CANDIDATES SELECTED

Government and Opposition Men Selected by Conventions

JONES v. ROGERS

Member Will Have Same Opponent as in Last Election Contest

The local delegates of the provincial government supporters attended the convention at Kelowna yesterday, and report an enthusiastic gathering, at which Mr. J. W. Jones, M.L.A., was unanimously chosen to again contest the seat at the coming election. The delegation consisted of the following ladies and gentlemen: Mrs. A. B. Elliott, Miss Cooper, Messrs. J. M. Sutherland, J. W. Wheeler, A. Davidson, A. E. Rose, W. C. W. Fosberry, J. A. Kirk, and H. C. Mellor. Upwards of seventy-five delegates were present, all of whom signed Mr. Jones' nomination. Mr. J. A. Kirk was elected president of the South Okanagan Electoral District Association, with Mrs. Elliott and Mr. Rose as delegates, and Mr. Weddell of Kelowna as secretary.

After the meeting, the members attended the public meeting at which Premier Meighen, Mr. J. A. Calder, Mr. H. H. Stevens and Mr. J. A. MacKELVIE were the speakers.

A convention of the Liberal Association of the South Okanagan was held in Kelowna on Saturday, October 30th. Mr. L. V. Rogers was unanimously adopted as candidate, and the following officers elected: Hon. President, Hon. John Oliver; President, W. C. Kelley, Summerland; 1st Vice-President, D. W. Sutherland, Kelowna; 2nd Vice-President, Mrs. Alex. Steven, Summerland; 3rd Vice-President, Mrs. W. C. Duggan, Kelowna; Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. D. J. Welsh, Summerland. There was a good attendance, and a satisfactory campaign fund subscribed. The full organization of the district is underway.

Copper Plant in Operation

Electrical Energy Now Flowing Across Valley

Active mining operations have been started by the Canada Copper Corporation, the power line from Bonnington Falls and the railway from Princeton to the mine having both been completed. The power has been turned on and trains are running.

The first train of ore moved to the concentrator at Allenby on October 19, and shipments are being daily increased. The company is adding to its crew, and hopes to bring the tonnage up to 2000 tons daily when all the machines underground are manned. At present about 300 men are employed, and it is thought that by Christmas 500 men will have been secured.

Working and living conditions are reported to be of the best, the accommodation being modern, with many comforts for employees.

The undertaking of the company at Copper Mountain represents a total investment of $7,000,000, and officials are confident that the corporation has bright future. The recent copper production of the province fell off with the closing down of the large mines in the boundary district, but it is expected that with steady operations at the new camp at Copper Mountain it will be only a reasonably short time till British Columbia's output will exceed previous records.

SUMMERLAND WEATHER REPORT

Below is a report furnished by the Dominion Experimental Station here for the week ending Tuesday:

Halifax, N.S.—Heavy shipments of apples are being made overseas this fall. One liner which left for London during the week carried 14,000 barrels.

Rushing Work at the Hospital

The pace set when work was commenced on the new hospital building is being maintained and Inspector Fawkes states that the work is now some days ahead of the schedule set for himself by Contractor Harvey. Work is being pushed forward with all possible haste so that all concrete work may be finished before freezing weather sets in. The foundations are finished and all concrete poured in the walls up to the level of the ground floor. These will enclose the dining room, kitchen, laundry, store room, furnace room, etc. The ground floor joists are all in position even to the verandah joists and the concrete for the walls of the Marsden Van Allen memorial wing and the east wing are up to the level of the eaves. By the end of the week it is hoped to have the walls of the main building moulded to the top. An effort will be made to have the roof on early in December.

Assistant to Supt. Helmer.

It is announced that Mr. Arthur J. Mann of Penticton has been appointed Assistant to Superintendent Helmer at the Experimental Station here in response to Mr. Helmer's request for this increase in his staff. Mr. Mann is a graduate of Guelph Agricultural College, and has been in the Okanagan Valley as Provincial Horticulturist for about a year.

Mid Term Exams At High School

Girls Organize for Athletic Sports

Mr. J. B. DeLong, Inspector of High Schools, visited Summerland on Monday, October 25th, and held an examination of the pupils of the local High School, in charge of Mr. D. J. Welsh, B.A. The report handed in by the Inspector was very satisfactory the discipline being noted as good, and the pupils attentive and interested.

In the matter of accommodation, the Inspector reports that this will have to be substantially enlarged to meet the increasing attendance. At present there are two class-rooms and a science laboratory, but for next year three larger class-rooms will be absolutely necessary.

JOHN TAIT IS CHAIRMAN

School Board Sells Garnett Valley Property

At the regular meeting of the School Board held Wednesday evening, Tristee John Tait was elected to the chair to succeed the late chairman of the Board, Mr. F. A. C. Wright. The secretary was instructed to stay at their posts and carry out the work which had to be done. They had no time to answer the stream of criticism and calumny which poured upon them in an avalanche, and it continued unchecked. But the speaker was here to defend every act and deed of the Union Government. (Applause). Some imperfections in detail might doubtless be found, but the big things accomplished were along the right lines. The vital work of winning the war was the first consideration, and this was carried on in the face of continual hostile criticism. Had the Government kept an eye on a future election day, they would probably have modified many things, but they had no such idea in their minds. Compulsory military service was finally passed with the forced approval of those who dared not actively oppose it, but who now used it as a weapon for party purposes. On the other hand, some of the things done by the Government seemed to have opened the notice of their critics. (Laughter and cheers). For in-

Mr. J. A. MacKELVIE GETS GOOD HEARING

States Briefly his Attitude Toward Several Important Public Questions. Will be Heard Here Again Soon

Facing an attentive and appreciative audience which crowded the Empire Hall to its utmost capacity, Premier Meighen on Wednesday afternoon presented the case of the Federal Government with that clearness and vigour which the country has been learning to expect from the Hon. Arthur. The chief features of the speaker's address were the total absence of rhetoric and a quiet calm presentation of facts which obviously impressed his hearers to a considerable extent.

The Premier and Mr. J. A. MacKELVIE of Vernon came over from Naramata by special ferry, having previously spoken at the Aikins theatre, and been the luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. Aikins. The original plans were somewhat upset by a two hour delay of the train from Grand Forks, and it was 3:30 before the party reached Summerland.

The platform was occupied by members of the Council and active supporters of the candidate, amongst them being J. W. Jones, M.L.A., Major Hutton, Col. Cartwright and others. In the absence of Dr. Andrew, the chair was taken by Mr. Hector Sutherland, who referred to the Premier as an old acquaintance, of whom he had long ago predicted big things.

Candidate Heard

Mr. J. A. MacKELVIE, the Government candidate, was first called on to speak, and in the course of his remarks, noted that his opponent Col. Edgett had been recently endorsed by various conventions of Liberals, Farmers, Soldiers and Labourites, but as an old farmer and soldier himself he did not feel at all dismayed, especially as the veterans of South Kelowna and Rutland had recently dissociated themselves from the Colonel's candidature. As a matter of fact, he, the speaker, was receiving much support from the soldier element. He was in sympathy with any reasonable assistance to returned men, but against cash gratuities. He had also for many years past been a strong advocate of woman suffrage while the MacKenzie King followers had always opposed it. He hoped to go fully into matters on another occasion very shortly.

Premier Meighen

The Premier, who rose amidst cheering, opened his address with the appeal to party men and women to forget their partisan leanings, and vote with the purpose of electing representatives whose policy was best for the country. Public opinion had forced the amalgamation of parties in 1917, and if ever any government had carried out the mandate of the people, the Union Government elected in that year did so. The strain of that time was far greater than most people could imagine, and the first duty of the government members was to stay at their posts and carry out the work which had to be done. They had no time to answer the stream of criticism and calumny which poured upon them in an avalanche, and it continued unchecked. But the speaker was here to defend every act and deed of the Union Government. (Applause).

The secretary was instructed to ask the Council to improve the road immediately south of G. J. C. White's home, especially the turn at the head of the grade.

Approval was given to the action of Mrs. Denton in providing a substitute, Mrs. R. M. Tait, who is now in charge of Mrs. Denton's room.

The offer of R. Shannon to purchase the Garnett Valley school house for $800 on annual payments of $200 was accepted.

The Board appointed itself a committee to sell municipal bonds to pay for the new room in connection with the Central School.

Following is a summary of accounts approved for payment:

Teachers' Salaries ..... $1,700.00

Secretary's Salary ..... 10.00

Carstaining ..... 60.00

Conveyances ..... 021.00

Sundry Accounts ..... 270.53

Total ..... $2,790.53

stance, the Farmers' Party went to Government which had already done so much, than by those who had all along done nothing but oppose and criticise.

One other big thing which had been taken up by the present administration was the matter of technical education. The Federal Government has inaugurated a policy by which they will work with the provincial governments on this matter, and will contribute liberally to the financial end. $25,000,000 has been spent along these lines so far, and agricultural education is receiving similar attention. In the face of all these facts, what right have the opponents of the Government to pose as forces of progress? What possible grounds have they for accusing the Government of standing still, or even going backward? What do they want done which has not been done, or is being done?

Mr. MacKenzie King says the tariff is unsatisfactory, and wants the doors opened wider to admit more buying from the United States. Well, under present conditions we have this year bought nearly twice as much from the United States as we have sold to them, and we have all the time been paying 10 or 11 cents exchange on every dollar we send over.

U.S. Exchange.

Mr. MacKenzie King wishes us to buy still more on these terms and Col. Edgett would have to follow his leader. The Colonel is endorsed by the Farmers' Party. How many farmers' parties are there, and which is Col. Edgett's? It should be remembered that in the House of Commons a member cannot vote with mental reservations, but must vote Yes or No. Supposing Mr. MacKenzie King moves that the tariff is unsatisfactory, what would be Col. Edgett's position? He must vote in support of Mr. King, and that would mean a vote against the duty on fruit, amongst other things. Is that what the people of the Okanagan Valley want? If he votes in favor of the duty he is running against his own platform. The Colonel seems to have strayed into the wrong room. (Laughter). Well, what else does he want? For one thing he wants one hundred per cent establishment—well, so does everyone else, but the Government has been working for this all the time, and the Colonel's party have done nothing to help. He wants excess taxes from manufacturers—but it is a fact that Canada has the biggest profit tax in the world, except England. It is possible to tax so heavily that the manufacturers could not pay, and capital would go elsewhere.

Mr. King talks of "grappling" with the profiteers. Why has he not done it? Canada taxes the big incomes higher than any other country without exception. If she goes much further she will kill the goose which lays the egg. Mr. King says the speaker is a puppet in the hands of the big interests. Does he suppose the big interests would want him to do as he has done? Mr. King is as reckless of his statements in the House as out of it, but in the House there are the blue books, and he cannot go very far without being pulled up. He charges that public funds have been diverted to friends of the Government. Why not name some of the friends? All this talk is the chicanery of a public man who cannot produce the goods. Canada is this year buying more from the United States than from all the rest of the world. Mr. King would improve matters by sweeping away the tariff with his eyes shut, and his followers must also be blind.

In conclusion the speaker urged the support of Mr. J. A. MacKELVIE, whose personal record they all know, and whose policy they could understand.

The proceedings closed with the singing of the National Anthem, and three cheers for the Premier.

Spoke Sunday at Naramata

The Union Sunday School held an inspirational Rally Day service in the church on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. In the unavoidable absence through illness of the superintendent, Mr. W. H. Irwin, the meeting was presided over by Mr. W. R. Bartlett, Bible Class teacher. Four speakers took part on this occasion. The pastor Rev. W. P. Ewing gave the address of welcome.

Mr. J. W. Jones, M.L.A. gave the principal address, which was well chosen and suited the occasion admirably. Mention was made of the splendid work accomplished in connection with the Union Sunday School of Kelowna, of which the speaker is a member, and was for some time a teacher. His topic was "Men who have stood for something." Mention was made of Lloyd George, Abraham Lincoln and other worth while men, all of whom had been firm believers in the Bible and partakers in religious services and all good works.

Mr. J. M. Robinson spoke on "Playing the Game," and pointed out the necessity of developing the spiritual as well as the physical and intellectual.

Capt. Languedoc spoke briefly and to the point on Sabbath observance, emphasizing the importance of eliminating work on the Lord's Day, and not forgetting the worship of God.

The musical part was furnished by Miss Enid Rayner, Mr. S. Dicken, and the Primary Class, as well as four hymns by the congregation.

Should such a stepping down station be put in there is some hope that a power line will be run up the Valley.

A report that an arrangement had already been made with the Government for the erection of a stepping down station was the occasion of a request to the Summerland Council that it delay further action toward installing a new hydro-electric unit until more information was had with respect to the Power Company's plans.

The church was tastefully decorated with mottoes, flags and flowers.

Frank Hughes convened this department of the work.

Mrs. Hayward gave a most suitable reading, "The Reward of the Teacher."

The congregation was one of the largest that ever gathered for worship in this church.

Report submitted by Secretary Dr. Wm. Buchanan.

The local committee are very grateful to the management of the Summerland Experimental Station for their assistance and especially the assistance of Supt. Helmer and Mr. John Tait who so ably played their part in the judging and it would be hard to estimate the value to the growers here of the information so ably and cheerfully given by these gentlemen and the other representatives from the Experimental Station on all lines of mutual interest to all. Mention might also be made of a side exhibit of two pure bred Persian kittens exhibited by Mrs. N. H. McClelland, which caused quite an added interest. They were the only live creatures exhibited outside, of course, of the baby clinic.

The Progress of Manitoba

(1) On the left the Royal Alexandra Hotel, Winnipeg, and on the right a portion of the C. P. R. Station Building. (2) Fort Garry, Winnipeg.—A plate on the wall, presented by Winnipeg Canadian Club, tells its story.

There is an Indian legend of a race of people who dwelt upon the Red River territory, in present international boundaries and Lakes Winnipeg and Winnipegosis. This land he proceeded to colonize with settlers from the Scottish Highlands. The Colony grew and flourished. About 1830 the population of Red River was 1,500. In 1835 the Council of Assiniboia was organized to govern the colony and Fort Garry (now Winnipeg) was built.

From this time on the history of Manitoba is one of growing prosperity, broken only by the Red River Rebellion of 1869 and 1870. To Sir Edmund Head, Governor-General of Canada in 1861, is due the fact that Manitoba was confederated into the Dominion. In 1880 the Hudson's Bay Company, of which he was a director, transferred back to England, in consideration of a sum of £300,000, the lands which it had received from her some two hundred years before.

It is a far cry from the old trading post of Fort Garry to the big, modern city of Winnipeg. Fifty years ago this city was a mere village of only a couple of hundred people.

Main Street was only a prairie trail.

There was no school, no railway or telegraph connection with the outer world; no banks, except that the Hudson's Bay Company accepted deposits and issued paper money of its own; and property owners paid no taxes. But after 1870 the place began to grow. Three years afterwards it had a population of over 2,000, and in 1874 it became an incorporated city, with W. M. Cornish, a lawyer, as first Mayor.

In 1880, the building of the C.P.R. was begun and went from Winnipeg west and east, and in 1885 the first through train from Montreal arrived in the city. Now the C.P.R. freight yards at Winnipeg are the largest in the world. Winnipeg's growth became steady and solid. In the period just before the war Winnipeg's population had increased to 183,378 and her aggregate industrial production for the year 1912 was $2,000,000. She is now the third city in Canada and the little colony, begun by Radisson and his fellow adventurers, is now a great and flourishing part of the wide Dominion, whose confines stretch from sea to sea and "whose name is known in all lands."—From the Manitoba Free Press.

Up to 1870 the history of education in Manitoba is largely written in the heroic efforts of the Church, both Catholic and Protestant. In the beginning of the Provincial era there were 33 parochial schools in operation, but in 1876 the number of schools had grown to 53. Last year there were 3,200 teachers and 115,000 pupils in the public and high schools of the Province.

.. The Winding Trail ..

"Who is Sylvia? What is she?" asks the poet. The latter half of the query may easily be applied to that particular Sylvia now held in one of His Majesty's prisons as a result of her mental aberrations. Not so many years ago this erratic lady was prepared to go cheerfully to jail for the sake of the vote which at that time was denied to her sex. To-day she scorns that vote as being totally inadequate, and nothing will content her but direct action of the most approved Bolshevik pattern. Her public career, as far as it has gone, reminds one very strongly of the bewildering path formerly trodden by one Mrs. Annie Besant, who made no scruples about reversing her convictions at any time, and in turn posed as the champion, and the opponent, of the same movement. Her brief, though exceedingly vigorous collaboration with the late Charles Bradlaugh, in the "Fruits of Philosophy," was followed by a sudden recantation and change of heart which took the general public by complete surprise, and this was merely a sort of prelude to the rapid transitions which followed. Every new theory or cult which appealed to her abnormal imagination, seems to have found a friend in this lady of the mobile mind, the last heard of being an improved version of theosophy, and the preaching of sedition in India. These various vocations were spread over approximately half a century. If the versatile Sylvia goes on as she has begun, she may yet leave her prototype in the shade.

Hallowe'en pranks, which are accepted with more mischief—or less equanimity by an indulgent public, fall naturally into the two classes of plain, ordinary mischief, and the more irritating category of vandalism and wantonness. When a set of frolickers pile up a barricade of apple boxes across the road, possibly no one is much hurt, and the motorist who has to clear them away before he can get to church may perhaps recover his wonted coolness in time to appreciate the sermon, but when church gates are taken off, and thrown across the road, as I saw them this week, there is shown a bent of mind which looks on mischief of average type as much too mild, and is not satisfied unless something more offensive is done. It is this kind of thing which sets public sentiment against the observance of these old traditions, and sooner or later, brings about their suppression.

In some parts of England there is a certain day known as Plough Monday, the chief feature of which is the hauling of a plough around the villages, and the turning up of furrows over the green sward, and also on the gardens of such residents as may happen to be unpopular with the plough party. I have seen a furrow opened up across a grass lawn which had taken several years to establish, and young trees deliberately destroyed, such destruction necessarily involving years of time to make good, and therefore absolutely inexcusable. Of a somewhat different type was the damage inflicted on a very unpopular mayor of the university town of Cambridge about twenty years ago, the driveway to his house being scored, and the big gates removed and burned in the market place! On that occasion several convictions followed, but were afterwards quashed through the representation of friends who saw the disastrous effect of them on the future careers of men preparing for the professions of law, medicine, and the church.

One amusing feature of these pranks is the zeal with which the perpetrators undertake hard work, for which at other times they would demand good pay. One is apt to regard this factor in much the same light as the native of India regards the stren-

DOES ADVERTISING PAY?

A. & F. Pears, the English soap makers, were spending about a quarter of a million dollars annually some fifteen years ago, and they were selling each year a good many million dollars' worth of soap. Everyone knew about Pears' soap—the name was familiar in the farthest corner of the globe, but the board of directors decided that they would get along without advertising because they were selling all that their factories could produce. They did no advertising during the following six months, and in that six months lost 85 per cent. of their total business. It cost them six and a half million dollars in additional publicity to get back where they had left off. This shows how quickly the public forgets when advertising is withdrawn. It illustrates the need for constantly repeated advertising.—Insurance Monitor.

The money spent in road improvement is to be considered as an investment, which will return annual interest to the community in reduced costs of transportation, greater freedom of traffic and travel, and in the increased comfort and happiness of the people.

The Compromise By the time these lines appear the British miners will probably be at work once more, having accepted certain proposals which they may regard as a victory. Like many other settlements in this world, it is a compromise, neither party getting its own way absolutely. The exasperating feature to the country at large is the fact that the settlement could easily have been reached without the slightest need for the loss of time, money and temper which has actually been incurred. The miners have gained nothing but what has been offered them all along—the increase of pay is bracketed with an obligation to increase their output, and this was always open to them. The actual result to them of the ill advised strike has been the loss of funds which cannot be made up within many months. The loss to the nation is even more serious. If the struggle has the effect of narrowing the gulf between the two disputants, that will be something gained. But it is a slow and expensive process.

THE PRIME MINISTER'S VISIT.

Those who were privileged to listen to the able and concise exposition of government achievements in the past, and intentions for the future, will unite in the opinion that it could not have been better laid before them. The Hon. Arthur Meighen has a rare gift of lucidity, and never wastes a word. Nor does he hesitate to expose falacy, being, in that respect, greatly like the premier of Great Britain. Apart from that, the array of facts and figures he gave out on Wednesday afternoon carry their own justification, and some of them were probably surprising to many who heard them from an indisputable authority. The figures relating to Canada's trade with the United States, despite the handicap of adverse exchange, must be considered as astonishing as they are disagreeable, while the recital of what has been done, along the lines of land settlement, was calculated to impress those most prone to disparagement.

The Union Government was silent against its critics for a long period, because it was too busy doing its work. It is still busy, but the new Premier is finding time to lift the veil, and show the country what has been done.

NOT EASY TO WORK.

The matter of providing government control of the sale of liquor in British Columbia is already showing symptoms of trouble. An Ottawa despatch claims that under existing Federal laws, no province can have a monopoly of importing liquor, and that no legislation giving such right is in contemplation. It is stated that the only method of controlling imports is by the same means as the prairie provinces have adopted, and under those conditions not even the Government could import liquor except for medicinal and sacramental purposes. It is a curious situation, and would seem to imply that even a majority vote of a province may be ultra vires.

The commercial apple crop of the Dominion, despite a large increase in Ontario over last year, now indicates a decrease of one quarter of a million barrels over 1919, according to the last report of the Fruit Commissioner's Branch. The quality of the crop is, however, decidedly higher. In British Columbia the crop is now estimated at from 50 to 55 per cent. of 1919. Ontario will show a substantial increase in exports. In Nova Scotia the commercial estimate is 900,000 barrels, compared with 1,600,000 last year.

The Merchant Who Advertises

Is helping to keep money circulating at home because the advertising done by business men of other places to reach the Summerland families tends to attract money elsewhere.

If they find it pays to advertise, the home merchant who can advertise at less expenditure of money is even more favorably situated.

SCIENTIFIC AGRICULTURE IN SASKATCHEWAN

Upper Picture.—Students' Residence, University of Saskatchewan. Live Stock Pavilion in the background.

Lower Picture.—"Better Farming Train," showing how instruction is carried to the farmers.

Long after the ivy peered in at the upper windows of such splendid universities as Oxford, Cambridge or Harvard, such an institution as the University of Saskatchewan had not even been imagined. When Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who laid the corner stone of this new university July 29th, 1910, was a student poring over his books few but Indians had stood on the height of land which is the site of the buildings shown in the accompanying photographs, and watched the waters of the South Saskatchewan River gliding swiftly and silently northward.

Although the prairie soil was as rich and the river as broad and full then as now, the City of Saskatoon was unconceived. Even as late as twenty years ago, when now stands a city of 30,000 people on three lines of railway, there were not one hundred men, women and children and these were housed in a few tents and shacks. The wildest enthusiast would hardly have dared to prophesy that one day a university would grow there—yet there it stands!

The buildings of the University of Saskatchewan crown the height of land north east of Saskatoon and the site could hardly have been more fortunately chosen. It includes half a mile of well-wooded river front and altogether embraces 1,233 acres of rich land, 223 acres of which are set aside for a campus, 100 acres for purposes of agricultural experimentation and 680 for the Agricultural College farm. The plan provides for the eventual accommodation of 5,000 students.

The present buildings consists of an administration building containing a hall and offices for the different departments as well as class rooms, two students' residences, one containing a spacious dining hall and the other a gymnasium and swimming pool; an engineering building; livestock pavilion and up-to-date model farm buildings. All the buildings conform to the preconceived plan and will, like those already erected, be of stone in the Gothic style. Work has just recently begun on a new science building. There are also several private residences on the campus, the two principal stone ones provided for in the architect's plan being those of the President of the University and the Dean of Agriculture. The buildings of Emmanuel College, a church of England Kindergarten School, the first of its kind in Saskatchewan also occupy a part of the campus. The University grants sites of from three to five acres to such affiliated colleges at a nominal rental. Eight thousand dollars has already been subscribed towards a beautiful structure which will be the home of the Presbyterian College.

The university provides degrees in Arts, Science, Law, Agriculture, Civil Engineering and a Diploma in Pharmacy.

The present enrolment is between 1,400 and 1,500, including returned soldiers who are retraining in various branches of skilled work, particularly engineering. Scores of promising returned soldiers have been turned out as capable motor mechanics. Steam, engineering and the handling and repairing of farm tractors are also taught. Agricultural students, principally the sons of farmers, are training in livestock handling and judging, and even in the care and management of poultry.

An important feature of the work of the University of Saskatchewan has been its Extension Department consisting of short instructional courses at seasonable times for farmers and farmers' wives. Each year a special train is fitted out and a regular course of instruction mapped out including lectures to farmers. This train is widely advertised as the "Better Farming Train." It makes a tour of the Province, stopping at all important points and the farmers drive in for miles to examine the exhibits, talk over their problems with experts and hear the lectures. Realizing that the average busy farmer cannot go to the University, an effort is made to take the University to him and to let him know at first hand the results of experiments with special varieties of grain, the latest information about methods of soil tillage, and the like.

During the recent winter evening lecture courses have been given at a nominal fee for the benefit of city residents. Some of the best educated people in the community have attended these classes.

From an educational standpoint Saskatoon offers as great opportunities as any city in Canada. Complete training from Kindergarten to University is provided through a fine set of public schools, thirteen large public schools, which ranged in cost from $118,000.00 to $156,000.00 at pre-war building prices. An accompanying photograph shows two of them in one block in the working class section of the city. The enrollment of pupils in the public schools is now well over 4,000.

The Collegiate Institute, which provides the intermediate stage between the Public Schools and the University, has an enrolment of about 2,000.

AVOID WASTE OF FUEL

Unless you know positively that a cheaper furnace will heat your home without waste of fuel, there is small satisfaction in saving a few dollars on its purchase. The Sunshine Furnace saves coal because it is well made and because every part has been carefully thought out.

McCLARY'S SUNSHINE FURNACE

Doors and dampers that are tightly fitted will certainly hold the fire longer than those that are loosely fitted. The wider air passages and larger radiating surfaces of the Sunshine must heat the air much more readily. These Sunshine Furnace features are coal-savers that mean much in mid-winter.

ADVERTISING

"EVERY GOOD STORE, EVEN THOUGH IT BE A SMALL ONE, SHOULD BE ADVERTISED."

Small beginnings, wisely made and persistently followed up, will mean assured growth and larger opportunities for the little merchant—just in the degree that his store merits and earns wider patronage and approval.

A small advertising space costs a small amount of money. Yet it affords a chance to the small merchant to tell why he seeks a wider patronage—what he has to offer that is unusual.

And whether he is located on the beaten pathway of trade or upon an unrefined byway, his Ad. will lead people to seek him out. And, in due time, he will be able to decide the matter of store location according to his liking rather than according to his necessities.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Lisette and daughter of Buffalo, U.S.A., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Rowley. Mrs. Lisette is a daughter of Mr. Rowley. The visitors will stay about two weeks.

On Wednesday afternoon, at the regular meeting of St. Andrew's Missionary Society, Miss Kenny, missionary from Formosa, now on furlough here, gave a short description of missionary activities in Formosa.

Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Dodwell of Prairie Valley, on Tuesday, November 2nd, sustained the loss of their infant son, Hugh Frederick, aged 8 weeks. The funeral took place on Wednesday, the Rev. H. E. Livingston officiating.

After a visit of two months here and at the coast, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Mosher of St. John N.B. left Tuesday morning to return to the Atlantic port city. They were accompanied as far as Sicamous by their daughter Mrs. R. E. White.

W. H. Bassett, a contractor of Idaho Grove, Idaho, recently started work on the building of a house and barn for his sister Mrs. E. O. James. Mr. Bassett, who has been here on a visit to his sister, was unexpectedly called away and the work on the buildings is being continued by Jas. Darke.

Included in the Robertson auction are some very nice wicker chairs just as good as new. Come and purchase one or two of these. 14

On Friday evening, October 29th, the Women's Missionary Society of St. Andrew's Church held a thank offering meeting, at which Miss Sinclair, who formerly carried on missionary work in India, gave a most interesting talk on work in India and China. The lecture was illustrated by lantern views, the instrument being kindly lent and operated by Mr. Baker.

The church was well filled, and upwards of $70 was realized for mission work.

Colonel Andrew O'Kelly, of the Canadian Department of Immigration, with his headquarters at Birmingham, England, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Sutherland, leaving yesterday for Vancouver. The Colonel was an exceedingly interesting talker, and has a great fund of experiences to draw from having served through the North-West Rebellion, the Boer War, and the struggle against Germany. In the latter war, Col. O'Kelly was in charge of a tank detachment, and gave a vivid description of their activities, and their immense improvement on the earliest models.

The Colonel states that farming in the Old Country shares in the general unrest, and that many farm overseers are losing their positions, and looking towards Canada. He states that the Canadian Government is considering the affording of assistance to this type of immigrant during the first year if found necessary.

They were talking about the different places they had visited during the war. One Australian was saying he had the privilege of being on guard one night at the gates of Bethlehem. Suddenly another Australian looked up at the first speaker and said: "I'll bet the shepherds watched their flock that night!"—New York Globe.

Naramata NewsCurrent Events of Town and District

Mrs. Cash and her sister Mrs. Price have gone to Vancouver for the winter.

Mrs. Hugh Davies is seriously ill with pneumonia at her home and her friends are hoping anxiously that there will be favorable change soon. Miss Amy Brown of Summerland is the nurse in charge.

Mrs. Languedoc visited friends in Summerland for a few days last week.

Mr. Russell Wells of Penticton was a business visitor here this week.

Mrs. Noyes who has been in the hospital in Penticton, suffering from a broken arm, is expected home soon.

The fruit packing is finished for this season and the amount of apples shipped from this district exceeded all expectations.

Mrs. and Miss May of England are here looking over the district with the idea of settling. They have taken the Dean cottage for a few months.

Mr. H. Davies who has been in the mercantile business here for a number of years, has disposed of his business interests to Mr. H. B. Rushbury of Vancouver. Mr. Rushbury operated a retail store at the coast and understands the needs of the community very well. He intends enlarging the present quarters and going into the general store business. He will also assume the Express duties.

Mr. J. Winger of Peachland is in town finishing his contract with the Naramata Supply Company.

Mr. Andy Wilson and family are moving to Vancouver on Monday.

Mr. R. Elver and wife are going to the prairies for the winter, where Mr. Elver has secured a position in the coal mines.

The hall above the Supply Company's store is being put in shape for winter basketball. The girls are most active in this direction and will play return matches here. After the holidays the stage will be removed from the hall to allow more dancing space and also more room for basketball games.

Mr. Ostrum has gone to the coast for a short time.

Mr. W. A. Robinson is in Vancouver. He is expected home in a few days.

Now that the elections are coming on so soon, there is a good deal of interest taken in politics generally and convincing argument is largely in evidence. The local organizations are beginning to gather their forces together for the contest and there will be some sadly disappointed parties when the returns come in.

Mr. J. W. Jones, M.L.A., came in on Saturday night to attend a meeting and he remained over to address the citizens at the church on Sunday in the interests of the Sunday School.

The Unity Club met on Friday afternoon with Mrs. George Wolstenholme and Mrs. Mabel Lyons as hostesses. Plans were made for holding a reception and dance on Armistice night for the returned men, in the Naramata Hall. As soon as the material arrives work will be started on the cemetery fencing. Mrs. H. Lee will be hostess for the next meeting.

The Women's Institute meeting was held on Tuesday afternoon. The prizes won at the recent fair were distributed. The special Purity flour prize was won by Mrs. H. P. Salting. The travelling library books all have to be in the end of the month as they must be sent back and exchanged. Mrs. Cargill gave a most excellent paper on "Famous Cathedrals." The annual election of officers will take place in January instead of December. Roll call was answered by names of famous cathedrals.

MAKING FARM BUTTER.

Milking, to obtain the best results, should be done at regular intervals of twelve hours. The cows should be milked in the same order every time, as far as possible by the same person, and the udders should be brushed and wiped with a cloth to prevent any dirt getting into the pail. The milking should be done quickly and thoroughly, and with clean, dry hands, and at all times the cows should be treated kindly. Immediately after milking the milk should be set, or separated. The setting system is extremely wasteful, and up-to-date butter makers find it more profitable to use a separator. The best results are always obtained when the milk is separated at once. The separator should be kept in a clean, dry place, and kept well oiled. After separating, the cream should be cooled to below 50 deg., and kept there until you want to ripen or sour it.

When sufficient cream has been obtained for a churning, it may be ripened. This process consists in heating the cream to 60 or 70 degrees depending on the temperature of the dairy. Twelve hours should be sufficient time in which to ripen the cream to the proper condition for churning. It should be frequently stirred during ripening; otherwise it will ripen unevenly, in which case loss will occur during churning.

When ready for churning the temperature of the cream should be 56 to 58 degrees in summer and 60 to 62 degrees in winter. Never attempt dairying without a thermometer and be sure that it is accurate. If the cream is found to be too cold, place the vessel containing it in another holding hot water, and stir till you get the correct temperature. If too warm place in a vessel containing cold water. Scald the churn thoroughly before use, and chill with cold water. The cooling of the churn will prevent the cream from sticking to it. All wooden utensils should be treated in this way before being used.

The cream should be poured into the churn through a cloth strainer. This will remove any lumps of coagulated casein that may be in it and which would cause mottled or streaky butter, and it will also render the cream of a uniform thickness, causing it to churn more easily than it otherwise would. The churn should be turned slowly at first, taking care to remove, or open the ventilator frequently during the first five minutes, to allow the gas to escape.

When the butter has formed into small granules (the size of wheat kernels) churning may be stopped. Great care should be taken not to churn past this stage, or you are sure to spoil the grain of the butter. This is a mistake often made, especially by beginners. Next draw off the buttermilk and allow the butter to drain for a few minutes. When all the buttermilk has drained off, water at about 50 degrees should be added in quantity not less than that of the buttermilk drained off, and the churn revolved about a dozen times.

Draw off this water, after which add more at 45 degrees, and revolve, then drain thoroughly. This is usually sufficient washing to remove the buttermilk, though three waters are sometimes considered necessary. The butter should now be removed from the churn to the worker, and it ought to be weighed, so that the necessary quantity of salt may be ascertained.

Now is the time to look over your house and other buildings and get your material for repairs and improvements. We have all kinds of

MAKING FARM BUTTER.

The quantity of salt required depends on the taste of the customer; some like their butter heavily salted, while others prefer it with scarcely any salt. The amount usually required is from three-quarters to one ounce per pound of butter when taken from the churn. Sprinkle the salt evenly over the butter as it lies on the worker, after which it may be worked and in so doing be careful not to spoil the grain. This is best done by doing as little working as possible. A few turns on the worker is sufficient to get the salt mixed through it.

Then the butter may be set aside in a cool place for four or five hours, at the end of which time the salt will be thoroughly dissolved. The butter may then be worked second time. Work until the color is uniform and the body firm. Never allow the roller of the worker to slip or slide, but always, as it were, cut into the butter.

TREES 5,000 YEARS OLD.

A huge cypress in a churchyard near Santa Maria del Tule, in southern Mexico, according to scientists is the oldest living thing in the world, being between 5,000 and 6,000 years old.

This age is based on the gigantic bough of the tree and the slow growth of the species. These figures mean that when the seed from which the tree sprang fell upon the earth King Menes was holding the first reign in Egypt of which we have any historic knowledge, 3,000 years before the birth of Christ.

Humboldt discovered the tree more than 100 years ago. He nailed to the tree a wooden tablet containing his autograph and, although it is now partly hidden by the subsequent growth, the autograph is still legible.

The last scientific measurements of the tree showed it to have the astonishing girth of 136 feet at four feet from the ground. It shows no signs of decay.

ENUNCIATION.

Of all the faults of vocalists, professional and amateur, which mar the enjoyment of the listener, none is more irritating than the common defect of imperfect enunciation. I do not now refer to the more glaring types of mispronounced syllables, or the excruciating ill-treatment of the letter R, because these are, of course, absolute crimes against the laws of grammar, and should be blamed on the general lack of education in the individual; but I have in mind the relatively minor sins of slipshod neglect of the terminals of words, and the slurring over of consonants. These faults are bad enough in public speaking, and are, as such, generally criticised by people who are rather particular, but they are, curiously enough, ignored in singing, where the most care should be observed. Some vocalists appear to regard a song simply as a collection of musical sounds, and forget that the perfect creation is that of a harmonious blending of a given melody with the sentiments expressed, and that a rendering falls short of perfection just so far as the singer fails to properly interpret this artistic union. To use a very familiar example, the melody of "Home, without the book, and can then, and Sweet Home" is admittedly a beautiful one, but would it "make the tear-drops start" without the message of the words? And how can that message be given by a singer who disregards the first elements of his art?

Again, the supreme test of choir singing is that the words shall be heard distinctly, so that the hearers can follow the Psalms, for instance,

MAKING A PROSPEROUS COMMUNITY MORE PROSPEROUS

Summerland, a Very Desirable Place in which to Live, may be Made Even More Attractive

[By A BOOSTER]

Your prosperity is bound up with Summerland. Summerland's prosperity is bound up with that of its business houses, its industries, its banks and merchants. They in turn depend upon you—upon your co-operation and backing. The circle is complete. You cannot escape it.

If your money stays here; within the home circle, the community flourishes, its schools thrive, its realty values rise, its civic undertakings prosper, its inhabitants—you included—are well off. If you scatter your money abroad in making out-of-town purchases, then some other city thrives as a result of your industry, and your own town's prosperity withers. Your individual prosperity withers with it.

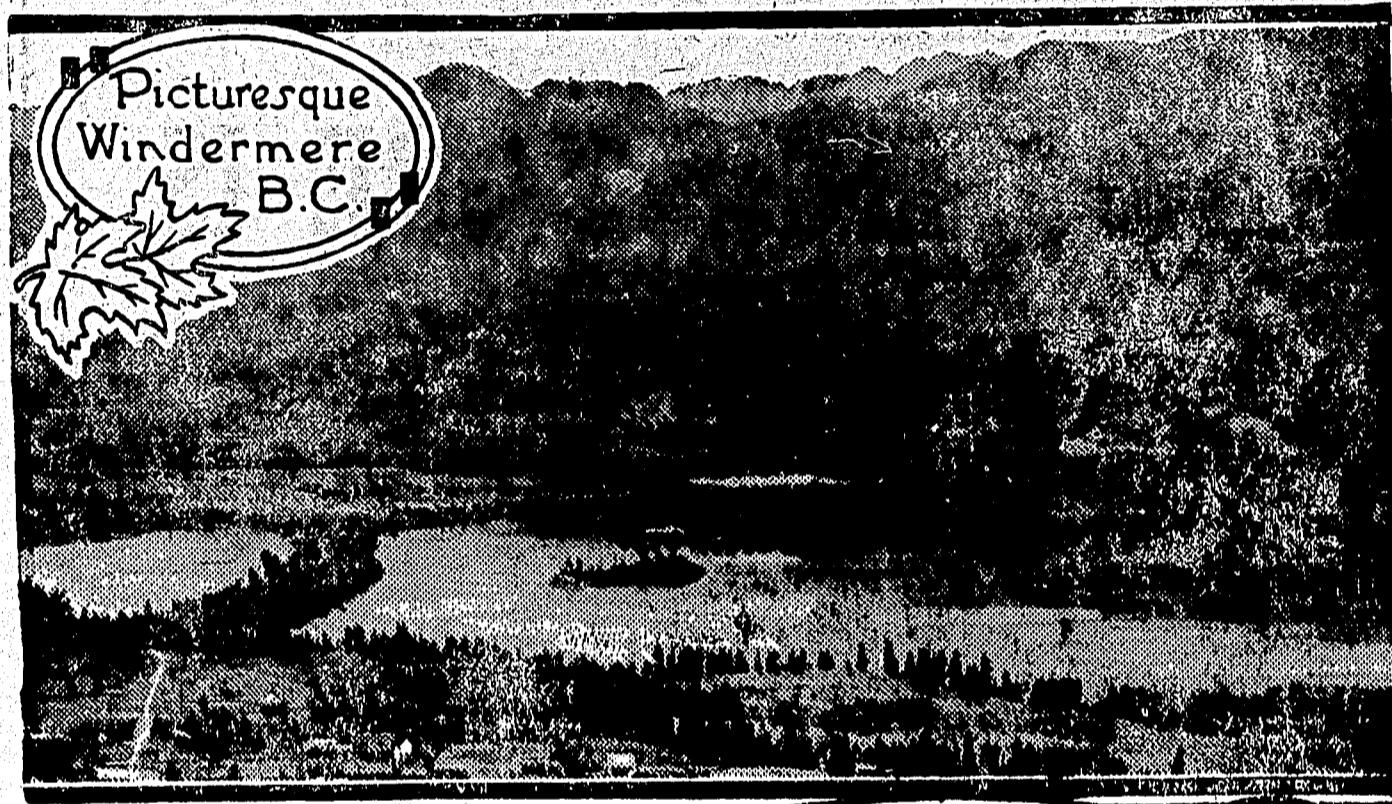

How shall you gauge your prosperity? Doesn't it mean, after all, simply the completeness of your well-being? Doesn't it involve something more than the mere size of your income? The real criterion is not the number of cents in your pocket-book but the sense of comfort in your soul. That man is satisfied with life who has an established position in a thriving community. You wouldn't want ten times your present income if you were earning it in the middle of the Sahara desert.

By every act of your daily life you indicate that you are happier for living in a prosperous community. When you take a ride on our roads, when you send your children to school, when you take the family to the movies, when you enjoy an outing on the shore, when you attend church, you are profiting by the benefits of community life. Granting,

The home merchant is a man who pays taxes, and thus helps to support the schools, to maintain the streets, to support Summerland's institutions, churches and hospitals. He is the man whose activities increase realty values, make prosperous the banks, attract new industries and new citizens, draw buyers from the surrounding country districts here and thus still further increase the wealth in which every citizen of Summerland shares.

The case is clear; the circle stands intact and unbreakable. The home merchant is the grantor of Summerland's prosperity—and yours.

Lovely Regions in the Canadian Rockies

If the beauty of the Canadian Rocky Mountains, north of the line between the Dominion and the United States, is not the grandest in the world it is certainly lovely as anywhere, and it is the loveliest on the American continent. The glory of the European Alps is dimmed by the towering snow clad peaks of the Rockies. Travellers on the Canadian Pacific Railway from Calgary through Banff, Lake Louise, Field and Glacier on to the Pacific Coast view a land in which they feel themselves transferred to an earthly paradise.

The gigantic heights, the snow capped peaks, the rugged boulders, the pines growing in the sand and rock crevices up as far as the snow line are amongst the most impressive features of the Rocky Mountains. How the builders of the C.P.R. ever were able to excavate their way through this region is one of the wonders of the world.

Visitors whose time is limited should anyway explore a portion of the Rocky Mountain region and stay off at Banff and Lake Louise, points where the C.P.R. has built luxurious hotels. Besides good roads radiate from these spots and automobiles or ponies can be engaged to bring the tourist right into the heart of the most scenic regions.

Banff is situated at an altitude of 4,521 feet in the Canadian National Park. This Park is a natural reservation of 5,732 square milesembracing part of the Bow river valley, numerous small rivers and several towering mountain ranges. Banff National Park is the largest in the world. Castle Mountain, 9,826 feet high, looks down on Banff Springs Hotel, and the hotel looks down on the Bow river valley. Buffalo still roam in the Park, and the Zoological Garden contains many Canadian wild animals. Banff Museum possesses many valuable objects of curiosities. In the Museum there is a visitors' book in which a space is provided for remarks on Banff. Looking over the book one is interested enough to take a note of some of the opinions on Banff. Here are a few:

"Banff is unequalled for beauty."

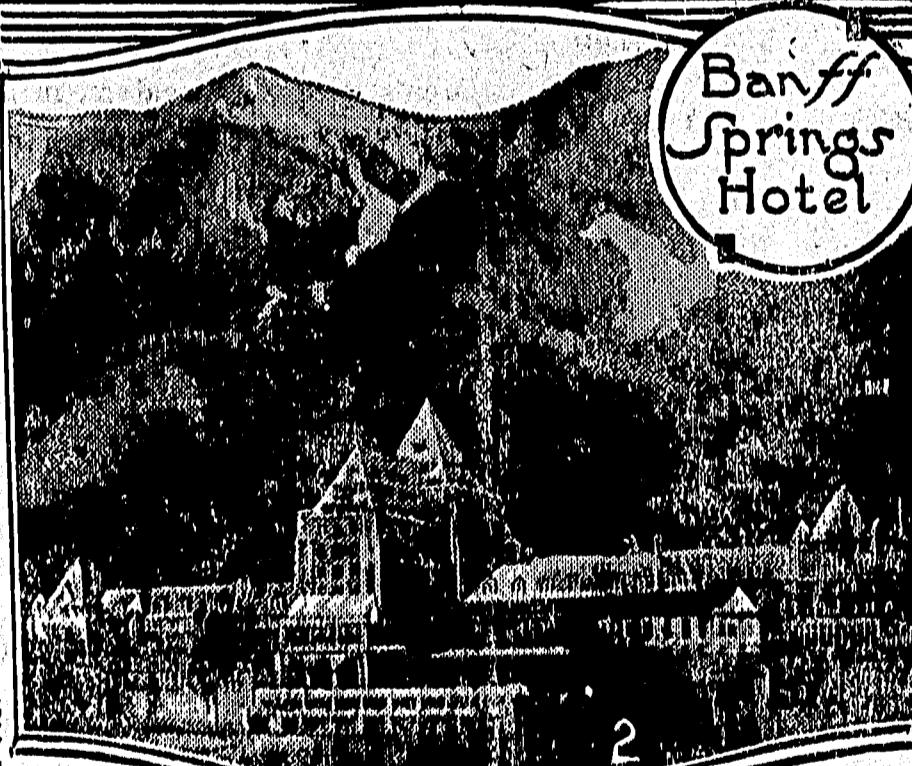

"Oh, would that my tongue could utter the thoughts that arise in me."

"Almost broke but happy. Banff to me is just the place to spend a lovely holiday. Let us be happy while we can."

"What more can anyone desire?"

"Cannot be beaten."

"Beyond description."

"If I do not go to heaven when I die, I would like to go to Banff next to heaven."

"Here one may look upon the face of God."

Splashes are employed to give visitors to Banff unusual thrills this year. They are being used in preference to aeroplanes because the lakes in the mountains offer landing and take-off stations for them, whereas such facilities are not available for the ordinary machines. The lake at Banff has been secured as the base of operations, and flights over the mountains and to other isolated lakes are projected.

The lake known as Lake Louise is a small sheet of water surrounded by mountains on all sides but one, and on this open side stands the Chateau Lake Louise looking out on the lake and the heights above. The winter in Lake Louise at different periods of the day puts on the most wonderful hues of green which suffice description. Some of the mountains at Lake Louise are Haddleback 7,803 feet high, Fairview 9,000, Lefroy 11,200, Victoria 11,355, Whyte 9,770; Big Beehive 7,400. Swiss guides conduct mountain climbing parties at Lake Louise. Ponies are largely used for climbing the trails on the mountain sides. From the Chateau Lake Louise it is a nice climb to the lakes in the Clouds, and this climb can easily be done on foot by any athlete lady or gentleman. Among the lakes in the Clouds one may enjoy tea in the comfortable log cabin erected for the comfort of the climbers.

There is opened to tourists this summer a new resort of rustic design in the Canadian Rockies on the sandy beaches of Lake Windermere, the loveliest warm water lake in British Columbia. Lake Windermere is situated about 170 miles south of the Main Line of the Canadian Pacific and is reached from the main line at Golden, or from Cowichan on the Crow's Nest, the station being Lake Windermere.

The scenery of this region combining as it does, pastoral softness with rugged mountain grandeur will attract visitors from all parts and become a favorite playground.

The summer visitor will find here everything that he could wish, bathing, boating, riding on mountain ponies to great Canyons and Glaciers, golf, automobiling, fishing and big game hunting in season.

The Canadian Pacific has erected a number of chalets fully equipped with every convenience of the modern home. An auto road from Banff is in the course of construction by the Dominion Parks Board.

Bean of Penticton, who was leaving on a trip to Winnipeg.

Mr. George Phillips and his youngest daughter Phyllis of Calgary arrived Saturday to spend a vacation here, guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Keyes. Mr. Phillips hopes to be able to spend his usual few days out in the tall timbers where he usually exhibits a quick eye and steady aim.

In passing south through town by auto Mr. Jas. Darke of Summerland stopped from Saturday afternoon till Sunday morning to visit friends here and was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. McCall.

Mr. R. O. McCall spent the weekend in town with his wife and son, taking up his duties on the Sicamous on Monday morning.

Rev. Andrew Grieves and Mr. Layton were accompanied on their regular trip here on Sunday by Mr. Boggs of Penticton. Mr. George Phillips accompanied the party on their return to Penticton after service, returning again Monday morning.

Mr. MacDonald left recently on a motor trip to the prairie, expecting to be away for a short time.

Among recent arrivals was Mrs. Upton's sister, Mrs. Robinson, from near Moose Jaw, with her two daughters. They will probably remain here for some time and the girls will attend the Central School.

Dr. R. C. Lipsett took the north bound Sicamous here on Monday morning en route for prairie points where he goes in connection with real estate business with which he is associated:

Having completed taking off his fruit crop on the Okanagan Centre property the familiar face and form of Mr. J. Seaton is frequently seen in our midst again. He arrived in town on Monday evening.

The Peachland Lumber Company are having a telephone line run and connected up with the through system here. Mr. G. A. Robinson is busy this week running the line from the mill end, and expects to tie to the line at this end near the electric power house.

A masquerade dance was held in the hall here Monday evening, at which there was a fair attendance. Prizes had been offered for the best dressed lady and also the best dressed gentleman. There were a number of well gotten up costumes and the prize winners were Mrs. O. Keating for the ladies, being dressed as a witch, and Mr. F. R. Jeffords, costumed as a negro. Mr. and Mrs. Jeffords and the two girls Miss Elizabeth and Miss June came up from Penticton for the evening.

Mr. J. W. Jones, M.P.P. was a visitor in town on Tuesday of this week, continuing his journey further south in the afternoon.

Synopsis of Land Act Amendments

Minimum price of first-class land reduced to $5 an acre; second-class to $2.50 an acre.

Pre-emption now confined to surveyed lands only.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes and which is non-timber land.

Partnership pre-emption abolished but parties of not more than four may arrange for adjacent pre-emptions with joint residence, but each making necessary improvements on respective claims.

Pre-emptors must occupy claims for five years and make improvements to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivation of at least 5 acres before receiving Crown Grant.

Where pre-emptor in occupation not less than 3 years, and has made proportionate improvements, he may, because of ill-health, or other cause, be granted intermediate certificate of improvement and transfer his claim.

Records without permanent residence may be issued, provided applicant makes improvements to extent of $300 per annum and records same each year. Failure to make improvements or record same will operate as forfeiture. Title cannot be obtained in less than 5 years, and improvements of $10 per acre, including 5 acres cleared and cultivated, and residence of at least 2 years are required.

Pre-emptor holding Crown grant may record another pre-emption, if he requires land in conjunction with his farm, without actual occupation, provided statutory improvements made and residence maintained on Crown granted land.

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites; title to be obtained after fulfilling residential and improvement conditions.

For grazing and industrial purposes areas exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or company. Mill, factory or industrial sites on timber land not exceeding 40 acres may be purchased; conditions include payment of stampage.

Natural hay meadows inaccessible by existing roads may be purchased conditional upon construction of a road to them. Rebate of one-half of cost of road, not exceeding half of purchase price, is made.

PRE-EMPTORS' FREE GRANTS ACT

The scope of this Act is enlarged to include all persons joining and serving with His Majesty's Forces. The time within which the heirs or devisees of a deceased pre-emptor may apply for title under this Act is extended from one year from the death of such person, as formerly, until one year after the conclusion of the late war. This privilege is also made retroactive.

No fees relating to pre-emptions are due or payable by soldiers on pre-emption recorded after June 26, 1918. Taxes are remitted for 5 years.

Provision for return of money accrued, due and paid since August 4, 1914, on account of payments, fees or taxes on soldiers' pre-emptions.

Interest on agreements to purchase town or city lots held by members of Allied Forces, or dependents, acquired direct or indirect, remitted from enlistment to March 31, 1920.

SUB-PURCHASERS OF CROWN LANDS

Provision made for issuance of Crown grants to sub-purchasers of Crown Lands, acquiring rights from purchasers who failed to complete purchase, involving forfeiture, on fulfillment of conditions of purchase, interest and taxes. Where sub-purchasers do not claim whole or original parcel, purchase price due and taxes may be distributed proportionately over whole area. Applications must be made by May 1, 1920.

GRAZING
Grazing Act, 1910, for systematic development of livestock industry provides for grazing districts, and range administration under Commissioner. Annual grazing permits issued based on numbers ranged; priority for established owners. Stock owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits for settlers, campers or travelers, up to ton head.

Provincial Election Coming

The Provincial Legislature has been dissolved and an election will be held on Wednesday, December 1st, 1920.

The Liberal Administration appeals to the electorate for re-election in the firm confidence that the record of the past four years of safe, sane and progressive administration of the affairs of British Columbia has met with the approval of every man and woman who has the best interests of the Province at heart.

The future policy of the Oliver Government will be to continue its progressive work in every department with the idea of developing the vast natural resources of British Columbia for the general benefit of the people.
