Ownership of Local Roads

Council Issues Order to Undo Tangle.

Prepares By-Law to Raise Money for School Purposes.

The issuing of an innocent looking order to the municipal constable was the occasion of a vigorous protest including a threat from a private citizen to close up one of our most used thoroughfares.

At a meeting of the Council held on December 21 Coun. Johnston inquired if an order issued a year ago to the constable to open fences on a piece of unused roadway near the Experimental Farm had been carried out. He was informed that the constable had not opened the fence, and, with practically no discussion the order was repeated, the purpose being to assure retention of title in the municipality. When the Council met on the afternoon of December 31st, with all members present except Coun. Johnston, W. C. Kelley, J. R. Brown, and Duncan Woods entered a protest against the action of the Council in so ordering the fence removed.

From the statements made it would appear that the old road as once used running west from James Gartrell's home trespassed on private property and came out on to Trout Creek at the point where the bridge now gives access to the Experimental Farm. Mr Woods stated that when he fenced this property the road running west was thrown into an impossible position on to the face of the cliff. The land which he sold Mr Brown extended east to include a part of the property now within the Thornber fence. As it was impossible to use the road along the north and west of the Brown property, Mr Brown, at his own expense, built a road across his lot from north to south, and another, apparently on Mr Woods' land, along the south side of the Brown lot. This latter road gives approach to Mr Brown's old orchard and to the Experimental Farm as well as other properties. The road which he cut across his lot from north to south is now a link in the main thoroughfare running north and south through the Valley. A portion of the old road along the north, and all of that along the west side of his lot has been fenced in by Mr Brown, and it was these fences that were ordered opened. Mr Brown could see no purpose to be gained by this action, claiming that more valuable land was now occupied as roadways, which roadways were of much greater service to the public. He intimated if the Council maintained its right to remove the fence mentioned that he would fence the road running south from Gartrell's corner.

Acting for interested parties Mr Kelley also took part in the discussion. A copy of a registered plan which was laid on the table by the clerk showed those roads, but it was maintained that the owners had at no time surrendered title. The outcome of the discussion was an instruction to the clerk to take action necessary to obtaining title to the used roads and to surrender to Mr Brown the abandoned roads.

By-Law No. 100, a money by-law asked for by the School Board to spread the cost of the addition to the High School building over a period of five years, was advanced through the third reading, and is being published in this issue.

An application was received from Thomas Figgis to use a section of road immediately south of R. H. English's old stable. Mr Figgis offered to pay $10.00 per year rental. This section of roadway has been used by Mr English for several years, but an inquiry from one of the members of the Finance Committee made it appear doubtful that he had been billed for the rental.

Presses For Free Ferry.

Messrs F. A. C. Wright, H. A. Solly, P. G. Koop, and R. E. White met with Secretary Lees of the Board of Trade on Monday, having been appointed a special committee to express the views of the Summerland Board of Trade respecting the Kelowna-Westbank ferry. The result of the meeting was the preparation of correspondence on the importance of the government maintaining this essential link in the Okanagan highway as a free ferry, to be sent to the Minister of Public Works and Mr J. W. Jones, member for South Okanagan. The Boards of Trade at Vernon and Kamloops were asked to give this question their support and to bring the importance of it before their respective members.

A letter for publication in Vancouver dailies was also decided upon, Mr F. A. C. Wright being asked to attend to this. Mr Wright, who is a member of the Vancouver Automobile Club, offered to bring the situation in this Valley officially to the attention of that club, soliciting their support to Summerland's request to the government.

Receiving Day With Manual Training Director

A large number of citizens availed themselves of the opportunity afforded to inspect the manual training room through the special invitation issued by Director Baker, who opened the room on New Year's Day. Serving of tea by the Red Cross ladies added greatly to a pleasant afternoon. Many went away with a much better understanding and greater appreciation of the work that is being carried on by Mr Baker. Some elementary models, made by the boys, were on exhibition, but that which attracted much attention and was the subject of much admiration was the really wonderful work done in wood by Director Baker. Of this we hope to have something more to say later.

During a good part of the afternoon the manual training room and one of the other class rooms, where tea was served, were comfortably crowded, and we are sure that manual training will have many boosters after what was seen and explained on Wednesday.

Review Publishing One Day Earlier.

The Review will be published one day earlier than usual next week. This is being done in order to insure the placing in the hands of all the ratepayers of Summerland the auditors' report and financial statement of the Corporation for the year just ended.

It was the wish of the Council that the statement should have been published in this issue, but the copy was received too late to make this possible. In order to get the statement in the hands of the ratepayers well in advance of the annual meeting the publishers have decided that the paper should "come out" a day earlier. Advertisers and correspondents please take note.

The Council thought it only fair to give Mr English an opportunity to pay rent in arrears and to continue to use the property at the rent offered if he chose. It was further suggested that rent of this and similar properties should be billed in advance.

After the minutes of the meeting were written up they were read and approved, as this will probably be the last meeting of the 1918 Council.

Crops Steadily Bulking Larger From Growing Orchards.

Indications Are All "To The Good" For Next Season's Output.

Shipments of fruits and vegetables from Summerland, Peachland, and Naramata during 1918 have been variously estimated. A few weeks ago there was published in these columns a statement to the effect that Summerland's exports would total a half million dollars and perhaps six hundred thousand dollars. Since that time various calculations have been made, and lists compiled, and one statement made the total $635,000. More recently a further computation of the shipments priced at figures, believed to be well within the mark, and checked up by returns received through the Union, made a total value of shipments from Summerland for 1918 of $552,000. Possibly higher prices in some instances than these that have been used in our estimate have been obtained, especially by those growers who have shipped direct to consumers.

This total is the value of fruit and early vegetables, and includes onions and some potatoes held in store for shipment. It does not take into account exports of lumber, pork, cattle or any other live stock, nor farm produce, of which item lumber would be the chief. Apples bulk largest both as tonnage and value. Total shipments of apples, including those in storage to be shipped are 142,000 boxes, valued at $256,000, exclusive of apples shipped by express.

Next in value comes apricots, the total shipments of which will probably run close to $50,000, including express shipments, shipments of apricots which we have been able to trace, including cannery stuff, totalling almost $45,000.

Peach shipments, which had been diminishing rapidly for some years, took an upward turn in value in the season just ended, 31,000 packages being shipped, bringing an estimated return of $32,500.

There were 92 carloads of tomatoes shipped from here, a conservative valuation being $30,000.

Cherry shipments run just over $20,000. Prunes and plums nearly $14,000. Crabapples $6,870, pears $17,200. Melons, cucumbers, peppers, egg plants, and other products generally termed as early vegetables, exclusive of tomatoes, make nearly an even $30,000.

No attempt has been made to segregate the various items included in the express shipments of the numerous growers who ship direct to consumers. There were more than eighty such shippers this season, and we believe a very conservative valuation of the express shipments will place the total at $90,000 or more.

Onions shipped and awaiting shipment, and some potatoes sacked ready for shipment, will add another $10,000 to the total, the balance being made up of sundry other items such as currants, raspberries, grapes, pickling onions, etc.

A short time ago we published in detail a statement of the shipments made by the Peachland Fruit Growers' Union. Since then we have obtained what we believe to be a fairly accurate line on shipments from Peachland through other channels, and a conservative valuation of all the shipments from that point make a total of $130,000. It is not improbable that the actual returns, together with shipments that may have escaped us, will make this total somewhat higher.

The same may be said of our calculations of the shipments from Naramata where actual details of the various shippers had not been obtained. Shipments from that point, however, we believe have a total value of at least $110,000, possibly considerably more.

It can be safely said, therefore, that from all three points, Peachland, Summerland, and Naramata, so closely associated in their relations, not less than $800,000 worth of orchard and garden products have been sent out of the Valley this year.

Some of the principal growers and others familiar with the orchards of the districts mentioned above say all indications are that crops in 1919 will be greatly in excess of those produced in 1918, which was considered an off year. It is not probable that there will be any great reduction, if any, in prices, so that returns totalling well over three quarters of a million may be expected for Summerland's fruit crop, with proportionate increases at Naramata and Peachland.

Figures covering the shipments of the Valley were published by the Vernon News recently, but they were very much wide of the mark as regards Summerland, Naramata, and Peachland. Penticton and Kelowna have also claimed that the figures so published were much short of the actual shipments from these points. In a summary Summerland is credited with shipments valuing $301,000; Naramata $21,000. Peachland does not appear in this list, but all three would share in the $130,000 made up by L.C.L. shipments. Peachland and Naramata, and especially Summerland, would also take a large slice of the $279,000 "express from lake points, mainly from Kelowna and Summerland." Summerland would also take the largest portion of the $76,000 "apples still unshipped." In this list Penticton is given credit for $136,000, but this amount was added to later, following an article on the subject by the Penticton Herald. The total value of the Vernon News list was under $4,000,000. Later figures, which we must take as authentic, make the total exports from the Valley close to five million dollars.

A Christmas Treat

St Andrew's Sunday School entertainment was held in Campbell's Hall on Monday, December 23rd. The place was nicely filled with the parents and friends of the children, and Mr J. L. Logie, superintendent, submitted a very interesting variety program which was effectively rendered by the scholars. Each class was responsible for its own contribution. The readings and recitations, singing and dialogues were greatly enjoyed. Mr J. O. Smith rendered an Irish song in such an acceptable manner that he simply brought down the house. His son, Jack, who accompanied him, responded to the prolonged encores for further selections at the piano.

Fraser Lister, in his splendid voice, greatly delighted the audience with his singing of an original song on local matters to the tune of "There's Nae Luck About the House," and was heartily encored.

A special word of praise is due to Miss Harrison, who put on the tableau, "The Love Sorial of a Bachelor," also to the boys and girls who delighted the audience with the one act comedy entitled, "The Suffragette." The pastor, after contributing an unique vocal selection, thanked the scholars for the very interesting evening given to them, after which Santa Claus, in his own original way, delighted and satisfied the children with his gifts.

Urge Building of C.N.R. Branch

That the Okanagan is thoroughly aroused to the necessity of making every possible effort to secure the speedy construction of the Canadian Northern branch between Kamloops and Kelowna with a spur to the Lumby district was evidenced in a striking manner on Friday. Under the auspices of the Vernon Board of Trade a largely attended convention was held here that day at which delegates were present from Kamloops, Armstrong, Spallumcheen, Coldstream, Lumby, Oyama, Okanagan Centre, and Kelowna. The expression of opinion from the meeting was embodied in a resolution, passed unanimously, that a delegation be sent east to press this matter upon the Board of C.N.R. directors and the Ottawa Government. The resolution was also supported by the Okanagan Farmers' Institute, and the local branch of the United Farmers of B.C.—Vernon News.

The News states in another article that the Vernon Board of Trade has chosen Dr K. C. McDonald, M.L.A., and A. Cochrane as representing Vernon on the deputation to visit Ottawa.

Says Municipal Finances Are Much Improved

Mr. M. J. Crehan, who, with his assistants have completed the audit of the municipal books, met the Finance Committee by special appointment on Saturday afternoon. The statement in uncomplete form was reviewed, and Mr Crehan congratulated the municipality upon the improved condition of its finances. The one unsatisfactory feature of the situation is the unpaid taxes and rates. Fortunately, however, these are less than formerly, but still a serious handicap on the economic operating of public business. Mr Crehan emphasized the point that the taxpayers who fail to meet their obligations when due are a serious burden upon those who pay promptly, notwithstanding the fact that the former are charged with interest. He urged that this matter be remedied as quickly as possible. Favorable note was made of the marked improvement in the condition of the Sinking Fund.

S.S. Entertainment a Great Success

The splendid program given in Empire Hall last Friday night surprised many by its excellence and especially by the thorough training and preparation that the participants had received. The entertainment throughout was one to delight young and old, being light, interesting, and maintaining throughout the Christmas spirit. The first part of the evening was occupied by Mr and Mrs Santa Claus and their family. The first scene being their home, where messages were being received from and presents being prepared for the children on the earth below. A brief visit by Mr and Mrs Santa Claus on their way to earth to Fairy Borderland where the fairies were in evidence as they were in the first instance gave opportunity to bring in many of the characters so popular to childhood including Cinderella, Jack and Jill, Bo-Peep, Boy Blue, Red Riding Hood, Little Miss Muffet, etc.

Very great credit is due to Miss Evelyn Brown and Messrs S. F. Sharp and G. Thornber for the thorough training they had given the young people, particularly in the singing of choruses and the dancing.

The latter part of the program was given over to an old-time minstrel show with S. F. Sharp as interlocutor and the leading spirit.

The Customs Postal Service

Prompt Action Taken by Board of Trade.

Commissioner of Customs Orders Investigation.

The Board of Trade have promptly taken up with the authorities the termination of the postal customs service here. Secretary Lees on Monday wired both the Minister of Customs, Ottawa, and Hon. Martin Burrell, Secretary of State, and a member for this constituency in the Federal House. Replies have been received to both these messages. The Board of Trade's telegrams and the replies are given here.

Hon. Martin Burrell, Sec. of State, Ottawa, Ont.

Citizens of Summerland protest against the termination of the postal custom service here. They refuse to tolerate such an insult to the community, and will have to travel 10 miles for the smallest customs package. They demand the immediate reestablishment of the service and urge you as their representative, to take this up with the minister at once.

C. W. LEES, Sec. of the Board of Trade.

Reply. Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 2nd.

C. W. Lees, Esq., Sec. Board of Trade, Summerland, B.C.

In Mr Burrell's absence have seen commissioner of customs who says inspector has been instructed to make full report.

WM. IDE, Private Secretary.

Dec. 30th., 1918.

Minister of Customs, Ottawa, Ont.

Citizens of Summerland request an explanation of the termination of the postal customs service here. They protest strongly against being forced to travel 10 miles for smallest customs packages and refuse to tolerate such an affront. They demand the immediate reestablishment of the service.

C. W. LEES, Sec. Board of Trade.

Reply. Ottawa, Jan. 2nd., 1919.

C. W. Lees, Esq., Sec. Board of Trade, Summerland, B.C.

Duty on postal parcels may be sent by mail to Penticton. Customs collector will then forward parcels to Summerland for delivery. Inspector instructed to investigate.

JOHN McDOUGALL, Commissioner of Customs.

Jack Hale Dead.

A victim of influenza, John W. Hale, until about two years ago a resident of Trout Creek, died at Sedro-Wooley, Washington, where his wife's people live, and near which he took up farm land. Besides his wife he leaves three children. He was a member of the Summerland Court of Canadian Order of Foresters, and, we are informed, was planning to sell out and return to Summerland.

A number of very good jokes of local interest were introduced. Here again careful training was apparent, chief credit for which is, no doubt, due to Messrs Sharp and Thornber.

G. Thornber made a very capable Santa Claus, and equally pleasing was the part taken by Miss Brown as Mrs Santa Claus.

The net proceeds, about $50, will be added to the Armenian Relief Fund.

THE MORE CAREFULLY the question of ferry service on this lake and the subject of ferries generally is looked into the more is the action of Summerland, Kelowna, and other Okanagan centres in demanding a free ferry service between Westbank and Kelowna justified. Several months ago this subject was touched upon in this column when it was pointed out that numerous ferries giving almost continuous service were maintained by the government as links in the highways of the lower mainland. We have since been informed that there is at least one free ferry maintained in the south-eastern portion of the province, not as important as that in the Okanagan. Yet another instance might be offered in support of our request. Across the Skeena River at Terrace there is operated a ferry service free of charge to the public to give connection between Terrace and the bit of road which terminates in the wilderness about fourteen miles from the river. If the government operates a ferry such as this, on what grounds can it refuse to accede to the reasonable demands we put forward that the Kelowna-Westbank ferry, a vital link in the much-travelled Okanagan highway, be operated at provincial expense?

SAVING, A NATIONAL POLICY.

THE SAVING OF MONEY, which was considered wise policy during the war, must be continued by Canadians through the period of reconstruction. As a people we must save in order to preserve. It will take some time to pay the cost of the war. Besides, that great struggle brought national burdens in the form of huge interest charges and pensions that will long remain. These can be successfully carried only as our people save.

Fortunately to-day saving is made easy. The cost of the great war has demonstrated to every one the absolute necessity of it. The heavy taxes that have followed and will remain are a constant reminder that economy and saving are essential to the welfare of the nation. These influences have prepared the way for the introduction of national saving plans.

The Canadian War Savings Plan is so devised as to make saving easy on the part of all, no matter how small may be their earning power. The rate of interest, which is a little over 4½ per cent, compounded half-yearly is good. Four dollars invested in a War Savings Stamp during December or January will bring $5.00 in January, 1924. There is no risk. Nothing could be safer than Canada, and Canada stands behind the War Savings Stamps.

WE HAVE UNWITTINGLY OFFENDED the civic pride of our esteemed friend, Editor Walker of Enderby. In paying his community a compliment, as we thought, by drawing something of a comparison between Enderby and Summerland with regard to public school matters, this time to the advantage of the former, we quite innocently, we can assure him, spoiled the whole thing by referring to the Northern Okanagan community as "the little town of Enderby." After quoting at length our comments on the progressiveness of Enderby's public school, our good friend says:

"The little town of Enderby!" Well, by gum! The trouble is, Editor White hasn't been out of Summerland since he attended the editorial convention in Vancouver four months ago, and at that time he got the idea bumped into him that street cars and show windows make a city. Gee! There's no accounting for some editorial nerve. And he's a very mild man, too!"

Our apologies to friend Walker and his city. Perhaps some day we shall be invited to a convention in the "City of Enderby," and then we shall know what makes a city.

"LET US VISUALISE a march of the British dead down Fifth Avenue," suggests a writer in the New York Tribune in an endeavor to make the staggering casualty lists of the war more real than mere figures can make them. "At daybreak they start, 20 abreast. Until sundown they march . . . and the next day, and the next, and the next. For ten days the British dead pass in review. For eleven days the French dead file down 'the Avenue of the Allies.' For the Russians it would require the daylight of five weeks more. Two months and a half would be required for the allied dead to pass a given point. The enemy dead would require more than six weeks." For four months men actually killed in the war, passing steadily twenty abreast—the writer suggests, as a fitting punishment for the late German kaiser, that he be forced to stand at attention and review this stupendous, ghastly procession, from the first rank to the last."

DOES THE RELEASE OF millions of pounds of wool by the governments of Canada and the United States mean lower prices and the return of woollen goods to something like pre-war figures? It is not likely, but let us hope that it will result in a material come-down from prices that only the rich can pay.

THIRTY MILLION CANS, nearly one half of California's 1918 pack of canned tomatoes, have been reserved for government uses, while the entire output of solid pack tomatoes will be taken by the government.

RECENT STATISTICS issued by the United States show that that country has a big surplus of wheat as compared with the 1917 crop. More than twice as much wheat and greatly increased stocks of all other cereals were in elevator warehouses and mills in December as at the same time a year ago.

A LONDON CABLE states that some choice British Columbia apples sold in the Christmas market there for $1 each. Probably Golden Russets, says the Daily Province.

BY RECENT ACTION of the United States Government the price of wheat on this continent for the 1919 crop is almost sure to be maintained at present prices.

One of the most successful of the dances held in Empire Hall was that of New Year's Eve, for so the dance was pronounced by a number who attended. It is the practice of quite a few residents of Penticton to attend such dances here, and some of those who attended the New Year's Eve dance were heard to say that it was the best they had ever attended here. Splendid music was furnished by the Bing Boys' Orchestra, and the floor was in good shape. The attendance was very satisfactory, and after midnight, at which time a number who had been attending a private dance in the Parish Hall, joined the merry makers, the big floor was almost crowded. A committee of men dispensed refreshments, in the providing of which the members of the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary assisted. At midnight lights were dimmed and the dancers all joined hands and sang "Auld Lang Syne." Dancing continued until 3 o'clock. The proceeds, after expenses are paid, will be donated to the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary.

Peachland Doings

A Weekly Chronicle Furnished By Our Local Representative.

Mr and Mrs Christian of Kelowna visited Mrs Robert Howell on Tuesday of this week, taking her back home with them to have Christmas dinner. They came by motor, and after the Christmas dinner they brought Mrs Howell home again, spent the night here, and afterwards went on down the lake for a short trip.

Owing to so much sickness there were no services or concerts for Christmas this year, and in fact many homes had a very quiet time on this occasion, but there were a number of pleasant gatherings around the various turkeys and chickens which had been prepared for the festivities.

On Thursday of last week Mr G. B. Phillips left to resume his duties for the Osborne Art Calendar Co. Mrs Phillips is remaining here for a time.

After having joined their family here for the Christmas festivities, Mr and Mrs Kirkby with Miss Annie Margaret left by Thursday afternoon's boat to their home in Penticton. Mr Kirkby expected to be home only a short time when he intended returning to Vancouver to continue his work there in the shipyards, having been at that work for some time now.

Mr W. D. Miller spent a day or two at home, and enjoyed his Christmas dinner with his family here, returning to his work by Thursday afternoon's boat.

Mr and Mrs J. B. Robinson and George motored to Summerland to spend Christmas as guests in the R. C. Lipsett home there. They were accompanied by Miss Whitman.

Mr G. Keyes and a couple of assistants have been doing some repairs on the bridge over the gulch near Mr J. Brown's home. The bridge is again safe for traffic, the stringers having been replaced by new ones, and the planking spiked down solid again.

Having spent a few days with her parents here during the Christmas week, Mrs. W. Lupton with her family left on Friday morning to return to their home in Kelowna.

Mr Will Aitkens was a passenger leaving on Friday morning's boat to spend a few days at up the lake points.

After having been in quarantine for some time at the home of her brother in Summerland, Miss Newby was released and returned to Peachland on Friday morning of last week to pack her trunk and bid good-bye to her various friends here before leaving for her home in Sardis, B.C. She does not expect to return for the next term.

Mr and Mrs A. J. Miller were passengers arriving on the Friday evening boat after a short trip up the lake.

Mr A. Pope returned home on Friday morning of last week after having enjoyed the Christmas festive season with his daughter and her husband in Summerland.

Friends of Miss Ireland will learn with regret the sad news of the death of her sister shortly after her arrival home after leaving here. When she left here Miss Ireland expected to return and resume her work with the school here, but we understand the death of her sister has changed her plans so she may not return.

Another very sad occurrence was the death on Friday of last week of one of our popular young ladies of the town in the person of Miss Alleen Clements, oldest daughter of Mr and Mrs J. H. Clements, one of our local merchants. Miss Clements was very well known by everyone in the place, having always taken a prominent hand in helping her father attend the shop. Death came after an illness of about two weeks. The funeral was held on Sunday, with a service in the Anglican Church, conducted by Rev. H. A. Solly of Summerland, and a short ceremony at the grave side. The bereaved family have the deep sympathy of the entire community, as was shown by the large attendance at the funeral in spite of the fact that it was a cold day.

Mr E. Fulton was a passenger arriving on Saturday night last after having been some time at Westbank doing carpenter work.

Mrs Stevens and her family were visitors to Kelowna on Saturday last returning on the evening boat.

Miss Gladys McCall spent the week-end in town visiting her relatives here, resuming her post on the boat again on Monday morning.

Friends here of Ex-Gov. Bulyea will learn with regret of an automobile accident in which he received some injuries, but we understand he is getting along nicely now.

Mr J. G. Robison is enjoying a short holiday from his post in the Union, and left on Monday morning last with his wife and her sister, the latter having been spending a week or two here, to enjoy a visit in Vernon. During his absence Mr A. D. Ferguson is looking after the business for the Union.

Mr G. Keyes and Mrs G. B. Phillips motored to Summerland and back on Monday last.

Mrs Robert Howell came home on Monday last after having spent a short time visiting friends.

After enjoying a few days here with her parents Mr and Mrs W. J. Moore, Mrs T. Cartwright left on Tuesday morning to return to her home at Okanagan Landing. She was accompanied by her daughter, Miss Margaret, and son, Charles Verey.

Mrs Vivian and Miss R. Law with their mother were passengers leaving on Tuesday evening's boat. They go to Penticton to visit as guests at the home of Mr Everett Law of that city, and enjoy the New Year festivities there.

We had a visit this past week from Mr and Mrs Crehan and Messrs Martin and Phillips, representing the firm of Crehan, Martin & Co. of Vancouver, municipal auditors and chartered accountants. They were auditing the municipal and other books in town.

The Co-Operative Fruit Growers, doing a local fruit shipping business at Penticton, did a shipping business this year valued at $53,420 as compared with $31,395 in 1917, according to a statement published in the Penticton Herald. In 1917 that concern shipped 25,057 packages, in 1918 36,643. The returns made were net to the growers at their own gates, all hauling charges being carried by charges against the various pools. Prices paid for apples ranged from 2 to 2½ cents for winter apples, as high as 4 cents, in one instance, for fall apples. 3½ cents was paid for No. 1 pears; 3 cents for crabapples. No. 1 tomatoes brought 3 cents; No. 2s, 2 cents. Peaches ranged from 1½ cents to 4½ cents. Cherries from 7½ to 15½ cents, the average price being just over 10 cents.

Dear Sir:

A few weeks ago through the medium of your valuable paper I ventured my opinion as to the Ayrshire being the best breed for dairy purposes. Perhaps I might now, with your permission, give a description of the typical Ayrshire cow, so here goes. Beginning at the head—a large but firm mouth, large open nose, from nose to eyes, nice and clean cut, large bright eyes, nice broad forehead, rather (dish face), hollow, nice slender neck put neatly into well-shaped shoulders; throat and under neck nice and full, but without any superfluous skin; from head to hind-quarters a nice gradual increase; again from shoulder down a gradual broadening out, a good, wide, deep, chest, spine rather large and prominent, long and well-sprung ribs, body rather long and deep, wide and strong across the loins, thighs rather thin and hollow, nice large well-shaped udder well up into loins and pointing nicely forward underneath, covered with fine soft hair and nice and springy to handle, veins from udder running up to milk wells, large and tortuous, and entering milk wells a little in front of milk holes; tail nice and slender, with end of bone coming right down to point of hooks.

Above-named points explained: The large firm mouth indicates a good appetite and good feeder; the wide, open nose, good lung power; the bright, prominent eyes show high nervous constitution; the slender and racy neck as opposed to the thick beef type; the broad, dish face forehead, to give a good feminine appearance; the rather prominent, loose-jointed spine is indicative of high nervous power; the gradual slope or increase to hind quarters gives the nice wedge-shaped body. The long, well-sprung ribs and rather long, deep body—a good store room for plenty of food; the loins wide and strong across to keep the body nice and strong; the thin and rather hollow thighs, as opposed to the beef type; and the hollow wall in for the large, well-shaped udder; the udder itself well up into the loins; the nice soft hair for protection from chills; the large, tortuous milk veins as good conductors from said udder. Finally, the body itself rather deep and well-shaped, standing on nice, strong clean legs pull well underneath.

Sincerely yours, HILLMAN.

P.S.—You've got the cow—now you want the feed.

(From the Penticton Herald.)

At the present rates charged by the country newspapers of the province it has been estimated that they should carry about sixty-five per cent. of advertising to thirty-five per cent. of news in their columns in order to bring any reasonable return on the investment. While rates and conditions vary, and it would be difficult to lay down a hard and fast rule, it may be safely said that any newspaper charging the average contract rate for display, such as twenty-five to thirty-five cents per inch, is not making expenses if it carries less than fifty per cent. of advertising. Any papers charging less than twenty-five cents per inch are faring much worse, unless they carry a very high proportion of advertising.

The following figures showing the average percentage of advertising carried by a number of the up-country papers in a series of publication days covering not only the exceptional and extra advertising, such as the Victory Loan, but the "day in and day out" volume, should prove illuminating. They will indicate at all events about how far short the interior weekly comes of making expenses these days, apart altogether from the question of obtaining a profit. The Kamloops Standard-Sentinel and one Kelowna paper in the period under examination carried fifty per cent. advertising; the Vernon News, Penticton Herald, and Trail News, forty-five per cent.; the Princeton Star, Summerland Review, Merritt Herald, Salmon Arm Observer, Okanagan Commoner, and one Kelowna paper, about forty per cent. Many of the other up-country sheets had only thirty-five per cent. of advertising. So far as could be ascertained, there

Let Him Live!

Below is a poem written presumably by a young woman. It was packed in a box of things sent to a soldier at the front. He returned the poem to his home town to be printed with a view of trying to discover the author. The poem has been widely printed and commented on.

As long as the flowers their perfume give, So long I'd let the kaiser live. Live and live for a million years, With nothing to drink but Belgian tears; With nothing to quench his awful thirst But the salted brine of a Scotman's curse. I would let him live from a dinner each day, Served from a silver or a golden tray; Served with things both dainty and sweet; Served with everything—but things to eat. I would make him a bed of silken sheen, With costly linens to lie between; With covers of down and filets of lace And downy pillows piled in place. Yet when to its comfort he would yield It would stink with rot of the battlefield; And blood and brains and bones of men was no average over fifty per cent., and very few as high as forty-five. The general average was about forty.

Newspaper managers are not whining about the situation, but communities which hope for better publications may as well realize now as any time, that the town paper cannot increase its size till its rates and its patronage go up. Both must rise if any profit is to be made in the business. If every merchant and advertiser added ten or twenty per cent., to his advertising appropriation the newspapers would soon be in a position to give the home town that publicity service which it is the aim of all journals to provide.

Should cover him, smother him, and then— His pillow should cling with rotten clay— Clay from the grave of a soldier boy, And while God's stars their vigils keep; And while the waves their white sands sweep, He should never, never, never sleep. And I'd build him a castle by the sea, As lovely a castle as ever could be; Then I'd show him a ship from over the sea, As fine a ship as ever could be, Laden with water cold and sweet; Laden with everything good to eat. Yet scarce does she touch the silver sands, Scarce may he reach out his eager hands, Than a hot and hellish molten shell Should change his heaven into hell; And though he'd watch by the wave-swept shore, Our Lusitania would rise no more. "No Man's Land," where the Irish fell I'd start the kaiser a private hell; I'd jab him, stab him, give him gas, And in each wound I'd pour ground glass; I'd march him out where the brave boys died— Out past the lads he crucified. In the fearful gloom of his living tomb, There's one thing I'd do before I was through— I'd make him sing in a stirring manner, The wonderful words of "The Star-Spangled Banner."

Visitor—"Do you ever wish you were a girl, Tommy?" Tommy—"Only at Christmas time."

"Why do you wish it then?" "Because girls wear longer stockings than boys."

Press Advertising Sold Victory Bonds BEFORE the war, bond buyers were "marked men." In number they were 40,000 in March, 1917—this is shown by the number of purchasers of the Government War Loan of that date. But in the autumn of the same year, their number increased twenty times—to 820,001! This was the number purchasing the Victory Loan, 1917. Last month—November, 1918—over 1,000,000 persons purchased the Victory Loan, 1918! These wonderful results were accomplished by Press Advertising. Before the war one-half of one per cent. of our people bought bonds. Now quite twelve and one-half per cent. of our people are bond buyers! Before the stupendous amount of $876,000,000 worth of bonds could be sold to our Canadian people in three weeks a most thorough and exhaustive campaign of education was necessary, and this campaign was carried through by advertising in the public press. The power of the printed word never had a more convincing demonstration. By means of the printed word, through the medium of advertisements in the press of our country, the Canadian people were made to know what bonds are, the nature of their security, their attractiveness as an investment, and why the Government had to sell bonds. Every point and feature of Victory Bonds was illustrated and described before and during the campaign—in advertisements. No argument was overlooked. No selling point was neglected. The result is that Canadians to-day are a nation of bondholders. They know what a convenient, safe, and profitable form of investment bonds are. Instead of one man in two hundred owning bonds now one Canadian in eight,—men women and children—owns a Government Security. This complete transformation in the national mind and habits was brought about by advertising in the press of the nation. Press advertising has justified itself as the surest and speediest method by which a man's reason can be influenced and directed. The Minister of Finance acknowledges this. His own words are:

"The wonderful success of the Loan was due in large measure to their (the press of Canada) splendid and untiring efforts during the whole of the Campaign." Mr E. R. Wood, Chairman of the Dominion Executive Committee having oversight of the campaign to raise Victory Loan 1918, said, "The press publicity campaign . . . will rank as one of the most remarkable and efficient publicity campaigns ever undertaken in any country," and Mr J. H. Gundy, Vice-Chairman of the same committee said: "I have been selling bonds for a long time, but I never found it so easy to sell them as at this time. The reason is the splendid work the press has done. I take off my hat to the press of Canada." The success of Victory Loan, 1918, and the knowledge which Canadians now possess of bonds are a straight challenge to the man who doubts the power of the printed word, in the form of advertisements, to sell goods—and this applies not to bonds alone, but to the goods you are interested in selling.

Complaints of express shippers, of which there are many in Summerland, of alleged pilfering, short delivery, etc., on the part of the express company are likely to be aired at the joint annual meeting of the Farmers' Institute, B.C. Fruit Growers' Association, and Agricultural Assoc'n, the date of which is announced in our advertising columns. Complaints of the express service have been much more numerous during the past year than formerly, probably due to inexperienced employees and shortage of labor. The adopting of resolutions to be submitted to the Resolutions Committee of the B.C.F.G.A., which meets at Kelowna on the 18th inst., will be a feature of the annual meeting of the Fruit Growers.

CARD OF THANKS.

The very serious illness of Mrs MacLeod has prevented personal reply to the many letters of love and sympathy received by us from many loyal Summerland friends on the occasion of the death of our beloved daughter and sister Joan. "We grudged her right sail to the land of the Leal," but bow in submission to the will of Him "who doeth all things wisely and all things well." It is heartening to feel in the conflict the touch of a friendly shoulder, and Mrs MacLeod and family join with me in expressing our sincere gratitude for those tokens of friendship from dear old Summerland.

A. W. MACLEOD,
 Pastor Emmanuel Baptist Church.

It is reported that the Watson lot on Jones' Flat has been purchased by George Doherty.

D. Lorne Sutherland has returned after spending some months on his wheat farm near Winnipeg.

The house near the Central School, at one time occupied by Rev. C. H. Daly, has been taken by Mr and Mrs A. J. Beer.

Her many friends in the Okanagan will be glad to learn that Mrs A. W. MacLeod, who was reported seriously ill, is now believed to be out of danger.

Held at her moorings at Peachland by a strong south wind the steamer "Sicamous" lost several hours on Saturday night, and did not reach here until 9.15 that evening.

News has been received here of the death of Miss Ireland who with other members of the family resided in Summerland some years ago. A sister of the deceased is teaching school in Peachland.

After only one day at the shop following his recent illness, Scott Darkis is again laid up. This time he is incapacitated by an injured arm which he received while cranking his car on Saturday.

One of the best known orchards of the district, the Woodworth orchard, planted, we believe, by the late Alexander McKay, and which J. C. Wilson has been supervising for the past two or three years, has been purchased by Mr Wilson.

Lieut. Bert Lipsett, prisoner of war for a few weeks before hostilities ended, has arrived in London, according to news received by his uncle, Dr R. C. Lipsett. He lost two teeth and suffered some minor wounds from gun shots, but escaped very luckily.

Mr and Mrs Bennett, formerly of Kelowna, came in from the Coast last week, and are visiting Mrs Bennett's aunt, Mrs Downton. Since his discharge from the army, Mr Bennett has taken up a position as director of manual training in a Vancouver school.

A brief visit to the Okanagan was made this week by J. M. Robinson. He was accompanied by one or two Coast people who looked over some properties here with a view to buying. Arriving here on Tuesday, Wednesday was spent at Naramata, and Thursday at Meadow Valley. Mr Robinson returns to the Coast to-night.

The Cruikshank lot, between the properties of A. G. Munn and J. S. Campbell, is reported to have been purchased by George Connor, who has now been a resident of Summerland for some little time, living with his sister, Mrs Jean McLaren. The Cruikshank lot was bought some months ago by Mr Sanborn, who built a small house on it. When Mr Sanborn purchased the John Steuart property Mr Steuart took the smaller lot, and our information is that Mr Steuart has now sold to Mr Connor.

Pte. L. A. Fenner, recently named among the casualties, was gassed beside receiving a serious wound in the right hand. Some particulars have been received by his father, H. J. Fenner, through a brother of the wounded soldier. At 5.30 in the morning of November 1st he was struck in the back of the right hand by a piece of flying shrapnel, that member being badly injured. About half an hour later he was gassed, losing his eyesight for four days, beside receiving a gas burn on the hip. Two weeks later though his eyes had recovered, the flesh burn was not healing very well. The wounded soldier is now in Kitchener Military Hospital, Brighton, England. He has been informed that he will not be able to use his hand for a year or more.

Kenneth Elliott and his sister, Miss Kathleen, went out to the Coast on Monday. Kenneth will resume his law studies at Vancouver, while his sister continued to Victoria to resume her studies at the Normal School.

A number of articles loaned the hospital society during the influenza epidemic are still awaiting to be claimed by their owners. The matron of the hospital informs The Review that unless the articles are called for before the first of February they will be considered as donations to the hospital.

The whirligig of time performs some peculiar capers. This fall and winter it has been almost impossible to get men to work on the government roads around Princeton. Yet right here in Princeton four years ago there were men with families in absolute want, and the government created some road work to tide them through the winter. —Princeton Star.

A large meshed fish net bears about the same sized relation to a swarm of flies as the common gauze mask bears to the "flu" germs it is supposed to stop, is the conclusion of a doctor, as quoted in the Literary Digest. He compares the wearing of a mask to prevent germ invasion to fencing against fleas in Florida with barbed wire.

JUST GIRL, AFTER ALL!

She wore khaki pants, flannel shirt, and a cap, with a pencil behind her ear; had a business-like looking leather money pouch slung from a strap over her shoulder, and looked like a war-time laundry wagon driver or collector. Yet in passing a street mirror she pulled a chamois rag out of her pants pocket, gave her nose a few dabs and straightened her cap. La femme eternelle. — Los Angeles Times.

Master (to new cook)—"We want you to show what you can do to-night, Jane. We have some rather special people coming for a musical evening. Do your very best, you know."

Cook—"Sure, sir, that I will. It's a long time since I did any singing; but you can put me down for a couple of comic songs."

Captain Robertson Before Commission

Strong Objection to Long Work-day on "Sicamous"

Capt. Geo. Robertson, of the C.P.R. steamer "Sicamous," when before the commission inquiring into the dispute between the companies and the Merchants Service Guild, an organization of masters and mates, made strong objection to the hours of service required of the crew of the "Sicamous."

"We would be fairly satisfied with the wages we are receiving now," said Capt. Robertson, "if we were given the other conditions that are provided for in the amendment in the McAdoo award, under which we are working."

Capt. Robertson claimed that they had to work at least sixteen hours a day as against the eight hour day provided in the McAdoo award. He claimed it was necessary for him to be within call during the whole time as he was responsible for the safety of the ship, and considered it necessary for him to be in charge at every landing.

F. W. Peters, General Superintendent of the C.P.R., contended that this statement was hardly correct, and that the captain could go and rest, if he desired, and would not be held responsible for anything that might occur during the time the pilot was in charge.

A commissioner pointed out that in the case of the steamer "Adelaide," where an error was made by the pilot, the captain was punished. Mr Peters replied that this was a matter of law.

Capt. Robertson, in his evidence, told of the difficulty in getting and keeping deckhands during the busy season. Starting on the morning trip at 5.30, it was frequently 12 o'clock before the round trip was completed, the men often being kept busy handling freight all of that time. The deckhands were paid $57.50 a month, and quit work during the busy season. They were replaced by Japs, who were paid 30 cents per hour for 18 hours straight. These men did not last very long, and were replaced by a crew of carpenters from the shops, who were allowed carpenters' wages. Later on Chinese were put on at 27 1/2 cents an hour, with an average day of 15 hours. The boats were always short-handed on account of the long hours.

Better equipment at the docks was suggested as a means of expediting the loading and unloading, and thus lessening the hours the men would have to work.

J. H. Bowering New-Postmaster.

J. H. Bowering formally took charge of the West Summerland post office on Wednesday January 1st. Mr Bowering was one of several applicants for the position which has been open for some time. He took over the rural route some weeks ago. Mr Bowering informs The Review that he has asked that the office be made an "accounting office." At present it is known officially as a non-accounting office, which means in substance that money orders and postal notes are not issued or cashed. It is expected that the full service will be given shortly.

ADVERTISING

Is An Evidence of Community Loyalty as well as Good Business

ADVERTISING will do more than build your business. It will build your community.

It will encourage the people in your Community to buy at home more.

It will counteract the effect of outside advertising and keep so much more money in the district.

And your community, after all, is only the aggregation of yourself and the rest of us.

Advertising to-day is, therefore, the business and the patriotic duty of the business men in this community.

And the logical medium is your home paper, as it reaches every buyer in the whole district.
