STRENUOUS WEEK AT HIGH SCHOOL

Good Showing Made By Students at Easter Exams.

BIG HANDICAP

Proper School Building And Equipment Will Be Great Impetus To Education.

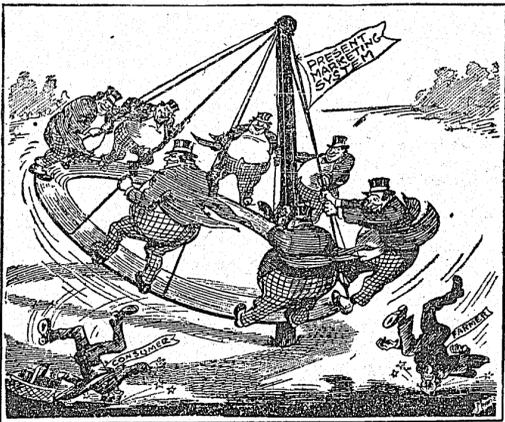

The high school pupils have just completed a strenuous week writing on the Easter examinations and the reports are now in their hands. On the whole the results have been very satisfactory to the teachers. In some cases the marks are lower than might have been expected. In a few cases this is accounted for by the fact that the Easter examinations come at the end of the term just after completing a course of study and before opportunity has been had to review the subjects. By June the work of the year will have been carefully reviewed and every earnest student can then be expected to make a very creditable showing. The results of the examinations at Christmas and Easter are a certain indication to parents and students of where the weak spots are. The wise pupil will accept the warning and plan the work during the weeks intervening between now and the final examination in June so as to insure success.

"It should be remembered by all who are interested in the work of the school," says Principal Welsh, "that these examinations held at stated periods are not intended to develop a spirit of rivalry amongst pupils, or to act as a barrier to the intellectual progress, but to determine clearly the fitness of the pupil to advance to higher stages in the acquirement of knowledge. A very great injustice is done a pupil when he is placed in a class for which he has not been previously fitted by very careful training. Various substitutes for the 'wearisome examinations' have been suggested and many tried, but none have proved to be satisfactory. The old method of examination still remains the best. When a student has made diligent preparation and has made the pursuit of knowledge the goal of all his effort in school he enters into the examination with an eagerness and spirit akin to that of the well trained athlete who enters the games confident of victory.

"The students in Summerland High School have labored throughout the year under numerous disadvantages as compared with others throughout the province. Crowded, ill-ventilated, and poorly heated class rooms are not the conditions under which to expect the finest results. When you add to these lack of equipment, the community is to be congratulated that its pupils do as well as they do at the testing times. Education will receive a great forward impetus in Summerland the day the High School enters a well furnished and commodious building of its own."

Below is appended a list of the standing of the pupils in the recent examination.

SPEAKS AT THE OPEN FORUM ON THE PRESS OF CANADA

Interesting Discussion At Last Session For Season. President Welsh and Another Member Of Executive Resigns.

That the newspapers of Canada were not controlled by the Big Interests as had been said at an earlier meeting, was the opinion of Mr. R. J. McDougall, editor of the Penticton Herald, in his address at the Open Forum on Sunday afternoon, when he gave an excellent review of the newspaper history of the world and Canada in particular. Stating that the first newspaper was printed in Peking, China, A.D. 750, and the first in England in 1641, the speaker showed the difference between the publishing business at that time and the present, by stating that in that year, a "printer" was hanged, drawn and quartered for publishing news of parliamentary proceedings.

The first paper in America, he stated, was the Boston News Letter, published in 1604, whilst the original paper in Canada was started at Halifax, and the first in B.C. at Victoria 60 years ago.

Although at one time, newspapers were used for political purposes, the present tendency is to go into the business for gain, as the public now think for themselves and are not led by the papers, and as long as we know who owns the paper, and what it stands for, we can judge for ourselves from its general tone, and not from particular items with which we personally do not agree. The speaker laid stress on the fact that a newspaper was a reflection of the people of a community, and that if it was poor it was apparent that the paper was the measure of the support given by the public, who therefore make their own paper. If your local paper seems to be maintaining a high standard and doing its best, you should be big enough to let your individual feelings sink.

It was Mr. McDougall's opinion that the papers in B.C. were not owned or controlled by interests, but by men with enterprise and ambition the same as other business men. He maintained that the Canadian papers had never dropped to the level attributed to American papers, that news was now obtained through the Canadian Associated Press who had direct wires to the Old Country, and therefore could be accepted as nearly accurate as the Editor could make it. It was not necessary now to obtain news from Britain through the Associated Press of America.

On discussion, Mr. T. H. Riley asked for information regarding what he called "camouflage" in the Vancouver Province, and Mrs. Fosbery was of the opinion that a paper cannot be free if it carries more advertising than news. Mr. T. P. Thornber read an extract from the London Spectator, which inferred that the modern tendency of the press is toward monopoly, and Mr. J. W. S. Logie maintained that what Upton Sinclair says of the United States papers was substantially the same in Canada, and wanted to know if Mr. Nichol owned The Province who owned Mr. Nichol. He also affirmed that news which should have been published by the Vancouver papers was not given until The Federationist had forced the issue.

Mr. A. J. Beer contended that news in favor of the Labor Party was printed in small type, whilst news reflecting against it was printed in large type, also that an article sent by him to The Province was not published.

In answering the several speakers Mr. McDougall did not see that there was any necessity to reply to Mr. Logie's statement as to who owns Mr. Nichol, as the same question might be asked of any other business man, and was irrelevant. There was nothing wrong in owning more papers than one, if a business man was successful and wished to extend his business, and he pointed out that although according to Mr. Logie, the Federated Press was the only reliable one, even Labor did not accept the Federationist. He was sorry he could not agree with Mrs. Fosbery, as advertising was the life of a paper, which could not possibly exist without it. As long as the advertising was general, and not from one person.

UNITED FARMERS SEEK LEGISLATION

Labor Insurance, Rural Credits, and Oriental Exclusion.

United Farmers of British Columbia through the House Committee on Agriculture, are seeking legislation on several subjects dealt with by them in recent convention.

They would have farm help placed under the Workmen's Compensation Act; rural credits on the amortization plan, to enable farmers with limited means to develop their properties; reduction in freight rates; someone thoroughly acquainted with the Oriental problem in this province appointed to the personnel of any commission invited to the coming Imperial conference; exemption from taxation on a valuation in excess of the $1,000 now exempt in order that farmers may keep more stock, own more implements, thus increasing production.

Establishment of a hydro-electric commission to develop power in the northern Okanagan and other districts is sought by the United Farmers, who would also have the Spallumcheen Indian Reserve, containing thousands of acres and adjacent to the town of Enderby, cancelled so as to remove a great handicap on development. It is pointed out that there are but few Indians left on the reservation.

NAMES CIVIC COMMITTEE

Surprising Conditions of Business Properties Revealed.

A FIRE CHIEF

Board of Trade Asks Council To Appoint Such Official. Ferry Rates Higher.

The naming of a civic committee, and a discussion on civic improvements, including building regulations, better fire protection, and improved sanitary conditions were the outstanding features of the regular meeting of the Summerland Board of Trade held on Tuesday evening, presided over by Pres. J. C. Freeman.

Two new members, P. Gray and G. Marshall were elected.

At the previous meeting the President was requested to name a civic committee and at Tuesday's meeting he appointed the following: J. Tait, chairman, A. McLachlan, G. Marshall, R. C. Lipsett, and A. B. Morkill. Among correspondence read was a letter from the Department of Public Works stating that the subsidy to the Summerland-Naramata ferry could not be increased, but that the Department intended to increase the rates. This information was not received with very good grace.

The local Board was advised by the Associated Boards of Trade that a permanent paid organizer was being appointed, this official to cover the Province, visiting and assisting the various boards of trade.

The question of the functions of a board of trade having been opened W. C. Kelley outlining his views and also as to the functions of the civic committee, which had just been appointed. Within the province of the latter was the question of the suppression of weeds, and the encouragement of more tidy conditions, the building and maintenance of sidewalks, general beautifying of the community, and taking the initiative for assisting the Municipal Council in the adopting of a building by-law, covering fire, sanitation, etc.

The following resolution was presented by T. H. Riley and seconded by J. S. Ritchie: Resolved, that the Summerland Board of Trade draws the attention of the Council to the lack of sanitary arrangements in the business block at West Summerland, and recommends that immediate steps be taken to remedy a condition which will become dangerous in the heat of summer.

This occasioned a lengthy discussion in which surprising conditions, anything but complimentary, with respect to the almost total lack of even ordinary sanitary provisions about the business section of West Summerland were revealed. Mr. Riley insisted that it was the duty of the Municipality to build and maintain public lavatories.

The Reeve thought this would be wholly impracticable and believed the question was one between the tenant and the landlord, the Municipality of course having supervision from a health point of view. He would support the motion.

Others spoke along the same line. Mr. J. R. Campbell, one of the owners, explained that he had built just what was required, the tenants paying on a percentage basis. He was quite willing to make the suggested provisions on the same basis. The motion, as put, was carried unanimously.

A motion presented by P. Gray, seconded by H. A. Solly asked the Council to appoint a fire chief, and to have the fire fighting apparatus, including hydrants, inspected periodically. After considerable discussion this resolution was also carried unanimously.

President Freeman said it had been stated that West Summerland was hogging the Board of Trade meetings and that these should be held alternately at Summerland and West Summerland. He asked that the members keep this in mind, as the question would be brought up at a later date.

Mr. Huddleston introduced the question of silent policemen on certain corners. When asked if these must be kept lighted, the Reeve stated that it was his opinion that these must be lighted. The question had been before the Council on several occasions and the need of these posts was recognized. In addition to the cost of lighting, there was the fact that lights were not maintained throughout the night during all sea-

THE CHRISTIAN RANCH AGAIN

Mr. J. W. Jones, M.L.A. for South Okanagan recently made enquiries on the floor of the House with respect to the Merville, Creston and Fernie settlement areas, and of the Christian Ranch, Kelowna. With respect to the latter, he was informed that it contained 440 acres, 163 improved, 35 ploughed, 25 seeded, and 103 acres rough cleared. 103 Acres had been cleared and partly cleared when purchased. The Government had expended $17,626.35 in clearing, and $2,156.72 in fencing, $1,359.86 in buildings, and $255.75 on irrigation scheme. The total amount invested to date being $57,736.47. To his question, "Has the Government discovered any means by which this property can be irrigated?" the reply was, "Yes, by establishing a pumping plant at Duck Lake, the estimated capital cost of which is $11,352.00, and the estimated maintenance cost $2,135.00 per annum."

MORE PAY AND SHORT HOURS

Typographical Union Makes Demand of Valley Offices.

At the request of the Vernon Typographical Union, of which most of the printers throughout the district are members, employing printers met in Kelowna last Friday to discuss with representatives of the employees a proposed new wage scale. The Union members had met in the same city on Sunday, March 6th, when it was decided to press for a new contract with the several shops in the Okanagan district employing union men. The proposed contract required an increase in pay, a reduction in the work week from 48 hours to 44 hours, and other changes, one of them being that the wage would automatically further increase at any time the Union printers of Vancouver obtained an increase.

The several demands of the Union were gone into very carefully by the employers assembled, both separately and later with the officers of the Union, and with one accord the employers were opposed to the granting of a reduction in the working hours, which would result in a material increase in the cost of production, and for the same reason refused to grant the increase in wages. They pointed out to the Union members that any profits now being earned were not sufficient to absorb the suggested increase in pay roll, which would result in the increase of the weekly pay check combined with the shorter work hours, and that to grant such an increase would require that higher prices be charged to the public which the employers would not undertake to do at this time.

A member of the board of directors of the United Farmers of B.C. is to have a place on the executive of the committee conducting the campaign to increase the sale of British Columbia products.

sons of the year. Another speaker pointed out that if not lighted the Municipality would be liable for accidents they might occasion.

A. E. Elliot would have the speed laws better enforced, and unwittingly created a laugh when he said that a car going down the gulch no sooner reached his store than it put on all speed and raced for the supply store. He was as quick as the others present to see the joke which created much merriment.

HOTEL ROOF WAS ABLAZE

A blaze started on the roof of Hotel Summerland on Sunday afternoon and occasioned considerable excitement during the brief time it lasted. Discovered almost as soon as it started, it was quickly put out by the use of an axe and the usual weapons. Beyond a small hole torn through the roof, no other damage was done.

Failure to get water from the nearby hydrant occasioned much indignation. It has since been learned that the hydrant which had been served through a lateral from the domestic pipe line had been cut off, the intention being to connect it up directly with the power line. Instructions were given at the Council meeting on Monday that this be done at once.

CONSIDER NEW SCHOOL PLANS

Two Storey Eight Room Building May Be Adopted.

Plans for an eight roomed two-storey school building are being sent to the local School Board by P. Philip, Public Works Engineer. This is the plan of a building recently erected at Courtenay, Vancouver Island, and, in the Engineer's opinion, can be built for $40,000. It will be considered at the regular meeting on April 6th. The scheme lends itself to extension to make a ten or twelve room building.

The old High School building has recently been inspected, and the sills and foundations found to be in much better condition than anticipated. It will require a new floor and some exterior repairs.

DRIVE ON NEXT WEEK

Fruit Growers' Campaign to Augment "Fighting Fund."

It is quite evident to all thinking fruit growers that to protect and advance the position they hold to-day they must have one organization to speak and act for them as a body, representative of all the fruitgrowing sections of the Province.

Fortunately there is such an organization in the Province in the B.C. Fruitgrowers' Association. It is the one and the only association capable of rendering this service. To make this service effective the Association must have a fund, over and above that secured through membership, with which to fight for the growers' rights.

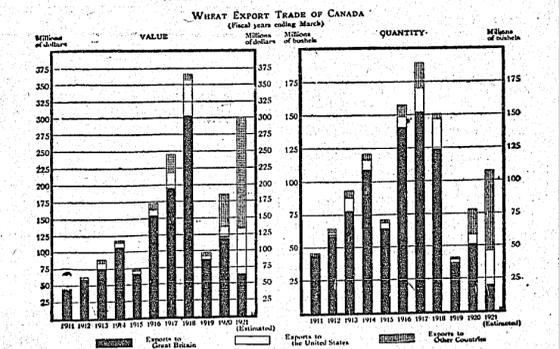

This "fighting fund" the Association is building up through the Organization and Emergency Fund, to which many growers have been contributing for the past three or four years. This fund is not nearly as large as it should be. It is only fair that every fruit grower should contribute, and raise the fund to full strength.

To accomplish this a drive, as announced in other columns of this paper, is being put on simultaneously in all the twenty-five fruit growing sections into which the Province is divided, and through the efforts of the Director and a committee in each district a canvass is to be made of every fruit grower of the whole province.

The fund thus collected is to be used for purposes of better organization, and for the handling of promerriment.

OTTAWA ASKED FOR ASSISTANCE

Council Believes It Should Aid in Enlarging Ditch to Farm.

GETS SHORE LOTS

Fruit Union Also Wants Road Site on Which To Build. A Long Session.

Despite the fact that the work is being distributed among the several committees, the Municipal Council invariably finds a heavy agenda awaiting each meeting. The regular bi-monthly meeting held last Monday was not adjourned until after 11 o'clock that evening, the session opening at 1.30.

The by-law authorizing the sale of the shore lot to the Summerland Fruit Union was given final reading, and Reeve and Clerk authorized to sign and seal same.

The Collector presented a report covering irrigation, light and water rates, and trade licenses in arrears. These were considered individually, and dealt with accordingly.

Credit having been received from the manufacturers covering the cost of a defective part recently put in the municipal motor truck, the garage bill covering cost of same was approved.

Increased insurance was placed on the municipal building in view of the recent improvements including the police court, etc.

Reports were submitted by the water committee and the public works committee. A second report embodying that of the engineer and submitted by the water committee was left over for a special meeting. Irrigation connection with the flume was authorized for the Kelley lot, and the chairman of the public works committee instructed to purchase a converted Ford truck for the use of the Foreman.

Other items covered repairs to the road south of H. Sutherland's, Peach Orchard, the putting in of a culvert in front of Mrs. Bentley's home lot, and a drain for the municipal property occupied by Mr. Eckford.

A letter to the Deputy Minister of Agriculture at Ottawa opening the question of the contract between the Municipality and the Department with respect to the water supply to the Experimental Station had been drafted by Chairman Kirk of the water committee. This was considered and will be forwarded in support of a request from the Municipality for assistance in enlarging and improving the channel running from the intake to the Experimental Station.

The Summerland Development Co. wrote asking for titles to several lots sold at Tax Sale in 1916, and purchased by them in 1918. Referred to the Clerk with instructions to furnish titles.

A request from C. J. Rippen and others asked for relief from seepage water in the meadows of Prairie Valley. This is receiving attention of the water committee.

The Summerland Fruit Union asked for lease or privilege to purchase a street end on the lake shore. As this is not the property of the Municipality, but of the Province, the Council could do no more than recommend that the Union be given the property. The Clerk was instructed to communicate with Victoria in this respect.

A request made by A. J. F. Anderson for irrigation service was referred to the water committee, as was also a communication on the same subject from O. E. Mann.

Irrigation connection was approved to lots owned by Mrs. Aitkins and Mrs. Figgis.

The sale of Lot 5 Bk. 9 D.L. 455 to Mrs. S. Leslie was authorized. A request by M. S. Peacock for irrigation service to property near the Downtown home was referred to the water committee.

Repairs to the road leading to the W. Harvey property were ordered. Some time was spent considering a by-law covering extra irrigation connections.

A request for an option on the unsold hospital bonds had been received from a firm of Toronto brokers with whom the Clerk had been in correspondence. The price being practically the same as that at which bonds had been sold locally, the option was granted.

The request of Geo. Graham for better irrigation service occasioned

CANADIAN HAPPENINGS

CHRONICLED IN BRIEF

Vancouver. — Movement through this port has commenced of an order for 2,700 tons of Alberta wheat for San Francisco mills. The order is the first big one from the United States to this port. The shipment of bulk grains to Europe continues, the motorship "Siam" being shortly due to load fifty-five hundred tons. Seven thousand tons have already been shipped to the continent.

Vancouver.—The whaling season just closed has been one of the biggest catches in several years. Altogether, four hundred and thirty whales were caught by Vancouver Island whalers during 1920. The majority of the whales were taken to the rendering plant at Kyuquot, B. C.

Trail, B. C.—The daily capacity of the copper refinery of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company has been increased to 50 tons. Both ingot and cake copper are being turned out, and wire bars will be a regular product when the copper rod mill, now nearing completion, begins operations. The rod mill has a daily capacity of 150 tons of wire rods, enough to take care of all the Canadian demands.

Trail, B. C.—The output of the Canadian Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company's smelter here for 1920 is valued at $8,161,200, as against $7,942,191 in 1919. This is considered very satisfactory in view of the sharp decline in metal prices which have taken place since the publication of last year's figures.

Calgary.—The little town of Monitor, on the Lacombe-Kerobert branch of the Canadian Pacific Railway, is proving the Mecca of American oil men, and with the opening of spring, the townsite will be a collection of derricks. Several of the leading American oil companies are already on the ground, and the geologists of others have selected sites for the erection of derricks. One of the operators in the district is the Dutch Shell, which will be working side by side with the Union and Imperial Oil, and the Canadian and American interests are ready to commence activities in the spring season. Monitor bids fair to evolve from a little agricultural town to a thriving and rich oil mining centre.

Winnipeg.—Plans for drainage work on one million acres south of Winnipeg at a cost of $1,750,000 were considered at a meeting held here recently by the Red Deer Improvement and Drainage Association. Reclaimed land in the drainage districts is selling at from $60 to $100 per acre, the greater part of which is being purchased by Americans.

Montreal.—It is reported that a loan of several million pounds will be made by the British Government to the Government of the Dominion of Canada with the object of assisting emigration, as a means of alleviating the unemployment situation in the United Kingdom. It is proposed to subsidize ex-soldiers, and those who have come of age since the armistice. In the development of new wheat areas such as the Peace River district, thus creating opportunities for British emigrants.

Fort William, Ont.—With 137,590,590 bushels passed through the elevators, Fort William and Port Arthur lead all points on the American continent in the amount of wheat handled in 1920, according to the report issued by the Grain Commissioner. The ports were second in oats, fourth in barley, and third in flax. Minneapolis came second, with over one hundred and twelve million bushels handled.

Medicine Hat, Alta.—In all probability, a plant for the manufacture of stooking machines and stook loaders will be erected here in the near future by the Hiltz Stooking Machine Company, manufacturers of various agricultural machines.

Regina, Sask.—One hundred and seventy-three English girls arrived in the city last year under the auspices of the Local Council of Women, and were sent to positions as household workers in the province.

Regina, Sask.—Tentative steps for the establishment of a provincial rural credit system were taken recently by the Provincial Treasurer in suggesting that the Canadian Council of Agriculture commence an expert examination into the possibility of developing the Canadian banking system to meet the requirements of agriculture. The present banking system, he claimed, whilst a most admirable one, was not created to meet the demands for agriculture, and the system of management leaves it to the head office to grant loans, whose officials are not always in a position to judge the merits of the applicants.

Milk and its products in Canada during the year 1919 were valued at $253,000,000, with exports at $56,000,000, according to J. Ruddick, Dominion Dairy Commissioner, in speaking before the annual dairy convention held in Winnipeg.

St. John, N.B.—Large shipments of grain have been coming in here during the last few weeks. Grain elevators are filled to capacity, and there are 500 cars on the tracks. Orders are on record for 1,000,000 bushels, and steamers now in port are expected to take away about 300,000 bushels of that amount.

Havelock, N.B.—A cement plant with an estimated value of over one million dollars, and to give employment to more than three hundred men, is to be located here, according to report.

Halifax, N. S.—Apple shipments from this port to all parts of the world have been very heavy during the past month. In January, 119,044 barrels of Nova Scotia apples were shipped to markets in the United Kingdom, which brings the total season's shipments to date to 732,613 barrels, as against 376,137 for the same period last year. The prices obtained have been very satisfactory to growers, five to seven dollars a barrel being secured.

THE FALL OF A LEAF.

One of the most beautiful processes in nature is the fall of the leaf. This is not, as is commonly supposed, brought about by the inclement weather of the autumn, says a well known authority. For the underlying cause, one must look deeper. Soon after the leaf appeared in the spring preparations were being made for its fall. Across the base of the stalk there grew inwards a partition of special cells, known to botanists as the "layer of separation." As the season advances these cells become modified and weakened so that a springy cushion is formed. Eventually the mere weight of the leaf may be sufficient to bring about the severance of the organ which the tree no longer requires. Before the leaf actually falls it surrenders all that it possesses in the way of sugar and more complex stuffs. This passes back into the tree to be stored away in the stem.

Many odd and bizarre uses for the airplane have been suggested and tried out, but the extermination of mosquitoes by their use is perhaps the oddest proposition yet proposed. This idea is being planned by the Provincial Government. An aerial survey of the Frazer River delta as the first step in a scheme to curb the annual swarms of mosquitoes has been ordered.

KAISER BRONCHITIS IN EXILE Thousands Liberated

What! have you not heard the joyful tidings? Bronchitis has been exiled—kicked right out of society—and 100,000 Canadians liberated from the bondage of this disease. Every trace of bronchial trouble is blown to atoms by the world's most effective disease-destroyer, Buckley's Bronchitis Mixture. No wonder people are rejoicing! No longer do they dread the effects of coughs, colds, asthma, etc., and so anxious are they that others should benefit also, hundreds of letters have been written proclaiming the merits of this wonderful medicinal remedy. Here is one letter:—
To Whom it may Concern: "This is to certify that I had been suffering for over three weeks with bronchitis and was advised to try Buckley's Bronchitis Mixture. I purchased a bottle and after the third dose I received relief, and before the bottle was finished, I was perfectly well. In making the above assertion I have no hesitation in saying it is the best remedy I ever came in contact with for heavy colds and bronchitis." (Signed) Mrs. M. Harding, c/o Distless Brush Co., Toronto. The original of this testimonial may be seen at W. K. Buckley, Limited, 142 Mutual St., Toronto. This mixture, proven in thousands of Canadian households, will give you sure relief. It cannot fail. Seventy-five cents is the price that stands between you and the road to health. Take no substitute—insist on the bottle with the "Satisfaction guaranteed, or money refunded." Ask your druggist. 19

A GOOD SPORT.

By Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

I was a little lad, and the older boys called to me from the pier. They called to me: "Be a sport! Leap in and swim!" I leaped in and swam, though I had never been taught a stroke. Then I was made a hero, and they shouted: "Well done! Well done! Brave boy; you are a sport, a good sport!" And I was very glad.

But now I wish I had learned to swim the right way, Or had never learned at all. Now I regret that day, For it led me to my fall.

I was a youth, and I heard the older men talking of the road to wealth. They talked of bulls and bears, of buying on margins, And they said: "Be a sport my boy; plunge in and win, or lose it all! It is the only way to fortune." So I plunged in and won; and the older men patted me on the back, And they said, "You are a sport, my boy, a good sport. And I was very glad.

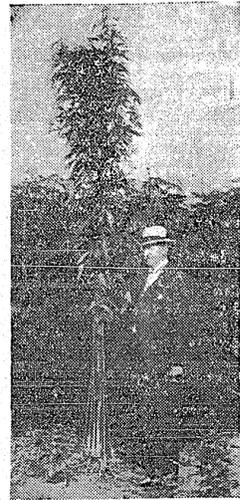

But now I wish I had lost all I ventured on that day— Yes, I wish I had lost it all. For it was the wrong way, And pushed me to my fall.

I was a young man, and the gay world called me to come. Gay women and gay men called to me crying: "Be a sport; be a sport; fill our glasses and let us fill yours. We are young but once; let us dance and sing, And drive the dull hours of night until they stand at bay Against the shining bayonets of day." So I filled my glass, and I filled their glasses over and over again, And I sang and danced and drank, and drank and danced and sang, And I heard them cry: "He is a sport, a good sport!" And they held their glasses out to be filled again. And I was very glad.

Oh, the madness of youth and song and dance and wine, Of woman's eyes and lips, when night dies in the arms of dawn!

And now I wish I had not gone that way, Now I wish I had not heard them say, "He is a sport, a good sport." For I am old who should be young. The splendid vigor of my youth I flung Under the feet of a mad, unthinking throng. My strength went out with wine and dance and song: Unto the winds of earth I tossed like chaff, With idle jest and laugh, The pride of splendid manhood, all its wealth Of unused power and health,

HEMP GROWN IN THE WEST.

Mr. E. F. Hutchings, a prominent manufacturer and financier of Winnipeg has been elected president, and Col. Wm. Grassie, vice-president of the Canada Fibre Products Co., which has been organized to engage in growing hemp and marketing hemp products. Special machinery has been secured to overcome labor problems. The illustration shows Mr. Hutchings holding a sample of hemp that was grown on his farm.

Agricultural development depends largely upon the consumers in this province. If they demand British Columbia products they will aid those on the land in this province. If not, then their support is given to the farmers of a foreign country.

Its dream of looking in some pure girl's eyes And finding there its earthly paradise, Its hope of virile children free from blight, Its thoughts of climbing to some noble height Of great achievement—all these gifts divine I cast away for song and dance and wine. Oh, I have been a sport, a good sport: But I am very sad.

WHAT GOOD ROADS MEAN TO BRITISH COLUMBIA

Wm. K. Stewart writing in Farm and Home truly says a man hasn't got to go to California or thousands of miles away from British Columbia to find out the value of good roads.

"I happened to spend a few days in Washington some time ago and I got my eyes opened.

"I do not think that the farmers of British Columbia or the citizens of this province in general regard paved roads as an investment. But in the State of Washington, where the conditions are very similar to British Columbia, paved roads are considered a splendid investment. They tell me that wherever a permanent road has been put down the value of the land has increased many times.

"A first-class pavement costs $7.00 a running foot, or approximately $35,000 a mile, in Washington, and I saw figures to show that the value of land adjacent to paved roads was enhanced many times over the cost of the road.

"Then instead of looking forward to the time when we will have these pavements, why not get them now? The people of Washington say that they are going to have good roads. Why not enjoy them ourselves and let our children help to pay for them?"

"The fact of the matter is that they have learned after building a few hundred miles that it paid them from the outset as the value of the land was not only increased but the value of production was increased. The automobile that used to run over the old mud roads one or two thousand miles now would go ten or twelve thousand miles. The life of the auto has increased doubly. Saving on time is another great consideration. In an hour or an hour and a half a man can deliver his produce to the nearest station seven or eight miles away and be back again at work.

"We in British Columbia think we have some tourist travel particularly on Vancouver Island, say over the Malahat Drive. Malahat Drive, which the people of Vancouver value so much, would be regarded as a joke in Washington. It is nothing but a turnpike gravel road all the way from Victoria to Campbell River, and I doubt very much if there is a more beautiful drive anywhere on the continent of America than over that road.

"If there were a permanent road such as we find across the line, I venture to say there would be 50 tourists to one now visiting British Columbia.

"There are at least ten tourists in Washington to one in British Columbia on account of good roads, and so far as the scenic beauty is concerned Washington cannot compare with British Columbia.

"I think our people here should wake up and see where they are at. The older parts of Ontario where they built permanent roads years ago, are now the most advanced, not because land is better but because of the facilities for moving their produce and enhancing their pleasure and they will find that the same conditions will prevail in a newer country such as British Columbia.

"The people who got the good roads first will be the ones that will enjoy the greatest measure of prosperity and enjoyment.

Two-fifths of the total catch of fish in Canada was taken in British Columbian waters during 1919, and the industry gave employment to nearly twenty-one thousand people, according to statistics compiled by a prominent fishery operator. The year 1920 was equally strong in financial returns, though the actual catch was somewhat lower.

PEACEFUL PENETRATION

II.—BRITISH COLUMBIA AND THE JAPANESE.

By H. Glynn-Ward in Vancouver World

(Published By Permission).

Between the Orient and the Occident there is more than a mere ocean, there is a Great Divide, intangible and insurmountable. The leopard cannot change his spots any more than a white man can be Orientalized or an Oriental be brought to live by the customs and laws of the European. The morals of the one are neither worse nor better than the other; but they are different. So different that an attempt to combine them can result in nothing but disaster.

Marriage between Orientals and whites has never been known to produce anything but degradation for both, because it is an unnatural thing. Therefore, as the Japanese can never in a thousand years assimilate with whites to produce a race desirable as future Canadians, their influx into the country and the hold they are taking thereof is unwise and undiplomatic.

This very question was raised early in the century when the number of Japs pouring in to the Pacific coast roused considerable feeling both in the States and in Canada; and in 1907 when Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, the then postmaster-general, went over to Japan to bring about a "friendly agreement" as to restricting immigration, it was agreed that the number of Japanese entering Canada should be limited to 400 a year.

But capitalists—to whom the Japanese are far too valuable to be denied—have not been disinterested enough to support the Government in keeping to this arrangement. In the year 1918-1919, no less than 1,178 Japanese were allowed into Canada, four-fifths of them staying in the province.

Since July 1, 1920, Canada has received 19,886 Japanese, and these figures are last year's. Within the last fifty years the "Empire of the Rising Sun" has developed from a tourists' dream of almond blossom and chrysanthemums into one of the three leading powers of the world.

The envoys of this eastern empire have progressed individually and collectively equally well overseas. The handful of houses where they make their headquarters has grown in a few years to a Jap town rivaling the proportions of Chinatown and spreading to all four points of the compass. Only last week a Japanese paid $16,000 for a lot on Main Street. Their stores—not only of native but of European merchandise—are to be found all the way up Granville Street, the chief street of the chief town of the Province, as far as Twelfth Avenue.

To quote just one fact showing the enormous growth of Japan in world trade: Fifty years ago she had but fifty ships, aggregating a gross tonnage of 18,000 tons; at the end of 1920, she had 1,418 steamers in service, totalling 2,325,266 tons. This phenomenally rapid growth has its counterpart in the growth of her industries in British Columbia.

Even the law admits to having issued 62 per cent. of the fishing licenses to Japanese last year and (as all moderationists know) the law in B.C. cannot always answer for the facts. The number of Jap fishermen steadily increases in inverse ratio to the stock of "sockeye" and a white fisherman dare hardly show his face at the mouth of the Fraser in the season.

Lumber mills and mines are owned and worked by the Japanese and 50 per cent. of the small fruit produced on the north side of the Fraser Valley (the heart of that industry) is produced by them. In the Hatzic district alone, where two or three Japanese bought land eight years ago, there are now between 40 and 50 Japanese landowners, and so far from the Oriental working for the white man, the positions are reversed and every season shows increasing numbers of white men and girls competing for service under the all too successful Japanese growers.

In Japan, the foreigner, until recently, was only allowed to live in certain specified areas, and although a law has been made allowing foreigners to buy land it has never been brought into force, so it is still impossible for the white man to become a landowner in Japan.

The population in Japan is 356.1 per square mile, that of the States is 31.0, and that of Canada is less. Being crowded out of her own country, therefore—and for the last fifty years her population has increased at the rate of 400,000 a year—the law of nature demands that she spread herself over countries less crowded.

We cannot assimilate with either the Japanese or the Chinese, so the question is, can we combat the law of nature? Or shall we find ourselves obliged to move out to make way for the Oriental?

Why The East Wants Daylight Saving

Within a few weeks, the question of daylight saving will probably once more become the subject of more or less heated debate in which business men, city fathers, farmers with cows to milk, mothers with children of school age to look after, and last but not least, railroads with time tables to print and trains to run if possible to the minute, will demand to have their say. The advocate for daylight saving will point out that in England the economy in coal consumption effected by daylight saving during the summer months amounted to $2,500,000, whereas the dairy farmers of the middle west protest that the morning dews and the natural milking time for cows cannot be regulated by clock, while in the North-West where the summer sun shines eighteen or twenty hours a day the mother of seven children wishes to goodness that the darkness and the hour for bed time came twice as soon and lasted twice as long—what she wants is a darkness-saving law.

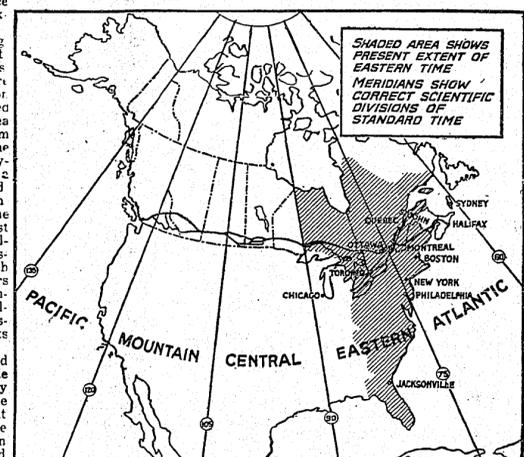

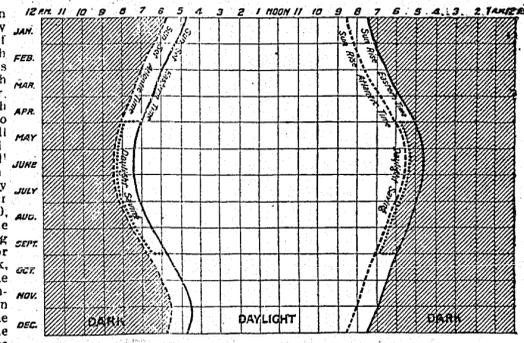

The demand for daylight saving however, is most insistent in Eastern Canada and the Eastern States and for every insistent demand there is usually a real reason. The reason apparently is that the so-called standard time in force in the area in question varies considerably from the mean sun time upon which the actual length and intensity of daylight is based. Standard time is a convenient artifice established in order to secure uniform time for neighboring communities or places. The sun is travelling from East to West and the noon hour originally travelled with it, but it was found advisable to fix definite areas in which the noon hour and other hours should remain the same for the convenience of the operation of railroads and telegraphs and the transaction of business wherein contracts involved definite time limits.

Such standard time was adopted for the United States in 1883 on the initiative of the American Railway Association, and as the time of the civilized world is by general consent based on Greenwich, England, the meridians selected for the division of the various standards were fixed at the 60th, 75th, 90th, 105th and 120th degrees west of Greenwich, Atlantic standard time theoretically extended from the 60th to the 75th meridian and Eastern standard time from the 75th to the 90th meridian; Central standard time from the 90th to the 105th; Mountain standard time from the 105th to the 120th; west of which was Pacific standard time.

These times were adopted by law in a number of the individual States, but municipalities have not all followed suit as public sentiment and habits proved more potent factors in fixing the time standards for localities than have State Statutes.

Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia, on the Eastern boundary of Atlantic time zone, have used that time for thirty years or more, but it was not until 1908 that New Brunswick, which was in closer contact with the New England States, finally by Act of its legislature adopted Atlantic standard time officially for that Province.

The situation was complicated, particularly in the Eastern States and Eastern Canada, by the railways themselves, where in actual practice it was found necessary to fix the time-breaking zones at terminal or division points. As branch lines have been constructed, the carriers have extended on these the standard time observed at the junction point or upon the main line. There are instances where the branch lines radiate out of one zone into another, thus introducing a time at variance with the theoretical time of that zone. The contention of the railways is that time should be changed only at the points at the terminal of train dispatching districts where train crews are relieved. They claim it is hazardous to require train crews to change from one standard operating time to another during a trick of duty, and impracticable to have train dispatchers operate trains under two standards of time.

Conflict between the States which have adopted Eastern standard time based strictly upon the 75th and 90th meridians and the railways which have found this to be not sufficiently elastic, has naturally resulted, as for instance in the State of Vermont, when a Bill has been introduced into the House of Representatives in which one section reads:—

"A common carrier engaged in commerce within this state or between this state and any other state or territory shall not change its time schedules for the movement of trains within the state in order to accommodate itself to conditions outside the state arising by reason of the adoption of any other standard of time by any other state."

Then again the demand for daylight saving has complicated matters. The United States Congress last year passed an Act which defeated the general adoption of the proposed daylight saving, whereas the States of New York and Massachusetts adopted daylight saving, and the New England railroads, in order to reconcile the conflict between the Federal Act and the State Acts of Massachusetts and New York, ran their trains on standard time, but one hour earlier than they otherwise would. The Canadian railways fell into step with the American railways, and in doing so were supported by the municipalities of many of the larger cities which had adopted daylight saving. Now it is noticeable that the demand for adoption of daylight saving time by the larger towns and cities is almost exclusively confined to Eastern Canada, New England States and the City of New York. On examination, this appears to be due to the fact that Eastern Standard time which theoretically extends only between the 75th and 90th meridians has been carried in actual practice a very considerable distance east of the 75th degree. According to this meridian places all of the Province of Quebec, and all of New England, New York City and part of New York State in the Atlantic should belong to the Atlantic Time Zone, and if this time were reinstated there would be little or no call for daylight saving now. The railways have carried Eastern time too far east, and the States and Provinces and Municipalities which have adopted the same time for the sake of uniformity are realizing that this does not correspond with natural time. On the railways, Eastern standard time is carried from Gaspé in Eastern Quebec to Fort William in Ontario, a distance of 25 degrees or 1200 miles instead of the 711.70 miles of 15 degrees.

On eastern standard time as at present maintained in New England and Quebec, the sun rises from May to September two to three hours before the average person is about in the morning, and sets at an equally unserviceable hour. Hence the natural demand for daylight saving legislation in these parts. If New England, Quebec and the Maritime Province were to adopt Atlantic standard time, which is their natural specific time, they would save hundreds of thousands of dollars all the year round for fuel and light, and incidentally the agitation for daylight saving would be buried in oblivion.

BUSINESS INTERESTS

HEAVY FIRE LOSERS

Charged With Greater Portion of Fire Waste—Need for Enforcement of Drastic Legislation.

Canada closed the year 1920 with a fire loss of approximately $27,400,000, equal to $3.42 per capita on an eight million population, or $17.10 per family—a new record, and one worthy of much thought.

An analysis of this fire loss discloses certain facts which are not creditable to the business life of the country, and which account, in part, for our high cost of protection in Canada, as compared with Europe. One-half of the fire waste was due to 72 fires, practically all in commercial property. Fires causing damage of $10,000 and over numbered 801, and these again were largely in business property.

A question which every business man should study is, "Why these fires?"

Are we more interested in what we earn than in the means by which we earn it?

Are we so intently watching sales that we cannot devote sufficient attention to the plants which make the sales possible?

True, the average business man carries insurance, but this is charged up to cost of production, and the people pay the insurance. Is it fair to the public, however, to charge more insurance cost than necessary owing to failure to protect the plant from fire?

With modern methods of fire protection available, no business man should be permitted to increase unnecessarily the cost of living through neglect or carelessness in eliminating fire dangers. Section five of the Criminal Code as amended says: "Every one is guilty of an indictable offence, and liable to two years imprisonment who by negligence causes any fire which occasions loss of life or loss of property." The rigid enforcement of this section would probably do more to reduce the fire waste than any other influence which might be brought to bear.

The world man owe every man a living, but it takes a hustler to collect it.

MOTOR TAX AND ROAD USE.

Pronouncing the present motor tax as complicated and unfair a writer to the correspondence column of an exchange suggests a percentage tax on the purchase price of every tire instead of a tax based on price, weight, and age of car or truck.

The idea has much to commend it, as under the present method the man who uses his car but little pays as much as the one constantly on the road.

LETTERS FROM THE FRONT.

Few war books published in any country can compare in excellence of taste and beauty of workmanship with this memorial volume recently published by The Canadian Bank of Commerce.

A preface by Sir John Aird, General Manager, shows how heavy a toll the War took of the nation wide institution whose destinies he helps to direct.

A very valuable feature is to be found in the many pages of fine-toned portraits, not only of the dead but of survivors who were awarded military honours.

The wealth of sturdy manhood portrayed. A few from the west had friends here in Summerland.

The volume gets its title from a happily inspired plan which originated with The Canadian Bank of Commerce during the War.

The result is a veritable mine of material for future essayists and historians who may undertake the task of analysing and celebrating the spirit that animated the youth of Canada during those never-to-be-forgotten years 1914 to 1918.

To the lover of well made books "Letters from the Front" is a joy indeed, and its publication was undertaken as a tribute due to those who served in the war.

lems and emergencies, which continually arise in connection with the fruit industry. Emergencies such as tariff, express rates, sugar shortage, etc., have already shown up, it is certain there will always be more to face.

With better organization and a strong reserve fund in the bank, however, fruitgrowers can look forward to the future with considerably more assurance than in the past.

Sandy McNab took a sixpenny ticket in a raffle for a pony and trap. He won it. Was he pleased at his good fortune? Not a bit.

"What's the matter?" asked his friends. "Where's the whip?" demanded Sandy.

provide more suitable open seasons were advocated as some definite plan for the extinction of gophers.

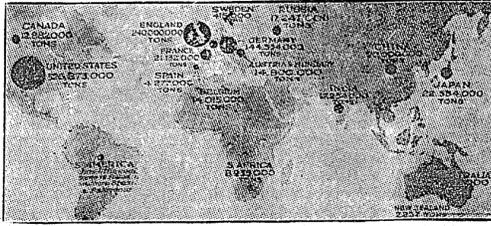

Recommendations in connection with roads include suggestions that men be appointed to watch the roads during the spring freshet; that graders be used frequently in order to prevent washouts; that all gravel be screened or crushed; that a certain proportion of the appropriation for roads be set aside for permanent improvement, such as hard surfacing, and that work should be done by contract wherever possible.

After a salesman had sold a big order of goods to the Scotch buyer for a Chicago store, he sought to make the Scot a present of a box of cigars.

"I'm sorry I canna accept," the Scot said, "but there's a rule of the house that ye canna take presents from salesmen."

"That's different now," the canny buyer replied after taking a good sniff at the box. "I can buy my smokes anywhere I please. I'll take four boxes."

AN INTERESTING CHART.

Where the World's Coal Comes From.

LOCAL PAPER SHOW WINDOW OF COMMUNITY

Its Value To Neighborhood Depends On Local Merchants.

"One of the best indications of the business spirit of any town is the advertising columns of its local paper," said a successful business man recently.

"The press is the show window of the community. If its columns are well patronized by merchants with progressive displays, it indicates a town where up-to-date business methods prevail.

"Every time I learn of a merchant who does not believe in advertising, my mind goes back to a store in which I worked when a boy.

"Then the store had a musty, dusty odour, and well it might, for its back shelves were piled high with goods that had accumulated each year. We never sold anything from these poorly lighted dusty regions in the back of the store. The merchandise had found a permanent home. No person knew what the shelves contained—for the proprietor did not believe in advertising.

"The sore is still running—but the proprietor is gone. To-day it is doing a large business, for the man who secured it when my old boss had to relinquish it, advertises. He does not simply make an announcement that he is in business. He tells the world what his stock contains.

"This merchant's credit is good. He does not require much accommodation, but at any time that he does, his bank will oblige him, for he is progressive."

The incumbent of an old church in Wales asked a party of Americans to visit his parochial school. After a recitation he invited them to question the scholars, and one of the party accepted the invitation.

"can you tell me who George Washington was?" "Iss, surr," was the smiling reply. "E was a 'Merican gen'ral."

New York C. P. R. Building

Great interest is being taken by New York transportation and real estate men in the decision taken by the Canadian Pacific Railway to concentrate its various offices into one building close to the Grand Central Station.

The Canadian Pacific deal, which has required an entire year to close on account of its elaborate ramifications, involves a lease from the Madison Avenue Offices, Inc., the holding corporation for the Fifth Avenue branch of the Fifth Church of Christ Scientist, of a large store, basement and almost the entire second floor of the 44th Street portion of this twenty-one story building; and also involves an investment of considerable proportions by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company in the building itself.

The area of the plot on which the building stands covers over 31,000 square feet, and is situated directly opposite the Hotel Biltmore on the east, Brooks Brothers' building to the north and the old Hotel Manhattan to the south.

The negotiations just closed provide, in addition to the investment mentioned above, a lease for 21 years at an aggregate rental of something approaching $5,000,000. It was said by F. R. Ferry, General Agent, Passenger Department, in New York, for the Canadian Pacific, that it will give up its railway offices at Broadway and 30th Street and its branch at Broadway and 33rd Street, and will combine its railway, steamship, and colonization departments in its new home on Madison Avenue.

The plans of the Canadian Pacific Company are particularly significant in that they will provide the largest consolidated ticket offices in New York, for, in addition to their own occupancy, it is said by the agents of the new Canadian Pacific Building, that negotiations are pending with several of the largest trans-continental railroads for representation in the same store.

LOCAL STORE RUN ON MAIL ORDER PLAN

Would Be Able To Compete In Every Way With Distant Store.

The local merchant deserves to have the first opportunity of supplying the requirements of the district in which he is located. If the buyers at his store would be content to have him conduct his business on the same basis as a mail order house he would be able to compete with them in every respect.

Imagine going into the corner store for a pair of overalls. Jones exclaims "Yes, we will sell you a pair of overalls. Here is a picture of them. They will cost you the listed price plus the carrying charges from the manufacturer at the Coast, plus the cost of the postal order commission—and you can expect to get them in ten days' time. Call here and see if they have arrived in that time, but pay your money now."

If the local merchant conducted his business in that manner his customers would be indignant. But would he not be justified in doing so, for his largest competitor transacts his business in precisely that way, and the same people do not object. They obtain a catalogue every spring. It is filled with pictures and listed prices. They select their purchases, write out an order for them, pay for a money order, wait ten days, go to the express office, pay the carrying charges and pack them home—and think they have done a good stroke of business.

Please note that MARCH 28, 29, 30 & 31 are the dates set aside throughout the province by the

B.C. Fruit Growers Association

for the big drive to get all growers signed up as contributors to the Association's "Fighting Fund"

The Organization and Emergency Fund

on the basis of 1c. per box on apples and pears, 1c. per crate on stone fruits, 1c. per crate on berries

Summerland District tops the list in membership in the Association. We must not fall down in the showing we make in this drive.

On the members of your committee comes the burden of the work. They are shouldering this because they realize the vital necessity to the fruit growing business of having a strong reserve account.

You will be asked (if not already a contributor) to sign a simple agreement authorizing your shipper to deduct amounts as above from your annual crop proceeds, and pay the amount so collected to the Secretary of the B.C.F.G.A.

This will be also an opportune time to become a member or renew your membership in the Association.

Do your part and help your committee to make their work a success.

COMMITTEE:—A. McLachlan, G. A. Marshall, R. Pollock, Jno. Tait, and R. V. Agur.

Maybe It Only Seems Longer?

New Denver is the one town in Canada where people live longest and happiest. Mrs. John Werley is 97 years old and is out walking every day. Alex. C. McKay is 90 and does not look 50. He weighs 260 pounds and hails from Nova Scotia. John McPhee is 80 and can still dance the Highland Fling with the best of them. Dunc McKinnon, road foreman, is on the declining side of 70, and is out every morning before daylight. Both John and Dunc are also from Nova Scotia.—Kasio Kootenian.

NEW "CANADA WEST" BOOKLET

The Review has just received a copy of a new "Canada West" booklet from the Publicity Branch of the Department of Immigration and Colonization, Ottawa. The booklet gives an accurate description of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia, particularly with respect to opportunities for farmers. There are many illustrations and double-page maps in four colors of each of the four Western Provinces and of the Dominion.

The "Canada West" booklet has been prepared especially for circulation amongst persons in the Old Country, who would be interested in becoming farmers in Western Canada. Any reader of this paper may have copies of "Canada West" sent to his friends in the Old Country who are contemplating coming to Canada, by sending their names and addresses to the Director of Publicity, Department of Immigration and Colonization, Ottawa. No charge is made, either for the booklet or for postage on it.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

Ladies wore bustles. Nobody had a silo. Nobody swatted the fly. Nobody wore white shoes. Cream was five cents a pint. Most young men had "livery bills." Cantaloupes were muskmelons. You never heard of a "tin Lizzie." Milkshake was a favorite drink. Nobody cared about the price of gasoline. Farmers came to town for their mail. The hired girl drew $1.50 a week. The butcher threw in a chunk of liver. Folks said pneumatic tires were a joke. Nobody "listened in" on a telephone. Strawstacks were burned instead of baled.

A Georgia lawyer to a wealthy client he desired to impress: "I played Hamlet once." "Indeed. Did you have much of a run?" "About six miles, as I remember it."

The attendance at the St. Andrew's Church Sunday School has been growing steadily, frequent records of attendance being made. Last Sunday it reached 176, the highest yet.

T. B. Young announces elsewhere the coming of a Case Tractor expert who will give demonstrations of this machine next Tuesday and Wednesday. Mr. Young is extending an invitation to citizens of Naramata and Peachland, as well as Summerland who may be interested.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wilberforce have moved here from Allenby, and are now living at the Hotel Summerland. Mr. Wilberforce has been associated with the Summerland Lumber Company for several years and has been manager of their Allenby plant. He will be identified with the local office of the Company.

Principal Welsh of the High School accompanied by Mrs. Welsh and their son, Clifford, motored to Vernon on Thursday afternoon. From there Mr. Welsh left on Friday morning to attend a teachers' convention at the Coast. He was accompanied as far as Enderby by his wife and son, where they will remain until his return.

The attendance at the Summerland Baptist Church last Sunday speaks well for the popularity of the new pastor, Rev. James Dunlop, who is attracting large congregations to hear him. At the evening service the class rooms at the side of the Church had to be opened for the accommodation of the worshippers, and were quickly filled, a number not being able to get seats. A great improvement was noted in the music, the choir rendering the anthem very creditably. Mr. A. T. Riley was the soloist at the evening service.

WHAT JUDICIOUS ADVERTISING DOES.

Mounted officers were called upon to keep crowds off the trolley tracks in front of one department store when they ran a dollar day sale which was expanded into a three days' sale event. The city fire marshal was called out to supervise the handling of the crowds inside the establishment, and so many women fainted that an emergency Red Cross first aid corps was organized to take care of the bargain hunters.

Yet the manager and advertising man say they did nothing unusual to attract trade, save to advertise and to fill their windows to the roofs with goods on which the cut prices were marked in plain figures, so that all could see just what was offered. In fact, they gave the entire credit for the success of their dollar day event to newspaper advertising.

The advertising carried was of the same type as that visualized in windows. The space taken was used up to the limit, with box effect copy, to show what was on sale and the price. The week before the sale page advertisements were run and the public was informed the goods were on view in the windows. The publicity and the display co-operated to arouse the interest that it was calculated would develop, and when the store opened its doors on the original dollar day the clerks were swept off their feet by the crowd.

In the scramble inside the store a number of women fainted and a first aid corps was organized to look after them. It was discovered that they could not begin to meet the demand for goods that their sale had created and they extended the event another day. The second day also proved inadequate and it took a third day to meet the calls for merchandise.

The experience is considered a remarkable demonstration of the pulling power of intelligently directed advertising. The manager reiterated his opinion in discussing the sale that the full credit for the crowds which swamped the establishment and which brought in two months' business in a day belongs to the newspapers. While the firm has always been strong in advertising campaigns, it declares that it will have even larger appropriations in the future.—Exchange.

Miss Hookham returned this week from a short visit to the Coast. The date of her departure for England, mention of which was made last week, is still uncertain.

The Open Forum closed the season with a balance on hand of $18.35, which will be turned over to the Summerland Hospital Society. During the period from Nov. 14th to March 20th, the collections totalled $97.55. The disbursements were: rent, $48; operating picture slides, $1.50; printing and advertising, $29.70; total, $79.20. These figures have been handed to The Review with the request that they be published.

Russell T. Kelley of Hamilton, Ont. was a week-end visitor here at the home of his brother, W. C. Kelley. He is a prominent worker in the Good Roads movement with which he has long been associated, and it is business in connection with the Canadian Good Roads Convention to be held at Halifax that is bringing him to B.C. at this time. Another Good Roads booster accompanied Mr. Kelley and went on to Vancouver, while the latter came down to Summerland to call on his brother. He left again on Sunday morning to visit Vancouver and Victoria. Mr. Kelley is president of the Hamilton Advertising Agency, Ltd.

In reviewing the gold situation since its first discovery in the Yukon, the Dawson Daily News states that no less than $200,000,000 of the precious metal has been recovered during the last thirty-five years. It further stated that within the next quarter of a century another $200,000,000 will be given to the world in the form of silver from the Mayo area, where there are indications of rich finds.

Not only are manufacturers, wholesalers and farmers meeting Oriental competition in the markets of British Columbia, but the printing establishments are now faced with similar trade opposition. Orders are being solicited in British Columbia for printing to be done in Japan. Printing is a highly skilled trade, and Canadian printers cannot be expected to work for the same wages that a Japanese compositor can exist on in Japan. It is likely that an effort will be made to induce the Government to compel all foreign printing to be marked with the place of origin.

Large numbers of milk cows will be purchased in Canada and the United States for distribution throughout the dairy districts of British Columbia, if plans which at present are being considered by the British Columbia Dairymen's Association are approved. It is estimated that there is a shortage of at least a hundred thousand cows in the province, also that there is a pressing demand for these animals among new settlers.

FOOD VALUE OF SPROUTED GRAINS.

For centuries the Chinese have recognized sprouted grains and seeds and have used them in many of their dishes. Chop suey, which contains sprouts of rice or beans, is a far better food than is commonly believed. The value of it lies in the fact that sprouting, like malting, makes the starch more digestible. Sprouted grains, beans and peas afford necessary vitamins and are satisfactory substitutes for many of the expensive fruits and vegetables.

A little girl had questioned her grandpa almost incessantly since supper-time, and now that her bed-hour had arrived she had one more question to ask. "Grandpa," she said, "were you in the ark?" "No, my dear," he replied. "Then," said she, "how came it that you wasn't drowned?"

"We in British Columbia are a peculiar people," declared a delegate to the Boards of Trade Convention at Vancouver. "We think that the people of other parts of the world are more capable than we are; that the workmen somewhere else are more competent than those in this province. This is evidenced when we would rather choose an article of foreign manufacture than one made by our neighbors. Remember how it was argued that B.C. could never build ships. To-day there are no finer steel vessels afloat than those we build. It is the same all the way through. We are just as capable and just as skillful—or more so—as the people elsewhere—but we lack confidence in ourselves."

Scientific Irrigation to Barren Business Newspaper Advertising is to Business Enterprise what irrigation is to barren lands. It is a vital necessity. The land has in it the source of fruitfulness. The water alone is required to render it fertile. Thereafter the thing is a matter of industry on the part of the planter. Supply does not create demand nor does demand create supply—in the first instance. Both are created by Desire; the fruit of Suggestion. Your Newspaper is the most effective channel to propagate the IDEA of Desire and the means of satisfying it. The upkeep of Demand—the cultivation of a sensitive and responsive ground, or the REACTION of it, is another phase of the subject. That is the province wherein modern advertising operates. All the great merchants you ever heard of were, and are, bountiful users of Newspaper Advertising. Eaton, Wanamaker, Marshall Field, Selfridge, Harrods, Hudson's Bay Company. Isn't that your cue? ## .. The Winding Trail ..

The High Cost of Dying

We have got more or less hardened to the high cost of living in these days, and have at least the hope that matters will improve—if we can wait long enough. But the high cost of dying is another thing altogether, and seems to add insult to injury. The case of a young man who was recently killed while working on the Oakalla prison farm affords an instance of exorbitant charges which seems absolutely amazing, and certainly calls for the enquiry which, happily, appears to be imminent. The death of this lad, being the result of an accident on Government work, entailed some compensation to his next of kin, and a grant of $1,500 was made to the mother. But no such sum was received by that beneficiary—$75 was deducted as balance due on the boy's fine, $432 was paid to the undertaker for funeral expenses, and $500 handed to a solicitor, presumably for legal costs of some kind. The remaining $493 was the net amount which the mother actually got, and if the undertaker could only have figured out a few more little items, or the lawyer added a retaining fee to his trifling bill, that moiety might also have disappeared and the account squared to the satisfaction of all parties—except the bereaved mother, who does not seem to have counted for much in the whole transaction. It is satisfactory to know that an enquiry is to be held into this affair, and it is to be hoped that it will be thorough enough to disclose, amongst other things, what department of public accounts was guilty of paying such obviously inflated charges without searching investigation. The member for New Westminster, who very properly called the attention of the Legislature to this incident, claimed that those persons responsible for such fees should be called on for "a decent explanation, if they have one to offer;"—public opinion will probably go farther than that, and demand a prompt refund of excess profits.

Two Object Lessons

If I remember rightly a grower of onions somewhere up north was lately proceeded against for dumping a lot of these pungent vegetables in a spot where they were held to be a public nuisance. The circumstances which led to this injudicious disposal of surplus stock do not much matter. The point is that the grower had lots of onions to sell, and could find no market for them. Bearing this fact in mind it seems quite curious to read the details of another onion transaction entered into last season, having for its foundation the placing of a contract by a B.C. firm for a thousand crates of onions from Australia! As far as the moral of these two incidents is concerned, the fact that the Australian shipment arrived two months late, and was refused, is merely incidental. The feature of general interest lies in the apparent inconsistency of bringing from a far country a class of produce which is extensively grown in our very midst. Doubtless the difference in season entered largely into the matter, but even so there seems to be a certain analogy between such importations and the superfluous carrying of coals to Newcastle.

A second transaction reported from Vancouver last week concerns the importation of a car of apples from South of the border, and its rejection by a provincial inspector as being infected with that deadly pest the codling moth. These apples will go back to the shippers at their expense, and we can sympathise with them on their loss. But had the Government inspector been a trifle lax in his examination, this province might have been invaded by a foe which every apple grower has learned to dread, brought here in a consignment of fruit which is a special product of British Columbia!

These two incidents seem to carry their own moral, which is that we unreasonably import into this country a great deal of produce which might be dispensed with.

Changing the Strain

A very decided difference is noticeable in the refrain now being sung by the boards of trade in the eastern section of the province. The fortissimo vigoroso discord lately heard has now diminished to a pianissimo legato movement, which is much more soothing to the ear. It may be that this change is partly due to the action of the Provincial Association in selecting the Mayor of Nelson as one of the vice-presidents of their organization, or it is possible that some members of the eastern body are somewhat ashamed of the harsh notes recently evolved by some of their colleagues. Be that as it may, the Associated Boards of Trades, whether Eastern or Western, will probably agree that the latter movement is more agreeable than the former. A passing dissonance possibly has its uses, in general affairs as well as in the realm of music, but it can easily be overdone, as it most certainly was in the incident referred to.

ST. PATRICK'S TEA.

The Women's Institute of Naramata celebrated the 17th of March by holding a St. Patrick's tea in the Unity Club house. The room was appropriately decorated in green, shamrocks, harps, and other emblems significant of St. Patrick's Day being used in profusion. The tea table, centred with a harp outlined in green was specially attractive. Several little boys and girls dressed in green and white were in evidence among those who served. Mrs. J. M. Robinson and Mrs. Howard Rounds poured tea for the first hour, and were succeeded by Mrs. Wolstencroft and Mrs. Fred Simpson. Among those who helped serve were Mrs. T. Kenyon, Mrs. D. O. Hughes, Miss Dorothy Arnold, Miss Marjorie Green, Miss Vera Partridge, Miss Salting and Miss Margaret Mitchell. A candy stall was conducted by Miss Dorothy Arnold and Miss Florence Lyons.

A varied and interesting program was given during the afternoon. Mrs. Walters kindly played while the guests were assembling, and later rendered two vocal solos which were much appreciated. Miss Dorothy Arnold sang "Mother Machree" and Miss Kathleen McConkey sang "When Irish Eyes are Smiling," and danced an Irish jig. Miss Standen gave a humorous reading. Mrs. Green played the accompaniments.

Visitors from Summerland noticed in the gathering were Mrs. Guy Brock, Mrs. Gray and Miss Gray, Mrs. Carlisle and her son, and Mrs. Andrew.

The sum of $25 was realized from the tea and will be devoted toward one of the projects undertaken by the Institute.

Mrs. M. B. Smith moved last Saturday to the new home recently built for her on her fruit lot. Mrs. Eldon Smith and her children have taken up their residence with her for the summer.

Mrs. Campbell Robinson, recently appointed as the third teacher on the staff of the Naramata Superior School, assumed her new duties on Monday morning. An additional room was secured by the School Board in the down town section and has been fitted up to accommodate the new class, and playground space is being prepared beside it.

Various shrubs and plants are being sent to Naramata for the beautification of the school grounds, is the information contained in a letter from Mr. Gibson, playgrounds inspector, to Mr. Rayner, secretary of the School Board.

Misses Dorothy and Gladys Robinson, who have been spending an extended holiday with friends in Vancouver, arrived home on Thursday of last week.

A one time resident of Naramata, Mrs. Mabel Lyons, was a visitor here last week for a few days, staying with Mrs. Mallory. Mrs. Lyons who has been spending a month at the Coast, intends staying for some time in Pentiction before going back to her home in Winnipeg.

Mrs. Wolstencroft is visiting some friends in Pentiction.

Among those who went over from Naramata to attend a dance in Summerland last week were Mr. and Mrs. Campbell Robinson, Miss Dorothy and Miss Gwen Robinson.

Miss Enid Rayner returned last week to Naramata, after an absence of more than a month visiting friends at the Coast.

Mr. C. C. Aitkins returned home early last week after an absence of nearly a month, during which time he visited many eastern points.

Mr. Frank Hughes returned on Friday from a protracted stay in Vancouver.

Many residents of Naramata went down to Pentiction to attend the funeral of Mrs. Isabella Jones on Wednesday afternoon of last week. Interment took place from Baker's undertaking parlors to the Pentiction cemetery.

Mr. W. J. Robinson and his little daughter Jean, and Mr. S. Peacock of Summerland were visitors to Naramata on Saturday.

Mrs. Baker of Vancouver is visiting her son, principal of the School here. Mr. Baker's little daughter came up with her from Vancouver.

A whist drive was held in the Unity Club on Friday night of last week under the auspices of the Women's

Black Predominating.

It is natural that since automobiles have found their way into every part of the world, the drivers would vary in appearance, and in attire or lack of attire, according to the customs of the countries in which the motor car is called to do service. If you were to walk along the road leading from the west coast of equatorial Africa several hundred miles into the interior, for instance, you might see a motor truck, plowing through the jungle, and in the chauffeur's seat driving with peculiar and cheerful abandon, would be a West African native. And from the appearance of his driver's uniform, it would be evident that the high cost of clothing would bother him not one whit. These natives become full-fledged chauffeurs within two or three weeks from the time they see their first motor vehicle. The trucks, of which there are about 200, maintain regular schedules as feeders to a large steamship line plying between west African ports and Europe and America. They are loaded with men and supplies on the inland trips, and with cocoa products, palm oil, hides and rubber when bound for the coast.

PRINTING PRICES

During the recent dispute in Vancouver between employing printers and employees, references were made to the fact that higher prices would force Vancouver printing orders to Ontario where wages were lower.

This catastrophe has been averted.

But, do you know, those same prices that were to have tempted Coast orders to the East are being quoted by us?

Some weeks ago we adopted a scale of printing prices that is being very extensively used in the cities and towns of Ontario, and in many of the centres of the Middle West and Eastern States.

Mr. Norrington, District Water Engineer, attended the irrigation meeting held at the Trepanier Townsite last Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis were passengers north on Thursday morning of last week, he returning on Saturday. Mrs. Willis remained at Westbank paying her relatives a visit before leaving for the prairie.

J. Seaton made a short trip up the lake on Thursday, returning on the Friday evening boat.

The concert gotten up by the Women's Circle of the Methodist Church and held on Thursday evening, Mar. 17th, being an annual affair, was quite a success both from the standpoint of entertainment and finance. Although there was a very heavy downpour of rain, the hall was filled almost to capacity. The programme was somewhat more varied than usual, and although being understood to be an Irish entertainment, the program committee allowed a few of the numbers a little laxity. One of the principal numbers was a play in which "Pat" figured very prominently, the play being entitled "That Rascal Pat." Those taking part were Mrs. Keating, Mrs. Harrison, Mrs. Drake, Mr. Drake, and Mr. Smalls. A couple of numbers were supplied by Westbank talent, being a guitar solo and a darkie duet given by two little boys. Mrs. J. L. Elliott sang a solo; the Misses Edgewood and Miss Betty Buchanan, a trio; the Misses Edna and Annie Fawcett, a duet; a shadow play entitled "Lord Ullin's Daughter," and a couple of numbers supplied by the "Black Irish" ten local niggers. Their first number was "Kingdom Come" with "Old Black Joe" for encore. The second number was a number of jokes ending up with the song "Who Stole the Lock." The whole evening's entertainment was well spoken of by the audience and the door receipts were some sixty odd dollars.

Mr. W. T. Ort wears a smiling face these days since Mrs. Ort presented him with a fine young son last week-end in the Kelowna Hospital. Both are doing nicely. Mrs. Spears went up Monday to visit her daughter and young grandson, returning the same day.

Mrs. McDonald and family left Saturday morning for New Brunswick to visit her people before she settles in their new home in Saskatchewan.

Mrs. Vivian was a passenger south on Friday evening last, returning the following morning.

Mr. J. Kudelka returned Saturday evening after being down to the old home in Alberta attending to some business matters there and in Calgary. He ran into some pretty cold weather while there, and left a hard snow storm in progress as he took the train for the West last Friday.

Mr. Joe Sanasack with his little daughter and housekeeper Mrs. Morrow arrived Saturday evening. Mr. Sanasack is completing the inside finishing of his house preparatory to moving in. In the meantime Mrs. Morrow and the little girl are guests at the Edgewater Inn.

Rev. Isaac Page of Penticton paid his fortnightly visit to Peachland last Sunday to hold the afternoon service in the Baptist Church. He was accompanied by Messrs. King and Fumerton from Penticton and Mr. Thornber from Summerland.

Rev. H. A. Solly of Summerland held regular service in the Anglican Church on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Stewart who has been visiting Mr. McGregor, left on Monday morning. He, with the McGregors, had recently returned from the south, after an enjoyable time spent in that part of the country. Mr. McGregor reports that they are looking for good crops in that vicinity. Mrs. McGregor improved in health considerably while away.

Mrs. Murray McBean spent Monday with her brother in law and his wife here, arriving on the morning boat from Penticton where she has been packing up their effects preparatory to returning to Winnipeg. She left on Tuesday morning to visit in Kelowna for a few days, expecting to return here before leaving for the East. She is accompanied by her little girl.

We were very sorry to see leaving our midst the families of Mr. and Mrs. McDonald and Mr. and Mrs. Willis who have decided to try farming in Saskatchewan for a while. Mr. McDonald and Mr. Willis left with their car of effects on Tuesday morning to load it in the car at the Landing. Mr. McDonald was intending to accompany the car through to Theodore, Sask., their destination, Mrs. Willis who was visiting relatives at Westbank was to join Mr. Willis at the Landing on Wednesday for the trip down. Mr. Kennedy who bought Mr. McDonald's place accompanied the party as far as Calgary, expecting to return shortly after he cleans up some business there.

Mr. J. Edgecomb was a passenger north on Tuesday morning last.

After over a year in Peachland, Mr. Walter Hayhurst left on Wednesday morning for Revelstoke where he has accepted the position as manager of a store.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Johnson of Stettler, Alberta, arrived Wednesday morning to visit Mrs. Johnson's brother Mr. L. D. McCall. They are returning home after an extended tour through the States and Coast cities.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY.
(Lowbrow Stuff by the Poet Low-rated Dedicated to the College of Prudes.)

Little girl, you look so small, Don't you wear no clothes at all? Don't you wear no shimmy shirt? Don't you wear no petty-skirt? Just your corsets and your hose— Are those all your underclothes? Little girl, you look so slight. When I see you in the light. With your skirts cut rather high Won't you catch a cold and die? Ain't you 'fraid to show your calf? It must make some fellers laugh.

Little girl, what is the cause Why your clothes is made of cause? Don't you wear no undervest? When you go out fully dressed? Do you like those peek-a-boo's 'stead of normal underclothes?

Little girl, your 'spenders show. When the sunlight plays on you I can see your tinted flesh. When you go out fully dressed. Is it modest, do you 'spose, Not to wear no underclothes?

Little girl, your socks has shoals Of those tiny little holes. Why you want to show your limb I don't know—is it a whim? Do you want to catch the eye Of each feller passing by?

Little girl, where is the charm In your long uncovered arm; Is it there for birds to peck? An your long uncovered neck? Little girl, I tell you those Ain't so nice as underclothes.

Little girl, now listen here— You would be just twice as dear If you'd cover up your charms, Neck, legs, back, and both your arms. I would take you to the shows If you'd wear some underclothes.

Little girl, your mystery, Luring charm and modesty, Is what makes us fellers keen To possess a little Queen; But no lover—goodness knows— Wants a girl 'thout underclothes.

I must wear a coat of mail. Clothe from head to big toe-nail, I must cover up my form. Even when the weather's warm; Can't enjoy the swimmer's throes 'Less I garb in underclothes. —The Civilian (Ottawa)

HE VOICED HER THOUGHT.

Saturday Evening Post.

Now that the Prince of Wales has rested somewhat from his American tour and has had time to digest his experiences among a free-born people, one can well credit some of the good natured reminiscences and anecdotes of his trip which, so London says, the Prince is relating with gusto to his friends.

One of the most recent of these comments attributed to the English heir-apparent had to do with the frequency with which Americans addressed him directly as "Prince," or even, "Say, Prince."

"They pruned me so much," he is quoted as saying, "that after a little while I felt that instead of speaking I should bark." And of all the remarks made to him by Americans the most amusing to him, he is further quoted as saying, occurred in the course of a function given in his honor during his brief visit to our western coast. On that occasion the Prince told one of the matrons directing the affair that he would be delighted to meet a particularly attractive young lady, who for some time had been gazing his way from afar. The pretty girl was brought forward and presented to royalty.

"I confess, Miss Blank," the Prince said gallantly to the young lady, "that I have been watching you with interest all evening."

Explosively, fervently, the western girl made reply.

"Prince," she said, "when it comes to watching, you sure got nothing on me!"

One of the reminiscences that former President Taft delights in relates to one of his maiden speeches, in which he came off anything but a hero. The speaker was on that easiest of easy tasks, attacking the Government, when the heckler cried out: "You're wrong, sir!" A little nettled, Mr. Taft continued without heed. Presently, in answer to another strong assertion, came again: "You're wrong, sir!" Mr. Taft scowled, but continued his speech. "You're wrong, sir!" Angriely addressing the persistent interrupter, Mr. Taft cried, "Look here, I could tell this man something about the Government that would make his hair stand on end!" "You're wrong again, sir!" came from the critic, as amid the roars of the crowd, he stood up and removed his hat. His head was as bald as a billiard ball.

Synopsis of Land Act Amendments

Minimum price of first-class land reduced to $5 an acre; second-class to $2.50 an acre. Pre-emption now confined to surveyed lands only. Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes and which is non-timber land. Partnership pre-emptions abolished but parties of not more than four may arrange for adjacent pre-emptions with joint residence, but each making necessary improvements on respective claims. Pre-emptors must occupy claims for five years and make improvements to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivation of at least 5 acres before receiving Crown Grant. Where pre-emptor in occupation not less than 3 years, and has made proportionate improvements, he may, because of ill-health, or other cause, be granted intermediate certificate of improvement and transfer his claim. Records without permanent residence may be issued, provided applicant makes improvements to extent of $300 per annum and records same each year. Failure to make improvements or record same will operate as forfeiture. Title cannot be obtained in less than 5 years, and improvements of $10 per acre, including 5 acres cleared and cultivated, and residence of at least 2 years are required. Pre-emptor holding Crown grant may record another pre-emption, if he requires it in conjunction with his present one, without actual occupation, provided statutory improvements made and residence maintained on Crown granted land. Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites; title to be obtained after fulfilling residential and improvement conditions. For grazing and industrial purposes areas exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or company. Mill, factory or industrial sites on timber land not exceeding 40 acres may be purchased; conditions include payment of stumpage. Natural hay meadows inaccessible by existing roads may be purchased conditional upon construction of a road to them. Rebate of one-half of cost of road, not exceeding half of purchase price, is made.

PRE-EMPTORS' FREE GRANTS ACT

The scope of this Act is enlarged to include all persons joining and serving with His Majesty's Forces. The time within which the heirs or devisees of a deceased pre-emptor may apply for title under this Act is extended from for one year from the death of such person, as formerly, until one year after the conclusion of the late war. This privilege is also made retroactive. No fees relating to pre-emptions are due or payable by soldiers on pre-emptions recorded after June 26, 1918. Taxes are remitted for 5 years. Provision for return of moneys accrued, due and been paid since August 4, 1914, on account of payments, fees or taxes on soldiers' pre-emptions. Interest on agreements to purchase town or city lots held by members of Allied Forces, or dependents, acquired direct or indirect, remitted from enlistment to March 31, 1920.

SUB-PURCHASERS OF CROWN LANDS

Provision made for issuance of Crown grants to sub-purchasers of Crown Lands, acquiring rights from purchasers who failed to complete purchase, involving forfeiture, on fulfillment of conditions of purchase, interest and taxes. Where sub-purchasers do not claim whole or original parcel, purchase price due and taxes may be distributed proportionately over whole area. Applications must be made by May 1, 1920.

GRAZING

Grazing Act, 1919, for systematic development of livestock industry provides for grazing districts and range administration under Commissioner. Annual grazing permits issued based on numbers ranged; priority for established owners. Stock owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits for settlers, campers or travellers, up to ten head.

OTTAWA ASKED FOR ASSISTANCE

 considerable discussion over the question of irrigation from pipes. The water committee was instructed to take measures to improve the service.

The water committee presented the engineer's report with estimates for the proposed extension to the Trout Creek Point system. For a size sufficient to deliver the necessary water 12 hours, the estimated cost is $8,700. If a 24 hour service is adopted this cost would be reduced to $6,730. The report was referred back to the water committee for further information as to certain details.

A request from Scott Darkis for irrigation to a small piece of land in Garnett Valley above the existing flume, but formerly under the higher flume recently discarded, was referred to the water committee with the idea that it might be possible to irrigate from Watson Heights.

Mrs. Bentley complained of the ditch in front of her property, and attention was promised.

The water committee reported with respect to the proposed changes in fluming at W. A. Caldwell's. Alternative plans were suggested but the question was again referred to the water committee with instructions to act.

Foreman Tomlin reported having about a score of men at work cleaning ditches and putting the flumes in shape.

A powerful wireless plant will, if present plans mature, be erected here by the Shipping Bureau of the Vancouver Board of Trade. The installation of this plant will put the city in direct touch with the Orient, Wales France and Germany, and many other high powered plants scattered over the face of the globe.

The Editor,
 The Summerland Review,
 Summerland, B.C.

Dear Sir,
 With reference to remarks on Stirling & Pitcairn, Limited, in issue of 18th inst.

The last paragraph hardly states the case correctly.

The main point at issue between Mr. Kidston and this firm is the correctness of the amounts paid him for his fruit delivered during the seasons 1914-1919 inclusive. Mr. Kidston claims that he has not received all that he is entitled to. The correctness of his contention cannot be ascertained until there has been an accounting before the Official appointed by the Courts.

The Supreme Court of Canada has decided in Mr. Kidston's favor in the Appeal he carried to that Court on certain points.

The judgment of this Court affords no indication of the correctness, or otherwise, of Mr. Kidston's contention that he has been underpaid.

The case has not been appealed to the Privy Council and cannot be appealed until a copy of the Formal Judgment of the Supreme Court of Canada has been received.

Thanking you for the very kind comment made on the business record of the firm,

Yours truly,
 STIRLING & PITCAIRN, LTD.
 R. E. Denison, Sec.

West Summerland, B.C.
 March 21, 1921.

To the Editor:
 Dear Sir,
 At the discussion of The Press in the Open Forum last Sunday I appeared to have given the impression that I withdrew my subscription to the Vancouver Province, being peeved by their omission to publish an article which I submitted, taken from an Eastern daily dealing with the accomplishments of the Queensland Labor Government. I withdrew my subscription because I considered the whole attitude of the Vancouver Province to Labor was one of misrepresentation, and the case I cited was given only as an example of their one sided attitude. Due to the lively discussion I had no opportunity to put the case right at the meeting.

Thanking you,
 A. J. BEER.

Prince George is soon to have a pulp mill, according to reliable reports.

SPEAKS AT OPEN FORUM

Particular source, he could not see how it could affect the freedom of the owner. Explaining Mr. Thornber's extract from the London Spectator, Mr. McDougall pointed out that the apparent monopoly was caused by the smaller papers going to the wall through financial difficulties, and this was the same even among small and big stores, where the tendency was to eliminate or freeze out the small merchant.

Before thanking Mr. McDougall, Mr. Welsh, chairman, spoke a few words on the subject, suggesting that the newspaper came to supply a human want, in giving news, moulding public opinion, and introducing buyers and sellers, and he thought the publishers of Canada were standing four square in upholding the quality of their newspapers.

The audience, which was not as large as expected, much appreciated a vocal solo admirably rendered by Mr. Fred. Graham, and with the National Anthem closed its session for the summer months.

Chairman D. J. Welsh and W. C. Kelley, another member of the Executive of the Open Forum, tendered their resignations at a meeting of the Executive on Sunday afternoon. To A. J. Beer was delegated the responsibility of calling the initial meeting of the organization next fall.

YOUR STORE ADVERTISING

"EVERY GOOD STORE, EVEN THOUGH IT BE A SMALL ONE, SHOULD BE ADVERTISED."

Small beginnings, wisely made and persistently followed up, will mean assured growth and larger opportunities for the little merchant—just in the degree that his store merits and earns wider patronage and approval.

A small advertising space costs a small amount of money. Yet it affords a chance to the small merchant to tell why he seeks a wider patronage—what he has to offer that is unusual.

And whether he is located on the beaten pathway of trade or upon an unfrequented byway, his Ad. will lead people to seek him out. And, in due time, he will be able to decide the matter of store location according to his liking rather than according to his necessities.
