrs. C. Napier Higgin in 1928 and in 1938 and 1939 the winner was Mrs. H. A. Solly for her beautiful garden at Trout Creek Point.

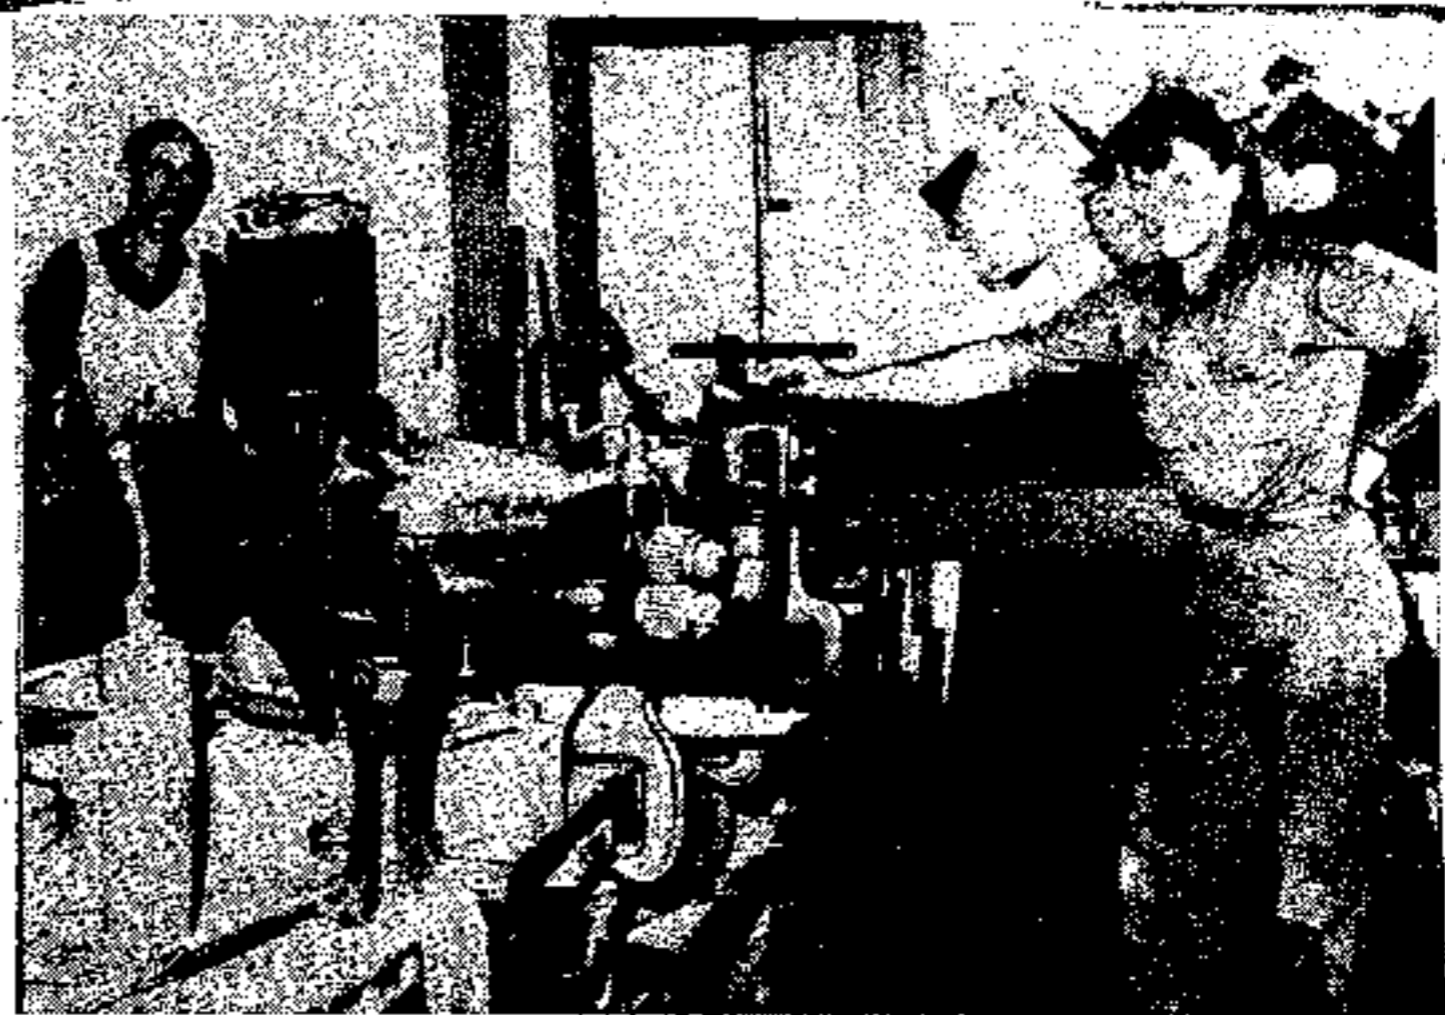

The Hon. Grote Stirling, member for the Okanagan donated a beautiful cup for this competition. The Rose show was first held in 1927, with Higgin as the first winner and with the exception of the war years he has held it yearly ever since. The Rose Cup donated in 1927 by Mrs. F. A. C. Wright has passed through many hands since that time, having been won by growers from Vernon, Peachland, Penticton and Naramata, as well as by Summerland growers.

The first summer show was held in Ellison Hall during the summer of 1926 and has been a yearly affair every year since, with the exception of the war years. When the new High School was built, the show was moved to the school auditorium. This was quite a large show and was considered the social event of the summer season. In recent years the show has been held as part of the Fall Fair.

During the war years the activities of the Society were directed toward the war effort and all monies raised were donated to the Red Cross. Garden parties were held and visits to the Glad fields where refreshments were served and glad blooms sold to raise money.

Among the many trophies the Society holds are several to perpetuate the memory of some of our members. Among these are bowls and vases honoring former members, W. R. Powell, Dr. R. C. Palmer, Mrs. Magnus Tait, Mrs. Ken McKay, Mr. Nat May and Mr. Wm. May.

During the early years the Society participated in and carried out a number of community projects and in later years members of the society worked on committees for the beautification of the community horticulturally.

Walter Rees Powell was a dedicated servant of Summerland

Walter Rees Powell left an impressive mark in Summerland — both during his time and his dedication has proven beneficial to generations following him.

The following two articles were written at the time of his death, July 18th, 1954.

Coming to our district at a time when the community pulse was beating with irregularity because of an acute shortage of irrigation water, his thoughts and actions readily joined with those of others to discover a remedy. It was not until he obtained a seat on the local municipal council that the necessary scope for the exercise of such ability was available, whereupon, quietly and persistently, oftentimes in the face of active opposition and criticism he pursued his schemes for general betterment, the results of which cannot readily be dismissed from the minds of men. It is largely the outcome of such administrative skill that he has left for posterity a unique local situation as compared with neighboring communities.

Such unerring vision as the man possessed marked him for a wider field of endeavour in marketing expansion, and it is only those of his colleagues who can aptly testify to his co-operative spirit and creative genius.

A kind, interesting and entertaining conversationalist, and with a mind charged with a depth of human understanding, and always with a ready and rich repartee, his characteristic gesture and easy manner of approach will long be remembered wherever men of action and concept are wont to congregate.

When the history of our industry comes to be written for the benefit of coming generations, the name of Walter Rees Powell will loom large within its annals, and hours of leisure will be crowned with a becoming aura of appreciation for the privilege given to sporting youth, provided for by his beneficial hand.

Of a surety he leaves behind a legible imprint upon community life, and taking him all in all we can scarcely hope to see his like again. Of his passing, and without seeming ambiguity, the lines of a great economist can surely be fittingly applied—

Men who work while others sleep;

Who dare while others fly;
They plant a nation's pillars deep;

Or raise them to the sky.

The irrigation and electrification systems of Summerland will ever stand as a memorial to the vision of Mr. Powell who fathered most of their development and the public beach which bears his name.

He held the office of reeve in Summerland for five terms—from 1929 to 1935, again in 1940-41 and then in 1946-47.

As a fruit grower since 1923, he took an active part in the activities of the BCFGA and was on the board of governors of B. C. Tree Fruits and was a director of B. C. Processors from the time it came into existence. He served also as president of (Summerland) Co-Op Growers.

He was largely responsible for development of the assured irrigation supply in Summerland by negotiating with the federal government to have water for the experimental station pumped from the lake and to have the water rights it held to Crescent Lake relinquished to the municipality, and by the construction of Thirsk Dam.

The program which he blue-printed for the municipality to retail electricity to local users was developed into a system which is one of the most favorable to consumers to be found anywhere in Canada and is at the same time a profitable business for the municipality.

In 1944 he was honored by his fellow citizens by being chosen as "Good Citizen" of that year.

He was 69 years of age and was born at Brynmawr, South Wales. In 1906 he moved to the U. S. and then to Vancouver five years later where he operated a produce market until 1919. He moved to Summerland in 1923 and was an orchardist until the time of his death July 18, 1954.

His wife, Mrs. Powell still resides in Trout Creek and one son Walter and his family reside in the family home and follows in his fathers footsteps being a councillor for the Corporation of Summerland.

at less than a quarter of the cost estimated by the Dept. of Highways. He didn't make any money . . . but what's money, we got Giant's Head Park . . . Another fellow is Dr. Jim Marshall, our Centennial Committee Chairman . . . he was the salesman of the idea and got his Centennial Committee and a host of organizations fired up so much the plan just had to succeed. There is a picture of these four men in this capsule.

Men's dressing habits have changed comparatively little in our lifetime. The only difference is some years the pant legs were slim and other years wide. The cut of coats have changed from time to time — hats were varied in shape . . . but the ladies.

One hundred years ago, the ladies were more to go in swimming than in 1967 to go to church or to the theatre. Our century started thinking it was a sin for a woman to show her ankle. Then gradually they came up until the Gay '90's when skirts were raised to the knee. Then down the hem went until they were almost tripping on them again.

Now we have the mini skirt that ranges in length from an inch or two above the knee to — well you name it. If they do get much shorter, the fabric manufacturers will go broke. And on the beach . . . In many cases, a two-week collection of postage stamps would cover the material used to make the bathing suits . . . mind you I'm not so old that I don't appreciate feminine beauty. I'm not knocking it.

But getting a little more on the serious side, I wonder what is going on at the Summerland Research Station, a great institution in Summerland contributing much towards the betterment of agricultural Canada.

Few of the business buildings now in use will be standing, your methods of transportation will be so changed. Possibly you will take a trip to the moon on a long weekend.

We in 1967 fear the atomic and hydrogen bombs — we pray that this situation is under control and that the energy is used for peaceful purposes.

Yes, we think we have come a long way since Confederation. My father homesteaded on the prairies of Alberta in 1907 when there was no town closer than fifty miles. Mother and Father saw that little town of Cereal become a community and witnessed the building of the railroad.

From this to the jet age when distances mean so little. There were millions of such pioneers who made Canada what it is today.

We wonder what kind of a trial the Editor of the Summerland Review-Bulletin went through to publish his paper commemorating 200 years of Confederation.

When you read this, we will all have passed on. But when you look back to 100 years ago, don't look upon us with any pity for what you may classify as the inconveniences we had in 1867. We had a fine life in Summerland and in Canada and we hope and pray that you and your families are as happy and fortunate as us.

Gladiolus growing in Summerland

Commencing in 1921 and through till about 1960 Gladiolus were grown commercially in Summerland.

Lee McLaughlin who lived in Lower Summerland operated the McLaughlin Glad Gardens, growing from two to four acres of gladioli for bloom bulbs.

E. H. Bennett operated in the Paradise Flat area, with an acreage of from two to seven acres.

The Bennett Glad Gardens commenced operations in 1929 and by '31 had about four acres under cultivation. The severe frost in late October of that year nearly wiped out all the crop and planting stock, so that a new start had to be made. New stock was brought in for spring planting in 1936 and by 1938, seven acres had been planted and harvested safely.

Storage cellars and frost proof-houses had been built to winter the crop and provide work area for cleaning the bulbs and preparing them for shipping in the spring.

In the spring of 1939 a carload of bulbs was shipped from West Summerland station to a farm in Eastern Canada, followed in subsequent years by more carloads and half carloads, during the war years.

As well as shipping wholesale, the retail trade was catered to by both Glad Gardens and catalogues sent out all across Canada.

This operation continued until 1954 when the Bennett Glad Gardens stopped operations, McLaughlin Glad Gardens continued to operate for several more years.

During these years the residents of Summerland had the opportunity to visit the Glad fields and see most of the world's finest glads in bloom.

Hybridizing was carried on by the Bennett Glad Gardens and many fine new varieties were produced and introduced onto the world markets. Some of these were named Jasper, Killarney, Mary McKay, Corinne, Coquihalla, Lake Louise, Burns Walker and Joan Bennett. About 30 varieties in all were placed on the market, throughout Canada, the United States, Britain and Australia.

For several years a special illustrated list was circulated advertising Summerland Organizations to the Glad industry.

A number of Organizations in Summerland benefitted from the sale of bloom. Smith and Henry supplied the trucks, free of charge, to transport the bloom to the main St. in West Summerland. George Henry took charge of the trucks and with the help of two or three young ladies made a fine job of covering the flat decks of the trucks in patchwork colours. Special care was always accorded to the variety MOTHER MACHREE, George's Favorite. Volunteer workers sold the bloom to the public and all proceeds went to the organization conducting the sale.

The first entry by the Summerland Board of Trade in the first Penticton Peach Festival was a Smith and Henry truck decorated with a Cedar skirting and live glads. 1000 spikes of glads were used in this operation.

The glads were transported to Penticton by members of The Board of Trade and a number of volunteer workers sewed them onto the chicken wire backing. This float won a first prize. George Henry was the proud driver accompanied by the young lady who had supervised the work put on it. Mrs. Geoff. Johnson (Joan Bennett). The following year another float was built on a platform on Elwood Gillespie's jeep. The theme was the Pot of Gold (a Summerland Organization) at the end of the Rainbow. Mrs. Geoff. Johnson planned and supervised the decorations with the help of about a dozen helpers from Summerland who worked from daylight 'till about 9 a.m.

Fifteen hundred spikes were used on this float, and the name Summerland on both sides of the float was worked with a blue glad (Lake O'Hara) also a Summerland Organization. Three hundred spikes were used on the name alone.

Bloom was always available for decorations at public functions or for the Churches. An interesting visitor was the late Canon Harrison who wandered up and down the rows cutting the bloom here and there to use in his church.

MAIL and TRANSPORTATION in Summerland all year

Mail had been brought by Joe Brent on horseback from Hope even before Trout Creek was settled. Later by William saddle bags overland from Okanagan Mission to Rock Creek. When larger boats began to ply the Okanagan Lake, the mail was brought in by boat.

The first Post Office was built in Lakeshore Summerland, a new office being built downtown in later years. As the settlement on the flats became larger a Post Office was added in West Summerland. In 1964 the post office downtown was closed and rural mail delivery substituted. The West was dropped from West Summerland and Summerland became the name for the whole district.

Transportation was chiefly by boat from Penticton, Naramata and points north. A rough road between Penticton and Summerland was a means of travel by horse, then by cart and finally by automobile as it was improved. Many Summerland people will remember the pleasant trips on the flat-bottomed type paddle-wheelers: The York, Abergeed, Okanagan or Sicamous. "Meeting the boat" was a ritual with many people at the various points of call.

Before 1949 motorists from Summerland to Vancouver had to go via Kamloops or Spence's Bridge, or through the United States. It was a big day when in 1949, the Hope-Princeton Highway was opened. In 1958 Highway 97 was rerouted, bypassing Lakeshore Summerland. Many will remember the ferry boats plying their way from Westbank to Kelowna before the Kelowna bridge was built in 1958.

CREDIT DUE TO KIWASSA'S

Even a short resume of the club's activities, such as this, would not be complete without mention of the 'Fair Sex'. The wives of Kiwanians have their own ladies section of the club—the 'Kiwassa Club'. Never have they been asked to help in any project without their response being given so generously as to be almost embarrassing. They are, indeed a fine group of ladies and the club is decidedly in their debt for all their help given in the past.

The most recent action of the club is of course connected with this present Centennial year. The members have constructed picnic tables and benches from wood that is probably 35 to 40 years old. These will be located in the picnic grounds at the top of 'Giant's Head', and at the time when this will probably be read — one hundred years hence — should still be giving useful service.

The past growth of the Summerland Club and its parent — The Kiwanis International — gives every promise that the work and usefulness of the organization will increase as the years go by. May it ever prosper.

DON'T CLIP AND SAVE!

If you think you are going to clip this ticket and go to the show, you better check the date and place. Empire Hall, May 19, 1923. Earl Ingles made this contribution.

AN OLDTIMER

Many oldtimers will remember this fellow. He is the late Tom Blakie at the controls of one of Tom Young's many teams. It was photographed in 1913.

Kiwanis information capsule

This writing is designed to be put into the Centennial Capsule and opened one hundred years hence, so that it must of a necessity be factual and be precisely what the heading implies — 'A Capsule of Information'

Kiwanis Clubs are by no means 'Fun Clubs' and since the first meeting that was held in June 1915, have had a very serious intent. Hence the Kiwanis International motto: — 'We Build'. Kiwanis members have built well and permanently. From a small meeting in 1915, the International Organization is now active in nineteen countries and boasts of 271,000 members. These members that make up the individual clubs have one main idea in mind, namely to help build their own community into a better place in which to live and to help those who are in any way in need.

VARIETY OF PROJECTS

An example of this is shown by the following projects that are 'standard equipment' in all clubs, and such clubs: no. 5417, plus 3118. Key Clubs, which are the junior clubs made up of high school boys. These community projects include the following: The building of bus shelters for school children; locations and preliminary negotiations for the erection of Girl Guide facilities for such camps; erection of 'backstops' on school playgrounds.

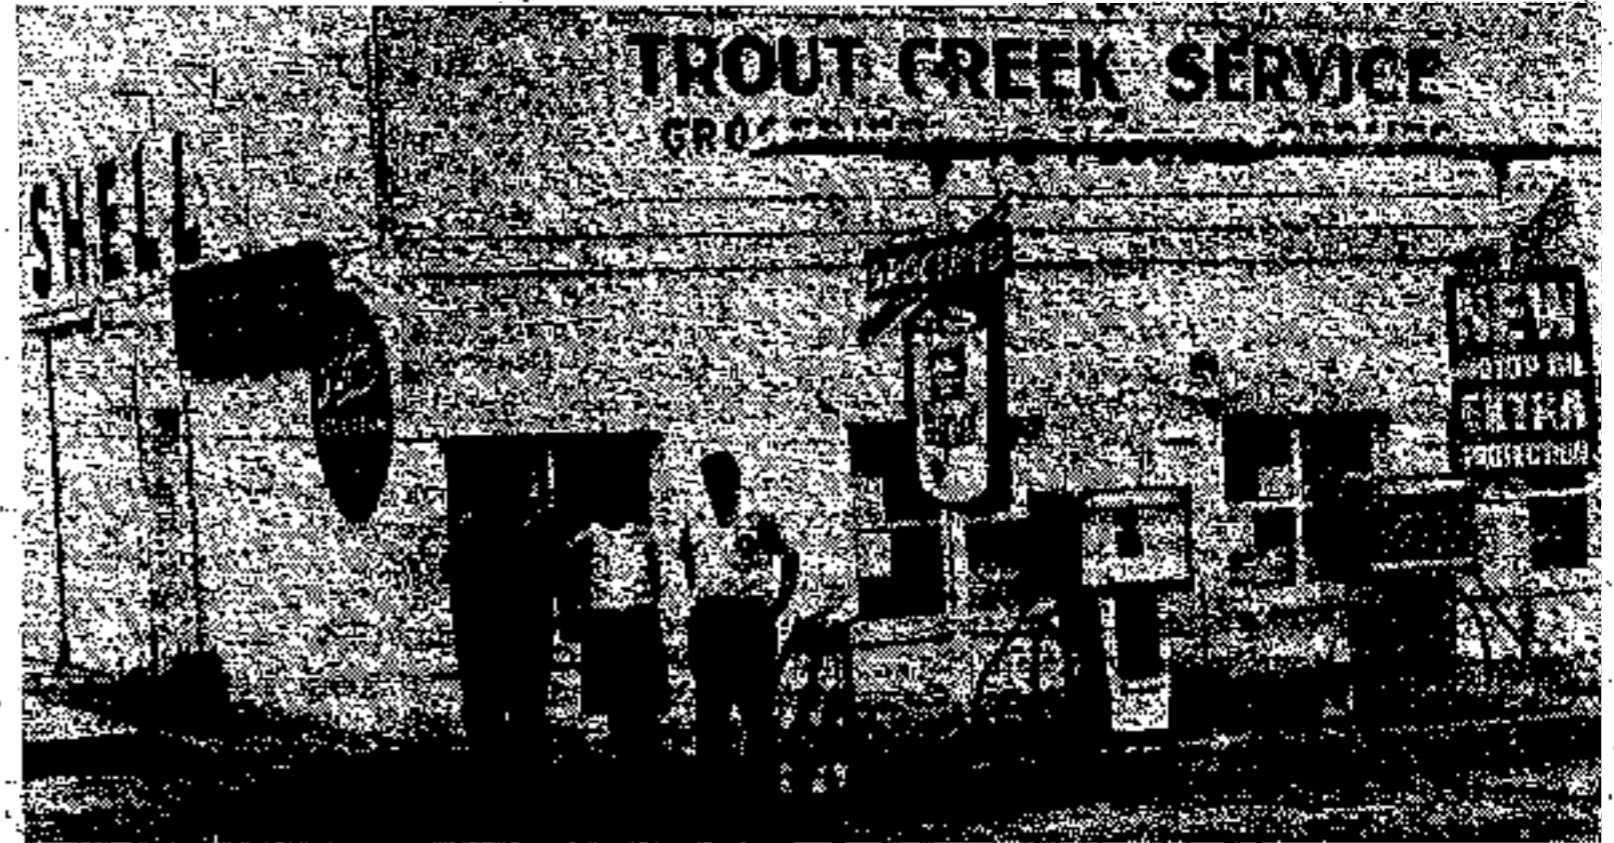

The foregoing have been 'pet projects' of the Summerland Kiwanis Club, (about which more will be said later), and in addition, the Summerland Club has worked long and hard in the 'Conquer Cancer' campaign each year; the publicity and management of the Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic annually; the building of a "band shell" in the local park; repairs to the youth centre as required at various times; erection and maintenance of a Lord's Day Observance sign on the main highway; and perhaps the most important of all—unobtrusive but substantial help to those in need.

Thus, the Summerland Kiwanis Club may well feel that its motto 'We Build' has been lived up to and has been a guiding star in the life of the club. Although our club is not, perhaps, old as years are counted, its performance since inception is one that should serve future members as a guide and a spur to better efforts that will make Summerland a better and more pleasant place in which to live than it now is, if such be possible.

18 YEARS OLD

The club was sponsored by the Penticton Club in June 1949, with president Bill Rathbun as the head of that club. The first president of our club was Fred Schumann, still an active member, with the Rev. Father Muelenbergh as secretary during the early years of the club's life. Two of the club's members have been honoured by being elected Divisional Lieutenant-Governors, ie. Jack Towgood and Douglas Campbell. In all, nineteen members have assumed the presidency of the club, fifteen of whom are still very active as club members, and the present incumbent being president, the Rev. Norman Danmar.

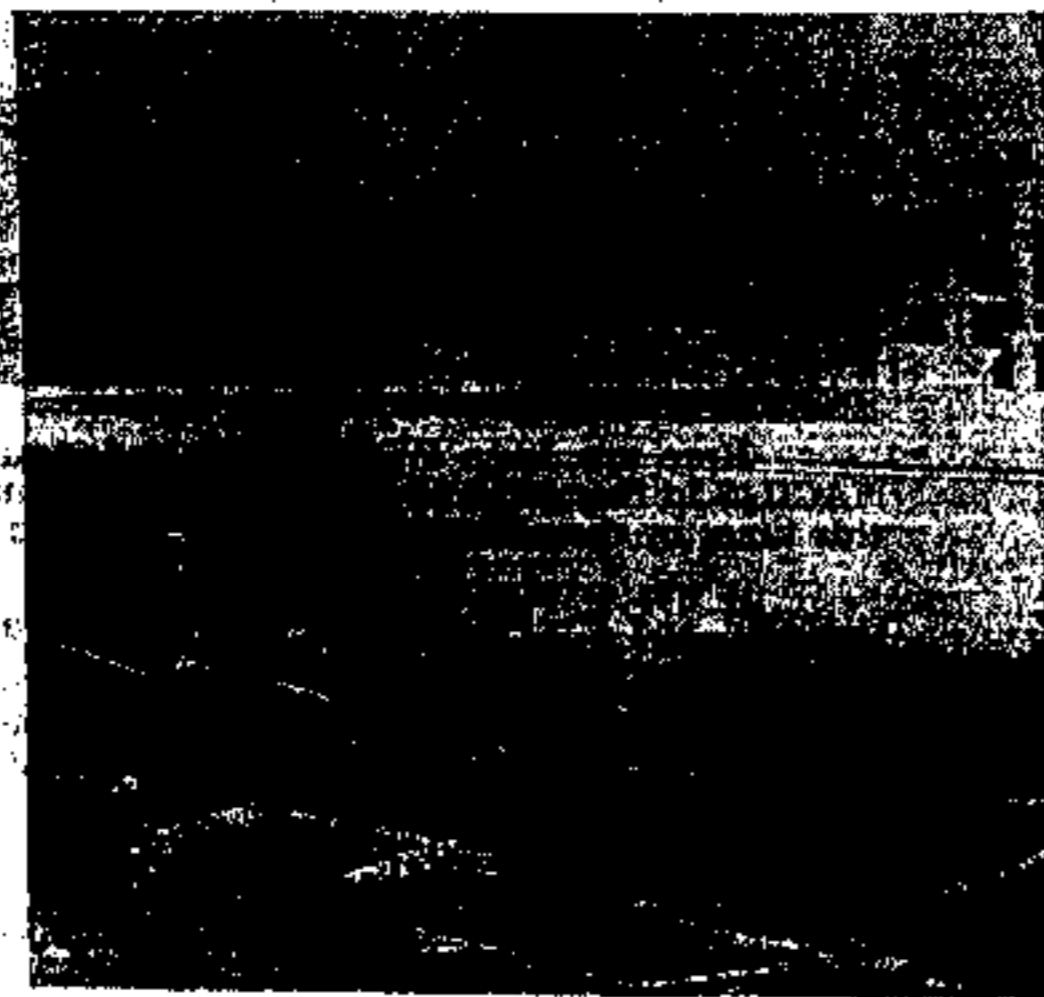

Here is mechanic John Stringer, left, and the owners of Trout Creek Shell; Alice Hall and husband Dick. The Halls purchased this business a year ago from Bill Crawford.

History of Scouting recalled

Summerland Review Bulletin A13
Thursday, June 29, 1967

Scouting has been active in Summerland almost since the movement started in 1908. The first Summerland Troop was formed in the fall of 1909 under the leadership of Messrs. John Tait and C. N. Borton with an enrollment of 30 boys. Meetings were held in the old Ellison Hall. The first camp was held at Trout Creek Point in 1910. So far as can be determined, the 1st Summerland Troop is the oldest "original" Troop in B. C. still functioning in 1957, when the centenary of the birth of the founder of Scouting, Lord Baden-Powell, was celebrated, the Troop was honored by a visit from John Tait, one of the two original Scoutmasters. (Mr. Tait died in 1960).

A number of the early members of the Summerland Troop include Mr. Gordon Blewett, Dr. W. H. B. Gunn, Mr. Clarence Adams, Dr. G. E. Logie and Dr. Jas. Marshall.

Scoutmasters from 1909 up to the present comprise the following names: C. N. Borton; Tait, O. F. Zimmerman, Capt. H. H. Creese, J. G. Truithers, E. B. Wilson, Dr. J. Harris, C. Cope, Rev. T. E. Harris, J. H. Clark, G. C. G. Lamont, W. R. Boyd, G. W. Blewett, D. M. Munn, G. M. Weiss, R. B. Towgood, Dr. D. Fisher and T. P. Decie.

The first Cub pack was started in 1921 under the leadership of Mr. C. E. (Mike) Clay, retired Superintendent of Schools now retired in Penticton and Mr. Bernard Taylor. The entire pack was taken to the P. N. E. in 1922.

The Cubs were started up again under Mr. Art Advocat in 1942 and have passed through the able leadership of among persons, Dr. J. I. Bowen, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. McCargar, Dr. J. M. McArthur, Mr. A. W. Moyle, Mr. C. J. McKenzie, Mr. G. E. Logie, J. B. Liebert, Mr. F. M. Trussell, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Sandback, Mrs. D. Ralston and Mrs. Roy Bertram.

The 1st Summerland Troop has always stressed camping activities and for the last 20 years has seldom missed a summer camp. Weekend camps and hikes. Winter camps have been held for the past ten years. For 3 out of the last 7 years, summer camps have been pack-in trips to the Cathedral Lake country. Cub camps at the Group-owned Faulder campsite and cabins are an annual event.

After having camped unofficially on the old Hallan (later Swain) property at Faulder, in 1957 a lease for part of the property was negotiated with the present owner I. Hofert Co. of Seattle. The scouts with the help of Mr. Ralph Smith, committee and leaders erected a 14' X 19' cabin, which was officially opened in 1959. The property has been extensively used by Troops and packs not only of Summerland but all units in the Okanagan South district.

In 1949 at the Canadian Jamboree the Troop set a record by sending 14 boys with 1st Class or Queen's Scout borse in Austria in 1951 the Troop was represented by Richard Lewis, one of 22 boys from Canada. At the World Jamboree held at Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ontario, the Troop was represented by Scouts Harold Oxley and Ted Hannah.

The First Summerland Group, with Mr. Norman Abernathy as Group Committee Chairman, is sponsored by Branch 22 Royal Canadian Legion. Present Scout leaders are T. P. Decie, Howard Wiens, and David Spading. Cub leaders are Mrs. D. Ralston, Mrs. Roy Bertram.

Fund raising activities include the annual Apple Day, and Christmas trees cut by the Troops and sold by a Vancouver Troop with proceeds shared.

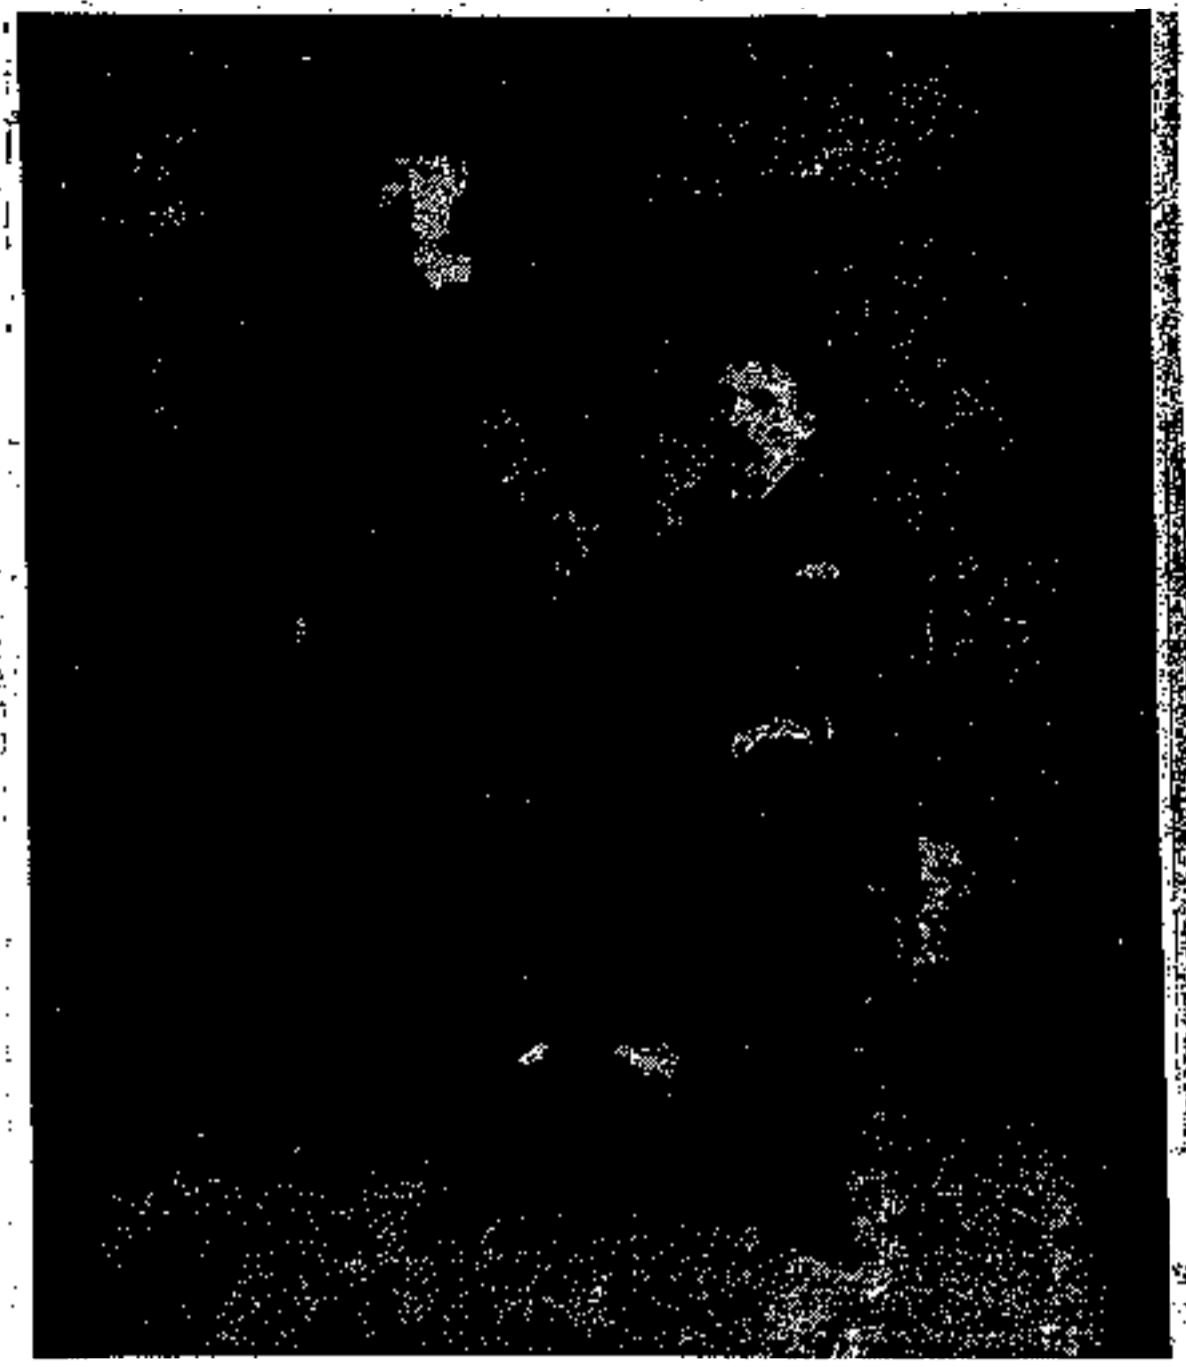

Since 1947, thirty-seven boys have earned Kings and Queens Badges.

The Cubs meet each Tuesday night at the Trout Creek Church of God and the Scouts each Monday at the old Sorec cabin on Trout Creek Point.

Present group chairman is Mr. W. Wagner.

In 1947 a 2nd Summerland Group with two packs of Cubs under the sponsorship of the United Church A. O. T. S. and the leadership of Rev. Whitmore and Walter Bleasdale. Two years later the 2nd Troop was formed under the leadership of Rev. H. R. Whitmore and Walter Charles. This group has been inactive for the last three years.

The Trout Creek Scout group was formed in 1958 under the sponsorship of Dr. J.

A PRESENTATION

The 1956 Reeve of Summerland Ted Atkinson is presenting Mayor Hume of Vancouver with what looks like a mustache cup which it would appear Ted could make use of but the Vancouver mayor, no. This was one of the many antics Summerland citizens went through when they celebrated their 50 years of being incorporated.

Giant beach party first Red Cross fund-raising event

By JEAN TOWGOOD
When no one can find the old minute books and one has to write a history of Red Cross in Summerland, the best thing to do is to talk to "Mrs. Red Cross" herself—Mrs. A. K. Elliott, and it turned into a "Do you remember?" session and I'll try to put it on paper. Until the books turn up we have few facts of the Red Cross of World War One, but, remembering our staunch pioneers we are sure they did more than their share, and did it most efficiently.

Instead, we'll start in 1939, when "someone" called together representatives from many organizations to form a provisional committee. As we remember it, Mr. Tom Croll was chairman, and Mr. Ned Bentley, Rev. Ashford, Rev. Has-kins, Mr. Sid Thomas, Mr. W. M. Wright, Mrs. A. K. Elliott, Mrs. R. C. Palmer, Miss Marion Cartwright, Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh, Mrs. R. Sutherland and myself were members. We met in the little library building on the school grounds. Remember?

At once we decided to make money and our first big effort was planning an all-day beach picnic at the Experimental Farm beach. What an effort—all Summerland turned out—spending money on coffee and ice cream cones, that, at the end of the day tired workers counted up around $500.

An annual meeting saw Mrs Sutherland elected president; Mrs. R. C. Palmer, treasurer and Miss M. Cartwright secretary. Later Mrs. Sutherland resigned, and Mrs. A. K. Elliott became our efficient president for many years.

In 1955 Mr. E. E. Bates was president, followed by Mrs. F. R. Stark and last by our present officer, Mrs. Rex Chapman. Mrs. Tom Croll succeeded Miss Cartwright as secretary, and treasurers have been Mrs. Florence Stark, Mrs. Clara Meadows, Mrs. Anna Wolfe and Mrs. J. D. Peddie. Our first honorary president was Dr. Andrew, followed by Dr. Vanderburg, and now, Mrs. Elliott; whom we are proud to honour in this way.

Red Cross is really a way of life. We did so many things that involved so many people working fantastically hard.

Could it have been so much fun... or is it nostalgia? Even in peacetime, today, our community is really involved... Rotarians in the campaign, and in the complete management of swimming classes for water safety; Kiwanis, in organizing the Blood Donor panels; the Work Room ladies whose totals of articles sewn or knitted yearly is in the thousands; the Loan Cupboard, with its wheelchairs, etc.; the Junior Red Cross; and other projects such as disaster aid (fires, flood.)

In the war years, Mrs. Elliott remembered the many bales of material received, and re-shipped as finished work.

Smith and Henry always donated the hauling to and from the station. Then Mr. Brewer who collected all the cords, untied and retied them, making balls of cord for fastening cartons and bales.

Do you remember Bundles for Britain? ... started by the Red Cross branch, later handled separately by Mrs. J. E. O'Mahoney, clothing for bombed-out victims? The Red Cross Thrift Shop where Mrs. Collas, Mrs. Croll and Mrs. B. Gillis and others worked so hard? The nurses working at the Unit of Surgical Dressing—Mrs. S. W. Feltham and others? The Street Carnivals annually organized by Mrs. Elliott and Mr. J. Y. Towgood?

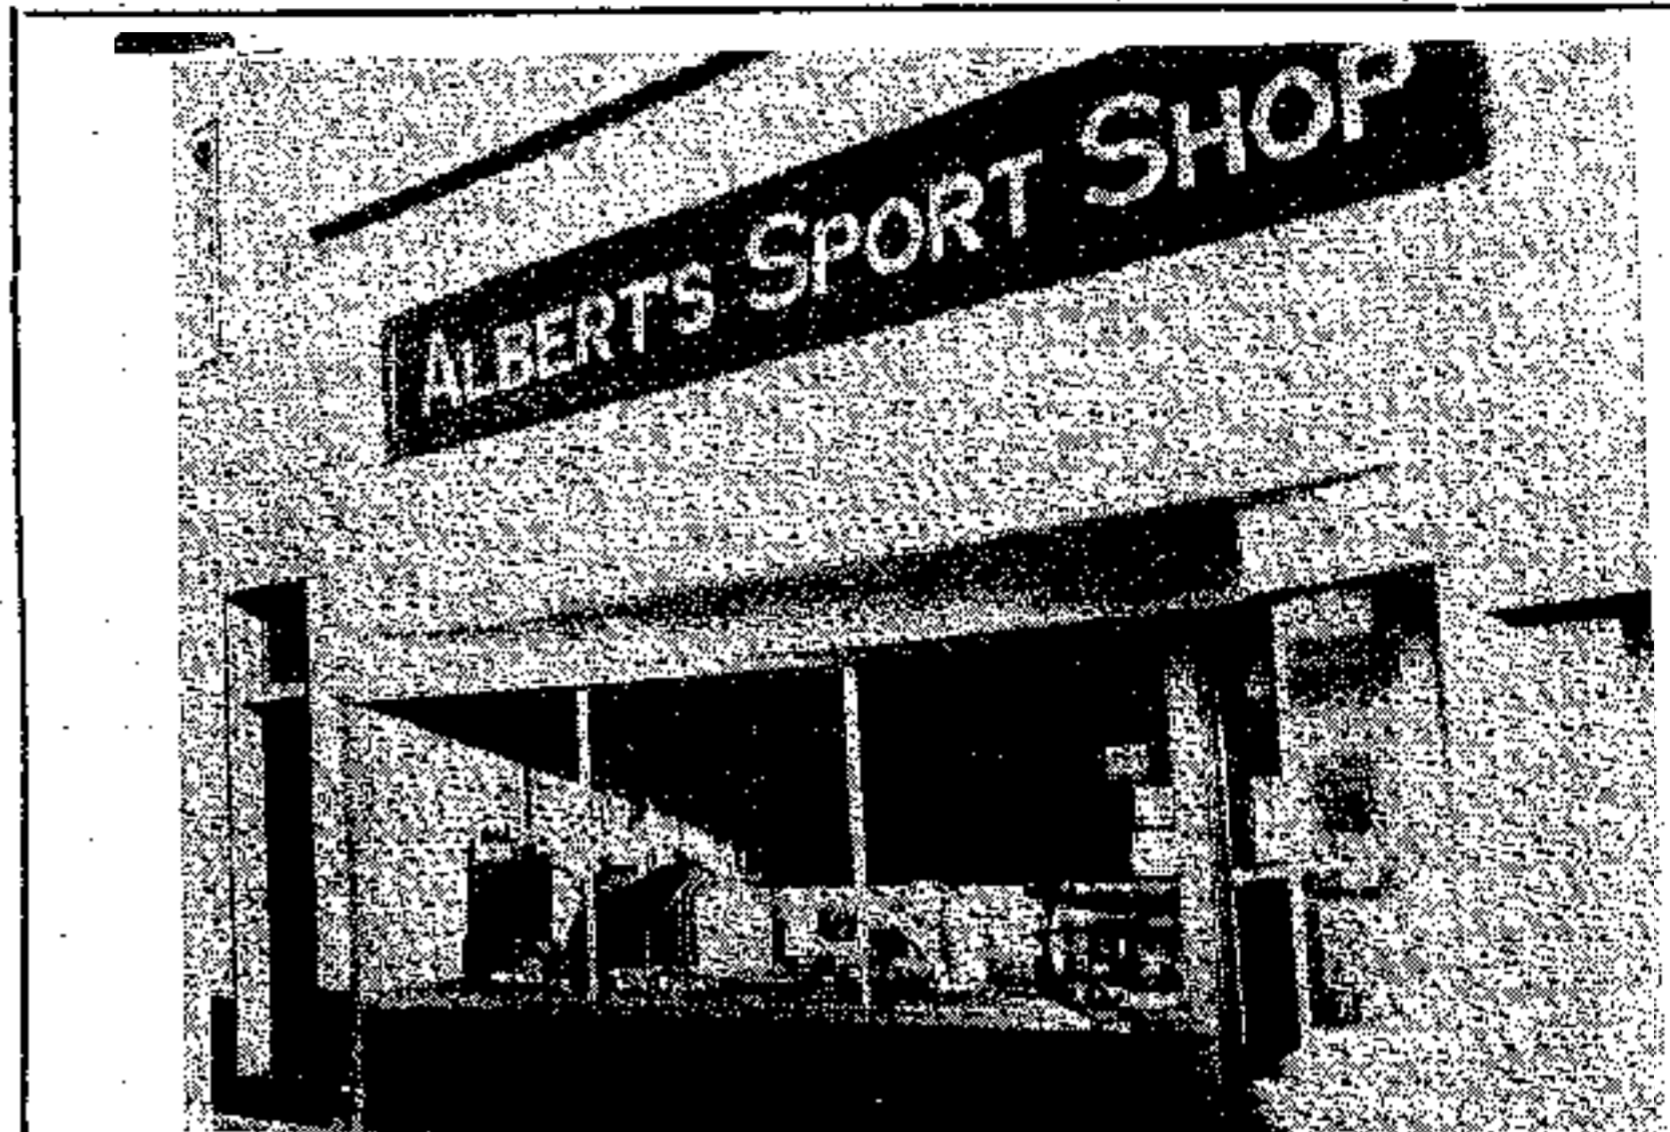

The billeting of RAF boys who gave their leave to pick fruit in Summerland? The money we made from the sale of Dr. Andrew's two books—"The History of Summerland" and "Clinker"...

Present officers of the Summerland branch of the Canadian Red Cross are: Mrs. A. K. Elliott, honorary president;

Mr. J. Y. Towgood, honorary vice-president; Mrs. Rex Chapman, president; Mrs. Percy Taylor, vice-president; Mrs. J. D. Peddie, treasurer; Mrs. J. Y. Towgood, secretary; Mrs. Percy Taylor, work room chairman; Mr. Les Rumball, campaign chairman; Mr John Tam-blyn, blood donor clinic chairman.

It would take too long to name the knitters, the sewers, and the quilters — some of whom are still hard at work, after many years. Their satisfaction is in work well done, and in helping the needy of the world. The helpers in the swimming classes have their reward in the achievement of trained children; and workers in the Blood Donor panel may think of lives saved thereby: so it goes—Red Cross is a way of life, and of saving lives.

Anglican Church, landmark with fascinating history

Summerland's St. Stephen's Anglican Church is a beautiful stone edifice set in beautiful surroundings. Its beginnings go back more than 70 years. It is older than incorporation of the municipality with many of the furnishings coming from England and are part of our British Heritage.

In 1898, St. Peter's Trout Creek, as Summerland was then known, was located at the site of the present church cemetery on Giant's Head Road.

George Barclay and James Gartrell were very instrumental in getting the new church.

The first meeting took place at the home of Mr. James Gartrell, December 16, 1898, for the purpose of appointing a building committee. Present were: Rev. Thomas Greene, chairman, G. N. Barclay, James Gartrell, R. M. H. Turner, Harry Dunsdon, George Gartrell, W. C. W. Forsberry, A. B. Lawrence, J. Douglas, James Gartrell, H. Dunsdon and R. M. H. Turner were appointed building committee.

The sum of $460 was collected by friends in the Old Country. Mr. Barclay gave half an acre of land for the church site and the burying ground.

The first annual church meeting was held May 12, 1900. Mr. Barclay, Mr. Fosbery were made church wardens with James Gartrell and I. Kendall, sidesmen.

The church burying ground was consecrated by Bishop Darton July 14, 1901.

The first rector of Summerland, Rev. H. A. Solly arrived in 1907.

Almost immediately steps were taken to obtain a new site for the church that would be more central. The rectory foundation stone of the church was laid October 3, 1909, by the late Ven. Archdeacon Beer assisted by Rev. Thomas Green, rural dean. In the evening a copy of the Summerland Review, a brief history of the church compiled by Mr. Solly and some coins of the realm. The first service was held Easter Day, March 27, 1910.

The early St. Peter's church was burned down during a high wind May 5, 1917.

Gerald Parker was rector's warden when St. Stephen's was being built. His mother in England donated the altar ornaments and his aunt Lady Maccllesfield, who was then 85, worked the sanctuary kneelers and it was used till recently.

In later years the Girl's and Junior Auxillaries gave the lectern Bible, desk prayer book and font lever. The church Boy's League made the litany fold stool and the hymn card rack. The Senior W. A. had a stone wall built around the church and gardens.

Through the efforts of W. A. a Parish hall was built at a cost of $585 in 1915 and maintained by them. The first meeting was held in it April 7, 1915. This was replaced by a new hall dedicated by the late Rt. Rev. Phillip Beattie, Bishop of Kootenay in January 1956. The parish comprised and still does St. Margaret's, Peachland and St. George's, Westbank.

He had been succeeded by the late Rev. H. Pearson, the late Rev. L. T. Tatham, the late Canon F. V. Harrison who with Mrs. Harrison made the Memorial Garden, Rev. A. T. Northrup and the present rector, Rev. Norman Tannar.

The Memorial Garden lawn is cruciform, has a lych gate and an unadorned wooden cross. At the foot of the lawn is a stone bearing the names of the young men of St. Stephen's paying the supreme sacrifice in the Second World War.

Flower plantings are symbolic and many people visit the spot during the year as well as other parts of the garden.

The church continues to grow and in 1966 a vestry sacristy was added to the south-east side of the church.

This was followed by renovation to the chancel the same year. The former small vestry and sacristy were removed giving the whole interior a more spacious atmosphere and added light. New carpeting, oak panelling and communion rail as well as an oak pulpit, altar and organ screen gave attractive finish to the renovations. W. G. Ferry designed the changes. W. W. Barton, made the pulpit, altar and organ screen. All work was done by men of the parish led by rector Rev. Norman Tannar.

There is discussion towards St. Stephens becoming a separate entity with the Peachland and Westbank congregations possibly included in the Kelowna parish, recent mining activity near Peachland could increase the congregation in that centre. Rapid population increases at Westbank are reflected already in St. George's membership.

Rectors have been: Rev. Greene, Kelowna, Rev. St. John Mildway, Pentton, Rev. H. A. Solly, Rev. H. Pearson, Rev. L. J. Totham, Rev. H. V. Harrison, Rev. Northrop, Rev. N. Tannar.

Organists: Mrs. G. Morgan (Nee Brown), Miss Melsom (later Mrs. Wade), Mrs. H. A. Solly, Mr. Morton, Mr. Williams, Mr. Powell-Jones, Mr. Cope, Mrs. I. C. Adams, Mr. Harris, Mr. Hammerick, Mr. Charles Clark, Mrs. Stephen, Oliver, Mr. H. J. Lupton, Mrs. G. F. S. Goddard.

The first confirmation took place at St. Stephen's August 20, 1911.

A few remembrances by Mrs. Hugh Gallagher, recorded by Mrs. Hubert.

Early in December we (Miss Melsom, Mr. Featherstonebaugh, Mr. Bails, Mr. Gordy and others) staged the first bazaar held in Summerland, in the Empire Hall. It was a great success, as people from as far away as Peachland, and even the Lumber Mill at Meadow Valley closed so that all the men could come.

"There was a bran pie with presents in it. Mr. James Gartrell used to make cider and he gave a 5-gallon keg of it which should have been sent to the bazaar a week ahead, but he brought it at the last minute and it was muddy from the shaking. Mr. Osler, a brother of Sir William, had one son, and very fond of children. He was handing out 10-cent pieces to each of the children till Mrs. Osler thought he had gone too far and stopped him.

"Until four years ago I had a desk which I bought at the bazaar. The bazaar wound up with an auction sale of unsold things. If I remember rightly, we had the donation of a young piglet and a goose, also a five-gallon keg of sweet cider which no-one wanted to buy in such a large quantity. Miss Melsom had the bright idea of selling it by the glass—a glass of cider and a piece of Christmas Cake for 10 cents. I think I can say everyone went home quite happy and content, the little band of workers more than happy for the wonderful success of their first venture and the substantial sum of money (approx. $300) they had made for improvements on the church of St. Peter.

"St. Peter's Guild was organized by Mrs. Solly about 1907, and a few ladies would meet at one another's homes for meetings. Later the Guild met in a tent erected in the rectory garden. They arranged the first good suppers of beef roasts, loins of pork and other joints, vegetables, pies and so on. These suppers were looked forward to by the parishioners.

The wedding June 1, 1904, of Mr. Harry Dunsdon and Miss Annie Beatrice Stevens was the first marriage in St. Peter's Church. Their first child Dorothy (now Mrs. Geo. Forster) was the first baby girl born in the community, and there followed six sons: Ted, Art, Fred, Jack, George and Phil, who are all still citizens of Summerland.

The first Sunday School was held in the rectory and was taught by Mrs. Solly.

In 1922 the mortgage was paid off with the assistance of an old member, and the church was consecrated by the Rt. Rev. Doull, Bishop of Kootenay. The stonework was laid by Mr. Robertson assisted by Italians, from rounded stones of varied hues cemented together which had been gathered from its own site. The carpenters were Nelson and sons, William, Albert and Thomas who used lumber from the site. The electric wiring was done by Percy Thornber.

"Miss Marion Cartwright and the girls of the Junior Guild darned socks and did mending for bachelors to raise funds to purchase the lectern, and were assisted by donations.

"St. Agnes' Children's Guild and Sunday School met in the rectory until the tent built in the garden, and raised funds for the Font. The first "Christmas Tree" Mrs. Solly had in her drawing room.

"The frontal for the altar was donated from the old country, but the charge for duty was so high that it was at first thought that it could not be paid. However, many friends came to the rescue.

"In October 1912 the Women's Auxillary was started, after holding meetings as St. Peter's Guild every other Wednesday in the rectory tent. Miss Cartwright was treasurer from 1913 until she died in 1961. Mrs. Fred Nixon (Mrs. Alex Watt's Mother) was the first secretary, Mrs. Clouston the first President and Mrs. Hespeler vice-president.

"In January 1915 the W. A. discussed plans for a "Parish House". Membership fee for the Women's Auxillary was $3 per year, and anyone missing a meeting was expected to pay a fine of 10 cents.

"St. Peter's Church was burned down as the result of a grass fire. Mr. Solly was greatly disturbed because the insurance had just lapsed, but when he went home from the fire, he found a letter in his mail, from the insurance agent, saying that he knew how busy Mr.

Solly was and that he would wish to have the insurance renewed, so he had done so, and would Mr. Solly please send his cheque. This Mr. Solly did, and informed him at the same time that the church had been burned down! The insurance company paid up without protest of any kind.

A Centennial Wish

By Rev. Norman Tannar

A part of one of the prayers in the "Canadian Centennial Anthology of Prayer", a book specially prepared for this year, meditates:

"Let us be glad that we can deepen our understanding of the work God calls us to do in the world, leading men in the paths of peace, feeding the hungry, caring for the sick, doing works of mercy and compassion, changing the patterns of our society so that our neighbourhoods may become brotherhoods."

"Let us be glad." Is this not the way we should approach our duty and obligation as citizens of Canada and the world. When we have reached a favoured and privileged position, should we not be thankful for what we have and have accomplished and think on those things still to be done.

Think what Canada and the world could be like in our second century if we expended as much time, effort, energy and money in developing our human resources, as we have expended in developing our natural resources in the century passed.

"The work God calls us to do in the world" is still waiting to be done. Let us be glad to do it. May this be our wish on our Centennial Birthday.

Kinette Club 7 years old

By Ev. Pollock

On January 14, 1960, the Summerland Kinette Club was organized. Election of officers took place with Kinsmen president Bill Pollock in charge.

Elected for president, was Ev. Pollock; secretary, Marge Kuroda; treasurer, Mildred Stein.

The Kinette Club is an auxiliary to the Kinsmen, and our aims and means are not to make a lot of money, but to assist our Kinsmen in every way possible. We have served coffee on work parties, made costumes for conventions, and now assist with a bursary of $200. Most important is the annual Mothers March which has been well supported in Summerland.

Our money has been made over the years by raffles, bake sales at the Summerland Fall Fair, pie sales at the packing-houses, candy canes for Christmas box socials, hard-times dance and rummage sale.

The Summerland Kinette Club was chartered on March 15, 1960. We have three chartered members left in the club: Shirley Green, Mildred Stein, and Ev. Pollock. Our present membership stands at 20 Kinettes and we do hope that some of our families will be around to read this 100 years from now. We meet in the Health Centre, once a month. Below is a list of all the Kinettes since the time of the charter. Everyone has been a willing worker.

Marge Kuroda, Daphne Impett, Jean Harrison, Mildred Stein, Lorna Raincock, Shirley Green, Cecca Hamilton, Ev. Pollock, Rose Chomat, Marilyn Towgood, Elsie Arndt, Mary Andrew, Doris Vailin, Florence Hiver, Nell Day, Marion Widd, Bertha Murphy, Judy Puddy, Shirley Wolfe, Betty Newton, Eleanor Solly, Ruth Anderson, Barb Grant, Ann Austin, Linda Bleasdale, Jo-Ann Toevs, Pauline Gale, Nonie Smallshaw, Gisela Rusaw, Betty Creighton, Bety Gurnett Lil Smith, Joan Flebbe, Ev. Spelsberg, Elaine Krause, Marg Payment, Louise Pyle, Lori Dingwall.

From all of us we wish the Municipality of Summerland all the best in Canada's Centennial Year, 1967, and all the years to follow.

Summerland's Cottage Hospital is not on scene now

By MARY GARTRELL ORR
The house that was used as Summerland's Cottage Hospital from 1907 to 1914 is no more.

Its picturesque architecture of 1905 has disappeared from the landscape of the old Gulch Road, now Butler St., in this Centennial year 1967.

If it had voice it could have told so much of the struggles, the victories, the lives of the people who were housed in it during its many useful years by the ever-flowing brook.

It was built by the Fenner family as a residence, taken over as a hospital for seven years for patients of Dr. Chas. Smith and Dr. J. P. McIntyre, and then Dr. F.W. Andrew who came in 1903. Thanks to Dr.

Munn some of those hospital days have been recorded. People live here still who were treated there and many local citizens were born there. Others remember the various matrons and nurses.

After its closing in 1914, the property was owned by various people, rented to others, and came into the hands of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Orr as a wedding gift in 1939. For many years it was privileged to house boarders—CNR, CPR, Trout Hatchery employees, and student co-workers of the late Dr. Edgar Black, UBC faculty.

During its demolition Mr. Orr found several old items of household use, also a Calgary newspaper dated 1905, and a message written on the siding, dated April 1, 1904 which read: "This hall cottoned out by H. Culling Bungay, Suffolk, England."

On stopping to pause one is filled with nostalgia at this house's passing. And old house has character and leaves many memories.

First bride here heaved overboard

By WALTER WRIGHT

Even if Summerland's first bride-to-be was heaved overboard it was not as rough an action as it sounds. It is always a matter of interest in most communities to learn the story of the first wedding and Summerland's first wedding was rather unique at that.

Imagine it, the captain of the steamer handed the bride-to-be over the side of the little stern-wheeler to the man below who had waded out to stand in Okanagan Lake by the boat's side. Had he slipped, what a ducking she'd have had? But Jas. Gartrell, who came to Trout Creek Point in 1884 was a sure-footed pioneer and carried her safely to land, amid the jolly hooting of the boat's horn and cheers of those aboard.

Well Annie Stevens of Harrow on the Hill, England, had come all the way overseas to Vernon at the invitation of her fiance Harry Dunsdon. He left Summerland a few days before to meet her at Vernon, the end of the C.P.R. branch line and they came to Trout Creek Point, not yet known as Summerland. The captain of the C.P.R.'s little steamer, ran the boat onto the shore north side of Trout Creek Point, handed the bride-to-be over the boat side into Mr. Gartrell's arms, then Harry climbed over the boat side and the three waded ashore.

They spent the night as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gartrell and next day the two were married in the little frame church on the Giant's Head Road.

Right out of the city of London to start home in the middle of nowhere in a land of Indians, as she thought, neighbours miles away was quite a frightening experience. Some years later that wee church burned as the parson was busy at spring time clean-up. The two made their home in Garnet Valley, raised seven children, who became worthy citizens of Summerland, building a good name for themselves.

Harry's brother James came to Summerland at the same time as Harry and married later, had a family of five beside Harry where the two families grew and took part in the development of Summerland's history where Dunsdon is quite a familiar name and an honored one here.

A 1957 Rotary fund raising project to make fruit candy, spearheaded by Ted Atkinson, has become a major industry in Summerland. In addition to the candy, they ship truckloads of fruit syrups and other allied products all over B. C. and the major centres in Alberta and Saskatchewan.

The company, with F. E. Ted Atkinson now the President is also doing some export business. Peter Beulah is the treasurer of the firm. Dot Crawford has been with Summerland Sweets in various supervisory capacities since they went into production on a commercial basis in 1959. Lionel Fudge was also a participant in the early days of the business.

Summerland Singers' and Players' Club and its predecessors

Summerland Review Bulletin B3
Thursday, June 29, 1967

Summerland has long been a town inclined towards drama and music. As early as 1909 and 1910 the Okanagan College Glee Club put on concerts here, and also travelled by boat to other towns in the Valley. In 1910 Mr. Wm Sauter and Miss Evelyn Higgin (now Mrs. Hookham) performed in "David Garrick." Mr. Sauter had been a professional actor in London, England, and had performed in the original performances of some of the plays by G. B. Shaw. In 1921 he produced the play "Cousin Kate" and the cast included Miss Marion Cartwright and Master Ted Logie. Both Mrs. Hookham and Miss Cartwright continued to be connected with drama and music in Summerland until 1960.

In 1913 a performance of Gilbert and Sullivan's opera "Mikado" was directed by Mr. Stanley and the cast included Mrs. Downton and Mark Manchester. The cast also included three Brown sisters (sisters of Mrs. G. Morgan) and several members of the Stewart family.

During the First World War years Mr. Sauter produced performances by "The Pierrots & Pierettes", a group of Summerland ladies who raised money for the war effort.

In 1924 the Operatic Society started to present a series of Gilbert & Sullivan operas. One each spring until 1931. Early performances were done in the old Empire Hall, on the lake. This hall burned down and in 1928 the new Ellison Hall in Peach Orchard Park was used. This hall continued to be used until 1950, when the production moved to the High School Auditorium. Much of the lighting for earlier performances was done by Mr. Percy Thornber who for many years was the Municipality's chief electrician.

The printed programmes of the early 1920's included the request that "ladies please remove their hats!" The Operatic Society travelled to Penticton and to Kelowna to put on performances over dirt roads. Mrs. Wm. Atkinson, one of the members of the cast, remembers the crossings to Kelowna. The ferry was a scow with a rope around the edge to keep the passengers from falling off and there were no lights.

Stage directors of these earlier G. & S. operas were Mr. Geo. Benmore, Mr. Vere Webb and Mr. H. Daniel. Music directors were Mr. G. Cope, Mr. F. Mossop, Mr. H. Daniel and Mr. H. K. Whimster. Mr. S. B. Sneider grandfather of Mrs. L. Fudge, was an orchestra leader and Mrs. F. Mossop and Miss Ruth Dale were pianists. Many of those taking part had already had some musical or stage training before coming to Summerland from Britain.

Besides the Operatic Society there was a Choral Society which did straight choral singing.

Sometime between 1931 and 1938 the various groups joined forces as the Summerland Singers' and Players' club. During the Second World War the group carried on and had successful concerts combining plays and singing. Proceeds went to the Red Cross.

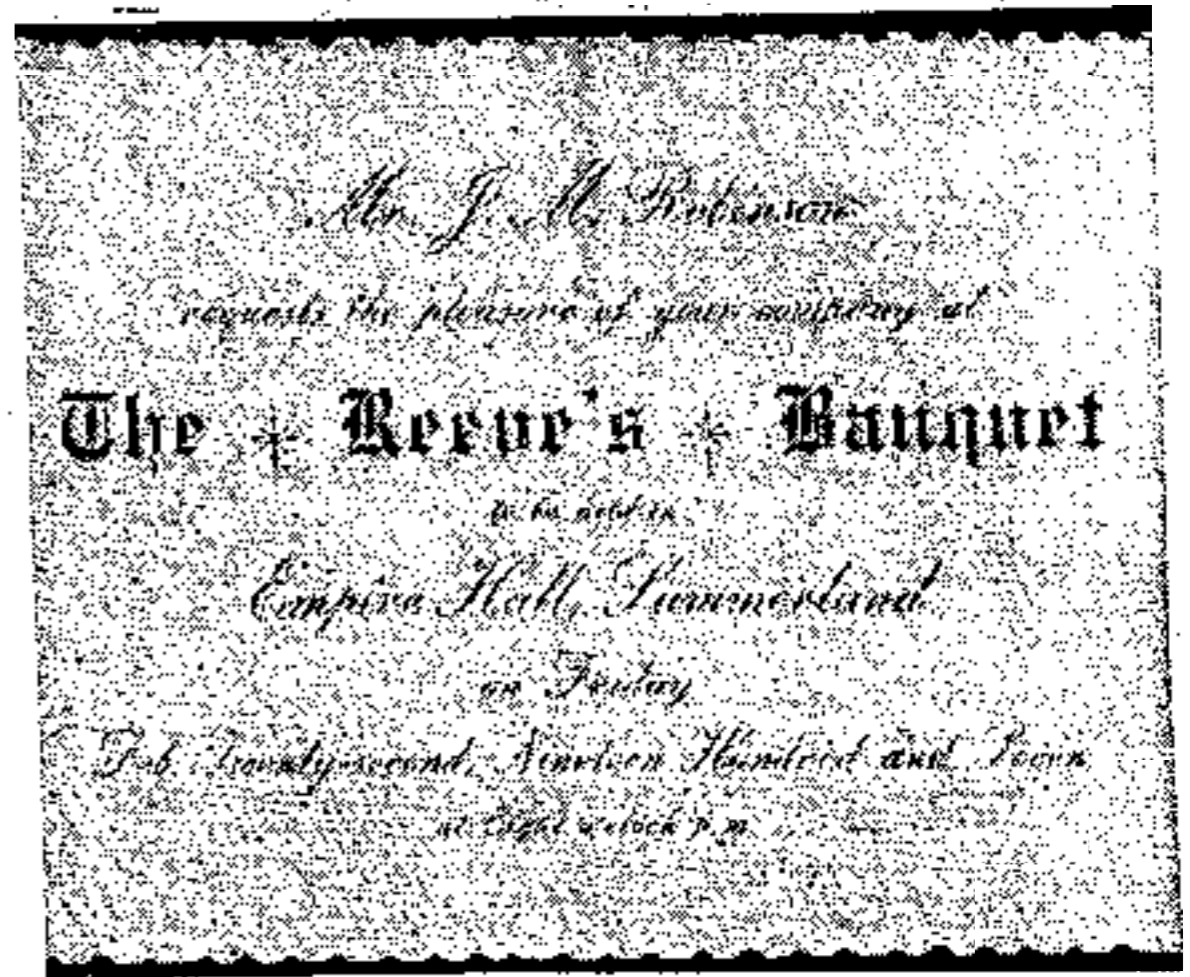

In 1944 the concert was titled "Indian Wedding Festival" and the programme was made up of tableaux, legends, dances solo songs. Music director at this time was Mr. Cyril Mossop one of the earlier directors. When he left Mr. W. A. (Bud) Stewart took over and continued in the capacity until 1955.

After the war the players had many successes including "Charlie's Aunt", "I Remember Mama", "Here Comes Mr. Jordan", "Mr. Pym Passes", and "The Chiltern Hundreds".

Starting in 1948 the Gilbert & Sullivan operas were again revived. Altogether the S. & P. presented 11 different operas, with stage direction by Mrs. A. K. Macleod, and 13 more followed, directed by Mr. Stan Gladwell. Mrs. Delmar Dunham was accompanist for all but two and Bud Stewart conducted eight, (the others had a different conductor for each one). Orchestra members were from both Summerland and Penticton. Mr. Gladwell painted most of the scenery for the operas and some of the plays. Some of the names appearing in the programmes of the 1920 series of G. & S. also appeared in the later series—Ben Newton, Harry Howis, Delmar Dunham Jack Barkwill W. Boothe Mrs. Hookham and Alma (Lott) Fudge. The Singers and Players also travelled to Kelowna, Penticton and Oliver. Transportation by that time had much improved. The ferry trips back from Kelowna were always enjoyed because the cast would gather on deck and sing all the way across.

Since 1960 the Singers part of the Club has been dormant but the Players have carried on sporadically. With the interest shown in the centennial year the club again was active with a joint concert by singers and players. Mr. Bud Stewart is conducting a choir and the players have some able directors in Mrs. Gwen O'Leary and Mr. Alan Butler. It is hoped that the activity will continue.

FIRST INVITATION

This is possibly the first municipal banquet held in Summerland. In those days it was apparently called the Reeve's banquet. (Miss Bristow submitted the original invitation.)

Jack Dunsdon has been with the Rumball organization since 1947 and is at present manager of the Farm and Garden Supply

Brief History

The Farm and Garden Supply, owned by Mr. Les Rumball was started by his father, Lawrence W. Rumball in the twenties when it was a grocery store until July, 1959.

There was also a branch store in Hedley from 1937 to 1938.

Les took over and changed it into a farm supply store. He also had the Super-Valu store at that time.

Sincere Centennial

CONGRATULATIONS . . .

WE JOIN WITH THE WHOLE NATION IN REJOICING ABOUT THE FINE COUNTRY IN WHICH WE LIVE. ALL OF US AT SUPER-VALU WISH HAPPINESS, PROSPERITY AND CONTENTMENT IN THE YEARS AHEAD AS WE ENTER THE SECOND CENTURY SINCE CONFEDERATION

The Super-Valu store is owned by Les Rumball and Managed by Art Dunsdan, who has been with the Rumball family since 1932.

The Rumballs came to Summerland in 1920, first to go into the fruit packing-house business when Lawrence went into partnership with O. J. Hanna. This went on for four or five years until Mr. Rumball took over a feed business, then a grocery store where Farm & Garden Supply now is; this was in 1928.

Les started to work with his father in 1937, but was away for a few years serving in the armed forces but returned to go back into the store.

He then decided Summerland needed a super market so he built the present building in 1954.

Many hands make work much lighter for Centennial group

The work done by the Summerland Centennial Committee under the chairmanship of Dr. Jim Marshall has been vast and varied, but he would be the first to admit it would have been impossible had it not been for the co-operation of many Summerland organizations. Although they are not listed here, Marshall has nothing but praise for the co-operation received from the Municipal Council and the members of the municipal crew under the direction of Works Superintendent Ken Blagborne. Here is a list of the many organizations who made contributions.

Kiwanis: Picnic tables for Giant's Head Park;

Rotary: Signs for points of interest at Summit of Giant's Head. Construction of main trail from parksite to summit of Giant's Head. Construction of benches at look-out points on Trail;

Women's Institute: Cash contribution for park gates;

Horticultural Society: Seeding of road embankments; labelling trees and shrubs on summit of Giant's Head; planting of 200 experimental trees;

Canadian Legion: Erection of flagpole on summit of G. H. Summerland and Pentleton Teen Towns; Cutting two foot-paths to G. H. Mountain.

B.C. Dept. of Forestry: Trees for experimental planting at parksite;

United Church Women: Cooking centennial birthday cake (150);

Ladies of the Royal Purple (Elk's Auxiliary): Cutting Centennial cake and wrapping 3000 portions;

Royalty Committee: Selection of Pioneer Queen and participation Summerland "Royalty" Entertainment at Ceremony for presentation of pioneer medallion, May 13th. Organization of school museum and performances during "Museum evenings."

Japanese Canadian Community: Purchase and erection of a hand carved Japanese Torii (traditional lantern) in grounds of new hospital to commemorate 100 years of Confederation.

Kiwanis: Lunch for drivers and guests, Vintage Car run, Organization of July 1 parade. (See also work on Giant's Head Park);

High School: Suggestions for contents of 100 year time capsule in Summit Cairn. Construction of Centennial stage backdrop; Arrangements for ice-cream for children July 1.

Elk's: Organization and operation of July barbecue.

United Church Women: Organization and operation of July 1 dessert booth; (see also Centennial birthday cake);

Trail Riders: Organization of welcome for Centennial Stage Coach Sunday, June 11th.

Chamber of Commerce: In charge of traffic control on July 1st.

Scandinavian Club: Sun dial on Giant's Head Summit.

Elementary School Choir: in July 1st parade and in dedication ceremony at summit of Giant's Head Mountain. Ministerial Association: Organization and direction of centennial religious service in Memorial Park on June 25th.

Singers and Players Club: Staging of centennial concert, April 28-29. Performances by Centennial choir at religious service June 25, and at park dedication ceremony July 1st.

Camera club: Photography and arrangements for Centennial Historical evening June 16, 17.

Summerland Eastern Star had thirty-six charter members

The Order of Eastern Star No. 63 was begun in Summerland March 28th, 1946 when Brother A. C. Carter, Worthy Grand Patron came from Vernon to institute the Chapter. He was assisted by Sister Grace Shane, Worthy Grand Matron of Vancouver, acting as Conductress. Sister May Ward was installed as Worthy Matron and Brother T. Bedford as Worthy Patron.

The following year, April 22, 1947 the O.E.S. was constituted at a meeting in the I.O.O.F. Hall with Bro. A. C. Carter again officiating and Sister Audrey Marr, W.G.M. assisting with Sister May Ward as Worthy Matron and Brother Earl Wilson as Worthy Patron, and 36 Charter members.

These members were: Flora Bergstrom, Ina Atkinson, Marian Baker, Laura Bleasdale, Anna Borton, Margaret Brown, Frankie Burnell, Dorothy Butler Furness, Gertrude Butler, Audrey Clark, Mildred Clark, Adele Cousins, Dorothy Forster, Harry Dunsdon, Kay Dunsdon, Annie Dunsdon, Violet Elliott, Elizabeth Elisey, Velma Feltham, Marjorie Fanchon, Marguerite Hornby, Mina Laidlaw, Dorothy MacDonald Fisher, Liola Mitchell, Florence Stark, Isabel Green, Earle Wilson, Margaret Wilson, Olive Wilson, Ruth Wilson, Ada Bedford, Fred Bedford, Nettie Stent, Helen Munn, William Ward, May Ward.

A new wing had just been added to the Summerland Hospital, and one of the first acts of the young charter was a donation of $100 to this.

They raise money for their many charitable causes. The first tea and bake sale was held in I.O.O.F. Hall in October 1947 and has been an annual event since.

The first of many annual dances was held January 30th, 1948 when members in a few hundreds of paper blossoms to transform old Ellison Hall into a fairyland. These dances were a great success for several years and members worked hard for weeks in advance, and each year a surprise theme was worked out, often helped by the local art club. A Summerland Golden Jubilee Gay Nino-ties night was really gay and lots of fun.

All money thus earned was used to buy supplies for the cancer dressing station held every Wednesday under the faithful direction of Mrs. Laura (Charles) Bleasdale and Mrs. Velma (Sid) Feltham. Dressings were made by members, and freely given to any cancer sufferers who needed help. These dressings are also sent to the central cancer depot in Vancouver.

Sister Grace Shane of Vancouver helped to set up a committee to distribute the dressings free all over the province of B.C. and funds for cancer research have been provided by Eastern Star for a number of years. Eastern Star has reason to be proud of this work as they have been a leader in this field and enquiries have come from other provinces and parts of the U.S. for information to set up similar units.

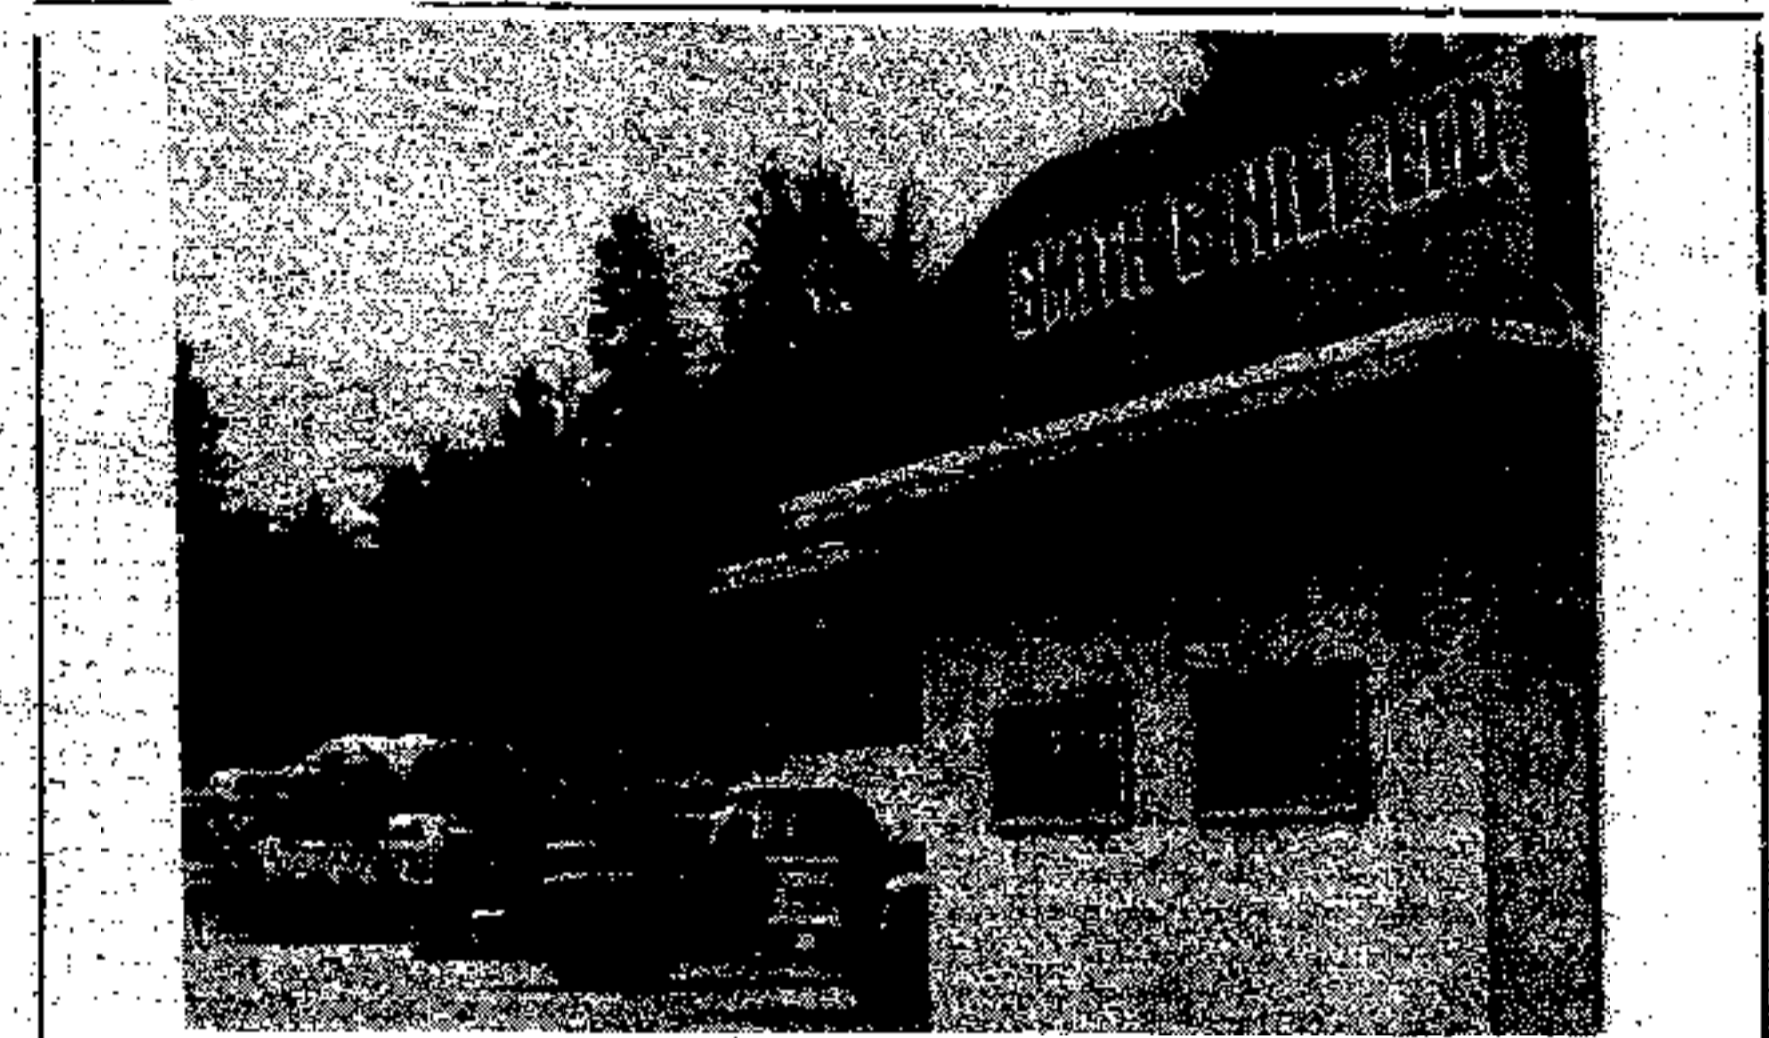

In 1947 the Eastern Star Bursary was begun and named the Elizabeth Bentley O. E. S. scholarship fund. This is to be used by a student standing in B.C. in the Arts, attaining highest average in first three years of university, and whose immediate family has at least one member in Eastern Star.

Under the Save the Children Plan, a British child was adopted, the first one being Brian Denton of Tunbridge Wells, 1950-55.

In 1958 the old Lakeside United Church in Lower Town was taken over by the Masonic Order and Summerland O. E. S. held their first meeting there the same year in October. Since that time a joint Devotional Service has been held yearly.

Since 1956 awards have been given for youths working in Religious Leadership Training to encourage entries into the ministry. This is known as Estarel.

Now in the year 1967 with 108 members we are going forward under the able and gracious leadership of Sister Louise A. Hunt our Worthy Matron, and our project this year is to work with members of Masonic Order to raise funds to furnish a room in our new hospital.

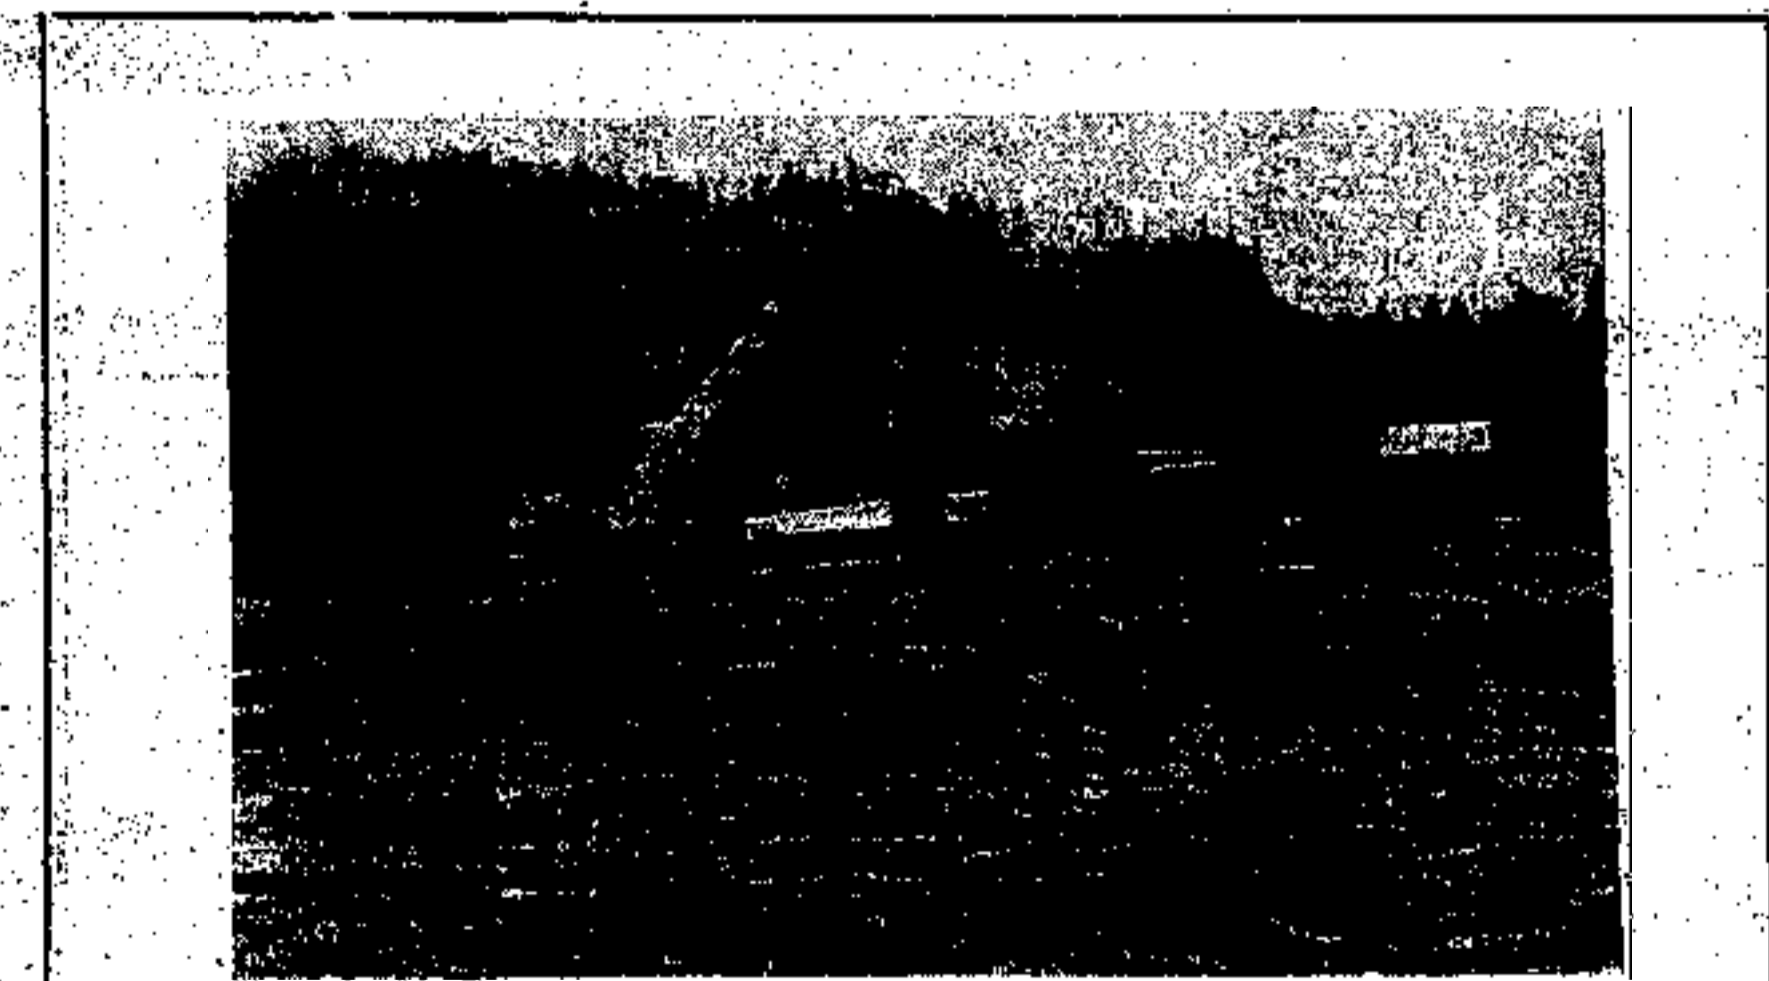

Smith and Hill - looking forward to a bright future in building for industry and residents of Summerland and district.

This pioneer firm, now owned by Doug Hill, has kept pace with Summerland's growth having moved to this new location this year. Good Centennial Wishes.

Football started in 1906 -- baseball played barehanded

(From a presentation given by Linda Flebbe when running as a candidate for Centennial Queen)

Football here started in 1906. On the team were Wm. Atkinson and Alex Steven, who still reside in Summerland. With them played Harry Bristow, Burt Nelson, Ian Williams, Bill Bosberry and Fred Brind, Mr. Bond, Syd Sharpe, Cam Robinson, and last but not at all least N. Sharpe. With this team Mr. W. Beattie was manager, and Mr. A. Steven was secretary-treasurer.

The football field was known as the Campus and was situated on the south side of the present main street, where the stores and park are now located. In this league played Peachland, Penticton, Kelowna and Summerland. Summerland went to Kelowna one year on July 1st, and played in a temperature of 105 degrees in the shade—and beat Kelowna 3-1.

Now baseball started around the same time in 1906. On this original team were George Gartrell, Mr. McIntyre, Jack Conway, Dan Sawyer, Fred Baker and Jack Blewett. An interesting incident of Mr. Blewett's is that when he played 1st base he most always played barehanded, but when he wore a glove, it was just an ordinary work glove. They played on what is known today as Landry's property in Trout Creek.

In 1915 these players joined the original team; they were Cam Robinson, Jack Craig, Harvey Phinney, H. N. Jennings, Harry Vanderburg and Ralph Brown, George Dale, Hilton Snider, John Meleod, Lorne Marlock, Marshall Cunningham, Alex McDougall and Dr. Lipsett was the umpire.

Transportation of the team during holidays was lake transportation by boat which made two or three trips to accommodate the fans, since there were only three automobiles at that time. The bare diamond was on the sports field at Crescent Beach; but later at the park.

In 1920 baseball was still going strong. On this team were Harry and Alf Vanderburg, Vic Debeck, Harvey Phinney, Ray Darcies, Jimmy Ritchie and Joe and Warren Gaten.

In 1925 Les Gould joined the team. He was considered to be the best pitcher in the valley. Mr. Alf Johnston compared him with today's Ted Bowsfield. In the first game that Les pitched for Summerland, we won with a score of 12 to 0. Also playing with him was catcher Alf Johnston, Buck Ritney 1st base, Jerry Laidlaw 2nd base and 3rd was played by Howie Daniels, short by Bill Nicholson, and in the field were Irvin Adam, left; Bill Snow centre, Jimmy Thompson right, Percy Thompson, Gordon Blewett, and Jack Dunsdon also played. The 1925 field was the same as in 1913 at Crescent Beach, and later at the park. The umpires were Tom Daley and Tom Ward. The uniforms were much the same as today's with the colours grey with a green stripe.

Summerland played teams from Peachland, Penticton, Oliver, Oroville, Tonasket, Keremeos and Princeton. Among all these places they were considered to have the best following.

In baseball annals, 1925-1928 were outstanding years.

Summerland Catholic Church has worked closely with Penticton

Mass was first said in Summerland about 1914 at Bredon Hill, the residence of Major and Mrs. E. E. Hutton, and the celebrant was Fr. Birbeck from Kelowna.

Previous to that any Catholics in Summerland, Mr. Henry, Mr. McAlpine, Mr. Houghton and others would ride or drive to Penticton to the old Ste. Ann's church on Wade Avenue. Later Fr. Wagner of Penticton said Mass from time to time in the Fred Gartrell house at the bottom of the Gulch road where Mr. and Mrs. Carter then lived. It has recently been torn down.

It wasn't until 1921, when Fr. Carlyle and Angle O. S. B. came to Bear Creek and were given the charge of all the West side of Okanagan Lake from Summerland to O'Keefe's that any regular service could be held here. Then the problem arose as to where Mass could be said. Mr. Henry approached Mr. Solly, the Anglican minister, who very kindly permitted us the use of the Anglican Church. Ecumenism started early in Summerland.

Later we moved to the old Legion Hall, which was very chilly on winter mornings. By this time many more people had settled in Summerland, the Betuzzi's, Biagioni, Lenzi, Cavani, Daniel's and others the time had come when a permanent building must be found. Mr. Charlie Cavani donated a piece of property on what is now Victoria Road. The church of the Holy Child was built and Mass was said in it for the first time by Fr. Adrian Angle at midnight on Christmas Eve 1928. Mr. Jack O'Mahony was the server.

Fr. Angle left the Valley in 1929 and for the next 17 years Summerland was attached to the Penticton Parish and was served by the Oblate Fathers. In 1946 Bishop Martin Johnson made Summerland a separate parish and Fr. A. M. Meulenbergh came here from Osoyoos as the first resident priest. He lived in the tiny room in the corner of the church.

By this time we were growing out of the small church and a piece of property was bought on Rosedale Avenue and a church and rectory were built in 1947. It was consecrated by Bishop Martin Johnson. The original church is now Kingdom Hall. A bronze bell was given by Mrs. Bartelomeoli, blessed by Mgr. W. B. MacKenzie D. P. in August 1949 and was hung in one of the towers. The parish of Summerland included Peachland and Westbank.

Fr. Meulenbergh built the church of Our Lady of Lourdes in Westbank. In 1961 Fr. Meulenbergh left for Grand Forks and Fr. M. J. Guinan replaced him as parish priest and is still with us.

Those of us who remember the early years are very grateful to Major Hutton, Mr. George Henry, and Mr. Betuzzi who kept things going during the difficult years, until we became the Parish of the Holy Child in Summerland.

Royal Purple Lodge sends greetings

In Canada's Centennial year of 1967 the ladies of Summerland Lodge No. 236, of the Royal Purple, Auxiliary to the B.P.O. Elks wish to send greetings to the citizens of Summerland on Canada's birthday.

We wish to give you a brief history of our Lodge.

It was organized by Past Supreme Honored Royal Lady Mabel Redman of Vernon, and Exalted Ruler L. A. Smith of the B.P.O. Elks. Through their efforts, along with other members of the Elks they signed up 25 Charter members.

Installation of officers of the newly formed Order was held in the IOOF Hall on Sunday, July 7th, 1963.

Pianist, Mrs. Flo Holmes; publicity director, Mrs. Perrin.

Meetings were held every second and fourth Tuesday of the month in the IOOF Hall. In June of 1964 our Brother Elks purchased a hall, formerly the Post Office in Lower Summerland and we moved there for meetings.

We cater to many functions in the community, thus raising money for various projects. Donations are given to our main objective, the Purple Cross Fund, the March of Dimes, and needy families. At Christmas a hamper of groceries is made up and this is given to someone in need. We also hold teas and bake sales during the year. The Bro. Elks hold Bingo games every second week and we help where needed. Every summer the Elks sponsor a Horse Show and we help by running a concession stand as well as administer First Aid.

The first Wednesday in June is Royal Purple Day, which we celebrate by serving tea at Parkdale Place Senior Citizens Home. We operate a booth at the Summerland Fall Fair.

In 1964 we helped the Elks decorate a float for the Queen and Princess. This was done for the Board of Trade Fall Fair. The float took many prizes in the valley. On Armistice Day, we lay a wreath at the Cenotaph in memory of our departed war veterans, then cook and cater to the Legion banquet which follows the service.

Our present membership is 42

Now in the year of our 100th birthday, we feel proud to say we furnished a room in the new hospital. We have helped out and wrap the Centennial Birthday Cake which will be distributed at the birthday party which will be held at the new Park on Giant's Head Mountain, dedicated on July 1, 1967.

L. A. SMITH HEADED FIRST ELKS' LODGE

The Summerland B.P.O. Elks began in 1962. In the fall of that year, Walter Baker, Grand Organizer for the B.P.O.E., accompanied by L. A. Smith, who was a member of Penticton Elks Lodge, called an local citizens and signed up members. On Dec. 17th, 1962 the Summerland Elks No. 476 were instituted. The Charter bearing 51 names was presented to them. L.A. Smith was installed Exalted Ruler; Keath Marten, Leading Knight; Jack Wilson, Loyal Knight; and Victor Smith, Lecturing Knight, with Junius Johnson secretary and Herb Lemke treasurer.

By July 7th, 1963, enough wives had become organized to institute the Order of the Royal Purple.

The Summerland Elks now own their own hall, the former Lower Summerland Post Office.

The National Centennial project of the B.P.O. Elks is a Vocational School for the Deaf. This is to be built and supported by the Purple Cross Fund, which is the main charity of the Elks and O.O.R.P. This fund is also for the benefit of needy families who have a child needing medical attention, and unable to pay for it.

The local Elks are also active in community affairs; who with the O.O.R.P. donated 1,000 for the furnishing of two rooms in the new Summerland Hospital. They also sponsor a Minor League Baseball team, and assist the Summerland Trail Riders by putting on a Junior Horse Show and Gymkana every summer.

The present Exalted Ruler of the Summerland Elks is C. B. "Tiny" Hankins. Other Exalted Rulers were Keath Marten, Jack Wilson, and Vic Smith.

United Church looks forward

In 1904 when Rev. R. J. McIntyre, a Methodist pastor, who travelled this area from Lakeside to Faulder, could he have visualized the community today?

Can we in 1967 imagine the developing church a hundred years from now?

In the intervening years we have grown by addition of a Presbyterian Church in 1908, by the amalgamation of the Methodist churches in Summerland taking place in 1925.

In 1955 Lakeside United Church amalgamated with St. Andrew's, West Summerland, to form the Summerland United Church. Automobiles and easier transportation in a decentralization and cohesion of the United Church congregation practical and enriched the life of the church. The original building still in use has been renovated and enlarged by the addition of a modern kitchen, church hall and Sunday School facilities. A memorial organ was dedicated to the memory of those who gave their lives in the second World War.

Ministers before 1908 were Revs. Lee, Armitage, Livingstone and others; then followed by Rev. James Hood, 1908-1912; Charles Daly 1912-16; Rev. W. H. Bates 1916-1921; Rev. W. A. Alexander 1921-25; Rev. T. W. Reed 1925-29; Rev. E. W. McKay 1929-34; Rev. W. R. Ashford 1934-41; Rev. D. C. Davidson 1941-44; Rev. H. R. Whitmore 1944-53; Rev. Charles Richmond 1953-59; Rev. P. K. Louie, 1959-1967.

Three hundred and sixty-seven families now make up the congregation with Sunday worship at 11 a.m. and with an enrolment of 240 in Sunday School. Women's groups, men's club, senior and junior choirs; CGIT, Hi C for young people; couples club; and study groups play an active part in the life of the church.

Who knows what the future will bring? We may commute by air to reach some of the faraway places we now serve through Mission fields. We may join other denominations to form 1 WORLD CHURCH? As always, the heart of the Church life will undoubtedly be the worshipping families who bear the Word of God, and express themselves in Christian living, Christian fellowship and Christian outreach.

Summerland--in the beginning

By PEARL REID

Picture a small town nestled along the lakeshore in the 1910's. It is Saturday and activity is plentiful for this is the day for shopping; the day upon which settlers from all over the area come to town to shop, to visit and to listen to the band concert in the evening. Visitors from Naramata, across the lake, came over on the Summerland-Naramata ferry to do their shopping also and to meet their friends.

Upon the site now housing the Cornwall Cannery the following stores and businesses are located: The Summerland Supply Company, the first store to be built in Summerland; A. A. Derrick's Dairy where one can buy ice cream (made from real cream) and other dairy products; McWilliams' Real Estate Office; Rowley's Jewellery Store, the Bank of Montreal and the Post Office.

The Power Plant must be pictured where the present Fish Hatchery is. Looking up ninth street (now Gowans St.) from Shaughnessy Ave. one sees Cordy's Real Estate office, where Ralph Gibbard's house now sits. Across the road is a drugstore run by Ken Hogg and next door a butcher shop run by George Gartrell (John Downton purchased this shop in later years).

Up above Doug Hill's present home is a Chinese Laundry. (The name Chinaman's Gulch still attaches itself to this little valley).

Looking down on these establishments sits a two-storey Methodist Church with a recreation hall used by the Sunday School, the Young Peoples, and where basketball is played by young and old. The Rectory (Gowans' old house) nestles into the hill below the church.

On the corner of Gowans St. and Shaughnessy (Ave. stands the stately Summerland Hotel with its large veranda on the front where one can sit and listen to the band concert held every week, weather permitting, in the Band Stand across from the hotel. There are 12 rooms upstairs in the hotel and the main floor houses a large dining room, a billiard room and a large rotunda or lobby for its guests.

Across from the present Cornwall Cannery site stands the two-storey Empire Hall. A cement building where dances are held upstairs as well as concerts. The lower storey of the building houses a department store and a plumbing and heating supply shop run by Cliff Borton.

South of the hotel are stores well remembered by our old-timers. There is Tommy Taylor's harness shop; Vaughn's grocery store; Nelson's photography shop; Tommy Figgus' restaurant and rooms. The last of these buildings are now replaced by the service station purchased by Nalos Lumber. Where Nalos Lumber Co. now stands is the first livery stable built in town by Mr. English. Following south we find Milne's ladies wear and dry goods store and Noble's taffee shop.

where, besides being able to get a shave and a haircut, a bath is available every Saturday night for 25 cents.

(It is to be noted that in 1908 Mr. English built a new barn across the street which was later taken over by the Sunoka Co. which burned down in 1966.) Where you would now find the assay office you will see a blacksmith's shop, a boat building establishment and an automotive shop, the three going under the name of Shields, Hatfield and Clark. Mrs. Mabel Brown, who still resides in Summerland, is Mr. Shield's daughter.

The T.S. Smith wharf, where ferries come in twice daily from Naramata and where people can board a boat for Penticton; runs out into the water between the properties now owned by the Fish Hatchery and the Cannery. There is a small cannery on the wharf, the first cannery to be built down along the lake.

There we have Summerland in the beginning.

There were other businesses and buildings which came into being on the Lakeshore in later years. The Ellison Hall in Peach Orchard Park was built and enjoyed by many families for many years for all social occasions and activities. It was later torn down in favour of a more central location uptown.

A. B. Elliott's first store was built on the corner of Shaughnessy Ave. and the Gulch Rd.; later to be taken over by Lee McLaughlan. The Co-op packinghouse was built, claimed by fire, rebuilt and burned again in 1957 to be rebuilt uptown.

The Okanagan Telephone Co. had its offices down here for a time, the building becoming the post office. A new post office was later built along with Smith's Store and restaurant, in the same building — where now stands the Elks Hall. Stark's General Store and gas pump and Jack Gowans store, north of Nalos Lumber Co.) came into being. When Stark moved uptown Gowans spread his business over this area as well as that which he had been housing.

The community saw many buildings destroyed by fire over the years: The whole of the present cannery site—Summerland Supply Co., Derrick's Dairy, McWilliams Real Estate Office, Rowley's Jewellery Store, the Bank of Montreal and the first post office. The barber shop, the Empire Hall, the Summerland Hotel, Figgus' Restaurant were also burned.

Some businesses subsequently moved up into the flats where West Summerland arose. Among these were the Downton Butcher Shop; A. J. Beer bought the harness shop and moved it uptown.

Frank Daniels' Store appeared on the scene in 1949 and is still going strong. (He still sells a real 5 cent ice cream cone). White and Thornthwaite started up in the trucking business in 1925 with a taxi and a stage run in Kelowna. Their business was on the lakeside of Shaughnessy Ave. but they moved across the street in 1937 when they built the garage in addition to their business. The Felix Hotel became another large building of note and still stands, though no longer in use. The old Donald Orr building which has just been torn down was Summerland's first hospital.

One of the landmarks in Summerland was a horse trough in front of the property now occupied by the Fish Hatchery. This was removed when the hatchery was built and the dismay of the residents at the loss of their landmark was compensated by the erection of a drinking fountain on that spot.

Today, Lakeshore Summerland, which it has been named for identification purposes, since the West was taken from the name of the present site on the flat, retains few businesses and buildings of import. It is mostly residential. The Fish Hatchery continues to operate and expand, the Summerland Yacht Club has been built next door to it. Across the Street Nalos Lumber Co. occupies the old White and Thornthwaite property and Daniels Grocery is still a "big little store". The Cornwall Cannery, Naylor's Refrigeration and the local Assay Office complete the business district of Summerland downtown.

Oddfellows Lodge starts with three charter members

In 1968 No. 58 IOOF Okanagan Lodge here will celebrate its sixtieth anniversary.

The last nine years have seen some changes — a few of the members have passed on and their jewels are hanging in a wine velvet lined case made by Bro. Orr, P.N.G., on the wall of the Lodge Room, in their memory.

Every year in conjunction with Faith Rebekah Lodge No. 32 a Memorial church service is held for departed members.

The Oddfellows have been taking the Old Age Pensioners on a drive and picnic in the summer for quite a number of years.

Each year they give to a bursary fund to assist a worthy student here or anywhere in B.C., to further their education, and have assisted with the annual trip to the United Nations given to the young person who is considered best in the speaking contest.

This Centennial year the new hospital has been built and the combined donation from the Rebekahs and Oddfellows was substantial—raised by private donations and special events. They visit the sick in the hospital, and have many worthwhile projects.

As far as can be determined Fred Gartrell is the only one of the original meeting still living, and has continued to reside here since 1887. Others have been, and still are active members for as long as forty years. Many new members have been added. The Grand Master of B.C. pays an annual visit to the Lodge, and sick members.

The following is a short history of IOOF in Summerland compiled with the help of Fred Gartrell and his daughter, Mrs. Donald Orr.

The three charter members in 1908 were Dr. F. W. Andrew, K. S. Hogg and Wm. Ritchie and the 12 men who became members by initiation at that time were C. N. Borton, B. C. Moore, Dan Williams, Russel Williams, Ernest Goodham, Fred Gartrell, Jas. A. Drake, Vernon Taylor, Rev. Jas. Hood and Dr. R. C. Lipsett. The installing team was composed of members from various towns and it was an all night session as the members took all four degrees that first night.

First meetings were held at Summerland in the Empire Hall, then in Elliott's Hall until 1915. At that time a move was made to another hall at the lower town where meetings were conducted until 1921.

Halls were heated by a wood stove and the fuel was purchased from R. H. English and Fred Gartrell. There was electric lights in 1908 as a small hydro electric plant was installed in Summerland, making it the first town on Okanagan Lake to have this type of lighting.

Next year the Summerland Odd Fellows went up the lake in the boat, the "Maud Moore," to assist in the inauguration of Orchard City Lodge, No. 59. They arrived back the next morning in time to change their clothes and go to work.

Through the years others joined, some of them from Penticton, but during World War I so many enlisted that there was danger of losing the charter. To prevent this several came from Penticton to the lodge meetings in Summerland.

In 1921 permission was obtained from the Grand Master to move the charter up town to the Masonic Hall at West Summerland — situated in the Elliott's store. Wm. Ritchie was Noble Grand at that time and J. C. Freeman was secretary.

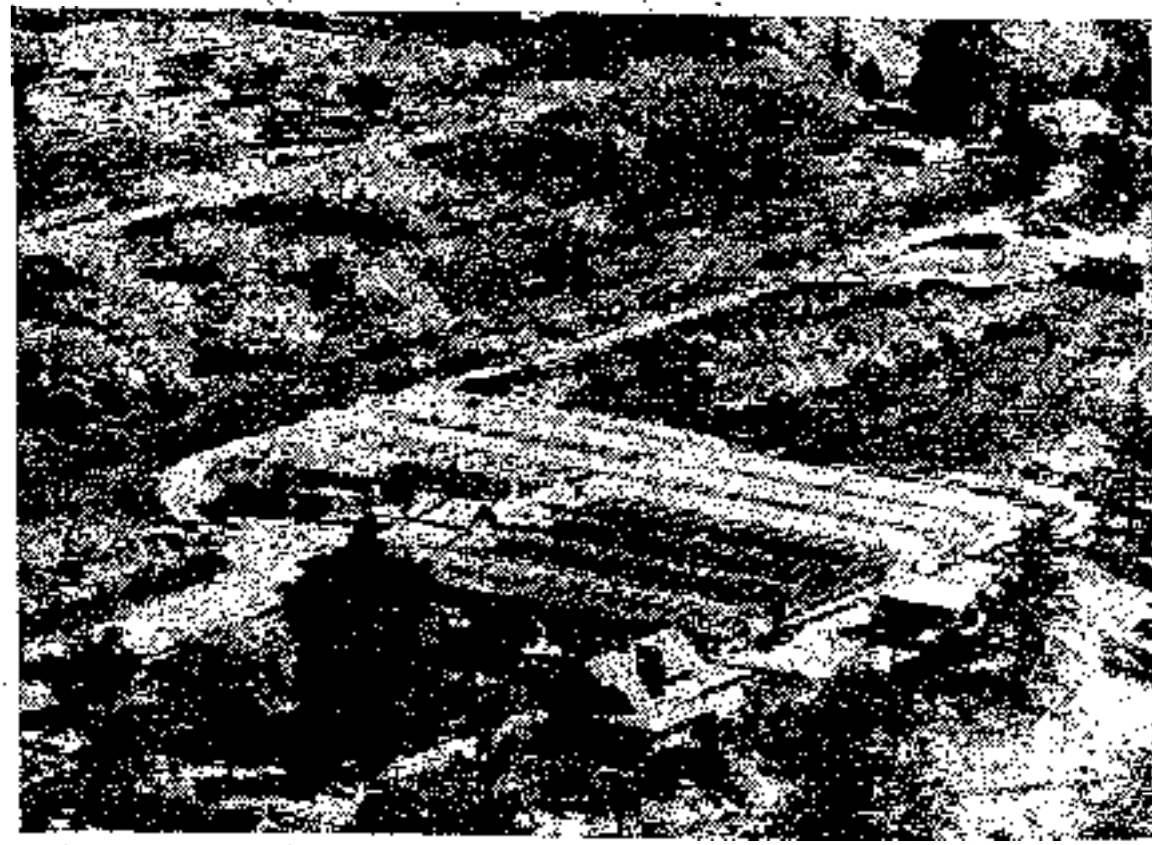

In 1922 the Lodge began to flourish again and in the 1930's was active in degree competitions at district meetings, winning many shields and cups. Tom Whitfield was Degree Captain, then, and also Reg Veveerier, now resident in Penticton. Tom Ramsay played his accordion adding a zip to the marching.

In 1936 the lodge quarters moved again as a result of a fire in the Campbell Block which did not damage equipment but caused 125 worth of smoke injury to regalis.

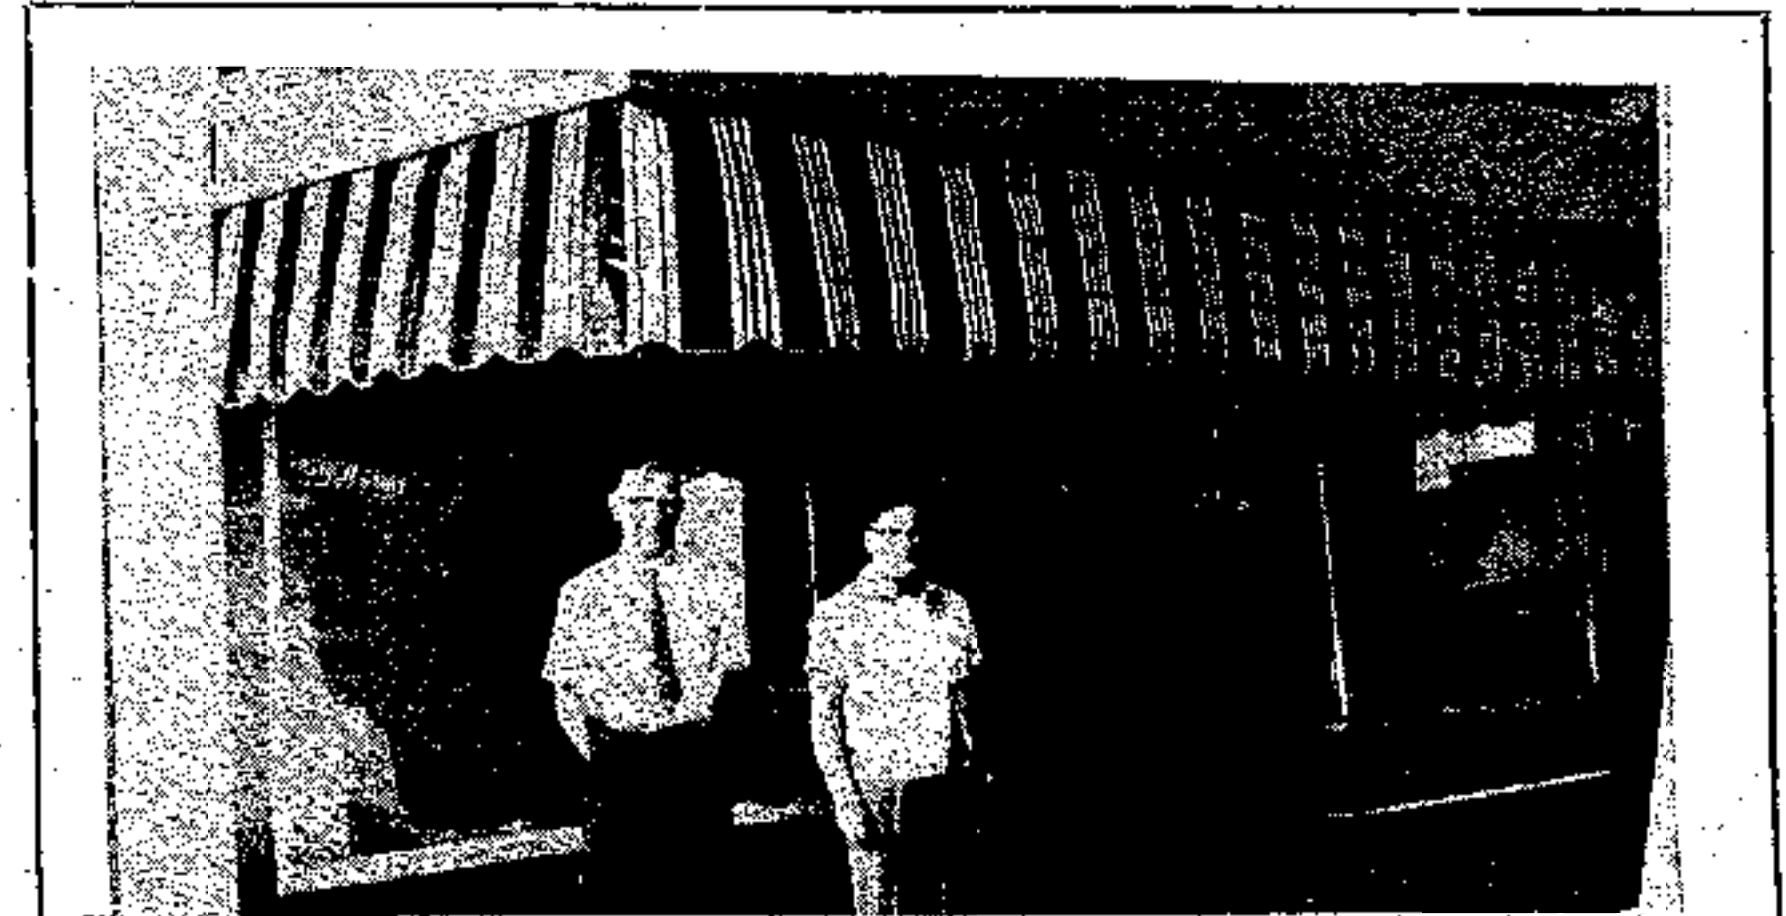

After a few meetings in one of the small school buildings it was decided to purchase a hall and $100 was paid to W. C. Kelly, a Summerland lawyer, for an option on the present building originally built in 1907 by George Gartrell. It had been bought by Mr. Kelly and moved from the lower town to West Summerland and had been occupied first by the post office and by George Inglis Barber Shop and Second Hand Store.

It took some time to pay for it, and to do extensive remodeling but is now a convenient adequate place serving the requirements of the Oddfellows and Rebekahs, and can be rented out for various functions.

A notable item was presentation of a 50-year jewel to Fred Gartrell, pioneer, and to Wm. Ritchie, a charter member. Mr. Gartrell was initiated at the first lodge meeting here. Presentation was made to him by P. Erout of Oliver district deputy. Mr. Ritchie who was over 90 was in the hospital, and the jewel was taken there to be given to him.

The Laidlaw name has been in Summerland since 1925 when W. D. Laidlaw purchased the above building and General store business from Mr. McIvin.

He retired in 1944 when his son Jerry returned from the services. When Bill got back the following year, they went into partnership. In 1961, Bill bought his brother's interests and Jerry went in the clothing business in Penticton.

The store has been operating as a men's wear store since 1944.

Catholic Women organized in 1944

A branch of the Catholic Women's League was organized in 1944 when Rev. Father Morris was Parish Priest.

The meeting, with eleven ladies present was held at the home of Mrs. George Henry. Mrs. Paget of Oliver was the first installing officer.

Since that time the organization has grown steadily — forming a group, not only for spiritual benefit but also acted in raising funds for the church by catering and holding bazaars which the public of Summerland has supported generously.

This branch of the League has been able to achieve gratifying results by every member working willingly and unselfishly.

Teen Town aims to provide recreation, leadership

Teen Town is a youth organization consisting of teenagers of the ages 13 to 19 years old. It is an organization of teenagers, by the teenagers, for the teenagers.

The aim of Teen Town is to provide the teenagers with recreational activities and projects chosen by themselves "in a democratic way" which involve recreation, organization and leadership.

Summerland Teen Town originated first in 1945 with approximately fifty members. Their main project was a dance every Friday night, and it was the mayor's duty to see that it was properly organized. Summerland Teen Town's first mayor was Rhoda Mason now Mrs. Rhoda Benedet of Trail, B.C.

As years passed Summerland Teen Town kept active as a club up to this year, 1967. Summerland Teen Town has a membership of approximately seventy teenagers. We have sponsored recreation for the community's teenagers, besides neighbouring communities.

Some of our projects of 1967 have been:

1. Valentine's Sweetheart Dance — Sharon May was elected as our Sweetheart and competed against other Teen Town Sweethearts in the province.
2. Helped with Summerland's

Centennial project. Our members made two trails on Giant's Head.

Annual Sport's Day — For the past three years Summerland Teen Town has sponsored a Sports Day. Teen Towns in the district are invited and participants are billeted in Summerland. This year our Sports Day (Fun Day), held June 9th to 11th consisted of a beach party, sports events (ex. secretaries scramble, treasurer's tree climb); lunch, banquet, dance and a breakfast party.

At the May 12th meeting the following executive for 1967 was elected: Jack Barkwill, mayor; Howard Stein, vice-mayor; Mauren Fitzpatrick, recording secretary; Janet May, corresponding secretary; Patti Stevenson, treasurer; Heather Wilson, public relations officer.

The SUMMERLAND 5c to $1.00 STORE has been in Summerland for 21 years under the ownership of Jerry Hallquist.

Their first location was in the building now occupied by Albert's Sport Shop where business was carried on for seventeen years.

They have been in this new, air-conditioned building for the past four years.

It is our wish that Summerland citizens have prosperous future as we enter our second century since confederation.

Congratulations also to the people of Summerland on the opening of our Centennial, Giant's Head Park.

Octogenarian reviews Centennial Centennial celebrations program

By WM. H. DOREY,

80 years old

Summerland, our little town, is nestled in so neat amid the hills and valleys where the climate is unique. I'm not a real old-timer, so my views are rather vague. But I'll do my best to describe it at this time of the stage.

Now in this first centennial year

Let's keep it up to date,
To keep it for remembrance for we're here to celebrate.

A good centennial project
A new library was often said,
But others thought to build a road up Giant Head instead.

Where they all plan a picnic park.

Right on the very top.
So tourists and our our own good folk,
Can find a place to stop,
and view this splendid valley, Okanagan Lake's right there in sight

And all our neighbor cities when their lit up at night.

With Dr. Marshall at the head conducting the arrangements,
His wisdom of community life makes this a good investment.

There were several others whose suggestions were very bright

Especially one by our eldest citizen

whom you know as Walter Wright.

We must give Mr. Agur credit for his engineering skill.

He planned this good road to climb the rugged hill.

How he handled that big bulldozer to move trees and rocks and dirt.

He did his best to serve the cause and nothing did he shirk.

To enter this Centennial field you pass artistic iron gates

The work of two ingenious men whose task you may relate.

Summerland has grown so much

It's bursting at the seams,
It really is fantastic.

It's beyond our wildest dreams!

You should see our splendid orchards

When the blossoms are all out That's a sight you will remember

It's a joy without a doubt.

Here we grow abundant fruit of apples, pears and 'cots,

Also prunes and cherries, with peaches to cob the lot.

We've splendid packing houses to care for all this fruit.

And in the fall at harvest time
You'll see the trucks enroute.

There you get kindly service and courtesy to the man

When you deliver your humble goods

Grown on this bountiful land.

We did something in this Expo year.

That we all thought was right.
We built a grand new hospital
On a most convenient sight.

Where we can render to our sick

for treatment or a test.
And where doctors and the nurses will do their very best.

It was quite an undertaking to go down in history

The way things were accomplished sure was a mystery.

It was in this Centennial that Canada invited countries one and all

To put some exhibition at our Expo in Montreal.

So they came from far-off
Russia

And Africa's sunny coast.
To show us their exhibits.

We were proud to be their hosts.

They also came from China and Japan

To take their part.
To show the world their 'something' with a real artistic art.

We did our best to advertise our country's famous name
That will go down in history so we need not be ashamed.

Let's all hope as you read this You'll sure have something new

And that this next one hundred years
Will bring good luck to you.

The Summerland Women's Institute was formed in 1909. Although it was not possible to obtain a photograph from that far back, Mrs. Grace Whitaker provided the one that reaches back to 1913

Hockey spirit in 'doldrums'

(From a talk delivered by Katy when she was a candidate for 'Miss Summerland'. She was successful in becoming Queen.)

By KATY EVANS

In 1907 a few hockey minded boys, namely Jack Conway, Roger Tingley, Norman Finney, Allen and Eric Agur, Dan Rutherford, Ross Rae, and the Craig boys started the first hockey team in Summerland.

One cold December afternoon a few icy spectators stood in the open to watch the first game played in this vicinity. Although the facilities were not modern the thrill and excitement were present in both fan and player.

From 1907 - 11 hockey was played on the reservoir with the boys looking after the ice and even setting up tents for dressing rooms.

There were only six members on the team, a seventh was taken to games but played only if another member was injured. They travelled to Penticton and Kelowna and played the teams in these two centres.

In 1911 there were many complaints of pollution, so a man named James Ritchie, built a new rink under the east side of Giant's Head Mountain. Here, protected from wind and spring sun the boys and girls could skate and play hockey until the end of March.

In 1912 the railroad came through, and Mr. Woodward bought the property for a slaughter house.

Of course with World War I hockey lost footing and during the early '20s there was not much interest in the game.

In 1928 Charlie Wharton flooded the tennis courts for a rink but it seems that the team lacked a leader and again not much interest was shown. A few of the boys that did take part were Gordon Blewett, Art Dunsdon, Clyde Caldwell and Dennis Neild. In 1930 Mr. Worton moved the rink to town where the Memorial Park is now situated. The team was organized by Howie Scriver. It was a good team. Princeton, Vernon and Lumby won for the first few years but after the Summerland team got a foothold they gave the other teams a run for their money.

On this team Ron Taylor played goal, Mr. Spencer, Mr. Smith played defence, Art Dunsdon, Bill Duxbury, Gordon Beggs, Tom Thompson and Dennis Neild rounded out the team.

INDOOR RINK BUILT

In 1940 our present rink was built, much credit given here to Mr. George Stoll. Of course we must not forget our team of 1934 who went to the B. C. Championship in Kimberley. Joe Beggs, Larry Young and Gene Peacock, who have been picked up by Junior A teams could have a bright future in the sport.

As you can see the history of hockey has been a long, sometimes dull, but often fascinating one. At the moment, the spirit is not gone, but in the doldrums.

For many years skating has been an active sport in our community. They first skated at the reservoir where the boys played hockey. A few names we remember are Marion Cartwright, Marian Collas, Dewy Sanborn, and Allan Agur.

It was later moved to the Tennis courts where Mr. Geonatis orchard is now. It had a club house where they could warm themselves, visit, and change their skates. They rented the rink for parties from Mr. Worton, known as "King of the Rink". He worked the gramophone and played their favorite skating waltzes. They had wonderful masquerade parties and everyone dressed in elaborate costumes. For many years figure skating has been taught in winter but in recent years summer skating has developed. Figure skaters come from all over the Western provinces, and sponsor a colorful carnival and evening performance for Summerland and district.

Women keep organization going for many years

The Women's Institute is the oldest organization in Summerland that has remained active during the years. The first Institute was organized in February 1897, in Stoney Creek, Ontario, by Adelaide Hoodless on the platform that "a nation cannot rise above the level of its homes."

The motto "For Home and Country" was chosen in 1899 and has become known throughout the world. In 1909, Miss Laura Rose of Ontario was appointed the first government organizer and was sent to British Columbia and in November of that year the Summerland Institute was organized. Miss Rose said of Summerland, "A wide-awake community, eager to take advantage of anything that will be to their benefit. A splendid lot of ladies took up Institute work and the society should progress rapidly. A good meeting in respect of interest and numbers."

Mrs. J. C. Coulter-White was the first president. At that time the population was just over 800 and the Institute was the only women's organization. The members enjoyed the social as well as the educational and community work involved. In 1911 one of the members, Mrs. R. C. Lipsett was honored by being appointed to the Board of Directors at Victoria. With the planting of orchards the upper benches became the larger district and was called West Summerland.

Because of transportation difficulties a second Institute was formed in Summerland in 1913. The two groups met on alternate Fridays so members could attend both if they so desired. During World War I, both did much work for the Ambulance League, later the Red Cross. By 1934 there were enough cars so the transportation problem had been solved and the two groups joined forces. At one time meetings alternated between the two places, finally all were held in the Anglican Parish Hall where they are still held today.

During World War II only quarterly meetings were held.

For many years an annual picnic was held at the Dominion Experimental Farm and attracted thousands of people. The Institute sold ice cream, soft drinks and candy and this was the only money making project.

From 1915 to 1923 the Summerland Institute formed a fruit shipping business and shipped fruit to the prairies. This was a very successful venture and was carried on until the B.C. Free Fruits was organized. Special celebrations were held on the 25th anniversary in 1934, the 40th in 1949 and the 50th in 1959. The first district Conference was held in Summerland in 1913, several have been held here since.

For several years new Canadians were welcomed and entertained by the Women's Institute. A $5 bank account is opened for every baby born to an Institute member. Interest in the schools has always been maintained. Two rose bowls have been awarded for many years, a silver bowl to the graduate with the highest marks in Home Economics and a copper bowl to the grade 11 girl with the highest marks in sewing.

In 1951, one of the members, Mrs. H. R. McLarty won first prize in National Competition for an essay on "Democracy Begins with You." In 1957 in National Competition, Summerland won the Tweedsmuir Trophy by placing first on articles made for a hope chest, 2nd for a Village History and 3rd for a painting. The history of Summerland is in three beautifully bound volumes and is kept in the Women's Institute cupboard at the library. Many prizes have been won at Provincial competitions and after winning the high aggregate at the P.-N.-E. for three years, were awarded the cup to keep in 1959. Over the years the Institute has been active in many ways by sponsoring the first Art Show of B.C. artists, the first ballet, flower shows, fashion shows and baby shows. Another project was a concert with proceeds going to the Kelowna school for retarded children. When Parkdale Place was built the Institute helped by furnishing a room. Last year money was donated to help build the pylons for the gate to the Centennial project Giants Head Park.

This year a donation was made to furnish a room in the new hospital. Many cash donations are made to local and provincial causes and members give of their time to help in many more. Since the Fall Fair has been in progress the Women's Institute has done a great deal to help. The tea garden is always a restful spot with the tea tables decorated with the tea cloths in the B. C. Institute colors.

In December 1966 paid up memberships were 50 which still keeps Summerland one of the largest Institutes in the province.

The executive at the present time is: President, Mrs. W. S. Rothwell, vice-president, Mrs. E. O. Mortimer, secretary-treasurer, Mrs. E. O. White, directors, Mrs. William Brown and Mrs. J. L. Brown.

Breakwater needed, so local Yacht Club was formed

The Summerland Yacht Club was formed at the request of the Summerland Board of Trade, who had tried unsuccessfully to get a breakwater for Summerland. They felt that boat owners in the area should get together and make a request to the federal government.

At the first meeting on May 6th, 1958 it was decided to call it the Summerland Yacht Club and elected the following officers: L. A. Smith, Commodore; Mrs. Pearl Reid, secretary; and Robert Oxley, treasurer. Clarence Lackey and John Kitson were made directors.

After a lot of research, which included a complete listing of all boat owners in the Summerland area, also a list of the number of tourists in the area, the government granted the club a breakwater. By Spring of 1959 it was built, but at the time it didn't generate much enthusiasm as it was just a wooden structure about 500 ft. out in the lake. The only access was by boat. At this point the Summerland Yacht Club went on a limb to the extent of $1600 and built the approach and ramp. Lifetime moorage and lifetime memberships were sold and this debt was paid off the first summer.

However, it soon became evident that as most of our winds come from the north, it was inadequate, and an additional section was requested to the northern end. This was granted and built the following Spring.

The Yacht Club bought piles from Peachland, and Clarence Lackey who was then vice-Commodore and Vic Smith towed them by boat all the way down from Peachland. The club paid the government pile driver who was still working at Summerland to drive these piles in. They were used for tying boats at the stern, also for an additional finger wharf for extra mooring space inside the existing breakwater. Harry Dracas devoted a great deal of time to building floats and in getting mooring spaces ready for use.

By this time the Club was in good shape financially, with all moorage spaces filled, so they decided to build a clubhouse. Bonds were sold and a loan was made. Commodore Smith donated about a year of his time to the building and equipping of this fine building. It was opened by June 1961.

Up to the present time the Club has had the following Commodores: L. A. Smith, Charter Commodore 4 years; Keith Marten; Doug Campbell; Bob Richards; Earl Brinton and Fred Schumann who is present Commodore.

A CREDIT TO THE PIONEERS

Little money, sweat, tears is hospital history

This is a brief condensation of the history of the Summerland General Hospital written recently by Dr. Blanchard Munn. Dr. Munn is well qualified in this task as he practised for many years in Summerland — and, although retired, still keeps an active interest in the hospital.

He quotes Rev. Haskins who wraps the history up in a few words.

"From the pioneer days of Summerland the hospital has been the outstanding community project for the response to human need and has knit together many who have worked to maintain this institution.

"The hospital was not sponsored by any special group or organization. It stands proudly because of the community's effort and desire to have a good hospital to meet the needs of the area. Its good record has been made possible by the devoted and often sacrificial service down through the years of the staff, and by the support given by the Ladies Hospital Auxiliary and the public.

"Summerland has been fortunate in the service given by the doctors associated with the hospital, as well as the succession of citizens who have served on the Board, especially to S. A. MacDonald, who served 36 years and to Mrs. Ted Atkinson, who now has served the new hospital auxiliary as long as Mrs. Solly did the first one.

"The future means a new hospital building. The fine tradition and accomplishments of the past gives assurance to continued excellent service to the community."

The first hospital still stands — but its days are numbered. It served the community well for seven years after 1907.

One of the pioneers of nursing, Mrs. Ronald Sinclair opened her home to patients of Dr. Chas. M. Smith and Dr. J. P. McIntyre before there was a hospital in Summerland. These houses included the Snow and Fenner residences.

Dr. F. W. Andrew came to Summerland in August, 1908 and was a great influence on the town. He practised here for the next 36 years, using the horse and buggy before graduating to the Model T.

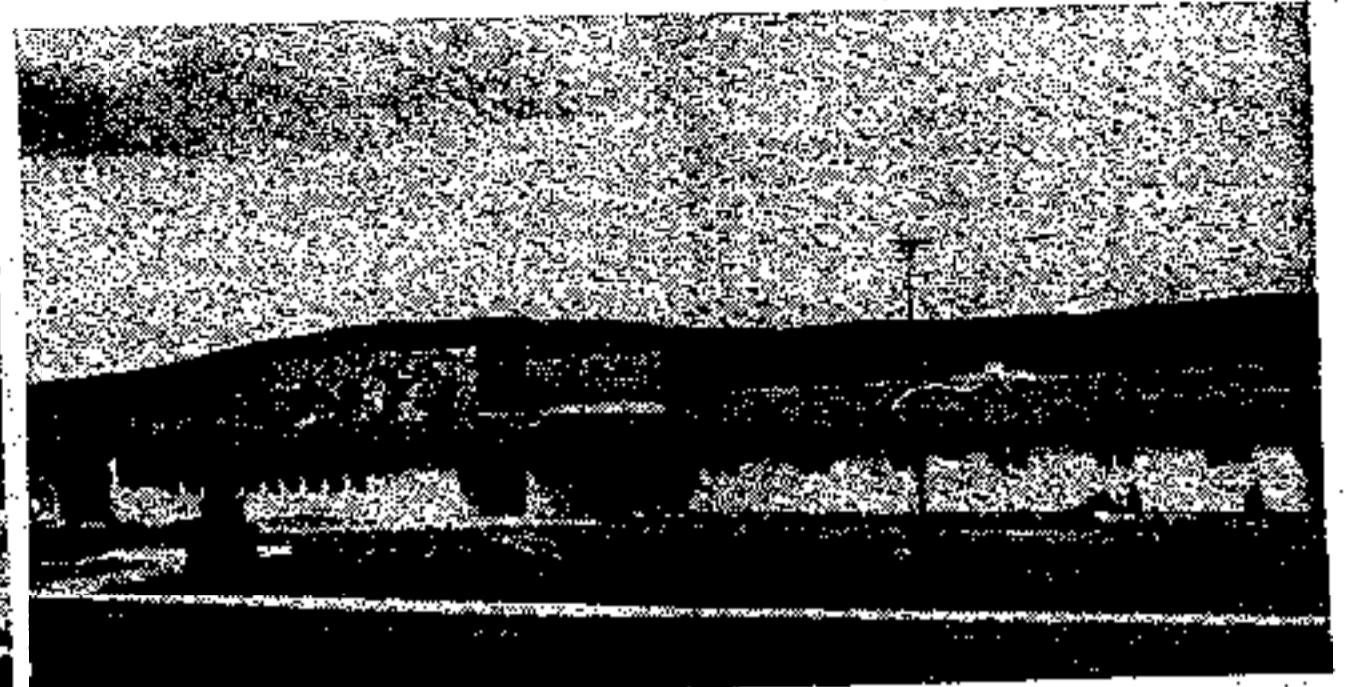

In April, 1909, the Ladies Hospital Auxiliary was formed and was incorporated on April 11, 1910. They provided linens and other necessities for the Fenner house. Miss Louise Wilson was their first matron.

The work was hard and little equipment was available. She had stairs to climb 24 hours a day with only a little maid to help.

Miss Wilson resigned in 1910 and she was succeeded by Miss Lloyd. Then came Mrs. Stillingfleet and Miss Thompson from Kelowna.

The Ladies Hospital Auxiliary was equipping the hospital by this time but the Matron was paying the rent and making what she could from patients' fees.

Mrs. Arthur Solly took over as matron next and the Hospital Society under the direction of W. J. Robinson found they had little to do as most needs were anticipated by the Auxiliary and it went on that way until the Auxiliary insisted a modern hospital was necessary.

HISTORY IN PICTURES

Summerland patients expect to be moved from the old hospital on the left to the new building, right. Thousands of patients have gone through the old structure, and many more are expected. It is destined to become a nursing home in the very near future.

The board went to work.

After making a number of financial drives and were assured of $3,500 from the provincial government, a two-story, 10-bed hospital was built and opened on Sept. 17, 1914.

H. C. Mellor drew up the plans, the Summerland Development Co. donated two acres (the existing site on Hospital Hill) and Harry Tomlin built it. Miss Maisie Atcheson was matron.

Total assets were $7,932, fully paid and the auxiliary collected $761.10 that year, a portion of which represented payment on the X-ray machine.

The ward rate was $2 per day and $2.50 for a ward outfitted by the IODE and Hebekahs.

The hospital ran smoothly, but financial trouble existed although expenses only came to $5,000. Then on December 14, 1919 a fire destroyed all but a part of the X-ray machine, and the Felix Hotel became the hospital. The Auxiliary borrowed or bought equipment to furnish it. Miss Jean Johnston was matron.

They then started to build again, with Bert Harvey, the contractor.

The provincial government provided $10,000. The municipality floated $15,000 in bonds and sold $12,500 worth and paid 2,500 in cash. Mrs. Van Allen donated $20,000 for a surgical wing in memory of her son Kenneth, who was killed in Belgium in 1916, as well as a fruit orchard in Prairie Valley. Other contributions to wards were made by the Great War Veterans Association, the Dales, the Japanese community and Mrs. Elizabeth Crowe and others.

The war was now over and in those days, Naramata and Summerland were closely knit, using water transportation between the two towns. (Naramata was at one time referred to as East Summerland.)

The Summerland, Mineola passed.

The Junior Ladies Auxiliary and Naramata Red Cross Societies joined and brought their funds with them, and with this and Ladies Auxiliary projects, they were able to donate $2,200 in cash and furnishings to the hospital. A tidy sum in those days.

In 1922 red ink appeared — growers were losing money, hospital bills were not being paid so no one was admitted into the hospital without paying a week's hospitalization in advance — but this did not help. The following resolution was passed:

"In the event of business being done in the hospital in any one month (including April, 1923) bringing in an average of less than seven patients per day, the salary of each member of the staff with the exception of the maid, be reduced by $10 from the present rate of wages for each month or the members of the staff could give one month's notice if not agreeable."

Later that year, the Board accepted a cheque from the Liquor Board for $1,800 and for $1,500 in 1924.

In 1924, Mr. Coulter White, a member of the board, suggested that prepaid hospital care be investigated.

Considerable life memberships were sold for $50, spearheaded by the Legion. Mrs. Bertha Harvey, Mrs. Margaret Stephens and Mrs. R. H. Helmer were three of the original members.

Then depression years struck and the hospital owed the proceeds $2,000 and according to S. A. MacDonald, then chairman, the standard motion was "to pay the accounts when money is available". Total salaries were reduced from $600 per month to as low as $360.

The Junior Ladies Hospital Auxiliary was formed in 1934 and they operated a small cannery. Mrs. Ted Atkinson, president said they had canned 720 jars of fruit the following

In 1937 the Hospital Auxiliary retired and handed their charter to the Junior Auxiliary after 29 years of service.

The executive of the present group which started in 1909 were: President, Mrs. A. T. Robinson; vice-president, Mrs. Angwin; secretary, Mrs. Charles Stevens; recording secretary, Mrs. J. C. Robson and treasurer, Mrs. Dorothy Solly.

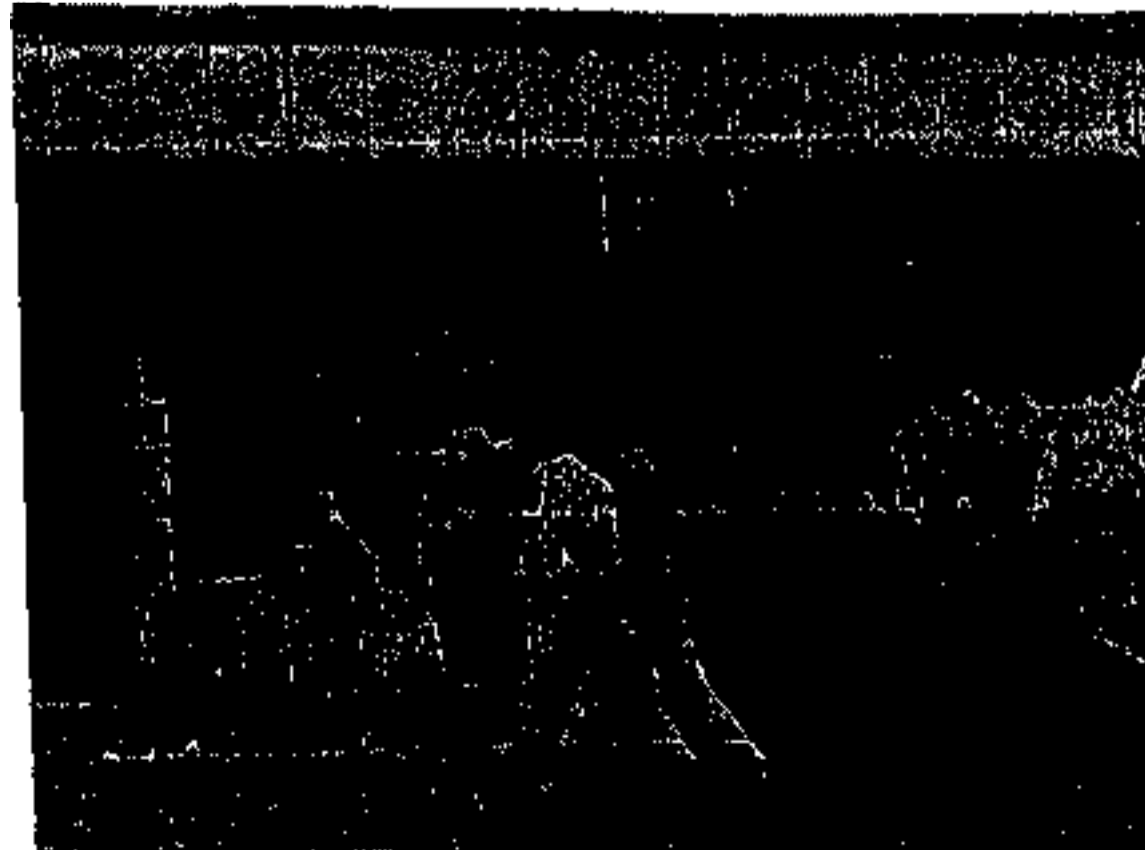

By the end of 1937, 220 hospital contracts were sold for $12 a year per family. In later years this was raised to $15 then to $16. Finances were now in good condition. In 1947 the north wing and a nurses home was built.

By 1949, wages and expenses were rising so the provincial government had to step in with their voluntary hospital insurance but soon premiums lapsed so Summerland had next to nothing as local contracts were cancelled.

In 1952, the government launched the B. C. Hospital Insurance Services based on the provincial sales tax.

This brings us up to the present and a new hospital!

The Hospital Auxiliary has played no small part in laying out the history of the Summerland Hospital. They have contributed over $40,000 in cash during the past 11 years.

Herman & Ria Clausen are looking to the future.

As shown here they are extending their store, the 4th expansion in 5 years.

Rod and Gun Club has long record

As presented by Ellen Davis, candidate for Miss Summerland. She will be crowned Queen on July 1st

It is my pleasure to bring to you a few words on the long and interesting history of the Summerland Rifle Club. This has been a large and active club over the years providing many hours of competition and enjoyment for the community of Summerland.

It was organized back in 1909 by a few old timers, some of them were Mr. H. Dundson, Jim Dundson, George Gartrell, Finnely Munro, George Loomer, Billy Nelson, and Teddy Taylor, names familiar to Summerland residents.

The club was first situated in the area where the present Lakeshore Tent and Trailer Camp is now located. But after approximately two years, due to the shortage of room, they moved to their present range in Garnet Valley. There is approximately 50 - 60 acres with a government lease of 99 years ensuring a permanent home for the club.

The members all worked together to build targets, firing point, telephone communication between the butts and a club house. They joined the Dominion Rifle Association and sent in their scores and were able three times to bring home the Selva Trophy. In those days there competitors were Armstrong (and travelled back and forth on the old Si-anous.)

This came to a sudden halt in 1914 with the outbreak of World War I, causing the shortage of ammunition and men so the club could no longer operate.

About 1928 the four Dundson boys got together for practices, they had no actual club but were still interested as Armstrong, Kelowna and Kamloops started to organize their clubs. Once again the old Timers, Dewy Sanborne, Tommy Washington, Walter Gartrell Ed Gould and Fred Anderson got together dug up the trophies that had been scattered over the years. In the 30's the club really boomed with 25 or more members rebuilding the club.

Little later the B. C. I. R. A. (British Columbia Inland Rifle Association) brought all the clubs in B. C. together. Spirits were high as they held competition up and down the valley. B. C. I. R. A. held a two-day shoot the first to be held in Armstrong. Summerland came home with a good share of the awards with George Dundson bringing home the L. G. Trophy. Summerland also donated a trophy called the Summerland Shield.

Summerland was the first small town to hold this two-day shoot. There were over 100 competitors coming from as far as Calgary. They were the first to hold the one and only night shoot, this went over big.

They rigged up flood lights on the targets it proved to be quite a challenge besides a lot of fun. The women organized the meals and helped with the scoring. At night time many tents could be seen over the range.

During one of their annual shoots the five Dundson brothers won the team trophy. Eighty competitors came from nearby settlements. They had weekly shoots with their own members and lots of good sports competing for a chance to scratch their name on the old buter teapot which Archie Scott donated. It was known as the Scot Pot. But Cecile Cope, not to be out done, came up with a trophy for the lowest scores of the day.

This little drum became a symbol of "This is something you CAN beat." This also had to be inscribed with your name.

They even had a few courageous women get into the club who could hold their own. One was Miss Louise Atkinson.

In 1939 another setback came with World War II. The P. C. M. R. (Pacific Coast Militia Rangers) occasionally used the ranges for practise.

After the war things got back to normal and in about 1946 they reorganized; and with their own funds and hard work they got the club back into action. For about ten years it went strong.

One of the highest range records ever recorded over the active years in Summerland was 104/105 held by George Dundson.

The story of Summerland's first bride

We are indebted to Mary Gartrell Orr for the following fascinating and timely article concerning Summerland's first bride.

June is the month of brides, and so, here is the story of Summerland's first bride, a timely story, in view of the fact that looking back over the province's history is one of the popular pastimes in this Canadian Centennial year.

Some readers will recall that Summerland's first bride was Mary Jane Gartrell, who on October 20, 1888, at the age of 19, married Ephraim Arthur Day.

Mary Jane came here from Stratford, Ontario, where she was born on April 19, 1868, in the year 1885, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Gartrell, her sister, Edith, and brothers Billy, George and Fred.

For two years the family resided on the Ellis Ranch, on which Pentleton now stands, then moved to their pre-emption on Trout Creek Point, the first white family to live in this area.

Arthur Day, who was born in Utah, U.S.A., in 1862 came to work for Ellis as a foreman, and there he and Janie became acquainted. After the Gartrells moved to Trout Creek, he would ride up on a stallion to visit the young lady. There were hazards to travel in those days, particularly at night, one being the crossing of the Okanagan River at the foot of the lake.

Arthur Day cut down travelling time by taking up a pre-emption just west of Gartrells, the property now owned by J. Y. Towgood.

When the young couple decided to get married they found that the nearest Protestant minister was at Kamloops, so they had to journey there. A long trip by horse and buggy. They went by rowboat to Okanagan Mission where they rented the horse and buggy.

Arthur Day worked at the Barclay ranch as foreman after the marriage and each day rode from his home on the pre-emption by the trail between the Giant's Head and Little Mountain. Mary Jane's brother, Fred, still remembers when he and George, as little boys, walked along the edge of the Sahdhill to visit Mary Jane and some of her babies.

A few years after they were married they moved to Kelowna, as did Edith, who had married David Lloyd-Jones.

The pre-emption was sold in 1898 to R. M. H. Turner. Mr. Day was the foreman on Bernard Leguime's ranch and Mr. Lloyd-Jones went into the lumber business with the Leguimes. Later they became partners in the Kelowna Sawmill.

Eight children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Day. (Dr. L. A. Day of Summerland being one of them.) One died in infancy at Salt Lake City when the Days were on a visit. Mary Jane died when the eighth child was born in 1904, but Arthur Day, her husband, lived until 1954, when he died at the age of 93.

Pioneer sketch of the Smiths

Mr. T. J. Smith was a brother of Mrs. H. Bristow who, with her husband, came to Summerland in 1904.

Mrs. Smith was Miss Marie Robinson, sister of Mr. J. M. Robinson, founder of Summerland.

Mr. Smith had extensive orchard property in Summerland, including the property where Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Beggs now live. These were managed by Mr. Bristow as was the cannery owned by Mr. Smith on the T. J. Smith wharf at the lakefront.

T. J. Smith Mountain was named after him.

He also owned a stable of show horses which were brought from Vancouver to Summerland during the off-season and were kept at a pre-emption in Garnett Valley and at the present Beggs property. These included "Credential"—winner of the high jump at the Vancouver Horse Show on April 24, 1909—6 ft. 3 in.—and also Shetland ponies, a high stepper, a pacer, and various other show horses which were often ridden in the show ring by his sister, Miss Mabel Smith.

Numerous changes in industries

By PEARL REID

(Excerpt from "Summerland 1945-1967" by H. V. Stent)

Summerland's chief industry has always been fruit growing. To it, too the post war years brought many changes. Sprinkler irrigation replaced the old, soil-eroding, time-consuming method of irrigation by open ditches. D.D.T. and other chemicals made pest control much more effective and they were such a boon to insect-ridden orchardists that nobody worried about their side effects. A further revolution in pest control was wrought by the air-blast concentrate sprayer, developed by Dr. James Marshall and his entomological associates. This enabled one man with small tractor to do spraying which had hitherto required a large costly machine and one or two men with hoses and "guns" (spray nozzles).

First outfit of this type, though it used steam rather than air-blasts, was used for custom work by Gordon Beggs, a small-tractor pioneer here.

First evening he took it into Charlie Wharton's cherry orchard, south of Main Street, and released a cloud of spray into the trees old Charlie, tall and red-faced, came running out of his shack roaring: "Get that God-damned thing out of here! Get that God-damned thing out of here!" Then, when he saw who it was: "Oh, it's you, Gordon, spraying. I thought it was the blasted fire department trying out their new engine on my trees!"

When the wages soared after the war from 34 cents an hour in 1939 to $1.00 by 1953, the one-man spray outfit helped the grower to keep down labour costs. So did the special sprays which chemically performed much of the apple thinning that previously had demanded so much hand labour.

Picking remains hand labour, but the use of bins instead of boxes and of giraffes, gyrettes and similar mechanisms instead of ladders, enables one picker to harvest much more fruit.

Due to heavy frost losses in soft fruit and trees, many growers have quit growing apricots and peaches. Some have planted grapes to take advantage of increasing demand from wineries. Fruit stands in the area are more plentiful and provide an extra way of disposing of fruit.

The cannery business is still booming. Cornwall Cannery on Lakeshore Summerland, originally built by the Co-op in 1946 and sold to Safeway in 1948 has done well. Barkwills Cannery and Milne's Cannery have also grown into large plants. The Garnett Valley cannery, a smaller concern operated by Blair Underwood was run until 1960 when it closed down.

Added to the fruit industry is the economical importance of raising beef in Summerland and the several large poultry farms here.

Summerland Girl Guides first in Okanagan Valley

(Excerpts from an essay by Joy Chalmers)

The Summerland Girl Guides—the first in the Okanagan Valley—were started in 1924 by Mrs. Piers. It flourished and almost died till Mrs. J. E. O'Mahony, a resident of Summerland came to the rescue.

Guide meetings were first held in the Anglican Parish Hall. Uniforms were home-made. To raise money to buy the material, an annual dance was held in the Ellison Hall. Older people played cards while the young people danced.

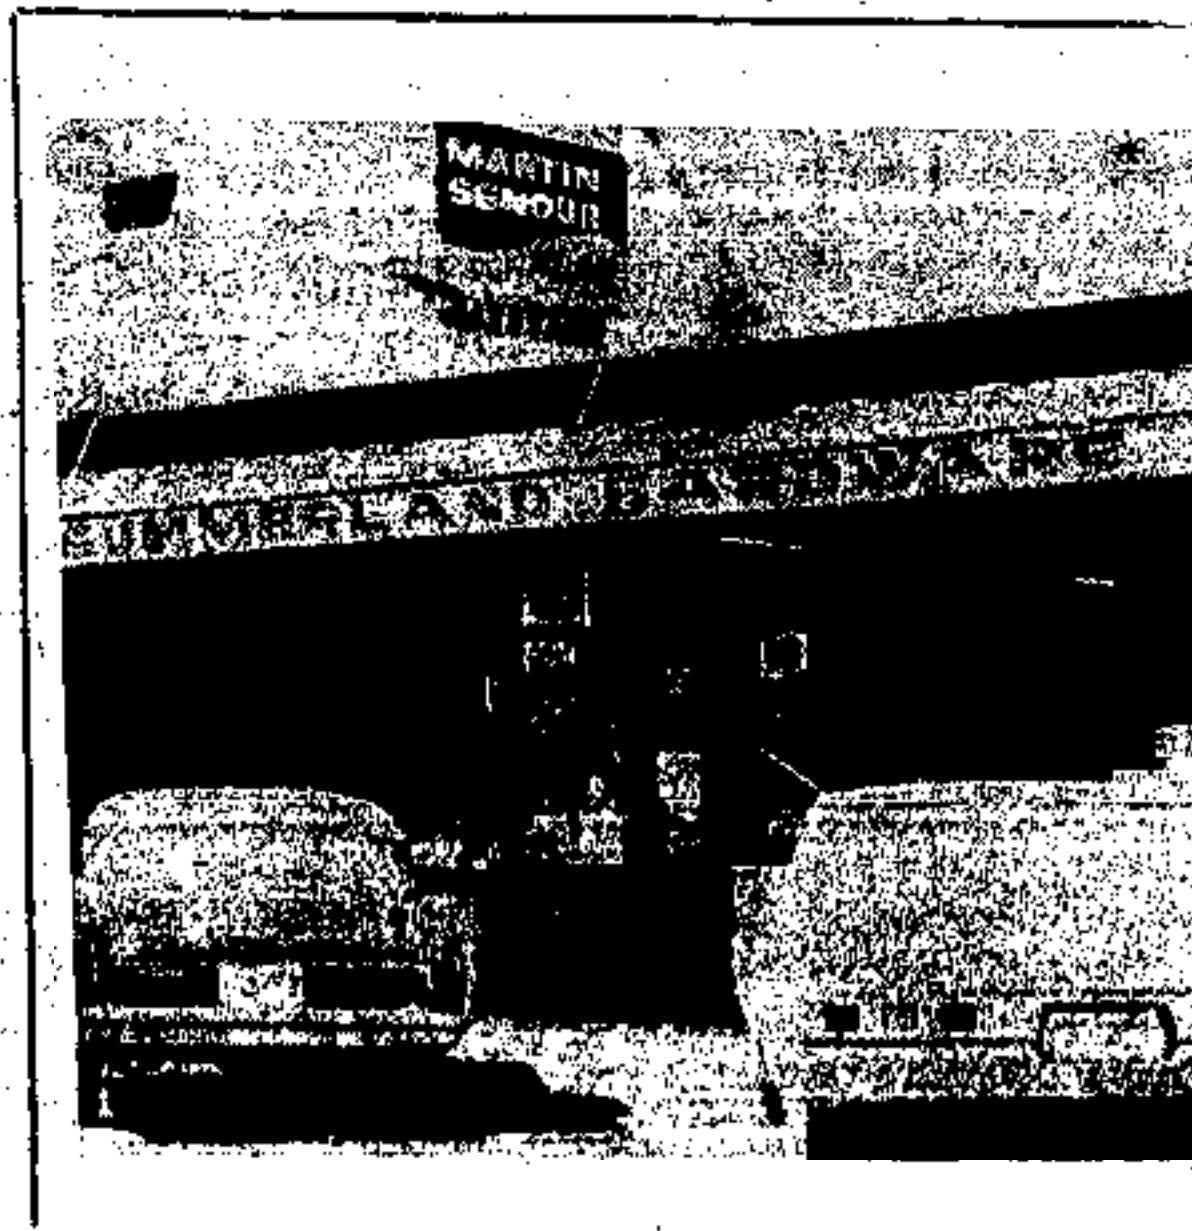

Some of the first Guides were: Laureta Schumann, Kitty DeNight, Miss Engles, the Solly sisters, Grace Whittier, the Hogg girls, Mona Winters and Rene Harris.

Almost every weekend the girls and Mrs. O'Mahony hiked up Snow or Apex Mountain after going part way by wagon.

The first camp was on Trout Creek Point, later with more companies participating, the camps were held at Okanagan Falls. Mr. Henry took the girls and supplies by wagon to the camp and took two days to get there. There were incidents when the girls and leaders came across rattlesnakes. They enjoyed campfires and dress-ups.

Today Summerland Guides are a strong company to the honor of Mrs. Piers and Mrs. O'Mahony.

FROM OUR FILES . . .

An article written January, 1945
by Rev. Frank W. Haskins

A stroll along West Summerland's Hastings road and Granville and remain one of the changes which have taken place during recent times. The following list of business places on these two streets is made so that our friends in the forces may be provided with detailed information about the home town. The result of visits to other business places in the municipality will be given in this column at some future date.

West side of Hastings Road.

The Red Cross Superfluity Shop, under the direction of Mrs. A. Vanderburgh, is held each Saturday in the building where J. J. Blewett formerly carried on his flour and feed business.

Next comes the garage where Horace Read has been located for 25 years. He is assisted by Edgar Gould and Tom Washington.

Although V. M. Lockwood has sold his barber chair, he still bustles busily about and is helped in his hardware and furniture transactions by his wife and his daughter, Mrs. W. Nicholson.

The next group of stores is a little farther south on the street. William Jewell, the ardent angler, carries on his boot repair business and store in a building erected in 1942 next door to what was formerly Dr. A. W. Vanderburgh's office. When A. E. Hickson enlarged his brother's store the former doctor's office was included in the larger structure. Mr. Hickson's assistant is Archie Campbell, formerly of Kinistino, Sask.

L. W. Rumball's grocery store was remodelled in 1941. The staff of this store is composed of Miss Dorothy Dunsdon, Miss Violet Taylor (who hails from Armstrong and says "she is not afraid of men.") and Russel 'Butch' White. Assisting part time are Mrs. Rumball, Norman Mayne and Lorne Logie.

Then comes the office from which Alex Smith and George Henry carry on their trucking business with the aid of Ted Dunsdon, Walter Gould, Ellwood Gillespie, Larry Garneau, Allan Campbell, Jimmy Mitchell, John Thaler, Lawrence Burnell, and Arnold Cowan.

East side of Hastings Road

Wing Fong carries on his laundry business, perturbed over the absence of news of his wife and son in China. Roy Gilbert is plumber and tinsmith in the former borton shop which houses William Beattie's labor office.

The Rialto theatre is in charge of Mrs. W. Nicholson, with Mrs. R. Tingley collecting tickets. Edna Gould is usher. Howard Shannon and Elof Borgstrom are operators.

The blacksmith shop has been taken over by George Kapick, of Wellington Alta. Frank Schwass, who has been in charge of the business since the passing of his cousin Charlie Schwass, is returning to logging work at the coast.

L. A. Smith's paint shop completes the list of business buildings in the above order on the east side of Hastings Road.

The Premier Hotel is being operated by W. R. Lawrence, of Penticton, with Mrs. P. Howard of Penticton, and Mrs. B. Spencer of Cawston on the staff.

Continuing south we find W. Verrier carrying on the butcher shop formerly operated by W. S. Nield, J. McPherson's store where he mends boots and boys' broken bikes, and J. A. Read's office where Lois Read and Mrs. S. Cannings some times do overtime.

Jim Green conducts the drug store with the help of Miss Betty Nelson. In the next store is the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. Dunbar's bakery with Miss Beverley Walsh as clerk. The only vacant store on the street is the former Rowley jewellery store. This store was purchased and remodelled some time ago by Mr. Laidlaw.

Hill's Dry goods store is next. This business was taken over from the Laidlaw stores by Mrs. L. H. Hill who moved here from Peachland and is assisted by Mrs. J. B. Kellogg, Mrs. R. L. Sharpe, Mrs. C. Blagborne, and Mrs. E. Smith.

C. E. McCutcheon is kept busy at his barber shop on the corner of Hastings Rd. and Pender. His dog Tip, is still on the job.

The post office staff will be augmented for the Christmas rush. J. H. Bowering with Mrs. Bowering and Frank Hopkins take of the mail during normal times.

Mac's Cafe, which some time ago was taken over by Allen Holmes, was recently acquired by Charlie Smith, of Penticton. Helena McPherson, Elsie Boone, from Winnipeg, and Florence Taylor, another fearless Armstrong girl, assist Mr. and Mrs. Smith. At rush times, young Jack and Herbert Smith lend a hand.

A. Keith Elliott, with William Kennedy and Lee McLaughlin, carry on the Elliott Department store. This store has been enlarged by the inclusion of the building next door which was Whites' butcher shop but now houses a furniture and gift shop under the supervision of Robert McLaughlin.

The store next to the bank building has been converted into an Apostolic Tabernacle.

South side of Granville

Miss Audrey Steuart is the clerk in the office of the Summerland Box Company.

Dewey Sanborn and his nephew, Stewart Sanborn, still carry on the garage business at the old stand across from the Telephone Office building.

Clough's Bakery recently installed new equipment. Mr. Clough is assisted by Mrs. Clough and his son Chris, who has now returned after active service with the navy.

The most recent change in Summerland is the store which was formerly Pop's Kandy Kitchen. The store front now boasts a modern display window for the Family Shoe Store with Hazel and Mel Ducommun, from Vancouver, as proprietors.

Variety of sports offered

Sports have always been popular in Summerland. With the Okanagan Lake as a natural playground for Skiing, swimming and boating, these interests have increased with the years.

Organized sports such as baseball and tennis have offered many youngsters and adults an outlet for their energies. Tennis used to be played on the wooden courts by the badminton hall until, in 1956, they gave way to parking space for the arena and new courts were built in Peach Orchard. Badminton is still played by many enthusiastic members of the Badminton Club.

Seems we had a lot more snow in yesturdays and the Meadow Valley Ski Hill was very popular to outsiders as well as localites. In the early '50's the Okanagan Valley Ski Championships were held on the hill. Many fine ski hills have been built in the valley, but our hill is still a great attraction to the ski enthusiasts.

Summerland offers a fine beach at Powell Beach where swimming lessons used to be held each summer by the Red Cross under the sponsorship of the Rotary Club. In the middle of the 1950's a group of local residents hauled sand, cleared stones and raked away dead wood at the site now named Rotary Beach. It was then called Louie's Beach in remembrance of Louie, a cement hut on the water's edge. He had passed away the year before. The Rotary Club then brought their swimming lessons to this beach, built a stone retaining wall, a raft and a small wharf, cleared some of the trees and brush from the site and improved the beach. It then became Rotary Beach. Swimming classes are still held there each summer.

Horse back riding is now a popular sport and the Summerland Riding Club has come a long way from their initial start. They feature an annual horse show and gymkhana, with many local and outside riders taking part. They are also active in other community affairs.

The arena provides skating, hockey and curling. A rifle range and trap shooting are also popular sports. Bowling gives Summerland another sport and fishing and hunting round out recreation provided by nature and our climate and situation.

Golfing came back to the community in 1965, after many years of inactivity, when Vic Parker built the Sumac Ridge Golf Club. A shuffleboard was built in Memorial Park in 1966 across from Parkdale Place, adding to the sports of the community.

Church of God started at home

By Rev. M. Schultz

The Trout Creek Church of God had its beginning in 1919 when a small group of concerned people began meeting in homes for prayer and study of Bible teachings. The Lloyd Millers were one of the key families in these beginning years.

The group continued to meet in homes and rented places of orship through the next years.

Several ministers served as leaders of the congregation—some of these were L. Miller, E. Busch, W. Wright and F. Shrock. Without continuous ministerial leadership and a regular place of worship there was much fluctuation of interest and activity.

In 1943 the work began to become beter organized and that year a building site was purchased. In 1946 the building was erected under the supervision of A. C. Johnson.

In the next few years the church hosted several tent camp meetings which spurred onward the growth. The group was also missionary minded and sent a percentage of the income to East Africa, India, South Pacific and other areas. Some of those connected with the church now serve as Christian leaders in other countries and three of these are Doug Welch, Dewey Johnson and Richard Yamabe.

Presently the original building with later additions stands on Gartrell Road, two blocks west of Highway 97. The present membership is 65 with a Sunday School enrollment of 110.

The church emphasis and goal continues to be that of calling people to Christ and to unity, may these goals always remain.

'Witnesses' organized here

To those of you who may read this historical record at some future time, we would like to add the history of the Summerland Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses up to this year of 1967.

In the early 1940's a Congregation was formed and presided over by Mr. Clifford Clarke, a pioneer minister, after some earlier legwork had been done by Mr. Floyd Twiss. These men worked under the direction of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society.

Among the first active house to house ministers were members of the: Wm. Maier, Wm. Dowds, C. Clark, J.P. Priog and J. G. Littau families. The latter two families still being an active part.

Meetings were first held in the Prior home; later in IOOF Hall. In the late 1940's

Fire Department history since 1908 recalled

The first reference of a Summerland Fire Brigade was in the first edition of the Summerland Review of August 8, 1908, when the brigade was summoned to extinguish a brush fire at the southern end of Lower Town as it is now called. The Fire Chief at that time was Wellington Watson, who held that position until about 1941. The equipment in those days was very limited with only a man-drawn hose reel to transport the hose which didn't help much as there was poor water pressure at the hydrants.

Consequently when a fire had a strong hold little could be done to drench the blaze, but help to keep it from spreading. The lack of water and equipment was largely responsible for the loss of so many buildings in the Lower Town in the early days. Among these fires were the Hospital, Gowan's Store, Review Office, Hotel and Packing House. About 1922 the Empire Block was partially burned, and rebuilt, then finally destroyed by fire in 1927. During these years the fire bell for Lower Town was the Bell on the United Church, now the Masonic Hall.

West Summerland didn't escape its fires either in the early days, as the Box Factory burned in 1926, and in later years the Ageno, Lees and Stewart Packing Houses burned.

In March of 1941 the West Summerland Fire Protection Society was formed, with a brigade of 10 men, whose prime responsibility was to protect the immediate area around the business section of town. If the brigade went outside this area, a charge was made. The brigade volunteered to protect the hospital even though it was outside the Fire District. The Society appointed Ed Gould as Fire Chief in 1943. Those persons prominent in forming and administering the Society were: J. R. Campbell as president, W. J. Beattie as secretary and directors S. Feltham, W. Atkinson, W. Fleming, W. S. Ritchie and V. M. Lockwood. With the aid of the Civil Defence Department at Victoria the brigade obtained an ARP Pumper and Firemen's protective clothing. In addition, they had two car-driven trailers to transport the hose. This made up the fire protection equipment.

In 1949 the assets of the Society were turned over to the corporation of Summerland, and the present volunteer Fire Brigade formed. With this, the entire municipality was protected against fire, instead of just the fire district.

In 1949 the first fire truck was purchased, that is still in operation. Ed Gould remained as Chief, and Joe McLachlan was Assistant Chief. The fire fighting force was then increased to 15. In 1956 the Summerland Research Station came under the protection of the Fire Brigade. Two members of the Station were added to the Brigade, now making 17. In 1958 Ed Gould retired and Joe McLachlan was appointed Chief with Joe Biollo as his assistant until 1960 when Fred Dunsdon was appointed as assistant. In 1961 the Brigade strength was increased to its present standing of 21. In 1962, another fire truck was purchased. With the added new equipment, some larger and better storage space was needed. The old fire hall was torn down and a new one built in the same place.

The official opening was on May 18, 1963 at which time Summerland's first paid Fire Chief Ed Gould cut the ribbon.

Reminiscing -- or Gone are the days

By MARY E. ORR
GONE ARE THE DAYS . . .

when we all used to go down to the mouth of Trout Creek and light a big bonfire and rake kickaninies out of the water as they came up in the Fall. We'd get buckets or saks full as desired to eat fresh and salt down for later use. The Indians would be there too, and go around selling the fish.

when Bill and I used to go out in a rowboat with Dad after the evening chores for an hour or two and bring home half-a-dozen twelve inch lake trout strung on a willow branch.

when we young folks used to spend the long summer afternoons or evenings at Sitwash Bay, our favorite beach, with its southern exposure and soft, clean sand, both in and out of the water.

when we used to go b o b-sleighting from Trout Creek through Summerland, up around Garnett Valley in a big farm sleigh with the box lined with straw and blankets, with songs along the way to the accompaniment of the sleighbells and hearty refreshments at the end. How the sparks used to fly up when the runners or the horses "shoes" hit a pebble! We had cozy buckboard or cutter sleigh rides in the moonlight too.

when we used to go skating on the ponds in Granddad Gartrell's orchard.

when we helped (or did we get in the way) at goose-picking bees, cider-making bees and honey extracting time. Oh, the sweet juiciness of the warm honeycomb as it was sliced off to expose the honey!

when we used to watch the horses being shod -- the fire in the forge being fanned by the bellows, and the smell of the hooves burning.

Gone are the days when we sat around the table and did our homework by lamplight. Gone, too, are the days when we were taken to and from school in horsedrawn vans, sometimes by sleigh in Winter.

Gone are the days when the old Methodist Church (since demolished) and the nearby parsonage were centres of activity. Besides the religious and musical training received there we had the use of the gymnasium and hall for games, parties, concerts. That must have been thirty-five years ago. Even longer ago how intrigued we were, when visiting Grandpa and Grandma English by the Milne's store across the street -- one side had hats, ribbons, laces, thread, gloves etc. and the other side was the candy shop -- five cents bought quite a few horhound candies or teddy bears or lozenges with printing on that said nice things like "I love you" or nasty things like "Kick me". Away back then it was quite an adventure to go down past Elliott's Store, past Milne's, then John Tait's Horticultural Office, Shield's blacksmith shop, English' livery barn across the street, the Drug Store where Mr. Hogg was the Summerland Hotel with a few loungers on the porch and the bandstand across the way. Next was the Empire Hall where I learned to dance; the Summerland Supply Company Store where Dad m a d e the first purchase -- a pair of gloves; Mr. Royer's shoe repair shop and up the hill a way to the Telephone Office where my Aunt worked for a while.

Gone are the breathlessly hot nights the summer used to bring, accompanied by thunder and lightning storms.

Gone, too, thanks to Forest Protection with look-out stations and attendants, are the days and nights of choking, smoky, hot air from fires across on the mountain.

Gone are the days when a younger brother, Lloyd, used to go over to the corner at the foot of the Sandhill Road, by the big maple trees and pick a lovely bouquet of wild bluebells (the only ones to be found around the Point) every Spring for Mother on Mother's Day. A wider road was needed for traffic so beauty had to be sacrificed.

Gone are the days when we used to go out to the icehouse, get a block of ice out of the sawdust with the tongs, wash it, put it in a grain sack, break it into pieces by hitting it with the broad side of the axe and use it along with coarse salt to freeze the creamy rich ice cream to be eaten by the soup plate full!

Gone are the days of haying in the Fall. There were Indian helpers to cook for beside our regular family and between meals we youngsters would take food and large pails full of drinks out to the field. I remember especially the water-on-oatmeals-ones, real thirst quenchers. The source of one of Uncle Arthur Day's favorite stories told on Bill was the time he had to go barefoot through the stubble field and how he cried because of the "stickers".

No more long hours of anguish waiting for Lloyd, a little below them who, was gone to the faraway Garnett Valley Range on his pony to round up and bring in the cattle to be kept in and fed over the winter.

I can see Granddad Gartrell yet on Sports Days, for which he had a passion, sitting on an apple box in the shade of the nut trees waiting for some kind soul to come along and take him to Penticton to the Horse Races and Ball Game.

Gone are the days when we used to walk or ride around the C.P.R. Station, sit on a wharf piling and think of the good old times, or while doing our stint at the Co-op, how we loved to soak up the Indian Summer sunshine while eating our lunch on the south side of the Station. Now t h e y ' v e grounded it! What a shock after all these years. I wonder what became of the lifebelt with "Summerland" printed on it, that used to hang on the Eastend of the Wharf?

Gone are the days of the lovely, leisurely rides up and down Okanagan Lake on the paddlewheelers and the thrill of seeing them arrive or depart with the searchlight at night seeking out a guiding mark on the claybank. It fills one with nostalgia to walk around the S.S. Sicamous now and see her lying gutted, shorn of her former glory. But I suppose her heart is glad knowing a job was well and faithfully done, and in a different way she is still providing pleasure to many.

Yes, gone are the days but not forgotten.

MANY YEARS AGO

Miss N Holder is not sure when this picture was taken for this "private post card" (1 cent in Canada and U.S., 2 cents foreign), but it is doubtful that much if any, of what was known as West Summerland, even existed.

Summerland

A school system considered in 1903

By S. A. MacDONALD

About 1902 the Summerland Development Company, which had been organized by J. M. Robinson, purchased a number of properties in this District and laid out the land in fruit lots. Around this time also James Ritchie bought property in Garnett Valley and some Indian Reserve lands around where West Summerland is now located. These lands were also sub-divided into fruit lots and offered for sale, particularly in the Prairie Provinces and the Maritimes.

These lots sold readily and settlers began to arrive in considerable numbers. As the only means of transportation at that time was by boat on Okanagan Lake most of the settlers located near the Lake.

The establishment of a Public School system for the new District was first considered at a public meeting in what was then the new Summerland Hotel, on February 3, 1903. Three trustees J. M. Robinson, J. R. Brown and H. C. Atkinson were chosen and space for a classroom was arranged for in a building across from where the Cornwall Cannery is now situated. A lady teacher was engaged but on account of illness was unable to come so K. S. Hogg, of Peachland, was chosen to conduct the School until the end of the term.

At first there were children from only two families to attend this School. The children from the J. M. Robinson family lived close by the Summerland Hotel but the J. R. Brown children had to come from the Trout Creek area about three miles south. A democrat and horses were used and as there was no road the travelling was along the edge of the Lake, which at some places was so narrow a shore line, particularly at the base of the clay cliffs, that two wheels of the vehicle were in the water.

One of the pleasant memories of this School was the shift of location on hot days from the classroom to a sailboat where studies were carried on in the cooler atmosphere on the Lake. Anita Brown, now Mrs. Granville Morgan was one of the pupils at this School and is still living in Summerland.

This building and also the School building that was erected later that year, were used for Church services by three denominations until their own Churches were built. Anita Brown played the organ for all three for a time and also for the Anglican Church.

By the end of June there were 24 pupils in attendance and the building was overcrowded. Mr. H. C. Mellor was given a contract to construct a one-room school at a cost of $1280. The site chosen was below the present Hospital, opposite where Miss Banks now lives. During the next year the attendance went up to 43. Miss Minie Smith, of Peachland, was the teacher.

By 1905 this School was too small so the citizens decided at a meeting called by Inspector Gordon to build a larger and more central school. Among those attending the meeting were J. R. Brown, Alex. Stewart, H. Gallagher, C. H. Cordy, H. Bristow, R. H. English and Miss Smith. The site chosen was where West Summerland is now located. The proposed School was to have two rooms, one for the junior pupils of the area around West Summerland, and the other for the senior pupils of the whole District.

In 1906 a school was built in Prairie Valley. This School remained in use until 1911 when it was permanently closed. In 1907 the Garnett Valley School was built and opened with Miss Ballantyne in charge. The school was closed temporarily in 1911 but reopened in 1913 and remained in operation until it was finally closed in 1919. Miss Ruth Dale was the last teacher in charge.

Mr. J. C. Robson was the first Principal of the Summerland Schools. He had taught in Ontario for many years before coming to B.C. He had been Principal in Vernon, and after leaving Summerland he was Principal in Revelstoke and later in Rossland. After his retirement he lived in Summerland where his daughter, Mrs. E. R. Butler, and two grandsons still live.

The following are extracts from an article written by Mr. Robson:

The trustees conceived the idea of building a Central School with two rooms, one for the junior pupils of the nearby area and the other for all the senior pupils of the whole municipality. The three schools already established were to remain open for the younger pupils of their respective districts.

In 1908 the Board called for tenders for this building. The Government considered the tenders too high and as a result the building was not proceeded with when the Fall term opened. I had been appointed Principal and when school opened in the Fall we had to find temporary quarters.

The upstairs of Mr. Laidlaw's store then owned by the Summerland Supply Company was then put in shape for Grades 7 and 8. As the Trustees seemed unable to get the Government to put up the building and as I objected very strongly to having our classes mewed up in a dark and inconvenient room, I took a hand in the matter myself. I wrote to Mr. Price Ellison, member then for this constituency. Inside of ten days the contract was let and the building was ready for use by the beginning of the New Year.

(End of quotation)

The School Board was so well satisfied with the Central School experiment, which, incidentally, was the first in British Columbia, that they decided to build a larger Central School building, to bring in all the pupils of the whole Municipality in vans, and to close all the outlying Schools.

Tenders were called for a four-room school and in January, 1911, H. W. Harvey got the contract at $10,000 and C. N. Borton got a contract for the plumbing and heating at the figure of $2,300. This building was used until the present High School was built in 1951.

When this four-room School was completed in 1911, all the outlying schools were closed but three of them were reopened at a later date.

The closing of the district schools made necessary some means of transporting all the pupils to the Central School. The first vehicles used were, of course, horse-drawn and were usually owned by the driver. In 1919 the first motor-driven vehicle was put into use and in the following year all the transportation was by motor vehicles. It is interesting to note the change in names of the vehicles as time went on. At first they were called 'rigs', this gradually changed to 'vans' and finally they became 'buses'. The drivers of these vehicles were usually interested in the record for long years of safe driving goes to George Henry who retired only last year after driving for 46 years. On his retirement he received words of congratulations from the Community and also an official letter from the Supt. of Motor Vehicles in Victoria.

The school on Hospital Hill was closed temporarily in 1911 but was reopened in the following year and remained in use until it was finally closed in 1920. Miss Kathleen Elliott was the last teacher. It was sold in that year to H. Lumsden for $750.

In 1909 a school was started at Trout Creek in a building owned by J. R. Brown. It was closed in 1911 as well as the other outside schools but in 1916 another school was opened in a private building also owned by J. R. Brown. A new school building was put up in 1917 and remained in use for three years when it was finally closed. Two of the teachers of that period are still living in Summerland — Miss Rita Harrison (now Mrs. Thornthwaite) and Miss Grace Logie (now Mrs. Hector Whitaker).

In 1908 a new site was purchased and a two-room building constructed. Two years later this was enlarged and again in 1905 a new classroom and an Activity Room were added. Now it is a modern well-equipped four-room school.

Following the First Great War the rapidly increasing attendance made it necessary to plan for further accommodation. A one-room, cottage-type, building was constructed and later became the public library for many years. A block of land where the MacDonald School now stands was purchased from James Ritchie and plans were drawn up for an eight-room building. A by-law to provide the necessary funds was placed before the ratepayers in May, 1921, but was defeated. This was the only school by-law ever to be defeated in Summerland. However, the by-law was brought up again the following year for a slightly smaller sum and this time it passed. When the eight-room building was completed in 1922 it was able to accommodate all the Elementary pupils and the High School pupils moved into the four-room building which continued to serve as a High School until the present Secondary School was built in 1951. The contractor who built this eight-room building was Thomas Carson, of Vancouver, and his bid was $34,987.

During these two years of expanding enrolment, all the existing buildings were needed for the Elementary pupils so that the High School had no home. For a time they used the Okanagan College buildings on Giant's Head and when the climbing became too strenuous they moved down to Summerland at the Lakeside where they were accommodated in the Men's Club of the Methodist Church and also in the Summerland Hotel.

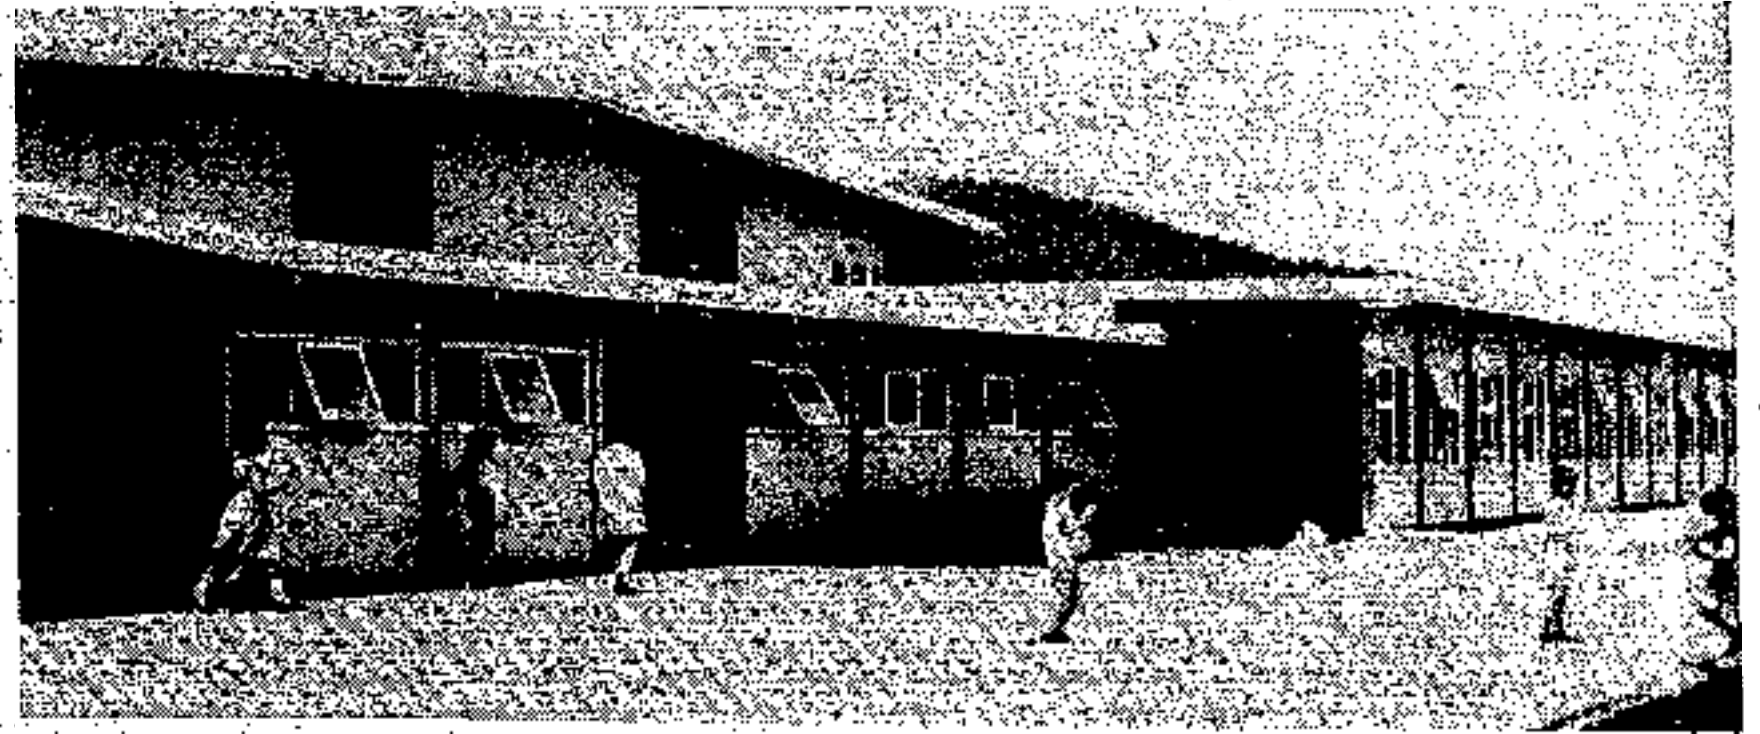

The first Manual Training course was started in 1918 with Rev. Charles Baker as instructor. He held that position for three years and was followed by A. Wishart and Mr. Cunliffe. In June, 1923, Manual Training was suspended temporarily but it was started again the following February with S. W. J. Feltham in charge. Mr. Feltham continued as instructor until his retirement in 1930.

Miss Oliver started the Domestic Science course in September, 1919, but resigned at the end of that term and Miss Anderson took over until June.

In September, the teacher who had been appointed was unable to come and as accommodation was limited the Board seized the opportunity to dispense with Domestic Science and the room was used as a temporary classroom. As a result there was no further Domestic Science until 1937 when Miss Kay Rutherford became the teacher.

Top is part of the Summerland Junior-Senior Secondary School complex and the other picture is the latest addition to the MacDonald Elementary School. There are over a thousand students in the two units. Both are situated uptown Summerland.

Since 1940 there has been almost continuous building activity. In that year the eight-room building was enlarged to twelve room and fully modernized. In 1950 it was named MacDonald School in honor of S. A. MacDonald who had been Principal since 1930. He continued to be Principal until his retirement in 1956.

In 1948 a five-acre orchard which adjoined the School grounds on the south was purchased from Judge Kelley and plans were prepared for a new Junior-Senior High School. When this building was completed in 1951 the High School pupils moved in as well as Grades 7 and 8 from the Elementary School. In 1961 five classrooms and an Activity Room were added to the MacDonald School. In 1956 a contract was let for an addition to the High School and in 1965 another addition was authorized to provide for the new courses being offered.

During the Second Great War a Cadet Corps was formed consisting of all the High School students, both boys and girls, and also all the senior pupils of the Elementary School. No military uniform was issued at that time but a uniform was provided locally consisting of white shirts and blue skirts or trousers. As the war years went on, many of these cadets as well as former pupils enlisted in the various services. Some 175 boys and 25 girls joined up and, sad to relate, twenty of them did not return.

In 1966, extensive improvements were made on the School grounds. A five-acre tract of land to the north was purchased from D. Dunham.

A number of teachers, particularly in the Elementary School, have put in a great many years of service and are now retired and living in Summerland. Mr. Feltham became instructor in Manual Training in 1924 and held that position until his retirement, in 1950. For many years there were no School Counsellors and Mr. Feltham acted as unofficial Boys' Counsellor.

Miss Ruth Dale who retired in 1960 had taught for a few years in the Garnett Valley School and drove out there every day with her horse and buggy. When that school closed she moved in to the Central School. She was greatly loved by all her pupils. Miss Banks was the Primary teacher for about forty years and made a strong and lasting impression on the pupils during their first year at school. Miss Nicholson,

Art Club has been holding shows for fifteen years

In our centennial year of 1967 the Summerland Art and Craft Club has thirty members: President Dorothy Morgan, Secretary Margery Croil, Treasurer Edith Scott and Marilyn Hansen, Mary Lopa- ecki, Eileen McArthur, Gladys Laidlaw, Katy Madsen, Ivy Mason, Sally Landry, K. Krahn- stoever, Dorothy Davis, Allie Tamblin, Kay Dundson, Mar- garet Caldwell, Joan McKen- zie, Colin McKenzie, Gladys Pool, Ruth Keys, Dianne Wa- terhouse, Clarence Davis, Mar- garet Estabrook, Olive Wilson, Hilda Allison, Margery Lane, Margaret Babcock, Mrs. Phil- lips, Helen Tilbe, Emily Weist, Lila Smith and Olive Thwaite of Peachland.

This year we have held our 15th annual Art Show with approximately 75 paintings on display. The club has always been active in the community and has gained recognition throughout the province be- cause of its progressive ideas in the world of art.

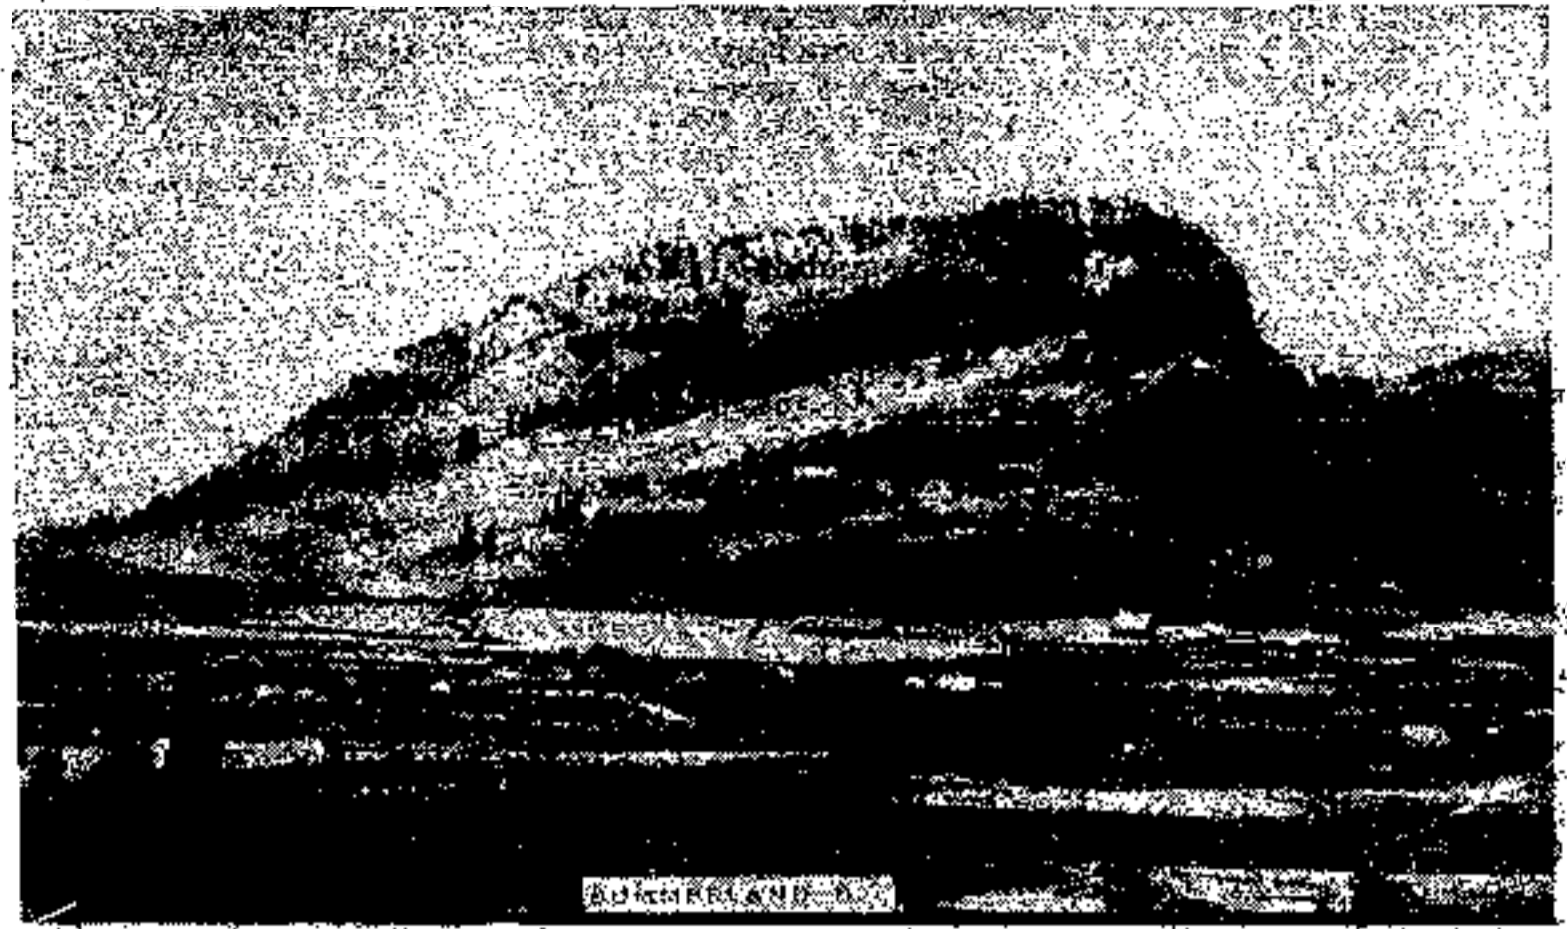

Our history dates back to the early days of Summerland. In 1920, sponsored by Jack Lo- gie, a craft and pottery group was formed and they had ap- proximately twelve members: Miss Dean, Mrs. Thomas Croil, Miss Marion Cartwright, Miss Doris Cordy, Mrs. Helen Pares, Mrs. Helen Turner, Mrs. J. P. Nelson, Mrs. Vida Zimmerman, Mrs. Eckersley, Miss Mary Vic- ary, Mrs. George Gartrell and Mrs. Marion Collas. They owned and operated the Log Cabin at the foot of Peach Orchard Road. It will be remembered by those who knew it for the attractive totem pole in front of the cabin as well as the pottery they sold and the hos- pitality they offered visitors by serving tea.

Their pottery was known for its very special glazes which were sent out from England. Delightful blues and reds be- came very popular and are still treasured by those who possess them. Miss Cordy dem- onstrated at the P. N. E. and they also taught pottery to the young people of the commu- nity.

A number of years passed, and in the late 1940's Ivy Ma- son originated a group to paint at Stan Gladwells home. They brought in various courses through the U. B. C. Extension Department. These included painting, art appreciation and home decoration by Miss Cross and stencilling and lino cuts by Miss Travis. This same group of people held music ap- preciation courses for three years. Among this group were: Margery Delacroir, Mrs. R. Bu- layney, Dot Davis, Dorothy Morgan, Margery Palmer, Kay Strachan, Ivy Mason, Muriel Proverbs and Stan Gladwell.

The present art group had its origin in a class held in the summer of 1953, when Marion Collas brought in Miss Topham Brown of Vernon to teach. This resulted in the first art show which was sponsored by the Womens Institute. The following summer, they had Peter Aspell, a well known ar- tist from the Vancouver Art School, teach for a month. This gave the group further incen- tive and enthusiasm and result- ed in a winter course by Mrs. Vaughn Mann. Some of the original group are still active in the club: Marjorie Croil, Al- lie Tamblin, Kay Dundson, Margaret Babcock, Ivy Mason, and Olive Wilson. Among the members were Mrs. Marion Collas, Mrs. E. Hookham, Gwen Penney, Lavender Hyde, Ray McNabb, Des and Peggy Loan, Sheila White, Irvine A- dams, Mrs. W. Powell, Gordon Whittaker, Mary Emery, Fred-

Storey, Beatrice MacLeod, and Peter Ochs. After the new library was built, the Art Club was fortun- ate to have the facilities to show paintings. Summerland has always shown an interest in the arts and this was dem- onstrated by the wholehearted support of the Municipal Coun- cil. Shows were brought in from various Valley artists, and in the community were many professional and semi- professional artists. Among these were Katjo Krahnsto- ever, Vaughn Mann, Peter Ochs, Gwen Penney, Robert Borsos, Bruce Crawford, Bob Brinton, Marjorie Croil, Mur- ray McArthur, Ivy Mason and Katy Madsen. Since the beginning of Okaw- agan Summer School of the Arts, the Art Club has given scholarships to young people interested in furthering their careers in painting. Some of these young artists have gone on to professional careers. Re- cipients of the award have been Archie McGillivray, Marj- orie Johnson, Breen Berg- strome, Dwain Greer, Kerry Norris, Bruce Crawford, Fran- ces Bentley, Jane Blagborne, Murray McArthur and Anne Bennison. The scholarships were later named the Oxley Award in memory of Bob Ox-

The officers and members and employees of the Summerland Co-operative Grower's Association take pride in celebrating Canada's Centennial Birthday. In keeping with the times, our organization has come from boxes to bins; from hand labour to lift trucks; from common storage to controlled atmos- phere storage; from unwashed fruit to waxed fruit. . . It is now the largest packing and individual business in Summerland. They also started the largest cannery in Summerland.

Gwen Penney and Allie Tamblin taught painting in the Parks, sponsored by the Western Art Group, for a number of years. The Art Club projects have been varied and many. For a number of years the club decorated the Youth Centre for the annual Eastern Star dance, as well as preparing the Skating Club carnival backdrop, puppet shows, a float for the 20th anniversary celebration, the nativity scene for the council, decorations for the Chamber of Commerce Queen Crowning ceremony, and backdrops and Centennial dance sponsored by the Kiwanis Club.

The club has been a friend of the library for a number of years. Members assisted in annual housecleaning, purchased new chairs for the librarians, subscriptions to magazines and a globe for public use.

A craft society was inaugurated with the Art Club in 1962 when a craft stall was officially opened July 23 in Trout Creek, sponsored by Howe Thomson at the Trout Creek I. G. A. store. It was operated on a non-profit basis.

In 1967 craft interest was revived with the assistance of the Municipal Council, who allowed the use of a room in the Health Centre every Friday and financial aid and support were also given by the local Recreation Commission. Many took advantage of this and as the club specialized in rugs crewel work they were able to hold their first Rug Show in 1967. It was a financial success as well as proving the need of such a group, with over 70 rugs displayed. In the future they hope to enter the field of weaving by bringing in expert teachers.

The Art Club was affiliated with the Community Arts Council in Vancouver and the Vancouver Art Gallery and is a member of the Western Art Circuit. This has enabled the groups to bring in art shows of high calibre.

Members have sponsored and participated in art classes for the last twelve years and brought in many highly qualified people from the U. B. C. Extension Department. At present they are fortunate in having Cyril Murray teach a night school class in the winter to beginners as well as to more advanced students.

As the calibre of the club improved, they sent shows to various places. Included were Kelowna, Vernon, Penticton, Naramata, Trail, Williams Lake and Vancouver as well as the juried shows in the Okanagan Valley. Several paintings were accepted at the Studio Fair in Vancouver.

Honours came to individual members of the Art Club. Ivy Mason, owh "made" the June "Chalaine" with an article about her memorial rubbings on tour east and west from the National Art Gallery in Ottawa. Mrs. Mason was on two trips to England to obtain these fine rubbings. Kay Dundson designed the Summerland Municipality's new crest which has been approved by the College of Arms, London. Also Eileen McArthur hold a one-man show in the Kelowna Library. Allie Tamblin has designed crests for many local sports clubs. Marjorie Croil Kay Dundson designed the official cover of the Summerland Sweets and Mrs. Croil and her daughter Mary Walker drew

The first Pentecostal Church services were held in the Odd Fellows Hall, Summerland, under the ministry of Rev. Albert Grimes in the year 1946.

The first board consisted of L. Downs, L. Schindel, and H. Mohr who continued to serve on the board for 19 years. It was during the ministry of Rev. Grimes that the present church property was purchased from Mr. L. Schindel.

the crest for the South Okanagan Union Board of Health.

Many members have gone on to professional careers in the field of art. Some of these are Gwen Penney, Peter Ochs, Marjorie Johnson and Dwaine Greer.

The Summerland Art Club has moved with the times. It has experimented in silk screening, wood and lino cuts, batik, collage, acrylic and sometimes successfully into the field of abstractions. Many mediums have been used: traditional oil, paper batik, crayon, pastel and ink. In the next hundred years it is hoped this tradition will have been carried on. May we move in the arts as we have in the past to more progressive fields

Under the ministry of Rev. Clarence Preston, who came to Summerland in the spring of 1949, the present church structure was erected. The pastor's residence was located in the church basement. Mr. W. Henderson who faithfully served on the church board for several years was in charge of the building program when the church was constructed.

Rev. W. Marshall who was called to pastor in 1951 had a short ministry here, followed by a team of three young ladies, Dorothy Green, Shirley Flewitt and Marjorie Moore, who supplied during the summer months.

Rev. C. Postal pastored during the years 1952-54 and Rev. E. J. Shannon the years of 1954-57.

Rev. D. Rathjen commenced his ministry in 1957 and it was during his eight year ministry that the present parsonage was erected.

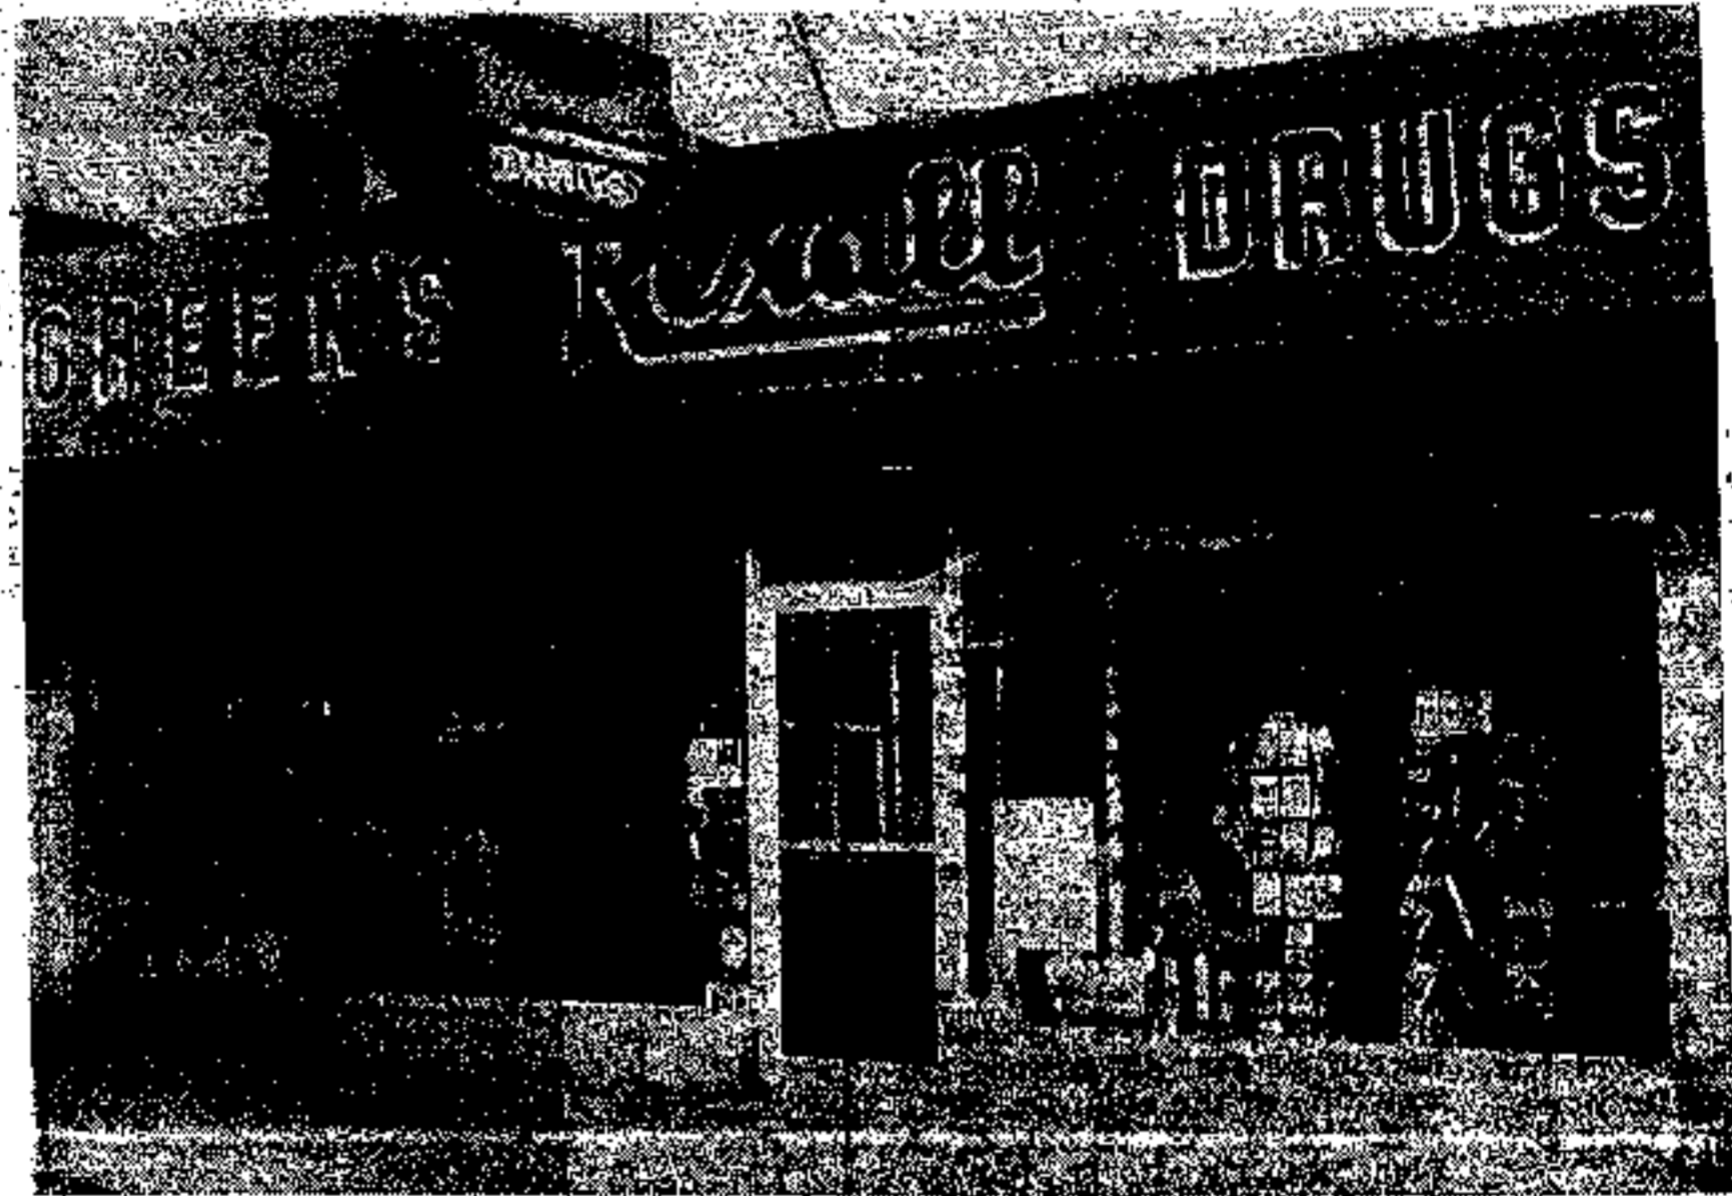

The present pastor, Rev. J. R. Caughlin was called to pastor in the summer of 1964, coming from the Manitoba district where he pastored for 11 years.

The present church board consists of J. Manning, Wm. Toews and P. Toews. Thirty-four members comprise the membership roll.

SUMMERLAND

Summerland Rotary Club started with 19 members, Nov., 1945

By B. A. TINGLEY

The Summerland Rotary Club had its beginning on November 1, 1945, with nineteen charter members. The first president was Dr. H. L. McLarty, vice-president, A. W. Nisbet; secretary-treasurer, Gordon Smith and the directors, C.J. Huddleston, Dr. W. H. B. Munn and C. J. Bleasdale. The club was sponsored by the Kelowna Rotary Club after its president, F. M. Buckland had conducted a survey here which showed the advisability of a new club being formed. The charter presentation was held in the IOOF Hall on January 21, 1946, with the Governor of District 103, Dr. R. W. Irving officiating.

It is worthy of note that of the nineteen charter members, eight are still on the roster 22 years later: Gordon Smith, Roy Angus, C. J. Bleasdale, Mel. Ducommun, Dr. W.H.B. Munn, J. A. McLachlan, George Perry and Dr. H. L. McLarty (honorary member).

SUBSTANTIAL PROJECTS

It has been necessary to raise funds to carry out Rotary projects and various methods have been used for that purpose. Auctions of surplus articles donated by members were carried out for several years. Sponsorship of U. B. C. Players, Traill Men's Choir, Indian School choruses and other groups have been carried out from time to time.

One of the outstanding performances of the Club was in 1953 when a minstrel show was produced. This was a massive effort involving the preparation of the script and many rehearsals over a period of months with all members taking part.

The "Apple Deal" has been a good source of revenue in recent years. About six hundred boxes of apples of different varieties are purchased each fall and placed in cold storage. The fruit is sold during the winter months and is usually disposed of by the middle of May.

Membership has varied through the years from the original nineteen, enrolment has reached as high as forty-one. At present we have thirty-two members on the roster.

The Summerland Club was originally in District 103, later in District 157 and, in 1957, by a subdivision, we became part of District No. 506 which contains twenty-five clubs, fifteen being in the State of Washington and ten in British Columbia. The international border is no bar to the friendship and fellowship between the clubs.

The club bulletin, "The Rotattler" had its origin in 1955. Walter Wright was the editor for about ten years and the originator of the title. It has been published more or less regularly since the beginning twice monthly.

It is noteworthy that Ted Atkinson was elected District Governor for the year 1966-67. During this year the District Conference, a yearly event, was held in the Peach Bowl at Penticton being co-hosted by the Summerland and Penticton Clubs.

Some of the projects of community or general benefit are:

1. The Rotary Beach project at Evans Point was commenced in 1956. Much work has been done through the years including the building of the wharf, the moving of sand and the provision of a retaining wall, all for the purpose of making a safe beach for children.

2. Rotary Red Cross Swim classes were started in 1952 and have been continued. From a small beginning this plan has grown until, last year, there was an enrolment of over four hundred with three instructors. In the early stages, Mrs. Lavender Hyde was of great assistance to the Club as an instructor and in an administrative capacity.

3. The Secondary School Grand Piano was purchased in 1956 and the Club, along with other local organizations assisted ($500) in the purchase.

4. Visits to Coulee Dam were popular a few years ago and each year the Club took the members of the Secondary School graduating class to see this gigantic construction.

5. Student exchange between high schools in Washington State and Summerland was commenced in the 1950s and has been carried on yearly since. The Club provides billets for the visiting students who attend our Secondary School and also provide visits to events of interest in the Okanagan. Our club takes credit for pioneer work in these exchanges.

6. Red Cross canvasses have been carried out by the Club for many years. The whole area is canvassed usually in one evening with all Rotarians taking part and assisted, in some cases, by members of Teen-Town.

In this Centennial Year, 1967, in addition to the usual projects, the club is furnishing a room in the new Summerland Hospital, installing directional signs at the site of the Giant's Head Park and inaugurating bursaries for Secondary School students, two of $100 each, have just been awarded.

PRESIDENTS

Presidents are elected for one-year and the following have filled that office since the inception of the club: Dr. H. L. McLarty, A. W. Nisbet, C. J. Bleasdale, Dr. R. C. Palmer, J. A. McLachlan, Francis Stewart, Reid Johnston, S. A. MacDonald, Mel. Ducommun, Ivor Solly, Clarke Wilkin, T. B. Young, Ross McLachlan, Gerry Laidlaw, Les. Rumball, Ted. Atkinson, Harvey Wilson, Gordon Beggs, Cece Wade, Gordon Smith, Jock Johnston, Keith Marten (Len. Welst, president-elect).

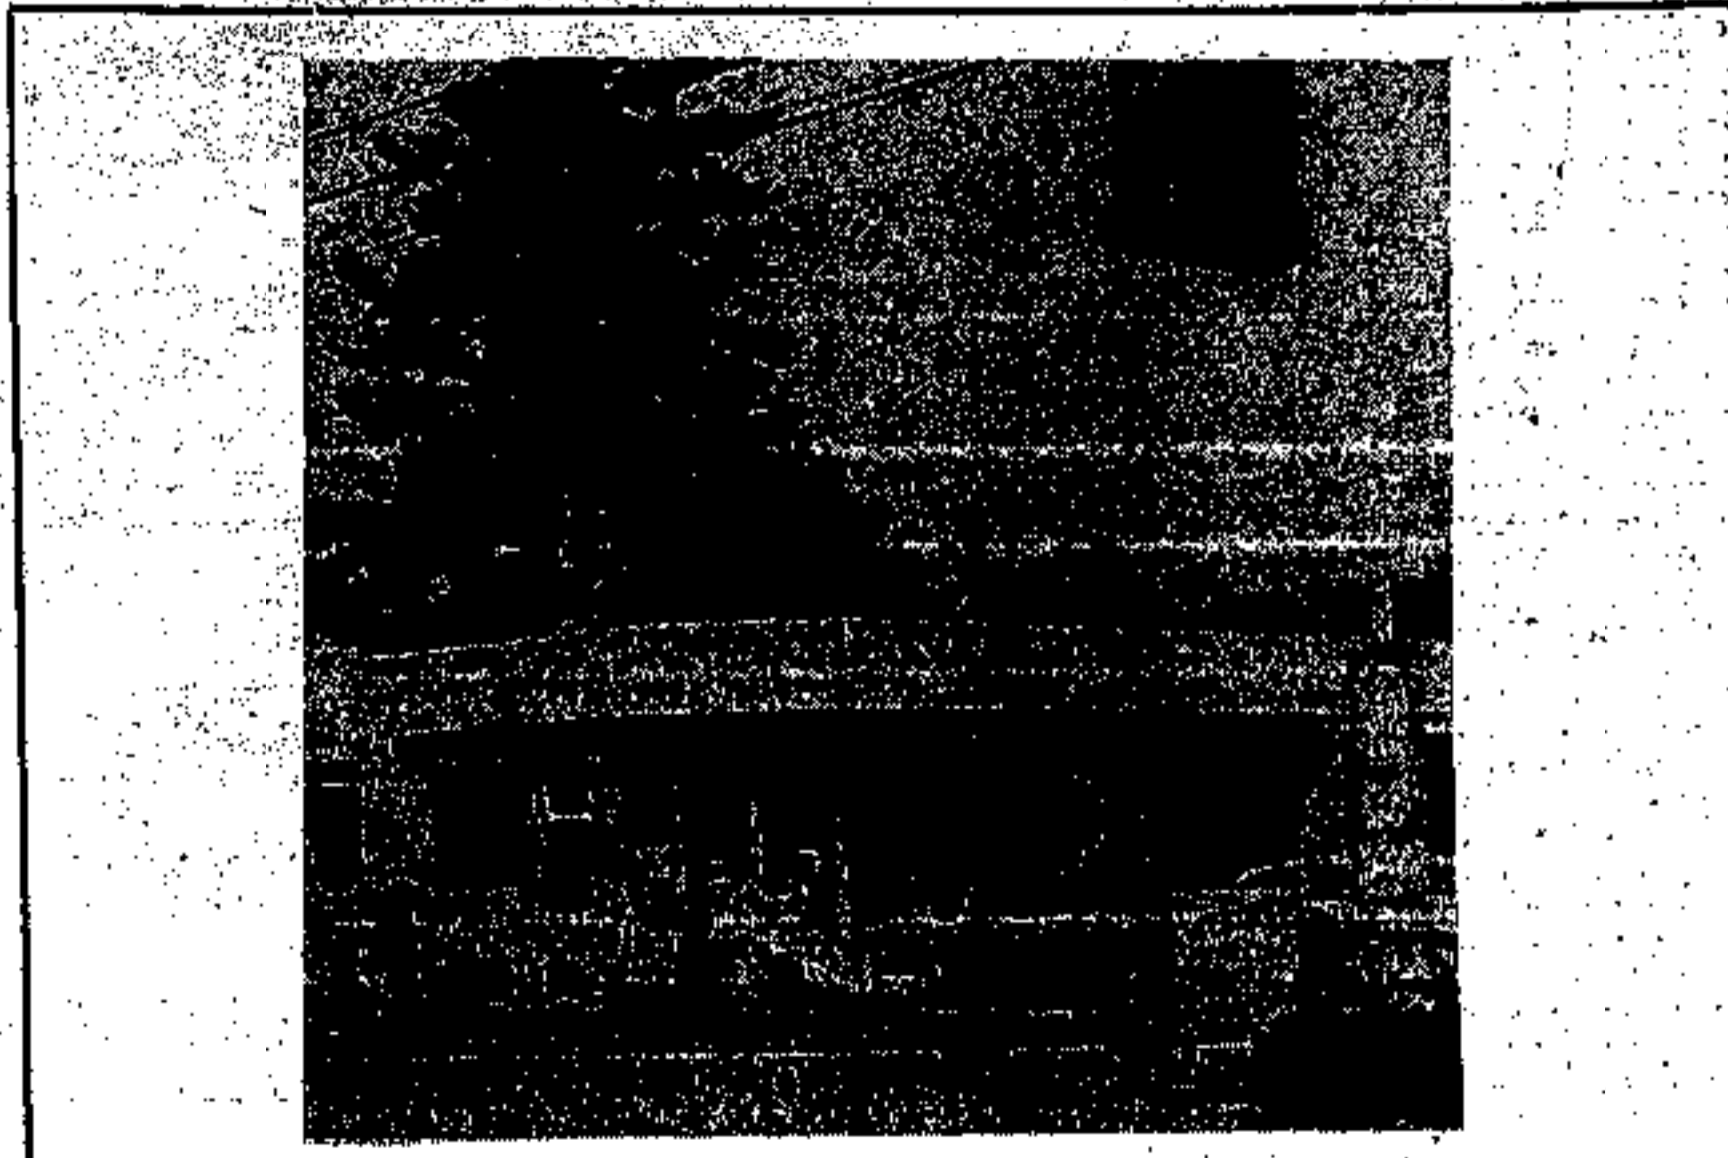

In other offices, some members have given long and valued services as: Roy Angus, secretary-treasurer for nine years and Ryan Lawley, treasurer for nine years.

In the early days, the Club meetings were held in the Nuway Cafe. Later, the meeting place was over Holmes & Wade with Mac's Cafe catering. In 1956, the Club moved to the Sumac Ridge Clubhouse at the north end of town. This is a beautiful setting where we overlook rolling greens, the tops of pine trees, the Okanagan Lake, with Penticton discernable through the haze in the distance.
