'O, SUSANNAH' BY PLAYERS OF PENTICTON

Three-Act Farce Very Creditably Staged Pleases Good Audience.

"Oh, Susannah" was staged by Penticton amateurs at the Empire Hall here on Thursday last, and, perhaps our best words of praise to them may be found in two words: "Call again."

"Oh, Susannah" is a vehicle requiring individual talent and effort that few amateurs would dare to tackle, but in the hands of the Penticton Players it lost none of its keen edge. There is always a big risk in presenting farces of the English school that much of the subtle humor will go over the heads of a mixed Canadian audience. This was apparent in or two minor instances during the performance, particularly when the humor was put across in the cockney vernacular. We understand that the company is billed to appear at our sister American city of Oroville, and in this we are afraid they are rushing in where angels fear to tread. If we may be permitted to offer some good-natured constructive criticism we would suggest that a few liberties be taken with the author's original script, and wherever words or gags occur which it is felt will not be grasped by an American audience they be eliminated or changed to the English as they understand it over there. Slang words from the "old smoke" will hit dead walls yonder. For example we cite "The Better Ole," "The Luck of the Navy," "Three Live Ghosts," and even the inimitable Harry Tate, all being financial failures in America because the lingo was not understandable. We, therefore, fear for "Susannah's" maiden voyage in Yankee land, but she certainly has our best wishes.

The plot is of the "Charley's Aunt" type in which execrating funny incidents pile up owing to the impersonation of a wealthy maiden aunt by a friend of the hero. A lawyer from Southsea has two "precious jewels" of daughters whom he endeavors to foist upon young John Sheppard, M.D., and confusion becomes worse confounded when it is learned by the audience that the young medico was secretly married to another girl the same morning. Upon arrival of the real aunt she is subjected to much ridicule and many indignities, owing to the doc-

MR. GOWANS TALKS ON BEES

Local Bee Enthusiast Gives Practical Demonstrations While Lecturing.

Mr. John Gowans' lecture to the High School students last Thursday proved as enjoyable as it was instructive, while giving a practical demonstration of bee activities at his apiary near the Methodist church. Mr. Gowans found time to discourse quite eloquently on the natural history of this busy insect. Every phase of bee culture was touched upon and the bees were seen actually at work in the hives. Later Mr. Gowans took the party to his store where some of the boys vigorously plied the extractor, precipitating the honey from the comb, and in conclusion, handed round samples of honey comb for all to taste. Laura McLachlan and Emily Wheeler thanked the lecturer for his highly appreciated efforts and hearty cheers were given for him.

From the utilitarian point of view the chief points scored by the speaker were the large profit to be made from comparatively few hives (his own profits for the season to date being $300, for 18 hives) and the comparative ease with which the pursuit of bee culture can be followed, and Mr. Gowans proved convincingly that a highly profitable industry can be built up in honey in the Okanagan Valley. He hoped to see specimen hives stationed at both schools and would be most happy to act as curator and demonstrator in the pupils' interests.—Cont.

ODDFELLOWS OF VALLEY MEET

More than one hundred Oddfellows attended the first regular meeting of the district association held at Kelowna Tuesday night. The lodges of Summerland, Penticton, Kelowna, Vernon, Armstrong and Enderby are included in the association which was organized on October 11th. At Tuesday night's meeting the Penticton Lodge put on an initiatory degree for a Kelowna candidate, who was then taken over by the Vernon Lodge and given his first degree. The work of both lodges is described as being very well done. The association will meet twice a year. Delegates from the Summerland Lodge were K. S. Hogg, H. Tomlin, D. C. Thompson, P. Scourrah and J. S. Jackson.

WILL ENFORCE CO-OPERATIVE CONTRACTS

Penticton Local Obtains Injunction Against Local Buyer.

Upon the application of the Penticton Co-operative Growers, Ltd., His Honor Judge Brown, sitting on Friday, in Penticton, as judge of the local supreme court, granted an interim injunction restraining Angus & LeMoynes, the Penticton Produce Co., or its agents, from dealing further with fruit in the G. G. Jellard orchard, such fruit having been contracted to the Co-operative. This interim injunction holds good for seven days, and the application will be renewed before the expiry of that period in the supreme court at Vancouver. The application was made on behalf of the Co-operative Growers by Gordon Lindsay, of Tunbridge & Colquhoun.

It is the intention of the Penticton Co-operative to enforce the contracts absolutely and action will be taken in every breach which can be properly traced through. The contracts provide for a penalty of 25c per box for every box of fruit sold other than through the organization. A. L. MacDougall, managing director of the Co-operative, says it is up to the merchants and residents of the town to do all in their power to prevent the bootlegging of fruit. Upon their loyal support in this matter depends the salvation of not only the bench, but also the town. In view of the loyalty of the growers when outside interests came into the town and offered a cash price for apples, it seems hard when local business men start in to do this kind of thing.

Before taking action, they went to see Mr. LeMoynes, who admitted he had arranged with Mr. Jellard to take the fruit to clean up his account and to allow the owner of the orchard anything to the good. When told that Mr. Jellard was one of the Co-operative's contracted growers, Mr. LeMoynes denied any knowledge of this, and upon being asked to go no further in the matter, he refused, giving as his reason that he had made a contract to sell a car of fruit to some party in Vancouver.

The next action taken, Mr. MacDougall said, was to secure the injunction, which was successfully put into force on Friday, but in the meantime a considerable amount of fruit had been taken out.

If this kind of thing continues, he pointed out, it will be the cause of wrecking the co-operative organization as it is being done to a considerable extent in other places and is likely to increase in volume unless steps are taken to put a stop to it.

If it comes to every man for himself, he said seriously, it will not be a case of "the devil take the hindmost," he will take the lot. It is time the growers realized the seriousness of the situation and commenced to fight tooth and nail for their organization, using every means in their power to bring pressure to bear on those who are not playing the game.

Distressing cases were detailed among Home Bank depositors at indignation meeting held at Coal Creek.

ASSOCIATED TRADE BOARDS IN SESSION

Discussion of Inter-Provincial Ruled out of Order by Chairman.

Vernon.—One of the largest meetings of the Associated Boards of Trade of the Okanagan yet held, met in Vernon around the luncheon table in the Vernon Club last Thursday. The meeting, which was presided over by the president, W. E. McTaggart, dealt with a number of questions, chief of which were those dealing with the marketing of fruit.

After some discussion it was decided to at once send a cablegram to Premier Mackenzie King in London urging him to secure if at all possible, preference for colonial fresh fruits, as had been done for dried fruits.

The delegates felt that if dried fruits, which were to be admitted to the United Kingdom under certain preferences, which would particularly help Australia, that fresh fruit should also be given some consideration.

The discussion of a round table nature on the forthcoming provincial convention of the Boards of Trade at Vancouver brought out many interesting facts with relation to the marketing of interior fruit at the Coast.

Mr. A. T. Howe, president, and Mr. Thos. Bulman, vice-president of the Associated Growers, answered many questions on the general marketing of fruit, while Mr. Howe dealt at some length with the plans which the Associated had in view.

The Boards of Trade throughout the fruit districts had done inestimable work in helping to organize the Associated Growers, he said, and he hoped they would continue to give the new organization every support.

"If the press, business men and

NARAMATA FOR FRASER ROUTE

Board of Trade in Session—Teacher Gives Children Hallowe'en Party.

The regular monthly meeting of the Naramata Board of Trade was held on Monday evening, president Geo. Weaver in the chair. There was a good attendance and several matters of interest were dealt with.

A request from the Women's Institute that "Go Slow" signs be put near the school to protect the pupils against fast driving in that area, was referred to the school trustees with a recommendation from the Board.

An invitation to send delegates to the convention of Associated Boards of Trade at Vancouver was read, and it was decided that a resolution be forwarded immediately endorsing the Fraser Canyon route for the inter-provincial highway.

On the matter of street lighting, the president reported that the local representative of the West Kootenay Company had made an appointment to come up and look over the proposition, but that up to the present the appointment had not been kept. It was decided to communicate with headquarters concerning this, and also to point out that many more tensions could be made if the fixed charge of $1.50 monthly were abolished, and rates made on the basis of the company's original quotation.

The president stated that he had received complaints that cattle were not being controlled in the town limits, and it was decided to request the Farmers' Institute to co-operate with the Board for the construction of a new pound corral in place of that which had now been taken in for planting.

The question of noxious weeds, the Russian thistle in particular, was discussed and the general opinion was that these could be kept down without much trouble if each property owner would take care of the road

APPLES ADDED TO PREFERENCE LIST

London, Nov. 7.—At this morning's meeting of the Economic Conference, it is understood the British representatives expressed a willingness to extend the recent offer of increased preference by the addition of a number of articles, the most important as far as Canada is concerned being fresh apples and canned salmon. Honey also has been added to the list.

BOX FACTORY HAD SUCCESSFUL SEASON

The Summerland Lumber Company's box factory will terminate a very successful operation today. Since the company was forced to assign the factory has been kept busy on orders which have totalled much larger than was anticipated. C. Clark, of Vancouver, representing the trustees and who has been in charge of the office of the company, will leave tomorrow for Vancouver.

SLIDE BLOCKED ROAD FOR DAY

Closed for more than a day because of a slide under the Koop orchard, the lakeshore road north of town was again opened for traffic on Friday. A heavy slide came down Wednesday night and it was not until Friday morning that the road had been sufficiently cleared to permit cars to get by.

G.W.V.A. IS UP AGAINST IT

Arrange Entertainment as a Means of Raising Cash for Building.

To raise necessary funds for meeting payments on their club rooms, the G.W.V.A. is putting on special performances at the Rialto Theatre on Monday and Tuesday of next week. It is essential that cash be raised immediately, and it is felt that the residents will respond in a body and fill the theatre when they realize that the G.W.V.A. is in dire need of financial assistance.

The pictures for this occasion will be comedies, including a Baby Peggy production and a two-reel golfing new release that is reported to be a scream, also a news feature.

In addition to the screen program arrangements are being made to supply entertainment of a varied nature between the reels. In this regard, it is learned that Ex-Sergeant J. J. Atherton, the talented elocutionist and actor who appeared here some three years ago in a remarkable talking picture, will positively appear in a monologue.

POPPIES WILL BE ON SALE SATURDAY

Poppies made by disabled war veterans have been bought by the local G.W.V.A. for local distribution. The C.G.I.T. girls of the Baptist and St. Andrew's churches will sell these on Saturday. The small profit will be divided between the girls' organizations and the G.W.V.A. building fund.

A MEMORIAL SERVICE BY ALL PASTORS

Anniversary of Signing of Armistice to be Celebrated at Empire Hall.

On Sunday next, Armistice Day, all good citizens are invited to attend the United Memorial Service which will be held in the Empire Hall at 3 o'clock. For this occasion a special service of prayer and song has been prepared, and as previously announced, the Summerland Choral Society, under the leadership of G. W. Cope, will render the musical portions.

The service opens with the hymn: "Oh, God, Our Help in Ages Past," which will be followed by a silence of one minute in honor of the brave boys out yonder who made the full measure of sacrifice in the great conflict. This will be followed immediately by a prayer by the Rev. Z. Fash. Psalm 107, verses 1 to 22, will be given as a responsive reading, and this will be followed by the rendering of the choir of Jackson's "Te Deum." The lesson for the day is taken from Deuteronomy, VIII, and will be read by the Rev. H. J. Armitage. The hymn, "Lord of Heaven and Earth and Ocean," will be sung by the congregation, to be followed by a recital of the Lord's Prayer and a Collect; hymn, "From Ocean unto Ocean," address by Rev. W. A. Alexander; Stainer's anthem, "What are These?"; Blessing, and "God Save the King." At the conclusion of the service, Mrs. Sutherland, organist of St. Andrew's church, will play the "Dead March" in Saul. A collection will be taken up, and after defraying current expenses, will be devoted to the Memorial Fund.

A printed program of the service is now on the press, and will be distributed to the congregation.

GOLFERS HAVE FORMED CLUB

Splendid Course Agreed Upon Which Will be Attraction for Visitors.

Eighteen golf enthusiasts attended a meeting at the Bank of Commerce rooms, West Summerland, last Friday evening, and discussed a proposal to form a Summerland Golf Club. G. Y. L. Crossley was voted to the chair, and Percy E. Knowles was elected as secretary.

Following a discussion as to the possibilities of obtaining a suitable course, and the meeting being unanimously in favor of going ahead, a committee composed of Mrs. Collins, and Messrs. Theod, Bonmore, Graham, Crossley and Lumsdon was appointed to look over the several proposed locations for a course and report back to a meeting to be held at the same place on Friday, November 16th, when all who are interested in this national outdoor pastime are heartily invited to attend.

Since the meeting was held, it is learned that the committee have agreed upon a splendid site and steps are being taken to lease same for this purpose, and it is expected that the club will be incorporated shortly, thus providing practice for resident golf players as well as visitors who will doubtless be attracted.

B. C. INDUSTRIES SHOW PROGRESS

According to the sixth annual report of the Workmen's Compensation Board, industrial conditions throughout the province have improved greatly during the past year. At the beginning of the year 6,303 industrial establishments were in operation. This number increased to 6,524 at the end of the year, an increase of 181 firms. There was a corresponding pay-roll increase of over $4,000,000. The aggregate pay-rolls of all industrial establishments in the province is $134,000,000.

CHORAL SOCIETY NOW PRACTISING

Owing to the strong chorus required for the production of the "Messiah," the advisability of temporarily abandoning it in favor of a more secular program is now under discussion by the Summerland Choral Society. For the chorus of such a production as the "Messiah" no less than eighty voices would be required to do full justice to the score. Whether the society will continue with its practices of the above, the first of which was held last week, or adopt a rounded out program of first-class glee, part songs and choruses will be left for the members themselves to decide at the next meeting on Tuesday next, when all interested should make it a point to attend.

POTTERY KILN ERECTED AT THE LOG CABIN

Students Resume Work in Art Night School Attendance Growing.

Classes in pottery which were resumed a short time ago under the instruction of Mrs. Hawkins are being carried on at the Log Cabin, Peach Orchard. The new kiln has been erected there and is working well. A pottery wheel made by A. C. Turner is also doing good service. By carrying on this work apart from the school building, afternoon classes are made possible and some of the enthusiasts are even putting in their mornings at the work. All stages of work are being practised from hand modelling. Some glazing is being done this week. There are from twelve to fifteen students.

In the night school the largest class is in commercial work, of which A. H. Steven is in charge. Some of the students in shorthand who began last year will soon be proficient and ready for positions.

As fruit packing slackens more students will enter the several classes.

EDGAR GOULD SUSTAINS FRACTURE SHOULD SPRAY FOR BLISTER MITE

Edgar Gould is lying in Summerland Hospital as the result of a serious accident which took place last week while at his work in Read's garage. Slipping on a bolt lying upon the floor he was precipitated to the ground, part of his body hanging over the car pit, his right hip striking the concrete edge of the pit with such violence that a bad fracture was caused which it is feared will necessitate his remaining in hospital for two months at least. He is progressing as favorably as may be expected.

CONVENTION HERE COMING WEEK

The Women's Missionary Society convention to be held in the Summerland Methodist church on Wednesday and Thursday of next week promises to be particularly interesting.

Delegates are expected from all principle points in the Okanagan, also from the Similkameen Valley.

On Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, the first session opens. The chair will be taken by Rev. H. J. Armitage, the pastor of the church, and addresses will be given by local and outside speakers, prominent amongst whom will be Miss Mary Campbell, of Winnipeg, who will speak on the Zenana work in India. Special music will be rendered by the choir, also solos by local talent.

The morning session at 10 o'clock and the afternoon at 2.30 on Thursday will be devoted to the business of the society.

On Thursday evening another public meeting will be held when papers dealing with different phases of the work of the society will be read and discussed, also special music will be rendered.

The committee extends a most cordial invitation to all interested to attend these sessions and will especially welcome all members of sister organizations who wish to attend.

Luncheon and supper will be served on Thursday in the church parlors to all delegates and visitors.

FRUIT BETTER DISTRIBUTED THAN BEFORE

Market on Prairies Extended—Jobbers Give Loyal Support.

"British Columbia Fruit has been better distributed on the prairies this season than ever before," said A. T. Howe, president of the Associated Growers, in an interview published by the Vernon News. "British Columbia fruit had the upper hand east of the mountains where the jobbers gave the Associated Growers splendid support despite the many handicaps," he stated.

"The lower prices quoted by the independents has made it impossible for some of the jobbers to do business on a satisfactory basis," added Mr. Howe. The president pointed out that jobbers to protect themselves from losses had to insist on the Associated meeting the prices quoted by the independents.

"Growers must realize, that if they continue to support the shipper who undersells the Associated they are reducing the net returns to their neighbors," he continued, and added that every effort would be made by the organization to get as many growers as possible into the organization.

Mr. Howe, in referring to markets, said at the present time the Old Country was the best. Prices on the prairies were not good but still they were not nearly so bad as last year, while in the United States the fruit markets were most unsettled.

Referring to the visit of Basil Stewart, managing director, to the United Kingdom, Mr. Howe said: "Mr. Stewart is a keen student of fruit marketing and I feel that his visit to the Old Country will be of great value to the organization."

Mr. Howe also stated that the Associated has already, up to the end of October, shipped out more than a million and a quarter boxes of apples.

During Mr. Stewart's absence Mr. Howe has taken on the added duties of managing director.

APPLES SAFE BY WEEK-END

Growers to Get an Advance on Fruit Held in Storage.—Bulk Shipments.

The horticultural branch of the Department of Agriculture is now advising fall spraying for the control of blister mite. Use lime sulphur, 1 to 15, when the leaves are mostly fallen. Drench the trees thoroughly with the spray.

Growers to Get an Advance on Fruit Held in Storage.—Bulk Shipments.

Packing of apples by the Co-operative in the Stewart building was suspended on Tuesday. At the main building near the C.P.R. wharf, packing will be continued for some time.

Apples have been moving out at the rate of about six cars per day and this has made sufficient room to permit the moving of apples from the upper warehouse to the storage building. It is expected that all of these will be in the latter building by this week-end.

Several car loads of Spy apples in bulk have been shipped by the Co-operative. Spys were put over the grader and those which graded Fancy or better and also the culls were eliminated. Those which remained were used in the bulk shipments. Most of these have gone to small country points on the prairies.

A number of growers are holding stocks of apples in frost-proof cellars awaiting instructions from the Co-operative.

It is understood that the Central is arranging to make an advance on apples held in storage. This will apply to fruit in the private storerooms of members of the locals.

Over a million and a quarter dollars of new buildings were erected this year at the Terminal City.

Editorial

WILLINGNESS TO TAKE ADVICE IS SOMETIMES BEING GREATER THAN HE WHO GIVES IT

ARMISTICE DAY.

At the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month five years ago—the last great smash on the Western front—then silence—and the armistice! Staccato rattle of rifles, the crashing of bombs, and thundering of cannon ceased; an appalling silence smote din-strained ears — and of Canadian arms, 65,000 heard not, nor rejoiced.

What are we celebrating this day? Are we jubilant over the victories of Vimy, of Passchendaele, of outwitting the enemy at Hill 60, of filling the gap which historians say saved the day at the second battle of Ypres; or the last triumphant drive of the Allies when right conquered over might and the roars of guns and belches from a thousand hells-gave place to the clearing of smoke-laden atmosphere and the trilling of song birds?

We are celebrating nothing! We are commemorating the end of that man-made and made-ended conflict, and from the fullness of our hearts we praise God that it is so. Scarce a home in our beloved country that has not felt the pangs of poignant anguish, and on this memorial day our hearts beat in unison and sympathy for all who suffered. We are commemorating the haloed sacrifice made by the thousands of Canada's God-annointed boys who laid down their lives that their loved ones at home might live. We are also commemorating on this day the personal honor and sacrifice of all who yielded up everything but life that peace should prevail.

Five years ago! And to-day we hope and pray to our living God that nothing may ever cause us to fail to pay homage to all to whom honor is due. The day is dedicated to those! And we join with those who bore the strains of conflict, and with those yet suffering and handicapped by their physical disabilities, to say from the fullness of our hearts: physical disabilities, to say from the depths of our hearts: "Give Peace in our time, O God!"

GOOD NEWS.

Most encouraging is a London report received this morning to the effect that the British Government is making proposals to the Dominion Government for preference trade arrangements which will result in the placing of a duty on certain products, including apples and canned salmon. One hundred per cent. preference will be given Empire products. British Columbia fruit growers, along with apple producers elsewhere in Canada, will be greatly benefitted by such an agreement.

This advantage, together with the growing trade between the port of Vancouver and British ports by way of the Panama will largely, if not wholly, solve the question of surplus production and the problem of seeking export markets.

A like preference is to be given our honey and this adjunct of fruit growing will similarly be stimulated.

From Our Exchanges

EUROPEAN WARS AND CANADA.

Should Canada meddle in European wars? The press of Canada is today taking the question seriously to heart and there is good reason for grave reflection. With a war debt which will take the next hundred years to wipe out, with returned crippled soldiers being neglected, with widows and orphans abroad in the land and general dissatisfaction spread broadcast, Canadians are seriously reflecting on their venture into the European conflict. The invitation of the British government to Canada (17th of September, 1922) to engage in a war which was thought to be imminent in connection with a squabble in the Near East, has raised in clear and concrete form the old question whether Canada ought to exercise judgment before sending her sons anywhere to kill and be killed, or whether, without hesitation or consideration she ought to reply "Ready, aye ready!" Native born Canadians answer one way. Imperialists answer the other. "The issue is now clearly defined," writes John S. Stewart, K.C., "Let it be definitely set-

Uncle Joe's
Jingling Prose

"Owing to Canada's growing importance, there are prospects of it being a Kingdom."
—London Papers—

WHAT O! A KINGDOM!

THE PRESS of Merrie England strikes a mean and wicked gait, in yapping of Our Canada unseemingly of late. The bunk they print about our land I gulp with grains of salt, but when they start to "Kingdom" us, in wrath I holler "Halt!" When first I see this regal wheeze methinks they're showing malice; and then says I, I'll just be fly, for me cum grano salis. But when they kept the racket up beyond the realms of wit, it made me swear and tear my hair and nearly throw a fit. "WHAT! Make of us a Kingdom with a really truly King, with all the courts and dukes and barons and a bunch of counts galore. Oh, save us from the likes of that, sweet holy Mackinaw! Those dubs would have us sporting buckled shoes and periwigs, and wish the job of King on Andy Gump or Old Man Jiggs. With Jiggs I have a stand-in, and efstoon I hear him chatter: 'Arise, Sir Jingling Joseph, you're the Duke of Naramata. Begone and mould your Sheba out of Sally in our Alley, for you're the Lord High Muck-a-Muck of Okanagan Valley!' I want no Kingdom stuff in mine, there's nothing there to glory at, unless they'd slip the job to me of being Poet Laureate! But, no such luck, I'll still be stuck, a ringling jingling bum; the only Kingdom that We'll get will be the KINGDOM COME."
—UNCLE JOE OF SUMMERLAND—

led." The recent crisis is happily passed. Another may arise at any time. And what our government ought to do should not be left undecided. Are we to engage when our Parliament says so, or merely when requested by a British government? Like bull-terriers, are we to fight when whistled for? Or, like intelligent human beings, are we to investigate and for ourselves determine (1) Whether the stated case is just; (2) whether, from the Canadian point of view, it is worth a war; (3) whether war is unavoidable." It will be interesting to readers to know the attitudes assumed by Sir John A. Macdonald and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, two of the most outspoken premiers ever known to Canadians. The Trent affair in November, 1861, having brought the United States and the United Kingdom to the verge of war, the British government, through the Colonial secretary, Duke of Newcastle, undertook to exercise pressure upon the Canadian government with reference to military preparations. Our parliament declined to pass the required legislation, and, therefore, the Duke (Aug. 21, 1862) expressed his regret; urged resumption of efforts by the governor-general; indicated what ought to be done; suggested military co-operation with the other provinces with an "adjutant-general of the whole force." After arguing in favor of the voluntary system, as preferable to the compulsory, the Macdonald government replied, in part as follows: "The people of Canada, doing nothing to produce a rupture with the United States, and having no knowledge on the part of Her Majesty's government to pursue a policy from which so dire a calamity would proceed, are unwilling to impose upon themselves extraordinary burdens. They feel that, should war occur, it will be produced by no acts of theirs, and they have no inclination to do anything that may seem to fore-shadow, perhaps to provoke, a state of things which would be disastrous to every interest of the province."

Note, finally, the attitude of Sir Wilfrid Laurier who, when speaking in the House of Commons (Feb. 5, 1900), in connection with the despatch of troops to South Africa, said:—"I claim for Canada this, that in the future Canada shall be at liberty to act or not act, to interfere or not to interfere, to do just as she pleases, and that she shall reserve to herself the right to judge whether or not there is cause for her to act."—Cranbrook Courier.

A BLUNDER SOMEWHERE.

An amazing error has been made by somebody among those who sponsored and achieved the passing of an amendment to the act governing the sale of feeding stuffs.

It is very evident that the intention of the amendment passed at the last session of Parliament is to protect the public from exploitation by unscrupulous persons who endeavor to unload chaff by mixing it with foods of worth such as bran, shorts, middlings, etc. But the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa has been over zealous if the amendment means that no person or company shall mix or sell prepared mashes and meals. Such an interpretation has been published by the responsible officials of the Department; either the interpretation is wrong or the amendment is ridiculous.

To stop the sale of prepared livestock and poultry meals and mashes would work a very great inconvenience on scores of thousands of poultrymen and dairymen throughout Canada. The public is amply protected against spurious feeding stuffs when the analysis of all prepared foods are compulsorily printed on or attached to the package or sack utilized as a container. Milling and feed companies can do the mixing of the desired ingredients much more quickly and economically than the average farmer or poultryman; and if either of the latter prefers to purchase his feeding material in mixed form with proper analysis attached, no obstacle should be placed in the way of his doing so.

The Hon. Mr. Motherwell would do well to re-read the amendment or check the interpretative abilities of his assistants. To prohibit the sale of mixed feeding materials could only be paralleled by putting the ban on corn flakes and shredded wheat. An amusing but serious error has been made somewhere in officialdom.—Farm and Home.

OUR GROWING IMPORTANCE.

The increasing importance of British Columbia as a fruit-growing province, particularly in apples, is shown by a recent return. With a total of 3,142,000 barrels expected to be marketed this year, it more than doubles the estimated output of Nova Scotia, its nearest rival, while it will be nearly five times in excess of that of Ontario, with 650,000 barrels. What is for the good of one province, however, likewise benefits all, and adds to the eloquent testimony as to the redundancy of natural wealth with which Canada is so abundantly favored.—Hamilton Spectator.

FAST PACKING

Miss Queenie Mattock, of Vernon, made a new apple packing record a few days ago, when she packed 264 boxes at the Vernon Fruit Union, according to the Vernon News.

Mr. Crawshaw, the packing room foreman, stated that the pack was the ordinary run of apples.

"It is the best day's work ever made, insofar as I know," he said.

FIELD MICE ARE INCREASING HERE

Field mice are already doing damage to trees, according to reports received from growers by J. Tait, district field inspector. Mr. Tait advises that orchardists should now make careful inspection of their trees and have them freed of all rubbish and weed growth at the base. Cover crop orchards are more or less infested with mice. A good plan is to set out some poison bait now. The poison formula is given on the 1923 spray calendar. Any person not having a copy may obtain one at the office of the district field inspector.

PIONEER BANKER RETIRES FROM WORK

After half a century with the Bank of Montreal, Mr. G. A. Henderson, of Vernon, has retired from the service of that institution. Mr. Henderson began his banking career at Quebec in 1874 and came to this province in 1891, when he opened the branch of the Bank of Montreal at Victoria. The year following he opened the branch of the same bank at Vernon which he has since managed.

Commenting on Mr. Henderson's retirement, Mr. J. A. McKelvie, M. P., writing in the Vernon News, says in part:

"At that time the nearest bank to Vernon was at Kamloops, and the branch here served the whole of what are now the Okanagan, Similkameen, Greenwood and Grand Forks electoral districts.

As the country opened up and developed, Mr. Henderson was called upon to extend the scope of the bank's service and opened branches at Kelowna, Summerland, Penticton, Greenwood and Merritt. He thus for many years held in his own hands the financial reins which guided the commercial, industrial and agricultural affairs of a large and rapidly-growing region. None will deny that to his excellent judgment, breadth of vision and keen business sense are very largely due the advancement and development of these interior valleys.

In every legitimate way he has always shown himself eager to assist such enterprises as gave promise of success, and for his shrewd advice and kindly counsel many a business and many a man owe him a heavy debt of gratitude."

PEACHLAND DOINGS

A Weekly Chronicle Furnished By Our Local Representative.

Mr. and Mrs. McHollister, of Kelowna, are visiting Mrs. McHollister's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Winger.

Mr. and Mrs. Crooks and family recently moved into the residence on the Bulyea fruit lot where they will reside for the winter.

Miss Ruth White left on Tuesday morning after a short visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. White.

Mr. and Mrs. Hackett recently moved down from their fruit lot into the small cottage adjoining the Kudelka home.

Miss Gladys Jewels, of Penticton, returned home on Tuesday after a few days' visit with the Hohensoe girls. Miss Horthe Hohensoe accompanied her.

Mrs. Morsch and her daughter, Lonh, moved into town from the ranch last week to be handy to the school, and are living in Miss A. Elliott's house across the street from the Methodist church. Paxton Morsch will join them when school re-opens next week.

Mrs. Michael and Master George Elkins returned on Tuesday evening after a short visit out of town.

Mrs. Vivian left on Tuesday evening for a short visit in Penticton.

Mrs. Todd was an outgoing passenger on Wednesday morning for a short visit out of town.

Mrs. Nourse and son, Eric, left on Wednesday to return to northern Saskatchewan, after having spent several months with Mrs. Nourse's sister, Mrs. A. Stewart.

No new cases of measles having been reported, it is expected that school will re-open next week. So far as can be learned, the disease has been confined to the one family. (Continued on Page 4)

SEED GROWERS' NEW OFFICERS

Annual Meeting Was Attended By Delegates from the Coast.

The annual meeting of the United Seed Growers, Ltd., was held on Friday afternoon at Penticton.

Among those present were Messrs. G. M. Stewart, chief inspector seed branch, Department of Agriculture, Calgary; A. McMeans, seed production specialist, Department of Agriculture, Vancouver; O. E. Fisher, John Power, Penticton; Magnus Tait, A. Moyes, E. A. Thomas, Summerland; Geo. Clarke, Chilliwack; K. W. King, Kaleden; H. H. Thompson, Peachland; John Tait, district field inspector, Summerland, and Manager Travis. Magnus Tait occupied the chair.

The following directors were appointed for the ensuing year: C. E. Craig, Magnus Tait, Andrew Moyes, Summerland; Prof. Boving, Vancouver; Geo. Clarke, Chilliwack; O. E. Fisher, Penticton; W. D. Lang, Cawston.

At a subsequent meeting of the directors the following officers were appointed: Hon. A. D. Barrow, honorary president; C. E. Craig, president; Prof. Boving, vice-president; J. Travis, manager; Andrew Moyes, secretary.

As Dr. John Sheppard, M.D., H. Lindsay Swan was very clever. His acting throughout bore the earmarks of a professional training, he repeatedly reminding us of the one and only Max Figman. Most of the uproarious comedy was supplied by Marian K. Stevens, who, as Aurora, the lady slayer, gave a rollicking interpretation of the character that might have been handled no better by the great Louie Freer or the famous Louise Fazenda of the Movies. As Mr. Plant (the Southsea lawyer), Chas. H. Cordy was very good, as was also J. Stanley Wood as Hon. Waverley Vane. The entire cast was a well balanced one, and the production was greatly enjoyed by a fair sized audience which loudly applauded the talented amateurs at its conclusion.

"A Snapper Up of Unconsidered Trifles."
* * * * *
The Winter's Tale,
Scene II, Act IV

It is a melancholy reflection that after many years' expensive experience there is no better method of agreement between employers and employed than the wasteful and unsatisfactory strike. Before the advent of arbitration boards, conciliation courts and similar bodies, it may be that the only effective way for the worker to secure his just due was to stop working until the employer came to terms, but today the strike should be obsolete. I suppose the basis of its continuation may be found in the old proverb which tells us, quite truly, that although one man can take a horse to water, twenty can't make him drink. If a body of men simply refuse to return to work, or an association of employers decline to meet all demands, nothing can make them do so, since we see that even the orders of the leaders on the one side are occasionally defied, and that the other side may prefer to close the works rather than yield. But there is, in all human affairs, a stage where determination degenerates into obstinacy, and obstinacy descends to plain mulishness, and there should today be enough common sense in business organizations to keep them from such a deplorable deadlock. The trouble is that common sense does not yet play its proper part in the affairs of mankind.

The longshoremen's strike at Vancouver has some rather curious features. The element of brutality, as shewn in attacks on some of the strikebreakers, is, unfortunately, too common to be curious—it is merely senseless and discreditable. But I think many observers will have been somewhat surprised to learn, on the authority of a union official writing to a Vancouver daily, that $30 weekly is earned by the majority of the men out on strike, that some of them earn a good deal more than that, and that quite a number are able to drive to work in their own automobiles. That the $30 is probably the minimum standard of earnings is further evidenced by an advertisement in the same paper offering 80 cents an hour for this unskilled labour, with $1.20 an hour for overtime. To the average onlooker, 80 cents an hour, or even the modest $30 a week, does not seem so very bad for unskilled labour, and it is possible that more than a few white collared men would be fairly well satisfied with a guaranteed income of that amount. There are also some other branches of labor which fall short of such a wage, if one may judge from an advertisement in the "Wanted" columns of the city papers of October 30th offering "steady work at 50 cents an hour to a few active labourers who can invest a small amount." The longshoreman does not need to invest any money to secure his 80 cents (with $1.20 for overtime) and by comparison seems to be pretty well off.

Possibly by the time this paragraph appears, the Vancouver strike may be settled, but the loss it has entailed cannot be replaced, and it seems a decided pity that industrial disputes have still to be adjusted in so wasteful a fashion.

The Etude Music Magazine, in the issue which completes its fortieth year of publication, reports an interview between Thomas A. Edison and Lieut.-Commander John Philip Sousa in May of the present year, the occasion being the EDISON first on which these two notabilities had met. As ON might be expected, the conversation between the MELODY two was exceedingly interesting—the man who shares with Pathe the invention of the phonograph, and the composer and conductor whose marches are familiar to us all, could hardly meet without saying something worth hearing. Personally I am delighted to find that certain opinions this present scribe has for some years been ventilating, receive the very emphatic support of a man who spends a good deal of his time in hearing and analyzing musical compositions. Edison is an uncompromising lover of melody, as distinct from what he calls "complicated music", and he finds very little of it in the thousands of selections he listens to. In this he agrees with Sousa, who thinks that "we live in a day when some composers seem to be ashamed of melody." It is rather remarkable, but easy to believe, that out of several thousands of songs tried out by the phonograph wizard for re-creation, he found that all of them could be reduced to "only nine tunes." Considering that there are about 400,000,000 possible changes, we can sympathize with Mr. Edison when he asks, "Why under the heavens don't we have more original material?" We may not be able to follow him when he declares that he got better results by reversing some of the alleged melodies, and playing them backwards, but we may certainly believe that they could be no worse. Another dictum, which may sound like heresy, but is just unvarnished truth, is the same authority's statement that many instrumentalists play out of tune, and don't know it. "This is particularly the case with the violinist, who rarely plays accurately in tune. He thinks he does, but he doesn't. What he really does is to make a stab at a note, hit within fifteen vibrations, and then make a lightning like correction with such deftness that the auditor is not usually aware of it."

The expression "making a stab at it," reminds me of an episode some years ago, when I selected a rather doubtful bass in the little choir I was then training in a prairie town, to take the solo part in Himmol's anthem, "Incline Thine Ear." To my query as to whether he could undertake the part, he replied, "Well, I can make a stab at it." At the practice, he did fairly well, but on the Sunday evening, his "stab" somehow got deflected, and he plunged straightway into the bass part of the full score, and was only extricated when the next man caught my signal, and came to the rescue.

Coming back to the Edison-Sousa conversation, it is refreshing to find that the former is hot on the trail of singers who affect the tremolo style. "Why in the world do they do it?" he asks, and echo answers "Why?" or would do so if it could be reversed and played backwards!

It is quite a drop from violins to cowbells, even if the violin is fifteen vibrations off tune. Only the person whose soul finds poetry and melody in every sight or sound, will listen with pleasure to the dead tinkle of that bell COW which vibrates without harmonics, and even the poet's BELLS serenity is likely to be disturbed if he discovers that its music is made by the movements of its carrier while engaged in assimilating the green corn of his own particular vegetable patch. When this happens, the erstwhile complacent one is apt to be moved to sudden activity and an impromptu torrent of blank verse of most rugged and emphatic quality. I have cowbells in mind by reason of a story told me the other day. There is a certain spot in a well known lake in this province where an industrious diver would be likely to find many a cowbell lying "full fathom five" in its depths, unless they are too far buried by the mud of intervening years. It was in the early days of a certain community dwelling on this lakeshore, when pound laws were not enforced, for the good and sufficient reason that there was no pound, and when the neighbour's cows roamed around the village at their own sweet will, tagged with the inharmonious clapper which would advertise their whereabouts: "It is part of the secret history of this place that, in the dead of the night, waking citizens, disturbed by the bell of unrest, would steal out, divest bossy of strap and tinkling pendant, hurl them into the deep waters of the lake, and so find peace in their beds!"

HINTS TO HOUSEWIVES

One way to make cake light is to fold into the batter made of the other ingredients, the stiffly beaten egg white the last thing. Mash squash and pumpkin for pies with a potato masher; then beat with the egg beater until smooth. Less time is required than if a sieve is used. Fruit should have a prominent place on the late summer diet. If members of the family aren't fond of fruit, serve it to them in the form of lemonade or other fruit drinks. All pieces of beef or chicken fat should be cut fine and carefully rendered to be used for frying. Fat left from frying bacon or ham should be saved, but kept in a separate jar, as the smoked flavor is not desirable for all frying. Slice cold roast beef very thin and arrange on a warm platter. Just before serving pour a hot meat sauce or gravy over the slices of meat. If the beef is reheated and allowed to stand over the fire in the gravy it becomes tough. Marvellous! Oscar (reading): "Three thousand four hundred and twenty-six elephants needed last year to make billiard balls." NEW LAMP BURNS 94 PER CENT AIR

Beats Electric or Gas.
A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly bright, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal oil). The inventor, J. B. Johnson, 579 McDermot, Ave., Winnipeg, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month. ***

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS
Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range, and 8,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emption are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emption must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

For more detailed information see the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

PEACHLAND DOINGS

A Weekly Chronicle Furnished By Our Local Representative.

Thursday morning of last week revealed the fact that a number of the rising generation of Peachland put in a lot of work the night previous. Various articles were in various places and conditions and a few buildings were found not to be right side up as they had been when darkness set in on Hallowe'en. One of the great surprises to many was to see the boys' bath house turned over, and so far as can be learned, it was not the girls who did it. The reason for the surprise rests in the fact that the material was purchased and the building built and donated to the boys by the local branch of the Women's Institute. Rather a peculiar exhibition of appreciation many think.

The Misses Enid and Olive Smith, of Merritt, who have been spending the latter part of the summer and fall with their aunt, Mrs. L. D. McCall, and employed in the Union packing house, left on Thursday to return to their home. They were taken to the K.V.R. at West Summerland by their cousin, Mr. H. E. McCall.

Mr. and Mrs. Cadmore and daughter paid an overnight visit to Penticton on business last Friday.

Miss Ivy Law returned home on Tuesday evening from Okanagan Centre, where she has been employed during the greater part of the packing season.

Municipal clerk Wm. Dryden spent Tuesday in Kelowna in his official capacity attending a joint meeting in connection with irrigation matters, also attending to some matters of business in connection with the Union.

Quite a number congregated in the Baptist church last mid-week to hear Dr. and Mrs. Howard Taylor, of the China Inland Mission, speak of the work throughout the province in China. All pronounced it a delightfully interesting account of the advance made by the Mission since it was founded by Mr. Taylor's father, Hudson Taylor, well known to all who follow missionary activities. The speakers were pleasant to listen to and impressed the gathering as being full of faith so necessary in the work. In addition to a review of the history of the Mission, they gave details of their own work and life there, including a short account of their capture by brigands recently. Mrs. Taylor was released soon, but Mr. Taylor was held for some thirty-eight days. They testified, however, that, in spite of the seriousness of the situation, they did not fear for their trust was in God, who was able to deliver them. Dr. and Mrs. Taylor had been addressing meetings in Penticton and were brought up to Peachland by Rev. Isaac Page, Penticton, pastor of the Peachland church, the church having extended an invitation to them to come.

The wedding took place recently of Miss Irene White to Mr. Cecil Brown, both of this place. The ceremony was conducted quietly at Penticton and, after spending a few days in Peachland, the young couple left on Thursday for Vancouver to remain for a time.

After spending the latter portion of the summer and the fall employed in the orchards at Westbank, Mah Wing returned to Peachland and is occupying his residence again.

The Masons have made a start on the improvements to be made around the monument on second street. There is to be a diamond-shaped curb built around the monument, and a space thirty feet wide curbed off in the center of the street between Main and the lane at the rear of the first block. This curb is to be four by six inches above the ground and will leave a drive-way on either side of the street for traffic. This completed, it is the intention of the committee to arrange for the beautifying of the spaces thus blocked out.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Miller have moved out to their son's ranch at camp Helena for the winter months. Since his return home from the hospital at Summerland, Mr. Miller has been steadily improving in health, and is able to be about a good deal.

Mr. Geo. White returned home on Sunday after an absence of several months, and is residing with his parents in their home adjoining the butcher shop.

Rev. H. A. Solly, Summerland, conducted the regular Anglican service in St. Margaret's church here on Sunday afternoon.

Naramata For Fraser Route

allowance adjoining his property. Further action on the carship was deferred until receipt of the plans and estimate of Mr. Keats, assistant surveyor.

The meeting adjourned at 9.30.

The members of the Women's Auxiliary met on Friday at the home of Mrs. Fred Manchester, Mrs. Langueod presiding. In addition to the usual routine work of the meeting, arrangements were made for the holding of a bazaar on December 15. Mrs. Cross served tea and refreshments.

Bryson White, Dominion Fruit Inspector, was a visitor to the local co-operative packing house on Saturday.

Messrs. T. I. Williams and Len Smith went up to Vernon on Monday morning to serve on the petty jury.

Saturday afternoon and evening saw a merry assembly of school children who were guests of Miss Glasser at the Unity Club for a Hallowe'en supper, the parents coming later to spend the evening. The room was appropriately decorated for the occasion, with the time honored pumpkin in full evidence, and the visitors were received by two "ghosts" impersonated by the Misses Partridge and Vanderburg. About thirty sat down to supper, the number later approaching sixty. All the pupils and many of the adults were in costume, and formed a varied array of gipsies, ghosts, Japanese ladies, Indians and cowboys, with one particularly attractive page. After supper the evening was spent in dancing, winding up with light refreshments to close. Those responsible for the decorations included the Misses McKaye, Vera and Dot Partridge, and Doris Lawronde. Other assistants were Dorothy Partridge, John Smith, Gordon Williams, Bert Partridge and J. Fell. Miss Glasser was costumed as the Hallowe'en spirit, and efficiently supervised the proceedings. The pianists of the evening were the Misses Glasser, Raynor, Mitchell and Partridge.

SAYS GROWERS WILL RECEIVE GOOD RETURNS

Vancouver, Oct. 29.—Mr. C. A. Walters, a fruit shipper of Summerland, visiting wholesalers on Water Street this morning, expressed the opinion that growers in the district would receive very good returns for all fruits moved during the present season. Cherries had netted around ten cents a pound, while growers of apricots got a little over six cents.

Mr. Walters said that the McIntosh deal, as far as he was concerned, was over, and that Jonathans were moving out very fast, largely to the prairie market. He was trying, he said, to sell all of this variety before offering any of the late winter apples. There had not been enough Wealthies to meet the demand at his packing house.

DONATIONS TO THE HOSPITAL FOR OCTOBER

The following donations have been received, and are herewith gratefully acknowledged by the Summerland hospital.

Mrs. Fisher, flowers and herbs; Mrs. Miller, Peachland, grapes; Mrs. Windeler, 12 quarts fruit; Mr. Carvick, 4 boxes peaches; Taka Shekenji, tomatoes, melons, celery, onions; Mrs. Creece, tomatoes; Mr. Miller, Miller's Point, pears; Mrs. Clouston, eggs; C. of E. harvest festival, fruit and vegetables; Mrs. McLaughlin, jelly; Mrs. Cowan, pears; Mrs. Solly, quince and crabapple; Mr. Scurrah, two pheasants, lettuce; Mrs. Fanchon, tomatoes; Peachland C. of E., grapes, apples, canned fruit; Mrs. Roe, pickles; Mr. Creece, two pheasant s.

THE B. C. WEALTHY IN GREAT BRITAIN

An interesting little editorial was published in the October number of a British monthly, "The Sevenoaks Monthly," a copy of which was handed the Review by a subscriber. The editorial reads:

"British Columbia is famous for the size and delicacy of its apples. Growers have managed to ship consignments of the 'B. C. Wealthy' eating variety to England again this year, we believe for the first time since the war. We understand they are obtainable at Paynes Stores, and can strongly recommend them to connoisseurs."

W. Keen left on Saturday for California, where he expects to obtain employment for the winter months.

Alfred Johnston came in on Saturday night from Alberta, where he has been employed for some time.

Kirk Sutherland left on Wednesday morning for New York, where he has obtained a position.

M. Marshall came down from Okanagan Centre on Saturday, where he has been with his father during the summer months.

Mrs. Seeley and her two children, Dorothy and Connie, left today for Nicola, where she will visit Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Helmer.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Freeman left on Thursday of last week to motor to Los Angeles, where they will reside.

K. M. Elliott has this week moved his office from the Ritchie building into the office recently occupied by Dr. J. S. Pirie.

The Okanagan District Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist church will hold its twelfth annual convention in Summerland on November 14th and 15th. A cordial invitation is extended to all interested. 14,15

Miss Pearl Clemens came in from the Coast on Saturday morning's train to visit her sister, Mrs. Willis Walter. Miss Clemens, who is on her way to the prairie, will spend about a week here before going east.

Mrs. J. J. Baker, of Mineola, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. York, left on Tuesday's boat for the prairies. Mrs. York is going as far as Portage la Prairie, while Mrs. Baker goes on to Toronto.

Mrs. A. J. Beer and family left today for Nanaimo, where Mrs. Beer will visit for a few weeks with her parents, Rev. David Lister and Mrs. Lister, before going south to join her husband in California.

Miss Campbell, secretary for the Zenana Mission supported by the Summerland ladies, will speak in St. Andrew's church on Tuesday afternoon, November 13th, at 3 p.m., and at the Methodist Convention on Wednesday evening, November 14th at 8 p.m. 15C

The staff of the Occidental Fruit Company, Limited, held a most satisfying banquet in the Parish Hall last Friday at the close of the day's work. Later, invited friends gathered for a dance. At the close three hearty cheers and a "tiger" were given for the Occidental staff, who showed themselves to be courteous and hospitable hosts.

Tom Kelley, an old-time prospector and well known to most of our early citizens, is back in Summerland again after an absence of three years or more, most of which time has been spent in Australia. He is quoted as stating that British Columbia is an immensely better place in which to reside and make a living than is our sister Dominion.

Mrs. W. J. White was the subject of a major operation at the Summerland Hospital on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Gayton and child are now in their home on the Experimental Farm at Oliver.

T. J. Garnett and P. G. Dodwell went up to Vernon the first of the week as petty jurors in the court session there.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Robinson are leaving soon to reside in Penticton. Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Knowles have leased their residence.

Mr. G. A. Lundie, principal of the Summerland high school, has sent in his resignation to the school board, to take effect at the end of the present term in December.

Mrs. T. G. Beavis, as a member of the program committee of the Women's Missionary Societies of the district, was a recent visitor to Kelowna.

A meeting of the Board of Trade and all interested will be held in St. Andrew's Hall, Friday, November 9th, at 8 o'clock, to consider trans-provincial highway route, and other matters. 15L

Mrs. Rau and daughter are leaving shortly to spend the winter in Manitoba. Messrs. Morkill and Crossley have rented the Rau home for the winter.

Reeve J. R. Campbell returned Monday from a visit to Alberta. Mr. Campbell states that there is still much wheat in the fields between Calgary and Edmonton, there being insufficient threshing machines to care for the unusually large crop.

H. H. Elsey, who with Mrs. Elsey and their son, Clarence, motored to Vancouver a few days ago, reports finding good roads all the way with no snow in the Blenheim Pass. They made the 511 miles in two and a half days.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Whiteford, of Virden, Manitoba, came in last Friday and spent a few days here at the home of Mr. Whiteford's brother, J. L. Whiteford. From here they went to the Coast, where they will make a short stay before continuing on their way south to California.

Warren Gayton has joined his brother Joe at Brandon College. He has been working on the prairies and arrived at Brandon on the 26th of October. He is greatly pleased with the school but reports that it is as cold in Brandon now as in Summerland in mid-winter.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Sanborn returned home on Tuesday from an extended visit to the central States. They made their headquarters near Kansas City but visited nine different states, and returned by way of Spokane and Grand Forks, B. C. Mr. Sanborn states that farm crops were none too good, corn in the corn belt soft and very little of it yet harvested. There was three inches of snow in Illinois when he left. Much as they enjoyed their trip they were glad to be back in Summerland. Mrs. Sanborn's health has been considerably improved by the vacation.

Mrs. Gould of Prairie Valley gave a delightful Halloween party to the young people of the district. The evening was happily spent in games and music, after which refreshments were served. At the end of the evening the guests all joined in thanking Mrs. Gould for giving such an enjoyable evening.

Phonant and quail shooting season in South Okanagan and Similkameen closes on November 11th, this being the last day of the season. There is no open season on Hungarian partridge, but it is understood an effort will be made to have a short open season next year. The deer season closes on December 15th and the duck shooting season on December 30th.

P. O. Minnich and family are moving into the G. J. C. White cottage near the Baptist church.
Mrs. Allan Agur, assisted by Mrs. Powell and Mrs. Ottley, gave a children's party on Halloween. The children spent an enjoyable afternoon and evening, during which time games and contests were indulged in.

NO NEED TO HURRY

The steamer was only a few feet from the quay when there was a sudden commotion, and a man came running down madly from the dock gates, shouting to the officials to wait a moment.

Without pausing in his stride, he flung his bag on to the boat, took a desperate leap, and landed on the deck with a crash.

"Good!" he gasped, as he was assisted to his feet. "Just did it. A few seconds later and I should have missed it."

"Missed it!" exclaimed one of the passengers. "Do you realize that this boat is just coming in?"—Kelowna Courier.

RICE HULLS TO END DIRT CAKING

Experiments in the use of rice hulls for the purpose of keeping the ground loose and preventing caking, especially after irrigation, are being tried out near Visalia, California. Thus far the tests have proved so successful that the orchard company has spread 400 cars of rice hulls over its vineyard and orchard lands. The new method is based on the theory that the rice hulls will not decompose for five years and during that time will serve to prevent the ground from baking or hardening.

HIGH SCHOOL TO PUT ON TRIAL SCENE OF MERCHANT OF VENICE

At Christmas the students of the High School will present the Trial Scene from "The Merchant of Venice." This will be staged by the matriculation class. The second year students will present the scene from "Julius Caesar" depicting Marc Antony's famous speech over the dead body of the great pro-consul. The first year students will put on a laughable farce, and the whole entertainment will include musical and instrumental numbers. Mr. W. C. Kelley, who has already promised to give some Shakespearean addresses to the scholars, will be asked to assist in the training of our young actors in their parts.

HANSEN AGAIN UNDER ARREST

Business men here and elsewhere throughout the Valley will learn with interest of the arrest in Okanagan, Washington, of H. A. Hansen, advertising solicitor. Hansen, who advertises Hotel Summerland his headquarters for some time, was more than once under arrest while here. His arrest in the southern part of the Valley followed an investigation made by the commercial club of Okanagan. He will face charges of fraudulently selling advertising for an alleged auto tourist guide.

Hansen spent some time up and down this part of the Valley soliciting for a similar publication which never materialized and later he played the same game at Nelson.

NARAMATA SCOUTS

Friday, November 2.—There was the usual attendance Friday night and the Scouts did their usual work on badges. After the meeting, Mr. McKaye gave a short talk on discipline. Nothing was done towards the Christmas concert.

THANKSGIVING DAY SUPPER TO BE HELD

The Ladies Aid of St. Andrew's church are holding their annual Thanksgiving supper on Monday next in St. Andrew's Hall, commencing at 5.30, with a concert in the church at 9 o'clock. St. Andrew's Ladies have established something of a reputation for themselves in this annual event and assure a real treat for all who attend. For particulars see notice in our advertising columns.

FAST PICKING

In the twelve days from October 9-21 of last year Wm. Verrier picked 1,527 boxes of apples on the Balcoma ranch. This information was given the Review by R. V. Agur, who thinks it would be hard to beat. Verrier's biggest day was 165 boxes. Mr. Agur points out that at that season of the year the day's work is not over ten hours.

Any other figures on this subject or on the production of individual trees would be appreciated by the Review.

HOWELL HARRIS AT CORVALLIS

Mr. G. H. Harris, of Summerland, a graduate in horticulture from the University of British Columbia with the class of 1922, after having successfully completed work for his Master of Science Degree at the Oregon Agricultural College last spring, spent the summer in the employ of the Dominion Government as a special investigator of White Pine Blister Rust.

Mr. Harris, having completed his work with the Blister Rust on October 1st, left for Corvallis, Oregon, where he has been awarded a Fellowship in the research section of the Division of Horticulture at the Oregon Agricultural College, an honor which reflects credit to British Columbia. Mr. Harris' work last year was proved of such an outstanding quality that the Oregon authorities were most anxious to have him return and do further work on the problem with which he was connected last year.—B.C.F.G.A. Bulletin.

THE KNOCKERS GET KNOCKED

Knocking a town is a popular pastime with many travelling drummers and floaters. On the boats, in the smoking coaches and lounge places where men congregate one often hears the anvil chorus. These men gauge a town according to the amount of cash or number of orders they have rounded up, and woe betide a burg that sends a travelling man empty away. As an example: a number of itinerant musicians floated in and, without being heralded in the local paper or appearing under the auspices of any local organization, they expected to clean up.

But few turned up to their dance, and those who paid their admission had their money refunded. Now this is where they tune up with the anvil chorus. A couple of days later a group of men outside the Elks' hall at Kelowna were discussing the tour of the musicians, and a representative of The Review close by heard such remarks as "Summerland! Wow! bust, sky high! That burg's kerflossy. Nobody got any money. Everybody flat broke. Nobody came to the dance," etc., etc. Just then the Review man interjected a few remarks which somewhat muzzed up the peans of praise of the ramblers; the situation was saved in the explanation of lack of publicity and the added fact of the Rover Scouts putting on a Hard Times Dance at four bits a throw, including supper, on Halloween!

OBITUARY.

J. C. FINDLAY

The funeral of the late John Clarke Findlay, father of Mrs. James Ritchie, was held last Wednesday afternoon at Kaleden. For the past twelve years Mr. Findlay, who had many friends here, has been a resident of Kaleden, and since the formation of the Baptist church there was one of its deacons, until he was taken seriously ill about three years ago, since which time he has been a constant invalid, and has been cared for largely by his daughter, Miss K. Findlay, a nurse, formerly with the Summerland hospital.

He is survived by his widow and five children, Mrs. R. J. Chalmers, Manitou, Man.; Mrs. Jas. Ritchie, Summerland; Miss K. Findlay, Mrs. F. W. King and Judson Findlay, all of Kaleden. The funeral was attended by a number of Summerland relatives and friends.

The Printed Message of Christmas Cheer

There is no one item, at such small cost, that approaches the Christmas card as a remembrance of a friend by a friend.

There is nothing that so cements the good will of a business institution as a thoughtful greeting to its customers, clients, associates and competitors.

Without forgetting the sentimental feature of Christmas giving, the printed greeting comes mighty close to being GOOD BUSINESS for both individual and firm.

Place your orders with us now for your Christmas Printing, and be sure of early delivery.

Armistice Day, 1918 - 23

All's Well!

THE Setting Sun its amber shadows throw Atawri the Fields, where, serried trenches lie, And, mingling with red hue where Poppies grow, I watch the glorious Heaven's sundogs die.

And through the slanting rays of golden glow, A mellifluous lark's revealed on high, And, lo, as its faith in God to show— A Vesper Hymn it trills ..... unto the Sky!
And ere the rays have tinged yon curfew bell, Gold halos splash the crosses .... row on row; Then God confides to me: "Tis well! 'Tis well!" My aching heart replies: "I know; I know!"
But ere the Lark its Vesper Hymn doth cease, And sunbeams die with curfew's parting knell..... My soul and heart's encompassed with a Peace..... Sleep on, OLD PALS! Sleep on! All's Well!
All's Well!

Correspondence

SAYS HE'S PUZZLED!

Summerland, November 5th, 1923.

Editor Review,
Dear Sir,—It was not my intention to trespass again upon your good nature, but as Mrs. Fosbery wishes me to "classify" myself I feel that it is only polite to comply, especially as she makes this a condition of further instruction.

Undoubtedly I must be in "Class 2" for the full significance of the word "irrelevant," as given in her letter of October 29th, had hitherto escaped me. Indeed, to be frank it escapes me still.

To indicate my difficulty I am obliged to quote from this letter, but fortunately some 200 words of it can be condensed into a couple of lines. Mrs. Fosbery says: "If one complains that an utterance is irrelevant it is safe to assume" that he is either ignorant, stupid or dishonest. Rather a large assumption, and not particularly safe, it seems to me. Stumbling along my Class 2 pathway, I am moved to wonder how the complainant is to be classified if he should happen to be right. Right or wrong, is he always ignorant, stupid, or dishonest? A most disturbing reflection. Or is it now or possible to say with truth that an utterance is irrelevant? Here I am on safer ground, for this correspondence will furnish an obvious reply.

Beginning with the Eva-like longing of the lady-journalist for apples, Mr. Bulman playing the part of an unaccommodating serpent, it proceeded over the fragments of his and other reputations, and after touching lightly upon bank charters and the Dominion House, has reached its present depth of obscurity, where I at least propose to leave it.
Yours faithfully,
W. V. B. WEBB.

LEAKY FLUMES

Editor Review,
Dear Sir,—In your last issue, in your report of the proceedings of the Council, I wish to call your attention to one or two matters. In the first place, it was claimed that I wrote the Council asking it to pump out the pond on the rear of D. C. Barr's place. This is a gross error, as I asked the Reeve to pump out my collar and did not mention Barr's pond. The water in my collar now is the result of that pond I mention. I may say the Council are very careful to refrain from remarking on the scapage into Mrs. J. A. Dun-robin's orchard from the same source. The pond is the result of a flume that has been leaking all season, and the Council certainly must have been aware of it.

The same trouble, but not quite so great, occurred two years ago, and it is curious that it could not have been attended to. I notice Mr. J. A. Kirk's suggestion that a deep drain could be dug, and the property owners stand half the cost. I should think that the easiest way would be to have water tight flumes, and then there would no trouble of this kind. Kindly have this correction made.
Yours truly,
R. CLOUSTON.

Prevention Is Far Better

The visit to the Glenmore public school of the district health nurse occasioned the following contribution to the Kelowna Courier by a Glenmore correspondent:

We feel this is a step in the right direction: For many years far-seeing men and women have had Utopian dreams of an era when the nation will be kept well and efficient, not alone cured of their ills. Is it the Chinese who pay their doctors to keep them well, but cease payment when they become ill? Evidently their logic is "an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure."

In our school days we were taught that every income should be divided proportionately — one portion to be set aside for sickness. Today our ideal is an insurance against sickness — periodical examinations at short intervals that early stages of disease may be detected and combatted.

How many fight shy of a physician and medical examiner, often because of the expense, only to find finally that the trouble is so deep-seated as to be incurable? How many premature deaths can be traced to the same cause? One of the lessons of the late war was the inefficiency of a large percentage of our young men to measure up to the health test.

Where should preventative measures start? Surely with the greatest asset of the nation — the children. Every child has a right to be born well and kept well. This is the day of broad thinking. To be up to date one needs to study the important questions that affect the well being of our nation. They are many, but surely the most important and the chief concern of a nation and community is the future generation — the child. As we help along its progress, bodily, mentally and spiritually (no one of which can be neglected without loss or detriment to the child) so will our nation of which we are so proud, grow virile and strong.

As the work of the District Health Nurse becomes more general, attendance at school will increase, through her visits to the home and school. This is an important point from an economic standpoint. A teacher's salary remains the same if twenty-five or eighteen are present. We are paying for her time that is made available for the education of the children, and the more regular the attendance the more value for money expended.

"A community may be as powerful as its people are physically fit." Vernon is getting in line and expects to have a Health Nurse working in January. Other districts are contemplating this step forward. The time will come when adjacent districts will unite in getting this service which is backed and aided by a government grant.

One often thinks of the opportunities in a big city, forgetting the op-reads of the advancement in many rural districts, and the work done in small communities with the single aim to serve others, one gets fired with the ambition to do likewise. Kipling's lines ring in our ears:

"It is not the guns or armaments, Or the money they can pay, It's the close co-operation That makes them win the day. It is not the individual Or the army as a whole, But the everlasting team work Of every living soul."

What leaps and bounds of advancement nations, towns, communities, etc., would make if the individual were relegated to the back-ground and team work took a prominent place!
