Naramata Is Prospering By Early Experience

Special Article in Vancouver Province Sings Praises of District. Output Is Growing and People Are Of The Best

There have been appearing from time to time in recent issues of the Vancouver Province special articles on various Okanagan centres from the pen of Mrs. Charlotte Gordon. This week the following on Naramata was published, the material for which was gathered a few weeks ago during a tour of the Valley by Mrs. Gordon:

Situated in the heart of the Okanagan Valley, Naramata was the last fruit district to be opened up and the growers have profited by the experiences of the early settlers. An extensive cultivation has been made of apricots, apples and cherries.

"Fewer varieties of the various fruits were planted and the growers knew those best adapted to the section of the country," said Mr. J. M. Robinson, who is a pioneer in the Valley, and first opened it up for fruit culture.

It is largely due to his energy and vision that such a wonderful transformation has been made on the once brown, barren hills of the Okanagan. The "Red MacIntosh" has proved the apples, and a very fine quality of Tokay grapes is grown which equals anything in the south of France. They readily market at 20 cents a pound.

The manager of one packing house stated that his firm alone shipped 30,000 packages of fruit last year, which meant $50,000 to the growers. The total output this year for the district promises to be very large as many of the orchards are now in full bearing.

An industry that is meeting with success in its development is the making of cider, using apples that cannot be shipped. Three years ago an expert in the process of cider making was engaged and has developed the industry to the extent that 3,000 gallons of cider were produced last year.

The townsite of Naramata is level with the lake, extending back to the fertile hills; it is skirted with fruit ranches. There are about 3,500 acres in this special district which lies in a natural terrace for eight miles along the lake and every tract is afforded an unobstructed view of the water. The situation is ideal in that it is without land currents, with its background of unbroken mountains and the lake in front, thus having only lake breezes, chiefly from the north and south.

This has a tendency to modify the climate, making the summer cooler and the winter warmer than in the surrounding districts. It also accounts for the excellent quality and distinctive flavor of the fruit.

Journeying by ferry from Summerland to Naramata, it would be difficult to make a perfect etching of this idyllic land. Above, a splendid mass of fluffy clouds, the sun—

Start Work Monday on Irrig. Sys.

Active construction work on the Summerland irrigation system will begin on Monday, according to the present plans of Engineer Fawkes.

Last week and this camp have been assembled; foremen and what local help is available have been engaged. More forms are being constructed so that greater lengths of ditch may be lined each day.

For the feeding of the half hundred men that will be on the job a contract has been entered into with the Supply Company for camp provisions on a "cost plus" basis, and fresh meats will be supplied by J. Downton.

On Tuesday morning Mr. Fawkes went down to Vancouver to engage additional men and he expected to be back with about forty men, not later than Sunday morning, so as to begin work on Monday morning.

G.W.V.A. Meeting

Telegrams to the local member at Ottawa and to Premier Borden in support of a request of the G.W.V.A. that a parliamentary commission be appointed to consult with the G.W.V.A. committee, already named, on the country's ability to pay further gratuities and bonuses has gone forward from the Summerland branch as a result of a decision reached at a meeting of the veterans on Wednesday.

Four new members were added to the roll, bringing the membership up to 42.

The proposed organization of a women's auxiliary to the G.W.V.A. was left in the hands of the executive. A meeting of all women who had relatives on active service will be called at an early date.

New Assessment of All Lands and Improvements

Council Will Have Thorough Revision of Assessment Roll. Tax Sale

Every parcel of land within the limits of Summerland and the improvements thereon are to be carefully re-valued and the assessment roll thoroughly revised, if the plan of the Municipal Council are realized. Recent amendments to the Municipal Act require considerable work on the assessment roll and the Clerk has been asking that this work be undertaken at an early date. He was instructed by the Council at this week's meeting to advertise for an assessor.

A new road will be opened and graded to run east and west just south of the Parkdale Baptist Church, along the north side of blk. 63. This decision was reached by the Council after hearing the request of Mr. H. W. Harvey, speaking for himself and several other lot owners in his neighborhood, for another outlet beside the one over the Sinclair hill. Mr. Jas. Ritchie was sent for and he offered to allow a quarter of an acre of land toward the road. It was finally agreed that the strip, 40 ft. wide containing three quarters of an acre should be bought from Mr. Ritchie for a road at a price to the Municipality of $250, plus the cost of survey.

Upon recommendation of Foreman Tomlin, who pointed out the need of another wagon for road work, a wagon was purchased from T. B. Young, subject to approval of Coun. Campbell, Chairman of the Roads Committee, who was not present. Price when thoroughly repaired to be $90.

Following representations made by Dr. Lipsett on behalf of the hospital by Coun. White an order was put through re-establishing the all night electric light service.

Though there will be the usual tax sale this year, the customary list of properties for sale will not be published. This was formerly required by the Act, but the publishing of the list is now optional and the Council on Monday decided to dispense with the usual advertisement and insert only a notice of the fact that a sale would be held.

In a communication from the School Board the Council was advised of the resolution of the Board covering the purchase of a school site and was asked to act accordingly. Following a brief discussion it was agreed that the School Board should be asked to meet the Council and discuss the matter.

Subject to certain reservations, an option was given Mr. R. S. Monro on behalf of his son on blocks 50 and 51 in D.L. 1078 for $2,000. Mr. Monro tendered his cheque for $100 and offered to pay $1,000 down and the balance in one and two years.

Domestic water connection was granted Arthur Gould for the Blakely lot in Victoria Gardens, recently purchased by him. A. Moyes was also granted domestic water connection for blk. 24 in D.L. 2190, provided no extension was required.

A man gets a lot of credit for being a good husband—after the undertaker has him on ice.

Dominion Bank Will Operate Branch Here

Looking For Share of Expanding Business of Summerland

Mr. O. F. Zimmerman Is Appointed Manager

The Okanagan is proving to be an attractive field for banks and no place in the Valley is receiving more attention as a place in which to develop business than is Summerland. For many weeks rumors have been current of the opening of other banks here. It is known that strong recommendations were made by some of the officials best able to judge that one of the strongest banking institutions in the country, not now represented here, open an office here, a site on Shaughnessy avenue having been held by option for a time. Some of the "higher-ups" are said to have held up the move for further investigation. In the meantime the name of other banks have been mentioned as contemplating opening here.

More recently the Vancouver manager of the Dominion Bank, Mr. R. C. Patton, visited Summerland and before leaving, expressed himself as very much impressed with the district and its prospects. The impression left was that he would recommend the establishment in Summerland of a branch of the Dominion Bank.

On Wednesday, Mr. O. F. Zimmerman, who has been appointed manager for the Dominion here, received instructions to proceed at once with preparations for starting business.

The Dominion Bank office will be in that part of the Empire Hall block occupied by the Bank of Montreal up to the time of its removal to its own new building. As soon as the office is ready for occupancy the Dominion Bank will be ready for business, says Mr. Zimmerman.

Discuss Picking And Storing Of Apples

The United Farmers of British Columbia (Trout Creek Local) had a good attendance at their regular monthly meeting held on Thursday, September 4th. After the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting the question of amalgamation with the Farmers' Institutes came under discussion, but this was deferred for a subsequent meeting.

The programme called for "Discussion on the Picking and Storing of Apples," led by R. H. Helmer. This was a timely topic and gave rise to a very interesting and instructive ventilation of ideas. Mr. Helmer was of the opinion that a great many varieties of our apples are picked too late. The packing houses in their demand for a minimum percentage of color for No. 1's are to a great extent responsible for this. The mere fact of an apple attaining a high degree of coloration is a sign of deterioration. Mr. Helmer stated that he frequently receives samples of fruit which show signs of premature decay, which can be attributed only to remaining too long on the trees. Similar conditions exist in the States of Washington and Oregon as evidenced by an article which appeared in the January 1919 issue of "Better Fruit," from which extracts were read. Brief reference was made to the ideal conditions under which fruit should be stored, particular attention being called to the necessity of moisture in the cellar.

A hearty vote of thanks was given to Mr. Helmer and the meeting closed at about 10 o'clock.

VERY TRUE.

"The man who gives in when he is wrong," said the street orator, "is a wise man; but he who gives in when he is right is—"
"Married," said a meek voice in the crowd.

New Isolation Ward For The Hospital

Contract Awarded and Construction to Begin at Once

Hospital Society Will Put On "Drive" for Needed Funds

Plans for the new isolation ward for the Summerland Hospital were considered at the regular meeting of the Hospital Board on Monday, when there were present, President R. C. Lipsett, Mesdames Solly and Bentley, and Messrs. Mellor, Wright, Robinson, Zimmerman and Helmer. Amended plans were presented by Mr. H. W. Harvey, who offered to erect and complete the building for $2,000, work to start at once. This offer was accepted, subject to the approval of the plans and specifications by a special committee: Messrs. Lipsett and Mellor. Messrs. Mellor and Wright, appointed at an early meeting to deal with the question of financing the new building, presented a report for discussion which resulted in the decision to undertake a "drive" in the immediate future.

The committee will make all necessary arrangements for canvassers and for advertising, etc.

The objective of the drive will be $5,000. Beside the isolation ward the sum needed to pay for the X-Ray equipment, approximately another $2,000, and necessary alterations and improvements to the hospital building to accommodate the up-to-date X-Ray machine soon to arrive, must be obtained.

The raising of the hospital rates was proposed, but after some discussion the question was laid on the table.

Until now the range of charges for operations has been from $3 to $5. The Board has changed this to $10 for the maximum.

Takes Trout Fry From Here To Chute Lake

Cut throat trout fry were successfully introduced into Chute Lake this week by Fish Warden G. N. Gartrell, after several unsuccessful attempts made by experts from the New Westminster hatchery. From the time the fry were removed from the hatchery pond in Peach Orchard here until they were set free in Chute Lake was more than 30 hours, but only five out of the thousand or so had died on the way the others being quite active and showing no ill effects of the close confinement. They ranged from one to two inches in length and were brought to Summerland from Paul Creek, near Kamloops, from which creek Mr. Gartrell had dipped them out a few days before.

In a small way and wholly on his own initiative, Fish Warden Gartrell has been making various experiments and has the beginning of a very complete little hatchery in Peach Orchard Park here, and with a little more time and some assistance and encouragement from the Government Mr. Gartrell could do much toward stocking the lakes of the district from the Summerland hatchery.

In Mr. Gartrell's opinion trout are not the best fish to use for that purpose, especially in close proximity to irrigation works, as trout spawn in creeks and these are interfered with by the irrigation dams so that at times the creeks may be practically dry. Such lake spawning fish as black bass, pike and pickerel are favored by Mr. Gartrell.

That perch are to be had in Okanagan Lake will be learned with surprise by many. Mr. Gartrell caught a number of these recently in Tekolnuit Lake, near Fairview.

Advertising, like liniment, does not do much good when applied with a feather. It needs to be rubbed in for results. Apply it through the right mediums to the right people at the right time, and keep on rubbing it in until returns begin to come in. Then still keep on rubbing.

Was Recommended For The Victoria Cross

Lieut. John McLeod Returns Home After Three Years Service Overseas

After three years of service overseas, during which time he was recommended for the Victoria Cross for bravery in action, Lieut. John P. G. MacLeod, D.S.O., arrived back in Vancouver on Monday morning. This gallant officer left in 1916 with the 196th Universities Battalion, and early in 1917 was sent to the 46th Battalion as a private. Owing to his ability as a leader he was soon promoted to the rank of sergeant and in the summer of 1918 was granted his commission, returning to his regiment in September as a lieutenant. He was attached to a platoon and soon came into prominence for his work in the Battle of Cambrai, but it was at Valenciennes that he showed the most daring which led to his being recommended for the Victoria Cross, but for which he received the Distinguished Service Order. Sergt. Kearns, who was in the particular action with him, received the coveted honor, but unfortunately died from wounds received in the encounter.

It was in the fight for Valenciennes that Lieut. MacLeod went forward with Sergt. Kearns and a small party into the village of Aulnoy on patrol work. In the cemetery of the village they ran across a party of sixty Germans who immediately opened upon the Sergeant, who was in advance with a Lewis gun. The fire was returned despite the fact that the sergeant was severely wounded. Single handed Lieut. MacLeod tackled the German party until two men attempted to get Kearns out on a door. In crossing the open both men were wounded and he was forced to carry the three in to safety, one after another, under heavy machine gun fire and all the time fighting off the Hun with nothing but a revolver.

After the Armistice he acted as adjutant at the dispersal station at Witly camp in England. He was welcomed home by relatives and a number of his former comrades at the front. He is the son of Rev. A. W. MacLeod of North Vancouver, and formerly of Summerland, and has three brothers two of whom have recently returned from service, one being in the R.A.F. and another a despatch rider in the 3rd Canadian Division.

Reports Bright Prospects For British Columbia

So Says General Manager of Bank of Montreal. Atmosphere of Activity Everywhere, With Sane Outlook

Sir Frederick Williams-Taylor, General Manager of the Bank of Montreal, was a recent visitor to British Columbia, and the prairie provinces, and since his return to Montreal has given to the press his impressions of Canada's great western country, including British Columbia. Of this province he says:

In British Columbia, as in the northwest, trains are full and hotels crowded to overflowing. British Columbians have confidence in the future of their rich and beautiful province. Their men of affairs have an unusually sane outlook as to the future of British Columbia and of the Dominion at large. There is a general atmosphere of activity.

Shipbuilding in the coast cities, particularly Vancouver, has contributed much toward this activity, and while this industry is in doubt owing to expiring government contracts, strong efforts are being made to secure private orders with reasonable chance of success. British Columbia shippers do not find themselves so severely handicapped in open competition as was formerly believed.

The mining outlook is completely changed because of the rise in the price of copper and the maintenance of silver values with increasing efforts toward production of gold. A good deal of development work is going on. The Trail Smelter and its controlled properties are in a high state of activity. In general the mining outlook is promising, with assurances of a continuance in the increased production.

The lumber industry is most active. American and Eastern Canadian markets are taking the bulk of the output. The local demand is good. The depreciation of the Canadian dollar is stimulating exports to the United States. Most of the mills are working to full capacity, and having difficulty in keeping up with their orders. The manufacture of newsprint and sulphite fibre is steadily progressing, and two mills in process of construction will materially increase the output next year.

The fishing industry is at the peak of its activity for the year. No statement can be vouchsafed as to the pack, but reports show that the Skeena River and Vancouver Island districts are tending to offset the poor results on the Fraser River. Prices are high and the better grades are in keen demand. It is not expected that the pack will assume the proportions of last year, when all records were broken.

The agricultural outlook for increasing yields is somewhat impaired by dry weather. The berry crops of the coast were large, and the fruit crops of the Okanagan and Kootenay much larger than last year. But for drought the fruit and vegetable crops of the interior would have been phenomenal. As it is, farmers will undoubtedly experience an unusually prosperous year.

The labor situation has lost much of its menace, and in consequence labor disturbances are not at present anticipated.

Destructive Storm Visits Arrow Lake

The worst hail storm that has ever struck the Arrow Lake district occurred last Thursday, lasting fifteen minutes and ranging from Arrowhead on the north to Burton City on the south, a distance of over fifty miles. Many apple orchards and vegetable gardens were completely hulled out.

Thomas Abriel will lose $3,000 at Nakusp and a Hindu at the same place $1,500 in vegetables.

Many windows were broken in the district affected, which included Nakusp, West Dumas, East Arrow Park and Grahams Landing. The hail stones which fell at Nakusp were an inch in diameter.

THE WEEK IN CALGARY.

Prairie Markets Commissioner J. A. Grant, says in his latest weekly bulletin:

The Stampede drew visitors from far and near. We had a visit from Mr. C. Oldfield, of Elk Lake, Victoria, who with Mrs. Oldfield was taking in the Stampede and visiting friends in Alberta. Mr. Oldfield is viewing the prospects for buying grain in car lots. It will be a few weeks before any marketing will take place. We intend to get in touch with those who have grain to sell, and would like to hear from those who are in the market to buy, what quantity, kind and quality they would like to negotiate for.

Now that the children are back to school and housewives once more in the kitchen we expect to see a speedy revival of the demand for preserving fruit. The sugar being obtainable at current prices should be a strong incentive to restock the empty larder before the preserving fruit season passes.

Some nice B.C. cantaloupes are coming in from the Okanagan Valley, and are meeting the rearguard of the Wapatos, but will soon have a clear field. Some nice Wealthies are coming in from Creston, they are from 125 to 150 in size and fair color for this season. Armstrong celery is now going in heavy shipments in the woody B.C. crate and the California open crate. The California open crate shows it off best, and is better for ventilation. All U.S. shippers of rhubarb and celery are moving their product in well aired crates. We predict a rapid improvement in the trade here this month. The weather is cold, unsettled and showery.

BARN FEEDING OF THE DAIRY COW.

Good pasture is generally acknowledged to be the ideal feed for the dairy cow. In a great many dairying districts it is very difficult to get good pasture throughout the entire summer season. Usually good returns are obtained by supplementing the pasture with concentrates, soiling crops, or other feeds.

Of late years a number of dairymen are using silage as a supplement while others confine their cows in the barn and feed silage entirely. This latter practice has been in vogue for a few years at

NEW INSTRUMENTS SOON.

Soon it will be possible to have complete meteorological records in Summerland. The visit here this week of Mr. F. Napier Denison, Superintendent for B.C. of the Dominion Meteorological Service, is expected to result in the establishment at the Dominion Experimental Station here of several other scientific recording instruments, which, with those already installed at the Farm, will make it possible to have about all the information possible on climatic conditions.

One instrument to be set up at once is an anemometer, a device for measuring and recording the velocity of the wind at all times and with this will be a second recording machine for wind direction. This addition to the meteorological station at the Farm will be set up close to the instruments now there and which were inspected by Mr. Denison this week.

Other instruments to be installed provided present plans are approved, will be a barometer and an evaporationimeter. This latter instrument should be of particular value and interest here, where evaporation in its relation to scientific irrigation is an important matter.

Another visitor here this week in connection with the Experimental Station was Dr. C. E. Saunders, of Ottawa, Dominion Cerealist.

the Experimental Farm, Agassiz, B.C. The chief criticism is that it seems an unnatural way of handling cattle, but it has nevertheless given good results. During the hot weather the cows are put in an exercising paddock at night and kept in a barn with screened windows during the heat of the day, while during cool weather the cows are allowed in the enclosure in the daytime and stabled at night.

By handling them in this manner little trouble is experienced from flies or excessive heat, and the cows are always handy at milking time.

PROPOSED SITE FOR NEW SCHOOLS.

"That this board considers that the time has arrived to secure a site for the proposed new school building and, having received an offer from Mr. James Ritchie for the northern half of blks. 60 and 61 in D.L. 3640 for the sum of $3,000 we hereby request the Municipal Council to take the necessary steps to frame a by-law and submit it to the ratepayers of the district."

The above resolution was the outcome of a conference between Mr. Ritchie and the School Board on Saturday evening, at which there were present: Chairman F.R. Gartrell and Trustees Garnett and Tait. The site referred to is the open area south of the Central building.

Little other business was done beyond passing upon the following accounts, which were approved for payment:

Tumbleweed as a Crop.

On the farm, as in other places, the best way to deal with an enemy is often to make him a friend. Sweet clover, now a recognized valuable forage crop, was for many years among the most detested farm weeds of the Middle West. The Russian thistle, a tenacious weed of the Intermountain West, has made its debut as a farm crop under dramatic circumstances.

Stock raisers in drought stricken regions cut it and ensiled it extensively the past season. In some cases it was the veritable salvation of a discouraged farmer, whose planted crops has failed him. The Russian thistle along its numerous branches has an endless series of small needle-like spikes, but these in the silo lose all their terror. The stuff comes out first class feed for live stock.

The Russian thistle is utterly dissimilar from the thistles most American children are familiar with. It was brought to the Dakotas by Russian emigrants. It is a bulky plant often several feet wide and high. It will flourish in desert like places where cactus is the only other vegetation. The Intermountain West does not call the plant by its original name. Its home made term, the tumbleweed, is far more expressive. The dead plant breaks off readily at the ground in the fall. Then the wind seizes it. The tumbleweed's structure is so tough, yet resilient, that a plant will whirl for miles before the wind, only stopping when hung up by a fence, a ditch, or some other obstruction. So out of proportion to its size is the weight of the big plant that it will lightly fly high in the air during a hard gale.

Children in the Dakotas, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, Idaho and Utah, find tumbleweed a splendid late fall playfellow. Two big weeds are harnessed to a string and in front of a wind they go hurtling down the street "driven" by shrieking, happy boys and girls. At other times, the weed becomes a kite, attached to a long cord dangling from a fish pole.

Another western plant formerly regarded as undesirable is yucca, or soapweed, which in the silo is found to make edible and good livestock feed. The plant is called soapweed because Mexicans and Negroes make a soap from its juice. It is also called the Spanish bayonet, and the dagger plant, from its shape.—Scientific American.

A Weekly Chronicle Furnished By Our Local Representative.

Mr. Ed. Taylor enjoyed a visit from his brother Will, from Winnipeg this week, he coming in to join his wife who has been visiting here for some time accompanied by the children.

Mrs. Mussen, who spent a large portion of last winter in Peachland and since visited the Coast, returned on Wednesday last for another sojourn here and is residing with her brother and sister in law Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Miller, in their cottage on Beach Avenue.

Mrs. C. Aitkens was a passenger to Kelowna on Wednesday of last week, returning on Thursday afternoon's boat.

Mr. I. Cousins went to Kelowna on Monday and on his return brought with him Mrs. Cousins and the baby, who are both doing nicely.

Miss Hamilton arrived on Saturday night to visit her mother and brothers at the cement works.

After a pleasant visit spent here with his brother for a short time, Mr. W. Taylor and his wife left here on Saturday afternoon's boat to return via K.V.R. to their home in Winnipeg.

Mr. Otto Sanburg with Mrs. Sanburg (nee Miss Minnie Card who spent a short time in town a couple of years ago) arrived on Saturday morning, and with a collection of their household belongings moved up to the saw mill, where Mr. Sanburg is going to work for a time.

Miss McIntosh, teacher of the Trepanier township school spent last week end at her home in Westbank, taking Saturday morning's boat north.

Mr. G. Whittaker, who will be remembered as having spent some time here a few years ago, spent a couple of days in town this week. He too has been over and done his bit, but is thankful to be home again, and has settled on his place at Kaleden. He reports good crops in his vicinity this year.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Dearman left on Friday afternoon for the Coast, where they expect to take in the exhibition.

Mr. H. C. Lasta spent a night in town last week, coming down on Friday night's boat and returning the following morning.

Roy White arrived on Monday night's boat to visit his people here for a short time.

The rumor has advanced far past the rumor stage now about the Fall Fair for Peachland and everyone is talking about the fair we hope to have on October the ninth, under the auspices of the Farmers' and Women's Institutes. The Committee in charge hope and expect to have the prize lists and other information out shortly.

Mrs. Haynes (nee Miss Lulu Brown) left on the north bound boat Tuesday morning to pay a short visit in Kelowna before taking leave of the Valley for her home.

Mrs. W. A. Lang having sold her fruit land and home in Peachland and completed arrangements in connection with the balance of her interests here, left on Friday morning to return east and join Mr. Lang at Ottawa. She expected to visit en route with Mr. and Mrs. J. McGregor at Shaanavon for a short time. We are always sorry to see any of our citizens sell and leave the community, but Mr. Lang was not able to devote any time to the work of the place and Mrs. Lang found it too much to handle, hence the sale. Although they have sold the portion of their property which demanded the most attention, they still hold property here, and will no doubt come to see the old dwelling place as they have occasion.

It is quite like old days to see Ernie Pratt at work in the community, he being one of a crew of three men working under Manager Dobie, clearing the right of way of the Okanagan Telephone Company through this Municipality. They have spent about a week here now.

Mr. P. N. Dorland and Mr. R. J. McDougall were enabled to motor up from Penticton and spent Sunday with Mrs. Dorland and Mr. Dorland's sister, Mrs. Aylesworth, who is visiting here from Vancouver for a time.

THE ANTIDOTE.

We are too prone to dwell upon our wrongs and slights. Bitterness is a poor flavoring for the days that come and go. Its sickening tang touches the sweetest morsel, spoils life, not only for ourselves, but for such as come in touch with us. God's grace is the only antidote. —Jean Blewett.

"Sugar Enough For All"

(Prairie Markets Commissioner).

This was the remark of one of the Eastern refiners at the investigation held by Judge Robson in Montreal the other day. We have been fighting for enough sugar at Prairie points to save the B.C. crop of crabapples, peaches, plums, prunes and pears. Mr. R. M. Winslow, who is in Montreal representing the Western jobbers and B.C. shippers has placed our cause before the Board of Commerce so well that the Board has ordered immediate dispatch of 300 tons of sacked granulated sugar from the Vancouver refinery and the same quantity from the Dominion refinery. The conditions are current prices, bank guarantee and an understanding by purchasers that they will buy 4 tons of B.C. fruit for every ton of sugar received and secure the same understanding with the retailer.

The Calgary jobbers met and arranged the distribution of these 40 cars for Alberta. All of the different places agreed to the terms, and wired in their order. This quantity of sugar will save the situation for B.C. fruit growers, as 40 cars, 20 from the east and the same from the west will be ample to tide over the peak of the preserving season. We wanted sugar and fought for it and won. It comes a week late but is welcome.

Naramata News

Current Events of Town and District

Mr. George Culver and Mr. Riley of Winnipeg are guests of Mr. C. C. Atkins.

Mr. R. Harvey and Mr. Fiug of Vancouver arrived recently and are working on the fruit lot of Mr. C. C. Atkins.

Mr. Harold Steers is with us once more. Harold came in Sunday morning and found everyone glad to see him.

Messrs. J. M. Robinson, F. C. Manchester and R. C. Robinson motored to Summerland on Wednesday, where they were joined by Messrs. W. J. Robinson and J. L. Logie. The party continued their trip into Meadow Valley and spent some time looking over this property.

Mrs. M. B. Smith is in Calgary on business for a short time.

Miss Kathleen Robinson has been accepted for training as nurse in the Vancouver General Hospital and will leave shortly to take up her duties there.

Mr. Symons visited Summerland on Wednesday to arrange for the transporting of their household goods to their new home on the benches. The family is now getting settled and liking the life more every day.

Mr. C. W. Jarvis of Fort William, Ont., was here on business connected with the selling of his fruit lot.

The Misses Robinson gave a most delightful dancing party on Friday evening in honor of Miss Carmen Mathers and Mr. Keith Leckie of Vancouver, who have been visiting here for the past few weeks. The dancing was much enjoyed and so were the piano solos that were given during the evening by Mr. Fiug. Miss Mathers and Mr. Leckie departed for their homes on Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Stallard have moved from the benches and are now living in the nurses cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Kenyon were in Penticton on Monday.

School is now open and running smoothly with the large number of 57 pupils enrolled. The ever increasing attendance has made it necessary to add to our teaching staff and this season will start us off with a two year high school course as well as the entrance and junior work. The principal, Mr. E. C. Richards, will take care of the high school work and entrance duties, while the junior studies will be in the hands of Miss Gladys Stonehouse. Both teachers come highly recommended and we expect this will be a banner year of efficiency.

Mrs. E. P. Roe, Mrs. T. I. Woodly and Mrs. Kendall went to Peachland on Tuesday morning to visit Mrs. McDougall.

Rev. Mr. Haggett and family of Banff are occupying the Mitchell cottage. They expect to be here some time. Mr. Haggett officiated at the Sunday church service.

Mr. Hunt and son of Kelowna spent the week end here visiting friends.

Mrs. SeEVERS went to the Landing on Monday to meet her daughter, Miss Emily SeEVERS, who is coming to Naramata for a visit.

Mr. Sam Cuff is spending a few days at the Coast before returning to his home in Ottawa.

Mr. and Mrs. Mallory and Mr. and Mrs. Jns. Myers motored to Okanagan Falls on Saturday.

Apple Scald and Jonathan Spot

(Experimental Farms Note).

In a recent paper (Journal of Agricultural Research, Vol. XI, No. 7), there are given some very interesting notes on these two storage troubles of apples, and since present conditions demand most careful preservation of all food materials, the Central Experimental Farm through its pathological service, issue a statement which should be of especial interest to every Canadian who has apples in his cellar or warehouse. The following short account of these two apple troubles, based largely on the article in question, aims at pointing out the means that may be taken to avoid scalding and spotting of our scanty but valuable supply of this fruit in storage.

Scald in apples is a browning of the skin and outer tissues. It is different from rots because in rots the browning goes very deep into the tissues, whereas scald only affects the skin and the flesh immediately beneath. Rot spots are usually definite in outline, while scald areas are often more or less irregular in shape. However scald areas are very often invaded by rot fungi so that ordinarily one may expect to find all sorts of combination of the two.

The "Jonathan Spot" so called from its being found very frequently on the Jonathan variety, also develops in storage on several standard varieties such as Northern Spy, Greening, etc. The spots are usually small, less than a quarter inch in diameter, and are sunken and brown. The flesh under the skin is brown and somewhat dry and corky. There is another spot disease, the Baldwin Spot, or Stippen, which may be mistaken for the Jonathan Spot. The Baldwin Spot, however, develops when the apple is growing and will be present when the fruit is picked, whereas the Jonathan Spot develops during storage. Moreover, the Baldwin Spot may be found all through the fruit, while the Jonathan Spot occurs as small sunken brown spots on the surface only.

Both spot and scald arise from improper storage conditions and will likely be worse on fruit that has not matured properly before being picked. The three storage conditions that favor spot and scald development are, (1) high temperature, (2) humidity and (3) stagnant air. It should be understood that the fruit is not completely dormant during the storage period; but there is a constant, if small continuation of growth processes throughout the whole period. These processes result in maturing or mellowing the apple, and the chemical processes that occur during them, involve the absorption of oxygen from the air, and the giving out of carbon dioxide. It is, in fact, a slow breathing process. When apples are stored in a place where they have no free access to air they are "smothered" and the scald which develops on them is due to abnormal chemical changes brought about because of an inadequate air supply. If the room is too warm the growth processes are quickened and scald or spotting is increased. Very moist or humid air also aggravates these troubles.

It is obvious that in an ordinary cellar, spotting and scalding can be largely avoided by a little attention to the needs of the fruit for cool, dry conditions and a continuous supply of fresh air during the storage period.

It is recommended (1) that apples should be stored in small lots rather than in large close piles or bins. They should be preferably be kept in open slatted boxes or other similar containers which will allow the fruit to have free access to air.

(2) That the temperature be kept as low as is consistent with protection from frost and (3) that plenty of ventilation be provided. If the air is changed frequently in the cellar, the incoming supply will not only renew the oxygen but will drive out the old, stagnant air which is laden with moisture and over-charged with carbon dioxide. The method of ventilation can best be determined by conditions; in some instances air shafts can be used, while in others the opening doors and windows of and doors on mild days will be possible. In almost all cases some simple means of securing frequent change of air can be readily adopted and the fruit thus kept free from scald and spot troubles.

Passing Events: Social, Personal, &c.

Among the Summerland visitors to the Vancouver Fair were Messrs. W. Watson and J. Shepherd.

Messrs. Jas. and Wm. Ritchie went out to Vancouver Wednesday morning on a short business trip.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. McAlpine went down to Vancouver last Saturday. Mr. McAlpine returned on Thursday morning.

Mrs. Babbitt was a K.V.R. passenger from Vancouver one day last week, and visited with her sister, Mrs. T. J. McAlpine.

J. Graham, son of R. Graham, Jones Flat, has left Summerland to enter upon studies that will fit him for a new profession, that of dentistry. He has gone to Toronto for this purpose.

Mr. Egglestone, a war veteran who has been taking instructions from Mr. Hilborn under the soldier re-establishment plan, has completed that part of his course and went out to the Coast on Wednesday.

The excellent class of pictures now being shown at The Rialto is attracting an ever increasing number of citizens to that theatre. The fine programme announced in these columns should assure even greater patronage for a now popular place of amusement.

Friends here will be interested to learn that Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Dunrobin have recently gone to Los Angeles from New York. During the past few months Mr. Dunrobin has been giving dramatic instruction to a large class in New York and it is quite probable that his next move will be to London to engage in theatrical work there. Mr. W. Sauter, another Summerland man, is also at Los Angeles.

Gun licenses in considerable number are being issued this year at the Municipal Office.

With practically every ward full the staff at the Summerland Hospital is now particularly busy.

Fruit Pests Inspector Ben Hoy is now the proud parent of a daughter, born at Vernon on August 31st.

Mrs. A. McLaughlin is a visitor for a time at the McLaughlin home on Shaughnessy Avenue.

Mrs. Lipsett of Holland, Man., after a stay here at the home of Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Lipsett, has returned to her prairie home.

Mr. Turnbull from across the line is now a visitor with the Misses I. and J. Spencer. His home is in North Dakota.

Two unusually large sweet peppers were received at this office this morning from a field of peppers grown by Mr. C. Craig.

Miss E. McIntyre, niece of Mrs. J. P. McIntyre, who has been in Summerland on a long visit, returned to her home at Victoria one day last week.

According to a recent letter received by friends here, Lieut. Claude D. Hampshire is still in Egypt, but expects to be returned to England soon for demobilization.

Tom Hickey, one of the first of our young men to enlist, is back again in Summerland, having come in by boat Thursday evening, his arrival being announced by the welcome blasts of the steamer's whistle.

Rev. A. Henderson will leave the first of next week for a visit to the Coast. From there he will go east to Toronto, and expects to accompany his brother from that city to Florida to spend the winter.

August weather records at Bathfield show that there was some precipitation on four days, according to Mr. F. A. Miller in charge. The total rainfall was .62 of an inch, .47 of which fell on the 4th. On August 1st there was .04; 5th, .07; and 31st, .04. There was thunder with imperceptible rainfall on the 8th and 27th. Thunder was also heard on the 1st, 2nd, and 31st.

An excellent and impressive musical service was rendered last Sunday evening by the choir of the Lakeside Church before a crowded assembly, and the address of Mr. Chas. Baker, who led the service, was on the subject of music and its relation to divine worship. The vocal numbers were: solo by Miss Brown; trio, Mrs. Craig and Misses Brown and Conway; duet, Messrs. Beavis and Newton; solo, Mr. Newton; and solo, Mr. Beavis. A violin solo was given by Miss Walker.

A social was held in the Parish Hall on Friday evening last by the members of the G.W.V.A. and their friends. The first part of the evening was devoted to a whist drive, after which a presentation was made to the Secretary, Mr. S. A. McDonald, coupled with the felicitations of the members and those present, on the occasion of his recent marriage. A delightful supper was served by the ladies, after which dancing and music was engaged in, completing an enjoyable evening. It is the intention of the G.W.V.A. to form a local branch of the Women's auxiliary at an early date, particulars of which will be duly circulated.

Mr. A. E. Rose has erected a house on his fruit lot out near the big railway bridge.

Mrs. Theo. Hermon returned Thursday morning from a brief visit to the Coast.

Mr. Arthur Gould is building a house in Victoria Gardens on the Blaikie lot recently bought by him.

Mrs. T. B. Young was a recent visitor to Vancouver having gone down last week and returned Thursday morning.

The W. Watson cottage on Shaughnessy Avenue has been leased by Mr. S. A. McDonald, principal of the Summerland public schools.

A baseball team composed of Summerland High School students went down to Pentiction on Labor Day last week and proved their prowess on the diamond by defeating a team formed by the Pentiction High School. The score was 5-4.

Rev. Mr. Stoodley, recently of the Point Gray Methodist Church, has been chosen by the Board of the Summerland Methodist Church as successor to Rev. A. Henderson. Mr. Stoodley will take charge of the service on Sunday evening in the Lakeside Church.

"Mickey" shown at the Empress Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, drew large audiences. As Mickey Mabel Normand was seen at her best in this photoplay. Next Monday and Tuesday Manager Berry will have another special attraction in "Daddy Long Legs."

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Mitchell are recent arrivals here from Vancouver. They have come bringing their household effects, intending to settle here, and have already bought two acres between A. H. Steven's home and the Baptist Church from Mr. Jas. Ritchie, on which they will build.

Mrs. George Bell of Saskatoon, who is spending the summer on her fruit ranch in Naramata received an urgent request a few days ago as Commissioner of the Girl Guides of Saskatchewan to be present at and be presented to H.R.H. the Prince of Wales at the reception to be given in his honor on September 11th.

Though the change was made some weeks ago there are many, who when wishing to call Mr. Vaughan, or some one else in what was formerly the grocery department of the Supply Company's upper store, still call number 6. The Mercantile Company's number is 29. By remembering this you will save time for yourself and others as well as avoid unnecessary demands on our busy telephone exchange.

The house commonly referred to as the McWilliams place, together with the two acre orchard recently occupied by Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McCutcheon has been purchased by Mr. Gould, one of the newer citizens. Mr. McCutcheon has bought the Limmer house nearly opposite and already is in possession, Mr. and Mrs. Limmer having moved to the Fenner cottage at the foot of the Gulch road. They are there only temporarily, however, as they have bought the Merrill cottage, next to the Watson place, and will be moving into it next month.

"MR. STANDFAST."

Those who have read with enjoyment Mr. John Buchan's clever romances "Greenmantle" and "The Thirty-nine Steps" will turn with eager anticipation to his latest work, "Mr. Standfast." Although this continues the adventures of General Richard Hannay, it is written in such a way as to hold the interest of those who have not read the earlier books, while those who have will follow with deep interest the further fortunes of the hero.

From rendering distinguished service in France General Hannay is suddenly recalled to England and much to his disgust given the task of co-operating with the British Secret Service in running to ground a series of leakages of important official information which is proving of immense profit to the enemy and sacrificing the lives of hundreds of Britain's "bravest and best." Assured that his country really needs him in this capacity at this time, the general poses as a pacifist, and in the days which follow finds himself called upon to match wits with one of the cleverest minds in all the German spy system. The scene shifts from London to a quiet village in the midlands, then to the wild highlands of Scotland, back to London, over to Switzerland, down into Italy, and finally back across the mountains into Switzerland in the midst of a raging blizzard. The master spy is finally captured and meets his death by a bullet from a German machine gun. A charming little love story runs through the book, and a brusque old South African airman, who earns the title of Mr. Standfast, a middle west American named Blenkiron, and a pacifist named Wake, whose love for his country finally drives him into the ranks, are characters worthy of note. Don't start the book if you have only a few minutes to spare. You'll not want to lay it down until you finish it.

From rendering distinguished service in France General Hannay is suddenly recalled to England and much to his disgust given the task of co-operating with the British Secret Service in running to ground a series of leakages of important official information which is proving of immense profit to the enemy and sacrificing the lives of hundreds of Britain's "bravest and best." Assured that his country really needs him in this capacity at this time, the general poses as a pacifist, and in the days which follow finds himself called upon to match wits with one of the cleverest minds in all the German spy system. The scene shifts from London to a quiet village in the midlands, then to the wild highlands of Scotland, back to London, over to Switzerland, down into Italy, and finally back across the mountains into Switzerland in the midst of a raging blizzard. The master spy is finally captured and meets his death by a bullet from a German machine gun. A charming little love story runs through the book, and a brusque old South African airman, who earns the title of Mr. Standfast, a middle west American named Blenkiron, and a pacifist named Wake, whose love for his country finally drives him into the ranks, are characters worthy of note. Don't start the book if you have only a few minutes to spare. You'll not want to lay it down until you finish it.

(Oroville Gazette)
Friday last Engineer Zediker ran a preliminary survey of the proposed extension of the road to the north from Oroville to the British Columbia line. There is only a short stretch of this road from the Kelsey ranch to the boundary, and it eliminates the hill pull and the rotten piece of road that has been a perpetual source of annoyance and trouble to all who are called upon to travel over that route. This proposed new road is an absolute necessity, can be made substantial and permanent with little expense and in no place has over a two per cent grade. It is hoped that state aid can be secured in the construction of the road, linking up the highway with the always excellent roads just across the line. A member of the State Highways Commission is expected here within the next few days to inspect this short piece of road in conjunction with State Road No. 10 through the valley, of which this proposed new road is an extension.

WOODEN MONEY IN CANADA.

The only wooden currency is issued by the Hudson's Bay Company, and circulated all over the vast territory controlled by that powerful trading concern. It is coinage consisting of pieces of wood known as "castors," which are stamped with a die. These are accepted everywhere in that territory as cash, and are exchangeable for all sorts of supplies and commodities at the widely scattered stations of the corporation. Over all of this region the corporation exercises a complete dominion, employing the native Indians, chiefly Ojibways and Crees, to collect the furs which furnish its revenue. Hudson's Bay is about two-thirds the size of the Gulf of Mexico. It is an almost landlocked sea, with 300 miles of coast line. More than 300 years ago Hendrik Hudson, trying to find the Northwest Passage, wintered there. His crew mutinied and set him afloat in an open boat with his son and seven others. He and his companions were never seen again. The unit of value in that part of the world is a beaver skin. Two martens are equal to one beaver, and twenty muskrats are equivalent to one marten. The trapping is done in winter, and in spring the Indians bring the pelts to the stations, receiving in payment for them wooden money. With the latter they buy what supplies their needs at the store maintained by the Company at the station.

The Prince Invests In War Savings Stamps

Not the least among the many gracious acts performed by the Prince of Wales during his brief stay in Ottawa was to invest in a complete certificate of War Savings Stamps. His Royal Highness was delighted to find that in Canada War Savings Stamps are on sale similar to those that are so popular in England. It was his intention to call at the Post Office and make his purchase of the stamps in the regular manner, during his stroll around Ottawa incognito, but pressure of other engagements prevented this being done. The Stamps were therefore sent to him at Government House and the sale duly made in cash, by the Secretary of the National War Savings Committee. The Prince was quite willing that his investment should be made known, and kindly sent the following letter, with permission to publish it, to Sir Herbert B. Ames, Chairman of the National War Savings Committee.

Government House,
Ottawa,
1st September, 1919

Dear Sir Herbert,

I am pleased to be the holder of a Canadian War Savings Certificate.

I am delighted to find that in Canada you have War Savings Stamps on sale, similar to those we have in England.

I wish the War Savings campaign every success.

I remain,
Yours sincerely,
(Signed) Edward P.

NARAMATA PROSPERING

mer sun sank in a golden haze over the wooded heights, blended with the vague soft greens and blues and purples of the park-like town of Naramata, reveal a charming sylvan picture. The vivid green squares of orchards on the hillsides make a striking background for the artistic houses on the fine sandy beach. It has become an attractive spot for visitors, and a number of prairie residents are spending the summer in the town and district. It is difficult to secure accommodation. Even tents are being used on the beach.

PEOPLE ARE PROSPEROUS.

Beautiful winding roads crossing narrow ravines, where hidden streams sing their way to the lake, lead to the homes on the benches, while everywhere in the orchards, there are signs of unusual activity. There are workers, boys and girls from Vancouver, Victoria, Calgary, and as far east as Winnipeg.

One of the older residents of Naramata stated that the various ranchers were people of distinct individuality—that the district was settled with people of unusual charm and broad culture. On closer acquaintance with those residents of Naramata, one would agree with that eulogy. Such a happy combination of nature at her best and people at their best puts one in the mood to declare that Naramata is one of the most charming and prosperous districts of British Columbia.

The Ladies' Unity Club of the town has struck a rising note in club work in that they have erected and own their club house, and have made of it a real community centre. A ladies' society was formed for this welfare work and a hospital tent opened. Later the ladies increased their scope of work and the Unity Club was organized about eight years ago. A lot was donated on the South Bench and a commodious bungalow erected. It is now valued at $2,500 and there is less than $700 owing on it. The members state that they were the first club in British Columbia to own their own building.

NEED GREATER PUBLICITY.

The club house is used for all patriotic functions and the meetings of various organizations are held there. The Farmers' Institute have it as their centre for meetings. It was given over to the service of the Red Cross during the war. It is a social centre for the district and the residents are especially energetic in arranging theatricals, Picnic and launch parties from around the lake engage the club house for their various dances, and it has generally been of great service in promoting the interests of the town.

Travelling is of particular interest at this season, and many tourists are to be met in this delightful valley.

An English lawyer, who was a captain in the Imperial Army, was locating in the valley, which he continually spoke of as "a gorgeous country." He had seen four years of active service, been badly gassed, and required outdoor life, so he had chosen the Okanagan as his future home.

A lady from New York who had "done" Europe and knew all the playgrounds of the United States was ardent in her appreciation of British Columbia. She declared that it as all quite beyond the potency of word painting and frequently remarked:

"Why don't the people in the East know more of the wonders of these corners of British Columbia?"

"Yes," replied her host, "and we intend to let the world know more of this marvelous province."

Short: I say, old man, can you lend me a fiver?

Long: Impossible. I've tried to lend you money several times, but you always seemed to look upon it as a gift.

Synopsis of Land Act Amendments

Minimum price of first-class land reduced to $5 an acre; second-class to $2.50 an acre.

Pre-emption now confined to surveyed lands only.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes and which is non-timber land.

Partnership pre-emptions abolished, but parties of not more than four may arrange for adjacent pre-emptions with joint residence, but each making necessary improvements on respective claims.

Pre-emptors must occupy claims for five years and make improvements to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivation of at least 5 acres, before receiving Crown Grant.

Where pre-emptor in occupation not less than 3 years, and has made proportional improvements, he may, because of ill-health, or other cause, be granted intermediate certificate of improvement and transfer his claim.

Records without permanent residence may be issued, provided applicant makes improvements to extent of $500 per annum and records same each year. Failure to make improvements or record same will operate as forfeiture. Title cannot be obtained in less than 5 years, and improvements of $10.00 per acre, including 5 acres cleared and cultivated, and residence of at least 2 years are required.

Pre-emptor holding Crown grant may record another pre-emption, if he requires land in conjunction with his farm, without actual occupation, provided statutory improvements made and residence maintained on Crown granted land.

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homestead; title to be obtained after fulfilling residential and improvement conditions.

For grazing and industrial purposes areas exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or company. Mill, factory or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres may be purchased; conditions include payment of stumpage.

Natural hay meadows inaccessible by existing roads may be purchased conditional upon construction of a road to them. Rebate of one-half of cost of road, not exceeding half of purchase price, is made.

PRE-EMPTORS' FREE GRANTS ACT.

The scope of this Act is enlarged to include all persons joining and serving with His Majesty's Forces. The time within which the heirs or devisees of a deceased pre-emptor may apply for title under this Act is extended from one year from the date of such person, as formerly, until one year after the conclusion of the present war. This privilege is also made retroactive.

No fees relating to pre-emptions are due or payable by soldiers on pre-emptions recorded after June 26, 1918. Taxes are remitted for five years.

Provision for return of moneys accrued, due and been paid since August 4, 1914, on account of payments, fees or taxes on soldiers' pre-emptions.

Interest on agreements to purchase town or city lots held by members of Armed Forces, or dependents, acquired direct or indirect, remitted from enactment to March 31, 1920.

SUB-PURCHASERS OF CROWN LANDS.

Provision made for issuance of Crown grants to sub-purchasers of Crown Lands, acquiring rights from purchasers who failed to complete purchase, involving forfeiture, on fulfillment of conditions of purchase, interest and taxes. Where sub-purchasers do not claim whole of original parcel, purchase price due and taxes may be distributed proportionately over whole area. Applications must be made by May 1, 1920.

GRAZING.

Grazing Act, 1919, for systematic development of livestock industry provides for grazing districts and their administration under Commission. Annual grazing permits issued based on numbers ranged priority for established owners. Stockowners may form Associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits for settlers, campers or travellers, up to ten head.

HAY BOX USED AS FIRELESS COOKER.

Cheaply Made Article which will Economize Time and Heat.

A convenient aid for summer cookery, which economizes both time and heat, may be cheaply made in the following manner:

Obtain a box of suitable size, line the inner surfaces and lid with felt, flannel or sacking and newspaper, then place enough hay inside to form a nest for a saucepan. This completes the apparatus.

It is used by partly cooking the dish in course of preparation over a gasoline or oil stove, then immediately placing the saucepan in the hollow in the hay, putting some hay over it and fastening down the lid tightly with a weight or strap, after a little experimenting, a woman may prepare her dinner before engaging in other household work, or before going out, and find it hot and ready some hours later.

It is possible to cook more than one dish at a time, but on no account must the box be opened until the food which requires the most cooking is ready. All meat dishes require a good start.

A calculation should be made as to the length of time they would take in the ordinary way; they should then be cooked for half that time on the fire, and finished in the box. After a little experience many things can be left on the fire one-third or even less of the time required in the ordinary way.

The following are some of the things which may be cooked in the hay box:

BOILED CHICKENS—Half the usual time on the fire, three hours in the box.

STEW—Prepare in the usual way, stew gently for forty-five minutes on the fire, leave in the box for three or four hours.

BOILED BEEF—Half the usual time on the fire, and in the box as long as possible.

POTATOES—Put into cold water, boil one minute. Leave in the box for two or two and a half hours.

DRIED PEAS, BEANS AND PORRIDGE, ETC.—May be boiled and put in the box over night, and be ready for use in the morning.

Dear Sir:

I should like to get in touch with all ex-Service men who have seen service in H.M. Armed Forces prior to the late War, who would like to form part of the Veteran Guard of Honor to His Royal Highness The Prince of Wales at Penticton.

The Veterans of Penticton extend a hearty welcome to all comrades in Summerland and vicinity.

Communications from those wishing to take part should be addressed to the undersigned and full particulars as to date and place will be sent.

Thanking you for your courtesy in inserting this,

Yours truly,
GEO. F. GUERNSEY,
Stipendiary Magistrate.

The Editor,
Summerland Review.

Dear Sir:

I would like to correct an erroneous impression that is apt to spread from an article printed in your issue dated August 28th, under the heading "Says New Peach Box Causes Loss."

In the eleven inch box (the one in former use) the ruling for size for a number one grade for peaches was as follows: "In addition to conforming to the other requirements of the section, peaches graded No. 1 shall not be passed if they run smaller than 90 to the box, except Alexanders and other early varieties, which may be 96 to the box (tightly packed)."

In view of the fact that the new standard box is half an inch wider a ruling was issued by the Fruit Commissioner that 96 would be the minimum No. 1 for all varieties. This not only offsets the difference in the size of box for everything but the very early varieties, but avoids complications as to the minimum in different varieties.

Most of the shippers have been notified of this.

Yours very truly,
FRANK E. LOVEDAY,
Dom. Fruit Inspector.
