Fruit Buying Opening Strong

Prairie Householders Placing Large Orders for Summerland Fruit.

The 1917 fruit shipping season will open under much better conditions than was anticipated earlier in the year. Two seasons of good crops at high prices, with excellent prospects of another prosperous year, have made heavy buyers of many prairie householders who formerly invested very sparingly in fruit, and many families now out of debt for the first time will become regular users of what they formerly considered a luxury. Such is briefly the conclusion reached after talking with recent visitors to prairie points. Perhaps the first to feel the results of the optimistic outlook on the part of the prairie buyers is the grower who makes a business of shipping direct to consumers. One of these with whom we were in conversation recently states that orders are pouring in heavily already, and that his old customers are more than doubling their orders, and new ones are ordering generously. With the general high price of food commodities, our fruit, at the reasonable prices quoted, is no longer considered a luxury. Other local express shippers report that they will soon have booked enough orders for their whole season's output.

B.C. Small Fruits Find Good Markets

While small fruit crops in the Northwestern States are reported much below the normal, the condition of the crops on this side of the line are reported normal, with greatly increased acreage. Vancouver Island will probably yield about 70,000 crates of strawberries. A large portion of this has been sold to jam factories at 7c. a lb. hulled. It is estimated that 45 car loads will be shipped from the Island to the Prairies. These will be handled through the Mutual Brokers, who will be paid a commission of 7 1/2 per cent on prices of $2 or better, and 5 per cent if less than $2. Though the Mission District will have a larger increase, the jam factories will take nearly all the crop at 7 1/2c. per lb.

Prairie shipments from Creston and Wynndel, will probably equal 20 cars, and here also the acreage is considerably increased. On the Island pickers are being paid 40c. per crate.

The Mission-Hatzic district will ship from 50 to 60 carloads of raspberries to the Prairies, and the jam factories will take up to 240 tons, at 5 1/2c. per lb. The Mutual Brokers will handle the Prairie business.

It is reported that the jam factories are offering 5c. per lb. for blackberries, 6 1/2c. for gooseberries, 9c. for black currants, cleaned, 5 1/2c. for red currants on the string, and 6c. for Loganberries.

In a recent letter from Pto. Ernest Smith, now in a hospital at Woolwich, to his parents here, written, by the way, with his left hand, he states that he expects to be in the hospital two or three months more. A shrapnel bullet was removed from his right arm. This must have damaged the bone, for only a few days later a quick move of the arm resulted in breaking the bone. He says he is getting good care, and that the Canadian Red Cross ladies are giving the wounded Canadians motor rides to the Zoo and points of interest in and about London.

C.N.R. Must Finish Branches

Government will Insist that Undertakings in Province be Carried Out.

It has been decided by the Provincial Government that the Canadian Northern Pacific Railway must come to time in the matter of completion of its undertakings in the province, the final time limit for which expires on July 1.

The matter has been under consideration for some time, and only awaited the return of Hon. John Oliver, Minister of Railways, to the capital, to be put through. It is a matter which means very much to Vancouver and to the Okanagan. The company is being notified that it must proceed with the uncompleted portions of its undertakings, and a time limit is being set to action by it.

No further dallying will be permitted with work on the Island section of the line, construction of which is made especially imperative by the development of shipbuilding operations in the capital. For some weeks the question has been before the cabinet, and action has been urged by Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, both long before he entered the ministry and since he took office. In this, his colleague, Henry C. Hall, has also been active.

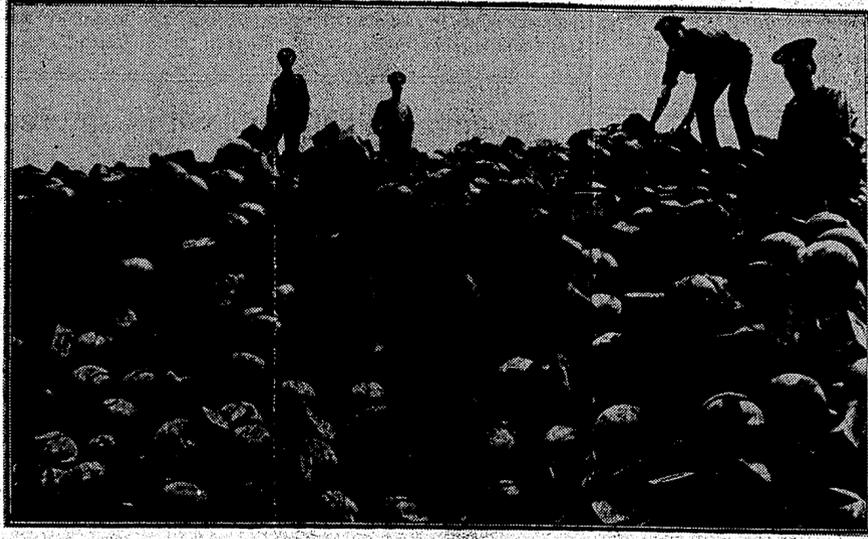

The Premier has stated that his government is fully alive to the importance of this question, and that it has had it under careful consideration for some little time, being determined that the company must be compelled to live up to its contract with the province, which is under very heavy financial obligations in the shape of guarantees of principal and interest on the bonds issued on the strength of the 250 miles of line authorized on Vancouver Island and the terminals at Victoria, Vancouver, and other points, as well as the branch lines in the Okanagan.

WEDDING.

Widen --- Elsey.

A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday evening at the home of Mr and Mrs H. H. Elsey, when their eldest daughter, Georgia May, was united in marriage to Mr Charles L. Widen of Duhamel, Alberta. The ceremony took place in the presence of about forty friends and relatives, Rev. W. J. Scott of Peachland officiating. Promptly at six o'clock, to the strains of Lohengrin, played by Miss Gertrude Elsey, the bride entered on the arm of her father and took her place beneath a very pretty arch of yellow roses and bridal wreath. She looked charming in a gown of white crepe de chine, with veil and orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of white bridal roses, carnations, and maiden-hair fern. Miss Stella Wilson, daintily dressed in pale blue crepe de chono, made a pretty little flower girl. After the congratulations had been extended luncheon was served on the verandah. The happy couple left by motor for Pentleton en route for their home in Alberta. The bride's going away costume was of green gabardine with rose crepe de chine blouse and hat to match. The many beautiful and useful gifts testified to the popularity of the bride. Their many friends join in wishing the young couple a happy and prosperous married life.

Excellent Prospects Of Good Fruit Crop

O.U.G. Officials Address Members of Fruit Union on Season's Plans and Market Conditions.

Apricot, Cherry and other Crops sold at Good Prices. Opening Quotations for Apples Higher Than Last Year.

There is no longer the excuse for the pessimism that has prevailed in the minds of many in regard to fruit prices for the coming season, and especially for apples. The General Manager, the Sales Manager, and the Vice-President of the Okanagan United Growers were visitors here yesterday, and in Campbell's Hall last night Sales Manager Lowe told of a number of things that must have been received with joy by the fruit growers present. No. 1 apricots have all been sold at $1.25, and more could be sold at that price. Cannery apricots have been disposed of at $75 a ton. Except for some early varieties the Okanagan United Growers have more orders for cherries than they can fill. All the gooseberries in sight have also been sold.

Late crop estimates from across the line have almost wholly removed the likelihood of serious competition from that source. This estimate is placed at 25 million boxes as against 57 millions in 1916. Mr Lowe gave a list of opening quotations on a number of varieties of apples, stating that the Central hoped to maintain these prices, and may raise them shortly. The only variety actually sold is the McIntosh, and this at a higher price than last year. 30,000 boxes of apples have been sold in Australia and New Zealand, but ship space for only 24,000, or possibly 27,000, is available. Orders for 10,000 boxes have been received from South Africa. It is still uncertain whether ocean transportation will be available for these.

The meeting was called primarily for the purpose of hearing the views of the visiting Central officials on a question of a separate pool. Discussion on this subject showed very divergent opinions. Mr E. R. Simpson, President of the local Union, recalled the fact that at a meeting of the Union members in April, a resolution was put through that the apples from south lake points be pooled and sold separately, in which Summerland was supported by Pentleton, but Peachland had not endorsed the proposition. The request had been turned down by Central. Vice-President Allen said that the case had been well stated by Mr G. J. C. White, and later by Mr E. R. Simpson. The members of the Central felt that the request was contrary to the true spirit of co-operation. A separate pool would give no advantage. A No. 1 apple is always a No. 1, if the grade is strictly adhered to. He admitted that he was not in favor of using good apples to sell poor ones. This would not be done this year, as all apples would be sold by variety and grade. Mr C. N. Higgin asked why, if a three pool plan worked, a fourth could not be instituted, and was told that there would be only one Valley pool this year. District pools cause suspicion. Mr McDowell told of the beginning of the pooling system in the early fruit shipping days of the Valley. After seven years experience he is strongly convinced that the one pool system can be the only successful method. Otherwise there would be opportunities for and suspicions of favoritism.

With carload orders from retail houses at one price and from jobbers at a lower price, the question at once arises as to how these orders would be distributed among the districts. With a Valley pool prices are equalized. With the three pooling districts there was grumbling all last year. It was because of the request from the south end that the three districts had been established. A direct result of this division was the loss to Central for this year of Salmon Arm business. The local there had insisted on a single pool, and, fearing that it would not be granted, had withdrawn.

A strong case for the establishment of a Summerland-Pentleton pool was made by Mr G. J. C. White, who has long contended that our fruit should be sold on its merits, and under its own brand. He saw no more danger of disruption by granting his request than by refusing it. As buyers came to know the apples from the south lake points they insisted on having them, and Mr White asked if it was

Would Discard Lakeshore Road

Upper Road Between Peachland and Summerland Has All Advantages.

The following contribution on the question of the wisdom of reverting to the old upper road between Summerland and Peachland, as touched upon in our editorial column last week will be read with interest:

Dear Sir,

I wish to most fully endorse the editorial in your issue of 15th inst. regarding the Lakeshore road from Summerland to Peachland.

Before this road can ever be regarded as permanent, quite apart from the surface upkeep, probably at least double the initial outlay will be required, and even then it will always be subject to slides from irrigation seepage and a certain amount of unavoidable overflow from the many orchards on the cliffs above. These are conditions which, even an unlimited road allowance, could never overcome. On the other hand the old upper road has, with a few exceptions, a good solid foundation, and, as you state, the road-making material is right at hand. With probably one half the outlay that the lower road will yet cost to make it only partially satisfactory, this upper road could be broadened and in parts graded to a more even level. From the scenic point of view there is in my estimation no comparison. The average tourist as well as Okanagan resident gets quite enough of lakeshore driving and its attendant monotony between here and Pentleton, and would, I am sure, welcome a rise to a higher level between here and Peachland. This, at least, is my opinion, for when I first came to Summerland from Vancouver three years ago, I drove my car from Kamloops, via Vernon, and I can honestly state that there was no stretch that appealed to me so much from the scenic point of view as the upper road from Peachland to Summerland.

To this might also be added the thrilling expectation of meeting other traffic and the impossibility of passing owing to the very narrow road.

To my mind there does not seem to be one single redeeming feature to the Lakeshore road, except for the lavish expenditure of public funds. If there are any I should be glad to know them. The disadvantages

Daylight Saving Plan Is Deferred

Such, in effect, is Result of Council's Action.

It would seem that those of our municipal officials who were not in favor of the local adoption of the Daylight Saving plan had been successful in preventing its general adoption. Though the Board of Trade's committee came away from the Council chamber feeling assured that the Council would issue the same proclamation as was issued in June, 1916, no such proclamation has been made, the only action taken by the Council being the passing of a resolution recommending citizens to adopt the plan. With no official proclamation or order to advance the clocks one hour on a certain date, practically nothing has come out of this further effort of the Board of Trade. Here and there the fruit growers are working under "fast" time. The municipal ditchmen are going to work an hour earlier, and at the Experimental Station all have been working for some time by advanced clocks. The general business of the community is being conducted and public gatherings held according to standard time.

Says School Board Are Within Estimates

Sec. gives Figures Supporting Argument that Expenditures are Necessarily Larger.

The Editor, Summerland Review.

Dear Sir,

Judging from your report of the Council meeting of last week, it would appear that the Municipal Clerk, by his representation of the School Board accounts, managed to stampede our City Fathers into passing a resolution calling the Board into account for their extravagant expenditure during the first five months of this year. He is represented as stating that the expenditure should be less than for the corresponding period of last year.

Will you kindly permit me to place before the ratepayers, in your columns, a comparative statement of accounts for the corresponding periods of the years 1916 and 1917. These figures should satisfy even our worthy Municipal Clerk that the estimates they have made for the year.

Yours truly,

J. H. BOWERING.

Accompanying the above letter was a quantity of figures showing details of expenditures for the first five months of 1916 and same period in 1917. Totals are as follows:—

	5 months 1916	5 months 1917
Teachers	$3,550.00	$3,875.00
Conveyance	880.00	911.20
Caretaking	178.00	204.75
Fuel and other expenses	469.45	678.38
Total extra expenditures in 1917,	$591.58

Extra charges in 1917, not occurring in 1916, include the following for the Trout Creek School: teacher's salary for five months, $325, caretaking, $19, rent, $15, besides fuel and other incidentals. There is a net increase of 35c. per day for conveyance, totaling $20.70.

The School Board has also expended on school gardens $35.65, which will be refunded by the Department of Education. These figures take care of about $440 of this year's extra expenditures. The statement shows a stock of fuel totaling $250, and other school supplies, $35. We are informed by the secretary that none of these were on hand at the beginning of the year. The fuel, etc., on hand is more than sufficient to cover any extra expenditures not already shown above.

A NEW ERA.

CANADA IS ENTERING UPON a new era, comments the Toronto News. Out of the travail of the war there is being born a national spirit which is neither Conservative nor Liberal, but which will express what is best in both. Under that spirit, and the associations which will be formed through its influence, the old order will pass away.

BETTER RELATIONS.

MOST REMARKABLE is the change of attitude of the prairie farmers to the B.C. fruit growers. It was but a few weeks ago that the wheat grower was denouncing in most emphatic terms the fruit grower for his efforts to obtain protection against the dumping on the Canadian market of American surplus fruit, and the government for listening to the fruit growers' appeal and increasing the import duty on apples. Since then there has been brought about a very much better feeling largely through the efforts of the B.C. Fruit Growers' Association. Acquaintance with the problems and difficulties confronting the fruit grower by his fellow farmer on the prairie has made the latter sympathetic instead of antagonistic.

Last winter at various gatherings of fruit farmers the suggestion that our government be asked to declare an embargo against the importation of apples as an offset to the effect of Britain's war embargo was well received, but many were timid about starting an open campaign, lest the grain grower should be further antagonized. They did not realize the change of mind that had been effected among the prairie people who are always ready to listen to reason.

Positive evidence of the change of attitude was revealed in the recent reception given the President and the Secretary of the B.C. Fruit Growers' Association, who had been delegated to the promotion of a plan for the further protection of the Canadian apple crop, against anticipated unfair competition. Last Saturday these men met the Canadian Council of Agriculture at Winnipeg, and were most cordially received. There was a general discussion of the situation, and it is now anticipated that the Council, which is made up of representatives of all farmers' organizations, and the fruit growers of Canada will get together soon to devise ways to absorb Canada's apple yield. This arrangement is an evidence of the vast improvement in the relations of the farmers of the plains and those of the mountain valleys.

EAT OF THIS AND OF THAT! Feast in plenty! So in the past we have been urged by dealers in articles of food. Sales and still larger sales have been what the wholesalers and retailers have been pushing for. For a jobber in articles of food to urge for decrease of consumption is certainly a right-about face as compared with past methods. Such in effect is the substance of a circular sent out recently to retailers by a Vancouver jobbing house. It is possible that one purpose in distributing this circular was to prepare the way for further increases in prices. Economy is urged. "To-day no man is rich enough in money to enable him to be wasteful of food." "It is a disgrace to leave food upon one's plate," is a suggested national slogan. The retailer coming as he does in close touch with the consumer, is urged to be constantly on the offensive. "In this great warfare we are called upon to wage against the waste of food we feel impelled to address these words to the trade, because it has been borne in upon us that even yet so few of our people realize the seriousness of the situation which faces us." This firm stated further that the really alarming seriousness of the food situation has so far only been impressed upon those men who are in touch with primary markets. And again, "The world is not now producing enough food stuffs to feed itself." Even at the risk of being extremists they declare that "the food situation is alarming, and every man should be prepared now before it is too late to exercise every possible economy."

Of the more recent tendency towards lower prices of food stuffs, which is described as the first ray of hope which consumers have obtained for many months past, a writer in a Vancouver paper says:—

"A combination of circumstances has checked, temporarily at least, the rising tide of prices.

"With the approach of summer and the coming in of new crops, a wider variety and greater supply of food is available. Fixing of maximum prices for grains in the principal grain markets of this continent was an equally important factor in reducing the cost of living. High priced grain means high-priced bread, more costly dairy products, more expensive livestock, poultry and eggs. Hence the high cost of fresh and smoked meats, lard, etc. Another cause of the down-turn is the possibility of government control of foodstuffs both in Canada and the United States.

"Agitation along this line and investigations instituted by authorities on both sides of the border have made owners of storage stocks nervous, with the result that foodstuffs which might otherwise have been held in coolers, have been put upon the market.

"The promise of a larger wheat crop for North America has also helped the situation from the consumers' standpoint. The campaign against waste which is being conducted throughout the country is having some effect in reducing consumption, but it is generally admitted that there is room for far greater efforts in this direction."

tages are manifold. Firstly, the upkeep which it would be impossible to estimate under the existing conditions already pointed out. Secondly, the monotony to tourists and others where we already have a long stretch along the lake between here and Penticton. Thirdly, the disadvantage to Summerland. By this I mean that we would all like tourists in passing through to see something of the orchards that surround Summerland. At present they are switched in at one end of the lower town, to view a few empty stores and unsightly shacks, and out again at the other end. Their impression of Summerland I do not think can be very inviting. Fourthly, this road has proved well nigh impassable for winter travel. The snow will very rarely lie for any length of time, making sleighing impossible, and thereby rendering it a perfect quagmire, as well as subject to perpetual mud slides from above and undermining by the lake water from beneath.

Let us now consider the manifold advantages of the upper road.

Firstly, the upkeep, if it is once broadened out, and in parts graded to a more even level, would be comparatively slight. Secondly, we would have a scenic road of considerable attraction. Thirdly, the tourist would see something of the orchard surroundings of Summerland, and fourthly, we would have a good and durable road for both winter and summer travel.

That the Municipalities of Summerland and Peachland should be called upon to maintain and improve a large stretch of this road would seem most unreasonable. They were, as you state, not consulted about the site of this road, so if the government chose to put a road along such an impossible location, where before long the upkeep will probably exceed the initial outlay, let them foot the bill. But I would say let us call stop to the further waste of public funds, pocket the loss of this poorly conceived enterprise, and put the top road into proper shape.

Yours faithfully,
P. G. KOOP.

THE STUMBLER.

If you've faltered by the way,
Stumbled much or gone astray,
Just begin afresh to-day,
Buckle to it.

For the errors you have made,
And the faults that you've displayed
Needn't leave you sore dismayed,
We all do it.

There is none so wise or great
But has faltered in his gait,
Left the pathway that is straight,
And been humbled.

And in every great man's wake
There is many a mistake,
That his courage tried to shake
When he stumbled.

Just because you've lost one fight,
Do not cease to seek the right,
Battle on with all your might,
Fame will crown you.

Yesterday is passed and gone,
It's mistakes don't dwell upon.
If you'll only struggle on,
They can't down you.

Orchard and Farm:
 Topics of Timely Interest and Helpfulness in the complex Business of Farming.
Stop Food Waste by Drying Surplus Fruits and Vegetables.

The fact that every important country of the world is facing an extremely serious shortage of food materials, and that it is the peculiar task of this continent to meet the need by increasing production of the great food crops, is now recognized by every one.
 We are somewhat slower to realize the equally evident fact that increased production is no more important than the conservation of every pound of material which is produced. Upon this point U. S. Secretary of Agriculture Houston has said:
 "Both for economical and patriotic reasons the American farmer should strive this year for the highest standard of efficiency in the production and conservation of food. But production accomplished by wasteful methods does not make for efficiency, and careful thought, therefore, should be given to the steps that need to be taken Some of the most conspicuous crop wastes occur with fruits and vegetables, of which, in normal years, larger quantities usually are grown than the producers can market profitably. Frequently these losses are due indirectly to disease and insect injury, which lowers their market value without reducing their food value materially if they can be utilized promptly by drying, canning, or other preservative methods. Under existing conditions, every practical step should be taken to protect these crops throughout the season, and to utilize and preserve them as fully as possible when they have matured. To the extent that competent labor is available, either hired or in the family, fruits and vegetables which it is ordinarily inadvisable to attempt to conserve should be systematically saved for use by canning, drying, or preserving. . . . Because of the scarcity of tin plate and the high price of tin cans, it may be necessary in household preservation of food, more extensively to pack fruit and vegetables in other containers. This situation may call for new methods of preserving or the improvement and extended use of old processes such as drying."
 These words of Secretary Houston come with especial force to the West, which annually has an enormous loss of potentially valuable food material in the form of low-grade and cull fruits unfit for market, and of fruits and vegetables in excess of the growers' needs. It is certain that the use of water transportation facilities for other necessary purposes will make it impossible to market the usual volume of the higher grades of fruit, and that the growers are therefore facing enormous losses unless other means for utilizing the material are provided. It is equally certain that the small number of canneries can not handle any materially increased volume of these products, for the reason that the cost of containers will be prohibitive even if they are not actually unobtainable. The only practical method of meeting the situation is by providing means for drying the surplus and unmarketable material, both in the commercial orchards and in the small orchard and berry patch of the farm home.

The Washington Experiment Station is issuing two bulletins by Dr. J. S. Caldwell, on methods and equipment for the drying of fruits and vegetables. One of these publications, Popular Bulletin 112, is intended for the use of the non-commercial fruit grower whose orchard and garden produce an amount of fruit and vegetables in excess of the family needs. It gives directions for sun-drying, either in the open air or in a solar drier which hastens drying while protecting the fruit from dust and insects, tells how to build a cook-stove evaporator with a capacity of 100 lbs. of apples, berries, or other material at a time, out of a goods box; and gives full directions, with illustrations and bills of material, for the construction of two larger portable driers, with capacities of 300 to 2,000 lbs. of fruit at a time, to be set up over a stove or furnace in the orchard. All these driers are simple nonpatented machines which can be built from the directions and figures given, by anyone who can use ordinary tools, from rough lumber, and at a very trifling cost. Directions for the preparation of fruits and vegetables for drying, for the operation of the various driers, and for after-care of the various dried products are given.
 The second bulletin describes the construction, equipment, and operation of larger commercial plants, with capacities of 5 to 20 tons of raw material per day. It gives very full and detailed directions for the handling of every fruit and vegetable grown in the Northwest preparatory to drying and in the drier, discusses the types of driers best suited to particular purposes, with costs and bills of materials for the various plants, gives special attention to the construction of labor-saving equipment in the plant and the utilization of waste materials in the making of vinegar, concentrated pectin, jellies, etc. It is the most complete handbook upon the construction and operation of the various types of larger commercial evaporators in print. Either of these publications will be sent upon request, which should make clear which one is desired, made to the Director of the Experiment Station, Pullman, Washington.

It may be pointed out that blackberries, loganberries, raspberries, cherries, currants, peaches, apricots, apples, plums, and prunes, potatoes, carrots, beets, parsnips, cabbage, rhubarb, lettuce, pumpkin, green corn, peas, or beans, and other vegetables and fruits if desired, can be dried upon any one of the driers described in these publications. Materials so dried have one-sixth to one-eighth of the weight of the fresh materials, retain all its food value, are equally palatable if properly prepared for the table, and are strong in demand for transportation to foreign countries. There will consequently be no difficulty in finding a ready market for every pound of properly dried fruits and vegetables which can be produced.

Apple Fed Hogs.
 An experienced pork raiser, who has made money in the process, gives this advice: "In feeding pigs it has to be remembered that the pig does not chew the cud; therefore, when fed apples, the apples should be pulped, otherwise hogs do not develop satisfactorily on an apple ration, fed with shorts. Apple-fed pork has a peculiar nice flavor all its own, and has never to go begging for customers, when a buyer gets apple-fed pork once, he wants it again. A 42 lb. box of cull apples, finely pulped, fed with 6 lbs. shorts into a pair of pure bred pigs of 75 lbs. live weight will make 2 lbs. of pork a day—that is, 1 lb. each pig per day." This authority says that apples in any form, fed to chickens, is the worst feed that a chicken can get. They stop laying eggs

Doings of Peachland

A Weekly Chronicle Furnished By Our Local Representative.

Current Events — OF — Town & District

Mr R. H. King has purchased a fine driving horse.

Mr T. H. Rayner has, in common with a great many ranch owners, found it more convenient to live on his orchard, and moved out last Saturday.

Mr H. T. Davies has learned that his son Sherwood has been invalided back to England to recover from the severe strain of the past few months severe fighting.

It is the intention of the local church to tender a reception some time soon in honor of Pastor and Mrs Ewing, but of this more definite news will be forthcoming.

The free ferry trip across to Summerland to attend church proved attractive last Sunday, and if the patronage continues to be at all favorable, there seems little doubt that this may be regarded as a fixture for at least the summer months.

A fishing party consisting of Mr and Mrs Aikins, Miss Annie Marie Smith, and her cousin Miss Dorothy Robinson, found the trip to and the fishing at Trout Creek very enjoyable on Tuesday last. They report that the fishing is very good indeed.

Mrs H. B. Burtch and Miss Edith Hayward from Kelowna paid their parents a week-end visit. They were accompanied by Mr Hopkins of Kelowna, who was en route to Montreal, where he goes to fill a vacancy in the Bank of Montreal head office. Mr Hopkins went out on Monday over the K.V.R.

Lieut. S. B. Cash was home for the week-end, returning to his duties at Mara Camp on Tuesday.

Rev. W. P. Ewing preached to his Naramata congregation for the first time on Sunday, making, as he said, no stereotyped address, but a sort of get-together talk. A talk along the place the church can and does fill in a community. Mr Ewing was accompanied on his visit by Mr and Mrs Keys and child.

Miss Mayda Williams, after two years absence at Montreal attending the Training School for Deaconesses, expects to leave for a visit home next Monday. In a letter to her mother, Mrs T. I. Williams, there was a hint that it might be that the Lady Superintendent, Miss Bon, would be able to accompany Miss Williams, and to spend at least a part of the summer vacation here.

Mr J. M. Robinson returned from New York on Tuesday evening's boat after an extended absence in the interests of the new process of fruit preserving. Mr Robinson is in the mood of a man who stands on the top of a veritable gold mine of wealth, and if his hopes are anywhere nearly realized, it will be a good thing—in fact the making of Naramata, and incidentally of the Okanagan.

At the annual mid-summer examinations, which begin on Monday, and at which several candidates for the Entrance and Second Year High School will try for positions on the honor roll of knowledge, Miss Maude H. Walker has been asked to preside. It is no small convenience to have these examinations held right in our home school instead of having to journey to Summerland or elsewhere as in other years.

There will be a meeting of the members of the Summerland-Naramata Fruit Union Saturday at 8 p.m. in the old schoolhouse, when General Manager Mr McDowell; Sales Manager, Mr Low, and Vice-President, Mr Allen, of the Okanagan United Growers will explain to the members the Central's position re Pooling.

T. G. BEAVIS, Sec.-Treas.

Naramata Boy Wins Distinction

Word has reached here that Pte. Reg. L. Boothe has been decorated with the coveted honor of the Military Medal for his work as a Scout during the Vimy Ridge battle. Reg. says little as usual about what he is or has been doing, but it is learned that he has been singularly fortunate in escaping the German bullets and bayonets. Of the Scout detail of which he forms a part only three escaped without wounds—or worse.

The regular monthly meeting of the W.C.T.U. was held in the church on Tuesday, June 12th, at three o'clock, with the president, Mrs E. P. Roe presiding. There was a good attendance, and two new members added their names to the roll. After the regular business routine the president offered many suggestions which will no doubt take effect during the year, and therefore add new interest and enthusiasm. The program was as follows: Temperance readings by Mesdames Hayward and Hughes, and a duet sung by Mrs Lyons and Mrs Hayward. The interesting meeting was then brought to a close by singing an old familiar hymn.

Mr W. M. Dryden enjoyed a few days holiday last week, returning on Saturday.

Mr Thomas Powell was a passenger to Vernon on Thursday, returning home on Saturday.

Miss Betty Buchanan was a passenger to Penticton on Wednesday night, returning home on Saturday morning.

Thursday was a bad day for tourists in our district, for two accidents occurred at about the same time. The first accident came to pass when a car containing two ladies and two gentlemen on their way south from Armstrong took the upper road at the bump, and because they were going too quickly could not make the turn, and ran over the edge of the road. A few willing hands, however, helped to get the car back on the road and they went on their way rejoicing that nothing more serious had happened. The other accident was caused by a mud slide which came down just in front of Mr T. Powell's house, and a motor car coming from Summerland had the misfortune to be passing just at this moment and was caught and partly submerged by the slide, as the mud came up so high on the hillside that it ran into the car. It took about three hours to dig the car out.

Mr J. Tait, Mrs Lindsey, and Miss Crossen of Summerland visited town on Thursday.

Mrs W. M. Dryden and Miss Jean visited in Kelowna a couple of days this week, returning on Friday.

Dr Buchanan, Mr A. Town, and Mr Lee Mills were passengers to Kelowna on Saturday, returning the same day.

Miss Nancy Buchanan, who has been working in a munition factory in Vancouver, came home on Saturday for a visit to her parents.

The Trepanier base ball team went to Westbank on Saturday and played the team there, with the result of 2-6 in favor of Westbank. The return match will be played on the Peachland grounds on Saturday the 23rd inst.

Peachland Athletic and Aquatic Association Hold Annual Meeting

The adjourned annual meeting of the Peachland Athletic and Aquatic Association was held in the office of the Fruit Union on Saturday evening. The minutes of the meeting held June 9th were read and approved. The election of officers then took place when the following were elected: Mr H. Hardy was re-elected president; Mr J. G. Robison was elected secy.-treas., with Chas. Morrison assistant; Executive Committee—H. Hardy, L. D. McCall, J. G. Robison. The following resolutions were received and adopted: That Mr E. W. Leeson, H. Keating, Lyle Seaton, W. O. Williams be the Sports Committee.

That the Sports Committee take an inventory of the equipment and find out the cost of repairing the boats, and report to the executive at the meeting called for June 28. That a committee be appointed to try to induce some bank with good connections in the Valley to locate here. This committee was composed of the following gentlemen: Mr E. W. Leeson, H. Hardy, L. D. McCall, W. Urquhart, A. Town, and Reeve Morrison, with full power to act.

That the Peachland Athletic and Aquatic Association take up the matter of civic improvement, and that Messrs Leeson, Hardy, and McCall act in this matter with power to add to their number.

That J. G. Robison be authorized to sign cheques in conjunction with President H. Hardy.

That the subscription fee for the year beginning Feb. 28, 1917, and ending Feb. 28th, 1918, be reduced to 50 cents for seniors and 25 cents for juniors. It is requested that all the old members and as many new as possible will please see the

Patriotic Fund Executive Plan a Canvass for Funds

A meeting of the executive of the Patriotic Fund was held on Monday evening in the reading room of the Presbyterian Church. Revs. W. J. Scott and J. A. Rowland, and Messrs R. J. Hogg and E. Smith, together with the local secretary, Mr A. H. Cutbill, were present. It was arranged that the secretary should divide the district into sections in order to make a canvass for funds. Each member of the executive will canvass one of the districts, and it is hoped that a very liberal response will result.

Mr R. D. McCaw, with a party of helpers, came down from Kelowna in the Kelowna ferry boat on Friday. They are encamped on the Camp Hewitt Flat. Mr McCaw is the engineer in charge of the topographical survey of the whole district. On Friday Mr Skinner took the party across the lake in his gasoline launch to take observations from that side of the lake.

Mrs W. Miller and Mrs. M. N. Morrison were passengers to Kelowna on Thursday, returning the same day.

Miss Olive Ferguson returned home on Friday from Kelowna where she has been visiting for a few weeks.

secretary before the end of June and pay their fees, and so help on the work. As the fee is so low it is expected that a large number will join.

Mr A. Town was instructed to communicate with the bank to ascertain the exact amount of the trust funds belonging to the association.

Mr and Mrs H. H. Thompson drove to the ferry on Saturday and spent the day in Kelowna.

Mrs W. Lupton, who, with her three children, has been visiting her parents for some time returned to Kelowna on Monday.

The Dominion Government is making a change in the lighthouse across the lake by installing gas instead of oil. The foreman in charge of the work came in last night, and is busy making the change at the Squally Point lighthouse. This ought to make a big difference in the strength of the light.

Thirty-three citizens of Naramata took advantage of the opportunity to attend divine service, and this addition to the regular congregation was greatly appreciated by preacher and congregation. The present seating capacity of the church was almost fully occupied.

A special memorial service was held last Sunday evening in the Parkdale Baptist Church in honor of the late Pte. George Harwood, the first of the congregation to give up his life in the great war. The principal speaker of the evening was Mr. W. C. Kelley. Mr. G. J. C. White also gave a brief address. Appropriate music was provided by a large choir. Born in Michigan, the deceased came to Alberta at the age of 6 years with his parents. Several years ago the family removed to Summerland. Pte. Harwood had been in the army about a year, and served in France about three months before his death.

Miss Anna Lister, now a nurse in the Hospital at Golden, is expected home to-night.

Mrs. Ira Law, at one time a resident of Summerland, but now living at Kelowna, is the guest of Mrs. Elsey.

Inspector Anstey was a visitor to the district early this week. He is making a special round, inspecting the entrance classes.

The Cadillac car, taken by Mr. Muir Steuart as part payment for a Chevrolet, has been purchased by Mr. Wm. Ritchie, who will convert it into a truck.

After a stay of only a few days here, Mr. A. H. Steven has returned to Armstrong. This time he was accompanied by Mrs. Steven and family. They expect to be away for several weeks.

In a recent letter to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Phinney, Mrs. Ward Shaver (nee Miss Helen Phinney) informs them that she is leaving Portland, Ore., at once for Philadelphia, where Mr. Shaver has accepted a position.

We have recently been making a revision of our mailing lists. Several names have been removed because the subscribers were in arrears and renewals did not come in in response to our notices. There are a few others whom we will be forced to treat likewise unless renewals are received at once.

The Review is advised by Mr. G. Marshall that he was wrongly reported when we stated that he, as spokesman for the citizens who awaited on the School Board on Friday, June 8th, demanded that the dismissed teacher be reinstated. He says that he felt sure that nothing would be accomplished by the visit to the School Board other than letting them know the opinion they as citizens held.

Saving the Surplus.

HOME CANNING OF VEGETABLES IS PRACTICABLE AND NECESSARY.

The shortage of labor and the scarcity and high price of tin cans has very materially reduced the output and increased the cost of canned vegetables; so much so, in fact, as to make some lines almost prohibitive to the average family. There is little reason, however, for any Canadian family not providing a sufficient supply for next winter. Home canning of vegetables is a simple matter; when put up in ordinary glass jars, securely sealed, they are equal if not superior to the factory brand, and the cost is much lower.

Peas, string beans, sweet corn, pumpkins, beets, tomatoes, and all vegetables which will not keep without cooking, may be canned.

After cleaning and preparing the vegetables to be preserved, they are enclosed in a cheesecloth bag and parboiled for five minutes. They are then dipped in cold water, packed in glass jars, boiling water poured over them to fill up all crevices, and the lids loosely adjusted. The jars are then placed in an ordinary boiler filled with water, with plates or dish covers to prevent the jars touching the bottom of the boiler, and are allowed to boil steadily for 3 1/2 hours. When lifted from the boiler, the lids must be screwed down tight, and the jars allowed to gradually cool, care being taken that they are not exposed to drafts, as a sudden cooling may crack the glass.

Vegetables thus canned will keep and be a welcome addition to the table in lieu of the high-priced canned goods, and the surplus supply of vegetables, which otherwise might be wasted, will be conserved.

A report from Toronto states that Lance-Corporal Cresswell of Peachland is on his way home on his first leave.

Notice of acceptance by the School Board of the application of Miss McEwen, whom the Board was strongly recommended to engage, was sent too late. Before Secretary Bowering's letter reached her, she had accepted a position in the Boundary district.

From Our Soldiers
To the Home Comfort Club.

Below are several of the letters received recently by Mrs. K. S. Hogg, secretary of the Home Comfort Club. They are all full of interest for Summerland readers, each giving a personal contact with the big job that has fallen to this generation to complete and each gives a glimpse of some phase of the task. Beside those published the club has also recently received grateful acknowledgment of valued parcels received by W. J. Beattie, Wm. Clark, J. B. Woods, J. R. Graham, H. Sculthorpe, all in France, and B. A. Blair, in England. W. J. Tullett, at forestry work in Scotland, J. Maguire, cooking in a camp in England, and W. Atkinson and P. Agur both in English hospitals:

WOUNDED SOLDIER GIVING INSTRUCTIONS.
7th Reserve Batt.,
Seaford, Sussex.

I want to acknowledge again with many thanks the parcel from the Summerland Home Comfort Club received a short time ago. The club is certainly doing well in making up so many parcels for the Summerland boys. Judging by the letters I have seen in Reviews sent me, the efforts of the club are quite appreciated.

Last week I was over instructing some of the boys in the 231st Kilties. They are from Vancouver, or rather all over B.C. A fine looking lot of fellows. Are all away on leave at present.

B.C. has done wonderfully well in sending over troops. The Bantams are still here.

Well, good luck to the Home Comfort Club, and kindest regards to the people of Summerland.

Sincerely Yours,
F. L. BLACK,
L.-Corporal.

B.C. IS BEST.
Seaford, Sussex.

Your very welcome parcel from the club arrived about one week ago. Believe me it sure was appreciated. Unfortunately we cannot express all our feelings in writing, and if I was to even try and tell you how much we appreciate your parcels it would take several books.

This country is so different from our own that the novelty keeps things from getting rather monotonous. But we forget ourselves at times and start comparing the two, and that is when we think most of home and what it means.

Soldiering is a very fine life, but it gets rather tiresome at times. Especially in a reserve battalion. It means the same routine day in and day out. Of course we are all living in hopes of going to France, but according to Isaiah, "Hope deferred maketh the heart sick." Our time is coming though, and perhaps all too soon.

The life here was at first rather interesting, there were so many new things to do and get used to. Now they are getting stale and don't appeal to us so much.

I have met quite a few Summerland boys since I came. The 231st are coming into this camp, so I will probably meet quite a few boys

GOOD JUDGMENT.

France, April 25.
Will you please accept and convey to those who are responsible for my having received a parcel this week, my thanks and appreciation of their kindness. It helps a lot to receive anything from home these days, and makes you look forward all the more keenly to the day when you may have a chance to return and live among those who do not forget you even in these days when there are so many to remember.

The contents of the package show good judgment. Everything was in perfect condition.

Yours truly,
R. G. TAIT.

EXCELLENT PROSPECTS OF GOOD FRUIT CROP.

not possible to have a special separate brand for the apples of the district, and there being advertised and sold to those who want them and will pay the extra price. There were reasons for making this request. We are peculiarly situated for producing apples of high quality. Our apples are excellent keepers. They cost more to produce, and it is necessary to get a larger price. He had certain proofs that there was a special demand for our apples, more so than for other apples. With those facts in mind our farmers felt that they should get the advantage, or have it proven to them that there is no such advantage. To Mr White's contentions Mr McDowell replied that with the district inspection which will be enforced this year, one cannot get more than another for the same variety and grade. Prairie buyers had been especially asked if apples from one part of the Valley would bring more than another, and if Kelowna onions were worth more than Armstrong onions. Replies were always in the negative. Other districts also lay claim to superiority of products. Salmon Arm says they do not have to irrigate, and produce a better and longer keeping apple.

Several local growers offered evidence of the exceptional keeping qualities of Summerland apples. Mr White stated that the apples that kept the best at the San Francisco Fair were from Summerland. Last year's practice of using our apples to sell poor apples had worked injustice and made hard feeling.

The growers were assured by Mr McDowell that a different plan had been adopted, one that would give justice to all. Mr Simpson stated that the Central executive were confident that Summerland would be well satisfied at the end of the year. Mr Young, who had expressed some dissatisfaction, said that it would be all right if the Central sold each variety separately, according to grade. Further assurance was given by Mr McDowell that there would be a thorough inspection.

Last year if fruit was wrongly marked, it was marked down a grade. This year such fruit would be sent back or repacked at the expense of the local. An assistant inspector will be put on during the busy season.

The present policy of the Union regarding food sales, was discussed in a general way by the members, but no resolutions or suggestions were proposed.

Speechless amazement is one of the few things that go without saying.

ABSENT-MINDED STATESMAN.

It is said that Mr Birrell, the late Irish Secretary, is the most absent-minded man alive; likewise he has lost more umbrellas than there are days in the year. Recently he went out to a luncheon, desperately clutching a brand new umbrella. "This doesn't belong to me," he announced. "I borrowed it." "Tie it to the table leg," one friend suggested. "Get the waiter to hold it for you," another volunteered. "Have 'em put it in the safe," a third advised. Mr Birrell ignored them all. He placed the umbrella on the floor and planted both feet firmly upon it to the hilarious delight of his friends. Then when he had finished his luncheon he—walked away and left it.

IT'S MOSTLY UP TO YOU.

When the world's a-goin' crooked,
Or it looks that way to you—
Somehow seems to be a tangle
To 'most ever' thing you do;
When you start out of a mornin'
With your luck a-runnin' wrong,
The birds along your pathway
Have a harshness in their song
And the grass, though soft as velvet
You will sort o' stumble through,
Sich times if you want things better
Friend, it's mostly up to you.

'Taint hard smilin' with the sunshino,
But it's durin' stormy spells,
When our weary feet are slippin',
That the stuff what's in us tells.
No—you won't have flowers allus
In the paths you travel through;
Still, if you'd have things better,
Friend, it's mostly up to you.

An exchange prints the following list of words ending in "ough," and adds the pronunciation of the more obscure words, so far as ascertainable from the dictionaries: Messrs Gough (goff), Hough (huff) and Clough (cloff), though tough enough, thought through the day that they would visit Mr Brough (broo), who, having a hicough (hiceup) and a cough, lived in a clough (cluff or clou), with plenty of dough and a tame chough (chuff), kept near a plough in a rough trough, hung to a bow over a lough (loch). A slough (sluff) of the bank into the slough (sloo) injured his thoroughbred's hough (hoek). No wonder the foreigner shudders at those four terrible letters.
