Peachland F. G. Union Ask for New Marketing Methods for Soft Fruits.

FOR INVESTIGATION

Many Resolutions Adopted at Annual Meeting—Looking to Providing Greater Warehouse Accommodation.

Peachland Growers' Annual Meeting.

As intimated last week, we here-with give a little more detail of the ninth annual meeting of the shareholders of the Peachland Fruit Growers' Union. Vice-President Edgecombe occupied the chair. Following a discussion on the season pool for apples, the following resolution was passed. "That the early apples, including the Wealthy, be pooled in accordance with Central Pools, other varieties to be pooled in season pool according to variety." Secretary W. M. Dryden read a paper on "The Operation of the Local Union and Central for the Past Season," with suggestions for the future. A vote of thanks was tendered the secretary for his paper.

The question of the qualification of a voter came up and after lengthy discussion it was left to the members present with the suggestion that any who had signed up with another firm for the sale of their crop do not vote.

A vote of thanks was given the directors whose term of office just expired. The election of directors for 1922 resulted as follows: Messrs. Tallyour, Buchanan, Hardy, Hardisty and Ferguson duly elected.

Some correspondence was read in connection with an investigation of Central and after discussion, the following motion was passed: "That the annual meeting of the shareholders of the Peachland Fruit Growers' Union endorse and approve the action of the Vernon Fruit Union in calling for investigation of Central by commission and that a copy of this resolution be sent to all other local unions."

The following resolutions were carried: "Whereas, we are not satisfied with the returns obtained by the O. U. G. from the sale of soft fruits, due we believe, to inadequate methods of marketing, and whereas, we believe that some improved system of marketing under which ripening fruits will more quickly reach the consumer, is essential to the success of the soft fruit industry; therefore, be it resolved, that in our opinion the system in practice for the disposal of soft fruits should be radically improved, and if the O. U. G. is not able to devise a system that will meet the requirements, we submit that the grower should be released from his contract to the extent of his soft fruits."

"That the shareholders of the Peachland Fruit Growers' Union in annual meeting assembled, empower the board of directors to retain from all members whether shipping through the local union or not, a charge not to exceed the sum of 2 1/2c per package shipped to cover their share of the operating expenses for the year just ended."

SCHOOLS CLOSED FOR A FEW DAYS

Precautionary Measures Taken by Medical Inspector Dr. F. W. Andrew.

Either a severe type of cold, a mild form of flu, or perhaps the old-time gripe, has been prevalent throughout the district for some days. Threatening to become epidemic, the medical inspector, on Wednesday night, ordered the closing of the schools. Already four of the teachers of the Central school staff were confined to their homes and no less than 115 pupils were absent from their places. At the high school more than 30 children were reported absent.

Dr. F. W. Andrew, medical inspector, advises keeping away from Sunday schools and other gatherings.

Only a small proportion of the cases are considered serious enough for the attention of a physician and there has not been a single case of pneumonia.

Schools will re-open on the 13th, according to the present plan.

CHINA WOULD BUY B. C. APPLES SAYS CONSUL

(Special to The Review) Vancouver, March 1.—Although China raises apples in abundance, they are small and do not measure with the B. C. product, says the Hon. J. L. Heng, new Chinese consul at Vancouver. He is prepared to aid the stone fruit industry of B. C. in establishing a market with China, and says apples, peaches, pears and other B. C. fruits will figure largely in the exports of this province to China, when trade relations are better established.

Consul Heng is one of the best known consular figures of his nation. He served as secretary to the Chinese delegation at the Peace Conference, Washington, D.C., and is a profound scholar and enterprising statesman. He says China does not want to see any emigration of her young men to B. C. or the States, as new China's policy is to develop her own resources and keep the flower of her young manhood at home. He predicts a wide expansion of trade relations between his country and Pacific Canada, and declares B. C. orchard products are destined to prove a notable feature in the exports.

CRESCENT BEACH SPORTS GROUND

Organizing Association to Purchase and Make Property a Playground.

Fearing that the Crescent Beach sports ground would be sold to a private party and so be closed to the general public for all purposes, a number of citizens have organized the Summerland Amateur Athletic Association to take over the property.

Crescent Beach was, last summer, one of the most popular spots for bathing and camping parties. Around the water's edge is a fringe of small lots; inside this is a road allowance, and again inside this is the big triangular piece of land comprising race track, etc. The association has taken over this triangular piece, together with grand stand and also six lake shore lots immediately adjoining the wharf on the north side.

It is the intention of the association to build suitable clubhouse, boat house, bathing boxes, swings for the children, lay out grounds and to encourage all forms of sport. The track will be fixed up and grounds laid out for baseball, etc.

The provisional board of directors are Dr. F. W. Andrew, O. F. Zimmerman, A. B. Elliott, F. J. Nixon, C. Edmund Bentley. They have applied for charter of incorporation and the share capital is fixed at $10,000, divided into shares of $10 each. This low figure makes it possible, and it is hoped that everybody will become a shareholder in this very much needed association.

As it is important that an immediate start be made, the provisional directors have taken an option on the property and are ready to receive applications for shares.

At a very early date a meeting will be called of all shareholders for the purpose of electing the directors and to draw up the by-laws of the association.

It is interesting to note that the Penticon Aquatic Association, which built in 1912, has been a financial success, and in 1919 and 1920 paid 5 per cent and 6 per cent dividends on share capital, while 1921 surplus has been carried on to building extensions and to start a sinking fund. The membership for 1921 was over 500.

The Development Company in the early days of Summerland intended that Crescent Beach should be the sports centre and for that purpose built the grand stand and race track and have held the property to this day, rather than subdivide it into small lots. Many most successful meets have been held there and this is now the chance to keep it for a community sports ground.

T. P. Thornber, municipal electrician, was a business visitor to Kelowna on Monday. While there he arranged for the sale of ten transformers lately in use here, but useless for the higher voltage. On Tuesday the council confirmed the sale at $629.

Don't worry about your looks. You will always look good to your friends.

Money By-laws Totalling More Than Hundred Thousand Dollars Coming

Capital Required for Extensions and Improvements to Utilities and for New School Building—Fate of Applications Depends on Ratepayers.

A draft of the following bylaws was submitted at the regular meeting of the municipal council on Tuesday and the clerk instructed to carry out the usual procedure leading up to their being submitted to the ratepayers for approval: Irrigation, $55,000; Domestic Water, $15,000; Electric Light, $12,000 and Schools, $28,000; a total of $108,000. Making due allowance for the additional revenue to be received from the domestic water and electric light extensions it is estimated these bylaws will mean an increase in the tax rate of 8 or 9 mills, unless there is a further increase in irrigation rates.

The electric light committee reported that transformers, replaced by new ones installed to meet the higher voltage from the Kootenay Power Co., had been sold to Kelowna City for $629. Confirmed by Council.

The claim by James Ritchie for shale said to be taken from the property in District Lot 3397, was again up, and it was decided to suggest to Mr. Ritchie that the matter be referred to arbitration.

W. Mack, who last year rented the tax sale property, the use of which had been granted to the Summerland Improvement Club, protested against the cutting down of fruit trees on the two lots, which he declared would be necessary if the property were to be used as a tennis court. He was assured the matter would be investigated, and the clerk was instructed to write the Improvement Club not to cut down the trees.

A. McLean was hired as steamer again at a monthly salary of $85.

A further communication was submitted from Mr. Nesbitt re-establishing a summer camp on the lake shore near Beach Orchard. The clerk was instructed to reply that, as far as the road allowance was concerned, the municipality could give no permission, and if Mr. Nesbitt referred to other property, he should apply to the parties interested.

A letter from the Vernon City

Council with copy of a long and comprehensive resolution relating to the activities directed against the drug evil was submitted and the terms of the resolution endorsed by the council.

A deputation of growers from District Lot 675 waited on the council asking for improved irrigation service for the coming season. They were assured the desired improvements would be carried out provided the irrigation bylaw, at present being prepared, was passed by the ratepayers.

T. B. Young discussed with the council the question of rebate of the irrigation rate in respect of his meadow lot. He was informed that no rebates had been given to properties similarly located and the council could not entertain any claim. In reply to his statement that damage to fruit trees in his father's orchard seemed to be due to seepage from the domestic water pipe line, he was promised the matter would be investigated.

An application was submitted from S. G. Davies for domestic water service to Block 16, District Lot 1073. The clerk was instructed to reply that a bylaw for domestic water extensions would be submitted at an early date.

Some further appeals against assessments were lodged by J. L. Logie on behalf of the Summerland Development Co., and Mrs. M. L. Hogg.

An order from Magistrate Hutton relating to the Stewart children was submitted, by the terms of which the municipality will pay to the Children's Aid Society the sum of $2 weekly for each child until the children reach the age of 14 years. It was reported that Mr. Stewart had agreed to reimburse the municipality for this outlay.

From time to time occasions arise when funds are required on short notice for the work of the police department, and the magistrate asked that the treasurer be empowered to make such advances as the occasion demanded. After some discussion it was arranged the matter be left in the hands of the reeve to deal with all such instances.

A request by the magistrate that the municipality pay the rental for the telephone in the court room was submitted and it was arranged the reeve should consult with the Telephone Co., as to an extension of the telephone from the municipal office to the court room.

Following a discussion as to the sale of tax lands the reeve and Councillor Ritchie were appointed a committee to go into the matter and report to a later meeting of the council.

The clerk reported that, in connection with getting a title of the road from the electric light dam east, it would be necessary to secure a release of certain mortgages on parts of the properties interested. The matter was left over for further consideration.

A plan of a subdivision by J. C. Wilson of his property was approved.

The collector reported that T. Figgis had tendered a cheque in payment of the December and January electric light rates in respect of the restaurant occupied by him. As the account showed arrears of $23.40 incurred by a former tenant, he asked that the arrears be held over for a short time until the former tenant would pay these. Instructions were given that if Mr. Figgis would give a written guarantee to pay the arrears, in the event of the former tenant not doing so at an early date, the discount would be granted.

A list of unpaid dog taxes and trade licenses was referred back to the collector with instructions to make a final demand, and, failing payment, delinquents to be summoned before the court.

A report by the water committee relating to maintenance work on the irrigation system was submitted, and after a lengthy discussion, referred back to the committee for further particulars.

APPLE EATING TO BE BOOSTED BY PHYSICIANS

(Special to The Review.)—Vancouver, March 2.—The old adage of "An apple a day keeps the doctor away," is one of the things to be urged in health week, which will be started here shortly, and expanded throughout the province. It is stated by some of the members of the B. C. Medical Association that fruit-eating should be encouraged as few people eat enough fruit, especially apples. The natural acids and saline properties contained in fruit and certain vegetables, it is stated, contain health-inducing merits that are not equalled by any amount of medicine, and an effort may be made to start Apple Day, after the manner of Raisin Day in California.

SELLS BUSINESS

T. F. Pilkington has sold his blacksmith business and he and his wife and family have gone to Vancouver Island. The new owner, who also bought the property, including shop and house, is Mark Scourrah, who comes here from the Crow's Nest district, an Old Countryman, who served in the army during the war and whose skill in his trade won for him a responsible position.

SUCCESSFUL IN H. SCHOOL EXAMS

Work of School is Much Disarranged Reports Principal—Moral Tone Excellent.

The names of pupils in each class who obtained the required passing grades are submitted in order of merit.

Matriculation—Phyllis Freeman, Marion Beavis, Ewart Bowering, Dorothy Tomlin, Russell Munn, Davessa Cowan and Merle Smith equal, Laurie Beavis, Jessie Monro, Carlton Clay, Ken. Walden, Zanda Garnett, Alma Lott.

Second Year—Amy Smith, Phyllis Cline, Earle Wilson, Grace Garnett, Noel Wright, Warren Gayton, Needa Cline, Clifford Laycox, Harry Hobbs.

The work of the school during the past two months has been greatly hampered through illness and cold weather. A number of pupils have been absent from three to five weeks with mumps. "Flu" has invaded the ranks of the pupils and the attendance has been reduced to less than 50 per cent. The general progress of the school has been much interfered with. Parents are asked to cooperate with the staff as far as possible in securing the greatest diligence on the part of the pupils that they may be able to complete the year's work successfully.

The moral tone of the school is excellent and the principal and staff affirm that the boys and girls conduct themselves in a way that commands respect and confidence. Let parents remember that sweeping generalities made with respect to the questionable moral character of our children are usually the utterances of ignorant, prejudiced and stupid persons who revel in condemnation of others.

The standing of many pupils of the school does not appear in the list reported above owing to absence on account of illness. Others are lower than they would have been had the attendance not been so broken. Better results may be expected in the next report.

D. J. WELSH, Principal.

NEW SPRAY CALENDAR

Complete and up-to-date instructions on spraying are given in a very well laid out calendar issued by the Department of Agriculture. Orchards infested with blister mite should be sprayed within the next two weeks, unless the season is particularly backward. At this time, when thorough spraying is so absolutely essential in all districts, these calendars should be studied carefully and will be found of great value to every grower. Free copies are available at the local offices of district inspectors throughout the Valley.

ROUTE PATRONS WITHOUT MAIL

Interruption in Service Caused Indignation—Strong Protest Entered.

INSPECTOR HERE

Meets Large Delegation and Hears Numerous Complaints—Gives Assurance of Efficient Service in Future.

Rural route patrons were without mail service on Saturday, Monday and Tuesday. On Wednesday the accumulation of mail was distributed following the arrival of Deputy Inspector Trant from Vancouver. The breakdown in the service was reported in the usual way on Saturday and on Monday a telegram was sent to the inspector's office, resulting in the arrival of Mr. Trant on Wednesday morning's train. In the meantime, considerable indignation was aroused by the non-delivery of mails and there was a large delegation from the route to meet the inspector on Wednesday morning.

Next to the protest against the suspension of the service, were the numerous complaints of irregularity in the time at which the courier left the post office. Other matters complained of were the alleged failure of the courier to carry a sufficient supply of postage stamps; his insistence that the mail boxes on the route must be left open; alleged carelessness in the handling of mail matter both for delivery and that collected along the route.

The conference with the inspector was held while the contractor, W. A. Caldwell, was out on the route. The inspector was informed that the contractor had stated that the sorting room furnished him at the post office was unsuitable, and the heating accommodation wholly insufficient. Another alleged excuse credited to Mr. Caldwell was that he had to take this drastic action in order to get the attention of the post office authorities to his complaints.

Assurance was asked from the inspector that a breakdown in the service would not again occur, to which he replied that by delaying the mail, the contractor is committing an indictable offence, for which he would be punished.

So large was the delegation that there was insufficient room in the post office, and by arrangement an adjournment was made to The Review office, where Mr. C. N. Higgin was appointed to the chair. The chairman and two, or three others from Prairie Valley, advocated the serving of the route from the upper post office. Others from the same section opposed the suggestion as did also Garnett Valley, Trout Creek and other patrons. Those who were neutral on this subject could not see that the starting point made any difference. Mr. Higgin and his supporters claimed that it would be a convenience to be able to get their registered mail at the West Summerland post office.

While some thought that Mr. Caldwell had cause for complaint as to the sorting room, others took the opposite view and Inspector Trant informed the meeting that there was better accommodation provided the rural route carrier here than with (Continued on Page 6)

ICE INTERFERED WITH LAKE TRAFFIC

Formed in Places During Still Nights—Dispersed by South Wind.

Ice has formed at several places on Okanagan Lake during recent still frosty nights. At Kelowna and at Penticon the ice has interfered somewhat with navigation. On Sunday the S. S. Okanagan cruised between Trout Creek Point and Penticon to break up the ice which had formed. A tug was used for the same purpose at Kelowna. The ice was responsible for the late arrival of the boat here on several nights. On Tuesday night she did not arrive here till after 11 o'clock. An old-timer is quoted as stating that not in his 38 years' residence in the Valley has there been such a long steady spell of freezing weather. The Chinook wind, which sprang up Thursday morning is likely to terminate an unusually long winter.

ORGANIZING FOR SUMMER SPORTS

Football Club Will Enter League—Recreation Club Elects Its Officers.

Further progress was made with the organization of a recreation club at a meeting held in the Hotel Summerland on Wednesday night. Officers were appointed as follows: President, A. M. Leslie; vice-president, C. Nesbitt; secretary-treasurer, J. B. Jones; constitution committee, A. B. Elliott, F. L. Black, John Gowans, Mrs. J. Tait, Mrs. H. M. Ross. A grounds committee, instructed to arrange for suitable grounds, was appointed as follows: A. S. Powell, W. Angove, J. Tait, C. Nesbitt and H. P. Scott. These committees will report at another meeting to be held next Wednesday.

Luncheon was served by the ladies, to whom a vote of thanks was extended, and another to Mr. McCallum for the use of his hotel for the meeting.

At a meeting of citizens, held in W. Johnston's Hotel on Tuesday, it was agreed that a club be organized, with the title of "Summerland Association Football Club," and the following officers were elected: President, R. H. Helmer; vice-president, A. B. Morkill; secretary-treasurer, R. Pollock; manager, W. Johnston; selection committee, W. Johnston, C. A. Marshall, W. C. W. Fosbery and L. W. Rumball.

The secretary was asked to get in touch with the other associations in the Valley with a view to the Summerland club entering one of the leagues.

Some excellent talent has been lined up, and as arrangements have been completed for the use of the school grounds for practice, it is

Mercantile Co Quits Business

Inventory Being Made—Expected Store Will Re-open Under New Owners

The Summerland Mercantile Co. on Monday, closed its doors and assigned to the Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association, Ltd. The company, in common with many other business concerns, has been experiencing considerable difficulty in financing and on the 1st of December arranged with its chief creditors for an extension of time, hoping that collections would improve.

Representing the Credit Men's Association, J. V. Cotton arrived from Vancouver on Tuesday and is making an inventory of the stock, fixtures, etc.

It is reported on good authority that negotiations are in progress for the sale of the business to a Vancouver buyer and an early announcement to this effect is anticipated.

The members of the Mercantile Co. have the sympathy of a wide circle of friends who will greatly regret their withdrawal from the retail business life of the community.

I looked at my Brother with the Microscope of Criticism and I said, "How coarse my Brother is!" I looked at him with the Telescope of Scorn and I said, "How small my Brother is!" Then I looked in the Mirror of Truth and I said, "How like me my Brother is!"—Bolton Hall.

confidently expected the club will maintain the reputation of Summerland for athletic honors.

D. Thompson occupied the chair.

WAS ARRESTED AT GRAND FORKS

Accused With Having Stolen Goods in Possession, Including College Furniture.

On information laid before Police Magistrate Hutton on Tuesday, a warrant was issued for the arrest of Charles Barnes, who was located at Grand Forks, and on Wednesday Constable King went over to the Boundary city and returned with the prisoner on Thursday.

The charge against Barnes was one of having stolen goods in his possession. The accused, with his wife and daughter are comparative strangers here and lived for about three months in the Pat Borton cottage, south of Dale's corner. Early this week he shipped his effects to Grand Forks and left with his wife and daughter on Tuesday's train for that city.

Suspicion being aroused by the appearance of the packages awaiting shipment, a search warrant was obtained and the goods examined, among them being found furniture identified as belonging to the college, one piece being a sideboard, the property of H. H. Elsey, which had been stored in the basement of the ladies' building.

Her First Watermelon.

Entering the kitchen, Mrs. Gotham was amazed to see the watermelon she had ordered for dessert immersed in a pot of water boiling briskly on the range.

"Why, Norah, what in the world did you do that for?" she exclaimed.

"Sure, I know nothing about them things," replied the recently imported domestic. "I thought they had to turn red like lobsters before you ate 'em."—Boston Transcript.

NATIONS OF EARTH LOOK TOWARD B. C.

It may sound exaggerated to state that half a dozen nations of the earth are today looking toward British Columbia, and eyeing this province with trade interest, but proof is seen in a special article on the subject that appears this week in The Province of Vancouver, wherein the resident consuls of other lands evince interest in the development of Pacific Canada. From the new Republic of Latvia, created as an aftermath of the war, to old Spain, and thence across the seas to China in her awakening, it is seen that British Columbia has a specific "something" to suit each nation, something in export or import, something that must mean its bit in fostering an expansion of British Columbia's destiny as the Empire's great Pacific gateway of the North American continent.

At least seven of the B. C. consuls see wherein this province has much to offer in supply or demand. The consuls, with few exceptions, are not worrying about caring for their subjects in B. C. They are concerned with something that means more in revenues. Each nation, somehow, seems to offer more than it seeks. In other words, the Pacific Canadian exports to each country goes further than the imports from that land. There is no suggestion of importing products that are found here. Trade relationship points to the advantages mostly on the side of British Columbia, if one may accept the views of these consular agents. There are nations, like Mexico, that want to open a merchant marine system of trade reciprocity. China wants to buy fruit, canned stuffs, machinery and whatnot, and only seeks to send over rice, silk, ginger and things that are not produced here. The same with other countries. Norway and Sweden are exceptions. They produce the same kind of things that are produced in B. C., only on a more limited scale. Japan wants lumber and other things. Peru expects to transform its present market into a great exchange; and so do other Latin American republics. Spain is opening a regular B. C. consulate. Germany, also, it is reported, is anxious to get in on the good things here with a consulate of her own. "Let us forget past foolishness, and settle down to business,"—this is what was said the other day by a merchant prince from Berlin, on his visit to Vancouver and Victoria.

Nearly everything produced in B. C. is bound to play a part in this great trade expansion that is opening up. It will do its part for our mines, our agricultural areas, our orchards, our collieries, our new wheat market, our industrial plants, our everything! Seen through consular eyes, British Columbia is stepping forth upon a destiny of commercial greatness. It will be interesting to compare notes and conditions with this statement, say, a year or two hence.

Peachland is to be congratulated on its action in organizing a Board of Trade. Such an institution will be of inestimable value to the community. Through its Board of Trade Peachland will be able to co-operate more closely with the other Okanagan towns in matters of vital importance to itself and the Okanagan as a whole.

"British Columbia's claimed prosperity only amounts to what is brought in by American tourists," says a bilious writer in a Seattle daily.

WILL IRRIGATE CAWSTON BENCH

Eight Hundred Acres to be Served by Electric Pumping Plant.

Eight hundred acres of the fertile bench at Cawston are to be put under irrigation this spring by means of a 200 horse-power electric pumping plant, energy for which will be supplied by the West Kootenay Power & Light Company, from a sub-station to be installed at Oliver. The power company will erect a 20,000 volt line, from Oliver to Cawston, on the main high tension pole line from Bonnington Falls to Copper Mountain. This line enters the Similkameen valley at the north end of the Cawston district and it is expected that in addition to supplying the current for the pumping plant the power company will install electric light connections for the Cawston and Keremeos districts.

A rate of 2c per K.W.H. for current for the pumping plant has been granted to the land company by the West Kootenay Power & Light Co. This is thought to be a low rate when the cost of constructing the line from Oliver to Cawston, for approximately a five months service each year, is taken into consideration.

It is understood that some 200 acres of the land to be put under irrigation will be leased by the Dominion Canners, B. C., Ltd., for a term of years, for the purpose of growing tomatoes for its large cannery. The land is generally acknowledged to be the finest in southern B. C. for tomato raising and with this large tract of bench land under water, the future of the Cawston district is practically assured.

Hindus Want Police Jobs.

Vancouver, March 2.—Bearing testimonials showing they had served as policemen in India, and claiming their rights to receive recognition in city employment, a number of Hindus are petitioning the municipality, through Guy Cornyn, barrister, with applications for appointment to the force. They also ask to be appointed to provincial constabulary vacancies. It is doubtful, however, if any of them succeed, because few could pass the civil service test.

FARMERS, INSTITUTE MEETS IN VERNON

L. E. Taylor Appointed to Advisory Board at Annual Meeting Last Week.

(Vernon News)

The annual meeting of District G. of the Farmers' Institute of B. C., was held in the court house here last Friday and Saturday. Mr. L. E. Taylor, of Kelowna, called the meeting to order and after welcoming the delegates from the different institutes in North and South Okanagan asked for nominations for a chairman and Mr. J. Goldie, of Okanagan Centre, was unanimously selected. Mr. G. R. Venables was chosen secretary.

The previous minutes having been disposed of, Mr. Taylor dealt with the work done by the advisory board which had been rather extensive some 87 resolutions having been disposed of. Those of more direct interest to this district were those referring to the amalgamation of the U. F. B. C., and the Farmers' Institute, the Oriental question, the Agricultural Journal, secretaries' salaries, stumping powder, importation of Chinese eggs, noxious weeds, agricultural credit loans, road work, coyotes, assessment, field crop competition, fire permits, provincial bank, blasting near poultry ranches, agricultural lime, workmen's compensation act, railway rates on seed grain, the pound act and rural credits.

A running discussion followed on these topics in which Mr. Jas. Bailey, chairman of the board, Mr. Whitney-Griffith, secretary, took part and a flood of information as to what had been done. Questions were asked and the answers were of a most satisfactory character.

The report of the agricultural committee of the provincial legislature was read by Mr. Taylor. As no action was taken by the legislature, a most animated discussion took place. It was felt that the agricultural interests of the province as presented to the agricultural committee by the representatives of the U. F. B. C., and the F. I. had not received due attention. Some were inclined to blame the agricultural committee and others the legislature. At a later stage of the meeting Dr. K. C. MacDonald, M.P., chairman of the agricultural committee, was present and made explanations such as led to the passing of a resolution expressive of regret that legislation action had not been taken but that specific blame therefor should not be attributed to the members of that committee. The manner of procedure was pointed out and it is anticipated that representations will, in future, be made at an earlier date so that there may be sufficient time for due consideration by the members of the legislature and the enactment of resolutions into legislation if agreed upon. Dr. MacDonald was tendered a hearty vote of thanks for the helpful part he took in the discussion.

Mr. L. E. Taylor was unanimously re-elected member of the advisory board for this district. On motion of Messrs. Perdue and McCallum, it was decided to form a district association consisting of all the institutes in the district. The officers elected were: President, J. Goldie; vice-president, J. G. Perdue; secretary-treasurer, G. R. Venables.

Resolutions from different institutes were discussed and passed favoring an amendment to the Soldier Settlement Act to provide for the three years' moratorium, favoring the establishment of stockyards, appreciating the action of the government inspector and advocating amendments to the assessment act to provide for appeals from assessors to county court judges in certain cases, to change the delinquent tax date to Sept. 30, and to modify the basis of assessment in certain cases. In some cases resolutions were withdrawn or not carried.

During the closing session able addresses were made by Messrs. Bailey and Whitney-Griffiths. The former dealt with the agricultural question, the effort for betterment on the part of the farmer, the difference between the cost of farm produce to the consumer and the price realized by the producer, the cost of transportation, railway dividends, the trend of population from the country to the city, high taxation, etc. Suggestions were made as to securing improved conditions by personal effort and by co-operative means. The success of the Fraser Valley Milk Producers' Association was instanced and the beneficial results to producer and consumer were alluded to. Farmers were advised to "hang together" or they would probably be "hanged apart."

Mr. Whitney-Griffiths emphasized the apparent lack of earnestness on the part of members and advised the giving of careful thought to the preparation of resolutions so that they might be more acceptable to the government. Members of the legislature should be invited to attend institute meetings. The province was divided into nine districts in each of which there should be successful conferences held by the delegates from the various institutes. Their problems should be carefully studied and concerted action taken to have their findings enacted into legislation or know why they were not acceptable to the legislators. There was about 140 institutes in the province with a membership of about 5,000. A lack of interest was shown by some, 26 had not reported and 14 had not even applied for the government grant. The members of the legislature had approved the work done by the advisory board and were willing to pay the necessary expenses. The appointment of a special representative to attend at the sessions of the legislature on the part of the Farmers Institute and the United Farmers was advocated. The speakers were tendered the cordial thanks of the meeting. Chairman Goldie in closing the convention emphasized its salient closing and advised the delegates to convey as large a measure as possible of its enthusiasm to their respective institutes so that valuable work would be carried on for the benefit of the farmer.

The delegates present were: L. E. Taylor, Kelowna; J. Goldie, E. C. Maile, G. R. Venables and P. W. Pixon, Okanagan Centre; M. P. Williams, Winfield; C. H. Hancock, Grindrod; C. H. Tate and R. Johnston, Summerland; J. Monk and M. Monk, North Okanagan; J. McCallum, Armstrong; J. G. Perdue, Naham; I. L. Howlett, Westbank.

Besides the president and secretary of the advisory board, there were present during the whole or part of the sessions the following: Dr. K. C. MacDonald, F. Copeland, S. P. French, P. E. French, and J. R. Brown, of the United Farmers, the latter giving a cordial address of welcome on behalf of the United Farmers. Mr. Laidman, by request, took part in the discussions.

The week of March 6 to 11 will be campaign week in Vernon, when $7000 will be solicited from residents of the town and district.

Bill Collector—But why do you let your wife spend all your money?
Mr. Henpeck—Because I'd rather argue with you than with her.

NEW ROAD WORK

The roadwork program for the southern interior during the coming season will be an extensive one, according to statements made by Road Engineer W. K. Gwyer. On various work extending between Hope and Roseland, and north from the boundary line to Sicamous, more than 1000 men will be employed during the summer.

Mr. Gwyer announced that thirty-five miles of the transprovincial highway between Hope and Princeton, would be built this year. This will be constructed in two sections, one being the first 25 miles east of Hope, and the other a section of ten miles westward from the present end of the road which is 8 1/2 miles out of Princeton. Thus by the end of the construction season the transprovincial highway will be 18 1/2 miles east from Hope, leaving a gap of 25 miles in the centre which is to be finished in 1923. The end of that year should, therefore, see the coast connected up with the interior by motor road.

There is a possibility that tenders for the Hope-Princeton sections will be sought within the next two weeks, work to start as soon as the season opens there.

The Hope-Princeton road is to be of secondary construction, 12 feet wide on the straight stretches and 18 feet wide at the turnouts.

The road engineer stated that the gap of 19 miles between the Christina lake and Roseland sections of the transprovincial road would also be finished this year. The completion of this roadway will give the Okanagan and Similkameen direct road connection with Nelson.

It is expected that considerable improvement work will be carried out this season on the lakeshore highway between Penticton and the Westbank ferry wharf. Some work has been carried out during the winter and further funds will be expended in the spring and summer, particularly with a view to providing retaining walls and taking off more of the rock points.

A good deal of construction will also take place on the Southern Okanagan project roadway. This road was built last year from the McIntyre bridge to the demonstration farm. As soon as the season opens up it will be gravelled for summer use. There is a likelihood as well that the road will be extended during the coming season down to the boundary line.

The expectation is that a considerable sum of money will be spent at Kelowna on the Mission Creek protection work.

The usual amount of maintenance will be carried on throughout the district.

The Northern Okanagan highway has been finished through to Sicamous to give connection with Revelstoke.

According to computations the Hope end of the transprovincial highway will require 300 men this season, with 200 for the Princeton

Memorial Concert.

The community social, held last week in the Orange Hall as arranged by the memorial committee, was a real success. There was a large attendance and the program was well received. It consisted of solos by Mesdames Hardisty, Wright, Elliott, Jones and Miss Betty Buchanan; quartette by Mrs. Wright, Miss Buchanan, Messrs. Hogg and Black; piano duets by Miss Buchanan and Mr. Ian Sutherland; violin quintette by Messrs. Hogg, Coad, Buchanan, Cousins and McCall; violin duet by Mr. Coad and one of his pupils, Master Edgar Taylor, and a violin solo by Mr. Coad; a vocal duet by Messrs. Metcalf and McCall, accompanied by the piano and four violins; and a vocal duet by Mesdames Elliott and Wright. After the program and while lunch was being served, five violin players joined forces and played a number of familiar airs, accompanied by Mr. Ian Sutherland at the piano. The accompanists for the various selections were Mrs. Coad, Mrs. Martin and Mr. Ian Sutherland. The receipts for the evening amounted to over forty dollars, which goes to the memorial fund.

Mr. Hogg, acting chairman, gave some detail as to the results of the canvass for the memorial monument. There was only a very small balance due on the monument and almost enough funds were on hand to clear it and still a number of subscriptions to come in. However, he stated, there would be need for further funds for the cleaning up and otherwise beautifying the grounds around the monument. The chairman expressed the suggestion from the committee that the community hold a like social or entertainment annually in commemoration of what the memorial stands for and as a means of augmenting the fund to keep the grounds in order. Armistice Day was unanimously voted as the best day on which to hold this annual gathering.

New Board of Trade.

At a recent meeting, held in the council chambers, a Peachland Board of Trade was formed. Mr. H. H. Thompson was appointed secretary pro-tem; Mr. Geo. McBean was appointed president; Major Hardisty, vice-president; Dr. Buchanan, secretary-treasurer, and the following added to the executive: Reeve G. Lang, Mr. Harrison, C. Drake, W. Sanderson. The president, Mr. McBean, Reeve G. Lang and Mr. Harrison were appointed as a committee to secure necessary data for the proper organization of a Board of Trade and report to the executive. The membership fee was set at $2 per annum. Meetings will be held on the first Thursday of each month at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. N. A. McDonald, of Penticton, with her baby daughter, spent Wednesday in town with relatives.

It is understood that Rowell Bros., of Kelowna, have succeeded in contracting with about a score of growers in Peachland for the handling of the 1922 crop from their orchards.

It has been reported about the community that the Occidental Fruit Company had made arrangements to operate a combination packing house and small cannery in town this season, but there seems to be no likelihood of a move to this effect.

Mr. Allan Wilson returned home on Thursday after a few weeks spent at his former home in Alberta.

Police Magistrate Thos. Powell sat on a couple of cases which were held in the council chamber on Thursday last, when Mr. Last of Glenrosa and Mr. Art Gellatly, of Gellatly, were fined for having had horses at large within the bounds of the municipality. These animals had been impounded in town and when sold had not brought enough to cover the charges against them.

Mr. Tomlin, manager of the skating rink, put on a voting contest for the most popular lady on the ice; the voting to be done on Friday and Saturday evenings, the last two nights of the season. There was a fair crowd out on Friday and a considerably better one on Saturday and the excitement ran high, more especially on Saturday evening, when the results of the contest were marked up from time to time throughout the evening. The final count gave little Miss Edna Cudmore the highest number with quite a lead. The ice was in good condition and everyone had a very enjoyable time. When the crowd was about to disperse for home three hearty cheers were given for Mr. and Mrs. Tomlin for the good times they had given the skaters.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. F. Moore, of Penticton, and family spent the week here with friends and relatives.

BALCOMO RANCH GETS WRITE-UP

Agur Family and Property Subject of Special Article by Visiting Correspondent.

Following a recent visit to Summerland, "H. Glenn-Ward," of Vancouver sent the following story to the paper:

In a sheltered valley high up among the hills overlooking the Okanagan lake is situated one of the most beautiful farms and certainly one of the best laid-out, that it has been my pleasure to visit since I have been touring the province for "Farm and Home." The house and gardens in this particular setting of undulating-upland scenery reminded me of a long-established Old Country estate in the Highlands of Scotland, and the orchards, model dairy farm and fields with their trim wire fences and well-kept walks can only be likened to the "home farm" attached to one of the "stately homes of England."

The late Mr. R. H. Agur came to British Columbia from Winnipeg sixteen years ago with Mrs. Agur and four sons, two of whom are still on the ranch.

When Mr. Agur settled on his 100 acres of what was, in those days nothing but free-range cattle country, he spared neither pains nor money to make a very perfect home out of it, and he succeeded.

Mixed farming with preponderance of dairying and fruit-growing is what the Balcomo Ranch is famous for, and that it is producing the highest possible standard of these is shown by the fact that some of the young Holstein heifers are averaging 4.5 per cent. of butter fat and that the Agurs' apples were the ones chosen to be exhibited at the New Westminster Fair last fall by the district. Of the sons, the eldest, R. V. Agur is acting manager, and Eric Agur is foreman of the ranch; they have three permanent men working for them, and take on a couple of Japs at odd times for irrigation work. One of the men is herdsman and specially responsible for the cattle and the dairy.

There are twelve head of Holsteins, eight of them milking and all these on R. O. P. tests; the best of them are milked three times a day, and the herd has passed its first test for Accredited T. B. The Agurs obtained their foundation stock indirectly from Steves, of Steveston, and one of their bulls, "Sir Balcomo Ormsby Mechtildie," is the son of Steves' famous $5,000 bull. Their best cow is "Summerhill Topsy" with a record of 17,817 pounds milk, and 625 pounds butter-fat; she was bought from Pat Owens, of Salmon Arm, who brought her originally from Ontario. A folder is kept for each cow, giving her complete history and a daily record of her performance.

Mr. Agur told me he was trying to breed his cows, especially with a view to future butter-fat production. He has won several prizes with them at New Westminster. He uses almost entirely sunflower silage with a little corn, as the Balcomo soil produces 15-20 tons of sunflower to the acre. They ship cream to the Kelowna Creamery, on an average 280 pounds a month, and the skim milk, of course, is fed to the pigs and calves. The Agurs used to go in largely for hogs, but they have sold them off and now keep just a few Duroc-Jerseys. They have but one team of horses, as they use the most up-to-date motor machinery for everything, even for spreading manure.

There are some thirty acres in alfalfa and roots, and three acres of sunflower. Another three acres are devoted to tomatoes with which the Agurs have been particularly successful, shipping thirty tons of them last season. The seed is sown under glass the first week in March, and the growers follow a special system of their own in planting out for early crops and rotation. The early prices, of course, are the ones to aim for, a 20-pound crate in July fetching $1.40 net. In 1920 the Agurs netted a total of $660 for their tomatoes, but reckoned that this was a poor year. On the principle that the best is local Union, was up the lake for a couple of days last week-end.

Master Willie Rice came in from the coast on Saturday to spend a few months with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. White. He intends attending school here.

Mr. and Mrs. Cartwright, of Okanagan Landing, were this week guests of Mrs. Cartwright's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Moore.

When one of the C. P. R. tug boats was down on Monday they picked up a small launch and left it moored near shore in front of town.

Government Road Foreman Murdin has taken on a few extra men and is busy blasting off some of the rock points on the Peachland-Summerland road, now working just below Mr. D. McLachlan's place.

DODGING INFLUENZA.

Taking Care at the Right Time Will Save One From More Serious Trouble.

Influenza is one of the most catching of winter diseases. During each winter many thousands of Canadians are laid up with it. While it is not in itself very serious it may have disastrous consequences. When to the loss of health, of time for work and pleasure, is added the suffering caused, this apparently mild disease has much to answer for.

Much of this suffering could be prevented if certain simple precautions were better understood and more generally adopted. The prevention of a simple cold often means the prevention of influenza or grippe, as it is sometimes called. Proper food, sensible clothes, plenty of sleep, good ventilation indoors and ample exercise in the fresh air all tend to strengthen our power of resistance and reduce the chance of infection.

The patient can do much to prevent the disease passing to others. The greatest care should be exercised to guard with a handkerchief all coughing and sneezing. Sputum should be safely deposited in a paper cup or handkerchief for destruction. Spitting is a dirty habit at all times but a spitter with grippe is a positive danger to his associates. To every person with influenza, pneumonia is a possibility. Bed is the only strategic ground on which to combat grippe germs. "Go to bed and remain there until your family doctor considers it safe for you to go out." A famous health authority gives this rule. It is the rule for safety and a rapid recovery.

Newspaper Advertising.

"Diogenes," in the Saturday Review, Victoria, has this to say on the subject of newspaper advertising that every business man who wishes to succeed, should read and ponder:

"The first privilege of a newspaper is to afford the whole community the widest possible opening for publicity, at the lowest rates, consistent with sound business. Liberal, but discriminating advertising is the sure foundation of any paper, and I venture to think there can be no better place for an advertisement than the pages of a newspaper, where it is accessible to all and offensive to none."

A sensible man doesn't care if he isn't good looking. He knows there are others.

None too good, they have a flock of 40 beautiful specimens of Solly's White Wyandottes, which Mrs. R. V. Agur makes her especial charge. They are kept in a long up-to-date house, scrupulously clean, and fed entirely on home-grown grain, so far as that part of the ration is concerned, while skim milk is plentiful. The best grain-feed for them Mr. Agur has found is "Quebec 28," and I certainly saw magnificent full-seeded cobs of this corn in the granary. He has made a specialty of "Quebec 28," taking many prizes with it and selling a good deal for seed.

A happy flock of Aylesbury ducks were disporting themselves in the pond, which was made for them by damming up the creek and this with its overhanging shade trees at the bottom of a sloping lawn makes a perfect beauty-spot in summer. There are a couple of creeks running through the estate, so they are never short of water.

In spite of his predilection for dairying and mixed farming, Mr. Agur agrees with many others when he says that tree-fruit is the best paying on most Okanagan farms as well as his own. There are 40 acres of orchard with trees of varying ages, chiefly apples, the varieties being McIntosh, Yellow Newtowns, Jonathan, Wagner, Gravenstein and Northern Spy. They shipped 6,000 boxes of apples this year and 400 crates of peaches. These last are grown all in one block and not merely used as fillers amongst the other trees, as many other growers use them; they are of the "Alberta" variety, and in 1920 these brought in $1.60 per crate, for "ones," "twos" and "threes."

There are also pears and twenty cherry trees grown in one long row from which 264 crates were shipped this year, bringing in net returns of $469.34. These figures do not include labor charges.

It is difficult to describe the beauty of the Balcomo Ranch, with its beautiful spreading fields and surroundings, comfortable red-roofed house with its many gables and porches, white walls, half-hidden in creepers, the lawns around it and flower garden with its long pergola supported by concrete pillars, the barns, cow-stables and other out-buildings in keeping to every detail. The pity of it all is that to admit of the estate being wound up it must be placed on the market. One cannot but hope that it will not altogether pass out of the hands of the family who have made it.

BOOKDOM'S BEST FOR B. C. HOMES

Provincial Travelling Library at Victoria Will Supply Individuals.

Although the days of something for nothing are generally conceded to have gone with the past, or never to have really existed, yet it is possible right now for any resident in British Columbia, at the cost of a three-cent stamp, or virtually nothing, to bring to his home any of a storehouse of 25,000 books. City library facilities are thus the possession of every rural resident.

By merely paying the trifling parcel post rates on the books any man or woman may borrow, from an excellently variegated selection, volumes on any subject he or she may be interested in.

Thousands are getting these books already, for they are in the Travelling Library at the Parliament Buildings, Victoria; but they are enjoying them chiefly through the auspices of various clubs and bodies, such as Women's Institutes, which have sent requests to this adjunct of the Provincial Library and have received boxes of books in return.

In this way, however, only a limited portion of the rural population of the province is benefitting by the library. It is the purpose of this article to enlighten as many as possible as to how they may individually profit by the great selection placed at their disposal, and as to what the selection comprises.

Thousands of Books.

In the first place, the Travelling Library consists of stack upon stack of books stored temporarily some six floors under the main library floor of the Parliament Buildings. The word temporarily is used advisedly, for although this library may be found there permanently, its books are in such constant circulation that a returned volume has but a brief stay.

Yet there are thousands of books on the shelves at all times, although by no means always the same books. They stay until a request is received for them. In many cases their usefulness is wasted, however. When an application comes for a miscellaneous selection of volumes on special subjects, as Bee-farming, Dairying or Poultry Raising, they may be sent out and find at their destination no one particularly interested in them. Thus the books may lie idle for six months or so, or even longer. But if a special request is made individually by a man or woman for a volume on a subject in which he or she is particularly interested then it is assured that the most use is being made of the library.

It is the wish of Mr. Herbert Killam, secretary of the Public Library Commission, who supervises the operation of the Travelling Library, to intensify the work of the library in this wise as much as possible.

"The Travelling Library is designed almost entirely to suit the needs of the rural population of this province," said Mr. Killam in a recent interview.

Aid to Farmers.

"The volumes, although many are fiction and designed purely for recreation, are to a large extent chosen from the viewpoint of the small community. Is a man interested in dairying; would he like to get more out of his cows; to care for them better than he is now doing, and so get better results,—we have a number of standard books on the subject that will help him.

"Likewise in the other phases of farm life. In fact, it is not too much to say that we can procure one a book on any subject that he or she may be interested in if it is pertinent.

ing to any matter that may come up in his life on farm, ranch or in small community. What we do not have in our own library we often find at our disposal on the shelves of the Provincial Library.

Mr. Killam cited the instance of a woman student of agriculture at the university in Vancouver, to show the wide scope of the Travelling Library. Desiring books for advanced study of a subject she was interested in, the student combed the University Library and the Public Library in Vancouver but without finding anything to assist her. When it began to look as if the study would have to be abandoned someone suggested the Travelling Library. From this source the lady received everything she required and finished her work successfully.

Some time later the lady wrote to the library asking for a book or books on poultry, with the stipulation, however, that they be so written as to be comprehensive to a boy of seventeen. Once again she had failed to find books in the Vancouver libraries, but the Travelling Library filled the bill. The boy is now well versed in the raising of poultry.

Evidence of another phase of the library's service was given by Mr. Killam when he cited the case of a young, illiterate rancher, living some miles from any school. From him came a request for books to enable him to overcome his deficiency. The request was unusual but among the library's 25,000 books were found some suitable for his study. When he was through with these, others were provided and the rancher has so far progressed by this time that he has read with great enjoyment such of the old favorites as "The Three Musketeers," "Lorna Doone" and others.

Relieves Drudgery.

Reference was next made by Mr. Killam to the great service the library is prepared to perform for the women on the farm and in the small community. Much of the drudgery and monotony of their life can be eliminated by drawing on the facilities of the library.

No one will gainsay that there is much drudgery and monotony, to say nothing of the depressing feeling of being away from the world, detached, out of it. To a certain extent magazines and farm papers offset this feeling, but, at best, their influence is ephemeral. Here then, the travelling library is prepared to step in.

Does a woman feel there is something wrong with the layout of her home? The library will send her books on simple architecture. From these she may learn much; at least she is bound to learn something. Likewise, if she would add new recipes to her present kitchen list she can, by simply requesting it, obtain from the library a number of books on the subject. She may keep the books for many weeks and, at her leisure, transfer the recipes that appeal to her into a scribbler or other note-book.

Likewise in every other phase of her daily life. Books on the sick room, on first aid to the injured—knowledge of which every woman should have—on sewing, even on millinery, can be got from this same source. Likewise books on the care of the children, on motherhood, and, especially, books for the children.

Books for Children.

Perhaps no section of the library's books have been chosen with greater care than have those for the youngsters. Nursery rhymes, fairy tales, nature studies—all the books dear to the child heart and mind are to be found on the shelves of this immense storehouse. Particularly have they been chosen with a view to getting books artistically illustrated. None of the weird grotesqueries of brush and pen to be found in cheaper children's books are to be found in these volumes, for it is the wish of the librarian to instil early in the child's heart a love of the artistic and beautiful. It is not instruction but subtle inspiration to favor that which is refined as against that which is monstrous.

Other books for children include romances, which are none other than the dry, greatly dreaded, histories of our younger days. But so different are they now, so intensely alive and interesting. These, however, are meant principally for use by teachers who can assist the eager child mind to a better comprehension of the past with these profusely illustrated texts.

While speaking of children and teachers, Mr. Killam drew particular attention to the great work of instruction being accomplished by the various Women's Institutes of the province. Already they have done a great service to the Travelling Library by circulating the library's books, but Mr. Killam suggested that a still greater service could be accomplished if members of the institutes would themselves get up papers on the books the library sends out and would read them before the institute body.

Mr. Killam did not under-rate the work of outside lecturers paid by the institutes, but expressed it as his opinion that the women would benefit to a much larger extent if they would deliver their own lectures on the books placed at their disposal.

Booklets on Health.

In this regard he suggested as a starter lectures based on a set of fourteen booklets issued gratis by the Department of Health, Ottawa. These books, covering a wide range of subjects of daily interest to the average woman, can be obtained from the Travelling Library, by which they are loaned. Twenty-five copies of each booklet are at the disposal of the library.

A glance at the titles of the "Little Blue Books," as they are called, give a fair idea of their scope which also includes aid to new residents in the Dominion. The books are:

1. Good Wishes to You from Canada.
2. How to Build the Canadian Home.
3. How to Make Our Canadian Home.
4. How to Make Outpost Homes in Canada.
5. Canadians Need Milk.
6. How We Cook in Canada.
7. How to Manage Housework in Canada.
8. How to Take Care of Mother.
9. How to Take Care of the Family.
10. How to Take Care of the Baby.
11. How to Take Care of the Children.
12. Household Cost Accounting in Canada.
13. How to Take Care of Household Waste.
14. How to Avoid Accidents and Give First Aid.

They may be obtained in either English or French.

Information for a further study of any of these topics may be obtained from the Travelling Library where entire shelves are devoted to volumes on women's daily problems.

A Real Service.

That the Travelling Library's service is real and that many are benefitting by it is in no way better attested than by the countless letters of thanks which the librarian receives. An excerpt from a not unusual letter is given below.

The writer, living in the neighborhood of Chilliwack, is a returned soldier. He desired a "good" book on the feeding of stock and a history of a particular period of the World War. The Travelling Library supplied the books. In returning them the recipient writes, in part:

"I am returning under separate cover, by this mail, the books I had from you: Henry's Feeds and Feeding," Stuart's "Feeding Animals" and two volumes of Nelson's "History of the War." I have been guilty of a somewhat irregular piece of business, inasmuch as I have kept these books beyond the allotted time and have lent them to three others, returned soldiers, who were very anxious to look into them at once and incidentally save cost of mailing. They were greatly interested and I think profited by Henry's "Feeds and Feeding." Stewart's is a good book, but Henry's is right up to date. The three men are in the dairy business, so I trust my reason will justify my act."

Although Mr. Killam selected the above books himself, being given only a general idea of the man's needs, he modestly declared that it was a mere nothing and seemed to imply that with the quality of books at his disposal selecting ones best fitted to a person's needs was a very simple matter.

Because of the nature of its circulation the library maintains no printed catalogue, and it is therefore best, in sending for books, to give only the subject they should cover. Mr. Killam and his assistants will do the rest. All letters should be addressed to the Public Library Commission, Parliament Buildings, Victoria.

SOME AUCTION SALE

The following is a copy of an auction notice, more than 70 years old, and as such is of considerable interest to present day readers, who are sometimes told of the good old-fashioned days:

Having sold my farm and intending to move to Missouri, I will sell at public sale, I mile west and 4 miles south of Harrisburg, Ky., on Saturday, September 26, 1850, the following described property, to wit: One buck nigger, 25 years old, weight 210 pounds; 4 nigger wenches, from 18 to 24 years old; 3 nigger boys, 6 years old; 13 nigger hoes; 1 fine sled; six yoke of oxen, well broke; 10 ox yokes with hickory bows; 2 ox carts, with 6-in tires; 1 saddle pony; 5 years old; 1 side saddle; 3 double shaver plows, 2 stump plows, 10 and 12 inch; 25 one-gallon whiskey jugs; 100 gallons apple cider; 1 barrel of good sorghum; 2 barrels of soap; 2 barrels of kraut; 1 extra good nigger whip; 2 tons of tobacco; 2 years old. Sale will start at 10.30 sharp. Terms, cash I need the money. Col. H. W. Johnson, Auctioneer. Bill Crawford, clerk, Joe Cooley, owner.

HOUSE BURNS DOWN WHILE AT THEATRE

(Special to The Review)

Vancouver, March 1.—Returning from the theatre the other night with his family, James MacDonald found his home a smoldering mass of ruins. The cause of the fire is laid to the explosion of the furnace. It seems that before leaving the house, Mr. MacDonald filled the fire-pot with coal, to have the house warm when they came back, but neglected to lower the back draft. The gas given off being unable to pass off exploded when the fire burnt up. The house and its contents were a total loss, but fortunately covered by insurance.

The fire inspector, who examined the ruins, sounded a warning to other householders, who would not emulate Mr. MacDonald's ill-fortune. He explained that coal when breaking up gives off a highly explosive gas, which, if ignited in the open, will only flare up, but when it is confined will explode with terrific force. If the back draft is left up the pressure of air holds the gas on top of the coal like a blanket, with the foregoing dire results.

FACE BURNT BY EXPLODING TIRE

(Special to The Review)

Vancouver, March 1.—John Cormack had his face very severely burnt and may lose the sight of one eye, as the result of a tire bursting while he was filling it with air. Cord tires, when new, lie very flat on the road and Mr. Cormack was testing his pressure with his thumb instead of a regular pressure gauge. The consequence was that he got over one hundred pounds of air in the tire before he was aware of it, and when the casing went the friction from the escaping air caused a five-foot flame, which passed across his face, burning his face and most of his hair off.

Synopsis of Land Act Amendments

Minimum price of first-class land reduced to $5 an acre; second-class to $2.50 an acre.

Pre-emption now confined to surveyed lands only.

Records will be granted covering only lands suitable for agricultural purposes and which is non-timber land.

Partnership pre-emptions abolished, but parties of not more than four may arrange for adjacent pre-emptions with joint residences, but each making necessary improvements on respective claims.

Pre-emptions must occupy claims for five years and must make improvements to value of $10 an acre, including clearing and cultivation of at least 5 acres, before receiving Crown grant.

Where pre-emptor in occupation not less than 3 years, and has made proportionate improvements, he may, because of ill-health, or other cause, be granted intermediate certificate of improvement and transfer his claim.

Records without permanent residence may be issued, provided applicant makes improvements to extent of $300 per annum and records same each year. Failure to make improvements or record same will operate as forfeiture. Title cannot be obtained in less than 5 years, and improvements of $10.00 per acre, including 5 acres cleared and cultivated, and residence of at least 2 years are required.

Pre-emptor holding Crown Grant may record another pre-emption, if he requires land in conjunction with his farm, without actual occupation, provided statutory improvements made and residence maintained on Crown granted land.

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as home-sites; title to be obtained after fulfilling residential and improvement conditions.

For grazing and industrial purposes areas exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or company. Mill, factory or industrial sites on timber land not exceeding 40 acres may be purchased; conditions include payment of stumpage.

Natural hay meadows inaccessible by existing roads may be purchased conditional upon construction of a road to them. Rebate of one-half of cost of road, not exceeding half of purchase price is made.

PRE-EMPTOR'S FREE GRANTS ACT.

The scope of this Act is enlarged to include all persons joining and serving with His Majesty's Forces. The time within which the heirs or devisees of a deceased pre-emptor may apply for title under this act is extended from one year from the death of such person, as formerly, until one year after the conclusion of the present war. This privilege is also made retroactive.

No fees relating to pre-emptions are due or payable by soldiers on pre-emptions recorded after June 26, 1918. Taxes are remitted for five years.

Provision for return of moneys accrued, due and been paid since August 4, 1914, on account of payments, fees or taxes on soldiers' pre-emptions.

Interest on agreements to purchase town or city lots held by members of Allied Forces, or dependents, acquired direct or indirect, remitted from enlistment to March 31, 1920.

SUB-PURCHASERS OF CROWN LAND.

Provision made for insurance of Crown grants to sub-purchasers of Crown Lands, acquiring rights from purchasers who failed to complete purchase, involving forfeiture, on fulfillment of conditions of purchase interest and taxes. Where sub-purchasers do not claim whole of original parcel, purchase price due and taxes may be distributed proportionately over whole area. Applications must be made by May 1, 1920.

GRAZING.

Grazing Act, 1919, for systematic development of livestock industry provides for grazing districts and range administration under Commissioner. Annual grazing permits issued based on numbers ranged; priority for established owners. Stock owners may form Associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits for settlers, campers or travellers, up to ten head.

Two memorial tablets have arrived to be erected at the Marsden Van Allen wing of the Summerland hospital in memory of the young aviator who was killed in the Great War. One, a bronze tablet, will be put on the exterior at the west end of the building, and the other, a brass plate mounted on oak, will be placed on the wall in the sun parlor.

Quite a large crowd gathered at the Parish Hall on Tuesday evening to hear Mr. Drinnan, the provincial secretary and treasurer of the G. W. V. A., who was to have addressed the meeting. Unfortunately, owing to the late arrival of the boat, Mr. Drinnan was unable to attend. The meeting was accordingly turned into a social event, whilst being played throughout the evening. Refreshments were provided and a most enjoyable evening spent.

At the annual meeting of the Summerland Brass Band, held recently, reports were submitted from the various officers showing the organization to be in a flourishing condition. Practices were arranged for the coming season and arrangements made to give concerts throughout the summer, probably at Crescent Beach, on Sunday afternoons. Officers for the coming year are as follows: Hon. president, J. R. Campbell; president, J. L. Logie; conductor, A. E. Cline; manager, J. W. S. Logie; secretary-treasurer, D. Davidson; band sergeant, Louis Smith.

After four and a half months in the hospital, E. S. Bird, of the Canadian Bank of Commerce staff, left on Wednesday for the Coast. Mr. Bird was the victim of an accident last fall when on a picnic with friends at Shingle Creek he received a rifle bullet in the leg. Before leaving, he expressed to The Review his hope to return some time to visit Summerland. He also wished to compliment the citizens of Summerland on their excellent hospital and staff. During his stay here, Mr. Bird has made many friends, who will regret that he is not to continue with us.

Mr. Wadia has just completed a lecture tour of Europe and is now speaking to large and distinguished audiences in New York and Washington. His visit to Summerland will be an event of exceptional interest and should be taken advantage of, as this is the only point in the Okanagan at which he will lecture. Full particulars will be given later. 734

SOCIAL EVENING ENJOYED BY SCOTS

About one hundred members and friends were present at the whist drive and dance, held under the auspices of the St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society in the Parish Hall last Friday evening. Progressive whist was played until 10 o'clock, the prizes being awarded to Miss Fisher, Ben Newton and Geo. Yuile, when refreshments were provided by the ladies and an interesting program of dances, including some vigorous Scotch numbers, carried on until about 12 o'clock.

During the evening songs were contributed by Ben. Newton and Mrs. A. Fenwick, and a very interesting item was the reading of a letter from the St. Andrew's Society at Vernon, sending congratulations to the Summerland branch just formed.

Mrs. D. L. Sutherland, the official pianist of the society, presided at the piano, ably assisted by Miss Bertha Johnston, while Tom Ramsay, with his concertina and H. B. Mair with his violin, added greatly to the success of the evening.

About thirty new members joined the society, the total membership of which is now fifty.

Recent changes with respect to examination of public school pupils seeking admission to high schools have been approved by the Council of Public Instruction. In schools of the class such as the Summerland Central, the Department of Education in June will examine 40 per cent. of the pupils approved by the principal. These pupils will be the lowest in rank. The others will be promoted on the principal's recommendation.

Subjects for June examination will be arithmetic, grammar and composition, penmanship, spelling and dictation, geography and drawing. To pass, candidates must make an average of 60 per cent. on these five papers.

SPEAKS HERE ON UNEMPLOYMENT

Prof. Boggs Heard in Able Address on Present Day Economics.

Prof. T. H. Boggs, of the University of British Columbia, dealt with the subject of "Unemployment," in a very able manner in his lecture in St. Andrew's Church last Friday night, under the auspices of the Summerland Branch of the Social Service Council.

Rev. H. E. Livingstone, who occupied the chair, called on Prin. D. J. Welsh to introduce the lecturer. In doing so, Mr. Welsh stated there were two factors that go to make up a great university. First, great students who possess inherited ability and a thirst for knowledge; second, great professors, men of high scholarship, force of character and strong personality. The U. B. C., declared Mr. Welsh, is fortunate in possessing both. Already many of her graduates are commanding attention in the realms of science and literature; while the staff is made up of the best scholars obtainable in Canada.

Dr. Boggs is a Canadian by birth and training and has achieved distinction in the field of economics and was prepared to bring to the audience the best and latest suggestions for relief of the present economic distress.

Dr. Boggs prefaced his address by speaking of the very high regard in which the university faculty holds the students from Summerland and other parts of the Okanagan. Kelowna, he said, has sent the largest percentage of students to the university of any town or district in the province.

The business depressions in England during the last 140 years were referred to and it was shown that revivals followed depressions in complete cycles. Also in Canada and in the United States, the years 1868, 1879, 1884, 1893, 1905, 1908 were marked more or less by business depressions. The present depression began in 1920.

Some of the underlying causes given were, business changes affecting capital and labor, maladjustment of industrial activities, price collapse following inflation of prices. In a number of the leading countries, the amount of paper money increased since 1914 from seven and one-half billions to 125 billions, while the gold backing it had fallen from 67 per cent to 6 per cent, and the paper money of some countries was almost worthless. The national debts increased from 40 billions to 400 billions and had doubled since the armistice. Extravagant expenditures led to precarious business conditions.

While prices continued to rise, business was apparently prosperous but with the drop in prices in 1920 came the great change. Consumers' strikes and "frozen credits" were also contributing causes.

Unemployment was prevalent in Great Britain in the 16th century. Since then the measure of unemployment has varied from 25 to 75 per 1,000. In 1916 it was only 4 per 1,000. In Canada and the United States it was 10 per 1,000.

States a smaller number would apply, while the last reports from Ottawa show an alarming increase. The causes mentioned were decline of industries, seasonal character of business, and business depression. Unemployment is not a casual or accidental affair, but a usual condition which marks a weakness in our economic system, able-bodied, earnest willing men were unable to secure work in a land abounding with the sources of wealth. The opinion of Secretary Hoover, of the United States Department of Commerce, was quoted that unemployment was inefficient, unhuman and degrading.

Remedies suggested were measures of relief and of prevention. The former were temporary not fundamental, and included the bread line, soup kitchens, stonebreaking, government credits, etc. Preventive measures suggested were the establishment of government employment bureaus and labor exchanges, of training camps and farm colonies, of unemployment insurance on equitable terms and the creation by national, provincial and municipal authorities of funds to provide for periods of returning depression. Interesting evidence and statistics were quoted bearing on the favorable experience of other countries with some of these topics.

A somewhat lengthy and interesting discussion followed. Those participating were Messrs. Riley, Logie, Ritchie, Kelley, Cline and Welsh.

DRUG RUNNERS MAY BE COMING

Because of the publicity which is being given to the campaign against the sale and use of narcotic drugs in Vancouver, some of the drug peddlers are taking to cover in the small towns and rural parts of the province where they are continuing their nefarious trade. Because of this province-wide moral and health problem, the Provincial Division of the Canadian Red Cross is sending this warning to be published in every newspaper in the province in order that not only the officials but all citizens, especially teachers and parents, should be on the alert against the insidious traffic in drugs.

Dance halls need special watching. Watch the stranger in town. Avoid "snow" parties, where snuff (cocaine) is given.

Close chaperonage of girls is the greatest safeguard, and parents should insist on this.

The habit begins by the snuffing of cocaine, which causes a feeling of exhilaration. After three or four doses the user cannot sleep and must then resort to morphine.

PERSONAL HEALTH FORUM SUBJECT

Dr. Pirie Deals With Important Topic in Practical Address Last Sunday.

On Sunday afternoon a very appreciative audience heard Dr. Pirie speak on the question of "Personal Health," at the Open Forum.

Introducing his subject, the speaker said he would avoid technical terms, and call a shin bone a shin bone since that is the name by which it is best known among the common people.

Apart from character, personal health was perhaps our greatest asset in life. Some might have heard of the man who spent his health to get his wealth and then spent his wealth endeavoring to regain his health.

There were four great essentials that formed the basis of personal health: (1) diet; (2) exercise; (3) rest, and (4) mental poise. There were many secondary things that entered into the issue, such as inherited tendencies, environment, occupation and accident, but it was in general terms he spoke.

Concise health is the proper functioning of the human system in accordance with nature's laws and when any part of any of the human system failed to function and to properly fulfil nature's purpose, we became ill at ease, or, to use the common term, we had dis-ease (dis-ease).

We have seven different systems, all co-operating and co-relating with each other, viz., the respiratory, the digestive, the circulatory, nervous, eliminative, generative and muscular. Dr. Pirie described these systems and their relation to each other. It was essential that harmony and co-operation should be maintained in connection with the cell life of the body, and it is our food, exercise, rest and mental attitude that formed the basis of the health and function of these.

Citing nature as being regular in all its activities, the speaker advocated greater regularity at meals, declaring mankind was the most irregular in habit of all living things that controlled their habits of life. Diets should not be mixed too much, there should be no drinking at meals, and all worry or work should be avoided during meal time.

He urged that eating should not be merely a social function but a scientific act intended to supply the needs of the body. Water should be taken early and often, two quarts daily or more still for better results.

The speaker contended that most people wear too much clothes. From the standpoint of personal health, clothes should be worn for warmth and protection. Warmth is best maintained by stimulating the circulation within the body rather than by wearing heavy clothing. Too much clothing tends to suppress and discourage nature's effort, to maintain proper heat by blood circulation.

The doctor then dealt successively with the questions of exercise, rest and mental poise, discussing in a most interesting and intelligent manner the relation of each to personal health.

Health was not something that could be had out of a bottle, or secured in any way outside of one's self. Good health was generated within ourselves, and only as we knew or adjusted ourselves to natural laws of living could we have good health.

Some discussion took place at the close of the address, and a number of questions, written and oral, were asked and replied to by the speaker. T. H. Riley occupied the chair.

Surprising Intelligence.

BORING REVEALS SEAMS OF COAL

Local Company Finds Deposits in Workable Quantities, Says Manager.

Interviewed by a representative of The Review this week as to the progress made at the property of the White Lake Collieries, Ltd., Mr. G. R. Hookham, the managing director, reported that the results of the drilling have given the greatest satisfaction. The last hole drilled, 450 feet in depth, had proved an aggregate of twenty feet of coal, including three seams of workable size from a commercial point of view.

The development of this property the value of which is now clearly established, will, without doubt, be an important factor in opening up all the southern Okanagan, and we extend to Mr. Hookham and his directors our congratulations on the success which has attended their enterprise.

KEREMEOS GROWERS' APPLE RETURNS

Keremeos.—Mr. H. B. Armstrong, manager of the Keremeos Packing Company, accompanied by their accountant, Mr. J. E. Matheson, have been busy making final settlement with the fruit growers for their last year's crops. The following prices were paid the orchardists in this district, and these are claimed to be as high as any prevailing in the interior:

Uncertainty as to when to meet the courier on the route was much complained of and comparisons made with former couriers. In reply to a question the postmaster declared that the K. V. R. mail from the Coast was not the occasion of the irregular service. He personally had the mail arranged ready for the courier by the time the latter arrived, and sometimes it was awaiting him an hour before his coming. Route patrons informed the inspector that while Mrs. Orr was on the route she did not vary more than 15 minutes from schedule, while Mr. Caldwell was anywhere from one to three hours behind time.

To enquiries, the inspector stated that the boxes along the route must be left closed; punctuality and regularity were some of the most important factors of the service; the courier should carry a box for mail collected and not use his pockets as alleged.

The question of stamp service was discussed at length, Mr. Hayes stating that this was his chief complaint as only through the sale of stamps was he recompensed for his services. The courier was only selling $3 worth of stamps each month, where the sale should be $50. R. V. Agur looked upon this question of stamps as a vital thing, and others agreed that the courier should provide the stamps used along the route.

The delegation was assured by Inspector Trant that a satisfactory service would be maintained. The inspector and contractor and the latter's solicitor, W. C. Kelley, held a long conference Wednesday afternoon, and we are informed that Mr. Caldwell's hour of departure from the post office has been changed to 10 o'clock; that he has promised to give a regular service and to carry an ample supply of stamps. Inspector Trant expressed the wish that patrons will co-operate by purchasing their stamps from the courier. Mr. Hayes has agreed to replace the oil heater with an electric heater.

We understand that Mr. Caldwell informed the inspector that he would not again tender for the contract.

WOULD CHANGE SELLING PLANS

"That the town council is hereby asked to give the Peachland Fruit Growers' Union an option for three years to purchase the four lots on the lake front between the government and C. P. R. wharves."

"That this annual general meeting of shareholders of the Peachland Fruit Growers' Union recommends that its board of directors nominate Mr. T. Powell to be our representative on the Central Board of the O. U. G. for the ensuing year."

It was intimated that the secretary was thinking of giving up his position, but after strong pressure was brought to bear on him by those present he finally consented to serve for another year, but asked that the Union be prepared to let him drop out at the end of this year.

Mr. Thos. Powell submitted plans and estimated cost of a new packing house with a frost-proof basement, and the following resolution was passed by the meeting: "That the board of directors constitute themselves a committee on proposed new building and report later."

The newly-elected board of directors of the Peachland Fruit Growers' Union held their organization meeting last week and the following is the result: Major Tallyour, president; Dr. Buchanan, vice-president. A motion was carried to re-engage Mr. Dryden as secretary for the current year at present salary, and that he be allowed to hire whatever help he may require, such help to be paid by the Union. Mr. Hardy was elected as director in charge of the packing house and Mr. Ferguson director in charge of the feed department.

WEST SUMMERLAND BRANCH—A. B. Morkill, Manager

The resignation of the manager, Mr. Atkinson, was accepted and a motion passed to engage Wm. Buchanan as manager.

The board elected Major Hardisty to be the representative on the Central board. The shareholders in annual meeting, as stated above, had unanimously recommended to the incoming board that they appoint Mr. Thos. Powell as the Peachland representative to the Central. As a result, considerable indignation is expressed by some of the members and many are perplexed to understand the action of the board, particularly in view of the fact that at the annual meeting no objection was made to Mr. Powell being the representative. Some are seriously talking of refusing to sign up on the new five-year contract as a protest. When seen about the matter Mr. Powell smiled and said he sincerely hoped none of his friends, and he has many, will be foolish enough to quit the Union.
