COL. C. E. EDGETT IS INDEPENDENT

Says Present Government Is Lacking in Leadership.

J. W. LOGIE HEARD

Would Have All Monopolies Socially Owned — Claims Government Controlled by Capital.

The independent candidate in the Federal election, spoke to a fairly large gathering in the Empire Hall on Saturday evening, Mr. W. C. Kelley being in the chair and several local gentlemen on the platform. The chairman first called upon Mr. Jack Logie to address the meeting, and that speaker opened his remarks by some criticism of a bottle trust, who owned the machinery used in bottle making and controlled prices. Members of this trust were also members of the government. The speaker claimed that the law of supply and demand no longer operated in Canada, prices being set by the big concerns. He also said that there was at the present time over-production in Canada. European buying was curtailed by lack of money and there was a surplus of raw material. He claimed that all monopolies should be socially owned. He condemned the present government for failing to enforce the eight-hour day endorsed by the League of Nations.

Referring to Mr. MacKellie's statement, that he had always supported woman's suffrage, the speaker stated that he had spoken on the same platform as Mr. MacKellie, 13 years ago, and at that time both Mr. MacKellie and his paper supported Price Ellison, who was never in favor of that measure.

Colonel Edgett began his speech by dealing with the statements made that no one knew where he stood, and said that he stood as an independent candidate, and had done so from the first. Coming to general matters he claimed that Canada was lacking in leadership and needed men big and broad-minded enough to see justice done to all. When the present government came into power, Mackenzie and Mann had been claiming national assistance year after year and had received federal and provincial grants totalling $280,000,000. When they were no longer able to carry on, the government decided to take over their railway and completed the deal in twenty-nine days. But it took them 108 days to pass the Military Service Act.

The speaker referred to the equipment known as the Oliver equipment, which was condemned, but continued to be accepted by the government. He claimed that the government was controlled by the moneyed interests, and instanced the Flavell case. This man, after making big profits in bacon, was given a title. The Ross rifle he characterized as a huge swindle and quoted Canon Scott in his condemnation of same.

The citizenship of Canada was made up of many elements and he hoped to represent all as best he could. Farmers only wanted fair representation and did not want to control matters.

The Colonel referred to the exodus of young people from the farms to the cities largely owing to the lack of comfortable dwelling conditions, and blamed the government for not encouraging the building of better houses. He also claimed that the attitude of the government created class feeling throughout the country.

He asked his honors if the veterans had had a square deal and told of the delegation which waited on Sir George Foster concerning increased indemnities. They were very nicely received but were later told the government was averse to making further cash payments to soldiers, the inference being that the government wished to control the funds. He stood for adequate compensation and investigation of individual cases. The government took a year to consider a 20 per cent. increase in pensions, but did not spend much time in voting an increase of remuneration to its own members.

He had every respect for his opponent, Mr. MacKellie, but pointed out that he was a self-proclaimed party man, while he, the speaker, was independent. Which did they want—a full blooded man who would vote on the dictates of his own conscience, or a man who would have to vote on the snap of the party whip? The speaker also referred to exemptions to the income tax, claiming that the returns were lowered by these. He wanted to see inspection of immigrants at the port of embarkation, instead of on arrival as at present. He was also in favor of a duty on fruit.

Speaking on the Oriental question, he noted the ill-effects of the Chinese element on the standard of health in the province and blamed laxity of handling. In conclusion, he predicted that the result of this election would send the government to the country. The address was well received by the audience and the meeting closed with three cheers for the speaker.

FORMER PROVINCIAL PREMIER W. J. BOWSER OUTLINES HIS POLICY FOR ASSISTING MUNICIPALITIES

Heard Here Last Saturday in Support of Opposition Candidate for South Okanagan—Says British Columbia Did Not Vote Wet.

MR. J. W. JONES CONDEMNNS GOVERNMENT FOR LACK OF AGRICULTURAL POLICY

Equally Condemnatory on Road Policy, Especially in Okanagan—Again Advocates Government Ownership of Storage Dams.

Former Premier Bowser on Saturday afternoon spoke to a full audience at the Riato Theatre in support of Mr. J. W. Jones, the local Conservative candidate, and made a favorable impression on his hearers. He opened his arraignment of the Oliver administration by objecting to their evasion of the moderation issue by dissolving parliament and claimed that having called for the plebiscite on the liquor question, it should have been ready to bring in legislation to carry into effect the will of the people. Preparations were made for referendum as far back as last January and the government should have been ready. As a matter of fact, the Oliver speakers were avoiding the subject during the present campaign, and the speaker claimed they should state their position.

Did Not Vote Wet.

Many electors voted for a change in the liquor laws in sheer disgust for the mismanagement of Attorney-General Farris, and did not declare so much for a wet or wide open province as for a decent British Columbia. The attorney-general through his failure to administer the law created the third largest industry in the province—namely, blind pigging. The other day the speaker, waiting to take the boat at a certain place, saw it delayed while four hundred cases of liquor were loaded up. His own idea of the application of the Moderation Act was that the government should establish stores under the control of well-paid men of the utmost integrity and sell at a moderate price liquor bought at wholesale rates. He claimed that with his own past experience he was in a better position to carry out such a law than was the present government and promised that, if he became premier, the law on this matter should be strictly enforced. He also insisted that it was incumbent on both Prohibitionists and Moderates to assist in making it effective. The people must choose between Attorney-General Farris and himself.

Provincial Credit.

With regard to finances, the Hon. Mr. Oliver claimed that the Bowser administration had ruined the credit of the province and made a great point of having to pay in 1917, 7 1/2 per cent. for money, in consequence of this situation. The actual truth was that in 1917, Great Britain and France were drawing heavily on the world's money market and high rates prevailed. In 1912, the speaker's government borrowed $1,000,000 at 5.62 per cent. Mr. Oliver claimed borrowing at great advantage lately through the sale of bonds at 93 in the United States, but when those bonds have to be redeemed over there, the exchange will be against us, and the advantage will disappear. At present rate the interest will amount to 9 per cent. instead of something under 6 per cent. as now claimed.

Said Had No Money.

The speaker referred to the Oliver Government's attitude to the public demand for assistance to schools, road repairs and other necessary work, and claimed that these matters could have been financed if the government had been willing, as $27,500,000 had been borrowed by the present administration and much of it had been spent in overhead charges. In thirteen years of Conservative administration, $103,000,000 had been spent largely in public works, such as schools, roads and public buildings, all of which remained as assets to the province. Let the public judge whether the Oliver Government has maintained that standard. The public debt in 1910 was $10,000,000—it is now $34,000,000. The spending of money by Minister King at the present time was reprehensible as, for example, the road from Roseland to Christina Lake, asked for long ago, but being now, on the eve of an election, undertaken at the worst possible time, with snow and frozen ground to contend against. Yet the government had no money! The government also managed to find $5000 to pay off the employees of an American concern on Vancouver Island when that concern went bankrupt and was unable to pay its men.

Answering numerous attacks made on him personally, the speaker said he had been elected and re-elected in Vancouver for seventeen years without a break and had never had to seek election in any other seat. (Applause.) Compare that with Mr. Oliver's various changes of electoral centres—he carried his carpet bag wherever he felt most sure of election. (Laughter.) For four years the Oliver Government had been trying to prove that he, the speaker, had mis-spent public money when in office, but the report of the commission appointed to investigate those charges was so favorable to him that it was never laid before the house. (Applause.)

The Municipalities.

The attitude of the present government towards the municipalities deserved severe criticism. The speaker proposed to make a per capita grant to municipalities from a fund obtained by pooling part of the proceeds from various sources of revenue and this would assist towards reduction of local taxes. The Oliver Government discouraged the development of provincial assets, which would greatly add to the wealth of the province. For example, the Anglo-Persian Company wanted permission to prospect for oil in the Peace River district, and would have spent millions in the work, when the Hon. Mr. Pattullo had so far spent $15,000. The government was spending much money in the civil service department, much of which was absolutely wasted. Up at Smithers the other day an Oliver official, "blew in," his alleged business being the inspecting of beehives in that part of the country, and that man was wasting public money. The officials, as a matter of fact, were largely uncontrolled. In the matter of roads, more money was being spent in overhead expenses than on the roads themselves.

The Salary List.

The salary list increased from $1,664,000 in 1916, to $2,271,000 in 1919, while for 1920 the high water mark had been reached when $3,200,000 had been voted, and this out of a total revenue of $12,000,000. The premier does not control his own government. (Applause.) A government should encourage production, and in this connection he was delighted with the class of citizens offering themselves as candidates in support of his platform. He wanted men with him who were successful in their own several professions and he, for his part, promised a constructive program and economic administration.

He would, for one thing, do away with the Land Settlement Board, and would aid agriculture by his plan of lending to farmers on long terms and at a moderate interest, as he was doing in 1916. Under present conditions much money was being spent in salaries and very little assistance given. The situation amongst some of the soldier settlements was an impossible one and needs complete revision as to land values, (Applause.) Speaking in support of the candidature of Mr. J. W. Jones, he considered him as a most valuable man, one who knew his riding from end to end, and had given to his parliamentary duties the best there was in him.

Mr. Jones followed and expressed his pleasure in again meeting his many Summerland friends. Referring to some alleged planks in the Oliver platform, he noted one which claimed the abolition of patronage. Well, Mr. Rogers, the defeated local government candidate, had openly stated at Kelowna that he was handling the government activities of this district and that it was necessary to apply to him as government representative. Another plank was economy and retrenchment, yet in four years there had piled up nearly $11,000,000 deficit.

Best Good Man.

The government had no set policy and the speaker referred to the fact that when it first took office the minister of agriculture was surrounded by experts, but it did not take them long to hand in their resignations after the premier took over the position. They found that a premier, who was also minister of agriculture, was too busy with his railway to attend to agriculture, and those men would not stay under a minister without a policy. When Mr. Barrow was made minister, the speaker had hoped for improvement, but Mr. Barrow was easy-going and easily satisfied, and was getting nowhere.

In 1916 the Bowser Government established a board under which loans could be made to farmers and $708,000 had been loaned at a cost of $13,000; the Oliver Government wiped this board out by its Land Settlement Act, and in 1917 loaned $105,000 at a cost of $28,800, and the following year advanced $110,000 at a cost of $41,000. (Laughter.) Then there was the episode of the Christian Ranch near Kelowna. Nearly $30,000 had been spent in developing this ranch, one item being the burning on the land of 5000 cords of wood which could have been sold, and not until then was it discovered that the ranch could not be irrigated. Yet he, the speaker, had warned the authorities from the first. Then we have the Sumas project in which two or three men formed a company with a capital of $200 and obtained a drainage contract of $1,500,000 from the Oliver Government, later on borrowing from that government $45,000 with which to buy machinery. Some honest government!

ST. ANDREW'S NEW PASTOR

Rev. W. A. Alexander Formally Inducted Into New Charge.

On Tuesday of this week, after the meeting of the Kamloops Presbytery, the Rev. W. A. Alexander, formerly of Craik, Sask., was inducted into the St. Andrew's congregation of West Summerland. This is the new name chosen by the union of Methodists and Presbyterians. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Millar, of Penticton, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Braman of Kelowna. Mr. Scott of Enderby, preached the sermon, after which the Rev. Lennox Fraser, Vernon, addressed the congregation and its newly inducted pastor.

Following the afternoon service supper was served in the hall by the Ladies' Aid of the united congregation. The evening program of speeches and songs was most thoroughly enjoyed. Prof. Broad, Mr. Chas. Baker, Rev. H. A. Solly, Rev. Isaac Paigen, all of Summerland; Rev. Mr. Braman of Kelowna, and Mr. Millar of Penticton, were the evening speakers. In the brief addresses a hearty welcome was extended to Mr. and Mrs. Alexander. The selections sung during the evening by Mr. J. O. Smith, Miss Snider and Mrs. Harding, were much appreciated.

The service was closed by a brief talk by Mr. Alexander, in which he expressed his gratitude for the fine welcome tendered him.

OPEN FORUM STARTED HERE

Splendid Lecture Heard Last Sunday—Organization Completed.

Quite a large audience assembled last Sunday afternoon in the Riato Theatre to hear Mr. W. C. Kelley give his synopsis of the book, Bellamy's "Looking Backward." Mr. D. J. Welsh was in the chair. It is never a simple thing to analyze the substance of any book of merit, even when all conditions are favorable to the task, and the difficulty is intensified considerably when the undertaking is beset with severe limitations. However, we think it would be difficult, indeed, to have the work done better than it was on Sunday last.

The book, setting forth as it does, a sort of Utopian idea of national government, naturally gives fine allowance to the questioner; a privilege which was granted on this occasion and which was unhesitatingly used. These many questions were splendidly met and answered by the speaker and were evidence of the burning interest that men and women are taking of modern governmental effort.

Neither speaker nor questioner indulged in any criticism of present affairs, nor were there any personal insinuations suggested as against what is; but rather the effect seemed to be a comparison of the unripe idealism which so effectively animates the best of modern citizenship—a state which no doubt will make its own contribution in its own time and way.

The larger result of the meeting was the organization of "The People's Forum," to be held each Sunday afternoon at the same place and time. The officers elected were: President, Principal D. J. Welsh; vice-president, W. C. Kelley; secretary-treasurer, A. J. Boor; executive committee, Mrs. J. G. Coulter White; Mrs. W. C. W. Fosbery; Messrs. J. W. S. Logie, L. G. Harding, Chas. Baker.

The president will speak next Sunday at 2.45 p.m., on the subject, "The Duty of Citizenship."

COUNCIL HOLDS EXTRA SESSION

Proposal for New Road Referred Back to Petitioners.

A special meeting of the Municipal Council was held on Monday, the chief purposes being the scrutiny of October accounts. Following on this business, the clerk reported that an offer had been received from the Agur estate to sell a strip of land, 40x1000 feet, on the end of two of their lots, as a roadsite to connect the Higgin road with the main Prairie Valley road. As a condition of the sale the municipality would be required to fence, put in the necessary gates and make alterations to existing irrigation flumes. Mr. Higgin wrote that he had seen the owners of adjacent properties, who had promised to do work on the road if it could be done immediately. After due consideration, the council decided the offer was too vague and the price higher than had been verbally stated. It was considered that the ultimate cost might be several times more than the expense of improving the existing road. The clerk was instructed to advise the promoters to that effect.

Mrs. K. Bentley wrote asking for improvement to irrigation connection on Jones' Plat. She claimed that twice as much land was served by that connection as was the case three years ago, and it was recognized that the matter would require attention before the opening of next season.

With regard to finances, the Hon. Mr. Oliver claimed that the Bowser administration had ruined the credit of the province and made a great point of having to pay in 1917, 7 1/2 per cent. for money, in consequence of this situation. The actual truth was that in 1917, Great Britain and France were drawing heavily on the world's money market and high rates prevailed. Mr. Oliver claimed borrowing at great advantage lately through the sale of bonds at 93 in the United States, but when those bonds have to be redeemed over there, the exchange will be against us, and the advantage will disappear. At present rate the interest will amount to 9 per cent. instead of something under 6 per cent. as now claimed.

ORCHARDISTS ON SOIL FERTILITY

Farmers' Institute Will Not Lose Identity—Much Work Done.

A meeting of the Farmers' Institute was held in the Parish Hall on Monday evening, over 100 persons being in attendance. President A. McLaughlin was in the chair, and stated the first business of the meeting was to decide as to joining forces with the United Farmers or to retain their present constitution. The latter course was quite obviously the sentiment of the gathering, and the Farmers' Institute therefore remains intact as an active organization. Mr. John Tait urged continued activity on the part of the members and thought the institute would find much of interest to discuss at the regular meetings. Superintendent Holmer gave a most interesting talk concerning a recent trip of inspection to the Wenatchee district, where the party met with Mr. Darlington, State Horticulturist, and were shown several of the orchards in the district. ## MR. L. V. ROGERS HOLDS MEETING

Government Candidate on Opposition Criticism.

CLAIMS MAJORITY

Mr. Leckie Says Rogers Will Get Two to One in Kelowna District.

Mr. L. V. Rogers, the local Liberal candidate for the provincial legislature, spoke to a well attended meeting in the Empire Hall on Thursday evening, Mr. D. J. Welsh presiding as chairman. Mr. Leckie of Kelowna, was first called upon to speak, and in the course of his remarks said that the present indications were that Kelowna would show a two to one majority in favor of Mr. Rogers on Dec. 1st. He also referred to the high standing enjoyed by Mr. Rogers in his home city, and dwelt on the special qualifications which fitted him to represent his constituency in the legislature.

Mr. Rogers opened his speech with a comparison of the electorate with a business man, which had to choose a managing director, and would on the 1st of next month be called upon to decide between Mr. Oliver of Mr. Bowser. Financial considerations would necessarily enter largely into the decision, and in reviewing the financial policy of the Oliver government, which was to keep the current expenditure within the current revenue, and to borrow only for development purposes, the speaker emphasized the fact that this administration had not borrowed one cent for current expenses. A very large share of the money borrowed had been for the P. G. E. railway, which was a white elephant bequeathed by the Bowser Government. He also pointed out that when the Oliver Government first came into power, money could only be borrowed at a high rate of interest, owing to the poor business management of the previous administration, but that British Columbia bonds were now very popular on the money market.

Dealing with the charge of the opposition that the cost of the provincial civil service had greatly increased under the Oliver Government, he declared that this increase was due entirely to the difference in value of money, and claimed that the civil service was run more economically now than it was five years ago. With regard to the matter of patronage, he gave as an instance that half the road foremen appointed in his district were men who had voted against him at the last election.

The speaker referred to the matter of the Christian Ranch, which Mr. Jones had mentioned at a Summerland meeting on Saturday last. Mr. Jones condemned the government for purchasing this ranch for soldier settlement purposes on the ground that there was no water available for irrigation. But here was a letter, written by Mr. Jones, in which he stated that he had urged the government to buy this ranch. Now he is touring the district condemning the purchase.

Mr. Rogers then dealt at some length with irrigation matters and outlined the practical policy of the Oliver Government in that connection, comparing it with the somewhat vague policy of the opposition. The meeting closed with three cheers for the speaker.

The officers elected were: President, Principal D. J. Welsh; vice-president, W. C. Kelley; secretary-treasurer, A. J. Boor; executive committee, Mrs. J. G. Coulter White; Mrs. W. C. W. Fosbery; Messrs. J. W. S. Logie, L. G. Harding, Chas. Baker.

The president will speak next Sunday at 2.45 p.m., on the subject, "The Duty of Citizenship."

To the Editor of The Review:

Dear Sir,—Re Col. Edgett's address:

Col. Edgett—"What did Martin Burrell do for this constituency?"

A voice—"Nothing."

Another voice—"Nothing."

Col. Edgett—"That is what is said whenever I ask that question." The Colonel then gave us to understand that when he represented this constituency in the House of Commons we would get "a square deal."

—Notes of Col. Edgett's meeting last Saturday.

The foregoing is a sample of Col. Edgett's remarks—suggesting when he dare not assert—made with the object of bringing the government under Sir Robert Borden and its successor, led by Mr. Meighen, into disrepute. In this instance in the face of the following facts:

Representations as to the value of an experimental station for the dry belt were made to the Laurier administration through our then member, Mr. Ross, but nothing came of them.

Shortly after Mr. Burrell's election in 1911, that gentleman took the matter up. Owing to his efforts the government under Sir Robert Borden, decided to establish a station in the Okanagan valley. Summerland was chosen as the most suitable location, although strenuous efforts were made by other towns to secure an institution so valuable. Work on the farm was commenced in 1915. Since that time its pay roll and other expenditures amounting to thousands of dollars annually, have for the greater part contributed to the prosperity of Summerland, the district has had all the advantages of expert instruction and advice in agricultural matters that such institutions offer, and its experimental features will bring their reward in due time. This will doubtless continue for many years. Incidentally the government paid our municipality $10,000 to assist in enlarging our irrigation system so that the farm could get water and it pays annually a sum of money for the maintenance thereof.

Shortly after the experimental station got under way Mr. Burrell's influence secured the building of our wharf at a cost, speaking from memory, of about $20,000. This structure is of value to us every day in the year. Again—the demonstration farm under Mr. Hilborn is another evidence of Mr. Burrell's activities, as during the period he held the portfolio of agriculture he devised a scheme of co-operation with the provincial governments throughout the Dominion on a fifty-fifty basis, to the extent of a million dollars a year for three years. The demonstration farm represented Summerland's share in this benefit.

In the foregoing I have not referred to the results of Mr. Burrell's work in other parts of his constituency, an area so large during the first part of his period of office, that it could not be covered in a year of continuous traveling. He was at all times ready to receive representations as to local needs and to forward the same if in his power to do so. No instance to the contrary can be cited. In short, there are few districts that can show such well thought out and useful assistance as we received through Mr. Burrell's efforts.

Is Col. Edgett so ignorant as not to be aware of the facts I have related?

If so, is he a suitable person to represent us?

If not, are his methods of "playing the game fair and square" as he puts it—calculated to inspire confidence?

These questions we should answer before voting on Monday next.

Yours truly,
J. A. KIRK.

To the Editor of Review.

Dear Sir:

In one of your recent issues there appeared a report of which a cutting has been sent me with regard to a letter I wrote to the Municipal Council shortly before my departure from Summerland, in which I complained about the very bad irrigation service which I have received this year on my lower orchards, Lots 10, 20 and 21.

Your report I regret is quite erroneous, for you state that my complaint was with respect to only one of my lots, all the other lots, according to my letter, getting a good supply. My complaint is the usual complaint of the "tallend" and refers to my three orchard lots, Nos. 10, 20 and 21. The service to these lots was worse this last season than I have ever known it before, one portion not having received any water at all, and another part only getting on irrigation in July. The rest had only two irrigations during the whole season, consisting of one furrow down each tree row. I think you will grant me this is pretty poor service, and would appear to be due largely to unfair distribution at the headgates or elsewhere. There are several other like instances in Summerland affecting those at the end of a ditch, but in my case a large part of the trouble is due to the very great seepage loss, which must be over 50 per cent., between my upper orchard gate and the gate to my lower property. The resulting damage to an orchard is one point, but the loss of time, when the water supply is entirely undependable, is a source of considerable expense, particularly at the present price of labor.

Yours truly,
P. G. KOOP.

Ed. Note—Upon reference to the letter written by Mr. Koop to the Municipal Council, we find that Mr. Koop complained of "abominable service on his lower orchard, Lots 10, 20 and 21, but of the upper orchard he stated, "as regards my upper lots, 16 and 17, I have no complaint to make." Mr. Koop has evidently forgotten the latter comment.

To the Editor of The Review:

Dear Sir,—I spent a few unhappy moments this week upon the Windy Trail, that tortuous highway upon which only the clear-sighted can safely walk on account of the various pitfalls which politeness forbids me to enumerate.

In reply to the statements regarding Mrs. Annie Besant in the first paragraph, may I quote from Emerson, prince among writers, whose forceful pen censured nothing but ignorance, prejudice and intolerance.

"The changes which break up at short intervals the prosperity of men, are advertisements of a nature whose law is growth. Evermore it is the order of nature to grow, and every soul is by this intrinsic necessity quitting its whole system of things, its friends, and home, and laws, and faith, as the shell-fish crawls out of its beautiful but stony case, because it no longer admits of its growth, and slowly forms a new house. In proportion to the vigor of the individual, these revolutions are frequent, until in some happier mind they are incessant, and all worldly relations hang very loosely about him, becoming, as it were, a transparent fluid membrane through which the form is always seen, and not as in most men, as indurated heterogeneous fabric of many dates, and of no settled character, in which the man is imprisoned. Then there can be enlargement, and the man of today scarcely recognizes the man of yesterday. And such should be the outward biograph of man in time, a putting off of dead circumstances day by day, as he renews his raiment day by day. But to us, in our lapsed estate—resting, not advancing, resisting, not co-operating with the Divine expansion—this growth comes by shocks."

Could Autolycaeus but make a small window in his testaceous covering, that "indurated heterogeneous fabric of many dates," there would exist for him the not unqualified pleasure of associating one day many, many lives ahead, with

ONE WHOSE GROWTH IS COMING BY SHOCKS.

Shows—
Past and Present

Those of us who have lived long enough, and can look back far enough, must frequently find themselves comparing the conditions in the pictorial show world of today, with those of fifty years ago, and marvelling at the unbelievable difference. Fifty years ago the nearest approach to pictorial work on a large scale was to be found in what was known as a Diorama, which consisted of a reel of painted canvas working on rollers and forming a more or less connective panorama of events and scenery, elucidated by narrative as it was unfolded, and having its special objects indicated by a wand in the hands of the narrator. The pictures were in many cases surprisingly good, but some were not quite up to the mark in artistic merit and I suppose it was one of this type which an American lecturer is said to have used when he felt constrained to beg his audience not to shoot the artist, as he had done his best. "This is a horse, ladies and gentlemen," said Artemus Ward on one occasion. "I know it, because the artist came to me with tears in his eyes, and said, 'Mr. Ward, I will deceive you no longer—this is a horse.'" I once saw the battle of Waterloo depicted on one of these canvases, with Napoleon on a real live horse stationed near the wings, and must admit I found it hard to properly connect the living actors with the pictured characters on the passing canvas. But that sort of thing was the best we could get in those days and we enjoyed it all, not knowing what the future held in store. From the painted panorama to the motion picture is a far cry.

I wonder if any of my readers remember the old peepshow of the London street corners, half a century ago? I have a distinct recollection of one which stood at the corner of Spencer Street, Goswell Road, not more than a stone's throw from the reputed residence of one Mrs. Bardell, plaintiff in the suit of Bardwell vs. Pickwick. This peepshow was tended by an ancient individual of bronchial tendencies, which were doubtless intensified by long vigils in all winds and weather, and frequently marred the flights of dramatic eloquence with which he accompanied the manipulation of his drop scenes for the entertainment of the youth of the neighborhood. His clients, by the way, failing possession of current coin of the realm, could obtain access to the peepshow revealing the glories of the mimic stage in return for empty bottles of given descriptions, which the proprietor later sold in the proper market. I think this poor old fellow must have been the prototype of a most amusing sketch, given at the time by one Fred Williams, a music hall performer of no small genius. His rendering, in character, of the libretto, was somewhat as follows: "Scene 3, Act 5. Room in the Lady Alicia's Palace. Lady Alicia scorns the advances of the 'aughty Lord Ronald, who seeks her and and 'eart. He is about to seize her in his arms, when enter a cannonball, which strikes the 'aughty Lord Ronald a severe blow across the chest. He instantly becomes a corpse, when enter the poor but honest Malcolm, who informs the Lady Alicia he has just come into a large sum of money, some fifteen pence, and is therefore free to wed her. She immediately consents to become his bride, and all ends happily."

Thus, vicious wealth was properly rebuked, and virtuous poverty came into its own.

Some interesting facts were given to a recent gathering of Chilliwack poultry keepers by Mr. Fairley, Dominion Egg Inspector, who informed his audience that the government regulations concerning the marking of eggs were not yet properly observed and that many eggs sold in Vancouver as the B. C. product, were by no means what they professed to be. The present regulations call for all imported eggs to be stamped with the place of origin on each egg, which is about as near as we can come to "Biddy" handing us the product as her act and deed. But this regulation did not prevent the sending of 12,000 cases of eggs from Washington State into this province during the present season, and the disposal of them to British Columbia buyers as a home production. It is now proposed to ask for a regulation calling for the stamping of all cases of eggs brought into the province, as well as the eggs themselves. Doubtless a very good suggestion—the real point, however, lies in the enforcement of it. A list of twelve thousand violations of the existing law does not seem very encouraging.

The Penticton Herald is considerably exercised concerning the calibre of the two guns allotted Little Guns, to that place as its share of war trophies. It states that "the two together would just about make a good sized watch charm," and warns passersby against tripping over them. The Council and Board of Trade are called upon to see that Penticton gets better recognition in the matter, and it may be that the Federal Government may yet see its way clear to sending a couple of "Bertha's" as amends to wounded civic pride. Meantime, it might be an interesting enquiry as to how many guns will be actually required to go round. If every centre which sent its quota to the trenches gets adequate recognition in captured guns, we must certainly have stripped Germany pretty closely.

PROVINCIAL FINANCE.

The outstanding feature of the present provincial election campaign is the prominent part taken by the question of finance. When all comes to all, the money position is necessarily one of the most important factors to be considered, and it is satisfying to see that this subject is being thoroughly handled. We may make all due allowances for the different angles from which the matter is approached on different platforms, and by a judicious comparison of various statements, form some approach to accurate judgment on the situation.

The point of view which most interests the municipalities of the province is that which includes financial assistance to them from provincial funds. This is a matter which has hitherto been neglected in government circles, but is now become a very real issue. So far as can be judged at present, the suggestion of a per capita grant, put forward by the opposition leader, seems to meet with general approval, and it will perhaps depend largely on the action of the municipalities themselves how far this will be carried out. The policy of local activity outlined by the Kelowna Taxpayers Association should be endorsed and supported by local interests.

With regard to provincial finances as a whole, the situation has some features worthy of note. The Premier, in a recent speech stated that the credit of British Columbia was higher than any other province in Canada, yet in the same address he admitted it to be "strained" at the present time. Incidentally, he is also credited with the remark that "municipalities must stew in their own juice," and that observation will doubtless bear fruit in due course. The straining of a credit which is claimed to be above the average, must be susceptible to explanation, and seems to be due to excessive borrowing during the past few years. This borrowing has apparently resulted in the placing of bonds in the United States instead of in Canada, despite the adverse rate of exchange which may later have to be paid, and the need for so much borrowing is due to a great extent to extravagance in official administration.

These are features which call for serious consideration at a juncture like the present.

ROAD ACTIVITIES IN EVIDENCE.

It is curious to observe how the atmosphere of official activity seems to be affected by the approach of an election. We have noticed in several quarters lately, an ardour in the repairing of roads, which would be highly commendable if it were not marred by the cynical reflections which it engenders. Eleventh hour activity in these matters seem somewhat akin to death-bed repentances, the chief difference being that in the former case, the public, at any rate, receive the actual benefit, and can smile at the motive behind it.

WORTH RECORDING.

Baltimore workmen, engaged in the building trade, have struck a new note by refusing to accept an increase in wage rates provided for by a year-old agreement. A clause in this agreement called for an increase on Nov. 1, from 90c to $1.00 an hour, but the men say that as prices are falling and there are indications of steady work, they are satisfied with the present scale.

WATER SUPPLY IS ASSURED

Naramata Fruit Growers Look to Future With Confidence.

System, Now Owned by Orchardists, Have Been Greatly Enlarged and Improved.

Naramata orchard owners are in high hopes that at last their water shortage troubles are a thing of the past, and that next year will see the beginning of a new era of prosperity for their embryo city. The recently completed Big Meadow dam and the repairs and construction work carried out on the distribution system this year, should guarantee an adequate supply and distribution of water for irrigation purposes in the future, and should enable Naramata fruit growers to maintain the high standard of orchard products of which they are so justly proud.

Summit Lake, the highest and farthest back point in the chain of reservoirs which comprise the water supply for the Naramata district, covers an area of about eight acres, and holds about forty acre feet of water when full. A concrete wall and new iron gate have been put in to replace the old culvert, and the channel leading from it has been lowered another fourteen inches for a distance of 250 feet. A trail has been cleared from the Lake to Big Meadow dam, which lies about two miles below and this will ensure easy access from one point to the other when necessary.

Big Meadow dam, situated about fifteen miles back of Naramata, above the third railway grade, is the chief reservoir and keystone to the whole waterworks system, and is a piece of construction of which Naramatians can indeed be proud. The foundation averages about nine feet in depth, which precludes the possibility of any water being able to work its way underneath. The concrete core wall is 615 feet long, 15 inches in width at the top, and 32 inches wide at the bottom. The government engineer, who inspected the work on its completion, declared it to be one of the best concrete walls in the province. The dam has a double gate and a single culvert 140 feet long and 22 inches in diameter. There are two 22-inch intakes, and a spillway eight feet wide by two feet deep, with a strong log boom securely anchored in front. A measuring gate, 4 feet by 18 inches, has been installed. It is estimated that this dam will hold back at least 500 acres feet of water.

At Chute Creek, about five miles below the headgates of the dam, a division box measuring 24 by 12 feet, with an eight foot spillway and eight by fourteen feet apron, has been put in. The ditch leading from this division box to the little dam has been cleaned out, and an additional 800 feet of ditch dug where needed to complete the water course.

Considerable necessary improvement work has been done at the little dam, Naramata's staunch standby in past years. The old wall has been repaired and further reinforced by a new cement wall nine feet long by four feet high. A 22 inch iron gate, with gatehead and spindle, has been put in. When tested recently to see what loss of water occurred by seepage or other cause between the top weir at Big Meadow dam and the lower weir at the little dam, it was found there was practically no loss whatever, any seepage being more than made up by smaller tributary streams gathered on route.

However, large reservoirs and water supplies are not of much use without the means of distributing same where needed, and a few words with regard to the distributing systems might not come amiss. All flumes and pipe lines have had a complete overhauling and been put in good shape for the carrying of water to the different ranches. New lines have been added where needed, and measuring boxes installed at different points. During the past two years (1918-20), approximately 7000 feet of new pipe has been laid, ranging in size from two-inch to six-inch pipe, and about 14,300 feet of wooden flume built, ranging from the small V shaped and six by six inch flume up to the larger 25 by 18 inch flume used on the main ditch.

These dams and the other necessary works in connection, have been constructed by the Provincial Government and taken over by the landowners under the new Naramata Irrigation District, together with the complete distribution systems for both irrigation and domestic water. It is hoped that this will prove more satisfactory than having these systems under separate management, which leads to considerable confusion and has proved most unsatisfactory in the past. The petition

IS GREAT LOSS TO COMMUNITY

Any one attending the funeral of Mrs. H. T. Davies and noting the numbers present could not but feel how much in esteem that lady was held. There seemed to be a general feeling of mourning throughout the community. Rev. Chas. Baker, of Summerland, took charge of the service and spoke with much feeling, testifying to the many kind deeds done by deceased during her lifetime and making very plain the thought that a life of service was, after all, the highest kind of Christian life. Numerous and beautiful were the floral tributes, coming from Vancouver, Summerland, Penticton and Naramata. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Kenyon, Ritchie, Wheelton, Miner, Smith and Mitchell. The sincerest sympathy of the community goes out to the bereaved husband and family.

NARAMATA CHURCH QUARTERLY BOARD

A meeting of the quarterly official board of the Naramata church was held in the Young People's room on Thursday afternoon with the pastor presiding. The resignation of Mr. Jas. Young as recording steward, was accepted with much regret.

This position had been so ably and faithfully filled by Mr. Young for the past seven years that it was felt by all that as efficient a successor would be hard to find. Mr. Young was unanimously made a life member of the board. Favorable reports were read from the Ladies' Aid, Sunday school and financial secretary. A. S. Allen was appointed to see that electric lights be installed in the church. The question of reorganizing the Young People's Society for the winter months was discussed and a committee consisting of Rev. W. P. Ewing and W. H. Irwin, were appointed to consider which plan of procedure would be best. Mr. Myers was appointed as repair committee. Mrs. J. M. Myers will act as recording steward for the balance of the year. A. S. Allen secretary pro tem for this meeting.

CLASS SOCIAL NARAMATA NOTES

Saturday evening the Onwego class of the Naramata Sunday school met at the home of one of their members, Miss Margaret Allen. This was the first of a series of monthly meetings to be held throughout the year, each girl taking her turn as hostess. The officers of the class are as follows: President, Alice Myers; vice-president, Gwyn Anarion; secretary, Margaret Symons; treasurer, Margaret Allen; convener, lookout committee, Dorothy Partridge. The treasurer reported eleven dollars on hand, seven of which were raised by the girls selling private Christmas cards. Other work undertaken by the class is the keeping of the church clean and sewing for the bazaar to be held under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society.

After the business had been transacted, a written examination was held on the lessons studied during October. Refreshments were served by the hostess and all felt that a profitable and pleasant evening had been spent.

Rev. H. A. Solly had charge of the Sunday afternoon service, being the second Sunday of the month, the day for Anglican service.

The Ladies' Aid held meetings on both Wednesday and Friday of last week. The time for holding the annual bazaar is drawing near and it was felt that two meetings should be held to complete the work. At the last meeting it was voted that a floral tribute be made to Mrs. Davies one of the co-workers of the society, who had recently passed away. Letters of regret and sympathy were forwarded to the bereaved family.

The Sunday school session was withdrawn this Sunday on account of the burial of Mrs. H. T. Davies. It was felt that those who attended the funeral procession to Penticton could not return in time for the 2 o'clock session.

asking to have a district formed has been granted, the letters patent and other necessary details completed, and it is hoped to have everything in good running order, with trustees in full control, before the end of the current year.

On the whole it is considered that Naramata now has an irrigation system and water supply that can compare favorably with any in the Okanagan Valley.

FORMER PROVINCIAL PREMIER SPEAKS

a little more intelligence shown in handling it. The proper way to deal with this matter was by government ownership of storage dams, which he had all along advocated.

Mr. Jones criticised the water activities at Naramata, and charged mismanagement. About $60,000 had already been spent on the new system and $50,000 more would be required to finish the entire scheme. All this is, or will, be charged on the land, which was already highly taxed and he claimed that some of this revenue should be applied to irrigation work under government ownership.

The speaker concluded by reminding his audience of his efforts in obtaining grants for hospital work, wharf buildings, etc., and asked for the support of the electorate.

ORCHARDISTS ON SOIL FERTILITY

rules in this neighborhood and the results are claimed to be far better. Many of the orchardists buy baled hay while leaving their own alfalfa to rot in the orchards, and find it good economy.

Mr. W. T. Hunter, who followed, spoke of the great value of alfalfa as compared to red clover, which he strongly condemned as a surface feeder; seeking the same food as the trees required and thus working against them. Referring to the gopher and mice pests, he contended that the farmer, not having to cultivate, would have more time to hunt down vermin and, in any case, alfalfa afforded some protection to the trees by reason of the fact that gophers and mice fed on it in preference.

Mr. G. J. Coulter White remarked that the Wenatchee district was no older than Summerland and not able to judge of the future effects of permanent cover crops.

Mr. Treherne spoke on the blister mite, and methods of control, and also warned orchardists against the possible coming of the codling moth. Any grower finding insect specimens with which he is not familiar, should send them to Mr. John Tait, or to himself, at Vernon.

Mr. Hunter informed the meeting that Mr. Darlington was going to lecture in the Okanagan Valley before long and suggested that the institute might arrange for a course of lectures at that time.

AVOID WASTE OF FUEL

Unless you know positively that a cheaper Furnace will heat your home without waste of fuel, there is small satisfaction in saving a few dollars on its purchase. The Sunshine Furnace saves coal because it is well made and because every part has been carefully thought out.

McCLARY'S SUNSHINE FURNACE

Doors and dampers that are tightly fitted will certainly hold the fire longer than those that are loosely fitted. The wider air passages and larger radiating surfaces of the Sunshine must heat the air much more readily. These Sunshine Furnace features are coal-savers that mean much in mid-winter.

EUROPE'S TRIANGLE OF SUFFERING

At the earnest request of the Canadian Red Cross, Mr. Herbert Hoover, Director-General of Relief for Europe on behalf of the Allied Nations, came to Canada to launch the appeal on behalf of the Allied Empire War Relief Fund. That fund is being raised throughout the British Empire to combat disease and distress in Europe. The Canadian Red Cross, through its provincial division, will make the appeal in British Columbia during the week of Nov. 22 to 29.

Mr. Hoover, who is recognized as the best authority in the world upon European conditions, spoke with the quiet conviction of one whose message was sufficient in itself. In commencing he said he felt some embarrassment but his presence in Canada might be misinterpreted as urging the Canadian people to further sacrifice. He said he realized that the sacrifice of the Canadian people, individual by individual, had been far in excess of that of his own people, but he said he knew that the charity of the Canadian heart was inexhaustible, and he felt there would be no resentment against his coming to discuss with them the problem that confronts the western hemisphere towards the east.

THE GREATEST PROBLEM. "To me," Mr. Hoover said, "the greatest problem of the human heart in the world today is this problem of a myriad of waifs and orphan hungry children through Eastern and Central Europe. The slaughter of fifteen million men, could not but have left millions of helpless, hungry children in its track, and upon their well-being must depend the upbuilding of Europe. There are literally millions of children in those countries sunk so low in destitution that they cannot be absorbed. They must receive extraordinary assistance. $3.00 SAVES A CHILD.

"We have found by experience that the cost of caring for a waif child is approximately $3.00 a month; that of the supplies that are required by imports about $1.00 is needed, and therefore the dollar that we provide together with local support practically preserves the life of one child. It is not much of a sum—$1.00 per month per child—and although the calls may be very considerable upon your people and upon ours, we still have something after we have cared for our children and our neighbor's children. A WORLD PROBLEM. "Our present problem over the forthcoming winter appears to be about 3,500,000 to 4,000,000 children. We feel that if we could find among all the nations $4,000,000 per month, we could solve this problem. Surely it is not much for a whole world to find. It is a heavy burden for charity, but it is so appealing in its necessity that I have no doubt that charity will find it. These children are the obligation of every man and woman in the Western Hemisphere, for we have suffered less, but beyond this they are a charge on the heart of the entire world. If we are to preserve the foundations for the future stability of Europe, if we are to keep open the love for humanity, our duty is clear before us."

J. A. MacKELVIE AT PEACHLAND

A large and enthusiastic meeting of Peachland electors was held on Friday evening in the Orange Hall, when addresses were delivered by J. A. MacKelve, the candidate of the National Liberal and Conservative party; Mr. Stacey, M. P. for Fraser Valley, and Capt. Whittaker, late provincial president of the G.W.V.A. Particular stress was laid by the speakers on the vital necessity of supporting the Meighen Government in this by-election because of the protection given the fruit industry in contrast with the policy of the MacKelve King Liberals and the Creerar Farmers' party, both of which stand for the abolition of the tariff on fruit and for reciprocity with the United States. Mr. MacKelve and the other speakers were given a most cordial reception, and their remarks were punctuated by frequent outbursts of applause.

At the conclusion of the meeting a resolution, moved by Mr. Thos. Powell and seconded by Dr. Buchanan, was passed pledging support to Mr. MacKelve. We might mention that a similar resolution was passed at an equally enthusiastic meeting held during the afternoon at Westbank.

Mr. H. McHollister, of Sicamous, came last midweek to visit his wife who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. J. Winger, for the past month. On Wednesday evening they took a short trip down the lake before Mr. McHollister's return up the valley on Friday morning. Mrs. McHollister is continuing her visit here with her mother for a time.

After a pleasant visit here, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Miller and Mrs. B. M. Whyte left on Thursday morning of last week.

Mr. Jas. Ritchie, of Summerland, was a visitor in town on Thursday of last week on real estate business.

Mrs. Mansfield went south on Thursday evening to visit her brother and wife, but was called back owing to the fact that her mother, Mrs. Brinson, sr., who had been recovering nicely from her illness, was taken worse again. We regret that Mrs. Brinson is quite poorly again.

Austin Hay left on Friday for Vancouver, where he will spend the winter with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Hay.

Miss Nora Drought returned home on Friday evening.

We are pleased to welcome to our midst Mr. and Mrs. F. Brown and family of Victoria, who arrived last week to reside here. They have taken the Wingate property and are now settled on the place. We trust that they will find Peachland a pleasant and profitable place of residence.

The regular meeting of the Women's Institute was held on Friday at the home of the president, Mrs. Wm. Dryden, where a goodly representation were present. Some important matters of business were discussed and acted upon, among which we might mention the following: Mr. Black, the High School teacher, had asked that the ladies consider the possibility of their doing something toward fixing up a basketball grounds for the use of the school. It was decided to undertake this at an estimated cost of $50. Further discussion was held on the matter of beautifying the cemetery and a committee appointed to wait on the Municipal Council in this regard. Mrs. Buchanan gave a paper on "Health," which was extremely valuable and interesting. A short discussion followed, but the subject will be discussed at greater length at the next meeting, when Mrs. Buchanan proposes dealing further with her subject. Relative to the subject, Mrs. Buchanan brought samples of cookery productions in which bran had been used and it was pointed out that it not only was a health food, but in addition, assisted in bringing down the H. C. of L. So tasty and beneficial were these samples that those present requested that recipes of such be sold among the ladies. This request was agreed to and it is expected that a sufficient number will be on sale at the next meeting. Mrs. Stewart kindly assisted with the musical portion of the afternoon's enjoyment.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Young left on Saturday morning for England to spend some time visiting friends and relatives.

Mrs. A. and Miss Cora Wilson went to Kelowna on Saturday, where Miss

Cora underwent an operation on her throat by the specialist in that city. She remained over for treatment till Monday, Mrs. Wilson returning on Saturday evening.

Having completed their summer's work on their fruit lots here, Mrs. P. N. Dorland and son Hugh, left on Saturday to return to their winter home in Midway, B. C., where they can be with husband and father while he is off duty as mail clerk on the K. V. R. between Nelson and Midway.

Word was received on Saturday by Mrs. H. McDougall of the death in Naramata of her niece, Mrs. Davies, after a two week's illness with pneumonia. Mrs. McDougall and Mr. J. E. Kerr motored down to Penticton on Sunday to attend the funeral.

Mrs. H. Williams returned Monday evening from Kelowna, where she had been in the hospital, following a throat operation. She is recuperating nicely.

After a short vacation in Kelowna Mr. and Mrs. E. Aitkens returned on Monday.

Mrs. H. N. Tewart was a passenger going south on the Sicamous on Tuesday evening.

Mr. W. Dryden has recently acquired the former garage of Mr. Cutbill and has had it placed beside his dwelling on Third street for the accommodation of his auto.

The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. S. H. Murdin, with a goodly number present.

The government candidate, Mr. Leslie V. Rogers, of Kelowna, addressed a very well attended meeting in the Municipal Hall on Tuesday evening. It is worthy of note that the women electors were well represented, there being almost a fifty-fifty attendance. It would be needless to give the address in detail as the Peachland readers of these columns were nearly all present and heard the original and the same will be given elsewhere. Suffice it to say that it was quite a clean political address and very pleasingly delivered.

Mr. Eph. Brinson of Penticton, came up Wednesday morning to visit other members of the family and especially his mother, who is quite ill.

Mr. W. T. Jago, of Vancouver, organizer for the Provincial Grand Orange lodge, arrived on Wednesday morning to pay an official visit to the Peachland L. O. L. No. 408.

BACK TO NORMAL SALE OF DRY GOODS

The Reasons Why

Naturally you will wonder why we are putting on this sale now, when stocks are complete and the early winter buying season is young. Is the Mercantile Company going out of business? Not at all! But there is no reason why we should not take the buying public into our confidence and tell you frankly just why we are putting on such an unprecedented sale at this season of the year.

Here it is!

After a careful study of manufacturing and market conditions, we have concluded that next year will see a reduction in prices of many lines of dry goods. Without doubt this falling in prices will be gradual, but in the meantime we are sure the buying public will welcome an opportunity to buy now at next year's prices.

In view of the above we have decided to make a sweeping reduction in our prices now, rather than take the chance of carrying over a considerable portion of our large stock into next year, when we might be compelled to reduce prices. Rather than take this chance we are now giving our customers bargains that will protect them against any downward change. They are cut on all lines of dry goods, whether in those whose values are likely to fall or not.

PREMIER MEIGHEN OPENS THEATRE AT NARAMATA

One of the most pleasing public social events in our experience was featured on the arrival of the Right Hon. Arthur Meighen and Mrs. Meighen and party in Naramata on Nov. 3rd. It was the first stop-over in the Okanagan valley, and while the train was very late and plans had to be changed a little to conform to the time that could be spent by the Prime Minister and his party, still, things went very nicely and every one was satisfied with the result of united effort. Mr. Meighen and colleagues were met at the station by a reception committee of citizens, who had plenty of comfortable cars, and the party given a short trip around the orchards. They were then taken to the theatre, which has been constructed by Mr. C. C. Aikins on his fruit lot, for the promotion of Canadian plays by Canadian players. The school children had all gathered there and most of the citizens were on hand to give a hearty welcome to the Prime Minister. Mr. J. M. Robinson made the introductory remarks, after which Mr. Meighen formally opened Mr. Aikins' theatre to the public and dedicated it to the purpose for which it was erected. Mr. Meighen went on to say that his Naramata experience had been one of the most impressive and unique that he had encountered in his travels and remarked that it was also a great pleasure to meet our people in this way and that he would never forget it. After the school children had sung "O, Canada," and all joined in "God Save the King," the guests were taken down to the ferry wharf where they departed for Summerland. One of the pleasant features of the event was the presentation of a basket of fruit to Mrs. Meighen by Master Colby Aikins.

Mrs. Mabel Lyons and her father, Mr. Bailey, have moved to Winnipeg, where they will reside for the present.

Mr. Stanley Dicken and family have taken the cottage on the lake front owned by R. C. Robinson.

Mrs. M. B. Smith will move into the Ranch cottage for the winter or until her own house is finished.

CLARA BERTHA DAVIES

The passing away of Mrs. Clara Bertha Davies, on Thursday night about 10 o'clock, was one of the sad events that we must experience from time to time as our neighbors and fellow workers are called to other fields while we stay and plod along in the path that life has obliged us to follow. The news of this going away came as a severe shock to relatives, friends and the community in general. Mrs. Davies has been a resident of Naramata for nearly nine years, coming from Ottawa in April, 1912, and she has been a constant worker for the good of the district. She was prominent in W. C. T. U. circles and was an active member of the Women's Institute; in fact, she was always ready to do her bit whenever public service required it, and she will be greatly missed.

Mrs. Davies leaves to mourn her loss, her husband, Mr. Hugh Davies, two sons, Sherwood, of Summerland, and Evan, of Ottawa, and one daughter, Emma, who is in New York. Besides these family ties, there are brothers and sisters both here and in the East who loved her dearly. Death was caused by complications arising after she had contracted a severe cold at the coast. After returning home she began to improve, apparently, but suddenly took a turn for the worse and the end came on Thursday evening. Mrs. Davies was 53 years of age. The funeral was observed in the church on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, the Rev. Baker, of Summerland, officiating. The remains were taken to Penticton for burial.

The work on the electric system is finished now and first-class service to the users is on tap. Mr. Rowe, of the Penticton Electric Company, has been making the necessary repairs to the lines and the installation of the power unit and everything is working smoothly and well.

Mr. F. C. Manchester was playing trap drums with the Banff orchestra for a few days last week.

Ted Durham, who has been working in Kelowna, came in this week and expects to stay this winter.

Mr. Andy Wilson and family have gone to the Coast to live. They motored to Vancouver this week and were accompanied by Gerald Williams.

NEW MANAGERS OF WATER SYSTEM

The election of members to serve on the water committee was held on Friday and the following were elected: Messrs. Rolt, Rounds, Langue, Armour and Nuttall, each holding term of office according to the number of votes received. Now that we are regularly started on our own in regard to this important matter, we will expect to see results along sane business lines and will hope that our committee will be working with us to secure the best that can be obtained. There are several matters that need immediate attention. Leaky pipe lines need attending to, especially some along Robinson avenue, as on a dark night they are a constant source of annoyance to the people using that way of travel. The domestic water service should also be one of the first things to receive attention. We should not be too ready to find fault with our committee, but should be ready to do our share in working out the problems of the district and we also hope that our committee will not be above listening to the suggestions of well-meaning citizens occasionally. Here's luck in any event.

The Unity Club has taken the responsibility of furnishing a celebration for Armistice Day every year and this is their second effort. It was handled very nicely indeed and the ladies should be congratulated on their success.

Mrs. E. May and daughter have moved to the Dean cottage for the winter.

Every house in Naramata is full now and there is great need of new ones, for if this is true in winter, we may expect a great many more next summer.

UNITY CLUB OBSERVES ARMISTICE DAY

The Women's Unity Club very fittingly celebrated Armistice Day by holding a reception for the returned men and their friends in Naramata hall on Thursday evening. The hall was most artistically decorated for the event by the use of evergreens and flags. An interesting programme had been prepared and was opened by remarks by Mr. J. M. Robinson, who acted as chairman. This was followed by a piano solo by Mrs. W. Green; a violin solo, Mr. Stanley Dicken; reading, Mrs. Bruce Cash; violin solo, Miss Seewers; address, Mr. John McLain; reading, Mrs. Ameron; vocal solo, Miss Enid Raynor; reading, Miss Gordon. Remarks of appreciation on behalf of the G. W. V. A. were expressed by Harold Mitchell. Refreshments were then served. A dance was to have been held but was called off on account of the death of Mrs. Davies.

A Business Government

Proved and Approved

When the Oliver Government assumed office four years ago the credit of British Columbia was so low that it was impossible to sell British Columbia bonds except at a sacrifice which no business administration would possibly consider.

The Last Million Dollar Bond Issue of the Oliver Government which was put on the market in October, 1920, brought a premium of over $33,000, making the low net rate of interest 4 3/4 per cent. per annum, a better price than that received by other provinces for a similar loan.

MR. A. G. HASKELL, a banker from Seattle, Wash., said in an interview with the Times, Oct. 16, 1920:

"We sold the whole $1,000,000 worth of the last lot in an hour. British Columbia securities are now regarded favorably by investors from Seattle to San Francisco. They realize that the Hon. John Hart, your Minister of Finance, has put the Province back into a sound financial position. This Province, as far as outsiders who have money to invest can see it, is now in quite a different financial position from what it was in the past. Careful management has brought back its credit."

BIRDS DEFEND HUMANITY FROM STARVATION

Says Charles Crawford Gorst, Who Lectures Here on Evening of November 26th.

"Only the insect-eating birds stand between humanity and starvation," says Charles Crawford Gorst, the noted ornithological authority. This is proved by a statement from President Pearson, head of Iowa State College, the greatest agricultural school in the world, who said that on a hot day in summer the insects of America do ten million dollars worth of damage to the farmers' crops. Science has done much, but it can never defend man against these insects as do the birds.

Mr. Gorst's lecture on birds and bird music will be interesting not only to the bird and music lover but to the farmer and business man he gives glimpses of the world largely unknown to us, that lies at our very door, the inhabitants of which, by their destruction of insect life, prove themselves our very best friends.

Mr. Gorst is a student and lover of birds, at the age of eight he began to whistle their songs and at the age of eleven he had evolved a method of reproducing the bird songs so accurately that he has deceived other birds into bringing worms to him in answer to the food call of the young birds and young birds have come to him for food when he sounded the mother note. In Franklin Park and the public gardens, bird students often mistake his song for the real thing.

Mr. Gorst has a repertoire of more than four hundred bird songs; he can sound a note an octave higher than the humming bird that has a note supposed to be three octaves higher than any human voice can sing.

An artist as well as a bird lover, Mr. Gorst's lecture is illustrated by large pastel paintings of the birds painted by himself. The lecture all through is so full of human interest that it makes an appeal even to those whose knowledge of birds is limited to the English sparrow. An eloquent and ready speaker, his humorous and picturesque talk on the astonishing things to be found in the music, life and valuable habits of birds will prove of unusual interest.

Some men think the world owes them a living while some others are satisfied if it gives them a chance to make an assignment.

Provincial Elections, 1920

To the Electors of South Okanagan

Having been nominated once more as a candidate for this riding at the forthcoming General Provincial Election on December 1st, I am taking this means of laying before you a brief outline of some of the more important matters in which I hope to be of service to you if again elected as your representative. These points will be dealt with more fully at the different meetings being arranged throughout the constituency.

During the course of the past four years I have been able to accomplish many improvements in the district and to secure many concessions of a substantial nature, and this although a member of a small opposition, whose duties were necessarily more concerned with criticism. In the near future I hope to be in a position to serve you still more effectively.

Assuring you of my continued efforts on your behalf,

I remain,
 Yours sincerely,
 J. W. JONES, M.P.P.

1.—INCREASED GRANTS FOR SOLDIERS' HOUSING.

It is necessary that further immigration of this kind be stopped entirely as the only means of keeping B.C. a white man's province.

3.—PREVENTION OF ORIENTAL OWNERSHIP OF LAND.

For the same reason it is of urgent importance that Orientals should be prevented from acquiring ownership of land, and thus crowding out the white farmer.

4.—A VIGOROUS ROAD BUILDING POLICY.

Good roads are a prime necessity to the progress and development of any agricultural community, and it is the duty of the government to use every means of providing them. Recent developments in motor haulage have created a need for much better roads than formerly, and in order to secure these quickly and efficiently, I would advocate the flotation of domestic loans to supplement the regular annual appropriations for road building.

5.—CHEAP POWDER FOR LAND CLEARING.

6.—RURAL CREDITS TO DEVELOP AGRICULTURAL LANDS.

7.—REVISION OF TAXATION.

Taxes cannot be avoided if the national business is to be carried on, but they should be kept down to the minimum by rigorous economy and wise management, and, above all, the burden should be distributed fairly and equitably on all citizens. There is room for much reform in this regard, and I am in favor of a careful revision of the present system.

8.—A WISE AND EFFECTIVE MODERATION LAW.

I am in favor of an Act which will give the government absolute control, not only of sale within the province, but eventually of importation from without its boundaries, and containing regulations which will ensure real moderation in the use of liquor. The provisions of such an Act must be rigidly enforced.

9.—AID TO MUNICIPALITIES BY REFUNDING SHARE OF CERTAIN TAXES.

I believe that a system whereby the government would pool the returns from auto licenses and taxes, amusement tax, income tax, poll tax, personal property tax, and profits from the sale of liquor, placing them into a fund from which annual per capita grants could be made to aid municipalities, would be the best means of dealing with this problem.

10.—ESTABLISHMENT OF A NORMAL SCHOOL IN THE INTERIOR.

Children of farmers and residents of interior cities are at present handicapped in the pursuit of the higher branches of education, and in entering the teaching profession, by the necessity of a residence at the coast. The growth of population now warrants the provision of a normal school in the interior.

11.—GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP AND CONTROL OF STORAGE RESERVOIRS AND MAIN CANALS OF IRRIGATION SYSTEMS.

The provision of a cheap and adequate water supply is a prime necessity to the whole of the dry belt of the province, and it is a legitimate demand that the resources of the government be used to properly develop this great natural wealth. In order to prevent the burden of maintenance from falling too heavily on the individual farmer, I am in favor of government ownership and control of the water supply.

12.—ASSISTANCE TO HYDRO-ELECTRIC PROJECTS.

By this means the benefits and advantages of cheap electric light and power might be made available over a wide area and especially in agricultural districts. In this district such a project would make possible the irrigation of the higher bench lands by means of electric pumps, where gravity systems are not feasible.

13.—ASSISTANCE TOWARDS THE ESTABLISHMENT OF COLD STORAGE PLANTS AT CERTAIN POINTS IN THE PROVINCE.

14.—EDUCATIONAL TEST FOR FOREIGN IMMIGRANTS.

15.—AN AGGRESSIVE AGRICULTURAL AND IMMIGRATION POLICY.

Thousands of fertile acres in our districts are awaiting the arrival of the right kind of settlers, especially those of British origin, and with means of making a good showing in the agricultural development of the country. It should be the purpose of the government to adopt an effective means of encouraging this kind of settlement, and also to afford necessary help and advice to the inexperienced. A vigorous agricultural policy, is greatly needed at this stage of the country's development.

16.—GOVERNMENT ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICES FOR SOUTH OKANAGAN.

The riding of South Okanagan is sufficiently strong to stand upon its own feet in this respect, and much greater convenience and efficiency would result from the establishment of the proper offices for the administration of government matters within its own borders.
