THE WOMEN'S INSTITUTES.

The ladies of the West Summerland Institute who have been attending the Cooking Demonstrations of Miss Bertha Livingstone, in the High School building, have formed the same high opinion of their instructress as those who took her course in the Men's Club. The classes commenced on Monday this week, and continue until next Thursday. The attendances have been extremely gratifying, starting out with 71, and reaching a high water mark at yesterday's class when 83 were present. From Trout Creek point to Upper Trout Creek the ladies have been attending, and from south of Giant's Head to Peach Orchard. Miss Livingstone's methods and lucid explanations command everyone's admiration, and stamp her work as eminently practical. She has been following out a similar course to that which she gave to the Summerland Institute during the previous two weeks.

Any person, by paying the Institute membership fee of 50 cents can take advantage of these classes. There have been enquiries as to whether bachelors may attend, and it is ascertained that there is no hindrance to their doing so, provided the 50 cents is forthcoming.

Two outstanding features of the regular meeting of the West Summerland Institute held last Friday, were a talk from Mrs J. L. Hilborn on the live subject, "How to Make a Success of Our Institute," and a proposal to branch out into a new line of work and engage in the shipping of soft fruits direct from the orchards to the consumers.

Mrs Hilborn's paper was greatly appreciated, and if her ideas were put into operation there would be little question as to the successful carrying out of Institute work. She brought out the thought that there is responsibility alike on officers and members of the Institute, and to do its work effectively, all must have the interests of the organization at heart. She also said that the scope of the Institute should be made as wide as possible.

Mrs W. C. W. Fosbery and Mrs Hilborn have been the prime movers in making the fruit shipping idea crystallize into a practical undertaking. The idea is to utilize the Institute organizations in other parts of B.C. and in the prairie provinces to establish a retail connection for some of our plentiful soft fruits. They have been in communication with Deputy Minister of Agriculture, W. E. Scott at Victoria, who has endorsed the idea, and also with Manager Robertson of the United Growers, who does not see that it will encroach at all upon the scope of the co-operative marketing organization of the Valley. Details are in a fair way to being worked out, and though there are still some arrangements to be laid out, and some difficulties to be overcome, it seems likely that something will come out of it. The development of this original enterprise will be watched with interest, as any movement

Livestock Discussed at Farmers' Inst. Meeting

Messrs S. H. Hopkins and J. L. Hilborn were the two speakers announced for the meeting last Saturday evening in the Men's Club, under the auspices of the Farmers' Institute, their respective subjects being given out under the general headings of "Livestock," and "Horticulture." Similar lectures are being delivered in different parts of the province under the direction of the Provincial Government. At the meeting on Saturday, Mr R. M. Winslow, Deputy Minister of Agriculture was an eminent listener.

Most of the evening was taken up by Mr Hopkins, who dealt very exhaustively with the livestock question. He explained what the government is doing through the Department of Agriculture for this important branch of farming, which is rapidly coming into the prominence it deserves in this province. By means of stereopticon pictures, clear illustrations were made of the different points of the dairy cow and the beef cow, and also hogs raised for bacon or lard. Mr Hopkins very strongly encouraged the mixed farming idea for this district, and in this connection recommended another phase of this work which has not yet been taken up very extensively locally, namely, keeping a few sheep on the ranches.

A good deal of time was taken up by Mr Hilborn, and the discussion following his talk, so that Mr Hilborn did not speak at any great length upon any phase of horticulture.

Quadrille Club dances are coming to be thought of synonymously with the idea of a completely happy time. The last dance under these auspices, on Thursday evening of this week, did a great deal towards the establishment of this enviable reputation. About forty or fifty couples were on the Empire Hall floor, which proved to be in good shape. The Walters orchestra dispensed music of the kind that invited dancing and made it easy, and in every way the enjoyment of the occasion was complete. Refreshments were on sale by Mr and Mrs Marshall of the Hotel Summerland during the evening.

should be that affects the vital industry of the district.

Some time was also taken up at the meeting in arranging for the details of the cooking classes due to commence the following Monday.

A good many homes have been made pretty during the last week or two by the blossoming hyacinths which members of the Summerland Institute have been growing. Some of the fragrant blossoms seem perfect specimens, and at the meeting this afternoon in the Men's Club, where the plants are to be brought in and sold, there is going to be a scene of loveliness, as the various shades of bloom mingle together. There is also to be something in the nature of a social afternoon tea, as well as more serious business.

Hot and Turbulent Session Of Municipal Fathers.

Refusal of Contractor To Comply With Demands of Municipal Clerk Made Extra Meeting Necessary.

Demands Resented By Mr. McAlpine

Dispute Finally Adjusted By His Submitting To Clause Of Contract.

It is not often that our Municipal Council meetings are enlivened by the passage of heated words or displays of temper. On Monday last a special meeting of Council was quite the exception to the rule, and being called to straighten out a deadlock, proved most contentious.

At the regular meeting of the 1914 Council held on December 10th, a second payment on progress to T. J. McAlpine was authorized, totaling about $1,300. The delay in receiving the money from Ottawa resulted in Mr McAlpine's not getting the cheque until this week, when he was notified by phone that his cheque was ready, and would be handed over upon his making a satisfactory statement showing that wages and material bills had been paid. This message was from Treasurer Logie. This statement Mr McAlpine declined to give, and demanded payment. This being refused, the matter was laid before the Reeve, who called on the Clerk for an explanation, and also saw the councillors individually. The outcome was the calling of a special meeting of the Council on Monday at 5 p.m.

Mr Logie, after explaining the situation from his point of view, and stating that he was asking for nothing more than he had asked of R. Mitchell, and other contractors read the following extract from the contract signed by Mr McAlpin, and said that in view of the fact that a number of enquiries for wages had been received at the office, he felt justified in making the request for a statement, claiming that the Municipality was legally liable for any unpaid claims against the work, and that without a declaration from the contractor with respect to these he did not care to personally assume the responsibility of turning over the cheque. These are the clauses bearing on the subject:

"Subject always to a deduction of 25 per cent. from the value of work done, which percentage may be retained by the Council till the lapse of 32 days from the full completion of the contract work as a guarantee, or provision for payment of claims for wages or materials unpaid by the Contractor and for due completion of the work.

"Further, the Treasurer of the Corporation may demand exhibit of wages bills and material bills, duly attested, and vouchers for payment of the same, before paying over the amount passed by the Council, and he may pay any wages, or bills for materials, that may be found due, as a first charge on such funds so passed by the Council, without any further or other warrant or authority, and that notwithstanding any orders or assignments that may be issued by the Contractor."

The Reeve was not in good humor, claiming that the calling of the meeting was wholly unnecessary, and that previous to it he had been forced to do a lot of driving just because of the contractor's stubbornness in refusing to comply with the terms of the contract.

Coun. Johnston also expressed himself in no uncertain tones in a reply to Mr McAlpin that there was only a small amount yet due from him, saying, "You could have saved us all a trip up here if you had told the Treasurer that only a small amount was due for wages and material."

Whereupon the Reeve declared he would not sign the cheque until the terms of the contract were complied with. The cheque was already signed, however, by the former Reeve.

Mr McAlpin evidently looked upon the demand as a personal insult, claiming that he had always paid his men, and defied anyone to challenge his reputation. He said the first cheque had been paid out without any questioning, and that the cheque now in question was authorized by the old Council, who expected it to be paid over in a few days, and no statement was asked for by them.

When further questioned he admitted that only about $200 was due on wages and some $80 for cement, and he considered the holding of the cheque as a matter of personal enmity.

Coun. Borton also termed the affair as a personal matter, and saw no reason why a man of Mr McAlpin's reputation should be so treated, and now that he had said he only owed $200 for wages, why hold him up longer?

The Treasurer expressed himself as satisfied with this, and said he would have assumed the responsibility had such a statement been forthcoming before.

At times during the discussion the flushed faces and sharp retorts of the members showed plainly the decided approval or disapproval of the individual councillors, personalities coming at times to breaking point, in fact so acute did the situation become at one time that Mr McAlpin left the room. Finally upon Mr McAlpin giving a written declaration as to the amount due for wages and material the Treasurer was instructed to hand over the cheque.

Crops and Buildings For Experimental Farm

According to Supt. R. H. Helmer, most of the newly broken land at the Experimental Farm will be seeded down to grass crops of various kinds this coming season. In caring for these cover crops a full acquaintance with the irrigation condition can be had, and the most advantageous points from which to apply the water found by actual experiment. When necessary information of this nature has been found, the land will be given over to diversified crops, as on other experimental farms.

Questioned as to what buildings will be erected on the farm, Mr Helmer said that it was probable that these would at first consist of two residences, one for the Superintendent, and the other for the foreman, and a barn for the horses and stock. Further details of these buildings will be had when Mr J. H. Grisdale, Director of the Dominion Government Experimental Farms, visits Summerland, as he is expected to do some time in March.

The Provincial Government is going to make access to the farm easier by constructing a road of seven per cent grade, diverging from the present road at the foot of the hill.

ENTERTAINMENT FOR AMBULANCE LEAGUE.

The Young People's Guild of St Andrew's Church made a great success of the entertainment carried out on Wednesday evening in the church. The popular admission of 10 cents was not begrudged by those who attended, on the contrary, those present would not have minded paying a little more for the enjoyment of the evening's program provided. The entertainment had been organized in aid of the Ambulance League Fund, and the proceeds from Wednesday's efforts realized the very creditable sum of $11.55. A skating carnival held a short time back realized about a like amount, so that the Guild now has well over $20 in hand for this worthy object.

The customary business of the regular meetings of the Guild was put through before the concert program was entered upon. Mr H. W. Treffry, president, occupied the chair during these proceedings. The program went through without a hitch of any kind, and revealed a good deal of ability among some of the young performers. Sixteen ladies, arrayed in white dresses, gave a good account of themselves as a chorus. The items were as follows: Opening Chorus, "Kentucky Home;" Recitation, Pearl Danks; Duet, "The Crooked Bowbe;" Mrs J. D. Wood and Master Frank Steuart; Reading, Miss Rothwell; Dialogue, "Mr Smith's Day;" Intermission; Dialogue, "Trapped;" Trio, "The Three Maids of Lee;" Recitation, Mrs A. H. Steven, "Amen Corner;" Chorus, "Speed Away;" Indian Club Swinging, Miss Edna McLeod; Chorus, "Hymn for Army and Navy;" Accompanist, Miss M. Lister; God Save The King.

Notes From College Hill

Last Friday evening in the Men's Club the College quintette went down to defeat at the hands of the husky Town team. The small quarters, and the rough and tumble play, were not consistent with good basketball, and the result was a bad trimming. The table will undoubtedly be turned when the teams meet at an early date in the College Gymnasium.

The same evening the Ladies' College Auxiliary held a successful Valentine Social in the gymnasium. There was an attendance of about one hundred, and this number was augmented by the two basketball teams toward the close of the program, but in time, however, for the excellent refreshments provided by the Auxiliary. The program was under the direction of Miss M. White and Mr W. M. Wright. The most interesting item was a Valentine Competition, in which great originality was displayed by many of the contestants. Miss I. Steuart and Mr C. Elsey were the winners of the first prize, and the consolation prize was awarded to Miss L. Elliot and Mr Ed. Sawyer. Mr K. Thomas and Mr H. Parkinson provided several musical items. The solo "Spring," by Miss A. Hayes was much appreciated. On behalf of those present Principal Everton spoke briefly, and thanked the ladies for the excellent help they are rendering all the time to the College work. The students immediately endorsed the remarks of Principal Everton with the College yell. The Auxiliary expects in the near future to hold another social gathering in the interest of the College.

The First Year Arts class wrote their mid-year French examination on Monday morning. The original exam. papers were lost in transit, making it necessary for McMaster University to set a special paper, which arrived safely last week.

SUMMERLAND IMPORTS RARE COMMODITY.

The sum of $17,000 came into the community at the end of last week, passing through the hands of the Municipal Treasurer, Mr J. L. Logie. Few knew of it at the time, but more of less benefit is being felt throughout the community following the distribution of cheques that had been awaiting the arrival of this money. $10,000 was from the Dominion Government on account of the Experimental Farm Water Agreement, and $7,000 proceeds from the sale of debentures in Toronto. Certainly the worries of the municipal financiers are now relaxed a little since the beginning-of-the-year difficulties are being surmounted, but there are still hard points ahead of them yet that will have to be wrestled with before the year ends.

Special Horticultural Meetings.

Prov. Dept. Officials Will Discuss Production and Market Problems.

From February 27th till March 6th, a series of meetings will be held under the auspices of the Horticultural branch of the Provincial Department of Agriculture and of the B.C. Fruit Growers' Association, at some of the principal points in the Okanagan Valley.

These meetings will be addressed by R. M. Winslow, Horticulturist, and by J. Forsyth Smith, Market Commissioner, on topics connected with the present fruit marketing situation, general competitive conditions, the reduction of the costs of production, and of distribution, the prairie market during the season of 1914, the outlook for the industry in the future, and kindred subjects of special importance to everyone interested in fruit growing. In view of the paramount importance, at the present time, of the fullest investigation and scrutiny into every feature of our present production, marketing and distribution methods, these meetings should call out a large and interested attendance, offer an opportunity for the fullest and freest discussion, and result in giving our growers a much clearer and more definite conception of the main factors of the problems before them.

The dates set for the meetings in this district are as follows: Naramata, Feb. 27, 2 p.m.; Kaleden, March 1, 2 p.m.; Penticton, March 1, 8 p.m.; Peachland, March 2, 2 p.m.; Summerland, March 2, 8 p.m.

HOSPITAL WORK IN JANUARY.

Sixteen patients received a total of one hundred and eighty-four days of treatment at the Summerland Hospital during the month of January. The earnings averaged $16.20 per day, totalling $502.20. Of this amount there was received in cash $148. At the first of February, there was outstanding in earnings the sum of $1,046.79, about $600 of this being due from the Provincial Government. It is clear from even such cursory figures as those that the institution would make good if its earnings were forthcoming with reasonable promptitude.

There is an especial need of vegetables at the Hospital just now, potatoes especially being a required requisite. There could not be a better use for any superfluous sacks that may be lying in the cellar just now than as a donation to the hospital.

SECOND CONTINGENT MOVES OFF

A short time ago the 30th battalion of the Canadian Expeditionary Force at Victoria were instructed to hold themselves in readiness to leave at short notice for some scene of activity, and ever since the Willows Camp has been on the qui vive. The expected orders came to the soldiers at the end of last week, and on Sunday last the entire battalion, numbering about 1,150 men left for a destination that is not generally known. In accordance with instructions from Ottawa nothing had been published regarding the plans made for the departure of the troops, but nevertheless the news had circulated generally in Victoria, and a big crowd watched the troops march through the streets, and embark for Vancouver. Summerland has its quota of boys in the 30th, and now that they have started out on their mission, of which no one can quite foresee the end, everyone will join in wishing them Godspeed and a safe return.

Summerland Telephone Compy.

Annual Report Shows Excellent Profits on 10 Months' Operation.

The Summerland Telephone Company Ltd., held its first annual meeting on Thursday, with a fairly representative number of shareholders present.

President Mellor in opening the meeting presented a very happy report of the business of the company for the past ten months, showing very satisfactory returns on the capital invested, besides having given subscribers a highly efficient and continuous day-and-night seven-day-a-week service. The only element of disappointment in the whole situation was the fact that quite a proportion of shares were not yet fully paid, resulting in making financial difficult for the directors. Though the earnings were excellent, and he recommended a dividend of 5 per cent for the 6 months, it would not now be practical to pay this out in cash, the money being needed to pay off bills chargeable to capital account. This was made necessary because of the fact that a number of shareholders had not paid in full for their shares. Had they done so an annual cash dividend would be certain beside putting a tidy sum into the reserve account.

The earnings from rentals for the 10 months of operation total $4,775.95, while the operating expenses were $2,324.13 for the same period, the net profit being $2,451.82, or an average of $245.18 per month on a capital of $12,000. The balance due on shares is practi-

LOCALS.

Mrs Simms, widow of the late Mr A. G. Simms, sailed from California for New Zealand on the 16th.

Mr Cox, of Miniota, Manitoba, was a visitor to Summerland this week. He has been prospecting in the Valley, and may locate here with his family.

George Higgs, boarded the "Siamous" on Thursday morning this week, bound for the prairies, where he will endeavor to get some farm employment.

Mr R. M. Winslow, Provincial Horticulturist, and S. H. Hopkins, provincial government lecturer, were in Summerland over last week-end, guests at the Felix Hotel.

Methodist Church services will be conducted in the Methodist Church on Sunday next at 10.30 a.m. and 7 p.m. by the Rev R. W. Lee. A hearty invitation is extended to all.

Mr J. R. Sutherland, a brother of Mr D. L. Sutherland of this place, is now at the fighting front with a motor battery of quick-firing guns. The battery was donated to the authorities by a group of eastern capitalists. Mr Sutherland was selected as the first driver and third gunner in the battery.

A party of five Masons came down from Peachland last night in the expectation of attending a Masonic function in connection with the local Lodge. The party consisted of Messrs G. W. and Grant Lang, A. and E. McKay and B. M. Whyte. They spent the night at the Felix, but it transpired that they had made an unfortunate miscalculation in regard to the week in which their function was to be held.

Mr Gordon Kerr, who left here a short time ago hoping to get back with his former company in the Artillery at St John, N.B., has been given a commission, and latest advice was that he was stationed on Partridge Island at the mouth of the national winter port, where a large number of the Canadian militia are guarding that channel of commerce, and keeping in trim for further possible service.

There has recently been installed at the Trout Creek home of Mr G. Thornber, by Mr O. Atkins, manager of the Telephone Co., a small electric light system for lighting the entire house. A small dynamo is driven by a gasoline engine, and connected to a storage battery. By running the dynamo for about four hours twice a week sufficient current can be had to furnish the illumination desired, and it seems that the operation of the plant is very economical indeed. Mr Atkins has the local agency for those outfits and is ready to furnish any information and quote prices.

BIG CROWD AT FARMERS' INST. MEETING.

Probably never in the history of the Farmers' Institute has there been such a turn out as at the meeting held last Monday evening in the High School building. The meeting had been announced as one at which the labor question would be discussed, and it would seem that many who earn their livelihood by, orchard work, etc., expected a general concerted effort to reduce the wage rate, and turned out in force to protest.

Farm line, community problems, and many other topics, perhaps more or less bearing on the subject, were introduced by the numerous speakers, but other than airing both sides of the labor question, which should result in a disposition to "give and take," nothing was really accomplished.

As described by the president, Mr J. L. Hilborn, it was more along the line of an educative rather than a legislative meeting. The gathering did not break up until after eleven o'clock and among those who spoke were Messrs J. L. Hilborn, R. H. Helmer, T. J. Washington, H. Molye, C. J. Thomson, G. J. C. White, H. G. Etabrook, R. V. Agur, W. M. Wright, A. McLachlan, C. W. Haddrell, P. G. Dodwell, W. J. Beattie, G. R. Hookham, E. J. Weldon, C. H. Tate and J. L. Logie.

Space will not permit our giving a resume of the many speeches, but we hope to be able at a later date to publish at least a few of them, with possibly comment thereon.

The Town seniors seem to have struck a winning streak, and their victories of the past week have deposed the College from the head of the league, and carried their own standing up. Whether this condition is to be temporary or otherwise, the next Town v. College game will determine.

The teams from the College and Town clashed last Friday evening in the Men's Club, and while by losing, the Town intermediates did not set their seniors a very bright example, the fortunes were reversed in the senior game. The College second team put up a good enough game to get ahead and keep ahead of the Town boys. It was a somewhat surprising result, to judge from previous games; but the laurels went where they were earned. The Town could not seem to settle down to good team work, due in a great measure to close checking from the College boys. The half time showed 5-3 for the visitors, and the final score was 13-6 for the Collegians. Jennings was the chief collector of field baskets for the College, with help from Bent, and K. Elliott came through with the fouls. Only two field baskets were scored for the Town by White and Angove, and two fouls completed their score. The teams were:

The senior Town and College game was one of the snappiest encounters of the season. To use a spectator's expression there was lots of "ginger" in the play. The rooters in the gallery did not have to watch long before the baskets came into use. Lavis opened for the Town, and McWilliams put in one as well before the College registered anything, their first count being a basket by Dale. The Town seemed to have the better of things at the beginning, and the scoring in the first half told the story of the game true to the play. 12-9 was the half time score in favor of Town. Lavis had put in another, McWilliams two more, and Glenn had broken into the scoring to make up the Town total, and Dale had most College points to his credit with three baskets. Cochrane also got one, and McLeod secured one point on a foul. In the second half the Town monopolized the scoring. They played a shut-out game, the College being unable to find the basket once, however near some shots did come. They were always game, though, and never let the rising score demoralize them. Their guards worked like heroes, but the Town had their eyes "in right," and when they shot, something usually counted. All the home team helped with the score, McWilliams continuing his good work with three more baskets, Phinney, Lavis and Snider each got one, and Glenn made three fouls, making the final score 27-9 for the Town. McLeod did not have his usual luck with fouls this half, not getting a single point. E. Logie blew the whistle, and the teams were:

In the upper gymnasium on Tuesday this week, the games went the same way against the Wests. The Town intermediates went down, and their seniors kept up. In the junior game the Town were unable to connect with the basket with any freeness, though they had more shots than the Wests. Logie opened the count for the home team with a foul point, and added a basket and another foul before the Town had anything recorded. They pulled up though, and at half time had the score 6-5 in their favor. Sismey and White were responsible for the Town points with a basket and a foul apiece. In the second half B. Stuart came into prominence for the Wests, and got the ball into the net three times. Logie charmed seven more fouls in, and also got another field basket. For the Town White made one basket, and Angove six points from fouls. Free shots from the penalty ring were awarded very freely this half, and broke the game up. 20-14 was the score by which the Wests finally got the game. The two teams:

When the seniors came on there was another good game for the spectators to watch. In both halves the Town did better scoring than the Wests, and in the first they got baskets pretty frequently, good combination being largely responsible. The Wests played together well, too, which made the game an interesting one. Stuart opened for the Wests with a foul, but Phinney replied likewise for the Town, and then the visitors started in to get the lead they were going to keep. Lavis was well to the fore, and made three pretty baskets in the first half, McWilliams made a good second with two; Phinney got one basket and a foul, and Glenn three fouls. This made the Town count 17 to 8 by the Wests, made up of two baskets from Darkis, both made on long passes, right under the basket, and a single basket from Stuart, the last named the best of the whole game, a long shot following some fast passing among the Wests. The baskets were not in use so much in the second half, only one on each side being credited with shots from the field, Lavis for the Town and Fisher, with one of his long range shots, for the Wests. Five foul points completed the Town count, three from Phinney, and two from Glenn, and Darkis put in three for the home team. Referee Jennings was in charge of this game, and the players were:

Town	West
C. Lavis for.	C. Stuart and E. Bent
H. Phinney "	R. Darkis
C. McWilliams cen.	W. Mumm
H. Snider guard	G. Fisher
J. F. Glenn "	D. Stuart

Games in the league schedule for the next few days are somewhat few and far between. To-night, Friday, the College and Wests meet, and there is no other game till the following Friday. To-night's game is of considerable moment for the Town. If the College lose, the Town's position as league leaders is considerably strengthened, but if the Wests go down to defeat, it not only makes that team pretty certain of the collar, but puts the College up very close to the top once more.

Trout Creek Mill, Princeton Crossing, B.C., February 15, 1915.

The Editor, Summerland Review.

Dear Sir,
I would consider it a great favor if you would publish this letter in your next issue, as I wish to make a few comments regarding the letting of the contract for flume lumber, as published in your paper of the 12th inst.

Now we note that you say there was only about a dollar difference between my bid and Summerland Lumber Co's. bid. On Wednesday Mr James Fyffe came up to our mill and said that we had the contract, and that our bid was $4.00 under the other people. On Thursday I went into Summerland and met the Reeve, and he asked me if our price covered a continuous supply for the whole season, and not just one or two car lots. He said that a letter had been posted to me regarding this, so I went to the Post Office and got the letter, and I told him that our price would cover the supply for the season, also the tongue and groove specifications, but that we could only deliver car or half car lots. Later on I explained that if they would let us know the different specifications of flume lumber that they would need, we could ship down a car lot at a time, and pile it at West Summerland siding, and the Municipality could pay for it as they used it. We might say that our price was asked delivered at West Summerland station, and Mr Fyffe put in a price of $1.40 per M for moving the lumber from the station to wherever the Municipality needed it. As we have lots of idle teams here we could easily have done it for this price. This would still leave a difference of $2.60 in our favor, with the lumber delivered to wherever it was needed.

After going down to the Municipal Building with Mr Blair, where he talked with Mr Johnston for a short time, he came out and told me that the contract had already been let.

We also note that there was considerable argument in favor of the Summerland Lumber Co., being a local concern. We might say that after moving in here in August, 1913, and since that time, we have spent over $15,000.00 in Summerland and West Summerland, besides the benefit the Municipality derived from our pay roll of between $3,500.00 and $4,000.00 monthly.

Thanking you for your kindness in giving this matter space in your valuable paper,

I am,
Yours very truly,
FRED DEMUTH.

Editor, Summerland Review.

Dear Sir,
Your latest issue informs the public Messrs J. A. Kirk and E. R. Simpson have been appointed License Commissioners for Summerland. You also print a letter from Mr Kirk quoting a year old speech of Attorney-General Bowser defending his amendments of Municipal Act which took from the people the power to appoint their own Commissioners and virtually gave it to Mr Bowser.

The McBride Government has arrogated to itself more than one power properly exercisable by local municipalities and have worked and acted on the principle of centralizing power in the Cabinet at Victoria. Students of sound democracy regret this policy has been followed so extremely. The principle is pernicious and will in time seriously injure any party practicing it.

The Roblin Government has appointed License Commissioners for years in the same way as Mr Bowser now does, and has been so bitterly assailed for so doing it is now abandoning the practice.

But whatever defence may be offered for Mr Bowser I protest as a citizen of Summerland against the appointment of the President and Vice-President of the local Conservative Association as the majority members of our License Board. I submit it is contrary to sound public policy and to good politics.

For those gentlemen personally I have only respect and esteem, but I am amazed at the poor judgment and bad taste shown in their being recommended. Politics and liquor matters make bad bedfellows, and Summerland has no bed for such quality.

Newsy Paragraphs

Mr Jas. Fleming of the High School spent Saturday in Kelowna.

R. H. Hueston of the Hermitage left for Revelstoke last week on a visit to his daughter.

Miss Bishop left for Calgary on Thursday morning last. She may return here when the packing season begins.

Mrs Clem. Aitkens was a visitor to Kelowna last week, returning on Saturday evening, accompanied by Mrs Wm. Aitkens and her little daughter.

Miss Adelaide Hayward returned to her home in Naramata last week. We hear that she is to be the principal guest at an important social event on Friday.

Mr and Mrs F. Toleman left on Thursday morning en route for London, England. They purpose sailing from St. John, N.B., by the "Misanabie," with Mr and Mrs Joe Fleming, who go to Scotland. Bon voyage, and a safe passage through the waters in the war zone.

Another lot of articles was sent out last Thursday morning by the Ambulance League here. This shipment comprised: 5 dressing gowns, 24 hospital shirts, 13 scarves, 14 pr. socks, 11 pr. mitts, 2 belts, 2 Balacava caps, 44 bandages 10 pr. bed socks, and 24 packages cigarettes.

At the last regular meeting of the Women's Institute it was reported that the trustees would allow one hour each week to the teaching of sewing in the public school rooms. After some discussion it was decided to appoint Mrs Clarence as instructor in the Town School, and Mrs Buchanan in the Trepanier department.

Unlike the Liberal meetings held here of late years, the one on Wednesday last was well attended, the people being anxious to hear John Oliver, Ex-M.P.P. of the Delta, whose side of the question was stated in a straightforward manner, not descending to personalities. Mr DeHart of Kelowna and Captain Worsnop of Kamloops also spoke a short time. Mr Thos. Powell occupied the chair.

These gentlemen cannot afford to act as License Commissioners if they look to any future in public life. Their motives and intentions may be those of angels, but however impartial they may try to be their political status is bound to be considered by the public as affecting their official acts.

The foregoing is written without my having personal knowledge of the personal views of Messrs Kirk and Simpson about Liquor Licenses. That is not the point. I have the fullest confidence in their integrity and ability, but I am sure I am voicing the views of many citizens when I say the Conservative Association, of which they are the leading members, made a huge blunder in recommending these appointments.

Yours, etc.,
W. C. KELLEY.

A Women's Institute At Last.

Thirty-three Members Enrolled.

The forming of a Women's Institute in Naramata was an event! Three times, in as many years, Mrs R. C. Lipsett, member of the Government Advisory Board for Women's Institutes, has come to Naramata with the object of forming a branch here. More than 30 members enrolled on Tuesday afternoon; Mrs Carroll Aikins, secretary-treasurer pro tem, taking the names to be sent to Victoria.

The early proceedings were enlivened by the presence of three delegates from the Farmers' Institute, Mr J. H. Pushman, Mr H. J. Wells, and Mr Hans Salting, who were appointed to find out whether the women of Naramata might not join their Institute and be granted the special privileges of the Women's Institute without organizing a separate body.

Mrs Lipsett's reply was to the point, backed by governmental laws, that no such question could be considered. Mrs Carroll Aikins aptly asked if the Farmer's Institute was not open to women farmers as members? Quite a spirited discussion took place, and through the various remarks made by the men delegates, the reason why they especially wanted the women to join was—because the men did not turn up at the meetings and it was thought that if women did, why, they could carry the news of what was talked about home to their husbands.

Mrs Lipsett, Mrs Carroll Aikins, Mrs Allen, Mrs Hughes, Mrs Hall, Mrs Languedoc, Mrs Pushman, Mrs Salting, Mr Wells and Mr Salting all took part in the bright discussion, and finally Mrs Aikins moved that a Women's Institute be formed in Naramata, seconded by Mrs D. O. Hughes, and carried unanimously. Mrs Aikins was elected secretary-treasurer pro tem. The men disappeared, the initial work of forming an institute was proceeded with. There will be a President, two Vice-Presidents, Secretary-Treasurer, and a Director for every ten members. Over 30 names have been sent in to the Hon. W. E. Scott, Deputy Minister of Agriculture and Superintendent of Institutes. With the approval of the Hon. Price Ellison, followed by four weeks' advertising in the British Columbia Gazette, the Secretary will be informed of the lawful standing of the Institute and the election of officers will take place at the inaugural meeting.

It was the unanimous expression of the women of the meeting that the Farmers' Institute would benefit by the addition of a Women's Institute in the Naramata district. The women would do all in their power to help in the upbuilding and uplift of the town, a Board of Trade work that the members of the Farmers' Institute have had to embody within their regular institute work.

The earliest pioneer of hereabouts Mr John Robinson, spent Monday in town much to the gratification of the many who enjoy a chat with him. Snow has pretty well disappeared from the higher up-lands where he ranches, and Mr Robinson experienced no difficulty in walking down.

Mrs E. P. Roe is expecting her daughter, Mrs George Gray of Montreal, to visit her shortly. Mr Gray, who holds an enviable position as a stock buyer in Quebec Province, wishes to look into possibilities in the Okanagan with a view to taking up land and operating a cattle ranch on a large scale.

Mrs Raymond of Marshall, Michigan, who spent a year with her daughter, Mrs Hans Salting, in Naramata writes that the Michigan winter has been very severe. The Naramata Supply Company, under its new management, is awake. Alterations to the premises and changes in charges have been made. The half page advertisement in last week's Review was the first intimation had by Naramatian benches that a different business policy prevailed. Subsequent advertising news will tell the tales of arrival of goods, snaps in prices, and store news in general.

This Friday evening the members of the Epworth League have invited their elders to enjoy a social evening with them in the assembly hall of the church at eight o'clock. The leaguers have prepared a program after which there will be games, followed by a supper. Mrs Margaret Allen and Mrs D. Ogden Hughes, who always have the interests of the growing lads at heart, are helping the members with the supper, and sharing the responsibilities of the evening in other ways.

Mr Wm. Mitchell and his sons are to be thanked for their gratuitous spreading of sawdust and gravel sidewalks about town. The long muddy path up to the school house has been made dry and solid. Various hitherto impassable places on the side streets have been made easy of passage, and not only may pedestrians discard rubbers and return home dry shod, but the tidy appearance of the streets is a wonderful improvement.

Dr. Andrew, vice-president, emphasized these statements and pointed out the enviable position of the company as a money earning proposition, while at the same time giving the community an excellent service. Another advantage was that a large sum that was formerly paid annually to a foreign company is now kept at home. The speaker pointed out the immediate advantage of increasing the paid-up capital, as the company would then be in a position to pay regular dividends, make desired extensions and lay aside a substantial reserve.

There seemed to be a general demand from shareholders that information of the arrival of the boat be given by central. After an explanation from the manager of how central was beset with questions of all kinds respecting the boat's movements, and how listening to and answering these questions impaired the efficiency of the regular service, it was arranged that central should simply reply by stating the time the boat left Kelowna or Peachland.

R. W. Nelson asked what arrangement the Company had made with the Municipality for doing technical work for the electric light department, and was told that the arrangement was only a temporary one to terminate upon Mr Thornber's return.

The post offices are again selling money orders on Great Britain and Ireland at the normal rate of exchange. A few more nights of frost last week-end made the hopes of skating enthusiasts rise, but after a few nights the thermometer readings rose also. There was skating for a night or two, but the continued mildness of the past few days is leading the skaters to the conclusion that they must hang up their skates once more till another winter.

Rev. N. McNaughton of the Baptist Church here was a speaker at a Valley Social Service Convention, held in Vernon, at the end of last week. He took as his subject, "The Church and Modern Life." At the regular monthly meeting of the Ladies Hospital Auxiliary, at the home of Mrs G. M. Ross the outstanding business dealt with was the need of an X-ray apparatus for the local hospital. A decision was finally arrived at that the Auxiliary undertake to procure an outfit. Several new street lights at West Summerland have been recently placed along the road running north from the Supply Company's branch store beyond Wm. Ritchie's lumber yard. Between thirty and forty couples took part in the dance in Empire Hall on Tuesday night of this week, organized in aid of the Hospital. The ladies of the Methodist Church are planning to give a 25 cent bean supper on March 2nd in the Men's Club. Proceeds in aid of the Ambulance League. f19-26

Mr and Mrs R. H. King, and their two little boys of Naramata made a brief but very enjoyable visit at the home of Mr and Mrs C. E. Craig of Jones Flat on Tuesday last.

Mr F. C. Edgar is leaving the employment of the Summerland Supply Company about the end of the month, after several years connection with that firm. He is leaving for Ottawa about the 10th of March.

Vision changes like everything else. If your present glasses are not giving you satisfaction make it a point to see S. L. Taube the well-known EYESIGHT Specialist. He will be at the Summerland Drug Co. Store on Friday, February 26. f1219

J. C. Kennedy, who left Summerland last fall to join the second Canadian contingent, was among the one hundred and fifty men selected at Victoria to join with other companies selected from other military camps through the country, to form a reinforcement for the Princess Patricia Light Infantry, who are now on the actual firing line.

In the list of donations to the Hospital during the month of January, published in last week's Review, two items need a little further explanation. Mr J. Borton's donation, it transpires, was "cake," not "care," and the last donation listed, consisting of two ducks and a quart of maple syrup came from the generosity of a Penticton friend, Mr Everett Graham.

The Ladies' College Auxiliary may very deservedly be congratulated on the success that has always resulted from the various social functions for which they have been responsible this winter. The Valentine Social organized by the Auxiliary, in the College Gymnasium last Friday evening, was largely attended, and in every way a complete success. A fuller account of the affair from the pen of our College reporter, will be found in the column devoted to the doings of that institution. The proceeds of the social amounted to about $20.

A party of about twenty-five crossed from Summerland to Naramata last Saturday evening and with a few friends from that town shared in the pleasure of a Valentine "surprise" party at Hotel Naramata. Mr J. O. Robinson and the Misses Robinson, as host and hostesses, proved themselves well equal to the occasion, and provided very enjoyably for the entertainment of their guests. Dancing was carried on under the most pleasurable conditions in the spacious dining room until midnight, to music provided by pianists from among the company. A dainty light supper was partaken of very informally in the rotunda during an interlude in the program of dances.

Not to have seen the lights of an airship hovering about at night here some time or other will soon be an experience lacking in but very few of us, if the present rate of the mysterious luminary visitations is kept up. Another sight of lights high up in the sky, apparently similar to those seen from Naramata last week, was reported by a citizen on Monday evening. What would correspond to the searchlight and a tail light of an aeroplane were distinctly visible up above the College, back in the heavens, careering northwards. Summerland is by no means the only place in Canada enjoying airship excitement at this time. Even at Ottawa it has been deemed advisable to curtail the brilliant lighting of the government buildings, on account of an airship scare, and in Alberta, between Edmonton and Calgary, there has been something of a similar mysterious nature. What the phenomena is, or what explanation there can be, no one seems very sure, and in the meantime we are entitled to hold to and cherish the airship idon, as being most fitting at this time when the country is in a state of war.

VOLUNTEER FIRE BRIGADE ORGANIZED.

Further protection against the possible ravages of the fire fiend are being assured for the front section of the district following a meeting held in Borton's store yesterday afternoon. The need for some organized body to take operations in charge in case a conflagration should visit the town was evidenced last Sunday evening when a building on Shaughnessy Avenue seemed in some danger for a time while a chimney was "burning out." Flames were seen belching out, and sparks rained down on the shingles rather alarmingly. A telephone call to central asked that word be sent out to have the hose reel run down as quickly as possible. A number of citizens were soon on to the job, and the hose ready at the nearest hydrant with good speed. Fortunately it was not called into use. At the meeting, preliminary steps were taken to organize a volunteer corps of fire fighters. C. H. Cordy was appointed chief, and J. Lawler his deputy. A practice was afterwards held, running the hose out and coupling it up, and further practices are to be carried out immediately, and the organization steps completed.

CHECKER TOURNAMENT.

A second checker tournament between teams of five representing the two sections of the community is to be played off to-night, Friday at the home of Mr and Mrs J. L. Hilborn. There is likely to be at least one change on each team. The Town quintette will probably consist of Messrs A. Moyes, A. J. Beer, C. E. McCutcheon, H. W. Treffry and G. N. Gartrell. The West Summerland players are likely to strive hard to reverse the fortunes of two weeks ago, and a strenuously contested series of games is likely to result.

The Packing School opens next week. Whether it will be in the Summerland Fruit Union packing house or somewhere at West Summerland has not been decided when we last heard from the secretary of the Farmers' Institute.

Valentine Surprise Dance.

Mr and Mrs George Ross of Summerland planned a delightful surprise party for the Misses Robinson on St. Valentine's Eve, and arranged with Miss Emma Davies of Naramata to invite guests on this side of the water. A special ferry brought the Summerlanders across about eight o'clock, when they were welcomed by those of Naramata, and the surprisants entered the Robinson home to the number of 40 or more. A jolly evening was spent. Decorations still adorned the walls of the large unused dining room, the floor was quickly waxed, piano wheeled in and players volunteered, Miss Gladys Limmer, Miss Bona Logie, Mrs Fred Manchester, and Miss Kathleen Robinson being chief musicians.

Supper was prepared in the smaller dining room, and just before it was announced, a supply of sliced cardboard hearts was brought from somewhere and upon each gentleman's right shoulder one was pinned. To the ladies were given the slices. The heart and the piece that fitted became supper partners. Afterwards dancing continued until next day was nearing. From Summerland there came Mr and Mrs George Ross, Mr and Mrs H. Howell, Mr and Mrs Granville Morgan, Mr and Mrs Frank Williams, Mr and Mrs Jones, Mr and Mrs Wellington Watson, Mrs George Gattrell, Miss Lillian Brown, Miss Anna Hayes, Miss Gladys Limmer, Miss Bona Logie, Messrs W. A. Robinson, Fred Neve, Croeso, G. Craig, Roy Black, J. F. Glenn, H. Vandenburg, E. Logie, and G. de Renzy. Those from Naramata included Mr and Mrs Fred Manchester, Mr and Mrs Howard Rounds, Miss May Foster, Miss Emma Davies, Miss Vera Roe, Miss Adelaide Hayward, Miss Lois Wells, Miss Edna Noyes, Messrs Norman and Harold Mitchell, Gerald Roe, Alex. Noyes, Guy Brock, and the Misses Gwendoline, Gladys, and Kathleen Robinson, with their brother Mr John O.

Two Peace Days.

From Sunday morning, February 14th, until the Monday evening following, Naramata talked of and listened to 100 Years Peace. That most of the talkers slipped on to war was inevitable at such a time, and the cause of the American Revolution as well as the facts leading up to the present war were given in detail. The war from 1812-1815, with its battlefields along our Niagara river, and the treaty that was the forerunner of the Monroe Doctrine (the peace starter for the 100 years), seemed lost somewhere, dropped likely between the Revolution and the Present, but we observed its anniversary—the great St. Valentine Day of 1915.

The church and Sunday School were draped with the Red, White and Blue, and the Union Jack was entwined with the Stars and Stripes in a gracefully dignified pedestal upon the preaching platform. The Sunday School children engaged in a special Peace session early in the morning, and marched with flags of the two nations into the church proper for the 11 o'clock service.

The Rev. J. Irwin Beatty spoke with eloquence and deep feeling upon the peoples of the Anglo-Saxon race, impressing upon his congregation the fact that it was the duty and privilege of the Anglo-Saxons as one people to bring about Peace, guard and strengthen it, and become missionaries carrying the tidings of Peace on Earth, Goodwill to Men throughout the earth.

There was a special choir, excellent music, and the verses of the British and the American National Anthems sung at the close of the service. The church building was filled to overflowing.

The Rev. H. A. Solly preached in the afternoon upon the second lesson of the Sunday before Lent. "Faith, Hope and Charity, and the greatest of these is—Love." A newer view of St. Paul's character was wonderfully brought out, "Was it a yearning for something he himself was deficient in that made him write so tenderly of Love?" It was a suggestion to think about, and when attention was once more with the speaker himself, lo, he had turned the question over the Boundary, as it were, and was saying something about Over 100 Years Peace.

At the Monday night Literary the subject was continued. Mr Pushman said the War of the American Revolution was brought about by an attack of gout in Prime Minister Pitt's foot. He led splendidly up to the war of 1812, and there left it for his follower, Mr H. J. Wells, to pick up and finish. Mr Wells first assured his audience that he knew (in his heart) no difference between flags of any nations and then, pell-mell, he started into his favorite topic, Socialism, swirled it around with words of force or de-force, and finished by observing that he had once heard something of the War of 1812, but was not interested.

So the evening's special subject was left dangling and no one had the heart to pick it up and sharpen it to a point of historical enlightenment for presentation to the expectant and patient audience.

A quartette, "Sweet and Low," sung by Mesdames Lyons and Williams, Messrs Pitman and Mackie, was appreciated, Mrs Fred Manchester playing the accompaniment. Mr Mackie also played some well-known selections, the audience joining in the choruses.

NARAMATA SCOUT DOINGS.

Just at present we are much occupied with the various things to be done in connection with our approaching concert. Both Tuesday and Thursday evenings we are either practicing gymnastics or rehearsing sketches or scenes. Saturday afternoon we had a dress rehearsal at the Opera House, and we are fast getting our various numbers into shape for the big show.

Promises have been obtained from various members of local talent, and also from some of the Summerland talent to aid us in making our program an interesting one, and we are very grateful to those people for their valued assistance.

Tickets have been distributed to all the local scouts to dispose of, and there is a deal of keen rivalry going on as to which boy can sell the greatest number. We would very much like to see every resident of Naramata present, and also a good number from across the lake. The Summerland troop has been extended a complimentary invitation to attend as an organization, and in return they have kindly agreed to sell tickets for us in that town.

On Friday evening a very enjoyable time was spent at the home of Mrs T. H. Boothe, wife of the president of the local association. The Scouts arrived about 8 p.m., and after a couple of hours spent in playing games, listening to gramophone and piano selections, and ending up with refreshments, the boys, after thanking their hostesses for her invitation and hospitality, dispersed to their various homes. Mrs M. M. Allen and Mrs D. O. Hughes assisted Mrs Boothe in keeping her visitors entertained.

Owing to last Sunday being set aside to celebrate the 100 years of peace between Canada and the United States, the Scouts here, as a peace organization were requested to attend church in uniform. The Sunday School service was enlivened by a unique patriotic tableau. Three Scouts were chosen, one an American with the Stars and Stripes, one a Canadian with the Red Ensign, and the third an English boy with the Union Jack, to represent the countries concerned. The American first explained the origin and composition of "Old Glory," then the English boy did the same for his flag, and last but not least the Canadian representative explained the meanings of the several coats of arms and marks on the Canadian Ensign. It was all very interesting and instructive, and the boys chosen to represent their respective countries certainly acquitted themselves very creditably.

Right Idea Of Citizenship.

Mr R. H. Hall, who has taken over the management of the Naramata Supply Company's business, has the right idea of citizenship, and has turned his mind towards many phases of betterment for this town of less than 50 homes. There is not only the whole of the Lower Okanagan to draw upon, but Canada at large, other parts of the Americas, besides desirable portions of other continents. Mr Hall thinks deeply, long and well upon questions of the day and the morrow. For one year and five months he has been weighing the advantages and disadvantages of life in the Okanagan, both mentally and by physical work. In October last he began to study the mercantile outlook from the Naramata point of view, and it is with no little satisfaction that Naramatians learn that he sees big things ahead, not only in a business way, but also by attracting people heretofore when the town promises are made sanitary and beautiful; in encouraging the highest mental development through observation, range

Small Fry And The Cattle.

Since the impounding of stray beasts has become law, and a reward of fifty cents per head to finders of wandering ones is offered, the small fry of Naramata have become mighty busy, and woe betide a cow or horse who dares nibble without its lawful enclosure.

Upon occasions a cow has overstepped its limits, and with laudable promptness the small fry have coaxed, driven—yes, shoved the beast hopefully towards the pound gate only to be stopped by a hurrying owner e'er the goal was reached. Horses no longer trample unheeded over front walks, nor do cows browse in other people's back yards. To the grown-ups the change gives a feeling of hope for unspoiled gardens and beautiful streets during the coming summer, but with the small fry the one wish is paramount "That some beasties would break loose when school hours are over, and their owners would be none the wiser until the reward has been accredited."
