Railway Construction Will Begin At Once. Summerland Base of Operations for Forty

Miles of New Line.

Route Approved and Contract Signed.

Steel Ordered For Large Bridge.

PRESIDENT WARREN has decided to begin construction on the Kettle Valley Railway in this municipality and work out from here. J. L. Logie, Right-of-Way Agent, has about completed his duties and this week President Warren, accompanied by Chief Engineer McCollough, visited Summerland and inspected the route. Both gentlemen were pleased with the survey and at an informal meeting with the Council requested that Engineer Latimer be instructed to go over the right-of-way with the Kettle Valley Railway's engineer to adjust the matters of crossings, flumes, ditches, etc. These will be arranged without delay and the recommendation of the Engineer submitted to the Council for final approval.

Already the ironwork for the big steel and concrete bridge across Trout Creek has been ordered. There will be some forty miles of construction work handled from here, extending from Trout Creek to the summit, all material, etc. being landed here. Already the contract has been signed with the construction company, and immediately the few remaining preliminaries are arranged work will begin.

Engineer McCarthy is already encamped in Peach Valley with his men. Construction camps will be erected at once and the outfit is expected immediately.

Mr. Logie has practically arranged for all the right-of-way with the exception of one lot. This, it is understood, is the property of Dr. Munroe, on or near Alkali Flat, for which he is asking $1,500 per acre. The price will probably be fixed by arbitration.

Interesting Police Case.

To Stop Petty Stealing at West Summerland.

Found Guilty. Out on Suspended Sentence.

A most unusual case came up before Magistrate English this week. There have for some time been rumors and reports of petty stealing at West Summerland. Numerous complaints have been made to municipal constable J. Arkell, particularly of stealing from various wood piles. He determined to put a stop to it, and lay in waiting hoping to catch the culprit. The watch he kept led to his laying a charge against James Templeton, before Magistrate English, for stealing wood on the night of March 16th, from the wood pile belonging to the Overseas Club, and the charge was entered accordingly.

The case came up for trial on Monday afternoon in Elliott's Hall, where a number of citizens from the West Summerland district were present to watch proceedings.

Constable Arkell was first sworn. He saw Templeton with an armful of wood. There were two piles close together, and complaints had been made that wood was being taken from them. He laid in wait and saw Templeton carrying some wood about 11.30 on the night of March 6. He did not say anything to him then, as he was laying in wait for another party. He saw him split the wood and take it into the tent. He heard Harry Lintern, his tent-mate, say to him, "Well, I guess you have enough wood to last over Sunday." Templeton's reply was "Pretty good wood, Harry, lots of pitch." He saw meeting of the present situation in reference to a cannery. Mr. T. J. Smith would be willing to sell his plant, but it would be necessary that from ten to twelve thousand dollars be raised for operating during the present season. A meeting will be called at an early date and he asked that all present do some thinking along this line.

After voting hearty thanks to Mr. Garroway for his thorough discussion of fruit marketing, the meeting adjourned.

Templeton the next day and accused him of taking wood from a pile belonging to T. Darkis, but Templeton denied this and said he got the wood that night at the Overseas Club. He then asked if anyone gave authority, and the reply was in the negative. He then said, "Then you know you were stealing?" and Templeton replied, "Yes, I know I was stealing a little wood."

No more was said that day. He spoke to Mr. Darkis and his brother about missing some wood. Mr. Darkis said he had been speaking to Templeton, who had denied taking his wood but said that what he had taken was from the Overseas Club. He then took Templeton to Mr. Darkis, because Templeton had told Darkis that it was not him but Mr. Arkell himself who was taking the wood. Mr. Arkell continued "I went to Taylor's tent and found him, and took him to Darkis and asked him to say who it was had seen me taking wood. After pressure he said Wm. Haddrell had seen me taking wood. I have known or seen Templeton for six or eight months, and I don't think he has done much work in the last four months. He has been boarding with Mr. Taylor."

Magistrate—Have you reasons to suspect that he has been taking wood or other property from anyone else?

Mr. Arkell—I have seen him taking wood to shank, and several have complained of losing wood at different times, among them being the Municipality. Several people have complained of losing money as well.

Wm. Haddrell was next sworn. He had known the accused since last September. Work had been scarce, but he believed Templeton worked when he could get anything to do. He would not substantiate the charge. He had seen wood taken from the municipal woodpile but it was not Templeton who had taken it. Mr. Haddrell continued "Templeton was present last Sunday morning when I mentioned the stealing from the municipal woodpile, but I mentioned no names. Have never seen Templeton taking wood. Mr. Darkis had me measure some wood on two different occasions, the first six weeks ago when a cord and a half was seven feet short, and again eight days ago when another cord and a half was six feet short. Each time the wood was delivered in the evening, and I measured it next morning. On the night of March 16 I went over to the Store about ten o'clock, and from there to the tent occupied by Templeton and Lintern, reaching there about 10 after 10. One man was in bed and the other got in while I was there. I was there for about ten minutes. Just after I left the tent I heard some fellows come along and put a bag on their stovepipe."

Mr. Arkell was again called. He said "There were two others lying in the brush at the same time with me, saw the whole proceedings, and then went to my house and had ice cream. We were about thirty feet from Templeton and heard the whole conversation."

This was all of the direct testimony, but there was an inclination on the part of many to say something on the case. As these did not bear directly on the charge, however, no further evidence was taken.

A representative of the Overseas Club stated that the Club knew of no wood being taken, nor had any charge been made.

The magistrate pointed out that it was not necessary that the owner enter a charge. It was sufficient for an eye-witness to do it.

As there had been a direct charge and as direct a denial, Mr. Arkell was told to produce his witnesses. He asked for a postponement of the case to give him time to do so, and an adjournment was made till Tuesday evening at eight o'clock.

News of the case had been spread, and when the court convened Tuesday night there was a large attendance.

Scott Darkis was first sworn. "Do not know Mr. Templeton personally, Mr. Arkell brought him to me about the stolen wood. Mr. Arkell accused Templeton of taking my wood. He denied it but said the wood he had taken was from the Overseas Club pile."

Mr. Haddrell, who was conducting the case for the accused, asked the witness if Templeton had been warned that anything he said would be used against him. The witness said "No." Mr. Arkell asked the Court that Mr. Haddrell be made produce witnesses to prove that he had taken wood from the municipal pile. Magistrate English replied that he could not mix that with this case. Mr. Arkell could if he wished bring a charge for defamation of character.

Robt. Milne was next called and sworn. He had gone for ice cream and had put a bag over Lintern's chimney about 10.15. They were not then in bed.

Mr. Lintern testified that the first sack had been put over the pipe about 10.15 and the second at eleven o'clock or a little later. Jimmy—meaning Templeton—put his boots on and took the sack off the pipe. He, the witness, had taken wood from his sister's pile when he went to the tent, split it and then went to bed. He heard the fellows slam the door as they came out of Arkell's and came across and put the sack on the pipe. He recognized their voices and called out to them.

W. E. Thomas was sworn. Magistrate—What do you know about this wood stealing?

Witness—Don't know anything about it. Was in Mrs. Taylor's tent with Templeton and Lintern and all went to bed at the same time. Heard Lintern shout to the fellows when they put sack over pipe.

Mr. Taylor sworn. "The boys were in my tent all evening and [Continued on Page 8.]

FRUIT UNION DISCUSSED.

MANAGER GARROWAY TALKS ON UNION MATTERS.

Ready For a Large Crop.

Mr. H. L. Garroway, manager of the Okanagan Fruit Union, paid Summerland a visit on Thursday, March 21st, and met a representative number of fruitgrowers in the Men's Club that evening. In his talk, Mr. Garroway dealt quite fully with the operations of the Union in the marketing of fruit. He claimed that the Union had been organized ahead of its time, but by being so organized it was now in a position to handle any crop, no matter how large it might be. He urged the growers to be loyal to the Union, and took up the matter of binding each grower to give all or none of his output to the Union.

He admitted that the Union had not been prepared to handle the big peach crop of 1910. That was early in the life of the Union, and they had not been able to gauge the crop properly, or to determine what portion of it they might have to handle. They had made preparations to handle 20,000 crates of peaches, and had handled that number satisfactorily. Altogether, however, they had been given 35,000 crates to handle, and it was the extra quantity that had caused trouble. There were 60,000 crates marketed in the Valley that year.

UNCERTAIN OF QUANTITY.

This uncertainty would be overcome by having each member of the Union bound to market his fruit through the medium of the Union only. Without some such arrangement the Union really had no fruit to sell. Every Association south of the line required this of its members. Mr. Garroway read the contracts, or extracts from them, used by the Hood River Fruitgrowers' Association, Wenatchee, Yakima, Rogue River, Grand Junction, and other associations, and said that it was only after this rule was put into force that the organizations became successful. He instanced the California Fruitgrowers' Exchange which had grown to such enormous proportions. The tendency now was towards large unions covering one or more states. Washington, Oregon and Idaho now have one large controlling association. Instead of the Okanagan district being divided as had been suggested by some, we should work towards a large provincial organization. Such an organization could gather the necessary statistics and market the product of the orchards of the Province to greater advantage. This would do away with the possibility of one district competing with another.

MORE FRUIT WILL COME.

The Okanagan now has twelve or thirteen thousand acres in orchard, and it would require a strong organization to compete successfully with the larger and longer established organizations south of the border. There is an immense acreage on the American side planted in trees only one-fifteenth of which is bearing. British Columbia can now only supply twenty per cent. of the fruit required by the Northwest market. There was no danger of an over production, as the American crops were annually getting less, and there is now only about one-half the quantity produced in that country that were grown sixteen years ago. Of the twelve thousand acres in the Okanagan only two thousand are yet in full bearing. From statistics gathered, Mr. Garroway thought we would soon have 2,500 to 3,000 cars of fruit going out of this Valley, and it would be a bad day for the Valley if it got into the hands of the buyers. An organization such as the Union was imperative, and he urged his hearers to work towards strengthening the Union, which he described as being, after all, the fruitgrowers organized.

SOME QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

The meeting was then thrown open for general discussion. S. M. Young thought that 35 cents per box was too great a charge for expert packing. Mr. Garroway said that of this amount 25 cents was cash outlay for box and material.

In reply to a question from J. R. Brown, Mr. Garroway said the Union could this year handle all the fruit of the Valley at remunerative prices. Upon being asked who fixed the price, he said that this was controlled by market conditions. The selling price was ascertained, and the jobber was given the fruit at a figure slightly below this, giving him a moderate margin of profit. Much had been said of the so-called "trust" among fruit men in Calgary. Mr. Garroway said this was an organization helpful rather than injurious to price. It was to prevent price cutting one against another and the overloading of the market with certain lines at the same time. Last year had been an exceptional one in the prairie apple market. Nova Scotia had sent quantities of cheap apples West.

INSTRUCTION IN GRADING.

The matter of grading apples was discussed. It was generally conceded that the grower must first grade the fruit before sending it to the packing house. The question of Summerland getting due credit for its high grade fruit was brought up and Mr. Garroway assured those present that every box of fruit shipped from Summerland would be plainly marked as Summerland fruit. The packages used here would have "Summerland" printed on them.

Mr. Kitson, the managing director of the Union, who was also present, stated that he had asked Mr. Ruddick, of the Dominion Horticultural Department, to send inspectors to the Okanagan to teach the people here just what each grade is, as there was constant difference of opinion in grading. There is a good chance of having such a man come here.

Mr. Garroway said that the time would soon come when the Union would handle only the fruit produced by its members. The contracts must be signed before May 15th. The directors will formulate rules for packing peaches.

PLAN FOR QUICK SETTLEMENT.

The matter of the time taken for settlement for fruit going through the Union was brought up by G. J. C. White. Mr. Garroway pointed out that prices could not be definitely ascertained in a short time. One man's fruit was sent here another there, and the prices varied. It would not be fair to pay one man a lower price and another a higher price, because the Union had been able to market the one to better advantage than the other. The proceeds must be pooled and divided proportionately. The Union is now endeavoring to work out a plan to make an early and substantial payment, leaving the balance to be adjusted later.

According to Mr. Garroway, it has now become necessary to sell more shares, and a further call on stock will be made in October.

When asked if the Union would handle vegetables the reply was in the affirmative. Vegetables will not, however, stand the local freight, and so must be produced in such quantity that they must be shipped in carload lots.

WHY COME TO CANADA? AND THE ANSWER.

Winnipeg, Man., Mar. 27.—A new phase of the nation-wide exodus from the United States, the effects of which are now being felt with daily increasing force in Canada, is pointedly shown up in the current issue of Winnipeg Once-A-Week, under the caption, "Still Trekking Northward—and Why." It has been shown, according to recent press dispatches, that no less than 75,000 American farmers came to Western Canada between July 1910 and July 1911, and hundreds of thousands before that time, this great army of homeseekers bringing with them about $1,000 per capita. "No wonder," says the correspondent, "there is grave concern now felt in American commercial centres in view of the situation, and that United States officials are engaged in a desperate search for arguments that might dissuade their fellow-countrymen from a well-formed purpose." The writer asserts however that there is a serious flaw in this method of procedure on the part of the United States authorities inasmuch as while their attention is being concentrated so vigorously upon this great publicity campaign designed to advertise the advantages and opportunities open in the States another powerful array of forces is to be found engaged with equal determination in a campaign of a different sort—"a rather loud and blatant campaign which has raised serious question in the minds of many Americans as to whether after all life is not too short to be spent in its entirety under guard, and surrounded by din and tumult and the alarms of demagogues and agitators."

The correspondent then takes up the notorious dynamite conspiracy recently unearthed as a result of the McNamara trial at Los Angeles, and which had ramifications in all the great industrial centres of the United States. Under these conditions it is easily understood why large numbers of thoughtful Americans are carefully considering the question whether life and property are not just a bit more secure under the guarantees and safeguards of the Dominion Government. However, were these attacks upon the established order of organized society merely the output of the loafer and the street-corner agitator, peace-loving Americans would feel no special cause for alarm. The case takes on an entirely different aspect, however, when men holding positions of power and leadership in public life assume the role of the demagogue and conduct a systematic campaign of social and political upheaval year after year—and especially every fourth year. "It is in view of an approaching national election," concludes the writer, "that many foresighted Americans to-day are regarding it expedient to turn their faces northward; and from present indications the movement during the coming season appears likely to break all records." As if in confirmation of these statements, J. S. Dennis, head of the Natural Resources Department of the C. P. R. has just announced that from careful estimates he looks to see 200,000 Americans settle in Western Canada in 1912.

BURNING RUBBISH.

To those who study the life histories of insects the presence of any kind of waste material in the orchard, such as fragments of limbs, old bark, parts of weeds, the prunings of trees, or rotten or mummied fruits on the trees, is recognized as a menace to the trees and fruits, in that, during the winter season they harbor insects and germs of disease, thus carrying them safely over into the summer season, when they emerge and re-infest the trees and crops. Thus the codling moth is now resting beneath fragments of bark on the trunk and under the trees near the point where the wormy apples, from which the larvae crawled, dropped last fall. Mummied fruits of the plum and apple on the trees harbor the spores of the monilia or brown rot and bitter rot, and all should be removed and burned or buried prior to giving the orchard a general treatment of disinfection by means of spraying.—Selected.

In British Columbia, "all debris, prunings and other rubbish must be burnt up at the time of pruning."

The Hotel Ponticton recently changed hands, Mrs. S. Barnes resigning her interests in the business to Messrs. J. H. McDonald and T. Johnson, who have leased the premises for a period of five years.

Further Interesting Extracts From Dr. Matthew's Address.

Published by request of W.C.T.U. "There are five elements opposed to reform, and the first is the subsidized press. The second is the public corporations engaged in political activities. The third is the liquor associations with their ramifications reaching out all over the continent. The fourth is so closely intertwined with the third, that both must be considered together, the white slave traffic. The fifth is the morganized magazine press. A large and increasing number of American magazines are being utilized to foster and still further entrench the liquor traffic.

There are those who would compromise with evil for the sake of peace, but that policy is wrong. Christ came first to be a king of righteousness, and until righteousness reigns there cannot be peace. The church is not only to hold the fort of righteousness, but to storm the fort of wickedness, and it is fighting a winning battle. In twenty-five years the saloon will have passed out of existence in the United States.

The labor unions are fighting all the corporations that are holding down the working man. The unions should fight first of all the liquor corporation, which is the most dangerous association, and the most injurious to the working man, as well as to the whole community."

VERDICT OF ACCIDENTAL DEATH.

Management and Inspector Criticised.

Merritt, March 25.—The coroner's jury, after the investigation of the Diamond Vale Coal Mine disaster, when seven miners lost their lives, unanimously agreed that deceased met their death by the explosion of gas combined with coal dust coming into contact with a naked light in the Diamond Vale Collieries. And further found that there had been manifested gross negligence through not providing efficient equipment and the disposition to evade the rules specified in the Coal Mines Regulation Act, and that there had been laxity upon the part of the Inspector of Mines in not seeing that the forms of the said act were strictly enforced.

FINISH LINE AHEAD OF TIME

It has been officially announced that the contract for the construction of the Kettle Valley line over the Hope mountains will be awarded early next month, and that construction work will be started not later than May 1st. The section in question will have a length of forty-five miles. It was also announced that every effort would be made to finish the contract before the end of 1914, or six months ahead of the time limit, July 1, 1915, fixed by the Provincial Government.

Construction will be started at mile 25 of the branch line completed south from Merritt in the Nicola Valley. The line will extend ten miles up the Coldwater River Valley to the summit on a maximum grade of one per cent. There will be 35 miles of line down the west slope of the Hope range to Hope, where the Fraser will be bridged to form a connection with the main line of the C.P.R. The route west of the summit will follow the Coquehalla River with a maximum grade of 2.2 as against eastbound traffic. Construction on both slopes will be very heavy and several thousand men will be employed. The survey has been approved from the starting point at mile 25 across the range and down the west slope to a point 25 miles from Hope. Several long tunnels will have to be driven.

The main line of the Kettle Valley system between Midway and Merritt, traversing the Kettle Valley, the Okanagan and Similkameen districts, a distance of 260 miles; will, it is also announced, be completed by the end of 1913. Of that section eighty miles have been graded and sixty-five miles of steel have been laid.

The line south from Merritt, thirty miles long, will be a branch or feeder to the main line, which it will join at mile 25 as previously stated. It was recently inspected by Mr. J. P. Orde, Provincial Government engineer, who pronounced it to be one of the best sections of railway he had ever examined, thus reflecting great credit on the engineering staff of the railway company.

The cost of construction of the main line down the west slope of the Coquehalla River is estimated at $75,000 per mile.

Naramata Notes.

The first consignment of nursery stock to reach Naramata for this season came in early this week.

Mr. Reg. Boothe has gone to Vernon where he has accepted a position in the grocery store belonging to Mr. W. H. Smith.

Mrs. Herbert Wolstencroft's father, Mr. Ruston Cunliffe, from Accrington, England, arrived in town on Sunday's boat.

A young horse belonging to Mr. H. Endacott, while being "broken in" on Wednesday, threw itself over its tethering ropes and broke its neck.

A service in the Opera House on Sunday night is announced by Mrs. Gillespie. The topic for the occasion is "The Last Enemy." All are welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Peacock, of Winnipeg, who, it is understood, are to assume charge of the Hotel Summerland on April 1st, spent a part of the week at Kenwood Ranch.

Miss Brunton, who last season made such a "hit" as housekeeper in Hotel Naramata, is expected back on Monday to make preparations for opening up the tourist hotel for the season.

Mr. J. S. Gillespie journeyed to Fairview on Tuesday to place before the Water Commissioner, Mr. J. R. Brown, the claims of the Okanagan Trust Company to certain water reservations in the upper lakes.

On Tuesday March 19th, Rev. H. A. Solly, Rector of St. Stephen's, Summerland, came over by the 8.00 a.m. ferry to administer Holy Communion in Naramata's little church. After the service Mr. Solly spent the day visiting his numerous friends in the town and on the benches and returned to Summerland on the evening ferry.

The recent exceptionally fine days have called forth the rusty shovels, hoes, rakes and other garden tools and on all sides is to be seen the hustling efforts of one's neighbors busy with the usual spring clean up. This is as it should be and if the good work could by an organized effort be carried to the whole of the streets and lanes wouldn't it be splendid. Surely we are not going to let the other towns along the lake be ahead of us in this general "clean-up" movement.

TO MOVE JAM FACTORY.

Doukhobors Will Establish Plant at Brilliant, North of Trail.

The Doukhobor Society, which last year operated the Columbia-Kootenay jam factory at Nelson, will this year move the factory to their own lands at Brilliant, north of Trail.

The new factory will be equipped with the latest appliances and a high grade product only will be put up. The society is already contracting with ranchers in the district for this year's crop.

A new contingent of Russians arrived in the Grand Forks valley this week from Saskatchewan and have purchased four ten-acre tracts of unimproved land east of the city. For three of the tracts they paid at the rate of $100 per acre, while for the fourth they paid $125 per acre, the total transaction amounting to $4,250.

Vancouver, March 10th.—Rev. Dr. Spencer, Supt. Local Option, has just returned from attending the National Prohibition Congress recently held in Toronto, and reports that it was a large and enthusiastic congress throughout. The work of the Dominion Alliance was outlined with a view to Provincial and then Dominion Prohibition. Mr. R. H. Cairns of Chilliwack and Mr. W. J. Paris of Vancouver were elected Vice Presidents of the Dominion Alliance, and Dr. Ernest Hall and Dr. Spencer members of the executive. After the congress Dr. Spencer visited his former pastorates and received a hearty welcome by large congregations and friends in Ontario. He reports that great interest in B. C. is evident in every place visited, many expressing their determination to come to this land of sunshine, showers and flowers.

Alterations are seldom necessary in a "Fit-rite" garment

In the early days of ready-to-wear clothes, the purchase of a suit was attended by much trouble—both for the merchant who sold the clothes and for the man who bought them. Almost invariably, extensive alterations were required.

The wonderful development of tailoring methods by some of our leading clothes producers has made it possible for almost any man to drop into a good clothes shop, try on a few suits, and walk out of that shop wearing the garment that suits him best.

Foremost in this respect are the makers of "Fit-rite"—a line of high-grade ready-to-wear clothes that comprises garments built for every type of figure. We advise an inspection of their new Spring models.

FRIDAY, MARCH 29, 1912.

THE PROMISED PROPOSITION.

WHEN the three directors of the Okanagan Telephone Company were here some weeks ago they promised to draw up and submit to the people of Summerland an outline of an agreement with the Municipality under which they would be willing to work. Whether because they foresaw the futility of such a thing or not, they have not as yet done so. The only proposition that has been made is the general circular letter published in two issues of this paper.

While it might be possible that a basis of agreement could be arrived at, it seems very doubtful. Our citizens would require an up-to-date and in every way a satisfactory service. They would also demand a guarantee as to rates. This would have to be for a fixed number of years.

To save the field to itself all this might be granted by the company to the satisfaction of our people. But at the end of that period what would happen? This would be the time when the company would, if possible, make up for lost time. In order to avoid any such trouble at that time our Council should arrange for a renewal contract on satisfactory terms, or require that the company sell its plant to the Municipality. Just here is where the most serious obstacle would be met. How would the price be arrived at. Certainly we should not be expected to pay the company's purchase price plus improvements, extensions, etc. Nor should we pay anything for goodwill. Before any agreement is entered into the company should be required to undertake to transfer its plant to the Municipality at what it would cost the Municipality to instal the same system less a reasonable allowance for depreciation. If this cannot be embodied in any agreement that may be entered into by the Municipality with the company, then Summerland had much better carry out its present plans.

No matter how we look at it we are yet satisfied that the present course is the safer one in any event. Not that we would advise that a people's company enter into the telephone business as a permanent affair, but merely to hold the ground until the Municipality obtains the necessary power to issue debentures and acquire the stock of each individual shareholder. Our people will then get dollar for dollar in their investment and the Municipality a plant at first cost, putting it in a position to charge reasonable rates and give the service the people require.

RAILWAY CONSTRUCTION.

THERE is no citizen who will not rejoice to learn that construction work on this section of the Kettle Valley Railway is to begin at once. It means more business for our merchants, work for laborers and superintendents, an additional market for garden and poultry products, and better than all it provides an early direct rail connection with the big centres of Western Canada, which, of course, means a more rapid development of the community as a whole.

"TAKE AWAY WOMEN, and what what would follow?" asks a writer. That's easy! The men, of course.

THE EDITOR of the Greenwood Ledge forecasts the result of the provincial elections thus: Socialists two, Liberals three and Conservatives thirty-seven. He might have relieved the suspense by naming the opposition members.

"IT IS AN ILL WIND that blows nobody good." The great coal strikes in Great Britain has set many people thinking, and as a result a proposal, which, if adopted would revolutionize the coal mining business of the world, has been launched by Sir William Ramsay, the noted English scientist. He suggests that much of the expense of coal mining and handling might be avoided if the coal were turned into gas in retorts in the bowels of the earth. The gas thus generated could either be distributed by pipe lines, or used at the pit head for producing electricity, which could be distributed from there.

PROGRESS AND PROSPERITY mean increased expenses for any community. The advent of the railway, while it brings us increased prosperity, will also bring additional expense for the municipality, and it must be ready to meet it. We have boasted much of the fact that this fair district has had no need for a jail. We are justly proud of the fact that our citizens are not of the kind that are likely to make a place of detention necessary, but the events of the past few weeks have shown positively that we are liable to be visited by such who should be behind prison bars. The coming of the railway navy makes the providing of a jail and police a wise and necessary precaution.

IN GIVING, as in many other things, Summerland is a leader. The leading position in missionary contributions of the local Baptists, of which recent mention was made in our columns, surprised us. Just now we have before us the 1911 report of the British Columbia auxiliary of the Canadian Bible Society, (non-denominational), and are again surprised to note that Summerland is in the front rank in the total of contribution from the cities and towns of this province. Only the cities of Vancouver, Victoria and Prince Rupert gave more and the last named not very much more. The cities of Chilliwack, Cranbrook, Kamloops, Nelson, New Westminster, North Vancouver, Revelstoke and Vernon were all out-distanced by Summerland. This is indeed a matter for congratulation.

DRY FARMING.

LETHBRIDGE is nothing if not progressive. That city has been successful in securing the Seventh International Dry Farming Congress, which will be held October 21st to 26th, 1912.

The Lethbridge Board of Trade is advertising this fact very extensively and systematically. They have recently been granted the use of a cancellation stamp upon all outgoing and incoming letters at the Lethbridge Post Office announcing the Congress. This is the first time the use of a cancellation stamp of this nature has been sanctioned in Canada by the postal authorities and it is, no doubt, a recognition of the fact that the coming Congress will be among the largest and best expositions of farm products ever held in this country. We show here a cut illustrating the cancellation stamp now in use in the Lethbridge Post Office.

Ottawans as Pioneers for Appledale.

Citizens from the Capital Will Arrive about Middle of April.

(Ottawa Journal, March 21)

To the West is a slogan many people in Ottawa are accepting. Mr. J. H. Pushman, of 35 McKay Street, accountant at the head office of the W. C. Edwards Company, New Edinburgh, is leaving them to go West. Workers of Mr. Pushman showed their esteem for him by presenting him with a silver tea service. Mr. Pushman has been with the W. C. Edwards Co. for 22 years, and is one of several families who are leaving Ottawa for Red Apple Valley, near Summerland. They go away about the second week in April.

Red Apple Valley is a new colony, and Mr. Pushman and family, with several of their relatives are going as pioneers.

Fourth Avenue Baptist Church will suffer a severe loss by the migration. Seventeen members of the church are emigrating to the new settlement. Those leaving are Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Davies, and one boy; Mr. and Mrs. Pushman and family of three; Mr. and Mrs. Pushman, senior; Mrs. R. A. Roe, mother of Mrs. H. T. Davies and Mrs. J. H. Pushman; Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Roe and family of four.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Davies have lived in the Glebe for the past seventeen years, and have been active workers since the church of which they are members started. They will be greatly missed, but what is Ottawa's loss in a great gain for Red Apple Valley.

COLLEGE ELECTION RETURNS.

There has been a very exciting and interesting election campaign carried on at the College. Several meetings have been held when speeches supporting the candidates were given, and politics have been much discussed. The results of today's election is as follows:

A. C. Riley, Socialist, 20.
H. C. Packham, Liberal, 48.
Spoiled ballot, 1.
Total votes cast, 69.

Belong to an athletic club?" No—none of that stuff. I guess I'm a safe risk." "Do you scorch?" "What do you mean?" "Do you drive your car faster than the speed limit?" "I have no car." "What? how do you get about?" "I walk." "Risk refused. A scorcher is a dangerous risk, but a pedestrian has no chance at all. Buy a car, old chap. Sorry—good-night!"

PENTICTON TELEPHONE COMPANY.

Will Proceed to Obtain Charter Unless Okanagan Telephone Co. Agrees to Rates.

A meeting of the subscribers to the Penticton Telephone Company was held last week when, according to the Penticton Herald, the following resolution was adopted:

That it is the opinion of the Board of Provisional Directors, that no steps should be taken toward the installing of an independent system in Penticton, until all methods of arriving at an amicable and satisfactory agreement with the Okanagan Telephone Company have been exhausted. Meanwhile your Provisional Directors would advise:

(a) That they be given power to call a joint meeting of the delegates from Kelowna and Summerland to arrive at a basis of rates to obtain in the three towns, and submit the same to the Okanagan Telephone Company for their approval.

(b) That they be empowered to incorporate and obtain a charter for the Penticton Telephone Company, if they deem it advisable, and for this purpose they make a first call on the subscribers.

(c) That if such a satisfactory agreement can be arrived at with the Okanagan Telephone Company, the legal costs and expenses connected therewith, be borne equally by the three towns, and that in Penticton the agreement should be made as between the Penticton Municipal Council and the Okanagan Telephone Company.

Mr. E. Foley-Bennett presided over a representative attendance.

The feeling was general that strong action should be taken immediately, if the Company do not sign up an agreement on the lines laid down in the interview with the provisional directors, and the municipal council will be requested to have the agreement drawn up to its satisfaction.

It was also decided to request the delegates from Summerland and Kelowna to meet the Penticton directors in Kelowna, to confer together in order that joint action may be taken in whatever course is adopted.

MARCH "ROD AND GUN."

"An Experience Off the Coast of Newfoundland: Hunting the Hair Seal," opens the March issue of Rod and Gun in Canada, published by W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ontario, and the interest of this article is a criterion of the interest of those that follow, which include articles descriptive of outdoor life from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Among these is the first of a series of articles on the Culture of the Black and Silver Foxes, which should prove of value to the many seeking practical information on this subject. A new feature this month is the creation of a Game Conservation Department edited by Mr. Frank Hyde, wherein matters pertaining to the subject of game conservation will be freely discussed. As this subject is a live one at the present time, and is likely to be for some time to come, or until the improved laws for which good sportsmen are agitating have been enacted, this department should prove of exceptional interest.

ALFALFA WILL GROW EVERYWHERE.

While experts have been declaring that alfalfa would only grow in certain soils and in certain climates, it has proven adaptability to nearly all climates, and almost all soils. It produces with a rainfall as scant as 14 inches, and in the Gulf States flourishes with 65 inches. It gives crops at an elevation of 8,000 feet above sea level, and in Southern California it grows below sea level to a height of six feet or over, with nine cuttings a year, aggregating ten to twelve tons. An authenticated photograph in possession of the writer shows a wonderful alfalfa plant raised in the (irrigated) desert of Southern California, sixty feet below sea level, that measured considerably more than ten feet in height. Satisfactory crops are raised, but on limited areas as yet, in Vermont and Florida. New York has grown it for over one hundred years in her clay and gravel; Nebraska grows it in her western sand hills without plowing, as does Nevada on her sage brush desert. The depleted cotton soils of Alabama and Missouri each respond generously with profitable yields to the enterprising farmer, while its accumulated nitrogen and the sub-soiling it effects are making the rich land more valuable and giving back to the crop-worn land the priceless elements of which it has in successive generations been despoiled by a consciousnessless husbandry.

—Coburn's "Book of Alfalfa."

UNIQUE B.C. NEWSPAPER.

In British Columbia there is a little newspaper, the "Kamloops Wawa," circulating among several tribes of North American Indians. The unique feature of this journal is that it is printed in shorthand. Some years ago the Rev. J. M. LeJune, a Breton missionary, arrived in British Columbia to take charge of a territory some fifty miles square. According to the "Strand," he found the greatest obstacle to his work to be the absence of any means of written communication, as the natives had no written language of their own.

His repeated efforts to teach them to read and write by ordinary methods failed entirely. The missionary was acquainted with the simple French Duployan shorthand, and then conceived the novel idea of teaching the Indians to write their own language phonetically by means of the shorthand characters.

He adapted the stenographic signs to the Chinook language, and the experiment proved a complete success. There are to-day three thousand Indians able to read and write their own language by no other means than shorthand. "Wawa" means "talk" in the Chinook, and hence the title of the little newspaper, which has been the natural outcome of the missionary's undertaking.—Witness.

BLACK KNOT.

Black knot is a most uncommon and unsightly disease, which attacks plum and cherry trees. It appears on all woody parts of the trees; but mostly on smaller twigs, first as a slight swelling, and later as a rough, knotty excrescence covering the twig from one to five inches or more. As soon as this knot forms a complete ring about the twig or limb, the nutriment of the tip portion is completely cut off, and it dies.

Treatment.—Cut out and burn all diseased portions, six or eight inches below the knot during the dormant season, and spray with lime sulphur, and cut out knots during the summer or whenever they appear. Paint over the cut ends with disinfectant solution of copper sulphate, one pound to one gallon of water, or house paint. Spray with Bordeaux mixture before the buds burst, using three pounds of copper sulphate, five pounds of lime and forty gallons of water, or with lime sulphur solution, and follow this with a spray of Bordeaux mixture made by using one-half the above quantity of copper sulphate as soon as the petals drop, and again ten days or two weeks thereafter.

The city of Nelson has suffered of late from a number of incendiary fires, among the latest being the destruction of the Yalo-Columbia sawmill resulting in a heavy loss. There is now offered a reward of $2,500 for the capture of the incendiary.

THOS. B. YOUNG, West Summerland.

The HOME CIRCLE.
 Crude Thoughts From the Editorial Pen.

MOST MEN would prefer domestic happiness to great riches.

WITH SOME PEOPLE a knowledge of the world is ridiculed, but a person who does not give housekeeping a place among the fine arts shows an intellectual calibre away down below the commonplace.

YOU WILL OFTEN advance your interests more by spending a social evening in a respectable family, than you will by sitting in your room and poring over your money matters, or writing a whole package of business letters.

A HEALTHY CHILD is always active. It must jump and scream, fall down, cry when it gets a hurt, and jump up only to repeat the same thing. But to keep it still means unhappiness, and nearly, if not quite, death. Let them be gay. That is their element.

SUPPLEMENT what the children learn at school with reading lessons at home. Reading aloud is good, will improve the reading of the reader, and give information to the members of the home circle who may be obliged to work with their hands in the evening.

YOUNG MEN, study yourselves. Choose your work and if it satisfies you move on. Bid defiance to all obstacles. Do not surrender to phantoms—they will ever challenge you; fight it out on some line "if it takes all summer." Our boats are headed up the river and just so sure as we drop the oars so sure will we float down. Keep rowing.

THE COTTAGE and the mansion differ very much in structure and in furniture, but a pretty flower, carefully watered and tended, blooms as well in a cottage as in a palace window. Then the flower speaks to the inmates of the home and tells them of the wisdom and love of God; how he sent these beautiful flowers into the world to please the eye of man.

THE GLAD HEARTS! How welcome they are in this old world! The hearts that wear a smiling face and extend the glad hand! They scatter sunshine wherever they go. They inspire us with good thoughts and the desire to noble things. They smooth down the rough places in life. They remove the obstacles from our paths, and sweeten the pleasures of this old world.

SHOW US A BOY who obeys his parents, who has respect for age, who always has a friendly disposition, and who applies himself diligently to get wisdom and to do good toward others, and if he is not respected and beloved then there is no such thing as truth in this world. Remember this, boys, and you will be respected by others, and grow up and become useful men.

LEGISLATE LAWS against early marriages. "I can't tolerate children," said a little simpleton to us the other day, "but I adore dogs!" and yet that girl had an engagement ring on her finger. There should be a special seclusion for such girls until they develop some instinct of womanliness, and they should no more be allowed to marry than should a Siwash chief be allowed to take charge of a kindergarten.

HOW MUCH would neighbors rise in value, and how much would neighbors rise in beauty, if all would lay aside habits of criticism, and neighborhood scandal, and petty feuds and ridicule. And if men would study the things that make for peace and the things that make for happiness, everybody trying to make everybody else happy, what a revolution there would be!

THERE is a wise, old German saying that "Only a god or a brute can dwell in solitude." Men and women need congenial companionship, both for the sake of health and happiness. Just as your lungs, after using up all the oxygen in a close room, need to be filled with fresh, out-of-door air, so your mind needs contact with other minds to get new ideas. There is such a thing as mental as well as physical hunger. Herders on the cattle ranches of the West frequently become mad from the isolation they are forced to endure. Women on lonely farms and in small villages grow morbid and mildly insane, and people do not guess that the cause is want of companionship.

IT IS OFTEN by doing too much for the children, by over-governance, over-indulgence, that their individuality, their aggressive, vital initiative quality, their self-dependence and self-reliance are weakened. Henry Ward Beecher says, "Many children grow up like plants under glass. They are surrounded only by artificial and prepared influences. They are house bred, room bred, nurse bred, mother bred—everything but self bred. The object of training is to teach the child to take care of itself; but many parents use the children only as a kind of spool on which they reel off their own experience, and they are bound and corded until they perish by inanition or break all bonds and cords and rush to ruin by reaction."

JIMMY'S LETTER TO DAD.

Okanagan College, West Summerland, March 27, 1912.

Dear Dad: We didn't have any mock trial after all. I expect it will be held soon but am not sure when. The prosecution asked for an adjournment to allow certain incriminating documents, letters and telegrams to be secured. They intimate that they are very sweet and of the real lovey-dovey kind.

Last Friday night a second performance of "Enoch Arden" was given in the College Gymnasium. The people here are awfully slow to find out what things are good and what are not. They crowd the hall for a fourth-rate play at one dollar a seat (and that means two dollars a night for most of them) while if a first class local performance is put on at a cheaper rate they shrug their shoulders and say, "but dear, it's only Mr. So-and-so" and stay at home. Surely a prophet hath no honor in his own country.

The political campaign and the development of the baseball team go rapidly on. The final Socialist meeting of the campaign was held last night and was a great success; while the last Liberal rally is to take place to-night when great things are expected. An unusual amount of speaking talent has been unearthed and developed among the students, which more than justifies the time and energy expended in the campaign.

And the baseball team! Well, it is getting into shape more and more all the time. The present expectations are that the team will tour the Similkameen Valley, playing games with Princeton, Kere-meos, Hedley and Oroville, though it is not fully arranged yet. More will be known soon and if the trip comes off the team will likely leave Thursday the 4th of April.

Another musical recital is announced by the Music Department to be given on Friday evening, April 12 in the college gymnasium. It is going to be even better than the previous ones, so you had better start planning to come. I may sing a song myself!

Friday night we are to be entertained by Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Robinson at their home down town. We have every prospect of having a fine time. I'll try to remember not to ask for a second piece of cake, and say I had a good time when I leave. Oh, I am getting great on manners since I came up here. Trust a co-ed school for that. Yours as ever,

JIMMY.

CONSTABLE ASTON DEAD.

PRISONERS CONFESS.

Charge of Murder will be Entered.

At the preliminary trial of James and Wilson, the two desperadoes arrested for the shooting of Constable Aston, James, the principal in the case, shouldered the entire blame, having, as he confessed, compelled Wilson, at the point of the gun, to accompany him in his depredations. James, who robbed the store at Mission and also, he says, shot Aston, seems indifferent to the whole affair. Wilson stated that he had been terrified by his companion James, into participating in the assault upon Aston. His story is that the two men suddenly seized Aston in the state room of the steamer, when James shot him in the head. They were committed for trial on the charge of robbery of the store at South Okanagan, the more serious charge of shooting the constable being held in abeyance, pending the termination of Aston's injury. They were taken to Kamloops jail on Saturday by Constable Tooth, of Kelowna, and Inspector Smith, of Vancouver.

Constable Aston died at three thirty Thursday afternoon.

G. H. Aston was well known in the Boundary country, having been a constable at Midway some years ago.

Irony is added to the tragedy by reason of the fact that Aston served through the Zulu and Boer wars in Africa, and was known as "Lord Roberts" by his many friends in Greenwood. That he should now fall by the cowardly bullet of a common desperado, after having escaped the shot of the Boer and the assaigi of the Zulu is another of the freaks that Fate hands out.

left about ten o'clock." Was asked if he were positive of this, and replied that he could not be, as they had no clock.

This concluded the case for the defence and the evidence was reviewed by the Magistrate. "Mr. Arkell testifies that Templeton took the wood and that he admitted it. Mr. Darkis swears that Templeton admitted taking wood from the Overseas Club. For the defence Mr. Haddrell had produced evidence to show that the two men had gone to bed about ten. Another witness had sworn that wood was being cut about eleven o'clock, and the defence had not been able to show that the men had not gone out again after going to bed at ten."

Court was adjourned and the evidence was considered by Magistrate English together with Reeve Thomson. After about half an hour's deliberation the accused was declared guilty. The magistrate said he would allow him out on suspended sentence, and he must be in readiness to present himself at any time when required. He was also charged with the costs, $5.

Young Templeton arose to address the Court and in no very respectful manner proceeded to condemn the action of the Court. Mr. Haddrell tried to get him to desist but he turned on him also. He was called to order by the Court and cautioned to be more careful in his remarks and while he was still talking the Court adjourned.

Templeton is a young man from Aberdeen, Scotland, who came direct from there about eight months ago.

PREFERS THE OKANAGAN TO CALIFORNIA.

Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Lipsett arrived on Thursday night's boat from California where they have spent a good part of the winter. The Doctor says that while California is a good place for a holiday, he by all odds prefers the Okanagan. When asked if he had to make a choice of permanent residence between the two places he pronounced his preference for the Okanagan. In the Interior of California where he spent the winter the weather was pretty warm and he thought the summers would be unbearable. The air was not clear and pleasant as here, being so filled with a fine dust as to be actually hazy at times. This, the residents said, was due to the winds raising the dust from the not far distant deserts, and the dust remained suspended in the air for a long time. The scenery could not compare to that of the Okanagan. We could grow more fruit to the acre here than they could, and while our people had to spend only a few months of the year in orchard work, there twelve solid months of work was necessary.

He thought the opportunities were much better here.

FINE MILLINERY DISPLAY.

The Angove & Stinson Millinery Opening held Wednesday afternoon was a great success and showed conclusively the value of local newspaper advertising. To add to the attractiveness of the display the weather was all that could be desired. The new department recently opened on the second floor for this purpose held an excellent display of millinery and white goods tastefully arranged. Tea, cakes, etc., were served on the same floor at small, neatly decorated tables. Extra help was on hand to serve the large crowd of ladies and in every way this event, one of the most important of the season to lady shoppers, was pronounced a complete success. The newly remodeled front of the store adds much to its appearance. Further alterations and improvements are to be made.

TELEPHONE MATTERS.

L. H. Baldwin, representing the Kellogg Switchboard and Supply Co., Chicago, spent several days in town recently. He is now at Penticton. Before coming to Summerland he visited Kelowna and reports that town will have independent telephones at an early date. Mr. Baldwin has looked into the situation here thoroughly and will report to his head office. He will make an estimate of the cost of installing a plant, and prices for a switchboard installed together with instruments will be quoted by the firm. No order has yet been signed. As a representative of the Northern Electric Company is coming, it was thought best to wait until prices were submitted by both concerns.

A start has been made with the improvements on the grounds of the Central and High Schools.
