DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF SUMMERLAND, PEACHLAND AND NARAMATA

Vol. 5, No. 51

SUMMERLAND, B.C., JULY 18, 1913.

Whole No. 259

Summerland To Have Experimental Farm.

Mr. J. H. Grisdale, Director of Dominion Government Experimental Farms, arrived in town this morning, and with Mr. H. C. Mellor and other prominent citizens proceeded to the location for the proposed farm and put in the stakes preparatory to beginning work. The farm is to comprise 100 to 150 acres of bench land on the Indian Reserve below Trout Creek. It will be devoted principally to cattle, fruit and poultry. Pumping methods will be introduced for irrigation. This experimental farm will undoubtedly mean a good deal to Summerland in horticultural and agricultural development.

Progress on the Kettle Valley Railway Work.

Trout Creek Bridge Falsework Completed Forty Miles of Grading Ready for Track.

Work has been proceeding rapidly on the new steel bridge for the K.V.R. over Trout Creek, under the supervision of Engineer A. Nuttall. The difficulties which attended placing the foundations of the falsework have been successfully overcome and the primary wooden structure is now reared up from the bottom of the canyon to a height of one hundred and ninety feet. In the construction of the falsework two hundred and fifty tons of timber have been used. This work is now practically completed, and the permanent bridge work will be commenced immediately. The steel span will be two hundred and fifty feet in length, and it is expected that it will be completed about the middle of September.

The completion of the bridge will open the grade to the track layers for a distance of forty miles. All the grading up to the summit at Osprey Lake is now completed, with the exception of one or two small sections.

Messrs. Butterfield & Armstrong have completed their contract in connection with the work on the Trout Creek Bridge and have this week moved to the other side of the lake where they have work on the bridges between Naramata and Penticton.

The railway work on the east side of the lake is also progressing rapidly. The tunnelling work is now completed, and most of the heavy blasting has been finished. The report that one of the tunnels on that section would have to be blown out and converted into a deep cutting is incorrect. It was said that the tunnel had developed cracks in the roof and this would render it unsafe. This, however, is a false report.

A disagreement between the Okanagan Trust Company and the K.V.R. has resulted in an order from the Minister of Railways to send an engineer from the capital to look over the ground and recommend an adjustment. The Trust Company have a registered site for a dam at Shoot Lake which they propose using for storage, to be used in the near future to irrigate North Naramata, and supplement the irrigation system of Naramata. Since filing their proposed route the K.V.R. have made a change in their survey, and if the road is built as now proposed the Trust Company contend that it would be impossible for them to carry out their proposed irrigation plans. The matter was argued before the Minister of Railways at Ottawa, and before granting the revision of route, he decided to send an engineer to investigate.

Three Local Exhibitions.

Active preparations are now under way for holding the three exhibitions which Summerland counts among her annual events. The shows were each successful last year and were well supported. This encourages the organizers to attempt larger and better things this year.

The Women's Institute Flower and Fancy Work Show will be held on Friday, August 15. Probably in the first floor of the Empire Hall building as last year. The prize list has been extended and now embraces most lines of feminine handicraft. The Institute deserve the more credit for this progression, since the council withheld the very material assistance they gave last year to the Show. All ladies are eligible for entry, and to make the Show the success it deserves, every household should be represented. The uncertain weather may have affected the prospects for the flower section, but some sunshiny days will make the gardens look bright and bring the flowers ready for the Show. In the baking section there is a new class in the cake to be made from the sample recipe given. This should attract the home-makers. The bread and biscuit classes should also show a larger entry than last year, since these are vital in every home. Those who are unable to support the Show by entries of work can, by their attendance, show their appreciation of the endeavors of the Institute.

The secretary has handed in the following correction and addition to the prize list which was sent out last week:

The first prize in Section 3 of prize list (special by Mr. S. B. Snider) for best collection of canned fruit, six varieties, pints, wide tops, uniformity to count, is a $5 gold piece. 2nd prize (Dr. Andrew) $3.

Mrs. J. L. Logic gives the special prize for best pint of tomato catsup.

Mr. J. Stewart's prize for best six assorted Carnations is, 1st prize 4 ornamental shrubs; 2nd prize 2 ornamental shrubs.

In the needlework section was omitted:

Best crocheted table mats, 1st prize $1.25, 2nd prize 75 cents.

Mrs. Jas. Ritchie's prize of $5 is for the best collection of work, instead of best colored fancy work.

The Apple Show organized by the Agricultural Association, will be held on October 30 and 31, in Ellison Hall, Peach Orchard. The prize list is now in course of preparation, and will be issued in the course of a week or two. The entries last year were thoroughly representative of the local orchards, and there were also some outside entrants. This year special efforts will be made to attract entries from all Valley points, and thus the Show will be made Okanagan in character if not in name.

The Poultry Show will be held on December 30 and 31, also in Ellison Hall. The Southern Okanagan Poultry Association met last Saturday evening, and this date was decided upon.

This exhibition should claim wider support than it has had in the past. If the poultry industry was given the consideration it merits as an adjunct to orcharding, the show would undoubtedly become much larger. There is room for growth, and every poultry man should lend his assistance by making entries. The usual support from neighboring Valley towns is expected this year as formerly.

New Schedule of Telephone Rates Shows Increases.

Okanagan Company Plans to Bring Local Rates to Uniformity With Rest of System.

The local office of the Okanagan Telephone Company received early this week a new schedule of telephone rates to apply to local subscribers. These new rates will take effect on the 1st of August, and due notice is being sent out to all subscribers. Only those subscribers who have not signed contracts for their service will be called upon to pay immediately under the new scale of rates. Those who signed contracts will continue paying their present rates until the expiration of their contracts when they too will come under the new rates. The schedule would appear at first glance to make considerable increases in price. The company are allowing a liberal discount, however, for payment on or before the 15th of the month. This brings the net price in some cases no higher than at present; but at the same time there are very material increases in others which show clearly that the policy of the company is to bring the rates here into line with those of the neighboring towns.

Very soon after the Okanagan Telephone Company acquired the systems of the south end of the Valley, other towns had to pay higher prices for their telephones than formerly, and it was thought that only the determined attitude of the Summerland people in meeting the proposed increase, and their action in organizing the Summerland Telephone Company to meet the situation, prevented the same course being pursued here as elsewhere. The failure of the company's overtures as they endeavored to pacify the people, and the proofs of insincerity that followed, are not of old enough date to be forgotten.

Their action last week in regard to the Post Office telephone also seemed to heighten the unfavorable impression of the business methods of this corporation. How their action in raising some of the local rates will be taken remains to be seen. There will probably be protests, but whether they will effect anything tangible depends on the strength that prompts the protests.

Following is the revised schedule of rates: Business phones in town $4 per month, with a discount of $1, or an increase on the present rate of 50 cents.

Private residential phones in town $3, with $1 discount, no increase.

Private party line phones in town and Peach Orchard $2.50, with a discount of $1, no increase.

Residential phones, rural party lines, excepting lock-out lines, $3, discount $1, an increase of 50 cents.

Rural business phones on party lines $4, with $1 discount, an increase of $1.

Rural residential phones on lock-out lines $4, with discount $1, an increase of $1.

Rural business phones on lock-out lines $5, with discount of $1, making an increase of $1.50.

Extension phones and bells remain as before.

The increases enumerated above are reckoned with the net rates under the new schedule, compared to the present rates paid.

New Govt. Wharf Will Soon be Under Way

Messrs. H. A. Thompson and J. W. Aylmer, from Chase, B.C., were here this week in connection with the new government wharf to be built this year at the south end of town. They carried out preliminary engineering work, measuring, surveying and locating a site.

The new wharf will be built out from a point immediately east of the property of Jno. Tait, continuing from the street end at that point. Its direction out into the lake will be almost parallel to the old wharf, but slightly inclining in that direction. Further work will be carried out immediately. Messrs. Thompson and Aylmer left for Penticton on Thursday evening.

Penticton May Have Fruit Evaporating Plant.

Board of Trade in Touch With Western Concern.

The Penticton Board of Trade authorize the statement that a Calgary concern of fruit evaporation is considering the advisability of establishing a plant at Penticton. The company put out the "Ever Fresh" brand of fruit, and have one plant already operating in Oregon, though their office headquarters are said to be at Calgary or Winnipeg.

President Warren of the K.V.R. has been approached with a view to obtaining a suitable site for a factory. The C.P.R. is also investigating the proposition and will grant transportation facilities if the proposals made to establish the industry are bona-fide. The Board now await the reports of these people before making any definite proposition to the company.

The process patented by the "Ever Fresh" Company is stated to be one of the most excellent ever perfected for the preservation of fruits. The fresh fruit is taken and all moisture removed, reducing its weight by about seven-eighths. No chemicals of any description are used but upon the dry fruit being again placed in water it assumes its normal size, shape and flavor.

The desire of this company to establish in Penticton indicates a wide knowledge of the advantages of this district as a basis for industrial openings in connection with fruit growing. If this plant is established there it seems certain that a market for the fruit that is grown in the district will be afforded right on the ground. The products will be sold of course through the local Fruit Union, it will enable the growers to sell ripe fruit that has hitherto gone to waste and had to be dumped. There is every advantage to be gained by the encouragement of this concern and the Board of Trade are making every effort to make Penticton the Okanagan home of the company.

Confederate & Union Generals at Gettysburg Battlefield.

The scenes attending the Gettysburg reunion were very touching. Men who were divided, fighting for the principles they held, were right, were united in brotherly love and ready to fight again, if necessary, for their common cause, the Union. In discussing the matter General Daniel E. Sickles, sole surviving Corps Commander, who participated in the Battle of Gettysburg, said: "I have looked out upon the same scene. The same boys were there—those of them who are left. This time, however, they were not preparing to engage each other in a death grapple on the morrow, nor were they camped on opposite sides, with watchful sentinels between. Now one camp holds them all, and the only preparation that was being made was for the opening of the great peace festival. It was different, and my heart filled with thankfulness to the Almighty that he has wrought it out in this way.

Attention is called to the notice of the quarterly meeting of the Board of Trade which appears elsewhere in this paper. It is hoped a full attendance will be present.

The "Abordeen" made a picnic excursion from Penticton to Kelowna and return on Thursday for the Sunday Schools of the former town.

College Appointments.

Two appointments on the College staff were filled at the meeting of the Advisory Board held at Victoria last week following the Baptist Convention of British Columbia, which was attended by several local representatives.

Miss Kathryn C. McLeod will return in the fall as Lady Principal, succeeding Miss Elizabeth S. Colwell, who has gone to Winnipeg. Miss McLeod was the first Lady Principal and had charge of Morton Hall for two years. She relinquished her work on account of ill health. She has many friends here who will welcome her return to the college.

Prof. S. Everton, who last year took the work in English Bible and higher Mathematics, will assume the Vice Principalship, in place of Prof. R. P. Baker, who has gone to Harvard for post-graduate work. The chair of English which the latter vacates, has yet to be filled, and also the Housemastership.

Owing to continued ill-health it is not expected that Prof. C. Denton will take up any regular college work this coming year. As last year Prof. S. Everton will take the higher mathematics, and the more elementary work in this department will be divided among others of the staff.

One of the surest signs of the activities that will be carried on this season in the manufacture of orchard by-products is seen in the fact that one carload of tin cans and two carloads of sugar arrived in Summerland this week. The carload of cans was for the Balcombe Cannery, and the cans of sugar were consigned to the Dominion Cannons and the Okanagan Jam Company. A carload of cans will also arrive shortly for the Dominion Cannons. In addition to these larger concerns, there are also private individuals who will operate along these lines on a less extensive scale.

Okanagan Valley Tennis Tournament.

Good Play at Penticton.

Every town in the Valley sent representatives to Penticton last week to participate in the annual tournament of the Okanagan Valley Lawn Tennis Association. The local club was well represented, and though not so successful as last year, still gave a good account of themselves and brought some honors to Summerland.

Mrs. E. B. May and Miss Leigh won the final of the Ladies' Doubles from Vernon and retained the handsome trophy, which the local club also won last year. Mr. P. G. Dodwell reached the final of the Men's Singles and was only defeated after a five set game by Mr. R. Stone, of Kelowna, an old Cambridge University half blue. In the finals for the Mixed Doubles, Miss Schmitz and Mr. K. Betz of Vernon defeated Miss Leigh and Mr. P. G. Dodwell. Miss Spencer of Kelowna and Mrs. E. B. May contested the Ladies' Singles, victory going to the former. Kelowna and Vernon fought out a hard match for the Men's Doubles in another five set match, when victory finally went to Messrs. Stone and Scou of Kelowna.

The play throughout was good, the exciting final matches adding great zest to the tournament from all points of view. Many spectators watched the play. Dainty refreshments were served by the Penticton Club as hosts, and the event partook of a social as well as a sporting nature. Mrs. B. F. Boyce of Kelowna presented the prizes to the successful players at the close of the tournament.

The Okanagan Association has decided to send two representatives to the Coast to take part in a big tournament to be held at Victoria, commencing on the 28th inst., and lasting for one week. Messrs. K. Betz of Vernon and P. G. Dodwell of Summerland were chosen, and should place the Okanagan in a prominent place on the prize list.

"ROD AND GUN" FOR JULY.

The July issue of Rod and Gun in Canada, published by W. J. Taylor Limited, Woodstock, Ont., is out with an interesting and appropriate list of contents. The illustrations in this issue are particularly clear and well placed from the cover cut, which depicts a typical old fly fisherman, on throughout the issue which reproduces outdoor life in the various Canadian provinces. By Canoe and Portage in the Northern Wilderness, The Call of the Strenuous Life, Fishing off the Coast of Newfoundland, are some of the leading articles, while thoughtful sportmen will be interested in reading E. R. La Fleche's arraignment of the Ontario and Quebec Inter-provincial Fish and Game Laws. The regular departments are well maintained and the issue a good one for the summer sportsman's reading.

To remove grease spots on carpet or matting, cover with French chalk and sprinkle with benzine. Allow the benzine to evaporate, then brush off the chalk. If the stain has not disappeared, repeat the process.

It will be noticed that records are tabulated differently this month. Competitors' pen totals are now given similar to last year's records. It has been found that in several of the provincial newspapers the correct figures are seldom published. Last month, several complaints were received. In one case, a pen near the bottom in Class 2 was credited with over two thousand eggs. In the above style, should there be errors in printing the number of eggs, the pens will still show their correct standing.

Average price of eggs, 33 cents per dozen. Pen temperatures—Highest, 89 degrees; Lowest 38 degrees; Mean 61.8 Rain fell on three days; sun shone brightly on 25 days.

TOP SCORERS—Pens 1 (135), 19 (133), 14 (126), 6 (124), 15 (122), and 13 (121) eggs.

BROODIES—Pens 20 (4), 4, 7, 11 (2), 2, 3, 9, 10, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, and 19 (1 each).

PERIODICAL WEIGHING OF EGGS—First six pens—Pens 8 (29 ozs. to dozen), 17 (26½), 9 (25½), 3 (25½), 7 (25), and 10 (25).

MOULTERS—Pens 4, 7, 11, 16, 17, and 20.

CLASS II.

TOP SCORERS—Pens 31 (116), 25 (105), 21 and 24 (99), 34 and 93 (92).

BROODIES—Pens 28 (6), 30 and 37 (5), 26; 29, 34, 35, 40 (4), 22, 24, 32, 33, and 38 (3 each); 21, 23, 25, 27, 36, 39 (2).

MOULTERS—Pens 22, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 34, 35, 36, 38, 40.

Comparing some of the results of the contest with those being obtained at the North American Contest in Connecticut, we find that Pen 15's record of 850 eggs in thirty weeks and two days excels the highest upon record in the North American for thirty-three weeks. This was made by a pen of White Leghorns from England. They laid 798 eggs. In the English contest the leading pen of light weights, Black Leghorns laid 608 eggs in seven months.

In the heavy weight class of the North American contest, the leading pen (White Wyandottes) laid 651 eggs in thirty-three weeks. Pen 32's record of 788 eggs in thirty weeks and two days also eclipses this. In the English contest heavyweight class, a pen of White Wyandottes are leading with 711 eggs for seven months.

Total eggs for month—3,583. Total to date—24,923 eggs.

AS with an expensive, high-power racing automobile, so with groceries. The human machine needs the best fuel to get the greatest efficiency from it—just like the motor car.

GIVE the finest auto bad gasoline and you get poor speed—feed the best man alive on improper food and you see a human wreck. You owe it to yourself—for your health's sake, for your pockets sake—to feed your stomach with the finest groceries—with good wholesome food. That is YOUR fuel.

FRIDAY, JULY 18, 1913.

A GOOD USE FOR A GOVERNMENT SURPLUS.

IN SPITE of much talk of "financial stringency" both Provincial and Federal Governments in their budget statements show substantial surpluses. In the case of our own province a portion of this amount is expended in various ways that go to assist development. Roads are built, railways are subsidized, agricultural assistance is given to those who till the soil. No one would attempt to belittle these endeavours to help the province along. But a larger portion of the surplus is carried over from year to year, securely invested according to the discretion of the Minister of Finance.

There is a new field open for the Provincial Government in the disposal of its surplus. It may be called municipal assistance. There are municipalities all over Canada—but especially in the fast growing west—that find themselves unable to keep pace with the financial needs of their districts. The usual method of coping with the situation is to make an issue of debentures, repayable year by year out of sinking funds created for that purpose. But though most municipalities are awake to their respective needs it is not always possible to advantageously market the issue. This is obviously not because municipal bonds can be considered in any way unsafe, for behind an issue of that kind are all the resources of the community. A prominent financial man in the east is responsible for the statement that in the last twenty-five years he could not recall one instance of a municipality failing to meet its bonded obligations. In the interests of the people who authorize their municipal debentures cannot be allowed to pay the exorbitant dividends that some private enterprises give; and in this get-rich-quick age money must be made fast or not at all. Consequently the investing public are not eager to sink their money into municipal undertakings which are run primarily for utility, and not profit.

Why should not the Provincial Government step in and relieve the situation? The benefit that would accrue to a district in the position of our municipality is at once apparent. The issue of debentures authorized by the ratepayers last year has been hanging fire so long that the powers that be have decided to cancel almost all of it. Had the Government been prepared to step in and take over the issue, our council meetings would now assume a different tone of discussion. A false impression of the prosperity of the country is created by the report that "municipal debentures cannot be marketed at the present time."

This assistance by the Government would not lead to the flotation of insecure bond issues, or the undertaking of wild-cat development schemes. Capable officials could look into the circumstances of the issue, and obtain complete satisfaction as to the legitimacy of the expenditure. The more stringent the Government was with its assistance, that much safer, the municipal bonds taken up would be. When so many districts are in distinct need of this help and while the money that could do so much for the rural development of the province is in the treasury, surely there is still work for the Government to do in the upbuilding of Canada's largest province.

PROGRESS OR RETROGRESS?

WHICH are we to do? If we are to submit to the proposed policy of the municipal council we will be taking a decided step backwards. But a few months ago a very different program was laid down, and the policy of advancement was endorsed by the ratepayers when they authorized the issuing of debentures to the extent of one hundred and forty-five thousand dollars.

True, circumstances have since arisen that have made a change of program necessary. The 5 per cent. debentures could not be sold at par and the money needed to complete the plans was not available. It became necessary to offer a higher rate of interest to get the cash.

To defer carrying out the larger part of the plan, viz., the laying of a new main in Garnett Valley and the building of the dams to supply same was, perhaps, wise. But was it the part of wisdom to stop all work? There are extensions to both the domestic water and electric light services that are urgently needed, and which would yield large returns on the capital invested, to say nothing of the satisfaction these would give the ratepayers. And is it wise, even now, to cancel all the bonds as proposed even if permission be granted. What about the proposition made by the representative of a Vancouver engineering concern to take bonds in payment for putting in an oil engine, and further improving and re-modelling the electric light system. This representative proposed to submit to his company a recommendation that they take municipal bonds as payment, and stated he believed this would be done, provided a member of the firm, then in England could market them at par. Later a request was received from these people to change the rate of interest from 5 to 6 per cent. when the company would be prepared to enter upon an agreement to put in a plant to suit the needs of the place, and satisfactory to the Council. What was done? The letter was filed. Has not the present council sufficient courage to grapple with the situation, or do they purpose letting everything slide to be taken up by a new board?

BRITISH CANADA.

FROM TIME to time as we read of the great influx of new citizens of foreign birth coming into our country we wonder what the effect on our national characteristics and our future attitude toward things

British will be, and whether our present strong spirit of empire loyalty is to continue or wane.

A bulletin just issued by the census bureau gives the birthplace statistics of all Canadians at the time of census taking, June, 1911. During the decade there has been a total increase of nearly two millions in Canada's population. Of these, almost one million were Canadian born, or nearly fifty-two per cent. Immigrations from the British Isles were responsible for twenty-one and a half per cent of the increase, and from other parts of the Empire twenty-five per cent., making a total in round figures of 1,370,000—just three quarters of the total increase. Of the non-British, more than one third came from the United States, and may be counted upon to soon be as good Britishers as those born under the Union Jack. Many of the European born can readily be assimilated, so that the remaining portion of the increase will, after all, be a very small percentage.

Boy Scout Camp. Report on Okanagan College.

To be known as the "Rich Estabrook Memorial" Camp.

The Boy Scouts will go under canvas at Crescent Beach on Monday, July 21st. The camp will be under the direction of Scout-Master C. N. Borton, while Quartermaster John Tait will have the heavy job of feeding what promises to be the biggest bunch of boys ever yet in camp here. Though a hard week's work is ahead of them in getting up the work for the proposed trip to Vancouver at the time of the Provincial Exhibition, the Scouts are also anticipating much fun, and it is an excellent way in which to spend part of their holidays, in discipline, training and fun.

The public will be welcome to visit camp at any time, but Thursday will be given over to sports, water and land. This is Summerland Day and everyone must come at two o'clock and stay for the big bonfire at 8.30. As this will necessitate staying for supper, you are respectfully invited to bring LOTS OF PROVISIONS, and make a picnic. Tea and coffee will be provided by the Camp. Mr. Sauter, assisted by other local talent, will entertain at the bonfire.

Arrangements have been made with the Okanagan Lake Boat Company to make trips to the Camp on this date at reasonable rates. Mr. R. H. English will also run teams to the Camp on Thursday and Sunday. Forget your business worries and your housekeeping duties, the pests in your orchard and the financial stringency and come and help our future citizens to have a day of fun.

The following is a list of the sports:

Land Sports—Scouts only
100 yards 10 years
100 " 12 " "
100 " 15 and over
High Jump, Hop, skip and jump
Broad Jump, Undress Race
Relay Race 1/4 mile and others.

Water Sports
Diving, Swimming and others.

The following citizens are asked to officiate at the sports:
Major: Hutton, and Mr. A. Stark, finish judges.

Mr. D. H. Watson, Announcer.
Mr. A. Bentley, Starter.
Scout Master Geo. Ross, Clerk.
Rev. C. H. Daly will be present at Camp and will act as Chaplain. He will also have charge of the services on Sunday.

Contributions of provisions will be gratefully accepted as 35 boys plus 35 boys' appetites is some proposition.

ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY PICNIC.

At a special meeting of the St. Andrew's Society, it was unanimously decided to hold a picnic. On representations being made it was agreed to amalgamate with St. Andrew's Church Sunday School and congregation in their annual outing, July 20th being the date decided on, and Upper Trout Creek the destination. Two rigs will leave Mr. R. H. English's stable about 9 a.m. for the convenience of members attending. St. Andrew's Church, West Summerland, will be the rallying point for everybody. It is requested that all be on time for a punctual start at 9.30.

ARROW LAKE FRUIT FAIR.

According to an exchange the directors of the Arrow Lake Fruit Fair held a meeting on Saturday to make preparations for their Fair to be held October 2 and 3. The regulations were slightly revised, the prize lists overhauled and it was decided to make a specialty of the apples that were most generally and favorably grown in the district. Those chosen were the Northern Spy, Wagner, Jonathan, Gravenstein, McIntosh and Wealthy.

The prizes were increased one hundred per cent. Additional varieties of vegetables were also included in this year's competition.

Results Annually Becoming Better, but Funds Are Needed.

At Saturday morning's session of the board of management of Okanagan College, which was read by Dr. E. W. Sawyer, Principal, featured the proceedings.

The educational report reminded the congregation that, according to present conditions, the business of the board was now under the direction of the Baptist Union, and by that body had been entrusted to the educational board of the Union.

The past year had been a good one, and the results were annually becoming better, owing to the improved residential and scholastic conditions. During the year diplomas had been granted to three in the academic course, to ten in the business department, and certificates for proficiency in some particular branch of work to three. Two of the students had been at McMaster in the third year, both attaining high rank, and one being awarded a scholarship in political economy. Some changes will take place for the coming year. Vice-Principal Baker will retire to go to Harvard University, and Professor Everett will take Professor Denton's place; while Mr. McLeod, formerly Physical Director, will return to the pastorate. Miss Colwell has resigned to go to Winnipeg, and Miss Kathleen McLeod will return to take her place as Lady Principal.

The college received much assistance during the year from the Ladies' College Auxiliary Society, newly formed in Vancouver. Ever since its foundation, however, the work of the institution has been hampered by lack of funds, and in view of the expiring pledges, it will be necessary to make some reasonable provision against present necessities. The institution will need a permanent endowment of $100,000, to which there is little doubt that the business men of the Okanagan Valley will contribute. The canvass, it was pointed out, should be commenced right away, and it was the proposed plan of the board to secure some competent agent to take the field as soon as the time is ripe.

The report was accepted.

RIFLE ASSOCIATION.

On Saturday the event for decision was the last shoot in the series of four shoots for the Canadian Rifle League, the following scores leading for the day:

"YEOMEN OF THE GUARD."

At a meeting of the Executive of the Summerland Musical Society, held on Monday evening, at the home of Mrs. G. M. Ross, it was definitely decided to take up for the coming season the Gilbert & Sullivan opera "The Yeomen of the Guard." This work is somewhat similar to "The Mikado" so successfully presented this spring but the music is generally conceded to be superior.

Mr. Dan Williams, it is expected, will be the musical director, and efforts are being made to place the stage management and directorship in the hands of Mr. Wm. Sauter. The secretary was instructed to procure copies of the score as soon as possible, so that an early start can be made in rehearsals. The principals have not yet been finally selected, but no difficulty is anticipated in that matter. Most of last season's members are expected to take up with the work again this coming winter. Some new voices will also join.

Successful as last winter's work was the executive are confident that "The Yeomen of the Guard," as a more pretentious work, will provide better scope for the array of vocal talent which the Society has gathered, as well as providing the public with some evenings of high quality musical entertainment. All singers and those who appreciate good music are urged to affiliate themselves with the Society, and thus help to make the presentation of the opera an assured success.

Bad air is directly or indirectly the cause of most of our diseases. You can live six days without water, forty days without food, and a hundred years without booze; but only four minutes without air. Get all the fresh air you can hold. It is cheap and leaves no headaches. —Greenwood Lodge.

WET IN OKANAGAN VALLEY.

One-Third of Usual Annual Rainfall Has Fallen in Last Three Weeks.

Mr. W. E. Scott, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, who has recently returned to Vancouver from a visit to the Okanagan country, has stated that an extraordinary feature of the present season in this usually dry country has been the amount of rain that has fallen here within the last month, amounting to four inches, or one-third of the usual rainfall for the whole twelve months. In consequence of this the hay and grain crops are of extraordinary growth, in some cases so heavy as to have lodged, and the whole country side, remarked Mr. Scott, looked far more like the Fraser River Valley landscape than its wont.

The past few days however, have given promise that the Okanagan weather is going to effect for itself a tardy redemption.

The sunshine has been uninterrupted, and a continued spell of our customary settled weather will do much for the orchards and gardens.

The summer of 1913 is somewhat belated, and it would be unwise to assert in the face of what has happened in the past few weeks that it is here yet.

Everywhere through the Valley the fruit crop is looking excellent, and on all sides the zeal for co-operative selling is visible. Mr. J. Robertson is managing the new central selling agency, and the only fly in the amber is the presence of a certain amount of fire blight. This, however, the department is handling with vigor, and sufficient men have been sent to instruct the ranchers how best to fight it and keep it under control by winter treatment. The growers as a whole are awake to the necessity of carrying out these instructions.

We are quoting:

Another and most useful unit has been added to the fleet of the Okanagan Lake Boat Company, bringing the number of craft this company owns up to four. This launch will be used almost entirely for the accommodation of private parties on pleasure or business excursions.

The present activities of the government road crew in Summerland include much work on the Peach Orchard shore road. The sand hill near the home of G. N. Gartrell is being graded down, and the road at that point will be widened considerably. Telephone poles were removed across the road from the shore side to allow for the widening. This road will be put in excellent condition for the heavy haul of fruit that will soon be taken over it.

Dr. McFarland was impressed by the argument in "Why They Fall," and he considers its message an important one.—Santa Monica Outlook.

The Summerland young people have been distinguishing themselves lately in the world of art. In the Canadian Home Journal junior drawing competition James Marshall of Summerland led one month, Russell Munn another and Blanchard Munn the other four months of the half year. W.C.T.U. MEETING.

The W.C.T.U. meeting in the Methodist Church on Monday evening proved both pleasant and profitable. The devotional exercises were led by Rev. C. H. Daly, after which Miss Brown sang "Abide With Me."

Miss Dale read a paper on "The Economic Waste of the Liquor Traffic" which was written by Mrs. D. J. Welsh of Kelowna, for the W.C.T.U. convention held in Vernon in April, and loaned to us for the occasion. The paper dealt with the matter very fully and gave figures from the government blue books. It contained a statement to the effect that the Hon. Geo. E. Foster and the Hon. G. W. Ross both estimated that one-tenth of the producing power of the country is destroyed by intemperance.

Following the paper, Mrs. Robins sang "Nobody Knows But Mother." Miss McLeod presided at the organ.

Mr. Lee then gave an address which was very much to the point and highly appreciated. At the outset he referred to the significant fact that at the recent Methodist conference of this province, a resolution in favor of granting the franchise to women, was passed without a dissentient vote. The actual working of the franchise in the hands of women in New Zealand where the women have had votes for twenty years, and in other places, is demonstrating to the world at large, that the ballot for women, tends to strengthen the forces of Christian citizenship, and makes for the overthrow of evil.

The next regular meeting of the union will be held in the West Summerland Baptist Church on the first Monday in September.

Mr. Jack Conway left Monday morning for Vancouver.

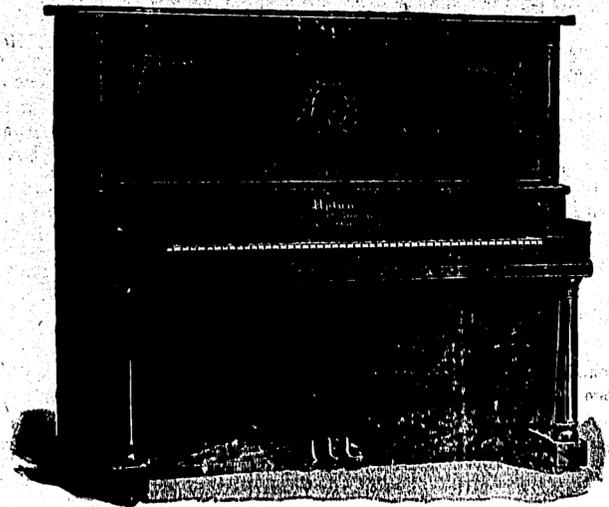

Notice is directed to the advertisement in this paper of Mr. J. M. Sutherland's house to let.

Presbyterian services will be held in St. Andrews Church next Sunday morning and evening. A song service will be conducted from 6.50 to 7 o'clock. All are cordially invited.

The British Apple Market of 1912-13

A Review by W. Dennis & Sons, Ltd., Covent Garden Market, London.

THERE have been so many reviews on the fruit business between the United States and the United Kingdom for the season of 1912-1913, that the issue of one more perhaps will not matter. We attempt therefore to give you briefly our views on the situation during the past season, in the light of our experience, and incidentally refer to certain new features which have arisen.

The opinion seems to be generally expressed that the season has been an unsatisfactory one for shippers generally, and particularly for shippers of Western box fruit. Many and various reasons are being continually advanced to explain away the results which have come about, and it may be interesting to our clients therefore, if we put upon record our opinion as to the main causes which have operated in producing these results.

There have been put upon European markets during the past season a far greater quantity of box fruit of every description than ever before. The quantities marketed here have been such as to make it impossible, in any event, for the old prices to have been maintained; because in order to get the increased quantities into consumption, a popular demand has had to be created, and this was only possible of creation by selling the goods at popular prices. By popular prices, however, we do not mean, nor do we wish to be thought to infer, that there was any necessity during the past season to sell at disastrously low prices. It behoves us therefore to examine the real cause of prices at which the fruit has been sold having been considerably lower than the necessities of the situation demanded, even with the largely increased quantities. A careful survey of the situation, must, we think, show without doubt that these low prices were not only—as we have outlined above—not a true index of the situation but that they were caused wholly and solely by competition to secure buyers by more than one seller handling the same fruit, in many cases the fruit of the same orchard, but in any event the fruit of the same district. Shippers have been experimenting in the direction of taking their goods out of the hands of the selling firms who had previously been handling them, where the goods had previously been concentrated, and where the buyers had perforce to go and compete amongst themselves for the goods in order to get them, which experiment has not been successful. Nor could the experiment be calculated to be successful, because the experience of everybody in the fruit trade is, that in order to obtain the best price for fruit, there must be competition to get hold of it. This is the experience of the fruit trade everywhere, and the English markets are no exception, but during the past season we have seen many fresh firms receiving Western box fruit and handling it on the basis of private sales. All these firms have been in the field running after the same lot of buyers, pushing down prices against each other, competing in fact to effect a sale. How different this position is from the position which used to obtain, when the goods were concentrated in one spot, and this very same lot of buyers found that they had to go to this spot in order to obtain the goods, at the holder's prices, can be readily seen! And herein lies, in our opinion, the greatest reason for the prices which have existed having been so much lower than had been anticipated, and even much lower than the real situation necessitated. American shippers have now learnt their lesson, and will, we trust, follow the example of the Australian and Tasmanian shippers, who, profiting by their own experience in the last two or three years, together with the experience of the American shipper, which has passed under their notice during the season just-ended, have reverted to the old order of things, that is, sale by open competition in public auction, as being the best means of sustaining prices, together with rapid distribution.

We would just like to say here lest it might be held that the views above expressed were prejudiced views, that we have equal facilities in our private sale warehouses for the disposal of Western box fruit privately, as we have for the disposal of it publicly, in the auction sale room. The latter method is preferred by us solely because, in our experience, it gives better results to our friends who ship to us. Should, however, any of these friends desire consignments to be sold through our private warehouses, that can, and shall always be done.

Suffragist Wears Trousers, And They Look Good Too.

New York, July 10. — They're here at last. Father Knickerbocker will rub his eyes this morning when he observes one of his prettiest young suffragists walking to campaign headquarters in trousers.

Mrs. John Boldt, who was called the mascot of General Jones' suffrage army on its 250 mile hike to the inauguration last February, has designed several pairs of trouser costumes, and will wear them hereafter.

At her apartments in the Hotel Marcellus yesterday, Mrs. Boldt criticized the women who are always talking about dress reform, she said, but lacked the courage to wear the "sensible clothing they advocated."

"What we need to break the shackles and free these slaves to fashion is a leader," remarked Mrs. Boldt, as she sat in a big easy chair attired in her corsetless, trouserette costume. It was made of sunburnt colored silk, caught in at the ankles with a band of gold and blue embroidery. The high waist, in Empire effect, was finished with a girdle of the same embroidery. "The trouble with us is that we are many years behind the time in dress. The women of the East are far more progressive than us in dress. The majority of women in the world to-day wear trousers, the women of India, Turkey, China, Japan and even the peasant women of many European countries. Trousers of the style I wear, with draperies for evening of soft materials, giving an artistic Grecian line, are far more modest than the silk skirts you see on Broadway, with the limbs exposed to the knees, or transparent underclothing."

Job Department

London's Street Traders.

Sunday Morning Impressions of a Noted Thoroughfare.

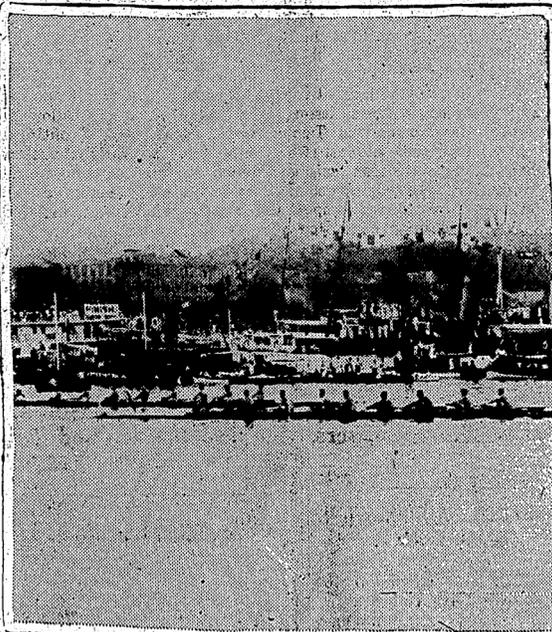

By Mr. J. O. ROBINSON.

This great city of London, especially for one who has been brought up in a new and thinly populated country like Canada, contains sights and places that are absorbingly interesting in character. One could quite easily reside here and live the life of the Londoner for years and not begin to see or understand everything outside of a knowledge of the streets or general directions from the point at which you might alight from an omnibus or taxi-cab. As a matter of fact, from what I can find out from talking to old residents, the tourist who, in his short stay, makes a business of seeing the best known places has seen more of them than they have, it not being an uncommon thing to many who have lived their whole lives here that their knowledge of such places like the Tower of London have been gleaned from books only. Such a place as Petticoat Lane on Sunday morning, although attracting many sight-seers, is passed by many more tourists who spend their time rushing from one cathedral to another. To me it holds an interest which is lacking in the average building because it affords an opportunity of seeing life as it is lived in the poorer districts of the East End.

It is a long narrow street in the Whitechapel neighborhood where the Jews do their trading and selling on Sunday morning. Some years ago a trip through it was more in the nature of an event than an incident in one's travels, because you would perhaps have your watch stolen at one end of the street and sold to you at the other. The chances of such a thing happening now have greatly diminished, for it is now well policed.

Last Sunday a party of us made the trip there by underground train which runs to East Ham. In walking about two blocks after disembarking from the train we came to the head of Petticoat Lane. It is a long, narrow street, bordered on each side by ancient, unkempt buildings and in a poor and dirty district. The street itself was literally crammed with vendors and their wares and vendees. All of the former that we could see, both by appearance and manners, were Jews, while their customers were of perhaps every nationality under the sun. We started up the street in the midst of the jam hanging on to each other and our valuables. The first man we saw was standing beside a large vessel containing beer, and with a not too musical voice was strenuously shouting forth the virtues of such a beverage on a hot day and around him stood a gang of men taking turns sampling his brand and evidently taking his word for it that it was all right. We, however, thought differently about it and moved on. Close to the edge of the kerb were two wheeled carts and packing boxes of all sizes and shapes loaded down with every conceivable kind of goods. As a matter of fact it seemed that everything was for sale with the exception of pianos and real estate.

AMERICAN CHAMPIONS OF ROWING SEE THE VICTORS CROSS LINE HALF BOAT LENGTH AHEAD OF THEM.

Remarkable picture showing the finish of the most sensational varsity eight race in the history of rowing. Syracuse nosing out Cornell for the 1913 intercollegiate rowing title at the Poughkeepsie regatta. The Syracuse crew finished approximately half a boat's length in front of the hardy Cornell eight, thereby displacing the Ithicans as American rowing champions. The prow of the Washington State shell can be seen coming in third, only two seconds behind the Cornell boat.

It was a regular picnic to see one of these fellows get hold of a customer and talk to him. One chap selling men's suspenders caught the eye of a likely buyer just as we were passing and the way he angled for sixpence was worth a shilling to see. He spread it alluringly under his customers' nose and elaborated at length over the virtues of each part, loudly declaring that the leather alone was worth the price asked for. The victim was informed that it would cost twice as much in any of the big shops, and that if he was not satisfied he could have his money back. Another interesting sight was a street barker selling men's clothes. They wore all of the one cut yet he offered to supply a suit for every need and taste, shouting "Lounge suits, business suits, riding suits, and wedding suits!" They tried to attract attention by loud shouting and singing and those with the strongest lungs appeared to be the most successful. One fellow selling alarm clocks had a distinct advantage over the others for he kept a whole cart load all ringing at once, while his assistant spent his entire time in winding them up. It was rather a hot day, consequently those selling straw hats did a rushing business. A buyer would try on a hat and then examine himself through a small mirror kept for that purpose. Those hats with the loudest colored bands sold like hot cakes. At one stand a man who tried to look wise claimed to be an optician and had the nerve to offer to test eyes out on the street. A witty individual claimed the distinction of being the purple king and on catching sight of us as we passed by shouted, "I sold two thousand of those purses in Canada yesterday!"

A little farther along a man was enacting longing eyes on a new shiny pair of shoes. It did not take long for the vendor to catch his eye and to get into conversation with him. He soon inflated that man's interest into a desire for those shoes by dilating at length on their excellent quality and durability. Every art of the salesman was brought into play with the result that the deal was closed. The purchaser sat right down on the pavement and with some difficulty tried on the new shoes, while the big crowd of people surged around him and sometimes stepped over and on him. It did not seem to make any difference to him because he stayed right with it until the transaction was closed. A woman at the next stand caused quite a commotion in selling china in the shape of cups and saucers and plates. Physically she was unable to compete with her rivals by means of the vocal chords, but she put them all in the shade by piling the dishes on a large tray and rattling them furiously, pausing now and then to exclaim that she would sell a whole set for a shilling. Musical instruments in the nature of violins, mandolins and autoharps were elaborately displayed, while squeaky phonographs ground out all manner of records from "The Robert E. Lee" to selections from grand opera.

When we finally reached the end of the Lane, we turned around and came back along the other side of the street seeing many more interesting and amusing sights. After the trip through Petticoat Lane we went on a short tour of inspection of the district in the course of which we visited an art gallery where Irish pictures were being shown. We then got on the top of a motor bus which took us through narrow winding streets to the Bank and then to Charing Cross where we got a District train for Kew and home.

TO FINISH CHANGE TO OIL ENGINES.

Sections from Vancouver to Kamloops Will Have Oil-burning Locomotives.

Following out the policy announced early in the year the C.P.R. is starting to convert locomotives in the Vancouver-North Bend service; into oil burners. By the end of the year it is expected that all of the engines will be transformed. As each locomotive is equipped with oil burners it will be placed into commission, thus making the change a gradual development.

Oil tanks will be established at Vancouver, Coquitlam, Mission Junction and North Bend to supply the fuel for the locomotives. The work of converting will be proceeded with at once and will be done at the Vancouver shops. The question of substituting oil for coal on locomotives on the sections in British Columbia, where the system has not yet been adopted, is being considered.

Oil has been used for fuel purposes some time on the sections between Kamloops and Field and it is planned to extend the system to the other portions of the line. Engines on many of the branch lines in the province have also been using oil as fuel.

After the engines on the Cascade division have been converted and placed in commission steps will be taken to extend the plan to the section between North Bend and Kamloops, thus completing the change on the entire British Columbia division.

CORDED TRUNKS BY FREIGHT.

Railway Commission Issues Orders to Companies.

Ottawa, July 17. — Henceforth trunks may be sent by freight on Canadian railways if corded securely. This means that the public will not have to pay express charges, which have been referred to by Chairman Drayton at the Railway Commission as "enormous." An order was issued by the board after a hearing of the case that trunks be accepted as freight if securely corded.

This was done in spite of the strenuous objections of the railways that it would lead to objectionable traffic. Cheap goods would be offered for transportation as freight. Some of the immigrant's trunks now, for instance, are of cheap construction and have a piece of clothes line wrapped around them.

The reason this matter was taken up was the tremendous charges made by the express companies for taking trunks by themselves.

It was contended that such baggage was not accepted in any other classification, and it should not be accepted by Canadian railways unless the trunks were boxed, had steel bands, or were wired to prevent possible pilfering, for which the railway would be held responsible.

The present limited liability admitted was also thought too low, and more will be heard of this, while an order will go forth ordering trunks to be accepted as freight. A release of liability may be made a condition of this.

Entomological Congress.

The summer meeting of the B.C. Entomological Society is being held in Vernon to-day, July 18th and to-morrow. This is a special semi-annual meeting, in fact, the most important meeting of its kind ever held in the province, and the members of the society are anxious to make the meetings of as much interest to the fruit growers as possible. The meetings are all open to the public, and people who are interested in any phase of insect life are particularly requested to be present and bring with them specimens of any insects that they wish to have determined.

A very practical program has been prepared which covers much ground.

Following were the subjects taken up:

"Recent Experiments in Insecticides and Combination Sprays," H. F. Wilson, Asst. Professor of Entomology, Oregon Agricultural College; "Entomology from the Standpoint of a Botanist," John Davidson, F.B.S.E., Provincial Botanist; "Reducing the Cost of Pest Control," R. M. Winslow, Provincial Horticulturist; "Methods of Obtaining Insect Records in the Field," R. C. Treherne, field officer, Dom. Div. of Entomology; "Forest Insects," D. R. Andrews, District Forester, Vernon, B.C.; "Entomology as an Educational Subject," Max H. Ruhmann, Asst. Fruit Pest Inspector, Grand Forks; "The Work of the Government Entomologist," Thos. Cunningham, Prov. Inspector of Fruit Pests; "Bark Beetles in Canadian Forests," J. M. Swaine, Asst. Entomologist for Forest Insects, Dom. Div. of Entomology; "The Proposed Quarantine Regulations Against General Orchard Pests," Thos. Cunningham, Provincial Inspector of Fruit Pests; "Peach Insects," W. H. Lyne, Asst. Provincial Inspector of Fruit Pests.

To-morrow, Saturday, the following subjects will be discussed:

"Some Problems in Aphid Control," L. L. Palmer, Horticulturist, Coldstream Estate Co.; "Cutworms and Their Control," M. S. Middleton, District Horticulturist, Nelson, B.C.; "Economic Ornithology," Lionel Taylor, Kelowna, B.C.

DOMINION AID FOR B.C. FARMERS

Details of the Expenditure for Big Agricultural Grant.

The agreement between British Columbia and the Dominion Government providing for the expenditure of British Columbia's share of the appropriation under the Aid of Agriculture Act, has been signed by the Federal authorities. An order-in-council has been passed approving of the details of the agreement. The total amounts to $47,334.76.

The largest amount is $7,500, which is devoted to demonstration work in the growing of fodder roots, grain, etc. Another $7,500 is to be used towards the appointment of Provincial instructors or inspectors along the various lines of agricultural instruction and education. $5,000 is to be spent on demonstration dairy farm work and $5,000 on demonstration work in horticulture for winter short courses of two weeks duration with Farmers' Institutes throughout the Province. Another $2,500 is to be devoted to the conducting of short courses in domestic science, hygiene, sanitation, home nursing, dressmaking, cooking, etc. For cow testing work there is placed in the agreement $2,500. For school gardens, towards the cost of supplying seed, giving instruction, etc., there is to be spent $1,000. For demonstration field work there is $2,500, and $1,000 towards the holding of stock-judging competitions, while $2,500 is to be used toward the cost of preparing and printing bulletins and circulars of instruction.

The remainder of the total of $47,334.76 is to be devoted to contingencies connected with the successful carrying on of any of the above lines.

We have heard of shooting and capturing coyotes in various ways but running them down with horses was the recent novel experience of Fred Brind and two friends. Mr. Brind and his friends were out looking for horses, but failing to find them and coming across some coyotes they decided to profit thereby so they hunted them down and captured four. As there is a bounty of $1.00 each on coyotes they had the dollars as well as the fun.

Naramata Notes.

(Too late for last issue.)

Mr. Howard Rounds of Kelowna spent the week end in town.

Mr. Norman Mitchell has employment in the B.C. Hotel at Penticton.

Mrs. Jas. Hayward has been spending several days with her daughter in Kelowna.

Miss Etta Johnson of Toronto, Ont., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Fred. F. Young, and intends to remain here during the summer.

For the past few days the Hon. Sir Walter Scott, Premier of Saskatchewan, wife and daughter, have been registered at Hotel Naramata.

The lot which has been occupied by the Grant Smith Co.'s hay barn is being cleared, and it is possible that a new building of some size will be erected there.

Dr. W. R. Robinson is now in charge of the local hospital since the departure of Dr. McArthur, who has recently returned to the hospital ranks at Mission.

On Wednesday evening Rev. W. P. Bunt met with the boys in the church basement to make arrangements for starting a company of Boy Scouts in Naramata. The boys are very enthusiastic about it, and much regret is expressed by the boys of ineligible age, that they are to be kept out. It is a good project, and we hope it may succeed.

Mr. Bert Noyes has purchased the blacksmith business in this place, and has obtained a blacksmith from Summerland to carry on the work. Mr. Noyes is soon leaving for Victoria on a business trip, and on his return will be accompanied by his wife. We are glad to hear that Mr. and Mrs. Noyes will take up residence with us for a time at least.

At the last meeting of the Unity Club further arrangements for their concert were made and August 8th was the date decided upon. In connection with the concert tea will be served gratis and several other attractions will be provided which are not gratis. Among them is a competition for bouquets of cut flowers. Two prizes will be given, one for a bouquet of mixed flowers and one for flowers of one kind. The concert will be good, and with the added interest of the booths and flower show, it is bound to be a pleasant evening, to which the fifty cents admission fee is all too low.

WESTERN CANADA IRRIGATION ASSOCIATION.

The seventh annual session of the Western Canada Irrigation Association is to be held at Lethbridge, Alberta, August 5, 6 and 7 next, and the program as outlined in the official call, which has been sent out by the secretary, assures a most successful meeting and warrants a very large attendance of farmers.

The plans outlined are for three days' discussion of the important questions that arise bearing on farming under the irrigation ditch, and experts, not only in irrigation, but in mixed farming and alfalfa production, and students of modern farming in all its branches are to be present to participate in the discussions. Every farmer in Western Canada is especially invited to attend, and all associations having to do with farming in any way are urged to send delegates. Every farmer is invited without credentials, and all discussions will be open to farmers.

A list of delegates appointed by boards of trade, agricultural societies and other organizations should be sent at once to Norman S. Rankin, Secretary, box 1817, Calgary, and all resolutions that it is intended to present before the Convention, should reach him before July 25th.

Farmers attending are reminded that they should ask for a standard certificate in purchasing a one way ticket, and when they arrive in Lethbridge have the secretary validate it in order to get the return fare at a low rate.

"I consider it very remarkable, madame, that your husband lived as long as he did." "Yes, sir; but, you see, we lived away out there in the wilderness, where we couldn't get to a doctor."

Butter will keep sweet much longer in a crock jar with a tight-fitting cover than in any other way.
