A letter was read from T. P. Thornber in respect to the Electric Light Plant. After same was read, the council deemed it advisable to go further into the matter of cost, and requested him to prepare same and meet the council on Saturday the 19th, so that the proposed extension could be talked over.

It was resolved that extra help be engaged to relieve Mr. Gray in his duties at the electric light station so that he may have shorter hours there and the plant be run for a longer period during the winter months.

This was all the business.

CONGRATULATIONS FROM PENTICTON.

Summerland also is entitled to the highest praise for the exceedingly creditable showing made. Although this was practically its first fruit producing year, it captured the first prize for mixed cars in competition with a half dozen other cars from other points; and the uniformity of the fruit, its color, freedom from blemish, and the careful packing shows that Summerland possesses the soil and climate necessary to produce apples that take first place and that the growers know how to prepare the fruit so that it will command the highest prices on the markets. To both Kelowna and Summerland Penticton extends heartiest congratulations recognizing the immense benefits that will accrue to the Okanagan Valley by the magnificent exhibits shown.—Penticton Herald.

OKANAGAN APPLES IN WINNIPEG.

The Summerland Review
Summerland,
Gentlemen,

Probably your readers will be pleased to know of the splendid advertising at the present time being given Okanagan apples in Winnipeg through the display of the consignment recently put in by the T. Eaton Co. The T. Eaton Co. devoted a full page in one or more of the Winnipeg dailies announcing a consignment of four carloads of Okanagan apples recently received by them. The next morning after the advertisement appeared the entire window display space of the T. Eaton Co. store (with the single exception of one small out-of-the-way window)—42 windows in all—was occupied with a magnificent showing of Okanagan fruit.

This Apple Show as they call it, has now been in their windows five days, and I do not know how much longer it will remain without being removed.

The windows I would think, occupied an aggregate space of about 360 feet in length, extending from street to street on the front and away down the sides on either side street. The display is extremely attractive and is being very much commented on by the whole of the city of Winnipeg. Each variety and there are several displays of each variety, is marked by a placard "Okanagan Apples — Jonathon" Rome Beauty or what ever variety it may be. Also very large and artistically gotten up window cards bear such legends as these: "These apples all grown in the Okanagan Valley." "British Columbia finest apples." "The pride of B.C. "Apples from the Okanagan Valley." The varieties exhibited are Jonathon, Wagener, Salome, Rome Beauty, Northern Spy, Baldwin and Sutton Beauty.

Whilst not in any sense wishing to boost for the T. Eaton Co., it would seem to me that if the Okanagan would utilize this concern for a few more exhibitions of this kind they would do a great deal to popularize the Okanagan fruit in Winnipeg.

The apples were first of all put on sale at $3.00 per ordinary box and $1.25 for single tier boxes of "fancy" grade apples, but this price was afterwards reduced to $2.50 per ordinary box and $1.00 for single tier boxes.

Yours truly,

Editor, "Nor" West Farmer."

ELECTRICAL ADVERTISING.

A very striking electrical sign has been set up in Denver. The sign represents a sky rocket shooting from the ground to a height of 150 feet where it explodes into hundreds of sparks that fall in a shower to the ground. This effect is produced by successively illuminating a string of lamps running up the side of the building to the top of a small framework on the roof. Over a thousand lamps are used to produce the effect.

Peachland Paragraphs.

SUCCESSFULLY FIGHTING THE FROST KING.

Mrs. J. L. Elliott spent a few days in Naramata last week.

Mesdames. Watson, Brown and Conway of Summerland were delegates to the W. M. S. convention which met here last week.

Mr. James Carmichael of Arnprior Ontario, spent last week in this place looking it over. Mr. Carmichael has been all over the Valley, and has now decided to settle in Peachland. He will return in two weeks with Mrs. Carmichael and let her decide on either of two places which suit him equally well.

Mr. and Mrs. George Mitchell were in town for a couple of days last week and renewed acquaintance with old time friends. It looked quite natural to see them driving around with Topsy and Nellie.

A party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Vicary and Miss Mary, Dr. Crompton and H. W. Arbuckle is leaving for England on Friday morning. All join in wishing them "bon voyage." It is likely that the party will be increased by one or two on the return journey.

The W. M. S. Convention held here last week was well attended by delegates from up and down the lake and very interesting sessions were held. One very interesting item on the program was the missionary address given by Rev. J. P. D. Knox.

Mr. L. D. McCall commends to our attention the fact that the apples that won the prize at the Summerland Fair were grown on his lot in Peachland and not in Summerland. We congratulate Summerland on her success at Vancouver but want all that is coming to us.

MEDICAL DEGREES.

It is reported that soon after the opening of Parliament a bill will be introduced to insure the recognition of degrees by all the provinces.

This will mean that the recipient of a medical degree from the medical council of any recognized university in Canada, will be able to practise anywhere in the Dominion, without having to pass a provincial examination.

ROBINSON-PEACOCK.

At Winnipeg on Wednesday the 16th. inst., W. J. Robinson of Summerland, was married to Miss Peacock, who until a few months ago resided at Naramata.

Sooner or later the fruit growers of the Okanagan will have to take up the question of orchard heating to save the crops from the early spring frosts. For the fruit men of this favoured Valley to expect to raise fruit of the best quality and at the same time not have to fight against the ravages of the frost king, is as absurd as it would be for the men of Grand Valley Colorado, or of Rogue River Oregon, or, for that matter the fruit men of any other district noted for its high class fruit. To get quality into the fruit—flavour firmness and color—it is essential that we have sharp frosty nights. We cannot have one without the other, but it no longer follows that the fruit crop should be lost every few years to the frost king. We will have to do as the fruit men of other districts do—fight the battle against the frost.

Last April, when every district north south east and west was swept by frost, the ranchers of Grand Valley Colorado fought and won a hard battle, and from this fight comes a number of important lessons.

Lewis Mayer, in the October Better Fruit magazine, tells a very interesting story about the importance of these lessons.

"First was demonstrated," says he "the success of the smudge pot, or orchard heater, as a profitable protection against the freezing temperatures.

Second that smudging to be a successful process, must be carried on in a business-like practical and systematic manner.

Third that while it is simple enough to maintain an even temperature above the danger point in an orchard, it is exceedingly difficult to raise the mercury in the thermometer to any appreciable extent once it begins to fall rapidly in the tube.

In other words, while smudge pots are proven to be scientifically sound as an insurance against a freeze, with the temperature dropping as low as seventeen above in isolated spots, it is essential that intelligence system and hard work be combined to get the results which the manufacturers and inventors have claimed for them.

While the system of orchard protection from frost is far from having reached perfection, the experience of this spring has taught the ranchers of the nation many valuable lessons. Chief of all which the Grand Valley learned is that the use of smudge pots—"heating all out of doors"—as has been said, is eminently practical. The scoffers who claimed that orchard heating was more expensive than the profits from the fruit saved have been silenced. One rancher who saved his entire crop of apples, and finds it necessary to thin, told me that it cost him six dollars an acre to insure his crop, smudging three nights. This of course did not count in the original cost of the pots. It is considerably less than the average cost over the valley.

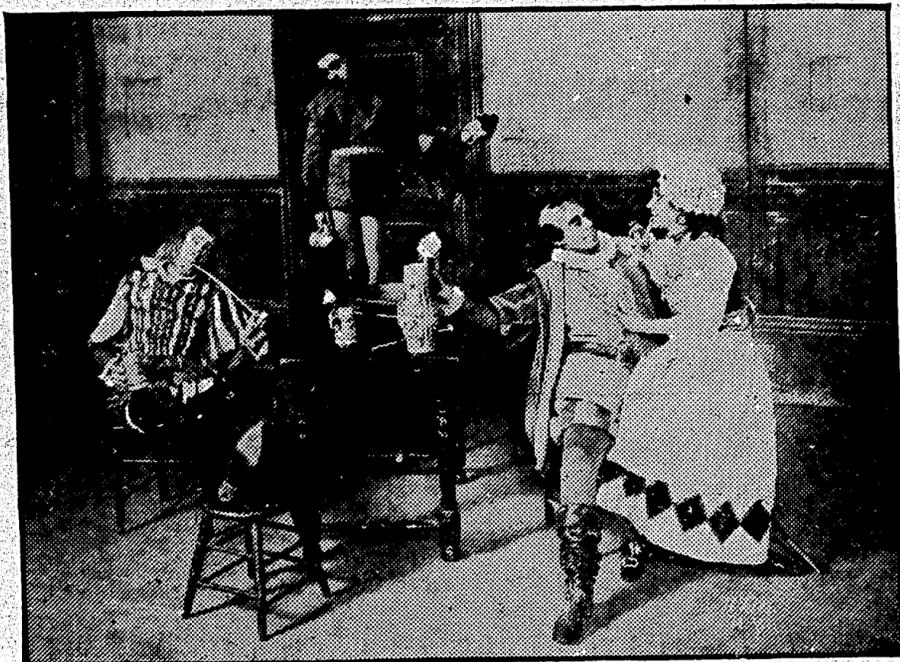

Oil is more expensive. It costs six cents per gallon delivered at Grand Junction this year, an increase of one cent per gallon. In the Grand Valley coal can be had at a slight cost, the ranchers being in a position to haul direct from the mines. Oil is much easier to handle—it takes less labor when labor is hard to get—the pots can be started quicker and the fire burns longer and at a more even temperature. The oil men claim that by use of the regular pan, and taking the labor question into consideration, their pots are just as economically operated.

But whatever sort of fuel be used, it can readily be seen that the cost of insurance is trifling when compared to the value of the crop saved. In the Grand Valley the rancher considers that he has had a bad year if his returns are as low as $200 per acre. This year, by reason of the general destruction of the fruit crop of the nation, the ranchers who smudged will be paid ten times over the cost of the insurance by the increase in prices in consequence of the shortage.

The most vital lesson taught by the April freeze is the necessity of starting the pots in plenty of time and maintaining an even heat—not permitting the temperature to drop in the heated area for an instant. Local authorities differ as to when the fruit buds are in danger from a hard freeze, and how much cold they can stand without damage. It is safely asserted, however that when the pink begins to show up it is well to be prepared to light up when the mercury registers at thirty. Thirty will not cause an injury to the buds, but there is always the danger of the temperature dropping still further, and, although with the buds still well covered, the weaker ones only would be killed, it is, perhaps, just as well not to take the chance of loss. I have talked with a score of fruit growers, some of whom lost their crops and many who did not, and they all agree that the principal loss was due to the failure to light their pots at the right time. With the mercury going steadily lower, these orchardists were unanimous in their opinion that it is useless to attempt to stem the tide and recover lost ground. Some of them did succeed in raising the temperature four or five degrees, but not where they had waited too long before firing the pots. Where the temperature was kept around twenty-nine and thirty all night, and the fire stirred at the critical time before dawn, the heat was maintained within one or two degrees beyond the danger line, even with the mercury at fourteen to fifteen outside the heated zone. In some cases where coal pots were used, briquettes were thrown on the fire when the thermometer registered the alarm and buds and blossoms passed safely through the critical period.

The important lesson is that the fruit grower has finally demonstrated by actual practice, that he can successfully cope with the forces of Nature—that frost, the one danger that has always threatened the industry, can be prevented from exacting its usual toll and that even a heavy freeze such as destroyed fifty millions in cotton, fruit, grain and other agricultural products, can be so neutralized as to insure practically full crops every year."

TWELFTH NIGHT.

This favourite Shakespearean comedy will be presented in the Mens Club on Wednesday evening next by the Walker Repertoire Co. headed by Mr. Wm. Yule and Miss Violet Eddy. Those who attended 'As You Like It' last year will be to the fore again this year, knowing as they do the abilities of the many artists and those who are not acquainted with the company should book their seats early for it will be worth their while and they may rest assured they will never regret their outlay.

REGULATING AERIAL TRAFFIC.

The International Convention for the purpose of regulating international aerial traffic has now proceeded so far in its work that at least fifteen of the questions which were assigned it for consideration have been definitely answered. Most of the governments have agreed to distinguish two classes of airships, public and private, the first including airships in military and other governmental service. Private airships must first be inspected before they can be licensed. The convention has unanimously decided that the transportation of arms and explosives, photographic apparatus, and wireless telegraphic apparatus shall be forbidden, no doubt for military reasons. All airships must be able to signal audibly and visibly in order to give warning of their approach. Germany has expressed a desire that definite land-marks should be provided for the aerial navigator. In landing, airship pilots are to avoid military fortifications, and camps. The delegates will meet for their last meeting in Paris.

A GAS BURNING ORCHARD HEATER.

Next season will see a new type of orchard heater tested out in Grand Valley Colorado orchards. This is a gas-burning device, the invention of A. D. Ward, a Clifflino, Colorado, rancher, who has been experimenting with smudge pots for several years. Tests of the pot which have been made by various experts demonstrate that the heater will burn continuously for thirtysix hours without refilling, which is quite a consideration during muddy seasons, when it is impossible to get into an orchard. The heater is shaped like a square bread pan and has somewhat the appearance of the ordinary camp stove. It is built to hold ten gallons, five gallons and three gallons, and with one three and five openings for the fire. The gas burning apparatus is in a double cover, perforations permitting the consumption of gas, oil smoke and oxygen. In the double cover are set individual bottomless circular pots, which will all burn at one time or can be lighted as needed. Another advantage claimed for this pot is the fact that the flame burns low, avoiding the possible danger of scorching the trees, while the consumption of smoke eliminates the danger of depositing soot on the trees.—Better Fruit.

MEN'S CLUB.

The Men's Club was re-organized this week. The following officers were elected: President, Mr. H. C. Mellor. Vice-President Dr. C. M. Smith. Secretary, Mr. S. Angove. Treasurer Mr. J. Tait. Reading Room and Literary Dept., Mr. J. C. Robson. Other officers will be elected in due course.

It is the desire of the executive to make the club efficient in all its branches, and endeavour to run the same on Y. M. C. A. principles as far as possible. Mr. McLeod of the College will be the physical instructor at the club.

Membership tickets may now be obtained of the Secretary.

John Galatly received very painful injuries last week whilst riding through the bush after some horses. He was in a battered condition when found, his face being fearfully bruised and cut. He was unable to say how it had happened, except that at first he must have struck a limb and been knocked off his horse.

GETTING RICH QUICK.

Sheldon, a Montreal broker, now capitalist at home any where, recently defrauded his investing clients out of something over two millions. His clients were business men, professional men, farmers and laborers generally, scattered throughout Ontario and Quebec. These men lost their money trying to get rich quickly. Sheldon shewed them how to do it, but made it impossible for them to practise the art. Now many of these men are too ashamed of themselves to permit their names to be made public, and it is not at all probable any serious effort will be made to catch Sheldon.

It is a story that is not new. It has been told so often that we wonder that men can be found so foolish as to bite. The eastern cities have furnished a lucrative harvest of easy people. Whether it has been mining stock, oil stock, or wireless telegraph stock, the number of otherwise intelligent people who were found ready to take the bait has been out of all reason.

Isn't it strange. Men who have to work hard to earn a dollar honestly are ready to take any old bait put forth by any old fake on any old skate or flier that comes along, if they are shown where they can earn forty cents on the dollar with a two-cent risk. Any promoter can show how this can be done, but it is worthy of note to observe that the promoter is prepared to put only the other fellow's money into the scheme.

It was ever thus and as we grow more civilized is becoming more so. Too often, from pulpit, from rostrum and the stage, we are instructed by inference if not by word, that the poorest way to get rich is to earn it. There is a debasing tendency to be insincere and a lack of that business acumen which teaches that the only real progress is made through merit. Even the children are laughed at if they shew too strong a leaning toward simple honesty and sticktoitiveness. The crude notion that one can practise deception in the business and social life and win honor, still prevails. And we fear our churches and colleges and society in general do not recognise their duty in the matter.

A PEEP INTO THE FUTURE.

Yesterday, the Okanagan Lake District was an unknown quantity; it had possibilities, but nothing was positive. To-day we who are here KNOW.; and others are hearing about it. Tomorrow we shall have the most productive and wealthiest district in the Dominion of Canada, and for the next century at least, Canada will be the most prosperous and progressive country in the world. Do you not see, therefore, what the future of the Okanagan is to be?

The man who is content to measure the Okanagan of the future by what we have and are today, has not yet awakened. The men who came hither and builded these beautiful homes on the then parched hillsides overlooking the lake, builded not for what we see to-day, but for what is to be to-morrow. Perhaps many did not know it. In that case they builded better than they knew. Men of all times and climes have done this, and why not we?

Every test the Okanagan Valley has been put to has terminated favorably. The valley has "made good" in every trial; it has sustained every claim made for it; it has more than fulfilled every requirement. It has made the rosy stories of its promoters look sickly by comparison with the rich red actualities in its development. It is to-day but starting in its growth—it has but left off its swaddling clothes. It is now fairly started on the race it is to run—it's but in the making.

Lift your eyes off the dim past and fasten them upon the bright future. HER greatness, OUR greatness, YOUR greatness, is yet to be.

Men who have come to the Okanagan and left it again because their vision was so undeveloped that it would not permit them to look into the future and see what is to transpire, and those now here yet in the dark, are to be left behind. As in the advance of an army, the weaklings must fall out and go to the rear, so in the advance of a district, so rich in resources as this. There can be no holding back. Forward, ever forward, is the motto.

Yesterday's best is not good enough for to-day.

The only man who can fail in the Okanagan is the man who has not the capacity to succeed. We have some of them; we may have more; but the proportion is small and growing smaller.

AFTER THE SHOW—WHAT?

Canada's first apple show is a thing of the past. There was never a place in the Okanagan for the pessimist, and there is less room for him now. It was a magnificent victory for the Okanagan, and particularly for the Okanagan Lake district. The people of the coast cities are still talking about it, and the fruit dealers are wondering why they did not realize it before.

The winnings of Kelowna and Summerland placed the district of which these cities are the centre in the limelight, and are attracting more attention than anything we have done heretofore. It was to be expected that Kelowna would make a good showing, for that town's citizens have had considerable experience in preparing fruit for similar exhibitions, and it would have been a great disappointment, indeed, had Kelowna failed to carry off the big prizes. But scarcely less noteworthy were the winnings of Summerland. This was, in a sense, a great surprise, for the reason that it was Summerland's maiden effort at exhibiting at an apple show and our first year of the apple yield on so large a scale. There would have been reasonable cause for failure if we were disposed to make excuses.

But the fact that Summerland led all comers in the mixed car class, and in addition carried off many of the best prizes in the smaller exhibit classes, and this in competition with such experienced exhibitors as M. Horan, of Wenatchie, Wash., the "Apple King" of that state, and the Yakima and Rogue River growers and exhibitors, makes it all the more to our credit, and augers well for future big things. Next year let us hope that we shall have a carload or two to enter in the straight one-variety class. If we can do so well in competition with the old experienced growers and exhibitors in the mixed-varieties class, perhaps—perhaps—shall we do it? SHALL WE DO IT?

THE WORLD IS ADVANCING.

Once it used to be the custom of ministers of the gospel to ride on half-fare railway tickets, and in settling accounts they received special discounts, and it was no uncommon thing for plump turkeys and chickens and other delicacies to be left on the doorstep of the manse or parsonage. At the same time country editors were given passes on railways, complimentary tickets to concerts, big pumpkins and bouquets of roses. Now all this has been changed. Ministers pay their way like other people, and the only favors country editors get is a snub for an honest criticism, or a slight for a compliment. And we thank the Lord for it.

It made Kelowna very impatient, cross, peevish and petulant to have the Shaughnessy special run by with out giving them a look in, but the sun Rose as brightly the morning after, and then, you know, the apple show!

There does not seem to be any thing of importance in the complaint that comes from Kelowna to the effect that Salmon Arm won out in the two-two exhibit with a duplicate of Mr. DeHart's Spokane exhibit. What is of importance is the real cold fact that Salmon Arm won out; and Kelowna's winnings were made one prize less thereby. That seems to be the rub. Our neighbour doesn't want much only in spots—big spots and many of them.

We have in preparation an article shewing the progress of Summerland's public work this year. It has been a large undertaking the installation of the new water system, and when put into print will make comprehensive reading.

BETWEEN ME AND HANK

It has been said by someone that all strong men begin by worshipping at a shrine, and if they continue to grow they shift their allegiance until they know only one altar and that the Ideal dwelling in their own hearts.

I knew a young man of some ability and great promise who refused to continue in a vocation which would yield him a large income, lest the temptation to become mighty eat up his desire to help his fellow men. He feared that the frantic struggle for wealth and self being waged by the majority of the men with whom his position was forcing him to associate would insensibly draw him into the same vortex of selfishness, and he felt that his ideals would be tarnished and aspirations starved in such an atmosphere. He therefore chose a vocation which would enable him to render the greatest service to humanity. And it wasn't preaching. He was just a business man; but his business threw him in contact with men at their best and at their worst, and out of it he was able to gather the source of all true development and to weave into life's loom something of helpfulness and good cheer.

I have met many such men in my time—and they were not all young men in years but all were young in spirit, and no man is any older than he feels. It is a refreshing thing, in a material age, to meet such people—people who are ambitious to be useful rather than rich, and more eager to "take up the whiteman's burden" than to shirk it. These are nature's noblemen: the characters which enrich life and make things worth while. They are the men who have pushed civilization up from the savage to the Florence Nightingales and the Lincolns. They are the men who have transformed the bleak and barren deserts and parched hills into Edens of rest and luxuriant fields of labor and harvest. One of the most promising things I see in our civilization to-day is that, side by side with the greed for gold, is the ever-growing passion of humanity for good. The number of people who prefer to be useful to their fellows rather than make money is constantly increasing. This passion for good is humanity's salt; it is what makes us believe in the future of the race.

AGED LADY SUICIDES.

At about eleven o'clock last Sunday morning Dr. Keller was hastily summoned across the lake to attend Mrs. Attelle McDougal, widow of Aeneas McDougal a one time famous hunter and trapper of the district, who the messenger said attempted suicide by shooting herself through the head. The woman was in a bad condition on his arrival, having evidently been shot through the mouth, the bullet coming out at the back of the neck, and in spite of careful attention died the next morning. Nothing could be extracted from the witnesses to account for the act and a verdict of suicide was returned. —Kelowna Record.

WOMEN'S MISSIONARY CONFERENCE.

The women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church held their annual convention for the Okanagan district at Peachland on Thursday November 10th.

Sixteen delegates were in attendance, as well as local members and visitors.

The reports of the various Auxiliaries and Mission Bands were encouraging and shewed the progress of the work.

An address on "The Progress of Missions" was given by Mrs J. M. Elliott of Peachland in which she said— We cannot dodge the command "Go ye into all the world" for it rests upon us to fulfil. A most interesting and instructive "Map Talk" was given by Mrs. J. W. Davidson of Kelowna, outlining the work in general of our missionaries in the field. She urged us to surround these people and our missionaries there with our love and prayers. Greetings were extended by the W. C. T. U. and the Baptist Mission Circle.

After a discussion as to how we can help the foreigners of the Valley, a resolution was passed "That we, the Auxiliaries of the Okanagan District, think upon the needs of the foreign element in our valley and endeavour to devise some way of bringing the Gospel to them." Mrs. D. H. Watson, of Summerland, was re-elected District Organizer. Supper was then served in the church and a social time spent.

The address of the evening was given by the Rev. J. P. D. Knox of Peachland, his subject being "The relation the Church bears to the great uncivilized, unchristianized masses."

Solos were rendered by Mrs. J. L. Elliott of Peachland, and Mrs. Mitchell of Penticton, and music by the Peachland choir. Mrs. J. B. Robinson gave the address of welcome and was replied to by Mrs. Cox of Kelowna.

A vote of thanks was tendered the ladies of Peachland for their kind hospitality, and to all who had helped to make the convention a success.

Armstrong was the place chosen for the next convention.

Next Sunday at the Baptist Church. Morning subject; An Incentive to Do. Evening Subject: A Sign of our Times.

Kaleden Comments.

The ladies of our community have already held a meeting to make preliminary arrangements for a bright and happy time at Christmas.

Tent life here is still quite a feature with many, and a healthy feature too. Whole families will be living in comfort under canvas this winter in Kaleden.

Mr. Lapsley our highly esteemed storekeeper, has been laid up with internal rheumatism for a few days. He hopes, however, to be all right again in a day or two.

A rye cover crop was planted in some of the orchards this fall; its growth however has been prodigious, and even now there is considerable difficulty in plowing it under. Potatoe crops this year have been large and very satisfactory.

Our first snow fell lightly on Tuesday 8th of November, but did not settle. The latter part of the week was like late spring. Kaleden bids fair to take her turn in carrying off the Grand Sweepstakes at the Vancouver Apple Show later on.

Mr. and Mrs. Seaman Hatfield and son are expected back home again about the month end, after a three months visit among friends in the east. During Mrs. Hatfield's absence Mrs. Babbit of Summerland has kindly discharged her duties at the Post Office.

Last Tuesday Mr. Pitman and a friend went out deer hunting a few miles back in the hills and succeeding in shooting skinning and carrying in a portion of a deer. The first secured here by anybody since Kaleden came into being. Wild ducks on the lake fall an easy prey to our young sports.

Fall activities have not yet ceased so mild and almost free from frost are the conditions here that potatoes are still being dug and pitted, land is being cleared and plowed, and building is proceeding undisturbed. One or two frosts there have been but by no means severe.

The Government road from Penticton to the Falls, which passes through Kaleden just above the townsite, is finished with the exception of one bridge on the Kaleden proposition, which is now nearing completion, under the direction of Mr. Tom McAlpin. A considerable amount of roadwork has been done here this year, greatly adding to the appearance of the place as well as facilitating getting about.

Alec Cameron's store on the main road from the centre to the benches, has been completed and in its new white coat of paint looks very creditable. It is temporarily used by both the Day School and the Baptist Church, the latter holding Sabbath School and worship on Sunday afternoons. Rev. F. W. Auvache of Penticton is the minister. In spite of numerous temporary removals for the winter the attendance at the service is very good.

Your correspondent after a prolonged visit of nearly three months, spent at Vernon and Kelowna, returns to find the place of his adoption settling down to a quiet winter with large anticipations before her in 1911. Certainly Kaleden will share to a considerable extent in the many advantages and greatly increased popularity of her sister town Penticton, even exceeding her as a residential and fruit growing centre. But we must walk before we can run.

A few members of our community have been compelled by unfortunate circumstances to leave us, but we have our compensations. Others have come in. Mr. R. H. Melville's mother and sister from New York have come to live with him. Then, too, among the last batch of friends to leave us this week returning home to Summerland after spending the whole summer and fall with us was Mr. W. Grieve who was brought to Kaleden by his mother some three or four months ago in practically a dying condition but returned home again looking like his old self, bright and cheerful, a living testimony to the health giving properties of our climate. With him returned Mrs. T. McAlpin and two children, also Mrs. Babbit's two little girls.

LARGE PRICE FOR AN APPLE.

Messrs. Garcia, Jacobs & Co., the fruit auctioneers of Covent Garden Market, offered for sale last week the largest apple in England. After brisk bidding it was knocked down to Messrs. Adams Bros., fruiterers, Bond Street, for $70—the highest price ever paid. The apple was a Gloria Mundi, weighing 27oz. and was grown by the King's Acre Fruit Tree Nurseries, of Hereford, from whom it passed into the hands of Mr. Sampson Morgan, of Sevenoaks. The proceeds of the sale were given to a Covent Garden charity.

On Thursday evening the Williams Jubilee Singers occupied the boards at the Men's Club before a full house. They are great favourites in Summerland and well deserve their popularity, for they provide a most entertaining evening's amusement, and in their many varied selections they held the attention of the audience. The most simple airs which they sing are beautifully harmonized, and the voices of the company blend in with such a true and melodious sound. Whether it be a plantation melody, a heavy chorus, or an epicurian ditty upon the merits of Chicken Pie, it was all one to them, they have a thorough knowledge of music, and into each of their numbers give just that touch of life, pathos or fun which makes it palatable to the audience.

DEATH OF MRS. JANE MOORE.

Last Saturday morning, word came to town that Mrs. Jane Moore had passed away at the home of her daughter in Saskatoon, at the advanced age of 79.

Up to about twelve months ago Mrs. Moore had been residing at Peachland with her daughter Mrs. Town.

She leaves a family of eleven, to mourn her loss, Mrs. A. D. Ferguson and Mrs. Town of Peachland, three daughters in the prairie provinces, four sons in Detroit, one in Calgary, and Thos. E. Moore in Summerland.

Rev. N. K. Simpson thrown from His Horse.

It is with great regret that we have this week to report the sad death of an old resident of Peachland and also of Summerland in the person of the Rev. N. K. Simpson.

On Wednesday, he was attending to his duties, and wishing to make time, was riding rapidly along when his horse stumbled and threw him to the ground with great force, crushing him so that he never regained consciousness, and only lived about six hours.

Mr. Simpson was born in Gagetown, New Brunswick, in 1857; for several years he was acting as minister in the Free Baptist community. Owing to the ill-health of his wife, he came to Peachland and, when Summerland opened up he settled in our midst, occupying the position as first superintendent of the irriagtion system. After staying here for about three years, he left for his old church in Kansas, feeling that he should once more be at work in his calling, but came back again to the Okanagan last spring. He settled in Kaleden, where he acted as water commissioner for Mr. James Ritchie.

Mr. Simpson was one of the few men who was quite at home with everybody—a man whom it did one good to meet, and a splendid citizen in every respect.

The Review extends its sympathy to his sorrowing widow and daughter, and the whole of the community grieves with them in their time of trouble.

RICH RED BLOOD.

You Will Never Have It as Long as You Have Dyspepsia.

Just as long as you have dyspepsia your food will not properly digest, and the nutritious elements in the food will not be extracted or absorbed, and impoverished or watery blood will follow.

This condition may not be apparent at first, but it will come just as sure as the sun will rise again.

Any stomach ailment, including all forms of indigestion, can be promptly cured by using Mi-o-na tablets, a scientific treatment unsurpassed.

It stops fermentation, belching of gas and taste of sour food almost at once.

The mighty power of Mi-o-na to invigorate and restore the stomach to perfect condition is known everywhere.

Mi-o-na cures by building up—by banishing the cause. For thin people it is a great flesh builder, because it causes the stomach to give more and purer nutrition to the blood. It cures sea and car sickness and vomiting of pregnancy almost immediately. The Summerland Drug Co. sells Mi-o-na for 50 cents a large box, and guarantees it to cure or money back.
