Anniversary of Scotland's Great Poet Duly Marked

"Burns Nicht" Concert and Dance Is Complete Success.

Scotch strain predominated in the audience that filled Empire Hall on Monday evening, this week, at the "Burns Concert," but there was enjoyment alike for those who cannot claim any ancestral connection with the land of the heather, as well as the more fortunate ones who can. The local branch of the St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society has done a great deal in catering to the social needs of the community, and signal success always seems to attend their efforts. The concert on Monday night was no exception to this—on the contrary—it adds to the society's reputation. The 156th anniversary of the birth of Robert Burns was given fitting observance, and another 25th of January come and gone has shown that the memory of the poet lives immortal in the hearts of his countrymen, even this distance away from the Auld Land.

When the curtain rose shortly after eight o'clock, there were a number of empty seats, but these filled during the first few minutes, till there were scarcely any empty spaces to be seen, with the exception of a few at the rear of the hall.

The sound of the pibroch in the first number on the program must have brought back memories of the homeland to not a few of Scotland's sons. It is seldom the skirl of the bagpipes is heard from the concert platform, but the innovation certainly pleased, for enthusiastic encores recalled Mr. D. Donaldson after each of his appearances. Only one thing was lacking—the kilts—and the stirring effect of his martial music would have been complete.

Mr. John G. Robertson, as president of the society, was acting as chairman, and in that capacity delivered an address welcoming the people who had come to do honor to the memory of a poet, who although essentially the poet of one nation, was yet beloved through all the world. Mr. Robertson's designation of Burns as "the king of lyric verse and the poet of humanity" seemed very happy, and the few quotations he made from the poet's works upheld his assertion. He dwelt upon the diversity of Burns' work, finding verses for every mood, and through them all was the same rigid observance of truthfulness. Burns was a poet born, and he had his place beside the greatest, notwithstanding the carping of a few critics who picked flaws in the man's life, and so attempted to discount his verse.

The lady vocalists figuring on the program were Mrs. G. M. Ross and Mrs. J. D. Wood. The former was heard to splendid advantage in "My Ain Folk," and again in her encore, when she sang a sweet little ballad, "Mary." All that has ever been said in commendation of Mrs. Ross' singing may be repeated for this occasion, for she certainly made not the least notable of her many local appearances. Mrs. Wood's selection was the immortal Burns' song "Ye Banks and Braes of Bonnie Doon." She sang it very softly and sweetly, and in a manner which made a strong appeal. A third lady singer, Mrs. J. W. Clark, was prevented from putting in an appearance owing to indisposition.

Rev. D. E. Hatt as an elocutionist is an entertainment by himself. His talent is very widely known locally, and just as widely appreciated. He never disappoints his hearers, though they always expect a great deal of him. His four selections on Monday were of that richly humorous variety that invariably moves his audience to something much beyond a smile. He drew mainly from the works of Drummond, but gave at least one selection that one could make a show guess was of his own authorship—and it was not to be reckoned the least among his pieces of the evening.

Mr. G. D. Fisher brought the house down with his Scotch character songs, and he was not to be perturbed by such little incidents as scenery falling behind his back. His host was the great Lauder song, "I Love a Lassie," in which

Large Social at Hotel Summerland

Among the many gatherings of similar social nature that have been held in the community this winter, the occasion of the second Hotel Summerland social evening must take a place among the most enjoyable. Last Tuesday evening, January 26th, was the date appointed, and of the one hundred and twenty guests whom Mr. and Mrs. Frank Marshall had invited, fully one hundred registered their names.

About 8.30 the evening's festivities were entered upon, these consisting of cards and dancing, which were carried on with some intermission till about 2.30. The ladies' parlor had been set out with card tables, and dancing held sway in the dining room, where in addition to the splendid condition of the polished floor, profuse decorations of red, white and blue bunting, holly and flowers made the room especially attractive for its purpose. Music was provided for the dances during the evening by Miss Limmer, Baron de Thoren and Mr. J. A. Kirk. In the billiard room, carpeted and similarly decorated, supper was served, the refreshments being placed on two of the billiard tables. For those who desired to sit out dances, various "cosy corners" had been arranged upstairs, and these met with evident appreciation from the guests. A blazing fire on the big open hearth also made the rotunda a most cheery room much in request. The whole building was pleasantly heated, and brilliantly lighted, and the scene was gay and animated from the mingling of the evening dresses worn by many of the ladies, and the evening attire affected by most of the gentlemen.

Just prior to the interval, Mr. R. H. English, in unavoidable absence of Mr. E. B. May, Honorary Treasurer of the Hospital Society, addressed a few words to the company, and drew the winning number for the patriotic cushion worked by Mrs. Marshall, and presented by her for the benefit of the Hospital. This fell to Mr. H. Everett, the winning number proving to be 13. A cheque for $13 was handed by Mr. Marshall to Mr. J. A. Kirk, who responded on behalf of the Hospital.

Supper was then partaken of, during which Mr. Fosbery addressed a few remarks to the guest, thanking Mr. and Mrs. Marshall for their hospitality, and all joined heartily in wishing Mr. Marshall many happy returns of the day, singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows." Mr. Marshall replied suitably, giving them a hearty welcome. He then handed to Mrs. R. H. English, whose birthday it also was, a silver cake knife, with which to cut the birthday cake, which she did.

OKANAGAN BONSPIEL NEXT WEEK

The Secretary of the Summerland Curling Club is in receipt of a telegram from J. D. Burnyeat, Secretary of the Vernon Curling Club to the effect that the annual Okanagan Bonspiel opens at Vernon on Monday, February 1st, at 2 p.m. Six sheets of ice will be available, and there will be seven competitions. The wire urgently requested some representation from Summerland, but it is not certain whether any curlers from this point will go up to participate. Devotees of the "roarin' game" have not organized this winter, and if any rink is made up from Summerland it will necessarily be handicapped by lack of practice.

his happy manner and his little walks with the "cane" did not detract the great comedian who has given such fame to that song, Mr. Alex. Smith's selection was another old Burns' favorite, "Afton Water," while Mr. J. O. Smith gave "When the Kye Comes Home." Both these vocalists are well-known enough to allow a good deal of praise to be taken for granted. They are favorites with Summerland audiences, and the Scotch folk on Monday were not stinting with their approval.

Instrumental music was provided by Mr. O. Atkins whose violin selection was very much appreciated—the more so because he is not often heard—and Mr. John Smith, of Kel-

Kettle Valley Trains Running By End Of May.

Schedule To Fit In With C.P.R.'s Summer Time Table. Looks Like Transfer For Present At Spencer's Bridge.

Dennite announcement has been made by Supt. F. W. Peters of the C.P.R., that the completed portions of the Kettle Valley Railway would be placed in operation when the company put into effect its new summer tables at the end of May.

Hope Mountain Line Ready By Fall.

May Run Fruit Specials If Business Warrants.

The new service will be a great boon to the fruit growers, as express shipments will get to Vancouver the same day. Mr. Peters said, in response to an enquiry as to whether "fruit specials" would be operated, that if the business warranted, the company might afford such facilities.

The new route from Summerland to Spencer's Bridge will effect a reduction of 90 miles over the present route via Sicamous Junction. When the Hope Mountain section of the K. V. R. is in operation the present distance between the Coast and the Okanagan will be cut almost in two. It is 450 miles to Vancouver from Summerland by way of Sicamous, and 250 miles by the new direct route.

The opinion was expressed by Mr. Peters that the Hope Mountain section of the Kettle Valley line would be ready for traffic late in the coming autumn. Grading has all been completed on that portion of the route, and bridge building and track laying will be vigorously prosecuted early this spring.

The Wests and the College clashed last Friday evening in the upper gymnasium, in two games. Though the College made away with the intermediate game by a very respectable margin, they lost out in the senior.

The West intermediates seemed to put on a strong lineup, the more so to all appearances from the presence of C. Stewart as one of their forwards. But by one of the vagaries of basketball, the College boys had the game all the time, and the final score of 28-5 tells the story as well as it could be written. The teams faced each other:

In the senior game West Summerland got the game from the presence on their team at centre of that basketball trojan, Fred Baker. Although he has been out of the game for a while, he appears to have lost but little of his old time prowess, and the way he jumped right back into his old game was good to see. Neither Morelock nor McLeod at centre for the College could get the advantage of Baker. The game was fine to watch, speed and combination appearing on both sides. The Wests got ahead with the scoring from the start, and at the half were on the head end of 12 points to 10. About ten minutes along came McLeod on for Cochran, going to his old place at centre, Morelock going forward. There was less scoring in the second half, and the final score showed 18-15 for the Wests. The feature of this half especially was the work of Baker, playing fairly well back, and feeding his forwards constantly with fast passes right up the long floor. Cliff McWilliams reformed both those games. The senior lineup was:

Naramata Visits Summerland.

The first game between a local team and outsiders, was played on Tuesday night when a squad of Naramata players came over and faced a Town five in the Men's Club. The visitors made an excellent impression, and nearly got away with the game. J. M. Schreck, at centre for Naramata is an old hand at the game, and though naturally a little out of practice, proved a stalwart for his side. His reach gave him the advantage at every face-off, and he figured prominently in the scoring as well as in the Naramata combination. F. Hayward was indefatigable for the visitors against the boys he usually plays with, and shared the chief scoring honors with Schreck. The interval saw Summerland leading by a score of 15-10, though it never seemed that they had shown any great superiority. In the second half Naramata scored more heavily than the local boys, who did not seem able to get their customary fast concerted work going, due perhaps to energetic watchfulness on the part of the husky Naramata guards. At one time towards the close the Naramata boys tied up the score, but a big effort from the Town put them in the lead again. The final whistle blow from Referee Roscoe McWilliams showed 22-19 for Summerland. The two teams:

Summerland	Naramata
H. Phinney forward	G. Brock
W. Angove	F. Hayward
C. McWilliams centre	J. M. Schreck
J. Glenn guard	E. Hayward
H. Snider	H. Mitchell

There was a good crowd of spectators to look on, and there was some disappointment felt that the girls' game could not be pulled off. The Town girls were ready, but the fair Naramattans had called the game off, though it was noticed that most of their team were present as rooters for their home team.

The Town boys make a trip up to the Collego Gymnasium this evening (Friday), when they meet the teams from the building on the hill. By losing to the Wests last Friday the Collego strengthened the Town's position at the head of the league table, but if the Town lose the game to-night, the Collego will regain the honor of first place.

How The Debt Was Paid.

As told in these columns last week the ladies of the Hospital Auxiliary were requested to earn "talent" money, and were given two months in which to accumulate a sum to be applied to the Hospital Building Fund. How very successful the plans; of how enough was made to clear off the balance due on the building has been told. Here a few of the members tell in verse how they each made their "talent" money. These are only a few representative specimens of the verses read at the last meeting of the Auxiliary.

The talents that bloom in this town, tra, la!
Breathe the promise of very good times.
As we merrily dance and we bake, tra, la,
And cushions and marmalades make, tra, la,
Cakes, bridge parties, candies and rhymes.
And that's what they mean when they suddenly say,
"How much have you made for your talent today?"
How much have you made,
How much have you made,
How much have you made for your talent today?

With apologies, Gilbert and Sullivan.

TALENTS.

It's not an easy thing to do
To make one dollar into two,
But when it comes to making ten,
Why, sure, that takes some making then.

You ladies all would like to know
Just how I made my money grow;
So listen now and you'll confess
That I worked hard with some success.

Warned by the Scriptures, I did not
Just hide my talent in the lot.
Oh, no! I took my dollar down,
And visited the stores in town.

At Mr. Vaughan's, grapefruit I sought,
Lemons and sugar, too, I bought;
Then cut the fruit, and soaked it well
In water, so that it would swell.

And then I put it on to boil,
And stirred it, that it should not spoil;
The sugar then was measured out,
And stirred and boiled and stirred about.

At last the marmalade was done,
And then indeed began the fun—
To get the ladies all to buy,
And yet they did—I'll tell you why.
My marmalade was all the go,
The people liked it ever so.
And when they tasted it, they came
And asked for more, made just the same.

And so I sold tin after tin,
(The orders still come rolling in.)
This marmalade is all the style!
And that is how I made my pile.

THE TEN TALENTS.

Oh, how shall I make the money?
What can I do?
It is really far from funny!
For me and you.
To turn one dollar into ten
In two months' time;
Then to relate how, with the pen
In simple rhyme!

I think I'll invite a party
Of twenty-eight;
And give them a welcome hearty
Not to come late!
Each one shall pay an entrance fee,
Cents twenty-five,
To play at bridge—a prize there'll be
For which to strive.

They came and played—though all
Too soon
Gone was the day,
But homeward bound, the kindly moon
Did light their way.

Then, to count up the money made
I quick did flee!—
Seven dollars on the table laid,
Were facing me!
Seven dollars made, but three more
Still
To make up ten,
So now to work, and cook with skill,
To tempt the men.

Fruit cakes I'll make, for which I'll charge
Fifty cents each;
A nice rich cake—substantial, large
—In fact a peach!

Prevent Dumping Of American Fruit

Premier Suggests Co-operation of Eastern Growers In Move On Ottawa.

Victoria. — Advocating a fair measure of protection for the fruit growing industry, Sir Richard McBride in addressing the annual convention of the British Columbia Fruit Growers Association, advised a carefully prepared presentation of their case to the Dominion Government, with whom, rather than with the province, lay the power to remedy the evils of the present situation. The practice of fruit growers in adjacent states of shipping unsaleable surplus to British Columbia and the Western provinces of Canada to be sold for what it would bring, amounted to nothing more or less than dumping. This was virtually ruining the prospects of the fruit industry, in which all were so deeply concerned.

The Premier further advised that the case of the British Columbia fruit growers be presented to the fruit growers of Eastern Canada, and that they were bound to support the demand for adequate protection. He assumed that nothing more than fair conditions were desired, and the result would not only be that the fruit industry would have a chance to exist and flourish, but that the Western provinces would be able to buy home grown fruit, and buy it as cheaply as they now buy the imported article.

He would be the last, he said, to say or do anything in the present emergency to disturb the friendly relations existing between the Empire and United States, but in such a matter as this our first duty was one of self-protection, and the remedying of the present condition was a vital necessity to the preservation of the fruit industry.

Sir Richard wished the association every success in its efforts to improve the industry in the important matter of co-operative marketing of its products.

President W. Crawley Ricardo, in welcoming the delegates to the convention, and presenting his annual address, dwelt upon the present situation of the fruit industry; the co-operative marketing of the crop which had been an important issue during the year would be more so in handling the 1915 crop, and he urged greater efforts than ever to improve the system and to support the co-operative selling agencies loyally. A second point of the president's address was the effort needed to secure sufficient protection to put the industry on a firm basis, and a third point was the bringing down of the cost of production, so that they would better be able to compete.

Air-craft In The Okanagan.

Excitement was rife locally, in fact all through the Valley, on Wednesday morning, when word came by telephone that two aeroplanes had been sighted the previous evening in the vicinity of Peachland. In Summerland the news was received by some with incredulity, but there were others who seemed inclined to take it seriously.

Mr. D. Gellatly of Gellatly, apparently had a good view of the two mysterious air craft, which he says were first noticed flying very high, about an hour after dark, on Tuesday night. They were using their searchlights, and it was these flashes that first led to the detection of the presence of the aeroplanes. Mr. Gellatly states that they descended at one time to within two or three hundred feet of the lake, and then again soared high, making off over the hills towards the north-west. The lights were also said to have been visible in Peachland.

No confirmation of the story can be gleaned from any other points over which the aeroplanes might have passed, either in their earlier or later stages of their journey. It seems a likely supposition, however, that had they been hostile aircraft, their presence would have been detected at some point during the day. Aeroplanes, after all, have not an unlimited range of action, and in mountainous country of this nature they would be compelled to come to ground comparatively frequently.

SOME GOOD ADVICE.

DON'T OVERLOOK the good services frequently rendered by your local newspaper. It may not be just as brilliant a literary effort as you would desire, but it serves the purpose, and does it to the best of its ability. Anyone reading your local paper in, say, a distant public library, looks at the advertisements to get an idea of the businesses in existence and their style. If your advertisement does not appear you are not in existence to the outside world. So, use the advertising pages of your local newspaper for bona-fide advertising, but don't sink to the level of the Cheap John, either by economizing on the space used or allowing unseasonable ads to appear week after week, or with a blare and flare of trumpets heralding something cut scandalously low that the public doubt both your sanity and the quality of your goods.—B.C. Pharmaceutical Record.

IT is a mistake to think that men capable of running a large business, like a co-operative fruit growers' association, successfully are plentiful. They are scarce. It is a mistake to underpay them. They should be given a remuneration that satisfies them, and their work will be better. If their work is not satisfactory they should be dismissed, but if it is satisfactory there should be no haggling over remuneration.—D. Johnson, Canadian Fruit Commissioner.

CHECKER MATCH.

That good old game of checkers—known as draughts on the other side of the Atlantic—is going to take a share in the occupations for these winter evenings. It seems that certain players in the west business section have been practising up, playing games in the lunch hour, and now a team of five players have challenged the Town men to meet their skill. The contest will be played off next Friday evening at Hotel Summerland. Men who are willing to uphold the honors for the Town have been busy playing games to decide their relative prowess, and the final team of five may be depended upon to give West Summerland some close matches.

The Summerland Lumber Company is just now centreing its efforts on getting out logs for next season's cut. Besides employing a logging crew of their own, they are buying logs from nearby ranchers. One of these, Mr S. R. Darke, expects to deliver over half a million feet at the mill.

B.C. PORTLAND CEMENT COMPY.

Notice is given of a special meeting of the shareholders of the B.C. Portland Cement Co. of East Princeton for the purpose of winding up its affairs, to be held in the Davis Chambers, Vancouver, on Saturday, January 30th. All shareholders are invited to be present. Quite a number of poor people and workmen in Princeton have money invested in this company.—Star, Princeton.

Mr O. Villiers is another from Summerland now serving with the colors for the Empire in Europe. He has a commission in the Royal Naval Reserve, and is now probably stationed at Dunkirk, France, with his men.

Rev S. Everton, Principal of Okanagan College, is leaving tomorrow morning, Saturday, for Brandon, Man., where he will attend the sessions of the annual convention of the Baptist Union of Western Canada, which is meeting this year in that city. He will be absent for about ten days.

Review Want and Sale ads. give Good Results.

Mr and Mrs J. C. Findlay came up from Kaleden at the first of the week, and have been visiting since at "Parkdale," the home of their daughter, Mrs Jas. Ritchie.

A distinctly original idea in the mind of Mrs E. B. B. Reesor has taken definite shape in the announcement on the Naramata page of the inauguration of "The British Columbia School for Writers." The courses which Mrs Reesor has laid out for her scholars are those which her long journalistic experience has dictated as the most practical, not only for those who may be looking to journalism in some of its many phases, for a future profession, but for all who desire to gain a command of the English language, either in speech or writing. The idea of the school seems to commend itself to a good many across the lake, and we wish the commendable enterprise all success.

The erection of a parish hall is contemplated in connection with St Stephen's Church on the east end of the church property. Mr Bert Harvey is the architect, and the building operations will probably be commenced forthwith. The hall will fill a long felt want in providing a suitable place of meeting for denominational and semi-secular bodies.

The annual meeting of the Summerland Pure Bred Stock Association took place on Tuesday evening this week in C. N. Borton's store. The excellent financial standing of the association was shown in the balance now on hand of $88.75. Other important business up during the evening was the election of officers, which resulted in those holding office last year being re-elected, so that Dr R. C. Lipsett remains president, and H. Bristow, Secretary-Treasurer.

ARTICLES OF AGREEMENT

made in duplicate the 18th day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

Between THE CORPORATION OF THE DISTRICT OF SUMMERLAND, in the Province of British Columbia, hereinafter called the Municipality

OF THE FIRST PART,

And THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE OF THE DOMINION OF CANADA, hereinafter called the Department, OF THE SECOND PART,

WHEREAS the Municipality is possessed of a waterworks system, through which it has agreed to convey to the Department water for the price and subject to the terms and conditions hereinafter mentioned;

NOW THIS AGREEMENT WITNESSETH that, in consideration of the premises of the parties hereto covenant and agree each with the other as follows:—

1. The Municipality shall, from the fifteenth day of April to the fifteenth day of September in each and every year, during the currency of this Agreement, convey water through its water system to the north-west corner of Block twenty-seven (27), District Lot four hundred and forty-one (441), in the said Municipality of Summerland, from whence the Department may take same through its own pipes or flumes to their lands, two hundred acres more or less, in sufficient quantities to enable the Department to take, from time to time, during each weekday, and as when required, in the aggregate not exceeding 60,000 cubic feet of water per day.

2. The Municipality shall, at all times during the currency of hereof keep and maintain the said water system in a good state of repair, so that the said quantities of water may be delivered, or such quantities, more or less, as the record or license of the Department shall furnish, and it is expressly agreed and understood by the Department that if, on account of drought, storms, washouts, breaks, disasters, or any other cause, over which the Municipality has no control, there should be a failure or deficiency of water herein agreed to be conveyed to the Department, the Municipality shall not be liable or accountable to the Department for such failure or deficiency, nor shall they have any claim for refund of any monies, or of the annual charge hereinafter referred to, or any part thereof; it being agreed that the Municipality is only liable for any failure or deficiency caused by its own fault or neglect.

3. The Department shall forthwith pay the Municipality the sum of Ten thousand dollars for the purpose of improving and enlarging the water system of the Municipality; and storing water to the extent of one hundred acre feet in their dam at the Headwaters of Trout Creek and the Department shall also pay the sum of three hundred dollars per annum for said conveying and the maintenance of the water system, a rate of one dollar and fifty cents per acre, for two hundred acres, and each payment shall become due and payable in the month of May in each and every year during the currency of this Agreement.

4. The Municipality shall forthwith submit to the electors of the Municipality, a By-law to ratify this Agreement in the same manner as is prescribed by the Municipal Act for obtaining their consent to by-laws authorizing the borrowing of monies not repayable within the municipal year.

6. This Agreement shall remain and be in full force up to the date of the termination of the present water rights and water records appurtenant to the said lands and the charge herein mentioned is paid by the Users on the dates mentioned, annually.

THIS AGREEMENT shall be binding upon and enure to the benefit of as well the parties hereto as their successors and assigns.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF the Municipality has caused these presents to be signed by the hands of its Reeve and Clerk and its corporate seal to be affixed hereto and the Department has caused these presents to be signed and sealed by its acting Minister, and its common seal to be affixed hereto.

NARAMATA SCOUT DOINGS.

Last week's schedule was as follows: Tuesday and Thursday evenings, rehearsal for concert; Saturday afternoon at 2.30 p.m., sixteen of the boys met at the local headquarters, and after a half hour of drill in the gymnasium marched up to the baseball grounds for some outside work. Here a pleasant and beneficial time was spent by the Scouts under the direction of the Scoutmaster in going through various manoeuvres and scouting work. After they had been dismissed at the ball grounds the boys lined up on their own initiative, and, under the direction of the patrol leaders, paraded back to, and around town, ending up at the scout hall. The parade was certainly unique in its formation, for the troop marched in a single long line, with fourteen paces between each boy, and when the first boy reached the hall and looked back out of the windows, the last one was just turning the corner a block distant.

A new custom that has been started here is that of having the orders for the following week posted up in the club rooms every Monday. This plan enables the Scouts to arrange their time accordingly.

Persistent endeavors are being made to have the Pentiction troop, which at present is defunct, reorganized and brought into active service again. A letter from Scoutmaster Pitman of Naramata appeared in the Pentiction Herald last week, in which, after asking the editor for the support of his editorial column, he appealed to the citizens of Pentiction to take steps to resuscitate the Scout movement in that town, and offered to attend a re-organization meeting for that purpose, and do all in his power to help the movement along. It is to be hoped that Pentiction will do something along that line, and help make the Scout movement a powerful influence for good in the towns on the southern part of the Okanagan Lake.

Our troop has secured for its club room a copy of the famous water-color painting by Fred Roe, R.I., entitled "The Boy Scout - The Nation's Hope."

A. SCOUT.

THE UNITY CLUB.

Mrs Hancock was the hostess at the Unity Club gathering last Friday afternoon, and on Friday, the 5th of February, Mrs James Hayward and Mrs Lyons will serve tea to the members.

Last Friday's meeting was different from those of previous afternoons in that every member was expected to take part during the entertainment hour instead of but one. Questions were in order, and many were asked—and answered; the only hesitancy reply being evidenced when a query was made "How best can I make one dollar do the work of two?"

Upon the afternoon when Mrs Hayward and Mrs Lyons entertain, Mrs Mark Manchester is going to give a practical demonstration in the preparation and serving of a savory Italian dish made from spaghetti.

The Unity Club business meetings followed by a program and tea, are held every alternate Friday. On the Thursday evening of the intervening weeks there is always a social gathering to which every resident of Naramata, and guests, are invited. Card parties, dances, musicales, and plays have been given so far, a number of members undertaking preparations for each evening, and seeing to the entertainment of the others. This Thursday an "Old Fashioned Naramata Party" with games and music, but neither dancing nor cards was given, more of which may be written next week.

Current Events - OF - Town & District

Mrs Fred Manchester gave an afternoon tea and dance for the "going out" girls on Wednesday afternoon.

The Misses Robinson and Mr J. O. Robinson are giving a dance for the young people to-morrow evening.

The first meeting of the Ladies' Aid for the year 1915 was held in the Meeting House assembly hall on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr F. F. Hanington, manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Summerland, spent Tuesday in Naramata.

Mr and Mrs Carroll Aikins spent Monday in Summerland. Mrs Somerset Aikins and her daughter, Miss May, are wintering in Montreal.

On Friday the Misses Robinson were among the Naramata guests who attended the skating party given by Summerland hostesses on the upper rink.

Dr. W. L. Robinson is as busy as he can be in the Toronto General Hospital, to the staff of which institution he was appointed almost as soon as he arrived in Toronto.

Mrs Carroll Aikins was hostess on Tuesday afternoon to the members of the Ski-ing Club, tea being served about the great stone fireplace in the living room of Reka-dome.

Mrs Russell Wells was one of the hostesses at a coffee and sandwich skating party on Wednesday evening, given for the young people, with supper served around a bonfire.

Mr H. T. Davies spent Wednesday bringing lumber down from the Big Tunnel for the purpose of building a bathroom and new kitchen on his cottage in "Outlook Orchard."

Mr and Mrs Boothe's two oldest sons, Reginald and Roy, were, some time ago, accepted for war service, and are in training, and Mr and Mrs Peter Roe's eldest boy, Russell, is serving his country, at Victoria.

A Ski-ing Club tea was an event of enjoyment for the younger element one last week-end afternoon, with Mrs Davies and her daughter, Miss Emma, as hostesses, and Mrs Pushman and Miss Gordon, to help.

Mr Alexander Noyes has found a way to make uphill ski-ing easy. With a team of horses, a sleigh, and a long rope he can manage a string of a dozen or more ski-ers, he driving and playing out the rope to, which every ski-er holds on.

Frank Hayward, son of Mr and Mrs James Hayward is another Naramatan whose name is on the list of the Third Contingent; in fact there are few young men left in town who are not ready to join the colors the moment the empire needs them.

Miss Whitworth, teacher of the senior grade of our school, entertained the eight boys of her Sunday School class at a skating party and supper on Wednesday, the supper being served at the home of Mr and Mrs D. O. Hughes, near the frozen inlet.

Mr and Mrs H. T. Davies, who recently moved to "Outlook Orchard" from apartments in "The Syndica," have had the interior of their cottage completely finished this week. Already their home has become a rendezvous for Naramatians of all ages.

Mr T. H. Boothe has again entered into active insurance business, having accepted an appointment as travelling representative for a well-known Life Company. He left town on Tuesday evening on his initial trip, but will be at home "between trips," when his Naramata interests will have his attention.

On Thursday of last week Mrs. E. P. Roe, with other members of the Baptist denomination in Naramata, attended a meeting of that church in West Summerland. Mr Bowering met the party with a sleigh upon the arrival of the ferry, and they were driven to the home of Mrs Ritchie for tea, and afterwards taken for an extended drive over the benches before the meeting.

On account of the change of date for the meeting of the Epworth League from Friday the 22nd to Monday the 25th, there was a very small attendance, and no business was transacted. Miss Dorothy and Miss Marguerite Robinson's absence in Toronto whether they have returned, to continue their school work necessitates the appointment of chairmen to fill their places on the program arranged for the year.

Mr and Mrs John Noyes entertained a large family party at dinner on Monday evening. A "Christmas-doings" letter from their son, Mr Bert Noyes—then in camp on Salisbury Plain, gives a graphic description of his visit to a fine old British county estate, where he was a holiday house guest. Mr Bert knows how to handle a gun, take aim and hit his mark better than most young men, and his tale of the shooting parties is most vivid, and makes excellent reading.

Mr John M. Schreck, formerly a renowned basket ball player of Buffalo, stepped into the game, after a twelve year absence, on Tuesday evening at Summerland. Others in the Naramata team were Messrs. Harold Mitchell, Edward and Frank Hayward, and Guy Brock. If a point was lost, a good game was played, and Naramata shouts "Three cheers for our team!" Among those who crossed the lake to watch the game were: Miss Lois Wells, Miss Adelaide Hayward, the Misses Robinson, Mr Alex. Noyes, Mr Gerald Roe and Mr J. O. Robinson.

The Literary Club will meet in the Church assembly hall next Monday evening at eight o'clock sharp. The executive committee will have a business session at 7.30 in Mr Beatty's study adjoining the hall. Those who have been asked to take part in Monday's program are Mrs James Hayward, Mrs Morsch, Mrs Lyons, Mrs Hans Saltling, Miss Gordon, Mr Frank Hayward, Mr Bruce, Mr Mackie and Mr Harry Pitman. The literary part will consist of short talks about authors with extracts from their works, each speaker to select his or her own subject. Mr Mackie and Mr Pitman will give the musical number.

A NEW PRIVATE SCHOOL.

The British Columbia School for Writers is in its formative stage in Naramata, but promises to develop into a desirable asset for the southern Okanagan. Shorthand, typewriting, general English, journalism (leading on to authorship), and advertising are the subjects mapped out. Already the classes in shorthand and English are regularly attended by enthusiastic pupils. On Monday, February 1st, time will be allotted for the use of the typewriter, and a second class in shorthand will be started. Those wishing to enrol for the study of journalism and advertising are asked to do so before the 3rd of February for the opening classes. General English includes the spelling, pronunciation and derivation of words. Their correct use in sentences, and the construction of paragraphs, leading on to essay writing. The reading and study of English writings; and drilling in mind development through observation and memory, i.e., the power to put into spoken or written words that which is seen, heard, read and imagined.

The course in Journalism includes lessons in general English, and goes on to the art of regular newspaper work, syndicate paragraphs, articles, biography and short story writing, teaching how to prepare copy and to create a market for writings. Advertising takes up both display and literary styles, and will include ideas for original designing. Another departure will be the preparing of outside manuscripts for publication.

WINTER'S PLEASURES.

A bean supper around the bonfire at the frozen inlet, and a musical skate, followed by a basket tea and hot coffee were the sports for two evenings last week. Good skating on the lake edge for six successive weeks has been made the most of by our town's people, and added to this, fine road sleighing, tobogganning, bobbing and ski-ing down the mountain slopes, has given Naramatians a further insight into the pleasures that may be offered to visitors to and future residents of the Valley. The mountains of Switzerland and other European countries have been the gathering places of lovers of out-door sports for years, guests going from this side of the Atlantic as well as from every country in Southern Europe and Northern Africa, every January to participate in the snow and ice recreations. Visitors are not welcomed in Europe this year. They are in the Okanagan!

HAS'N'T DONE IT YET.

A big eagle and two covys of ducks have given people in the Naramata side of the lake a keen interest and no little excitement this week. The big eagle hovers above, then, as it swoops, the ducks sail towards each other and dive. The eagle dives, and the ducks rise en masse and hover over the water. As the eagle soars aloft again to focus his bearings, the ducks divide and spread themselves into fan shaped battalions. Then swimming together again, dividing and turning into lines they baffle the big bird's vision until he apparently gives up the game. Like a flash the ducks assemble, and, as quickly the eagle appears overhead. Over and over again the clever play goes on, but at the time of writing the eagle has not been successful in nabbing one duck. Naramata sides, to the tiniest child, with the ducks, and woe be to the eagle should he be successful in capturing one of them.

Relishes

LIFE would be flat and colorless for both young and old without some pleasure to give it piquancy. So with food. A relish creates pleasure and appetite for your meals. It is oft-times as much of a tonic as the best prescription handed out by a physician. It is your duty as a careful housewife to get the best in relishes. Bad relishes spoil good food.

WE aim to keep the best in these as in everything else—delicious Jams and Jellies that are made with pure sugar, and keep the natural flavor of the berries. Pickles preserved in the finest malt vinegar. Sauces of the best brand—all the hundred and one delicacies that help to make your daily meals more pleasing.

If you want any Relish we have it. Come in and look over stock.

Naramata Current Events

Mrs Campbell Robinson, with her daughter Katharine Isabel, has been a guest at the "Naramata" during the week.

Mr Ray Anderson, a prominent life insurance representative of Vancouver, was a guest at the Syn-dien over last week-end.

On Wednesday of this week Mrs Cash, Mrs Lappagood, Mrs Pushman and others spent the afternoon at "The Outlook," and on Tuesday Miss Aitchison, matron of the Summerland Hospital was Mrs Davies' and Mrs Pushman's guest.

The women of Naramata feel strongly the need for a Naramata branch of the Women's Institute. Many of them are members of the Summerland Institute, but it is next to impossible to get across the lake to the meetings held there. Miss Livingstone's course in cooking appeals to every woman in town, but, so far, only two can see their way to attending them, and they are going across to Summerland to stay for the ten days.

If you want to sell you must advertise.

Remember the medal contest to be held on Monday, February 1st, at eight o'clock, in St. Andrew's Church. There will be musical selections interspersed with recitations. Come and bring your friends and enjoy a pleasant evening. A collection will be taken to defray expenses.

My task is o'er—the cakes are made, And likewise sold; I only wish I had been paid Their weight in gold. Now to the Ladies' Aid I'll take My "Talents Ten," Hoping to try again and make More, now and then.

MY TALENT MONEY.

The Hospital Board these words have said—"The debt on our building must be paid."

So to the ladies they naturally turned, With "It's up to you, it must be earned."

We were staked a dollar talent mon— Not a real dollar, but a make believe one.

With instructions to use it, our heads as well, And see how big we could make it swell.

I went in for baking some buns and cakes, They were free, I was told, of subsequent aches.

It wasn't good business for the Dr. I know, But I wanted that dollar to honestly grow.

I thought to myself that a fair recompense, Buns by the dozen were worth twenty cents.

For layer or jelly cakes, with brown or white ice, Four bits a-piece I thought a fair price.

I sold to my neighbors, the bank boys, too, Christenings and parties, and dances a few.

And some bought once and some bought again, All paid spot cash, especially the men.

I made in this way thirteen-twenty-five, And all of my customers are still alive.

The butter and egg I bought, tis true, And flour costs something and sugar, too.

I deducted three dollars and twenty-five cents, As cost of material and proper expense.

So I made ten dollars with hustle and sweat, All from one dollar, which I didn't get.

HOW ANOTHER WAS MADE.

The Hospital Board looked sad and stern; They did not know which way to turn.

For they had found to their regret, The funds were sadly lacking yet.

They talked the matter o'er and o'er, But could not find an open door

Into which to turn and find a way Where their indebtedness they could pay.

At last one said—This must be paid—Why not ask the Ladies' Aid

And assistance in our dire distress, To our help I'm sure they'd press.

So two men were sent with greeting To see the women at their meeting,

And find if they then help could get To free them from the irksome debt.

The ladies talked and looked askance When one suggested an annual dance

They all agreed with one accord That through they would assist the Board.

And let us all a dollar take And see from it what we can make,

And if we all can make a show, Tell how we made our dollar grow.

I bought some oranges and made Pints and quarts of marmalade;

I worked in all the town around, And ready sale was quickly found.

And then I made a lotion sweet— To keep the hands both white and neat.

I sold in bottles small and large, And made a modest little charge.

And then my husband with a laugh, Said, "Take that little blue-eyed calf,

Dr. T. B. Turner, dentist, will spend Monday and Tuesday of each week in Summerland. Crown, Bridge and Gold Inlay work a specialty.

The Young People's Guild of St. Andrew's Church will hold their regular monthly meeting next Wednesday. It is not improbable that it will take the form of a skating party at the Parkdale Rink.

By a deal which went through last Friday Ross Rae relinquishes the management of the Parkdale Skating Rink, and it passes to the joint hands of Messrs Douglas Stewart and Harold Hilborn.

Rev. A. Dunn, pastor of the Kelowna Presbyterian Church, is temporarily absent from his field because of ill-health. His Sunday services have been taken on several occasions by local ministers, and next Sunday Rev. C. H. Daly will occupy the pulpit of the Kelowna Church.

A TALENT FROM EARLY RISING. The alarm clicks Sharp at six, Out of bed Nightie shed, Working steady, Breakfast ready Just at seven.

"Seems like Heaven," Husband said Duly fed. "As a reward I must afford, A dollar you take

If breakfasts' not late. For mornings five More dead than alive Did I arise To earn my prize.

This is hard earned money For early rising to me's not funny.

A TEA TALENT. I was asked to make some money For the hospital, don't you see, So I finally concluded To give a "Violet Tea."

I got busy at the telephone Asked fifty people to come; While most of them responded, A few remained at home.

I gave them each a paper Containing questions twenty-nine, And from the word—"Violet" The answers they must find.

They racked their brains for half an hour, And all of them looked wise; But in spite of all endeavors Mrs Solly won the prize.

Three dainty maidens served the tea, Their faces were so bright, I carried out my color scheme In violet and white.

And now my simple ditty Is drawing to a close; I have brought to you eight dollars, Which will help to soothe your woes.

MY TALENT. The other night a dream I had— A voice which sounded low and and, Fell on the midnight air so still—"Woman!" it said, it is my will— That you should bring your talent, one, And tell the world what you have done."

"Oh, Madam President, that call, I've dreaded long to hear; My only talent is so small, Of little use, I fear.

And so, I took a clean white rag And out of it I made a bag, Within its folds my talent hid, Of losing it I was afraid—

Put in a box, closed tight the lid, And safely bore my talent hid. So now I bring it back to-day, Dreading to hear what you will say.

If I'd been given talents five, To double them, I'd surely strive; Or, even, had I talents two, Some good with them I still might do;

But only one, and that so small, Sure, 'twere no use to try at all. Now, here it is—quite dim, alas, Compared with others 'twill not pass,

No honor bright—no glory shine, No commendation shall be mine.

And now you've heard my story true, I fear 'twill make you all feel blue; But, cheer up, ladies, some time soon, We'll hope to hear a different tune.

A Tuesday evening meeting has been instituted in connection with the Lakefront Baptist Church, and is held in the basement. Although it goes under the general designation of a "Young People's meeting," the attendance is by no means confined to such. For the present, the pastor, Rev. N. McNaughton is leading the meetings, his topics being along the line of vital phases of religious belief. Questions and discussion will have their place during the meetings, which all interested are invited to attend.

A mishap occurred on the Anderson hill near the Telephone Office last Friday, that would have been much more serious had it occurred farther up the hill. H. Dunham was taking a load of wood up with his team, and trailed a block behind one of the rear wheels to rest the wagon. But on account of the icy surface the block did not hold firmly enough, and the wagon laden with cordwood, worked round before the horses could take the load again, till the rear wheels got over the bank, and the load pulled the horses over. One of the horses was found to be tangled up under the wagon. The animal was extricated and brought up to the road again, where it was found that a somewhat severe wound had been inflicted on the hip. His mate was tangled up in the harness, but was not badly hurt. This horse was rolled down the bank to the lakeshore road below. The wagon suffered considerably also, and the load of wood was dumped down the slope.

Rev. J. H. White, D.D., Superintendent of Missions of the Methodist Church, spent Thursday and Friday in Summerland. Last night Dr White gave an address on "A Summer Trip to the Yukon," illustrated by lantern views. The meeting was under the auspices of the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church. To-night Dr White will speak in the Naramata Church.

Superintendent R. H. Helmer of the Experimental Farm, reached Summerland by last night's boat, after a brief trip to Ottawa. Mrs Helmer and family joined him at Vernon, also returning home. Another evidence of the comparative mildness of the Okanagan winter comes in the statement of Mr Helmer that the temperature at Winnipeg as he passed through was thirty below zero, with indications of dropping still lower.

Enjoyable in every sense of the word was the skating party at the "Big Rink" last Friday, when Mesdames H. A. Solly, C. F. Hamilton, and F. A. C. Wright were joint hostesses to a rinkful of skaters, with weather conditions ideal. The good ice provided a great deal of varied entertainment, and it is evident that the accomplishments of a good many folk on the ice is by no means confined to simple skating. The grand march was a great feature of the afternoon's pleasure, and figure skating, waltzing and chariot races were also indulged in by some of the able skaters. Refreshments were served in the club house by the hostesses of the afternoon, and these were not any less enjoyable than the skating.

Local Foresters with their wives and friends gathered in the lodge room, Elliott's Hall, on Wednesday evening last, and passed some hours very pleasantly in social session. G. Beavis, songs; Bro. J. O. Smith, songs; Bro. O. Atkins, violin selection; Mr and Mrs Atkins, song and violin obligato. Mr John Smith was among the friends present, and besides the accompaniments, delighted his hearers with two or three pianoforte selections. It was about midnight when the gathering broke up.

"BURNS NIGHT" CONCERT.

source of pleasure to those who listen, and not less so on Monday than on any previous occasion. Most of the accompaniments of the evening were in his capable hands.

Prominent on the program was a Scotch character sketch, "A Visit to the Photographer's," in which there were some very laughable passages. The simple couple, unacquainted with the accomplishments of the pottingerdracht's art were highly amusing, and though the Scotch dialect in some parts seemed to be of the broadest, the humor was not lost on anyone. The local hit also seemed to be appreciated. The departure of the couple with their ire raised because the camera had failed to get their back view as well as their front, brought the curtain down on a very well carried out piece of amateur acting.

It was fitting that a patriotic number should conclude the program. This was an effective tableau depicting Britannia and five other girls grouped round representing her colonies offering to her the products of their lands in token of a loving allegiance. Five Boy Scouts holding up a large Union Jack made a suitable background, and as the tableau was shown, Mrs G. M. Ross sang a verse of "Rule Britannia."

Towards the close of the program Mr Robertson on behalf of the St. Andrew's Society thanked the audience for their attendance, and also the different artists who had contributed to the evening's entertainment in any way. A ready secondor for his vote of thanks was found in Mr J. C. Findlay, of Kaloden, who remarked that he had come a long way to the concert, by buggy, hay wagon, boat and cutter, but he felt he had been amply repaid.

The complete concert program was as follows:

When the floor was cleared for dancing shortly after eleven o'clock, about forty or fifty couples were in waiting, and enjoyed a good program that lasted till about two o'clock. The condition of the floor left little to be desired, and with Mr John Smith at the piano, the music was of the best. In spite of the somewhat chilly condition of the hall all the company got a great deal of pleasure from the dancing, and it was regretfully that they broke up after a final "home waltz." Messrs. T. B. Young and G. D. Fisher were acting as masters of ceremonies.

In the hall adjoining, Mr and Mrs Frank Marshall of Hotel Summerland, served excellent refreshments. They appeared to do fairly good business, and for the way in which this important detail of the evening's entertainment was looked after, no one has any word but praise. The proceeds of the concert and dance after expenses have been covered, are to be donated to the Hospital Fund. It is not possible to learn at this time what this will amount to, but at the meeting of the society on Tuesday evening next, it will probably become known.

The Wests continued their victorious career in the hockey league yesterday, when they vanquished the Town team by 12-4, at the Parkdale Rink. Playing with six men aside, the hockey was fairly good through the first two twenties, but in the third the Wests got half their score. After the first period, the Wests had the score of 2-1 in their favor, and at the end of the second the score stood 6-3. The scoring honors were pretty well divided up for the Wests, while for the College, Morelock seemed to do most of the goal getting. Dan Rutherford refereed the game. The players were:

G. Dale	goal
A. Vanderburg	point
W. Mumm

Arrangements have been completed for bringing down the Kelowna team to play the local boys next Thursday, at the Parkdale Rink. The game will commence at three o'clock, and there should be a good attendance of spectators, as the local hockey club is being put to not a little expense in bringing on this attraction. A good game is assured, for though the Kelowna boys are in fairly good shape, there is no question, but that a strong bunch can be picked from the three local teams.

Rearrangement in the interior of the main store of the Summerland Supply Company is being carried out this week. The grocery and dry goods departments have been moved into the adjoining room, and where those have been will be utilized for hardware, furniture, stores, etc.
